BRITISH ANTI-JAP FEELING GROWS

Shortening British Temper Apparent At Repeated Jap Moves

British Press Almost United in Demanding that Aggravated Instances of Japanese Hostility Be Answered by More Than Mere Protests and Resultant Excuses—Urge Strengthening of British Forces in Far East.

London, January 8.—Signs of shortening British temper over the repeated Japanese invasions of British rights in China was evident today in press reaction to the attack on two British policemen in Shanghai.

The Yorkshire Post (Conservative) referred to the case as "insolent maltreatment by Japanese soldiers who are little more than armed hooligans" and concluded, "It is impossible that these aggravated instances of Japanese hostility should continue to be answered merely by protests and the resultant excuses, accepted without so much as verbatim publication throughout Japan."

"If there are not sufficient forces in the Far East to protect our nationals they should be strengthened without further delay," the influential provincial organ declared.

The Manchester Guardian (Liberal), referring to Japan's demands to the municipal council of the International Settlement of Shanghai, said they were a direct challenge to the western powers which should not be lightly dismissed.

"Even if the western powers do not care to fight for their own interests they can at least champion the unfortunate wretches under their protection," the Guardian added.

The Daily Telegraph thoroughly disliked the "increasingly aggressive" attitude of the Japanese toward the western powers although we have no doubt that polite apologies and polite promises will follow a polite Japanese inquiry into yesterday's events.

The Daily Express (Independent) predicted diplomatic relations with Japan might be severed and said the "usual apology" undoubtedly would cross any British protest.

The Daily Herald (Labor) urged imposition of "economic restraints" upon Japan, saying, "Labor asks that peaceful governments should at once discuss ways and means of withdrawing from Japan the means of war which they directly and indirectly now provide."

The Times did not comment.

LACE PROMINENT IN LINGERIE THIS YEAR

Paris, Jan. 8.—Lace in every description is used in the lingerie of 1938.

Lavish insets of lace, lace edging gathered flounces on nightgowns, need not place lingerie in the tulle-trimmed price class. Recent successful experiments have yielded inexpensive substitutes for the finest lace.

The exquisite motifs of Richelieu point-lace, of Venetian and Mechlin, have been reproduced for lingerie in the middle price range.

Favored materials for lingerie today are feather-light; George crepe, attenuated muslin, most of the voiles, crepe de chine and satin are used for nightgowns and negligees.

Thirst, Hunger And Cold Force Surrender Of Teruel Garrison

Two Thousand Ragged Insurgent Soldiers, Their Women And Children Capitulate To Government Forces After Standing For Seventeen Days Against Guns, Fire And Dynamite

Madrid, Jan. 8.—Thirst, cold and hunger in embattled Teruel today forced the surrender of more than two thousand ragged insurgent soldiers and their weakened women and children.

For seventeen days they stood against Government guns, fire and dynamite in guerrilla warfare, from building to building through the narrow and twisting streets of the old provincial capital, 160 miles east of Madrid.

Reinforced insurgent troops outside the city fought in vain to come to their rescue, and they bowed at last to the hardship of siege against their hideouts in Asuncion Hospital and the dynamite-wrecked Santa Clara Church.

The unsuccessful rescuing force itself was encountering trouble—230 insurgents were captured during the battle about Muela de Teruel, outside Teruel, the Government said.

The capitulation was in sharp contrast to a previous dramatic siege—when about 1,700 insurgent troops and their kin were rescued by comrades after nearly ten weeks of Government siege against their fort.

HOPE DIMS FOR SAFETY OF U.S. BOMBER'S CREW

Thirty-Five Battleships Joined by 284 Navy Planes Scanning an Area of 60,000 Square Miles on Third Day of Search.

San Pedro, Calif., Jan. 8.—Search for a big United States Navy bomber plane lost at sea with seven men aboard entered its third day today with hope waning.

Thirty-five fighting ships which pierced the darkness last night with searchlights were joined again today by 284 navy planes, scanning an area of 60,000 square miles between San Luis Obispo and Ensenada, Lower Calif.

Given up for dead was Cadet Scott E. Hawkins, twenty-nine, of Jefferson City, Mo., who fell from his plane Thursday while engaged in the search.

On the hopeful side was the fact that the missing twenty-five-ton, twin-engine bomber was capable of landing in and riding heavy seas for days, and that there were emergency rations aboard.

Against this was the fact the bomber had an auxiliary radio and nothing had been heard since it reported all well late Wednesday, when about 200 miles northwest of San Diego.

DAIRY POOL IS DESCRIBED AS A BIG SUCCESS

Western Farmers Have Made Co-operative Enterprise a Medium Through Which They Market All Their Dairy Products.

Saskatoon, Jan. 8.—(C)—Manager C. T. Gooding, of the Saskatoon dairy pool, claims success of the ten-year-old co-operative organization and to prove his contention reports the pool last Tuesday paid $13,500 to its members.

Financial report at November 30, 1937, showed the organization's capital account increased $27,000 in the last year, Mr. Gooding announced yesterday.

The manager explained the pool's success in this manner: "The 250 farmer members have made this co-operative enterprise the medium through which they can market all of their dairy products. In addition, they have built up the pool to take care of their financial problems, and also to obtain markets for their produce."

Record of the dairy pool, organized in 1927 by a group of farmers interested in having a continuous market for all their dairy products, is one of the most interesting in the history of the co-operative movements in Canada.

The pool was organized "on a shoe string." Members shipped their milk and cream, all of it, to the pool, and from every milk cheque a five-per-cent deduction was held as reserve for ten years to enable the organization to become well-established. The pool put in special processing equipment so milk and cream not taken by Saskatoon distributing firms could be turned into cheese, butter, powdered milk and other products.

In 1936, the deductions made in 1927 were paid back to the members and last year more than $11,000 was paid on 1928 deductions.

The farmers' equity in the pool has increased steadily since the concern was first organized. At the end of November last year, the balance sheet showed the milk shippers' equity was $113,016.39. Net worth of the pool was $227,030.42.

The pool expanded rapidly. Now there are branches at Leroy, Kam-sack and Biggar, and an affiliated company at North Battleford.

One of the most valuable services offered to its members by the dairy pool is that of arranging loans at a low interest rate.

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT ORDERS FOUR-YEAR ECONOMIC PLAN

Tokyo, Jan. 8.—Premier Fumimaro Konoye today placed a four-year plan for the maintenance of national resources in the hands of the National Planning Board for further development.

Approved by the cabinet, the plan is based on the assumption that the war in China will continue for years or that several years will be required to secure a "fundamental settlement of the Chinese question."

HOOVER CREW DENY MISCONDUCT CHARGE

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Passengers of the wrecked liner President Hoover expected "Waldorf service" and complained of the food while they were castaways on rocky Holshoto Island, the ship's crew declared today in replying to complaints of misconduct.

Sam Cohen, steward's delegate, denied published reports the seamen became intoxicated, molested women and rioted.

"We took off all the passengers in less than nine hours without casualty," Cohen said. "Does that sound as if the men were drinking?"

"They said we broke into the bar. Liquor supplies were taken ashore and placed in the hands of the ship's surgeon. Some of the bottles disappeared, but nobody in the crew got them."

The $8,000,000 Hoover, owned by the Dollar Line, piled on a reef off Toishoto Island, southeast of Formosa on December 11th. She carried 453 passengers and 408 crew.

ADJOURN PROBE INTO DEATH OF STENOGRAPHER

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Jan. 8.—Whether Helen Grier was murdered or committed suicide while on a hunting trip in northern Ontario woods last fall remained undecided today as an inquest into the circumstances of her mysterious death stood adjourned for the week-end.

The twenty-eight year old Pontiac Mich. stenographer, Dr. J. R. McKee and Dr. E. R. Frankish told the jury, died last October 28 as "the result of a bullet wound in the head."

The body of the brunette stenographer was found in a lonely backwoods cottage she had visited each autumn since 1932 in the company of Vernon Spencer, of Wixom, Mich. Spencer, former professional baseball player once with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, has been held in custody since October 29 as a material witness.

The inquest is being conducted under Coroner Dr. J. P. Kelch. Crown Attorney J. L. O'Flynn, K.C., questioned the medical witnesses closely concerning an abrasion and a fracture at the back of Miss Grier's head. Both said that in their opinion the injuries were not caused by a fall.

When Spencer, forty years old, made his way through the bush to notify police of the tragedy, he told authorities he had found the body upon the cottage floor when he returned from a long hunt in search of game tracks. A .22-calibre rifle lay near the body, which was clad in pajamas. Spencer said he and Miss Grier had spent the afternoon of October 28 shooting at targets.

Seven witnesses testified. Among them was Fred Olaf, guide who accompanied the couple to the hunting lodge and remained in the camp two days. "She was a nice girl if she wasn't drunk," Olaf said of Miss Grier. She was "like a lot of other drunks—she was stubborn."

RT. REV. ALFRED BLUNT ILL

London, Jan. 8.—(C)—Rt. Rev. Alfred Blunt, Bishop of Bradford, arrived in London today to consult a specialist. He is believed to have suffered a nervous breakdown.

It was understood Bishop Blunt has not been well since his illness last summer at Halifax, N.S., when he was forced to cancel a proposed Canadian tour.

Great Britain And U.S. Move To Final Stage Of Commercial Agreement

United States Secretary-of-State Hull Made Public a Long List of Imports on Which U.S. Will Consider Making Concessions in Return for Larger Share of British Market—India, Dominions and Ireland Excluded.

Washington, January 8.—The United States and Great Britain moved today toward the final stages of a significant commercial accord.

The proposed pact, which State Secretary Hull formally proclaimed last night his intention of negotiating with the United Kingdom, will involve a globe-girdling market.

It will embrace not only Great Britain but her far-flung colonial Empire and Newfoundland. Only India, the Dominions and Ireland will be excluded.

Actual negotiation of the agreement, designed to achieve mutual tariff concessions, will begin as soon as United States interests have made known their views concerning specific items of commerce.

Secretary Hull made public a long list of imports upon which the United States will consider granting concessions. Accompanying it was a notice that public hearings will be opened here on March 14th for interested parties.

British and American economic experts have been engaged for more than a year in preliminary work on the projected agreement. A British trade mission will come here next month to conduct the final parleys.

The list of potential American concessions includes whisky and other spirits, dressed furs, tin, rubber, boots and shoes, gloves, leather goods, woollen and cotton textiles and certain types of salted and pickled fish.

In exchange for better customs treatment of such British goods as these, the United States hopes to obtain concessions which would widen the market there for American agricultural products, among other things. Britain has not yet announced the products on which it will consider tariff concessions.

Of the sixteen trade agreements already drawn up under the "good neighbor" trading programme fostered by Secretary Hull, only that with Canada approaches in potential scope that projected with the United Kingdom, her colonies, mandated territories and Newfoundland.

Announcement is expected in the near future that a supplementary agreement will be negotiated with Canada to expand the existing trading agreement, signed two years ago. That pact was regarded here as the first breach in the wall set up around the British Empire by the so-called Ottawa agreements, reached at the Imperial Economic Conference of 1932.

BRITISH MISSION TO HAVE FULL DETAILS

London, Jan. 8.—The British trade mission to Washington will carry with it detailed information concerning both the tariff concessions which Great Britain hopes to secure in the United States and the tariff concessions which Britain may be prepared to grant in return.

The Board of Trade has been for some time in touch with British manufacturers and exporters in regard to expansion of the British market in the United States. Many.

SIR JOHN NOBLE DEAD

Cairdow, Scotland, Jan. 8.—(CP Cable)—Sir John Noble, barrister, died today at the age of seventy-two. He was the third son of Sir Andrew Noble and Lady Noble, who before her marriage in 1854 was Miss Margery Davison Campbell, daughter of Archibald Campbell, of Quebec.

Sir John was called to the bar in 1895 and was created a baronet in 1923. He held the Order of the Sacred Treasure of Japan.

His eldest brother, Sir George Noble, the noted sportsman, died in July. Their Canadian mother died in 1929.

Thirty Thousand Italian Laborers Enrolled Into German Farm Service

Arrangement Designed to Absorb Some of Italy's Surplus Farm Labor and Give Germany Needed Agricultural Workers for Self-Sufficiency Programme.

Rome, Jan. 8.—Thirty thousand Italians will go to Germany in March to work as farm hands under an agreement between the Italian and German governments.

The arrangement announced today will absorb some of Italy's surplus farm labor and give Germany needed agricultural workers in the Reich campaign to increase its food production.

German farm work normally attracts seasonal laborers from Italy and eastern Europe but, under the new plan, Italians, instead of filtering into the country individually, will go as an organized army and in larger numbers.

The Fascist Federation of Farm Workers, in announcing the agreement, said it would eliminate "hardships and humiliations" often encountered by Italian workers abroad and further cement Italo-German friendship and economic ties.

Men will be divided into groups of from ten to twenty-five each, with a captain and interpreter. These leaders will themselves be farm workers.

The workers will receive food, lodging and the equivalent to about forty cents a day in wages. They will have sick and disability insurance and the German Government will pay their transportation.

They will sign up for the duration of the German agricultural season—which normally lasts about eight months.

TWO MURDER CHARGES FOLLOW FATAL DY-NAMITE BLAST

Elizabethton, Tenn., Jan. 8.—Eight persons were jailed here today—two on murder charges—in the investigation of a dynamite blast that wrecked a home and killed three children.

Sheriff's deputies arrived here today from Pikeville, Tenn., with two men Sheriff J. M. Moreland said are charged with murder.

The sheriff named them as White Tollett and Lee Walker, and said a murder warrant had been issued for Crave Tollett, a brother of White.

When Spencer, forty years old, made his way through the bush to notify police of the tragedy, he told authorities he had found the body upon the cottage floor when he returned from a long hunt in search of game tracks. A .22-calibre rifle lay near the body, which was clad in pajamas. Spencer said he and Miss Grier had spent the afternoon of October 28 shooting at targets.

CITY IS ASSURED OF GOVERNMENT GRANT

Bourque Denies Quebec Holding Back Projects

Minister of Public Works Takes Exception to Statement Blaming Government for Delay in Ratifying Public Works Loan Referendum—Amount to Be Contributed by Quebec Towards Labor Costs Will Be Determined at Next Session of Cabinet Ministers.

Assurance that Sherbrooke will receive a substantial grant from the Provincial Government to cover two-thirds of the labor costs involved in the city's $210,000 programme of public works was given this morning by Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, Quebec Minister of Public Works. In an interview with newspapermen today the Public Works Minister took to task Sherbrooke's French-speaking daily for what he described as a "malicious report" appearing in that newspaper yesterday afternoon. Yesterday's "La Tribune" carried an eight-column screamer to the effect that Sherbrooke's unemployed were awaiting action by the Provincial Government before obtaining work on the city's programme of sewer and gas and water mains construction. As a matter of fact, the result of the recent referendum, in which the ratepayers authorized the city to borrow the money necessary to carry out its public works plan, and the plans, which have to be approved by the Government, have not yet been despatched to Quebec, Col. Bourque stated, "but the Government cannot be accused of any retardation."

The approval of the referendum is a mere matter of form, and City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers stated to the Record today that about forty men have already been put to work on the streets works.

"I expect no sympathy from 'La Tribune,'" Col. Bourque stated, "but I think that this newspaper should have the decency, in political matters, to represent facts in their true light."

The Minister added that he firmly believed the population of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships appreciated the care, interest and devotion that he has given the duties which were entrusted to him by his mandate.

"Numerous Government undertakings have been launched in Sherbrooke County during the past year, and these are an impressive testimony of the application I have given to my office. I have always had the most cordial relations with various public bodies of Sherbrooke, particularly the Council and the city, and in no instance have I refused to co-operate, particularly in regard to improving the lot of our unemployed."

The Minister said that last winter, when the number of jobs had reached alarming proportions and the city administrators were seeking a way to ameliorate conditions, he took the steps necessary to have work on the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville road started immediately to be continued through the winter months.

LARGE NUMBER EMPLOYED FOR SNOW REMOVAL

Fifty Men, Six Trucks and Three Plows Used in Clearing Frozen Slush from City Streets After Yesterday's Storm.

Fifty city employees, utilizing six trucks and three snowplows, began at midnight last night the task of freeing Sherbrooke streets from the coating of slush formed when the mercury nosedived last evening after yesterday's fall of clinging snow and rain.

At noon today most of the city's principal thoroughfares had been cleared of the frozen mixture which had caused motorists considerable trouble. Ruts and slippery roads made driving extremely hazardous last evening and walking conditions were little better.

Most of the highways in the vicinity of Sherbrooke were closed to traffic by the storm. The Sherbrooke-Stanstead highway was kept open, however, and the Sherbrooke-Montreal road was passable under difficult conditions.

Virtually all of the trains running into Sherbrooke were behind schedule yesterday, due to heavy storms throughout the province. Railways called on heavy plows to battle the snow and ice which piled on tracks yesterday.

Sherbrooke was fortunate, however, in escaping the full brunt of the storm. Quebec City suffered the most. There a forty-mile-an-hour gale lashed thick snow for almost twenty-four hours.

WORST STORM OF SEASON HIT QUEBEC CITY

Quebec, Jan. 8.—(C)—Trains were delayed, roads were treacherous and automobiles stalled yesterday as a result of the worst storm in this district so far this season. Raging for almost twenty-four hours, the storm subsided partially last night but traffic conditions were far from normal.

The storm increased in intensity during the early morning and forenoon. Thick snow, driven by a forty-mile an hour gale, piled drifts high on city roads and country routes, retarding traffic throughout the day.

Trains coming to the city from all directions were from forty-five minutes to an hour late in arriving. The electric railway system to rural centres east and west of the city was badly disrupted.

Street cars left the rails on principal streets of the city, while stalled snow trucks and snowplows disorganized traffic all over the city.

All the narrower streets were blocked by the traffic and towed trucks were kept busy all day extricating the stalled machines. Horses and sleighs came into their own. Many stores, milkmen and bakeries resorted to them to make deliveries.

MANY FEATURES OF INTEREST AT HI-Y REUNION

Moving Pictures of Local Scenes and Address on Reptiles Highlights of Regular Hi-Y Programme Last Evening.

J. Gordon Armitage, secretary of the Stanstead and Sherbrooke Fire Insurance Company, was the guest of the members of the Hi-Y Club at their weekly meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. During the evening Mr. Armitage entertained the meeting with several reels of moving picture film taken by himself. One of particular interest showed the erection of the 200-foot tower of the local radio station, CHLT, and others included views of local scenes and personalities. Mr. Armitage was introduced by Edgar Stevens and thanked, on behalf of the members, by George Rothney.

Another in the series of addresses by club members last night featured Angus Maclean. Taking as his subject, "Reptiles," the speaker reviewed some interesting facts with regard to these prehistoric creatures. "Our knowledge of man reaches back about 300,000 years," stated Mr. Maclean, but hundreds of thousands of years before that the reptiles roamed the face of the earth. This reptilian age lasted for a period estimated as high as 10,000,000 years.

There were dozens of specimens of reptiles, ranging in size from an arm's length to monsters 100 feet long and weighing twenty-five tons. Some were carnivorous and others herbivorous; all were of course cold-blooded. "These creatures were not remarkable for their brain capacity," declared the young speaker. "Their brain matter was not much larger than a man's hand. They were ruled by their nerve centres." The fact that most of the reptiles lived in or near the water was one factor leading to their ultimate disappearance. As earth surface changed.

SOUP KITCHEN IS GREAT AID TO YOUNGSTERS

Eighteen Children Benefiting from Kitchen Being Operated at Central School by Junior Welfare League.

Eighteen youngsters are benefiting from the soup kitchen being conducted at the Central School on King street west by the Junior Welfare League, it was indicated in a report submitted by Mrs. Gordon Miller at the League's monthly business meeting held at the home of Mrs. Lennox Wilson yesterday afternoon.

It is estimated that this phase of the League's activities will cost about forty dollars per month, and as funds will be needed if the kitchen is to be continued, it was decided to have a sale of silk stockings in the near future. Mrs. A. Munster donated the stockings.

A donation of $325 from the Rotary Club was acknowledged, together with $25 from A. A. Munster, $20 from the Sherbrooke Chapter, No. 22 of the Order of the Eastern Star, $5 from the Hebrew Ladies Aid, $1 from the W.C.T.U., 28 pair of mittens from the Duke of Wellington Chapter, I.O.D.E., and Christmas stockings from the Mitchell School.

The treasurer, Mrs. Dean Bishop, reported a balance on hand after all bills were paid. The month of December was unusually heavy as many articles were purchased, including eighty-seven pairs of shoes at a cost of $145.97, eighty-eight pairs of rubbers costing $57.88, and underwear costing $58.87. This total of $322.72 was obtained from the funds furnished by the Rotary Club.

Mrs. Arthur Edwards, convener of the store-room, reported that, in addition to the underwear purchased and two hundred used garments given out, she bought seventeen pairs of stockings, seven pairs of bloomers and sweaters and skirts for small girls. A number of shoes had been repaired and Mrs. Edwards suggested that trousers for men be purchased if used ones could not be procured. She also said that she had been asked to furnish the names of one hundred children who were entertained at a supper at the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Southern, sewing convener, reported the purchase of wool for the League and also for the Church Union Group, who had kindly offered to knit for the League.

Mrs. Miller said that there had been many demands for food during the month and a great many calls made, many of these in regard to the purchase of shoes for the Rotary. The school children had been visited and the children provided with shoes where necessary. Provision had been made, through the I.O.D.E. and other sources, for most of the families to receive Christmas baskets and a few sent from the League. Mrs. Miller said that visits had been made to quite a few just before Christmas and, in many cases, a small gift of money was made from a fund personally donated to her for this purpose. The stockings from the Mitchell School had also been delivered.

Mrs. Fred Sanger was appointed to look after the purchase of the tickets for the soup kitchen raffle.

Mrs. Miller reported one more family added to the milk fund, and also another receiving fresh eggs each week.

The League thanked Mrs. Lennox Wilson for the time she had given to purchasing clothing and food that was sent, with a Christmas basket, to a Sherbrooke family now living on a farm, and also Mrs. Arthur Fraser, who has given the League two boxes of socks.

Mrs. McFadyen consented to act as convener of the soup kitchen, and Miss Doreen Stewart will assist Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. John Hovey at the store room. Miss Ave Walsh was appointed to replace Mrs. S. H. Galigner as tea convener.

Mrs. Miller reported that several of the families that had received Christmas baskets had requested her to thank the donors.

Tea was served, the hostesses being Mrs. J. R. Samson and Mrs. Lennox Wilson. The League will meet at Mrs. Wilson's residence during January.

Stiff Sentences Given Rock Forest Culprits

Donat Vachon and Eugene Houle Sentenced by Judge J. S. Couture to Three Years in Penitentiary for Breaking into Cottage of Robert Broadbent at Lake Park.

The burglar who breaks into a city house has a certain amount of nerve, to the extent that he is willing to undergo the risk of being nabbed while obtaining his ill-gotten gains. But, the man who breaks into a cottage in a deserted area is no better than a spineless specimen, preying upon a defenceless victim.

Such is the opinion of Judge J. S. Couture who yesterday afternoon sentenced two young men to three years in the penitentiary for breaking into the cottage of Robert Broadbent at Little Lake.

The robbers, who will serve their term in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, are Donat Vachon and Eugene Houle, both of Rock Forest.

In handing down sentences, Judge remarked that the two youths were only recently released from the penitentiary. They had broken into Broadbent's cottage during the off-season when the district was deserted and Broadbent had no one to guard his property. Society, the Judge added, had to be protected against such characters, and for this reason he could not extend any leniency.

Vachon and Houle were placed in custody by Provincial Police Detective Donat Mavor.

Clothing Manufacturing Firm Which Located in Sherbrooke a Year Ago Now Employs 410 Hands.

The firm of S. Rubin Limited which located in Sherbrooke a year ago this month now employs 410 people, who, aided by the company, have formed a social club with its own committees. Among the various activities carried on by this club was a highly successful picnic and dance. Another dance is planned for next month, to which the public will be invited.

In addition to carrying accident and sickness insurance policies on the employees, along with the usual Workmen's Compensation benefits, the company has made every effort to provide the workers with facilities to aid them in their daily tasks. Additional floor space has been built so that the employees may have ample room, a system of ventilating being installed, as well as ice water equipment.

Jack Rubin, the manager is now residing in Sherbrooke with his family.

Hopes and Fears Of People with Nervous Disorders

Life is made up of hopes and fears. When good health prevails we are hopeful and buoyant. In times of ill-health the fears dominate. Especially is this true of nervous disorders. Fears then make life miserable. You fear or worry because you cannot sleep. You have a dread of crowds, and fear of being closed in or having things fall on you. But you also dread being left alone. You may even have fears of insanity. Fear and helplessness may so dominate you that you have spells of despair and discouragement, when you can do little else but cry. You must have something to restore hope, something to build up strength and confidence. Most people have found that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a most satisfactory restorative for the nerves. With nerve food restored to the system you soon regain the vigor and energy which are necessary to health and hope and confidence.

Conquering Diphtheria.

In the December issue of the magazine "Health" there is presented a statistical study of the diphtheria situation in Canada covering the last ten years that tells a striking story of the progress that has been made in overcoming this dread disease through the use of toxoid. The study deals with fourteen cities with a population in excess of 50,000 and representing, according to "Health," more than a quarter of the entire population of the country. In these cities deaths from diphtheria in 1936 totalled fifty-eight as compared with 238 for all Canada. No less than twenty-five of the fifty-eight occurred in Quebec, the only city of any considerable size which has not shown a decrease in the ten years and at the same time the only city of considerable size which, until 1937, has not carried out a toxoid programme. The total of 238, it is further shown, is fifty-six less than the number of deaths ten years ago in the two cities, Montreal and Toronto.

Swiss Masons Survive.

An interesting political event took place in Switzerland last month which escaped general notice and which was not only of importance to members of the Masonic Order everywhere, but to the world at large. By national referendum the Masonic Order in that country was not suppressed as certain influential groups attempted to have done.

The anti-Masonic movement commenced in Switzerland after Hitler in 1933 demanded the extinction of the Order in Germany on the ground that it contained Jewish members, and he further alleged that it was a political organization contrary to the National Socialist programme. Had Hitler been a Mason he would have known that such an allegation was unfounded. However, no member of the fighting forces or government employees were allowed to become Masons and existing members had to resign. Some of the officials were cast in prison for alleged sedition and the main temple in Berlin was seized and converted into the Air Ministry. Prior to this, Mussolini had suppressed the Masonic Order in Italy. So when the country adjacent to Switzerland practically crushed the organization, certain interests in Switzerland wished to do the same.

These were chiefly the Fascists. Against them were Liberals and Socialists. When the referendum was taken the vote against suppression of the Masons was overwhelming. The importance of the verdict is that it demonstrated Switzerland is anti-Fascist.

The Power Of Advertising.

A remarkable tribute to the power that lies in advertising was paid by Miss Margaret Brown at a recent meeting of advertising managers, at which she stressed the service rendered to the public by advertising and the infinitesimal cost to the public of this great spur to business. Miss Brown's address is reproduced in part in Marketing, for December 18th, as follows:

"When I hear people criticizing the amount of advertising in their newspapers and magazines—or over their radio—it always strikes me as a completely selfish attitude. What manufacturer is obliged to furnish us with free radio programmes—or to make available to us the wonderful service given by our newspapers? What would it be like if we lived in a world without advertising? How would we learn of new products—new services available to us—new discoveries? Our whole interest in life would quickly shrink, until we were, in effect, living in a small, restricted community without those essential contacts with the outside world. If the money spent in advertising were refunded to the purchaser with each package, there is no coin small enough to take care of the transaction.

"Surely the least we can do, as buyers, is to give a courteous hearing to these manufacturers who, through their advertising, give us a reliable guide to safer buying—and at the same time furnish the money which brings us our newspapers, magazines, radio programmes.

"The livelihood of every one of us depends on the movement of goods—the circulation of money—the exchange of products and services each with the other.

"Advertising has done more to stimulate buying than any other factor. When we buy advertised products, we know that we are doing business with manufacturers who are willing to stand back of what they sell. By making statements in writing, and signing his name to those statements, a manufacturer gives a written guarantee of his honesty, and the reliability of his goods. Mis-statements in advertising are a legal offence and open to prosecution.

"In those countries where advertising flourishes (Canada and the United States principally) we find people with higher standards of living. We find more intellectual people—people with more time to do things, largely as a result of improved products given to us through advertising.

"Advertising has done a great deal (more than any other force) to increase production, and has brought about a consequent reduction in prices. Automobiles are a case in point. Fifteen years ago they cost twice as much—and yet today they are infinitely better and more reliable. Cameras when they first came on the market sold for $40 and the plates $9. Now we buy very good ones around $10 and less, with films costing 30 cents to develop. Electric light bulbs today give twice as much light for the money.

"Food manufacturers have model kitchens so that they may give us new and tested recipes. Manufacturers of soap products, polishes, etc., are perfecting products which cut down on manual labor and do a better job at the same time.

"Advertising makes goods available to us—at a standard quality and a standard price—whether we live in a hamlet or the largest metropolis. Any criticism of advertising is small indeed compared with the disclosures which could be made of firms and products where there is no advertising, and no written guarantee that we are getting what we pay for. In countries where advertising is unknown, the people are ignorant and it is a case of 'Let the Buyer Beware.'

"But advertising has taken the guess out of buying. We know that advertised products have to live up to high standards of quality. And in buying advertised brands, we are doing business right out in the open with firms who are reliable and ready to substantiate all the claims made for the products they sell.

"So let us appreciate advertising for what it is—the biggest educational force in our modern civilization."

ADVICE FOR A GARDENER.

Guard then the rose— but guard the moments more Of ventured bud that whorled into a flower.

Roses will be— as they have been before, Dusky and brief, veined with a terrible power.

Guard then the rose— but guard the moments known When out of dark you watched the sheathed green unfold;

The emerald lance ascend— the bud swell fully grown; Free of the earth, free of the fallow mold.

Guard then the rose— and bed it warm and deep, And build a wall against encroaching snow, But more than this:

guard for the winter sleep The secret gardeners and roses know.

—John Ritchey.

St. Luke II, 49: "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

There are almost innumerable pictures by great artists of Bethlehem's Manger, the Mother, and the Babe; pictures wherein such diversities of racial type are represented, from fair northern European to dark Mediterranean and Semitic, that one can hardly escape the conviction that "universality" is of the very essence of the Christmas story. It rebukes both racial and caste arrogance. As St. Paul, himself a Hebrew of the Hebrews, tells his converts in Colosse: "In the new life, the new nature redeemed by Christ, 'there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ is all, and in all.'" Thus, in the spiritual region into which the believer is received, all minor distinctions vanish. Not only do they not exist, but they cannot exist. It is a region to which they are utterly unsuited, and cannot therefore be recognized.

The Aryan obsession of the Third Reich is not merely sad and terrible, but flagrantly absurd and illogical. The fact that St. Paul, a Jew, first carried the Gospel torch into Dark Europe, surely does not excuse these, whose very civilization exists by virtue of that light, from shame and dishonor in repudiating it! How completely irrational this Nazi obsession has become is evidenced by the implied assumption that not only Faith but Science must be of anti-Semitic origin; in order to be truly sound and valid; that, in fact, Genius is not Genius unless it bears the Aryan stamp; so Einstein finds a refuge in the United States, together with many another leader in science, art, law, and finance.

Some of the more moderate Germans, rightly dreading the moral and spiritual decadence of a great people, are seeking to stem the tide of paganism by suggesting that Christianity is not a Jewish religion, but grew up in conflict, though necessarily in contact, with it. More over they maintain that Jesus was a Galilean, and therefore a Gentile, the fact that He was "of the house and lineage of David" does not preclude the presence in His ancestry of numerous non-Jewish strains.

Of course, this is beside the point; it is "rationalization" of a most unbecoming variety; but it is a line of argument that may solve the consciences of many who are enthusiastic followers of Herr Hitler, and who yet shrink from the consequences of the stark repudiation of a cultural and religious inheritance of nearly twelve hundred years!

Now, Thursday's festival—the Epiphany—which is almost universally observed in this province, simply means the celebration of the "manifestation" of the Christ, the representatives of the world that was not of Israel.

So we have the beautiful description of the three Kings or Magi coming to the humble cot of The Babe of Bethlehem with their gifts, such course as this is beside the point; it is "rationalization" of a most unbecoming variety; but it is a line of argument that may solve the consciences of many who are enthusiastic followers of Herr Hitler, and who yet shrink from the consequences of the stark repudiation of a cultural and religious inheritance of nearly twelve hundred years!

We have also the story of the Child Jesus in His Father's House, the temple in Jerusalem. In our text we find the stark repudiation of Christ, words that nevertheless strike the key-note of His mission here below. He grew, as other children grow, in wisdom and stature; but in fundamentals He remained unchanged. So the Boy of twelve who asks: "Do you not realize that I must be about my Father's business?" grows up into the Man who teaches us that all work, all straight, honest, unselfish endeavor is an offering right precious in the sight of the Lord. Were this truth universally recognized, what a change would come over all human relationships! The grasping, conscienceless profiteer would be as dead as the dodo. There would be a splendid cleaning-out of the Augean stables of politics and high finance. St. Paul's exhortation would be insured: "Let every one of us love his neighbor as himself."

Let us, then, go about, in our several ways, and according to our opportunities and powers, work for the betterment of the world, and let us appreciate the chances God gives us to do something worth while in His service.

Let all work bear the nobler name of "duty." As such, we may feel that whatever comes, failure or success, we have played our part not altogether unworthily.

"The trivial round, the common task May furnish all we need to ask: Room to deny ourselves a road To bring us daily nearer God."

PRESS COMMENTS

CHRISTIANITY IS SOLE HOPE OF PEACE

(Robert Colville, in "Great Thoughts," London)

The average man is, we believe, losing faith in the ability of politicians to secure a permanent peace. There have been so many disappointments. We remember the time when Italy attacked Abyssinia, and how we reflected comfortably on the power of the League of Nations and the salutary effect of sanctions. Then came the Civil War in Spain, and the apparent inability of the collective principle to do anything but aggravate the situation. No one seemed to have the least idea how to prevent or shorten the clash between China and Japan.

A year ago, Great Thoughts advocated the general adoption of Christian principle in international politics. Nothing has occurred which alters our view that this is the only solution of the present impasse, and the only road to permanent peace.

Yet, when we reflect on the part which the Church has played in this historic struggle, we cannot but feel disappointed. For to reflect on the activities of the Church in regard to peace and war is to realize that her great energies have been spent on a side issue. The ecclesiastical atmosphere has been full of heated arguments as to the official attitude in the event of war. Surely every effort of the Church ought to be concentrated on the avoidance of war.

It is, apparently, impossible for each branch of the Christian Church to agree as to the final and ultimate presentation of Christian truth, but let them at least combine in the effort to prevent what is universally recognized as an evil—the ravages of war. If necessary, let us disregard the lessons of history and restore political powers to the Bishops of the Church. If necessary, let us even adopt Christianity as a political, if not a Christian basis for foreign relationships. At all events, let us try the one hope for peace which has not yet been tested—and the one hope which would surely bring the certainty of peace to a disillusioned world.

Many years must pass, it seems before peace is secured, but it is possible now to have a vision of the future. "The Pilgrim they laid in a large upper chamber, whose window opened toward the sun-rising name of the chamber was Peace."

FARM PROPERTY ON WAY BACK (St. Marys Journal-Argus)

Farm property prices have been away down low the past few years but it looks as if the law of supply and demand is getting ready to operate favorably. For one thing, city dwellers with means are getting fed up on cave-dwelling and are seeking homes in the open country. Along the highway going into London, for instance, farms have been bought up by city folk for five miles out. Settlers from Saskatchewan are also picking up good farms cheap in Western Ontario this fall.

Around one village in Huron County six or seven families arrived in the middle of the month. It is only a few of the best farmers from the prairies who have the means left, to set up in the East. As citizens they should prove a fine asset to their new communities. Others will no doubt continue flocking in with Government assistance who will make good citizens too. It looks as if rural depopulation which has been going on steadily during the past two or three decades in Western Ontario, is at an end.

FASCISM DISCOVERS AMERICA (Christian Science Monitor)

For those in the western hemisphere who dreamed they were insulated from the direct shock of extremists in Europe and the Far East, the news from Brazil must come like a cold shower. The first corporate state along the modern streamlines of the European dictatorship, and possibly linked to them, has been formed out of the American Republic. The significance of the event is not so much in the impairment of a semi-democracy there, for a very poor semblance of the democratic process exists in many of the American nations today; some, outright dictatorships as in Brazil, others, a more moderate form of intensive boring from within by Italian, German and Japanese agents along the familiar lines of "peaceful penetration," which confronts the now joint Monroe doctrine of all the Americas with something very close to a violation of its spirit.

JAPANESE CO-OPERATION (Hong Kong News)

Before the Japanese depredations the Chinese conducted a very useful weather bureau on Pratas Island. Since the Japanese have been in control of that weather bureau on Pratas Island only three short and comparatively uninteresting messages have been received from the representatives of that nation which, on the surface, so anxious to co-operate with other nations in the useful ways of peace. It is significant that whilst information from Pratas Island concerning the progress of the typhoon which passed Hong Kong recently would have been of the utmost value to the community at large and shipping people in particular, yet not one single message was received from that Chinese station which is being usurped by the Japanese. Whilst other foreign shipping in China waters was denied the information which the Pratas Island station should have disseminated, yet it is known that the Japanese were transmitting messages in code to their own ships giving typhoon progress particulars.

MACDONALD AND THE ANNOUNCER (St. Catharines Standard)

When he was subject to one of those boomtime City Hall receptions by Mayor "Jimmy" Walker in New York, Raymond MacDonald was introduced by the announcer in respectful voice as the "Premier of the United States." The New York papers unmercifully razed the announcer but he was later appeased when he received a kindly letter from Mr. MacDonald, who said, in effect, that it was just one of those slight human slips which added to the color and atmosphere of a occasion. It was good diplomacy on the part of the British Prime Minister.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS Author of "You Can," "Up," "Just Among Friends"

These Can't Be Taxed.

It is worth while to read Plutarch's Lives—to dip into them and learn from them. His heroes lived hundreds of years ago, and yet the dominant things among the people of that time were war and taxes! The warrior was the big figure and taxes were as bitterly fought then as now.

And coming down into American history, every school boy knows that the war for Independence was initiated largely because of taxes. But in all cases it seems to be, not mere taxes, but unjust taxes. People do not object to being taxed if they are taxed justly. Taxes are essential to any form of civilization.

But when taxes become burdensome, and oppress the people, it is time to adjust affairs and find out what is wrong. We owe much of the beauty and happiness that is ours to just taxes—our roads, parks, public buildings, and our government. Our only quarrel is with taxes that hold us back and kill our initiative.

The best in life, however, is not taxed at all! There are no taxes on a love of beauty. Our faith is not taxed. Opportunity is not taxed. We can appreciate what we will without interference, and we can soar as high as we will with our ambitions. Taxes only bother the material. Our greatest gains, in moral and spiritual welfare, come about through unselfish service. When we are busy at this, the question of taxes takes a rear position in our lives.

The pleasure we gain from great books is not taxed. Nor is the thrill that we get from fine and inspiring art. Our enjoyment of freedom is not taxed either. Millions in a country, enjoying freedom, pay no direct taxes at all. Friendship is not taxed. Many a man would trade his great estate for but one genuine friend!

Most of us are better off than we think. If we think that we are not better off and that we should have more than we have—without having to work for it—then we should think of someone who has far less, and who worked for everything that

Georgetown, British Guiana, Jan. 8.—Charles Lewis, of the British South American port, has no qualms about what to do when his girl leaves him. St. Francis College Notes

Classes re-assembled on Tuesday morning with most of the students in their places ready for the new term. Both chairman J. D. Smith and Dr. Sutherland, of the Board, were on hand, the former paying a visit during class hour to the Grade VII room, which was equipped with new seats during the holidays. The appearance of the room has been wonderfully improved, marking another step forward in the improvement of school equipment.

The College owes a debt of gratitude to Dr. Sutherland, who during the past few weeks has been busy engaged in classifying a large collection of rocks which belonged to the school but had fallen into disorder. The collection contains over 50 specimens and nearly all of these Dr. Sutherland identified himself. In addition he improved the trays, prepared a catalogue of the contents of each, and added from his own private collection wherever the College's collection was lacking. An expert in this field, which is one of his hobbies, Dr. Sutherland is to give a series of three lectures to the senior classes on the subject of rocks during the third week of January.

The monthly meeting of the staff was held on Wednesday afternoon, and discussion of Education Week was the main item on the program. For this week, which is to be held from February 6 to February 12, it was decided to feature a school magazine and exhibits of the students' work throughout the town. It is hoped also that in conjunction with other educational societies in the district, further activities may be undertaken.

The following students have been neither late nor absent during the first term, September to December:

Grade XI: Alice Boa and Jean Carson.

Grade X: Lorna Watt.

Grade IX: Malcolm Sinclair, Alex Sinclair, Patricia Doyle and Aline Lemoine.

Grade VIII: Phyllis Morris, Phyllis Fletcher, Marshall Gregory, Robert Brown and Margaret Box.

Grade VII: Edna Arnold, Ethel Beaud, Albert Dunn and Katherine Ewing.

Grade VI: John McNaughton and Royce Taylor.

Grade V: Alice Adamson, Allan Boa, James Hughes and Morris Malick.

Grade IV: Wanda Allan, Irma Crook and Isabel Irwin.

Grade III: Marguerite McManis and Doris Perkins.

Grade II: Ethelwyn Ewing and Robert Boa.

The regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association will be held on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., in the College building. The committee in charge are arranging an interesting programme, the main item of which will probably be an address on "Health in Its Relation to the School" by one well qualified to discuss the subject. It is believed that a discussion of this subject may open up new avenues of thought regarding the physical well-being of the students.

Many of the committees named at the last meeting have already started the work for which they were appointed. Since so much interest has already been shown, it is hoped that there will be a large and representative gathering, especially in view of the approach of Education Week.

The re-organization of the hockey team for the present season has been one of the important activities of the Athletic Association. Under the chairmanship of Mr. Shufelt, the following students have been selected to play: Edward McGovern, captain; Robert Crook, Peter McGovern, Albert Dunn, Jerome LaRoche, Lawrence Belford, Donald Kelly, Arnold Healy, Earl Gregory, Jack Hughes, Leo Delaney and Donald Graham.

The team has joined the Inter-scholastic Hockey League of the Province, which is sponsored by the Athletic Committee of the Provincial Association of Protestant School Boards, and is playing at Asbestos today in the first game of this district.

Many of the staff spent the holidays at their homes. Miss LeBlond and Miss Asch were in Montreal, Miss Noble at Kirkdale, Mr. and Mrs. Shufelt at Sherbrooke, and Mr. Logan at Lacute.

Miss Hughes and Miss Frank, students in the Intermediate class at Macdonald College, have spent the past week practicing teaching at St. Francis College.

DEATHS REPORTED

FUNERAL OF MRS. MURDO D. MACKENZIE, LAKE MEGANTIC
Lake Megantic, Jan. 8.—The funeral service of Mrs. Murdo D. Mackenzie, who passed away on Friday evening, December 17th, was held from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lake Megantic, at two p.m., on Sunday, December 19th, after prayers at the home.

Rev. Mr. Malcolm Gillies, of Milan, officiated, taking for his text the fifteenth verse of the 116th Psalm. The twenty-third Psalm, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Asleep in Jesus" were beautifully rendered by an augmented choir from the Protestant Churches, with St. Andrew's organist, Mrs. Henry Audet, presiding at the organ and playing softly while the remains were borne tenderly and reverently in and out of the church by the four sons. Burial was in the Echo Vale Cemetery.

Mrs. Mackenzie, nee Margaret Murray, one of a family of thirteen children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, of Marshboro, was born on February 8th, 1867, she was married to Murdo D. Mackenzie, also of Marshboro, in June, 1889. Nine children were born of this union, all of whom survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie resided in Marshboro until the fall of 1925, when they moved to Megantic, where the deceased passed away after five weeks' illness, during which time she was cared for by her daughter, Mrs. H. G. Stetson, and everything possible done to save her.

Her death is keenly felt by a wide circle of friends and relatives, who cherish pleasant memories of her cheerful visits in her home, her genial smile according a warm welcome to all. She was a devoted and affectionate wife, mother, and sister, a loyal friend and the kindest of neighbors. The community is richer because of her life and poorer because of her death. She was gracious and considerate of all around her, a pattern of gentle manners and noble in her devotion to duty and was a favorite of young and old alike.

As long as health permitted she was a regular attendant in church, the teachings of which she so beautifully lived and practised.

Left to mourn her passing are her husband and nine children, Angelle, Mrs. Halbert Stetson, of Greenfield, Mass.; John N. of Milan, Ont.; North Hatley, Mr. and Mrs. Angus M. of Lennoxville; Dannie J. of Montreal; Murdo A. of Megantic; Catherine M. and Christina M. of Greenfield, Mass.; Colina M. A. of Albert Mines; and Hazel E. of Megantic; one sister, Mrs. Roderick Mackenzie, of St. Ignace, Mont.; one brother, Alex G. Murray, of Marshboro; two daughters-in-law and one son-in-law and her grandchildren, to all of whom heartfelt sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

Two grandchildren predeceased her. John's only son in 1921 and Angus' eldest daughter in 1925.

MRS. O. H. GLIDDEN, HATLEY
Hatley, Jan. 8.—The community was saddened by the death of an almost life-long resident, Mrs. O. H. Glidden, on December 13th, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, after an illness of several years, being much weaker for the last few months.

On Sunday, December 5th, as she was very much worse, she was ordered to the hospital by her doctor, but little hope was held out for her recovery. She gradually grew weaker and passed away the following Monday.

Her husband, Mr. O. H. Glidden, and two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Whitcomb, of this place, and Miss Mabel Glidden, who was spending the winter in Charleston, South Carolina, were with her constantly until the end.

The funeral was held at the United Church, Rev. W. A. Edwards conducting the service. The bearers were Messrs. H. B. Whitcomb, E. H. Whitcomb, C. W. Moulton, H. L. Moulton, L. H. Parker and F. O. Webster.

The hymns sung were favorites of Mrs. Glidden's, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Nearer My God to Thee" while the choir sang, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert sang as a duet, "In the Garden," by request of the family.

The church was filled with relatives and sympathizing neighbors and friends, who came to pay a last tribute of respect to one whom they had known for years.

Her pastor spoke comforting words from the text, "There remaineth therefore, a rest for the people of God."

Mrs. Glidden was born in Kingscroft, in 1871, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Kent. She was married to Orrin Glidden in 1895 and lived near Libertytown for several years, later moving to New York, where the family remained for eight years, coming back, they made their home in Hatley village, and have remained here since.

Mrs. Glidden was a faithful member of the United Church, and has always taken a great interest in all its activities as long as her health permitted. She was also a member of the Women's Association, holding the office of president for several years, and will be greatly missed by her fellow-workers.

Those left to mourn, besides her husband and two daughters, are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Eva Kent, two daughters, John and Cecil Kent, and one son, Mrs. George Woodard, of Derby Line, Vt.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. George Woodard, Mr. Raymond Woodard and Miss Dorothy Woodard, of Derby Line, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Standish, of Way's Mills; Mr. Irving Corey, of Beebe; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Auger, of Los Angeles, Calif., and four nieces and two nephews.

Mr. Riley was an esteemed business associate, a most likeable and kindly friend, and an interesting and pleasant companion at all times. A frequent visitor to Bishopston, he was highly regarded by the many friends he had made there. His sudden passing was a great shock to hundreds of others elsewhere.

The sincerest sympathy of the people of Bishopston is extended to Mrs. Riley at this time of her great loss and sorrow.

MR. DONALD D. MURRAY, DELI
Deli, Que., Jan. 8.—Donald D. Murray passed away very suddenly after a long illness, Mrs. D. D. Morrison, on Wednesday morning, December 8. He appeared in his usual health and had gone to the well a short distance from the house and on his return was seized with a heart attack. His nephew, Mr. Allan Morrison, carried him inside where he passed peacefully away about fifteen minutes later.

Mr. Murray was born in this country in February, 1862, the fifth member of a family of eight children born to Donald and Margaret Murray. His father passed away when Donald was only eight years of age, and as soon as he was large enough to carry a scythe or wield an axe he had to assume the role of provider for the mother and younger children. A hard worker and the soul of the family, he was blessed with very good health, but of late years his eyesight was failing him. He went to Montreal in June, 1936, for optical treatments, making his home with his brother, John, and family until this end-of-the-year which time he resided with his sister and nephew in Deli.

His youngest sister, Margaret, died in young girlhood, his youngest brother, Allan, died in British Columbia as a young man, Isabelle (Mrs. Gendreau) the eldest sister, died in Ellsboro, N.J., eleven years ago. His mother passed away in 1918. Norman passed away in Grandville, Vt., on April 19, 1931, and John in Verdon last March.

He is survived by two sisters, Annie (Mrs. Donald Morrison) of Deli, and Christine (Mrs. Alex McLeone) of Verdon, P.Q.; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. John Murray, of Verdon, Que., and Mrs. Norman D. Murray, of Grandville, Vt., besides several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Mr. Murray was a generous supporter of this congregation and a regular attendant at church services and will be greatly missed in the community.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held at his

O Thou Who by a star didst guide
The Wise Men on their way,
Until it came and stood beside
The place where Jesus lay;

Although by stars Thou dost not lead
Thy servants now below,
Thy Holy Spirit, when they need,
Will show them how to go.

As yet we know Thee but in part;
But still we trust Thy word,

For they shall see the Lord.

O Saviour, give us then Thy grace
To make us pure in heart,
That we may see Thee face to face
Hereafter as Thou art.
