Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

June 24 to 30

A pleasant week with alternating rain and shine, and quite warm. Temperatures range 40 - 85° F or higher, with 55 to 60 sunny hours.

We often have heavy rains in the middle of this week, with flooded underpasses and gale winds. They may miss us this time since it is a relatively dry year.

Mainly sunny to end the week, with warm days, morning mists or heavy dews, and pleasantly cool nights. Dawn and evening fishing fair.

Swans hatching

For the first time in the four years of the Garden of Wonders, in Lafontaine Park, a pair of white swans are hatching, parks officials reported today, noting that it is "an extremely rare phenomenon for this variety, the great silent European swans, to hatch in captivity, under our climatic conditions and amidst the crowds visiting the zoo."

So that the hatching will not be disturbed, the cutting of grass has been suspended in that section of the zoo and special signs have been erected to keep people at a distance.

Child darts into street, hit by car

Four year old Lorraine Grimes, 337 Selby street, darted away from her mother Monday into the path of an automobile driven by Andre Rodney, 9271-15th avenue, St. Michel, traveling east on Selby street.

Lorraine incurred a fracture of her left leg and abrasions to her leg, arm, forehead and cheek. She was taken to Montreal Children's Hospital.

Her mother, P. A. Grimes, told police, according to their records, "We were standing on the sidewalk. When I called to Lorraine to give me her hand to cross the street she darted away from me

Parked car gets in front of man

A car "got in front of" Michael G. Brady on June 7 at 2:40 a.m. and he forthwith "ran into it." So he reported to the police.

Cabdriver Laszlo Czelnai, 2155 Dorchester street west, had a slightly different version. According to him, "I was stopped in front of 4231 Dorchester street close to the curb facing west and had just let off my passenger. I was writing my waybill when all of a sudden I was struck in the rear by an auto travelling west on Dorchester street."

This was the end of a rough night for Mr. Brady. He told police, "I left home at 7:15 p.m. in my car and went to the Glen Tavern. I left there at 10:30 p.m. and went to the Parker House where I met a friend. He and I left there at 1:30 a.m. and went to his house.

He asked me to drive him to St. Anne's. I didn't know the way so he was directing me. I was driving along I don't know which street when a car got in front of me and I ran into it."

The cab trunk, rear fender, bumper and taillight were all pushed in. Brady's car got a broken grill, leaking radiator, dented hood, broken windshield and pushed in right front fender and bumper.

One car hits three others

A mistaken pressure on the car accelerator rather than on the brake while backing up in the Avenue Theatre parking lot caused James Duke Patterson, 358 Kitchener avenue, to duck-pin three other automobiles in the lot. The triple collision happened June 2 at about 9:30 p.m.

Slightly damaged were cars owned by Michael Carnaby, 3433 Decarie boulevard, Allan J. Sargent, 876 Arthur avenue, Springfield Park, and Mrs. D. R. Ross, 544 Grosvenor avenue.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Dominion Day should be definite holiday

WHILE it is still fresh in everyone's minds, steps should be taken to see to it that next year and every year thereafter Dominion Day is celebrated as a legal national holiday on what otherwise would be a working day.

Mayor Cushing is expected to proclaim Monday, July 3 a legal holiday in honor of Dominion Day. However, this will be of little real significance to those residents of Westmount who earn their living in Montreal.

In any event, it should not be a matter of local or provincial option. This is a national holiday and should be so declared upon a national level.

It rankles in the minds of many non-Roman Catholics that a secular holiday, St. Jean Baptiste Day, is a legal holiday in the Province of Quebec and that Dominion Day is not. This is a trifle unfair, we think. Dominion Day is a national day of celebration and it would be presumptuous of Quebec to decide it should be a legal holiday when the Federal Government has not seen fit to do so.

Also, as Quebec is largely Roman Catholic it is as natural that St. Jean Baptiste Day be a legal holiday as Christmas is in a largely Christian country. The two holidays should not be compared simply because of their proximity.

We think that the achievement by Canada of dominion status should be given the same recognition as the Declaration of Independence is given in the United States. The Americans would never stand for July 4 not being a national holiday.

Why do we Canadians put up with an equally untenable situation?

We are thanked for helping handicapped

Sir: Your co-operation and that of your staff in helping make the ninth "Employ the Handicapped Week" a real success has been greatly appreciated.

You have ably brought to your reading public the fact that our handicapped citizens are good workers.

The work of helping unemployed handicapped persons find suitable employment is a year-round task, and very often, not an easy one. However, through persistent efforts, Special Placements Officers of the National Employment Service succeed in discovering suitable and gainful employment for many who, despite their handicap, not only are capable and anxious to earn a livelihood, but can contribute to the prosperity of our community and our country.

On behalf of the handicapped themselves, our Council and the National Employment Service, we extend to you and to all your employees who assisted in any way, our sincere thanks.

Gratefully yours,
G. P. Reid,
Manager,

National Employment Service,

Our copy of letter from reader to MTC

Dear Sirs: - On the 26th of May, 1961, I was crossing St. Catherine street from north to south on the east side of Atwater avenue, with the green light in my favor, when your autobus No. 4818 on the 150 route approached the intersection coming from Dorchester on Atwater avenue.

As the light was also green in favor of the autobus, your driver, No. 5148, accelerated his vehicle to about forty miles an hour so that he could make the turn just before the light changed.

The fact that I as a pedestrian was crossing the street with the green light also, made no difference to him whatsoever, except for the fact that he momentarily put his foot on the brakes so that I had to run out of his way to avoid being knocked down.

As the autobus No. 4818 had to stop to take on passengers at the terminal I sprinted after it and boarded the autobus and pointed out to your driver No. 5148 that I was the

'Westmount Lawn Bowling Club landmark,' avers Mrs. Cheese

"I hadn't done any lawn bowling when I formed the ladies' branch of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club," explained grey haired Mrs. George Cheese, 435 Elm avenue, "I got to be one of the top bowlers in the club later on, however. I am not today, though".

The still flashing eyed widow was born November 3, 1888 on Sherbrooke street near Bleury in what was then the better residential section of town. Her mother and father, both immigrants to Canada from France, met and married here.

Her mother, the former Laure Lecomte, was from Sedan. An extremely intelligent, well educated and literary woman, she endeavored to instill by good example in her three daughters a fondness for the arts. Well known as a lecturer in literary circles in Montreal and Ottawa after her marriage, she inspired her daughter, Madeleine, with such admiration for her accomplishments that it brings a tone of awe to her voice when she speaks of her today.

Marc Paul Sauvalle, her father, was born in Havre. Educated at the Lycee of Havre and St. Cyr Military School, he became a lieutenant in the French Army, Fifth Cuirassiers. During his Army career he squandered his fortune and could no longer maintain his position.

He emigrated first to Mexico, then to Louisiana and finally to Canada, arriving in Montreal in June 1884. The first edition of Canadian Who's Who, issued in 1910 lists Mr. Sauvalle as editor "La Patrie," special Parliamentary correspondent "La Presse," editor "Le Canada" and now (in 1910) editor of French publications for the Geological Survey of Canada, Department of Mines.

Mme. Cauvalle was Huge-pedestrian that he had almost knocked over. Other passengers on the bus will verify the fact that I spoke to the driver politely but his reply was anything but polite, in fact he told me that he would throw me off the bus if I would not sit down.

As a Director of the Westmount Municipal Association I am aware of the fact that some time ago two lady pedestrians were knocked down and killed by autobus drivers at the intersection of Greene and St. Catherine streets, under similar circumstances, and I am sure you do not encourage your drivers to act accordingly.

I would like this driver to apologize for his abuse, and I would like to have your assurance that he will not do the same thing again. Surely he realizes that he is a pedestrian himself sometimes, and that the pedestrian has the right of way. No bus schedule is more important than a human life.

A. Patrick Wickham not, Mr. Sauvalle Roman Catholic. The children were reared as Presbyterians and went to English speaking schools. The family left Montreal in 1906 for Ottawa where Mrs. Cheese attended the Harmon Day School for girls.

She then studied nursing at Doctor Lockhart's hospital there for eighteen months.

In 1918, two days after Christmas, she married George Cheese, a widower from Westmount. The ceremony was performed at her home in Ottawa by the Reverend John Dixon, now bishop at Christ Church Cathedral who was then at St. Barnabas in Ottawa.

Mr. Cheese was an insurance adjuster who with a Mr. Debbage formed the firm of Cheese and Debbage in 1892, which operated on St. James Street for fifty years, until Mr. Cheese's death in 1942.

The newly weds moved to 103 Cote St. Antoine road right across from the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club. Mr. Cheese had belonged to the club since about 1910 or perhaps even earlier. He lived in Westmount on Greene avenue at least as early as 1905, so far as Mrs. Cheese can remember his telling her.

"Mr. William Brown, he was Willy Brown's father, started the club back in 1902. It was for men only then."

"All of Mr. William Brown's sons were active in the club, Willie, John and Norman. Willie, who was the last boy still living, died last year."

"The club house is built on land leased from the city. It is a real landmark. You keep hearing rumors about the city evicting the club but it hasn't happened yet. It would be a real shame if they ever did."

Tourist attraction

"Tourists going by always stop and come up to the fence to ask questions about the game. They are so surprised to see lawn bowling going on right down in the city."

"We lived at 103 Cote St. Antoine for a few years. Then in 1927 we bought the house at 39 Cote St. Antoine road. It was called the old Samuels house. It must be 150 years old now as it was 135 years old when I sold it in 1944, several years after my husband died."

"It is a lovely old house with mahogany beams in the dining room. I hear there are plans to tear it down and two other equally old houses adjoining it on Argyle avenue to build a sectarian community hall. It will be a shame if nothing can be done to preserve these old houses. I only hope the rumors are just that and no more."

Forms ladies' club

"You wanted to know about the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club. The ladies' branch was formed back in 1935. I had always been active in sports all my life. I curled, played tennis, golf and the rest, but I had never done any lawn bowling."

"I was in the hospital in 1935 when my husband first suggested it to me. He said that the club was not in good financial position. The men were getting older and the younger men weren't joining. With the depression the club was heading for the rocks."

"He said the men were ready to let the ladies form a ladies' branch. I couldn't golf anymore because of my operation for at least a year so I thought it over and decided to go ahead."

"I asked Mrs. R. C. Braithwaite and Mrs. F. Allan to help me. They both could lawn bowl. The reason why I was asked was because my husband was so active in the club."

"Some of the women resented my forming the ladies' club, but, anyway, seventeen or so ladies joined the ladies' branch and were charter members. What I did was to contact all of the wives and female relatives of the men members and ask them to join."

"The way it is now is that any ladies can join our club but wives of members of the men's club have precedence over anyone else. That is why we are full up and have a waiting list and the men are looking for more active members."

"I was the one who did all the dickering in between the ladies and the men's group. I did get advice from Mrs. Braithwaite and Mrs. Allan."

"Mr. Willy Brown drew up our By-laws for us. I invited Mrs. Braithwaite to come over that night so she could be there while he was doing it in case she had any suggestions."

"The charter members were Mrs. R. G. Verrey, wife of the president of men's group, Mrs. L. de G. Stewart, Mrs.

Widening of Weredale Park roadway topples giant oak

Reaction of Weredale Park residents to the loss of a giant oak tree due to widening of the roadway by five feet ranged from regretful to disgusted to bitter. Work commenced on the project Monday.

City Council approved spending $7,150 to widen by five feet and resurface Weredale Park on June 5. It was announced at the City Council meeting held on that date that it was expected only one tree would be lost. The widening is intended to permit parking of cars without rendering the roadway impassable and facilitate snow removal.

The tree marked for destruction is a magnificent oak towering at least 50 feet and measuring approximately six feet in circumference. It is directly in front of 10 Weredale Park and immediately abuts the present roadway.

"It is to be regretted," commented Reverend At. T. Love, St. Stephen's Anglican church, Dorchester street at Atwater avenue, watching the limbs tumbling down from across the street, "but I am sure there must be no option but to have the tree come down in order to widen the road. I am sure the city are doing what is best".

Tommy Robertson, 10 Weredale Park, when asked for his reaction to the tree toppling, responded, "One of disgust. It is a great pity".

John Murphy, 14 Weredale Park, was more vocal. "There is no use in protesting as I am sure the City has already made up its mind. But it seems a shame that a beautiful tree that took so long to grow must come down because a few selfish people are too cheap to rent garages at $12.50 per month to park their cars".

"There are two vacancies in the apartment house garage right next door so it is not as though there are none available. If it were not for the cars the snow plows would have no trouble".

"We didn't get much notice on this one. The announcement came around Friday night and the work started in first thing Monday morning which didn't give any time to complain".

Cars crash, hurt mother, daughter

A Fredericton, New Brunswick woman was charged with entering an intersection when faced by a red light on June 16 as a result of an accident in which two local women were slightly injured.

Mrs. T. Debransky, 504 Grosvenor avenue, suffered pains in her chest and her daughter, Miss C. Debransky, same address, suffered a cut right knee and elbow when the cab in which they were riding was struck by that driven by Mrs. Norah V. Toole, 824 George street, Fredericton.

A. L. Rothwell, 267 Olivier avenue, a passenger in Mrs. Toole's car was not injured. The cab driver, Clifford McKell, 1804 St. Catherine street, was unhurt.

The charge of entering the intersection on a red light was preferred on instructions of Westmount Police Sergeant S. Hugman, who witnessed the collision, according to police reports.

THE GARDEN SPOT: Selby street is a bit overgrown with weeds just now. Last fall CPR posted its right-of-way as reserved for gardening by its pensioners and permittees in anticipation of eviction of some of its pensioner gardeners from their plots further up the railroad line by extension of Western avenue this summer. In the meantime, the bean and tomato poles of yesteryear support nothing, sour grass and daisies grow in place of lettuce and Selby street gardeners are victims to progress.

CPR saving its right-of-way for gardening by pensioners

Canadian Pacific Railroad right-of-way adjoining Selby street posted last fall as reserved for gardening by permit-holding CPR pensioners only lies fallow and weed grown. Selby street residents, accustomed to growing tomatoes and beans on the right-of-way during recent years are chagrined.

CPR spokesman Roy Howard explained, "We are holding that land in reserve for CPR pensioners gardening further along on the north side of our right-of-way between Westmount station and Cavendish boulevard who are due to be evicted soon by bulldozers constructing the new extension of Western avenue."

"The way it looks now they may and they may not get through the 1961 growing season. We had no way of knowing the go-ahead date for the road building, last fall when we posted our Selby street property. For all we knew at that time our pensioners' gardens would have all been ripped up a month or so ago."

"You understand that confining the use of the Selby street property to gardening by our pensioners is not a new thing at all. Pensioners have gardened that property before though perhaps not in recent years."

"Our right-of-way traditionally has been confined to gardening by CPR pensioners and one or two others who were granted permits for one reason or another. This is nothing new."

"We try to discourage the use of our right-of-way by strangers anyway for a number of reasons. First, there is a matter of safety. People who are not familiar with railroad operation are likely to get hurt."

"Then, people who use our property without our permission are not inclined to be so careful of it. I am speaking generally, not just about Selby street. We have considerable experience with their cutting holes in our fences to make it easier for them to get to their gardens. This creates a hazard because it makes it easier for young children to get onto our right-of-way where they are likely to get hurt."

Monday is a legal holiday so nothing will be forthcoming from City Hall regarding same. However, Mayor Cushing is expected to proclaim July 3 a legal holiday in honor of Dominion Day, July 1.

Miss Kathleen Jenkins, head librarian, and Mrs. Norah Bryant, one of the librarians, are in St. Andrews, New Brunswick attending a Canadian Library Convention. In Miss Jenkins' absence, Miss Good reminds us that those who plan to go away for the summer can take out older books now which will not be due back until after Labor Day.

The peonies are in lush bloom, nodding their pink, scarlet and white heads on City Hall lawns. They will be cut and distributed to local hospitals and other institutions where they will be appreciated during the next two weeks.

Good progress is being made on the snow melting plant. The latest development is the installation of the giant sized fuel oil tanks in which will be stored the fuel to burn in the pond.

Inspector Lowson says to keep stabbing about dogs and bicycles. I noticed four very nice bikes standing in the hall of the police station the other day waiting until someone could put them into the racks with the other bicycles police have picked up. Inspector Lowson says, "Kids will leave their bikes in the parks."

General Manager's office reports no further reaction on the rent control issue.

The Recreation department reports that in the collection of trophies and pictures from the Westmount Amateur Athletic Association being turned over to them is a picture of the Westmount Football Team of 1897. Western avenue is coming along and should be refurbished within schedule. The rest of the public works program is proceeding as planned so far. Resurfacing of the southern half of Clarke avenue would have been done Wednesday save for the rain and should be done just any day now.

Spring is in the air and so are the itinerant roofers. An unmarked truck, a low, low estimate and a convincing line of talk is their stock in trade. Don't buy it until you have had time to check their reliability. Ask for references from people they have worked for in your neighborhood and check them.

The annual distribution of peonies to local hospitals by the Parks Department.

The funeral of 94 year old Mrs. John Tooke, 349 Clarke avenue, one of Westmount's oldest residents.

The failure thus far of the church committee to come up with a suitable method of persuading Montreal to lower the recently increased water tax levied on Westmount churches.

The organization of local motorists to fight against the ever increasing taxation of everything connected with automobiles. Proposed by legislators were a 1c federal tax on gasoline, an additional 2c provincial gasoline tax and a city special snow clearing tax of $5 per automobile.

The opening of the Westmount YMCA Boys' Vacation Club for a three week program: over 100 boys participating, and including, "Trips to Mr. Budge's Farm, Guaranteed Pure Milk Co. and a talk on Pasteur should teach the boys how milk is made."

We editorialized on:

Lawn bowlers' journey starts

John Henderson's rink from Westmount and Bill Burnside's outfit from Verdun provided fireworks as the opening play of the Provincial Lawn Bowling rinks championship took place at NDG and three other greens.

Trailing 19-5 going into the 13th end of the 18-end contest, Henderson scored a perfect end of eight shots and subsequently moved ahead 20-19 on the 17th. Burnside evened the game with a last-ditch rally to force an extra end, but Henderson counted two on his last bowl to earn the triumph, 22-20.

Driver pinned against wall

A man was pinned between his truck and the brick wall of the Wonder Bakery in a freak accident Monday shortly after noon. A checkup at Queen Elizabeth hospital disclosed no injuries.

Hormidas Larin, 2049 Hebert street, Ville La Salle, told police, "I stopped my truck in the rear of Wonder Bakeries at Somerville and Prince Albert avenues to make a delivery. I parked by the brick wall facing north on the west side of the lane. I got out of the truck on the side next to the wall."

"The truck coasted ahead closing the door. It must have been parked on an angle as it hit the brick wall and pinned me against the cab and door."

Backup driver fractures hip of pedestrian

Mrs. Margaret Casey, 62, 250 Kensington avenue, suffered a fractured left hip and wrist in an accident Saturday night, 10:45 p.m., at the corner of Metcalfe avenue and St. Catherine street. She told police she was struck by a car backed up into the pedestrian crosswalk by Louis T. Colvey, 347 Kensington avenue. Mrs. Casey is a nurse at Reddy Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Colvey told police he checked the rear of his automobile, parked on St. Catherine a few feet west of Metcalfe, before getting into the car preparatory to driving away. He noticed Mrs. Casey standing at the curb waiting for the light to change so she could cross St. Catherine street.

He went on, "I started to back up very slowly when suddenly I saw a man who was getting into the car parked in front of my car wave to me to stop. I stopped and got out and found the woman lying on the road at the rear of my car. I called the police."

The police chart indicated Mrs. Casey's body landed nine feet from the point of impact. She was sitting in Mr. Colvey's car when police arrived.

Big automobile rams small car

Shortly after 3:30 a.m. June 16 when George Foster, 4128 Dorchester street, parked his Mercury on the west side of Clandeboye avenue, it took off on its own.

The Volkswagen of Hans Koepen, 4046 Dorchester street, parked across the street and slightly down the hill, suffered the consequences.

When the Mercury crashed into the Volkswagen, the Mercury took it in its stride. Not so the smaller car: The grill of the Volkswagen was pushed in, its bumper twisted, its left front fender buckled and the left front headlight and rim broke.

George Foster was charged with improperly parking on an incline.

Make it a habit to keep your feet on the ground and you'll never have far to fall.

Wolfgang Meyefeld, 4030 Dorchester street west, told police he was backing his car up on Tupper street when the door of a taxi opened. To avoid hitting the cab door, he said, "I cut to my right and hit a parked car".

Earl Aguznik, 5619 Alpine avenue, Cote Saint Luc, had a panicky moment when he approached Hallowell avenue on Dorchester street and found he had no brakes. He turned left on Hallowell, swerved to miss a lady pedestrian and as the breaks would have it, struck a fence owned by the City of Westmount Recreation department.

A lot of fellows who say what they think don't do enough thinking.

This story will shock and amaze you. It is the plain, unvarnished description of the frightening extent of Montreal's underworld and vice rings, told by Pax Plante, ex-assistant police director. Even hardened Montrealers who shrug their shoulders at the daily crime reports will be astounded by the vast network of evil. In hiding from the gangs who have already made attempts on his life, Pax Plante gives the complete blueprint of crime in Montreal. He names the people in high places who have turned a blind eye to prostitution and organized vice. He describes gangland's vicious methods; its connection with the Mafia. This startling five-part series "THE SHAME OF MY CITY" starts in this week's Star Weekly. It cannot fail to interest you.

Whither away, young man?

III

by
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

There is one last question to ask of the graduating class. What will you do with your education now that you have it? Perhaps it is the most important question of all. You have studied Language and Literature, Science and Mathematics; as a side line you have developed character and personality (If you have done this deliberately, you have made a failure of it, for character is the one thing that must remain a by-product.)

Now having acquired so much educational impedimenta what use will you make of it? You may postpone the decision and go to college not knowing what lies beyond. Or you may now decide and go to college to make further preparation for what lies beyond. On what to do you make your choice? I had a student once who spent his time studying college courses to see where he could get the best looking hood for the least amount of study. On the other hand, it would seem that a few students aim at getting the largest income for the least effort. That is by no means confined to college students.

I wonder how many consider where they are most needed after their college courses; or, in fact, where they can contribute most to the welfare of the community now that their school graduation has been reached. The great temptation is to take a job at once, and earn that lovely elusive thing called money. It is the lure of money that draws off a good many who ought to take a college course and go into a profession. There is a never-ending complaint that there are not enough doctors and dentists and surgeons and nurses; there is an even greater outcry about the lack of clergy and school teachers. The reasons seem to be that the student will have to pay out a lot of money for education, and wait a long time for an income; and secondly, that the income does not compare with the glittering rewards of finance and industry. In other words, commercialism has overcome idealism.

I wish that every student on matriculation would submit himself and herself to an aptitude test that would take the medical and nursing, the clerical and teaching professions seriously, quite apart from the time and money involved. The country would profit by it.

Presbyterian pensions compare unfavorably

West End ministers played a prominent role in the first week of the 87th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church held in Toronto this month.

Rev. Eric A. Beggs of Saint Laurent, preached at the first service held in Knox, the Assembly Church in Toronto; Rev. C. C. Cochrane of Westmount addressed the overture of the Montreal Presbytery; and Rev. John Simms of Montreal West served on working committees of the Assembly.

Rev. C. C. Cochrane, speaking Saturday morning, pointed out that retired Anglican and United Church clergy receive higher pensions than their Presbyterian counterparts. In both these churches, however, a much larger contribution is made to their funds by both congregations and ministers. Before the matter was referred to the Board to report next year, it was pointed out that one was only entitled to the things for which he was willing to pay.

The full pension for ministers has been raised to $1200, an increase of $100, and for minister's widows, $600 with corresponding increases for orphan children. It was announced by Clarence M. Pitts, Ottawa, chairman of the Pension Board.

Perspective needed

"In our day when we are almost overwhelmed by the scientific achievements of the recent past we need to recover the sense of the sovereignty of God," said Rev. Eric A. Beggs at the service recently.

Mr. Beggs, pointed out to the Assembly and the congregation which filled the Toronto cathedral of Presbyterianism, that the second need is to regain the concept of Christ as Saviour. Salvation is in Christ alone he averred. Man cannot redeem himself. Finally man needs to gain perspective and realize the Holy Spirit of God in sanctification. The prime requisite of humanity's survival is not scientific progress but moral and spiritual progress.

The Moderator of the Assembly, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Robert Taylor, Medicine Hat, Alta, who was elected moderator on Wednesday evening to succeed the Very. Rev. Principal Robert Lennox, of the Presbyterian College, Montreal assisted the minister of the Church, the Rev. Dr. William Fitch in the conduct of worship.

Saturday afternoon the corner stone of Ewart College, the new Presbyterian Missionary and Deaconess Training School was laid by the wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, Mrs. J. Keiller MacKay. The new name honours the founder of the School Mrs. Thomas Ewart in whose home it started in 1897. The site, 156 St. George st. is adjacent to the campus of the University of Toronto and Knox College.

Commissioners from the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa serving on the working committees of the Assembly included: Rev. John Simms, Montreal West; Rev. R. R. Gordon, Montreal; Rev. Dr. C. J. MacKay, Montreal; Rev. C. C. Cochrane, Westmount and Rev. P. A. Ferguson of Montreal.

Stress will be on compassion

The need to follow Christ Jesus' example by healing the sick compassionately through prayer will be stressed at the services in the Montreal and Westmount Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Christian Science."

A timely admonition from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be heard: "It is possible, — yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman, — to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

Pertinent Bible passages will include (Matthew 9): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Faith — the size of a grain of mustard seed

by William A. Tyner

One woman had such faith.

Truth is stranger than fiction, as this true story will indicate.

It was during the first week of June in the year 1922 that the bell rang at a door bearing the number 767 on Champagneur avenue, in the city of Outremount. When Mrs. Tyner answered the summons, a neatly dressed woman asked permission to enter.

She mentioned her name and, when seated, stated she then resided at the Young Women's Christian Association building on Dorchester street west, at the corner of Stanley street, and that she taught a Sunday school class in one of the churches downtown.

At the closing exercises, it was her wish to present to each in the class a bible, with some typed verses of scriptures pasted on the inside cover for their guidance and instruction. She said she had been unable to produce these herself and so had prayed to God for guidance in this connection. She told my wife He had instructed her to go to this, our home address, and that the work would there be done for her. She left with Mrs. Tyner her list of verses, and departed.

My wife advised me of the woman's visit and of the injunction that God had sent her to our place, and I accepted the work as if such requests were a daily occurrence. I obtained a sheet of white paper, gummed on the back, and with a ruler and a pen I marked off a sufficient number of oblong squares to produce the number of copies required.

I typed a number of the slips at my office, and the remaining number at home, and the work was soon completed. For more than one week we awaited the return visit of this woman, but she did not put in an appearance, so I suggested to Mrs. Tyner that I deliver them personally, rather than have the lady travel the long distance between our home and the YWCA.

Mrs. Tyner has ever been blessed with a retentive memory, but when she looked for the piece of paper on which she had written the name and address of the woman, it could not be located. Neither could she recall her name. It since has appeared to me that it was God's purpose that this should be so, for the strengthening of our faith, and possibly that of the woman concerned.

For a moment, when I arrived at Windsor and St. Catherine streets, I was undecided whether to walk down Windsor street to Dorchester, then one block west to the YWCA, or to walk one block west along St. Catherine street, and from there down Stanley to Dor-

Cars don't mix with cigs, pop

Two nineteen year old boys proved last week that you can't do two things at once, at least not if one of them is driving a car.

On June 14, Peter Rodger, 5039 Victoria avenue, looked down to turn on his radio as he drove along Grosvenor avenue and ran into the car of Mara Valomarius, 574 Roslyn avenue, stopped in front of 476 Grosvenor to let off her cousin.

The next day, David Sholom Josephson, 43 Forden Crescent, ran into the parked car of Reginald E. Knight, 4010 Montrose avenue, when he took time out to douse a cigarette.

His mother, Mrs. S. Josephson, suffered a bang on her forehead. Further, he smashed the radiator of his car and damaged its right front headlight and fender. The hood of Mr. Knight's car sprang and the left rear fender, taillight, trunk and bumper were damaged.

Drivers play tick-tack-toe

It is two against one as to whose fault two quickly consecutive minor collisions were June 16 at 5:35 p.m. on Victoria avenue but Louis Horvath, 5552 Snowdon avenue is sticking to his version.

He told police, "I was driving south in the center lane of traffic. A taxi which passed me on my left struck my left front fender. I then turned to the right and struck a truck passing me on my right."

Sandu Avramescu, 4750 Vezina, Checkers cab driver, told police Mr. Horvath's car swerved to the left and struck his right rear fender, denting and tearing it.

Jean Gerard, 2552 Albert avenue, also going south on Victoria, told police Mr. Horvath's car struck the left rear fender of his truck.

Live in your heart as though every day were Christmas.

chester street. I decided on the latter and, when I had walked one block south and was at the back of the Windsor Hotel, near Cypress street, I observed a man turn from off Dorchester on to Stanley, and walk toward me, followed at a distance of somewhat two hundred feet by a woman.

I met and passed the man but, when the woman reached (Continued on page 17)

'The Magic Carpet' on show to June 24

Local women, who have seen the "Magic Carpet" now on display at the downtown store of Henry Birks and Sons may be interested in learning some of the facts concerning this precious jewelled rug, containing 18,000 precious and semi-precious gems, and valued at $400,000.

The unique piece of craftsmanship, known as the "Pride of India", is the work of the Indian firm of Ganeshi Lall and Son, which devoted 49,616 man-hours of labor over a two-year period to complete the project.

On hand for the opening of the five-day exhibit was Man Mohan Lall, president of the Indian firm, who was persuaded by a Birks travelling representative to show his treasure as part of an exotic colored gem collection.

Mr. Lall said plans for the special rug were drawn up in 1945 as a tribute to the beginning of the firm's second century of existence. Work was begun in 1949 and completed in 1951.

"It is called the Magic Carpet of the East in as much as it is considered to be not only the finest work of craftsmanship of the 20th century, but also because it is practically impossible to lay hands on so many varieties of stones, much less to see them in one piece."

In all, 18,000 stones of 47 varieties are studded in the rug. Among the precious ones are diamond, emerald, ruby, sapphire and pearl; semi-precious stones include white sapphire, yellow topaz, amethyst, onyx and turquoise.

What holds these stones in place? According to Mr. Hall, there are about 80 ounces of silver, four different kinds of golden thread and wires weighing 175 ounces, four kinds of silver thread and wires weighing 110 ounces, and 30 ounces of silk thread.

Measuring 7 ft. 5 in. by 5 ft. 5 in., the entire work is dominated by a design selected from motifs inscribed upon the Taj Mahal, that Indian monument of immortal love, whose beauty and splendour is recognized throughout the world. Three hundred and fifty flowers, none of them matching, make up the overall pattern, each flower containing from 1500 to 15,000 stitches.

Faith — the . . .

my side, she stopped me and asked for the typed verses. I handed the envelope to her; she examined the slips inside, thanked me without any show of effusiveness, turned and walked away.

I can only surmise that God must have sent His angel to tell her that I was on my way to meet her, that I was walking down Stanley street on the East side, and that she should go to meet me, as I did not have her name.

I shall never know her name, as I was too surprised at what had occurred to question the woman at that time, and it would appear that I shall never on earth get to know the answers to the questions I should like to ask her.

On this large island of Montreal, there must still be living a number of people in their 50's who remember having received from their lady Sunday School teacher as a gift, a bible, inside the cover of which was pasted an oblong piece of white paper on which were verses boxed in with lines that crossed.

I would emphasize again that I had never met this woman prior to our meeting on Stanley street; that, to my knowledge, she had never met or seen me prior to that meeting.

A mustard seed is very small indeed, but faith in God of a similar size is most powerful, even to the moving of mountains. Our God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform. AMEN!

Westmount Lawn Bowling . . .

Norm Stewart, Mrs. F. Sharp, Miss N. Muir (later Mrs. E. Hare) Mrs. T. Mackay, Mrs. F. Allan, Miss J. McConnell, Mrs. G. E. Cheese, Mrs. W. G. Verey, Mrs. R. C. Braithwaite, Mrs. E. F. Lawson, Mrs. F. Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Birks, Mrs. Leslie Boyd, Mrs. J. W. Brown and Miss M. Sauvalle."

"Very few of the women could bowl and it was some time before we made any sort of a showing in competitions. They all lived in Westmount except Mrs. Braithwaite, Mrs. Birks and Mrs. McKee."

"We have 70 active women members and 40 associate members. The men have 75 members though I am not sure how they are broken down as to active and associate memberships. I know they are looking for more active members."

"There is quite a difference in the dues. The women's dues are $17 for active memberships and $10 for associate memberships. The men's dues are $40 for active and $15 for associate members."

"Of course, the men get more. For one thing, it is easier for a man to join. Then of the 14 greens the ladies are limited to 3 at night except on special occasions. Of course, the ladies are free to use all of the greens during the afternoons. There are none open in the morning as that is when the maintenance work is done."

Club verandah teas

"There are mixed games on Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons, so husbands and wives can play together. We have rather a nice custom on Saturdays which started when the ladies' branch of the club started. After the game on Saturday there is always a tea on the club verandahs. Every week a committee of six ladies and a convener are chosen. They supply the tea."

"There is another nice custom you might be interested in.

The Westmount Examiner, Friday, June 23, 1961

Always, ever since I can remember, way before the ladies' branch was formed, on the first of July and on Labor Day the club has held mixed rink tournaments open to all other clubs. On those two days supper is served on the verandahs."

"Then, since the very beginning of the club, so I understand, the mayor comes every year on May 24 to deliver the first bowl of the season."

"Throughout the season which lasts from May 24 to about the middle of September or even up to Thanksgiving if the weather holds, there are quite a few competitions, both within the club and with other clubs. The men's club has 12 PQLBA competitions. The ladies' branch has four interclub competitions. The PQLBA is the Province of Quebec Lawn Bowling Association. That is a men's group. It is affiliated with the Canadian Lawn Bowling Council as is the Ladies' Lawn Bowling Association of Quebec. Mrs. Gilbert Hill, 94 Columbia Avenue, is the president of the Ladies' Lawn Bowling Association this year."

"I was president of the ladies' branch of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club for two years after it started. After that I held every office there is until I am sure they must be sick of me."

Another custom the club has is to hold a rink competition among the members to benefit the Montreal Children's Hospital. That dates back to the beginning, I think."

"We have three honorary life members still living. To be named an honorary life member you can't bowl any more. There is Mrs. E. F. Lawson and Miss M. Sauvalle who are both past presidents and Mrs. A. Moore who rendered many services to the club."

"The president today is Mrs. A. J. Martin. The vice president is Mrs. C. A. Lister."

Marc deMan captures St. Leo's tennis crown

St. Leo's Spring Tennis Tournament concluded last week at the Westmount Park courts after a lively week of action that revealed some promising tennis prospects.

Marc deMan won the school tennis title defeating Bernard Pence 6-3, 6-4 in the final. These youngsters showed good form with good serves and lively exchanges but the fleet footed deMan was a little too steady for his opponent, outlasting him in two straight sets.

A few of the Academy students who showed flashes of future tennis greatness were the McMahon brothers Frank and Jimmy; Steve Taylor and Ken Hamilton. Bill McKay, after a winning start, defaulted in third round for some unexplainable reason and this move on part of McKay hardly enhances his athletic stock at St. Leo's.

Round Up: At recent trials of St. Leo's track hopefuls at Westmount Athletic Grounds, Neil Capper proved the fastest in the 100 yard dash. Lloyd MacKinnon, Dick Burgman, Jimmy and Pat Fennell are a foursome that showed steady improvement during the training season. With interest picking up in track and field at school, bigger things are expected in the way of competition next year.

Although standing little or no chance of going anywhere in the tennis tournament the following boys deserve a lot of credit for giving it the old college try. Doug Muncey, Len MacDonald, Richard McNally and Ray Maynard. These boys showed the right spirit by entering the tournament first and worrying about winning or losing afterwards. Too many boys stay out of sports

THE OUTSTANDING WESTMOUNT High School football player, Wayne Jackson, left, receives the Walter Smaill trophy from Mr. Smaill. This trophy was donated by the Proctor Academy, Andover, New Hampshire, in the name of Walter Smaill who is described by the American Academy as "a great Westmount athlete". Mr. Smaill put up the Doug Smaill trophy in honor of his son who was killed in the last war, which is for annual football competition between the American academy and Westmount.

Trophy find of early 1900 is made here

A treasure trove of Westmount Amateur Athletic Association trophies and pictures unearthed in the basement of C. R. G. Watt, 4026 Marcell avenue, is in the process of being turned over to the Recreation Department of the City of Westmount. Mr. Watt played for the Westmount cricket club from about 1908 to 1915. One of the pictures is of the 1897 Westmount football team.

Mr. Watt, who was 84 years old last December, and who played for the Westmount cricket club from 1908 to 1915, was saddened to hear that the Westmount cricket club no longer has a ground to play in Westmount Park.

"I used to play in Inverness, Scotland, before I came out to Canada in 1900. We used to have a lot of spectators come out to Westmount Park to watch our matches.

"I used to be quite a cricketer, being one of the high scorers for a number of years. I used to get trophies for having the highest batting average.

"When the Westmount Amateur Athletic Association disbanded I joined Westward. When Lower Canada College bought Westward's grounds the trophies all came to me until another clubhouse was built. It never built one and the trophies have been down in our basement for the past 20 odd years."

Amateur golf for week end

The fourth consecutive annual O'Keefe Amateur Tournament will be staged at the Dolbeau Golf Club, Lake St. John, Saturday and Sunday, June 24 and 25.

Roger Belanger, host club pro, reported over 100 entries with some half of them coming from other clubs in the area, such as Birchdale Golf Club, River Bend, Arvida Golf Club; Port Alfred Golf Club and Chicoutimi Golf Club.

"About one third of the expected field should be class A Amateurs," continued Belanger. "Besides our own club's best golfers, like Paul Tremblay, C. A. Veilleux, Gaston Boutet and J. S. Harmon, we expect players like Ray White, Chicoutimi; Rainer Makilla, Birchdale; Bill White, Arvida and Fernand Dufour, Port Alfred, all top competitors."

In spite of a stretch of bad weather in the region, the 6,432-yard course, a double 9, par 72, would be in excellent condition for the event. Contestants play 36 holes over the two-day event and will share $500 worth of merchandise prizes.

Mt. Royal rugger splits with Ottawa

Ted Goodier experienced an unhappy debut as captain of Mount Royal Rugger Club when his squad was snowed under 19-5 by Ottawa Beavers at Ottawa. It was the 10th consecutive win for the homesters.

Minus the services of key players Niall Quaid and Tom Reid, Mount Royal was sadly outclassed. Graham Sadler and Pat Donaghy were the most effective men in the Beavers' multi-sourced attack.

Mount Royal Wasps emerged with an 11-11 deadlock in its battle with Ottawa II. The TMR boys were strengthened by several McGill players.

CHECK PROPELLER

Whenever your outboard motor appears to be vibrating excessively, it is a good idea to check the propeller immediately, says the Johnson Boating Clinic. Excessive vibration is most commonly caused by a bent or broken propeller, weeds or other foreign material on the propeller or gear case, or by improper adjustment of the carburetor, which makes the motor run "rough."

Clues to Cashword Explained

ACROSS:

1. VIATOR is to the point. A VIATOR, or traveler, may be accustomed to speaking to strangers, for, wherever he goes, he is likely to meet people he doesn't know. VICTOR is vague; one would have to know something about the victory and its prominence.

7. ARTLESS, yes. A mother may wonder why her child should like an ARTLESS, or rudely made, doll, for she may feel there is little about its appearance to recommend it as a toy. An ARMLESS doll may have become broken through long wear and tear, and a long-term attachment would obscure its deficiencies.

10. FLARE is chosen. A FLARE, as an outburst of anger, might silence even the most talkative, for bystanders at such a display are not likely to want to miss a word of it. A talker might miss a GLARE, or indignant stare, aimed at him. One might talk louder under cover of a BLARE, as the sound of a trumpet.

12. SMILE is favored. A father may struggle against a desire to SMILE when his young son is impertinent, for it might give the child the idea he need only be amusing to get away with being fresh. A desire to SMITE, as to spank, would arise from anger, an emotion which does not usually allow time for consideration.

13. FADS, to be sure. A sensible dieter may abjure FADS, for such diet crazes are often drastic, hard to keep to and nutritionally inadequate. Any dieter, whether sensible or not, would abjure FATS, the inclusion of which would add undesirable calories. FAGS and FANS are remote.

20. SNOW is preferred. SNOW might upset a shabbily dressed man, for it is likely that his clothing will offer little protection from the elements. A SNOB might upset anyone with a good sense of values.

21. ACCENTED is wanted. In reading aloud in a foreign language, one might muffle an ACCENTED word, for the manner of providing emphasis and the inflection of the voice can vary in a large degree in different languages. If one doesn't recognize an ACCEPTED word, as a colloquialism that is in general use in a language, one could probably translate it correctly in context.

26. REMINDED is the selected word. A paroled prisoner might remember the details of another's crime if he is REMINDED by the court, for he is likely to make a great effort to remember in fear of being REMANDED, or recommitted, if he fails to satisfy the court.

29. TOPER, yes. A TOPER, as a drunkard, might create discomfort on a jungle expedition, for his presence could be embarrassing and inconvenient, considering the ordinary difficulties to be endured. A TOPEE, or pith helmet, is likely to add to one's comfort by giving protection from the sun and tree branches.

DOWN:

1. VIVIFY is chosen. A philanthropist may be angered by efforts to VIVIFY his charities, for such an individual is likely to desire little publicity. Anyone might object to efforts to VILIFY his charities.

2. TALUS is best. A TALUS, or slope, may appeal to the young rather than the old, for while it provides an admirable play area for children, it means a fatiguing climb to the old. TALEs and TALKs may appeal to both, depending upon their suitability.

4. SLUMBER is preferred. SLUMBER may be disturbed by a rowdy group, as when the noise they make wakes one up. A SLUMBER would be looking for just such manifestations of squalor and delinquency as a rowdy group. SLUMPER is vague.

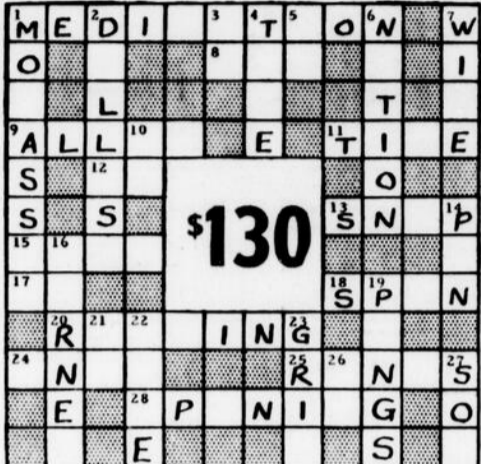

9. SPELL, to be sure. A SPELL, as of sickness or dizziness, may make a timid person feel even more insecure, for he may keep expecting a recurrence. He might attach himself to a SWELL, as a fashionable individual, and find security in reflected glory. SHELL and SMELL are remote.

17. ROSE is selected. A starlet may be flattered if a famous producer offers her a ROSE, for this could be taken as a personal compliment. She may be happy to get a ROLE, but not feel particularly flattered if she knows she deserves it. ROBE and ROPE are remote.

19. ROWER is chosen. A ROWER may easily become lost, for after a period of time, it may become difficult to distinguish landmarks. A ROVER, or wanderer, may travel with no particular place in mind. ROPER is vague.

20. SHAME is preferred. One's emotional reaction to SHAME, or disgrace, may do more harm than the situation warrants, for his own exaggerated view may last longer than other people's attention to it. A SHAKE, or earthquake, can do more harm than one is in a position to realize. SHADE and SHAPE are vague. SHARE and SHAVE are remote.

21. AIMS, yes. A backward nation may find AIMS, or specific purposes, necessary to establishing its sovereignty, as when it must provide a code of laws and a suitable governing body. What ARMS a backward nation can provide for itself might provide for its downfall in an uneven conflict. ALMS is remote.
