Prairie Economy Boost Expected With Conservative Legislation

OTTAWA (CP) — The sagging Prairie economy likely will be bolstered by a big outpouring of cash soon after Parliament opens Monday. And the flow may have some benefits throughout the country.

One of the first pieces of legislation the Progressive Conservative government will place before Parliament will call for payment of cash advances to Prairie growers for farm-stored wheat.

Indict Trio In Smuggling

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Three men were indicted in U.S. district court Thursday on two counts each of conspiracy to smuggle merchandise into the U.S. from Canada in a truckload of hay.

They are Leo A. Champagne, 21, of Woonsocket; Norwood Wood, 38, and Clarence K. Burdick, 40, both of Boston.

The indictments say Champagne drove a truck to Canada, loaded it with 55 cases and boxes of assorted foods, medicine and liquors from Red China, concealed the load with bales of hay and drove it across the boundary without paying duty. It adds that on Dec. 8, 1956, he was aided by Woo and Burdick in unloading the contraband in North Smithfield and transporting it to an undisclosed destination in the U.S.

World News In Brief

BAGHDAD, Iraq — (Reuters) — Security police Thursday night arrested an undisclosed number of members of the illegal "Arab Baath Socialist party" at Basra, southern Iraq for plotting against the country's regime.

MARMAGH, Northern Ireland — (AP) — Gelatin dynamite bombs exploded Thursday night at a bus depot setting several vehicles afire. Police blamed the attack on the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

CATANIA, Sicily — (Reuters) — Mount Etna, Europe's biggest active volcano, today continued to hurl incandescent matter several hundred yards into the air at a rate of five or six explosions a minute.

BARCELONA, Spain — (AP) — Space scientists from 21 nations agreed Thursday that man's first space flight is many years away.

MONTREAL — (CP) — The Salvation Army will mark the 75th anniversary of its establishment in Canada at its national congress here Oct. 24 to 29.

OTTAWA — (CP) — The National Federation of Canadian University Students Thursday presented a brief to Labor Minister Michael Starn asking that students who take on summer jobs be exempted from paying unemployment insurance contributions.

VICTORIA — (CP) — More than 700 officers and men of the 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, will leave Victoria for Germany Tuesday.

Officials are tight-lipped about details. But it is understood the advances would be made to farmers through the Canadian Wheat Board on a limited portion of Prairie wheat production.

The board would have to raise the money by borrowing from the banks at negotiated interest rates. Usually such costs are borne eventually by the farmers, whose wheat is marketed by the federal board.

But in the case of cash advances the government may step in to absorb the interest costs, charging them to the public treasury. That, in effect, would mean another budget expenditure.

Unoubtedly the scheme — a Progressive Conservative election promise — will release a vast new amount of purchasing power which may bolster sales not only in Prairie stores but also in other parts of the country. Much of the goods sold in the West are produced in other Canadian regions.

But the flow of cash will be limited. For example, the advances may be based on, say, eight bushels of wheat an acre. Since Prairie farmers currently have about 20,000,000 acres in wheat, they might be able to draw advances on 160,000,000 bushels of wheat.

It is understood the advance will be less than $1 a bushel — perhaps about 50 or 60 cents. But even at 50 cents a bushel, the advances could total about $80,000,000.

Under the present system farmers have been able to borrow up to $3,000 from banks on farm-stored grain, paying five per cent interest. Loans are government-guaranteed. There has been criticism of that plan, introduced under the former Liberal government, because of the interest cost.

While cash advances will undoubtedly reduce the hardships of Prairie producers, the prime issue still to be faced is the need to reduce a record surplus.

Killer Of Six Dies In Chair

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A plump, 50-year-old waitress who killed three small daughters, her mother and two husbands with rat poison, died in the electric chair early today.

She left behind a note asking that her body be turned over to a medical institution. She said she wanted someone to "find out why I committed the crimes I have committed."

Mrs. Rhonda Belle Martin died clutching a New Testament in her left hand. She was executed for the poisoning of her fourth husband, Claude C. Martin, in 1951.

After her arrest in March, 1956, she signed a statement admitting that she fed rat poison to two other husbands, three of her children and her mother. Her fifth husband, Ronald Martin, survived the poisoning.

Pakistan Premier Resigns

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Prime Minister H.S. Suhrawardy resigned today and President Iskander Mirza asked Ismail Chundrigar, leader of the opposition Muslim League, to form a new government.

Suhrawardy, who had headed a coalition cabinet for 13 months, quit after the Republican Party withdrew its support. The cabinet was made up of five Republicans, five members of the premier's Awami League and one non-party minister.

The prime minister and the Republicans fell out over Republican demands that West Pakistan be reorganized into four or more small provinces. Suhrawardy opposed the reorganization.

Suhrawardy's resignation was announced after a two-hour conference at the president's residence. Chundrigar was in Dacca attending a party convention, and Mirza asked him to report whether he could form a stable government.

All Dolled Up Capital City And Hull Ready For Queen

By DON PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip come to Ottawa Saturday.

At this point in the capital you don't have to be told—a quick turn around the block is all you need.

The city and neighboring Hull, Que., are all dolled up for the four-day visit. It starts Saturday at 4:30 p.m. EDT when the British airliner bearing the Royal Couple lands at Uplands Airport, on the southern outskirts.

Elizabeth and Philip will cover 14 miles Saturday on a procession route that will take them through some of Ottawa's most scenic sections from Uplands to Government House, official residence of Governor-General.

They have been in Canada before—together during a national tour as princess and Duke of Edinburgh in 1951 and Philip alone in 1954 on a visit to Canada's northland and the British Empire Games at Vancouver.

TO OPEN PARLIAMENT
But the 31-year-old monarch will write a new page in Canada's history Monday when she opens the first session of the 23rd Parliament. It will be the first time a reigning monarch has ever opened Canada's Parliament.

Weather permitting, she and Philip will ride together to Parliament Hill for that Monday afternoon ceremony in a horse-drawn open landau. A 24-man mounted escort—members of the RCMP's Musical Ride—will accompany the state carriage.

The press will meet the royal couple at the first official function of the visit Saturday evening. About 400 of the 1,000-member corps of newspaper and broadcasting personnel coming here from several countries to cover the visit will spend an hour with Elizabeth and Philip at a Government House reception a few hours after their arrival.

Sunday morning, on their way to services at Christ Church Anglican Cathedral, the Queen will pause in Confederation Square to place a wreath at the base of the National War Memorial. After church the afternoon

Satchmo Changes Integration Tune

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Negro trumpeter Louis Armstrong, discussing integration troubles at Little Rock, Ark., said Thursday of President Eisenhower: "That man has a soul. He has done as much as Lincoln did and more than any other president between them did," said Armstrong, who recently was critical of Eisenhower.

Armstrong said in an interview he has withdrawn his refusal to make a state department-sponsored tour of Russia.

Combine Charged To Papers

MONTREAL (CP) — Summonses were issued in criminal court Thursday against 17 pulp and paper companies for alleged violations of government anti-combine regulations.

The complaint alleges that cardboard of various forms, used in making certain types of boxes and containers, was involved in the infringement of regulations.

The summonses were issued by Judge Henri Masson Loranger at request of John Ahern, Montreal lawyer acting for the federal government.

The complaint claims the offences occurred between 1934 and 1953. The summonses are returnable Nov. 5.

Named in the complaint are Bathurst Power and Paper Company, Montreal; Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper, Quebec; North-east Paper Products, Quebec; Beaver Wood Fiber Co., Thorold, Ont.; Consolidated Paper Corporation, Montreal; Consolidated Paper Sales, Montreal; E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, Que.; Fraser Company, Plaster Rock, N.B.; Gair Company (Canada), Toronto; Hinds and Dauch Paper Co., Toronto; Howard Smith Paper Mills, Montreal; Minas Bishop Pulp and Paper Co., Trenton, Ont.; Price Brothers Co., Quebec; Price Brothers Sales Corporation, Quebec; St. Lawrence Corporation, Montreal; Strathcona Paper Co., Nanaimo, B.C.

Statement Follows Khrushchev Interview

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia confronted each other menacingly over the Middle East today, with each power warning the other against plunging the area into war.

Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev touched off the latest situation with comments regarded by the U.S. government as directly threatening Turkey. His statement, made in a New York Times interview, was published Thursday.

Thursday night the state department said the U.S. intends to stand by its obligations to Turkey under the North Atlantic Treaty and is "determined to carry out" its expressed policy of defending the Middle East against international communism.

Clearly warning that a clash in the Middle East might spread to engulf much of the world, the U.S. statement asserted:

"Mr. Khrushchev is himself reported to have observed that it is dangerous in these times to assume that hostilities, once begun, will remain confined to a particular locality. That truth should be prayerfully and constantly contemplated by every responsible official of every country."

DEPENDS ON EVENTS
Exactly how serious the situation is was not entirely clear.

Ottawa Set For Crowds

OTTAWA (CP) — The 250,000 population of the capital area is expected to be swelled by more than 100,000 during the four-day visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Extra trains and buses will pour visitors into the capital from all directions. Airlines report all flights heavily booked. Extra planes are ready for use if the demand arises.

The city tourist bureau reports there are still rooms available in private homes for visitors seeking overnight accommodation. A few motels on the distant outskirts had some space left, but most central hotels and motels had been filled for days.

Restaurants are extending hours to make sure all visitors can eat without delay. Most of the visitors are expected to spend only a day in the capital.

Jewish Couple Get Custody Of Catholic Child

WESTPORT, Conn. (CP) — Judge Earl H. Jago Thursday awarded custody of two-year-old Deborah Haines to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Haines, a Jewish couple who adopted the child a few days after she was born to Roman Catholic parents.

Deborah's natural parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Hahn of Mount Vernon, N. Y., had sought to regain custody. The Hahns said they wished to rear their child as a Catholic. Judge Jago ruled that "it was a planned adoption at the natural parents' suggestion."

Same Charge For Man And Wife

WORMLEY, England (AP) — Truck driver William Canning and his wife Pamela were fined £25 each Thursday for drunken driving in the same vehicle.

Mrs. Canning, 34, was arrested after a collision with an automobile. Her husband, 37, was found asleep in a nearby field. He said he was too drunk to drive but didn't dream his wife would speed off in the truck—because she never tried to drive anything before.

Week's Flight Nears End For Red Sputnik

LONDON (CP) — Russia's earth satellite streaked on through space today, apparently undisturbed by a shower of meteoric fragments.

Nearing the end of its first week aloft, sputnik—as the Russians call their man-made moon—was said to be maintaining course and speed, circling the earth once every 96.1 minutes.

Since the Russians shot their sphere into the upper air last Friday night, the satellite has travelled more than 2,500,000 miles, according to Soviet estimates.

Moscow radio said Thursday night the satellite "is now being bombarded by micro-meteorites," but that it appeared no serious damage had resulted.

Moscow radio said the real danger period for the satellite will come during three days beginning Oct. 20, when the earth and sputnik will pass through meteor debris left by Halley's comet.

TO APPROACH EARTH
The broadcast also said that in the last stage of its existence, sputnik will come closer to the earth and give off light like a meteor and that "its light will be observable for a long time."

It gave no indication of when this might happen.

In New York, Dr. Sergei M. Poloskov said the Russians intend to share with the United States and other nations scientific information obtained from the satellite.

Poloskov and two other Soviet scientists were interviewed before they boarded a plane on their way home. The Russian trio last week attended a Washington conference in connection with the International Geophysical Year.

The United States plans some test firings of satellites in December and the launching of fully instrumented satellites in March.

WEREN'T RACING
Poloskov contended there had been "no special competition" with the United States to send out the first moonlet. He said that when American scientists study the orbit of the Russian sphere, "they may have enough data to make changes in the plans for theirs."

He also said the satellite the United States hopes to launch "certainly will give more information than ours—that is, the first one." But the American satellite "will give less information than our next one."

He said he could not give any exact data on the next Russian launching or the nature of any future Soviet satellites.

A. A. Blagoravov, one of Poloskov's companions, said, "it's nonsense" when he was asked about suggestions by some American scientists and others that the Russian satellite may be sending back signals in code and may be photographing the United States.

Today's Chuckle
"No, I don't like spinach," said the 12-year-old. "And I'm glad I don't like it. If I did, I'd eat it. And I hate the stuff."

Reserve's Summer Camp Out

OTTAWA — (CP) — Canada's 34,000-member reserve forces may be on their way out of existence.

The army announced Thursday that there will be no summer camp for the militia in 1958. Instead, "selected" militiamen will be attached to regular army units for one week of training.

Training time for the militia throughout the year will be cut to 40 from 60 days and more emphasis will be placed on civil defence work. The training reduction will mean a saving of about $5,000,000 to the defence department because annual maximum pay earned by a militiaman will be cut one-third.

Main reason for the militia overhaul is the increased emphasis on forces-in-being—that is, troops who would not need further training in event of war.

Informants say increases in equipment costs must result in manpower cuts unless defence expenditures are to be allowed to rise. And the only fruitful field for manpower cuts is the reserve forces—42,000 in the militia, about 6,000 in the naval reserve and some 5,500 in the RCAF Reserve.

DISCONTINUE EXERCISE
Meanwhile, the army also announced that the 1st Canadian Infantry Division will not exercise at Camp Gagetown, N.B., next summer as it has done for the last three years.

The three brigades in the division will train independently at Gagetown, Camp Petawawa, Ont. and Camp Wainwright, Alta. Gagetown is being built as a divisional training area at a cost of $100,000,000.

The fate of Gagetown appears unsettled. It is designed to house an infantry brigade group but revenue Minister George Nowlan has been quoted as saying that the Black Watch, one of the two infantry regiments scheduled to occupy Gagetown, will remain at Camp Aldershot, N.S. This would seem to indicate the defence department plans to maintain two army camps in the Maritimes instead of one as originally intended.

Some militia commanders were reported dismayed at the cancellation of summer camps and the increased emphasis on civil defence. They said large numbers of part-time soldiers probably will quit the militia, leaving only officers in many units.

Hastings Nomination To Smith

MADOC, Ont. (CP) — External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith will seek a seat in the House of Commons in a Hastings - Frontenac byelection Nov. 4.

And it appears he will win it by acclamation.

Dr. Smith, appointed to the cabinet a month ago, Thursday was unanimously nominated Progressive Conservative candidate for the riding and there have been indications from both the Liberal and Social Credit parties that they will name no candidates.

The byelection was called to replace George S. White, who won the seat for the Conservatives in the June 10 election and has since been appointed to the Senate.

Dr. Smith promised about 650 persons at the nomination meeting he will keep in close touch with his adopted constituency because "we have heard quite recently of the failure of a government when there is a separation between the brass and the grass."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the audience legislation planned for the coming session of Parliament will fulfill Conservative campaign promises. Monday's speech from the throne, to be read by Queen Elizabeth, would include word on measures to benefit farmers, labor, old age pensioners and Canadians generally.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — News notes—

Mike Todd says he has the Don Quixote script licked and he'll start shooting it in Spain next April.

"I found the answer to the script right in Cervantes himself," said the showman. "It's in the book, but Cervantes himself didn't know what he was doing. That's why he was a once-around-Willie."

What's a once-around-Willie? Todd explained that it's a writer who produces only one great work — like Margaret Mitchell and Gone With the Wind.

After Don Quixote, which he says will have a fabulous cast, Todd will make the story of Arturo Toscanini, incorporating the many operas which the maestro conducted. Then he'll make one more picture and quit. Or so he says.

"I know nobody believes it, but just wait and see," Todd said.

FRIENDS TOGETHER

Longtime friends Montgomery Clift and Marlon Brando are doing their first picture together, but they never act in the same scene. Clift plays an American soldier and Brando a Nazi soldier in parallel stories in The Young Lions.

"But we never appear on the screen together except in the last scene," Clift remarked. "And even then, Marlon is dead. The scene takes place in a forest when Marlon exposes himself and Dean Martin and I shoot him."

Clift, who is thin as a rail, said he and Marlon have known each other for 15 years, ever since they were juveniles on Broadway. This is the first time anyone has suggested they appear in the same production.

TWO FROM JAPAN

If there is a large-scale tourist invasion of Japan next year, the reason will be understandable. Hollywood is bringing out two pictures that present the beauties of Japan as they have never been seen on the screen before.

RKO's Escapade in Japan is a stunning view of the seaports, interiors and cities of the country. The plot is okay, being surprisingly similar to Gene Kelly's recent Happy Road, which took place in France. Both pictures show parents chasing two runaway children. The star of Escapade is Japan itself.

On the other hand, Sayonara is a potent story played against the backdrop of striking scenery. It is a modern re-working of the Madame Butterfly theme, beautifully acted by Marlon Brando and Miiko Taka. Brando plays it in a down-south accent and demonstrates again that he is probably the screen's best actor.

All About Stamps

Cover collectors, especially those who collect First Flights, will want to have the Cover being made available by the Post Office Department of the Union of South Africa on the occasion of the first direct airmail service to Australia. The South African commemorative event, souvenir covers have been designed. Airways will inaugurate this service on the 25th of November. To a specially designed date stamp will be applied by the Post Office Department. All covers will be addressed to the Airways representative in Perth, Australia, but will be returned to South Africa for delivery of applicants. The cost for each cover, including servicing will be 2/6, plus 2d for the return postage. Every order must be accompanied by a money order made payable to the Postmaster-General, Pretoria. Cheques or currency will not be accepted. Applications must reach the Post Office, Publicity Branch, Pretoria, not later than the 16th of November.

Japan will issue two commemorative postage stamps for the 12th National Athletic Meeting, beginning on October 26th in Shizuoka Prefecture. The Canal Zone will issue a 3-cent commemorative stamp for the 75th Anniversary of the Gorgas Hospital on the 17th of November.

Postmaster-General Arthur E. Summerfield of the United States Post Office Department has announced that the fourth stamp in the Wildlife Conservation series will be put on sale simultaneously at Corpus Christi, Texas and New York City, New York, on the 22nd of November. The 3-cent stamp will feature a pair of whooping cranes and their young. One hundred million will be printed in three colors — blue, green and yellow — on pre-gummed paper on the Giori press. Whooping cranes have become international symbols of conservation, having dwindled from thousands to a small flock of approximately thirty birds. On their winter grounds at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge they are under the protection of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Corpus Christi was selected as one of the first day sale sites because the whooping cranes spend their winters along the nearby coastal areas. New York City was selected as the other site to mark the opening of the Ninth National Postage Stamp Show of the American Stamp Dealers Association, Inc., to be held on November 22, 23 and 24. The theme of the show will be Wildlife Conservation.

Collectors of British Empire stamps will be pleased to know that supplies of the Gibbons Part 1, British Commonwealth, are now available in Canada. The catalog is a must for all serious collectors of the British Empire and is better than ever this year. There are a number of price revisions and the details regarding stamps are most interesting.

Until recently the Universal Postage Union set up a schedule for the colors of postage stamps. The 1-cent stamps were to be green, the 2-cent red, the 3-cent purple, 5-cent blue and the 10-cent yellow or orange. However, this schedule is not closely followed these days due to sudden changes in the rates of postage and collectors have protested about the sameness of colors year after year.

GUIDE LINE

HIGH FOREST —

A meeting of the Red Cross was held at the home of Mrs. Victor Bell in East Clifton with Mrs. Ray Waldron as joint hostess. There was a large attendance of members and visitors and the afternoon was spent in sewing, knitting and piecing quilt blocks. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Harry French. A letter from Headquarters in Montreal was read. More sewing and wool has been received and some of this was given out. Work turned in was three sweaters, six year size and three baby sweaters, three pairs of mittens and two pairs of mittens. It was decided to have a card shower for Mrs. Ettra McVety on her 86th birthday, also to give her a plant. The next meeting will be held on October 23.

Helping Hands Hold Meeting At Birtchton

BIRCHTON — The October meeting of the Helping Hand Club of the Birtchton United Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Picard.

Mrs. Picard was in charge of the devotional period, speaking on the theme, "Thanksgiving". A word picture of the early days of the Pilgrim Fathers in New England and of their first Thanksgiving service followed.

Mrs. Lefebvre and Mrs. Beaton gave interesting readings on Missionary Work.

The committee in charge of the recent turkey supper reported a successful evening, and wished to thank all the workers, helpers and consumers, who contributed to making the evening a financial and social success.

Bills pertaining to the care and maintenance of the hall were ordered paid.

The Sunshine Committee reported on work done to cheer the sick. In nine months of 1957, 10 cheer boxes, 32 cards and four lots of flowers had been sent out.

Committees were appointed to provide music for the December meeting and for Thanksgiving decorations in the church.

Laramée Service Inc. Founds Plant Here To Manufacture Buses

A large autobus manufacturing company, to be known as the Sherbrooke Coach Manufacturing, Reg'd, which may employ as many as 200 people, is being established in this city by Laramée Service, Inc., well-known Eastern Townships transportation firm.

Head of the enterprise, Alphonse Laramée, said yesterday that some 66,000 pounds of material and equipment arrived in Sherbrooke yesterday morning, and was stored at the Laramée Service Garage.

A site for an industrial plant has not yet been chosen, but Laramée said that operations will commence at the garage within the next 15 days with a staff of about 15. It is understood that this staff could produce thirty vehicles a year.

However, when a plant is constructed, Laramée said that probably some 200 would be employed, turning out four buses a week.

The buses that Laramée plans to manufacture will be for inter-urban use. Their capacity will be 45 passengers, and they will be powered by a British Leyland diesel motor, with a displacement of 680 cubic inches. The vehicles will be 37½ feet long and will be of the "split level" design.

It is expected that the sale price of the vehicles will be in the vicinity of $40,000, and that they will command a country-wide market.

With the exception of the British motors, and other mechanical parts construction and assembly of all other parts will be done at the Laramée plant.

Chassis, body work, seats and interior work will be done completely in Sherbrooke.

Combined Service At Minton United Church Sunday

The choir of Sangster Memorial under the direction of Ernest Howland, will have charge of the music and will render an anthem appropriate to this religious solemnity.

Receipts Higher Than Last Year

Steer and lamb prices at the closing fat stock sale of the Sherbrooke Winter Fair held at the Arena yesterday afternoon showed a decided drop from last year's prices, while hog prices were bid up slightly higher.

Top price bid for a steer was $1.72 a pound; a bid made by Steinberg's of Montreal for the grand champion of the show. The Aberdeen Angus was sold by L. T. Porter of St. Andrew's East. Last year, the show champion went for $1.87 a pound. Porter's reserve grand champion, also an Angus, went for $1.25 a pound to Charles Morantz of Montreal, who donated the animal to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Montreal.

Total steer sales for the 141 head of market cattle amounted to $42,404, or an average of 30 1/2 cents a pound. The average price bid per pound last year was 36 1/2 cents.

The grand champion lamb of the show, sold by Gordon Cass and Son of Ayer's Cliff was bought by the T. Eaton Co. at $3.00 a pound. The bid for the champion last year was $4.00 per pound.

The average bid per pound for lamb yesterday was 26 cents compared to 42½ cents a pound last year.

La Belle Ferrière bid $1.35 a pound for the champion pen of three bacon hogs, sold by Georges Ricard, of St. Michel, Naperville Co. Last year, champion hogs went at $1.17 a pound.

Total receipts of the sale were $48,362 compared to $47,707 last year.

Steinberg's bid 35 cents a pound on a steer donated by Eric Webster, North Hatley, to the Sherbrooke Hospital. Total value of the 932-pound Hereford was $326.20.

C. C. Warner of Lennoxville also donated a cull steer to the hospital which was sold at 26 1/2 cents a pound to Canada Packers.

Charles Morantz bid 25 1/2 cents a pound for a steer sold by Alex MacDonald of Sherbrooke, and donated it to the Jewish General Hospital, Montreal.

Biggest buyer at yesterday's sale was National Beef, bidding for IGA. The company put in winning bids on a total of 26 head of cattle. Canada Packers bid successfully on 18 head of cattle. Modern Packers on 15, and Steinberg's on 14.

One of the biggest buyers of Aberdeen Angus steers was Obie's Meat Market, buying for the Black Angus Restaurant, soon to be opened in Montreal. Winning bids were put in on a total of 10 head.

Auctioneer Mahlon Zeron, of Iroquois, Ont., handled the sale briskly, putting through the 141 head of steers in 191 minutes.

The sale was officially opened by Mayor Armand Nadeau.

Flameout Of Political Comets

It seems a long time since British Laborite Aneurin Bevan was loudly in the news. He got a small notice recently when he was re-elected treasurer of his party.

Wearing his leftist sympathies as a bright banner, Bevan has made practically a career out of damning the United States. Americans and others used to worry a good deal about this when it looked as if he might one day come to power as Britain's prime minister.

But that day looks more and more remote now. There is a certain category of politicians which practices a kind of self-cannibalism. Men in this category eventually fall victim of the very personal traits which at first appear to be the source of their strength and power.

It's been that way with Bevan. The fiery orator blazed his way to the top like a comet. But then he began to be consumed in his own excesses. Gradually he fell into discredit. Today, while he hangs on, he is a secondary figure a long distance from enjoying any real measure of general public trust despite his acknowledged ability.

A politician who would make it all the way had better find some other footsteps to trail.

The Heart In Business

"There is no heart in business." Many people, out of unfortunate experiences, may still believe the bitter old saying in their off-moments. Some, more cynical, may even carry the conviction throughout their lives.

It may be true, of course, of some business. It is also true that there is still slavery, literal slavery, in some backwater parts of the world. But the greater part of humanity has escaped slavery and the greater part of business has a heart. The heart, indeed, is more and more evident in everyday affairs.

How often one sees a salesman carried over a long, sterile period by an understanding boss. These days many a boss is in the way of being a psychiatrist so much patience does he bring to probing gently to find the root of an employee's trouble.

A newspaper, for all its public services, is a business. One remembers a tall, earnest reporter, a man of fine character, who simply "could not write." A re-write man had to go over many of his leads and often his entire stories. Yet he remained on the same paper for decades, until he reached the retirement age. It might have been kinder, true, if he had been told early in his career that it was not much use but he was certainly kept on through sympathy.

On the same staff was a thin, sandy reporter, a veteran with a pair of glasses on his nose and frequently several in his stomach, to borrow from O. Henry. Times without number this man let the paper down and was fired and re-hired. The newspaper could easily have survived without his services but he was likeable and those never-again protestations kept him on.

When one is tempted to believe there is no heart in business it is wise to remember that many a boss has shown a worker more understanding in the office than he has ever received at home.

Conversation Piece

Here and there about the country reports indicate that anticipation of Asian flu or ordinary flu epidemics has caused some people to get a little excitable. Obviously an epidemic disease which can weaken the system and leave victims occasionally prey to other ailments is not to be dismissed with a shrug, as hundreds in Sherbrooke can testify.

But the authorities say again and again that it is a mild disease which is generally not too difficult to control in the individual case, however rapidly it spreads from person to person. The biggest danger seems to be the prospect of immobilizing large groups of essential workers in a community.

Nevertheless, we are not to be visited by germ warfare from a foreign foe. We can afford to face the flu with calmness.

The trouble apparently is that, as with so many things, we have talked endlessly about the matter. If talk could kill an epidemic, the flu scourge would have been dead in Canada weeks ago. So far, the verbal fallout is equal to the bacterial.

Press Comment

WHAT IS A BEVANITE?

(Manchester Guardian)
The question that arises from this year's election to the Labour party Executive is not whether the Bevanite label has lost its magic but whether it has lost its meaning. The interesting point that emerges is not the dropping of Mr. Silberman or the election of Mr. Callaghan in his place: Mr. Silberman had never seemed quite at home in this company, and Mr. Callaghan was obviously destined for a seat on the Executive some time.

More significant are the shifts that have taken place in the order of the constituencies' voting. Mrs. Castle has been displaced from her perch at the head of the poll in spite of her repudiation of the Executive's document on public ownership. Her place is taken by Mr. Greenwood, never a Bevanite in the full sense, and who lately has stood near to the centre of the party. Mr. Wilson, who follows him in the order, was, of course, originally junior partner in Mr. Bevan's revolt; but he was also the first to move over into Mr. Gaitskell's camp, and lost 200,000 votes in consequence. His return to favour is one sign that old wounds are being forgotten.

As for Mr. Crossman, his decline in popularity has probably less to do with his retreat from Bevanism than with his rude words about trade unionist M.P.s; these may not be easily forgiven, though his speech about pensions on Tuesday may help Mr. Crossman, to recover some lost ground.

The final result is to leave only three members—Mrs. Castle, Mr. Driberg, and Mr. Mikardo—who might still choose to describe themselves as Bevanites. But would Mr. Bevan any longer recognise them as his own? His conduct in the past year seems to have spread confusion in the ranks of "Tribune's" readers; hence the break in the straight Left-wing ticket. The result could be to restore a healthier flexibility to constituency politics.

Letter To The Editor

Let Us Stop Bluffing

The Editor,
The Sherbrooke Daily Record,
Dear Sir:

Now that the Communists have successfully launched their 180 lb. satellite while we are still unable to get our 21 lb. satellite outside the clutches of gravity lets us stop our bluffing!

Let us stop those silly television programmes and other media which portray the Communists as stupid-clod-hoppers whom we constantly outwit by our superiority; the reverse is nearer the truth. Our favourite pastime used to be pouring scorn upon Hitler the paper-hanger playing at general, but that same paper-hanger conquered more territory and destroyed more lives than anyone in history. In the meantime, without risking Russian lives, the Communists have conquered even more territory than Hitler; the only difference is that they are holding on to it.

Let us stop our bluffing about the threat of war and staking our safety on "fear". When gunpowder was first introduced there were those who naively presumed that men would hesitate to use so deadly a weapon, but very soon the gates of their delusions and the gates of their cities were shattered asunder! Before 1939 the terrifying picture of thousands of tons of T.N.T. raining down upon cities from the sky was supposed to be a sure deterrent, but London, Coventry and Belfast shortly learned otherwise. Since 1945 we have been comforting ourselves with the false hope that a thermonuclear attack with its awful consequence is out of the question, but I say that it is on the way.

Let us stop bluffing everybody with the thought that though the Communists have gained more territory than we have yet the minds of the peoples are with us. The real battle is always for the mind of man and a survey of world literature in 1956 will show that the three out of the first four authors read were not, "How I Outwitted The Communists", "How To Drive A Cadillac", and "Retire In Florida At 45", but "Lenin" "Marx" and "Stalin". If we were to send a large army to Moscow to "liberate" the Russians instead of the welcome mat we would be met with the same determined opposition which flung back the Germans at Stalingrad.

Do not misunderstand me! I hate the Communist way of life but I have never underestimated the enemy! However old fashioned it may be I still believe in the personality of the devil, that wicked being whose ability is such that the sumtotal of all earth's brilliant minds cannot compare with his mighty intellect. I can, of course, bluff myself into believing that he is only a crude fellow with horns, hooves and tail, or at the most someone whom I can outwit like Daniel Webster; but if I am realistic I will see him as he really is and recognize that he is out to destroy mankind. The parallel holds good for Communism. We have not been "ahead of the Communists for some time; we are not more brilliant than the Communists; and Communism is not just coexisting with us for a peaceful world, but is out to destroy us with ideas, intercontinental missiles, and missiles from a launching-platform in outer space.

Let us stop bluffing as to how all this happened. A way of life that spends three times as much on alcoholic beverages as on education cannot hope to win any scientific race, for scientists come from schools and colleges which, under our system, being denied the public support, have to crawl to political rascals for survival. Can a way of life that pays more to a celluloid nit-wit in one day than it gives a scientist in his whole life-time be first in any race save the path to doom? Can a way of life whose mind has fallen from its head so far beneath its belt that it throws sex at its people from morning to night in films, television, music (?), magazines, books, papers, advertisements, etc., can such a way of life be first anywhere except to destroy marriage, break up homes and unsettle young lives?

Above all let us stop bluffing in our Protestant Churches for we have been the world's greatest bluffers! Ever with us are the faithful men and women who truly believe, but the majority in our churches are only religious bluffers else how could Communism have survived if the hundreds of millions of Statistic Christians had been believing Christians? During the war one pilot said to another, "We are only fighting to stop the enemy; guns never changed men, it will be up to the Church to do that after the war!" After the war General MacArthur called for hundreds of missionaries but the means were not available for this and many other places because millions of religious bluffers would not give their lives or money to Christ and His kingdom. Most people think that the biggest lies are told in the beer-parlors. I disagree completely! The biggest lies are in funeral-homes when dear, kind and untruthful religious leaders say of the deceased, "Well done, good and faithful servant!" The deceased like the majority of the religious bluffers spent less than an hour each week in church, gave a miserable pittance financially, and even when he knew he was dying did not remember the Church of Christ in his will. The greatest, the best men and women in all the world are in the Church but so are the Communists' greatest allies namely, the religious bluffers.

There is just one hope for a world in which human nature stands poised with a global-devastating weapon. Only the grace of God in Jesus Christ can change that nature, Communist and otherwise, and unless the religious bluffers waken up to help the Church get this home to Moscow, Washington and all other countries, thermonuclear extinction confronts the majority of mankind.

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Tuesday, Oct. 11, 1927.

Taking part in a comic opera in Granby were: Mrs. Mabel Bradford, Gladys Nicholson, Mrs. Leland Webster, Miss Margaret Robinson, Billy Lewis, Dr. A. A. Graham and Mrs. G. Fuller.

William T. Cosgrove was re-elected president of the Irish Free State by the Dail.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Monday, Oct. 11, 1937.

Premier Duplessis has announced that the request for the resignation of the members of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction would be withdrawn, restoring the status quo in that organization.

Three automobiles, carrying officers of the British embassy were subject to further attacks by Japanese airplanes in the vicinity of Shanghai.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Saturday, Oct. 11, 1947.

Cliff "Red" Goupille has signed with the Sherbrooke Saints Hockey Club it was announced today by local officials.

J. E. Perry has been elected president of the High Schools Association at a meeting in Montreal it was announced yesterday afternoon.

eral MacArthur called for hundreds of missionaries but the means were not available for this and many other places because millions of religious bluffers would not give their lives or money to Christ and His kingdom. Most people think that the biggest lies are told in the beer-parlors. I disagree completely! The biggest lies are in funeral-homes when dear, kind and untruthful religious leaders say of the deceased, "Well done, good and faithful servant!" The deceased like the majority of the religious bluffers spent less than an hour each week in church, gave a miserable pittance financially, and even when he knew he was dying did not remember the Church of Christ in his will. The greatest, the best men and women in all the world are in the Church but so are the Communists' greatest allies namely, the religious bluffers.

There is just one hope for a world in which human nature stands poised with a global-devastating weapon. Only the grace of God in Jesus Christ can change that nature, Communist and otherwise, and unless the religious bluffers waken up to help the Church get this home to Moscow, Washington and all other countries, thermonuclear extinction confronts the majority of mankind.

On Bridge

AGNES CINCHES BID PROPERLY

Agnes Gordon of Buffalo can't be called a newcomer in bridge circles. She has been a member of the top 10 women for years. After being first and second in the National mixed teams in 1956 and 1955 she fell off to third this year.

As this article appears I will be playing with Mrs. Gordon for the first time. The event will be the Upper New York regionals in Schenectady where there is always a tough field and I hope that Mrs. Gordon and my other partners will pull me through to some championship or other.

In today's hand Mrs. Gordon found herself in a normal four spade contract. She won the opening heart lead in dummy and considered briefly the possibility of leading the jack of diamonds and going after an over-trick.

She did not consider it for long. Even though the game was match points and the over-trick was important, Agnes did not want to jeopardize her contract which appeared to be a very good one.

She drew three rounds of trumps and then led a diamond from her own hand. Now there was no defense against four spades. Agnes lost two diamond tricks and one club only; one of dummy's clubs being discarded on her last diamond.

It should be noted that if Agnes had tried the diamond suit before pulling trumps East could have dropped his seven on dummy's jack. West could have taken the queen and laid down the ace, whereupon East would have completed the echo with the three and West would have given him a chance to trump a third diamond. Agnes would still have had to lose a club and would be down one.

Picnic Held At Historic Site

Seen above is a happy group at the picnic held at the site of the Austin monument on the shores of Lake Memphremagog under the auspices of the Brome County Historical Society. Many members of the society and their friends attended the event held at the spot which marks the settlement of the pioneer, Nicholas Austin.

Mr. Austin, a Quaker, was a resident of New Hampshire at the outbreak of the American Revolution and, while his religious convictions prevented him from bearing arms, he served the Crown in other ways. This resulted in his being evicted from his home and forced him to seek a new one in territory still under British jurisdiction.

He made an exploratory journey to this vicinity in 1791 and the following year made a permanent settlement at the new location. Like many others, he was to wait some years before all the red tape of the government land grant system was unwound and his grant was made.

His life as a pioneer was filled with many difficulties, such as the necessity of walking to bring back a small corn grinder on his back. The Township now bears the name of Austin in his memory.

During the afternoon, Arthur Dufresne, who is well acquainted with this territory, contributed interesting information, pointing out the location of the Nicholas Austin house, his final resting place, etc. Harry Shufelt, secretary of the society, gave many details of the life of this pioneer, based on extensive research.

A great amount of planning and preparation was necessary

Moving Pictures Viewed By Guild At North Hatley

NORTH HATLEY — The first fall meeting of St. Barnabas Anglican Guild was held in the Community Hall with the president, Mrs. Lawrence Taylor, in the chair.

Reports were heard of successful summer activities which included the summer bazaar and sale and the garden party held at the home of Mrs. P. Scowen.

It was announced that new altar linens have been received and may be taken out for hemming and finishing.

Mrs. Richard Springings stated that the W.A. Deaneys meeting will be in Lennoxville, on October 16. Grants of $5 were voted to the British and Foreign Bible Society from the Guild and W.A.

The need of a new "Choir mother" was pointed out, the position having formerly been filled by Mrs. J. E. McKay, who has returned to Florida for the winter months.

At the conclusion of the business hour, Mrs. M. Hart showed moving pictures taken on her world tour. The pictures were clear and the colors beautiful, and Mrs. Hart's comments of her impressions and experiences added to the enjoyment of the viewers.

Mr. Fisk thanked her.

Mrs. L. Taylor and Mrs. C. Guild were the hostesses who provided refreshments at the close of the program.

STATEMENT FOLLOWS

Soviet army officers.

When Henderson did not succeed in moving Jordan and Iraq to act, Khrushchev alleged, he put pressure on Turkey to do so.

DENY CHARGES

Khrushchev was quoted as saying that "if war breaks out, we are near Turkey and you are not. When the guns begin to fire, the rockets can begin flying and then it will be too late to think about it... Turkey would not last one day in case of war."

Since Turkey is much stronger than Syria, the assumption here was that Khrushchev was unmistakably threatening Russian intervention on Syria's side against Turkey if trouble breaks out there.

Of the charges against Dulles and Henderson, the state department said they "are completely unfounded." It said Henderson went to the Middle East "to consult with United States and foreign officials to obtain and bring back a first-hand impression of the situation."

Toy Rocket Blast

Panics Residents

HOBART, Tasmania — (P) — A toy rocket launched as a student's joke threw the Tasmanian capital into a panic Thursday night.

It exploded high over the city in a shower of sparks just as the Soviet satellite was scheduled to cross the sky. Switchboards of newspapers and radio stations were jammed with calls from people who believed the Red moon was about to crash.

Sputnik

NEW YORK — The suddenly popular world sputnik means travelling companion. In Russian-to-English phonetics it is pronounced spoot-neck accenting first syllable. In the Soviet Union it is applied to a satellite in the field of astronomy.

Water Guarded

TORONTO — Security measures taken to guard the Queen and Prince Philip on their visit to Canada extend even to the water they drink. Only pure water—guarded from the time of its processing until it is served—will be taken by the royal couple during their stay in Ottawa.

Cook's Compensation

LONDON — Mrs. Eileen Childs was awarded $4,700 damages Thursday after testifying her injuries in a road accident made her forget how to cook, including her husband's favorite steak and kidney pie. The husband got an additional $750 compensation.

Frog Fanciers

CASABLANCA — (Reuters) — Moroccan police are searching for a gang of frog rustlers who stole 7,000 live frogs, almost the entire stock, from a frog farm.

Fresh Turkey Set At 49-55 Cents, Frozen At 42-45

Prices remained fairly steady today at the local market with the only changes being made in the cost of greenhouse produce. Turkeys for the coming week end were selling well this morning with freshly killed birds selling at 49-55 cents a pound and frozen birds at 42-45 cents a pound.

Pork prices remained lower than usual.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "fried-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years DODD'S Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order, helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, DODD'S Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on DODD'S.

Her Majesty — Queen Elizabeth

LONDON — CORONATION GOWN — A columnist for the London Daily Mail says the Queen will wear her coronation gown when she opens the Canadian Parliament on Monday. This photo, taken a few days after the Coronation in 1953, shows the Queen in the Norman-Hartnell-designed gown. The white satin robe bears the Commonwealth emblems in jewels and pastel silks.

Royal Visit Wardrobe Best Kept Secret

LONDON (AP) — The best kept secrets in London today are details of the dresses, suits and hats that the Queen will wear in Canada and the United States.

Sound reasons are behind the secrecy-style spies.

All over the world, particularly in the United States, are dress manufacturers who could, perhaps turn a quick fortune if they could immediately reproduce the royal tour clothes.

Imagine what it would mean if spies could ferret out information that would lead to such an advertisement as:

"Wear the royal cocktail dress. Wear it now. Wear it even before the Queen does. Yours for only $19.95."

Buckingham Palace and the Queen's courtiers can visualize few things more embarrassing than the possibility of a mass reproduction of the royal wardrobe lifting the transatlantic shops coincident with the Queen's arrival.

RECALL EARLIER INSTANCE

The designers recall with horror the day of the Duchess of Windsor's marriage. A copy of duchess's going-away suit went on sale in the U.S. the day she married the duke.

When the Queen made her visit to Paris earlier this year, a French newspaper artfully anticipated her arrival dress by four days.

Makers of the royal clothes for this trip are Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies. They won't even hint about a hem.

The Queen's clothes have been given code numbers in the designers' books. Employees have been sworn to secrecy. Only the most trusted stylists are allowed to work on the models.

FEW SURE THINGS

By night the plans are locked in safes. By day the doors are guarded by careful people with a good memory for faces. As each garment is completed, it is lodged in a doubly locked wardrobe.

Only a few things are certain: The queen's hats will be small because people must be able to see her face. Her clothes will be bright, for she must stand out in crowds.

And she'll wear no facks, slacks or blue jeans.

Irene Dunne Has New Role In United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Irene Dunne, a movie star, is being seen here in the new role of United Nations delegate. She likes it.

Miss Dunne is a U.S. alternate representative in the general assembly.

Before the cameras, she says, she always felt a little frightened. But when she spoke to the general assembly, "I didn't have any stage fright and I didn't see anybody else that did."

"They were all talking about something they believed in," she commented. "They weren't trying to dream it up, and so they weren't nervous about it."

In the assembly Miss Dunne, auburn-haired, green-eyed and trim is chiefly concerned with the trusteeship committee, which looks into trust territories administered by UN members, and the special political committee. The latter is concerned with admission of new members, South African race problems, the Palestine refugees and enlargement of UN councils and the world court.

Miss Dunne and her husband, dentist Francis D. Griffin, live in Holmby Hills, a Los Angeles suburb. They will celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary next year, and have a married daughter.

Beauty Tips

A step to a healthier complexion comes just before bedtime. Then is the time to remove all traces of the day's make-up and other grime encountered. The cleansing cream used depends on the skin type, oily, normal or dry. Several applications will insure a thorough cleansing job. Taking a few minutes for this before retiring helps build up a clean, healthy complexion.

Mighty Yanks Dethroned, Milwaukee Braves 1957 World Champions

"Mighty Casey" Has Struck Out And There's Joy In Bushville Today; 750,000 Surge Out In Milwaukee

By JERRY LISK
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—"There's joy in Bushville today because the mighty Casey has struck out."

This paraphrase of a classic baseball poem is the catchword of the wildest town ever to celebrate a world series victory.

The reference to "Bushville," of course, pertains to an ill-advised crack, attributed to a Yankee source, that Milwaukee was a "bush" town. An "mighty Casey" is none other than Casey Stengel, who saw his favored Yankees yield their world title to the Braves.

The combined excitement of Armistice Day after the First World War and V-J Day after the second hardly matched the pandemonium which gripped this town Thursday night.

STREETS PACKED
It was estimated 750,000 persons surged and screamed most of the evening in this beer capital of the United States. This is remarkable when you consider that the whole metropolitan area of Milwaukee includes about a million people.

Fairly close scrutiny made it seem that the entire teen-age population of the state of Wisconsin got into the snake-dancing, horn blowing and general funnysing which shattered this city's staid dignity.

It was New Year's Eve on a 12-hour shift—from mid afternoon when the Braves finished the Yankees until past midnight.

On and on went the noise in the heart of Milwaukee. The whooping, hollering fans littered the street with countless beer bottles and beer cans, while confetti and torn paper fluttered from tall buildings through the evening.

Braves' Dressing Room

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—"Oh, that Burdette, if he could cook I'd marry him."

Manager Fred Haney of the world champion Milwaukee Braves, said it just as calmly as if he were having an afternoon cup of tea at home.

He was speaking of Lew Burdette, the pitcher who beat the big, bad New York Yankees three times in the series, culminating his effort with a 5-0 victory in the finale with just two days' rest.

Haney said he never really was worried about Burdette (this fellow talks in understatement) but that he was considering taking him out in the ninth when the Yanks loaded the bases.

"I was going to let him face one more hitter," Haney said. "Then I would have had to take him out. But I wanted him to finish real bad. I knew he was getting tired, but I wanted him in there at the end."

The celebration in the winning clubhouse was mild. There was little whooping and hollering by the players. They just sat around being interviewed, sipping beer and soda pop.

"Why should we get excited here," laughed Hank Aaron, who hit in every game. "We'll wait until we get back to Milwaukee."

Aaron was sitting calmly next to left fielder Wes Covington.

SLIDERS AND CURVES
"I threw a lot of sliders and slow curves," said Burdette. "That was a real blast that Mathews grabbed on Bill Skowron for the final out. It was a hard hit ball and a tough one to play."

"Yet I didn't have to be as careful in the ninth as I did all through that 1-0 ball game two days ago. Any slip then would have been curtains. In this one, I had a chance to relax a little."

Burdette said he was distressed when Bauer hit a double in the first inning.

"I said to myself: 'Holy smokes, they're not going to get me out of here this fast, are they?'"

The Yanks didn't get another hit until Jerry Coleman's single in the fifth.

"So Haney said I'm tired," laughed Burdette. "Well, for the record I'm not. But I don't have to pitch again until next spring, so that's a help."

Haney said he would have sent either Bob McMahon or Warren Spahn, his ailing ace, in to stop the Yanks had Burdette gotten in serious trouble in the ninth.

Haney said: "Well, I guess they will lay off that choke up business from now on."

He was talking about charges that the Braves had choked up in the pennant drive last year and permitted Brooklyn Dodgers to win it all the end.

Low Burdette Turns In Tremendous Job For His Third Series To Blank Yanks 5-0; Crandall Clouts Homer

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK — (AP) — Milwaukee's miracle is complete. The miracle man is Fred (Merlin) Haney with Lew Burdette his magic wand.

Just five years after the baseball franchise shift from Boston to what Thursday must have been the most hysterical baseball city in the world, the Braves rose from a frustrated, badly disorganized seventh-place team to a powerful world championship outfit.

Make no mistake about it. This was a standout team that came from behind repeatedly and overcame crippling handicaps to dethrone a good New York Yankee team in seven sizzling world series games. This was a young team, too. The starting Braves' nine that shut out the Yankees 5-0 Thursday behind the remarkable seven-hit pitching of Burdette averaged 26.4 years to 31.4 for the American League champions.

The confidence gained in defeating the storied and highly respected Yankees, especially in their own ball park, is immeasurable. The Braves always had the horses. What they lacked was experience and confidence. They've got both now, including a chip on the shoulder that comes from the knowledge that they are champions of the world.

WILL GET STRONGER
In addition, the Braves are a highly efficient organization, boasting one of the strongest minor league farm systems and owning some of the outstanding young players in the country. No wonder Frank Lane, general manager of the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals in the National League, remarked ruefully Thursday:

"This was the year to beat the Braves. Next year I'm afraid they'll be unstoppable."

It is not difficult to view the Braves as a championship team for years to come. Henry Aaron, whom Haney has described as another Rogers Hornsby, is only 23. Wes Covington is 25. Eddie Mathews is 26. So is Frank Torre. The injured Bill Bruton, Bob Hazle and Del Crandall are 27. Felix Mantilla is 23. Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock, who have been around for a long time, are only 30. Among the pitchers, only Warren Spahn, at 36, can be called old and he appears indestructible.

Burdette's show in the final game, and in the entire series, for that matter, is one of the more glorious pages in world series history.

TOOK THREE GAMES
The 30-year-old righthander not only became the first starter since Cleveland's Stan Coveleskie to win three games in one series, but he also became the first hurler in 52 years to turn in two shutouts. The last one was the immortal Christy Mathewson, who blanked Philadelphia Athletics three times in 1905.

Cold figures don't tell half the story of Burdette's truly remarkable pitching performance Thursday. The tall righthander walked only one batter—and that was intentional. He was rarely behind the hitters as only four Yankees reached the three ball count. Not until two out in the ninth inning did a Yankee runner reach third. With the exception of Hank Bauer's leadoff double, no extra base hit was made off him.

Burdette wound up with 24 consecutive scoreless innings against the American League champs. All this with only two days' rest. Burdette was not the whole show, however. He received magnificent fielding support from his teammates, especially Mathews at third base. He received timely hitting support from Aaron, Hazle, Crandall and Mathews.

KEY BLOW
Mathews, a batting bust in the first three games, delivered the key hit. It was a third-inning double to rightfield off starter and loser Don Larsen which drove in the first two Milwaukee runs. Aaron hit safely in every game, drove in a run Thursday and wound up leading hitters on both teams with .393.

It was Hazle, who started the crushing four-run rally in the third with a hit, his first of the series. And it was Crandall, who unlimbered the coup de grace with a home run into the left field seats in the eighth.

It was the staunch Braves' defense, however, that surprised the Yankees the most. Mathews played a spectacular third base from start to finish. Logan's short-fielding was not as sensational but equally effective. Johnny accepted 38 chances flawlessly, several of them of the spectacular variety.

Covington proved the defensive surprise of the series. Saddled with a good-hit, no-field reputation, the young left fielder left the Yankees gasping with two glittering catches and a tremendous throw that cut off at least four runs.

CRANDALL STINGY
Crandall was the rock of Gibraltar behind the plate and his strong throwing arm mowed down all three would-be Yankee base stealers. Torre, a fancy dandy around first base, saved his infield mates embarrassment with his dirt-scooping pickups of their sometimes errant throws.

Practically everybody expected the Braves' defense to crack. Instead it was the Yankee fielding which collapsed. The team as a whole made six errors, twice as many as Milwaukee. Three of the errors came Thursday and one of them opened the gates to the four Milwaukee runs in the third.

Series' Hero

Lew Burdette

After Hazle had cracked a one-out single off starter Don Larsen in the third, Logan rapped a hard grounder to Tony Kubek at third base. Kubek, with an easy inming, threw too high to second, forcing Jerry Coleman off the bag. Coleman's throw from an awkward position was too late to get Logan at first.

Mathews followed with his two-run double. Then Aaron and Covington singled and Torre drove in another run with a grounder and Milwaukee had a 4-0 lead. Milwaukee's other score came in the eighth when Crandall boomed a drive off leftfielder Tommy Byrne over Enos Slaughter's head into the left field stands. Byrne was New York's fifth pitcher.

Yanks' Dressing Room

By TED SMITS
NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel paid full homage Thursday to Lew Burdette, the conqueror of his world champion New York Yankees.

"He pitched in three games and held us close all the way," said the beaten Yankee manager.

"He is the best pitcher I have seen in three games against us this year. How many runs did we make against him? Two. That's all there is to it."

In Stengel's opinion that is the whole story of why Milwaukee Braves are now the new world champions.

Stengel refused to second guess the big third inning when a double play went wrong because of Tony Kubek's high toss to Jerry Coleman, and the Braves wound up with four runs.

"They outplayed us in the series," he said. "They deserve all the credit."

The Yankees, as might be expected, were subdued as they trudged to their dressing room after dropping the seventh and deciding game of the 1957 world series.

"He (Burdette) did a big job," Stengel said. "He's the man."

ONLY CHANCE
"The only chance we had to bother him all day was in the ninth, and Moose Skowron's ball was hit hard but then he (Ed Mathews) had to go and make a good play on it."

The force of Coleman at third ended the game.

Discussing the third inning when Bob Hazle singled to left field, and Johnny Logan bounced to Tony Kubek, Stengel said "it could have been a double play."

He was more concerned with the fact Logan was safe at first than by Kubek's high throw to Coleman that drew him off the bag and resulted in both runners being called safe.

"I don't think he (Logan) was past the bag when he (Yankee first baseman Joe Collins) caught the ball. I thought he should have been called safe."

At this point Mathews doubled, and Hank Aaron and West Covington followed with singles to account for four big runs.

Taking a long range look at the series, Stengel said "there was some good pitching on both sides."

ALWAYS THE SAME
"Burdette kept making us hit grounders. In three games it looked like every inning was the same. Everybody hit the ball on the ground or topped it. Once in a while someone would hit a fly. I don't know what he does but he makes you hit the ground ball."

Stengel explained that he did not want to use his ace, Whitey Ford, early in the game because it might be necessary a few innings later to take him out for a pinch hitter. He was saving Ford for the chance that never came.

Casey Stengel Heaps Praise On Victorious Rival Manager Haney; Did A Wonderful Job All Year

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Four months ago they hanged Fred Haney in effigy. Thursday the same red-faced little guy was being eulogized as the greatest manager in baseball.

As late as Sept. 15, they had Haney on the way out as manager of Milwaukee Braves. Today his return as pilot in 1958 is taken for granted and his team is hailed as the scrappiest team that ever played in a world series.

This new appraisal of Haney and his Braves comes naturally. The team and Haney have been good all year. It didn't take Thursday's 5-0 triumph over New York Yankees in the final game of the world series to prove it.

The team and the manager proved it when they hung on to the top, or close to it, despite numerous injuries to key men that would have caused lesser men to quit.

When Casey Stengel, the losing manager, came to Haney's little room in the Braves' clubhouse after the game to congratulate him and the team on a fine job, Haney was deeply moved.

NOBODY KNOWS
"Thanks Case," the tired but happy Haney whispered with a choke in his voice. "You don't know what this means to me. Nobody does. This makes up for everything."

Casey had fended his way through a horde of reporters, photographers, broadcasters and newsreel men. He reached out, grabbed Haney's hand and shouted above the noise:

"I want to tell you something. You did a very wonderful and very efficient job all year and you ran that club very well during this series, too.

"You beat us and you beat us right. There's no question about it."

Later, Dan Topping and Del Webb, co-owners of the Yankees, came in to congratulate Haney. After they left, Fred was asked what they said to him.

"How the hell do I know," he replied. "I don't know what anyone is saying. I'm still numb. In fact, I'm sure I must be dreaming. If anybody told me we've got another game to play tomorrow, I'd believe him."

NHL Players' Association Files $3 Million Suit Against League, Clubs

Complaint Charges Defendants Have "Monopolized And Obtained Complete Control And Dictatorship" Of Game

NEW YORK — (AP) — The National Hockey League Players' Association Thursday filed a $3,000,000 anti-trust suit in federal court against the National Hockey League, Madison Square Garden, five other organizations and seven individuals.

The complaint named six clubs which the association said operate and control New York Rangers, Chicago Black Hawks, Boston Bruins, Detroit Red Wings, Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs. The six teams make up the National Hockey League, the major league of the ice sport.

SUE ALL

In addition to Madison Square Garden and the league the other defendants include the Boston Professional Hockey Association, Inc.; Chicago National Hockey League Team, Inc.; Detroit Hockey Club Inc.; Club de Hockey Canadiens Inc.; Maple Leaf Gardens, Ltd.; Walter A. Brown (Boston); James D. Norris (Chicago); Bruce Norris (Detroit); Frank J. Selke (Montreal); John Reed Kilpatrick (New York); Conn Smythe (Toronto); Frank J. Selke (Montreal) and Clarence S. Campbell, president of the NHL.

The complaint charged that since 1926 the defendants have "monopolized and obtained complete domination and control and dictatorship" of the professional hockey industry in New York, New England, Michigan, Illinois, and the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario.

CALLED DICTATORSHIP

The alleged "dictatorship" extended into the hiring, firing, trading and buying and selling of all players and coaches as well as the terms of their employment in the United States and Canada, the complaint said.

The players association, headed by Ted Lindsay of Chicago Black Hawks, had threatened several weeks ago to take legal steps against the NHL when the league declined to negotiate on the players demand for pension and television benefits.

Campbell said on Sept. 23 that the league was powerless to act because two of the clubs, Toronto and Montreal, were unable to participate under Canadian laws.

He said that under Canadian laws, the clubs said they cannot concede to the NHL the right to conduct any negotiations on their behalf with the players association.

Heavy Weekend On Tap For Big Four

Thanksgiving weekend, traditionally a big one for football fans, offers eight games in Eastern Canada's senior leagues.

Montreal Alouettes, Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Ottawa Rough Riders, deadlocked atop the Big Four League standings, must be rated lead-pipe cinches for the three playoff spots.

And yet the dogfight between the trio will continue hot and heavy. The reason: The team finishing in first place gets a bye into the league's playoff final.

Saturday, Ottawa plays at home to Montreal. Monday, the Alouettes hosts the Riders. Hamilton Ties plays a similar home-and-home series with the suddenly muscular Toronto Argonauts. Saturday they play in Hamilton, with Monday's encounter set for Toronto.

After the first games in the Senior Intercollegiate League last week, University of Western Ontario and University of Toronto are tied for first place with a win apiece. Queen's University and Montreal's McGill University were the losers last week, and hold down a cellar-spot draw with no wins and one loss each.

This Saturday, McGill invades Toronto, while Western plays at home in London, Ont., to the defending-champion Queen's Gaels from Kingston.

In the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union, Toronto Balmy Beach, winless in nine starts, try again in Kitchener Saturday against Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen. And London visits Sarnia Saturday in a game which will decide who remains atop the League.

Alouettes will present one of their strongest lineups of the season in Ottawa Saturday. The only absentee will be linebacker Tom Hugo. Kicker Avatus Stone is back, and so is end Doug Mc-

Nichol. Coach Doug Walker may also try ex-Toronto end Art Powell.

Moore Reported To Take On Chuck Spieser For Title

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Spieser, brother and manager of light-heavyweight contender Chuck Spieser, says champion Archie Moore has agreed to defend his title against Spieser here in December.

Spieser said Wednesday he has an appointment to meet Jack Kearns, one of Moore's managers, here "in two or three days" to make formal arrangements.

A group of Detroit businessmen has offered Moore a $100,000 guarantee to defend his championship against Spieser, a Detroit fighter.

Jean Beliveau, Montreal scored two goals to pace Canadiens to 5-1 victory over Chicago.

"Gros Bili" Beliveau Paces Canadiens To 5-1 Win Over Black Hawks While Rangers Upset Detroit Red Wings 3-2

Montreal Canadiens have quickly asserted their right to top billing in the National Hockey League and New York Rangers provided the first surprise of the young season.

The Habitués in their regular schedule opener, easily disposed of Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night at Montreal, winning 5-1. Hawks had scored a 1-0 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs Tuesday.

Rangers, often casually dismissed in pre-season calculations, scrapped their way to an upset 3-2 victory over the Red Wings in Detroit, in the season opener for both clubs. It was only the second time in the last 19 years the Wings lost a home opener. The games left Boston Bruins the only team still to see regular schedule action. Bruins open Saturday at home against Chicago. In other games Rangers move to Montreal while Detroit plays at Toronto.

BELIVEAU LEADS HABS

The Habs had figured to be weakened against the Hawks, missing regular goalie Jacques Plante with acute sinusitis and right winger Bernie Geoffrion with flu.

But Jean Beliveau rolled for two second-period goals and Charlie Hodge, called up from Montreal Royals of the Quebec League, played a steady game in goal to pace the win.

Maurice and Henri Richard and Andre Pronovost scored the other Montreal goals. The Rocket's was No. 494 in his regular season NHL career and was loudly cheered by the crowd of 13,604.

Fraser Wants Rematch With Yvon Turenne

HALIFAX (CP) — Nova Scotia middleweight champion Gerry Fraser of Halifax said here Thursday he plans to retire but would like a rematch with Yvon Turenne of Montreal before he does.

Fraser took an unpopular 10-round decision over Turenne here Tuesday.

He said he wanted the re-match with Turenne because "I feel I could do much better."

You're wise to listen to your garage or service station man when he recommends "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze. He knows that in addition to the freeze-up protection anti-freeze gives you, your car needs the complete Winter protection that only "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze provides.
Trouble-free Winter driving depends on nothing stopping the flow of anti-freeze through the cooling system. With "Prestone"

Long Trail For Hikers Traverses Green Mountains

ROCK ISLAND — (Special) — The move to make the Green Mountains of Vermont available to lovers of the outdoors was due to the initiative of James P. Taylor, then principal of the Vermont Academy at Saxton's River. At his call, a small number of mountain lovers gathered at Burlington on March 10, 1910, and the Green Mountain Club was organized.

The purpose of the club has been to build trails, erect camps and camp shelters, issue maps and literature, and in general make the mountains play a larger part in the life of the State of Vermont and bring them to the attention of all outdoor people.

To this end the Long Trail project was launched, a trail to traverse the entire length of the main range from Massachusetts to Canada. Progress in the Long Trail has been continuous and it is now completed from the Massachusetts border line to the Canadian border, a distance of over 260 miles.

It is possible to go from one end or the State of Vermont to the other, over the Long Trail, finding a wilderness hike of beauty. One can stay with the trail for one day or for four weeks or longer, if one so desires, but always one will find something unusual for efforts made.

The Long Trail is intended for hikers and campers, shelters are provided so that all one carries are blankets, food and personal equipment. Each year, many people travel the length of the trail, enjoying their holidays in this manner.
