HEALTH PLAN MAY HURT TAX CUTS

Report In Six Weeks

Big Atomic Powers Agree To Resume Disarmament Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (AP) — The big atomic powers, including Canada, are committed to resume their private disarmament talks soon and make a progress report about six weeks afterwards.

The 12-member United Nations disarmament commission agreed late Monday to that schedule, proposed by Britain, for its five-member sub-committee. This consists of Britain, Canada, France, the Soviet Union and the United States. They are expected to reconvene in London early in March.

The six-week interim report will enable the other seven members of the commission to keep a closer watch on the closed-door talks than last year. Then, the sub-committee held 46 meetings from February into October before reporting.

The Soviet Union and the U.S. Monday were still far apart on the Eisenhower plan for mutual aerial inspection of military sites, designed to prevent surprise attack.

The UN General Assembly had asked the sub-committee to give priority to "such confidence-building measures" in efforts to arrive eventually at a comprehensive disarmament agreement.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told the commission that the U.S. was seeking to supplant discussion of such an agreement with discussion of a mere inspection scheme. That scheme "would actually be transformed into a military intelligence plan," would intensify mutual distrust and would stimulate the arms race.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. delegate, replied that his government favors a comprehensive agreement and that Eisenhower's "open sky" plan would promote the international confidence indispensable to broader plans. He said that any government which turned the Eisenhower plan down would merit "suspicion of contemplating an aggression."

World News In Brief

Stockholm, Sweden — (Reuters) — Four young fishermen from an East German trawler, the Rudolf Breitscheid, Monday night left the vessel at Slite on the Swedish island of Gotland and asked for political asylum. The trawler had sought shelter during a weekend storm in the Baltic. Swedish officials said the fishermen told them they were fed up with the Communist regime and wanted to escape a long term of service in the East German army. They were aged from 17 to 20.

Milford, Conn. — (AP) — Five members of a family were burned to death in their home a block from a fire station early today.

An 11-year-old son, the only survivor, leaped to safety from his second-storey bedroom window. The dead are Richard Jusch, 6, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Jusch and Mrs. Jusch's father and mother.

Brussels, Belgium — (Reuters) — Two trains — one crammed with United States servicemen returning from leave in England — collided here late Monday night injuring more than 30 persons, the collision occurred at Herent station, about five miles from Brussels, when a local train ran into an international train loaded with American servicemen which was going from Ostend, Belgium, to Cologne, Germany. The international train had stopped because of engine trouble.

Chicago — (AP) — Three members of a family perished and another was injured in a fire which destroyed a two-story frame dwelling Monday night on the far south side. Five persons fled to safety. Two children were among the five persons living on the second floor who escaped without injury.

New York — (AP) — Some airlines of the future may have tilting wings and propellers for vertical or near-vertical takeoff and landing. This was reported at the annual meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences. The report was based on wind-tunnel experiments with large scale models, conducted by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the government's top civil and research agency.

Engineer Accepts Blame, Says He Blacked Out

Los Angeles — (AP) — The anguished engineer of a train which plunged off a slow-order curve at about 70 miles an hour, killing 29 passengers and injuring about 150 others, has told the district attorney:

"The responsibility is solely mine . . . I blacked out . . . I didn't know we were going that fast."

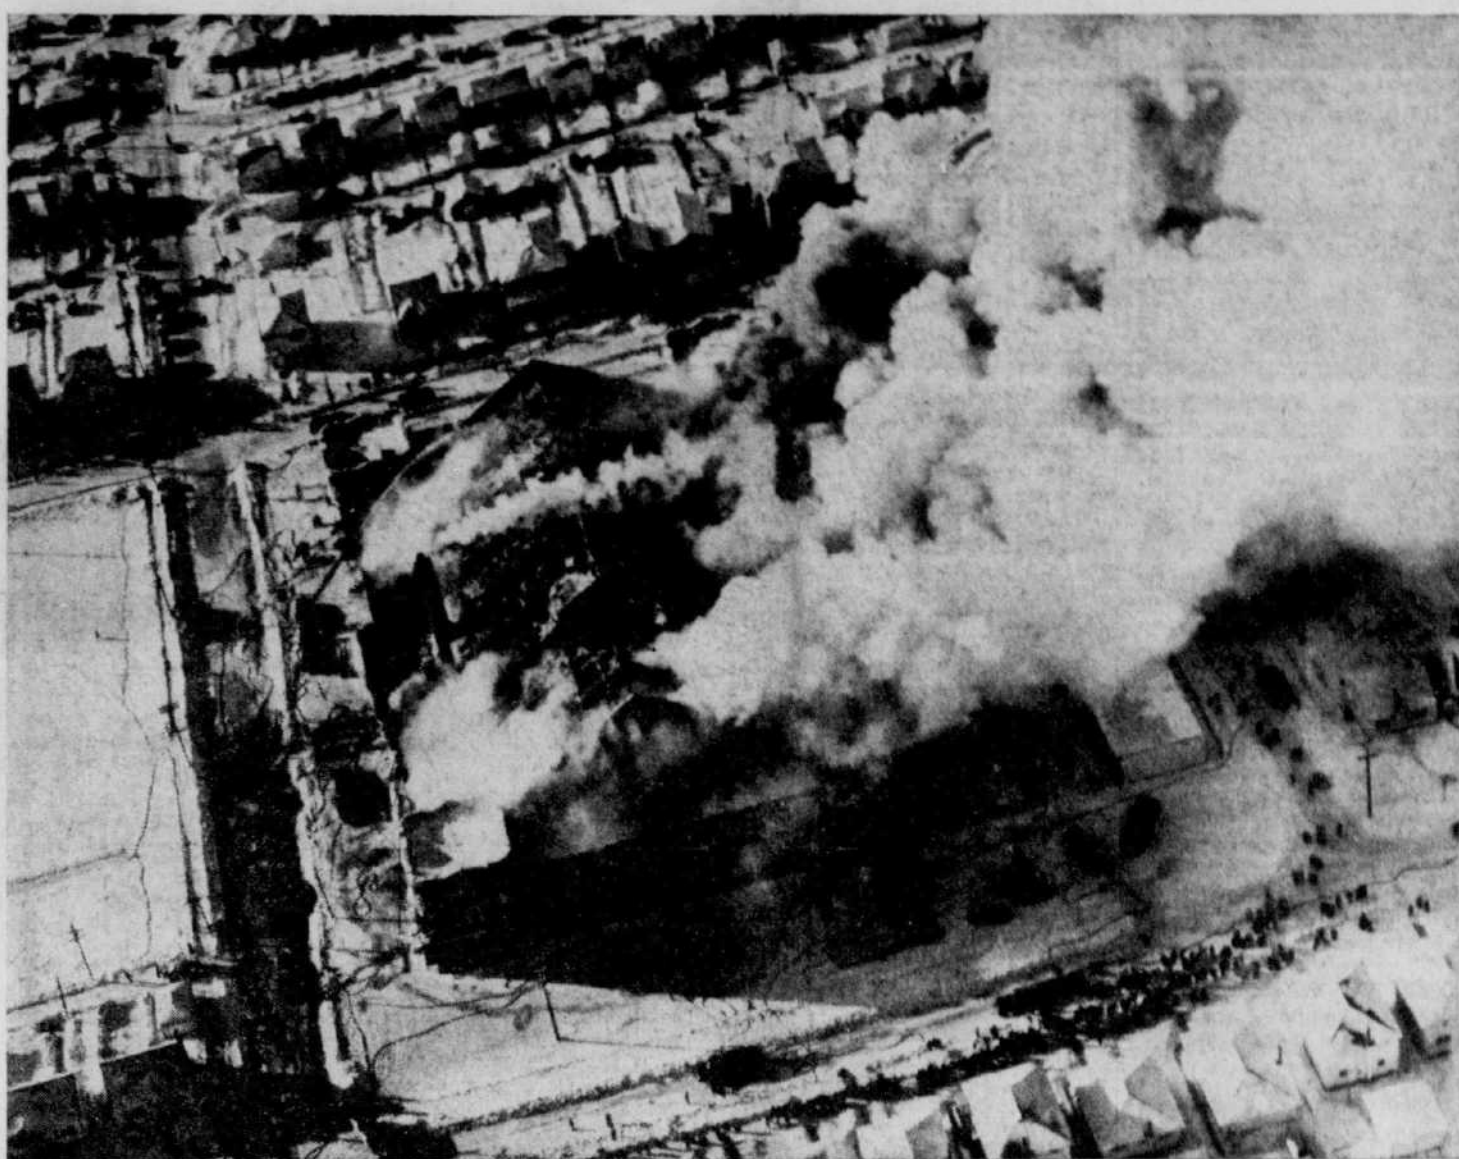

The Santa Fe's two-car diesel, the San Diego, tipped off the rails onto its left side Sunday night, 15 minutes after it had left union station for San Diego, 125 miles south. The 212,000-pound cars spilled some victims through windows and crushed them as it slid, roaring and screeching, more than 200 feet. "I vaguely recall seeing an orange grove," District Attorney S. Ernest Roll said he was also told by the injured engineer, Frank B. Parrish, 61.

The reference suggested a mirage, because there are no orange groves in the area, although there are near Parrish's home in nearby San Bernardino.

Fireman Homer Smith's version on the tragedy suggested mechanical failure, but engineer Parrish told the district attorney: "No, that is not true. It was my fault completely."

An inquest, with more than 100 witnesses expected to testify, has been set for Feb. 3.

Army Landmark Burns — Fire ate the heart out of Minto barracks, one of the landmarks in Winnipeg's west end, and took the life of one fireman. Only steel girders remain of the roof of the 43-year-old building. Army officials estimate damage of $600,000. Battalion chief Andrew Hebert, 64, died in hospital shortly after he was overcome by smoke.

Supreme Court Nails Coffin

Ottawa. — (P) — The Supreme Court of Canada in a 5-to-2 decision today said it would dismiss an appeal by Wilbert Coffin, Gaspé, Que., prospector convicted of murdering a 17-year-old American hunter in June, 1953.

The majority opinion, delivered at the request of the federal cabinet is not binding. The court was asked what decision it would have rendered if it had heard Coffin's appeal in the normal manner.

Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin and Mr. Justice Robert Taschereau, I. C. Rand, R. L. Kellock and Gerald Fauteux would have dismissed the appeal. Mr. Justice C. H. Locke and J. R. Cartwright would have quashed the conviction and ordered a new trial.

Reasons for the court's rejection of a Quebec motion questioning the jurisdiction of the court to hear the federal reference will be given later.

The court's opinion, presumably, will be used by the cabinet in deciding whether to interfere with the death sentence passed on the 44-year-old bushman at Percé, Que., in July, 1954.

The court's opinion—which is not binding—was requested by the federal cabinet to help it decide whether to interfere with the death sentence.

The cabinet may let the sentence be carried out as scheduled Feb. 10 at Montreal's Bordeaux jail, commute it to life imprisonment, or order a new trial.

Coffin's conviction was upheld unanimously by the Quebec Court of Appeals. His application for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court was rejected last September by Mr. Justice Douglas Abbott.

The cabinet, in an unprecedented action, later referred the case to the Supreme Court for an opinion after Justice Minister Garson was told some members of the court would have granted an appeal if they had heard the application.

Mr. Justice Abbott did not sit on hearings on the federal reference.

Following the routine procedure for government references to the court, the opinion was brought down in open court and not given directly to the cabinet.

Hunter Richard Lindsey's bearded remains were found in July, 1953, in the Gaspé peninsula bush along with those of his father, Eugene Lindsey, 47, and Albert Clair, 20.

Quebec provincial police described their deaths as "Quebec's most gruesome murder case."

They claimed Coffin ambushed the three hunters and shot them to steal more than $500 the elder Lindsey was known to have with him. His empty wallet was found in a river bed near his body.

A gasoline pump for the hunters' truck, a hunting knife, a valise containing clothing and a pair of binoculars—all belonging to the hunting party which entered the Gaspé bush June 9, 1953—were traced to Coffin's possession by police.

Coffin said last October in a statement issued through his lawyers that he received $40 from the hunters for driving young Lindsey to Gaspé village, 65 miles from the murder scene, to buy a new gas pump for the truck. He maintained he is innocent of the murder, though he readily admitted stealing some of the hunters' effects.

Higher Apple Consumption Said Needed

Montreal. — (P) — A profitable market for future Quebec apple crops can be achieved only by an increase in per capita consumption, Gerald Beaudin, president of the Quebec Pomological and Fruit Growing Society, said Monday.

Mr. Beaudin spoke before 400 fruit growers who attended the society's 62nd annual meeting here.

He said Quebec apple producers are facing problems which are common to the apple industry in other parts of Canada but have established themselves "as a factor in all available markets."

A recent move by the federal agriculture department which provides price support to apple growers has been a step towards a national policy of assistance, he said.

D. S. Blair of the horticulture division of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa told the convention some success has been obtained in breeding new varieties of apples.

He said 21 new-type seedlings developed at the farm have been selected as possible commercial varieties.

Plan Crackdown On Ont. Plates

Ottawa. — (P) — Quebec provincial police yesterday announced launching of a systematic check for cars bearing Ontario licence plates but owned by Quebec residents.

Streets of nearby Hull and other district towns will be checked and Quebec residents caught with Ontario plates will be prosecuted, police said.

Police said some Quebec residents bought Ontario plates to avoid paying Quebec car insurance rates—nearly double those in Ontario—Quebec's two-per-cent sales tax on automobiles and Quebec licence fees which are higher than Ontario's.

They gave false Ontario addresses when they applied at Ontario licence offices.

Ottawa To Provide $175 Million Toward Sliding-Scale Plan

OTTAWA — (CP) — A 50-50 federal share in health insurance costs with the provinces was in prospect today.

It could result in smaller tax cuts than otherwise might come out of this year's 1956-57 federal budget.

"We don't have much leeway," a finance department official said after it became known the federal government is ready to contribute up to $175,000,000 a year as its share of a national health insurance plan in the initial stages.

This official said any contribution of the size indicated for health insurance could have an effect on tax cuts. Liberals in the Senate and in the Commons have recently urged that the government put health insurance ahead of tax reductions.

Extent of the government's willingness to contribute to federal-provincial health insurance plans was disclosed unofficially Monday after opening of a conference of Ottawa and provincial ministers on the question.

The government here, informants said, is willing to contribute half the national cost of an insurance plan for hospital and diagnostic care. The conference was to hear the federal proposals in the next day or two.

The over-all cost of such a plan in all provinces, it was understood, is estimated as $300,000,000 for hospital care and $50,000,000 for diagnosis.

Half of this, with all provinces in, would cost the federal treasury $175,000,000 a year. However, there are no immediate expectations that all provinces will be included at the start.

Health Minister Martin told reporters Monday that the federal government indicated to conferees at the closed meeting that it will participate if six provinces representing a majority of the population enter a program along lines laid down by the federal administration.

Four provinces most anxious to enter are Ontario, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Newfoundland—whose delegates were unable to reach Ottawa for the opening meeting because of travel connections—was regarded as a certainty to sign up.

Ontario Provincial Treasurer Porter advanced a proposal that the central treasury take on 60 per cent of the burden of a comprehensive hospital insurance plan including diagnostic and home care.

It became known later that the federal government will not go for this figure.

The federal proposals, it was learned, call for a series of alternate scales to individual provinces, based on the principle of Parliament's treasury taking care of half of the national bill.

Dentistry Learns Of New X-Ray

Washington — (AP) — Development of a new dental X-ray machine that takes a "panoramic" X-Ray picture of the whole mouth in about 40 seconds was announced Monday night by the government.

The announcement said the device makes it possible to reduce to less than five minutes the overall time required for a dentist to make a "full mouth" survey — compared with 20 minutes required under present techniques that involve taking 14 separate "pictures" of different areas of the mouth.

The announcement said the new machine should be particularly useful to the armed forces in making rapid dental surveys of personnel who enter and leave the service — and to communities making mass surveys of school children's teeth.

In the new technique, a roll of film is placed outside the patient's mouth and is exposed by passing a narrow beam of X-rays through his head from the rear, as he sits in a chair.

The X-ray source and film holder are suspended from opposite ends of a horizontal arm that rotates in a semi-circular path. Thus, a picture of the whole mouth is taken in one movement, and then the opposite side is filmed — with the whole survey being recorded on a single strip of film.

Capital Hill Roundup

OTTAWA — (CP) — The Commons throne speech debate, its sails fluttering occasionally as the winds of controversy fell off a little, moved within sight of the finish line today.

Running under new rules drafted last session which limit the debate to 10 sitting days, its speakers Monday touched on a variety of subjects including a Liberal suggestion for import quotas on rubber footwear and vegetable oils and a Progressive Conservative recommendation that wheat acreage be systematically reduced to ease the surplus problem.

Attendance in the 265-member Commons dwindled as low as 38 at one stage during the eighth day of the debate, due to "wind up" Wednesday.

N. C. Schneider (L - Waterloo North) suggested imposition of import quotas on foreign-made rubber footwear and vegetable oils.

He said "sub-standard, starvation - wage operators" in Hong Kong, Japan and elsewhere are threatening the rubber footwear industry in Canada and are preparing to sell low-cost tires here.

The government should use escape clauses in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade for threatened domestic industries since there was "a clear case of threat" to the rubber footwear industry.

Mr. Schneider, a Kitchener, Ont., meat packer, suggested the present federal support price on butter of 58 cents a pound be lowered "a little closer to world markets." This would benefit dairy farmers competing against margarine.

He proposed a quota limiting vegetable oils imports to their present level. If this could be done and animal fats sold at the same price, packing companies could pay farmers more for their livestock and still sell meat more cheaply to consumers.

The proposal for a limit on wheat acreage came from Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary North). He said reduction of wheat acreage could be carried out through the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act. The 20,000,000 acres planted to wheat last year should not be used as an arbitrary figure.

Wheat acreage should be set according to the chances of disposing of the crop. It was "foolish and stupid" to produce more wheat than Canada can use itself or sell abroad.

Turning from agriculture to social security, Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) demanded that old age pensions be increased to $65 a month from the present $40 to match the increase in the Gross National Product—value of all goods and services produced—since the pensions were introduced.

Mr. Knowles, CCF whip, said allowances for the blind and disabled and old age assistance—financed jointly by federal and provincial governments—for persons 65 to 69 also should be increased to $65. That would be equivalent to the 60 per cent increase in Canada's gross national product since 1949.

The government had said the economy was rolling in high gear. But what good was high gear unless it brought a decent standard of living to everyone?

Another Liberal backbencher, L. E. Roberge, Stanstead, suggested the government permit limited Japanese immigration to Canada now that Japan has adopted "four democracy" as a way of life.

Chicoutimi Accident Kills 4, Injures 3

CHICOUTIMI, Que. — (CP) — A coroner's court inquiry was to be opened today into the death of four persons in a two-car collision near this northeastern Quebec centre Monday.

Three persons are in hospital with injuries. A car driven by a travelling salesman met in a head-on collision on a snow-covered highway with another car bearing six people — a mother and two children from Hamilton, Ont., their grandparents and a great-uncle.

The salesman, Marcel Tremblay, 32, of L'Assomption, Que., and three of the others were killed. Two of the injured were in critical condition.

Police said Joseph Gagnon, 65, his 62-year-old wife and her brother, Albert Fortin, 54, all of nearby Alma, had gone to Quebec to pick up the Gagnon's daughter, Mrs. Solange Van Nordon, 28, of Hamilton, and her children, Leonard, 2, and nine-month-old Sandra.

The Van Nordons were going to Alma for a holiday with the Gagnons.

By the time help reached the scene, Tremblay, Fortin and little Sandra were dead. Mrs. Gagnon died later in hospital. Her husband and young Leonard were described in critical condition while Mrs. Van Nordon was under treatment for shock and cuts.

The accident occurred some six miles south of here on the Quebec-Chicoutimi highway.

The cars were hurled to opposite sides of the highway and almost completely wrecked. A storm had dumped some six inches of snow on the area and the road was described as dangerously slippery.

The Doofer Family

By Alma Sioux Scarberry

DAN IS LOCKED UP

Yes, indeed! Dollie Doofer was still in that box where she had been put so Dan the Magic Man could pretend she was being sawed in half. But to add to the confusion of Aunt Millie yelling that her house had been robbed and to arrest Dan, Boogie Boofier, the town gossip, was sounding off like a screeching banshee. Boogie was demanding her money back!

"I ain't about to pay ten cents a head for a show that stops before it's half over," Boogie's sharp nose was quivering with indignation. "So you just give me my money back, Mister Doofer. You got us into this. There's Pappie and me and Henpeck and Boogie—that's four. Forty cents! Give it back this minute or I'll have the law on you.

"It's your fault anyways—takin' in a stranger you never set eyes on before, with his rabbits an' birds an' callin' hisself a magic man. I said in your beds. The very idea! Now you give me my forty cents back."

Daddie Doofer pulled 40 cents out of his pocket and handed it to the town gossip to quiet her down. She sniffed and put it in her purse but wouldn't have left for the world. For fear she'd miss something. She was very happy when Sheriff Gittum Hoofier, his water pistols bristling and his bow with the feather arrow all cocked and ready for action, marched Dan off to a cage at the Dooferville Zoo, because the small hill town had no jail.

Even though Daddie and Mommie Doofer and almost everyone else had fled Gittum to give old Dan a chance, he just wouldn't!

In the excitement everyone left the schoolhouse right behind Dan and the Sheriff, leaving Dollie alone with Oofie. Gooie hopping around her, worried and trying to figure out what to do. Dollie didn't cry, because she knew she was in no danger, but she did some loud yelling for somebody to come and get her out of there.

Outside in the school yard Hammie Hoofier and Sammie Spoofier were near tears at the breaking up of their beautiful evening. They were all dressed up in costumes as Dan's assistants—with baggy pants and bright turbans. Then they heard the mean laugh of Woolie Woofier, the boy who wasn't kind to animals, and he was yelling and calling Dan a thief and a robber and saying he bet if they'd search Dan's old wagon they'd find out something!

The games began at 10 in the morning, stopping at noon for luncheon. They continued in the afternoon, stopping for tea at three o'clock. Mrs. J. R. McKay and Mrs. A. H. Ham poured at the tea table.

The skips of the visiting teams were unanimous in their expression of appreciation for a pleasant day, to the ladies of the Brae Manor Club.

LADIES' CIRCLE
The Ladies' Circle of the North Hatley Baptist Church held its annual meeting in the Sunday school hall. The opening devotional period was conducted by Miss Florence Parker.

The president, Miss Hazel Cinnamon, conducted the ensuing business session, which contained among other reports a most encouraging financial statement given by the treasurer, Mrs. M. Sharman.

When the business on hand was concluded, the president turned the meeting over to Mrs. M. Merrill, chairman of the nominating committee, who read the slate of officers, which was accepted.

The new executive of the Ladies' Circle is, president, Mrs. Laura Hawse; vice-president, Mrs. J. Ditchburn; secretary, Mrs. H. Taylor; and treasurer, Mrs. M. Sharman. The new president was welcomed to the chair, and a vote of thanks was extended to the retiring president, Miss Cinnamon, for her devoted leadership and effort on behalf of the Circle during her two years in office.

Mrs. Simon Kezar and Miss Florence Parker offered to entertain the next meeting at which time plans will be finalized for a bean dinner to be held early in February.

About 90 per cent of the bread eaten in Britain is price-controlled.

Richmond Voters Meet

Council's Achievements Reviewed

Richmond—A public meeting of the electors was held in the Town Hall, when the retiring mayor, H. P. Stone, gave a resume of the principal accomplishments during his two-year term of office.

The meeting was well attended and it unanimously approved of the candidature of Alderman A. Geoffroy for the mayoral seat. Voting is to take place on February 1 for mayor and three aldermen, as the following aldermen's term of office expires with that of the mayor: P. H. Roy, R. Morin and B. W. Armatage. Jean Paul Brouillette is seeking election as alderman, replacing Alderman Geoffroy. Mayor Stone is not seeking re-election.

Mayor Stone spoke of the harmony existing amongst the councillors during his term. He referred to the residents of Richmond as a fine and progressive people whom it was an honor to serve. He then detailed some of the major accomplishments of the council during the past two years.

The official opening of the National Plastics Industry. The sale of the foundry to this firm, at a fair price, was a big aid to local employment, and it was believed in time this would become a large manufacturing plant.

The changes in the water billing and rental tax billing, combining these two items and saving considerable cost in accounting.

The adoption of the sales tax, bringing in an additional revenue of $25,000 and obviating the necessity of increasing the municipal tax rate.

The enlargement of the pump house and provision of additional pumping facilities, without which there would have been a shortage of water in the summer months.

An option was taken to purchase Brompton Lake. This option was taken up and the rights to Brompton Lake were bought. This will prove a valuable asset to the town in future years.

The accumulated deficits for many years back were consolidated and are now being paid off each year, instead of being allowed to accumulate and increase.

A by-law was passed and a new building built and leased to the Teen Age Shoe Co. An addition was built for the H. H. Brown Shoe Co., which now employs 100 people. Negotiations have now been completed for the building of another similar addition for the Brown Shoe Co. on better terms than the previous buildings. It is expected the number of employees will be increased to 150. This by-law, it is hoped, will shortly be approved.

The opening of Gouin Park, the ground for which was donated to the town by Miss H. Blanche Gouin.

The water main crossing the St. Francis River was relaid and should be safe from disturbance by water and ice.

The budget was balanced for the first time in many years. The municipal valuation was increased by $387,000 or eight per cent.

For their help and co-operation the mayor thanked: The Board of Trade, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Proprietors' League, the Artisans, St. Jean Baptiste Society, the secretary-treasurer, G. M. Alexander, Chief of Police Gerard Paquin, town foreman, A. Viger, the Misses Bourbeau and Gagnon, of the office staff, and the industrial commissioners, Gerard Desmarais and Charles W. Armstrong.

Looking to the future, Mayor Stone mentioned a number of subjects which the new mayor and council might profitably consider. Amongst these were:

Compton Guild Elects Officers

Compton — St. James' Guild, Compton, met at the home of Mrs. Fred Green, when dinner was served to the members.

Following the dinner, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. George Groundwater, in the absence of Mrs. Nichols.

The secretary, Mrs. Green, read the minutes and gave a report of the fall sale. Then she read the annual report which was most satisfactory.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. George Groundwater, president; Mrs. Jas. Skuse, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Green, secretary-treasurer, (re-elected).

It was decided to send a donation to the March of Dimes, Cecil Memorial Hospital and the Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal.

The meeting was adjourned and tea was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Groundwater on February 1.

The Hidden Eye

The Post Office Department is certainly not going to win many friends with its new conception of employer-employee relations.

What a degrading situation when the Post Office finds it necessary to spy on its employees! There were strong protests when it was learned that such a spy system was being installed in Peterborough, Ont. In Peterborough, officials planned to use television and presumably somebody would have to sit at a receiving set and carefully make notes on how often another employee stopped to powder her nose.

Here in Sherbrooke, without the benefit of television, the Post Office has hit upon a much simpler scheme. "One-way windows" will allow Montreal inspectors to sit unseen and view the daily labors of fellow Post Office workers.

There would seem to be two logical steps to be taken next:

1. Another window should be cut in the "inspectors" room so that somebody can keep an eye on the "inspectors."

2. Dictaphones should be installed under every desk and in the lavatories.

As long as we're going to keep an eye on everybody, let's do a proper job of it. Too bad telephone tapping is illegal.

Agreed that post office offenses are of a very serious nature, but are preventative measures worth the utter demoralization of staff? For surely, no Post Office employees can feel comfortable in the knowledge that hidden eyes may be fastened on the back of his neck.

Few, if any, industries have ever felt the need for such elaborate surveillance methods. Leave it to a government department to come up with some such scheme.

Say, where are you going with that one-cent stamp?

Navy Not A Reform School

It is not difficult to find common ground with The Vancouver Province when it criticizes a proposal by one of its readers that the solution for the problem of delinquent youth is to put them in the navy.

The job of the Royal Canadian Navy is to train sailors for an emergency in the defence of this country. It is not a corrective agency. It is not a disposal unit for hoodlums.

The navy needs recruits, but it needs the best type of young people it can get if it is to carry out the function properly. With its new ships, filled with electronic devices, the R.C.N. demands many technical skills from its sailors and it takes responsible, intelligent youths to master these skills.

The wild, old days in naval history, when crews were recruited in prisons and by press gangs are long since gone.

The R.C.N. of today has enough problems without taking on delinquents.

The Opportunity Is There

Nobody likes the idea of having to be prepared for war but, unfortunately, in these troubled times it seems necessary.

There is, however, a 'pleasanter side on which one can look at the necessity of training this country's young men. For many, training in the armed services is indeed a blessing in disguise and it is only unfortunate that more of them don't realize the fine opportunities that await them.

There are many young men who, after leaving school, find themselves thrown on the open labor market, ill-equipped to successfully compete for any but the meanest jobs. This can be most discouraging to a boy who can not easily adapt himself to the available jobs.

Moreover, a boy just out of school needs a bit more than just a job. In our fast-moving society, he must learn quickly not only how to work, but how to live. He very likely has a need for some type of discipline.

Sometimes, one hears that young So and So went bad in the Army (or Air Force, or Navy). It is our contention that young So and So would have gone bad without the Army's help. Life in the Armed Services never hurt anybody who was physically equipped for it.

It teaches the gospel of give-and-take. It teaches young men how to live and work together. And as a bonus, it can teach a trade that will fit the young man for a satisfying and remunerative return to civilian life.

Elective System Weakness

Public life with service on elective boards has its interesting and attractive features, with rewards mostly in a sense of accomplishment and service rendered. It can be cruel, too, for sometimes the elective system means the abrupt turning of a good and faithful servant out of office with nothing more than the suggestion that they are no longer wanted. Some can take it. Others are hurt.

The unfortunate thing is that sometimes the electors cannot know the complete facts, for there are those jobs which must be done quietly and unobtrusively while others get the glamor. The former may be more important.

There is probably no way of correcting the situation. It is one of the weaknesses of the elective system. No doubt it has an effect on many who would be willing to serve under conditions of less exposure to something that is not altogether pleasant.

Conservatives Aim At Quebec

(The Windsor Daily Star)

Conservatives, at the meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada, appeared more enthusiastic than usual. They were talking about election prospects with at least some hope of improving their position.

Election of Mr. Leon Balcer, M.P., Three Rivers, as Association president, is an attempt to strengthen the party in one of its weakest spots—Quebec. If the Conservatives are to win the next election they must take some seats there. And, in addition, gain in the Western provinces and the Maritimes.

When the Conservatives were elected in 1930 they picked up 24 seats in Quebec. This was partly due to the importation of butter issue which concerned rural Quebec. It also was partly due to an unholy alliance between Tory imperial-ists and Quebec nationalists. Mr. Balcer predicts 25 Quebec seats for the party in the next elections.

MANY FAILURES

(Edmonton Journal)

It is somewhat disturbing to learn that almost a third of Albertans taking driving tests this year were unsuccessful. Between January 1 and November 26, 11,720 applicants out of a total of 36,544 failed to pass the examinations. The tests were required only of new applicants, and of those seeking reinstatement of their licences after being convicted of driving infractions.

"Welcome to America, Mr. Eden!"

With Billy Graham

By GEORGE BURNHAM

Bombay, India—Billy Graham, who flew 8,000 miles to India as a representative of the Prince of Peace, was welcomed with a bloody orgy of mob violence described as the blackest days in the history of ancient Bombay. The surging street battles between howling mobs and rifle-firing police, with death tolls climbing past the 50 mark and hundreds injured, forced cancellation of Billy's Friday meeting here.

The rally, which would have been the largest Protestant religious meeting ever held here, would have been the first on the 25,000-mile around-the-world tour.

Two persons were killed outside the stadium where the meeting was scheduled to be held. A mob of rock-throwing hooligans attacked the police station only a few minutes after Christian leaders of Bombay had conferred with the police commissioner about the danger of holding the meeting.

Five officers were killed during the day as police clamped a tight dusk-to-dawn curfew on the all public meetings and sports events. Authorities agreed it would be inviting a major disaster to hold the large open air religious meeting with such tension mounting.

A civil disturbance over the party that would rule Bombay, not the visit of Billy, was given as the cause of the violence but most officials agreed that the uprising was Communist inspired. Significantly, rioting has now spread to Madras, the next stop on Billy's speaking tour of India.

Billy went to troubled areas of Bombay when trams were stoned and cars burned. He saw young men beating an old shopkeeper for keeping his store open. Human hate was rampant. A policeman was stoned to death at his post. Acid bombs were thrown into faces of people.

Billy has said on many occasions that "Our skins may be different but the human heart, whether American or Indian, is the same. An intellectual pilot will fly through the skies andness after 13 operations.

drop an atom bomb on human beings. A jungle savage will creep along the trail and plunge a spear into a man. Why do these things happen? They happen because the human heart is wicked and will stay that way until transformed by the power of Jesus Christ. I believe that if peace is to come to the world and people are to live without fear of wars it will only be through spiritual revival."

During his travels around Bombay Billy saw many things strange to an American. He saw a mongoose kill a cobra; took off his shoes and walked through a Hindu temple where people worshipped some of their 35,000 gods; saw scores of mothers, fathers and children sleeping on streets and saw them tie their few possessions on branches of trees. During the day he talked with educated men who would never kill a cow or an ant or any living thing for fear they would be killing an ancestor.

When Billy returned to his hotel room he fell on his knees and prayed, "Oh, God, help us to love these people. Help us to put our arms around them and love them as Christ would have done."

The masses didn't get to hear Billy in Bombay, but a large indoor meeting was held for ministers and Christian workers. They rejoiced over the fact that God could use mob violence to make Bombay the most prayed-for city in history.

Billy told them he was not discouraged. Hate and death had marred the beginning, he said, but added that Christians around the world were praying that God would use the weakness of fighting men to spotlight the promises of Christ for people everywhere.

Other big meetings, with some crowds of over 100,000, will be held next week in the southern part of India. The rifles will stop firing and a young American will be given freedom to preach an old message that gives new life.

UNEMPLOYMENT

(The Newport Daily Express)

One reason why the number of unemployed in this corner of Vermont has increased in recent weeks is clearly because men don't want to work. We recently learned of a lumber operator who wants men to go into the woods, and hired a substantial number of men for his needs. When the time came for the men to go to work none of them showed up, and the operator was obliged to "bond in" men from Canada.

It seems that men had rather draw unemployment insurance than to go into the woods and go to work. Farmers often find it difficult to get help. Many men had rather draw a much lesser weekly benefit from the government than to do anything but light inside work, and such jobs are not always plentiful. As a rule, however, outdoor winter jobs requiring some muscular effort are available.

Unemployment insurance has been a blessing in many instances, but we are convinced that in just as many cases it has been a curse to man and his government. When men, women and children have nothing to do, they are more apt to get into trouble. Idleness is a curse to most people.

LONG TRUMPS NO HELP TO WEST

When West doubled four spades in today's hand, he practically shook the room. There was no doubt that he expected to tear South limb from limb.

As it happened, Bill Joseph, well-known Paterson expert, held the South hand. Bill has been doubled before and has lived to tell the tale, so he didn't get panicky in this case. The outcome, in fact, was far closer to his expectation than to West's.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and South immediately assumed that West had all of the missing trumps, some combination of three hearts, and the king of diamonds. East's opening bid had announced a long heart suit with very little high-card strength, and the penalty double of four spades told the rest of the story.

Armed with this information, declarer took the ace of hearts and ruffed a heart immediately. He next cashed the ace of diamonds and tried to sneak a diamond trick through by continuing with the nine of diamonds.

After much doubt, West stepped up with the king of diamonds (fortunately for him) and shifted to the seven of clubs. Bill took the ace of clubs in dummy, ruffed another heart, cashed the king of clubs, and then led the queen of diamonds. By this time West was reduced to his five trumps, with only one defensive trick taken thus far.

Bill Joseph continued with another diamond, and West had to ruff with the jack of spades in order to shut the dummy out. With only trumps left in his hand, he had to return a trump.

Declarer won with the nine of spades and led another diamond, forcing West to step up with the queen of spades.

Asian Development

Orient Seen Leading West In A-Power Use

Canadians and Americans can expect to be trailing Asian countries in the development of nuclear energy for industry, Lisa Sergio, noted American news analyst, told Sherbrooke Kiwanians and their wives last night.

Eastern countries, such as India, are just beginning to develop industrially and naturally are going to start out with the latest methods, Miss Sergio said. Western countries, especially Canada and the United States have vast sources of hydro-electric power and colossal investments in their development.

"It's not likely that we will suddenly change over to nuclear energy even though it would be cheaper in the long run," the attractive Italian-born commentator stated.

"She urged Canadians to sit up and take notice. 'Step forward and take part in what's going on in the world.'"

"You Canadians seem to suffer from an inferiority complex. It's time you accepted the fact that Canadians are playing an important part in world affairs," she said.

Europeans are getting a good laugh at the Americans these days, Miss Sergio admitted. She pointed to two newspaper articles which appeared on consecutive days in a leading U.S. daily a few weeks back. The first article blared something about investigation of communist activities in the U.S. and the second showed pictures of a band of communist farmers being greeted by beaming American reception committee.

"The only sure way to fight communism," Miss Sergio said, "is in our schools. Our youth must be fired with an enthusiasm to go out to other countries and spread the gospel of democracy. American youth doesn't seem to have this fire, perhaps Canadians do," Miss Sergio suggested, "as Canada is a bilingual country."

"We in the States don't even have enough engineers and other technically-trained men of our own needs, let alone enough to send to the East." And if the West is to defeat the spread of communism it must woo the East. The world population is now 37 percent communist and unless we woo the Eastern peoples to our President Jo Faucher conducted the meeting and welcomed the Kiwanis Queens and members of the Waterloo Club who were guests.

Yesterday afternoon, Miss Sergio spoke to students of the Sherbrooke High School and showed them a film, entitled "World Without End," depicting the work of the United Nations in the countries of Mexico and Thailand.

Miss Sergio urged the pupils to take an active interest in the UN and other organizations of world-wide scope, in order to make better citizens and interested helpers in the world to come.

She was introduced by Sally Billing and thanked by Terry Murphy. Following the address and film, Wright Gibson, principal of the school, invited Miss Sergio and guests to a reception.

City Financing Is Reviewed At Optimist Club

Pierre Bachand, Sherbrooke City Treasurer, was guest speaker at the regular Optimist Club meeting held last night in the Wellington Hotel.

Mr. Bachand, who spoke both in French and English, described the formation and work of the municipal government, stressing particularly the arranging of a city budget, the explaining to the club members that it was no easy job to form an annual budget.

He also discussed the levying of new taxes, including the controversial garbage tax, and gave an outline of the expenses the city has to meet, such as electricity and gas, fire department, police department, education, street up-keep, and others.

Mr. Bachand said that city wages of 1952 were $2,000,000 and those of 1955 the same, showing there had been no increase in the past three years.

The speaker was introduced by Paul Nadeau and thanked by Gerry Bessier. At the head table were, Mr. Bachand, Eric Marquardt, President George Garard, Hans Van de Werff and Claude Richer.

In return, said Senator Howard, the City gave the ETAA a $1,000 grant; power for the ice plant valued at $2,886.50 and a tax exemption valued $1,790.55, for a total of $5,677.05. This means, he said, that Sherbrooke collects $16,000 more in taxes from the ETAA than it pays out in grants and exemptions.

OTTAWA TO PROVIDE

is one in which federal payments to a province would be based on a national average of per capita cost for the services envisaged. The 50-50 payments from the federal treasury to a province would be based on that general average.

Thus, provinces with a low per capita cost could get more than half the provincial expenses. The reverse would be true for provinces above the national cost average.

On this basis, Ontario and Quebec might get around half their costs in a hospital and diagnostic plan. Low-cost provinces such as the four Atlantic ones would get a larger percentage. A high-cost province such as British Columbia would not get the full 50 per cent.

Joint chairmen of the campaign are Lt. Col. E. W. L. Arnold and Mario Lambert, manager of the Royal Bank.

Heading the ladies' committee are Mrs. E. W. L. Arnold and Mrs. Stanley Sharpe.

Sherbrooke radio stations and press have offered to publicize the event previous to the campaign so that householders will be ready when the canvassers call.

New Members Enrolled In Bury Girl Guide Group

Bury — An event of local interest took place in St. Paul's Church Hall, when eight teenage girls were enrolled as members of the 1st Bury Company.

Canadian Girl Guides, by the Divisional Commissioner, Mrs. G. L. Norris. The Guide Company recently formed, is under the supervision of Guide Captain, Mrs. William Harper.

Following the enrolment, the Guides gave a demonstration of various aspects of their training; this included a knot tying contest, folk dancing, and group singing of campfire songs performed around a simulated camp fire ingeniously constructed from twigs and boughs illuminated from beneath by red electric lights.

The Guides served refreshments to their parents and guests as a climax to the evening's activities and thanked leaders, Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Harper for their help and interest in forming and training the Guide Company.

It is to be hoped that this newly formed Guide Company, which already shows such promise, will be an inspiration to other teenage girls throughout this district, and result in the formation of other Guide Companies.

It is of interest to this community that Mrs. G. Norris has been appointed Division Commissioner for Compton and Wolfe counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Sutherland spent the week-end in Montreal, where Mr. Sutherland attended a meeting P.A.T. Association.

DESIGNER'S DILEMMA—This sports-wear ensemble has been called a Designer's Dilemma because Sam Ferber of Montreal has combined just about everything in one garment that can be included. Ferber got angry because American slick magazines for years had been exploiting what he termed "outlandish" creations. He decided to out-gimmick them. Half the blouse is tucked-in, the other half over-blouse with horizontal and diagonal tucking. One detachable sleeve is long, the other is three-quarter length. The skirt has straight line on one side and flared on other. It combines 13 different fabrics. (CP)

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The January meeting of Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at Headquarters with the regent, Mrs. E. B. Sims, presiding.

Two minutes silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. G. L. Hume, who had devoted so many years of her life to the advancement of the Order not only in Sherbrooke but the province as a whole. Regret was also expressed in the death of Mrs. T. P. Ross, of Richmond who had also devoted many years of service to the Order.

Further discussion took place regarding the Chapter's participation in the forthcoming Dominion Drama Festival. All Primary Chapters expressed their willingness to co-operate.

The regent reported that she, along with several other members of the Chapter, had attended a meeting of the Job Placement Advisory Committee re a campaign to reduce seasonal unemployment in Sherbrooke. She stated that she had written a letter to the chairman of the committee heartily endorsing the committee's efforts.

Educational secretary, Mrs. E. T. Harbert, advised that Miss Juliette Barcelo, of Montreal, had been awarded the Overseas Bursary given annually by the I.O.D.E. She also reported on various changes that had been recommended in the educational program of the Chapter.

Mrs. R. M. Loughhead, Services at Home and Abroad secretary, reported on the welfare work that had been carried out during the past month. She also read a letter from Mrs. Helen Spafford, of the Child Welfare Clinic, outlining the medical and dental assistance offered by the Beta Sigma Phi, to those who were financially unable to provide such assistance for their families.

Mrs. F. Kenalty, Immigration and Canadianization convener, reported that I.O.D.E. greeting cards had been presented to three new citizens at the Court House last December.

Miss F. Macdonald reported that the film, Churchill—Man of the Century, would be shown at I.O.D.E. House on Tuesday, February 21 about 9.30 p.m. to members of the Order.

A letter was read from National Chapter suggesting that a recital by Malcolm Troup, the celebrated pianist, whose training had been partially sponsored by the I.O.D.E., should be undertaken by the Municipal Chapter. It was generally agreed that such a recital would benefit the Chapter and the community as a whole. The early Fall was considered a suitable time to hold such an event.

The regent announced that a meeting would be held on Thursday, February 16, for the purpose of compiling the reports of the various conveners and secretaries.

The Aldershot Chapter representatives announced that their Annual Spinners' Spree would be held in the William St. Armory on February 11.

Beginning: Your 1956

Square Meal Diet

You don't have to go hungry to keep your weight in check. A sensible diet can be three square meals a day, adding up to a healthy 1400 calories. Here's the first of such a seven-day diet planned for you by Mrs. Dolores I. Elliott, a consumer specialist for the National Dairy Council and a former food editor and home economics director. During this series, four TV stars will team up with Mrs. Elliott to show how they keep their figures, too, on a "Square Meal Diet."

By MRS. DOLORES I. ELLIOTT

So you're going to diet! Here are some Do's to remember while you count calories:

Stay on your diet until you've regained your desired weight. Then add foods a little at a time—more bread and butter, cereal, fruits, or vegetables, more milk, ice cream, other dessert, or a little of whatever you want—until you find how much you can eat and keep your figure.

Eat slowly; you'll be better satisfied and finish with your table partners.

Get your family's cooperation while you are reducing weight—they can eat the same foods in greater quantity.

Keep as active as health and job permit, but don't overdo vigorous exercise.

Here's the first day's menu for your seven-day, 1400-calorie diet:

Beavers Win Jean-Luc Reid But Make Sporting Gesture In Refusing Him

President Wilson Casts Deciding Vote But Locals Turn Reid Down In Order To Keep League Together

Sherbrooke Beavers were awarded the services of Jean-Luc Reid last night but then turned around on a sporting gesture refused him in order to keep the Massawippi Valley Hockey League still in operation at a special meeting.

The Beavers asked for a closed ballot on their demand for the permission of using Reid and all the teams agreed. Following the counting of the ballots it was a tie. On the second turn it ended in another stalemate and President Mac Wilson voted in favor of allowing him to play.

President Wilson in stating his reasons claimed that it was not correct to keep Reid out of hockey but Theo Charland, representative of Magog, claimed it was not correct to allow him in the circuit. Other players of higher calibre were granted permission but Reid has been turned down on the only reason that Sherbrooke would be too strong for the league.

Sherbrooke was willing to release three players but still Magog and Windsor along with Waterloo protested strongly. Finally after a loud and lengthy discussion Sherbrooke, after winning their point, agree to withdraw their demand in order to keep the league in operation. The teams were going to drop out and play independent hockey but with Sherbrooke's sporting gesture they returned to the fold.

President Wilson and his executive were going to quit as they figured that the teams failed to give them the support, but this like the other proposition was brushed aside the things finally got straightened away in the early morning.

In the race for scoring honors Asbestos and Sherbrooke dominate the top positions in the circuit, according to the release handed out last night. Gaston Pelletier of the Meteors is the top goal getter with 21 while Ray St. Cyr and Bob Bedard trail with 19.

Pelletier is also the top man in the play-making department with 30 while Yves Tessier follows with 27 with St. Cyr next with 25 and Bert Morin, of Sherbrooke, has compiled 22.

Holy See May Condemn Pro Boxing Soon

Rome — (Reuters) — The Holy See may condemn professional boxing as a result of studies by Roman Catholic theologians and moralists, an unofficial Catholic source said Monday night.

The spokesman said Catholic moralists are of the opinion that professional boxing cannot be morally justified.

A noted Jesuit, Rev. Alfredo Boschi, said recently in an article in La Palestra del Clero. The Tribune of the Clergy that professional boxing is an illicit activity because it violates the commandment "thou shalt not kill," and calls for the use of brutal violence.

Professional boxing, Father Baschi said, is the only sport which has as one of its principal objects that of depriving the adversary of consciousness.

Canada Will Murder The Russians, Say Three Italo-Canadians Who Learned Their Hockey In Canada

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy — (CP) — Six hockey-wise Italians took a long look at Olympic puck-chasers today and unanimously predicted, "Canada in a walk."

All six are members of Italy's Canada-spiced team that has been drawn in the same bracket at Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in the preliminary round leading to the world's hockey crown.

Italian players who learned their hockey on rinks in Ontario and Quebec had a first-hand look at the Russian entry last week when it defeated their team 6-2 in a pre-Olympic game.

"Canada will murder the Russians," said Rino Alberton, 19, who returned to Italy last year after living in Niagara Falls, Ont., for 13 years. "They are not in the same league with this Kitchener club."

Alberton, a plumber's apprentice, played with Galt Black Hawks in the Ontario Junior B circuit before returning to his native land.

"The Russians are improving all the time, but they still have a long way to go," said Carl Montemurro, 22, who returned to Italy two years ago after playing high school and intermediate hockey at Rouyn, Que.

"That's right," chimed in Ron Furlani, 19, former Sudbury, Ont., puck-chaser, who joined Italy's national team three months ago.

Cortina d'Ampezzo — (CP) — The Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, Canada's Olympic hockey contenders, were in action Monday and their practice round produced the only Canadian casualty of the day.

Rightwinger George Scholes suffered a deep gash above his right eye when he hit a post supporting the netting behind the goal. Three stitches were required to close the cut.

Mayer Returns To Leafs Again

Toronto — (CP) — Gil Mayer, who many believe is of permanent National Hockey League calibre, joined Toronto Maple Leafs Monday as a substitute for injured goalkeeper Harry Lumley.

Mayer, up from Pittsburgh Hornets of the American League, will hold his first workout with the Leafs today and will be in the nets Wednesday night when Toronto meets Chicago Black Hawks here.

Lumley entered hospital for treatment to torn muscles in his right thigh, received during the third period of Sunday night's game at Detroit. Doctors said he would be inactive "for a minimum of two weeks."

Gerry McNamara, Leafs' practice goalie, has been ordered to Pittsburgh until Lumley recovers.

Mayer, a consistent AHL all-star owned outright by the Pittsburgh club, has played several games with the Leafs in past seasons.

"Golf Is A Simple Game," Says Ben Hogan, Four-Time U. S. Open Champion; Everything In Fingers

Oklahoma City—(P)—Ben Hogan, the mighty little Texan who four times won the U.S. open golf tournament and conquered the tough British open on his first attempt, says "golf is a simple game."

Hogan, addressing the 13th annual Sports Jamboree here, told 700 sportsmen that only the application spent on the game makes it difficult.

"Preparation means, everything," he said. "You have to gear yourself to the game, understand what the fundamental principles are. After you have mastered those, you can play pretty good golf—if you stick with it."

Advising golfers who are seeking a way to lower their scores on local links, Hogan said:

"After you gain the mechanics of the game, there should be no reason why anyone shouldn't shoot a respectable game of golf."

"All of a golf game is in your fingers. You've got to have that

Gordie Howe Setting Merry Pace In NHL Scoring Race; Holds One-Point Edge; Plante Still Tops

MONTREAL — (CP) — The great upsurge in scoring by Detroit's Gordie Howe and the slam-bang return to winning ways by Montreal Canadiens can be accepted without undue excitement but there is an unexplained mystery in the current National Hockey League goings-on.

The games have virtually ceased. It's whole hog or nothing. Since the new year came in there has been only one tie in 28 games. Before 1955 faded out there were 25 ties in 109 games — one in about every four.

The only tie this year was a 2-2 sawoff Jan. 17 between New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks. In the nine games since then the clubs have belted each other about 50 unmercifully that only one game in the nine was decided by a single goal.

In just last week's battling the players gathered in points by goals. Howe banged in five goals and collected two assists for seven points. Earl (Dutch) Reibel, Howe's teammate on the Red Wings, made it two and five for seven.

Jean Beliveau of Montreal, sur-rendering the scoring leadership to Howe, counted three goals and three assists. So did Tod Sloan of Toronto Maple Leafs, and Bert Olmstead of Montreal put together one goal and five assists for another six-point count.

The official NHL statistics today show Howe with 33 points and Beliveau with 32, followed by Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal and Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers with 26 each.

With two goals and one assist for the week, Richard took over third place from Bathgate because of a greater number of goals—24 to Bathgate's 14 — although both are tied on points at 46. Bathgate scored two goals and had no assists. Olmstead is fifth with 72 points and Sloan sixth with 70.

Reibel's seven points moved him from a ninth-place tie to seventh place with 41 points. Dave Creighton of New York had only one assist and slipped a notch to eighth place. At 38 points, he is tied with Red Kelly of Detroit, who had three assists last week.

Jacques Plante of Montreal continues to lead the goalies with a goals-against average of 1.79. Glenn Hall of Detroit has 2.04.

Earl (Dutch) Reibel of the Red Wings had a fair lead over Johnny Wilson of the Chicago Black Hawks and Floyd Curry of Montreal for the Lady Byng memorial trophy as the player showing the best type of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with high standard of play.

The voting was done by hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters in the six NHL cities. Points earned in the first half of the season—up to Jan. 1—count 50 per cent. Second voting follows the regular season.

Points were awarded on the basis of five for first choice, three for second and one for third.

It was virtually a two-man race in the Hart trophy voting. Worsley received 55 points and Beliveau 53. Red Kelly of Detroit and Tod Sloan of Toronto Maple Leafs were next but far back with 14 points each.

Great Strides Made At Four-Day Football Meeting, Delegates Say; Ralph Cooper To Meet Bert Bell

Winnipeg — (P) — Football fans who will file into the nine stadiums of the Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Union teams this year probably will not notice many big changes from 1955, but the men behind the scenes believe great strides have been made as a result of a four-day meeting of the two leagues at Winnipeg.

From last Friday to Monday, the Big Four and WIFU held their respective annual meetings as well as a joint session which led to the setting up of the Canadian Football Council. The 10-man body with five representatives of each league will control the operations of professional football in Canada.

Thus, the two major leagues in effect became one, with western and eastern divisions.

Ralph Misener of Winnipeg, past president of the Blue Bombers and now vice-chairman of the CFC, said one of the most significant things about the meetings was the harmony between the two leagues that resulted in many forward steps being taken.

Probably the biggest step was the authority the CFC gave its chairman, Ralph Cooper of Hamilton. The immediate past president of the Big Four was empowered to seek an agreement with National Football commissioner Bert Bell of Philadelphia to honor each other's player contracts and options.

The next move seems to be up to Bell, who recently said all that was needed to clear up the difficulties between the two groups was for the Canadians to name a man with whom he could sit down and discuss their differences.

Another move by the CFC termed "progress" by football officials was the setting up of a negotiation list of American college players.

Up to now, the WIFU was the only Canadian league with such a list. While the western clubs did not have to bid against each other for American players, they still had to battle against eastern and NFL clubs.

Under the common negotiation list for both the Big Four and WIFU, Canadian teams will only have to go against NFL teams for the services of their imports.

The Canadian college draft instituted at the four-day meetings also was a move to eliminate inter-league bidding in Canada, thus cutting down the individual club's expenses.

Probably the biggest rule change — although they still have to be approved by the CRU and its rules committee — expected this year will be the change in the value of the touchdown. Both the Big Four and WIFU have recommended that it be upped to six points from five.

First Ski Patrol At Mt. Orford

By CAROL WITTY

Members of the Mount Orford Ski Club are getting used to the sight of 12 red-coated ski patrolers swooping effortlessly down the slopes, representatives of the first recognized ski patrol to be organized in the Eastern Townships.

All topnotch skiers and racers, the patrolers carry completely equipped first-aid kits and are the first to bring "first aid on skis" to enthusiasts of what is rapidly becoming the Townships' most popular winter sport.

Jack Whittier of Magog heads the patrol, assisted by Bruno Bergeron, and the other 10 members include Kenneth Whittier, Marcel Bergeron, Gaby Longpre, Claude Longpre, Gil Ethier, Gerard Tessier, Renald Charland, Gilles Grenier, Laurent Grenier and Ted Taylor.

They started training last winter when they took ski tests under Instructor Conrad Gauthier and then began Red Cross First Aid training. Dr. John Bryant of Magog conducted the 10-week course at the Princess Elizabeth High School and Bill Barnes, examiner and zone chairman for the Quebec Division, Canadian Ski Patrol System, examined the men.

The 12 passed with well over the 75 percent required and one patroler led the class with a 91 percent. They then became members of what is officially known as the Mount Orford Ski Patrol of the Quebec Division, Canadian Ski Patrol System.

Until this year, first aid on the Mount Orford slopes, as at other district ski resorts, was under the direction of St. John Ambulance workers who set up first aid rooms at the bottom of the hills. Injured skiers, often would have to undergo hazardous descents before receiving treatment.

Now however, according to the ski patrol organizers, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whittier, an injured skier gets proper attention from the moment he is reached by a patroler. Four magnesium arctic sleds are also available to carry the injured down to the chalet.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittier first began to talk "ski patrol" last winter when their 12-year-old son Carl broke his leg skiing and was given speedy and efficient assistance by a team of Dow-Kingsbeer Ski School instructors who happened to be at the club that weekend.

"Those instructors were so expert that Carl's bone hadn't moved even a fraction of an inch from the time he fell until he got to hospital," claims Mrs. Whittier, "and that was when we began to think of organizing a trained patrol of our own."

The patrolers are required to take a refresher first aid course every fall. Money for equipment has been raised by the selling of Ski Patrol buttons and the presentation of a Ski Show in Magog.

All the instruction was voluntary and several Magog firms donated much needed equipment. The Magog Lion's Club presented the patrol with the four toboggans, and the blankets used on the toboggans were given by Mrs. Gertrude Buzzell and the Sports Aiders Club.
