J. J. Murphy Wins Holstein Judging Competition

First Among 1,300 Contestants—Other Valley Entrants Have High Scores

J. J. Murphy, Huntingdon, Que. stood first amongst the 1,300 contestants from all parts of the continent who took part in the judging competition held in connection with the selection of All-Canadian Holstein cattle. Mr. Murphy who is a veteral Holstein breeder and showman scored 148 out of a possible 150 points, this being the highest score ever recorded in these annual judging competitions.

In third place was Clayton Murphy, Huntingdon, with 144 points while tied for 6th was Marjorie J. Roy, Ormstown, with 142 points. These were closely followed by Cecil Murphy, Huntingdon, with 139 points, Audrey Legault, Huntingdon, with 135, James M. Winter, Ormstown, 134 points; Mrs. Jean Murphy, Huntingdon, 134 points.

In the Junior judging competition which attracted 505 entries from amongst Calf Club boys and girls throughout the Dominion, Jacqueline Miller, Brome, stood fourth with her total of 137 points. She was closely followed by Donald R. MacGregor, Huntingdon with 130 points and Joan Beerwort and John Beerwort, Brome, 128 points each.

The winner of the Junior Judging Competition was J. Earle Brown, 15-years-old Newcastle, Ontario, boy with a score of 144 points. Tied for second were Clare G. Hartley, Woodstock, and Marjorie Snyder, Waterloo, with 138 points each. It is interesting to note that no less than 22 different Calf Clubs are represented amongst the top 34 contestants that scored at least 130 points, this indicating the wide distribution of the prizes.

In the open competition J. J. Murphy, Huntingdon, Que., was first with a score 148 while Lloyd A. Pickard, Calgary, was second with 146.

Convicted Union Leaders Released Pending Appeal

Madeleine Parent and A. Beaucage Freed on Bail of $3,000 Each

Pending the hearing of an appeal in the Court of Appeals, Madeleine Parent, (Mrs. Valdimar Bjarnason) and Azelus Beaucage, textile union organizers, convicted at St. Jerome on charges arising from the Ayers Company strike at Lachute, were released on bail of $3,000 each by Mr. Justice St. Jacques of the Appeal Court.

Following the conviction, the accused had each been condemned to two years in the penitentiary by Mr. Justice Philemon Cousineau, presiding judge at the trial.

Notice of the appeal, based on ground of both fact and of law, was also filed in the Appeal Court offices by Roger Ouimet, K.C., and Bernard Mergler, attorneys for the defence. The document contained some 55 paragraphs, setting up alleged errors of the judge in his charge to the jury and errors in the conduct of the hearing.

The accused were tried, on two charges, the notice points out, one of "seditious conspiracy with intent to trouble the peace, and the security of the state and to create discontent with public order and established laws and institutions" and the other, "conspiracy to intimidate Lachute workers by threats of violence with the intent to keep them from working".

Complain About Hearing Proceeding

In the first place, the accused complain about the hearing proceeding at the same time on both charges. Moreover, they suggest that the charges were drafted in such a vague manner that it was impossible for them to make a full defence.

They also contend that throughout the hearing the jurors were allowed to return to their homes for week-ends and for the Christmas and New Year's vacations. Such procedure, they claim, was contrary to law and caused prejudices to the accused.

With regard to the judge's charge to the jury, the appellants allege that the offence of seditious conspiracy was not properly explained and, as a result, the jury may have been led into confusing it with a different charge provided for in the Quebec labor relations law.

In addition, the appellants claim that in his charge to the jury the presiding judge made unfavorable comment about workers' unions.

War Assets Accepts Town Offer For Sewer And Water Main

A special meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council was held on Friday evening, at the County Building, with all members present except Alderman Robert. The meeting was called to consider a letter from the War Assets Corporation and to award the contract on the heating installation at the fire hall.

A letter was read from Mr. H. Primeau, plumber, stating that due to difficulty in obtaining supplies, he wished to withdraw his tender on the heating equipment to be installed at the fire hall. This left only the tender of Laberge Bros., which was taken under consideration. Laberge Bros. tender had been revised to include the installation of an oil burner and fuel tank and the price quoted was $3,933.70.

It was decided that the tender be accepted and that for the time being while fuel oil was scarce, that the boiler be installed to burn coal, but the oil burner be considered as part of the tender and to be installed if the fuel oil position changes.

The letter of the War Assets Corporation was to the effect that this body accepted the offer made by the council at a recent meeting regarding the sewer and water mains and meter at the Chateauguay Barracks. This offer was to cancel the January charges for fire protection of $100 and to send a cheque for $300, which together would be full payment for this equipment. It was also asked that there be no further charges to the War Assets Corporation for fire protection.

Alderman Tinker brought up the matter of Purchase Order Forms to be used in making purchases for the town and stated that he had obtained a price from a printing firm for 15,000 of the forms in triplicate for $70.00. The council decided to order these forms.

It was also decided to purchase the typewriter now on rental to the Police Chief, at a price of $75.00.

Fruit Growers Ask Province Create Board

Industry in Critical State J. H. Lavoie Declares; Fameuse Doomed

The creation of a provincial agricultural fruit marketing board was asked of the Quebec Government in a resolution drawn up for presentation at a two-day conference of the Pomological and Fruit Growing Society of Quebec, held in the Queen's Hotel Thursday morning.

Other motions were made with the aim of improving the standardization, classification and packing of apples and to provide an official basis for crop prospects.

Ask Specialist Aid

The government also will be asked to provide financial assistance to agricultural specialists visiting the farmers to guide and instruct fruit growers. The Quebec Agricultural Products Act, it is felt, should be amended to require compulsory classification of apples.

R. Thomson, M.B.E., of Abbotsford, Que., society president, said in an address that Quebec apple growers have had a "moderately profitable" season.

Mr. Thomson, in his report, said that certain factors during the season were disturbing. The abnormally wet spring and summer cost growers many thousands of dollars for extra spray material, gasoline and labor. Picking labor, though highly paid, did not produce nearly enough for the daily wage, he said. Thirdly, the demand for the Fameuse variety hit a low mark due to its excessively small size this year. "It would now appear that Fameuse must be added to Duchess among discarded varieties," the president declared.

Campaign Was Success

In the report of the secretaries, it was disclosed that last fall's advertising campaign for Quebec apples was "a real success". Reports of committees on marketing, resolutions and nominations were also received, and an address was given on the inspection service by Th. Jourdain, assistant chief of the section, in Montreal.

Mayor Camillien Houde was the guest of honor at Thursday night's banquet, with J. H. Lavoie, director of the horticultural service, Department of Agriculture, Quebec, as the guest speaker.

J. H. Lavoie Address

If Quebec's apple industry is to survive, then it must improve the quality of its products, J. H. Lavoie, director of the Horticultural Service, Department of Agriculture, Quebec, told members of the Pomological and Fruit Growing Society of Quebec.

Mr. Lavoie reiterated what President R. Thomson, M.B.E., of Abbotsford, Que., had told members in his address earlier in the day. The president said that due to insect diseases the world famous Fameuse apples, one of Quebec's trade marks, must be added to other discarded varieties.

"The market for Quebec apples has dropped sharply in the past decade, and unless you act swiftly, the products of other Canadian provinces will replace yours, the speaker told his large audience.

Insects have been the main reason for the decline of the quality of Quebec apples and the decrease in the number of apple growers in the province, Mr. Lavoie said.

Whereas, in past years growers could keep large amounts of apples in their cellars during the winter months, the Government official said that this was no longer possible due to the low quality of the fruit.

News Spotlight

Specially Written For The Huntingdon Gleaner By JACK MCNEIL

Britons were told last week by Sir Stafford Cripps that prices of practically everything they buy would be frozen "as soon as possible" to back up the government's hold-the-line wage policy.

Britain's minister of economic affairs and chancellor of the exchequer told the House of Commons last Thursday that the government Board of Trade would order all goods covered by existing price controls to be held at the December-January level.

He said he hoped for a voluntary "freeze" by the Federation of British Industries on the comparatively small number of items not under government control.

This program was obviously in response to trade union opposition against limiting the laborer's pay envelope to its present size without a compensating check on profits and prices.

Sir Stafford coupled the announcement with a warning that "unless we exercise restraint, the sheer facts of the case will demand compulsion which this government is anxious to avoid."

Urging that labor and industry curb wages and profits by voluntary measures, he asked: "Can we take them in a democratic way by free choice, or are we to demand the imposition of them by force?"

Perhaps the greatest threat to the British anti-inflation program is the insistent demand of some 5,000,000 British union members for higher pay, despite a hold-the-line plea by Prime Minister Attlee in a government White Paper issued earlier this month.

Sir Stafford indicated the government was standing firm on the policy of no wage increases except those justified by increased production.

"In the face of overriding national difficulties we must ask that negotiations for wage increases shall either be put off or else conducted in the light of the principles laid down in the White Paper," he said.

Even as unions representing workers in the engineering and shipbuilding industries, railways, coal mines and civil services geared for revolt, the British press generally welcomed the order to hold prices. Newspapers said that more than 200 articles, including such necessities as furniture, cooking utensils and electrical equipment, will be affected.

Germany was more hopelessly partitioned than ever as this week opened.

Last Friday, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, ordered establishment of a German economic commission for Soviet-occupied eastern Germany.

The order seemed to finally close the door on the merging of the economy of the Russian zone with that of Western Germany, which has been repeatedly sought after by Western Powers. It obviously came in answer to the strong economic union of the British and American zones.

The new commission was given broader powers than the German economic administration in the Anglo-American zone. Sokolovsky granted the commission power "to issue orders and instructions binding or on all German organizations in the Soviet zone of Germany in harmony with orders of the Soviet military administration."

Meanwhile, British and American military governors studied German demands for more power in running occupied Western Germany.

On Saturday, after leaving a two-hour conference, Gen. Lucius Clay the American governor, told reporters the demands "had mostly already been taken care of by the progress of events."

He explained that the German proposals, contained in a memorandum written two months ago, were superseded by the reorganization of the combined Anglo-American zones. This expanded the powers of the German administration, he said.

Present at the conference, besides Gen. Clay, were British Lt.-Gen. Sir Brian Robertson and the three top German officials of "Bizonia," the economically-fused British and American zones.

Once again last week-end the weather became more than a casual topic of conversation.

By Saturday floods had rendered thousands of families homeless in at least six states in the south and mid-west United States, and in Ontario an unseasonable rain and sudden thaw turned roads into shallow rivers, paralyzed travel and disrupted communication lines throughout the province.

Steady rains, melting the winter's accumulation of snow and ice, sent streams and rivers rampaging over their banks in Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia and Mississippi. In Dayton, Ohio, alone, about 1,000 families were forced to flee rising waters.

Mississippi was struck by a vicious tornado which killed five persons, injured more than a score and destroyed at least five homes at Newton Friday.

Can We Breed A Super Race

BY LEWIS MILLIGAN

We hear little about Eugenics in these days. Prior to the First World War it was quite a craze in high-brow society circles. Many books were written on the subject, and lecturers travelled across the country preaching the new gospel of the creation of a super-race by means of selective mating of superior persons and the upbringing of their offspring in refined environment. The people who attended these lectures—they were mostly well-dressed ladies—no doubt regarded themselves as superior persons, although most of them were the offspring of very lowly parents who had old-fashioned ideas about selective mating.

I recall attending one of these lectures as a reporter in the early part of 1914. The world at that time was at peace, although there were distant rumblings and "ancestral voices prophesying war". But all was calm and serene in that lecture room, and the lecturer, an American woman, dressed in a long white gown, spoke in soft, aesthetic accents. She painted a verbal picture of two selected and kindred souls coming together in a love match at sunset by a lake. They stood in silence watching the sun go down, and as the orb of day sank beyond the horizon and a star—presumably Venus—appeared, the young lady muttered softly:

Starlight, star bright,
First star I've seen tonight.

I forget what happened after that, but I gathered that the result of that eugenic experiment was the advent of a sublime poet into the world. I don't recall whether the lecturer gave other examples of selective mating for the production of super-artists, musicians, politicians, mechanics or farmers.

Unfortunately this eugenic dream was broken on August 4, 1914, when the Germans, who had a eugenic system of their own, released their supermen upon the world. They did not, however, prove themselves very super.

Something went wrong with the mating. Hitler and his Nazi scientists discovered that the trouble lay in the mixture of Jewish and Aryan blood, and they took drastic measures to eliminate the former. An intensive eugenic system of breeding and education was organized for the production of a pure Aryan race that would rule the world for a thousand years.... Hitler and his super-planners are head, and their pure Aryans are unable to rule themselves.

"Can a man by taking thought add one cubit to his stature?" The Germans believed he could, and they also believed that by means of applied biological and political science they could plan the future. Science has contributed much to the betterment of mankind in time of peace, but it has also made war more horrible and destructive, and it has rendered the future more uncertain than ever. Modern man has acquired a great deal of knowledge about the laws of nature, but in applying that knowledge he is overlooking the laws of human nature.

In a previous article I quoted a statment by Julian Huxley in which he said: "The general run of human nature and human capacity has remained the same for thousands of years". Mr. Huxley claimed that this lack of improvement in human nature had been due to the lack of sufficient "pressure of natural selection to force it upward." He suggested that the State or Society should undertake the task of speeding up the process of human evolution by birth control and the sterilization of feeble-minded and diseased persons. He said we had not only to face the fact that the world would soon be "full up with people," but that "the effective fertility of unskilled laborers is nearly twice as great as the professional classes."

But the world needs more laborers than professionals. Moreover, a large percentage of the professionals and some of the brightest geniuses have risen from the so-called lower classes—notably, Shakespeare, Burns, and Keats. It was probably the remembrance of his lowly origin that prompted Shakespeare to write, "Lowliness is young ambition's ladder, whereto the climber upward turns his face". It is one of the laws of human nature that there is a constant circulation from the lower to the upper classes in a free society—and vice versa. Theer is an old Lancashire saying: "Three generations—from clogs to clogs".

Human beings cannot be bred and raised like prize cattle on a stud-farm. Even prize cattle are liable to "breed back" and deteriorate, and there is probably a greater proportion of degenerates among the upper classes than the lower.

The process of evolution has been going on long before the eugenists and the Marxists arrived on the scene, and their attempts to force the pace of progress by artificial means are largely responsible for the mess the world is in today. There is a higher Intelligence and Government than that of man behind this universe, and the existence of diversities in the human race is no accident. There is a story of how Bulstrode Whitelocke, Cromwell's minister at the Hague, was tossing sleeplessly on his bed. His servant who slept in the same room, said: "Sir, may I ask you a question?"

"Yes".

"Do you believe that God governed the world well before you came into it?"

"Yes".

"And that He will govern the world well when you are out of it?"

"Yes".

"Then, sir, cannot you trust Him to do so while you are in it?"

There is a passage in the Book of Common Prayer referring to the People, which runs: "Govern them and lift them up for ever".

Margarine House Topic

Canada's Obligation Under Pacts Studied

OTTAWA,—Just whether or not Canada is obligated to permit the importation of oleomargarine into this country under the terms of the Geneva trade agreements is not known by the Government, it was revealed in the House of Commons on Wednesday, by Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Secretary of State for External Affairs.

The Minister added that the terms of the agreement were being studied by the Department of Justice with a view to ascertaining whether it would be required to modify the Dairy Industry Act when the Geneva Agreements came into full force, or whether certain tariff provisions would have to be made which would have the effect of excluding margarine.

He emphasized that the Geneva Agreements would not come into full force for some months yet, and that the Government would await the advice of the Department of Justice as to just what Canada's position was before deciding what steps should be taken.

The Minister was replying to Hon. John Bracken, official opposition leader, who wanted to know whether Canada had agreed under the Geneva trade pacts to remove the embargo on oleomargarine.

In his long involved answer, Mr. St. Laurent explained that the trade pacts were now in effect only provisionally and only as regards parts one and three. Part two was only in effect to the extent that it was not inconsistent with existing legislation. Since the margarine question came under this part, margarine accordingly was not affected at the present time.

Montreal Milk Producers Make Addition to Plant

More Efficient and Economical Operation Will be Possible

The 28th Annual Meeting of Montreal Milk Producers' Co-operative Association was held recently, at the Normandie Roof, Mount Royal Hotel, with more than five hundred members present, representing the 28 branches. President J. K. Dickson, Ormstown, conducted the business meeting.

Additional nominations made for the office of Director included Gerard Tremblay, St. Eustache, Wm. Wilson, Lachute, James Wallace, Athelstan and Charles Reid, Huntingdon.

The resolution to amend the By-laws by numbering the seats for directors was carried, which means that in future each seat for the nine directors will be voted on separately, and not as a group.

There was discussion as to whether the nominations should be made at the Advisory Board meeting in December. It was pointed out that since the Advisory Board represents all the Branches of the Association that it would give branches more influence on the election if the Advisory Board continued as a nominating committee. This method would also give the members at large an opportunity to know who were candidates for the board of directors and to prepare to elect the directors of their choice. The meeting agreed with this procedure.

Regarding the other proposed amendments the Chairman pointed out that the Co-operative Act definitely stipulates that directors whose term has expired "shall be eligible for re-election." Mr. Dickson stated that he had obtained advice on the question of electing directors in groups of three for three years each. The concensus of expert opinion on this question was that this method would also be contrary to the provisons of the Act. In some cases, he explained, the By-laws expressly provide that a certain number of the former members of the board of directors must be re-elected. No one in the meeting seemed to think that this provision was necessary and no amendment was offered in this respect.

The provision that the Secretary of the Association should keep in contact with the branches was carried. Messrs. Molson & Cushing, Chartered Accountants, were appointed Auditors.

Mr. David Black and Mr. J. P. Beauchemin, Directors, gave sincere tributes to the long and faithful service rendered the Association by the late W. W. Moore, Secretary-Manager.

The printed Directors' report gave details of the work of the past year in both languages. Land adjoining the new plant on Notre Dame St. was purchased in December and an addition to the building is under construction. With one plant instead of two, more efficient and economical operation will be possible. The report states:

"Owing to the tremendous volume of business and the difficulty of getting experienced office help, we were late in getting out payments for milk in several months. This coming year, we expect to be in better shape and also hope to resume issuing our news letters, only one having gone out in 1947."

A table of receipts and payments for last three years indicates that the volume of surplus milk has doubled; that the average price for butter fat was 75.8 in 1947, compared to 62.9 in 1946. Lowest receipts of milk were in November at 62,971 and the highest in June at 9,820,449, with a total for the year of 45,544,959 lbs. of milk.

Armed Men Hold Up Store At Hallerton

Force Proprietor to Hand Over Cash at Gunpoint

On Thursday evening around 10.30 o'clock a hold-up took place at the General Store of Mr. Geo. Kenney of Hallerton. Mr. Kenney and Mr. Ralph McClelland, the only two in the store at the time, heard a car drive up to the door, not paying any attention, thinking it was a nearby neighbour coming to do some trading, until a masked man, revolver in hand entered, followed by another man, also flashing a revolver.

Mr. Kenney and Mr. McClelland were ordered to line up near the counter. After being satisfied that Mr. McClelland had no money in his possession, they ordered Mr. Kenney to hand over his. Mr. Kenney going to the safe, returned with $48.00 in cash and handed it to the bandits. He was then ordered to cut the telephone wires. After that they were ordered not to make a move for at least 20 minutes or it would be too bad for them. The bandits backed out of the store, jumped into a car and fled. It is not known if there was a third man driving the car or not.

Mr. McClelland ran to a near-by neighbour and phoned the police as soon as the car was gone. In a short time detectives were on the scene. No arrests have been made as at time of writing.

House Favors Pensions at 65 If Ottawa Aids

Amendment to Liberal Old Age Plan Passes

QUEBEC (CP)—The Legislative Assembly asked the Provincial Government to "give full and complete justice to the aged people of the province who are over 65" and Premier Duplessis promised that the Provincial Government would pay 50 per cent of old-age pensions to needy people between 65 and 70 if the Federal Government will provide the other 50 per cent.

The Assembly by a vote of 47 to 26 turned down a Liberal motion asking the Government to amend the Old Age Pensions Act so that needy persons could get pensions at 65 but the members approved a government amendment to the motion favoring "the application of an old age pension system suitable to our province" giving justice to those over 65.

While the motion and the amendment were both aimed at reducing the minimum age for eligibility to pension from 70 to 65, the difference in wording led to an all-day debate centering on relations between the Federal and Provincial Governments and compared what the Liberals and the Union Nationale did for the aged.

Under present agreements between Ottawa and the provinces, pensions are paid to persons over 70. The Federal Government pays three-quarters while the Provincial Government pays the other quarter.

25,000 Would Benefit In Pensions Change

Several Liberal speakers took part in the old age pensions debate while Premier Duplessis and Hon. Jean Paul Sauve, Welfare Minister, spoke for the Government.

J. Emile Dubreuil (L.—Montreal - Jeanne - Mance) charged that officials of the old-age pensions department had wilfully led National Union sympathizers to make false declarations by swearing that they needed old age pensions while in reality they had a sizeable income.

Lionel Ross (L—Montreal-Verdun) said that close to 25,000 persons would benefit if the minimum age for old-age pensions was reduced from 70 to 65. It was tragic that thousands who are laid off work at 65 because of their age must wait five years before receiving old age pensions.

Prices Probe Finds Canadians Cutting Meat Purchases

Ottawa, (CP)—A parliamentary prices committee—finally formed after a hectic legislative ride through the Commons— began a "fact-finding" hunt into possible food-price profiteering last week. And even as it did so, the word got that Canadians have cut purchases of meat to such an extent that the United Kingdom meat contract has been re-opened and meat-hungry Britons soon may be getting a surplus from this country.

The agriculture officials who disclosed this development were not prepared to say to what extent the reduced Canadian meat buying was due to higher prices. There was no indication from the prices committee's first sittings that it would probe the meat field. The committee seemed mainly interested in directing its attentions toward possible butter hoarding and investigating the Western baking industry.

But January figures disclosed that Canadian meat purchases had dropped to such an extent that, coupled with an unexpected increase in marketing, the meat board had been getting far more bacon and beef than it had planned to send to Britain, or which Britain had made provision to buy.

The present bacon-beef contract with Britain envisages Canada sending 45,000,000 pounds of bacon and 8,000,000 pounds of beef in the first quarter of the year. But because these figures now can be greatly exceeded, negotiations have been opened with the British food ministry to see what can be done about it.

There is no doubt Britain would like the surplus meat, but again it's a problem of dollars. However, Agriculture Minister Gardiner did not see any insurmountable problem. It would perhaps require an additional $5,000,000 to pay for the increased shipments and the United Kingdom could possibly provide that or Canada could allow her to increase her deductions from the Canadian loan by that amount, he said.

Meat board stocks began to pile up when domestic buying dropped off. Canadian farmers marketed in January 589,945 pigs as compared with 320,468 in January last year and increased their cattle marketings from 117,513, to 124,871.

Help Huntingdon Youth Association

SINCE the fall of 1947 the people of Huntingdon have had a chance to witness to better advantage the workings of the Huntingdon Youth Association. The activities have been brought more to light since the new building has been in operation and the youth of the town have been enjoying the various developments. The junior hockey teams have been more to the fore this winter and a live committee has been conducting this branch. The teen town members have staged several different events and more are planned, which the public have had the chance of attending. The boxing match showed what could be done with the youngsters in a very short time and no doubt other exhibitions will be staged as the development of the boys continues. There is something doing at the Youth Center every night of the week and the youth are taking advantage of the chance to occupy their evenings in worthwhile activities.

Naturally this all costs money and as there is no charge made for membership, it becomes necessary to raise funds in other ways to pay for the upkeep of the association. The Huntingdon Rotary Club has done much in providing funds to help the center carry on and so have the various industrial concerns, but it takes more than this. A drive for funds was made early in the organization of the Youth Center, but the results were very disappointing. A goal of $1,200 was set, but only $800 was collected after some very hard work on the part of the canvassers. No doubt people were not very well acquainted with the proposition at that time and this is the reason that the drive had such poor support. It was therefore decided that the Youth Association would try to raise its funds through other endeavours than straight canvassing. Thus it is that the Youth Association is sponsoring a concert in the O'Connor Theatre, on February 27th, featuring a celebrated violinist, Miss Leona Flood. This is costing money to bring the talented artist to Huntingdon, as a certain sum has to be guaranteed. Mrs. Mae O'Connor has very kindly consented to give up the picture show on the night in question and also has donated the use of the theatre free of charge to the association. This assistance means a big loss to Mrs. O'Connor, but it is a decided help to the Youth Association and deeply appreciated by them. It is thus that the Youth Association is asking everybody to purchase tickets to the concert on Friday, February 27th, so that the theatre is packed to the doors. In this way they will be able to raise a fair sum outside of the guaranteed amount and thus have some funds to pay for running expenses of the Centre. Remember it is the youth of Huntingdon who is benefitting from this concert. Tickets are now on sale at varying prices and an advertisement in this issue tells where they can be obtained, don't wait until the evening, buy yours now and help the Huntingdon Youth Association. You will be assured of first class musical entertainment by an accomplished and outstanding artist. It is further hoped that the concert will fit in with the plan of the Youth Association to educate the members in the art of music appreciation, as a special matinee is to be held in the afternoon for pupils of surrounding schools to attend in groups. In other words it is just another effort on the part of the association to help the youth of the district. Your response to the ticket sale and your attendance at the concert, will show more than anything else your appreciation for the efforts being put forth in behalf of the youth of Huntingdon—make it a full house on February 27th.

Safety Meeting in Huntingdon

WITH the growing amount of industrialization in Huntingdon today, it is only natural that safety measures should be followed to prevent as much as possible, accidents happening. Not all accidents happen in industry, but more happen there because of the continual hazards that are offered from the use of machinery. In Huntingdon, we are quite free from accidents in comparison with some other points, this is due in good part because employers and workers are safety conscious and are alert to possible accidents. We do not say that no accidents happen here, because they do, but they are more or less of a minor character.

The Quebec Safety League is holding its annual Regional Safety Conference here on Thursday of this week. There will be a dinner at the Chateau for employers, foremen and keymen in the industrial plants. Later in the evening there will be a meeting for all industrial workers to be held at the St. Joseph's Parish Hall. The theme of both these gatherings will be prevention of accidents and methods used to prevent accidents. Any machine, no matter how simple, can be the cause of an accident when proper precautions are ignored. There are laws governing the use of machinery of all kinds which say that certain precautionary measures must be taken to safeguard against accidents. Even though these measures are taken, accidents happen because the operator does not take precautions also. It is the object of the Safety League to warn all persons, those in charge or responsible for machinery and those workers whose work takes them in and around machinery. Many operators get so used to their machines, that they begin to take chances, they have taken them before and got away with it, so they feel they can continue to do so. It is not often that the new operator gets into trouble, as he is more often afraid of the machine and is more wary of the possibilities of danger. When a green operator gets into trouble with his machine, it is more often due to lack of knowledge. But as he develops knowledge of the machine and what it does, he will sometimes take chances that looked dangerous to him before.

It is the purpose of the Safety League to instruct all having to do with machinery, what constitutes danger and what not to do when working around any kind of machinery. This instruction is valuable to all persons, whether they be employed in an industrial plant, or on the farm, in fact anywhere that machines are used. It would be well therefore that all who possibly can, should attend the safety rally at the St. Joseph's Parish Hall. Moving pictures will be shown to further illustrate the talks that will be given.

Talks and moving pictures will also be shown to the school children to instruct them about danger hazards of everyday life. One cannot be too conscious of safety methods and how to prevent accidents. In this modern age and the pace at which we live, hazards are all around us and accidents sometimes prove quite costly and disablement may be permanent and blight an otherwise normal life. Let us all be safety minded.

Rotarians Get Behind United Nations

DURING the past few years the people of Huntingdon have become quite familiar with the Rotary Club and its aims and objects. Since its inauguration here quite a log book of worthwhile community projects is being compiled. The principle of the organization, "Service above self—he profits most who serves best" has been manifest on more than one occasion in the past few years. The Huntingdon Rotary has sponsored many projects of worthwhile importance for the benefit of the many in this community and especially for the children. Some of these benefits have come direct as a cost against the pockets of the members and some have been derived by various forms of sponsored entertainment. No matter where the money came from, it has meant hard work for each and every member of the club. The latest effort in this direction is the drive just concluded for Bundles for Britian, in which food parcels are to be sent to Huntingdon, England from Huntingdon, Que. This drive has been well responded to and the members are highly satisfied with the total amount of contributions received. It only goes to show that a worthwhile organization will always get results because there is a determination to succeed in the undertaking.

But Rotary is not confined to Huntingdon, it is not confined to Canada, or the western hemisphere. It is world-wide—it is international in its scope, it has branches in all countries of the world. One may find members speaking entirely different languages, of different nationalities, different religions and different beliefs, but all rally to the common cause and place service above self. What a wonderful brotherhood if all mankind could be combined to such a bond of service. What more feasible therefore, is it, that we should find the Rotary International ready to back the United Nations in its endeavors to be an effective instrument for free people everywhere. Is not the United Nations to help bring about a better world feeling and cement the nations of the world in a brotherhood that will seek peace rather than war? To assist this effort 310,000 Rotarians in 80 countries and geographical regions are uniting in putting information in effect so that people will be more enlightened as to what the United Nations is doing. One of Rotary's principal objectives is the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace. To this end and in order to assist Rotarians in developing an informed public opinion on the activities and objectives of the United Nations, Rotary International is publishing a monthly digest of United Nations events, and is circulating it to Rotary Clubs throughout the world. The January report has come to hand at The Gleaner office and it contains much worthwhile information on the U.N. It is proposed to send out two more and if the experiment is successful, it will be established as a monthly service. Thus once again Rotary tries to serve best.

Boy Scout - Girl Guide Week

THIS week, from February 15th to the 22nd, is Boy Scout-Girl Guide Week throughout the whole of Canada. In various parts of the Beauharnois district observances of the activities of the week are taking place. As everyone knows, the training received by the boy scouts and the girl guides is one that is uplifting and educational in all senses. Unfortunately, in Huntingdon, the boy scout movement has been allowed to lapse to a great extent and many young boys who were interested in it are now just boy scouts in name only because they lack a leader. But with the Girl Guides, which has been newly inaugurated but a matter of a few years, the story is different. They are an active organization now comprising thirty members and all have their uniforms.

Thus it is that on Friday they are holding an enrollment at the Huntingdon High School Auditorium, at 2 p.m. Mrs. H. S. Spencer, Divisional Commissioner of Girl Guides, of Beauharnois, will be present at the ceremony and parents and friends are invited to attend. On Sunday, the girls will attend divine service at the United Church and occupy special seats in the Church. This is also the birthday of the late Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, and services in his honour are being held throughout the Dominion.

It is apparent that as more and more of our children become Scouts and Guides, they will be inspired to do their best to do their duty to God and their country, to obey the Scout or Guide Law, and to help other people. It is well said that Canadian Scouts and Guides are "Training to Serve Canada". Let us work together to make these programs available to more and more Canadian boys and girls.

Scouting and Guiding do not build fences—they build citizens! Canada's 165,000 Scouts and Guides, under the leadership of some 12,500 volunteer workers, are "Training to Serve Canada".

If you are interested in promoting the unity of Canada—If you want our boys and girls to develop characteristics of unselfish service by learning to help others, by learning to give as well as take, and by learning to live, then you will do well to take a personal interest in Boy Scout-Girl Guide Week, Feb. 15-22. Here is an opportunity for you to observe at first hand the Scouts and Guides of Canada as they go about their business of "Training to Serve Canada".

Good Progress

In recognition of the widespread interest in Bishop's University appeal for funds, the Campaign Executive is happy to report good progress.

The number and size of contributions already received from corporations and individuals constitute an impressive endorsement of the work Bishop's University has been doing for one hundred and five years and of the need for the necessary building programme.

While still far from the $2,500,000 total, all of the campaign workers are both encouraged and inspired to continue and increase their efforts to achieve their large but essential objective.

RECIPES

VARIETY FROM CANNED VEGETABLES

Now is the season when home-makers who put away perishable vegetables from their gardens, in glass jars or tin cans, are benefiting by their forethought. Those long hours in the hot kitchen now seem to have been well spent.

Canned vegetables make the basis of many delicious supper dishes as well as providing the vegetable for a meat accompaniment at dinner.

To supplement the home-canned products there are vegetables on the grocer's shelves, canned commercially, for the benefit of the busy woman.

Good buying of any food demands the correct product for the special need. Canned vegetables are no exception. They come in three grades. The grade mark is easily discernible on the label of the can. The woman who buys her vegetables in cans should know what the grade marks stand for.

Fancy Quality is the highest grade and is as nearly perfect as possible. This grade of vegetables is for use when good colour, uniformity of size and texture are essential. Vegetables of Fancy Quality make excellent salads and are a luxury for most special meals when heated and served as the vegetable course.

Choice Quality vegetables may vary in colour and size but are tender and of good flavour. These are excellent for every day meals.

Standard Quality is the economy grade. Though of excellent food value, the appearance is not so good. In scalloped dishes and soups, vegetables of this grade are excellent.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, recommend buying the three grades for special uses and also suggest that it is always wise to try recipes for fussing up the lower grades to make them attractive.

Although many people are doubtful, it is quite safe to let canned vegetables stand in the can for a few days after it is opened provided they are kept cool and covered.

Howick W.I. Holds Interesting Meeting

HOWICK—The monthly meeting of the Howick Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Bruce Ness. The opening exercises were carried out in the usual manner with Mrs. J. D. Lang in the chair. The Roll Call was answered by 21 ladies giving a Valentine verse on a Health Rule (as this is Health Month).

Letters were read about parcels received overseas. More plans were discussed for sending parcels, and it was decided, for the month of February, to pack and send a parcel under the information given by Kate Aitken, which appeared in a recent issue of the Standard. A donation of $5. is to be sent to the "Save the Children Fund". Also a donation to the F.W.I. Seal Fund. Mrs. Lang reported from the Semi-Annual meeting that it had been mentioned that extra funds should be raised in Leap Year for the Dominion Fund.

The 1948-'49 programme is to be in charge of the Howick ladies with Mrs. Sutherland as convener.

Very interesting current events on Canadian Industries were given by Mrs. Robert Elliott, telling of the 2,500 new industries established in the province of Quebec. (2). The Abitibi Canyon in Ontario which supplies so much power. (3) Of a mine in the James Bay area which may be a diamond centre in the near future. (4) In each province where many new towns and developments have taken place.

A sing-song was enjoyed which included Scotch songs, etc., after which Mrs. Mason Greig gave a splendid paper on "A visit to the Home of Robbie Burns". A picture of the house was shown by Mrs. Greig, and she gave a vivid description of it—the home of the poet at Ayr, Scotland, which still stands. Many people visit this historical place each year, the museum and monument, etc., being of such interest. Mrs. Greig also had an apron which had been sent to her from Scotland, by an Institute member who had made it from material which looked like tailor's linen, and was not rationed. It had won a prize. She also had a Scotch calendar with very pretty scenes which all enjoyed looking at.

The meeting was brought to a close, and dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. R. R. Ness and Mrs. Donald Ness, assisted by Mrs. Roy Younie, Mrs. Bruce Ness, and Mrs. Sutherland.

Food at Cost For $1 Weekly Grocer's Plan to Beat Prices

Sam Lucatch, North Toronto food market proprietor, "decided to do something" about rising prices and enrolled customers in his "Wholesale Club," a scheme to provide food at cost for a membership fees of $1 a week.

Under the plan, each member's purchases are recorded and the $1 fee entitles him to $20 worth of cost-price food from Monday to Saturday. Each item of food carries two price tags—red for club members and black for the general public.

Mr. Lucatch estimates the average family can save 15 to 30 per cent of its weekly food bill through the club. For instance, there is a 13-cent total saving on a loaf of bread, a pound of butter and a dozen eggs. Prices of canned goods are three and four cents cheaper to members. Pecks of potatoes are available to members 13 cents below regular retail prices.

Mr Lucatch said he expects to enrol 300 members in the plan before the end of the week.

"The people seem enthusiastic about the idea," he said, "but some of my suppliers are not." He charged two large bread companies and one cocoa manufactures had threatened to stop supplying him "unless I cease to sell wholesale."

Mr. Lucatch thought better of including meat sales in the plan. "The meat situation is so unsettled that I thought it would be too complicated to attempt to have two prices."

"There is no need for any housewife to be in the dark about what the mark-up on food products is today," he said, "All she has to do is drop into my store and I'll not only tell her, but show her the wholesale bill."

Farm Forums

TULLOCHGORUM GROUP

On Monday night, February 9, the meeting of the Tullochgorum Farm Forum Group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Huntley Greig. There were 16 members present.

Parity prices were discussed and seemed to be a reasonable solution to some of the farmers' economic problems, but all realized, due to the failure of this scheme in the United States, it was not a safe thing for Canada to try. However, all agreed the farmer should have greater bargaining power.

At the next meeting each family will make its contribution to the European Children's fund.

The meeting came to a close after the hostess served delicious refreshments.

TROUT RIVER GROUP

The Trout River Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Arthur on Monday, Feb. 2, with an attendance of 21. The dramatized programme was enjoyed by all and a discussion followed, coming to the conclusion that each farmer family will have to work out their own answers according to their own needs and desires. Cards were played and refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

The Trout River Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arthur on Monday, Feb. 9, with 16 members present. The topic for the evening, "What Price Shall We Ask?" was discussed after the broadcast. It was thought that there should be no subsidies and that the consumer should pay through the market. "500" was enjoyed and refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. W. Arthur. The next meeting, Feb. 19, will be held at the home of Mr. Wallace Rennie.

RIDGE ROAD GROUP

The Ridge Road Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barwick, on Feb. 2. The general opinion of the meeting was that more modern conveniences should be installed in farm homes. This could be done, it was thought, by more of the neighbours co-operating in the use of their labour and machinery, thus leaving more money to be spent on improvements.

The discussion period was followed by a sing song and "500".

Very delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Barwick.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Henri Dorais.

AUBREY'S CORNERS GROUP

The Aubrey's Corners Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. A. Armstrong, on Monday, February 9. There were 18 members present. Following the interesting broadcast the questions were discussed. This Forum does not believe in subsidies since they give the consumer a mistaken idea of the price of farm products. In order to obtain equitable prices farmers should work co-operatively. This was the view of the members on the second question. Cards were played and refreshments were served following the discussion.

Cold Spell Breaks

For over 32 days this part of Canada has been in the grip of severe cold weather that hovered close to the zero mark and for most part dropped below. At the week-end warmer weather came along and on Tuesday, it was the warmest day this winter. Wednesday (today) brought forth squalls that drove the snow at times in a blinding blizzard, but except for the wind the temperature was not too low. On Friday evening, which was when the break really came in the cold weather, rain fell for most part of the night, making the roads and sidewalks shining ice and dangerous to navigate. The warm day on Tuesday helped to break up this ice and made walking and driving much more pleasant. It was also a welcome break for those using oil fuel and coal.

Leona Flood At O'Connor Theatre

Under Auspices Huntingdon Youth Association

MISS LEONA FLOOD

The people of Huntingdon will have a treat when they attend the concert being sponsored by the Huntingdon Youth Association, at the O'Connor Theatre, on Friday, February 27th, in which Miss Leona Flood, talented violinist, is to be featured. Two days before her presentation here, she will give a concert at His Majesty's in Montreal.

Below are some excerpts from the "Lachute Watchman", giving an account of concert given there by Miss Flood and some idea of the type of entertainment will be gained from reading these.

"Undoubtedly proving that music is the universal language, two large audiences of both French and English-speaking persons, attended the violin recital of Miss Leona Flood at the Rio Theatre, on Monday and thrilled to the magic strings of this talented American violinist.

"During the afternoon, Miss Flood played before a packed and appreciative audience of children from the Protestant and Catholic schools of Lachute and Brownsburg.

"The violinist made the presentation very interesting to the children, by describing special features of the compositions and the composers, and giving her talk in the two languages of the province.

"Miss Flood reached to the souls of music lovers, when she said that Schubert's "Ave Maria" would be the first number. The soloist then played the brief but interesting "Flight of the Bumblebee" by Korsakoff, and the rich, easy-flowing "Meditation" from Massenet's Thais. Another Rimsky Korsakoff composition, "Song of India" concluded the request selections, and all these were well received by those present."

Tickets are now on sale and the committee of the Huntingdon Youth Association hopes that all who can will plan to be present at this concert.

Mrs. Davidson had been invited to spend the afternoon with Mrs. Sutton, and upon her return home was completely taken by surprise to find so many present. After "Happy Birthday" had been sung, little Alan Reid carried in a basket of gifts for Mrs. Davidson to unwrap, for which she thanked each one.

Cards were played at 4 tables and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Wm. McPherson.

S. P. Liversidge, Director

Movies:

All boys and girls should take special note of the following announcement. Next Saturday's movie is a long waited for picture entitled "King of the Cowboys" and will start at 1 p.m. instead of 2.30 p.m.

This change in time will enable all children to attend a skating party at the rink sponsored by the Dutch Club. This is going to be a grand party and will include refreshments, so all boys and girls should attend.

Boxing:

Boxing nights continue to be Tuesdays and Thursdays, and although hockey and skating seem to be the drawing card at the moment, the nights for boxing are still open and members are urged to attend. We have endeavoured to line up some more boxing shows but it seems as though they may be a little while coming through, as the Montreal people seem to be in the middle of a busy season. There will be more about this at a later date.

Wednesday Night Girls' Club:

Last Wednesday was a complete success with the nucleus of a grand girls' club in the making. Mrs. McCrimmon and Mrs. Goodall are doing a grand job of leadership and last week's program consisted of folk dancing, sing-song and ping-pong, and a good program is lined up for next Wednesday. All girls of 13 and under should come at 7.30 and get in on the fun.

There is also a program for older girls, teen and twenty, and will consist of a period of P.T., followed by the development of the H.Y.A. Ladies' Choir. Any girls interested in this program should hand names to Miss Olivet Caza or S. P. Liverside as soon as possible, as it is hoped that this program will commence next Wednesday, Feb. 25th.

Campfire Club:

The Campfire Club started last Friday evening with an interested group of about 50 children. With lights out and the flames in the fireplace licking up the chimney, they sat around and listened to the adventures of Jack and Bill. Interest was certainly keen and after the story some games were played and everyone had a good time. Remember boys and girls, next Friday at 7 p.m. Join the Campfire Club for all children age 12 and under.

Hockey:

On Tuesday night D. Laberge scored 2 goals for the Rovers in a regular Bantam League game with Rangers. Jack Chambers was responsible for the losers' only goal.

On Friday night, Valleyfield Jr. Braves play Huntingdon Juniors. On Saturday morning, Rovers and Rockets meet in a regular league game. Bantam semi-finals start on Monday, Feb. 25, with Rovers playing Rangers. The same night will see the Cubs battle it out with the Bears in the final Juvenile game. Children's prices have been reduced to ten cents for the league games, so tell your friends.

Miss Leona Flood Concert:

Tickets for the Leona Flood concert are now on sale, and the public are urged to get behind this concert and thereby help the youth of Huntingdon. This concert will be an experience that none should miss, and considering the talented young lady that Miss Flood is, it would be a shame for anyone to fail to attend. Mark the date down now. Leona Flood, Friday, Feb. 27th, O'Connor Theatre.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORT

H'DON. DOWNS LAPRAIRIE 6-5 IN BEST LOCAL GAME OF THE SEASON

What many sports fans described as the best hockey game in Huntingdon this season was played at Huntingdon Skating Rink, on Friday night. This was an exhibition game played between Laprairie Seniors and Huntingdon Seniors, the visitors coming out on the short end of a 6-5 score. Both teams displayed good sportsmanship and the play was fast.

Huntingdon gained an early lead of four goals before the visitors were able to push through the local defence to beat Beaudin in the Huntdon nets. R. Ste-Marie, flashy winger for the South Shore aggregation, and Clarence Hoy, effective defenceman and former star of Huntingdon Academy when he attended school here, scored the last two goals of the first period for Laprairie.

In the second stanza, Ste-Marie started the counting when he scored his second goal of the game, followed by Senecal driving in a goal for the home team at the 15-minute mark. G. Grant, with 1 minute left in the play, scored Huntingdon's final and winning goal of the game.

The third period saw the agressive Laprairie team display a good brand of hockey that more than once threatened to upset the local lead. Harry Hoy, star defenceman for the visitors, showed good form in a series of final power plays that kept E. Grant and J. Cluff on the Huntingdon defence line busy to protect Beaudin in the local nets.

Spectators were well pleased with the game and requests have been voiced to see more of the Huntingdon Seniors on the home ice.

In Memoriam

O'HARA: In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Mary Doris Royer O'Hara, who passed away at Athelstan, on February 19, 1947.

To you who have a daughter,
Treasure her with care
As you never know the loss
'Til you know she isn't there;
Time may wipe out many things
But this it wipes out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Never forgotten by
Mother, Brothers and Sisters

O'HARA: In loving memory of a dear wife and loving mother, who passed away a year ago.

Happy and smiling, always content,
Loved and respected wherever she went,
Always thoughtful, loving and kind,
What a beautiful memory she left behind.

Always remembered by
Her husband and children, Brian and Polly.

Plane Rescues Plane—and Packs It in the Nose

CRACK-UP of an airplane in Spain was soon cleared up by a British air engineering company. Acting on behalf of an insurance underwriter of the famed Lloyd's of London, the company dispatched a Bristol Freighter, post-war British plane designed for freight hauling, to the scene of the accident. The partly dismantled cracked-up ship was stowed in the Freighter and flown back to Britain. Pictured here is the unloading of a damaged motor through the Freighter's specially designed nose, which opens up for quick and ready action. Now the crashed airplane is being reassembled and repaired in Britain. Soon it will be in the air again.

Some Tempting Recipes

SOUP FOR SUPPER

"Beautiful soup so rich and green waiting in hot tureen. Who for such daintiness would not stoop". Everyone knows the famous dissertation from Alice in Wonderland and most of us could easily become lyrical over a steaming soup on a cold winter evening.

Soup can make a most satisfying supper. It may be creamy white, red, brown or green or even mosaic in colour but, for a main course, the soup should be a rich creamy one or a thick and filling chowder.

So many types of soup are now obtainable in cans that there need be no lack of variations. Even with these soups the combination of two kinds often makes a pleasing change.

CANNED SOUP COMBINATIONS

Vegetable soup plus Cream of Tomato Soup

Pepper Pot Soup plus Vegetable Soup

Cream of Green Pea Soup plus Cream of Tomato Soup

Cream of Mushroom Soup plus Cream of Celery Soup

Cream of Mushroom Soup plus Chicken Noodle Soup

Cream of Tomato Soup plus Cream of Celery Soup

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture suggest two rather unusual recipes for home-made supper soups.

-o-

BAKED BEAN AND TOMATO SOUP

3½ cups canned tomatoes (28 ounce can)
¼ cup finely chopped onion
Small piece bay leaf (optional)
Dash of ground cloves
2 cups baked beans (20 ounce can)
½ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains of pepper

Press tomatoes through a sieve. Add onion, bay leaf and cloves. Simmer 5 minutes in a covered saucepan. Remove bay leaf. Simmer 10 minutes longer. Heat beans with the ½ cup water and sieve or crush. Blend with the tomato mixture. Reheat. Add salt and pepper. Serve piping hot. Six to eight servings.

Duchess Soup

1½ tablespoons fat
1/3 cup finely chopped onion
1½ tablespoons flour
4½ cups milk
3 tablespoons grated cheese
3 egg yolks
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon celery salt
Few grains cayenne pepper

Melt fat and add flour blending well. Stir in milk and onion and heat slowly. Just before serving, beat egg yolks, add grated cheese and milk. Add to the hot soup. Stir and heat for about 2 minutes but do not allow to boil. Add seasonings and serve immediately. Six to eight servings.

-o-

DRIED BEANS

Dried beans have many qualities to commend their use. They may be so conveniently stored and when cooked take the place as main dish of the meal.

Beans appear on the table in many guises. Some are most appetizing, others leave plenty of room for improvement. Beans, being of somewhat bland flavour, offer unlimited possibilities for adventures in seasoning. While the old family recipes for baked beans may be delicious and much appreciated, still beans might be used more often if other methods of cooking were tried.

Overnight soaking and long slow cooking are recommended by the home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Savoury Beans

1 lb. dried white navy beans (2 cups)
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup onions, sliced
2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon molasses
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2½ cups canned tomatoes
½ cup grated cheese

Pick over, wash and soak dried beans overnight in cold water to cover. Drain. Cover with boiling water, add 1 tablespoon salt, cover and simmer until tender, about 2 hours. Drain. Saute the onions in the fat until tender; blend in the flour. Add mustard, molasses, salt, pepper and tomatoes, mix with beans and simmer uncovered for 5 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese. Six servings.

The above recipe as given is for top stove cooking, but the beans may be cooked, placed in a casserole, the other ingredients added and it is ready for re-heating ½ hour before mealtime.

Bean Patties

2 cups cooked dried beans
3 cups corn flakes
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 egg
1 tablespoon catsup
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons fat

Partially mash beans. Roll corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine beans, corn flakes crumbs, onion, egg, catsup, salt and pepper; mix well. Shape into patties; fry in fat until browned, turning only once. Serve with catsup. Yield: six patties (3 inches in diameter).

Navy Bean Chowder

1 cup white navy beans
3 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons salt pork or bacon (cut in small pieces)
2 tablespoons onion
1½ cups diced raw potatoes
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Salt and pepper to taste
Parsley

Pick over, wash and soak beans overnight in cold water to cover. Drain. Simmer in salted water until tender, about 2 hours. Fry salt pork or bacon, add onion and brown. Combine with beans. Add potato. Simmer 15 minutes. In the meantime, melt fat in pan, blend in flour gradually and add milk, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 10 minutes. Add to beans. Season and serve, sprinkled with chopped parsley. Six servings.

Successful Valentine Dance at Chateauguay

Local admirers of St. Valentine greeted him this year with a highly successful dance at the Heights Tennis Club, on Friday night.

The attractive new club house was gay and colourful with decorations, made under the direction of Mr. Duncan Collins and Mr. Keith Meikle. The walls were hung with small bright nose-gays of paper flowers with larger, more elaborate bouquets massed on big red hearts with a lacey, white background. Fat, red cupids who chased each other around these floral obstructions, seemed to be trying to aim their paper arrows at clusters of balloons, suspended from the ceiling.

Over a hundred people danced to the music of Don Wilson's Orchestra. Improvisations by the pianist intrigued many of the younger guests, who crowded around, evidently entranced by the skilful rhythm.

Much amusement was caused during intermission when an unexpected and ghostly voice issued from the loudspeakers with special Valentine greetings to many of the people present.

At one o'clock the dancing was over and St. Valentine gracefully retired for another year.

Farm Forum

HERDMAN GROUP

Herdman Farm Forum Group met Monday evening, Feb. 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallace with a good attendance. After hearing the broadcast a lively discussion followed on the subject, "What price shall we ask?" It has not been the farmer's privilege to ask a price when he buys; he has to pay the retailer what he charges. When he sells he has to take what the dealer or wholesaler offers him, thereby pay for the middleman's profit both ways. As for subsidies, most farmers are opposed to the principle of subsidies, yet we feel as long as the consumer demands cheap food, the only way the farmer can get a fair price is through subsidies. Thereby, the burden would be borne by the general taxpayer and not by the farmer alone as has been in the past.

As to prices: We should have parity prices so that we could be on an equal with other occupations.

Forward prices would be a good thing if workable, it would stabilize farming and we could plan our production with confidence in the future.

A short recreation period was enjoyed by all followed by delicious refreshments served by the hostess.

Next meeting to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Wallace.

McINTOSH CORNER GROUP

The weekly meeting of the McIntosh Corner Group of the Farm Forum was held on Monday evening, Feb. 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Barr, with an attendance of 28.

The broadcast was listened to and discussion followed. Greenleaf and other literature read.

The general opinion was that either subsidies or long term contracts or long term subsidies were the best way for the farmer to know what his prices would be for the future.

It was decided that members bring their donations to the next meeting for the Appeal for Children.

After the discussion cards were played. High scores were held by the following: Ladies, H. Simpson; Gents', Mr. Jos. Sloan; consolation, Mrs. P. Baxter and Mr. Oscar Trainor.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by members.

GORE GROUP

The Gore Farm Forums met on February 2, at the home of Mr. Carl Anderson. There was the usual attendance of members.

Our thoughts could not help but wander as we listened to the play, during the broadcast, from the new tractor the husband wanted, to the modern conveniences we all would like to have.

Considering the statement that farmers could have more modern conveniences now, providing the material was available, it was agreed he would either have to have the available cash or else be sure of sufficient income to cover payments before a farmer should mortgage or increase a mortgage for more than was necessary to farm adequately. There is no doubt that farm income would purchase more if farm supplies and equipment were priced accordingly.

There are many things a farmer and his family do without till he pays off the mortgage, but it was felt there could be a happy medium found between depriving his family of all the nice things of life and going bankrupt.

The Gore Farm Forum met on Monday evening, Feb. 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ord Taylor. After the discussion period, cards were played at three tables. Mr. W. J. McCartney held high score.

Mrs. Cyril Foster thanked the Forum members for so kindly remembering her father, Mr. Robert Howe's 92nd birthday, with a nicely decorated box of treats.

The discussion period was given more to serious thought of what the future holds for the farmer, as regards prices and quantities, than to talk. If the price paid him is high all his costs will be high too; if food subsidies were established as a long term policy, would we really benefit? Why should we accept low prices for our dairy products and pay dearly for our necessities?

Story in Magazine Brings To Mind Former Citizens

ROCKBURN—In the Feb. number of the Readers Digest there appears an account of an attempted Bank Robbery in Northfield, Minn. by the notorious James Boys who had terrorized the Mid-West for some time, and which resulted in the breaking up of the gang. It may be of interest to many to know that two of those taking part in the fray were well known in this vicinity. A. R. (Anselm) Manning was responsible for bringing down two of the robbers and Elias Stacey wounded one. Anselm Manning was born and grew up in the home now known as the Denham property, and was the son of John C. Manning. Elias Stacey was born and lived on the farm and in the same house now owned by F. D. Stevenson and Mr. Stacey's mother was Clarissa Manning, the two men being cousins. Probably the only descendant of the Stacey family now living in this part of the world is the Rev. G. H. Craik.

Saturday evening a Crokinole party was held at the home of Mrs. A. Pollock, and in spite of the blustery and icy weather there was a good attendance, and all seemed to thoroughly enjoy the game and the company. Some Valentine games and contests were participated in and prizes won, lunch was served and shortly after eleven the singing of the National Anthem closed the evening. About $10.00 was added to the fund for electric fixtures for the Church.

The Rockburn W. M. S. Aux. met Friday at the home of Mrs. C. Waller for the World's Day of Prayer. A delicious dinner was served by the hostess assisted by members of the Y. W. M. S. and later the program for the day was given. The members of the society all contributed to the service by offering prayers, and Mrs. W. Currie, as President of the Y. W. M. S. read the Script re Lesson, and rendered the Solo "The Old Rugged Cross" very sweetly. Mrs. Trainor and Miss Cain sang "The Valley of Prayer" and Mrs. George Williams gave a fine reading on "Prayer" The collection amounted to over $6.

Pleased to report Mrs. Denham is making good recovery from her illness and also to hear that Miss J. McMullin is showing some improvement.

The Misses Dolly Goldie and Elaine Masters and Messrs. Kingsley Holbrook and Albert Golding, all of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, are spending the week-end with Mrs. Albert Murphy.

Miss Bernice Goldie visited friends in Montreal for a few days and attended the Ice Follies.

The regular meeting of the Rockburn Y.P.S. was entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Williams, with a good attendance. The president, Jasper Lamb, presided and the meeting opened with a hymn. Mrs. G. A. Goldie read the Scripture Lesson and Miss Iris Williams led in prayer. During the business meeting a 3-act play was planned for with the intention of presenting it in the early spring. An Amateur Hour was arranged for to be held in the Church Hall at the March meeting. The Society resolved to order 100 birthday cards for Mrs. Everett Lindsay to distribute among the members of the Cradle Roll. Bernice Goldie and Norval Blair form the Game committee. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the Williams family for the use of their home for the very enjoyable evening.

Mr. Leslie Rennie spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Trainor, and his many friends are so pleased to see the fine recovery he is making from his recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Trainor and Miss Cain were guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sprague, of Chateauguay, and called on Mr. W. G. Trainor, who is still suffering from the effects of a recent illness.

Mrs. Strange visited friends in Montreal for a few days the past week.

Don't Let Your War Savings Certificates Investment Slip Away

Use the proceeds from your War Savings Certificates to help toward the things you want most-and to help you meet tomorrow's opportunities and emergencies. That's what far-sighted folk are doing with their Certificate money.

Many of these wise people are simply bringing all their Certificates to the bank of Montreal for safekeeping until they mature. Then the B of M redeems them automatically and credits the money to the owner's saving account. The cost for this service is very low.

Why not drop your Certificates in at your B of M branch tomorrow? W. K. Pope, local manager, says he will be glad to open a special account for this purpose for anyone who hasn't already a B of M savings account. (Advt.)

Hockey and Curling Provide Entertainment For Howick

HOWICK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

HOWICK—The pupils of Grades one to eleven in Howick High School voiced great enthusiasm in supporting the Save the Children Campaign which opened on Monday, February 9. An objective has been set in each classroom. This campaign closes in the school on Thursday, February 17. The sum of the contributions received will be reported next week.

On Feb. 7, H. H. S. boys played at Valleyfield against the Gault Institute team, losing 13-1, with Howick opening the score with a goal by Owen Ness. Valleyfield piled up six goals in the first period, four in the second and three in the third.

The H.H.S. girls were more fortunate, winning 3-0 with two goals by Barbara Jandron and one by Bernice Ness.

Howick High School Boys' and Girls' Teams were visitors on Friday night, February 13, at Ormstown.

The girls' game was a very fast one, both teams showing great improvement over the game played in Howick two days before, resulting in a score of 1—0 with a victory for Howick. The only goal of the game was scored by Barbara Jandron of Howick only three minutes before the end of the third period.

The Howick Curlers smiled when they read last week's Gleaner. Miss Etta Stewart was referred to as a former curler in the write-up about the Ormstown bonspiel. Those who had just finished a club game against Miss Stewart, with the score 13-3 in her favour, found her a very present threat in their race for the yearly prizes. A few Howick curlers may retire, but a Stewart, never. They rest for a while, then come back stronger than ever. In the above mentioned game, wicks, draws or guards were all child's play to Miss Stewart and when the girls heard a clear commanding voice say, "Play right here", they played, and when they heard "Sweep girls" they SWEPT. No dilly-dallying around when you play for Miss Stewart and her enthusiasm is contagious which makes good curling.

Mrs. Sid. Stewart follows the same pattern. She has been resting but when one of the skips for the bonspiel fell ill Mrs. Sid. came to the rescue and I have an idea Mrs. Gruer from Aubrey was a bit uneasy during that semi-final game.

At present, Miss Stewart's sister, Mrs. Carruthers, is resting, after a severe back injury. This year she is back "glass skipping," but if her husband can buy her a reliable pair of non-skid rubbers, no doubt Mrs. Carruthers will be on the ice next year.

Thirty-five years from now someone may be writing a similar item about Mrs. Russell Stewart who has made a good start in upholding the family traditions.

Regret to learn that Miss Stewart has skipped on the cellar stairs and sprained her ankle—resting again!

"Do women need to suffer so?"—mothers are often asked. One mother writes:

Paradol is the answer for women who suffer each month. Quick relief also from headaches and neuralgic pains. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance. Carry Paradol in your purse.

Chateauguay Heights To Become Separate Town

CHATEAUGUAY— On Wednesday, Feb. 15, a bill to incorporate under the name of The Town of Chateauguay Heights, that part of the Town of Chateauguay known as the Heights, as a separate town was given the approval of the Public Bills Committee at Quebec.

The territory involved is bounded on the east by the Chateauguay-Laprairie County line; on the south by the Irvin Watt Farm; on the west by a line drawn between the N.Y.C. Railway property and the Watt farm running along the western boundry of the property of Eugene Cote, and on the north by the N.Y.C. Railway to Mountain Ave., and from that point by the property line on the north side of Robert Ave., followed through to the Laprairie County line. Properties on the north side of Robert Ave., west of Mountain Ave., are also included in the new town.

The Town of Chateauguay Heights will be governed by a council consisting of a mayor and four aldermen, to be elected at large for two year terms, commencing June 1, 1948.

This part of the Town of Chateauguay was originally developed as a summer resort in 1913, but, as the years have gone by, more houses have been built for year around occupancy, and most of those originally intended for summer use have been winterized.

While a census has not been taken, the present population of the new town is estimated at about 700. The affected area is for the most part too far away from the Chateauguay River to have any protection from that source against fire and one of the first problems that faces the new council will be to arrange some form of fire protection for the town.

It is expected that new building in the town will be increased considerably during the next few years and that added revenue from this source will assist in providing funds for needed improvements of this nature.

A meeting of proprietors of the new town will be called when the bill has been given final approval, which it is expected will be within the next week or ten days.

Hockey Playoffs

When the teams met again on Sunday afternoon, the Royals made off with a 4 to 3 victory over the "Champs" after 15 minutes of overtime play.

Bill Wilson, scoring for Royals got two, while Gordie Craig and Hank Canvin each got one. Ken Dennis and John Christe were Monarchs goal getters, scoring two and one respectively.

By BRIAN SWARBRICK

"The tumult and the shouting dies
The captains and the kings depart . . ."

Written for Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, these lines from Kipling's "Recessional" are applicable to the Fifth Winter Olympic Games held this month in Switzerland.

If ever an Olympic meeting gathered on a note of tumult, it was the historic international sports pageant just passed: in the midst of the hockey tournament the "shouting" reverberated back and forth across the Atlantic—from the United States to St. Moritz and Davos Platz.

It's an old story now, the dispute between A.H.A. and A.A.U. sponsors in trying to pick a United States Olympic hockey entry. How it might have been avoided we won't try to answer, but the results of "the tumult and the shouting" can now be reviewed.

First, the threat of Avery Brundage, U.S. Olympic Committee chairman, to withdraw all American entries if the A.H.A. was accepted, would have changed the outcome of only one competition if he had carried it through. There would have been a different men's single figure skating champion, in place of Dick Button of Englewood, N.J., who also won the world championship at Davos Platz a week later.

Otherwise, strickly on the basis of records, America's absence would have gone unnoticed.

The U.S. hockey team, over which the furore was raised, did not win and was not recognized as an Olympic entrant. Canada played its eight scheduled games without defeat, and among the team's victims were the Americans—the score 12 - 3.

In regaining the Olympic hockey crown, Canada also regained its status in the international amateur hockey spotlight after losing to a British All-star team at the last Olympics in 1936.

Boston's Gretchen Merrill could not equal Barbara Ann Scott in the women's figure skating event, and the story is repeated with the various nations all down the line in the other competitions.

Meanwhile, Canada did well by the Games. Miss Scott, in becoming the new Olympic skating champion, accomplished a major goal in her brilliant career.

And no body could return to its native country more triumphant than Canada's hockey team, the R.C.A.F. Flyers, whc left Canada on such a note of doubt. Apparently all they needed was practice.

-o-

The Flyers will play 30 exhibition games in Europe before returning to Canada. They will be meeting Canadian opponents in the latter half of the exhibition schedule as they line up against British and Scottish league teams, made up mostly of imported Canadian talent. George Mara and Wally Halder, both of Toronto, were reported as doubtful starters for some of the games, having to return to Canada before the series ends. The Flyers' monument of strength, goalie Murray Dowey, however, will finish the series.

-o-

About 18 years ago, Conn Smythe started to build his then-new Toronto Maple Leafs from the old faltering St. Patricks. Plans included the signing of two promising rookies, Charlie Conacher and Harvey Jackson, who—with Joe Primeau—formed the Leafs' famous "Kid Line."

Conacher went on to become hockey's first top rookie and today, after nearly two decades, he again finds himself a rookie; it's his first season as coach of a full-fledged professional team.

As mentor of Chicago Black Hawks, he stands to cop a mythical coaching rookie award although his opposition as a rookie N.H.L. coach this term is practically nil. Not that fellow-rookie Tommy Ivan takes a back seat in the coaching department; his Detroit Red Wings look to be the boys to beat for the Stanley Cup this season.

But Conacher didn't take over a team similar to the high-powered Wings, as Ivan did. Chazz picked up the reins in a mid-season switch which sent his predecessor, Johnny Gottselig, on the task of repairing the ailing Hawks' farm system. In short, the big bomber started with a cellar-place club while Ivan began with a team which showed power right from the season-opening.

If Detroit is satisfied with Ivan, Chicago boss Bill Tobin is ecstatic over Conacher.

An All-Time Great

Even Gottselig said: "I feel sure that we are very fortunate in securing the services of Charlie Conacher . . . I rate his as one of the all-time great right-wingers."

Under Gottselig, a completely cowed and pitifully inept Black Hawk team won only five games and tied only twice in 25 contests. Out of 18 games, Hawks chalked up seven wins and two ties under Conacher, bettering by far their percentage under Gotselig.

But Charlie has done something more than just guide them into victories. Under the Big Bomber, Chicago Black Hawks are a team to contend with. They've beaten the best in the league, and by some surprisingly wide margins. Then too, they've had some close ones which ended in defeat.

Chicago had an erratic little goalie named Emile (The Cat) Francis, who sometimes was quick as a cat and othertimes was slow as a sloth, a wonder when he was "on" but - - -.

The Big Bomber took Emile aside in practices, and frankly told him he wasn't satisfied. Whatever else Francis learned from Conacher at those meetings is not known, but he's certainly improved.

On top of being "one of the all-time great right wingers" Charles William Conacher would seem well on his way to being a man to watch among present-day National Hockey league coaches.

Dealing With A Slack Hand

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

An architect was showing a friend over a building which he had designed, and which was in process of construction. As they were viewing it from the opposite side of the street the friend, who was a little short-sighted, said, "I don't like those statues." "They're not statues," replied the architect, "they're bricklayers."

I do not vouch for the absolute truth of this story, but it may be taken as a parable. Union bricklayers now lay only from a quarter to a third of the number of bricks they used to lay in a day.

At the end of a day there is no sweeter sense of satisfaction and relaxation than the feeling that one has done a good day's work. "He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand; but the hand of the diligent maketh rich." That is true of other riches than money, for honest work, whether it be mental or physical, is its own reward.

We often hear it said, "this is a restless age". Most restlessness is due to a super-abundance of energy, and this is not due to the lack of opportunity to work it off, as was the case in the days of the Depression. In those days men suffered from enforced idleness. Today there is work for everyone who is willing to put his hand to it. Everywhere throughout the world there is urgent demand for workers in all trades and professions. But everywhere it is the same complaint that too many are "dealing with a slack hand."

I have just received a copy of the East African Standard containing a report of the proceedings of the Kenya Legislative Council, from which the following is an excerpt:

"Mr. F. W. Carpenter (acting Labor Commissioner) said he had seen demands in the African press for a minimum wage of 100 shillings for every worker. The African would have to work twice as hard if he wanted to raise the national income to that extent, and, added the speaker, 'I think he can work twice as hard and still have plenty of energy left'."

If this left-over energy could be applied to the production of more goods and more housing, there would be fewer shortages, lower prices, and higher purchasing power in the wages received. There would also be less restlessness and discontent, from which arise many of the domestic tragedies and social excesses of our time. We sometimes attribute the delinquencies of youth to "superfluous energy", but the delinquencies of adults are often due to the same physical condition.

The farmer is the most contented and moral of men because he is the most industrious. If it were not for his intense interest in his job and his hard work to increase his production, we would all starve. If the farmer were to set a limit to the number of furrows he would plow or the number of cows he would milk in an hour, the bricklayers and all the rest of us "city slickers" would have to pay far higher prices for our food and everything else.

Dundee

DUNDEE—The World's Day of Prayer was observed on Friday, Feb. 13th, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Hagar, under the leadership of Mrs. A. F. Armstrong, president of the W.M.S.

The program prepared for the day in the Missionary Monthly was followed with the theme "The Lord's Prayer", nearly all of the members taking a part.

A special collection was taken which amounted to $6.45, and will be used in world-wide mission services.

After the program the regular business meeting was held. The roll call was the word "power" and was answered by fifteen members. There were also eight visitors present.

A social hour was enjoyed after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Hagar, assisted by a number of the ladies.
