World News In Brief

Cairo, June 30.—(Reuters)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia "reached complete agreement on national and patriotic objectives" at their first meeting in 25 years, according to a joint communique from the kings issued by the Arab League today.

The two kings were "doing their best to ensure for the Arabs their complete independence," the communique said.

Haifa, June 30.—(AP)—The last British troops left the soil of troubled Palestine today, ending 31 years of British military occupation of the Holy Land.

In strict military order, the few remaining soldiers withdrew behind barbed wire barricades to troops and landing craft.

Gen. Gordon H. A. MacMillan, Britain's last military commander in Palestine, was the last British soldier to leave Palestine, in the evacuation which began May 15.

About 2,500 troops in all were in the last group to be evacuated.

Halifax, June 30.—(AP)—The liner Continental docked here today from Antwerp with 321 passengers, including 300 displaced persons from Germany. They will settle in Canada.

Among passengers was a John Boettiger, son-in-law of the late President Roosevelt, who is returning from a tour of Europe.

Berlin, June 30.—(AP)—One third of the city's population is now in the air raid shelter, a threat to the air lifeline to Berlin, found a supposed mass of obstacles was just an old balloon that has flown a long time in the corridor between Berlin and the British zone.

Excited United States air force officials, suspecting a threat to the air lifeline to Berlin, found a supposed mass of obstacles was just an old balloon that has flown a long time in the corridor between Berlin and the British zone.

Ottawa, June 30.—(CP)—Atlantic coast flag officer, Rear Admiral Cuthbert R. H. Taylor, R.C.N., will retire in the spring of 1949, Defence Minister Claxton announced today.

Rear Admiral Taylor will be succeeded by Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, R.C.N., Oct. 1 when Admiral Taylor goes on retirement leave.

Rail Dispute Is Studied By Mediators

Government Board Seeks To Avert Threatened Walkout.

Montreal, June 30.—A government-appointed mediation board resumed sittings today in Montreal in another attempt to avert a threatened rail strike that would tie up the Canadian railroads from coast to coast.

The board, reconstituted from the conciliation board which first dealt with the question, opened its hearings only one day after Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee of the 18 international brotherhoods involved, set July 15 as the strike deadline.

Hall, in a note to the railways yesterday, said if the union's demands go unmet, a strike will be called at 6 a. m. regional time, July 15. A copy of the note was sent to Prime Minister King, Labor Minister Mitchell and Mr. Justice J.C.A. Cameron, chairman of the mediation board which met today.

The railways answered Hall's note, saying they were ready to join in negotiations for a seven-cent increase as recommended by the board in majority reports.

The unions flatly refused this finding in the spring but Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, representing 28,000 rail workers, agreed to accept the board's minority reports of a 20-cent increase. The international unions, representing 122,000 workers, did not say if they would accept the 20-cent boost.

The trouble has been simmering since last November when the unions made their demands for a 35-cent-an-hour increase. At that time, the railways refused to grant an increase.

In the event negotiations fail, it is believed government seizure of the railways is a possibility.

Relief Supplies Sent To Fukui

Fukui, Japan, June 30.—(AP)—Relief supplies poured today into a 55-mile-long strip of western Japan laid waste by Monday's great earthquake that crumpled this city of 80,000 and left in ruins a score or more of towns.

The allied military government, granting that many bodies may never be found, stuck to an estimate of 3,155 dead and 7,250 seriously injured throughout the area.

(Occupation headquarters in Tokyo, however, on the basis of American medical workers' reports from the scene, put the recovered dead at 56, seriously injured at 1,600 and slightly injured at 4,000. It obviously did not include the 200 children reported by Rift With Cominform Lessens—Party Program Looks To Future Union of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania.

Belgrade, June 30.—(CP)—The Yugoslav Cominform rift and "ideological differences" lessened today when the Yugoslav Communist party announced it would do everything possible to strengthen co-operation with the Soviet Union and other "people's democracies."

The party's program, to be presented by the central committee to its fifth congress July 21, made it clear that Yugoslavia the Cominform controversy was a "family quarrel" rather than a permanent clash.

Though the program did not directly mention the criticism of Yugoslavia by the international Communist information bureau

MARSHAL TITO

Monday, it has published in the official party organ Borba alongside the text of Premier Tito's sharply worded answer last night to Cominform accusations that Yugoslav Communists were "deviating from the Marxist-Leninist line." The answer denied the charges and referred to them as "lies and slander."

The program also declared that Yugoslav Communists would work for a future union of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania "on the basis of national equality."

Last night the Bulgarian Fatherland Front, dominated by Communists, said Cominform criticism of the Yugoslavs "in no way alters the friendly relations existing between the Bulgarian and Yugoslav republics."

The Yugoslav program reasserted that the national independence of the Yugoslav peoples was a precondition of their progress.

It also recommended several steps for "general strengthening" of the Yugoslav army, by tightening up discipline and supplying the forces with "modern war technique."

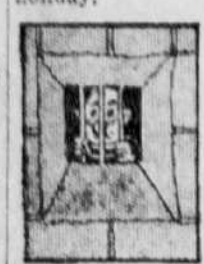

"The national independence of the people of Yugoslavia is the condition for their road to Socialism and their progress in general," the committee said in presenting the following program:

1. "Further strengthening of moral and political unity for the people of Yugoslavia."
2. "Strengthening and further developing of tight co-operation with the Soviet Union."
3. "Strengthening and further developing of tight co-operation with the peoples' democracies."
4. "The most tight co-operation with the Peoples' Republic of Bulgaria and the peoples' republic of Albania and working on forming conditions for uniting the Albanian and Bulgarian peoples with the Yugoslav people on a principle of national equality."
5. "Peaceful co-operation with all countries who wish to co-operate with the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia on the basis of honoring their independence and equality in the framework of the principles of the charter of the United Nations."
6. "Active and co-operation of the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia in the struggle for the democratic anti-imperialistic forces of the world, headed by the Soviet Union, against the anti-democratic imperialistic forces and war-mongers."
7. "The Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia will keep backing all countries and all movements fighting for peace, who are against interfering in the internal affairs of other countries and for respecting their independence, and those who are for peaceful co-operation based on the principles of the organization of the United Nations."
8. "Moral and political help for Cool Weather Tomorrow... Maybe.....

Cooler weather, with some cloudiness, is the weatherman's prediction for the Dominion Day holiday.

COOLER

While the heat wave, which sent the mercury soaring to a new high for the summer of 90 yesterday, was expected to continue through today, cooler air has pushed eastward as far as Toronto and is expected to reach Quebec province this evening.

"Thursday," the weather bureau says, "will be cooler with temperatures about normal for July 1. However, the weather patterns northwest of the Great Lakes are rather unsettled and reference to forecasts issued later today is considered advisable for anyone requiring a Dominion Day forecast."

With such forthright admission by the bureau that conditions may change, our suggestion is that you get prepared for rain and shine when you set out on your holiday picnics tomorrow.

Ottawa Gives Explanation Of High Costs

Ottawa, June 30.—(CP)—The Government, digging deep into a lot of all-too-true figures, has come up with another answer to the riddle of why just plain living is so darned expensive.

The Bureau of Statistics issued a report yesterday giving these reasons:

1. Canada's trade status has been upped by "austerity" restrictions on certain imports.
2. Capital expenditure—investment in buildings, machinery and equipment—is at a high level.
3. Income tax is soaring.

These are the facts on that income question: Salaries and wages jumped from $1,413,000,000 during the first three months of 1947 to $1,607,000,000 in the same period this year.

What's the answer? The Bureau puts it this way: "It would seem evident that these pressures will not abate until there is some reduction in the rate of capital expenditure or some increase in the economy's rate of saving."

(That last part means that the best thing Canadians can do is save more and spend less.)

In the long run, boosted production could help stem the price rise because supplies of durable goods are built up as the demand goes down.

"As consumer goods accumulate and individuals' most urgent needs are filled, they become more willing to increase their rate of saving," the report said. "Similarly, as new plants are built, business requirements for capital become less acute and this decline in the demands for new equipment also helps remove the upward pressure on prices."

It said that construction contracts issued during May totaled $140,000,000, almost twice the total for the same month in 1947. Imports during the first quarter of 1948 cost $27,000,000 more than imports during the same period of 1947. But prices have been so much higher that the actual volume of imports was smaller. Most of the

London Dock Workers Go Back To Jobs

Strike Ends But Effects Will Be Felt Until End of Year.

London, June 30.—(Reuters)—London's great dock area, strike-bound for 17 days, sprang to life again today as workers obeyed their leaders' call to bow to the Government's proclamation of a state of emergency to save vital supplies.

Barges were untethered and cranes heaved into action, but it was thought likely that the effects of the hold-up would be felt until the end of the year.

Clerks, lightermen, bargemen and stevedores who had joined in the dispute were also back on the job, as were sympathy strikers on Merseyside, on England's northwest coast, and Tilbury, down-river from London.

The strike, which tied up more than 150 ships in the Thames alone, was set off by the refusal of eleven men to handle a "dirty cargo" of zinc oxide without extra pay.

As food and export cargoes piled up, the Government stepped in with a proclamation of a state of emergency to back union efforts to get the strike called off. It was widely felt that the root cause of the strike was dissatisfaction in dockland with the way dock workers' interests were handled by the gigantic transport and general workers' union.

London, June 30.—(Reuters)—George Bernard Shaw, in an article published today in the Communist Daily Worker, criticizes the Government and particularly singles out Foreign Secretary Bevin for the handling of the dock strike.

Shaw writes that the Government should have ordered the dock company to comply with the demands of the strikers and taken the case to court.

Commenting that when a Member asked in the House of Commons why the Government had not pursued this course Bevin "made the astounding reply that to do so would destroy the whole basis of the Trade Union movement," Shaw adds:

"It is clear that Bevin, normally a Socialist Foreign Minister, is not a Socialist at all but a trade unionist and transport man first and last."

End Of Strike Is Near As Seniority Issue Settled

Cyprien Miron, conciliation officer of the Provincial Department of Labor, told the Record in a long distance telephone interview from Montreal this morning that insofar as the reasons for the actual dispute are concerned, the twelve-week-old Canadian Silk Products strike has been settled.

Although the strike is still in force, operators and employees are now negotiating the other terms of their collective agreement to replace the contract which expired at the end of April. In the event that an agreement is not reached on the terms of this contract, said Mr. Miron, the Labor Relations Act provides that the differences will be referred to conciliation and arbitration.

At long last, however, the seniority issue has been settled. This question of transfers and promotions remained for twelve weeks the main obstacle against which all negotiations broke down. Mr. Miron stated that with the compromise agreement on the seniority clause, negotiations had reached such a satisfactory stage that his participation in the Montreal meetings which began yesterday and are continuing today, has been unnecessary.

Pending the settlement of the collective agreement between the company and employees, the union yesterday relaxed the picketing regulations to allow office workers, maintenance crews and materials to enter the Drummond Street mill. This move by the union was made in anticipation of an early end to the walkout.

U.S. Flies Food To Berlin

C.S.L. Offers $1,000 Reward

Toronto, June 30.—(CP)—A reward of $1,000 has been posted for information leading to the conviction of men who boarded the Canadian Steamship Lines freighter Maritan and injured five members of her crew.

The steamship company, one of four involved in a dispute with the Canadian Seamen's Union (C.S.U.), over contracts, announced the reward yesterday.

At the same time a C.S.L. spokesman at the lakehead said orders would be given to shoot "unauthorized persons" who attempted to go aboard.

Martian crew members said 10 men armed with baseball bats and rubber-encased steel rods swarmed aboard the Maritan at dawn yesterday. They set upon the sleeping crew members, smashed the galley and dishes and fled before police arrived.

The companies in the dispute—besides the C.S.L. there are Northwest Steamships, Sarnia Steamships and Colonial Steamships—have announced their refusal to deal with the C.S.U. on grounds that the lines have manned their ships with members of the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union (Ind.) with which they say they have signed contracts.

Labor Minister Mitchell told the House of Commons that, so far as he is concerned, no Government controller will be appointed for the companies involved in the dispute.

New York To Raise Subway Price Tonight

New York, June 30.—(AP)—Inflation takes its toll at midnight tonight on one of New York's proudest boasts.

For years the cry hailing the subway: "The longest ride in the world for a nickel"—all of 26 miles. Tomorrow the fare for the usually bustling trip will be boosted from five to 10 cents.

The ailing city-owned transit systems will be richer by $81,000,000 a year.

But don't expect to find gold-covered straps to hand from on your next visit. And an oxygen mask will still come in handy: They won't be installing air conditioning.

Most of the added revenue will offset deficits and the remainder will pay a long-awaited 24-cents-an-hour increase for the 34,000 transit workers.

Some quarters believe the pay increase will have a beneficial effect on the attitude of conditions towards the tortured customers. They expect a new tone of solicitude when the platform conductor places his knee in the small of your back to help you into the packed car.

Right now the law of the jungle.

W.P. Bull, K.C., Dies At Niagara

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., June 30.—(CP)—William Perkins Bull, K.C., 78-year-old lawyer-author, died here today.

Mr. Bull, who helped back financially the early expeditions of Byrd and Amundsen, became known internationally for his varied business interests, which included sugar plantations in Cuba, for the historical books he wrote and for connection with the Horlick family of malted milk fame.

On one of his many ocean voyages, the big, bearded Canadian lawyer met Col. William Horlick, founder of the malted milk company at Racine, Wis.

A few years later Mr. Bull acted as attorney for Mrs. Mabelle Horlick, daughter of Col. Horlick, in her divorce action against Dr. John S. Streeter. The divorce was granted. Dr. Streeter, in turn, sued Mr. Bull and a detective agency for $250,000 damages, claiming their constant shadowing had injured his health. The claim was settled out of court.

Isley Resigns Portfolio Today

Ottawa, June 30.—(CP)—Justice Minister Isley, 54, a Cabinet minister since October 23, 1935, resigns his portfolio today.

He will be associated with the law firm of the late Col. J. L. Ralston, wartime defence minister. Mr. Isley, an honorary member of the Quebec Bar Association because of his position as Justice Minister, was sworn in last Saturday as an active member.

Debate On Flood Control Delays House Prorogation

By GEORGE KITCHEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, June 30.—(CP)—The B. C. floods, receding on the west coast, roared into the Commons last night and washed out any hope of a late-hour prorogation.

As the Chamber drove to clear the decks for the official closing ceremony, George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) and a crew of opposition members dropped members into a two-hour whirlpool over the size of the Federal contribution toward flood rehabilitation.

They criticized the $5,000,000 grant being provided and suggested final settlement be left open until the total flood damage has been assessed.

Blocking the prorogation further, C.C.F. members launched a mid-sized cost-of-living debate on the Finance Department estimates in an unsuccessful attempt to learn what the Government plans to do about the reorganization of the prices committee. The committee suggested action to bring down the cost of living.

The expectation is that the finance estimates will be polished off today along with the remaining appropriations, most of them made up of late-hour supplementary estimates, and that the prorogation ceremony will be held late today or early this evening.

At the House opening, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said Canada will be represented at the Commonwealth conference of Prime Ministers in London next October and indicated he might possibly be the Dominion's representative.

Labor Minister Mitchell said no Government controller will be appointed for companies involved in the lake shipping dispute.

The Senate met briefly and adjourned until today for the possibly prorogation ceremony.

In the side debate on prices, Finance Minister Abbott reiterated that he could not say when the Government would remove the 25-per-cent excise taxes imposed last November in the dollar-conservation program. This was one of the recommendations of the prices committee.

However, the Government would give "immediate consideration" to the committee's suggestions, which also included a request for reimposition of some price ceilings and revival of some subsidies.

Stanley Knowles (CFC—Windsor, North Centre) said the question of the high cost of living was "embarrassing" to the Government. It had caused "incipient rebellion" among Liberals and the Government possibly was finding it difficult to "save its face."

Rodney Adamson (PC—York West) tried unsuccessfully to abolish the foreign exchange control board by moving that an estimate for $268,000, earmarked to cover the board's expenditures, be reduced to $1. The motion was defeated on a vocal vote.

Canada's Growth Recalled On Eve Of 81st Birthday

By PHILIP CALDER

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Canada tomorrow will celebrate the 81st anniversary of her coming nationhood. The British North America Act, passed by the British Parliament, July 1, 1867, incorporating Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, created the first Dominion within the British Empire.

Today, as senior Dominion within the British Commonwealth of Nations, she assumes greater importance than ever before in her history. As a member of the United Nations Security Council, Canada has taken a leading position in world affairs as spokesman for the middle powers. Her position as the world's third trading nation has given Canada new and grave responsibilities in the prolonged post-war settlement.

In the formative years of the last century when the pioneers of the far-flung colonies of British North America were attempting to bring unity and political harmony to their land, it was on the recommendation of Lord Durham that self-government and legislative union were brought to Upper and Lower Canada.

But Canadian statesmen of the time had wider vision. They dreamed of a great nation stretching from sea to sea. Confederation marked the first important step in the fulfillment of that dream.

In 1870 the province of Manitoba was admitted to the union and in 1871 British Columbia came in. In 1873 Prince Edward Island became the seventh province and in 1905 Alberta and Saskatchewan were taken from the Northwest Territories.

Meanwhile, the Dominion was gaining new powers which added to her responsibility as well as her independence. In 1879, she obtained the right to preference in tariffs to another colony (or dominion), in 1881 the right of representation when treaties concerning her interests were being discussed, and in 1897 the right to demand that a treaty considered inimical to her interests should be repealed.

The Statute of Westminster, 1931, saw the culmination of the strides which Canada had been taking toward full, independent nationhood. It defined Canada as one of the "autonomous communities" within the British Empire, equal in status, in no way subordinate, one to another, in any aspect of their domestic or external affairs, though united by a common allegiance to the crown and freely associated as members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

As India, Pakistan and Ceylon assume fuller stature as dominions, Canada's political, economic and cultural growth serve as an example and inspiration to her sister nations.

JIM STEWART AND JANIE
CHIMP ARE MOVIES'

NEWEST TWOSOME

Hollywood—A 15-year-old lady chimp in hobbit boy and a red bra kissed Jimmy Stewart. Jimmy blushed and said: "This is the best I've been able to do in months."

The UI publicity department had the chimp, named Janie, in tow as a publicity stunt for the movie, "You Gotta Stay Happy." Janie flew out to Hollywood with two nursemaids from the Cincinnati, O. zoo.

They asked Jimmy to have lunch with her for the benefit of the newswire and still photographers. Jimmy said, "Sure, but don't tell Errol Flynn."

Jimmy had a sandwich. Janie ate two big bowls of peaches.
"Talk to her," one of the photographers said.

Jimmy turned to the chimp and said: "Have you read any good books lately?"

Janie didn't say anything. "I'm making my usual impression," Jimmy said.

Somebody asked, "What are these pictures for?"

"I know," said Jimmy.
"They will run in all the newspapers and fan magazines with the caption:
'Janie, the chimp, and Errol Flynn.'"

Orchestra leader Charley Barnett and Rita Merritt have agreed on a divorce. Charley's next—his sixth bride—will be Pat Dana (Tommy Dorsey's ex.). They met on the set of "A Song Is Born."

TEMPORARY TRUCE

Lou Costello says that he and Bud Abbott's truce with UI—they're demanding more money—is only temporary. He told me:
"I promised to be a good boy on this picture ('Mexican Hayride') and then I don't know what's going to happen."

The comics called off their lawyers when the studio threatened to get an injunction against them if they attempted to make an independent film off the lot. They have the right to do one a year but not when they're in the studio doghouse.

Readers have been asking:
"Why doesn't M-G-M re-issue some of Jean Harlow's pictures?"
The studio's official reply is that it would be in bad taste. (And most of them are now censored.)

Prediction: RKO's tragic love story, "Your Red Wagon," will be the most talked-about picture of the year. It's another "Seventh Heaven"—proof that Hollywood hasn't forgotten how to make classics. Cathy O'Donnell and Farley Granger, I think, are the greatest romantic team since Janet Gaynor and Charley Farrell.

The economy wave in Hollywood continues. Any day now I expect Toni Seven to change her name to Toni Four.

SHAKEDOWN

It could happen only in Hollywood. A studio recently purchased a true story about a crooked prize fight manager and the fighter whose life he ruined.
In preparation for filming, the studio hired an ex-fighter at $400 a week and told him to get back in shape for the ring scenes.

The ex-pug's manager heard about it and dug up an old contract, but still in force, which said he got half of what the fighter earned. The ex-pug screamed to attorneys but they said he'd have to pay $200 a week to his old manager.

The payoff is that the manager collecting the $200 a week is the same crook who inspired the story the studio purchased!

More about Cy Howard, who originated "My Friend Irma." The guy hates to watch clocks but on a radio show clock-watching is important. So Cy employs a human watch—a guy who sits in the radio booth with Cy, holds a stop watch, and tells him how many minutes he has to spare or lose.
Cy would like everyone to think that the fellow sits there, nodding his head and making a noise like a clock ticking. But this, I assure you, does not happen.

PITCHING
HORSESHOES

BY BILLY ROSE

The Champagne and Caviar Award to Charles Winninger.

A couple of years back I announced that I would send a hamper of goodies to anyone in the entertainment business who did something which made my corpuscles play ringolevio with each other. But unfortunately, like most people whose business is pleasure, I am seldom bemused by the muses, and I haven't sent the pretty package out in almost eight months.

But today my brownies are tying the big red ribbon around the vintage fizzwater and Romanoff fish eggs. They are plastering air-mail stamps and handle-with-care stickers on the award and shipping it west to Winninger for his performance in a new movie called,
"Give My Regards To Broadway."

I was one of an audience of eight that saw this picture last week in the midget movie theatre on my place in Mt. Kisco. This audience consisted of people who have been in the entertainment business all their lives, and if I were a movie, I wouldn't want to be seen by them. They're as inprehensible as a motorcycle cop, and another picture to them is like another picture to the curator at the Metropolitan Museum.

When I told my guests at dinner last Saturday they were going to see one of Darryl Zanuck's new Technicolor musicals, they gave me the fish-eye. "I'll sleep this one out," flipped one of our better playwrights, "unless you're giving away Spode dishes." But ten minutes after the movie started, these week-end toughies were carrying on like kids at the circus.

"Give My Regards" tells the story of what happened to Albert the Great and Family when talkies came in and vaudeville went out.
In addition to money and talent, a lot of taste has gone into the filming of this original by John Klemperer. For a change, you'll find little of the phonus-bologus which gums up the average backstage musical. Producer Oliver Morosco has had the courage not to drag in a new song to muddy the mood. Dance director Seymour Felix has spared us the production number in which a small stage show suddenly dissolves into 200 chorus girls on $200,000 worth of pink clouds. Lloyd Bacon, bless him, has directed the movie as one might expect it to be directed by the son of Frank Bacon, the star of "Lightning."

A talented youngster named Dan Dailey is given star billing, but I think he'd be the first to admit that the Merlin who puts the magic in this movie is Charlie Winninger.
Playing the part of an old vaude-villian, Charlie turns in a performance that will go down in my memory book as one of the best I've seen in 25 years of looking.
He again proves that it takes a great old-timer to bring back old times.

I don't know how the bobby soxers around the country are going to take to a picture which concerns itself with that peculiar mixture of hokum, ham and heartbreak that was vaudeville. Chances are that by this time they're fed up with hearing their elders jabber away about Nora Bayes, Williams and Goffus, Van Hoven and those Monday afternoons at the old Palace Theatre. But the corn-balls who get teary when you mention Keith and Albee are a cinch to clasp the hundred misty minutes of "Give My Regards" to their hearts. For them, it will do what television hasn't yet been able to bring vaudeville back.

I like Dan Dailey better every time I see him, and there's a new bit of blonde buff in this movie named Barbara Lawrence who can borrow a hundred bucks from me anytime. But despite their smiles and young eyes, it's Winninger all the way. The old-timer has taken his part and rewritten it with a sure, subtle and sob-stuffed hand.

I have no idea how this picture is going to sit with those critics who demand a message with their movies, and I guess it's excess verbiage to say I don't care. But it's my hunch that George M.
Cohan, who wrote the song which serves as the movie's title, would have loved it.

Annual Reports Presented At Rotary Club Meeting

Following the tabling of annual reports by the various Rotary committees, retiring president George B. Murphy last night thanked his directors and the members for their whole-hearted support during his term of office and handed the gavel to his successor, E. E. Gilbey.

Mr. Murphy pointed out the main achievements of the club

during the past Rotary year and mentioned particularly the raising of $2,500 in the Rotary Foundation Campaign, the visit to Sherbrooke, from the United States, of a Rotary Foundation Fellowship winner, who was thus given an opportunity of seeing Canada before returning to his home in England.

He also spoke of the visit of several members of the local club to the meeting in Quebec for the exemplification of a district governor's duties, the functioning of a Rotary Information Committee, aid to needy children at Christmas, the sending of food parcels to two clubs overseas and the donation of a Union Jack with pole to an overseas club.

The winning of the provincial public speaking championship by Anthony Abbott, of Bishop's College School, and the Golden Glove Championship by Maurice Everett, were two additional achievements listed by Mr. Murphy. The retiring president also declared that he was pleased to announce that the Pierce Fund for a deserving student, had been put to use this year. He thanked the press and the staff of the New Sherbrooke Hotel for their co-operation and service.

In handing the gavel to the incoming president Mr. Murphy assured him of the continued co-operation and support of all members of the club.

Past President D. J. Salls expressed the satisfaction of the club and particularly the older members for the excellent work accomplished by Mr. Murphy, who, in spite of the fact that he was a "young president" had been a credit to the club.

Past President Walter Sutherland welcomed Mr. Murphy to the ranks of "has-beens" and asked him to accept the past president's pin.

President E. E. Gilbey, in taking over the chair, said he realized it was a great honor for him to assume the responsibility of a club such as Rotary. He expressed his appreciation of the confidence placed in him by his fellow members and said that with the help of his excellent executive and the whole club, he would endeavor to continue in the footsteps of his predecessor that the Sherbrooke Rotary Club—the oldest service club in the city—might lead the way for others who are striving to give community service.

President Gilbey also referred to S. A. Belmont, Jr., who has been transferred to Edmonton, and whose valuable assistance will be greatly missed by his fellow Rotarians. He asked Mr. Belmont to accept the best wishes of the club and said that if Edmonton has a Rotary Club, he is certain they will gain a worthy member, and the city a valuable citizen.

The secretary's report, read by Frank Simms, in the absence of J. R. Simms, revealed that five new members were inducted into the club during the past year. A successful financial year was reviewed by Treasurer H. A. Clark. Bert Lyon, reporting for the Fellowship Committee, stated that there had been 107 visiting Rotarians and 306 guests at the weekly meetings.

HAS BIRTHDAY

FOREST T. KEENE, who is receiving congratulations today on the occasion of his birthday.

A brief report by the music committee was read by the chairman, Tom Keely, and John Bassett, Jr., reporting for the program committee, thanked his fellow members who had each taken over the task of getting speakers for two months. He expressed particular thanks to Everett Goodenough, who had been responsible for bringing the make-up articles from Boston, and to George R. Murphy for giving the Rotarians an opportunity to hear Jeffrey Adam, of Chesterfield, England, who received his M.A. from Harvard on a Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

J. S. Mooney reported an active year for the inter-city committee and Lennox Wilson, in the absence of H. Moffatt, stated that the average attendance at meetings for 1947-48 was $5.92.

Dale Bourcier presented the luncheon committee's report and thanked the management and staff of the New Sherbrooke for their courtesy and co-operation. A brief report on classification was presented by Bert Lloyd, who said that the advisability of a Rotary classification survey had been discussed, but that no decision had been reached.

Past president Douglas Stevenson reported on Rotary Information and said that 10 brief talks had been heard at the meetings. These were well received and, in his opinion, justified their purpose. He expressed his thanks to the past presidents who had provided five of the talks and recommended that the informal method of making Rotary better understood be given a permanent place on the Rotary program. He also mentioned a meeting held recently at the Country Club for the benefit of the new members, who enjoyed a social hour and question period.

Eugene Lalonde reported on transportation, paying particular tribute to J. N. Fraine, who had placed his private car at the disposal of the Rotarians for one of their out of town meetings.

Reporting for the sick committee, Norton Baldwin mentioned that a few of the members were confined to the hospital and referred to the loss of two valued members, Dr. Fred Bradley and Norrey Price, who passed away during the last year.

L. W. Dixon reported that the crippled children committee had attended to 25 cases, 15 in the city and 10 in the surrounding district. Apart from operations and radium treatment, medical supplies and so on for these children, the committee obtained, with the help of the provincial government, artificial legs for three adult cases. He stated that one case had been examined free of charge by Dr. Claude Bertrand, of Montreal, formerly of Sher-

ART THEATRE OPENS SERIES SATURDAY

The Canadian Art Theatre Company has arrived in Rock Island for its summer series. Already behind them was one performance of their opening play, "Night Must Fall," which was played to an enthusiastic house in Hudson, Quebec, last Saturday.

"Night Must Fall" is the grand opener of the series. Saturday night at 8:15, the curtain will rise in the Haskell Opera House on the first local performance, to be followed by another performance there on Monday evening. North Hatley's Town Hall will play host to the play on Wednesday, July 7th, and Maxco's St. Luke's Hall will receive the company on Thursday and Friday, July 8th and 9th. Weekly thereafter the schedule will be repeated with a different play each seven days.

"Night Must Fall" is a murder drama—a three-act play that concerns a young Welsh page-boy and a fussy old woman. The action of the story is laid in England. In the cast will be Maud Whitmore, Silvio Narizzano, Mary Sheppard, Hilda Mulvaney Gray, Mary Forde, Gerry O'Brien and Bruce Raymond. The production is directed and designed by Joy Thomson, with lighting by Neil Madden.

Our Congratulations To
J. H. STEBBINS, who will celebrate his birthday tomorrow, Dominion Day.

Dr. Georges Gauthier Will Head Agronomists Society

Granby, Que., June 30.—Dr. Georges Gauthier, chief of plant protection with the Quebec Department of Agriculture, last night was re-elected president of the administrative council of the Quebec Society of Agronomists.

Other officers re-elected were: Vice-Presidents, Nolasque April, director of the secondary school of agriculture at Ste. Martine, Dr. Gustave Toupin, head of the department of animal husbandry at the Oka agricultural institute; trustee, Henri Bois, Montreal manager of the Co-operative Federation of Quebec.

Members of the advisory board, also re-elected, include Stephane Bolly, superintendent of the provincial civil establishment service for veterans, Elzear Campagna, professor of botany at the superior school of agriculture at Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere; J. A. Proulx, chief reviser of Montreal agricultural grants for Quebec.

The society yesterday passed a resolution suggesting that the provincial government provide the soils division of the Agriculture Department with enough personnel and equipment to undertake and continue research.

The society also asked that the services of several agronomists be retained in view of the need for speeding up soil classification and intensifying research into chemical and physical properties of soils.

Other demands made in resolutions by the society included:

Establishments of climatological stations.

Addition to the division of soils a section devoted to study of habits of living organisms.

Enlargement of research cadres to admit a delegate from each of the superior schools of agriculture, the society of agronomists and the catholic union of farmers.

Consideration of the question of auto insurance where the rates were regarded as onerous.

The society also expressed the view that an order of merit in agriculture should be created. It would recognize the merits of agronomists and farmers rendering service to agriculture.

Yugoslav Situation Is Setback For Russians

By

DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

The alleged defection of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and his captains from the Kremlin still is surrounded with mystery, but this much is clear: There is a break at a strategic point in the Bolshevik western front.

This is the first serious setback of the kind which Russia has encountered among its slave states. The Times of London, in an editorial headed "Tito called to heel" said: "Nothing so apparently unlikely has happened for a long time, and nothing so destructive of Communist unity since the expulsion of Trotsky by the Bolsheviks."

We of course, shouldn't jump to the conclusion that Communism is on the verge of collapse. However, we are entitled to join in a hopeful smile along with the burners of mid-night oil in the harassed chancelleries of the western democracies.

We have had a demonstration that the Bolshevik Magistral line is vulnerable. And your columnist was interested to see the Yugoslav explosion come at a moment when he was telling you he believed Communism would blow up in due course. We may say some day "one world," but it never will be the Communist conception of a global federation of nations shorn of all sovereignty and ruled with an iron hand from Moscow.

The Yugoslav Communist party last night showed its independence by rejecting the charges of the Moscow-dominated Cominform that Tito and his followers had departed from the Marxist line. European observers reported that the country appeared headed for a showdown with mighty Russia.

At the same time various unconfirmed reports—discounted in Belgrade dispatches—were going the rounds of Europe. One was that fighting was taking place inside Yugoslavia. Another said there were Soviet troop movements towards the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade.

This Tito debacle certainly isn't calculated to strengthen the Bolsheviks' hand in their effort to achieve a political coup in Germany by a food blockade which threatens some 2,000,000 Germans in the American-British-French zones of Berlin with hunger, if not starvation. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, labelled this piece of despotic cruelty yesterday as the declaration that if the Russians persist in their blockade it will constitute an act of ruthless inhumanity unparalleled in the history of the world.

A good many people are asking: "What's the point of this?" likely to result in war. I don't think so. As Sir Brian says, the situation in Berlin is grave—"grave not only for the people of Berlin, grave not only for the people of Germany. It is grave for the people of the world."

However, there are no indications that the Muscovites intend to push the matter to the point of gunfire.

Meantime Britain in joining the United States is trying to break the land blockade by intensive flying of food-stuffs to Berlin. The whole nasty situation presents a picture which Moscow could take no pride in having framed for exhibition to future Russian generations in the national art gallery.

SCOTSTOWN

Ice cream social, Friday, July 2, Manse lawn, 7:30 p.m., Presbyterian Circle.

CELEBRATION TO BE HELD AT HATLEY

Hatley, June 30.—For a real, old-time Dominion Day celebration, Hatley once again will be the favorite spot for many residents of the surrounding district, as the day-long July 1st celebration gets underway at 10:30 tomorrow morning with the usual colorful and original street parade.

Floors, decorated cars, teams, trucks, bicycles, horseback riders, and a good band from Canaan, Vt., will keep the spectators entertained for the balance of the morning as the parade begins at the lower end of Main street, and proceeds to the Village Common, where the judging and awarding of the prizes will take place.

Judges at this year's July First Celebration at Hatley will be Ray Demers of Lennoxville, R. L. Desmond of North Hatley, and Miss Catherine I. MacKenzie of Stanstead.

At 11:30, the usual "dinner under the trees" will be served under the spreading maples of Hatley Common, and this event is always a favorite part of the long-established Hatley Celebration. The dinner this year will be served by the ladies, with Mrs. A. Wheeler, as president, Mrs. L. Orcutt as secretary, and Mrs. Cecil Kent as treasurer.

Sports takes the centre of attraction for the afternoon, and begin at 1 p.m. with races and various events for all ages. A baseball game will be played at 3 p.m., between Hatley and Ayer's Cliff.

Refreshments will be served all day, and there will be ice cream and soft drink booths, as well as a special fancy work table.

In addition to the band which will head the parade and entertain the crowds during the afternoon, another American band of a different type will be in Hatley for the evening attraction, which is the big dance in the Municipal Hall. Here, for dancing, at 9 p.m., the All-American Girl Orchestra will provide the music, and as always, the welcome mat is out at Hatley for friends and neighbors from far and near to join with the citizens of the community in celebrating July the First.

British zone's last ground supply link with Berlin, has stopped moving along the Elbe river. The barges have been held up at the Russian control point at Wittenberg.

Rail traffic from the west has been frozen for the past 10 days. Motor traffic along the single highway from Helmstedt to Berlin also remained stopped.

The Russians, relenting in one place of their blockade, announced they had offered to restore fresh milk deliveries to western sectors from their surrounding zone in exchange for compensating food-stuffs.

London, June 30.—(Reuters)—Britain has asked Canada, Australia, South Africa and New Zealand to help in the gigantic task of flying supplies across the Soviet blockade to the western sectors of Berlin. It was authoritatively learned today.

These Dominions have been approached on the possibility of help in this task, at present shouldered by United States fliers and the R.A.F. transport command. Decision on the question rests with the respective Dominion Governments.

But new courtesy posters stare accusingly at almost everyone of the 6,500,000 heroes and heroines who venture daily into the subterranean battle.

The good-manners propaganda indicates:

1—It's not nice to put your feet up on the seat.

2—You will win more smiles if you refrain, in your haste to board a car, from knocking down those trying desperately to get out.

3—Respect will be won if you offer an old lady a seat—if only just once in a while.

Isley Resigns

Mr. Isley has declined to comment on recent rumors that he will also resign his Commons seat for the Nova Scotia constituency of Digby—Annapolis—Kings. It is known that he will confer next month with Liberal party leaders in Nova Scotia.

He has been a member of the Commons since the 1928 general election. He was appointed Revenue Minister in 1935, took over the Finance portfolio in 1940 and became Justice Minister last year.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent whom he succeeded as Justice Minister, likely will take over that portfolio temporarily until a permanent appointment is made.

brooke. He also expressed his thanks to Antonin Deslauriers, city clerk, for his valuable assistance.

Neil Dinning reported on Boys and Girls Work, and said that the Club had given financial help to summer camps, the Y's Men, the Scouts, the St. Patrick's Camp and the Girl Guides. The Rotarians sponsored the public speaking contest, and, with the Y.M.C.A., sponsored the Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament. A party was given for the children at Christmas. Mr. Dinning also mentioned the dental clinic which exists mainly through the support of the Rotary Club, and stated that the Club had financed the Sherbrooke Athletic Rugby team.

The rural-urban committee report was given by Lee Audet, who stated that a meeting had been held in North Hatley, at which there were 65 Rotarians and 65 farmers. The report of Air Cadets was given at a recent meeting by the committee chairman, K. C. F. Mills.

Reporting for vocational service, Gerard McManamy stated that several of the members had spoken at the meetings during the past year, that committees had been formed to act jointly with the D.V.A., and that some of the members had addressed High School student gatherings, in an attempt to give the pupils an insight into vocational service.

Emile Levesque, International service chairman, reported that 16 talks on international subjects by prominent speakers of foreign countries, had been delivered to the Club.

The new president, E. E. Gilbey, will take over his duties at the next regular meeting, July 6. During the months of July and August meetings will be held at noon.

Fukui city, once a bustling silk manufacturing centre, slowly was returning to life, but the city is still without electric lights, power, water, telephones and telegraph.

The Japanese government promised frozen stocks of food to feed the hungry and clothing for the needy.

However, although imports are down—with the result that fewer goods are on sale—exports are up by about $66,000,000.

"This improved trade position has meant that fewer imported goods have been available for the domestic market, while more of our own production has been going abroad."

The Doctor Says

AVOID EXPOSURE TO PRE-VENT SUNSTROKE, HEAT
EXHAUSTION

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Serious sunstroke or heat stroke is accompanied by loss of consciousness. The face has a peculiar reddish flush and the skin is hot and dry. Fever sometimes goes up to 105 or more. Both the pulse and breathing are abnormal. It is an extremely dangerous condition. Those patients who survive for two days are likely to recover, but they are usually highly susceptible to heat in the future and their memories are often impaired.

Jordan

In sunstroke, the normal methods of maintaining body heat regulation seem to be entirely upset. It calls for prompt and even radical treatment.

Less Severe Reaction

Heat exhaustion is a less severe reaction to hot sun or excessive heat. It is related to sunstroke; however, most physicians differentiate between heat exhaustion and sunstroke because the latter is much more dangerous. In heat exhaustion, the principal symptoms are dizziness, excessive sweating, decrease in the amount of urine, of feeling of great weakness, pale-ness and a rapid pulse rate and breathing rate.

Ordinarily, people do not become unconscious with heat exhaustion. Sometimes muscles of the abdomen or the limbs develop pain of a cramp-like nature. The mouth temperature is likely to be below normal or only slightly raised.
Heat exhaustion tends to come on much more slowly than sunstroke. Rest in a cool place for quite a long time may be enough to take care of heat exhaustion but other measures are also necessary.

Both sunstroke and heat exhaustion can be prevented merely by avoiding unnecessary exposure.
In moderate climates there is usually no excuse for getting these unfortunate reactions at all.

* Q—I am 16 years old, six feet tall, and still growing. What can I do to stop growing?

A—So far there is nothing what can be used to stop growth except in the rare cases when it is caused by some condition of the glands—usually the pituitary gland.

WORTHY GRAND MATRON VISITS Q.M. CHAPTER

On Saturday evening, June 19, a gala event took place when Queen Mary Chapter, No. 5, O.E.S., was honored by a visit from their Worthy Grand Matron, Sister Edith Hurn, and Brother Albert Halsall, Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Quebec, Order of the Eastern Star. It was the occasion of the Worthy Grand Matron's official visit, and was attended by a large number of distinguished guests, and members from the surrounding district chapters, who came to pay tribute to Sister Hurn on her visit to her own home Chapter.

The banquet was attended by nearly two hundred members of the Order. The distinguished guests were seated at the head table, presided over by Mrs. Ralph Mosher, W.M., and Mr. Stevens Pye, W.P. of Queen Mary Chapter. The latter acted as master of ceremonies. The banquet hall was attractive with a profusion of flowers, generously donated by several members and friends. The convivers, Mrs. A. Spry and Mrs. Frank Eastman, and their committee deserve much praise for their untiring efforts.

The head table was centered by a three-tier birthday cake, made and donated by the Worthy Matron, and beautifully iced and decorated by Sister Hopkinson, in honor of Queen Mary's thirty-first birthday.

and also to commemorate the forty-second wedding anniversary of two devoted members, Mr. and Mrs. George Phelps, which event, by happy coincidence, fell on the same date. Later it was called to the attention of the members, that one of their distinguished guests, Mrs. Eleanor Wilcox, was celebrating her thirtieth anniversary, and two of their beloved charter members, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Astell, who were also among the distinguished guests, were to celebrate their forty-ninth anniversary in a few days. To all were extended congratulations and best wishes.

A toast to the King was proposed by Brother Stevens Pye, Worthy Grand Patron, after which Brother Halsall complimented the ladies, and led in three cheers and a tiger for Queen Mary Chapter.

The Chapter meeting, which was held in the Masonic Temple, was presided over by the Worthy Matron, Sister Pearl Mosher, assisted by Sister Hurn and Brother Halsall, during which Sister Edith Seal acted as reader, and Sister Olive Wark as soloist. At the close of this dramatic pantomime, gifts were presented by the Chapter to the distinguished guests, who graciously expressed their thanks.

The Ceremony of Initiation was then conducted, after which Sister Hurn gave an inspiring and instructive address. She complimented the Worthy Matron on the efficient and gracious manner in which she conducted her meeting, on the reception and welcome to all the distinguished guests, and on the efficiency of her officers.

By special request of the Worthy Grand Matron, Sister Mosher, called upon every Grand Chapter Officer to say a few words. Their witty remarks and kind words were greatly enjoyed and appreciated.

There was a meeting long to be remembered, and one of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of honorary memberships to Brother and Sister Halsall, by Queen Mary Chapter. At the request of Sister Edith Seal, this pleasant duty was performed by Sister Hurn. Both Brother and Sister Halsall expressed their grateful thanks for this great honor.

The visit of the Worthy Grand Matron to her home Chapter was a fitting climax to the conclusion of her official visits to the District Chapters, during which time she has endeavored herself to all who were privileged to meet her. In closing, she expressed her regret at the expiration of a very happy term at official duties—a period filled with warm friendships and lasting memories.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER, I. O. D. E.

Tuesday evening, June 15, the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E. held their regular monthly meeting in the Mayfair Room at the New Sherbrooke Hotel with a large attendance of members. The meeting was opened in the usual manner gave the financial report. All bills were moved paid.

Mrs. R. Havard, secretary, read the May minutes which were approved. Mrs. D. Bishop, treasurer, gave the financial report. All bills were moved paid.

Mrs. G. Logie, assistant secretary, read a letter from Provincial headquarters stating the headquarters' rooms would be closed during the summer months.

Education secretary, Mrs. E. T. Harbert, read correspondence regarding the bursary given each year to a girl graduating from High School desiring to take up nursing, each primary chapter contributing to this fund.

Mrs. Harbert also made mention of the two proteges of the I. O. D. E. chapters in Sherbrooke, who had won scholarships at the Sherbrooke High School: Miss Loveland received first class standing, and Crossley Loughheed, third class standing. Congratulations were in order for these young students.

Echoes secretary, Miss E. Welsh, reporting on the notes sent to the Echoes magazine, regretted the notes forwarded from Sherbrooke were too late to be published and she hoped all chapters in the future would have their reports sent to the Municipal Chapter secretary in time for publication.

Mrs. Munster read a letter asking the I.O.D.E. in Sherbrooke if they would consider helping in the work of the D.P.'s. As this was the last meeting until the fall, the matter was left for future consideration.

Post-war report given by the convener, Mrs. H. Brown, revealed nineteen articles had been shipped to Provincial headquarters. At this time Mrs. Brown read a letter from Provincial headquarters in Montreal regarding nursery bags to be sent to the Queen Elizabeth hospital in London, England, where there are approximately 5,000 children, and of which institution Princess Elizabeth is president. These nursery bags are to be made during the summer and are to be sent as Christmas presents. It was reported the I.O.D.E. Chapters in Sherbrooke are making 200 bags which will be shipped to provincial headquarters by September 15, and will contain the following articles: a pad of paper, pencil, crayons, comb, tooth-brush, hair ribbon for a girl, or tie for a boy, small toy or game, plastic scissors, small books, soft toys. Donations of above articles will be much appreciated by the different chapters.

Mrs. T. Wyatt, municipal film convener, reported on a letter received from publicity manager of the English film "Henry V" requesting that the managers of the various theatres be approached to consider the return of this film. Mrs. Wyatt reported the request had been sent to the theatres in Sherbrooke, but to date there had been no response.

Ex-service convener, Mrs. R. Loughheed, reported on her visit to the St. Francis Sanatorium where there are six patients. The death was reported of an English bride, and the sympathy of the chapter was extended to the bereaved family.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Frank Garrett, of Preston, England, formerly of Sherbrooke, introduced by Mrs. A. A. Munster, Municipal Regent, addressed the ladies on interesting episodes of her life in England.

Mrs. Garrett, herself an I.O.D.E. member, said she was pleased to speak to the Sherbrooke members recalling the days when she was one of them and congratulated them on maintaining the high ideals of the Order, on which she briefly dwelt.

Mrs. Garrett spoke of Lady Reading and the hospitality she enjoyed from the Canadian people while in Canada during war years. She also referred to the generous help given to England during their years of suffering. Mrs. Garrett spoke of the wonderful work accomplished by the W.V.S. during the war. She being a member and worker of this organization realized the many difficulties involved.

Mrs. Garrett spoke of the dangerous position of the British Isles during the first year of the war, saying "you can always take your hats off to the people in England, especially to the people in London and the towns that were so badly blitzed. From these wonderful people we can learn a great deal."

Mrs. Garrett remarked she was very happy living with English people and was very fond of them. After six years of war they are still living under a terrible strain.

Mrs. Garrett also said she had had the opportunity of seeing Princess Elizabeth's wedding gifts and found it well worth while to wait in line for hours as the gifts were indelible. She remarked while waiting she had met many people with whom she talked about Canada, its people, and ways of living. Mrs. Garrett said she advertised Canada at every chance, for she felt it was not advertised enough and the people in England always and at all times were most anxious to hear about this country and all it stands for.

Mrs. R. Havard thanked Mrs. Garrett for the interesting talk, and speaking for Municipal and Primary chapters and all members of the I.O.D.E., she said she felt there was a great deal to be done to relieve the English people, for Canadians had so much to be thankful for.

After the adjournment of the meeting, "God Save the King" and

St. Francis District Holstein Club Picnic Is Well Attended

The St. Francis District Holstein Club held their annual picnic at Beechmore Farm, Richmond. The weather was perfect and it was gratifying to see the crowd of more than 225 people present.

The owner of Beechmore Farm, Vladimir Ignatieff, was unable to be present but he sent best wishes from Washington for a successful day. His wife welcomed the breeders and their friends to the farm.

In the morning, there were races for young and old, the highlight of the races being the winning of the President's and Past-President's races by Clarence Goodhue, Manager of Raymondale Farm, Vaudreuil, who was unable to be present but he sent best wishes from Washington for a successful day. His wife welcomed the breeders and their friends to the farm.

The afternoon program was in charge of the Club President, Reggie Hodge of Cookshire, who welcomed the guests on behalf of the organization. He then called on Donat Giard of Ste. Rosalie, President of the Quebec Branch of the National Association, for a few remarks. Mr. Giard brought greetings from the Provincial Club.

Next speaker was W. A. Hodge of St. Laurent, 2nd Vice-President of the National Association. C. L. Goodhue, Manager of Raymondale Farm, Vaudreuil, encouraged the breeders to select good cattle and breed them well.

Hermas Lajoie, Secretary of the Provincial Association, told the breeders that their organization was growing continually. However, more attention must be paid to keeping better cattle. He pointed out that the Provincial Association was cooperating with the Artificial Insemination Centre at St. Hyacinthe and that several of the larger breeders were making arrangements to allow their bulls to be used by members of the Artificial Insemination Centre at a reduced fee.

W. L. Carr of Huntingdon, who is classifying Holsteins for the Association, gave a brief outline of the object to be attained in his line of work.

The last speaker called on was A. E. Dyson, President of Richmond County Agricultural Society, who ended his remarks by making a presentation on behalf of the different breed societies, agricultural people to Leon Beaudin, Agronomer, who had left the district to be Agronomer in Huntingdon County.

A judging demonstration was then given by W. L. Carr followed by a judging competition.

The highlight of the program was an auction sale of five heifer calves and one bull calf. N. B. Beach, Fieldman for Carnation Milk, Sherbrooke, looked after the bids.

Lennoxville at the bid of $225. This calf was sired by Grano Montvic Lochinvar 160210 and out of Major Bessie Alcartra 592357.

The second high priced calf was consigned by Mrs. B. M. Hallward, North Hatley, and was purchased by Roger Guimont, Bishopston at $210. Frittenden Regal Francy 764599 was sired by Graymar Sovereign Pasch 190575 and was out of the dam Daisy Testrange Ova 693861. Other consigners included Sam Clark, Sherbrooke, R. B. Skillen, South Durham and purchased by Kenneth Dean, North Hatley, at the sum of $250. New Officers Installed By Rotary Club Of The Boundary--Committees Named--New Secretary Is Appointed Derby Line, June 30. — The regular Monday evening meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary was held this week at Ridgewood Inn, Fitch Bay, instead of the Del Monty Hotel. Featuring the installation of the officers of the club for the year starting July 1st, G. Earl Heath was installed as President, with Maurice L. Moore, as Vice-President.

In remembrance of his fine service as president for the year just ending, a past-president's pin was presented to the retiring president, Claude Willard, by Lawrence Tilton, who complimented Mr. Willard on his work, especially congratulating him for his continuous efforts as chairman of the Rotary Fair.

New Secretary Named
It was announced at the meeting that, due to illness, the secretary, J. D. MacFadyen, had been forced to decline the office and Vincent A. Davis of Ayer's Cliff, was made secretary in his place. In honor of the fine work he had done as secretary for the past few years, Mr. MacFadyen was made an Honorary Member of the club.

The other officers and directors of the club for year 1948-49 are: Treasurer, William T. Greer; directors: Elwin Chadsey, Fred Gilman, Archie Grady, Herbert Rice, Claude Willard and Albert Young.

In announcing the committees for the year, the new president said that he relied upon them for the work and planning that would keep the club as successful in the future as it had been in the past. "At the spring Assembly for incoming officers it was stated that there would be no Rotary International without the individual Rotary clubs, and there can be no clubs unless there are Rotarians. It all comes back in the final analysis to the individual, and if this club does a good job in the coming year the credit is due, not to the president, but to the members who do the work. With your help and co-operation we can 'Move the Boundary' up the line in '48 and '49."

The committee for 1948-49 are: International Service, Charles Hepburn and Herbert Rice; Vocational Service, J. D. Ferguson; Community Service, C. R. MacLean, Chm., with the following sub-committees: Youth Service, David Goodell and L. E. Moore; Traffic Safety, J. M. Kirwin; Student Loans, Wm. Dailey and Elwin Chadsey; Rural-Urban, Albert Young and Gerald Laughrea; Club Service, Maurice Moore.

NEW MUNICIPAL PARK PLANNED AT ROCK ISLAND
Rock Island, June 30. — Preliminary work is now underway to create a municipal park and public playground in Rock Island, to benefit the citizens of both Rock Island and Stanstead, according to information received by the Record this week.

Located just off what is familiarly known as Riverside Drive, on the site of Holmes Pond, bordering the beautifully tree-shaded Tomifolia River, with the overhanging willows, the new park is the result of the gift of the land by the public-spirited and benevolent owner, W. H. Holmes, who desires to see such a project completed for the good of the community at large. Always interested in civic improvement and desiring to do something for the benefit of the children of the community, especially, Mr. Holmes donated the necessary land, consisting of some 4 1/2 acres, to the Town of Rock Island, and his gift has been formally accepted by the Rock Island Municipal Council.

Plans are being prepared for the new park by Crepeau, Cote and Lemieux of Sherbrooke, and a sketch of the park will be published in the "Boundary Line" page as soon as it can be obtained from the engineers.

Preliminary work is now underway on the parksite, with clearing of brush and undergrowth, etc., by volunteer workers, and bulldozing operations will start very shortly. The bed of the old pond will be filled in and considerable landscaping and grading will be necessary.

Plans call for swimming facilities, a fully-equipped children's playground, an open-air rink and softball diamonds, as well as the more conventional items of a park, such as shrubbery, flowers, trees, and benches, etc.

It is anticipated that the new park development will see the present Riverside Drive extended to the College grounds, so that cars may have better access to the park, with the present road continued up to meet the street at the Martin residence, on the edge of the Stanstead College grounds, as it was years ago.

The tenders for the work to be done will be called for as soon as the plans are ready, and it is also planned to inaugurate a fund-raising campaign to finance the work and necessary equipment through public subscription.

OLD BUILDING GETS NEW LOOK

The old G. and G. Building at the foot of the so-called Plain Hill in Rock Island, purchased some time ago by Les McCaffrey, has undergone considerable transformation in recent weeks. Far cry from the bakery it used to be, and remodeled after Mr. McCaffrey purchased it, when it housed a garage at the back, and the A. and P. store in the front part, the building more recently took on a bit of life when J. A. McCloskey leased the upper floor for a recreational centre.

Now, with the dance hall out, and plans underway to extend the A. and P. store back the full length of the street floor, doubling the size of their present space, the building is just about ready to add to Rock Island's housing shortage. Six modern apartments have been built on the upper floor of the building by Mr. McCaffrey, and they will be ready for occupancy July 15th. Another big improvement to Rock Island's business section.

NEW BOOKS FOR CHILDREN NOW AT THE LIBRARY

Derby Line, June 30. — Each month a new group of four books arrives at the Rotary Children's Room in the Haskell Public Library, and these books are eagerly awaited by the large and ever-growing number of boys and girls who patronize the room.

The books for July have just been received, and as always, make up a colorful and readable group. For the older girls, the book is "Beany Malone" by Lenora Mattingly Weber, illustrated by Gertrude Howe. Beany Malone is the story of a 16-year-old girl who is capable but not glamorous, and who has the task of looking after the family during the illness of her father. The story of the busy, dizzy months is entertainingly told by Lenora Weber, and is a book well worth reading.

For the younger group, those from 8 to 11, the choice for July is "Canadian Summer" by Hilda van Stockum, who also did the illustrations. This is the story of the Mitchell family, and the plot tells of the experiences of the family living in a ski hut near Montreal during the father's employment in the city. A book with special appeal to readers on both sides of the Boundary, it can be read with interest by those older than the group it is designed for.

"My Father's Dragon," by Ruth Stiles Gannett, with beautiful and colorful pictures by Ruth Christian Gannett, is the selection for the youngest group, and is a book that will please and thrill the young readers. The story of the adventures on Tangerina Island, and on Wild Island, outwitting lions, crocodiles, tigers and many other animals make an exciting and thrilling story.

The older boys go treasure hunting in the Florida Everglades in their book, "Everglade Gold," the last book written by Bert Sackett, and illustrated by Kurt Werth. A prize of fifty thousand dollars is offered for the first producing oil well in Florida, and Jed attempts to help his father win the prize against the opposition of Seminole Indians and jealousy in his father's own outfit.

The feature of the Junior Literary Guild books that make them so appealing to the young readers is that they always tell a good story and do it very well; the books appeal to the parents because they are really good literature, not just trash written to sell.

MARRIAGES

DARBY—FIFIELD

Derby Line, June 30. — The marriage of Miss Beverly Grace Fifield, daughter of W. E. Fifield and the late Mrs. Grace Fifield of Newport, to Paul Lucien Darby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril R. Darby of Derby Line, took place at the First Baptist Church, Newport, Sunday afternoon, June 20, at four o'clock, Rev. E. A. Rockwell officiating. Miss Everdeane Vancore of Colebrook, N. H., classmate of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Mr. Bernard Wheeler acted as organist. The church was beautifully decorated with bridal wreath, white iris and white tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in an ivory satin gown with long train, beaded yoke and peplum, and finger-tip veil. She carried a white satin Bible with white orchid and white tapers.

Miss Barbara Fifield, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, was attired in a long dress of light blue organza, white lace mitts, and a corsage of flowers. Her bouquet was of yellow snapdragons and baby's breath. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Rublee and Miss Nancy Hill, both of whom long organza dresses and carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Mr. Robert Darby acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Ivan Fifield, brother of the bride, and Mr. Harold Clarke.

Mrs. C. R. Darby, mother of the groom, wore a floor length dress of aqua jersey with a corsage bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. Mrs. L. P. Smith, grandmother of the bride, was attired in a black crepe suit with white accessories and corsage bouquet of red roses and sweet peas.

The bride graduated from Newport elementary and high schools, attended Keene Teachers' College at Keene, N. H., transferring for the last two years to the University of Vermont. Following graduation in 1946, she has been principal of the Orleans, Vt., graded school, teaching grade six. She was a member of the Tri Delta fraternity.

Mr. Darby is a graduate of Derby Academy. Two years were spent in Green Mountain Junior College. He was in the armed service three years with 18 months in the ETO. He will soon enter his senior year at the University of Vermont, where he is majoring in chemistry. After returning from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Darby will reside in Burlington, Vt.

BEEBE

Miss Lydia Sharpe was the hostess at her home, when she entertained Mrs. H. S. Beane, Mrs. H. S. Pocock, Mrs. C. F. Bellam, Mrs. C. Trombly and Mrs. F. Tilton. A delightful evening was spent and delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. H. S. Pocock is having a number of his buildings repainted. Among them is the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

CHAPTER XXXV.

She looked up and met Tom's grave, blue eyes. "What is it?" he asked quietly. "Something you want to tell me, Jess?"

She nodded. Now was the moment. Get it over with, she told herself; the rest will be easy. She could not meet Tom's eyes. She fumbled with her napkin.

"Where you were this afternoon? No. I don't know. I suppose you met someone. I don't intend to pry into your affairs, Jess, but I'm not exactly stupid. We've had so little opportunity to discuss our future since I came back. I've hoped —" His voice faltered.

"I know. I'm sorry."

He pushed back his chair. "Look, Jess. I know a lot more about life than I did when I left you more than two years ago. I came home thinking things would be different." He smiled sadly. "Instead I found them worse. Mom ill, Lucy gone, you indifferent."

That was putting it mildly, she thought. She said, "I tried." He shook his head. There was no softness in his eyes now. "You didn't try enough." Her cheeks flamed. Her dark eyes were brilliant with anger. "What do you mean?"

"This," Tom stood up. He towered above her. "You wanted me," he said bluntly, "like I wanted you. If I hadn't believed that, I wouldn't have begged you to marry me. You and I shared something, we loved each other. We didn't have much time then to sort out reasons. We had only a few hours to spend together."

"I was young. I didn't know—" His eyes hardened. "You didn't know that I was poor, or was it that you didn't understand poverty? I thought love would fix all that. I wasn't without blame. I was narrow-minded and stubborn. My folks meant the whole world to me. I thought Mom and Lucy perfect. I thought they'd take care of you, keep you safe while I was gone. I didn't understand women. I never knew many girls—just Lucy."

She felt a little shiver of dread. Suppose Tom knew? How could she ever tell him? "I love Lucy," she said. "She was kind and generous." "She would be. When Lucy comes home, everything will be all right."

No, she thought miserably, not everything. She said, "Tom, you can't understand. I never had to work. I didn't understand pinching and saving. I hated it. I wanted to be independent and take a job and be free to do as I pleased."

"No one can do as he pleases. Did I want to go away and fight? Lose three years out of my life? Did I look forward to a homecoming like this?"

There was no answer to this, and Jessica attempted none. She got up and began to collect the dishes. Why continue a discussion that brought only heartache? After Tom left the table, Jessica realized that they had reached no definite conclusion about their future. Was it consideration for Tom that made her hesitate to tell him outright that she loved David Gregory and planned to marry him? Was there another reason which she refused to face? Doubt? Of herself—David?

She went about her work, washing dishes, turning out lights, then going upstairs to say good night to Betsy. The door to her room stood open. The lights were out in the bedroom; only the hall lamp shone across the rug, showing Tom seated beside the baby's crib, holding her chubby hand, his blond head bent, too absorbed to notice Jessica's presence.

Every day she remained here made the parting more difficult, thought Jessica wretchedly. Now was the time to tell Tom that she no longer loved him and planned to marry another man. Fairness to David demanded that she speak. Only her own weak, cowardly heart held her back again, made her turn and run downstairs, unwilling to remain another instant watching Tom and the baby, knowing that pity could destroy all that she and David had planned.

To Be Continued.

Right now she must tell Tom. Jessica decided, as she sat in the living room listening for his step in the upper hall.

Why did life have to be so complicated? She thought sadly and dropped her head in her hands.

When she looked up Tom stood in the room. "What is it, Jess? I think I know. You can leave whenever you wish to leave."

She was confused. She could think of only one thing. "What about Lucy?" she asked.

He said, "What about Lucy?" She found herself telling him her fears. The words stumbling, her tongue hesitating to utter her suspicion that the girl who lay in the hospital might be Tom's sister. She told him about the sale of her ring and her belief that Hugh Linton had bought the ring and had given it to Lucy.

Tom's face whitened. His blue eyes were hard and cold. "Why didn't you tell me this before?" he demanded.

"I didn't want to hurt you." Tom turned on his heel and was in the hall. He dialed a number. His voice was curt. "City Hospital."

Jessica ran into the hall and stood beside him. Tom asked a few questions. Could he come at once? See this girl? Important information. The words rang through her aching head. Tom planned to go.

He put back the receiver. "Stay with Mother while I'm gone," he said. "I'm going to prove to myself that you are wrong. If you are, I'll never forgive you this insult to my sister."

The front door slammed behind him.

To Be Continued.

Athletics Drop 16-9 Decision To Red Sox In Wide Open Hitting Tilt In Which 36 Hits Were Registered

Tomorrow afternoon at 2.00 the Granby Red Sox will pay a visit to Sherbrooke in a scheduled fixture of the Provincial Baseball League Canada Day celebration.

Last night in Granby the Red Sox swamped the Athletics 16-9, although Gladu's squad out-hit the Granby team 19-17, but they committed four errors which proved costly. Folini started the game for the locals, but he left for the showers and Sherbrooke's utility man, Frank Coimbre, finished the game for the Athletics.

Tomorrow afternoon the game will start at 2.00 with the return engagement going to Granby to be played under the lights. For the twin bill tomorrow Manager Gladu will have Rudolph Fernandez and Paul Calvert ready for action, with Adrian Zabala available if needed.

The locals have not won a game in their last two starts. Sunday night they lost a close 8-2 decision to Farnham, and then last night Granby came back and downed them for their second straight loss.

Boxing Group Refuses Sanction To Bout

Quebec, June 30.—(P)—The Quebec Boxing Commission announced yesterday the Fernando Gagnon-Jean Richard featherweight title bout scheduled for the Montreal Forum next Tuesday would not have the official sanction of the Canadian Boxing Federation.

Gene Letourneau, local boxing inspector and technical adviser to the Federation, said the fight would not be sanctioned on the grounds that the Montreal challenger was not listed as the No. 1 contender. Letourneau said Spider Armstrong ranked first, followed by Kenny Lindsay and Teddy Swain.

Meantime, Capt. Leo Bouchard, the Quebec titleholder's manager, charged the Commission with being biased that Quebec City was sidetracked in favor of Montreal for the bout.

Oarsmen Ask Group To Reopen Singles Issue

Ottawa, June 30.—(P)—The Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen will be asked to reopen the question of a Olympic singles representative for Canada, the executive of the Ottawa Rowing Club decided last night.

Secretary Gordon Smith was instructed to wire the club's decision to J. L. Murray of Kingston, secretary of the C.A.A.O.

The singles in the Olympic trials at St. Catharines last Saturday was won by Theo Dubois of Winnipeg. Dubois was not named on the Olympic team after it was reported the Olympic rowing selection committee found his winning time not up to standard.

Meanwhile the sculler's mother, Mrs. Alice Dubois, suggested Theo row for his native Belgium at the Olympic Games and said she would pay the expenses.

Red Mathews, Yale, Signs With Phillies

Philadelphia, June 30.—(P)—Philadelphia Phillies announced yesterday the signing of Richard (Red) Mathews, 22-year-old Yale University third baseman.

The Yale star signed a contract with Toronto of the International League, but will report to another Phillies farm club, Terre Haute, Ind., in the Three-Eye League.

Seattle — Joey Maxim, 182, Cleveland, outpointed Billy Patterson, 198, Seattle (10).

"Sport Shots and Pot Shots"

BY LEN. O'DONNELL

Farnham, the team everybody in the Provincial Baseball League during the past month has been shaving around, suddenly jumped at their opponents, our league-leading Athletics, and set them back in two straight games Sunday. In the first tilt in Farnham Sunday afternoon, they plastered a 14-5 trimming on Roland Gladu and his squad, and then in the evening they edged them out 3-2 before 2,100 fans at the local park.

The executive of the Farnham club went out and hired a new manager and gave him orders to engage some good ball players, which he is still doing, and before anybody knew what had happened the boys from the railroad town had a good strong team and have given notice that they are to be reckoned with in the future.

In the afternoon tilt big Claude Duany finally got started and banged out two of the longest circuit blows seen in the Farnham park in a long time. They cleared the centre field fence by good height. In the evening he came through with a long double that landed at the foot of the scoreboard, to score two runs, the only ones registered by the local club.

Ralph McCabe buried a good game but the locals failed to hit in the clutch, as they have been doing during the past games and it cost them the victory.

The tennis shorts situation has come back into the limelight once again. At a meeting held by the City Fathers they agreed with the Sherbrooke Tennis Association that the men players could wear shorts to play on the city courts, providing they were not too short. At the same time the players at last thought things would be O.K., but they forgot one individual, who does not attend the Council meetings but seems to have a great deal to say regarding the local playground rules and regulations.

A well known tennis player decided last week to play a game on one of the city courts, and when he stepped out on the courts what should happen. The attendant came along, and taking a tape measure out of his pocket measured his shorts to see that they came two inches above his knees. If this is not the height of foolishness then I would like to know just what you could call it.

One of the outstanding golfing events of the Eastern Townships will be contested Saturday at the Country Club. It is the Joe Colby Memorial Trophy event. This is a handicap affair which is open to all members affiliated with the P.Q.G.A. and no doubt players from Montreal will take part in the event.

On Sunday afternoon the club will hold the second mixed two-ball foursome on the schedule card. A busy week-end for the club-swingers appears on the card.

Leopold Durivage, president of the Provincial Baseball League, had a visit from a member of the Minor Baseball Association's head office. Mr. Finch, who was representing Mr. Trautman, president of the Association, told Mr. Durivage that the league would have to get rid of their ineligible or the other members of the loop would be suspended for ten years. He has been in the district for the past few days and it seems that he has a complete list of all the players in the loop, and their assumed names as well. A meeting of the league will be called to decide just what will be decided.

I have been expecting this for a long time, ever since the secretary of the International League voiced his complaints regarding this loop. It was only natural that a member of the Minor Association should pay a visit to our country and see what was going on. It seems now that it is up to the league officials to decide what will happen. On the list of ineligible were such players as Roland Gladu, Adrian Zabala and Jorge Tadeo, of Sherbrooke, Bobby Estrella and Jean Piers Roy of St. Johns to name a few so you can see what would happen to the league if these boys are given up. Every team in the loop has players on the list and the other boys will be given a ten year suspension from organized baseball if they do not leave the loop at once. Pretty heavy suspension to hand out but by the looks of things it is coming.

Ezzard Charles Signs For First Elimination Bout As Joe Louis' Retirement Stirs Heavyweights

New York, June 30.—(P)—It's been less than five days since Joe Louis laid his crown aside but already there is considerable stirring in heavyweight boxing ranks. Here are the rapid-fire developments:

1. Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati light-heavy, rated a leading contender, is reported ready to "fight from one to 10" for the championship and, as a starter, is signed to meet Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland in Washington Aug. 2.

2. Gus Lesnevich, world's light-heavyweight champion, who is one of the "Big Three" in the heavy picture that includes Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott, expressed delight over the prospect of a September bout with Walcott.

3. Walcott said he didn't think much of a proposed tournament to decide Louis' successor. He figured his two bouts with the Brown Bomber earned him a sort of "crown prince" role and that he should fight either Charles or Lesnevich, not both, for the title.

4. Jack Solomons, leading British promoter, announced he plans to have a part in the series to determine the new champion. He said he thought a fight with Walcott would be "any boxer's dream."

The 175-pound king was accompanied by Solomons, who announced plans to get into the heavyweight act. Solomons said he wanted to match Bruce Woodcock, British Empire heavyweight champion, against Lee Savold, Tami Mauriello or Toronto's Vern Escoc next September, with the winner taking on the Lesnevich-Mills victor.

Big Four Of U.S. Women's Tennis Slug Their Way Into Semi-Finals Of Wimbledon's Famous Tourney

London, June 30.—(P)—Playing in pneumonia weather, the United States "Big Four" of women's tennis slugged their way into the Wimbledon semi-finals yesterday without losing a set.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., hardest hitter of the group, played only four games before her opponent, Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, turned an ankle going after an aces serve and was carried from the court. Miss Brough was leading 3-1 when the default came.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., the defending champion, beat Mrs. Jean Nicoll Bostock, best of Britain's women 7-5, 6-3.

Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., crushed Mrs. Nellie Landry, the French champion, 6-0, 6-2, and Mrs. Pat Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., outplayed Jean Quertier of Britain, 6-2, 6-4.

In the semi-finals on Thursday, Mrs. Dupont will play Miss Hart and Mrs. Todd will renew an old rivalry with her fellow Californian, Miss Brough. Miss Brough and Mrs. Dupont will be favored to reach Saturday's final.

A pair of unseeded American women, Barbara Scofield of San Francisco and Mrs. Helen Pedersen Ribbany of Boston, produced the day's best upset in the doubles by defeating Mrs. Betty Hilton and Mrs. Kay Stammers Menzies of the British Wightman Cup Team, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2. That victory put them in the quarter-finals.

Frank Parker of Los Angeles and Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, favorites in men's doubles, looked the part in slugging Franka Kukuljovic, a naturalized Indian, and Vladimir Vothica of Czechoslovakia, 6-1, 6-2, 3-6, 6-0, to go into the semi-finals.

Jack Bromwich and Frank Sedgman bashed the Italian Davis Cuppers, Gianni Cucelli and Marcello Del Bello, 6-3, 6-1, 7-5.

Gardnar Mulloy of Miami and Tom Brown of San Francisco put out the Argentine pair, Alejo Russell and Enrique Morea, 9-7, 4-6, 3-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Miss Brough and Mrs. Dupont, who won the women's doubles title in 1946, advanced to the semi-finals in that division by drubbing Mrs. C. Boegner and Mrs. Nelly Landry of France, 6-0, 6-1.

Irene Strong Arrives For Olympic Trials

Montreal, June 30.—(P)—Canada's ace artist of the breast stroke, 19-year-old Irene Strong of Victoria came into town yesterday to get ready for the Canadian Olympic trials some nine days hence and promptly placed herself outside a bowlful of oatmeal.

"It's good for my horses it should be good for me," she said smiling as she waited for the rest of the Victoria swimming contingent to show up. Soon they arrived — Coach Archie McKinnon and swimmers Peter Salmon, his sister Ina, Eric Jobb, Dick Bowden and Joan Morgan.

Miss Strong, women's Canadian swimming champion and holder of all the Dominion junior and senior breast stroke records, said the breast stroke was her favorite event. Then she dipped into the oatmeal again and, to questioners, said she had no special training diet.

"I'm so tired of training and very anxious to get the trials over," said Irene whom swim officials consider Canada's best bet in the women's swim field.

The champ owns five horses and rides in western horse shows.

GRASSHOPPERS ARE MENACE IN WEST

Winnipeg, June 26. —(P)—Mother nature and the elements, ganging up on the prairie farmer this spring, may have thrown him for a fair financial loss.

First it was floods. Now grasshoppers are looking as a serious menace in parts of the west, with Saskatchewan reportedly worst hit.

In the meantime, main concern of Manitoba farmers is production of crops in areas which were flooded during the spring. Crop conditions now are said by Agriculture Department officials to be better than expected a month ago, although they report a 10-per-cent reduction in acreage sown to wheat.

But while signs of flood conditions generally are disappearing Saskatchewan farmers have taken up a new battle—against the grasshoppers. Tons of chemical poison have been flown into the province from both Eastern Canada and Vancouver to help stem the

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at Woodland Bay, when Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson were hosts to the teachers and officers of the United Church Sunday School and their families. A short business session was followed by a social hour, several of the younger members enjoyed a swim. A bountiful picnic lunch was served by the ladies. The appreciation of the gathering was voiced by Mr. Reginald Bryou. This will be the last teachers' meeting until fall, as there will be no Sunday School during the months of July and August. Plans have been completed for the vacation summer school to be held the last week in June at the United Church.
