The course, over which Major Maunsell will have supervision, will be more of a theoretical training than a practical one; the syllabus consists of field defences, attack on fortresses, military bridging, mining and demolition, miscellaneous engineering, military surveying, map reading and reconnaisance, field engineer drill.

The final examinations will be held in March.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA ARE AGAIN AT LOGGERHEADS

Complications Have Arisen Over Attack on British Consul at Warsaw and Publication of Anti-British Placards—General Situation is Unchanged.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.—New complications between Great Britain and Russia are feared on account of the attack on the British consul and vice-consul at Warsaw Saturday night. Coming on the heels of the placards posted by Assistant Police Chief Roudneff at Moscow, charging Great Britain with inciting the revolution in Russia, the Warsaw incident is likely to arouse an outburst in Great Britain which may again strain relations between the two countries. Beyond the fact of the attack at Warsaw, resulting in the wounding of the British vice-consul, who is now in a hospital, the British embassy here has no details of the affair; but Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador, has already delivered a note to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff asking for an immediate investigation and explanation, reserving any claims which may be hereafter made, and at the same time asking for the protection of British consuls throughout the Empire.

By the first train he also dispatched Major Napier, the British military attache to Warsaw, to secure a full report of the circumstances. Count Lamsdorff replied to Ambassador Hardinge's second note on the subject of the Moscow placards by saying that instructions had been sent to remove all traces of the placards from the streets. It is now learned, however, that similar notices had been posted at Libau and Revel, which led to a renewal of representations on this score. In this connection the appearance of the proclamation of the Holy Synod, instructing the orthodox priests to inform their parishioners that the strike and revolutionary movements were promoted by the external as well as internal enemies of Russia with the object of embarrassing the military and naval plans, has created something of a flurry among foreigners here, especially the British, who believe them the objects to incite hostility. No further action, however, has been taken by either Ambassador Hardinge or the other foreign representatives.

Private advices from Warsaw say the authorities there already have taken over charge of the water works, electric light and gas plants, and that serious trouble is anticipated.

Wounded Consul Reports.

London, Jan. 30. The Foreign Office has received a telegram from Consul-General Murray, at Warsaw, reporting that himself and Vice-Consul Mucukahn were charged by Russian cavalrymen engaged in clearing the streets of Warsaw. It appears that Mr. Murray is partially deaf, and probably did not hear the approach of the troopers, and when he subsequently endeavored to make known his personality it was without avail. The Foreign Office has telegraphed to Ambassador Hardinge to make urgent representations at St. Petersburg on the subject.

The Situation at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Jan. 30.—The streets have been quieter since yesterday evening, but the strike continues in full swing. All places of business are closed.

A proclamation has been issued declaring that the condition of the city requires additional protective measures, without differentiating between those who are forced against their will and those who are precipitating the strike. The men, it is added, must return to work unconditionally.

Grand Duke Vladimir's Views.

New York, Jan. 30.—A correspondent of the American in St. Petersburg cables under date of January 29: His Imperial Highness the Grand Duke Vladimir, the uncle of the Czar, the military dictator of St. Petersburg, and speaking as the personal representative of the Emperor, received the correspondent at the Winter Palace this evening at 5 o'clock. The Grand Duke was exceedingly cordial and received him in his private library. He said:

"In no city of any country of the world can street revolutions be permitted by the authorities. The foreign newspapers state that I am responsible for last Sunday's events. I am not responsible. I acted only as commander of the St. Petersburg troops. The shooting by the troops was not planned by anybody. It was done under the ordinary laws of the empire after the police had failed in their efforts to stop the procession."

With extraordinary emphasis he added: "The military did their duty only, and they'll do it again if necessary.

"It is a mistake to assert, as the foreign press does, that the mob had no warning. The regulation warning given the mob by three blasts of the bugles is in Russia equivalent to a reading of the riot act in America. The people of Russia are absolutely unfit for a constitution, and there will be none given. The Emperor is unshakably resolute on that point.

"The Emperor has been much grieved by the recent bloodshed, but he recognizes and admits the necessity thereof, and has expressed his determination to resist all revolutionary demands. He is determined to grant all proper reforms, but they will come by his own will.

"This is not the proper time for reforms," said the Grand Duke, "and they will not be granted until all disorder has subsided, adding with emphasis: "The revolt will be quelled by military power, and I approve of that measure."

The Grand Duke laughingly showed me a bundle of abusive letters he had received from England. I warned him that I had been informed that St. Petersburg workmen had determined to take his life. At this he said: "They won't succeed; I'm too careful."

Concluding, the Grand Duke expressed his pride and fullest reliance in the army, saying: "The soldiers will do their duty."

Men Returning to Work.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.—Most of the factories and mills of St. Petersburg are in operation to-day, and the strike to all intents and purposes is ended. A few large establishments have not yet fully resumed operations owing to the official formalities necessary in re-registering their thousands of employees. Some of the workmen at the Putlioff works, where the strike originated, have asked for the celebration of a religious service by the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg before resuming work, "so as to remove the effect of the presence of the unfrocked priest and excommunicated leader," Father Gopon. Some Social Democrats are protesting against the arrests of Friday and Saturday, on the ground that the action was a violation of the implied promise contained in the proclamation of the authorities.

MANY RUMORS IN THE RUBBER TRADE

Formation of New Company Starts Amalgamation Talk

The excitable state of the public mind in regard to the Canadian rubber industry was exhibited to-day by the number of rumors and speculations that were set afoot by the granting of letters patent to a $20,000 company, to be called the Commercial Rubber Co., Limited. Rumor assigned to the new company all sorts of functions in the process of forcing upon the existing rubber companies an amalgamation, for which most of them are not particularly anxious. Whether or not such is the purpose of the new company will not be learned from the incorporators, who are Mr. Robert Davidson McGibbon, K.C., and a number of other gentlemen in the law office of his firm and elsewhere. Mr. McGibbon stated this morning that he had not heard of any projected rubber amalgamation, and that the plans of his new company were entirely "sub rosa", while Mr. Douglas Armour referred The Herald to Mr. McGibbon.

One rumor concerning the new company, that it was formed for the purpose of purchasing the plant at St. Jerome, which has been in liquidation for some two years, is disposed of by the fact, which The Herald is able to announce on the very best authority, that the St. Jerome plant is no longer in the market.

Mr. S. H. C. Miner, president of the Granby Rubber Co., stated that absolutely no definite move towards an amalgamation of the Canadian rubber companies had yet been made. Other rubber authorities were equally positive in their denials. There was a general disposition to comment on the fact that there is a wide difference between getting a charter and actually starting a Rubber Company.

That the Commercial Rubber Company is not merely an ordinary newcomer in the industrial field, however, seems certain from the fact that the present is a particularly unfavorable time for adding to the rubber factories of the Dominion. The price of crude rubber is to-day being quoted at $1.22 per pound, which is unprecedented, and as the rise is caused by the enormous increase in the demand brought about by the popularizing of the automobile, it is likely to stay at that figure, or higher, for some years. The Rubber Association, whose unusually early meeting this year was simply caused by the out-of-town engagements of Mr. Miner and others, will hold a supplementary meeting in a fortnight to fix prices for the year.

POOR SIGHT IS NO MATRIMONIAL BAR

Decided Mr. Justice Archibald in Breach of Promise Suit

Shortness of sight is not a sufficient bar to matrimony to excuse breach of promise, especially if the lady wears spectacles. Such was the learned decision of Mr. Justice Archibald this morning in a damage action brought by Miss Anna Piche against Damase Limoges.

Miss Piche claimed that the wedding was all arranged and that the banns had even been published once, when her swain suddenly proved faithless, and ended the matrimonial negotiations. For this she demanded $1,000 to assuage her wounded affections.

Damase admitted the facts but pleaded justification. Long had he courted the lady believing her free from all defect. But just prior to the fatal step he discovered that his intended bride was shortsighted and he at once broke off the match, and considered that he was perfectly justified in his course.

Not so Mr. Justice Archibald. His Lordship gave a careful judgment in which the evidence was reviewed. He pointed out that as the fair plaintiff habitually wore spectacles one who knew her intimately, as a lover, might naturally infer there was some visual defect; but the fact that Miss Piche did wear the pence nez estopped, the defendant from arguing that her shortsightedness was a "vice cache."

His Lordship therefore found that this defective vision did not constitute a legal bar to matrimony, and gave judgment in Miss Piche's favor for $300 damages and costs.

LLOYD-GEORGE ON PREFERENCE

Liberal Policy More in Accord With Colonies Than That of Tories

BELIEVE IN PLAIN SPEAKING

While Not Hostile to Colonies Would Have Limitations to Discussion in Colonial Conference Made Known in Advance.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Jan. 30.—Mr. Lloyd George, M.P., speaking to the Canadian Associated Press said: "To-night at the great Liberal demonstration at York; I intend to touch on the Liberal policy towards the colonies. I will tell my hearers that the Prime Minister has labored under the strange delusion, that if the Liberals came into power, they would make a point of snubbing the colonies. Why on earth should they do anything so fatuous? The self-governing colonies are much more in sympathy with the Liberals than with the Tories on nine points out of ten in the rival programmes of the two parties. The colonies have no state church; they have absolute popular control in theological tests and in state schools. They are without exception home rulers. Their liquor legislation now is all on Liberal lines. The great experiments made in reference to land, labor and social questions in Australia and New Zealand are in the direction of proposals supported by the advanced section of the Liberal party in this country. Nothing would suit British Liberalism better than closer union with the colonies. It would enable our people to realize how a land prospers under Liberal legislation. Canada is not at present prepared, in return for a preference to make even substantial reductions in its tariff against British goods. The Canadian woollen and cotton manufacturer has greater dread of British competition than of American trade rivalry. He wants to be protected against Yorkshire and Lancashire just as much as against Germany. I believe there is much that can be done to promote trade by co-operation between the colonies and the Mother Country, without pulling either into tariff compounds. What is wanted is a conference, where after frank statement of the limitation of both sides, methods could be discussed whereby Britain and the self-governing colonies could render greater help to each other both commercially and imperially. But Mr. Balfour thinks the Liberals are hostile and had no idea of conferring with the colonies. Quite the reverse is the case. So long as you make it perfectly clear to the Colonies that there are certain proposals it would be futile to discuss in the present state of British opinions, for instance taxation of food. It would be much more straightforward and businesslike to let them know the limitations of such a conference in advance, than it would be to drag them here thousands of miles, as if the idea of taxing corn were an open question, then turn round and tell them it was ruled out by popular vote at the elections. Colonial delegates would have limitations imposed also. They would not be permitted to discuss the question of absolute free trade within the Empire. There is no colony that would allow its delegates to entertain a scheme whereby all duties against British manufacturers should be abolished in return for preferences given."

MOHAWK CHIEF IN LONDON.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Jan. 29.—Visitors on Saturday night to the Royal Italian Circus were astonished by the sight of a man dressed in full Indian costume, seated in the stalls. The man is said to be a Mohawk chief named Ohrakage, who is visiting in England.

CHILD EMIGRATION.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Jan. 30.—The Lord Mayor presided this afternoon at the Mansion House meeting, when Mrs. Close's scheme of child emigration was discussed. It was estimated quite 4,000 children would be sent out under it. The Lord Mayor called upon the Hon. Duff Miller, agent-general for New Brunswick, who stated that his government was entirely in sympathy with the scheme and was prepared to give 200 acres of wild land. To each farm which would contain twenty children. It is proposed a Canadian man and his wife would be engaged in domestic work at a salary of seventy pounds per year and to be under a "lady" from England, same salary with lady assistant, fifty pounds a year.

DEATHS OUTNUMBERED BIRTHS REGISTERED

There were 104 births registered at the City Hall last week, which is considered pretty good registering. If parents do not improve in the execution of their duty in the matter of declaring births they will soon be confronted with a summons. The Health Department claims to have its eye upon several newly-arrived infants who have not been officially declared, and if they are not registerid within the specified days of grace, prosecutions will follow.

The deaths were 118, of whom 105 were Catholics and only thirteen Protestants. The deaths from special causes were: Diphtheria, one; croup-diphtheria, one; scarlatina, one; typhoid, three; measles, one; infantile diseases, twenty-two; consumption, twelve; bronchitis, three; broncho-pneumonia, eight; pneumonia, seven.

BOTH SIDES LOST MANY MEN IN RECENT FIGHTING

Russian Casualties Placed at 10,000 Men and Japanese at 5,000—Russian Generals Wounded—Kuropatkin's Object is a Mystery.

Tokio, Jan. 30.—The casualties during the fighting at Chenchiehpao and Heikoutai are estimated at five thousand on the side of the Japanese, and 10,000 on the Russian side.

Russian Generals Wounded.

St. Petersburg, January 30. — Lieut.-General Grippenburg, commander of the second army, has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas that the Russians have occupied Santatitse (Saimatsze?). He also reports that Generals Mistchenko and Kondratsvitch are wounded.

Russian Activity Ceased.

Tokio, Jan. 30.—Russian activity on the Shakhe River seemed to have ceased after the fights at Chenchiehpao and Heikoutai, where the Japanese were victorious. The object of the operations is not clearly understood here, but it is suggested that the Russians either intend to turn the Japanese left and move a heavy force down west of the Liao River, or were seeking to divert attention from some projected operation against the Japanese right.

It is reported that the weather is warmer since January 25, but it is still extremely cold, so that it is impossible to expose the troops at night.

The Tokio press expresses the opinion that Gen. Kuropatkin either ordered the movement to divert attention from the domestic conditions in Russia, or that he had planned to make a fight before Field-Marshal Oyama had been heavily reinforced.

Manchurian Army Headquarters, telegraphing yesterday, says:

"There has been no great change in the direction of the right and centre armies since the night of January 28, except constant collisions between reconnoitring parties. In the direction of the left army the enemy keeps up a slow but constant cannonade.

"The enemy's main body at Chenchiehpao and Heikoutai seems to have retreated in the direction of Neinyupao, which is two miles west of Chengtan and Subfangtai. At a point ten miles north-west of Chengtan the enemy left many dead."

The details of the fighting at Chenhiehpao and Heikoutai have not yet been reported.

Turning Movement Failed Completely.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, Jan. 29, via Fusan, Jan. 30.—The Russian attempt to turn the Japanese left has resulted in a complete failure.

The Russians chose the worst weather of the season, depending perhaps upon their familiarity with a snowy country to aid them in their operations.

Their artillery attacks on the Japanese permanent line were, it is thought, a demonstration to prevent the withdrawal of forces for the purpose of reinforcing the Japanese left. All yesterday afternoon and into the night an artillery duel was waged across the Shakhe river. There was much heavy rifle firing from positions where the entrenchments are close.

It has been quiet to-day except on the left. The weather is much milder.

A Rap at Secretary Hay.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.—The Novosti says Secretary Hay's note on the subject of China will be interpreted in different ways. "We cannot say," the paper adds, "that it promises the belligerents agreeable prospects. If other cabinets come to an agreement with Washington it may happen that neither Russia nor Japan will get the slightest advantage from the war. Other powers are preparing to set up claims in case peace is declared. These powers have suddenly conceived a desire to preserve China's integrity and neutrality under any circumstances. Their solicitude comes a little late."

DOMINION FAIR HELD THIS YEAR

New Westminster is the Fortunate Winner of $50,000 Grant

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The Dominion Government has decided to give a grant of $50,000 to a Dominion Exhibition, to be held during the coming summer, at New Westminster, B.C. It was arranged some time ago to have an off year and not to give any grant until 1906, but on account of pressure from Mr. J. B. Kennedy, M.P., New Westminster, the Government has agreed to give it this year. There will be the same conditions as in Toronto and Winnipeg, which were that part of the grant will have to be expended in paying freight on exhibits from other provinces.

The supplementary estimates will contain the grant and New Westminster can go ahead and make all its arrangements now as the money is assured. The matter was decided at the Cabinet meeting on Saturday afternoon.

DE WOLF HOPPER.

HOPPER has come to town again—'twas years ago he sang
His song about that famous beast—
the elephant in "Wang";
That beast of famous appetite, who gorged
both night and day,
And ate prodigious quantites of fragrant,
new-mown hay.
But time has not effaced the tune which lingers in our ears,
Nor can we, either, quite forget in spite of passing years
How one an all we clapped and cheered, and with impatience sat,
And called on Hopper to recite great "Casey
at the Bat."

Blithe Della Fox was with him then, and
Alfred Klein, the small;
The children in the "Baby" song must now be somewhat tall—
But they were little shavers then, and towering o'er them there
Stood lean and lanky Hopper with his paucity of hair;
In basso voice he sang his songs, and nimbly danced about
To edify the audience and put dull care to rout;
The songs were good, the curtain fell, but encores sounded flat—
What people really wanted was great "Casey at the Bat."

"There was ease in Casey's manner," and ease in Hopper's, too,
As at the side the curtain swelled and he stepped into view,
And then we heard the well-known tones describe great Casey's fall,
How three times Casey gripped his bat, and three times missed the ball.
The years may come, the years may go, but as the season's bound,
And comes the time when Hopper's on his gladsome yearly round,
I'll have a seat—a good one, too—and sit there, hoping that
For auld lang syne, I'll hear him tell of "Casey at the Bat."

BOY OF TWELVE HIS OWN BOSS

Ran Away From Home and Cooked His Own Meals

SENT TO THE REFORMATORY

For Ordering Goods in His Uncle's Name and Treating His School Friends to a Dainty Feast.

Twelve-year-old Lawrence Kane, of Westmount, has had adventures during the past three months which certainly do not fall to the lot of every Montreal boy. This morning he was sentenced to five years in the Reformatory by Magistrate McMahon, of Westmount. His story as told in court was one of the most remarkable ever narrated before a justice of the peace.

Blue-eyed and fair haired Lawrence Kane was born and brought up in Montreal. His father, a late employe of the Customs House, has not been heard of for some time, and the little chap was being looked after by his uncle, a resident of the west-end. Lawrence obtained a position some time ago as office boy of the Pullman Car Company, but lost it for opening letters. Saying that he meant no harm Lawrence told his relatives of his dismissal.

Then Master Kane started out on his own hook. Lawrence was willing to work and got a job with a St. Catherine Street merchant. He did not return to hise uncle's home, but rented a room on City Councillors Street.

Living alone and doing his own housekeeping evidently agreed with the little chap. He refused to be assisted by other people in the house and cooked his own meals on a coal oil stove. He slept alone and told his fellow-roomers that he came from England.

He could not be found by relatives and the Montreal police were put upon his trail.

Last week Lawrence was found by his uncle who took him to his suburban home, fitted him out with neat new clothes and intended sending him to school. Saturday morning Master Kane went into a grocery store ordered a quantity of goodies in his uncle's name and treated some of his juvenile companions at the former's expense. Lawrence again ran away and was taken into custody by the Westmount bluecoats Saturday night.

"I didn't do wrong," pleaded the little fellow when arraigned this morning. "I have no parents and want to be my own boss, I can work and wish to get a job."

Master Kane's relatives testified that the boy was incorrigible. When he heard his sentence the boy smiled.

"That's all right," he told one of the guards. "I'll be seventeen when I come out again. Then I'll work for myself."

Efforts by the Montreal and Provincial police to find the boy's parents have been unsuccessful.

OTTAWA RIVER RY. CONTRACT AWARDED

Mr. P. E. McGrath Will Commence Construction Work Almost Immediately.

The contract for the construction of the Ottawa River Railway Company's line between Montreal and Ottawa has been awarded to Mr. P. E. McGrath, of Easton, Pennsylvania.

This line is to be built as a high class steam railway, but the city and suburban section is to be handled entirely by electricity, and no steam engines will enter the city. Mr. McGrath has built a number of railways in the United States and much of his experience has been in connection with electric lines.

The first section to be built will be that between Hawkesbury and Montreal. This line passes through St. Eustache and St. Andrews. The Ottawa river will be crossed over the Great Northern Railway bridge at Hawkesbury, thence the south shore of the Ottawa river will be followed to Ottawa. This railway now will serve a district which is almost destitute of railway facilities, and it is claimed for it that it will be the shortest line between Montreal and Ottawa.

The contract also provides for the construction of the line to Georgian Bay, so soon as the bill authorizing the amalgamation with the company chartered by the Ontario Legislature is passed. The location of this line through Ontario is about midway between the Canada Atlantic line to Parry Sound and the Canadian Pacific line to Toronto.

The contractor is to commence operations at once, and tenders for ties and other supplies are to be called for this week.

BARNSTON WOOLLEN MILLS BURNED.

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The Barnston Woollen Mills, at Ways Mills, were completely destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. In addition to the destruction of the building and damage to the plant, unfinished goods to the value of $2,000 was consumed. The loss is placed at $10,000, partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Indigestion?

Offer All Stomach Sufferers a Full Dollar's Worth of My Remedy Free to Try.

I can afford to offer a full dollar's worth free because mine is no ordinary remedy. Ordinary remedies treat symptoms. My remedy treats the causes that produce the symptoms. Symptom treatment must be kept up forever—as long as the cause is there. My treatment may be stopped as soon as it has removed the cause, for that is always the end of the trouble.

Stomach trouble is not really a sickness, but a symptom. It is a symptom that a certain set of nerves is ailing. Not the voluntary nerves that enable you to walk and talk and act—but the automatic stomach nerves over which your mind has no control.

I have not room here to explain how these tender, tiny nerves control and operate the stomach. How worry breaks them down and causes indigestion. How misuse wears them out and causes dyspepsia. How neglect may bring on kidney, heart, and other troubles through sympathy. I have not room to explain how these nerves may be reached and strengthened and vitalized and made well by a remedy I spent thirty years in perfecting—now known by Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I have not room to explain how this remedy, by removing the cause, puts a certain end to indigestion, belching, heartburn, insomnia, nervousness, dyspepsia. All of these things are fully explained in the book I will send you when you write.

In more than a million homes my remedy is known. It has cured womanly troubles not once, but repeatedly—over and over again. Yet you may not have heard of it—or hearing, may have delayed or doubted. So I make this offer to you, a stranger, that every possible excuse for doubt may be removed. Send me no money—make me no promise—take no risk. Simply write and ask. If you have not tried my remedy, I will send you an order on your druggist for a full dollar bottle—not a sample, but the regular standard bottle he keeps constantly on his shelves. The druggist will require no conditions. He will accept my order as cheerfully as though your dollar laid before him. He will send the bill to me.

Will you accept this opportunity to learn at my expense absolutely, how to be rid forever of all forms of womanly weakness—to be rid not only of the trouble, but of the very cause which produced it? Write to-day.

Mild cases are often cured by a single bottle. For sale at forty thousand drug stores.

ICE JAM FORMED IN ST. LAWRENCE

People in the Vicinity of Morrisburg Are Dreading Serious Flood.

Morrisburg, Ont., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The St. Lawrence river is rapidly rising along here, and it now looks as if there might be a disastrous flood. Some time ago an ice bridge was formed from Croil's Island, which divides the river about two miles below Aultsville, to the south shore. This completely blocked the south channel and all the ice being forced down the north passage, a jam was formed above Farran's Point, which, as the result of continuous accumulations, now extends westward for more than five miles. This solid barrier, which apparently nothing but the warm hand of spring can break down, is causing the water to rise rapidly, in fact, a foot every twenty-four hours, and it is now six feet above normal. The residents along the front below here are uneasy, and some of them have already moved into higher and drier quarters. At some places between here and Aultsville the water is two feet deep on the road. On Friday a horse belonging to a farmer slipped and fell on the road, and it was nearly drowned before it could be got on its feet.

At this place the boats have been taken out of the boat houses, and Captain Murphy has a gang of men cutting loose his gasoline launch before it is engulfed by the rising waters. If the water continues to rise, the town will soon be without electric light, as the plant is run by water power and has no steam auxiliary. The council has taken the precaution to place a steam engine on the bank near the water works, so that if the water power fails and the engine in the basement of the pump house is rendered useless by the incoming water, there will still be power.

The Government had a large number of men employed last week trying to break the jam, but without success.

LETTERS TO ALDERMEN.

Trades and Labor Council Remind City Fathers of Campaign Pledges.

Letters have been sent by the secretary of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council to the aldermen, who, during the last municipal campaign, pledged themselves to oppose the granting of franchises to corporations.

The letters are sent in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Council at its last meeting, and are directed especially towards the proposed Montreal Street Railway franchise.

At the next meeting of the Trades and Labor Council to be held on Thursday evening, the matter will come up again for discussion.

CODE NAPOLEON TOASTED BY MONTREAL LAWYERS ON OCCASION OF THE CENTENARY

Bar Dinner on Saturday Night Was a Unique and International Function—The Civil Code Which Prevail in Quebec Was Eulogized and Bigger Salaries Demanded for Judges Who Administer It.

With toasts, speeches and songs the Montreal Bar Association on Saturday night at the Place Viger celebrated the anniversary of the Code Napoleon, which in this Province as in France and Louisiana sets out the civil law for the guidance of both bar and bench. The dinner was one of the most brilliant in the annals of the Montreal Bar since its incorporation in 1849. Representatives of France and the bars of the United States, as well as of the Montreal judiciary and leading civic institutions were present, and united in recounting the glories of the Code Napoleon. An international atmosphere was infused into the gathering by the representatives of three nations, France, Great Britain and the United States, the American visitors especially uniting in patriotic references to the growing friendship between them, which bade fair to have such an influence in preserving the peace of the world.

THE GUESTS OF HONOR.

Gustave Lamothe, batonnier of the Bar Association, presided, and as the guests of honor on his right and left were Mayor Laporte and President Geo. Drummond, of the Board of Trade. Amongst other distinguished guests were A. Kleczkowski, the Consul-General of France; Sir Alexander Lacoste, Sir Melbourne Tait, President Brault, of the Chambre de Commerce, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, and other leaders of the legal and business world.

The arrangements for the banquet were perfectly carried out, much praise for its success being accorded Mr. H. J. Elliott, the secretary of the committee in charge.

During the evening the programme was varied with songs by Messrs. E. Duquette and E. H. Godin.

Letters of regret were read from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick, Justices Mathieu and Choquet and Recorder Poirier.

Of course the King—the theoretical founder of all law and justice—was loyally honored, as was "Canada, the National Anthem and "Canada, mon pays, mes Amours" being sung.

A UNIQUE TOAST.

Then came the toast of the evening—a toast probably unique in the festive annals of the British Empire, "Au Code Napoleon," which was enthusiastically honored by the professors of the code as well as the judges who have to administer it.

Chief Justice Sir Alexandre Lacoste, speaking in French, proposed the toast. He remarked that on this the centenary of the Code Napoleon, it was right to render homage to this legal system, which was originally prepared to unify the much divided laws of France. It was a clear and precise compendium of the principles of law, combined with such equity that it became the admiration of the world, on which it had exerted a tremendous influence. To-day in Quebec, as Sir John Abbott had once said in the Senate, the people enjoyed the dual advantage of this civil code of France combined with the criminal code of England. (Applause.) He remarked that with time the legal processes of a nation grew until the necessity of a code became apparent, although so conservative a nation as England had refused to codify her laws, preferring the common law of case and precedent—but his Lordship opined that the hour was coming when even England would have its civil code as a guide to the judges.

"Saluez la France" concluded the judge with enthusiasm, "whether we be English, Irish or Americans we all honor the country which produced the Code Napoleon. It is to honor one's self to render homage to such greatness and merit." (Loud applause).

R. C. SMITH'S WITTY EPIGRAM.

R. C. Smith, K.C., seconded the toast in a witty speech, in which he dwelt upon the strange fact that England had not a civil code "which would give the judges power to say that that which was the law was not the law, because I maintain that is the raison d'etre of a code." (Laughter.)

"On behalf of the English-speaking practitioners at the Montreal," said Mr. Smith, "I wish to express our admiration of that code which so beneficently impresses itself upon our Province's destinies, and will forever preserve the illustrious name of the first consul long after his military glories are forgotten."

Mr. Pierre Beullac, K.C., also spoke to the toast.

THE CONSUL OF FRANCE.

The Consul-General of France, M. A. Kleczkowski, was received with cheers on rising to respond to the toast. He warmly thanked the company for the kindly praise they had given the country he represented, and the legal code it had given to this province. The code, he declared, satisfied equally the conscience of the subject and the legality of the institution of the country, and fittingly supported the august majesty of the law. It absolutely ignored the artificial and arbitrary division of society and affirmed the equality of all citizens as subjects. (Applause.) The monarchy had made France what it was. It fell through no fault of its own, and then the code Napoleon was given to rejuvenate the country, whose civil laws, though the genius of its makers were entirely embodied in its pages,

M. Kleczkowski's speech was received with great applause, and he was given a demonstration on resuming his seat to the tune of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

INCREASE JUDGES PAY.

Mr. R. D. McGibbon proposed "Our Guests," with a scholarly speech, in which he discussed the relations between Bench and Bar. He emphatically declared that the emolument of the judges was entirely inadequate to sustain their position. (Applause.) He hoped that this positon of affairs would soon be remedied, and so honorable and hard-working a body of men relieved from the feeling that their loyal labors were improperly recognized by the State. In this sentiment the whole gathering evidently concurred.

The English members of the Bar, he said, were proud to take their share of the debt Canada owed France for the Code Napoleon. The two countries were indissolubly united by ties of tradition, jurisprudence and language. The ties between great Britain and France were growing stronger, and in welcoming the Montreal Bar's guests from the American Bar, Mr. McGibbon expressed the certainty that the growing friendship between Great Britain and France and the United States was the greatest guarantee of peace the world possessed.

Chief Justice Sir Melbourne Tait was the first to reply to the toast on behalf of the Bench, and opened with friendly references to the retirement of Justice Casault, the elevation of Mr. Justice Trenholme to the King's Bench, and the calling of Mr. Justice Dunlop to the Bench, both of which honors he regarded as well deserved.

Discussing the congestion of cases in the Review Court, the Chief Justice shrewdly suspected that many cases were appealed to that division simply to carry them over the vacation, and the laughter which saluted this remark showed that His Lordship had not gone far astray. He regarded the Court of Review as a useful institution in the legal course, but thought its work was severely handicapped by the statute which forbade a judge from sitting in review on a case with which he was formerly connected. This led to many embarrassing changes in the personnel of the court from day to day. He considered that the senior judges of the Superior Court should be judges of the Court of Review until removed by retirement or death.

THE LAW AND THE STUMP.

The Chief Justice humorously satirized the habit of advocates rushing to the stump during elections, "when they could and did speak untrammelled by gown or bench or the necessity of using Parliamentary language" — and meanwhile the cases which they were supposed to fight were postponed. (Laughter.)

And the judge, with a twinkle in his eye, again excited the mirth of the legal luminaries by mildly suggesting that some of the cases were just a trifle long—for instance, an intricate case lasting forty-one days of involved evidence, would tax even the resources of an able judge. In cases where before a judge could reach a decision he must inevitably read over the evidence. Sir Melbourne suggested that he should have to personally hear it all, but could sit on the case after reading as seized of the evidence, and then hear the arguments of counsel; and, of course, he added, the Bench was greatly indebted to the lawyers for their clear definitions of the law. (Laughter.)

A WITTY REPLY.

Mr. C. F. Hughes, of the New York Bar, replied on behalf of the American Bar Association, with one of the most brilliantly witty speeches heard in Montreal for a long time.

He expressed great pleasure at meeting the lawyers on this side of the line, which represented Governmental division, but no division in the love of freedom or devotion to the doctrines of civilization. Discussing en passant the name "American," he said it might sound arrogant, and be geographically incorrect. "But until a better appellation is found, I think we shall try to continue that name, whose name was begun in innocence (laughter), and try to make amends by showing that good will and friendship proper to those who with common ideals are trying to work out the destinies of civilized humanity."

The Montreal lawyers, he said, should thank God they had not to suffer from such laws as did their confreres at the New York Bar, which reminded him of the definition that "The Lord exceeded the Devil" in original power, but the Devil makes up for it in infernal activity. (Loud laughter.)

In fact he thought that law-making was one of the chief industries in the United States, with its forty-five Legislatures sitting every year and making immense quantities of laws which were not needed, and its numerous courts giving often obscure judgments on those laws. This had led Judge Parker on his return to the practice of law after his electoral defeat, to say that his experience on the Bench gave him the advantage of not only knowing how the decisions of the Supreme Court read, but actually what they meant. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hughes closed with a warm eulogy of the friendship between the American and Canadian Bars, whose propriety was further enhanced by their common legal ancestry and common aspirations. (Loud applause.)

AN ALLIANCE OF FRIENDS.

Mr. George Sawyer, of Albany, replied on behalf of the New York Bar Association. He remarked upon the powerful influence of the New York Bar, which even the politicians had to recognize to such an extent that they had to find out the views of the bar before electing a judge.

Discussing the friendship of the two bars Mr. Sawyer eloquently said, "There is no alliance like that caused by friendship of peoples—it needs no protocol or diplomatic confirmation by executive authority, and those mutual ties which bind the English races together will forever conserve the ends of justice and humanity. There are three powers blended under the Union Jack, the Tri-color and our own Star Spangled Banner. They all stand for liberty, equality and justice, and they all proclaim now and forever that the rights of man and the liberties of the people must be preserved." (Loud applause).

President George E. Drummond, of the Board of Trade, also briefly responded, and said he brought a message of equality and fraternity from that organization. The manufacturers and merchants generally admired the Province's legal institutions. But the Board of Trade regarded the salaries of the judges as much too low. Twice they had appealed to the Government, and they were prepared to support it in doubling the salaries of the judiciary, and the business men hoped to see this done, as well as increased salaries to the Premier and his ministers. There was a glorious future before Canada if only she stayed united, and she could thus guarantee not only the liberties of her own people but of exiles from every land in search of freedom. (Applause).

President Brault, of the Chambre de Commerce, also briefly responded to the toast.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK WITH LOSS

Gen. Kuropatkin's Flanking Movement Ended in Defeat.

Tokio, January 30. — Telegraph advices received here yesterday from the Japanese Manchurian headquarters say: "Our detachment occupied Liutiako yesterday, (Saturday) and was twice counter-attacked by a superior force of the enemy last night. We entirely repulsed the enemy.

"Our other detachment at dawn today (Sunday) attacked the enemy in the neighborhood of Feitssalhotzu, about two miles north of Heikoutai, and occupied the position. The enemy fiercely counter - attacked our force, which assailed Heikoutai last night, but was repulsed entirely. To-day our force occupies the neighborhood of Heikoutai.

"The enemy in the direction of Liutiako and Heikoutai has entirely retreated to the right bank of the Hun river. Our force is now pursuing them.

"In the direction of Chenchiehpao and Likajentan the enemy made several attacks last night, but were repulsed. The enemy attacking these points belonged to the eighth and tenth corps.

"In the direction of Heikoutai the enemy is composed of the first and mixed corps of infantry, together with a cavalry division under General Mistchenko.

"We captured 500 officers and men. "The casualties on both sides are under investigation."

The Russians are massing about 65,000 troops on the Japanese left, and bombarding the left flank and centre. Small forces of Russians are attacking all along the line.

Manchurian headquarters of the Japanese army report that on Saturday the Russians occasionally bombarded the right and centre armies, following up the bombardment with attacks, which the Japanese immediately repulsed. In the direction of the left wing a Japanese detachment were victors at Chenclephao and occupied Liutiako and Lichiawopeng on Saturday, the Russians retreating north and west.

The Japanese occupied with infantry positions southeast of Heikoutai on Saturday, and are now assaulting the main position.

Another detachment disloged a regiment of infantry, a brigade of cavalry and twelve guns occupying Haerphao, five miles south of Heikoutai.

The Russians' strength opposing the Japanese left flank is roughly estimated at eight corps, consisting of the fourteenth and fifteenth infantry divisions, the second and fifth brigades of European rifles, the ninth infantry division of the tenth corps, part of the sixty-fifth infantry division, part of the first Siberian corps, and the first and ninth brigades of rifles.

MISTCHENKO WOUNDED.

St. Petersburg, January 30.—A telegram from Huan Mountain states that General Mistchenko has been wounded in the leg.

RETIRED FROM SANDEPAS.

St. Petersburg, January 30.—Instead of confirmation of Saturday night's report that General Kuropatkin had broken through the Japanese left there came Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's official admission to-day that the Russians had been compelled to retire from Sandepas on account of their inability to carry a redoubt. It is also significant that despatches from Russian correspondents at the front have again suddenly ceased, which is regarded as an indication of the failure of the operation, and strengthens the first impression, that it was a demonstration undertaken to distract the people at home from the present situation.

STEAMER'S EXCITING TIME.

Halifax, N.S., January 30.—The Canada and Jamaica Steamship Company's steamer Mercator has reached port from Jamaica, and is discharging a cargo of fruit, most of which is for Montreal and Toronto.

The Mercator was twelve days coming up and met with beautiful weather. The steamer was within forty miles of Halifax, last Wednesday at noon, when the blizzard caught her, and from that until Friday morning she had a bad time. After the storm came on the engines were put at full speed, but so strong was the gale and current, that the log only registered half a mile an hour. She was kept head on the sea, with the engines continuing at full speed until Thursday night, when instead of making headway the ship had drifted ninety miles out of her course.

TOO MUCH FERVOR.

Rochester, N.Y., January 30. — "The Woman in the Case," by Clyde Fitch, was produced here Saturday. In the third act, where the heroine discovers the secret that will free her husband from the charge of murder, Blanche Walsh, as Margaret Rolfe, hurls the brazen woman, impersonated by Dorothy Dorr, away from her.

In th fervor of her acting, Miss Walsh hurled Miss Dorr backward into a chair with such force that Miss Dorr struck her head against a piano and was rendered unconscious.

PAINING STOMACHS

There are a whole lot of women (and men too), whose health would be good if they didn't have trouble with their stomachs. The stomach is the vital part of the body and requires strength. A weak stomach weakens you all over. You may have arms and muscles like a prize fighter, but these muscles will not do you any good if your stomach is weak. Nature supplies in Hutch tablets all that is needed to make the stomach strong, and enables it to properly digest the food. It is chocolate-coated. Take one just after you eat. Take two before you go to bed to move the bowels. Keep up this treatment for a little while and your stomach won't hurt you any more.

If weak women who are pale, bilious and fretful would take less Bitters, Sarsaparilla, Pills, etc., and use Hutch tablets they would be better off. You simply take one when you feel badly. One gives instant relief. Never take a substitute.

INVOICES MUST BE MORE DEFINITE

Customs Department Has Issued an Important Circular.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Another circular has been issued by the Department of Customs regarding invoice forms and entries. It says in part that exporters must show on invoices of goods exported to Canada the amount of any freight prepaid on such goods, and also the amount of any freight allowance made by the exporter to the purchaser in Canada, in order that the collector may determine the actual selling price of the goods to the Canadian purchaser in the country of export, in condition packed ready for shipment as prescribed by the customs regulations. The "fair" market value of goods manufactured solely for export and not sold for home consumption may usually be determined by ascertaining the total cost to produce the goods in condition ready for the market, including all expenses, and adding thereto the usual ratio of profit made on home consumption sales of similar lines of goods. This basis should be followed by exporters in arriving at the estimate of value to be stated by them on their invoices. It will be deemed a sufficient compliance with the regulations by the exporters in such cases if they make a statement on their invoices to the effect that the goods are not sold for home consumption, and if they in addition state an estimated value in the column for their market value. The certificate as to the market value will be held qualified by the estimate of value, and by the statement that the goods are not sold for home consumption. The values to be stated in the "home consumption" value column of invoices of goods sold by the exporter, prior to shipment to Canada, are the rate values per yard, gallon, dozen or as the case may be. Such value cay be shown by the list price and the rate of discount, without the total value.

In respect of articles not merchandize, and in respect of perishable goods, such as oysters, fruits, etc., for which immediate delivery is necessary, collectors may accept such fair invoices as it is practicable to obtain for entry purposes, provided the goods be carefully examined and appraised.

Postal packages and small importations of goods not exceeding $25 in value may be entered on small collection forms as heretofore, provided that a bona fide invoice (certified) shall be produced for the entry of all goods being merchandise for sale. The collector may use his discretion as to the form of certificate on casual invoices of merchandise accepted for entry on small collection forms.

Collectors of customs, pending further instructions, may temporarily use a reasonable discretion in accepting invoices for entry when bearing certificates "M." or "J.," although the column headed "fair market" may not contain a special notation as to the value of the goods, or only such a notation as the following. "Fair market value as sold for home consumption identical with selling price to purchaser herein" or "fair market value for home consumption not greater than selling price to purchaser herein." Collectors are, however, to warn importers in every such case that the regulations requiring the value to be stated in the "home consumption" value column should be observed in future. Carbons over six inches in circumference, when for use in Canadian manufactures are free of duty.

Duties reduced.—When the articles are imported by manufacturers of burial caskets, or burial robes for use in such manufacture, viz., casket gimps and fringes, and embroidered or embossed chiffon from 35 per cent. to 10 per cent. ad valorem.

Silk cloth, including satin, from 30 per cent. to 10 per cent. ad valorem.

"To avoid possible misapprehension, it is ordered that these reduction rates shall be subject to further reduction by one-third thereof under the provisions of the preferential tariff or to an addition of one-third thereof under the provisions of the surtax tariff if the importation of the goods properly comes under such preferential or surtax tariffs."

In order to carry out the provisions of sections 32 and 33 of the animal quarantine regulations, it has been decided that imported live stock subject to quarantine or inspection and intended to be kept in Canada, must be entered for duty at the port of quarantine or inspection, and cannot be forwarded in bond from such quarantine or inspection port to interior points, except as hereinafter stated.

Live stock, subject to quarantine cannot be entered for duty at a port where there is no quarantine station established.

Collectors of customs are not to sign permits for delivery of imported live stock subject to quarantine or inspection until the requirements as to quarantine and inspection have been complied with. Horses imported for feeding and pasturage, and animals (other than swine) for purposes of exhibition may, however, be forwarded in bond to the customs port of destination in Canada, after satisfying requirements in regard to quarantine or inspection as the cases may be.

Animals in transit through Canada for exportation are to be forwarded in bond subject to inspection in the Canadian port of shipment.

RADIAL SYSTEM OUT OF TORONTO

Toronto Railway Co. Will Do Business on Wide Scale

Toronto, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Radial railways, which will be equal to the best in the world, will be in operation between Toronto and Oakville, twenty miles; Toronto and Jackson's Point, fifty miles, and Toronto and Whitby, twenty-six miles by the close of the present year, according to the plans of the Toronto and York Radial Railway Company, otherwise known as the Toronto Railway Co. Surveyors are at work selecting a route for the uncompleted portions of these roads and securing options on property which is required for railway purposes. Construction work will be resumed in the early spring by large gangs and Mr. W. H. Moore, manager, sees no reason why the three lines should not be completed to the points mentioned before the season of 1906.

Mr. Moore says his company is out for local traffic only. The object is to cheapen the short haul. "The farmer livng twenty miles from Toronto does not find it much cheaper, if any, to bring his produce to Toronto now than twenty years ago," said the manager. "Radial railways should come to that man's relief and do as much for him as the steam railways have done for their patrons who ship or express goods for long distances."

"Will your radial lines compete with steam railways?" he was asked.

"No," Mr. Moore replied; "there would not be any competition with steam railways. We will simply take the farm produce which the farmers or gardeners usually bring to the city in their own conveyances.

The importance which the company attaches to farm or market produce trade is illustrated in the policy of the company in acquiring sites for radial railway stations as near as possible to the markets in the towns or villages through which the lines will pass. For instance, a site for Newmarket station has been purchased immediately opposite the local market, and probably a similarly convenient property will be procured in Aurora. In Richmond Hill the most central lot in the town has been purchased by the company for station purposes. In the immediate future station sites will be obtained in all the towns and villages on the three radial lines. This should be a distinct advantage to the various municipalities, and also to Toronto, in that the radial lines will bring direct to the city huge quantities of dairy and farm produce.

"What will be your arrangements for handling freight from your terminals to points in the city?" Mr. Moore was asked, the company not having yet obtained permission to enter the city.

"We will have our own transfer system," he replied, "it will be a waggon transfer system. The company will have waggons at the Kingston road, Metropolitan and Sunnyside terminals, and by that means farm produce or other freight will be delivered to any point in the city to which it may be consigned."

In speaking of the fine country through which the Metropolitan Railway passes, of which Mr. Moore has several magnificent views, the manager said it was the intention of the company to draw the attention of the public next year to the Metropolitan division from a resort standpoint as the "Highlands of York."

Of the total number, 517 had been placed in the Provinces of Quebec and New Brunswick, and 155 in Ontario. Mr. Arden stated that the children placed with French Canadian families were receiving very good attention, and strongly recommended that more children be placed with such families.

ITALIAN STABBED IN CARD DISPUTE

Lies in the Hospital and Refuses to Give Name of Assailant.

With a big gash on his face and two deep cuts upon his back, Joseph Bruno, an Italian, was taken to the Montreal General Hospital Saturday night. It appears that Bruno lived in an Italian boarding house at No. 8 Bannockburn lane. While playing cards with fellow-countrymen he got into a dispute. A scuffle ensued, and as usual knives were drawn. Bruno got the worst of the argument and was slashed on the face and stabbed in the small of the back.

With blood oozing from his face and dripping down his back, Bruno ran to No. 8 police station. He refused to tell the name of his assailant. From the station he was taken to the General Hospital.

The gash on his face, while painful, is not serious, and the wounds upon his back are not likely to result fatally. The police are making investigations and will arrest Bruno's assailant if able to locate him. Bruno again refused last evening to assist the police in finding the man who knifed him.

NOTED CRIMINAL TAKEN AFTER DARING ESCAPE

Whiteman, the Forger, Arrested by Pinkerton's While Visiting His Mother.

A Buffalo member of the Pinkerton Detective agency, acting on behalf of the American Banker's Association, has just been instrumental in the arrest of one of the worst of United States crooke, Alonzo J. Whiteman, who was run to earth at Dansville, N.Y., in his mother's house.

Whiteman, who is chief of the Knox-Whiteman gang of draft-raisers, forgers and bank swindlers, came originally from Dansville, N.Y., where his father at one time was a prominent banker and lumberman. In his younger days he attended the Hamilton College, Utica, N.Y., from which he graduated with high honors and took up the legal profession. Leaving Dansville he migrated to Minnesota, became Mayor of Duluth; a member of the State Senate, of Minnesota; president of two banks in Duluth; the owner of two newspapers published in that city, and at one time backer of Courtney the oarsman. He spent an inheritance of three-quarters of a million, sacrificed his position of honor and distinction to become a forger and swindler. He is one of the most remarkable criminals in the country, and because of his suave manners and intimate knowledge of the criminal law has many times defeated the ends of justice.

He escaped on September 29 last, while in the custody of officers en route from St. Louis to Buffalo, N.Y., from fast mail train No. 32, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, between Dunkirk and Silver Creek, N.Y., eluding the officers, by leaping through the window of the sleeping car stateroom, while the train was in motion.

Whiteman is the last of the band, other members of which were Robert J. Knox, now serving an indeterminate term of from two to fourteen years in the Michigan City (Ind.) state prison; H. I. Andrews, alias E. M. Witherout, serving two and a half years in Sing Sing (N.Y.) state prison; Thomas M. Kennedy, Jos. Boothman and Benj. J. Hart, confined in the Erie County jail, Buffalo, N.Y., awaiting trial, along with Alonzo J. Whiteman, for swindling the Fidelity Trust Company, Buffalo, N.Y., last July, while another member, Edward M. Wickwire, has been released on $500 bail for trial.

The particular crime with which Whiteman is charged occurred after July 2nd at Buffalo, when a messenger called at the Fidelity Trust Company with a letter typewritten, on what purported to be the business paper of an East Aurora (N.Y.) firm, and signed F. H. Hubbard, who appeared to be a member of the firm. Enclosed with the letter was a draft for $9.000 to Hubbard's order by the cashier of the National Hudson River Bank, Hudson, N.Y., with which the writer expressed a wish to open an account; claimed he was an invalid, seldom left East Aurora, and requested that a bank and check book be sent him by the bearer of the letter. The Fidelity Trust Company of Buffalo, after allowing what they considered sufficient time to elapse for the draft to pass through the exchanges, and not being advised that it was irregular, permitted Hubbard to check against the account to the extent of $3,850 by the issuing bank, but were subsequently advised that the $9,000 acepted cby them from Hubbard was originally issued for $9, from which amount it was raised.

Whiteman was the prime mover in all the bank swindles, by raised drafts, committed by this band, and by which they obtained over $30,000. The drafts were purchased from country banks for small amounts and raised to large ones, i.e. a $5 draft would be raised to $5,000, and a $15 draft raised to $15,000, and through confidence methods confederates of the principals opened accounts with these raised drafts, checking out most of the amount before the fraud was discovered.

Altogether Whiteman has been arrested on charges of felony twenty-three times, indicted seventeeen times, tried four times, sentenced to an aggregate of sixteen years imprisonment; has lain in jail three years awaiting trials or appeals; out of all served only one year's actual sentence.

STURDY ENGLISH IMMIGRANTS.

Five Hundred Passed Through Montreal To-day.

There passed through Montreal this morning on their way West, five hundred immigrants of as fine a type as any country might well desire to welcome within its gates. The new settlers were all English and they were practically driven from home by the lack of work and the ensuing penurey and want which at present exists in the Old Land.

"If we have to die of hunger we would just as soon starve in Canada as in England, but we've been told that in this country the man who is willing to work need never fear starvation and we are coming over here to make a new start in life.

The party left this morning for the Northwest by the Pacific Express.

THE TRUE CHARITY.

At the morning service in St. George's Church yesterday, Rev. E. A. Mackenzie, in the course of a thoughtful and earnest sermon on "Charity," remarked that the money spent on dresses and adornment for the recent Charity Ball probably exceeded by ten times the sum secured for Charity as a result of the ball. The truest charity, he held, is that which is done without ostentation, and through simple love of humanity.

Adelard Bellemare, boot and shoe merchant, this morning assigned on demand of M. Cottenon. Liabilities about $2,400, with assets of stock in trade, book debts, etc.

INDIAN SLEW INSANE FATHER

Was an Old Tribal Custom. Police Unable to Effect Arrest

The report of the horrible murder of Joseph Peters an aged Indian at St. Augustine in December, by his son Samuel, was verified to-day by Dr. J. W. Tremblay, coroner at Esquimault, Point, who is in the city.

Samuel Peters and his father, it appears, went out on a hunting trip. The latter while quite old, stood the trip well and was in good health until food and game grew scarce. Then he became insane. Following an old Indian custom of dealing with insane people, Samuel Peters shot his father, burned the body and blew his ashes to the winds.

When news of the crime became circulated Samuel Peters, left the district and has been eluding the authorities.

It is believed that when the hunting season ends, officers will be able to effect the capture of the criminal.

Dr. Tremblay says that the Indian tribe, to which Peters belongs, believes that he did not break the laws in slaying his father.

Dr. Tremblay was one of the assistants to Judge Dugas during the period of martial law in the Lake Megantic district at the time of the Donald Morrison incident.

The Provincial police will make every effort to apprehend the murderer.

ITALIAN DISPUTE IS UP IN COURT

Judge to Decide Whether Dini's Election Was Valid.

The dispute between Alberto Dini, the well known Italian labor shipping agent, and the Count Mazza, Italian consul-general, as to whether or not Dini should be president of the Italian Immigration Society, was aired before Mr. Justice Mathieu this morning.

Dini was elected president of the society in January, but the election was promptly annulled by Count Mazza under a clause of its charter which necessitated the approval of the Italian foreign officials to the election of such officers. The Italian consul then appointed Carlo H. Cattelli president of the society. Mr. Dini vigorously objected to this proceeding and entered quo warranto proceedings, calling upon Cattelli to show cause why he should hold the office to which Dini had been elected.

This was argued before Mr. Justice Mathieu by Jerome Internoscia, counsel for the Italian Government, and Mr. Aime Geoffrion for Dini.

As under international law consuls cannot be sworn like ordinary citizens, a declaration from Count Mazza was filed, setting forth the circumstances, and stating that he had acted under instructions from the Itadian Foreign Office in deposing Dini, who was not regarded as a suitable incumbent. In fact the Count stated that at the time of the election the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Rome had cabled the Board of Management of the Immigration Society with instructions that Dini would not be acceptable as president.

The case was argued at some length. Mr. Internoscia invelgling rather strongly against Mr. Dini and declaring that the action of the Italian Government through Count Mazza was necessary to prevent the exploitation of poor and ignorant Italian immigrants by their more wealthy compatriots.

Mr. Justice Mathieu took the case en delibere.

ATTENTION TO CUSTOMERS HIS SECRET OF SUCCESS

Mr. W. H. Stewart Has a Remarkable Career of Fourteen Years in Business.

Mr. W. H. Stewart, boot and shoe merchant, of 2295 St. Catherine Street and 237 St. James Street, has a record of successful business enterprise excelled by few.

It is now fourteen years since Mr. Stewart commenced business in Montreal, and in that comparatively short time wonderful results have been accomplished. The firm has now three branches in various parts of the city, and employs a staff of twenty-eight men.

This progress has been due to Mr. Stewart's close attention to business and to the wants of his patrons, giving the latter the best value to be had in the market at the least possible advance in cost. This principle together with the assistance of judicious advertising in the leading dailies, has wrought such marvels that the firm are now one of the leading retail shoe dealers of Canada. Their goods are known from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and they have a large mail order business which is increasing rapidly.

Another secret of success, according to Mr. Stewart, is that the firm confines itself to fine shoes. Nothing is too good for their trade. They are sole agents in Montreal for the A. E. Nettleton Co., of Syracuse, and handle a great deal of goods manufactured by the Hurley firm, of Rockland, Mass. Laird, Schober & Co., of Philadelphia, the lading shoe manufacturers of the United States, also supply a lot of stock. O shoes manufactured in Montreal, the Stewart firm handles many of the productions of the J. & T. Bell Co.

The branch stores are under the management o fcapable men with long experience in the retail business in this city.

NEW STREET CAR SERVICE.

The Montreal Street Railway inaugurated this morning a new line of cars designed to relieve the congestion between the rush hours of 8 and 10 o'clock. These cars, which run only on week days, will be marked 'St. Catherine and Windsor Extra."

Their route is, from Victoria Avenue, west on St. Catherine Street, to Windsor, then east by St. James and Notre Dame to Maisonneuve, returning by St. Catherine Street.

NO ACTION YET IN MATERNITY CASE

Judge Says Lambert's Warrant Was Sufficient to Enter Hospital

So far, the representatives of the law at the City Courthouses have had no communication from Ottawa regarding the complaint sent in from the officers of the Maternity Hospital alleging rude behaviour last week while on a visit to the institution in search of a witness in a criminal action.

Special Constable Pratt, who accompanied Lambert, when seen to-day in connection with the matter corroborates generally what has been stated by Lambert in his defence. The warrant he holds fully justified a thorough search, as they had good reason to believe the girl was on the premises. Their duties they carried out politely and delicately, but complains they were hampered by the medical officers, besides being detained in the hall for about twelve or fifteen minutes before being permitted to proceed with the search. It was false to say that during the visit he or Lambert raised bed sheets where patients were in bed. They simply looked on the faces of the occupants to make sure whether or not the missing girl was in any of the beds. One bed was unoccupied, with the covering hanging down to about floor level, and he, Pratt, lifted it and looked to see if any one was concealed under the bed. It was also untrue that Lambert and he went about with their caps on all the time of the visit. When going from the ground flat to the basement they had to guide themselves by their hands on bannister and wall, owing to the darkness, and here they were compelled to resume their headgear. Under similar circumstances, Pratt added, he would act exactly as was done on the present occasion.

WARRANT WAS SUFFICIENT.

Talked with to-day on the subject, a judge of the Lower Court explained that no other warrant was called for in a case of the kind than that in possession of Lambert when he made his visit to the institution. There was no call for a search warrant as so many people seemed to consider was necessary. The witness seemed to be a material one for the prosecution, and if the law had reason to believe she was keeping away, or was being kept away, for the purpose of defeating the ends of justice, it was right that that witness should be produced under arrest. Personally, of course, he could not say just what had happened at the Maternity Hospital during the visit of Officer Lambert. If the latter had good reason to believe the girl was an inmate of the hospital, then his duty was to follow her there so that proper measures might be taken to ensure her appearance in court at the date appointed, or on such other date when the state of her health would permit. If he felt well assured the girl was within, then his duty was to make sure, but the judge did not feel at liberty to say to what extent an officer was entitled to insist on examining rooms either of public or private patients.

RECOUNT IN KINGSTON.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Judge Price has granted the application of Mr. D. M. McIntyre to have a recount on Thursday of the ballots cast in the late election by which Mr. Pense was declared elected by seventeen majority. There are some tendered ballots and forty rejected ballots to be considered. The Conservative executive is divided as to a protest should the recount fail to seat Mr. McIntyre.

RUNAWAY ENDED FATALLY.

Napanee, Ont., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—On Saturday afternoon as Mr. Alexander Breckenridge, a farmer, living about four miles from Napanee, was returning to his home, his team ran away, and before he could get them under control, they dashed into the stone pier under the railway bridge. One of the horses struck the stonework and the impact threw Mr. Breckenridge against the stone abutment with such force that his brains were dashed out. He lived about an hour, but never regained consciousness. The horse's back was broken and it had to be shot. The other horse freed itself and was captured a short distance away.

Mr. Breckenridge was a man about fifty-five years of age and lived with his two brothers and father on the farm. He was unmarried. His aged father, who is ninety-two years of age, is very ill.

COL. YOUNGHUSBAND IGNORED COMMANDS

Home Government Has Cancelled Portion of Treaty With Thibetans.

London, January 30.—The government has issued the correspondence concerning the recent Thibetan expedition, which reveals a serious difference between the British and Indian Government and Col. Younghusband, the political commissioner who accompanied the expedition, and shows that the latter acted in defiance of instructions in making a treaty with the Thibetans, none of the foreign powers, including Great Britain, being allowed to occupy the country or to otherwise interfere with Thibetan internal affairs. This decision was repeatedly impressed upon the Indian Government, yet it was eventually found that Col. Younghusband had demanded and obtained from the Thibetans their sanction for the establishment of a British resident at Lhassa, although Great Britain had forbidden him to even suggest a resident. Great Britain also directed that as the Chumbi Valley was to be held as security for the payment of an indemnity the amount of the indemnity must not be greater than could be paid in three years. Nevertheless, Col. Younghusband fixed the amount at £500,000, payable in seventy-five annual instalments, involving the occupation of the Chumbi Valley for seventy-five years. Mr. Brodrick, secretary for India, upon learning the facts, directed the Indian Government to instruct Col. Younghusband to revise the treaty, instead of doing which Col. Younghusband left Lhassa.

Mr. Brodrick then despatched his general approval of the convention, but condemned the parts aforesaid as having been concluded in defiance of express instructions. He added that Great Britain would not modify her policy and that the convention must be modified before it was ratified. He said: "The Government cannot accept a situation created by its representatives in disobedience of instructions." The Government of India made a spirited reply, defending Col. Younghusband for using his discretion in difficult circumstances. Ultimately the offending clauses were cancelled and Thibet was sterilized, independent of British or any other control.

Mr. Brodrick, in the course of the correspondence, thus explained the grounds of the British policy: "Formerly the relations between India and the states on her borders rarely involved European complications, but the effect of the India policy in relation to Afghanistan, Siam and Thibet or any other dependency of the Chinese Empire is now liable to be felt throughout Europe. This immediate responsibility towards Europe which the Indian policy now imposes on this country necessarily involves its correlative and the course of affairs on the Indian frontiers cannot be decided without reference to imperial exigencies elsewhere."

many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well, and am effectually cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

HERALD AND STAR FIGHT TO FINISH

Herald, Of Course, Carried Off the Palm After Sanguinary Conflict.

In a terrible battle carried out on Saturday night at Prince Arthur rink, The Herald warriors defeated their antagonists from the Star by 9 goals to 2. The game was a ferocious one. Never did the noble Romans from the rows of the amphitheatre gaze upon a deadlier contest, so stern and determined were the combatants on either side.

Before the whistle sounded the charge, it was mutually agreed upon that the object of the warriors should be directed to guiding the puck between the opposing goal posts; not to spreading death and ruin amid the ranks of the foe by cunning slugging. So it was that when The Herald score reached the astounding figures of 9-2, Arthur Woodward, a non-combatant for the nonce, almost committed hari-kari with delight, and said, "I have lived enough." That was when Arthur attempted to describe a "double-curl" on the ice, and fell a victim to the impetuosity of youth.

How the result came about is easy to explain. The Star men, though large of limb and swift withal, had not yet recovered from the effects of the gruelling of Nov. 3. The Herald bunch, on the other hand, pinned their faith to the good old Liberal principles, which never fail to win. Their combination was superior, and they also played a good defence.

THE SOCIAL SIDE.

The spectators were numerous and enthusiastic. In another column, that under the auspices of the social editor, will appear the names of those present, together with the dresses worn by the ladies, but we mention en passant that "Jock" Smith was on hand, not to speak of several well-known figures from all departments of that great metropolitan and family journal, The Montreal Herald. It is alleged that some Star people were also present.

"Peck" Chapman became so delirous towards the end that he walked away with a hockey stick. He is respectfully requested to, return the same. Endeavoring to encourage his champions to superhuman efforts, "Jock" Smith sat down on the ice, and was extricated only with the greatest difficulty. These and other incidents, as well as the superb contest which waged this way and that—but principally this—on the ice, made the evening one of bewildering excitement.

A CONTEST OF GIANTS.

It was 7 p.m. when the referee, F. Hewitt, dropped the puck and started the fight. From the first The Heralds took the initiative and rushed desperately. They tallied three in quick succession, principally owing to the inability of the Stars to check. Then the Stars scored, and before half-time blew The Heralds got in two more. That made the score 5-1, and things looked bad—from one point of view.

In the second half the first scalp fell to the Stars. But all the rest didn't. If the allegations of Tommie Gorman, who belongs to the reportorial staff, and is, consequently, not to be relied upon in his statements, are correct, The Heralds could have scored at will in this half. With their customary moderation, however, they limited themselves to four tallies. More than 9-2 would look like a game of rag, and would be altogether out of accord with the dignity of the press.

THE HORRORS OF WAR.

Many sanguinary scenes were witnessed by the spectators, and more than one wig, raven black on entering the rink, left that scene of carnage as white as snow. Once, as Tommie Gorman was rushing to do or die down the left wing, a fair Star supporter on the side, stretched forth her hand and smote him beneath the fifth rib with her umbrella. The contest was attended with all the ghastly horrors of modern warfare.

At one stage of the game a high lift hurtled through the dim upper part of the rink and alighted on the head of Eaton, the Horatius who kept the Star goals. The puck was stopped. It bounced high in air, lighting behind the nets, and Eaton sat down to deliberate on what he had done to deserve this. "Dave" Grant scored, a mean advantage, if you ask us. Doc. Irvine, though present, did not stitch.

Ferguson, on right wing for The Herald, hurt himself. But that is not in it with the astounding fact that Tom Gorman scored six goals. This information is not official. It is given as an interview with Mr. Gorman and has yet to be verified. There is a Che Foo ring about it somewhere. Of the other three tallies made for The Herald, they may be divided thus: Watson, 2; Grant, 1.

OTHER PEOPLE'S VIEWS.

Capt. Gorman, president of the C.A.A.U., was seen at the rink. The captain, it is understood, will inquire into the amateur standing of several of the players. Charges have been laid already against Arthur Woodward and John O'Callaghan, and their chances are slim for playing further games in amateur company.

It is thought that the news of The Herald's success will queer the proposed match with Ottawa, as the pencil-pushers of that city, while brave, are not so to the point of heroism.

Not being confident enough in his powers of observation and criticism to be dogmatic on the subject of this game, The Herald representative detailed to report it secured interviews with several well-known sporting men who were to be seen in the front rows.

Said Jimmie Flynn: "It was the time of my life. I would rather be Arthur Woodward than take Quebec."

Said John O'Callaghan: "Them boys think they can play hockey! Sure, it's hookey they mean. When I captained the Dublin team—"

Said Jock Smith: "No that bad, no that bad. The laddies did brawly, I'm thinkin'."

N.B. The authorities, it will be seen, do not agree in their estimates.

Charlie Gorman was of the opinion that the game was played more fluently in Prince Edward Island. All right for Charlie Gorman! We don't want to have P. E. I. or Dawson City tactics flung at us.

A wire from Joe Boyle's Dawson City fronts was received yesterday asking for games. It is just mentioned here to show the nerve of some people.

Monday Knight attended in his capacity of the critic. He characterized the event as a howling musical tragedy. That was because he sat beside the ladies from the business office.

ST. GEORGE'S BEAT THREE RIVERS.

Quebec, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The hockey match in the intermediate series between the Three Rivers aggregation, and the members of the St. George's Club, of this city, which was played in the Quebec Skating Club on Saturday evening last, resulted in favor of the St. George's by a score of four goals to three. The players lined up on the ice in the following positions.

St. George.	Position.	Three Rivers.
Fremont	Goal	Gauthier
Hall	Point	Bellefeuille
Roberts	C.-point	Baxter
Leonard	Rover	Baptiste
Staveley	Centre	Kiernan
Georgeson	Wings	Bellefeuille
Morency	Wings	M. Gauthier

Mr. Meldrum, Montreal, referee.
Messrs. Delaire, Three Rivers, and J. Bowen, Quebec, umpires.

The game was started at 8.30 o'clock sharp, and opened with fast and brilliant hockey and although the St. George players were younger and lighter than their opponents, they outplayed the latter in the first half, which ended in two goals to none in favor of the home players. Staveley did most of the play for the St. George, ably assisted by Hall and Leonard on the forward line, while their defence was very good, considering the heft of the players they had to cope with. The second half was the most exciting part of the match, the Trifluvians determined to play for all they were worth and if possible carry off the honors. The first goal was captured by the visitors in five minutes play, and the second by the St. Georges. Then Three Rivers now went to work with a will, and after eleven minutes hard play, in which Baxter and A. Bellefeuille distinguished themselves captured the next goal, which put the game three goals to two with ten minutes to play. Both teams were now placed on their metal, and although the St. George septette worked hard, the visitors kept the rubber around their opponent's ice, which kept the home players on the defence, without a chance to rush the rubber down to the visitors' goal. Quickly one of the visitors sent the rubber to Baxter, who lost it and then a scuffle took place on the sides, and Bellefeuille put the rubber across for the goals. It was right in front of the poles and was found away down the ice, and play in progress, when to the amazement of the players and the large number of spectators present, the umpire, Delaire, held up his hand, as a signal that the Three Rivers had scored. It took Delaire fully fifteen seconds to make up his mind that a goal was taken by his friends, and the crowd simply howled at him and made a rush for the cage, with the object of mobbing him. He still held that a goal was scored, and there was nothing left for the referee to do but concur. Nevertheless every person in the vicinity of the net, were convinced that no goal had been taken. Mr. Delaire was replaced by George Bryson, of Levis, when the match continued, the score being even, three to three. The visitors now put forth every effort to win, as there was only five minutes left to play, and they kept the rubber well up to their opponents goal, but could not score, finally after three minutes play, Staveley got the rubber and rushed down the ice and shot for the Three Rivers net. The rubber struck the foot of the goal keeper, and may have gone past the polls an inch or two, but not more, however, the umpire held up his hand and gave the goal to the St. George. This was not satisfactory, but like the other disputed goal, the referee had to coincide, with the umpire, and the St. George now stood four goals to three for the Three Rivers team. As a matter of course, the umpire in this case like the former had to vacate the cage, as his usefulness was gone, the Trifluvians objecting to his continuance. Another umpire was chosen and the play continued, but as there was only two minutes left, neither side could score, when time was called, and the match decided in favor of St. George by four goals to three. The match was not satisfactory to the Three Rivers players, but on investigation The Herald correspondent was satisfied that in the two disputed goals one was as good as the other, and in neither case were the umpires justified in awarding them, which they did in a moment of nervous excitement in favor of their respective clubs.

PROTEST IN ONTARIO.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Only one trial is likely to result in Ontario from the Dominion general elections. The petition filed by W. O. Seeley, Liberal, against the return of E. D. Smith, M.P. for Wentworth, will be tried in Hamilton on February 1st. Mr. Seeley obtained a small majority, but his election was voided by an action of the Deputy Returning Officer, who had numbered the ballots in his division. It is generally conceded that Hal. Telford, M.P., for North Grey.

MET HIS DEATH IN STRANGE MANNER

Mystery Surrounds Death of H. R. Barrett in Toronto.

Toronto, January 30. — R. H. Barrett, son of N. Barrett, Collector of Customs at Amherstburg, met an extraordinary death here yesterday. Deceased graduated from the School of Practical Science about a year ago, and had since then been employed as a civil engineer by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and more recently by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. He came to Toronto from Pembroke on Saturday night. In the evening, accompanied by five Greeks, he applied at 123 York St. a cheap lodging house, and said that he desired to provide his companions with a night's lodging by way of charity. This was done, and he then asked if he also might stay at the house. He was assigned a room with a stranger. At 5 o'clock this morning he was found unconscious on the sidewalk, and on removal to the hospital he died in three hours. His room-mate says that he was awakened by a noise, and saw Barrett's heels disappearing out of the window. On the reamins was found $5 and a bank book showing a balance of $5. The doctors at the hospital state that there was not the slightest suspicion of alcohol on the man when brought in. The police are investigating.

The Society of French-Canadian Artisans held a largely attended meeting at the St. Henri Town Council yesterday afternoon when Rev. Canon Lepailleur delivered an address on union among Christians. Nine Nations

Now Use Liquozone. Won't You Try It—Free?

Millions of people, of nine different nations, are constant users of Liquozone. Some are using it to get well; some to keep well. Some to cure germ diseases; some as a tonic. No medicine was ever so widely employed. These users are everywhere; your neighbors and friends are among them. And half the people you meet—wherever you are—know some-one whom Liquozone has cured.

If you need help, please ask some of these users what Liquozone does. Don't blindly take medicine for what medicine cannot do. Drugs never kill germs. For your own sake, ask about Liquozone; then let us buy you a full-size bottle to try.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—its deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

MONTREAL ART PRINTERS—HERALD JOB DEPARTMENT

THE HERALD

Established 1889.

MONTREAL, MONDAY, JAN. 30, 1905.

STREET RAILWAY MATTERS.

In Saturday's Herald appeared a letter from "Fair Play," who favors an extension of the M.S.R. franchise, which makes one unnecessary misstatement and several assertions that have yet to be proved. "Montreal," says the writer, "is the most expensive large city on the continent in which to operate a street railway. For instance, in Toronto the percentage of operating expenses to gross earnings was 55.3 per cent., as compared with considerably over 62 per cent. for Montreal." The writer compares the Montreal statement for 1904 with the Toronto statement for 1903. Last year, owing to an exceptionally severe winter, the operating expenses in both cities were unusually high, the percentage in Toronto being 58 as compared with 63 in Montreal.

The assertion that in Montreal operating expenses are higher than in other cities on the continent requires proof. In 1895, the Montreal Company told the Glasgow Commission that their operating expenses were 10.50 cents per car mile. In 1896 the West End companies of Boston claimed their operating expense per car mile was 24.5 cents. In Buffalo about that time the cost was 11 cents; Philadelphia, 12 cents; Chicago city railways, 13 cents; New York Union Electric, 12 cents; St. Paul, 12 cents; New Haven, 11.5 cents; Savannah, 11 cents; Budapest, Hungary, 10.21 cents. All these figures which relate to electric systems are taken from companies' statements to the Glasgow commission, or from returns to public authorities. In Toronto, according to the city engineer, who regulates the running conditions of the road, the cost was 8.33 cents; in 1901, the cost was reported as 7.61 cents.

According to the companies' statements then, the operating cost per car mile in Montreal was lower than many cities on the continent, paying higher wages to employes. In American cities the cars may carry a larger number of passengers, and thus reduce the percentage of operating costs to gross earnings, but the more passengers carried, the greater the cost per car mile will be, since more power will be required to operate the cars.

In Montreal, according to the company's statement, the operating expenses per passenger is about 2.5 cents; in Toronto it is about 2.37 cents. If in Toronto a car carried more passengers than in Montreal, the difference could readily be accounted for, but in Toronto cars do not appear to be overcrowded to the same extent as in Montreal. Toronto, with only two-thirds the population of Montreal, carries as many passengers annually, but then Toronto has over 100 more cars than Montreal. Moreover, Toronto pays higher wages, at least to the ordinary employes, requires a larger number of men to operate its cars, and probably has to pay considerably more for power. All these things would tend to make the operating cost per passenger higher in Toronto than here. Why the reverse should be the case requires explanation—something that the annual statement of the M.S.R. does not give.

It is not difficult to understand how with approximately the same earnings the Montreal system pays nearly double the dividends that the Toronto road does. In Montreal the fixed charges are much less than in Toronto, and in fact less than in any large city on the continent.

"Fair Play's" statement that there is a very general tendency to higher operating costs raises an interesting question. Undoubtedly the developments in the methods of electric traction have steadily decreased the operating cost per car mile, but it may be that, owing to the extension of the lines into suburbs, where the amount of traffic diminishes, there is a tendency to an increase of the operating expenses relative to the gross receipts. The question is—should the people in Montreal proper be taxed for the benefit of the dwellers in the suburbs?

Anything that relieves the congestion of population is no doubt beneficial. But it is the well-to-do, generally speaking, that remove to the suburbs, while the industrial classes are obliged to remain in the heart of the city. It may be that the company is making no profit on its suburban lines (though it is highly improbable that it would operate them at a loss, or even at cost); and if that is the case, it is evidently making a larger profit out of the fares it charges Montreal citizens than it should. It is not fair play to charge the industrial classes of Montreal higher fares than are necessary and just, in order that the well-to-do suburbanites may be given a cheap service. The company could, by arranging fares so that it made as much profit out of its suburban as it does out of its city passengers, either greatly increase its dividends, or reduce fares within the city limits to three cents or possibly less. In that case the suburbanite might have to pay a higher fare, but there is no reason why the people of Montreal should be taxed for his benefit.

But it does not follow that the company is not making a fair profit out of its suburban passengers. The statement that there is a tendency to correlative increase in operating expenses is not borne out by the company's reports. In the last ten years the percentage of operating expenses to receipts has decreased by 10 per cent. or more.

If the M.S.R. paid the Toronto percentages on all its earnings, the city would receive nearly $440,000 annually. The company now pays on earnings only $127,423, plus its proportion of cost of snow removal.

If the Street Railway is so anxious to increase the city's revenues, it might comply with the conditions of its original contract as the citizens at the time understood them. Supposing it were paying the percentages provided for on its whole earnings instead of an arbitrary amount determined by itself the city at the present time would be getting nearly $100,000 more than the company sees fit to pay it. If the Supreme Court of Canada knows anything, the $100,000 a year which the company offers should be paid to the city anyway. If the company has to pay the amounts the city claims a right to, including percentages withheld in the past, the aldermen will not need to worry over ways and means to raise revenues. They might wait until the Privy Council delivers its decision before considering any extension proposals.

Many companies operating municipal franchises have built and equipped their plants on the proceeds of bond issues. Mr. Vanderlip, a well-known publicist, and at one time a high official of the United States Treasury, says of Chicago: "I find in an examination of the street railways that there is a total of, roundly, $31,000,000 of stock issued by various local street railways that represents absolutely no investment. The capital stock of practically all the street railway companies organized in the last few years represents no money investment." As Tom Johnson, who knew a lot about the business, once remarked, a company puts the stocks on its register for taxation purposes, not of itself, but of the public. In Toronto the city taxes the street railway two per cent. on an assessed value of $1,500,000. The company taxes the citizens five per cent. on $6,000,000 stock values, the greater part of which represents no investment.

VARIANTS IN EDUCATION.

In several European countries the state authorities have established complete and co-ordinated systems of industrial education. In these countries, as elsewhere, however, the movement to provide technical instruction owed its inception to private enterprise, and in its earlier stages was wholly supported by private aid. The movement has as a consequence followed no uniform order of development. In its general aspects it represents more or less correlated efforts to adapt educational facilities to the altered conditions of life produced by the revolutionary changes in the methods of modern production, but the different branches of technical training — the kindergarten, manual training, technical and technological schools—seem to have been developed in response to more or less special requirements. In most countries, institutes of technology, or schools of science and engineering of the collegiate grade, represent the earliest examples of the effort to provide education of an industrial character. The effect of these schools upon industrial progress both directly and through their influence upon scientific instruction in colleges, directed attention to the possibilities of technical education of secondary and elementary grades. It soon became manifest that as a result of the changed conditions of industry, not only the managers, superintendents and foremen of industrial enterprises, but the ordinary workmen as well, needed technical training, and it was realized that in order to provide the different classes of persons who intended to engage in productive industry with a fitting preparatory training it would be necessary to organize the programme of elementary and secondary, as well as of higher education, with a view to meeting their special requirements. In general primary instruction now includes drawing and elementary science, while the movement to introduce manual training (which some regard as equivalent to the establishment of a system of technical education of the lower secondary grade) into public schools is proceeding rapidly even in Canada. In nearly all the public schools of England and the United States a certain amount of manual training is given to boys, while instruction in needlework, cookery and domestic science is provided for girls. In France, Belgium, Holland and Sweden handicraft instruction is included in the curriculum of all elementary schools, the pupils being taught to construct useful articles with the fewest possible tools. Originally the manual training movement was inspired by the demands of industrial efficiency. Its main purpose was to make elementary instruction as practical as possible; its chief recommendation in the minds of its promoters was that it afforded preparatory training for participation in particular lines of industrial activity.

In England to-day, however, manual training is supported, not because it teaches pupils to achieve any specific industrial results, but because of its value as a general educational force. Experience has shown that manual training improves the general intelligence of pupils, rendering them more observant and skilful, and quickening their progress in ordinary school studies. As a consequence manual training in England has come to be a scheme of instruction, the main object of which is the disciplining of character, and the exercising of pupils in accurate observation, and the development of resourcefulness and power of independent thought and reasoning. The original object, the acquirement of mere knowledge and skill, is now regarded as being of secondary importance. Manual training has thus come to be what the term implies—the training of the hand, rather than instruction having a special adaptation to any industry or employment. In the selection of subjects the end kept steadily in view is the cultivation of the powers of perception and muscular control. A rational system of object lessons has been inaugurated, and encouragement is given to pupils to work out practical exercises and experiments by themselves. In the more advanced schools, the instruction includes the practical use of wood and metal working tools, but, unlike the municipal schools of Paris, no effort is made to teach a trade. As before remarked, the instruction is so arranged as to become instrumental in the formation of proper mental habits and the development of character.

Two men went into a Boston drug store and told the proprietor that they had made a soda water bet and would have their sodas now, and when the bet was decided the loser would drop in and pay for them, if that would be satisfactory to the druggist. He answered that it would, and after the sodas had been enjoyed, he asked:

"By the way, what was the bet?"

"My friend here," said one of the men, "bets that when Bunker Hill monument falls it will fall towards the north, and I bet it won't."

He—No; the races took me in.

Greater Montreal and Its Franchises

[Seth P. Lect, K.C.]

Referring to my recent articles in The Herald on this subject, and the fact that since their publication the recent negotiations on behalf of the Street Railway have become public, and also that some friends have spoken to me privately in the matter, asking further explanations of the plan suggested, I beg to further say:

For the benefit of those who may not have read the former articles, I would summarize by saying that the plan suggested recognizes:

1. That in such matters the companies which furnish the service in more than one municipality should be dealt with as a whole and not by each municipality separately.

2. That two companies should not exercise the same franchise in the same municipality, consequently doing away with competition and rivalry.

3. Because there would be no competition or rivalry, and because there would be no question of obtaining a revenue sufficient to make the service a paying one, the companies should not be allowed to make exorbitant profits, but should be content with a fair return.

4. That this would practically make the franchise a perpetual monopoly, but would be subject to revision at least once in every ten years.

5. That a central body called a board of control or commission, constituted on the principle of the Railway Commission, should be appointed by the Provincial Government, which would have authority to pass on all contracts before becoming effective, and should also have the right to regulate and decide all differences and difficulties arising either between the companies themselves, the companies and the municipalities, or any other person or bodies with whom the companies might have difficulties or differences arising out of their contracts with the municipalities.

Now that the Street Railway are seeking for an extension of their franchise, how would this plan work out in practice in relation thereto?

1. The Legislature of Quebec would cancel and bring to an end all contracts which the company may now have within the territory covered by the arrangement.

2. Then let each municipality negotiate with the company for a renewal of the contract, with the provision that no contract should be renewed for more than ten years.

3. If each municipality was able to come to a satisfactory agreement with the company, then all these contracts should be submitted to the board of control or commission, and if there was nothing contained in them that would interfere with the rights of neighboring municipalities, they might all be ratified without change. It should, however, be imperative that all should expire at the same date.

4. If one or more of the municipalities were not able to arrive at a satisfactory contract, the board or commission would endeavor to bring about an agreement. If that was not possible, then the board of commission would have authority to decide on the contract which would seem to them to be the proper one under the circumstances.

When these contracts had all been arranged in this way, the result would be that there would be a uniform agreement between the company and the municipalities, beginning and ending at the same time.

That during the continuance of these contracts the board or commission should have authority to hear and determine all differences or difficulties that would arise under the contracts.

At the end of the given period, it would be competent for either party to suggest a new contract or modification of the old one, such as circumstances would seem to warrant, for another period.

This plan, it seems to me, would be, without question, the most satisfactory one both for the company and for the municipalities, as it would give the company practically a perpetual franchise without competition, subject only to rearrangement at any time by mutual consent, or either party could demand a new contract at the end of, say, ten years, subject always to the consent of the board or commission.

On the side of the companies, it would make a uniform and satisfactory investment to the shareholders.

On the side of the municipalities it would make a uniform and satisfactory service through all the territory covered by the plan, would give to each municipality its fair share of the revenues which might fairly be collected from those being served by the company.

In order that the board of control might not become autocratic or indifferent, an appeal should be given from it to the Court of Appeals of the province, as is now given from the decisions of the Railway Commission to the Supreme Court, which would be a protection for both parties.

The Japanese Emperor smiled upon the court.

"And what," he asked, "what news of the war?"

"There are, your majesty," answered the Prime Minister, "reports of a battle off the coast."

"I am convinced," observed the Emperor, with a twinkle; "I am convinced that if there has been any trouble on the ocean, the Russians are at the bottom of it."

POSTUM

In place of coffee and tea. 10 days trial proves.

At Six O'Clock

Across the keen, frosty air, sharp and cutting, fell the chimes of St. George's Church bells. The first stars of evening had already twinkled themselves out in the dark blue sky along the live wire of the heavens, and night's trolley was in full operation, when the doors of the Windsor station swung back and the Canadian Pacific office employees swarmed out into the cold night air. The notes of the chimes struck across the rush of feet and swinging of doors, like a sanctified "Hurrah," because the day's work was over. One of the men stopped, glanced up at the tower for a minute, then turned on his heel, pulling up his coat collar for further protection against the night air, and taking a hurried short cut to the street corner, past the cab stand, he faced the wind on Dominion square, which is a sample of the real article any time of the year.

Waiting on one side was a man, his coat buttoned closely about him and his collar turned up to meet his close fitting cap. The bitter wind and piercing cold made him do a great many quick turns up and down to keep his circulation normal enough to prevent freezing of hands and feet.

For a long time he stood in the shadow of the building evidently waiting for some one, and for someone who never came, for after scanning eagerly the faces of the hurrying groups, he turned quickly and disappeared up Windsor street.

Down further towards the corner of the street were three little girls. Sometimes there are three, sometimes two and sometimes only one, but summer or winter you will find them there. On this bitterly cold night they stood there, shivering, waiting, selling their papers to the many customers to be found in the six o'clock crowd.

It was too cold to even stand and watch them. In the summer time I had seen them, after six o'clock, in the early hours of evening, running along Windsor street into one saloon after another selling their papers. I had watched them with a decided appreciation of the problems of a city and a desire to know the conditions in the lives of these children that drove them out on the streets, and forced them, in all kinds of weather, to make what little they could by selling papers.

I walked nearer to them and passed them just as a man stopped for a paper,—dropping a five cent piece into the little bare hand and hurrying off. They were lined up on one side, holding out papers to the passers, their mute appeals having more effect than any amount of clamorous calling.

It hurt me to see the little cold faces, and I half-turned toward them wondering if I could do something to help them—and then I turned abruptly away from them. The chimes had rung out for the last time, and the last straggler had made his way out, and still the children waited patiently, little children, with a home, somewhere, but, where,—and of what sort?

As I passed the cabstand where a cabman stood stamping his feet and swinging his arms, and noticed the horse's nostrils white with frost, I turned. The children still stood there, shivering and waiting. A gust of bitter wind struck across the street and fell upon them. —Francis Daor.

Letters to the Editor

APPARENTLY AN INJUSTICE.

Editor Herald:

Sir,—On Friday, Jan. 20th, a policeman came to my house and told my wife to tell me to clean the snow from in front of my door and have it cleaned by Saturday morning, Jan. 21st. The snow then in front of my door was on a level with the snow in front of the residents' doors on either side of my house, and was not more than four or five inches in depth. Half an hour after he notified my wife I had the snow cleaned off down to the pavement. On Saturday, Jan. 21st, I received a summons telling me to appear at the Recorder's Court, Jan. 26th, and there answer to the charge laid against me of allowing the snow and ice to accumulate to a depth of twelve inches and neglecting to clean it off. Now, Mr. Editor, in justice to myself and to any impartial observer the snow and ice on Versailles Street, between St. James and St. Antoine Street, where I live is not twelve inches in depth. At the worst place on Versailles street it is not over six inches. What mystifies me is that of all the residents on Versailles Street between St. James and St. Antoine, where I live, I am the only one who was summoned to court, at least it appears that way to me, from the fact that not one of the rest of them has cleaned any snow from in front of their house from the time that the policeman told my wife to tell me to clean the snow from in front of my house. The sidewalk will show for itself. Yet when I went to the Recorder's Court to answer to the charge the policeman who made the complaint went into the witness box and said that the snow in front of my house was twelve inches in depth, an accusation too absurd for any sane person to believe. Yet I was mulcted in the sum of one dollar and costs or two dollars all told, by the court. I would like any impartial observer to look at the sidewalk in front of my house and on either side of my door and see if it looks like there was twelve inches of snow. If it measures twelve inches in depth anywhere between St. James and St. Antoine I am willing to go to jail for six months. Is this the boasted British justice that I have heard so much about since I have been living in Canada, or is there one law for the poor man and one for the rich? What redress has a man got when a policeman goes into the witness box and perjures himself as the policeman did in testifying against me? Why were not the other residents in Versailles Street, where I live, summoned to court and fined as I was and for the same offence that I was. Perhaps you or some one of the many readers of your valuable paper may be able to tell me why they were not. Trusting that you will find space in your valuable paper for this letter, I am, yours respectfully,

GEORGE BONNER,
180 Versailles St., Montreal.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE.

At the fortnightly meeting of the Daughters of the Empire, to be held to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock in Empire Hall, a paper on "Historic Tablets" will be given by Miss Louden and Miss M. Richardson.

PRINCE IS IMPROVED.

Potsdam, Jan. 30.—Prince Eitel Friedrich slept well and perspired freely during the night, according to a bulletin issued at 9.15 a.m. His temperature is 98 and pulse 76. The inflammation of the right lung has not extended, and the inflammation of the pleura has diminished. Pains in the left side have been more severe since yesterday, but the Prince's general condition is satisfactory.

It is only clever men cognizant of their powers, and employing them in moderation and with discretion who will become successful men of the world.—Goethe.

POLISH CITY OF WARSAW IS IN A STATE OF COMPLETE ANARCHY

During Past Twenty-Four Hours There Has Been Much Bloodshed and Rioting—Russian Soldiers Attacked British Vice-Consul—Many Workmen Have Been Killed.

London, January 30. — The Warsaw correspondent of the Daily Mail says that events have moved rapidly during the past twenty-four hours. There has been much bloodshed. Troops have been charging mobs in all directions. Spirit shops have been wrecked and a number of them are now burning. Wounded men are being brought in. Bloody clothing has been brought from men to men by the excited Poles as fiery crosses. The cavalry behaved in a manner only worthy of savages. Among those attacked were Mr. Murray, the British consul-general, and Mr. Mucukain, the British vice-consul. Mr. Murray was passing through Wirezbow Street in the centre of the town on consular business at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when four Hussars galloped down the street, which was perfectly quiet, there being few people about. Three of the soldiers passed Mr. Murray, but the fourth charged right at him. No other person was within thirty yards. As the hussar came close his horse slipped and before he could rise Mr. Murray escaped. Mr. Mucukain was less fortunate. He was passing through Marszalkowski Street from the Spanish consulate when he was ridden down by a group of hussars. Two of them deliberately rushed at him with uplifted swords and inflicted two severe cuts across his face. His lower lip was terribly mangled. The attack was so sudden and unexpected that Mr. Mucukain was unable even to raise an arm to protect his face. The unfortunate gentleman, dripping with blood, was conveyed to the hospital. He is doing well. The only explanation is that apparently one small company of hussars got out of hand. Their commanding officer was drunk and the men ran amuck. The consul-general immediately telegraphed the news to St. Petersburg.

STATE OF ANARCHY.

The same correspondent, describes Warsaw as being in a state of complete anarchy. "Many have been killed or wounded in charges by the troops and the recklessness of swashbuckling hussars," he says. "The only conveyances moving in Warsaw to-day have been military supply cars, ambulance waggons and tumbrils for the dead. The attempted rising of the workmen has failed and the great demonstration timed for to-day has been postponed. After some fighting the wrecked and distraught city pauses to see what night will bring."

Describing the pillaging of stores, the correspondent says: —"Many put chalk crosses on the doors or lighted Ikons in their windows, and thus secured their safety. The rioters paused before the sacred emblems. The hoarse murmurs of the mob drowned the church bells. In several cases soldiers fired on looting mobs, and in one case, in a working class suburb, they fired a cannon shot, hoping to disperse the crowd. Intermittent firing was proceeding there all day. Hundreds of shops were wrecked and several stores were burned. Probably a few score were killed. The ambulances were busy all day. There are alarming rumors from the country districts. It is rumored that the town of Brestlitovsk is burning."

The Daily Mail's St. Petersburg correspondent reports that Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador, has asked the Russian Government to make enquiries into the outrages on the British consul-general and vice-consul-general at Warsaw.

RUSSIA'S EVIL GENIUS.

Evidence is accumulating that Emperor Nicholas throughout the present crisis has acted largely upon the advice of Grand Duke Sergius, who is the most reactionary member of the Imperial family, the head of what is denominated the war party, and whom the Liberals stigmatize as Russia's evil genius. With the first appearance of Father Gopon in the movement Sergius urged the necessity of putting down the demonstrations in the most energetic manner. Since Sunday last his hand is considered to have been visible in the appointment of General Trepoff to the governor-generalship of St. Petersburg, with the exceptional powers conferred upon him. Sergius is known to be responsible for the charges placarded by Deputy Chief of Police Roudenoff, of Moscow, which is causing Foreign Minister Lamsdorff embarrassment, and now, it is believed, he is about to prevail in the matter of naming as Prince Mirsky's successor in the Ministry of the Interior M. Bouligan, formerly governor-general of Moscow, who, like his patron, is an extreme reactionary.

Sergius more than M. White is responsible for the elimination from the Imperial manifesto of Minister Mirsky's plan for an elected Zemstovists council of the Empire.

Against Sergius' influence the Ministers at present are apparently powerless. He remains in the little palace inside the strong ramparts of the Kremlin fortress in Moscow, from whence he despatches daily a courier to Tzarskoe-Selo. Arrests continue. Among those seized last night and conveyed to St. Peter's and St. Paul's fortress were Yakonbovitch, the poet, who served a term of exile in 1886 for connection with the revolutionaries; Madame Pimenoff, an aged writer, and her daughter.

GOPON IS AT LIBERTY.

Father Gopon it has now been definitely established, escaped through Finland and was conveyed across the gulf to Sweden by sympathetic Finns. At present he is supposed to be in Stockholm. A story has been started which is attributed to the police, that Gopon is a Jew.

The Zemstvos of Saratoff, Nijni Novgorod and Vladimar, has adjourned because the St. Petersburg Zemstvos are practically in control of the government machinery of the provinces, and some of the Liberals are trying to induce others to close with the object of further embarrassing the Government and compelling it to yield to the demand for the convocation of constitutional assembly.

STRIKES EXTENDING.

St. Petersburg, January 30.—The situation in Poland is increasingly threatening, especially in Warsaw and Lodz. In the latter place, it is reported, 100,000 men are out on strike. There are prospects of extension of the strikes in Odessa and other manufacturing cities of Southern Russia, where the workmen are better organized and more serious.

Meanwhile, practically all classes anticipate renewed terrorism. It is said that when the leaders notified the Social Democrats that a truce had been proclaimed immediately after the close of the Zemstovists' congress they were told that the gauntlet would again be thrown down to the aristocracy, but that this time the sovereign, who was specifically declared to be exempt from danger during the recent activity as shown in the trail of Sasoneff, the assassin of Minister Von Plehve, would be included in the challenge. Attempts especially are expected upon the officers who a week ago ordered the soldiers to shoot.

The resumption of work here is expected to become general to-day.

STRIKE OVER IN MOSCOW.

Moscow, January 30.—The strike is considered to be practically over. A blizzard prevailing has rendered excellent service to the authorities in keeping the people indoors, and there was not the slightest disorder to-day on the part of the strikers. The authorities, however, had taken exceptional precautions to avoid the assemblage of crowds. Even the Sunday markets were closed. Strong pickets were posted all over the city inside the factories and outside. There are about 30,000 troops in the city.

It is reported that the police Saturday night sent several thousand of the most obstreperous strikers back to the villages.

Father Petroff, a noted St. Petersburg labor leader, who returned from the capital to-night, told the Associated Press the workmen's cause for trouble at Moscow. He censures Father Gopon's attitude, as indicated in his last proclamation, denouncing him as a revolutionary and declared that Gopon thereby condemned himself.

Indications point to a general resumption of work in the Moscow mills and factories on Tuesday. The university will re-open on Thursday. Grand Duke Sergius will return to St. Petersburg to-morrow.

SINKING SENSATIONS

Numbness and Apprehensive Feelings Frequently Caused by Functional Derangement.

Generally speaking, at the outset these very distressing sensations indicate that the sympathetic nervous system is being starved, and in consequence, rendered very irritable. One portion of the nerve organization is deprived of a sufficient supply of blood, and to make matters worse other portions are burdened with an excess of blood.

To restore equilibrium and tone to the entire nervous organization nothing acts with such centainty as Ferrozone. Clearly it is the duty of weak, nervous people to use Ferrozone, which contains the exact constituents that are needed to restore the debilitated nerve cells.

Even in those cases where cure seems almost hopeless, quick benefit attends the use of Ferrozone which goes right to the source of the nerve weakness. The efficacy of this great nerve tonic has been demonstrated so many times that the permanency of its cures is undoubted.

The best medicine for restoring virility and strength is Ferrozone.

The time to take Ferrozone is when you first feel tired, and when appetite fails, and when nerves get irritated.

Its record is marvellous—it makes you feel strong and sturdy, brings health that outlasts old age. Mrs. Mary Melong, of Harbor Boache, Nova Scotia, writes:

Ferrozone built me up.

"Before using it I scarcely knew what good health meant. I was as miserable and weak as any woman could be. Tired from morning till night, bothered by trifles, unceasingly nervous. The first box of Ferrozone improved my blood, gave me appetite, in a short time I was like a new person. Now I rejoice in abundant good health."

Ferrozone will make an unexpected improvement in your looks, your feeling, your health. At all dealers, 50c per box, or six for $2.50. By mail, from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

SINFUL NEGLECT

How is it possible for a sane man with good teeth to destroy them through careless neglect! SOZODONT is positively beneficial. It has made the toothbrush habit a real pleasure.

SOZODONT TOOTH POWDER

the natural complement of SOZODONT Liquid, is a beautiful polisher, absolutely free from grit and acid. Are you using it? You ought to be.

DELAYS GAVE MUCH AID TO SATURDAY'S FIRE

Firemen Claim Alarm Box Was Out of Order, Which Superintendent Ferns Denies—Cause of Blaze a Mystery Still.

The only point that is really quite clear about the lively Saturday morning blaze on Craig Street is that the loss was at least $65,000—somewhat more than was thought on Saturday morning. The National Rubber Company lose on stock and machinery, $40,000, which is only half covered by insurance. Damage to buildings is $10,000.

As to the cause of the fire, employees of J. W. Kilgour & Bros., next door, state that they heard two slight explosions about the time it broke out. Mr. Glickman, the proprietor of the Rubber Company, says there was nothing in the building that could have caused any explosions, and has no idea how the fire could have started.

DELAY IN CALLING SECOND ALARM.

As for the reasons why there was such an inadequate force of men and apparatus at work on the fire at the critical moment, Sub-Chief Dubois, who was handling his first difficult fire as head of the Centre Division of the brigade, says that he thought for the first few minutes that the men of that division would be sufficient, and that when he perceived the danger of the fire spreading to the furniture warehouse, he endeavored to have a second alarm sent in, but it was found that the box was out of order and the call had to be sent by telephone. Superintendent Ferns of the Fire Alarm Department says the box was in perfect order and the second alarm might just as well have been sent from it.

The west half of the top floor of J. W. Kilgour's where a quantity of paints and varnishes were stored seems to have been saved by the fire doors in the partition running across the centre of the building, which were closed by order of Manager Lamoureux.

NO AMENDMENTS WILL BE ASKED TO CHARTER

Committee on Legislation Decide to Wait For Report of Revenue Committee.

The committee on legislation will not go to Quebec this year for any charter amendments. This was decided at their meeting on Friday evening.

The reasons for such a resolution were that the committee on revenue has not made its report on the means to be taken to increase the city's revenue, considering it inopportune to bring up the question of expropriations for which the city had not the funds to pay, and that the matter, with all other charter amendments, may be left over to next session. A delegation will be sent to Quebec to look after any bill affecting the interests of the city. The personnel of this delegation will be Mayor Laporte, City Clerk David, City Attorney Ethier, Ald. Vallieres, Lariviere, L. A. Lapointe, Lavallee, and Deserres.

It was suggested by Ald. Lavallee that an exception be made in favor of an amendment to annex municipalities. This Ald. Ekers opposed on the ground that no exceptions could be made, and the suggestion was abandoned. Incidentally the aldermen present pledged themselves to oppose the proposed appointment of a police commission to replace the present committee.

The important decision arrived at by the committee had its origin in a report made at the last meeting showing that over $2,000,000 would be required to expropriate the streets recommended by aldermen. As this was out of the question, and as legislation to increase the present revenue was not on a definite basis, it was decided to make no amendments.

There were present at the meeting Ald. Lavallee, in the chair; Ald. Vallieres, St. Denis, Lariviere, Ekers, L. A. Lapointe, and Proulx.

GHOSTS IN GLACE BAY.

Glace Bay, N.S., Jan. 30.—Centrally located on a quiet, peaceful street, is a neat, comfortable house which has had within its walls more tenants perhaps than any other house in the town within the last few years, and yet it may be said to be unoccupied oftener than it is occupied. Every family that moves into it, after a month or so quietly moves, and at the time gives no reason for the change. The house is haunted, and it is long after a tenant has left that he will consent to give a recital of the hair-raising experience of himself and his family during the time they occupied that house. For the first couple of weeks after a family moves in everything is quiet, but then on a certain night a heavy tramp is heard through the house. Every night is spent in perfect wretchedness, and then the family moves away and the house is left tenantless, as it is at present.

IMPORTANT COMMERCIAL TREATIES.

New Conventions That Will Deeply Affect Germany's Foreign Trade for the Next Ten Years.

Berlin, Jan. 30.—The Government tonight published an abstract of the new commercial treaties with Austro-Hungary, Russia, Switzerland, Belgium, Italy, Roumania and Servia, which are expected to deeply affect Germany's foreign trade for the next ten years, the term for which the treaties run. The treaties represent quite four year's work, for before the negotiations were begun the new tariff was devised and adopted, after eighteen months' debate. This tariff, which is not yet in force, will go into effect on the same date as the treaties of 1906. The treaties affect the United States adversely in case they are defined by Germany as not coming under the most favored nation clause.

The Associated Press correspondent has been inquiring in Government quarters as to the probable interpretation of the treaties. The Government is determined not to raise the question of the most favored nation clause until the treaties go into effect.

With a howl the remaining three charged. They were too close for the second missile of Kenkenes to do any slaughter, and he went down under the combined attack, fighting insanely.

"Slit his throat," Unas shrieked, tumbling on the captive, as Kenkenes' superhuman struggles threatened to shake them off. One of the men raised himself and made ready to obey. Holding to Kenkenes with one hand, he drew a knife from his belt and prepared to strike.

At that instant, the captive caught sight of a pale woman-face, the eyes blazing with vengeance. There was a flash of a white-sleeved arm and the thump and jolt of a dagger driven strongly through flesh. The murderous Nubian yelled and tumbled, kicking, on the sand. He carried a knife at the juncture of the neck and shoulder.

Instantly there was a chorus of yells. "She-devil! Hyena!"

Unas detached himself from the struggle and plunged after Rachel, now in full sight of Kenkenes. He saw her retreat, warding off the fat courier with her hands; he saw her tumble and fall, he saw Anubis fly, with a chatter of rage, in the face of the courier, and struggling mightily, he threw off his captors, and leaped to his feet.

And then the light went out in Egypt!

From the sea to the first cataract, from the deepest recess in the Arabian hills to the remotest peak in the Libyan desert, Egypt was blinded and muffled and smothered in a dead, black night—even darkness that could be felt.

Kenkenes stood still. Harsh words were no longer on him and for an instant no sound was to be heard. Profound gloom enveloped him. His every sense was frustrated.

Some one of his assailants had found his heart with a knife and this was death, he thought.

Then strange, far-off murmurings filled his ears. From the river and beside him went up wild, hoarse cries of men in mortal terror. Memphis began to drone like a vast and troubled hive. The distant pastures became blatant and the poultry near the huts of rustics cackled in wild dismay. In the hills about beasts whimpered and the air was full of the screaming of bewildered birds.

With the awakening of sound, Kenkenes knew that another plague had befallen Egypt.

The dread that might have transfixed him was overcome by the instant recollection of Rachel's peril. No restraining hands were upon him, but he stood yet a space attempting to catch some rift in the thick night.

There was not one ray of light.

While he waited it was more distinctly borne in upon him that during that space Rachel might suffer.

He called her name loudly and listened.

There was no answer in her voice.

If Rachel had been near she would have replied to him. The alternatives he had to choose as her possible fate were death in the Nile or capture by Unas. The one he fought away from him wildly, the other made him frantic. And the realization of his own helplessness, with the picture of her distress at that moment, crushed him.

A tangle of wind-mown reeds tripped him and pitched him to his knees among the high marsh growth.

He did not rise.

The babe in pain cries to his mother; the man in his maturity may outgrow the susceptibility to tears, but he never outwears the want of a stronger spirit upon which to call in his hour of distress.

Kenkenes fell on his face and prayed.

"O Thou who are somewhere behind the phantom gods that we have raised! To whom al prayer ascends by many-charted paths: Thou who canst spread this sooty night across the morning skies and turn to milk the bones of men! Thou who didst undo my surest plans, who dost mock my boasted power, who hast stripped me till my feeble self is bared to me even in this dreadful night: Thou who wast a fending hand about her; who are her only succor now—to whom she prays—and by that sign, Thou Very God! I bow to Thee.

"My lips are stiff at prayer to such as Thou. But what need of my tongue's abashed interpretation of that which I would say, since even the future's history is open unto Thee?

"I have run my course without craving Thine aid, and lo! here have I ended—a voice appealing through the night—no more.

"Now, wilt Thou heed an allen's plea: wilt Thou know a stranger petitioning before Thy high and holy place? How shall I win Thine ear? Charge me with any mission, weight me with a lifetime of penance, strip me of power everlastingly, but grant me leave to supplicate Thy throne.

"Not for myself do I pray, O Hidden God! Not one jot would I overtax Thy bounty toward me beyond the sufferance of my devotion. But for her I pray—for her, out somewhere in this unlifting gloom, her tender maidenhod uncomforted—with night, with death, with long dishonor threatening her. Attend her, O Thou August Warden! Let her not cry out to The in vain! Be Thou as a wall about her, as a light before her, as a firm path beneath her feet. Do Thou as Thou wilt with me. Lo! I offer up myself as ransom for her—myself—all I have! Take her from me, deny mine eyes the sight of her for ever, blot me wholly out of her heart, yield me over to the wrath of mine enemies, and to Thine unknowable vengeance thereafter; but save her, Great God! save her from her enemy!

"Dost Thou hear me, O Holy Mystery? Is there no sign, no manifestation that Thou dost attend?

"Nay, but I know that Thou hearest me! By my faith in Thy being I know it, Lord!"

Peace fell on him and he slept.

The mid-morning sun shone in his face before he awakened.

He leaped to his feet, cramped and stiffened by his long inactivity, and looked about him. Near by was a disturbed spot of wide circumference. Here had the struggle taken place. Here, also, some of the sand was stained with the blood of the Nubian, who had been wounded by Rachel. Fresh footprints led toward the water. He followed them with a wildly beating heart. There were no marks of a little sandal. At the Nile edge the deep line cut by a keel was still visible in the wet sand. His own boat and the other were gone. All other signs had been obliterated, for the wind had been busy during the darkness.

Across the cultivated land, or rather the land which would have been wheat-covered but for the locusts, he saw the huts of rustics, and to each of these he went, asking of the pallid and terror-stricken tenants, if Rachel had come to them. Gaining no information, he went next to Masaarah, appeasing his hunger with succulent roots plucked from the loam beside the river. The quarrie were deserted, the pocket in the valley, where the Israelits had pitched their tents, was as solitary as it had ever been. There was no place here to shelter the lost girl.

Slowly Kenkenes made his way to Memphis.

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE SACRIFICE.

The royal architect sat at his place in the work room, but no papyrus scrolls lay before him; the ink-pots and pens were put away and the table was clear except for a copper lamp that sputtered and flared at one end. The great artist's arms were extended across the table, his head bowed upon them, his hands clasped. The attitude was not that of weariness but of trouble.

Kenkenes hesitated. For the first time since the hour he left Memphis for Thebes, months before, he felt a sense of culpability. He realized, with great bounds of comprehension, that the results of his own trouble had not been confined to himself. He began to understand how infectious sorrow is.

He crossed the room and laid a trembling hand on his father's shoulder. Instantly the great artist lifted his head and, seeing Kenkenes, leaped to his feet with a cry that was all joy.

The young man responded to the kiss of welcome with so little composure that Mentu forced him down on the bench and summoned a servant.

"Rachel—thou knowest—" Kenkenes began, speaking with an effort.

"Aye, I know. Didst find her?"

"Aye, and lost her even while I fought to save her!"

"Alas! thou unfortunate!" Mentu exclaimed. "If a surely the gods have punished thee too harshly!"

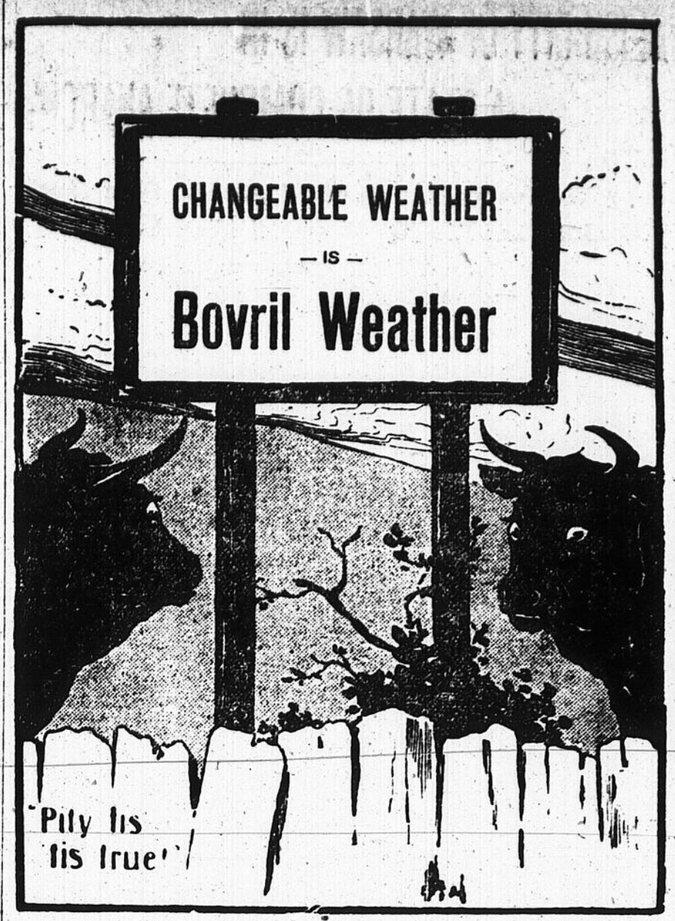

Kenkenes was not in the frame of mind to [illegible] so self-accusing possibly. A strong emotion shook him and he averted his face. The architect came to his side and examined the dying hair.

"Thou needest further the attention of thy slave Kenkenes," he suggested.

The young man shook his head. Not yet, he said. My time is short, and it is the gift I need.

Without further introduction Kenkenes poured out his story. He had had no time to reflect on the events. There he had asked for the first time his second mother, and feeling her pity had opened immediately to the search for her.

ANAEMIA

Anaemia, or bloodlessness, is one of the commonest troubles of the present age—so common in fact, that it seems to me that quite two-thirds of the girls one comes in contact with in towns are affected with it. The complaint can hardly be called a disease in the ordinary sense of the word, but is rather a debilitated state of the body, which lays it open to the attacks of most other kinds of diseases.

The condition in question is characterized by a deficiency in the number of red corpuscles in the blood. There is very often pallor of the cheeks and lips, but in some cases these may be of a natural color and lead even the patient to believe that she is not anaemic, when the real state of the case can instantly be discovered by examining the gums and the insides of the eyelids. These, instead of being of a good deep pink, are pale and yellowish-looking. The tongue is apt to be pale and flabby, and indented by the teeth; the sufferer is readily fatigued, troubled withh breathlessness on going up and down stairs; she very often suffers from palpitation or pains about the heart which may lead her to believe that she is suffering from some disease of the heart. She suffers frequently from headache, pains in the back and languor, and soon becomes very tired by any little unusual exertion. She may even faint, and thus cause considerable anxiety to her family. There are frequent eruptions on the skin, which may be either of an irritating kind or simply ache in the form of blackheads or pimples, or both.

There are two kinds of anaemia—one the common kind of which we have spoken, and another called pernicious anaemia, which is a fatal disease, and most difficult of treatment, but is happily rare.

In such cases there is wasting and yellowishness of the skin, which assumes an almost transparent waxen hue; but these cases of course demand the most skilled medical attention and nursing within reach, and do not come within the province of this paper. We may, however, remark that the best remedy to improve the condition of the blood—to cure anaemia and prevent pernicious anaemia, and which is now being largely prescribed by the medical profession, is St. James Wafers.

Ordinary anaemia is a condition of every-day occurrence, in which the doctor is rarely called on or if he is he just prescribes for the time being, and after a few weeks the patient is apt to get as bad again. Any line of treatment for ordinary cases of anaemia must be persistently applied, and although occasional visits to the doctor, if there seems anything out of the way about, are desirable the treatment can only be properly carried out at home.

An anaemic person ought to be in the fresh air as much as possible so that the blood may become oxygenated and an anaemic girl who is not ready it should take outdoor exercise at least daily. Walking, cycling, swimming if the heart is not weak, rowing, and tennis are all suitable. Eight hours sleep is not too much, as the brain, being badly supplied with blood, needs extra rest, and in some cases even nine hours' sleep may be indulged in with advantage. The bedroom, however, should be well ventilated, and here we may mention that it is a great mistake to keep a gas jet, or lamp, and even electric light, burning, as it destroys the oxygen in the air; anaemic persons need very much oxygen, which is essential to keep the blood pure. In order to keep the blood pure also, the skin should be kept healthily active, and a daily bath or so is essential.

St. James Wafers is a food to all anaemic persons, and must not be regarded by them as a medicine to be taken only temporarily, for in most cases it is necessary to persevere in taking St. James Wafers for a few months. St. James Wafers do not cause constipation, and for this reason they should be taken in preference to all other preparations. It is best to begin with one St. James Wafer after each meal, and the dose should be gradually increased to two St. James Wafers after each meal. In all cases, the circular around each box of St. James Wafers should be attentively read, as you will find in it full directions and very good advice which will greatly help you. When St. James Wafers are taken for a few weeks the effect is really remarkable; the quality of the blood rapidly improves, the sallow cheeks grow rosy and the pale lips red, while the feelings of languor and depression pass off, and the girl grows cheerful bright and fit to take her place in the world.

Should sick girls or women wish to benefit by skilled, free and strictly confidential advice, they will please write a full description of their case and address their letters to

HENRY MORGAN & CO., Montreal.

THE INTERCOLONIAL IS A LINK BINDING EAST TO WEST

The Much-Abused Intercolonial Defended by Hon. H. R. Emmerson in Brilliant Speech Before the Montreal Reform Club—The Road Part of the Pact of Confederation.

It was a royal welcome the Reform Club of Montreal tendered to Hon. H. R. Emmerson, the Minister of Railways and Canals, at their dinner on Saturday night. The purpose of the Liberal leaders of the city was to do honor to Mr. Emmerson, and the distinguished guest responded to the efforts of his hosts by a masterly review of the present-day transportation problem in Canada.

Perhaps the most significant chord touched by the Minister of Railways, in his address in response to the toast "Our Guest," was his defense of the Intercolonial Railway. The function of that line was not, in the opinion of the speaker, financial, but political. It was a link binding East and West, and had its "raison d'etre" apart from the matter of surpluses and deficits. Perhaps a broader view of the matter would reveal that the actual work of the road far outweighed deficits in the past and present, and probable deficits in the future.

SOME RECENT HISTORY.

Mr. Henry Hamilton, president of the Reform Club, occupied the chair. "The King" was duly honored, and then Hon. Mr. Emmerson rose to respond to "Our Guest." In introducing his remarks, the Minister of Railways alluded to the sentiments of the Canadian people towards the present administration and its policy, as evidenced in the recent elections. "This," said Mr. Emmerson, "is the first opportunity I have had of making any public utterance since Nov. 3. The Liberals then scored a great and significant victory. I will not delve into the history of the past nor review all that passed in the country.

HON. H. R. EMMERSON,
Who Was the Guest of the Reform Club on Saturday Evening.

"In New Brunswick we bore the brunt of the campaign waged against the Liberals by the Conservatives and their allies of the moment. That they attempted to overthrow the Liberal Government was recognized, and is part of the history of recent times. In that struggle two Montreal gentlemen figured prominently, and I might say, expensively. Their spectacular efforts, however, were successful only in spots, for the great body of the people remained true to Liberal principles. We carried the majority of the seats, although I marvel at the fact that we could have then secured even a majority in that province. I believe that if the campaign were to be repeated to-morrow we would sweep New Brunswick as we swept Nova Scotia.

"The victory in the Dominion demonstrates this one marked fact, that the Liberal Government has not only the confidence of the people, but its conscience as well. Certainly the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier occupies a proud place, enjoying the confidence, possessing the hearts and conscience of the people. This is in itself an inspiring thought, but we must not lose sight of the tremendous responsibility thus thrown on the party.

THE BURDEN OF TRUST.

"The people of Canada have committed a sacred trust to the Liberal party. The problems coming up for solution in the upbuilding of a young nation are both numerous and important, calling for sagacity and effort. A blunder at this stage might prove calamitous. We are speaking now of the New Canada, but only the few realize the immense strides the Dominion has taken since 1896. She has more than doubled her trade, and more than doubled her immigrants. Couple the two facts together and figure out what they mean to us as a people. No matter what we are now, we are but on the threshold of greater things, beyond anything we have approached in the past history of Canada.

"But we must lay our foundations well. There must be no simple boastfulness, but our foundations must be well and securely laid. Our lines must be broad and aggressive, looking to the needs of the greater Canada we soon shall see. We who bear the responsibility of the doing to-day are the pioneers of our sons who will take up the responsibility after us. Let us leave to them the heritage of a sound and sufficient foundation for the Canada of the future."

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS.

Mr. Emmerson dealt first with the great question of transportation. The history of growth on this continent showed that adequate transportation facilities must precede commerce. Trade and commerce followed in the wake. "It is no use to say 'Build the railway when there is freightage and traffic.' Build first and those will come. We have in Canada 20,000 miles of railway, and who will dare to predict the mileage in twenty-five years? We have one hundred millions invested in canals and waterways, one billion one hundred and eighty-seven millions in railways, yet everywhere there is an outcry for railways, especially in the great West. The country must awaken to these needs. The Dominion is our heritage, and the responsibility of administering it rests on us. I do not speak of governments, of those in authority, but of the business man, every man in Canada.

"Two years ago, when the project of the Grand Trunk Pacific was first broached, many said there was no need for a second transcontinental line. Even the Minister of Railways of that time said so. Is there one man to-day who seriously contends that the project is premature? I do not think there is one.

"Now, although the scheme will be advanced with all possible speed, all indications point to the fact that the line will not reach the West in time to meet the crying needs of that part. These conditions call for a well-considered and enlightened railway policy.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.

"I will deal first with Eastern demands, and speak of the Intercolonial, the much-abused Intercolonial Railway. I have thought for many years, and especially realized of late, that the mission of the Intercolonial was entirely misunderstood. It has been criticized from the standpoint of financial results. This is a mistake. The Intercolonial does not pay because its rates are low.

"The Intercolonial, in the days of Confederation, wasan important factor in uniting the seaboard provinces with what was then known as Western Canada. Had the public men of the day not agreed on the construction of this railway to bind together the distant provinces, we never would have had Confederation. The road was built as a part of the pact of Confederation, not as a commercial railway. It was built for political and military reasons. Is location is the result of conditions prevailing at the time. I say boldly that the Intercolonial has done more for the upbuilding and uplifting of Canada than any other factor. Had it not been for this line, the people of Toronto and of Montreal would have remained strangers and aliens to the citizens of Halifax.

"In the days before the Intercolonial, the young men of the Maritime Provinces looked to the universities and colleges of the United States. To-day McGill attracts the men from the East. Let us not speak of the cash balance, but of that greater earning for Canada, the knitting of Quebec and Ontario to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island. Empire-building because laying the foundations of our present Dominion, and looking forward to the idea of Empire as we understand it—the welding of our young nation to the Homeland with one name and one common spirit. Although the cash balance is against the Intercolonial, with better equipment and under conditions sure soon to come, it will show itself the greatest asset of Canada.

REASONS FOR DEFICIT.

"I know it is popular to revile the Intercolonial. On the floor of the House

MR. HENRY HAMILTON,
Who Presided at the Reform Club Banquet on Saturday Evening.

of Commons certain members of Parliament use words condemnatory of the railway, forgetting the things to which I have referred. We have a canal system, designed in the interests of all Canada, costing the expenditure of millions, the management of which to-day means the cost of one million. Who complains? The Easterners do not, because it is a part of the nation-building of Canada, and spells cheap transportation. Because they are free, and we want to make them expeditious; because we want markets for our products. The Intercolonial opens up to the merchants of Montreal and Toronto the markets of the seaboard provinces. The people of Canada have had their dividends in the increased trade resultant upon cheap rates. Let them realize this and they will have kindlier feelings towards the Intercolonial and its mission.

"The shortages on the Intercolonial in the last fiscal year, and the probable shortages in the current year are due almost entirely to an increase in the wages of the Government employes on that railway. I offer no apology for these deficits in view of their cause. The Government cannot afford to pay its empolyes less than private corporations or other railways.

"I will call your attention to a suggestion made by a Montreal newspaper, the Gazette, which said: 'Cut down the train service; reduce the wages of the employes, and discharge some of the men.' Is that a Canadian sentiment? Do we found our idea of a Canadian nationality on such puny ideas? No. And in so far as I have anything to do with the administration of the Intercolonial I will never subscribe to the doctrine voiced in the suggestion made by that newspaper.

"The growth of our railways and the improvement of our canal system suggest the ports. Our ports call for better equipment. Montreal stands foremost to be considered, the great commercial metropolis of Canada. Here are handled the products of the West, and imports from other lands. The terminal facilities and the equipment of the port should command the serious attention of any government. Canada is interested in Montreal and should see to it that the facilities of its port are improved, and you need them and you must have them. The ports of Quebec, Halifax, St. John, and Sydney must also be improved. There must be no sectionalism and Canada is big enough for a dozen ports, and all should be improved.

"The responsibility rests on the Liberal Government to grapple with the difficulty and we are nation-builders, and Canada is budding into a nation. It is not independence she looks for, but she is going to be a nation just the same.

THE DUTY OF THE LIBERAL.

"The duty of making Canada is not to be left to government. The responsibility rests upon every individual Liberal of preserving the good name of the party. Every Liberal who attempts to tamper with the ballot-box, or to use discreditable tactics in a campaign, is striking a deadly blow at his party. The Liberal party does not want such men, nor does the cause require to be supported by such methods. Let us give ourselves wholly to the task before us and work out the destiny of the nation on clean, sound lines."

The toast "The Parliament of Canada," proposed by Mr. J. M. M. Duff, was replied to by the members of parliament present, H. J. Logan, M.P. for Cumberland, N.S.; R. J. Macpherson, M.P. for Vancouver, B.C.; Wm. A. Galliher, M.P. for Kootenay, B.C.; and L. A. Rivet, M.P. for Hochelaga. Hon. J. P. B. Casgrain responded on behalf of the Senate.

"Trade and Commerce," proposed by Mr. L. A. Geoffrion, was responded to by Mr. W. Albert Hickman.

Contracted Bad Cold. Doctor Said, Serious!

Wanted To Send Him Three Hundred Miles To The Winnipeg Hospital.

Bottle and a Half of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Cured.

Read what Mrs. A. G. Wheeler, Waasewa, Man., has to say about it:—"Please let me thank you for the great good that both my husband and my children have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. One night when my husband came home from work he had contracted a very bad cold. He became so bad that he had to go to bed and send for the doctor. When the doctor came he pronounced it a very serious case, and wanted me to send him to the Winnipeg Hospital. This, I would not do, as it is about 300 miles to Winnipeg. I decided to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and got four bottles of it. He only took one-and-a-half bottles before he was all right again and only lost a few days' work. I always keep it in the house for the children. Even the baby, seven months old, takes it and seems to like it, and as for myself I do not know what I would do without it. I think that every good housekeeper should keep a bottle on hand, for I know it will save many a doctor bill."

They were on their way to Bellinger's home when struck by the car. Bellinger is dying from hemorrhage of the brain, while Williams' skull is fractured and two of his ribs are broken.

TWENTY CLAIM JOHANN HOCH.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—The police of this city claim to have discovered another woman who was married to Johann Hoch, wanted by the Chicago authorities for murder, bringing the total number of Hoch's wives up to twenty. Caroline Schaefer called on Capt. Donaghy, of the Detective Department, today and told him that she was married to Hoch on Oct. 31 last. She asserted that he lived with her about a week and then decamped with $200 of her money, which she has entrusted to him for investment. She furnished a description of Hoch, which tallies in every detail with that sent broadcast by the Chicago Police Department. The woman said she recognized a newspaper photograph of Hoch as that of her missing husband.

GERMAN STRIKE SITUATION.

Essen, Jan. 30.—Since the conference between a committee of seven persons with the Government commission, the coal mine strikers have taken a pessimistic view of the situation and have abandoned hope for an early settlement of the strike. Commissioner Von Velsen has returned to Berlin. The mine owners declare that the promised revision of the mining laws in the interest of operatives, will have a damaging effect on German manufacturing industries, intensify the danger of foreign competition and encourage operatives to come forward late with greater demands.

THE KAISER'S BIRTHDAY.

Kaiser Wilhelm's birthday was celebrated on Saturday evening by the German colony of Montreal, at the rooms of the Teutonic Club. Imperial German Consul Franksen, presided, and over 150 guests were present.

Following the toast to "His Majesty King Edward," "Emperor William" was proposed and Consul Franksen referred, in honoring the toast, to the amicable relations existing between Germany and England. Many German citizens had become British subjects, and lived happily under the British flag, enjoying liberty and justice.

JUBILEE TROPHY TO ST. LAWRENCE

The Local Curlers Defeated Ormstown After a Close Contest.

By defeating Ormstown, 31 to 27, the St. Lawrence Curling Club of this city won the Jubilee trophy Saturday in a match that was very keenly contested.

The curling was done on the Caledonia ice in the presence of several hundred spectators. The result of the contest was in doubt until the final stone had been sent sliding down the glassy surface. On one sheet the Ormstowns held a slight lead over their opponents, while in the second the St. Lawrence exponents of the roarin' game were several points ahead. To Mr. William Kearns is due the credit for having tied the score when the visitors seemed about to triumph. When he was called upon to "put" the final stone the St. Lawrence quartette required two to tie and three to win. With great accuracy Mr. Kearns curled his stone and tied the score.

It was a remarkable play and Mr. Kearns' skilful shot elicited applause. Col. Stevenson, umpire, ordered another end to be played on each sheet to decide the match.

Determined to land the coveted silverware the St. Lawrence curlers played admirably. So did the Ormstowns, but the local gentlemen gained four points and came out victorious.

The match was a wonderfully good contest and the winners were given an ovation. Even the ladies took part in the demonstration. The visitors did highly creditable work, and they, too, were congratulated.

AN ENJOYABLE FUNCTION.

Pleasing to the St. Lawrence admirers was the function which took place in the clubhouse after the match when Col. Stevenson presented the trophy to the victorious St. Lawrence curlers. Referring to the game, Col. Stevenson considered it a cleverly played contest. He complimented the winners and said that great credit was due the Ormstowns.

Mr. James Henry, president of the winning club, said that the St. Lawrence curlers had for years struggled for the trophy which he hoped would remain for some time in their possession.

SKATERS EXCHANGED BLOWS IN A RACE

Regrettable Incident at the Toronto Meet—Robson Was Speedy.

Toronto, Jan. 20.—The Ontario speed skating contests, held under the auspices of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, at the King Edward rink Saturday afternoon and evening, were well attended, and furnished some close contests. In the opening event, 220 yards, Fred Robson got away to a safe lead and covered the distance in 19 2-5 seconds, breaking his own previous record of 20 1-5 seconds. Robson also captured the first heat of the mile, beating out J. J. Heffernan, Walkerton, and J. J. Forrester, Niagara Falls, in a somewhat close finish. Rather sensational also was his win over Lot Roe in the opening heat of the two mile, he slipping on the fourteenth lap and losing considerable ground, which he only made up by the hardest kind of a pull. The finals were run off at night, along with several other contests, including the five mile open and half mile partner race.

The only regrettable incident of the afternoon occurred on the final lap of the second heat of the two mile open, when C. D. Heffernan deliberately struck John Roe, who was leading slightly. The latter caught him when half way round and mixed it up, the crowd joining in. As neither finished the course, J. Forrester and J. J. Heffernan were awarded first and second places respectively.

These were the afternoon results:

220 yards open)—1, F. J. Robson, W. E.Y.M.C.A.; 2, Lot Roe. Time, 19 2-5 seconds.

One mile, boys 16 years and under—First heat—1, Harry Dibb; 2, Willie Kennedy. Time, 3.22.

Second heat—1, Angus McGregor; 2, Andy Kyle. Time, 3.24.

Final heat—1, Angus McGregor; 2, Andy Kyle. Time, 3.19.

Half mile (open)—First heat—1, Lot Roe, W.E.Y.M.C.A.; 2, C. D. Heffernon. Time, 1.20 3-5.

Second heat—1, F. J. Robson; 2, John Roe. Time, 1.23.

One mile (open)—First heat—1, F. J. Robson; 2, J. J. Heffernan, Walkerton. Time, 2.53 2-5.

Second heat—1, Lot Roe; 2, John Hagen. Time, 2.57 3-5.

Two mile (open)—First heat—1, F. J. Robson; 2, Lot Roe. Time, 6.21.

Second heat—1, J. J. Forrester, Niagara Falls; 2, J. J. Heffernan, Walkerton. Time, 6.11 3-5.

At night Fred J. Robson, of the West End Y.M.C.A., won the 220 yards in record time, 19 2-5 seconds. The best previous record is 20 1-5 seconds. He also won the half mile, the mile, the two miles, and the 220 yards over hurdles. W. E. Genno won the half mile backward race in 1.45 2-5.

These were the officials: Referee, Francis Nelson; judges, Dr. Doolittle; controller, J. J. Ward, Major Heron, F. H. Elmore, H. J. P. Good, Lou Scholes; timers, S. P. Grant, H. J. Crawford, Joe Doane, P. J. Mulqueen; starter, James Pearson; scorers, C. H. Good, W. J. Morrison, W. A. Hewitt; clerk of the course, W. G. McClelland; secretary, A. D. Fisher.

JOHN NILSSON WON.

New York, Jan. 28.—Johnny Nilsson, champion professional skater of the world, and Peter Sinnirud, known as the "Terrible Swede," met in one and three-mile races at Verona Lake Saturday, and Nilsson won both events.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP RACES.

A lively interest is being manifested in the championship skating races which are to take place at the M.A.A.A. rink next Saturday afternoon. Nearly all the best known flyers in Canada and the States will be present and the meeting promises to be the most successful ever held in Montreal.

John Nillson and Peter Sinnirud will participate in the races and will arrive in the city Thursday. Forrester, of Niagara Falls, N.Y.; W. J. Peters, of Moncton, N.B., and Len Daly and John Hogan, of Toronto, are among the skaters who have arrived here since Saturday. Fred J. Robson and Rowe will reach Montreal Wednesday and the American contingent will arrive Thursday or Friday. They are attending the races which are being held on Verona Lake this week.

One of the best events will be Nillson's attempt to beat the record for a mile, made by him three years ago on the M.A.A.A. track.

VICS WILL PRACTICE.

The Victorias will practice at the Victoria rink from 8 to 9 o'clock this evening in preparation for their game with Westmounts Wednesday night.

A fancy dress carnival will be held this evening at the M.L.H. & P. Co.'s rink, corner McCord and Seminary streets.

TEMPTING OFFER TO CORNWALL MAN

An American Lacrosse Club Wants Coach Mike Gleason.

The Cornwall hockey team may lose its popular trainer and ere the May flowers bloom Eastern Canada may be without one of its most competent lacrosse coaches in the person of "Mike" Gleeson, who has received a very tempting offer from a Pennsylvania Lacrosse Club, which is desirous of securing his services for next summer.

Any man in the Ottawa Valley and in the vicinity of Cornwall who has not met Mike Gleeson has not followed athletic sports. He comes from Cornwall and is as well-known in the Factory Town as Joe McDougall, M.L.A., is in Ottawa. Mr. Gleeson was born in Cornwall, where he learned the fine points of lacrosse and hockey. For several years Mike has been connected with Cornwall clubs both as trainer and coach. Two seasons ago Mr. Gleeson was coach of the Almonte lacrosse team. Archie Rosamond's pets that year arose from last to second position in the Eastern Ontario Lacrosse League and much of the credit for the success of the Almontes reflected upon Mr. Gleeson. He tutored players who had not handled a stick before and taught them how to play. Chauncey Cullen, a brawny Almonte boy, trotted out onto the field one day and made his first attempt at lacrosse. He was clumsy, but in him Gleeson recognized a comer. Consequently Cullen developed speedily and was made captain of the Almontes in 1904. Last season he proved the premier defence man in the Upper Ottawa League. Developing "colts" is Mike Gleeson's strong point.

Carleton Place was the scene of Mr. Gleeson's labors last season. The team gained second place in the E.O.L.L. and made the Almontes hustle. Mike has trained such men as "Bones" Allen, Whitely, Eastwood, Fred Degan and John White. All are credits to their native town. Mike is now trainer of the Cornwall hockey team. They were juniors last year, but are delivering the goods in Stanley Cup company this season. Lacrosse is booming in the States just now, and a league is being formed. Taylor, of Brantford, O'Leary, Roberts, Spittal and the Stuarts of Ottawa will figure in it also. Bob Mallen, Laviolette, Pitre and Gardiner of Montreal. Cornwall sportsmen are doing their utmost to keep Mike at home, but it is likely that he will not resist the temptation to earn big money across the border.

OTTAWAS VS. CORNWALLS.

Cornwall, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The Ottawa Hockey Club, champions of the world, will meet the local seven in Cornwall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1.

This match will be watched with considerable interest, as it will be a contest between two extremes. On one hand a team of experienced veterans, who have by their numerous victories come to be looked upon as almost in a class by themselves; on the other hand, a bunch of young fellows most of whom did not even catch a place on Cornwall's second team last year, but who have this season astonished both the Wanderers and Brockvilles by their skill and combination. Cornwall hardly hoped to make better than a good showing until the Ottawas were beaten in Brockville. Now the Cornwalls feel themselves to be just a trifle better team than the Brockvilles, and they are determined to give the champions a hard tussle here next Wednesday.

It will be very interesting to watch this contest between youth and experience. The game will start at 8.30 p.m. sharp. It is expected that a very large number of hockey enthusiasts from neighboring towns will be on hand to see the game.

COBOURG HAS FAST TEAM.

Port Hope, Ont., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—There was a fast game of hockey played here Friday night between Cobourg and Port Hope, resulting in a win for Cobourg by 3 to 2. There was an attendance of over 1,000 and the game was free from roughness. Port Hope had the better of the play, but had hard luck. Pick Lillie, of Toronto, refereed. The line-up was:—

Cobourg—Goal, Flesh; point, Moffatt; cover-point, Smith, forwards, Robertson, White, Weatherstone and Doheny.

Port Hope—Goal, Gamble; point, McMillan; cover-point, J. McLean; forwards, Rowden, Mercer, Alcott and Wright.

M'GILL BEAT OUTREMONT.

McGill II. team defeated Outremont Saturday 6 to 0. This leaves McGill in the semi-finals of the C. A. H. L. Intermediate League, the total score in the home and home games being, McGill 7, Outremont 4.

The winners showed remarkable improvement in form and may be regarded as strong probabilities for the championship. Outremont was at no time dangerous and was quite lost on the big Victoria rink. In the second half they became desperate and there was considerable rough play, the McGill team also offending.

Very little combination play was attempted, except by Richards and Gurd, of McGill. The men in red and white all played good individual hockey, Kennedy especially. Kennedy, Gurd, Price and Wallace were new men on the McGill team and all made good. The first game was scored in ten seconds by Kennedy. Richards slammed in two more before half-time.

In the second half both teams played strenuously, and for the first ten minutes there was no score. Kennedy then put in a hot one that Clendinneng couldn't manage. Referee Greer penalized a number of men, but this did not seem to have much effect. Gurd and Richard each claimed another goal before the game ended. The teams were:—

McGill—Brooks, Stevens, Wallace, Gurd, Kennedy, Drinkwater, Richards.

Cutremont—Clendinneng, Findlay, Fletcher, Scott, Huntworth, Scott, Bradford.

Referee—Mr. Greer.

SOPHOMORES BEAT JUNIORS.

The Sophomores put it all over the Juniors in the McGill inter-class series Saturday. The absence of Gurd seemed to break up the '06 forward line, and '07 won out by a score of 4 to 0. The winners had the game well in hand from the start and looked as if they would make the Freshmen work hard to win the series.

McDougal and Wood both did good work on the '07 forward line, while Dickson was very reliable at cover. Brennan and Payne were the mainstay of the Junior line. The teams were:—

'06—Barclay, Hibbert, Flanders, Brennan, Payne, Brown, Baylis.

'07—Mathies, Davis, Dickson, McDougal, Rogers, Wood, Lynch.

Referee—Newton, Science '06.

BASKETBALL AT M'GILL.

In the third game of the McGill basketball series Saturday, '05 defeated '07 by a score of 15 to 11. The game was fast and well contested, Locke playing a great game. The seniors and freshmen are now tied for first place. The teams were:

'05—Defence, Findlay and Chisholm; centre, Locke; home, Stewart and McDermott.

'07—Defence, Davis and Wood; centre, Rubinovitch; home, Shenkle and Wright.

Referee—Higgins, '06. Umpire—Holbrook, '02.

WANDERERS BEAT FAST BROCKVILLES

Score After a Hard But Clean Game Was 3 to 2.

Wanderers defeated the Brockvilles by 3 goals to 2, after a hard battle in the Island City's splendid rink Saturday night.

By winning, the Wanderers improved their chances of winning the F.A.H.L. championship and the Stanley Cup which accompanies it. The Brockvilles trounced the Ottawas, and the latter will have to experience a wonderful run of luck if they are to retain the trophy. They have to play the Wanderers at the Arena, and unless they win that match they are hardly likely to finish better than second or third. The Wanderers have to play only one more out-of-town game, that at Cornwall, and unless the unexpected happens they will not lose any of the remaining matches.

The contest at Brockville was wonderfully clean, and though the home team's showing was said by the club's supporters to be miserable, yet that was not the impression that the Wanderers carried away was that the Brockville septette was a rattling good organization. Capt. Sherriff's boys are fast and husky and can shoot with deadly accuracy and rare speed. It was only Baker's phenomenal work in the Wanderers' nets that prevented Brockvilles score from being larger than it was. Baker was as cool as the proverbial cucumber and blocked a dozen shots that looked like winners.

In front of him Billy Strachan and Dicky Boon played the games of their lives. Strachan lifted like another Arthur Moore and was steady and reliable. Boon played brilliantly, and before the match was well commenced, the Brockville rooters adopted the slogan, "Watch Boon." He assuredly needed watching, for he had a habit of making lightning rushes when his opponents were expecting him to lift. Boon displayed all his old-time speed and helped out the forward line materially. He also stopped Brockville rushes with great regularity.

On the forward line, the Wanderers were strong, both in the attack and in the defence. By their superior speed they were able to fall back and to break up any combination rushes that Brockville attempted. That was the reason why the local enthusiasts considered that their players were not putting up their usual game. The Brockvilles played well enough, but the Wanderers played a little better. The checking was close all through, but it was not in the least dirty. Neither team could work in any combination, but individual rushes were frequent.

Of the Brockville team, Kerr McDonald and McRobie played excellently, and on the forward line Marks was often conspicuous, and Lanno was fairly effective.

The pace was very slow in the first few minutes, but it quickened, and for the greater part of the time it was pretty fast. Brockville scored the first goal, but the Wanderers tallied twice, and the initial period ended with the score 2 to 1 in the Montreal team's favor. In the second half each septette notched a goal. The Brockvilles made a plucky effort to tie the score in the dying moments of the game, but the Wanderers' defence frustrated their every effort.

Referee Arthur Ross was a most satisfactory official and his work was gilt-edged.

The Wanderers have only kind words to say of the treatment accorded them by the Brockville team and people. Manager Fournier, of the Brockvilles, was most hospitable and did everything in his power to give the Wanderers a good time. The spectators were impartial and gave the visitors the glad hand.

The teams officials were:

Brockville—Goal, Kerr; point, McDonald; cover-point, McRobie; forwards, Dobbie, Skirreff, Lannon and Marks.

Wanderers—Goal, Baker; point, W. Strachan; cover-point, Boon; forwards, Glass, Marshall, Blachford and B. Strachan.

Referee—Mr. Arthur Ross, Westmount.

Umpires—Mr. C. T. Wilkinson, Brockville; Mr. R. Stephenson, Montreal.

Timers—Mr. Steacy, Brockville; Mr. McEvilla, Montreal.

Summary.

1	Brockville	Marks
2	Wanderers	Marshall
3	Wanderers	Blachford
4	Wanderers	B. Strachan
5	Brockville	Lannon

WANDERERS LOYAL TO F.A.H.L.

"There is absolutely no truth in the statement made in certain quarters that the Wanderers made an effort to get into the C.A.H.L. when it became known that the Nationals were going to drop out. The Wanderers made no such effort and will remain with the F.A.H.L. with which they are perfectly satisfied."

The foregoing statement was made this morning to The Herald by Mr. Jas. Strachan, president of the Wanderers.

MARLBOROS BEAT WAVERLEYS.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—The senior O.H.A. game here Saturday night between Marlboros and Waverleys, resulted 11 to 3 in favor of Marlboros. Half-time score, 5 to 2.

NATIONALS DROP OUT.

At a special meeting Saturday night of the C. A. H. L. it was unanimously decided to allow the Nationals to retire for the season under the conditions that the club will be represented in the league next year. Mr. Fred. McRobie, president, occupied the chair, and those present included Messrs. John Lockerby, of the Victorias, George Ross, of the Westmounts, Harry Shaw, of the Montreals, Emmett Quinn, of the Shamrocks, and Jos. Mercier, of the Nationals. In making his request Mr. Mercier said that the Nationals had been unfortunate in losing their best men. The season had not been a success financially and prospects for a strong septette were not bright. Other officers present were unanimous in deciding to consent to the temporary withdrawal of the Nationals.

"We will make a speedy team next season," said President Mercier. "We will work our hardest and are likely to succeed in getting a number of good players."

SPEEDY QUEBECS BEAT IRISHMEN

Shamrocks Lost by Four to Two in Exciting Match.

Quebec, 4; Shamrocks, 2.

It was a case of speed and combination versus individual work and the former won. The great defence wearing green and gray held the Quebecs off in splendid fashion, but the Shamrock forwards could not score and the champions won.

The match which took place at the Arena Saturday night was witnessed by about two thousand spectators and was exciting right from the drop of the hat. The close score indicates this. Quebec's septette had luck, barrels of it, and the Shamrocks were unfortunate. The strongest team which has represented Quebec in years opposed the Irishmen, and had the forward line of the Shamrocks played more aggressively the result might have been different. That the Quebecs won was due to their terrific speed and effective combination. They had the Shamrocks faded in these lines and elicited favorable comment. The Shamrocks' forward line was eclipsed by that of the visitors and, both defences were on par.

TALK ABOUT SPEED.

The Quebecs are daisies. Unfavorable criticism has been heaped upon the champions this season. The New York papers said they were no good, Canadian journals took up the cry, and the impression seemed prevalent that the Quebec had deteriorated since last season. This is all rot. They are fifty per cent. better than in 1904. The Victorias, prospective C.A.H.L. champions, should remember this. When the latter team defeated the trophy-holders in Quebec they did it fairly. The Quebecs claim that they were not in condition and the Victorias have a hard struggle before them. Judging from Saturday's showing the Quebecs will make any team in the business go its fastest.

WERE WELL BALANCED.

From Moran in goal to Hogan there was not a weak spot. A pleasing feature of the match was the fact that it started about 8.45 and finished before 10.30. No delays marred the excitement and no injuries resulted.

BOTH TEAMS POPULAR.

That the Quebecs are favorites here was demonstrated when they jumped upon the ice. They got a great reception. So did the Shamrocks. The Shamrocks scored the first two games and then Quebec got two. In the first half the forwards of the Irish septette were particularly good. Kenny, Brennan and Grannery did great work on the defence. The Quebecs did not connect with their style until about twenty minutes after the puck was faced. Then the spectators saw the real brand of hockey. Time and again the forwards in blue and white swept up the ice like lightning. Four abreast they would tear down the sheet, the puck would travel from man to man, and Kenny would be called upon to block a shot. He did nobly. Even Leclerc and "Rocket" Power took part in these rushes. The pace was much too fast for the Shamrock forwards, especially Pete Brennan, who tired perceptibly towards the close of the first half. At half-time it was 3 to 2 in favor of the visitors.

Quebec took one more in the second and the Shamrocks could not score. Paddy Moran, who guarded the nets for the champions, saved scores of probable tallies. The Shamrocks assumed the offensive towards the close, but the Quebecs maintained their great speed, and kept Kenny busy. Owing to the Quebecs' style of play, Messrs. Brennan and Grannery were handicapped. Repeatedly they were forced to rush towards the Quebec goals, wheel around and speed for their own citadel to where play would be transferred in a few seconds. The Shamrock supporters yelled themselves hoarse in the second half, but Messrs. Moran, Leclerc and Power were invincible.

ABOUT THE PLAYERS.

Mike Kenny, in goal for the locals, was a tower of strength. He stopped dozens of shots which would have struck the nets, and located Power's long lifts with ease. Bouquets for your's, Johnny Brennan. The latter was also seen to advantage. Being in good condition he repeatedly rushed up the ice and gave his forwards golden chances which were not taken advantage of. As usual Fred Grannery delivered the goods. His checking was effective and he did the work of a cover-point and rover.

FORWARDS COULDN'T SHOOT.

The forward line did well, but shot miserably. Body-checked into the fences, tripped and slashed till his feet were black and blue, little Walter Cummings was the choice of the rushers. He was the idol of the crowd, and never tired. Walter was used pretty roughly, but he took his medicine like a hero. Ross was also good, but George Cummings missed a number of great chances, and Pete Brennan was too slow for the company.

MORAN'S CLEVER WORK.

Paddy Moran, he of the sunny smile and padded chest, was as usual in front of the nets for the Quebecs. He is without a peer in this position. When Moran couldn't stop the puck with his stick, he stuck out his chest. Once he put his face in front of a shot from Pete Brennan. The rubber struck him on the chin and glided off. Moran smiled. Leclerc's rushes were features. Rocket Power played his first game of the season on local ice. He lifted fine. J. Power, Jordan, Morency and Hogan performed splendidly. To see them travel up the ice was a treat to the spectators.

The game was exceedingly clean. Of course, the usual number of body-checks were in evidence, likewise hard checking, but no dirty tactics were resorted to. Dr. George Cameron gave satisfaction as referee, also Tom Potter, his assistant.

NOT MUCH SCORING.

The Shamrocks assumed the offensive at the start and Ross scored in one minute.

Shamrocks, 1; Quebec, 0.

Then George Cummings got one in five minutes.

Shamrocks, 2; Quebec, 0.

The visitors took a brace, and J. Power focled Kenny on a low side-shot. Play grew fast, and some fine hockey was dished up. The Quebecs did some spectacular rushing. Going up the ice four abreast the Quebec forwards juggled the disc between them, and Hogan evened up.

Quebec, 2; Shamrocks, 2.

Half-time then elapsed.

Ross and Power were sent off and Walter Cummings was hurt by being bodied hard. J. Power was dropped.

SECOND WAS FAST.

The Quebecs started out strong when play was resumed, and their speed increased. Like Trojans the Shamrocks worked. Their shooting was wild. Grannery and J. Brennan distinguished themselves. J. Power scored after a pretty rush.

Quebec, 3; Shamrock, 2.

The Irishmen had the better of the play, but could not get the disc past Moran. Once George Cummings missed the open net. While W. Cummings and Johnny Brennan were off, the latter for slashing, Jordan scored on what looked like an offside play.

Quebec, 4; Shamrock, 2.

The Quebecs' wonderful defence playing saved them time and again. Walter Cummings and J. Power resumed. Pete Brennan missed numerous chances. Time elapsed with the puck near Quebec's nets. The line-up was as follows:—

Quebec.		Shamrock.
Moran	Goal	Kenny
Leclerc	Point	J. Brennan
R. Power	Cover	Grannery
J. Power	Forwards	G. Cummings
Jordan	"	W. Cummings
Morency	"	P. Brennan
Hogan	"	Ross

Referees—Dr. George Cameron and Tom Potter, Montreal.

Umpires—Messrs. Campbell and Burland.

Timekeepers—Messrs. H. McLaughlin and C. E. Lamontagne.

SUMMARY.

1	Shamrock	Ross	1.00
2	Shamrock	G. Cummings	5.00
3	Quebec	J. Power	10.00
4	Quebec	Hogan	10.00
5	Quebec	Hogan	10.00
6	Quebec	Jordan	9.00

NOTES.

Moran't be beat.

Rocket Power is another star.

Mike Kenny is one of the league's best goalkeepers.

Walter Cummings has loads of sand. He is the stuff.

Johnny Brennan's rushes were features of the collision.

Henry Hoobin, of lacrosse fame, was a warm supporter of the Irish septette.

Get them down, George Cummings.

Too much one-handed work, Mr. Ross. That won't go.

"Eat the puck, Paddy," cried Billy Armstrong when Moran's features blocked the disc.

Fred Grannery was not so steady upon his feet as in previous games.

Joe Murphy should be on that Shamrock team.

Leclerc is a second Harry Pulford. Did anyone see him stop 'em?

The applause was loud and long when news of the Wanderer win over Brockville arrived.

"Wait till you see us trim the Vics."—From the dreams of the obliging Billy Armstrong.

The Quebecs hope to defeat the Montreals at the Ancient Capital next Saturday night.

The Quebecers could make big money as speed skaters at the M.A.A.A. meet next Saturday.

Pete Brennan's playing was clean, but he did not have the necessary fleetness to cope with his cover.

The Shamrocks will be dangerous next season if they keep on improving.

BEDFORD HOCKEY LEAGUE.

Cowansville, Que., Jan. 30.—(Special)—The fastest and most exciting game of the season was played at Farnham on Friday evening when that team was defeated by the Cowansville Victorias by the score of 7-5. At the end of the first half the score stood 1-1. The star players for the respective teams were Hibbard and Thomas for the Farnhams and McCabe and Sylvestre for the winners. In fact, McCabe's brilliant rushes were the feature of the match. Combination play was scarce on both sides, owing to poor light, and the individual playing, although spectacular, was not effective. During the first fifteen minutes of the second half, the Victorias scored five goals and with eight more minutes to play Wright got laid out by a blow on the ankle and Dr. Malcolm Slack ordered him off the ice. Mackenzie, who, through lameness, was not so effective as usual, was taken off to even up (?) matters, but the loss to the Victorias of Wright enabled the Farnhams to score four times during those last eight minutes while the winners scored only once. The teams lined up as follows:

Farnham.		Victoria.
F. Thomas	Goal	John Scott
C. Mackenzie (Capt.)	Point	H. Bell
M. L. Hibbard	Cover Point	G. Foster
J. H. Wilkinson	Rover	W. C. McCabe (Capt.)
E. Murray	Centre	S. Clark.
A. Roy	Right Wing	Earl Wright
M. Miller	Left Wing	C. Sylvestre
V. H. Williams, Goal Umpire		M. Miner
H. O'Dell	Timekeeper	C. E. Lavery

Mr. Ken. Turner officiated as referee and experienced the usual number of kicks and objections from Mackenzie. The only regrettable incident of the evening was an altercation between Willie McCabe and Mr. Perry, a spectator. McCabe was struck a severe blow on the jaw by someone on the side-lines when the play was hottest there. He struck back with his stick inflicting on Mr. Perry a scalp wound three-quarters of an inch long, which Dr. Slack also dressed. A fine supper was tendered the winners by the Farnhams at the Revere House, where speeches were made by president Ryan of Farnham, and by secretary-treasurer DuBoyce of the Victorias. The return match will be held next Saturday night on the Victorias' Rink in Cowansville. The present standing of the different clubs in the League is:—

	Won.	Lost.	To Play.
Victorias	4	0	2
Granby	1	1	4
Waterloo	1	3	2
Farnham	0	2	4

HOCKEY AT RICHMOND.

F. Povey	Point	E. B. Campbell
U. Wiggett	C. Point	S. L. Brown

VICS AND MONTREALS WERE THE WINNERS

Fast Intermediate Games Were Played Last Saturday.

That the fight for the championship of the Intermediate C.A.H.L. will be close and exciting was made certain on Saturday when the Montreal II. and Victoria II. won in their respective matches with the seconds of the Westmounts and Shamrocks. Both matches took place at the Arena and were witnessed by many. The ice was in fine condition.

WESTMOUNTS VS. MONTREALS.

In their previous match the suburban septette and that of the winged wheel played a draw—each team scoring two goals. As had been expected, Saturday's game was also close. The Montreals won by 2 goals to 1 and they deserved the victory. Bryce Pennell's absence from the west end seven weakened them. Thompson, a junior, replaced him and did well. He lacked experience, however, and could not rush like Pennell.

The Montreals played good hockey. Doc. Crown was replaced on the defence by Bert Horsfall, and the latter's brother took the position made vacant by Ernie Johnston's advent to senior company. Both the Horsfalls did well. Bert eliminated the rough tactics which had marred his work in previous matches. Consequently he was more useful. Bremner replaced Brophy before the nets and performed creditably. Percival was also useful, and Messrs. Chipchase and Ernie Lifflton were good, likewise Marshall.

While the Westmounts last they put up an admirable game. Wells was reliable, and Benny Burland's lifts were features. Jeffery, Gale, Outhet and Trotter were effective. The game was not rough, although body checks were almost as numerous as spectators. Referee Campbell, of the Victorias, gave satisfaction, and the line-up was as follows:

Westmount II.—Wells, Burland, Thompson, Jeffry, A. Gale, Outhet and Trotter.

Montreal II.—Bremner, Percival, B. Horsfall, Marshall, Chipchase, Lifflton and E. Horsfall.

SHAMROCKS ALSO LOST.

Eight to three in favor of the Victorias was the result of the Shamrock-Victoria game. It was a good match, and, despite the big score, the green-jerseyed Irishmen gave the wearers of maroon and white an interesting argument. Play was not quite so uneven as the score indicates. The Vics outskated their opponents and the combination of Mike Grant's proteges was good.

The Victorias' defence, consisting of Ross, Campbell and Davidson, was strong. The latter broke up rushes in a way that would have discouraged any forward line. Capt. Lave discouraged any forward line. Capt. Campbell was brilliant, likewise Ross. "Pat" Dunlop was the star of the forwards; Ekers was valuable, and Eveleigh and Ross were not behind them. The Vics scored several in the first and as many more in the initial part of the second.

The Irish septette's defence was strong. They lifted well. Jack Grannery was the choice of the forward line. The line-up was as follows:—

Victorias—Ross, Campbell, Davidson, Eveleigh, Ekers, Ross and Dunlop.

Shamrocks—J. Brenna, Kelly, Hennessy, Lowe, Lukeman, McLean and Grannery.

Referee—Benny Burland.

The result places the Vics at the top. When they meet the Montreals an interesting game should result both septettes are anxious to land the championship honors.

A FAST MATCH.

A very interesting game of hockey was played on the Minto rink on Saturday between teams from the Peck Rolling Mills, Ltd., and the Stonewall Jackson Co., the result being a victory for the Rolling Mill boys by three goals to one. The game commenced punctually at seven o'clock, and after a few minutes play Hill scored a nice goal for the cigar men. This sudden reverse seemed to waken up the "Millites," and Thompson equalled the score. The Stonewalls had the misfortune to lose Hill for a few minutes and after some fine defensive work by Capt. Bartram and Bryan, the "blue and red" took the lead, Willows doing the needful. The game throughout was very fast and before the whistle blew F. McCrudden again found the net for Pecks who ran out winners of a very clean game by three goals to one. For the Stonewall's Michaels, Hill and Parquette were the pick, while for the winners, Capt. Bartram H. Bryan, D. Baker and Thompson were the most conspicuous. With a little more combination in the forward line the winners ought to give a good account of themselves. Mr. Allan Cameron gave every satisfaction as referee.

The teams were:

Peck Rolling Mill, Ltd.—J. Jones, R. W. Bartram (capt.), H. Bryan, L. Willows, F. McCrudden, Thompson, D. Baker.

Stonewall Jackson Co.—Parquette, McDonald, Michaels, Goldthorpe, Hill, McMahon, R. Leroux.

Referee, Mr. Allan Cameron. Goal judges—Messrs. H. Patenaude and Clarke. Timekeepers, Messrs. A. Michaels and E. Roy.

AN INTERESTING GAME.

There was an interesting game of hockey played Friday night between the Cable Formers and the Bowmans, both of the Northern Electric and Manufacturing Co., at the Outremont rink from 8 to 9. The game was fast throughout. The both teams showed up remarkably well, the features of which were Ellard and Rappel. The score when time was called stood 5 to 2 in favor of the Formers. The line up was as follows:

Cable Formers—D. McLeod, W. Pettaplece, C. Ellard (capt.), W. Lalonde, A. Decarie, T. Cooper, R. Campbell.

Bowmans—A. Taylor, W. Cunnian, J. Bowman (capt.), M. Willing, J. Hughes, A. Weir, T. Rappell.

Referee—Mr. H. Brady. Timekeeper, Mr. W. E. Cooper. Umpires, Mr. W. Ellard and Mr. D. A. Booth.

The games were scored for the Formers by Campbell, 1; Decarie, 3; Cooper, 1. The games were scored for the Bowmans by Weir, 2.

STOCKS AND MONEY.

Boom in Twin City; Wall Street Was Very Erratic; Harriman Wins

Nor. Securities and Union Pacific Were Very Nervous.

There was quite a little excitement in stocks to-day, prices in New York moving erratically on early rumors of the Northern Securities decision.

Locally there was a bom in Twin City on what was thought to be largely Toronto buying.

Tips to buy Twins were in circulation on Saturday and they came from the West.

The stock was given an upward shove in New York and on pretty active trading they were run up to 108¼, or an advance of nearly 2 points over Saturday.

Toronto to-day also sent out tips to buy Dom. Coal, which makes it look as if the bulls in that market had made money of late and were beginning to take a new lease of life. This may also be true of local people to a certain extent, as a good deal of money has been cleaned up here in "Soo," Smelters, Northern Securities and one or two others.

Two of the most erratic stocks in Wall Street were Union Pacific and Northern Securities.

The former went as high as 123 at the opening, about 15,000 shares changing hands near the top. Later it broke to 119¾. Securities on the other hand opened at the record level of 153½ to 154, and broke to 148. Both recovered a little before the long expected decision was announced at noon.

"Harriman wins," came over the wires at 12.15.

This meant that the U. S. Supreme Court had granted the petition of E. H. Harriman, W. S. Pierce, the Oregon Short Line and Equitable Trust Co. for a writ of certiorari providing for a review and determination of the records in the suit in equity, which on Jan. 3rd was decided against the petitioners and in favor of the Northern Securities Co. by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the third circuit.

It was believed by many that the long-standing dispute will now be settled out of court and that to-day's decision simply means that Harriman will now be entitled to a little more than he asked for.

The local market was on the whole rather interesting and apart from the activity in Twin City there was quite a little scattered business. The tone was generally pretty firm and the feeling rather cheerful.

There was in addition more interest taken in the bank stocks. About 200 shares of Merchants sold at 170 and that was the feature in this department.

It is expected that the annual Richelieu statement will be out on Thursday.

In regard to the foreign markets the following cable was received from London: The securities markets while quiet for the most part show all around firmness due to the easy monetary outlook and more cheerful sentiment prevailing. American railway shares are steady. Russian Imperial 4's, 89 3-4, unchanged; Jap old 5's, 92, unchanged; 4's, 80 1-4, advance 1-8; new 5's, 93 1-4, decrease 1-4; 1st services, 100 3-4, advance 3-4.

A number of events destined to exercise an important influence upon future stock markets are scheduled for this week. It is rather expected that the United States Supreme Court will to-day pass upon the Harriman position to re-hear the Northern Securities case, and the general belief seems to be that this request will not be granted. Should this be the case, it is likely that the pro rata distribution of Northern Securities assets will be made at an early date. It is believed also that some pronounced changes in the Western railway map will be effected as a result. It is very probable, however, that these developments have been largely discounted already. Very soon—possibly to-day—the Southern Pacific refunding plan is expected to appear. This, it is thought, embraces a scheme to authorize the execution of a $200,000,000 mortgage on all the company's properties which would enable the company to refund all of its bonds as they mature. $75,000,000 of these bonds, so it is said, will be issued at once, $50,000,000 of which will be utilized to refund the same amount of bonds that soon mature, while $25,000,000 will be appropriated for needed improvements. On Tuesday the United States Steel meeting occurs. It is confidently asserted that earnings for the quarter ended Dec. 31 will show something like $20,000,000, and that the amount of orders on hand will be something like 5,000,000, or the largest amount ever booked at this season in the history of the company. If these expectations are realized, the stock market may reasonably be expected to show some further improvements.

Returns of November railroad earnings are nearly completed and they show a gain in net of 16.17 p.c. For the five months ending Nov. 30, the same roads showed a gain of 7.78 p.c. last year. According to the Wall Street Journal twenty roads show for December a gain in gross of 7.25.

The sales to noon in Wall Street to-day amounted to 642,600 shares.

Noon Letter.

A noon wire to Mr. C. D. Monk said: The market has had a littel setback from the high prices of the morning, but the undertone is still very strong. The rumor was spread on the curb after the opening that Northern Securities case would be against Hill, and Northern Securities broke rapidly. Some recovery was made, and stocks on exchange were quite strong regardless of the curb excitement; later Union Pacific gave way, and the whole market followed. There is a well defined understanding that even if the decision is against Hill, some settlement will be effected, and the whole affair will be helpful to the market.

U. P. THE LEADER.

A noon wire to Marler & Hodgson said: Union Pacific opened extremely strong and with enormous volume of transactions. It reacted, however, quickly, selling at one time more than two points below the highest at opening. The liquidation in it was tremendous and due to a vague rumor that the Supreme Court would hand down a decision to the Northern Securities, and that Mr. Harriman's application for a writ would be granted and a rehearing ordered. This rumor was accompanied by the news from the curb that Northern Securities had broken some points. Naturally the selling of U. P. had a depressing effect on other branches of the market, but it was noticeable that Cen. and St. Paul displayed marked strength, the conclusion therefrom being that the story of an alliance between Cen., U. P. and Northwest, in which St. P. would probably be included was founded upon fact.

Government Bonds and the Effect of Russian Affair

So far as financial markets are an index to Europe's real feeling over the Russian situation, last week's fluctuations would hardly lead to the inference that the popular uprising had caused acute alarm. Since Sunday's collision between the soldiers and the people at St. Petersburg, Russia old 4 per cents in London have fallen 2 points and recovered 2½. The new loan of 1904 declined at Paris from 499 per 500-franc bond, to 494 on Monday, returning to 500 later. British consols fell ¼ and rose ⅞, and the extreme decline in French Government rentes was ¼ point, with a subsequent recovery of ½. The fall in rentes was no greater than their decline in the third week of last July, when the rather absurd "Red Sea incident" dominated the markets, and the fall in consols not as great as it then was. The famous "Bourse panic" of Feb. 20 broke the price of rentes nearly 2 points in a day. News of the Baltic fleet's performance in the North Sea, last October, depressed all the markets more than they were depressed last week; on that occasion, rentes dropped ½ and consols a full point.

"Soo" Ry. is Earning 11.51 P. C. on Common

The New York News, in a very bullish analysis of the Soo Line system, estimates that the balance for the common stock after all payments and charges during the present fiscal year will amount to $1,611,719, or 11.51 per cent., against $647,258, or 4.67 per cent last year, and that gross earnings will amount to $5,834 per mile.

The News continues:—

"Among the many favorable features offered to prospective investors in 'Soo' stocks are the following, which we believe to be of considerable importance:

First—The preferred stock, of which there is only $7,000,000, is entitled to share with the common any increase in dividends above 7 per cent. on both classes of stock. The common now receives 4 per cent.

"Second—The very low amount of funded debt which can be placed against new construction ($20,000 a mile).

"Third—The fair assumption that future earnings will be at least equal to our estimates and the probability that there will be ultimate increases in dividends.

"Fourth—The fact that 51 per cent. of both classes of stock are owned by the Canadian Pacific, and that the floating supply is small—the bonds have the Canadian Pacific indorsement."

Pacific Shows Good Increase in Net

Canadian Pacific Railway Company's statement of earnings and expenses:—

	Dec., 1904.	July 1 to Dec. 31, 1904.
Gross earnings...	$4,562,142.45	$27,152,022.43
Working expenses .	2,899,473.62	18,007,274.82
Net profits ...	$1,662,668.83	$9,144,747.61

In December, 1903, the net profits were $1,581,145.25, and from July 1 to Dec. 31, 1903, there was a net profit of $8,668,048.88. The gain in net profits over the same period last year, is therefore, for December, $81,523.57; and from July 1 to Dec. 31, $476,698.73.

Tremendous Loans Made in Wall Street

Montreal considers a $500,000 loan a big one. This from the New York Post is interesting: "There are three or four banks in New York, and quite as many trust companies, having resources enabling them to make single loans of $5,000,000, $10,000,000, or $15,000,000, without inconvenience. The vice-president of one of these banks said that he had seen occasions frequently when $5,000,000 was advanced at a moment's notice. He added that $20,000,000 could often be secured for a borrower by a little telephoning.

"This is possible only, of course, during times of easy money, when the banks are not besieged by requests from other customers. The president of a bank that figures in every large loan increase has boasted that his institution belongs to an alliance which could command $75,000,000 or $100,000,000 ready cash if occasion required it."

Toronto Broker on the Rise in Mexicans

The securities of the Mexican Light, Heat & Power Co. have attracted much attention. They were recently underwritten on a basis similar to that of the Sao Paulo underwriting, namely, an underwriter paid 90 per cent., obtaining 100 per cent. of bonds and a bonus of 100 per cent. of stock. The bonds to-day are selling at 103½ and interest, carrying a bonus of 50 per cent. of stock. The stock alone has been selling at $60 per share. The advance has been perhaps too rapid, but an estimation of the earnings for the coming year, which is said to be reasonable, shows remarkably well. The water power is not yet completed so that the company is not able to show what it can do, as coal is extremely expensive and the power has, so far to be produced by steam. The water power should be ready for use very shortly. Immediately the water power is available the contracts already entered into by the company guarantee its future success.—Aemilius Jarvis & Co.

Hudson Bay Shares

The London Financial News says that one cause of the recent weakness of Hudson's Bay shares has been the announcement of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company that they will start building from Fort William to Winnipeg, instead of from the Winnipeg end, and, consequently, during this year cannot come near Hudson Bay land.

Public Interest in Wheat is at Zero

The public's interest in the wheat markets is at zero owing to the manipulation at Chicago. The Wall Street bull pool is estimated as holding from 15,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels of May wheat and is doing very little. The pool appears to be standing pat waiting for the market to move. The result is that traders are thoroughly afraid of the market, will not operate except for short scalps, and there is practically no commission business except such as is stated from time to time by the pool and its followers. The effect of the operations so far has been to drive out general business and leave the market in position where Chicago is working to a premium on every other market, even New York, and the high price for the contract wheat is keeping the wheat in store, the demand for actual wheat being supplied by the lower grades.

MARKET REPORTS.

The Russian Trouble and Its Bearing Upon the Wheat Market

Recent Firmness Due to Decrease in the Visible Supply.

In the wheat market there is a feature that is considered important—the chronic state of unrest in the Balkans. It is assumed that the revolutionists in Macedonia will be quick to take advantage of Russia's crippled condition. An outbreak in that quarter might ultimately involve the larger European powers and finally result in closing the Dardanelles which would put a stop to shipments from Russia, thereby enhancing the value of our grain. Doubtless, however, the stronger feeling in the markets of Western Europe was caused in part by the big reduction in the quantity on passage consequent upon the small world's shipments. The upward trend in domestic markets was chargeable in part to the unexpectedly large decrease in the visible supply as well as in the world's available supply, but all things considered, the advance here has been somewhat disappointing.

WHY PRICES DO NOT ADVANCE.

Buyers for the rise were naturaly led to expect a rapid improvement, and for a time they were decidedly puzzled because of the unimportant advance. It seemed as if the rising tendency was held in check by prominent Wall Street and Western operators who do not appear disposed to permit a rapid rise at this early day. They are, apparently still playing a waiting game. Unquestionably if they control 15,000,000 bushels or more of May in Chicago as alleged it would be plainly a misplay on their part to let traders for the decline run to cover so early. In the effort to hold prices down much ado has been made over the so-called heavy receipts in the West and dullness in the flour trade. It is, doubtless, true that the flour market has been quiet, but this does not imply that consumption has appreciably fallen off. It merely tends to confirm all that has been said in the past respecting the large quantity of flour held on dock in New York, which was shipped from the West last fall in order to take advantage of cheap lake and rail freights.

Wheat in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 30.—Wheat dull, shade lower, trade practically nil. May 1.05, July 1.05⅞. Cash prices, No. 1 Northern, 1.01; No. 2 Northern, 98; No. 3 Northern, 92¼; No. 4 extra, 83½; No. 4, 82½; No. 5, 67¾; feed, 57. Receipts wheat, 71 cars; last years, 36.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain—Oats continue very strong, and prices have an upward tendency owing to the good enquiry and small offerings. A sale of 13,000 No. 2 white was made to-day at a price equal to 43½c per bushel here on track, which is the highest figure realized so far for round lots.

Flour—Remains firm, in sympathy with the continued strength in wheat, but the demand is somewhat limited, and the volume of new business passing is small. We quote: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.80; strong bakers', $5.50; winter wheat patents, $5.70 to $5.80; straight rollers, $5.30 to $5.40; and in bags, $2.50 to $2.60.

Feed—A steady feeling prevails in the market for mill feed, with a fair business doing in bran. Manitoba bran, in bags, $17; shorts, $19 to $20 per ton; Ontario winter wheat bran, in bulk, $17 to $18; shorts, $19 to $20; mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, according to quality.

Meal—The demand for rolled oats continues slow, and prices are unchanged at $2.05 to $2.07½ per bag. Cornmeal is quiet at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay—There was no change in baled hay, for which the demand is improving. No. 1, $9 to $9.50; No. 2, $8.25 to $8.75; clover, mixed, $7 to $7.50; and pure clover, $6.50 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

Grain in Chicago

The various options in Chicago to-day were quoted as follows:—

	Open.	High.	Low.	12.30.
Wheat, May	115¾	116¼	115⅝	116¼
July	98⅝	99	98⅛	99
Corn, May	44⅞	44⅞	44⅝	44¾
July	45¼	45¼	45⅛	45¼
Oats, May	30¾	30¾	30½	30⅝

ONTARIO CABINET WILL RESIGN DURING THE WEEK

Toronto, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Leading Toronto Conservatives do not expect that Mr. Whitney will come to the city until he is called upon by the Lieut.-Governor to form a new Government. That, they think, will be about Wednesday or Thursday of this week. The Premier-elect is understood to be opposed to anything in the nature of a public demonstration on his arrival here, and the local party leaders are not encouraging any suggestions of that nature. It is altogether likely, however, that a reception will be held or a banquet extended to Mr. Whitney after he has been sworn in as Premier.

Premier Ross still declines to see newspaper men, the invariable answer to all inquiries being that he has "Nothing for the reporters to-day."

A meeting of the Cabinet will be held to-day, and another will probably take place on Tuesday. At the former perhaps, and certainly at the latter, all the Ministers will be present, with the exception of Hon. Mr. Gibson, who left Hamilton on Saturday for Baltimore to consult Dr. Osler, and who will go to whatever point in the South the doctor orders, and for as long a period as he thinks desirable. Those of the ministers who were in town on Saturday were busily engaged at their respective offices packing up personal effects and clearing off arrears of business. The feeling is that the Government's resignation will be announced after Tuesday's Cabinet meeting.

RECOUNT IN WEST HURON.

Goderich, Ont., Jan. 30.—An official count of ballots cast at the recent election took place Saturday before Returning Officer Sheriff Reynolds. Upon examining the poll books it was found that in one polling subdivision, No. 7, Hullett, the deputy returning officer, had omitted to fill in the proper form in the poll book, which is the returning officer's only guide as to the number of ballots cast for each candidate, with the result that Dudley Holmes, Conservative candidate, was declared elected by a majority of fifteen. Ballots cast in this division can only be examined on a recount, which will take place immediately, and as Mr. Cameron, Liberal candidate, has a majority of twenty, the final majority will be found to be five, unless otherwise reduced or increased on proceedings before the county judge.

SOME CORRECTED RETURNS.

Simcoe, Ont., January 30.—Mr. A. J. Donly, returning officer for South Norfolk, declared Arthur C. Pratt, Conservative duly elected member for the Legislative Assembly by a majority of 15. Total votes—Pratt, Conservative, 1,171; Charlton, Liberal, 1,698. Rejected ballots, 38.

Durham, Ont. Jan. 30.—Dr. Jamieson, Conservative, correct majority in South Grey is 422.

Renfrew, Ont., Jan. 30.—Later returns from South Renfrew, with one poll still to hear from, give McGarry, Conservative, 363 majority.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 30.—With three-fourths polls in Kidd's majority in Carleton is 1,380 and will reach probably 1,500. So far the vote is: 1,803 for Kidd. 417 for Smith.

Napanee, Ont., Jan. 30.—W. J. Paul's Conservative majority in Addington is now 556, and will be increased.

Glencoe, Ont., Jan. 30.—The official count for West Middlesex gives Ross, Liberal, 2,034; Stewart, Conservative, 1,930. Majority for Ross 113.

Dunville, Ont., Jan. 30.—Full returns gives Harcourt, Liberal, 75 majority in Monck.

Fort William, Ont., Jan. 30.—In Port Arthur, and Rainy River, Kennedy, Liberal, leads by 13. There are but two places to hear from, which however, have always gone Liberal, and which may bring the Liberal majority up to 40.

London, Ont., Jan. 30.—Sheriff Cameron, returning officer for East Middlesex, made his official count at the Court House. The result gives George Neely, Conservative, a majority of 140.

Whitby, Ont., Jan. 30.—Returning Officer Sheriff Paxton, declared Calder's (Con.) majority in South Ontario 112.

Prescott, Ont., Jan. 30.—The official count in Grenville gives G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative, 550 majority.

Perth, Ont., Jan. 30.—Complete returns from South Lanark give Matheson (Con.) a majority of 891.

Newmarket, Ont., Jan. 30.—Following are official returns of North York election: Total number of names on voters' lists, 6,314; total vote for Lennox (Con.), 2,827; for Widdifield, (Lib.), 2,559; majority for Lennox, 268.

Brockville, Ont., Jan. 30.—The result of the vote for this riding on Jan. 25, was announced by Returning Officer Sheriff Dana. Graham's (Lib.) majority is 169. Of this 167 was from the town of Brockville and two from the townships.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Sheriff Sweetland, made his official declaration of the result of the Ontario elections. The official figures were: McDougall, 6,053; May, 5,904; Murphy, 5,675; Ross, 5,596. Majority for McDougall over Murphy, 378; over Ross, 457. May's majority over Murphy, 229; over Ross, 308.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 30.—Pense's official majority is 17, he having gained one vote in Catoraqui Wood. There are 40 rejected ballots. The majority is historic, the same as Sir John A. Macdonald received in 1875. John McIntyre, K.C., said the late statesman said he was very much obliged to the electors for that majority, and Mr. Pense, now thirty years after, said he would repeat the words. Application will be made to-day for a recount.

IN WALL STREET.

Noon.—The market opened generally strong this morning and on quite excited transactions the highest prices of this movement were in general made at the opening. There seemed to be stock for sale, however, from the start and prices began to decline. This decline was helped along by a sharp break of over 8 points in Northern Securities on the rumor that the Supreme Court would entertain Harriman's petition, and that instead of a final decision of this matter being made to-day it might drag on for several months longer. The action of the market since then has caused many people to believe that such would be the case as, for the most part, it has been a drooping one, especially in the stocks principally concerned in the merger. Northwest, however, made a further advance of five points, and has held most of its gain. New York Central has also been very strong. The tone is now quiet and steady at the decline.—E. & C. Randolph.
