Rotary Round The World Is Topic Of C. O. Baptist

C. O. Baptist, founding member of Three Rivers Rotary Club and prominent international Rotarian, reviewed the activities and principles of the organization for the Westmount club at Wednesday's luncheon meeting. Rotary's development into a service organization of world significance, Mr. Baptist said, was symbolized in the newly-constructed headquarters at Evanston, Ill. "One can see at a glance that here is a building combining beauty with utility and durability. That building will endure along with the vast and far-flung body known as Rotary International."

He went on to describe the activities of the 160-member staff at headquarters. Here are the offices of Rotary's own magazine, "Rotarian," which, Mr. Baptist asserted, "has outgrown the conventional limitations involved in publishing a magazine for a club or fraternal order and has even turned into an advantage its special position of not having to compete for sales on the news stands with other and similar publications."

Rotary members all over the world had each contributed an average of $10 to finance the work of the Rotary Foundation. The foundation's fellowships and international student exchange scholarships, as well as its relief program for Rotarians and their families suffering distress through war or disaster, (Continued on page 16)

Chief Cobb Winds Up 33 Years With City

A career of 33 years in public service, to the City of Westmount, ended this week when Fire Chief W. Cobb went on leave of absence prior to his retirement August 2.

Recognition of Chief Cobb's devotion to duty, and the high esteem in which he was held by city council and personnel of his department was marked by ceremonies and presentations held in his honor.

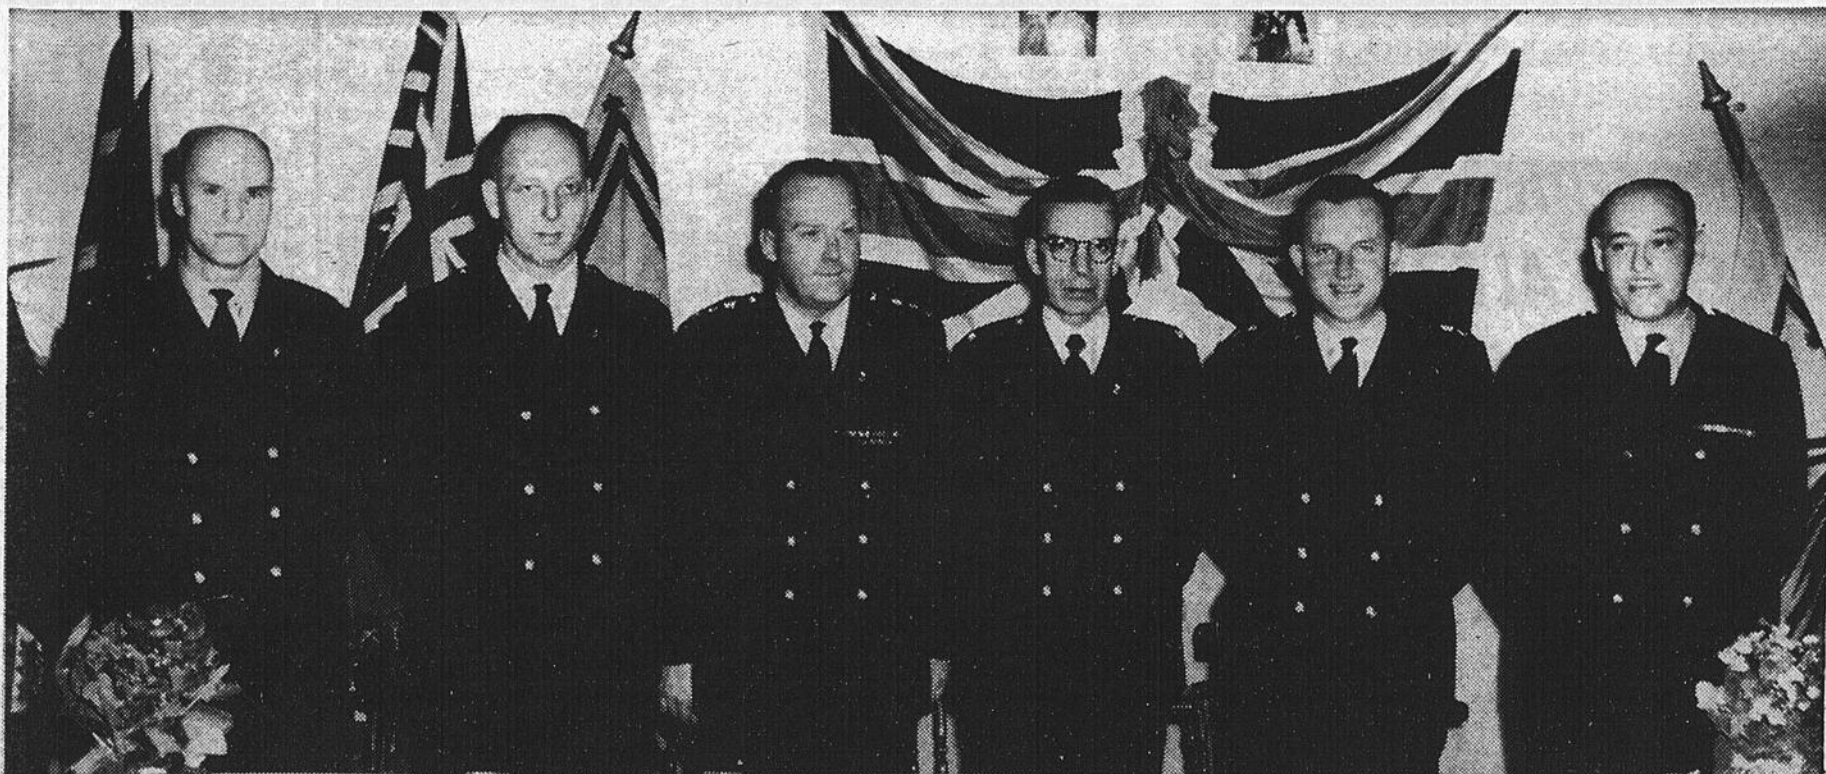

During a recent meeting of council he was presented with a silver tray, a token of appreciation for his long service. On Tuesday, with all members of council in attendance, he made a final inspection of personnel in his department and formally turned it over to Alderman Alfred Powis, commissioner of police and fire.

In another ceremony, later in the week, the retiring chief was presented with several gifts from employees of the police and fire departments and other branches of civic administration.

Chief Cobb will be replaced by Deputy Chief E. G. Durocher who has been serving as Acting Chief since May 1.

Following are other promotions which came into effect May 1: Captain E. C. Harper to Deputy Chief; Lieutenants J. W. Armstrong and Thomas Hovenden to Captain; Firemen J. E. Dubber and E. L. Denbeigh to Lieutenant.

ART DISPLAY: The art department at Westmount Junior High School held a display last Monday, of work done during the year. It is planned to make this an annual event, and its purpose is to show the creative activity of the children, their co-operation, and that it is not always the finished product that is to be stressed but the work that goes into it. The children learn to work in many fields, such as figure drawing, three dimensional clay and mask work, and patterns on textiles. Here Miss A. Capel, left, art instructor, and Mrs. J. D. Social Democrats Pick N. Mergler For Local Race

Norman Mergler, 45-year-old labour leader, was the unanimous choice of Wednesday's nominating meeting of the Social Democratic party (CCF) as candidate for Westmount-St. George in the provincial election, June 20.

Party-workers aren't expecting a victory for Mr. Mergler but they do hope for at least as many votes this time as in the last election when the socialist candidate received 400. Some social democrats felt hesitant about putting a candidate in the field this June. As one of them put it, the party could revert to its old status as a movement above partisan politics.

Nevertheless, the decision to enter the contest was made and Mr. Mergler's campaign was inaugurated officially Wednesday with keynote speeches by Claude Ellis, CCF member for Regina in the Federal house, and Mrs. Therese Casgrain.

Main planks in the Socialist platform are increased social and health benefits (including free hospitalization) and a "more progressive" labor code for the province.

Mr. Mergler himself is vice-president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (local 116) and, after many years with the CCF organization, is now president of the St. Lawrence-St. George club. He has also been active as a youth leader in the city.

Of all new homes built in North America, statistics show that 8 out of 10 are built of wood.

VARIETY SHOW

Westmount Park Emmanuel Cubs and Scouts will present a variety show tonight at 7.30 p.m., in the church hall. The evening will also feature a womanless fashion show followed by a Scout campfire.

Pre-Teen Students Stage French Concert At Queen's

By CY FOX

Wednesday was "Jour de Français" for pupils of grades three to six at Queen's school, Westmount, when they took a morning hour off from class-work to stage a program of plays and songs in French, part of the school's regular language curriculum.

It was an event the boys and girls enjoyed. All of them participated either in the stage productions or in the behind-the-scenes painting and costume-making work that had to be done. In addition, the hall and school were decorated with pictures and tapestries, some portraying the children's conceptions of Paris, others aspects of French-Canadian history.

Finally, there was French-language edition of the "Queen's News", featuring specially prepared contributions by the pupils.

Andrew Pitcairn, principal of Queen's, supervised preparations for French Day, assisted by teachers of the classes concerned.

Miss Donald-Smith, supervising assistant of French for Westmount elementary schools, said that the idea behind French courses in local schools was to treat the subject from "an entirely oral-conversational angle."

"We are thus taking advantage of that period in the child's life, up to his 12th year, when he can learn a foreign language by imitation. He mimics accurately, isn't self-conscious and learning can be a pleasure to him."

It all came down, Mrs. Donald-Smith remarked, to an observation made recently at a modern language teachers' convention in Chicago. "The small human animal likes to make strange noises."

Queen Elizabeth Hospital Facilities Taxed To Limit

The demand for accommodation has taxed the facilities of Queen Elizabeth Hospital to the "utmost" according to the report of L. B. Unwin, president of the board of directors, made before the annual meeting recently.

Patient days during the past year totalled 43,689 and occupancy averaged 82.55 per cent during the year. In 1954, the patient days were 46,957 and occupancy was 88.70 per cent. The decrease during 1955 was due to the necessity of closing one floor for three and a half months due to the nurses shortage.

Mr. Unwin also announced that the new laboratory building has been completed at a cost of $90,000 and constructed with the proposed increased hospital accommodation. Dr. Theodore R. Waugh, formerly of Royal Victoria Hospital, has been appointed pathologist-in-charge.

Deficit for the year was $77,809 compared with $92,976 in 1954. During the first quarter of 1956 the deficit was $4,937, an improvement over the corresponding period in 1955. The campaign committee objective of $110,000 was surpassed with collections totalling $116,214.

High tribute was paid to the hospital's radiology and pathology departments by Medical Superintendent Dr. Harold R. Griffith.

"These areas do not seem to hold much glamor, but every doctor recognizes their increasing importance to the welfare of our patients," he said, "in fact . . . the whole future course of a patient's life is often dependent on decisions made by the doctors who work behind the scenes in these departments."

Labs Are Busy

In citing the trend towards increasing use of laboratory tests, Dr. Griffith pointed out that 32,464 examinations were carried out in 1955 — twice the amount of work done 10 years ago, though the size of the hospital has not increased.

In the department of radiology, the figures for X-ray examination and X-ray treatment revealed an increase over 1954 for the latter and a decrease in the former. Treatments in 1955 numbered 3,266 compared to 3,218 in 1954 while there were 10,274 examinations in '54 and 9,990 during the past year. All of these figures represent an increase over 1953.

Due to the number of examinations, Department Director Dr. E. M. Crawford advocated the installation of a new general X-ray machine this year.

Hospital statistics showed 4,996 admissions to the hospital during the year, a decrease from the 5,284 figure in 1954. Nine hundred-forty births were recorded and the death total was 112. Mortality rate percentage was 2.24 compared to 2.46 the previous year.

A breakdown of patients religious denomination revealed 2,442 Protestants; 1,303 Catholics and 311 others.

Hold Final Service For S/L D. M. Clapin

Final tribute was paid to the memory of Squadron Leader David Michael Clapin, Senior Medical Officer, RCAF when funeral service was conducted recently at Church of Ascension. Burial was in Ottawa.

S-L Clapin died suddenly at St. John's, Quebec. He was 30 years of age.

Born in Ottawa, he attended Holy Cross School there, St. Michael's College in Toronto, and the University of Ottawa where he graduated in medicine in 1951. He completed junior internship at Ottawa General Hospital and continued senior internship at St. Michael's Hospital Toronto.

Later he joined the RCAF as Senior medical officer and served in Western Canada and the Yukon Territories.

S-L Clapin is survived by his wife, the former Eileen Harrington, and four children, David, Peter, Kathie and John. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. T. F. Clapin, and sister, Mrs. E. J. Fender of Toledo, Ohio.

Lt. Col. Campbell carried out inspection and was conducted by Lt. Col. H. L. Hurdle, OBE, commanding officer, on a tour of the armory and lecture rooms while normal training was in progress.

Signals are one of the more highly skilled branches of the army and parade night training consists mainly of technical instruction in wireless and line communication methods and equipment. In addition to the training in the armory there are weekend exercises and one week at camp where the regiment operates under field conditions.

The unit is not quite up to strength and will welcome any man interested in the communications field. The armory is located at 3 Hillside Ave., Westmount and parade nights are Tuesday and Thursday.

Studio Players Final Concert

The YMCA Studio Players final production of the season, On Monday Next, will have its final performance tonight in the Y studio.

This fast-moving comedy outlines the trials and tribulations of the Drossmouth Repertory Company during the rehearsal of a new play with the eager author turning up to watch her brain-child being brought to life.

It's a happy little company, she finds; the ingenue always in tears, the leading man bickering with his wife, the stage manager and producer constantly at each other's throats.

Faith and Doubt II

By Rev. Canon R. K. Naylor
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

Exception is taken by many people to two clauses in the Creed: "He descended into hell," and "I believe in the Resurrection of the body."

It is unfortunate that the word "hell" is used in the English New Testament to represent two Greek words which may be Anglicized "Gehenna" and "Hades." Gehenna is the Greek transliteration of the Hebrew "Ge Hinnom." The Valley of Hinnom. This valley lay to the west of the Temple. It had been turned by the Kings of Judah into a place for the worship of Moloch. The reforming King Josiah broke down the image and altar of Moloch and made the valley an unclean place by turning it into a city dump, where a fire was kept burning to destroy the refuse. The bodies of executed criminals were cast there. Small wonder that it became the symbol of eternal punishment. The word is used three times in that sense in the New Testament.

Hades, on the other hand, is simply "the unseen place," "the place of departed spirits." In the second chapter of Acts it is used in this general sense; in other passages it is a place of punishment, while such terms as "Paradise" or "Abraham's bosom" are used to denote a place of bliss. Our Lord told the dying thief that he would be that day with Him in Paradise. St. Peter says that God had not left the Soul of Jesus in Hades, i.e., in the place of departed spirits. Surely St. Luke in each passage is referring to the same condition or place. Still later St. Peter says in his Epistle that Jesus went in the Spirit and preached to the spirits in prison; which sometime were disobedient. The most natural interpretation is that Our Lord's Spirit did not remain in idleness while His Body lay in the grave but that He entered into that spirit life which awaits all of us, and that in that state He proclaimed the same Good News that He had proclaimed in the years of His Ministry. That is what the Creed means when it declares that "He descended into hell." We may wish that the Church had devised a more intelligible expression, just as we wish at times that the physicist and the psychologist would use terms that could be easily understood.

The Resurrection of the body gives a good deal of offence to some minds; to others it is most welcome. It was Bishop Lightfoot who said a good many years ago that the Resurrection of the body is not a philosophical difficulty but a philosophical necessity. The body is that agency by which we express ourselves. It was by means of His Body - hands and feet, eyes and ears and tongue - that Our Lord expressed Himself in His Ministry. It was by means of His Body that He made Himself known to His disciples after His Resurrection. But it was a transformed Body - subject entirely to His Spirit; what St. Paul calls a spiritual body.

I suppose that when St. Paul says in First Thessalonians "the dead in Christ shall rise first: then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air" we imagine our natural bodies performing mass feats of levitation. But St. Paul has a very different idea as we see in First Corinthians, where he says that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God . . . but we shall all be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality."

Of course the Apostle is trying to put into words a condition for which there are no words, for it is a condition which we have never experienced. The writer of the Book of Revelation had the same problem - to put into natural and human words, super-natural and divine facts.

As far as the future life is concerned we probably all believe in it but we find it impossible to imagine it; for "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him," and if He has provided for our personalities a natural body to enjoy natural things I see no difficulty in believing that He will provide a spiritual body for the same personalities to enjoy spiritual things.

Fruit Keeps Fresh When Stored In Polythene Bags

Not everyone is lucky enough to live in a place where fresh fruit can be plucked off the nearest tree. Most of us are used to fruit that has been shipped from warmer climes and we've had to put up with over-ripe pears and banded-up bananas as a necessary evil.

Recently, polythene packaging has been used to reduce shipping hazards to a minimum. More and more fresh fruit is arriving in stores in the same delicious state in which it left the tree.

A government experimental farm in British Columbia reports that pears stored in polythene at a temperature of 32 degrees keep one to two months longer than fruit held under standard conditions. Moisture loss and shrivelling are eliminated and the fruit arrives at the market with better flavor and appearance.

When the first shipments of bananas from the tropics arrived on our shores many years ago, it was a case of the "survival of the fittest." Travel by burro, ox-cart, rail, barge, and ship during various stages of the journey took a heavy toll. The financial loss to exporters was great. Now, entire stalks of bananas are enclosed in large, tough polythene bags that carry them all the way from tropical countries without scarring or loss of moisture.

Shampoo Hair Weekly To Restore Its Beauty

Washing your hair isn't just a routine job of soaping and rinsing. It should be a pleasure and a treatment at one and the same time. It is a wonderful chance to really brush your hair when you do not care whether or not the ware is brushed out, for you will be setting it fresh again. It is a good time to give your scalp a real massage, too.

Indeed, the massage is an important part of the pre-shampoo. Loosen the scalp with the cushions of your fingers (never use the tips, for you may scrape the scalp), and let the blood reach the surface of your scalp. It will enliven every follicle.

Then brush your hair thoroughly. Bend your head down to send the blood circulating to the roots. This will ensure that your hair get the nourishment necessary for a glossy surface. Rotate the brush, as if it were massaging the scalp, at the hair-line where thinning begins. Make parting lines all over your head and rotate the brush along each line. Be sure to pull the brush right out to the ends of the hair.

Now for the shampoo itself. Helena Rubinstein recommends a weekly shampoo for all hair types — dry, normal, or oily. Lather normal, dry hair twice and then rinse out so clean that the hair squeaks when you pull your fingers along it. Excessively oily hair should be lathered in two steps. After the first soaping, rinse the hair, then take a turkish towel, and rub each strand from the scalp to the end until nearly dry. This rubs off any clinging oil excess. Then lather the hair a second time and rinse. After any type of shampoo, be sure to give your hair a good brushing again, to help restore natural beauty.

Tips

on Touring

By CAROL LANE
Women's Travel Authority

Are women safer drivers than men? My answer is Yes — and, furthermore, I think most men will agree with me.

I won't go into a maze of conflicting accident figures, because I base my case on the simple premise that women are, by nature, instinctively more protective and conservative than men.

And it shows in the way women drive: they observe speed limits, because they respect the law's authority; they don't zig-zag through traffic, because they are naturally more cautious; women seldom race through amber lights like the impatient male, because women always subconsciously remember the children in the back seat.

Oh, women have their faults, I agree. We know that our sex is sometimes TOO conservative: we poke around too much at intersections, and occasionally dent a fender because we're not bold enough to forge ahead when we should.

FROM A SMALL WOUND

Tetanus, more commonly called lockjaw, is a disease that can cause intense agony and often death. It is caused by the entry of the tetanus germ into a wound, often quite a small lesion. Tetanus germs are most common in ground where farm animals have grazed. It is possible to protect children against this disease by immunization, which is usually given at the same time as inoculations against whooping cough and diphtheria.

Dow, Reigning Champs Start Against FBI; Wesolowski To Hurl

Even though last year's season rates as the most successful ever enjoyed by the Snowdon Major Fastball League, it seems a sure bet that the campaign opening this Sunday at Trenholme park will be better.

The five team circuit moves into competition with one of the best balanced setups ever, thanks to a switch in one sponsor and strengthening of another.

Last year's most valuable player and most effective pitcher trophies winner Gibby Wesolowski, of FBI Tomato Kings, will toss in the opener at Trenholme at 2 p.m. The defending pennant winners will play Dow, the team that copped the Snowdon championship from FBI in a thrilling seven game playoff.

Manager Stan Kalinauskas has not as yet decided between Gilles Legare and Huey Hall for the starting job. Legare seems likely to get the chore because of his outstanding work last campaign against the Kings.

Steinberg's and St. Augustine's will clash in the evening, at Trenholme at 6.45 p.m. Official opening doubleheader at Van Horne was cancelled because of poor grounds.

Dominion Provisioners, who replace Columbus in the league, will make their debut Tuesday against FBI. Monday and Tuesday games will be at Trenholme with a 7:30 starting time.

The Freezers, with an import pitcher and first baseman, and revamped lineup, will provide far better competition than the Columbus team. St. Augustine's, rated as the league's other weak sister last season, have drawn the cream of the local hurling talent to boost their hopes.

Spring Stuff: Pat Patterson announces that his FBI charges will be on display tonight at Willibrord park against a representative Verdun League team. They'll be working out at Trenholme on Friday at 6.30 p.m. and Saturday at 3.30 p.m.

Snowdon Schedule

Games this week in the Snowdon Major Fastball League, with probable pitchers and last year's won-lost-draw records in brackets:

Sunday: FBI (Wesolowski 14-5-1) at Dow (Legare 7-4 or Hall 8-5), Trenholme, 2 p.m.; St. Augustine's (Graham 6-4-1) at Steinberg's (McCracken 11-5), Trenholme, 6:45 p.m.

Monday: Dow (Legare or Hall) at St. Augustine's (Goodman 7-0), Trenholme, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday: FBI (Holden 0-0) at Dominion (Grant 0-0), Trenholme, 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday: Dominion (Grant) at Steinberg's (Thomas 0-0), Van Horne, 7:30 p.m.

John Erdyli Takes Top Honors In Foil Tourney

John Erdyli of Westmount YMCA captured top honors in the Province of Quebec Foil Championship Tourney held over the weekend.

Runner-up to the winner was club-mate Dave Robins who picked up five victories to Erdyli's six in the keenly contested events. Eighteen hits were charged against Erdyli while Robins took 24.

The next three places were evenly matched and it was necessary to determine the positions by the number of hits against. Roland Asselin, Carl Schwende and Ed Brooke held down third, fourth and fifth spots.

A surprise entry in the tourney was Charlie Reese from the United States. An American representative in the last World Fencing Championships, Reese took sixth position.

Winner Erdyli, who came to Canada from Hungary four years ago, is highly rated as an international fencer. He took part in the world championships for Hungary in '34-'35-'36 and in 1934 was a member of the Hungarian Sabre team which took first place. The same year he ranked fourth in the world championships.

In 1948 he migrated to England and participated in the sabre for the prized "Corble Cup". He won this event which is highly regarded internationally on the continent.

Westm't Grounds Site Of Track And Field Meet

Athletes from more than 400 schools in Eastern Canada and from other areas have been invited to Montreal's annual Provincial and Dominion track and field meet June 2 at Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Age groups in four classes will compete for Quebec provincial titles and a fifth class for Canadian championships. The meet is again under sponsorship of the Greater Montreal Interscholastic Athletic association and any records established will be recognized by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Age limits for the first four classes are determined as of September 1, 1955 - boys under 14 as of that date being eligible for class one and on up to those under 17 for class four.

In class five, Canadian championship competition, boys must be under 20 the day of the meet. Entries close May 25.

The day-long event annually brings together several hundred school athletes, largely from Quebec and Ontario.

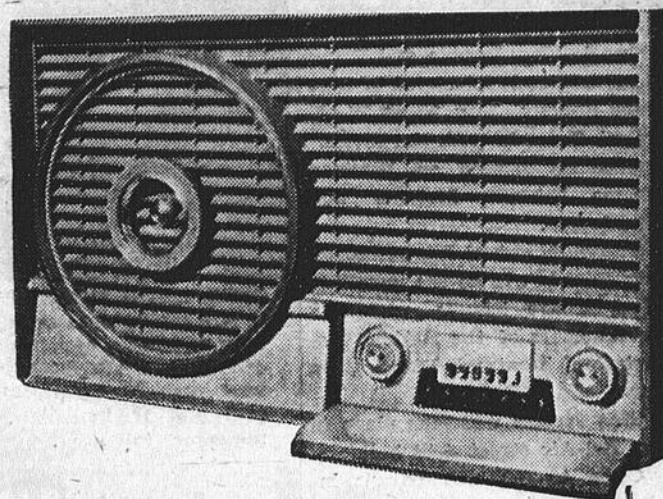

One advantage of using Douglas Fir plywood for interior walls on a new home is that it is dry when applied and painting or decorating can be carried out immediately.

were all well-known.

"The need for relief is limited at present," he remarked, "and in many cases it is being met directly by individual clubs. However, relief packages are being sent by the foundation to families of several former Rotarians in countries where clubs no longer function."

Much work was done at Evanston for the annual convention of the organization. Above all, Mr. Baptist stressed the attention paid to public relations, an activity in which every Rotarian could and should participate. It was for the benefit of the clubs and the communities they served, in the long run.

"The Fourth Object of Rotary," He concluded, "calls upon us to encourage and foster international understanding, good will and peace through a world of business and professional men practical application of this, we in the ideal of service. In the try to regard people of other countries as potential friends and with good will, tolerance and understanding."

A visit to Rotary's Evanston headquarters would bring this home to everybody.
