CPR STRIKE ENTERS THIRD DAY

World News In Brief

NICOSIA, Cyprus.—(AP)—A Greek Cypriot was shot and killed today in his shop in the heart of Nicosia's "murder mile."

The crowded area in the heart of the Cyprus capital's old city has been the scene of numerous attacks blamed on EOKA, the underground organization fighting for union of Cyprus and Greece.

TORONTO.—(AP)—A building boom in metropolitan Toronto during 1956 set a record as $534,651,000 worth of construction contracts were let. This was an increase of almost $53,000,000 over 1955, the previous high year.

Home construction numbered 18,488 units with a value of $230,937,900 compared with 20,509 units valued at $295,864,300 in 1955.

VIENNA.—(AP)—Budapest radio reported today that a 25-year-old Hungarian rebel against the Communist regime was executed for hiding arms.

This brought the admitted number of rebels executed to six, although the actual number is believed to be much higher.

The broadcast said Geza Szivos, a teamster, was convicted and sentenced by a military court in Budapest.

WINDSOR, Ont.—(AP)—Chrysler of Canada Thursday announced an "all-time" sales record for 1956.

Talks Start For Israeli Withdrawal

JERUSALEM, Israel.—(Reuters)—Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns and the Israeli chief of staff, Maj.-Gen. Moshe Dayan, met today for further talks on the withdrawal timetable of Israeli forces from the Sinai Peninsula.

An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said Burns, Canadian commander of the United Nations Emergency Force, and Dayan would discuss "technical aspects" of the withdrawal.

Observers here expect Israel to raise the following political issues before ordering the second stage of the pull-out:

1. Assurance that Egyptian forces do not return to the Gaza Strip, taken by Israel in October.
2. Assurance that Israeli ships have freedom to navigate the Suez Canal and Gulf of Aqaba, until the Israeli attack blockaded by Egypt.

"No WW III" — Campney

VANCOUVER.—(AP)—Defence Minister Ralph Campney said Thursday night he does not think any nation "will dare start" a third world war.

"But I do think, and recent history shows it, that there will be small wars with conventional weapons," he told a meeting of the Liberal Association of Vancouver Centre, the riding he represents in the House of Commons.

Canada's defence policy is to build strong alliances, defence forces and radar warning screens to avert the horrors of a thermonuclear war, he said.

He saw little hope of cutting Canada's defence budget.

Rail Strike Placards — Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at Winnipeg are shown with placards that explain their reasons for calling a strike that has tied up the Canadian Pacific Railway and put 73,000 employees out of work. "Responsibility of many lives too much in one man's hands," declares the one card. The other reads, "Co-Pilots on Planes — Firemen on Trains." The union went on strike to support its demand that the position of firemen not be discontinued, as proposed by the company.

No Ottawa Action On Strike

OTTAWA.—(AP)—The country-wide CPR rail strike, going into its third day today, nibbled deeper into the national economy and it appeared there would be no federal action on the walkout until Parliament reopens Tuesday.

Cabinet met both morning and afternoon Thursday, but Prime Minister St. Laurent told reporters afterwards that he had nothing to announce. Another meeting was scheduled for Monday morning and Mr. St. Laurent indicated something may develop from that one.

However, it appeared likely that if the government is drafting legislation to get the CPR back into operation announcement of this would not be made until Tuesday with the reading of the traditional throne speech outlining government plans for the parliamentary session.

Reporters pressed Mr. St. Laurent to give his view as to how long the strike may last.

"You never can tell how stubborn people can get," he replied. But he added rather cryptically at another point that this "stubbornness" was not likely to last as long as it would take to build new lines into points served by the CPR.

Union Chief Threatened Over Strike

MONTREAL.—(CP)—Union chief W. E. Gamble reported today his home has been threatened twice since the beginning of the Canadian Pacific Railway strike that has left an estimated 73,000 rail and industrial workers idle.

Police in suburban Dorval, where Mr. Gamble lives, said constables in patrol cars are keeping a watch on the home.

Mr. Gamble said that while he was at work Thursday his wife received two telephone calls—one from a man and the other from a woman—threatening to "blow the place up" and to "get" the union chief and his wife. They have a 19-year-old son, Ronald, who was at high school at the time.

"We'll get him and you and we'll get you good," Mr. Gamble quoted the callers as saying.

Mr. Gamble asked police to keep an eye on the residence while he is at work.

There has been no violence in the strike that began at 4 p.m. Jan. 2.

Mr. Gamble was at his office as usual today.

The government, he added, would try to get mail to persons normally served by the CPR, though he did not say how. In the 1950 strike involving both major railways, the post office department mobilized trucks and other conveyances to keep the mails moving.

As for the economic impact of the strike, any major work stoppage would have a detrimental effect, Mr. St. Laurent stated. The situation was not as serious as in 1950, "but it is something that is going to be very inconvenient for a large number of Canadians."

Other authorities also emphasized this inconvenience as the major impact of the strike in its initial stages. Some federal economists felt the powerful Canadian economy could withstand the strike shock for possibly a week before the walkout started cutting deep into Canada's national production.

In the initial stages, the CPR strike was estimated by economists to reduce national production by just about one per cent—perhaps a little more than $1,000,000 a day. But after a week, the loss might rise to $10,000,000 a day.

Any such loss over a prolonged period could have a serious impact on a national production estimated to reach a record of more than $31,000,000,000 this year, sharply higher than last year's $29,700,000,000.

The commerce department is expected to announce shortly the lifting of Poland's export licensing restrictions which barred Poland and other Iron Curtain countries from buying surplus U.S. farm goods for dollars at world prices.

Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles, in virtually identical statements several weeks ago, encouraged Poland to seek closer trade relations with the U.S.

In preliminary talks at Warsaw since then between U.S. and Polish officials, the Poles have sought wheat, cotton and farm and factory machines.

The Poles emphasized they wanted trade — not aid which would require them to make a political commitment.

Eisenhower legally would have to declare Poland a "friendly country" before it could receive surplus farm goods for its own currency. This law also provides for loans for developing the country involved.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson said recently that the administration will ask Congress to amend the surplus farm products law to permit barter deals with Iron Curtain countries. This would let the U.S. swap surplus farm goods for metals and other material that it requires.

Officials indicate that Hungary is not getting serious attention in connection with the Eisenhower administration was reported ready today to let Communist Poland buy surplus United States farm goods with dollars at world market prices.

This would be the first step, officials said, in the Eisenhower program of helping any country that breaks away from Moscow during the initial stages of its economic estrangement from the Soviet bloc.

Further steps which may be taken are under study by officials in the state, agriculture and commerce departments and the international co-operation administration, which runs the foreign aid program.

Settlement No Closer; Industrial Layoffs Begin

MONTREAL.—(AP)—A firemen's strike paralyzing the Canadian Pacific Railway entered its third day today with no glimmer of settlement, and an estimated 73,000 rail and industrial workers unemployed.

Late Thursday night, spokesmen for the company and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (CLC) said their positions are unchanged. No overture had been made by either side.

About 70,000 of the company's employees are idle in the strike, called by 3,000 firemen on issues of wages and the role of diesel firemen-helpers. At least 3,000 workers in various industries across Canada were laid off, with the toll mounting steadily.

Centres fed solely by the CPR coped with problems of fuel, food, mail and other details.

The company estimates the strike is costing it $1,300,000 daily in lost revenue and that the unemployed workers and strikers are losing $5,000,000 weekly in salaries.

About 11,000 CPR employees were still employed Thursday, but it was expected the number would dwindle with the length of the strike. By agreement, maintenance and protection crews are putting stored equipment shipshape, mounting fire and perishable-goods guard and carrying out other house-keeping duties.

Brotherhood pickets continued to parade before company property from Saint John, N.B., to Vancouver. Reported incidents were few.

Company bus operations in various provinces were uninterrupted but the possibility remained of an attempt to tie up the west coast ferry and steamship service.

The company favors acceptance of a federal conciliation board's majority report. The union rejects it.

The report suggested a two-stage wage increase totalling 12 per cent—the union sought 25 per cent—and also agreed with railway proposals to gradually eliminate firemen-helpers on freight and yard-service diesels.

The company also was favorable to a government suggestion for settlement of the diesel-firemen question by an independent tribunal. Canadian Brotherhood chief W. E. Gamble said such a tribunal would perform a "valuative service" but rejected it as a binding report.

One report here said that the non-striking unions may hold a Montreal meeting in a few days to analyse the situation.

Austrian President Dies At 83

VIENNA.—(AP)—President Theodor Koerner, 83, president of Austria since 1951, died today at his home.

The tall white-bearded Austrian statesman suffered a slight stroke last summer but recovered sufficiently to return to his office.

He died at his home in Ginzing, a suburb of Vienna.

The son of a nobleman, Koerner served as a senior officer in the old Austro-Hungarian imperial army but became a socialist after the First World War.

As mayor of Vienna he played a major part in the rehabilitation of the war-shattered capital after the Second World War and became president of Austria in 1951 on the death of his old associate in the Social Democratic Party, Dr. Karl Renner.

A bachelor, Dr. Koerner shunned the trappings of high office and kept to the Spartan mode of living of the Austro-Hungarian regimental officer without private means. He was a well-known figure in Vienna where he could often be seen travelling by street-car to his office or, string bag in hand, doing his own shopping for his frugal meals.

He practically never wore a hat and, even in winter, resisted the efforts of his staff to make him wear an overcoat.

The outbreak of world war in 1914 found him a lieutenant-colonel on the general staff. He served on the Serbian and Italian fronts and ended as a colonel.

Despite his successful army career, Koerner hated war. He dated this hatred from the day when, during a gas attack, he watched Austro-Hungarian troops being caught in their own deadly fumes following a sudden change in the wind.

U.K. Re-Opens Base In Maldives Islands

LONDON.—(AP)—Faced with the loss of her military bases in Ceylon, Britain has decided to reopen her wartime air base in the Maldives Islands as a stop-off on the way to Australia and the Far East.

The Commonwealth relations office announced Thursday night that an agreement had been reached with the Maldivian sultanate to reactivate the base on the island of Gan.

The Maldives, a chain of more than 2,000 tiny islands in the Indian Ocean some 400 miles southwest of Ceylon, became a British protectorate in 1887. The population of 93,000 is almost entirely Moslem.

Britain agreed last July to give up her naval and air bases on Ceylon. Premier Solomon Bandaranaike, who upset Ceylon's pro-West government in elections last April, formally requested British withdrawal from the bases.

The official announcement of the plan to use the Maldives gave few details, but London newspapers see the action as a move to compensate for the loss of air and naval rights in India, Ceylon and other Asian and Middle East points.

It also is considered the first step in an attempt to establish a major new air route over Africa, linking London and such points as Australia and Malaya. The most common air routes in the past have been over Egyptian and Syrian territory. Britain lost the right to fly over those areas following the Suez intervention.

Shadrick said he planned to kill the former president at his Independence, Mo., home next July 5, the seventh anniversary of the soldier's death.

Shadrick was arrested here last Dec. 19 when a holdup attempt was foiled by the scream of a woman teller.

The 102-pound coal miner from Skelton, W. Va., said he had hoped to get $5,000 to use to "hole up" until next July.

Our Cost Of Living Continues To Climb

OTTAWA.—(CP)—The consumer price index increased fractionally in November to a record 120.4, the third straight month a new high has been reached, the bureau of statistics said today.

The index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, moved upward slightly despite a substantial decrease in the price of foods.

The food sub-index declined 4 points to 117.5 from 117.9. However, increases in the four other group indices offset this decline, boosting the index 1 point to 120.4 from 120.3.

The November figure represents a gain of 3.5 points over the corresponding month last year when the index stood at 116.9. The index rose to a record 119.8 in September and to a high of 120.3 in October.

The decline in the food sub-index was caused by lower prices for eggs, most cuts of beef, some fresh vegetables, tea and coffee. Increases in bread and milk prices, which showed up in October in some cities, occurred in additional communities in November. Prices of pork, most canned fruits and vegetables, sugar and jam also were higher.

The shelter sub-index advanced from 133.4 in October to 133.5 in November as a result of boosts in both the rent and home-ownership components. Increased prices for men's and women's shoes and some items of men's and women's clothing pushed the clothing sub-index from 108.4 to 108.6.

The household operation sub-index advanced 5 points from 118.1 to 118.6 due to higher prices for coal, furniture, utensils and equipment. Laundry, dry cleaning and shoe repairs. The commodities and services sub-index was slightly higher at 122.9, compared with 122.8 a month earlier, mainly as a result of increased prices of men's hair-

Infanticide Charge Laid Against Coaticook Woman Today

Mrs. Ross Ladd Charged With Slaying Of Newly-Born Infant

THE WEAPON

Ousted Doctor Named Head Of New Hospital

MAGOG. — (Special) — Dr. Jacques Pettigrew, ousted recently from La Providence Hospital medical staff, will be the chief medical officer at the proposed lay hospital and will be the "only practising Magog surgeon" on the staff, it has been announced by Miss Stella Quenneville, chairman of the subscription committee for the construction of the new hospital.

Miss Quenneville said that Dr. Pettigrew would be assisted by other doctors from Quebec City whose names could not be revealed at this time.

An option was taken for the purchase of the Cabana home in the east end of the city at a cost of $35,000 recently. It is planned to renovate the property to provide a 16-bed hospital at the outset, with an additional 16-bed installation being added in the near future.

Meanwhile, Miss Quenneville said donations were flowing in unabated and that the necessary amount to make an initial payment on the house had almost been reached.

She said she intends to tour small communities surrounding Magog to solicit aid for the hospital project.

Miss Adella Sheldon has gone to Georgeville, where she is working for Mrs. S. Packard.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Huckins were Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Bennett and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Huckins and Mr. and Mrs. Don Lyons and son of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Ross Ladd, 21, of Coaticook, was formally charged with infanticide in connection with the death of her new-born son when she appeared before Judge Redmond Hayes in Court of Sessions of the Peace this morning.

Through her attorney, Benoit Turmel, Mrs. Ladd exercised no option on the type of trial she would choose and the case was postponed until next Friday.

Mrs. Ladd was granted $800 cash bail or $1,500 on property.

She was found responsible for the death of the infant at an inquest held in Coaticook last evening under District Coroner Dr. Louis Gagnon and was immediately arrested on a coroner's warrant.

The formal arraignment followed today.

The highlight of the inquest was the introduction of a confession signed by Mrs. Ladd in which she told of giving birth to the child while alone in her Coaticook home.

She killed it immediately and placed the body in a valise, which her husband threw in the garbage can.

She denied her husband knew anything of the birth or of the slaying.

First witness to give testimony last night was Hector Charest, a 44-year-old farmer from St. Hermeville, a neighboring community of Coaticook. Charest and his wife discovered the infant's body at the Coaticook municipal dump while looking for scraps of food with which to feed his dog.

The witness said he was gathering bones at the dump while his wife was looking elsewhere. His wife called him to where she was standing over a box and he said he saw an infant wrapped in newspaper in the box. Also included in the box were a broken teacup and medical instruments used in childbirth.

Charest said he put the body in his car and drove to the home of Fernand Riendeau, who told him to go to the police station.

Mrs. Charest substantiated her husband's testimony, saying that she had first discovered the body while looking for newspapers to use in a stove.

Dr. Jean-Paul Roussel, Provincial Police medico-legal expert, who made an autopsy of the infant's body, said that the baby was still alive when it was stabbed five times in the chest around the heart.

He said he examined the body delivered to Montreal on Dec. 21 by Det. Merrill Lawton and Det. Jules Arseneault, both of the Homicide Squad, and said that the baby appeared to have been in good health and normally developed at the time of birth.

His examination also revealed, he said, bruise marks about the throat as well as a fractured skull, running from the top of the head to the root of the right ear. The fracture caused a hemorrhage, he added.

In his conclusion, Dr. Roussel said the death had been caused by strangulation or choking from pressure applied to the throat. He said the wounds to the chest would not have caused immediate death but internal bleeding.

He said a pair of scissors could have been used as a weapon. Further he said from the condition of the body, the baby had been dead only a short time.

Dr. Roussel said he had examined Mrs. Ladd and that from the symptoms it appeared that she had given birth to a child recently.

Ross Ladd, the suspect's husband, took the witness stand last night despite the protests of Paul Aubat, his lawyer, who complained to the coroner that the Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre could not ask his client for testimony since it was not a criminal court.

Ladd said he had married his wife, the former Barbara Hamilton, of Knowlton, Sept. 22, 1956, and that at the time he thought she was pregnant.

He said over about the last two months he had noticed she was a little heavier looking but that he never knew for sure whether she was pregnant or not.

Ladd said he had noticed a change in his wife's appearance in the last two weeks and that one night he commented to her she could now wear a dress that was once too small.

On Prosecutor's questioning, Ladd said he did not remember bringing a box to the dump. He said he realized his wife was no longer pregnant when one night she brought to his attention her loss of weight.

Asked when he stopped thinking his wife was pregnant, Ladd said Detectives Arseneault and Lawton told him about Mrs. Ladd having had a baby.

A full confession signed by the accused was produced by Provincial Police Detective Jules Arseneault. In this confession Mrs. Ladd admitted that she was the mother of the baby found in the Coaticook dump and to which she gave birth alone at home the night of Dec. 14.

She stated in the confession that her husband knew nothing of her pregnancy. The baby was born in the bathroom while her husband had gone downtown to buy some groceries.

While he was away she also stabbed the baby in the chest several times with a pair of scissors. Afterward she took the baby to the bedroom, placed it in a suitcase and left it there all night and the next day, when she asked her husband to take the garbage downstairs. The baby had been wrapped up in newspapers and was in the garbage.

Asked, during questioning when she was giving the confession, why she had disposed of the baby Mrs. Ladd replied,

"My husband was the father of the baby and since we had only been married three months, I did not want any scandal in the two families."

Promised Snow Adds To Difficulties Of Strike-Bound Areas

Prospects of a snowfall of from four to six inches increased the worries of many Eastern Townships communities today which have become dependent upon highway transport for their livelihood as the result of the strike of Canadian Pacific and Quebec Central Railways firemen which has cut off their traditional railway transportation.

The strike, now ending its second full day, has cut off rail services to communities along the Canadian Pacific between Sherbrooke and Montreal and Sherbrooke and Lake Megantic, while cities and town along the Quebec Central from Sherbrooke and Quebec City are also deprived of rail communications.

Truckers, mobilizing their resources to keep these communities supplied with such essentials as food and fuel, are frankly apprehensive of the effects of even a moderate snowfall. Any substantial fall at the present time, they say, would increase their difficulties.

Even if the snow was not sufficient to block the highways, it would slow down the movement of their vehicles, thus reducing the number of trips made by their equipment, which has been placed on a round-the-clock basis.

The truckers expect that the Quebec Government will lift the ban against trucks operating on Sunday, giving them an additional opportunity of easing the situation which may soon become critical in many communities.

The snow is also causing concern among the officials of the strike-bound railways, who fear that any extended fall may so block their right-of-way that several days may be required to open the lines once the strike is called off.

Even yesterday, when winds caused drifting of the snow already on the ground, many sections of lines were reported in poor condition. Attempts by supervisory officials to carry out a daily patrol of the track by means of gasoline scooters were foiled by drifts in many cases and the officials had to turn back.

The shadow of possible layoffs spread to workers in many of the industrial centres of the Eastern Townships where firms are served by one of the two strike-bound railways.

In many of the industries, such as mining and paper mills, storage capacity is relatively small in relation to daily production. Thus while the companies are maintaining production at the present time, and storing their output, this situation cannot long continue.

Other passenger transportation agencies, called upon to meet the additional burden thrown upon them at the height of the holiday rush, breathed somewhat easier today as most of the returning New Year's holiday-makers had been taken home but were bracing for another rush load over the Epiphany weekend — traditionally a time of heavy travel in the Province of Quebec.

The Canadian National Railways, the Provincial Transport Company and the Quebec Central Transportation Company who felt the greatest effects of the C.P.R. system tie-up reported that their worst trouble came on Wednesday, the day after New Year's and the first day of the strike.

Although extra cars were added to the C.N.R. trains, the rush was above expectations and evidence as the trains left Sherbrooke. An extra operator and ticket agent have been placed on duty at Sherbrooke to meet the increased traffic requirements.

Yesterday, although C.N.R. traffic remained at record-setting proportions, the situation was under control and the extra equipment provided appeared ample for the increased needs.

The Provincial Transport Company also stated that Wednesday provided them with their greatest headache, with all Sherbrooke-Montreal trips being carried out by two or even three coaches, with extra equipment operating between Granby and Montreal to take care of local traffic generally handled by the through buses.

The company plans to continue its policy of double sections for the duration of the strike and all holidays for drivers have been cancelled until the traffic tapers off. The Quebec Central Transportation Company also stated that its service had been doubled on most of its runs, with two round trips being instituted daily between Sherbrooke and Quebec City, replacing the strike-bound trains.

Possibly the organization facing the heaviest load is the Canadian National Express Company, which has been called upon to assume the entire burden of the business formerly handled by its competitor.

Several trucks have been chartered for local pick-up and delivery service, emergency station hands employed and regular employees placed on an overtime basis.

One of the features of the situation to date has been the manner in which the various groups have been able to maintain their schedules despite the additional burdens.

City Officials Visit Quebec On Charter Changes

Two municipal representatives, Albert Rivard, Q.C., city attorney, and Pierre Bachand, city treasurer, are in Quebec City today to discuss various amendments to the city charter with the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Mr. Rivard said yesterday the City wanted to "put things in order" before it submitted a private bill to the Legislature to change the Charter.

High on the list for discussion will be the amendment giving civic authorities power to expropriate land outside the city limits for purposes of establishing an airport here.

Aldermen discussed the amendment behind closed doors last week after receiving a statement from the Federal Department of Transport favoring the setting-up of an airport provided the City was willing to acquire the necessary land on its own.

An amendment to change the election date will probably be talked over. Although no definite date was agreed upon by the Council at the last meeting, it is believed that elections will be held at the end of September.

A minor amendment, dealing with the assessment on local manufacture, also will be taken into consideration.

Middle East Opportunity

With British and French armed forces at last cleared from Egypt, the real test is now at hand. The United Nations enjoys a unique opportunity to develop constructive solutions to a series of problems affecting peace in the Middle East and the world.

Whatever anyone may think of the wisdom of the original British-French-Israeli attack, U.N. military units are implanted in Egypt as result of it and that fact accounts for this present chance.

Before anything else can be achieved, the blocked Suez Canal must be cleared for full traffic. After considerable foolish wrangling among the various interested parties, that work appears well under way.

French and British salvage ships sent to Suez will be employed under the U.N. flag along with other vessels in the force U.N. officials are putting together.

With the U.N. in control, there ought to be no protest against the use of British and French equipment. Indeed, there is good reason not to employ Egyptians in this work. Since President Nasser's agents scuttled the ships which block the canal, it seems a little fantastic that any Egyptian should be paid to help clear it.

Once the job is done, the U.N. will be face to face with the matter of how it shall be operated. Only the U.N. has the prestige and the moral authority, plus the physical position at the canal, to compel a solution that recognizes the full interests of the principal users of Suez.

If it should fritter away this opportunity, nothing will have been gained by all the misadventures at Suez, and we will be right back where we started.

By the same token, while so advantageously placed on the scene, the U.N. must somehow tackle the long-range settlement of Arab-Israeli issues and other disturbing Middle East questions. Otherwise, the moment of opportunity may pass and the situation may become frozen in the kind of frustrating impasse that has marked such trouble spots as Korea, Indochina and divided Germany.

The world has seen enough of these stalemates. It has all too many partially healed sores. In the Middle East the U.N. can break the pattern of recent years by driving hard for lasting and complete answers to present dilemmas.

One Less Trouble Spot

The world scene offers few comforts these days in the way of smoothed-over trouble spots. Therefore, grateful for small advantage, we must be cheerful that one corner of the globe, the disputed European Saar, will now be quieter.

As 1957 begins, the tiny Saar, an industrial enclave on the French-German border, goes back to Germany after a dozen years in French hands.

France's interest in the area is economic. Coal, iron and steel output at substantial levels tell the story. But in the end the decision of the Saar's ultimate political allegiance was left to Saarländers themselves. The basically German population voted to rejoin Germany.

With this problem settled at last, attention in Germany may henceforth focus more strongly than ever on the larger dilemma: the division of the country into eastern and western segments.

Harassed in Hungary and Poland, the Russian Reds will be in no mood to listen to reasonable proposals for reunification, for these would simply cancel Communist hold on East Germany.

There was a time when the Reds beat the "German unity" drum pretty loudly, but now such noises only afford them embarrassment.

We and our Western friends can pound the theme with abandon. For emphasizing Russian reluctance to act can show the world one more time how utterly fraudulent is the Communist claim to the championship of peace and order.

Premier Campbell Speaks Out

Unlike the vast majority of Canadian political leaders who have confined their remarks on the current railway strike to pious platitudes about the undesirability of a transportation tie-up at the present time, Premier Douglas Campbell has gone to bat for what he calls "the forgotten public."

In a strongly-worded statement condemning the strike of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen on the C.P.R. as "ill-considered, ill-timed and against the public interest," the Manitoba Premier strikes at the very root of the issue when he states that:

"The forgotten public have a right to protest in the strongest terms of lack of consideration given to its position by strikers who are willing to prejudice the interests of so many others in order to keep themselves in positions that railway managements consider no longer necessary."

He said that the strikers' demands were something like requiring a farmer who operates a self-propelled combine to pay full wages to an old time threshing gang. This, he said, illustrated the "ridiculous lengths" to which the principle could be extended.

The Canadian people will agree with Premier Campbell's assertion that the strikers and the company are not the only ones affected. A large majority of the public is "an innocent third party" especially now when livestock and grain marketing, fuel supplies and other business is adversely affected, concluding:

"It's all very well to talk of strikers' rights and company rights but in these cases the public's right should be paramount."

It is refreshing to hear somebody in a position of authority speak out in favor of the public — the party that must finally pay the bills for the dispute. The public has been out of sympathy with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen ever since the argument started and the action of its leaders in tying up the economy of the country, without bothering to take a vote of the union members, will do nothing to win them any degree of popular support.

Battle Of Frogs: Has It Ended And How?

(Regina Leader-Post)

A dispatch out of Penang, Malaya, told how more than 1,000 frogs were locked "in mortal combat" and described how the battlefield was "strewn with dead and croaking wounded."

The war started when a group of land bulldozers invaded water frog territory in search of mates, the story said.

As each succeeding edition came off the press, readers doubtless have hurriedly scanned the news columns to see how the battle went, although the original story made it clear that the land frogs were overpowering the water species.

Nothing further has been carried. There has probably been a blackout on news from the fighting front for security reasons.

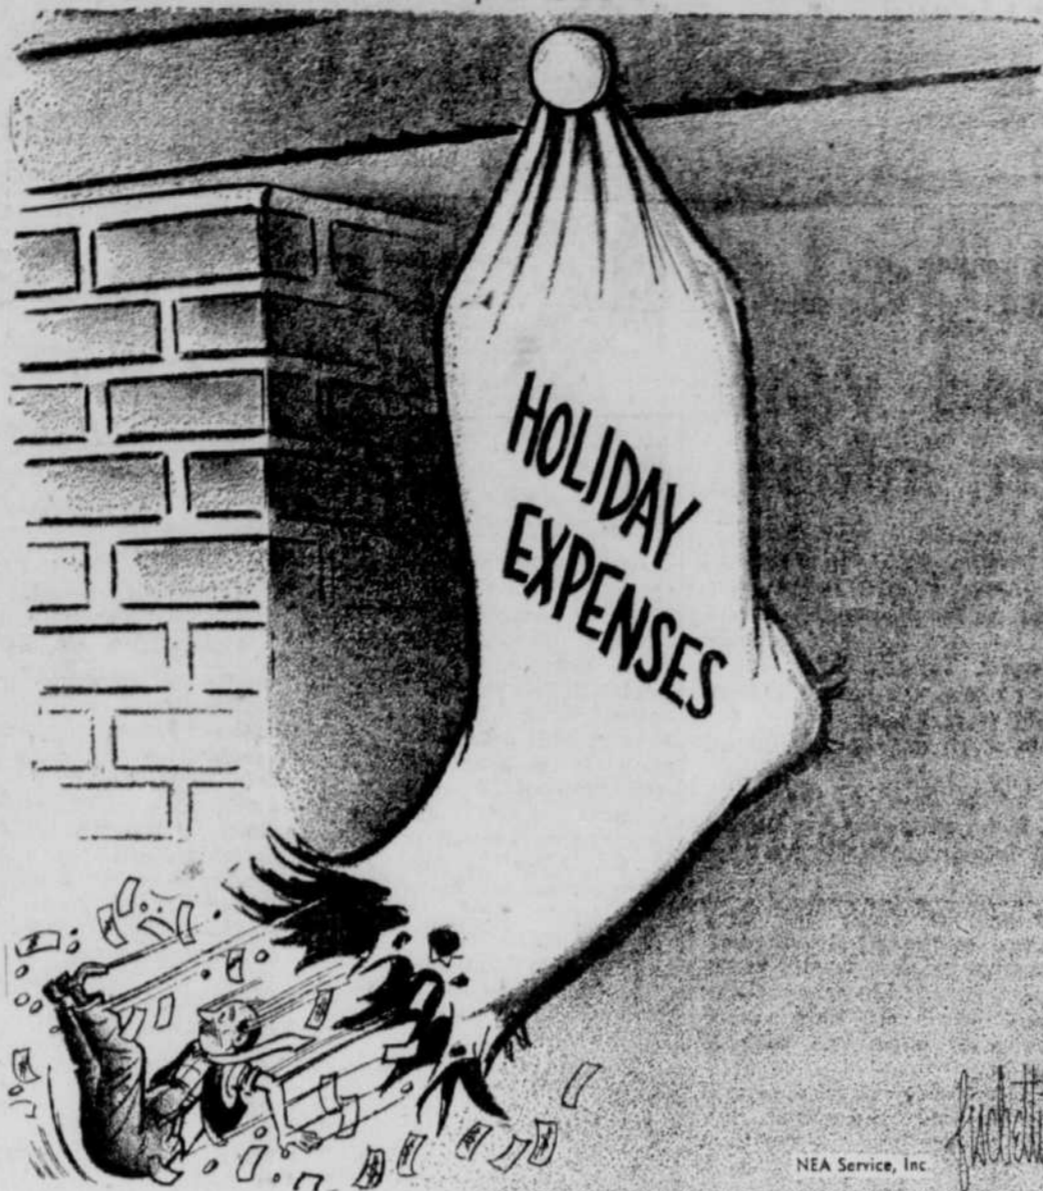

An air of apprehension hangs over the whole dispatch. Will the news eventually leak out, for instance, that there has been intervention by the tree frogs and that yet another unnamed species have decided to send "volunteers" into action, thus widening the area of conflict?

Through all the bad news

there is a faint glimmer of hope. It is reported that "the land" frogs plunged through their enemies' broken ranks and carried off protesting female frogs."

Perhaps these enforced unions may produce a new generation frog which, in addition to being an amphibious type equally at home on land and water, will be able to view with tolerance the problems of both species and see the futility of the use of force as they listen to stories of the carnage that fateful day at Penang.

BRAVE LEAD FLIMFLAMS North's raise to two no-trump is not approved. With eight bare points, and 4-3-3 distribution, percentage favors stopping at the safe low contract.

With 16 points plus three ten-spots, South was fully justified in going to game. His first look at dummy showed four tricks each in diamonds and spades. He had to set up a heart trick, and surely the defense would find the club suit before he could lead hearts twice.

Sidney Lazard of New Orleans, who was South, a most resourceful declarer, decided on the old Statue of Liberty play.

He won the opening spade lead with dummy's king and led a club. East played the deuce, South the jack, and West won with the king.

Now West had a problem. It appeared that South was trying to set up a club trick. Spades were obviously hopeless, and diamonds did not look good. West led the five of hearts. East won with the king, and Mr. Lazard false-carded by dropping the ten. East returned the seven of hearts; declarer played the queen. West won with the ace and played the nine. There was declarer's ninth trick. Looking at all hands it is easy to see that the defense should not really have been flimflammed out of the club suit. Looking at one hand only, it was really tough for them and declarer must get credit for a fine play.

CARD SENSE Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Spade Double ? You, South, hold: Spades K-9-7-4, Hearts K-J-3, Diamonds A-10-8, Clubs K-9-2. What do you do? A—Redouble. This shows a good hand. Later on you will either go to game or slam or double the opponents, depending on what happens.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-9, Hearts K-3-2, Diamonds J-9-4-3, Clubs Q-8-6-5. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

WELCOME IMMIGRANTS (Montreal La Presse)

Few countries can take pride in assuring within the scope of only one year work for nearly 200,000 more men and women. The thing would not be surprising in a nation of 40 or 50 millions, but it cannot fail to rouse astonishment in a country like Canada whose population is hardly 16 millions.

This state of affairs underlines three main facts. First of all, this considerable increase of the labor supply indicates that we are touching almost the full employment level, an event all the more reassuring because in the Fall of the year there are often signs of seasonal unemployment.

Again this increase in jobs signifies that if the natural growth of our population by birthrate is high it remains nevertheless that our ten provinces are in a position to absorb this new thrust of men and women workers in the most varied fields.

Finally this phenomenon shows that Canada can allow itself to welcome immigrants and to supply them with work as soon as they arrive. Our country, as everybody recognizes with some envy, is passing through a period of general prosperity. When its economy is so flourishing it can open its gates to European refugees such as the Hungarians in recent days, or to other immigrants capable of meeting the legitimate conditions imposed by our immigration service, notably on the question of health.

A JOINT GIFT

(Ft. William Times-Journal) Among the ingenious toys available to youngsters today is a replica of a helicopter. This actually can be made to fly. Attached to the machine is a cable, at the end of which is a handle. Turn the handle and the rotors turn. Turn the handle fast enough and the rotors lift the helicopter into the air. Once you get the hang of it, the operator can keep the machine flying for minutes at a time.

The Grandson got one for Christmas. And since then the Grandfather has been fascinated by it. He has become skillful in flying it all over the living room.

On Saturday, the boy was showing what he got for Christmas. He pointed to the helicopter and said, "Gramps and I got this for Christmas."

Santa, Reindeer Decorate Hall For Christmas Tea, Sale At North Hatley

NORTH HATLEY.—The Ladies' Circle of the North Hatley Baptist Church sponsored the last of the church Christmas sales and teas in the Community Hall which had been beautifully decorated in the Christmas theme by Mrs. Simon Kezar and Miss Ethel Bennett. Huge gaily painted figures of Santa Claus, his elves and reindeer, covered the walls, and Christmas candles, placed in glittering tinsel stars, centered each tea table.

In addition to the regular sale tables, there were three added attractions; a Sunday School table prepared by Miss E. Bennett which offered candy and novelty handwork, a table by the Baptist High Fellowship presided over by the president and secretary of the group, Betty Majaur and Deanna Gardner, and the ever popular fish pond which the many little people found irresistible. It contributed horns, mouth organs and whistles which made truly gala background music.

All tables did a rousing business, and the ladies announced the sale to be their most successful to date.

A salad tea was served under the supervision of the president, Mrs. Laura Hawse, Mrs. J. Ditchburn and Miss Hazel Cinnamon. Mrs. N. Burnell and Mrs. A. Marlow assisted members of the Circle in serving the tea.

MISSION CIRCLE
The Mission Circle of the Baptist Church held its Christmas meeting in the Sunday School Hall. Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. F. C. Amery, the vice-president, Mrs. G. E. Bennett, conducted the meeting.

It was voted to contribute a sum of money to the relief of Hungarian Baptists who are finding refuge in Vienna.

Mrs. M. Sharman and Mrs. S. Kezar were appointed to the nominating committee.

An invitation was received from the Mission Circle of the Sherbrooke Baptist Church to attend their January meeting at which time Mrs. W. J. Baxter of Verdun, will be the guest speaker.

At the conclusion of the business hour, the hostesses served a salad supper. The Circle was happy to have present, Mrs. Wesley Sharman.

HOME AND SCHOOL

The North Hatley Home and School held its December meeting in the High School Memorial Hall. Upwards of 225 people attended and enjoyed a program of carols and a Nativity pageant presented by the children of the junior grades under the direction of the program committee, Frank Woodward and Mrs. V. Packard, and Mrs. H. Pike and Mrs. Vaughan of the school staff.

During intermission a silver collection was taken and a drawing for a turkey was held, Eric Webster of Sherbrooke being the lucky number holder, who then gave the turkey to the Home and School cafeteria. This gracious gesture is appreciated by the Association.

Mrs. H. Montgomery, principal, made fitting remarks and read a message from the Stanstead Central school board on the meaning of Christmas.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served to the children.

TURKEY DINNER

On the last day of school prior to the Christmas holidays, children, parents and the teachers were entertained at a turkey dinner in the North Hatley school cafeteria.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Hilda Nelson and her assistant, Mrs. J. Ditchburn, 176 pupils and 115 parents and little brothers and sisters were served a delicious dinner. This was not a money making effort, but a gesture of thanks from the cafeteria committee and staff for the co-operation and support received during the development of the cafeteria.

Due to this whole-hearted backing, over 500 meals a week are being served by Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Ditchburn, assisted by ladies of the village and surrounding country.

A successful winter is anticipated by the committee and those who have put many hours in this worthwhile cause.

COMMUNITY TREE

Santa Claus paid his annual public visit to the Community of North Hatley on the evening of Saturday, December 22nd. It was a fine, clear evening and a large number of the citizens, young and not so young, gathered in the Christmas Tree Park around the brightly lighted tree.

Carol singing was enjoyed while waiting for Santa, who arrived on schedule and was in his usual jovial, exuberant mood. He distributed bags of candy to the children and then whisked away accompanied by the cheers of the youngsters.

Woodard at their farm-home. Later in the day the Woodards motored Miss Thompson to Sutton Jct., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. Francis Ingalls, for a few days before returning to Boston.

Since Sutton is on the direct railroad route between Montreal and Boston, there will be great inconvenience to many here if the C. P. R. strike called for this week, goes into effect then. With only the one railroad line here, Sutton will be trainless.

At a dinner party on December 23rd Mr. and Mrs. O. Baker entertained Mr. and Mrs. S. Catlin and daughter, Rae, of St. Albans, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Crittenden and baby daughter of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Hawley of Valois, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodard, Miss Beverley Baker of Montreal, and Miss Annie Powers of Montpelier, Vt.

Mrs. June Fuller, who spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Aseltine, has returned to her home in Ottawa.

What might have proved a disastrous conflagration occurred at the home of Miss Hazel E. R. Bates, when there was an explosion in her oil burning furnace. Fortunately the damage was not very extensive, as the building did not catch fire.

Rev. and Mrs. R. Birge, with their infant son, Pierre, were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodard.

After the regular Masonic lodge meeting a turkey banquet was held in the I. O. O. F. hall, with the ladies of the Baptist church acting as caterers.

Grandma Goes To Work

Elders Now Take More Active Role

By CAROLYN WILLET
OTTAWA. — (CP) — Grandmother, once pictured as the little lady decked in lavender and lace, today is more often a chic woman who steps into an office wearing a trim business suit.

Today, women go to work at any age, says Marion Royce, director of the women's bureau of the federal labor department.

Suitable employment, job training and counselling are important considerations in this new pattern of living.

Four Toronto women, experts who deal with the older working woman, have discussed these problems. The women's bureau compiled their views in a booklet entitled, "Women Go to Work at Any Age." It is filled with thoughtful and reassuring views on the part of older women can play in Canada's labor force.

MORAL SUPPORT
Miss Royce said one-fifth of Canada's working women are 45 or older. Many women return to work after spending years as homemakers, others must change jobs when company policies enforce retirement at a fixed age.

Usually an older woman seeking work meets a vague but underlying prejudice against older workers, Miss Royce said. Often at this time, she needs moral support and perhaps additional training.

Useful activity is a "wonder drug for the older citizen," said Mrs. A. C. Kenny, national personnel director of a large insurance company.

Her company finds middle-aged and older women can learn new work skills. But she suggested that mature women seeking work should themselves attempt to increase their labor skills.

Fear and anxiety about the unknown often confront an older woman faced with learning new skills, said Dr. Margery King, director of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

TRAINING IMPORTANT
"The older person... is quite capable of learning but, because she lacks practice in dealing with unknown situations, she may take longer to learn and may be quite insecure during the learning process."

Dr. King suggested older persons start doing different things now to develop a feeling of security to help meet an unknown future.

Employment counselor Margaret McIrvine stressed the importance of helping persons young or old to relate their training and experience in interests and abilities to job requirements and occupational trends.

Miss McIrvine, co-ordinator of women's employment for the unemployment insurance commission's Ontario region, said job placement should be the end result of successful employment counselling.

Retirement should be approached positively, in terms of an adjustment, said Helen Monkhouse, a medical-social worker at Sunnybrook Veterans Hospital in Toronto.

The emphasis should be on "retirement to, rather than from" present work, she said.

The call to worship was given by Betty Astbury who was in charge of the service. The invocation, "Come Softly, Come and Worship" was sung by the choir.

The congregation joined in singing the carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem." The Scriptures were read by Judy Sinclair and the choir sang "What Child is This" and "O Holy Night." Sylvia Evans read a poem "A Christmas Prayer," by R. S. Cushman and a story, "Beautiful is the Child" interspersed with the carols, "Noel, Noel," "Good Christian Men Rejoice," and "Bring a Torch Jeanette, Isabella" sung by Mrs. J. Gilbert.

Carolyn Cathcart and Betty Daigault took up the offering which was dedicated by Betty Astbury. The offering at this service was sent to the National C.G.I.T. The candle lighting service then took place, the girls joined in repeating the purpose: "Cherish health, seek truth, know God, serve others, and thus with His help become the girl God would have me be." Lighting the candles were Doreen Astbury, Betty Daigault and Diane Johnson, who also in turn led in prayer.

While the carol "Joy to the World" was being sung, the girls walked to the front to light their candles from the centre one, symbolic of Jesus, "The Light of the World," proceeded down the centre aisles and up the side aisles where they stood with lighted candles until the carol was finished.

★ RUTH MILLETT ★ Husbands Who Are Nagged Have Driven Wives To It

A wife has suggestions for husbands on how to stop a wife from nagging.

"Most wives are driven to nagging," she says, "by husbands who won't cooperate, who have poor manners or who are procrastinators. If they didn't have a wife's nagging to contend with, they would just act like star boarders in their own homes."

So the answer on how to cure a wife's nagging seems simple to this wife. All you men have to do, she maintains, is accept a little responsibility, cultivate enough neatness so that you aren't forever creating unnecessary work for your wife, do jobs for her the first or even the second time she asks, and mind your manners around the house.

Personally, I think the reader has something. Maybe all nagging isn't brought on by a husband's indifference, laziness, or carelessness but certainly a good part of it is. SHE HAS TO KEEP AFTER HIM

If a husband refuses to act like an adult and shirks his responsibilities around home, a wife either has to "let things go" or she has to keep after him until he finally gets around to doing what he is supposed to.

If a secretary makes sure her boss answers important letters, gets to appointments on time and finishes the piece of business that can't wait, a man calls her "efficient."

But if a wife tries to make sure that he gets the storm windows on, or fixes a leaky faucet, or asks him please not to flip cigarette ashes on the carpet — her prodding isn't efficiency but "nagging."

So get on the beam, men, if you don't want to be nagged. Women don't enjoy those constant reminders they give you. And they wouldn't have to nag you if they could brag about you instead.

Pretty And Practical Feather Hairdo Is Back

By ALICIA HART
The feather bob, which was all the rage in 1939-41, is making a comeback. But it's a brand new version of the feather cut.

The old cut was distinguished by a smooth crown and a halo of curls about the head. On this basic cut, three recent successes were developed—the poodle cut, the Italian cut and the Ulysses cut. Each was a variation of the feather bob.

Probably the reason for the return of the new feather cut is that it's both practical and pretty. Long hair is not practical for the average American woman and neither is an elaborate hairdo.

Today's feather cut is shorter than the original and its curls are less bulky. The heavy look is gone and the general effect is lighter, smarter and smoother.

The new cut takes just a few strokes of comb and brush to fall into place and look well. And that's the kind of hairdo American women favor.

Fashion

Good shoes are a good fashion investment. And each time you buy a pair, let the salesman measure your foot even though you think you know your shoe size. Remember that if a shoe is good, it needs no breaking in; it should be comfortable from the first day.

Your clothes should not go in to a clothes closet as soon as you come home. Try hanging them on hangers on the shower rod in the bathroom to give them a chance to air. Then brush them thoroughly with a clothes brush and place them in the closet.

New Asbestos Coat Of Arms

Shown above is the new coat of arms, which will replace that used by the town of Asbestos. The design was made by the College Canadien des Armoiries of Montreal and is symbolic of the characteristics of the region. The animal, which according to legend is indestructible, represents the asbestos fibre. The gold field shows the natural richness of the region. The picks and lamp are the main tools of the workers in the mines. The five-point crown indicates the dignity of the town. The motto, "Non deserit alta," which means "Seeking towards advancement," should inspire future generations toward progress. The town also has a "Golden Book" with the coat of arms on the cover. A reception was held January 3 at the town hall, when Mayor George Tardiff officially received the plaque and book from Phil. Leduc of the College des Armoiries. (Record photo by Wm. H. Lunan)

It takes money to make good gasoline

Gasoline quality has risen tremendously in the past few years. Two gallons of today's gasoline do the work of three in the '20s.

Finding new techniques to make these improved gasolines, and new equipment to put these techniques to work, has cost a lot of money.

Imperial, with by far Canada's most extensive oil research facilities, has spent 20 million dollars over the past ten years on research alone.

Imperial spent 65 million in the same period directly on new equipment to improve gasoline quality.

It's costing more and more money to make the gasolines required by today's more powerful cars.

Magog Aces Down Sherbrooke Beavers 7-2; M. Vaillancourt Gets Hat-Trick; Take Over Sole Possession Of Third

Magog — Coach Pee Wee Theriault's Aces moved into sole possession of third place in the O'Donnell circuit here last night when they romped to a 7-2 decision over the hapless Sherbrooke Beavers in a regular fixture of the Massawippi loop.

Marcel Vaillancourt was the top marksman with a hat-trick while Marius Goyette and Bob Painchaud each registered two in the outcome. For the Beavers it was playing-coach Bob Bedard who did the scoring for the losers.

Ossie Gagnon was sitting in the cooler for a tripping infraction when Marius Goyette drove the rubber by Jacques Doyon. A minute later Painchaud tallied unassisted and then Vaillancourt made it 3-0 with only half of the frame left. The Beavers just couldn't get organized as the Aces were holding onto their positions well and checking close.

Marius Goyette came up with his second goal just before the half way mark to give the home club a 4-0 lead. Bob Bedard got his first tally on a power-play with Vaillancourt in the sinbin for a slashing penalty.

A tripping infraction to Robidas set up the way for the Aces' fifth tally as Painchaud teamed up with Bess Planché for the marker. The final frame opened with the Beavers having a man advantage as G. Goyette had got the nod for cross-checking.

Vaillancourt got his second goal unassisted just after the halfway mark. The Beavers kept plugging and finally Coach Bedard was the trigger-man for a passing play with Jack Dubois and George Donahue.

Black Hawks Continue Tossing Monkey Wrenches At Top NHL Teams; Battle Canadiens To 3-3 Tie In Only Game

MONTREAL — (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks battled Montreal Canadiens to a 3-3 tie Thursday night in a rough game that proved something of a setback in Canadiens' attempts to drive to the top of the National Hockey League.

The lowly Hawks stunned the crowd of 13,880 by taking a two-goal lead in the first period but Canadiens' drive produced three in the second to Chicago's one.

What was expected to be another victory for Montreal — after Canadiens' 6-2 win in Chicago Tuesday night — found the third-place Canadiens with their hands full in settling for a draw with the free-wheeling Hawks.

Maurice Richard scored two of Montreal's goals, bringing his total for the season to 14. Don Marshall scored the third on a clean breakaway while his team was short-handed.

Hank Ciesla and Jack McIntyre scored for Hawks in the first period and Harry Watson got the tying goal in the second.

The crowd frequently booed referee Frank Udvari and broke out into a demonstration in the third period when Rocket Richard was hauled to the ice while driving deep in the Chicago end and no penalty was called.

Programs and rubber shoes were showered to the ice and the game was delayed several minutes.

The one point from the tie left Montreal two points behind second-place Boston Bruins and three behind the league-leading Detroit Red Wings who play here Saturday.

Goalie Al Rollins was outstanding for Hawks, making seemingly-impossible saves in the second period when the Montreal drive was at its height and again in the third when Canadiens went all out in an effort to pull out a win. Rollins had 39 shots tossed at him, compared with 20 Montreal goalie Jacques Plante had to handle.

Ciesla put Hawks in front at 6:23 of the opening period, deflecting Eddie Litzenberger's angle shots past Plante. McIntyre made it 2-0 at 17:52, poking in his own rebound.

Marshall blocked Elmer Vasko's attempted pass in the Chicago end in the second period and raced away in the clear to beat Rollins at 4:22. Rocket Richard scored his first at 11:09 on brother Henri's pass while Hawks were short handed and banged in his second at 11:40 with a partly-screened shot.

Watson scored at 17:15, taking Litzenberger's pass from the boards a few feet outside the crease.

Jean Beliveau, the league's leading scorer with 55 points, failed to get a point. He still holds a seven-point lead over Detroit's Gordie Howe.

York Hockey Writers luncheon. "They are indifferent. They have the ability but not the spirit. If they don't come through I will take action."

Watson said that four new men on the team—Larry Cahm, Bruce Cline, Gerry Foley, and Parker MacDonald—"have not been coming up to my expectations."

The peppery Watson went on: "Results I want. The ability is there. I want some drive, some shooting, some very good defensive work. If I don't get it, I'm going back with the whip."

Bud Palmer, CBS announcer, said the network had been surprised by the reception given the program of Saturday afternoon hockey games by stations throughout the country, and particularly along the Canadian border.

"The response is better than we had for big ten basketball," he said.

Edmonton Eskimos Show Profit Of $50,038 For 1956 Following Deficit Of 1955; Highest Paid Club In Canada

EDMONTON — (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos, whose 1955 loss of $10,800 was proof that you can lose money while winning the Grey Cup, in 1956 showed their largest profit in eight years of operation — a surplus of $50,038.

Record attendance of more than 138,000 at Clarke Stadium, home of Canada's three-time football champions, helped boost total income to $521,495. Expenditures totalled $471,458 and with the resulting profit—seventh in eight years—the club's operating surplus jumped to $124,338.

George Rekar Wants Tryout With Calgary

CALGARY — (CP) — A young Hungarian refugee has asked for a tryout with Calgary Stampede of the Western Hockey League.

George Rekar, a defenceman who played for the Hungarian national hockey team in international and world championship contests, arrived in Calgary last week from Budapest and asked Stampede coach Frank Currie for a chance to make the club.

Currie invited Rekar to a Stampede practice Thursday.

"If he's good enough we'll certainly give him a chance with the Stamps," Currie said.

Rekar, 29, played for the national Hungarian team against Pentico, B.C. Vs in the world hockey tournament in 1954 when Hungary lost to the Canadians 10-0.

He said he has played under a Canadian coach in Budapest and is acquainted with the Canadian style of hockey.

LAST NIGHT'S STAR

Harry Watson, whose second-period goal gave Chicago Black Hawks a 3-3 tie with Montreal Canadiens.

His report made several points: That Eskimos are against a 60-40 gate receipts split as proposed by some other Western Interprovincial Football Union clubs; that Eskimos' team salaries and travelling costs of $353,936 indicate the club is the highest paid in Canada; and that an increase of $40,000 in the "casual gate" as opposed to the season ticket sale—at league games made up most of the 1956 profit.

George Norgan Buys Shares In Vancouver Club

VANCOUVER — (CP) — General manager Cedric Tallis of Vancouver Mounties said Thursday George Norgan has purchased a "substantial" number of shares in the Pacific Coast League baseball club.

The Vancouver brewery magnate was formerly owner and president of Portland Beavers. Tallis would not say how Norgan's investment compares with that of restaurateur Nat Bailey who contributed $25,000 last month towards purchase of the franchise from owner Brick Laws of Oakland, Calif.

First payment of $25,000 has already gone to Laws. A second $25,000 instalment is due Jan. 15 when the local baseball committee must also show PCL directors that they have sufficient money for operating expenses.

The committee is selling shares in the Vancouver-owned club at $25 a share with $225,000 as its goal. Of this amount, $150,000 will go to Laws as purchase price.

Slid By Idle Meteors Into First Place; R. Spenard Tallies Two In Closely Fought League Fixture

WINDSOR — The Paper Makers climaxed their march to the top rung of the Massawippi Valley Hockey League here last night when they posted a 6-5 victory over the Brompton-East Angus Flyers in hard fought battle.

The win enabled Coach Gendron's squad to edge by the idle Meteors of Asbestos by a slim two-point margin and the Paper Makers have a game in hand over the Miners. On Sunday afternoon the Meteors will clash with the Flyers at the local Arena while the Paper Makers travel to Waterloo. The outcome of these games will play a big part in the league leadership.

Robert Spenard led the attack for the home club with two goals while Maurice Sears, Bert Morin, George Spenard and Jean-Guy Houde accounted for the others. For the Flyers Ray St. Cyr registered two with Frankie and George Reid along with Maurice Parr potting the others.

The home club jumped into a 3-0 lead before Ray St. Cyr got the Flyers first marker. R. Spenard, Sears and Morin gave the home team the early lead. Sears and Morin got the goals within a minute of each other.

In the middle session George Spenard extended the Paper Makers' lead at the start of the frame but when Edgar Gendron drew a interference penalty Frankie Reid tallied with a few minutes left.

The final frame saw a total of five totals being registered with the home club coming out on the short end of the count. R. Spenard made the score 5-2 but Jean-Luc Reid cut it down but Houde came back with one for the Paper Makers to give them a 6-3 advantage.

The Flyers came up with another of their closing drives and this time St. Cyr and Parr tallied to reduce the margin but as in last Sunday's game time ran out before they could get the equalizer. They were all over Dubois but he and his mates managed to hold onto their slim margin.

Sugar Ray Slated To Make Decision On March Re-Match With Champ; Blasts Ruby Goldstein's Officiating

NEW YORK. — (AP) — A return bout between newly-crowned middleweight champion Gene Fullmer and dethroned Ray Robinson was just about set today for New York in mid-March.

Fullmer okayed the second fight, promoter Jim Norris wants it, and there was every indication the 36-year-old Robinson would officially say yes this afternoon.

Robinson, who lost his title on a unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, met with his brain trust Thursday night and scheduled a press conference for this afternoon to announce his verdict.

Robinson, himself, indicated after his losing effort he was eager for the chance to win the title for the fourth time as well as to earn another big payday.

He collected $138,190 while Fullmer received $20,915. Robinson got 47 1/2 per cent of the gate and $60,000 of the radio-television money. Fullmer netted only 12 1/2 per cent of the gate. For the return each will get 30 per cent.

George Gainford, "chief adviser" in the Robinson camp, meanwhile let loose another blast at Fullmer for "illegal punching" and at referee Ruby Goldstein's officiating.

Big George claimed again Fullmer hit low, dropped Robinson with a "half butt and push," used rabbit punches (blows to the back of the neck) and rubbed the laces of his gloves against Robinson's face.

Fullmer denied the charges. He said he hit Robinson mostly on the side of the head and ears when Sugar Ray tried to tie him up inside.

Goldstein backed up Fullmer.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers Dig Into Their Own Roster For New Coach Sign Bud Grant As 1957 Pilot

WINNIPEG — (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers dug into their own roster Thursday night and came up with their coach for the 1957 Western Interprovincial Football Union season.

Signed to a one-year contract was Harry Peter Bud Grant, 29-year-old end with the club for the last four seasons.

Making the announcement at a press conference, Bomber president J. T. Russell said the assistant coach or coaches will be named at a later date.

Grant, chosen over 13 other applicants, will retire from active competition to take over the coaching job, left vacant when Bombers failed to take up the option of Al Sherman, who guided the club for the last three seasons.

Salary terms with the new coach were not revealed.

Born and raised in Superior, Wis., Grant played college football at the University of Minnesota before turning professional with Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League in 1953 and led all WIFU pass receivers in 1953, 1954 and 1956, finishing third in this category in 1955.

142. York drove in 119 runs and Doerr 116."

That Williams would like to once again see what he could do over a full season is understandable, as his absences due to injuries and personal problems, not to speak of his second hitch as a marine aviator, have been frequent the past few years.

Last year he seemed to be ready for that big year, only to come up with an injury which plagued him practically all season and caused him to miss many early games. He slipped off a wooden shower slipper and so injured his instep he hardly could walk.

At that he ended up with the 400 at bats required to qualify for the championship, but he couldn't catch Mantle.

So we can expect to see the big guy out there in left field for the Red Sox again, and the league should be very happy over the prospect. The fans still come out to watch him.
