ATTACK ON MILITIA IN
THE SENATESENATOR POWER OBJECTS TO HIGH EXPENDITURE FOR RESULTS ATTAINED.

Ottawa, June 4.—The Senate today discussed Militia. The debate was inaugurated by Senator Power, who called attention to what he declared was "the unsatisfactory results of the great increase during recent years of expenditure of the Department of Militia and asked if the government proposed to take steps at an early date to improve existing conditions as to the defence forces of Canada."

Japanese a Menace.

Senator Power said everyone would agree that Canada needed an adequate defence force. In this age wars came suddenly. If 20,000 Japanese troops were to land in British Columbia today there were less than 200 regulars and 2,000 militia. With Japanese in British Columbia and the C. P. R. seized, Canada would have a bad time getting back Vancouver and Victoria. There was no properly fortified place in British Columbia.

In fifteen years Canada's militia expenses had grown from a million and a half dollars a year to $11,000,000 and during the last year hardly more men were drilled than were drilled twenty years ago, and the militia force, in rural Canada, at least, was not as good as twenty years ago. The slightly larger permanent force did not account for the great increase in expenditure.

Senator Davis said that warriors who paraded the streets in splendid uniforms in time of peace for the admiration of small boys were not the men who save the country.

Senator Bostock said that General French had reported upon a defence

REMARKABLE SCENE WHEN CHILDREN GREET MGR. BEGINNine Thousand Little Ones Pay Homage To Archbishop On His Silver Jubilee—Day
of Impressive Ceremonies

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the consecration as Bishop of His Grace Mgr. Begin, Archbishop of Quebec, was officially celebrated yesterday, and was one of the greatest demonstrations of respect, fealty and love ever manifested in Quebec in honor of the head of the Catholic Church in the diocese. Besides the cable message of congratulation received yesterday from H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, published in yesterday's Chronicle, the following message was also received from His Holiness Pope Pius X.

MESSAGE FROM THE POPE.

Rome, June 3, 1913.

To His Grace Archbishop Begin, Archbishop of Quebec:

Holy Father Pius X. willingly joining in the joy and congratulations of the clergy and faithful of the Diocese of Quebec on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of Your Grace, sends with all his heart as a token of his paternal good will and abundant celestial favors a special apostolic blessing. He also blesses your dear dioceses.

Accept my felicitations and my best personal wishes.

(Signed),

CARDINAL MERRY DEL VAL.

High Pontifical Mass.

Yesterday morning at nine o'clock the Basilica was crowded with bishops, clergy and members of the congregation to assist in the celebration of a high pontifical mass in honor of the occasion. His Grace, dressed in full archiepiscopal vestment, walked from the Palace escorted by the visiting Archbishops, Bishops, representative clergy from various parts of Canada and priests of the diocese, to the Basilica, which was magnificently decorated and illuminated for the service. Seated in the church was His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, Sir Francois Langelier, Lady Langelier, Sir Charles and Lady Fitzpatrick, Capt. Pelletier, A.D.C. and others.

Mgr. Begin officiated at the mass, assisted by Mgr. Lapointe, V.G. of Chicoutimi and Rev. Messrs. Dumais, Marcoux, Fleury and Felix Dumont, nephew of His Grace.

A full choir was present which rendered Gounod's mass in C, with orchestra and organ, and during the mass a solo was sung by Rev. Abbe Gagnon.

The sermon was preached by Mgr. Mathieu, C.M.G., Bishop of Regina, who spoke eloquently in review of the life of the Archbishop, his school days, his term in the office of priesthood and his life period as Bishop and Archbishop of Quebec.

The church service was sublime and impressive to the highest degree. At its conclusion His Worship Mayor Napoleon Drouin, in behalf of the citizens of Quebec, read the following address:

Mayor Drouin's Address.

To His Grace Mgr. Louis Nazaire Begin, Archbishop of Quebec:

Your Lordship,—

In the name of the citizens of your episcopal city, it is particularly honorable and agreeable to me in these festive days, to present to your Grace, homage, congratulations and good wishes.

Our homage conveys to you firstly, Your Grace, our veneration for the sixteenth successor to the Venerable Mgr. de Laval, for the worthy continuer of this long and glorious line of the bishops of Quebec, who have always shone in the first rank among the most sagacious well doers of our city, and among the real founders of our nationality.

You contribute in a great part, your Lordship, to the merits and good works of this spiritual dynasty, by your energy, your prudence and your wisdom, by your zeal and your generous devotedness, and the spiritual conduct and sanctification of your people.

Quebec holds, and will always faithfully retain profound and sincere gratitude for all the good works of your sacerdotal life, and principally of your episcopacy, of which our city received the greatest part.

What numberless souls you have enlightened, guided and comforted, what numberless families have reason to bless your name as their greatest benefactor. The entire city of Quebec owes you the same testimony and the same recognition for the constant encouragement which you have given to works of education, of preservation, and of mercy, with which our city is so largely blessed, due to the unceasing charity of the Church, and of religious corporations.

We do not forget the efficacious role of diplomatic peace-maker and equitable arbitrator which you played in times of trouble amongst our population, and we know that the same

PLAY "DEBORAH"
THAT A JUDGE
MAY JUDGE ITALLEGED IMMORAL PLAY IS PERFORMED TO PROVE IT HARMLESS.

Toronto, June 4.—An extraordinary court of law was held at the Princess Theatre tonight when Legrand Howland's play, "Deborah," was presented in full with all scenic effects for the special benefit of Judge Morson, of the County Court.

JUDGE HEARS APPEAL.

During the day Judge Morson had heard the appeal from the verdict of the police magistrate, who found the manager and the members of the "Deborah" company guilty of presenting an immoral play. Those appearing were Maynard White, Miss Carlotta Nilsson, Miss Marie Day, Miss Maud Sinclair, Frank Gilmore, Miss Mira Brocke and Elliot Dexter. After the evidence was all in, H. H. Dewart, K. C., acting for the appellants, suggested that the judge should see the play. His honor agreed, and hence the special performance. The company entered into the spirit of the thing and his honor and the other privileged persons present witnessed a superb performance.

The judge expressed no opinion but it is expected that he will hand out a written judgment in a day or two. A great deal of the evidence today was simply a repetition of that given before the magistrate, except that the appellants had a longer list of witnesses on their behalf, including two university professors and a prominent medical man.

The amusing feature of the whole case was the cross-examination of Rev. John Coburn, the man who first laid the charge which brought Maynard White and the others to court. He admitted that his knowledge of the theatre and the drama was limited. When asked who had written "Faust" he replied that it was "some German fellow." He thought he had read "Hamlet," but "Cymbeline" and "Romeo and Juliet" were closed books to him. He had neither read nor seen "Man and Superman."

DARING SUFFRAGETTE MAY DIE FROM TRYING TO THROW
KING'S HORSE IN THE DERBYKing's Jockey, Jones, Badly Hurt—Craganour, the Favorite Finishes First, But Is Disqualified For Foul Riding By Jockey Rieff—Race Awarded To Aboyeur, A Rank
Outsider and 100 To 1 Shot

Epsom, Eng., June 4.—Today's race for the Derby, the "Blue Ribbon" of the British turf, was one of the most sensational on record. It was made memorable by a daring militant suffragette outrage, in which a woman was terribly injured while trying to stop King George's horse, Anmer, when he was running at full speed round Tattenham Corner; by the disqualification for bumping of Craganour, the favorite, after he had passed the winning post first, and by the award of the race with its valuable stakes of $32,500 to a rank outsider, Aboyeur, a 100 to 1 chance.

King George, Queen Mary and a large assembly of royalties were witnesses of these exciting incidents, which caused something like consternation among the immense crowds brought together by the openness of the race and the fine weather.

KING'S HORSE IS THROWN

While the interest in the classic event was at its most tense point, just as the four horses were turning Tattenham Corner into the stretch for home, a woman rushed out of the dense crowd and threw herself in front of Anmer and another horse, Agadir, and tried to interfere with the progress of the race by seizing Anmer's reins and endangering not only her own life but also two jockeys. Fortunately, the horses were at the end of the string, or the consequences of the woman's action might have been more serious.

Agadir, on whose back was the jockey Earl, passed by in safety and unhurt, but the woman managed to cling to Anmer's reins and brought down both horse and rider. The result was that Jones, the King's jockey, received injuries necessitating his removal on an ambulance, while the woman was thrown under Anmer's hoofs and terribly kicked. Unconscious, she was taken immediately to a hospital suffering from severe injuries to her head. Suffragette papers are said to have been found in her possession and a suffragette flag bound round her body. Her name was given as E. Davidson, and her age as 35 years.

Jones, the jockey, suffered from a nasty cut in the head but his injuries otherwise were not serious.

FAVORITE DISQUALIFIED.

Meanwhile the race had come to a conclusion with an exciting struggle and a close finish. It was announced that Craganour, the favorite, had won. Almost immediately, however, the enormous crowd which had surged over the track, heard with amazement that an objection had been raised and after many minutes of suspense it was announced that Craganour had been disqualified for bumping in the stretch and that the race had been awarded to a rank outsider, Aboyeur, who had made all the running and led throughout the race except at the winning post.

It was stated that the owner of Aboyeur had raised no objection to the winner but that the stewards of the Jockey Club had initiated an inquiry into the running. It is almost unheard of for any objection to be raised to the winner of the Derby. The last occasion was in 1844.

An appearance of blank astonishment came into the faces of the various crowd while the people were kept wondering what would be the result of the stewards' inquiry and considering the possibility of the race going to an outsider. The stewards' decision brought about an extraordinary contrast to the scenes of enthusiasm which had followed the putting up of Craganour's number.

Rieff Rode Foul Race.

The stewards stated this evening that they did not disqualify Craganour simply for bumping during the latter part of the race, but because they were satisfied that Johnnie Rieff, the jockey on the favorite, had unduly interfered with other horses throughout a greater part of the race.

In the race, it is said, by experts, there was a remarkably amount of unfair, if not foul, riding, and this year's Derby is regarded as one of the most unsatisfactory in the history of the event.

There was a record attendance, an unusual feature being the advantage taken of the motor bus as a means of locomotion. Many of these vehicles were chartered by aristocratic parties at a cost of $32 for the day and they served as miniature grand stands.

SUFFRAGETTE MAY DIE.

Emily Wilding Davison Makes Daring Attempt to Throw King's Horse; Is Herself in Critical Condition.

All previous suffragette demonstrations were thrown into the shade by the sensation created by Emily Wilding Davison's reckless feat in throwing herself in front of the King's horse while coming down the track at full stride. Comparatively few of the 60,000 spectators, intent upon watching the leaders of the race, saw the affair, which is likely to end in the first fatality of the militant campaign.

Those nearest Tattenham Corner had a glimpse of a woman darting directly in front of two galloping horses. She ducked almost under Agadir's neck to reach Anmer. Some say that she waved her arms to stop

ULSTER NOW
ALARMING ALL
LOYALISTSGOVERNMENT WAKES UP TOO LATE TO FACT—MANY RIFLES IMPORTED.

New York, June 4.—A special cable from Belfast to the New York Tribune says:

The Irish Government authorities have been stimulated to action by the preparations of Ulster people to resist Home Rule by armed force. A large consignment, consisting of twelve cases containing about two thousand rifles with bayonets, was detained by the Customs authorities at Belfast docks yesterday. The arms had been brought there by the Belfast steamer Helen, from Manchester.

"ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES."

The Customs officials ordered laborers to open two cases marked "Electrical supplies." Each case was found to contain two smaller ones filled with rifles and bayonets. The rifles are new, of good make, and of a foreign pattern.

An order was issued to Belfast Customs officials some days ago to search all vessels coming into port from Manchester and Liverpool for munitions of war. The Belfast police have for some weeks past been in communication with the police in certain English cities, believing that rifles and ammunition are being exported thence for the use of the Ulster loyalist army.

The Government is, however, very late in taking action. Leading Unionists admit that enormous consignments of rifles have already been delivered at Belfast, and are now in the hands of Orangemen, who will not hesitate to use them.

STEAMER GLACE BAY
SMASHED TO PIECES

Sydney, N. S. June 4.—Word has been received by J. R. McIsaac, traffic manager of the Steel Corporation here, to the effect that the steamer Glace Bay, which ran ashore at Fresh Water Creek, Newfoundland, near Cape Race, on May 2, while bound in ballast from Sydney to Wabana, was pounded to pieces by the heavy seas on Sunday last, and is a complete loss. The underwriters were preparing to float the Glace Bay, but the results of Sunday's fate put an end to their plans.

The Glace Bay was built in 1912, at Sunderland, Eng., and this was her second year on charter, with the Steel Corporation. She had a gross tonnage of 10,085 tons.

QUEBEC, THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1913.

WELCOME TO THE PRINCE.

Quebec, the scene of so many royal visits, today extends a hearty if informal welcome to His Royal Highness, Prince Albert, the second son of His Majesty, King George V.

While here the Prince will no doubt visit the many places which have been trodden by his ancestors in the past from the Duke of Kent's time down to the Tercentenary celebration of a few years ago. There are two buildings in which the royal visitor cannot but take a family interest as having been the residences of his great-grandfather when the latter was Commander of the British Forces in Quebec. These are the house opposite the St. Louis Hotel at the corner of St. Louis and Haldimand streets and the one which still goes by the name of the Kent House at Montmorency Falls. And there are people in Quebec who remember the visit of his late grandfather, King Edward the Peacemaker, who came here in 1860. Quebec is no stranger to royalty. Was not Princess Louise a resident of the Citadel at one time as the consort of a former Governor-General of Canada and is not her brother, the Duke of Connaught, the present Governor-General of the Dominion?

As for the Prince's father, King George V., he is well-known in the Ancient Capital whither he first came as a middy on H. M. S. Canada and when his ship was in port he was frequently seen in his midshipman's uniform on the Terrace. On his second visit he was in command of H. M. S. Thrush. The next time that he came was in 1901 when he made a tour of the world in the Ophir. He was escorted by a squadron of warships and when he arrived was greeted with salutes from the guns of the Citadel and of the French cruiser D'Estrees which had been sent in honor of the occasion. Great and elaborate preparations had been made for his welcome and he was greeted by Lord Minto, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Cabinet, and the elite of the Dominion, the whole populace turning out in force.

He was seen here by thousands of Canadians during the Tercentenary Celebrations of 1908 when he came in the Indomitable. A strong fleet of British warships accompanied him and vessels from the navies of France and the United States blazed a thunderous welcome to the Sailor Prince while the heights above were thronged with crowds of cheering people. His presence on that occasion did much to endear him to his subjects and the spontaneous warmth of his greeting showed him a general favorite. He took the most unaffected pleasure in the celebration, was kindly and genial and was frequently seen about the city in automobile or carriage, his only escort a few mounted policemen.

In the far away days of his Bacchante cruise King George realized the width and wonder of the British Dominion and, grasping the inner significance of it all, was imbued with sane and noble enthusiasm for the Empire. He is the first King of England that rightly merits the title of Emperor. And well he has earned it. Because of his extensive travels and the increased facility of transportation and communication nowadays he is much better known to the people of Greater Britain than was King Edward when he ascended to the throne. It is certain also that he, for his part, knows the people of Greater Britain better than his father did, and this present visit of Prince Albert seems to prove that he would have his sons know it as he does.

MGR. BEGIN'S SILVER JUBILEE.

It must have been a proud day yesterday for Archbishop Begin when so many thousands of his faithful followers gathered together to pay their homage to him and to offer their congratulations on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration as a bishop in Quebec. It was a notable sight to see the demonstration in his honor on the part of the children of the religious institutions of the Ancient Capital during the afternoon and on the part of the workmen in the evening. Such manifestations of esteem and fidelity are as eloquent as they are sincere. And in the case of Mgr. Begin all will admit, without distinction of creed or race, that the recipient of these honors is full worthy of them. Of the sixteen holy men that have succeeded the saintly Laval he is by no means the least.

Whether as the guardian of youth in the Seminary or the Normal School or as priest and bishop the life of Mgr. Begin has been an example and an inspiration to all who have been under his charge or have come in contact with him. It is no exaggeration to say that hundreds of thousands must have sought spiritual counsel of him and have gone away feeling themselves benefited and encouraged by his zeal and devotion, his wisdom and courage and his paternal sympathy.

It would be idle to say that the Province of Quebec and the Dominion of Canada do not owe much to the French Canadians and their love of race and faith. When this vast country was an unknown wilderness the French priests and early settlers went boldly forth into the unexplored fastnesses and into the haunts of cruel and treacherous savages to carry the cross and the fleur de lys. And there they faced filth and famine and torture and death in every shape from starvation to the lingering death at the stake, flinching from no martyrdom, however terrible, so long as they had the satisfaction of knowing that they were doing all for the glory of God. No one can read the story of brave men such as Lallemand, Brebeuf and countless others without admiring their noble record.

The spirit of these martyrs still lives on generations later in their successors. True it is that there are not the same perils to be met today, the same discomforts and hardships to be endured as in the days of the past. But, if there were, we have no doubt that they would be met and conquered with the same dauntless courage as of yore.

In the distinguished capacity which is his, Mgr. Begin wields an influence such as is given to few men in the Dominion of Canada. No one will ever venture to question the fact that it has been wielded for the best and that the French-Canadians of Quebec have every reason to recognize with gratitude the good works of the spiritual head of their diocese and to honor him accordingly.

THE UNHAPPY AUGURY OF IT ALL.

Were the people of Canada to be given a chance of looking in on the Senate Chamber at Ottawa in actual fact—to see the members in their seats and hear them talk and watch that body's whole line of procedure—they would learn for themselves that all that has been said about it, by way of ridicule or diatribe, has been for the most part under the mark. Were the political career of too many of its members published by way of illustrating or verifying their mental acumen, while advocating or opposing a public measure, the law courts would be kept pretty busy for a time with libel suits; while a laugh would run from one end of the country to the other, over the ludicrous plight into which our Canadian "Second Estate of the Realm" has been brought by the larger proportion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's appointees. One of these gentlemen the other day so far forgot himself as to find fault with King George himself; and it may well be asked, who is there safe from the insanity of such a polemic—in view of the fact that the said Senator and others of his mental calibre in the red chamber have just been voting against His Majesty receiving any aid whatsoever from us on this side of the water, in behalf of the naval protection of the Empire which they are ever boasting of being loyal to, and of Canada the land of their birth. And verily of such consists too large an extent the vapid partisan kingdom which Sir Wilfrid Laurier has set up and would perpetuate in the land of his nativity, to the disgust even of those whose franchise he would appropriate to himself as if it were his own to make use of as he deems fit.

The Senate, as we have already said, has sold itself to the partisan prestige of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to the loss of its own; just as the said gentleman would have our province sell itself to him, to the endangering of its political freedom. He has told us again and again of late that he is about to undergo a martyrdom in Western Canada and another in Eastern Canada, and the confession reveals, although he does not seem to know it, his own double-toned pleadings during his protracted career, that have led him towards a final betrayal of the country's status as a part of the Empire. The whole story of his insidious encouragement of tumult of late in the House of Commons and his final placing of the Senate in leading strings, with the aid of Sir George Ross, who thereby has prepared a burden for himself which few Canadians would care to shoulder, is now in everybody's mouth. The filibusters of the House of Commons were brought to time by the introduction of the closure, and now the people have to cut through the leading strings of the Senate by the knife of reform, eliminating as far as possible the kind of surgery practised by Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his whole career. The Senate has openly declared itself to be mad to the point of suicide; and the people are taking cognizance of the fact, asking what the remedy is going to be. Racey has again been using the pencil of the cartoonist in picturing the unhappy, we might almost say the idiotic, state of affairs; to the amusement of us all for the moment. But the situation is too serious for Canada to indulge in laughter over it for long. A first step has to be taken—and that immediately during the parliamentary recess which begins at the end of the week. The next session of parliament cannot afford to have its business routine interrupted by the partisan filibusters in the Commons or by the disloyal stupidity in the Senate. And it is for the people to avoid any misconceptions as to the canvass which is in the way of being inaugurated even at this early date, by the Laurierite partisan, to uphold the Senate and its enervating imbecilities.

The diabolical announcement has already been made that the Conservatives intend to run the next general election on racial lines, and that they are going to rally all English-speaking Canadians against the French-speaking Canadians all over the Dominion. There never was a grosser prevarication promulgated than the above. The Conservatives have in their eye at the present moment, the removal of impediments to the carrying on of the business of the country, in line with the terms of responsible government. They have succeeded in removing one impediment, and now they have to ask the support of the people in removing a second impediment, the incongruity of a Senate that has only a second place in their deliberations with respect to the business of the country. And, as far as they are concerned, there is going to be no entering of racial prejudices in the canvass to have the Senate reformed in terms of responsible government. There could be no more disastrous blow struck at our present day Canadian prosperity and communal solidarity than to make a race issue a line of cleavage in Canadian politics. And we all know it, even while having to look on with patience at the double-toned policy of Laurier and his monomaniacs in their striving for office. And what an unhappy augury of senseless friction there is in such a racial way of looking at things! The Navy Aid Bill has not escaped this flimsy racial plea. As we have asked: What possible harm could have come to Canada or any of its provinces had the said Bill been passed? And what possible good can come to the country or the province of Quebec, by perpetuating the Canadian Senate as it is at present constituted, to its own disadvantage and the peoples? Will the pleading in favor of Senate Reform be turned aside by the Laurierites, in their juggling with racial influences in their own behalf at the polls? The Laurierites have been coloring of late, red and pale, about having an election at the earliest possible date. Now they do not know whether it would be well for them to have an election or not. But they are going to have an election or a plebiscite all the same and in good time, in order to give the people a chance of saying whether the Senate is to be reformed or not, so that the business of the country may not be interrupted and so that the people of Canada may escape being made the laughing-stock of the nations for a second time. When that election or plebiscite may be ordered by the Governor-in-Council, no one can say; but one may bet a satin hat to a toad-stool that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his monomaniacs, while keeping up the strain in their silly senseless striving for office, will contrive, in some way or another, to spring the race-cry on us, hoping to dupe the electors of the city and province of Quebec into voting against their own interests, as has been their invariable game heretofore.

UNCLE WALT MASON'S

DAILY PROSE POEM

MOTHER GOOSE RHYME.

Old Mr. Parr, he bought a car, and said: "I'll travel slowly; these cranks for speed are fools indeed; their conduct is unholly." With care he went nor cared a cent in frantic speed to revel, and people said the old man's head was noticeably level. For quite a week old Parr was meek and slow and mighty cautious, and then he said: "We'll push ahead a bit or folks will josh us." But careful still he ran down hill and courted no disaster for one week more, and then he tore along a little faster. A month was gone. "So help me John," old Parr was sadly drawing, "I don't like speed—I don't indeed—but we are merely crawling! I didn't get this car to fret along like this, dodgast us!" He woke in bed with bandaged head, and docs and nurses handy, and ere he died he sweetly sighed: "That auto is a dandy!"—Walt Mason.

RAILROAD CAMPAIGN FOR SAFETY

Acting with a New York humanitarian society, the railways of the Borough of Brooklyn have inaugurated a campaign of safety, which consists of lectures delivered in different parts of the city, in which children and their parents are especially invited with the view of warning them of the dangers of the street and giving instructions in the matter of avoiding these dangers. Suggestions are given as to the proper manner of boarding and alighting from street cars and the danger of running after vehicles. These gatherings are made entertaining by moving pictures and stereoscopic views and have been found to be very popular as well as effective in accomplishing the desired object. As a result there has been a decided decrease in the number of street accidents for which the railways companies are in any way responsible.

TO CLEAN BRISTLE BRUSHES.

Take equal parts of flour and salt and mix with one teaspoon of borax. A pint of this mixture will clean several brushes that can be used over many times or until it becomes too soiled.

Place brushes, bristle side up and rub mixture into them, letting them stand for an hour or so. Then shake well and the brushes will come out as clean and white as when new and bristles remain stiff until worn out.

New Home Treatment For Removing Hairs

(Boudoir Secrets.)

Any woman troubled with superfluous hairs can remove them in the privacy of her home without pain or trouble by applying a delatone paste to the hairs not wanted. This paste is made by mixing the powdered delatone with a little mixture. The paste is to remain on the skin 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This treatment is quick, harmless and leaves the skin without spot or blemish. An original ounce package of delatone is ample. To make eyebrows grow thick and glossy, rub pyroxin on frequently and for stubby, straight eyelashes apply pyroxin at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger. This makes them grow long, silky and curly. Use care and don't let any pyroxin where no hair is wanted.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, June, 1813 and 1883.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Quebec Bank.
The 65th Annual General Meeting of the shareholders was held on Monday, 4th June, 1883. Present: Sir N. F. Belleau, Rev. W. B. Clark, Capt. Carter, Lt. Col. Pope, Messrs. J. G. Ross, S. J. Shaw, John Hatch, G. R. Renfrew, W. Hossack, A. F. Hunt, J. W. Henry, C. Pentland, W. White, W. Withall, John R. Young, R. H. Smith, W. C. Young, John Laird, E. J. Price, I. H. Simmons, E. H. Taylor, T. H. Dunn, A. Painchaud, Cazeau, I. Bowen, Jr., P. Johnston, E. J. Hale and others. James Stevenson, Esqr., cashier, read the statement of the affairs of the Bank, as on the 15th of May, 1883. There are still two or possibly three of all those well known names to the fore and still active in our midst, but all the others, where?

Sad Case of Manslaughter.
Dr. Belleau, the District Coroner, terminated yesterday, 30 years ago, his inquest on the body of Charles Gore, a boy of 13 years, son of Joseph Gore, Senr., who died last week. The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against the brother of deceased, Jos. Gore, Junr. The principal evidence was that of the servant girl, Johanna Ryan. It seems by the deposition of this witness that Alexa Lacroix, wife of Jos. Gore, Junr., pulled deceased out of his bed by the hair of his head and onto the floor. Jos. Gore entering at this time, struck deceased several blows with his fists, knocking him down. He then jumped upon him with both feet. The poor boy ran out of the back door. It is said, with blood pouring from his mouth and nose. On re-entering the house, deceased was kicked by his brother in the right side, and fell to the floor, vomiting severely for some time afterwards. Dr. Bolduc, who testified that deceased died of inflammation of the bowels caused by violence. The brother was committed to jail on a coroner's warrant to stand his trial.

"How do you like our new clergyman's delivery?"
"It doesn't compare with what the pitcher of our baseball team can do."

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Terms of Capitulation of York.
The Terms of Capitulation entered into on the 27th April, 1813, for the surrender of the town of York, Upper Canada, to the Army and Navy of the United States under the command of Major Genl. Dearborn and Commodore Chauncey:
That the troops, regular and militia, to ground their arms, immediately on parade, and the naval officers and seamen be immediately surrendered. That all public stores, naval and military, shall be immediately given up. That all private property shall be guaranteed to the citizens of York. That 1 Lieut. Col. 1 Major, 13 Captains, 9 Lieuts, 11 Ensigns, 1 quartermaster, 1 deputy Adjutant General and 3 gunners shall be surrendered as prisoners of war, and accounted for in the exchange of prisoners.

European Affairs.
The Paris papers contain an official report of Maret, Duke of Bassano, announcing that the King of Prussia had officially declared that he had made common cause with Russia against Napoleon. In consequence of this declaration will augment the enemies of France from 80,000 to 100,000 men. That disaffection against Napoleon was general it is expected that some of the troops would refuse to follow him again into Poland.

Latest from Lisbon.
Capt. Taylor, of the Illinois, has arrived at New York from Lisbon with the official account of the capture of Valencia. The British took 4,500 prisoners, which were sent to the headquarters of Lord Wellington.

NEIGHBORS.
Not long since a man moved into a certain village. After a week or so a friend called on him and asked how he liked his new home.
"Pretty well," he said.
"Have you called on your neighbors yet?"
"No," he replied; "but I'm going to if any more of my wood is missing."

FAVORITES LOSERS AT BLUE BONNETS

TWO 30 TO 1 SHOTS PUT OVER VICTORIES AT MONTREAL RACES.

Montreal, June 4.—The second day of the spring meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club saw almost a complete upset for the talent, as the favorites were toppled over one after another. The handicap for 3-year-olds and up, which was practically the feature of the afternoon, was won by Upright, a 30 to 1 shot, while Lord Wells, at the same price, won the sixth event. Two events were won by Charles S. Campbell, the local owner, when Corn Broom finished in front in one of the events for 2-year-olds and Lindesta won the other event for Canadian owned horses.

The attendance was well up with that of opening day, while there was a big improvement in the racing and weather conditions. The track was fast and the sun was out most of the afternoon.

Summary:
First race, 2-year-old maidens, four and a half furlongs—Scarlet Letter, 106, Turner, 7 to 2, 7 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; Laura, 111, Dreyer, 15 to 1, 6 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Peacock, 108, Nathan, 30 to 1, 8 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 55 1-5. Kettle Drum, John Marshall, Transcena, Tempest, Diamond Cluster, Dally Waters and Fuzzy Wuzzy also ran.

Second race, 2-year-old maidens, Canadian bred, 4 and a half furlongs—Cornbrook, 110, Burns, 1 to 5 and out, won; Sin-Sin, 109, Rouley, 1 to 3 and out, second; Cobourg, Belle, 109, Wilson, 10 to 1, even and 2 to 5, third. Time, 55 3-5. Boozier, Old Reliable and Irish Harmony ran.

Third race, handicap, 3-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Upright, 106, Robins, 30 to 1, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, won; Sherwood, 116, Wilson, 6 to 5, 3 to 5 and out, second; Hoffman, 105, Turner, 7 to 2, 4 to 5 and out, third. Time, 1:14 2-5. Flabbergast and Carlton G. also ran.

Fourth race, handicap, 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, one mile—Lindesta, 98, Ambrose, 4 to 1, 7 to 5 and 4 to 5, won; Hayrock, 117, Burns, 5 to 2, 4 to 5 and 1 to 3, second; Amberite, 102, Wilson, 6 to 5, 1 to 6 and out, third. Time, 1:43. Maggie, Calumny and Caper Sauce also ran.

PERFUMING LINEN

For people who wish to perfume their linens nothing can be nicer than the old plan of our great-grandmothers' day—putting dried lavender between the folds of the linen, or heliotrope, verberna and rose leaves answer the purpose well. Powderedorris root bought at a druggist's also gives a very delicate perfume.

AMERICANS NAME MATCH POLO TEAM

THREE MEMBERS OF CRACK TEAM OF 1911 TEAM ARE ELIMINATED

New York, June 4.—The American Polo Association announced the following line-up of the American team which will defend the International Cup at Meadowbrook next Tuesday:

No. 1, L. E. Stoddard; No. 2, Devereaux Millburn; No. 3, Foxhall Keene; Back, Malcolm Stevenson.

A more sweeping change in the line-up of the cup defenders could hardly have been made. Not only have three members of the crack team of 1911 been entirely eliminated from this year's team, but Devereaux Millburn has been shifted from back to No. 3. Harry Payne Whitney's resignation as captain is assured by the announcement that Foxhall Keene will succeed him both as captain and at No. 3; both the Waterbury brothers have gone by the board.

Millburn has been rated at nine goals, whether he played at No. 2, No. 3, or back. The only veteran player of the new team—so far as the game of 1911 is concerned—he is claimed its star. Foxhall Keene at No. 3 is rated a nine goal man; he was a member of the team which lost to Great Britain in 1886. Stoddard is rated at seven goals playing No. 3, and at six goals at No. 1. In addition he has the advantage of having a string of excellent mounts. Stevenson is rated at seven goals.

PERE MARQUETTE MEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Detroit, Mich., June 4.—Twelve hundred employees of the Pere Marquette Railroad are on strike as the result of the company's refusal to grant an increase in wages. The men out are located at Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Ionia and Traverse City, where the road's shops are located, and include boilermakers, shopmen, carpenters and laborers.

The trouble started about ten days ago at the Wyoming shops, near Grand Rapids and gradually has spread until all the shops on the system are affected.

VIOLENT SCENE IN BUDAPEST CHAMBER

HUNGARIAN CABINET'S RESIGNATION LEADS TO WILD DISORDER IN HOUSE.

Budapest, June 4.—The announcement in the Chamber of Deputies today of the resignation of the Hungarian premier, Dr. Ysidlaus Von Lukacs, and his cabinet was preceded by scenes of uproar and violence surpassing any yet witnessed in this turbulent house. The authorities, anticipating trouble, closed the approaches of the parliament building to the house by strong bodies of infantry and cavalry supported by a machine gun and detachments of police and gendarmerie.

When Count Tisza, the speaker of the chamber, and Premier Von Lukacs entered the chamber they were greeted by the opposition with shouts, jeers and insulting epithets. After several unavailing attempts to obtain quiet, the speaker ordered the expulsion of several of the opposition deputies and summoned the parliamentary guard to eject them.

The appearance of the guard started pandemonium. One of the guards caught Deputy Lehr by the coat collar and called him offensive names.

"You scoundrel, this is indecent," exclaimed Count Khuen Von Hedervary, the former premier, addressing Captain Gerce, the commander of the guard. Gerce drew his sabre and struck the Count thrice on the head.

His face streaming with blood, the ex-premier staggered and fell into the arms of a friend. Cries of "Murder!" resounded through the hall. The fury of the opposition deputies was almost uncontrollable until it was ascertained that the injuries of Count Khuen Von Hedervary were only superficial.

At length Herr Julius Justh, the opposition leader, succeeded in quieting his followers, and the sitting, which in the meantime had been suspended, was resumed.

Premier Von Lukacs announced the resignation of his cabinet, which was greeted with frantic outbursts of jubilation by the opposition.

SUFFRAGETTE MAY DIE FROM TRYING TO THROW HORSE IN THE DERBY

the horse; others that she seized the rein. According to some Anmer's shoulders struck her on the head; according to others the woman waited just as though the horse was upon her.

Jockey Jones was stunned by the fall and did not know what stopped him. He could not even recollect that he saw a woman.

There was a scream and the King's horse plunged over, landing on the rider. The three were on the ground in a heap. The crowd quickly surrounded them, and then the ambulances arrived. When Miss Davison was picked up she was found with the suffragette tri-color tied around her waist under the ulster. A card found in her pocket was inscribed: "E. Davison, W. S. P. U. helper."

At midnight the woman was still unconscious in Epsom Hospital, and the doctors said her condition was critical.

Miss Davison's career has been full of excitement. She hung herself down the prison stairway as a protest against forcible feeding and was badly injured.

A third sensational incident of Derby Day occurred in a later race when the bay colt Felizardo broke his leg at the finish, directly in front of the grand stand, gave his jockey a bad fall and had to be killed in the presence of the King and Queen.

After such an exciting afternoon the sight of a monoplane flying about the course failed to produce a thrill. The racing career of Craganour's owner, C. Bower Ismay, who is a brother of J. Bruce Ismay, has been crowded with bad luck. The stewards recently ruled his trainer off the course for complicity in unfair riding. The public generally upholds the judges in their disqualification of the horse.

SUFFRAGETTES INTERRUPT

WINSTON CHURCHILL SPEECH

London, June 4.—Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, who is the particular object of suffragette animosity, was compelled on account of many interruptions to cut short his speech introducing Commander Evans at Queens Hall tonight. Commander Evans delivered a lecture on the British South Polar expedition in which Captain Scott and others lost their lives.

During the few minutes Mr. Churchill spoke a dozen suffragettes raised disturbances and were ejected. Several men, who assisted in the disorder, were treated with scant mercy by the sturdy stewards.

Premier Asquith attended the lecture, but discreetly refrained from appearing until the First Lord of the Admiralty had finished.

MILITANTS TRIED TO KILL

SIR HENRY CURTIS BENNETT

London, June 4.—Damage, estimated at $75,000, was done during the night by a militant suffragette "arsou quad" who set fire to a newly-constructed but unoccupied mansion at Westwood, near Trowbridge, Wiltshire. The women left behind them a placard bearing the words "For damages apply to Runciman."

The Right Hon. Walter Runciman, Commissioner of Woods, Forests and Land Revenues, addressed a meeting at Trowbridge last night, in the course of which a number of suffragette interrupters were ejected.

A startling story about the late Sir Henry Curtis Bennett, the Bow Street police magistrate, is related by Harry Wilson, a solicitor, practicing in Bow street. Sir Henry told Mr. Wilson that he was walking along the cliffs at a seaside resort when he was suddenly seized by one of two women, who tried to push him over the edge. Fortunately, he fell the other way, otherwise he would have been killed. When he regained his feet, the woman had gone.

After that occurrence, says Mr. Wilson, Sir Henry was very nervous, and on more than one occasion expressed fear and wonderment whether anything would happen to him at the hands of the suffragettes. In consequence of this adventure the magistrate was constantly guarded by detectives. In his official capacity, Sir Henry had sentenced Mrs. Pankhurst and many other suffragettes.

BERLIN BOURSE AFFECTED

BY NEW YORK SLUMP

Berlin, June 4.—The Berlin bourse was badly affected today by yesterday's New York markets and by the rumor that the Baltimore & Ohio dividend was to be reduced. This caused heavy selling of Baltimore & Ohio shares. Canadian Pacific also were heavily sold, particularly for Paris account. The market was depressed as well by heavy selling in Western German centres in connection with the troubles of a private banking firm at Essen. News in regard to the American iron market increased the weakness. Canadian Pacific lost 2% and Baltimore & Ohio 3%.

She Was Helpless For Two Years

WHY MRS. BALDWIN RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She Could Find Nothing To Cure Her Rheumatism Till On a Neighbor's Advice She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Walburg, Sask., June 4.—(Special)—"I can truly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for any one suffering from rheumatism." These are the words of Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, a highly respected resident of this place. And Mrs. Baldwin gives her reasons. "I was nearly helpless with rheumatism for two years," she states. "I got medicine from the doctor, and tried several other remedies, but nothing helped me. Then one of my neighbors advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes, and they helped me almost from the first. I have used nearly two dozen boxes and am nearly cured."

That rheumatism is one of the results of diseased kidneys is again shown in Mrs. Baldwin's case. She had headaches, stiffness of the joints and backache, her sleep was broken and unrefreshing, and she was always tired and nervous. Her limbs swelled and she was always thirsty. These are all symptoms of diseased kidneys. When she cured her kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills, the symptoms vanished—and so did the rheumatism.

R.C.G.A. BAND WINS HIGHEST PRAISE

QUEBEC ORGANIZATION TO BE RATED AMONG BEST ON THE CONTINENT

The R.C.G.A. Band as now organized under Bandmaster O'Neill, is probably the finest musical organization on this entire Continent, and the city of Quebec, in helping in a small way to defray the cost of its maintenance, has done an unestimable service to the assets of Quebec.

The great excellence of last night's program on the Terrace was most thoroughly enjoyed by thousands of our citizens, and Mr. O'Neill is certainly to be congratulated on the very great efficiency to which the Band has attained.

And the men of the band themselves seem to vie with one another in bringing the band as a whole, to its present excellence. We heartily congratulate Bandmaster O'Neill and the men of the band, and we predict a season's musical pleasure that has not been heretofore enjoyed in many years.

LADIES' SPECIALS.

Three English specials have arrived for J. H. Mullin. The favorite is a large soft white fur-felt hat for summer outing. The elite and fashionable London ladies have adopted it, with a rich soft white belt of military buckskin to match. Also colored flannel jackets, striped.

BULGARIAN KILLED BY BLAST OF DYNAMITE

A Bulgarian, who was working as a miner on the south shore, near the Quebec bridge, met with a fatal accident yesterday afternoon, being blown up when a blast was sent off. When picked up the unfortunate young man was dead, and his body was transferred to the Quebec Morgue, where Dr. Jolicœur will hold a verdict this morning.

ASSAULT COMES HIGH IN SESSIONS COURT

Joseph and Arthur Labrecque, father and son, residents of Stadacona Village, were tried before the Police Court yesterday on the charge of assaulting a neighbor named Edmond Gignac. Twenty witnesses were heard for the prosecution and defence, and at the close of the evidence, Hon. Judge Langelier, presiding, found the defendants guilty and condemned them to pay a fine of $20 and costs each, the whole amounting to $69.66, rather an expensive assault.

Watch Saturday's issue of this paper for the story of "All the Comforts of Home," which a company of players will produce in the Auditorium Theatre on the 13th and 14th of this month, under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of this city.

HOBBLE SKIRT BRINGS YOUNG LADY TO GRIEF

Last night a smart looking young lady, wearing a hobble skirt, boarded a Maple Avenue car and when the car was going along the Grand Allée at a slow rate of speed, in a spirit of self confidence she went to the rear platform and sprang from the car to the street. She did not, however, consider the hobble skirt she was wearing, and went sprawling on the dust covered roadway.

The street car was immediately stopped and the young lady was helped to her feet, but she declared she was not in the least hurt, and went her way without giving the conductor any satisfaction as to her identity or place of residence.

WEDDING BELLS AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

Wedding bells pealed joyously at St. Patrick's Church yesterday morning for the wedding of Mr. Benoit Beaudry, son of Mr. Joseph Beaudry, piano merchant, of this city, to Miss Margaret Leonard, niece of Mr. Martin Foley, of this city. The marriage ceremony was presided over by Rev. Father Costello, C. S. S. R., and the bride, who looked charming in a travelling costume of tulle blue silk, with Parisian hat to match, was given away by her uncle, while the groom was accompanied by his father. The popular young couple received a large number of beautiful presents from their many friends and left immediately after the nuptial ceremony for the C. P. R. station, where they boarded the train for the White Mountains on their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Beaudry will reside in Montreal.

SEARCHING QUEBEC FOR BOGUS BUTTER

INSPECTOR FROM FEDERAL AGRICULTURAL DEPT. FINDS BUT ONE CASE.

Mr. Macpherson of the Federal Agricultural Department, has been in Quebec for some days investigating wholesale and retail stores dealing in butter, with the object of seizing any bogus butter that is offered as the genuine article.

Inspector Macpherson succeeded in locating spurious butter in only one Quebec establishment, the proprietor of which claims he purchased from an Ontario butter factory. Legal proceedings have been instituted against the Quebec dealer, and steps will also be taken to reach the manufacturer.

Discussing his duties with a Chronicle reporter, Inspector Macpherson said that the Federal Department of Agriculture was determined to put a stop to the manufacture of spurious foodstuffs, and was resorting to every means to discover and prosecute manufacturers of bogus butter, in the interest of honest trade and the general public health.

Inspector Macpherson makes the statement that very little spurious butter manufactured in the Province of Quebec has been detected, and with the exception of one case complained of in the Police Court within the past few days, all butter investigated in the City of Quebec is the pure article.

KILLED BY FALL FROM HIGH ROOF

WORKMAN LOSES FOOTING ON PARLIAMENT BUILDING, DASHED TO STREET.

Albert Ferland, aged 22 years, a plumber in the employ of Messrs. Falardeau & Co., of this city, was killed yesterday at his work.

Young Ferland was engaged on copper work on the roof of the new Provincial Parliament House Library Building. He was employed at the east end of the building and by some unaccountable means lost his footing and fell to the ground, a distance of 60 feet. The unfortunate young man, realizing his inevitable plunge, endeavored to clutch the side of the roof with his hands as he went over, but without avail. During his decent his body came into contact with a stone gallery, which to some extent broke his fall, but it seemed to have little effect, as he fell violently upon the street pavement.

Fellow-workmen rushed to his assistance and lifted his unconscious form, and a doctor and priest were summoned. The priest administered the last rites of the Church, after which he was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he died at 1.30 o'clock without regaining consciousness.

PRINCE ALBERT IS HERE TODAY

HEIR PRESUMPTIVE WILL GO TO NIAGARA FALLS, RETURNING SUNDAY

His Majesty's training ship Cumberland, with H. R. H. Prince Albert, second son of King George V., and heir presumptive to the Throne of England aboard, is due to arrive in port this morning, and will remain in port until Thursday, June 13.

Early yesterday morning His Honor the Lieutenant Governor Sir Francis Langelier, received a wireless message from the Cumberland, then off Fame Point, informing him that on the arrival of the ship, H. R. H. Prince Albert, accompanied by the rest of the cadets on board, would proceed to Niagara Falls and return to Quebec on Sunday next.

SAY QUEBEC RY COUPONS UNPAID

RUMORS OF REASONS WHY, AND CONTINUED RUMORS OF SALE OF INTERESTS.

Those who are on the inside in regard to Quebec Railway affairs say that none of the bond coupons which fell due last Saturday, and were supposed to be paid in Quebec, were paid yesterday. If they are not paid within three months the line must go into the hands of a receiver, so that it may be pretty well taken for granted that they will be paid.

One of the theories is that the delay in payment is a trick to induce the French shareholders to unload their stock so that the Canadian group can get control.

The opinion that the Mackenzie and Mann interests have acquired the Quebec and Saguenay Railway, a subsidiary of the Q. R., L. H. & P. Company, with a view to using it as an extension of their transcontinental line and continuing it as far as St. Catherine's Bay at the mouth of the Saguenay, with the view of having a winter port on the St. Lawrence, still obtains credence. It is said that an arrangement was concluded in January between the Government, the C. N. R. and Sir Rodolphe Forget and that the Mackenzie and Mann group took over the subsidiary concern soon after. It was rumored at the time that the C. N. R. had only taken over this branch on condition that they should also take over the line from Quebec to Ste. Anne de Beaupre, which is probably the most paying branch, as thousands of pilgrims pass over it during the summer and the section to Montmorency Falls continually carries swarms of tourists and Quebec people there during the summer.

If it is only the Quebec and Saguenay end that has been acquired the Quebec Railway stock should go up with a vengeance, but if the other outside divisions have been sold also it puts quite a different complexion on the case. It seems impossible to find out anything definite, but the former assumption is probably the more correct. It certainly seems that a ring of about two dozen have been making good hauls out of fluctuations between the rumor of a deal in January, though it is said that only a few hundred shares of the common stock have been traded during the last month.

SIR IAN HAMILTON ARRIVES TOMORROW

General Sir Ian Hamilton, commander-in-chief of His Majesty's overseas forces, is expected to arrive at Quebec on Friday. He will be met upon his arrival by the Minister of Militia, Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, and staff consisting of Colonel Williams, adjutant general, and Lieut. John Bassett, A. D. C. General Hamilton and staff will go to Toronto for Saturday and in the afternoon will review the 48th Highlanders. On Sunday General Hamilton will review the garrison at Ojawa and early next week will leave for a general trip of inspection throughout Canada, accompanied by his staff and by the Minister of Militia and staff.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

In hot weather, place your butter in a dish and add cold water to within an inch of the top. Add a piece of rock salt the size of a hazelnut. It will remain firm and fresh for days. Begin at the root end of the onion and peel upward, and the eyes will scarcely be affected to tears.

Use kerosene instead of soap, for cleaning windows. It will repel flies and also mosquitoes.

To prevent salt from becoming damp or hardening in the shaker, place a few grains of rice in shaker when filling.

A piece of onion rubbed on gilt picture frames will remove fly-specks immediately, and there will be no odor from the onion afterward.

Five cents' worth of orris root put in the ordinary wash water will impart a delicate perfume to the clothes.

Piano keys can be cleaned, as can any old ivory, by being rubbed with muslin dipped in alcohol. If very yellow, use a piece of flannel moistened with Cologne water.

In most of the spring gowns the vest of fancy material is a prominent feature. These do not resemble the mannish waistcoats, but appear in odd designs, and are fashioned of broad and printed flower materials.

Suffers With Headaches

TAYLORVILLE, ONT.

"I was a sufferer from Fearful Headaches for over two years. Sometimes, they were so bad that I was unable to work for days at a time. I took all kinds of medicine, was treated by physicians, but yet the Headaches persisted.

A short time ago, I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so, with I must confess, very little faith. But after I had taken them for three days, my Headaches were easier and in a week they left me.

After I had taken a box of these tablets, my headaches were quite cured. My appetite was always poor and my stomach bad—and now my appetite is splendid and my digestion excellent.

I had become thin and weak from the constant Headaches but now not only have I been cured of all these awful Headaches, but my strength is growing up once more and I feel like a new man."

TORONTO BREAKS EVEN WITH ROCHESTER.

International League.

Toronto, June 4.—Toronto was lucky to secure one game out of the double header today with the Hustlers, the Leafs winning the first by 4 to 3, by a batting rally in the sixth. Lush was pounded hard and only brilliant fielding kept down the runs, although had J. Martin been alive in the ninth inning of the first game, the Hustlers would have tied it up.

In the second game, Brant was pounded to all corners of the lot, while Martin, although getting away to a mobly start, finished strong. The umpires, while not so bad, as in the first two games, were far from good, but today it was Gangel who was chased, not Kelly, the Rochester manager being banished in the second game.

GAY BIRD WINNER OF SPECULATION STAKES

Louisville, Ky., June 4.—With R. J. McKenna's Melton Street, the favorite, scratched, Gay Bird, Weber and Ward's colt, won the Speculation Stakes, the feature at Douglas Park, today. J. W. Scherr's Edda, which was coupled with Hamilton, won second place. This is probably the last appearance of the Scherr string here as he is shipping his stable to Canada for the summer.

JUVENILE STAKES DAY

AT BELMONT PARK

Belmont Park, N. Y., June 4.—This was kindergarten day at the races, for the feature was the historic Juvenile Stakes.

Butwell piloted E. F. Cooney's chestnut colt, Punch Bowl, by Orna-ment out of Algie M., to an easy victory after a fine start. The Cooney colt was a hot favorite among the oral bettors who, despite the vigilance of police and special officers, find no difficulty in placing wagers. There were about 4000 people at the track, and the card was well balanced throughout, most of the favorites winning their events.

CLOSING MARKET LETTER.

By private wire to Neuville Beliveau & Co., 93 St. Peter street, Quebec, Phone 946, 4076.

New York, June 4.—The action of the market this morning spelled one thing plainly and that was liquidation. Nearly 300,000 shares were sold during the first hour and a round half million up to mid-day.

Nearly every listed stock came in for a portion of the activity and the dealings were more general and comprehensive than any day so far this year.

Many important issues made new low records for the past five or six years, including Pennsylvania, Chicago and Northwest and Illinois Central while St. Paul, New York Central and New Haven were only a few points away.

Non-dividend paying and purely speculative stocks, such as Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Kansas City Southern, Denver and Rock Island and Missouri Pacific sold at or near the panic prices of 1907 and the industrial list for the poorer issues, was even worse off.

After mid-day the pressure of the selling lightened and a rally of a point or so took place.

Some heavy selling of Steel by one of the largest houses was noticed and said to be long stock.

The weakness in Erie was said to be due to foreign selling.

After 1 o'clock the market hardened and a rally of a point or more took place, which helped greatly to restore the equilibrium and public confidence which had been rapidly growing panicky.

The New York railway earnings made an excellent showing for April, increasing $10,392 in net and showing a surplus over charges of $157,308.

The great liquidation of Wall Street accounts should result in a much improved bank statement on Saturday, but money on time has worked distinctly firmer this week.

The closing prices were steady, though irregular, at the recovery, but it would still seem injudicious to buy for speculation for we greatly fear the end is not yet.

SOME TONGUE TWISTERS

FROM THE STRAND

Bill had a bill board. Bill also had a board bill. The board bill bored Bill, so Bill sold the bill board to pay his board bill. So after Bill sold his bill board to pay his board bill, the board bill no longer bored Bill.

The following should be read slowly, remembering that a railway sleeping car is often called a "sleeper". A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which a sleeper sleeps. Therefore, while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper, the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper under the sleeper until the sleeper which carries the sleeper jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper by striking the sleeper under the sleeper on the sleeper, and there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper on the sleeper. FRANCE LOOKS TO ENGLAND FOR AID

BUT FEARS BRITAIN NOT TO BE COUNTED ON IN A WAR WITH GERMANY.

Paris, June 4—The tone of the French press in dealing with the recent affair at Nancy, when German visitors were affronted by French students, indicates a growing feeling in France that things are drifting toward an open break with Germany.

This is apparently not the view, certainly it is far from the expressed conviction of the higher and more responsible officials of France, who are struggling against swirling tide of popular anti-German sentiment.

The jingo press of Germany and England, no less than France, is persistent in stimulating the war feeling in the three great nations.

Despite the public warnings of British Premier Asquith and the declared anti-war policy of the British Liberal Cabinet, the French continue to soothe themselves with the belief that in the event of a break between France and Germany public sentiment in Great Britain would compel that country to take arms with France against Germany. This, in the opinion in high French quarters, is a most dangerous delusion.

The Importance of The Mid-Day Lunch

By DR. J. A. HUSIK.

Here is a problem that faces every man and woman in the work-a-day world: What constitutes a healthful nutritious, and at the same time a reasonably economical mid-day meal? Many of the luncheons served do not possess any of these qualities.

Go to the luncheon or restaurant at noon and watch the throngs of people all rushing to get something to eat. You will observe that pastry, pies, ice cream and coffee form the chief menu of many a meal.

Now, while some of these foods, when pure, may not be of real danger to health, especially if eaten sparingly and only occasionally, their constant, daily use results in weakened powers of digestion and poor nutrition. There is many a person suffering from disorders of the digestive organs, impoverishment of the blood, a low state of general vitality, and many other conditions of ill health, all due to the consumption of improper food, unwholesome food at the daily lunch.

All this can be prevented and avoided, provided a little care and intelligence are used in the selection of the proper kind of food. For those engaged in indoor occupations, with little muscular activity, there are several simple and inexpensive lunch menus that will prove wholesome and healthful, and meet all the requirements of the body.

A bowl of soup with a "butter" roll or two, and with some fruit (raw or cooked), or some light pudding, will be sufficient for the average grown-up indoor worker who expends very little muscular energy during his day's work.

Meat or egg sandwiches made of wholesome fresh materials, and water in combination with some good fresh milk, will be found very wholesome and nutritious.

The worker out of doors requires of necessity a larger and more substantial meal, to meet the demands which active muscular exertion makes upon his system. But even the laborer must avoid overburdening the stomach with excess of food. The laborer should have for his lunch a hot bowl of soup, some meat and vegetables, bread, and butter, and dessert.

Usually, however, just the reverse is observed. The office worker eats the laborer's meal, while the laborer frequently has insufficient food to sustain the daily wear and tear of his body. Both suffer; the one from excess, the other from insufficiency. The result is disease and cutting short of life.

For the sake of your health, select your lunch to suit the real requirements of your body. Under all circumstances, avoid heavy, indigestible, impure foods. In eating, stick to what is safe and simple. Care in this direction will keep you in good health and prolong your life.

"WINNIPEG, B. C."

(From St. Paul Pioneer Press.)

The British are not supposed to see a joke right off, but they get the point eventually. About next week they should have much merriment at the expense of Ambassador Page, who has just reached London to represent this country. The June number of his magazine, The World's Work, contains an interesting article on "The Novels That Sell 100,000." It is written by Arthur W. Page, who recounts the success of thirteen authors who have attained the distinction of being above the 100,000-copy mark in his country within the last two years. He says: "They live all over the United States, from Cornish, N.H., to Southern California, and two of them live outside our boundaries—the Rev. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), in Winnipeg, British Columbia; and Mrs. Barclay in England."

It is a standing joke in the United States about the Briton who comes over here prepared to hunt buffalo in the outskirts of the city of the same name in Western New York. He is supposed to imagine that Indians are infested by war-like red men. Returning travellers delight to tell of Europeans, British and others, who expect a man from St. Paul to know their friends in San Francisco or Seattle. Ambassador Page would do well to tell no such jokes while abroad lest some in the audience may call his attention to "Winnipeg, British Columbia," and suggest that the joke is on the Pages.

THE DAILY TURN.

For the umpteenth time Shakespeare turned in his grave. "This thing is getting monotonous," he complained. "I'm beginning to feel like an egg in a blooming incubator."

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Clara: I know parrotis will greatly reduce your weight, and when this is done you will feel much better and healthier. To prepare the treatment, get from your druggist 4 ounces parrotis and dissolve in 1 1/2 pints hot water, then take a tablespoonful at meal time. This acts gradually and gently and safely reduces weight without resorting to violent exercise or dieting. This treatment is far superior to any "patent" fat-reducer, for the reason that the graceful lines of the figure are regained and the flesh and skin are left firm and smooth.

Alma: Beautiful eyebrows and lashes will add greatly to the expression of your eyes. Rubbing pyroxin on eyebrows will make them grow thick and beautiful, and frequent applications of pyroxin at last resort will cause them to come in long and curly. Use care and don't get any pyroxin where hair is not wanted.

Anxious: This is the only safe, certain hair-remover. Mix into a paste enough delatone and water to cover the hairy surface, apply and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, cleanse the skin and the hairs will have vanished. Rarely is the second application necessary to remove even a stubborn growth.

Genevieve: You can easily and quickly cleanse your hair and scalp with canthrox, and the shampoo is so refreshing and invigorating that you will never again use or permit the use of soap or other mussy, harmful mixtures for this purpose. Just dissolve a teaspoonful canthrox in a cup hot water and your shampoo is ready. After rinsing the hair will dry very quickly and take on a rich, even color and beautiful gloss. Canthrox is especially nice for hot weather shampoos, because it stimulates and invigorates the scalp's tissues and makes the head feel so exhilarated.

Annie: Yes, that old-fashioned kardene tonic will do you a great amount of good, I am sure. Here is the recipe: To prepare, add 1 ounce kardene to 1/2 pint alcohol (whisky should not be used), then 1/2 cupful sugar and hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and you will be surprised how quickly your strength and appetite return. The kardene tonic is fine for any kidney or liver trouble and will clear the skin of sallowness, blotches, pimples and other complexion faults.

Lucy: Nature exacts heavy tolls when her laws are violated. Your skin has been abused by powder. An ordinary spumax lotion, made by dissolving 4 ounces spumax in 1/2 pint clear water and 2 or 3 drops of this should be put in the bothersome eye until a cure is effected. The crystals eye-tonic is strengthening to weak, watery eyes and gives to them a delightful sparkle and youthful expression. With the aid of the crystals eye-tonic it is frequently possible to discard glasses.

Jennie: No quinzoin hair-tonic cannot possibly injure the hair. Quinzoin itself is the most beneficial remedy of which I know for all hair and scalp troubles, and when it is made up according to my simple directions is better than any hair-tonic you ever used. To prepare, just add 1 ounce quinzoin to 1/2 pint alcohol, then pour in 1/2 pint water. This inexpensive tonic stops the irritation almost instantly and its use will banish dandruff and make your scalp healthy. Then a beautiful growth of long, silken hair will follow.

Annie: Make your own greaseless cream-jelly wrinkle-remover at little cost by pouring 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine into 1/2 pint cold water, then adding 1 ounce almocoin. Let dissolve thoroughly before using, apply thickly and leave over night. Then apply more cream and massage skin until the cream-jelly disappears. This is splendid for correcting every faulty complexion because it gives natural beauty and I have found that certain results follow when this almocoin cream-jelly is used to banish wrinkles and round out hollows.

faithful and prudent conciliation is always assured us, whenever difficulties may arise in the industrial district.

Not content with bringing a remedy to existing evils, you moreover devoted your attention, with great success, to preserve our population free from the inroads of a greivous menace. Among the most useful and most popular of the social works which you have organized and developed, we must count the already triumphant temperance movement, which is responsible for so much well-being amongst all our people.

Neither do we forget other works of Catholic social action, none the less important, which you have founded and encouraged, works which are truly salutary, and which under your high direction, maintain and defend Catholic and French tradition, and which are the honor and the safeguard of our people.

We should be wanting in our duty, Your Lordship, if we did not express our warm gratitude for all the good which you have accomplished amongst us.

This gratitude we should, and wish to manifest, by co-operation in the works which you have undertaken for our welfare.

To profit by your good works, Your Lordship, we, Catholic citizens of Quebec, should maintain our efforts by obeying your teaching and your desires. We must do so in order to preserve and defend the most precious heritage which we have received from France, and from the Church, the heritage of our faith, and our saintly tradition.

We would be doubly blind and ungrateful, if, after the heroic combats of our fathers in defence of our Church and our Nationality, we should demolish with our own hands, or permit to be demolished under our very eyes, this citadel of French Canadian spirit, this citadel which is impregnable from without, where remained the survivors of New France, when the other citadel, that which crowns our rock at Quebec, had to lower its flag, and open its portals before the vanquishers of the Plains of Abraham.

We must never forget, that in face of this then dreaded and formidable standard of Albion, the cross of our steeples rallied our half ruined forces, and obedience to our Canadian Church saved us. We wish to practice the same obedience now, which is nothing more than acquiescence to a higher science and a more far-seeing wisdom.

We have, therefore, many reasons, Your Lordship, to renew in this happy celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of your episcopal consecration, our most sincere honor, our veneration, our gratitude and our obedience.

Permit us to add the expression of our respectful and sincere congratulations for the conservation of your strength and health, after so many years of arduous labor.

With all our hearts, Your Lordship, for ourselves, as well as for you, we express the wish that you may long be preserved amongst us for the accomplishment of our most cherished desires, for the profit and the happiness of your devoted dioceses of Quebec.

Greeted By 9,000 School Children.

Without exception, one of the grandest scenes ever witnessed in Quebec was that of yesterday afternoon, when 9,000, or to be exact from figures given out at the Archbishop's Palace, 8,900 school children, accompanied by their teachers, arrived from every section of the city and were crowded into the large square that faces the Palace to manifest their homage in honor of Archbishop Begin on the occasion of the celebration of his silver jubilee.

The children, marshalled by their teachers, the girls by the Rev. Sisters of the various Catholic orders, and the boys by the Christian Brothers, commenced to arrive at 3.15 o'clock, and as they reached Mountain Hill were arranged in order with perfect discipline. The orphan children of the various city orphanages in control of the church and presided over by the Sisters of Charity, numbered several hundred and ranged in age from 6 to 12 years. They were neatly dressed, especially the girls from the Glacis street orphanage, who were in blue, and the boys in white and clothes of a dark material.

All the girls who made their first communion this year arrived on the scene dressed in white and wearing wreaths of flowers. Next came the girl and boy pupils of the various schools, closely followed by the school cadets, headed by the cadet band of the parish of St. Jean de Baptiste, in their natty blue Zouave uniforms.

A. O. H. Cadets.

The A. O. H. Cadets, dressed in their natty dark uniforms with green facings, followed by the pupils of St. Patrick's School, was one of the last contingents to arrive, and as the young A. O. H. Cadets marched up Fabrique and along Buade streets to take their place in front of the Laval Monument, they were the cynosure of all eyes, as they marched with the proud bearing of young warriors, headed by their commanding officer, Capt. Gerald Boyce with sword carried at the salute.

It was a proud day for the youthful descendants of the Green Isle, as they walked through the huge crowd to their allotted position, with the appearance of all that the motto "Faugh a Ballagh" denotes.

It was wonderful to see how the 9,000 children were marshalled into their respective positions without the least excitement or confusion, and sharply at 4 o'clock, the appointed hour, every child was placed and everything ready for the reception of His Grace the Archbishop.

A Magnificent Scene.

At 4 o'clock His Grace, accompanied by the visiting Archbishops and Bishops, emerged from the Palace, and amidst the acclaims of the youthful concourse, made their way to the seats arranged for them at the base of the Laval Monument, where His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Francois Langelier, Lady Langelier, Miss Langelier and other ladies, attended by Capt. Victor Pelletier, A.D.C., had previously arrived.

The scene was kaleidoscopic in its magnificent grandeur. On a platform specially erected, running lengthwise of the Laval Monument were ranged two rows of red covered seats, which were occupied by the Archbishops and Bishops, who sat facing the 9,000 children and fully as many more people, the former who were crowded into every available space of Mountain Hill and along a part of Rampart street, and the latter closely massed in the Montmorency square.

The scarlet dress of the Bishops and the red carpeting that covered the staging on which they were seated, and the spacious stone steps leading from the street to the monument base, and the black gowns of the clergy, contrasted with the hundreds of young first communion girls dressed in pure white, the black dresses of the pupils of the Congregational convents, the military uniforms of the cadets, and other variegated colors, made a sight only witnessed once in a lifetime.

The school children carried small bannerettes, while distributed among the concourse of little citizens were numerous beautiful silk flags and banners held proudly aloft, bearing appropriate mottoes.

On the steps of the monument underneath the platform occupied by the honored Archbishop of Quebec, were two handsomely dressed pages, in costumes of the earlier court days of France. Other pages similarly costumed stood lowed down and surrounding them were children dressed as angels.

No matter from what angle the scene was viewed, it was pleasing to the eye in its gorgeousness, and Mgr. Begin showed by the earnestness of his attention and the sunny smile that illuminated his countenance the joyous happiness he had in appreciation of the honor done him by the Catholic children and the people of Quebec.

Songs of Homage.

As soon as Mgr. Begin took his seat on the platform, surrounded by the visiting bishops, the acclaims of the children came to a halt and the entire concourse of little ones, accompanied by the St. Jean de Baptiste band, sang in chorus a song especially composed in honor of the jubilee, which was rendered with excellent effect.

Songs were also sung by the pupils of the oldest four teaching orders of Quebec, the Rev. Sisters of the Congregational Order, Good Shepherds, Sisters of Charity and Christian Brothers.

In the meantime the pages on the approach to the Laval Monument were kept busy receiving and passing beautiful floral tributes to His Grace the Archbishop, who bowed his acknowledgments, and aided by the clergy and pages placed them along the footboard in front of the platform. The floral tributes numbered over two hundred and were beautifully made up in every conceivable artistic design.

At each presentation the 9,000 children raised their voices to hurrah and waved their bannerettes, which looked like the flutter of thousands of beautifully colored butterflies in a waving corn field.

An address in behalf of the children was read, and appropriately responded to by Mgr. Begin.

The ceremony lasted an hour, when the children dispersed in the same well regulated order as they arrived.

Too much praise cannot be accorded Capt. Emile Trudel and the members of the city police under his command, for the excellent work they performed in keeping the crowds of people from crushing in on the children and otherwise clearing and keeping order in the approaches to the Laval Monument.

Banquet at the Palace.

Last evening a banquet was held at the Archbishop's Palace. Covers were laid for three hundred guests, which included the visiting archbishops, bishops, and the clergy of the diocese, also the brother, three sisters, aunts, nephews and nieces of Mgr. Begin.

There were no other guests. It was a clerical and family dinner and the social part was formal and general.

Workmen's Evening.

The working classes' demonstration last evening in honor of Mgr. Begin was in every respect a huge success, both as regards the number of workmen who turned out and the immense crowd present at the Laval Monument to witness the demonstration. The Archbishop's Palace and Laval monument were beautifully illuminated for the occasion and as those taking part arrived on the scene, they immediately took up their respective positions in front and on both sides of the monument.

The first to arrive were the Zouaves, who were soon followed by the St. Roch's detachment, who were preceded by the Garde Champlain, accompanied by both their bands. The latter were followed by the St. Sauveur delegation, several thousand strong, preceded by the Lamblotte band and the Garde de Salaberry, the latter also being accompanied by their bands. Then followed the residents of Jacques Cartier, St. Jean Baptiste, Limouin and Levis, who were also accompanied by bands.

When all the representatives had taken up their positions, Mgr. Begin took his seat on the platform, having Sir Charles Fitzpatrick on his right and Sir F. Langelier and Mgr. Stagin on his left, while all the other seats were occupied by the prelates and clergymen.

When His Lordship had taken his seat, Mr. Langlois, M. P. P. for St. Sauveur, read an address to Mgr. Begin, on behalf of the working classes, His Lordship making a very suitable reply, thanking the working classes for the magnificent demonstration tendered him.

Mgr. Roy followed in a very eloquent address, which was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause and at the conclusion of his remarks, several hymns and patriotic songs were rendered, the whole being brought to a conclusion by the singing of the National Anthem.

At the close of the demonstration a beautiful display of fireworks was witnessed by the thousands who crowded around the Laval Monument and Dufferin Terrace, the R. C. G. A. band performing a splendid programme of music during the evening on that promenade.

This evening the Zouaves will present an address to Mgr. Begin at the Laval monument.

amendment, that the Canadian Northern Railway rates be not higher than rates for similar service on American roads. This was rejected 80 to 37.

Hon. George Graham moved the third amendment, requiring the Canadian Northern Railway to give running rights to other roads over its British Columbia line. This was lost on division.

W. M. German, of Welland, then moved an amendment that instead of granting a subsidy, that the Canadian Northern Railway should receive a twenty-year loan. The Speaker ruled this out of order. Mr. German appealed from the ruling of the chair, but it was sustained, 82 to 36, Mr. Lapointe, of Montreal, voting with the government, and Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, announced that had he not been paired he also would have voted with the government.

The vote was then taken on the third reading of the bill sustaining it 82 to 35, a majority of 47.

The House next proceeded to consideration of the bill providing for the loan of fifteen millions to the Grand

3 MILLIONS FOR WIDER EDUCATION

ROYAL COMMISSION ADVISES DOMINION DEVELOPMENT FUND FOR PURPOSE.

Ottawa, June 4.—A Dominion development fund of $3,000,000, to be provided annually for a period of ten years and to be divided among the provinces on a basis of population is the outstanding recommendation contained in the report of the Royal Commission on industrial training and technical education presented today. This is for the promotion of higher technical education and industrial training. For the elementary schools teaching manual training, domestic science, etc., a grant of $350,000 a year for ten years is recommended, the division among the provinces to be on a basis of population. For the carrying on of this work seven distinct fields of effort are suggested by the commission as follows:

- 1.—The service in each province of an adequate supply of persons (teachers, instructors, demonstrators, executive officers) properly qualified to carry on industrial training and technical training and technical education.
- 2.—The establishment or extension and maintenance of classes, courses, schools or other institutions or means for industrial training and technical education.
- 3.—The provision of suitable and

Trunk Pacific. The Liberals were to the fore with more amendments. Hon. Frank Oliver proposed one calling for equality of rates east and west. This was lost on division, after the Premier had declared that as an amendment it had neither merit nor justification.

W. A. Buchanan, Medicine Hat, moved an amendment that the rates be on a basis of equality with rates on American roads, and this was also lost on division.

On the third reading of the bill, Mr. Oliver again proposed his amendment and once again it was lost. Mr. Borden asked if Mr. Oliver had ever considered that the Grand Trunk Pacific has no lines east and west, and could not, therefore, prepare schedules equalizing rates east and west. The Edmonton member sat silent.

Ottawa, June 4.—The correspondence in connection with the retirement of General MacKenzie as chief-of-staff, was tabled last night. It is brief and colorless.

General MacKenzie presents his resignation in regular style. The Minister's reply states that it is "Regretfully received." There is nothing else and the wild stories in Liberal newspapers of "hot" correspondence between the Minister and Chief-of-Staff, amount to nothing.

adequate appliances, apparatus and equipment for teaching purposes, but not including school buildings, furniture or consumable supplies.

4.—The provision of scholarships to equalize opportunities to young people and other workers to profit by classes, courses, schools or other institutions.

5.—The provision of experts with experience in industrial training and technical education whose services for counsel would be available to provincial and local authorities.

6.—The service of central institutions when and where required to supplement the work carried on by the several provincial and local development authorities either by providing and maintaining or by assisting in providing and maintaining each central institutions.

7.—The promotion of scientific industrial and housekeeping research and the diffusion of knowledge therefrom.

To carry out the work throughout the provinces and the Dominion as a whole the commission believes that special machinery will have to be provided and recommends six distinct organizations as follows:

- 1.—Local urban industrial development boards.
- 2.—Local rural development boards.
- 3.—Provincial development councils.
- 4.—Provincial development commissions.
- 5.—A Dominion development conference.
- 6.—A Dominion development commission.

Preserve Provincial Control.

The commission emphasizes the importance of adopting a plan which will preserve provincial control, encourage local initiative and develop local responsibility. The importance of having the manufacturing and commercial interests of any locality ready and able to co-operate in carrying out the work is also dwelt upon.

After their investigation of elementary education in relation to industrial training and technical education the commission is of the opinion that while all children to the age of 14 years should receive the benefits of elementary general education up to at least the standards provided by the school system of the place or province where they live; that, after 12 years of age, for children whose parents expect or desire them to follow manual occupations, provision should therefore, be made in the schools of Canada, for training of the senses and muscles, more and better drawing, more physical culture, nature study and experimental science, pre-vocational work, more and better singing, organized and supervised play and games.

The members of the commission, which was appointed in May, 1910, are: James W. Robertson, chairman; Hon. John Neville Armstrong; Rev. George Bryce, Gaspard De Serres, Ernest Belanger, Gilbert M. Murray, David Forsyth and James Simpson.

"Instant Postum is good stuff. I sleep better, smile more, and miss my indigestion."

A level teaspoonful of Instant Postum in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

Postum comes in two forms.

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water.

Royal Academy Exhibition Turns Out Uninteresting

Mainly a Display of Portraits and Most of These of Persons Totally Unknown in Society or to the Ordinary Spectator and by Unknown Artists.

TWO "PROBLEMS" BY MR. COLLIER AND MR. BUNDY

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 24.

LET it be said, at once that the one hundred and forty-fifth exhibition of the Royal Academy of Arts at Burlington House is not a popular academy. That was what the newspapers said of last year's academy, but this one is even less popular. A mere glance at the walls makes one wonder what is happening to English art. It is said that there is a slump in art nowadays; that all the money available is being spent on the acquirement of old masters, which are now realizing such fabulous prices. It is true that there are many fine examples of the work of such well known portrait painters and landscape artists and subject painters as Professor Sir H. von Herkner, Sir P. Burne-Jones, Mr. William Llewellyn, Mr. J. J. Shannon, Sir E. J. Poynter, Mr. John Lavery, John S. Sargent, Sir Luke Fildes, Mr. Joseph Farquharson, the Hon. John Collier and others, who are old friends, and some of whom are newcomers; but it is on the whole a most uninteresting exhibition.

It is mainly an exhibition of portraits—portraits of distinguished personages and beautiful women by noted artists, but in a great measure portraits of persons who are totally unknown in society or to the ordinary spectator, by unknown artists, so that one marvels how they ever got a place on these walls.

On the other hand it is perhaps good for some of the less known landscape and subject painters that there are so many uninteresting portraits, for it is a pleasure to turn from there to look at pictures which under other circumstances might have passed almost unnoticed.

To take the portraits first. Interest will naturally centre on the much talked of picture by Mr. John Lavery of the King and Queen with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary at Buckingham Palace. It was expected that this would prove the feature of this year's exhibition. To say it is a disappointment is putting it mildly. Some may say they recognize the King in the group, but it would be hard to see any likeness in either the Queen or the Prince and Princess. On the other hand, the portrait of the King by Mr. Arthur S. Cope, painted for the United Service Club, is an admirable portrait, perfectly lifelike and a credit to the painter. That by Mr. William Llewellyn of the Queen, also for the United Service Club, depicting her Majesty in court dress, with a tiara of diamonds, is, however, only a moderately good presentation and is hardly likely to find many admirers.

Of the portraitists none is so successful as Professor Herkner. He is represented by a half dozen portraits of interesting well known persons, including Sir Berkeley Moynihan, F. R. C. S., with hands stuck in characteristic fashion in the pockets of his reefer jacket; Lord Shuttleworth of Cawthorpe, admirable in the strong expression of the mobile face; Mr. Justice Hargreave Deane, Viscount Morley, in his doctor's robes; Dr. Arthur Hertz and Sir Frederick Macmillan, interesting too, is Prince Olaf of Norway, by Mr. Herbert Sidney, a bright, sunny picture of the popular little Prince of Norway that brings a pleased smile to the spectator.

In the portraiture of women, none is more successful than Mr. Solomon J. Solomon. Those of Mrs. Colman-Brooks and Mrs. Norman Faulkner, of Melbourne, are well-nigh perfect specimens of this art. Both are clad alike in black velvet dresses, with purple scarves thrown lightly over their shoulders, both are posed alike, leaning on the pedestals of pillars with a leafy background. Sir E. Burne-Jones is represented by two portraits—Sir Edward Elgar and Mr. Richard Ward—both by Mr. J. J. Shannon adds to his great reputation by five portraits, notably Mrs. E. Wynne Chapman, in white and blue spotted muslin dress, standing under a tree. Her smile is charming; and the animated features of Florence, daughter of Mr. C. W. Henderson, a three-quarter length, are beautifully portrayed, but Lady Anstey, Leger and her son, the child leaning over his mother's knees, is one of the most attractive picture portraits in the exhibition.

Mr. John Lavery is more successful with his portrait of Lady Gwendolen Spencer Churchill than in his royal group; and a whole lot of mountain scenes, "The Summit of the Jungfrau," and "Japanese Switzerland," show him at his best.

Lord Francis Paget, D. D., Bishop of Exeter, is shown by Mr. Sydney P. Hill, who shows as Chancellor of the "Order of the Flower," and two other fine, strongly coloured portraits by the same artist are General Sir Dighton Probyn and the Rev. Dr. Augustus Maclean, Canon and prebendary of Salisbury Cathedral. Bernard, son of Mr. H. L. C. Brassey, M. P., by Mr. Ralph Pencock, is an admirable picture portrait. The boy is seen in white sweater and knicker and bare limbs, standing by a stream with fishing rod, apparently cut by himself from a tree; and Mr. George Ford is represented by only one, Lord Walsingham, High Steward of Cambridge University.

Another interesting portrait is that of Sir Frederick A. Eaton, secretary of the Royal Academy, seated at his desk in his office, by Sir E. J. Poynter, who has also a portrait of Sir Edward White, and three other works all in strong contrast to each other. One is "The Vision of Endymion," a reclining figure hidden in the dark forest background, and the "vision" a nude figure descending in a circle of blue light in the background; another is "At Low Tide," a pretty figure of a nude girl sitting on a rock in a cavern; and the third is an exquisite water color drawing entitled "May Day on the Lake."

The portraits of Mr. John S. Sargent, which in past years were features of the academy, are now absent. He is now contenting himself with life studies. Of these "Spanish Gypsies," a small canvas of a scene in Spain, with a group of figures resting by the side of a mountain road, sheltering from the heat of the afternoon sun, is one of the attractions of Gallery III, where the majority of the most interesting pictures are hung.

Among other of Mr. Llewellyn's portraits besides the royal picture is an excellent three-quarter length of the Viscountess Maitland, in white satin empire dress, leaning on a pedestal, over which is thrown a blue cloak, the Lady Harlech and the Hon. Mrs. Maitland; and Sir Fildes is represented by two, Viscountess Downe and Mrs. Sofer Whitburn.

The feature of gallery VI. is a life size equestrian portrait of Earl Roberts, by Adrian Jones, in which the distinguished general is depicted sitting on his charger on the top of a kopje, at the time of the South African war, while underneath his khaki-clad troop are seen filling past.

Among the pictures by which one pleases to linger longest is the problem picture by the Hon. John Collier, "A Fallen Idol." This distinguished artist, who has a story to tell in every picture he paints, with a puzzling underlying mystery, here depicts a young woman on her knees on the floor of a library, clinging to the knees of her bewildered husband. She has apparently just made a confession, and the question to be answered is, will he pardon her? As in all Mr. Collier's problem pictures, the question might be answered in more than one way, and "A Fallen Idol" is likely to be the most talked of picture in this year's Academy. The man's eyes seem to express at once amazement, grief, anger and pain, and the softness of a love not yet quenched. His left hand covers his wife's but, half clenched, it does not seem to denote relenting. Nor does the slight frown on the forehead, nor the strong firmly-cut lips. Will he forgive her? It is a great picture.

Another interesting problem picture is a large canvas by Mr. Edgar Bundy, which occupies the place of honor in Gallery VIII. It is entitled "Finance," and makes an interesting study, sure to create much discussion during the season. At the centre of a long table in a brilliantly lit dining room sits a young man in evening dress, listening to the arguments of a crowd of finely dressed vamps. Every face is a study in itself, every face, except that of the young victim, a study of the vilest wickedness. One stretches across the table as if to clutch the final argument; another looks confidently over the back of his chair, with a smile of mingled satisfaction and contempt.

Still another sad story in paint is told by Mr. Alfred Priest's "Out of It," in Gallery VII. The scene is a sort of copple, and stretched upon the brushwood lies the body of a beautiful woman in evening dress and jewels, her calm, peaceful face turned up to the moonlight. Is it suicide, or murder, or what is the cause? It is a most effective and beautifully finished picture, and though possessing no novelty beyond the strange lighting effect cannot fail to attract.

"The Honeymoon," by Talbot Hughes, is a happier subject. Under the moonlight on a terrace sit a happy couple in evening dress, the girl playing a zither to her husband lover. It is a pretty picture; the honeymoon has evidently just begun. A picture of historical interest and well handled is "William Penn Receiving the Charter of Pennsylvania from Charles II.," by Mr. Allan Stewart.

Studies in the nude are few, but undoubtedly an exquisite work is "Spring's Awakening," by Miss Henrietta Rae, on a bed of white flowers, emblem of purity, in the heart of a wood, recline three young girls, with lovely, innocent faces upturned to the morning light, the dawn of the first day of spring. It is a charming idyll, charmingly expressed, easily understood.

Not a picture in the whole of the exhibition bears a more fitting title than Mr. W. Frank Calderon's "A Lady of Quality." A magnificent borzois reclines on a white silk rug, with its head and paws drooping over the edge of a couch. She is a magnificent animal, "a lady of quality." Indeed, Mr. Britton Riviere's "The Glove" is another delightful study of a dog, a collie, standing over the dropped glove of his master. And here you have another picture that asks a question. What does it mean? Has the collie's master thrown down his glove to an adversary and is the dog daring him to pick it up?

Nor are there many religious pictures, though it is impossible to miss "Hosanna," by Mr. Horace Van Ruit, depicting the entry of Christ into Jerusalem riding upon an ass. There is nothing at all original in the treatment of the story, but the crowds thronging the walls and in front of the procession seem like figures and full of motion. "The Carpenter's Shop," by Edward Scott, is meant for the young Christ, with Joseph and Mary, but it is not a very inspiring illustration of the scene.

A simply delightful little picture is "Motherhood," by W. Percy Day; the joy on the young mother's face as she bends over her first-born is a revelation.

COURT OF LOUIS XIV. TO BE SEEN AGAIN AT LONDON COSTUME BALL

Historic Personages to Appear for Charity in Dress of 1680 at Albert Hall.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 24.

NOW it is expected that the Versailles costume ball, at the Albert Hall, which will be the biggest thing of that sort during the season, will eclipse the Shakespeare ball, out of which $50,000 was cleared. As far as possible the costumes will belong to 1680, the year in which the Dauphin, the son of Louis XIV., was married.

"It was the most magnificent period of costume that ever was," Mr. Herbert Norris, the well known authority on historical and theatrical costume, said to an interviewer, "as regards both men and women. The men went in for gorgeous embroideries and brocades, and the seams of their coats were sewn in pearls and other jewels. They were tremendous periwigs—very uncomfortable, I should imagine, for a hot night in June."

Groups are being made up to represent historic personages at the various courts of Europe about 1680. The most splendid group will be that of Louis XIV. himself, arranged by Lady Paget.

The part of Louis will be taken by Count Saumarez-Eaton, a young Russian nobleman, who has been at Oxford. The Dauphin will be another Oxford man, Prince Paul of Serbia, the nephew of King Peter.

A very interesting quartet will be Racine, a part to be taken by Mr. F. E. Smith, K. C., M. P.; La Fontaine of "The Fables," by Mr. A. W. Mason, novelist; Mignard, the painter, by Mr. Benjamin Franklin, a descendant of Benjamin Franklin and stepson of Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., and Molière.

At midnight, Louis, attended by his court and attended by his bodyguard of Swiss Guards, will hold a reception of other sovereigns of the time, who will be attended by their respective courts. The English court is being arranged by Lady March, whose husband is a direct descendant of Charles II. Lady Droggheda is arranging the court of the Great Mogul, Lady Garvagh, a Dane herself by birth, that of Denmark and Norway; the Duchess of Somerset that of Spain, Lady Alington and Lady Maud Warrender that of Russia, and the Countess Blucher von Waldstadt that of Brandenburg, the State that has since expanded into Prussia.

Count Blucher, who will represent the German Emperor's ancestor, the Great Elector, is a grandson of the famous Marshal who helped Wellington to overthrow Napoleon at Waterloo. Another gentleman who will be in their court is a son of Prince Biliow, formerly German Imperial Chancellor.

The Dutch court will be almost exclusively composed of descendants of the Dutchmen who came to England with William of Orange. The two best known families of the lineage are the Cavendishes, Bentincks, whose head is the Duke of Portland, and the Keppels, whose head is the Earl of Albemarle.

The ball is for the benefit of the charities of Mr. Thomas Atkins, the gentlemen whose forefathers did their best to prevent the great Louis from being the dominant overlord of Europe.

These newly contemplated itineraries will probably be arranged for the early part of next year, and the royal headquarters will most likely be Lambton Castle, the Earl of Durham's place, and the Earl of Hereford's residence, near Leeds.

Name flowers are often employed for dinner table and house decoration. Princess Pleas is called "Daisy," and her table is apt to be dressed with marguerites. Lady Hood, wife of Viscount Hood, whose name is Primrose, favors primroses. Lady Bath, the Lady Langtry of old days, once had her table done with water lilies laid on a sheet of looking glass, and another Lily scored a success with pyramids of ice, white biscuit china and big white lilies—a cool effect when the thermometer soared to the nineties. When Lord Rosebery gave a ball in Berkeley square, the ballroom, sitting out rooms and staircase were decorated with red and pink notho roses—primroses were not obtainable in February. One of two women who have the name of Rose use roses in winter and summer, and a certain popular girl in society whose name is Ivy had a tea at which the tables were decorated with trails of ivy. A Myrtle and a Freesia used their name flowers for the same purpose.

Among the other exhibitors will be Mr. Sydney Marsh, who will show a model, about four feet high, of his equestrian statue of Lord Kitchener for Calcutta, as well as three smaller works: Mr. F. E. Muntz, oil painting of his "Danesfield Stonewall," Mrs. Amy J. Beale, photographs of her champion Shetland ponies, and an oil painting by G. Gascoigne of her bay Shetland stallion Ronald; Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mrs. D. F. Wrangham, her oil painting of Mr. Wickham-Boynton's thoroughbred stallion King's Courtship, and several other artists, including Count René de Beaumont, water colors; Louis D'Aguiar, bronze statuettes; Raoul Philippe, water colors, and Felix Desgranges, oil paintings.

Colonel Hall Walker, M. P., has promised eighteen works of famous animals by such well known artists of the horse as Linwood Palmer, Ernest Adams and Captain Adrian Jones. Captain Jones will exhibit a number of his own works, including figures of Perseus and the Gorgon, and a bronze of Zinfandel in training, a thoroughbred which is the property of Mr. Fagan, of the British (Natural History) Museum, Mr. Walter Winans is exhibiting seven oil paintings by Thomas Blinks, besides some of his well known exhibits in horses, like Lord

Substitute for Petrol Now Near Discovery in London

Imperial College of Science and Technology, Which Resents Being so Little Known, Is at Work Quietly on Schemes That Have a Far Reaching Effect on World's Industries.

DELVING INTO SECRETS OF PLANTS AND INSECTS

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 24.

THERE is a truism that Londoners know nothing about London. Not one cockney could name correctly all the stone palaces that lie around the Imperial Institute at South Kensington. Most persons regard them vaguely as adjuncts to what is equally vaguely known as the "South Kensington Museum."

One of these institutions revolted the other day and held a reception specially for the purpose of making its objects and achievements known. It was the Imperial College of Science and Technology, which links together, and in a sense, incorporates the old Royal College of Science, the Royal College of Mines and the City and Guilds (Engineering) College—and is itself a unit of the University of London.

In the Imperial College they are cultivating the germs of many a business industry. The adoption, for instance, of an effective substitute for petrol will have an enormous effect on the automobile and many other industries. In the laboratories of the Imperial College of Science this problem is being brought daily nearer solution.

While the Stock Exchange was indulging in financial hysterics about rubber the college was carrying on researches of the most vital kind, to insure the preservation and productivity of rubber trees. One result of this has been an enormous demand for graduates of the college on rubber plantations.

Another room is given up to the vivisection of plants, often with surprising results. The college shows every day how the sciences are interlocked. Mining engineers, for example, come here to know what woods are strongest, and how to preserve props from rotting.

Other, they couldn't have been married. They were so interested in each other.

"Of course, we were interested in each other. We hadn't met for two weeks, and had all sorts of things to talk about. Another delightful thing which I should miss if we lived in the traditional way, is the letter that comes at least once a day. I know husbands and wives who have never had the pleasure of writing to one another since their wedding. I do not say that the system would suit all persons, but I am convinced that those of highly developed temperament cannot stand the strain of continued intimacy. There are others, of course, who have not the slightest conception of genuine romantic love and never will have it. My husband is a philosopher, and it is absolutely essential to him that he should be alone during a great deal of his time, while I am a social being. Think how absurd if he were always imploring me to stay at home, or I were constantly dragging him out!"

"I believe that each man and wife should work out his or her own scheme of marriage to suit their individual temperaments and without regard to present conventions. Look at the married women of to-day. Look at their faces—no hopes, no happiness. Many of them have as low an idea of love that one wonders how they can endure existence. They look on it as a sort of disease that has to be got through somehow or other. The best things—really the only things—in life are faith, and work, and love."

"We began with the idea that we would see very little of one another," she said. "We were determined not to lapse into the peevish or off-hand 'Yes, dear,' and 'No, dear,' of the usual married couple. The result, after twenty-two years of marriage, is that we find ourselves still eager to meet as often as possible."

"I have my quarters in town, and my husband has his. Then I have a little cottage in Cornwall, and he has one in Middlesex. We invite each other for little holidays and get the greatest possible enjoyment out of them. On one occasion we were travelling to Cornwall together and attracted the attention of some others in the same compartment, who afterward, wondering who we were, described us to a friend. 'Oh, they must have been the Havelock Ellises,' said our friend, recognizing our description. 'Oh, no,' said the

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building, Telephone 1227.
 (Canadian Press Service.)
 New York, June 4.—Liquidation on a large scale, together with a series of bear drivers, caused a severe disturbance in the stock market during the first half of today's session. A rally then occurred, and trading became quieter, with a decided improvement in prices. The volume of business was much in excess of recent averages, amounting to more than 500,000 shares during the first two hours, when the market was most active.
 The initial downward impulse came from London, where American securities were depressed substantially in some instances before the opening here. With the beginning of business the market was flooded with selling orders, and quotations were forced down rapidly in all directions. Of 187 stocks dealt in during the day, about 700 reached new low levels for the year. In some cases the prices were the lowest since the panic of 1907.
 Selling for foreign account was again a prominent factor in depressing the market. London offered the international stocks freely, disposing of 25,000 or more shares here on balance. Another unsettling factor was the unofficial report from Washington that further proceedings against the American Tobacco Company and the Standard Oil Company were being contemplated by the administration. The tobacco stocks broke badly, American Tobacco dropping 17 points. Denial from Washington that any immediate trust prosecutions were in prospect had a good deal to do with steadying the market later, and during the afternoon prices gradually improved. The upturn seemed to be due largely to short covering, however, and could not be said to represent a change in sentiment.
 The further decline in stocks today led to the calling of loans, and while the effect upon the money market has not been pronounced, bankers predicted stiffer rates before the end of the month. Time money was somewhat firmer today.
 The bond market was weak, with declines of 1 to 2 points in some cases. Total sales, par value, $2,850,000.
 United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK MARKET LETTER

Received over the private wire of M. L. Dohan, broker, Dominion Building, St. Peter street. Phone 4748.
 New York, June 4.—There was further improvement in the market in the late afternoon, although the rank and file of speculators were still bearish, the few who had bought for a turn early in the day having closed out their commitments on small advances.
 Western Union sold off on a few transactions following publication of news that the United States district court at Omaha had refused to grant an injunction asked by the company to prevent the state of Nebraska from enforcing reduction of telegraphic tolls within its boundaries. Only in a few cases were the recoveries sufficient to bring prices better at the closing levels. New York Central was the first of important issues to regain their early losses and several other prominent stocks followed suit, but right at the close there was another selling movement which caused losses of nearly half of the early gains. From the way the market closed tonight look for further irregularity during the early trading tomorrow, which should be followed by a rally of one or two points in the late trading. We continue to advise our clients not to get too bullish on this market, and if you must buy take quick profits as we look for a further shake out before the bull movement sets in. Total sales 815,700 shares.

"MIKE" MURPHY, TRAINER, DEAD

FAMOUS COACH OF CHAMPION ATHLETES SUCCUMBS TO LONG-STANDING DISEASE.

Philadelphia, June 4.—Michael C.
Murphy, famous as a developer of athletes, died this afternoon. Death was due to a complication of diseases.
Never a robust man, "Mike" Murphy had been practically dying for the past fifteen years. About eight years ago he was at death's door, but he pulled through and was later able to render great service in his chosen calling.

Murphy was born in Natick, Mass., in 1860, and early in life became prominent as a trainer of athletes. He had charge of the American teams at three Olympic meets, the last being the victorious team of last year.

Many of the best college athletes in America had been developed by Murphy. He had charge of the combined teams of the New York Athletic Club and the University of Pennsylvania, which represented America in the Olympic games in Paris in 1900; the American team to the London Olympics in 1908, and the American to the games in Stockholm in 1912. Murphy was also the trainer of the New York Athletic team which defeated the London Athletic Club in a dual track meet in 1895.

Brilliant Career.

During his career Murphy was a follower of all kinds of athletics. He became physical director of Yale in 1887 and since then had been considered the greatest coach of track men and trainer of men in other branches of sport that America has ever known.

In 1890 he accepted the offer of the Detroit Athletic Club to become its trainer, but after three years went back to Yale. Later he came to the University of Pennsylvania. After four years he went back to Yale, but returned to U. of P. in 1905 and has been there ever since. He never had a team finish worse than third in the intercollegiate track competition, and for five years straight he won the championship for Pennsylvania.

Before he was 30 years old he became the trainer of John L. Sullivan.
After one year with the great pugilist Murphy conceived the idea of finding a man able to defeat Sullivan. He searched for a year through the wilds of Canada and the lumber camps of the great northwest, but he failed to find the man.

AVIATOR ATWOOD RENEWES ATTEMPT

Detroit, Mich., June 4.—Harry Atwood, aviator, who has been at Amherstburg, Ont., since he was picked up in Lake Erie last Saturday night, started today in his hydro-aeroplane
in an attempt to fly to Detroit, a distance of about 35 miles.

ATTACK MILITIA IN THE SENATE

scheme for Canada in harmony with the British military system and to see that it was carried out the government had secured the services of General MacKenzie, Major G. Paley and Colonel Crowe. Through some failure on the part of the present administration to carry out the plan, these gentlemen were leaving for England. He thought it a pity that this link between the imperial forces and the militia of Canada should be broken. Senator Bostock also called attention to the fact that the Strathcona Horse had been deprived of their barracks and were scattered throughout Winnipeg without proper accommodation.

Senator Mason said the increase of militia expenditure by Canada was begun by the late government and militiamen were grateful to them for
it. The system of training had been greatly improved then and since. He knew from experience that the money spent on militia was not being thrown away.

When Is An Emergency.

Senator Daniel noted that as Senator Power had declared that war might break out any time, it was an emergency. In view of this how could Senator Power justify the vote he had cast against the emergency naval act? The cost of militia in Canada had increased largely because the rate of pay had increased.

Senator Watson maintained that half the money spent on militia was wasted. There was too much for gold lace and spurs.

Senator Kerr said that no public money was spent on gold lace and spurs. The officers who wore them had to buy them. Militia officers of this country were under very heavy personal expense for the upkeep of militia. Every man of them had to spend money out of his own pocket
on his regiment or his company.

Sir George Ross noted that figures indicated a considerable increase in expenditure upon militia without a corresponding increase in the number of men under training. It apparently had been the policy inaugurated by the late government to train considerable numbers of officers. He thought that nothing was more essential to the creation and maintenance of an effective militia than a good supply of capable officers.

Spirit of Defence Alive.

Hon. Mr. Loughheed said that Canada had been so busy with commerce and industry that in the past it had not given as much attention to defence as it would give in the future.
The country had enjoyed a feeling of security which it was hardly justified in assuming in view of the very limited extent of its defence preparations. The spirit of defence was alive not only in Canada but in other countries of the world, and the Dominion must be prepared to make still larger expenditures on account of defence than have been made in the past. He held that it was a good thing to interest the people in questions of defence, as it greatly stimulated their patriotism. This closed the debate.

Senator Watson read a report that Sir James Whitney had reflected on the Senate for having killed the highways bill, the agricultural aid bill and the T. & N. O. subsidy. Senator Watson said that Sir James was wrong.
The Senate had not killed the highways bill, but had amended and made it for the benefit of Ontario as well as for other provinces. It had shown confidence in Sir James Whitney's government by declaring it should spend the road money assigned to Ontario. The Senate had neither killed nor amended the agricultural aid bill, and the T. & N. O. subsidy bill had not yet reached the Senate.

GRAECO-BULGARIAN SITUATION NOT SAFE.

Sofia, June 4.—Forty-five thousand Greeks who were planning to seize Kavala, on the Aegean, are practically in the hands of the Bulgarian army.

The Greek Minister in Sofia, is trying earnestly to come to an understanding with the Bulgarian government, which replies:

"We did all in our power to be loyal to our allies. The matter now rests with the General Staff."

HOME HELPS.

When gasoline fails to remove the stain from woollen goods, try a little vinegar. Molasses will remove grass stains. Apply on stain and let stand about half an hour, then wash as usual.

When using towels wrung from hot water, it will save the hands if one uses a potato ricer. Put the towel into the ricer and press as potatoes.
This provides very hot towels.

Cheese cloth makes very inexpensive dust cloths; they may be laundered easily, also.

AVIATOR RISKS LIFE FOR OTHERS

HYDRO-AEROPLANE DRIVER
RUNS MACHINE INTO A WALL TO AVOID CROWD

Kingston, Ont., June 4.—Owing to the presence of mind of a Curtiss hydro-aeroplane operator, Mr. John Lucky, a number of lives were undoubtedly saved here on the King's birthday. Lucky, after a flight over the harbor in the hydro-aeroplane, steered toward Emily street, which runs to the water's edge, and was his proper landing place. As he did so the big holiday crowd filled the roadway and prevented him from landing.
He made a second attempt with the same result. Upon a third trial he shouted to the people to clear the way, and shot toward the street, but the crowd, seemingly unaware of the great danger, still blocked the roadway.

When Lucky saw that he was sure to strike down many of the crowd, he steered the big machine into a stone wall surrounding the Folger residence at the foot of Emily street. The resulting impact was so great that the shock could be heard several blocks away. Not only was the hydro-aeroplane crumpled up and hopelessly destroyed, but a more serious feature was the accident which befell two boys who were in the path of the big craft. These were George Dawson and Norman Thompson. The Dawson boy had his right leg almost severed when the machine struck him, and it was found necessary to amputate the lacerated limb
below the knee. The other lad, Thompson, sustained a fracture of the right thigh bone.

When Lucky saw the boys in his path he sprang out of the machine and vainly tried to push the Dawson boy out of the way, after shouting a warning, but his efforts were unavailing.

It is the opinion of many citizens that Lucky took his own life into his hands when he deliberately steered into the wall.

In the afternoon, at the fair grounds, before 10,000 people, a monoplane was left to entertain. A race between this form of air craft and the shattered aeroplane was necessarily cancelled.

BOY OF NINETEEN DIES

IN N. Y. ELECTRIC CHAIR

Auburn, N. Y., June 4.—Michael
Gosinski, the Buffalo boy who killed Patrolman George M. Claus, in November last, died in the electric chair today. The prison officers declared he was the coolest murderer ever held in the prison. Without bravado and with a prayer on his lips, he walked resignedly to the chair, a slender,
blue-eyed, blonde youth.

"Tell mother not to cry when they bring me home. Tell all to be brave.
I am sorry I shot Mr. Claus, and know I should pay the penalty. I am happy," he declared to his sister, as she bade him farewell last evening.

Gosinski left a touching letter to his mother. It was written in excellent English with a firm hand, and made arrangements for his own funeral.

PLAN BRITISH COALING STATION IN HAWAII

Honolulu, June 4.—Steps have been already taken by Great Britain for the establishment of a coal station in the Hawaiian Islands, by which vessels may be supplied coming and going to the Panama canal.

The British freighter Genartney has sailed from Cardiff with coal for Honolulu, and a number of other steamers are to follow. Whether New South Wales or British Columbia will be the base of supply for this new Hawaiian depot is still uncertain, but British Columbia is much more convenient. The establishment of such a coal depot will be a great help to freight and passenger carriers by way of Panama.

BULGARIAN CABINET'S RESIGNATION IS IN.

London, June 4.—News of the resignation of the Bulgarian Cabinet was received in London late last night.
If true, it is likely to serve the ends of peace. Dr. Danef, the Bulgarian peace delegate, on his arrival at Sofia is expected to reconstitute the cabinet.
Probably his hasty summons home yesterday was for that purpose, for the fall of the Guechoff cabinet was not unexpected. It was thought that the new ministry will consist of a coalition representing all parties.

The agreement for the establishment of a neutral zone between the Greeks and the Bulgars at Solomika removes the tinder which was liable at any time to cause a conflagration
there. The neutral line is purely provisional and is not intended to influence the future delimitation of the frontiers.

CONGREGATIONALISTS IN FAVOR OF CHURCH UNION

Toronto, June 4.—Listening to reports that tell the story of the most prosperous year in the church's history of large increases in membership, in receipts and disbursements,
yet planning for even a bigger harvest in the next twelve months, the one hundred delegates comprising the seventh annual conference of the Congregational Union of Canada, which opened today in Northern Congregational Church, are earnestly praying and awaiting with eager expectancy the consummation of church union. At all the sessions today organic union with the Presbyterians and Methodists was the topic of most general reference and in a number of addresses in which it was the keynote struck, the conference manifested its whole-hearted approval
by enthusiastic applause.
