SHERBROOKE CLINICS THROWN OPEN

Another London Strike!

London — (P) — Thousands of Londoners stood with thumbs up this morning, hitch-hiking their way to work after a wild-cat strike starting last midnight had halted half of the capital's 6,000 buses.

An estimated 14,000 drivers and conductors on the big red double-deckers walked out after midnight to protest against the London transport executive's plans to cut down the staff this summer.

The strike against the state-operated bus system caught most commuters by surprise. Many waited in line at bus stops for some time before learning of the walkout. There was a mass rush for the already crowded subways. Thousands were late to work.

The situation improved a few hours later, when hundreds of busmen trekked back to garages. A London transport executive said all signs pointed to a "rapid collapse" of the strike, but at 10 a.m. more than 2,000 buses were still off the streets.

The strikers complained that when summer schedules are put into effect next Sunday they will have to work harder for less money than last year. The London transport admitted there would be fewer crews, but said the traffic warranted no more men. The Transport and General Workers Union said Tuesday it would not back the walkout.

Late at night Prime Minister Eden received a report on the situation from Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton.

Another unofficial work stoppage in the coal mines around Doncaster has halted the flow of coal from that Yorkshire region — Britain's largest coal-producing area. More than 44,000 miners are off their jobs in a piecework pay dispute which mushroomed from a small beginning more than two weeks ago.

The national coal board, which operates the government-controlled mines, says it will not discuss the issue until the men return to work.

Welland Thieves Get Large Haul

Welland, Ont. — (P) — Thieves broke into the Welland post office through the night and got away with $75,000 to $85,000, it was revealed this morning.

Police chief Orval Rounds, directing the investigation, gave the estimated loss figure.

The post office is next door to police headquarters.

Four storage cabinets, had been pried open before the large amount of cash was found.

Investigations said no precautions had been taken to guard the payroll cash.

Will Hold Position On Viet Nam Truce; Independents Swing

Ottawa — (CP) — Canada has no present intention of withdrawing from the international truce supervisory commission in Viet Nam.

External Affairs Minister Pearson, in making this policy statement in the Commons yesterday, said "terrible things" are being done in North Viet Nam. The Communists were hampering work of the commission, especially in southward movement of refugees, he said.

Viet Nam was split into Communist and non-Communist states under the July, 1954, Geneva armistice terms until elections for the combined state in July, 1956.

Under the armistice, civilians were given until May 18 this year to move from one side of the demarcation line to the other. To date some 700,000 have moved out of North Viet Nam and only a few thousand out of South Viet Nam. A three-nation commission—Canada, Poland and India—is supervising the truce but has no power to enforce its recommendations.

Mr. Pearson said a "substantial number" of persons in the north will be prevented from moving south unless the May 18 cut-off date is extended. This would require concurrence of both the Communist and non-Communist sides.

There had been suggestions Canada might withdraw from the commission as a gesture of protest about the way the commission's work on movement of refugees has been hampered by the Communists.

Canada's representatives on the commission and the government are not satisfied that the freedom of movement provisions of the armistice are being carried out, Mr. Pearson said.

However, Canada's withdrawal would prejudice fulfillment of the main military provisions of the agreement.

"Nor would our withdrawal be of any assistance whatsoever to those in North Viet Nam who want to leave," he said. "Indeed, it might eliminate any remaining hope that their lot might be alleviated."

The government yesterday received unexpected support from the Commons' four independent members on two opposition motions of non-confidence in budget policies.

The independents sided with the Liberal majority as the house voted 131 to 65 against a CCF motion condemning the government for not easing the "crushing load" of municipal taxation.

Roual Poulin (Ind-Beauce) said the independents also will support the government in the vote on a Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence.

Progressive Conservative and Social Credit members supported the CCF motion. It said the government had "failed to provide assistance to the provincial governments to enable them to plan their financing to relieve Canadians of the crushing load of municipal taxation."

Ross Thatcher, member for Moose Jaw-Lake Centre who bolted the CCF party April 22, voted with the other independents against the stand of his former party. The other independents, Mr. Poulin, Paul Gagnon (Chicoutimi) and Fernand Girard (La Pointe), in the past usually have voted against the government on non-confidence motions.

First Woman

Ottawa — (P) — Senator Cairine Wilson, first woman appointed to Canada's Senate, again made history in that Chamber last night when she was deputized as the speaker.

It marked the first time that a woman ever occupied the speaker's chair in the Upper Chamber.

As the senators reassembled after a month-long Easter recess, they found themselves without a speaker. Speaker W. Wishart Robertson was confined to his home with an illness. The Senate has no deputy speaker.

Under the rules of the House the government leader, Solicitor-General Ross Macdonald, was called on to nominate a deputy.

Backs Pickersgill

Ottawa — (CP) — Independent Commons member Raoul Poulin said last night he agrees with Immigration Minister Pickersgill's famous "baby speech"—even if the minister has doubts about it.

Mr. Poulin, who represents the Quebec constituency of Beauce, said he shares "enthusiastically" Mr. Pickersgill's opinion about babies and immigrants expressed in a recent speech at Victoria.

He was referring to the minister's statement, strongly criticized by Progressive Conservative members, "that no immigrant—no matter where he comes from or how good he is—is as good as another Canadian baby because the immigrant has to learn to be a Canadian and the baby is a Canadian to start with."

Mr. Pickersgill prefaced his remark with the statement that it applied to the goal of increasing Canada's population. He has since denied that he implied any idea of racial superiority.

Mr. Poulin said he would like all Canadians to understand the justice and importance of that statement—including Mr. Pickersgill.

He said the minister's hesitation in explaining the statement "makes us wonder if perhaps he himself has no faith in his own declaration."

A Big Job Started

Davey Crockett Wants New Name

Harrison, N.J. — (P) — A bus driver here wishes a certain popular song had never come out.

All day long his passengers glance at the nameplate above his ticket machine and either make a wisecrack about the wild frontier or else burst into song.

His name: Davey Crockett.

New Report Red Buildup

Taipei, Formosa — (P) — Nationalist China today produced fresh reports of a Red buildup near the off-shore islands and said its planes damaged three Communist gunboats in the Quemoy area.

The air force said its pilots sought out the gunboats, described as between 300 and 400 tons, on the landward side of Quemoy in western Amoy bay, 120 miles west of Formosa across the strait.

Pilots said one of the gunboats caught fire and suffered heavy damage.

The air force reported two gunboats damaged and four armed motorized junks sunk in the same area Saturday.

The Communist buildup threatening the islands continues both near Quemoy and in the area opposite the Matsu group 175 miles up the coast, the Tataro news agency reports.

Foreign Minister George Heh today personally denied local press reports which said he had hinted Nationalist China might agree to a cease-fire. He said: "I deny that. I said nothing of the sort."

Rain, Wind, Floods May Wreck Crops In West Provinces

Regina — (CP) — Torrential rains and sleet continued to drench Saskatchewan's rich crop land early today, posing a serious threat to the year's grain crops.

An accurate estimate of damage caused by the raging storm which slashed telegraph and power lines, flooded roads and hundreds of basements and isolated several communities, may not be made until late today.

Saskatoon was reported isolated. Communications to the city were cut off and a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train bound for Saskatoon from Edmonton was halted at Wilkie, Sask. Because telegraph lines were down, train orders could not be relayed.

Twelve amateur radio operators worked through the night to maintain communication with areas cut off by severed power lines and flooded highways.

The storm, which swept up from the United States yesterday, lashed this grain-growing province with high winds, rain and snow. The downpour sent streams and rivers spilling over their banks. Flooding in Regina was the worst in the city's history.

Hundreds of head of cattle were drowned at Meadow Lake in the northwest.

Although hundreds of acres of valuable crop land was soaked, agricultural experts held varied opinions as to the storm's effect on grain crops.

Brass "Boobed Again" Say Red-Necked Privates

Las Vegas, Nev. — (P) — Canada's army chiefs may be asked to lift the ban against the wearing of regimental scarves.

The ban is one of the few beefs voiced by members of the Canadian tri-service radiation detection unit here for the spring atomic test series. Rank-and-file members of the 61-man detachment are in general agreement that regimental scarves would be a blessing for troops operating under alkaline dust conditions as in the Nevada desert. The majority think they should be worn as standard dress at all times.

The scarves were worn widely by both officers and other ranks serving in Korea with the 25th Brigade, but their use was banned by army headquarters at Ottawa about a year ago.

He said that during exercises in the field the men were allowed to wear scarves, towels and other forms of protection around their necks.

Surgeon-Cmdr. W. J. Cooke, medical officer for the detachment, said a report on all aspects of the detachment's training session at the Nevada atomic proving grounds will be sent to Ottawa.

But the ordinary private isn't mincing words. Growled one, as he tenderly massaged a neck red from continual chafing: "The brass boobed again."

Sports Bulletin

Rome. — (P) — Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Canada's second-ranking tennis player, defeated Orlando Sirola, Italian Davis Cupper, in a close duel in the second round of the Rome tennis tournament today.

The Canadian spotted Sirola the first set, 2-6, then went on to win the next two 6-0, 6-4. He dropped the fourth 2-6 again, but won in the final 6-4.

Children 3-Months To 10-Years-Old Get Salk Vaccine

Salk vaccine clinics in the city were thrown open to all children from three months to 10 years today, a Sherbrooke Health Unit spokesman announced this morning.

Dr. Emile Poisson, medical director of the Health Unit, was out of town but Dr. J. A. Deschenes, one of the doctors who is administering the vaccine, reported that times and places of clinics will be the same as previously announced (Record April 28 edition).

Parents wishing to have their children inoculated may take them to the clinic which is being held in their parish church hall on the date specified. For instance, children attending St. Peter's Anglican Church will receive their first inoculations tomorrow afternoon from two to three o'clock at St. Peter's parish hall. The second shot will be given May 19. Uncertainties over times and places may be checked at the Health Unit or with local doctors.

Poor turn-outs at regular clinics following reports of polio outbreaks in the U. S. have meant the Health Unit here is overloaded with vaccine. The vaccine must be used before October.

Children coming to the clinics will be inoculated on a "first come first served" basis until the supply of vaccine intended for children born in 1953 runs out.

Dr. Jean Gregoire, Quebec deputy health minister, made the announcement yesterday that because of poor response in the province all municipal clinics could be thrown open.

The Sherbrooke Health Unit is a little leery of a flood of applicants far beyond the supply of vaccine but suggested that the response may be just as poor as with the two-year-old children.

There is enough vaccine in the province to inoculate 125,000 children between the ages of three months and 10 years but there are at least 900,000 Quebec children in this age group.

Dr. Gregoire said the vaccine manufactured in Canada is harmless and effective and "if this were not the case, the Health Department would not make it available."

Inoculations began in Sherbrooke on Monday and only 120 of an expected 500 children turned up.

Atom Test Off Again

Las Vegas, Nev. — (P) — An approaching Pacific storm last night forced a ninth postponement in the ill-fated United States atomic test in which Canadian troops are participating.

And the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission warned bluntly that a 10th postponement will probably be necessary for the shot now tentatively scheduled for dawn tomorrow.

Canadian troops and others participating in or witnessing the test had assembled for the two-hour ride to the test site when the postponement was announced.

Ouch!!

Gee Mom Make him stop. That's what two-year-old Mireille Aube would like to say as she gets her first shot of the Salk anti-polio vaccine. Mrs. Robert Aube is one mother who isn't taking any chances on her baby coming down with the dreaded child cripple. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Monarchy For Viet Nam?

Saigon. — (AP) — Local and provincial Vietnamese leaders flocked to this capital today for a special congress called by South Viet Nam's Premier Ngo Dinh Diem to act on a revolutionary committee's demand for the ouster of Bao Dai, nominal chief of state.

The United States—which exerts great influence here because of its Indochina aid program—meanwhile was reported recommending that a constitutional monarchy be established in this strife-torn state.

From his luxurious villa on the French Riviera Bao Dai denounced the congress—or "states-general"—as illegal. There seemed no ground to reports Tuesday night that he planned to fly to Saigon.

The American position is said to be that because of South Viet Nam's political immaturity, the stabilizing influence of a monarchy with only limited powers is needed to give continuity and avoid chaos.

American sources said that should local sentiment prove great against Bao Dai, his son Bao Long or some other member of the former royal house could be designated ruler with tightly circumscribed powers.

Sentiment against the playboy ex-emperor increased in Saigon today. Newspapers appearing a few hours before the states-general assembly gathered carried violent attacks against him. Some published photographs of him crossed by large black marks.

The Vietnamese move to oust Bao Dai followed his attempt last week to supplant Premier Diem with Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, a supporter of the chief of state. The army refused to follow Vy, who fled.

Reuters news agency reported today that Vy now has arrived in Bangkok, Thailand, on his way to France to see Bao Dai.

In a cable to Diem, Bao Dai last night challenged the authority of the special congress and said its "illegality does not even need to be proved."

Diem's success in routing the rebel Binh Xuyen society, which attempted to overthrow his government by armed force last week, apparently has brought him at least tacit support from the French.

Sources in Paris said Premier Edgar Faure's government is ready to support the doughty Vietnamese nationalist leader provided he can give his country a strong, stable government representing a wide range of its population.

This represents an about-face for the French, who only a few weeks ago were urging the U.S. to join them in finding another premier for South Viet Nam.

Diem's national army pushed his mopping up of Binh Xuyen holdouts today.

Two islands of Binh Xuyen resistance remain in Saigon, both in the European sector of the city protected by French troops. The bulk of the rebel remnants have fled south with their commander, Gen. Le Van Vien. The national army treaty launched a two-pronged offensive on this force

MAY DAY TWINS

Dollie Doofer just went flying to her Daddy's store. She ran in all out of breath. "Oh, Daddy," she cried happily, pointing to a bolt of lovely pink cloth on the shelf. "Please give me three yards of this—and another pair of those lovely patent leather sandals. Mommie says so. And hurry! Please!"

Daddy looked amused. "Hey, wait up! And catch your breath, Dollie. Since when have you got four feet! I just gave you a pair of sandals yesterday. And three yards of blue cloth."

Dollie explained, giggling with excitement. "Mommie is going to make Gussie a May Day dress. Just like mine. And she's going to have new shoes—just like mine. We're going to be TWINS. On account of Woolie Woofie made fun of her. He said she hung her own May basket on the door and laughed and said he guessed she thought she'd be Queen of the May. It was awful. Just AWFUL. Poor Gussie. So Mommie says—"

Daddy grinned and held up his hand. "Okay! Okay! Hold it. We'll fix that Woolie Woofie. Gussie shall blossom like the May Day rose—at my expense!"

Dollie flew into her Daddy's arms and hugged and kissed him. Just as Aunt Millie Moofie came into the door. At her heels were her two pets, Miss Foofoo Fooie, the proud Pekinese dog, and Prince Blue Boy, the vain Siamese cat. Aunt Millie beamed:

"Somebody adores her Daddy. I can see that." Daddy grinned: "She's a smoothie, Aunt Millie. I'm sure she just wants me to vote for her for Queen of the May. But I'm planning to vote for you."

Aunt Millie blushed. She had always wanted to be May Queen. Nothing would be so wonderful as dancing around the May pole in a crown—singing. Aunt Millie sang at the drop of a hat. So she raised her voice and screeched happily, "I'm the Queen of the May, tra, la, Lovely Queen of the May."

Daddy stuffed his fingers in his ears. Dollie ran home with her packages—giggling!

How Much Assurance?

How much assurance does one need?

That is the question uppermost in the minds of many parents these days as they ponder the pros and cons of having their children inoculated against polio.

Failure of parents here and elsewhere to take advantage of the free Salk injections is a natural reaction to word that some inoculated children in the United States had contracted the disease almost immediately after receiving shots of the wonder vaccine.

Unfortunately, doctors still aren't sufficiently acquainted with the disease to be able to announce with certainty that the shots did not contribute to the polio cases. They are certain within their own minds, but even a shadow of a doubt where life and limbs are concerned is bound to set off the chain reaction that leads parents to a "wait and see" position.

This unforeseen development, however, may truly be a blessing in disguise. No longer are there reports of a possible black market in the vaccine. Instead of a frantic rush on limited supplies, the supplies apparently will outstrip the early demand, giving production a chance to catch up with the ultimate need.

If there was any additional assurance required by Sherbrooke parents, local doctors seem to have supplied it. Their children were among the first to be inoculated. Mr. Emile Poisson, of the Health Unit here, was certain that within the next few days 100 per cent of the eligible doctors' children would have received their first shots.

It is not for the doctors nor for this newspaper to tell parents that they should or should not have their children inoculated. Each parent must weigh the evidence and decide for himself and herself.

Advice, however, can be proffered in this direction. No parent should allow panic, rumor or insignificant figures to influence a decision that so directly and vitally affects his children.

At the same time, any parent who decides against taking advantage of the free inoculations at the time specified for his child, should have the decency to sit on the sidelines until inoculations have been given all those whose parents have faith in the vaccine.

On Municipal Elections

Without entering into any discussion on the merits or disabilities of the candidates in various municipal elections in the Eastern Townships in recent weeks, the large number of contests have served one important purpose — that of increasing popular interest in civic affairs.

Returning a former representative by acclamation or electing a newcomer without a contest may be considered a compliment by the ratepayers to the office-holder but it does tend to complacency on the part of the administration — a dangerous condition indeed. The best means of assuring good government at any level is the knowledge by the administrator that he must submit his record to a vigilant electorate, a feeling that soon vanishes if it becomes a habit to return the incumbents without opposition.

Even if a periodical election campaign fails to change the officeholder it does assure that he will keep his ear tuned to public sentiment and seek to carry out the policies most desired by a majority of the electorate. Furthermore, he will lose the idea gained by too many representatives of the people who have never been called upon to contest an election that he is ruling by something like Divine right and that his ukases are not subject to contradiction.

If for no other reason than the interest they create in municipal affairs, occasional contests work for general betterment of the administration.

Must We Learn The Hard Way?

Edward Gibbon, who wrote "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" in 1782, listed five reasons for the fall of an early civilization which, at one time, embodied many of the Christian virtues. Comparing these conditions with those of the present time well might we ponder if we will profit by history or must we again be forced to learn the hard way? Anyway, here is Gibbon's list:

- 1—Higher and higher taxes . . . the spending of public money for free bread and circuses.

- 2—The mad craze for pleasure.
- 3—Sports each year becoming more exciting and more brutal.
- 4—The building of gigantic armaments when the real enemy was within . . . the decadence of the people.
- 5—The decay of religious faith; faith falling into a mere form, losing touch with life and becoming impotent to guide the people.

What Other Papers Say

RIGHT TO EXPOSE
(Brantford Expositor)

The only time we have ever envied the Soviet press is on reading that newspapers in the Soviet can with impunity expose, with name and address and details, anyone whose conduct is notoriously despicable, even though he hasn't yet run afoul of the law. Every newspaper man has known some rascal who deserved to be exposed but who was protected by the law of defamation.

CARS AND METERS
(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

When parking meters came into vogue they were evenly spaced apart in accordance with the size of the automobiles generally in use. Back and front they left a comfortable margin of space in which a driver could manoeuvre his way out without difficulty.

It is more than 15 years since the first meters were installed and the distance between each meter was standardized in every city. But car manufacturers have taken it upon themselves to increase both the length and width of automobiles during the past few years. Either they pandered to the proud people who like to be seen driving big cars or they just forced the bigger cars upon the public.

These bigger cars reduce the leeway in which a driver can get in and out. Maybe the more skillful drivers can make it fairly easily, but we noticed a lady the other day, who was behind the wheel of a new car and sandwiched between two other long cars trying to wriggle her way out. She eventually did so by bumping the car in front and bumping the car behind so as to obtain a little more space.

If cars are made any bigger, not only will all parking meters have to be torn up and replaced, but almost every garage will have to be rebuilt.

are children in Montreal who talk about sketches which appear on the air at 10:40 p.m. and whose faces, as a result of this night watching are pale and drawn.

We have even heard friends here in Kingston say that they find it difficult to get their children to eat or go to bed because of TV. Some parents we know are so fearful of the danger that they will not buy a TV set.

Nothing could show more completely the revolution in the relationship between children and parents that this last thirty years has brought. We cannot imagine a Victorian parent having any trouble with his children about sitting up late to watch TV, had they had it then. In those days, what the parent said went. The discipline exercised by the parents was obeyed by the children.

Tired, drawn faces of little children who sit up late to watch TV do not reflect the errors of TV, they reflect the lack of control by their parents. If the modern generation of mothers and fathers cannot control their children's bed time and meal times because of TV, they are the ones who should be worried, not the producers of television shows.

Although expressing the belief that the chances of another major war within the next 30 years were remote, acting Prime Minister Smuts, of South Africa, declared that his country would not be bound by any continental declaration of war.

Following Opposition charges that the cost of collection would exceed the revenues to be derived from such a tax, the Provincial Government, in a surprise move, withdrew the proposals for a retail tax on the sale of soft drinks.

HERE'S HOW TO WIN AT BRIDGE TABLE

If you think that East and West bid with supreme optimism in today's hand, I'll agree with you. They managed to convince South that they could make a vulnerable contract, so he decided to "sacrifice" in one of his five-card major suits.

South was Benjamin Mitchell, one of New York's fine players. Fulfilling the doubled contract helped Mitchell win the mixed pair championship in the recent Eastern States Tournament.

West opened a trump, hoping to reduce dummy's ruffing power. Dummy held the first trick with the eight of hearts, and Mitchell immediately led dummy's singleton spade. East naturally played low, and declarer made the key decision when he played a low card from the South hand.

West won with the jack of Spades and returned another trump. As planned, this reduced dummy to one trump that could be used for ruffing.

South won the second trump in his own hand and led the king of spades. West played low, but declarer discarded from the dummy since there was no doubt in his mind about the location of the ace of spades. South continued with the queen of spades, West covered with the ace, and dummy ruffed. It was now easy for declarer to return to his hand to draw the last trump and cash the rest of the spades.

If South had put up the king or queen of spades at the second trick he would have lost his game contract. West would have taken the ace of spades and would have returned a trump. South would not be able to set

Valuable Work

Quebec Volunteers Welcome Immigrants

Quebec—The German youth stepped from the immigrant vessel at Wolfe's cove here lugging a pair of knee-high farm boots and stared with suspicion at the uniformed immigration officer who walked towards him.

Eyes holding back angry tears, he tugged at the boots when told they must be held in Quebec for disinfection purposes. Without them, he would be unable to fill a job as a farmhand in Regina, Sask.

Then he met Ruth Robinson who spends the shipping season at Wolfe's cove with a team of volunteers handling such situations. She promised, with the help of an interpreter, that the boots would reach him in Saskatchewan.

The youth left happy after Miss Robinson promised to write his English-speaking sister in Regina and explain how she could claim the boots when they were shipped there in a few days.

Miss Robinson heads women from five English and French-speaking Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish organizations who call themselves simply "reception committee."

Miss Robinson's group was organized in 1948 to help European girls settling in Canada as domestics. The committee now spends $3,500 a season. It receives a federal government grant and donations from Quebec social welfare societies.

The women work from a mobile cottage which husky stevedores push along the quarter-mile-long Wolfe's cove shed to disembarking stations. The cottage, built last year by the Catholic Charities Federation of Quebec for $3,500, has a nursery, canteen and post office.

Last summer 4,000 children were housed in the nursery while their parents went through the average three-hour period of customs inspection and baggage checking boat arrival and train time.

In the canteen volunteers prepared 36,000 cups of coffee and 22,800 cups of milk, distributed along with 1,100 pounds of biscuits. The committee mailed 10,336 letters through the post office.

Everything but the stamps was free.

Miss Robinson says the four hours' work on a ship's arrival requires at least two days of preparation. She gave up a post on Laval University's summer school faculty of English two years ago to work full time at meeting immigrants.

Jennie, a 20-year-old bride from England, arrived penniless to discover her husband wasn't at dockside to meet her. Miss Robinson reached into her committee's petty cash box to supply the fare for a train ticket to Ottawa.

Ten minutes before train time Jennie's husband showed up in a car. Miss Robinson supervised the ticket-refund and helped hustle Jennie's checked trunk from the train's baggage car.

The woman wrote recently from Ottawa: "If you need any help in your work let me know and I'll come flying."

TV Hard On Children

(From the Kingston Whig-Standard)

Only recently it was announced in England that the new independent television authority which, by next Fall, will bring the British Isles its first commercial TV programs, would close its network from six to seven every evening so mothers could get their children to bed.

Now we read in LeDevoir, the Quebec daily, that there

"Opening Day" At Massawippi Offers Variety Of Thrills

By IVY HATCH

Lake trout fishing in Lake Massawippi opened 23 days earlier this year, May 1, instead of May 24. At the same time the smelt were running in the brooks, and we, like hundreds of others, were after our ten pounds per license.

We went to our cottage on Lake Massawippi on Saturday morning and after visiting with old friends and after visiting with old friends at the lake we had not seen since last fall, getting tackle ready and the other numerous things connected with the first week-end in camp, we had a busy day.

In the early evening we went down to one of the brooks to watch others catch the smelt. We had our catch, not ten pounds, but enough for our needs, and our license had been punched by the game warden. It was fun watching some of the people after smelt. If they caught a few, like little boys they forgot that water could get in the tops of their boots and they would plunge in up to their hips. There were few without wet feet.

Our party of four went to bed early the last day of April; the air was good and we had a fine rest. May 1 came early and before dawn we were up, built a wood fire for warmth, and while we girls prepared breakfast, the boys prepared the boats for a day of fishing, landing the net, tackle boxes, poles and cushions, etc., for our comfort. Breakfast over, we left the dishes in the sink, donned warm clothing and off we went up the lake above Butternut Flat.

What a sight it was to see some 75 boats trolling slowly back and forth in the blue dawn, and thrilling to be greeted by friends. Some we knew, others, fishermen like ourselves, passing a greeting, perhaps about the day, the lake, which was as smooth as glass, or the fish that had been caught. Then the thrill of seeing someone putting up a fight against a fish. We must have seen close to an average of a fish a boat pulled in. Some had one, some had their limit, and weighed from 8 to 25 pounds.

About noon the friendly game wardens, Seth Blake and Algier Piercy, came along exchanging a few words in regards to license, fish and the like. One man caught a dory which is out of season, but he did not know his species of fish. He received a small fine and in all probability he will recognize another dory if he catches one.

Our catch was five beautiful lakers, and we had a most enjoyable day. I say our catch, but I was fly fishing, and my catch was none. I guess I didn't use the right bait. The boats were so close at times, it was difficult to troll or drag a fly for fear of someone's motor cutting off the line. But courtesy was the order of the day, and apart from one or two tangles between fishermen's lines, there seemed little trouble.

And so the day continued until the curtain of darkness descended over the mountains and lake, and sportsmen gathered around their fireplaces to talk of the experiences of the day, the big ones that were caught, the bigger ones that got away.

There's no day on Lake Massawippi like the opening day of fishing, whether it's May 1 or May 24.

12-Hour Holdout Doesn't Keep Wife From Asylum

Bethel, Vt.—(P)—A barrage of tear gas ended the holdout of Justice of the Peace Manuel Miller, 47, who stood off federal and Vermont authorities at gunpoint for 12 hours yesterday in a futile attempt to keep his wife out of a mental hospital.

Miller and his wife, Lucille, 44, parents of three children, surrendered last night in their gas-filled home—she to face confinement in a mental hospital.

Mrs. Miller, publisher of a mimeographed anti-Communist leaflet called the Green Mountain Rifleman, was adjudged insane in federal court at Burlington, Vt., April 18 as the outgrowth of an indictment charging her with influencing young men to evade the draft.

The mild-mannered Miller, a former selectman—as town councilors are called in New England—began his holdout at 10 a.m. when he refused admittance to a federal marshal who had an order for Mrs. Miller's commitment.

Mrs. Miller, publisher of a mimeographed anti-Communist leaflet called the Green Mountain Rifleman, was adjudged insane in federal court at Burlington, Vt., April 18 as the outgrowth of an indictment charging her with influencing young men to evade the draft.

Bordeleau Given Freedom On Bail Pending Appeal

Georges Bordeleau, sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary after being found guilty on a charge of manslaughter by a court of Quebec Bench jury last March, was freed on $3,000 property bail yesterday, pending his hearing before a Court of Appeals in Montreal.

When inscription for appeal was filed, a motion for bail was also made and the five judges sitting in Court of Appeals allowed the motion. It is not known when the hearing will take place.

Bordeleau also appeared before Judge Joseph Marier in Court of Sessions last week on a charge of perjury. He was remanded for a hearing this week after he stated he could not reach his lawyer. This hearing has also been postponed indefinitely, probably until after the appeal has been heard in the manslaughter case. He was released on $950 property bail yesterday.

The perjury charge arose out of his testimony during the manslaughter trial last March, when Bordeleau denied knowing certain girls and having taken them out while masquerading as a medical student named Gaston Dumas. The girls testified that all he said during the trial about them had not been true.

SWEET SECRET...

Why do men who know choose Black Magic chocolates for the women they care about? There are two answers, really. One is that the centres are really wonderful—every woman adores them (3,000 people chose them as their favourites from hundreds of different chocolate centres). And the other reason is that the money you pay for them is being spent on the chocolates and not on elaborate packaging. The simple, but elegant black box which contains Black Magic, puts little on the price.

Prof. Leon Dean Heard In Humorous Address By Derby Fish And Game Club

Derby Line — Professor Leon Dean of the University of Vermont, Burlington, was the main speaker at the Derby Fish and Game Club annual dinner and meeting held at the Derby Town house, attended by upwards of 200 sportsmen and their women folk.

Under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Fred Murphy and Mrs. L. Selby, of Derby Line, assisted by ladies from Derby and Derby Line, a turkey banquet was served. The long tables were centered with bowls of colorful carnations, the gift of Spates Florist of Newport, flanked by white tapers in glass holders.

Seated at the head table were professor Dean; George Davis, director of Fish and Game Service; Malcolm Colton, member of the State five-man commission; Scott Rowden, game warden for Newport district of the State of Vermont; Rev. E. Nickerson, master of ceremonies; James Murphy, president of the Derby Fish and Game Club; Lloyd Selby, vice-president; U. E. Cargill, secretary, and Maurice Labor, treasurer of the club.

Grace was asked by Rev. Mr. Nickerson, Mr. Murphy who presided at the business meeting, extended a welcome and also introduced officials of the Newport and Barton, Vt., Fish and Game Clubs.

The treasurer's annual report shows the fiscal year ending with a cash balance of $147.66 and bonds and other holdings amounting to a little less than $2,000.

The president's report stated there had been eight executive and two open meetings of the Club held during the past year, the club had renewed its membership with the State Federation, a donation had been made to the Elementary Teachers Workshop, the junior fish pond had been maintained, ponds had been reserved, a representation had been present from this club at the Sportsman Club and the club had sponsored a Boy Scout troop in Derby Line.

Mr. Labor, chairman of the sportsmen's fishing contest, announced a $5 voucher, good at any store in Derby Line, will be given at the annual fall meeting to any member of the club reporting the largest salmon, bass, rainbow, lake trout or brook trout. The weighing station will be at DeRoehn's store at Derby.

Lloyd Selby received the slate of officers from the nomination committee: President, James Murphy; vice-president, Wilson Howe; treasurer Maurice Labor; secretary, U. E. Cargill; directors, William Burke, Willard Wheeler, Calvin Day and Fred Flynn. These were elected by acclamation.

Mr. Murphy resuming the chair, called upon Rev. Mr. Nickerson to introduce the speakers, which he did in his usual humorous manner.

George Davis expressed pleasure at being present and said he felt the State had had a good year and is looking forward to a better one this year. Mr. Colton remarked briefly, saying now pleased he was to be at the dinner and meeting.

Professor Dean chose as his subject, "Folklore", which was given in a very interesting and humorous manner, telling of personal experience and of the formation of the "Green Mountain Folklore Society", of which he is president. The society started with a membership of ten persons and has grown until now it has over 400, who have collected a lot of material under various classifications, Folkways, Folkways, Folkbeliefs, Folktales and Folksongs.

Speaking briefly on each, he explained Folkways are tales of olden time remedies and he gave some of the concoctions and their uses. Folkways are very quaint and unique. The old people of the country were not afraid of public opinions and they were stern in their meanings.

Folkbeliefs of the pioneers were the Bible, Almanac and superstitions, many very interesting, and Folktales were legends of early history and the tales that have lived down through the ages. The last is Folkways, "said the speaker", but I'll be darned if I'll sing any.

Mr. Nickerson thanked the speaker, and called upon Mr. Rowden, who spoke briefly.

Mr. Cargill thanked the ladies for another successful banquet and they were given hearty applause.

The prizes were then given out by Mr. Murphy. Mr. Selby and little Miss Claire St. Marie drew the tickets.

A tackle box was won by Miss Lillian Lussier, Beebe; hatchet, Lloyd Selby, Derby Line; flashlight Herb Selby, Newport; cigarettes, G. A. Robbins, Derby; Red Eye spinner, Kenneth Gregory, Derby.

Glass fish rod, Dennis Corneau, Derby; gift, Mrs. Charles Clark, Rock Island; flashlight, Mrs. Guy Robbins, Derby; flashlight, Mrs. Jerry Gosselin, Newport; Jo-Bo, Mrs. Edward Thompson, Stanstead; fly line, Ed Graveline, Derby; grease job and oil change for auto, by A. T. Powers, Derby; minnow pail, Reg. Leavens, Derby; 5 gallons gas, Miss Jackie Nickerson, Derby; 5 gallons gas, Mrs. E. Nickerson, Derby.

The grease jobs, Charles Clark Rock Island; $5 groceries, Miss Diana MacLean, Derby Line; 5 gallons gas, Harold Marsh, Derby; wash job, Miss Lucille Dustin, Derby Line; 5 gallons gas, William Dailey, Derby; 5 gallons gas, Harry Smith, Derby Line.

ning line, Sidney Telford, Derby Line; glass rod, Daniel Buck, Derby Line; glass rod, Mrs. A. Jennes, Derby; fish bait, Mrs. Lawrence Farrow, Derby.

Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterian Holds 29th Annual Meeting At Ayer's Cliff

Ayer's Cliff — The 29th annual meeting of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterian of the United Church of Canada convened in Beulah United Church, Ayer's Cliff, with Mrs. M. Fuller, Presbyterian president, in charge. At the executive meeting the devotional was conducted by Mrs. J. E. Boucher, of Sherbrooke. Mrs. E. J. MacVicar, of Ayer's Cliff, welcomed the group and Mrs. M. Fuller expressed pleasure at the large attendance and announced the Presbyterian open. Minutes were read by the recording secretary, Mrs. C. West, of Waterloo. Mrs. Elsie Smith, corresponding secretary, reported 326 meetings held during the year, an increase in membership for the year of 116, making 575 members. Of these, 446 are annual members and 129 are life members.

Presbyterian treasurer, Miss L. Knowlton, reported a very successful year, the allocation of $9,200 having been over-subscribed by $250. This amount will be divided evenly for G. B. A., including cars for mission work in Canada, the Archibald Institute, Christian Radio Broadcasts in Japan and Stewardship Scholarship fund.

Mrs. A. E. Swager, of Magog, reporting for "Christian Stewardship," said increasing interest was noted in missionary work, especially in reading, more help from "Associate Members," allocations reached by freewill offerings, and two Mission Circles Sherbrooke, Literature secretary, formed. Mrs. J. K. Edwards of gave a review of books.

Group conferences were headed by the following: Christian Stewardship, Mrs. A. E. Swager; Mission Circles, Mrs. R. C. Tait; Affiliated C. G. I. T. groups, Mrs. G. Bullis; Mission Bands and Explorers, Mrs. A. Rose; Baby Band, Mrs. J. Hazle.

Dinner was served by members of the Women's Association and Women's Missionary Society of Beulah Church.

At the afternoon session, Mrs. H. Boomhour, of Ayer's Cliff, conducted a memorial service for eleven members who have passed away during the year. Mrs. J. E. MacVicar of Ayer's Cliff placed 11 white flowers in a vase for: Mrs. Ernest E. Rev. H. Boomhour conducted the Communion service.

The guest speaker was Dr. Winifred Bryce, who, with her husband, recently returned from India, where she was in charge of the Presbyterian Mission Hospital. Dr. Bryce spoke of the improvements in the lives of the Indian people, especially the women, and was thanked by Mrs. M. Fuller.

Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. Nelson Pierce and Mrs. R. McHarg rendered a song, with Mrs. W. H. Rexford at the organ. Mrs. J. E. MacVicar presented the reading course award to the Ayer's Cliff Auxiliary. Beulah Mission Band and Explorers Group, under the leadership of Mrs. H. Boomhour, Miss G. Pitman, Mrs. J. Walker and Mrs. A. Keeler, gave a very charming sketch, telling of different things they had learned about India. Dr. Bryce told the children a story. Mrs. L. Knowlton and Mrs. E. H. Gray put on a very interesting skit, entitled "Your Missionary Envelope".

Following the supper served by members of the W. A. and W. M. S. of Beulah Church, greetings were given by the Rev. C. J. Gustafson, of Magog, chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterian, Mrs. A. G. Clough, president of the Anglican W. A., and Mrs. Hunting, president of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Women's Association. Mrs. Fuller mentioned a telegram which had been received from Mrs. R. Stafford, Montreal-Ottawa Conference Branch president.

Mrs. W. MacMillan presented Mrs. M. Fuller with a life Membership pin from the Executive. The evening session opened with devotionals conducted by the Canadian Girls in Training of Beulah Church. Miss L. Knowlton spoke of the new United Training School in Toronto, where the urgent need was for girls to train for church positions. The choir of Beulah Church sang a hymn, under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Rexford.

Dr. Bryce, in her address which followed, spoke of the improvement in homes in India, where many of the women are learning to read and are taking positions of importance. She told the poverty of many people, some of whom have no homes.

Mrs. M. Fuller thanked the speaker and Rev. C. Gustafson pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. J. E. Boucher led the devotional exercises at the opening of the second morning's session and a literature revue was in charge of Mrs. J. K. Edwards.

Waterloo School Of Ballet Pupils Demonstrate Talents At Two Recitals

Waterloo — For two nights the pupils of the Waterloo School of Ballet held the interest of capacity audiences with another top flight performance. For the fifth year, these girls and boys have been demonstrating their talents as to ballet, and tap, and this year's recital ranked with the best.

Mrs. Muriel Steppings, the ballet mistress, deserves much of the credit for the success of the performance, but the untiring efforts of the parents and friends who made the costumes and assisted in minute detail connected with such a performance, deserve much praise.

Mrs. Geraldine MacIntosh, the accompanist, performed masterfully throughout both performances. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Duncan Dalton, the vice-president, Mrs. Leopold Larose welcomed the audiences to the recitals. Mr. Allan Granger acted as master of ceremonies in a very capable manner keeping the shows running smoothly and on time.

Opening with the baby class, the number entitled Bunnies

Bunnies, stole the show. Taking part were Joanne Dalton, Patricia Fortin, Kathy Jenks, Jo MacIntosh, Bonnie McColeman, Lucie Rainville, Collette Rainville and Judy Worden.

Me and My Teddy Bear was the second item and in this very pretty number were Nancy Dalton, Judy Darling, Sheila Darling, Deborah Fialle, Ann Granger, Brenda Hamilton, Carol Malone, Frances Schaenfield, Nora Streeter, Lynda Watkins and Carole Young.

In Tchaikowsky's Trepak, the Russian dance, Ina Chapman did a very fine solo effort. The Old Soft Shoe was a big favorite, with Catherine Graves doing a very creditable solo. Waltz of the Flowers was a picturesque number. Taking part were Diane Chabot, Lorraine Groulx, Nicole Guilbault, Rachelle Taylor and Lynn Wooley. Brenda Katz revisited the Dutch Clog Dance in her solo number her interpretation being well done.

The Old Fashioned Minuet, done to the music of Bocherini, was pretty and well executed and included Susan Edwards, Nicole Petit, Juliette Dulude, Francine Casavant, Jo Anne Savage, Elaine Oaine, Roger Bessette, Robert Cardinal, Julien Dulude, Serge Guilbault, Jimmy MacIntosh and Lorne Whitehead.

Gwen Hayes and Marilyn McKergow did an Irish tap duet, which was very well received. The Country Gardens number was extremely well done. The baby class made their second appearance in Baby Dolls, which was a good description of these talented youngsters of four and five years of age.

Skater's Waltz, a clever piece of trickery, represented a group of girls and boys on ice. Taking part were Therese Belanger, Claudette Dufresne, Patricia Graves, Mary Martin, Marjorie Poulin, Elaine Russell, Jane Young and Wilma Young.

The boys gave some back-breaking acrobatics in Acrobatic Fun and the older class of girls followed with Lichner's Gypsy Tambourines, the dancers being Micheline Chabot, Anita Chevrier, Ann Fisher, Gwen Hayes, Marilyn McKergow, Susan Martin, Merinda Racicot and Patricia Watkins. Mrs. Muriel Steppings danced the Gypsy Beggar dance as a portion of this number.

La Grande Valse Classique brought the first portion of the recital to a close. Taking part were Francine Ares, Ina Chapman, Catherine Graves, Brenda Katz, Gabrielle Labelle, Hope Davidson, Louise Graves, Odile Larose, Martha MacIntosh and Mavis Martin. During intermission soft drinks and candy were sold.

The Cowgirls opened the second half with a rousing number, and a comic act was inserted when Waterloo's Trigger made its appearance. Hope Davidson and Mavis Martin did a fine portrayal of the animal. Pizzicati by Delibes was a dance well done by a group of smaller girls, Marlene Graves, Naomi Hanson, Francoise Larose, Madeleine Larose, Danielle Lemire, Carole Rainville, Janet Marsh, Georgiana McBride, Lynda Russell and Maureen Whitehead.

In her Rainbow Round My Shoulder number, Odile Larose did a tap number which was roundly applauded. Martha MacIntosh, who did a ballet solo in Swan Princess, showed great talent.

Mrs. Steppings' rhythm tap number met with approval, and Boomp-A-Daisy was another eye catching number performed by a group of girls. Louise Graves danced to Chopin's Minute Waltz, receiving well merited applause.

Gabrielle Labelle's interpretation of Katelbey's Persian Garden number was exceptionally received and her interpretation and execution were both well done. Tap Strutters done by Ina Chapman, Louise Graves, Odile Larose, Brenda Katz and Martha MacIntosh was a pleasing number.

Mrs. Steppings, on the second night, offered a surprise number when she was joined with four of her Montreal students in a Drum Major's dance, which was an exceptionally well performed routine. The Wooden Soldiers by six boys was very good; and tied in with this was the Saucy Sailors and Grande Finale, which included everyone.

This year's recital showed marked improvement over past years and each number was well timed and well executed.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Waterloo Kiwanis Club motored to Magog to join with them for an interclub meeting. Bringing the speaker, Mr. Charlie Rinfret, the visiting club were well represented with seventeen members. Mr. Rinfret gave a humorous account of his time spent in France and Norway on farms. The odd approach taken by the speaker made his talk most unpredictable and most enjoyable. President Al Grainger introduced the speaker, who in turn was thanked by Kiwanian Jack Peters of the Magog Club.

Those who made the trip besides the president were, Armand Russell, vice-president, J. Chapman, Orval Lewis, Alden Perkins, Fernand Bouchard, Wes Parkes, Pete Hulet, Bob Millinchamp, Jesse Smith, Tom Wilkinson, Jim Cody and Wally Jenks, who made all the interclub arrangements. Les Hopperton, Pete Gunter and Roger McKergow.

NEITHER TOO FAST

NOR TOO SLOW

It takes sound judgment to drive a car at reasonable speed. You and not the motor should rate the speed to travel. By driving fast you become a public menace liable to the severest penalty of the law. But by driving too slowly you may also constitute a hazard: you create bottlenecks, provoke other motorists, make them irritable, impatient and even incite them into taking undue risks. This can lead to accidents. You obstruct the normal flow of traffic. By driving carefully, you keep to a speed that enables you to maintain perfect mastery of your car, keeping you meanwhile away from the danger zone.

Indians Lose To Athletics, Meet Here Tomorrow Night

Drop Slugging Contest 15-7 In Initial Appearance At Burlington; St. Johns Suffers First Setback

A big second inning in which the Burlington Athletics pushed home 10 runs proved the downfall of the Sherbrooke Indians in their initial appearance in the American city in the Provincial League. The A's emerged the winner 15-7 in the loosely played tilt.

It was the first time that both teams clashed and they were charged with five errors each. The A's pounded out a total of thirteen hits while the Indians collected twelve in the slugging contest.

Buddy Padgett commenced for the Hartness squad but was lifted in the second when the A's got to him. Gary McCaskey took over and worked until the sixth when a pinch-hitter stepped in. Dick Mitchener finished out the game. LeFebvre started out for the A's but the Indians got to him in the seventh and Hale came to his rescue to finish the tilt. The A's smashed out a total of five round-trippers with Burl-Morris leading the way with two while Fitzgerald, Zack and Chianefe accounting for the others.

Three Rivers posted their first win of the season by edging out Thetford Mines 4-3 while Quebec Braves outlasted St. Johns 5-4 in a while Quebec moved into sole possession of second position with Sherbrooke dropping down a peg to tie Thetford for third. The Athletics will be making their first appearance of the season at the Municipal Stadium here tomorrow evening when they will tangle with the Indians at 8:00. It will be the first home game for the locals under the lights and their second of the schedule.

Flying Fury Cops $14,850 Derby Trial; Regarded Now As Threat For Famous Classic On Saturday

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Flying Fury gave the Cain Hoy stable of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim a powerful one-two punch for the Kentucky Derby when he captured the $14,850 Derby Trial Tuesday.

The son of Nasrullah, ridden by Conn McCreary, will team up Saturday with Racing Fool, a speedster with a record of four straight wins. They will threaten the highly regarded Nashua and Summer Tan in Saturday's classic at Churchill Downs.

McCreary, twice winner of the Derby, brought Flying Fury through on the rail to edge Jean's Joe from the Murcin stable by a nose.

Nabesna, an outsider carrying the silks of Clifford Moores, was third and Honey's Alibi fourth in the field of nine three-year-olds.

Flying Fury, out of the money in three previous starts this year, stepped the mile in one minute, 38 seconds, three seconds runs in the opening frame when they notched two but in the second they blasted Padgett from the mound when they tallied ten. The Indians got their first tally in the third and added five more in the sixth with one more in the seventh. The A's complete their scoring with a singleton in the fifth and two in the 7th.

Cataracts Edge Flyers 4-3 To Take Stranglehold On Edinburgh Trophy; Meet Tomorrow In Shawinigan Falls

Montreal (AP) — The high-riding Shawinigan Falls Cataracts, with a stranglehold on the Edinburgh Trophy, square off against Edmonton Flyers on their own ice Thursday in an attempt to break a home-town jinx.

They defeated the Flyers 4-3 in Montreal Tuesday night to take a 4-2 lead in the best-of-nine series. Edmonton has won both games played in Shawinigan Falls.

The hustling Quebec Hockey League Club came from behind twice to down the heavier western team. The squads traded goals in the first and second periods before the Cataracts took the decision by outscoring Edmonton 2-1 in the final frame.

Play was spotty for the first 40 minutes but in the last period the action was fast and crisp. Flyers were a man short when they opened the scoring while Shawinigan's second and fourth markers came with the Western

Royals Move Into First Place With 7-3 Win Over Havana; Leafs Drop Two To Jets; Wings Nip Richmond

The second-place Columbus Jets are being tagged the "surprise team" of the 1955 International League season so far but they're certainly no surprise to manager Nick Cullop. He predicted that they would be a better club than the one they replaced when he took over before the start of the season.

Columbus, replacing Ottawa Athletics who finished in the cellar last season, moved to within one-half game of the top by defeating Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 in a completion of a suspended seven-inning game Tuesday night. Then they went on to drop the Leafs by an identical count in a regularly scheduled contest.

With Toronto dropping to third place, Montreal Royals jumped to the top by defeating Havana Sugar Kings 7-3 on the four-hit pitching of rookie Don Drysdale.

In other games, Rochester Red Wings behind Duke "No-hit" Markell, swept a four-game series with Syracuse by trouncing the Chiefs 6-2. Buffalo nipped Richmond Virginians 4-3 with George Bullard supplying the power.

The Jets won the first game, which was a completion of a seven-inning second game of last Sunday's curfew-suspended doubleheader. Charlie Haag gained credit for the win, his third without a loss.

An error by Leaf catcher Don Griffin enabled Frank Verdi to score the winning Jet run in the fourth.

Coach's Role For Faloney
Edmonton. (AP) — Bernie Faloney, former Maryland quarterback who led Edmonton Eskimos to the Grey Cup last year, will be used only as an assistant coach this year by Calgary Stampede.

Eskimos, who still hold Faloney's playing contract, had charged the Calgary club with "tampering" under Canadian Rugby Union rules, but Edmonton agreed to a meeting of the Western Interprovincial Football Union to withdraw the charge.

Stampede assured Eskimos Faloney will be used only as assistant to head coach Jack Henneier.

Canadians Win Rookie Awards

London. (AP) — Tommy Lemon of Haileybury, Ont., and Les Lilley of Kimberley, B.C., both 22, have been named rookies of the year for the Scottish and English sections of the British Ice Hockey League.

Lemon played for Toronto St. Mike's before joining Paisley Pirates and Lilley, now with Haringay Racers, led the Western International League in scoring last year with Kimberley Dynami-ters.

Chicoutimi Folds; Club To Be Sold

Chicoutimi, Que. (AP) — The owners of the Chicoutimi Saguenens of the Quebec Hockey League voted Tuesday night to suspend operations unless the club is sold by June 4.

A sale price of $35,000 was set. The team finished fourth in the five-team league this season and was eliminated in the first round of the playoffs by Shawinigan Falls Cataracts.

The nine shareholders said the team has operated at a deficit during the last three seasons.

Withdrawal of the Saguenens would leave the league with Montreal Royals, Quebec Aces, Valleyfield Braves and Shawinigan Falls. Ottawa Senators abandoned operations early in the 1954-55 season.

Hugh Auger Wins Athletic Award With UBC Varsity

Fredericton, N.B. (AP) — Hugh Auger, popular sophomore from Black Lake, Que., won the award for the best all-around athlete at the University of New Brunswick.

The presentation took place at the annual athletic banquet for varsity and intramural athletes and was held in the main room of the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel.

He was presented with the R. Kenneth Corbett Gold Medal, symbolic of the honor, by University President Colin B. Mackay. The award came following his outstanding play with the University Red Bombers, champions of the New Brunswick Canadian Rugby Football Union, and with the varsity hockey and track squads.

There's not a player in the regular Pittsburgh lineup who is 30 years old or above. The elders are Dick Cole, 28, the second baseman; Dale Long, 29,

Branch Rickey's Pittsburgh Kids Create A Stir In National; Stop Braves; Indians Win To Hold Lead

Branch Rickey's Pittsburgh's "Fuzz Kids" are now the "Nuisance Kids" of the National League.

While the haughty New York Giants and Milwaukee Braves are trying to maintain complete calm in the face of continuing reverses, the beardless Pirates are kicking up sawdust all over the place.

They now have won three games in a row. They have won four of the last five. They are playing as if they take serious stock in Rickey's "five year plan," which had 1955 fixed as the date for the pennant.

Of course nobody seriously expects a pennant from Pittsburgh this soon. But they can expect surprises. The Pirates are young and brash — and winning.

Tuesday night a 29-year-old Baltimore castoff, Dick Littlefield, shut out the Milwaukee Braves on seven hits 4-0, stretching the Braves' string of scoreless innings to 22.

The setback was doubly bitter to the Braves because it was achieved by a lefthander against the righthand-loaded Milwaukee power. It was, in fact, the fourth time a southpaw had stopped the Braves scoreless since 1952. Philadelphia's Curt Simmons did it in 1953 and the Giant's Johnny Antonelli and Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall in 1954.

The Braves dropped seven full games back to the idle Brooklyn Dodgers and their only comfort was that the champion New York Giants were another full game farther back.

The Giants also were white-washed by the Chicago Cubs' Bob Rush, who fashioned a tidy four-hitter while Bob Speake and Dee Fondy, with three triples between them, battered the Gaints' Jim Hearn. The final score was 6-0.

In the only other National League game, big Ted Kluszewski hit two of Cincinnati's home runs to down the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5.

Over in the American League where only 2 1/2 games separate the top four clubs, the Cleveland Indians whipped the New York Yankees 7-4 in their first clash of the season. The Indians thus managed to hold their slender half-game lead over the pressing Detroit Tigers, who topped the Boston Red Sox 4-2 on a two-run homer by the 20-year-old rookie sensation, Al Kaline.

The Kansas City Athletics beat Baltimore Orioles 4-3 on a three-run homer by Bill Wilson in the eighth inning. Chicago White Sox trimmed Washington Senators 5-1.

Littlefield gave the Pirates their third straight top-light pitching performance in beating the Braves. Ronnie Kline and Young Bob Purkey did similar workmanlike jobs on the St. Louis Cardinals earlier this week.

There's not a player in the regular Pittsburgh lineup who is 30 years old or above. The elders are Dick Cole, 28, the second baseman; Dale Long, 29,

Al Kaline's homer for Detroit gave Billy Hoelt his third straight pitching victory. The loser was Ike Delock.

Diocese Apportionment Report Given At Meeting Of Knowlton Auxiliary

Knowlton. — St. Paul's branch of the Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. A. T. Woodley with Miss Knowlton presiding. The meeting was opened with the W.A. hymn and prayers, after which the study period on India was conducted by Mrs. Bashaw.

The treasurer's report listed receipts and expenditures for the month, among the latter being the payment of the spring apportionment to the Diocesan Board of $150.25. The balance of funds on hand amounted to $101.21.

Mrs. Pilson reported receipt of a letter from the diocesan treasurer, a summary of which showed that the Dominion apportionment to the Montreal Diocese is $15,580, of which amount the Pledge Fund, covering salaries of missionary workers, is our first responsibility. Of diocesan funds one of the most important is the Youth Worker's salary, because from the young people of today will come the senior members of tomorrow. It had also been decided that the various expense funds shall now be grouped together, and be referred to as the Administration Fund.

The United Thank Offering was handed in by the members and received by Mrs. Woodley.

An appeal from CARE was considered and, on motion by Mrs. Robson, seconded by Mrs. Nurse, $5 was voted toward a food parcel for Korea, also $5 for children's underwear for the same destination. For the Dorcas work, Mrs. Bowen had on view garments and knitted articles contributed by members, which, together with other items previously collected, would be packed for shipment to headquarters.

Mrs. Bowen stated that the Junior branch had forwarded a bale which included sewing and fourteen scrap books. The Juniors had provided a choir at the service on Easter Sunday evening, and would sing at another service in the near future.

Miss Knowlton read extracts from the M.D.W.A. notes of the March board meeting. The question of transportation for attendance at the Brome-Shefford Deanery meeting in Waterloo on May 11 was discussed, and Mrs. Robson agreed to arrange for cars.

Folders descriptive of W.A. work received from headquarters were distributed to those present.

Mrs. Robson offered to act as hostess for the May meeting. The president closed the gathering with prayer and tea was served by Mrs. Woodley.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

The Women's Christian Temperance Union meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Sydney Taylor with the president, Mrs. E. H. Gray officiating.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Graydon Tibbits, the minutes were read by Mrs. J. R. Armstrong. The treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Hastings, gave a full and satisfactory report.

The devotional period, under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Spencer was based on "The Miracle of Miracles, the remembrance of the 'First Easter Morn'" and gave the assurance that since our Saviour rose from the grave, we too shall rise to "Life Eternal."

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Spencer followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. The president closed the meeting with benediction. One visitor was present and Dr. E. H. Gray was present at the tea hour.

Rev. T. E. R. Nurse of St. Paul's, conducted the prayer service and in his address, Dr. O'Neill gave a vivid account of what was being done by the Bible Society. He pointed out the many different translations of the Bible that have already been made, but there is much more work to be done.

It was announced that Rev. Maynard Booth and Mrs. Booth would soon be leaving for Africa where they will carry on the work of the Bible Society.

At the conclusion of the service those in attendance adjourned to the Rectory where Mrs. Nurse served refreshments.
