BULGARIANS START TO BOMBARD ADRIANOPLE

"Key To Constantinople" Invested By Allies---Servians and Greeks Drive Back Turks---King of Greece Leads Balkan Alliance

Sofia, Oct. 25.—The Bulgarian troops are reported to have begun a bombardment of Adrianople and a portion of the city is said to be burning.

Vienna, Oct. 25.—The newspapers here publish reports to the effect that the Bulgarians already are in possession of the Adrianople railway station and have repulsed another Turkish attempt at a sortie from the city. They add that fresh Bulgarian columns have arrived and are now completing the investment of the city of Adrianople.

FALL OF KIRK-KILISSEH SURPRISES EVEN BULGARIANS

London, Oct. 25.—After a four days' heavy battle the Bulgarians are resting. There were no reports of fighting to-day along the line from Kirk-Kilisseh to Adrianople. The Bulgarians have not yet decided whether they will attempt to capture Adrianople by assault or to starve out its garrison by a siege.

The full extent of the Turkish disaster at Kirk-Kilisseh is still unknown, but it is almost certain that the bulk of the garrison there effected a retreat from the town before it fell into the bands of the Bulgarians.

Much interest centres in the nature of the alliance of the Balkan States. It is said on good authority that one of the provisions of that alliance is that no one state shall conclude peace without the others agreeing to do so.

Next in important to the operations in Thrace is the struggle between the Servians and Turkey in the Kamannovo region. Constantinople at last admits the success of the Servian arms. The Servians yesterday captured two towns, Vuchitrian and Gilan, on the road between Mitrovitza and Vranya.

The Montenegrins are pressing their attack on Scutari. It is reported that the Turkish garrison at Scutari has retired to the heights of Zadrena, south of the town. This action is interpreted as a preparation to evacuate Scutari.

The Greeks are continuing their northward march and to-day occupied Kosani, about twelve miles northwest of the town of Servia.

CZAREVITCH'S INJURY DUE TO FALL FROM PONY.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—A despatch received here to-day from General Baron Fredericks, Minister of the Russian Imperial Household and aide-de-camp of Emperor Nicholas, says that the injury from which the Russian Crown Prince is suffering was caused by a fall from his pony. The despatch adds that the young heir to the throne is im proving.

U. S. POSTAL SERVICE ESTIMATE $283,805,760.

Washington, Oct. 25—For the support of their postal service, the people of the United States, next year, will pay $283,805,760, far more than for any other branch of the government service. Estimates forwarded to-day to the Treasury Department by Postmaster-General Hitchcock on appropriations necessary to the operation of the Post Office Department during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1913, propose an increase of $12,086,909 over the appropriations for the current fiscal year.

WATER IS IMPORTANT FOR HEALTH.

No better way of absorbing the water requisite for health than by drinking Fox Head Ales or B.B. Lager.

The Fox Head Brewery which makes these Ales is fortunate in having an unfailing supply of Spring Water, which clear as crystal and absolutely pure, affords the best supply possessed by any brewery on this continent. The Superior quality of the water supply and its never changing constituents have contributed very considerably to establish the fame of these Fox Head products.

Quebec dealers are proud to recommend them to their customers.

STUDYING COAL PLANTS.

Dr. Marie Stopes of London has been interested for the last nine years in the study of fossil botany, making an exhaustive study of it. She has in course of preparation a work that it is expected will throw great light on the subject of coal geology. She has descended mines in all parts of the world, including a mine in a Japanese island which extended under the sea. Coal can not be less than twenty million years old, she says, and the first plants were twice as old as that.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN WAR SITUATION.

Latest reports have it that Bulgarians have begun the bombardment of Adrianople and that the city is invested.

Constantinople still denies the fall of Kirk-Kilisseh.

No one of Balkan States can make peace with Turkey without agreement of the others.

Servian army drives back the Turks near Kamanovo. This is admitted at Constantinople.

Montenegrins pressing their attack on Scutari.

Greeks continue their northward march and occupy Kosani, 12 miles northwest of town of Servia.

Servian main army is to join Servian and Bulgarian allied armies for attack on Uskup.

King of Greece will become President of Balkan Alliance, says the Outlook.

Berlin Foreign Office expects that intervention by the powers will follow the first decisive battle.

PRES. CHAMBERLIN DENIES PURCHASE

Says Grand Trunk Is Not Seeking the Chicago Great Western Railway.

Montreal, Oct. 25—President E. J. Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk Railway System, returned to Montreal to-day after a trip through the West. He was most emphatic in his denial of the story that the Grand Trunk would purchase the Chicago, Great Western Railway.

"I know nothing of it," he said, "except what has appeared in the newspapers. There is nothing in the story. The purchase was never even thought of by us."

Asked with regard to the dispute with the Canadian Pacific Railway over the union station in Toronto and the viaduct question, Mr. Chamberlin said he was not yet in a position to say anything on the matter.

Regarding general conditions in the West, he said they were excellent. The crops had been enormous, but the harvesting was backward, owing to the bad weather. Whether the harvest will turn out like last year's or not depends on the November weather, in Mr. Chamberlin's opinion.

The Weather

Toronto, Oct. 25—The storm which was centred near New York last night has remained almost stationary and the weather from the Great Lakes to the Maritime Provinces continues unsettled and showery. In the West it has been fine and mild.

CRANKS THREATEN MORE ATTEMPTS ON ROOSEVELT'S LIFE

One Tries To Force His Way Into His Home — Colonel May Speak Wednesday.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 25.—On account of a number of threatening letters received by Col. Roosevelt and the presence in Oyster Bay of a stranger who attempted to-day to make his way into the Colonel's house, steps were taken to-night to guard the life of the ex-President. A tentative decision was reached to engage one or two men to protect Col. Roosevelt during the remainder of the campaign and for a time thereafter, if the Colonel had not recovered sufficiently by election day to be able to defend himself.

TO SPEAK WEDNESDAY.

Col. Roosevelt's condition coninued to improve to-day and his physicians said that he would be able to speak at the Madison Square Garden meeting in New York on Wednesday night, if no unforseen complications arise. But they said that he would be unable to do any further compaigning.

The man who attempted to see Col. Roosevelt arrived in Oyster Bay this afternoon, and set out on foot for Sagamore Hill. He was met at the door by the Colonel's secretary and insisted that he must see the ex-President, although told that no visitors were being received.

The stranger returned to the village and wrote a long, rambling letter to Col. Roosevelt. Then he disappeared. No trace of him could be found in Oyster Bay to-night, and it was not known whether he had left.

The attempt on Col. Roosevelt's life was said by Dr. George W. Faller, of Oyster Bay, one of the Colonel's physicians, to have stirred up "cranks," and to be responsible for the letters which Col. Roosevelt has received since his return to Oyster Bay, many threatening his life.

Dr. Faller received a letter of warning to-day from John A. Waldron, appointment clerk in the office of Governor Dix at Albany. Mr. Waldron wrote that man who had attempted to force his way into Mercy Hospital in Chicago, while Colonel Roosevelt was there, had been a prisoner in Clinton Prison during the Roosevelt administration, and at that time had written a letter in which he had threatened to assassinate President Roosevelt. It was said that this man had announced his intention, when he was denied admission to the hospital, to follow Col. Roosevelt to his home.

MARITIME PORTS DEMAND FINISHING OF RAILWAY

Boards of Trade of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Urge Speedy Equipment of Quebec Port.

The Boards of Trade of Halifax, N. S.; St. John, N. B., and Prince Edward Island are in perfect accord with the demands made on the Government by the Quebec Board of Trade for the immediate completion of the Transcontinental Railway from Cochrane, Ont., to Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

HALIFAX IN SUPPORT.

Secretary Levasseur, of the Quebec Board of Trade, yesterday received a letter from Secretary E. A. Saunders, of the Halifax Board of Trade, in which Mr. Saunders says that although the Halifax board for 1912 has not been very partial to passing resolutions, he had carried out instructions that he had received from the executive and wrote several letters to Premier Borden and also to the Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, supporting the resolutions adopted by the Quebec Board of Trade in its demand for the immediate completion of the Transcontinental Railway from Cochrane to Quebec, the equipment of the port with railway terminals and docks, the building of grain elevators and the organization of a car ferry service between Quebec and Levis, to continue the railway service to the Maritime Provinces until the Quebec bridge was built.

The Maritime Provinces have a federation of all various boards of tarde of the three provinces, which meet annually to discuss business of broad import that applies to those provinces, and is looked upon as a very important convention, inasmuch as the board of every city and town send delegations.

Appeal To Government.

At the last meeting of these commercial bodies the question of the immediate completion of the Transcontinental Railway was discussed and resulted in the adoption of the following resolutions, copies of which were mailed to Premier Borden, Minister Cochrane and Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, representing the Province of New Brunswick in the Federal Cabinet:

"Resolved, That this board is of the opinion that it is most important for Canadian interests that the railway from Cochrane Junction to Moncton, onw approaching completion, should be finished simultaneously with the mileage from Cochrane Junction to Winnipeg, and that the docks, elevators and car ferry at Quebec and the terminal facilities at St. John and Halifax should be built without delay, so that these cities, as well as Montreal, may be equipped to handle the trade of the North-west as soon as the railway is completed, and thus have no excuse for its diversion to Providence, Boston, Portland and other United States ports.

"The Maritime Board of Trade, therefore, respectfully urge upon the Right. Hon. R. L. Borden, Prime Minister, the necessity of the earliest possible completion of the Transcontiental Railway from Winnepg to Moncton, simultaneously with the car ferry service at Quebec and the terminal facilities at Maritime Province ports, so that the latter may be in a position to handle the winter export traffic of the Grand Trunk Pacific, when that railway is completed."

TO MAKE FIGHT IN COURTS FOR BECKER'S LIFE

Accused Policeman Keeps His Nerve—Counsel To Appeal For Reversal of Verdict.

New York, Oct. 25.—Police Lieut. Charles Becker spent his hours of confinement in the Tombs to-day planning his fight to annual the verdict of the jury which convicted him of the murder of the gambler Herman Rosenthal.

Becker has lost none of the iron nerve which bore him through the trial and the ordeal of hearing himself condemned as guilty, if his appearance and every action to-day count for anything. He awoke refreshed from a sound sleep and after a hearty breakfast summoned his chief attorney, John A. McIntyre.

WILL APPEAL CASE.

The two conferred for more than an hour and later Mr. McIntyre announced that immediate notice of appeal from the verdict would be filed. Becker, who is due to be sentenced next Wednesday, would, if the usual procedure were followed, take his seat in the electric chair the first week in December. The filing of the notice, however, will act as a stay, and it is not impossible that months may lengthen into years before the ultimate fate of the convicted police officer is determined. In a recent case two years elapsed before the appeal of a first degree murderer was settled.

"I don't mind saying that we expect a reversal," Becker's attorney announced. The appeal will be on the grounds that the verdict was against the weight of evidence; that the Justice's charge was of a nature to injure the chances of the defendant; upon the Justice's failure to rule that Sam Schepps was an accomplice in the murder, and upon the error of law in the refusal of the Justice to allow testimony submitted by the defense to go in the record."

Becker's wife visited him in his cell this afternoon and, according to the prison attendants, the meeting marked the one moment since the prisoner was indicted when he seemed on the verge of breaking down.

Either "Whitey" Lewis or "Lefty" Louie will be the next of the seven men indicted for the murder to be placed on trial Nov. 7. Meantime Jack Rose, "Bridgie" Webber, Harry Vallon and Sam Schepps, the four informers, will be kept in confinement in the West Side prison.

BLOODY SCENES MARK ELECTION FIGHT IN CUBA

Conservatives and Liberals In Fierce Fight In Havana, 20 Wounded, 2 Dead.

Havana, Oct. 25—Havana is quiet to-night, but there is a strong undercurrent of excitement and dread of a repetition of the bloody scenes of last night, when a brisk battle between Conservatives and Liberals took place in Central Park at the close of a meeting held by the political supporters of Alfredo Zayas, a candidate for the presidency of the republic. The cavalry guard was withdrawn from Central Park to-day and replaced by a strong force of police who are not permitting any gatherings in groups.

NEWSPAPERS THREATENING.

The partizan newspapers are indulging in furious recriminations and threats and both sides are declaring it to be their determination to appeal to force if their rights are not protected. Each side is alleging that favoritism is being shown their opponents by the Government.

About a score of persons who were wounded in last night's battle remain in the hospital. Two of the wounded died to-day. The othersare expected to recover.

There was a small riot this afternoon at a meeting of Liberal university students during which one negro was fatally shot.

GEN. DIAZ MAY BE SHOT TODAY

Court Martial Nears End and Leader and Two Officers May Be Executed.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Oct. 25.—The court martial of General Felix Diaz began at 5 o'clock this afternoon and will end to-morrow morning with the executions of Senors Lima and Migoni, two of his officers. It is probable also that General Diaz will be shot at the same time.

The remaining officers of the Diaz revolt will only receive sentences of imprisonment.

TORONTO TO DEFY THE PRIVY COUNCIL

Will Resist Decision That Poles Can Be Placed In Streets Without City's Consent.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The City of Toronto will defy a decision of the Privy Council. Poles placed by the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, a MacKenzie concern, without civic consent, are to be pulled up as quickly as they are dropped into the post holes.

The Board of Control so decided this morning after a private conference with Corporation Council Geary and Works Commissioner Harris.

The Brivy Council's decision is that the poles can be planted without civic consent. The controllers take this action with the intention of carrying their case to the Borden government in the hope of obtaining an amendment to the law so that the city may control its streets. The Toronto Electric Light Company, another MacKenzie company, has a franchise allowing it to operate only within the former city limits, but the Toronto and Niagara Company is trying to invade newly annexed districts.

RICHELIEU COUNTY LIBERAL BY 263

Revised Returns Show a Great Falling Off In Vote For Opposition Candidate.

Sorel, Que., Oct. 25.—The official figures in the Richelieu County election were given out to-day. They show a Liberal majority of 263.

MONTREAL WANDERERS NOW LACK BUT ONE

Montreal, Oct. 25.—President Lichtenhein of the Wanderers, has signed up his hockey team for the season with the exception of Lehman, whom he is still after. The latest to sign is Arthur Ross, the local. There will be eight men carried through the season, they being: Boyce, Sprague Cleghorn, Odie Cleghorn, Arthur Ross, Harry Hyland, W. Miller, Ernie Johnson and Gordon Roberts.

H.M.S. CORNWALL LOSES A TORPEDO OVERBOARD.

Halifax, Oct. 25—H.M.S. Cornwall was to have sailed early this morning for St. John, but was detained owing to a heavy gale and the fact that a torpedo was lost overboard. As the weather was not sufficiently clear to enable the picking up of the torpedo the sailing of the man-of-war will be delayed until to-morrow.

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 26, 1912.

ADRIANOPLE.

The two events of this week that take us out of all theorizing about the "war menace" are the investment of Adrianople by the Bulgarians and the speech of Lord Roberts. Adrianople, is a city about twice the size of Quebec. It is situate a hundred and seventy-three miles from Constantinople, and the besieging of the one means the often rallying of Turkey's immediate enemies around Constantinople. Like Quebec the town is pleasantly situated on a hill and partly on the banks of the Tundja near its confluence with the Manitza which runs into the Black Sea, having the seaport of Enos as its mouth. Like Quebec, it is spoken of as "the ancient capital," having been the seat of the Turkish government from the time it was taken by the Turks as their first foothold in Europe, until they gained possession of Constantinople. Now that the strong fortress of Kirk-Kilesseh has been taken by the Bulgarian army from the north, and the Greeks have advanced to the Turkish frontier from the south, and the Servians and Montenegrins are working their way from victory to victory southeastward, the issue of the war seems to be an inevitable retreat on the part of the Turks towards the Dardenelles. The war, as far as it has gone, is a direct illustration of what Lord Roberts has been telling us all, namely, that it is the right policy of a nation to pursue, namely, to be prepared to strike when its hour for striking comes round. The three little nations that are driving the Turks to their deserts were ready beforehand for the work they had to do. Turkey is a nation which has little or no foresight.. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof" in its literal meaning, is the guiding line in its relations with its neighbor-nations. And, if things go wrong in war with it, an appeal to these same neighbor-nations is never considered to be out of order. Is there a Canadian who would take up with the national creed of the Turk?"

And the whole trouble in the Balkan peninsula has been a neglect of just such some advice as Lord Roberts has been giving to the Empire—the common sense course of preparing to meet emergencies. Shortly after the Berlin Conference, Servia went to war with Bulgaria over the annexation of East Roumania. Then Greece went to war with Turkey over the persecution of the Greek Christians in Macedonia. Since then there have been insurrections in Macedonia and Albania: but, now that the primal cause of all these disturbances has induced a determined, well-prepared-for and united conflict on the part of the Bulgarians, Servians, and Montenegrins, inflamed as they have been for years at the forcible subjection of Christian to the intolerance of Moslem methods of rule, the stand taken is an effective one. But what is to be gained by either emphasizing Lord Roberts' warning or the illustration of its pressing precepts? Things would be allowed to take their course, until like Mr. Cahan, as shown in a subsequent article, begins by denying any "emergency and ends by saying that, were he in Mr. Borden's place, he would do just exactly what we think Mr. Borden has long intended to do. Things must be allowed to run their course just as they once did, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier at first frowned on the very idea of sending a contingent to South Africa, and finally became proudly enthusiastic over the feats of our brave fellows in the battlefields. We will now have to put up with hearing that Lord Roberts knows nothing about war and German diplomacy, and that the Bulgarians and Servians, and Montenegrins, have been no better prepared for war than Turkey has been. What a blend of the freak and the fool the partizan becomes, when he loses control of himself when out of office.

THE NEGATIVE AND POSITIVE OF IT.

Mr. H. B. Ames, a prospective Minister of the Crown, said the other night in Montreal that there was in sight a revenue this year of $175,000,000. It is not only likely that we will meet all our current expense," he further said, "and yet have enough to make a generous contribution for Imperial defence. That contribution would serve to cement the Empire, and who would have Canada remain neutral in such an enterprise?" Compare this with what Mr. Cahan has been saying about the same matter, and then say which of the two—Mr. Ames or Mr. Cahan—is the more honorably-minded Canadian of the two? Which is the whole-souled publicist and which the theoretic huckster who would take advantage of his benefactor? This is what Mr. Cahan has said, repeated as it has been with partizan unction by one or two others of his kidney: "So long as the British electorate are content with their Government's conduct of foreign affairs and with the ample provision made by their Government for their naval defence why should Canadians attempt by free gifts of their public funds to express want of confidence in the British Government, which is not responsible to us, or seek to make up an alleged deficiency in British naval construction when the British Government and their experts of the Admiralty so positively declare that no such deficiency really exists?"

If any one has ever heard of a meanness of spirit equal to that, he should put it on exhibition, so that a booby-prize of condemnation may be awarded to its possessors. There is in such a confession of faith a denial of Canada's obligations to join with the Motherland in the preservation of the world's peace and the maintenance of liberty on the seas of the earth. Does Mr. Cahan acknowledge Great Britain to be the Motherland of Canada and Australia and New Zealand? Has he any Canadian honor left in him? Perhaps he is a believer in Canadian denationalization—a mere canvasser for votes around the underworld of politics.

Since the above was written, Mr Cahan has opened an account book in which he tries to strike a balance between what Canadians have done for Great Britain as an effect to what Great Britain has done for Canada. But he has to give up the prospect of striking his balance, amid the laughter of us all; by issuing the following final manifest, which is exactly what every true-minded Canadian is prepared to subscribe to—in fact what we believe the Borden Ministy have it in mind to do, in their estimate of what Naval Co-operation really means as a step towards Empire Consolidation. The paragraph is one taken from Mr. Cahan's last letter to the Montreal Star and is well worth emphasizing in the hearing of anyone who has any doubts about the integrity of those who have the matter in hand. These are Mr. Cahan's own words: "Personally I would advocate a Canadian contribution to Great Britain for purposes of naval defence, as part of a permanent naval policy for Canada, and as a convincing earnest of the desire of Canadians in the proportion of their wealth, to contribute regularly and continuously to the maintenance of a supreme Imperial Navy; but I would, in voting such contribution, make it perfectly clear to the British Government that the acceptance by them of such a contribution would be understood by Canada to imply, on their part, a pledge of personal honor that effective measures would forthwith be adopted to provide for Canada effective representation in Imperial affairs commensurate with any contributions which Canada should so undertake to make regularly and continuously."

And as if to allay all suspicions that his writing to the news papers was intended to provide a "political scare" to the "war menace" he would belittle against "all rhyme or reason." Mr. Cahan closes the event, by stating that Mr. Borden's proposed contribution to the British Admiralty "would be an earnest of Canada's desire, in time of peace as in time of war, to participate, as a partner, in Imperial affairs, to the extent of her available resources, in maintaining the supremacy of British naval strength, as a guarantee of the peace of the world, and of the perpetuation of British political institutions, and of the civilization which those institutions sustain."

THE MOLSON'S BANK.

The annual report of the Molsons Bank cannot but be gratifying to the shareholders of that institution and to the general public as well. The progress of the bank, which is now in its fifty-seventh year, is in line with the prosperity and progress of the country. The net profits this year amount to no less a sum than $684,779.25, which enables the directors to place $100,000 to the reserve fund, that now stands at $4,800,000. Even the Profit and Loss Account has had added to its credit $42,522.00 making it at the present time $161,282.42. The annual meeting was held in the new Board Room that has been set apart in the extended Main Building of the Bank on St. James street, Montreal, one of the most striking edifices on that thoroughfare. And the report of the Directors and the address of the President, W. Molson Macpherson, alike refer to questions of public import, which ought to make the meeting one of commercial significance. The financial safety of the country at large depends upon the stability of its banking institution: and Molsons Bank may be said to have had its history running in a parallel line with the commercial advancement of Canada from early days. The President had a lesson to give with respect to the rapid advances being made everywhere, not without a word of warning, however, to the wheat-growers of the West to turn their attention more to mixed farming than they are doing, and a pleading for cheaper railway transportation for the East. There are now nearly three thousand branches of the several banks of Canada all over the country; and these afford ample means for the development of every kind of commercial pursuit; and, in saying this, the President threw out the hint that the Banking Act, which has proved satisfactory, might be amended still further than it has been so that it may prevent a repetition of some failures of the past by an improved system of inspection of a bank's real standing A full report of the proceedings of the annual meeting of the Bank is given elsewhere in this morning's issue, and the Chronicle extends its congratulations to the President and the Board of Directors on the excellent showing they have been able to make for the year. The closing words of the President's address give every token of the Bank's steady advancement, possessing as it does today an enlargement of banking facilities and adequate accommodation that are said to be ample for many years to come.

PRESIDENT SUSPENDER
NONE SO EASY

The situation in Montreal over the insufficiency of the water supply for domestic uses is rather alarming. It is perhaps even more alarming from the necessities of the Fire Department should a disastrous fire fall upon the city. And what worse calamities can befall a community than disease and fire? That there is danger from disease comes home to Quebecers, since a Quebec family that lately removed to Montreal have all been stricken down with typhoid. And yet it is said that it will take at least two years before the Montreal Waterworks Department can put things safely to rights. The story given by Mr. Randall Davidson on the situation is an appalling one.

The Hearst newspapers and their abuse of McKinley have always been accused of unhinging the mind of the wretch who shot him. And now the would-be assassin of Colonel Roosevelt says that he became convinced, from reading the New York newspapers, that it was a sin for the Colonel to seek a third term. This is hard on the Canadian newspapers that take a pride in insulting our Ministers of the Crown whenever they put in an appearance in Quebec or elsewhere. Shrank has been declared by medical experts to be sane; but it would only be an insane creature like Czolgooz, the murderer of McKinley, who would be influenced by anything which the representative of the Liberal underworld.—But there we had better make no further comment, if we would keep outh of the way of what we have learned neither to fear nor cross logic with!

The Rev. Frederick A. Wilmot, of Boston, has taken the public into his confidence as to why he has changed the pulpit for the stage to increase his influence in the world. This comparison, as the Oakland Tribune says, like most others is of course odious, though it may be taken as a compliment to the stage, whose influence towards moral regeneration is rather doubtful these days, though it continues to do business seven nights and two matinees per week in California.

The duchess of Portland says that Queen Mary has never worn a real aigrette or osprey plume and she thinks that should be an example for other English women to follow. The duchess declares that dreadful suffering attend the taking of the plume from the bird and beseeches all women to refrain from buying them.

Secret of Mysterious Power Revealed at Last.

How Prominent People Have Gained Wealth and Popularity.

Famous Hypnotist Perfects Simple Method that Enables Anyone to Control Thoughts and Acts of Others, Cure Disease and Habits Without Drugs, and Read the Secret Desires of People Though Thousands of Miles Away.

Wonderful Book Describing this Strange Force and a Character Delineation Post Free to all who Writes at once.

The National Institute of Science has appropriated £5,000 toward a fund for the free distribution of Prof. Knowles' new book, "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces." The book lays bare many astounding facts concerning the practices of Eastern Yogis, and explains a wonderful system for the development of Personal Magnetism, Hypnotic and Telepathic Powers, and the curing of diseases and habits without drugs. The subject of practical character reading is also extensively dealt with, and the author describes a simple method of accurately reading the secret thoughts and desires of others though thousands of miles away. The almost endless stream of letters requesting copies of the book and character delineations indicate clearly the universal interest in Psychological and Occult Sciences.

"Rich and poor alike benefit by the teachings of this ney system," says Prof. Knowles, "and the person who wishes to achieve greater success has but to apply the simple ruels laid down." That many wealthy and prominent people owe their success to the power of Personal Influence there is not the slightest doubt, but the great mass of people have remained in utter ignorance of these phenomena. The National Institute of Science has therefore undertaken the somewhat arduous task of distributing broadcast, without regard for class or creed, the information heretofore possessed by the few. In addition to supplying the books free, each person who writes at once will also receive a character delineation of from 400 to 500 words as prepared by Prof. Knowles.

If you wish a copy of Prof. Knowles' book and a Character Delination, simply copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

"I want power of mind,
Force and strength in my look,
Please read by character
And send me your book."

Also send your full name and address (state whether Mr., Mrs., or Miss), write plainly and address your letter to:—

National Institute of Sciences, Dept. 848. No. 258, Westminster Bridge-road, London, S.E., Eng. If you wish you may enclose 10 cents (stamps of your own country) to pay postage, etc.

IGNORED THE ISSUE.

Jane Addams and Ida Husted Harper met at a dinner in New York recently, which would not have been interesting a year ago, but now Miss Addams has been criticised by Mrs. Harper, historian of the woman suffragists, for allying herself with any party, and in consequence it was wondered how they would meet. According to the best information they were very pleasantly occupied with their dinner and any other subject in the world except politics.

THE MARTYRS TO DIABETES.

There are hundreds of martyrs to diabetes walking the streets of our cities and towns. They are to be found in every walk of life. They will be found principally among the successful men, the men who have worked and eaten and drank, not wisely but too well, who, in the frenzied pursuit of success and wealth, have neglected to take proper rest and proper exercise. These men are daily suffering untold mental and physical agonies. They are paying the price of neglect and headlessness. They need their ability now more than ever, need to be fit and well. Instead, they are in the grip of the dread malady, Diabetes-mellitus.

While they are piling up their wealth or working indefatigably toward some goal of political or professional success, a scientist in far-off Germany was working in their behalf—working patiently, industriously to provide a means of saving for them their health, the greatest boon of life. He succeeded. They—the martyrs—may now enjoy the benefits of his research and work. He has given it to the world in the form of Sanol's Anti-Disbetes, (in the United States Expurgo-Anti-Diabetes, which remedy has already made some wonderful cures in Winnipeg and other Canadian Cities. The makers have strong testimonials from residents of cities. A post-card will bring these addresses. The formula for this remedy has been secured for the exclusive use of the SANOL MANUFACTURING COMPANY OF CANADA LTD. 977 Main street, Winnipeg, Man. The remedy is for sale by John [illegible] Roche 735 St. Valier St. Price [illegible] per bottle.

FEMININE FANCY

A Few Suggestions For Hallowe'en Parties

Half the joy in a Halloween party is one's partner, but one must be content with the lady or lass provided by the fates. Here are some good ways to pair off. If you have some "serpentine," to be purchased at a novelty house or at a favor counter, use different colored ribbons, or even strings will do. Seat the boys on one side of the door that has a transom and the girls upon the other. If the boys kneel it is better. Then at a given signal each maid throws her end of the ribbon over the transom, holding tight to the end in her hand. The boys are to catch and hold the first end they touch, the door will be opened and mates found.

Matching the glove is another good way to make fun and find partners for supper or any game the hostess may have in mind. Let each girl put on her right glove, placing the left in a basket. When all the gloves are deposited a ghost or cupid or fairy, as the hostess plans, passes the basket to the men who take one and go in search of the mate.

Try playing "going to Jerusalem" to seat the guests at the dining room table or in the room where refreshments are to be served. Have one chair less than guests. When the music stops seats are rushed for; when all but one are seated the hostess places that chair and partners are found in this "hit or miss" fashion, causing no end of merriment.

Sometimes partners are found by mating according to size or by matching initials of names, either first or last. Anything with the elements of mystery in it works out and on this night no one can afford to show any preference, but must enter into the spirit of the occasion.

The guests were to play cards at this party, given on the last day of October, but the hostess had this funny stunt for choosing partners. After all had arrived she took all the girls into one room, where they were given sheets and pillow cases, the latter having grotesque faces quickly penciled on with colored crayons. After being thus arrayed they were led downstairs by a maid and one by one placed upon a white draped stool, where they were bid in by the men. Not a word was spoken and they were not allowed to be touched, only they each revolved slowly once around. It was all most laughable, and many were the surprises when the masks were removed. Scarcely a man had guessed "who was who." The ice was effectually broken at this party.

How to Make One of Those Easy-to-Slip-On House Dresses

Here is a new idea for the easy-to-slip-on house dress, one that is not only easy to slip on, but also easy to make.

The bodice is cut over your blouse pattern with a V-neck in front and fitted with a sailor collar, and is cut to fold over in front in suplice fashion and gathered in at the normal waist line. Sleeves are long, close fitting, or three-quarter length, whichever you desire.

The skirt is cut over a six-gored model; but instead off cutting only one front gore, an extra gore or panel is cut, and the belt or waistband is made long enough to lap over the width of the extra panel.

Stitch the skirt up in the usual way, but instead of joining the front panel to the side, leave it open on the left side, and to that seam join the extra front panel. This forms a skirt that opens down the left side, but has a double front gore.

When cutting these front gores or panels, see that each cut edge is almost straight, allowing just enough curve at the waist line to permit it to fit smoothly across the front.

The right edge of the under gore is finished with a two-inch facing, and the left-hand edge of the top gore is finished in the same manner, while the bottom of the skirt is finished with a three-inch hem or facing.

Join the skirt to the waistband so that the two front panels will be absolutely even with each other, the one over the other, and arrange each edge of the bodice opening to meet the edge of the skirt's opening. Sew a hook on each end of the waistband and an eye on the band in the proper place, to allow the band to fit the waist snugly.

When finished, the dress will open all the way down one side, and can be slipped on as a kimono, hooked into place around the waist, and fastened at the throat with a pretty brooch, or another hook and eye, if you wish. And there you are, with a neat little frock that is as easy to get into and slip off as your long, loose kimono, yet is as neat and trig as any simple morning frock could be.

The extra front gore folds so far underneath that there is no danger of its flying open, as a kimono does, although it requires no hooks or buttons below the waist line.

Made up in dotted percale and trimmed with plain or stripped percale or linen collar, cuffs and narrow piping around the waistband, that will give it the appearance of a stitched-on belt, the frock is dainty enough to receive callers in or wear to market.

The skirt may be trimmed with a patch pocket outlined with piping, stitched on each of the side gores joining in front; and you can wear a sailor knot at the joining point of the collar to give an added touch of trimming.

This little utility frock is just the thing for the busy housekeeper that has to rise early to prepare breakfast and has little time to spend in dressing early in the morning. It takes about half a minute to slip it on, and button or hook it into place.

And the beauty of them is that they are so simple to put together that any woman who can make her own blouses will find no difficulty in making one of these. They are just as pretty and practical made of woolen material for cold weather wear as they are of percale or gingham.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT OUR PIANOS.

Have you ever thought, when playing some melodious conata upon your piano, that the instrument, as it is today, is the perfection of centuries of invention?

In the beginning it was a harp-shaped piece of wood, having two or three strings. From time to time more strings were added until the cithara was invented. This was an instrument in the shape of a capital P, with 10 strings stretched across the open space. Many centuries afterward musicians conceived the idea of stretching strings across an open box. About the year 1200 this was done, the dulcimer made its appearance, and the strings were struck with hammers.

For another hundred years or so these hammers were held in the hands and then some genius invented a keyboard, which, being struck by the fingers, caused the hammers to strike the strings. This was called a clavicytherium, or keyed cithara, and from time to time it was modified and improved.

During Queen Elizabeth's time it was called a virginal, and then a spinet, because the hammers were covered with the spines of quills, which struck and caught the strings and produced the sound.

During the period between 1700 and 1800 it was much improved and enlarged and was given the name of harpsichord. It was in 1710 that Bartholomeo Christofoll, an Italian, invented a keyboard similar to the one we have now, which causes the hammers to strike the wires from above, and thus develop the piano.

During the last century the inventive genius of musicians the world over has revised and improved it until it was reached the present-day perfection.

SOME SUGGESTIONS ABOUT PYROGRAPHY

There are a few signposts along the pyrographic way that, if observed carefully, will lead to success—yes, even for beginners. The outfit can be purchased at an art department of a large store; the wooden forms bought for any purpose and in varying degrees of intricacy. Wood, leather, velvet and cardboard can be easily decorated.

When selecting wood, do not choose the variety that contains much resin, as this spoils the point. Maple, birch, sandalwood, bass and lime are perhaps the best.

Leather, in the soft undressed varieties or in unfinished calf, is an excellent working ground for amateurs. Do not allow the point to remain on the surface, as a hole will result at once. Use what is known as a cool point. Moisten the leather after stretching well and fasten in place by thumbtacks.

Many of the articles are now purchasable with designs already stamped on them. From a variety select a design that is conventional.

DREAM SHIPS.

Like ships upon a stormless sea,
High up in noonday sky,
Great dream ships white from stem to stern
In silence glided by.

And in the hush of twilight calm,
With crimson sails all furled,
Bound for the port of dreams they sailed

And every ship bore treasure trove,
Within its mystic hold,
Of love and hope and kindliness
And wealth of world untold.

But we who owned the magic ships,
Life's lesson learned in vain,
Would gladly part with all we have,
To own them once again.

The Importance of the "Big Business" of Housekeeping

There is much talk in the world today of "big business." Men hold in their hands the reins of financial power, and the average woman looks with awe upon the masculine mind which can grasp and control so much that is vital to the welfare of the nation.

But woman has a "big business" to which she may apply herself so perfectly that men will stand amazed before her competency. For no one will contend that there are not great difficulties to surmount in an occupation which includes not only the financial future of a family, but its physical, mental and spiritual as well.

Many women who find existence dull, uninteresting and uneventful would become vivid and enthusiastic if they could only be waked up to the knowledge that housekeeping is "big business." That, in fact, there is no other vocation in the whole wide world that is quite so important.

When people begin to talk about this domestic duty as not merely difficult but trivial and dreary, I simply give up the question. For I cannot with the utmost energy of imagination conceive what they meant. When domesticity, for instance, is called drudgery all the difficulty arises from a double meaning in the word. If drudgery only means dreadfully hard work, I admit the woman drudges in the home, as a man might drudge at the Cathedral of Amiens or drudge behind a gun at rafalgar. But if it means that the hard work is more heavy because it is trifling, colorless and of small import to the soul, then as I say, I give it up; I do not know what the words mean.

Yet, the other day, a college girl, who will be married in the fall, shrugged her shoulders when it was suggested that she make a study of housekeeping. "I shall keep a maid," she said, "and if I should need to learn to cook, there is the cookbook. Any intelligent woman can surely follow instructions."

Can't you see the narrow limits she has set to her domestic vision? To her housekeeping means cooking—the possession of a maid the solution of all problems, and she, forsooth, is to be left "free' to do the things she considers important.

Yet cooking is not to-day the test of good housekeeping. One can, if one's income is elastic, hire a good cook. But there is the refrigerator—not one maid in 50 knows how to keep it hygenically in order. And the menus? We can, of course, find lists in all the magazines, but these lists must be made to conform to the tastes and pocketbook of each household.

How many brides are competent to instruct the maid in table-setting? How many know all the details of correct service? Yet often ignorance of these matters is the price of the serenity of a whole household.

What do you know of the cuts of meats? Can you meet the question of high prices by practical suggestions to your cook with regard to the preparation of the less expensive parts of beef and mutton? What do you know of food values?

Have you your eye on the market, o rare you ordering oranges at 60 cents a dozen for your breakfast fruit when peaches are 50 cents a basket? Are you having crown roast of lamb for your Sunday dinners when a chicken pie with its economy of gravy and crust would afford a delicious and satisfying substitute?

American wives have yet to learn that housekeeping is a business in which they can earn money by saving it. I know many wives who are, today, seeking desperately for some occupation which will pay them a few dollars each week, when in their own refrigerators and patrons food is going to waste, milk is growing sour, and wasteful cooks are using eggs and butter and sugar in prodigious quantities because their mistresses would consider themselves "stingy" to speak a word of warning or give supervision of the culinary department.

The French people are far ahead of us in their observance of the "penny saved, penny earned" theory. They use for their salads the parts of the vegetables which we throw away. They toast the left-over slices of bread which we let mould.

They prepare from the common and healthful vegetable which we scorn, dishes fit for epicures. And they do these things because they believe that thrift is imperative, and as a result they have bank accounts, and a financial stability which is rare among the plain people of other nations.

In housekeeping woman has five or six professions. She must know something of dressmaking, of cooking, of serving, of finance, of household hygiene. And these things are interesting only when they are given their true value in the world of endeavor. The woman who holds competently her place as manager of her household, ranks high above women in other professions, for she has learned to do not one thing but many, and her executive ability must be of the most perfect order if she is to realize the ideal in the working out of her domestic "big business."

NURSERY HINTS.

All children should be taught to breathe through the nose and to keep the mouth tightly closed. Many disease germs enter through the open mouth, while if the mouth is kept closed the air becomes purified and tempered for the lungs while passing through the long, moist nasal passages.

Too much milk is not good for children. It is apt to clog the liver and make the children fretful and bilious. Plenty of good, cool water keeps children healthy and strong.

It may not be generally known that a little cayenne pepper sprinkled on a linseed poultice can be used instead of mustard. It does not blister and keeps the poultice warm much longer. When making a mustard plaster, mix it with melted lard till just thin enough to spread. Done this way, it will not blister the skin.

TO PREVENT WASTE OF FOODS

If you want a neat, clean moulding board, procure a thick piece of plate glass, about 20 by 30 inches, and give it a trial.

Keep a pane of window glass in your cook book. It keeps it open and clean and you can read recipes through it.

Save the water in which vegetables are cooked for soup. Also all bits of bones and meat for soup stock; celery tops and wilted lettuce for celery and lettuce soup. The water in which a leg of mutton has been boiled may be used for cream soup. Combined with celery, turnips and onions, a delicious soup can be made.

Left-over mashed potatoes can be used for potato roses and fishballs or croquettes. Left-over baked potatoes can be made into stuffed potatoes, or they can be pared, sliced and creamed. The flavor is much improved if they stand in white sauce an hour before using.

When opening a can of tomatoes, use thin part for tomato soup and the thick for scalloped dishes.

Pieces of suet should be saved and tried out. This saves lard bills.

The drippings from roast beef can be used for basting fowls. This saves butter.

Bits of cold ham make a delicious meat pie, or they can be ground and made into an omelet, or mixed with scrambled eggs, or can be mixed with mayonnaise sauce for sandwiches or spread on toast.

The water ham has been boiled in makes excellent soup when diluted with tomato juice and vegetables added, or pea soup may be made from it by boiling split peas in the water with vegetables. Then put them through a sieve.

Peaches can be washed before peeling and peelings used for marmalade.

Watermelon rind can be sliced and preserved.

Apple peelings can be used for apple jelly or they can be dried to use as a deodorizer.

USEFUL HINTS.

Get a board about a foot and a half long, half a foot wide; keep it on the shelf in the pantry. It is handy if you have a hot dish. If cooking, put it on the kitchen table for things that come from the oven, as a kettle or spider; then, when frying doughnuts, flour your board and you can put two dozen or more on it and take it to the stove. Saves lots of steps.

To whiten cloths that are yellow, put a great spoonful of cream tartar in a pail of water, put cloths in and let come to a boil. They will come out nice and white.

Cover your bedsprings with paper and it will keep your mattress clean.

CARING FOR MAN'S STOMACH.

One man likes to be made a fuss over, another likes to be let alone, and a third likes his mind diverted. But in all cases have something good for him to eat, whatever kind he is. —Exchange.

NEW TOILET PINS.

Buckle-shaped brooches now fasten the back of the stock collar, and these are so wide that they almost fill the space at the back of the neck and afford the support to the chiffon and net throat veiling at that point which the best of boning will not furnish.

A DESIRABLE BRUSH.

Do you always to be neat? Then supply yourself with a collapsible clothes brush, which shuts up into a flat little tin box that will go into a rather small handbag. The brush is made of the finest bristles set in rows against a flat surface, and over this fits a thin cover which slips on or off by the action of a tiny lever. It is a nice farewell gift for anyone and would be an acceptable bridge prize.

SOME REMINDERS.

By putting a hot water bottle in the clothes bag in winter, while hanging out the clothes, will keep the hands and pins warm.

To go over the gas stove once a week with raw linseed oil will keep it nice and black and prevent it from rusting.

A broom will last much longer if one ties the strands of the broom together and soak it in boiling water two hours; then dry it thoroughly before using.

WHEN BABY IS ILL.

When baby is ill—when he is troubled with constipation, colic, worms or cold; when his teeth are bothering him or when he is restless and cross and does not sleep well, give him Baby's Own Tablets. They are the mother's greatest aid in keeping her little ones well—thousands of mothers give their babies no other medicine because they know the Tablets to be absolutey safe. They are guaranteed by a government analyst to be free from opiates and other harmful drugs found in so-called "soothing" mixtures. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. William's Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PLANS READY FOR NEW POST OFFICE

Tenders Will Be Advertised for Shortly and Work Will Be Begun In March.

Advices from Ottawa state that the plans for the extension and enlargement of the present Quebec Post Office, which will double its size, have been approved and are now in the hands of the Government printers, and it is announced that just as soon as they are printed tenders will be asked for.

As already reported in the Chronicle, the Buade street premises will be extended in the direction of Mountain Hill and will cover the sloping Government ground west of Mr. M. Foley's residence. The architecture will be kept in perfect harmony with the present building. A wing will also cover the lane in the rear of the present post office, and will extend towards DufferinTerrace as far as St. Anne street.

The structure of the Grand Trunk Railway, which owns the two properties on Du Fort street, now used as passenger offices by the Grand Trunk and Intercolonial Railways, will be demolished and a handsome building erected on the land, that will harmonize with the post office building. It will have a granite frontage that will give the appearance of one solid block.

New Railroad Offices.

The ground floor of the latter building will be used as passenger affices for the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, and the upper stories will be used as general railway and steamship offices for the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Architects from the Montreal offices of the Grand Trunk System have already visited Quebec to take ovservations and measurements of the company's properties on Du Fort street, and it is expected that the work of demolishing of the buildings will be commenced next March.

BUSY DAY IN COURT HOUSE

Six Judges Sitting — Hears More Evidence In Lotbiniere Election Case.

Yesterday was a rather busy day in the Court House and although the regular term of the court closed on Wednesday last, no less than six judges sat.

In the Court of Review, which opened yesterday, there were only two Quebec cases on the roll for hearing and they were taken under advisement, the presiding judges being Justice Malouin, Cannon, Tourigny and Roy.

Monday next, Thanksgiving day, being a legal holiday, the Court of Review will only sit on Tuesday, when only two cases from the rural districts, one from Arthabaska and the other from Three Rivers, will be disposed of. There were, in all, 11 cases on the roll, but eight will have to remain over until the end of November, as the cases were not completed according to the rules of the Court.

Judgments will be rendered in the Review Court on Thursday next.

Lotbiniere Election.

A special court, presided over by Chief Justice Lemieux and Judge Dorion, sat to hear another batch of witnesses in the contested election of Mr. Fortier, Liberal M.P. for Lotbiniere. On a former occasion two witnesses were examined on behalf of the petitioner and yesterday only seven, out of the ten witnesses summoned by the petitioner, put in an appearance. Two testified to the fact that they each received ten dollars from a man named Bourque, who is supposed to be Mr. Fortier's chief organizer, but without instructions as to how to dispose of the money.

Another witness, named Girouard, of St. Sylvester, admitted having received $55 from Bourque and distributed that amount to several of Mr. Fortier's friends, the sums so distributed ranging from $1.50 to $8.00. He had $5.00 to spare and that was to be distributed among Mr. Fortier's Irish supporters in that parish. This latter admission caused considerable laughter in Court.

As the attorneys in the case have to attend the Supreme Court in Ottawa, at the commencement of next month, the case was adjourned until the 12th November next.

Mr. Moraud is the attorney for the petitioner with Hon. E. J. Flynn as counsel, while Hon. L. A. Taschereau and Mr. L. A. Cannon represent Mr. Fortier.

$5.50 umbrellas for $3. are leaders in to-day's sale at Seifert's.

COMING SALE.

The ladies of Trinity Church intend holding a sale of useful and fancy articles on Tuesday, 10th December next. Full particulars will be advertised later on.

Seifert's Saturday sales will be continued to the end of November, special inducements to buyers every Saturday.

The Pierrots Club of the Empress of Ireland has kindly offered to give an entertainment in aid of a patient in the Lake Edward Sanatarium. It will take place in St. Matthew's Church parish room on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The minister, Rev. G. H. Cobbledick, will conduct special Thanksgiving services. 11 a.m., "Christ's Hope of Harvest." Anthem, "Sing Alleluiah Forth" (Dudley Buck.) 7 p.m. "Causes for Thanksgiving in Quebec." Anthem, "Is it not wheat harvest?"

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

The Recorder had four prisoners charged with drunkenness before him yesterday. They were condemned to fines of $5 and costs or eight days' jail each.

A carter for carting refuse without a cover on his vehicle and using another carter's number was fined $10 and costs or one month.

"TURNPIKE TRUST" WILL GO AFTER TOLLS FROM AUTOS.

The "Turnpike Trust" is going after the automobile owners and will endeavor to force them to pay tolls that at present only applies to horse-drawn vehicles.

The trust has decided to present a bill at the next session of the Legislature to this end, and expects to be successful in having the bill passed.

TEN EYCK CHAMPION VETERAN OARSMAN

Defeats Riley In Race For Scullers Over 60 Years Old At Saratoga, N. Y.

Saratoga, N.Y., Oct. 25—James A. Ten Eyck, of Syracuse, the veteran rowing coach, defeated James H. Riley, of this village, a former professional, over a three mile course on Lake Lonely to-day in a match which had been arranged to settle the championship for oarsmen past sixty years of age.

Ten Eyck is 61 and Riley is 65. Neither man experienced any serious discomfort during the race and both finished in good condition. The time was twenty-one minutes and twenty seconds. Ten Eyck has defeated Riley twice before in similar matches.

MEETING OF CREDITORS.

At a meeting of the creditors of Tancrede Bergeron, hotel keeper, of this city, Mr. Leon D. Blais, accountant, was appointed curator and Mr. L. Letourneau and Mr. J. A. Bourret, both of this city, were appointed inspectors.

BERARD'S NOMINATION IS NOT POPULAR

Yesterday's issue of Le Canada, the Montreal organ of the Provincial Government, announced the nomination of L. P. Berard, K. C., as a member of the Legislative Council for the Lanaudion division, in the place of Hon. Mr. Allard.

This appointment is not received with much enthusiasm among the Liberals of the District of Montreal, as the new Legislative Councillor never took and prominent part in politics, although he was a member of Sir Lomer Gouin's legal firm. It was expected that the position would be given to Mr. Jos. Lafontaine, who represented the County of Bertier in the Provincial Legislature for several years, but who was defeated at the last provincial elections.

BUSINESS DIFFICULTIES.

The Moffett Laundry Co., Ltd., of this city, has gone into liquidation on the demand of F. X. Carrier, merchant, of Beauport. Messrs. Bedard & Belanger have been appointed provisional liquidators, and the meeting of creditors has been fixed for the 29th October, to appoint a liquidator.

Juseph Carrier, butcher, of Levis, has assigned on demand of Albert Ouellet, also of that town. Assets $1935, liabilities $2551. Mr. Alfred Lemieux, accountant, of Levis, has been named provisional guardian, and the meeting of creditors has been fixed for the 2nd November next.

On demand of Thibaudeau Freres & Co., wholesale merchants, of Quebec, Louis Despres, merchant, of Levis, has consented to assign with liabilities of $3680 and assets of $1900, besides certain rights on a property in that town. The principal creditors are Thibaudeau Freres & Co., $1500, and Cyrille Robitailee, of Quebec, $1100. Mr. R. Ernest Lefaivre, accountant, of this city, has been named provisional guardian, and the meeting of creditors to appoint a curator and inspectors is fixed for the 2nd November next.

MRS. ANN KENNEDY CLORAN.

Death has claimed another old Quebec resident, Mrs. Ann Kennedy Cloran, widow of the late Charles Cloran, in his lifetime an extensive master baker at Montreal, and mother of Senator H. J. Cloran. Mrs. Cloran died Thursday, at the home of her sister, Miss Kate Kennedy, on Champlain street.

Mrs. Cloran was born at Limerick, Ireland, 84 years ago. She came to Canada and settled in Quebec, and later in life was married to the late Charles Cloran, who conducted an extensive bakery business in Montreal. Her husband died twenty years ago. She then came to Quebec to live with her sister, Miss Kennedy.

Mrs. Cloran was well known in both Montreal and Quebec. While a resident of Montreal she was a devout member of St. Patrick's Church, in which she took a deep interest, and was highly respected for her many womanly virtues, and kind and generous charity.

Senator H. J. Cloran, her son, arrived in Quebec yesterday to attend his mother's funeral, which will take place next Monday morning at the home of her sister at 8.30 o'clock.

1. In order to secure convenient access to the Drouin bridge on its Limoilou side, this Council orders, in the public interest, that the fourth street be extended to the Charlesbourg road, that the said Charlesbourg road be widened at its turning point on the third street and facing the entrance of the bridge down to the northern limit of lot No. 509a, and also to acquire, by amicable settlement, or by way of expropriation :

(a) On lot No. 509a: about four thousand six hundred and sixty-eight (4668) square feet for the extension of the fourth street, and four hundred and eighty-four (484) square feet, one hundred and forty-eight (148) square feet, and seven hundred and fifty (750) square feet, for the wideningof the Charlesbourg road;

(b) On lot 509-367: about two thousand seven hundred and eighty-four (2784) for the extension of the said fourth street.

The said superficies forming in toto about nine thousand eight hundred and thirty-four (9834) feet, as shown on a plan deposited in the City Engineer's office, bearing date the 21st of October instant, and prepared by Mr. Hugh O'Donnell, Surveyor.

2. The price to be paid for the said land shall be taken out of the credits voted for contingent expenditure for the current fiscal year.

RUPTURE

From Monday the 4th of November to Thursday the 7th. the Specialist of so well known in Quebec will be again at the VICTORIA HOTEL.

Hours: 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. All advice given free.

Don't fail to go and see him.

No more spring trusses!
No more so-called elastic belts with soft, inconsistent, or flat pads!

The first above named are instruments of torture which injure the flesh about the back and hips, and which by their violent pressure, crush the hernia, press into the muscles, ENLARGE the rupture instead of closing it, and make it worse instead of healing it.

The others are absolutely incapable of maintaining the hernia IN ITS PROPER POSITION, that is to say, in the interior of the body; if the hernia is large, they allow it to drop at the LEAST MOVEMENT; if it is small, they HIDE IT, but do not contain it; they are therefore incapable to stop the evil from growing, and of preventing the TERRIBLE ACCIDENT OF STRANGULATION.

The only apparatus in which we may have confidence are those which have not only the recommendation of one or two physicians, of one or two sick people, but THOSE WHICH HAVE THE OFFICIAL APPROBATION OF THE LARGE MEDICAL CORPS, and the testimonials of HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS of patients.

And THE ONLY APPARATUS IN THE WORLD which offer such guarantees are the patented apparatus of Mr. A. Claverie, the celebrated specialist of Paris, who during the last quarter of a century had so many times attracted the attention of the scientific world.

His last creation "The Talisman" solves definitely the question of his treatment of rupture with bandages.

This marvellous apparatus, THE MOST POWERFUL of any, and at the same time the MOST GENTLE, and the MOST COMFORTABLE, maintains any kind of rupture, without ever causing the least pain, and without ever becoming displaced; in a word it is the only apparatus SCIENTIFICALLY established, with a view to permanent cure by means of PALLIATION.

According to the best French surgeons it is perfection itself in the matter of apparatus for the cure of rupture.

There should not therefore be a single person suffering from this infirmity who would neglect this occasion to put an end to all his fears and trouble.

Let everyone go to the Victoria Hotel, Monday the 4th of November till Thursday the 7th.

HOT TIME IN OLD TOWN OVER HOCKEY

N. H. A. Meets in Quebec To-Night, And They Say There's Blood On the Moon.

There'll be a hot time in the old town to-night.

The town referred to is Quebec, and the place where the conflagration is expected to materialize, is the Council room of the National Hockey Association.

It became known late to-day that a sort of an auto-da-fe seems to have been quietly arranged and the innocent victim is to be Mr. S. E. Lichtenhein, President of the Wanderer Hockey Club.

Must Lose Johnson and Hyland.

The scheme is nothing less than to deprive him of Johnson and Hyland, put Mr. Patrick into good humor again, and sustain President Quinn in his good work of trying to form a National Hockey Commission.

Naturally the intention is to modify Mr. Patrick's demands a bit, but to, if it be possible at all, put through the Union, between East and West, which it is expected will tremendously strengthen the game.

A motion is to be proposed to the effect that President Quinn be ordered to if possible bring the negotiations of himself and Patrick for a Hockey Commission to a conclusion and to enable him to do so, the Wanderers will be ordered to give up Johnson and Hyland with the alternative that Mr, Lichtenhein can buy them in proper trade from Mr. Patrick.

Lichtenhein Will Fight.

It is expected that the motion will create great trouble, for Mr. Lichtenhein is known as a fighter, but from what can be ascertained the other clubs seem to be all against Wanderers in this particular case.

The case of Lalonde, which on the surface, looks similar to that of Johnson and Hyland, will not come in consideration as Mr. Kennedy has some private understanding with the Patricks about it.

ST. PATRICK'S HOCKEY CLUB MEETS TUESDAY

The St. Patrick's Hockey Club, of this city, will have an important meeting on Tuesday evening next when it is probable that the question of entering the Interprovincial League will be discussed. The St. Pat's have always shown considerable interest in hockey matters and if they decide to enter and succeed in getting in this league, hockey enthusiasts will now rest assured that they will witness some good hockey games this coming season outside of the senior.

AMERICAN LEAGUE UMPS PICK TEAM

Ben Johnson's Indicator Holders Name the Best Players in the Organization.

The umpires have to decide so many close decisions, why not put the question of picking the All-Star base ball teams up to them? Then all that disagree with their decisions can keep on railing at the umpire.

There are many reasons why an all-star ball team should, if selected at all, be picked by the umpires. In the first place the umpires have no favorites, so their selections wouldn't be influenced by local pride nor friendship. But chief among the reasons is that the umpires are closest to the players in action, see every good or bad point in the players' work, observe at close range a player's gameness; his quality of sportsmanship, his ability and willingness to work for the team instead of his own record, how the players adapt themselves to varying conditions on different grounds, how they stand up under the fire of a hostile crowd, how they take a "call" from the manager (in the right spirit or sulkily); and, in short, because the umpire is always on the job, an eye witness to every bit of base ball and by-play that takes place on the diamond.

In this article the umpires on the staff of President B. B. Johnson of the American league have picked the All-Star American league team. In another article the umpires of the National league will pick the hypothetical aggregation from that circuit. Then to crown the season's glory, Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, will select the all-star team from both major leagues. Mr. Jennings is well qualified for that task because he was watching closely all the players in both leagues.

CLOSING LETTER.

By private wire to Neuville Belleau & Co., 93 St. Puter Street, Quebec. Phones 946-4076.

New York, Oct. 25.—The market to-day experienced another attack of of furious London liquidation. Heavy blocks of stocks were thrown on the market, thirty thousand shares of Steel being one sample lot disposed of. Steel touched 74⅝, 1⅝ points off from last night; Union Pacific lost 1¼ and Amalgamated, selling ex-dividend, lost 1⅝. Reading dropped 1½ and Lehigh Valley as much. Some of the coppers in Boston were notably weak; Copper Range, Granby, North Butte and Calumet and Arizona all suffered to the extent of 2 to 3 points. Distillers lost over 3 points yesterday and almost as much more to-day on reports of poor business and inside selling. The Atchison statement for September showed a gross gain of $1,070,000 and net increase of $600,000, but this had no effect on the stock's value and did not prevent a break of ⅛ of a point to 107⅝. Transactions during the first hour were 133,700 shares and the second hour 258,000 shares after, which there was a decided falling off and the next three hours the total was less than in the morning session. After 1 o'clock the word was passed around that the market had seen its lowest and that a rally would take place which report was realized to a degree during the closing two hours. The banks this week have lost over $9,500,000 cash and this will undoubtedly be reflected in a bad statement to-morrow. Heavy buying of wheat for export and equally large shipments are recorded.

The closing was firm, at recovery of about half the earlier loss.

We rather anticipate further improvements for the time being.

"EXCUSE ME" COMING TO THE AUDITORIUM

SCENE FROM "EXCUSE ME," RUPERT HUGHES' FARCE COMEDY WHICH PLAYS AT THE AUDITORIUM NOVEMBER 4th and 5th.

Local demonstration of the excellent quality of "Excuse Me," a farce by Rupert Hughes, will be given by Henry W. Savage at the Auditorium Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 4 and 5, with as brilliant a company of comedians as ever has been assembled in one organization. "Ecuse Me" is laughter long and loud and all through three acts. Every mai, woman and youth who sees "Excuse Me" will be tied up in knots of merriment.

The play is a farce, but it is not a knockabout, horseplay hodgepodge of nonsense. On the contrary, its humor and comedy are clever, sane and plausible. Its comic episodes might readily come upon just such travellers as those who might really be making the trip from Chicago to Reno in the Pullman cars of an Overland Limited express. The entire action takes place on a railroad train. The three acts are in the cars. Persons meet who did not expect to, others meet who did not want to, others again hadn't meant to but glad they did, and there are surprises, happy and otherwise, with ghastly amusing consequences that keep getting funnier to the end of the trip. The train crew contributes to the merriment, so does the dog, while the Pullman porter who later has to double up as the club car steward is the funniest fellow who ever looked for a tip.

HARNESS SUN TO LIGHT THE OCEAN

Uncle Sam Makes Old Sol the Keeper of Hundreds of His Lighthouses.

(From Harper's Weekly)

The sun is the most trustworthy of lighthouse-keepers. The sun, or the heat from it, lights many hundreds of beacons along our coasts and waterways evening after evening and extinguishes them punctually every morning. They are guides on land and sea that never are touched by human hands from one month's end to another. The way in which the United States Government, through its Lighthouse Board, has utilized the services of the sun and made that great lamp of heaven a faithful and unerring servant is most interesting.

The discovery of acetylene gas was the first step toward retiring the lonely keepers of the little lights in far-off places. Modern magic was not slow in recognizing the fact that by the application of certain well-known scientific principles the lighting of the great chains of beacons that girdle the coasts of the two seas and the Gulf and cover the Great Lakes and every navigable stream in our huge country could be much simplified. The United States did not become interested in the actylene light and its automatically generating gas buoy until about six years ago and did not adopt it until 1908. Then the engineers of the Lighthouse Board devised some wonderful improvements, among them the utilization of the sun. In the last three years many hundreds of the old type of lanterns afloat and ashore have been superseded by this new device. About sixty of them have been installed in Alaska this year.

The self-lighting and self-extinguishing acetylene beacon is a very simple thing, but it depends almost entirely on the "sun valve," which is one of the most wonderful but least complex of the achievements of modern science.

Dissolved Acetylene.

In the first place, the source of light for those lone beacons is dissolved acetylene, which is stored under pressure in steel cylinders. One of these cylinders can be charged with enough gas to last a small beacon three years. Usually, however, in the case of floating buoys, a six months' supply is all that is necessary, as such buoys are overhauled and painted twice a year. Knowing the size of the flame and its hourly consumption of gas, it is very easy to compute how long a cylinderful will last and how often it will need to be visited. That is all the care the light will need. The sun valve does the rest.

The scientific principle upon which the sun valve depends is that light-waves become transformed in different degrees, according to the nature of the intercepting body. Sunlight upon dark surfaces is converted into heat and heat produces expansion. This expansion is especially perceptible in certain metals. In a carefully sealed and substantially mounted glass jar nearly a foot high and about one-fourth that in diameter a thick black rod is placed perpendicularly through the center. It is supported by three slenderer rods of highly polished copper. The big black rod is of copper also and is coated with lampblack to make it absorb light to the greatest possible degree. The supporting rods reflect light without absorbing it and do not expand or contract to the same extent as the largest rod.

The thick black piece of copper in the centre of the jar is extremely sensitive to light and heat. As the sun appears and the atmosphere grows warmer in the morning this rod lengthens. It pushes down into the metal chamber in which the glass jar rests and touches the end of a lever. It presses down on this lever, which is controlled by a spring, and cuts off the flow of the gas to the lamp.

When the sun disappears from view in the evening and the temperature of the air falls the process is reversed. The rod contracts and releases its pressure on the lever, allowing the gas to flow upward to the lamp. The gas is ignited by a little pilot flame that is never extinguished. Thus the beacon is lighted at the proper time and is put out when it is no longer needed, although along desolate coasts it may never gladden the human eye for months at a time.

Device Very Precise.

The engineers of the Lighthouse Board say that the precision of this device is almost incredible. It can be used with equal certainty in equatorial heat and in polar cold, for it responds with the utmost accuracy to small variations in temperature. It is used on lonely islands in the Pacific. There are nearly a hundred of these sun-valve beacons in Alaska. In summer they are aids to navigation and in winter they guide the travellers on dog sledges over the frozen wastes.

The Lighthouse Board, which has charge of the construction and maintenance of lighthouses, light-vessels, lighthouse depots, beacons, fog signals, buoys and their appendages, and all the property that appertains to them, is now one of the divisions of the Department of Commerce and Labor. Before the creation of that department it was a distinct bureau of the Treasury Department. Its practical supervision is still in the hands of navy and army officehs specially detailed to these duties by the secretaries of the navy and war. Army men of the Engineer Corps look after the construction of the important buildings, like those along the seacoast and the Great Lakes. This dovetails with the supervision by the War Department of the river and harbor works. Naval officers of the proper rank and experience are assigned as inspectors of the nineteen districts, and in the inland service esperially they are substantially the executive heads. Their word is law. The position of chairman of the Lighthouse Board at Washington is a post of great dignity and importance and always goes to the Navy. Admirals Dewey, Schley, Walker, Evans, and other sailors of renown have held this post.

The Lighthouse Service of the United States costs about $5,000,000 a year. The greater part of this sum is used in caring for the lighting of the coasts.

AWARD PRIZES IN GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL ACADEMY CLASSES

As the prizes to the successful pupils of the second and third grade academy classes of the Girls' High School could not be awarded at the closing exercise of last June, they were presented yesterday in the school assembly room by the chairman, Dean Wililams, and the Commissioner, Lt.-Col. Davidson.

A short programme was carried out, beginning with the school singing the hymn "Oh, King of Kings."

The Dean then made some appropriate remarks dealing with the success of the pupils in the recent university examination, and how the Board greatly appreciated the efforts of the teaching staff to bring the school up to the excellent position it holds among the educational institutions of the country; also the esprit de corps that prevails in the scholars of the Girls' High.

It being so near Thanksgiving Day he recommended the pupils to attend the thanksgiving services in their respective churches, for all had much to be thankful for.

Miss Helen Elliot then gave a recitation, folowed by an excellent and well prepared essay on "Thanksgiving" by Miss Mary Hunt.

The prizes were then presented. In the third grade academy Miss Rebene Schmilovitcz, who is now at Macdonald College, took first prize, the gold medal given the school by Hon. P. Boucher de Lotbiniere, Superintendent of Education. The second was taken by Miss Una Treggett.

In the second grade academy the first prize was taken by Miss Rachel Schmilovitcz, with an average of 83 1-2 per cent. The second was taken by Miss Elga Lemesurier.

Gen. U. S. Hallister, said to be one of the greatest living authorities on the Indian, has spent five years living among the Navajo tribes to learn their customs. He says that a Navajo never has anything to do with his mother-in-law. In fact, when she appears upon the scene he disappears. They worship the sun and clouds and he thinks may be a lost tribe of the East.

DREADNOUGHT DOCK PROVES A SUCCESS

In Recent Trial It Lifted Battle-Cruiser Lion, With 30,415 Tons Displacement.

The final lifting trial of the Dreadnought dock built by Swan, Hunter, and Wigham Richardson, Ltd., Wallsend-on-Tyne, for the British Admiralty, took place in the River Medway on the 2nd October, when the battle-cruiser "Lign," displacing 30,-415 tons, and drawing 31ft. 6in. of water was successfully docked and lifted. The actual lifting opeartion of the dock from a draught of 31ft. 6in. until the pontoon dock was awash at the sides occupied three hours and ten minutes. The total distance through which the vessel was lifted was 36 feet, and the total quantity of water necessary to be pumped in order to raise the deck of the dock clear of the water was about 46,000 tons.

After the Loin had been cleaned and painted and some necessary repairs had been affected, the dock was lowered the following morning at 8 o'clock and the ship was undocked during the day. The operation of lifting this huge battle-cruiser was one of the greatest interest, as no ship of a similar displacement has ever been lifted out of the water by a floating dock. The time occupied in lifting the vessel was well within the limits prescribed by contract. It is understood that the floating dock built at Birkenhead and stationed at Portsmouth, which is in all respects a replica of the Tyne-built dock, will be tested in a similar manner very shortly.

MOUNTAIN RAILWAY FINISHED IN TYROL

Line 5,250 Fett In Length Will Sonn Be Opened Near Bozen.

Geneva, Oct. 25.—A new mountain railway has just been completed on the Kohlerer, near Bozen, in the Tyrol, with the object of providing a convenient way to the purer air above for the constant stream of visitors to the country under the shadow of the Schlern, Rosengarten and Ortler.

In November, 1910, the old aerial ropeway on the Kohlererberg stopped running. It was originally intended solely as a goods line, with timber supports for the carrying ropes, but subsequently also received a license for the conveyance of passengers, which it held for about a year. In spite of its primitive construction and the lack of catch and safety appliances, the traffic was extremely heavy; but, although no accident is on record, the railway had to be stopped on account of these defects. The owner, Mr. Josef Staffler (Bozen), however, immediately decided to install a new and more efficient aerial line on the best and most perfect system existing.

Starts Behind Bridge.

The new Kohlerer line, which has been completed in a little over a year, starts behind a bridge of the Eisack and runs over twelve strong iron supports to the top of the Bauerkohlern. The difference in level between the two stations is about 2755 feet, and the length of the line about 5250 feet. Each of the cars, whic hare equipped with numerous catch, brake and sefety appliances, will carry sixteen persons.

Strong double steel wire ropes serve as the track, and double traction ropes, which are electrically driven from the dium. Ample provision in the form of signalling and telephoning appliances has been made to connect the two stations and furnish means of communication between these and the cars. The trial runs, brake and catch tests have already been successfully made, so that the line will probably be opened in the near future.

MODERN HOUSEHOLD CONVENIENCES.

(By a Housekeeping Expert)

A conveniently arranged and well equipped kitchen is a delight in the home.

I know of no more important labor saver in the dining room than the wheeled tray. It is amazing that it is found in so few homes. With its aid all food for any one meal may be delivered at one trip, and all the leftover food, dirty dishes and silver are returned to the kitchen with as little effort.

The trays can be found in most furniture stores, but they are not always as conveniently built as they might be. At the housekeeping experiment station at Darien, Conn., one of the bought trays was found to be a little cumbersome to move. So the badly designed wheels were removed and swivel catsers were placed on the front legs. With this simple change it became a perfect device.

In the modern flat, with its abundance of hot and cold water, gas range, kitchen cabinet, refrigerator and sink, many of the old-time problems are done away with. But others problems do come up, and there is just as much to learn in solving them and just as much time and labor can be saved by proper arrangement and system.

In my domestic science work I have an opportunity of seeing many different arrangements for the household, some of which are entirely experimental, and some ideals of economy. One of the most perfect gas kitchens I have ever had the pleasure of inspecting was finished all in white, and proper spacing, sanitation and convenience had been carefully studied in the assemblage of the gas range, work table, kitchen cabinet, enamelled sink, refrigerator and aluminum utensils.

The walls were decorated in white enamel, and the gas range finished in white enamel and tile. The range had a boiling oven, heated by one set of burners, and a roasting oven and two side-warming ovens, heated by radiation from the roasting oven burners. The perforated base of the range was also finished in white enamel.

On the top of the boiling burners there was a set of "triple-combination" saucepans made of aluminum, placed there to show that three vegetables, soups or other dishes could be cooked on one burner, thus economizing fuel.

The work table had a top of solid nonporous white glass, one and a quarter inches thick, 42 inches long and 28 inches wide. It stood nearly in the centre of the kitchen floor and just four feet six inches from the range.

In the kitchen cabinet the flour bin was placed below instead of in the upper cupboard. The cabinet was finished inside and out with a triple coat of white enamel. A solid piece of cast-iron, coated with enamel, comprised the kitchen sink.

On the right side there was a white rubber mat to prevent breakage or chipping of dishes and glassware. Just over the sink, at a distance of four feet, were placed the culinary utensils, handy for use and high enough to avoid steaming from the process of dishwashing or from the turning on of the hot-water faucet. The rack contained saucepans, kettles, rice boiler, bread pans, cake pans, strainers, measuring cups, muffin pans and biscuit sheets.

A more modest kitchen I know of is just 12 feet square and has two windows. The walls are hard finished and enamelled. The floor is covered with lineoleum, which is easily washed and is treated to a coat of varnish every three months. A cupboard is built into the wall for kitchen utensils, flour bin and cereals of different kinds.

A range, a fireless cooker, a sink with cistern pump and water faucet, a swivel chair and a kitchen table which lets down like a drop leaf, made up the rest of the furniture. The chair also has drop leaves attached to the arms, a convenience when perparing fruit or vegetables. Having casters, it may be conveniently moved from place to place, and, if she desires, the housewife may sit while doing most of the kitchen work.

The up-to-date kitchen nowadays should have a fireless cooker and several sets of paper bags. A writer in a magazine recently said: "The three great scientific inventions of this century are wireless telegraphy, aviation and the fireless cook stove." He should have added paper-bag cookery.

For while the paper bags may not be such savers of time, fuel and labor as the fireless cooker, they are even more advantageous in adding flavor and healthfulness to the foods.

The bags retain all the nutriments of the foods and impart to them an odor, color and deliciousness that is not possible by any other means of cookery. From the standpoints of health and sanitation I believe them superior to any cookery device that has yet made its appearance. People never knew how good food could be made to taste until paper-bag cookery came into vogue. There are many little things that should be learned and borne in mind to attain efficiency in housekeeping.

In most kitchens there are too many utensils, resulting in a watse of money in first cost and in human labor, to say nothing of the crowding of shelves and closets. The kitchen should contain only the needed utensils, and care should be used in selecting those that serve the greatest number of useful purposes for the everyday practical needs.

A steam cooker is an impartant utensil. The best type consists of a water pan four inches deep and 10 wide. Tall and narrow coffee pots should be avoided, as their bad design occasions waste in fuel and time. Cast-iron pots are wasteful of fuel becauso of the inferior metal. An excellent coffee percolator has the graceful outline of a Greek vase, and is supported on a narrow base having a tapering, slender stem that supports the bowl. A steam egg poacher is an important household adjunct. It should be broad and shallow.

FOR MOUNTAIN CLIMBING.

Miss May Rogers Lane of Waltham, Mass., who has done a great deal of mountain tramping in the Adirondacks, says that she carries very little while on the tramp and that little includes a comb, toothbrush, extra collar, handkerchiefs and night apparel, with clothing, needle, thread and adhesive plaster and for food bread, butter, sandwich fillings, nuts, chocolate and cheese. Implements like knives and drinking cups make up the baggage.

General Sir Isaac Brock
Great Among Canada's Heroes

(By Walter R. Nursey, in the Toronto News.)

On October 13th, 1912 were commemorated the achievements and death of General Sir Isaac Brock and of his fellow heroes, who one hundred years ago gave up their lives at Queenston Heights in the defence of Canada and the integrity of the British Empire.

A century of study and reflection has enabled us to weigh Brock's service in the scales of impartial justice. To-day, perhaps, the greatest tribute to his deeds and his lasting claim upon our recognition rests in the fact that the severe test of one hundred years has not served to dimish in any one particular the exalted respect in which we have always held this truly great man. On the contrary it has strengthened one hundred fold the growing veneration with which we regard him—an admiration more profound with the passing of the century, as we now clearly understand in the light of history and present conditions the inestimable service he rendered to Canada.

A Record of High Example

The story of Sir Isaac Brock's life and the reiteration of his deeds should convey to the boys and girls of the Dominion, as well as to the men and women, a better appreciation of his work, a truer conception of his heroism, a wider understanding of his sacrifice. It is proper and appropriate that the anniversary of the death of the hero, defender and saviour of Upper Canada should receive public recognition especially at the hands of the children. Study closely the brief story that follows. It is a record of wise precept and high example upon which one and all of us can ponder with deepest interest and abiding profit.

In Wellington-Napoleon Year.

Isaac Brock was born at St Peter's Port, Guernsey, one of the English Channel Islands, on October 6th, 1769, the year made famous by the birth of both Wellington and Napoleon. Whether or not the course of the stars at that time specially influenced Isac's career, the fact remains that a boyhood spent within the sight and sound of the tides and the mouth of the North Sea developed an appetite for adventure, a grand physique, and a soul cast in a most uncommon mould.

Brock's father, who had been a British naval officer, was of gentle birth with many generations of fighting stock behind him. The same environment of a refined home; manly schoolfellows, a love for field sports and an earnest thirst for study and information conspired to evolve a singularly resolute character. Apart from his threws and sinews and athletic skill, for he excelled in all manly pastimes, was his extreme modesty and gentleness. From his earliest days, domination by the desire to achieve, to be a soldier was the height of his ambition, but as a conquest, no matter in what form temptation might allure him, from the first he determined that success should be won only by honor- Isaac Brock weighed his every act and viewed the issue from the standpoint of his obligations as a gentleman—in the broadest sense of that inspiring term—regulating his actions by the high standard up to the moment of his last sacrifice on Queenston Heights.

Young Lieutenant-Colonel

In 1785, when only sixteen, Isaac Infantry as an ensign, later exchanging into the 49th, the Royal Berkshires, then stationed in Barbadoes. In 1795, having served meanwhile in England and the Channel Islands, and now a soldier from toes to finger tips, bent on mastering every detail of his profession—thorough in militmajority and before his twenty-ninth birthday became senior Lieutenant-Colonel of his regiment—the youngest man at that time to hold such rank in the British service.

When the war in Holland followed, owing to the enforced alliance of that country with France through Napoleon's intrigue,—the 49th in command of Coonel Brock served under Sir Ralph Abercrombly at Egmont in the Zuyder-Zee campaign. After displaying conspicuous courage and much military ability he was consigned to barrack life at Norwich and later at St. Heliers in the Island of Jersey, where he remained until 1801. The year following found Brock once more in harness aboard H. M. S. Ganges in the Baltic Sea—and second in command of the land forces in the atack on Copenhagen by Lord Nelson. He returned again to his English barracks with the bay leaves of distinction on his brow, his heart touched, but not dismayed at the ferocity of war.

Ordered to Canada.

While the war in the Peninsua was being waged under Wellington, the 49th, greately to Brock's chagrin, was ordered to Canada. America was at was litle known. The outlook for an ambitious soldier seemed singularly uninviting. But Providence was shaping Brock's destiny while he was yet chafing at the irksome grind of daily drill and monotonous parade. While in command at Montreal, York, Fort George and Quebec, the impatient soldier whie imploring the War Office for appointment on active service in Spain, was acquiring an inner knowledge of the "colonel" of its people, its affairs and trade possibilities, with a masterly conception of the trend of United States policy, all to prove the greatest value in that wider sphere of Imperial responsibility which under God's providence was awaiting them. He was unconsciously pasing through a school of preparation for that fast approaching crisis when a demand would arise for a man stout of heart, and wise of head, ready and able to save Canada to the British crown no matter what the personal sacrifice might be.

His advancement from chief military commander to Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada was surey speaking testimony to Brock's high ability as a soldier, a business man, and administrator.

The war in Europe had created a spirit of universal unrest. The world, outside of Europe and the British Isles, was holding its breath awaiting the outcome of Napoleon's continental pillage and the effect his conquests would have on English prestige. The Empires awaited ill at ease the termination of this struggle of giants for supremacy.

Trouble in America in 1807.

In 1807 this spirit of disquiet drifted acros the Atlantic. A dispute now arose over the expressed sympathy by certain American Statesmen with an arrogant proclamation issued by Napoleon ordering a seizure by France of the vessels of any nation which might have caled at any British port, while en voyage to France. This declaration was stated to be in open violation of an unwritten law in respect to nations that were at peace. Owing to untimely acts by both British and United States authorities a regrettable excuse for friction between the two countries was created. Search of a United States frigate by a British Gunboat in quest of deserters brough strained relations to a climax. Britain's offer of ample reparation was met by United States' immediate retaliation. The inevitable happened, and as had been predicted by Brock, when warning the British Government — war was declared against Great Britain, open hostilities under President Madison commencing June 18th, 1812. Nations like individuas were no more averse then than they are to-day to defend questionable actions behind doubtful technicalities. A century of uninterrupted peace has passed since then, a bond of pacific union and concord has been established betwen the two nations, and a community of interests which augurs well for the future.

1,300 miles of broken frontier lay

But while this declaration of war came to the uninitiated as a bolt from the blue—to Brock, who knew the Canada of those pioneer days from Queenston to the Detroit River, better than the most of us do the Dominion to-day—while he knew its unsurveyed immensity, its Imperial magnificence, its wilderness of forest, its bridle-trails, and scattered settlements, its broad rivers and greater lakes—no man beter knew that its 1,300 mies of broken frontier lay practically undefended. War, while it found him unafraid and not taken wholly by surprise, found him almost totally unprepared. Upon his last visit to Niagara, having closely studied the trend of events, he had remarked to Glegg, one of his aids, "If I can read the signs right, two nations are rushing headlong into military conflict." His prescience and sagacity were the justification for his repeated appeals for more soldiers and military equipment, persistenly refused him by the military Governor, Prevost.

A Splendid Specimen.

Meanwhile though the possing years affected the early flush of Brock's youth, they had developed a splendid specimen of most acceptable manhood. The close of 1811 found "Master Isaac"—as his family still dearly loved to call him—a grand type of humanity. "Inclined to be portly, he was still athletic. His face though slightly stern had grown more attractive because of a benevolent look now stamped upon it. He was still fair and florid with broad forehead, and eyes though somewhat small yet full and of greyish blue, with a charming smile and splendid white teeth—always the same courteous gentleman and always a soldier."

Brock now realized that he was the man of the hour, the janitor of Canada, and in a situation almost without paralled in the annals of modern warfare. He was called upon with utterly inadequate resources to defend a country whose fighting frontier extended 1,300 miles through a largely isolated region. To defend a total population of about 320,000 he had an army of only 1,450 British soldiers, and a militia that up to that moment existed chiefly on paper. To this must be added a disaffected people, a wavering Indian element and an openly hostile legislature. Opposed to him was a nation 8,000,000 strong with 100,000 militia and an army correspondingly effective. His stores were wholly inadequate, his soldiers without proper clothing or food, his treasury empty. Further he was subject to the weak whims of a Governor-General, with a fluid backbone, whose grasp of the situation was puerile and who systematically turned a deaf ear

Plant in the Fall If You Want Spring Glories

When one looks at the dull, dried-up bulbs lying on the counter in some of our Baltimore stores, it is hard to realize the beauty shut up in those brown husks. It seems too much like a beauty in the fairy story process. And it is not unlike, for it needs the beasts of darkness and cold to keep the beauty imprisoned, and it needs the knights of sunshine, giving warmth and light, to set the beauty free.

The lover of flowers knows this, but does not always remember that now, before the ground freezes, is the time to plant bulbs for spring blooming. Any time before the ground gets so hard you can't break it with a spade will do, but the earlier the better. And the best part of it is that if you do it right now you won't have to do it over again next year. You can establish your bulb colonies and, once established, they'll be like Topsy—they just grow.

It seems difficult, some way, to get people interested in making their lawns, backyards and doorways yield a satisfying feast of beauty to the eye in the spring. And it ought to be general everywhere. Think what it means to step out after the dark, gloomy days of winter and see a colony of crocuses, glorious lovely with white, yellow and lavender flower cups embroidering the lawn, outlining the shrubbery or encircling the trees. It is the miracle of nature! And it is the promise of beauty-laden, flower-scented days to come. Anyone who looks upon the snowdrop, glory-of-the-snow or crocus in the early days of spring just can't help feeling gladder that he is alive.

And the very best of all is that these smaller bulbs are within the reach of all. Most persons plant a few hyacinths, daffodils and tulips and feel that they have bulbs planted. So they have, but not enough. These cost more and are not quite so hardy as the little bulbs like snowdrops, squills, grape hyacinths, glory-of-the-snow, crocuses and poets' narcissus, which may be bought for 10 cents a dozen or from 50 to 75 cents per hundred.

All these are hardy and will grow almost anywhere, and they do not need quite so rich soil as the tulips, hyacinths and daffodils—though some varieties of these will stand even harsh treatment, as a line of yellow and white tulips which has divided an informal arrangement of flower beds for several years in a certain garden will testify. These bulbs have received no care, no attention whatever, and yet for more than six years they have yielded a wealth of flowers. But the small bulbs seems hardier and more productive. A writer in a recent magazine tells his experience as follows, in speaking of the blue Siberian squill:

"The original bulbs of this colony were planted 17 years ago and they have never been removed, but they have multiplied a hundredfold by natural increase."

Maybe that doesn't always happen. You may plant a dozen bulbs this year and from those dozen bulbs you may not have 1,200 bulbs 17 years from now, but you will have enough pleasure to reward you a hundred times over, and all the passers-by will have had pleasure, too, if the side wall has been taken down so that they can see in.

Scatter a few bulbs of the crocus, snow drop, scilla or squills, glory-of-the-snow and grape hyacinths just as you would sow seed—as many as you have room for, 10 or 50 of each. Then take your dibble, turn back the sod under each bulb, put in a little sand, then the bulb, cover with soil, add a little fertilizer and press down with your foot. The bulbs will be happy there and will want to make that their permanent home if you are not too careful about having the grass cut close for a few weeks in spring.

Plant these and then early next spring, two or three days after the snow goes, you need not be surprised to see the snowdrops peeping out at you, and, before they are gone the squills and glory-of-the-snow will be out and the grape hyacinths and crocuses will be in their company. It is like establishing a permanent wild garden.

The poets' narcissus, or pheasant's eye, is another bulb that costs but little and, when once established, multiplies rapidly.

In this you may have groups of narcissus as well as the smaller bulbs mentioned above, interspaced with hardy perennial plants such as phlox, larkspur, calendula and snow-on-the-mountain. The bare spots left in this border may be covered later with annuals as petunias, asters, painted-tongue scabiosa and mignonette. And after you have planted some of the smaller bulbs, put in a lily or two and a few English and Spanish iris. We all like Easter lilies, but we do not all know, or if we do know we forget, that we may have lilies in bloom right along from June until October if we plant them in the fall—and that means now. And when you've established a border like this on one side of the walk, the chances are, next year, you'll make a border on the other side for tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, tuberoses and amaryllis.

General Sir Isaac Brock Great Among Canada's Heroes

Educated to Conquer Difficulties.

It has been said that the battle of Waterloo was won upon the playground of Eton's great public school. The moral fibre and grit of a people are early engrafted in the school-boy. How does this apply to the school boys of to-day? Brock belonged to just such a virile school. He was educated to conquer difficulties. Though a believer in peace and lover of concord he knew when the hour of necessity and tribulation arose, when the integrity of hearth and home was menaced, and when honor was at stake, how to face the peril and plan for the protection of the defenceless. In Brock was implanted not the lust for bloodshed, but a well ordered militant spirit, properly under control.

Conquest Looked Easy.

To offset an army of 15,000 called out by the United States to attack the Niagara frontier and one-fourth as many more gravitating towards Detroit, all that Brock could at first muster in Upper Canada was a force of 950 regulars and 550 militia. At a time when almost every British soldier was busy fighting Napoleon in Europe, upon General Brock fell the responsibility of upholding Britain's honor in Americca. Isaac was the "man behind the gun." The undismayed man with a heart ruled with faith, fear and love. To many in the United States and England the conquest of Upper Canada by the Americans was regarded as both easy and certain. The expulsion of England from the American continent was regarded by many as a mere matter of course, and forcible annexation a foregone conclusion.

Advance of General Hull.

Among those who professed to share this view was General Hull, who at the head of the flower of the army from Ohio and Kentucky preceeded his advance upon Sandwich and Amherstburg in the west by a bombastic proclamation, calling upon the people of Canada to surrender forthwith and swear allegiance to the United States under penalty of war and annihilation.

Band of Citizen Soldiers.

This premature allotment of the King's domain did not, however, harmonize with Brock's views. "Let them be taught," he said, "that Canadians would never bow their necks to a foreign yoke." Day and night like the hero that he was, he worked handful of willing loyalists he gradually assembled a band of citizen soldiers to supplement his handful of regulars. Then in the face of every kind of handicap, not the least of which were an empty treasury and dilapidated forts with obsolete artillery, he led an expedition 100 miles by land and 200 miles over stormy waters in open boats to drive out this General who with his 2,500 fighting men, could not fulfilment of his threat occupied Detroit and invaded Canada. With a force of but 330 regulars, 400 militia and 600 Indians, undr the great chief Tecumseh, whose allegiance he had mon, Brock crossed the St. Clair river at Sandwich and attacked the American army that was waiting to annihilate him. But General Hull, with with his 2,500 fighting men could not view with complacency the steady approach of the British bayonets. He retreated, entrenched himself in the strongly protected fort, and there without parley, surrendered almost his entire garrison. Instead of Hull annexing Canada to the United States, Brock with little ostentation annexed the fort and town of Detroit and 59-700 square miles of the United States territory, seizing 2,500 stand of arms, 33 cannon, $200,000 worth of munitions of war, taking as prisoners 2,-500 men of all ranks, including the redoubtable General, the author of the trouble.

Canada was saved!

I there any proper reason why we should not commemorate the centenary of this great man's achievement, taking care not to run riot in our hero-worship or to misapply the lessons taught. Let us adopt Brock's own spirit, avoiding all pretence of vain glory, just "rejoicing" with him, to use his own words, "at his good fortune and joining in prayers to Heaven over his success."

Celebarte Death of a Hero.

We are not commemorating with poor conceit the fact that we thrashed our opponent, but the death of a hero who laid down his life to retain Canada for the Empire.

Supposing some person had illegally entered your own home, had terrorized your father or mother, brother or sister, had destroyed some of your cherished school books and stolen some of your family belongings. Do you think that you would be justified in trying to capture the burglars, to compel the restoration of your property and to demand compensation for your loss? This same line of action was followed by Brock, but being very much of a gentlemanu as well as one to whom we ordinarily apply the cherished term, Christian, he gave the burglars their liberty, restored to them their property which he had taken as recompense for their lawlessness, contending himelf with merely confiscating their "kit."

Would there were more such faithful stewards as Brock, whose inherited code of honor kept his heart pure and hands clean.

To the lay mind it may be difficult to understand how dizziness can be induced by the eyes, yet many cases of vertigo are due to nothing more or less than eyestrain. WHOLE NATIONS ARE UNDER ARMS

Greet Armies from Little States In Balkan War—Show Ability To Mobilize.

No circumstances in the present Balkan situation is perhaps more interesting or more deserving of notice than the size of the armies the relatively insignificant States aligned against Turkey are preparing to put in the field. A more striking revelation of an extreme application of the principles of the nation in arms it would be difficult to discover.

Of all these Balkan States the example of Montenegro is the most impressive. It is hardly a week since this little principality opened its attack upon Turkey, yet to-day upward of 30,000 Montenegrins are fighting upon Turkish soil. Compare with this the 30,000 the Northern States were able to put upon the field of Bull Run nearly two months after Fort Sumter was fired upon or the 15,000 imperfectly equipped troops that started from Florida with Shafter in 1898 two months after was was declared against Spain. The population of Mentenegro to-day fails under 300,000, but the Northern States in 1861 numbered 20,000,000 and in 1898 the population of the United States exceeded 70,000,000.

Hardly less astonishing is the case of Greece. The population of the tiny Hellenic Kingdom, half as big as New York in area, does not exceed 2,500,000, yet it is agreed that in the first ten days not less than 125,000 Greek soldiers have been mobilized on the Turkish frontier. In 1815 Napoleon was able to collect for his Waterloo campaign after two months of effort and in a country filled with veterans and with a population exceeding 30,000,000 only 124,000 soldiers, of whom hardly half actually faced Wellington.

It is the military resources of Bulgaria, however, which are really most amazing, judged by nineteenth century standards. At Austerlitz, where Napoleon overthrew the combine Russian and Austrian hosts, the Grand Army numbered but 65,000, that of his enemies less than $85,000. At Leipsic, in the fasous Battle of the Nations, in which most of the nations of Europe were represented, the force of Napoleon barely reached 150,000; that of his opponents was perhaps 280,000 strong. To-day on the Bulgarian frontier facing Adrianople 250,000 Bulgarians are mobilized, although Burgaria counts less than 5,000,000 inhabitants.

Granted that the Turks place only an equal force in the field to meet the Bulgarians, the conflict between the two armies will dwarf the famous battles of the nineteenth century. At Gettysburg Federal and Confederate forces combined did not pass 150,000. At Solferino, where the Italians and French defeated the Australians, the opposing armies each numbered but 151,000. At Koniggratz, where Prussia humbled Austria, 221,000 Prhssians conquered 200,000 Australians. At Gravelotte, the truly decisive rontest of the Franro-Prussian war, 230,000 Prussians prevailed over 180,000 French. A glance shows that the numbers engaged in these battles were in every case inferior to the forces of Turks and Bulgarians aligned on the Maritza.

It is only in the Russo-Japanese War that figures can be found which bear comparison with those of Balkan and Turkish armies. At Mukden Russia and Japanese armies alike exceeded 300,000. But the population of Russia and Japan combined exceeded 150,000,000 in 1906; and that of all the Balkan States to-day falls short of 10,000,000. It is possible to carry these comparisons still further, but the foregoing statistics are sufficient to demonstrate that in numbers at least the struggle in the Balkans should lose little by contrast with the great contests of the world Powers which have decided European events for a century.—New York Sun.

HOW HEADS FELL IN LAURIER'S DAY

Complaints of Dismissals by Present Government Forget the Slaughters of 1896.

The Liberal press has been complaining of some dismissals from the outside civil service by the Government. In view of their complaints, and the virtuous attitude they have assumed, it is interesting to present the record of the Laurier administration when it came into power in 1896. Nine months after the Laurier government assumed office a return was called for in the senate of the dismissals up to that time. The return is a remarkable document and contains 35 pages, while it contains only a partial list of the dismissals.

In the Indian department the dismissals ran up to 27. The axe fell particularly freely in the customs department where in the nine months 81 employees were dismissed to make way for good Liberals. In no case was there an investigation.

Many Heads Fell.

The then Minister of Public Works dismissed in the first nine months 64. In the department of Inland Revenue 46 employees were removed, and in the majority of cases it was frankly stated that it was at the request of a member of parliament. This was apparently the main reason for dismissals at that time.

In the Fisheries service the Liberal government worked overtime in getting rid of Conservatives and no less than 129 members of the civil service were removed from office to give hungry Liberals jobs. The explanation given for the majority of the dismissals was "active and offensive partisanship," which was a favorite excuse to cover up a bald dismissal. The axe was not employed quite so freely in the Marine service, and only 32 were removed by the minister. The department of Justice has not as many employees and its list is smaller, running to eleven. In every case except two there was no notice given, and this is true of a large percentage of the Liberal dismissals. The decency of a regular notice to give the dismissed man an opportunity to find new employment was not followed. It was simply a case of "off with his head."

Also In Others.

In the Agriculture department thirty-three employes were dismissed to make room for the clamoring Liberals, and in the pepartment of Interior, outside of the Indian branch, the "bloody assizes" resulting in these first nine months in the dimissal of 23.

These are but a few of the civil servants dismissed immediately after the elections of 1896. Major Currie, M.P. for North Simcoe, commenting on the wholesale slaughter of the Liberals in the House last session, said: "The proscription lists of Marius and Sulla, the tyrants of ancient Rome, were not to be compared with the list prepared after the elections of 1896. Hundreds of men were thrown out of office without any reason being given for their dismissal. The members of the late government never for a moment ceased to make the open boast that they believed in and always practised the spoils system and that they were going to practise it."

Continuing, Mr. Currie added, "In addition we all know that the present leader of the opposition always was the high priest of the spoils system. We know that throughout his whole career he practised these principals and endeavored to set up in this country a system of partisanship."

MARRIAGE VERSUS TEACHING

President M. Carey Thomas, speaking at the Mount Holyoke seventy-fifth anniversary, says that the time has come when women have almost the right to study what they please. Over one-half of all the women graduates teach, she says, bot only in a few colleges many womes compete with men for full professorships. She says that it is inhuman to ask a woman teacher to give up her profession if she marries and at Bryn Mawr this has never been done. What would be said, she asks, if a man teacher were to be asked to give up his work upon marrying and she declares it is just as inhuman to make the same request of a woman.

EAST'S CONFIDENCE IS IN THE WEST

Bank Manager Says There Is No Lack of Harmony Between Two Sections.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 23.—John Aird, general manager of the Bank of Commerce and Sir Edmund Walker, president of the bank, are here to attend the formal opening of the new Bank of Commerce building on Saturday.

Mr. Aird said that confidence in the West was general throughout the East and had never been disturbed. In Toronto no doubts of the success of this year's crop were entertained and optimism for both East and West was the prevailing feeling.

Concerning the reports of lack of harmony between East and West, Mr. Aird said:

"I do not think any such feeling ever existed to any extent. But whatever jealousy has existed is rapidly disappearing. We know that we cannot do without you and we believe that you cannot do without us; and in this fact lies the surest guarantee of permanent solidarity.

"The East was never more optimistic of the West at the present time. The crop this year we are perfectly satisfied is better than last year. A better grade has been obtained and it is spread over a larger area."

TAKEN HOME ON A MATTRESS.

How a Sufferer From Sciatica Found Permanent Relief.

Fierce darting pains, pains like red hot needles being driven through the flesh in the thigh, perhaps down the legs to the ankles—that's sciatica. None but the victim can realize the torture of this trouble, and many suffer from it hopelessly in the belief that it cannot be cured. This is a mistake; sciatica is a nerve trouble, and if the starved nerves are properly nourished with rich, red blood the trouble will soon disappear. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make just the new, pure blood needed to feed the sciatica nerve and drive out the racking pain. It has been proved over and over again that they can do this and we offer now the following additional piece of evidence. Mr. E. H. Pastorious, Harrow, Ont., says "Some years ago I was terribly afflicted with sciatica, starting just in my hip and then extending through the leg to the foot. At the time I was attacked I was away from home and had to be brought home on a mattress in a spring wagon, and the agony of the trip was almost more than I could endure. Reaching home I was not able to sit up and remained in bed for six weeks. The doctor did not help me and I tried a number of medicines recommended by neighbors. I paid $5.00 a bottle for one preparation, but it was no better than the rest, and I began to think there was no cure for me. While suffering this untold misery Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended, and my wife got me a supply. In the course of a few weeks I began to feel better and could get around with the aid of a cane. I kept on taking the Pills until all the pain disappeared and I felt as well as ever I did. I have never had an attack off the trouble since, and although I am now 65 years of age I feel as vigorous as I did at 40, all of which I ascribe to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you are suffering from sciatica or any nerve or blood trouble, begin to cure yourself to-day by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which will assuredly do for you what they have done for others, if you give them a fair trial. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Australian Government Curing Drink Habit Adopts Famous NEAL CURE

Sending Sunshine and Happiness Into Hundreds of Darkened Homes Instead of Inflicting Fines of Prison Cells Upon Her Unfortunate Citizens.

The Duty of our Dominion and Municipal Governments

The Government of South Australia has set an example worthy of imitation by the other nations of the world. Realizing the extent, enormity and the awful consequences of the drink habit, they have for years past been investigating its cause, effect, treatment and possible cure.

In the year 1910, Rev. A. C. Rankine, commissioned by that Government, visited the United States, and after a thorough investigation of drink habit treatments, he returned to his government last September and made a detailed, lengthy report, recommending the adoption of the NEAL THREE-DAY DRINK HABIT CURE. The government of South Australia adopted his report, and established the cure in a large government sanitarium, where those addicted to the drink habit are treated at government expense instead of being fined or sent to prison cells.

During the first ninety days 182 persons so afflicted were perfectly cured by the Neal treatment at government expense and restored to citizenship. In addition to this, reports show that more than double that number availed themselves of the Neal treatment in private sanitariums in Australia.

Scientific research and investigation of the centuries has recently culminated in the establishment of the fact that the drink habit so called, is caused by the poison of alcohol stored up in the system by the long continued or excessive use of alcoholic liquors and that the man or woman thus afflicted is as much in need of and must have medical help as if suffering from typhoid fever or other serious human ailment. Dr. Neal has solved this problem. He has not only demonstrated the above, but he has found the drug which antidotes this poison, and, combining same with other well known neutralizing and eliminating drugs, he has originated the Neal Treatment, which, in thousands of cases, has perfected absolute and satisfactory cures in the short space of time of only three days.

This remarkable treatment has been successfully administered to hundreds of persons in this city at the Quebec Neal Institute, located at No. 11 Haldimand street, and to thousands of others at sixty-three other similar institutions known as Neal Institutes, established and opening in this and foreign countries.

If you have a relation or friend persuade him to go to the Neal Institute, 11 Haldimand street. Call, write or phone for all information and free booklets sent securely sealed.

THE MOLSONS BANK

Fifty-Seventh Annual General Meeting of Shareholders

PROSPEROUS CONDITIONS

But President Sounded Warning Note as to National Extravagance, Both in Commerce and Agriculture.

The 57th annual general meetings of the Shareholders of The Molsons Bank was held in the new Board room of their Banking House, 200 St. James street, Montreal, at 3 o'clock, October 21st.

The president, Mr. William Molson Macpherson, took the chair, and there were also present Messrs. S. H. Ewing, Vice-President; George E. Drummond, George Dunford, David McNicoll, Chas. E. Spragge, F. W. Molson, Kenneth Molson, Herbert Molson, Tlexander D. Fraser, Percival Molson, W. H. Evans, A. Piddington, James Elliot, General Manager, and W. H. Draper, Superintendent of Branches.

In opening the proceedings, the President called upon Mr. W. H. Draper to act as Secretary, and Mr. Draper then read the notice published in The Gazette, Aug. 21st, calling the meeting and announcing dividend.

The President then called upon Mr. James Elliot to read the Annual report of the Directors as follows:—

Annual Report.

Your directors have pleasure in submitting to the Shareholders this the Fifty-seventh Annual Report of The Molsons Bank and Statement of its position on 30th September, 1912.

The business shows a steady increase in volume and the demand for money has been good during the year.

The net profits after providing for Operating Expenses and Bad and Doubtful Debts amount to $684,779.25. After payment of 11 per cent in Quarterly Dividends, writing off $66,515.65 to Bank Premises, and subscription to our Pension Fund, &c., $100,000 has been transferred to the Reserve Fund, raising it to $4,700,000. The balance, $42,522.30, has been added to Profit and Loss Account, making it $161,282.42 at credit.

During the year branches have been opened at Belleville, Ont., and Montreal at Bernard Avenue and at Ville St. Pierre (Blue Bonnets); whilst our Branch at Dashwood, Ont., has been closed.

Besides alterations and extensions in this our Main Building, now completed, your Directors have found necessary and advisable to provide premises at various branches, namely Calgary, Drummondville, London and Vancouver, involving heavy expenditure. To meet this $400.00 has been added to our Bank premises Account, making it $1,100.00. The market value of your properties much exceeds this.

By the much regretted and tragic death of Mr. H. Markland Molson, lost on the Titanic, the Bank loses the services of an able and energetic Director, one untiring in promoting its interests. Mr. Fred W. Molson, his brother, has been appointed in his place.

Mr. A. D. Durnford's sudden death also makes a void on the staff deeply felt, after an efficient and faithful service of over forty years. Mr. W. H. Draper, late inspector, has been appointed Superintendent of Branches in his place.

All Branches of the Bank, and the Head office, have been inspected during the war, and the Officers have efficiently performed their duties.

President's Address.

The President made the following statement:—

Gentlemen,—We have much pleasure in again meeting you, our Shareholders, and hope you will be satisfied with the Bank's statement now submitted, showing its progress, which you may see by comparison with last year's figures, placed opposite.

As to the future business prospects seem very satisfactory. Settlers are coming, in even increased numbers, of a good class—many with full experience of farming—and with means to invest in our country, becoming at once both producers as well as consumers. The new arrivals this year from 1st April to 1st October have been 273,649. Our manufacturers, because of this additional population to be provided for, are doing well, and both imports and exports are growing, and are now at the highest point ever attained. For the twelve months ending 30th September, according to Government Returns, the total Imports are $616,842,090, and exports $351.852.292; total imports and exports, $968,694,382—a truly great trade for our small population—but I must say I would like to see the exports greater in proportion to the amount of imports. Development is proceeding rapidly, and we are borrowing immense sums, mainly from Great Britain, which is right and necessary, but we must not forget that we owe this money, and have to pay interest on it, therefore our people should avoid extravagance in living expenditure, and devote themselves to the economical exploitation of our natural resources, and so afford ample means of living to our increasing population, so that the stream of desirable immigration may be kept up.

Our farmers in the West especially, should go more into mixed farming; this continued cropping of wheat, though it pays best for a time, will ultimately lessen the productiveness of the land, and it does seem absurd to see vegetables, butter and cheese, sent from the East to Western people, who are so well able to produce them. Besides, it would tend to afford employment all the year round to an agricultural population, and so lesson the necessity of the migration of laborers from the East, during the wheat harvest months. The establishment of manufactures at places having favorable conditions, will also tend to lessen the evil.

That our country is growing in wealth, is shown by the steady increase in banking figures of 31st August last:

		Last year.
Up .....$	114,098,525	$103,716,960
Note Circulation .	101,501,270	90,630,530
Deposits by Public ...	1,004,231,021	886,852,624
Loans	929,065,879	801,420,146

the number of branches in Canada now 2,739, affording ample banking facilities to the whole country.

The Dominion Government is exercising every endeavor to establish and foster new markets for our products in the West Indies, South Africa and the Northern Countries of Europe. The result will, doubtless, be increased demand for our fisheries and agricultural products.

Cheap transportation East and West is our great need. The railways are using their best efforts to increase mileage, but they are much hampered by want of labor; great progress, however, is being made. Their plans for new lines, are very extensive indeed, besides which, the orders given for additional locomotives and cars, will keep the locomotive and car works of the country busy for many months ahead.

The estimated wheat crop in the North West for this year is probably 200,000,000 bushels, and the Oats, Barley and Flax Crops, are also very large.

The supply of Cattle, Sheep and Horses in the North West is inadequate for the needs of the country, in addition to the requirements of the export trade, and should receive greater attention at the hands of the farmers.

It is to be expected that the Banking Act will receive consideration by our Government and Parliament during the coming Session. From practically experience, the existing Act has proved satisfactory—we do not therefore, anticipate any radical change in it. Full inspection by the Government would be very difficult to carry out, but a moderate system of Audit and Inspection of a Bank's position, and securities, would prove of advantage, and tend to prevent a repetition of some failures of the past.

Our Board has suffered a very serious loss through the tragic fate of the "Titanic," which caused the death of one of our most valued and esteemed Directors. Mr. H. Markland Molson. His close attention, banking experience, as well as strong family interest in the Bank, made him an exceptionally valuable and able Director. He was also Director of several large financial Institutions, and will be greatly missed. His place on our Board is filled by Mr. F. W. Molson, whose experience in general business cannot fail to render most valuable services to the Bank.

It is my painful duty also to refer to the sudden and sad death of Mr. A. D. Durnford, who for upwards of forty years served most faithfully in the work of the Bank. His experience in Banking, and his aptness in routine and practical work, as well as his devotion and loyalty to the Bank, caused a loss in the management of his special department, which we all deeply deplore. We are glad to say that in Mr. W. H. Draper, who has succeeded him, we have the assistance of a well-trained, able and experienced officr, who, we are sure, will fill the position to the satisfaction of your Board.

In meeting you here to-day in our new Board Room, we desire to wish the Bank a continuance of prosperity, which has been its privilege to employ for so many years. The alterations which we have made in the Bank, have been forced upon us by the increase in business, and we are satisfied that the enlargement of the banking facilities, both for the general business and in the Head Office, will be adequate for the requirements of the Bank for many years to come.

Questions or remarks being invited by the President.

Mr. Charles E. Spragge asked about the $400,000 added on to the bank premises, whether this was for new branches or for alterations to existing ones?

The President — It is particularly for buildings named in the report—namely, at Vancouver, Drummondville, Calgary, London and the Head Office in Montreal.

Mr. Spragge — It is really new investment?

Mr. Elliott — Yes, new buildings. Some if it has been spent on these premises.

The President moved the adoption of the Report. This was seconded by Mr. S. H. Ewng and carred.

The President appointed Mr. Chas. E. Spragge and Mr. Geo. Durnford as scrutneers, and the meetng agreed that one ballot should be cast.

Thanks to the Drector and Staff.

On the moton of Ald. Alexander D. Fraser, seconded by Mr. A. Piddington, it was resolved: That the thanks of the shareholders be, and are hereby tendered to the President, Vice-President, and Directors for their efvcient services during the past year.

The President, in acknowledging the vote, said it was very gratifying to feel that the year had been a successful one. The credit was due entirely to the energies and devotion of the General Manager, the Inspectors and the officers of the bank. "We are favored," he said, "by having a most loyal and energetic General Manager, who had served so long, and under whose advice the staff has been brought to its present efficiency. The prosperity of the country has enabled us to present you this statement which you are pleased to accept."

Mr. S. H. Ewing also responded, saying they were all satisfied the affairs of the Bank were well looked after, and alluding to the improvement in the building by which fifty per cent. more floor space had been provided for the staff, with better ventilation and lighting arrangements.

On the motion of Mr. W. H. Evans, esconded by Mr. Chas. E. Spragge, it was resolved: That the thanks of this meeting be, and are hereby tendered to the officers and staff of the Bank for their efficient and faithful services during the past year.

Mr. James Elliot acknowledged the vote and made reference to the improvements effected in the premises.

Election of Directors.

Mr. George Durnford presented the following report:

To the General Manager, The Molsons Bank, Montreal.

Sir,—We have the honor to report that at the annual meeting of the shareholders of The Molsons Bank, held this day, the following gentlemen were re-elected to the Board of Directors.

Messrs. George E. Drummond, S. H. Ewing, Charles B. Gordon, F. W. Molson, William Molson Macpherson, David McNicoll, W. M. Ramsay.

The meeting then terminated.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. W. Molson Macpherson was re-elected President and Mr. S. H. Ewing, Vice-President for the ensuing year.

FIREPROOF FLOOR CONSTRUCTION
The "FABER" system can be regarded as the most approved form of fire resisting construction, girders not being required even in the case of large spans. Girders and unprotected steel beams have been proved a source of great danger in fires, for by epansion and twisting they may cause the collapse of the whole structure, as has repeatedly happened.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, October, 1812 and 1882.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

CRIME AMONG THE CLERGY.

We have received a letter from an esteemed and much respected citizen, who signs himself "A Layman," and who takes exception to an article which appeared in these columns on the 22nd inst., on "Crime Among the Clergy." With the tone and spirit of that article we have reason to believe the large majority of the readers of the Chronicle thoroughly agreed. Our remarks were in no wise aggressive, nor did we in the remotest way formulate an "attack" on the clergy. We made our comments after due reflection, and every line we penned was waranted by the facts. "A Layman" should know this, for he is an observing man and a citizen of judgment. He has written a letter to us, but that communication does not weaken our pretention neither is it a reply to our remarks. We said crime is increasing among the clergy, and the truthfulness of the statement has not been proven untrue. We spoke more in sorrow than in anger, more in grief than from any motive to have a "slap at the ministers," with their noble calling and self-sacrificing natures we have every sympathy. We regretted that black sheep sometimes got into the fold. Our correspondent admits "occasional lapses," but he attributes them to the newspaper's gossip-mongers eager to tell their news. We must in conclusion again affirm that we were not inspired by any unworthy motive. We noticed a fact patent to everybody and offered a few brief comments. If "A Layman" reads our article again, he must agree with us, we think.

LEAVES QUEBEC FOR BOSTON

Dr. P. Bender leaves to-night for Boston. He has secured splendid quarters in the handsome new hotel The Vendome, and may be expected soon to acquire a large practice in the great American city. Dr. Bender has returned to his native city and resumed the practice of his profession among his old friends.

HYMENEAL.

At the St. Louis Chapel, Basilica, yesterday morning, Lieut. P. F. E. B. Garneau, son of Hon P. Garneau, was married by Rev. F. X. Belanger to Miss Marie L. E. Braun, daughter of Frederick Braun, Esq. The happy couple received more than 150 handsome presents from numerous friends. After a sumptuous dejeuner taken at the residence of Hon. C. A. P. Pelletier, uncle of the bride, the newly wedded pair left by train for the United States.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

HAVE NOT ATTACKED THIS PROVINCE.

The Americans have not yet attacked this Province. It is even probable that they will not attack it at this season. This delay, which has arisen solely from the unprepared state of the enemy, and from the excellent disposition of the people of this Province, to aid in its defence, is ascribed to various causes, utterly unconnected with the truth; and, finally, it is inferred that we shall have peace in the course of the winter. We should not have noticed an opinion so destitute of probability, were it not calculated to maintain a similar opinion in England, where it has already existed to a dangerous extent.

Ever since the Declaration of independence nine-tenths, at least of the population of the United States, have been decidedly disposed "to drive all European governments off the continent," particularly the British.

The only difference in opinion has been about the time and the means. Let us recur to facts. Was not the over-reaching pretensions of the American government, with respect to the boundary of the St. Croix, approved of by the people? Was not the quibbles of that same government over the purchase of Louisiana approved of by the people? Was not Miranda's expedition and final invasion of Florida and the scandalons countenance to the insurgents of Mexico approved of by the people? If the British government are governed by momentary considerations or interests they will shortly have the remainder of the British in American colonies to add to the list which have been lost by culpable negligence.

GRAND OPERA "ELIJAH."

Majestice Opera Company Will Give Mendelssohn's Great Work Here Next Thursday.

Mr. W. de Wagstaffe, who has prepared the dramatized version for the American production, approached his work in moulding the oratorio into drama, with careful reverence for the sacred significance of the subject.

Mendelssohn's intention was above all else dramatic. In oratorio form "Elijah" is a vital expression of dramatic motive and feeling. With the added grandeur of stage effect, which Wagner utilized so wonderfully in his spectactular music dramas, especially "Parsifal," the opportunity in "Elijah" is unequalled.

Since the tremendous impression made upon the audiences who have seen "Parsifal" no dramatic subject has been prepared for the stage so full of religious solemnity as "Elijah." The management was determined that the production of "Elijah" in opera form shall equal the magnitude and beauty of the Wagner spirit. There is, of course, a great difference between the sweep and majesty in Mendelssohn's music, and the poetic vigor of the Wagnerian drama, but, in point of theatrical effect, and the general stage movement of the chorus, the opera "Elijah" is on a par with a Wagner production.

The universal appeal of "Elipah" is a matter of history.

The Majestic Grand Opera Company, besides enjoying the prestige of making the first American production of the opera "Elijah," will also solve the problem of grand opera for the people. It will present a grand opera organization equal to the best permanent opera companies in America at regular theatre prices.

"Elijah" will be given at the Auditorium one night only, next Thursday evening. Seats are now on sale at the box office.

FOR A BAD STOMACH PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Time It! In five minutes you will wonder what became of the Gas, Sourness and Indigestion.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes such misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it it's millions of orders annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in every home.

CALVE HERE WEDNESDAY.

The Great Songstress Has Had a Most Brilliant Career.

Mme. Emme Calve, who is to appear at the Auditorium on Wednesday evening next, the 30th, has had a most interesting career. Born at Aveyron, France, Mme. Calve first studied with Marchesi, and then Puget. She made her debut at Nice at a charity performance. Her first important engagement was at Brussells, as "Marguerite," in "Faust." She made her first Parisian appearance at the Theatre Italien, where she created the role of "Biance" in "Aben Hament." A year later, she was engaged at the Opera Comique, and after some successful tours of Italy, she returned to the Theatre Italian in "Bizet's" "The Pearl Fishers."

Returning to the Opera Comique, she sang the part of "Santuzza" for the first time in Paris. In the summer of the same year, she made her first appearance at Covent Garden, London, in the same role. Since that memorable night, when staid London went wild with entusiasm about her, the name of Calve has been famous wherever the art of music is known. She is universally accepted as the greatest "Carmen" ever on the stage, and her other successes have been equally as pronounced.

The coming appearance of Calve at the Auditorium is looked forward to with much interest and it is assured that there will be a packed-to-the-door house to greet the popular singing actress.

HONOR MILL IN FRANCE.

It is significast of the recent change in the spirit of a large part, at least, of the French people, that the town of Avignon is about to erect a monument to the memory of the great English publicist, John Stuart Mill, and that on the committee are the present French premier, M. Poincare, and the former premier, M. Clemenceau. Mill's wife, whom he really worshipped—"her memory is to me a religion," he wrote—died at Avignon in 1858, and for the remaining fifteen years of his life he dwelt there "in a cottage as close as possible to the place where she is buried."

A monument to Mill, promoted by such men as Poincare and Clemenceau, is a tribute to the spirit of candid, just and ordered liberty of thought and action which animated all his work. His specific teachings may be regarded as to some extent superseded, especially as to psychology and metaphysics, but the heroic fidelity of the man to the lofty ideals he cherished remains an effective force that peculiarly fits the actual condition of France at a moment of wholesome reaction against the bigotry thinkers and the oppression of those who call themselves the advocates of freedom. Mill, moreover, not merely by his long association with France, but by his keen sympathy with some of the most potent and precious qualities of the French mind, was in his day an efficient worker for international understanding and accord. One likes to think of his noble life honored in the land he loved dearly and by men af such high intellectual rank.—New York Times.

NAVY QUESTION MARKS OF NATURAL CHARACTER

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 25.—In an address at Field, Premier McBride made a strong pronouncement on the naval question.

"The ports of the Empire on the Pacific Coast," he said, "are easily accessible by a third power and we are doing little or nothing to ensure necessary protection for these shores in case of European complications. I am strongly in advocacy of immediate and tangible action on behalf of Canada to contribute ships or money to the mother country in like manner to Australia and New Zealand. This is a matter of a national character and should be settled by Canadians as a unit so that in addition to providing adequate naval defence we in the Dominion should be placed in a position to render aid in case of emergency to the mother country and thus help to carry the Union Jack to victory."

TORTURED FROM BABYHOOD

"Fruit a tives" Cures Constipation

MISS E. A. GOODALL

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 20th, 1911.

"I have been a sufferer since babyhood from that terrible complaint, Constipation. I have been treated by physicians, and have taken every medicine I heard of, but without the slightest benefit. I finally concluded that there was no remedy in the world that could cure Constipation.

About this time, I heard about "Fruit-a-tives" and decided to try them. The effect was marvellous.

The first box gave me relief, and after I had used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that ever did me any good and I want to say to all who suffer as I did—"Try this fruit medicine and you will find—as I did—a perfect cure."

(Miss) E. A. GOODALL.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit and the only one that will positively and completely cure you of Constipation.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

NEWS FROM ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The C. P. R. Co.'s R. M. S. Empress of Ireland, Lieut. Forster, R. N. R., from Liverpool, arrived in port at 11.15 pm. yestterday, mooring at the Breakwater. She brought out 151 first, 442 second and 788 third class passengers, the mails and a general cargo. Lieut. Forster reports very heavy weather on the Atlantic as well as coming up the gulf and river. Had to go up to Bic to allow the pilot, customs and immigration officials to come on board, the sea being too high off Rimouski.

ALLAN LINE.

R. M. S. Virginian, Capt. Gambell, left port last midnight for Liverpool with 60 first, 140 second and 450 third class passengers, the mails and a general cargo. Among her passengers are 250 Greeks and Bulgarians who are returning home to aid their native countries against Turkey. About 150 of them came from Toronto.

When the Virginian raised her anchor another anchor and a quantity of chain were found attached to it. The additional anchor and chain had to be dropped back into the river.

R. M. S. Victorian, Capt. Outram, left Liverpool yesterday afternoon for Quebec with passengers, mails and general cargo. This is her last voyage to the St. Lawrence for the season.

Str. Corsican, Capt. Cook, from Liverpool, with passengers and general cargo, passed Point Amour at 11.30 am. yesterday. Due in port at 11 am. to-morrow. She is on her last trip of the season to the St. Lawrence.

Str. Teutonic, Capt. James, from Liverpool, passed Point Amour at 8.30 am. yesterday. Due in port to-night. She has 175 cabin and 326 steerage passengers and a general cargo.

CAME OUT OF DOCK.

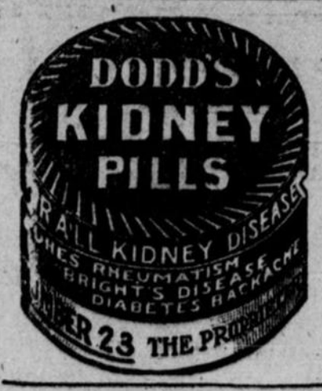

The temporary repairs to the Str. Bengore Head having been completed, she came out of the Graving Dock yesterday afternoon and went into the Louise Dock to coal and reship her grain.

MONTREAL FLOATING DOCK.

The floating dry dock Duke of Connaught did not make such good progress during Thursday last as it did on the preious day. From Thursday at 10.50 a.m up to 9.15 am. yesterday only 35 miles were covered. This may be accounted for by the heavy weather which prevailed down the Gulf Thursday and yesterday.

WILL CONTEST JURISDICTION

Montreal, Oct. 25.—It has been stated in an Ottawa despatch that the Shipping Federation are objecting to the jurisdiction of Capt. Lindsay, acting wreck commissioner, who is conducting an enquiry into the recent stranding of the Head liner Bengore Head off the Newfoundland coast. Secretary Robb, of the Shipping Federation, denied that any objection had been raised by the Federation and added that, as a Canadian organization themselves, they would prefer that Capt. Lindsay's authority should be upheld. At the same time, it is understood that in the event of the wreck commissioner attempting to deal with the certificate of the master or any other officer of the Bengore Head at the resumption of the enquiry next Tuesday, the lawyers representing the guild of masters and mates will object on the ground that the court has no jurisdiction over Newfoundland waters.

FREIGHTS AN DCHARTERS.

New York, Oct. 25.—The tonnage market was steady and unchanged, but very little was done in chartering. Tonnage of all kinds was in limited supply and sparingly offered for charter. Quotations to Liverpool, 5½d asked; London, Glasgow, Hull and Antwerp, 6d; Roterdam, 13c; Hamburg, 90 pfennigs; Bremen, 85 pfennigs; Bristol, 6½d; Cork for orders, 4s 6d; picked ports, large tonnage, 4s; cotton to Liverpool, per 100 lbs., 50c.

Charters — British steamer, 2999 tons, nitrate, west coast of South America to the United States, 32s 9d, with options, November-December; British steamer, 2104 tons, general cargo, hence to East and South Africa, berthed, Nov. 25; Norwegian one trip on time charter, 14s, Novem-steamer 2224 tons, transatlantic trade, ber-December; schooner, 1049 tons, phosphate rock, Port Tampa to Baltimore, private terms; bark, 1097 tons, salt, hence to Brunswick and back, ties, private terms; schooner 470 tons, coal, Philadelphia or Hampton Roads to Brunswick, private terms.

THE ST. JOHN LABOR TAX.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—No reply has been received as yet by the Shipping Federation to the protest made to the commissioners of St. John against the imposition of a tax of $7.50 per head on laborers brought to work at St. John from outside, although press reports are to the effect that the commissioners have decided to refuse the request of the Shipping Federation, but in such a manner as not to preclude further negotiations. The memorial sent to the city commissioners points out that the Federation owns or represents 562,406 tons of shipping trading to Canadian ports with a capital investment of many million dollars, also that the Dominion Government have voted a large sum of money for the improvement and development of St. John to make it a national port, and that as such it should now be free to all Canadian citizens to work there. The memorial further contends that the present supply of competent local labor at St. John is limited and likely to be more so when the harbor extension work now in progress increases, and that to discourage labor from entering the port is not only to the disadvantage of employers, but will be a hindrance to the development of the port. The fact is also recalled that when the Montreal City Council had under consideration some time ago a retaliatory tax it was only by the efforts of the Federation and other employers of labor that the measure was defeated. The secretary of the Federation states that about 200 laborers from Montreal, most of whom are English-speaking, are each year mulcted $7.50 per head, a direct tax on labor of $1500 annually.

POLITICAL, SOCIAL AND GENERAL NEWS OF ENGLAND BY CABLE

LORD LEVEN AND MELVILLE CONSIDERED IN LONDON TO BE "AN EXCELLENT PARTI."

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

THE society correspondent of the Bystander has just discovered that America continues to attract the eligible young men of the British aristocracy. The writer does not believe money always is the magnet, in many cases the young men being sufficiently endowed with this world's goods to make a wealthy wife by no means a necessity. It is that they like to "seek diversion in that land of attractive women." Then it goes on to tell Americans who are some of the most desirable of the "eligibles" who are now in or intend to go to America.

"Lord Leven and Melville," it states, "who has just gone over to America, is what is termed an excellent parti from the matrimonial point of view, for, in addition to his Scottish estates, Kirtlington Park, Oxford, where his mother always entertains a great deal for him, and Roehampton House, he is the owner of the large property at Bournemouth known as the Talbot Wood estate, which comprises some of the most valuable residential properties of that by no means inexpensive district.

"Another young and wealthy bachelor who is much in demand is Sir Richard Sutton, who came of age early this year, and owns so valuable a portion of Piccadilly, including Bath House and the In and Out Club. Another equally popular eligible is Mr. Charlie Mills, the rising young politician and heir to Lord Hillingdon, whose cousin, Miss Sylvia Grenfell, is soon to be married. Until recently Mr. Mills enjoyed the reputation of being the youngest member of Parliament, but now Sir Philip Sassoon beats him by one year."

In view of the arduous work entailed on her at Christmas time, Queen Mary, as usual, has taken time by the forelock and has already made many purchases, which will be sorted and distributed as Yuletide gifts. Among these are innumerable pieces of Scottish jewelry, which for years past have always been so prominent a feature among the Christmas gifts of Queen Alexandra. The Queen brought back with her from Balmoral some dainty ornaments set in silver, many of them unique and quite artistic.

The re-opening of Parliament has not caused the social activity in London that it used to do; and the Anglo-American hostesses upon whom London chiefly depends are still away. The Earl and Countess of Craven have been paying their annual call on Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin at Balmacaan. They are now returning South, but will pass the remainder of the autumn and early winter at Combe Abbey, where they will have at least two big shooting parties during November. Sport promises well in the Combe coverts, birds being plentiful and in good condition. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin will remain on, as is their usual custom, at Balmacaan until late in November, though they may join one or two of the Combe parties between then and now. Lord and Lady Granard have left Forbes House and gone on a short trip to Scarborough.

The American Ambassador and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid are to lend Dorchester House for the reception after the wedding of Captain Hereward Wake, D. S. O., Sixtieth Rifles, eldest son of Sir Herewald and Lady Wake, to Miss Daisy Benson, of Buckhurst, Sussex.

The latest ambition of many women well known in society is to become a "good plain cook." In response to the invitation of Lady Esher, these students of cookery are assembling every Wednesday in a hall off Grosvenor Square for lessons. Among them are Viscountess Falkland, her daughter, the Hon. Lettice Cary; Lady Denison Pender, Lady Altamont and her daughters; Lady Helen Brassey, Lady Dyce Duckworth, Lady Mountgarret, Lady Margaret Graham, Lady Richard Wellesley, Lady Helen Bootle-Wilbraham, Lady Nunburneholme and Lady Perrott. For ten weeks they are to devote themselves to making puddings and pies, frying fish and roasting meat. What is more, they are learning to boil potatoes. There is a dash of patriotism behind their desire to learn plain cooking, their idea being that if their country needs their services at any time they will be equal to the task themselves or at least be able to teach others to do it.

Notwithstanding many criticisms by a strictly Sabbatarian clique of society, the Sunday Roller Skating Club, which was formed by Lord Crichton and others at Olympia, and subsequently transferred to Holland Park Rink, still goes on its way rejoicing, and has just entered upon its fourth season.

It has its uses from many points of view—as an incentive to healthful exercise, as a means of passing a pleasant Sunday afternoon or evening or as a ground on which young persons may frequently meet at a season of the year when balls and other parties are not so numerous and when, therefore, the mind is not preoccupied.

It is well known, too, that not a few interesting society weddings have been the outcome of frequent meetings at the Skating Club, and a careful observation of partners on the skates has in not a few cases been justified in the deduction that "a marriage" would soon "be arranged."

Lord and Lady Arthur Hay, for instance, first announced their engagement one Sunday afternoon at the Skating Club. Three other engagements announced during the "skating season" were those of Captain and Mrs. Edgar Brassey, Lord and Lady Worsley and Captain and Mrs. Vandeleur, the latter Lord and Lady Knaresborough's eldest daughter, and another season closed with the engagement of Lady Cicely and the Hon. Eustace Vesey, the former Lord and Lady Kenmare's second daughter.

An important development in connection with the campaign that has been waged by the British press, Sir Conan Doyle and others, for comprehensive steps to be taken to enable the United Kingdom to make adequate preparation for the 1916 Olympic games at Berlin may shortly be expected.

In the first place, the problem of how to raise the necessary money has been solved, and it will be used (1) to place the British Olympic Association on a thoroughly sound financial footing, and (2) to guarantee all the money that will be needed to enable England to properly prepare its athletes for the sixth Olympiad.

The fund is to be administered and the training of the athletes looked after by a strong committee, but the appointment of a salaried secretary will mean the supercession of the Rev. R. S. de Courcy Laffan, who is secretary of the British Olympic Association. There is some doubt whether he will remain in the position or whether he will be promoted to the vacancy caused by the retirement of Lord Desborough from the chairmanship. In any case he will be a member of the contemplated joint committee, his colleagues including Mr. Theodore Cook, who is one of the representatives of the United Kingdom on the International Olympic Committee, and Mr. Percy Fisher, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Association.

MONEY READY FOR THE YOUNG PRINCE OF WALES ACCUMULATES.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

WHEN the King and Queen go into residence at Windsor Castle in November both the Duke of Teck and Prince Alexander will be available as "guns" for the royal shooting parties at Windsor Great Park. The Duke and Duchess of Teck have lately given up the small place they had near Holkham, and are instead to live at Frogmore Cottage, which has been lent them by the King. Prince and Princess Alexander of Teck will continue to occupy their residence in the Henry III. tower at the castle, so Queen Mary will find both her brothers close at hand.

Captain Cadogan, who has just been appointed equerry to the Prince of Wales, will be in attendance upon him when he goes to Magdalen College, Oxford, and will in future attend on the young Prince on all his public appearances. No regular establishment, however, is to be given to the Prince just yet, and his tutor, Mr. Hansell, who is himself a Magdalen man, will continue to watch over his charge, at all events until after the Prince's visit to Germany next summer, which will probably occupy about two months.

Meanwhile the surplus revenues that accrue to the Prince from the Duchy of Cornwall are mounting up, and there ought to be a large sum of ready money in savings by the time he starts on his own. In the case of the late King, the savings during his minority as Prince of Wales were very large, and they were utilized for the purchase of the Sandringham estate, which, it has been generally agreed, was bought at a fancy price even for those days.

It has already been mentioned that when Prince Albert, second son of the King and Queen, completes his period of study in the senior division of the Royal Naval College, at Dartmouth, next year he will be sent for a cruise in a ship of the home fleet in order that he may see something of the practical life of a sailor. Now it is understood that the Prince will, in all probability, be placed on board the flagship of Prince Louis of Battenberg, and that his period of service will extend for almost the whole of next year, toward the end of which, however, he will leave the fleet for a time to commence to read for his short university career. Whether this will take place at Cambridge or at one of the German universities is a point that has not yet been decided by the King.

The King has a great desire that his sons should excel at billiards, and the game has been played night after night at Balmoral. King Edward had a very fine room built there at the beginning of his reign, although in his time the billiard table was rarely used. This year Princess Mary has been learning the game and promises to emulate her aunt, the Queen of Norway, who is the best player among the ladies of the royal family.

Now that Queen Alexandra and the Empress Marie have settled down at the Villa Hvidore, on the outskirts of Copenhagen, the royal yacht Victoria and Albert has returned to Portsmouth, where it will be laid up for the winter. The vessel will not be required again till next June, when it will be recommissioned for a cruise in the Mediterranean, with Queen Alexandra on board.

There is no truth, by the way, in the statement circulated that the King has presented this yacht to Queen Alexandra. Indeed, he has no power to do so, as the royal yachts are technical ships of war and are borne on the books of the royal navy.

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH IS ENTERTAINING IN SCOTLAND.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

THE Duchess of Marlborough has been entertaining quietly at Auchnashellach, in Ross-shire, since her return there from London. She is coming South again soon, and may make a few calls before settling in town for a time. Later, should it be found necessary, she will go abroad with Lord Ivor Churchill and again take a villa for the winter either in Italy or on the Riviera coast. Lord Ivor, however, is getting stronger as he gets older, and he has benefited to a great extent by his stay in Scotland, where, in company with the Marquis of Blanford, he spent most of his time on the moors.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Duke, who went abroad after last London season, are not expected back for any length of time until the spring of next year. When they do come it will be to take possession, for the season, of Mrs. James Henry Smith's house in Grosvenor square. There they are expected to do a considerable amount of entertaining and be much feted, for both are extremely popular in London society. Mrs. Duke, who is considered very beautiful, was one of the greatest successes in Anglo-American society last season.

MILITARY BIPLANES FLYING AT NIGHT

Illuminated flying machines, says the Sphere, conducted a mimic naval attack at Hendon, where British army manoeuvres were held recently.

The unique demonstration of night flying proved of great interest to students of aviation and attracted a large crowd of the general public to the aerodrome. The machines when lighted by dozens of incandescent electric lamps produced an extraordinary effect. By constantly switching their lights on and off the pilots caused their machines to appear to view and as quickly vanish again, their position being only betrayed by the flaming exhaust of the Gnome engines, as shown in the uppermost machine in the picture.

Searchlights from the ground constantly lighted up the machines, but great care had to be exercised to prevent the dazzling glare blinding the pilot. Light and sound signals were flashed from the air by Morse code, and the aeroplanes circled over a canvas battle ship, which they destroyed by bombs.

WHOPPING BLACK LIES ARE TOO PREVALENT IN LONDON.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

"ENGLAND used to pride herself on being the most truthful nation on earth, but it seems to be just the opposite," said Mr. Edward Chitty, the Revising Barrister, in reference to some untruthful information submitted to him in connection with applications for inclusion in the voters' register.

A prominent social worker in England who was asked if he thought lying was on the increase in England did not hesitate to state he thought it was.

"People make loose statements," he said, "which they know to be false, but they salve their consciences by regarding these untruths as 'white lies.' Politicians are always lying in the House of Commons—and out of it—but why a man should tell a lie simply because he wants a vote passes my comprehension.

"Lies, and whopping black lies, too, are told in business offices every day. The principals lie to their clerks, the clerks lie to their principals, and all lie to clients when it is inconvenient to speak the truth. 'All men are liars.' King David's words are truer to-day than when they were first written."

LASHED TO FURY ON OMNIBUSES AND ROAD REPAIR.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

SOME of the newspapers, for lack of good "features," are opening their columns to and taking sides with correspondents who are lashing themselves into fury about the relative merits of tramcars and autobuses. The one side asserts that tramways are a form of traction which will soon be obsolete and that London's municipal cars make no real profit.

The other side declares autobuses destroy the road and should be made to pay for it; that they compel street widening, which is often charged to the tramway accounts, but never contribute themselves; that they are run by a monopoly, and that the monopoly is engaged in causing trams to be decried so that the London County Council enterprises shall be discouraged for its own advantage.

Pictures of half empty buses passing the Bank of England are given to prove that the wicked monopoly is putting on more vehicles than the public needs. The autobus fares are denounced as extortionately high. In the next line a heavy tax on the buses is advocated.

The other side bewilders readers with statistics to prove that the harmless, necessary tram never makes a profit, wears out quickly and produces a tendency to crooked finance in all public officials who have to deal with it.

Both sides collect all the unhappy instances of persons killed or injured by trams or autobuses, and Londoners, meanwhile, travel by one vehicle or another just as suits their convenience and without prejudice.

MR. H. B. IRVING TO WRITE BOOK ON MAYBRICK CASE.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

MR. H. B. IRVING, who is now appearing as Nobody in "Everywoman" at Drury Lane, is about to publish a book on the Maybrick case. Mr. Irving's interest in the study of criminology is well known by his book on French criminals, and he is a member of the "Murder" Club, which meets monthly in London for the discussion of current crimes. The forthcoming book will comprise a long introduction written by Mr. Irving and a verbatim report of the trial of Mrs. Maybrick, and it will appear as one of the "Famous Trials" series published by the firm of William Hodge, of Glasgow.

MR. LOUIS WEIRTER AND THE SCENES HE PAINTS.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

WHAT may truthfully be regarded as the "high art" should figure prominently in the book of artistic reminiscences upon which Mr. Louis Weirter, R. B. A., is engaged. He can easily claim the record for having occupied the loftiest studios in London, and probably in the whole kingdom.

Mr. Weirter viewed Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee procession from one of the little windows, invisible to the man in the street, in the golden ball above the dome of St. Paul's, where his only companions were the pigeons. His picture of the scene is now in the Albany barracks, at Windsor.

Later he sketched King Edward's coronation procession from the top of the Big Ben Tower, at Westminster, where he was not a little alarmed and inconvenienced by the rocking of the tower a foot or more out of the perpendicular when the bells chimed. For two years he occupied a special studio constructed for his use at the summit of the tower of Westminster Cathedral, from which point of vantage he painted his twenty foot panorama, "London the Beautiful," exhibited at Hanover Gallery and at the Festival of Empire at the Crystal Palace last year.

MORE REASONS WHY DOG QUARANTINE SHOULD BE ABOLISHED.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

FURTHER interviews with English dog lovers on the subject of the Board of Agriculture's dog quarantine, a campaign against which Lady de Bathe recently suggested should be made, show that there is general agreement that the laws should be made less stringent. One good reason why they should be relaxed is given by Mrs. Lionel Faudel Phillips, who has been interested in Chows all her life, as it was chiefly owing to the persistent championship of her mother, the late Lady Granville Gordon, that the variety came into prominence.

"It is absolutely incontestable," said Mrs. Faudel Phillips, "that these measures have practically stamped out rabies in this country, and the wisdom of the Board of Agriculture in adopting them cannot for one moment be questioned, but now that the disease is virtually non-existent I rather think (without being in possession of any data) that the stringency of the regulations might possibly be relaxed, in view of the difficulty now experienced of importing fresh blood among many of the foreign breeds—now so much in vogue."

Other sound objections to the restrictions are raised by Mrs. Clarice Ashton Cross, whose famous kennel of Pekinese, at Egham, is regarded as one of the best in the world.

"The law as applied to toy dogs seems needlessly harsh," remarked Mrs. Ashton Cross. "They are pets and often valuable pets. They are closely looked after, and if a strange dog comes near them they are picked up at once. Yet they are treated as if they were mongrels, wandering at large and consorting with curs of low degree.

"During the last twenty years I have never heard of hydrophobia among toy dogs. Their immunity is due, not to quarantine regulations, for smuggling is notoriously habitual, but to their owners' care.

"The loss such regulations cause to the country is great. I personally know about thirty families that wish to live in England, but cannot because they must winter abroad to have pet dogs from which they will not be parted. Men as well as women come across for a few days at most, while if there were reasonable regulations they would stay for a large part of every year. They will not expose their pets to the long torture of a useless quarantine.

"Why not require any one taking a toy dog abroad to obtain a veterinary certificate of good health; to have that certificate indorsed monthly or even weekly while abroad, and on return to be admitted to England only on condition of keeping the dog isolated and supplying weekly for any reasonable time a veterinary certificate, or in default have the dog removed and kept under observation. Such a milder law would be backed by public opinion, could be uniformly enforced and would be really effective."

It is the opinion of Mrs. E. Kilburn Scott, the well known Samoyede expert, that six months' quarantine is too long, and the Board of Agriculture recognizes this by allowing some dogs out after three months, but the red tape to be surmounted to get this three months' reduction requires sweeping away.

KENNEL CLUB MAKES HAPPY SELECTION OF ITS JUDGES.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

THE Kennel Club made a very happy selection of judges for its fifty-seventh annual three day show, and with such well known persons as the Duchess of Newcastle, Lord Kensington, Lord Vivian, Mrs. Lionel Faudel-Phillips, the Honorable Mary Hawke, Mr. Handley Spicer, Mr. Francis Redmond, Miss D. Keith Wright and Mrs. Winthrop Turner adjudicating in the varieties in which they are all thorough experts more than usual interest centred in the show.

Mrs. Winthrop Turner, who has the honor of being the first American woman to judge at the annual exhibition of England's premier dog club, decided on the merits of French bulldogs, the Duchess of Newcastle and Mr. Francis Redmond judged wire and [illegible] haired fox terriers respectively; Lord Kensington and Lord Vivian shared the curly and flat coated retriever sections and Lord Kensington also presided over the Sealeyham terriers. Mrs. Lionel Faudel-Phillips, of course, dealt with chow chows, of which she has had a lifelong experience, and the Honorable Mary Hawke, who is a daughter of Lord Hawke, the well known cricket enthusiast, awarded the prizes for Cairn terriers, and Miss Dorothy Keith Wright judged in the Pekinese section, of which fashionable breed close on one hundred and fifty specimens came before her.

Altogether fifty judges were appointed and they delivered judgment on the three thousand and two hundred odd exhibits in twenty-eight different rings. The total entry shows a decrease on that of 1911, but this is accounted for by the fact that many notable dogs were not shown, as their owners were judging. This particularly applies to the Duchess of Newcastle, Lord Kensington, Mr. Francis Redmond, Mrs. L. Faudel-Phillips, Miss D. Keith Wright, Mrs. Graves, Mr. J. A. Loggie and Mr. W. T. Horry, who can generally be relied upon to muster a hundred entries between them. Another reason for the decline is that last year there were forty-three more classes, and in addition special prizes were competed for on the second day, for which separate entries were necessary. The entries for these specials were very heavy.

Then again this year Japanese were not included in the schedule, and that means a further decrease of thirty or forty entries. Big dogs seem to be falling off in public favor again, especially Great Danes. On the other hand, the old English mastiffs, cocker spaniels, white West Highland terriers, Cairn terriers and Sealeyham terriers show an increase. Fox terriers are always a big feature at a kennel club show, and this year's total of 287 is better than last year. Pomeranians also mustered very strongly, as do Pekinese and "Scotties."

With seventy different breeds benched and penned the show will keep up its reputation for variety.

Well known persons who are exhibiting their pets at the Palace include Mary Duchess of Hamilton (Sealeyham terriers); Lady H. Samuelson (Pekinese); Honorable Mrs. Lytton (toy spaniels); Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr. (Pekinese); Gertrude Lady Decies (Pekinese, whippets and greyhounds), Lord Wrottesley (dachshunds); Lady Wemyss, Lady Lacon (chows); Miss V. Ashton Cross (Pekinese); Mrs. Alstair Campbell (Cairn terriers); Mrs. Acland Hood (Pekinese); Lady de Gex, Lady Sophie Scott, Honorable Mrs. Gerald Lascelles (white West Highland terriers); Marquis of Linlithgow, Honorable Mrs. McLaren Morrison (foreign dogs); Mrs. W. Hall Walker (Poms); Honorable Mrs. Llewellyn, the Earl of Devon and Sir Hugo Fitzherbert.

A WONDERFUL GLIMPSE INTO THE MIND OF A CHILD.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.

A WONDERFUL glimpse of the mind of a child, a peep into the glorious land of dreams and makebelieve, is provided in an exhibition that is setting artistic London talking. It is an exhibition of the paintings and drawings of Miss Daphne Allen, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. George Allen, the publisher, which has been opened at the Dudley Galleries, Piccadilly.

Professor Selwyn Image, Slade professor of the fine arts at Oxford, who has written an introduction to the catalogue of her works, calls the drawings "astonishing" and confesses himself "at a loss to account for them."

Miss Daphne makes up fairy tales for herself and draws pictures to illustrate them. In the gallery are 160 drawings produced during the last two years. They are done in pen and ink, pencil and water color, and actually they are the soul of a child made visible. In sureness of touch they are almost freakishly mature. The vigorous and extraordinarily resourceful invention is that of a grown up and developed mind, but the spirit in all the pictures is purely that of a child.

Some are religious subjects, but the little artist has also drawn mermaids, fairies and cupids, little sprites sitting on toadstools, dragons and knights in wonderful armor, enchanted castles, witches weaving enchantments, and beautifully dressed damsels rescued by glorious princes. Realism has as yet no attraction for her.

At a private view the gallery was crowded with a wondering gathering, delighted with this revelation of this lost land of their younger years.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building. Telephone 1227.

(Canadian Press Service.)

New York, Oct. 25.—A flurry in the local money market, resulting mainly from the steady loss of cash to the interior during the week, was the primary cause of another weak stock market to-day. Call loans rose to 6¼ per cent, with an appreciable hardening of time rates. Forecasts issued to-day show a drain on home institutions of about $40,000,000, which is slightly in excess of last week's cash reserve. Unless this condition is in some way rectified, to-morrow's bank statement will probably disclose a deficit.

Home conditions were in no wise assisted by conditions abroad, where most markets had to reflect a degree of uneasiness. Discounts were firmer in London, and the settlement in mining securities there attracted more than usual attention because of the greater carrying charges. Our issues were lower in London, the declining tendency being followed up with further sales here. There was a well defined suspicion, however, that no inconsiderable part of London's selling was really for New York account. Paris and Berlin were steady, the German Bourse deriving some encouragement from the statement issued by the Imperial Bank of Germany. That institution gained over $5,000,000 gold and $10,000,000 cash, meanwhile reducing its loans by some $4,000,000.

Selling here was at its height shortly before noon, when leading stocks averaged declines well over a point. Liquidation was orderly, but persistent, and for a while the market received substantial support. In the late afternoon, regardless of another advance in money to the day's highest quotation, the greater part of the early loss was regained, especially in the standard railway shares. Trading was light on the recovery, however, with considerable short covering in evidence.

Bank clearings, as compiled by the commercial agencies, show very large gains over the preceding two years, being greater by 28 per cent than at this time last year. The Atchison road for September made a net gain of $626,000.

Bonds were under pressure. Total sales, par value, amounted to $1,650,000.

United States Government bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of McDougall & Cowans, stock brokers, 81 St. Peter Street.

New York, Oct. 25.—The market started off quiet but generally fractionally higher this morning and during the first hour fluctations were confined within narrow limits. Around 11 o'clock selling increased all around the room and the market went off declining from 1 to 2⅛ from the early high level, the latter in Reading occurring before 1 o'clock. A fair amount of liquidation occurred on the decline, but in afternoon this entirely ceased a leisurely short covering movement started in which carried stocks back nearly to last night's closing level, the net result of the day being very small fractional declines throughout the list. While the decline was undoubtedly the result of bear tactics a fair amount of liquidation was brought about and shorts were enabled to cover their commitments at a profit.

The technical position of the market is but little changed as a result of the day's transactions.

Call money, as was only natural, in view of the heavy loss in cash which the banks have made this week was considerably firmer renewals ranging from 5¾ to 6 per cent the bulk of the business being done at these figures. Exchange weakened in sympathy with the rise in call money. Total sales of stocks 699,300.

MUCH DAMAGE BY THURSDAY'S GALE

Many Buildings Suffer From Great Force of Wind—Several Roofs Are Blown Off.

The storm that prevailed Thursday morning and night on the River St. Lawrence and throughout the city and district was responsible for more damage than was at first reported. Quite a few buildings in the country districts, especially in parts along the river shore, suffered damage. In several cases the roofs were partly blown off, and the debris scattered about the fields.

The electric light wires in different parts of the city were disturbed to such an extent that business houses, in many cases, were deprived of their light for a short time, and kept the trouble department of the Q. R. L. & P. Co. busy.

The roof of the house at the corner of Bayard and St. Valier street, occupied by Mr. Debonville, tailor, was completely torn off, but the greatest destruction reported was suffered by the Wm. A. Marsh Co., Limited, shoe manufacturers, at the corner of Dorchester and St. Valier streets. The tin roof covering of the main building was carried away and hurled on top of the adjoining buildings on the south side of St. Valier street, where a large portion remained, while the balance fell into the street, a mass of debris that blocked the street until removed by laborers yesterday.

Part of the tin roof that landed on an adjoining building came into contact with high powered electric wires and quickly grew red hot, but the current was turned off, and the wreckage cleared away before a fire started.

The part of the roof blown off measures 75x100 feet. Early yesterday morning workmen were placed at work to repair the damage done, which is estimated at $2,000.

The Signal Service Station was called up yesterday afternoon to know if any damage to shipping had been sustained in the Lower St. Lawrence, but the Chronicle was informed that none had so far been reported.

RIVER CRAFT SUFFER FROM THE BIG BLOW.

There was a considerable amount of damage caused on the river by the storm on Thursday night.

A number of river craft and canal boats moored in the St. Charles River suffered more or less injury.

A small schooner, laden with potatoes, after being considerably knocked about, was abandoned by the captain and crew, but when the tide went down yesterday morning they again took possession of the craft.

Three or four canal boats received a good deal of damage, but were saved from serious injury by the tide falling.

The roof of the R. & O. pontoon was nearly demolished, but the hull suffered little damage, although badly pounded against the wharf.

All the big fenders of the Harbor Commissioners' wharves were torn from their mooring, some of them drifting up the St. Charles River, while others went up as far as Cap Blanc on the St. Lawrence.

A couple of schooners that were blown ashore on Beauport beach came off at high tide yesterday.

At the height of the storm a number of tugs ran into the Louise Dock for shelter, thus escaping damage.

C.P.R. TRAIN-DE-LUXE ON QUEBEC-MONTREAL SERVICE

The Train-de-Luxe now operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway between Quebec and Montreal is giving entire satisfaction if we can judge by the ever increasing number of people who profit by the advantages which it gives.

This Train-de-Luxe leaves Quebec daily at 5 p.m., arriving Montreal at 10.00 p.m. This allows travellers to transact their business during the day and to travel at night, arriving at their homes or hotels at a reasonable hour.

A dining car is attached to this Train-de-Luxe—supper is served a la carte—excellent cuisine and moderate prices.

DAY BY DAY

"What is beer" or "what is whiskey" is being superseded in Michigan by a puzzling problem that is far more important to the big apple districts—"What is hard cider?"

The attorney general's department is receiving many inquiries to interpret the local option law relative to making cider in "dry" counties. The department says that the matter is difficult of explanation because of the trouble in ascertaining when cider becomes "hard," and again, when it becomes vinegar. It is not against the law to make sweet cider, but it is against the law to traffic in "hard" cider.

We should say, offhand, that the determination of that period when cider becomes "hard" suggests the well-known test by means of which toadstools are differentiated from mushrooms. You drink the cider, and if all the apple trees in your vicinity begin to participate in a measured movement to waltz time, the cider is "hard." Sometimes it may require three or four goblets to decide whether or not the tinging beverage knows its business.

Probably no intoxicant is so elusive of prohibitory laws as cider. You may buy a jug of it, sweet, and let it "harden," so to speak. The law cannot deny the right of nature to take its course.

Who is to question one who purchases cider for the purpose of having vinegar, and from time to time samples it generously to ascertain how far it has progressed toward that desirable acidulous state?

"Moonshine" whiskey, authority identifies with confidence, but when it encounters cider in its various stages, it is bound to be confused.

At the antique husking bee every girl who found a red ear of corn was to be kissed by the nearest "swain."

Is that term complimentary or not? The custom must have been disagreeably promiscuous.

Cleveland householders are boycotting eggs when they are known to have a cold storage source. So do we, if we know it.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge produces statistic to show that the tariff bears so lightly on the consumer that it amounts to a tax of only 3.24 cents per capita a year. It bears so lightly, in fact, that our cousins across the line are not compelled to eat turkey more than once a year.

Beauty is more than skin deep, say what you will. Half of it depends on something as deep as the digestive apparatus—than which nothing could be much deeper.

Is there any deep-seated reason why we call them Montenegrins, rather than Montenegroes?

Statistics show that Missouri leads is poultry in the United States, notwithstanding one-tenth of the crop is destroyed by hawks. From this we judge that Missouri also leads in hawks.

Will it be an early winter? Ask us again in a couple of week or so.

Have you put 'em on yet? It begins to fell like time to put 'em on. Personally, we haven't put 'em on, but we begin to feel the need of 'em.

Even if Kansas City women do chew tobacco, as reputed, we refuse to lose any sleep about it. They at least set men a good example by doing it privately.

An appreciative audience of 50,000 people at Trenton, N. J., saw Aviator Walsh make a spiral descent of 2000 feet. He leaves a wife and two children.

Why should the courts be bothered with the troubles of a seventeen-year-old husband and a sixteen-year-old wife while the parents have access to birch rod and slipper?

The increasing price of turkeys will be an act of kindness to the birds by prolonging their lives, few people being willing to buy them.

People didn't have to take an ocean trip yesterday to enjoy sea sickness. The ferry boats had a large stock on hand.

False economy. Refusing to 50 cents dockage for your vessel, and suffering $50 damage in consequence.

ALWAYS MAKING PROFITS.

Mr. James Dawson, of Laval, Quebec, has just added his name to the long list of successful speculators in Limoilou Park.

Three years ago Mr. Dawson purchased from Mr. Jas. A. McGowan, manager of the Quebec Land Co., a building lot in Park Limoilou for $450, payable on monthly installments of $3. Mr. Dawson has recently sold his lot for the sum of $1000 which is over 100 per cent profit. Think over it and imitate Mr. Dawson by investing your spare cash on building lots in Limoilou Park. Office 81 Bridge street.

PERSONAL.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert LaRue and family returned to town yesterday from an extended automobile trip to the United States, going as far as New York. The trip lasted one month and Dr. LaRue speaks in glowing terms of the roads over the border, but cannot say as much of the roads in the Province of Quebec, which, he says, are in a disgraceful condition.
