REJECTS DEMANDS OF DOCK WORKERS

World News In Brief

San Carlos, Ariz. — (AP) — Herbert Rope, 18, was shoeing a horse Tuesday for the cattle roundup at Point-of-Pines, 60 miles east of here. A wild turkey scurried out of the woods and frightened the horse. The horse bolted. A lariat tied to the saddlehorn snarled around Rope's leg and tore it off at the knee as he was dragged by the galloping horse.

Bangkok. —(AP)— The Thai government lacks sufficient evidence and presumably will drop prosecution of two Russians and one former Soviet citizen arrested in South Thailand Aug. 10 as links in an alleged espionage ring, it was learned today. The Russians are Valentine I. Egereff and Valentine Leibovich, both in business here for many years.

Helsinki, Finland. —(Reuters)— Continuous heavy rains in the last two days have flooded large areas in western Finland, it was reported here today. In one western province thousands of acres of farmlands are under water, eight feet deep in places. Snow has isolated vilages in Finnish Lapland and ferry traffic has been stopped by ice on the rivers.

Los Angeles — (AP) — An actress who says Roy Rogers' horse Trigger kicked her has sued the cowboy actor for $186,000. Mrs. Mabel Smayne alleges she suffered head and chest injuries during the filming of a movie scene in 1951. Rogers' lawyer denies she was badly hurt and says the horse backed into her.

Houde Says Farewell To Old Office

Montreal. —(CP)— An unlovely, much-loved figure dropped around to city hall Tuesday, cleaned out the mayor's desk and ordered it newly polished.

Then the rotund gentleman shook hands all around and departed—all 250 pounds of him—with hardly a backward glance. He was Camillien Houde, "Mr. Montreal" for a total of 18 years.

As he walked away, a city hall attendant murmured: "Exit Monsieur Houde; entre Monsieur Drapeau."

This was a sentimental interlude in a fast-breaking sequence of events since Jean Drapeau, 38-year-old lawyer with a record of vice-busting, rode to a landslide victory in municipal elections Monday.

When the new city council is convened before Nov. 24, there will be 42 newcomers among the 99 councillors as well as the mayor, who has re-interiated his promises to "clean up Montreal."

Meanwhile, Police Director J. Albert Langlois returned to his desk as usual and a source close to the controversial chief said, "He has no intention of resigning, taking a leave of absence or going on holidays."

There was no comment from the chief's office on a victory speech in which Mayor-elect Drapeau, who likely will be sworn in next Tuesday, said his first action will be to suspend Langlois.

The controversy over Langlois began Oct. 8, the day Mr. Justice Caron handed down Montreal's vice inquiry judgment, naming the director and 10 other members and former members of the police for tolerating vice in the 40s.

Mr. Langlois was ordered fired from the force, but appealed the decision and remained in office despite a city executive committee suggestion that he resign or take a holiday pending outcome of the appeal.

Drapeau was a prosecution lawyer in the vice inquiry.

Government Court Of Inquiry Rules Against Alleged Grievances Of London Dock Workers.

London — (Reuters) — A three-man government court of inquiry today rejected overtime grievances of 43,000 dock workers whose strike has tied up eight ports and two-thirds of Britain's seaborne commerce.

The Court's report was disclosed in the House of Commons shortly after a mass meeting of strikers in London voted against returning to work unless the court's finding was in their favor.

The court's report said the dock workers had broken agreements with their employers by imposing a ban on overtime. The main cause of the stoppage is the stevedores' demand that overtime should be voluntary instead of compulsory.

On this issue, the court declared:

"There is, in the court's view, an obligation on the individual workman to work overtime, but only if and to the extent that it is reasonable for him to do so, having regard to all the circumstances of the case."

The strikers' reaction to this report is likely to prove the deciding factor on whether the government calls in troops to clear the ships and piers.

Longshoremen in Glasgow, Scotland's biggest port, today rejected the call to strike in sympathy with the idle dockmen.

The decision was a major blow to the strikers' plans of paralyzing all Britain's seaborne trade unless the dock employers withdraw their demand for compulsory overtime. Glasgow men agreed, however, to make financial contributions to the strike.

The 7,000-man National Amalgamated Stevedores' and Dockers' Union, organizer of the stoppage which has made 344 ships idle, suffered a second blow today. Leaders of the powerful Trades Union Congress decided to suspend the stevedores union for "poaching" members from the rival Transport and General Workers Union.

Arthur Deakin, boss of the TGWU, has condemned the dock stoppage although thousands of his union members have joined the striking stevedores. Deakin has sent squads of officials into the docks in an all-out effort — so far unsuccessful — to get the men back to work.

The strike has tied up two-thirds of Britain's sea traffic. Factories in many parts of the country are preparing to shut down in a few days unless needed supplies, now tied up at the docks, are shipped to them.

Arrest Four In Bid To Kill Nasser

By ROBERT B. HEWETT

Alexandria, Egypt — (AP) A widespread roundup of leaders of the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood was reported under way today on the heels of an apparent assassination attempt against Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Eight deliberately-spaced pistol shots rang out Tuesday night while Nasser addressed a big rally celebrating the signing of the British-Egyptian agreement on the Suez canal zone. Nasser, unhurt, shouted to the startled crowd that the shots were a "criminal's attempt against my life."

Four men arrested as suspects in the shooting were identified as members of the brotherhood, which has been conducting an underground campaign against the Suez settlement.

In Cairo, street cars and buses were at a standstill this morning apparently as the result of a demonstration of union workers against the incident. Thousands of workers were stranded by the announced strike.

The 36-year-old Nasser continued his speech Tuesday night and two hours later the Egyptian state broadcasting system rebroadcast the address. Listeners could hear the shots and Nasser's emotion-packed shouts to the crowd.

"Let them kill me," he cried. "I have already established freedom, dignity and pride in Egypt. My blood is for you. My life is for you. After the criminal's attempt against my life, I assure you that my life is yours and will be spent for you . . . I am from you and for you."

Police said the first man seized was an Egyptian workman in the front row of the thousands packed into the square. Officers said he fired shots from a distance of about 12 yards.

One of the four men arrested was identified as Mahmoud Abdel Latif, a tinsmith. Officials quoted him as saying, "I was only shooting overhead to express my joy."

Government Honors An 8-Year-Old

Washington— (AP) —The U. S. government Tuesday honored an eight-year-old boy who put on a neighborhood show last August to aid the fight against polio—and then was stricken by the disease himself.

Ricky Alexander of nearby Hyattsville, Md., collected $1.47 from his "show," walked to a neighborhood store and put the money in a polio fund envelope.

Two weeks later, he was in children's hospital, paralyzed by an attack of polio.

The story of Ricky Alexander came to the attention of Al Highsmith, an official in the postmas-

Soviets Reject United States Note Protesting Detention Of Two Women

Moscow—(AP)—The Soviet Union today returned a United States note protesting against what the United States called the forcible detention of the wives of two American embassy officials.

The U.S. embassy in Moscow was said to take a grave view of the incident, feeling that it strikes at the basic issue of the personal safety of American diplomatic personnel in Russia.

In Washington, the state department said the women were held by Russian secret police for approximately an hour and a half Monday "in violation of generally accepted diplomatic practice that prohibits the arrest or detention of persons having recognized diplomatic status."

U. S. officials said the Soviet government countered the protest by accusing one of the wives, Mrs. Earl E. Sommerlatte, of "hooliganism" and demanding her recall by the United States. Mrs. Sommerlatte is the wife of the embassy's second secretary.

The other woman involved in the incident was identified as the wife of Marine Lieut.-Col. Houston Stiff, assistant naval attache at the embassy.

Washington officials said the women became alarmed during their detention and a scuffle ensued. One of the women slapped one of the policemen. This apparently was the basis for the hooliganism charge against Mrs. Sommerlatte.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen sent a personal note to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov about the incident. Late Tuesday, the Soviet Foreign office summoned U.S. Minister Walter Walmsley. When he appeared at the office, the head of the protocol section, M. Kisilev, read him a statement setting forth the Soviet position on the case.

Walmsley termed the statement a "fabrication" and refused to accept a written copy of the oral statement in which the Soviet government said Mrs. Sommerlatte was "no longer desirable" in the Soviet Union.

A Soviet note repeating the version given orally to Walmsley arrived Tuesday night at the American embassy.

Bohlen sent it back saying: "This version is in such flagrant contradiction of the facts that I am sure that after further investigation the foreign ministry will wish to change it."

Early today, the Soviet Union sent its note again to the embassy and at the same time returned Bohlen's note.

The state department gave the following version of the incident:

"On the morning of Oct. 25, while Mrs. Sommerlatte and Mrs. Stiff were walking in an area near the American embassy in Moscow, they asked a group of women working in the area for permission to take their picture. The women politely replied that they preferred not to have their picture taken, after which Mrs. Sommerlatte and Mrs. Stiff left the area without removing their camera from its case.

"At this time, two Soviet citizens dressed in civilian clothes indicated that there were some very interesting subjects for photography on a small hill nearby and led the ladies into a club building. Mrs. Stiff and Mrs. Somerlatte immediately recognized that there was nothing of interest in the building and attempted to leave. The two men, whose subsequent action clearly showed them to be Soviet secret

Alberta Oil Fire Still Uncontrolled

Ma-me-o Beach, Alta. — (CP) — Alberta's second major oil well fire of the year belched 300-foot flames today as engineers figured a method to choke off natural gas roaring from the ground at an estimated daily rate of 10,000,000 cubic feet.

One man was killed and three suffered serious burns when the well blew wild Tuesday about 24 hours before it was scheduled to go on production.

The well, situated in the Bonnie Glen oil field 50 miles southwest of Edmonton, was being drilled for Texaco Explorations Ltd., when an earth-shaking explosion ripped the site.

Drilling rig worker Jack Emslie was killed while three of his fellow workers were caught in a geyser of flame. They rolled in a nearby water-filled ditch to put out their burning clothing.

Taken to Wetaskiwin hospital, 20 miles east, were: Albert Voight, 26, Gordon Frederickson, 24, and Pat Ryan, 24. They suffered third degree burns and hospital authorities described their condition as critical. All lived here.

The drilling rig, owned by General Petroleums of Canada Ltd., and valued by the company at $500,000, collapsed when the fire grew large enough to send off a glow seen as far north as Edmonton.

Radio Time Is Election Heart Ache

New York—(CP)—A handful of harried network executives probably are wishing today that they could say no when the President of the United States asks for free radio and television time for a "non-political" broadcast.

No self - respecting network vice-president surrenders as much as five minutes of his lucrative evening broadcasting schedule without a pang. But when it happens during an election campaign and the opposing party demands to get into the act, it becomes dynamite.

The networks' current distress began when Stephen Mitchell, the Democratic national chairman, took in a telecast of a cabinet meeting in which State Secretary Dulles reported on his round of European conferences culminating in the signing of the Paris treaty on German rearmament.

Mitchell termed the program "a political charade" and demanded that the networks give Democratic Leader Adlai Stevenson equal time to reply. He also attacked several "non-political" broadcasts of Eisenhower addresses as having "an unusual amount of partisan political content."

Faced with the problem of second-guessing the White House on what constitutes a non-political program, the Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Company decided to string along with the official version and turned the Democrats down. The National Broadcasting Company disagreed and gave Mitchell his time.

Free time on a national network is of particular value in a non-presidential election year when party enthusiasm and campaign funds are lower than when the presidency is at stake.

The dispute temporarily took the spotlight away from the campaigners for the Nov. 2 Congressional elections although politicians on both sides were busy hammering away at the issues.

There were conflicting reports from Labor Secretary James Mitchell and Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks for the Republicans and Stevenson for the Democrats on the country's economy picture.

There were also conflicting, though hardly startling, predictions on the outcome of the election. Vice-President Nixon thinks the Republicans are going to win. Stevenson says they'll lose.

Oppose Grants To Separate Schools

Victoria. —(CP)— A brief was presented to the British Columbia cabinet Tuesday asking that no financial aid be given Roman Catholic schools.

It was placed before the cabinet by a three-man delegation of Protestants. One, Rev. W. M. Robertson of Vancouver Metropolitan Tabernacle, said:

"The teaching in Roman Catholic schools is against tolerance for any other Christian religion or church."

The Roman Catholic Church operates separate schools in B.C. attended by 10,000 pupils. Full cost of operating the schools is borne by Roman Catholic families. In June, a delegation of Roman Catholic bishops sought aid from the cabinet.

The Protestants' brief demands that no aid be given the separate schools because the system in Ontario and other provinces has led to "the teaching of intolerance and national disunity."

Queen Mother Captures Hearts Of New Yorkers

By LLOYD McDONALD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York — (CP) — Her charm and radiance undimished by 15 years of crisis, war and widowhood, Queen Mother Elizabeth is back in North America for the first time since the 1939 royal tour of Canada.

The Queen Mother landed Tuesday evening in misty, warm October weather for a private visit to New York, Washington and Ottawa. The visit will be shorter than the 1939 tour and will take in only limited territory in comparison with that transcontinental journey, but the busy round of functions and private sightseeing will give millions the chance to greet her again.

Today she planned to renew her association with Canada at a luncheon given by the Canadian Club in New York at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. There she was to unveil a portrait of her daughter, the Queen, presented to the club by the noted British artist Frank Slater.

The liner Queen Elizabeth was delayed 12 hours by a gale off Newfoundland, but the Queen Mother's schedule was not affected since her first few hours ashore were given to Wave Hill, the Riverdale home of Sir Pierson Dixon, permanent British delegate to the United Nations, where she will stay while in New York.

The Queen Mother captured the hearts of the traditionally tough New York press photographers on her arrival, even as she had with the 1,900-odd passengers who crossed the Atlantic with her in the liner that she christened in 1939.

Not scheduled to be seen officially until the reception ceremonies more than an hour after the vessel's scheduled docking time she made a surprise appearance on the bridge as the ship sailed up the Hudson towards its mid-Manhattan pier.

The photographers, disregarding barriers and the tradition of the bridge's inviolability, swarmed up towards her shouting, "Hey, Queen, Queen!" She turned, smiled and waved to them, giving them a few precious seconds for shots before the ship's officers chased them back to the boat deck.

Those were the pictures that appeared on the front pages of all four New York morning newspapers.

It was only made known later that a few minutes' delay in starting the approach would have resulted in the liner having to wait for the next tide.

Later, the Queen entered the verandah lounge on the stern sun deck for the first official function of her trip.

Sir Roger Makins, towering British ambassador to Washington, presented representatives of President Eisenhower and the mayor of New York, and Commonwealth diplomats including Ray Lawson, the Canadian consul-general.

The Queen, her voice barely audible above the press, newsreel and television cameras, thanked the American representatives for their welcome and said she looked forward to her visit to "this noble city" of New York.

The Queen, who had spent a carefree Atlantic crossing mingling with the passengers and crew alike, left remembrances with the crew. She gave three pairs of gold cufflinks bearing the royal initials "ER" to the chief steward, the deck steward and the assistant steward. The chief stewardess received a gold initialled pin, and autographed photographs were presented to several of the officers of the liner that the Queen Mother has always referred to as "my ship."

U.S. Confirms Explosion Of A-Bombs By Russians

Washington — (AP) — For the first time in more than a year, the United States government has reported Russian atomic test blasts, thus confirming a Soviet announcement last month.

The Atomic Energy Commission issued a statement Tuesday night telling of "a series of detonations of nuclear explosives in Soviet territory" starting in mid-September and "continuing at intervals to the present."

The use of the term "series of detonations" suggested to some observers the possibility that the Soviets may be developing a "family" of nuclear weapons, possibly including artillery shells.

Otherwise, the AEC statement shed little light. It gave no inkling as to whether the Russians had set off atomic or hydrogen devices.

It did say, "These tests have resulted in some widespread fallout of radioactive material, but insignificantly in the United States."

AEC said nothing about how it found out for itself about the Russian tests, but the reference to the nuclear fall-out may in itself be a hint.

Not since Aug. 31, 1953, has the AEC formally announced Russian A-test activity. It said then there had been a fission-type explosion on Soviet soil and that the blast "would appear to be part of a series."

Last Sept. 17, the Soviet Union announced it had exploded "one of a type of atomic weapons" with what it called "valuable results." The Russians gave no details on where the explosion had been touched off or what type of weapon was involved.

About a week later, the Tokyo newspaper Asahi quoted Japanese scientists as saying they had "almost conclusive evidence" that the Russians had triggered an H-bomb on Wrangel Island in the Arctic circle 500 miles northwest of Nome, Alaska.

At about the same time, a Canadian scientist reported that radioactive material from a Russian nuclear blast had appeared at Vancouver. But this scientist said he thought the explosion happened farther way than Wrangel Island, which is more than 2,000 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Importance Of Definite Objective Told Waterloo High School Grads

Waterloo, Oct. 27. — "As you graduate tonight, the first thing is to know where you are going" stated Rev. Colin West in his address to the graduates of the 1953-54 class of the Waterloo High School. "That is the trouble with our world today" continued the guest speaker, "too many people do not know where they are going. They have no destination in mind, consequently they end up in the same place everytime, nowhere. It is not easy to make up your mind when leaving school" Mr. West went on, "but there are considerations that you should bear in mind before you make your decision."

In enumerating these considerations, the speaker stated that one must know the rules of the road, and follow them.

The first one would be the rule of honesty — honesty with yourself, having the courage to face up to one's own limitations and short comings. One cannot have a pleasant journey through life unless he or she can live honestly with himself, it was stated. We must play the game fair and square with others as well.

"How about the equipment one takes along the road of life?" Education is above all the most important piece of equipment one can take with him. Knowlege is the key that opens many doors, the door to happiness, to security and to success. Education prepares on for life, it develops one's character and it teaches one the art of getting along with other people, especially those who are different from us.

"Finally", concluded Mr. West, "newer make a journey by yourself. You need companions, but they must be selected with care. There is the companionship of good books, music and art. But there is One Companion we must never forget. One who offers you an abundant life, One who promised to be with you always even unto the end. It is not necessary to travel alone."

The speaker, who was introduced by Commissioner Orval Lewis was very warmly thanked by Commissioner Wesley Parkes.

The chairman for the evening, in the absence of chairman of the School Board, Robert Flood, was Commissioner Jack Buckland.

In his opening remarks, he introduced the guests and commissioners, which introduction included Mrs. Dorothy Adam, Messrs. Wesley Parkes, Eugene Sheppard, Orval Lewis, Charles Slack, O. T. Pickford, Frank Bockus, Thomas Malone, Bert Hanson, efficient secretary treasurer of the school board, Rev. Mr. Nurse of Knowlton and Rev. Colin West.

Mr. Buckland explained how the cost of education is increasing each year and ways and means of increasing the revenue are a constant source of worry. He warmly congratulated O. T. Pickford, the principal, and all the teachers of the high school, stating that people might not fully realize unless they work closely with this group of people, just how cooperative and how understanding a group they are.

He then introduced the principal who congratulated the graduating class and wished them the best in their new life. He also thanked the parents for their cooperation and asked that it may continue through the coming year.

"Do not expect miracles" he stated, "but we ask you to realize that we are human, and that as teachers we are doing our best."

Miss Elizabeth Griffin, French specialist, had grades nine, ten and eleven sing in French a group of three which were very nicely done. Miss Janis Martin was the accompanist for the night.

The Glee Club under the able direction of Kenneth Lee, teacher of grade six, sang a group of five three-part rounds. This arrangement, which included White Coral Bells, How, How lovely is the Evening, Fires Burning, Sweetly Sings the Donkey and Row Row Row your Boat, was entirely Mr. Lee's and it was exceptionally well done by this very young group of singers. Mr. Lee deserves much credit for the fine performance of his glee club with such short rehearsal period.

In her valedictory, Miss Lorraine Langevin stated that teachers are one of the main factors during one's school lives, and "we realize now what our teachers have meant to us. Not only do we owe our teachers a debt of gratitude but our parents, who guided us through our school years."

Books were also listed as a main factor, and of course there was always the fun of working toward a goal and achieveing.

Miss Langevin spoke affectionately of Albert Bance the school caretaker and bus driver, saying that it would never be forgotten how he helped the gang, how he cheered them, how he was always a friend to all of them, "and a special thanks to Mr. Pickford for all he has done for us. When he needed him, he was always there. He worked with us and for us and he brought us to what we are today, the class of 1954."

Following the closing prayer by Mr. Nurse, an adjournment was called by the chairman when all guests were invited to visit the class rooms after which a dance was held to the music of Hollenbeck's orchestra.

It was a very fine School Commencement program and a large number of parents and friends attended this function. Special congratulations are due all prize winners and all those who accomplished that after which they had set out. As Mr. West stated, "this is the most important night of your life" and that is just what these same boys and girls will realize as the years roll by.

Housing Still Short

New Construction Still Failing To Meet Demand

House building across Canada is still a long way from catching up with demand, a Canadian Press survey shows. In most cities rental accommodation is difficult to locate or expensive.

Of 13 major Canadian cities surveyed, five were building more houses this year than last, five were building fewer and the other three were constructing about the same.

Toronto, with 18,000 units built or planned for 1954, is leading Canada in house construction, and is well above its 1953 total of 12,070 new homes.

The situation in Regina is the opposite where fewer houses are being built this year even though some officials have described the situation there as one of the worst is North America.

The situation is one of the big issues in Regina. Civic elections will be held Nov. 3 when electors will vote on a plan for subsidized housing.

Slum clearance is at the planning stage in Halifax, Sydney, N. S., and Montreal. But in Saint John, N.B., about 50 sub-standard houses are being torn down annually.

Two hundred replacement houses were completed last spring under three-way financing—federal, provincial and municipal. Work on an additional 200 homes is scheduled to begin next spring.

There is a big demand for rental suites and houses in Saskatoon but few are available. Similar conditions exist in Moose Jaw, Sask., Edmonton and Winnipeg. Apartments are almost impossible to find in Prince Albert, Sask., authorities say.

Lethbridge, on the other hand, reports an improved picture for renting as does Vancouver and Calgary. In all centres, high-priced flats are more available than cheaper accommodation.

In Regina, some authorities blame the situation on the province's increased prosperity due to oil discoveries. They predict the situation may get worse before it improves.

Prices are high in comparison with other western Canadian cities. As much as $75 a month is asked for two-room unfurnished flats in a house.

Vancouver's "nomadic people" are blamed for a heavy volume of moving within the city. There is a higher percentage of rental units than owned. Building is keeping up with demand.

Need Of Leadership Stressed Before Local Rotary By District Governor

Members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night received their annual visit from the District Governor, who this year is Shelbey O. Walker, of Concord, New Hampshire.

Mr. Walker, in his address, congratulated the members of the past year and was particularly pleased when told that last night's attendance was 102 out of a possible 122. Two of the absent were sick.

The District Governor outlined the symbols of Rotary International and told the members that above all, "A Rotarian should place service above self in a way that will dignify his business, his club and his community for Rotary International is a maker of friendship and a builder of men and communities, to secure freedom, justice and peace for mankind."

Governor Walker outlined some of the responsibilities of Rotary and added, "A Rotarian is a leader in his community and therefore should not be too modest in telling other people of the work that he is doing."

He spoke in particular on vocational service, in which he said: "A Rotarian should shine." He outlined the four way test, whose author was International President Herbert Taylor. "Rotary will only grow with the help you give," he added.

The speaker was introduced by President McManamy and thanked by Vice-President Hawley Griffith.

Nelson Lothrop, chairman of the Youth Committee, gave a full report on the outfitting of 117 children with shoes and rubbers last Saturday. He said that there were still 81 more children to be outfitted and that this Saturday the job would be completed. The average cost per child was $4.20.

The first part of the weekly meeting was spent on plans for the coming Rotary Fair. Chairman of the raffle committee, Forest Keene urged all members to sell their raffle tickets, as they only have a week left until the start of the fair. Gerry Wiggett asked that everyone turn out and help make the fair a success. He also had several suggestions for booth chairmen. He asked that every booth have plenty of help and that a Rotarian be on hand to open each booth every night. The full need of supplies should be anticipated so as they will not run short.

Ballet Classes Being Conducted At Lennoxville

The ever-busy Lennoxville Home and School Association is at it again. This time it is sponsoring Ballet Classes, which are being held in the High School Gymnasium every Saturday morning at 8:45.

The classes began last Saturday, when there were fifty interested students enrolling. Although this is a large number, it is hoped that the total enrolment may be raised to sixty. The fee is comparatively low for such classes and it should prove to be very interesting for all concerned.

Madame Sosinska, of Montreal, is the competent instructress in charge and she will conduct three classes each Saturday. The classes, each of which last for an hour, are divided into age groups, with the youngest being taken at 8:45 and the others following at 9:45 and 10:45.

School Group To Meet Tomorrow At Lennoxville

"How you can help your child in School" is the topic under discussion tomorrow night at the Lennoxville High School Gymnasium, when the Lennoxville and Ascot Home and School Association meets for its October meeting.

This should prove to be a very interesting evening, with three competent speakers handling the discussion: Mrs. R. Knapp, 2nd vice-president of the Association, E. E. Denison, Principal of the High School, and Dr. J. D. Jefferis, Professor of Education at Bishop's University.

As other meetings, this is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and all parents and members are invited to attend.

Minor Baseball Squad Feted As Old Boys Meet

The regular monthly supper meeting of the St. Pat's Old Boys' Association was held last evening at the Magog Hotel with President Sol Parker in the chair. On this occasion, the Old Boys had as their guests the members of the St. Pat's Yankees, a team sponsored by the Association in the Sherbrooke Minor Baseball League.

After the regular reports from secretary Mark Hayes and treasurer Henry Crochetiere, the president welcomed the guests and congratulated them on their showing for the first year in the League. He stated that he knew the boys would do better next season, as the experience they gained would benefit them in the future. He thanked Charles "Casey" Clark for his splendid work with the team and hoped he would be with the boys again next season.

Mr. Parker also complimented League President Ted Anderson and his executive for the splendid work they were doing for the youngsters in the city and wished the league all success in the future.

Henry Crochetiere reported that the task of closing the camp at Stoke Lake had been completed.

Maurice Parsons, minor hockey league convenor, stated that the Q.A.H.A. would provide insurance for all minor hockey players this season.

Milton Largy was named chairman of the sports committee.

The next meeting will be held on November 23 at the Magog Hotel.

Eastern Townships Residents Offer Final Tribute To Dr. W. L. Shurtleff

Coaticook, Oct. 27.—"We think of him as an exemplary person, especially from the humanitarian point of view. The most outstanding thing of his life to him was the happiness that came to him for helping someone in some way." This tribute was paid to William Lewis Shurtleff, LL.D., by Rev. Dr. W. B. Perry, minister of the Coaticook United Church, at the impressive funeral service held yesterday afternoon for the oldest member of the Bar of the District of St. Francis.

Many dignitaries, among them several district lawyers, along with personal friends and neighbors of one of Coaticook's most esteemed residents, joined together at two o'clock yesterday afternoon to pay final tribute to Dr. Shurtleff. The steady drizzle of Fall rain was synonymous of the sentiment felt by the people as they slowly wended their way with the procession to the final resting place of the esteemed nonagenarian.

A strong supporter of the United Church, he was also keenly interested in education, being chairman of the Coaticook Protestant School Board for many years, a member of the Council of Public Instruction for the Province of Quebec, a representative of the Protestant Committee on the Teacher and Training Committee of Macdonald College, and a trustee of the Strathcona Trust. He himself was educated at Coaticook High School and Bishop's University, where he graduated from the Faculty of Law. He was the oldest living graduate holding a Doctor's degree in law in course from Bishop's.

Upon graduation, he was admitted to the Bar of the District of St. Francis in 1886 and served as Batonnier in 1913. He was elected representative of the Eastern Townships Bar on the Executive Committee of the Dominion Bar Association at its organization in 1914.

He served for several years as attorney for the Town of Coaticook, a position now held by his legal partner, Roger E. Bouchard. In addition to his practise of law, he also engaged in the newspaper business, purchasing the Coaticook Observer in partnership with the late L. S. Channell in 1890, acquiring complete ownership the following year. He continued as proprietor and editor until 1903.

An ardent Conservative in politics, he was named organizer of the party for the Eastern Townships when the Borden Government came to power in 1911 and was appointed by the government as Commissioner for Quebec Province to inquire into charges of political partisanship.

The deceased was in his 91st year, being born at Eaton Corner on March 29, 1864. He married Edna L. Alger in 1887 and had one daughter, Nellie Blanche, both of whom predeceased him.

At yesterday's service, Rev. Dr. W. B. Perry, minister of the Coaticook United Church, officiated, being assisted by Rev. Albert Johnson, of Toronto, and Rev. J. A. Hochin, both former pastors of the church. The choir director was Robert McAlpine, while Mrs. Paul Brunet was the organist. The choir rendered two hymns, "For All the Saints" and "Abide With Me."

Bearers of the casket were John Stein, Jay N. White, Anson Rogers, Allie Hopkins, Cecil Akhurst and Henry G. Edwards, members of the Coaticook United Church Official Board.

Among those from Coaticook present were: E. E. Akhurst, Frank Hansford and Arnold Wheeler, representing the Official Board; the W.A. and W.M.S. presidents, Mrs. Kenneth Walker and Mrs. John Stein; High School Principal Mr. MacDonald; Mrs. A. Wheeler, Miss A. Parker, Miss M. Waldron, Mrs. Clarence Davis, Mrs. George Sarrasin, Miss Elzada Saxlund, president of the Students' Council; clergy, Rev. McKinley Rose and Rev. W. A. White, Stanstead; Coaticook Town Council, Ledger Cameron, Secretary Romuald Dumont, Maxime

Whereabouts Of Our Lucky-$$ A Mystery

We have come to the end of our rope. There doesn't seem to be anything more we can tell you to help you find those Lucky Bills.

We have done just about everything in our power, except stand outside the office and hand you dollars as you pass by, saying that they were Lucky Bills. But, of course, with all the hustle and bustle going on these days, no one would probably take any notice of a Lucky Bill, even if we told him it was worth ten dollars if returned to us.

It seems a mystery where all the bills go, doesn't it? We have honestly put them in the places we have told you about, and we think that has allowed a fair distribution of them, but what do you people do with them?

We had one example where someone had put one in the bank and it turned up the next week in someone's pay-check. Maybe you are all banking them, but it just doesn't seem logical. So, it still remains a mystery.

Anyway, we will give you another couple of hints today, to try to find out how far and where our Lucky Dollars end up. Did we tell you about the one we spent in Danville last week? There should be one floating around in that area somewhere. We also left one in Dixville not too long ago. And of course there are still several in Sherbrooke.

Let's see a little hunting on your part, people. We can't do much more than we have to help you find them, so you try to do something now.

Give The Week-End A Chance

"I'm dating another man," said the smart-looking young wife, "and the town's not talking." An unusual town, some might say.

The answer is given in the advertisement of a car-lubricating company. The speaker's husband, it transpires, instead of gnawing his finger-nails and cleaning his pistol, is delighted. For the other man happens to be a greasing expert; the date means the family auto is serviced on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. Pa is relieved of a week-end duty.

It has been urged before, that more of the family's routine shopping and check-ups might be done on the less busy days of the week, that is, by those free to do so. This would avoid those packed Fridays and Saturdays; give a better chance to the store-keepers and those able to get out only on Saturdays; be easier all around.

A good part of the household groceries, for instance, could be laid in before Friday, refrigeration "being wot it is" today. Things for the laundry and the cleaners; that pair of shoes to be repaired, might be sent on Monday or Tuesday. The bank visit, haircuts and shines might be kept, when possible, for TWT.

In this way those with time off over the week-end can make it a real holiday. They can relax, give themselves "the time to let the soul catch up with the body," the time to count their blessings.

A Scholar's Prediction

There will be no Third World War. At least, such is the opinion of Dr. Arnold Toynbee.

Dr. Toynbee is a scholar of no small reputation. He has spent 34 of his 65 years in writing a history which covers six thousand years of the human story. Into the nine heavy volumes of this work have gone more than three million words.

The scholar, immured in his study for the better part of his life, believes the world will now see a long period of "missionary warfare" with an undramatic ending. He predicts that Russian society will gradually come more to resemble that of the western countries and of this there are already signs.

But before we begin to be unduly sanguine over the words of this erudite writer it might be wise to reflect that another scholar might write six million words on history and come up with the conclusion that war is just around the corner. For scholars have a way of differing as much as medical or handwriting experts in court.

The lesson of history is that there is no lesson at all. No circumstances are ever the same; otherwise the task of rulers would be a simple one.

Dr. Toynbee's opinion, despite all his learning, is just as valuable on the subject of the Third World War as that of the average housewife and no more likely to be accurate than the names-in-a-hat system of a novice at the races.

Color Prejudice In Bread

Nutritionists are unanimous in their verdict that whole wheat bread is more nourishing than the white even when the latter has been fortified or enriched. Yet many restaurants still serve only the white, offering no choice. And the further one goes into the countryside the less whole wheat appears on household tables.

The whole wheat, as many know, is more natural and less refined. (In flour it is often available in coarse, medium and fine.)

Many palates, largely as a result of habit, reject the whole wheat although it is steadily gaining in favor, also, an old-time prejudice enters. In Europe, for instance, the peasantry traditionally ate course, dark bread and the white was considered a luxury, almost an hallmark of gentility.

The same color prejudice is true of the choice of tooth-brushes. Many dentist hold that the unbleached do the better job. But the white are more attractive, cleaner-looking to the eye the result being that the unbleached are a rarity.

Quite A Man

Physical culture certainly makes a man feel young if one accepts Bernarr Macfadden, a leading exponent, as a typical example. The other day Macfadden, now 86, had an office fracas with his son, a six-footer weighing 190 pounds. True, the elder Macfadden emerged with a black eye but he had managed to kick his son in the groin and, evidently, to put up a good fight.

This is an age when most men are content with slippers and an easy chair and have been forced to learn the advantages of the soft answer.

Bernarr Macfadden, many readers will remember, took up parachute jumping when well past the three score years and ten Also, marriage. He has made a large fortune in publishing; still does his daily dozen.

He might hold his peace in the presence of an enraged Rocky Marciano, an Ezzard Charles or a Joe Louis. Then again, he might not.

When the time comes when it looks as though death had claimed Bernarr Macfadden the doctors will have to make very sure.

Mirror Of Opinion

REMODELING DOUGHNUT
Windsor Star

American doughnut producers have announced, with the flourish of a manufacturer proclaiming a change in models, that their product will be given a "new look." The hole will be reduced from seven-eighths of an inch to three-eighths, thereby providing dunkers with a better grip.

Thus the doughnut is reduced to a matter of engineering, when the main demand simply is for a better doughnut—better in texture, flavor, and in the way it sits on the stomach.

Never mind about the dunkers. They've never been so numerous as light observations on the subject of doughnuts would have one believe. If there is any need to improve their grips, it can be done by providing a doughnut that doesn't leave the impression it has just been oiled.

What the doughnut needs most of all is a return to mother's recipe. The producers who do that need have no worry about survival. Quality products are not subject to the whims of exhibitionists, let dunkers say what they may.

BUSINESS SIDE OF A CHURCH
St. Thomas Times-Journal

A report from London states that the Church of England has security holdings to the value of $375,000,000. The Church has many able local and national financiers and business men among its officials who handle its finances. These men watch the stock markets with as shrewd an eye to profit-making as they would their own affairs. During the past year they have taken advantage of the recrudescence of British business to switch church investments from bonds to stocks likely to yield higher returns. The Church has now about $100,000,000 in gilt-edged securities.

We noticed the other day that an Anglican synod in Ontario grieved over the fact that there was the usual dearth of candidates for the ministry due to the hard, practical fact that stipends are not encouraging compared with the rewards of other professions and industry.

KNIGHTING AN IDEA
(Christian Science Monitor)

Bestowal of a Knighthood of the Garter is always an occasion for gracious comment in Britain. But Queen Elizabeth's honoring the British Foreign Secretary in this way may one day be remembered as having a profound historical significance. All this quite apart from the fact that a membership in the very exclusive Order of the Garter is more distinguished than many a peerage.

This knighthood has come to Sir Anthony Eden (we shall have to get used to calling him that) partly in recognition of his role in helping Western Europe to find a substitute for the defeated European Defense Community project. And Mr. that is, Sir Anthony — Eden accomplished what he did by starting Britain on a course from which in the past it had always shied away.

It is a course toward British integration with Europe, including a sacrifice of sovereignty such as other members of a West European defense community are asked to make. Britain, the Foreign Secretary agreed, would keep troops on the continent of Europe subject to decisions by the new defense union and not subject simply to Britain's own interpretation of national needs.

Many people in Britain are not ready for this yet. Labor Party members are attacking this move on the grounds of expense and the possibility that it will extend the duration of British conscription. Even much thoughtful middle-road and internationally minded opinion doubts the wisdom of the Eden contribution to Europe's security because it involves Britain in a major commitment which the United States has shown no willingness to share.

It was from Sir Anthony, not from that other great Garter Knight, Sir Winston Churchill, that the impetus for the move came. So the honors which now go to the Foreign Secretary not only spotlight the "new Eden" as a figure of suddenly enlarged stature on the British and the world stage but honor an idea which up to now has repelled most of his countrymen.

SANTA JUMPS THE GUN
Hamilton Spectator

We can recall being taken when very young to see the annual Santa Claus parade in a Canadian city. Winter had begun and snow was on the ground. If memory serves, the date was the first Saturday of December. That left roughly three weeks for the old gentleman to see the children and to work his charm on the buying public.

Things have changed since that day, however, and have left us with a deep-rooted objection to one aspect of the Christmas season, and we rejoice to see that we are joined by an august British group, the National Chamber of Trade, which deplores with us the tendency to introduce Santa Claus too early.

It is now a far cry to that snowy day when we welcomed St. Nick and if the current trend continues we may expect to see at some future date the old gentleman arriving some time between corn picking and grape festival, escorted by a bevy of Bikini-clad beauties.

Sometimes, at the back of our mind and just a day or so before Christmas, a nasty little thought that we are heartily sick and tired of Santa Claus' attempts to break surface. This is dangerous thinking and any influence causing it is dangerous also. Let's put Santa Claus back in December where he belongs and remove the threat to his prestige.

Like certain other Britons who have recently visited the Soviet Union, Lord Coleraine duly reports his admiration of what the Russian government has accomplished in the way of physical construction and social welfare. But by contrast to them the Conservative peer seems to have licked through at least part of the sugar coating on the pill of Communist dictatorship.

He found the average Russian somewhat alarmingly ignorant of what was happening in the outside world. And he was "slightly" disturbed to note the glorification of military violence being taught in the Russian schools.

Allowing for British understatement, reinforced by the amenities due his host, Lord Coleraine has painted a picture at considerable variance with current Soviet professions. Widespread popular ignorance and official promotion of militarism are hardly the normal ingredients of peaceful co-existence. Perhaps the British Socialists who lately visited Moscow had better go back for another look.

FOR RECEPTION TO MARTIANS

Hamilton Spectator: The French National Committee for Festivals and Propaganda has everything ready for a formal reception when, as and if a Martian sets foot on Earth — assuming, of course, that he lands in France. And we hope he does land in France; there is no country better qualified to present Earth-life in a pleasing light and to get interplanetary relations off to a good start.

The French do these things very well—the clinking of glasses in the introductory "wine of honour," the gracefully-turned speech of welcome by the dignitary wearing the tri-colour sash across his well-filled waistcoat, the softly-illuminated public buildings, the cunningly-balanced menu for the banquet, the breastplated and plumed Republican Guards who manage to look so monarchical, the women who know how to wear the latest from M. Dior or M. Fath, and, of course, the blue buses filled with police parked in side streets just in case the Commies try to spoil the show.

Elsewhere the welcome might seem less felicitous to the Martian Columbus. In London everybody would most politely not stare at him, and after a while he would have to ask a policeman where to go and would be directed to some obscure office in Whitehall. In Washington he would find himself subpoenaed to appear before the television cameras of a committee on un-Earthly activities. In Moscow they would toss him in Lubianka prison and uncover a Western plot to sow measles germs in the Dynamo football team. And as for Hamilton, if he managed to land in spite of Controller Bagg's flak, he would find himself appointed to the latest committee looking for new City Hall sites.

Australian Censorship Bans Horror And Sex Comics

By LOUIS L. LECK

Sydney, Australia—(AP)—Censorship of books and magazines in Australia is being extended by legislation in four of the six states.

This wider provincial legislation is aimed chiefly at controlling publication and distribution of "horror" and sex comics, magzines and paper backed novels dealing with themes of crime and violence, and the large number of nudist magazines which have come on the Australian market in recent years.

Legislation with this objective has a good deal of public support. At the same time there is considerable concern that the legislation may cast lead to censorship of all books and newspapers.

The censorship set-up in Australia is complicated. The federal minister for customs has power to ban import of books or publications which he considers "blasphemous, indecent or obscene."

The minister may refer questionable works to an advisory committee but he is not bound to accept the committee's advice. In fact, different customs ministers have applied different standards in deciding what books shall be allowed entry.

But the control over books and magazines printed and published in Australia has been left to state law.

In the past, most of the states have relied on statutory provisions, under which a person publishing an obscene publication can be proceeded against in the courts either by the police or by a private individual.

Such proceedings have proved cumbersome and few prosecutions have been launched. For this reason four of the states—New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland and South Australia—have either enacted or have proposed specific legislation designed to control the publication of indecent literature.

The first legislation was passed in Queensland and now is in operation. It provides for the establishment of a special board of review, which has power to ban publication or sale of magazines or comics dealing with sex, horror, crime and violence.

The legislation specifically exempts newspapers so far as current news and advertisements are concerned. But comic strips, short stories or serials appearing in a newspaper are not covered by the exemption.

It is this provision which worries people who are concerned with the freedom of the press. They argue that a newspaper which is unpopular with the government could be subjected to political pressure under threat of being banned as an obscene publication.

The Victoria act does not provide for the appointment of a board. It provides the publishers and distributors of printed matter must be licensed and that the licence can be revoked on conviction of the sale, distribution or printing of "any matter tending to disprove and corrupt persons whose minds are open to immoral influences and unduly emphasizing matters of sex, crimes of violence, gross cruelty and horror." The South Australian act runs along much the same lines.

Legislation has not yet been introduced in New South Wales but the government has promised the bill will be introduced in the current session.

Australian newspapers generally agree that the publication of horror comics and salacious literature is to be deplored. But they see dangers in legislation designed to control such forms of literature.

In a typical editorial the Sydney Morning Herald said: "If the government is really convinced that the present law is inadequate, let it . . . amend the law, but leave the decision to the courts. Any attempt to create a censorship by setting up a board of advisers on the Queensland model should be—and would be—resisted as strongly as possible.

"Uncertain as are the decisions of courts under the present system, they are at least arrived at in public and they tend to reflect public opinion as a whole. They also provide a right of appeal, which is a very necessary safeguard in such cases."

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

THIS TYPE BID IS HARD TO EXPLAIN

Goodness only knows why Billy Rosen, youthful Chicago member of the world champion bridge team, decided to open the bidding in the hand shown today. The South hand certainly isn't an orthodox opening bid, and it would seem perfectly normal to pass the hand and still get to the very good final contract of five diamonds.

The truth is that Billy did bid the hand and that he did get to the best contract. At the other table, in the national team championships, a member of the opposing team climbed all the way up to six spades on the North-South cards. The play was even stranger than the bidding, for that enterprising North player found a way to go down five.

Let's return from the rarefied atmosphere of slams that go down five tricks and see how Rosen played his normal contract of five diamonds. West very shewdly decided to lead a trump, risking the loss of his trump trick.

Fortunately for West, his partner had good supporting trumps, and the lead cost nothing. Rosen won in his own hand with the king of diamonds.

It isn't easy to find the right play for 11 tricks. It's one of those shapless hands in which you must proceed in a general direction rather than with a definite idea of why you make each play.

At the second trick, Rosen led a club to the ace and then ruffed a club. He next cashed the ace and king of spades and ruffed another club. Then he led a diamond to the ace and led the king of clubs, discarding a heart from his hand.

West didn't want to ruff with the queen of diamonds since he would then have to lead hearts up to declarer's king. When West discarded, Rosen continued with dummy's last club, discarding another heart. West discarded again, for the same reason.

Rosen now ruffed a spade and West had to overruff. Otherwise South would have had 10 tricks, with an obvious heart ruff to furnish his eleventh.

Unfortunately for West, he now had to lead hearts. If he led the ace, dummy could ruff and if he led a low heart, dummy could discard. Either way the defenders could get only one further trick, and Rosen made his contract.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Double	?

You, South, hold: Spades 9-8-6-3, Hearts 7-5-4-2, Diamond 4, Clubs 9-6-5-2. What do you do?

A—Pass. Your hand is a nightmare and you don't even have support for your partner's suit. Nevertheless you have no reason to expect that you'd be better off in any other suit, and you must hope that West will respond to the double instead of passing for penalties.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You South, hold: Spades K-6-3, Hearts Q-5-4, Diamonds Q-4, Clubs 9-6-5-3-2. What do you do?

Mrs. T. A. Cadman Gives Talk On Trip To Europe

The Women's Federation of the Lennoxville United Church were privileged to have Mrs. T. A. Cadman describe the trip which she and her husband, Dr. Cadman, had recently taken to Europe. The many places that they had visited in France, Italy and England were described and illustrated by beautiful colored pictures taken by themselves or some of their party.

The regular Federation meeting was held in the Scott Hall with Mrs. Stewart Snow, vice-president, in the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. Austin Scott. The treasurer, Mrs. Allan Moore, reported a small alance on hand and asked that the Groups turn in their funds to the federation as soon as possible after the completion of their activites for the year.

The Women's Groups, with the exception of Group VI, reported on what had been done since the last general meeting and their plans for the balance of the year. The date for the annual meeting is to be arranged at an executive meeting.

A bale of clothing for Korea is to be packed on October 29, in Douglas Hall, with Mrs. D. Hadlock in charge. Bell Trial Will Go To Jury Today

Belleville, Ont., — (CP) — The trial of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bell, 48, charged with murder in the poison death of her husband, Percy Bell, 57, is expected to go to the jury today following the address by Chief Justice J. C. McRuer.

Crown attorney Alex Hall, of Oshawa, Ont., and defence counsel Ronald Cass addressed the jury Tuesday at the trial's 11th day.

Mrs. Bell, accused of poisoning her husband with strychnine last Jan. 2, sat with her head bowed as crown and defence counsel spoke of her relationship to Roscoe "Rusty" Jenners, 40, a boarder in the Bell home at the time of Mr. Bell's death.

Mr. Cass, who called no witnesses for the defence, suggested the most logical conclusion the jury could reach would be that Percy Bell took his own life because of despair as he watched an affair between his wife and Jenners.

The crown attorney suggested the affair reached a climax last New Year's Day when Mrs. Bell learned that Jenners was seeing "another widow," and when Bell decided he had had enough of Jenners.

Mr. Hall said evidence did not indicate that Jenners had murdered Bell but he did not exclude the possibility the boarder might have been an accomplice If the jury believed Mrs. Bell and Jenners "were in this together, that would not exonerate Mary Bell."

Mr. Hall said it was unreasonable to suppose that Jenners would have stayed through Bell's dying agony if he had been the one who had given the poison.

He said it was the crown's contention that Mrs. Bell "did not want to get a doctor until it was all over, and that she sat downstairs while he was dying."

Mr. Cass agreed with the crown's contention there was something going on between Jenners and Mrs. Bell. "Make it as strong as you like. It all points to suicide," he told the jury.

E. T. Chinchilla Breeders Held Active Session

The Eastern Townships Chinchilla Club held their October meeting at the Union Hotel, Magog, with Homer Cutler, president, in the chair.

A report on the sales of garments made from furs sold last year was read by Miss Winnipeg Westman, which started an informal discussion which Mr. Cutler allowed to continue. It appears the Chinchilla Breeders are going to have a difficult time finding enough pelts to meet the demands of the National Chinchilla Breeds Association of Canada for the next sale to be held in February of next year.

Gustave Faniel was present at the meeting and was kept busy giving diagnostics of imaginary Chinchilla ailments as on one seemed to actually need him professionally.

It was a very enjoyable and profitable get-to-gether for Chinchilla-breeders and a big turnout is expected at the next meeting November 20, 1954.

Cut Charge In McAbbie Murder Case

Montreal. —(CP)— A tearful Gertrude Servant and three male co-accused, including her brother and her one-time sweetheart, Tuesday confessed to manslaughter in the robbery death of Bert J. McAbbie.

In an unusual procedure, murder charges against the four suddenly were reduced to manslaughter after the defence had answered the crown's evidence and the case would normally have been closed.

Miss Servant, 24, an attractive redhead, her brother Leo, Gerald Patrick McKuhen and Roy Colligan had been rounded up in various places and charged with the killing of McAbbie, 54-year-old operator of the fashionable au Lutin qui Bouffe restaurant on Jan. 19, 1953.

Jonathan Dawn, former private investigator and fifth person charged in the killing, turned Queen's evidence and is scheduled to stand trial later.

McKuhen, a handsome former salesman, was arrested in Austin, Tex., where he was living the life of a "model husband," having married a German divorcee. He is a former boy friend of Miss Servant.

Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure had a few kind words for Miss Servant, who broke down and sobbed after pleading guilty to the manslaughter charge.

He said her co-accused had gone beyond her "good advice."

Recalling testimony by Dawn, he said "we have before us the evidence that Miss Servant when the men were leaving . . . to commit the holdup warned them to be careful how they treated McAbbie.

"She told them his state of heath was poor and asked them not to hurt him. It was after she said this they unloaded the two guns they had, even to taking out the clips so there would be no accident."

In Memoriam

TURNBULL — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Lily Jane Turnbull, who passed away at Bishopton, October 26th, 1948.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by:

HER DAUGHTER, LILY,
AND FAMILY.
South Ham, Que.

MacDONALD — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Clyde L. MacDonald, who passed away October 27, 1953.

We little knew when we woke that morn,
The sorrow the day would bring,
For the call was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear,
We wonder why he had to die,
Without a chance to say goodbye.

Sadly missed by his mother, brothers and sisters:

MRS. NEIL F. MacDONALD,
AND FAMILY.

LYSTER — In sad and loving memory of our dear husband, father and brother, Selwyn James Lyster, who passed away suddenly October 27th, 1953.

There are some who miss you sadly,
And find the time long since you went,
There are some who think of you always
And try to be brave and content.
When alone in our sorrow and tears gently flow,
There stealeth a dream of the sweet long ago,
Unknown to the world you stand by our side,
And softly whisper, death cannot us divide.

Signed:
STELLA, (wife);
LYNALL, (son);
MIRIAM & MURIEL (sisters).

MARRIAGES

GOSSELIN—HATCH

Tomifobia, Oct. 27. — Baskets of multicolored chrysanthemums, oak and maple leaf foliage formed the setting at the United Church, Tomifobia, Que., on Saturday afternoon, October 23, for the marriage, at half past two o'clock, of Doris Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. White satin ribbon bows and blue baby's breath marked the guest pews.

Important Baseball Meeting Slated For Tomorrow Night

To Be Held At City Hall At 8:00; Public Invited; Decision Regarding Future Of Club To Be Discussed

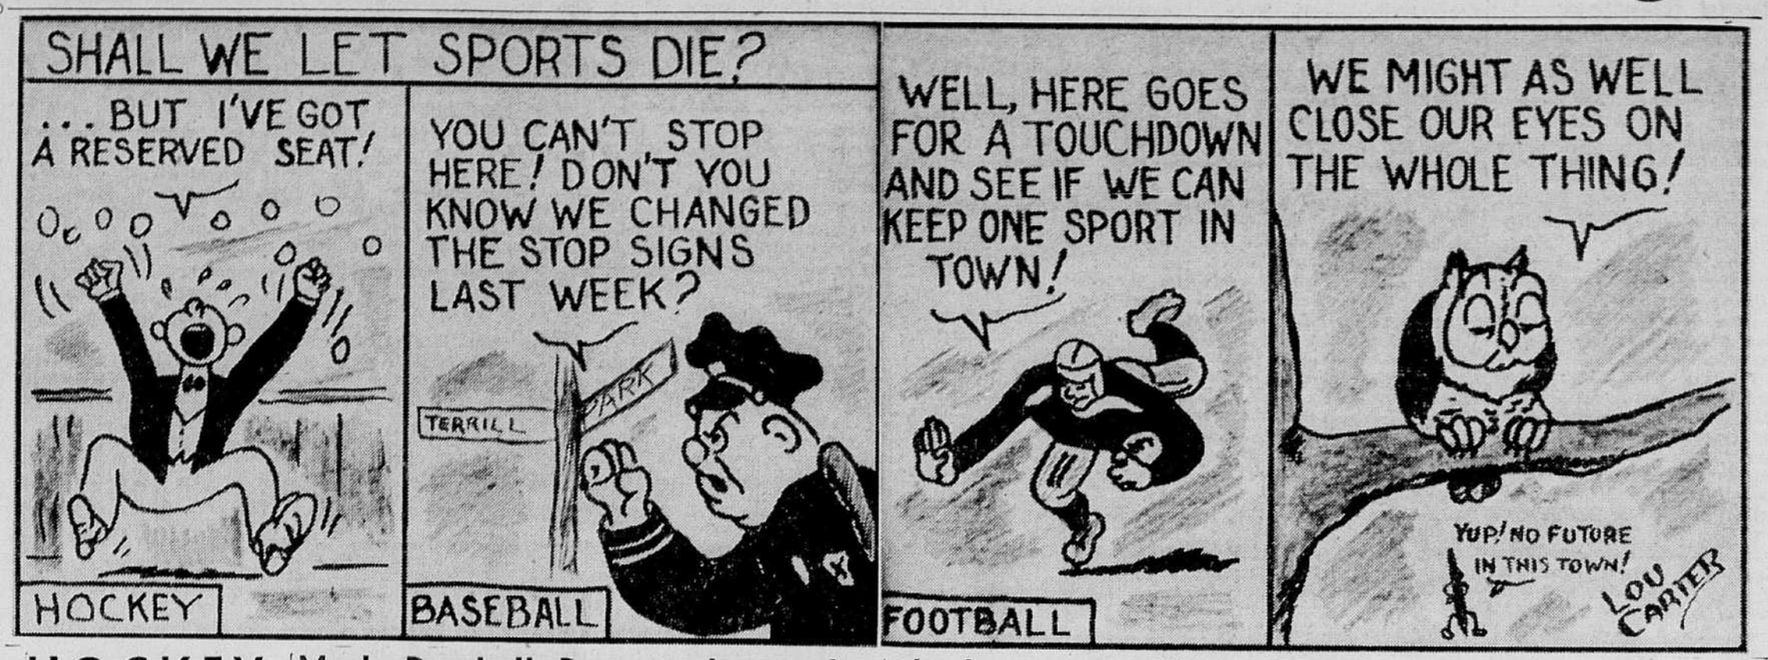
The campaign for the continuation of professional baseball in the City of Sherbrooke is still rolling along despite a declaration in a Montreal newspaper by President Albert Molini that the Cleveland Indians were interested in operating a franchise in Burlington, Vt.

At a special meeting held last night Manager Odie Fortier stated that the Indians were still very much interested in returning to Sherbrooke, providing a group of local fans would take over operation of the club. They would supply the players and team manager.

In order to give all local fans an opportunity of voicing their opinion on the subject a public meeting will be held tomorrow evening at City Hall. Members of the City Council, business men and supporters of baseball in the City are asked to attend this special gathering. With all expressing their opinions regarding baseball it then will be easy to determine the future.

Mr. Fortier also announced that a group of local fans had already subscribed for fifteen shares, for an amount of $1,500, while a group of Newport supporters had also picked up 20 shares for a total of $3,500 at present. Manager Fortier states that $10,000 is required at present in order to meet the different garanties. A deposit of $2,000 goes to the Minor Baseball Association to protect the salaries while a $1,000 is made to the League leaving $7,000 for various expenses until the season opens.

Tomorrow's meeting therefore is in the "must" category and it is hoped that a good crowd will be on hand to express their opinions regarding the future of baseball in Sherbrooke. It is open to all. A definite answer must be handed in at the league's meeting on Sunday. Proceedings will open at 8.00.



Roughriders Open Their Bid For Western Football Championship On Road Against Blue Bombers

Winnipeg —(CP)—Saskatchewan Roughriders, the team with the choice, will open their bid for the Western Interprovincial Football Union championship away from home.

League commissioner G. Sydney Halter announced Tuesday Roughriders will meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers at Winnipeg Saturday night in the opener of the two-game total-points WIFU semi-final.

The second game will be played in Regina Monday afternoon, with the series winner meeting Edmonton Eskimos in a best-of-three final starting Nov. 6 at a venue not yet announced.

Roughriders climbed into a tie with Eskimos Monday night as the regular reason wound up in a thick British Columbia fog. But it was a tie that couldn't stand up against Edmonton's better points-for-and-against record.

Eskimos took a clear-cut 21-12 win over Blue Bombers at Edmonton while Roughriders were leading the B.C. Lions 15-9 at Vancouver when fog halted the game with six minutes remaining.

A game halted by weather is usually replayed but this one goes into the record books as a win for Roughriders.

Sale Of Thoroughbreds By Aga Khan Expected To Make Racing History At Keeneland Race Track On Monday

New York — (AP) — The manager of H. H. Aga Khan's five big stud farms in Ireland today predicted one of the most important thoroughbred auction sales in American racing history when 20 selected broodmares are sold at Keeneland Race Course in Kentucky next Monday night.

Mayor Cyril Hall also disclosed that the Aga Khan, now 79, would not race in England next year for the first time since 1922 and would concentrate his stables in France.

Hall, who arrived Tuesday aboard the storm-tossed Queen Elizabeth, said the Aga Khan couldn't travel as much but would be able to watch his horses race in France.

The Keeneland sale is of great interest to American breeders, for the Aga Khan has been the leading breeder and owner in Europe 23 times since 1924. He has bred five English derby winners, a record, and three of them have been imported to this county as stallions to make a deep impression on American thoroughbred racing. They are Blenheim II, Mahmoud and Bahram, the latter now in South America. His other Epsom derby winners were the Great Tulyar and My Love.

The Aga Khan also bred Nasrullah, sensational sire now standing in Kentucky, whose first offspring in this country may be voted the 1954 2-year-old colt and filly champion — Nashua and Delta.

Nasrullah also sired Never Say Die, Kentucky-bred winner of this year's English derby; Blue Ruler, top juvenile colt in California, and other stakes winners.

When flown from Ireland all 20 mares were in foal, but through an accident the one considered the most valuable — Masaka — lost her foal after arriving in Kentucky. She had been expected to bring from $100,000 to $150,000, and still may realize a big sum.

The Aga Khan sold all of his yearling colts, 34 in number, this yaer. Twenty-four were auctioned at Saratoga in August for nearly $400,000. He still has 336 horses in Ireland, France and England, including horses in training, broodmares, yearlings and foals.

Mack Baseball Dynasty Approaches End After Half A Century Ownership; League Meeting To Decide Tomorrow

Philadelphia — (AP) — Barring unforeseen developments, today marks the final hours of the Mack baseball dynasty — a half century of Philadelphia Athletics ownership by Cornelius J. McGilliccudy.

Thursday at 10:30 a.m., EST, the owners of the other seven American League clubs gather in New York to vote on sale of the A's stock to an eight-man Philadelphia syndicate.

If their vote is favorable—and, Arnold Johnson notwithstanding, there appears little chance it will be otherwise—the only Mack contact with the Athletics will be a one-ninth share in the club retained by son Roy Mack, and the title of honorary president bestowed on Connie Mack Sr.

Johnson, Chocago businessman who "almost" bought the A's earlier this month and then lost out to the Philadelphia group, announced Tuesday he planned to attend the league owners meeting in New York Thursday and stated he was "still interested in buying the Philadelphia franchise for transfer to Kansas City.

No Mention

However, league president Will Harridge, in announcing the meeting, said the owners would consider the sale of the franchise to the Philadelphia syndicate. He made no mention of Johnson.

If the owners give Roy Mack their permission to sell to the syndicate, there will remain only the formality of exchanging the syndicate's cash for the A's' stock.

Connie Sr., will be handed—probably at a meeting in Philadelphia Friday—$604,000 for his 326 shares. Another son, Earle, is to get $450,000 for his 126 shares and Roy will receive $200,000 cash and retain a one-ninth interest in the club.

If the New York confab brings league approval of the sale of the As franchise—no matter to whom—it will carry an overtone of sadness. Connie Mack has been around the baseball world a long, long time.

Charlottetown Stops Amherst 5-2 But Playing Coach Hughie Campbell Quits; Moncton Edges Fredericton

Charlottetown Islanders won and lost Tuesday night.

They downed the high-flying Amherst Ramblers 5-2 but Hughie Campbell, their playing coach, announced after the game he was through with hockey.

Campbell, a strapping right winger whose goal-mouth finesse often made scoring look ridiculously easy, gave no reason for his retirement except that it was for "personal reasons." He was a successful coach with Glace Bay Miners last year.

In the other Atlantic Coast Senior League game, Moncton Hawks moved to within a point of second-place Fredericton Capitals by edging them 3-2 at Fredericton. Amherst are leading the league, one point ahead of Caps.

At Charlottetown, veteran Buck Whitlock provided the spark for Islanders by scoring two first-period goals, and Lorne Hennessey, Bill Leduc and Campbell added the others. Amherst were paced by Don Kiley and Wilbur Gagnon.

The game broke into a brawl in the first period and three majors and three minor penalties were handed out.

In Fredericton, Roy Lacroix put Moncton ahead with a goal in the first period and Yvon Houle gave Hawks a 2-0 lead in the second before Bob Leger tallied for the Caps.

Dorrington added the insurance marker in the finals and Doug Hewey scored Moncton's second goal during a drive that just failed to tie the score.

In league play tonight, Islanders play in Moncton.

Steve Brklacich, meanwhile, took over as temporary coach of the Islanders and the last-place club later announced that Vip Palladine, Guy Gignac and Bob Gray would be joining the lineup within a few days.

Furgol Home For Medical Advice

St. Louis— (AP) —Ed Furgol, United States open golf champion, is home to seek medical advice on his ailing arm.

Furgol, whose left arm is permanently stiff and 10 inches shorter than his right arm as a result of a childhood accident, injured his right arm during a driving exhibition in Sydney, Australia.

Three Australian specialists told him, he said Tuesday, he might have to undergo surgery unless a gap in an arm muscle fills in. They told him he would be unable to play golf for three to six weeks.

Furgol said he was forced to forfeit exhibition matches in Sydney and Hawaii.

Frontenacs Suffer First Loss 4-3

Montreal—(CP)—Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard helped strengthen Montreal's first place berth Tuesday night when he rapped in a third period goal to give Canadiens a 4-3 victory over Quebec Frontenacs in the Quebec Junior Hockey League.

The win was the seventh in eight starts for the Canadiens while the Frontenacs went down to their first loss in six games.

Guy Rousseau picked up a pair of goals and Bouchard a singleton for the visitors while Canadiens' other marksmen were Ron Atwell, O'Reilly and Bakstrom.

THE BLOOD TRAIL

PINKISH, FOAMY BLOOD IS THE SIGN OF A LUNG HIT. IF BLEEDING HEAVILY, THE GAME WON'T GO FAR BEFORE COLLAPSING. RED BLOOD INDICATES A BODY HIT. IF NOT VITALLY WOUNDED, GAME CAN GO FAR AND MAY RECOVER. DARK OR BROWNISH-RED MEANS A GUT SHOT. SUCH GAME CAN GO FAR BEFORE DYING SLOWLY IF NOT FOUND FIRST. BLOOD MAY SHOW ON BRUSH TO LEAVE A TRAIL AND INDICATE HOW HIGH THE WOUND IS. LARGE-CALIBER SLUGS MAKE BLOOD TRAILS EASY TO FOLLOW.

Charles Appointed Honorary Boxing Commissioner

Anderson, Ind.— (AP) —Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight boxing champion, was appointed honorary deputy athletic commissioner of Indiana today by Arch Hindman, executive secretary of the Indiana State Athletic Commission.

In a citation at the Anderson Downtown Coaches Club, Hindman praised Charles because he "met every challenge willingly and without delay" and "we feel that you will never be one to take everything out of boxing without putting something back."

Sun Stands By Stukus Story

Vancouver — (CP) — The Vancouver Sun says it will stand behind a story quoting British Columbia Lions' coach Annis Stukus as saying other teams in the Western Interprovincial Football Union deliberately injured his players. Stukus has denied making the statements.

The newspaper Tuesday ran side-by-side a Canadian Press story from Winnipeg in which WIFU commissioner G. Sydney Halter said he would exonerate Stukus in view of the denial, and a transcript of notes taken by a reporter at the meeting where Stukus is alleged to have made the remarks.

The dispute arose when a CP item from Vancouver covering the Sun's account was considered by Halter under WIFU rules providing fines for such remarks.

Halter said Stukus denied in a letter that he made the statements "or that he made any remarks from which there reasonably could be inferred such a statement."

Moore Wants Chance At Crown

Miami—(AP)—Archie Moore, 37 but still a brilliant light-heavyweight champion, said Tuesday he will appeal to boxing fans to help him get a chance at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown.

"I waited 16 years for a chance at the light-heavyweight title," Moore said. "It looks like I'm going to have to wait that long to get a fight with Rocky, if the fans don't help me."

Moore, now training at Chatham, N.J., revealed his plans in a telephone conversation with boxing writer Art Grace of the Miami Daily News.

He said he is preparing 1,000 copies of his appeal to be distributed to newspapers and radio stations. The appeal will be in the form of an open letter to the fans.

Moore offered to fight Nino Valdes, the logical contender, and Britain's Dan Cockell, No. 2 challenger, both within two weeks.

"If I don't knock out Valdes, I'll give my share of the purse to charity," he said. "And if I don't stop Cockell, I'll forget all about the heavyweight title."

"There aren't any challengers left in mp division," Moore said, "and I've beaten the top heavyweights."

Coach Dick Irvin Wants Montreal Canadiens To Perk Up On Road; At Home To Maple Leafs Tonight

Coach Dick Irvin of Montreal Canadiens has an idea that too many of his National Hockey League players go along just for the ride when Canadiens are on the road.

"Some of them never will show up as well when they are out of town as they do at the Forum," Irvin said Tuesday as he put Canadiens through a practice in preparation for their game against the Maple Leafs in Toronto tonight. "But if they are too complacent, there will have to be some shaking up."

Irvin is experimenting already. He is trying rookie centre Jackie Leclair between rightwinger Bernie Geoffrion, the league's leading scorer, and leftwinger Dickie Moore. Veteran Ken Mosdell is back again, temporarily at least, with Maurice Richard and Bert Olmstead on Montreal's big line.

The lines seemed to work well, Irvin said. The Montrealers currently lead the race, holding a one-point edge over Detroit Red Wings.

The Detroiters meet the third-place Rangers at New York in the only other game tonight.

Could Break Tie

This is an important engagement for the Leafs, tied for fourth place with Boston Bruins. They have won only one game—that one against Canadiens — and tied three in six starts this season. A victory would put them all alone in fourth spot.

Their record doesn't look so hot against Canadiens' mark of five victories, a tie and three losses.

Rangers get a chance to move into a second-place tie with the Red Wings.

New York coach Muzz Patrick has come up with another newcomer on his already-revamped defence in a bid to take a victory. He is Lou Leapin's Looie Fontinato, called up from Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League to replace Allan Stanley, out of action with a cut leg.

The Rangers had the jitters when Danny Lewicki, a headliner this season, took a hard bump during scrimmage and limped off the ice. Patrick rested Lewicki for the day but he's expected to be fine for tonight.

Hildebrand Fires Winner For Royals

Chicoutimi, Que. — (CP) —Ike Hildebrand fired a last minute tally Tuesday night to give the Montreal Royals a 3-2 victory over the Chicoutimi Sagueneens in a Quebec Hockey League game.

Kelly Burnett and Bill Shvetz scored the other Royal goals. Jim Bartlett scored both Chicoutimi markers.

Chicago—Bob Boyd, 160, Chicago knocked out Jimmy Welch, 160½, Columbus, Ohio, 4.

Several Showers At The Boundary To Honor Popular November Bride-Elect

Rock Island, Oct. 27 — Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain, Mrs. Paul Chamberlain, Mrs. Avis Muir and Miss Violet Pope were co-hostesses at a delightfully arranged shower, sponsored by Crystal Rebekah Lodge, No. 14 and held in the I.O.O.F. hall in West Park on Wednesday evening, October 20, in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Mary Quillinan, of Rock Island, who with her mother, Mrs. M. B. Quillinan, are active members of the lodge.

Upon arrival of the honored guest, she was ushered to a chair prettily trimmed in pastel shades of pink, green and yellow. Before her was arranged on a white linen covered table, a trimmel Basket filled to overflowing with daintily "shower" wrapped and beribonned gifts, which she was assisted in opening by her mother, and by Miss Pope and Mrs. Paul Chamberlain.

The lovely china, crystal, linens, electric percolator and flatiron, pyrex and kitchen utensils were passed around and viewed by all, after which the bride elect expressed her appreciation to all for their thoughtfulness, and said she hoped some time they might be able to visit her in her new home in North Battleford, Sask.

The hostesses, assisted by Misses Shirley, Betty and Lois Chamberlain and Miss Maureen Miller, served lunch from a white linen covered table. The bride-to-be was presented with a bride's cake, beautifully decorated in white, with pink and green roses and topped with the words "Good luck and best wishes". After she had cut this it was passed by Miss Pope.

Thirty five friends attended from Graniteville, Beebe, Stanstead and Rock Island.

Miss Mary Quillinan was also recently honored at a bridal shower, held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Dolloff in Beebe, Vermont, attended by a number of intimate friends.

The honored guest was taken by complete surprise, when accompanied by her mother, Mrs. M. B. Quillinan, she arrived at the home to find her friends awaiting her arrival. After pleasantries were exchanged, Miss Quillinan was presented with a number of lovely miscellanous gifts for her new home, for which she charmingly expressed thanks to each.

A social evening was enjoyed and included the serving of refreshment by the hostesses, Mrs. Dolloff and Mrs. Earl Mosher, of Derby. The bride-elect was presented with a lively-bride's cake, designed as a tiered cake of two hearts, and decorated in white, topped with pink roses.

Miss Marguerite Davignon, of Rock Island, was hostess to friends at another pre-nuptial shower, held at her parental home on Tuesday evening, October 19, in honor of Miss Quillinan.

The bride-elect, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. M. B. Quillinan, of West Park, arrived at the Davignon home and upon entering, was pleasantly surprised to find her friends awaiting her arrival.

She was presented with a number of lovely gifts of linens, for which she expressed her thanks. Cards was played at two tables, with the high score prize awarded to Mrs. Geoffrey Pyne and the consolation prize to Mrs. Yvan Ledoux.

The guests were seated at the lace covered dining table for the refreshment period.
