AUTOMOBILE IMPORTERS PROTEST AGAINST NEW GOVERNMENT ORDER

Protests Made at This Morning's Sitting of Sub-Committee on Tariffs, Which Was Presided Over by Premier Bennett—F. A. Nancekivell Appeared on Behalf of Canadian Automobile Importers' Association—Session Was Very Brief One.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 20.—Protest from the Canadian Automobile Importers' Association against the action of the Government in fixing a discount of twenty per cent. from list prices on automobiles entering Canada from the United States, featured today's brief hearing of the Cabinet sub-committee on tariffs.

At the opening of the sitting, F. A. Nancekivell, chairman of the Association, inquired as to the accuracy of press reports announcing the discount. Premier R. B. Bennett, who was presiding, informed Mr. Nancekivell that the action as indicated had been taken.

"When does the new regulation apply," asked Mr. Nancekivell.

"At the opening of the customs houses this morning," responded Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Nancekivell then said that this news had made him alter his intention of saying something at the sitting.

"I think I will join the ranks of the 10,000 unemployed which will result," he remarked.

"They are not yet unemployed," retorted Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Nancekivell replied that they were "technically" unemployed.

Mr. Bennett responded that the people were either actually employed or unemployed.

Mr. Nancekivell then said that he might have some further submission to make in writing. He already had submitted a brief for the consideration of the Government.

PLAN HAS ITS OPPONENTS AMONG MANUFACTURERS OF IMPORTED AUTOMOBILES

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—The Mail and Empire says today: "Behind Ottawa's brief official announcement last night of a change in automobile discounts for duty purposes, lies an enormous plan which its advocates declare will, in normal times, provide $75,000,000 of new employment annually for Canadian workers and Canadian industry."

Reached by long distance telephone in Ottawa last night, N. A. Brown, vice-president and general manager of General Motors of Canada, disclosed this information.

"The plan has opponents among manufacturers of imported cars, who have fought it with zeal and bitterness, threatening in some cases to 'hang out the to let sign,' and in others to build new factories here to make the cars at present being imported or assembled."

"The order-in-council is based upon a definite plan having as its objective the exclusion of normal times, of some $40,000,000 worth of automobile imports annually, mostly from the United States, and the replacement of that volume by vehicles manufactured within the Dominion."

"The new plan adopted by the Government creates work for thousands of Canadians," declared Mr. Brown.

WILL AFFORD EMPLOYMENT FOR CANADIAN WORKERS

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—Automobiles of all prices coming into Canada from the United States for sale will have a fixed discount of twenty per cent. from list prices for duty purposes.

Behind this announcement, made by Hon. E. B. Bennett, Minister of National Revenue, last night, lies a controversy between Canadian manufacturers and certain retailers which has been engaging the most studious attention of the cabinet council. The action taken was for the protection of the automobile industry in this country and to afford employment for Canadian automobile workers.

Domestic manufacturers had contended all along that this action would guarantee millions of dollars in new employment for workers and the industry in this country. Certain automobile retailers in Canada of high priced motor cars had opposed the request, but the Government considered that a "spread" of twenty per cent. all around was sufficient to be allowed retailers in this country from the list price of United States manufacturers.

Automobile tariff schedules, which number many, will, it is understood, come before Parliament for revision at the next session of Parliament.

Automobiles coming into Canada from the American Republic for sale have been entering on a list price, less a discount, and duty has been assessed on the reduced value. The range in this discount has varied all the way from ten to thirty per cent. and Canadian manufacturers

BUSINESS COMPELS LIBERAL MEMBER TO VACATE ST. IVES

Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman Making Attempt to Reorganize Finances of Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, Liberal member of Parliament for the constituency of St. Ives, is to retire at the next general election, it was announced yesterday.

This son of Sir Walter Runciman, the famous millionaire ship owner, has undertaken the gigantic task of attempting to straighten out the tangle in the finances of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co.

It is expected that Mrs. Runciman will contest the seat on behalf of the Liberals. She represented St. Ives in 1928 and 1929, winning the seat at the 1928 bye-election, and her husband succeeded her when he ran in 1929. Mrs. Runciman was defeated herself in 1929 when she shifted to the riding of Tavistock.

At the opening of the sitting, F. A. Nancekivell, chairman of the Association, inquired as to the accuracy of press reports announcing the discount. Premier R. B. Bennett, who was presiding, informed Mr. Nancekivell that the action as indicated had been taken.

ENGAGEMENTS OF PRINCE ARE VERY NUMEROUS

In Seven and a Half Hours He Attended Official Receptions With President at La Paz City Hall and at British Legation.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Feb. 20.—The Prince of Wales, pressed by the high altitude of this mountain capital, hurried back across the Andes to Antofagasta, Chile, after spending just seven and one half hours in La Paz.

In that time he crowded an official reception at the executive palace where he and General Blanco Galindo, President of the Military Junta, exchanged decorations another reception at the town hall, a final reception at the British Legation, and dinner with the President at the palace.

Both he and Prince George, although commenting that the trip from Cuico, with its delightful mountain scenery and across Lake Titicaca had greatly impressed them, were obviously tired and oppressed by the rarified atmosphere here.

They did not play golf at the La Paz links, the highest eighteen hole course in the world.

Bolivia papers printed special editions in English in honor of the Royal visit.

At the opening of the sitting, F. A. Nancekivell, chairman of the Association, inquired as to the accuracy of press reports announcing the discount. Premier R. B. Bennett, who was presiding, informed Mr. Nancekivell that the action as indicated had been taken.

WILL LEAVES $25,000 FOR DISABLED EX-SERVICE MEN

Last Will of Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, Who Died at Boston on Saturday, Filed in Dedham, Mass.

DEDHAM, Mass., Feb. 20.—The will of Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, war time commander of the 26th (Yankee) Division who died at Boston last Saturday, was filed here yesterday.

No valuation of the estate accompanied the document, but the largest bequest was $25,000 to the Bessie Rochester Edwards Memorial Foundation to insure the future of the disabled ex-service men's exchange at Boston. Mrs. Edwards was the late wife of the general and before her death several years ago had been active in behalf of incapacitated veterans.

At the opening of the sitting, F. A. Nancekivell, chairman of the Association, inquired as to the accuracy of press reports announcing the discount. Premier R. B. Bennett, who was presiding, informed Mr. Nancekivell that the action as indicated had been taken.

BRITISH PREMIER TO SPEND VACATION ON SOUTH COAST

Friends of Ramsay MacDonald State that He Is Not Ill, But Is Very Tired, Needing Quiet and a Rest.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald has not disclosed where he will take a week's vacation later this month, but it is understood that he will leave for somewhere on the south coast with two friends on February 24th.

Mr. MacDonald would have preferred a visit to his Scottish home, Lossiemouth, but the weather in the north is too wintry at present, while in the south he can get plenty of exercises, including golf.

Friends say the Premier is not ill, but is very tired, needing quiet and a rest.

LARGE NUMBER REQUIRED FOR CENSUS-TAKING

Taking of Seventh Census Since Confederation Will Begin on June 1.

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—Three times as many persons will be needed to complete Canada's decennial census this summer as Wolfe had when he stormed the Quebec Citadel to annex the country to the British Empire, according to R. H. Coats, Dominion Statistician. On June 1st next a veritable army of 15,000 men and women will begin enumerating the population of the country, gathering eugenic and racial information and social and economic records.

It will be the seventh census since Confederation and will be unique in that unemployment figures will be gathered and information regarding hospitals, asylums and child welfare institutions.

As head of the enumerating and compilation staff, Mr. Coats sought the co-operation of all Canadians, asking that they furnish accurate information when interrogated and expedite proceedings as much as possible.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 20.—Louis Wolheim, bad man of the screen but beloved film character of Hollywood, died yesterday.

Why should you let housework spoil your hands?

YOU ask any beauty editor. Look in the magazine and newspaper articles. You'll find "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly recommended to keep the hands soft.

Follow the advice of those people who know. Apply "Vaseline" Jelly to your hands at night and wear old cotton or silk gloves. When you manicure your nails, wrap a little cotton around a dull orange stick, dip it in the Jelly and work back the cuticle.

These two easy things will make a world of difference in the looks of your hands. We all have to wash dishes, and dust furniture, or pound typewriters or work in gardens. But our hands need not advertise the necessary toil to the world. Lay in a store of "Vaseline" Jelly and use it freely. Get a jar today just for your own personal use. Don't delay. Product of the Chesebrough Manufacturing Co., Cons'd, 5520 Chabot Ave., Montreal, Canada.

That's what Tanlac means to Mr. Urban Bard, 138 Garry Ave., Winnipeg, as he says, "Anything that doesn't hurt me caused endless pain and misery. This stomach trouble got on my nerves—and between the lack of proper nourishment and lack of sleep, I was in a wretched condition."

Tanlac was so highly recommended by several friends that I got a bottle; and the relief I got urged me to keep on taking it. Now, my digestion is fine—I eat and sleep well—and Tanlac also helped me to get rid of constipation."

Over 55 million bottles of Tanlac have been used and over 100,000 endorsements have been received. Get a bottle at your druggist's today—your money back if it doesn't help you.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

For careless folk there's little use; They seldom make a real excuse. —Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit felt really foolish when his big cousin, Jumper the Hare, explained to him how he had been fooled by the odor from a tree. He had been so sure that that odor was from Jimmy Skunk's little bag of scent that even after he knew beyond all doubt that the odor belonged to the tree, not to Jimmy Skunk, he still had hard work to believe it. Just to be sure that he was fully convinced of his mistake, Jumper led him to another tree of the same kind, and there again Peter smelled the odor that was so like the scent of Jimmy Skunk. There was no doubt at all that it came from the tree. It was a spruce tree. Peter knew this by the way these little needles crowded all around each little twig.

He remembered the tree from which Farmer Brown's Boy had gathered gum and he was sure that these trees hadn't smelled at all like this. He told Jumper so.

"Of course, they didn't," replied Jumper. "They were a different kind of spruce. They probably were the Red Spruce or Black Spruce. This is the White Spruce, but as I have already told you, it is commonly called the Skunk Spruce, and I guess you know why."

Peter grinned. "I guess I do," said he, "and a very good name it is. I knew, of course, that the first plant to blossom in the spring has an odor very like Jimmy Skunk's. You know the one I mean, don't you?"

Jimmy nodded. "Of course," said he. "You mean the Skunk Cabbage. It will be poking its little hood up in some places along the Laughing Brook pretty soon now. I am of half a mind to go down to the swamp and see if I can find one now. They do come up as early as this sometimes and once I have found them I always feel that winter is about over. So, smell or no smell, I like the Skunk Cabbage."

"So do I," replied Peter. "If you don't mind I will go along with you."

Jumper said that he didn't mind, so together they started for a certain swampy place along the Laughing Brook. Jumper, clothed all in white and Peter clothed in gray and brown. An odd couple they made, so much alike yet so unlike. It wasn't just their coats alone that made the difference. Peter was much smaller than his cousin and even for his size he hadn't such long ears as Jumper. Otherwise they looked enough alike to be brothers instead of cousins.

Jumper, being the larger, led the

Here's the Way to Treat Those Miserable Colds So Prevalent Here Now

WITH scattered cases of flu breaking out in this locality, don't take chances with colds NOW—it's too dangerous! Unless checked quickly, colds tend to pull down the body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of flu with all its serious complications.

1 At the first sign of stuffiness or irritation in the nose or throat, sniff some Vicks VapoRub up the nose several times a day. This will often check a cold at the start.

2 If the head is all "stuffed up"—clogged with mucus or phlegm—or there is much coughing, melt a teaspoonful of Vicks in a bowl or kettle of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for five minutes at a time. This treatment has a remarkable effect in clearing the air passages, easing the breathing, soothing the irritation, relieving the cough, and helps to prevent the cold from spreading.

3 At bedtime, in order to get the benefit of its long-continued stimulation and inhalation effect, rub Vicks vigorously over the throat and chest and cover with warm flannel.

4 If possible, stay at home until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body to throw off the cold more quickly.

Mother!—treat children's colds promptly, but avoid "dosing." Too much internal medicine often upsets the child's digestion and lowers the vitality. Being applied externally, Vicks does not upset the stomach, and can be used freely and as often as needed without the slightest harmful effect.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH COLDS NOW!

Build Confidence
in Canada

DEPOSITS in Canadian banks exceed $2,100,000,000. On a basis of approximately ten millions of population, Canada's per capita wealth in reserve is $210.00 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. In the month of October, 1930, saving deposits increased $75,000,000

With a progressive, intelligent, literate people—with a land teeming with potentialities ninety per cent. undeveloped, Canadian business men can face the year with unbounded assurance.

Manufacturers to-day know that sales volume can be secured only by placing real selling effort behind a product. You—the manufacturer—have a brand of merit. Canadian people want to know about it—and they have the money to buy it.

"Merchandising success," says Babson, "depends upon two principal factors. These two factors are: first, good advertising in sufficient quantity; and second, a good product. No matter how good a product is, it must be sold. The best way to tell them is through the local newspaper."

Creative advertising can maintain confidence and is now helping to build more business in 1931. With the aid of advertising, existing markets can be expanded and new fields developed.

The first month of 1931 has brought with it the assurance of a gradual up-curve in all Canadian business. We are through the hurly-burly of the last fifteen months.

In the Daily Press of Canada merchants, manufacturers and capitalists of the Dominion have at their command a tested potent instrument for building confidence and increasing consumption.

COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION HELD ANNUAL

Mr. John McMorine, Richmond, Re-Elected President of Eastern Townships County Fair Association—Schedule of Fairs Drawn Up.

The Eastern Townships County Fair Association convened yesterday afternoon for its annual meeting at the Sherbrooke House. Mr. John McMorine presided over the gathering, which was attended by representatives from Brome, Compton, Missisquoi, Stanstead, Shefford and Richmond counties. The minutes of the last meeting were read to the meeting by the secretary-treasurer, Mr. W. R. Stevens, of Richmond, and approved by the session.

The election of officers was the next important item on the agenda before the meeting. Mr. McMorine was re-elected to the president's chair which he has so capably filled, while Mr. W. R. Stevens will again fill the position of secretary-treasurer, to which duty he has applied painstaking efforts during his tenure of office. Mr. John Peters, of Magog, was named to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mr. F. R. Cromwell, of Compton, as vice-president.

After the installation of the new board, dates for the coming fairs were discussed. The following schedule was drawn up, the fairs starting at Waterloo on August 17th and ending with the Granby exhibition of September 12th:

Shefford county, at Waterloo, August 17, 18 and 19.
Richmond county, at Richmond, August 20, 21 and 22.

Compton county No. 1 at Cookshire, August 24, 25 and 26.
Stanstead county, at Ayer's Cliff, August 27, 28 and 29.

Missisquoi county, at Bedford, September 3, 4, 5 and 6.
Brome county, at Brome, September 7, 8 and 9.

Granby Horticultural Society, at Granby, September 10, 11 and 12.

The midway will be supplied by Boyd and Sullivan, of Toronto, while the grand stand programme will be in the hands of Worth and Hamid, of Boston, Mass.

Among the delegates present were: Brome county, Messrs. E. Caldwell and J. J. Crawford; Compton county, Major H. Robinson, Messrs. E. S. Hetherington, W. H. Hill, F. A. Hodge, J. W. Robinson and F. R. Cromwell; Missisquoi county, Mr. C. O. Jones; Stanstead county, Messrs. A. A. Hall, John Peters and H. G. Curtis; Richmond county, Messrs. John McMorine, W. R. Stevens and F. R. Bedard; Shefford county, Messrs. R. Deragon and W. A. Jolly. The keenest optimism marked the impromptu addresses made by the various representatives.

CHILDREN ARE INFLUENCED BY SURROUNDINGS

Social Environment of Country Must Be Watched, Said Rev. Leslie Pidgeon, Speaking Before Members of Rotary Club Yesterday.

The necessity of embodying in prominent and permanent form those principles we wish instilled in the character of our children and the coming generation was stressed by Rev. Dr. Leslie Pidgeon, of Montreal, who spoke at the local Rotary Club luncheon yesterday noon. The subject of his address was "Canadian Citizenship."

Character is the momentum of our past, said Dr. Pidgeon, and a child is very much influenced by his surroundings. He responds spontaneously to prevailing conditions, and as a result the environment in which he is brought up plays a very important part in the forming of his character and preparing for a good and honest life.

There are two outstanding schools in the modern science of psychology which deal with the situation, said the speaker. These are the schools of heredity and environment. The latter looks upon a child's mind as a piece of blank paper upon which existing conditions form their marks and determine his character.

The opposite school attributes all characteristics to heredity and leaves very little to the influence of environment. "To my mind," Dr. Pidgeon said, "the two schools are extremes, and the truth lies in between. An external influence can bring to light a native quality and heredity is responsible to a large extent for the capacity of a person."

Social environment, he stated, is a forceful instrument of training, and forms the moral qualities of a child.

"I believe," said Dr. Pidgeon, "that all our life is a social life. That is to say, if we were to take away our relationships to others, our obligations to society, there would be nothing left. What we consider right or wrong is determined a great deal by society."

In illustrating his point that although heredity is responsible for capacity it has no direct bearing upon the character of a person, the speaker explained how psychologists investigated the cases of various men and discovered that their parents had possessed no outstanding qualities to which might have been attributed these individuals' stations in life.

"Out of sixty-three philosophers who had their names in the encyclopedia," declared Dr. Pidgeon, "on two had fathers who possessed remarkable talent. And of these philosophers, only three had of springs who were recognized as great men."

In order to prepare a child for his duties in life, his environment should be carefully guarded, the speaker stressed again. For, as he said, environment will distribute the seeds for his moral qualifications. The great danger lies in leading the imagination of children in the wrong direction," said Dr. Pidgeon. "The early years of a child are very important, and bad images imbibed in his mind at that time will tend to recur and tarnish his moral qualities. We must remember that a child does not reason, but responds spontaneously to the forces brought to bear upon him. Consequently, we should store his mind with pictures and principles which will incite him towards honesty and sound morality."

The fact that the isolation which once surrounded the family garden is gone and that the general life of the country acts with much importance upon out of the way places means that there is greater responsibility as regards the social conditions of the country. Years ago some towns were governed only by their atmosphere, and knew practically nothing of the world outside. But today, said the speaker, whispers of the world creep into every fisherman's hut.

Therefore it is the duty of all citizens to watch and correct the social environment of the country. The individual and society have a common life. And if the children of today are to star, where we leave off, concluded Dr. Pidgeon, it will be necessary for us to solidify our principles and embody in rigid form all those influential principles we would have direct the future life of our children.

A hearty vote of thanks was moved the speaker by Rotarian L. Stevenson.

FATHERS AND SONS ENJOYED ANNUAL DINNER

Y.M.C.A. Last Evening Was Scene of Happy Gathering, When Seventeenth Annual Father and Son Banquet Was Held.

The seventeenth annual Father and Son banquet to be held at the Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A., was another outstanding success last evening, bringing together a large number of proud fathers and happy sons.

The speaker's chair last evening was filled by Rev. Dr. Leslie Pidgeon, of Montreal, and a most attractive programme had been drawn up for the occasion.

Messrs. Murray Simmons, president of the Y's Men's Club, and Layman Tomkins, of the Omega Alpha Club, were joint chairmen, while Mr. G. Parker kindly acted as accompanist, with Mr. E. W. Seaward as singing leader. Mr. R. E. Richardson, president of the Y. M. C. A., was seated at the head table with the guest of honor and speaker of the evening, Rev. Dr. Leslie Pidgeon, of Montreal, while other special guests included Rev. Dr. G. Ellery Read, pastor of Plymouth United Church, Rev. F. R. Matthews, of the Lennoxville United Church, Mr. Hempstead, Ensign of the Salvation Army, and the Mayor of Sherbrooke.

The serving of the delicious supper was in charge of the ladies of the various city churches, who provided to be efficient "waitresses". They had quite a task on their hands in keeping all their young friends served, but they did their work in a most efficient manner. They were thanked most cordially by Mr. D. J. Sails on behalf of the gathering.

The message which Dr. Pidgeon brought to his audience was an inspiring and impressive one. It was dealt with in a most informal manner, but it was one which could not but make both father and son think more seriously of their responsibilities to one another.

At the outset of his address Dr. Pidgeon said that he was going to direct the greater part of his words to the fathers, although he would also have something to say to the boys.

The responsibilities which the father owes to his son and the manner in which he should go about things to win his son's confidence and fellowship proved the underlying theme in the address.

Dr. Pidgeon reminded his audience that when a father is dealing with his son he is exercising one of the greatest responsibilities which man possesses and the manner in which he father acts towards his son will largely influence the son's future life.

He then went on to show how a father should enforce his orders in the home without having to give direct commands. The whole secret, Dr. Pidgeon said, was to win the confidence of the son. The father's influence should be so great upon the son that he would do only those things which he knew his father would want him to do.

It was not long, Dr. Pidgeon said, before a boy grows into manhood, and the relationship between father and son which is formed during the boy's early life will most certainly be carried into manhood.

Sympathetic companionship was one of the greatest achievements which every father should strive to bring about in the relationship to his son, and every son, no matter how young or old he might be, should feel free to approach his father at any time and to confide in him his troubles or problems, confident that he would be given consideration and kindly advice to enable him to face the future and to overcome his difficulties.

In speaking to the boys, Dr. Pidgeon told them that they should listen to their fathers whenever they spoke. A boy was the father's greatest possession, and there was nothing a father would not part with if he knew it would benefit his son. Often, however, fathers were forced to deny their sons in one way or another. This was not because they did not want to help their sons, but because the fathers in their more experienced life did not think that the sons would benefit by having their requests granted.

Dr. Pidgeon's address was not only appropriate to the occasion, but it was one which showed much thought and study, and one which should achieve the desired results in a most marked degree.

The "Y" gymnasium presented a very attractive appearance with its rows of long tables, prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, which had been kindly loaned by Stevenson's and Milford's.

one per cent in the former, but an increase of 4.1 per cent in the latter more significant comparison. Some fifty cities furnished detailed statements, showing that they had granted over four hundred permits for dwellings valued at about $1,800,000 and more than 1,000 permits for other buildings estimated to cost approximately $4,500,000. In December, authority was granted for the erection of some five hundred dwellings and 1,200 other buildings, estimated to cost approximately $2,600,000 and $12,000,000, respectively. New Brunswick, Saskatchewan and Alberta reported increases in the value of building authorized during January as compared with December, the gain in the first named being most noteworthy. Of the declines recorded in the remaining provinces, that of $5,778,668, or 79.8 per cent, in Quebec, was most pronounced.

At a brief meeting of the City Council as a committee of the whole, held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, it was unanimously decided, without any discussion, that the city accept the offer made by the Stewart Construction to borrow the sum of $58,000 from that firm. The city is authorized by a recent by-law to borrow the sum of $57,500, and instead of securing this money from the banks at the rate of five per cent interest per annum, $58,000 of it will be secured from the Stewart Construction Company at four per cent per annum.

COL. MCREA, OF "FIGHTING 25TH BATTALION," IS DEAD

Returned to Front Before His Physical Condition Warranted Exposure to Hardships of Warfare and Caught Severe Cold.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 20.—News of the death in California of Col. D. A. McKee, formerly of the "Fighting 25th," came as a great shock to his former comrades in arms. He passed away on February 11th, but no details of his death have been received here. Col. McKee was born in Cape Breton and was in command of "C" Company of the famous 25th. He was a popular officer, well liked by his fellow officers and his men and was a good soldier. In 1915 he was injured by a wound in the neck which necessitated his removal to a hospital.

At that time the "25th" was engaged in noisy trench warfare and although Col. McKee was advised to remain at the base and to stay in hospital, he returned to the front before his physical condition warranted exposure to the hardships of warfare and caught a severe cold. He was invalided to England where he spent some time with 17th Reserves and later was returned to Canada.

ANTONIO POLIQUIN PAID PENALTY ON THE SCAFFOLD THIS MORNING

heard in the different cells was conspicuous yesterday by its absence. Awaiting their trials on murder charges at the next session of the Criminal Assizes, Pierre Albert St. Pierre and the two Dube brothers took the preliminary proceedings to the execution very quietly. The former lost some of his usual sang froid, while the two brothers remained very quiet.

Yesterday noon hangman Ellis and Sheriff Lapierre arrived in the City. During the course of the afternoon the executioner made tests of the mechanism of the scaffold.

Members of the doomed man's family paid three visits to him during yesterday, and last evening remained an hour with the prisoner. After their departure, Rev. Fathers Elron and Lamer remained with Poliquin throughout the night, while this morning, Rev. Fathers Bourassa, Lamer and Vel accompanied him to the gallows.

After the body had been cut down and examined by Dr. J. E. Daigneault, prison physician, an inquest was held by Coroner Leonidas Bachevalier, which was composed of Mr. Dolord Rousseau and Mrs. Wilfrid Begin, Fred Bertrand, Thomas Cabana, P. Philippe Beaudry and Ernest Plante, after viewing the corpse, rendered the following verdict: "The body on which we held inquest is truly that of Antonio Poliquin, condemned on November 24th, 1930, by the Court of King's Bench to be hanged on February 20th, 1931, for having killed and assassinated Maria Carmela Cennaro in Sherbrooke on or about December 31st, 1929. The Government saw fit not to intervene with the Court's sentence. We further declare that the said Antonio Poliquin was hanged this morning in the common jail of the district of St. Francis at Sherbrooke, such as expressed by the judgment, hanged by the neck until dead."

The inaugural chapter of the drama which had its conclusion on the gallows this morning was acted on St. Henry street in the section of East Sherbrooke popularly known as "Stove Pipe City." According to witnesses at the trial, Poliquin premeditated his deed in Montreal before he followed his wife to Sherbrooke during the Christmas holidays. Nevertheless, on New Year's Eve, about seven o'clock, he sent a friend, Ludger Denaud, to the home of his wife's mother with the request to his wife that she wished to see her. At the time that Denaud delivered the message, Maria Cennaro was washing the floors. When she had finished she dressed herself for the outdoors and went forth to meet her husband. The first intimation of the tragedy was when Poliquin staggered into the home of his parents and confronted two of his sisters, Antoinette Poliquin, of Windsor, Ont., and Mrs. Wilfrid Leblanc, of Montreal, who were both spending the Christmas vacation at the home of their parents. In his stretched hands he carried a razor and from his throat blood flowed freely. Fearing that he would attack them, the two women disarmed him and learned from the few mutterings he was able to gurgled forth the details of the deed he had committed. His strength fast ebbing away, Poliquin exhorted his sisters to go to the garage where they would find the young couple's infant child. Investigation showed that Poliquin had cut the throat of his young and pretty wife and the resulting hemorrhage had caused instant death. The police were notified and rushed Poliquin to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where a close guard was kept over him for fear that he would attempt to take his life again.

On January 2nd, 1930, a coroner's jury, under District Coroner Leonidas Bachevalier, found Poliquin responsible for his wife's death. Judge Lemay started a preliminary hearing into the tragedy on January 10th, and a week later the young man was condemned to stand his trial at the following term of the Court of King's Bench. He was returned to the local jail, but his conduct was of such a nature that the local authorities had him removed to Bordeaux jail in Montreal. At the Montreal institution his conduct did not improve, and an extra close watch had to be maintained to prevent the prisoner from committing suicide.

During November Poliquin was sent back here and stood his trial before Mr. Justice Charles D. White. Considerable difficulty was experienced in the selection of a suitable panel, and then followed an interesting legal battle between the voluntary counsel for the accused, Armand Rousseau, and the prosecution. The hearing consumed a week, and on November 24th a jury of his peers, after less than a half hour deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty. Thereupon the presiding justice inflicted his first death penalty, which fell on the tenth anniversary of Judge White's ascension to the bench. The date for the execution was set for February 20th, and Poliquin was transferred anew to Bordeaux. After being threatened with a straight jacket if he attempted to cause any disturbance, he remained much quieter than during his first term of incarceration.

Unrepentant of the crime he had committed and expressing the opinion that he had not been given a fair trial, Poliquin languished in his death cell and compared his plight to the fate of James Metz, who two years before to the exact date, had killed two people and fatally injured a third and had been given a life sentence.

The career of crime on which Poliquin embarked and which led him up to pay the supreme penalty was the result of environment. Poliquin had gone from bad to worse, and with his marriage to the pretty Italian girl began a series of marital troubles.

A victim of hallucinations, Poliquin

ROBBERIES ARE CLEARED UP BY SEVEN ARRESTS

Over Fifty Robberies in and About Detroit Unravellled.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 20.—Over fifty robberies in and about Detroit were cleared up, according to police, with the arrest here early this morning of seven men, including Joseph Salvo, who claims to be a nephew of Al Capone.

Three of the men are said to have admitted kidnapping a negro chauffeur yesterday and using his machine for robberies in Ann Arbor. An attempt to repeat that act, police say, was frustrated by their arrest. They are Edward Bellant, twenty-five, Jerry Tulepant, twenty-four, and Jack Benson, twenty, all giving Detroit addresses.

As a result of alleged confessions, police subsequently arrested Samuel Bon, nineteen, Eli Fisher, eighteen, Joseph Salvo, twenty-six and William Descoe, nineteen, Detroit youths.

"My uncle, Al Capone, will get me out of this," Salvo is said to have told police, after having confessed, police say, to a part in a $6,000 payroll hold-up in Chicago last summer.

quinn imagined every time he saw his wife talking to one of her countrymen that they were talking about him. Insanely jealous of her affections and of her alleged relations with other men, he had plotted her murder and performed the gruesome deed on New Year's Eve, 1929.

A very touching scene was witnessed at the jail yesterday morning. The doomed man's aged father, accompanied by his sister, sister-in-law and his young child paid their final visit to the condemned slayer. The youngster, who was in the mother's arm when Poliquin cut her throat, did not realize the plight of his father, but the emotion displayed by the older relations was very touching.

THE SHUTTLE.

Helen Hetherington.

Oh! the days of youth, are Joyous days,
With the sunshine spilling through,
With flowers of noon, and stars at night,
And the soft and silent dew.

While mid-life days are amber days,
With the brown leaves rustling down,
With peace at noon, and rest at night,
'Neath the round moon's royal crown.

But the days of age, are frosty days,
When the sun draws near its goal,
When the slender silver cord is hooked,
And broken the golden bowl.

THE OFFICE BOY.

Grippe got his grip on the Editor yesterday, and he's down with it. Me and the Printer's Devil went up to his room last night where he was untwisting the grippe from its grip, and we assured him that for just one day we would edit the dear old Record for the glory of our alma mater.

Yesterday we used up his last column of editorials, for he always has a two-day supply ahead, and when we found in the drawer only a lot of those proverbs on philosophy he writes for the top of the Editorial page, the aforesaid young Satan from the composing room and myself thrice re-assured the Editor that he had two budding young journalists in the family who could carry on as pinch-hitters.

The Boss has been working too hard. I noticed it a few days ago when his smile wore off and he acted a bit peevish when someone asked him for a cash donation after he had given a hundred dollars' worth of space and two hundred dollars in brain work to some worthy object.

The first duty of an office boy in a newspaper office is to see everything, hear everything and say nothing outside, but the P. D. and I am writing this inside. Now I know that the Boss has written himself ten pages solid for the Annual Review Number next week, as well as attending to his regular work and read all the letters that come in, as well as look after what he calls the finances. Last week he wrote 200 letters to subscribers. And he writes them, too. Doesn't dictate them, as he says that isn't as intimate and friendly.

Yesterday, when I was told that Mr. Wood was quite under the weather, and said he would crawl under the poop deck for a day I looked over the letters to the Editor for him.

One was from a subscriber asking Dr. Pickel a question. As the News Editor said, "We have no Question and Answer Department." I sent that letter on to Dr. Pickel at Sweetburg and told him to answer the dear old gentleman direct, as we were not interested in men and menaces who lived 'way out beyond Lake Superior.

Then I struggled through a letter from Magog, where some one of our fond subscribers had a lot to say about pulpwood and a Mr. Barnum. This friend of ours said he had money invested in pulpwood mills and paper making, and he is evidently trying to tell the Editor that he knows a lot more than the Boss does about managing things so that Quebec will control the paper-making business. He will have to stay up twenty-four hours a day to do that, for we leads in the office know that the Chief was born with a newspaper in his hands, and that he knows the pulp business from the lumberjack's camp to the ink on the printed word. So I just chucked that letter in the waste basket.

I don't know whether the Managing Editor will print my first attempt at an Editorial so I am soft-peddling my own opinions considerably, but if he prints this one I will step on the gas next time and travel on "all six."

Tom Sawyer is my pet hero. Tom had an opinion on everything under the sun. He and I must be first cousins, but I admit to the errors of youth and to the lack of a deep knowledge about everything. Nor can I be as "subtle," which means smooth and deep, as is my Boss. He has only been here a year, but he seems to have been everywhere in Canada in his short life, so I am learning fast to have big, wide and deep daylight ideas, with no cavernous instincts.

The Sheriff says that he would not allow me to see the hanging. I did not want my feelings to be harrowed anyhow, but I suppose the Sheriff learned to do murderers in secret just like the City Hall Committees do. I thought that one up myself, while the Printer's Devil had asked for time off to smoke one of those vile cigarettes which I despise as much as the W.C.T.U. I think cigarette smoking is a vile habit. I prefer the pipe.

Looking over the letters to the Editor is an occupation in itself. Some are good, others have to be re-written to make them readable. Sometimes the Editor lets me do this. For I took prizes in punctuation and spelling.

Anonymous letters the Editor abhors. He first looks for the writer's signature on a letter, just as he asks a stranger's name when he comes into the office. If the name is not on the letter he does not read it at all. For he says that the man who distrusts his good faith impels him to a like distrust. The one big secret in a real newspaper office, he says, is to keep the good faith. He says that is the sanctity which made the name of the Editor's sanctum. Which is the Latin derivation of sanctuary, I suppose.

My teacher was a man teacher. He taught, and he wouldn't let me take a book home or give me any home lessons, for he said that out of school you should talk, listen and think. Mostly, I talked and asked questions. Now, I listen and think.

I know I am rambling around like a tin lizzie, but I have a full column to fill, and any moment the Printer's Devil is liable to say the "jigs up," which means "Time!" The Managing Editor calls it the "dead line" when he puts the "paper to bed," which means giving it the last loving tap before he leaves to let the printers and the pressmen do their worst.

*That is a tear. I hope the Boss will be around alright to-morrow. We kids like to see him about. Taking him by and large, and for and aft, he's not so bad to get along with.

To resume. I have ten minutes more to rush into print with something lightome or deep. If anybody does not think they have got their money's worth in deep thought, they can read the story of the hanging, or get their three cents back for to-day's Record.

The Boss says you can't please everybody all the time, so just be yourself at all times. He told me the story of the fable of the Man, the Boy and the Donkey, where the man tried to please every passerby, and in the end he lost his donkey and just saved his boy from drowning by pulling him out by the hair of the head. I'm wondering if, when he reads this, he will pull my hair.

But what can you expect on the day of a hanging. It's tragic. Yet it is retribution. And the Boss said on Monday that we go back to the old Mosaic law of the Old Testament when the Gospel of Love in the New Testament does not provide us with the punishment that fits the crime. I am hoping that Vincent gets a reprieve, for he killed in a fair fight, and the man he killed owed him wages he had earned, and would not pay. Two hangings in Sherbrooke in a year does not sound good to me, for we are all nice people in this city.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Fifty-three members of the Local Legislature voted in a division on Wednesday. One member, Dr. Anatole Plante, deplored the absence of the Montreal members when the Montreal City bill was to have been taken up, but it would seem that there are many more absentees from the House when other important measures are being discussed. There should be a fuller attendance of members if this be a pre-election session of the Quebec Legislature.

Someone at Ottawa will have a face-ache when the legal bill comes in for the Privy Council fight between the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. over the telegraph lines of the latter company erected on the old Intercolonial right-of-way between St. John and Halifax. Judgment was given for the C. P. R. on the chief points at issue, and there will be an unholy bill of expense for the country to pay. Canada is the Rocky Mountain goat, of course.

PRESS COMMENT

MEN OVER FORTY AS USEFUL WORKERS

Philadelphia Inquirer.
At the meeting of the fourteenth New York State Industrial Safety Congress in Syracuse, high tribute was paid to the efficiency and value of the man over forty-five years of age. "It is the old, trained employees that make up our money," declared the director of one organization, "and they are the ones harder to replace. All of this talk about not hiring men over forty-five is, in my opinion, rather foolish. In my experience, that is about the time they begin to be valuable to their employers."

It is not always possible to lay down rules regarding the age at which men are most efficient, but it is a big mistake to say that a man's usefulness has ended when he approaches the half-century mark. It all depends upon the character of the work a person is called upon to perform. If it be manual labor, everything depends upon physical strength; if it be mental labor, then there is positively no age limit. Thousands of the best executives in the country have gone beyond the Scriptural three-score years and ten and are as good, if not better, than at any previous time in their lives.

The experience and judgment that come with advancing years are assets to any organization. The familiar proverb of young men for war and old men for counsel still holds good even in this age of the "go-getter."

IS THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT DOOMED?

Toronto Mail and Empire.
While Mr. Philip Snowden was making his astonishing speech in the British House of Commons on Wednesday, Sir James Dunn, British-Canadian capitalist, was giving the Montreal Gazette an interview in which he pointed out the way of defeat for the Ramsay MacDonald Government. He indicated that if the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Lloyd George, the left-wing Laborite would turn against the administration, a general election would follow and the Conservatives would be returned to power.

In forecasting sweeping sacrifices on the part of all classes of the community, including the beneficiaries of unemployment insurance, Mr. Snowden fulfilled the first condition of Sir James' prophecy. It now remains to be seen whether or not the more radical section of the Labor Party will vote against its own leaders and upset the apple cart. We may say on the eve of far-reaching political developments in the Mother Country, developments which will open the way for closer Imperial trade relations and co-ordinated Empire development.

MR. BENNETT'S COURSE IN KEEPING HIS OWN COUNSEL

Toronto Mail and Empire.
One Liberal and one Conservative newspaper have joined in criticizing the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett for his silence regarding his trip to Washington, and for his characteristic tendency to abstain from premature communication regarding projects of state which he has in mind. Before his accession to office the present Prime Minister was attacked for talking too much, and now he has been assailed for saying too little. Our own view is that the change is all to the good. The head of a Government is wise to be less discursive than an Opposition leader.

Talkativeness is, moreover, not an absolute proof of high statesmanship. Sir Wilfrid Laurier scarcely ever gave a newspaper interview. And whatever our differences with him may have been, he will go down in history as one of Canada's great Prime Ministers. In the few short months during which Mr. Bennett has held office he has proved himself to be the very statesman the Dominion needs in this time of world depression. To the pressing issues of a trying period he has brought a mathematical mind, a clear grasp of economic problems, a wide experience in big business, a profound knowledge of international relationships, marked strength of character, tenacity of purpose, the ability to initiate far-reaching, curative policies, and an inspiring faith in Canada and in the potentialities of Imperial economic unity.

Along with these qualities he has given ample evidence of his ability to keep his own counsel regarding issues which are in the tentative or formative stage. In having the Imperial Economic Conference adjourned to Ottawa he demonstrated his leadership in Empire affairs; and we have little doubt that, supported as he is by all the other Dominion Premiers, he will be able to extract from that gathering decisions which will inure to the lasting benefit of this Dominion and of the Empire. So we believe that in his visit to President Hoover he had in mind certain projects bearing not only upon Canadian-American relationships, but also upon the co-operation of the British Empire and the United States in the rehabilitation of international prosperity. . . . The Prime Minister will do nothing without the consent of Parliament, and in good time he will take both Parliament and the country into his confidence. Until then, it seems the course of wisdom for the press to abstain from placing unnecessary difficulties in his way.

WATCH RETURNS TO OWNER AFTER A LONG ABSENCE

Engraving on Back of Timepiece Led to Return of Watch Lost in Germany and Found in Montreal.

MONREAL, Que., Feb. 20.—Some fourteen years ago Thomas Bailey was about to sail for France to join the Canadian Expeditionary Forces at the front. His associates in the Montreal factory in which he was employed gave him an engraved wrist watch as a farewell token. With the army of occupation in Cologne, Germany, a couple of years later, Bailey lost his watch. A few days ago the watch was picked up in Place d'Armes here and returned in good repair to its original owner whom the finder traced by the engraving.

ANNOUNCE DETAILS OF BIG CHILEAN NITRATE MERGER

London Interests Co-operating With Chilean Government in Attempt to Battle Artificial Nitrogen.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Preliminary details were announced yesterday of the formation of the Coasch Company, the gigantic merger of Chilean nitrate producers with the nitrate interests of the Chilean government. Coasch is the trade name for Compania Salitrea de Chile, or Chilean Nitrate Company, a $300,000,000 concern, which its sponsors expect will place Chilean nitrates in better position to compete with synthetic nitrogen in the world market.

CONGRESS VOTE RE NIAGARA IS DISAPPOINTING

U. S. Congress Rejects Treaty to Protect Scenic Beauties of the Falls.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 20.—Rejection of the Niagara Falls Treaty by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has caused some disappointment here. The treaty was designed primarily to provide steps whereby Canada, and the United States would co-operate in preserving the scenic beauty of Niagara Falls. It came into prominence again recently as a result of the slide at the American fall when a considerable piece of the escarpment collapsed due to the action of the water.

The Parliament of Canada has already approved of the treaty, and it needed only the action of congress to make it effective. It provided for the erection of remedial works to protect the falls. Also it authorized the experimental diversion of water for power purposes not to exceed ten thousand second cubic feet. This diversion of water was to take place "through existing channels." In the case of Canada "existing channels" would have meant the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission, while in the United States presumably the power company already located and operating at the falls would have been utilized. The idea of the "experimental diversion," it is stated here, was to ascertain whether or not further quantities of water might be safely diverted from the falls without in any way injuring their scenic qualities.

It was considered desirable that no vested interests should be created through the diversion of further water, and this, it is stated, was the reason for advocating the use of "existing channels."

LAKE SHORE NOW LEADING AMERICA'S GOLD PRODUCERS

Kirkland Lake Gold Fields Led Porcupine Area in Monthly Production for the First Time in January.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 20.—For the first time since production started, the Lake Shore mine produced more gold than Hollinger, and established for itself the distinction of being the foremost gold producer on the North American continent last month, according to figures made available by the Department of Mines. Since 1909, the Porcupine field, which includes the Hollinger, has led in all monthly outputs. But in January, thanks to Lake Shore, the Kirkland Lake Field, newer to the prospecting and mining world by two years than the Porcupine, took the lead from its older camp rival.

"HELLO, MOTHER, I'm O.K."

"Hello mother — yes, I'm feeling fine — yes, we won ... I scored two goals."

It has come to be a habit with Fred to call his mother by Long Distance after every game. For mother is all alone ... and she worries about him ... ever since Fred's chum had his leg broken in a game early in the season.

The cost is a mere trifle, for the low night rates are always in effect after the game — they begin at 8.30 p.m. And it makes a pleasant break in mother's quiet life ... and gives her some news to tell her friends.

Long Distance is now quick and dependable. In most cases the connection is established while you hold the line. Evening and night rates are particularly inexpensive. In fact night rates are little more than half of the day rates.

Evening rates on "Anyone" (station-to-station) calls begin at 7 p.m. Night rates begin at 8.30 p.m. Just give "Long Distance" the number you want — it speeds up the service. If you don't know the distant number, "Information" will look it up for you.

NATIONALE IS STILL LEADING BANK CIRCUIT

French Financiers Require But One More Victory to Clinch League Title as Result of Victory Over Commerce Last Evening — Royal Defeated Montreal.

Banque Canadienne Nationale, at the rate they are travelling at present, seem destined to repeat their triumphs of last season and again win the Rosenbloom trophy, emblematic of the Bankers' Hockey League championship. The French "moneyed" players sent the Commerce millionaires down to defeat last evening by a score of 10-1. The first part of the weekly Bankers' League double bill by a three, to one score, while Royal kept in the running by obtaining a similar decision at the expense of the Montreal representatives. The Nationale players require but one more victory to give them undisputed possession of the first rung of the ladder, while Royals have a chance of deadlocking honors by winning their remaining two matches and the leaders losing their pair of encounters.

Despite the lack of a reserve fund in the opening game, Nationale were too strong for the Commerce sextette. The title holders drew first blood when Trepanier scored three minutes after the start on an individual effort. The Commerce crew bravely faced this deficit, and while McCaw closed his cage against further scores in the initial period, Armstrong near the end of the frame balanced the score ledger with a shot from centre ice which caught Nationale's Hainsworth unaware.

Dube in the second period continued the scoring spree he started on the opening game and broke the deadlock on a solo effort which baffled McCaw, and gave Nationale a surplus which they never relinquished. In the third period, the hodgepodge deposited the ball safely in the Frenchmen's vault on an individual effort which McCaw failed to cope with. Only a few penalties were handed out in this struggle.

The "passing the puck" methods employed by the Royals proved too good for the Montreal financiers to cope with in the nightcap. Roy kept the chase for scoring honors between himself and Dube interesting by notching the three markers secured by his team. The first came on an individual attempt at the beginning of the first canto, and as the same frame drew to a close, Roy duplicated, this time assisted by Bill Webb. Donahue kept his team in the hunt when he accepted Cummings' pass to beat McLeod and reduce the winners' margin to one. With but a few seconds to go, Roy converted a cheque issued by Boisvert into cash at Wheeler's expense, and thus the game ended with Royal leading by three to one.

There were no penalties in the first two periods of this encounter, but in the final frame Jack Powers inflicted major penalties on Gingues, Webb and Roy for fighting and slashing.

The line-ups were:

UPSETS WERE IN ORDER IN N.H.L. LAST EVENING

Ottawa Furnished Big Surprise by Beating Out Toronto—Canadians and Boston Played Seventy Minutes to a Draw.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 20.—Surprises popped up along the National Hockey League front last night. Four games were played and the results proved anything but formula.

Ottawa's tail-end Senators furnished the biggest upset by handing the second place Toronto Maple Leafs the short end of a two-to-one score in the Queen City. New York Americans abetted the Senators in the surprise act by the decisive manner in which they triumphed over Montreal Maroons to secure a firm hold on the third rung in the Canadian section. The final count favored the amazing Americans by four to two. Montreal Canadians, Canadian division leaders, victims of the burly Bruins in the Canadian metropolis last week, fought the Bostonians on equal terms through seventy minutes of thrilling hockey at the hub, the final score reading one all.

Another upset occurred in the far west when Detroit Falcons, with Eddie Goodfellow, league leading point scorer, as the spearhead of their attacks, nosed out the Chicago Blackhawks by five to four, after ten minutes overtime.

The victory pulled the Detroiters up into a tie for third place in the United States group with New York Rangers, and four points behind the Chicagoans, who are not accustomed to accepting defeat on their home ice.

Toronto's defeat may cost them second place within a week. The Leafs face a hard schedule in their next three games, and are now only two points in the van of Eddie Gerard's star spangled hockeyists. Supported by the goal keeping of Alex Connell, the Senators noted the winning goal in the last two minutes of the game when their surprise attack caught the Leafs unprepared. Alex Smith poked the winning center past the Toronto goalkeeper during a scrimmage to break the one all deadlock that had existed from early in the middle frame when "Chuck" Conacher knotted the count after Hec Kilrea had put the Bytown gladiators in front late in the first frame.

More than sixteen thousand fans braved the elements to watch the spectacular Stanley Cup holders match strides with Boston. The Bruins started out by scoring an easy goal in the first two minutes, when the usually reliable George Hainsworth dropped Art Chapman's soft shot into the net.

The shuffling wizzardry of Aurel Joliat was responsible for the equalizing score half way through the third. He lured the Boston defence out of position before slapping the rubber to Nick Wasnie, who then had an easy path to the Bruin goal.

While their fellow townsmen were playing brilliantly in Boston, the Maroons were showing hockey of the very opposite kind. The Americans piled up a three goal lead in the first two periods before the Montrealers got their first. The New Yorkers added another before Nels Stewart notched his second counter of the game. In the last minute George Patterson got two of the Amerks tallies, while Normie Himes and "Hap" Emms divided the other brace.

Scoring two counters and an assist, Goodfellow not only played a big part in the Detroit triumph, but also gained undisputed possession of the league scoring honors, which Howie Morenz had claimed from him.

Black Hawks' midget goaltender, Perusse, started in the four to nil victory which the Juveniles won at the expense of the Huntingtonville sextette at Minto Rink last evening. The encounter was a benefit game for the local squad and was fairly well attended.

Midway through the first period Prefontaine opened the scoring when he worked his way through his opponents and beat Fairbrother. As the frame ended Katadotis received a well-timed pass from Holtham and put his team two up. Huntingtonville attempted to cut down this margin, but all their shots were skillfully handled by Perusse. Prefontaine put his team further in the van when, after repeated rushes, he finally beat Fairbrother. In the final chukker MacIntyre and Doonan combined to allow the latter to add the Black Hawks' fourth and final tally. Huntingtonville kept the play bottled in their opponents' territory, but were unable to penetrate Perusse's guard. Maurice Parsons and Frank Plamondon referred to everyone's satisfaction.

The line-ups were:
Black Hawks goal Fairbrother
Perusse defence Meigs
Horsfall defence Reid
Prefontaine centre C. Hunting
Holtham wing Bennett
Letarte wing R. Hunting
Katadotis subs B. Hunting
MacIntyre subs Barrie
Doonan Aldrich

Referee Mickey Ion, who made the decision that cost the Hawks a chance for a tie, was scheduled to officiate in last night's Chicago-Detroit game, but did not work. The Rangers have five days in which to make a reply to the Chicago protest.

BISHOP'S SCORE VICTORY OVER LENNOXVILLE

College Juniors Carried Off Honors in Game Last Evening to Tune of Four Goals to None—A Fast Contest.

In a fast game, replete with all the exciting moments of a clean, sterling brand of hockey, the Bishop's Juniors last evening defeated Lennoxville in a scheduled Junior Hockey League fixture by a four to nothing decision. The result of the encounter, which was played on the University rink, had no bearing on the league standing, as Sherbrooke Maroons have clinched the championship and are priming themselves for the provincial playoffs.

The uneven score does not indicate the trend of play which was maintained throughout the game, for both teams put up a fine fight, and had the Lennoxville team had a little luck the score board might have registered differently. Both goalies, especially Fisher for Lennoxville, started Harris, playing centre, stickhandled his way through the Bishop's line time and again, and proved an outstanding player on the Lennoxville sextette. Hall and Cromwell played well for Bishop's, and threatened Fisher's goal on numerous occasions.

The Lennoxville defence was weak, and the victory of the College lads may be attributed to this fact. In the first period, Bishop's managed to score two counters, McLernon and Heavens performing the feats. McLernon broke through the Lennoxville defence a few minutes after play started, and Heavens followed his example within a short space of time.

The Lennoxville lads strengthened their footing in the second stanza of the game, attacking strenuously and keeping Williams, in the Bishop's net, continuously on the jump. Hodgins broke away, however, and baffled Fisher with a hard shot, placing his team three goals in the lead. Bishop's pressed hard and Fisher had a hard time of it to outwit the flashy forward line of the College lads. This he did in a splendid manner.

Lennoxville played better hockey in the last stanza and held Bishop's down. But they lacked scoring punch and could not beat Williams in the Bishop's net. With about nine seconds to go, McLernon staged a nice rush down the ice and tallied Bishop's last counter, when he outwitted Fisher with a hard shot from the blue line.

The game was well handled by Glass. The line-up was:
Bishop's goal Fisher
Williams defence Christison
McLernon defence Doak
Cromwell centre Harris
Hall forwards McVety
Pudington forwards Sterling
Hodgins subs
Dyer subs

HELEN HICKS DEFEATED BRITISH CHAMPION

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20.—Helen Hicks, strapping young United States girl who wallops a golf ball with masculine punch, scored a brilliant triumph over the blonde little British champion, Diana Fishwick, in the first major international match between the rival women's forces now concentrated on the Florida front.

They met in the semi-finals of the Florida Women's championship tournament, over the course of the Palm Beach Country Club, and a fashionable gallery of fully 1,000 men and women braved the rain to watch Miss Hicks score a decisive victory, six and five.

The match ended in an almost complete rout for the youthful British girl, whose game collapsed as she dropped five of the last six holes to her hard-hitting New York rival.

Miss Hicks' victory over the last of nine British contenders in the tournament, assured an all-United States final in which she will play the sensational Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, this afternoon, over the 18-hole route.

MIXED TREND THIS MORNING AT MONTREAL

Dominion Bridge, Which Has Been Weak for Two Weeks, Was Principal Loser, Being Down Two Points.

MONTREAL, QUE., Feb. 20.—The opening was mixed today on the Montreal Stock Exchange, with profit-taking following the recent strength shading values of many stocks. Others continued to advance slightly.

The principal loser was Dominion Bridge, which has been weak for several sessions. It sold this morning at 48, down two points. International Nickel, Montreal Power, Canadian Traction, Canada Car Common and Preferred, and Smelters all eased fractionally on profit-taking. Quebec Power eased a full point to 42.

Al Hayat's story is in the form of an open letter to the high commissioner from Hassan Sidky El Dajani, who charges that it is not unusual for Arab girls of ten years of age and even under to be "hired out" for as long as twenty-five years at the rate of five dollars a year.

CLAIM SLAVERY STILL EXISTS IN PALESTINE

Arab Newspaper Charges Practice of Young Girls Being Sold into Virtual Slavery in Operation—Not Unusual for Arab Girls to Be Hired Out for as Long as Twenty-Five Years.

JERUSALEM, Feb. 20.—The Arab newspaper Al Hayat charges that the practice of young girls being sold into virtual slavery is in operation in Palestine.

This, says the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, follows the sensational allegation made in Arab circles last December that about thirty girls of the Gazavir tribe of Transjordan, sojourning near Beisan in the Jordan Valley, had been sold by their fathers to masters and "husbands" in a number of towns.

Al Hayat's story is in the form of an open letter to the high commissioner from Hassan Sidky El Dajani, who charges that it is not unusual for Arab girls of ten years of age and even under to be "hired out" for as long as twenty-five years at the rate of five dollars a year.

United States Steel, however, opened unchanged.

GOVERNMENT STRENGTHENING HAND FOR COLLECTION OF GAS IMPOSTS

The minister explained that some forestry companies have their own railways which they use to transport their employees and materials to and from the scene of operations and it has been represented to the Government that it was unjust they should be made to pay taxes as if they were in the public transportation business, and the bill therefore proposed to permit of a concession in this respect. Maurice Duplessis said the Opposition had always taken the stand that the province had not sufficient railways, and that railway construction should be encouraged, but in the present matter he thought the Government was acting in an irregular manner.

The effect of the bill would be to affect the revenues of the province, and hence it should be preceded by resolutions, and there was no resolution.

Hon. Mr. Mercier said he would study the matter, and in the meantime asked for adjournment of the debate.

AMENDMENT TO MUNICIPAL CODE RE POWER CONTRACTS

QUEBEC, Feb. 20.—Premier Taschereau has introduced a measure before the Legislative Assembly amending the Cities and Towns Act as regards the powers of a municipality to provide for lighting for the public and private individuals. A new section is inserted to read that:

SMALLER SIZE SUBMARINES IN UNITED STATES

New Vessels to Displace Only 1,100 Tons Instead of 1,550 Tons, and Will Be Built Under London Naval Treaty Terms.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 20.—Working from the bottom up, the United States Navy Department is seeking to "get the most for its money" in the new submarines to be built under London Treaty terms.

The V-8 and V-9, last two of the nine undersea boats authorized by Congress in 1916, were planned tentatively to displace 1,550 tons. On statistical charts of the department, these two vessels have lost 450 tons each and now will be built to displace 1,100 tons only.

Naval construction experts declare that the shaving off of tonnage, accomplished both by lightening the structure and reducing the size, is indicative of what the Navy Department had in mind for future construction in all categories of vessels. The aim is to give the United States the most effective ships while building as many as possible under treaty provisions.

All signatory nations were limited to 52,700 tons in the submarine category provisions of the treaty. The United States had 26,900 tons within the thirteen-year age limit, leaving 25,800 tons to be built.

The Bureau of Construction of the Navy has been given this 25,800 tons to "play with" in figuring the greatest possible number of ships with maximum efficiency. An undersea boat of 1,100 tons was selected.

The 26,900 tons of submarines which will be within the over-age limit expiration of the treaty in 1936, comprise 11 S-boats and 10 V-boats. The S-boats displace approximately 800 tons, while the V-boats range from 1,100 to 2,734 tons.

The one-year naval construction programme now before Congress provides for authorization of four submarines. These will be 1,100 ton size, to be built at a cost of $4,400,000 each. Should the bill pass, which now is uncertain, contracts for construction would be let in April.

WORLD WALKING TOUR ENDS AS TRAVELLERS STOWAWAY

University Students Visited Italy, France and Spain Before Funds Forced Return Home.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 20.—The royal road to romance, which was to have been the footpath for a walking trip around the world, described something of a shortened circle for two Northwestern University graduates arriving here yesterday as stowaways aboard the British steamer Chinese Prince.

The youths, William Moss, of Detroit, and Joseph Bain, of Brooklyn, sailed from New York last June after being graduated from Northwestern on an announced circumambulation of the globe. They hitch-hiked through France, Spain and Italy in the approved college boy fashion. But their funds gave out, and appeals to home met with stern refusal so they were obliged to stowaway on an American-bound ship in Naples which landed them not so far from their embarkation point. They worked out their passage.
