

POPE PASSED A TRANQUIL NIGHT

But the Diminution of His Strength Steadily Continues—Another Remarkable Rally in His Condition Occurred Yesterday Afternoon.

PHYSICIANS SAY HIS HOLINESS MAY DIE AT ANY MOMENT.

Rome, July 15.—4.10 a.m.—The general condition of the Pope is almost unchanged. To periods of restlessness succeed periods of drowsiness. 1.20 a.m.—After midnight the Pope's sleep seemed tranquil enough, although his breathing at times was difficult. 1.20 a.m.—Another remarkable rally in Pope Leo's condition occurred yesterday afternoon, after a morning in the course of which His Holiness suffered spells of delirium and at times his strength sank to the lowest ebb, and now to-night he lies in no worse condition than he was on Monday evening, except for the steady diminution of his strength. Monsignor Bileti, Master of the Chamber, visited the sick room just after midnight and on emerging stated that the Pontiff's condition was unchanged. A little later the Pope fell into a deep sleep which, it has just been announced, is fairly tranquil, although the patient's respiration is troublesome.

ordered the four Cardinals to be admitted and received them standing. He who is supposed to be at the point of death saying: "Please be seated." He recounted the impressive ceremony of the morning when he received the benediction of the Franciscan Order. The Cardinals informed him of the world-wide prayers for his life. Pope Leo answered that he was much gratified but that he was ready for his final departure, concluding by saying: "God's will be done." Even more striking was the Pope's interview with his secretary, Monsignor Angeli. His Holiness sent for him, saying he wished to see certain papers, which the secretary brought. Then, after a short explanation, Mgr. Angeli wished to get the Pope's decision on the matter, but Pope Leo said: "Well, well, not to-day. We will do that some other time."

A curious controversy is proceeding between the Vatican medical body, composed of ten doctors of lesser importance than Dr. Lapponi, and several foreign physicians over the embalming of Pope Leo's body. Several foreigners having offered processes of embalming, each more wonderful than the other, the Papal doctors unceremoniously giving the right to embalm the Pope solely to the Vatican medical body.

ORDERED TO SHOW CAUSE
Trenton, N. J., July 14.—Chancellor Magie to-day, on application of Attorney-General McCarter, ordered the Inter-State Trust Company of Jersey City to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed. The company is also restrained from doing business. To-day's order restrains a proposed capitalization of the company at $5,000,000 and the issuing of $20,000,000 collateral bonds.

INCREASED CAPITAL STOCK
Albany, N. Y., July 14.—The Lehigh Valley Railway Company has been authorized by the State Railroad Commission to increase its capital stock from $5,200,000 to $10,000,000. The increased capital is to be used entirely to take up the capital stock of the leased lines of the company in exchange for Lehigh Valley Railway stock.

THE LATE JUDGE ARMOUR
London, July 14.—The body of Justice Sir John Douglas Armour, of the Supreme Court of Canada and a member of the Alaskan Boundary Commission, who died July 11, leaves Thursday for Canada by the Allan Line steamer Tunisian. The two daughters of the deceased will accompany the body. A memorial service will be held to-morrow afternoon at the Temple Church and will be attended by representatives of the Bench and Bar and other prominent personages.

FRASER RIVER FISHING
Vancouver, July 14.—Japanese fishermen to-day accepted the canners' terms, viz., 15 cents per fish during July and 14 cents during August and the strike declared by the white fishermen has therefore been called off. So far salmon have not appeared in the Fraser, but fish are reported outside and are expected to arrive in the river in a few days. The pack in the northern rivers has been very light so far; the total amounting to only 10,000 cases.

STRIKE INSURANCE COMPANY
Louisville, Ky., July 14.—The strike insurance company in New Orleans is now a fact, having been put on a permanent footing by the establishment of an underwriting bureau here. W. C. Nones, of this city, has been named attorney and general manager.

KINGSTON NOTES
Kingston, July 14.—Corporal F. Williams, "A" Battery, who saw service in South Africa, is now afflicted with paralysis and is in hospital here. To-day many delegates to the annual meeting of the Oddfellows' Relief Association reached the city. Among the number were P.G.M. O. L. Lewis, Chatham; R. K. Cowan, London; and other prominent members of the craft. To-morrow afternoon and evening general business meetings will be held. At four o'clock the visitors will take a trip among the Thousand Islands.

BRITAIN'S FOOD SUPPLY
London, July 14.—The Royal Commission on the supply of food and raw material in war time, of which Lord Strathcona is a member, again took evidence on Saturday from leading produce and meat importers. The meetings are secret, but it is understood that the evidence so far is not in favor of State intervention in the direction of Government wheat storage or bounties to some producers. The increased prices caused by any outbreak of hostilities and the overwhelming interest of the producers of the world to gain entry to so coveted a market despite all difficulties, and the impossibility of a complete foreign blockade of so indented a coast as that of Great Britain, would have little risk of British starvation unless the navy were overwhelmed. Thus the evidence concentrates upon the vital necessity of supremacy of the sea. The desirability of the speediest possible expansion of Canadian and other colonial sources of supply are also dwelt upon.

CHAMBERLAIN AND THE MILITIA DEPARTMENT—PREFONTAINE INTRODUCES BILLS TO GRANT HOME CERTIFICATES TO COASTING MASTERS AND ABOLISH INSPECTION DUES FOR GASOLINE YACHTS—IMMIGRANTS SUFFERING FROM TRACHOMA AND FAVUS ALLOWED TO LAND AT QUEBEC.

(Special to the Chronicle.)
Ottawa, July 14.—Mr. Prefontaine, in the Commons, introduced a bill to amend the Fisheries Act, which will legalize the killing of whales by explosives and licensing the use of purse seines and fish traps on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Ouler called attention to the destruction of the salmon fisheries in New Brunswick. Sir Wilfrid Laurier arose and briefly announced that Mr. Blair had tendered his resignation as Minister of Railways and Canals and member of the Cabinet, and that the Governor-General had accepted it. He proposed a Ministerial statement on Thursday.

Mr. Bell asked if Mr. Chamberlain had asked the Minister of Militia to confer with the War Department as to the proposed changes in the Canadian Militia Act, one of which will provide for the appointment of a Canadian General Officer Commanding.

Sir Frederick Borden replied that the statement was accurate, and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had agreed to a conference. After the House closed, Sir Frederick will proceed to London and discuss the question with the Imperial Government.

Mr. Prefontaine submitted two resolutions for abolishing steamship inspection dues for yachts propelled by gas, fluid naphtha or electric motors. The other provides for home certificates to be granted to masters and mates serving on coastwise and inland waters vessels. Both were passed and bills founded on them were introduced.

Mr. Wilson attacked the Government's immigration policy. He condemned the system of medical inspection under which no effort is made to keep out persons suffering from trachoma and favus. Foreigners rejected by United States agents are allowed to enter Canada without protest. He held that men who were unfit to become citizens of the United States were also unsuitable for Canadian residents. He read reports made by Mr. Watchern, United States Superintendent of Immigration in Canada showing that many undesirable and diseased immigrants rejected by his officers settled at different parts in this country. At Quebec, United States Surgeon Billings had rejected seven persons destined for the States, while Canadian returns only credited one rejection.

The impression is generally prevalent in view of the latest break in the Ministerial family, that no time will be lost immediately after the session in dissolving Parliament. The Government, having loaded the dice by means of the gerrymander, will make the railway question the text of its appeal to the country. The answer it will get will probably be a surprise.

After spending all evening discussing immigration questions and passing two items on supply, the House adjourned at 12.40.

DISHONEST STOCK BROKER
Toronto, July 14.—John D. Edwards, stock broker, of this city, is again wanted by the police. A warrant is out for him, but he left the city three days ago. Last summer he was convicted of theft in connection with a stock deal and was sent to Central Prison. His wife was dead, there were small children to support and a largely signed petition secured his release after he had served but two months of his term. The complainant in the present case against him is Dr. Mallory, of Chatham. The amount involved is $850 and the charge fraud. Edwards having been given the sum to invest. It is said that there are several claims against the missing man. The authorities assert that Edwards absconded before the warrant was issued, which explains their failure to arrest him.

DEATH OF SENATOR DICKEY
Amherst, July 14.—After months of weary illness, Hon. R. B. Dickey passed away late this afternoon at the ripe old age of 92 years. In the death of Senator Dickey, not only Cumberland, but the whole Dominion loses one of its most esteemed men, one who has taken a prominent place in many of the councils of his country, and one to whom Amherst in particular is indebted for much of its progress and prosperity. The deceased was interested in his native town, and many are the monuments that testify to his generosity. He is survived by three children, Jas. A., Amherst; May, wife of S. E. Milner, C. E.; London, and Elsie, wife of M. W. Maynard, of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa. He was a Conservative, and entered the Senate in 1867.

THE MAD MULLAH GREW NERVOUS

When He Found the Abyssinians So Near Him

CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO FIRES

DESERTER SAYS HE HAS ABOUT 6,000 MEN IN ALL—THE MULLAH WANTS TO EXCHANGE THE CAPTURED MAXIMS FOR AMMUNITION, AND ALSO TO KNOW WHY HIS COUNTRY WAS WANTED.

London, July 14.—The paramount chief of the Her Ali tribe has deserted the Mullah and joined General Gabriz at the Abyssinian camp at Bahi. He states that after the Abyssinian raid on Jeyd, the Mullah, astounded at the news of the proximity of the Abyssinians, and fearing to be caught between the British and Abyssinian forces, hurriedly left Bur, moving to Gumburru, with the intention of crossing to the north-east, in the direction of Nogal Valley.

The chief deserted one day's march beyond Gumburru, joining General Gabriz at Birdaale. He describes the following of the Mullah as consisting of 3,000 Dobbohanta horsemen, 2,000 Habr Ali tribesmen, and about 1,000 non-descripts.

The chief claims to have counted the killed in the fight with Col. Plunkett's party at Gumburru. He had counted up to 750 when the Mullah appeared on the field, and further counting became unsafe. He also reports that Major Gough's force killed 200 of the Daratoleh tribe.

In both fights the greatest execution was caused by Maxim fire. The chief states that Capt. Johnston Stuart, who was killed in Plunkett's fight, was wounded in four places, and was lying when the square was swept away. He continued to defend himself with a revolver, and shot four of the enemy before he was killed.

The chief is ignorant as to the reported presence of British prisoners with the Mullah, and affirms that the Mullah was exceedingly angry with the man who shot Captain Johnston Stuart.

A few days ago a communication from the Mullah was telegraphed home by the officer commanding at Bohote, in which, after referring to the heavy losses on both sides, the Mullah enquired why we wanted his country. He offered to exchange the Maxims in his possession for ammunition. His offer shows the disrespect in which he holds anything likely to hinder his mobility.

In reply, the Mullah was told to come in and submit.

BULLETS OF TALLOW

Paris, July 14.—A new invention provides bullets for pistols made of wax and tallow, which enable experts to confront and fire at each other instead of at ordinary targets. It is thought this will insure greater precision, and the French press, hopefully comments that if this is followed up it may enable duellists, by some possibility, to hit each other, and thus put an end to the bloodless duels which now hold Frenchmen up to the ridicule of the world.

IMMIGRANTS AT HALIFAX

Halifax, N.S., July 14.—The Hamburg American line's chartered steamer Pisa, Capt. Tendt, from Hamburg and Boulogne on July 4, arrived to-day and proceeded this evening for New York. She landed 368 adults and 128 children here, and they will go West in a special train to-morrow morning. Her passengers consist of Russians for Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Michigan, and Austrians and Hungarians for Winnipeg and Edmonton.

TRACES OF SHOCKING CRIME

New York, July 14.—In passing under the Second Avenue "L" road bridge over the Harlem River to-day, a tug sent to the surface for a second a woman's leg covered with a black silk stocking and a patent leather shoe that dropped back again and thence, as it believed it was attached to a body which was itself weighted, causing the leg to fall into the water again. Police dragged for the body but could not find it. The end of the bridge at this point is about where a woman's blood stained waist, skirt and chemise were found last Saturday night. Some of the police connect this discovery with the Roxbury murder, while others do not believe there is any connection. Those who saw the leg say it is that of a woman of more than usual height. The skirt found among the bloody clothing was that of a tall woman.

YOUNG GIRL ARRESTED

Last evening Sgt. Lucasse, of the Provincial Police, arrested a young girl aged 18 and lodged her in No. 1 station. The prisoner, who resided with her parents at the Palais, intended, it appears, to abandon the parental roof and leave for Montreal last evening, and the arrest was made at the request of her parents.

Curran, Hugh McGee and Albert Young, Presidents respectively of the Freight Handlers, Truck Drivers, and the National Teamsters' Unions. They are charged with having conspired to obstruct the complainant's business by interfering with the delivery of goods to its depot.

NO WELCOME FOR THE KING

THE DUBLIN CITY COUNCIL REFUSES TO VOTE AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME TO THE KING BY A VOTE OF 40 TO 27—RESULT RECEIVED WITH CHEERS.

Dublin, July 14.—There was a stormy scene at the meeting of the Dublin corporation yesterday over the proposed address of welcome to King Edward during his visit to Ireland. The doors were broken down by the mob and the approaches to the hall had to be cleared by the police. The Lord Mayor spoke strongly against the address, and the motion in favor of presenting it was defeated by a vote of 40 to 27.

A large crowd gathered in the streets long before the time of the meeting, the Lord Mayor refusing to allow any body to enter the Council Chamber except members of the corporation. The gallery was soon filled with friends of the members and other prominent men, whereupon the doors were closed. It was this that led to the smashing of panels.

When the result of the vote was announced there was a frantic outburst of cheering in the gallery, in which a majority of the Council joined. The cheering was taken up lustily by the crowd in the streets.

QUEBEC, JULY 15, 1903.

THE VISITING JOURNALISTS.

We understand that several press excursions intend visiting Quebec this summer, one, indeed, at the close of this week. It is needless to say that visitors from abroad are always warmly welcomed for their own sakes, but those who come in large parties have a more peculiar claim on the public and general hospitality than isolated guests, and of these the representatives of the press, who come quite as much to obtain and impart to those at home a more intelligent appreciation of the beauties and advantages of the places visited, as they do for their own personal enjoyment, should be conceded the first place. We have no doubt that the Quebec press will do all in its power to make the visits of their fellow-journalists enjoyable, but at the same time it is only right that the city authorities should come generously to their aid in doing this. It is the city that obtains the lion's share of the advantages accruing from such visits, in obtaining a wider and more favorable reputation, and the citizens who benefit by the pecuniary expenditure of the strangers; it is, therefore, scarcely fair to expect the press to shoulder everything, whilst, at the same time, the visitors cannot fail to appreciate the high compliment conveyed in being made the guests of the city quite as much as they are the guests of the press, and the civic authorities join generously in the provision made for their entertainment.

THE PLAINS OF ABRAHAM.

It must be confessed that the Montreal journals are not without some justification when they lay to our charge the amiable weakness of sleepy-headedness. The state of the Plains of Abraham to-day is too palpable a proof to be lightly overlooked. When they were still in the hands of the nuns, and there was a prospect that the Reverend Ladies would turn them to an account which, if not sentimental, was at any rate practical and business-like, we moved Heaven and earth and the Dominion Cabinet to prevent the desecration of the "historic spot," and turn it over to the city to be made "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." When, after a great deal of clamoring and journeyings in hot haste to and from Ottawa, we succeeded in getting the desire of our hearts, we had beautiful plans made, and beautiful word-pictures to show what a heavenly place we were going to make of it for good Quebecers to enjoy themselves in and show admiring visitors. We even began to make it heavenly by turning off the turf club, which, as given to the wicked practice of horse racing, was an incongruity, and a blur on the sacred character of the place, and by shutting out the military, whose evolutions, though they might recall memories of the famous old battlefield, were yet out of keeping with what the Government organs delight to call the commercial spirit, and what Sir Wilfrid Laurier, oblivious of his Sackat-cawean musket, denominates, the anti-militarism of the country, and wholly subversive of the peace with which it was intended to invest these delightful scenes. Then we dumped a few cart loads of stone on the ground, and planted a few trees to be cut down by the followers of the circus which we afterwards permitted to occupy the place and turn an honest penny by encouraging a taste for speculative games of chance amongst those who thronged to see the Bovallapus. The trees are in ruins, and so are the stones, but as they are ever grown with grass and weeds they are, in time, look more slightly, and even picturesque, but whether it was worth while to make so great a sacrifice over such small results is a matter of opinion. The Plains to-day are a disgrace to the city, a wilderness of wild land serving no good purpose, and with what beauty they possessed naturally destroyed by their being meddled with.

THE GAYNOR AND GREENE CASE.

According to recent despatches it would appear that the ingenious little devices which resulted in Quebec continuing to be blessed with the society of Messrs. Gaynor and Greene are not to be permitted to prevail undisputed by the Government at Washington, which has given orders to petition the Imperial Privy Council for leave to appeal against the judgment of Mr. Justice Caron. The two gentlemen named above must feel highly complimented by the keenness of the struggle which is being waged over them, and the intense longing for the light of their countenance which is thus evinced on either side of the line, and they cannot fail to see how much more wisely they acted in the interests of the lawyers, themselves, and the public for whom they furnished quite a pleasing temporary excitement, by resisting the pressure to go back home to their anxious friends, than if they had imitated the example of the English promoter, and voluntarily returned. At the same time it is not so satisfactory to the amour propre of the people of the Dominion to feel that there is not that implicit reverence for the legal procedure of this country held abroad, which the Globe and other Ministerial organs have lately been impressing on us should prevail at home, and that there are certain features in the Gaynor-Greene extradition proceedings which in the opinion of the law officers at Washington need further investigation, neither is it pleasant to reflect that the fact that a firm in which were represented the Premier of the Province of Quebec, the Minister of Justice of the Dominion, and other personages either holding high official positions or intimately connected with those who did, were engaged in resisting the application for extradition gave color to a suspicion that something more than law was on the side of the defendants. Those who, like ourselves, held that the judgment of Mr. Justice Caron was based on an erroneous interpretation of both law and fact, may well be excused if they sought for the reason of it in considerations that were the reverse of creditable, and without wishing in the least degree to attribute unworthy motives to a judge of undoubted learning and integrity, thought it possible that involuntarily and unconsciously he had suffered his views to be affected by the powerful array of legal position which was joined to the legal talent of the lawyers for the defence. We do not say that there was any ground for such a suspicion, but it is notorious that it existed, and also it is plain that it was a very natural one, and Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Parent et al were to blame in exposing the justice of this country to the risk of it. There is, we know, a difference of opinion concerning the advisability of a law firm, one or more of whose members hold positions in the Government of either a Province or the Dominion undertaking the defence of the accused in criminal cases, and practically pleading against the Crown whom those members are presumed to represent, but this divergence of opinion can only exist on matters which concern ourselves alone; where a foreign Government is one of the parties to a suit in which it seeks redress in our Courts of law; the inadvisability, not to say indecency, of such a practice is at once apparent, and is emphasized when, as in the case under notice, it leads to an implied slur on the justice of our Courts. The despatches do not, indeed, say on what grounds the Government of the United States desires to make an appeal to the Privy Council of the Empire; they are probably technical ones, at least we hope so, but it is safe to say that such an appeal would not have been thought of had it not been for the very peculiar constitution of the legal defence. There are, of course, appeals from our Courts to the Privy Council, and some of them have even been taken by our own Governments, but as a general rule, their decisions, however disappointing they may be, have been acquiesced in as a matter of courtesy by foreign Governments that have had anything to do with them, and it is a very exceptional case indeed, and where much more important interests are involved than the possession of the persons of even Messrs. Gaynor and Greene.

TO ASSUME LIABILITY FOR $175,000,000.

The Laurier Government, if it carries out all the schemes for spending money it now has in view, will out-herod Herod. It has made a record for itself this session, which, comparatively speaking, places its past years of extravagance on a lofty pedestal of economy. Here are some of the outlays contemplated:—
Estimates brought down to date... $ 64,462,902
Guarantee Montreal Harbor bonds... 3,000,000
Guarantee Canadian Northern bonds... 9,500,000
To be presented to Grand Trunk Pacific, at least... 75,000,000
Total... $115,962,902

In addition the Government has decided to grant bonuses to dry docks; increased bounties on iron and steel, lead and binder twine. It will also take over the indebtedness of the Quebec Bridge Company, which will amount to millions. The payment of bounties is chargeable to capital account, and in guaranteeing bonds the country is made to assume responsibility for their payment. When these schemes are consummated and the additional supplementary estimates and minor railway subsidies brought down, Canada will have undertaken to pledge her credit for close on to $175,000,000. Imagine what that means? No mind can grasp the seriousness of the situation, and the people should start a political rebellion which will bring the Government to its sober senses.—Ottawa Letter.

A CRYING EVIL.

Recently both the Province and the municipalities have been winking up to the necessity of vigorous protest against the interference of the Dominion Parliament in their local affairs. The municipalities in particular have been showing a more united front than of yore. It is more than needed. Despite the protest of the Ontario Legislature to which reference has been made, despite the constant protests of municipalities against the injustice of Parliament in giving to capitalists, promoters or speculators privileges to override local control, Parliament has within the week past been checked with difficulty in a gross contemplated outrage in connection with an electric railway between Toronto and Hamilton. Parliament has no business with that company. It is a local company. Its operation is wholly within Ontario. The road is purely a Provincial concern, except in so far as it is a municipal concern. But its promoters wished to escape Provincial and municipal control to a considerable degree by getting a Dominion charter which would declare the road to be "for the general advantage of Canada," and they found the Dominion Government and the Dominion Parliament apparently ready to agree, so much so that the municipalities of Toronto and Hamilton and others, Ottawa included, have had to put up a fight for the last couple of weeks to prevent the outrage being perpetrated. The Toronto-Hamilton case is only a sample. Why should municipalities have to make such protests? Why are they put to such expense? Why need their local rights be in danger from any speculative crew—or any kind of a crew—that aims to escape making fair bargains for public privileges with the sanction of the public which owns the privilege?—Ottawa Journal.

THE INNOCENCE OF THE GLOBE.

The Globe, which we suppose is still the chief organ of the Government, although some others get larger printing and advertising contracts, said on Tuesday last: "The line from Montreal to Winnipeg by way of Quebec will pass far to the north of any existing east and west line," and it commended the scheme as a whole to the people of Ontario and Quebec. "It is reasonable to expect from their representatives in Parliament," said the Globe, "practically unanimous support of a scheme which is so full of promise and

PROMPT ACTION OF A SHERIFF

AVERTS A LYNCHING IN NEW YORK STATE - SMUGGLES HIS PRISONER OUT OF THE LOCK UP, AND TAKES HIM DOWN THE RIVER IN A BOAT TO CATSKILL JAIL.

Albany, N.Y., July 14.—The quick wit of a deputy sheriff at Coxsackie this afternoon prevented the lynching of James Little, a 19 year old negro, hailing from Sumnerhurst, N.J., who early this morning near New Baltimore, criminally assaulted Emma Cole, aged 11, daughter of Jos. Cole, a farmer living near New Baltimore. The child with her 5 year old sister, and Maud Lobdell, aged 12, was picking berries by the roadside in the long woods between New Baltimore and Coxsackie, a mile from home, when Little accosted them, asking them for something to eat. The Lobdell girl went to her home, but her mother was not there, and returning to her companions, she found the negro dragging Emma Cole into the woods. She ran to her aid and the negro pulled out a handful of her hair. She then ran away with the little Cole girl, screaming for help, while Little dragged his victim into the woods and assaulted her, then, catching after threatening her with death if she moved. Her father and neighbors met the child coming home, and at once organized a party to scour the woods. A description of the negro was sent to nearby towns, and an hour later he was captured on the railroad track near Coxsackie by Roy Cutler. He confessed the assault and was locked up.

In the meanwhile news of the capture reached New Baltimore, and a mob of 150 enraged farmers started for Coxsackie, augmented by a large number of striking Coxsackie moulders and rivermen, all frankly vowing their intention to lynch the negro. To-day was the strikers' "benefit day" in Coxsackie, and the town was crowded. Threats of lynching filled the air, and every train augmented the crowd.

Deputy Sheriff Sumner Vanloon, realizing that the coming of darkness would mean the breaking in of the flimsy lock-up and the violent death of his prisoner, smuggled the negro out and took him down the river on the boat to Catskill, where there is a well built jail.

The Cole child is seriously injured, but may recover. Her father and the neighboring farmers are in a terrible state of excitement, and but for the Deputy's quick action would certainly have lynched the negro.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME. On Sunday last a number of friends of Miss Nellie Brown, of Savannah, Ga., entertained their guest by a drive to Lake Calvaire, where a very pleasant day was spent. On their return to the city the party were entertained at dinner at the residence of Mr. J. Mullally, where the guests thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

SAILOR SERIOUSLY INJURED. Yesterday morning General Henry, United States Consul, received a telegram from Seven Islands asking him to have the ambulance on the wharf on the arrival of the ss King Edward to convey a sailor to hospital. The steamer arrived in port last evening and the sailor who is a Russian Finn, was transferred to Jeffery Hale Hospital in the ambulance. The unfortunate man, who is a sailor on board bark Normandy, Capt. Chase, with a cargo of pitch pine from Savannah for Seven Islands, while at the latter place, fell from the top gallant mast of the bark to the deck, and in his fall broke his left leg in three places, his right leg below the knee, his left arm in two places, his right hip, besides having two ribs broken and eleven teeth knocked out. He was taken in charge by the resident physician at Seven Islands, who dressed the wounds, and the victim was sent to this city on board the King Edward.

REAL WILD MAN.

A Harrowing Experience With a Strange Being.

(Albuquerque, N.M., Journal.) Many strange stories have been told of the "wild man" of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, and while some persons have credited these weird tales, they have for the most part been regarded as inventions of imaginative travellers, and have passed into tradition as such. But according to L. W. Stevens, of Cedar, Col., the "wild man" is not a myth, and he gives a thrilling account of an encounter he had with the creature. "Two years ago," says Mr. Stevens, "I had business in the northwestern part of Arizona, that took me in the neighborhood of the extreme lower end of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, in Mohave County, Ariz. Having the misfortune of getting my arm broken, I took a trip up the river to kill time and catch a few beaver. I constructed a skiff, with the aid of a friend, and when my arm got strong enough I took a trip up the canyon as far as I could go with a boat. A few miles above the entrance I hauled my boat upon and sand and got ready to examine the rock walls.

"The first thing that attracted my attention was the imprint of bare feet in the sand. Thinking the track had been made by some Indian, perhaps a Pinte or a Hanipi, I began looking the gorge over with much interest. Going down stream a short distance I found more tracks. The third day of my stay I saw the head of a man on a bench of rocks on the north side of the river. Evidently he was seated on the edge of a cliff some distance above my camp. I rowed up stream a little above the point where I saw a man's head and part of his shoulders above the greasewood bush 'limbing up to the bench. I had some difficulty in finding a place where I could get over the edge and be on a level with my neighbor.

"I finally succeeded in approaching closer to the point. I saw sitting on a large boulder a man with long white hair and a matted beard that reached to his knees. The creature was unaware of my approach, and I gazed upon him for some moments unobserved. He was about fifty yards away from me and in full view. He wore no clothing, and upon his talon-like fingers were claws at least two inches long. A coat of gray hair nearly covered his body with here and there a spot of dirty skin showing. I had found the wild man of the rocks! "At that moment a rock loosened by some animal came rolling down. The creature turned its face towards me. Horrors! What a face towards me seared and burned with the sun, with fiery green eyes. With a wild whoop and a leap he was off up over the rocks and cliffs like a mountain sheep for about seventy-five yards. Then he stopped. He was armed with a queer shaped club, large enough to fall an ox. Brandishing this bludgeon, he shrieked and chattered for a moment, then started towards me, roaring and still flourishing the weapon. Faster and faster he came, and my hair began to stiffen.

"I am a poor runner so I stood my ground. When the creature was within in about fifteen yards of me, I raised my rifle to fire, thinking to cripple him. As I glanced along the barrel I heard a deep growl just above the wild man. Looking up I saw a cougar and two half-grown cubs. The mother cougar crouched, with tail lashing, ready to spring on the wild man. He also had heard the growl, and he braced himself for the shock. I drew a hasty bead on the cougar and pressed the trigger. When the smoke cleared away the mother cougar lay dead where the wild man stood. The man himself had disappeared. The two young cougars were still on the rocks, apparently greatly frightened by the report and echoes of my old Sharp's rifle.

"Reaching hastily for a cartridge, I found I had neglected to buckle on my belt when leaving camp, so I hastily retreated to the boat, where I found everything as I had left it. I shoved the boat off and drifted toward camp, which was near the cougars. There lay the old cougar where she had fallen. The wild man was standing over the two cubs, which were also dead, he having beaten the life out of them with his club. He stood a moment gazing on the carcasses, then got down on his hands and knees and drank the warm blood as it flowed from the death wounds. The sight sickened me. I stood up in the boat and yelled. The man sprang to his feet, took a long look at me, then fled up from ledge to ledge until he reached the fourth ledge, where he stopped. Here he flourished his club again and screamed the wildest, most unearthly screech I ever heard, then turned and sprang onward up the craggy wall of the canyon.

"Not fancying my wild neighbor, I packed my outfit into the boat and drifted down and out of the canyon before I made camp for the night. That was the strangest adventure in my life. "Tradition records that years ago hostile Indians captured three men, bound them to logs far up the canyon, and set them adrift upon the swollen river. It may be that this wild creature is one of those unfortunate men who, by chance, freed himself and escaped death, but was made insane by his awful experience." FUR, FIN & FEATHER.

II. SONG-BIRDS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA.

By Robert Ridgway, N.Y.

"I have never timed the duration of the chorus and can only say that the bird song heard by people who are astute at the ordinary morning hours can give no idea of the richness of the full orotund. By the time the sun has risen the concert has quite subsided, and is not renewed until dawn of the following day. Only three or four species participate in singing during our hot summer days; the Summer Tanager is the most song and the richness of his coloring—I have often seen him perched at midday on the summit of a tall tree, his rich vermilion plumage resplendent in the full glare of the blazing sun, as he carolled his robin-like song. The Red-eyed Vireo is another bird whose song is heard as long as he carefully searches for worms and spiders among the leafy branches. The Yellow-breasted Chat, too, amuses himself (and others) with his odd calls and whistlings. The Indigo Bird sings his sprightly ditty, and the Field Sparrow occasionally breaks the stillness of the day bird songs are with us intermittent or desultory, and there is nothing like the chorus of early morning. Unless the weather be showery, there is only one prominent regular eventing song performance is anything but melodious. During the breeding season other song-birds occasionally break the stillness of night with a brief outburst of song as if unable to repress their happiness even during sleep; but unlike the Chat, they do not go beyond one or two such ebullitions.

In other parts of our country the singer has, on many occasions, heard, early in the morning, in May and June, weird concerts of bird music, which probably would challenge comparison, both as to quality and quantity, with any to be heard in other portions of the world, excepting, probably, the highlands of Mexico, which are said, and probably with truth, to be without a rival in the world. The following list is copied from my note-book and was made during the progress of such a concert, the birds named singing simultaneously in my immediate vicinity. The locality was not a strictly favorable one, being two miles from a small village, and at least three-fourths of the surroundings either forest or wooded swamp. The birds were: one Field Sparrow, one Maryland Yellowthroat, one Field Sparrow, one Carolina Wren, one Tufted Titmouse, one Grey-checked Thrush, one Yellow-breasted Chat, one Louisiana Warbler, one Red-eyed Vireo, and two Mourning Doves—in all thirteen species, and in less than half an hour. The birds sang together one day in June, about the edge of a prairie in southern Illinois. The birds were: one Brown Thrasher, three Yellow-breasted Chats, one Warbling Vireo, one Baltimore Oriole, several Meadowlarks, numerous Dickcissel and Henslow's, and Grasshopper Sparrows, one Lark Sparrow, one Robin, one Towhee, one Catbird, one Wood Thrush, one Ovenbird, one Summer Tanager, several Tufted Titmice, one Red-eyed Vireo, one Cardinal, one Indigo Bunting, two Maryland Yellowthroats, one Field Sparrow, and one Prairie Lark—the latter a true Lark, singing while suspended in mid-air, exactly in the manner of the Skylark; in all twenty-five species and certainly not less than fifty individuals. Is such a rich melody of bird music often, if ever, expell'd in England? It is true that neither the Skylark nor the Nightingale nor the Song Thrush were included, but they were each represented, and well represented, too; the first, if not by the "fairie Lark," whose manner of singing is identical with that of the Meadowlark, of which Wilson—himself a Scotchman—says that, although it "cannot boast the powers of song which distinguish the Skylark," yet in richness of plumage as well as sweetness of voice stands eminently superior; the second by the Mockingbird, whose song is not only well represented, but by the energetic, powerful and untrilling melody said to closely resemble in modulation that of the Song Thrush. Not less than half a dozen of the remaining species are songsters of very pronounced merit, probably equalling, in one quality or another of song, the best of European birds, excepting, that celebrated trio, the Nightingale, Song Thrush and Skylark.

What Dr. Livingstone has said of African songsters applies equally well to those of the eastern United States, where the summer air of tropical character. "The birds of the tropics," he says, "generally are described as wanting in power of song. I was decidedly of opinion that this was not applicable to many parts of Louisiana, though birds there are remarkably scarce. Here (on the Zambesi) the birds are not only able to sing, but their songs are more varied and more powerful than it is in England. These African birds have not been wanting in song; they have only lacked poets to sing their praises, which ours have had from the time of Aristophanes downward. Ours have had both a classic and a modern interest to enhance their fame. In hot, dry weather, or at midday when the sun is fierce, all are still; let, however, a good shower fall, and all burst forth at once into merry lays and loving courtship.

In the eastern United States, however, the true spirit of bird song is the early morning. The outburst of melody which follows a shower at midday or evening, joyous though it be, is no more to be compared with it, the tuning up of an orchestra with the full performance. This oratorio of our birds seems to be a serious business with them, as if the observance of a religious duty—a matin greeting to the orb of day." (Bird Lore.)

BOARD OF TRADE.
The regular meeting of the Board of Trade called for yesterday afternoon did not take place, owing to lack of a quorum. A member present, in conversation, expressed the opinion that there appeared to be a lack of interest in the work of this important commercial body, when only six gentlemen out of a membership of four hundred turned up at a regular meeting of the Board, as was the case yesterday. He favored a change in the direction of more frequent meetings, when a better attendance might be secured. If the general meetings were called once a month, for instance the matter might be kept more prominently before the minds of the membership, and there would be less likelihood of the fact escaping their attention. It is said to be quite possible that a move in this direction may be made at an early date, as the subject has already been informally discussed by some of the membership.

A JOLLY AMERICAN TRAMP.
A play new to our theatre-goers comes to Jacques Cartier Hall Monday, July 20th. It is said to be one of those comedy melodramas suited to the taste of the popular-priced circuit, and was written especially with this view—to entertain the masses. There are situations that are humorous and lines that are said to be bright, and the piece contains plenty of action. The play, which is in four acts, should please the patrons of Quebec's popular theatre. The cast includes Miss Maggie Meredith, Miss Charlotte Wade, Beatrice Minot, Mrs. Charles Emmet, Miss Vera Wilson, Messrs. Charles Porter, C. H. Carleton, James Smith, Charles Emmett, Maurice Irvington and others. There are specialties introduced in each act. Songs that reach the heart, witticisms that will bring smiles, comedy that will cause laughter, and sensational climaxes that will thrill all who witness the startling situations contained in "A Jolly American Tramp" on Monday next.

"DABSTERS"
People Who Do Things by Piecemeal.

Many people are convinced coffee is the cause of their sufferings and stop its use from time to time to get relief. During these periods when they are not drinking coffee they feel better. They are getting well in small instalments.
"How much better it is to stop short on the coffee and shift to well made Postum and get well once for all. As soon as this is done the destroying effects of coffee are stopped, and a powerful rebuilding agent is set to work. Health comes back by bounds, and so long as the right food and drink are used and improper food left alone the cure is permanent."
A lady of Readfield, Me., says: "I was always a great lover of coffee and drank it so steadily that I would have to stop it at times on account of dizziness in my head, gas in my stomach, and other troubles. I would leave off the coffee for a few weeks until I felt better, then would go to drinking it again."
"I continued this for years and paid dearly for it, until about a year ago, I read a Postum Cereal article and bought and carefully prepared some. It filled the place of coffee from the start so far as flavor and taste go and it has righted my stomach troubles. I have improved so that my friends noticed the change. I have exchanged sickness and misery for health and happiness. Through Postum I have got well at once." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

For cold Postum with a dash of lemon is a delightful "cooler" for warm days.

"You Are So Slow."

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicine, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the pill habit.

POLICE COURT.

Young Enmond, who was arrested on Monday last for stealing a horse and buggy belonging to a Levis carter, appeared before this court and was remanded to gaol pending investigation.

The trial of Harding, arrested recently for robbery of $3, was continued to the 16th instant.

An assault case in which two residents of Chateau Richer were interested, was disposed of, and the accused was fined $1 and costs.

STRUCK BY AN ELECTRIC CAR.

About ten o'clock last evening an electric car accident occurred at the corner of St. Peter and Sous le Fort streets. Just at that time a carter named C. Marois, was driving Dr. Potvin to his residence on Sous le Fort street, and as he reached St. Peter street an electric car came in sight, but too late to avoid an accident. The vehicle, a handsome Victoria, was struck and very badly damaged, and Dr. Potvin was thrown out into the street and had his face cut. The car proceeded on its way, and in attempting to turn at Champlain market the car left the track and ran on to the market place. After about two hours' work the car was again placed on the track.

TIVOLI GARDENS.

Fra Diavolo Again Repeated to Delighted Audiences.

The Robinson Opera Co. have made a distinct hit at the Tivoli Gardens. At the matinee and evening performances yesterday there were again large and well pleased audiences, who were not backward in expressing their favorable opinion of the fine performance of Fra Diavolo given by this talented troupe of artists. The Robinson Co. have quickly won their way to public favor, but it can be truthfully said that they richly deserve their success, for they are a well balanced company, rich in vocal talent, and refreshingly original and artistic in their work. In the prima donna, Miss Zeldia Rotali the company possesses a charming leading lady. Gifted with a melodious voice, and bewitching in appearance, the impression she had already made with Quebec people is more than flattering. The rest of the principals are well up to the high plane of excellence held by Miss Rotali. The chorus is large and competent, and is made up of ladies who can sing, and whose stage appearance and manners are very agreeable. The orchestra has been strengthened and is now all that could be desired.

Miss Bessie Goodman, the diminutive young lady who has sung and danced her way into the hearts of all who have seen her appears at every performance, and is already established as one of the leading favorites of the company.

The enterprising managers of the Tivoli are certainly to be congratulated on the splendid attraction which they have secured for our theatre-goers. It is to be hoped that their energy and ability will not go unrewarded, for they are deserving of the hearty support of Quebecers, and we trust that our people will not fail to do them justice in their endeavor to supply amusement for the summer months. This evening will be the last opportunity to witness Fra Diavolo. To-morrow evening the ever attractive Sida Pasha will be put on, a piece in which this company has made a signal success. Every member of the company is on fire in this piece to the greatest advantage and a fine performance may therefore be anticipated.
