BRITAIN CONTENTS THAT APPAM MUST BE FREED

CLAUSES 21 AND 22 OF THE HAGUE CONVENTION
OF 1907 ARE CITED—THE PRIZE CREW MUST BE INTERNED.

London, Feb. 2.—The British government will hold that the Appam must be released under clauses 21 and 22 of the Hague convention of 1907, it was stated today. These provide that a merchantman cannot be converted into an auxiliary cruiser on the high seas and that a merchantman prize can only be taken into a neutral port under certain circumstances of distress, injury or lack of food, and if she does not depart within a stipulated time cannot be interned but must be turned over to the original owners with all of her cargo.

According to the British contention, under these clauses the prize crew must be interned.

Since the news of the Appam's arrival there has been some anxiety as to whether the raider Moewe might have attacked any other passenger boats. It has been ascertained, however, that all the South African liners are accounted for. Two big liners, Walmer Castle and Kenilworth Castle, are both safe, but neither of them had seen anything of the German raider.

"Just what we would have liked to do, had we been in the German position," was the remark of a British naval officer, discussing Lieutenant Berge's exploit.

Relief at the safety of the liner, coupled with undisguised admiration for the exploit of her captors marks the British attitude toward the Appam incident. But the international aspect of the case developed much criticism of the German move as being deliberately planned with the purpose of further involving the United States in a controversy with the British government.

Naval authorities explain that it would probably have been easier to take the prize into a Spanish or other nearby neutral port, but they qualify this with the statement that, since the United States has expressed the desire that British cruisers should not hover about American ports, the Germans may have felt that the way would be clearer.

Long lines of relatives of the passengers brought to port by the Appam, recalling scenes at the time of the Titanic and Lusitania disasters, turned today's gathering in front of the company's offices into a joyful celebration.

The steamer Clan MacTavish, which is reported sunk by the Moewe, was one of the most valuable of the Clan Line. She carried a very rich cargo consisting mostly of wool and beef from Australia and New Zealand. Her crew numbered eighty.

Wool dealers here have been anxious for some time concerning the whereabouts of the steamer.

EFFORT TO END SMALL SALARIES FOR TEACHERS

GOVERNMENT GIVES BONUS TO MUNICIPALITIES PAYING
MORE THAN $200.

The report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for 1914-15 was tabled in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon by the Provincial secretary.

In the opening paragraphs of his report the Superintendent refers in eulogistic terms to the nomination of Hon. P. E. LeBlanc to the position of Lieutenant Governor of the Province which was learned with joy in educational circles.

It is pointed out that in view of the tendency among farmers' sons to flock to the cities the Department has done all in its power to develop a taste for farming among the pupils attending the rural schools. In fourteen years 61,563 pupils were given ideas of agriculture, while the number of school gardens in the past increased from 280 to 710 and the number of young gardeners increased by 8,712.

Notable progress was made in the teaching of house-keeping in the regular House-keeping Schools as well as in the other schools, while the construction of school houses was very active and in no way affected by the war.

In reference to the salaries paid to male and female teachers the report states that they are increasing in a satisfactory manner. It is considered that the premiums offered by the Government to municipalities that do not pay less than $200, to their teachers will soon put an end to small salaries.

METHODIST PARSON ENLISTS AS PRIVATE.

St. Thomas, Ont., Feb. 2.—Rev. E. R. Elgood, B.A. pastor of Muncy Methodist Church, aged 30 and married, today enlisted with the 91st Overseas Battalion as a private. This makes the third Elgin county clergyman to enlist as a private in the past ten days.

ACTION AGAINST COL. J. A. FAGES.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Major F. X. A. Carriere, of the 85th Regiment, entered action today against Col. J. A. Fages, deputy assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general, for $5,000.00 damages.

Major Carriere's claim is based on the ground of alleged "verbal insults" said to have been proffered by Col. Fages.

A NOVEL CHARGE.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Obtaining under false pretences for transportation of the dead body of his wife, who, though separated from him, is very much alive, is the novel charge which E. Harry Pratt, C.P.R. brakeman, faced before Judge Leet, in the Police Court today. Pratt went to Toronto without the "body," and was arrested there last night. Trial was fixed for February 8th.

STEAMER STRIKES MINE; IS BEACHED

London, Feb. 1.—p.m.—The steamer Princes Juliana, plying between London and Flushing and one of the largest and fastest vessels in the channel service, struck a mine in the North Sea and has been beached at Felixstowe, Suffolk.

The passengers and crew were rescued by vessels in the vicinity and landed at Harwich.

The Princes Juliana recently rescued the crews of two steamers that had been sunk by mines off the Gallop lightship.

FRENCH GUNNERS SHELL LENS AND ARE ALSO AGGRESSORS IN CHAMPAGNE AND VOSGES

Berlin And Vienna Claim To Have Checked The Russian Advance—Rome Lays Claim To Victory
In Sugana Valley—Attack On Saloniki Is Thought To Be Imminent—Greece And Rumania Are Reported To Have Signed Neutrality Compact

The belief prevails in official circles in Washington that the State Department will declare the British steamer Appam a German prize. Pending formal decision, however, the captured steamer will be held by the American authorities with the prize crew, the captain and crew of the liner and certain of the passengers who are alleged to belong to the armed forces of Great Britain on board. Permission has been given by the government for the 245 other persons on board to land at Newport News.

There is scarcely any fighting on any of the battle fronts except artillery engagements, and in none of these has any noteworthy achievements been recorded. Heavy bombardments have taken place in the Champagne region of France and near St. Die in the Vosges mountains, with the French the aggressors. The French guns also have shelled the town of Lens.

On the Russian front Berlin claims the defeat of a strong Russian force between the Stochod and Styr rivers, while Vienna reports the forced withdrawal of the Russians from their advanced trenches near Uscieczko, in East Galicia, during mining operations.

In hand to hand fighting on the Col Di Iana slope, the Austrians report the capture and destruction of Italian saps and also the repulse of Italian infantry attacks in the Sugana valley. Rome, however, credits the Italians with the victory in the latter region.

The concentration of large numbers of Germans, Bulgarians and Turks along the Greek frontier is taken in Athens to mean that an attack by the Teutons and their allies is soon to be made on Saloniki.

In Albania the Austro-Hungarians are reported to be continuing their progress unopposed. A despatch from Athens says a portion of the Montenegrin army has effected a junction with the Serbian troops and fallen back on Durazzo, Albania's chief seaport, which is now the main objective of the Austro-Hungarians.

Greece and Rumania have signed a dual neutrality compact, according to a Rome despatch.

The British in East and West Africa are keeping up their gains against the Germans in the capture of towns and military positions, according to official reports from that region. In West Africa a British column has formed a junction with the French troops at Ambam.

The Crown Prince of Turkey is reported in a Constantinople despatch coming by way of Berlin to have committed suicide owing to ill-health.

EXPECT ATTACK ON SALONIKI.

London, Feb. 2.—An Austro-German offensive against Saloniki is imminent, according to Saloniki advices from a German source to the Exchange Telegraph's Athens correspondent, who says that the Gievgeli-Strumitsa railway has been repaired and that Field Marshal Von Mackensen is now at Monastir.

A portion of the Montenegrin army, this correspondent adds, has effected a junction with the Serbian troops and fallen back on Durazzo.

SLUMP ON GERMAN BOURSE.

London, Feb. 2.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Zurich says:

"It is reported that there was a heavy slump today on the Frankfurt, Germany, Bourse, owing to the belief of financiers that German-American diplomatic relations are approaching a crisis."

GENERAL DOBELL'S PROGRESS.

London, Feb. 2.—The following official communication was issued tonight regarding operations in West Africa:

"General Dobell, telegraphing from West Africa Feb. 1, reports that Daing was occupied by Col. Haywood's column Jan. 25 with slight loss, and that after defeating the enemy in another engagement two days later Col. Haywood occupied Nkan. This column is in touch with the French troops under Col. Lemellour, who are at Ambam.

"Another British column under Col. Coles occupied Lolodori Jan. 26. Large enemy convoys continue to pass into Muni, Spanish Guinea."

EAST AFRICAN CAMPAIGN.

London, Feb. 2, 8.01 p.m.—A British official communication dealing with the operations in East Africa, made public here tonight, says:

"A report received from General Sir Horace L. Smith-Dorrien states that the small post of Kasigau, which was occupied by the enemy Dec. 5, has now been abandoned by the enemy."

"LONDON NEXT."

New York, Feb. 3.—A Tribune cable from Geneva says: "Friedrichshafen, the site of the chief Zeppelin factory, is today beflagged and en fete, and the children of the town have been granted two holidays in celebration of the great raid on the fortress of Paris. Scores of congratulatory telegrams have reached Count Zeppelin at Stuttgart. The general cry in Friedrichshafen is 'London next' and the phrase is even chalked on the walls."

HANGED FOR MURDER; PROTESTS INNOCENCE

Parry Sound, Ont., Feb. 2.—Arthur Richard Cassan, aged 32, was hanged this morning for the murder of James DeGeorge. Death was instantaneous. He maintained his innocence to the last and met death firmly.

SEEKS EXTENSION OF ITS POWERS

SHAWINIGAN WATER AND POWER COMPANY'S BILL IS PRESENTED.

Among the private bills which will be studied at the present session is one to amend the charter of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company.

This measure which has been presented by Mr. L. Cannon points out that as the business of the company is increasing and its sphere of activities is becoming larger it is essential for its proper development that power be granted to:

"Purchase or otherwise acquire, hold, sell or otherwise dispose of shares of stock, bonds, debentures or other securities of any other corporation notwithstanding the provisions of article 5998 of the Revised Statutes, 1909;

Carry on any other business, whether manufacturing or otherwise, which may seem to the company capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with its business or objects;

Raise and assist in raising money for and aid by way of bonus, loan, promise, endorsement, guarantee or otherwise any corporation in the capital stock of which the company holds shares or with which it may have business relations, and act as employee, agent or manager of any such corporation, and guarantee the performance of contracts by any such corporation or by any person or persons with whom the company may have business relations;

Distribute among the shareholders of the company from time to time any specie, shares, bonds, debentures securities or other property belonging to the company."

In the final clause of the bill it is stated:

"Notwithstanding anything in the present act contained, the company shall not have the power of constructing, acquiring or operating tramways in the Districts of Three Rivers and Quebec, the Island of Montreal or on the south shore of the St. Lawrence, or of conducting electricity within the counties of (Charlevoix), Levis and Ottawa."

The Weather

Toronto, Feb. 2.—There has been another heavy snowfall in British Columbia and a moderate fall in Nova Scotia; elsewhere the weather has been fair. The temperature continues low in the western provinces and has fallen considerably in the Maritime Provinces.

AMERICA IS CONTEMPLATING PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE

VICE-PRESIDENT OF SENATE CASTS DECIDING VOTE IN FAVOR OF CLARKE AMENDMENT
PROVIDING FOR THIS.

Washington, Feb. 2.—A definite policy contemplating Philippine independence within four years was approved by the Senate today, Vice-President Marshall casting the deciding vote in favor of the Clarke amendment to the Philippine bill directing the President to withdraw American sovereignty within a four-year period. The vote, which followed weeks of debate, was 41 to 41. An effort to re-commit the bill was defeated and final action on the measure, which has not yet passed the House, was deferred until tomorrow.

Administration senators in supporting the Clarke amendment maintained that some such definite provision was necessary to square with the independence declaration in the Baltimore platform. President Wilson has made no public comment on the proposed amendment, but Senators who had discussed it with him let it be known he was not opposed to it. Chairman Hitchcock, of the Philippine committee, opposed the amendment and was supported by eleven other Democrats. Five Republicans voted for the amendment.

By the terms of the amendment as perfected, provision is made for extension of time for granting independence, if the President should deem it advisable, until Congress shall have had an opportunity further to consider the subject.

Provision also is made for the retention by the United States of lands and rights for naval bases and coal mining stations.

STRUCK HUN MINE.

London, Feb. 2.—As in the case of the Holland-America Liner Ryndam, the Admiralty authorities are convinced that the Princes Juliana, which was beached yesterday at Felixstone in the North Sea, struck a submerged German mine. When the ship struck, she had just taken on a British pilot, and it is declared that any loose British mine would have been floating within plain sight of the lookouts.

PASSENGERS FROM APPAM ARE ALLOWED LIBERTY

BUT TWO HUNDRED ARE DETAINED ON CHARGE OF BELONGING TO BRITAIN'S ARMED FORCES —MYSTERY ABOUT RAIDER.

Old Point Comfort, Va., Feb. 2.—Two hundred and forty-five persons held prisoners by a German prize crew on the former British liner Appam were informed tonight that they were at liberty to land on American soil. More than two hundred others, including the German captors, the captain and crew of the liner and certain passengers alleged to belong to the armed forces of Great Britain, will be held on board until the United States government definitely determines their status and that of the ship itself.

This arrangement was reached on orders from Washington after a conference between representatives of the German and British governments on the Old Point wharf with the Norfolk Collector or Customs, Norman R. Hamilton, acting as intermediary.

The captured liner at anchor at Hampton Roads off Fortress Monroe since she put into the Virginia Capes Tuesday morning, will move up to Newport News early tomorrow to disembark her passengers. With the others will land G. D. Tagliaferri, a naturalized American of Nevada, the only citizen of the United States aboard. Tagliaferri, who although carrying his citizenship papers, had not made his identity known, was discovered today by the immigration officers.

Berge Still Commands
Lieut. Berge, the German reservist commanding the prize crew, still asserts and maintains full authority on board the liner but he is acting under orders from the United States government through Collector Hamilton. He has agreed to move the ship to Newport News and hold her there pending further developments.

Immediately after tonight's conference on the wharf a selected group of Englishmen, including Sir Edward Merewether, Frederick Seton James, Francis Charles Fuller, Dr. F. M. Rice, and the Appam's purser and the masters of the six British vessels captured by the raider which took the Appam, were brought ashore to aid in perfecting arrangements for the landing of the others on board. Mr. James remained at an Old Point Comfort hotel, but the rest of the party returned to spend one more night aboard the Appam.

Not The Moewe?
Versions of the identity of the German raider which captured the Appam and the other craft still differ. Prince Hatzfeldt, of the German Embassy at Washington, asserts that she is the German cruiser Moewe, built in 1913 or 1914 for the Imperial Navy and commanded by Captain Count Dohna. All of the captured British skipper agree, however, that the raider is a converted merchantman, of about 3,000 tons, named Ponga probably completed a few months ago, mounting six masked guns of near six inch calibre and having two torpedo tubes.

A Brand New Ship
Captain David Barton of the steamship Corbridge, the second prize taken by the raider, and a prisoner aboard her before he was transferred with his crew to the Appam, says the raider is a brand new ship built for the fruit trade, with her decks strengthened to carry a battery that would do credit to a fast class naval commerce destroyer.

"She is a trim, fast boat with a single funnel and has her hold fitted for carrying fruit," said Captain Barton. "Her guns, six of them, probably are five and seven tenths inches bore. Four of them are mounted forward, masked by a collapsible steel forecastle, which falls away when the ship gets within range of her prey. Two others are aft, one of them on the poop and both so placed that they are not readily observed."

"On a plate below deck the name Ponga was engraved and several of us saw the same name on papers in the commanders' cabin."

"I was on the boat beginning the night of Jan. 11, my ship having been captured a few hours after the raider began her work by taking the Farringford. The ship was manned by a crew of several hundred men, many of whom had 'S.M.S. Moewe' on their hats. Others had 'H.M.S. Paw' and in fact, there were half a dozen different names. Whenever the German was after a prize, all of us were kept below under guard, and we saw virtually nothing of what happened."

"We were followed by the raider for an hour or two during the afternoon, but I paid little attention to her. I made out the British flag at her stern. Just at dusk, she fired a warning shot, unmasked her battery and I have to."

Except for minor details the stories of the capture of the Appam agreed that the liner was four days out from Dakar, French West Africa, for Liverpool with passengers and 8,000 tons of general cargo, when she sighted the German on Jan. 15. The raider was moving at a fair rate of speed but seemingly making no attempt to make for the Appam. Almost immediately perceptibly she began to gain speed and before Captain Harrison was aware that danger impended, the German had changed his course and sent a warning shot across the liner's bow.

Capt. Harrison immediately gave to. The raider's forecastle had fallen away, exposing her battery of huge guns trained upon the Appam. A small boat put out with a boarding party and in a short time a prize crew was in possession of the ship.

The Appam was the seventh English vessel taken in a period of four days, all the operations occurring less than two hundred miles off the coast of Spain. On Jan. 11, the steamers Corbridge and Farringford were overhauled about 150 miles northwest of Cape Finisterre; on Jan. 12 the Dromonby, Author, Trader, and Ariadne were taken in the Atlantic still further at sea and northward.

It was about sunset on Saturday when the Appam was captured. Through the night and into the next day the raider followed her closely, and on the evening of Jan. 16 she drew away to attack the British steamer Clan MacTavish. It is variously estimated that the attack was made at from five to ten miles from the Appam, but flashes of fire were visible from the liner. Passengers and other prisoners, however, were kept below decks and glimpses through portholes had to satisfy them.

Details of what happened still are unavailable as the Germans refuse to talk. It appears, however, that the MacTavish, mounting a little six-pounder on her bow, attempted resistance and was subjected to a heavy fire from the raider's big guns. Fifteen of her men were killed and many wounded before the merchantman went down. There were two interior explosions as she sank. The fate of the master of the MacTavish is unknown, but he is believed to be with many of his crew on board the raider. Later four of the MacTavish's crew, three of them severely wounded, were sent aboard the liner in a small boat.

Then the prize crew headed the Appam westward and proceeded in company with the raider until the next morning. Just when the raider disappeared and what direction she took is unknown to the Englishmen, and there has been no word of her since that day, Jan. 17.

The Appam, according to the Englishmen, appeared to be steering a straight westward course until some time Monday night when she began to zig-zag near the three-mile limit off the Virginia Capes. She took fifteen days for the journey, steaming only about nine knots an hour most of the time. She carried no flag, but is said to have displayed British colors as she entered the Virginia Capes.

All day yesterday and today until near dark when the British Vice-Consul appeared alongside in a launch with Collector Hamilton and Captain Gaunt, naval attaché of the British Embassy at Washington, all on board the liner save the prize crew were totally ignorant of what efforts were being made toward fixing the status of the ship and arranging for their release. There was some restlessness and a few comments about red tape and slowness on the part of the officials in Washington, but most of the passengers accepted the situation philosophically.

APPAM'S STATUS.

Prussian-American Treaty May Govern It.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Indications that the British passenger liner Appam, brought into Hampton Roads by a German prize crew, will be held by the United States to be a German prize of war and not an auxiliary cruiser, were given tonight in high official quarters.

The neutrality board, which advises the State Department on such questions, announced today that the ship was a prize, but the announcement was recalled later presumably because the State Department itself has not acted.

The real point to be decided is whether the Appam shall remain in possession of the prize crew under the terms of the Prussian-American treaty or shall be returned to her British owners under the Hague convention. Indications were given that the State Department will hold that the prize belongs to Germany.

Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, in a formal note to Secretary of State Lansing, gave notice that the Appam came into Hampton Roads under the treaty which guarantees her to her captors. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, asked that the ship be returned to her British owners as a prize recovered under the Hague convention.

The Hague convention under article 216, provides for the internment of the crew and the surrender of the ship, but State Department officials are doubtful that it can be applied to the case of the Appam, first, because the Prussian-American treaty is believed to be binding, secondly, because Great Britain signed, but never ratified this particular Hague convention.

Until the status of the ship is decided she will remain in the custody of Norfolk customs authorities, and if turned over to Germany must be kept in port or sent to sea as the German government chooses.

It was regarded as significant that neither the British nor the German authorities contended that the Appam was a naval auxiliary. Thus the United States is relieved of deciding a question which officials feared would

REDMOND MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR RECRUITS

IRELAND MUST BE WILLING TO FULFIL OBLIGATIONS,
HE SAYS.

Dublin, via London, Feb. 3.—3.50 a.m.—John Redmond has issued a stirring appeal for recruits from Ireland. He says:

"Recent events have made it absolutely essential that Ireland for her own sake, to guard her own highest interests and to maintain her honor, should make it plain to the whole world that she is willing and eager to fulfil her obligations. Any impression that Ireland is shirking her duty will be a deadly injury to her future interests."

"There has been slackness in recruiting in the agricultural districts, but winning the war is of the greatest importance to Irish agriculturists, for if the Allies are defeated there is danger of every Irish tenant being robbed of his land by the Prussians. The position of the tenant farmer who expects the people of the towns to fight for him is contemptible. To desert your countrymen in the trenches will mean the death knell of your home aspirations and ambitions."

become one of the most troublesome complexities of the war. As both governments concede she is a prize, nothing remains to be decided except her disposition.

The State Department today requested the customs authorities to land all passengers and non-combatants. Their case now goes to the immigration authorities. Foreign consuls will care for their own nationals who are indigent. Those who can afford to do so, are free to go on to Europe. Those who wish to remain in the United States must comply with the usual immigration regulations. Any Germans who elect to return to Germany and cannot find ways to do so probably will have to be cared for by the government at some immigration station.

Count von Bernstorff's communication to Secretary Lansing, was based on information in a telegram from Lieut. Berge, commander of the Appam. It was stated also in the telegram that the Appam had resisted before being captured and that she had aboard a "military transport" of enemy vessels. It was believed here that Lieut. Berge referred to gun-positions, removed from British ships destroyed by the captor of the Appam.

It was indicated at the German Embassy that the question of whether the United States should be asked to intern the "military transport" until the end of the war was being considered. It was also said that Count von Bernstorff had advised his government of the circumstances surrounding the arrival of the Appam and was awaiting complete instructions before proceeding further.

RING GOSSIP.

Johnny Lore writes us that he is ready to meet Mickey McIntyre any time, in a return bout, before the Quebec Sporting Club.

Gus Lavigne is training with Lore and is gradually getting into the best of shape.

Lavigne writes that he did not challenge Montminy, though of course he is confident that he can whip the featherweight boxer. Evidently Gus misunderstands the situation. Lavigne challenged any 135 pound boxer, and though Montminy is not in this class, the latter stated that he was ready to meet Lavigne if he would weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 p.m. the day of the fight.

New York.—Bill McKinnon, of Boston, and Larry Williams, boxed ten rounds to a draw at the Olympic A.C. McKinnon had decidedly the better of the early rounds, punishing his opponent with hard blows. In the latter rounds, however, Williams improved and earned a draw.

Buffalo.—K. O. Brennan outpointed Jimmy Duffy, of Lockport, in a ten round bout at the Queensbury A. C. Brennan came in about eight pounds heavier than Duffy.

Philadelphia.—Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, had all the better of "Packey" Hommey, of New York, in a six round bout at the Olympia A. A. Kilbane was so fast the bout did not please.

New Bedford.—Charlie King and K. O. Ruell, of Fall River, went ten fast rounds to a draw. Kid Demers, the local bantamweight, scored his third straight knockout by stopping Young Riley, of New York, in the first round.

A pretty wedding took place in the St. Louis Chapel, of the Basilica, yesterday morning, when Miss Yvonne Paineaud, became the bride of Mr. Louis Rene Gagne, youngest son of the late Hon. Judge Gagne, of Chicoutimi and Quebec. The officiating priest was l'Abbe Camille Roy. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. F. Benoit Paineaud, was attired in a pretty travelling costume of amethyst cloth, trimmed with chinchilla squirrel. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Albert Gagne. The wedding was exceedingly quiet owing to recent bereavement in the bride's family. The numerous presents were both costly and handsome and came from many parts. The happy couple left on the 8.30 train for New York, Boston, and other cities, which will be visited during the honeymoon.

CASES BEFORE COURT OF APPEALS.

Hon. Justices Lavergne, Cross, Carroll, Pelletier and Roy, in the Appeals Court this morning, heard the appeal of La Corporation de la Riviere, de Chicoutimi, against the judgement rendered in the Superior Court recently for $500 in favor of a resident of Chicoutimi, named Grenon. The latter sued the former for $2,000 through the Superior Court for having placed a sidewalk in front of his residence, thereby blocking up the ground floor window. The Superior Court awarded Grenon the sum of $500 and the Corporation de la Riviere appealed from this decision. The appeal was heard and taken on deliberation. The appeals in the two cases of Forget vs. Belleau, the first for dissolution of partnership, and the second for re-employment occupied the court yesterday afternoon.

QUEBEC SNOWSHOE CLUB.

Even the Quebec Snow Shoe Club is unable to beat the weather man, and as snowshoes don't cut any ice the country tramp has had to be postponed again.

However, it takes more than a thaw to make a frost at a Club meeting, and a Bridge and Euchre tournament has been arranged at the Club House for tonight. The Club is offering a perpetual challenge trophy for annual competition, commencing with tonight's event; Marquis of Queensbury rules, smoking allowed, and not more than three cards up the sleeve at one time.

As it is Leap year, it will be a Stag affair out of consideration to bachelor members.

Call up three other members, and make a table, or turn up alone and the Club will make you com-for-table.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed by the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.

naude had shouted for Mr. Borden; when it was a question of shouting for the Nationalist chief he had shouted for him. Mr. Patenaude had presided at the big Nationalist meeting in the Ontario Skating Rink in Montreal in 1911. He had travelled around Quebec with the Nationalists, making speeches similar to those made by them. Immediately after the election of 1911 he had been appointed Conservative organizer for the Province of Quebec. Mr. Demers saw no reason for the selection of Mr. Patenaude for a place in the Ministry except that he had less to be pardoned for than his Nationalist colleagues. He was not known in the House of Commons moreover. Mr. Demers said that Mr. Patenaude had made a little nest for himself and was to be congratulated upon that fact.

Mr. Demers asserted that there were certain scandals which should be investigated. Rotten hay, he alleged, had been sold to the Government in Montreal. In addition, some contractors in that city had paid their men 25 cents an hour while drawing from the Government for their employees, 60 cents an hour.

AT THE THEATRES

A RACE BETWEEN AN AUTOMOBILE AND FASTEST TRAIN IN AMERICA

Shown in a Film Presented at Auditorium This Afternoon, Tomorrow and Saturday.

A race for a record between a Cadillac automobile and the fastest train in America will be the most sensational attraction of the bill at the Auditorium for this afternoon, tomorrow and Saturday, afternoon and evening. That film was taken at the risk of his life by one of the best camera men in the film business today and the success he has achieved shows what can be done with a camera in our days.

It is easy with the wonderful work of the camera to see at what terrific speed the automobile and the train are going. One cannot help admire both the wonderful resistance of the car and the excellence of the work.

Sarah Bernhardt at Home.

A two reel picture entitled "Sarah Bernhardt at Home" is also on the bill and that alone should count as one of the best attractions of film-dom. "Pincus at the Bat," the two reel comedy, that is advertised as not being a Chaplin Comedy, has had such success in other large cities that it is very hard today to book the film.

"THE REGENERATION" FOR THREE DAYS AT OLYMPIA WITH OTHER FEATURES

A Splendid Programme for Today, Tomorrow and Saturday.

"The Regeneration," as its name suggests, is a film that is all through full of interest and will probably provoke still more the admiration of picture lovers than "The Fifth Commandment," which proved a great attraction at the Olympia at the beginning of the week.

"The Regeneration" will be presented today, tomorrow and Saturday, and all theatregoers must go and see that film which is perfect in every detail; photography, playing, scenery and staging.

Two other films of the best make and the most interesting made are also on the bill for the three last days of the week.

VICTORIA THEATRE.

Charlotte Greenwood and Sydney Grant in "Jane".

"Jane," a filmization of the brilliant Chas. Frohman comedy by the Oliver Morosco-Photoplay Co., starring Charlotte Greenwood and Sydney Grant of musical comedy fame, will be the Paramount Picture attraction at the Victoria theatre for three days beginning today.

"Jane" was written by W. H. Lescroque, Chas. Frohman's personal manager in Great Britain who put the producer in the way of making a fortune through "Charley's Aunt," a favor Frohman never forgot. "Jane" was first produced in London with Charles Hawtry and the brilliant Lottie Venne, and Frohman produced it in this country in 1900 with Miss Johnstone Bennett in the title role. Miss Bennett played it five continuous seasons, creating a sensation in the part. The play has become one of the historic successes of the theatre, its comedy now being counted classic. The advent of Uncle Andrew in young Shackleton's bachelor hall produces a series of complications that are screamingly funny.

THIS WILL INTEREST STOMACH SUFFERERS

SAYS INDIGESTION COMES FROM AN EXCESS OF HY-DROCHLORIC ACID.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get the heavy lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have the heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT
HAS OVERDRAFT ON BANKIT AMOUNTS TO MORE THAN A MILLION DOLLARS
MR. COUSINEAU AROUSES IRE OF PROVINCIAL TREASURER BY REQUESTING INFORMATION.

The monotony of studying private legislation and answering questions was broken in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon when the House went into Committee of Supply which gave rise to a lively assault of questions made to the Provincial Treasurer by Mr. P. Cousineau, Leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Cousineau questioned the Treasurer closely about the debt of the Province and the recent six million loan floated by the Government and in the course of the discussion he learned that the Government had an overdraft in the Bank of Montreal amounting to more than a million dollars.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell explained that this came about in the natural course of events. In June last the Province had a balance of over two millions and a half in the banks, but since that time three millions had been taken from the revenue to pay for work on the roads instead of floating another loan for that purpose. He said that in the course of a few months the Government would again have a balance instead of an overdraft.

Mr. Cousineau remarked that somebody might die in the meantime, and asked the Treasurer if there were any big succession duties in sight.

"I don't worry about that," the Treasurer responded.

Mr. Cousineau then pressed the Treasurer for some information regarding his trip to New York relative to the six million loan.

Mr. Mitchell affirmed that he had not gone to New York in connection with the loan.

The Leader of the Opposition then wanted to know if it was not Boston that had been visited by the Treasurer and on receiving a negative reply he asked the Treasurer for details of a letter which the latter said he had received from a Boston firm asking for information regarding the loan and the resources of the Province.

"May I see that letter?" asked Mr. Cousineau.

"By all means," replied the Treasurer.

"Well, may I see it now," persisted the Leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Mitchell asked the Opposition Leader if he thought he carried the letters of his department about in his pocket with him.

When Mr. Cousineau wanted to know where the Treasurer had gone if he had not gone to New York, the latter said he did not think that he was there to give the House a record of all his movements.

"I have told the Leader of the Opposition four times that I did not go to New York in connection with the loan," Mr. Mitchell said, "and if he does not want to accept my word I cannot help it."

At this point Mr. J. M. Tellier took a hand in the debate and reminded the Treasurer that the questions asked by the Leader of the Opposition were not intended to pry into his private affairs. If the Minister had been longer in the House he would know that such questions were traditional.

Mr. Mitchell said that he was prepared to give the House all the information he could, and when Mr. Cousineau again insisted on having a copy of the letter which the Treasurer had received from Boston, Mr. Mitchell again affirmed that he did not carry the correspondence of his department about with him.

A Certified Cure
of Bilious HeadacheChronic Liver Trouble Was Entirely Cured by the Use of Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—Endorsement by Justice of the Peace.

Many people are habitually bilious. Mode of life tends to make chronic a torpid condition of the liver. The result is spells of biliousness with sick headache, stomach derangements and much irritability and depression of spirits.

Too many neglect to take active means of curing biliousness. The bad spell passes over and for a time they are all right. But an unusually hearty menu upsets the liver and consequently the usual discomfort and suffering.

The writer of this letter has broken up this habit of biliousness and is now enjoying the best of health. Her experience should prove of value to many who, like her, have suffered for years from bilious spells and sick headaches.

Miss Cora Cochran, Salisbury, N. B., writes: "I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and every two or three weeks would have to lose a day or two from school with bilious, sick headaches. I have taken doctor's medicine and other preparations, which did little good.

"When I had the sick headache I would vomit a lot and could keep nothing on my stomach. My mother got Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I was soon improved, and continued the treatment until entirely cured. My condition generally was greatly benefited, and I am now in the best of health."

Mr. J. J. Keohan, J.P., writes: "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Miss Cora Cochran and believe her statement in regard to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to be true and correct."

Keep the liver active by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you will prevent a multitude of petty ills. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Company, Limited, Toronto.

J. P. MORGAN SAILS
FOR OLD COUNTRYVISIT MAY BE CONNECTED WITH PLACING OF ANOTHER LOAN.

New York, Feb. 2.—J. P. Morgan sailed tonight or England aboard the steamship Rotterdam. He was accompanied by Benjamin Strong, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. Announcement that the two men were to visit London caused much surprise and interest in financial circles today.

At the Morgan banking house no details regarding Mr. Morgan's trip were obtainable beyond the statement that business affairs would engross his attention while abroad. It is understood Mr. Morgan will spend at least a month in London and his stay may extend beyond that time.

This will be Mr. Morgan's second trip to England since the war began. The first was followed by the announcement that J. P. Morgan and Company had been appointed commercial agents of the British government in this country. So on afterwards the firm was selected to act in a similar capacity for the French government.

In their capacity as commercial agents to the two governments, Morgan & Company have purchased or supervised the purchase of supplies costing hundreds of millions of dollars.

Intimations that Mr. Morgan's coming trip might not be unrelated to another external loan by the Allies met with denial from one of his business associates. It is believed nevertheless, that the British and French governments are considering the advisability of offering another external loan. Rumor places the amount of the undertaking at $250,000,000, or half that of the five per cent issue floated here last year.

TEIPER LOCKED UP.

No Charge Yet Made Against Him
Regarding Murder of Relatives.

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 2.—John Edward Teiper was locked up in a cell at police headquarters at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the request of Sheriff Stengel of Erie county. No charge was made against him in connection with the murder of his mother and brother, and the probable fatal wounding of his sister, the victims of the Orchard Park tragedy.

Aside from Teiper's first incarceration in a cell, the most important event of the day was the announcement by District-Attorney Dudley that Teiper had signed a statement admitting that the revolver found near the murder auto was his and also that it was in his possession on the night of the murders. Up to today, Mr. Dudley said, Teiper had denied ownership of the revolver.

Teiper attended the funeral of his mother and brother this morning. Teiper attended the church services and went to the cemetery where the bodies were buried. He was accompanied by the sheriff and a deputy.

After dinner at the home of his father-in-law, Alton H. Newton, in Argyle Park, he was taken back to police headquarters and locked up. Before leaving the Newton home he saw his wife and three children. His oldest child is two and a half years old, and the youngest a baby of six weeks.

Saskatoon, Sask., Feb. 2.—That the crisis in the coal situation has passed, for the present at least, was the information given out by railroad officials and coal dealers in the city at noon today. Traffic on the Canadian Northern Railway is still disorganized, but every hour conditions are rapidly approaching the normal.

ARMING MERCHANT
VESSELS PROBLEMAMERICAN PROPOSAL NOT LIKELY TO FIND MUCH
FAVOR IN BRITAIN.

London, Feb. 2.—While official circles do not acknowledge that the British government has received more than a cabled summary of the American governments recent note asking the belligerent countries to subscribe to a declaration of principles governing attacks of merchant vessels and forbidding the arming of such vessels in order to reach a general policy and dispose of the problems arising from the development of submarine warfare, naval authorities are outspoken in their opposition to the proposal. They do not hesitate to state there is not the remotest chance of its provisions governing submarine warfare proving acceptable to Great Britain.

A naval officer who is in authority on blockade problems said to The Associated Press today:

"We will never accept the provisions, and we are not influenced by German opposition to the note as outlined in the Berlin press, since we believe these articles were inspired and do not believe them sincere. The converse of that opinion expressed in the German papers probably give the true attitude of official Germany toward the proposals."

The whole history of Great Britain, according to this officer, permits merchantmen to use both speed and small armament for protection against either an actual warship or a privateer, and while Great Britain is not inclined to deny to a submarine the right to spell a resisting ship, she cannot grant an attacker the privilege of shelling a resisting merchantman.

STEAMERS ASSIST
THE SILVER SHELLJAPANESE BOAT TAKATA MARU
WAS ABANDONED IN A SINKING CONDITION.

New York, Feb. 2.—The new Japanese steamship Takata Maru, in collision last night with the American oil tank steamer Silver Shell, about 200 miles south-east of Cape Race, Nfld., was abandoned in a sinking condition after her crew was transferred safely to the Silver Shell, according to a wireless message received here tonight from Captain Moses of the wrecked vessel.

Officials of the Anchor Line, representing the owners of the Japanese vessel at this port, who received the message from Captain Moses, announced that their steamer California, which left here Monday for Glasgow, had been directed by wireless to overtake the Silver Shell and stand by in case of emergency.

The Silver Shell, although in no immediate danger, also was damaged, but according to Captain Moses, was proceeding to the English channel.

Another vessel, the British tramp steamer Armonia, which sailed from New York for Bordeaux on January 28th, is now standing by the Silver Shell.

It is believed in shipping circles that the Takata Maru probably sank soon after she was abandoned, as the last wireless message flashed from her many hours before her crew was taken off said she was then in immediate need of assistance.

Details of the collision are lacking. The Japanese vessel, whose gross tonnage was 6,719, was described by her agents here as "the last word in steamship construction." She was built a year ago and was on her second voyage to New York. She was owned by the Nippon Shipping Company, which operates fleets on both the Atlantic and the Pacific, and sailed from London for New York on January 22nd, in ballast.

The steamer Armonia, which proceeded to the scene of the collision as soon as she picked up the wireless signals of distress, was herself badly damaged in a heavy gale on her voyage to this city, where she arrived on January 12th.

ZEPPELIN RAIDS
NOT UNEXPECTEDPUBLIC REGARDS THEM AS IF SOME DISTURBANCE OF NATURE.

London, Feb. 2.—Visitations of Zeppelin airships have ceased to be a novelty to the English people. The general viewpoint from which the public appears to regard them is as it would regard some disturbance of nature which might be counted upon to occur occasionally and from which a certain number of persons were destined to lose their lives, as from a flood or a fierce thunderstorm.

Almost all Londoners expected the Zeppelins to attack the metropolis on Monday night, yet the life of the city proceeded without any visible disturbance, much less anything resembling panic. The tickers in the hotels and clubs carried the announcement shortly after 6 o'clock Monday afternoon that all special constables in the London area were summoned to their stations immediately. "Zeppelins" was the comment heard wherever a group gathered about the tapes as this news made its appearance.

The warning was no surprise, since the English people have been well educated by their newspapers regarding the particular weather conditions most favorable for aerial journeys and all knew that the night was one of just the character in which a German air fleet might be expected to make a sally across the North Sea. About 7 o'clock, when the restaurants were beginning to fill and theatre patrons were crowding around the pit and gallery entrances, the definite news spread from mouth to mouth. "A fleet of seven Zeppelins has arrived on the coast and should reach London within an hour. Nevertheless, the dining-rooms in the fashionable hotels showed a normal attendance and there were no signs by which a visitor would be led to suspect that any unusual occurrence was imminent.

Londoners appear to make it a point of honor nowadays to bear themselves like soldiers. The customary declaration is that while the men in the trenches are suffering under constant fire it would be unjustifiable weakness for non-combatants at home to shrink from a small share of a similar experience and similar dangers.

"BOB" LOW WILL
COMMAND BATTALION.Four New Pioneer Regiments Are to Be Raised.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Major-General Sir Sam Hughes announced today that four new pioneer battalions would be organized in Canada for overseas service. The location of the new units and the selection of commanding officers will be decided upon in the near future, and it understood that Lt.-Col. Robert Low, of Ottawa, will be given command of one battalion.

Lt.-Col. Low constructed the rifle ranges at Rockcliffe and at Valcartier, and built internment camps at various points in the Maritime Provinces.

ADDRESS AT OTTAWA IS CARRIED WITHOUT DIVISIONLIBERALS DID NOT OFFER ANY AMENDMENT—
HON. MR. PATENAUE MAKES MAIDEN SPEECH AND MAKES A GOOD IMPRESSION.

(Special to the Chronicle)

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The debate on the address came to a sudden end this afternoon. If the Liberals had any thought of an amendment they dropped the idea and the address was carried without a division. Hon. Robert Rogers had planned to sum up for the Government but the Western Liberals insisted earlier in the afternoon on debating western seed grain grievances and the result was that the Minister of Public Works was crowded out of his time.

Hon. E. L. Patenaude, the new Minister of Inland Revenue, made his maiden speech yesterday. There was more than ordinary interest in his utterances; he was a former supporter of the Nationalist chief; has been bitterly attacked by the Nationalist leader and has been subject to considerable fire from the Opposition benches. He spoke in French so that the majority of the House were unable to properly size up the new Minister. He has a fine presence; a clear ringing voice and in his own language is an orator above the ordinary. His speech was frank and gave the impression of honesty and sincerity. He did not equivocate or quibble as to his relations with the Nationalist party. He had no apologies or excuses to make.

Mr. Patenaude depreciated criticisms of his attitude founded on incorrect reports of certain assertions he had made and referred in this connection to the strictures passed upon him a week ago by Mr. E. M. MacDonald of Pictou. Mr. MacDonald had quoted from a resolution of want of confidence submitted in 1910 to the Quebec Legislative Assembly but, instead of reading it in its entirety, had omitted three paragraphs. These three paragraphs, said Mr. Patenaude, had entirely changed the meaning of the resolution.

Mr. Patenaude said that from utterances both in Parliament and the press it was evident that an attempt was being made to create a belief in Canada that there was a certain group of its people whose loyalty to the British Crown was questionable. The Minister of Inland Revenue thought that condemnation should rather fall on those who endeavored to give rise to such a belief than on those who were sought to be made the objects of it. A perusal of the last few days' speeches in the House would give rise to the query whether there were not certain members of Parliament who were not loyal to the Crown, said Mr. Patenaude.

According to Mr. Ernest Lapointe of Kamouraska, and Hon. George P. Graham, to the campaign of 1911 against the navy was to be attributed the slackening of recruiting in Quebec if there had been any.

"I say this is not the case," said Mr. Patenaude. "If there has been any slackening of recruiting in the Province of Quebec I say it is more due to speeches we have heard in this House, speeches which, when the country was passing through a perilous period, have lowered public opinion."

The Minister stated that in 1910 and 1911 he had fought the Laurier naval policy and the Conservative naval policy in the same degree. He had done this in all sincerity. "But I have no hesitation in saying," he continued, "that since August, 1914, I have endeavored to do all in my power to help the country and the Government in the efforts they are making to contribute to the defence of our common cause, the most sacred cause we have ever had to defend." The circumstances were different. In 1911 Mr. Patenaude was not a member of the Government and now he was Minister therein. He had been sincere then and he was sincere now. An honest man's opinion was not changed except in so far as it might be modified by circumstances, the events of life, the events which transform a country, such events as we saw in 1914, events which were only the prolongation of the declaration made in this House in 1912 by the Prime Minister," said the Minister.

If he had modified his opinions, continued the speaker, he had a precedent for that in the Liberal party itself and in this connection he read extracts from Liberal papers to show that this was the case. "It is possible," he continued, "that time will justify the stand we took as to the relations between the colonies and the Empire; it is possible that the future will give a different result. But this problem has not been settled. It has only been put off. When the war is finished, when peace is restored and victory will have crowned the Allies' efforts, who will dare to say that the problem will not still be there for settlement that the question which was discussed in 1910 and 1911 will not have to be discussed again. Is there a member of this House who will dare to say what will be the relations of Canada in regard to the Empire in ten or twenty years from now. For these reasons I decline to accept the almost capital condemnation which certain colleagues in this House have attempted to impose on me. When Germany was destroying Belgium, when she destroyed the Cathedral of Rheims, when she ravaged the library of Louvain, England took common cause with France. What citizen of this country would say that we should remain indifferent to such a spectacle? What citizen of this country but would not rise up and do everything possible for the defence of our common cause and of our own interest."

Mr. Patenaude referred in this connection to the joint efforts of himself and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux in the recruiting of the 22nd French-Canadian Battalion now overseas. He also pointed out that the Catholic clergy in his province had done great service in connection with the raising of money for patriotic purposes. In this regard he reminded the House of recent contributions by the Sulpician Order and the Grey Nuns of Montreal to the Patriotic Fund in that city.

Mr. Demers, St. John and Iberville, asked why the Government had gone outside the House of Commons to appoint a Minister of Inland Revenue and what particular qualifications Mr. Patenaude had for a place in the Cabinet. When it was a question of shouting for Mr. Borden, Mr. Patenaude had for the Conservative naval

VOTING ON PROHIBITION.

It is said on very good authority that the Provincial Government intends to bring in a measure providing that voting on the question of prohibition will be carried out with the secret ballot. If this be so, the measure will undoubtedly appeal to the general public in view of the hypocrisy and intimidation which have been the outstanding features of recent prohibition voting in this Province. The lesson of Three Rivers will not be forgotten for some time.

At the same time it should be arranged that the voting on prohibition should be based on the electoral list and not the municipal list. Otherwise thousands of men who should have a say in the matter will have no opportunity of recording their vote.

THE WAR.

What will the "spring drive" that is so confidently expected on the western front bring forth? An Ontario officer, just back from the firing line, predicts that the Allies will drive the foe out of Belgium and throw back the line elsewhere 25 miles or more. But he sees no hope of forcing the fortifications along the Rhine. The only hope for an invasion of Germany from the west he sees is through Holland. This, however, seems to be an extremely remote possibility. There is absolutely no evidence that the Netherlands Government contemplates an abandonment of neutrality. And even so, months ago, when there were signs of an irritation in Holland, it was reported that the Germans were then busily engaged at erecting fortifications along the Dutch frontier.

Lloyd-George's declaration that the policy of "nibbling"—of attrition—is not only too slow, but cannot result in a decisive triumph for the Allies, and his assertion that in the spring the British will have 4,000,000 men in the field and the Allies will be superior in munitions, can be taken as an index of the intention to launch a tremendous offensive this year. Naturally, with the approach of spring, the expectation of the outside public is for some early operations on a grand scale. That may or may not be the case. But indications are multiplying of preparation for active campaigning on the various fronts. Such actual fighting as is going on, however, while locally important, as that in France and Belgium, is apparently not indicative of the beginning as yet of any manoeuvres on a large scale.

But the clashes of the past fortnight on the western front are indicative of what's to come. It seems altogether likely that the "big push" of the British last September against Lens is to be renewed, for Lens is an important strategic point. Of late there has been considerable activity by the British in this region. The Germans, too, have been striving strenuously on a forty-mile front between Arras and the Belgian frontier, but from reports the superiority of the British and French artillery is such that Hun efforts result only in sacrifice of life. Nevertheless, determined German offensives in the Artois district and in Flanders are expected. There was a beginning Sunday in the Artois, when, after artillery preparation lasting forty-eight hours, four successive attacks were launched at different parts of the French front. They gained a footing in advanced French trenches at one point. The other attacks were repulsed. An attack against the British salient northeast of Loos was likewise completely checked.

The situation in the Balkans continues to excite marked interest, and there is increasing attention being given to developments in connection with Greece. The Allies, for their part, have made a new move in making a landing on the Kara Burna peninsula, near the head of the Gulf of Saloniki, occupying the Greek fort there. The move seems to have been dictated by strategic reasons, it being considered undesirable by the Entente forces to have the position in other hands than their own.

Coincidentally there are revived reports that a speedy advance on Saloniki is contemplated by the Teutonic Allies and that strong Turkish forces, notably the Gallipoli army, are moving to positions where they will be ready to participate in the attack. It is said that when the Kaiser visited Nish last week, plans for an early attack on Saloniki were completed.

As to Greece herself, a despatch from Teutonic sources carries the intimation that King Constantine and his close advisers fear that she may be dragged into the war eventually through the influence of former Premier Venizelos with the Greek people, the idea of a revolutionary movement of a grave character not being absent from the minds of the ruler and his political and military aides. From Milan comes a report that Constantine is ready to abdicate; Rome hears that the Allies may compel him to leave Greece, having proofs that he has assisted in the foe's submarine operations.

Although it is reported from Athens that the Italians have determined to abandon Durazzo, on the Albanian coast, owing to the difficulties presented to its defence against the Austrians, there are reports from Southern Albania more favorable to the Allies. Rome has advised that Esad Pasha has effected a junction with the Italian forces. Positions at Avlona and in other sections of Southern Albania are being fortified in the expectation that the measures taken will be effective in checking the Austrians.

In the Caucasus and in Persia the Russians continue to win ground, capturing many prisoners and huge quantities of ammunition and supplies. The Russians are only three or four miles from the fortifications of Erzerum, and it is said that no reinforcements can reach the Turks there. In this respect the Russians are better off than were the British in Mesopotamia, where, apparently, it only needed a man-sized British army for a big man-sized job to have made the easy capture of Baghdad. That place, when Gen. Townshend's troops were nearing it, had but a few old cannons; now it has been very strongly fortified, if Turks report can be believed.

PRESS COMMENT.

"Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, today received a deputation of journalists, to whom he gave a general review of the Balkan situation. His most interesting remarks concerned Rumania, whose relations with Russia, he said, remain perfectly satisfactory and amicable. He admitted that some time ago the attitude of Rumania was uncertain, owing to her fear of hostile acts on the part of the central powers, but that he was now convinced Rumania would not fall into a German trap."

—Reuter's Petrograd Cable.

It is sometimes forgotten, except by the diplomats, that the coming into the war of Bulgaria produced a peculiar effect on Rumania. In the Peace of Bucharest Rumania was deserted by Austria in favor of Bulgaria and as this agreement ended the Balkan war the advantage was all with the Czar Ferdinand. It would be natural to suppose that Rumania would now be anxious to secure revenge by an alliance with Russia but, unfortunately, Russia in the Treaty of Berlin in 1877 betrayed Rumania to an even worse degree than did Austria. Consequently the score is even and the Rumanians are patiently awaiting the moment when their union with either side will decide the whole campaign on the south eastern frontier. The two great armies of Russia and Austria are now engaged along a battlefront which extends for 750 miles. On the borders of Galicia, Volhynia and Bessarabia the struggle is going on, all about the limits of Rumania. The prize is the support of the latter country. If Russia wins the Rumanians will flock to the double eagle of Nicholas. If the Grand Duke is driven back the Austrians will have inflicted a greater blow upon Russia than did von Hindenburg in 1915. Sazonoff is right when he hints that the outcome will have a vital effect on the attitude of Rumania. It is interesting to recall that the Rumanian army which amounts to over 1,000,000 men has been trained on the Prussian model although Rumania is more in sympathy with France than any other outside nation in Europe. Her ideas of democratic government have been absorbed from French sources and racially the people are Latins, like the French. Yet it was French influence that put Carol of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen on the throne of Rumania.

Although a German his mother was

French and he had much of the maternal side in his composition and tendencies. Politically, however, he was a Teuton. He introduced Prussian methods and discipline in the army and applied German commercial and industrial systems to Rumanian industries. But Carol wisely let the Rumanians follow their own national and sentimental bent which was oil for France and to copy French democratic institutions at will. The geographical position of Rumania is also an obstruction to Russia's supposed Balkan policy. She has always been the buffer state although at times Serbia, Bulgaria and Montenegro have been under the domination of Petrograd. Bessarabia, formerly a province of Rumania, was filched by Russia in 1812. It was in 1877 when the Rumanians, fighting to win back the lost province as a reward, came to Russia's aid against Turkey and crushed the Crescent at Plevna. Following the declaration of peace and the Treaty of Berlin Rumania, instead of getting back her stolen territory, was forced to give up more to her ally Russia. It was Rumanian fear of Russia that practically assured the destruction of the Serbian army. When the Austro-German forces invaded Serbia and occupied the Serbian bank of the Danube the Russians were reported to be sending aid down the great river which would have checked the Teutonic forces at the very start of the campaign. But Rumania interfered and prevented the passage of supplies or troops through her territory. The result the world knows. The great inducement for Rumania is, however, the hope of regaining Transylvania. In this Hungarian province there are millions of Rumanians and to all appearances it is part of Rumania. In the fall of 1914 when the Russians were overrunning Galicia and Bukovina the Russian foreign office did a smart bit of business by offering Transylvania in return for Rumanian aid. But Bucharest was not dazzled, because the war was only in its first stages and there was no guarantee that Petrograd could deliver the goods. Events proved that she could not, at that time, at least. The chances are better now. The great struggle now under way must mean the complete crushing of Austria—Rumania's only Balkan fear, or the retirement of Russia from the arena which affects the little neutral nation surrounded by war. —Ottawa Citizen.

Sir Sam Hughes' defence of his department in the speech in the debate on the speech from the throne was not one whit less forceful and convincing because the minister confined himself to a plain statement of facts and neglected to indulge in extravagant language.

"Deaf Mute's Toes Worth $2,000 Each"—Newspaper headline.

At that rate, what would his fingers be worth?

Glorious France is fighting her war of, wars, for that which is dearer than life itself to her men and women. These magnificent Allies, who are winning from us unbounded admiration, mixed with a love and high regard which we hope will bind us together for many a generation, are animated throughout by a willingness to serve and to sacrifice which has seldom been equalled and never surpassed in the history of nations. It is because the French people feel through every fibre the claim that is made upon them, that they have almost ceased to think of self, and are all ready to serve and to accept what reward the State ordains, that discount or any attempt to hinder the work of war is nipped in the bud, and that we see at our side a people, free in the noblest sense of the word, united and single-minded, facing enormous sacrifice without complaint and vying with each other in their endeavors to do good work for their dear country.—Correspondence London Paper.

SPECIAL MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

ALDERMEN COMPLAIN OF ARTICLE REGARDING THE ROSS RIFLE.

At a special meeting of the Civic Finance committee last night a resolution was adopted recommending to the City Council the guaranteeing of the bonds of the Catholic School Commission amounting to $300,000 for five years at 5 p.c. to date from Feb. 15th, 1916. The bonds are to be sold in New York at 97.07.

The City Council held a short session immediately after and approved the recommendation of the Finance Committee.

Before adjournment Ald. Dussault took occasion to repudiate in strong terms the allegations that were contained in a local evening newspaper a few days ago to the effect that the Ross Rifle Co. was not receiving all the encouragement it should from the City Council and citizens in the matter of providing housing accommodation for expert workmen brought on by the company.

Ald. Dussault thought the article unfair to the City Council and citizens generally. The Council he said, when the question of bringing skilled mechanics, etc., was first mooted, held joint meetings with contractors and other citizens with the object of providing sufficient accommodation for the extra workmen the Ross Rifle Co., intended employing. Later an information bureau was opened at the City Hall in order to facilitate the rental of rooms, houses, etc.
His Worship Mayor Drouin, Ald. Lavigne, Verret, Martin and Galtis expressed themselves in a similar strain all agreeing that the article in question was unfair to the Council members and citizens generally.
The Council on motion by Ald. Verret adjourned until the 11th inst.

FANCY DRESS EVENT

AT GRANDE ALLEE RINK.
Another of those Fancy Dress Carnivals for which the Grande Allee Rink is noted is on the boards for next Tuesday night, Feb. 8th.
As these events always attract large crowds of spectators and skaters there is no doubt that Tuesday's Carnival will be in no wise behind other successes held in the Old Rink.
Valuable prizes are awarded for the best and most original costumes.

BILL TO AMEND ROBERVAL CHARTER.

In the bill to amend the charter of the Town of Roberval which will be considered by the Legislature at the present session power is sought by the Council is seeking authorization to acquire the plant, system and property of "La Compagnie d'Electricite de Roberval" and to exercise all the rights and privileges of that company within the town and within a radius of thirty miles outside of it.

For the purpose of acquiring and municipalizing the lighting system the Council seeks power to borrow a sum of sixty thousand dollars, fifty-six thousand of which will be spent in acquiring the lighting plant and its accessories.

Special Tax.
Authorization is also sought to impose a special yearly tax sufficient to pay the interest of the loan each year and at least one per cent. of the sinking fund until the extinction of the debt.

QUEBEC BOY IN DUBLIN FUSILIERS

MR. F. E. BROWN IS GAZETTED FIRST LIEUTENANT IN A CRACK CORPS.

It will be a source of great pleasure to the friends of Mr. W. D. Brown, of the firm of J. & W. D. Brown, to learn that his son, Mr. Fred. E. Brown who is at present in Cork, Ireland, has been gazetted First Lieutenant in the Royal Dublin Fusiliers.

Through the kindness of Lieut. Col. J. C. O'Meara, he was transferred from 8th Royal Rifles after serving as Lieutenant since March last. The appointment to the rank of First Lieutenant in this crack regiment reflects the greatest credit on the Quebec High School, where Lieut. Brown was educated. A keen athlete, he took a deep interest in football, golf, hockey, and other outdoor sports, and was generally popular here. Hence his promotion will be hailed with delight by a wide circle of friends, who will wish him all success and a safe return home.

FUND IN MEMORY OF BISHOP DUNN.

Meeting at Cathedral Church Hall Decides to Raise One.

A meeting was held at the Cathedral Church Hall last evening under the presidency of The Bishop of Quebec in order to discuss the raising of a fund as a memorial of the late Bishop of the Diocese, Rt. Rev. A. Hunter Dunn.
The Lord Bishop pointed out the eminent services which had been rendered to the Diocese by the late Bishop during the twenty-two years that he occupied his sacred office.

Mr. J. Hamilton, Archdeacon Balfour, Dean Shreve, Rev. H. R. Bigg and others also spoke on the great administrative ability and devotion to his duties of the late Bishop.
On a motion proposed by Dr. J. Hamilton and seconded by Ven. Archdeacon Balfour, it was decided to raise a memorial fund.

It was further decided that this fund should be specially applicable to the Labrador Mission, and a committee, composed of clergy and laymen throughout the Diocese, was named to organize the collection of the fund.

FUNERAL OF LATE MDE. H. LAROCHE.

The funeral of the late Mde. Henri LaRoche was held yesterday morning. A large and representative cortege escorted the hearse from the residence to St. Jean Baptiste Church where a solemn requiem service was chanted. The chief mourners were deceased's husband, Mr. Henri LaRoche, Mr. Louis Bergeron, brother; Messrs. George LaRoche, W. P. LaRoche and Elzear LaRoche, brothers-in-law of the late Mde. LaRoche, and a large number of other relatives. The interment took place at Belmont Cemetery.

Y. W. C. A.

The first four months in gymnasium work, with a membership of two hundred and sixty, has just closed.
The Educational Committee is much gratified with results and the interest shown by the individual members of the classes.

All are looking forward to the term beginning Feb. 1st to June 1st. The new apparatus has arrived and will be immediately installed, which will make the work more attractive and beneficial for all those who enroll for this term.
The swimming classes are still in progress, and there is plenty of time to learn to swim before the end of May.

Y. M. C. A.'s GOOD WORK

In a letter received from Mr. Leonard L. Dixon at Kul-el-Amara on the Tigris river, now the centre of serious warfare between the British and the Turks he says:

The terrific heat, the desert marches the swamp fighting and the difficulties of transportation which make short rations occasionally unavoidable, have been some of the obstacles with which the men in France have not had to contend, but which have been only too real here. Furthermore these hardships have not been offset by the social agencies at work at the bases in France. The only organization in the field has been the Royal Army Temperance Association.

Acting on the request of the Quarter-master-General, we began our work among the convalescents—men who had been discharged from hospitals, but who were too weak to resume active duty, or who, as in many cases, were awaiting transport to India. For these men our rooms proved to be a God-send.
In opening up this new work the heartiness of the reception and co-operation afforded to us by the officers of the various units has left little to be desired. "Y. M. C. A." has proved to be a magic pass-word among them all. Accommodation, equipment, transportation—in fact nearly everything that we have required has been granted us.

JANUARY ACTIVE IN CONSTRUCTION

SHOWS MARKED INCREASE OVER THE CORRESPONDING MONTH OF LAST YEAR.

The monthly report of the Civic Inspector of Buildings for January, shows a marked increase in building activities in the city over the corresponding month in 1915.

This year the opening month shows that the value of the new buildings and repairs reached the sum of $61,545, while in January, 1915, it was only $27,905, or less than half the value of the work done for the same period in 1916.

LA PRESSE BILL MAY BE WITHHELD

REPORT SAYS ORDERS ARE GIVEN TO REFRAIN FROM PRINTING IT.

It was rumored about the Quebec Legislature last night that the bill to change the trust deed of the late Hon. T. Berthiaume, regarding the disposition of La Presse, of Montreal, which was slated for study at the present session, is being withheld.

Orders have been given to refrain from printing the bill, which is taken here as meaning that the measure will not be presented and it is even said that should the measure be studied by the Legislature it would never become law.

PLEASING CONCERT.

Ladies' Morning Musical Club.

Yesterday morning at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Grande Allee, the Quebec Ladies' Morning Musical Club presented a most pleasing programme to a large audience.

In her rendering of "Le Cid," Madame F. Le M. de Martigny of Montreal, delighted all with her sweet and clear soprano voice, and to an encore sang beautifully "Si tu le Veux," for which she received great applause. Miss Y. Richard and Mr. F. Choquette gave much pleasure in their rendering of "Adante et Scherzetto." Mr. Edward Trudel received a very cordial welcome, having just returned from France where he had been studying, his selections on the piano displaying great skill. Mr. J. A. Morency gave a performance which created a good impression.
The programme was arranged by Mde. F. Morency and Mlle. Jeanne Pelletier who are to be congratulated upon its excellence.

QUEBEC PLAYED STRONG GAME BUT OTTAWA SHUT THEM OUT 4-0

Bull-dogs Crippled Through Absence of Smith and Injury to Moran Made Great Fight But Benedict's Goalkeeping Was Marvellous—Ritchie Starred for Quebec—McDonald Played Fine Game.

(Special to Chronicle)

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Ottawa used the paint brush on Quebec tonight 4-0 in a hard close-checking game.

Fine goaling and stiff defence work together with persistent back-checking favored the Champions to keep the visitors from scoring.

It was not a great hockey contest and tailed off toward the end. When the home team with a comfortable lead shot in a set of second string men who went easily while the Bull Dogs very much worn out, endeavored to break their goose egg, the champions counted one goal in the opening period, one minute from the close of the round.

They notched their next early in the second, and the third at start of final and fourth came around the middle of the third session.

The visitors were somewhat handicapped through the crippled condition of their veteran goaler Paddy Moran who suffered an injury last Saturday to his leg and an application of strong linemen aggravated.

Twice Paddy went down as a result of a bang on the damaged leg and was in great distress throughout the game. He allowed two easy shots through, but showed many flashes of the form that has made him famous in this town.

This is the third victory of the season, Ottawa has scored over Quebec and puts the champions in a deadlock with Mike Quinn's outfit for second place, though the Bulldogs have a point over them.

Canadiens failure to hold Wanderers prevented tonight's contestants from tying in first position.

Quebec showed two second string men who quite outclassed the players they subbed for, viz Ritchie on defence and McDonald on the wing.

Ritchie was easily the pick of the Blue and White offensive strength and the only man on the visiting team who showed competitive speed with the home team. He carried the attack to Ottawa's end of the rink repeatedly and bothered the defence more than a little. McDonald always was a good wing player and gave a pretty fair come-back imitation to night. Bad shooting after getting in close cost him a pair of goals.

The long poke check now being used entirely by Ottawa for the discarded body checking, broke up the majority of Quebec's plays before they got started.

This was made possible through lack of speed on the part of the visiting wings.

Crawford showed odd bursts, but in reality Ritchie was the only Quebec man who carried the puck on a fast rush.

Tommy Smith of goal-getting fame, was off Quebec's line-up as a result of stick slinging in Quebec last Saturday, the rule put through for this offence some weeks ago being exercised in Smith's case for the first time.

The Bulldogs missed Tommy too, for it was just the kind of a game where he might have done some damage.

The contest was on the whole cleanly played. There had an altercation with both Ritchie and McDonald, but most of the other penalties were for trivial offences.

Hall used his weight most effectively and fairly at that. He dropped Merrill and Gerard with two of the hardest body checks seen for some time, both being perfectly legitimate. Over five thousand saw the game. Smeaton and Percival handled an easy contest without any difficulty.

The Play.

First Period: Quebec started Malone at center and Crawford and Marks on the wings. Darragh and Gerard were on the rails for Ottawa and Nighbor center. Nighbors long poke check bothered the Quebec combination in the first five minutes. Sharp defence work kept the shooting from outside the defence. Moran stopping the only dangerous shot. Hall drew the first penalty for tripping Ross. Ritchie coming on. Ritchie missed a sure goal when he took Malone's pass and got on top of Benedict and struck his pads. In stopping Ross's hard shot Moran fell to the ice and injured his sore leg. Ottawa became very aggressive toward the close of this period and only fine work by Moran prevented a goal. Nighbor took the puck off Crawford's stick and placed a smart shot in the net from fifteen feet out. The period closed with Ottawa leading 1-Nothing.

Second Period.

McDonald was on right wing for Marks and on a grand piece of individual work got in front of the goal but shot wide. Darragh missed the same opportunity from Nighbor's pass. Quebec speeded up in the first five minutes of pep to their attack. The ding lets of peek to their attack. The Bull-dogs also worked a smooth combination. Gerard drew a penalty for tripping Ritchie, Boucher coming on. Boucher took the puck from McDonald and Nighbor trailing got it and scored from outside the defence Ot-

LEAGUE LEADERS SMOTHERED TAILENDERS IN CITY LEAGUE GAME AT ARENA.

Playing whirlwind hockey from the start to finish and showing wonderful shooting and combination, the Montagnais completely outplayed the lowly Laurentides at the Arena last night winning out by fourteen goals to three.

The losers made a good fight for two periods, but the fast pace was too much for them and they fell down completely in the third twenty. Antonio Demers played a fine game in goal despite the big margin against him.

A small crowd was present and the summary about tells the tale.

Quebec Curlers Lost In District Medal Play.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The Caledonia Curling Club won both games in the first half of the District Medal match play with the Quebec club on Tuesday evening, by a total score of 30 to 24. The last half will be played in Quebec during the Bouspeli in the Ancient Capital this month. The games were close all the way, and with Quebec leading by one or two shots at the half-way mark, the visitors showing up well over ice that was heavy and slow. D. M. Wilson won by two shots from Tom Delany, and James Simpson, who has won nearly all his games this season, defeated H. B. Bignell, who had F. S. Stocking as third. Stocking is well-known in local curling circles, having competed in Jubilee and other Branch competitions for many years. The rinks and scores were as follows:

PASTIMES WON.

"Mike" Mullally's Dreadnought "Pastime" sailed up to the K. O. C. Alleys last night disguised as a Peace Ship and poured a broadside into the unsuspecting K. O. C. cruiser of the second class type in command of Admiral Tom Byrne and though the gallant commander made a game struggle, he went down with his ship and all on board.

Dan Griffin chief gunner of the His Mikeship Pastime made great practice and greatly helped in sinking the hostile craft. Admiral Mullally directed the battle from the fighting top in full view of the enemy.

WANDERERS HERE ON SATURDAY

QUEBEC WILL HAVE CHANCE TO REGAIN LEAD BY BEATING RED BANDS.

We had the right dope on the Wanderers. If you will refer back to our files you will find that when Wanderers went down to defeat in Toronto with a team of substitutes, we figured that the Wanderer management was only making the best of a bad bargain by taking a chance on losing to Toronto, which team is out of the running, practically, rather than risk their injured players in that game and thus succumb easily to Quebec and Canadian, two teams which are high in the race. Their judgement was good and with a full line-up they easily downed the Frenchmen last night, but whether they will repeat the performance here Saturday night against Quebec is another matter.

Sporting Notes

For the first time since they have entered professional hockey the Quebec team has failed to score a goal in a match—In other words was white-washed. But according to Ottawa reports it was only the hardest kind of luck and the most sensational goal-keeping of Benedict which kept the Bulldogs from tallying more than one.

The Wanderer-Quebec game here Saturday night should be the classic of the season. Wanderers have shown splendid judgment in working their substitutes against Torontos even though they lost and with the team going at full speed they will be a hard proposition to down.

George McCarron played a great game on the defence, offence and "fence" for the Q.R.L.H. & P. boys last night. The hero of many a hard fought game with Crescents, the boy with the wicked shot who used to heap up expenses for repairs to the boards in every rink on the circuit, was tearing around the ice in great shape last night. But he spent lots of time with the penalty man.

Bankers league matches tomorrow night, Nationale vs. Allies and Montreal will meet the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Fancy dress carnival at the Grande Allee Rink, Tuesday evening next.

Manager Harry DeGuisse of the Canadian Northern Hockey players evidently has a strong team in the Commercial League. The Railroaders now top the league having two wins and no losses.

Referee Dinan ordered Roy of the Terreau & Racine team off the ice in the last period of the Quebec Railway game and the player sassed him back. Dinan then changed his penalty to a match foul and the player refused to go off the ice. This appears a rather childish procedure on the face.

Tommy Smith will be back in the game, Saturday night.

St. Pat's practice tonight at the Arena between 10 and 11 p.m.

Montagnais were in a scoring mood last night and tallied fourteen goals against the Laurentides.

Sons of Ireland and Emmets meet at the Grande Allee Rink on Monday night next and this game should be a corker.

Emmets are far from being out of the running. They showed great hockey for two periods against Crescents and had they kept their heads they would have won easily. Sullivan is one of the best goaltenders in the league but Billy is far too aggressive for a goalkeeper. Coolness is one of the greatest assets of a custodian and Sullivan lacks this essential. He can make good however if he is coached properly and heeds the advice given him.

Admiral Tom Byrne went down with his ship. Bowling is a trying game especially on the anchor man.

SKI RECORD BROKEN.

Revelstoke, B.C., Feb. 2.—Nels Nelson, on skis, has made a sensational jump, the distance being 160 feet, which is forty-four feet in excess of the Canadian record, equal with the American record, and lacking only eight feet of the world's record jump.

HOCKEY PLAYED WAS STRENUOUS

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE REFEREES HAD THEIR HANDS FULL LAST NIGHT.

Results of the Commercial League games at the Grande Allee Rink:
C. N. R., 4; Pub. Ser. Corp., 1.

Mech. Sup. Co., 2; Samson & Filion, 1.

Q.R.L.H. & P. Co., 6; Terreau and Racine, 2.

Commercial League hockey at the Grande Allee Rink was rather strenuous last night, and the games were all lively and closely contested. The referees had plenty of work to do and the penalty bench always had the "Standing Room Only" sign hanging out.

However, there was no harm done and beyond a few mixups, play was clean, most of the penalties being for minor offences.

In the first game the C.N.R. team which is going very strongly, defeated the Public Service Corporation boys by four goals to one, though the game was much closer than the score would seem to indicate.

Vezina played a remarkable game in goal for the winners. He is no relation to the Canadian goalkeeper, but says that he is just as good.

This game, as well as the Mechanics Supply vs. Samson & Filion, was decidedly scrappy and full of thrills and the referees had a hard time to keep the players within bounds. The Mechanics Supply team emerged victorious by the score of 2 to 1, after a very keenly contested game. Lawson's great work in the nets was a big factor in the win of the M. S. C.

The third game started off in whirlwind fashion, and Terreau & Racine's outfit jumped into a two goal lead immediately. The Q.R.L.H. & P. Co. boys however, struck their stride and overcame the lead before the period ended. With the score 6-2 in favor of the Quebec Railway boys and but nine minutes to play, Referee Dinan ordered Roy of the losers, off the ice for a minor foul. Roy absolutely refused to go. As the referee did not think it was up to him to carry the player off and deposit him in the penalty box, so that on his insisting upon remaining on the ice, the game was awarded to the Quebec Railway team, though they had it won anyway. Kirkwood and Legendre starred.

There was quite a crowd present, but the Commercial League officials would do well to study the referee question and, if possible, secure the same officials for the entire set of games.

MASONS ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

REV. J. A. CLARK DELIVERS
ELOQUENT DISCOURSE ON
"SECRET SOCIETIES."

Last night in St. Andrew's Church, the combined Masonic Lodges of Quebec, and Lewis held one of the most successful Church Services that has ever taken place in this city. There was a large attendance of Craftsmen, and among the distinguished Brethren present were M. W. Bro. E. A. Evans, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Quebec; Rt. W. Bro. W. Fellows, D. D. G. M., Quebec and Three Rivers, also Rt. W. Bro. the Rev. J. A. Clark, D. D. G. C., who conducted the service.

The Brethren assembled in the Kirk Hall, and in full regalia proceeded in processional order to the Church, Tuscan Lodge leading; the Grand Master and District Deputy Grand Master being in the rear of the procession. On their entering the Church, the organ, which was presided over by Mrs. A. D. Scott, pealed forth the strains of "Cujus Animam." When the Brethren had taken their seats the service commenced with the singing of the opening sentence "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty," the remainder of the service being in the following order:— "Invocation"; "Psalm 103"; "Scripture Reading, Ps. 90"; "Prayer"; Hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past"; Scripture Reading, "1st Cor. 13 Ch"; Quartette, "Lead Kindly Light"; by Messrs. A. J. Carpenter, S. G. Claxton, H. C. Thorn, and F. R. Thorn; Hymn, "Jerusalem the Golden"; "Sermon"; and "Offertory," during which an organ selection, "National Airs," was beautifully rendered by Mrs. D. A. Scott. Hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee"; "National Anthem"; "Benediction," and Organ Postlude, "Commemoration March."

The arrangement of the service reflected great credit upon the Committee in charge.

Interesting Sermon

The Sermon by Rt. Wor. Bro. the Rev. J. A. Clark was delivered in a manner which displayed the Rev. Brother's great research, his subject being "Secret Societies." The text was taken from Psalm Chap. 25, verse 14, "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him." The preacher in the course of his discourse justifying the existence of Secret Societies, and during its progress, made an appeal on behalf of the Jeffery Hale's Hospital, an institution worthy of the charity of every craftsman. He also took the opportunity of thanking the Rev. Dr. Love and the officers of St. Andrew's Church for their kindness in permitting the Fraternity to use their Church.

The eloquence of the Rev. Bro. will long be remembered by those privileged to hear him, and the responsive chord he touched in the hearts of the Brethren when making his appeal on behalf of the object for which the Offertory was taken up, was reflected in the handsome amount donated.

The Sermon

The Sermon was as follows:— The relation of secrecy and religion is an interesting study whether it be the secrecy, enjoined by The Great Teacher, in private devotions "Pray to the Father in secret" or the prevalence of secrecy in pagan religions.

The religion of the ancients was shrouded in mystery and surrounded by a cloud of secrecy which concealed from the vulgar gaze, the mysteries of the unseen; but, which were revealed to faithful men, who conserved and preserved them inviolate from generations to generations.

Not only pagan religions, but also in the Jewish theocracy, we find the same spirit of secrecy. The whole spirit of the volume of the Sacred Law is the conservation of "The Secret of the Lord" by selected men. When the Jewish lawgiver was given the Ten Words of Commandments he went up into the mountain apart with God. There on Mount Sinai he was initiated into the secrets of the Lord, surrounded with all the ornat ceremonial of fire and darkness and so fearful was the sight that Moses said "I exceedingly fear and quake." Then in the wonderful revelation of the pattern of the Tabernacle, after which the Temple of Solomon was planned in the construction of the Tabernacle and also the Temple you have, this spirit of secrecy preserved in the different vaults. The holy place and the Holy of Holies, were concealed from the gaze of the common people and only the fully initiated priest was allowed to enter there, and the whole priesthood itself, might be called a secret order, composed of men specially selected and set apart to minister at the altar of the most High.

When we turn to consider the religious of antiquity, there we find the same spirit of secrecy. Take that of Egypt for instance. The priests in the religious life of the Egyptians were the repositories of both religion and science; and they were consulted upon the most sacred things relating to the mysteries of religion, and the most profound subjects in the several sciences. Their sacred books containing the secrets of their religion were in the hands of the priests, and these sacred books contained not only the mysteries of divine worship, but the principle of government as well. Their religious ceremonies were involved in symbols and enigmas, and under the veil of secrecy, and symbolism bade truth more venerable and excited strongly the curiosity of men. The statue of Horus in the Egyptian sanctuaries, with his finger upon his lips, seemed to intimate that secrets were there enclosed, the knowledge of which was revealed to few. The Sphinxes that were so common in Egypt, and were placed at the entrances of all their Temples implies the same spirit of secrecy, while the impression left on the mind of those who view the Great Sphinx today is that of awe, and suggests secrecy, by its very massiveness and immobility.

Again in the Hieroglyphics which adorn all Egyptian Temples and public monuments, we have the same spirit of secrecy. Whether this picture writing was unknown to the common people and only known to certain initiated ones, or whether these animals in the picture writing contain a hidden and parabolic meaning it is difficult now to say, but undoubtedly the religion of Egypt was veiled in allegory and illustrated by symbols, and the Egyptian philosophers, unwilling to expose their secrets to the gaze of the common people, concealed their tenets and principles under certain signs, figures and symbols which were known to the priests alone. Theirs was truly a secret society.

The Persians had a body of priests called "The Magi" who were the guardians of all the ceremonies related to divine worship. All these were of one tribe and none but the son of a priest could aspire to the honour of priesthood. They were a society of men who kept their religious secrets among themselves and their families.

Zoroaster the founder or reformer of the ancient Persian religion was the founder of the Secret Society of the Magi, and it was from the members of this secret society that even their kings received instruction both in the art of governing and also of divine worship.

When we come to consider Grecian and Roman history there again we find within the realm of their religious life the same spirit of secrecy—here we can only refer to the secret society called "Mysteries" in Greece and "Initia" in Rome. There were undoubtedly certain secret rites and ceremonies in ancient Greek and Roman religions, only known to the initiated and practiced by them at appointed seasons and in strict seclusion.

Some investigators have held that around these mysteries there was a kernel of pure light, the bright rays of which were too strong for the eyes of the multitude, that they hid under an outward garb of ceremonial, a certain portion of the real and eternal truth of religion which had been derived from some primeval or Mosiac revelations.

The great ceremonies or feasts as they were called of the members of the Grecian Secret Society, were called "Eleusian Mysteries," and were held in the months of November and August. Their origin is ascribed to the Goddess Ceres, who coming to the small town of Eleusis in Attica in search of her daughter, found the country afflicted by a famine. She invented corn as a remedy of that evil, and with this gift she rewarded the inhabitants. She also taught them the principles of charity, probity, civility, and humanity, and from these happy lessons, antiquity ascribes the courtesy, politeness and urbanity so remarkable among the Athenians.

The "Mysteries" were divided into the less and the greater; the candidates had to be prepared by purifications, sacrifices and prayers, and during their preparation they were instructed in the principles and elements of the sacred doctrines of the Mysteries. When the time for their initiation arrived they were brought into the temple and as the ceremony was always performed at night, and accompanied with such accessories that reverence or awe was the prevailing sentiment of the candidates. In this secret society there was a President, the office being hereditary, and remained in one family. This president had three colleagues, one of whom carried a torch, another was a herald, whose office was to pronounce certain mysterious words, and a third was to attend to the altar. After the ceremony of initiation had been performed, it was considered a capital crime to divulge the secrets of this society, as Livy, a Roman writer, says:—

"Safe is the silent tongue which none can blame, Who keeps the faithful secret merits fame. Beneath one roof ne'er let him rest with me Who Ceres' mysteries reveal."

The brethren may recognize points of similarity between our own order and these Grecian mysteries, and the question has been asked about these mysteries as it has been asked about our Masonic order—How is it that in the best times of Grecian history these mysteries had such a hold on such a large number of people? The answer to this is perfectly plain. God hath, at no time, left himself without a witness. The Greeks were men, and being men found it impossible to believe that with the death of man's body, life was at an end. The secret of these societies centered around their firm belief in the immortality of the soul, as one of the ancient writers said, "Thrice happy they who have been initiated before they die, for their's is the lot of life and evil is with the others."

When we descend the streams of history we find other societies or orders, that contain secrets only revealed to the initiated amongst them. I merely mention the Knight Templars, an order instituted by nine Knights who bound themselves to guard the pilgrims to the holy places from attacks of the Saracens, taking solemn oath of chastity, poverty and obedience. These Templars or Knights of the Temple realised, the two dearest of mediaeval ideals—viz, purest courage and highest devotion. Never in the history of the world did men fling away their lives more gloriously—never did a Templar play the coward in the hour of danger, nor when all hope was lost barter his soul to a Moslem conqueror in return for his life.

In all these secret societies or orders, I have referred to, the brethren will find a similarity to our Masonic order, and every one of them had a religious basis, in fact they were the custodians of religious truths. They knew something of the secret of the Lord. In Egypt, the belief in immortality was firmly held. In the Grecian Mysteries the same belief was fully accepted, while the Knight Templars were called "the Knights of God," and dedicated themselves to the service of God.

I might refer you to many other cults or orders that were common, both in ancient and mediaeval times. In each of them there lay some germs of Divine truth and these fragments of truth were intrusted to certain faithful men, who preserved their secrets and practiced the principles and tenets of their societies.

But why should I go to pagan sources to find the truths of the text—that "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him," when the G. A. O. T. U. resolved to tell His Secret to a waiting world the Angels of God broke through the veil of sense, and the stary heavens became vocal with the angelic song of Peace and Goodwill; it was not to a world indifferent and callous, but to a few faithful shepherds that the Secret was revealed, and they went to Bethlehem to see Him, who was "The Word." Christ the King. Only to a few was the Secret imparted. It was not to the whole pagan world sitting in the darkness of ignorance that the Secret was revealed, but to "The wise men of the East," the Day-star shone, and led them to the lowly manger-bed.

When the Great Teacher, the Master himself, revealed the Secret of the Lord to a waiting world. He first of all initiated twelve men, who formed "The College of the Twelve," and they in turn formed the Society which today is called the Church of God. It was to these chosen and selected few that He gave the charter and told them to go out into the world and make disciples, that is initiate members. And when the young Society grew, and branches were formed in many cities, they were sometimes called secret societies. For instance, take the Church at Rome. Does not history tell of high and low, rich and poor, slave and freeman, stealing out in the darkness of night to the catacombs at Rome, to engage in worship which the heathen called their secret rites.

Secrecy, the secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him. It was one of the prophets who said, "They that feared the Lord spoke often one to the other, and the Lord hearkened and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord," and an apostle wrote out a long roll of honour, naming the Knights of God who suffered because they feared the Lord.

In modern times the Church of God has often met in secret. The Huguenots of France, were men who feared the Lord. The Puritans of England and America, and the Covenanters of Scotland, with them was the Secret of the Lord, and they died rather than deny their sacramentism, or oath of allegiance.

The society, of which we form a part, has been called a secret society. If by secret we mean that it is a society of men, bound together in the bonds of brotherhood for the morality and virtue on which our order is founded, then we are a secret society. We can however safely claim that our order is beyond dispute one of the oldest as well as the best of all moral forces, of human organisations. We can claim that it is founded upon the great foundation stones of morality and virtue. Truly it is a beautiful system of morality veiled in allegory and illustrated by symbols and the craftsman who practices in private or public life the principles taught in Free Masonry will know in his experience the truth of the text, "The Secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him."

As a body we practice the virtue inculcated by our order, viz: charity. To the appeal of H. R. H. the Governor General, on behalf of the Patriotic Fund, the Masonic order responded handsomely. The Red Cross and the Belgian Funds, have also been benefited by subscriptions from the Craftsmen. Tonight we appeal on behalf of "The Jeffery Hale Hospital", an institution that is doing a great work in the city and deserving of our loyal support.

The art of healing, the ministering to the sick and diseased-stricken, is one of the nearest approaches to the Divine attributes, and the Masonic order has never turned a deaf ear to appeals for help in such work. The noble orders of Physicians and Nurses have produced many heroes and also martyrs. When the sick and dying are entering the hinterland of life, and travelling along "the lone trail" that leads to the unknown land, their way is cheered by sympathetic nurses, and their pain relieved by skilled physicians, and surely it is our bounden duty to produce our "Samaritan Pennies" to such Keepers of the Inn, where lie the sick and wounded, saying "Take care of him and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again I will repay thee." (Luke 10, 35). Thus we shall prove that the threefold cord of Faith in a Supreme Being; Hope in the immortality of the soul; and Christian Charity are the corner stones of our Temple of Free Masonry; a beautiful system of morality, veiled allegory and illustrated by symbols.

Yes our Society is a secret one, if by that we mean that on any part of the known world, masons can meet and recognize one another and united by the common bond of brotherhood, and one touch of the hand makes the whole world know. Aye, even amidst the din of warfare, where death is to be met at every step, the beauty and strength of our order has been recognized and admired. Even in the clash of battle the secret is revealed and men though opposed in warfare, acknowledge the common bond.

Today the frontiers of nations are being obliterated, under the feet of armed men those frontiers are being trodden down, but if the object of Free Masonry is ever realised there shall be no barriers nor hindrance to the growth of brotherhood, but heart and hand the nations of the world shall be one and seek in unity and harmony to practice those virtues peculiar to the Craft.

But alas, such a dream seems far from fulfilment today. The tramp of armed men resounds throughout Europe, and the dark clouds of war overshadow the civilised world. Here again members of the Masonic Craft have not been wanting in loyalty and devotion to King and country. There on "the far flung battle line" of the Empire forces, are to be found many Masons, who have laid aside the apron and trowel to take up the sword. And more, upon how many of the white cross-crowned graves in Flanders, and France as well as the Gallipoli Peninsula, might the acacia be planted marking the graves of brothers who have died for King and Country?

As the Knight Templars of old rushed into the fray with the battle cry of their order upon their lips so today we find the Masons fighting side by side for Freedom, Justice and Right.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

CROSS, FEVERISH
CHILD IS BILIOUS
OR CONSTIPATED

LOOK, MOTHER! IF TONGUE
IS COATED, GIVE "CALIFOR-NIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

QUIETNESS IN DRY FISH INDUSTRY

REVIEW BY MARITIME MERCHANTS — NEWFOUNDLAND MATTERS.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 2.—The mid-winter quietness prevails in the dried fish trade. There is a steady volume of orders going forward to the West Indies, but practically no arrivals, as the Lunenburg bank fish sold at Halifax has practical all come in and merchants find themselves with full supplies to cover requirements for the next few months. The dried fish market is somewhat easier, chiefly owing to unexpected arrivals in Cuba of stocks from Norway. The future of the market a good deal depends on whether these Norwegian shipments continue, which information it is very difficult to obtain. The European markets are all lower owing chiefly to lack of demand at the extreme prices that have been prevailing, in addition to which the arrivals at Oporto have been very heavy. The demand throughout the West Indies is disappointing. Northern Brazil is fully supplied, but there is a strong demand from Southern Brazil. With respect to pickled fish, nothing has developed during the fortnight and the situation is as it was at the time of our last issue. As we said at the beginning of the paragraph, the mid-winter quietness prevails, and with no fish arriving, there are no ex-vessel prices to quote for the time being.

The fish merchants find that the transportation problem is becoming very acute. Shippers have recently been notified that no freight will be received at New York for export to the Continent. Freight rates continue to advance and as there is no prospect of the price of fish stuffs advancing, the higher rate of freight comes out of the pockets of the exporters.

Since the embargo on fish going into Greece was lifted, eight cargoes from Newfoundland, aggregating about 35,000 quintals, have entered her ports. Before the embargo, over 15,000 quintals had gone in making a total of 50,000 quintals. The lifting of the embargo has been a very fortunate thing for Newfoundland, for the St. John's fish merchants are able to get $2.00 a quintal more in the Greek market than in Italy. Newfoundland is now very anxious to get across to the French market. The first efforts have been unsuccessful, but it is hoped that later efforts will result in something and they are encouraged in this because the French want fish and will want it much more next year if the war goes on.

WORST WINTER IN 25 YEARS.

Gloucester Skipper Had Rough Time on the Grand Banks.

Halifax, Feb. 1.—The Gloucester schooner Preceptor, Captain William McKay, came into port Saturday with her rigging in a bad shape and suffering the loss of two anchors. The Preceptor has been halibut fishing on the Grand Banks and is six weeks out from the home port. Two weeks ago an extra strong gale sprung up and the main sheet of the Preceptor was ripped to uselessness and the fore-stays parted. The schooner has no auxiliary power and after losing two anchors, the captain decided to make for Halifax. He had a hard time most of the way with the exception of the last day of the trip when favorable winds were met for the first time.

"It's the hardest winter I have known in all my experience," said Captain McKay, "and I have been fishing for the past twenty-five winters." The Preceptor has only about five thousand pounds of fish on board which bears out the statement of the captain to a certain extent.

Captain McKay says he will probably lay up here for repairs and return to try his luck on the banks.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

In matter of Rock Shoe Co., Liquidators are Appointed—Judgments, Rendered, Etc.

In the matter of the Rock Shoe Manufacturing Company, in liquidation, and Lucien Borne, petitioner, the Hon. Justice Malouin, appointed Messrs. LaRue, Trudel and Picher, all three of the city of Quebec, liquidators, and George Russell, J. A. Scott, Joseph Racine, Lucien Borne, Junior, and Arthur Richard, of the city of Quebec, inspectors to the company (under the Winding-up Act).

An inscription of review was filed by the plaintiff, through her attorneys, Messrs. Taschereau, Roy, Cannon and Parent, in the case of Poliquin vs. Demers. The action was brought for an alimentary allowance of $100.00 monthly, said action having been dismissed with costs. The legal deposit has been effected with the inscription.

Judgment Pronounced.

By the Hon. Chief Justice Lemieux: Fiset et al. vs. Fiset. Considering that the plaintiffs have established that the minor children from the marriage of the late Leon Fiset with Eugenie Bourbeau, are proprietors of a fourth of the immovables described in the declaration; considering that defendant had the possession of the said immovable, one fourth of them belonging to the said minor children, contrary to the dispositions of articles 410, 411, and 412 of the Civil Code, that is to say, without title and with bad faith, the Court condemns defendant to pay plaintiffs $250.00, declares plaintiffs in their quality proprietors of one fourth of the moveable property with the right by them to be paid of one fourth on the price by licitation, defendant having the right, within fifteen days from the present judgment to pay plaintiffs the sum of $92.28, the whole with interest and costs.

Writs Issued.

Writs issued from the office of the Prothonotary:

Albert Sharenks et al. vs. Hervé Latubette, Bienville, $366.00, balance of account.

Edouard Coulombe, vs. J. S. Marcoux, of Ste. Anne de Chicoutimi; $147.18; account.

By the Prothonotary:

Dubreuil vs. Marcoux. Judgment against defendant for $118.52; interest and costs.

National Breweries, Limited, vs. Vaillancourt. Defendant is condemned to pay the plaintiff $140.80, interest and costs.

POLICE COURT DOINGS.

In the Court of Sessions yesterday the preliminary enquiry in the case for impersonation brought against Mayor Lortie of St. Gregoire, was begun. Arthur Bilodeau, on the charge of having stolen the sum of $30 from a fellow boarder, pleaded not guilty and was sent to gaol awaiting a hearing today. Ovide Menard was also before the court on the charge of advertising and publishing lottery schemes; he pleaded not guilty and was allowed out on bail to appear again on February 10th. Two soldiers, Joseph MacNamar and Arthur Crook, the former for having stolen a pay check amounting to $12 and the latter for having received it, pleaded guilty to the charge and were handed over to the military authorities to be dealt with.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

To the Shareholders of

BRANDRAM-HENDERSON, LIMITED.

Your Directors submit herewith their Ninth Annual Report with Statement of Assets and Liabilities and abstract of Profit and Loss Account for the year ended November 30th, 1915.

The Net Profit for the year amounted to $175,084.54, which, with the balance of $215,064.01 carried forward from the previous year, makes the sum of $390,148.55 to the credit of the Profit and Loss Account. Out of this sum has been paid the interest on bonds to September 30th, and a reserve provided for October and November, also dividend on Preferred Stock. The sum of $75,000 has been provided as a reserve for depreciation, and the sum of $14,600.00 has been applied for Sinking Fund purposes; there has also been set aside the sum of $6,500.00 to cover the balance of the old subscription, and our new subscription of $5,000.00 to the Patriotic Fund, leaving a balance of $215,064.01.

Your Directors have to report that in all departments and over the entire territory served by the Company, with the exception of the Canadian West, our trade has increased. This has been particularly conspicuous in the Export field where the increase has been equal to fifty per cent.

The acquisition of Finch, Johnson & Co., of Canada, Limited, on a distinctly favorable basis, has provided us with fine premises and plant in the city of Toronto, and adequate facilities for catering to our rapidly increasing Ontario business.

During the present year the Company has lost by death, the inestimable services of its late President, Mr. Jos. R. Henderson, to whose sagacity, high standard of business integrity, enterprise and unflinching care, it is largely attributed the success the Company has attained.

Mr. George Henderson, a Director and the Manager of the Maritime Branches since the formation of the Company, was appointed by the Directors in August last to succeed his father as President and General Manager, and the vacancies occasioned by the death of Mr. Jos. R. Henderson and the elevation of Mr. Justice Harris to the Bench, were filled by the appointments to the Board of Mr. T. S. Rogers, K.C., and Mr. I. C. Stewart. In November Colonel Thos. Cantley, President and General Manager of the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co., joined the Board.

In view of the general commercial uncertainty brought about by the lack of precedent to serve as guide for the future, occasioned by the great war, it has not been considered a fitting time for the payment of dividends on the Common Stock of this Company, but rather for the establishment of substantial immediate reserves.

On behalf of the Directors,

Halifax, N. S., December 31st, 1915.

CITY OF QUEBEC.

City Clerk's Office.

Tenders for Firemen's Summer Uniforms.

Quebec, 2nd February, 1916.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned will receive sealed tenders until Tuesday the 29th day of February instant (1916) at four o'clock p.m., for the supply of 150 Summer Uniforms (more or less) in blue indigo serge for firemen.

The tenders shall have all the necessary information at the office of the Chief of the Fire Brigade, at the City Hall.

The cloth must weigh 17 ounces to the yard. Said uniform shall consist of three pieces: Coat, double breasted; vest and pants.

The buttons for coats and vests shall be supplied to the contractor, who shall place them according to instructions from the Chief of the Fire Brigade.

The Fire Committee does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any of the tenders.

The Committee reserves the right of exacting securities.

The contractor shall pay to the notary the cost of drafting a contract and shall provide the Fire Committee with a copy of the same.

All the uniforms shall have to be delivered for the fifteenth day of May next (1916), and if the contractor has not fulfilled that condition, there shall be retained five dollars a day of delay after said date until the last uniform shall have been delivered.

Tenders are reminded to send only one sample with their tender.

For further information apply to the office of the Chief of the Fire Brigade.

(Signed) AUG. MALOUIN,

Secretary Fire Committee.

BRITAIN DEMANDS EYE FOR EYE AND TOOTH FOR TOOTH

ZEPPELIN RAIDS ARE IN-CREASING DETERMINATION TO EXACT VENGEANCE.

London, Feb. 2.—The sentiment in favor of aerial reprisals is increasing rapidly. The belief is growing that the air raids have no military objects and are not aimed at any military bases, but are intended to be indiscriminate attacks for the purpose of terrorizing England. Moreover, experts declare that the Zeppelins could not attempt to find any definite targets, at the height from which they now drop bombs, even if they wished to.

Newspapers which heretofore were opposed to reprisals as unworthy of British methods, declared today in favor of carrying the same kind of warfare into the enemy country if necessary to protect the women and children.

Pitiful stories of mangled women, children and old men, which everyone hears, are kindling fierce anger, and are commented upon by the newspapers as the strongest deterrent to any peace talk which the entire war has produced. The Daily Telegraph says:

"As a fighting nation we are no weaker than we were before the Germans set out on their voyage across the North Sea, but we are more determined. We cannot forget or forgive the suffering and sorrow which have been spread far and wide."

The Westminster Gazette says:—"The next visitation may take any of us and leave us and our families mangled corpses under the ruins of our own houses. But in all the months these things have been going on, the Zeppelins between them have not killed one fourth the number who were drowned on the Lusitania, or as many as would be carried off by comparatively mild epidemics in a moderate sized town."

"Assuming that the Zeppelins come in the largest number ever suggested, and that they kill a thousand, two thousand or three thousand people the additional risk to our daily life will be inconsiderable and very little greater than was added to walking abroad in the streets when motors were first introduced."

The Daily Chronicle, heretofore against reprisals, today joined with the Daily Telegraph in demanding an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth policy.

In the last letter which the late Lord Alverstone, for many years Lord Chief Justice of England, wrote was an appeal from his sick bed to the British people "not to employ barbarous methods of warfare because the Germans followed such methods." But Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's recent letter advocating the announcement of a policy of reprisals, as the surest deterrent, appears to be more in accord with present public feeling.

The residents of cities approached by the Zeppelins Monday night, although warned of their danger from splinters and shrapnel bullets, preferred to continue in the streets to taking shelter. When it was announced that railroad traffic was suspended, the people took the matter philosophically and sought omnibuses and street cars, and when unable to get transport in this manner proceeded homeward without complaint. Women and men were equally calm, while children continued to play in the streets, but occasionally looking skyward to see whether the air invaders were visible.

The wife of the mayor of one of the towns was travelling in a street car when the alarm was given. The car stopped and she alighted. Turning to proceed to her home she was struck by a fragment of a bomb and was taken to a hospital where she lies in a critical condition.

Two large churches were among the provincial buildings badly damaged. A couple married at a provincial town Monday afternoon were both killed in the evening by a Zeppelin bomb.

LOOK!
If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery! Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

FREE TRIAL—Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

PRaises WORK OF Y. M. C. A.

Capt. the Rev. Allan P. Shatford
Writes From Front.

(Montreal Gazette).

Tribute to work being done at the front by the Y.M.C.A., is paid by Capt. Allan P. Shatford, rector of St. James the Apostle church, Montreal, and now with the forces in Flanders in a letter to Mr. Budge, which, under the date of January 9th, reads:

"My dear Mr. Budge:—For a long time I have wanted to write someone in authority at the Y.M.C.A. to pay my little tribute to the wonderful work that is being done by that organization. As I have no axe to grind, you will accept this testimony as absolutely genuine. It will please me also if you could inform Mr. Corbett, of the McGill Branch, and Mr. J. W. Ross or any others, of my views in the matter."

"I have had good opportunity to witness the work done by the Y. M. C. A. as I have labored in closest sympathy with the agents of it ever since I left Canada. Let me first of all acknowledge the splendid work done by Capt. Armour of the 24th. He is a noble fellow with a heart of gold. A fine upstanding, robust, Christian man, without the least affectation of piety. He has been a tower of strength to our battalion. During the days at Sandling he kept the moral tone of the 24th at good standard—he won for the Y.M.C.A. a place of respect and affection which it will forever have with our men. Out here at the front I do not very well see what we would have done without him. He has kept us supplied with reading and writing material, provided such entertainment as counteracted the attraction of the Estaminets, and in a thousand ways has helped the men. The Y.M.C.A. has been of inestimable value to the chaplains. Often we would have been hard put to it for a place in which to hold our services but the Y.M.C.A. has ever generously put their tents and buildings at our disposal. There is always a wholesome atmosphere about everything that this organization does—it leaves an influence for good upon the many thousands to whom it ministers."

"Let me say, also a word for the McGill Branch. I was with No. 3 General hospital for three months and shall never forget the loyal way that those earnest young lads furthered the work of the Master. Mr. Richards and his little committee stood behind me and made my work a delight. We had a splendid reading and recreation room and kept the patients supplied with all necessary things for their comfort. When there was no chaplain these lads had a service for the men and so kept the spiritual before the unit."

"Needless to say, I have helped the Y.M.C.A. wherever and whenever I could, I have addressed many of their meetings and delivered several lectures for them. When the relatives of the wounded were summoned to France the Y.M.C.A. met them at the boat, conveyed them to the hospital, provided them with hospitality, and in many ways helped them in their trouble. Time would fail me were I to undertake a description of all the ways in which all the truly wonderful organization is assisting in the war. It stands for clean manhood, for usefulness service, for the religion of humanity which is the religion of Christ. I am confident that there would be absolute unanimity as to the genuine helpfulness of the Y. M. A. I have seen battalions degenerate where this influence was lacking or had been withdrawn. In God's hands this world-wide organization has been a noble instrument in the strengthening of Christian manhood among the defenders of Empire."

"My very sincere regards to you and to all leaders and workers in the Y.M.C.A."

"Yours faithfully, (Signed) Allan P. Shatford."

What a French officer thinks of the Canadian soldier is expressed by Dr. Claude Michelson, who, wounded at the front, is giving lectures in the United States. He says:

"I have seen little of the Russian soldiers, but much of the English. At the first they sacrificed the flower of their aristocracy, but now they are coming into their own. They have mastered the seas and they are splendid fighters. The Irish, too, are fine fighters. But to me the bravest type of soldier is the Canadian. He is what you call a 'good scout.' He is tough and he shoots straight."

NOTE.—Our readers will remember Capt. Armour alluded to above as favourably as the efficient Secretary who left here last year from our local Y.M.C.A.

WHAT CANADIAN RAILWAYS COST

CANADA HAS SPENT $648,000,000
UPON THEM SINCE CONFED-ERATION.

(Special to The Chronicle.)

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The annual report of the Department of Railways and Canals which was laid on the table of the House yesterday, shows that for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1915, there was spent on railways and canals, $50,065,988. The revenue derived from the Government Railways and canals for that year amounted to $12,577,120. The report gives the interesting statement that there has been spent on railways in Canada prior to and since Confederation the enormous sum of $648,075,427. On canals, Canada has expended $150,205,770. This makes the total expenditure $798,281,197. Hon. Frank Cochrane had succeeded in making the Intercolonial Railway a paying proposition as, despite the fact that it was a war year and business conditions were exceedingly unfavorable, there was a profit of $42,965.

The total earnings for the year amounted to $11,444,873. However, the Prince Edward Island Railway, which has steadily lost money since Confederation, had a deficit which more than counterbalanced the profits on the Intercolonial. The deficit on the narrow gauge road of the Island was $183,731. The St. John and Quebec Railway, a small road leased by the Intercolonial in New Brunswick, showed a loss of $6,000, and a line known as the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Railway, a road 35 miles in length, running from Sackville to Cape Tormentine, forming a connection between the Intercolonial and the new Car Ferry to be operated to the Island, showed a deficit of some $18,000. The portion of the National Transcontinental Railway operated last year showed a deficit of some $80,000. For the last fiscal year expenditure on the Hudson Bay Railway and terminals was $4,773,749, making the total expenditure up to that date $10,860,776. It was pointed out that navigation during the open season of 1914 was very satisfactory. Twenty-four vessels, controlled by the Department, in addition to twelve others, went through the Straits without accident.

RAILWAY FIGURES.

Trespassing on Railways the Cause of Many Deaths.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The annual report of the Board of Railway Commission which was tabled in the House today, emphasized the high percentage of fatalities on railways due to trespassing. One hundred and seventy persons were killed during the year while trespassing on railway lines. The Board is taking up the matter with the Attorney-Generals of the various Provinces, who are being asked to institute prosecutions with the object of keeping trespassers away.

The total number of passengers carried on Canadian railways was 46,702,280.

Passengers killed numbered 8, and passengers injured, 239. The proportion of deaths of railway employees was very much higher. Out of 159,142 employees, 99 were killed and 873 injured.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if you are not right."
