Dr. H. G. Dion, Macdonald College to Address Members Of Ayrshire Club at Banquet

The Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club is holding the annual banquet at the Chateau, Huntingdon, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, and it is expected there will be a large attendance. Dr. H. G. Dion, Dean of Agriculture, at Macdonald College, will be the speaker. Following Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, and it is expected there will be a large attendance.

Dr. H. G. Dion has recently been appointed Dean of Agriculture and Vice-Principal at Macdonald College, to succeed Dr. W. H. Brittain, who completed, at the end of June, twenty-one very successful years in this position.

Dr. Dion is a Westerner, being born in Saskatchewan forty years ago and receiving his early education there. After graduating in Agriculture from the University of Saskatchewan, he did post-graduate work in soil chemistry at the University of Wisconsin, receiving the Ph.D. degree in 1942. In 1943, he worked in Britain with the Agricultural Research Council, first at Rothamsted, the World's oldest Experiment Station, and later on the Macaulay Institute for Soil Research in Aberdeen, Scotland.

In 1946, he re-joined the staff of the University of Saskatchewan as Associate Professor of Soils, where he was concerned primarily with research using radioactive phosphorus to investigate some of the phosphate nutrition problems of western crops.

In 1949 Dr. Dion undertook a three-months, one-man agricultural mission to Bolivia, for the Food and Agriculture Organization, to investigate the agricultural possibilities of the Altiplano Region of Bolivia, the high plateau at 13,000 feet above sea level. He joined the Food and Agricultural Organization on a permanent basis in July, 1951, and continued to serve with that organization at their Rome headquarters as a Soils Specialist until July, 1954. During that time he was principally concerned with problems of increasing production through more efficient use of fertilizers in the Far Eastern countries for rice culture, and in Latin America.

Dr. Dion continues to hold the post of Professor of Soil Chemistry at Macdonald College, in addition to his other duties as Dean of Agriculture and Vice-Principal.

Traffic Safety Campaign To Help Cut Down Accidents

The Traffic Safety campaign for the benefit of our school children, has entered its second month of activity.

As previously mentioned the object of this juvenile safety program, inaugurated by the Provincial Department of Transport and Communications, jointly with the Provincial Police Department and the Provincial Cinematography Service, is to acquaint the younger generation, at an early age, with the existing traffic hazards, and to impart to them sound principles and safe walking habits on street and highway.

In a report just released, the Hon. Antoine Rivard states that, during the month of October, 31 different areas have been visited by his Department's propaganda officers, and 110 school rallies have been held for the 125 schools of these areas, with an attendance of 40,289 school children. At these rallies films have been shown illustrating the basic principles of safety in walking, crossing the roads, playing outdoors, and so on. These films are presented in cooperation with the Provincial Cinematography Service, and impressed favourably the young audiences, and school authorities alike, who appreciate this way of stressing the faults responsible for traffic accidents, and developing the qualities of caution, judgment and steadiness.

Part of this work was accomplished before by the Provincial Police and statistics published recently indicate that as from March 1st to November 9th, 742 schools have been visited and more than 50,000 children contacted by police officers.

The campaign undertaken by the Department of Transport and Communications will cover all areas of this province. The representatives of the department have the primary duty to spread the principles of accident prevention, as CAUTION, VIGILANCE AND AWARENESS OF THE MANIPULATED STREET HAZARDS, are indeed the ONLY VACCINES available against the dreadful epidemic of traffic accidents, which we have to stem by all means if we are to preserve our human capital, the most precious of our natural resources.

Hockey Club Show And Dance Well Attended

A very appreciative audience attended the show and dance sponsored by the Huntingdon-Clydesdale Hockey Club at Heath's Hall, on Thursday night, November 17th.

Smiley Willette and His Sunset Ramblers presented an hour and a half show of songs, musical selections and a short spooky sketch, which were very well received. At the dance afterwards, the Mexican Hat Dance seemed to take the fancy of the patrons, also round and square dancing was enjoyed until 1 a.m.

As at the previous dance put on by this Club, a draw was made for prizes donated by Stanley J. Currie, Chas. J. Kyle, Menard's Meat Market and the Ladies of St. Ann. The winners of which were: Mrs. Roger Raymond, Jules Dupuy, Royce Beattie, Walter Hay, John Brins, Miss Anita Weiburn, Mrs. Lyla Beauchemin, Charles Hurlbut, Wilfred Rabidou and Roland Emond.

The hockey boys appreciate the support at both their dances and plan another dance early in 1956, which they hope will be equally successful.

Beauharnois Man Wounded By City Police

Chief Inspector Ernest Pleau told The Gazette on Monday that a full investigation into the case of Jean Dumais, 27, 30 St. Louis Road, Beauharnois, wounded Saturday by a police bullet near Richmond and St. James Streets, is underway and "the constable who fired the shot, may come before the police disciplinary board."

He said the report would be completed today and a decision made. In the past four months three city policemen have faced the board for unnecessary and incautious use of firearms in making arrests. They drew suspensions ranging from three days to one week.

now on a prolonged sick leave, issued orders of the day warning his officers not to use their revolvers in a capture unless the suspect was armed and resisted arrest.

This "only as a last resort" order followed a Toronto case in which police bullets wounded an auto thief suspect whose uncontrolled vehicle leaped the sidewalk, killing two nurses and injuring a child critically.

Saturday's case here started when a suspect was spotted driving an auto without licence plates. Csts. Alphonse Ruzajidis and Bernard Labonte in Radio Car 338 followed him several blocks, overtook him at Richmond and St. James Sts., chased the man on foot, fired two warning shots in the air and then shot the suspect in the upper right arm.

He is under police guard in St. Luke Hospital. An accomplice who escaped in the CNR yards during the shooting, is being sought.

Town Council Decides On Purchase of New Booster Pump

An adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council was held at the County Building, on Monday evening, for the purpose of discussing several matters pertaining to the Fire Dept.

It was expected that some representatives from the Godmanchester Council would have been present to meet the Huntingdon Council to discuss methods of fire protection for that municipality. However, no one appeared in this behalf. All members of the Town Council were present with the exception of Aldermen McWhinnie and Fournier.

The matter of a new pump for the Fire Dept. was discussed at some length. It was thought that the old booster pump could be repaired and still be made good use of, by some. However, it was over-ruled and it was decided to purchase a new trailer booster pump and a smaller portable auxiliary pump. The old booster pump is to be sent to the company from which the new equipment is being purchased and it is to be appraised for a trade-in and also an estimate is to be furnished as to the cost of putting it into first class condition. When these figures have been received, the council will consider which they will accept.

The matter of what equipment should go to a fire in the immediate vicinity of town, if required, was discussed, but no decision was reached.

A new contract for Mr. Rene Rousselle was taken under consideration. The previous contract had been for $50.00 per month and no extra payment for fire drills and attendance at fires. Mr. Rousselle sent a letter in which he outlined two propositions for the renewal of his contract, one calling for $96.00 per month and he would pay all insurance and car license costs and another for $75.00 per month, with the council paying the insurance and license costs. The council apparently had other ideas and wanted Mr. Rousselle to perform some extra duties of reading the water meters and other relative work at the Filter Plant, etc.

In view of the new propositions offered by Mr. Rousselle, Mayor Leo Cappello decided there should be a full council present to discuss the matter. Meantime he asked Mr. Rousselle to continue the work he has been doing until after the next meeting in December and what ever is decided, the contract would be retroactive to the expiry date of November 15th.

It was also decided to inspect some snow clearing machinery, which Mr. Frank O'Connor is getting, to see if this can be used on the sidewalks for snow removal. Some other matters were left over to the regular meeting as the chairman of the roads and the water committees were not present.

Three Accidents at Week-end Four Persons Suffer Injuries

The week-end proved a bad time for car accidents, three were reported, two on Saturday and one on Sunday, with four persons being injured.

The first happened on the Ridge Road at about 6.30 p.m. on November 19th, when a car driven by Oril Senecal collided with the eighth car of a freight train which was stopped across the highway. Senecal was injured as was his 12-year old son Gaeten, who suffered a broken arm. John Deschamps, Trout River, was cut on the throat by glass. All were taken to the Huntingdon County Hospital by the fireman on the train, Mr. Harold White. Mr. Senecal is from White's Station. At 9 p.m., Mr. James Elder was driving on the Ethelstan Road going to Athelstan, when he hit a power pole. The pole was broken off and the car continued for the length of the car. Mr. Elder was injured and was taken to the Huntingdon County Hospital, where he was attended to by Dr. Cameron. Damage to the car amounted to about $600.

On November 20th, about 12.30 p.m. a collision occurred at the intersection in Ste. Barbe. One car going toward Valleyfield and driven by Walter Goss of St. Catherine's, Ont., collided with a car crossing the intersection and driven by Maurice Brisson of Ste. Barbe. Damage to the Oes car amounted about $150 and to the Brisson car about $300.

Ladies' Auxiliary to Decorate Hospital For Christmas

A general meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Huntingdon County Hospital took place at the Masonic Temple on Monday, November 14th at 8 p.m.

The Treasurer's Report showed the balance of $1952. A letter of thanks from the Board of Governors was read. It expressed the appreciation of the board as well as the directors for the generous donation of $2600 made by the Auxiliary. This money was used for painting and the purchase of instruments and hospital equipment.

Mrs. W. Harper reported that sewing and mending was being carried on at the Hospital. Help is needed in this department and anyone wishing to sew for the Hospital, please contact Mrs. Harper, tel. H'don 872.

The Service Committee agreed to decorate the hospital for Christmas and the Ways and Means Committee will look after the kitchen needs.

There will be another meeting early in January and hope to have a further increase in membership for 1956. To date there are 333 paid-up members. It was moreover decided that any new members joining between now and December 31st, would be considered as paid-up member for 1956.

Four Fire Calls During Past Week

Four Fire Calls were answered the past week by the H'don Fire Brigade, two chimney fires, a false alarm and a car on fire. The first was on November 18th at West Street at the home of Wilfrid Bertrand, at 10.35 p.m. It was a chimney fire, but no damage resulted. On November 17th, at 9 a.m. at the home of Gerald Lefebvre, 32 Lake Street, for stove pipes, only small amount of damage. On Nov. 18th there was a false alarm for 27 King Street. On November 19th, at 9.35 p.m. a motor vehicle at the C. J. Kyle lot on Hunter Street, caught fire. This vehicle had earlier in the evening figured in an accident by running into a freight train. It was owned by Oril Senecal of White's station and valued at about $200.00.

Appliance Show and Cooking School Well Attended

Women! women! women! yes, Grove Hall of Braithwaite Bros. hardware store was filled with home loving women who wished to see and learn more about the culinary art. Shawinigan Water & Power Company, Canadian General Electric, Braithwaite Bros. and the Huntingdon Home and School Association were the joint sponsors of the electric appliance and cooking demonstration held in Grove Hall, on Thursday evening.

Though the evening was a bit chilly and a high wind blowing, the attendance was large. Grove Hall was not too warm early in the evening, due to the sweep of wind that entered the building every time the doors opened to admit the public. However, in short order the hall was made most comfortable, thanks to the fact that Mr. Herve Primeau had installed an "N-Furno" hot air furnace. This new type of hot air heating for homes or sizeable buildings is electrically controlled, burns oil and is thermostatically controlled. When installed in a home, small air vents lead to each room, so that an even temperature prevails throughout the home. The hot air is filtered and is of course humidified, so that no longer can it be said the hot air heating system fills the home with too dry an atmosphere for good health.

A quick preview of some of the electrical equipment on display was made in company with a Shawinigan Water & Power Company representative. From this gentleman it was learned that the ideal electric wiring for a home today should provide for six circuits being installed providing a capacity of 100 amps. In small homes 60 amps may serve quite satisfactorily, but best provide for the 100 amp capacity when having the work done in the first place, was the opinion expressed. One circuit would be for the furnace installation, the second circuit for say an electric stove, another for the refrigerator, others for the various lighting requirements, etc.

Hot water electric tanks were on view one had a piece cut out of the side of the tank to aid in the demonstration as to how the tank is insulated and generally constructed. "In regard to hot water tanks in Huntingdon town, all tanks should be drained from the bottom once a year. In rural areas where water used may be harder than that used in town, the tanks should be drained oftener. An accumulation is bound to form and settle at the bottom of the tank and this sediment should be flushed out through the cleanout tap at the bottom of all electric tanks," said the S. W. & P. Co. representative.

Miss Janine Turcotte, dietician of Shawinigan Water & Power Company for the past four years or more, held the rapt attention of the audience throughout the evening as she demonstrated the use of the various electric appliances, particularly the General Electric Push Button Electric Range. As Miss Turcotte impressed upon the women that all recipes should first be read over with care, and then select and measure ingredients, read the recipe a second time and proceed with the necessary mixing, preheating of oven if such is required. Following this procedure Miss Turcotte contended, time was thus saved and desired results assured. Miss Turcotte proceeded and for about two hours entertained her audience through instructing and demonstrating the preparation of foods and the way the modern G.E. Push Button electric stove operates.

A 12-cu.-ft. G.E. electric refrigerator was on the platform and was in use. This unit provided 9 cubic feet of refrigeration with the revolving shelves and many special compartments and the lower part of the unit was for deep freeze, providing 3 cubic feet of space. Several other refrigerators were on display of smaller sizes, and in color. The G.E. washer and dryer met with admiring eyes. Some wet towels were put in the dryer and after having been in the prescribed time were circulated among the audience. It was rather amusing to note how many women put the towels to their nose; yes, the towels smelled clean and fresh.

A beautiful array of electrical appliances were put on the hall. Prizes were drawn for several G.E. appliances were donated, also the foods as prepared by Miss Turcotte and 12 gift bags of Robin Hood Flour Company products, gifts from that company.

The prize winners were: Mrs. Alex Evans, electric mixer; Mrs. Alex Arnold, electric frying pan; Miss Marjorie Goodfellow, electric kettle; Mrs. Alfred Monique, electric iron.

The next list of prizes were the foods as prepared by Miss Turcotte during the evening: Mrs. J. T. Ewart, cake; Mrs. Cameron Stewart, fried chicken; Mrs. Wm. Dewart, sandwiches; Mrs. Jean Murray; Mrs. Alex Laberge, shrimp salad; Mrs. P. H. Oumet, T.V. snack.

Twelve bags of Robin Hood Flour Co. products were awarded the following: Mrs. Clarence Duncan, Mrs. E. C. Martel, Calvin Wright, Mrs. Clarence Macfarlane, Miss D. Ingam, Mrs. Douglas McGerrige, Mrs. W. A. McClatchie, Mrs. G. Whyte, Miss L. Duhamel and Mrs. Yvon Saumier.

Mr. D. A. Stephen in behalf of the Home and School Association presented Mrs. Turcotte with a beautiful bouquet of flowers as a mark of appreciation. The proceeds from the admission fee charged went to the Home and School Association and would net around $100.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Stephen entertained the several representatives of the S. W. & P. Co. and C.G.E. to a buffet supper previous to the evening presentation.

2,000 Pupils Benefit By Chateaugay Valley Project

Thanks to men of vision on Chateaugay Valley School Boards and to persevering Teachers, a project has just been completed which has benefited more than 2,000 pupils in schools of the area.

For the past five weeks seventy-three teachers and principals of Athelstan, Beauharnois, Chateaugay, Dundee, Franklin, Hemmingford, Howick, Huntingdon, Orms-town and Valleyfield schools have been attending the 1955 Inservice Training Programme at Orms-town High School.

A joint effort by Teachers and Boards, the project was introduced a year ago when Professor C. Wayne Hall of the McGill Institute of Education delivered a lecture series on "The Improvement of Reading in Chateaugay Valley Schools". At that time the average attendance was fifty-seven teachers representing eight schools. This year's Inservice Training Course has attracted staffs from ten schools in the valley with a total registration of seventy-three teachers. Because of the outstanding quality of his work in 1954, Professor Hall was invited again this year to deliver a second series of lectures on "Improving Written and Oral Composition in Chateaugay Valley Schools".

It goes without saying that for professional efficiency teachers must keep up with changing times. Some have necessarily been unable to attend University Summer Schools in recent years. Others, because of heavy teaching demands, have found it difficult to keep up with their professional reading. This Inservice Training project, therefore, partially solves the problem by bringing the University into the Chateaugay Valley.

The courses, though relatively short, have proved remarkably effective. Lectures are of two hours' duration with short workshop periods interspersed. During workshop time, teachers from all over the valley form small discussion and problem-solving groups. Again, because of the "on-the-job-training" nature, the courses emerge from teachers' needs and enable them to try out new methods they have learned and to report back to their Professor the ensuing week.

In his concluding remarks, Professor Hall thanked the group for its undivided attention and pointed out that the experiment was perhaps unique in rural Quebec. He congratulated the teachers for having taken time out of their busy schedule to travel so far for professional enlightenment. He concluded by saying that he was convinced of the worthiness of the project, but pointed out that the results could hardly be measured until the close of the school year. This implies, of course, that the project should result in higher teacher performance and in higher standards in general areas of Reading and Composition during the next few years.

In this regard it is interesting to note that the Chateaugay Valley Teachers' Association is perhaps the first in the Province to establish an Inservice Training Programme. This year it is believed that two other teachers' Associations at least are making serious efforts to do likewise.

Chateaugay Valley School Boards, through whose co-operation the project has been made possible, share the C.V.T.A. conviction that the investment is a sound one. It is felt, moreover, that the Inservice Training policy should go far to attract superior teachers to the Valley — teachers who consider self-improvement a professional obligation and who recognize the full implications of so close a working alliance between Teachers and Trustees in the Chateaugay Valley.

The Gleaner congratulates all who have been concerned with this valuable undertaking.

Inside of House Burned at Howick

The Howick Fire Dept. was called on Monday afternoon to the home of Mrs. Georges Rolin, Laford St., when smoke was discovered issuing from the walls inside the house. There had been a fire in the fireplace during the evening, but it was almost out, when smoke was noticed upstairs. The alarm was given, but it was too late to locate where the fire actually was for the smoke was coming out from the wall. However, it was kept confined inside the house and was badly damaged by the fire, smoke and water. Friends offer their sympathy to Mrs. Rolin, in her loss, she only recently took up residence in Howick.

Again the Royal!

From all the reports we have read, this year's Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, to most people just "The Royal" or "The Royal Winter Fair", lived up to its name of "The World's Largest Indoor Livestock Show". The same would apparently also apply to the many other departments which go to make up that unique exhibition.

We are still mostly unaware as to the showing and achievements of the various dairy breeds other than the Ayrshires. In the latter respect we are indebted to Gilbert MacMillan, himself, and his marked catalogue for the information about the Royal's Ayrshire Show which we will give in condensed form here.

The Ayrshire Show was comprised of exhibits from Nova Scotia,

Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Ontario and Alberta.

The Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area was worthily represented by exhibits from the herds of Russell Logan, Allister E. McArthur, J. E. Ness & Sons, R. R. Ness & Sons, and Archie Roy, all of Howick.

J. Grant Whyte, Huntingdon, and J. G. Wilson, St. Valentin.

In the individual Ayrshire classes the entries were: Bulls and Bull Calves 80 head; Females 308 head; making a grand total of 388 head. A number of the above were, of course, not forward but by actual count some 35 animals were paraded before the judge in the individual classes.

The judge was Gilbert Muir, veteran herd manager for Lippitt Farms, Hope, Rhode Island, U.S.A., who is also one of the most outstanding cattle showmen in the United States, likewise a native of Ayrshire, the home of the Ayrshire breed of cattle.

Premier Breeder and Exhibitor

At the conclusion of the two days judging, Monday and Tuesday, November 14 and 15, two of the most sought for awards were presented to R. R. Ness & Sons, Burnside Farms, Howick, Que. That is: The Premier Breeder Award — based on a point system with respect to the winnings of animals bred and exhibited in the individual classes by their breeder or other subsequent owners.

The Premier Exhibitor Award — based on a similar point system with respect to the winnings of animals owned and exhibited in the individual classes by any one owner.

The Bulls

Sale of Stars

According to Gilbert MacMillan the 1955 Ayrshire Sale of Stars held at the time of the Royal Winter Fair was a decided success, with a really top lot of cattle being offered.

Thirty-two head sold for a total of $16,510.00 or a general average of just over $516.00.

The four young bulls sold for a total of $2,485.00 or a general average of $621.00.

Topping the bulls was the recently imported Carnell Evolution, consigned by R. R. Ness & Sons, Burnside Farms, Howick, Que. By Carnell Hiawatha (son of the Howick Breeding Club's Rottenrow Remarkable) and with a wealth of record backing, he went at $955.00 to M. K. Dunsmore, Swanton, Vt., U.S.A.

Next high bid was Alderwood Eclipse, consigned by J. G. Wilson, Alderwood Farm, St. Valentin, Que., and he went to S. H. Diehl, Bedford, Penna., U.S.A., at $610.00. This is a son of Innismere Nettie and therefore a full brother of Alderwood Supreme, junior and reserve grand champion male at the 1955 Royal.

Brookview Wonderful's Lad, son of the famous Canadian record milk producer Glangarry Wonderful, and consigned by J. P. Bradley & Son, Lachute, Que., went at $600.00 to the order of A. G. Hansen, Bogota, Colombia, South America.

Top to Maine

The 28 females brought $14,025, or an average of just over $500.00. Topping the females and also the entire sale, at $1,000.00, was Chuaran Marguerite, a Stansell Bros., Aylmer,

Council Meeting

ST. ANICET COUNCIL

Editorial Notes...

Hindering The Work of The Fire Brigade

SOME people fail to use the few brains they have got when it comes to a fire and some fifty or so persons driving cars on Wednesday night at the time of a fire call, showed very little use of their brains or if they had any.

The call to the fire came at 10.45 p.m. and the fire truck was on its way to West Street in very short order. However, as quick as was the truck on its way, a number of cars were soon following closely behind it. This in itself is against the law, unless those in the cars are firemen going to the fire. What is even worse, is the fact that in a short time about fifty cars were parked at the scene of the fire and even the fire truck was blocked in. Had it been necessary for the truck to have changed its location for any reason, a large number of cars would have had to be moved causing much loss of time when time is at a premium. Lake Street and other streets in the area of the fire were completely blocked to all traffic and this added more problems.

In addition to all this, there are some who think they have to get to a fire as soon or sooner than the firemen and the fire truck. Thus, they have an idea that their own laws as to speeding and other violations are suspended for the duration of the event. It is reported that cars were speeding along Lake Street and other streets in town at rates of up to 80 miles per hour. The result of this mad stampede was the cause of at least one accident on Lake Street at the time of the fire.

The fire itself was a chimney fire, in which no damage resulted to the property and it was under control in a very few minutes.

It is time that the Police make some examples of these persons who act like they had taken leave of their senses and make them realize that their attendance at a fire is not so important as that of the firemen. No one has a right to beat the fire truck to the scene of the fire and they certainly have no right to hinder the fire truck at any point en route much less at the actual fire. Traffic is supposed to pull over to the side of the road out of the way of the fire truck and to stop until it has passed for a considerable distance before moving on. In future the police should check on every car that is at a fire that is not supposed to be in the area and then to issue summons to the owners. If this is done, this mad rush and scramble will be stopped. Furthermore, any car driver speeding to a fire, unless he can show proof that he is a member of the fire brigade, should also be issued a summons.

Herewith we quote some excerpts from the by-law which governs this:

Section V. — Article No. 6 — No unauthorized person with any vehicle shall follow within three hundred (300) feet of any apparatus belonging to the department, nor park any vehicle within three hundred (300) feet of a fire.

Section VI — Article 2 — All regularly appointed members of the Department are hereby given the necessary special police powers for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this ordinance. Article 3 — It is hereby made the special duty of the Chief of Police and/or other peace officers who may be on duty and available for fire duty, to respond to all fire alarms and assist the Department in the protection of life and property, in regulating traffic, maintaining order, and in enforcing observance of all sections of this ordinance.

Upon conviction before any court of Justice, persons may be required to pay a fine of not less than $10.00 and not more than $40.00 for each offence.

Chimney Fires Are Costly

OF all the fires that are responded to by the Huntingdon Fire Brigade, the largest proportion are for chimneys and stove pipes. An analysis of this type of fire would probably prove that the cause is due to carelessness on the part of people in neglecting to clean the pipes and chimney at least once during the season. This is particularly the case where soft coal or wood are used as fuel. Under such circumstances, it may be necessary to clean the pipes and chimney several times during the winter season as well as at the outset.

When a call goes for a fire, there is no knowing to what extent the fire may go, thus it is the policy that as many firemen as are available answer the call. In view of the fact that the pay for the firemen is $2.00 for the first hour or part thereof, a call to a chimney fire can be quite costly. If for instance 18 men answer the call, their pay alone would amount to $36.00. Added to this is the cost of the equipment turning out and any extinguishers or other fire fighting equipment that may be used and have to be replaced. The fire committee and the council as a whole could well consider this matter in the interests of reducing costs. For instance, if a chimney sweep were appointed to make a thorough check of all chimneys in town, the calls for this type of fire might be considerably reduced. The cost of cleaning a chimney (and the stove pipes if necessary) should be a charge against the householder or owner of the property. Should they refuse to have this work done and it is considered necessary to avoid fire, then the town chimney sweep should do the work and the town take steps to collect. Nominal rates should be fixed in order that the people are not exploited. Such a step would, we feel sure, be the means of cutting down the fire calls and thus reduce municipal expenses.

It has been mentioned at council meetings that only a minimum of the firemen should go to a chimney fire, but this would not work out as it cannot be known just how serious a chimney fire might be. The only way is to place a check on the cause and see that fire prevention methods are followed in this respect. This should have the effect of minimizing the number of calls throughout the season.

According to information we have received, there have been 13 chimney fire calls so far this year and the average number of firemen attending these calls has been 15. Thus the cost for the firemen's pay has been $30.00 for each call, depending upon how long their services were needed. Therefore, these fires have cost the town at least $390.00 in firemen's pay in addition to the cost of the equipment and the materials that might have been used. While this does not appear to be much, it is possible that it could have been saved if the chimneys had been kept clean.

Failure To Do Business

WE fail to understand why the Western Allies are continually beguiled by the Russians into believing that there is any hope that the Russians will reach any kind of agreement which does not contain all of their terms. When the Allies are prepared to sign an agreement which deletes all clauses made by them and contains only those which are Russian, then will the Russians be ready to accept. This has been made clear so many times now that people are getting just a little "Fed up" of hearing about conferences of the Big Four. It is a foregone conclusion that when a conference is called in which the Russians are one of the parties, that it will end in practical failure. The Western Allies might just as well tell the Russians that when they are prepared to consider the proposals of all parties concerned and to drop some of their own as well as other people having to do so, then they will meet for another conference.

The recent conference of foreign ministers has ended without satisfaction and because Russia insists on her way and will give no concession on her way and other members.

American and Canadian officials feel that there is no end to the cold war and that there should be no let-up of the defence plan. Canadian officials believe that Russia is bent on destroying the NATO organization and is doing her best to do so.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken from Gleaner Files

Oct. 25th: Editor's Note — The following letter has much of truth for the present day as much of what is written has already taken place. It is reprinted here with this view in mind:

Experimental Farm, Glen Innes, Sept. 15th, 1923. The Editor, Huntingdon Gleaner, Huntingdon, Que.

Dear Sirs: I feel I would like to enlarge upon a subject you touched upon in one of your July publications and if you think it is of any value for space I would look upon its publication as a favor.

In the July 17th issue of The Huntingdon Gleaner I read with some interest your editorial "Rumblings and Mutterings". The phrase is very expressive of the present day condition of things generally, which will terminate, as you suggest, in the throwing down of the iron glove.

The most substantial reference that can be made to the present day conditions will be found in 2 Tim. 3: 1-4: "In the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, untruthful, unloving, without natural affection, truce breakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God." Can anyone who has read the above deny that it fully describes men and nations as they are today?

This is one of the prophecies preceding three great events — the return of the Jews to Palestine; the fulfilment of the times of the Gentiles and the second coming of Christ.

It was thought by many that the recent Great War would end all wars. When peace was declared between the warring nations, efforts were made, and I believe most sincerely made by the nations, viz: Great Britain and America, that swords should be beat into ploughshares and spears into pruning hooks.

Peace conferences, Leagues of Nations, World Courts, or any other assemblies of nations will never bring peace to this world. Only when the time of the Gentiles is fulfilled "shall a nation not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more". This can be only attained through the reign of the Prince of Peace.

It is not yet time for that prophesy to be fulfilled. Incidentally it might be asked: Have there been any truce-breakers during the last few years?

Your article suggests and I firmly believe, there will be another war. I don't mean a minor war, although significant in a way, such as have eventuated since the Great War, but the Armageddon which will be unequalled to the last war, bloody as it was.

We only have to read about the construction of air-craft capable of carrying large numbers of troops, and the attention given to other devices of destruction to give us a slight idea of what the next war will be.

"Should or should not Canada share in such defence?" is a question put in your article, Canada, despite "the not good unity" will share in such defence. "The merchants of Tarshish and all the little lions" Great Britain and her dominions will be on the defensive and will take a very active part in the battle of Armageddon, and in the assistance of the Jews return to Palestine. What has Great Britain already done to that end? First of all, the Turk was driven out, and I delight to say that it was the Australian Imperial Forces that practically did it.

Another "muttering" cited was Lord Grey's statement that the great fortifications at Singapore were being planned to checkmate Japan. Japan has already had her share of disaster and affliction that could visit any country. In the last half century Japan has developed in the methods and sciences of Western civilization, becoming proud and powerful. In a short period of time her power and progress has been set back several years.

Where happened Germany's aspirations in 1917? Are these not lessons to us as individuals and as Nations to take warning against the perilous times in the last days?

With all good wishes and kind regards,

Yours Very Sincerely,

Monty Walker.

Editor's Note — Most of the foregoing has already come to pass and it is significant that this writer so many years before it happened, should prove so very true in after years as we now know it to be. There is much more contained in this letter which could still take place and present trends lead one to believe that they are possible. We believe the letter is a truly interesting Glimpse of the Past.

The Week in Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — The fourth session of the 24th Legislature was inaugurated last week with customary pomp and pageantry and amid speculation that it will be the last before a general provincial election.

The speech from the throne contained a continuing note of optimism about Federal-Provincial tax relations.

During the past 10 years the province has declined to take part in Federal-Provincial taxation agreements, accepted by all other provinces in Canada.

However, during recent Federal-Provincial talks in Ottawa, a new formula was put forward calling for an equalization payment to Quebec estimated at $40,000,000 by Federal authorities. Premier Duplessis has not said whether he will accept or reject the offer.

Under this plan the province could receive a tax directly, a right which Mr. Duplessis said the province would never relinquish. Legislation planned by the government was outlined in a set of 15 bills tabled in the legislative assembly after the throne speech was read.

The legislature will be asked to vote a $25,000,000 public works program and additional funds of $25,000,000 for farm credit, housing and rural electrification.

Largest single item is a proposed $75,000,000 roads and bridge building program spread over a five-year period.

The landslide disaster which claimed three lives and destroyed buildings at the little town of Nicolet, a few days before the opening of the session brought messages of sympathy from Quebec's lieutenant-governor Gaspard Fauteux and Premier Duplessis.

The premier said, in an interview, his government will co-operate "to the fullest extent possible" in the solution of problems raised by the landslide.

However, the premier added, geological and engineering problems are involved in the solution and no hurried decision can be taken. Official reports will first be received from Federal and Provincial engineers now surveying the scene.

The question of sharing cost of relief between the Federal and Provincial governments is another matter that must be looked into, he said.

The Canadian Army's trans-Atlantic rotation plan, under which thousands of troops have been arriving here from Europe while others have sailed from Quebec to replace them at Soest, Germany, now is almost ended.

The last two sailings for Rotterdam left here during the weekend with wives and children of soldiers already serving in Germany.

On board the Queen Frederika were 624 children and 355 wives. It was considered to be the largest single group of Canadian children to leave this country.

To complete the vast operation, which sees the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade replaced by the 2nd, there will be four more Westbound sailings from Europe. Two of these are destined for Quebec, and two for Halifax.

December 1st To Be Declared A No Accident Day

Ottawa. — A national campaign to eliminate all automobile accidents for one 24-hour period in every Canadian community will be spearheaded by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

The Prime Minister has announced Thursday, December 1, as S-D (safe driving) Day. Mr. St. Laurent has urged every community to join in the one-day safety crusade. Prime Ministers of all provinces are expected to lend their support to the campaign.

S-D Day will be observed at the same time throughout the United States under the sponsorship of the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety. They will work hand-in-hand with the Canadian Highway Safety Conference in promoting the simultaneous safety drive throughout North America.

In announcing S-D Day, Mr. St. Laurent stressed the need for a broad and continuing drive against traffic accidents.

"Both in Canada and the United States, the mounting accident toll has become a matter of grave public concern," the Prime Minister said. "It is only natural therefore that the two countries should concentrate on the same day to avoid all traffic accidents for 24 hours."

Most Canadian communities are expected to set up their own campaigns in an effort to keep the local S-D Day accident count at nil.

Purpose of the campaign is two-fold.

If each area and community across Canada can keep accidents at the zero point, the total will represent one full day without an accident.

And, if accidents can be wiped out for 24 hours, the individual driver and pedestrian will have proof positive that accidents can be eliminated not just one but every day of the year.

Leaders of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference say they are not hoping for a perfect record. However, even an appreciable cut in the number of accidents on December 1st will prove that concentrated public attention to traffic accidents and their causes can pay off.

ALLAN'S CORNERS — Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cullen were pleasantly

The Week At Ottawa

A giant United States company, has become a partner in Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., the Canadian company that plans to build most of the 2,200-mile line to carry Alberta gas to eastern Canada.

The $226,000,000 Tennessee Gas Transmission Company — operator of the world's largest natural gas transmission network in the U.S. — will hold an interest of about one-third of the undertaking. It will become an equal partner with the interests behind Canadian Delphi Petroleum Ltd., original founders of Trans-Canada, and the sponsors of Western Pipe Lines Ltd., which has been absorbed by Trans-Canada.

Entry of the U.S. company into partnership became known in the capital last week as the federal and Ontario governments worked out details of an agreement to build the 675-mile northern Ontario leg of the line. This section would cost about $118,000,000 and would be leased to Trans-Canada under a 99-year lease. The company buy it from the governments over a period of years.

Informants said Tennessee's direct participation will bolster the Canadian company. The U.S. company is expected to contribute financial strength and management experience. It carries weight with the federal Power Commission in Washington. That commission's decision on allowing Trans-Canada to export gas to the U.S. midwest is a determining economic factor in the fate of the Canadian line.

Tennessee's interest is not to exceed one-third, and Trans-Canada is committed to offer more than half the voting stock — expected to total approximately $50,000,000 — to Canadian investors.

Russia's Objective — External affairs minister Pearson, returning from his 45-day, 12-country tour, told a press conference that one of Russia's primary objectives is to destroy the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He said that what he learned in Moscow has confirmed in his mind the importance of keeping NATO strong and united, and suggested that next month's meeting of the NATO council will give western nations an opportunity to reappraise their policy toward Russia. He said they should be careful not to regard Soviet policy as fixed or final.

At the same time, he said, the west should not withdraw into a shell because of the negative results of the Big Four conference at Geneva, but should explore every possible diplomatic avenue for possible agreement with Russia. "In my view, for what it's worth, Russia is not planning aggressive war against the west," Mr. Pearson said. "They are no more anxious to commit suicide than anybody else."

The external affairs minister said the Soviets professed to be frightened by what they called the west's "aggressive tendency." He had tried to convince Russian leaders that NATO is a defensive security arrangement.

"I don't know that I made any impression on anybody," he added.

Trans-Canada Highway — A two-day highway conference in the capital last week closed with reluctant provincial acceptance of a federal "gap-closing" proposal to complete a trans-Canada highway by 1961.

The meeting paves the way for a new agreement with the nine participating provinces. The new agreement would continue the existing 50-50 federal-provincial cost formula but would provide 90 per cent federal contributions to the cost of building federally-approved links of up to 10 per cent of the total trans-Canada highway mileage in any one province.

The 4,580-mile highway project, begun in 1950, now is about one-third complete.

Mr. Winters indicated the objective of getting a through roadway may be met by using existing roads as links where feasible, even though they may not meet entirely the minimum standards.

Most provincial delegates said the new proposal does not go far enough. They urged revision of the 50-50 split provision and argued the federal government should shoulder more of the road's financing.

Unemployment Plan — Final terms of a federal-provincial agreement on unemployment-relief aid from the central treasury were being drawn up by legal experts in the capital last week. Federal officials expect eight provinces will sign them. The exceptions are Quebec and Ontario.

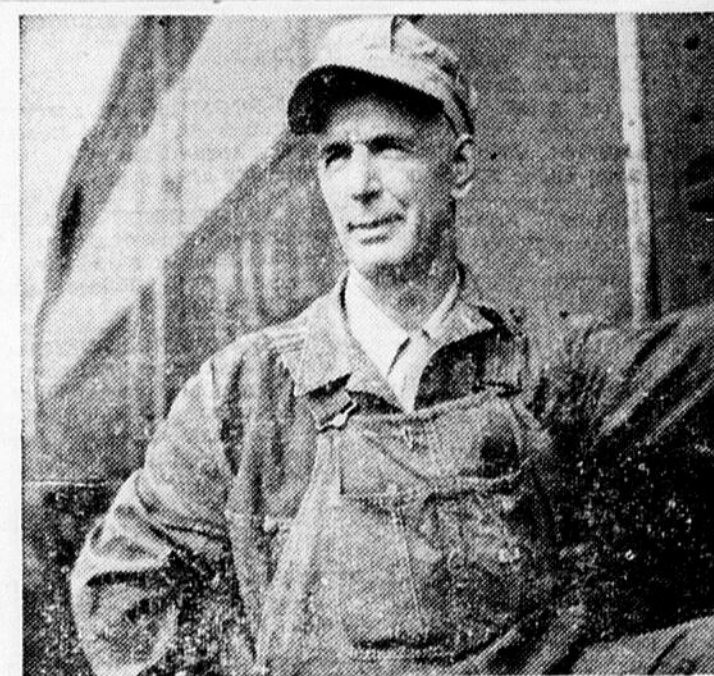

The provisions are substantially the same as those offered by Prime Minister St. Laurent at the October federal-provincial conference, though some of the changes have been made following correspondence with the provinces at that time.

Substance of the federal plan is that the central treasury would bear roughly half the cost of unemployment relief for those persons able to work and not drawing unemployment insurance, when that province's unemployment exceeds 45 per cent of its population.

REDDY KILOWATT DOES THE WORK

Better days are here for Phil Fraser!

In all his years of railroading, Engineer Phillip Fraser has seen some big changes.

"Rolling along in this smooth diesel locomotive," says Mr. Fraser, "is a real thrill — a far cry from driving the old steam jobs. Its extra power gives it quicker pick-up and more speed on the grade. Besides, it can run from coast to coast without a change. That's what I call progress!"

Phil has seen progress in the life insurance business too. As a family man, he knows that this business offers better service today than ever before.

Take life underwriters, for instance. Modern training makes these men better qualified to guide people through the complex problems of planning for future security.

Today, too, life insurance is more flexible. There's a wider range of plans — allowing people to meet their own individual needs. Moreover, people with certain physical handicaps, can now enjoy the protection of life insurance.

In these and other ways, the life insurance companies in Canada have progressed with the times to meet the changing needs of people in all walks of life!

New Herd Sire For Braemanor

A Notable Purchase At the Royal Winter Fair

Mrs. Bruce McKeller of Braemanor Farm, Island Road, Dewittville, was one of this district's visitors at the Royal Winter Fair during the past week. She was, of course, mostly interested in the Aberdeen-Angus cattle section, and in that respect she has informed The Gleaner that this year's Aberdeen-Angus show was the greatest of that breed to be held since the inception of The Royal. At the Sale of Aberdeen-Angus Stars the general average price was $1,000.00, by far the largest made at any of the Beef Breeds in their Sales of Stars.

While Mrs. McKeller was attending the Royal she purchased a new herd sire for Braemanor Farm (Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McKeller) from Dr. W. S. James, Malden Farm, Milton, Ont. That bull, named Bandolier of Malden 37th, is 18 months of age, and he stood third in a class of 11 at this year's Royal. He is also a grandson of Bandolier of Malden 8th, one of the victims of the recent fire at Braemanor Farm. He was sired by Bandolier of Malden 26, held first in the Royal in 1953, while his dam is Barbara M of Agincourt 3rd.

Curling Club ladies commenced their season on Tuesday afternoon, November 15th, with a luncheon for members and potential members. Held in the Club House, with the president, Mrs. D. C. The afternoon was most successful and nineteen new members should help augment the membership. The President welcomed the guests and new members in her address.

St. Edward's Presbyterian Church Evening Dept. ladies held their regular monthly meeting in the church hall on November 15th. Mrs. R. B. Calhoun presided. Howick

The C.G.I.T. of Howick United Church held a very successful entertainment on Saturday evening in the Howick High School. The program included two one act plays, "Polly put the Kettle On" and "We'll All Have Tea", written by Peggy Fernway, and "Why the Chimes Rang" by Elizabeth McFadden, adapted from the story of the same name by Raymond Alden. Both plays were well acted and a great deal of praise is due to the C.G.I.T. leaders, Mrs. Archie Peddie and Mrs. Eric Smith, and to Mrs. Andrew MacFarlane who gave much from her knowledge of dramatic art to the success of the evening. Durable program, Mrs. Bruce Miller delighted the audience with his rendering of Negro Songs and Mary Catherine and Alana Hooker gave a good performance of "The Sailors Hornpipe" and "The Sidewalks of New York". Mrs. J. Crawford was the accompanist throughout the evening. The cast of the two plays are as follows:

"Polly, Put the Kettle On" — Mrs. Jason Libby, a charming mother; Margaret McKell; Kay Jason, her oldest daughter; Ann Tolhurst; Marion Jason, her youngest daughter; Dorothy McWhinnie; Polly Lincoln Washington, The Jassons' Coloured Maid, Shirley McWhinnie; Julia Martin, Kay's girl friend; Margaret Moore; Mrs. Vall (Trene) who lives next door; Beverly Smith; Sylvia Vall, her mischievous young daughter; Vicki Woldorsky.

"Why the Chimes Rang" — Holger, a peasant boy, Dorothy Anne Welburn; Steen, his younger brother, Carole Tennant; Bertel, her uncle, Norma Tolhurst; An Old Woman, Janet MacFarlane.

The regular monthly meeting of the Howick United Church W.M.S. was held in the church on November 15th, Mrs. Sutherland presiding. 19 members answered to the roll call "peace".

Mrs. A. Tolhurst and Mrs. Ross sang a duet, "The Valley of Peace". Very satisfactory reports were given by the convener of committees. The study period was taken by Mrs. A. McKell, her subject being Emigration and Work amongst the Indians. Mrs. Edwards gave a very interesting resume on "Anna and the Indians", this being one of the works on the bookshelf.

A discussion followed regarding the disposal of used clothing on hand, the work convener being asked to forward same to the City Mission.

The Georgetown W.M.S. met on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 15th, at the home of Mrs. T. Kerr, with an attendance of 14 members.

Mrs. Wm. Brown was in charge of the Devotions.

Valleyfield United Church — Valleyfield

On Monday evening Nov. 14th at 6:30 the Board of Managers of the Valleyfield United Church were hosts to the men of the Church at a Banquet in the Church Hall. The purpose of the gathering was to give the men of the congregation the chance to meet the new minister, the Rev. W. Charles Pelletier, socially, and also to get better acquainted among themselves. The event was an unqualified success with eighty men sitting down to the meal which was served by a committee of the men themselves.

The committee, under the convener of Mr. Douglas N. Montgomery was composed of Messrs. Aird, Balazs, Cordy, Hargrave, Lagasse, McDonald, and White.

Informality was the order of the day and everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion. After supper the chairman, Mr. W. Stewart Aird had everyone present sit up and give him a name, and he then introduced the minister with a short biographical sketch. Mr. Pelletier, in his remarks stated how happy he was to be associated with a congregation where there was such a fine group of men and that he was already enthusiastic about the city of Valleyfield.

The speaker of the evening, the Rev. W. Charles Pelletier, of St. James United Church, Montreal, was then presented to the meeting by Mr. William S. Palmer.

Mr. Rawson is in great demand as an after-dinner speaker both in Canada and the United States. He has been present at many banquets and has agreed that he excelled even himself on this occasion, keeping the hall in constant uproar of laughter except when he was driving home a serious point.

The speaker also stated that the need of the world was to have an enlightened Christian public opinion on the great issues facing the nations these days and he urged the men to meet regularly as a men's organization within the Church to examine these issues together.

Mr. Rawson was thanked by Mr. D. D. McFee and the suggestion was then made from the floor that the success of the present supper pointed to the need for more frequent gatherings of a similar nature and provisional plans were laid for another meeting on Monday evening, December 5th.

The slick surface of wet asphalt roadways has sent many a motorist limping to the garage with flattened fenders and shattered headlamps. But now research engineers have come up with something that sharply reduces this accident hazard. When their special aluminum oxide abrasive is applied to the road surface, it cuts down by more than 30% the stopping distance of your car when you apply the brakes at 30 m.p.h.

...So in addition to saving weight and work in a thousand everyday and special applications, aluminum may prove a major factor in saving lives, too.

ONE QUARTER OF AN EDITOR
According to the finding of a recent survey, conducted in the U.S. but undoubtedly applicable to Canada, the presence in a community of 100 industrial workers creates a demand for 260 other jobs of a wide variety.

To supply the demands of each 100 employees in a manufacturing plant, it was found that there are needed, besides others, 28.5 farmers, 2.5 shoe clerks, 2.2 miners, one nurse, 2.2 stenographers, 1.3 food clerks, 1.3 entertainers and 2.5 editors and reporters. And anyone who does not think that one quarter, or 25, of an editor or a reporter is important hasn't tried to get out a newspaper.

THE FIRST MAN

Returned to Calgary and Sunday school, Susie startled the teacher, and subsequently her family, by stating, in reply to a question, that the first man was Jacques Cartier.

New Radar Brakes

Developed in U.S. For Models in '57

New York (CP) — A U.S. auto manufacturer has ready to be introduced next year in 1957 models a startling system of braking which requires no mechanical work by the driver. Time Magazine says in a recent issue, "Operated by a radar screen built inconspicuously into the radiator grill, the brake mechanism automatically will stop or slow the car as it approaches any object ahead of it, another car or a garage door," the magazine says.

"The radar-controlled mechanism will be geared to take into account the speed of the car as well as the distance to approaching objects. For example, the radar car would be halted with a jolt if a car a short distance ahead stopped suddenly. But if the car were a few hundred feet ahead, the radar car would be braked slowly and easily."

Doctor Predicts End Of Major Diseases

Looking into the future, a North American authority predicts that man will overcome all of the major diseases by the year 2000, according to a report by the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau received by the Health League of Canada.

Dr. Lowry H. McDaniel expects that heart disease and high blood pressure will be controlled, cancer will be conquered, and even the common cold will become only a memory.

The doctor told a recent medical meeting that all infectious diseases — including tuberculosis and rheumatic fever — will be eradicated by new drugs or vaccines. As for cancer, it is his conviction that it will be destroyed either by planting radioactive "time bombs" in malignant tumors or by giving patients "hungry" viruses that will eat up cancer cells but not healthy tissues. Eye surgeons will be able to restore eyesight to blind people, and there will be portable electronic devices that will allow people to "talk".

Drugs, according to the doctor, will be found to cure mental cases now considered hopeless.

In Bro. Laraby's remarks he spoke of the Presentation of the two Flags together at the State Grange and how thankful the members should be that these two countries were at peace with one another when there is so much unrest in the world. Sis. Laraby spoke briefly on Juvenil work.

Sis. Aldrich, in her remarks, said Franklin County had made history at State Grange in having over 50 members present for a session.

brought much laughter and applause from the audience.
