RETALIATION PROPOSED

By the United States Against Canadian Products—Minority Report of the Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Representative Flood, of New York, to-day introduced in the House a bill reciting that the Dominion of Canada Customs act of 1879, providing for the admission free of duty into Canada of certain articles which may be admitted free into the United States, has not been carried out. It then provides for the following schedule of duties: Eggs, 5 cents per doz.; apples, 40 cents per barrel; blackberries, gooseberries, raspberries and strawberries, 2 cents per pound; peaches, 1 cent per pound; cherries and currants, 1 cent per quart; cranberries, plums and quinces, 30 cents per bus; grapes, 2 cents per pound; poultry and game, 20 per cent. ad valorem; mustard seed, unground, 15 per cent., ad valorem; plants, that is fruit, shade and ornamental trees, shrubs and plants, 20 per cent. ad valorem; gooseberry bushes, 2 cents each; grape vines costing 10 cents and less, 3 cents each; raspberry and blackberry bushes 1 cent each; rosebushes, 5 cents per plant; apple trees, 2 cents each; peach, pear, and cherry trees, 4 cents each; plum trees, 5 cents each; quinces, 2½ cents each; seedling stock for grafting purposes, peach and other fruit trees, 10 per cent. ad valorem; oysters, shelled, in bulk, 10 cents per gallon; hay, $4 per ton; milk, 1 cent per quart; rye and barley, 15 cents per bushel; straw, $1 per ton; fish, fresh, for immediate consumption, 1 cent per pound.

A MINORITY REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The minority report of the Ways and Means Committee is published to-day. Of the free list the report says: "The American farmer will appreciate the vicious character of the bill—the Mills majority bill—as applied to him when he is apprised of the fact that while the products of his land and labor are shut out from Canada by a protective tariff imposed by the Canadian Government, the Canadian farmer can send many of his products here without the payment of duty under the proposed bill. Canada now collects duties upon a number of American products, while our tariff laws admit Canadian products of like kind free of duty. This she has been doing for many years, although by her tariff of 1878 it is provided that certain articles may be imported into Canada free of duty or at a less rate of duty than is provided by this act by proclamation of the Governor-General-in-council, which may issue whenever it appears to his satisfaction that similar articles from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty or at a rate of duty not exceeding that payable on the same under special proclamation when imported into Canada. Some of the articles named are already on our free list, and yet they are dutiable under the Canadian laws, and no proclamation of reciprocity has yet been made by the Governor-General, and it is proposed under this bill to increase the free list with farm products upon which a high tariff is now levied by the Canadian law," etc., etc.

GREAT FLOODS IN THE WEST.

The Gorge in the Missouri River Breaks—Many Miles of Country Inundated.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 2.—The gorge in the Missouri river above Elk point broke late yesterday and the water soon submerged the country between Elk point and Jefferson, Dak. The Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks, for a distance of nine miles this side of Elk point, are under water and it is thought that about six miles have been washed away, although this cannot be told until the water subsides. A great many families in the submerged district were forced to leave everything and fly to the higher portion of the country. No lives are reported lost, but much stock has perished. At Elk point a number of houses are flooded and the water is three inches deep in the Milwaukee depot. At Jefferson the depot is surrounded by water and the operator goes to his work in a boat.

A NEW CABINET FORMED.

M. Floquet Announces His New Ministry—The First Meeting.

PARIS, April 2.—The new French Cabinet is officially announced as follows:

M. Lockroy, minister of education.
M. Loubet, minister of public works.
M. Viette, minister of agriculture.
M. Legrand, minister of commerce.

The members of the new Cabinet had a meeting at the Elysee palace, the conference lasting five hours. The Official Journal will not publish the names of the ministers to-morrow, no agreement having been obtained as yet regarding the programme to be presented to the Chamber. M. Floquet tendered the finance portfolio to M. Rouvier, but the offer was declined in view of the manner in which the other portfolios had been distributed.

GREENLAND EXPLORATION.

The Proposed Expedition on Snowshoes Into the Interior.

LONDON, April 2.—There is considerable interest here in the expedition across Greenland to be undertaken by Nansen, the curator of the museum at Bergen, accompanied by four picked Norwegian athletes, who are expert snowshoers. They sail on May 5 from Copenhagen to Iceland, thence by a whaler to the east coast of Greenland, whence they start on their perilous expedition. Attempts, both governmental and private, have been made ever since 1728 to explore the interior of Greenland, which Nordenskjold calls a northern Sahara, but all have failed more or less completely. The American engineer, Peary, last year beat the record by penetrating 160 kilometers, but he learned little throwing light on the question of the existence of an open polar sea. Nansen's theory is that these have all made a mistake in starting from the relatively hospitable west coast and working into a desolate country, whereas he will start from the barren east coast and have the incentive before his men of getting to a decent place of safety by winter.

Applicants for Protection.

During March this year 578 men and 113 women applied for protection at the different police stations in the city. During February the number was 484 men and 97 women. In March, 1887, there were 737 men and 119 women applicants, and in February of that year 670 men and 108 women applicants. A decrease of 352 applications during the two months this year from the two corresponding months last year.

In the Protestant House of Industry and Refuge 6168 found night quarters during March and 7255 during February this year, as against 5315 during March and 7343 during February of 1887; showing an increase of 765 applications during the two months this year.

A Victim of Injustice.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—Would you kindly take the case of the "poor infirm convict" imprisoned for the non-payment of a fine, under your further consideration? Your just remarks in regard to this sad case encourage me in suggesting that you would make an appeal to those many humane persons who must see how faulty the law is in this case, punishing, as you well remark, "poverty" instead of crime, since the fine is here the punishment, in default of payment of which, the poor, unaided criminal must expiate the sin of being a poor man. I may be late in my endeavor to aid the sufferer, for among the charitable of Montreal some most likely have come forward to obtain his release. In case it should not be so, will you kindly put my little offering on a list that I am sure would soon be filled by the many kind hearts who must feel for the poor boy imprisoned for the want of fifteen dollars to pay his fine for simply a stolen ride, when his more fortunate comrades escaped. Yours very truly,

AN OLD MONTREALER.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.

Little by little how much is done,
How much experienced by every one,
Little by little how learn we to bear
All our life-burdens, the pain and the care.

Little by little how men gain wealth,
How little by little they lose health;
Little by little, e'en day after day
Mark how the water the stone wears away.

Little by little how the flowers grow,
Open their leaves and beauty show;
Little by little the sunlight and air
Help to develop the roses rare.

Little by little, so too may we Open our souls and better be;
Little by little the sunshine and rain
Quicken the seed to new life gain.

Little by little, so all nature grows,
How it began, ah! nobody knows;
But little by little we understand
A good Creator we must all have planned.

CHIEF ARTHUR

Explains His Position Regarding the Railway Strike.

He Disclaims Responsibility For Any Strike Except on the Burlington Road—Another Row in Chicago—A Strike in Missouri.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 2.—Chief Engineer P. M. Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who returned here to superintend a change of residence, in an interview declared that it was by no means certain that he would return to Chicago at present, as the strike is in the hands of Mr. Hoge, chairman of the Burlington Grievance Committee, though, of course, he is to be consulted when any step affecting the Brotherhood is taken. He denied that the stand taken by the radical element among the engineers would cause him to resign. The radical element represents but a small percentage of the Brotherhood. The vast majority of members sustain the course of the executive officers. Until such time as the opposition may gain the ascendancy the officers will stick to their posts and do their duty. When questioned about the strike on the St. Paul road, Mr. Arthur said the men struck on their own accord, and would not receive the support of the Brotherhood. No one can receive that without his sanction. He has ordered no strike nor given permission to anyone, except the Burlington engineers, to leave their posts. Circumstances might arise, of course, which would induce him to sanction such a strike, but they have not up to the present moment. Chief Arthur explained his position towards the brotherhood as follows:—"I cannot order a strike nor order the men to return to work. I can

SANCTION A STRIKE

and that sanction carries with it the assistance of the brotherhood. I can advise the men to return to work and cut off all financial aid if they refuse to do so. That is as far as my authority or that of any of the executive officers goes. Each road has its grievance committee and this committee has full charge of all matters concerning the the road on which they are employed. In case of trouble I am called upon to act as an arbiter between the engineers and the company. If my efforts fail to accomplish the desired result I can sanction a strike. This was done in the case of the Burlington." He considered that they had not rendered themselves liable to prosecution under the conspiracy law. They have ordered no boycott on Burlington freight. They have advised men to quit work if they are requested to do anything which they did not consider it their duty to do. This is their privilege. Mr. Arthur disclaimed responsibility for the switchmen's strike, and went on to express the opinion that the strike would not be general in these words: "If we had listened to the importunities of the hot-heads, every road in the country would have been tied up to-day. It lay in the power of the executive officers to stop railroad traffic entirely, but we refused to do so. These new strikes in Chicago are mostly local, and affect business in Chicago. The engineers, the firemen and the switchmen will not handle Burlington freight. If they are ordered to do so they will

SIMPLY QUIT WORK,

which I presume has been the case to-day. I believe that the different roads will reconsider the action in compelling their men to handle 'Q' cars, and that the trouble will be settled that way. Please understand that the brotherhood has not ordered any strike except that of the Burlington. The men are acting on their own responsibility and will not receive a cent from the treasury of the brotherhood unless we sanction their conduct. The Santa Fe strike was an outrage—no, I do not know as I will say that; it was a grave mistake, which we rectified as soon as possible. There has been no conference in this city between officers of the brotherhood and the Lake Shore management. The Grievance Committee of the Lake Shore road is in Chicago and will attend to their own affairs there. Many sensational reports have been sent out of Chicago that have no foundation. The reporters swarmed about the hotels and picked up interviews with irresponsible individuals who presumed to speak for the brotherhood. We have been very much misrepresented." In conclusion, Chief Arthur repeated: "I do not intend to resign. We expect to freeze the Burlington company out. We have not ordered any new strike. We do not approve of strikes. We have received assurance from members of the brotherhood all over the country that they will furnish us financial aid. It is simply a question of endurance. I do not believe the strike will spread outside of Chicago to any extent. The conservative engineers still control the brotherhood."

ARBITRATION PROPOSED.

CHICAGO, April 2.—The Rock Island managers declined once more to-day to risk a tie-up of their road by attempting to receive freight from the Burlington. An effort toward a compromise of the strike on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was made this evening by the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen. A card embodying a concise statement of the situation from the men's standpoint, but giving no new facts, was issued by them. The point of the document is the concluding paragraph which involves a fresh offer of arbitration this time on an entirely new basis. The idea is that the arbitrators, instead of coming partly or wholly from outside roads or other professions, be selected from among the Burlington's own employes. An offer is also made to submit the trouble to three railroad presidents or general managers. Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, is named as a man who would be an acceptable arbitrator to the brotherhood, the Burlington company to name a second arbitrator, who in common with Mr. Hughitt should choose the third.

ANOTHER ROW IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 2.—There was a row in the Northwestern yards this morning on account of the appearance of a Fort Wayne engine, manned by Master Mechanic Ormsby, as engineer, and a "wiper" from the Fort Wayne shops as fireman. They hauled a Pullman car over the Northwestern, but upon their arrival a lot of Northwestern switchmen jumped upon the engine and threw Ormsby and his helper off, and after subjecting them to considerable ill treatment drove them out of the yards. The engine was then blown off and the fire dumped. This afternoon an attempt was made to get a train of twenty freight cars from the "Q" road to the Chicago & Alton. As the train passed the viaduct at Sixteenth street the engineers of other roads refused to allow the train to go by. They stopped its progress by crossing and recrossing the tracks which intersect the road at this point. These tactics were kept up for two hours, and the "Q" train was finally taken back to the Western avenue yards.

TROUBLE IN MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY, April 2.—The boycott on Burlington freight went into effect in the yards here promptly at noon. A Fort Scott switch engine had just backed up to some Burlington cars, but as 12 o'clock struck the men left the cab and refused to haul it. Orders were issued by the Fort Scott road this afternoon that Burlington freight must be treated the same as any other freight. This will probably precipitate a strike of switch engineers and firemen and switchmen on that road.

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—The St. Paul company has laid off five thousand yardmen and switchmen along its lines until the present trouble is over. The yards in this city are deserted, and no business is being done.

TAX ON CANADIAN BILLS.

Buffalo Bankers Decide to Charge a Discount of Two Per Cent.

BUFFALO, March 31.—The Bankers' Association has resolved to charge a discount on all Canadian bills deposited of two per cent. The new rule will go into effect immediately. The cause of this is that the banks are taxed on their deposits, and the money taken in must be sent to Canada in exchanges. The usual custom is to ship $1000 at a time, and the banks must lose the interest on that amount. Then, too, the Canadians are very strict in discounting the United States currency. "Is there much Canadian currency in circulation here?" asked a reporter of Seth W. Warren, cashier of the American Exchange bank. "Considerable," was the reply, "especially about the time the Canadians have a holiday. Then they just flock over here and trade. It is not easy to estimate how much is received. When the Government have refused to take Canadian money at par we were driven to this step." The new rule does not apply to Canadian silver, though on the other side there is a discount on United States coin.

WHAT IS SAID IN TORONTO.

TORONTO, April 2.—Financiers and brokers state that the effect of the decision of Buffalo bankers to put a charge of 2 per cent. on all deposits of Canadian bank notes presented at their respective institutions will be to drive Canadian currency out of the United States and force people to take the precaution of getting their money exchanged in Canada before leaving for the other side, and merchants to avoid the tax while paying accounts in the United States will do so entirely by New York drafts.

A Horse who Resented the Road He had to Travel.

What might have been a fatal accident took place on St. Catherine street near St. Dominique a little before two yesterday afternoon. A horse attached to a light carter's sleigh began suddenly to kick and rear so furiously that at every plunge he lifted the sleigh clear into the air, and soon got his legs on either side of one shaft, in which position he gyrated about the street and sidewalk. The sleigh was overturned and the carter who had jumped out, falling on his back, narrowly escaped with his life. The horse was at last stopped by one of the large crowd assembled, and released from his trying position, whilst the carter found that fortunately a broken shaft and buckboard were his only losses.

Catholic Young Men's Society.

The Catholic Young Men's Society held its twenty-third annual conference in the Cabinet de Lecture Paroissial last night. The principal feature of the programme was a lecture by the Rev. Father James Callaghan on the life of Sir Thomas More, the great Lord Chancellor of England, one of Henry the Eighth's victims. The music was very pleasing, and songs, recitations and instrumental solos were given by Messrs. C. Hamelin, Bollins, O'Brien, Evans, Phelan, Callary, Devlin, J. O'Keane, Gaudry and T. Coggins. The attendance was very large, the hall being crowded to the doors.

To lessen mortality and stop the inroads of disease, use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. For all diseases arising from impure blood, such as pimples, blotches, biliousness, indigestion, etc., etc., it has no equal. Mrs. Thomas Smith, Elm, writes: "I am using this medicine for dyspepsia; I have tried many remedies, but this is the only one that has done me any good."

All political differences could be healed if there were enough offices to go round.

Errors of Youth.

SUFFERERS FROM Nervous Debility, Youthful Indiscretions, Early Decay.
BE YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN!

Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right one. Notwithstanding the many valuable remedies that medical science has produced for the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effect a cure. During our extensive college and hospital practice we have experimented with and discovered new and concentrated remedies. The accompanying prescription is offered as a certain and speedy cure, as hundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure ingredients must be used in the preparation of this prescription.

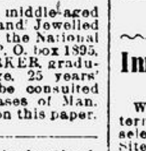

℞—Erythroxylon coca ½ drachm.
Jerubebin, ½ drachm.
Helonias Dioica, ½ drachm.
Gelsemin, 8 grains.
Ext. ignatia amara (alcoholic), 2 grains.
Ext. leptandra, 2 scruples.
Glycerine, q. s. Mix.

Make 60 pills. Take 1 pill at 3 p. m., and another on going to bed. In some cases it will be necessary for the patient to take two pills at bedtime, making the number three a day. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, and especially in those cases resulting from imprudence. The recuperative powers of this restorative are truly astonishing, and its use continued for a short time changes the languid, debilitated, nerveless condition to one of renewed life and vigor.

As we are constantly in receipt of letters of inquiry relative to this remedy, we would say to those who would prefer to obtain it of us, by remitting $1 a securely sealed package containing 60 pills, carefully compounded, will be sent by return mail from our private laboratory, or we will furnish 6 packages, which will cure most cases, for $5.

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1888.

A CORRESPONDENT, "Old Montrealer," calls attention to the case of the unfortunate lad who has been confined so long in the Montreal gaol because he has not been able to pay a small fine. It is not creditable to the authorities that they need to be reminded of this instance of governmental cruelty and injustice. Our kindhearted correspondent has taken the speediest and most effectual way to liberate this victim of the operation of an unjust law. He very likely knows how hard it is to prevail upon the authorities to right what they know to be a wrong, and has handed in a contribution towards the payment of the fine to the business manager of the STAR. A few more such contributions would set this captive free—would give him the liberty which he pines for. We need not say that any contributions for this purpose will be gladly received at the STAR office, and, when a sufficient sum is collected, applied to the purpose for which they are intended.

THE newspaper men of New York are on the track of the priestess of Mr. Marsh's new Temple. They have found out that she is not the daughter of a king and that even the blood of Lola Montez does not run in her veins. She is the offspring of poor but honest parents and is by birth an American. She was born in Kentucky and her father's name was Salomon. The facts relating to her former life that have come to light show that she is and from a very early age has been a cunning adventuress who has always been ready to victimize those who trusted her. Mr. Marsh has not been her first dupe by any means. The old gentleman is as infatuated as ever he was. Shrewd a lawyer as he is admitted still to be, he is blind to the evidence which proves Mrs. Diss Debar to be an impudent impostor. He lectured in Chickering Hall on the portraits which he believes were painted by spirit hands, and appeared to have no suspicion that he was at the same time making a humiliating exhibition of himself. Those portraits are described by the Sun as "cruel daubs of the faces Shakespeare, Adelaide Neilson, Lola Montez, Rembrandt and Raphael."

MATTERS have come to a pretty pass in this city when, owing to the bad condition of the streets, the Montreal Street Railway Company refuse to run their busses. The Corporation has no excuse for allowing the streets to get into the disgraceful state in which they are today. The spring thaws are not unusual or unforeseen. Every one knows that they are sure to come and that they bring with them inconveniences which it is the duty of the Corporation to provide against. That the city authorities have not taken the proper measures to have the streets passable in the early days of spring is another evidence of their utter incapacity. The company does right not to run their busses when travelling in them has become dangerous to the public. They are not required by their contract either to endanger the lives and limbs of their passengers or to kill their horses. The members of the Road Committee will no doubt tell the public in a whining tone that they have no money. This is no excuse. The Corporation ought to have money for all necessary work. And it is owing solely to the bad management and the imbecility of the aldermen it they have not funds available to keep the streets in proper condition. The cry "no money" which they are so ready to raise whenever their mismanagement is exposed is neither more nor less than a confession of their unfitness to do the work they have undertaken to perform.

THE WAR IN ABYSSINIA.

The news from Abyssinia is exceedingly meagre and not all satisfactory. It must be always borne in mind that the news from that country comes to us from Italian sources. The Italians have command of the telegraph, and the military censor takes good care that the messages sent over it contain only such and so much information as he chooses to give to the world. From those telegrams, little as they contain, it may be concluded that in King John General Marzano has caught a Tartar. The two armies are now face to face, and instead of giving the Abyssinian king the lesson that the Italian general came to the country to teach him he treats and temporizes. This is not the way to impress semi-barbarians with the superior prowess of European troops. It is only reasonable to conclude that if the Italian general felt that he could whip the Abyssinians he would bring the negotiations to a speedy conclusion. It must be a consciousness of his weakness and a conviction of the terrible consequences that must follow disaster that cause him to hesitate. The situation is indeed a serious one for him. He has a strong army in a commanding position in front of him and many miles of mountainous country behind him. The hot season is coming on in which it is impossible for European troops to keep the field. There is danger on all sides. To advance is evidently difficult, and to retreat, in the face of such an army as King John commands and through such a country as is behind him, ruinous. It is no wonder then that he meets the Abyssinian king's advances and is desirous to put a speedy and a bloodless end to the invasion. King John too on his part would evidently sooner get rid of the invaders of his dominions peacefully than meet them in the field. It is, however, just possible that his negotiations with General San Marzano is merely a device to gain time, for he knows that the hot and sickly season is at hand, and that if the Italians remain much longer inactive the climate and disease will do more to enervate and lessen the invading force than he could do by the most severe fighting.

RUSSIA'S POSITION.

As spring approaches the movements of Russia are watched with interest and anxiety. Are those right who predicted that she was only awaiting the opening of spring to commence hostile operations against Bulgaria? The outcome of the military activity of Russia throughout the winter will soon be seen. There has been no change in Bulgaria. Ferdinand still, in spite of the acknowledged illegality of his election, occupies the throne. No attention appears to have been paid by its Government to the Porte's note of warning. Ferdinand has received notice to quit, but he still remains where he was placed by the votes of the representatives of the people of Bulgaria. The attitude of the Powers with regard to the Prince is what it was six months ago. The remonstrances and representations of Russia have produced on them no apparent effect. They evince no disposition to disturb the arrangement made between Prince Ferdinand and the people of Bulgaria. The threatening attitude assumed by Russia during the winter months has caused Germany and Austria to make preparations for war, but it is evident enough that the object of those preparations was not to further the ambitious designs of Russia against Bulgaria. Great Britain and Italy have held aloof from the Bulgarian dispute. They do not want to force upon the people of Bulgaria a ruler that they are unwilling to accept. As they appear to be pleased with Ferdinand those powers are more than willing to overlook any irregularity there may have been in his election. Russia in her endeavors to coerce Bulgaria has no helpers, and very few sympathizers in Europe. If the Czar wants to dethrone Prince Ferdinand it is clear that he must make the attempt alone, and the indications are that if he invades Bulgaria he will find that he has other and stronger opponents to contend with. The question now is, will the Russian Government run this risk? Will it carry out the policy so plainly indicated by the military movements of the winter months, or will it, when the time to act arrives, tacitly admit the failure of the policy of menace and quietly assume a peaceful attitude? All suspense will be ended in a few weeks.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE ROYAL.—"True Irish Heart," at the Theatre Royal yesterday drew large audiences and deserves encouragement. It is an essentially typical Irish drama, with a good plot, many interesting situations and fair stage setting. The cast is an acceptable one, J. P. Sullivan, in the leading role, deserving especial mention.

MLLES. EUGENIE TESSIER'S AND THERESE BOUCHER'S concert last night in Queen's Hall was very fully attended, and the large number of distinguished artists who assisted them ensured as great a success as their most enthusiastic friends could desire. Mlle. Tessier sang charmingly as is her wont; Mlle Boucher showed remarkable talent on the violin, on which she played three numbers, an accompanied solo, a duet, and a trio, each time having the advantage of the support of her master, F. Jehin-Prume, whose sympathetic playing added great eclat to the performance. Miss Boucher also took part in a vocal quintette. Miss Marguerite Sym made one appearance at the piano, and was applauded to the echo. M. Francois Boucher, professor of violin at the Toronto Conservatory, gave effective assistance, the three violinists rendering in fine style Léonard's "Serenade Humoristique," a descriptive musical sketch in the Spanish taste, which the audience loudly applauded. The symphony of Dancla was artistically rendered by Mr. and Miss Boucher.

Amongst other songs Miss Tessier sang "La Chanson de l'Almée" by Delibes, a difficult piece of vocalization, and demanding great expression. Her singing of this morceau with Mr. Paul Wiallard's perfect accompaniment made it the gem of the evening. M. Wiallard later on, declaimed in irreproachable French short pieces by Eugène Manuel and Paul Bilhaud, followed by a fable. A brilliant sextette, the finale of the 1st act of "La Nizza de Grenade," in which Mme Fratte, Miss Tessier, Messrs. Lebel, Mainville, La Verrière, and St. Pierre took part, closed the concert. Madame R. Hudon was the accompanist.

There were 91 interments in Mount Royal cemetery during last week. Twenty-three died in the city, four in neighboring municipalities, and one in a distant place. Only one death is reported as due to diphtheria.

THE ROSE INQUEST.

Henry G. Goodfellow, Bookkeeper of J. Hamilton Brown & Co., Under Examination.

His Evidence Regarding the Financial Relations of the Deceased and his Partner.

Mr. J. M. M. Duff's examination in the inquest into the cause of the late Lawrence Caldwell Rose's death was continued after going to press yesterday afternoon. Mr. Duff found that there were $185 to deceased's credit in the bank at the time of his disappearance. He might or might not have had bons in his hand. There was no amount charged against him in the bank showing that he had not drawn money on the day of his disappearance. On the 16th of November, however, there is an entry of $50 deposited in the bank.

One of the jurors thought it was very strange that deceased should have deposited $50 that day and have kept $1000 undeposited.

Mr. Duff was told that his offer to bring the books before the jury would be accepted shortly.

Henry G. Goodfellow, bookkeeper of J. Hamilton Brown & Co., testified that deceased was in the habit of taking whatever money remained in the cash box after bank-hours home with him and bringing it back next morning. Whether there were $500 in the cash box the afternoon of the 16th of November, no one could know without consulting the books. Deceased himself kept the cash book as well as the petty cash book, and witness only took charge of the tickets for employés in the city; he was never allowed to touch the cash books or the cash. All the firm's cash was either in bank or in that cash box inside of the safe. The reason why he would not even trust a small sum to his safe over night was because the safe had once before

BEEN BROKEN INTO.

After Mr. Rose's disappearance Goodfellow took charge of the cash books, opened all the letters and made all entries. Mr. Brown at that time was away and did not return until three weeks later. The firm met all the notes coming due till about a month after Rose's disappearance. Mr. Goodfellow could not tell the jury whether Mr. Brown on his return had asked him if the books balanced or not. The cash was not balanced until the end of the month, and then it was found that there was a deficiency of less than $100.

The foreman here remarked that Mr. Brown must indeed be an easy going business man.

Witness received some $30 daily as petty cash. These sums were not written up in the cash book from the 1st to the 16th of November last. There was during the three subsequent weeks no one to sign cheques. The bookkeeper knew at noon on the 18th that Mr. Rose was missing. The partners had always worked harmoniously as far as could be seen. There was under $20 in the cash box when it was opened at the return of Mr. Brown, as only Rose and Brown had the key to it, though witness knew the combination of the safe. On the morning of the 18th Mr. John Rose came to the office and handed over to witness some letters found by him on deceased's desk at home; in one of which there was a cheque.

The witness then continued: "I cannot see how Mr. Rose could possibly have had $400 or $500 about him belonging to the firm at the time of his disappearance, though he might have had private money of his own on him."

A juror here asked the witness what he meant when he spoke of a large amount of money disappearing.

"I don't understand you," answered the witness.

"You mean a large sum of money disappeared at the time of Lawrence Rose's disappearance?"

"There has been a large amount of money taken from the firm all through from the 18th of July until the middle of November."

"What do you mean?" again asked the juror.

"I mean this and I know it, that all the time he has been there, there have been falsifications in the books. I had no knowledge of these falsifications on the 17th of November last. I don't know that Mr. John Rose asked me to take charge of the cash books, but I took charge of them on MY OWN RESPONSIBILITY."

To a juror: "I continued the entries on the same page as Mr. L. Rose left off. Saw Lawrence Rose the last time on the 16th of November, before 6 o'clock in the evening. Did not see him on the 17th and was not at the office on the 17th, it was a holiday. I kept the cash right up to the abandonment of the estate on January 25th. The falsifications in the books were discovered by Mr. Brown about the middle of December. He noticed that the manufacturing accounts were rather high for a small firm, $4000 for one month only, for work exclusive of material, and that aroused his suspicions. Mr. Brown had the books audited immediately on suspecting something wrong. There was about $2000 of accommodation paper out. I have no knowledge of any private accommodation paper of Mr. Rose being floated. I know nothing about his private affairs at all. The books of the firm would not show it. I do not remember if Mr. Brown ever expressed dissatisfaction at the discrepancy in the cash books. Thinking it a most serious thing that the financial partners of the firm should be missing I kept the matter as private as I could. Mr. Collins was called by Mr. Brown to audit the books and he found what I referred to as falsifications. Mr. Rose had no customers at Point St. Charles, nor had he any known business there. Mr. John Rose told me that when one of the employés, Morrison, was discharged by the deceased he had promised him that he would 'get even with him' (Mr. L. C. Rose). The $100 deficit was found on the 30th of November; on the 31st of December there was a shortage of $16.32; the $100 had then already been put to profit and loss. Mr. John Rose advanced $700 altogether during the absence of Mr. Brown, that is during November. When Mr. Brown came back I made all deposits, Mr. Brown only affixing his signature to the papers."

"It was certainly possible that Lawrence Rose could have used accommodation papers not belonging to himself, but I had no knowledge of that, and the books would not show his private matters anyhow."

A juror—"The memos found on deceased show some accounts of that kind. The bill-book might show the same."

"The bill-book would show no paper whatever outside of those belonging to the firm. As to the letters John Rose gave me on the 18th of November, there were cheques in them. Lawrence Rose had opened the letters at home and left them on his bedroom desk. There were no bank bills in them."

Mr. Lighthall here objected to the admission of all the evidence as to the firm before and after November 16 as entirely irrelevant. After some discussion it was decided that as the witness had in speaking of falsifications referred to the books, the books should be produced before the evidence, as given, would be accepted as it stood.

Edward G. Auldjo: "I was well acquainted with Lawrence Rose. Saw him on the 16th of November. Met him on the street and went down with him to his office. From there I went to his home with him and stayed all night. On the 17th I saw him last at dinner time; that would be about 7.30 o'clock at his mother's house.

"After dinner he went out, and I remained until next morning. When he left the house he did not say where he was going. I did not get a chance to ask him. His brother told me in a short time. I did not observe anything about his manner to show that he was troubled about anything. He was always more or less morose in his manner. Never knew him to be under the influence of liquor. I do not know how much money he had about him, but the night before he changed his trousers and took out a large bundle of bills which I know he could not have spent up to the time of his reputed disappearance, because I was with him all the time until after dinner on that day, as stated. I remarked on his carrying so much money, and he said they had a poor safe in the office. I should judge from the size of the wad that there were about forty bills in it, but I have no idea of the amount. We played billiards that day at his home for about two hours. I do not remember seeing him pull that roll out of his pocket on the 17th. I was with him the whole day. He did not go anywhere, except to the Post Office, and to my office. He had no opportunity to spend the money that day. He did not say anything about going to Point St. Charles. He got a big mail that afternoon and a lot of orders. I never saw a man

HE WOULD BE BACK

SO PLEASED.

He wanted to go down to the office and enter them in the books. I think there was a cheque in one of the letters. Everybody was surprised next morning to find that he had not been home all night. Have no idea of anything that could take him to Point St. Charles. Mrs. Rose was greatly concerned at his being out; she got up at two o'clock in the morning to see if he was home."

Gershom De Sola: "I knew the deceased very well. Went to school with him. I saw him pretty frequently prior to his disappearance. I saw him last at about twenty minutes before ten on the night of November 17th, on Sherbrooke street, near McGill College avenue, going west. I was walking along talking to my cousin, who was with me, and ran into him. Looking up I recognized him and said, 'Hello, Rose, where are you going?' He said, 'Hello, Desola,' and passed along. He was perfectly sober but seemed to be worried and preoccupied. He was walking at an ordinary gait, with his head down, which was a way he had when thinking.

I AM POSITIVE

that it was Lawrence Rose I met. From my knowledge of him I do not think him capable of committing suicide. I recognized his voice. I heard of his disappearance when it was published in the papers. I am perfectly sure of the date and hour. I spoke first."

J. G. H. Brown, wholesale clothing merchant: "Had known the deceased for about a year. I was connected with him in business under the firm name of J. G. Hamilton Brown & Co. On the 17th of November last I was in the Lower Provinces on business for the firm. I returned about three weeks after the disappearance of Mr. Rose. When I left Montreal I left the business in charge of the deceased. Mr. Goodfellow was bookkeeper at the time. Mr. Rose was in the habit of carrying large sums of money with him. Our safe had been broken open and was not considered secure. I could give you no idea of how much money he may have had on him that night. He might have had the firm's money or he might have had his own on him. He speculated a good deal and about him. I first heard of his absence from business by telegram, telling me to come home Rose was ill with typhoid fever. I was in Prince Edward Island at the time. I arrived home about the 7th or 8th of December. I did not know the true state of affairs until I got home. When I received the telegram I thought he was sick. When I got to St. John I telegraphed to Mr. Lindsay. He answered come back at once. Then I began to get anxious. When I got home I found that Mr. Rose had left everything just as if he intended to come back again the next day. As far as I remember the bookkeeper said that there was a discrepancy in the cash. I had an auditor go over the books at once. I did not balance the cash on my arrival home."

"In your deed of partnership was there not a clause which said each partner should devote his whole time to the business?"

Witness, "Yes, sir."

"Did you not say something about Mr. Rose speculating?"

Witness—"Men do not always stick to what they sign."

"There has been reason to suppose that Mr. Rose had a large sum of money on his person on the 17th of November. Was that the firm's money or his own?"

Witness—"That I cannot say. The books will show. I cannot say how much was to our credit at the time of disappearance."

The inquest was adjourned until Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

NEW MAPLE SUGAR IN.

Local Trade Good—Liverpool Wheat Dull—London Wheat Quiet.

The packing of hogs in the United States during the past winter will probably show a reduction in weight of about 190,000,000 pounds, the reduction in lard being 30,000,000 pounds and in meat about 105,000,000 pounds. The exports of hog products for the four months ending March 1st, compared with the previous year, decreased 53,000,000 lbs. of meats and 29,000,000 lbs. of lard. In meats the manufacture was 52,000,000 less than the falling off in exports. The stocks of meat in the West are larger than a year ago. In our local produce and provision markets there is a good demand for butter. Eggs are not in such good demand as they were a few days ago. Pork and lard are moving well and smoked meats and salmon are in good esteem. Flour is in fair local demand, with grain still quiet. Among the fruit men business is good. Maple sugar and syrup are arriving freely. The changes in quotations since yesterday are eggs, 20c; Valencia oranges, $6 to 6 50; new maple sugar, 10 to 11c; syrup, 75 to 80c per tin. The receipts as posted on 'Change to-day were: 19,200 bush. wheat, 875 do. peas, 1300 do. oats, 600 do. barley, 2400 brls. flour, 125 do. meal, 1 do. ashes, 63 pkgs. butter, 300 cases eggs, 130 rolls leather, 54 raw hides, 50 casks spirits, 12 pkgs. tobacco, 112 brls. petroleum.

"Why, ma," said the child, with perfect simplicity, "I don't see any place!"—Tit Bits.

St. Paul's Church Social.

The annual social of the St. Paul's church congregation was held last night in the lecture hall, the Rev. Mr. Barclay presiding. The attendance was large and included among its number Sir Donald Smith, Professor MacVicar, and others of the Professors of the University. A well selected programme was presented, and the various selections contributed by Miss Crompton, Miss McPherson, Messrs. Verner and Bellhouse. Mr. Baker performed ably on the flute. Addresses of a congratulatory character were delivered by Sir Donald Smith, Professor MacVicar, Messrs. D. Morrice, and A. Mitchell. In his remarks Dr. MacVicar referred in eulogistic terms to the Rev. Mr. Barclay, and congratulated the congregation on the determination of that gentleman to remain among his present charge.

What Is Needed

By every man and woman if they desire to secure comfort in this world is a corn sheller. Putnam's Corn Extractor shells corns in two or three days and without discomfort or pain. A hundred imitations prove the merit of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, which is always sure, safe, and painless. See signature of Polson & Co. on each bottle. Sold by medicine dealers.

Edwin Forrest's Secret.

The great tragedian Forrest had a secret which everybody ought to learn and profit by. Said he, "I owe all my success to the fact that everything I have undertaken I have done thoroughly. I never neglect trifles." That's the point—don't neglect trifles. Don't neglect that hacking cough, those night-sweats, that feeble and capricious appetite, and the other symptoms, trifling in themselves, but awful in their significance. They herald the approach of consumption. You are in danger, but you can be saved. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore you to health and vigor, as it has thousands of others. For all scrofulous diseases, and consumption is one of them, it is a sovereign remedy.

Accidents will happen despite all care, and painful injuries such as sprains, bruises, cuts and burns result. ## HARMONY REIGNED

At the Easter Vestries Last Night.

Satisfactory Progress Reported—A Curate for St. James the Apostle—Enlargement of Grace Church.

In accordance with a very ancient canon of the church, the annual Easter Vestries of the Anglican churches were held last evening. The greatest harmony existed everywhere and without an exception the accounts presented were of a most satisfactory character.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.

The vestry was held in the Chapter House, Rev. Dr. Norton in the chair. The officers elected were: Rector's warden, F. S. Lyman; people's warden, Norris Godard; Synod delegates, T. J. Serjeant and Robert Evans; select vestry, Hector Mackenzie, Jackson Rae, G. A. Drummond, John Ogilvy, Robert Evans, W. F. Lewis, R. H. Buchanan, Dr. Wheeler, C. E. Colson, J. C. Baker and P. A. Peterson. The financial condition of the establishment is in a healthy condition in view of the heavy drains lately made for repairs and the payment of old debts. Last year the revenue approximated $14,200 and the expenditure a little more, but many sums are due the church, and will probably be received before the adjourned meeting on the 16th. Before that date the accounts will have been audited, and the reports printed. The sum of $2,200 was expended on restorations during the past year. The proceedings were brief and formal and the motions put carried unanimously, no objections of any nature being raised.

ST. GEORGE'S.

The vestry met in the school house, the Very Rev. Dean Carmichael presiding. The statement of accounts showed the receipts for the past year to have been $19,210, and the expenditure $142 less. Resolutions were passed continuing the envelope system of providing for the various church charities; giving an additional $500 to the Algoma diocese; and providing for quarterly meetings of the vestry. Messrs. J. Hutton and A. F. Gault were appointed lay delegates to the Synod. Messrs. J. Mills and George Lightbound were re-elected wardens for the ensuing year. The meeting was very harmonious.

ST. JAMES THE APOSTLE.

The Rev. Canon Ellegood presided. The financial statement shewed a balance of $500. Mr. T. Montgomery was appointed rector's warden, and the people elected Mr. John S. Hall. Mr. E. P. Hannaford and Mr. J. W. Marling were elected delegates to the Synod. The following gentlemen were elected sidesmen: John Gault, J. A. L. Strathy, W. J. Fenwick, H. O. Shorey, J. Nelson, H. G. Strathy, G. de C. O'Grady. It was determined to take steps to secure the services of a curate at $1,500 per annum. The sum of $1800 has been spent on restoration during the year.

ST. LUKE'S.

At the annual vestry meeting of St. Luke's Church, the rector, the Rev. Geo. Rogers, B. A., occupied the chair, and the following officers were elected: Rector's warden, Mr. Herst; people's warden, Mr. John Hyde; delegates to the Synod, Mr. T. Lamb and Capt. B. True. The secretary's report showed that the church was in a very satisfactory condition. Total receipts amounted to $2032.56, with a balance in hand. A rectory has also been built in connection with the church at a cost of $3521.56, almost all of which is paid.

ST. STEPHEN'S.

The chair was occupied by the Ven. Archdeacon Evans. The officers elected were: Rector's warden, C. E. Cook; people's warden, W. A. Scott; delegates to Synod, F. McCulloch and John Tough; sidesmen, Messrs. Cox, Maynard, McCulloch, Neville, Brown and Walsh; auditors, A. H. C. Walpole and J. Tough. A vote of thanks was passed to the chairman and the meeting adjourned.

TRINITY.

The rector, the Rev. Canon Mills, presided. The reports presented were of a satisfactory nature. The following officers were elected: Rector's warden, Mr. Andrew Baile; people's warden, Mr. Charles Garth; delegates to Diocesan Synod, Messrs. Chas. Garth, and E. J. Bone; sidesmen, Messrs. Greaves, A. E. Palmer, E. H. Butteris, J. Simpson, H. Gunn, E. J. Bone, W. A. Kerman, H. R. Mackay, W. Wood, W. W. Le Mesurier, C. McIndoe, and P. A. Crossby; finance committee, Messrs. E. J. Bone, Jas. Baile, W. W. Le Mesurier, C. Strangman, W. Hoy, A. C. McIndoe, Jas. Mitchell, A. E. Palmer, W. G. Idler, and Wm. Norris; auditors, Messrs. Jas. Mitchell, and Wm. Le Mesurier.

ST. MARTIN'S.

A numerously attended meeting was presided over by Rev. G. Osborne Troop. The accounts presented showed receipts $9027, and the expenditure $158 less. The stipend of the rector was fixed at an increase of $250. Church-wardens, Mr. Strachan Bethune, Q. C., and Mr. R. Wilson Smith, the latter gentleman in place of Mr. W. Tatley, who was obliged to retire on account of ill-health; delegates to the Diocesan Synod, Messrs. Strachan Bethune and A. Gowdey; sidesmen, Messrs. Gowdey, Harper, Rothwell, Hanson, Garth, Hendry, Palmer, Bingham and J. C. Rose; finance committee, Messrs. J. P. Cleghorn, Notman, Meeker, Nash, Harper, Rothwell, Gowdey, W. B. Evans, Bayles, Wm. Tatley, Boyd, J. Y. Gilmour and W. McGowan.

ST. JUDE'S.

The chair was taken by the Rev. J. H. Dixon. The wardens for the ensuing year are: Mr. J. H. Redfern (re-elected), Minister's Warden; Mr. John Forgrave, People's Warden; Delegates to Synod, Messrs. H. J. Mudge and H. J. Beaman; Treasurer of Building Fund, Mr. Wm. Wilton; Auditors, Messrs. Thomas Moore, W. H. Monsell, Geo. Schneider and George F. Fisher; sidesmen, Messrs. George Elliott, E. Barnes, R. Foster, W. H. Monsell, Wm. Clark, Joseph Horsfall, R. E. Wright, T. H. Purcell, A. N. Webster, James McKeeman, S. Walker, H. Nicholson, H. J. Beaman, T. Moore, Willis Wight, T. H. Draper, R. J. Lockhart and John Forgrave.

ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST.

The Rev. E. Wood, rector, presided. Messrs. C. E. Reiffenstein and Arthur H. Plimsoll were re-elected wardens for the ensuing year.

ST. THOMAS.

The chair was taken by Rev. R. Lindsay. The annual accounts shewed receipts amounting to $2776. Messrs. C. Beckett and Cooper were elected churchwardens and Messrs. W. Drake and Slack delegates to the Synod.

GRACE CHURCH, POINT ST. CHARLES.

Canon Belcher presided, and the following officers were elected: Rector's warden, Mr. H. H. Powles; people's warden, Mr. H. Holt; delegates to Synod, Messrs. W. McWood and G. Outram, sidesmen, Messrs. D. Collinson, T. C. Hunt, F. Berridge and John Berridge; auditors, Messrs. D. Robertson and F. H. Wildgoose. A committee was appointed to take into consideration the enlargement of the church.

ST. MATTHIAS CHURCH, COTE ST. ANTOINE.

The Easter vestry meeting was held in the church last night at 8 o'clock, the rector presiding, when a most satisfactory report was presented by the wardens and adopted. The affairs of the church, both financially and as regards attendance, were shown to be in a very flourishing condition. During the past year the church building has been extended to afford additional accommodation for 80 persons. The whole of the cost of this, about $1300, has been paid off. Mr. John Macfarlane and Mr. James W. Pike were elected respectively rector's and people's wardens. Capt. Raynes and Colonel Sweeney delegates to Synod and as sidesmen Messrs. G. Sully, Victor Magor, H. Suckling and — Beilby. It was decided that the evening service should commence from the first Sunday in May at 7 o'clock instead of 7.30 as heretofore. The meeting which was of a most amicable nature was brought to a close by a vote of thanks to the chairman.

REFORMED EPISCOPAL.

The following officers were elected: Senior warden, Mr. A. G. Elliott; junior warden, Mr. T. Middleton; vestry, Messrs. W. H. Huntley; R. W. D'Oller, D. Browne, G. Weldon, T. Spindlo, W. Scott, J. Elliott and Dunbar Browne.

CHURCH OF ST. BARNABAS, ST. LAMBERT.

Rector's warden, J. P. Sudbury; people's warden, G. H. Hunt; delegates to Synod, James Bourne and Robert Church. A committee was appointed to consider the rearrangement of pews with a view to increasing the seating capacity of the church.

THE EASTER REVIEW.

The Net Result of Yesterday's Sham Fight.

Pleasing Incident at a Smoking Concert at Dover—Judge Advocate General Marriott Knighted—Exhibition of Stuart Relics.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, April 3.—As in previous years it is difficult to arrive at a practical conclusion respecting the net result of yesterday's sham fight along the southern shores of England. It appears, however, if the judgment of the umpires can implicitly be relied upon, that the invading force on the whole had greatly the advantage. Marching from Dover, they drove a wedge into the defenders' left and centre, placing the latter in a critical position. When orders came to cease fire at Eastbourne and Portsmouth, the invaders were still more successful, the defending force being defeated at both places. One thing is clear amidst the mass of rather confused details: the guns at Portsmouth, having only 2500 yards range, are quite out of date for the defensive purposes of this important position, the enemy having guns carrying 7000 yards. The forts, technically held, were silenced before the ENEMY WAS WITHIN RANGE.

The usual general order was issued by the commander-in-chief complimenting the men engaged, although the fatigue of marching had a visible effect on the discipline and bearing of men unaccustomed to severe exertion like the bulk of the volunteers. A pleasing incident occurred at a smoking concert given by the authorities of Dover, at which the Duke of Cambridge and many English officers of distinction were present. The Band of the Munster Fusiliers gave a selection of National airs. When it came to "Yankee Doodle" all eyes were turned towards the official representative of the United States, Major Sawyer, who sat close to the Duke of Cambridge, attired in an American uniform. There was a loud and spontaneous outburst of cheering, in which the Duke heartily joined.

THE JUDGE-ADVOCATE-GENERAL.

The announcement is made in official form that Her Majesty has been pleased to confer the honor of Knighthood on Judge-Advocate-General Marriott. Mr. Marriott was elected as a supporter of Mr. Gladstone in 1880. He turned round and joined the Unionists, receiving the appointment of Judge-Advocate-General. The honor bestowed upon him is doubtless intended to solace him for the approaching abolition of the office of Judge-Advocate-General, which now-a-days is only a sinecure.

EXHIBITION OF STUART RELICS.

Interest now centres in the exhibition of relics of all kinds belonging to the royal house of Stuart about to be opened. It is generally believed that the Jacobites even now are not quite extinct, but the proposed exhibition has the support of influential personages of all parties, at the head of whom is the Queen.

A DANISH EXHIBITION

To be Held at South Kensington in May—Some Novel Features.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, April 3.—A project has been matured for a Danish Exhibition at South Kensington, to begin on May 17, the object being to raise funds for a new hospital for incurables, an institution which the Princess of Wales first interested herself in after her arrival in England, and a new home for which will be erected as a permanent memorial of her silver wedding. One of the novel features of the show will be a temporary theatre, in which tableau performances in pantomime will be given of Andersen's fairy tales. All the illumination and fireworks will be in the Danish colors.

LEAGUE MEETINGS TO BE PREVENTED.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

DUBLIN, April 3.—The magistrates at Loughrea, Ennis, Kilrush, Kanturk and Ramsgrange have been ordered to prevent League meetings to be held at those places on Sunday next. They are authorized to use force if necessary.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

Latest Items of Interest from Different Parts of the Old World.

Famished deserters from the ranks of King John's army continue to arrive at Massowah, and report that serious dissensions have arisen between King John and Ras Aloula. Detachments of Abyssinian troops are already retreating across the Digdigta Hills.

It has been decided to form two new Uhlan regiments in Austria. The first outlay will be $250,000, and the annual cost $400,000. The number of cavalry horses will also be augmented, with the view of speedier mobilization.

The decree of the Russian Court depriving Prince Von Hohenlohe of the Wittgenstein estates has been confirmed on appeal. The estates will be parcelled out among Russian proprietors. Thousands of Germans employed on the estates have been dismissed.

The arrangements for the coming bimetallic conference at Manchester are complete. The subjects to be discussed cover a very wide field, and include the bearing of a silver currency upon the agriculture, commerce, capital and labor of England, India and the colonies.

The Spanish Government and the opposition have agreed upon a bill for the reorganization of the army. Instead of the conscriptions system service in the army will be obligatory upon all citizens. The peace establishment will consist of 100,000 men. This force may be increased to 350,000 by mobilization.

The British gunboat "Banterer" has been ordered to proceed to Innisboffin, County Galway, Ireland, to remove a large number of cattle which have been seized for rent. The inhabitants of the parish and Island of Innisboffin are probably nearer to starvation than those of any portion of Ireland, and may be expected to resist the removal of the cattle to the last.

TIRED OF BEING A FUGITIVE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 3.—Boodler McGarigle has been in this city, and left on Saturday for Canadian points. He spent most of his time here in the Canadian "Soo." He says he hopes to go back to Chicago and fix things up, as he is tired of being a fugitive. He looks worn and haggard, and registered as McFarland.

SAYS HE GOT BOODLE.

The Case for Damages of Ald. Stevenson Against Mr. Ronald of Chatham.

The action for $3000 damages for alleged slander of Alderman Stevenson, chairman of the Fire Committee, against Mr. Ronald, manufacturer of steam engines of Chatham, Ont., for alleged slander, came up for hearing in the Superior Court to-day before Mr. Justice Jetté. The action arises out of the purchase of the Merryweather steam engine by the city last year. It is alleged that Mr. Ronald was unsuccessful in selling one of his machines to the city and that he stated to divers parties that the chairman of the Fire Committee had received boodle to induce him to purchase a Merryweather. Several aldermen, among whom were Ald. Grenier, Wilson, Malone and Cunningham, were summoned to give evidence.

Brieflets.

—The annual dinner of the Order of Foresters was held last night, Mr. B. Baker, D. C. Ranger, presiding. The attendance was large.

—The Glassblowers A. F. G. W. U. Local Union, No. 24, held its fourth annual ball last night in the Victoria Rifles Armory.

—The monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Association was held yesterday afternoon, Messrs. Iredale, Smith and W. Langdon, the Hamilton revivalists, delivering addresses. Ten new members were reported for the month and one life member, Mr. Featherstone. The proceedings were varied with musical selections.

CHAPTER VII—(Continued.)

But just then the bell, quickening its pace, began to ring thick and hurried, and then it gave a single hammering jangle, and was silent for a space.

"It is as though the bearer had run for a pater-noster while, and then leaped the river," Dick observed.

"And now beginneth he again to pace soberly forward," added Matcham.

"Nay," returned Dick—"nay, not so soberly, Jack. 'Tis a man that walketh you right speedily. 'Tis a man in some fear of his life, or about some hurried business. See ye not how swift the beating draweth near?"

"It is now close by," said Matcham.

They were now on the edge of the pit; and as the pit itself was on a certain eminence, they commanded a view over the greater proportion of the clearing, up to the thick woods that closed it in.

The daylight, which was very clear and gray, showed them a riband of white footpath wandering among the gorse. It passed some hundred yards from the pit, and ran the whole length of the clearing, east and west. By the line of its course, Dick judged it should lead more or less directly to the Moat House.

Upon this path, stepping forth from the margin of the wood, a white figure now appeared. It paused a little, and seemed to look about; and then, at a slow pace, and bent almost double, it began to draw near across the heath. At every step the bell clanked. Face, it had none; a white hood, not even pierced with eye-holes, veiled the head; and as the creature moved, it seemed to feel its way with the tapping of a stick. Fear fell upon the lads, as cold as death.

"A leper!" said Dick, hoarsely.

"His touch is death," said Matcham. "Let us run."

"Not so," returned Dick. "See ye not?—he is stone blind. He guideth him with a staff. Let us lie still; the wind bloweth towards the path, and he will go by and hurt us not. Alas, poor soul, and we should rather pity him!"

"I will pity him when he is by," replied Matchan.

The blind leper was now about halfway towards them, and just then the sun rose and shone full on his veiled face. He had been a tall man before he was bowed by his disgusting sickness, and even now he walked with a vigorous step. The dismal beating of his bell, the pattering of the stick, the eyeless screen before his countenance, and the knowledge that he was not only doomed to death and suffering, but shut out for ever from the touch of his fellow-men, filled the lads' bosoms with dismay; and at every step that brought him nearer, their courage and strength seemed to desert them.

As he came about level with the pit, he paused, and turned his face full upon the lads.

"Mary be my shield! He sees us," said Matcham, faintly.

"Hush!" whispered Dick. "He doth but hearken. He is blind, fool!"

The leper looked or listened, whichever he was really doing, for some seconds. Then he began to move on again, but presently paused once more, and again turned and seemed to gaze upon the lads. Even Dick became deadwhite and closed his eyes, as if by the mere sight he might become infected. But soon the bell sounded, and this time, without any farther hesitation, the leper crossed the remainder of the little heath and disappeared into the covert of the woods.

"He saw us," said Matcham. "I could swear it!"

"Tut!" returned Dick, recovering some sparks of courage. "He but heard us. He was in fear, poor soul! An ye were blind, and walked in a perpetual night ye would start yourself, if ever a twig rustled or a bird cried 'Peep.'"

"Dick, good Dick, he saw us," repeated Matcham. "When a man hearkeneth, he doth not as this man; he doth otherwise, Dick. This was seeing; it was not hearing. He means foully. Hark, else, if his bell be not stopped!"

Such was the case. The bell rang no longer.

"Nay," said Dick, "I like not that. Nay," he cried again, "I like that little. What may this betoken? Let us go, by the mass!"

"He hath gone east," added Matcham. "Good Dick, let us go westward straight, I shall not breathe till I have my back turned upon that leper."

"Jack, y' are too cowardly," replied Dick. "We shall go fair for Holywood, or as fair, at least, as I can guide you, and that will be due north."

They were afoot at once, passed the stream upon some stepping-stones, and began to mount on the other side, which was steeper, towards the margin of the wood. The ground became very uneven, full of knolls and hollows; trees grew scattered or in clumps; it became difficult to choose a path, and the lads somewhat wandered. They were weary, besides, with yesterday's exertions and the lack of food, and they moved but heavily and dragged their feet among the sand.

Presently, coming to the top of a knoll, they were aware of the leper, some hundred feet in front of them, crossing the line of their march by a hollow. His bell was silent, his staff no longer tapped the ground, and he went before him with the swift and assured footsteps of a man who sees. Next moment he had disappeared into a little thicket.

The lads, at the first glimpse, had crouched behind a tuft of gorse; there they lay, horror-struck.

"Certain, he pursueth us," said Dick—"certain! He held the clapper of his bell in one hand, saw ye? that it should not sound. Now may the saints aid and guide us, for I have no strength to combat pestilence!"

"What maketh he?" cried Matcham. "What doth he want? Who ever heard the like, that a leper, out of mere malice, should pursue unfortunates? Hath he not his bell to that very end, that people may avoid him? Dick, there is below this something deeper."

"Nay, I care not," moaned Dick; "the strength is gone out of me; my legs are like water. The saints be mine assistance!"

"Would ye lie there idle?" cried Matcham. "Let us back into the open. We have the better chance; he cannot steal upon us unawares."

"Not I," said Dick. "My time is come, and peradventure he may pass us by."

"Bend me, then, your bow!" cried the other. "What! will ye be a man?"

Dick crossed himself. "Would ye have me shoot upon a leper?" he cried. "The hand would fail me. Nay, now," he added—"nay, now, let be! With sound men I will fight, but not with ghosts and lepers. Which this is, I wot not. One or other, Heaven be our protection!"

"Now," said Matcham, "if this be man's courage, what a poor thing is man! But sith ye will do naught, let us lie close."

Then came a single, broken jangle on the bell.

"He has missed his hold upon the clapper," whispered Matcham. "Saints! how near he is!"

HON. JOHN HAMILTON DEAD.

Struck Down Last Night by a Stroke of Paralysis

Which Ended Fatally at Noon To-day.

The community were startled this afternoon by the announcement of the sudden death of the Hon. John Hamilton, which took place at noon to-day. The hon. gentleman was seen daily. No later than last evening, he was at the Academy of Music, and on Easter morning he communicated at Christ Church Cathedral. The deceased gentleman was not in the enjoyment of good health for some time past, but was able to be about and to attend to his numerous business appointments. He left the Academy last night about nine o'clock not feeling well, and proceeded to his residence, 917 Sherbrooke street, where Drs Ross and Howard were called in and pronounced his illness to be a stroke of paralysis, which would have a fatal ending. He soon became unconscious and passed away about noon. Mr. Hamilton leaves a large family, having been thrice married. He was very wealthy, holding stock in the Bank of Montreal and the Bank of Toronto to the extent of $240,000. His estate is valued at over $500,000.

Mr. Hamilton was for some time President of the Merchants Bank and was at the Board one of the most able financial administrators. He was generally known as an upright man in his business transactions, "whose word was his bond," and never was guilty of any act that would not bear the light of day. Mr. Hamilton resigned his seat in the Senate a short time ago in favor of the Hon. J. J. C. Abbott. One of Mr. Hamilton's brothers is the present Bishop of Niagara. It is understood that the Government intended reappointing Mr. Hamilton to the Senate.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Hon John Hamilton was a member of the family of Hamilton, of Hamwood, County Meath, Ireland. The family claims descent from Hugh Hamilton, a son of Sir James Hamilton, of Evandale, in Scotland, who settled in Ireland in 1616. The deceased was the third son of the late Colonel George Hamilton of Hawkesbury, Canada, who died in 1837, and was born near Quebec in 1827. He was educated in Montreal. He married first Rebecca L., daughter of the Rev. John Lewis, B. A., of Cork, Ireland; after her death Ellen Marion, daughter of William Wood, of Seale Lodge, Surrey, England, and his third wife was Jeannie, widow of John Major, and daughter of the late Charles Cambie, formerly of Castletown, Tipperary, Ireland. He was called to the Senate in May, 1867. Hon. John Hamilton was a member of the extensive lumber firm of Hamilton Bros.; proprietor of the Hawkesbury Mills, Ont., and a director of the Bank of Montreal. He was at one time president of the Merchants Bank. He was reeve of Hawkesbury for four years and warden of Prescott and Russell for three years. He had been Legislative Councillor for Inkerman.

HICKMAN DISCREDITED

By Justice Charland.

The Money Obtained by False Pretences—Mr. Labbe Loses $500—Jubilant Butchers.

The decision of Mr. Justice Charland in the case of G. E. Labbe against several butchers who had given promissory notes to W. C. Hickman for a supply of ice during the approaching season from the "Butchers' Ice Company" and who were sued upon them by the first mentioned gentleman, to whom they had been given by Hickman's contractor as collateral security for a loan of $500, had been awaited with interest. Therefore when the learned Judge ascended the bench this morning in the Circuit Court the room was packed.

"This case," said he, "involves a question of great import. It must be decided whether or not there existed on the part of Hickman a or a hidden chain of artifices which might be mistaken for good faith and by which it was expected to victimize the poorer classes. Hickman arrived in Montreal from Boston, and his reputation was bad. He organizes the "Butchers' Ice Company" and constitutes the whole company himself. He does not pay for the land he buys for the erection of his ice house, nor the hands he employs. The suits against him are legion and although not one judgment can be executed against him, he comes into court and swears he is solvent. He retains the services of one Lemay, a young man of good appearance, speaking both languages fluently, who comes into court with handcuffs on his wrists to testify for his employer. This Lemay obtains from the butchers several promissory notes which Hickman turns to good advantage.

The butchers come into court and swear that they were only reported to give a promise that they would take ice from Hickman. There was never any question of promissory notes.

I BELIEVE THEIR STATEMENTS.

and I discredit these of Hickman and Lemay, who swore the butchers knew well what they were doing when they signed the notes. I declare their signatures were obtained under false pretences, surreptitiously and that the notes upon which they appear are the outcome of fraud. Labbe, I believe, acted in good faith, but he is the holder of worthless paper whose circulation might give rise to grave results."

Mr. Labbe, therefore, loses the $500 he lent Hickman's contractor unless he can execute a judgment against him. The butchers who were present in court when the decision was given were naturally jubilant over the judgment, and "Banker" Hickman's hauling over.

WAS A BARGAIN MADE?

St. Bartholomew's Church and its Debt.

The gentlemen who had charge of the Easter vestry of St. Bartholomew's Church expected quite a time last night, and thinking that it would be better in case of any disagreement to leave the public uninformed the press was excluded. This morning, however, the matter leaked out and it seems that the congregation are of opinion that Mr. Benjamin Dawson is the unknown person who some time ago was stated to have promised a large sum towards the debt of the church under certain conditions. There was however no evidence of such a promise, the unknown person having retained his incognito for the promise was made by another party a member of the church. The scheme of regulation having fallen through and the seven years lease of the church which is owned by Mr. Dawson having expired, the question of the renewal of the lease came up, and there was considerable misunderstanding about the matter. If such a promise was made it would probably be easy to produce it.

Private Residences Sold.

Dr. Fisher's residence, 956 Sherbrooke st., has been purchased by Mr. R. R. Grindley, General Manager of the Bank of British North America, for $18,500.

J. Cradock Simpson & Co. report the sale to Mr. S. Davis, the well known cigar manufacturer, of the house and grounds of the late Judge Mackay, corner of Sherbrooke and Mackay streets, for the sum of $27,000. The grounds have a frontage of 122¹, feet on Sherbrooke street, by 173.4 on Mackay street, giving an area of 21,223 feet. Mr. Davis is to be congratulated upon the purchase of such a splendid property in so fine a situation at so low a price.

Atlantic Mail Subsidy.

It is known here in railway and steamship circles that the Dominion Cabinet has pretty well decided upon its policy in connection with the Atlantic mail service, and that a subsidy of $300,000 is to be divided amongst the Allan and Dominion Lines. This reported settlement of the matter does not meet with the approval of a certain section of the business community here, who believe that it will not result in securing a service which can compete with New York. The impression is that it is useless and unfair to other companies to subsidize freight carrying boats; that it should only be given to steamers which will steam twenty knots; which can more than hold their own with New York and which will secure to Canada the supremacy of the Atlantic service.

Electric Lighting.

At a meeting of the City Council, held this afternoon, a letter was read from the Craig Electric Light Company offering to light those portions of the city not now lighted by electricity, including Fletcher's Field, the Park drives and the proposed park at Logan's Farm at the same price which is now paid for the gas illumination, namely, $42,000.

The annual meeting of the Royal Electric Light Company was held this afternoon at 2.30 at its offices on Wellington street. At a previous meeting of the Board of Directors it was unanimously resolved not to give any information to the papers or the outside world.

CHAPLEAU'S ORGAN.

Petition to Place "La Minerve" in Insolvency—A Professional Secret.

Mr. Joseph Tassé, ex-M. P., editor of La Minerve, was present in court this morning when the petition of James Price of this city for an order to place that paper in insolvency, came up for hearing before Mr. Justice Loranger. Mr. A. O. Augé represented the petitioner, and Mr. J. L. Archambault, Q. C., La Minerve.

Mr. Price alleges that he holds a note for $3500 against the paper, signed by La Minerve, and endorsed by Hon. J. Chapleau and Messrs. Joseph and E. Tassé. This note he had purchased from M. A. O. Augé for $2500. For its defence the paper contends that Mr. Price is not the legal holder of the note, that it was given to the late Hon. Senator Sénécal as accommodation to effect a settlement between that gentleman and La Minerve, when he disposed of the shares he held in the paper. Mr. Price merely obtained the note after it had become due.

Mr. Augé, who sold the note to Mr. Price, was examined this morning. He stated that he had sold the note to Mr. Price, but he refused to say how long he had had it in his possession, and under what circumstances he had obtained it. That was a professional secret, said he, which he was bound not to divulge. The Court informed Mr. Augé that he would have to answer.

"Well, Your Honor," added Mr. Augé, "I persist in my refusal to answer, and I give notice that I will appeal the decision just given by the Court!"

His Honor allowed the appeal, and the matter was adjourned.

Died Amongst Strangers.

Mr. R. C. Smith, for a number of years car accountant of the Canadian Pacific Railway, died somewhat suddenly and under somewhat melancholy circumstances last evening. Deceased had been suffering for some time with an internal complaint, which, however did not prevent him from attending to business. On Friday he caught cold and died yesterday at his boarding house, Peel street. He had no friends in the city and some trouble is being experienced in finding where they reside. Mr. Smith was a lieutenant in the 6th Fusiliers and a member of the Hochelaga lodge of A. F. and A. M. His body will be placed in the vault of the cemetery pending the arrival of his friends.

FLOQUET'S COMBINATION.

Something Like Success Achieved by the New French Premier.

The Weak Points in his Cabinet—Support Coming From Unexpected Quarters—The Dread of Boulangerism Spreading.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, April 3.—Something like success seems to have been achieved by M. Floquet in the new combination which he has effected in the way of a Cabinet. The radicals are welcoming the new Ministry with considerable evidence of satisfaction, and many opportunists who are driven into line by a wholesome dread of Boulanger and his following are promising their support to the Government. This show of content is not, to be sure, without a leavening of faultfinding, and this is very outspoken in spite of the general acquiescence in the situation. But criticism is directed mainly, not to the composition of the Cabinet, which includes apparently the best of the available material, but to the distribution of the portfolios which the Premier has seen fit to make and his colleagues to accept. The appointment of M. deFreycinet to the war office particularly is far from giving satisfaction, even to the pronounced friends of the Ministry, and it is not at all likely to be popular with the army. Military men prefer to see a man of their own profession of arms at the head of military affairs, and will never be content with the presence at their head of a civilian. Besides this disposition of the war portfolio will have just the effect which it should be the

CHIEF BUSINESS OF THE NEW REGIME

to avoid and nullify—the increase of the popularity of General Boulanger. M. de Freycinet's possession of the portfolio will furnish General Boulanger with a powerful argument against the new Ministry in its relations to the widespread belief of the nation in a thorough disciplined army and her perpetual readiness for war. One of the most prominent points which the "people's fetish" made in his recent electoral address was his charge against the government of doing much to break up the solid organization of defence of the country for which he himself had so zealously striven while in office. M. Floquet has unfortunately given him the handle of a knife and kept the blade in his own grasp. In this lies the principal danger to the life of the Floquet Cabinet. This is the weak spot of its domestic side. M. Floquet's choice is no less fortunate concerning France's relations with the powers of Europe. M. Goblet is certainly an able man, and an honest one as well, but his ability lies in the direction of parliamentary debate, and not in that of diplomacy. His talent is polemic, not politic. His character for integrity is absolutely above suspicion, but he has forced the recognition of this on the public by methods which are directly

ANTAGONISTIC TO DIPLOMATIC NEGOTIATION.

He is a plain, blunt man in his political and official career, and speaks his mind too freely. He is far too irascible and hasty to suit himself to the role of a Foreign Minister. He may prove as dangerous a firebrand in his way as Boulanger is in another. These two points lay the minority open to damaging attack, and it cannot fail to get into trouble sooner or later, notwithstanding the assistance and encouragement which it will receive from, perhaps, a present majority of the Chamber of Deputies. Moreover, M. Floquet is between two fires, and with Boulangerism on one side and Opportunism on the other, he will have a very difficult task to hold his clever joiner work together. If he fails the dissolution of the Chamber is inevitable. What will be then, when the country is appealed to for a new Parliament, no one can prophesy. If France proves really to have lost her head about Boulanger, the returns will show a very serious position of affairs, and the dreaded dictatorship, and its disastrous consequences, may come about in the end.

THE LATE HON. JOHN HAMILTON.

An Alligator Held Possession.

"With a party of English gentlemen I set out upon a shooting excursion one day in the island of Ceylon. Approaching a lake we were surprised to see a number of vultures hovering round. On a closer approach a dead elephant of enormous size was seen lying at the water's edge. On top of it was an alligator which, in spite of jackals, adjutants, vultures and a host of other beasts and birds, held possession until he had had his fill. Perfectly astonished at the constant fight, we must have waited and watched for several hours. Firing a shot a flight took place most amusing to witness. Returning to our genial host's 'Caffaroma' coffee was served, which was most delicious." "Caffaroma" coffee can be had in Montreal, but in order to get the genuine article it is necessary to state clearly "Caffaroma." It is sold only in tins, each securely sealed, being put up thus in order to prevent adulteration. Any one caught selling coffee as "Caffaroma" in any other way would be heavily fined if discovered.

The Clara Louise Kellogg Concert.

The Grand Piano used at the concert was one from J. & C. Fischer, New York, especially sent for this occasion. The excellent playing of Mr. Adolphe Glose brought out wonderfully the fine qualities of the instrument, and it was particularly admired for its fine singing and tone-sustaining quality. The great power of the piano was fully demonstrated in the "Tarantelle," opus 6, by Rubinstein, performed by Mr. Glose. Mr. Glose is certainly an artist of great merit, and the future will find his name not unknown among the great players of the world. After the concert was over, Miss Kellogg was noticed seated at the Fischer Grand, and she very kindly sang several ballads for those who had remained. She sang very sweetly "Comin' thro' the Rye," and a song in French.—The Democrat, Cortland, N. Y. 78x1

CAN'T BE CHECKED!

"Which soap do you sell most of?" said a customer a few days ago to a grocer who does a large trade with both poor and rich people, having his store just between the two.

"I sell ten bars of this to one of the other sorts," replied the grocer, picking up a cake of Strachan's Gilt Edge. "You see, it is far ahead both in quality and quantity. Open a box of 'Gilt Edge' and weigh every cake, and you'll find sixteen ounces of splendid soap. Try the others, and you find them sometimes as low as twelve ounces! There's no satisfaction in that, especially as the soap's nothing like as good."

No wonder, then, that the trade in Strachan's "Gilt Edge" Soap is going ahead with ever-increasing impetus, and that this colored gentleman flying down hill with a heavy load could be checked far more easily!
