CLC MOVES TO END STRIKE

Canada's UN Force Top Debate Subject

OTTAWA — (P) — Debate on Canada's contribution to the United Nations Emergency Force likely will break out again when Parliament reassembles Tuesday.

During the special session in late November, the opposition charged that President Nasser of Egypt was dictating the composition of the Canadian contingent.

The 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, then was waiting at Halifax to sail for Egypt to join the UN force. After Parliament was prorogued, the 950-man battalion returned to its home station at Calgary.

Canada now has about 300 administrative troops in Egypt and another 450 are en route there aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent. In addition, an RCAF transport squadron of 12 planes based in Naples is ferrying UN troops from Italy to Egypt.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said during the special session debate that Egypt should not have the right to reject individual units of countries contributing to the UN force. Nasser had raised objections to the presence of the Queen's Own in Egypt because of similarities between Canadian and British uniforms.

Defence matters, however, probably will take a back seat to the Canadian Pacific Railway strike in parliamentary debate, at least initially.

Some CCF members may object to Canadian sale of 225 Sabre jet fighter planes for more than $75,000,000 to West Germany and the training in Canada of German fighter pilots.

Twelve CCF members — CCF Leader Coldwell was not one of them — opposed the entry of a rearmament West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty organization in 1955. The issue split the CCF group.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, Progressive Conservative spokesman on military affairs, is likely to renew his demand for a thorough review of the top administration in the defence department.

He has contended that defence policy must be co-ordinated by the three services before it is presented to the minister for action. Duplication among the services should be eliminated.

"Our establishment is just as it was before the Second World War," he said in an interview several weeks ago.

The government is expected to seek parliamentary approval of a 1957-58 defence budget of much the same amount as for the current fiscal year ending next March 31 — around $1,775,000,000. There may be a slight cut of about $50,000,000, or three per cent, but the total still would represent about 40 per cent of all government expenditures.

Production Of Butter Shows Drop

QUEBEC — (P) — Butter production in Quebec Province in November amounted to 5,874,000 pounds compared with 7,590,000 pounds in the corresponding month of 1955.

At Dec. 1 butter production in the province amounted to 117,891,000 pounds—a drop of 1,952,000 pounds from the total for the corresponding 11-month period a year ago.

Production of cheddar cheese increased. In November it totalled 1,884,000 pounds compared with 978,000 pounds.

There were 21,206,000 pounds of cheddar cheese produced during the first 11 months of 1956 and 14,433,000 pounds in the corresponding period of 1955.

Butter stocks totalled 62,378,000 pounds at Dec. 1. There were 15,431,000 pounds of cheese in store.

Average price of butter was 58 cents a pound, the same as in November, 1955. The price of cheese rose to 35½ cents from 31 cents a pound.

Explosion Rips Powder Plant

EMPORIUM, Pa. — (P) — An explosion ripped through the Pennsylvania Powder Co. plant early today and set fire to a score of buildings.

First reports said three men were missing and believed dead. Eight workers were admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, 20 miles west of this northern Pennsylvania community. Emporium is a rural mountain community of some 3,400 about 85 miles southwest of Erie, Pa.

Almost Helpless — Magog firemen were helpless for about twenty minutes this morning in battling a fire that started in the home of Philip Cummings on Pine St. Complications in the water supply handicapped firefighters and the building was a total loss. The fire began at 6.30 a.m. and burned for more than four hours. (Photo by Charles Catchpaugh)

Report Council Members Held By Hungary Police

BUDAPEST — (P) — Many members of the former revolutionary councils, set up by the Hungarian rebels in October and November, were reported today to have been seized in police raids in several parts of Hungary last week.

Sources said no grounds were given for the arrests, permitted under a recent decree allowing troublesome elements to be detained without trial for up to six months.

The councils sprang up throughout Hungary in the thick of the anti-Soviet fighting. Observers said the arrests probably were a precautionary move by the government to remove opposition on the eve of the publication of its long-awaited first policy statement.

Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed government in taking the wraps off its long-promised "new program," combined get-tough Stalinism with an appeal to the West for financial aid.

The statement probably was drafted last week while the visiting Soviet Communist party leader, Nikita Khrushchev, looked on. The Hungarians, led to expect a "surprisingly mild" declaration, were told among other things:

"There is a dictatorship of the proletariat in Hungary . . . the counter-revolutionaries and persons who attack the legal order and the basic principles of the people's democracy have no freedom even if they mask their counter-revolutionary efforts by democratic slogans. The law will always punish them severely. . . ."

The statement said "the government is planning talks with various public figures and non-partisan experts aimed at their participation in leading state affairs with the government." This indicated some sort of coalition government but did not mention any non-Communist parties.

The government pledged a continuation of the socialization of agriculture and asserted that "steps will be taken with all the severity . . . against people who damage agricultural installations."

The statement blasted Stalinist leaders Matyas Rakosi and Erno Gero as well as Imre Nagy, who succeeded them and was ousted as premier by Kadar and his supporters with Russian help.

The government asserted that "the treason of the Imre Nagy government had paved the way for a counter-revolution." This was the most serious charge the Kadar regime has made against Nagy, last reported as going into exile in Romania after quitting asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

The Kadar regime promised to protect the "freedom of each scientist, author and artist without consideration of his political views with the exception of those who are enemies of freedom and of socialism." It said only those workers, peasants and intellectuals who pledge loyalty to the Communist regime will have the right to freedom.

The government also proclaimed that it "respects the freedom of belief of all citizens and considers the standpoint of religious questions a private matter . . . It secures full freedom to the churches and confessions . . . It recognizes agreements concluded between state and church . . . Religious classes are guaranteed in the schools . . ."

"However, 'the government expects loyalty from the heads of the confessions . . . It does not tolerate that any of the confessions places itself at the disposal of reaction . . ."

The statement said the recent revolt against communism and Soviet rule wrought damage of nearly $1,000,000,000 and said: "The Western capitalists stress that Hungary cannot be cured without Western credits . . . We accept, of course, any credit, even from capitalist countries, if no political conditions are attached."

Labor Congress Officials Meeting Firemen's Union

By JOHN LeBLANC

Ottawa — (P) — Heads of the Canadian Labor Congress and the striking CPR firemen's union began a conference today in an effort to work out a solution to the dispute that has tied up the trans-continental railway since last Wednesday.

The meeting came shortly before the cabinet was to meet to discuss the strike, a day in advance of the opening of Parliament at which the government might bring in legislation to end the strike.

The leadership of the 1,000,000-member congress took a hand in the strike situation during the weekend and was reported to have put forward proposals for a settlement. The union—the Brotherhood of Locomotive, Firemen and Enginemen—joined the CLC last fall after many years as an independent union.

Main participants in today's conference were CLC president Claude Jodoin and W. E. Gamble of Montreal, Canadian head of the striking union.

Before the meeting, Mr. Gamble was asked by a reporter whether a settlement of the strike might be worked out this morning.

"I doubt it," he replied.

President Jodoin had no comment.

Others taking part in the meeting were CLC secretary-treasurer Donald MacDonald, John Graham of Montreal, the brotherhood's general chairman for the CPR and its chief bargainer with that company; and A. S. Matthews of Parry Sound, Ont., the union's general chairman for the central region of the CPR. Both Mr. Graham and Mr. Matthews are members of the main negotiating committee of the brotherhood.

Arthur Garmaise of Montreal, legal counsel for the brotherhood, also attended. Mr. Gamble came to Ottawa during the weekend from his Montreal headquarters to confer with CLC leaders. The latter, it was reported, were in touch with government officials as liaison between the government and the striking union.

Officials were guarded in their comments and gave no firm indication of the progress of the negotiations.

Until Sunday night, sources said the congress had not been in direct touch with the CPR.

N. R. Crump, president of the strike-bound railway, was still in Montreal Sunday night and spokesmen said he had not been asked to come to Ottawa.

Mr. Gamble, whose union called out its 3,000 CPR firemen last Wednesday, said the 8,000-member brotherhood still stands by its refusal to accept the railway's proposal to eliminate the position of firemen on freight and yard diesel locomotives. That is the main point at issue in the strike which has tied up all CPR rail operations.

Mr. Gamble said Sunday night he has no plans to confer with government officials in advance of the scheduled cabinet meeting.

"We have not been asked in," he said. "We are waiting for word from the congress."

Labor Minister Gregg gave a non-committal "no comment" when asked whether the government is planning any strike-ending action.

He said no plans had been made for a meeting between the government and Mr. Gamble.

First Ships Moving From Blocked Canal

PORT SAID, Egypt — (P) — Thirteen ships of seven nations finally were on their way out of the Suez Canal today — more than two months after the British-French attack on Egypt and Egyptian counter-measures bottled them up in the waterway.

Wrecks still obstructing the canal made their passage north to Port Said a tricky navigating problem. Col. Mahmoud Younes, managing director of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority, estimated it might take until Thursday to get all 13 out of the canal.

The Egyptians themselves undertook the job of moving the trapped freighters and tankers, spurning offers from the UN salvage fleet clearing the ships and bridges which Egypt sank in the canal after British and French warplanes began their bombardment Oct. 31.

Because the south portion of the canal is still blocked, the ships must go out through the north. United Nations salvage experts estimate they will have a channel open to 10,000-ton ships the entire length of the 103-mile waterway by early March.

The trip north for the ships involved being tugged around until they were headed that way, the first time vessels have ever changed direction in the canal.

Meanwhile, Cairo Radio quoted Egyptian President Nasser as saying he will not allow British and French ships to pass through the Suez Canal as long as Israel does not withdraw from the Gaza Strip.

He also said, according to the radio, that all ships passing through the canal in future will have to pay transit dues directly to the nationalized Egyptian canal authority.

$80,000 Was Price On Actress

ENCINO, Calif. — (P) — Actress Marie McDonald says two swartzy men who kidnapped her set $80,000 as the price for her return.

The glamorous blonde actress, wearing a white nightgown, burst into tears twice as she told a press conference in her bedroom Sunday that the men said they hoped to ransom her for $20,000 each from four persons. They are:

Actor Michael Wilding, estranged husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, and Miss McDonald's escort in recent weeks.

Shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, twice married and twice divorced from Miss McDonald.

Mrs. Marie Tuboni, her mother.

Harold Plant, Miss McDonald's business manager.

The two men called Karl and her mother, she said, and dialed the telephone so she could talk to Wilding and Plant. Ransom wasn't mentioned in any of the calls.

"They wanted to build up worry with each call so that they would pay the ransom," Miss McDonald told reporters in the same bedroom from which she said she was abducted.

After she disappeared Thursday night, male callers phoned Karl and Mrs. Tuboni and Miss McDonald phoned Wilding, Plant and movie columnist Harrison Carroll.

She said the men forced her to leave with them by threatening her sleeping children with a gun. She said she was taken to a house in the Los Angeles area where she was held most of Friday. The men gave her whisky and pills, she said.

Jews Tell Of Terror In Egypt

NAPLES (P) — A shipload of Jewish men, women and children has arrived here from Egypt, telling a story of terrorism, imprisonment, expulsion, and the forfeiture of their property.

An officer on the Egyptian passenger ship Mizr, which brought the 957 Jews from Alexandria, denied the account. He said the Jews were well treated and left of their own accord.

Many of the weekend arrivals said they expect the rest of Egypt's 40,000 Jews to leave soon. The Egyptian said those he brought out were mostly stateless and that two-thirds of his country's Jews, who have Egyptian citizenship, will choose to stay in that country.

A once-wealthy Cairo Jewish businessman gave this reason for the exodus:

"It has become a panic. It is a planned campaign of terror."

Another gave this account: "We were expelled. The police came at night to our homes and threatened us. We were taken into custody, and our shops and factories were closed."

The Jews agreed that the Mizr's crew threw a gay New Year's party for them, giving them such presents as cigarettes, soap, whisky, and toys for the children. But about 100 said they spent the day before leaving Alexandria in prisons or concentration camps.

U.S. Trade Wins Praise From Poland

WARSAW — (P) — Poland's Communist party organ says the U.S. decision to sell this country surplus farm products at world prices "means without doubt that some progress has been made toward the co-operation of our countries."

The previous U.S. policy required Communist countries to pay the higher prices prevailing in the United States.

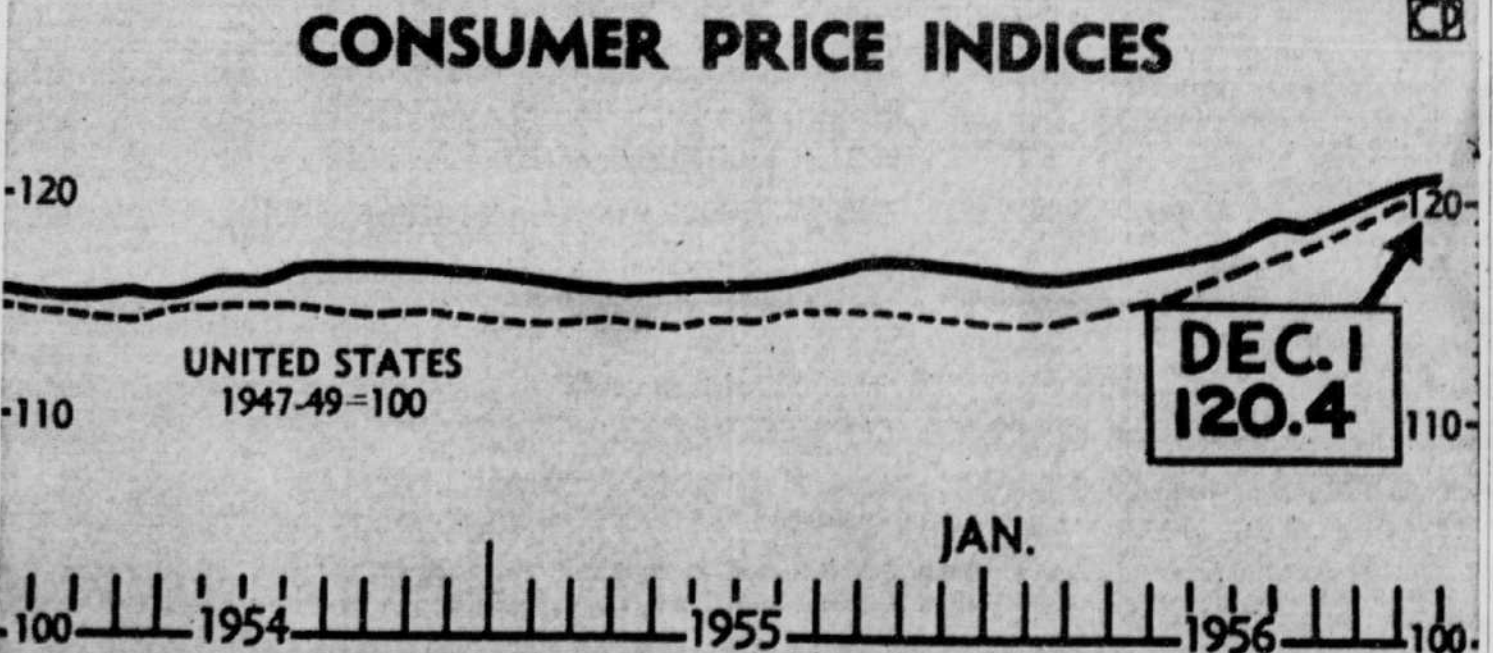

Trybuna Ludu, organ of the ruling United Workers (Communist) party, hailed the change although noting that no decision has been made on possible U.S. credits to Poland "to enable her to buy these products."

Poland needs wheat despite a recent Soviet credit of 1,400,000 tons of grain.

Third Of Quints Dies In India

MADRAS, India. — (P) — The third of India's quintuplets has died. Authorities at Pondichery Hospital said the other two-week-old girls are "getting on well."

The mother is a 29-year-old Indian servant woman whose husband is unemployed and who already has three older daughters to support. When told that a third of the babies had died, she murmured, "God has lightened my burden."

Index At Peak — The Canadian consumer-price index increased fractionally in November to a record 120.4. The bureau of statistics reports that despite a substantial decrease in the price of foods four other sections, shelter, household operation, clothing and commodities and services showed increases. The index is based on 1949 prices equaling 100. The dotted line represents the United States index which reached 117.8 in December. In the U.S. index 1947-49 prices equal 100. (CP)

Special Authority Not Needed For Expropriation Of Airport

Sherbrooke's municipal authorities do not need special consent of the provincial authorities to expropriate land outside the city limits for the proposed airport, the Sherbrooke delegation which visited Quebec last Friday in connection with proposed amendments to the city charter was informed.

Although no such specific authority is contained in the Sherbrooke charter, the Cities and Towns' Act gives blanket approval for all such expropriations to incorporated municipalities.

The city council had decided to seek such authority after receiving information from the Federal Department of Transport that it was prepared to establish and equip a modern airport in the Sherbrooke area provided the city purchased the land required.

With this information, provided City Treasurer Pierre Bachand and City Attorney Albert Rivard during their visit to Quebec, there is a possibility that the city may withdraw its proposed private bill to be submitted to the Legislature.

The authority to expropriate the airport property was the principal item contained in the bill.

CHINESE FIND

Chinese historians give 2634 B.C. as the date of the discovery of the compass.

the other clauses being of a minor nature that could be deferred without serious inconvenience.

However, the whole matter is expected to be reviewed at a meeting of the City Council to be held this evening.

Inconvenience Continues Worst Result Of Strike

Canadians passed their first week-end with a major portion of their transportation facilities curtailed by a strike of Canadian Pacific system firemen and reports are they did not suffer too much—in the Eastern Townships area anyway.

At the worst they experienced some inconvenience, as the alternative services provided by the Canadian National Railways and the highway transportation system did not offer the same connections as may have been previously provided by the Canadian Pacific and Quebec Central railways, but no community was cut off from passenger services.

Further Drop In Customs, Excise Receipts Noted

A sharp drop in customs receipts during Dec. 1956 as compared with a year ago cut the total collections at the local customs and excise division of the Department of National Revenue by $23,422.44, according to a statement issued by L. W. Greenland, collector in charge.

Total collections for the past month were $257,698.48 with the receipts for Dec. 1955 amounting to $281,120.92.

Customs import duties dropped from $84,837.01 to $61,252.67, a decline of $23,584.34, while excise tax collections stood virtually unchanged at $196,164 last month and compared with $196,199.76 in the previous December.

Excise duties brought in $173.26, with no collections from this source being recorded in Dec. 1955. Sundry collections advanced from $84.15 to $108.55.

Despite the drop in December receipts, the cumulative collections for the first nine months of the 1956-57 fiscal year were $147,765.32 ahead of the previous period, the receipts being $2,678,682.46 in 1956 and $2,530,914.14 in 1955.

The federal authorities have not revealed the proposed location of the airport, but it is believed the site chosen is either near Rock Forest or in Stoke Township.

Generally the industrial economy of the district has not been seriously affected by the walk-out, now in its sixth day, but with the resumption of normal plant activity following the Christmas and New Year holiday disruptions, many firms predict that difficulties may grow if the strike continues through the present week.

Both C.N.R. and trucking company officials report that they have not been seriously overburdened with freight as the result of the C.P.R.-Q.C.R. suspension, many firms withholding normal shipments in the hope of an early settlement of the strike. If, however, the strike continues for many more days, they foresee a sharp upturn in demands upon their equipment.

Firms now stock-piling their production or running upon reserves of raw materials may be forced to turn to other than normal means for clearing out their jammed warehouses or filling their supply bins.

The heavy snowfall feared on Friday, failed to materialize, with the result that highway carriers were able to maintain their accelerated schedules.

The failure of the anticipated blizzard to put in an appearance also brought relief to officials of the strike-bound roads who feared that heavy snow might block their lines to the point that it might be impossible to resume service for several days after the strike is ended.

Cars Collide On Rock Island Hill

ROCK ISLAND—Gilles Parent, a Stanstead plumber, operating his private car, and a Gagnier Transport truck, driven by Charles Delisle, of Rock Island, collided on Foundry Hill on Saturday morning.

Both vehicles suffered considerable damage, but neither driver was injured. Provincial Police Constable Daigle, of Coaticook, investigated the accident.

Traffic was tied up for some time at the scene of the collision, a point where accidents occur fairly frequently.

North Ward Fire — Sherbrooke firemen from stations Nos. 1 and 5 managed to save the house of J. R. Latulippe, at 3335 King St. West, yesterday afternoon despite high winds which blew flames from an adjoining foodstuff warehouse, owned by Mr. Latulippe, that was completely destroyed. In the top picture, the warehouse is seen just before it collapsed, while below firemen roll out their lines to spray Mr. Latulippe's home.

Costly Week-End

Two Buildings Destroyed In Sherbrooke, Magog Fires

Woman Injured In Fall From Culvert

Miss Beulah Page, 63, of RR3, Sherbrooke is in the Sherbrooke Hospital suffering from a broken bone in her heel suffered when she fell from a culvert near her home yesterday.

Her condition is reported as good and she is expected to be released in a few days.

Fire destroyed two buildings in this area over the weekend, one in Magog, the other in Sherbrooke.

This morning, Magog firemen, under the direction of Chief Telephone Lavoie, battled a fire that completely destroyed a two-storey frame house on Pine St., for over four hours.

The fire started around 6:30 this morning but firefighters were unable to use water against the blaze for about the first 20 minutes as the result of complications which developed in the water supply.

Philip Cummings, owner of the house, was the only occupant of the building at the time the fire started. An estimate of the loss is not known.

Yesterday afternoon, a two-alarm fire completely levelled the warehouse of J. R. Latulippe, of 3335 King St. West, and at one time threatened Mr. Latulippe's home adjoining the warehouse.

The blaze is believed to have started from a short circuit and quickly spread through the two-storey wooden warehouse, destroying feed, meat and other foodstuffs.

Firemen from station No. 1 arrived on the scene around 2:40 and five minutes later help was requested from station No. 5.

By 6 o'clock, firemen, under the direction of Director Percy Donahue, Capt. Eugene Fortier, Lt. Art L'Heureux and Lt. Gerard Donahue, brought the fire under control using a booster and two pumps.

Maj. Macintosh Brome Resident Saw Service In Two World Wars

BROME — Major W. V. Macintosh, of this place formerly, of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, passed away at the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital in Sweetsburg on Sunday morning, following a brief illness. He was 64 years of age.

Slim And Trim Classes Operated By YWCA

With an eye towards slimming those hips and building up healthy young bodies, the Y.W.C.A. has lined up a program of physical education for both young children and their mothers.

This program, starting with the next term which opens on Jan. 14 will run for 14 weeks. It includes all types of dancing, gymnastics, basketball, bowling, swimming and even golf lessons. The golf lessons will be supervised by a professional.

Children's classes for groups in grades one to seven will include gymnastics, swimming and special dancing classes which will comprise national, tap, ballet and, for the teenagers, ballroom dancing.

A nursing school class will be held twice a week on Tuesday and Friday for children of the three to five age group. The youngsters will be able to do coloring and will have plasticine to work with. Coupled with that, there will be singing and refreshments.

On Monday evenings there is a special opportunity for business girls to keep fit with dancing and swimming. There also will be the chance to go swimming three evenings a week.

Tuesday afternoons there is a streamlining 'Slim'n Trim' course for married ladies which will be followed by a swim. An important feature of this course is that the ladies may bring their children with them and have them cared for while they shed some of those extra pounds. Furthermore, the mothers will have an opportunity to take the kiddies into the pool with them after their exercises.

Next March parents will have an opportunity of seeing the results of their youngsters' progress when the "Y" will present a swimming meet and water ballet. The following month, April there is to be a gym and dancing demonstration.

It is expected that the bowling alley will be well patronized and a basketball league is soon to commence operation. The golf lessons, which proved so popular before, will be open to men, women and children of all ages.

Grip Is Weakening

President Nasser of Egypt may still have a grip on Arab imaginations in the Middle East, but accounts from the area indicate his status is slipping with those who could make or break him at home.

It isn't exactly clear where the blame should fall for Egypt's military defeat at Israel's hands. But evidently Egyptian army leaders are pinning it on Nasser.

And there appears, too, to be disillusionment over his handling of the economic crisis which has grown in Egypt ever since he seized the Suez Canal last July.

The West has squeezed Nasser in retaliation for that seizure. Egypt's holdings of foreign exchange, whose size governs the country's ability to buy from others, are down 65 per cent just since Israel attacked. Sales of cotton, the country's chief crop, have fallen off.

The oil shortage stemming from the blockade of Suez and the interruption of pipe line flow has ironically affected Egypt itself, for North Africa like Western Europe relies heavily on Middle Eastern sources.

Both because of the war peril and the disgust of Westerners for Egyptian policy, that country's tourist trade has collapsed.

None of these difficulties has Nasser been able to meet. If this continues to be the case, the moment may come when Egyptian military officers in combination with businessmen may arrange his removal from the government.

The time hasn't yet come, and one reason seems to be that a potentially strong successor hasn't loomed on the horizon. If and when a rival does develop, it will be interesting to see whether Nasser's emotional hold on the average Arab will permit him to make a fight of it.

Thus, at this stage, the news from inside Egypt would seem to be brighter than for many months. But it is not yet spectacular.

Letters - To - The - Editor

The "anonymous" letter is familiar to every newspaper editor in the country and the policy with regard to it is pretty well standard.

Most or all editors won't have much to do with an anonymous letter. Some, in fact, first glance to the bottom of a letter and if it fails to bear a signature, throw it away immediately without reading it.

This theory, of course, is based on the assumption that if the letter's author hadn't the courage to sign his name, his opinions are of little or no value.

At the same time, most newspapers also have adopted the policy of protecting the identity of a letter-writer, within certain limitations. Principal limitation is that if an individual, through a newspaper, wishes to attack other people or institutions, he should be prepared to put his name to the attack.

Here at The Record, there has been an upsurge in the number of unsigned letters-to-the-editor. Out of sheer curiosity, all of them are read, but for those who might wonder why they have not appeared in print, here is a general outline of Record policy on letters:

1. Any signed letter, of reasonable length, that adheres to accepted standards of decency and which contains no libellous material, will be published on the Editorial Page.

2. At the discretion of the editor, signed letters will be published with a pseudonym.

3. Where it becomes obvious that a writer is continually using the Letters-to-the-editor columns to promote a cause, these letters will not be published.

4. NO UNSIGNED LETTERS WILL BE CONSIDERED FOR PUBLICATION.

CLASS STRIFE UNWELCOME HERE

(Toronto Telegram)

A report that certain persons had been able to purchase priority in transfer from an Austrian refugee camp was tracked down by officials, while a big airplane waited, and found to be without basis. Hungarian passengers had spread the rumor, and the incident is mentioned by Allan Kent, Telegram reporter in Austria, in calling attention to the fact that this kind of thing is likely to recur.

It is partly an outcome of the conditions under which the Hungarian refugees find themselves. They have left their homeland with few possessions or none, and have no clear picture of what is ahead. Hungarians are not noted for patience, and most of the ex-patriates are young. Graft and suspicion are part of normal life to some Central Europeans, officials point out, and the Hungarians have been under Communist rule for a decade.

As to the refugee camps in Austria, some of the occupants evidently believe a speed-up of transfer therefrom would be worth a bribe attempt by anyone having the wherewithal. The frustration of waiting has already given rise to some minor violence.

In all the circumstances, jealousies and quarrels may be inevitable. It should be made plain that we do not want them imported into this country; Canada has enough problems now.

It is not likely to be easy going here for most of the new arrivals, until they become re-established. Governments, organizations and Canadians individually will give every help, open every opportunity, to bring that about. It is recognized that the refugees have not come as immigrants, in the normal way, but to a haven of refuge from fighting and turmoil in Hungary. Some may return in due course, if conditions improve. They are under no pressure to become Canadian citizens. If they wish to do so they will receive the fullest help and cooperation; but suspicion, jealousy, class and racial strife we do not want.

MASTERING THE PERIL OF SPAGHETTI

(Cleveland Press)

There are dubs in all sports. Some people never seem to learn how to handle a knife and fork properly. There are also many novices who have never mastered the art of rolling spaghetti around the tines of a fork.

The right way to eat spaghetti, of course, is to spear a forkful, roll it against the hollow of a tablespoon held above the plate and pop the food into the mouth before it can unwind.

There is many a slip between the cup and the lip, alas. A beginner often loses control of the slippery strings and spatters himself with the sauce. Worse still, a few awkward individuals, lacking also in courage, chop their spaghetti, a sad sight.

It is good news to learn that a New York restaurant man has just patented a spaghetti bowl which eliminates entirely any peril in connection with spaghetti eating.

The bowl has a channel leading from the bottom to an overhanging edge. Near the edge is a depression shaped like the inside of a tablespoon. The diner spears a forkful of spaghetti, slides the fork up the groove leading to the depression. He twirls it a few times in the spoon-like depression and uses the overhanging lip to cut off any dangling ends. It is all as simple as that.

It looks as if the end of chopping and spattering is in sight.

"HOLIDAY FOR TRUTH"

(Halifax Chronicle Herald)

Stanley Baldwin said it between the two great conflicts: "With war and the preparation for war go the stratagems of diplomacy, the dropping of the ordinary code of morals, a holiday for truth, and an aftermath of cynicism. In the arena of international rivalry and conflict, men have placed patriotism above truthfulness as the indispensable virtue of statesmen." It may explain many of the charges and counter-charges with which the air is filled today.

HAVE THE KIDS CHANGED SO MUCH?

(Montreal Star)

Advertising research men in the United States have come up with the finding that 38 per cent of American family vacations are determined by the wishes of the teen-age members of the family group. The teen-agers also have a weighty voice in deciding what kind of car, what kind of TV set, what kind of parlor furniture is bought. The result is that advertising is more and more heavily directed toward them, and a man as sensible as Eric Sevareid, the CBS commentator, is behaving almost as if the end of the world had come. "Parents of the world unite," he writes, "you have nothing to lose but your shirts."

Come on now, Mr. Sevareid, and have a heart. You leave the impression that you are getting on in years. It may be that there are today fewer of the heavy-bearded paterfamilias like Mr. Barrett of Wimpole Street, but who wants them back? If you think back to your long-past youthful years, you will realize that things are not so very different from what they were. Superficially — Yes. Fundamentally — No. The mores of a generation ago dictated a more subtle approach by the teen-agers, but they got there just the same.

It is not that the kids have changed. It is only that the advertising men have wised up.

The Real Suez Salvage Problem

Hazards Of New Fathers!

(From the Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

The arrival of two babies the other day is not likely to be forgotten soon by their fathers. At Olympia, in the State of Washington, Mr. John Henry Arends' experiences cost him two broken teeth and he required eight stitches to repair the damage to his face.

After a night-long ordeal of waiting, Mr. Arends dashed upstairs in the hospital to kiss his wife. But he passed out cold from a whiff of ether and fell on his face on the concrete floor.

The case of 23-year-old Edward Garaway, a Port Arthur diamond driller, was a little more complicated.

He had started to cross a portion of Lake Superior to work in the evening when a broken outboard motor shear-pin left him drifting helplessly on the lake.

He huddled in his boat all night, through the next day until early the following morning when rough weather returned his craft and forced him to swim, fully clad. The boat passed over him and in his struggle to get clear his feet touched bottom. He finally reached shore near some lights, which went out before he made it, he fell asleep in a barn.

In the morning he asked at a fireman's home for directions to Jarvis Point. "Well, I'm not sure, but I think it is up in Canada", was the reply. Garaway had drifted some 50 miles along the coast. After a hot meal he was driven to the border and, finally, home.

There he found an eight-pound nine-ounce son, born during his absence, awaiting him.

"UNLIKE THE OTHERS"

(Le Droit, Ottawa)

The impression remains that in spite of the bilingual character of the convention, the differences between the Quebec Conservatives and their team-mates from the rest of Canada derives from a different interpretation of Confederation. Anglo-Canadians still consider it an institution which accords an exceptional position to Quebec, whereas Quebecers would wish to have recognized the existence of two Canadian cultures, united under a single authority. Behind the declaration of principles contained in the new program and in the very clauses of the program one notices perhaps a desire to treat Quebec as "another province." But nothing leads one to think there was any desire to entertain the idea that Quebec really represents a "province unlike the others," that is to say French Canada.

WHAT'S FARMER'S WIFE WORTH?

(Minneapolis Tribune)

A co-operative farm wife may add as much as $80,000 to her husband's lifetime earnings, a farm bureau group was told in Minneapolis the other day. She doesn't necessarily have to help with the milking to make this contribution, a farm management specialist said. She can do her bit by keeping books, studying farm operations and joining in decisions.

Sure, the dollars Mom adds to the farm's income are important. But far more valuable is the warmth she puts into the whole operation. Her smile, her caress, her splendid meals — these are her best contribution. Without them there's no joy in farming.

EDEN IS NO QUITTER

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

Eden will carry on. Eden is no quitter. As time passes the adamancy of the Egyptians in refusing to agree to the clearing of the canal, their sniping at retreating troops, their carnival irresponsibility at the prospect of taking back the waterway and the demonstrated impotency of the U.N. emergency force all enhance Eden's continued control of the government and tend to vindicate his stand.

SLOGANS A FAILURE

(London Free Press)

How much more horrible will our road toll have to become before governments recognize its seriousness? It must be apparent to everyone that safety-driving campaigns and catchy slogans are a miserable failure. Some day the driving of an automobile will be made a privilege, not a right. If this awful slaughter is ever to be checked, careless drivers will have to be penalized for what they are — potential murderers.

WE MUST PAY

(Toronto Star)

Traffic jams are worse today than even in 1946 there were 9.7 vehicles per mile on Ontario's roads. Today the figure is 22.4 per mile.

Building new roads, widening existing ones and eliminating bottlenecks seem to be the only solution to the problem. Unless we are prepared to go back to horses and bicycles, we must continue to pay, not only for our cars, but for roads to drive them on.

EARLY BID GETS RESULTS

Today's hand, at old timer, decided the Eastern Mixed Team Championship of 1933. West was Ted Lightner, still one of our greatest players. East was the late Mrs. S. W. Peck of New York.

In response to Mrs. Peck's diamond bid, Lightner opened the suit, and the defense was able to take one diamond, one heart and two spade tricks, thereby setting the contract one trick.

At the other table, Mrs. Geraldine Nelson of Boston played four hearts also, but without the disadvantage of a diamond bid by East. The jack of clubs was opened, and Mrs. Nelson had time to knock out the ace of trumps. The diamond was then played, but too late. Mrs. Nelson won with the ace, drew the rest of the trumps, and discarded her losing diamonds on clubs.

Mrs. Peck's two-diamond bid is entirely correct by modern standards. The principle is that when your partner's opening bid is doubled for takeout, and you have a weak hand, bid if you have anything worth showing. Mrs. Peck thought her diamonds were worth showing, and they certainly were.

You will find that bids of this nature are satisfactory only if your partner will understand. If your partner is going to consider them as strong bids, find another partner before you start using them.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Jonas E. Salk today called on medical science to seek a vaccine guarding against all viruses which attack the nerves.

He listed two big reasons:

1. Perhaps many diseases which hit adults stem from childhood virus attacks which weakened nerves but gave no sign at the time. These ailments might include back pain, ulcers or high blood pressure.
2. Certain viruses might "sleep" in the nervous system for years until some stress made them active and caused trouble.

Salk, Pittsburgh scientist who created the Salk polio vaccine, made his proposal in a talk prepared for the opening of a three-day conference conducted by the New York Academy of Science.

Many kinds of viruses besides polio can invade the central nervous system, Salk said.

Chou's Tour Extended To Satellites

HONG KONG (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China left Peiping for Moscow today, and Peiping Radio announced he will visit Hungary as well as Poland.

Observers in Hong Kong consider that Chou's extension of his tour does not mean any possible change in Peiping's support of the Hungarian regime of pro-Russian Premier János Kadar.

Instead, these sources believe the visit to Budapest is aimed at gathering more ammunition to support the current Red Chinese line that Soviet military intervention was necessary to keep Hungary from tumbling out of the Communist orbit.

The Chinese radio said Chou, who also is foreign minister, was accompanied by Vice-Premier Marshal Ho Lung and Vice-Foreign Minister Wang Chieh-Siang. After his visits to Moscow, Warsaw and Budapest, Chou will complete his interrupted Asian tour with visit to Nepal and Afghanistan.

Preference For Housekeeping Led To One Of Top Executive Positions

One of the key executive posts in Canada was today awarded to a woman who as a child preferred doll houses to dolls. Marcelle Gohier was named as executive housekeeper of the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, now under construction in Montreal.

A hotel executive since she was 22, Miss Gohier will be responsible for the general cleanliness of the largest hotel in the British Commonwealth. She will head a housekeeping staff of 350.

Tidiness has been her obsession since childhood. When her parents saw that their little daughter was disinterested in dolls, they gave her a miniature broom and dustpan. With these she immediately began to "help" with the housework. Subsequent gifts of a small stove and a doll's house increased her enthusiasm for housekeeping and after studying at Convent de St. Laurent she enrolled at Ecole des Sciences Menagieres, Montreal (the School of Housekeeping Sciences).

Armed five years later with the school's diploma, Miss Gohier became housekeeper at the 66-room Hotel St. Louis, Three Rivers. Following six years' service she joined the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Montreal, as first assistant housekeeper and was promoted after seven months to the post of executive housekeeper. In this 250-room stylish hostelry she stayed 16 years, moving a year ago to the British Colonial Hotel, Nassau, Bahamas.

She is a member of l'Association des Techniciennes Laiques en Sciences Menagieres, and has lectured on hotel housekeeping. Later this month, Miss Gohier begins her training in Hilton methods and procedures at Hotel Statler, Boston, and at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York City. Meanwhile she is studying interior decorating at the Canadian School of Commercial Art.

Her housekeeping will include not only the Queen Elizabeth's 1215 bedrooms and suites, but lobbies, dining-rooms and all public rooms. These operations she is determined to have running smoothly by the target date of the hotel's opening, February 15, 1938.

Beauty Tips

Tip when you're having a permanent: have your hair cut after the permanent, rather than before. This gets rid of frizzly ends and gives you a nice, soft, natural curl. You won't have to go through that awful, crimping feeling that most women experience the first week or two after a new permanent.

"La Belle" Snack

Food historians tell us the first French toast was made in France where it is still known as "pain perdu." This literally translated means "lost bread." The authentic French toast is more popular as a dessert — however the variation of French toast which follows puts yummy goodness into supper and luncheon main courses. The ingredients for these interesting and different French Toast sandwiches can be assembled ahead of time so that they can be prepared in minutes flat by the after-ski crowd. They're especially delicious when served piping hot with a little heated Chili Sauce.

CHEESE AND BACON FRENCH TOAST SANDWICHES

Yield — 6 servings 4 slices bacon, 1 package (approx. 8 ounces) white cream cheese, 1/2 teaspoon grated onion, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or other thick dressing, 12 slices white bread, Soft butter or margarine, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk.

Cut bacon into pieces and fry until crisp; drain on absorbent paper. Soften cream cheese in a small bowl; blend in onion, mustard, parsley, mayonnaise or other thick dressing and crisp bacon chips.

Cut bread slices 1/2-inch thick; remove crusts if desired. Spread one side of each slice of bread with soft butter or margarine. Spread half the slices thickly with cheese mixture and top with remaining bread slices. Cut each sandwich in half, diagonally.

Beat eggs slightly in a broad shallow dish; mix in salt, pepper and milk. Dip sandwiches in egg mixture, first on one side, then on the other. Fry in a little heated butter or margarine until golden on one side, then turn and brown other side. Serve piping hot with a little heated chili sauce.

L.O.B.A. Members Installed

Right Worshipful Sister Mabel Richards acted as Director of Ceremonies and Sister Annie Smith as Chaplain.

At the close of the meeting, gifts were exchanged and were also presented to sick and shut-in members. Children, of the members received presents from Santa. To end an enjoyable party, refreshments were served.

Dieting is not only a matter of shedding pounds, it's a matter of reforming food habits. If you go back to your same old way of eating, you'll pile up poundage again. ★ RUTH MILLETT ★ Marriage Won't Change His Ways Completely Wives are always deciding that if a husband loved them, he wouldn't do this or he would do that.

But love doesn't change a person's character or personality to such an extent that he change all his habits and ways of thinking.

A lazy, young man doesn't become an ambitious, hard worker just because he takes a wife. He may talk big when he is trying to win a girl but after marriage he'll settle down into being himself.

A self-centered, selfish man doesn't change completely into a thoughtful, considerate husband just because he loves the woman he married. If he has always thought first of himself, the habit isn't likely to change.

A man who can't resist a pretty face won't suddenly become blind to other women's attractions simply because he has a pretty wife at home. He may be true to her for the rest of his life but he isn't going to wear blinders to keep from taking a second look at a pretty girl.

HE WON'T CHANGE FOR LOVE A quick-tempered, irritable man isn't going to suddenly turn into a calm, deliberate person simply because life would run smoother for his wife if he could learn to take things as they come. However much he loves her, he isn't likely to change his disposition to make her happy.

That is why any girl who is thinking of marrying ought to be sure she wants to take him "as is" and not hope for the miracle of love to change him.

Men will do a lot of things for love but not often will they change themselves. Any wife who thinks, "If he loved me he wouldn't do such and such" is forgetting that fact.

Wooden Ware Takes On New Beauty

Cooks pamper their wooden salad bowls just as if they were the pores of the wood open to absorb the flavor and aroma of food and water will remove the fine finish — and the garlic flavor! — has enforced a gentle treatment accorded nothing else in the kitchen.

But the chemical industry has now developed finishes for wooden ware which not only bring out the beauty of the wood but also serve as protection against water, detergent, food acids and anything else a bowl might encounter. Fine salad accessories are now on the market with labels which recommend "wash just as you would fine china."

Any chef will tell you that the bowl into which a salad is mixed is as important as the actual ingredients. That is why wooden ware, with its porous texture, is the choice of the best cooks in homes as well as hotels.

Some of the most elegant wooden bowls are made in one piece from a big block of yellow birch, provides a number of salad bowls, all graded in size. A powerful circular saw first scoops out a bowl as large as the log allows. From this smaller bowl are taken until the final one is about five inches in diameter. Besides these bowls made from a single block of wood there are also those shaped from laminated hardwoods.

The finish given these bowls is a very important part of the manufacturing process. Careful sanding removes all roughness and a special pale varnish or a shellac wash gives it a lasting sheen. When the varnish has dried, the bowl is again sanded, this time by hand, to open the wood grain.

Actually there are two kinds of finish for wooden ware — high gloss or buffed. Because

Meteors Wallop Flyers 10-4 To Move Back Into First Place Tie

Albert Moore Paces Assault With Five Goals; Paper Makers Upset By Maroons 6-3; Frankie Reid Gets Two

The Meteors of Asbestos, paced by Albert Moore with five goals, sustained their drive for first place honors in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League here yesterday afternoon when they romped to a 10-4 victory over the Brompton-East Angus Flyers before 904 fans.

The Meteors had just too much all around power for the short-handed Flyers, who were without Jacques Emond, Yves Therrien and Rene Leblanc. Emond's loss was felt the worse as he left a big hole at the blueline and the other three defenders were obliged to work overtime to make up his absence.

Albert Moore, the Meteors' shifty winger, had a field day as he potted his five goals and at the same time he took part in three others. Drouin and Vachon, other part of the trio, each picked up two goals apiece while Marcel Forgues accounted for the other. For the Flyers their first line of Frankie Reid-Jean-Luc Reid-Ray St. Cyr accounted for all Brompton's marks with the veteran Frankie Reid picking up two.

The game was close in the first frame but in the remaining frames the Flyers just couldn't match the classy performance of the Meteors. They outskated, outpassed and outplayed the Flyers in all departments. The Brompton defense was weak in covering and made some poor passing which accounted for several goals.

The Flyers held the upper hand in the opening frame and outshot their rivals as they gave Claude Bergeron his busiest time of the afternoon. Frankie Reid was in close several times but he couldn't outguess the Asbestos rangy netminder.

In the middle session the Meteors began to hit their stride and before the Flyers could get settled down Moore had registered his second goal. He was uncovered in front when he batted the disc home. Olivier had no chance on the save.

Frankie Reid got one back when he snared a loose puck after his brother had shot to lift it over Bergeron and made the score read 2-1. From then on it was just too bad the Meteors rammed home five tallies before the end of the period for a 7-1 lead.

In the final frame the Flyers tried their best to commence a rally but they were running into trouble getting organized. Moore registered his fifth tally of the afternoon when he was left uncovered in front of the nets.

Frankie Reid came back with a nice piece of stick-handling to deke Bergeron out of position and potted his second tally. Claude went off for charging but even this failed to help the Flyers and had only a couple of good chances but blew them.

The Flyers were all over the Meteors but a poor clearing pass by a defenseman set up the next Asbestos marker. Moore made the interception and relayed it to Drouin. Jean-Luc Reid got his tally from the faceoff and when each team was shorthanded Ray St. Cyr completed the scoring for the day when he picked up a rebound.

Boxing Guild Goes Against U.S. Gov't Today
Cleveland — (P) — The U.S. government opens its anti-trust case today against the International Boxing Guild before federal Judge James C. Connell.

The IBG and others are accused of plotting to fix prices in restraint of interstate commerce and of conducting illegal boycotts in connection with studio boxing shows once featured by a local television station.

The "others" named in the indictment returned a year ago are an IBG affiliate, the Boxing Guild of Ohio, and three officers of the two organizations — Charles Johnston of New York, IBG general president; William Daly of New York, IBG general treasurer; and Albert W. Delmonte of Cleveland, BGO president.

If the government wins its case, the three men would be liable to a year in prison as well as up to the $50,000 in fines that the IBG and BGO would have to pay.

Hotel Albert Edges Magog In Commercial
Hotel Albert came through with a 3-2 win over the Modern Cafe of Magog in a regular fixture of the Commercial Hockey League Saturday evening before a good sized crowd.

Gaston Lebrun tallied the first goal of the evening when he walked in close before pulling the trigger. Longpre was sitting out an elbow penalty when G. Beaudoin made it 2-0 for the hotel men. Therrien reduced the margin when he teamed up with Crevier and Turgeon for Magog's first goal.

In the middle session G. Beaudoin came up with his second tally and this proved to be the winning tally. It was the only one of the period. In the final session the Magog crew commenced to click and it was only poor shooting around the nets which failed to pay off.

The Cafe boys had a better passing attack but couldn't get the rubber behind Doyon who had taken over the goaling duties from Roch Labbe. Time after time he stopped them cold. In third period Turgeon finally beat Doyon to put the visitors within hailing distance but the locals managed to hold onto their slim margin until the final whistle.

Optimist Posts 3-2 Win Over Magog Yesterday

Sherbrooke Optimists with D. Auray coming up with a hat-trick eked out a close 3-2 win over Magog in the Eastern Townships Juvenile Hockey League at the Arena Yesterday afternoon.

Goyette had given the visitors a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period when he finished off a play with J. L. Boutin. In the middle session Boutin tallied unassisted to give Magog a 2-0 advantage and a good chance of posting a victory over the Optimists.

D. Auray potted his first goal just after the ten-minute mark in the second frame to reduce the margin and put the Claude Richer squad back in the running. In the final period the line of D. Auray-Menard-Doyon got rolling and just before the end of the frame they wrapped home two goals within a minute to put the locals out in front for the first time during the game.

The Optimists then threw up a strong defensive game to protect their slim lead and despite Magog's strong attacking they managed to hold on until the final whistle to chalk up the victory.

Three goals within three minutes practically wrapped up the decision for the home club. Planché and Marius Goyette with two were the marksmen. A couple of minutes later Vaillancourt got one more to give the Aces a 6-1 lead however to continue the quick scoring Bergeron came up with the Braves' second tally just before the period ended.

Grey Cup Film Ready For Showing; Record-Setting Total Of 235 Plays To Be Shown; Parade Also Included

A record-breaking total of 235 plays—most of any game in Canadian football history—were run off during the 1956 Grey Cup game.

Swift ball-handling by two of the fastest play-making teams to meet in the Canadian classic is credited with setting the record.

The 1956 game saw 235 plays run off, compared to 177 in 1955 and 190 in 1954.

This fact, as well as a rundown of other interesting statistics, are contained in an hour-long film of last year's football classic. The film, exclusively produced for and distributed by Dow Brewery, is completely in color for the first time.

Besides giving sports fans a chance to relive the autumn classic, the new Grey Cup film affords them a better look at the deceptive mysteries of the split "T" and points out to viewers the key men to watch in the game's upcoming vital plays.

The film also captures the pagantry of the classic with sequences on the highlights of the Grey Cup parade and half-time show staged on the field of Toronto's Varsity Stadium last Nov. 21.

Andre Corriveau led the Montreal attack with two goals. Kelly Burnett and Lulu Denis got one each for the victors while Gary Blaine counted for Trois-Rivieres.

Jackie Robinson To Retire From Baseball; Has Words With Buzzie Bavasi

Ted Kennedy Makes Return But For How Long Is Big Question; Beliveau Injured Last Night As Canadiens Win

Ted Kennedy is back in action, but how long he'll be around is still anybody's guess.

In Detroit Sunday night, the 31-year-old centre skated out in a Toronto Maple Leaf uniform for the first time in 18 months, but his return to the National Hockey League was marred by a player who wasn't even in the NHL when Teeder left it.

Sophomore winger John Bucyk and linemate Alex Delvecchio broke up a Kennedy-line rush in the third period, the puck went to Bucyk and he rushed into the Toronto zone to score as the Red Wings won 2-1.

"I saw the play forming up, but I didn't have the legs to do anything about it," a weary Kennedy said afterward in the dressing room.

The win gave the Red Wings a split in two weekend games and kept them on top of the NHL, one point ahead of Montreal Canadiens who beat them 1-0 in Montreal Saturday and then edged New York Rangers 3-2 in New York Sunday.

Boston Bruins slipped down to third place, a point back of the Canadiens, after losing in Toronto 3-2 on Saturday and tying the Black Hawks 4-4 in Chicago Sunday.

Saturday afternoon the Hawks and the Rangers inaugurated nationally televised hockey in the United States, the Rangers winning 4-1 before 9,835 spectators in New York.

The 13,559 fans who turned out for Kennedy's return in Detroit gave him an ovation, and he served a regular turn with wingers Bob Pulford and Gerry James.

Kennedy showed he still has his old ability to win faceoffs and came close to scoring several times, but his bosses say they want to watch him through two more road games before displaying him to a hometown audience.

Norm Ullman scored Detroit's first goal in the opening period, Dick Duff answered for Toronto in the second with his 14th goal of the season but Bucyk's gave Detroit the edge.

Big Jean Beliveau beat the Wings Saturday. He stole the puck in his own end, roared down the ice, split the Detroit defence and beat Glenn Hall with his 22nd goal of the season.

In New York, the Canadiens' stock dropped when Beliveau injured his hip in the first period, and returned only briefly. The injury was apparently not serious.

Maurice Richard, Bernie Geoffrion and Dickie Moore scored for Canadiens, while Danny Lewicki fired his ninth and 10th goals of the season.

George Armstrong, Brian Cullen and Sid Smith shot Toronto into a 3-0 lead over Boston Saturday, as the Leafs beat the Bruins for the first time this season.

The Bruins got third-period goals from Allan Stanley and Real Chevrefils, and put on a rousing finish.

Sunday the Bruins came from behind to tie the last-place Hawks. Chicago took the lead four times on goals by Eddie Litzenger, Nick Mickoski, Glen Skov and Johnny Wilson, but Larry Regan's goal finally tied it for keeps. Other Boston goals were scored by Fleming Mackell, Vic Stasiuk and Don McKenney.

Centre Andy Bathgate and goaltender Lorne (Gump) Worsley were the New York heroes in the win over Chicago. Bathgate scored one goal and assisted on two others while Worsley topped 31 shots, despite a second-period injury.

Lewicki, Larry Popein and Andy Cline were the other Ranger marksmen. Skov scored for the Hawks.

The weekend left New York and Toronto still tied for fourth place. The two teams meet Wednesday in New York.

Fourth Place Shawinigan Trounces Sags

CHICOUTIMI, Que. — Shawinigan Falls clipped the leading Chicoutimi Saguenéens of the Quebec Hockey League 3-1 Sunday after trailing through the first period.

Shawinigan, which now has 29 points in fourth place, won in the second period on goals by Dick Wray and Ed Kachur. George Faulkner added a third goal.

Georges Roy scored Chicoutimi's only goal.

Two AHL Players To Go To Lions

MONTREAL — President George Slater of the Quebec Hockey League said Saturday that two players from Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League have been loaned to Trois-Rivières Lions of QHL subject to recall.

The two are forwards Gary Blaine and Roland Leclerc. Both have previously played with teams in the QHL. They were obtained by the Lions because the Trois-Rivières club has been hard hit by injuries and the roster is below playing strength.

Dodgers' Vice-President Criticizes Announcement Of Retirement; Robbie Had To Respect Contract With Look

NEW YORK — (AP) — Jackie Robinson greying, serious and every inch the business executive—today found himself involved in a full-scale feud even though his baseball days are over.

The now-portly Robinson, 38, who became the first Negro to play in the major leagues when he signed with Brooklyn Dodgers 11 years ago, crossed swords with Brooklyn Vice-President Buzzie Bavasi over the way the announcement of his retirement was made.

Robinson revealed his plans in Tuesday's issue of Look Magazine. The story leaked out when some subscribers of Look received their copies before the magazine appeared on the newsstand.

Bavasi didn't like that and said so, adding that Robinson let down the reporters who covered the Dodgers and New York Giants, to whom he was traded less than a month ago.

"Believe me," said Robinson "I didn't intend to have things break this way. I signed with Look four years ago and it was common knowledge that when I decided to retire, I would do the story for that magazine."

"Imagine my feeling when I was traded on Dec. 12. The coincidence was all the more remarkable because I signed for a new job — which clinched my retirement — at about 5 p.m. that day, and 10 minutes later Bavasi called me and told me I was traded."

"I immediately called the Giants and asked Chuck Feeney the vice-president to withhold the announcement of the trade until I had made a final decision. He called Horace Stoneham Giants' president, who said he couldn't withhold it because so many people in the organization knew about it and the story would surely leak out."

Robinson said that was his dilemma. Should he tell the Giants he was retiring or try to beat around the bush? He called Look and was told to respect his contract, that the magazine was to have first crack at the story. Look editorial director Dan Mich confirmed this.

"So I respected my contract," he continued. "I knew this would hurt me, but I took the only course I knew."

As for Bavasi, Robinson was bitter. "He might be a little burned over the fact that the deal didn't go through," Robbie said. "I've gotten along with him fine over the years. I've always regarded him as my friend. But I guess I was wrong."

The new job which Robinson referred to is vice-president in charge of personnel for a restaurant chain, Chock Full-O-Nuts. He signed a two-year contract at a reported $30,000 a year.

"If this job hadn't come up," he said, "I'd probably be playing for the Giants this year. The trade had nothing to do with my retiring."

Bavasi, meanwhile, was seething. "Jackie's pretty proud of his reputation for saying exactly what he thinks," he scowled. "But he doesn't like anybody else to exercise the same privilege. The Giants, who believed that Robinson would help them, lost a valuable month in which to make a deal."

The trade, which sent Robinson to the Giants in return for $30,000 and pitcher Dick Littlefield, is nullified.

Inco Metals at Work in Canada

Copper is one of 14 elements obtained from Inco ores. Inco produces over 250,000,000 lbs. of copper a year. And more than half of all this copper goes to Canadian companies for the manufacture of copper tube and fittings and hundreds of other useful products. Copper tube and fittings for supply and drainage plumbing are easy and economical to install... and will usually last as long or longer than the buildings in which they are used.

INCO COPPER in millions of feet of plumbing for Canadian homes

... more jobs in Canada

FOR LONG LIFE and trouble-free service, there's nothing quite like copper plumbing in the home. It won't rust; it resists corrosion; under normal conditions, it will last as long as the building.

Today, nearly all the new homes being built in Canada have copper plumbing. And more than half of this copper comes from Inco.

Here's how Inco Copper helps make jobs for Canadians. Down in the mines, Inco workmen blast out the ore. It is milled, smelted and refined at Inco's plants in Copper Cliff, Ontario. Refined copper is sold to Canadian companies for the manufacture of tube, fittings and other plumbing items. Then plumbers install them in Canadian homes.

All these operations help provide jobs for thousands of workmen. That's how Inco helps stimulate the growth and development of industry in Canada.
