

FIGHTING IS CARRIED CLOSER TO SHANGHAI

General Conference On Disarmament Is Ultimate Goal

Much Time Will Be Required To Study Problem

League of Nations Assembly Not Only Proposes to Fashion a New Pact of Guarantees, But to Link It Up With Some Suitable Form of Compulsory Arbitration and Proceed Far Enough Along Road of General Agreement to Warrant Convocation of General Conference on Disarmament—Whether Germany Will Apply for Admission to League This Year Continues to Be a Topic of Eager Discussion at Geneva.

(Associated Press Despatch)
GENEVA, September 9.—Without causing any disheartenment or any weakening of the general faith at Geneva that something concrete and helpful will emerge from the present League of Nations assembly on the problems of arbitration, security and disarmament, the debate has gone far enough to indicate clearly to all the delegates the stupendous task confronting them.

Two years were required in building up the famous draft pact of mutual assistance, which sprang from the creative brain of Lord Robert Cecil, and in getting the views of the world governments on the draft. Now the assembly not only proposes to fashion a new pact of guarantees, but to link it up with some suitable form of compulsory arbitration and proceed far enough along the road of general agreement to warrant convocation of a general conference on disarmament.

LONGER TIME THAN FIRST ANTICIPATED TO BE REQUIRED

Hence the idea is beginning to grow that the delegates cannot hope quickly to construct some co-ordinative project, and that a much longer time than was at first anticipated will be required to bring order out of the complex problems before them.

General discussion on the report of the League Council was to be continued today at the assembly, and in the afternoon the first commission was to hold its first meeting to consider the question of revising the statute of the World Court of Justice, which provides for obligatory arbitration.

ENTRANCE OF GERMANY INTO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Whether Germany will apply for admission to the League this year continues to be a topic of eager discussion here.

South Africa made a plea for Great Britain and France to get together on this question and invite Germany to submit an application for membership. The desire that Germany enter the League as a necessary element in the discussion of disarmament is very general.

Did Not Allow Mishap to Interfere With Presence at Dinner and Dance Party.

(Associated Press Despatch)
SYOSSET, N.Y., Sept. 9.—The Prince of Wales suffered a slight injury to his right eye yesterday, when in the midst of a rough polo game a piece of dirt, hurled by the flying hoofs of a pony, lodged under the eye lid of the Royal athlete. The irritation caused him considerable pain for half an hour, until Dr. Medwin Beale, a Gloucester physician, who was immediately called, removed the dirt. The game was stopped at the end of the sixth period and the Prince drove to the James A. Burden house to await the physician. It was said that the injury was not likely to prove serious, and the Prince decided not to allow the mishap to interfere with his presence at the dinner and dance party last night at the home of Mrs. Ambrose Clark in Westbury.

BRITISH COLUMBIA NOT TO OPPOSE CROW'S NEST PASS FREIGHT RATE AGREEMENT

To Request Rates Be Extended to Allow British Columbia Shippers to Enter Competitive Districts on Equal Footing With East.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9.—British Columbia will not oppose the Crow's Nest Pass freight rate agreement and at the hearing of the Railway Commission in Montreal on September 17th, will ask that the rates be extended to allow shippers in this province to enter competitive districts on an equal footing with the East, S.G.G. McGee, K.C., counsel for the province, stated today.

By offering no opposition to the Crow's Nest Pass rates, British Columbia, it is believed, will retain the support of the Prairie provinces which are benefitting by reduced rates.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—The Duchess de Mouchy, intimate friend of Empress Eugenie and one of the last survivors of the famous Tuilleries court, is dead. She was a grand daughter of Napoleon's marshal, Murat.

HOLLAND, Mich., Sept. 9.—The steamship South American, one of the finest passenger boats on the Great Lakes, virtually was destroyed by a fire which broke out early this morning while the boat was in drydock for the winter here. The crew of sixteen negroes, which has been cleaning the boat since it came into dock here five days ago, escaped.

ENDS LIFE AS RESULT OF UNHAPPY LOVE AFFAIR

Archduke Eugene Refused to Break Engagement at Request of Countess Sechenyi.

(Associated Press Despatch)
GENEVA, Sept. 9.—Countess Gabriella Sechenyi shot herself to death as the result, it is stated, of an unhappy love affair with Archduke Eugene, commander of one of the Austrian armies on the Italian front in the world war.

After the armistice the archduke settled in Switzerland and became engaged to the wealthy middle-aged widow Burkhardt of Basel. The countess, who was infatuated with the sexagenarian Hapsburg, is alleged to have repeatedly tried to induce him to break the engagement, but he refused, and despairing of altering his decision, she committed suicide.

MAINE RETURNS REPUBLICANS FOR OFFICES

Ralph O. Brewster, of Portland, Elected Governor by Plurality of More Than 30,000.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 9.—Ralph O. Brewster, of Portland, Republican, a member of the State Senate, was elected governor of Maine yesterday by a plurality of more than 30,000 over William R. Pattangall, of Augusta, Democrat.

With returns received from 593 election precincts out of 633 in the State the vote stood: Brewster 136,648; Pattangall 103,273.

The missing precincts included the city of Eastport, which is normally Republican, one precinct of Portland and a member of towns which have too small a total vote to affect the result materially.

With the same precincts and one additional Portland precinct missing United States Senator Bert M. Fernald, Republican, received a revised vote of 188,639 to 91,618 for Fulton J. Redman, Democrat. The four Congressmen were re-elected by safe margins.

Pattangall, a former Attorney General of Maine, conducted his campaign against Brewster principally on the issue of the Ku Klux Klan. In the primaries Brewster was endorsed by the Klan for the Republican nomination, although he asserted that he was not a member of the Klan and never had sought its support.

Brewster spoke chiefly on State issues during his election campaign, making no mention of the Klan. Republican speakers of national prominence who came into the State in support of Brewster and Fernald and the four Republican Congressmen, however, laid their emphasis on national issues and joined the Republican State Committee in insisting that a vote for Brewster meant endorsement of President Coolidge. Brewster is a lawyer and has served for six years in the Legislature. Pattangall was the Democratic nominee for Governor in 1922 against Percival P. Baxter, Republican, and was defeated by a plurality of 28,457 in a total vote 60,000 less than that cast yesterday.

A feature of the vote for governor was the fact that in his home ward in Augusta, Pattangall received only 273 votes to 421 for Brewster. Of the twenty cities of the state Brewster carried all except Bangor, Biddeford, Hallowell, Lewiston, Oldtown and Waterville. Of the sixteen counties Brewster carried all except Androscoggin, which was also the only county carried by Redman for Senator.

DISCUSS NOTE RE ADMISSION OF WAR GUILT

German Cabinet to Decide Whether Proclamation Retracting Germany's Admission of War Guilt Is to Be Sent to World Powers.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann will decide at a cabinet meeting next week whether the proclamation retracting Germany's admission of war guilt, contained in the Treaty of Versailles, shall be sent to the world powers and, if so, when the step shall be taken.

An official statement given out today announces that the Government attaches such importance to the question that Dr. Marx and Dr. Stresemann will interrupt their holidays in order to decide it at the cabinet meeting. The statement adds that the Government has received numerous suggestions, especially from economic quarters, regarding the form and time of the dispatch of the note.

The weather has been showery in Ontario and Quebec and fair in nearly all other parts of the Dominion. Frost has occurred again in some sections of Manitoba.

PLANETS HAVE DECREED THAT PRINCE OF WALES WILL MARRY DAUGHTER OF BUCCLEUCH—SO STILL YOUR FLUTTERING HEARTS, GIRLS!

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—You might as well know the worst, girls.

The prince may be for you, but the stars are against you. It might have been different had Venus been wandering somewhere between Oshkosh and Schenectady, U.S.A., on that particular night. But it so happens that when the doctor smiled at George Witten, otherwise known as King George, and said, "It's a boy!" the fickle planet that watches over romance was glowing softly down on a certain part of Scotland.

And that settles it! You may dance with the prince and catch a flirtatious note in his eye, but when the heir to Britain's throne slips the gold band ring on the wedding finger, the party of the second part will be a Scotch maiden—probably one of those pretty Buccleuch gals.

And this will happen about 1928—four long years—when the planets will be talking with a broad Scotch burr, but the prince will hear these sweet nothings despite the Harry Lauder accent and will tumble far worse than ever he did from a horse.

All this is prognosticated by Miss Belle Bart, director of the American Academy of Astrology, who has been watching the heavens closely in the interest of the glorified American girl who thinks she can cop off the visiting peer.

Miss Bart has charted the skies to read the future of the Prince of Wales. Some things, she says, may not be told because they have too personal and important a bearing.

But of major importance, both to the prince and to future history, is the prognostication that the Prince of Wales may ascend the throne of England in 1925.

Miss Bart does not predict the death of the present king, but says the prince will be plunged into some sort of trouble early next spring, and then will begin a turn of events that may enable him to assume the British throne if he so desires.

The exact horoscopic vernacular is this:

"Astrological indications do not hold hope for any American girl as consort for the Prince of Wales. His horoscope, due to the position of Venus, does not indicate marriage for four years. Since Venus, which is the planet of love, was in the sign governing Scotland at the time of his birth, the indications are that in 1925 he will marry a lady of Scotch origin.

Miss Belle Bart, prominent young astrologist, shown drawing up horoscopic chart of prince.

"A very interesting planetary position should make itself felt in the spring of 1925, when Mars, the planet of activity, will form an opposition to Saturn, planet of losses and depressions.

"The progressed moon also will be in conjunction with Mars, indicating a liability to physical danger; and in opposition to Saturn indicating probable difficulties through older men in the family. But the moon and Mars hold a friendly aspect to Jupiter in 1925 and thus place the prince in the position of accepting rulership.

"The planetary conditions indicate a decided change in the present English regime and the prince's horoscope indicates that he will come to the fore in political affairs of Europe provided he guards himself against the physical dangers Mars places in his path."

Britain And U.S. Exchange Notes Looking To Some Concerted Action By The Powers With View To Restoring Order In China

Move Likely to Take Form of Endeavoring to Induce the Central Government of China to Convene Leaders of All Factions at Round Table Conference at Which a Compromise Agreement Based on Federal or Federated System of Government Might Be Reached, Every Due Respect for Chinese Sovereignty Being Observed.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Sept. 9.—A preliminary exchange of views through diplomatic channels is in progress between London and Washington looking to some concerted action by the powers with a view to restoring peace and order in China, according to the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. While the initiative apparently was taken in America, it is understood the matter is to receive the immediate attention of Premier MacDonald and the Foreign Office.

The writer suggests any concerted pacific intervention by the powers is likely to take the form of endeavoring to induce the Central Government of China to convene the leaders of all factions at a round table conference at which a compromise agreement based on a federal or federated system of government might be reached, every due respect for Chinese sovereignty being observed.

(Associated Press Despatch)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—While the preliminary battles in China's civil war continued today with renewed intensity in the vicinity of the prize city of Shanghai, Chang Tso-Lin, war lord of Manchuria, and Wu Pei-Fu, military head of the Peking Government, entered their forces to meet in the main contest, a fight for control of the Central Government of China.

Out of a series of reports from the defending forces of Shanghai in the past twenty-four hours it was apparent that the fighting was being carried closer to the city by the invading forces.

Warned by firing west of here, at Nansing, twelve miles from the city, foreign governments landed 1,100 troops from twenty-two warships stationed in the harbor, at daybreak today, and were ready to defend the settlement should it come within the line of fire before nightfall.

Fighting was carried on today at three points on the one hundred-mile front west and south of Shanghai. While no decisive action took place, reinforcements were thrown into the fray by both sides.

The Wu Pei-Fu Central Government forces took a direct hand in the battle yesterday by sending troops from the Province of Honan, controlled by the Peking Government, into the conflict on the side of the invading forces.

In China proper the country has been swept by devastating floods and the military governors and the provinces are said to be without the natural resources to carry on a long struggle.

A self-styled anti-imperialistic league gave vent to the thoughts of radical interests, said to have been prompted by Moscow, with the publication of statements here attempting to give a foreign Imperialistic significance to the present conflict.

The league statements, characterized by the leading Chinese newspapers as a piece of Bolshevik propaganda, quoted a Moscow despatch charging the present conflict was a plot to divide China. Japan the despatch said, would dominate Manchuria, and Great Britain would hold sway in South China.

(Special to the Record.)
COOKSHIRE, Que., Sept. 9.—The Cookshire Fair, the annual exhibition of the Compton County Agricultural Society No. 1, opened today, and providing the weather is favorable for the big days, Wednesday and Thursday, the directors hope for a very successful three days' run.

All day today exhibitors were at work putting the finishing touches to their booths, and the livestock exhibits were being arranged in their stalls and pens throughout the day. WATERLOO FAIR OPENED TODAY

(Special to the Record.)
WATERLOO, Que., Sept. 9.—Cloudy and damp weather marked the opening of the Waterloo Fair today, and as a consequence many who had intended to visit the grounds today put off their trip until tomorrow. In spite of this, however, there was a very fair crowd during the day inside the gates. Exhibits were all in place by noon, and this afternoon everything was ready for the entertainment of the visitors to the grounds. A special programme of attractions has been arranged to take place during the two days, today and tomorrow, on which the fair will be held, and this is awaited with interest by many. Special music will be provided during both days of the fair.

The annual exhibition at Waterloo is held under the auspices of the Shefford County Agricultural and Horticultural Society, of which Mr. W. W. Phelps, is president. E. L. Maynes is the vice-president, and the secretary-treasurer is Mr. N. O. Rockwell. Mr. James Davidson is honorary president.

GRANBY FAIR CLOSED WITH PLAY

GRANBY, Que., Sept. 9.—The closing day of the Granby Fair was cold and showery in the morning, but towards noon the sun shone and a large crowd gathered at the Fair Grounds to witness the races and sports which had been discontinued on account of the rain on Friday.

The grand stand was packed with spectators to see the races which were excellent, also the athletic sports. In the latter the silver cup was won by Cedric Peasley. The silver cup, donated by the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the best poultry exhibit was won by Mr. W. H. Miner, who had a very fine exhibit.

Had the weather been a little more generous with his sunshine, this would have been a record fair, but the rain spoiled the second day. However, everyone seems satisfied that the fair this year, as far as the exhibits were concerned, was the best in history.

The closing feature of the fair took place on Saturday night when a five act drama, entitled "The Deacon," was given before a crowded house at the City Hall. The curtain rising reveals the villain, Mr. W. Gray, who has just robbed Mrs. Thornton of her diamonds. He throws suspicion upon her nephew, Mr. Edwin Bradford, but as the Deacon (Mr. E. Patterson) is coming, everything is hushed up for the time. The deacon arrives and is received by the villain and treated to lemonade with a stick in it, so that when Mrs. Thornton (Mrs. R. A. Butterworth) meets her guest he is in a hilarious condition. Pete, the alger, servant, (Mr. F. Stapleton) makes things lively every time he appeared upon the stage and in the fourth act when he impersonates first the deacon and then Miss Amelia (Mrs. E. Patterson).

FOR JOY OF GOOD HEALTH

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me in other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told over so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine, and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. J. H. KIDD, Box 55, Crandall, Manitoba.

You've heard a lot about the "Guardsman" necktie the prince of Wales wore while doing a Dan O'Leary around the decks of the ship. Well, that's what the handsome young nabob on the left is wearing. It's a tie made in America and named in honor of the Prince. It is a solid background with contrasting polka-dots as big as a horse's eye. Choose your own color combinations.

BELVIDERE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

The Belvidere Women's Institute members held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. J. Cilles, Lower Belvidere Road, on Wednesday last with the president, Mrs. Andrew Ellis, presiding.

Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, considerable business was transacted. It was decided to hold a social evening and dance on September 12th, at the home of Mrs. E. L. Price.

Following the business meeting, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Doris Cilles, Miss G. Fiskin and Miss E. Daker.

TEN MILLION CIGARETTES SEIZED

A few days ago the Customs officials at Brockville forwarded to Ottawa about ten million cigarettes of American manufacture, which had been seized at that point.

This large quantity was collected in the space of a little over two months.

Those best informed on the subject claim that there are from five hundred million to seven hundred million cigarettes smuggled from the United States into Canada annually, replacing an equal quantity of cigarettes of Canadian manufacture.

The seizure made at Brockville during the past two months would seem to indicate that this estimate is, if anything, below rather than above the mark.

Five hundred million cigarettes brought unlawfully into Canada represents a loss in tax to the Dominion Government of the huge sum of $3,655,000.

INCORPORATION OF CROSS-WHITMAN MOTORS

In the list of incorporations in the Quebec Gazette for the week ending September 6 is the Cross-Whitman Motors Limited, Sherbrooke automobile dealers. The incorporation is for a capital of $99,000 and is by provincial letters-patent.

The capitals of the seven companies in the week's list vary from $20,000 to $500,000.

GAMBLING LETTERS WILL NOT BE ALLOWED THROUGH THE MAIL

The postal authorities wish to remind the public that they will not allow gambling letters to go through the mails under any circumstances, and in this connection the following article appeared in the latest Post Office Bulletin:

"Letters in regard to drawings on horse races have been observed in the mails addressed to Tattersalls Colonial Club, London, England. "As lotteries are illegal in Canada, all correspondence addressed to Tattersalls Colonial Club, London, England, is to be returned to the senders marked "non-transmissible" and money orders are not to be made payable to this address."

RESIDENTS WILL NOT BE TROUBLED WITH LACK OF COAL THIS YEAR

Indications are that residents of Sherbrooke and vicinity will have no trouble this year in securing the required amount of coal for winter use. The Record was informed yesterday by Mr. Shaw, head of the coal department of J. S. Mitchell and Company, that there was no apparent shortage of coal, and he felt sure that citizens would be able to get all the coal they required. However, he advised people to put in an early order, stating that while this was not necessary, it was always advisable. Mr. Shaw also remarked that Scotch coal was quite popular with buyers this year and that so far a large quantity was on order.

JOINS MULLER AGENCY

William G. Colgate has joined the plan and production department at the head office of the R. Sykes Muller Co. Limited, at Montreal, where he will also act as account executive. Mr. Colgate has had a lengthy and diversified experience in advertising and merchandising work.

POST OFFICE SENDS OUT BLOTTERS

Following their well organized publicity campaign, the Post Office Department has recently sent out large numbers of blotters, upon which appear requests to the public to insure all parcels sent in the mails, and to make use of the various other services offered by the department.

MAN FLOURISHED REVOLVER

Theophilus Thomas, a resident of this city, appeared before Recorder Forest this morning on charges of having a revolver in his possession and being intoxicated. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 or spend twenty days behind the bars.

It appears that Thomas entered a restaurant in the city and started brandishing a revolver, thus causing considerable worry to the other patrons in the restaurant. It was discovered later, however, that the revolver was not loaded and was damaged beyond use. But before these facts were discovered no person cared to attempt to take the gun away from him and for a short time Thomas had things his own way.

THIEVES AGAIN START OPERATIONS IN CITY

Last night or early this morning Griffith's drug store was visited by thieves and a considerable amount of damage done. The thieves entered the store through a back door by unscrewing a wooden outer door, and then breaking the glass of the inner door. When once in the store they apparently felt that their time was their own, as they opened several boxes of chocolates and helped themselves to the contents of the boxes. Several articles were also taken from the shelves of the store, consisting of such articles as talcum powder, hair groom, chewing gum, chocolates, etc.

OLIVIER BUILDING THIEVES STILL AT LARGE

The thieves who entered Olivier's Building, King Street, on Sunday last are still at large.

Some time during Sunday last this building was visited by thieves who selected the second and third floors of the building in which to do their mischief. The offices of Nicol, Lazure and Couture, as well as Conway and Conway, and Notary and Doctor Bachand were visited, and at each place several small articles were taken.

It seems to be the general impression that these robberies have been carried out in many places by young boys and judging from the class of goods taken at both Griffith's store and Olivier's building, as well as in the other stores recently visited by thieves, it would seem quite natural that this was the case.

LADY HURT WHEN AUTO AND STREET CAR COLLIDE

Mrs. Victor Simard, of Lawrence, Mass., is in Hotel Dieu Hospital today suffering from a broken arm and other minor injuries received when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a street car at about ten o'clock this morning.

The accident occurred at the corner of Wellington Street South and Ball Street. The automobile came down the steep hill from Ball Street, and turned onto Wellington Street. Either the driver of the auto could not stop in time or else he thought he could swing around in front of the street car, which was coming along the street. The street car struck the automobile on one side, damaging it considerably, and injuring Mrs. Simard.

Jalbert's ambulance was called and Mrs. Simard was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital for treatment. Her injuries are not serious.

THOMAS KEELEY ADDRESSED THE KINSMEN CLUB

Club Met Last Evening for First Time Since Closing in July—Speaker Gave Sketch of the Gibbs Home.

The Sherbrooke Kinsmen Club met last evening at the New Sherbrooke House for its first dinner since the summer recess. There were a large number of members present. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Thomas Keeley, of the Gibbs Home, who gave an interesting sketch of the Gibbs Home and its parent society.

"Over forty years ago," said Mr. Keeley, Mr. E. de M. Rudolf, with very slight financial backing, embarked on the great adventure of providing homes for the orphan and semi-orphan children of members of the Church of England. This happened back in 1881 and though the subject of Child Welfare is familiar to all nowadays, at that period, when Mr. Rudolf set out almost alone, to secure funds and personal support from lovers of children, the obstacles to be overcome were well high insurmountable. Much of the success of the work in England was due to the ability of Mr. Rudolf to surround himself with men and women who took the deepest interest in matters pertaining to the child. Many of these gave a life service to the cause, and in some cases devoted part or the whole of their fortunes to the work. From the small beginning made in 1881 when a few earnest workers met together and decided to establish a central home for the reception of children, the preliminary expenses of which were not to exceed $150.00, the Society has increased every year in usefulness and value, so that today in over 100 homes there are about 5000 children being cared for throughout England and Wales. At a second meeting held in 1921, it was reported that $400.00 had been collected and that after paying all bills, there was a balance of $25.00 in hand. Today the sum of $400.00 would not go very far towards meeting the annual expenses of the Society, which must raise every year the sum of one million dollars, in order to meet current expenses. No organization of similar character carries a proportionately smaller overhead charge than the Church of England organization. This is due to the magnificent service rendered by voluntary workers, men, women and children throughout the British Isles. For every paid official, there are between ten and twenty voluntary workers, who devote part or all of their time without any cash payment for services rendered. It is amazing to find that the young people who are members of the Children's Union raise annually for the work of the Society, the sum of $100,000.00 which is one-tenth of the yearly budget.

"Whilst referring to voluntary workers, it is only fair that mention should be made of past and present citizens of Sherbrooke who have rendered efficient and unselfish service to the cause. Among the voluntary workers of former years, one remembers gratefully the names of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Heneker, Mrs. Hunt, Mr. Wm. Farwell, Mrs. Buck, the Archbishop of Algoma, Messrs. James F. Morrell, J. A. Wiggitt, W. H. Wiggitt, E. Hargreaves, and H. D. Lawrence, K. C. Among the living who have given many years of service to Mr. John P. Wells, K. C., who first as Secretary-Treasurer, and later as Chairman, has given generously of his time to the work for over 20 years. The quiet, tenacious and willing assistance rendered by those mentioned and also the present Home Committee is responsible in a large measure for the tra-

AUTO VICTIM PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

Alphonse Noel, of St. Ferdinand d'Halifax, Injured Last Thursday in Auto Accident, Died This Morning at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital.

After holding on to the last shreds of life for nearly five days, Alphonse Noel, of St. Ferdinand d'Halifax, died this morning at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital as a result of the injuries he received in the motor accident on the Quebec highway near St. Gerard last Thursday evening. Mr. Noel was riding in a car with his brother, Dr. L. O. Noel, and the latter's family, also of St. Ferdinand, when another automobile, passing them from behind, turned back into the centre of the road too suddenly and struck the front wheels of Dr. Noel's car, causing it to overturn into the ditch and injuring all five of the occupants. The injured people were all brought to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, and so far only one has recovered sufficiently to leave. Dr. Noel, Mrs. Noel and their daughter, Miss Collette Noel, however, are improving steadily.

The late Mr. Alphonse Noel was injured so seriously that from the time he was admitted to the hospital little hope was held out for his recovery. Nevertheless every effort was made to save his life, but without avail, and after five days of suffering he passed away this morning. The body will be taken to Lotbiniere today for burial.

PEERLESS CO. STOCK SOLD YESTERDAY

Stock in Trade Sold Yesterday at Public Auction by Bank of Montreal—Price Was $42,000.

A step forward towards the settlement of the affairs of the Canadian Peerless Jewelry Company, in liquidation, was made yesterday when the stock of the company was sold at public auction by the Bank of Montreal, by whom it was held. The stock included all the goods and merchandise of the company, as well as the stock in process of manufacture. Mr. W. L. Carter, of Providence, R.I., was the successful bidder, securing the stock at a price of forty-two thousand dollars. Other bidders were Mr. Gertsco, of Providence, and Mr. S. J. Green, also of Providence, a former director of the Canadian Peerless Jewelry Company.

The buildings, machinery and equipment of the company still remain unsold and are held by the liquidators in the interests of the other creditors. It is thought that some definite steps with regard to them may be taken in the next two weeks.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

The stay of the Prince of Wales in the United States will be concluded on Sunday next and, no doubt with great relief, the Prince will leave for his Canadian ranch.

The reception extended to the heir to the British throne in the Republic has been most cordial and most enthusiastic. The craving of the people to see the popular Prince has resulted in much annoyance but it has, taken as a whole, demonstrated the interest and good will of the public.

It is announced that next February the Prince of Wales will start on a world tour which will include lengthy visits to South Africa and other countries.

His Royal Highness has been referred to as the Empire's greatest ambassador and there can be no doubt that he has done much to enhance the popularity of the British crown.

WANTED—A NATIONAL ANTHEM.

Ireland is looking for a National Anthem. Many countries have sought National Anthems in the past and the task has not been an easy one as the London Daily News points out when it says: "If Ireland is able to get a good National Anthem written to order she will be more fortunate than most countries. It may almost be said of national anthems that they are not designed; they happen. The only one in Europe written with intention by a poet of distinction is the Norwegian National Anthem, which is the work of Bjornson. The old Portuguese National Anthem is unique in that it was written by a monarch, the Emperor Dom Pedro of Brazil. It was threatened with competition during the War, when the Kaiser and Dr. Richard Strauss were said to be collaborating in an effort worthy of the occasion; but nothing came of it—perhaps owing to the librettist's pressing engagement elsewhere. There is something to be said for the plan on which the Tsar's National Anthem was devised. Lvoff wrote the tune, and someone was told off to set words to it."

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK.

Six years ago the Great War ended, but it is only now that the dawn of a permanent European settlement appears. The hopes centered in the so called Dawes plan may not be realized, but there seems at least a fair chance that international business will soon pursue its normal course.

And now, new efforts are to be made to banish war, to make impossible the recurrence of the horrors of a great European conflict. "All who look back with horror upon events of the past eight years, those who have sincere longing for a more peaceful and better world, will have braver hearts because of what took place last week at Geneva," remarks the Ottawa Journal.

"For it is impossible to read the great and moving speeches of the Prime Ministers of England and France without consciousness that a mighty movement surges through Europe which, though it may never succeed in banishing war and trouble and strife, yet cannot but make such things more improbable and remote. Skeptics may brand Ramsay MacDonald as a cloudy idealist, yet when his powerful and sincere appeal for peace and arbitration and the admission of Germany to the League calls forth from M. Herriot the ringing declaration that France's watchwords are 'arbitration, security and disarmament,' and that she does not and never did desire the misery of the German people—when the two mightiest forces in civilization unite in such high purpose, and their unity is thunderously acclaimed by the representatives of 54 nations, then, surely, when cynicism and pessimism have said their worst it still stands true that the march is to the heights. 'Britain,' declares Ramsay MacDonald, 'will always stand committed to share in moves of peace.' 'I bring to you the word of France,' replies Herriot, 'and that word is peace.' 'We cannot sit endlessly with a vacant chair in our midst,' says MacDonald, 'Germany should be here.' 'We never desired the misery of the German people,' answered Herriot, 'France does not live on hate.' It may take a long time, it may take many years, to consummate these hopes. The ideas that men have formed over centuries, the fears that thousands of years of racial jealousies and ambitions have fostered, the whole fabric of international policy, and organization which the doctrine of force has reared up—these cannot be obliterated in a day. Yet the lesson of the Great War, the lesson of its anguish, its terrible futility, its unspeakable senselessness, have cut deeply, and one can now clearly perceive that a universal longing for something new, something better, something more secure, has set in. The next few years may mark a great milestone in the advance of human progress.

"One finds it hard to forget the terrible crime of Germany. It taxes human nature to forget the deeds which brought Louvain to ashes, sunk the Lusitania and martyred Edith Cavell. Yet the world, as M. Herriot so eloquently says, cannot live on hate, and forgiveness, the mightiest doctrine of the Man of Galilee, is, after all, the greatest virtue of mankind. Germany, too, unquestionably, would bring strength and new life to the League."

PRESS COMMENT

LABOR IN OFFICE.

(Christian Science Monitor)
Labor is faced with difficulties within its own ranks. A large section which is primarily interested in the reform of the capitalist system is getting very tired of the policy of tranquility. It has been prepared to swallow it for a time in order to destroy the legend that Labor was unfit to govern. But it is now clamoring for a first instalment of the Socialist faith that is in the Labor Party. The leaders, however, now that they have had some experience of office, are very doubtful of what that first instalment is to be.

Perhaps the greatest strength of the Labor party is the paralysis of its opponents. As Mr. Ramsay MacDonald has dropped Socialism and has taken over their programme, they find it difficult to attack him. The general political position, indeed, is very unreal, and none of the parties are happy within themselves. The truth is that the three-party system is unpopular with everybody, but the means of getting rid of it are not yet clear. The Labor leaders certainly mean to stay in office as long as they can, and they will probably do so until some crisis, unforeseeable today, forces a realignment of political parties on new lines.

(Mantoba Free Press)
Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's son, a young Oxonian, who is coming out to this country on the debating tour fathered by the famous Oxford Union, expects to go in for politics. Meanwhile he will learn what he can in an empirical fashion on an imperial tour among universities within the Empire, and also outside the British possessions. He will observe as well as debate. With two ex-presidents of the Oxford Union, he will cross Canada to New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon and Southern India. They will stop at Honolulu in the Pacific, "a debating centre." He means to take in various places not on the card for debates: "Naturally I shall go out of my way a little to see places of interest. For example, Fiji will be visited, though no debate has been fixed there—perhaps, we might suggest one on the advantages and disadvantages of cannibalism." But it must be a long, long time since "long pig," as they named human flesh, was a luxury at Fijian dinners. An uncle of mine was killed by a Fijian; and he was not a missionary, either, merely a trader. I believe they are mostly Christianized since that day. Mr. MacDonald is a Socialist, and his two travelling companions are Liberals. "While on dry land," they will be debating two or three times a week. I suppose they will be here in the autumn.

Mr. MacDonald has picked out his constituency for the Commons. "It will be a stiff fight," he says. "In the meantime I would like to study every phase of life, and I think that can best be done as a reporter. It is a job which takes you into the highways and byways of life, and the fact that you probably get plenty of kicks in the course of your experience is, perhaps, all the better."

"The aim would be to work that one day I might be sent to a murder trial, the next to a dock strike, and follow that up possibly by some interviewing."

"BRITONS THE BEST HUSBANDS."

(Brooklyn Eagle)
"American wives are adaptable. They are not narrow-minded. I admire them. But English husbands are the best. They don't nag. They treat their wives as companions and not as American husbands treat theirs, as dolls, spoiling them with presents, furs and jewelry." Such is the opinion of the author of "The Romantic Woman" and "The Tortoise," promptly interviewed on her arrival in New York.

Mary Borden, so far as we know, has never had an American husband, so her point of view cannot take in both sides. She was born in Chicago, but is the wife of General E. L. Spears, M.P. We must assume that she is happily married.

Primogeniture explains many things. An English family has a head, and if the head has a heart, things go smoothly. Girls wait on their brothers instead of expecting their brothers to wait on them. As the male succession is established, this is the logical thing. It is conceivable that the youngest brother may become the family's head and in a measure control the destinies of his sisters. Not all English families have rent rolls, but those that do give the tone to all society.

The effect of this on male psychology is undeniable. The men expect their wives to be what their sisters were. They look for little attentions. In return they welcome their wives to participation in their own interests. As the novelist says: "The English women do everything the men do so they do not have so much time for bridge and clothes. Consequently they are not as good dressers as American women." But is the husband's taste that determines what both husband and wife are to do.

Commonly we fear there is truth in the cynical observation that the English wife of an American is happy in being petted and the American wife of an Englishman is unhappy in not being petted.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

As the Spaniard checked in anger and surprise, he caught in the dusk

the livid gleam of that sword which

Mr. Blood had quickly unsheathed.

"Ah, perro ingles!" he shouted, and flung forward to his death.

"It's hoping I am ye're in a fit state to meet your Maker," said Mr.

Blood, and ran him through the body. He did the thing skillfully:

with the combined skill of sword-man and surgeon. The man sank in a hideous heap without so much as a groan.

Mr. Blood swung to the girl, who leaned panting and sobbing against a wall. He caught her by the wrist.

"Come!" he said.

But she hung back, resisting him

by her weight. "Who are you?"

she demanded wildly.

"Will ye wait to see my credentials?" he snapped. Steps were clat-tering towards them from beyond the corner round which she had fled from the Spanish ruffian. "Come,"

he urged again. And this time, reassured perhaps by his clear English speech, she went without further questions.

They sped down an alley and then up another, by great good fortune meeting no one, for already they were on the outskirts of the town.

They won out of it and white-faced, physically sick, Mr. Blood dragged her almost at a run up the hill towards Colonel Bishop's house. He told her briefly who and what he was, and thereafter there was no conversation between them until they reached the big white house. It was all in darkness, which at least was reassuring. If the Spaniards had reached it, there would be lights.

He knocked, but had to knock again and yet again before he was answered. Then it was by a voice from a window above.

"Who is there?" The voice was Miss Bishop's, a little tremulous, but unmistakably her own.

Mr. Blood almost fainted in relief.

He had been imagining the unimaginable. He had pictured her in that hell out of which he had just come. He had conceived that she might have followed her uncle into Bridgetown, or committed some other imprudence, and he turned cold from head to foot at the mere thought of what might have happened to her.

"It is I—Peter Blood," he gasped.

"What do you want?"

It is doubtful whether she would have come down to open. For at such a time as this it was no more than likely that the wretched plantation slaves might be in revolt and prove as great a danger as the Spaniards.

But at the sound of her voice, the girl Mr. Blood had rescued peered up through the gloom.

"Arabella!" she called. "It is I,

Mary Traill."

"Mary!" The voice ceased above on that exclamation, the head was withdrawn. After a brief pause the door opened wide. Beyond it in the wide hall stood Miss Arabella, a slim, virginal figure in white, mysteriously revealed in the gleam of a single candle which she carried.

Mr. Blood strode in followed by his distraught companion, who, falling upon Arabella's slender bosom, surrendered herself to a passion of tears. But he wasted no time.

"Whom have you here with you?

What servants?" he demanded sharply.

The only male was James, an old negro groom.

"The very man," said Blood. "Bid him get out horses. Then away with you to Speightstown or even farther north, where you will be safe. Here you are in danger—in dreadful danger."

"But I thought the fighting was over...." she was beginning, pale and startled.

"So it is. But the devil's only beginning. Miss Traill will tell you as you go. In God's name, madam, take my word for it, and do as I bid

you."

"He... he saved me," sobbed Miss

Traill.

"Saved you?" Miss Bishop was aghast. "Saved you from what,

Mary?"

"Let that wait!" snapped Mr. Blood almost angrily. "You've all the night for chattering when you're out of this, and away beyond their reach.

Will you please call James, and do

as I say—and at once!"

"You are very peremptory...."

"Oh, my God! I am peremptory!

Speak, Miss Traill, tell me whether

I've cause to be peremptory."

"Yes, yes," the girl cried, shudder-

ing. "Do as he says—Oh, for pity's sake, Arabella."

Miss Bishop went off, leaving Mr.

Blood and Miss Traill alone again.

"I... I shall never forget what you did, sir," said she, through her diminishing tears. She was a slight wisp of a girl, a child, no more.

"I've done better things in my time. That's why I'm here," said Mr.

Blood, whose mood seemed to be snappy.

She didn't pretend to understand him, and she didn't make the attempt.

"Did you... did you kill him?"

she asked, fearfully.

He stared at her in the flickering candlelight. "I hope so. It is very probable, and it doesn't matter at all," he said. "What matters is that this fellow James should fetch the horses." And he was stamping off to accelerate these preparations for departure, when her voice arrested him.

"Don't leave me! Don't leave me here alone!" she cried in terror.

He paused. He turned and came slowly back. Standing above her he smiled upon her.

"There, there! You've no cause for alarm. It's all over now. You'll be away soon—away to Speighttown, where you'll be quite safe."

The horses came at last—four of them, for in addition to James who was to act as her guide, Miss Bishop had her woman, who was not to be the wine and the fresh meats fetched out to them from shore. Above, two sentinels only kept vigil, at stem and stern. Nor were they as vigilant as they should have been, or else they must have observed the two wherries that under cover of the darkness came gliding from the wharf, with well-greased rowlocks, to bring up in silence under the great ship's quarter.

From the gallery aft still hung the ladder by which Don Diego had descended to the boat that had taken him ashore. The sentry on guard in the stern, coming presently round this gallery, was suddenly confronted by the black shadow of a man standing before him at the head of the ladder.

"Who's there?" he asked, but without alarm, supposing it one of his fellows.

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. GEORGE BOOTH, MONTREAL.

REAL

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—At half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon the funeral took place from her late residence, 1049 Cadieux Street, of Mrs. George Booth, who died on Friday after an illness of several months. Rev. Dr. E. I. Hart officiated, and interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Mrs. Booth, formerly Susie Berryman, was a daughter of the late Josiah Berryman, of Coaticook, Que., and is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. J. H. Williams, of this city. Mrs. Booth was for many years an active member of the Sherbrooke Street Methodist Ladies' Aid. For years she had entertained largely at her summer home at Sixteen Island Lake, of which municipality Mr. Booth is mayor, and had a wide circle of friends who have heard with great regret of her demise.

DR. EDWARD JOHN MOUNTAIN, M.D., NEW YORK.

DANVILLE, Que. Sept. 9.—Funeral services for the late Dr. Edward John Mountain, who entered into rest at his home in New York City on September 1st, 1924, were held in New York on Wednesday afternoon, September 3rd, and at the Methodist Church, Danville, Que., on Thursday at 2 p.m., with burial in Union Cemetery. Rev. E. C. James, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. E. G. Warren, of the Federated Church.

Dr. Mountain was born on his father's farm, near the Pinnacle, April 9th, 1866, and was the youngest son of the late James and Eliza Bradley Mountain, early settlers in this district. He obtained his early education at the Mountain school near the old farm, and when still quite young went to Tilton Seminary, Tilton, N.H., to study for the ministry. After completing the preparatory course there he took up medicine at the University of Vermont from which he graduated in 1898.

For the past twenty-five years Dr. Mountain has practiced in New York City, specializing in orthopaedic surgery. He was for eleven years instructor in this important work at the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, lecturing and operating before large classes of doctors from other medical schools all over the continent.

For some time he has been a member of the staff of the Polyclinic and St. Mark's Hospitals, New York, and had a private office in the Professional Building, 30 East 41st street.

Dr. Mountain was eminently successful as a surgeon. His life was devoted to the service of suffering and crippled humanity, and many a person crippled from childhood has been restored to health and vigor at his skillful hands. He did not follow the beaten path of surgery, but through his natural genius and ability was enabled to blaze new trails for the enlightenment of the medical world. He has originated many new and unique operations, and has invented several instruments and appliances for correcting curvature of the spine, hip joint disease, club feet and other deformities. Much of his work has been among poor people, and much of it has been done purely from a humanitarian standpoint, without thought of recompense or self-aggrandizement.

Dr. Mountain was for some time associated with Dr. Adolf Lorenz, the famous Austrian surgeon, whose name is known all over the civilized world; but Dr. Mountain himself shunned publicity, and rarely wrote up his achievements even for the medical profession. However, his teachings will live in the deeds of innumerable younger surgeons who have been privileged to study under him.

Always a man of noble character, of great kindness and generosity, Dr. Mountain endeared himself to his fellow-practitioners, and his friends alike. Everywhere one hears the same high tributes to his unending kindness and great kind-heartedness.

The people of this community are very proud of the achievements of this great man who was born and reared among them, and all feel the deepest sympathy for his daughter, Beatrice, and the other near relatives and friends who survive him.

These include his three sisters, Mrs. J. E. Findlay, Mrs. R. M. Findlay, and Mrs. A. J. Haddock, of Danville; his brother, William Thomas Mountain, of Amesbury, Mass.; his nephew, Edwin H. Findlay, who has been very near and dear to him for many years in New York; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Betts, of New York, who have long filled the place of a brother and sister in his heart and home.

GEORGE FLEMING, MELBOURNE MELBOURNE, Sept. 9.—The community was shocked on hearing of the sudden death of Mr. George Fleming, which took place at his home on Friday evening, August 2

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—There were 49 cattle, 413 sheep and lambs, 1,501 hogs and 189 calves for sale on the two markets this morning and a few cars to arrive during the day.

There was no apparent improvement in the demand for cattle. Suckling calves were sold mostly around $7.50 to $8. There was a keen enquiry for good veal calves, but very few were offered and only an odd one or so was sold for $9.

A couple of car lots of quite common lambs were sold for $8. Good lambs were quoted at $10 to $10.25. Sheep mostly $5.

The hog market was very unsettled. Packers were offering $9.50 for mixed lots, and $10.25 was the price for select. A number of lots are still to be delivered under contract at $9.75 to $10.

Spanish River issues were firmer. The common registered an advance of 1 1/2 points to 109 1/2, while the preferred sold up 1/4 to 118 1/4.

son) who is in love with the former, he was greeted with roars and laughter and much applause. Mrs. Edwin Bradford and her little daughter, Marjorie, at the villan's real wife and child, did their parts well, and Mrs. C. Payne made an excellent house maid and did her best to keep the incorrigible "Pete" in order. In the last act the marriage between the villan and Mrs. Thornton's daughter (Miss Annie Payers) is interrupted by the nephew, Mr. E. Bradford, who has recovered the diamonds and returns them to the rightful owner. Mr. Raymond Wiggins made a good parson and although he lost the job of the first marriage, the deacon and Amelia decide there is no time like the present, so the curtain drops upon the second wedding scene. Mr. Hickmott, as the policeman, and Mr. Jas. Parker, as the deacon's boy, both took their parts well, as did all the other members of the cast, thus giving an evening of clean amusement to all who attended. An orchestra of eight pieces, under the leadership of Mr. Casavant, the bandmaster, played spirited, lively music between the acts and ice cream cones were also sold to those desiring them. The financial returns were most satisfactory.

ROBINS ONLY HALF A CONTEST BEHIND GIANTS

Brooklyn Took New Yorkers into Camp Yesterday—Both American League Leaders Won.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Robins nested on the pennant flagpole and twirled from the rafters of the grounds today while John McGraw sat in his dugout and sprouted upon the visitation.

The Robins yesterday won 7 to 2 and today begin their final effort for the pennant on the home lot, only half a game behind the Giants and with a one and one-half contest lead over the Pirates, who, with all other National League clubs, were idle yesterday.

The Yankees, fighting grimly to recover the two-game lead enjoyed by Washington, won at Boston 2 to 0.

Washington retained its advantage, however, with Walter Johnson working easily behind an early lead for an 8 to 4 verdict over the Athletics.

INQUEST INTO DROWNING AT LAKE MEGANTIC

Verdict of Accidental Death Was Returned — P. Benoit Gives Details of Fatal Accident.

(Special to the Record)
LAKE MEGANTIC, QUE., Sept. 9.—"Accidental death" was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury at the inquest held in the Town Hall, on Saturday, into the deaths by drowning of Miss Sophia St. Pierre, of Paquetville, N.B., and Miss Rose Berubeau, of Sherbrooke.

Dr. Gauthier, of St. Samuel, presided at the inquest and the jurors were Messrs. Eusebe Huard (foreman), Albert Bileau, Ernest Michaud, Leon Leblanc and Cyrille Fortier.

The two girls had gone out boating with Mr. Phydime Benoit, of Sherbrooke, in a flat-bottomed row-boat. Mr. Benoit stated that when near Sandy Bay a large wave struck the side of the boat, sending considerable water into it, and that in the effort to avoid the water one of the girls hastily moved over to the other side with the second girl, overbalancing the boat and tipping them all out. While he endeavored to aid the girls, he was not a good swimmer, and the high waves carried them out of his reach.

Funeral services were held in St. Agnes Church on Monday morning, and both bodies were interred in the Ness Hill cemetery.

A NEWS BUDGET OF WATERLOO AND DISTRICT

Fine Concert Programme Presented—All Is Ready for the Annual County Fair.

WATERLOO, Sept. 9.—On Tuesday evening, September 2nd, one of the greatest musical treats ever enjoyed by the music lovers of Waterloo was given in the Town Hall, under the auspices of the young men of the Methodist Church, when the De Moss family, of Oregon, gave one of their world famous entertainments, consisting of orchestra numbers, in which one son played the violin, the other son the flute, Mr. De Moss the father, cello and Mrs. De Moss, bass violin, accompanied by Miss Hoover, who was not only a pianist of rare musical ability, but was also an elocutionist possessing a charming voice and personality which captivated her audience.

Seldom is such an opportunity offered of a town of this size to hear artists of such outstanding qualifications. The violin and flute were played with equal skill and perfection and beautiful tone pictures were rendered by both artists. Mr. and Mrs. De Moss charmed everyone with the beautiful melodies played on the bells, and the sleigh bells performance by one of the young men was a marvelous musical feat. In conclusion Mr. De Moss, Senior, gave two selections which thrilled all listeners as he played two guitars at once and in the concluding of the most excellent programme he cleverly led the orchestra by playing on two cornets at the same time. The thanks of the citizens are due the ones who arranged to have this high class educative entertainment given.
