Seek study To test drinking drivers?

HALIFAX (CP)—The Canadian Association of Police Chiefs today decided to ask the federal government to take a new look at the drunk and impaired driving sections of the Criminal Code.

During the final session of its annual meeting, the association agreed to ask the justice department to appoint a committee of experts to recommend on the advisability of setting an alcohol blood-content level that could be used to determine whether a driver is drunk or only "impaired."

Chief J. G. Kettles of Saskatoon said if this system were established anything under a certain percentage of blood alcohol would be considered impaired driving. Any percentage over that figure would be drunk driving.

The recommendation is one of two approved earlier by the Chief Constables' Association of Ontario. Also approved was a suggestion for a code amendment making a first conviction for impaired driving a second offence when there had been a previous conviction for drunken driving.

SECOND OFFENCE

A first conviction for drunken driving after an impaired driving conviction would also be considered a second offence.

A Vancouver recommendation also to be handed to the justice department, asks that persons given time by courts to pay fines and who fail to pay will be liable to an additional penalty on conviction.

The Berlin crisis held the attention of a grim Commons Thursday as Parliament resumed its marathon session after a seven-week summer recess.

External Affairs Minister Green warned that the world is "hovering on the brink of a nuclear war."

Paul Martin (L—Essex East) noted an ominous anniversary—exactly 22 years ago the Canadian Parliament had met to consider a declaration of war against Germany.

The MP's concern over the tense Berlin situation was underlined again and again during a day devoted to defence matters and foreign policy debate.

At the opening, Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced a 15,000-man increase in the armed forces, bringing total strength to 135,000, and a plan to train up to 100,000 civilian male volunteers in civil defence.

Mr. Martin said the Berlin crisis is but a new pressure point in the East-West cold war and the West must not become "transfixed in panic" over this single issue.

Negotiations were vital to ensure that war would not erupt.

LONDON (Reuters)—Premier Khrushchev Thursday received in the Kremlin Cyrus Sulzberger, foreign politics editor of the New York Times.

Sulzberger requested the meeting during which Khrushchev replied to questions concerning the present political situation.

Khrushchev is ready for talks

US newsman questions K.

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev is ready for another meeting with President Kennedy on Berlin and other East-West problems, but he says that if the talks do not produce results they may only make matters worse.

"The task now is to find solutions for the major international issues now causing concern," Khrushchev told C. L. Sulzberger, foreign affairs columnist of the New York Times.

Khrushchev outlined his views in an interview with Sulzberger at the Kremlin Tuesday, then clarified his position on a summit meeting in a statement Thursday.

Sulzberger's report, which described Khrushchev's attitude as "tough and relentless," was published in the Times today with excerpts from the 4½-hour question-and-answer session.

Khrushchev stuck to his position on Berlin and again said that peace treaties must be signed with East and West Germany, followed by an agreement on a special status for West Berlin. Free access to the city would be guaranteed on the basis of an agreement with East Germany.

This would imply recognition of Communist control in the East, a proposition so far rejected by the United States. If the West refuses to go along with Khrushchev's solution, the Soviet Union plans to sign a peace treaty with East Germany regardless.

Recalling his first meeting with Kennedy in Vienna last June, Khrushchev said both men had compared their viewpoints and left without changing each other's positions.

NEED BROADER EXCHANGE
"That is natural for a first contact," Khrushchev said. "But if at a second meeting we were to limit ourselves to an expansion of each other's position, which both of us know, the situation will of course not improve but, on the contrary, might even deteriorate."

For his part, the Soviet premier said, he "would spare neither strength nor time" to meet with Kennedy on world problems. But he said both sides would have to "display understanding of the need to resolve such important matters as the signing of a German peace treaty and the solution on the basis of the question of West Berlin, as well as the problem of disarmament under strict international control."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France were scheduled to give Russia a new warning today against interfering with Allied air traffic in the flight corridors between West Germany and West Berlin.

The three Western powers also agreed in formal notes to the Kremlin to reassert their right of unrestricted use of the air corridors for commercial as well as military transportation.

The Western notes constitute a reply to Soviet notes of last Saturday claiming that four-power agreements arising out of the wartime occupation of Germany made no provision for unrestricted commercial air transport in the Berlin corridors.

Russia also renewed in its message to the Western governments its charge that West German agents were being flown to West Berlin for subversive operations against Communist East Germany and the other Soviet-bloc countries.

Washington officials say the Western powers are fully determined not to permit any interference with the Berlin air traffic even if Russia makes a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

(The New York Herald Tribune said it had learned that present administration plans call for the use of Western plane escorts to make sure that commercial planes get through if the Russians harass Allied air traffic along the corridors.)

Hits Poland

May tie US aid to politics

WASHINGTON (CP)—Qualified officials said Thursday the United States may reduce or eliminate economic foreign aid to countries that side with Russia against the West on major foreign issues.

One of the first to be hit may be Poland, a Soviet satellite that in the past has depended heavily on the United States for gifts of grain and other supplies under the U.S. Food-for-Peace program.

A new and tougher policy against the Communist bloc and its sympathizers appears to have its roots in United States annoyance and anger arising out of the Berlin crisis and the Belgrade conference of non-aligned countries.

Officials said Poland, now trying to get more food aid, was a member of the Warsaw Pact countries that supported the erection of a barrier between East and West Berlin.

U.S. aid to Poland, they said, amounted virtually to gifts. Countries that sided with Moscow should go to Moscow for gifts.

The United States was embittered by the mild approach taken at the Belgrade conference to Russia's sudden decision to resume atomic testing. U.S. officials feel that if the U.S. had taken such a step, it would have been subjected to heavy abuse.

On resuming atom tests, Khrushchev said President Kennedy "acted without waiting for a reply from the Soviet Union"—presumably meaning a reply to the joint British-American appeal to the Soviet Union to stop nuclear tests in the atmosphere by Saturday.

Khrushchev did not spell this out, however.

Boy is rescued

NORTH CREEK, N.Y. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy trapped on a 300-foot high ledge on Moxham Mountain was rescued by state police and forest rangers Thursday. Craig Mitchell of Olmsteadville, N.Y., was trapped on the 2,300-foot mountain for about four hours.

The feeling was caused by 321 pennies, 12 nickels, eight dimes and one West German pfennig. The seal also had swallowed a button, metal washer and 16 pebbles. It all came to two pounds, 9½ ounces.

The official cause of death was listed as copper poisoning.

Sinking feeling fatal for seal

SEATTLE (AP)—Frank Vincent, Woodland Park zoo director, told the Seattle park board Thursday a post-mortem showed a seal died of a sinking feeling in the stomach.

The feeling was caused by 321 pennies, 12 nickels, eight dimes and one West German pfennig. The seal also had swallowed a button, metal washer and 16 pebbles. It all came to two pounds, 9½ ounces.

Top target gives some ugly signs

Is the United States prepared to wage war over Berlin? Reporter Gertrude Donatson toured the U.S. to measure the mood of the country as tension continues to mount. Here is his first report.

By GORDON DONALDSON
NEW YORK (TNS)—The smell of worry filters through the creaky air-conditioner.

Two phones buzz and burr. Robert Mulrean and his secretary are talking on them constantly. Talking to scared people.

For this is the public relations office of New York City Civil Defence, deep in the heart of the world's best H-bomb target. It is probably the scariest spot in a nation talking of war, for its customers would be the first to die.

It seemed a good place to ask my question: Are the Americans really going to lead us into a war over Berlin?

In two weeks spent touring the United States I found ugly signs that the answer is yes. I found, not war fever or war hysteria but a stupefying sort of war sickness in the minds of many.

RISK A TRIP TO U.K?
Mr. Mulrean, small, mustached and hurried-looking, was answering a lady who wanted to know if she should risk a trip to London, England, to attend her daughter's wedding.

"Well, madam, if I had the chance of a trip to London I'd take it," he advised.

Did that mean he didn't think there would be a war?
Mulrean drooped slightly. It always went like that. His job was to talk about fallout shelters, stockpiling biscuits, things like that.

Now he had become a kind of spiritual adviser and nerve doctor to people who didn't think Civil Defence was much use but clutched at any crumb of reassurance.

He dodged the question and hung up.

"We used to have maybe a dozen calls a day—now it's increased a hundredfold," he told me. "People are getting very much conscious of Civil Defence. From the CD standpoint this is the most serious crisis we've had since the Korean war."

"And this is the biggest reaction we've had since then."

Are people actually building shelters? "I would say they are," he said cautiously. "We've had 100,000 inquiries in the few weeks since the President's speech. We send out pamphlets—people don't throw them away; they call back for further information—where to find an architect or an engineer."

"We can't tell how many are being built. Some people don't want their neighbors to know they're building them because they're afraid the neighbors will want to come in."

Is there an hysteria? "No. People just ask silly questions. They ask, 'Where can I move to get out of the target area?' Of course we can't answer that—nobody knows. Condon (city

Will seek volunteers in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Recruiting will start immediately to add 15,000 men to Canada's armed forces.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced in the Commons Thursday that the services manpower will be raised to 135,000 from 120,000 to strengthen the civil defence organization, Canadian forces in Europe and the navy.

In addition, 100,000 civilian male volunteers between the ages of 18 and 50 will be enrolled in the militia for six-week courses on national survival operations. They will be paid as regular army privates.

These volunteers will be militiamen even after completion of their courses—which will start in mid-November—and therefore could be called up for service if the government proclaimed the War Measures Act.

The prime minister said: "These courses will provide sufficient basic military training to maintain the discipline and response essential to the control and effective employment of such a force on operations."

The key word here appeared to be "response."

The government has approved an army plan to form 210 mobile rescue columns to evacuate persons from 16 target cities in Canada in event of nuclear bombardment.

150,000 NEEDED
These columns require 150,000 personnel of whom only one-third would be drawn from the regular army and 42,000-member militia.

The columns will be formed mainly in towns and villages in doughnut-shaped areas 20 to 100 miles from target cities. Each column will require 120 soldiers and 380 civilians plus 200 persons in a support role.

The 16 target cities in Canada are St. John's, Nfld., Halifax, Saint John, N.B., Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Niagara Falls, Windsor, Winnipeg, Edmonton.

Russian fallout over N.A.

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Lester Machta, a government fallout expert, says the cloud of radioactive debris from the first of four recent Russian nuclear tests has passed over Western Canada and is expected to cross the northern United States by this weekend.

Machta, a U.S. Weather Bureau official, said the cloud passed in a generally easterly direction from the central Asian detonation site—spanning the Asian mainland, then crossing the Bering Sea.

It crossed all of Alaska Monday and Tuesday and at the same time went over Western Canada.

Machta estimated that by Thursday, the cloud passed over Montana, Washington, Idaho and northern Nevada and the southern part of Canada.

Thereafter, he forecasts, it will move east over at least the northern half of the U.S. By Sunday, it should begin passing over the Atlantic toward Europe.

Machta said he could not estimate when debris from the three later tests would reach Canada and the United States.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"One of the hardest jobs in television," said Dick Powell, "is being the host on a show. What do you say for 45 seconds at the beginning of the show when you really haven't anything to say except please watch?"

Broadcasting—including radio—certainly did not invent the "host" or "master of ceremonies," but because of its requirements it certainly has brought it to its full, if not finest, flowering. Today there are even categories of hosts.

One, of course, is the excessively jolly, hyper-thyroid MC of the day-time audience participation show with his carefully prepared little ad libs. His principal requirements are an easy, ceaseless flow of patter, an ingratiating manner, a firm hand in steering the contestants through their paces and a sincere way with the commercials.

The other major category is the "introducing host," whose primary function is to provide the one threat that ties a varied assortment of shows into a bundle.

Includes Karloff. Eminent practitioners of this specialty are Alfred Hitchcock, whose gagged-up backgrounds and mischievous manner lifted hostmanship into a comedy art form; Boris Karloff, whose on-camera personality is that of a tongue-in-cheek bogeyman; Powell, who prefaced his Zane Grey Theatre shows with thumb-nail lectures on aspects of life in the Old West, and a newcomer, Richard Boone, who has been inviting the viewers to watch this summer's reruns of Playhouse 90 shows.

TV producers obviously believe the host's job to be highly important to the success of a series. It may well be, too, because during the summer Playhouse 90 found a place among TV's 10 most popular shows, a lofty perch it never managed to achieve before.

Show Business

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No satire on Hollywood ever hit so many comic touches as did producer-director George Stevens' recent brush with the Wall Street bankers who apparently are running 20th Century Fox.

If George will direct and Cary Grant will play the hero, (Stevens), there's a sure hit comedy.

Stevens has been at Fox for two years preparing The Greatest Story Ever Told, a Carl Sandburg scripted movie about the life of Christ. Some $2,300,000—including $1,000,000 salary to Stevens—has been expended so far on the film.

Fox lost $25,000,000 in production last year which explains Wall Street's part in the script.

"For some time we have been playing the game, 'Who is Fox?'" says Stevens. He assumed it was Spyros Skouras, still president of the company who weathered a recent, rough stockholders' meeting.

CONFIDENCE GREAT
"George Jr. and I were lunching last week with Skouras in Hollywood while the committee of Wall Street bankers were meeting in New York. Skouras expressed great confidence in our picture."

George Jr. interrupted: "In fact, we thought we had the amber light to go ahead." But the Wall Streeters shelved the picture. They decided in effect, that the life of Christ is not as commercial as Cleopatra with Liz Taylor.

With this move, Stevens said he knew the answer to Who is Fox? so he packed off to New York—taking along a legal brief he had prepared.

George said his meeting with the Wall Street crowd was against all type-casting.

"They were capricious, whimsical artists—and we the businessmen. They think that the movie business is not a business and were surprised when we behaved as businessmen should."

At this, George Jr. interrupted again: "They didn't seem interested in figures or any of the things bankers usually are. They talked for about five minutes about how Wall Street felt about the picture and then they were trying to cast parts."

NOT COMMERCIAL
The Life of Christ, they felt, was not commercial at this time—even though they had never read our script."

George Sr. said the bankers wanted to "postpone indefinitely" the picture.

"I knew this meant forever, so I brought out my legal brief. My contract was a unique one. Fox may not have known where they were going the last two years but we knew where we were going at all times."

"One of the lawyers said my brief was the 'greatest law suit ever filed.'"

Result of the meeting is that Stevens now owns the movie lock, stock and barrel. Fox will get back the $2,300,000 it expended only after the picture makes a $5,000,000 profit.

Nomination deadline over

Two weeks of hard campaigning lie ahead of six candidates for UN party leadership

QUEBEC (CP)—Two weeks of hard campaigning faced six men today as the fight for leadership of the Union Nationale party was in full swing following passing of the early-morning deadline for nominations. The campaigning ends Sept. 23 with the election of a new party leader at the end of the party's three-day convention—its first since it was founded a quarter century ago by the late Maurice Duplessis.

The six candidates are Daniel Johnson (UN—Bagot), Jean-Jacques Bertrand (UN—Missisquo), Yves Gabias (UN—Trois-Rivieres), Mayor Armand Nadeau of Sherbrooke, Montreal lawyer Maurice Hebert and Quebec City lawyer Raymond Maher.

Nominations closed two years to the day and hour after Mr. Duplessis' death in remote Schefferville of a cerebral hemorrhage.

The leadership vote may decide the party's future. At least one of the candidates has indicated he wouldn't be opposed to scrapping the UN and replacing it with a provincial Progressive Conservative party.

Mr. Johnson is a 46-year-old lawyer who was hydraulic resources minister at the time the UN was beaten in the June, 1960 elections.

WAS LANDS MINISTER

Mr. Bertrand, 45, also a lawyer, first was elected in 1948 and was lands and forests minister in the last UN regime.

Mr. Gabias, 44, a former district court judge, holds the Trois-Rivieres seat Mr. Duplessis held through his political career.

Mayor Nadeau at one time practised law with Mr. Duplessis in Trois-Rivieres.

Mr. Hebert, 36, is a Montreal criminal lawyer and unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate in a federal by-election in Montreal Carier in 1949.

Mr. Maher, 49, is a well-known Quebec City lawyer and Road death accidental

COATICOOK — A verdict of accidental death was returned by a five-man coroner's jury here Thursday afternoon into the death of 21-year-old Gaston Lavertu son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lavertu of Coaticook who was killed in an accident involving two cars July 29.

The inquest was presided over by Dr. Louis Gagnon of Sherbrooke, coroner for the St. Francis District, and under the direction of Guy Dupont of the Sherbrooke Provincial Police.

Nine witnesses were called upon to testify.

The principal witness was Mr. Sylvio Quirion, of St. Catherine, driver of the second car involved in the head on collision. He was one of six victims injured in the accident.

Woburn accident

Boy, 5, killed in fall from father's truck

A five-year-old Woburn boy was run over by his father's truck Thursday morning and instantly killed.

Rejean Lecours, seeing his father drive a three-ton truck into the family driveway, ran to meet him, police said.

In attempting to jump onto the running-board of the gravel truck, young Lecours slipped and was crushed under the back wheel.

Lecours, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Lecours of Woburn which is some 18 miles from Lake Megantic, was one of six children.

A coroner's inquest was held immediately after the accident and a verdict of accidental death was returned.

Magog moves on civil defence

Richmond barber

Phoney bill charge brings $500 fine

A Richmond barber was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or in default to spend the next two months in jail by Judge Joseph Marier in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Thursday after being found guilty of passing counterfeit money.

The trial of Aurele Boucher was held two weeks ago and judgment was reserved by Judge Marier until Thursday. Tried at the same time as Boucher was his wife who was charged with being in possession of counterfeit money. She was acquitted.

The crux of Boucher's defence was that he didn't know that the money which he passed at the Sherbrooke race track on Saturday June 3 was counterfeit.

The Crown however produced two witnesses whose testimony convinced Judge Marier of Boucher's guilt.

The first, a waitress at the Rose Restaurant at the Sherbrooke racetrack testified that Boucher had tried to pass a phoney ten on her on Sunday May 28, which was one week before he was apprehended at the racetrack.

The second, an acquaintance of Boucher's told the court that Boucher had told him several times how easy it was to procure counterfeit money and what the actual cost of it was.

Judge Marier stated that because of the testimony given by these two it was impossible to believe that Boucher "didn't know the money was counterfeit."

Before judgment was handed down, defence attorney Paul Gervais asked that the minimum sentence be imposed as this was Boucher's first time before the court and because he was a well known and respected citizen in his home town of Richmond.

If the maximum sentence had been imposed for a counterfeiting offence Boucher could have spent the next 14 years in prison.

He was noticed by the policeman in charge of the jail and was cut down immediately.

Artificial respiration was applied for two hours and Leclerc was revived.

Receives 2 months for suicide attempt

A 38-year-old Sherbrooke man appeared in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Thursday and attempted to commit suicide.

He was sentenced to spend the next two months in prison.

The man, Olivier Leclerc, has become quite notorious in Sherbrooke lately for driving around in his vintage car on which was written many complaints against the municipal and provincial governments.

This was the second time in as many weeks that Leclerc has appeared in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions.

Last week he was sentenced to spend a few days in jail for disturbing the peace. It was while serving this sentence in Sherbrooke Municipal Court on Marquette Street that he attempted to kill himself by hanging himself from the roof of his cell, with his belt, the court was told.

He was noticed by the policeman in charge of the jail and was cut down immediately.

Artificial respiration was applied for two hours and Leclerc was revived.

Thibault to run for re-election

At a huge rally last night at St. Jean Baptiste School, Felix Thibault announced that he would run for re-election for a fourth time as Sherbrooke city council alderman.

Mr. Thibault has been an alderman representing the East Ward for the past nine years.

One of Mr. Thibault's chief organizers in past elections will not be working for him this time because he has decided to oppose Mr. Thibault at the polls for the seat which Mr. Thibault presently holds.

This new opponent is Armand Desbiens who announced several weeks ago his intention to enter the municipal elections as a candidate rather than a supporter.

Auto collides with horse

A car collided with a horse five miles from Weedon on the road near Marleton late Thursday afternoon, killing the horse and sending the car to the scrapyard.

According to Sherbrooke Provincial Police who were called to investigate the accident, Leclerc Belisle, who is presently living at the Brompton Lake Hotel was driving along the highway around 5:30 p.m. when he collided with a horse standing in the middle of the road.

The horse, belonging to Wilfred Berthiaume of Marleton, apparently, wandered out of his pasture onto the highway, police said.

The impact killed the horse and wrecked the 1949 Meteor.

The driver emerged from the wreck unhurt.

City men pass CA exams

Two Sherbrooke men, Fernand Beaudoin and Laurent Beaudoin, are among the successful candidates in this year's Chartered Accountants final examination, results of which were made public Thursday by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Quebec.

Paul Gilles LaFrance, of Sherbrooke, was granted a supplemental final examination. Robert Harvey Lothrop, of Sherbrooke, passed the intermediate examination.

In the Province as a whole a record total of 207 passed the final examination and 46 were granted supplementals.

First places in all of Canada, in both final and intermediate examinations, were won by candidates from the Province of Quebec, both of L'École des Hautes Etudes Commerciales de Montreal. Paul Morimanno finished first among 1118 candidates in the final examination and Reynold Tremblay first among 1304 in the intermediate examination.

Galleries are open Saturdays, Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 to 5 p.m.; also Friday evening 7-9 p.m. at 225 Main St., Cowansville.

Waterloo High School Fair set for Sept. 9th

WATERLOO — The School Fair will be held in the High School on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 9. There will be the usual splendid displays of vegetables, flowers, and cooking, as well as art, sewing and wood working.

The Waterloo-Warden Institute sponsors the fair in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club and many children enter surprisingly good exhibits. It is hoped the adults will show their interest by attending.

Magog Guild to hold tea, sale

MAGOG — St. Faith's Guild met in St. Luke's Church Hall on Wednesday evening, with Mrs. P. Catchpugh and Mrs. M. Whittier as hostesses and 14 members present.

Plans were made for a tea and sale to be held in the church hall on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 14.

A gift donated by Mrs. D. Lowther was raffled and won by Mrs. H. Hudson.

At the next meeting the hostesses will be Mrs. M. Tomlinson and Mrs. G. Fields.

GLEN MURRAY

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seale, who have been visiting in this vicinity, have left for their home in Roslin, Ont.

Mr. Wesley Davidson spent some time visiting his sister, Mrs. Alger Patterson, Mr. Patterson and family. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Patterson and family, of Pointe Claire.

To search for drowning victim

MAGOG — (Special) — A search will be conducted Saturday and Sunday on Lake Memphremagog for the body of Jean Dubois, who drowned Sunday, August 27th.

Mayor Maurice Theroux of Magog, has asked for the cooperation of boat owners to join the hunt, and is also seeking the assistance of skin divers. He asked that anyone with grappling equipment loan them for the search, which is scheduled to commence at 2 p.m. on both days.

Searchers will rally at the Magog Tourist Bureau on Main Street West, opposite the C.P.R. Station.

Monthly meeting held

ROCK ISLAND — (Special) — A committee of Alton Grady, Mayor, Aldermen George Carruthers and Louis Roberge was named at the Tuesday night meeting of the Rock Island Town council to make a study of civil defence.

A few booklets, Eleven Steps to Survival, were received and are in the hands of the committee for study.

The nuisance by-law was adopted and will become effective 15 days after the meeting, on September 20. This prohibits smoke from chimneys which causes a nuisance in the neighborhood, horn blowing at night, and other things of a similar nature.

Hector Grenier was present and asked the Mayor and Council about building a road to his property in East Rock Island. A study is to be made of this and will probably be done as soon as the service road off the new highway is completed.

This new section of road to the Grenier property will save him several miles to Town, for at the present he must travel from his farm via Stanstead.

A permit from the Roads Department has been granted to the International Water Company to lay a water installation under the new highway, not yet completed in the east section of the Town.

Several persons have signified their intentions of building east of the highway, providing water is available to them.

The council is still awaiting the report of lawyer Yves

Other business

Magog's temporary loan of $250,000 from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce was renewed, the extension period to be determined by the Quebec Municipal Commission.

The council also registered receipt of a check for $26,506.85 from the Provincial Government, as the Provincial and Federal share of contribution for winter works.

A ruling on property evaluation will be tabled by the end of September, but school commissions, in accordance with their charters, have asked for the following mill rate. The Roman Catholic board rate payers will pay $1.80 per $100, tax payers of Protestant boards and neutral panel will pay $1.90 per $100, evaluation.

Other items of business heard were: a request for the amendment of a zoning by-law by Roger Audet who is considering the construction of a garage on Hatley Street; a complaint by the sisters of La Providence Hospital, who asked that the sewers be enlarged for their institution; and a protest by the Bell Telephone Company, who are complaining that a third party is using the poles in Magog jointly shared by them and the municipality.

Notice

The Stanstead County Central School Board wishes to correct what may be erroneous impressions created by adverse criticism as regards the education in Stanstead County following the past examination results.

The results achieved in Stanstead schools both this year and previous years are generally comparable with those in other areas. We should not overlook the outstanding achievements of some pupils, but we are striving for further improvement on all levels.

The Central Board in co-operation with the principals has held meetings and discussed the educational curricula with a view to further improvement, concentrating on the basic fundamentals of Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic, a programme which will curtail perhaps some other activities of less importance.

The education of pupils in this County has been the active concern of the Central Board and of the Principals and teachers. The Central Board has the fullest confidence in its principals and teachers, who have always responded in a cooperative manner, and our joint objective is further to improve the education of all pupils in the County.

To assist in achieving this goal, the co-operation and sincere effort of local School Boards, Home and School Association, Parents, and pupils is essential. Support rather than unfounded criticism will make this possible.

Your continued interest in these matters is sincerely appreciated, and we invite you to seek any information you wish from those responsible for education in Stanstead County.

Justified protest

A Toronto magistrate has done a disservice to Canadians, old and new, by his remarks this week in a Toronto court.

Magistrate C. A. Thoburn was sentencing Michael Fakaric, 40 of Sarnia, Ont. to 10 days in jail on an indecent assault charge.

The prisoner, having been found guilty, deserves no sympathy. But the magistrate, in passing sentence, chose to observe that the court list of the day contained no Anglo-Saxon names on similar charges.

The remark has quite properly brought outraged protests from the leaders of ethnic groups in Toronto and will undoubtedly be resented by Canadians of all racial origins.

The magistrate, in an out-of-court attempt at explaining his remark, said four other indecent assault charges had been adjourned until interpreters could be found.

He is further quoted as making the following remarkable statement:

"I think it's significant that these people come from other countries. Some of these people have a different way of life than us. For them, pinching girls is a common occurrence. But that is not our way of life, and I think it should be explained to them when they come here."

For from justifying his original remark this only emphasizes his discriminatory attitude.

If Canada is to progress on its road to full maturity as a nation generalizations of this sort by people in authority cannot be tolerated.

"Highly-placed source"

Do you remember that terse denial issued by the White House in Washington a few days ago?

The one that said Mrs. Kennedy was not expecting a baby?

Well, according to Washington newspaper correspondents, Richard Nixon was the "highly placed source" outside the White House who let slip the tip that prompted the denial.

He is credited with telling some U.S. newspaper men at a Press Club lunch that the president's wife was pregnant.

If the credit is valid, whether the tip was true or not, Nixon must go down in history as one of the more undiplomatic of presidential losers.

As a matter of fact, he was downright rude. You don't have to be a U.S. presidential nominee to know that one doesn't go around telling that kind of story about another man's wife.

Political stew in NYC

Anyone who finds the American political system difficult to understand must be particularly horrified and confused at the campaign presently in progress for the mayoralty of New York City.

The election is set for Nov. 7, but already, the city is boiling and seething with a political stew that seems to most Canadians to be even stranger than the presidential election.

There was even a primary run off — it was held yesterday.

But it could not have affected the position of present Mayor Robert Wagner, who, although a Democrat, is a Liberal party nominee, and his name goes on the November ballot no matter what.

There's an independent in the battle, a Republican, and before the election itself is held, there will be probably be more names representing a whole spectrum of political feeling and thought.

The New York situation is complicated (as far as Canadians are concerned) by the extension of national political parties to the municipal level.

ated (as far as Canadians are concerned) by the extension of national political parties to the municipal level.

This has ramifications back to the state and federal levels, involving questions of political ambitions, past patronage and present favors which may be in no way connected with the good government of New York City.

Added to all this are the many scandals with which the New York City administration is ridden; scandals in a number of fields that don't seem to change much with mayors or other civic officials.

Since New York is among the largest cities in the world, it may simply be demonstrating the logical extreme of big city government. But since urban development is the rule all over North America, let's hope New York is an isolated and unique example of its type.

Our own large cities already have problems enough.

Labor minister Michael Starr

Has a down-to-earth approach

By ROBERT RICE Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Michael Starr brings to the federal cabinet a down-to-earth approach. As minister of labor, he looks responsible to the people for 12 acts of Parliament and 13 branches of a $45,000,000-a-year department, the man in the middle of labor and management, he pulled out the butt and lit it.

"I was brought up to be frugal," he says. Born Nov. 14, 1910, at Copper Cliff, Ont., of parents who came to Canada from the Ukraine. And in the cabinet Mike Starr, came up the hard way. "The basic principle in our household was good housekeeping and frugal ways of living. But on meagre pay my father always managed to pay his way. His example to us was to be honest and conscientious."

He was out of school after grade IX and at work. At age 15, he was a printer's devil in the Oshawa Times at $5 a week. At another job, he framed pictures for 16 cents an hour.

When he had the chance he went back to school to earn a commercial diploma from the Oshawa Collegiate and Vocational Training Institute, taking 13 courses in one year with an average mark of 89 per cent.

From his own experience, he knows the value of education—even more so now that education and vocational training are cornerstones of long-range government policies to meet the unemployment problem.

For many thousands of Canadians the frontier of the future lies in the realm of expanded educational opportunities," he says. His department, one of the smallest in terms of staff but one of the most influential in terms of working conditions and pay, plays a major role in trying to fit Canada for its future needs as an industrialized country.

"This is the age of the skilled worker—the age of automation. In the field of technical change, our industrial operation must never be allowed to become so big, so aloof, so indifferent as to lose sight of the individual and his needs."

Behind the man in the neat grey single-breasted suit is the practical politician, a man who first rode into politics on a second-hand bicycle.

"There's no better way of winning votes than getting out on a bicycle and seeing that complaints about roads are attended to," he says, recalling how he campaigned as an alderman in Oshawa.

Cycling days are behind the 50-year-old cabinet minister now. He drives a car, but leaves it in the garage at home, preferring to walk when he can in Ottawa.

He was an alderman from 1944 to 1949 when he was elected mayor of Oshawa. He won four mayoralty elections, two by acclamation, before entering the Commons in a 1952 byelection in Ontario constituency, which includes his hometown and a wide rural area around it.

In Ottawa, his whole life revolves around his work.

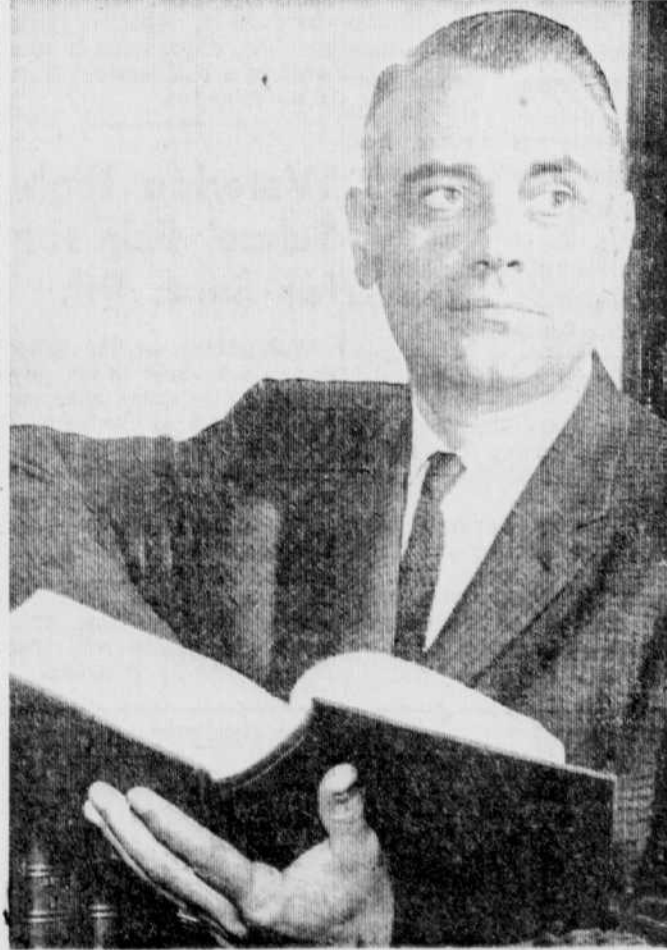

A man who likes to start early, he leaves his hotel room—a $85-a-week bedroom—and walks the two blocks to Parliament Hill for breakfast in the Parliamentary restaurant. Walking helps keep his husky figure down to 189 pounds.

"I'm methodical," says Mr. Starr. "I enjoy office work—it's what I've done for over 24 years. I think I'm exacting but not hard on my staff. We work as a team here." Perhaps the key to the staying power of his easy-going, friendly person is his ability to relax—even to grab a snooze in the evening on his office couch.

Away from work, he likes to read a light novel, watch a western on television, and back in Oshawa talk to people on the street and with "the boys" in the Rotary Club.

"I'm not too fussy about parties, but I enjoy them when I can meet some of my friends I don't generally see often." He sums up his creed this way: "The critical element in labor-management relations is good faith. You cannot legislate good faith if it isn't there. If it is there, you don't need legislation."

"I advocate an open-minded approach in labor-management relations. One thing is certain. The human element in labor can be ignored only with peril. Labor is not a commodity. Labor means men and women, bringing up families, educating children, paying taxes, supporting the community."

MINISTER WITH EXPERIENCE — Labor Minister Michael Starr brings some experience as a worker to his cabinet position. He was out of school and working at age 15 but later returned to school to earn a commercial diploma. Mr. Starr, 50, born in Copper Cliff, Ont., was mayor of Oshawa, Ont., for four terms before entering the Commons in a 1952 byelection in the riding of Ontario. (CP Photo)

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir: Since 1928, an increasing number of churches and ministers have been endorsing and observing October 4 — dedicated to St. Francis of Assisi — personally know Christ within us the deeper our understanding and Love is for all creatures, and more sensitive we are to the cruelty and sufferings inflicted by mankind, also more conscious of our duties involved in their well-being, and of our responsibility in being our brothers' keepers! Yours sincerely E. CLIFFORD PRATT

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

WAS DIAMOND BID ACCIDENTAL?

I don't know exactly what South had in mind when he rebid two diamonds, but the final contract of four spades was reasonable.

When it came to the actual play, the diamond bid really proved effective. To start with, it kept West from opening that suit and if he had opened it, South would almost surely have gone down two tricks.

Instead, West opened a trump. East's jack forced South's ace and South promptly led a second trump.

West won with the king and now made a losing play. He led a third trump. When both sides play the same suit, one must be wrong. South was playing trumps. It was up to West to lead something else.

Once this third trump was led South had smooth sailing. He led a club toward his queen. West won with the king and led a diamond, but by this time the boat had sailed. South went up with dummy's ace, played ace and another club and eventually discarded his jack of hearts and third diamond on the long clubs. West should have led a diamond when he got in with the king of spades. South had bid diamonds, but West had nothing to lose by playing the suit since

With the diamond shift at that point South would have had no way to make the hand. He could go after the clubs but he would not get the suit set up

Bygone Days

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Tuesday September 8, 1936)

Sixteen year-old Godfred Cote captured the Strachino Cup for the second year in succession on Saturday afternoon when he was declared winner of the annual three mile swim on the Magog River sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association. In reality, Cote did not finish the long grind first, but the entry who negotiated the distance ahead of him, L. Harding, made the mistake of not coming in out of the water at the finish line.

FIVE YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Saturday September 8, 1956)

Construction will start on the Sherbrooke airport next spring. This was announced yesterday by Mr. Maurice Gingues, M.P. for Sherbrooke, who said in effect that an airport had been approved for the Sherbrooke region even though the site had not been definitely settled.

Barring any fatalities over the coming weekend within the city limits, Sherbrooke will have gone four complete calendar months without a traffic fatality: the last one being on May 9th, when an American Citizen lost his life at the corner of Ball and Gillespie Sts.

Mrs. Ruby Nicholls, of Danville, received a trophy won by her pupils in the Canadian National Exhibition competition for Public School murals. The mural was made by grade two pupils in the Asbestos-Danville-Shipton High School in Danville, Que.

in time for the diamond discard.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Dmd. Pass 1 Heart Pass 2 Hearts Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-3-2, Hearts K-8-7-6, Diamonds A-K-5, Clubs 3-2.

What do you do? A—Bid two spades. Your partner may have raised you with only three hearts. In this case he will make some rebid other than hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION Your partner bids two no-trump over your two spades. What do you do?

PENNY POST

Rowland Hill in 1840 introduced the penny post system in England whereby the charge was a penny per half-ounce, regardless of distance.

Civil war is averted in Brazil

Brazil's search for stability is far from over, although for the present the danger of civil war seems averted by the peaceful arrival of Vice-President Joao Goulart in the capital.

The proposed transfer of real power from the presidency to a newly-created office of prime minister is unlikely to be achieved without intense political struggle in view of Brazil's history and traditions.

Political and military personalities, as opposed to parties, have often played a dominant role in Brazilian affairs and it was in this tradition that president Janio Quadros suddenly resigned Aug. 25 because he felt his reform programs were being stymied.

Brazil's three military chiefs turned thumbs down on the succession of Vice-President Goulart on the ground he was pro-Communist. As if in support of their argument, Goulart then became a Communist.

Although the armed forces did not present a united front against Goulart—powerful elements supported him—it was obvious he could not take office without bloodshed until the day the service was adopted of stripping the presidency of its key powers.

The outcome of the crisis has great implications since Brazil, with 3,288,000 square miles, is the world's fifth largest country. Almost as big in area as Canada, it has a population of nearly 70,000,000.

Mineral wealth is vast but comparatively undeveloped. Brazil is the world's top producer of coffee and bananas and second in hogs and sugar—although only 10 per cent of cultivable land is being worked.

Once a kingdom, Brazil became a republic in 1899. Since 1930, when a military junta took control, the country has fought depression, inflation and economic crises.

Between 1930 and 1934, Brazil was dominated by Dr. Getulio Vargas, whose suicide ended an era. It was Vargas' old Labor party that gave Goulart his political base and he has twice been elected vice-president — elections for vice-president and president are separate in Brazil.

Some observers feel that Goulart—he is only 42—is unlikely to be satisfied long with a figurehead job regardless of what constitutional changes may be made.

Proposals for a parliamentary system of government rather than presidential have been made repeatedly in Brazil since 1946 when a constituent assembly drafted a new constitution.

All the pleasures of a garden

A MINIATURE GARDEN in a bowl, with dwarf trees and plants. This kind of indoor garden decoration is quite easy to arrange. There is a wide range of small plants and trees to choose from and they can be kept healthy for many years.

By MOLLY DOWERING

Indoor gardening has become a big business. You can now have a garden in your flat, and the indoor garden trade will supply plants and trees to decorate the home or the office.

The late Constance Spry, who revolutionised the whole conception of flower arrangement and decoration in Britain, was one of the first to appreciate the possibilities of indoor gardening. She was certainly influenced by the centuries-old craft of the Japanese in cultivating miniature trees, which never grow higher than a few inches. There are also small ferns, cacti or other succulent plants which, set in suitable soil in a trough of stone or clay, may be kept in healthy condition for many years. This kind of thing is not expensive and the miniature gardens do not take much time or trouble.

Appeal For City Dwellers

Indoor gardens have a strong appeal for city dwellers because they can keep a touch of beauty in the home or office far more cheaply than constant supplies of cut flowers, and as the popularity of indoor gardens has increased, the range of plants has widened.

Many tropical plants are now grown in temperate climates for interior decorations. In Sydney, Australia, it has been estimated that more than $1,000,000 a year is spent on plant decoration.

A considerable trade has grown up in the supply of suitable plant material. Africa and the Far East have a large range of plants suitable for gardening in the home and the trade may well expand as more countries adopt this new version of an old craft.

Tips for parents

By EDITH HENRY
Parent Education Associates

My name is Bernie and the last time I wrote to you I was only two and a half. Now I am three years old.

I can't write so often as "Henry" does because he is eleven. I don't know all he knows, but I know quite a lot just the same. When I grow up I'm going to have a real column. I may call it "Henrietta."

Sometimes when I write you it is because I am in trouble. Then my Mummy reads this column, so she finds out your answers, and she is better to me.

NO TROUBLE
But do you know what? This time I'm not in any trouble at all. I'm not like Henry's friends. They always have problems. I just thought you would like to hear about something.

Well, one evening my Mummy was reading your column and she suddenly sprang up and said to Daddy:

"Oh! boy, just listen to this: 'It's a fine thing for a mother to go off once in a while on a visit by herself.' Me for the wide open spaces!"

So we all got in the car and went off to the travel agent, and bought a ticket for Mummy for a jet something or other.

In a few days we went out to the airport. It was very exciting. There were crowds and crowds of people, laughing or crying.

Daddy nearly cried and so did Mummy, but they didn't quite. Presently Mummy kissed us and went quickly out a door. Daddy and I went up to the roof and Daddy said: "There she goes."

LOOKING AFTER DADDY
So now I'm looking after Daddy. I wanted you to know that we're getting on terribly well.

Daddy's building me a playhouse and I'm not bothering him while he's reading. We've been out to dinner to have hamburgers, and Daddy is helping me write this.

I never knew before that Fathers could be so useful. Daddy is my friend.

Of course, Daddy says he's not enjoying himself, and Mummy writes that absence makes the heart grow fonder. We wish she would come home.

CHANGE SIX TIMES
I am very happy. I can change my dress six times every day, and Daddy never says a word. And I don't have to wash my face or my knees every time either.

Henry isn't the right age to wash much either is he?

So now you know your column works.
NOTE: You are right, Bernie. At eleven, boys don't wash more than they have to. Glad you and Daddy are friends. Keep it that way! (TNS)

Ruth Millett

Today's young wives will teach their experiences

Last year more girls in the United States married at 18 than at any other age.

I predict the daughters of these 18-year-old brides will marry at a later age than their mamas who tripped down the aisle in 1960.

Why? Because the mamas will see to it. That's why. They will know from experience that 18 is a little young for taking on the responsibilities of marriage.

Even if their own marriages succeed (and many will fail) they will realize soon enough that in giving up their right to a carefree girlhood they short changed themselves.

If they also gave up the opportunity of further education, they not only disappointed their parents but also short-changed their children.

And, so, they will do everything in their power to keep their own daughters from rushing into marriage at 18. They'll be against dating too early, against steady dating in the early teens. They'll know better than to hurry their daughters into growing up.

And so the pendulum will very likely begin to swing away from early marriage, as mothers who married young, themselves do their best to see to it that their daughters aren't in quite such a big rush to marry and settle down.

By age 25, many of 1960's brides who married at 18 or younger will have realized that they could have had their cake and eaten it, too. That is, that they could have enjoyed their girlhood a few more years and still have had plenty of time for marriage and motherhood and responsibilities and hard work.

And they'll do their best to see that their daughters realize that fact before they say "I do," instead of afterward, when it is too late.

Britain's famed mustard and cress has arrived here

MONTREAL (CP)—The first consignment to Canada of Britain's famed "mustard 'n' cress" has arrived in Montreal for shipment to stores across the country.

Its export was made possible by the invention of a method of keeping it alive—indeed, growing—for long periods of time.

Seeds of the tender salad greens are mechanically sprayed into small plastic containers packed with sterilized peat moss.

After four days' growth in greenhouses, the packaged cress is shipped by refrigerated truck and boat. Refrigeration inhibits growth in transit, but the cress resumes growth when brought into warm air.

Britishers' affection for "mustard 'n' cress" is tied up with tradition as much as taste, since most school children's first biology lesson consists of cultivating the seeds on damp blotting paper and watching them germinate and grow.

During the strict food rationing of the last war, the British government made cress a compulsory crop and householders were issued with instructions on how to use it in cooked foods and salads to ward off the dangers of malnutrition.

It is particularly good in sandwiches and enriches the flavor of eggs, ham, cheese and fish fillings. It can be used to garnish almost any dish.

Brownies make happy coffee talk

When a pair of coffee mugs have matching designs, they're Mugmates. Mugmates belong to best friends, people who like to share friendly talk over steaming cups of coffee.

These smiling Mugmates belong to a girl and her best friend. In the mugs? Hot coffee. Surrounding them? Stacks of delicious Peanut Brownies — enough for a whole crowd of Mugmates!

PEANUT BROWNIES

1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup creamy peanut butter, 2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup coarsely chopped peanuts, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Combine butter, peanut butter and chocolate in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until chocolate melts, stirring to blend. Beat eggs. Add sugar gradually, while beating. Add chocolate mixture; beat hard 1 minute. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and vanilla. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350°, 40 minutes or until done. Cut into squares while warm.

Canadian women stingy when using perfume

By HELEN PARMELEE

TORONTO—This is a watch-bird watching you. Are you a perfume stingy?

Do you dab a touch of perfume behind one ear, then plenty about perfume I didn't know before: how to choose it properly; some novel ways to use it; types of scents and when to wear them.

TAKE IT SLOWLY
About testing it: Test only three different perfumes at once. And don't test by running a stopper past your nose. Rub one scent on your wrist and sniff, then walk around the store and think about it. Repeat this twice more and if you still can't make up your mind, try again another day.

About keeping it: Don't array pretty perfume bottles on your dresser. Keep them in a drawer away from the light and make sure the stopper is in tightly. You can bring them out for display on party occasions.

About mixing scents: Don't kill one scent with another, but follow through with the same fragrance in cologne, soap, bath powder and oil, sachet.

Some women choose a scent to suit their personality and use it constantly as a sort of "signature."

About applying it: Put it on the pulse spots such as inside wrists, inside the arm crook, at the side of the neck, at the temples, even behind the knees. It will last three to four hours and then need replenishing from a purse vial.

LET IT LINGER
If you're using an atomizer, spray a fine mist about your clothing too so the scent will linger.

A drop or two on your handkerchief will give a pleasant scent to your purse when it's opened. And a cotton pellet saturated with perfume and tucked in your bra will last all day. Next day toss the pellet in your lingerie drawer to make double use of the fragrance.

that makes Canadian women timid about using it.

During my sleuthing I learned plenty about perfume I didn't know before: how to choose it properly; some novel ways to use it; types of scents and when to wear them.

FRUITY—a clean, fresh citrus blend, good for morning wear.

FLORAL—a demure scent, the fragrance of one type of flower such as gardenia, lily of the valley, lilac.

FLORAL BOUQUET — an undertone of zing from a full-bodied base such as musk or amber.

FOREST — a woody-mossy leafy blend for the suede jacket, walk in the wood occasion.

MODERN—a sparkling scent for a witty, sophisticated mood.

SPICY—a touch of ginger, clove and cinnamon to make you feel piquant and perhaps impudent.

ORIENTAL—a frankly exotic aroma to add mystery and allure to your evening. Oh yes, your private investigators spotted a bottle of perfume costing $125. Oh no, I didn't have any trouble resisting it. (TNS).

FRIENDS MANNERS MAKE

If someone makes a deliberately unkind remark, go right ahead and verbally hit back. But don't embarrass the person who is less.

The southern mockingbird, sometimes seen in Quebec and Ontario, mimics songs of other species but also has its own tuneful song.

Thetford Field Day Is Slated For Weekend

The fifth annual Thetford Mines Golf Club Field Day will be held Sunday. This is open to professionals and amateurs with prizes for both.

The pros and class A and B will play Sunday while Saturday is reserved for class C golfers. A good field is expected to compete in this popular event.

Rodolphe Huot of Royal Quebec, Andre Cazas of Levis, Joe Leblanc of Sherbrooke, Jean Guy Periard of Boucherville and Harry Fowles of Massawippi have already subscribed and several other top pros from Quebec and the States will be on hand.

In the amateur field Henry Setlakwe of the host club and amateur champion of the Townships is favored to cop the low gross of the field and class A honors. It is expected that Don Doe, Larry Perry, E. T. Open Amateur champion, and several other top amateurs will be on hand.

Maris' Chances Of Breaking Ruth's Home Run Record Never Brighter, No Changes In Batting Order-Houk

NEW YORK (AP) — Never were Roger Maris' chances of breaking Babe Ruth's home run record brighter than today.

The Yankee slugger smashed another four-bagger Thursday night in New York's 7-3 triumph over Cleveland to increase his season output to 55, only five shy of the mark Ruth set with the Yankees of 1927. He is seven games ahead of the Babe's record pace.

It seems no longer a question as to whether the left-handed half of the Mantle-Maris socking duo will break the homer record, but how soon?

Maris remains firm in his refusal to discuss the possibilities but even Mantle and manager Ralph Houk acknowledged his chances were "excellent."

Houk, in fact, hinted broadly that Maris might even do it before the Indians leave town Sunday night.

"He should be able to hit a few homers off the right-handers Dykes (Cleveland manager Jimmy Dykes) will throw at us in the remaining four games," Houk said.

The records bear out the manager. Maris has slugged Jim Perry for three home runs and Gary Bell for two. He's faced Mudeat Grant twice and Barry Latman only once this year, not hitting any off either.

YIELDED 100 HOMERS

The four Cleveland right-handers have been clipped for the astonishing total of 100 home runs this season. Perry has yielded 28, Bell 27, Grant 25 and Latman 20.

Mantle's best Thursday was a two-bagger in four times at bat. He has 51 homers.

Gerard Bedard Protests Over NBA Decision

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP) — Gerard Bedard, president of the Canadian Boxing Federation, said Thursday he is considering sponsorship of a motion to sever affiliation with the National Boxing Association.

He said in a statement he is dissatisfied with the NBA's action in passing over Charlie Mayer of Montreal for the NBA presidency at its convention in Hershey, Pa.

Bedard described it as "an insult" to Canada.

Mayer, 51, a sports columnist and publicist, was formerly the NBA's first vice-president.

In the past NBA officers have traditionally moved up a notch with each annual election.

But this year the convention shunted Mayer aside and elected Dr. Charles Larson of Tacoma, Wash., to succeed president Dave Ott of Cleveland.

The move came after the NBA executive adopted a constitutional amendment making only officers of state, provincial or municipal athletic commissions eligible for the executive.

Mayer is a vice-president of the Canadian federation, a national body. He was at one time a member of the Montreal athletic commission, an appointed post.

But he lost his seat on the commission following last October's municipal elections in Montreal.

Stephan Smith Sets World Pacing Record

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The world pacing record for 1 1/2 miles was shattered Thursday night by Stephan Smith, a five-year-old stallion owned by Harold McGinnis of Franklin, Ind. (Gene Sears drove Stephan Smith past the finish line in the $25,000 Eingle G. Pace at Yonkers Raceway in 3:03 2/5, a full second off the mark held by Adios Harry and Widower Creed.

Stephan Smith, paying $15.00, got up in the last stride to beat Apmat by a head for the $12,500 purse. Right Time, the early pace-setter, was third.

Paul Richards Gets $60,000 From Houston

Houston, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards signed a three year contract Thursday at a reported salary of $60,000 a year as general manager of the National League Houston Colts.

Richards resigned last Friday as field manager of the Baltimore Orioles of the American League, ending two months of speculation that he was to become general manager of the Houston baseball club entering the major leagues next year.

Richards succeeds Gabe Paul, who resigned April 27 to become general manager of the Cleveland Indians. Paul had moved to Houston Oct. 25 from the Cincinnati Reds.

Adios Don And Lang Hanover Favored Tonight

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Adios Don, winner of nine of 12 starts this year, and Lang Hanover, who recently reeled off a mile in 1:37 4/5 headed a field of 11 three-year-old pacers in the $110,950 William H. Cane Pace at Yonkers tonight.

The pair recently hooked up in the Review Futurity over the mile oval at Springfield, Ill., with Lang Hanover winning the first heat in 1:57 4/5 and Adios Don the second in 1:58 4/5. In the race-off, Adios Don won in 2:06 1-5.

Other vaunted sophomore sidewheelers entered are Cape Horn, Adios and Al Sam, Cold Front, Mighty Tide, Hogan Hanover, Flying Baker and Star Gem.

The Cane Pace is the first of the triple crown for three-year-old pacers. The $70,000 Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio, Sept. 21 and the $150,000 Messenger at Roosevelt Raceway Nov. 18 complete the series.

The world pacing record for 1 1/2 miles was lowered to 3:03 2/5 by Harold McGinnis' Stephan Smith of Franklin, Ind., in the $25,000 Single G. Pace Thursday night.

Tigers Lose Seventh Straight To Drop Out Of Contention, Orioles Gain On Detroit, Pirates Win 7-5

Roger Maris, an old hand at busting barriers, he once crashed through a wooden fence chasing a fly ball, now is within five home runs of tying Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60.

Maris hit No. 55, his second in two games, as New York Yankees cracked Cleveland Indians 7-3 Thursday night. Only three other challengers to Ruth's supreme 60 in 1927 ever have been this close — Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg and Hack Wilson.

Foxx got to 58, but no nearer, with the old Philadelphia A's in 1932. Greenberg also finished 58, for Detroit in 1938. Wilson stopped at 56 with Chicago Cubs when he set the National League record in 1930.

Ruth is the only other slugger ever to hit as many as 55 in one season. He did it in 1927 when he got his 60 and also hit 59 in 1921. But in the 23 years since Greenberg's try, no one has come closer than 54 in the majors. Ralph Kiner hit that many for Pittsburgh in 1949.

Maris, who startled Cleveland defenses with a drag bunt that brought in a run his first at-bat Thursday night, still is seven games ahead of the Babe's record pace. He has 14 games in which to break Ruth's mark within the limit of 154 team decisions set by commissioner Ford Frick.

Teammate Mickey Mantle, his total still at 51, fell two games behind Ruth's pace when he failed to connect for the second straight game. But the Mick doubled home the tie-breaking run that gave the Yanks their eighth straight victory and a run-away, nine-game lead over Detroit in the American League pennant chase.

TIGERS LOSE SEVENTH

The second-place Tigers lost their seventh in a row, 8-4 at Detroit in an afternoon game. Third place Baltimore edged the Tigers 3-1 in a game that was a double home run tie-breaker. The Yanks' eighth straight victory and a run-away, nine-game lead over Detroit in the American League pennant chase.

BLEW LEAD

The Tigers, a week ago just their second in a row, 8-4 at Detroit in an afternoon game. Third place Baltimore edged the Tigers 3-1 in a game that was a double home run tie-breaker. The Yanks' eighth straight victory and a run-away, nine-game lead over Detroit in the American League pennant chase.

Columbus Knock Over Richmond 9-5 As Jets Belt Four Hurlers For Win

A post-mortem to Richmond's Sada and pitcher Tom Sisk. Referred Duke Maas couldn't put out the fire without giving up two more runs, and this proved to be enough for an easy Columbus win.

Columbus starter Tom Sisk, in gaining his second win in five decisions, yielded 10 hits and bled a two-run lead in the third inning when Don Lock doubled home three tallies.

Dick Gray and Larry Elliot were the big spoilers in Richmond's home park finale. Gray scored three runs and Elliot batted in three, with two doubles. Elliot's two-bagger tumbled under a five-run attack by Columbus in the fourth.

With two outs, the Jets' Bill Short, closed the lid on the knocked-out five hits, including Virginia's Bronstad's loss run-producing singles by Ed made him 6-12 for the season.

NBA Backs Up Six-Month Rule And Orders Patterson To Defend Title

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The National Boxing Association backed off its six-month rule Thursday and gave heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson another six months to defend his title.

The NBA world championships committee said the extension was necessary "because of the many time-consuming problems connected with promotion of heavyweight matches."

The new rule requires the boxers actually to fight within the time limit; not just sign for a fight. The title fight must be with the highest ranking challenger available approved by the NBA.

The convention also unanimously adopted a rule banning return bouts clauses.

AFL Opens This Season Saturday

The American Football League shoves off on its second season Saturday and Sunday with the repeat of an exhibition game headlining the opening schedule.

Dallas will be out for revenge because the Texans clash with San Diego in the Dallas Cotton Bowl Sunday afternoon. It was San Diego that dimmed the Texans' bright hopes last Sunday with a 31-10 strapping.

Prospects aren't good for Dallas to do any better in the league game since it still is crippled.

Houston, defending champion, starts its league race next Friday night in a clash with Oakland, New York and Boston tangle at Boston.

Denver plays Buffalo at Buffalo Sunday afternoon in the other league opener.

Rod Laver Has Talk With Kramer, Miss Hard Wins

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) Rod Laver, the overwhelming choice to win the national tennis championship, admitted Thursday that he had talked greenbacks with professional czar Jack Kramer.

"But," said the carrot-topped Australian southpaw, "my plans are indefinite until after the Davis Cup challenge round. I'll definitely remain an amateur until then."

"After that, I don't know. I wouldn't want to say one thing and mean another."

Laver blasted his way into the quarter-final round Thursday with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 decision over Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif.

Rafael Osuna, 22-year-old Mexican Davis Cupper, also pulled into the quarters by upsetting Bob Mark of Australia, 6-3, 6-4, 8-6.

West Invades East With Roughriders At Montreal Tonight

Als Will Be Seeking First Win While Eskis Meet Riders Tomorrow And Move To Hamilton For Monday

The west invades the east in a weekend of Canadian Football League action that pits the Western Conference leaders against the two teams tied for first spot in the Eastern Conference.

The attack from the prairies begins tonight when Saskatchewan Roughriders, third in the Western Conference, meet the last-place Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four. The Riders move to Toronto Sunday for a game against the third-place Argonauts.

But the eye-catching battles will be Saturday when Edmonton Eskimos, tops in the west, meet Ottawa Rough Riders and Monday night when they visit Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The Riders and Tiger-Cats are tied for leadership in the east with eight points.

The Riders beat the Eskimos 16-6 in last year's Grey Cup game at Vancouver.

Ottawa halfback Ron Stewart tied with three others in the Eastern scoring race, is expected to return to action after a one-game layoff with an injury.

CATS ARE RESTED

The Tiger-Cats will have one advantage when the Eskimos travel there Monday. It will have been a week since Hamilton played, compared to Eskimos' two days. Coach Jim Trimble gave the Hamilton club a couple of nights off practice this week to rest after their Labor Day game against Toronto.

"In some respects were stronger," he said. "Our blocking is better, for example. It will take some juggling but we can shift around."

E.T. Senior Golf Tourney At Cowansville

The annual Eastern Townships Senior golf tournament will be held at the Cowansville Golf Club Saturday, Sept. 9th.

This is the first year the Senior event has not been held on the same weekend as the E.T. Amateur. It was decided that it would be better if it was run separately owing to the large field competing in the Amateur.

The field will be divided into three sections, according to age. The classes will be 50 to 60 years, 61 to 70 years and 71 years and up. There will be prizes for each section and the player emerging with the low gross of the field will cop the title.

Players can tee off anytime after 9.00 and the foursomes will be formed when they register. It is expected that a good field will be on hand to take part in the event. The Amateur was held at Drummondville this year.

Billy Reay Named Coach Of Buffalo

BUFFALO (AP)—Billy Reay, 43, former National Hockey League player and coach, will be the new coach of Buffalo of the American Hockey League, the Buffalo Courier-Express says today.

Confirmation will probably be made when the Bison training camp opens Monday, the Courier-Express says.

Reay will succeed the late Frank Eddols who died of a heart attack Aug. 13.

Olmstead Gets Two-Year Deal From Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Bert Olmstead, veteran left winger with Toronto Maple Leafs, signed a two-year contract with the National Hockey League team Thursday.

Other details of the contract were not announced but the 35-year-old Sceptre, Sask., native said it was "the best contract I have ever signed."

Olmstead came to Toronto in the 1959-60 season after seven years with Montreal Canadiens. The fiery veteran, who had 18 goals and 34 assists despite a series of injuries last season, will be entering his 12th NHL campaign. He broke in with Chicago Black Hawks in the 1949-50 season before moving to Canadiens the following term.

Rough Riders Place Kelly On Waiver List

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders of the Eastern Football Conference have placed halfback Joe Kelly and tackle Jerry Beabout on waivers, the club announced Thursday.

The cuts bring the Grey Cup champion team's import contingent down to the required 34 players.

Inter-Locking Schedule May Be In Offering For Professional Soccer

A partial East-West interlocking schedule along the lines of the Canadian Football League would be in line for professional soccer in 1962.

"We have a meeting lined up with parties interested in forming pro clubs in the West after our playoffs next month," says Harold Ballard of Toronto, president of the four-team Eastern Canada League. "We're ready to go as soon as the mechanics are set up and there's a real good possibility that Western teams will come in."

Ballard, who has made two swings through the west in the last few months, reported in an interview that Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg interests have "shown enthusiasm" about setting up pro teams next year. He said that Vancouver men are "hot as pistols" about the possibility of an East-West schedule. Edmonton and Winnipeg officials are "more than interested" and Regina and Calgary are "interested, but all they need is somebody to take a hold of this thing."

"If four teams are formed in the west the logical solution is to interlock the schedule operated exactly as the CFL. We would have Eastern and Western divisions and an East-West playoff."

Ballard said the 1962 season would start during the first week of May and finish at the end of July.

"This year we opened in June and our playoffs will run into early October. Most of our top-flight players have returned to their teams in Europe, but with an early start and finish we'll be able to retain them throughout our season."

Another reason for the proposed early opening is what Ballard terms "the almighty buck."

"This year, we are bucking baseball, football and other sports that run well into the autumn. Our teams this year won't lose money but it may be tough later on this month when football gets into full stride and people start talking about hockey and the World Series."

"In 1962, we won't have to worry about these other sports."

Preparation is vital to a good paint job

Although there are surfaces that can be painted with any of the three — any large flat surface for example — you will find that one type will be more suitable for a particular job than another.

Brushes are the oldest of the three and although a certain amount of skill is necessary, the average user can generally acquire enough skill to do a passable job.

Buy good brushes to begin with. They are worth the extra dollars in terms of the better job they will do and the extra years they will last. Of course, how long they last depends on the care you give them. Essentially, all this means is cleaning them immediately when you finish painting.

For the ordinary house siding, a brush is the best choice. And for trim — around doors, windows — the brush is just about the only choice.

Fast Spray
Sprays are expensive but they're the fastest way to paint. Rough shingles are often easier to paint with a spray than brush. Masonry walls also take well to spraying.

Using a sprayer calls for skill. Too close and the paint will pile up and run. Too far and it will be thin and speckled. If you don't move the gun evenly, keeping it the same distance from your work all the time, the coat will not be even. Do not work in the wind. Do not work in the vicinity of a flame.

The Record's Farm Report

Feed grain prospects are now shaping up. Ontario and Quebec may have to depend on U.S. supplies for as much as half or more of their normal feed grain "imports". In recent years, Ontario and Quebec have each been bringing in an average of 1.1 million tons of feed grain a year (Atlantic provinces brought in about 240,000 tons a year) under feed freight assistance from the Prairies. These imports have been about 25 to 30 per cent of Ontario's requirements and close to 50 per cent of Quebec's.

Production of feed grains in these two provinces in 1961 was expected to be somewhat above normal. DBS's first preliminary forecast of crop production was due to be released late today. But any increase in the two central provinces will be short of enough to meet the deficiency in supplies available from the Prairies. When the Prairie harvest is finally completed, oat production is likely to be down 50 per cent from last year and barley down 35 to 40 per cent.

Stocks of oats in Canada, on July 31, at 94.4 million bushels (most of it on farms in the Prairies) are well below normal. Barley stocks at 106.4 million bushels (half of it on Prairie farms) were close to normal. By reaching into these farm held stocks as far as possible, the Prairies may be able to send about half their usual feed shipments to eastern Canada.

The rest of eastern Canada's requirements will have to come from south of the border. Corn has been pressed to take some action on the surpluses, since direct action to reduce price support will be postponed until after the election. Provincial milk control boards have been sounded out on ways of reducing the surpluses of fluid milk now being diverted into butter. Discussions have been started with baking firms to promote their use of butter oil at reduced prices. But with competing vegetable oils available at 20 cents or less a pound, Board losses could be heavy on such deals.

The Stabilization Board has raised its resale for cheese to 33 cents,—its purchase price in Ontario is 32 cents and in Quebec 31½ cents. In addition an export subsidy of four cents a pound for cheese exported to the United Kingdom was recently approved.

LAMB DIFFICULTIES
Initial problems in getting lamb carcass grading underway include a shortage of qualified graders to meet the special needs of lamb grading; many of the lambs are coming to market without ear tags; and export in Quebec and the Mari-

DAIRY PRICES
Ottawa is taking limited action on a broad front to try to keep abreast of increases in production and stocks of dairy products.

Milk production turned sharply upward in July, 5.1 per cent above July last year. Consumption of fluid milk is increasing at less than two per cent, so the surplus has been going into other dairy products. A rapid increase in storage stocks of other dairy products has resulted. Stocks at August 1 (with August 1, 1960 in brackets) show the picture, in millions of pounds,—butter 140, (127); buter oil 30, (2.7); cheese 60.7, (58); evaporated whole milk 71, (56.7); and skim milk powder 44.4, (30.9).

If these mergers could not be dissolved by the courts the Commission recommends that Canada Packers be prevented from making any further mergers such as might lessen competition in the meat packing industry.

MORT MEKLE

I'M SORRY, WINTHROP... I TRIED.

I TALKED IT OVER WITH THE MANAGER, BUT HE SAYS YOU HAVE TO CARRY IT.

ALLRIGHT! I'LL CARRY IT, BUT IT'S GOING TO MAKE IT MIGHTY AWKWARD FOR ME WHEN I TRY TO PITCH!

NOT TO MENTION WHAT IT'LL DO TO MY SELF ESTEEM.

WILL YOU TRADE THIS PITCHER FOR PLAYERS? (BUT ONLY USED PLAYERS, PLEASE OR WE'VE TIME TO GO!)

times, lambs are still being purchased on a live basis.

But most difficulty in Ottawa is being encountered on price support. With so much lamb being sold by chain store retailers as specials at low prices, it has become virtually impossible for wholesalers to pay as high as the support price for lamb and still resell at prices the retailers have become accustomed to paying over the last year or more. For the Stabilization Board the alternatives seem likely to be either taking a loss on resale or reducing the support price.

HOUSE PLAN OF THE WEEK

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — Intended for a small lot, this three bedroom bungalow was designed by architects Papi-neau, Gerin - Lajoie and Leblanc of Westmount, Quebec.

From a split-level entrance, stairways lead down to the basement and up to the main floor where the living room, large kitchen, bathroom and sleeping quarters are located. An opposite stairway on the opposite side of the house provides direct entry into the living room. Designed for economy, the house should be built at low cost in most areas.

The floor area is 873 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 25 feet, eight inches by 34 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 2307, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.
