

City's Evaluation Roll To Be Increased For 1961 Taxes

Means Tax Hike For Most

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record Staff Reporter)
It was learned today that the city's evaluation roll for 1961 will be substantially boosted.

The city's evaluator's office has been working on this increase for the past two years.

This increase will affect all property owners throughout the city, including commercial establishments.

Such an increase means a tax hike for most property owners in the city.

Already, some of the commercial establishments on Wellington street North have been advised of the increase.

One establishment in particular has been advised that its 1961 evaluation will be boosted by $100,000.

Another establishment has been told its 1961 evaluation will go up by $60,000.

At present, city evaluators make their rounds every three months to evaluate properties.

A few years ago they went around once a year.

Last Wednesday a real estate tax of three mills bringing the municipal tax rate to 13 mills was imposed upon the city's property owners.

This increase was adopted at a special session of the Sherbrooke City Council.

Mayor Armand Nadeau said last Friday at his weekly press conference that the city's evaluation on property should be 65 per cent of the value of the property.

The mayor then said that "in many cases this is not so."

"The evaluation in some cases is below what it should be," the mayor said.

Sauve To Give Quebec Reaction To Diefenbaker Grant Proposal

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec will learn today the reaction of Premier Paul Sauve and his cabinet colleagues to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's proposal for an alternative system of grants to universities.

Contents of the letter Mr. Sauve sent Tuesday night to Mr. Diefenbaker likely will be read in the legislative assembly when it meets at 3 p.m.

Most observers say the government is likely to approve what it considers the positive aspect of the federal alternative—letting provinces tax an additional one per cent, 10 instead of nine per cent, of corporation profits to raise money so they can pay grants directly to the universities.

Premier Sauve has been careful not to tip his hand since he received Mr. Diefenbaker's Dec. 9 letter. He told reporters the new federal proposals touched only part of the problem.

AID STARTED IN 1952
Federal aid to universities was instituted in 1952 as a result of a recommendation by a royal commission on arts, sciences and letters. They were figured on a basis of 50 cents for every person in each province and paid directly by Ottawa.

Quebec universities accepted the payments that year because the provincial government set up a committee to receive the contributions. But the following year the Quebec government denounced the grants and the universities turned them down. Quebec increased its provincial grants to universities to match the federal payments.

Attempting to overcome Quebec's objections, federal authorities paid the grants to the National Conference of Canadian Universities which in turn distributed the money.

Payments refused by Quebec accumulated and the backlog of grants held by NCCU is $25,000,000.

Gangster Roger Touhy Shot Down In Ambush

CHICAGO (AP)—Roger Touhy, a kingpin among the beer barons of the prohibition era, was slain from ambush Wednesday night in a typical gangland fashion.

The 61-year-old Touhy, paroled from state prison only 23 days ago after serving nearly 26 years for a kidnapping he said he did not commit, was mowed down by six shotguns blasts by two assassins.

He died on the operating table in St. Anne's Hospital after telling Factor, who lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., was in Chicago in connection with a libel suit against Touhy. Told that Touhy had been killed, he told a reporter: "I am very broken up about it. I hope they get the killer."

Factor said he was in a north side restaurant when he learned of the shooting.

Factor had sued Touhy and others for $3,000,000 in connection with publication of Touhy's biography, The Stolen Years. He contended that statements in the book libelled him.

"I'LL BE ALL RIGHT"

In an ambulance on the way to the hospital, Touhy told police men, "I'll be all right, I'm okay." However, he had lost much blood from a gaping wound in the left leg above the knee. Other pellets from the shotguns wounded him in the right leg below the knee.

The shooting occurred shortly after 10 p.m. and Touhy died at Expecting Any Cards From Buffalo?

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Thousands of holiday greeting cards bound for Canada have been burned by postal officials here in recent days.

Postmaster Myron F. Blakeney said confusion concerning United States postal rates was the reason for the unusual action.

He said thousands had been received here—a transfer point—in unsealed envelopes bearing three-cent stamps. Sealed or unsealed envelopes headed for Canada must have four-cent stamps.

Where possible, he said, letters are delivered in Canada but the receiver is taxed an additional two cents, one for the deficit and one for a penalty. Where envelopes contain return addresses they are being returned.

Otherwise, they go to the city incinerator.

6-Hour Blaze

Kitchener Fire Loss $2 Million

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—The worst fire in this city's history swept three downtown business buildings Wednesday night, destroying property, goods and records and causing damage estimated at up to $2,000,000.

More than 200 firemen from eight communities fought the fierce blaze for six hours and stopped it from spreading to other buildings in the King Street block, a short distance from city hall.

Street-level stores were destroyed. So were 30 upper-storey offices and one apartment.

A few minor injuries to firemen were reported, but no one else was hurt. About 100 people fled to safety from the stores and offices after the first alarm at 4:15 p.m.

BASEBALL-SIZE SPARKS
A crowd of more than 4,000 thronged the area as flames leaped 150 feet into the air and sparks as big as baseballs burst from the blaze.

Police finally cleared the entire block of spectators, stores on the opposite side of the street were closed, trolley buses were rerouted and power in the area was shut off.

The fire started in the basement of a Loblaw Groceteria store, which occupied half the ground floor of the Janzen Building—owned by Janzen Realty Company.

A $125,000 fire swept the Janzen Building Good Friday, 1934, injuring six firemen.

Miss Alice Kleinknecht, a Loblaw cashier, discovered the fire when she picked up some paper bags from the floor and was startled by their warmth. She opened a chute leading to the basement and smoke poured out.

CLEAR STORE AND OFFICES
Harold Mann, assistant manager, cleared the store and tenants in offices above moved into the street.

On the west side of the Janzen Building, the flames jumped across the roofs of two buildings.

John L. Approaching 80

With Lewis Retiring, Kennedy In Mine Workers May Join C.L.C.

OTTAWA (CP)—John L. Lewis is retiring early in the new year as he approaches 80 years, and his resignation poses the question of a possible hookup between the Canadian sections of his union and the 1,100,000-member Congress.

Much would depend on the attitude of Thomas Kennedy, who will automatically succeed Lewis. The 72-year-old Kennedy now is UMW vice-president.

he is quitting early in the new year as he approaches 80 years, and his resignation poses the question of a possible hookup between the Canadian sections of his union and the 1,100,000-member Congress.

Four years ago, Lewis abruptly steered his union out of the Canadian Congress of Labor, one who went to Washington to be told about the need for "protection" of District 50.

Eventually, the congress regretfully had to drop the union, since prolonged non-payment of dues violated its constitution. Later, the CCL merged with the Trades and Labor Congress to form the Canadian Labor Congress.

At that time, the UMW in Can-

FAVOR TIE-IN

Officers of the UMW in the Maritimes and the west—engaged strictly in coal mining—are reported here to favor a tie-in with the congress. It is not known here how the Canadian leadership of the UMW's catch-all District 50 would look on the idea.

While it never has been announced why the UMW suddenly grew hostile to the CCL in 1955, information developing since then has been to the effect that Washington headquarters of the UMW under Lewis came to the conclusion that District 50 was not getting enough "protection" from that congress.

Protection in this respect has not been defined, but it appeared the UMW wanted for District 50 leeway to barge in on other unions in Canada. It had been—and has been since—engaged in jurisdictional disputes with other unions.

TOLD OF PROTECTION NEED

At all events, the UMW's international board at Washington in early 1955 quietly stopped paying per capita dues to the Canadian congress. Worried leaders in the Canadian coal field of the union ada had about 25,000 members. This has shrunk in recent years largely because of dwindling employment in the coalfields east and west, though District 50—which takes in various classes of other workers—is believed to have picked up.

Ike Hears Algerian Issues

TUNIS (AP)—President Eisenhower and Tunisian president Habib Bourguiba today agreed that the continuation of the Algerian nationalist rebellion "constitutes a source of grave pre-occupations."

A Tunisian government communique issued an hour after Eisenhower sailed for France said the two presidents "examined the situation created by the difficulties in Algeria" and "decided that the absence of a solution until this day constitutes a source of grave pre-occupations."

"They have decided that the realization of self-determination by the peoples of Africa and Asia is one of the most important events of our era."

Sauve Seeking Fair Backing

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Paul Sauve said Wednesday night his government will ask the Quebec legislature to authorize agreements with the federal government and the city of Montreal if Montreal is chosen as the site of a world's fair in 1967. Montreal has already asked the federal government to help it sponsor a world's fair there the year of Canada's centenary celebrations.

Magog Talks Start Today In Quebec

Negotiations involving the strikebound Dominion Textile Company plant at Magog began this morning at Quebec presided over by Minister of Labor, Antonio Barrette.

Representing the company is D. C. Archibald, and negotiating for the Textile Federation is Rene Gosselin. Reporters and photographers have been barred from the talks.

For the first sessions, Mr. Barrette will preside after which his place will be taken by deputy minister Jacques Casgrain.

Mr. Gosselin expressed the opinion that the negotiations should resolve the differences between the company and the union sometime between now and Christmas.

Meanwhile, he said, the Federation is not only negotiating for the striking Magog workers, but also for workers at the other three company plants at Sherbrooke, Drummondville and Montmorency.

Federation negotiators are asking an 11-cent hike in wages, while the company has stated that it cannot increase present rates, averaging $1.28 an hour.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For a guy who once was only given three months to live, Ernie Kovacs is doing okay. His current activities:
Appearing in two movies at the same time.
Starring in and helping to create a weekly TV show.
Performing 10 times weekly on radio.

Writing a long novel.
All this plus guest bookings on TV, a heavy schedule of poker and gin rummy and acting as squire of a huge Beverly Hills mansion also peopled with wife Edie Adams and three children. How does he do it? Or why?

ZEST FOR LIFE
"I have a great zest for life," he said. "My whole family did. And after what happened to me, I figure I'm living on velvet. Every minute is a gift."

He told about his experience as a young actor in summer stock in New England. He contracted pleurisy and double pneumonia in 1939. Broke, he was admitted to a charity ward.

"I was there a year and a half," he recalled. "It looked as though I would be a permanent resident. For a year and half I had 102 degree temperature. It became a way of life for me."

Ernie watched other patients with the same ailment come and go — feet first. "Every one of them got thinner and thinner until they died," he said. "I determined that wouldn't happen to me. I ate everything in sight."

WEEKLY VISIT
He retains a vivid memory of the weekly visits of the doctor to puncture his chest and drain the fluid. Ernie started sweating the moment he heard the front door of the hospital slam. Finally, he concluded the treatment was worse than the disease. He walked out of the hospital amid dire predictions.

"They said I wouldn't live three months," he remembered wryly. "They're still kinda angry because I didn't fulfill their prediction."

Ernie went to New York City, where his mother nursed him back to health with home cooking. Home was a one-room affair with a blanket across the centre. On one side, his mother sold house dresses that she bought wholesale for 50 cents.

"Even then, she had the joy of living," he said. "I remember one day she thought it would cheer me up if she dressed up in bright clothes. So she went out and bought a new dress and

Take a Good Look. It requires six to eight hours of his time. Not bad work, especially for a guy who was supposed to have been pushing up daisies long ago.

Mrs. Muriel McClary, former principal of Sunnyside, spoke of last year as one of transition and confusion as the new addition

Priest From Madras

Communist Influence In India Said Gaining Among The Poor

By NICK POWELL
 (Record Staff Reporter)

"It is not an uncommon sight to walk down a street and see starving children dying in front of your eyes."

This, one might say, doesn't happen in this day and age. But it does.

Father Justin Diraviam, a Roman Catholic priest from Trichinopoly, state of Madras, India, described this and other scenes of fantastic privation which take place daily on the streets in the cities of modern India.

Fr. Diraviam, lecturer in canon law at the Trichinopoly Seminary, is here in Canada making an urgent appeal for funds to help establish an orphanage and industrial school for the diocese of Trichinopoly.

He has been here in Sherbrooke, preaching at all the various Catholic churches in the city, appealing to all for assistance for the children of India. Yesterday he left for Montreal where he will remain for a short time before traveling on across the country.

"The population of the state of Madras," he said, "is about 20,000,000 people. India as a whole, has a population of some 450,000,000, and it increases by some 5,000,000 annually."

"People are born, eat, sleep, live and even die in the streets. Furthermore we have to battle Communism continually. They offer the people food and pass out all terrible sorts of propaganda. Yet they don't do all the things they promise. The force of Communism is a devil of an unknown nature."

"We would naturally rather have assistance from the West, but the Communists are making headway by going first to the poor and terribly destitute and promising them food. The poor take the help because it is needed so badly."

In these ways, said Fr. Diraviam, the Communist influence cannot help but spread. They promise the most important things to the poor. But their insidious campaign against the Christian element is perhaps the most damaging effect of their presence.

FIGHT CHRISTIANITY

Before the advent of Communism and its propaganda, Moslems and Hindus alike treated the Christian minority with a great degree of tolerance. Now Communists are working hard to eradicate any traces of Christianity.

"This is the reason for my being in Canada," he said. "We want help from this part of the world to offset the influence of Communism."

Promote Quebec First

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Paul Sauve said Wednesday night municipalities authorized by the legislature to set up industrial funds to promote industries should try first to interest Quebec concerns.

Mr. Sauve said this was not to be taken as a narrow-minded approach but simply as a common sense recommendation that home industries should first be given encouragement.

The premier made the state ment during discussion of a private bill by the city of Drummondville which proposes setting up a $600,000 industrial fund by loan bylaw. The bylaw would have to be approved by the Quebec municipal commission and the municipal affairs minister before coming into force.

The fund would be used to acquire by agreement or expropriation certain lands and properties and to use them for industrial or municipal purposes.

Turkey Drawing Held Y's Men's Club Presidents Span 33 Years At Meeting

Past-presidents of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club were guests last evening at the weekly supper meeting of the club held at the Magog Hotel.

President Curt Bishop welcomed the visitors to the second Past Presidents night and stated that it be an annual affair and a night that all club members would look forward to.

Past President Dean Bishop thanked the club on behalf of the guests and expressed the conviction that in the very near future the Y's Men's Clubs and Y.M.C.A.'s would be working more closely together. This move was now in progress, he said and should produce great results.

Given Suspended Sentence

After spending one month and two days in jail, following a knife-wielding episode in Lennoxville, a Lennoxville man was given a suspended sentence when he appeared in District Court yesterday.

The man was released by Judge Edouard Boisvert yesterday after undergoing mental examination.

The examination brought to light that the man was sane, but tended to cut up when drinking.

"You should watch yourself when you drink," the judge said. "As a matter of fact you should cut out drinking altogether. Every time you drink you lose your head," Judge Boisvert added.

Salvation Army To Visit Home
 A group of Salvationists and Home League Members plan to visit the Wales Home at Richmond, this Saturday Dec. 19, to put on a Christmas Concert for the guests of the home.

The Christmas War Cry will be distributed and also a number of the special Christmas Home Leaguers for the ladies.

A number of days ago, the officer-in-charge Sr. Capt. G. McEwan was presented with a box of money, gathered up and contributed by the residents of the home, to help The Salvation Army's Christmas Cheer program.

Contract Said Main Issue

Paul-Emile Dumais, representative of the striking Teamsters' Union, local 106, said yesterday that negotiations between Ball Brothers Transport Company and union officials are scheduled in Montreal for today.

The strike, declared Tuesday morning affects about 150 truckers in Sherbrooke, Magog, St. Hyacinthe, Granby, Drummondville and Cap-de-la-Madeleine.

Dumais said that reason for the strike was because of the excessively long period of time that has elapsed since the signing of the last contract which expired in May 1958.

The truckers have been without a work contract for the past one and a half years.

In Sherbrooke, 18 truckers are affected by the strike.

According to Mr. Dumais, company representatives will be Loran Bell, a co-owner of the company and Henri Lizotte of Granby, legal adviser.

Cyprien Miron head of Quebec's conciliation Service, said that truckers from the Ball Brothers Company were recognized as a public service group.

Public service groups in the province of Quebec are not allowed to strike.

Jacques Tremblay, Deputy Labor Minister told The Record yesterday that he had heard rumours of a strike but had received no official information.

"We cannot do anything about it for we have not been officially told of the strike," Mr. Tremblay said.

CLAIMED ILLEGAL

A company official in Granby said yesterday that the strike was illegal.

He said that the union had not made any demands upon the company, but simply stopped work without a reason.

The company spokesman said that this was the first time its employees had called a strike.

Jean-Louis Bergeron, manager of the Sherbrooke depot said this morning that pickets spent the night outside the depot located on King street West near the city limits.

"Everything has been conducted in an orderly fashion," Mr. Bergeron said.

Eleven trucks were immobilized by the strike in Sherbrooke alone.

In Short Supply

MOSCOW (AP) — The central committee of the Soviet Communist party called Wednesday for economy in the use of copper, nickel, lead, tin and other nonferrous metals, saying they are in short supply. The party sent letters to economic, trade union and party youth organizations and all workers and employees, said Tass, the official news agency.

Two Big Shopping Centres Planned To Serve Residents Of North Ward

Sherbrooke's 15,650 North Ward residents will soon be the best-served residents in the city when it comes to stores, except for those living in the downtown Centre Ward.

Not one, but two shopping centers are planned for the city's third largest ward. A construction permit for a $750,000 shopping center on King street West between Lomas and Farwell streets was awarded Tuesday by Aime Gagnon, the city's building inspector.

Land clearing is now underway. The second center, also located on King West will be between Bryant and Chartier streets. The Lomas-Farwell Streets center to be built shortly by the Yale Enterprises Company Ltd. of Montreal will be known as the

"King Street Shopping Center Ltd."

Twenty-five commercial buildings will be housed under the shopping center's roof covering a 115,000-foot surface.

A parking lot to accommodate 1,000 automobiles will face the stores.

Some of the major stores to be built are a super-market, a Zeller's store and a variety store, S. S. Kresges. Other stores will include a restaurant, clothing stores and a bank.

In the back of the shopping center will be a lane to allow trucks supplying the center with goods to service the stores from the back. Four entrances will give access to the center's parking lot. Two will be on King West, the other two on Lomas Street.

The second center to be built in the North Ward will be on King West between Bryant and Chartier Streets.

It was decided to build this center after council amended the zoning by-law extending the commercial zone from 300 feet from King West to about 500 feet.

This center is to include a Loblaw's grocery store, clothing, music and drug stores and a 24-lane basement bowling alley.

The request to build the shopping center was made by Joseph Parisi, owner of the property where the center is to be constructed.

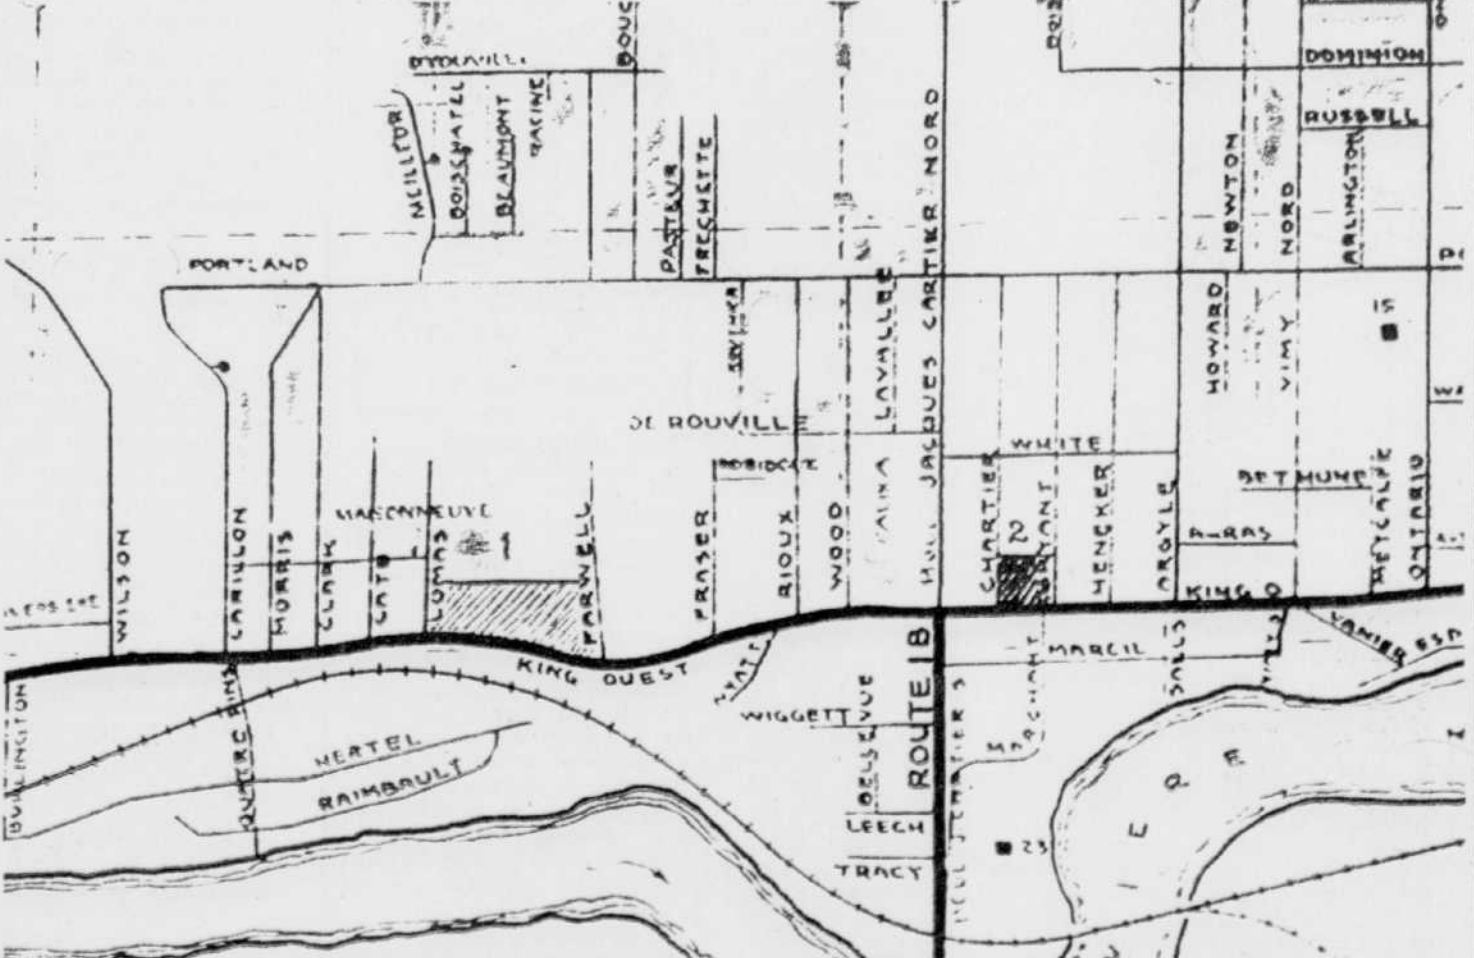

VALLEE REQUEST

At the Monday Nov. 31 council meeting, council decided to postpone for one year a request for a building permit to build a shopping center at the Prospect-Victoria intersection.

The request was presented by Gustave and Andre Vallee, present owners of a grocery store at this intersection.

The center would have been directly in front of the Prospect-Victoria triangular plot of land that is to remain residential following several demands for its commercialization.

The Vallee plan included an IGA Foodliner, barbershop, hardware store and other commercial buildings.

The locations of two planned shopping centres in the North Ward are pinpointed above. No. 1, between Lomas and Farwell Streets is the larger of the two, and will have 25 establishments. Ground clearing work is now underway at the site. No. 2 is the site of the proposed, smaller second center, between Chartier and Bryant Streets fronting King Street West.

Steal Radios, Sentence Put Off

Two Sherbrooke men charged with the theft of a $35 transistor radio had their sentences postponed until Dec. 21 after they pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday.

Yvon Beaudoin and Arthur Duperron, both of Sherbrooke pleaded guilty to stealing a transistor radio belonging to Lucien Nault, also of Sherbrooke. They appeared before Judge Edouard Boisvert in District Court.

11:20 as Chief of Detectives John Ascher stood by to question him.

Miller told police that one of the killers was tall and the second was short. He said that as he and Touhy walked up the front steps of the home where Touhy has been living since his parole, two men appeared. Miller said he showed them his retired police sergeant's star and said, "we're police officers."

BOTH SLUMPED TO FLOOR

The blast of shotguns followed. Touhy slumped forward on the porch. The wounded Miller, before firing at the fleeing gunmen, fell on top of him.

Mrs. Alesia and her husband, Henry, rushed to the porch but said they did not see the slayers.

Miller told police a third man possibly was with the gunmen, and probably was near their car in a nearby parking lot in the quiet residential district.

Touhy and Miller were returning home after visiting with Ray Brennan, a Sun-Times reporter and a co-author with Touhy of the ex-convict's autobiography, at the Chicago Press Club in the Loop.

INDIRECT BLAME

Brennan, who hurried to the hospital where Touhy was taken, told a reporter: "I wish I had not written the stinking book. Roger would be alive today." He did not amplify his comment.

Touhy was sentenced to 90 years in prison for the 1933 kidnapping of Factor. He also was given a 199-year sentence for an escape from prison with several other prisoners in 1942. He was recaptured about three months later.

Touhy contended throughout his long years of imprisonment that the kidnapping was a hoax perpetrated by Factor.

When he was paroled last Nov. 24 he was greeted by his sister and his wife, Clara. His two sons, Roger Jr., 34, and Tom, 32, were not present.

He told reporters he held no grudges and was not bitter. "All I want now," he said, "is peace and a chance to rest, to start a new life."

Fight TB In Korea

Canadian Contributions Needed

"You will see there the most hideous distortions of children's bodies—grotesquely hunched and twisted backs and chests."

No, that's not part of a horror story, nor taken from the diary of a concentration camp. It is an extract from a doctor's letter, describing a TB sanatorium in Korea.

In Canada, tuberculosis is no longer a dread disease, thanks to a medical system which seeks out every threatened case and treats it with tremendous care. But it might not have been that way.

When there is no money for food, how can a Korean mother pay for expensive drugs to fight disease? At CSCF clinics no charge is made.

This year an ambitious scheme for inoculation against TB was started in Pusan by the Canadian Save the Children Fund. Working on the principle that prevention is the best remedy, Fund workers have attached loudspeakers to their ambulances and tour the city telling mothers to bring their babies and small children for inoculation right away.

"If we can get this system widely adopted," says one doctor, "it will go a long way towards ensuring that the next generation is free of the disease. So far we have had most gratifying results . . . many mothers have come to us, and they keep our medical staff very busy. We hope when the program is well under way to persuade the Korean Government to take it over and expand the system in other parts of the country."

In a country where chaos is the order, and poverty is everybody's plight, this is an ambitious and a costly scheme. Its success will be largely dependent on the money available to buy drugs for inoculation. The Canadian Save the Children Fund is making a special appeal throughout Canada, in this pre-Christmas time of giving, for money to help fight TB in Korea. Please send a contribution to Canadian Save the Children Fund, 68 Hayter St., Toronto 2, Ont.

Princess Ann Is Hostess At Palace

LONDON (AP) — Nine-year-old Princess Anne, as hostess of her own party at Buckingham Palace Tuesday night, demonstrated the fine points of making and sailing a whizz.

A whizz is a wooden clothes pin to which crinkly paper, folded in a special way, is cleverly attached. If propelled just right it whizzes through the air.

The party was for about 20 girls of the Princess' age group who are members of the Buckingham Palace Brownie pack.

There was no regular Brownie business. The evening was devoted to games, whizzes and an exchange of Christmas cards, topped off with a cake.

The Princess' guests included the daughters of a taxicab driver, an electrician and a hotel maintenance man.

Transformation of a Lady

No matter how gracious she is at home or as a member of a social group, let a woman get behind the wheel of a car and her manners are apt to slip more than one notch.

When driving for a car pool in the early morning, she may start hitting the horn half a block away from the house where she is picking up a passenger — waking neighbors who happen to be late risers.

In parking her car at a shopping center, she may ignore the lines and park at such an angle that she takes up two spaces.

If a pedestrian gets in her path, instead of hitting the brake she is apt to hit the horn — and it doesn't make any difference if the pedestrian is old and feeble.

If she has agreed to give a friend a lift in her car, she doesn't allow herself time to get out and go to the door, but gives a couple of quick blasts of the horn, like an impatient taxi driver.

She may even snitch a parking space right out from under another motorist who is attempting to back into it — feeling clever to have beat him out.

And if, while driving along a quiet residential street, she meets a friend driving in the opposite direction, she'll quite likely pull in such a way that it doesn't make an abrupt stop and hold up the other person look silly.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

Few persons will resent having you disagree with them if you have mastered the gentle art of disagreeing without antagonizing. State your opinion modestly and in such a way that it doesn't make the other person look silly.

"I AM A LUMBERMAN," writes a man from the Maritimes. "In my work in the woods, I'm exposed to cold, dampness and chill, and, of course, getting over-heated. For years I suffered greatly from sharp pains in my hip and thigh. Then I was persuaded to try TEMPLETON'S TRC's—and within a few weeks I noticed a great change in my condition. I got surprisingly quick relief from my suffering and am now able to work and sleep in comfort. This man is one of many thousands who have found long-sought freedom from continuing pain with TRC's. Twenty-Two Young People Confirmed By Archbishop Carrington At Thetford

THETFORD MINES — Twenty-two young people were confirmed

ed by Philip Carrington, Archbishop of Quebec, at a moving service before a capacity congregation in the Church of St. John the Divine. A gold memorial processional cross was also dedicated by the archbishop during the evening.

During the organ prelude by Jack Visser, those to be confirmed took their places in the front pews, the girls, veiled and clothed entirely in white, on the Gospel side and the boys on the Epistle side of the church. The choir, led by Jack McCammon, Crucifer, carrying the new processional cross entered in procession chanting the ancient hymn of Advent, "O Come, O Come Emmanuel".

The candidates were presented for confirmation by the rector, Rev. Sydney Meade, Canon M. H.W. Seeley, retired rector, read the Scripture passage illustrative of the Preface, which was read PERSIAN PRESIDENTIAL PORTRAIT — In answer to the President's query, the Shah of Iran kneels to read President Eisenhower the name of the artist who drew the portrait which was presented to him in an exchange of gifts during his brief stopoff in the country Dec. 14.

by F. J. Buck, acting chaplain for the archbishop.

The archbishop, wearing a gold and scarlet cape and mitre, proceeded to the chancel steps for the examination of the candidates, who then mounted to the altar rail to receive the sacrament of confirmation from him. As the candidates went up, the choir and congregation sang, "Veni Creator".

Following the Laying on of Hands, Archbishop Carrington dedicated the processional cross in memory of Della and Joseph Johnston.

In his brief address, the archbishop welcomed the young people into active membership in the church. Citing his own life, he told them that when he was their age, and just confirmed in New Zealand, he little dreamed that he would someday be a bishop in the far-distant, northern country of Quebec.

But, since one thing seems inevitably to lead to another, suddenly after he was confirmed, he decided he was going to be ordained. But even then he had no idea where he would go or in what land he would be.

"Which only goes to prove,"

he said, "That in this world there is a job somewhere for everyone." When a person is just confirmed and is still in doubt as to what he should do or as to what is expected of him, it is best to do the things one ought to do.

In referring to the dedication of the memorial cross, the archbishop said that the processional cross implied that we are led on like an army by Jesus Christ Himself. Even our church music, he added, is army music, citing, "Onward Christian Soldiers," as an example.

Twenty-five years ago Archbishop Carrington held his first confirmation in Thetford Mines.

The archbishop closed his address by urging the class to be leaders and to be strong and wise ones. He also urged them to the use of continuing prayer that they might be wise and strong and true for the sake of Him in whose name they had received the sacrament of confirmation.

Following his address and after the recessional, those who had been confirmed received their certificates of confirmation from the archbishop. Immediately following a reception for Archbishop and Mrs. Carrington and the members of the confirmation class was held in the Parish Hall.

Those who were confirmed were: Peter Bourne, Douglas Campbell, Lyman Canning, Thomas Coleman, James Davidson, John Little, Brian Lowry, William McKenzie, George Moad, Lorne Mooney, Simon Riley, John Smith, Alex Steele, Charlotte Coleman, Shirley Donaghy, Margaret Gibb, Kathryn Meade, Cathryn Merrill, Candace Moore, Sandra Pharo, Audrey Picock and Kathleen Scott.

In a special service held Monday morning, Cecil Donaghy, Miss Ruth Donaghy, Mrs. Constance Little and Mrs. Marjorie McFadden were also confirmed.

C.W.L. MEETING

The Catholic Women's League met in St. Patrick's High School. The president, Mrs. D. MacLean, opened the meeting with league prayers, after which she welcomed two new members, Mrs. Morin and Mrs. R. Setlakwe.

The various officers and committee chairmen gave monthly reports. The president thanked the members for their co-operation in the bridge party and it was announced that the money from the party had been given to the purchase of reference books for the school library.

The meeting closed with the serving of coffee.

Eric Lee Wins Winter Run Of E. T. Motor Club

RICHMOND. — The Eastern Townships Motor Club held its winter event Dec. 12, with eight crews participating. First to cross the "final control" finish line was Ken Healy, of Danville, driving a Riley 1.5, but he was not the winner on points. Eric Lee, of the R.D.A. teaching staff, driving an Austin A 90, with Ted Turner navigating, won this part of the rally. Lee was only one minute late after over three hours' driving under winter conditions.

The contestants had to drive through 85 miles of snow-covered roads, many of them deep in the Townships countryside. The cars disappeared one by one into the snowstorm; alone now, they navigated their own way through nine selected points on the route and, from clues given them, figured their destination.

Bill Gardner, of Danville, came in second with his navigator, Ed Day, also of Danville. Miss Doris Perkins of Richmond, in an A 40, navigated by Miss Joan Blair, won the ladies' prize in this event. She was the only woman who dared the trial, giving a spirited performance, even after getting into close contact with a ditch on the route.

After the last car came in, the group retired to the club's HQ where a social evening had been planned. Party games, films, dancing and refreshments were the order for this special Christmas program. Even Santa Claus, who was expected to arrive in time to distribute prizes, had been delayed as his reindeer were unable to cope with the inclement weather as did the club's drivers.

Derek Tilley, head man of the rally, had praise for the contestants and congratulated them on the effort put into this novelty winter event.

Beavers At Home To Canadiens As Granby Moves To Drummondville

Baseball's Big Trade Didn't Help Players To Think They Had Received Christmas Gifts, All Surprised

CINCINNATI (AP)—The big baseball trade between Cincinnati and Cleveland, revolving around infielder Johnny Temple and pitcher Cal McLish, did not cause the players to believe they had received early Christmas gifts.

The fact, Temple, star second baseman, lead-off man and spark plug of the Reds, was downright surprised and disappointed. He said he didn't want to be traded, then added he would do his best for Cleveland.

McLish, who won 19 games while losing only eight for the Indians this year, said he had hoped to remain at Cleveland, even though Frank Lane, general manager, "never did like me." Later he said he was satisfied. And Billy Martin, one of the bluntest young men, who also came to Cincinnati in the deal, blamed manager Joe Gordon. "So I'm out of the American League now because Gordon doesn't like me," he said.

Only Gordon Coleman, a stand-out minor league first baseman, had nothing to say about being sent to the Reds in the package. The deal was one of 15 completed during the new inter-league three weeks' trading period, and was made just before the deadline last midnight.

Despite the players' remarks, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati club, and Lane said they thought the exchange strengthened their clubs for the pennant races in the National and American Leagues, respectively. The Reds tied for fifth place and Cleveland finished second.

Temple, who lives in Tampa, Fla., was told shortly after midnight that he had been traded. "I'm pretty shook up," he said later. "I didn't want to be traded, but since I am, I'm glad it's to the other league, so I won't have to play against my old teammates."

He batted .311 last season, drove home 67 runs, and scored 102 times. A fiery player, he will bring no joy to American League umpires.

The veteran Martin, who is expected to take Temple's place at second for the Reds, feuded with manager Gordon last summer. He told a newsman he was not going to knock Gordon "the way he knocked me," and added: "I'll be glad to play for a competitor now."

He batted .261 in 71 games, being out of the others because of injuries.

Pitcher McLish, at home in Oklahoma City, was concerned about his 1960 contract. "I know I had a good year, but does Cincinnati know it?" he said. It's hard to be traded before you negotiate your contract.

General manager Paul said he knew McLish had a good year.

Johnny Wilson Surprised To Hear He Has Most Accurate Shot In NHL

TORONTO (CP)—Johnny Wilson, Toronto Maple Leafs utility left winger and penalty killer, was astounded to learn he owns the most accurate shot in the National Hockey League.

"That's a shocker," said Wilson when informed by a reporter Tuesday that NHL records put him ahead of such sharpshooters as Detroit's Gordie Howe and Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens.

"I always thought I had one of the poorest shots in the league."

NHL figures, complete for the first third of the season, show

Wilson scores one goal for every 3.33 shots he takes on the net. He needed only 30 tries to sink his first nine goals.

SECOND SPOT

Next to Wilson is Boston's Bronco Horvath, who was hitting at a 4.48 rate, roughly one goal for every 4½ shots.

The rates for some of the league's top stars: Howe, a goal for every 8.15 shots; Richard, 10.50; Jean Beliveau, Canadiens, 8.67; Andy Bathgate, New York Rangers, 10.89.

Wilson credited to luck much of his success this season.

Marlies To Get Red Carpet Treatment—Bush

GUELPH (CP)—Toronto Marlies, first-place club in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, will get the red carpet treatment when they play Guelph Biltmores here Friday night.

Marlies plan to wear white ties and tails to the game and are expected to parade around the arena ice before changing into their uniforms.

The affair follows an OHA meeting Monday night at Toronto when Eddie Bush, coach of the Biltmores, criticized the dress and appearance of junior players.

The way some of these juniors come dressed to play games in some of the out-of-town rinks is a disgrace to the world's fastest game," said Bush.

"Some of the boys that come to Guelph are dressed in jeans and jackets and wearing a day's growth of beard."

The coach himself will greet the "Dukes of Marlborough" for Friday's contest with a city-owned red carpet leading to the entrance of the arena.

Argos Sign Two Players For '60

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Wednesday signed tackle Nick Mumley and halfback Hal Waggoner for the 1960 football season.

Waggoner is expecting his citizenship papers in April. He was a former all-star with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who released him during the 1957 season.

Mumley, a 250-pound former Purdue player, was here briefly last season after being cut by Philadelphia Eagles of the National League.

"Everything I've tried has turned out right,"

"Of course, I always work on my shot," he added. "Doesn't every player? In the summer I go down in the basement and practice."

"Another thing: I think you have to dig hard to get into good spots. If you hang back, the defence gets in position and you're trying to shoot through legs and sticks."

Wilson credited to luck much of his success this season.

Jean Lambert Of Victoriaville Is Setting Pace For Marksmen In Local League, Four Tied For Second Spot

Jean Lambert of Victoriaville moved into the lead for scoring honors in the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League, according to the latest release by Jean Chartier, league statistician.

Lambert registered a goal Tuesday evening in Granby and this allowed him to take over the top berth by one point over four other players stalemated for the runner-up spot. Lambert has four goals with seven assists for his total of 11 points as the league's top marksmen.

Bob Bedard, Sherbrooke, Leon Michelin, Victoriaville, Kenny Biggs, Drummondville, and Ray St. Cyr, Sherbrooke, are deadlocked in second. Bedard and Michelin are the top goal-getters with five each while Lambert and Marcel Benoit, Sherbrooke, have garnished the most assists, seven.

Claude Bergeron of Asbestos has the best average for the goalies having muffed only 15 times in eight games for a 1.87 average. His closest rival is Joe Lacoursiere of Drummondville with 2.75.

Drummondville is the most penalized club in the O'Donnell circuit with a total 105 minutes in the sin-bin compared to 69 by Granby. Sherbrooke, has amassed 104 while Victoriaville has 102. It then drops to Asbestos with 82 minutes while Granby, the new entry in the league, is last.

Charley Scott's Peace Of Mind Is Making Him More Destructive In Ring, Meets Benny Kid Paret Friday Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Peace of mind is making Charley Scott more destructive in the ring. So says the top-ranking welterweight contender from Philadelphia, and the record backs him. Charley has won six straight, including a ninth round technical knockout of Sugar Hart, Hart was the No. 1 contender until that Oct. 19 defeat.

Scott, a crisp, punching left hooker, is favored to run his streak to seven Friday night when he meets fast striking Benny (Kid) Paret, the Cuban middleweight, in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

WINNING STREAK
The little stronger was just another good Philly welter until he started his winning streak a year ago by beating Jerry Black. Then he swept five in a row, including two over Ike Logart, and decisive conquests of Ralph Dupas and Hart.

What happened?
"I had managerial troubles and problems at home," said Charley. "I couldn't concentrate. Then Norman Henry became my manager and things got better at home, too. For a change all I had to worry about was fighting. And that was the easiest."

How about his added punching power?
"I'm looser, I guess," replied Charley. "I'm not doing anything different that I can see. I'm just punching naturally. The way I'm going now I just can't wait to get a shot at Jordan." Don Jordan of Los Angeles is the welterweight champion.

Manager Henry is trying to set up the title fight.

$75,000 OFFER
"Promoter Herman Taylor has offered Jordan $75,000 to defend against Charley in Philadelphia," said Henry. "The NBA has given Jordan until Jan. 15 to sign for a title fight. Charley deserves the chance."

Jordan, apparently, is in no hurry to fight following his fourth round knockout by Argentine champion Federico Thompson at Buenos Aires four nights ago. Jordan said he hadn't fully recovered from siege of virus.

Scott, 23, now has a 24-9 record, including 13 kayos. He will give away about six pounds—154 to 148—40 the husky Paret. The Cuban kid has a 28-6-2 record including a draw with unbeaten Jose Torres.

Camden, N.J. — Gene (Ace) Armstrong, 155½, Elizabeth, N.J., outpointed Rudy Ellis, 166, Chicago, 10.

National Football League Finals To Pit Potent Offensive Against Rugged Defence For Championship Dec. 27

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A look at the final National Football League statistics released Wednesday indicates the championship battle Dec. 27 pits a potent offensive Baltimore club against a rugged New York defence.

For the second year in-a-row the defending champion Colts, western conference titleholders, captured first place in total offence with 4,458 yards and in scoring with 374 points.

Thanks to the passing of quarterback Johnny Unitas and the receiving of Ray Berry, Lenny Moore, Jim Mutscheller and company, the Colts supplanted Pittsburgh for top honors in total yardage gained passing with 2,763 yards.

The Giants, with big Sam Huff holding up the middle of the line, showed they were the best de-

Charley Conerly Wins Hickok Pro Award For Nov.

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Conerly, the veteran quarterback who led New York Giants to the eastern title of the National Football League, Wednesday was named winner of the November award in the S. Rae Hickok pro athlete of the year poll.

The 38-year-old star from Clarksdale, Miss., topped Wilt Chamberlain of the pro basketball Philadelphia Warriors and quarterback Johnny Unitas of Baltimore Colts in the monthly balloting by a national panel.

Conerly piled up 42 first place votes and 152 points. Chamberlain had 75 points and Unitas 65.

This qualified Conerly for the pro athlete of the year voting and the $10,000 belt that goes to the winner. Previous monthly winners were Bob Pettit, Ed L. Banks, Elgin Baylor, Art Wall Jr., Harvey Haddix, Ingemar Johansson, Jose Becerra, Willie McCovey, Early Wynn and Larry Sherry.

Sawyer made the plea during a brief meeting of citizens from California and Nevada who will be involved in handling visitors for the international games in February.

Sawyer said there had been a great deal of publicity over past racial incidents in the Reno area. Anything similar during the Olympics, he said, would give the United States and Nevada a black eye.

Governor Sawyer Asks To Avoid Racial Incidents

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Governor Grant Sawyer Wednesday called on hotelmen and officials to co-operate in avoiding any racial incidents during the 1960 Winter Olympics at nearby Squaw Valley, Calif.

Sawyer said there had been a great deal of publicity over past racial incidents in the Reno area. Anything similar during the Olympics, he said, would give the United States and Nevada a black eye.

Los Angeles, which turned out to be a disappointing club, took second place honors in total offence for the second year in-a-row. The Rams picked up 2,482 yards passing and 1,778 rushing for a 4,260 total. New York was third with a 4,173 total.

In rushing offence, behind the Browns were Washington, 1964, and Green Bay, 1967.

The Browns finished No. 1 in the most accurate passing category, completing 57.6 per cent of their tosses.

Second in scoring was New York with 374 points followed by Cleveland with 270.

Pittsburgh Steelers took the No. 2 spot in defensive rushing with a 3.7 mark while Chicago Cardinals and Detroit tied for third with 3.9 marks.

The Steelers also were second in pass defence, giving up 44.9 per cent. New York was third with 45.1.

First Place At Stake For Pepin's Squad, Rockets Out To Extend Home Record; Progress Club To Draw Car

Two games are on tap this evening in the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League. Sherbrooke will be at home to Victoriaville while Drummondville will receive the visit of the Granby Vics. The tilt in Drummondville is booked for 9:00 while the local one is at 8:30.

The Canadiens will have a chance to move into undisputed possession of first place if they should post a victory here over the Beavers. At present they are deadlocked with the Meteors of Asbestos for first spot and the squad from the Mining Town have a bye for this evening.

Tonight's fixture is the third between the two teams and the Yvon Pepin club have two wins over the Dube men. In the opener here the Victoriaville crew posted a 5-1 verdict while in the second encounter the Canadiens made it two straight with 5-3 victory.

Sherbrooke have had the week off and in their last outing they eked out a close 5-4 win over the Granby Vics. Coach Dube has been working his players hard in order to try and get them in fine shape and has been concentrating on defence and shooting.

The Beavers will have Pee Wee Theriault back in uniform for tonight as he missed the last game against the Vics owing to sickness. The locals will also have a new player in Lorne Arsenault who joined the club recently.

The Rockets will be out to extend their home record this evening and are favored over the Vics. The Poliquin club can expect a hard fight as the Roger Bedard team has been building up and now have a good squad for the season.

The highlight of tonight's game will be the drawing of an automobile by the Progress Club of Sherbrooke. This is expected to take place during the first and second periods.

Chatham Maroons To Put Up Last Ditch Fight Against OHA, Club Wants To Withdraw, No Money

CHATHAM (CP)—A last-ditch effort to save Chatham Maroons will be made as a result of a meeting Wednesday night between Ontario Hockey Association officials and representatives of the Chatham Hockey Association.

The meeting was arranged after the Chatham association announced Monday night that operations of the Senior A Maroons would be suspended because of the club's poor financial position.

The Maroons played their final game of the Senior A series Tuesday night at Windsor losing 4-3 to the Bulldogs.

An OHA senior council meeting Saturday night demanded that Chatham pay a $2,000 performance bond, which was to have been posted before the season started, and to contribute 10 per cent of the club's gate receipts to the league pool covering travelling costs, officials' pay and administrative expenses.

DEADLINE EXTENDED
Following Wednesday night's 3½-hour discussion, OHA president Ken McMillan told the meeting that the Maroons' deadline for payment of the bond and the team's share of the league pool has been extended.

A deadline of midnight Wednesday for payment was set by the OHA executive last week.

Chatham club president A. L. (Mark) Hanna said Wednesday night that on behalf of the association an immediate effort will be made to arrange necessary adjustments in the team's overall financial position.

Wren Blair, manager of the Allan Cup champion Whitty Dunlops, has been invited by the OHA to assist in the effort.

Blair and Maroons' coach John Horek will meet all players on the Chatham roster today to discuss problems as a preliminary to a general meeting of directors of the Chatham Hockey Association in the evening.

"Chatham, which is a good hockey town, should continue to be a hockey town since it is an integral part of the league," Blair said after the meeting.

Black Hawks' Porous Defence Comes Up With Fine Performance

Glenn Hall Gets "Easy" Game For Change As Chicago Belts Bruins 4-0, 15 Penalties Handed Down

Goalender Glenn Hall's "easy" games have been few and far between since he joined the Chicago Black Hawks at the start of the 1957-58 National Hockey League season. But when he hits one he takes full advantage of it.

Wednesday night his defence corps — normally among the league's most porous — held the high-scoring Boston Bruins to a total of 24 shots on the 28-year-old veteran and he got his first shutout of the season, 4-0 over Bruins.

While he was turning in this flawless job his teammates alternated scoring with fighting and the game developed into one of the season's roughest affairs.

Hall, whose youthful mien and mild demeanor belie his hectic life in the Chicago nets, has a remarkable record in four NHL seasons.

WAS BEST ROOKIE

In 1955-56, with Detroit Red Wings, he was named the league's best rookie and made the second all-star team.

The next two seasons with Detroit and then Chicago, he was the first-team netminder. Last season was the first in which he missed any sort of award.

Wednesday night he relaxed in the first and second periods, making only five and seven saves respectively and then put in a busy third period with a total of 12 shots. Hawks had a total of 36 shots on Boston netminder Don Simmons.

Red Sox Name Connie Marrero As Cuban Scout

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today named Connie Marrero, a former Washington Senator pitcher, as a scout for the Red Sox in Cuba.

The announcement was made by John Murphy, Red Sox farm director.

Marrero, a resident of Havana, pitched with the Senators from 1950 to 1954. His job will be to seek out and sign promising young Cubans who are free agents, Murphy said.

Ace Armstrong Scores Decision Over Rudy Ellis

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Gene (Ace) Armstrong of Elizabeth, N.J., scored a decision over Rudy Ellis of Chicago in a 10-round televised middleweight boxing event Wednesday night.

Armstrong weighed 153½, Ellis 156.

The referee, Paul Cavalier, scored it 7-2 in favor of Armstrong. There are no judges in New Jersey scoring.

Armstrong's won-lost record now is 16-1. His only loss was here Sept. 2, when he was upset by Dick Tiger in a televised fight.

Armstrong jolted Ellis in the fourth and opened a cut inside the Chicagoan's mouth. Ace continued with hard rights in the fifth, his best round. Ellis seemed to run out of gas in the sixth.

Los Angeles Sign Colts' Draft Choice

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles of the new American Football League has signed Ron Mix, No. 1 draft choice of the National League Baltimore Colts.

Mix and Gary Finneran, a fellow University of Southern California tackle, were signed Wednesday, the first players in the Chargers' fold.

Sugar Ray Seeks To Form Union For Pro Athletes

BOSTON (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, world middleweight champion in Massachusetts and New York, says he hopes to form a union of all professional athletes.

He said he has talked with AFL-CIO president George Meany about the idea "and the more I talk to him, the more interested he gets."

Robinson said the union, as he sees it, "will include athletes from every sport, not just boxing. And it'll be under a national charter."

He said his idea is based on his old complaint that athletes don't get their rightful share of the proceeds from athletic events.

"Athletes deserve more of the money than they get," he said. "And if they organize, they can get it, too. An athlete has to come around and take care of him when he's all done."

Robinson made the comments Wednesday before leaving for New York.

Ingemar Johansson Hopes To Solve His Title Fight Dilemma On Visit To New York In January For Talks

LONDON (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson said Wednesday he hopes to solve his title fight dilemma on a visit to New York in January.

The unbeaten Swede is signed for a title defence against Floyd Patterson in the United States and is being scouted by British promoter Jack Solomons for a defence against British ruler Henry Cooper in London.

Johansson and his adviser, Swedish promoter Edvin Ahlquist, conferred with Solomons and visited the outdoor Wembley Stadium Wednesday. Solomons wants to stage the fight in that huge arena on Derby Day eve, May 31. Johansson knocked out Cooper in the fifth round 2½ years ago.

Nothing new came out of Wednesday's meetings. Both Ahlquist and Johansson said they would have to see what the situation is in New York.

Vincent Velella, the New York politician who holds the contract for the return Patterson-Johansson fight, has been indicted on a two-count perjury charge in New York. Only a few days ago, Ahlquist said Velella would have to be barred from the promotion.

Johansson has said repeatedly he would like to give Patterson his return fight.

"I would like to fight in June," said Johansson. "That means I must know definitely about any fight by the middle of March. Next month on my visit to New York I will find out how I stand."

REMEMBER WHEN... Max Baer, who died at Hollywood Nov. 21 at age 50, enlisted with his brother Buddy in the U.S. Air Force 17 years ago today. Max won the world heavyweight title from Primo Carnera in 1934 and lost it a year later to Jimmy Braddock. Buddy had two unsuccessful shots at the title, losing to champion Joe Louis in 1941 and 1942.

Patterson is scheduled to appear in Hamilton tonight and wind up his tour in Windsor, Ont., Saturday night.

Patterson still Hoping For His Rematch Bout

NORTH BAY, ONT. (CP)—Pointing for a still-to-be-arranged world heavyweight title fight with champion Ingemar Johansson, No. 1 challenger Floyd Patterson continued his Ontario-Quebec exhibition tour with a pair of two-rounders before 600 fans here Wednesday night.

Punching in flurries, Patterson floored Ritchie Nordan with a left-right combination in the closing seconds of one bout. The other was against Billy Tisdale. Both are Patterson sparring partners.

Earlier Patterson said he was confident that a more cautious attitude would help him regain the title he lost to the Swedish fighter in New York last June.

"I'd like to fight him again tomorrow but it looks like the rematch will not be completed until next June," he said. "He has promised me the return match and I know he is a man of his word."

The Moscow players are expected to fly to Toronto and travel here by bus Jan. 15 in time for some practice.

Ty Cobb Claims He Will Be Out Of Hospital This Weekend, Feels Fine

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm on the threshold of old age," said Ty Cobb, "and believe me, it's quite an adventure."

The voice on the telephone came through in a hoarse, throaty whisper.

"I'm all right," he said. "I'm feeling 100 per cent. I've had more x-rays and tests in the last few days than I've ever had in my life. The doctors say I should be out of here soon."

By "here" Cobb meant Emory University Hospital in Atlanta where he has been confined with a back ailment since Sept. 29.

Cobb hopes to be permitted to leave by next weekend. That means he will spend his birthday at the hospital. The famous Georgia Peach, who played the first of his 3,033 major league games some 55 years ago, will be 73 Friday. He spent 22 of his 24 years in the majors with Detroit Tigers, finishing with Philadelphia Athletics.

It's 31 years now since he hung up his spikes, but Cobb's interest in baseball hasn't waned. He hardly sees more than three or four games a year, but he keeps abreast of the sport and the players through the newspapers.

"I see where the boys are stealing bases again," he remarked. "That's wonderful. I don't get to see many games any more, but I make it a point to see this White Sox fellow (Luis) Aparicio whenever I can. And of course the Giants' Willie Mays."

The man who owns a lifetime mark of .367 and 12 times led the American League in batting, once stole 96 bases during a season.

"You know, people wondered why I tried to steal when we were eight or 10 runs ahead. I'll tell you why. I did it for psychological reasons. First of all, my team wasn't hurt if I was thrown out. I did it to create a mental hazard. I wanted the pitcher to know I'd run any time. So the next day, or the day after, if I got on base in a tied-up ball game, the pitcher would become so jittery and nervous trying to keep me close to the bag, that his attention was distracted from the batter. That's where it paid off. We won many a ball game that way."

Nick Mickoski Turns In Hat-Trick As Providence Wallops Bisons 8-2

Veteran Nick Mickoski of the Providence Reds, recently farmed out by the Boston Bruins, had the American Hockey League scoring spotlight all to himself today.

Mickoski, who spent 11 seasons in the National Hockey League, turned in a three-goal performance Wednesday night in triggering Providence to an 8-2 victory over the Bisons in Buffalo. No other games were scheduled.

The 32-year-old centre saw service with four NHL teams. He broke in with New York in 1948 and also played with Chicago, Detroit and Boston.

Mickoski's first goal of the game came late in the second period and made the score 3-0. He added two in the final stanza, the last one on a breakaway.

OTHER GOALS SCATTERED Lorne Davis, Rudy Panagabko, Bo Elik, and Earl Reibel scored the other Providence goals. Dick Gamble and Billy Dea were the Buffalo marksmen.

The Reds, who bolted to a 5-0 lead before Buffalo scored midway through the third period, moved to within four points of first-place Springfield Indians. The Bisons are fourth, five points behind third-place Rochester Americans.

Action in the league resumes with six weekend contests. Saturday Rochester visits Cleveland, Buffalo is at Hershey and Providence at Springfield.

Rochester plays at Buffalo. Hershey at Providence and Springfield at Quebec in Sunday's schedule.

Buster Ramsey Named Coach Of Buffalo Bills

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Gardner (Buster) Ramsey, defensive coach of Detroit Lions, Wednesday became the new American Football League's first coach. He was named to head the staff of the Buffalo Bills.

Ramsey, 39, a former all-America guard at William and Mary, has spent 14 seasons as a player and assistant coach in the National Football League.

Terms of his three-year contract with the Bills were not learned.

General Practice For Juveniles Is Listed For Sunday At 5.00; Players Must Bring Their Own Equipment

A general practice of all hockey players of juvenile age, who haven't yet signed for any other league will take place on Sunday afternoon 5.00 to 6.30 immediately after the Sherbrooke Beavers-Asbestos game at the Sherbrooke Arena.

This is in view of the formation of the new Sherbrooke juvenile league which is being formed as a farm league to the Sherbrooke Junior League. Four clubs will form this league as follows: St. Pat's Maroons, Optimist Beavers, Canadian Progress St. Francis and Aramis Indians. Any player will have the right to participate in three junior games during the season without effecting his juvenile status.

Any player from Sherbrooke or within a radius of seven miles around the city is asked to be present with his own equipment for this practice and is asked to come after 4.00 o'clock. The final signing of players will take place and they will be divided into the four clubs similar to the system used in the junior league.

A special invitation is extended to goalkeepers and the junior league goalkeepers' equipment will be used for Sunday's practice along with three other sets. The schedule will open before the end of the month. Any player, who lives within a radius of seven miles, who signs a card will have to furnish his own transportation during the season.

It is hoped next season, to form a midget league to be followed by bantam pee-wee and mosquito loops within the next five years. All these leagues will be farm leagues to one another. This will give a chance to young players to start together and help to develop themselves into top players. This is the only way to develop players through organized leagues.

The president of the Juvenile League this year is Claude Beaudoin. He is also president of the Aramis club. He is ably assisted by a hard working staff which includes Al Kaplan, Albert Poulin, Maurice Proulx and the Junior League Executive. Sunday is the last chance for players of Juvenile age to be signed as clubs will be divided immediately after the practice.

Cus D'Amato Is Ordered To Stand Trial On Feb. 8

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight manager Cus D'Amato was ordered Wednesday to stand trial in special sessions Feb. 8 on a charge of failing to answer a subpoena—a violation of the general business law—from the attorney general's office.

The attorney general's office is one of three governmental agencies which have investigated or still are probing the promotional background of the June 26 Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight. D'Amato manages Patterson.

Conviction could result in a year's prison term or a $500 fine, or both.

Tuesday the state supreme court postponed until Jan. 11 D'Amato's hearing on a motion seeking return of his managerial licence by the state athletic commission. The commission revoked the licence last month.

Kiwanian Jack Kastner Addresses Club At Meeting In Waterloo

WATERLOO — An inspiring talk on Faith, given by Jack Kastner, was enjoyed by members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly meeting.

Mr. Kastner who was introduced by Kiwanian Jim Buckner, began his talk by relating experiences during World War II. In 1936 the German Army invaded his native country of Austria. In 1938, while studying at the University of Austria, he was arrested by the Gestapo. He was jammed into a small cell, built to accommodate eight, with 60 other prisoners and guarded by storm-troopers. For a year and a half he was moved from camp to camp in Austria and Germany in sealed cattle cars. During this time, he was half fed, made to do hard labor, questioned frequently and beaten. He did not dwell on his life in the camps, as he believes that the past should be left and not dug up.

He turned his talk to Faith and how it helped him to endure the hardships and the privations. It was his Faith in God and the Ultimate Goodness in man that made it possible to endure that year and a half and come out alive.

A short business meeting was held during which Christmas plans were organized.

Three committees were set up. The collection of toys to be repaired for needy children will be looked after by Butch Bouchard, assisted by Sam Waye, John Chapman, John MacAskill, and Tom Gardner. Tom Wilkinson assisted by Walter Hughes, Sylvia Bonneau, and Jacques Chagnon will be in charge of food baskets. The Christmas party will be organized by George Tetreault, assisted by Dave Schaeffer, Maurice Lalumiere, and Roger McKegow.

Kiwanian Christmas trees will be on sale at the old town hall site on December 19.

The club sang Happy Birthday to Moe Singfield. A hearty welcome-back-to-the-club was given Howard Quilliams, who was visiting from Seven Islands.

A lively sing-song was led by Tom Wilkinson with Walter Hughes at the piano.

With President Wally Jenks at the head table were Jack Kastner, Phil Bonnick, Rev. Glynn Davies, Walter Hughes and Howard Quilliams.

EVENSONG SERVICE

A well-attended Evensong service at St. Luke's celebrated the completion of the rectory improvement campaign. It was with a feeling of thankfulness that the committee, the volunteers and parishioners joined in the service. Ven. Archdeacon Lidstone, of Granby, conducted the service, assisted by Orrin Rexford, of Foster.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. MacIntosh beautifully rendered an anthem, Fight the Good Fight, set to music by Rev. Geoffrey Beaumont, M.A., M.B.E.

Archdeacon Lidstone's sermon was based on the Church with its three special features: its glorious message; its glorious ministry; its glorious Master.

The Archdeacon urged that we might hear the glorious message, assist the glorious ministry and serve the glorious Master. He commended the parish of St. Luke's on the way it had carried on and fulfilled its duties during the past few months with no rector as leader. He expressed joy that Rev. G. L. Norris will take charge for Christmas.

Following the service members of the congregation were pleased to inspect the rectory with its many improvements, and a social hour with a light lunch served in the Church Hall completed the evening.

Before closing, Mr. Walter

Hughes made a presentation of two books to Mr. Rexford on behalf of St. Luke's in appreciation of the service rendered as lay reader during the past few months. Mr. Rexford expressed thanks saying it had made his work much easier with the co-operation and help of the parish. He complimented the splendid leaders in the various organizations. He mentioned especially the organist, Mrs. MacIntosh, and the two church wardens, Mr. Hughes and Mr. MacIntosh.

Canadians Like 'Real Square' Yule Cards This Year

Greetings Wider, But Santa Claus Is Much Slimmer

Christmas cards tend to be "real square" this year. Sick humor and the slim jim style are being replaced by the square card with the conventional message.

While cards are wider, Santa is slimmer. St. Nick — with a waistline — romps across cards selling well in every province.

Most popular in card stores across the country are packs of 25 cards of one design. D. R. Wallace, district manager for the Prairies of a large card manufacturing company, estimates that 50 per cent of total sales will be solid packs.

REFLECTS SWITCH

"The sender used to look at a card and say, 'It suits Aunt Sue or Uncle Ben.' Now the receiver gets a card and says, 'Isn't this just like good old Joe?'" Mr. Wallace says.

This reflects the change from 10 years ago when the sender matched cards to the personality of the receiver. Now cards refect the sender's personality.

Winter scenes, popular everywhere, are especially popular along the west coast. At Vancouver, citizens can buy boxes of assorted Vancouver scenes. The snow scenes are used extensively for both personal and business cards at Edmonton. Personalized cards are in vogue on the Prairies this year.

Contemporary humor, popular in the East last year, has gained mild popularity in the West this year. Called studio, contemporary, sick or beat, the cards sell for 25 cents each. Sample greeting: "Hope a very special friend has a very special Christmas... and I hope yours is nice too."

POPULAR IN QUEBEC

Religious cards have wide appeal in the province of Quebec. One firm, which produces cards in French, turns out 50 per cent of its work with religious motifs. Reproductions of contemporary Canadian art and the old European masters are growing in demand. Half of the 80 designs by a six-year-old Quebec firm were done by Canadians. One of the Canadian reproductions is a felt-brush drawing of Colin Haworth, 43-year-old Montreal public relations executive who draws in his spare time.

Pastel shades, particularly turquoise and pink, have made great inroads into the traditional red and green shades in Ontario and Quebec. Gold and silver sparkle on many Ontario-sold cards.

In the Maritimes, the demand for religious cards appears to be confined to elderly people. In the West they make up about 15 per cent of the card market.

At Vancouver, one retail outlet reported the sale of religious cards down 40 per cent but other outlets reported the cards were major sellers this year.

Prices, generally, run from $1 to $4 for a solid pack of 25 cards and assorted 50-to-a-box cards sell at 98 cents. They feature typical Christmas symbols—holly, candles, wreaths and bells.

SANTA IS SLIMMER — Santa is slimmer on most of this year's greeting cards, as seen (lower right) on a typical children's card. This was one of the trends noticed in a country-wide check on the type of cards Canadians are buying this season. Here are some of them: Top row (left), a felt-brush drawing by Colin Haworth, Montreal public relations executive who draws in his spare time; (centre) an ever-popular scenic card, this one by landscape artist Tom Roberts; (right) the "sick" card; on the inside this one says "it's the tramp, tramp, tramp of those ruddy reindeer on the roof! Middle row, three cards from French Canada, ranging from a strictly religious design (left) to a sparkling Christmas tree (right); Bottom Row, (left), a card by a Quebec manufacturer featuring the painting of a Belgian artist. It is a modern interpretation of the Madonna and Child.

Bridge Test

Can't Disturb Player

LONDON (CP) — Critics were grumbling that Britain's international bridge players are losing matches because they're getting too old to concentrate.

The subject came up during a friendly game involving Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro, who have won four European pairs championships and one world title since the Second World War. Schapiro told the story.

A few of the bystanders quietly made a bet whether anything could disturb Reese while he was at the table. "Purely in the interests of scientific research," someone telephoned a girl who earns her living welcoming guests to a night club while wearing a costume consisting of 95-per-cent nail polish.

The girl appeared a few minutes later, clad in her working clothes, and sat down opposite Reese.

"For 25 minutes he continued to bid and play his cards without noticing a thing," Schapiro chuckled. "Then he raised his eyebrows mildly and carried straight on."

The 45-year-old Reese passed off the incident calmly.

"It would take more than that to distract me once I get going," he said.

MANY USES

Follow the "useful" theme even in your cards. There are many that unfold for a lovely Christmas mantle-piece. Some are designed as bookmarks, or for year 'round miniature pictures to hang in bedroom or in kitchen.

Bury Town Council Notes

The Bury Town Council met in the usual place, with Mayor Osborne Dougherty presiding.

Following routine business, discussion took place on early closing hours for business establishments. Arthur Prangle suggested that, as the bank will be open on Friday evenings, other places of business should fall in line, closing early on Saturdays and following bank holidays.

It was decided to find out what other firms felt about this action and the matter will be taken up at the next meeting.

Transfer of a plot of land from I. Cumming to the Bell Telephone Company was accepted.

A request was received that action be taken to force children to walk on the sidewalk instead of the road, as they are doing at present, and that the sidewalks be kept open. The ruling will be sent to the schools to be read to the pupils.

Permission was granted J. P. Lapointe to erect and light a tree on the square, the council voicing appreciation to Mr. Lapointe for his interest in this matter.

As no tenders were received for plowing sidewalks, a committee was appointed to look into the situation.

The secretary was granted permission to borrow money as needed for road work, fire station and truck and other requirements until such time as the regular grants are on hand.

Bills were presented for road work, taxes, stationery, oil, public charities and other matters.

The study of new and better lighting of streets took up some time and was finally left in the hands of a committee, which will explore possibilities.

Sidewalk conditions were next on the agenda. Due to the lateness of the season it was decided to start early next spring from the hotel corner to the station and continue as long as possible, until all are in good repair.

DRAPER'S CORNER —

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carrow, of Avon, Conn., spent a weekend with Mrs. Gignac and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dustin. Mrs. Gignac returned home with her daughter and son-in-law and will visit in Connecticut over the holiday season.

If you've been following my discussions of the rheumatic diseases, you must have recognized the great importance of determining the type of disturbances that afflict the individual patient before treatment is begun.

Once the rheumatic disease has been classified, the physician has a sort of road map. It's this way for antibiotics to prevent or cure infectious forms of arthritis; that way to a course of antimalarials or hormones to arrest the progress of a rheumatoid arthritis; the other way for drugs to prevent or dissolve uric acid deposits in gouty joints; over there to inject local anesthetic into a tender nodule or trigger point in fibromyalgia, and yonder for weight reduction of the obese person with osteoarthritis.

Absent from this list of specifics are many familiar standbys.

There's nothing about diet, strained vegetable juices, soured milks, cod liver oil, vitamins, supplementary minerals, mud or sulfur baths, natural springs or de-spring waters, colon irrigations,

TEXTILE CRISIS - UNANIMOUS VIEW

The seriousness of the crisis which has plagued Canada's textile industry for seven years is confirmed by the recent debate on the matter in the Provincial Parliament in Quebec. It is significant that the vote in that debate was unanimous, 81-0, both parties speaking openly of their concern for the future of this job-providing industry.

Here are some excerpts from the news:

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Quebec, Dec. 9 (CP)—The Legislative Assembly today unanimously adopted a motion urging the Federal Government to adopt without delay appropriate means to put an end to undesirable competition of foreign textile products on the Quebec market. The vote was 81 to 0.

Premier Paul Sauve said he hopes the Federal Government will take the trouble to say something about the problem caused by foreign competition.

"If they say they cannot do anything about it, they should say why," Mr. Sauve said. Quebec had no jurisdiction in matters of foreign trade and could only draw Ottawa's attention to the textile situation as it affected Quebec.

Mr. Sauve said that in 1953, when the Assembly adopted a similar motion, the Federal Government had simply acknowledged receipt of the text of the motion.

"If the Assembly adopts a motion such as this one—and we do not resort to this too often—it is because the situation warrants attention," Mr. Sauve said.

The motion was proposed by Emilien Lafrance, Liberal for Richmond. He cited statistics to demonstrate that consumption of Canadian-made textiles had dropped sharply in the past 20 years due to higher imports and that the number of employees in the industry had decreased from 98,200 to 78,300 during the same period.

Mr. Lafrance said the importance to Quebec of this industry is easily understood when one knows that the total value of textile production in Canada was $766,977,127 in 1956 and $412,018,417 of this value was produced in Quebec.

Labour Minister Antonio Barrette said he wondered why the Government had not taken steps to remedy the situation.

If the Canadian textile industry could count on 75 per cent of the Canadian market, it would flourish.

Liberal opposition leader Georges Lapalme said it is surprising the Federal Government ignored Quebec's requests for action on this problem. He hoped it would finally decide to take steps.

Rene Hamel, Liberal for St. Maurice, said he supported the motion because heavy foreign textile imports had affected a salaried class of workers who needed protection.

fect a salaried class of workers who needed protection.

Rene St. Pierre, Liberal for St. Hyacinthe, said the Federal Government should limit foreign exports of textiles to Canada.

Lands Minister Jean-Jacques Bertrand proposed a minor amendment to the wording of the motion, stressing that the present textile problem had existed for many years.

LA PRESSE

Quebec, 10 (by J.M.)—The 81 members present in the House yesterday afternoon were unanimous in passing, after amendment, the motion presented by Mr. Emilien Lafrance, Liberal member for Richmond, seconded by Mr. Rene St. Pierre, Liberal member for St. Hyacinthe. All members of the legislative assembly thus respectfully request the federal authorities diligently to take means to put an end to the foreign competition from which our textile industry is suffering.

The member from Joliette is convinced that a light industry such as the textile industry is necessary for Quebec because of the youth of part of our working force.

"We will certainly be lacking in our duty if we do not protest against Japanese dumping which is helping to slow down our mills," he said. "Ottawa has still not taken heed of the recommendations made by the Tariff Commission. It is time, after 25 years of repeated demands, that the competent authorities take the necessary measures."

This is also the opinion of Mr. Georges Lapalme, Leader of the Opposition.

Participating in the discussion, Mr. Rene Hamel, Liberal member for St. Maurice cited figures to illustrate the importance of capital invested in the textile industry in certain nearby centres of economic activity. Imports are increasing instead of diminishing and they compromise the investments. From 1954 to 1956, the value of textile products and clothing imported rose from $313,000,000 to $416,000,000 (an increase of more than 25%).

LE DEVOIR

QUEBEC (From Our Correspondent)

American manufacturers continue to get a bigger share of Canadian business. They have a very real inducement to export to Canada since an American exporter gets a substantial subsidy for every pound of cotton yarn, cloth or cotton product exported to this country.

Japanese, too, are a growing threat to Canadian textile jobs. In the past 12 months, they have shipped nearly $40,000,000 worth of textile goods to Canada.

Fashion Forecast For 1960

A success story is always a happy one and the growth of British fashion exports in the past few years is fantastic. To quote round figures the 26 export houses in the London area alone realized over 2 million (more than $5,000,000.) in the past 12 months, whereas a decade ago their decade ago their trade on the Canadian-American market was practically nil. Because there is such a volume of ready-to-wear sent across the Atlantic, it seems logical to suggest that 1960 forecasts gleaned in England will be of significance in Canada.

In this article therefore I hope to outline major trends noted in leading stores and discussed with personnel. "60" will feature many versions of the shirtmaker. The version line will also be on view and the natural waistline definitely established. Loose stroller coats may still outnumber fitted ones but trimming bows too high or too low at the back are passe. The Oriental look which recently descended upon us is expected to persist in gilt skirts and Geisha Girl effects. The chunky Swedish mode is likely to fade with warmer weather, although durable, shaggy mohair and attractive folkweave may reappear in the autumn.

Embroidery, particularly that type for which Madeira is celebrated, will adorn quality dresses and has already made its mark in winter cruise wear. Doubleknit jersey is competing with gabardine for spring suits and reigns supreme for dress-jacket combinations. Warm, slim, uncrushable, it has to an extent supplanted tweed. Plain shades rival checks (particularly Prince of Wales checks.) Saddle stitching is a new detail. Lighter-weight materials will include cottons, synthetics, linen, soft lawn and Canadian woven gingham.

One of the most eye-catching jerseys in a London press showing was a doubleknit gown with long detachable sleeves. Complete it could beat the wintry cold, and as a simple tunic look suave for after-five.

Tunics dominate the current fashion picture by day and occasionally appear in sophisticated evening gowns. Big buttons and wide belts are all important. Skirts are to remain, it is anticipated, at the 1959 level, slightly below the knee. Indeed no appreciable change may occur.

cur for some time, perhaps as long as three years. After that we may well prepare for a great, sudden downward trend, similar to The New Look of 1948 which pushed hemlines to nine inches from the floor and made every fashion conscious woman feel that she needed a new wardrobe!

A happier prospect is in the shoe domain. The unnatural point has had its day! A more comfortable rounded toe — closed or Peek-a-boo — is being presented for spring and the chiropodist may count on fewer patients! Seriously, not only have women rebelled against the foot disfigurement caused by recent lasts, the medical profession has voiced protest and relief does appear to be on the 1960 horizon.

Purposely I have made no prognostications for millinery. Many good English fells are exported but the blocking is generally done after arrival. As for winter styles observed, fur is ultra, and for those who cannot afford the real thing, there are nylon and fluffy wool versions. Two-tone effects, especially in velours, are popular, as are jaunty mannish types and packable jersey turbans. Cocktail veils and bandeaux appear to be as varied and intriguing as in Canada. Many young business girls, however, wear their casual bouffant hair styles uncovered, even in the cities.

Lingerie is lacy, colorful and drip-dry. Fine wool-nylon undies are available for chilly days and befoofed snug jersey pyjamas are advocated for cold nights. Costume jewelry is in abundance. Gloves deserve praise for variety and beauty; gold, silver, and sented — as morale boosters — sequin trimmed black are chic for formal wear. Evening bags vie with leather and plastic daytime handbags to catch the attention of the shopper. In short, accessories are attractive, but not revolutionary.

Arising from the fashion conversations came general facts beyond the styles of 1960 — or any other year.

Magazines exert an influence, especially on the teenager, and this mademoiselle is the object of much attention from the manufacturer. Young girls are inclined to spend their money on self-adornment and to follow transitory trends. The most lucrative market is nevertheless the career woman, who may be anywhere from 20 to 50-plus. The home-maker buys fewer clothes, but mother and daughter ensembles continue to meet a fair demand; and for the little boys there are now procurable father and son coats!

It is easy for milady to be ware of fashion. Throughout Britain window dressing is a well-developed art. Mannequins parade daily in many department stores both in dress departments and restaurants. Women's clubs are encouraged to organize shows and certain prominent fashion houses stage gala parades of style, complete with instrumental music. One such took place this autumn at Harrod's of Knightsbridge, London, when several hundred business girls were invited and given a luncheon gratis. Another medium is the night club act, organized by a choreographer and staged against a theme background.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Christmas Party Followed By Meeting At Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — A pleasant Christmas party took place in the West. Park Oddfellows Hall when approximately 30 members of Crystal Rebekah Lodge and gentlemen guests assembled at 6:30 o'clock for a chicken-pie supper served at long tables decorated in Christmas motif. The supper was under the convener of Mrs. M. B. Quillinan.

An exchange of Christmas gifts took place from the gaily decorated tree.

A business meeting followed with Mrs. Aileen Arbery, Noble Grand, in the chair. It was decided to cancel the December 22 regular meeting. The next meeting will be on January 12.

A committee of Henry Brock and Richard Middleton, Mrs. Henry Brock and Mrs. Byron Jenkins were appointed to look into the matter of selecting a student from Sunnyside School, Grade X, who will be sponsored by the Oddfellows to go on the Pilgrimage of Youth to the United Nations next summer.

Details will be announced after the committee meets with Dr. Kathleen Harper, principal of Sunnyside School.

Plans were made for the first in a series of flower garden whist parties to take place in the Oddfellows hall the evening of January 4. These parties have proven popular in the past and it was decided to continue them. A lunch committee was appointed for the first party.

HAPPY GANG PARTY
The home of Mrs. Mabel Crawford was the scene of a delightful Christmas party of the Happy Gang Club.

The twelve members were graciously welcomed into the Christmas decorated home by the hostess. A short business meeting was held and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. Tom Lees; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Leo Devost; publicity, Mrs. Charles Waide.

Since it was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eulalie Goodsell, she was presented with a gift of money and best wishes by the gang singing the Birthday Song.

Games were played and the winners awarded prizes, after which the group adjourned to the living-room where Mrs. Crawford distributed the gift exchange from the gaily-trimmed tree.

Lunch was served at the dining table made festive with a Christmas cover and centered with a miniature decorated tree. A prettily decorated birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Goodsell, who made the initial cut.

The next party will be held on Jan. 27 at the home of Mrs. Leo Devost.

SANTA COMES TO TOWN

Santa Claus had a busy day at the Boundary Villages. Early in the afternoon he came down the Rock Island hill in a sleigh drawn by a horse to Levesque's store where approximately 500 children and adults awaited him.

With his sack upon his back, he left the sleigh in the hands of his assistant, Donald Dewey, of Stanstead, and greeted the happy throng in French and in English. Then each child was given an opportunity to speak to Santa, who gave to each one a bag of candy.

The reactions to Santa included happy smiles, wonderment and by a few tears as some perhaps met the Jolly Old Man for the first time.

After all visits had been made, Santa was escorted to homes where there were sick children, who were made happier by Santa's promise to come back on Christmas Eve, and enjoyed the sweets he left.

Stanstead South Church Sunday School annual Christmas party was held in the Church Hall and attended by approximately 100 children and young people.

The 35 Club members served a lunch at long tables. Later Santa Claus arrived and from a gaily decorated Christmas tree and with the assistance of the Sunday School superintendent, A. S. Judd, Jr., and the staff, presented the students with gifts and all children with boxes of candy.

French Presbyterian Church Holds 9th Annual Meeting At Melbourne

MELBOURNE — The 9th annual meeting of the French Presbyterian Church, L'Eglise des Cantons de l'Est was held in the Church a.H.H. After a hymn, Rev. J. A. Smith led in prayer, and then welcomed all and expressed pleasure at the large attendance. Mr. Smith gave his report as follows: Services had been held each Sunday during the year; no holidays had been taken; 11 special evening services; Bible study every Thursday evening which from 14-18 members attend. There are 65 members on the communion roll and six communion services were held during the year; four baptisms and three marriages were registered, five marriages, one of which was for Philip Fortier, the oldest member of the church; six new members joined the church by confession of faith; 148 pastoral visits were made and 14 visits to hospitals. One whole week was spent in Three Rivers founding a new church there. A Mission Week in May was held at which Rev. F. Miller was the special speaker.

Roland Perron thanked the Sunday School teachers for their splendid work with the children. Mr. Gauthier and Mr. Lambert for the donation of a door for the hall, Jules Perron for the wooden steps he made for the front entry; and the Women's Association for their help in the support of the church.

Mrs. J. A. Smith, superintendent, reported on behalf of the Sunday School that progress had been made during the year. She also gave the financial statement.

The report of the Woman's Missionary Society was given by Mrs. U. Chabot.

The president, Mrs. E. Malboeuf and treasurer, Mrs. R. Gifford gave a splendid report on the activities of the Woman's Association. Two other reports were given by Miss Jeanne Larochelle, president and treasurer of the C.G.I.T.

Mr. Smith reported that the Explorer Group had disbanded and it was unanimously decided to inaugurate a program for boys called Sigma-C. Albert Perron was appointed leader and will be assisted by another church member. Mr. Smith also gave a report on the Bible Camp Action. Running water has been installed in the main building this year. Mr. Smith and Mr. R. Boissinot gave time, material and installation. Mr. Smith thanked all who had helped in building the cabins, and thanks were also extended to B. Quinn and Mr. Chabot for installing electricity. Mr. Smith stated that he had spent two weeks camping with young children of 7-13 years of age and had a weekend with the young teenagers which was very educational and profitable to all.
