Oscar time

Everyone backs Liz but her

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Almost everybody is betting that Elizabeth Taylor will win her first Oscar tonight—everybody but the beautiful star herself.

"I'm not betting on it," Miss Taylor told a reporter "but I'll be there just the same.

She admits she's feeling a little squeamish as the zero hour approaches for Hollywood's 33rd annual academy award show.

"The competition looks tougher than ever," said Liz, who has been nominated four times in a row.

The two-hour awards show, telecast over ABC-TV, gets underway at 10:30 p.m. EST from the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies.

According to most polls, only the big contention is among the men. It's a down-to-the-wire race between Jack Lemmon and Burt Lancaster for best actor. The same goes for Sal Mineo and Peter Ustinov for best supporting actor.

Among the supporting actresses, Shirley Jones is rated a shoo-in.

It will be the first public outing for Miss Taylor since her near fatal illness. If she wins, her doctor has warned her to go easy on the celebration afterwards.

She was nominated for Butterfield 8. Her competition is Greer Garson for Sunrise at Campobello, Deborah Kerr for The Sundowners, Shirley Maclaine for The Apartment, and Melina Mercouri for the Greek-made Never on Sunday.

Lancaster, the rousing sawdust revivalist of Elmer Gantry, has never won an Oscar. A dark horse is Britain's Trevor Howard of Sons and Lovers. Spencer Tracy (Inherit the Wind) and Laurence Olivier (The Entertainer) are so consistently good that voters often take them for granted.

Mineo won his supporting-role nomination as the Palestinian terrorist in Exodus, and Ustinov stole scenes from Olivier and Charles Laughton in Spartacus.

The other supporting nominees are Peter Falk (Murder, Inc.), Jack Kruschen (The Apartment) and Chill Wills (The Alamo).

'Godless' education said threatening

QUEBEC (CP) — A move to launch an education system in Quebec province divorced from religion attracted attention here during the weekend when two school commission leaders said schooling without God is out of the question.

Paul Desrochers, president of the Quebec Federation of Roman Catholic School Commissions, said: "We must form a common front before the danger threatening us." He spoke at a convention of La Confederation des Oeuvres de Loisirs, a group promoting recreation activity.

Wilbrod Bherer, president of the Quebec City School Commission, said: "The statements closed a week of stirring on the neutral-education question. Included was a number of letters sent by children to Premier Lesage, pleading with him to let them keep their catechism in school."

Earlier in the week Most Rev. Georges Cabana, archbishop of Sherbrooke, said all Roman Catholics of conviction should disclaim any responsibility to "defend the rights of professional schooling against the forces of evil."

He said that at different times in Quebec Satan has attacked the idea of teaching religion in schools. His statements were in an article in Le Messager (The Messenger) his diocese's religious newspaper.

Premier Lesage, commenting on the letters he received, said they were obviously prompted by "a poisoner of the minds of children." He said his government had no plan to withdraw teaching of religion from the schools.

He spoke in the legislative assembly after reading a letter which he said was one of dozens sent to him by children in St. Hyacinthe, Que., and district.

Le Mouvement Laïque de Langue Française The Lay French - Language Movement was launched in Montreal earlier this month to promote the idea of neutral schools for those who want them. Its leaders say French - language persons of Jewish and Protestant faiths and others have to send their children to French-language Roman Catholic schools or English - language Protestant schools.

SECRET IS OUT — The fate of the missing golf ball often gives food for thought to many golfers. But whoever thought of the missing ball as food for squirrels? Believe it or not, the Grandview Golf Club at Oshawa, Ontario has proof of one stealing rascal. A cache of 61 balls was found 50 yards from the club house. But the squirrel in this picture is stuffed. (CP Wirephoto)

Cuba is 'invaded'

China blames US

PEKING (Reuters) — Communist China declared today that it is unable to contain its "extreme anger" over "United States aggression" against Cuba. It said the attack "again proves the essence of United States aggression can never change."

"Slogans of democracy, progress and freedom uttered loudly by Kennedy to Latin America are full of deceit," the newspaper charged.

Chinese newspapers reported the Soviet-backed Cuban complaints to the United Nations political committee charging "aggression" by the U.S. in Cuba.

The newspapers said Adlai Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the UN, had denied the charges. But they did not mention his statements that the air raids carried out by Cuban air force planes and that three Cuban airmen had fled to Florida and asked for asylum.

The U.S. also came under attack from Yugoslavia in connection with Saturday's bombings.

The official Yugoslav newspaper Borba charged that the raids were "a component part of the anti-Cuban activity which is tolerated and assisted in the United States."

Dismay with U.S. Cuban policy was also expressed in Britain, although most quarters were inclined to be sympathetic to the American position.

The Guardian of Manchester said "President Kennedy has sailed too near the wind, and for no good reason."

"What does he fear in Cuba?" the paper asked. "Is he afraid that Dr. Castro will allow the Russians to build rocket bases there? In that case, it would surely be wiser to do all he can to wean Cuba away from the Russians."

Cuban exiles say big push is on WASHINGTON (CP) — Cuban exiles say today the big push to overthrow Fidel Castro's regime apparently is under way. They had reports of invasions at three points.

The exiles said some of the anti-Castro forces already in Cuba have been in regular communication with opposition groups outside the island. Before telephone communications were cut between the United States and Cuba early today, code messages reported invasion groups hit opposite ends of the island Saturday night, both without opposition, the refugee sources said.

A third invasion group apparently hit the south coast of Cuba in Matanzas province at Playa Larga, on Cochin Bay. That HAVANA (AP) — Premier Fidel Castro's troops were reported battling a rebel invasion force of unknown size on the south coast of Cuba today.

The military duty officer at Jacuey la Grande said "some fighting" was going on between "government defenders and an insurgent landing force" at Playa Larga, on the south coast of Matanzas province.

The officer gave no other details.

Playa Larga Long Beach is near the Cienega Oriental, a giant swamp area that Castro is trying to convert into farm and resort areas. Jacuey la Grande is just north of there.

Although the officer at Jacuey la Grande gave no estimate of the size of the landing force, his report that only "some fighting" was going on was taken as an indication that the force was small.

"Everything looks fine, this is the beginning of the end," said a spokesman here for the revolutionary council, a group of various anti-Castro exiles in the United States.

NEAR AIR STRIP

The invasion at Playa Larga, the only one reported by newspaper men in Havana before telephone and cable communications apparently were cut, is considered highly strategic. It is near a landing strip, close to the naval station at Cienfuegos where the loyalty of Castro's forces has always been questioned.

The other two reported landings, about which there was little or no solid information, were said to have taken place at Baracoa, in Oriente province in the eastern end of Cuba, and at Cabanas, in Pinar del Rio province in the west.

Informed Cubans said the reported landing at Baracoa was without opposition.

Suez 'tragedy' is regretted

MONTREAL (CP) — Opposition Leader Lester B. Pearson said Sunday night it is a "tragedy" the United Nations intervention in the 1956 Suez crisis was not carried further to bring about a political solution for the area.

"How I wish we had taken advantage of that opportunity at that time," he told an Israeli bond rally marking the 13th birthday of Israel.

He also called it a tragedy that moderate Arab leaders at the time of Israel's formation in 1948 did not accept the value of a free, progressive Israel in the Middle East.

Lesage budget hit by Johnson

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP) — Daniel Johnson UN - Bagot told a political rally Sunday "it is evident the Lesage-Levesque government wants to live outside its means."

Premier Jean Lesage, Quebec finance minister, delivered his budget address last Friday in the legislative assembly. Rene Levesque is minister of natural resources.

Mr. Johnson said: "Despite additional revenue of $54,000,000 which nearly all comes from increased personal income taxes and corporation profits, the Lesage government, which has borrowed $110,000,000 during the first nine months of its administration, announced additional borrowing of $175,000,000."

Can't agree on Laos cease-fire but Russia keeps the door open

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union rejected some details of the Western proposal for a cease-fire in Laos but kept the door open for further negotiations, a foreign office spokesman said today.

The spokesman declined to give the substance of the note, delivered Sunday in Moscow, but made clear that Britain and the Soviet Union won't be joining right away in calling for a cease-fire to suspend the fighting between the Western-backed Laotian government of Prince Boun Oum and the leftist Pathet Lao guerrillas.

Prussian-stiff, Eichmann pleads 'not guilty'

JERUSALEM — Adolf Eichmann pleaded not guilty today to all 15 counts in the Israeli indictment accusing him of directing the extermination of 6,000,000 European Jews.

Then Attorney-General Gideon Hausner opened his case with the words:

"Six million prosecutors stand here with me."

Eichmann entered his plea after the special three-judge court rejected the defence challenge of Israel's right to try the former Gestapo officer.

The sixth session of the trial ended at 1:05 p.m. today and was to resume at 3:30 p.m.

Standing with Prussian stiffness in the glass-enclosed prisoner's dock, Eichmann averted his eyes from the gallery of the crowded court during the 10 minutes it took Supreme Court Justice Moshe Landau to ask him how he pleaded on each count.

LIPS TWITCH

Eichmann's lips twitched occasionally. A tomb-like silence hung over the courtroom, broken only by Landau's voice and Eichmann's replies.

CP from AP-Reuters

"You heard the indictment on the first day of this hearing," the president said.

"Jawohl," Eichmann replied, firmly.

"Do you admit the first count in the indictment?"

"In the spirit of the indictment, I am not guilty," Eichmann replied, his voice steady and low-pitched.

Then, count after count, the president's question and Eichmann's answers were identical.

Eichmann started at the judges, his gaze never wavering.

Although all the judges speak German, each of Eichmann's identical answers was translated into German for the prisoner.

When Eichmann's last answer had been inscribed, he sat down, fixed the earphones linking him to the court on his bald head, settled back in his chair and looked quietly at Attorney-General Hausner.

Earlier the judges ruled against arguments by West German defence lawyer Robert Ser-vatus that they are prejudiced and the court is not competent to try Eichmann. They also said the method of Eichmann's arrest and abduction from Argentina 11 months ago is irrelevant.

CLAIMS LAW UNJUST

The defence had argued that the law under which Eichmann is on trial, the Nazi and Nazi Collaborators' Law of 1950, is unjust because Eichmann's alleged crimes were committed long before it was passed. The Canada's fate?

Uniform greyness in future

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's cultural and ethnic groups will blend together but not in the foreseeable future.

This was agreed Saturday during a seminar on "integration versus assimilation" sponsored by the Montreal council on good citizenship.

Rev. Shaun Govenlock, director at the University of Montreal's School of Social Service, told the seminar the groups will eventually blend into a "uniform greyness."

Rev. Bernard Mailhot, director of the human relations centre at the University of Montreal, said the "delicate" question of relations among different ethnic groups in Canada now should be approached "in rigorously scientific terms."

Father Mailhot said he believes "it is deplorable" that leaders of a separatist movement in Quebec have placed the "problem of English-French relations in Canada on the level of a demagogic super-auction."

About 30 persons, representing different ethnic groups in the city, took part in the seminar. They found Canada's French-English duality is likely to disappear but not "in the foreseeable future."

They rejected any ideas of one group breaking away from Canada and forming an independent political state.

They also agreed there was no deliberate plan on the part of the federal government to assimilate minority groups in Canada.

Father Govenlock said he favored a "Canadian way of life" defined by belief in individual rights, democratic government and the right to self-determination.

Father Mailhot said that in studying the question of relations among ethnic groups, people should avoid "dragging it down to the level of political identity."

To debate Castro's charges

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Fidel Castro's charge that the United States plotted Saturday's dawn bombing of Cuba comes up for debate at special meetings of the United Nations political committee today.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa is expected to echo Premier Castro's challenge to the United States that it brings the bomber pilots before the UN to prove whether they are defectors from the Cuban air force.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson denied Saturday that the U.S. had anything to do with the bombings. He said the two B326 Invader aircraft that landed in Florida were manned by defectors from Castro's own air force.

"These two planes to the best of our knowledge were Castro's own air force planes and, according to the pilots, they took off from Castro's own air force fields," he said.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The passing of Marian Jordan last week was a personal loss to the many who remember the Fibber McGee and Molly show as a high point in radio history.

Mrs. Jordan and her breezy husband Jim came into millions of homes every Tuesday night for almost 20 years, not as entertainers but as warm friends. Today's youngsters, fed on the violence and manufactured comedy of the visual medium, might wonder why their elders listened in such numbers to Fibber McGee and Molly.

The answer is a commodity hard to find nowadays: Humor. The McGee laughs came not from the sick or brassy comedy of night clubs. The laughs sprang from the heartland of America — indeed, the Jordans were both from Peoria, Ill.

WAS DIFFERENT

The format differed from other comedy shows, which were largely off-shoots from vaudeville. Fibber McGee and Molly was the first successful situation comedy, an art form that has since been overdone on TV.

The situation in Fibber McGee and Molly could be the skimpiest. Perhaps Fibber would set out to tune the piano, against the sage counsel of Molly. He would persist in his bumbling way despite the interruption of a variety of visitors.

The "bong-bong" of the door chimes at 79 Wistful Vista would announce each arrival. There would be Gildersleeve of the rumbling chuckle, played by Hal Peary. And the Old Timer, originated by Cliff Arquette, with his familiar Wallace Wimble, done by Bill Thompson. And Gale Gordon's Mayor Latrivia was a masterpiece of mounting rage, ending with a splutter and a tense "McGee?" Arthur Q. Bryan's Doc Gable was a master needler.

IN CAME TEENY

Molly was generally at Fibber's side, alternately ribbing and calming him. But once during the show she would disappear upstairs or in the kitchen. That would signal the arrival of Teeny, the little girl neighbor. That was Marian's other role.

Don Quinn, who collaborated with Paul Henning and Phil Leslie in writing McGee, said this week: "We never were too specific on the show. Nobody ever knew whether 79 Wistful Vista was a street or area. Nobody knew what Fibber did for a living. We preferred to let the audience paint its own scenery."

"It seems to me television doesn't give enough credit to the audience's IQ — imagination quotient."

"Fibber McGee and Molly did, and that's why it remains so vivid in the imaginations of those of us who heard it."

SWEETSBURG — Mrs. Arthur Todd is a pneumonia patient in the B.M.P. Hospital, following an illness of two weeks with bronchitis.

Mrs. John Kennedy has returned to her home in Stanbury, after being a patient in the local hospital for ten days.

For low income families
Quebec studying aid for housing

The provincial government is studying means of assisting low income families to improve their housing conditions, Hon. Emilien Lafrance, Minister of Social Welfare and Family, told the Sherbrooke Women's Liberal Association at a reception at the Reform Club Saturday afternoon.

Quebec could take easily honors among the Canadian provinces for poor housing conditions, he said.

Existing housing legislation aids only those who are capable of solving their housing problems by other means, the Minister said.

However, the Liberal Government is hopeful that some means may be evolved for aiding those in a less fortunate position.

Mr. Lafrance also recounted the administration's battle against patronage.

The fight for increased efficiency in the affairs of the province was a hard one and faced two major obstacles — the mentality of the citizens on public affairs and the regime built up over the past 16 years.

He was convinced, however, that the battle was being won, a battle in which "we find more trouble from our friends than from our foes," he said.

Discussing Sherbrooke County affairs, the Minister announced that a new detention school would be built for the Social Welfare Court but gave no details of the project.

There was no intention of appointing an additional judge for the court, he continued, but the personnel might be expanded to permit greater efficiency in the handling of cases.

He also announced that grants had been made to a number of local institutions, including: Foyer St. Joseph, an old folks home, $1,200,000; Val du Lac, $730,000, and Notre Dame de l'Enfant, $840,000.

The latter are special schools.

Plans were made to hold a card party in the Church Hall on April 18.

Mrs. Woolley reported three quilts completed recently.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Real Boulanger.

Child hurt

FARNHAM — (Special) — A five-year-old girl suffered concussion, facial lacerations and extensive bruises when she was struck by a car near her home about 2 p.m. Saturday.

Sheila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford, Farnham, was taken to Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital in Sweetburg where hospital authorities said her condition was not critical.

She apparently wandered into the path of a car driven by A. Martel of St. Eustache who was unable to avoid her.

Calls on Social Credit party to take up reins of government

The time has come for the Social Credit party to take the reins of the Federal Government in Ottawa, Dr. R. N. Thompson, national president of the Social Credit Association, told some 900 people attending a party district rally at the Christ-Roi church hall, Sherbrooke, Sunday afternoon.

"Thirty years ago," said Dr. Thompson, "we began talking about Social Credit at Ottawa, and now the time for Social Credit has come."

"We are convinced that something must change. We know what we have, and we also know what we should have."

"We have things today which do not correspond to the needs of our day, and we are also convinced that what we need is Social Credit."

Dr. Thompson spoke briefly about a lack of balance between the increase in the population of the country and the increase in taxes and the lack of responsibility he ascribed to the Prime Minister, Mr. Diefenbaker.

He claimed that the governor of the Bank of Canada, Mr. Coyne, was incompetent to handle financial affairs of the country today and that the federal government has shown negligence in the field of education, claiming it has not the money to improve standards in that field.

How, then, demanded Dr. Thompson, can the government find the necessary money to finance the enormous peacetime arms program.

The future of Canada, said Dr. Thompson, rests with the people beginning to understand their problems and taking up their responsibilities.

Real Caouette, of Quebec, vice-president of the national association, also spoke of the march of Social Credit in Canada.

"No one can stop Social Credit now," he said. "We need a change, and have needed a change for some time, but we have stayed with the old order. It is time to trade the old 'bus' in for a new model car."

"The present hunger and social poverty," he said, "must go. It is antisocial and anti-Christian."

He went on to speak about unemployment, which he blamed on the present government. Nothing has been done, he commented, in spite of the many meetings and plans made for solving the unemployment problem.

"If they (the present government) can't do anything," he said, "they should quit and let the Social Credit take their places."

Other speakers at the rally included Maurice Trudel, Sherbrooke County Social Credit organizer; Romeo Casteau, candidate from Stanstead; Barthelme Durand, of Lake Megantic; Henri Lalapelle, of Compton; Frontenac, and Jean Marie Gregoire, party organizer from Quebec City.

Wildlife photographer at Lennoxville

Urges Canada follow Iceland conservation example

Canada would do well to study and follow Iceland's example of conservation of wildlife, a well-known wildlife photographer told an audience at the Lennoxville High School Auditorium Saturday night.

Speaking at the Seventh Annual Bird and Wild Life Revue, sponsored by the St. Francis - Massawippi Bird Club, Olin Sewall Pettigill Jr., who has recorded a series of wildlife films for Walt Disney told the audience that Iceland was literally a paradise for birdlife.

"During my stay in Iceland, I never once saw a native carry a gun for the purpose of shooting birds," he said. "Birdwatchers, clubs, and wildlife societies in Iceland are numerous, for there is much to see in the way of birdlife in Iceland."

Explaining that the main purpose for his visit to Iceland was to film the nesting of the Eider duck, Mr. Pettigill presented a two-part film, one of the land and its people, and the other of bird-

Magog proposal

1,750 proprietors are eligible to vote in exchange referendum

About 1,750 Magog proprietors are eligible to vote in a referendum today and Tuesday on an offer by the Federal government to exchange their Magog post office property for that now occupied by the city hall and public market.

A single poll is open at the city hall from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days. There are no other polls open in the city, although a heavy vote is anticipated.

Mayor Maurice Theroux, arguing in favor of the exchange, has said that this will be Magog's only chance of getting a new city hall.

Should the exchange be approved, the Federal Government would allow the city to move the present building at the corner of Sherbrooke and Main Streets to the rear of their market lot, and in its place a new building would be erected.

The post office property is valued at $45,400 while the city hall and public market property is valued at $35,950.

Federal authorities have also demanded, as part of the exchange, that Main Street be widened the full length of the present market lot, which extends some four hundred feet along Main Street East.

Opposition to the project has come from the executive committee of the Catholic Union of Textile Workers of Magog Inc.

In a press release last Wednesday, the committee said Magog city council must not allow "political or other in-tests to override good sense and logic" in its choice of a site for city hall.

They recommended that the city retain the present site, which they term "ideal" for future construction of a new city hall.

Hope for cancer cure

For the first time, there is hope on the cancer horizon that a cure for the dread disease is on the way to being discovered.

Scientists involved in cancer research are commendably cautious on the subject, but even in their reserved pronouncements, there is a hint of eventual victory.

One of the great new hopes is that man himself contains the ways and means of controlling his own cancer, perhaps in much the same way the body builds up immunity against many other diseases.

There are other avenues being investigated, too, with greater vigor than ever before.

A vaccine, for example, has been produced that works in laboratory animals against transplanted cancers.

No scientist is ready yet to say that this, or any other method is the answer to cancer in humans, but some day they will be ready.

Research is the only way to hasten that day, and money is the only way to ensure that concentrated research can continue.

This year's Cancer Crusade is now underway in this district. It runs until April 29, and its goal is to help the Canadian Cancer Society raise the necessary funds to continue and expand present research.

The dollars you spend on this cause are well worth every penny, because now it can be said, with greater conviction than ever before, that you may be helping to save your own life, and those of your loved ones.

Where the end?

The Quebec budget presented by Premier Lesage Friday holds little joy for the taxpayer, the reductions in the meal and fuel oil taxes being offset by a change in the liquor taxation. The increased exemption for the meal tax and the elimination of the provincial sales tax on fuel oil will aid a substantial portion of the population, but the grim question remains—What of the future?

In his budget, Mr. Lesage predicts a deficit of approximately $100,000,000 for the current fiscal year, a sum which must be met sooner or later by the taxpayers—and the money can come only from increase in existing taxes or the imposition of new levies, if any can be thought up.

The last federal-provincial tax conference made it plain that the provinces can expect little or nothing more from the federal treasury, either directly or indirectly. This means the individual and corporate taxpayer can look for further taxes in the near future.

How long can the taxpayer put up with the higher burdens? In many lines, high tax rates are already defeating themselves. Is a similar position near in other fields?

Matter of principle

Every once in a while you read of someone who demands to go to jail rather than pay a fine.

To attract attention to his case the person must, of course, be able to pay the fine.

Sometimes a man will go to jail over taxes that he considers unjust or over bylaws that he considers unfair. But more often than not traffic laws provoke this desperate and usually futile reaction.

The most recent example is that of an Ottawa mother of eight children, wife of a prominent doctor, who has chosen to serve a four-day term rather than pay a $21 fine for speeding.

The most amazing thing about her case, according to press reports, is her 'defence'.

She claims that she was rushing "to assist her baby in a time of need" when she was stopped by an RCMP constable.

Apparently the baby, only three-months old, had been left in the backyard and it had started to rain. There was a baby-sitter at the home but she was ironing in the basement, the mother explained to the constable, and might not be aware of the baby's plight.

The constable, quite understandably, refused to get involved in this domestic crisis. The lady was speeding so the lady was charged. The court subsequently shared his view.

That she is being stubborn over a matter of principle is obvious. But something seems wrong with her logic.

She got into her difficulty by trying to save a few minutes on behalf of one of her children. Now she seems prepared to deprive all eight of her children of four days of her time over stubborn refusal to pay her fine.

"I Wish I Had a Cast Iron Stomach"

The coming race war: Part 5

Given Macmillan-Dag 'treatment'

(This is the fifth in a series of articles on South Africa's racial crisis by a Canadian Negro who recently toured that country.)

By SYDNEY WILLIAMS
 Distributed by Toronto Telegram News Service

The non-whites of South Africa have an expression for the treatment given foreign visitors who come on government-sponsored tours to study the country's racial policies. They say: "You are getting the Macmillan and Hammarskjold treatment."

They refer to the visitors of the British Prime Minister and the UN Secretary-General who took carefully restricted tours led by the government.

I got this treatment when I first arrived and as a result, it was some time before my eyes were opened and I dropped my championship of the apartheid policy.

Speaking as a Canadian Negro at home, I had said I believed apartheid must be viewed dispassionately; that it might contain elements of justice that could resolve South Africa's problems.

I sincerely wanted to be fair. No one can question that South Africa has spent vast sums in an attempt to provide housing and other necessities for its native population—poor though these remain.

One can hardly resist the government's proposals for general development of the native peoples, their education and eventual local self-government and so on.

This picture is preserved through the "Macmillan and Hammarskjold treatment."

But one only has to talk with the people to realize that the government's objective is not this beautiful evolutionary development. It is starkly and cruelly reactionary.

Instead of vast sums providing for eventual integration of Africans into South African society, vast sums are spent to keep the native illiterate, poor, and divided forever from the white man.

The more I learned, the more I found myself at cross-purposes with my official guides.

Here is an example:

We were to attend the opening of the new native agricultural college in Zululand in Northeastern Transvaal.

was picked up by my white escort at a crossroads outside Pretoria, the nation's capital. We drove for about four hours.

This was to be an important occasion. I looked forward eagerly to seeing this major step in providing education for African self-dependence and national development.

Hon. M. D. C. de Wet Nel, Minister of Bantu (Native) Administration and Development, was to officiate. Hon. W. A. Maree, Minister of Bantu Education was to be there too.

The college consisted of about a dozen round, native style huts, with thatched roofs. A large central hut-style building was the main school. I searched for agricultural implements; assembled were a few barrows and several primitive ploughs with rough, tree limb handles. Puzzled, I asked about them.

This was IT. This was the agriculture school and its equipment. No modern machinery. No tractors. Nothing else.

My anger grew. I walked away from the group with one of the native teachers, anxious to talk to him. My police escort followed, at my elbow. I tried again to speak alone with another native teacher. Again the escort eavesdropped.

I flared in anger at him: "Are you following me?"

He said he was following to protect me, I told him I was among "my own people" and needed no protection. My anger became evident, apparently, and a white official explained "we have to start somewhere don't we?"

"You mean to say that after 12 years of the apartheid policy, with the same government in office, you are just beginning to teach these people, in this primitive fashion to feed themselves."

"With 2,300,000 Europeans in this country, and 10,000,000 blacks we have to devise a system of remaining here," he retorted. Then he added, "Don't forget you're just a visitor here, a guest of the government."

As a "guest" who had paid his own way, I realized my acceptance of government's terms for the visit (decision by the government as to "whom shall meet and where you shall visit...") was being distorted deliberately.

"I came here willingly as an visitor," I said. "Now you choose to turn me into an official of some sort to suit your purposes."

Lunch interrupted our argument. Once again there was the embarrassing situation. The white official could not eat with me; usually they arrange for a native to invite me to eat with him and this time a man was introduced as a native chief.

I recognized him as one of the "appointed" chiefs, government supporters arbitrarily appointed by the government when traditional chiefs refused to cooperate.

I refused the invitation and returned to the car. A plate of food was brought to me. I gave it to the white driver and he ate it.

Next came the ceremonies. There were two groups of spectator seats, one for whites, one for blacks; two platforms, one for whites, one for blacks.

A few minutes later I was introduced to the minister of native education. Perhaps I was impolite, I care not. He asked how I was enjoying my visit. I quote from newspaper reports of our talk.

"Your apartheid policy is designed to drive non-white people back into the jungle," I said. "People have been kind to me, and that makes it harder for me to say what I believe. But that is the way I see things."

"We have a difficult problem—," he began.

"I agree," I replied. "But not enough is being done to solve it. You've had 12 years to explain and demonstrate to the world your good intentions. You haven't done it."

Angrill, Mr. Maree said, "One thing an intellectual does is to listen to the other person's point of view," referring, apparently to my interruption.

I've been listening earnestly for 12 years," I said. "As I see it now, you are sitting on a volcano that may erupt today, tomorrow or in five years. But blow it certainly will."

As I turned away, a minor official sneered, "If you Canadians love these people so much why don't you take them off our hands?"

This is the volcano capped. I repeat, blow it certainly will. Chaos lies ahead for South Africa, and thousands of earnest and innocent people, op-

Eichmann trial walks tightrope

By REUBEN SLONIM

JERUSALEM (TNS) — As Adolf Eichmann's trial goes on the greatest problem before judges and prosecution will be to avoid giving the world the impression it is all a sham.

Eichmann's counsel, Robert Servatius put his finger on the problem when he said the whole Jewish nation is concerned in the catastrophe of extermination.

The judges, he said, must therefore examine and search if they are able to rise above and be impartial to the matter before them.

In answer, Attorney General Gideon Hausner said the judges could be fair without being neutral to the crime of genocide.

"If the defense believes," he said, "that there is a judge in the whole world who can be neutral to this crime he is not fit to sit in judgment."

From the manner in which the proceedings have been conducted, it is clear the defense will be able to present every argument favorable to its cause.

In this way it is hoped the world will not be able to say Eichmann was not given a fair trial.

The conduct of the president of the court, Moshe Landau, is an indication of how Israel is bending backward to be fair.

It is certainly due to his quiet aloof authority that the court preserves an unruffled dignity. Even Eichmann, who might well look upon the panel of three judges as a mere instrument of revenge, shows the greatest respect for Landau's comments on the multitude of legal arguments arising from an untried procedure.

For the most part the only vocal member of the bench, Landau has already won the goodwill and admiration of many observers.

He permits himself and counsel the occasional pleasantries but will tolerate any reaction from the audience of newsmen.

He reprimanded one newsmen for laughing and threatened to eject him if it happened again.

Nobody is allowed to play to the gallery.

The trial could easily fall into an unintelligible morass of paper but the meticulously ordered mind of Justice Landau is here to guide it.

Time and again he has shown tolerance of defense counsel's ignorance of Israeli procedure.

Yet not once has he addressed Dr. Servatius in German though this is the language of the country in which he was born and where he spent many years.

Curiously he lapses into English when he speaks to Eichmann's lawyer, perhaps a subtle way of informing him that fairness is not to be equated with neutrality toward the crimes of which the former SS colonel is accused.

This conscious attempt at fairness by the court is impressive but it fails to ring true when the prosecution makes a similar effort.

When Dr. Servatius complained that it is impossible to bring his witnesses to Israel because some of them feared for their security or could not afford the trip, Attorney General Hausner offered to accept their affidavits.

This was immediately challenged by one of the judges because affidavits permit no cross-examinations and the court would be unable to determine what was credible evidence.

This is a sticky point and will probably provide obstacles for Servatius in the presentation of Eichmann's case.

It would seem, therefore, that even in trying to be fair, Israel will run headlong into difficulties.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

TRICK STEALING IS BRIDGE ART

This week's articles will concern themselves with a different type of bridge crime. The crime of stealing a trick or so.

This trick stealing is particularly important in duplicate where an extra trick may bring you a top score instead of an average and expert players continually go after everything that is not nailed down.

North's raise to three no-trump was a very good bid. He felt that his six card heart suit would produce as many tricks at no-trump as at hearts. Of course, if the opponents had gotten around to leading diamonds he would have been wrong, but West had a normal club opening.

A low club was played from dummy and after East played the eight South won the trick with his ten spot.

A heart was passed to East and he returned the deuce of clubs. South played the queen and West's king forced dummy's ace.

Now South ran off all dummy's hearts and discarded his four diamonds. West had to discard one of his spades. Four spades led followed and on the last spade lead West didn't know whether to keep the ace of diamonds or the jack of clubs and finally went wrong.

South made six no-trump for a real top.

Of course, East should have

New Canadians are lured back

ZURICH —(TNS)— Canada is exporting a large number of skilled workers and grains across the border to the U.S., but how many are emigrating to other continents?

No one seems to know. Last summer and fall English-language newspapers reported about a stream of European newcomers returning to Europe.

The number of Canadian citizens seems to be relatively small. But the difficulty has been to find how many New Canadians have returned to Europe, and not necessarily to the country of their birth.

As long as the New Canadian has not obtained his Canadian papers and still retains his citizenship by birth, no records indicate the last permanent residence. If an Austro-Canadian goes to work in West Germany he is listed as an Austrian immigrant and not as coming from Canada.

Because of the failure to obtain information from official sources, I had to carry the investigation to large employers. There it was found that a substantial number have found their way back home. One company told me they had 42 New Canadians working with them.

European air lines and steamship lines gave more information. One Dutch steamship line executive stated that on one trip from Montreal to Rotterdam an estimated 450 returnees were on board.

Another passenger agent said he knew of one passenger ship which last October carried 600 persons emigrating from Canada, going from Vancouver to Sydney, Australia.

Other executives of transportation companies estimated that a few thousand Canadian residents have left Canada with one way tickets only. How many returned again is not known.

The difficulty in attracting skilled workers to Canada is in creating an attractive picture abroad. And reading the European press and listening to broadcasts and TV, it must be said that not much favourable comment about Canada is featured.

Canada's trade with Castro, high unemployment, drop in the exchange rate of the Canadian dollar and other news not designed to encourage anybody to return to Canada are the main items carried by the European press and broadcasting stations.

On the other hand, the continent's media are filled with good news about the economic and political developments in all European lands.

Pages and pages of Help Wanted ads with very tempting job offers are a further incentive for their returnees to stay permanently in the old world and are giving those who just came for a visit something to think about.

It will take some years before standards of living in West European countries reach those prevailing in Canada, but they will get there.

The emigrant's motivation to leave his homeland after World War II and only a couple of years ago was based on hopes for a better life.

Then, the North American economies still were the countries of opportunities and a golden future for many. Now it is difficult to assess which continent, the old or the new, is offering the better chances.

Only when the new administration in Washington and the Canadian Government have overcome their current economic difficulties and found a long-term solution to the problems of unemployment will there be a guarantee that Canada's immigrants will stay permanently and contribute to the social, cultural and economic growth.

 Windsor, Que., Canada.

Letter to Editor

Dear Sir:

Re: No Depression Here. Dig, dig dig at the CBC! Your quite nasty little article, whose figures I can not check, forgets to point out two things.

Firstly, 10 years ago there was no TV. I believe that TV is many times more expensive than radio. Moreover all salaries have gone up and up and if the CBC would not pay well, it would quickly be accused of welsching on talent.

Secondly, the sacred cow, The Taxpayer, pays as readily for private radio and TV as he pays for his "free" premiums at his grocer. Every time he buys his coffee or gets himself insured or buys a car he pays for his TV too. So why imply the private broadcasting does not cost a cent? Besides do you not think that to be interrupted repeatedly when enjoying a concert, or the suspense of a drama, with the plea for deodorant or toothpaste is quite a high price to pay to boot?

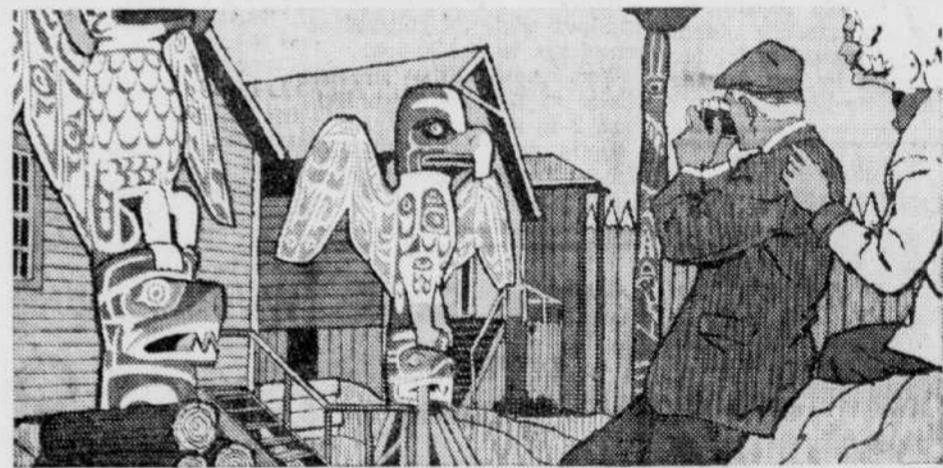

I think Canada would lose a lot if the CBC were out of the picture and stations based entirely on "free" advertising would take over.

H. Holt,
 Windsor, Que., Canada.

How do I save?

If there's a fool-proof way to save I've yet to hear of it. But one thing I do know: the "Royal's" 2-Account Plan makes saving a whole lot easier.

It works. Because with two separate accounts you can curb that natural urge to dip into your savings; you can actually see your savings grow.

SWEARING-IN — At a ceremony in Mr. Justice William Mitchell's Chambers at the Court House Friday afternoon, lawyer Rene Monty was sworn-in as Lennoxville Municipal Judge. He was appointed to that office last fall. Left to right are, Lennoxville Recorder's Court Secretary Kenneth Herring, Mr. Monty and Justice Mitchell.

burgh's Royal Regiment (Berkshire and Wiltshire), Army Headquarters has announced. The British regiment — to be based at Camp Gagetown, N.B., for several weeks — is allied to two units of the Canadian Army, the Lincoln and Welland Regiment (Militia), St. Catharines, Ont., and the Algonquin Regiment (Militia), North Bay, Ont.

WELL-DERIVED SALUTE — Today we're saluting a fine soldier, excellent officer and an inspiration to the 7/XI Hussars, RCAF, Major Allen Barr Royal, ED, CD.

Major Royal joined the Militia June 20th, 1933, and was commissioned March 1st, 1936. He served with the Royal Rifles of Canada in the last World War, and was taken prisoner of war at Hong Kong.

On his return to Canada, Major Royal assumed command of the 7/XI Hussars' A-Squadron in Danville, and has headed that group ever since.

Mrs. Royal is a CWAC Sergeant in the 7/XI Hussars, serving as clerk accounting for institutes. There's no doubt that the Royals play an important role with the 7/XI Hussars.

SPIT 'n POLISH — Chivalry isn't dead we're just not as chivalrous as the knights of old, but practising spit 'n polish demands courtesy. Often with a bit of thought we can do little things that prevent us from looking thoughtless, and when you're in uniform these little things, like stepping aside for a lady, means a lot.

BARNSTON — Mrs. Alvin Ross and son of St. Anne de Bellevue, and Mr. Stewart MacKinnon, of Otterburn Heights, have returned to their respective homes, having spent Easter week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John MacKinnon.

Mrs. A. B. Clement, who spent the past six weeks in California, has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. H. Dresser of Lyndonville, Vt. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Sutton. Mr. and Mrs. Sutton entertained at a family sugaring-off.

Buy an annuity and live

Financial insecurity can lead to a barren and lonely existence for the older person. Those years after 60 can also bring the fear of out-living capital and the worry of managing the savings of a lifetime. The result—often severe stresses that can be dangerous to both physical and mental health. People who buy annuities buy freedom from worry and fear. Our annuities find that a regular income guaranteed for life brings peace of mind, helps make those sunset years a rich and satisfying experience. And we know that many live to a ripe old age. Whether you are 30 and buying an annuity in advance or you are 70 and want payments to start now there's an annuity designed to bring you peace of mind. The Man from Manufacturers Life would be pleased to give you the complete story. Be sure to ask him about the favourable tax picture.

- PERSONAL EXEMPTIONS FOR DEPENDENT CHILDREN 1. Q. What are the exemptions for the support of dependent children? A. These exemptions are $250 for a child qualified for family allowance and $500 for a child not so qualified. In order to claim children's exemptions, the following conditions must be met. The child must be wholly dependent upon the taxpayer for support and under 21 years of age, or the child is over 21 years of age and wholly dependent on the taxpayer by reason of mental or physical infirmity or in full-time attendance at a school or university but in all cases the child's income must not exceed $950. 2. Q. Is there a special consideration for a dependent child who is a nurse in training? A. Yes. The income of a nurse in training can exceed $950 without otherwise disqualifying her as a dependent child. 3. Q. What children are qualified for family allowances? A. Children under 16 years of age who are entitled to receive family allowances in January 1961. A child born in December 1960 is qualified for family allowances because it is entitled to receive such allowances in January 1961. His father, therefore, may claim an exemption of only $250 for 1960 even though he may receive no family allowances in that year. 4. Q. What exemption can be claimed for a child who died in 1960? A. The exemption is $500 since there is no right to family allowances for January 1961. 5. Q. What about a child who was born and died in 1960? A. The exemption is $500 since there is no right to family allowances in January 1961. In other words, the exemption in the case of a child who died during 1960 is always $500 regardless of the age of the child at the time of his death. 6. Q. What about a child who reached the age of 16 years during 1960? A. The exemption is $500 because he is not entitled to family allowances for January 1961. 7. Q. Can a taxpayer claim a dependent exemption for his son who starts to work after completing his schooling? A. Yes, his father can retain him as a dependent providing he is under age 21 and his income does not exceed $950.

"You, Education and School Taxes"

The Protestant Central School Board of Stanstead County intends to publish a few brief facts that should be of vital interest to you, the taxpayer, and the school.

Finances are allocated by the Provincial Government which have to be augmented by school taxes to meet operating costs: Teachers Salaries, Conveyance, Insurance, Heating, Lighting. Both Local and Central School Board Members donate their own time and effort to these school problems, and serve on these respective boards with no salary or remuneration.

The Central Board is responsible to the Department of Education for all financing necessary for schools to operate in Stanstead County, including funds to meet maturing bonds and bond interest on Capital Debt incurred for the building of new schools, and for other financial deficits. Local School Board budgets MUST have the approval of the Central Board who have received instructions that they must be balanced.

Rising costs affect all persons and in this instance, especially the Protestant taxpayers of Stanstead County who, due to diminishing returns and Government Grants, have to meet the following Salary Scale for teachers, based on negotiated settlement in early March with the Stanstead County Teachers Association affiliated with the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, for 1961-62.

Mary Brooks Picken on sewing

Stitch enthusiasm into sewing

Enthusiasm is needed throughout life — needed for everything we do, but it is especially essential when you sew.

Sewing is an art to be enjoyed, just like painting a picture. It must begin with fabric, end up a beautiful item of home furnishing or apparel. How can you find and hold this priceless ingredient — enthusiasm?

Sewing is an art to be enjoyed, just like painting a picture.

First, learn all you can about sewing. See what is being offered in your smart shops — the dresses that cost real money. Then, with enthusiasm — that's it — seek and find a pattern that will express you.

Find just the right fabric for your design. Usually the pattern suggests three or more fabrics that are right in weight and texture for the design. Check these. If possible, buy your pattern first, then the zipper, matching thread, any trimming, seam binding, whatever you need to complete the garment.

Thinking ahead, having everything ready when the time comes that you can sew, is keeping the fire under your kettle of enthusiasm. You have nothing to delay or annoy you, you can put your heart and mind to the job!

Read the pattern instructions. One reason cooking is so advanced in our country is that the women have learned how to read and follow recipes. Think first stitch to the last. It is in of your pattern instructions as Follow them just as carefully as you would a recipe for a dish fit for a gourmet.

Use your enthusiasm to see the finished garment — one that will flatter you, make you feel proud and happy.

Sewing is to give you a sense of achievement... to give you a beautiful result... and to help you express you in the loveliest possible way. When you accomplish those essentials, enthusiasm for the job women have learned how to read and follow recipes. Think first stitch to the last. It is in of your pattern instructions as

Thought for today

Sorrow has not been given us for sorrow's sake, but always as a lesson from which we are to learn something, which once learned, it ceases to be sorrow. (Carlyle)

To avoid silver fish, linens should be laundered but not starched before storage.

Tips for parents

A mother writes, "Is it possible to help a three-year-old to understand about time? I have tried to establish a reasonable timetable and now that he is able to do some things for himself I give him warning of the next item on the agenda.

"I tell him, in five minutes it will be time to come in, or in another 10 minutes you must finish your lunch, or it will be bedtime in half an hour, and this means nothing to him.

"He objects strenuously to having his own private timetable interrupted. Is he just being difficult or does he really not understand?"

STRANGERS TO TIME
Three-year-olds are strangers to time. They live in the here and now.

It has taken us a long time to learn about time and we have forgotten the slow, gradual process before we really understood the meaning of 15 minutes yesterday, next Sunday, etc.

The three-year-old may use many time phrases, some of them quite accurately, such as "in a minute; after lunch; today," etc.

Listen to his conversation and take your cue from the terms he seems to understand. Instead of putting a time limit on his activities give your instructions in terms of what he is doing.

When he is called in tell him,

"One more ride and it will be lunch time," or "By the time you have picked up your toys lunch will be ready."

CONFUSING TRIO
Yesterday, today and tomorrow also create confusion for young children. It helps them to understand if we discuss them in connection with events that are of interest to the children. "Grandma was here yesterday, it is raining today, we will go shopping tomorrow."

But understanding does not come at once. There will be many tomorrows before they learn the real meaning of this trio.

A clock and a calendar are handy aids to learning about time. Point out that "Daddy will be home in three days" and make a ceremony of marking off the days.

For young children keep the time interval short — a few days, two weeks or months are interminable for the three-year-old.

CLOCK HANDS
He will be interested in the travels of the big and little hands of the clock and eventually will learn the meaning of five, ten or thirty minutes.

When our children are difficult, hard to manage it is very often because we confuse them with terms and instructions that they don't understand. We all need to remember that it takes time to grow (T.N.S.)

Danced as a boy while others played

The foremost living exponent of the Spanish dance forms, Jose Greco, and his troupe of dancers, singers and musicians, will be at the Grand theatre April 20.

A naturalized American, Greco was born in the small village of Montorio, Italy, a hill town in the Abruzzi Mountains, where life has retained much of the medieval flavor. Strolling players, including occasional Spanish Gypsy dancers, performed in the public square. The boy Greco's first manifestations of his superb innate dance talents were his attempts to emulate the itinerant dancers of his remote Italian birthplace.

When he was seven, Jose was taken to Seville, Spain, his mother's relatives taking him in as a houseguest. During the three years he remained in Seville, he spent countless hours around the inns and cafes absorbing the techniques of the traditional Flamenco dances. Soon, he was dancing the exciting steps himself.

The boy came to New York when he was ten years old, with his parents. He continued to study dancing.

Jose Greco's first professional appearance was at New York's Hippodrome in "Carmen."

For five more years, Jose Greco danced and studied, broadening his scope to include a concentrated study of the Spanish people, their history and politics, art and literature.

The turning point in his career was his first meeting with La Argentina, the Great Argentine. From 1941 until her untimely death in 1945, Mr. Greco was La Argentina's partner.

Spanish critics wrote that Greco had put authority back into Spanish dancing. He was even greeted in Seville at the historic San Fernando Theatre with the traditional cry of approbation, "Ole," the first time anyone could recall a male dancer being so honored.

Little League District Meeting Held In Montreal, Granby And Border Join Provincial Group

By TED ANDERSON

MONTREAL — Little League baseball is growing by leaps and bounds, stated Jim Wilson, Little League District Director, at a meeting held in the M.A.A.A. club rooms in Montreal Sunday afternoon. Representatives from most all leagues were on hand.

District Director Wilson has just returned from the Little League Convention which was held in Los Angeles a week ago. It was one of the most successful held in the last few years with over 280 delegates attending.

Mr. Wilson has three assistant directors this year to help in looking after Little League interests in the Province. They are J. Medard Cousineau, Valleyfield, R. Beausejour, St. Jerome, and Harold A. Ross of Baie D'Urfe. A. Sinel, Montreal, is acting secretary for the group.

Mr. Wilson spoke to the meeting on the organization of Little League, the responsibilities of league officers, the duties of league members, the need for the protection of league personnel and spectators. The need of carrying protective insurance is a necessity, added Mr. Wilson. It was also mentioned at the meeting that Provincial play-offs this year would start around July 20 and that the Canadian final would be played in Montreal this season.

New leagues in the district are Granby and the Border Little League. Maynard Rollins is president of the Border League. Leagues represented at the meeting included Lachine, Baie D'Urfe Little League, Kiwanas East and Kiwanas South of Montreal, Valleyfield, Dorval, HULL, Que. (CP) — Fred Hills of Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds let go with a two-goal performance Sunday as his team defeated Hull-Ottawa Canadiens 2-1 to even the Eastern Professional Hockey League best-of-seven final 1-1.

Hills, leading goal-scorer during the regular schedule with 45, put in the winner at 14:21 of the third frame. Canadiens had opened the scoring in the first period when Terry Gray tallied while Thunderbirds were short-handed.

Gray poked the puck into the net after being set up by Bob Rousseau and Bob Ellett. It was the third power-play goal for Canadiens in this series.

Hills tied it at 2:23 of the third period and later scored the winner.

The third game is tonight in Sault Ste. Marie.

St. Mike's One Game Within OHA Junior Title

The win gave the Majors a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Canada Memorial Cup semifinal with one game tied. The seventh game will be played in Guelph Monday night. St. Michael's needs only a tie to win the round.

Two goals by Sonny Osborne and one by Dave Draper completed the scoring for St. Michael's. Bob Brown, scoring his first two goals in junior A hockey, Billy Taylor and Paul Andrea scored for Guelph.

Taylor is a native of St. John's Nfld.

Blain's Rink Win Salls-Mooney Memorial

The above photo shows the finalists of the main event in the Salls-Mooney Memorial Mixed curling tournament which was played Saturday evening at the Sherbrooke Curling Club. In the front, left to right, Mrs. D. Bourne, R. Chretien, D. Coates and Miss E. Komery. Standing, same order, Mrs. E. Porter, skip Goyette, Mrs. A. Kerridge, ladies president, who presented the trophy, skip Blain and Mrs. D. MacPherson.

Harry Blain's rink won the Salls-Mooney Memorial Mixed Trophy Saturday evening when they downed Randy Goyette's quartet 9-4 in the main event. In the consolation section Dean Bishop's foursome eked out a close 6-5 win over Everett Nicol's squad.

It was the final mixed tournament of the season at the Sherbrooke Club as the closing dinners are slated this week. Tomorrow evening the ladies will hold their dinner while Thursday it will be the men.

The tournament opened Monday evening and ran all week. In the semi-finals of the main section Harry Blain's rink posted a 6-4 win over Bert Ross' squad Saturday morning while Randy Goyette came through with an 8-3 decision over Bob Coates and his rink.

In the consolation Dean Bishop posted a 9-3 victory over Stan Gallinger's crew while Nicol's rink stopped Gerry Armstrong 8-4. In the semi-finals Nicol's quartet ran up a 10-7 win over Percy Francis and Bishop's quartet stopped Ralph McVeigh 12-1.

In the finals it was a close battle but Bishop's foursome eked out a close 6-5 win. It was nip-and-tuck the whole way and was only decided in the final end. Mrs. J. Lacroix, J. Feeteau, Miss B. MacPherson comprised the Bishop rink while Miss D. Robinson, S. Allatt and Mrs. E. Hall played for skip Nicol.

Galt Terriers Edge Amherst 3-2 In Overtime To Win Allan Cup In Four Straight, Monette Stars

GALT, Ont. (CP) — Galt Terriers' battering-ram offensive has rolled them into an Allan Cup appearance in the first year they've been eligible for the Canadian senior hockey championship.

Bob McKnight's goal with 23 seconds left in the first overtime period Saturday night gave the Terriers a 3-2 victory over Amherst Ramblers and the best-of-seven eastern final in straight games.

The Terriers' 11th successive playoff victory gave them the right to meet the western champion Winnipeg Maroons in the best-of-seven Dominion final opening here Wednesday night.

The tie-breaking goal Saturday was typical of Galt's rapid-fire assault and of the goaltending heroics that ranked Jacques Monette, the Nova Scotians' playing coach, among the individual stars of the series.

It was the 58th shot blasted at Monette during the evening. He had just made two quick stops, one a spectacular slab on Bill Wylie's drive while lying on his side, when McKnight slammed a 10-footer on which Monette had no chance.

The Ramblers, who bore the brunt of the penalty damage throughout the series, absorbed 14 of the 20 goals and were scored against twice when short-handed.

"We deserved what we received from the referees but those penalties killed us," Monette said.

Galt's Bobby Mader scored the only goal of the first period. Russ Malone put the Ramblers ahead 2-1 with goals 32 seconds apart in the second but defenceman Darryl Sly forced the overtime midway in the third when he knocked in a rebound of his own shot that Monette had kicked away.

The victory touched off a wild demonstration by the record crowd of 3,400—a live rooster was among the objects thrown to the ice—and climaxed a hockey season that began in confusion.

The Terriers, previously in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior B Series, joined the Eastern Division of the new OHA Senior group last fall.

Dressing Room Comments

By JOE MOSHIL

DETROIT (AP) — "Reggie Fleming's goal did it," yelled coach Rudy Pilous in the dressing room of Chicago Black Hawks, hockey's Stanley Cup champions.

"That's when we won it," cried Pilous. "The goal only tied the game but it took the starch out of them and gave us the zip we needed. What more could you ask than to score a goal when you are short-handed?"

It was a happy group of Hawks but a relatively quiet one. Fleming and a few others gave out wild whoops when team captain Ed Litzenberger walked into the dressing room with the huge silver cup, symbol of professional hockey supremacy.

The Hawks won the National Hockey League award for the first time since 1938 by beating Detroit 5-1 Sunday night for a 4-2 edge in the best-of-seven showdown.

Everyone was congratulating everyone else. Bruce Norris, owner of the Wings, congratulated his brother, Jim Norris, owner of the Hawks.

'LEAVE A LITTLE'

"Leave a little in the bottom, Jim," said Bruce, referring to the tradition of drinking champagne out of the Stanley Cup. The Hawks will save their big celebration for Chicago. They were to return there on an airplane leaving soon after the game.

Jack Adams said the Black Hawks turnabout from a perennial cellar-dweller to world champions in four years rates an assist from the entire National Hockey League.

"The league built them up—all the teams helped," said Adams, general manager of the Red Wings.

While Adams spoke in the tomb-like Red Wing locker room, the jubilant Hawks were at centre ice in Olympia Stadium receiving the Stanley Cup. Thirteen of the 18 regular players who were with the Hawks this season came to them from other NHL clubs.

Adams and coach Sid Abel had no complaints about the Red Wings' last-place finishers two years ago.

"We didn't expect to go as far as we did," said Adams. "It was a most satisfactory season. We fooled a lot of people. Tonight — well, tonight we just ran out of gas."

Overpower Red Wings 5-1 To Cop Series 4-2, Sweet Victory For Castoffs; Rally In Third To Win

By W. R. WHEATLEY

DETROIT (CP) — The end of a hockey championship famine, which may mark the beginning of a new era in the sport, rested today with Chicago Black Hawks, 1961 Stanley Cup winners.

They reached the pinnacle Sunday night by overpowering Detroit Red Wings 5-1 and taking the best-of-seven cup final 4-2. Since 1938 Chicago teams have struggled, often hopelessly, and have been built and rebuilt in an effort to recapture the prized trophy.

Sunday night's triumph turned into a runaway. The Hawks trailed 1-0 after the first period, but then gathered momentum and won going away.

Jumping off to a fast start before 14,328 fans in Detroit Olympia, the Wings hit hard and often against the heavier Chicago team. But they gradually faded and in the third period were run ragged by the title-hungry Hawks.

Reg Fleming of Chicago scored while his own team was short-handed in the second period and Ab McDonald added another — the goal that proved to be the winner. Then, in the third period, Eric Nesterenko, Jack Evans and Ken Wharram completed what turned into a virtual rout.

The turning point in the game came on Fleming's goal. The Wings had set up their first period 1-0 lead on Parker MacDonald's goal and were hammering away against the undermanned Hawks.

Fleming, from Montreal, barged into centre ice and took the puck from Len Lunde. He raced into the Detroit end, was relieved of the puck by defenceman Pete Goegan, and, in turn, stole the puck back. Then he pranced in on goaltender Hank Bassen and beat him with a waist-high shot.

"That's the goal that did it," said Hawks coach Rudy Pilous. "It was only the tying goal but it took the starch out of the Red Wings and gave us the zip we needed."

McDonald's goal came on a rebound of Bobby Hull, who had sped in to try for his own rebound and spilled over Bassen. McDonald calmly lifted the puck over the netminder.

When the game ended, President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League presented the cup to Chicago captain Eddie Litzenberger.

HALL PLAYS BIG PART

Goaltender Glenn Hall was one of the acclaimed heroes of the Chicago team — the man who twice saved what appeared sure goals as the puck was about to roll over the line.

The Wings, who congratulated their conquerors on the ice, had no complaints.

"We didn't expect to go as far as we did," said General Manager Jack Adams. "We just ran out of gas in this game, but it was a most satisfactory season for us."

The game marked the first time either team had been able to win away from home and the Hawks broke the pattern by playing without two top men. Right winger Murray Balfour suffered a fractured arm in the fifth game Friday in Chicago and veteran defenceman Doug Lard St. Laurent came out of the same game on the limp.

from torn knee ligaments.

The Hawks dressed two rookies from their Buffalo Bisons farm club in the American League but used only forward Wayne Hicks. Defenceman Wayne Hillman sat on the bench.

LESSER LIGHTS SHINE

The Hawks scoring proved to be an uprising of the have-nots. Four of the five marksmen hadn't scored before in this hectic final and one of them — defenceman Jack Evans — hadn't scored a goal in two seasons of NHL play. Wharram had scored once against Montreal Canadiens in the semi-final and again against the Wings in the opening game of the final.

Bassen played well but an unsteady defence proved Detroit's undoing. Goegan was the goat at least once on Chicago goals and Marco Pilonovost was shaken off by Evans on another.

In reaching the final, the Hawks knocked off the powerful Canadiens — cup winners five straight times — and established themselves as a power in the NHL for next season.

The Wings defeated Toronto Maple Leafs in the other best-of-seven semi-final.

The last Hawks game was in 1938 when they defeated the Leafs. Their only other win was in 1934, against Detroit.

Dick Tiger Spoils Webb's Comeback Try

NEW YORK (AP) — Nigerian Dick Tiger Saturday spoiled Spider Webb's comeback by stopping the ring-rusty Chicago middleweight in 2:41 of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder at St. Nicholas arena.

The 32-year-old Nigerian dropped his 29-year-old rival three times, once in the second round and twice in the sixth. Referee Art Mercante halted the one-sided fight when Webb was floored for the second time by a wicked left hook to the jaw.

It was the first time Webb ever had been stopped in 40 pro fights. His record is 34-6.

For Tiger, now a high-ranking contender and British Empire middleweight champion, it was sweet revenge. He had lost a decision to Webb in London three years ago when he tried to outbox the American. Saturday night he just walked in and slugged.

It was Tiger's third straight knockout victory. His record now is 40-11-2. He was the 8-5 favorite. Tiger weighed 160½, Webb 158¾.

Minnesota Twins Sniffing At First Place In American Baseball Loop

Allison And Versalles Belt Homers As Twins Take Two From Orioles, Cold Weather Takes Toll Of Games

Wait until Minnesota Twins see Minnesota. The precocious Twins haven't even seen their new home yet but they're sniffing the heady air of first place in the American League standings.

Bob Allison, an accepted slugger, and Zoilo Versalles, supposedly a glove man, boosted the Twins into the lead with home runs in Sunday's double victory over Baltimore Orioles. Thus the Twins were assured of a raucous welcome home Friday afternoon.

Allison drove in seven runs with a grand-slam homer and a three-run homer in the 10-5 first game. Versalles, 20, Cuban shortstop, won the second game 6-4 with his two-run homer in the 11th.

While the old Washington club moved west was flexing its muscles the new Washington Senators were settling near the cellar after a 3-2 defeat by Cleveland. The Indians, shut out for eight innings by Dick Donovan, rose up in the ninth with five straight hits, including a home run by Tito Francona.

BAD WEATHER CONTINUES

Rain, cold weather and snow washed out scheduled double-headers between New York Yankees and Kansas City Athletics, Los Angeles Angels and Boston Red Sox and a single game between Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers.

Saturday, the Yankees defeated the Athletics 5-3, Boston shut out Los Angeles 3-0, Baltimore thumped Minnesota 8-0, Cleveland edged Washington 3-1 and Detroit downed Chicago 6-2.

Allison really had himself a ball in the first game at Baltimore. Chuck Estrada, who reportedly has arm trouble, walked the first three men he faced. Allison followed with his grand slammer and another in the sixth with two men on base, long after Estrada had departed.

Although winning, Pedro Ramos gave up 12 of the Orioles' 14 hits before being replaced by Ray Moore in the seventh.

Bill Pleis, third of four Minnesota pitchers, won the second game on Versalles' homer, following a walk to Reno Bertoia. It was Versalles' fourth hit in six trips in the game and his first major league homer. The 150-pound shortstop, a .133 hitter in 15 games last year, now is batting .478. Don Mincher also hit a homer for the Twins.

Donovan was rolling along with a 2-0 lead going into the ninth when Johnny Temple led off with his third straight single. Francona tied the score with a blast over the right field wall. After singles by Jimmy Piersall and Willie Kirkland, Rudy Hernandez replaced Donovan and was greeted by Woody Held's game-winning single.

Johnny Antonelli, making his first American League start for the Indians, departed for a pinch hitter after seven innings. Bob Allen, a lefty up from Mobile, won in relief.

Mike Souchak Wins Greensboro Open With 276

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Mike Souchak broke par for the fourth day in-a-row Sunday with a two-under 69 that gave him a 276 total and clinched the $22,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament by seven shots over runner-up Sam Snead.

Souchak, who plays out of Grossinger, N.Y., cruised around with a three-under par 32 to put him far ahead of the field to wrap it up early.

The victory was worth $3,200 to Souchak. Snead, the defending champion, finished with 71 to win $2,100 second money. Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., faltered to a finishing 75 for third place at 284 and won $1,650.

Vancouver's Stan Leonard and Charlie Sifford, Negro pro from Los Angeles, tied for fourth place with 285s. Each won $1,300.

OHA Playoffs Throw CAHA Into Confusion

TORONTO (CP)—The drawn-out playoffs of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A Series have thrown the Memorial Cup picture into confusion and Sunday night drew the ire of Jack Roxburgh, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

"We've already extended the Memorial Cup final three days," he said.

"It was supposed to open this Saturday. The delay is no fault of anybody but the OHA." He said the playoff situation would be brought up at the CAHA annual meeting next month at Port Arthur.

England Pulls Upset By Belting Scotland 9-3 In International Tilt, 100,000 Attend Tilt At Wembley

LONDON (Reuters)—British soccer clubs continued their hectic promotion and relegation scramble Saturday as the lime-light shifted to England's 9-3 victory over Scotland in an international match. Queen Elizabeth and 100,000 other fans were in Wembley Stadium to watch the 12-goal thriller. England led 3-0 at half-time and the score was 4-2 with 11 minutes to go when six more goals were scored, five going to England.

In league play, Tottenham Hotspur and Sheffield Wednesday—only teams in the running for the First Division championship—were idle as many of their players took part in the international match. Tottenham, six points ahead, meets Sheffield at home Monday in a game which could clinch the title for the Spurs.

The big relegation match in the First Division was at Blackpool, where the last-place home team posted a 2-1 win over Newcastle United, third from the bottom.

Preston North End, another once-powerful team in danger of going down to the Second Division, went to the foot of the standing after losing 1-0 to Aston Villa away from home.

Blackpool, with three games to play, now has 29 points. Newcastle, with two more games, and Preston, with three more, each has 28.

In the Second Division, Ipswich Town and Sheffield United became almost certain of promotion.

"We've already extended the Memorial Cup final three days," he said.

"It was supposed to open this Saturday. The delay is no fault of anybody but the OHA." He said the playoff situation would be brought up at the CAHA annual meeting next month at Port Arthur.

Al Dark Setting Merry Pace As Giants' Manager, Has Team Rolling, Los Angeles Dodgers Belt Pirates

When Al Dark was named manager of San Francisco Giants, wise baseball men asked the big question: Can a rookie manager get this gang to roll together? In the light of Tom Sheehan's experiences last season it was a valid question.

Dark has provided strong evidence in one short week that he is capable of taking charge. The Giants are leading the National League and Dark is making the right moves.

Take Sunday's game with Philadelphia for example. Sam Jones always beats the Phillies. He has a 21-9 record against them over the years. He was going for his seventh straight at their expense when he ran into a wild streak and some errors in the ninth.

Dark went to the bullpen for Billy O'Dell with the bases loaded and only one out. O'Dell promptly got Bobby Del Greco, a pinch hitter, to hit a comeback ball for a game-ending double play.

The Giants' 5-2 victory over Philadelphia, combined with the Los Angeles Dodgers' stormy 13-6 decision over Pittsburgh's put San Francisco in first place all alone. Ray Sadecki pitched St. Louis to within a half game to the top with a 5-3 edge over Cincinnati. Milwaukee and Chicago were snookered out at Chicago.

Jones contributed two doubles to the Giants' 10-hit attack against loser Robin Roberts and two successors. He was coasting along with a 5-1 lead going to the ninth. Sad Sam struck out Tony Gonzalez on a wild pitch before Gonzalez reached first base before catcher Tom Haller could retrieve the ball. A wild pitch and a single by Pancho Herrera counted a run. Harvey Kuenn's error, a ground out and a hit batsman alerted Dark to call for O'Dell.

Doubles by Kuenn and Orlando Cepeda helped get the Giants away to a three-run first inning and doomed Roberts to his second defeat.

A kicking duel between Dodger coach Leo Durocher and umpire Jocko Conlan broke out during the Dodger - Pirate

Bob Cleroux To Meet Alex Miteff

MONTREAL (CP)—Promoter Eddie Quinn announced Sunday heavyweight Bob Cleroux has signed to meet Alex Miteff, Harold Carler or Pete Rademacher May 4 in a 10-round bout at the Forum here.

Cleroux has not boxed since he lost the Canadian heavyweight title to George Chuvalo of Toronto last fall in a 12-round bout here.

The Dodgers came from behind and racked up five Pirate pitchers for 15 hits, handing Vern Law his second straight defeat. Stan Williams was the winner with the help of home runs by Tommy Davis, Wally Moon and Norm Sherry.

Sadecki, 20-year-old left-handed pitcher, threw a seven-hitter at Cincinnati and struck out seven, while beating Jim O'Toole. Don Landrum, whose failure to hit must have been worrying manager Solly Hemus, launched a decisive two-run rally in the fifth with a double.

Hemus has been counting on Landrum to plug his centre field gap, if he can hit consistently. A double by Bill White and a single by Ken Boyer followed Landrum's hit.

Spare goaltender George Wood completed his fill-in job for injured Marcel Paille in the entire Hershey series with a 13-save shutout. Wood had won only two games during the regular season.

Indians Roll Over Bears To Cop Calder Cup

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The powerful Springfield Indians have again won the Calder Cup and scored a "first" in American Hockey League history.

By shutting out Hershey Bears 3-0 Saturday night Springfield became the first club in 25 years of AHL competition to top the regular-season race and win the playoffs two years in a row. They captured the best-of-seven final set 4-0.

Sweeps over Cleveland Barons and Hershey enabled the Indians to match the 1949-50 Indianapolis club as the only other team capturing the cup in a minimum eight games.

Coaticook lady marks birthday

COATICOOK — Mrs. Claribel Buckland celebrated her 90th birthday quietly on Sunday, April 9, at her home on Baldwin Street here with her immediate family.

The rooms were filled with beautiful plants and spring flowers, gifts from relatives and friends. Mrs. Buckland also received a shower of birthday cards and a corsage of split carnations.

The dining room table was covered with a lace cloth, a bowl of Sweetheart roses, and lilies of the valley in the center and pink candles on each side. The birthday cake, decorated in pink, was a gift from a friend.

Mrs. Buckland was born on a farm in Barnston, April 9, 1871, of a pioneer United Empire Loyalist family. Now a highway the road to Barnston in those days was a narrow path, called the Market Road, the main route to Montreal. Tall maple trees on each side met overhead.

The road itself was the type called "a corduroy road", made of logs laid crosswise and covered over with dirt. Occasionally one log would work through and give the traveller an extra bump.

Mrs. Buckland received her education at the Barnston Academy and Stanstead College. Always an inveterate reader, she reminisces on an incident, which occurred when she was 12 years old. She was following a continued story in the weekly paper. One issue was late in arriving, so the little girl walked the lonely path through the Market Woods to the village of Barnston for her paper, distance of five miles. It was dark when she returned home.

At the age of 20, Claribel Buckland married John Buckland, of Barnston, and they lived on the farm which had been in the family since it was taken up by the Crown. The ancestor, John Bellows, who bought the farm, fought in the Battle of Quebec and came to settle in the Eastern Townships about 1760. The price set for the land was $4 cash, which was difficult to find in those early days. The young settler walked to Hatley to borrow the $4, only to find the money had been "let out" to a man in Stanstead. He walked to the village and got the cash required by the Crown.

It took years of toil to save the $4 from the sale of potatoes to pay off the debt. Potash was the only commodity then to have cash value and Montreal the only center in which to cash it. When Mrs. Buckland was 25, she was left a widow with three children, Gladys, Irene and John. The family moved to Coaticook, where she resides today near the High School. Until recent years an active member of the United Church, she is still an interested supporter. She enjoys reading or knitting, and her hobby has always been the raising and caring for flowers.

Her daughter, Mrs. Abbott C. Jenks cares for her in her own home. Her son, John lives in Waterloo. She enjoys visits from her family and friends.

MRS. CLARIBEL BUCKLAND

Does your bank really help you save money?

Of course it does. Every bank in Canada offers you a Savings Account service. No matter what bank you visit, the Savings Account system is operated the same way.

So why should you choose Toronto-Dominion over any other bank?

The answer is quite simple. It's the happy combination of the service and the people who provide it for you, that makes all the difference.

Our tellers are the FRIENDLIEST you'll find

This is John Laliberté, a Savings Account Teller at our III St. Peter Street branch in Quebec City. John is shown here accepting a regular deposit from one of his customers. John likes to watch his customers' Savings grow, because, he knows how important it is to have the money on hand for the things you want and need.

You'll find efficient, friendly people like John Laliberté in every Toronto-Dominion branch across the country. Their "interested" kind of service makes it much easier for you to save at "The Bank". Make it a point to meet some of our people soon and see for yourself how much...
