

MYSTERY OF MARY BEATRICE

Two-Masted Chinese Smugler Deepened By Discovery Of Woman's Clothing

New York, June 15.—Discovery of scraps of a woman's clothing on board the two masted man-smugler Mary Beatrice which was picked up Wednesday at the entrance to New York harbor after her crew had been slain in a battle with Chinese passengers, today added another knot to the tangle port authorities are seeking to unravel.

Captain Williams, of the Treasury Department Service, said he had learned something of the woman's presence on the schooner after the clothing had been found, from an unnamed "stool pigeon". This man, he said, admitted he had gone on board the Mary Beatrice a week ago with a woman, boarding the vessel from a rum running motor boat as the Mary Beatrice lay with the rum fleet off the Jersey Coast.

The man and woman fled, Captain Williams was informed, when the fight broke out between passengers and crew, in which all the crew of five, save the captain, who had abandoned the schooner, were slain after killing five of the Chinese. It was not disclosed why the "stool pigeon" and the woman visited the schooner nor how long they stayed.

Captain Williams predicted an arrest in connection with the case within twenty-four hours, presumably that of the Captain, who quit the Mary Beatrice after collecting $250 each from twenty Chinese whom he had agreed to smuggle into the United States.

The authorities still had been unable today to establish the nationality of the Mary Beatrice. Sir H. Gosler Armstrong, British Consul General, said he had received no reply to his cablegram to Nassau, inquiring whether she had been put under British registry there. Beneath her coat of white paint, however, agents found a coat of black which led them to believe she had recently been re-registered and renamed.

Several of the Chinese taken from the schooner to Ellis Island denied there had been a woman on the schooner at any time since she left Havana, the port where they embarked. One of two Chinese who were wounded gave a version of the story of the fight today that differed from the story pieced out by the authorities yesterday, that the battle started when a member of the crew attempted to collect an additional $250 from each passenger. He said today that five of the Chinese had been summoned on deck to help handle the schooner on the pretext that a storm was coming up. As they went up from the hold, three were stabbed and two shot, he said. The rest of the Chinese then swarmed on deck and slew the crew.

Told that it had been established that only fifteen Chinese boarded the schooner at Havana he said he more had been taken on at another port the name of which he did not know.

$300,000 FIRE LAST NIGHT AT THETFORD MINES

Main Mill Of Asbestos Corp. Of Canada Quickly Reduced To Ashes

DYNAMITE USED To Prevent Flames Spreading Through Village--Populace Much Excited

(By Canadian Press) Sherbrooke, Que., June 15.—Damage estimated at over $300,000 was the result of a fire that broke out in the main mill of the Asbestos Corporation of Canada plant at Thetford Mines early this evening, and spread with such rapidity that in a short space of time the greater portion of the plant had been reduced to ashes. Just how the outbreak started is somewhat of a mystery, although from one source it is stated that the conflagration was the result of an overheated bearing.

The blaze was not noticed until it had made considerably headway, and although the small fire fighting force of Thetford Mines, responding to the fire alarm, did all in their power, it was soon seen that they could not save the main buildings of the plant. Consequently the firemen turned their efforts to saving the dwelling houses in the vicinity, dynamite being used to arrest the progress of the flames.

In this way the firemen probably saved many dwelling houses, but it was late in the night before the flames in the vicinity of the asbestos mill had died down and the residents considered it safe to return to their homes. It was lucky that the wind was blowing from the north west, for had it been a south east wind it is likely that the whole village would have been wiped out.

This was the second serious setback to the asbestos concerns in the vicinity within the past seven months, for it was only a short time ago that the main mill of the Jacobs Asbestos Company at East Broughton were destroyed by flames entailing a loss of over $100,000. The buildings of the Asbestos Corporation are of light material and were quickly consumed by the flames. In fact, for a time it was feared that the flames would spread to the new mill that the Asbestos Corporation is erecting on the opposite side of the railway tracks. The bridge connecting the old and new mills was partially destroyed, but the flames were arrested before they caught on the newly erected buildings. In addition to the buildings, considerable valuable machinery was destroyed by the flames, also considerable asbestos.

TRYING X-RAYS OF 250,000 VOLTS

For 56 Hours In Effort To Effect Cancer Cure—Patient Improved

New York, June 15.—Miss Anna Ellin, of Spring Valley, N.Y., was removed to a ward in Bellevue Hospital this morning after having been exposed to X-rays of 250,000 volts for 56 hours with only three brief rest periods in an effort to effect a cancer cure.

This was the first time that an experiment had been conducted by such a long time and with such high voltage. Dr. I. Seth Hirsch, Director of the Bellevue X-ray laboratory said it would be several weeks before he could determine whether the experiment had been successful.

So powerful are the rays used on the patient that they can penetrate a brick wall and outline the bones of a hand at 200 feet. The machine was placed about six feet from Miss Ellin. Parts of her body not exposed were carefully protected with leather covering.

The highest voltage previously used in an experiment of this kind was 150,000. A hundred minutes was the longest period of exposure. Shortly after noon it was announced that Miss Ellin was showing marked improvement, and doctors in the Gray laboratory expressed a belief that the experiment had been successful as far as could be expected at this time.

THREE RIVERS HARBOR BILL

To Establish A Commission Along Montreal Lines Before House

Ottawa, June 15.—A resolution reorganizing the Harbor Board of Three Rivers was moved in the House of Commons this afternoon by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. It is a revision of the act under which the board is at present operating and which goes back to 1882.

Under the new plan the Board will have three members instead of five as at present. The limits of the harbor are also changed. The general powers of the Board will henceforth be the same as those of the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, Quebec and Vancouver.

There was some repartee between Hon. Jacques Bureau, Liberal member for Three Rivers and Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, over what Mr. Meighen called "the modernizing of Three Rivers". Mr. Bureau said that the "modernizing" applied only to the Harbor Board and on being questioned said that the "modernizing process" had been begun by the appointment of a new Board of Harbor Commissioners since the Liberals had come into office. The resolution was reported and the bill was introduced and given first and second reading.

With the bill in committee, Sir Henry Drayton said the motive of the bill apparently was to provide remuneration for the new Harbor Commissioners.

Mr. Bureau said the old commissioner had not been paid but that provision was made in anticipation of the development of the St. Maurice area which would mean that the commissioners would have to devote their full time to their work. The bill was copied from the Vancouver bill.

Mr. Meighen asked if the next week would not be to provide salaries for Harbor Commissioners at Hamilton and similar places where changes had been made since the present Government took office. Mr. Bureau said salaries had not been paid to the Commissioners by the act of 1882. He did not say they would not be paid hereafter. The Minister claimed that the port was the finest on the St. Lawrence in a quarter of a century it will be the industrial centre of the country, declared Mr. Bureau. The bill, he concluded, was based on a system in operation at Vancouver. There would be plenty of work to keep the Commissioner fully engaged. The clause carried.

Clauses were carried swiftly without discussion until clause 10 was reached when Robert Forke, Progressive Leader, objected to the bill being proceeded with when not yet printed. Deputy Speaker Gordon displayed a printed copy of the bill. Mr. Bureau—"I myself have only a typewritten copy". Mr. Lapointe said that if Mr. Forke objected, he (the Minister) could not proceed. Deputy Speaker overruled Mr. Forke's objection. Mr. Meighen said he did not think the House was competent to go into committee on a bill until it was printed in English and French. The Minister intimated he would withdraw the bill for the present. Progress was reported.

STAMBOULISKY WAS KILLED YESTERDAY

When Party Of Peasants Attempted To Rescue Him From Captors

NEAR BIRTHPLACE

Train Service In Bulgaria Has Been Resumed, According To Report

Sofia, June 15.—Alexander Stamboulisky, Premier of Bulgaria from the time the Peasant Government was formed under his leadership in 1918 until he was overthrown last week by the Bulgarian army, was killed this morning in the village of Vetren, near his native town Slavovizta. He was shot in the course of an attempt by a party of Peasants to rescue him from guards who had captured him yesterday after a three days' pursuit.

Stamboulisky was brought from the village of Golak, where he was captured. He announced that he had important documents at his Slavovizta home and he was permitted to put out for them surrounded by guards. On the outskirts of the village a party of Peasants blocked the road.

Under the fire of the peasants the guards abandoned Stamboulisky and the Peasants proceeded to escort him toward the village. En route a band of soldiers attacked the Peasants with rifle fire. It was during the short fight which followed that Stamboulisky was shot—virtually on the threshold of his birthplace.

Stamboulisky, as a captive, was expected to be brought to Sofia by the noon train today. When the train arrived at the station the streets around Alexander Square were choked with citizens eager to get a glimpse of him. Shortly afterwards they learned of his fate.

It was a Peasant who arrested the former Premier at Colak. Stamboulisky went to a tile-making establishment and ordered a large amount of tile, paying 300 leva to bind the bargain.

Recognizing him in spite of his disguise, the merchant suspected the purpose of the transaction was to develop friendly contact so that he could communicate with the Mayor of Slavovizta, thereby getting in touch with his adherents. The merchant summoned assistance and told Stamboulisky he was under detention.

Stamboulisky then decided to place himself in the hands of the new authorities and wrote a letter to the Chief of Police at Vetren, offering to surrender. The officer arrived several hours later with a detachment of soldiers, after starting for Sofia the former Premier asked to be permitted to drive to Slavovizta and it was the granting of this request that led to his death.

The Sofia newspapers continue to publish various versions of alleged irregularities and scandals of the Peasants' Premier's regime. The Government has issued a warning against the printing of unfounded reports.

Trains are now running to all points in Bulgaria and private messages are permitted over the Government wires.

POINCARE GOT CONFIDENCE VOTE BY 380 TO 200

Government's Preoccupation Being Foreign Premier Evaded Internal Politics

NO ARBITRARY LINES Relied For Majority On Individuals But Did Not Want Extremist Support

Paris, June 15.—The Chamber of Deputies late tonight gave a vote of confidence to the government on its domestic policy. The vote was 380 to 200. Premier Poincare was summoned today, during the Chamber's debate on interior politics to define the limits of the majority in the Chamber on which he proposed to rely for support. He refused, however, to draw arbitrary lines between the groups of the Chamber, further than to exclude the Royalists, Socialists and Communists.

The policy of the Government he declared would be to repress violent measures by the Extremists, whether Royalists or Communists. The Entente Republican, the principal group in the Chamber, desired that the Radicals be excommunicated, but the Premier carefully refrained from doing this. They showed indications of excluding themselves from the government majority, however, by remaining silent in their seats while the rest of the Chamber, excepting the Socialists and Communists, were applauding the head of the Government. The Government majority, Poincare said, will properly develop from free exercise of the vote by the Deputies individually. He emphasized that the Government's care at the present time is the foreign situation. Incidentally, he recalled that Germany had paid nothing in reparations, and that her resistance to the Allies in the Ruhr had obliged them to prolong and intensify the rigor of the occupation.

The reception of his declaration showed a sharp division between the Left composed of the Radicals, Republican Socialists, Socialists and Communists, which received the Premier coldly and the rest of the Chamber which, with the exception of a few Royalists, approved his words heartily.

ANDERSON AND LARSEN CLEARED

Commission Discovered Misunderstanding Existed Over Rules Governing Bout

A misunderstanding regarding the rules between referee Eddie Armstrong, Lee Anderson and Wolf Larson, principals in the boxing bout staged at the Drill Hall last Monday night, was given out as the reason for the fiasco, by the Athletic and Sports Commission of Quebec at a meeting held last evening to investigate the affair.

It appears that when the boxers were called to the centre of the ring to receive instructions from the referee, Anderson and Larson requested that the "Rabbit punch" be barred as well as the back hand slap. Anderson refused to accede to this and the fighters were sent to their corners by the referee who told Anderson that these punches would be barred. This caused all the trouble according to Anderson who was in attendance at the assembly.

BASEBALL GALORE OVER WEEK-END

Eastern Canada And City Leagues Have Games Scheduled For Tomorrow

Local baseball fans will have plenty of their favorite pastime to witness, should they so desire, over the week-end, as there are five games scheduled to be played today and tomorrow, three of which are Eastern Canada League fixtures. The other two contests are City League affairs. Quebec and Canadians clash in the second game of their series this afternoon while the same two teams will play a doubleheader tomorrow.

The Eastern Canada contests will be staged at the Exhibition Grounds while the City League games will be staged at the Quebec Baseball Park. St. Denis or Keyes will be used in the box for the afternoon's fixture which will commence at 5.00 o'clock while Schwab and Davis will likely be sent to the mound in the doubleheader tomorrow.

St. Patrick's will use Freddie Martineau in the box and Lambert on the receiving end in the game against Verdun tomorrow while the latter outfit will most probably rely on Drouin to serve the batters with St. Pierre behind the bat. Canadiens will send Alf. Bernard to the mound with Pruneau catching Warton and Tremblay will be the battery for Napoleons.

Two fires called the firemen out last evening, for which three alarms were rung in, from boxes 58, 73 and 77.

The first fire was in the grocery store of J. Darveau, on St. Francois street, where damage to the extent of about $300.00 was done, while the second blaze was in a barber shop at the corner of Laliberte and Des Fosses streets. Here the damage amounted to about one hundred dollars.

The chief art of learning is to attempt but little at a time.

NEXT SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IN OCTOBER

According To Montreal Gazette—Tubercular Hospital Matters To Fore

HON. A. DAVID

On Returning To Look Into Hospital Situation In Montreal

Montreal, June 15—While the date for the opening of the next session has not yet been set, it is quite probable that it will be held in October, not with a view of getting it over with before the end of the year, as was the case in 1922 but to enable the session to be concluded early in 1924, says the Montreal Gazette.

The position has changed in view of the fact that the Opposition has a good sized majority in number and a specially good battery of speaking talent, and a full three month session is quite probable.

Hon. Athanase David, Provincial Secretary, has a number of matters to get into working order, especially as regards public health. One of the matters which it is hoped he will bring to a speedy issue is in regard to the Ste. Agathe Sanatorium before leaving for France—where he has represented the province at the Pasteur Centenary celebrations. Mr. David commenced negotiations with the Federal Government for returned soldiers, and now practically deserted as to patients due to the two governments' failing to make their arrangements, while the need for care for tubercular patients is being emphasized by medical authorities.

The delay in getting the matter settled has been due to a number of complicated issues, but all of which it is expected that a broad grasp of the needs of a tubercular institute will overcome.

Mr. David, it is thought, will give the finishing "push" to the matter on his return.

Mr. David will also deal with the establishment of the various tubercular dispensaries which are to be established in the province. Steps necessary for their establishment have been already taken by Mr. A. Lessard, director of public charities, but there is still a good deal to be done which requires the attention of the Minister.

Mr. David previous to his departure outlined generally the methods and system which would be used.

Another problem regarding tubercular hospitals which requires attention is that of the establishment of a tubercular hospital in Montreal. The Sisters of Providence some two years ago made an arrangement with the civic authorities whereby the city would pay approximately $75,000 per year towards the maintenance of a tubercular hospital. The Sisters agreed to maintain a certain number of free beds in return for this civic grant.

The intention at that time was to rebuild the old Mont Lasalle Institute, in Maisonneuve Park and use it for a hospital, but following the destruction by fire of L'Hopital des Incapables in Notre Dame de Grace owned by the same sisterhood, the Mont Lasalle plan was abandoned. It is not being possible to turn it into a fire-proof structure, and the intention now is to build a modern fire-proof structure. The Provincial Government promised 150,000 to the Sisters to aid in building at Maisonneuve Park, but with this plan abandoned, it is now a matter of recommencing negotiations between the civic, provincial and hospital authorities.

ADULTERATING CANADIAN GRAIN Has Been Carried On At One U.S. Port To Limited Extent

(By Canadian Press) Ottawa, June 15—"There has been adulteration to a very limited extent. It was limited to one United States port. I may say that there was no real complaint against the port of New York."

The above answer was given by Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, to a question regarding the extent to which there had been adulteration of Canadian grain at American ports, in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"There was only a verbal report," replied the Minister, "after the return of the Grain Commissioners and the inspector from visits to New York, Baltimore and Washington, they made a verbal report. I may say that so long as Canadian shippers persist in putting their grain through American ports they run the risk of adulteration," he added.

Better a penny fairy got than a thousand that are not.

DEMONSTRATION OF SCHOOL WORK

Senior Pupils Of St. Patrick's School Show Evidence Of Careful Training

The splendid education which the pupils of St. Patrick's School, De Salaberry street, was demonstrated last evening in the school before a large audience composed of several priests of the St. Patrick's parish, parents of the boys as well as a number of friends of this scholastic institution.

Among those present were Rev. Father Connolly, Rev. Father McCormack, Mr. Jack Leonard, School Commissioner, Alderman J. Collier, Mr. D. W. Mill, Director of Surveys, Province of Quebec, Mr. J. J. G. S. and Professor Tremblay, of Laval University, who examined the boys in geometry and algebra.

The proceedings opened with a pianoforte selection by Master J. Michaud, followed by the reading of an essay on Othello by Master G. Embregts, this being composed by himself, and was an excellent exposition on this famous Shakespearean character. The "Auction" by the pupils of the 6th year was very well carried out, and was impressive in regards to the lessons it imparted.

The Debate by the Literary Union of the school brought out many clever arguments for and against on the question "Chinese Immigration," the Resolution being "That our Federal Government should exclude the Chinese from the country." The affirmative side was represented by G. Embregts, F. Johnston, J. Donnelly and J. Thompson, while the negative side was represented by G. Whyte, D. Walker, F. Hutchison and P. Mathie. The debate showed that the boys had studied their respective sides of the question with apparent diligence, and it was a hard matter on the part of the Rev. Father Connolly, adjudicator, to decide which side had the best of the argument. However, in his decision Father Connolly announced that so far as the actual debate was concerned both sides were equal, but as the affirmative side took occasion to rebut the arguments put forth by those composing the negative, he gave one point more to the former.

Master G. Embregts then gave a pianoforte selection, this was followed by a demonstration of their knowledge of algebra and geometry, questions for which were set by Professor A. Tremblay, of Laval University. Each boy had three questions in each subject to work out on the blackboard and in addition were questioned by the examiner in the reasons for arriving at their solutions and in every case gave answers quite satisfactory to the examiner. The last item on the programme was an examination in shorthand and typewriting conducted by Mr. John Breen, official Court stenographer, in which the following pupils took part: Masters G. Whyte, G. Embregts, F. Johnston, J. Thompson, D. Walker and J. Donnelly, all of whom quite satisfied the examiner in their knowledge of this important subject.

The demonstration proved conclusively that the Brothers of St. Patrick's School leave nothing to be desired in preparing their pupils for the battle of life, everyone of whom are greatly indebted to the Brothers for the zeal they have

PROTEST AGAINST PARK ENCROACHMENT

A vigorous protest was voiced at the meeting of the City Council last evening against the proposed steps by the City to encroach upon Place d'Armes Square and upon the green plots near the Chateau Frontenac to make more room for the automobiles and the automobiles.

The protests were made by Ald. Delagrave and Ald. Thibaudau.

Mayor Samson said that there was nothing definite in the matter and that the stakes which had been driven by the City were only a tentative plan awaiting further conferences with C. P. R. and the Quebec Railway in the matter.

Ald. Thibaudau warned the City to study the matter well before taking any decision. He said that the rate-payers of Palace Ward as well as of other parts of the city were keenly aroused over the matter.

Badly Decomposed And Had Been In Water Three Weeks Or A Month

The body of a man who had been laying in the waters of the St. Lawrence for three weeks or a month was washed ashore at Silery yesterday afternoon, and transported to Moisan's Morgue, where an inquest will be held this morning at 11 o'clock.

HORSE TALK AT THE CITY HALL

Ald. Emond Informed Regarding Purchase Of Horses For Public Works Department

The questions which Ald. J. Emond has been asking at the City Council for some time past relative to the purchase of horses for the Public Works Department were answered last night.

The report of City Engineer Balfour showed that 18 horses had been purchased in all. Two of them were purchased by Mr. I. Sharples and Mr. Paul Beaumont, while the others were bought by Ald. Arthur Drolet. The prices varied between $125 to $200.

The horses in question had not been examined at the time of purchase by a Veterinary Surgeon, but the City Veterinary Surgeon reported that on a later examination he found that none of the horses were sick.

Ald. Emond held that this did not show that the horses were free from blemishes when they were purchased.

Mayor Samson said that the sworn accounts showed that there had not been anything paid for the horses in excess of the accounts filed.

FOREST FIRES STILL MENAGE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

On Upper Tobique River Bush Fires Have Taken On New Fury

SITUATION SERIOUS

Over 250 Square Miles Have Been Burned In Last Two Weeks

Fredericton, N.B., June 15—Fires which reached the Upper Tobique River, after burning across more than fifty miles of forests from the International Railway, have taken on new fury and become among the most serious in New Brunswick, according to reports reaching the departments of Lands and Mines here tonight.

The Bald Mountain lookout had reported that these fires have spread with remarkable rapidity during the past twenty four hours until they are now getting into the Nopisquit forests and are within a short distance of the Nopisquit lakes. The rains this week did not reach this territory although it did much good on the lower Tobique.

Lumbermen today placed the monetary loss suffered so far in the destruction by forest fires which have burned over more than 250 square miles in New Brunswick during the past two weeks at not less than $4,000,000. These figures were on a basis of $25 to the acre on 160,000 acres.

In addition there have been the losses in destruction of mills, houses, barns and various other buildings.

Retail Merchants Will Suspend Business For Celebration Of St-Jean Baptiste

At a meeting of the Quebec section of the Retail Merchants' Association held yesterday, with President Joseph Savard in the chair, it was resolved that "According to a well established custom, all the retail merchants will close their stores all day on June 24, on the occasion of the celebration of the St. Jean Baptiste."

Delegates to attend the provincial convention of Retail Merchants which will be held in Sherbrooke on June 27 and 28 were chosen as follows: Joseph Savard, H. C. Pagny, N. E. Papillon, Francois Bourret, J. A. Paquet, and A. J. Landau, Secretary.

APPEAL ISSUED FOR SUFFERERS FROM BUSH FIRES

A report received late last night by Gustave C. Piche, Chief Forester of the Province of Quebec, from Temiscouata County, gives some details of the terrible destruction wrought by the forest fires in that locality.

Over 100 houses were reduced to ashes, 50 in Sully, 20 in Etroits, 20 in St. Honoré and 10 or 12 in St. Hubert.

Ten saw mills, thousands of cords of pulpwood, lumber of various kinds, barns, stables, and many other buildings have also fallen prey to the onrushing flames.

The people in those and in other localities where the forest fires have been most serious, have been obliged to take flight and many of them are now entirely destitute.

Food and clothing, bedding and other absolute necessities are required to bring relief to the sufferers and the Provincial Forestry Department has issued a call for assistance.

Persons who can supply clothes and other wearing apparel, or who wish in any other way to help the victims of the forest fires are invited to send goods or money to purchase same to the Department and such relief will be distributed by Mr. Piche and his officers where they are most urgently required.

ART IN PAPER MAKING

Howard Smith Paper Mills, Limited, has issued an artistically arranged publication on "Art in Paper Making, a brief review of progress and resources." It is designed to give the company's shareholders in particular, and the public which may be interested, an insight into what the company has accomplished in the way of producing the finest grades of paper made in the world to day. The growth of the company's business from modest beginnings to its present important status in the paper trade is outlined.

Another section indicates the status of paper making in Canadian industry. A brief historical sketch of paper making is followed by the story of "How Paper is Made." The publication is artistically illustrated and the typographical effects are excellent.

IMMIGRATION INTO CANADA IS INCREASING

During Five Months Ending May 39,441 Newcomers Entered Canada

EXODUS DECLINING

2,078 Immigrants Came From U.S.—British Immigration Increased 100 P.C.

Ottawa, June 15—(By Canadian Press)—Immigration is increasing. During the five months ending May 39,441 immigrants entered Canada, or 41 per cent over the total for the corresponding five months of last year. Immigration from Great Britain alone during the five months showed an increase of 100 per cent.

Immigration from the United States has been steadily growing during the last few months. In May alone 2,078 entered Canada, from the 2,075 States compared with only 642 in January of this year. There is, however, still a decrease in immigration from the United States as compared with the 1922 figures.

The recent recovery in this class of immigration is regarded by immigration department officials as an indication that the efflux across the international boundary is being curtailed.

DEMPSEY IS IN HARD TRAINING

Champion Knocked Out His Second Sparring Partner In Two Days

Great Falls, Mont., June 15—With a terrific left hook to the chin, Jack Dempsey today knocked out Jack Burke, a Pittsburgh heavyweight, making the heavyweight champion's second knock-out victim in two days since he resumed boxing after a week's layoff.

With the assurance that the second $100,000 installment due Dempsey tomorrow will be met, Jack Kearns left tonight for Shelby to collect. The final $200,000 guarantee must be paid July 2, forty-eight hours before Dempsey goes into the ring with Gibbons.

Gibbons Also Punching. Shelby, Mont., June 14—A big brown bag in Tommy Gibbons' training ring received more punishment this afternoon than did his four sparring partners who are preparing him for his championship match with Jack Dempsey July 4.

The challenger dropped Kid Rocco, the light-heavyweight, with a left squarer to the chin, but it was virtually the only time Gibbons put on full speed during the afternoon.

A special section deals with the Laurentians, all of whose countless resorts are enumerated. Camping in the Laurentians is also described. Other sections tell you about the Gatineau Valley, the Eastern Townships, Lakes Kipawa and Temiskaming, Lake Edward and Lake St. John, near Quebec. There is also a list of hotels and boarding houses, and many other suggestions for the holiday-maker. Copies of this folder can be obtained from C. A. Langevin, City Passenger Agent, Gare du Palais, Quebec.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON. New York, N.Y., June 15—(By Canadian Press)—A case requiring the wisdom of Solomon came up in Yorkville Court when Mrs. Anna O'Connor and Mrs. Rose Cohen appeared before Magistrate Sweetser each claiming ownership of a Pomaranian pup, which was also present. "Stand over there, Mrs. Cohen," ordered the magistrate, "and call it."

Mrs. Cohen called "Bebe." The pup ran to her joyfully. Mrs. O'Connor was then given a similar chance. She called "Trixie." The pup again responded joyfully. Then the animal romped to Magistrate Sweetser whether he called it Bebe or Trixie. In desperation the judge put Mrs. Cohen one side of the court and Mrs. O'Connor on the other with the pup in the centre. "Go!" he thundered. "The pup ran to Mrs. Cohen, she was allowed to keep it."

The large quantities of liquor "smuggled in from Canada" may be the product of bush stills in Maine, New Hampshire, and other suitable territory.

The "Hotel Scribe purchase" need never be written down to profit and loss for the Canadian National, so says Sir Henry Thornton.

QUEBEC, JUNE 16, 1923.

A RETURN VISIT.

On Monday next a party, composed of members of the Toronto Board of Trade, will arrive here for the day as the guests of the local Board. A programme of entertainment, at once interesting and instructive, has been drawn up with a luncheon as the central feature. Members of the Quebec Board of Trade can derive material benefit from closer acquaintance with their visitors, but, apart from this, they should feel it a personal responsibility to assist in extending the city's hospitality and not leave this duty to fall entirely on the shoulders of the relatively few gentlemen who compose the Council.

This gathering is in some sort a return of the bonae entente visit paid by Quebecers to Toronto last March, at which time they were royally entertained by hundreds of citizens of the Queen City. For this reason it would be unfortunate in the extreme if the Ancient Capital were to fall short in any way of the courtesy that the occasion demands and we look forward to a turn out of local members that will break all previous records. Surely such an expectation, shared as it is by the officers of the Board, is not doomed to disappointment.

FORESEES EXODUS AFTER RUIN.

Sir Clifford Sifton, a former head of the Commission of Conservation and a Canadian who has always the most practical interest in conservation problems, is the latest to come forward with a warning as to the disastrous result of the present wholesale waste of our forest heritage, if permitted to continue for any length of time. It seems self-evident, in his opinion, that if the plague of forest fires is so permitted to continue, the exodus of population from our timber growing areas cannot very well be prevented. We have a large percentage of Canada's habitable area unfit for farming. That percentage must produce timber and mines or be eliminated from our state of assets. From the point of view of fire damage we may omit consideration of mines. Thus, if we allow the ravages of forest conflagrations to continue at the present pace, it is only a question of a relatively few years until we force from our northern areas the great body of population and all municipalities subsisting on forest manufactures.

Sir Clifford says that he regards the forests, not as a mass of trees, but as the raw material of industrial expansion and of prolific employment, and as the mainstay of our thousands of municipalities dependent on wood-using industries. It is much more intelligent, he declares, to discern in a "bush fire" the destruction of a multitude of pay envelopes. It drives the plain facts home when we visualize every human-caused forest fire as a blow to our national well-being that will require three-quarters of a century to repair.

As the situation now stands, Canada should gain enormously from the simple fact of possessing great spruce areas with excellent water powers to make utilization effective and relatively cheap. To the south we have a partially deforested nation, exhibiting an insatiable demand for the products of a spruce forest, chiefly newsprint paper. Even as England's coal served to enrich her during the last century or more, so Canada's spruce and pine forests should be taken as representing a commercial counter almost unmatched by anything else we possess except agricultural land.

"Are we to tolerate a condition where, with every forest area on a rising market, our own citizens with a false notion of personal license, shall continue to start four thousand forest fires a year, killing the very resource from which the industrial workers of Canada stand to profit most?" This is Sir Clifford's final challenge. "I believe the Provincial Governments could well afford to spend on forest fire prevention every dollar of their forest revenues." He goes on to say, "up to a point where the forest capital ceases to show an annual depletion. If even one-half of the millions of forest taxation were spent on the most modern systems of forest protection we would rapidly diminish our shocking annual losses of timber and go far toward placing the timber resources on a business-like basis."

SCIENCE AND RELIGION

A joint statement by representative groups of scientists, religious leaders, and men of affairs has been issued in the United States on the relation between science and religion. The two, it says, "met distinctive human needs, and in the rounding out of human life they supplement rather than displace or oppose each anti-evolution and anti-science propaganda as well as anti-religious movements.

The full statement is as follows: "We, the undersigned, deeply regret that in recent controversies there has been a tendency to present science and religion as irreconcilable and antagonistic human needs, and in the rounding out of human life they supplement rather than displace or oppose each other.

"The purpose of science is to develop, without prejudice or preconception of any kind, a knowledge of the facts, the laws, and the processes of nature. The even more important task of religion, on the other hand, is to develop the consciences, the ideals, and the aspirations of mankind. Each of these two activities represents a deep and vital function of the soul of man, and both are necessary for the life, the progress, and the happiness of the human race.

"It is a sublime conception of God which is furnished by science, and one wholly consistent with the highest ideals of religion, when it represents Him as revealing Himself through countless ages in the development of the earth as an abode for man and in the age-long inbreathing of life into its constituent matter, culminating in man with his spiritual nature and all his God-like powers."

Among the signers are some of the best-known men in their respective fields on the continent, including bishops, denominational leaders, professors, scientists, statesmen and business men.

Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, a scientific writer of considerable reputation, says of this pronouncement: "These distinguished thinkers in various fields found it easy to agree upon a simple statement of their opinion of the relation of religion and science and their belief that both have a place in modern life. No one can question either the ability or sincerity of such men as these and since their adhesion to the declaration is purely voluntary it is evident that they find no essential incompatibility between a personal view of the universe.

"It is a curious feature of the present situation that the laity is more alarmed over the advances of science than the clergy. That is those who know the most about theology and who have most at stake in the church are most willing to welcome historical criticism and scientific research. The real conflict is not between science and religion as such, but rather between dramatic and intolerant religionists and scientists on the other side. It is more a difference of temperament than of opinion. The effort to fetter freedom of investigation or to force thought into fixed formulas is equally fatal in science and religion.

"Overmuch fear of heresy indicates lack of faith. Scientific men have such absolute confidence in the validity of the scientific method that they permit their most fundamental principles to be challenged even in their own societies.

"Science and religion, properly understood, need never conflict, but should always co-operate in the advancement of the human race. For each supplies what the other lacks. Science provides the means by which human toil and suffering may be alleviated, and shows how human life may be lengthened and enhanced. Religion gives inspiration to the individual, an aspiration to a high ideal. Science gives eyes to religion. Religion gives a heart to science. Knowledge is power. But power is impotent unless set in action and dangerous if set in action by the wrong motive. Religion, unless enlightened by science, wastes its energies in vague longings or in fruitless and sometimes harmless efforts to remedy bodily or social ills.

"Science may discover what conduct is most conducive to human welfare in the future. But science as such cannot go beyond this. It can point out the best way, but it cannot inspire the individual voluntarily to follow it against his personal interest. Mere knowledge cannot of itself supply the motive for self-sacrifice for others or for the future. It cannot make a mother risk her life for her child or a man risk his for his country. The altruistic impulse is a religious instinct, whether it is recognized as such or not. Science can supply the motive power. Religion must supply the motive."

THE IDEA SPREADS.

The bilingual idea continues to spread among Canadians of English tongue. This is a fact which no one who makes any study of popular currents can overlook and which is emphasized by a growing mass of influential testimony. The latest issue of the Christian Guardian publishes, for instance, a very able letter from the pen of Dr. S. D. Chown, who deals with an attack made upon himself by the Orange Grand Lodge as the result of an address he had delivered before the Kiwanis Club of Pembroke and in which he was supposed to have shown too little respect for Regulation Seventeen.

Agreeing with Sir Arthur Currie "that this country would have a broader and better future if every Canadian could converse fluently in the French language," Dr. Chown adds his own belief that the practical difficulties in the way of teaching both French and English to the same pupil would soon vanish if the experiment were fairly tried. Nor can he see that any damage would come by doing so, either to Canadians or Canadian citizenship. Greater mutual understanding would soon follow, and, he is sure, love would be the sequel, and love is a force-producing unity, personal and national.

Dr. Chown says he has discovered that the object he had in view has the unanticipated, yet strong support of very prominent Canadians. This is abundantly evidenced by the letters written to him spontaneously before and since so much newspaper publicity was given the attack referred to above. A gentleman in public life, lifted above the shifting winds and cross currents of political partisanship, wrote him that "No doubt one of the best and highest services that could be rendered with respect to the national life of Canada today is the fostering of good will and a better understanding between the people of Ontario and Quebec." He added that he had "observed with much satisfaction the fact that men of influence and leadership throughout the country are giving voice to this idea in no uncertain terms."

The ex-president of one of the Annual Conferences of the Methodist Church, and for many years chairman of a district in the Province of Quebec, wrote him as follows:

"I read with deep interest in the Montreal Star a brief report of an address given by you on 'Cementing Canadian Citizenship,' before the Kiwanis Club at Pembroke, Ontario. The sentiments expressed are in such perfect accord with my own deep conviction that I cannot refrain from humbly expressing my appreciation of your timely and forceful utterances. I have in my humble way for years, in private and in public, advocated the largest possible effort to appreciate each other's standpoint, not only in the interests of our Canadian citizenship, but in the name of Him whose spirit will suffer us to think evil of none. Pardon me for troubling you, but I did want to wish you God-speed in your effort to 'Cement Canadian Citizenship,' and to assure you that I am with you for a Canada which, whether French or English, or French and English, will have enough of the spirit of Christ to live as brothers."

A foremost Methodist minister, who possesses discriminating culture to a striking degree, speaking on the subject, said to him: "Don't give that up. It is worth suffering for."

"I am quite sure that the suggestion which I made, and which has been so influentially endorsed, may by some be called an Utopian dream, but that does not move me," Dr. Chown asserts in conclusion. "All great achievements were once dreams. Let those who oppose it bring forward something better if they can, but if they cannot, let them not ask others to do nothing to prevent Canada going out into the great future with her wings of destiny clipped, shorn of her strength, and gashed with gaping chasms of misunderstanding and estrangement. Now, if ever, is the time to draw our people together, and every man who has any influence upon public opinion should use it to that end when a suitable opportunity presents itself. If any Canadian is prepared to see his country go down into history carrying with it the differences of opinion and feeling that now exist, I do not covet or admire his brand of patriotism, but on the other hand my heart warms to the great words of the American Senator Lodge, when favorably discussing the League of Nations, before his mind became polarized by the exigencies of party politics, he declared, 'Not failure, but low aim is in crime.'"

The grade crossing continues to take its toll of life and the people who cry against the butchery of war, continue to tolerate its existence.

The President of China resigned but left his wife to hand it in after he had got a safe distance away. This lady appears to be the better half of the partnership.

The salaries of M.P.'s and Senators are to be revised by a Joint Committee of the two Houses and we trust for the sake of their continued prosperity that some will not be paid in accordance with their deserts.

NO PASSES TO

PUBLIC WHEN DELORME

CASE COMES UP

Montreal, June 15—No passes will be issued to the public admitting them to the Court of King's Bench during the trial of the Rev. J. Adelaar Delorme, Sheriff L. J. Lemieux announced today on his return from Quebec, where he consulted the Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Attorney-General and Charles Lanctot, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General.

"Only witnesses holding subpoenas, court officials, newspaper reporters working on the trial and lawyers in their gowns or who themselves present their personal cards to the police will be admitted," said the Sheriff.

WITH OUR TYPICAL NOVELISTS.

"Make it ten! And have you any plan for work beyond that?"

"Oh, yes indeed," laughed the Lady Novelist. "I am always planning ahead. What I want to do after that is a study of the inside of a penitentiary."

"Of the inside?" we said, with a shudder.

"Yes. To do it, of course, I shall go to jail for two or three years!"

The Irrefutable Claims of Art.

"But how can you get in?" we asked, thrilled at the quiet determination of the frail woman before us.

"I shall demand it as a right," she answered quietly. "I shall go to the authorities, at the head of a band of enthusiastic women, and demand that I shall be sent to jail. Surely after the work I have done, that much is coming to me."

"It certainly is," we said warmly. We rose to go.

We made up our mind as we went that novel writing is not for us. We must reach the penitentiary in some other way.

That splendid work was being accomplished by the Salvation Army in its many fields of activity in the Dutch Indies and particularly in Java, in China and in India, was the message delivered by Commissioner Charles Sowton, of Toronto, who has charge of the entire Eastern division, including Newfoundland and Bermuda, at a special meeting held in the Army Hall on Elgin street last night.

Commissioner Sowton was accompanied by Colonel Adby of Toronto, who generally follows the Commissioner and leads in song at the services where he presides, and Staff Captain Owen of Montreal.

The Commissioner told of the magnificent results the Army was obtaining in the Dutch Indies and particularly in Java, and he paid a very high tribute to Brigadier Willie, who was at one time a most eminent oculist but who has, for some time past given his entire energies and his whole time to the work of the Army in those far-away countries. The Army, said the Commissioner, with the very able assistance of Brigadier Willie, gave the lepers in the Dutch Indies a great deal of care and assistance. It attended to their physical and spiritual wants and the poor sufferers of the terrible sickness were most grateful to the members of the Army.

Dealing with conditions in China, Commissioner Sowton explained how the good work which was now being accomplished in that field, had been made possible by the generous legacy of a well known business man who had succeeded in establishing flourishing trade in the East and who had left a large sum of money to the Army. This money had permitted the Army to start operations in that immense territory, and today posts were established in many parts of China.

Commissioner Sowton spoke at some length of the work of the Army in India, where no less than 3,000 posts were established. There were 700 day schools, boarding schools, hospitals and other similar establishments conducted by the Salvation Army. The speaker told of some striking incidents and conversations, and remarkable sudden changes in the attitude of the people in certain parts of India, due to the earnest devotion and strong faith of the members of the Army and the perseverance they put in their work in that most difficult field.

As to the position in Canada, the Commissioner said everything was "going on fine". During the last year there had been in the aggregate no less than 1,000 converts in the Eastern territory. Bands were developing and increasing in numbers. There were today no less than 15 Salvation Army bands in Toronto alone.

Three new hospitals had been opened during the past twelve months, most of them maternity hospitals. No less than 3,000 babies were born in the Army hospitals, said the Commissioner, who remarked: "That's the right kind of immigration, that which starts right in the cradle".

The commissioner also referred to the splendid work accomplished at the new General Hospital at Windsor, Ont., the excellent results obtained through the prison work, the Police Court work and other similar activities of the Army in various parts of Canada.

There was a good attendance at the meeting and after the Commissioner's address all joined in several choruses led by Colonel Adby and the meeting was brought to an end by the singing of the Doxology.

An exodus of women and children, leading vehicles of various kinds bearing some of their more precious belongings, started from the little village of Manie in Kamouraska County yesterday morning, when a wave of flame, from the forest fires, seven miles wide, swept towards their homes and threatened them with complete destruction. The men remained behind to try and fight the devastating element.

To those who went through the great war the scene would have recalled those daily long processions which wended their way to the rear from the region devastated by the grey hordes of Germans.

Women and children were sent to the neighboring villages of St. Bruno and St. Pascal which are outside the danger circle.

The Power lumber mill in Manie, were threatened with destruction and it was feared that unless the wind changed or heavy rain fell to help extinguish the fires, the flames would sweep through the village itself and wipe out the lumber mill as well.

Large forces of fire rangers, assisted by the employees of the Power Company and the male residents of Manie, are still fighting the outbreak and they will keep up the struggle day and night until all danger is passed.

The situation all through the province is still very serious, according to Gustave C. Piche, Chief Forester.

Yesterday afternoon late, the Forestry Department was requested by wire, to send a number of fire pumps to the Abitibi. The telegram did not give much detail of the outbreak but simply asked for assistance. It was pointed out by Mr. Piche that the call for pumps indicated that the situation in that district must be very serious.

A summary of the situation in the various parts of the province was given out as follows by the Chief Forester yesterday:

There was no news from Temiscouata where the telephone and telegraph lines are down, and no report was received from the Ottawa Valley. In the St. Maurice district fire had broken out again at Escatouna, while there is some slight improvement in the situation at Lac-au-Sable and Coteaux Creek. There is a very bad fire at Polisson Blanc and new outbreaks at Las-des-Bales and at Bonstons Lake.

The Department had no further news from the Lake St. John district but Mr. Sherbrook, a representative of Price Bros. informed Mr. Piche that conditions were very bad in some parts of that district owing to the continued drought and the carelessness of the settlers in burning their "slash".

A serious fire in Charlevoix County, in the rear of St. Urbain, is threatening the National Park while the outbreak at Baie des Rochers is practically extinguished. Fires have also been reported from Lac-aux-Quilles and Long Lake and it is feared that the serenity of Mont Murray is threatened with destruction.

Along the Saguenay the fire is spreading from Lac des Canards to the south and from Portneuf river to Escoumains river. The outbreak if being fought by 50 men of the Laurentian Protective Association.

The fires in Dorchester County are now under control.

In the Metapedia Valley the serenity which had been threatened by a fire which started at Jette. There has been no rain in that district. Dangerous fires have broken out at Capucins, Ste. Anne des Monts, and St. Joachim, in Gaspé County.

The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire yesterday elected officers. Mrs. F. E. Doolittle of Toronto was re-elected President; Miss R. M. Church, of Toronto, first Vice-President; Mrs. W. Hamilton Burns, also of Toronto, second Vice-President, and Mrs. A. F. Rutter, of Toronto, third.

The following provincial presidents qualified for Vice-Presidents by reason of their office: Mrs. W. Doolley, Calgary; Mrs. DuPencier, Vancouver; Mrs. Collin H. Campbell, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. H. McLeod, Fredericton; Mrs. Geoffrey Morrow, Halifax; Mrs. H. F. Burkhead, Hamilton, and Mrs. D. M. Balfour, Regina.

The secretary is Miss S. Gault, Toronto; while Mrs. U. Power, of Toronto, is treasurer. Mrs. A. H. Malcolmson, of St. Catharines, is organizing secretary, with Miss W. Gordon, of Kingston, educational secretary. Mrs. W. B. Horvath, of Toronto, last year's national secretary, is assistant educational secretary. Mrs. W. H. Barker, of Toronto, is Echoes secretary, with Mrs. H. Brotherhood, of Elkhorn, standard bearer.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting, Sir Richard Turner, who is sailing today to attend the unveiling of a memorial at Ypres, and who is to place a wreath on the memorial on behalf of the I.O.D.E., delivered a short address.

Bouquets of flowers were presented to the convenors of the various committees, Miss Thom, Miss Gibaut, Mrs. J. H. Spence, Mrs. J. C. M. McLimont, Mme. S. Grondin and Lady Turner, on behalf of Mrs. H. C. Foy, receiving magnificent flowers. Mrs. DuPencier, on behalf of the four Western Provinces then presented Mrs. P. E. Doolittle with a colonial bouquet, while a bouquet was also presented to the oldest member attending the convention, who turned up in the person of Mrs. Davis, of Montreal, aged 83 years.

This over, the delegates proceeded to tea at Mde. L. A. Taschereau's, after which the National Councilors returned to the Chateau to choose their president and officers.

Yesterday, just after noon, the convener of the Northern Ontario Fire Relief Fund, Mrs. R. M. Church, submitted the annual report, showing the vast amount of work done by the I.O.D.E. in connection with the disastrous fires that raged in Ontario last year.

This afternoon the delegates will attend a garden party at Hamilton Wood at 5 o'clock. The Uruline Convention will be open for the delegates from 2 to 4 o'clock.

The election of National Councilors resulted as follows:

BETTY COMPSON AT THE VICTORIA

Film Star Will Be Featured In "Rustle Of Silk" Starting Tomorrow

A happy motion picture story ending that doesn't include a marriage or an embrace!

That is one of the unique distinctions claimed for "The Rustle of Silk", Herbert Brenon's Paramount picture featuring Betty Compton and Conway Tearle, which will be the feature of the bill at the Victoria Theatre for 4 days commencing to-morrow.

The story, adapted from Cosmo Hamilton's novel by Sadi Cowan and Ouida Bergere, centers about a humble English girl who falls in love with a great British statesman who is already married. The girl, serving the statesman's wife, adores the husband from afar.

By accident the man learns of the girl's love. Unhappy with his wife and disheartened by the course of political events, he offers to get a divorce and marry the girl.

But a crisis in the affairs of state requires all of his attention. If he resigns, chaos threatens to engulf the government. The girl, because she loves him, sacrifices her love and sends him back to fight his cause against overwhelming odds. Her compensation is found in the fact that the man who loves her faces his duty because he loved her. He wins his fight, but for the time being, at least, he fails to win the girl who spurred him on to victory.

Unlike so many screen plays of the day, "The Rustle of Silk" does not introduce an episode five or ten years later showing the principals happily married. It ends as real life stories so often end—in happiness achieved through sacrifice, but with promise of happiness to both in the future.

Attacked by Asthma, The first fearful sensation is of suffocation which hour by hour becomes more desperate and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. The asthmatic who has found out the dependability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

CANADIANS SCORED EASY VICTORY OVER QUEBEC

CANADIANS HIT ROSE HARD AND SCORED AN EASY WIN OVER LOCALS YESTERDAY

Score Was 8-1—Visitors Collected Fifteen Bingles Off Quebec Moundsman Seven Of Them Coming In The First Three Innings—Another Contest This Afternoon

Canadians improved their standing at the top of the Eastern Canada Baseball League by taking an easy victory from Quebec by a score of 8-1 at the Exhibition Grounds yesterday.

The visitors landed on Rose's shoats for a total of fifteen hits which included a triple by Boole and doubles by the same player and Curtis while the best the locals could do was to touch Barnes for six safeties, one of which was a double by Carmel.

Poor management also helped Canadians on their road to victory as Rose after being touched for seven hits which accounted for four runs in the first three frames was allowed to remain in the box much to the disgust of the spectators who kept hollering for another moundsman and to the liking of the Canadian batsmen who fattened their batting averages.

The crowd became disgusted with Rose's pitching and this coupled with a little joshing by Parkes and a couple of close decisions by the umpire put the crowd in an uproar and it appeared as if a free-for-all would be staged after the game.

MISS S. KENNEDY WON GOLF TITLE

Royal Montreal Player De-throned Mrs. Foy, Quebec—Miss Paget, Runner-Up

Montreal, June 15—(Canadian Press)—Playing steadily through two days Miss Sybil Kennedy, Royal Montreal, today won the Quebec Ladies Golf Championship, de-throning Mrs. H. C. Foy of Quebec, last year's champion.

Miss Kennedy was tied with Miss Dora Viss of Whitehall when she began this morning's round of 18 holes. She gave by far the most impressive demonstration of the meeting when she turned in a card for 92, which in addition to winning her first honors, was also the best gross score for eighteen holes.

Her total for thirty-six holes was 185. The runner up was Miss Helen Paget, of Royal Ottawa. Miss Paget entered the second round with 95. For a while it looked as if she was going to get a round in 90. However, towards the end her putting went to pieces and the best she could do was 94.

Members of the Beaconsfield Golf Club have a novel competition carded for this afternoon, when a team of left-handers will go out against a team of right-handed players in an effort to settle the much disputed question as to the respective merits of the two styles of play in golf.

WITH THE GOLFERS AT THE NINETEENTH

The Webb Cup—Handicap Match 18 holes—played for on Thursday by the Ladies Branch of the Quebec Golf Club, and was won by Mrs. Gendron. The silver medal competition was won by Mrs. Cecil Thomson and that for the Bronze Medal by Miss M. Davie.

Through the sound and sturdy efforts of Havers, Great Britain has on back its own cup which has been held in the United States for two successive years. Playing every round of the 72 holes with remarkable steadiness Havers amassed a grand total of only 296 strokes five less than Hagen made to win the trophy last year. Hagen ended his 72 hole battle today with 296 strokes recorded on his card.

Third place went to MacDonald Smith of San Francisco who had a score of 297, including a 69 this morning that broke the record for the old Troon course. Joe Kirkwood, the Australian champion came in 4th, with 298 strokes, he also getting a 69 during the day.

The scores of the eight leaders of the 72 holes were as follows:— Walter Havers ... 72 73 73 76—295 MacDonald Smith ... 76 71 74 75—296 Joe Kirkwood ... 72 79 69 78—292 F. R. Pernie ... 73 78 74 82—302 C. A. Whitcombe ... 76 76 74 82—302 George Duncan ... 79 75 74 74—302 Johnny Farrell ... 79 73 73 75—306

Between 10,000 and 15,000 spectators watched the last two rounds of the competition. Fully two-thirds of them kept their eyes on Hagen in the last hour of his gallant struggle to overtake Havers, who was leading him by two strokes when they went out after lunch for the last eighteen holes.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ALWAYS SLEEP WELL. The healthy child sleeps well and during its waking hours is never cross but always happy and laughing. It is only the sickly child that is cross and peevish. Mothers, if your children do not sleep well; if they are cross and cry a great deal, give them Baby's Own Tablets and they will soon be well and happy again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation, colic and indigestion and promote healthful sleep. They are absolutely guaranteed from opiates and may be given to the new-born babe with perfect safety. They are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. BOGASH AN EASY WINNER. Recently at Long Eaton where I am engaged as Advertising Manager of The Picturegram, the conductor there begged me to try Clarke's Blood Mixture, but I refused. However, he, knowing its curative powers from experience, made me a present of a bottle, which I began to take. Recognizing a slight improvement in my limbs, I got another bottle, and continued the treatment until I had used four bottles, and now my skin is perfectly healthy again." Both should realize that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief—to be sure of complete and lasting benefit, the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter, the true cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes, and expels the poisons that give rise to many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients. FINE CONCERT AT SHAWINIGAN. Chief Of Police Longval Made Clever Capture Of Eloping Couple. Shawinigan Falls, Que., June 14.—The concert organized by Mr. J. A. Dumaine and held in No. 1 Fire Hall attracted a large, fashionable and appreciative audience. It is to be regretted that, owing to unforeseen difficulties, the concert did not commence till 9 o'clock and, as several of the artists had to leave for Montreal on the night train, the entertainment had to be somewhat rushed. Mr. Jose Delaquerriere, Operatic Tenor, was warmly applauded in the duets of Mireille and Romeo and Juliette which he sang with Mme. Blanche Gonthier. He also sang an interesting and artistic group of French Chansonnettes. Unfortunately, he could not be heard in La Procession and Air de Suzanne, on account of the lateness of the hour. Madame Blanche Gonthier, Soprano, sang Gretry's "Ariette" L'Heure Delicieuse, by Staub, La Belle au Bois Dormant, Notre Doux Nid from La Tosca, Chanson Indoue and Air de Titania from Mignon. Mme. Gonthier was received with great applause, especially after rendering the difficult selection from Mignon. As an encore, she gave a tender English song, Godard's "Sur le Lac," "Tromperai" of Schumann, "Berceuse de Jocelyn" Menuet and Paeusepe were the Cello numbers chosen by Mlle. Yvette Lamontagne and rendered in perfect form. She gracefully responded to an encore. The piano accompaniments were played by Mlle. Aleda Lussier and as usual, were faultless. Electrical Association. Owing to the Commencement Exercises of the Technical Institute being held this evening the meeting of the St. Maurice Valley Section of the Canadian Electrical Association, scheduled also for this evening has been postponed until tomorrow evening. At this meeting, Mr. Chubbuck of the Westinghouse Electric Co. will present a paper on "Starters for Induction Motors." Court News. Yesterday, in Superior Court before Judge Marchildon appeared Majorique Boisvert on a series of counts including non-support of his wife, who subsists on the wages of four young daughters employed in a local company. On the charge of non-support, Judge Marchildon ordered the accused to pay monthly to his wife the sum of fifty dollars. On the other charges judgment will be given on July 14th. Chief Longval added another to his list of clever successes when Ernest Samson was sentenced to two months imprisonment. The accused was charged with deserting his wife and eloping with Miss Maria Langlois, age 19, his niece. Chief Longval finally located the couple at Joliette and had them arrested and brought back to Shawinigan Falls. To add to the matter, the accused had in his possession several tools which were recognized as the property of the Northern Aluminium Co. Sport Notes. The final Doubles in the Spring Tournament of the Country Club was played between Messrs. Meddick and Hemming, vs. Shaw and Whiting, the former winning out by a score of 6-8, 9-7, 6-3, 6-1. In the second set Mr. Whiting had the misfortune to break his racket and for the remainder of the match was not as effective as in the first set. Mr. Meddick, who this is one of the doubles winners also annexed the Men's Singles. The officials of the Club are gratified with the interest taken in the tournament and doubtless will hold another during the summer. On Sunday next the Shawinigan All-Star baseball players journey to Grand'Mere seeking revenge for last Sunday's defeat at the hands of the Grand'Mere team. The local grounds will witness a battle between a second string All-Star team and a team from La Gabelle, where the big construction job of the Shawinigan Water & Power Co. is in progress. The La Gabelle team are extremely confident of their ability and will bring along a crowd of supporters to help them celebrate. The game will start at 2:15 sharp. Chief to Convention. On Sunday next Chief Longval leaves for Windsor, Ont., where he will attend the Annual Convention of Police Chiefs. Last year this Convention was held in Vancouver and Chief Longval made the trip. As he is Fire Chief also and the Convention of Fire Chiefs is being held in Vancouver this year, he has an opportunity to visit the Coast again. He is doubtful if he can give the necessary time this year. MR. PUGSLEY ASKED TO COLLECT REPARATIONS FROM THE TURKS. Montreal, June 15.—Evidence heard this afternoon before the Reparations Commissions here presented over by Hon. Wm. Pugsley, turned on Turkish atrocities against Armenians. The case was that of A. Moseman, a naturalized Canadian subject who is asking for $25,000 for loss of family and $12,000 for damage to property in Armenia during the Turkish massacre. He stated that his wife had been murdered, a son and daughter starved to death and a second daughter taken away, while he was only able to escape after months of travelling under protection of darkness until he could reach neutral territory. Several insurance companies and the Y.M.C.A. are latter for war risk insurance, the former for claims paid due to loss of life in the war, were heard at the morning session. Miss Irma Wright Bilingual Champion Typist of Canada. Those interested in the advancement of speed and accuracy in typewriter operation were sorry to learn that Miss Irma Wright was unable, because of illness, to take part in the 12th Bilingual Typewriting Contest. In the contest in which she won her title she wrote accurately at 115 words per minute. No other typist either here or abroad has yet written the two languages at this rate. Miss Wright uses an Underwood typewriter, on which all the highest records of an official nature are made. High records on other machines, often impossible or ridiculous, are sometimes advertised, but these are not official. Miss Wright is always willing to prove her right to the title of Champion, and the superiority of the machine she uses. She insists, however, that any touch typist may with practice equal or surpass her records, although she warns them to be guided by the results of seventeen years of typewriting contest history and to use an Underwood. It is well known that the best typists use the Underwood: after all, the business man buys the services of operator as well as the machine and both must be considered together. To overcome this natural preference of good operators for a good machine, some companies make frantic efforts to induce typists to use THEIR machine. One company even gives away machines to typists who write at a speed which is actually 30 words per minute less than the rate at which the 14th Bilingual Typewriting Contest was won.

With Our Typical Novelists

BY STEPHEN LEACOCK.

Edwin and Ethelinda Afterthought—Husband and Wife—
In their Delightful Home Life

It was at their beautiful country place on the Woonagssett that we had the pleasure of interviewing the Afterthoughts. At their own cordial invitation, we had walked over from the nearest railway station, a distance of some fourteen miles. Indeed, as soon as they heard of our intention they invited us to walk. "We are so sorry not to bring you in the motor," they wrote, "but the roads are so frightfully dusty that we might get dust on our chauffeur." This little touch of thoughtfulness is the keynote of their character.

The house itself is a delightful old mansion giving on a wide garden which gives in turn on a broad terrace giving on the river.

The Eminent Novelist met us at the gate. We had expected to find the author of Angela Rivers and The Garden of Desire a pale aesthetic type (we have a way of expecting the wrong thing in our interviews). We could not resist a shock of surprise (indeed we seldom do) at finding him a burly out-of-door man weighing, as he himself told us, a hundred stone in his stockinged feet (we think he said stone).

He shook hands cordially. "Come and see my pigs," he said. "We wanted to ask you," we began, as we went down the walk, something about your books."

"Let's look at the pigs first," he said. "Are you anything of a pig man?"

"Pig, Dog or Bee Man."

We are always anxious in our interviews to be all things to all men. But we were compelled to

The Beau Ideal of Bulls.

He led us to a little green fence. Inside it were two ferocious looking animals, eating grain. They rolled their eyes upwards at us as they ate.

"How do those strike you?" he asked.

We assured him that they struck us as our beau ideal of bulls.

"Like to walk in beside them?" said the Novelist, opening a little gate.

We drew back. Was it fair to disturb these bulls?

The Great Novelist noticed our hesitation.

"Don't be afraid," he said. "They're not likely to harm you. I send my hired man right in beside them every morning, without the slightest hesitation."

We looked at the Eminent Novelist with admiration. We realised that like so many of our writers actors, and even our thinkers, of today, he was an open-air man in every sense of the word.

But we shook our heads. Bulls, we explained, were not a department of research for which we were equipped. What we wanted, we said, was to learn something of his methods of work.

The Source of Inspiration.

"My usual plan," said the Novelist, "is to come out here and sit in the sty until I get my characters."

"And what do you do next?"

"Oh, after that I generally light a pipe and go and sit among the bee hives for an incident."

"Do you get it?" we asked.

"Invariably. After that I make our way for forty-seven years.

The Great Novelist seemed to note our dejection.

"Come to the house," he said. "My wife will give you a cup of tea."

In a few moments we had forgotten all our troubles in the presence of one of the most charming chateaulaines it has been our lot to meet.

We sat on a low stool immediately beside Ethelinda. Afterthought who presided in her own gracious fashion over the tea urn.

"So you want to know something of my methods of work?" she said, as she poured hot tea over our leg.

"We do," we answered, taking out our little book and recovering something of our enthusiasm.

The Modern Way to Begin.

"Can you indicate," we continued, "what method you follow in beginning one of your novels?"

"I always begin," said Ethelinda Afterthought, "with a study."

"A study?" we queried.

"Yes. I mean a study of actual facts. Take, for example, my Leaves from the Life of a Steam Laundrywoman—more tea?"

"No, no," we said.

"Well, to make that book I first worked two years in a laundry."

"Two years!" we exclaimed.

"And why?"

"To get the atmosphere."

"The steam?" we questioned.

"Oh, no," said Mrs. Afterthought. "I did that separately. I took a course in steam at a technical school."

"Is it possible?" we said, our heart beginning to sink again.

"Was all that necessary?"

"I don't see how one could do it otherwise. The story opens, as no doubt you remember—tea?—in the boiler room of the laundry."

"Yes," we said, moving our leg.

"So you see the only possible point d'appui was to begin with a description of the inside of the boiler."

We nodded. "A masterly thing," we said.

"My wife," interrupted the Great Novelist, who was sitting with the head of a huge Danish hound in his lap, sharing his buttered toast with the dog while he adjusted a set of trout flies, "is a great worker."

"Do you always work on that method?" we asked.

"Always," she answered. "For Federica of the Factory I spent six months in a knitting mill. For Marquerite of the Mud Flats I made special studies for months and months."

"Of what sort?" we asked.

"In mud. Learning to model it. You see for a story of that sort the first thing needed is a thorough knowledge of mud—all kinds of it."

"And what are you doing next?" we inquired.

"My next book," said the Lady Novelist, "is to be a study—tea?"

"Don't be afraid," said the Great Novelist, "I send my hired man right in beside them every morning."

admit that we were not much of a pig man.

"Ah!" said the Great Novelist, "perhaps you are more of a dog man?"

"Not altogether a dog man," we answered.

"Anything of a bee man?" he asked.

"Something," we said (we were once stung by a bee).

"Ah!" he said, "you shall have a go at the bee hives, then, right away?"

We assured him that we were willing to postpone a go at the bee hives till later.

"Come along, then, to the styes," said the Great Novelist.

The Slumbering Swine.

"Now then," said the Great Novelist as we reached our goal, "how do you like this sty?"

"Very much indeed," we said.

"I've put in a new tile draining—my own plan. You notice how sweet it keeps the sty."

We had not noticed this.

"I am afraid," said the Novelist, "that the pigs are all asleep inside."

We begged him on no account to few notes, then go off for a ten mile tramp with my esquinax dogs, and get back in time to have a go through the cattle sheds and take a romp with the young bulls."

The New School in Literature.

We sighed. We couldn't help it. Novel writing seemed further away from us than ever.

"Have you also a goat on the premises?" we asked.

"Oh, certainly a ripping old fellow—come along and see him."

We shook our heads. No doubt our disappointment showed in our face. It often does. We felt that it was altogether right and whole some that our great novels of today should be written in this fashion with the help of goats, dogs, hogs and young bulls. But we felt, too that it was not for us.

We permitted ourselves one further question.

"At what time," we said, "do you rise in the morning?"

"Oh anywhere between four and five," said the Novelist.

"Ah! and do you generally take a cold dip as soon as you are up—even in winter?"

"I do."

"To make that book, I first worked two years in a laundry."

waken them. He offered to open the little door at the side and let us crawl in. We insisted that we could not think of intruding.

"What we would like," we said "is to hear something of your methods of work in novel writing."

"Come and see my bulls first," said the Novelist. "I've got a couple of young bulls here in the paddock that will interest you. We felt sure that they would.

"You prefer, no doubt," we said with a dejection that we could not conceal, "to have water with a good coat of ice over it?"

"Oh, certainly!"

The Barrier to Our Success.

We said no more. We have long understood the reasons for our own failure in life, but it was painful to receive a renewed corroboration of it. This ice question has stood in

MRS. ANDERSON TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leslie Sank.—"For about a year I was troubled with a distressing down-bearing pain before and during the periods, and from terrible headaches and backache. I hated to go to a doctor, and as I knew several women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with good results, I finally bought some and took four bottles of it. I certainly do recommend it to every woman with troubles like mine. I feel fine now and hope to be able to keep your medicine on hand at all times, as no woman ought to be without it in the house."—Mrs. OSCAR A. ANDERSON, Box 15, Leslie, Sask.

Mrs. Kelsey Adds Her Testimony
Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HERBERT KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before they give up hope of recovery.

1,000 LEADING INDUSTRIALISTS

Enrolled Under Banner Of Truth-In-Adversity Movement In America

Atlantic City, June 15—More than 1,000 of America's leading industrialists and others have enrolled under the banner of the truth-in-advertising movement, and are contributing liberally to the fund of the National Vigilance Committee in its nation-wide patrol of the country's avenues of publicity, according to facts made known at the world advertising convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, just concluded here.

The meeting, which was attended by thousands of business men, executives and advertising executives from all parts of the country, crowned organized advertising with its greatest triumph, since it not only disclosed a remarkable increase in memberships and revenues, but demonstrated a desire on the part of groups that have not hitherto felt the urge to make use of advertising, to be included in the fold. Of these newcomers the outstanding groups were the American Photo-Engravers' Association, the Industrial Advertisers' Association and the Public Utilities Advertising Association, organized during the past year. The latter represents an industrial group with a combined capitalization of seven billion and gross annual revenues of three billion. Other interesting fields covered for the first time at a convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs were the Insurance Advertisers, the Sales Managers, the School and Student Marketing Association. In all, twenty-five different departmental groups met with the Advertising Clubs, representing practically every phase of industry in the United States. The remarkable growth of these various Associations, as well as advertising clubs in small cities, constituted one of the outstanding features of the Advertising Clubs, as shown by the membership and financial statistics.

June 1, 1923, the sustaining membership amounted to $14,715, as against $11,834.98, in June 1922.

The number of sustaining members in June 1923 was 834, and this number had increased to 1,043 up to June 5, 1923.

The National Commission membership during the same period increased from 3,057 to 3,626.

The club membership showed a total of 23,074 on May 25, 1923, as against 22,975 in June 1922, making the total membership at the date of the convention 27,727.

The surplus on May 25, 1923, showed: general fund, $14,461; vigilance fund, $25,492, making total of $39,953. This was a very substantial increase, indicative of more work, as compared with the financial condition of June 1, 1922, when the general fund stood at $25,518, and the vigilance fund at $7,640, making a total of $33,158.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

An interesting feature was an income of $3,137.00 for small city or organization work, with an expense of $3,035.88, showing that the work of establishing the small city clubs is more than paying for itself, although such a result was not looked for, and is clearly to be accepted as showing the newly awakened interest in organized advertising.

A resolution protesting against a pardon being granted to S. C. Pandolfo, now serving a term in the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, was passed by the convention. Pandolfo was president of the Pan Motor Company, of St. Cloud, Minn., and was convicted in the United States court at Chicago in 1919, on the charge of using the mails to defraud. Formal application has been made for pardon, despite the fact that less than six months of his sentence of ten years have passed.

VICTORIA PARK

(By Ensign)

Sir Boyle Roach is reported to have said that no man could be in two places at once, barring he was a bird. The Exhibition grounds and the Superintendent of Victoria Park, would almost need to cultivate some of the powers of the bird if he is to visit very often the numerous and widely scattered bits of garden which come under his control. Aside from the Exhibition grounds, these comprise the Place St. Pierre, Boulevard Langelier and Place Jacques Cartier, in the West; Montmorency Park, Champlain Monument, Governor's Garden, Place d'Armes, and City Hall Park, in the East; the Exhibition Grounds and the Civic Hospital, on the north; and the Montcalm Monument and former Gale property, on De Salaberry street on the south; not to speak of the square opposite Church of Notre Dame des Victoires, the flower beds near Board of Trade building and some other half dozen places which the writer has forgotten. It is something of a task, but Mr. Morency has been at it for twenty-eight years, and knows his way round by this time. And it is Victoria Park which finds the material for the decoration of all these places, which I think all citizens will agree, are kept in very good order.

Victoria Park is a quiet restful place, far from the madding crowd and the distracting noises of the city. All is in a public swimming bath, and four shower baths, free to all, the baths supplied with city water, and the swimming bath kept clean by an arrangement which enables the bath to fill and empty itself automatically. When the water is up, as it was the day the writer passed through, there is a very nice stretch of water up and down the river; and anyone having a row-boat, canoe, or motor boat, could have some very enjoyable sailing, and get the cool breeze from the river. There is a bandstand, from which concerts are given once a week, ample green-houses, which are kept well filled during the summer as well as the winter, so that visitors can always find something interesting in them. The park was established in the month of April, 1865, and during the time which has elapsed since then it has been a wonderful source of enjoyment to our citizens, especially those residing in St. Roch and adjacent territory.

Mr. Morency and his helpers are now occupied in planting out the stock in the various beds where it is intended to go, a process which has been somewhat delayed by the backward weather we have had this season, so far. All the first-class shrubs and plants are grown, and none can be mentioned specimens of which will not be found in these nurseries, which turn out close on a hundred thousand altogether. All varieties of the best trees are also to be found in the park, and are often available for street-planting, fronting Corporation property. There are no specially new features in the park, as compared with last year.

There is one practice which must be very exasperating to the staff of

Mr. Morency, who do their best to keep the several grounds in order at the cost of much labor to themselves, and that is the systematic destruction which of late years, has become the fashion among the young people. Take Montmorency Park, for instance, the legs of the young persons are not so weak that it would hurt them to proceed as far as the Esplanade, where there is a special play ground prepared for them, at the public expense, but give some people an inch and they will take an ell, and Montmorency Park, which is near the Chateau and is visited frequently by Americans and other strangers, and should be kept in good order, was last year reduced to a state of chaos, and the same treatment has been commenced this year. It was kind of the Committee to erect that monument to the late Sir George Etienne Cartier; the young boys had no place to play hand ball before, but now they have; the monument makes a very excellent stop for the boys, it is a pity it had not been just a little wider however, it is a shade on the narrow side, but the boys by dint of practice will get accustomed to it. Some time ago a youthful artist had drawn in white chalk a rather fierce looking head on the base of the monument; as the head of an Indian Chief it was not at all out of the way, but if it was intended as the head of Cartier it was a failure; there was no resemblance except for the hair, which was worn straight up on end just as Cartier used to wear his. I passed the monument three weeks later and the portrait was still there, but faded a little by reason of the weather. Perhaps the artist will use red and blue chalk instead of white, it will give a more vivid color to the picture, and will be a better preparation for his future work, which may be done in crayon or even in oils, if he develops his talent and becomes a successful artist.

Then there are the amateurs of base-ball; the turf makes an excellent ground, especially that part at the foot of the monument, it is nice and level. Last year by the time the fall came the turf had disappeared, and the rain converted the mud into something like a duck pond. I have seen several boys on bicycles, the paths were there for them to follow, but the grass looked more inviting, and over it they rode constantly. One day a father came down with his girl child, although in this case the child was too young to know any better. The father sat down to read his paper, and the child ran round to amuse herself. There was a bed which the gardeners had just that day prepared for planting, and had taken some trouble with. That bed was the ideal spot which took the child's fancy, and over it she walked backwards and forwards, many times from end to end, so much so that when the workmen arrived the next morning they must have thought there had been a cyclone or something. One day I saw a lady sitting on a bench reading. A number of boys were playing a ball game of some kind; it was not a foot-ball, but one of these large light coloured rubber balls, and the game must have been close for the boys were excited. At the end of the ball was a vigorous kick or throw and was stopped by the cheek of the lady who was reading on the bench. Did the boy apologize? Not any, he probably had never been taught how, and any way what business had any lady to be sitting there reading when the modern youth wanted to play ball? It was unreasonable in the extreme on her part. I noticed however, that soon after this episode she left, and made her way up in the direction of the Chateau. There is only one thing I saw amiss with this Park; Mr. Morency generally has a bed with the words "Parc Montmorency" nicely worked out in carpet bedding; I would strongly suggest that this year he should substitute the word "Kindergarten".

The same remarks virtually apply to the City Hall Park. It is eminently right and proper, and in fact, necessary that the young people of both sexes should be provided with play-grounds; they now have one in Victoria Park, the whole of the Esplanade has been given over to them, and I would suggest that when the Battlefields Park Commission obtain possession of the ground known as the Cove Fields, a large and generous portion at the city end be set aside for them and left entirely in a state of nature; but it is easy to overdo sentiment, even in this regard until it becomes maudlin.

AN ECONOMICAL HOME
DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK

IN these days of high prices, the average "Home Builder" must look to the architect, in order to get the maximum in a home at the lowest possible cost.

A home can be just as conveniently planned, with an attractive exterior and not cost any more than the so-called box like house with four walls and a roof, if the plans are carefully studied out before hand.

A great many of our readers when they come to build will make the mistake of hiring a carpenter and telling him to build them a home like he built for John Jones. Mr. Carpenter then proceeds to build a house with four walls, and a roof, just like John Jones' while it is true the owner knows just what he is to get for his money, yet had he gone to an architect and had carefully prepared plans, wouldn't he have got a better planned home, with a more attractive exterior, and in nine cases out of ten, for less money; for the reason that with complete plans you are able to get competitive bids and everyone, even a carpenter must admit that competition is what will hold down prices.

In the planning of this home, room sizes have been carefully planned with regards proportion, wall space, lighting, ventilation, and above all floor joists are of the proper length so as not to cut to waste.

Study the plan, surely it will appeal to you; the exterior how simple, yet effective, with its wide siding painted white, green roof, and red brick trimmings.

Built with full basement 7 feet high, first story 8 feet 6 inches, and the second story 8 feet, 30 feet wide by 24 feet deep, this home should be built for $4,000 to $5,000, exclusive of heating and plumbing.

N. Y. MARKET OPENED REACTIONARY BUT RALLIED

CLOSING PRICES IN NEW YORK WERE IRREGULAR, LEADERS MAKING ONLY NOMINAL GAINS

Repeated Attempts To Bring About General Liquidation Was Frustrated By Strength Shown By Few Individual Shares — Bonds After Reaction Became Steady

New York, June 15.—Short covering operations brought about a sharp rally just before the close of today's stock market which had exhibited a reactionary tone throughout most of the session. Closing prices were irregular, most of the usual leaders showing only nominal changes on the day. Fifty stocks, including nearly all the active list, established a new low for the year.

Repeated attempts to bring about general liquidation were frustrated by the strength shown by a few individual issues, notably Atchafalaya which closed 2 1/4 points higher. Other strong spots were DuPont, Davison Chemical and Allied Chemical, up two to 4 1/2 points. Pan-American issues made the best recovery in the oil group, each closing about 1 1/2 points above yesterday's final figures.

Steels, rubbers and motors were heavy most of the day, losses of a point or more being established by Stewart-Warner, Stromberg Carburator, U.S. Rubber and B. F. Goodrich preferred. Copper shares made no response to the higher price for export metal.

Foreign exchange rates showed no important changes. Demand sterling steady around 4.61 and French francs were quoted around 6.32 cents. German marks rallied slightly to 20.99 7/8.

Money rates were steady despite the heavy turnover of funds in connection with income tax, interest and dividend payments. Call money held steady at 4 1/2 per cent throughout the day.

The demand for time money was light with 30 to 90 day loans arranged at 4 3/4 and the longer maturities at 5.

The bulk of the prime name commercial paper business continues at 5 per cent.

Day's total sales 776,490 shares. 26 industrials averaged 95.86, net loss .58. High 1923, 105.38; low 92.77.

20 railroads averaged 83.65; net gain 19. High 1923, 90.63; low 80.13.

After an early period of reaction bond prices on the New York stock exchange today became steady and net changes at the close were very small. Meantime new offerings aggregating more than $100,000,000 found a ready market. New offerings for the week totalled nearly $200,000,000, a high record for the year.

U.S. Government bonds held fairly steady in dull trading. The market apparently was not affected by the British interest payment of $69,000,000 in Liberty bonds.

Foreign bonds were in slightly better demand, the new Austrian 7s, establishing a new top at 93 3/4 but later reacting a little. Serbian 8s, however, sold off a point.

Railroad mortgages displayed little activity and price changes were small. Industrial liens were heavy in the early trading but developed greater strength later and net changes at the close were unimportant for the most part.

Total sales, par value, $11,900,000.

Sugar Market

New York, June 15.—The break in the raw sugar futures market unsettled the early market for spot raw sugar and prices were nominal. No sales were reported and refineries appeared to be out of the market entirely.

There was another sharp decline in raw sugar futures with prices at midday showing net declines of 38 to 40 points. The failure of yesterday's upturn to inspire any fresh demand, evidently discouraged buyers for a reaction and there was renewed heavy general selling. Offerings came chiefly from Houses with Cuban and all street connections, with some of the latter said to be Japanese account. The market for refined was unsettled and prices were unchanged to 50 points lower with two refiners now listing at $9.25 to $9.50. Business however, was practically at a standstill owing to the weakness in the raw futures market. Refined futures nominal.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By L. G. Beaubien & Co.)

New York, June 15.—There was little change in the market conditions this afternoon and trading continued within a narrow range with rather irregular fluctuations. The turnover was once more a small one and trading to a very large extent has been meaningless today.

Montreal, June 15.—Today's session of the Montreal Stock Exchange was another dull affair with very little change either way in the list as a whole.

SOUTHERN CANADA POWER

Announces New Issue Of Preferred Stock Amounting To $1,500,000

Formal announcement of the new financing for Southern Canada Power Company is made elsewhere in these columns today by Nesbitt, Thomson & Co., Limited. The capitalization after completion of the present financing will be 50,000 shares of no par value common; $2,500,000 of 6 per cent cumulative participating preferred and 4,837,500 of 6 per cent first mortgage bonds due 1948. There are also outstanding $933,500 Sherbrooke Railway & Power 5 per cent bonds due 1940.

The fixed assets exceed $13,000,000 which after deduction of funded debt shows an equity of about $300 per share of preferred.

Earnings available for dividends on preferred stock are estimated at $240,000 during 1923; $339,000 in 1924; $443,000 in 1925; $629,000 in 1926 and $844,000 in 1927.

The present issue of 1,500,000 preferred stock is for the purpose of developing the Company's water power at Hemmings Falls. The completion of this new unit will give 30,000 extra H. P. and there is an immediate demand for over 20,000 H.P.

A contract made with the Shawinigan Water & Power Company calls for 10,000 H.P. yearly for 15 years.

The properties upon completion of Hemmings Falls development will consist of Hydro electric plants with a developed capacity of 44,000 H.P. and undeveloped powers capable of a further 110,000 H.P. development. The high tension transmission lines cover over 300 miles. The power sites are held under lease from the Quebec Government for a period of 75 years from 1918, the rentals being very favorable. The territory served comprises about 3,000 square miles and includes the rapidly developing Eastern Townships. Customers served have increased from 2,240 in 1914 to 13,500 in 1923.

The preferred stock is being issued at 90 to yield 6.67 per cent.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

More than 100,000 enrollments have been sold in the Ford 5 week plan in the month in which it has been in operation.

A dividend of one-half of one per cent has been declared payable upon the Capital Stock of Price Brothers & Company Limited, for the quarter ending May 31st, 1923, payable July 3rd, 1923, to shareholders of Record on the 20th June, 1923.

The Iron Age says today, in part: "Along with the lessened volume of new orders, the steel trade now finds that the increased rate at which some mills are shipping contract material to their customers is the significant feature of the situation."

"On the other hand are cases of reduced production due to loss of labour or to weather conditions. The industry as a whole is making a little less steel, the Steel Corporation's operations being at 2 or 4 percent under its record rate of Early May."

Rail road construction work and equipment are still counted on as the largest factor in steel works operation in the third quarter of the year and later. However, there is a halt in car orders, and with it the frank statement from some of the railroads that present prices of the car builders are too high."

By the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent for the current quarter, the St. Maurice Paper Company Limited, has increased business of the company the past six months or so and may be taken as a constructive sign in connection with the other newspaper companies.

New York is stated to be looking for a Canadian National Railways equipment issue to provide funds for the heavy expenditures incurred in connection with replacement of equipment during the past few months. The National Railways recently placed orders for 2,500 40-line box cars, which are being manufactured in Montreal, Hamilton and New Glasgow plants. The balance of 4,000 passenger and freight cars being made for the National Railways are mainly placed with firms across the border.

CANADIAN PACIFIC WAS STRONG FEATURE, MARKING ITS FIRST APPEARANCE

On Montreal Exchange Since January—British Empire Second Preferred Was The Market Leader, And Closed Unchanged At 23—Brazilian Came Second

Montreal, June 15.—Trading in listed shares on the local stock market today was again extremely dull although slightly more active than on the previous day and was carried on in a very narrow range of issues. Of the 45 issues that came out, fourteen gained ground, twelve stocks suffered losses, seven came out in broken lots only.

British Empire second preferred was market leader in point of activity and closed unchanged at 23. Brazilian came second in volume and closed at 49 for a net gain of half a point. Twin City was third and dropped two points at the close of 75 ex-dividend.

Canadian Pacific Railway making its first appearance on the local board since January was the strong feature of the list, closing at 156 for a net gain of 14 points, with a turnover of only 30 shares. Asbestos preferred suffered the greatest loss closing at the new low level of 78 1/2 for a net loss of 4 1/2 points.

Other price changes included Asbestos common off 2 1/4; Canadian General Electric up 1 1/4; Laurentide up half a point; Montreal Power up half a point; Spanish River up half a point; Steel of Canada off 1/2 and Waysmack off 2 1/4.

Total sales, listed 4,794; Crown Reserve 1,950. Trading in bonds on the local stock exchange today was fair in volume but was without significance in the way of price changes.

Military Field Day.
We learn on good authority that Lieut.-Colonel Pelletier, D.O.C., has in view an excellent project in the shape of a large field day on or about the 25th instant, at which date the St. Joseph de Levis camp breaks up. The idea is to have the local corps, Permanent and Volunteers turn out with the red coats for a joint demonstration and manoeuvre, which would teach the men more practical work than days of ordinary drill. If the Artillery, Hussars, the Eighth and the Ninth were to turn out with the men in camp for a sham fight, some 2,500 men would be engaged with excellent results. No such review has been seen here for decades past. The Fete of St. Jean Baptiste, June 24, suggests a good day for such a turnout. In any case the suggestion is a good one and worthy of consideration.

Mr. Charles Hope.
A telegram was received here yesterday containing the sad news of the death, at Moisie, of Mr. Charles Hope, of Montreal, who has been fishing his waters on that stream for the last ten days, in company with Messrs. Andrew Allan, of Montreal, Edward Toland, of Philadelphia, and Edison Fitch and Veasey Boswell of Quebec. No particulars of the mournful occurrence are given other than that the death resulted from inflammation. Mr. Allan is on his way here with the body of the deceased gentleman, who appeared quite as well as usual when last in Quebec on his way to the Moisie River. Mr. Hope was highly popular in every sense of the word both in Montreal and Quebec, and his loss will be generally mourned and severely felt.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

(By Jeannette Young Norton)
The authority on Home-Cooking.

Here Are Seven Appetizing Rice Recipes.

Rice is very generally liked and should be used more frequently in the American home, for it is inexpensive, easily cooked and nourishing. In many of the far eastern countries, rice is a daily standby but we of the western world have so much from which to select that rice is too often overlooked. Wash the rice well for the following dishes:

Rice Soup.
Wash three-quarters of a cupful of rice well, then drop it into three cupfuls of fast-boiling water, add a teaspoonful of salt and the same of butter. Boil 10 minutes, then drain it and drop it into two quarters of boiling stock, or broth, and boil 17 minutes. Then season the soup and thicken it slightly with a little flour stirred very smooth in a little of the hot soup. If it is a soup stock made of chicken, a little hot cream may be added just at serving.

Vegetable Rice.
Turn a large can of tomatoes into a saucepan with a minced onion, some minced celery and a minced red-pepper. Add pepper, salt, a little sugar and a generous lump of butter. When the tomatoes are tender, add two cupfuls of freshly boiled and dried-off rice. Serve hot with the meat course.

Creole Rice.
Melt a tablespoonful of butter in a deep saucepan. Sift in a tablespoonful of flour and stir until it browns lightly. Then stir in a minced onion. Allow this to cook two minutes, then add two cans of broken shrimp, stir and cook one minute, then add two cupfuls of hot water, two teaspoonfuls of curry powder worked into a desiccated spoonful of butter, a teaspoonful each of sugar and chopped parsley. Cook 15 minutes. Have ready a ring of boiled rice and turn the mixture into the centre, garnish with toast spippets or fried tomatoes.

Baked Rice.
Wash a cupful of rice in several waters, then drop it slowly into three cupfuls of fast-boiling water adding a salt-spoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of butter—shaking often. Boil rapidly for 10 minutes covered, then uncover and boil with reduced heat until dried off. Butter a baking-dish well and put in as much rice as it will hold adding a cupful of tomato juice, salt, pepper, a half-cupful of grated cheese, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and dot the top with butter. Bake until brown.

Rice and Cabbage.
Cut out the heart, then remove the leaves from a head of cabbage. Plunge the leaves into boiling water for five minutes. Then drain and put them into a saucepan with sufficient milk to cover and stew gently until the leaves are tender. Then drain again, add a little sugar, pepper, salt and butter and flour-thickening to the milk. When thickened, return the cabbage to the sauce. Have a ring of boiled rice ready on a hot dish and pour the cabbage into the centre.

PULLING TOOTH BROKE BOTH LEGS.
Potstown, June 15.—(By Canadian Press)—As Maurice Bryan, aged 42, arose from a dentist's chair after having a molar tooth extracted, he collapsed on the floor exclaiming, "My leg is broken." An examination showed that both bones in his right leg had snapped between the ankle and the knee. Physicians believe that muscular contraction was responsible.

LOW SPIRITED AND DEPRESSED
A Condition Due to Poor Blood and Weak Nerves.

Nearly all women and most men suffer at times from fits of depression and low spirits, from which they are unable to free themselves. They cannot attend to their duties satisfactorily and are unable to get any pleasure out of life. People who suffer in this way soon lose their energy of mind and body. They lack vitality because their blood is poor and ill-nourished, and their nerves are starved in consequence. The only way to obtain new health is by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The new rich blood made by these pills will carry renewed health and energy to every part of the body. Your appetite will improve, your spirits brighten and you will be endowed with fresh energy and find a new joy in living. Mrs. G. Reid, Napanee, Ont., tells of the benefit she found through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on different occasions and cannot emphasize too strongly the benefits derived from them. I was growing nervous, my complexion was becoming sallow and my eyes dull and listless. My vitality was poor and I did not sleep well. I became despondent, losing interest in my work, which seemed to tire me so easily. I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking six boxes I began to enjoy life again and looked much brighter and felt happier. My appetite improved, I gained in weight and could sleep without any nervous wakefulness during the night. I also used these pills while nursing my baby and found them a wonderful help both for myself and for making my baby better natured. For these reasons I gladly recommend them to anyone who needs a tonic for the rebuilding of strength and energy." You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Mankind is ever the same, and nothing is ever lost out of its nature though everything is altered.

What Will You Put in the Pot?

When you drink tea every cup should be a delicious refreshment—a distinct pleasure. But this demands good tea in the pot. You cannot possibly get satisfactory results from inferior tea.

Now consider the small cost of a cup of King Cole Tea—a mere fraction of a cent. Surprising isn't it? But its secret is in the rich liquoring King Cole blend which yields so generously in the number of cups to the pound. It makes King Cole the truly cheap tea. From whichever point you view it—economy—quality—or the wise combination of both, King Cole Tea claims your preference.
