World News In Brief

Montreal, Aug. 22— — Rail, road and air traffic moved slowly back to normal today after a day-long rainstorm yesterday disrupted the three services, flooded cellars and caused lengthy power failures.

No one was reported injured.

More than three inches of rain fell as an early-morning drizzle became a driving storm after noon.

The downpour forced an aircraft carrying 32 R.A.F. personel to land by radar; washed out a section of the Canadian Pacific Railways track near Montebello, Que., between Papineauville and Montebello and lightning struck the steeple of Christ Church cathedral in St. Andrew's east, 10 miles south of Lachute, Que.

Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 22—(AP)—A faint new comet, without a tail, has been discovered in the constellation Cepheus. California Institute of Technology made the announcement yesterday. The discovery was made Sunday night by the 48-inch Schmidt telescope on Palomar mountain.

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—The United States defence department today identified 91 additional casualties of the Korean war. The list included 21 dead, 50 wounded, 13 missing and seven injured.

Athens, Greece, Aug. 22—(AP) — The pro-government newspaper Elliniki Imera today demanded the withdrawal from Greece of United States ambassador John E. Peurifoy because he urged elections for a new Greek government soon.

It was the most bitter attack on Peurifoy since he remarked to Greek reporters two days ago that a new government would be in a better position to attack the country's pressing economic problems.

Cardiff, Wales, Aug. 22 — (Reuters) — Supervisors and safety officials returned to South Wales coal mines today, ending a strike which at one time forced 24,000 miners to stop work.

Apart from three small collieries in the Swansea valley employing a total of 1,000 men, all affected pits were operating.

The men have agreed to negotiate a settlement of their objection to new wage offers with the national coal board executive and the state-run industry.

Belfast, Aug. 22 — (Reuters)—The British Canberra jet bomber, which already holds the record for the east-west crossing of the Atlantic, is expected to make an attempt on the record for the double crossing soon, it was learned today. The English Electric Company, builders of the aircraft, are planning the attempt between Northern Ireland and Cander, Nfld.

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 22—(Reuters)—Gen Mohammed Naguib paid a flying visit today to the Egyptian garrison at Gaza, southern Palestine, amid unconfirmed press reports that some British troops in the Suez canal may be moved there.

Since seizing control of Egypt last month, Naguib has been touring every unit of the Egyptian army.

Press reports have suggested that Gaza may be established as an alternative base for British troops in the Suez area to meet Egypt's wishes. There has been no official British comment on this.

Eisenhower, Stevenson Remarks May Test Harmony Within Their Party Ranks

Kick-Backs Are Expected As Two Leaders Following Independent Courses.

Washington, Aug. 22. — (AP) — Pre-campaign comments by both Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Governor Adlai E. Stevenson today provided a test of the harmony within the ranks of their two parties.

Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee, talking with party leaders of seven western states yesterday in Kansas city, made two remarks which raised a question whether he might get kick-backs within his own party. They were:

1. Although the Korean conflict was caused by "terrible blunders" by the present administration, the United States had no choice but to intervene.

Many Republicans disagree sharply on the soundness of American intervention.

2. An attack on communist China, Eisenhower said, would mean starting another war far more terrible than the one now going on.

On this point, he seemed to take issue with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and many Republicans in Congress who have backed MacArthur's proposal that the United Nations bomb communist China.

The Democratic picture is this: Stevenson, the Presidential candidate, may have irked President Truman with his comments about a "mess" in Washington and possibly by some of his decisions on how to conduct his campaign.

Truman at a press conference yesterday made it evident in several ways—by what he said, what he didn't say, and by his facial expression—that he doesn't like some of the things Stevenson has said and done.

He gave a crisp "No comment" when asked if he is satisfied with the way Stevenson and the vice-presidential nominee, John J. Sparkman of Alabama, have started off their campaign.

Truman said he knows nothing of any mess in Washington, and would not comment when pressed for his reaction to Stevenson's remarks that there is crime and corruption in Washington.

But Truman said he did not think Stevenson or Sparkman was making a target of him. He said they couldn't, because he is the key to the campaign—all the issues revolve around what he has done in recent years.

Republican National Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield was quick to make political hay out of this last comment. He said it was further proof that Stevenson must base his campaign on Truman's record.

Other political developments:

Senator Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, co-chairman of the Republican campaign speaker's bureau, said last night Eisenhower will "endorse and campaign actively" for Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin if McCarthy is nominated and asks the General's support.

Senator A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma, chairman of the Democratic speaker's bureau, promptly called this "incredible" because of McCarthy's attacks on Gen. George C. Marshall, who helped Eisenhower become a top general.

9 Slayings Attributed To One Man

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Police today scoured southern Sweden for Tore Hedin, a former policeman sought in connection with nine killings.

He is wanted following the hatchet murder of his fiancee, the arson killing of his parents and the deaths of five inmates of an old folks' home which was set on fire last night. An old, unsolved murder is attributed to him.

Police thought the wanted man might have committed suicide after escaping in a stolen car this morning.

Police said Hedin was deputy marshal in Hurova, South Sweden, until last Wednesday, when he was suspended on a complaint of beating his sweetheart, 24-year-old Ulla Oestburg.

Police said a note left by Hedin in a car he stole and abandoned confessed that he hacked his sweetheart to pieces in the old folks' home. The matron, Mrs. Agnes Lundin, 54, heard cries for help. When she came on the scene, the note said, Hedin killed her.

Next he burned down his family's house, killing his father, 74, and mother, 56.

The note, police said, also confessed to the killing of Allan Nilsson, a mill owner who died when his home was set afire in 1950. Hedin, as a law officer, took part in the investigation of the crime.

"The solution to this crime mystery can be found in the wet," the hunted man wrote in the note. Police interpreted this to mean he planned to suicide in a nearby lake.

The note gave no motive for most of the crimes, but said he had burned his parents to death because he did not want them to know he was a murderer.

Toronto's Ex. Start Today

Toronto, Aug. 22.— (CP) —Three young boys who spent the night in a tent at the gates of the Canadian National Exhibition today were the first customers at the 1952 version of the world's biggest annual fair.

The youngsters, typical of thousands who count the "Ex" as the year's biggest event, staked out their "camp" shortly before sundown.

Gates of the show, which is expected to attract 3,000,000 persons this year, opened at 10 a.m. but official opening came later in the day with Governor-General Vincent Massey officiating. National pride is stressed as the theme at the two-week fair as it was 73 years ago when some 500,000 persons crowded into the waterfront grounds.

Foreign manufacturers are well represented but Canadian skills and products are awarded the major portion of exhibit space.

One of the biggest exhibits is manned by the armed forces. Paratroopers from Camp Shilo, Man., stage a daily drop into the bay while jets sweep low over the buildings.

Agricultural competitions, often dominated by United States entries, this year claim more Canadian competitors than ever before. American cattle have been excluded from the show by border regulations following the western epidemic of hoof-and-mouth disease.

Ike Support Of McCarthy "Incredible"

By JACK BELL

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—The chairman of the Democratic speakers' bureau today termed "incredible" a Republican counterpart's assertion that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will support Senator Joseph McCarthy.

Senator A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma issued this statement after Senator Karl Mundt of South Dakota said on a radio program last night that Eisenhower will "endorse and campaign actively" for McCarthy if the latter is renominated by Wisconsin Republicans.

On the radio program, Mundt also said that Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee, will also campaign for Senators James P. Kem of Missouri, William E. Jenner of Indiana and John W. Bricker of Ohio, Republicans who have not shared Eisenhower's foreign policy views.

Monroney said he finds it impossible to believe that Eisenhower would appear on the same platform with McCarthy because of the latter's attacks on Gen George C. Marshall, who helped Eisenhower attain his five-star General's rank.

The Oklahoma Senator noted that in a Senate speech McCarthy had accused Marshall of participating in a "a conspiracy of infamy so black that when it is finally exposed, its principals shall be forever deserving of the maledictions of all honest men."

Monroney said:

"It is incredible that General Eisenhower can embrace McCarthy, the author of this attack upon a great American. General Eisenhower knows better than anyone else of General Marshall's great service and patriotism to his country."

Mundt, a member of the Republican Senatorial campaign committee, said he assumed McCarthy will be renominated and that when he is, Eisenhower, if invited, will go into Wisconsin and give him his ""active support."

Thirteen Flood Victims Buried

Lynton, England, Aug. 22—(Reuters)—A mournful lament on the bagpipes skirled across the Valley of Rocks today as 13 victims of last week's flash-flood at nearby Lynmouth were buried.

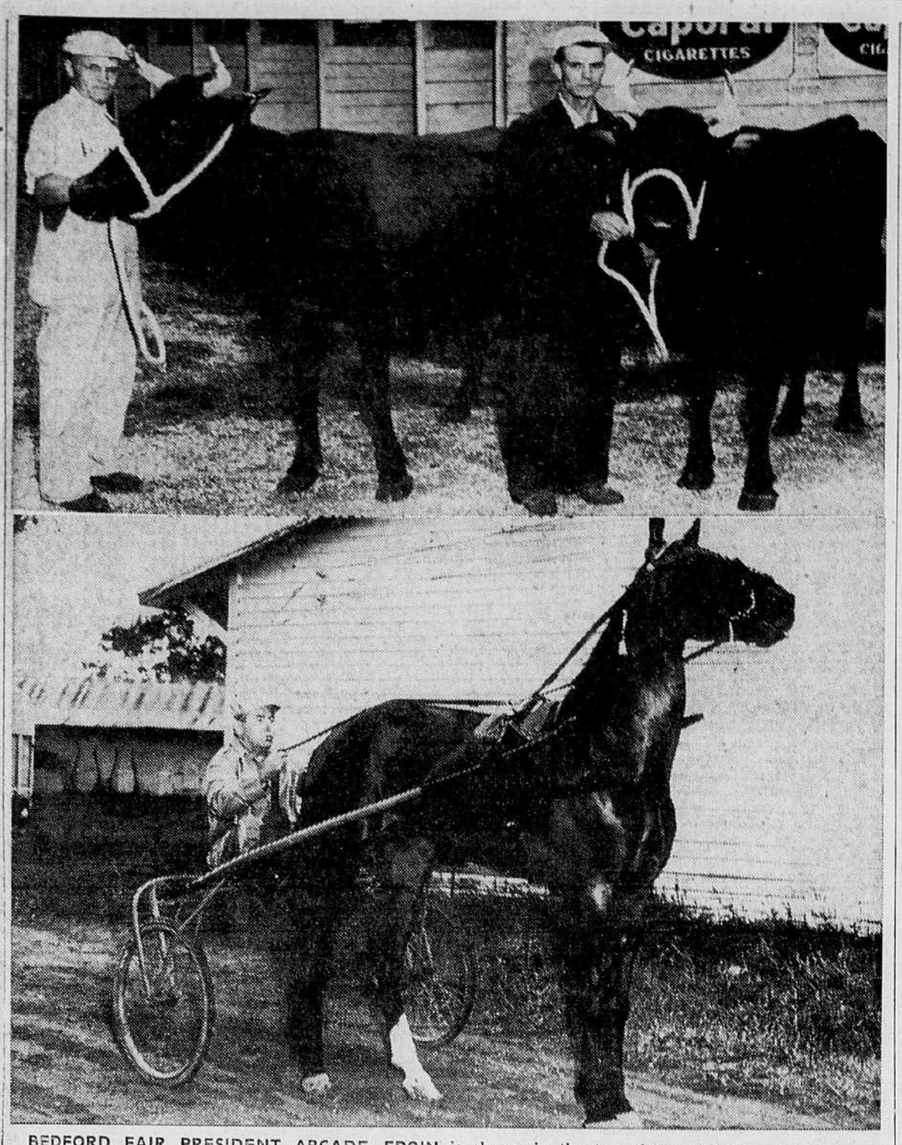

About 60 mourners gathered along two lines of graves in the hydrangea-filled cemetery.

Rev. Theodore Coldman walked over from Lynmouth, almost blotted out by the river floods, to conduct a joint service with Rev. E. H. Soutar, vicar of Lynton.

Tom Floyde, local postman who lost six of his family in the flood, led the singing of "Abide With Me". As the last coffin was lowered, an army bugler blew the Last Post. Then the notes of the lament, Flowers of the Forest, played by a lone piper, echoed across the valley.

Twenty-one persons are known to have died in the Lynwood flood, with 15 still missing and presumed dead.

Devizes, Wiltshire, England, Aug. 21—(AP)—A piece of wood from the United States White House, slightly scorched by British troops when they burned the place in 1814, was presented yesterday in the form of a gavel to the British army training centre here. Brig. Gen. W. P. Campbell, assistant chief of finance of the U.S. army, presented the gavel, once part of President Truman's collection.

Swedish Motorship And U.S. Freighter Collide Off Southern California

Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 22—(AP)—The Swedish motorship Stratus collided early today with the American ship S. S. Coos Bay off the southern California coast.

Coast guard headquarters said the Swedish vessel radioed that part of the Coos Bay crew had taken to lifeboats but that some men remained aboard. There was no report of casualties.

The Stratus reported its bow stoved in above the water line. It said the Coos Bay had a large hole in the port side and may be taking water.

Radio Contact with the cargo vessel came more than an hour after the Coast Guard first received a message on the distress frequency saying only, "colliding with American ship called Coos Bay, position seven miles west of Anacapa Island." The later message corrected the position to six miles east of the island.

That would be offshore from Ventura, Calif. Heavy fog was reported all along the coast.

When communication was renewed, the Stratus reported it had sent its lifeboats alongside the damaged American vessel but remaining members of the crew refused to come aboard. The Stratus asked for two tugs which are being dispatched from here, and said it would stand by until tugs arrive.

The Coos Bay is a converted landing craft of 3,104 tons net us-

Airwoman Leads Police On Chase

Montreal, Aug. 22—(CP)—A 19-year-old R.C.A.F. airwoman who yesterday led police of two provinces on an accident-dotted 115-mile chase to the outskirts of Montreal was under observation in hospital today.

An R.C.A.F. spokesman said the girl, identified as airwoman Gladys Linda Rochon of Nanaimo, B.C., was moved to Queen Mary Veterans' hospital last night and later was transferred to suburban Verdun Protestant hospital.

The spokesman said no charges have been laid. The girl was reported suffering from shock.

The zig-zagging chase along the Ottawa-Montreal highway started after the girl took a service ambulance from Rockcliffe R.C.A.F. station, near Ottawa. Ontario Provincial Police tipped off Quebec Provincial Police.

The girl evaded many attempts to halt her. She was stopped when a police bullet forced the ambulance into a ditch at Strathmore, Que., 15 miles west of Montreal. She had driven through a road block, sideswiped a police car and caused an accident police said sent three persons to hospital.

She sat sobbing but unhurt when approached by Quebec police.

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 22—(AP)—A second of Mrs. Maria Albano's girl quintuplets died at the Sao Paulo maternity hospital last night. She was to have been named Maria Tereza.

The five babies were born to Mrs. Albano, 38, on Tuesday night and were placed in an incubator. One died yesterday. Maria Angela had been picked as her name.

Air Attacks Continue In Korea

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 22 —(AP)— United Nations planes today smashed communist targets all across the Korean peninsula, while ground troops repulsed two light Red assaults.

The United States Fifth Air Force said 12 B-26 bombers staged a daylight raid on a communist supply area at Anak on Haeju peninsula, near the 38th parallel in western Korea.

Other allied planes demolished five large warehouse buildings near Wonsan, on the east coast, the air force said. Fighter bombers slashed at Red battle front positions.

Six U.S. Sabre jets scrapped with elements of a flight of 10 Russian-built MIGs near Sinuiju in northwest Korea, but failed to score.

The air force said U.N. pilots destroyed 11 Red-occupied buildings, 15 gun positions, 49 bunkers and four mortars, and inflicted 20

Pax Romana Congress Has Started

Toronto, Aug. 22 —(CP)— Three amateur and one professional translator got the first Pax Romana congress ever held in Canada off to an official start last night.

With delegates in attendance from more than 40 countries, the congress of Roman Catholics began a series of meetings which end in Quebec city on Sept. 1. Business meetings are being held here, while a five-day seminar on the role of the university will be held in Montreal.

The translators were the busiest delegates last night. Congress officials had hoped simultaneous translation equipment such as the United Nations uses would be available but it didn't show up in time. As a result they fell back on consecutive translation.

English, French and Spanish are the official languages of the meeting. Each translator repeated a speech in his own language after it was made.

Last night's session was the plenary meeting of the undergraduate section of Pax Romana. Today the graduate section's meetings will begin.

In a speech of welcome, Bishop Pelletier of Three Rivers, Que., told delegates to put forward the virtues which will bring the peace so long awaited by the world. The undergraduate section was told by its president, Rosaire Baule of Montreal, that its task is nothing less than to Christianize the university world.

The vital force of the movement must be the local group in each community of each country, general secretary Bernard Ducret of Fribourg, Switzerland, said. The work of Pax Romana consisted of achieving in the hearts of all federation members the triumph of Catholicism which would unite them over the nationalism which separated them.

"This work," he said, "so necessary, but so difficult, cannot be accomplished without the grace of God. Our work must be at the time a testimony and a witness.

"Not only must we unite ourselves in strength around the light, but we must let this light shine out for others in need of it. Faced with the challenge of false ideology, it is not the action of a Catholic to shut himself up in a ghetto of selfish isolation."

Dr. Victor Dore Gets Extra Job

Ottawa, Aug. 22—(CP)—An exchange of diplomatic missions between Canada and Austria was announced today in a statement released simultaneously at Ottawa and Vienna.

Dr. Victor Dore, 72-year-old Montreal-born scholar, has been appointed Canadian minister to Austria and will couple his work there with his present duties as minister to Switzerland.

Dr. Max Loewenthal-Chlumecky, Austrian ambassador to the United States, will assume an additional post as his country's minister to Canada. The present Austrian consulate-general here will be redesignated as a legation and during the minister's absences will be under a charge d'affaires.

Dr. Dore was Canadian ambassador to Belguim and minister to Luxembourg from 1946 to 1950 when he was appointed minister to Switzerland. He served on the executive board of U.N.E.S.C.O. 1947-48.

He graduated from the University of Montreal where he specialized in French literature and the history of fine arts. Between 1900 and 1946 he held a series of teaching and administrative posts with the Catholic school commission of Montreal and the University of Montreal.

T.L.C. Opposes Outright Ban On Communist Party

By JOHN LEBLANC
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Winnipeg, Aug. 22. — (CP) — Canada's biggest union body, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, will go on battling Reds in union ranks but balks at calling for the outlawing of the communist party in this country.

The 502,000-member T.L.C. at its annual convention yesterday tramped on an attempt to have it ease up on its own tough internal policy on Reds but drew a line between that and government action against the Labor-Progressive party, the legislative arm of the Reds in this country.

The anti-Red T.L.C. took the stand that asking the federal government to outlaw communist parties—or any other subversive parties—might open the way to suppression that could threaten freedom of expression in Canada.

Prominent Congress members known to be strong anti-communist fighters kicked at the idea of outlawing the communists by federal legislation. They were as vehement as left-wingers on the issue.

The T.L.C.'s decision represented something of a setback for its executive, which had given tacit approval to the idea of a ban on the communist party. The proposal was put before the convention by its resolutions committee and, it was understood, after an okay by the executive.

Bernard Shane of Montreal, Canadian chief of the international ladies' garment workers' union and one of Canada's top anti-Reds in labor, summarized the opposing argument this way:

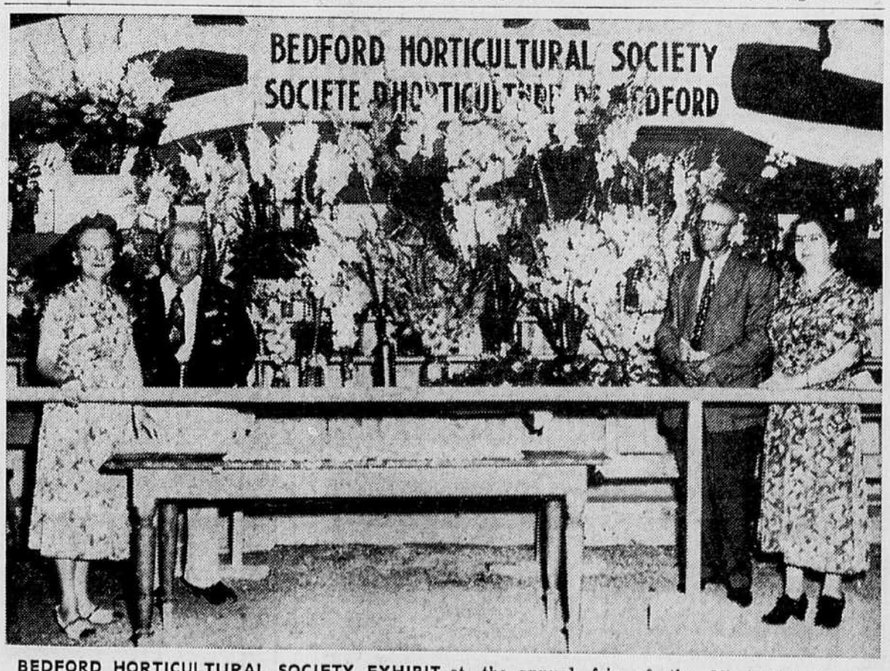

"It would be putting a terrible weapon in the hands of government to have it supress a political party. Once you give a government that power, you don't know who they'll suppress next."

Without a recorded vote, the Congress overwhelmingly decided against the ban. Only a handful supported it.

The 537 delegates were equally strong on deciding earlier that the Congress should continue its decision against allowing communist-dominated unions in the Congress or communist individuals to become convention delegates.

The ban was slapped on two years ago, and its removal was sought by the left-wing Ocean Falls, B. C., local of the pulp and sulphite workers' union.

The Ocean Falls proposal got bludgeoned quickly by the Congress, nobody support it except three delegates from that paper-mill town.

Kefauver Wants Congress To Enact More Crime Laws

Washington, Aug. 22— (AP) — Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem. Tenn.) said today he is encouraged by enforcement of the laws his crime committee helped enact, but wants Congress to approve more of its recommendations.

In a statement, Kefauver, who was chairman of the Senate crime investigating committee during most of its life, said he has received "encouraging reports" from the justice and treasury departments. These show, he said, that they are following through on the committee's recommendations.

But they also show, Kefauver added, that additional legislation urged by the committee should be passed by Congress.

The recommendations would require racketeers to keep records and produce a statement showing their net financial worth. They would also prohibit deduction of illegal gambling losses from income tax returns.

Another committee suggestion was for creation of a permanent crime commission. Kefauver said he would propose this again at the January session of Congress.

Figures in the bureau of internal revenue, meanwhile, showed something pretty drastic apparently going on among the country's gambling fraternity.

In the wake of the crime committee investigation last year, Congress passed a law requiring gamblers to pay a $50 occupation tax every year, plus a 10-per-cent excise tax. Many gamblers were wary of the law since it registered them in a profession outlawed in most states. Nevertheless, before last June 30, a total of 22,401 gamblers had registered.

Since July 1, start of the new fiscal year and time for getting new stamps, only 3,950 gambling stamps were bought, the bureau reported today. Officials were not sure whether, on the strength of a district court ruling that the tax is unconstitutional, gamblers had decided the Supreme Court will overthrow the law and had held off buying stamps.

The bureau, in a report quoted by Kefauver, said lotteries and bookmaking were on the upswing. It said the occupational stamp and excise tax—neither recommended by the committee—were being mostly ignored by gamblers.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 22—(AP)—The Chattanooga Times today quotes Senator Estes Kefauver as saying he had refused a possible appointment as attorney-general of the United States.

Kefauver said he had discussed the possibility of his appointment with Democratic Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson and Democratic chairman Stephen A. Mitchell and had let it be known that he was "not interested," says the Times.

Golfers Tee Off

The implication of gamblers backing a professional woman golfer in the movie "Pat and Mike" caught the golf world off balance and the wails are coming in from coast to coast.

I've just received a copy of one protest letter sent to MGM boss Dore Schary by Walter Keller, a PGA member for 23 years and operator of the Sunset Fields Driving Range in Los Angeles.

Keller was "surprised" and "shocked" by the film's theme and regrets "that Hollywood had to pick on our business, which never has been tainted by gamblers owning a piece of any professional golfer." The golf scenes, says Keller, were "technically satisfactory, but obviously your golfer adviser was not consulted when the script was written.'

Then clear-thinking Keller adds: "Many fine MGM movies have preached Americanism. But won't Russia use "Pat and Mike" as proof that even U.S. sports are corrupted?"

Radio, Television Seek Equal Rights

New York. — Television and radio are battling for the people's right to look and listen.

This fight was pointed up recently by the campaigns of the airwaves men to get their cameras and microphones into the hearing rooms of Congress, and into the hearings on the delegate contests at the national political conventions at Chicago.

Sen. Pat McCarran, Nevada Democrat, sponsored a resolution to ban radio and TV at Senate Committee hearings. And the Republican National Committee prohibited TV and radio broadcast of the delegate contests.

These actions received wide publicity, but there are similar campaigns on the state and local levels, too.

One of the complaints against radio and TV coverage of governmental hearings is that they cause too much confusion in a mechanical way—lights, cameras, microphones.

But Jim Bormann, president of the National Association of Radio News Directors, says: "We foresee the day when the microphone and the camera in a hearing chamber or in a courtroom will be no more conspicuous than the judges' thumb."

Sen. McCarran expressed concern that civil rights of witnesses might be jeopardized by radio or TV coverage.

Mr. Bormann replies: "As I see it, the best approach to the problem would be along these lines: establish safeguards for the rights of persons appearing before the committee . . . and at the same time safeguard the rights of the people to know more rather than less about what their government is doing—in committee or elsewhere."

Broadcasters can point to a court decision in New Jersey as evidence of progress in their contention that microphones should have the right to go to the same places that newspaper reporters do.

Superior Court Judge C. Thomas Schettino backed up with a court order the contention of a radio station that constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press also apply to radio.

Prof. Arthur Barnes of the School of Journalism, State University of Iowa, said two conclusions stood out after a questionnaire was circulated among 23 radio stations:

There is "very little live broadcasting of governmental proceedings" and very few of the 23 stations met with flat refusal when they sought permission to record or broadcast.

Rain Falls For Opening Of Waterloo Fair, But All Events Are Completed

Rain failed to dampen opening day at the Ayer's Cliff Fair yesterday as all events were carried out on schedule.

The colorful midway was in full swing early in the morning. In the afternoon, the first revue by Hamid's Grandstand Attractions was presented, in addition to a classified harness race.

Judging got underway in several departments, including horses, sheep, cattle and swine. The entries in the Ayrshire class are exceptionally good this year and judges had a difficult time in selecting the winners.

One of yesterday's highlights was the junior calf club banquet at the fair grounds, which is sponsored annually by the Stanstead County Agricultural Society. Several fair directors and agronomes from the district were on hand.

The national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, George Drew, is scheduled to pay a visit to the fair today. Mr. Drew will tour the various exhibits and will make a brief address to the crowd from the grandstand.

Two classified harness races with a total of six heats will be held this afternoon, along with the regular grandstand performance.

Two central points at the fair are the main building and the horticultural building.

The former houses the various industrial exhibits. These include displays by Levesque Ltd., of Sherbrooke, the Southern Canada Power Co., O'Boyle and Pearce, of Sherbrooke, the Bible House, of Montreal, and John Hunter, of Ayer's Cliff.

The Boundary Rotary Club booth features a television set, the prize going to the lucky winner of a draw for which tickets are being sold.

The Stanstead County W.I. have prepared a very interesting display, the theme of which is "For Home and Country."

The top floor of the main building is reserved for the children's and ladies' departments, including a large handicrafts display by the Cercle Fermiere and Stanstead County W.I.

The Horticultural Building is filled with the entries in the agricultural and garden products department, with maple syrup and dairy products, and with cooking delicacies and preserves.

This building is controlled by an executive apart from the regular fair executive. The officials are as follows: L. S. Colt, Stanstead president, H. H. Brown, Hatley, vice-president, Alfred Keeler, Ayer's Cliff, secretary-treasurer, G. Philbrick, Ayer's Cliff, auditor.

Mention should be made of the main dining hall on the fair grounds, where full course meals with a home made flavor are served.

The dining hall is sponsored by the fair directors solely for the accomodation of fair visitors.

The results of yesterday's classified harness race follow;

J. T. Brooke (Dominion Ltd.)	1	1	1
Morgan Brooke (G. Heath, Richmond)	4	2	2
Miss Betty Brooke (M. Dube, Richmond)	2	3	3
Baby Ritz (G. Adamson, Richmond)	3	4	4

Times: 2:18, 2:19 4/5, 2:19 3/5.

Starter for the day was R. R. Frechette, of Coaticook. Judge was C. S. Harris, of Magog, and timer, G. McHarg, of Ayer's Cliff. Clerk of the course is J. W. McNally, of Rock Island.

Cowansville To Be Scene Of Exhibition

Cowansville, Aug. 22.—Committee work is now well under way for the Brome-Missisquoi Industrial and Commercial Exhibition which is to be held on November 6, 7 and 8 in Cowansville, under the sponsorship of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The main purpose of this exhibition, the first of its kind in the district, is to promote local industries and commerce in the two counties concerned by showing the numerous products manufactured there and the ones offered for sale through local stores and dealers.

Outside of being educational, this event will also have its lighter side which will consist of a stage revue by internationally known performers in the fields of singing, dancing, acrobatics, magic and instrumental music. These performances will be different each night during the exhibition.

More than 40 attractive booths varying in size and decoration will occupy a good portion of Ste. Therese School auditorium while the space in front of the spacious stage will conclude each evening session. A popularity contest with candidates from the various communities of the district is also organized in connection with the exhibition for the title Queen of Industry and Commerce.

Several other activities are also planned to complete the elaborate program of this fair which should make this lovely part or the province better known and praised by its own residents as well as by the thousands of visitors expected during the fair.

Former E. T. Priest Dies At St. Gregoire

St. Gregoire, Que., Aug. 22.—(CP)—Rev. Laurent Rolland Belcourt, 66, parish priest of St. Gregoire, died here yesterday after a long illness.

Father Belcourt, who had been attached to this parish on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River almost opposite Three Rivers for eight years, had been ill for more than a year.

A native of Labaie-du-Febvre, Que., he studied for the priesthood at Nicolet, Que., and at the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He was ordained Aug. 24, 1912, and appointed curate at Kingsey Falls, Que. He served in ten different parishes.

Funeral service will be held at St. Gregoire Monday.

Fisheries Dept. To Have Booth At Exhibition

As in past years the Federal Department of Fisheries will have booths for culinary demonstrations at the various Fairs, including Sherbrooke, from August 23 to 29.

Dietitians from the Department will prepare delicious fish dishes and visitors are invited to taste them. A bilingual pamphlet "Fish dishes are delicious" will be handed out to Fair visitors, who will be pleased to see the number of fine recipes available.

The Hon. Dr. Camille E. Pouliot, Minister of Fisheries, wishes to bring home to the public the fact that the Department endeavours to offer recipes designed to preserve the nutritive values of fish in spite of cooking.

After tasting the mouth watering dishes made with Gaspe fish, the housewife will be anxious to try out a number of the easy, time saving and economical recipes.

Because of the more than adequate freezing facilities, the Department maintains for the preserving of its fish, the consumer is assured of high quality products, kept as fresh as the day they came out of the water.

Television Set Big Attraction At Bedford Fair

Bedford, Aug. 22—Almost washed out by the persistent rains of yesterday, the 123rd annual Fair of the Missisquoi County Agricultural Society moves into its second day today, full of hope. The fair concludes Saturday night.

The number of entries among cattle, sheep and horses is larger this year. So are the number of exhibits.

There is a great deal to see and be enjoyed if the customers can be lured away from the television set at the exhibit of the Joseph Dion and Son furniture store, of Bedford. The large T.V. set receives programs from C.B.F.T. Montreal, and crystal clear.

Today, two harnes races were scheduled for the track before the grandstand and two more races will be run off Saturday. Purses for each are $300.

Judging got underway yesterday for vegetables and flowers although the Young Breeders' events were cancelled because a heavy evening downpour limited attendance of customers and the showmen, themselves.

The attraction of Ted's Broadway Shows are now set up and everyone is hopeful of a banner Fair, if the weather is good.

Municipal Police Nab Slot Machine

Aged Bury Resident Knocked Down By Vehicle, Left To Die On Road

Provincial police are seeking a truck driver who is believed to have caused the death of 79-year-old A. C. Willys, of Bury, shortly after midnight this morning.

Willys was found dead beside the road near Bury by Hubert Grenier while on his way to work about six o'clock this morning. Grenier immediately notified Provincial Police Officer Hubert Lawrence, of Bury.

Dr. S. J. Bennett of Cookshire was called and placed the time of death around midnight. The victim was suffering from concussion and two broken legs. The presence of a considerable quantity of blood in the vicinity of the mishap leads to the belief that he did not die instantly, but lived for some time after the accident.

An investigation revealed that Willys was last see by a man named Asbury, who operates a store in Bury, about seven o'clock last night.

However, Francis Gaulin, who lives about 200 feet from the scene of the accident, reports that he saw a truck turning in his driveway about midnight.

Bourque, Gingues, Levesque To Take Part In Official Opening Of Fair

Official opening of the 67th annual Sherbrooke Exhibition will take place tomorrow evening at 8.30 o'clock.

W. G. MacDougall, president of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, announced today that the formal opening will take place at the grandstand, during the concert by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police band from Ottawa.

Taking part in the official ceremonies, in addition to the officers of the E.T.A.A., will be Hon. J. S. Bourque, provincial minister of lands and forests and hydraulic resources, Maurice Gingues, Sherbrooke's member of parliament, and Mayor Emile Levesque.

Final preparations for the fair were being completed today and the end of the rain was welcomed by everyone concerned. The success or failure of a fair can depend on the weatherman, and up around the exhibition grounds the most fervent wish is that next week will see fine, sunny weather.

The quality and quantity of exhibits this year is expected to top just about everything in the past.

There is a particularly fine entry of cattle, with the total in the vicinity of 600 head. This is believed to be a record for the Sherbrooke Exhibition.

Income Tax Staff Has Annual Picnic

Joy Rides In Stolen Tuck Bring Charges

The story of how two patients, confined to the local sanitarium, slipped out quietly during the night, visited a dance hall, went for a walk with a girl and then went joy riding was related in Court of Sessions here yesterday.

One of the patients, Gerard St. Mars, alias Leo Ouimet, was serving time in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and was transferred to the local institution where he could be cared for. He is suffering from tuberculosis.

St. Mars and another patient, also of Montreal, are alleged to have slipped out of the Sanitarium on two occasions and enjoyed themselves.

A Sherbrooke girl testified that she was escorted home one evening by the two boys. She said the boys said goodnight on the sidewalk and she went in the house. Later that same evening they are alleged to have taken a truck and gone for a joy ride, parking the truck near the spot from where it was taken.

On another occasion they are alleged to have taken another truck and started out on another joy-ride.

St. Mars pleaded not guilty and chose a summary trial. Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre, Q.C., handled the case for the crown before Judge Joseph Marier and when the crown had concluded its evidence the case was adjourned until next Thursday. Attorney Benoit Turmel will start his defense next week.

Municipal police investigated.

Municipal police arrested St. Mars but no charge has been brought against his companion as yet.

MAN FINED

Richard Trepanier, of Princeville, was fined $350 or in default of payment one year in jail by Judge Joseph Marier in Court of Sessions here yesterday.

He had previously pleaded guilty to having in his possession 166,980 American cigarets on which duty had not been paid in addition to 25 lbs. of tobacco.

GETS TWO MONTHS

Paul Hamilton, of Montreal, was sentenced to two months in jail here yesterday by Judge Joseph Marier who found him guilty of a charge of selling books but never delivering them.

The accused chose a summary trial.

He sold a quantity of books to a local girl for cash but failed to make the delivery.

Roland Dugre, Q.C., handled the case for the crown.

PIGEON HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Willey and children and Mr. Frank Needham and children were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Needham while in Knowlton to attend an auction sale.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Boomhour, Mr. D. L. Tittemore, Mrs. H. Guthrie, Mrs. Nellie Oakes, Mr. Homer Sornberger and Mr. Wayne Sornberger attended the United Church ice cream social in Bedford.

Mr. Gordon Calder, of Noranda, Mrs. R. Montgomery, of St. Albans, Vt., and Mrs. D. MacDonald, of Ottawa, were recent callers at Oakcrest Manor.

Mrs. Harold Twombly, of Thompsonville, Conn., was calling on friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martindale and family, who are vacationing at Lake Carmi, Vt., were tea guesas of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guthrie.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guthrie was baptized on Sunday, August 17, in St. James' Church, Rev. Kettleborough officiating. The baby received the names Stephen Frank. The godparents were Mr. and Mrs. H. Guthrie, grandparents.

Mr. Frank Needham was in Waterloo for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ling are spending a holiday in Greensboro, Vt., with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ling.

Mr. Homer Sornberger and son, Mr. Wayne Sornberger, motored to Montreal on Saturday. Wayne remained to spend a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Guthrie motored to Sutton on Sunday and attended the parade of the 150th anniversary of the township.

Mr .and Mrs. Homer Sargeant and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rychard and son, of Cowansville, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. Arthur Rychard.

Oldest Seventh-Day Adventist Church In Canada

Ceremonies Begin At South Stukely Of Oldest Canadian Adventist Church

Ceremonies celebrating the 75th anniversary of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church at South Stukely, the oldest church of this denomination in Canada, begin tonight.

Speaking this evening is Rev. G. Eric Jones, president of the church's Ontario and Quebec conference and a native of the Eastern Townships. Pastor Jones is a descendant of a charter member of the church.

Four speeches will be given Saturday, by Rev. T. E. Lucas, of Washington, D.C., world youth director of the denomination; Rev. W. A. Nelson, Oshawa, Ont., president of the church for the Dominion; Rev. C. L. Taylor, South Lancaster, Mass., former pastor; Rev. M. S. Fisher, present minister of the church at South Stukely; and Professor Monteith, of Oshawa Missionary College.

A symposium will be held Saturday by surviving charter members or their descendants.

Sunday, Rev. H. J. Brendel, pastor of Westmount Adventist church, will be the speaker and a symposium of Canadian leaders of the church will be held. Pastor Lucas will give the closing sermon.

Members of other Seventh-Day Adventist congregations throughout Canada are expected to be present at South Stukely for the anniversary of the oldest church in Canada of this denomination.

The two salient points of faith which distinguish them from other Protestant organizations are their belief in the Seventh-day Sabbath (Saturday) as the day of worship enjoined by Scripture and the acceptance of the Biblical teaching of the advent of Christ.

1844 marks the year when these two doctrines were accepted by a group of Adventists who were, along with other followers of William Miller, believed that the Advent of Christ was certain, though by this time they realized the folly of attempting to set the date for this event.

The church has grown now to a world membership that is almost one million, including over 10,200 churches and almost 18,000 ministers and evangelists. It operates in 228 countries and island groups throughout the world through its 3,206 hospitals and clinics, 43 printing houses, 4,338 schools and advanced centres of learning. The denomination places great emphasis on foreign missions, appropriating over $17 million last year and sending out over 1,600 missionaries since the close of World War II. Members gave for all church purposes last year — $44,450,803.21 representing a per capita throughout the world of $62.03, or $137.07 in North America.

The oldest Adventist church in Canada was organized in 1877 on September 30 by Pastor A. C. Bourdeau, pioneer minister for the church in eastern Canada. The membership at that time consisted of 16 adult members. The church building was later erected in 1878 and is still used by the present congregation. By 1880 there were five churches in the area and they voted to form a conference to be called the Quebec Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

REV. M. S. FISHER

From those early beginnings in Eastern Canada the denomination now has 144 churches in the Dominion, with over 11,700 adult members employing 106 ministers. The church also operates 50 schools from elementary level up to college status. Two hospitals, 1 Printing house, and 8 summer youth camps. Canadian Adventists gave in tithes and offerings last year over $1,349,238.94 or a per caipta of $115.57. Their Welfare societies assisted their neighbors to the extent of $83,613.17 by supplying food, clothing, and funds were necessary to needy families. The total net worth of the church in the Dominion now stands at a little over $1 million dollars.

Our Congratulations To: -

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK SATISFACTORY

While difficulties will not be absent during the second half of 1952, the "main economic indicators are all pointing in the same direction of heightened activity." This is the keynote to the Bank of Montreal's latest business review which this month analyses trends indicated by the economic record for the first half of 1952.

The review notes signs that the "wheels of the economic mechanism are coming into closer alignment." The rearmament program, capital goods industries and export markets continue to make "strong demands" on the nation's resources. "Added to this, the consumer, after sitting back and buying sparingly for over a year, has since April been coming forward into the market and spending more freely."

But this is not to suggest that "all will be smooth rolling for business" the Bank report emphasizes. The review points to an apparent lessening of the volume of work ahead for the construction industry, the vulnerable element in Canada's large export trade surplus with overseas countries, the "uncomfortably" high inventories which continue in a few lines, and deterrent and disruptive efforts which are bound to result from the recent prolonged steel strike in the United States.

Government of Canada expenditures during the three months to the end of June showed a significant increase over the comparable fiscal quarter of 1951, due mainly to a rise of 62 per cent in Department of Defence and Defence Production outlays. The Bank adds that, since defence disbursements in this quarter were "far short" of the level implied by the budgetary estimate, defence spending should "continue to gain momentum in the months ahead." In addition, the United States is buying more armaments here, "establishing a better balance in reciprocal defence purchase betwen the two countries."

More important in "magnitude and economic impact" than direct defence disbursements, however, are the trend and pattern of expenditures of a capital nature now being undertaken, mainly to develop strategic resources, the Bank stresses. Capital outlays for 1952 in chemicals, non-ferrous metals, iron, steel, petroleum, coal, rubber, railways, water transport and transportation equipment are expected to show large percentage increases over 1951. By contrast, declines are estimated in sectors of the economy less closely related to the defence effort: Finance, insurance, real estate, commercial services, forestry, wholesale and retail trade, and housing.

Canada's foreign trade to the end of June this year has been featured by a consistently heavy flow of merchandise exports amounting to an increase in value of 20 per cent over the comparable period for 1951. The Bank review notes especially that virtually the whole of this increase has been in the "movement of goods to markets other than the United States." By contrast, Canadian merchandise imports for the half-year declined seven per cent in value from the levels of a year earlier.

The combined eort of the opposing trends in exports and imports, according to the review, has been to re-establish an over-all trade surplus and at the same time lead to the reappearance of a traditional region imbalance.

The fact that this large surplus is concentrated in trade with dollar-short countries inevitably raises the question of how long they can continue to finance their deficits with Canada.

While the value of retail sales in May was the "highest monthly total ever recorded," the B of M analysis states that this revival of consumer demand within Canada is quite recent and that it may be some time yet before "available statistics will make it possible to discern the extent to which the improvement in sales at the retail level leads to expanded operations and enlarged employment among manufacturers of consumers goods."

THE LAW CANNOT DO IT ALONE

The law can compel the business man to keep his premises clean and sanitary, but it cannot compel to keep them bright and attractive. And continues The Rural Scene:

It can compel him to sell his wares at certain prices; but it can't compel him to find better values for his money and to give his customers the benefit of his enterprise.

It can compel him to stand behind the goods he sells and guarantee their quality; but it can't compel him to search the world for more suitable and more attractive goods.

It can compel him to give honest weight and the correct change; but it can't compel him to give extra services or courteous treatment or helpful hints, for nothing.

It can compel him to keep his equipment in good running order; but it can't compel him to find better and more efficient equipment to lighten labor and enable the workers to earn more.

It can compel him to pay minimum wages, work short hours, grant holidays with pay to his employees and contribute to their pension funds; but it can't compel him to treat them the kindness and the respect that brightens their lives and makes them feel like real persons.

Yet in stores and offices and factories all over the country we see these things that the law can't compel us to do, being done voluntarily by all sorts of people.

What is the compelling motive, the spur that drives men to do these things?

It is the certain knowledge that if they don't do it somebody else will, and that those who do it best will get the most business. It is the competitive system, the system so loudly condemned by those who believe in a planned economy with the police to tell us what we must do and to see that we do it.

RECORD LIVING-COST INCREASE PREDICTED FOR BLS PRICE INDEX

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington. — (NEA) — The biggest monthly increase in the cost of living since the start of the Korean war is now predicted for the July report on the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumers' price index. This report will be released about August 25.

This cost-of-living index for June 15, 1952, stood at 189.6, an all-time high. The biggest monthly increase of the Korean war period was the 2.3 point jump from January 15 to February 15, 1951. An increase of that size now would put the index arounnd 192.

It would mean another wage increase for the last quarter of the year for all General Motors and other union labor contracts having an automatic cost-of-living adjustment clause for its pay scales.

This would be definitely inflationary, if it touched off new demands for compensating wage increases by unions whose members are not working under contracts providing for automatic cost-of-living adjustments.

The July 15 cost-of-living index increase was accurately forecast by the preliminary mid-month report on food costs. This BLS estimate, based on advance reports from eight cities, put the food index at 235.1.

This July increase was attributed to an 18 per cent rise in egg prices and a 2 per cent rise in dairy products prices, both attributed to recent droughts. Pork, lamb and poultry prices were also up, more than offsetting slight drops in beef and fish.

AUGUST INDEX IS BIG RIDDLE NOW

The new monthly report is also expected to reflect some increases in the prices of fresh, canned, frozen and dried fruits and vegetables. They were all decontrolled on July 1 by the new Defense Mobilization law, passed by Congress in June.

The big riddle, of course, is what the cost-of-living index will show for the report month ending August 15. Some government price experts think the index will level off and maybe even show a slight decline.

But if the index shows another jump like that from June to July, then the pressure for calling Congress back for a special session to toughen up the price control law will be hard to resist.

President Truman's policy on this special session business seems to be one of watchful waiting. The August 15 price report, which will be published about September 25, should give the tip-off.

By that time there will also be a clearer picture of how many cities are going to retain rent controls. Sharp rent increases, plus price increases, might start the howl again for more controls.

Ex-Gov. Ellis Arnall's blast from the White House steps—when he simultaneously submitted his resignation as director of price stabilization and demanded a special session of Congress to deal with inflation immediately—fell on deaf ears.

He was the only one excited about the danger. He was tired and discuraged from the beating he took on the steel price rise. Nobody else in government or out, except possibly Bernard Baruch, seems to think that the present inflation is dangerous.

WAGE RISE FASTER THAN PRICES

Even consumers aren't too alarmed. There are the usual squawks on high prices from housewives who can't go into a grocery store without wrecking a $10 bill. But they have the $10.

Union labor leaders and the union newspaper editorial writers use the cost-of-living increase to get new wage increases. But wages go up faster than prices, the standard of living is on the rise and nobody is really suffering. So what the heck?

This was overwhelmingly the sentiment of the last Congress when it passed the new law extending price controls to next April 30. This law is weaker than the 1951 law and far worse than that of 1950.

Congress didn't pass a better law for four main reasons. First was pressure from farmers, food processors and retail merchants who just naturally don't like price controls for themselves. They lobbied Congress hard to kill all controls. The voice of the consumer asking for continuation of controls simply was not heard.

Second, was the fact that the administrators of the existing stabilization agencies simply did not sell Congress on the need for continued controls. They haven't done too good a job.

Third, was congressional resentment against President Truman for seizing the steel industry and for not using the Taft-Hartley law.

Finally, nobody thought there was any danger of inflation. Businessmen were more worried about a possible recession. The wholesale price index has been dropping steadily from its high of 115 in May, 1951, to 111 today. Retail prices had risen less than 3 per cent in the same period. Nobody was scared. The fact that controls might have been responsible for holding the line that much was overlooked.

Glimpses Into The Past

By BERTHA WESTON PRICE

THE TOWN OF BURY

The thriving town of Bury in Compton County was not settled as early as some others but it has grown rapidly and has taken its place as one of many centres where growth and advancement are the watch words. The tract of land comprising the Township of Bury and lying in the district of Three Rivers was erected in 1803, and one-fourth granted to Calvin Nay and his associates, but for some unrecorded reason the settlement of the Township was neglected and much later became the property of the British American Land Company which was acquiring large areas of land for their lumbering projects.

It was first settled by English emigrants of the poorer class many of whom became discouraged and went away. This was similar to conditions at Victoria, near Scotstown. But the better class settlers remained and became well-to-do with the passing years. The land in Bury was good and the trees, both hard and soft wood, were worth money—as they are today. There was maple sugar, good wheat; good horses and cattle were brought to Bury and, added to these assets, Bury became a milling centre, and the B. A. L. Company helped in building the churches.

At one time there was a Ladies Riding Club numbering over thirty. An interesting glimpse of these ladies in long skirts and flowing veils would be worth searching for, but the leaves of time have taken away many such pictures of the past.

Many of our towns and villages received names from men who had been active as pioneers, or had money and influence, Bury receiving its name from Lord Bury who sent his son to Canada as representative of himself as a builder. But the most important were the men who came and remained to build a homeland in the forest.

The name of Stokes is closely linked with that of Bury, for Thomas Stokes the first, came from Hampshire, England, in 1835 and his father and family came in 1836, settling in Bury near the present railway station. At that time there were only four other families in the Township. They suffered all the hardships of pioneer life, but they came through, finally making good homes. The father died in 1881 and Thomas Stokes lived in Bury until he died. He was a farmer until thirty years of age when in 1865 he went into the carriage business with James Hunt of Bury. They dissolved the partnership in 1879 and in 1880 Mr. Stokes built shops on the site where Jack Matheson now runs a small factory.

Mr. Stokes was married at Robinson, (early name for the village of Bury) in 1860, to Louisa, daughter of the late John Herring. Of this marriage there were six children; the youngest son, George, holding the position of Post Master until his passing. He was married a second time, to Margaret Ross, and their son, Tommy, has carried on the Post Office until the present time. Lilla May, a daughter, married Charles Baldwin of Coaticook, from which union there were three daughters; Carlos Stokes married Beatrice Tambs of which union there were five children, of whom a daughter, Marjorie, married Lt.-Col. Wells Bishop, and one son, Ronald, who married Ina Davis, now living in Bury and a general contractor.

Maurice Stokes, born 1872, married Eva Doyle of Sherbrooke and still resides on the home place. The glimpses into the Stokes family show the loyalty of early settlers who remained on the lands they had chosen as builders. Thomas Stokes and Sons, the firm comprisng father and four sons, did a large business in carriages, wagons and sleighs; furniture, sash and doors, and an extensive undertaking business. They were also dealers in cars in later years. After the father's death the firm was dissolved, the sons going into business for themselves.

In addition to his other activities he became road overseer and continued this work for several years.

Carlos Stokes is now 83 years of age and still has the best garden in the community, which he cares for himself. Late in life he married for the second-time, the wife being Sarah Goodenough, widow of Shirley Bishop, recently deceased.

Edward Stokes and his son-in-law, Gordon Boynton, still carry on the undertaking business. Mr. Stokes still remembers the story of his grandfather, Thomas, coming from England to Quebec in a sail boat when their food consisted of hard biscuit and salt fish. At that time there was just a narrow trail from Bury to Sherbrooke and they carried their belongings on their back. At that time the farmers often walked to Sherbrooke to sell their butter and eggs and buy their foodstuffs.

Mrs. Bishop (Marjorie) relates that her father, Carlos, and brother, Ronald, as contractors built the Consolidated School at Canterbury, the new French school at Bury, the High School at Fitch Bay, also the custom houses at Beecher Falls, and Canaan, Vt.

Going back into the past we can recall that Thomas Stokes II, when about 20 years old went to California with his brother James. He returned in four years to settle down and become one of the Stokes of Bury, all of whom have been loyal to their country.

Lemuel Pope was a pioneer in Bury Township and his son, Col. Frederick Pope was closely linked with the early military life of Bury and today it is an important military centre, in which Lt.-Col. Wells Bishop and his son, Eugene, now in military training, are upholding the traditions of their homeland.

DON'T LET ERRORS DISCOURAGE YOU

If South had played today's hand properly, I would not be writing about it. But even though South did flub it pretty badly, East still had to make the right play to defeat the slam contract.

West opened a club and South won with the king. He should have led the king of hearts at once. If the opponents took this trick, South would be able to draw trumps ending in dummy, and discard all of his losers on dummy's established hearts.

If the defenders refused this trick, South could draw three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and lead the queen of hearts from dummy. He would then make all thirteen tricks.

As it happened, however, South won the first trick with the king of clubs and immediately drew three rounds of trumps. This was a fantastic error, but it was actually made by an experienced player at a tournament. I am sure that most of any readers see similar mistakes from time to time.

After this horrible begining, South led the king of hearts, announcing: "You can't get better than a king for your ace!" This little speech had no effect on Elaine Landy, who held the East cards.

Mrs. Landy has been playing bridge for only a few months, but she has already learned not to believe everything an opponent says. (This was probably the first thing she learned from her husband, Alvin Landy, who is general manager of the American Contract Bridge League and also one of the best bridge players in the country.)

Mrs. Landy thought the situation over carefully and refused to take her ace of hearts. Now South was, of course, a perished pelican. He would not lose a heart trick, but no matter how he struggled, he was bound to lose two clubs.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Pass	1 Heart	Pass
1 Spade	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades 9-8-6-3, Hearts A-Q-7-4, Diamonds J-6-Clubs 6-5-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. This shows four-card spade support but a rather poor hand. With a good hand, you would raise more enthusiastically.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-8-6-3, Hearts A-Q-7-4-2, Diamonds K-6-2, Club 6. What do you do?

The Record Short Story

MOUNTAIN CAMP

By MARIE DE NERVAUD

With rising excitement, Betty reread the letter from Mrs. Appleton, her mother's old school friend. She let it drop in her lap and leaned back in the Morris chair, shutting her eyes to close out the drab furnished room in Greenwich Village. In its place she was seeing a camp in the Adirondacks, smelling the pines, hearing the rush of a clear brook cascading over gleaming stones.

If she could only square it with her conscience to go! After all, she'd save on food. And she wouldn't need any clothes at a camp. When she'd come on from California, she'd tucked in blue jeans and wool shirts and sneakers, just in case a chance like this might turn up.

The minute she'd graduated from college, Betty had taken all her savings and headed for Broadway. Now, with her diminishing funds, after having pounded hot pavements in vain for three months, she had a feverish dread of taking any time off, for fear she'd miss an opening.

But two weeks camping in the mountains! Mrs. Appleton had sounded so cordial. She'd explained about not having answered Betty's letter sooner, saying they'd been in Scotland and were just back. Betty's blue eyes flew open and she gave herself an ecstatic little hug.

"I'm going!" She sprang up, shaking defiant blonde curls at the slim figure in the mirror opposite her. "I don't care what you say, I'm going!"

Betty's first shock came when the liveried chauffeur met her at the station and led her to a shining Jaguar convertible, but that was nothing to the shock of the camp. The house they came to at the end of a long gravelled driveway was made of logs, to be sure, but it seemed to Betty that it must cover an acre.

The butler who opened the front door said that Mrs. Appleton was on the terrace, and Betty followed him in a dazed sort of trance through several luxurious rustic living rooms to a stone terrace with a lovely view of the mountains beyond an azure swimming pool.

"My dear!" Mrs. Appleton dropped the book she was reading, and came to meet Betty in an apologetic little rush, both hands outstretched. "I had no idea it was time for you to arrive—I meant to go to the station—Knowlton, take Miss Elizabeth's luggage to the blue room and tell Jane to unpack while we're having tea. You are so like your mother, my dear. Of course, she was younger when I knew her—we were both 16—but you have her lovely gold hair and blue eyes. Now, do sit down and tell me all about yourself. I remember so well——"

Betty gulped and sat down, thankful that Mrs. Appleton's gentle patter gave her a moment to wrestle with her panic at the thought of Jane unpacking her "luggage." That poor battered suitcase! And the blue jeans, the wool shirts—the stockings she'd tucked in at the last minute, intending to wash them out——

"You're so kind to ask me up," Betty stammered, realizing that at last there was a pause and she had to say something, "but I'm afraid—you see, I thought a camp would be like our camp in the Sierras—I didn't bring——"

"Now, don't worry about a thing," Mrs. Appleton soothed. "Ellen's away, I'm sorry to say, but you're just about her size and you can borrow anything you need. The boys are here—let me see, John is three years older than you are and Dick is two years younger. You're twenty-one, aren't you? I thought I remembered you were just Ellen's age. Oh, there they are now! The place is always full of young people."

Betty braced herself to meet her fellow "campers" as a group of them came through the trees beyond the pool. At least, her blue suit was all right for someone who had just arrived, but——

There was not time to go into the "buts," as Mrs. Appleton murmured haphazard introductions and Betty tried to sort out who was who. John, she decided, was the tall one with the lean, sardonic face, who was watching her with a secret little grin that suddenly flicked her pride. Was she an actress or wasn't she? she asked herself with a healthy rush of anger. She'd read books about people like this; seen plays in this kind of setting. Okay, this was her first part. Not on Broadway, to be sure, but didn't most actresses start in summer stock?

She looked at John with a slow smile and perfect self-possession. "You must be John," she said. "I remember your little boy pictures."

It was long after midnight when Betty was at last in her room. She stood at the window looking at the moonlight on the mountains, triumph and elation sweeping through her. She was an actress! By golly, she was! She'd copied that self-confidence, slightly arrogant air of the very rich, and they'd accepted her as one of them. Of course, Ellen's lovely green dress and gold sandals had helped, but they'd only been the setting. She'd not only acted her part, she'd had to improvise her lines. And she'd done it!

John hadn't left her side all evening, to the obvious annoyance of one Kitsie, who had tried her best to lure him away. They'd danced, they'd walked, they'd talked. Betty swallowed and the mountains blurred suddenly as she remembered his kiss by the pool.

Slipping out of her borrowed finery, the elation faded away. Of course, she couldn't keep it up. The servants would talk. The jig was up. Tomorrow, before anyone was awake, she'd slip away, leaving a note for Mrs. Appleton. She was still writing the note in her mind, when she drifted off to a fitful sleep.

Betty awoke to see the sunrise glow touching the tops of the peaks and sudden rebellion seized her. At least she was going to get something out of those mountains. In no time, she was in her yellow plaid shirt and blue jeans, sneaking to the terrace.

She made for the trail John had shown her last night, and started climbing through the dark woods with a fierce kind of joy at the breathlessness of her pace. As she neared the top of the ridge the trees thinned out, showing a ledge of rock already aglow with sunlight.

Betty came out on it, then jumped with a frightened gasp at the sight of a man sitting hunched up, looking at the view.

"Betty!" John stared, disbelief changing to pleasure as he took in the vision of her gold hair against the pines. He sprang up and held out his hand. "You like sunrises, too," he said softly.

It seemed the most natural thing in the world to sit beside him on the ledge and watch the sunlight creep down the opposite mountainside. "I don't get you, Betty," John said at last. "When I first saw you on the terrace you looked like a scared rabbit—then, suddenly, you were as sophisticated as all the rest of that high-powered bunch—now—"

"Now, I'm myself," Betty finished for him. "I was a fake last night. Or, rather, I was an actress." She made a clean breast of everything. "I bet on our camp in the Sierras was like this," she confessed.

"It's just a shack, with leantos. These are the only kind of clothes I brought—that was your sister's dress. I was going to make a get-away before any of you were up, but I just had to have one glimpse of this——"

"You'll have more than one glimpse," John declared. "To think I've found me a girl at last who likes to take to the trails! I'm a fish out of water here, with all the social doings. I never stay long. But, believe me, I'm staying these next two weeks. We'll climb and fish all day, and then, in the evening, you'll go on wearing Ellen's clothes and being an actress. I'll bribe Jane to keep still. We're going to have fun, Betty, do you know it?"

With an excited rush of happiness, Betty did know it.

Talk On U. N. At Bounlary Rotary Meet

Derby Line, Aug. 22—"Peace has to be waged the same as war," was the theme of a very fine talk about the United Nations given by Rev. Robert Clark, of Mt. Ranier, Maryland, at the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary held at the Del Monty Hotel.

"The United Nations," said the speaker, "operates on the idea that the better you know your neighbor the more you will trust him and the better you will get along with each other. If you cannot trust him, you can be sure that he will do you harm anyway, but the greater your knowledge of him, the better you are acquainted, the better it is for you.

"The practical man needs to be a little less hard-headed, and the idealist must be a bit more practical. Both should give a little in the interest of human welfare.

"We do not seem to realize that peace has to be waged the same as war. We are too prone tto relax the moment the fighting has ended and to think that the whole affair is all over. It is absolutely necessary to fight for peace and the United Nations is the organization that is doing just that.

"The U.N. has only been in existence a few years and the world is not yet at peace. No one but a starry-eyed idealist could have expected it to be. It is a long, troop casualties.

So far this month the Sabres have shot down 26 jets, probably destroyed two and damaged 26, the Fifth Air Force said. Comparable U.N. loss figures were not announced.

U.N. infantry early today beat back a 16-man Chinese assault on Bunker hill, in the west. On the central front, U.N. soldiers hurled back a probing Red platoon in a 40-minute battle near Capital hill.

The U.S. Eighth Army said the communists flashed searchlights on allied lines early Thursday, probably for the first time in the war. A staff officer said the beams obviously were trying to spot loudspeakers blaring psychological warfare at the Reds.

The U. S. navy said communist shore guns Wednesday hit the American destroyer-minesweeper Thompson off northeastern Korea. Four of the crew were reported killed and nine wounded.

Searchers today recovered the bodies of three more of the 30 U.S. infantrymen presumed drowned in a flood during training last Monday. So far, bodies of 15 members of the 45th division unit have been found.

The marine exchange estimated the Stratus would carry a crew of from 20 to 30 men and the Coos Bay from 10 to 15.

MARBLETON

The Ladies' Guild sponsored a card party in the Church Hall, on August 14.

"500" was played at six tables and prizes for the highest scores were awarded to Mrs. H. H. Bishop and Mr. Antoine Guillette; second prizes went to Miss Winnifred Mackey and Mr. A. P. Joyce and the consolations to Miss Beatrice Bishop and Mr. D. MacKenzie.

Lunch was served by Miss Florence Hunt, Mrs. Antoine Guillette, Mrs. William Hetherington, Mrs. Percy Rolfe and Mrs. Clifford Weyland.

As the rector, Rev. R. A. Carson, expects to be leaving soon for Fitch Bay, Mr. A. W. Bishop, on behalf of the wardens and members of the congregation, presented him with a purse of money.

Mr. Bishop expressed appreciation for all that Rev. Carson has done during his short stay and the sorrow of the people at having him leave.

Rev. Carson voiced his gratitude and said that after he becomes a priest, he hopes to be able to return and minister to the people at some future time.

Very pleasing remarks were also made by Dr. Robert Elliott.

A very pleasant evening broke up, after all had joined hands and sung "Auld Lang Syne."

MARRIAGES

COLQUHOUN—LARAWAY

Fitch Bay, Aug. 22 — St. Matthias Church was the scene of a pretty double wedding, which took place on Saturday, August 16, at seven o'clock, the Rev. W. C. Dunn officiating, when Margaret Joyce, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Laraway, was united in marriage to Mr. Gordon Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, and Opal Isabel, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laraway, became the bride of Mr. Lloyd Allan Colquhoun, son of the late Mr. Allan Colquhoun and Mrs. Colquhoun, of Montreal. The church and altar were banked with vari-coloured gladioli and phlox, while the pews reserved for the guests were marked with small white flowers tied with satin ribbon. Mr. C. P. Rider, of Montreal, played the wedding music.

The brides, given in marriage by their father, wore identical dresses of white nylon satin, made with fitted embroidered bodices, sweetheart necklines and long sleeves with points extending over the hands and long full skirts. Their veils of white net, were held by headdresses of orange blossoms and their bouquets were American Beauty and pink roses.

The bridesmaids were sisters of the bridegrooms, Miss Ethel Wilson, in pink, and Miss Rhoda Colquhoun, of Montreal, in pale green, were dressed alike in full-skirted floor length gowns of embroidered nylon over taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodices and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. They wore head bandeaux matching their gowns and carried bouquets of pale pink roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Bernard Lemay acted as best man for Mr. Wilson, while Mr. John Thompson, of Montreal, was groomsman for Mr. Colquhoun.

Mrs. Laraway, mother of the brides, wore a street-length dress of blue sheer, trimmed with white net ruffles, a white hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Wilson was in a redingote dress of blue sheer over figured lavender and she wore a hat and corsage of violets.

Mrs. Colquhoun was attired in a floor-length dress of lavender embroidered nylon over taffeta, with a white hat, having deep lavender velvet trim and a corsage of yellow roses.

The grooms gifts to their brides were pearl necklaces with matching earrings.

Mrs. Wilson's gift to her bridesmaid was a compact, to the organist, a china and gold brooch, while Mr. Wilson presented Mr. Loney with a gold knife.

Mrs. Colquhoun's gift to the groom was a watch and to the bridesmaid a piece of imported China and to the organist, a lace cloth.

The reception, held in Canon Gustin Hall, was attended by nearly three hundred guests. The bridal party, the immediate family and Rev. W. C. Dunn, were seated at the brides' table, decorated with flowers centered with the two wedding cakes. The toast to the brides was proposed by Rev. Mr. Dunn and responded to by the grooms.

Following the supper, dancing was enjoyed for a time, after which, the young couples left for a trip to the Laurentians, the brides wearing grey suits, white hats and accessories.

Out of town guests were from Arundel, Magog, Stanstead, Waterville, Rock Island, Lennoxville, and other places.

Royal Miniatures Painted By Woman

London. — Princess Anne, who has just celebrated her second birthday anniversary, has been meeting a new friend this summer. She is Mrs. Stella Marks, Australian-born artist who painted a miniature of the infant Princess which entailed regular visits to Buckingham Palace to study her subject.

Princess Anne, being like any other little girl of her age, did not actually sit for her portrait. She chattered and played while Mrs. Marks watched to capture her expression on the ivory which she paints in watercolors.

Mrs. Marks painted Prince Charles in the same fashion last year, making eight visits to Clarence House before she was finished. She has also painted miniatures of Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh. An alert artist in her early 50s, Mrs. Marks began painting at the age of 10 and spent 20 years in the United States before coming to Britain.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Foster were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Foster and son Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Salsbury were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Salsbury at Waterloo, Mrs. Salsbury remaining for a longer stay.

The prolonged drought is getting very serious in this vicinity. Farmers are drawing their water long distances from the Yamaska River to water their stock and drinking water for family use is also carried a long way from the few wells in the neighborhood that still have a supply of water. Gardens and other crops are withering from want of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman, Mrs. Frances Kirkpatrick and Miss Wella Norton spent a recent week-end at Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Miss Joan Salsbury, of Waterloo, is spending a time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Salsbury.

COOKSHIRE

We wish to welcome Rev. W. C. Dunn and family to Cookshire. Rev. Dunn takes over the pastoral charge of St. Peter's Anglican Church.

Mrs. Dunn, Jr., and daughter are guests of Rev. Dunn for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Learned and family were recent guests of Mrs. Learned's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ord, of Bury, and participated in Mrs. Ord's birthday party for the immediate relatives of the family.

Miss Dawn Gilbert has returned home after spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Guillette, in Marbleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Standish, Mrs. A. W. Standish were visiting relatives and friends in Mansonville, St. Albans, Rougemont and Granby.

The friends of Master Kenneth Roberts will be glad to learn that he is on the gain after being ill for two weeks. Kenneth was taken to the Sherbrooke Hospital for observation.

Miss Ethel Woolley is confined to the Sherbrooke Hospital for a check-up, and Mrs. P. Cassidy is confined to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital for observation and treatment.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Standish were Mr. and Mrs. Jolly and daughter, Phyllis, of Knowlton.

Members Of R. C. M. P. Band Receive Same Training As All Other Mounties

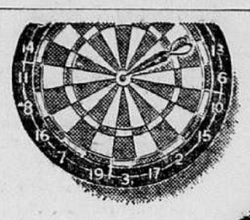

Royal Canadian Mounted Police Bandsmen can be said to be members of the Force who play music in their spare time, yet this would not be entirely true. In the first instance they were musicians before they engaged and their musical ability was a further qualification to their engagement. They received the same arduous training course given all members on enlistment. As to their music being a spare time activity, this is also hardly correct for the R.C.M. Police Band is firmly established and all members attend all Band rehearsals and fulfil all engagements. It could be called a spare time activity in that Bandsmen of the Force are all fully employed in full-time duties and their band duties are additional.

An average week in the life of one of these bandsmen entails full duty hours daily at his regular work, a full evening rehearsal every Monday evening and sectional, dance orchestra and full band rehearsals for one hour every day at noon. Each bandsman sacrifices one half hour of his lunch hour for rehearsal and they each fulfil an average of one engagement per week during the year; some of these are long and arduous.

At their regular daily work, the bandsman fulfil a great variety of positions. The Parade N.C.O. of the Band is the Sergeant-Major of Headquarters Division in Ottawa. The Solo Clarinet player, a Sergeant, is a full-time lecturer at the Rockcliffe Training Depot. Seven members are classifiers in the Finger Print Branch, two others work in the Scenes of Crime Section, one is Editor of the Police Quarterly magazine, two others are Police Photographers. Other groups are employed in the vast Central Registry of Headquarters, the Supply Stores and in general clerical work in other sections. One is a printer in the Printing Branch and another a moulage expert and sculptor.

The band itself performs in the main as a concert band presenting a regular summer series each year outdoors in front of the new Supreme Court Building in Ottawa and an indoor series in the winter. It performs as a parade band at all National ceremonies held in Ottawa and while it is extremely difficult to release the members from their daily work, the band has performed in many other cities in Canada and in the United States during its fourteen years existence. Because of this same demand for their services at their regular work, it is possible to accept only a small number of the requests for band performances received annually. However, each year, engagements total some fifty or sixty performances. But a bandsman's life in the Force, though arduous, is not without its compensations. The bandsmen enjoy playing and have a feeling of great pride in their unit. It is always a source of personal gratification to each member to perform before appreciative audiences and to receive their expressions of enjoyment; to participate in the many history making ceremonies in Canada's capital and, on many occasions, bring music to patients in various hospitals. But perhaps the greatest source of pride is that these engagements are presented as members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The R.C.M.P. band will open the Sherbrooke Fair Saturday night with a free concert at 7 p.m.

O.H.A. To Interlock Schedule With Quebec

Barrie, Ont., Aug. 22. — (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" council met here yesterday to draft the 1952-53 schedule which for the first time in history will interlock junior teams from Quebec and Ontario.

Representing Quebec were Sam Pollock, coach of Montreal Junior Canadiens, Ken Reardon and Frank Bryne, owner of Quebec Citadelles.

The new schedule calls for each of the nine Ontario clubs to meet each of the four Quebec entries in home-and-home series. The points will count in the standings of the respective leagues.

All Ontario clubs were represented with the exception of Oshawa Generals and Toronto St. Michael's College, Jack Roxburgh of Simcoe, who is to be succeeded by Oshawa's Stu McTavish as O.H.A. president, acted as chairman for the last time in his two years of office. He was given a vote of thanks.

The clubs agreed to use the professional interpretation of "icing," which allows the puck to be shot into the opponents' end after being carried over the red line. Pollock said the Quebec Association has already adopted the rule.

All were in favor except Bob Crosbie of Kitchener Greenshirts, who said the rule made for "scrambly" hockey.

The council also passed a motion to change from the "two-referee" system of officiating to one referee and two hometown linesmen. The vote was 4 to 3 in favor.

Tentative starting date for the junior "A" season was set as Friday, Oct. 10.

Redskins Lose Tilt, Coach And Top Star

Los Angeles, Aug. 22— (AP) — Washington Redskins lost a football game, their coach, and offensive star Charley Justice last night. The world champion Los Angeles Rams set them down in a pre-season pro football exhibition, 45-23, before 87,562 fans.

The Rams did it in businesslike fashion and left the sensations to the visitors. Justice provided thre of them with runs of 49, 53, and 63 yards. But on the last one his right wrist was broken as Ram halfback Herb Rich threw him.

Doctors say he is out of action for from four to six weks. Up to then he had racked up 199 yards in 11 tries.

A surprise came with the final gun. Redskins' head Coach Dick Todd resigned, giving business demands in Texas as his reason. Owner George Marshall said a successor will be named today.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Experts who devote their lives to racing and who annually select the "horse of the year" are beginning to look confused and to say if something definite doesn't happen fairly soon it might be better to declare a moratorium on the award.

There is, at the moment, no three-year-old with anything resembling a clear claim to the honor, and too many of the top older candidates either are out of training or separated by half the width of the country to permit the students to get a clear line on their comparative merits. If a ballot were taken at this time, they tell us, probably a half-dozen different runners, including at least one filly, would get in on the act.

Around Chicago the feeling is said to be virtually unanimous that Mark-Ye-Well, winner of both the American Derby and the Arlington Classic there, is the finest three-year-old colt in the land. The only Chicago-fans who do not think so, apparently, are those who are sure that Real Delight, a brilliant lady racer from the same Calumet Farms Stable, could run Mark-Ye-Well bowlegged if they would give her a chance.

This she is not likely to get, as Ben Jones, Calumet's famous trainer, does not believe in running fillies against colts at any time, and more especially when they're both his.

Hill Gail, Kentuck Derby winner, has not run a lick since and is not expected to return to action in time to make a serious bid for this year's title. Blue Man, which won the Preakness and several other good ones, is another three-year-old candidate who now has been let out to pasture and whose chances thus are dimmed. Right now the top three-year-old prospect for the award might be One Count, which won both the testing Belmont Stakes and last Saturday's Travers at Saratoga.

Still very much in the running to repeat for the honor is C. V. Whitney's, Counterpoint. He's had a tough year up to this point, what with pulled muscles and wrenched ankles, but is expected to be ready and able by the time Belmont reopens in Mid-September and the distances become longer. Only two horses, Whirlaway and Challedon, have been named king of the equines twice.

Counterpoint's chief rivals among the older wind-splitters in fall classics figure to be Sparton Valor and Crafty Admiral, both running in the Mid-West at present. Sparton Valor started like a rocket, winning seven straight early in the year before he tailed off.

Crafty Admiral is about the hottest thing running at the moment and could take it all.

Charles Schall Sets Record For Anglers

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 22— (AP) — Charles Schall of St. Louis yesterday set a world record at the 44th annual tournament of the National Association of Angling and Casting Clubs for combination distance casts in four events.

Schall's four-event total was 3,213 feet, beating the mark of 3,145 feet set by Earl Osten of San Diego in 1949.

The old record also was bettered by Clem Forecade, of St. Louis, whose total was 3,197 feet.

Jack Crossfield, of San Francisco, was top man in the day's events, placing first in both salmon and trout fly casting.

In the salmon fly cast, Grossman had a long cast of 185 feet, a three-cast total of 533 feet, and an average cast of 177 2/3 feet. Schall was second with marks of 177, 524, and 174 2/3. Third was Forcade with 521, and 173 2/3.

Crossman's first in the trout fly cast was achieved with marks of 165, 466, and 155 1/3. Bill Lovely of St. Louis was second, with 164, 464, and 154 2/3; and Donald Carlisle of Indianapolis was third, with 152, 446, and 148 2/3.

WHITE SOX DROP YANKS FOR THIRD STRAIGHT; RED SOX WIN

Indians, Pronounced Dead As Pennant Threat Year Ago, Alive And Kicking As They Move Into Series With Yanks

A month ago Cleveland Indians were pronounced through as an American League pennant threat.

That was Tuesday, July 22, when they dropped a doubleheader to the New York Yankees and fell 7½ games behind the Bombers.

But today they invaded the Yankee Stadium for a two-game series with first place at stake.

Cleveland, trailing the Yanks by one game, could take over the lead by one percentage point by beating the champions in the series opener.

Big Mike Garcia (15-8) has been nominated to face the Yank's Allie Reynolds (15-7) in the first game. Early Wynn (16-10) is scheduled to go against New York's Vic Raschi (14-3) Saturday.

Showers are forecast for today and if the game is rained out the teams will clash in a doubleheader tomorrow. If both games are rained out the series will have to be played in Cleveland as this is the Indians' last visit to New York.

Garcia sports a 3-0 record against the Yanks and will be pitching with four days rest. Reynolds has won two out of five from Cleveland and will be starting his first game in five days.

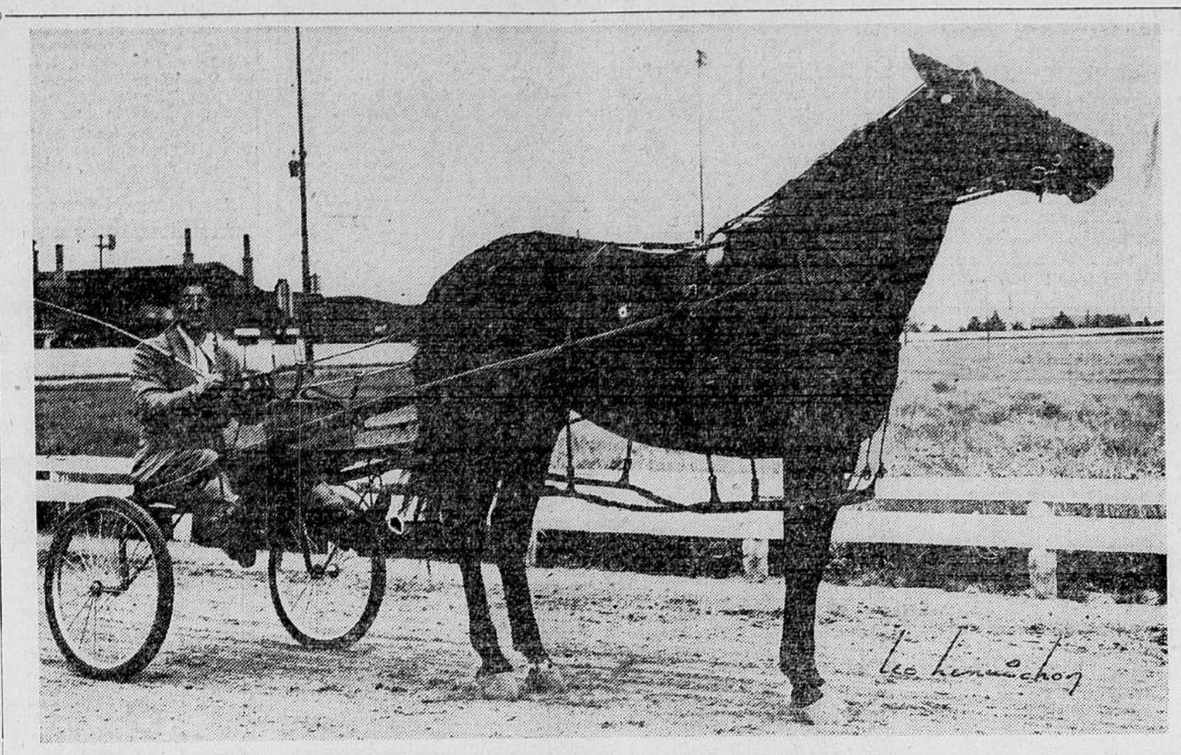

Both the Indians and Yanks suffered defeats yesterday. The third-place Boston Red Sox knocked off the Indians 4-1 and Chicago White Sox upset the Yanks 6-1 to sweep a three-game series. Washington and St. Louis divided a twi-night doubleheader, the Senators winning the first game 3-2 and the Browns the second 8-1.

In the National League, Chicago Cubs impeded New York's pennant bid by splitting a doubleheader with the Giants, winning the first game 8-6 but losing the second 10-5. The Mexican standoff kept the Giants seven games behind the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers' game with Pittsburgh was rained out. Philadelphia and Cincinnati were idle while in the circuit's only night game, St. Louis nipped Boston, 3-2, for its sixth straight victory.

Sid Hudson scattered seven hits in beating the Tribe's "spot pitcher," Steve Gromek. The Red Sox nicked Gromek for all of their eight hits and runs in seven innings.

The Yanks, conserving their best pitchers for Cleveland, opened with a second-liner for the third straight time and failed.

ENTERED IN LOCAL RACING PROGRAM — BANDLEADER, owned by Lucien Dugré of Sherbrooke, who will compete next week at the Fair in one of the top racing cards. The local horse is considered as one of the coming pacers in these parts and was purchased last Fall by Mr. Dugré at the annual Harrisburgh Horse Sale.

On Sunday afternoon ten races are slated on the card. The $1,500 Pacing Derby, a Free-for-all Trot and two classified classes. The Derby and Free-for-all will consist of three heats each while the Classifieds will have two a piece.

Conn Smythe Threatens To Withdraw Aid From Pittsburgh If Present Player Restrictions Will Stand

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—Conn Smythe yesterday threatened to end operations of Pittsburgh Hornets as a farm team of Toronto Maple Leafs because of player restrictions imposed by the American Hockey League.

Smythe, managing director of the Toronto National Hockey League club, was commenting on a decision last night by the A.H.L. Board of Governors.

They decided that under no condition may any player loaned to its teams by the N.H.L. be recalled an any time during the regular season or playoffs. Previously N.H.L. farm teams after a 14-day period up to Feb. 15.

"Apparently they don't want good hockey players in their league," said Smythe. "They already have a salary limit in their league which is nearly below the junior league here.

"They have been passing rules in the summer and changing them in the fall for years. Unless there is some change, we couldn't continue to operate our farm team at Pittsburgh under these conditions because our farm club would be of no use to us . . ."

Clarence Campbell, N.H.L. president, said "I can't believe they mean it literally. If they go through with it, it will force N.H.L. teams to send players elsewhere, either to the Pacific Coast League or the Quebec Senior League . . . it will certainly create a problem for the teams who operate A.H.L. farm clubs."

Once Famous Team Of Krol And Copeland Back With Argos, But They Hardly Rate Notice In Training

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—A few years ago mention of Toronto Argonauts' gold-dust twins of Joe Krol and Royal Copeland was enough to make other Big Four Football Union teams shudder. Today, they're back together again and hardly rate a notice in pre-season training.

It would be easy in 1948 and 1949 to predict that Argonauts would be a powerhouse in big-league football when Joe and Cope were around. But the years have taken their toll on two of the best Canadian-born backfielders seen in many seasons and fans now need a program to separate them from the rest of the mob.

Argonauts open the three-month Big Four season at Hamilton against Tiger-Cats Sept. 1 and even the most rabid Toronto fan wouldn't make a gentleman's bet that the Double Blue will reach the playoffs. It's a hot and cold club that can look like the best team in Canada one Saturday and the following week put up a sorrowful display.

Coach Frank Clair, one of the shrewdest coaches in Canadian football, has made a couple of changes here and there from the 1951 edition that lost out in the three-team Big Four playoff but, basically, it will be almost a carbon copy of the 1951 squad.

It's almost a cinch he'll go along with import Knobby Wirkowski in his sophomore year in the quarter slot. Other American backfielders are Billy Bass and Ylysses (Crazy Legs) Curtis, both with Argos last year and Dean Sensenbaugher, from Ohio State and Army, and George Rooks.

Copeland, who returned this season from Calgary Stampeders, is likely to make a spot but as a defensive half. Other Canadians fighting for their jobs in the backfield are pint-sized Doug Pyzer and Steve Karrys.

Up front, Clair has Red Ettinger, an expatriate from Saskatchewan Roughriders, at centre. He is flanked by such stalwarts as Jack Carpenter, traded by Hamilton Tiger-Cats for Ed (Buckets) Hirsch and Don Durno, Shanty McKenzie, Les Ascott, Pete Bennett, Gary Fowler, Art Scullion and George Arnett.

Clair is not worried about Wirkowski but he's not too happy about the kicking of Krol. The Windsor-born old-timer was outkicked by Indian Jack Jacobs of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in last Saturday's exhibition game here.

In Sunday's exhibition at Buffalo with Tiger-Cats, Clair will divide the punting chores between Krol and Steve Karrys. The game should give Clair something to work on before Argos start playing for keeps on Labor Day.

Will Jean Beliveau Jump To Pro Hockey Ranks? That's The Question Uppermost In Minds Of Quebec Fans

Quebec, Aug. 22—(CP)—Jean Beliveau still won't say if he'll make the jump this fall to pro hockey ranks with Montreal Canadiens.

"I want to see how things turn out in training before I make a decision," says "Gros Bill, the 21-year-old giant with the deadly shot.

Sept. 15 the idol of Quebec City hockey fans joins Canadiens training camp as he did last year.

Then comes the pronouncement Quebec hockey followers have awaited for months.

Beliveau's decision will be either to stay with Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League or join Canadiens in the National League.

"Canadiens and Aces made their offers early this summer," Beliveau reports. "I was tempted to make a choice then, but decided to wait until the season was about to start."

Canadiens have had their eye on Beliveau since he proved himself a sharp-shooting centre with Quebec Citadelles, in junior competition two years ago.

Last year, he moved to senior ranks with the Aces and led the Q.S.H.L. scoring race with 45 goals and 38 assists. He also led the Aces to the Alexander Cup and was chosen the best centre, best rookie and best pro prospect among Quebec Senior players.

Canadiens would like to have him because of his size—6 feet, 2 inches and 215 pounds—and his effectiveness.

Beliveau obviously finds some appeal in the idea of being a big-time star playing on the same team as Maurice (Rocket) Richard,, the hockey hero of all youngsters in French Canada.

"When you suddenly realize you have a chance to skate out with Richard, you feel like giving it all you've got," says Beliveau.

The terms Canadiens have offered Beliveau are secret. The money Aces paid him last year to keep him in Quebec City has been rumored as high as $15,000.

"I don't know yet what I will do," says Beliveau. "There may be more money in Montreal, but Quebec is just like home. The fans have been very good to me here since my junior days."

Until training camp time, Beliveau will continue to play 18 holes of golf here every day, breaking 90 regularly.

Rookie Tom Gorman Was Beaten In First Inning

Rookie Tom Gorman was beaten in the first inning and had no one to blame but himself.

Gorman walked home one run and his wild throw permitted two more White Sox to score.

Spec Shea turned in his 10th victory for the Senators in the first game at Washington. Lefty Bob Cain breezed to his ninth victory in the second.

Big Hank Sauer smashed a pair of three-run homers to beat the Giants in the opener at Chicago. The homers boosted Sauer's output to 33 and increased his runs batted in to 106.

Chicago jumped away to a 5-0 lead in the second game, scoring all of their runs off Jim Hearn in the third. Bob Rush blanked the Giants until the sixth when they tallied four runs. The New Yorkers won out with two unearned runs in the seventh and sewed it up with four more in the ninth.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell turned in his seventh straight victory for the Cards in beating Boston. The rookie checked the Braves on five hits and blanked them after Sid Gordon's two-run homer in the first inning.

98-Pound Filipino Pulls Upset By Eliminating Art Larsen In Canadian Tennis Championships

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—Felicissimo Ampon of the Philippines and Ed Moylan of Trenton, N.J., yesterday eliminated two top-ranking United States players from the quarter-finals of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships.

In one of the most surprising upsets of the week-long tournament, the 98-pound Filipino defeated Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Moylan knocked Tony Vincent of Miami, Fla., last year's singles champion, out of the competition, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Larsen, rated second-best singles player in the U.S., overtook Ampon in the sixth game of the first set to tie it three-all, only to weaken and lose three straight. He came back strongly to take the second set. Then the 31-year-old Philippines champion from Manila began to play the U.S. star's backhand and steadily piled up points with a variety of volleys, drives, chops and overhead smashes.

Vincent, who eliminated Brendan Macken of Montreal, was repeatedly forced off balance by Moylan's smashing drives to the back tape.

"He was as steady as I am and hit the ball a lot harder," Vincent said after the game.

In the women's singles, petite Melita Remirez of Mexico advanced to the finals by defeating Louise Brown of Toronto 7-5, 6-0.

Miss Remirez, women's singles champion of Mexico, will face last year's Canadian open champion, Lucille Davidson of Lee's Summit, Mo., in the finals. Miss Davidson beat Pat Macken of Montreal 6-2, 7-5, in yesterday's quarter-finals.

Miss Davidson yesterday eliminated the former Czech champion, Hannah Sladek of Montreal, 7-5, 6-3.

Lou Ortiz Paces Chiefs To Win Over Leafs

Rochester Red Wings had second baseman Lou Ortiz to thank today for the fact that they're still only one-half game behind the second-place Syracuse Chiefs in the International League.

Ortiz and his mates were well on the way to a defeat at the hands of Toronto Maple Leafs last night when Lou decided to do something about it. With the Leafs ahead 1-0 in the ninth inning and two on, Ortiz whacked a 370-foot home run to give his team the triumph.

Ellies (Cot) Deal hung up his 13th victory of the campaign, allowing but one run in the ninth. Stubby Overmire, who took over when starter Gerry Fahr was taken out for a pinch-hitter in the seventh, took the loss.

The Chiefs whipped Buffalo Bisons 2-0 in the only other action of the night. The game was called after 7½ innings because of rain. The other two scheduled games were rained out.

Bob Keegan spun his 18th victory and seventh shutout for the Chiefs. Claude Corbett knocked in both Syracuse runs with a single in the second off loser Hank Borowy.

World's Top Marksmen In Grand American Trapshoot; Canada's Olympic Champ Genereux Entered

Vandalia, O., Aug. 22—(AP)—More than 1,700 of the world's outstanding marksmen battle today in trapshooting's most unpredictable event and for the game's most coveted championship—the Grand American Handicap.

Shooters from practically every state in the Union, Canada, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Cuba and Hawaii are in the fight for the $1,500 first prize and untold thousands in the optional wagering at the premier event of the 53rd Grand American. Among them is George Genereux of Saskatoon, runner-up in yesterday's junior shoot.

In 52 years no man has been able to win the 100-target classic twice and no woman has ever triumphed. But it has been won by a 14-year-old boy and a 70-year-old man, and others from all walks of life.

Last year Mike Wayland, 18-year-old Washington, Kans., high school student, fired a 99 which grabbed off the big prize. A year ago the youngster fired from 21 yards. But this year he's back on the 23, from where he fired a 93 in yesterday's preliminary handicap dress rehearsal.

E. G. Backey, 45, of Rock Falls, Ill., won a five-day shootoff to take yesterday's preliminary and thereby probably wrecked all his chances to capture today's classic. Only one man, R. R. Barber of Paulina, Ia., has ever won the two big features, and he did it back in 1905.

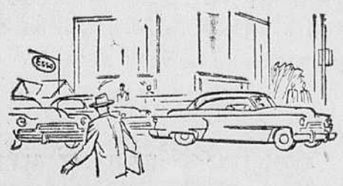

The women's preliminary championship went to Mrs. Dorothy Kohler, 33, of Tekemah, Neb.

Ronald Mosier, 17-year-old Fresno, Calif., high school student who won last year's Grand American Junior Championship, won yesterday's preliminary junior laurels with 96 from 22 yards. Genereux was second with 95 after defeating Rique Linam of Shreveport, La., in a shoot-off.

Yesterday's preliminary field of 1,527 was the fourth largest in history and today's Grand American Handicap is also expected to be the fourth largest, exceeding last year's entry of 1,682 by more than 100.

MRS. H. R. CLEVELAND WINS E. T. LADIES GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Posts 85 To Edge Mrs. Eakins By Two Strokes In Close Fight Over Local Course In 36-Hole Fixture

Mrs. H. R. Cleveland of the Danville Golf and Country Club copped the Eastern Townships ladies' golf championship yesterday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Country Club when she posted an 85 for a 36-hole total of 172.

Mrs. Cleveland eked out a close win over Mrs. R. E. Eakins, last year's champion, by two strokes. The Sherbrooke Country Club top lady player was two strokes off the winning pace and was forced to settle with an 86 after chalking up an 88 in the opening round. Mrs. Eakins ran into trouble on the 18th par-four and was forced to settle for a seven which cost her the match.

At the end of the first nine holes yesterday Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Eakins posted identical scores of 43 but on the back nine the local player picked up ground until she hit the 18th when she missed her opportunity of catching Mrs. Cleveland and Danville's top lady player emerged the 1952 E. T. ladies' champion.

The team prize was won by the Sherbrooke threesome of Mrs. Eakins, Mrs. B. N. Holtham and Mrs. A. W. Kerridge with their combined gross scores of 284 to edge out the Danville team. In the net section the local ladies also walked off with the honors.

Miss Emily Von Berg of Lennoxville led the class "B" section yesterday when she completed the final 18 holes in 103. Mrs. E. Markham of the Hermitage Club, placed second with 110 while Mrs. G. McManamy of the Country Club and Miss C. Flint of Lennoxville finished stalemated in third spot with 111.

In class "C" Mrs. R. Keeler and Mrs. K. C. Mills, both of the Country Club, posted 119 to finish tied for top honors. Two other local players, Mrs. C. H. Niles and Miss A. Duberger, trailed one stroke in the rear with 120, respectively.

The low gross for all three classes follow:

Middlecoff And Kroll Tie In Fort Wayne Open

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 22—(AP)—Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., tied with six-under-par 665 yesterday for the first-round lead in the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open.

The touring pros and a small group of amateurs cut par to pieces over the wide fairways of Fort Wayne Elks course. Thirty-eight pros and two amateurs bettered the 36-36—72 standard.

Direct Rhythm Cops Yonkers Pacing Derby

Yonkers, N.Y., Aug. 22—(AP)—Direct Rhythm splashed through the rain and slop in the stretch last night to overhoul the favored Good Time and win the $25,000 Yonkers pacing Derby at Yonkers Raceway in one o fthe year's major harness racing upsets.

Good Time, the greatest money-winner in the sulky sport's history, didn't even get second money, as Prince Adios ranged up on the outside in the last few yards to get the place spot about a neck behind the winner.

Direct Rhythm, a bay four-year-old son of Billy Direct owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky., was a 13-to-1 shot. He was clocked at 3:19 for the 1½ mile route.

Prince Adios, second choice, is owned by Grant Hodgins of Clandeboye, Ont., while Good Time is the pride of William H. Cane's Good Time Stable, Goshen, N.Y.

Good Time, winner of 13 officials starts this year and one of the outstanding sidewheelers in the sport's history, showed definitely that he doesn't care especially for an off track.

There had been showers from mid-afternoon, but the track was in fair shape with sanding trucks operating for the first five races. Then a deluge drowned the course 30 minutes before the big race.

E.T. LADY GOLF CHAMPIONS—The above pictures were taken yesterday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Country Club following completion of 36-hole tournament to decide the 1952 champions.

The top photo shows the Country Club threesome who won the team trophy in the gross and net sections of the event. The team is comprised of Mrs. B. N. Holtham, Mrs. R. E. Eakins and Mrs. A. W. Kerridge.

Bill Mawhinney Reaches Semi-Finals Of U. S. Amateur By Eliminating Jimmy McHale In Close Battle 1 Up

Seattle, Aug. 22. — (CP) — A young Vancouver golfer today came close to a goal that hasn't been accomplished by a Canadian since he was three years old.

Twenty-three-year-old Bill Mawhinney teed off against Jack Westland, a man more than twice his age in a 36-hole semi-final for the United States amateur title. And golfing enthusiasts began to remember C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, the London, Ont., veteran who last brought the crown to Canada 20 years ago.

Mawhinney, the 1950 Canadian amateur titleholder, won his semi-final berth the hard way yesterday by knocking out the last big name in the field—Jimmy McHale of Mamaroneck, N.Y., who had eliminated former champion Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City in morning play.

McHale, a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team, had squeezed by Percy Clogg, of Vancouver, 2 and 1 in an earlier round, but the stretch-running Mawhinney avenged his fellow-townsman by overcoming a two-hole deficit to defeat the Big Oklahoman, one up.

Meanwhile, Canadian champion Walt McElroy of Vancouver carried his bid for the title to the quarter-finals before bowing to Al Mengert of Spokane, Wash., 3 and 2. Mengert faces Crooner Don Cherry of Garden City, N.Y., in the other semi-final bracket.

Mawhinney, who currently holds the Pacific Northwest Amateur title, is the last of eight Canadians to keep his title hopes alive, though the pre-tournament pickers had him tabbed for early elimination.

A bad back, which kept him off the Canadian team in last week's Americas Cup matches, was expected to hamper Mawhinney's game. But the Big Canadian showed no signs of strain as he downed Bill Campbell of Huntingdon, W.Va., 3 and 2 in morning play. And he was quick to take advantage of a couple of costly driving lapses by McHale in his quarter-final match.

McElroy got past Marion (Sonny) Hiskey of Twin Falls, Ida., 3 and 2 before he ran into Mengert, a recently-discharged U.S. flier who had breezed by the formidable Paul Johnason of Seattle by a 5-and-4 margin in morning play.

The Spokane youngster's consistent play was too much for the Canadian champion. Five down at one stage, he rallied gamely on the back nine but couldn't catch up.

Westland, a 47-year-old candidate for the United States House of Representatives from Everett, Was., won the right to meet Mawhinney by kocking off Young Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., 3 and 1.

He, too, was after a long-cherished goal. In 1931 he reached the finals of the amateur, only to lose to Francis Ouimet.

Cherry's quarter-final victim was Gene Littler, the 22-year-old sailor who upset British Champion Harvie Ward Wednesday.

Joe Louis Picks Jersey Joe To Retain World Heavy Title In Tiff With Marciano; Too Smart And Tricky

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Joe Louis, eminent thespian, turned ring expert long enough today to predict Jersey Joe Walcott will clobber Rocky Marciano in their heavyweight title fight at Philadelphia Sept. 23.

"Old pappy is too smart and tricky," the Brown Bomber said. "He'll run Marciano crazy moving in and out and, don't forget, he's got a mean right hand lick. It's quick and it'll pulverize you."

The former king of the heavies unburdened himself of these remarks at a tete-a-tete tossed at a fashionable mid-town bistro to announce plans for the projected movie on Joe's life: "The Joe Louis Story."

The Bomber, who looks happier and younger than he has in years, will play a stand-in—in the fight scenes—for the character picked to play Joe Louis.

Federated Films, the producers, announced the script will be completed around Oct. 1 and casting will follow. Shooting will begin in January with the release planned for next July.

"It's not a boxing documentary," Stirling Silliphant, a representative of the Producers, explained. "It's the story of this man's life. It'll be a story of his triumphs and frustrations.

"We're looking for people to play his wife, Marva; his mother; Mike Jacobs, Jack Blackburn, John Roxborough and others who figured in Louis' heydey."

When details of the forthcoming film had been exhausted, Louis turned his attention to the Walcott-Marciano fight.

"Rocky may be heavyweight champion some day," the Bomber said. "But not this year. Walcott has too much savvy for him. Besides, I don't think Marciano is the best heavyweight around.

"Personally, I think Ezzard Charles is. And the best heavyweight prospect—I'd say Clarence Henry, out in Los Angeles."

Casey Stengel And Paul Richards Not On Speaking Terms As Yanks' Pilot Refuses Ground For Practice

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Managers Paul Richards of Chicago and Casey Stengel of New York weren't on speaking terms yesterday as the White Sox and Yankees clashed in the final of their three-game set at Yankee Stadium.

The bad feeling sprang up over Stengel's refusal to allow the White Sox to work out after Wednesday's 12-3 Chicago victory over New York.

Richards, who likes to have his charges work out after as well as before a game, had sent the clubhouse boy to Stengel Wednesday, seeking permission to take some extra batting practice at conclusion of the afternoon game.

Stengel refused and that burned up Richards. He didn't believe it at first and had to receive a second refusal before he realized that Casey wasn't kidding.

Richards got in some batting practice anyway. He hurried four of his players—outfielder Minnie Minoso, shortstop Chico Carrasquel, pitcher Chuck Stobbs and catcher Darrell Johnson—into a taxi, uniform and all, and went to the Polo Grounds where they worked out for an hour.

Richards was still boiling today as he rapped Stengel for his "poor sportsmanship."

"We get permission from every club in the league to work out except here," he snapped. "Why in Boston, Yawkey (Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey) graciously consented to let us have the freedom of the park at any time when it's not in use. He even said he would have the lgihts turned on if we would work out that late."

Stengel said he refused permission because he didn't want the Sox to mess up the grass in the outfield.

The Yankees later issued a statement saying that Richards made his request in the seventh inning of yesterday's game and "much too late to change the schedule of the grounds keepers."

"Besides," he added, "who's going to pay the grounds keepers? They're not going to hang around long after a regular game for nothing."

Tornado Injures Three Top Horses Valued At $100,000 Each As Barn Topples At Missouri State Fair

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 22 —(AP)— Three of the most valuable harness race horses in the world were injured early today in a tornado that slashed through the Missouri State Fair Grounds.

The remainder of the Grand Circuit racing program at the fair was cancelled.

Three horses, valued at $100,000 or more each, were among those in a barn that was wrecked.

They were Tar Heel, purchased for $125,000 last fall; Duke of Lullwater, for which an offer of $125,000 was refused last year, and Simpson Hanover, sired by a Hambletonian winner, out of a Hambletonian winner, valued at $100,000.

Tar Heel is owned by the Hanover (Pa) Shoe Farm of Lawrence Sheppard, president of the U. S. Trotting Association. Duke of Lullwater, which placed third this year in the Hambletonian, is owned by Walter T. Chandler, Decatur, Ga. Simpson Hanover is owned by L. J. Buck, Far Hills, N. J.

Simpson Hanover, son of Hoot Mon and Shirley Hanover, won the American National Stake for two-year old trotters here yesterday.

Also in the barn were True Boy, Scotch Dean, Hoot Lassie and Epicure.

Witnesses said Hoot Lassie was blown 25 feet into the air as her groom led her from the stall. She was not injured.

None of the horses were injured seriously, but all suffered cuts and bruises. True Boy, Tar Heel and Simpson Hanover were cut up more than others.

Carts and sulkies were smashed, broken and scattered throughout the stabling area.

Cold And Choppy Waters For 45 Starters In C. N. E. $10,000 Swim

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—The 45 huskies plunging into Lake Ontario today in the Canadian National Exhibition's $10,000 10-mile marathon swim can expect no help from the weather man. The water will be cold and choppy.

Predictions are for a "brisk" 10-to-15-mile-an-hour, offshore wind. The stiff breeze will skim warm surface water from the North Shore down towards the United States.

Lake levels have climbed to the highest point in almost 100 years and the breakwater which closed off the waterfront course is awash.

Last year, in warmer water, Jerry Kerschner, 30, of Columbus, O., was set a punishing pace for the first nine miles by 19-year-old George Bevan of Toronto and tagged the finish barge less than five minutes behind the record set for the 4½-hour event in 1937 by Frank Pritchard of Buffalo, N.Y.

Bevan promises to do even better this year according to training camp boasts. It is reported he has covered the distance in 4:16.30, almost three minutes faster than Pritchard's 4:19.28.

Cooler conditions could help four Egyptian swimmers entered this year. Little hope is held, however, by the visitors from the Middle East who periodically plod through the English Channel. They are trained for greater distance and leisurely pace and will probably watch the winners climb from the water at a distance.

Only a handful of the 39 starters finished the gruelling course last year. The race annually attracts several persons who crash manfully into the water and then are pulled into their accompanying boats after one or two miles.

The winner will take home $5,000, second placer $2,250 and the man in third spot $750. There's another $100 for the leader on each lap and $50 for the fastest mile.

The more than 10,000 spectators should be warm enough. Air temperatures are expected to reach 75.

K. Huet, Granby, Cops P. Q. G. A. Sponsored Junior Golf Event; Posts 75 Over Rain-Soaked Course

K. Huet, of the Granby Golf Club walked off with the honors in the second P.Q.G.A. sponsored junior golf competition at the Sherbroke Country Club yesterday afternoon when he posted a gross 75 under adverse conditions.

Twenty juniors took part in the event which was played under a continual downpour which commenced immediately after the boys teed off. The weather failed to halt the youngsters and some good scores were turned in.

In the younger class top honors went to another up-and-coming Granby club-swinger, P. Mieszkowski, who was awarded first place as he held a lower handicap than G. Parker, of Drummondville. Both players completed the 18-hole event in 88 but the Granby player took low honors.

Jean-Guy Blanchard, of the Sherbroke Country Club placed second in the older event when he posted a 85. The net prize was won by J. Boyne, of Granby, while Frank Kerridge, of the Country Club placed second.

In the younger class E. Mariasine, of the Country Club, took the low net with a 61 while D. Benoit, of the St. Hyacinthe, edged out his rivals for second prize.

Immediately following the competition Russ McCabe, Director of the P.Q.G.A., presented the prizes. Mr. McCabe was in charge of the tournament, the second held this year for clubs affiliated with the Association.

The players and their scores follow:

580 Will Win Canadian Amateur, Says Farley

Vancouver, Aug. 22—(CP)—Phil Farley peered hard at a blank score card, scratched his chin and said: "A 580 should win it."

The captain of Ontario's defending champion Willingdon Cup golf team offered a figure four over par for 36 holes by the four team members. The record is 578 strokes, shot by the British Columbia team in 1948.

All players had arrived today for the inter-provincial matches and junior Canadian championship to be run off Saturday over the up-and-down Capilano course in West Vancouver.

All hustled out to try the course. Most echoed Farley's "it's magnificent." There was a light drizzle while most players were out but not enough to soften the course, baked hard by an entire month of sun.

The Quebec team said they found the greens tricky but Junior Grant Dearnaley added: "Of course, our putting was nothing to brag about, either."

Most golfers here figure the medal play series to be strictly a contest between Ontario and British Columbia.

Col. Gardner Sets 18 Records For Light Cars

Wendover, Utah, Aug. 22—(AP)—Lt.-Col. A. T. (Goldie) Gardner, 61, British racing driver, ended his speed trials yesterday with 18 records for light cars in his pocket.

Thundering along the Bonneville Salt Flats in his M-G midget special yesterday, Gardner hit 202.96 miles an hour during the mile run—one mile an hour short of his own record of 203.9 set in 1939. He is the only person ever to top 200 miles an hour in a light car.

An attempt to crack his own world record of 200.6 in the five kilometre run yesterday fell .4 of a second short.

R.C.M.P. Band Concert Opens Local Fair Saturday

Famous Concert Musicians Will Play In Front Of Grandstand From 7 To 9

The famous Royal Canadian Mounted Police band from Ottawa, at present on an extended tour of eastern Canada, will officially open the Sherbrooke Exhibition with a concert in front of the grandstand on Saturday night.

There will be no admission charge to the grandstand for this concert which will begin at 7 p.m. and last for two hours.

Earlier in the day, at three o'clock, the band will give a concert at the Sacred Heart orphanage.

The following day, August 24, the Band will be heard in a concert at Granby.

This musical tour has been arranged in response to many requests from points in the five eastern provinces of Canada. R.C.M.P. Commissioner L. H. Nicholson, M.B.E., has announced that the band will visit thirty-five centers, presenting concerts and parades.

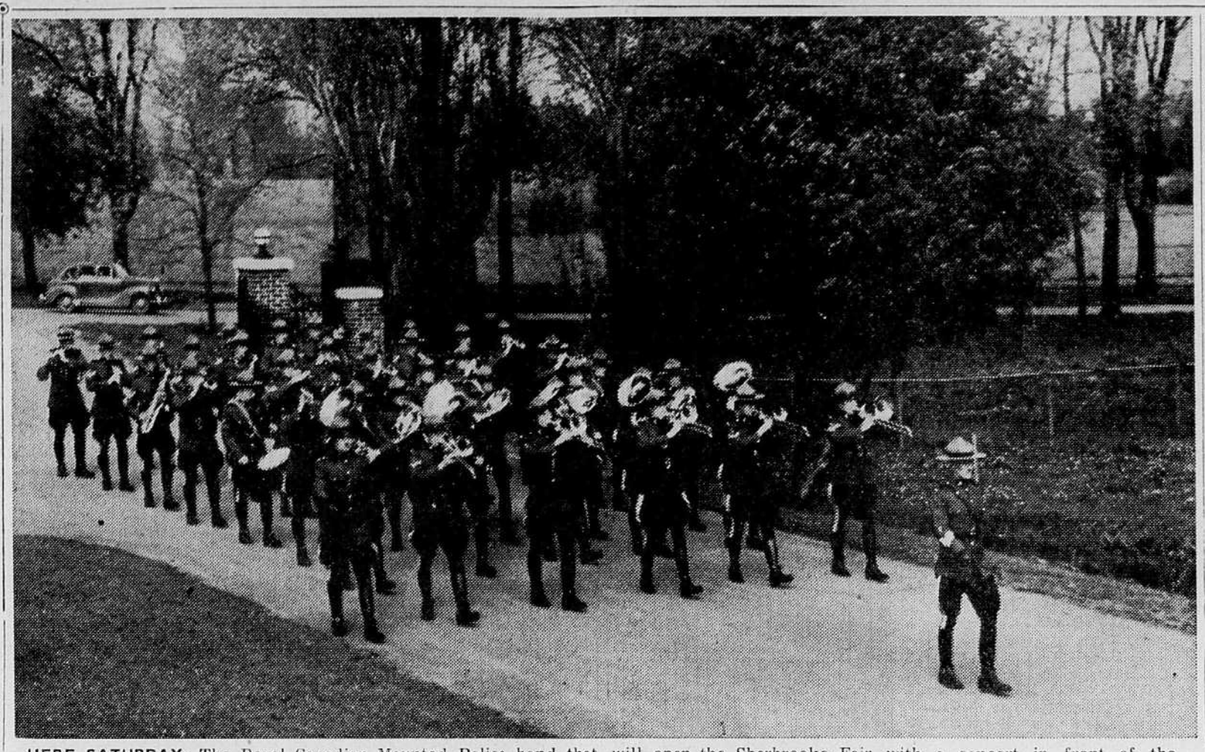

The tour is being undertaken to enable the general public and the members of the Force to hear the Band and to stimulate interest in the general recruiting of suitable young men to a career in the R.C.M.P. Because R.C.M.P. Bandsmen are fully occupied in other duties, it is hoped that this, their first tour of the eastern provinces, will fulfil in some measure the numerous requests which have been received for their appearance.

The tour began July 26 with a visit to Montreal. Other points already visited are Three Rivers, Shawinigan Falls, Quebec City, and Riviere du Loup.

Commissioner Nicholson has had the tour arranged to include a maximum number of points in the five provinces during the band's thirty days of travel. As tour manager, he has appointed Inspector H. S. Cooper, Personnel Officer from Halifax, to accompany the band and officially present them to the public.

He will take charge of the complex detailed arrangements attendant to such an undertaking. In his announcement of the tour, Commissioner Nicholson has intimated that this tour has been arranged to fulfill, at least in part, and as far as circumstances will allow, the many requests received for appearances of the band in eastern Canada.

In a large bus, equipment truck and one automobile, the Band proceeded to Montreal along the north shore of the St. Lawrence in Quebec and down the western boundary of New Brunswick. From Saint John they will be flown by the R.C.A.F. to St. John's, Newfoundland, returning to Sydney, resume their former mode of travel and visit a number of centres in Nova Scotia and go on to Charlottetown and Summerside in Prince Edward Island. On the return journey the route will follow the north eastern part of New Brunswick and the southern part of Quebec.

HERE SATURDAY: The Royal Canadian Mounted Police band that will open the Sherbrooke Fair with a concert in front of the grandstand at 7 o'clock Saturday night. During the afternoon the famous band will play at the Sacred Heart Hospice.

New Yorkers Fearful As Criminals Strike At Ordinary People

By JAMES DEVLIN

New York. — Crime—much of it "senseless"—is spreading anxiety among the usually-blase citizens of New York.

There was a time when violence in the country's largest city seemed to centre chiefly among bootleggers and other racketeers—but not the average citizen.

The chilling part about the crime picture nowadays is that the most insignificant and law-abiding of persons often are the victims—for no apparent reason.

After-dark strollers avoid lonely areas like Central Park for fear of robbery and rape.

But the terror is apt to strike anybody, anywhere, in an office, a home, a subway station or in an apartment doorway.

A girl secretary, reading a letter from her fiance in Korea, is shot dead by a frustrated physicist, angered not at her but at the scientific world that rejected his theories.

Seven persons who had turned in for a peaceful night's sleep burn to death in a tenement fire set by a psychopath. Police quoted him as saying he set 20 fires just because he liked the excitement.

A man answers the buzzer of his apartment and two teen-agers shoot and kill him—because they were mad at him and he wouldn't give them money.

Official figures released by the police department record a rise in crime figures for the first six months of 1952 compared with the corresponding period last year.

Felonies, ranging from murder to selling narcotics, jumped from 40,248 to 55,304. Murders increased from 116 to 132, rapes from 471 to 507, robberies from 3,184 to 4,630 and burglaries from 14,961 to 22,005.

However, Mayor Vincent Impellitteri and Police Commissioner George Monaghan say the figures represent a statistical increase—rather than a rising crime wave—because of a change this year in the way the police keep their records.

Charged with keeping law and order among the city's 8,000,000 residents is a police force of 18,393 men—larger than an army division.

Much of the crime plaguing both police and citizens today has been blamed variously on the high cost of living, causing some persons to turn to theft, and to the system of using radio-car patrols in place of the old-time cop who "pounds a beat" and knows his neighborhood intimately. This does not account for the "senseless" killings.

Judge Saul S. Streit blamed mental institutions for loosing thousands of dangerous criminals "in utter disregard of the public safety."

The fatal shooting of Arnold Schuster, 24, on a sidewalk near his home last March—another of the "senseless" crimes—brought into realization that contempt for the law by criminals or crackpots knows no bounds.

Schuster, an inconspicuous pants presser, recognized bank robber Willie Sutton and gave the tip that led to Sutton's arrest.

Police blamed either a misguided admirer or former pal of Sutton. The killer is still at large.

STARTED SHOE SWITCH

Shoes a century ago were not made in "rights" and lefts" but were worn on either foot. First manufacture of right and left shoes on a wide scale was for soldiers in the Civil War.

Young Newcomers Ardent Students

Toronto. — Three students in Toronto, all from displaced persons camps in Europe and all unable to speak English three years ago, compiled fine records in upper-school examinations here.

The teen-agers, two girls and a boy, achieved marks that were all the more impressive because English is the only compulsory subject in the Ontario grade 13 curriculum.

Taisa Turkevich, 17, was born in Poland and left there four years ago, living in a displaced persons camp in Austria before coming to Canada. She could speak French, Polish, Ukrainian, Russian and German, but had to start learning English in an Edmonton public school, later studying higher grades.

After moving to Toronto Taisa went straight into grade 13 and she gained nine firsts in the nine departmental subjects she took in June. She plans to enter a chemistry course at the University of Toronto.

Maija Svanks, 18, was born in Latvia and with her family went to Germany when the Russians moved in. After five years in Germany she came to Toronto from a displaced persons camp in Oldenburg. By learning 100 words every day for a week, Maija taught herself basic English and went on from there.

"English grammar is easy," says Maija, "but you have too many words. "I am buried in vocabulary." Her ambition is to be a statistician and she aims at a mathematics course at University of Toronto.

The third student is George Anysas, 18, who also came from a displaced persons camp in Germany and started studying English three years ago. Like Taisa, he gained nine firsts. He would like to become an engineer.

72 YEARS OF PROGRESS

It has often been said that a business cannot stand still; it must progress or perish. We, at Codere's, are in complete accord with this theory. Codere Limited, one of Sherbrooke's oldest business concerns, has through depressions and booms, continued to progress. Some folks will say we've been lucky, and we agree. But . . . there's more than luck to running a business. First of all, you must have a genuine desire to serve the public . . . to give them what they want. Secondly, you must sell at prices as low as possible, and still stock good quality merchandise . . . and stand behind everything you sell. This way of conducting your affairs will, over the years, give people confidence in your business . . . confidence that some merchants would give any amount of money to buy, but, fortunately for the customer, confidence is not for sale.

This is the way Codere's has been run since one day in 1880 when the business was founded . . . and this is the way our business will continue to be run as long as the sign, "CODERE LTEE" is displayed in front of the hardware store located at 30 Wellington Street North, Sherbrooke.

E. T. A. A. President Tells Of Work Involved In Preparing For Exhibition

The preparations that are required to make a success of the Sherbrooke Fair, the men who do the work and some details of the operations of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association which puts on the Fair, were the subject of a talk given this week by W .F. MacDougall, president of the E.T.A.A.

Mr. MacDougall's address was on the Sherbrooke agricultural broadcast, given under the auspices of the agronomes of the Sherbrooke area. Because of its timely nature —the Fair starts on Saturday—a summary of Mr. MacDougall's remarks is published here.

The E.T.A.A., Mr. MacDougall said, was incorporated in 1885 by an act of the Quebec Legislature.

According to the charter which was granted, the E.T.A.A. was authorized to organize agricultural and industrial exhibitions. It had the right to conduct sales by auction of livestock, agricultural produce or implements, to collect revenue by entrance fees to the grounds and charge commissions on sales The charter calls for a joint stock company. The E.T.A.A. was to be operafed by a board of directors, the number of directors to be chosen was left to the discretion of the stock holders. The directors were to choose an execltive committee from their number.

The board of directors conduct the affairs or entire business of the Association. They have the authority to buy, sell mortgage, real estate and other property, borrow money, enter into contracts to carry out the objects of the Association.

The executive committee have the control over the financial affairs of the Association, and shall act as the auditing committee of the board. They appoint all the paid officials and regulate the salary of same.

The board of directors have the right to appoint all sub committees or they may, if they so wish, give such authority to the executive committee.

There are some 29 organized committees, the president and two vice-presidents being ex officio members of all committees.

A few words about these committees and their work.

Publicity: This committee supervises advertising and questions of publicity, their chairman this year being Carl Ives. If you have friends outside of the Eastern Townships, will you invite them to the exhibition.

The reception committee with Senator C. B. Howard as chairman are expected to receive the guests at the Fair or Fairs.

The buildings and grounds committee, under the leadership of Mr. J. P. Mullins. This committee have especially heavy responsibilities, as it is their duty to see the grounds are kepet clean and buildings are kept in proper repair.

The arena committee, under the joint chairmanship of Mr. E. E. Spafford and Col. B. D. Lyon, supervise all activities in the arena other than agriculture, skating, hockey, dances, wrestling and roller skating. This might be called the youth centre committee.

Livestock is under the general chairmanship of Wesley Nichols with Hugh McClary being general chairman of horses, D. G. Ross, chairman of heavy horses and Dr. Gendreau chairman of light horses, D. J. MacMillan is chairman of beef cattle, V. R. Beattie chairman of dairy cattle, Gordon McElrea of sheep, N. G. Bennett of swine, Raymond Ste. Marie of poultry, Louis Codere of boys' and girls' clubs, Archie Dyson of parades and W. W. Nichol of the committee of the sale of market livestock. Each chairman is expected to solicit exhibits for his division and see that the judging is done on schedule time. Don MacMillan is chairman of the committee on judging competition.

Next, we have agricultural products with Col. B. D. Lyon as general chairman. In this section the sub-committees and chairmen are: Dairy products, J. E. Michel; maple products, J .A. Ste. Marie; field crops and vegetables, G. McElrea; floriculture and ladies' work, E. W. Gilbey.

The Sherbrooke Exhibition is outstanding for its exhibit of maple and dairy products, and Mr. Gilbey is trying to increase the interest in the flower building.

The prize list is under the chairmanship of the president this year. Each sub-committee revise their part of the prize list each year.

The industrial exhibit committee is under the supervision of Mayor Emile Levesque.

The attractions are under the general chairmanship of M. T. Stenson. In this division Leo Laliberte is chairman of the committee on bands and music.

Fred Webster looks after the free acts committee, Colin Campbell the harness racing committee and the midway committee under the joint chairmanship of Bud Howard and C. S. Ives.

Louis Codere is general chairman of gates and admission. Mr. Gilbey has taken on the chairmanship of the gates in place of Hector Codere who has been indisposed, and R. A. Webster looks after the grand stand committee.

All committees meet from time to time, they bring their recommendations to the board of directors or the executive committee for approval.

The executive committee usually meet once a week during the spring and summer season. Sometimes it is found necessary to meet more often.

The biggest event of the year, the Sherbrooke Exhibition, will be on this week-end, Aug. 23 to 30. The gates will be open every morning at 8 a.m. until midnight from Saturday to Friday for the 67th annual exhibition.

Present indications are that the annual event will measure up well to the previous years. Entries are arriving in good numbers. Let us make our exhibition the show window of the Eastern Townships, the finest in the history of the E.T.A.A.

Let us study the program. Saturday is preparation day, but Saturday evening should draw one of the largest crowds of the week. The R.C.M.P. is giving a concert in front of the grandstand from 7 to 9 o'clock. There will be free admission to the grandstand. This is an outstanding band and we are sure that all music lovers will be on hand for this concert. Nine to one there will be a grand dance in the arena with Sonny Dunham of New York providing the music. The midway will be in full swing. There will be horse racing Sunday afternoon. Monday is children's day. All children will be admitted free to the grounds and to the unreserved seats of the grandstand. Children occupying reserve seats will be charged the usual price. Attractions in front of the grandstand will be provided by Hamid Bros. of New York.

There will be a full program of attractions in front of the grandstand from Monday to Friday nights inclusive.

On Monday the judging of ladies' work will commence at 9.30 and the judging of poultry, butter, cheese, maple products, field crops, vegetables, fruit and swine will get underway at 1.30. The E. T.A.A. will arrange a get-together of the livestock breeders at 6.30.

Tuesday morning, the judging of Ayrshire and Guernsey cattle, sheep and heavy horses will get underway, also judging of Jersey cattle will commence at 3 o'clock.

Wednesday morning the judging of Jersey cattle will continue, light horses will be judged. There will be parades of livestock at two and three o'clock. Judging of Holstein cattle will commence at 3.30 o'clock.

Thursday will be another big day. The judging of Holstein cattle will continue and the judging of Canadian cattle will commence.

There will be two big parades in the afternoon, horses and club calves at 2 o'clock and cattle at 3 o'clock. The regular judging competition will start at nine o'clock.

Friday: A full program of racing in front of the grandstand, full program of free acts afternoon and evening and the midway in full swing till late in the evening.

Here are some special features of the week: The E.T.A.A. was a leader in the organization of junior activities. There is a full program for the juniors from Monday to Thursday. The provincial judging elimination contest will take place on Monday when some 50 young men and women will compete for provincial honors in dairy cattle, sheep and hogs. The winning team in each of these divisions will represent our province in the national contest at the Royal Show in Toronto in November.

The Lennoxville Calf Club and Hatley Calf Club will have two of their members competing in the dairy cattle competition. Some 100 calves will be exhibited by members od these junior clubs. The junior banquet will be held on Tuesday evening when the winners in the various provincial contests will be announced.

The E.T.A.A. will entertain the federal members of Parliament and representatives of the press at a luncheon on Wednesday noon at 12.15 o'clock. Invitations have gone out to the members of Parliament

heats like the sun, gives amazing economies

Glassheat panels are attractively designed to compliment any interior decor. Each heated area has an individual thermostat, so that temperature may be controlled to suit different activities and comfort requirements. They present no dusting problem. Electric Glassheat eliminates cold floors, drafts, soot, smoke and fumes.

More economical to install, to operate... Glassheat needs no chimneys, pipes, vents or ducts.

Electric radiant heating, science's answer to providing the same type of healthful heat as that produced by the sun, is fast taking over the job of oil, gas, coal and other primitive, cumbersome, uneconomical heating methods.

Introduced in Canada as Glassheat, this new system of radiant panel heating converts electrical power into infra-red rays which, like the infra-red rays of the sun, heat the objects they strike, not the air.

The Glassheat installation, beautifully simple, eliminates the need for a furnace, motors, fans, chimneys, heating pipes, fuel storage space, vents or ducts. It is a panel of a specially tempered glass plate 20 times as strong as ordinary glass. To the back of the plate is fused an aluminum grid. The glass plate is mounted in an aluminum reflector that catches heat normally lost through the walls and sends it back into the room. In turn, the reflector is enclosed in a metal unit that is mounted on or in the wall and connected to the normal electrical system.

Clean, silent, odorless heat is available in whichever room it is needed in just three minutes . . . with a flick of the automatically controlled thermostat. Each heated area has an individual thermostat, so that temperature may be controlled to suit different activities and comfort requirements. Repair and maintenance costs of Glassheat units are non-existent. Installation costs are slightly lower than the cost involved in the installation of old-fashioned types of oil, gas or coal heating systems. In addition valuable space is freed and building costs are cut because no chimney, boiler, furnace, oil tank, coal bin, ducts or radiators are required. Where oil, gas or coal systems waste up to 50% of the energy contained in their fuel, Glassheat is electric and 100 per cent.

Glassheat ideal for hard-to-heat rooms

Perfect for auxiliary heating, Glassheat solves the problem of that "hard-to-heat" room. Simple to install on a wall or in a wall recess, your Glassheat unit is easily connected to the regular electrical system. Clean, silent, odorless heat—100% efficient—is at work in only three minutes. The heat is produced right where it is used to create comfort. Automatically controlled thermostat gives you the temperature you want, where you want it. Every room may be a different temperature, if desired, for varying comfort and activities. Free Estimates on cost of installation. Have your authorized Glassheat Dealer survey your needs today.

100,000 Home Installations Prove Outstanding Benefits of ELECTRIC RADIANT GLASSHEAT

A special test for a two year period at temperatures as low as 37 degrees below zero conducted in a home on a mountain top at St. Adele en Haut, P.Q., plus equally gratifying results in a number of installations in other colder areas in the province have proved the outstanding benefits of electric Glassheat. Glassheat has also been thoroughly tested in the U.S., and is now installed in more than 100,000 homes in that country.

TEST REPORTED IN FINANCIAL POST

Results of the technical test were reported in the Financial Post. According to the report the house heated by electrical Glassheat maintained 74° Farenheit throughout the season. Other houses of similar design failed to meet this requirement when, as occasionally happened, the temperatures dropped to 37 below. Buildings like hospitals, with a wide range of "artificial Climate" requirements, can use glass-panel heating to special advantage. Schools, churches and other buildings that are occupied only part of the week, gain special advantage from Glassheat. Certain rooms or areas may be heated without paying highly for warming the whole building; nor do heating panels have to be left on all night. Glassheat panels heat up instantly to the demands of the thermostat.

In private homes it was found that installations of Glassheat saved up to $1500.00 in eliminating the need of a boiler room and chimney.

Probably the greatest tribute to Glassheat came from the Building Service Employees International Union in New York City. Executives of the union actually eliminated jobs for two of its own members by installing Electric Radiant Glassheat in their large head office building.

Their electricity bill for heating has effected a total annual saving running into five figures.

Glassheat is controlled, uses most of its power in off-peak periods

Glassheat operates on a controlled power system so that at times of power company peak demand, Glassheat power demand is at a minimum.

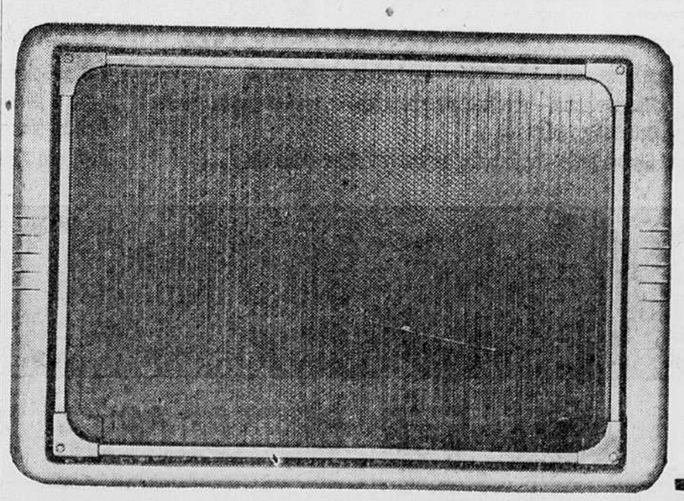

Naturally in certain areas your Power Company may have to provide extra facilities to deliver the power required for heating in addition to present requirements. Everyone wants to use more and more power for a greater variety of things which contribute to better living.

GLASSHEAT SAFER, HEALTHIER, CLEANER

Ideal where children play, Glassheat panels are practically unbreakable. The radiant heat supplies a healthier climate condition—not just heat. Infra-red rays kill non-circulatory insects, have high therapeutic value . . . help eliminate colds and other respiratory diseases. For added protection panels may be fitted with a wire screen. Glassheat eliminates ghastly hazards of fire, explosion and asphyxiation due to coal or gas monoxides

Medical Corps Museum Opened By Royal Army

London. — A Royal army medical corps museum opened recently at corps headquarters, Crookham, Hants., shows the long history and tradition of the R.A.M.C.

Among relics now in possession of the museum are dental instruments carried by Napoleon, the razor and notes written by Rudolf Hess, the Nazi wartime leader, while in a British hospital. There are medical relics of the Crimean war and old-fashioned tattooing instruments.

Recently a tattered flag flown by the 26th field ambulance in Korea was added as well as some waterproof invasion maps of southeast England captured from Germans in the second world war.

One part of the museum is devoted to a panorama of medical transport from the ox-carts of Wellington to the aircraft ambulances of today.

Canadian defence expenditure currently represents 45 per cent of the federal budget.

BEDFORD

Mrs. Russell Tinkler and young son, William, have returned home from the B.M.P. Hospital, in Sweetsburg.

Mrs. A. Hewett has moved from an apartment in Mr. L. Deagon's house on Dutch Street to the house on Academy Street, recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Lake, who have gone to Ile Bizard to live.

On Sunday, the Misses Betty Ann Nicholson, Kathryn Sheltus, and Joan Hewett and Messrs. T. McElroy and Ronnie Corey motored to Stanstead, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Heath.

Mrs. A. Watts, who has been the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Steel, has returned to her home in Montreal.

Messrs. John Cook, George H. Miller and Malcolm McCaw have returned from a trip to Boston, Mass.

Master Gary Lauer has spent the past weeks at Selby Lake at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Kemp. On Thursday afternoon, he took part in swimming tests at Selby Lake. Mrs. Pickering of Chambly, representing the Red Cross, judged the contestants. Gary Lauen successfully passed his intermediate swimming test. Recently he attended the Boy Scout camp in the Laurentians, at Tamaracouto.

Mrs. Bourdon, wife of Councillor Bourdon, of Bedford, recently received news of the consecration of her brother, Monseigneur Raymond Larose, C.S.C. S.Th.D., as Bishop of Chittagong in Pakistan. He was consecrated as bishop of the Diocese of Chittagong in Pakistan on the second of July. The Rev. Monseigneur Ferrando Bishop of Shilong, and the Rev. Monseigneur Obert, Bishop of Krishnagar, were those who took part in the solemn rite of consecration, which was held in the Cathedral at Chittagong.

Monseigneur Larose was born at St. Paul d'Abbotsford on January 10, 1897, and was left an orphan at the age of two years. He was the twelth child in a family of thirteen. After completing his classical studies at St. Laurent College, he received his B.A., from the University of Montreal. In 1917, he entered the congregation of the Sacred Heart, where he continued his theological studies at Laval University. On February 7, 1926, he was ordained to the priesthood in the Cathedral at Quebec, at the end of that year, having offered himself as mission priest for service in overseas fields, he landed at Bengal in December. For the next eighteen years, he was in charge of the mission at Narikelbari, where his ministry was most successful. In 1938, he was named head of the mission, in which charge, he remained until 1950. In 1945, he was sent as a delegate to a meeting of the Congregation of the Sacred Heart held in the United States at the University of Notre Dame; again in 1950, he was sent as a delegate to Rome, during the Holy Year. On his return to Bengal in 1951, he took charge of the mission at Gournadi.

Monseigneur Larose is highly qualified for his new duties, as he possesses a deep understanding of the complex problems of the Mission fields in addition, he was a thorough knowledge of the languages of his diocese, and is noted for the austerity of his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Bradshaw, of Sherbrooke, spent the week-end in Bedford, guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Best were the guests over a recent week-end of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peets, in Montreal.

Mrs. C. Mears, of Enosburg Falls, Vt., who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cocoran, at Stanbridge East, is now a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gardiner.

Mr. Peter Bastien has been transferred from the St. Johns office of the Bell Telephone Company to the Bedford office, replacing Mr. H. Dostaler, who left at the end of July for his new home in Maniwaki, where he has been transferred. Mrs. Dostaler and two sons have spent the past month at her former home in Halifax, N.S.

Mrs. M. Blackwood, who has been relieving at the local office of the Bell Telephone Company, during the absence of Miss Albertha Duval on holiday, has returned to Knowlton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, of Valois, were recent visitors at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. C. O. Jones.

Miss Ann Whitcomb is spending several weeks in Frelighsburg with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whitcomb.

Mr. Lorne Derick, of St. Lambert, together with his brother, Mr. Leslie Derick, of Montreal, spent the week-end in Bedford with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Derick.

IVES HILL

A family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cairns on August 17, the guests of honor being Mrs. Ada Myhill, af Medina, N.Y., and Mr. William Bates, of Lyndonville, N.Y., the former being a cousin and the latter an uncle of Mrs. A. C. Cairns. The others present were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Fisk and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Carr and family, all of Lennoxville, Mr. and Mrs. W. Suitor, of Milby, Mr. and Mrs. G. Young and family and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Cairns and family, of this place.

Mr. Aubrey Boyce, of Huntingville, was an overnight guest of his father, Mr. Oscar Boyce.

Mrs. Alice Harkness and Mr. R. Weston were guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bacon, of Verdun, who had a cottage at Ayer's Cliff.

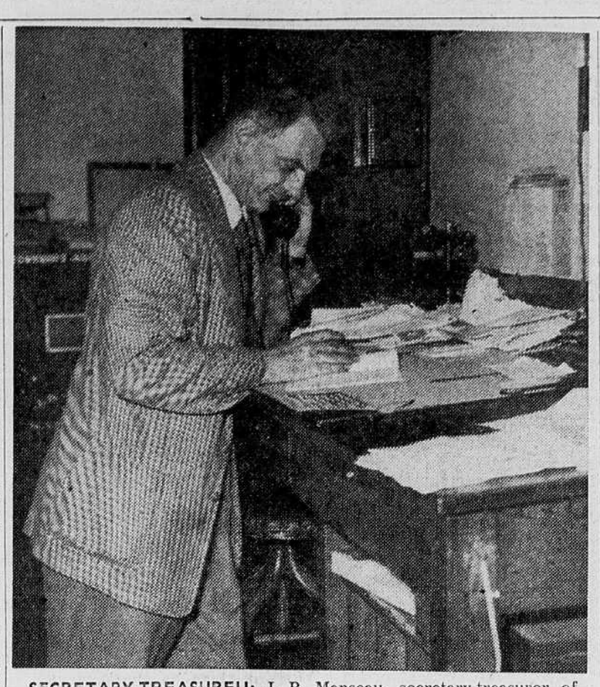

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cairns were Mrs James Carmichael and son, Don, of Smiths Falls, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ellis and son, of Montreal.

The dance held in the community hall on Aug. 16 and sponsored by the Ives Hill and Draper's Corner Community Club, was very well attended. A good time was thoroughly enjoyed by young and old.

Mrs. E. A. Aldrich and Mrs. R. Carter, of Huntingville, were afternoon callers at the home of Mrs. A. Harkness and Mr. R. Weston.

Mrs .S. N. Cairns was at the Milby, W.I. meeting held at the home of Mrs. Beattie at Lennoxville on Thursday.

Miss Norma Farwell is staying for a time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Farwell.

New Words Don't Impress British Book Reviewers

London. — British book reviewers are far from impressed by the latest additions to the English language listed in the new edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica book of the year.

They branded as downright "ugly" many of the words and expressions introduced and accepted during the last 12 months.

Here are a few they particularly disliked: discography—the study of gramophone records; krotoscope—an applause indicator; depurgee—one restored to acceptable political or other standing; accommodator—part-time female help; whomp—to deafeat decisively.

Commented the London Evening Standard: "If you don't recognize these words, remember the Encyclopædia is no longer British. It is owned in Chicago."

in the Eastern Townships and to the members of the press in the Eastern Townships and Vermont. Mr. Maurice Gingues, M.P., has been asked to send invitations to several members of the federal cabinet. It is expected an announcement will be made of the cabinet members who will attend. Therefore, Wednesday will be known as Federal and Press Day. It is expected that a great many of our American cousins will attend on Wednesday, so we might call Wednesday American Day.

Thursday will be provincial and industrial day. The E.T.A.A. will entertain the industrial exhibitors on Thursday noon to a luncheon. The provincial members in the townships have been invited to attend this luncheon. The Hon. J. S. Bourque has been asked to invite the members of the provincial cabinet to this banquet and the E.T A.A. are looking forward to meeting a good number of the provincial cbinet on that day. Announcement will be made in the press of those who will attend.

Another big feature will be the horse racing throughout the week. The E.T.A.A. is offering $8,000 in purses during the week. These purses will attract the best horses in the province. There will be three special Derbys during the week. The entries in the Derbys had to be made in May The entries were so numerous that it was found necessary to erect a new horse barn. Visitors should see the best races in the history of the exhibition. Colin Campbell and his colleagues on the committe are determined that the races will be of a high order.

$8,000 In Purses Will Be Distributed At Harness Races

STABLE FOR HORSES: The entry list for the races at the Sherbrooke Exhibition next week was so large this year that an additional stable to house the trotters and pacers from out of town had to be built. This picture shows the new stable. Racing at the Fair starts on Sunday and will be an afternoon feature throughout the exhibition week. A total of $8,000 will be distributed in purses, the highest amount ever given in Sherbrooke. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Cycling Act Is Specialty Of Hamid Show

Known alternately as the "whiz on wheels" and the "world's foremost comedy cyclist, Bobby Whaling, assisted by the beauteous Yvette, will be a feature of the stage bill at the Sherbrooke Fair next week.

Cyclist Whaling is a double veteran of the wheels and the U.S. army. As a mere stripling, he created his act about 30 years ago, in Germany, where he was considered the outstanding exponent of the cycling art, especially when it came to trick performing. His "near accidents" on the wheels have been known to get spectators to rise from their seats, wondering what fate is in store for the performer. But, being essentially a comedian, he always comes up laughing, a technique which invariably produces audience sympathy.

It wasn't so funny in the period following World War I. During the Allied occupation of Germany, French troops operated German railroads in the Ruhr district. Of this period in his life, Whaling says, "At times I had to pedal up to 30 miles on the bikes used in my act, between connecting trains." Still, it might have been worse had he not been a cyclist.

His most memorable engagement as a top-flight European performer occurred in 1924, when he played a command performance for President Ebert of Germany, at Bad Remagen, near Coblenz. A year or so before that he vividly remembers the British troops who, as part of their occupation of Cologne, ran the Scala Theatre. One night, while Whaling was working at the theatre, two British army officers came back stage to talk to him. Since the officers knew no German and he knew no English, they decided to have their fun with the smallish lad. The "fun" consisted of tossing him back and forth between them like a baseball. When he went downstairs to change clothes, he found that the soldiers had put 20 English pounds into his pocket, "as a present" for his pains.

Pigs Are Pets, Says Professor

Winnipeg. — Professor R. A. Wardle of the University of Manitoba says a hog in the house would make a useful pet.

The zoology department chairman told a veterinary association meeting that the hog, for one thing, would dispose of "those lawn grass clippings you dump secretly at night on someone else's lot."

Prof. Wardle said he had read that one pound of lawn clippings is equal to three pounds of meal.

"Those clippings, if sensibly invested, would pay dividends in the form of chitterlings and rashers," he said.

"The hog is undoubtedly intelligent and I imagine he could easily be house-trained. I see no reason why, in time, we should not have some quite desirable varieties of pigs sitting on our doorsteps."

Dutch Immigrant Carving History On Ottawa Walls

Ottawa. — William Oosterhoff, a genial 57-year-old Dutch immigrant, is making his mark in Canada. And it's a mark seen by thousands of persons every year.

He's in charge of the delicate job of carving scenes from Canadian history on the stone walls of the Parliament building. He took over the task in 1950 when Cleophas Soucy died and he's been at it ever since. This summer the job is rolling along in high gear with day and night shifts in which Oosterhoff and three assistants ply hammer, chisel and pneumatic drill.

The project has been going on for 25 years while a permanent record of Canada's history and progress, of her great men and achievements, is worked into the limestone walls.

At this stage Oosterhoff and his men are working in the central rotunda at the base of the Peace Tower, where the crests of the 10 provinces and their capitals will form the central theme.

The assistants have been working on the Maritime provinces section. Oosterhoff himself is doing smaller plaques depicting events in Quebec history. He designs the figures to be carved, but does the more difficult carving, such as faces and hands, himself.

He came to Canada in 1925 and has carved such works as the Memorial Arch at Niagara Falls, the big coat-of-arms over Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto and the crest for the Ontario Hydro Commission there.

Oosterhoff's carving career began when he was eight, using potatoes. From there it was only a matter of years until he was carving in wood, stone and metal.

He attended a sculpturing school in Holland and did work as a sculptor on the buildings of Bristol University.

Professional curiosity brought him the job in Ottawa. In 1949, he visited the Parliament buildings and spent so much time peering at the carvings that guards became suspicious and asked him what he was doing. He explained that he was a stone carver by profession and the guard obtained his telephone number and passed it along to Soucy who was then in charge of the carving.

Soucy failed in his first attempt to hire Oosterhoff but was successful when a job in Toronto started a month later than Oosterhoff had expected. He has been working here ever since.

Oosterhoff hopes to be here a long time yet. He estimates it will take at least 20 years to complete the program.

Oldest Flying School To Celebrate Birthday

London. — The central flying school, oldest in the world, will celebrate its birthday next month. It is six years older than the R.A.F. and considered the best of its kind anywhere.

In August, 1912, 22 students arrived at Upavon on Salisbury Plain. They were to be trained by "experts" from the army and navy. Among them was Major (later Marshal of the R.A.F.) H. M. Trenchard.

Another first-course student was Robert Smith-Barry who invented a system of training that is the basis of instruction for the world's air forces today. This was dual-control and two-way telephone system.

First pupils were told: "No high flying, please." It took too much time for short biplane box kites and Renault-Maurice Farman longhorns to gain altitude. There were few crashes and instructors hardly dared relinquish controls. The only way they could talk to a pupil was to stall the engine.

The school moved from Salisbury Plain to Wittering and is now at Little Risington. Students come from all parts of the world—such is the calibre of training.

Former Bush Pilot Mechanical Wizard

Montreal. — Merlin William MacLeod, a stocky Scotsman who once carved an aircraft propeller out of a fence post, chalked up his latest triumph when someone shouted "quiet, please."

Mac is head man at the development shop of Trans-Canada Air Lines, where he devises badgets for improvements to aircraft. The latest device took three years of work, an engineering marvel known as a "cross-over exhaust" which is said to cut engine noise in half.

This development which is applied to the big North Star airplanes used on trans-Atlantic and cross-Canada routes is the high spot in Mac's career. He started in the early days of auto racing, developed in the rugged field of bush flying and continued in the highly-specialized era of passenger transoprt.

The first racing car he built developed amazing surges of power, but his wife was not enthusiastic. He switched to bush flying where the fence-post propeller was carved after a faulty landing.

In one crash in the Manitoba wilds both his legs were broken and the pilot was severely injured. Despite his own injuries, Mac doctored and bandaged the pilot while both awaited rescue.

Tastes In Cheese Show Big Variety

Ottawa. — How do you like your cheese?

Most people in Ottawa like theirs on the mild side. People in Vancouver favor medium-strength cheese. Most Torontonians lean towards the old, strong kind.

That's the finding of investigations by the department of agriculture into cheese consumption trends in the three cities. The department found almost all families in the three cities use some type of cheese. Less than five per cent of the housewives interviewed indicated they never have cheese on the family menu.

The investigation disclosed that processed cheese is somewhat more popular than Cheddar but most families use both types. Cheddar cheese is used in 90 per cent of Ottawa cheese-using households compared with 80 per cent in Vancouver and 70 per cent in Toronto.

Cottage cheese is used in about three-quarters of all Vancouver cheese-consuming households, much more than in the other two cities. Other kinds of cheese such as Gruyere, Oka and Danish blue are used by one-third to one-half of all families in each of the three centres.

The investigators found colored cheese was more favored than the uncolored kind. The department concluded this was because colored cheese "looks more appetizing and has eye appeal."

New-Born Babies Stay At Bedside In Special Unit

Kingston, Ont. — A "rooming-in" unit for babies now being tried at Kingston General Hospital means that a mother may have her new-born baby stay right at her bedside instead of being cared for in the hospital nursery.

The unit consists of a rectangular plastic bassinette, transparent and high enough to be level with the hospital-bed. The bassinette rests on a metal frame made mobile by a set of rubber wheels. Below the bassinette and inside the frame is a built-in metal linen supply cupboard, a soap and drug compartment and a bin for soiled linen.

All supplies needed are at hand for the mother to bathe and care for her baby. Cost of each rooming-in unit to the hospital is approximately $250.

Margaret Grant, maternity supervisor at the hospital, said there are advantages and disadvantages in the use of rooming-in units.

"Use of the unit means that the mother can watch over her baby personally," she said. "It also enables the mother to determine her own nursing intervals."

Further, "if it is her first baby, she learns to care for him right in the hospital with assistance from the nurses."

On the other hand many mothers prefer to have their babies looked after in the central nursery because they want to rest themselves as much as possible while in hospital.

"As far as the hospital is concerned there is no particular advantage in having the units except that they provide a special service for mothers who want to give their babies individual attention," said Miss Grant.

She added it is no cheaper for the patient to have her baby rooming-in with her because the hospital staff still must keep the unit supplied with linen and take time out to show the mother how to handle the child.

"With the rooming-in unit there is always the danger that father will be tempted to pick up the baby when he visits his wife," Miss Grant added. "As he comes in from the outside world he is likely to carry germs which may strike the baby."

JE ME SOUVIENS

It is with great pleasure that I extend a welcome to everyone in the Eastern Townships, and beyond it, to visit the Sixty-Seventh Annual Sherbrooke Exhibition. The Provincial Government is, of course, extremely interested in these exhibitions which mirror the industrial and agricultural development of our Province.

This year the Department of Lands and Forests have an exhibition at the fair stressing the importance of forests in the national life of Canada, and showing how fortunate is the Province of Quebec in her forest resource — the exhibit stresses, too, the need for proper care of this rich natural gift. I believe it would be both instructive and interesting for each of you to visit this exhibit.

Finally I wish to congratulate the directors of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association and all who worked with them to make this exhibition the best ever, Good Luck, and see you at the Fair.

Lt.-Col. the HON. J. S. BOURQUE,
Minister of Lands and Forests and Hydraulic Resources.
