

THE AMERICAN PEACE DELEGATES POSTPONE THEIR DEPARTURE— PROTOCOL IS NOT YET SIGNED

It is Pointed Out that if the Peace Treaty is Not Ratified, the Situation Between Germany and the United States, as Well as Other Allied and Associated Powers, Goes Back to the Status Created by the Armistice—Change in Plans of American Delegation Due to Failure of Germans to Sign Protocol.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Dec. 2.—The American delegation to the Peace Conference, which was to have sailed for home on December 2, has postponed its departure, it was learned this afternoon.

A considerable part of the personnel of the Peace Mission, however, will leave Paris for Brest on the evening of December 5, as previously arranged.

It is learned from a high authority that the change in the plans of the delegation are due to the failure of the Germans to sign the protocol ratifying the peace treaty. It is pointed out that if the treaty is not ratified, the situation between Germany and the United States, as well as the other Allied and Associated Powers, goes back to the status created by the armistice.

CROWDS SHOUTED "LONG LIVE CAPT. D'ANNUNZIO"

(Associated Press Despatch)

ROME, Dec. 2.—For hours after the opening of Parliament yesterday, the streets of Rome were thronged with crowds demonstrating against the Bolsheviks. There were shouts of "Down with Lenin," "Down with the Russian Soviet," "Long Live D'Annunzio" and "Long Live the King." Many controversies were started with Socialist orators, two Socialist deputies, Signors Muraro and Paoletti, being roughly handled by anti-Socialist crowds, which forced them to shout "Long Live the King." Both were rescued by the police before they had been seriously injured. A good impression was made by the speech from the throne, the Vatican being especially pleased with the passage that "peace must be the same for the victors as the vanquished."

ANOTHER STEEL MAGNATE HAS PASSED AWAY

Henry Clay Frick Died This Morning—Was Worth More Than $100,000,000.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Henry Clay Frick, millionaire steel manufacturer, died here this morning. Mr. Frick suffered an attack of pneumonia poisoning early in November. He had nearly recovered from this when serious complications developed. He was sixty-nine years old. The career of Henry Frick has formed one of the most fascinating chapters in the romance of industry in the United States. A boy on a farm in a family of only ordinary means, he was, at sixty, a man of so many millions that his fortune, like those of Carnegie and Rockefeller, was largely a matter of guess work even to himself. It has been said he was worth more than $100,000,000, perhaps as much as $200,000,000. Mr. Frick built up the greatest coke business in the world and acquired such vast interests in steel that he was also one of the principal magnates in that industry, and in rounding out his career he became known as one of the world's greatest collectors of master paintings.

DEATH SENTENCE HAS BEEN COMMUTED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Papers Signed by Governor Clements Following Report Made by Specialists.

(Associated Press Despatch)

WINDSOR, VT., Dec. 2.—Governor Clements visited the state prison last night and signed the papers commuting to life imprisonment the death sentence of Berte E. Kelsey, for murder. Kelsey's execution had been set for this week. Kelsey was convicted of murder of James A. Allen, an aged resident of Coventry, who was beaten to death with an iron club on December 4, 1918. The case was appealed and the conviction was sustained by the State Supreme Court. Subsequently Governor Clement appointed a committee of three specialists to examine Kelsey and they reported to him on November 22, that they had found the man's mental capacity of such a low order that the extreme penalty of the law for his crime would be unjustifiable.

INCREASES GRANTED THE MONTREAL FIREMEN ARE NOW MADE PUBLIC

Firemen are Offered the Same Increases as the Policemen Received.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Dec. 2.—The budget of 1920 contains the first official information as to the increase of wages offered to the officers and men of the Fire Department. The captains are to receive $2,940; twenty lieutenants are to get $1,740; eighty lieutenants are to get $1,500; the engineers are to get $1,500. The rates for the five classes of firemen are as follows: Fifth class, $1,080; fourth class, $1,176; third class, $1,272; second class, $1,368; first class, $1,464. The offer of the Administrative Commission to the firemen is the same as that they have offered to the policemen. The captains of both services have received the same offer of pay, but on the other hand, the fire lieutenants are offered less than the same officers of the police department, the offer to the latter being $1,860 a year.

CANADA'S NEXT GREAT NATIONAL ENTERPRISE

Development Work on St. Lawrence from Montreal to Morrisburg Cannot Be Completed for Less Than $300,000,000.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Dec. 2.—A despatch from Ottawa says: Canada's next great national enterprise is the development work on the St. Lawrence from Montreal to Morrisburg to make a waterway from tidewater to the head of the lakes and to provide an additional three million horse power.

The scheme is both international and interprovincial, and in addition to these complications, conflicts with enormous corporate power interests.

To arrive at an agreement with the United States will take considerable time; to satisfy the conflicting interests of Ontario and Quebec will be even more difficult, to eliminate private interests will require careful and tactful negotiations, and even when all this is accomplished the financial responsibility, already a burden, may deter the Federal Government from rapid development of this scheme.

The whole scheme cannot be completed for less than $300,000,000 and it may require double this amount.

PRINCE TELLS THE PEOPLE OF VISIT TO CANADA

Was Given a Most Enthusiastic Reception on His Return Home.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The Prince of Wales arrived in London yesterday afternoon in the midst of thick fog and heavy rain, but got a splendid welcome home, nevertheless.

Less favorable conditions could scarcely be imagined. All morning there had been a steady downpour of cold rain, and toward midday the fog threatened to turn into a "real London particular." Lights in stores and offices had to be turned on, and one could scarcely see across the street. Except for policemen marching to take up stations along the line of route there were few people out, and half an hour before the Prince arrived it looked as if he would have to drive through an apparently deserted city.

Suddenly there came a magical transformation. Almost on the stroke of 1 o'clock the fog lifted, a red glare in the southern sky showed that somewhere the sun was shining and though rain still continued pitilessly crowds poured out of stores and houses and side streets until there was, all things considered, a really remarkable concourse of people, and what they lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm. The ranks of the police were broken through and the crowds all along the route to Buckingham Palace closed up to the Prince's carriage and cheered him heartily.

The young heir to the British throne was evidently enjoying it all hugely. He was in an open carriage, wearing the uniform of an officer of the Welsh Guards. His face was ruddy from the breeze of the Atlantic and he looked the picture of buoyant health. As he drove along he smiled and saluted and saluted and smiled, with characteristic heartiness and frank enjoyment of it all.

The renown had reached Portsmouth half an hour late. Her progress had, of course, been reported by wireless, the invention of which would have been very welcome to Queen Victoria in 1860, when the Prince of Wales was on his way home from America, for the vessel in which the grandfather of the present Prince Edward was coming back to England was actually lost for a few days after meeting a sudden storm in the Pacific and the royal traveller's whereabouts were completely unknown. Finally two warships were sent to look for his vessel and when the Prince landed after a voyage of 26 days, he had been reduced to salt pork, and even that was almost exhausted.

"I've come back from my travels greatly impressed with the value of constant personal intercourse between this country and the new world across the Atlantic," the Prince told his Portsmouth audience, and he added recommendation to all who could, to visit Canada and the United States.

REPORT SINKING OF AN UNIDENTIFIED SCHOONER

Another Steamer Developed Engine Trouble and is in Need of Assistance.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 2.—A radio message intercepted at Cape Race and forwarded to the naval communication office here last night said that a steamer which had developed engine trouble was flying a distress flag and was in need of assistance in latitude 44.55 north, longitude 61.39 west. The name of the vessel was not given.

A message from a coast guard station at Portland told of the sinking of an unidentified schooner one mile southeast of Monhegan Island. There was no sign of the crew.

SOUTH WALES MINERS DECIDE TO WALK OUT

(Associated Press Despatch)

CARDIFF, Wales, Dec. 2.—At a coal miners' conference here today, it was decided not to take any action on a ballot by the miners favoring a strike in order to resist the payment of an income tax on incomes below two hundred and fifty pounds sterling annually, pending a national conference which will be asked to ballot for the whole country on the question.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN MASSACHUSETTS.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 2.—Twenty of the thirty-eight Massachusetts cities held municipal elections today. Close contests were expected in several cities where mayoralty campaigns had been waged. In others, voters were interested only in contests for the city council. In New Bedford, Mayor Charles S. Ashley, sought re-election for his twenty-first term.

Ruling Releasing Commander Responsible For The Sinking Of Hospital Ship Came As Bomb Shell To Admiralty Officers

Government Legal Department Holds that England Has No Right to Detain Captain Kaiserwetter, Commander of the German Submarine Which Sank the British Hospital Ship Glenart Castle, During the Life of the Armistice—Decision Has Neglected Much of Work Admiralty Has Done in Tracing the Perpetrators of the More Barbarous Submarine Warfare.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The story of the arrest, imprisonment and final release of Captain Kaiserwetter, commander of the German submarine which sank the British hospital ship Glenart Castle, discloses a wide difference of opinion between British Government departments as to what rights the Allied powers have to punish the perpetrator of wanton warfare.

The Government legal department held that England had no right to detain Kaiserwetter during the life of the armistice, while the Admiralty officials believed that they had the right to arrest such offenders any time and hold them for trial after peace was declared.

After the signing of the armistice, Kaiserwetter went to Spain, where he obtained passports for his return to Germany. He made the mistake, however, of landing at Falmouth, where he expected to board a vessel for the Baltic. Admiralty officers all along the route to the Tower of London. Every effort was exerted to keep secret the identity of the prisoner, but those interested in Kaiserwetter learned of his arrest and promptly appealed to the Government legal department, which found that England was not entitled to arrest him until peace had been declared. The examination was held in the greatest secrecy, and there was no announcement of the ruling.

This decision has negated much of the work the Admiralty has done in tracing the perpetrators of the more barbarous submarine warfare. In view of the great amount of secret work done on various cases of this kind, the Kaiserwetter ruling came as a bomb shell to Admiralty officers.

SEVEN VILLAGES DESTROYED BY AN EARTHQUAKE.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Dec. 2.—A serious earthquake occurred in Western Asia Minor on Thursday, seven villages in the districts of Sema and Balikesri being destroyed, according to advices received here from Constantinople. Many persons were killed and injured, it is said.

Soma and Balikesri are cities north of Smyrna and about thirty-five miles from the Mediterranean. Soma is situated near a coal field, while Balikesri, which is about thirty-five miles further north, stands in the center of a fertile plain.

HEAVY WIND WAS ACCOMPANIED BY BLINDING SNOW

Claim that Storm Was the Worst in the History of Lake Shipping.

(Associated Press Despatch)

TORONTO, Dec. 2.—Captain Davis, of the steamer Westmount, which arrived at Fort William yesterday morning, reported the blow on Superior yesterday as the worst since the November storm of 1913. He says the gale fell to 27.8 and the wind from the northeast reached a velocity of 80 miles. The great gale was accompanied by heavy snow, and the thermometer registered 20 degrees below zero. Frost and mist from the water made vision impossible beyond the boat's length. The storm was encountered six knots past Caribou Island on the up trip, and the Westmount took 12 hours to go through. Tons of ice formed on the decks, and when the ship arrived in Fort William this morning the sun glittered from her ice-coated sides and spars. Ice had formed clear to the top of her masts. The skipper reported the Siate Island light extinguished.

Apparently not a life and not a ship was lost in the storm which swept over the Great Lakes and Ontario Saturday night. Many vessels were still plying the lakes. Some anchored in shelter behind islands, while others made ports. Lake captains are unanimous in saying it was one of the roughest gales they ever experienced. Various sections of the province of Ontario reported today that the Saturday night storm had done considerable damage, but outside of Toronto there had not been any loss of life recorded.

THE COTTON MILL OPERATORS ARE GIVEN INCREASE

Strikes at Fall River and Bedford Have Been Called Off.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 2.—Cotton mill operatives who struck yesterday for a 25 per cent. increase in wages, returned to work today, having accepted a compromise offer of 12 1/2 per cent. increase made by the manufacturers. A threatened strike in New Bedford, where the operatives had made the same demand, was averted by the acceptance of a like offer.

The wage increases were arranged at conferences in both cities between representatives of the manufacturers and the textile councils. The new scale, which is retroactive to December 1st, applies to all operatives, whether union members or not, and will be effective for six months. The unions which made the demands are affiliated with the national amalgamation of the textile operatives. Mill firemen here, who voted yesterday to strike tomorrow for a minimum wage of $35 a week, were included in the new schedule.

MIRANDA WILL LIKELY SUCCEED PREMIER TOCA

Premier Toca Refuses to Give Reason for Resignation of Spanish Cabinet.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MADRID, Dec. 2.—Admiral Miranda, former Minister of Marine, will probably head the new Spanish cabinet, in succession to the Ministry of Premier Toca, which resigned yesterday, according to reports in circulation during the night.

When asked the reason for the resignation of the Government, Premier Toca refused to make any statement. He appeared optimistic, however, over the situation, declaring there was no ground for anxiety and that everything was proceeding smoothly. Other ministers gave expression to a similar view. Senator Burgos, the Minister of the Interior, told the newspapers that the Minister of War Govano, whose resignation seems to have precipitated the retirement of the cabinet, had withdrawn "because his conscience forbade him to do certain things" and his colleagues considered they must act in sympathy with him."

WILL CHANGE SIDINGS.

A report of the roads committee, read by Ald. Forest, granted the request of the street railway to change their sidings on Alexander and Melbourne streets, as requested at the last meeting, this was approved by the unanimous adoption of the report of the committee.

Ald. Edwards, chairman of the waterworks committee, reported a request for a new six-inch pipe by the Peerless Jewellery Company to connect with a main. It was moved and passed that the request be granted, and that the pipe be connected with the Galt street main, coming directly from the reservoir.

A request for reimbursement was received from the Sherbrooke Real Estate Company for the payment of $10,382.22 for establishing water on the Short property, known as Bellevue Heights. The committee recommended the payment of $9,841.31, and the referring of the matter to the finance committee.

For the health committee, Ald. Treault reported in regard to the meeting with the Housewives' League, when sanitation had been discussed. He said that the ladies had been told of the unsuccessful efforts to secure a health officer for the city, but that the committee wished to heartily thank them for their interest.

During the past month there had been eleven cases of contagious diseases—three of measles, three of scarletina, and one of diphtheria. There had been twenty-seven deaths reported, eight less than last month and fourteen less than for the corresponding month of last year.

CONTRIVERSY OVER BUILDING.

Among the letters received by the council was one from the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association in regard to the falling down of the wall erected near the Exhibition grounds. The wall, said the association secretary, had been erected in accordance with the instructions of the city, and had fallen because of the torrential rains of October 31. The matter was referred to the roads committee.

Something of a controversy arose over the request of A. C. Demers to erect a building on Ball street, next to the property of the Sherbrooke Cigar Company. The latter objected stating that they had wished to build just such a structure, and had been prevented from doing so. The erection of such a building would abnormally increase the company's fire insurance.

Ald. Edwards remarked that the building by-laws were more or less of a farce, and that everyone gets what they want. Ald. Fortier said that when a protest had been filed it might give trouble in the future. It was moved, however, by Ald. Brault that Mr. Demers be allowed to build under the approval of the building inspector, but that in three years he must put up a brick building.

REQUEST THAT DEATH SENTENCE BE COMMUTED

A Plea on Behalf of Murdoch Allan Was Heard By Hon. J. C. Doherty, Minister of Justice.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Dec. 2.—A plea on behalf of capital cases were heard by the Hon. J. C. Doherty, Minister of Justice, yesterday, when a deputation was introduced by Mr. Robert Eckerdike at the Government office. One of the cases was that of Murdoch Allan, who is one of the trio now under sentence of death for the St. Sulpice murder. A plea that this sentence be commuted was made by the Rev. R. Y. Oveing, who stated that the boy came of a respectable family and had been associated with his church, and that he had been led into bad company. It was urged that, in any case, his youth was good ground for not allowing the law to take its course.

Preparation for next year's budget were begun last night, when the same report instructed the city engineer to prepare a statement as to what was to be done during the coming year on sidewalks, sewers and so forth, and the approximate cost of the work, in order to enable the council to procure the money for it. In this he was asked to co-operate with the engineer of the gas and electricity department, who was similarly instructed in a later report read by Ald. Brault.

In regard to the old case of the Jencks Machine Company loan, the company offered to transfer to the city certain insurance policies as collateral on the remaining $50,000 of the loan. This was agreed to by the city, unless the company preferred to pay the balance now.

Will Change Sidings. A report of the roads committee, read by Ald. Forest, granted the request of the street railway to change their sidings on Alexander and Melbourne streets, as requested at the last meeting, this was approved by the unanimous adoption of the report of the committee.

Ald. Edwards, chairman of the waterworks committee, reported a request for a new six-inch pipe by the Peerless Jewellery Company to connect with a main. Applied After Shaving Dr. Chase's Ointment Keeps the Skin Soft and Smooth. Almost every man who shaves suffers, at one time or another, from irritation of the skin. In many cases this develops into a form of eczema and becomes very annoying and difficult to overcome. Some have the misfortune to contract barber's itch, which is similar to eczema. Because Dr. Chase's Ointment has conquered eczema it is the most effective treatment available for these skin troubles. But the best way, after all, is to avoid skin disease by keeping the skin in a soft, healthful condition, and this can best be done by applying Dr. Chase's Ointment after shaving. Had to Go to Bed Headaches So Bad

MILBURN LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple Ave., Amherst, N. S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after effects. Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Minister of the Interior of Belgium declared in the Chamber of Deputies recently that in concert with the British authorities, it has been judged desirable to keep the Cloth Market, Cathedral, and adjacent houses at Ypres in their present state. The Government had agreed to the request of Canada that the emplacement where Gen. Mercer fell should be allotted. It would be with a view to the erection of a museum on the spot. The ground would be appropriated, falling a friendly arrangement with the owner.

LADS BREAK IN AND CAUSE DAMAGE TO MOTOR CARS

Considerable Loss Inflicted on Autos Stored at Exhibition Grounds.

Considerable damage to motor cars stored in the Machine building at the Exhibition grounds, with the breaking of several headlights, auto tops and other parts of the machines, was inflicted on Sunday night by a party of young men who broke into the building, intent on doing mischief.

A window in the building was broken, and the lads apparently climbed in through this aperture. The broken auto tops were apparently the results of the lads having run across the cars, which were stored, wheel to wheel. Several headlights were smashed, but so far as is known, nothing was carried away. The machines are stored there by the Webster Motors, Ltd.

The police have been notified and are now at work on the case.

The members of the Young People's Society of the Church of the Advent diverted from their usual routine at the Monday evening meetings by having a "rag" social last evening.

Refreshments were in the form of "hot dogs," retailed at five cents each, with the addition of hot coffee, which proved very popular.

EXCELLENT LOCAL TALENT IN AMATEUR PRODUCTION.

The cast for "Sleeping Beauty," the musical production which is to be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at His Majesty's Theatre, looks like a roster of local music and dramatic talent so well known in amateur plays and concerts is each member.

The leading lady, Miss Dorothy Farwell, will be remembered for her work in "Cinderella" and "What Happened to Jones?" while Mr. J. C. Stewart, leading tenor, is well known, having appeared in numerous productions before going overseas. He appears in public for the first time since his return.

Miss Janet Dempster's work in "The Sorcerer" and "Trial by Jury" have made her well-known and appreciated, and her voice has never been better than at present. Mrs. William Leigh, who is also responsible for the direction, has been seen in numerous local productions, while Mr. J. G. Watson is one of the city's best known baritones. Miss Eve White has not been seen since "The Cabinet Minister," but has a role well suited to her elocutionary abilities, as has Miss Emma Miller, also an elocutionist. Miss Florence Bryant, Messrs. Hutchinson, Bleir, McCaleb, Leigh, Waite and Conway have all been seen in various productions, while Miss Muriel Parkes, who has the role of the fairy queen, will be recalled for her excellent dramatic work in "Cinders," and Mrs. Irwin Sawdon, who has the part of a wicked fairy, admirably adapted to her talents, will be remembered as "Alvina" in "Jones."

THE TINIEST STEAM ENGINE.

It Would Take 1,920 Like It to Weigh a Pound.

"Give me one pound of your smallest size in steam engines, please."

The storekeeper takes an engine and places it carefully on his counter. He takes another, and another, and another. Assuming that it requires ten seconds to place each engine in front of the customer, at the end of five hours and twenty minutes there will be a display of 1,920 engines on the counter and the order for "one pound" will be filled.

No such order has ever been given, but its possibility is suggested by the sight of "Tiny Tim," the smallest steam engine in the world. On a continent where the "biggest ever" is a frequent sight, to possess the smallest specimen in existence of anything is unique.

Toronto has many engineering plants capable of turning out gargantuan steam engines that register horsepower by the thousands, but to build an engine so minute that a microscope is necessary to examine it is an accomplishment altogether beyond the united capacities of these great engineering shops.

Such a feat has been achieved, however, by T. H. Robinson, a Toronto watchmaker, who has made a steam engine so small that it takes 1,920 to weigh one pound, or 3,840,000 to weigh into the shell of a twenty short cartridge and when placed alongside a house fly the latter appears like a prehistoric monster by comparison.

Mr. Robinson began his career as an engine builder with a model which, although measuring only one inch in height, assumes almost gigantic proportions when seen beside its much smaller successor. It is of the vertical type, with oscillating cylinder, and a five-ported piece provides it with ample standing room. Comparing this first model with ordinary watch work, Mr. Robinson decided it was too easy and he resolved to make an engine that should have the proud distinction of being the smallest in the world.

The result was "Tiny Tim," a perfect-working model steam engine built up of seventeen pieces. "Tiny Tim's" bed and stand are of gold. His shaft runs in hardened and ground steel bearings inserted in the gold bed. His fly wheel has a steel hub and arms and a gold rim. His stroke is 1-32 of an inch, and he can make 6,000 revolutions a minute. When in motion he makes a noise like the "ping" of a mosquito.

For practical purposes "Tiny" does not cut a great deal of ice. He balks at turning the churn or working the family washing machine, and he is useless for generating electric light. A careful estimate of "Tiny Tim's" horsepower has been made by Dr. C. A. Chant, of the Department of Physics in Toronto University. Dr. Chant calculated the speed by means of tuning forks and measured the horsepower as 1-498600 of one horsepower. The statistically affected may work this out in terms of sea-power.

Steam, of course, is not used in driving this microscopic engine, but compressed air is fed through the hollow gold base.

"When I began my first engine," said Mr. Robinson, "I thought it would be small enough, but before I had finished it a strange thing happened. It appeared to grow until when completed it seemed about twice the size I expected it would be.

"I decided to make a smaller one, something more worthy of a watchmaker's skill. 'Tiny Tim' was the result.

"Do you consider 'Tiny Tim' the absolute limit in small engines?" Mr. Robinson was asked.

"There must be some limit to the working size of an engine," was the reply. "It may be that limit has been reached in 'Tiny Tim'. I do not show it as the smallest I can make. I have tried this thing only twice, and you will notice a big drop in the relative sizes of the two engines. I believe I can make a smaller one, if I have to."

Man's work is from sun to sun, Woman's work in never done.

But in so advanced an age the reason for this old adage is ended. The man who toils "from sun to sun" is a rarity today. For modern man liberally invests in hour-saving devices to lighten his workday. The woman whose "work is never done" is, however, met frequently. Because, unlike the man, she lacks a day's shortening conveniences. The hours a woman drudges in the home. How long would a man have his day set back if he had the same duties to perform. How long would he do without a "Cadillac Vacuum Cleaner" that would get the work done by saving steps, and energy, and hours?

An ELECTRIC WASHER

SAVES SOMEBODY'S TIME —YOUR MONEY"

Many women, when they come to buy a washing machine, think only of the first cost of the article itself. They should rather think of the cost of the operator.

Whether or not you are the operator—somebody's time is worth money. Records show that the cost of the appliance is the small item; the cost of the operator is the big item.

Any appliance which helps to do a better, bigger day's work, day after day, year after year, pays for itself many times over.

The electric washer, for example, saves fully half the washing time. These hours saved are often sufficient for the ironing.

St. Faith's Guild entertained their friends at St. Peter's Church hall yesterday in old-time fashion, the occasion being one of great enjoyment. The hall looked more than usually attractive, the tables being adorned with bands of pink crepe paper, and in the centre of each a pink-shaded candle.

Mrs. H. Reginald Bigg presided at the tea table, which was adorned with white chrysanthemums. The guests were received by Mrs. W. C. Fuller, and the tea committee was composed of Miss Bennetts and Miss Gladys Hale, and the exceptionally delicious refreshments were served by Miss Lomas, Miss Bernice Fuller, Miss Hope Seiveright and Miss May Wiggett.

A very successful and enjoyable card party was given last evening in the Art Hall under the auspices of the Women's Library Committee, in aid of that institution, some sixteen tables being arranged. The prize winners for bridge were Mrs. R. A. E. Aitken and Mrs. Cross, Dr. J. C. McConnell and Dr. Bayne. The "500" prizes fell to Mrs. Bachelier and Mr. M. L. Hunting. Mrs. E. J. Page received the guests, and the prizes were announced by Mr. H. D. Lawrence, president of the Association. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening, Mrs. Parmelee being the convener. These entertainments, arranged by the committee from time to time, should certainly receive hearty and liberal support, the Sherbrooke Library being of the greatest educational value to the community.

Lieut.-Col. J. B. Donnelly, for several years inspector of the Merchants Bank and a resident of Sherbrooke, has been appointed manager of a new branch of the institution recently opened in Cornhill, London, England. Colonel Donnelly went overseas as captain, and became O.C. of the 60th Regiment.

The members of Court St. Francis No. 2, Canadian Order of Foresters, entertained the various subordinate courts of this district, and invited friends to an "at home" in their lodge rooms on Thursday evening.

It was arranged to have the high chief ranger, Bro. J. A. Brodeur, of Montreal, as the guest of the evening, but at the last moment telegram was received, stating that he was ill, and would not be present. Bro. W. Shaw, sr., acted as chairman, and Bro. J. Leonard, K.C., was the speaker of the evening, stepping into the gap left vacant by the high chief ranger, without notice, and spoke in his usual forcible and happy manner. Eulchre and "500" were played until 10 o'clock, when refreshments were served, after which dancing was indulged in.

It is the intention of the order to give a series of such social gatherings.

Have Pretty Teeth

Remove That Dirty Film

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Free A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent, to show you how to end film. See below.

Look in the Glass

Look at your teeth in the glass. Then brush them in this new way for ten days and look again.

There is a film on your teeth—a slimy film. It clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So it stays between the teeth and elsewhere and may do a ceaseless damage.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

Dental science, after years of searching, has found a way to combat it. Able authorities have proved it by many careful tests. Now the method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent, and leading dentists everywhere are urging its daily use.

A 10-Day Tube is now supplied to everyone who asks. Test it and see what it means to you.

A Week Will Tell

The results of Pepsodent will be a revelation. A week will show you that there is a way to whiter and safer teeth. For your sake and your children's sake, make this test and see.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

But pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed barred. Science has now overcome this trouble by discovering a harmless activating method. It is that method which makes possible this efficient film combatant.

You can prove the effects, and quickly. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten—how they glisten—as the fixed film disappears.

Compare the results with your old method. Learn what clean teeth mean. Then let your own mirror tell you what is best. This test is most important to you. Make it at once. Cut out the coupon now.

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES HOLDS MEETING

Many Matters of Interest Taken Up at Regular Monthly Session.

At the regular monthly meeting of the local Association Victorian Order of Nurses held yesterday in the Y.W.C.A. assembly hall, Mrs. A. W. Blue took the chair and opened the meeting. The minutes were read and confirmed, and a very encouraging report given by the treasurer.

A letter was read by the secretary from Mrs. Charlotte Harrington, chief superintendent, saying that a second nurse was available, if required. Letters were also read from the managers of the various industries in the city, including the E. & T. Fairbanks Company, the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand, the Julius Kayser Co., the Campbell-Howard Co., acknowledging the offer of the association in regard to the services of the V. O. nurse, and expressing approval of the proposition. Definite arrangements could not be made in some cases, however, until the heads of the companies had been consulted.

A number of important questions were discussed, among others the growing necessity of the Tubercular Sanitarium, the project undertaken by the I.O.D.E., the possibility of establishing a dispensary, and above all, the urgent need of school inspection by a district nurse.

The president said that this was carried out by every city of the size of Sherbrooke in the United States and in Ontario, and the expense was considerable in view of the value of the work. The V. O. had done all that was possible in the matter. It remained for the parents of the city to appeal to the school commissioners to take the question into serious consideration.

The secretary suggested that the Rotary Club, which was concerned with the betterment of conditions along all lines, might be interested in school inspection. It was stated that although no applications for relief had been received by the committee, many children attending school were undernourished, and in one school light lunches were furnished by the teachers, who had seen marked improvement in the health of the scholars. This was certainly V. O. work, and the association was now in a position to further it.

It was moved by Miss White, seconded by Mrs. Bowen, and carried, that the Pure Milk Company be instructed to deliver eight quarts of milk daily at the school mentioned, to be used according to the judgment of the staff, who were doing social service work.

The V. O. nurse, who was present, gave some interesting details of her experiences, and read the report of the month, as follows: Old cases, 54; new cases, 15; total number nursing visits, 141; child welfare visits, 4; pre-natal, 2.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the association on Tuesday, December 16, and the session then adjourned.

AYER'S CLIFF

A large reception took place last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacFadden in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Taylor, who were recently married. Mrs. Taylor, formerly Miss E. Smith, of Belfast, Ireland, met her husband whilst nursing in an English Military Hospital and crossed to Canada about six weeks ago. A large number of relatives and guests were present. The evening was spent in music, singing and dancing. The happy couple were the recipients of six dozen room chairs, a rocker and half dozen silver knives and forks, besides numerous smaller presents. The Rev. C. Moore made the presentations. A large wedding cake was divided amongst the guests and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Mabel Taylor, Miss Ida Taylor, Mr. Walter Keeler and Lillie Rollins. After a most enjoyable evening, the guests numbering eighty-five departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Taylor long life, joy and prosperity.

The formal opening of the Sanborn Factory will take place next Thursday evening, when a basket dance will be held. Everybody is welcome. Turcott's Orchestra will be in attendance.

"Bill the Coachman" continues his successful tour, and if you have not met him, be sure to see him at East Hatley on Wednesday evening.

It is proposed to start a skating rink on the Fair Grounds and all interested are requested to sign the subscription list in the store of Messrs. Leavitt and Chadsey. Season tickets are as follows: Men $3.00; Ladies and Boys $2.50. A warm dressing room will be provided and arrangements will be made for the band to be in attendance.

The annual shipment of Christmas trees took place recently when seventeen cars left here for various points in Pennsylvania.

Owing to the generosity of Jack Frost the boys were able to meet on "Front Pond" on Saturday last and knock the dust off their hockey sticks.

A very interesting service took place at the Congregational Church on Sunday evening, when the regular service was given over to the Christian Endeavor Missionary Department. The choral part of the service was ably handled by a male choir, twelve in number, and two items were well rendered by a quartette in which Messrs. Johnston, Rugg, Emberly and Lyon took part. Mr. Cleveland Standish officiated at the piano. The story entitled "From Wigram to Pulpit" was divided into four parts, interspersed by musical numbers, rendered by the choir. The reading was given by Mr. J. M. Elam. Mrs. F. A. Johnston, convenor of the missionary department arranged the programme. At the conclusion the Pastor, Rev. Churchill Moore addressed the audience and in a few well chosen words thanked all who had given their services.

"Bill the Coachman" under beautiful weather conditions visited Way's Mills on Friday night. The players were greeted with a packed house. The performance was prefaced by a piece of originality in the shape of "The Village Curate," which caused much merriment. "Bill the Coachman" was again well played and produced. The finale in the form of a medley of eight popular choruses made a big hit. The ladies of the village did most excellent work in providing a sumptuous supper for the cast and orchestra. Great appreciation was shown by the recipients of their efforts, there being only a mass of empty plates to tell the tale. After the show the performers were treated to a light lunch. The proceeds amounted to $62.50.

Mrs. George Davis entertained the Guild last Thursday afternoon. An unusually large number of members and friends attended, including the Rector of the Parish, Rev. I.N. Kerr. The proceeds were over twelve dollars.

The Rugg Ball Mfg. Co., has been working at full pressure of late turning out children's snow shovels for Woolworth Stores all over the country. This firm has under construction a large saw mill and sash and door factory. Much new machinery is to be installed, and Mr. Rugg reports that by Spring he will be able to supply all fittings necessary in the building line.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Longway, of Newport, Vt., Mr. G. A. Moravilla, of Beebe, and Miss L. E. Rickard, of Derby Line, were recent guests of Mr. D. B. Keet.

Mr. H. W. Goodrow has been confined to his bed for several days with a crushed foot, caused by a falling plank in the Rugg Ball factory, where he is employed.

CIVIC NEGLECT.

The city authorities are still marking time in regard to the question of sanitation. There is no properly constituted health department, no qualified sanitary inspector, no protection against gross neglect on the part of landlords or tenants regarding matters of sanitation.

Deputations are told that the civic authorities are sorry they allowed Dr. Pariseau to go and that they have not as yet succeeded in replacing him though he took his departure in the early days of the war.

It is neglect and indifference such as this which condemns the present system of civic administration.

GOING AHEAD.

In spite of the passing of the war period which was marked by such industrial activity, the commercial development of Sherbrooke continues. This is reflected in the bank clearance reports. The figures issued, last week, for the previous week showed a total of $1,038,768.49, and a gain of $114,339 over the corresponding week of last year. The gain over the same period of 1917 was $488,914.95.

This is but one of the signs which points to great progress and development in this city during the after-the-war period.

STILL UNSETTLED.

The history of outrages committed since December, 1910, on Americans in Mexico, is not pleasant reading. That the United States government endured these attacks on their citizens without actual declaration of war against the Mexicans was a matter of surprise during the period when these outrages were most numerous and most cruel. The Mexicans responsible for the deaths of the Americans were not alone bandits, but also soldiers under Carranza and Villa. During the revolutionary period between 1910 and 1916, no less than two hundred and eighty-five Americans were killed. Besides these verified killings were about fifty others, particulars concerning which could not be obtained.

The recognition of the Carranza regime, in 1915, gave no real relief to the existing conditions. From January to July, in last year, ten murders, sixty-one outrages and robberies occurred in the oil regions of Mexico. In reading particulars of these criminal acts, one would conclude the country was peopled by bandits.

"Previous to the thirty-four years of orderly government enforced by Diaz few Americans resided in Mexico and little American capital had been invested there," states one writer. "But encouraged by the law and order maintained by the Diaz government and by its invitations to invest in that country, Americans had gone into Mexico in considerable numbers. It is estimated that at the beginning of the revolutionary period in 1910 at least 40,000 Americans were making their homes there. . . . These thousands of Americans and hundreds of millions of their property are the counters with which the game of 'patience' has been played with Mexico by the American government."

TRAIN CHANGES.

The winter time tables have gone into effect on the railways operating in this territory and, influenced by coal shortage, the public finds itself deprived of important services.

Serious complaints are heard in the Sherbrooke-Megantic section where a double service to and from Megantic has been dropped in favor of the new train which has been put on between Montreal and St. John. It is unfortunate that the morning local to Megantic, returning in the afternoon has been discontinued as it was an extremely useful service. The district should work for its early restoration. The Grand Trunk changes have, also, created much disturbance especially on the Richmond-Levis line, where it is felt the wrong train has been taken off.

It is unfortunate that greater effort is not made to ascertain the public wishes and consult the public convenience in the redrafting of time tables.

HIS CHOICE.

"Do you want a smart boy, sir?" "No, I do all the work myself." "That's just the kind of a place I'd like, sir."

LADY ASTOR, M. P.

(Christian Science Monitor.) The return of Lady Astor as member of Parliament for the Sutton division of Plymouth, by a majority of over 5000, is one of those events which very clearly marks a period in social development. One of the most remarkable features of the tremendous general election in the United Kingdom nearly a year ago was the uniform failure of the women candidates to secure election. With the single exception of the Countess Markievicz, the Sinn Fein candidate for St. Patrick's division of Dublin, all the women who sought election were defeated, and, in most cases, quite decisively. Such an apparent failure was all the more remarkable because the great ability of women in every sphere of activity, as shown by their work during the war, was still in the forefront of recollection, whilst, at the elections themselves, the women were voting for the first time. The country, however, quite evidently hesitated, and, with a characteristic determination not to be rushed, decided to err on the side of conservatism.

At Plymouth, when Lady Astor first decided to seek election in place of her husband, Viscount Astor, whose succession to the peerage had involved his removal to the House of Lords, the electorate had had some ten months to think the matter over. During that time it had been made clear to the country, as to the world in general, that many great social changes brought about by the war were to be permanent changes, and that the tremendous ability shown by the women of England as of many other countries, was not something that would spend itself the moment the occasion that had called it forth had ceased to exist, but would simply turn itself into other channels. When, therefore, Lady Astor came before the electors of the Sutton division of Plymouth seeking their suffrage, her great desire was to be taken seriously. She quite clearly desired above everything that her election should be, first of all, a triumph for the idea of the woman in politics.

It is true that she had many things in her favor, things of the picturesque order which the traditional election agent would welcome with avidity and exploit to the uttermost, but Lady Astor never put them in the forefront of her effort. She never tried, moreover, to pose as a great statesman or a very profound political thinker. She made her appeal to the people as a woman of untiring energy, of quite remarkable executive ability, of deep insight into the needs of the working woman and the working man, and of the most refreshingly wholehearted desire to help. "Plymouth," she declared simply in the course of one of her speeches, "has earned my undying gratitude during my ten years' connection with it, because it has taught my husband and myself the joy of service."

Having thus stated the essence of her political faith, Lady Astor made unstinted use of her quite remarkable powers to achieve success. Brilliant in repartee, vivid and convincing in speech, and "a fighter ever," she threw herself into the struggle with all the joy of an old campaigner. But she did it all without bitterness, again and again disarming criticism by some sally, which achieved access not so much by its wit as by its transparent good-heartedness. "The House of Commons," the new member remarked genially at one of her meetings, "needs a woman in it." Certainly the House of Commons would seem to have got the right woman in Lady Astor, M.P.

THE AMERICAN OPPORTUNITY.

(New York Globe)

The relative display between the wealth of America and the poverty of Europe has never been so great as it is this year. Russia is a desert. Germany is bankrupt and her government retain office from day to day because no one else wants a hopeless job. The new state of Czechoslovakia, in a moment if Germany falls. The Baltic provinces are drenched with blood, the cries of tortured and dying humanity are heard as in 1914, and no man can say what is to come next. Sudden despair is perhaps the dominant mood from the Rhine to the Ural Mountains and from the Baltic to the Black Sea. Those who, having still something to lose, have escaped this contagion are not fortunate, for they still have something to fear. The crisis is the long hesitation of a fever, when it is uncertain whether the decision will be for death or for life. American wealth can probably turn the current toward recovery. Despite our serious domestic troubles, we have more than enough for ourselves; or, rather, by the accident of the late discovery of a rich continent, we are trustees for humanity. By united action America can save Europe. That, and not the wealth we are securely able to consume at home, is the essential for which, without hypocrisy or self-glorification, we might be thankful.

"WORK MORE, TALK LESS"

(Buffalo Express)

"No nation that puts a minimum of its strength into labor can hope to compete with another that works at full blast; to live, the world must produce more and talk less." Thus succinctly A. C. Bedford, head of the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, put the message to 2,500 delegates to the international trade conference in Atlantic City. The same point was emphasized even more strongly by Colonel Hovey, when he said: "Everything has been said that can be said on every vital thing." Reconstruction too long has been the theme—it should now become the task. For months there has been a tendency to stand about discussing ways and means of going about the job. Probably if cleaning up had been begun at the bottom of the mess with a waiting for a wonderful and comprehensive scheme for achieving the result overnight the world might now have been in a fair way toward finishing the job. It can hardly be said that a beginning has been made. The dictum that the world must work holds for capital and for the public as well as for labor. No individual, whether he belongs to the ranks of labor, in the realm of capital, or the less fortunate who is neither, is doing his duty unless he works.

CHARGING IT UP TO WILSON.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

Woodrow Wilson is primarily responsible for the failure of the Paris treaty to obtain ratification in the United States Senate. Mr. Wilson forced through the Peace Conference and then presented to the upper House a compact which the members of that body who were careful of their oaths and responsibilities could not possibly accept without modifications. The President had been given plenty of warning regarding what would happen if he undertook to impose his particular programme on the Senate against the better judgment of the majority of its members; but he refused to listen to advice. He refused even to recognize the presence of any material opposition. At home he defied his critics; abroad he told the Old World that there really was no divergence of America sentiment on the subject of the League covenant, and he instituted a censorship in order to prevent contradiction of his statement from going over the cables. Even today a great part of the European press has only a hazy idea of the real situation in America, and only a vague understanding of the reasons for senatorial opposition. A good part of Europe looks on the treaty fight as the result of a rebellion against constituted authority.

HOPE

(Specially for The Christian Science Monitor)

The path was arid, and it led upward through regions drear, So that, to one who toiled, it seemed as though her footsteps, faltering, could never reach the heights that promise held Of rest and peace. But as she journeyed on, and upward Held her gaze, she soon perceived the sky was blue, the color True of hope, while, in the stillness of the silent night, The stars shone down with blessing of encouragement. And then one noon she found an arch of rock that gave Her shadow from too fervent heat, while in a sheltered nook She saw a slender harebell quiver like a thing of light. Then rose a song of joy from out her lonely heart. For she perceived that, though the path seemed steep And sometimes hard to tread, there never was a step She took but Love had trod before!

LAND OF EVANGELINE.

(Victoria Colonist.)

The Annapolis Valley in Nova Scotia, and the country about Wolfville, which is the centre, is the land of Evangeline, made immortal in Longfellow's poem. Grand Pre, the little village which was the scene of the deportation of the Acadians in 1775, is only a short distance from Wolfville, but little is left of the village where the tragedy told by the poet was enacted. The chief object of interest in what was once Grand Pre are the mammoth, gnarled ancient willows, which stand, a conspicuous group, amid the fertile green meadows and serve as a windbreak. They show their age, these ancient trees, and were undoubtedly planted by the French-Canadians, for the Acadians invariably planted willows wherever they settled, and these trees are perpetual memories of them. Besides the willows there may be seen at the site of Grand Pre, the old well, portions of the foundations of the St. Charles and some stones that mark the site of the priest's house. These willow trees are always visited by tourists, and although history does not exactly tally with the poet's account of the deportations of the Acadians, and though there may be a division of opinion as to the justice of the act by the English in the deportation of the Acadians, the old willows tell me no tales, but stand, sturdy and strong, and are sightly landmarks still hale and vigorous.

A REVOLUTION IN MOTOR FUEL?

(Boston Transcript.)

An expert on motor combustion, writing recently in The Illustrated London News, tells of experiments made with a new motor fuel obtained by mixing certain chemicals with water. The article, a part of which is published on this page, indicates that the British Government, usually very conservative in its dealings with inventors, thought enough of the new idea to endeavor during the war to

Sir Robert Horne Makes Reputation in England

As Minister of Labor

IN the session of the British Parliament just ended two members have created big reputations for themselves. They stand out head and shoulders above their fellows. One is Sir Robert Horne, the Labor Minister, who has stepped without any apparent effort into the very front rank of parliamentarians, and whose abilities as an administrator are second to none in the Government. He gave up £8,000 a year at the Scottish Bar to become a member of the Government at £2,000 a year. He first wooed and then won the confidence of Labor in hundreds of conferences and personal interviews, and lately has been responsible for the firm handling of the Labor situation by the Government. He has the well-deserved nickname of "Hall, Smiling Horne."

Readers.

There are four sorts of readers: hour glass readers, whose reading runs in and out and leaves nothing; sponge readers, who imbibe all but only to give it out again as they got it, and perhaps not so clear; jelly-bag readers, who keep the dregs and refuse, and let the pure run through; diamond readers, who cast aside all that is worthless and hold only gems.

Sympathetic Brothers.

The boys of the neighborhood were anticipating the time when they could go fishing. Everett, noticing his little sister standing inside the yard, watching them wistfully through the fence, and listening to their plans without joining the conversation, remarked in an aside to his companions: "Gee, it must be tough to be only a girl."

Animals and Earthquakes.

One of the mysteries still unsolved is that of the sense by which the lower animals become aware of the approach of earthquakes. Birds and rats become alarmed and try to escape. Super-sensitiveness to faint shocks scarcely gives satisfactory explanation, for modern seismographs are very sensitive.

London-Paris Air "Express."

Khaki Settlers in Quebec.

Those who think there is any pause in the great work of conquering the air simply because trans-oceanic flights and projected flights no longer supply columns of "copy" to the daily papers are greatly mistaken. With a celerity and a silence wholly appropriate, the airplane and the airships are steadily making good their position in the great transportation service of the world. There is, for instance, a decided air of "settlement," in the recent almost routine account which appeared in the London Times of the air service between London and Paris. Three flying "expresses" instead of the normal two, declared the Times, were required on a certain day to deal with the loads presented for despatch by the London-Paris air service. One carrying two passengers and a quantity of parcels left London at 12.30 p.m. and reached Paris at 2.55 p.m. From Paris the ordinary scheduled machine left at 12.30 p.m. and a relief machine at 12.40 p.m., each carrying passengers and parcels—the latter including an urgent consignment of military mail from a Paris consular to a leading West End shop. Both these "expresses" ran through to time, one landing at Hounslow at 3.10 p.m. and the other at 3.20 p.m. London-Paris air service has already, it would seem, almost reached the point where it is taken for granted.

The Government of Nauru.

Nauru has declared overwhelmingly by ballot for British rule. The importance of the decision does not rest on the size of this former German possession—it is about six miles long by two and a half miles wide. Nor is the population so dense as to deserve attention, there being 1,250 Nauruans and 300 Kanakas. Nauru, moreover, does not offer climatic attractions, as it is a few degrees south of the equator and is subject to terrific heat. The secret of Nauru is its immense deposits of phosphates, which lie upon a rough coral floor, and are so absorbent that ten inches of rain will vanish almost instantly, making the distillation of sea water necessary. Fortunately for Nauru's hopes, the Peace Conference has decided that Britain, Australia and New Zealand shall administer it by mandate.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and cut-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

IS THE 'FLU A NEW DISEASE?

Reappearance of Epidemic Leads to Discussion on Subject.

The reappearance of "flu" at many points brings out the old question as to whether it is a new disease or a new form of some very common ailment. The general consensus of medical opinion is that it is a germ disease of a virulent type which first attacks the membranes of the nose and throat and then spreads to some vital organ where it develops very quickly and does fearful work.

The symptoms of "flu" are about the same as those of a cold in the head, and for that reason it is now positively unsafe to allow a cold to go without attention. Treatment should be started as soon as the head starts closing up, the nose starts running or the sufferer starts sneezing. Let these conditions run for 24 hours and acute trouble is liable to develop, possibly resulting in an attack of pleurisy, pneumonia or kindred ailments.

If Grip Fix is taken when the cold is starting, relief may be expected in a single night. Even if the cold has reached the Grippe stage, 48 hours treatment is usually effective. Grip Fix contains nothing but the drugs your physician would order, a full list of which is given on every box. It comes in capsule form and in a night will relieve the closed up condition of the head, overcome the fever, allay the muscular soreness and tone up the system.

Be prepared. Have Grip Fix in the house. Be sure to get the original Red-Grip Fix. It's on sale at all druggists at 25c. per box.

Farmers here are all reporting that their potatoes are rotting badly in their cellars, and will be a great loss, especially those that were taken up late. More than half were affected, more or less.

During a gale here on Sunday night a good deal of damage was done to shade trees, etc., one of the large balm of gilead trees in front of the Echo Vale Post Office was broken off, and the trunk split to the ground, the whole thing falling on to the roof of the new photographic studio.

WARRED ON PRISONERS

FRENCHMAN TELLS ABOUT GERMAN CRUELTY.

Another Story of the Terrible Atrocities That Were Practiced in the Camps of the Hun—French Soldiers Who Tried to Escape Lynched or Trampled on by Cruel Teuton Populace.

GERMAN appeals for food are looked upon with sinister distrust by men who have survived the horrors of the German prison camps. Hoping to counteract an incipient belief in German need, and to stem any possible rising tide of sympathy among his countrymen, Charles Tardieu, in Figaro, gives a first-hand account of the German spirit as he found it during his experience as a prisoner. He declares:

"It is difficult to imagine tortures that one has not endured. Men who for months have hurled their anguish against the triple barbed wire defences around the Boche's camp; men who day after day have rubbed elbows with Kultur, these are the men who realize the real meaning of the word humiliation, who have learned patience. When these men, given back to their mother country, read in French papers the sinister appeal of stomachs in distress from Austrian men of letters, the attempts of Prussian houses to renew friendly relations with our firms, the wily efforts of the hypocritical government of Ebert and Scheidemann to deceive French opinion as to the actual condition of German resources, finally, when they read that in certain parts of France there is a tendency toward generosity and cordiality, they are overcome with sadness."

According to this writer the German spirit is composed wholly of hypocrisy, brutality, servility and insane conceit. He comments upon the ease with which he finds it possible to detect the Boches, and asserts that if the grievances of prisoners returning from Germany could be compiled the result would be an extraordinary psychological document.

"The attitude of German officers," he says, "is marked by the tranquil cynicism of a people sure of victory and already established in the enemy's country. Your attack was well planned," a German captain said to me one day with a supercilious air, "but it could not have succeeded and you will never succeed."

When he was captured M. Tardieu's wallet and card case, his camera and everything else that seemed good booty were taken from him. The account proceeds:

"After a week of famine in a cell at the citadel of Laon, we were huddled into a fourth-class compartment, in which for three days and three nights we rolled toward the Dutch frontier. During these three days we had only one meal, consisting of a soup made of dirty water and black looking tapioca."

When the camp was finally reached the prisoners hoped to satisfy their hunger. Luxurious menus had been announced by those in command. But instead there were only more muddy soup, carrots that in France would have been fed to the pigs, a disgusting goulash and hunks of green bread in the last stages of decay.

The officers lost no opportunity to lose or steal their prisoners' baggage. The writer notes an instance: "One day at inspection it was announced that our helmets were spoils of war and that we must give them up. Ten minutes later our helmets were smashed by our own men and the German lieutenant-colonel was having an attack of apoplexy."

"The next morning we read in the Cologne and Frankfurt papers about a sale of French helmets taken at the front. The prices announced were exorbitant. The proceeds of the sale were to be devoted to the cigar fund for German soldiers in the trenches. "We were told that as a punishment our packages would not be given to us. Only perishable articles were distributed, and these were obliged to pool. We were not permitted to receive food, medicine, tobacco or toilet objects. During this time the kitchen served us rations of sardines, tomatoes, beans, lentils, herrings, liver, all swimming in an unspeakable sauce. "One may imagine that the attempts to escape were many. The men who were recaptured were at once thrown into cells, and the reports on their cases were purposely so long delayed that they were forced to endure bread and water for months, like criminals. Several escaped prisoners were lynched and trampled on by the populace. "Punishments were showered upon us on the slightest pretext. We were deprived of our daily outing because we had howled and hooted in derision at a crowd of young people who passed our camp singing 'Deutschland, Deutschland über Alles.' For many months we were deprived of light at night, of access to the courtyard without any other excuse than the famous 'reprisals.' From the beginning to the end the German Government made war on prisoners and with prisoners."

DEPRECIATION IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE

The depreciation in foreign exchange is not due merely to the heavy trade balances, declares the National Bank of Commerce in New York in its magazine, Commerce Monthly. It is also due to the fact that foreign moneys are depreciated at home. The gold standard has been suspended in most European countries, and the money is merely irredeemable paper. No normal exchange conditions can be expected until the gold standard is restored. "How far the exchange rates will fall, when they will recover how rapidly they will recover—these are questions to which no one can give confident answers," the bank says. "It is the general expectation that so long as the heavy excess of imports over exports continues for the European countries, their exchange will go lower. On the other hand, there are some observers who express the opinion that much of has already been discounted in the existing exchange rates by short selling, and that the demand from these short sellers themselves will take up the new supply of foreign exchange growing out of the exports for a considerable period. Other observers, however, maintain that the general tendency of speculation has been bullish rather than bearish. This view is strongly buttressed by statistical arguments: the long time loans to Europe in the past year fall far of the balance of Europe's current debt to the outside world, and speculation of one kind or another must have absorbed the difference, either by buying exchange, or by letting balances accumulate in European banks, or by withholding exchange from market, and allowing "open accounts" to run. There would thus be an enormous volume of exchange hanging over the market. Definite prediction is dangerous where so many uncertainties exist."

On account of the growing interest of Americans in investments abroad, a list of selected foreign security quotations has been made a feature of Commerce Monthly. The securities are selected for their representative character and activity on the exchange from which they are quoted. The range or average for 1913, the last pre-war year, is given, together with prices shortly after the close of war.

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

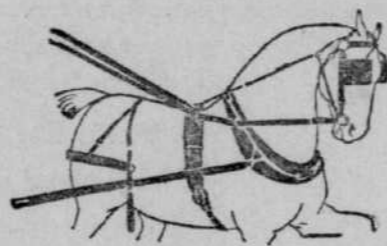

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold and neglected bronchitis the most general cause of consumption. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sunblad, Francis, Saskatchewan, writes: "I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PROPOSITION TO FLOAT PREMIUM BONDS DEFEATED

The Decision of the British House of Commons Was a Popular One.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Dec. 2.—By the substantial majority of 192, the House of Commons yesterday decided against the proposition to float premium bonds in order that the Government might raise needed money.

Public opinion, led by the Archbishop of Canterbury and other prominent churchmen and financiers, had expressed itself forcibly during the past two weeks against the bonds, and evidently had converted many public men hitherto at least sympathetic with a lottery bond issue.

STEWARDS GO ON STRIKE. (Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—One hundred and thirty British stewards employed on the British steamer Imperator, recently returned to Great Britain by the United States Shipping Board, went on strike today when Cunard Line officials refused to continue to pay them $3 a day sustenance while on shore.

VETERANS WOULD HAVE PROVINCIAL COMMAND HERE

Pass Resolution Approving of Establishment of Central Council—Urge Activity in 53rd Regiment.

The report of the Provincial command and the appointment of delegates to meet representatives from other parts of the Province in Montreal, this week, was the principal topic taken up at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association, held in their rooms last evening.

The matter was brought up for discussion by the meeting and was explained. At a former meeting, presidents of the Eastern Townships branches met and discussed the matter, all approving of the establishment of the Provincial command. All other provinces, except Quebec, were said to have this system, which had proved very beneficial.

A long discussion followed in regard to what was termed "the persistent germ of the 53rd Regiment." Several speakers were heard, calling attention to the fact that the 53rd was still in a dormant state. It was moved and carried that a committee be formed to inquire into and find a returned man to take command of the 53rd Regiment.

The matter of obtaining a municipal grant for the coming year was brought up, and a long list of municipalities in Ontario which had given various sums to their respective branches was read. It was moved that representations for a grant be made to the Council again this year.

The discussion of the separate Military district for the Eastern Townships was again brought up. The secretary was ordered to notify the Associated Boards of Trade, who have already approved the plan, the council for reconstructing military districts sitting in Montreal and Quebec this week.

It was moved and unanimously carried that the Association send a wreath to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shaw, in memory of the deceased comrade, Lieut. F. L. Younger, M.M. A card thus inscribed: "Rest in peace, Comrade, Rest in Peace," will accompany the wreath. A military funeral on Wednesday for Lieut. Younger, late of the 5th C.M.R., will be held. All returned men and veterans are requested to turn out.

A report was made of the receipt of one hundred and fifty dollars monthly for six months from the Khaki Club, recently closed, for the upkeep of a dormitory.

It was moved and carried that Cde. W. J. Prinn be given a silver presentation on the anniversary of his silver wedding, December 22nd.

Eighty dollars and forty cents were voted for the Women's Auxiliary, for the purchase of dishes, and so forth, which are necessary at the dances and entertainments given by that organization.

The following applications for membership were made and the applicants accepted: Mrs. Rodena Smith, A. H. Rolfe, H. Boisse, F. T. Keene, A. E. Bryant, Austin Elliot Hyndman.

SOME STATISTICS IN REGARD TO GRANTS.

The Great War Veterans' Association, at its meeting last night, passed a resolution, reiterating its request for a municipal grant, which was made some time ago, but which has never been made.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH Patron Saint of Scotland Honored—Excellent Programme Rendered.

The patron saint of Scotland was duly honored last evening by St. Andrew's Church, a very charming entertainment being given in the lecture hall which, well lighted and spaciouly, was tastefully arranged for the occasion.

Rev. Alfred Bright presided and expressed his pleasure at the excellent attendance, and made a few preliminary remarks before announcing the various items of an unusually interesting programme. The opening selection by Melver's orchestra was a fantasia upon familiar Scottish airs introducing the old-time favorites "Annie Laurie," "My Highland Laddie," "The Campbells are Coming," "Bonnie Dundee," and music dear to every Scot, followed by piano and violin duets, and the favorite air of the Prince of Wales, "Johnny's in Town," which was enthusiastically applauded.

WINNIPEG COURT WILL SIT FOUR NIGHTS A WEEK

Crown Claims that Letters Showed that Seditious Conspiracy Had Been Arranged for.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 2.—That letters which have been exchanged by R. Russell and C. E. Stevenson, of Vancouver, British Columbia, and the Socialist Party, showed that seditious conspiracy had been arranged for the claim of J. B. Coyne, K. C., junior counsel for the Crown at the night session of the Russell trial yesterday.

Russell's letters stated that something must be done to try and raise a "little dust," that the movement in Winnipeg was developing rapidly and that they were fast knocking hell out of the labor party. That the labor party had been "killed for sure," that when they got control of the trades and labor council "we would use it to our advantage" and that "we are getting a number of reds elected to the locals, so let us hope that we can do something."

In one of his letters, Mr. Stevenson declared that parliamentary representation was a failure, that the issues were too vital "for our movement" to stand aside impotently, and that the radicals must make the best use of all the means they could.

The efforts of Mr. Coyne to get the letters submitted as evidence drew what he described as a statement of policy from J. E. Burd, junior counsel for the defense. Mr. Burd stated that his instructions were to throw the matters of alleged seditious conspiracy wide open, and to secure the widest investigation, as the defence was to be afraid from anything that might be contained in any of the documents that had been seized, no matter where.

The court will have night sessions on four nights of the week, the off nights being Wednesday and Saturday. The jury intimated its decision to this effect, and in reply to a proposal by Robert Cassidy, Senior Counsel for the defense, declared that inasmuch as many members of the jury were prevented from going to their farms and merchant members were unable to look after their business, counsel ought to go on for at least four nights of the week. The evidence of several witnesses was taken during the day.

Sergeant A. E. Reams, R.N.W.M.P., testified to attending a number of labor meetings in Winnipeg and quoted Ivens, one of the strike leaders in charge, as defining Bolshevism as follows: 1.—The Sacredness of human life. 2.—The right of everyone to work. 3.—The production to belong to the producer.

"We will take all," was another remark attributed to Ivens, who had further stated, witness asserted: "All you have to do is to walk into an industry, telling the owner you are going to take it over, and it is done."

The Socialist Bulletin, published in Vancouver, was prominently brought forward, A. J. Andrews, K. C., Counsel for the Crown asserting that articles in it advocated that the time was ripe for revolution and urged the carrying on of propaganda.

Just before the close of the night session, Mr. Andrews claimed that the money which had been adopted by the radicals had been revealed in letters which had come into possession of the Crown. These showed, he said, that simultaneously throughout the country under the auspices of the Socialist party, a series of meetings were held and that these paved the way for the Calgary convention, at which the Reds got control.

much pleasure, the two voices blending capably. A song by Mr. William Scott was well received, and his second number, "Mary of Argyle," was joined in by the audience and highly appreciated.

Perhaps the musical feature of the evening was the playing of "Piper Charles McIntyre," Turner, of the Highlanders, a Canadian regiment, who returned a short time ago from his overseas service, who in full uniform marched up and down the hall, the bagpipes droning and "skirling" in their weird music.

The speaker referred to the life of and frequent visits to the cottagers on Dee-side, and illustrated his talk with many anecdotes of Scottish life and character.

His eulogy of "Bobbie Burns" and the great poem, "The Colliers Saturday Night" a picture of humble plenty drawn by a master hand, met with heartfelt approval, and long-continued plaudits followed the closing words of love and loyalty to the flag, which bore the cross of St. Andrew, the patron saint of Scotland.

Rev. E. C. Russell made a few short but characteristic address, saying how much pleasure he had taken in listening to Mr. Macdonald. He himself, though not a Scot, was the next thing to it, an Irishman, and both countries were bound to England and her overseas Dominions in the one great empire. He said that the one great empire was not a beloved flag.

Rev. Mr. Bright, on behalf of the audience, thanked Mr. Macdonald and those who had contributed to the success of the evening.

BUREAU AT THE CAPITAL IS TO BE MAINTAINED

Liberal Party to Have General Secretary to Keep in Touch With All Parts of Dominion.

(By Canadian Press) Ottawa, December 2.—The decision to provide for the opening of an office in the capital, with a general secretary here to keep in touch daily with all parts of the Dominion and act as a co-ordinating influence between the various provincial organizations, was the chief outcome of yesterday's meetings of the National Organization Committee of the Liberal party, which met in the offices of Hon. Mackenzie King.

The memorandum submitted at the National Liberal convention in August last and which resulted in the present meeting, called for the opening of an office in Ottawa under the supervision of a national organizer with his general office was to be a sort of clearing house; not interfering in any way with the control of provincial affairs, but bringing all provincial organizations into harmony with one another and at the same time working out a policy of education of the people to the ideals of Liberalism, through the medium of the platform and the press.

Discussions at both sessions today were on the material contained in the memorandum and it was stated at the conclusion of the meetings that the delegates from all parts of the Dominion were in full accord on the necessity for carrying out the recommendations before them. Many who were unable to attend themselves had written Mr. Mackenzie King letters of regret and at the same time stated their accordance with the objects of the meeting.

Details of organization, the chairman stated, had occupied the delegates during both sessions yesterday and in the two meetings which are to be held today this discussion on the ways and means of maintaining the proposed organization will also be gone into. It is likely that an executive committee, smaller in number than the National Organization committee will be named to go into the details of finances, etc., and report back to the larger body.

At the end of the sessions it is expected that an official statement covering the proceedings will be issued by the chairman, Hon. Mackenzie King, who last night stated that he was delighted with the progress which had been made in organization and the enthusiasm which all the delegates had shown in the work placed before them.

The meetings today are for the purpose of perfecting the National Party organization. Prior to taking his place as chairman of the meeting, Hon. Mackenzie King said there would be no discussions of party policy or questions of that nature. The interior workings of the party will be arranged, however, and committees named to carry on different portions of the organization work.

Twenty-five delegates were at the opening session. Each province was given seven representatives when the committee was formed at the convention, but it was not anticipated that at any time there would be a full representation, as such would not be necessary. About half of the entire number are expected in attendance at the various meetings.

The delegates in attendance this morning were: Nova Scotia: Hance J. Logan, M.P.; New Brunswick: A. B. Copp, M.P.; Westmoreland: Vice-President; S. Taylor, St. John; J. E. Michaud, M.L.A.; Edmundston; Fred Magee, M.L.A.; Port Elgin; W. E. Scully, St. John; Prince Edward Island: Hon. J. H. Bell, Summerside; P. N. Pate, O.

SCOUTS ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE AT COATICOOK

Unveiling Ceremony Took Place at St. Stevens—Other Items of Interest.

COATICOOK, Dec. 2.—(Special)—The Boy Scouts of this town attended the Sunday evening service at St. Stevens' Church, when the unveiling of the Soldiers' Memorial Tablet by the President of the local branch of the G. W. V. A. took place.

The Rev. Mr. Russell, of Sherbrooke, occupied the pulpit and preached a very eloquent sermon. Rev. Mr. Cecil Stevens also assisted. Benefits of Scouting were dealt with by the speakers who said that it trains the boy by means of games, along lines of good citizenship and forms his character, training him in habits of observation, obedience and self-reliance. Scouting does not take the place of the home in a boy's life, but rather works in co-operation with the parents, to prepare the boy for his work in life when he gets older. It trains his character by holding up the highest ideals before him. It disciplines him, not in the military way through fear of punishment, but the highest form of self-discipline.

It develops him mentally by badge work and special training. Instead of loafing aimlessly about, when out of school, he is brought into contact with "chums" of the right kind, he is kept busy learning things which make him useful at home and to the public. He is taught to be observant and to notice the smallest details of things.

General Notes. Mrs. Mary Nunn has recently returned from Trenholmville, where she attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Arthur Stevens.

Mrs. Thomas Baldwin and Miss Merrill leaves town on Wednesday for Lowell, Mass., where they will spend the winter months with their sister, Mrs. Randall.

The Rev. Mr. A. S. Jones was in Montreal, recently, to attend the Forward Movement Convention Mr. Jones also visited friends in Quebec.

Mr. J. H. Knapp, who was quite seriously ill on Saturday last, is reported to be improving. His friends hope to see him out again soon.

Mrs. A. F. Andrews, while walking to town recently slipped, and by a fall sprained her right wrist. Mrs. Andrews seems unfortunate in this way, for two years ago she fell and broke her left wrist.

Mr. Frank Shurtieff, who has been falling in health for some months past is confined to his bed, and as he appears to be growing weaker, his friends fear for his recovery.

The Ladies' Missionary Society will meet on Wednesday first, instead of Tuesday as first mentioned, in the Church Parlors, and will proceed to pack the annual missionary box, which will be sent to the Deconess home in Montreal.

SIGNOR ORLANDO IS THE FAVORITE IN ELECTION

Struggle for Domination of Italian Chamber of Deputies Between Socialists and Catholics.

ROME, Dec. 2.—The struggle for domination of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, has developed into a fight in which the Socialists and Catholics have been definitely aligned. The Socialists yesterday wore red carnations, while one hundred members of the Catholic party appeared in the Chamber with white carnations. The first real test of strength will come today, when the Chamber elects a president and other officers.

Socialists will attend the session, take the oaths of office and offer a resolution that the oath be expunged from the constitution. They will also nominate Deputy Lazzari for President of the Chamber. Former Premier Orlando, who will be the Government candidate, strangely enough had Lazzari imprisoned some time ago for conducting an agitation against the war.

Deputy Alessio was first selected by the Government as its candidate for President of the Chamber, but there was objection from Catholic delegates because he had been violently anti-Catholic. The result was that Signor Orlando was selected by the Government, which is anxious to retain the Catholic strength in the anti-Socialist columns. Signor Orlando's election seems assured as the Socialists alone oppose him and have but 156 out of the 566 votes.
