A CLEAN MONTREAL IS NOW THE SLOGAN

Preparations are Being Made to Send Out a Strong Force of Teams on Thursday, Which is Fixed as Cleaning Up Day.

A clean Montreal is the object of Mayor Lavallee and the city Incineration Department, and to this end a proclamation has been made by His Worship decreeing May 23 as the day for the banishment of rubbish and garbage from the lanes and backyards of the city. Citizens are called upon to get ready to take advantage of a general visitation of the lanes by about 150 carts in the regular service of the city, or employed especially for this day. The garbage is to be put out at seven o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Chenevert, superintendent of Incineration Department, who is in charge of the work, said that Montreal was the only city in this knowledge that would remove all the rubbish and garbage for the citizens on cleaning-up day. In Boston the citizens had to hire their own teams for the work.

The work will be supervised by incineration inspectors, and after the garbage collectors made their rounds about one hundred and fifty men will be set to work to complete the cleaning of the lanes.

All rubbish from the west end will be taken to the city incinerator, and that from the rest of the town will be deposited in the dumps in the quarries.

Citizens are asked to take in their garbage receptacles as soon as the wagons have passed.

Mr. Chenevert said the city was going to be severe on delinquents. The receptacles should not be too full. Six inches space from their tops should be allowed, so as the man may dump it in the carts without spilling any of the refuse on the streets. Mr. Chenevert prefers covered cans, but barrels and boxes will do provided they have no holes in them. The garbage is expected to be done up in packages.

Mr. Chenevert said that not more than one hundred pounds of garbage should be placed in one package. Barrels, boxes, or cans weighing more than this were hard for the scavengers to handle. Many persons, he said, have boxes five or six feet long. The department will not accept these. The contents of the containers of garbage should not exceed three bushels. Everything should be tied solidly in papers, so that it will not spill out. No barrels or boxes will henceforth be allowed in lanes except on collection day.

Mr. Chenevert also said that no builder will be allowed to occupy part of a lane.

For the benefit of the public Mr. Chenevert has issued copies of the rules incorporated in a by-law, which will be strictly enforced on May 23 and thereafter. The rules are as follows:—

Every occupant of a house shall deposit, separately, the offal and ashes of the house which he inhabits or occupies in a portable receptacle, of a capacity of not more than three bushels.

The receptacles used for depositing the ashes or house offal shall not contain more than 100 lbs. of such matters, and there shall be a free space of at least 6 inches between the contents and the surface of said receptacles.

The said receptacles shall be placed in the lane or in the street as close as possible to the sidewalk, opposite the house inhabited or occupied by the owner or possessor of the same, or in any other place, at the discretion of the superintendent of the Incineration Department.

All waste paper in the possession of a person who desires to get rid of the same shall be burnt in the house of such person or be solidly made into a bundle or roll, and shall not be deposited elsewhere than in the street, on the sidewalk, or in the lane, close to the receptacles reserved for house offal or ashes, respectively.

It is strictly forbidden to mix with the ashes before or after they have been deposited on the streets or lanes any house offal, refuse or other matter of any kind whatsoever.

No person shall throw in the streets or lanes any sweepings, paper, glass, clippings, filth, refuse, house offal or rubbish of any kind whatsoever.

The receptacles shall be removed from the streets or lanes by the persons who have deposited the same thereon within one hour after the employees of said department have made their round, even if the said receptacles have not been emptied.

The scoria and ashes from steam engines, blacksmiths' shops, furnaces of works or industrial establishments shall be removed by the owners of such establishments.

No person shall break or damage any receptacle, nor turn over or upset the contents thereof, after the same has been placed in a street or lane to be emptied by the employees of the Incineration Department, nor shall undo or open the bundles or rolls of waste paper deposited close to such receptacle. No person shall either deposit any ashes or house offal in a receptacle not belonging to him.

Every house owner shall place on the doors of his outbuildings fronting on a lane one or more numbers corresponding with that of the door or doors bordering upon the street.

Manure shall be kept in tight boxes in the yard of the premises or in or under the building wherein such manure is made.

The word 'House' means any building, structure or out-building.

The words 'Street and Lane' mean the streets and public or private lanes open to traffic.

Any person contravening the above provisions shall be liable to a fine with or without costs, and in default of immediate payment of the said fine, with or without costs, as the case may be, to an imprisonment; the amount of said fine and the term of the said imprisonment to be determined by the Recorder's Court of the City of Montreal, at its discretion, but the said fine shall not exceed forty dollars, and the term of imprisonment shall not exceed two calendar months; the said imprisonment, however, to cease at any time before the expiration of the period fixed by the said Recorder's Court, on payment of said fine or fine and costs, as the case may be; and if the infraction is repeated, such repetition shall, day by day, constitute, upon summons or arrest, a separate offence.

HONORING THE CENTENARY OF SIR GEORGES ETIENNE CARTIER.

Yesterday was the 39th anniversary of the death of Sir George Etienne Cartier, and arrangements were made by the Cartier Centenary Committee for commemorating the occasion by an anniversary mass in St. James' Cathedral, and by decorating the tomb in Cote des Neiges Cemtery.

At 8 o'clock yesterday mass was celebrated in the Cathedral in memory of the departed statesman in the presence of a large congregation, and at 11 'clock, his tomb in the cemetery was decorated with many wreaths. The Centenary Committee, with a delegation composed of representatives from all the political clubs of the city, including Liberal as well as Conservative, met at the grave, and a wreath from each club was deposited on the tomb of the departed statesman.

The ceremony at the grave was confined to the simple placing of the floral tributes, and was a simple and impressive honor to the memory of one of Canada's greatest men.

WOMAN ABDUCTED IN CAB WAS ASSAULTED AND ROBBED ON MOUNTAIN

Joseph Segouin, the cab driver charged with the theft of $17 from Mrs. Malvina Goyette, who told the police she was assaulted by Segouin and two other men, up on the mountain last Saturday night, pleaded not guilty in the Police Court this morning, and the case was remanded till Thursday.

The police have not yet arrested the other two men.

Chief Carpenter said this morning to the 'Witness' reporter, that, so far as he could see, the woman was respectable and truthful.

Segouin's statement is that he met the woman with the other two men on the street about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, and that they asked to be driven to the road running round the side of the mountain just back of the Royal Victoria Hospital and the upper reservoir.

What makes the case appear rather peculiar is the fact that the woman, who is in humble circumstances, earning her living as a domestic servant, should take a cab rather than a street car. She could have gone by street car to within a block of the address she says she gave to the cab driver—that of her nephew in the north end of the city.

According to her story to the police she was driven up on the mountain instead of to the address she gave the driver, that the latter picked up two men on the way, and that she was beaten, robbed, outraged by all three men, forced to drink liquor, and held there all night. Then, she says, at dawn they put her in the cab and were driving back towards the city, when she saw a man working and cried out. The men on the cab then threw her out and left her there.

She says she then went to the address in the north end of the city.

Her nephew's wife, when seen by the 'Witness' this morning, would say nothing about Mrs. Goyette at all, except that she was acquainted with her and that she was a domestic servant. She said she never lived there.

It was learned that although she may have gone to her nephew's on Sunday morning, she did not stay long, for she appeared at a women's employment bureau on Lagauchetiere street, about 8 o'clock that morning.

The matron says she appeared to be a truthful, good woman, but she did not know much about her. She sent her to a place to get work. She had got a position in this way once before.

The matron said the woman was 47 years of age, and had a married daughter in the United States.

BLANCHE DAVID GOES TO CONVENT FOR TWO YEARS

Blanche David, the girl who in the past has come in for much notoriety by reason of her sleeping propensities, and who was charged with the theft of $75 from Hector Boyer, a hotelkeeper of St. Vincent de Paul, was sentenced by Judge Bazin in the Court of Special Sessions to-day to two years' imprisonment. Mr. Maurice Alexander, of the firm of Davidson, Wainwright & Alexander, acting on behalf of a social betterment society, made an application that the David girl be confined in a private institution instead of a public jail. The girl was accordingly given her choice of going to jail for two years or spending the same length of time in the Convent of the Good Shepherd. She decided she would rather go to the convent, and she will be sent there as soon as arrangements can be made for her there.

HOW MANY ARE DOOMED?

Duke of Connaught and the Association for Prevention of Tuberculosis.

A TOUCHING LETTER.

The Hon. Adam Beck to Succeed Dr. Adami as President — Next Meeting in Ottawa.

Toronto, May 20. —Further expression of the earnest interest taken by the Duke of Connaught in anti-tuberculosis work was contained in a letter from His Royal Highness to Dr. George D. Porter, secretary of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which was read at the open session of the association to-day, in which he expressed his sympathy with the work and the necessity of education along preventive lines. His Royal Highness said in part:

'I am sure the thoughts of others are often turned to the conditions—to the thousands of children who are born in Canada and who emigrate every year—and that others wonder, as I do, how many of these little ones are doomed simply from lack of fresh air and pure milk. I trust that the work of your association may establish an influence on the public of Canada which will in due course militate against the ravages of tuberculosis. Believe me, yours faithfully—(Signed) Arthur.'

MONTREAL PRESIDENT.

The annual meeting began to-day in the Margaret Eaton hall with Dr. J. George Adami, the president, in the chair. The Hon. Adam Beck was chief speaker this forenoon. He reported the progress made by the London Health Association and Queen Alexandra sanitarium. Middlesex and Elgin counties were now associated in this work, and there were prospects of Oxford and Kent counties becoming interested. The infirmary was now overtaxed and the directors were faced with the necessity of providing accommodation. This work was having an educational value that was gratifying to all concerned. The example it had set was one that many were emulating. The Hon. Mr. Beck paid a warm tribute to the personal interest the Duke of Connaught has always evinced in the movement. He also acknowledged the work of the veteran Sir James Grant of Ottawa, who was present and on the platform.

The Hon. Mr. Beck will probably succeed Dr. Adami as president. The next meeting of the association takes place in Ottawa.

Dr. Gordon, of Ottawa, in reporting the progress of the Lady Grey Hospital, stated that as a result of the health campaign in the Capital over 300 houses had been condemned as being unfit to live in.

WIRELESS TO BE COMPULSORY

Service on all Ocean Ships Engaging Attention of British Government

POST-OFFICE BUDGET.

Government Will Build Its Own Tube Railway For Mails in London.

London, May 21.—Mr. Samuel, postmaster-general, in submitting the post-office budget in the House of Commons yesterday, said the questions of compulsory wireless installation on ships and the conditions that should be imposed for continuous service were matters that were engaging the close attention of the President of the Board of Trade and himself. Probably they would be considered at the international conference on wireless telegraphy in London next month.

Provisional arrangements, added Mr. Samuel, had been made with the Marconi Company for the erection through the British Empire of wireless stations able to communicate with each other at a distance of 2,000 miles or more. Six stations would be erected at first. One would be in England. Probably the next two would be located respectively in Egypt and British East Africa. There would be another in India, another at Singapore, another in South Africa, and the Australian Government would erect one for itself. The cost in round figures for each station, excluding the sites of the buildings, would be £60,000.

Mr. Samuel, referring to the growth of postal business in London, said the post-office contemplated constructing its own tube railway, running east and west, for the convenience of mails and parcels. Mr. Samuel said a fifty per cent reduction in telephone charges between England and France had not yet been effected because the new cables had not yet been connected by land lines to Paris. Steps were being taken to extend telephonic communication with the Continent, and it would not be long before London was in communication with Berlin.

DRILLED HOLES IN MOUNTAIN

C.N.R. Engineers Started Today to Investigate Rock Formation

EASY TO TUNNEL.

Only the Root of an Old Volcano to Go Through, is Chief's Opinion.

Another step in the preparatory work for the boring of the C. N. R.'s tunnel through Mount Royal was taken this morning, when the railway began drilling holes in the mountain to determine the exact nature of the rock formation through which it must pass. So far the C. N. R. officials have had very little positive data upon which to work but have planned their great work, believing that the actual work of cutting through the heart of Mount Royal would offer no great obstacles to progress. The drilling operations now under way will determine that matter, however. A number of small holes will be bored from the face of the mountain to the grade line of the tunnel.

'Do you expect to find any great difficulties in cutting the tunnel?' a 'Witness' reporter asked Mr. S. P. Brown, the chief engineer this morning.

'No, I do not. From what I have seen and been able to learn, I think we will be able to make good progress. There is only the root of the old volcano remaining, and I do not think we will be hindered by any subterranean pipes leading to the opening. 'No, I think it will go nicely.'

Mr. Brown aded that he expected to begin the actual tunnel construction at the outer end within two months. The machinery required will arrive about July 1st. A cutting is now being made by 75 men about 500 feet south of the C. P. R. tracks. This cutting, from which 100,000 cubic yards must be excavated, will vary in depth from the level at the outer end to forty feet when the tunnel portal is reached.

'When will work begin on the terminal on Dorchester Street?'

'Oh, now you want to lead me into the realm of prophecy,' was his jocular reply.

SWORN IN AS PROTHONOTARY

Mr. L. P. P. Cardin Assumes Office on His Seventy-First Birthday

Mr. L. P. P. Cardin, ex-M.P.P. for Richelieu County, was sworn in as prothonotary for the Department of Montreal to-day. Mr. Cardin says there have been three remarkable coincidences in his life. He was born on May 21, 1841, was married on May 21, 1861, and was sworn in as prothonotary on May 21, 1912. He is seventy-one years of age to-day, and he has a father living, who is 91 years of age.

Mr. Cardin up to the end of the last Legislature was one of the oldest members in the province. He has been almost continuously in the House since 1886, and he retired from contesting the late elections on account of his appointment as prothonotary. His home is at Sorel.

QUITE SATISFIED.

Appointment of Captain Demers Pleases Everyone.

There is general satisfaction in shipping circles, over the appointment by the Harbor Commissioners of Captain L. A. Demers as Harbormaster to succeed Mr. James McShane, who resigned nearly a year ago.

Captain Demers is a man qualified by experience both at sea and on shore for the post, which is a most difficult one to fill. Captain Demers has been a sailor all his life, and has been in the Government service for over twenty years. He was an official of the Marine Department for some time, was examiner of candidates for masters and mates certificates and had charge of the pilotage of the port. In 1909 he was appointed acting wreck commissioner, and in 1910 the appointment was confirmed. Captain Demers who is 46 fears of age, is a fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society, and the Royal Society of Naval Architects.

2,000 CHURCHES PASTORLESS

Surprising Statement Made at Presbyterian General Assembly

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—After the surprising declaration that there are 2,000 churches in the United States 'pastorless and shepherdless' had been made in the General Assembly of the North Presbyterian Church to-day resolutions were adopted urging that all Presbyterian commissioners (laymen) keep in close touch with young men who might be candidates for the ministry.

The Rev. Joseph W. Cochrane, of Philadelphia, discussing a minister's living chances, declared: 'We hear advices to the effect that a man to be a minister must starve. I never knew that to be true. I'll admit that the salaries are not princely, but it cannot be remedied except by this very assembly.'

Immediately the Rev. Dr. Henry J. Becker, of Dayton, interrupted hundreds of grey haired men of the ministry annually are cast aside, he said. Men of brains, education and good records are eliminated for no other reason than that they are too old.'

This Dr. Becker attributed to the gradual decline of successful candidates for the ministry. The young men need the advice and counsel of their elders, but how there are too few elders.

The General Assembly to-day proceeded with consideration of a report on a new intermediate catechism and a mass of other technical tasks.

THE COAL STRIKE

Men Not Satisfied with Minimum Scale Decisions.

London, May 21.—The Miners' Federation met to-day to discuss with the district boards the decision of the various minimum scale decistons throughout the coal fields.

There was much dissatisfaction with these decisions, especially in South Wales, where they were considered to have been invariably against the men.

It is believed certain the government would be appealed to for further legislation to reorganize the boards.

BIRD HUNTERS CAPTURED

Game Wardens Liberated Decoy Birds Along With the Others

Inspector Phillips and Murray, of the Provincial Game Warden's Department, had a busy day on Sunday, pursuing song-bird hunters around Longue Pointe. The beautiful day lured many alleged sportsmen to the woods, as well as provoked every bird in the trees to sing his loudest and merriest. Mr. J. R. Innes, secretary for the Society for the Protection of Fish and Game, suspected that it would be an ideal day to hunt bird-hunters, so he had his officers on the spot until late at night. Many hunters were searched and guns examined by the two inspectors. Only in one instance was any resistance offered them when they demanded a look at the weapons carried.

Two men were caught trapping yellow warblers. They had a two compartment cage with two decoy birds confined in an inner cage. One of the decoys was a young bird—just beginning to sing—but the other was an experienced one, and sang and chattered until he attracted the attention of his wild friends and lured them within the steel wires. When the inspectors arrived on the scene, four warblers had fallen victims to his wiles and been removed by the hunters to a canvass bag. Not being injured in any way, the officers liberated the captives and sent with them the two decoy birds. The old one was valued at $10, and had been carefully trained for many months. Two crest-fallen hunters watched the songsters disappear; their troubles were increased, however, when informed that they must appear before a magistrate and give an account of their doings. To-day, however, an additional one came to them, for, failing to appear yesterday, a summons was issued for their appearance.

SPEAKS HIS MIND

Mayor Says Real Estate Prices Are Too High in Cote des Neiges Ward.

Mayor Lavallee told a deputation from Cote des Neiges ward to-day that if they sued the city to have the widening of the Cote des Neiges road hastened it would throw the matter in the courts and delay matters two or three years. An argument of the deputation that the city should buy property in that ward as soon as possible in order to take advantage of the present prices before values rose, His Worship said that the present figures asked were too high, and they would come down, for it would be twenty years before the city got up to that locality.

TROOPS ORDERED READY IN CUBA

Newspapers Complain that Reports of Negro Rising are Being Withheld

Havana, May 21.—The Cuban government disclaims any further knowledge regarding the uprising of the negroes, but the opinion is spreading generally that conditions are rapidly becoming more serious.

It is credibly reported that two armed parties are operating in the Province of Matanzas which hitherto has been reported tranquil.

Orders were issued this morning for additional troops to be prepared and to stand in readiness to take the field.

The newspapers complain that the government is holding up all press despatches from the disturbed districts.

Havana, May 21.—General Evariste Estenoz, one of the Liberal leaders, and General Ivonet, are directing the movements of the negro insurgents in the Province of Oriente, where the situation has become most serious, according to despatches received by the government this morning. The loss of the negroes has not been ascertained.

Kingston, Ont., May 21.—The sheriff who arrived from Woodstock to-day with K. R. McKay, given ten years in the penitentiary for crime, found himself in a peculiar position. He neglected to bring papers of commitment, and as a result the prisoner could not be handed over to the prison authorities.

He is being kept in a cell at police station until the papers are sent on from Woodstock.

SECOND HALF OF FUND NOW

Workers in Diocesan Cause Encouraged by Success So Far

BIG DONATIONS NEEDED.

Can Be Spread Over a Period of Five Years, if Necessary.

Last week closed with half of the $250,000 subscribed or promised, and it was with a spirit of confidence that the promoters of the Diocesan Campaign Fund met at the Freeman's Hotel yesterday on the commencement of the second week wherein they hope to raise the other half of the huge amount required.

It is a stupendous undertaking, but the workers, stimulated and encouraged by the results of the past week, when, despite the counter attraction of the election, half of the amount was realized, feel determined that this week will see them come out victorious, from a hard and keenly fought battle.

While welcoming the donations of the rank and file, the promoters of the campaign hold the conviction that this fund will have to be raised by the generous subscriptions of the few who are in a position to give on a large scale. Many appeals have been made during the last ten days, by the various clergy of the city, but Canon Paterson-Smyth did not hesitate to do so to his congregation again yesterday morning. He hoped the churches of the diocese would rally around for the continuance of the campaign.

The Rector of St. George's urged two points, first that it was not the failure of the church, but its increased success and opportunities that had made this appeal necessary, and that the church in Montreal was growing in such rapid strides that increased churches with consequent increase of help were needed.

At to-day's luncheon Mr. R. Wilson-Smith again presided. In his opening statement he said they would be pleased to hear that the fund was now half raised, which, he thought, was very gratifying, indeed. He might also state that the several who had promised subscriptions—and he noped they would be big ones—were not included in that amount.

He also wished to mention that any subscription could be spread over for a period of five years. He hoped they would get some new workers and congratulated those who had already worked during the last week, adding that the committee were not satisfied with the result. 'I think we can rely upon the churchmen of Montreal to come forward, and now they understand the whole circumstances of the case will not be found lacking in their support for this movement,' concluded the chairman.

The Rev. Dr. Symonds said the fund appealed to him largely. On the first day it appealed to him on account of the personnel of those who were working it. He thought it was a splendid thing to see in that why 110 members of leading laity who had banded themselves together in one united effort for that new work. It also appealed to him on account of its object, and he was quite sure that there was not in the City of Montreal a single individual who could deny that the objects of campaign were extremely worthy. The cost of living of their clergy had certainly increased, and in most cases it was quite impossible for them to live in the stipends they were drawing at the present time. He sincerely hoped that there ambitions would be fulfilled in every way, and that the $250,000 would be more than realized.

Mr. Edgar Judge announced the receipt of $1,150 more, and Mr. Willis, $1,400 additional subscriptions, while the chairman announced two additional sums of $500 each, one of which was sent by the wife of one of their best subscribers. He extended a most hearty welcome to any other helper who would care to come to lunch at that hotel any day at 12.30 this week.

Col. Hibbard spoke a few words and reported a donation of a hundred dollars from a little country parish, and a subscription of $200 to the endowment fund of that parish.

Bishop Farthing urged as many of the workers as possible to be present at the Fund Offices to-morrow morning when the list would be revised.

FANFARES OF PUBLICITY.

Dallas, Texas, May 20.—Advertising men from all parts of the United States and Canada reached Dallas today, each delegation coming with some startling variety of noise or decoration designed to impress others with the importance of the particular town from which each hailed.

It was the signal for the beginning of the annual meeting of the associated Advertsing Clubs of America. The first feature to-day was the automobile parade, in which each delegation was expected to launch some startling innovation that would bring glory to its native city. There were fanfares of "publicity" from almost every city in the country. Toronto, Ont., is after the next convention.

STREET RAILWAY DISPUTE.

Ottawa, May 20.—Mr. Justice McDougall, of Hull, has been appointed by the Department of Labor, chairman of the Board of Conciliation on the Ottawa Electric Railway labor dispute. Mr. Travers Lewis, K.C., represents the company, and Mr. M. Draper, secretary of the Dominion Trades Congress, the men.

INCORPORATED 1855

THE NEW HARBOR MASTER.

CAPT. L. A. DEMERS, formerly Dominion Wreck Commissioner, who succeeds Mr. James McShane.

WOULD NOT AID UNIVERSITIES

The granting of $10,000 each to McGill and Laval Universities, as recommended by the Board of Control, was considered by the aldermen in caucus yesterday.

Basing his objections against these grants on some letters demanding improvements in Notre Dame de Grace Ward, one of which said: 'I voted for you because I thought you were an honest man. Now I think you are as bad as the rest,' Ald. McDonald drew a picture of many needed improvements in his ward, such as the installation of new water services, the repairing of sidewalks, and the laying down of these where there are none at all. He said in these circumstances the City Council should not give away such a sum.

Ald. Ward objected to the grant on the ground that many other things were wanted in the city which could not find money for them.

Ald. Ly. A. Lapointe said it was not said in the report whether the Controllers intended to make this an annual grant or to make it a perpetual obligation.

The report will probably be deferred by the City Council.

HAMILTON MURDER

Hamilton, Ont., May 19.—A most shocking deliberate murder and suicide occured here shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and both of the principals are dead. The tragedy was first enacted at the corner of Market and Park streets, the victim in his instance being Mrs. Frank Truckle, who until a short time ago lived with her husband near the Wood market. The scene was then shifted to the vicinity of the Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo tunnel on Hunter street, whither the murderous husband of the woman had fled after committing the crime and where, being hotly pursued by the police and a number of citizens, he shot himself. He was immediately taken to the City Hospital and placed upon the operating table, but all efforts to save his life proved unavailing and he died at 1.40 o'clock this morning.

TO COST OVER $600,000

Three Tenders Were Received For Building City Hall Annex.

Tenders were opened for the building of the new City Hall annex yesterday.

Messrs. Peter Lyall and Company made a bid for $649,000; and asked for 425 calendar days to complete its construction.

Mr. C. E. Dickens submitted a tender for $678,000 and a stipulation for 400 days to finish the work.

Mr. Joseph Bourque tendered for $725,000, and wanted two years' time for the contract.

The tenders were submitted to the City Engineer for a report.

AGRICULTURE SUBSIDY.

New Brunswick First Province to take Advantage of It.

Ottawa, Ont., May 20.—New Brunswick is the first province to take advantage of the subsidy provided for by Parliament last session to encourage the development of agriculture through co-operation between the Dominion and the Province. An agreement providing in general terms for the way the money has been spent has passed the cabinet, and will be signed this week by the two governments.

A SYMPATHETIC THRONG.

Copenhagen, May 20.—Over thirty thousand people were in line when the doors of the chapel, where the body of the late King Frederick VIII. of Denmark is lying in state, were thrown open at ten o'clock. The people have been gathering since three o'clock. The progress of the column which circulates without cessation round the coffin is so slow that many of these waiting cannot hope to enter the chapel to-day.

DIED IN ANGUS SHOPS.

Andrew Gordon, 54 years of age, of 315 Frontenac street, died suddenly yesterday in the Angus shops while at his work. His fellow workmen saw Gordon collapse and hastened to his assistance. A physician was summoned, but Gordon was beyond medical aid when he arrived. Heart failure is given as the cause of death. The body was taken to the morgue, but the case will be disposed of without calling a jury.

COCAINE FIEND'S SENTENCE.

Wm. Burkins, charged with having cocaine in his possession, was sentenced yesterday to a year in jail and $200 fine, or an additional six months.

POLITICIANS GO FISHING

Pleased With Results of Elections Leaders Seek the Quiet of the Streams.

After their strenuous campaign and remarkable victory at the polls, most of the cabinet ministers are making arrangements for taking a short, but well-earned holiday.

Sir Lomer Gouin will go on a fishing expedition about the middle of this week up in the Laurentians, north of Quebec. He will be accompanied by the Hon. Mr. Taschereau, Minister of Public Works, and Mr. Charles Lanctot, assistant Attorney-General.

The Hon. Jules Allard, Minister of Lands and Mines, is going to New York, and then down to Atlantic City for a holiday trip next week.

Sir Lomer arrived in the city on Sunday, and attended to some private business yesterday. He also spent a few minutes at his office at the Court House at noon. He is feeling well and as happy as a lark at the outcome of the elections. Last night he returned to Quebec, going down the river by boat.

The Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, provincial treasurer, is also in the city, and wears a very broad smile when reference is made to the result of the elections in the Eastern Townships, where the Liberals captured every seat. He is not going to take a holiday. Pressure of business prevents him, he says.

The Hon. Jules Allard, who also took a leading part in the fight in the Eastern Townships, attributed the great victory to the government's good roads policy, the attention given to primary education and the improved financial condition of the province. The people did not take any stock, he said, in the Opposition's criticism about the big technical schools. They realized that the time was past in Quebec for doing things on a small scale.

REVISING CHARTER

Controllers Favor Proposal and Want Autonomy.

The matter of revising the charter of the city came before the caucus of aldermen at the City Hall yesterday. The Controllers advise the appointment of officers to draw up a draft of the revised charter, and to ask the legislature for further powers so as not to render it necessary to go to Quebec for leave to adopt every little innovation. They also want a further measure of autonomy.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe said the proposal for this revision came originally from the Legislation Committee, and he had suggested it to the Controllers in 1910.

He also said that this task should be entrusted to an outside commission of experts.

BRIDGE SWUNG

Auto Plunges Into River Drowning Three Men and Two Women.

Chicago, May 20.—Five persons, three men and two women, were drowned early to-day, when the automobile in which they were riding, plunged into the Calumet river at the Ninety-second Street bridge.

None of the names of the victims so far has been learned by the police, and only one of the bodies has been recovered. One of the women jumped into the river as the embankment was reached, according to a watchman.

The automobile, which was going 30 miles an hour, turned completely over as it went into the river. Only one of the party was seen afterward. One of the men swam for several minutes. The watchman threw a life preserver to him, but he apparently did not see it, and went down.

The bridge had been swung to allow a boat to pass, and although a warning was shouted to the driver of the machine by the watchman, the former was unable to apply the brakes in time to avoid the accident.

SAILORS FIGHT BATTLE.

Used Carving Knives and One is in the Hospital.

William Lennie, 52 years of age, charged with stabbing Richard Leevet, 45 years of age, with a carving knife, in a drunken duel, in their boarding house at 85 Youville square, was arraigned before Judge Lest, in the Arraignment Court yesterday. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the 28th. The injured man is in the General Hospital.

The two men are sailors, and the stabbing was the result of one man claiming to be superior to the other in the use of foils. Both were under the influence of liquor. The two men grabbed up carving knives from the table and began to fight. Leevet fell to the floor with a stab wound in the right side of his chest, and was rushed to the General Hospital. Lennie was arrested by Constable Meilancon and locked up in police headquarters.

CLEANING UP GARBAGE.

May 23 is Day Set For Removal of Rubbish and Cleaning Lanes.

Mr. Chenevert, superintendent of the Incineration Department, issued notices yesterday that on May 23 the garbage carts of the department would make the round of all the lanes of the city at seven in the morning and remove garbage. He said that the people are requested to put out all their garbage for removal and to remove their garbage receptacles in an hour of its collection. The lanes will also be cleaned on this day.

The total collections for Tag Day on Saturday are $14,850. The money was deposited with the St. Catherines street East branch of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank. The city's contribution to Tag Day is to be $100. A report for this amount has been sent by the Board of Control to the City Council.

It is stated that over 80 percent of the shareholders of the Niagara Navigation Company have already accepted the offer of the Richelieu interests, and the remaining amount is only outstanding because it is in the names of different estates or people who are living at a distance from Canada.

The directors of the Richelieu Company meet to-morrow to receive the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the matters regarding the purchase of the Inland.

MARKET STILL ACTIVE WITH STEEL COM 69

The stock market was dominated by four special issues this morning, via Steel Common, Richelieu, Canadian Pacific and Canada Car.

Over five thousand shares of Steel were traded in at prices ranging between 68¾ to 69.

Richelieu was slightly stronger, as was also Canada Car. Canadian Pacific opened at 266, after which it dropped to 264½, and rose again to 265¼, at which it closed. Iron preferred sold at and just under 106. The rest of the market was uneventful. Bonds were quite active.

New York, May 20.— Wall Street—Noon: Irregularity of the first hour became marked later, Lehigh yielding more of its gain, and Reading selling under Saturday's close, also Steel, Amalgamated, Smelting and other market leaders. Harriman shares were relatively firm, with little change in standard railway issues. Manipulative tactics in specialties were continued, Rubber common rising four points, with material gains in such speculative stocks as American Ice, Texas Company, Colorado Fuel, International Harvester, Sears, Roebuck and American Car and Foundry. The rise in rubber was attended by rumors of an increased dividend. Canadian Pacific fell over a point, with one point losses in Brooklyn Transit and Northern Bonds were easy.

Money Tight and Discount Rates Firmer In London

---Market Closed Steady

London, May 20.— Money was tight and discount rates were firm to-day. The Bank of England secured the bulk of $3,600,000 new gold offered in the open market. The stock market was quiet owing to the approaching Whitsuntide holidays. Gilt edged securities drooped on the money outlook, and weakness developed in home rails on reports of trouble with the transport workers. Paris offered Rio tintos and Peruvian bonds, but the foreign section generally was fairly steady. American securities opened quiet and about unchanged. The market declined after the opening, but recovered on light covering before noon. Later New York supported the light and prices hardened a fraction. The closing was steady.

The notes were to cover the cost of 5,000 cars divided between the G. T. R. and the G. T. Western, the amount being $4,483,675. The terms were $543,675 cash, and the balance 5 percent each six months for ten years.

RAILWAY ISSUE IS A FROST

St. John, N.B., May 18.—It is understood here that the effort being made in London to float a new issue of $373,285 St. John nand Quebec Railway four percent debentures endorsed by the government has thus far been unsuccessful.

They were offered at 98½, but British investor sevidently consider at rate of interest too low. The hitch which has occurred in regard negotiating the Valley Railway bonds probably accounts for the uncertainty in regard to the date of the Provincial elections.

OGILVIES MAY ISSUE BONDS?

It is expected that the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, which at the present time is erecting new mills and elevators in the West, will make provision for the payment of same by an issue of bonds.

STEEL MEETING EARLY IN JUNE-- DIRECTORS MET

Mr. Plummer Pleased With Several Finances of Big Sydney Company

Mr. J. H. Plummer, who has just returned from England, presided over a meeting of directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation, yesterday.

On being asked by the 'Witness,' whether he had any announcement to make, Mr. Plummer said that the date of the annual meeting had not been decided upon, but that it would fall in the first half of June. It depended upon how soon the financial statement could be issued.

Are matters satisfactory at the plant and mines? the president was asked.

'Yes,' he replied, 'work is proceeding very satisfactorily indeed. We are experiencing some little delay in new construction, but this is due to temporary causes.'

'What is the latest word in connection with the new financing?

'That is not within my province to discuss. I cannot say whether the English purchasers of the preferred stock are going to exercise their option on the common or not, neither can I discuss the listing on foreign Bourses.'

'To what do you attribute the phenomenal success of the preferred issue in London,' was asked, with a remark touching the supposed congestion of Canadian issues there.

'I should say that it was due to the fact that the terms were attractive, and that purchasers considered that the investment was a good one.'

It is pertinent to remark, at this point, that while Mr. Plummer holds the above opinion, he quite overlooks an important fact which is not thus easily passed over by the directors and shareholders. This is the part played by his own attractive personality, which would be appreciated, above all places, in England.

MR. HOSMER SEES MUCH OPTIMISM AMONG BRITISH

Mr. Charles R. Hosmer has returned from London, and is now a very busy man. Since his return to Montreal he has had his time taken up by business and social friends who, solicitations allow him little time for application to business.

When seen by the 'Witness' to-day Mr. Hosmer was not in a mood to discuss business conditions at any length. 'I feel the loss of Mr. Thompson very greatly,' he said, 'and I am quite sure that this country has lost in him a valuable asset. His abilities were greater than the popular estimation of them.'

Talking hurriedly of general business conditions in England, Mr. Hosmer stated that he never found the people of England more optimistic. There is as usual a tremendous amount of money for investment purposes,' he said, 'and of late investors have made considerable money in such Home securities as Underground Railways, Shipping Securities and certain industrials.'

'The political side of the situation has very much displeased the British electorate, and just now Westminster is attracting little attention. I am pleased to say that the banks are in splendid shape to handle any commercial or industrial emergency, and while the country was somewhat disturbed over the recent coal strike, the effects are rapidly disappearing.'

'The English Capitalist,' he concluded 'continues his interest in Canada financially and otherwise, and it was rather interesting to hear predictions made that Canadian Pacific is destined to touch the 300 mark, while other leading Canadian issues are being well received.'

Mr. Hosmer is naturally pleased to be back to the scene of his greatest activities. His trip abroad has been beneficial, although this is temporarily obscured by the death of the late Mr. Thompson.

The offerings of live stock at this market during th week were 800 cattle, 1200 calves, 275 sheep and lambs and 1680 hogs.

The threatening rain seemed to have a depressing effect on the market, but with such small supplies, the prices had an upward tendency.

Prime beeves sold at 7½c to 8c per lb.; pretty good animals, 5¾c to 7¼c, and the common stock, 4¼c to 5½c per lb.

Calves sold at 2½c to 6½c per lb

OTTAWA MARKETS.

Ottawa, May 20.—A feature of t market was the retention in the rise meats. While there lots of veal th was not any lowering of price, probably because the beef and pork rates remained at an exorbitant figure. A few of the very best hindquarters of veal reached as high as 13c per lb., but good quality could be had for 11c and 12c. Pork was scarce, and stiffened considerably, some light carcases being weighed up at as high a figure as $14 per hundredweight, while beef by the carcase went to the same price. Rhubarb, lettuce and onions were afeature, and these showed a corresponding fall in price. Rhubarb now can be had at 40c to 50c a dozen, onions, 15c a dozen, and lettuce 10c to dozen. Butter is not very plentiful, due to the fact that more milk is being consumed by the cheese factories, but there was enough to keep the price at current rates, 25c to 28c for creamery, and 23c to 25c for pails. Eggs stiffened a little, and 25c was the general price. Oats and hay remained scarce, and for the former as high as 60c a bushel was paid, while some hay went up to $17 a ton, but this only for exceptional qualities. Veal skins, $1 to $1.25 each; cow hides, trimmed, 10c to 11c per lb.; sheepskins, $1 to $1.25 each.

SOME CAUTION IS NECESSARY IN DOMINION STEEL

Present Price Looks High Enough--Company, However, Progressing

The little reaction now proceeding in Dominion Steel Common following its ascent to 69, has caused a few timorous people to indulge in fears that a slump in the stock may be imminent. Such misgivings, however appear to be groundless, although we do not hesitate to offer the opinion that the stock has been pushed high enough for the present. The rumors of a few extremists that the stock is likely to be put on a five percent basis has considerable disapproval, in Conservative circles. It is not at all likely that Mr. Plummer or his directors would consider such a step at this juncture.

Prospective dealers in the stock should simply weigh the matter carefully before maiking a commitment, and not be overturned by the gusts which are applied by the bull and bear camps. The stock is selling at a reasonable level now, and prospects are certainly good as far as the business end of the Steel Company is concerned. It seems that a growing quantity of the stock is being held abroad as well as in Canada for investment, and that much of this is by men whose business acumen is well proved.

We are inclined to believe that the coming annual statement will be somewhat stronger than the generality of speculators suppose. The business at the Sydney plant as well as the Dominion Collieries has been making appreciable gains lately, and one can only assume that the Dominion Steel Corporation has at last entered upon a period of prosperity.

The reception given the recent issue in London can be accepted as evidence of the confidence placed in the big Steel plant by the English investor, who has no doubt studied its possibilities. In the meantime it might be advisable for local investors to move cautiously. Dominion Steel up to the present time has been largely a speculative stock, but it has now better prospects as being sought, and as a permanent investment. Give Dominion Steel its place.

More Grain Shipped From St. John this Year --Decrease in Some Grains

The total exports of grain for the season 1911-12 from the port of St. John, N.B., amounted to 7,068,029 bush. as compared with 6,317,968 for the previous season, showing an increase of 750,061 bushels. This, in spite of the fact that there was no corn shipped from that port this season as against 282,671 for the previous one, and that there was a falling off in the shipments of oats of over 295,000 bushels, and in barley of over 90,000 bushels.

The port made a remarkable good showing, which was due to the increase of over 47,000 cases rolled oats.

The exports of flour for the past season show a decrease of over 64,000 sacks, but there was an increase of over 49,000 sacks of oatmeal,and an increase ofover 47,000 cases rolled oats.

OPINIONS on the MARKET

Erickson Perkins and Company.—Stocks showed a good undertone, but this failed to stimulate any public buying. Even most of the specialities were neglected, but held well under evident manipulation. We do not expect much activity until people can get a line on the primaries. The strength of business situation and better crop news are the best features.

Chas. Head and Company.—The outlook is still ucertain, as the market is too professional to judge decisively. It is hoped the trading will turn to some of the better class of stocks and that the leadership will be taken from the manipulated pool shares, in which case more confidence would be felt.

P., 56 percent; Great Northern and Duluth, 9.4 percent. The total number of cars of wheat of the 1911 crop inspected at Winnipeg since September 1st last to the end of April was 136,404, as compared with 76,802 for the same time a year ago, the increase being 59,601 cars, or 77.6 percent.

WHAT SIR RICHARD SAID

Travers at Farmers' Bank Investigation Refers to Acting-Minister of Finance

A $3,000 CHEQUE.

Travers Refuses to Tell What Became of It, Being a Personal Matter.

Toronto, May 21.—That W. R. Travers, former general manager of the defunct Farmers' Bank, sent to the branches of that institution notes of subscribers for capital stock, had them discounted and then allowed the notes to figure in the government returns as paid-up capital, was the admission made by him when the investigation into the bank's affairs was resumed this morning. He also said that the bank had issued circulation on this basis, as business necessitated.

Any doubts he had as to the right of the bank to do this, he declared, had been set at rest by Sir Richard Cartwright, then acting Minister of Finance. Travers declared he had met Sir Richard on a dining car in March of 1907—he was not certain as to the date.

'I asked him whether it was irregular for a bank to issue circulation against good Farmers' notes,' said Mr. Travers.

Sir Richard replied: 'If you can't issue circulation against good Farmers' notes, what can you issue it against?'

Travers stated that he had not explained to Sir Richard that the notes he referred to were held and discounted by his own bank.

'Regarding the question as to who received that cheque for $3,000, which you refused to answer at the last sitting, have you thought it over?' asked Mr. Frank Hodgins.

'Yes,' replied Travers, 'I have also consulted my counsel. He advised me, to answer if it related to any one connected with the Finance Department. If it was purely a personal matter, he advised me not to answer. It is a personal matter, and I prefer not to reply.'

'What do you mean by a personal matter?' asked the commissioner, 'was it your money?'

Travers replied that he got the money in commission, but refused to say where he had paid it. 'We may get to that later,' remarked Mr. Hodgins.

After questioning Travers as to an item of $560 paid out in the provisional directors account, which Travers said he believed was for legal fees, Mr. Hodgins called Mr. W. J. Lindsay.

Chase Casgrain, K.C., Mr. Chas. Magrath and Mr. H. H. Powell, K.C., and Mr. Borden. The commission discussed with the Premier the general policy of the commission and the plans of making it of more use to Canada. The members of the commission find that they are at a great disadvantage when meeting with the American section. The American commissioners have behind them a body of trained and expert army engineers, who can readily investigate any question which arises. Their expert advice is of the greatest assistance to the American board. The Canadian commissioners can command no such body of thoroughly trained hydraulic and civil engineers, for no similar service exists in Canada. It is understood the commission urged that the creation of such a body of men be encouraged. The only case of importance which is before the commission is the application of the Ontario and Minnesota Power Company for the rights of power development on the Rainy River.

ENCROACHED.

Property Owners at Law Over Foundations.

A case is being argued before Mr. Justice Beaudin wherein the subterranean rights of the defendant to encroach on his neighbor's property with the foundations of his own building are involved.

The case is that of Dubreuil vs. Labelle, the former suing defendant for a sum of $60,000 in damages. In constructing the substructure of the building erected by defendant on St. Catherine street, near City Hall avenue, the contractor sank several piers varying from four feet square to ten feet by fourteen. They were sunk in such a way that the centres were flush with the dividing line between defendant's and plaintiff's land. Defendant contends that in order to secure the necessary foundation for the steel work supports he had to sink the piers so that the supports would rest in the centre. It is contended that no injury had been done plaintiff, as he could use the piers if he decided to build.

Plaintiff asserted that it was not necessary to place the piers in the manner, and pointed to other large buildings the substructure of which did not encroach on neighboring land. He further maintained that he could not make use of the piers for the very reason that as defendant's alleged, rendered it necessary for him to sink the piers as he did.

Evidence of a technical nature was introduced this morning showing that it was necessary to have the weight in the centre of the piers.

Mr. N. K. Laflamme, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ernest Pelissier, K.C., for defendant.

CROWN RESERVE CASE

Original Syndicate Sues for Balance of Working Capital.

A transaction entered into when the Crown Reserve Mining Company was formed had its sequel in the Superior Court yesterday in the case of Black et al. vs. the Crown Reserve Mining Company.

The properties of this company were acquired from a syndicate composed of the six plaintiffs, and apart from individual allotments of stock made in favor of each member of this syndicate, a block of 570,000 shares was set aside, for organizing expenses and working capital to be used from time to time as the directors deemed prudent. Of this number of shares 339,000 have been disposed of to date and plaintiffs maintain that the flourishing condition of the company puts an end to the trust whereby these shares were held by the directors. They claim that the residue of 231,000 shares should be distributed pro rata among the original members of the syndicate.

The company, on the other hand, contends that the original members of the syndicate in accepting the allocation of the stock gave a discharge to the company and that in consequence they have no proprietory right to the shares involved. Moreover, the properties are not fully developed, and, consequently, there may be further calls upon the working capital. The case was taken en delibere by Mr. Justice Demers. Mr. C. M. Cotton with Mr. Aimé Geoffrion, K.C., as counsel, appeared for plaintiff, and the defendant company was represented by Mr. J. E. Martin, with Mr. R. C. Smith, K.C., as counsel.

TUESDAY, MAY 21, 1912.

Mr Balfour foresees an Imperial Parliament at an early date. Though he has been, owing to his party relations, the leader of the enemies of the federal idea within the British Isles, he welcomes the same idea as the solvent of the Imperial question. We presume there are very few statesmen in the Empire who do not look forward to the same consummation with strong desire, if with differing degrees of expectancy. The difficulties in the way are admittedly great. The obstructions consist of existing institutions, which do not, as they exist, fit into such a structure. It is on all hands admitted that we cannot wash off the slate and proceed to construct a paper constitution, as the wise men of North America did. Changes must come by degrees along the lines of existing institutions, and each must be such as shall secure, not only a parliamentary majority, but also the consent of the parties to such change. For our part, we see in this Irish Home Rule measure a great move made in the direction of federalism, and consequently of voluntary and loyal imperialism, and we cannot but think that Mr. Balfour, who, with all his unreality, is astute, is quite aware that, in opposing Home Rule, as needs he had to, as representing the hereditary privileged class, whose dominance in Ireland was the real grievance all along, he was opposing a truly imperial principle.

The Minister of Finance, Mr. White, says there is no authority for the statement that tariff changes are about to be made in lumber, cement, agricultural implements, sugar, fence wire, coal oil, boots and shoes, and other articles in general use. 'In fact,' he adds, 'to make it more emphatic, the matter has not in any way been under consideration by the Government.' It would be better politics for Mr. White to put down the soft pedal in making such an announcement. The very vigorousness of it helps to rekindle the demand of those who object to the enthralling taxes. To be sure, it was hardly expected that the Government would be considering a change in these tariffs, for they would not dare raise them, and they were hardly elected to lower them. Yet there is no saying what may happen when the Government does come to consider. Just as strange things have come to pass as those suggested. It was the Conservatives that abolished the corn laws in Great Britain. It was the protectionist party in the United States that recently proposed reducing the rates on just these commodities. It may easily be that approaching western provincial elections will show the Government that a compromise is advisable. Mr. White will be better advised if he puts off his next questioner with more evasion.

We are glad to hear of an addition of fifty men to our civic police force. We presume that there is much truth in the answer that always comes to complaints of police inefficiency; that the force is altogether too small for the city. Not only is the city increasing in population in a remarkable way, but some of the new population needs more than its share of oversight, both as to the decencies of life and the King's peace. We have, too, a growing port, whose police duties the city has taken over, and are gaining an unenviable reputation for desertions of seamen. Then the modern rush of traffic has created new demands. The use of the automobile car, which goes twice as fast as the horse traffic, is a danger to life unless it is specially controlled. In other cities of this size there is on the leading avenues a policeman everywhere in sight with instructions to control the traffic. This is an obvious necessity here. If the Council has acceded to the demand for fifty more men, none too many, it will be for it to demand that the men shall be better versed than they have been in police duties as practiced in other communities.

Alderman Lanviere does well to use his large civic experience in keeping the administrative arm of the city government up to the mark. That, as we understand it, is what aldermen are chiefly for. In urging the change in our civic constitution for twenty years before it came, we always pointed out that the aldermen freed from the opportunities and foibles of patronage would be all eyes for the failures of the administrative branch. We find this notable change in Alderman Lanviere. When he was chairman of the Road Department sidewalks were laid, not which revealed cracks in two years, but which had pretty much crumbled away in that time. Take, for instance, that on Esplanade avenue. It was no good at all. But those were days when that sort of thing was to be looked for. The Board of Control will no doubt look well into the conditions complained of, and will hold the road department strictly to account for any scamping of the work.

What has become of our Metropolitan Parks' Commission? The Island of Montreal is, as we have from week to week continued to protest, being plotted out at an alarming rate by private interests, entirely regardless of any general plan or of the major interests of the city of the future. The months and years that have elapsed since this town planning movement began have been by far the most fatal in all our history, and yet nothing is done. Not only is the mainland, if we may so call it, of the island, being placed beyond the reach of improvement, except on preposterous conditions, but even the surrounding islands, every one of which ought to have been reserved long ago for public purposes, are being unmercifully cut up into building lots. Never were grander possibilities more recklessly squandered, and that with open eyes, and yet though the Provincial Government has obtained power to issue such a commission, so far as we can learn no commission has yet been appointed. Is it that, with the world to choose from, the right men cannot be found? We need to have our future as far as may be in view, both within the city and outside of it. We have been talking of opening in place of some degraded slum district a new city centre which might be glorified with monuments, and from which might radiate diagonal highways. But while we are talking of such things we are spending the greater part of a million dollars in enlarging our civic accommodation where it is. This may prove the best thing for the future, as well as for the present, but we do not yet know what we mean to do.

According to Mr. Henderson, of the Shantymen's Mission, we have a place in Canada where there are no ten commandments. Law enforcement there is practically none, and unlicensed liquor flows freely. He reports at one place liquor pouring in day after day at the rate of seventeen kegs a day. And this in Ontario! During railway construction in the Northwest, liquor was kept at a distance by the Mounted Police. But here they seem to swim in it, no doubt, enormously increasing the cost of construction, if not affecting its quality. We presume the same sort of thing is going on in our own province. Would it not be well for the provincial governments, being responsible for law and order, to take steps to have all lumbering and public works inspected, not perfunctorily by trumpeting the inspector's advent, but in such manner as to know what is really going on. This may be difficult with regard to some forms of neglect, as every visitor to such works is sure of no end of hospitality, and is necessarily dependent on it. But with regard to this liquor evil, all parties but the dealers would side with him who should expose it. The New York water supply commission had a special water supply police along its whole works. Why should not these provinces have the same for works going on in the bush. We have had evidences in the Northwest how much a few men could do in the preservation of order.

There is rejoicing in the United States, though of a rather gruesome nature, among thoughtful people, that a man has actually been executed for the crime of sending poison under the guise of medicine to a person whom he had wronged and so committed murder, and what is far more remarkable, considering local terrorism, that another man who had shot to death the prosecuting attorney in the court in which he was being tried, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. There is so much maudlin sentiment abroad that the incarceration of a murderer is sure to bring to him a shower of letters of sympathy. It is becoming next to impossible to secure conviction by a jury in a case that attracts much public attention, for the juries faithfully reflect the attitude of the people toward crime, as they were intended to do. Even after trial and conviction the case may linger for years in the higher courts if the defendant have money for defence. With this state of affairs crime is becoming continually more rife. Some of the sympathy for certain classes of crime is due to the feeling that the punishment is not the best that could be devised. This is a matter that should be corrected as soon as possible. The greater part of this revolt against punishment is, however, a morbid sympathy that is a menace to the nation. Humanity has not yet got beyond the necessity for the dread of punishment. Reward and punishment in some form or other are indeed, so far as we know yet, fundamental necessities to progress, both moral and industrial. It is an indisputable fact that quick justice and the death penalty, as they are administered in Canada and Great Britain, have kept us free from the shockingly large per capita crime of the United States. They have surely by now tested thoroughly their theory of non-punishment to the limit of endurance. It would be well to return to the old established order until they can devise some treatment that will be equally corrective.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

A very strange decision of the British Columbia Court of Appeals has been reversed by the Privy Council, the Labor interests of that province having had the pluck to carry it there. It was held by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company that it was not liable under the Workman's Compensation Act in the case of injury to men whose dependents lived in foreign countries. On this contention a great deal of liability hung, as the miners were largely from abroad. In defence of its position the company urged two pleas. One was that the legislation being provincial had no effect beyond the province. This plea is to all appearance singularly far reaching, and would curtail the reach of so many laws throughout the Dominion that it is a complete surprise to find a provincial court maintaining it, if indeed it was maintained. Among many other things, a company with a provincial charter could do no business outside of a province. We doubt if the coal company in question if it has its charter from the province could collect its Alberta debts. The other plea was that as this law was enacted to ensure the province against having itself to support the dependents of injured persons, it did not apply to those whose benefits would take money out of the province. This plea also proves too much. We are told that had the Privy Council maintained it with regard to an Austrian, the company would have claimed that Ireland was a foreign country under the act. Here is secession with a vengeance. But Ireland need not take umbrage, for the same reasons would make not only England but Canada foreign. But just think of what this contention, if this is the one that prevailed with the British Columbia Court of Appeals, means. It means that, in the eyes of that court, the Workman's Compensation Act of that Province was not enacted for the benefit of the work people at all, that, so far as they were concerned, their wives and children might perish of starvation, like nestlings whose parent bird had been shot. The only purpose of the law was to save the province from having to support such of the survivors as might claim aid as paupers.

SPIRIT BALDERDASH.

Mr. W. T. Stead and Sir Oliver Lodge were the two men best known to the English-speaking world as experimenters in Spiritualism. It is most natural then that Mr. Stead's death on the 'Titanic' should be immediately followed by a number of reports of seances at which mediums have received communications from the soul of the departed. Here is an account of one of these seances which, having appeared in the 'Daily Despatch' of Manchester, was thought worthy of being widely copied: 'The medium, 'who is the wife of a friend of Stead's, 'swooned. She jumped up, and seizing 'other women there, pushed them 'across the room, urging them to "Enter the boats." Afterwards she cried 'out, "God pity us." She followed this 'with "Thy will be done" and "Nearer 'My God to Thee." After an interval 'the medium spoke again. She said: "I 'know I have passed over. The past 'has been like a nightmare with a sud'den awakening." The question was 'asked, "Who are you?" and the me'dium replied, "I am Stead. I know 'where I am. I was here before, but 'was unable to make an appeal to all 'God-fearing men and women for help. 'I wish to break in the thought. It is 'easier to break in here than else'where. Could you see the misery of 'the lost; I saw it; your hearts would 'bleed for them; called to part with all 'their cherished hopes and plunge into 'the terrors of the unknown, you would 'weep and pray for them.'

These imaginary manifestations are going to be believed by many. Some will believe them just because they believe whatever they see in print unless it be politics. Others will believe because they have given their minds over to a belief in spiritualism. A large number who have maintained for themseves that most precious possession, the freedom of judgment, will weigh each account separately for internal signs of truthfulness. This particular account is a jumble of ideas that carries no conviction. The first sentences would denote that Mr. Stead's spirit is going about the world pushing men and women whom it finds in parlors into non-existent lifeboats. The next minute the spirit which had still thought itself to be on the sinking ship says it knows where it is, with the meaning that it knows itself to be in the house of the medium, and uttering a compliment to her by saying that it was easier 'to break in the thought' there than anywhere else. The last sentence is the most contradictory. It imagines a spirit saying to those yet alive that their hearts would bleed for them were they able to contemplate the misery of the lost when called on to part with all their cherished hopes and plunge into the terrors of the unknown. Yet the same spirit had said, in speaking of its own state but a minute before: 'The past has been like a nightmare with a sudden awakening.' Were it conceivable that the souls of the departed acted and spoke after this wild fashion there would be no use trying to communicate with them. All that makes the silly story worth notice is that there is sure to be a large crop of them. All the things the late Mr. Stead is imagined to have said in all the spirit parlors and through all the solitary mediums would probably, if collated, neutralize each other even in credulous minds, while they would greatly emphasize this criticism.

UNAVENGED

Employer Who Shamed Toronto Girl Will Escape Justice in the States.

Windsor, May 21.—The death of Anna Hailey, the 18-year-old Toronto girl who ended her life in a Detroit rooming house two weeks ago, preferring such an end rather than face her father and friends after having been shamed by her employer, W. A. D. Richards, also of Toronto, will go unavenged so far as the United States Government is concerned. An answer to a letter to Attorney General Foy was received yesterday by Immigration Inspector Frick, stating that it would be impossible to extradite Richards.

MANDATE TO CONTINUE

The Hon. P. S G. Mackenzie's View of the Liberal Victory

The verdict rendered by the people on the 15th instant is the expression of their entire confidence in Sir Lomer Gouin, their approval of his financial policy and a mandate from them to continue his enlightened and progressive policy, particularly with respect to public instruction and the improvement of the roads system of the province,' said the Hon. P. G. S. Mackenzie, Provincial Treasurer,

THE HON P. S. G. MACKENZIE.

in the course of an interview with the 'Witness,' and he added:—

'It was particularly gratifying to observe the noticeable influence of the articles appearing in the 'Daily Witness' on these and other topics in the recent campaign.' (He was referring particularly to the Eastern Townships, where the government won every seat in the whole district.)

It was Mr. Mackenzie's first visit to the city since the elections. He went down to Quebec by boat last night with Sir Lomer Gouin.

'I am quite satisfied with the results of the election,' he said. 'The issues between the Government and Opposition have been placed before the country clearly and frankly, and the electors have pronounced emphatically to sustain the government.

'The verdict was most complete inasmuch as every section of the province has pronounced strongly in favor of the government. In the Eastern Townships every seat was carried, in most cases by larger majorities, the government having captured from our opponents the three seats formerly held by them, Compton, Megantic and Shefford. The Eastern Townships now stand solid and entire.

'Great interest was manifested by the electors in the question of education, and there were to be noticed many evidences of an awakening on the part of the people and a desire for the improvement of educational institutions. I attribute this to the stimulating effect of the additional expenditure towards encouraging the municipalities to greater local effort to obtain the services of more qualified teachers, to advance their salaries and to provide improved buildings and better equipment. The Opposition had drawn the technical schools and School for Higher Studies into the vortex of political controversy.

'The verdict of the people gave great encouragement to the government to proceed with this splendid policy, and to further in the future all the branches of public instuction in this province.

'It was also most pleasing to notice the determination of the rural communities to improve their highways. The good roads movement has been advanced in this election to an incalculable extent. Everywhere the greatest interest is being taken. This was a campaign of education on the subject. The farmers particularly are taking hold of the question. They seem now to be determined to improve and provide roads that will enable them at less expense of time and money to bring their produce to the factories and markets and to the railways, as well as to bring their children to the schools and their families to the churches.

'In the Eastern Townships much good work has been accomplished in the last three or four years under the government's policy in this respect, but it is clearly evident that the act of last session providing for the expenditure of $10,000,000 will at once lead to work on a larger scale in the enterprise of building good roads throughout the province, and I expect to see during this season great activities in every quarter in this respect.'

SIR LOMER'S DELIGHT.

Sir Lomer Gouin, who was in the city yesterday, referred briefly, in an interview, to the elections. He was delighted at the result, he said.

'It was one of the pleasantest contests I ever took part in. The people made no mistake, and they rendered their decision carefully and deliberately.

'The federal influence was set to work all along the line. There was no sparing of promises or jobs nor of threats of dismissal. The province, however, was not to be influenced, and it deserves credit.'

BANQUET FOR MR. SEGUIN, M.P.P.

At a meeting of the Lemieux Club last night, it was decided to banquet Mr. Napoleon Seguin, the M.P.P. for St. Mary's division, in celebration of his remarkable victory last Wednesday. His majority of over 2,000 votes was the largest in the province. The banquet will likely be held at the Meilleur School. Messrs. Robert, Talbot and Gagne were appointed a committee to wait on the other Liberal clubs in the division in regard to the arrangements for the banquet.

Mr. Louis St. Martin offered to provide an orchestra at his own expense.

Other speakers were Messrs. Talbot, Bacon, Lebel and Dr. Desaulniers.

REFORM CLUB COMMITTEE.

At the annual meeting of the Montreal Reform Club to-night the committee of the club will be elected, all the other officers having been chosen by acclamation at last meeting.

POLE'S DEATH INVESTIGATED.

The adjourned inquest in the case of Yusiff Pinkuski, the Pole who was fatally burned by molten slag at the plant of the Steel Company of Canada last week, was concluded this morning when a verdict of accidental death was returned.

COLLIDED AT CORNER

Fire Ladder Truck Dashed into Car and Horse Was Killed.

A collision between a fire brigade ladder truck and a street car at Wolfe and St. Catherine streets early last evening, resulted in the killing of one of the horses on the ladder truck and the injury of a passenger in the car. The passenger was William Row, 36 years of age, of 2 Thibideau avenue, and he was taken to the General Hospital, where his cut head and bruises were dressed. The horse was shot by Sergeant Robillard to put it out of misery.

The ladder truck was racing down Wolfe street from No. 11 station in response to an alarm from Craig and Wolfe streets, and Fireman Talbot was driving a three-horse hitch, a leader and two pole horses. At St. Catherine the leader was struck by the car, the two pole horses fell over the injured horse and the truck hit the front of the car with tremendous force, breaking the glass.

The motorman claimed not to have heard the gong on the ladder truck, and did not see it until the horses dashed in front of the car. At Beaudry street the car had slowed to let a hose waggon pass, and it is thought that the motorman was watching the progress of the hose waggon down Wolfe street when he failed to notice the approach of the ladder truck. People on the sidewalk claim to have signalled the motorman to stop, but their signals were ignored.

The firemen, who were on the ladder truck, with the exception of Talbot, the driver, who clung to his seat, were thrown to the pavement by the force of the collision, but none of them were hurt.

The alarm to which the fire fighters were responding was for a blaze in a bedroom in the home of Leon Sanguinet, 600 East Craig street, which was put out with a couple of hand extinguishers before any serious damage was done. The outbreak was caused by the explosion of a lamp.

LONGUEUIL COUNCIL

His Worship Mayor Geoffrion presided over the regular meeting of the Town Council held last evening, when the question of annexing the Tunnel Terminals, Longueuil Gardens, Grise and Milette Farms, was discussed with Messrs. Martel, Ross and Quinn. The deputation was informed that they would first have to obtain the consent of the Parish Council to being annexed to the town and after they were annexed and gave the land for the streets, Council would open the streets and the proprietors would be treated the same as any other ratepayers of the town, and they would have the same privileges. The deputation was quite satisfied with their interview, and information.

The Boating Club, through its secretary, asked the Council to have a light placed at the foot of Victoria Avenue, and this was granted.

Mr. Frank Calder wrote protesting against carters being allowed to dump refuse on the vacant ground near Quinn Avenue, and it was decided to stop such proceedings.

The Permanent Works Committee was requested to interview Mr. W. B. Powell, manager of the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway, regarding the fixing and keeping in repair of streets on which their lines are laid; Mr. Powell having written to ask what the Council wished done.

Messrs. F. Hankin and Co. wrote asking for particulars, etc., respecting the gas plant which they had been informed the Council intended to install and their letter was referred to the committee.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall wrote informing Council that the Union of Canadian Municipalities would hold a conference at Hamilton on Aug. 27-29, and asking that representatives be sent, or subjects suggested for discussion. The letter was handed to Councillor Lalonde to reply.

Councillors Benoit, St. Mars, Garepy, Robert and Lalonde were present.

President Taft, Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court of the United States, members of the Cabinet and judges of the highest tribunal in this country have already signified their intention of participating in the ceremonial, and governors and other leading men of the various states will also be present.

Invitations are being sent out this week to Premier Borden, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec, and Cabinet ministers of the Dominion and the various provinces, as well as Sir Francois Langelier, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec; Mgr. Stagni, Papal Ablegate for Canada, and other public men throughout the Dominion, while special trains will bring thousands of members of the Knights of Columbus, including the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice; Dr. Guerin, ex-Mayor of Montreal, both past grand knights of Canada Council, Montreal, and Mayor Chisholm, of Halifax, who will take part with their brethren of the United States in the ceremony of unveiling the statue to the great discoverer whose qualities furnish the inspiration of their order.

The exercises attendant upon the ceremony will begin on Friday with an excursion to the tomb of Washington and a reception in the evening, when President Taft will head the receiving line. Saturday will see the actual ceremony of unveiling, when many thousand soldiers and sailors of the army and navy of the United States will participate in a grand parade, in which the Knights of Columbus will take a prominent part.

BABY POISONING.

Nurse is Charged With Putting Oxalic Acid in Their Milk.

New York, May 20.—Charged with poisoning nine babies by putting oxalic acid in their milk, a nurse, named Ankers, was placed on trial to-day before Supreme Court Justice Scudder in Brooklyn. The nine children died several months ago in an infants' hospital in Brooklyn where the Ankers' woman was employed as a nurse. The defendant has a baby of her own. Her counsel claims that the nurse was made the victim by one who did the poisoning and is being "railroaded" to prison.

THE PEACE CELEBRATION.

A circular has been issued by the committee having in charge the arrangements for the celebration of the century of peace between Canada and the United States, calling a general meeting of all sympathizers with the proposal to meet in the Railway Committee Room of the House of Commons at Ottawa, on Tuesday, June 4 next. If deemed advisable at that meeting, there will be formed then a Canadian National Association to co-operate with the committees in Great Britain and the United States, for the purpose of furthering this joint celebration. Last year a national committee was formed in New York, looking towards a joint celebration by Great Britain and the United States of a century of peace among English-speaking peoples, and that, recently, a similar movement has taken place in the United Kingdom, and an association has been organized under the able and zealous chairmanship of Earl Grey.

This century of peace will have been completed on the one hundredth anniversary of the Treaty of Ghent, which was concluded on Christmas Eve, 1814, and ratified on Feb. 17, 1815. It possesses a special interest for Canadians, inasmuch as Canada is immediately adjacent to the United States, and is the portion of the British Empire that witnessed the actual conflicts of the war of 1812-14.

The 'call' is signed by Messrs. Geo. A. Cox, R. Dandurand, L. A. Jette, A. Lacoste, Wm. Mackenzie, W. R. Meredith, Wm. Mulock, T. G. Shaughnessy, B. E. Walker.

CUBAN NEGRO CONSPIRACY

Discovered on the Tenth Anniversary of Independence

Havana, May 21.—There is no room for doubt last night of the existence of a negro conspiracy extending to all the provinces of the island, with the apparent intention of taking up arms against the Government. The plot was discovered yesterday, which was the tenth anniversary of Cuban independence. The negroes appear to have been roused to rebellion by the denial of what seems to them their just political rewards for services rendered in the war of independence in which they constituted a great majority of the Cuban forces.

The feeling against the Government has been intensified by a law denying the negroes the right to organize a political party.

The principal trouble now is in the vicinity of Sagua La Grande, in Santa Clara province, and Cruces, where two armed parties are operating, and in Oriente province, where several bands are converging on Guantanamo City, with the apparent purpose of making a display of force at that place. The Rural Guard succeeded in dispersing one small party and capturing two others.

The situation is considered sufficiently grave for the Government to despatch this evening a column of 1,200 men from Camp Columbia, composed of cavalry and infantry, with field and machine guns, bound for Santa Clara and Oriente provinces.

Near Sagua Le Grande a squad of rurales had an engagement with an armed band of negroes. One of the guard was killed and the negroes made their escape. From Cruces comes the report that the residents of the surrounding country are fleeing to the city for shelter. The insurgents are reported to have held up a locomotive and stolen many horses.

At Mariano, eight miles from Havana, the rural guard exchange shots with a party of negroes, capturing one of them and also nine rifles.

The secretary of the interior, Senor Bru, said last night that there was no doubt about the widespread racial conspiracy, which the Government is determined to deal with drastically, but that up to the present the only danger points are Santa Clara and Oriente. There are no symptoms of serious trouble, he added, in other parts of the island.

The situation resembles that preceding the last revolution, when the negroes in Febrary, 1906, conspired to make a simultaneous attack on all the rural guard posts, but only attacked that at Guanabacoa, the garrison of which was massacred. This was a prelude to the general rebellion which broke out in August of that year.

A late despatch received by the Government from Lejas, Santa Clara, says that a negro band headed by telegraph station at the Santissima plantation at Trinidad, in Santa Clara, and also burned a bridge of the railway from Sagua La Grande to Cienfuegos. Armenteros declares that it is his intention to do his utmost to destroy foreign property.

VERDUN

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held here last night, in the Town Hall, Mayor Allen presiding, and Aldermen Manning, Leclair, Bougie, Farrar, Rogers and Eveley present. The session was a very brief one, as the building by-law, which it had been convened to discuss, was not ready to be brought before the board.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall, secretary of the Canadian Municipalities, wrote inviting the Council to participate in the annual convention, to be held in the Windsor this summer. Action was deferred for one week.

Because of an alleged arrest made by the police force of the town, an action for damages was threatened by the injured parties. The secretary was empowered to place the matter in the hands of solicitors if the action was entered.

BALFOUR ON THE EMPIRE.

Local Patriotism No Obstacle to a Larger Patriotism.

London, May 21.—Mr. Balfour, speaking yesterday at the annual meeting of the Victoria League of the Empire, said: 'The British Empire presents a unique spectacle in the history of the world of an Empire joined together not by force, not even by constitutional ties, but by mutual affection, by a sense of common origin and common civilization, common inheritance of law, culture and freedom of their institutions. I believe the whole trend of events is bringing closer together the widely scattered elements out of which the Empire is composed; that as they have one after another left the position of tutelage under which they necessarily were in their early infancy, they are one after another developing into great states, so that they are more and more feeling that those great states are parts of one yet greater whole. I am a profound believer in the truth that local patriotism properly understood is no obstacle to a larger patriotism.'

FASHIONS FOR YOUNG GIRLS.

..Very smart and attractive is this little grey travelling suit of pale gray worsted mixture, trimmed with ball buttons of bluish gray metal. The hat is a Milan model in violet color with trimmings of white quills and ribbon. The long white silk gloves are embroidered with pale violet and the boots are particularly neat, with button-toned cloth tops.

The charming summer evening frock for the young girl, which is shown here, is all white, except for the smart black velvet sash and the cluster of red roses at the crossing of the fichu. This fichu and the short tunic are of lace, crystal fringe weighting tunic and sleeve. A line of diamante trimming outlines the V shaped opening of the fichu.

DRILL ON A LINER

'Victoria's' Crew Practised Fire Fighting and Life Saving.

There was unusual stir on board the Allan Line steamer 'Victorian' at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and a stranger visiting the wharf might well have thought the great ship was on fire, for at a given signal by Capt. Outram, the crew were seen to swarm the decks from every direction. There was no disorder, however, and each man was soon at his allotted place, some laying out hose ,while others were lowing the life-boats. Soon four or five streams of water were playing along the decks, and as some of them fought the imaginary fire others in the life-boats took a spin in the harbor.

Mr. Hannah, passenger manager of the line, who saw the drill, congratulated Capt. Outram on the work of the men, especially in the able way they handled the boats, the men at the oars rowing in perfect time.

Mr. Hannah remarked to a 'Witness' reporter that life-boats were of little use unless the crew could handle them, and that the crew of the 'Victorian' had shown their ability in this respect. Considerable criticism of late has been hurled at the different steamship companies in regard to the provisioning of the life-boats, when the fire alarm was given yesterday on the 'Victorian,' a band of stewards could be seen with the necessary provisions and blankets all ready to place into the boats. The boats themselves are practically unsinkable, as they are surrounded by an air-tight tank which will keep the boat afloat even if it fills with water.

Additional life-boats and rafts have been placed on the 'Victorian' as a result of the recent awful marine disaster.

ECHO OF PRETORIA.

Dangerous Now to Say Mr. Churchill Broke His Parole.

London, May 21.—With an apology offered in Mr. Justice Darling's Court yesterday, Mr. Winston Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty, ended the oft-repeated accusation that he broke his parole when he was a prisoner at Pretoria during the Boer war. This time it was reported by a writer in 'Blackwood's Magazine,' and led to the libel action which was settled yesterday by a complete withdrawal of the allegations.

The warning of Mr. Justice Darling that it would be a serious matter for anyone repeating the charge doubtless ends a subject which for years has been a source of annoyance to Mr. Churchill.

A LADY MINTO HOSPITAL.

The need of the people of the new provinces for nurses and proper attention in illness, especially of mothers when their children were born, made a strong appeal to the Countess of Minto when she was in Canada, and Her Excellency formed a scheme for opening cottage hospitals in the villages and small towns, the centres of large sections of farming country, away from the cities. The first of these cottage hospitals in the province of Alberta has just been completed at Islay, at a cost of $5,000, of which $2,000 was contributed from the Lady Minto fund, the remainder being collected by an English lady in Edmonton and in England. The little hospital has eight beds and two cots, and will be in charge of nurses of the Victorian Order.

MRS. PANKHURST'S PLEA.

Spoke With Emotion, Several Times Nearly Breaking Down.

London, May 20.— The most dramatic moment attending the suffragette trial in the Old Bailey court this evening was when a dressmaker, Lillian Bell, apparently a renegade to the cause, was put on the witness stand. She burst into tears and collapsed, looking pleadingly at the defendants in the dock.

Bouquets, which were noticeable hitherto, were not present to-day, as the sheriff had notified the spectators attending the trial that they would be allowed no longer.

At the conclusion of Mr. Pethick Lawrence's defence, Mrs. Pankhurst addressed the judge, speaking with great emotion and several times being on the point of a breakdown.

THE UNION LABEL

Municipal Officials Criticised by National Manufacturers for Insisting on Its Use.

New York, May 20.—Continued warfare on the 'closed shops' in the printing trade was urged in a report submitted to the seventeenth annual meeting of the National Manufacturers in session at the Waldorf-Astoria. Politicians and municipal officials were criticised for enforcing the rule of placing the union label on city printing.

'As the presence of a union label on printed matter is an indication that this emanates from a shop closed to non-union printers, it represents a discrimination against a great class of American workmen that should be the concern of every man who believes in an equal opportunity to labor. The committee advises those who believe in the principles of the "open shop" to return union label printing marked with appropriate comment, and to give patronage to printing concerns ignoring the union label.

Five hundred manufacturers from every section of the country are in attendance at the meeting.

PATRONAGE.

Halifax Conservatives Wish It Left in Hands of Government.

Halifax, N.S., May 21.—The Conservatives of the constituency of Halifax are not satisfied with the administration of federal patronage. There have been grumblings for a long time, and more than one meeting has been held. The feeling assumed more concrete form last night, when a gathering of over four hundred accredited representatives of the party met and passed a resolution. This resolution is addressed to the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, and expresses strong dissatisfaction with patronage committee of Halifax, which consists of five members. The resolution further asks that the patronage committee be dissolved, and that the old system be returned to, that is, that the patronage be left in the hands of the Government member for the county and his defeated colleague. The resolution passed unanimously, and was signed by 400 persons. It was ordered to be forwarded to the Prime Minister at once. The patronage committee consists of Mr. A. B. Crosby, ex-M.P., Mr. E. M. Walker, merchant; Mayor F. P. Bligh; Mr. T. F. Tobin, barrister, and Mr. R. P. Proctor, president of the Conservative Association.

ALISON'S MARRIAGE

OR

The Keepers at Home

By David Lyall

Copyright by David Lyall. (Messrs. Hodder & Stoughton, London.)

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Alison Fleming, a 'comely' woman of thirty-eight, whose mother died when she was a child, has spent her life keeping house for her father and mothering her younger brothers and sisters at Rochallan Manse, Scotland. She is much disturbed when her brother Patrick, the youngest of the brood, who succeeded his father as rector, and whose housekeeper she is, tells her that he is about to marry a young girl, Enid Brooke. This means that Alison must find another home for herself, and although she is far from wishing her brother to remain a bachelor, she is disturbed in mind. She cannot help recalling how calmly all her self-sacrifice has been accepted. She who gave up the chance of happiness with the man of her choice for her brothers and sisters, and who, through her own strenuous efforts, has placed them out in the world well equipped to hold their own, now feels unwanted. However, after talking the matter over with an old friend, Alison goes to call upon the young lady, and welcomes her to the family. Acting on the further advice of this friend, Alison decides to visit her brother, Guy, a doctor in the manufacturing town of Birtley, where her sister, Tibbie, keeps house for him. Soon after Alison's arrival her brother comes in with Mr. Crewe, the powerful magnate of Birtley. This financier, a man on the shady side of fifty, is a widower with four children. He seems to be unusually attracted by Alison's appearance, and invites her and her brother and sister to tea at Old Hall. They accept, and Mr. Crewe's children are strangely drawn to Alison. After a short visit Alison returns to Rochallan, and finds a note from Mr. Crewe, asking if he may call upon her. He comes and asks Alison to become his wife, and she, though professing no affection for him, accepts.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued.

Guy's ruddy face was a study. That he was immeasurably surprised was, of course, evident; but there was no consternation on his face. Men look at these things from a different standpoint; and he considered his sister Alison was more capable than most women of judging the affairs of life, especially where they concerned herself.

'Why don't you say something?' asked Tibbie with a feverish impatience.

'Well, I'm trying to get the hang of it. It's—it's stupendous! Tib, there's no doubt of it, and the haste of it is, well, a trifle indecent, isn't it?'

'Oh, I don't think that matters at all. If these things do happen, it's generally in a heap. Calamities are always in a hurry. Do you think we can possibly prevent it?'

'No, I don't; and if we could, why should we? What does Pat say?'

'I didn't bring his letter, but Pat thinks it's glorious, and is full of praise of Mr. Crewe and a sort of tardy appreciation of Alison, which rather made my gorge rise,' said Tibbie with candour. 'Of course it solves his immediate problem, but it is we know Mr. Crewe, Guy; Alison doesn't. Do you think we can let her do it, without telling her what we know?'

'After all, what do we know?' he asked, looking her straightly in the face.

Tibbie colored a little.

'I know some things which would prevent me from marrying him,' she said frankly. 'And of course it is quite common talk that he takes too much drink.'

'Alison might cure him, and probably will. We must suppose that he cares about her, because she has nothing but herself to give to a man like Crewe. Such miracles have been wrought in a man before now by such saving grace.'

'But I don't want Alison to marry a man to reform him,' groaned Tibbie. 'She would hate it all so desperately. And though she's so much older than me, she's a baby in innocence and purity. She has never seen anything, and when I would begin to tell her some of the experiences I've had here, among the folk, she would always turn the subject. She hates evil, and it has never come near her. I can't help feeling that for Alison marriage with Mr. Crewe would be a positively awful thing——'

Gavin observed that Tibbie had gone straight to the heart of things, deeper far than he, or any man, could follow her. And he was more than a little astounded at the depth and height and breadth of his little sister's observation.

'Oh well, Tib, we can't thrash it out here,' he said soberly. 'And anyway it's Alison's business. Of course it's a big thing for us as a family, in a way, and it'll give me Celia. I'm selfish enough to rejoice at that, and I hope that the view you are taking is too serious. I must be off.'

'Come home as soon as you can to dinner, for I feel as if I could never be done talking, and that at the end of it there would be things left to say. Oh, I forgot, he's coming tonight at nine o'clock to see you! We must get our bearings before then, but Alison, oh, dear me! I can't picture it. It's unthinkable, and I don't know how he ever got that length in two days.'

Suffered Greatly With Her Heart.

Became So Weak At Times Could Hardly Walk.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some excitement, overwork, or confinement in an overheated or overcrowded room, or public building makes them feel faint and dizzy.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, you should not wait until you case becomes desperate before you avail yourself of a perfect cure by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. D. McGilvery, Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I suffered greatly with my heart and became so weak at times I could hardly walk. A friend of mine advised me to try your Pills, which I did, and soon found great relief. They are the best medicine I have ever taken for heart trouble."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Her tone was so rueful that Guy could not help laughing as he mounted his bicycle and rode away.

Tibbie, in no mood for the confinement of the house and the smallness of the domestic routine, continued her walk down the side street, thinking she would go home another and quieter way.

At the bottom of the side street whence Guy had emerged there stood a tiny cottage of red brick, in which dwelt a widow and her daughter who was engaged as a typist in the office at Birtley Ironworks. Mrs. Odell was the widow of a former cashier at the Ironworks, and was a very superior person, who had fought a brave fight in her widowhood by giving lessons in music. Tibbie and she was very friendly, but Tibbie did not much like the daughter Clara, a pretty creature, vain and foolish, and very careless and selfish in her behavior to her mother.

Just beyond Rose Cottage it was possible to get to the open fields and back to the lower end of the town by a pleasanter way. When Tibbie reached the gate of Rose Cottage she found Mrs. Odell working in her little spot of garden ground, and paused to bid her good-morning. She was a gentle, faded-looking woman bearing in her person the signs and tokens of her somewhat hard life. She had a profound admiration for the Flemings, ever since she had been pulled through a dangerous illness by the Doctor, and had much sweet kindness sown to her by his sister during the time of her convalescence.

Her face brightened as she raised her head from the border and came forward quickly to the gate to return Tibbie's greeting.

'Odd thing, Miss Fleming, I dreamed of you last night, and I was thinking so much about you this morning, that I had made up my mind to call on you this afternoon. I hope you're quite well.'

'I'm all right, but I've had a sort of shock this morning, Mrs. Odell. Yes, I'd like to come in, and hear your opinion about it.'

Mrs. Odell dropped her garden gloves hastily in the basket, and hastened to open the door. She had no servant, and her life was full of petty drudgery for a daughter who did not appreciate it at all. But she never complained.

'I don't seem to have seen you for quite a long time,' said Mrs. Odell, 'though Clara told me someone had told her you had a visit from your sister.'

'Yes, she was here last week, and we did talk of coming round, but somehow the time got filled up. I am rather sorry you didn't see her this time, but you remember her quite well, I suppose?'

'Yes, of course, and I admired her so much. I thought her handsome in a stately sort of way.'

'I suppose she is,' said Tibbie, thoughtfully wondering why they as a family appeared to have been totally blind to Alison's qualities and charms, and had taken her so much for granted, in the good Scotch way. 'I have got some very wonderful news to tell you, Mrs. Odell, I am sure I can trust you not to spread it about. You never gossip about anybody, and I did feel that I would like to tell some woman, and hear what she thinks about it.'

'Yes, dear Miss Fleming, what is it?' asked Mrs. Odell, and her small, thin mouth looked a little eager.

'Well, it is this; my sister is going to marry Mr. Crewe.'

Even Tibbie was struck by the expression of Mrs. Odell's face. A tremor crossed it; it was rather the absence of expression that was striking, just as if a mask had dropped suddenly over the small features, and the pale, rather grim mouth.

'Yes, how extraordinary; but you speak as if you were not quite pleased about it.'

'Well, I don't know whether I am; in fact, to be quite candid, I am not. You have known him much longer than I have, Mrs. Odell. Do you think he could make a woman like my sister happy.'

'I don't.' The answer came without a moment's hesitation. 'I knew his first wife well. She used to come to my house sometimes when we lived in Dove Lane and my husband was alive. She was often unhappy, poor thing, and cried a good deal. She was far too meek with him. Is it—is it quite settled?' she added, with a kind of trembling eagerness which once more struck Tibbie as odd.

'I have not heard from Alison, but I have seen Mr. Crewe this morning, and there is no doubt in his mind. He has been up in Rochallan for the week-end, and it was settled there.'

'Then it must be true,' said Mrs. Odell, and suddenly rising she walked over to the door and shut it, which seemed unnecessary as there was no one in the house but themselves. When she came back to the side of the table she did not sit down, but stood quietly, with one hand resting on the table and looked very straightly at Tibbie Fleming. Her face was very white and her eyes gleamed oddly.

'You have been very kind to me, Miss Fleming, and I do care for you. I should not like to think that your sister would not be happy. I think I ought to tell you.'

'To tell me what?' asked Tibbie faintly.

'About your sister Clara. You know she has been quite a long time at the works and latterly as private secretary to Mr. Crewe. This will upset Clara very much.'

'How much or how little do you mean by that?' asked Tibbie, and her voice, though trembling a little, sounded cold.

'Well, he has made love to her, and I believe she expected that one day he would marry her. If she had not expected that she would have left Birtley long ago. I never approved of it, and I really know very little, only what Clara has told me.'

'What has she told you, Mrs. Odell?' asked Tibbie, in a judicial voice which astonished herself.

'Oh, well, you know, not very much, but just the sort of things a girl would say about a thing like that. Clara is not very communicative. But in the summer after the holidays when I suggested that we should leave Birtley, she had the offer of a better situation at Stockport, where my only sister lives, she refused, and said it would be better for us to stop on here until Mr. Crewe could be brought to the scratch. I hardly like telling you this. It sounds vulgar and horrid, but you know what Clara is and how long she has been out of my control. It is not because I wish her to marry Mr. Crewe, indeed, I should dislike it very much, but simply because I love you, and respect your sister, that I should not like her to marry him if there was anything in the background.'

'No, no, certainly not, it is most kind of you,' murmured Tibbie drily. 'But do you think Clara has any claim on Mr. Crewe? In a matter of this kind we must, of course, get down to the bedrock of facts.'

'I don't know, you know really as much as I do now. We shall find that out perhaps after Clara hears. May I tell her, Miss Fleming?'

'Certainly not yet. Can I depend on you, Mrs. Odell?' asked Tibbie, looking doubtfully at the meagre face of the woman in front of her, and blaming her own incredible imprudence in having given away Alison's secret in such a quarter. Never had her impulsiveness been so bitterly punished.

'Very well, I shall say nothing to Clara. You can absolutely depend on me, Miss Fleming. Clara and I do not talk intimately together or many subjects, indeed I see very little of her, so that the temptation will be lessened. Do you think Mr. Crewe—I mean, will they wish to keep it quite for a long time.'

'I don't think Mr. Crewe wants to keep it quiet at all,' said Tibbie abruptly. 'He struck me this morning like a man who was overflowing with joy in the possession of some happy secret. At least, promise me, you will say nothing till I see you again.'

'I promise that, and I hope you won't trouble about it,' said Mrs. Odell, vaguely conscious that a subtle change had crept over Tibbe's blithe manner. 'Perhaps I ought not to have told you, but I was so surprised so taken aback, that somehow I could not help myself.'

'Oh, I am glad you told me. If there is anything of that kind in the background of course it will have to be cleared up before my sister could, or would, marry Mr. Crewe. Good-morning, Mrs. Odell, you and I have often discussed the difficulties of life. They seem to be on the increase, that's all.'

Tibbie's face was a little white, her bright eyes hard and cold, as she turned away from Rose Cottage and made for the open field.

"BED-TIME STORIES"

THE PENCIL'S TROUBLES.

The pencil heaved a weary sigh
And murmured to the pen:
'I haven't felt so out of sorts
Since—oh, I don't know when!

The penknife treats me very ill;
It cuts me in the street.
And really is extremely sharp
Whene'er we chance to meet.

And when I broke the other day
Beneath its bitter stroke,
It said it didn't see the point;
Neither did I the joke!

'With many troubles I'm depressed,
My heart feels just like lead.'
The pen mopped up an inky tear,
'I weep for you,' it said.

JOHN LONG'S CAT.

Kenneth and George Leonard and the two little Miller boys felt proud because they were to sing at the meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society. They had practised faithfully, and they felt sure that their song would be the very best thing on the programme.

'Well, how did the song go to-day?' Mr. Leonard inquired of his sons at supper.

'All right, I guess,' and George looked rather doubtfully at his mother.

'It went very nicely after the second start,' Mrs. Leonard explained. 'Our sons and their friends forgot their manners and started the song with chewing gum in their mouths. We had to stop the song and have the gum put away.'

The two boys looked ashamed, and exchanged glances that meant it was best to change the subject. 'There was a visitor at the meeting,' announced Kenneth.

'A visitor? Was she a stranger?' Mr. Leonard was always looking up strangers for the Sunday school. The boys laughed heartily at this question, and their father regarded them with a quiet smile.

'I guess he was a stranger to meetings,' George replied, when he could speak. 'It was a cat—John Long's cat. He walked in so dignified, and sat on the platform beside the president. He watched the ladies who talked, as if he understood every word they said.'

'The subject was 'Turkey,' and perhaps he thought the turkey would be passed, and he would get some,' remarked Kenneth, and the laughing started again.

'I can tell something more about that cat,' Mrs. Leonard said quietly.

'What?' and the two boys looked at her with expectation.

'He knew how to behave well, if he had never been to meeting before. He never mewed once, but four boys talked and disturbed one of the speakers. He sat very quietly, but four boys behind me wiggled and wiggled, and one of them snickered out loud. I think the cat can teach those boys some 'meeting manners.''

The boys were sober by this time. 'I'll show you next Sunday that I can behave in church just as good as any cat,' Kenneth declared.

'I will, too,' George echoed, for he always did just like Kenneth.—'The Child's Gem.'

Artillery Man Tells His Story

Mr. Daniel Fry, North Keppel, Ont., is a pensioner of the British army. He belonged to the Royal Artillery, and was stationed in Toronto in 1850. Mr. Fry is now 86 years of age and attributes his good health to the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For three or four years he suffered greatly from constipation, pains in the back and at the bottom of the stomach. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, these troubles have been overcome. He would not be without these pills in the house and finds that by using one or two a week he can keep the bowels and kidneys healthy and active.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are especially appreciated by people of advanced years who have difficulty in keeping the kidneys and bowels regular and active. They are definite and certain in action and can be depended on to bring about the desired effect.

INDISPENSABLE MAN UNDESIRED

Mr. Taft Thinks the Republican Party Can Do Without the Colonel.

ATTACKS MR. PINCHOT.

'He Says I Got Up That Canadian Reciprocity Business to Hit Certain States.'

Dayton, Ohio, May 20. — President Taft's seven days of speech making throughout Ohio came to an end here to-night with a final plea to Republicans of his own state to give him their support at to-morrow's primaries and to defeat Col. Roosevelt,' whom Taft dubbed 'the bolter.'

Mr. Taft appealed in every one of the dozen speeches he made, for Republicans to consider Mr. Roosevelt's Cleveland speech, where the ex-President prophesied, a bolt. He continued to predict the wreck of the grand old party if Mr. Roosevelt does not change his attitude and is not assured of the nomination by the Republican National Convention.

At Xenia, the President said:

'There used to be a king in France known as the Grand Monarch, who said, 'The State, I am it. I am the State,' and that is what Theodore Roosevelt is saying about the Republican party. Now I venture to think he is mistaken. I venture to think that the Republican party will get along and live long after him, and that he is not indispensable either to the party or to the country. It will be a sad day in the history of the country when a man becomes indispensable to it. We shall have to change the form from a republic to some other form if that be the case.'

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY BUSINESS.

At Piqua Mr. Taft took a shot at Gifford Pinchot. 'Mr. Pinchot, that reliable historian,' said the President, 'has been going around the country saying that I got up the Canadian reciprocity business and figured out just how it would hurt most bitterly certain states that had voted against me, and I just took the schedules and I figured them out and arranged them so as to hit South Dakota between the eyes and so as to hit Ohio. Well, you can't argue with a man like that.'

ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN ENDS.

Dennison, Ohio, May 20. — The Roosevelt campaign in Ohio came to an end here to-day. After he had delivered his speech in Dennison the former president started for Oyster Bay, where he expects to be when the returns from the Ohio primary come in to-morrow night.

Col. Roosevelt emphasized two points in his speeches to-day. He said first that there would be no compromise in the selection of a Republican candidate for president so far as he was concerned.

'I'll name the compromise candidate,' he went on; 'he will be me. I'll name the compromise platform; it will be our platform.'

Col. Roosevelt made a final appeal to the people in the form of a statement.

'Before leaving, I wish to thank the people of Ohio,' his statement reads, 'for the kindly courtesy with which they have greeted me during the weeks passed. It has been a pleasure to me to be with them again and to give them the reasons why I believe they should support us in this line-up between the people and the bosses. I earnestly ask every Republican voter to leave his work and come to the primary on Tuesday, and to inform himself beforehand as to the delegates for whom he is to vote in order to secure the triumphs of the principles in which he believes.'

Col. Roosevelt will reach home to-morrow morning, and after two days' rest will begin his campaign in New Jersey, where the primaries will be held next week.

LORIMER'S SEAT

Retained by Him in Senate Because no Further Corruption Proved

Washington, May 20.— Why Senator Lorimer should be permitted to retain his seat in the Senate was set forth to-day by the majority of the Lorimer Committee in their report to the Senate. It took the position that the Senate, having once 'solemnly and deliberately' passed upon the charges against Senator Lorimer, he should be permitted to retain his seat unless new and convincing evidence had been produced, establishing corruption in his election. Absolutely no 'new and substantial evidence' had been produced at the re-investigation, the majority said, and consequently they declared the rules of justice required the former judgment of the Senate, upholding Mr. Lorimer, to stand.

ONE MORE ADDED TO THE GREAT ARMY

Who are shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Chiswick man's Kidney Trouble developed into Rheumatism, and finally into Diabetes—story of his complete cure.

Chiswick, Ont., May 20—(Special)—Rheumatism, which developed into Diabetes, had made life a burden to Octave Labracque of this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him and he is added to that great army of Canadians who glory in telling their neighbors that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one sure remedy for all kidney ills.

"My limbs would swell and I had a dragging sensation across the loins." Mr. Labracque says, in giving his experience. "I could not attend to my work properly as I had to keep resting and I was troubled with rheumatism, and my troubles finally developed into Diabetes.

"I tried different medicines and doctors but got little relief till I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Ten boxes made a new man of me."

All Mr. Labracque's troubles came from diseased kidneys. They speedily ceased when he commenced to use the one sure cure for diseased kidneys—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

MINISTER PRAISES ZAM-BUK

Tells How It Cured His Wife's Bad Sore

When Everything Else Had Failed.

Rev. Henry J. Munton, of Blackfalds, Alta., writes: "My wife had a very bad sore foot, which it seemed impossible to get anything to heal. The sore would heal to a certain point and then fester again, and so on. I procured a box of Zam-Buk, and after persevering with this herbal balm for some time the sore was completely healed.

"We were so grateful for this cure, and Zam-Buk acted so differently to any other of the numerous remedies we had tried that I thought you ought to know of this case. I have since recommended Zam-Buk to several of my parishioners, and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zam-Buk proved of unequalled value is told by Mr. N. L. Gerry, of Brandon, Man. He says: "I had my left foot run over by a waggon loaded with wheat. The foot was very badly crushed, and my little toe and the next toe were laid open. I applied Zam-Buk, and only had to miss work for two days. Zam-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to my work. In a very short time my toes were quite healed, and the foot is now as sound as ever, thanks to Zam-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, piles, blood poison, burns, scalds, eruptions, eczema, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, too, 25c per tablet.

Alfred Lesperance, 30 years of age, a carter, of 385 Seigneurs street, was arraigned before Judge Leet in the Arraignment Court to-day, charged with the theft of six bottles of beer from the grocery store of T. Montpetit & Company, corner of Notre Dame and Chatham streets.

Constable Rocheleau, who was alleged to have chased Lesperance into a yard off Chatham street, and by firing a shot into the air frightened Lesperance into surrendering himself, failed to appear in court, and as there were no other complainants the accused man was discharged.

CHINAMAN BURIED.

Funeral of the Late Mr. Yep Chee Bow to Mount Royal Cemetery.

The funeral of Yep Chee Bow, who, coming to Montreal recently, was taken into the hospital, where he died on May 16, took place yesterday afternoon. There were 300 Chinese in attendance, who, after a brief service in Chinese, including the reading of the Scripture and song and prayer, and concluding with the Lord's Prayer in unison, conducted by Dr. Thomson, and assisted by Mr. Chan Lung, the Chinese missionary, followed the hearse, which was preceded by a band of muffled music, along St. Catherine and Bleury streets to the Mount Royal Cemetery, where the interment took place in the Chinese lot.

The deceased was a member of a Chinese Masonic order, and a floral wreath was received from that body, while the badge of the order was worn by those attending. The new Republic flag was also borne at the head of the procession.

NOT FAULT OF AUTO OWNER.

Mr. Justice Archer has dismissed an action extended by Joseph Malinoff against J. Martineau for $200 damages for injuries sustained by plaintiff's son by being run down by defendant's automobile. Plaintiff failed to show that the accident was the fault of the owner of the car, and the latter proved that the boy had run directly in front of the car when the street was in such a condition that the chauffeur could not see him in time to stop the machine.

BASEBALL

The Royals Defeated the Braves at Atwater Park Yesterday 3-2 in a Game Which Went an Extra Inning.

ROYALS ARE NOW OUT OF THE CELLAR.

Newark Played Under Protest, Because Manager Lush First Decided to Call the Game Off on Account of Cold Weather.

Montreal climbed up two pegs yesterday, when they defeated Newark by a score of 3 to 2 in a ten-inning contest. They now stand sixth in the International League instead of last. It was chilly weather for baseball, but the few fans who were on hand saw the best game of the season.

Manager Lush at first decided to call the game off on account of the chilly weather. Later the Montreal owners and managers concluded to have a game. Newark protested against playing after the game had been called off, but they nevertheless got into the game.

Gaskell took the mound for Newark and held the Royals to two hits from the first to the tenth inning. The game was really a pitching duel between Gaskell and Mattern, who pitched for Montreal. This was the fourth time Mattern pitched since joining the club, and he has won every time. Newark led the game up to the eighth inning by a score of 2 to 1, but with two out in the eighth, Demmitt knocked out a three-bagger, and tied the score.

The game was very fast. The ten innings were played in one hour and forty minutes. Both teams scored one run in the first inning and they remained tied until the seventh inning, when Newark broke the tie, and brought in a run. Gaskell's fine pitching prevented the Royals getting a man on base in the fourth, fifth, sixth or seventh innings.

Montreal tied the score again in the eighth inning. Hartman started the inning by walking. Roth sacrificed him to second. Mattern grounded out to Swacina, Hartman going to third. Demmitt got Gaskell to send him in a nice one and then laced it out for a three-bagger close to the right field foul line. Hartman scored the tying run. Demmitt was put out going from third to home, making three out.

Both teams went out in one, two, three order, in the ninth. Newark went out in order again in the tenth, leaving the score still tried, 2 to 2. Then the Royals got busy and won. Russell started with a fine single to centre. Purtell was hit on the knee with a fast one and after a rest was able to hobble to first base. Hartman intended to sacrifice, but Gaskell stumbled as he went after the ball and Hartman got on first safely. The bases were then filled with no one out. Roth sent a slow bounder that Gaskell or Zimmerman could not reach in time, and Russell scored the winning run.

Providence starts a four-game series here to-day. Viebahn will probably pitch for Montreal to-day, and Lafitte or Bailey for Providence. If a postponement is necessary to-day or to-morrow, the game will be played on Thursday, which is an open day. Friday is Victoria Day, and Providence will be the attraction, 10.30 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon.

ALL-MONTREAL VS. WANDERERS—A FINE PIECE OF TACKLING

M.A.A.A. ANNUAL MEETING

The Affairs of the Big Athletic Association are Shown to be in First Class Condition.

One of the most satisfactory reports which has ever been submitted at an annual meeting of the M. A. A. A. was read last night, by Secretary Melville. The members all felt, after listening to the excellent statement, that the greatest amount of credit was due the directors and management of the association.

An increase of 149 in the membership was reported, which is perhaps the most significant of all the other favorable increases.

Great enthusiasm greeted the announcement of the $13,041.23 surplus reported by the treasurer. The senior lacrosse policy of the association was again criticized, but no suggestion was forthcoming, which, in the estimation of the members, would be better.

Second only in interest to the report of the board of directors was the election f the directors for the new year, the following six men being returned: G. C. Bowie, L. Rubenstein, J. N. Warmington, T. Carlind, W. A. Coates and C. S. Virtue. Mr. Tom Carlind is the newcomer on the board. Mr. H. V. Meredith was elected honorary president by acclamation. The president of the association will be elected at the first meeting of the new board, which will be held next Monday evening.

Reference was made in the course of the directors' report to the proposed country club house, and this, too, was the signal for some of the older members to sound a word of warning. They had seen a former scheme of the kind fall utterly, and could see little but failure before this one, were it prosecuted along similar lines. They thought it more advisable to make plans aiming at doubling the present plant in the city to accommodate adequately the ever-increasing membership.

Two notices of motion were submitted, and will be voted on at the semi-annual meeting. One was proposed by Mr. Percival Molson, and recommended the increase of the associate ladies' fee from $3 to $5. The second was proposed by Mr. E. M. Marshall, and was much more drastic. Mr. Marshall gave notice that at the semi-annual meeting he would move that the M. A. A. A. become an amateur athletic association in deed as well as in name. He would have the association abandon entirely all connection with professional sport, and judging from the applause with which his proposal was greeted, he will find many supporters among the members when the time comes to vote on the question.

Mr. Maltby, in reporting for the building committee in charge of the erection of the new Westmount club house, stated that although the building was not complete, and that consequently he was not prepared to submit a final report, he was ready to state that the newest venture of the association would cost in the neighborhood of $85,000.

While the votes for the new board were being counted the meeting was enlivened by a general discussion, in which criticism of he centralized system of control in force was freely expressed. The specific grounds for the fault finding were trivial, but the argument lent a spice to the proceedings during the wait for the returns.

BASEBALL SQUABBLE PATCHED UP.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.— On the ground that they did not want to see Frank Navin, president of the club, suffer for any action on their part, the players of the Detroit American League Baseball Club called off their strike late this afternoon and agreed to play the regular scheduled game in Washington to-morrow without the services of 'Ty' Cobb.' Thus ends one of the most extraordinary situations that has ever been brought about in organized baseball. In announcing their decision to return to the field, the players said they wanted it distinctly understood that they will still fight for the principle involved and for which they struck.

In returning to the club the players received no concessions from Ban Johnson, who had indefinitely suspended Cobb for attacking a spectator in a game in New York last week. Mr. Navin, however, promised the men that if they returned he would do his utmost to have Cobb reinstated as quickly as possible; that he would do all he could as a club owner to have the American League give better protection to the players on the field against unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of spectators and that he will see that none of the players will suffer any financial loss as the result of any fines that may be imposed upon them by the league.

The special meeting of the American League will be held to-morrow at 11 a.m., at which the club owners will decide what punishment, if any, shall be inflicted upon the strikers. The question of a fine against the club, it is expected, will also be taken up by the league. After the meeting President Johnson will go to New York and investigate the assault case, and on the result of this inquiry, it is said, will depend the reinstatement of the star centre fielder. When Mr. Johnson was told that some of the players had intimated that Cobb might be reinstated Wednesday or Thursday, he said they had 'another guess.'

Mr. Navin to-day made a personal appeal to his players. He told them that he was the principal sufferer in the affair, and he did not feel that it was just to him. Cobb told the players that he felt he was responsible for what had occurred, and that while he appreciated the action of his teammates, he felt that for the sake of Mr. Navin, who had always treated them well, the players should reconsider their action and return to the club. He added that he was willing to stand alone and take whatever was coming, one way or the other. The result of the conference was a proposition from the players delivered to Mr. Johnson by Mr. Navin, which it was understood was to the effect that the men would return to the game if Mr. Cobb were reinstated on Wednesday or at some fixed time. Mr. Navin did not bring back a very favorable reply, according to the players, but reported that Mr. Johnson had put the whole matter up to Mr. Navin, that he must place a team on the field. The players then decided that Mr. Navin should not be the innocent sufferer. The second conference was brief, and shortly before four o'clock the newspaper men were called in and the announcement was made by the men in the presence of Mr. Navin that they had agreed to play in Washington to-morrow without Cobb, on the promises made by President Navin.

The Detroit team left for Washington at 8 o'clock to-night, accompanied by Manager Jennings. Mr. Navin remained here for to-morrow's meeting of the league. The majority of the club owners arrived to-day and all of them met President Johnson to talk over the affair.

CANADA WILL NOT BE REPRESENTED AT STOCKHOLM.

It was announced yesterday by the faculty of Mount St. Louis, that the team which won the Paton Trophy by a smart margin from the M. A. A. A. would not be sent to the Olympic games at Stockholm. This means that Canada will not be represented at the great international meet. The M. A. A. A. waived the privilege to represent the Dominion when their team met defeat by the hands of the collegians.

ST. PATRICK'S BANQUET

The Hon. C. J. Doherty Was Among the Distinguished Guests Present

The second annual banquet of the St. Patrick's Amateur Athletic Association was held last evening in the Nazareth Hall. Mr. L. I. McMahon, president of the association, occupied the chair, and among the distinguished company present were the Hon. Charles J. Doherty, Minister of Justice; Alderman P. Monahan, representing the mayor; Mr. Fitz-James E. Browne, the Rev. Gerald J. McShane, D.D.; Mr. C. J. Foy, Mr. C. Coughlin, Mr. W. P. Kearney, Mr. J. P. O'Loghlin, Mr. J. J. Ryan, Mr. C. A. Singleton, Dr. E. J. Mullally, Mr. N. Leslie Dann, and Mr. T. J. Fitzgerald.

After full justice had been done to the excellent repast served, the president, who was warmly greeted on rising, proposed the toast of 'The King.' This toast, said Mr. L. I. McMahon, requires but few words from me. Just let me ask you to rise and show that even the most ardent Home Rulers cannot be outdone by other British subjects in loyally supporting the toast of the King, our King, George V. (loud cheers).

The Hon. C. J. Doherty, in briefly proposing the toast of 'Canada,' remarked that it was a toast, which required no words of commendation, when it was proposed to a body of young Canadians as before him that evening. The toast of Canada was a toast to Canadian young men. Canada stood for youth. He continued the Minister of Justice, did not wish to belittle what their grandfathers and fathers had done in the past, or the efforts of the not quite so young men of to-day for Canada, but after giving full measure of credit to the men of the past and the men of to-day, the fact remained that Canada stood for youth. It was undoubtedly a matter of great pleasure and gratification to hear of the keen interest taken in the welfare of Canada by the young men, who belonged to such excellent organizations as the St. Patrick's Amateur Athletic Association. The other toasts were 'Our City,' proposed by Mr. J. P. Meehan, and responded to by Alderman P. Monahan, who was officially representing the mayor; 'Ireland,' proposed by Mr. J. J. Doherty, and responded to by Mr. C. J. Foy, of Perth; and 'Our Guests,' proposed by Mr. J. P. O'Loghlin, and responded to by Mr. J. C. Walsh and Mr. M. D. Carroll.

An excellent programme of instrumental music was performed during the evening by the Boucher Orchestra, while appropriate glees and songs were finely rendered by the Association Choral Class, Mr. V. Kearney and Mr. Frank J. McKenna.

THE LACROSSE SEASON OPENS ON VICTORIA DAY

Shamrocks and Montreals on the M.A.A.A. Grounds and Irish-Canadians and Tecumsehs on the National Grounds are the Local Fixtures.

TEAMS BUSY STRENGTHENING UP FOR A STRENUOUS SEASON —THE SHUFFLE IN PLAYERS NOW DRAWING TO A CLOSE—D. L. A. RESERVE LIST.

Next Friday, Victoria Day, will witness the official opening of the Canadian lacrosse season, when the Irish-Canadians and the champion Tecumsehs will meet in their initial struggle on the N.A.A.A. grounds, Maisonneuve, at 3.30 p.m., and the old-time rivals—Montreals and Shamrocks, will open the season on the Westmount grounds in the N.L.U. senior schedule. Great interest is taken in these games and big crowds are expected. Both the local N.L.U. teams were out in force last night, the feature of the practice on the Westmount field being the presence of Frankie Hogan on the home. The difference in this department was immediately noticeable and what threatened to be the one weak spot in a strong team now promises to be its strongest section. With the Layden brothers, McDonald, Milloy and Yeoman behind him, Hogan gave the defence men a merry hour. There will be a practice to-night and to-morrow, and after the latter workout the winged wheel team will be picked. Judging from the way the team lined up last night, the men likely to figure in the opening contest will be Fyon, Thompson, Neville, O'Kane, Tom Neville, Brady, Rafferty, F. Jarrett, Milloy, Layden, Hogan and Yeoman. Marty Layden, Ashton and Aspell also looked good.

The Capitals had their first practice game, last night, and are in good shape for the opening match at Cornwall on Friday. Bobby Pringle was last night re-elected playing captain of the Senators, while Herb Ralph will act as field captain. The line-up for the opening game at Cornwall will be:—

Thomas, goal; Fairbairn, point; Shea, cover point; Pringle, Woodwin and Lodge, defence field; Armstrong, centre; Butterworth, Beauchamp and Shed, home field; Eastwood, outside, and Lavallée, inside.

The experiment with the return of field captains will be awaited with interest. The N.L.U. decided to restrict the field captains to certain limits on the sward, but the referees will probably have troubles of their own in keeping them outside the bounds. Interference with the play or the blocking of a man carrying the ball or in the act of accepting a pass will merit suspension.

All the referees will be appointed this season by President James Murphy. Players will not be given any assignments in that capacity, as each of the four teams will be engaged every Saturday.

Tecumsehs appear to be the weak team of the Dominion Association just now. Their defence is perhaps the best, in the 'Big Four,' but their home was shot to pieces through the withdrawal of McGregor, McDougall and Murton. Nationals and Torontos appear strongest, with Irish-Canadians an outside chance.

Toronto, May 20.—Charlie Querrie, manager of the Tecumsehs, stated tonight that he had wired George Kennedy, of Montreal, declining to accept Tommy Burns, the former heavyweight champion, as referee for Friday's opening game at Montreal, on the ground that Burns was not on the official list of referees.

It looks as if the Montreal team would again make a big fight for the National Union championship. The Peel street club has lost the services of the Scott boys, Brennan, Roberts and others, who jumped to George Kennedy's Irish-Canadians, but they still have material for a great twelve. They will have Fyon, formerly of the Shamrocks, for goal, and George Finlayson, Nick Neville, Andy Hamilton, Johnny Layden.

The Shamrocks this year may place a good team on the field. The return of Harry Hyland will command a lot of respect for the Hibernian attack. Clingen, Dillon, Tobin, McCarthy and five or six promising recruits, who showed up well toward the close of last season, have thrown in their lots with the Irishmen again. Tom O'Connell claims to have three or four 'phenoms' up his sleeve.

'We are going to have one of the best balanced teams Ottawa has ever produced,' said Secretary Payne, of the Capitals, in discussing the lacrosse situation. 'We have the finest defence that we have had for years and our home will also be good enough to compete with the best in the game. Mr. Payne added that Billy Hague had been playing swell lacrosse in the nets and that Thomas, the Cornwall boy, would make a strong bid for a position on the defence. He thinks that the Capitals will have a grueling game at Cornwall on Friday next, but expects the garnet and grey to pull out on top. The line-up for the match at Cornwall will not be announced until Thursday.

The two Degans, Mark Cummins, Frank Cummins, Degray and Reddy McMillan are still on the job in Cornwall. The triple schedule makes the outcome all the more doubtful and the race should be loaded with excitement and suspense.

Despite the fact that the old N. L. U. champions lost last Saturday's game in Toronto, the old reliables showed themselves still to be the best portion of the Tecumsehs. Querrie played one of his regular old-time games, dodging through the defence and always working the unexpected, Mackenzie kept Billy Fitzgerald from being extremely dangerous. Gorman is possibly the best of the Toronto recruits. The Indians are strengthening up their team for the regular 'Big Four' league games.

RUGGER

All-Montreal vs. Halifax Wanderers Met Again Yesterday Afternoon

HOME TEAM WINS THE SECOND CONTEST.

Deas the Best Individual Player—Stanley Bauld Also Caught the Public Fancy.

The second game under English 'Rugger' rules between All Montreal and the Wanderers on the M. A. A. A. ground, resulted yesterday, after a splendid contest in favor of All Montreal by nine points (three tries), to the eight points (one converted goal and a try) of the Wanderers. There was little to choose between the merits of the two sides, and the score well indicates the evenness of the game. Both packs were unfortunately not at full strength, but the capital form displayed by several players yesterday clearly shows that with a little more coaching Canada has the making of two really fine Rugger teams. The satisfactory point about the match was that both the Montrealers and the Wanderers, as a whole, came out strongly in their forward work. They packed well, they broke quickly on the ball, and moved in the loose in a manner quite typical of Scotsmen. Naturally with such experienced Rugby players as W. R. Hutchison and A. D. Roberts in the forward line, Montreal formed down better in the scrum, but what the Montrealers lacked was actual science in scrummage footwork and several times in the game, they were unable to turn their advantage in the scrum to the fullest account. The Wanderers used their feet better than their rivals in the loose, and their close rushes frequently took the ball right through the Montreal defence. The Montreal half-backs were handicapped by the slow heeling; this was the defect of the forwards. Better not heel at all than heel slowly. J. H. Richardson and K. Hannay at half, did their best in the circumstances. The former player made several fine runs, but the Montreal halves have yet to learn the art of going down to the ball. Where the Wanderers scored was in their work outside the scrummage, the half-backs and three-quarters knew how to make the most of their chances. D. S. Bauld, the Wanderers' captain, played a magnificent game at stand-off half. In a losing fight the half-back play of the Wanderers stood out as one of the best things in the match. Neither E. K. Borne or his captain passed for mere passing sake, each went on with the ball to make sure of an opening, and now and again gave the three-quarters capital passes. The fight was always uphill, for the Montrealers were continually getting the ball, though they frequently failed to make the most of it, and the Montreal men ran straight and were difficult to tackle. But the tackling on both sides was usually high

But to all this criticism there must be one exception, Bauld was great in the tackle, in the field and in the kick.

The game had not been long in progress when a fine rush by the Montreal forwards enabled Applebie to touch down. Hutchison failed to convert. Some good work by Monaghan got the ball well into the home side '25,' but a fine run by Richardson saved the situation. A splendid movement started by Bauld gave Monaghan and Graham an opportunity for some pretty passing and Graham got over the goal-line. James failed to convert. Encouraging by thus equalizing the score, the Wanderers continued to press their opponents severely, and a brilliant run by Medcalfe on the right wing gave McCarthy the chance of converting the try into a goal. This the player did. The Montrealers were now fairly on their mettle, and a fine run by Richardson was followed by Phillips getting over just on half time. Roberts failed with the kiek and the score before the interval was in favor of the Wanderers by two points, one goal and one try to two tries. On the resumption of the game the play became fast and exciting, each pack striving vigorously for victory, Crosley, Byatt, Deas, Richardson, Roberts, Hutcheson, Fletcher and Hamlet doing excellent work for the Montrealers, while equally praiseworthy were the individual efforts of Bauld, Monaghan, Medcalfe, Borne, Graham and James for the Wanderers. However, within ten minutes of no-side, Deas, amid great applause, made a splendid run down one-third of the field on the left wing and touched down. It was the best piece of individual play seen in the game. Roberts again failed to score, but the try gave Montreal the victory by the narrow margin of one point, namely, three tries to one goal and one try.

The sides were as follows:—

All-Montreal—R. M. Owthwaite (back); A. E. Fletcher, B. Wilde, G. P. Byatt, and W. D. Deas (three-quarter backs); J. H. Richardson and K. Hannay, (captain), (half-backs); W. R. Hutchison, C. Crosley, F. Williams, R. Appleby, R. K. Phillips, R. J. Wilson, A. D. Roberts and G. Hamlet (forwards).

Wanderers—A. L. James (back); G. Wiswell, J. Monaghan, W. Medcalfe and F. Graham (three-quarter backs); E. K. orne and D. S. Bauld (captain), (half-backs); F. Munro, J. Turner, A. O. Blois, F. R. Hart, E. C. Phinney, N. R. Des Brissay, J. F. McCarthy and G. Gillis (forwards).

Referee—Mr. E. Lewis; touch judges Mr. G. S. Meiklejohn and Mr. H. J. C. Geldert.

AUSTRALIAN CRICKETERS MADE GOOD SHOWING.

London, May 21.— The Australian cricket eleven made a splendid showing yesterday in the match with the Marylebone Cricket Club. The latter organization, which includes the best cricketers in England, was dismissed for 169 runs. Australia scored 204 runs for the loss of two wickets. This is the best score made by the Colonials during the present tour, and as it was made against what is practically an all-English team, it indicates the real playing strength of the visitors, and at the same time dispels the fear that, owing to absence from the team of several old-time prominent players it would hardly reflect credit on Australia.

At Oxford the South Africans fared poorly. Playing against an eleven from Oxford University, the scores were one-sided. Oxford scored 275 and the South Africans lost two wickets for 35 runs, when play ceased for the day.

ST. LAMBERT BOAT CLUB.

Will Hold Their Opening Dance To-night.

A very large attendance is expected at the opening ladies' night of the St. Lambert Boat Club, which takes place this evening, and at a committee meeting last night satisfaction was expressed with the club's progress both in membership and standing. A long programme of events of a social character is in view for this season, as well as the paddling which is the chief object of the club's existence. Dancing will be indulged in at this evening entertainment.

M.A.A.A. CRICKET CLUB.

The M. A. A. A. Cricket Club will hold a practice on the Westmount grounds this afternoon, weather permitting. All members are requested to turn out.

RICHESON ELECTROCUTED EARLY TO-DAY IN BOSTON

Walked to the Chair Erect, Looking Straight Ahead, But Closed His Eyes When Seated, and Kept Them Shut to the End.

Bostn, May 21.—Clarence V. T. Richeson was electrocuted at 12.17.08 o'clock this morning.

The current was turned on at 12.10.02, and the prisoner was declared totally dead at 12.17.08.

The former Baptist clergyman, confessed poisoner of Avis Linnell, of Hyannis, his one-time sweetheart, was outwardly calm when he entered the death chamber and he maintained his composure while the straps and electrodes were being adjusted as he sat in the electric chair.

Richeson walked to the chair erect, eyes straight ahead, until he sat down. Then he closed his eyes and kept them shut, until the end.

Seated in the chair, he was asked a series of questions by the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, his Spiritual Adviser, the course of his answers he said: 'I die with the care of my soul and I pay for all. I forgive everybody.'

The last of the questions was: 'Are you willing to die for Jesus's sake?' The reply, in an even, well modulated tone, was simply, 'I am willing to die.'

WITNESSES OF THE EXECUTION.

Those who witnessed the execution of Richeson included besides the three physicians, who were official witnesses, the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, the prisoner's spiritual adviser; Edmund C. Kelley, first deputy sheriff, representing Sherift Quinn, and one representative for each of the three press associations. The three medical witnesses were Dr. George B. McGrath, medical examiner of Suffolk County; Dr. Joseph L. McLaughlin, the prison physician, and Dr. J. P. Butler, surgeon-major of the Ninth Regiment, Massachusetts National Guard. The Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins, the prison chaplain, the warden, General Benjamin F. Bridges, and assistants, made up the rest of those admitted to the death chamber.

Richeson had no supper, saying that he desired none. After eating a little fruit, he lighted a cigar, and he was sitting on the edge of his cot, apparently enjoying his smoke when Deputy Warden Allen entered his cell with the black suit of clothes to be worn during the execution. Richeson nodded calmly to the deputy but said nothing.

When the officials and witnesses of the execution entered the death chamber after walking through the prison yard in a pelting rain, they heard sounding through the walls the strains of a song. It was Richeson and his spiritual advisers, the Rev. Mr. Johnson and Chaplain Stebbins, singing a well known hymn.

Richeson left the cell smiling at 12.08. Before starting on the death march he shook hands with William A. Morse, his counsel, who at the last moment had been admitted as a witness of the execution, and, with the two chaplains, the Rev. M. J. Murphy, the Catholic prison chaplain, being also present.

Then he said, 'I'm ready,' and walked on. He was dressed plainly in a black cheviot suit, a frock coat, white vest, white shirt, turned down collar and a black bow tie, with gold studs on his shirt front, and with low black shoe, brightly shined. His head was shaved down the middle three inches wide.

Four prison guards picked up the straps dangling like tentacles from the chair of death and quickly slipped them into place through their buckles. There was a quiver in every man's hand and even the electrician twice placed the face strap over the doomed man's face before he could adjust it satisfactorily.

Richeson left no public statement, but his counsel, William A. Morse, gave out an interview immediately after the execution in which he told of the last hours spent with the prisoner.

'For two hours,' said his attorney, 'I was in close conversation with Richeson to-night, and he talked very confidentially over all matters. He expressed to me all that he wanted done, and I shall carry out all his wishes. He was ready to go, brave and reconciled. He asked me to go with him to the death chair, and I did.

'He wanted me to say to the world that he had paid his debt, and felt that he was going home to God for a larger service of life; that he had failed here, but he had suffered enough to know that he would be forgiven; that he was glad to go and to have opportunity for a larger service in another world.'

CYANIDE OF POTASSIUM.

Among many letters addressed to Richeson which were opened by Warden Bridges to-day, was one which was found to contain cyanide of potassium. It was mailed from Station N., New York City, on May 19 at 3 p.m. It contained no clue to the sender, the powder being enclosed in a small sub-envelope marked 'headache powders.' Analysis developed that it was poison of the same nature as that which killed Avis Linnell.

Attorney Morse said that he advised Warden Bridges to make public the fact of the receipt of this powder. Richeson was entirely innicent of any knowledge of its having been sent, the attorney declared. He added that he had every reason to believe the condemned man had not expectation of any such means of death.

STORY OF THE CRIME.

Boston, May.—The crime for which Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson, at the time of his arrest pastor of the Immanuel Church of Cambridge, was sentenced to die in the electric chair, was the confessed murder of his former sweetheart, 19 years old Avis Linnell, of Hyannis, a pupil in the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

The girl stood in the way of the minister's marriage to Miss Violet Edmands, a society girl and heiress of Brookline, both through an engagement which still existed between the two and because of a condition in which Miss Linnell found herself. The girl was deceived into taking a poison given her by Richeson, which she believed would remedy that condition and died in her rooms at the Young Woman's Christian Association, on the evening of October 14, 1911. On that day invitations had been issued for the wedding ceremony which was to unite Richeson and Miss Edmands.

A PRETTY GIRL OF SEVENTEEN YEARS.

As pastor of a small church in the Cape Cod town of Hyannis two years before, the handsome and eloquent minister, then 33 years old, had been attracted to Avis Linnell who was an exceptionally pretty girl of 17 years. She lived with her parents, her father, Edgar Linnell, being a contractor and builder. It was her ambition to become a teacher and she was attending the State Normal School at Hyannis.

Miss Linnell joined Richeson's church, was baptized by him and became a member of the church choir. In a short time, early in 1909, Miss Linnell was displaying a diamond ring and confided in her girl friends that she was to be married to the minister the following October. Abandoning her plan of becoming a school teacher Miss Linnell began preparations for her wedding. Some of her trousseau was completed and the two paid a visit to the Rev. Ed. S. Cotton of Brewster, who was asked to officiate at the ceremony.

HIS RESIGNATION.

Friction developed between Richeson and his deacons in June, 1910, over the young minister's impetuous manner and his violent language. There was also a question as to the loss of $50 in money which had been left by a parishioner in the pastor's study. The minister declared he had been robbed of the money. Shortly afterward it was learned he had sent a similar sum by money order from a nearby town to a woman in Salt Lake City, Utah. His resignation followed and he accepted a call to the Immanuel Baptist church of Cambridge.

When Richeson went to Cambridge Miss Linnell went to the Conservatory of Music in Boston. She was induced to attend the conservatory by the minister in the idea that by the cultivation of her voice, which had given signs of much promise in the Hyannis church choir, she would better fit herself to become his wife. On the minister's recommendation the girl took a room at the Young Woman's Christian Association quarters on Warrenton Street, Boston. She proved a diligent student and continued her church work by teaching in the Sunday school of Tremont Temple, the leading Baptist church of the city. There were frequent meetings between Miss Linnell and Richeson.

ANOTHER WOMAN.

The success which the young preacher attained in his larger sphere of usefulnes made a marked impression upon him. Surrounded by influential friends and associates his ambitions widened. He began to pay court to Miss Violet Edmands, of Brookline, 'daughter of Moses Grant Edmands, a prominent Baptist layman and trustee of the Newton Theological Seminary, from which Richeson had been graduated. Miss Edmands was prominent socially and was wealthy in her own right, as well as entitled to share in the estate of some $880,000 left by her grandfather. Entrance to the exclusive home of the Edmands had been easy to the minister as the pastor of the church the family attended, and in a short time he was accepted as suitor for the daughter's hand.

At the same time Richeson was meeting Miss Linnell as formerly. But one day he borrowed the diamond ring he had given her, on the pretext that the stone needed resetting. He did not return it. Eventually the newspapers announced the engagement of the Rev. Mr. Richeson and Miss Violet Edmands. The Linnell family demanded an explanation. The minister promptly declared the story a 'newspaper fake' and was believed.

The invitations to the wedding of Richeson and Miss Edmands were sent out the afternoon of Saturday, October 14. That same afternoon Richeson dined with Avis Linnell at a little restaurant in the Back Bay. While there the girl depressed. At times tears rolled down her cheeks. When she returned to her lodging place, however, she seemed cheerful, although quickly excusing herself and hurrying away to her room.

THE MURDER.

Groans were heard coming from a bathroom of the association quarters shortly after 7 o'clock that evening. The door was broken in and Miss Linnell was found partially unconscious and apparently in great agony. Half an hour later she died without recovering consciousness.

A belief that the girl had committed suicide was at first general, but her family were disposed to discredit the report, and a thorough investigation was made.

Soon after the girl died, it was learned that someone had telephoned to Richeson, as the girl's nearest friend, and informed him of the circumstances. He coldly denied at first that he knew the girl at all. Then finally, admitting that she had been a member of his former parish in Hyannis, he suggested that her brother-in-law in Bridgewater be notified. Before hanging up the receiver he asked: 'Did she say anything before she died?'

The theory of suicide was dispelled when the real conditions surrounding the death of Miss LiLnnell were made known. The girl had been sitting in a chair with her feet in a tub of hot water while beside her was a fresh change of clothing. The autopsy revealed the fact that she had taken a dose of poison, and the conclusion was drawn that she had done so in the innocent belief that it would remedy a condition that later would be a cause of great embarrassment.

PREACHED HIS LAST SERMON.

On the day following the girl's death the Rev. Mr. Richeson preached what was to be his last sermon in the Cambridge church, and in his prayer referred briefly to the death of a near friend. That afternoon, dining with a member of his parish in Somerville, he was able o eat but little and spent much time on a couch in apparent mental misery. He explained that he was overcome by the recent death of a 'dear friend.' That night he went to the home of Moses Grant Edmands in Brookline, father of the girl to whom he was to be married a week or so later, and there remained in seclusion through the next few days preceding his arrest.

Scores of police and newspaper men took up the mystery of the death of Avis Linnell. It seemed apparent at the outset that the belief in a suicide theory was one which the murderer had planned to foster. Given the crime and the reason for it the next step was to find the man responsible for the condition of the victim. The police had not far to seek, and the newspapers made no pretence at mystery in directing their suspicions. The girl had but one sweetheart, and she made no concealment of her affection for Richeson.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE.

In a week's time material evidence began to accumulate. A woman declared that Richeson had telephoned from her home making an appointment for the afternoon of October 14 with someone at the Young Women's Christian Association rooms. Richeson's landlady admitted her boarder had return a bowl to her with the remark that she had better wash it thoroughly as it had been used to mix paste which had contained poison. The most damaging evidence, however, came from William Hahn, a druggist of Newton Centre and a friend of Richeson. According to Hahn, Richeson came to him four days before the Linnell girl died and bought a considerable quantity of cyanide of potassium, explaining that he wanted it 'to kill a dog which was about to have puppies.' A Cambridge confectioner told of Richeson coming to his store on the afternoon Miss Linnell died and purchasing a peculiar shaped jar of candy, identical with a jar found in Miss Linnell's room. The minister had taken a Boston bound car in front of the candy store. A woman came to the police and told of seeing the pastor and the weeping girl eating together in a restaurant on the same afternoon. As a result of this information the police felt warranted in taking definite action.

The evening of October 19 Chief Inspector Dugan and members of his force went to the home of Mr. Edmands on Devon Street, in Brookline, to arrest the Rev. Mr. Richeson on the suspicion that he was guilty of murder. Admission to the house was denied, although the hour was early. The police had no search warrant and did not feel justified in breaking into the magnificent residence upon the uncertainty of Richeson being inside. They therefore remained on guard through the night, frequently knocking upon doors and windows and calling upon the occupants to open and admit the officers.

WOULD BREAK IN THE DOOR.

The weary vigil was kept up until daylight, when a maid who appeared in the kitchen was prevailed upon to notify Mr. Edmands that the officers were outside and would break in if the door was not opened at once. At 7 o'clock the police were admitted. Richeson was found in bed. He was ordered to dress and accompany the officers. Before leaving the house he took in his arms Miss Violet Edmands, who was weeping hysterically. 'Do not worry,' he said, 'everything will come out all right.' The minister came out of the house in the murky dawn, passing between two rows of police, newspaper men, and curious neighbors and was taken to police headquarters in Boston in a taxicab to be arraigned.

The case was set for October 31 for a hearing and Richeson was committed to the Charles Street jail without bail. Within a few days the wedding invitations of the minister and Miss Edmands, summoning the guests to the Edmands home on October 31, were recalled.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Before the day of the hearing arrived a special session of the grand jury was called and an indictment charging murder in five counts was found. Richeson was taken into court to plead to the charge of murder on the day he was to have been married to Miss Edmands. The trial of the case was set for January 15.

Richeson had early written to his church asking that judgment be suspended until after the grand jury sitting. On November 1 he forwarded his resignation, but the church on November 6, after a stormy meeting, refused to accept it. Later a second letter of resignation was sent and accepted on November 24.

POLICE HAD POOR CASE.

The police had even at this time far from a satisfactory case against Richeson. The container of the poison which Miss Linnell had taken could not be found. It was believed some vial or box might have been left in the pocket of Miss Linnell's bathrobe, which had been buried with her. The body was disinterred in Hyannis on October 24 and brought to Boston for a post mortem examination by five prominent physicians. The cause of death was confirmed but no additional evidence was found.

At the same time the police began an investigation into the life of Richeson. Every important act of his life from the date of his birth at Rose Hill, Va., 35 years ago, until his advent in Cambridge was gone into. It was found that he went to school early at Amherst Courthouse, Va., high school, then went to Carrollton, Mo., to work for a brother and attend a local academy. Three years later he went to Liberty, Mo., and entered William Jewell College to study for the ministry. While a student he supplied pulpits in Kansas City, Mo.; Stewartsville, Miss.; El Paso, Tex.; Louisville, Ky., and other places.

Richeson's life had not been an undisturbed one, it was learned, and many tales were related of his entanglements with young women. At Liberty, Mo., while in William Jewell College, he had been engaged to the daughter of a professor. The young woman lent Richeson money to pursue his studies, and up to the time of his coming to Hyannis believed she was to be his wife. In the meantime, she developed tuberculosis, which still necessitates her remaining in Salt Lake City, Utah. The one bright ray of light in Richeson's career appeared to be that he repaid the money loaned him as fast as possible. The final amounts were sent from Hyannis shortly before he came to Cambridge.

Richeson was expelled from William Jewell College for cheating in examinations shortly after he had been ordained at the First Baptist Church in St. Louis. For a time he worked as a conductor on the street cars of the latter city, and was prominent in a strike of street car men, his fiery eloquence making him a natural leader.

INVOLVED WITH A WIDOW.

While at Budd Park Baptist Church in Kansas City, Richeson became involved with a widow. One Sunday she appeared unexpectedly during the church service. Richeson, upon seeing her, fell in a faint. A brother of the woman called at Richeson's rooms and the young minister left town suddenly. A note to the deacons explained that he had been driven away by jealous women.

At another church three young women interrupted the service one Sunday. Simultaneously rising each inquired of the minister if he intended to carry out his promise to marry her. The sensation led the deacons of the church to write for the pastor's resignation.

Richeson entered Newton Theological Seminary in the fall of 1906 and graduated in 1909. During his course he earned money by working in restaurants and shoe stores. He was called to the Hyannis Church in 1909, and remained there until June, 1910, when he resigned to accept the pastorate of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Cambridge. Rumors of his interest in women while a preacher in Massachusetts have been current. Miss Edmands, upon the arrest of her fiance, left Cambridge to escape publicity and, it is said, has been engaged in charity work.

MUTILATED HIMSELF IN JAIL.

Interest in the case was intensified on December 20, when it became known that Richeson had mutilated himself in his cell at the Charles Street jail. The public apparently lost all sympathy for the prisoner following his strange act, which was interpreted as a confession of guilt. At Hyannis, the home of Avis Linnell, the minister was hung in effigy, with a placard on the dummy reading, 'Guilty. Read Luke xvii., 2.' In Boston a conference of Baptist ministers was called and Richeson was formally deprived of his title of Reverend.

THE CONFESSION.

Richeson confessed his guilt in a statement written by himself on January 3, and given out by his counsel on January 6. The confession was addressed to his counsel, and read:

'Deeply penitent before my sins, and earnestly desiring as far as in my power lies, to make atonement, I hereby confess that I am guilty of the offence of which I stand indicted. I am moved to this course by no inducement of self benefit of leniency. Heinous as is my crime, God has not wholly abandoned me, and my conscience and manhood, however depraved and blighted, will not admit of my still further wronging by a public trial her whose pure young life I have destroyed.

'Under the lashings of remorse I have suffered and am suffering the tortures of the damned. In this I find a measure of comfort. In my mental anguish I recognize there is still, by the mercy of the Master, some remnant of the divine spark of goodness still lingering with me. I could wish to live only because within some prison's walls I might, in some small measure redeem my sinful past, help some despairing soul, and at last find favor with my God.

'You are instructed to deliver this to the district attorney or to the judge of the court. Sincerely yours, Clarence V. T. Richeson.'

Richeson was taken into court on January 9, pleaded guilty of the murder of Avis Linnell and was sentenced to be electrocuted at the Charlestown State Prison in the week beginning May 19.

PETITION FOR CLEMENCY.

Richeson, on April 26, sent a petition for commutation of sentence to Governor Foss. It read:

'I respectfully request that the sentence of death pronounced against me by the Superior Court for the County of Suffolk be commuted to imprisonment for life, and I leave the presentation of this request and the reasons in support thereof with my counsel. Clarence V. T. Richeson.'

The petition was never presented to the Council.

GERMAN PRINCE KILLED GOING TO KING'S FUNERAL

Friesack, Prussia, May 21.—Prince George William, the eldest son of the Duke of Cumberland, and his chamberlai, Von Greve, were instantly killed in an automobile accident on the highway near here yesterday evening. They left Berlin early in the afternoon, intending to proceed to Copenhagen by way of Hamburg to attend the funeral of the Princes's uncle, the late King Frederick VIII.

The Prince, who was at the steering wheel, probably failed to observe the warning that the highway was being repaired, and drove the machine at full speed into a part of the roadway which was being macadamized. He lost control, the machine being ditched and turned on its end. The Prince's head was crushed. Chamberlain Von Greve's neck was broken. The chauffeur, who was inside the automobile, suffered from a broken arm.

Prince George William was born in 1880. His father, Ernest August, Duke of Cumberland and Duke of Brunswick and Lunebourg, is head of the house of the Guelphs.

The Prince of Wales, who is seventeen now—the age at which British subjects are allowed to take out a motor license—has been learning to drive an automobile. The tuition took place at Norfolk and for the present His Royal Highness will not be seen in the neighborhood of busy towns.

The Prince represents the third generation of the royal patrons of the automobile in Britain, although this means of locomotion has only been in commonuse about twelve years. King Edward was an enthusiast but he did not drive his own car, nor does King George.

The Prince of Wales represents the first generation of British royalty born in the auto era, for cars were in being before his time and were beginning to be really practicable from his earliest years.

When the Prince decided to learn he sent for Mr. Undecimus Straton and began with what may be called the paper stage. In other words, he spent the best part of an evening following out from drawings and diagrams the construction of a chassis and how the power was transmitted from the engine to the road wheels.

Then the actual car was taken, but not right away for a run. Instead the floor boards were pulled up while the motor was made to run, and so there was illustrated more clearly than was possible by a diagram or a drawing, the actual mechanism that comes into play.

It was only at a third stage that the little 15-horse power machine was taken out on to the Norfolk highroads, where His Royal Highness finally was entrusted with the steering wheel.

The Prince of Wales never from the start experienced the slightest difficulty in connection with steering and was very quick to pick up the notion of handling the automobile.—"Motoring."

GERMANY WILL START A POPULAR FUND FOR AERIAL FLEET.

The newspaper publish an appeal to the nation for subscriptions to the national fund which it is hoped will enable Germany to secure and maintain the first place in regard to aviation. It is issued by a committee of which Prince Henry of Prussia is the patron, Count von Posadowsky the chairman, and Herr Frank von Mendelssohn the banker and treasurer. Included among the members of the committee are many eminent men who take an important part in the administration of the Empire and in the conduct of the great commercial enterprises. Subcriptions are to be received at the offices of all the German newspapers, at all the German post-offices, and at all the branches of the Imperial Bank, of the Royal Prussian Bank, and of all the great private banking concerns. All the subscriptions which have been collected within the past few weeks for aviation purposes by the separate towns in the Empire are to be handed over to the National Committee, and the watchword of the movement is to be "For the people, by the people." By means of these national suscriptions it is intended to purchase new flying machines of all kinds, to train pilots, to encourage the technical development of aeronautics, to hold competitions for the purpose of promoting the spirit of invention, courage, and energy, and to evoke "ever prouder achievements on the part of man and machine." In short, it is intended that the "German flying machine, whether it circles watchfully in the air in the time of national danger or traverses the air in peaceable rivalry with the nations as the most modern means of intercourse and as a winged messenger of the capabilities of the Fatherland, shall be ready at any moment to fulfil the task demanded of it."

A sum of £20,000 has already been subscribed in response to the appeals issued by various towns on their own account. At Mannheim, for example, £600 were subscribed in one day and in Heidelberg £500, while £2,665 have been collected in Dresden, £3,600 in Cologne, £2,200 in Magdeburg, and in the whole of Saxony about £6,000.

CANADA NEED NOT WORRY

Adamson Panama Canal Bill Will Not Affect Canadian Railways.

Washington, D.C., May 20.—Judge Adamson, author of the Adamson Panama Canal Bill, asserted most emphatically tonight that the Adamson Bill will not prevent any Canadian steamship owned by a Canadian railroad from using the canal.

'This is a bogey that somebody has raised,' said Judge Adamson, 'and the claim is ridiculous. The Adamson Bill applies, so far as this section is concerned, only to the coastwise commerce of the United States and to railroads which are common carriers under the interstate Commerce Act.' The section in question provides that after Juli 1, 1912, it shall be unlawful for any railroad or other common carrier subject to the act to regulate commerce, to own, lease, operate, control or to have any interest whatever in any common carrier by water with which said railroad or other carrier aforesaid does or may compete for traffic. It would vest the Interstate Commerce Commission with jurisdiction to determine questions of fact, as whether there is competition between rail and water carriers as contemplated in this section.

The Adamson Bill will pass the House.

ANNEX TO BE FINE BUILDING

City's Undertaking Will Cost More Than Six Hundred Thousand

The lowest tender, that is Messrs. P. Lyall & Sons Company, Limited, for $649,000 for the construction of the City Hall annex will be accepted, provided that it compiles with the specifications. This building will be a substantial structure, and it is planned after a study of the police headquarters in Paris and London. It will be of six stories and an attic, and it will cost about as much on the basis of cubic volume as the McGill Medical building. The property fronting on Gosford street, which is the site of the building, cost $100,000.

The structure will have a triple arcaded entrance, with a simple Doric colonade above. There are similar features on the side streets, with pilasters instead of columns. A private entrance for the police and detectives will be provided on Champ de Mars street, and on St. Louis street will be the entrance for prisoners. The men and women prisoners will be isolated by a wall driven through the basement.

Three wards will be provided for prisoners who are ill. Two courts for the Recorders are provided.

Entering the building is a fine hall with granite steps. On the right is the police department and on the left the quarters of the detective department. Two large dormitories will be provided for the police and detectives on the mezzanine floor. Six cells are to be provided for the prisoners of detectives. The first two stories are to be occupied by the police and detectives. The general office of the Recorder's Court will be on the main floor, where there will also be a central hall large enough to prevent crowding in front of the Recorder's Court. A small suite of offices will also be provided for municipal assistance. On the third story will be a drill hall, and the two top stories will be used by the health department. The building will be of steel, and terra cotta, with the corridors finished in mosaic, and the surface floors, with maple, except in the cells. Two elevators will be provided.

Valuable Horse Saved By "Nerviline"

Was Too Sore and Lame to Work Quickly Cured by Nerviline.

'I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline.' Thus writes Mr. J. E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P.O. 'I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right foreleg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.'

'We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years, and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment.'

Five thousand letters recommend Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. Try it yourself.

CITY VOTES $10,000 GRANT TO M'GILL AND LAVAL

A grant of $10,000 each to McGill and Laval Universities went through the City Council yesterday after some discussion. The opposition was led by an amendment of Ald. Clement to strike these grants from the order paper, and to have a special report on the matter from the Board of Control.

Controller Lachapelle told the aldermen that it was of great advantage both material and intellectual to have universities in cities. The teachers were working with inadequate salaries. Both these colleges were in urgent need of money.

Ald. Menard said that millions of dollars were invested in Laval and McGill University. They had a big University in Quebec and Montreal. Each year it had not a sufficient sum of money to make ends meet. Last year the technical school was treated well by the Legislature which forced the city to make it an unusual grant. The city might also be forced to give money to the Universities by the Legislature.

Ald. Menard.

Ald. McDonald said it might be right for the Controllers to vote that sum to the Universities, but it might be wrong for him to vote for it. He advanced as a reason the requirements of his ward, and he asked whether there was any legal obligation for the city to make the grants. The people were losing faith in municipal institutions, because they were neglected, and they found discontent eventuating in anarchism. The people were taxed enough for schools and local improvements. He found children going to school in mud and dirt, and that in a civilized city.

Ald. Victor Morin said it was true that roads and sidewalks were needed, but educated men were needed as well.

Ald. Mederic Martin said that McGill was richer than Laval, and that the latter should receive a larger grant. McGill represented the English-speaking minority.

Controller Lachapelle said that McGill University occupied a special position in the Province, and if McGill has more property than the other it has to spend more money for maintenance. The recent gifts were made under certain conditions. There has been a deficit of $60,000 every year, and McGill needed as much money as Laval.

Ald. Clement then withdrew his motion, and the grants carried.

The Council also adopted the supplementary estimates for the expenditure of 780,000, and approved of the purchase of a site on Carriere street at $35,000.

The aldermen refused to adopt a recommendation raising the cost of clearing snow from the streets in winter.

The resolution of congratulation to the aldermen who were elected to the Legislature caused a breeze. These aldermen members are Ald. Turcot, Seguin, and Mayrand. Ald. Turcot and Mayrand were put under the ban of the Labor party, though they ran as labor candidates.

Ald. Tetreau said that Ald. Turcot and Mayrand were elected members of the Legislature by the assistance of the working classes, and without any aid from the so-called labor leaders. Messrs. Turcot and Mayrand were labor candidates who were opposed by the official Labor party.

Ald. Mayrand said he thanked the workingmen of his division for election. They were not influenced by certain labor leaders, and he had the satisfaction of feeling that he was still the friend of labor.

Ald. Turcot made a plea for the autonomy of Montreal. He fought his election on this platform.

Ald. Seguin said he was helped in the elections by some of his opponents. He did not believe full autonomy for Montreal would be obtained from Quebec.

'I do not see why provincial politics should be introduced at the City Hall,' said Controller Ainey. 'It is well to state the facts of the Labor party's campaign. That party is open to all sincere men.

Aldermen Tetreau and Lariviere interrupted Mr. Ainey, but Mayor Lavalee said he was sure the Controller wanted to congratulate the men on their election.

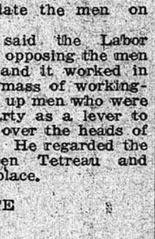

Controller Ainey said the Labor party did its duty in opposing the men who left its ranks, and it worked in the interests of the mass of workingmen and not to raise up men who were merely using the party as a lever to raise themselves up over the heads of the laboring classes. He regarded the remarks of Aldermen Tetreau and Mayrand as out of place.

WILL INVESTIGATE
FIRE ACCOUNTS.

The aldermen, on motion of Ald. Mederic Martin, sent the consideration and investigation of the account of the fire department for more than $6,000, which was sent up by Chief Tremblay for bills in the past three years. Some aldermen said that about a quarter of these were for automobile repairs. Some of the principal items were bills of the Canada Rubber Company, $3,457; Thomas Robertson, $214.57; the Dunlop Tire Company, $607.64; the Stockwell Motor Company, $204.60; the Waterous Fire Engine Company, $123.20; Lymburner, Limited, $243.22. Chief Tremblay said he travelled in the automobile of the department 20,000 miles last year, rubber tires were $90 each, and this only permitted him about four sets of tires in two years. The auto-car cost $1,500 for repairs in that period.

Ald. Giroux said that they should look into this matter, for some of the accounts were more than two years old. He thought some of the accounts might be paid twice over and they should have an investigation.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe read over the list of accounts, and said they had no reason to suspect them. They were from honorable merchants, and were properly initialled.

Ald. McDonald.

Ald. McDonald thought the City Council should show a certain amount of vigilance in all these accounts. If they were to accept what the Controllers said, what was the use of looking over these accounts? he asked. He said there should be an examination into the prices, and that every account should state on it who ordered the goods, and it should be sworn to, so that they could take an action against the person for taking a false oath. He held these should be examined.

'The blame has been thrown upon the secretary of the Chief of the Fire Department,' said Ald. Blumenthal, 'a man who neglected his duty. That man has been removed from that position and given another. That man should have not been permitted to remain in the city service.'

Ald. Ward said he thought the accounts were nearly correct, but some were the fag-ends of the old regime. They should begin now and dismiss incompetent employees. 'I am going to vote not against the Board of Control, but for a scrutiny of these accounts, and for the inquiry of Ald. Mederic Martin.'

Ald. Martin's motion was that a committee composed of Aldermen Giroux, Lariviere, Seguin, Poissant, O'Connell, Ward, Blumenthal, and Mayrand examine these accounts, and especially those of repairs to the automobile.

Controller Lachapelle said the Board of Control had looked into the accounts, and gave instructions that nothing like this was ever to occur again. These were two years ago and over, and so far as the Board could ascertain the merchandise was properly ordered. The employee through whose carelessness these accounts were allowed to accumulate, was transferred to another department before it was known, and he was discharging the duties of his office well where he now was.

The motion to send the matter to a committee was adopted.

BAD SIDEWALK
HAS TO BE REPAIRED.

The sidewalk on Dorchester street between Bleury street and Beaver Hall Hill is in bad shape, and the Controllers who have still on hand a deposit of the contractors have notified them to repair the damage.

Ald. Lariviere said the Controllers claimed that they had the work done cheaper, but it did not last. Under the old system, he said, better work was performed, because the aldermen made inquiries about the kind of material.

Controller Lachapelle said that Ald. Lariviere was always talking of the old regime, but it was the people who established the Board of Control.

Ald. Lariviere interrupted by saying that he was talking about street pavement, and not about the old regime.

Continuing Dr. Lachapelle said that in every case where the work was bad the contractor had to do it over again under the rule of the Controllers. They always insisted upon a proper performance of the contract, which was not always done before their coming.

ASK FOR EFFICIENT
STREET CAR SERVICE.

The residents of Rosemount petitioned the Council for a more effective street car service. They say that the present service is insufficient. It remains as it was when established, while the population is daily increasing. They say they have many times asked the company for an improvement of its service, but not a single step has ever been taken to that end.

CHARTER REVISION.
ALDERMEN TALK OF

The report favoring a revision of the city charter was sent back to the Board of Control with a request to take cognizance of a report of the legislation committee of June 21, 1910, and approved by the Council on June 27, 1910, which declared itself in favor of a speedy revision of the charter, and asked the Controllers to vote the necessary funds, and to make to the City Council the recommendations for changes deemed advisable. The Council is authorized by a special clause to appoint a special committee for this work. The Controllers are asked to vote the funds needed for this work. Several of the aldermen took occasion to utter pleas for greater autonomy from the Legislature, and announced their support of the Board of Control in its endeavors to secure this reform.

ALD. FRASER SPEAKS OF SMOKE NUISANCE.

Alderman Fraser submitted the following:—

'I beg to call the attention of the Commissioners to the complaint of many citizens in the West Ward and elsewhere throughout the city about the nuisance caused by smoke. This nuisance should be abated, soon as possible, and I think instructions should be given both to Mr. Champagne, the city boiler inspector, and to the city attorney to have smoke nuisance By-law No. 130 properly enforced.

Ald. Fraser.

Will the Commissioners' report on this matter to the Council for its next meeting?'

Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, has invited His Worship Mayor Lavallee, to be present at the fourth National Conference on City Planning, to be held at Boston, on May 27, 28 and 29.

A POLITICAL CLUB.

A petition was received from Harry Tennenbaum, N. Nobleman, M. Swartz, S. Bierorier, B. R. Segal, M. Wechster, Saul Reimblatt, J. Shalinsky and P. Schnatel asking for incorporation as the St. Lawrence Political Association. This went to the Board of Control.

An invitation was read to send representation to the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, which meets in Washington, on Sept. 23 to 28 next. Twenty-five foreign companies have appointed delegates so far, as well as forty-four cities of the United States.

A petition was received from the proprietors of Park avenue, between Mount Royal and the northwest limits of the city, asking the abolition of the building restrictions on this street, between the points indicated.

A petition for the incorporation of a Greek letter society, the 'Alpha Zeta Club,' was presented. Its purposes are recreation, athletics, holding dances, competitive sports, regattas, and the acquiring of property for club purposes.

DANGEROUS HOUSE
ON METCALFE STREET.

A citizen wrote to the Council that there is a dangerous house on Metcalfe street, between Sherbrooks street and Burnside Place. It is suffering, he says, from subterranean changes and is braced to prevent collapsing. The outside wall has been razed by fire. The owners, he says, has arranged to repair the interior without a building permit.

SAY HARBOR IS UNSAFE

Shipping Men and Pilots Send Delegation to Commissioners

The harbor is unsafe, at least so say a delegation of shipping men and pilots who waited on the Commission yesterday. The pilots maintain that the alterations to the Mackay pier have caused changes in the current which make navigation unsafe.

One of the first matters requiring the attention of Capt. Demers, the newly appointed harbor master, will be the consideration of the regulations framed some time ago at the request of the Commissioners by the Shipping Federation, Dominion Marine Association, and the river pilots, for the safety of the harbor.

PLUMBER'S BOY HELPED.

Took Lighted Candle to Examine Escape in Gas Pipe and Started Fire.

Emile Lemoyne, a youth of sixteen years, was the chief witness in the Fire Commissioners' Court yesterday, when inquiry was made into the fire that occurred on the premises of the Standard Clothing Company, 309 Notre Dame street west, on May 11. Both Lemoyne's hands were swathed in bandages, he having been burned in the gas explosion which caused the fire. He stated that he had gone to the clothing company's premises as apprentice plumber for J. N. Labelle. Some Jewish plumbers, who were working on gas pipes, asked the boy to help them, and he took a lighted candle to examine escaping gas pipes. An explosion resulted and caused a $10,000 fire, besides placing Lemoyne in a hospital for a few days. Mr. Labelle, the employer, and Mr. F. J. Laverty, representing the insurance companies, were present. The inquiry was adjourned.

No light was thrown on the cause of the fire, which started in a barrel of straw and sawdust in the rear of W. Lariault's hardware store, 233 St. Paul street, on Friday night.

The only theory presented as to the cause of the fire in a stable belonging to Arthur Couture, butcher, 3301 Alice street, in which a horse was burned, was that a match had been thrown into a ventilation hole in the stable.

PLAYGROUNDS OF CANADA.

Lovers of Canadian scenery and sport should attend the lecture to be given by the Rev. Robert Johnston, D.D., in Giles Presbyterian Church, St. Denis street, on Thursday evening this week. Dr. Johnston's subject will be 'The Playgrounds of Canada—by lake, river, and mountain,' and one hundred superb views will be shown depicting scenes of beauty and grandeur from all over Canada East and West.

CHOIR OF PATRIOTIC CHILDREN

Empire Day Concert in Arena Taken Part in by a Thousand Juveniles

There were few vacant seats in the Arena last evening when the twelfth annual Empire Day concert of the Protestant school children of the city was presented. A choir of over a thousand voices, chosen from eighteen schools, was grouped in the gallery at the north end of the structure, and under the baton of Mr. W. H. Smith, rendered a programme which was eminently praiseworthy.

Calisthenics by thirty-five girls from Fairmount School, under the direction of Miss M. M. Scott, were enthusiastically applauded, as was the athletic display by twenty-nine High School boys, under the direction of Mr. C. B. Powter. The girls were dressed in white sailor costumes, with scarlet collars, ties and hair ribbons. They kept perfect rythm in their club swinging, marching and formations. The boys gave an excellent exhibition of tumbling, and made some clever formations. There were, of course, the usual slight mishaps, but these were generally more ludicrous than serious, and only served to send the vast audience into paroxysms of mirth.

To say all that ought to be said in appreciation of the children's singing, would be a task more befitting the writer of a volume than a mere reporter, who has but a limited space at his disposal. One or two things, however, are particularly deserving of mention, and first of all is the perfectly clear enunciation which characterized every number; to the furthermost seat at the rear of the auditorium every word could be heard as distinctly as if spoken in ordinary conversation. Then there were effects in light and shade which were marvellous, considering that the only qualifications required of the children was the ability to sing the common scale in tune. Wonderful too were the harmonies obtained with the introduction of alto voices, this feature being noticeable in no number more than 'Come Back to Erin,' when the verse was sung as melody and the two parts came in on the chorus.

A popular number was 'The Hundred Pipers,' in which a section of the choir maintained a humming imitation of the bag pipes' drone. An encore was demanded, and was responded to with a repetition of the last verse and chorus.

The most delightful number from the standpoint of delicate shading and pictured sentiment was 'Far Away,' by Mrs. J. Worthington Bliss. The children seemed to enter into the spirit of the song, and they left little to be desired in their rendition. The suggestive upward trend of the voices in the pianissimo 'far away, far away,' of each verse was a triumph of interpretative singing.

The other numbers given besides 'God Save the King,' were: 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' 'Let the Hills Resound,' 'Oh for the Swords of Former Time,' 'The Rowan Tree,' 'Under the Greenwood Tree,' 'Widdicombe Fair,' 'Fair Canada,' 'Here's to the land of the Beaver,' 'En Roulant ma Boule,' 'Waves, beautiful Waves,' 'The Musical Farmer,' and 'The Union Jack.' In the latter number each singer was provided with a small flag, and the High School boys in athletic garb marched on the platform as a guard of honor to one of their number, who carried a large Union Jack. Hearty applause greeted this patriotic demonstration.

The choir was composed of pupils taken from the following schools:—Commercial and Technical High School, Aberdeen, Alexandra, Berthelet, Delorimier, Earl Grey, Fairmount, Lansdowne, Lorne, Mount Royal, Riverside, Royal Arthur, Sarah Maxwell, Victoria, William Dawson, William Lunn and Macdonald College Practice School.

Mr. W. H. Smith was assisted by the following sub-conductors:—Mr. H. F. Archibald, Mrs. F. Clayton, Misses A. E. Baker, A. E. Boa, E. G. Booth, A. Boy, F. B. Brown, C. Coffey, F. Donaghue, C. E. Ferris, E. J. Forsyth, S. J. Godue, V. M. Graham, A. Kee, G. A. Kneen, M. Laughton, E. S. LeGallais, E. T. McGuinness, F. J. Mackenzie, L. H. Morrison, M. A. Nicholson, E. R. Riddell, E. L. Rollins, L. S. Runk, M. K. Simpson, J. Smith, E. E. Vibert and R. M. Walsh.

Miss F. B. Brown and Miss C. Murphy presided at the pianos, while Mr. E. M. Brewer was at the organ.

The Rev. James Barclay, M.A., D.D., chairman of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, was present, as was also the Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., D.D., and Mr. Richard Turner, members of the board.

AERIAL FEATS AND FAILURES

An Amateur Killed—Aviator Crosses and Recrosses Channel.

Edenda, Ohio, May 21.—Fred. J. Southard, of Minneapolis, an amateur aviator, fell 100 feet at the Wright aviation field, near Osborne, early today, and was killed instantly. Southard, who was forty years old, had just bought the aeroplane from the Wright brothers. He fell just six minutes after he had begun the first flight alone. His body was badly crushed.

FAILED
IN A GALE.

Constance, Baden, May 21.— Three of the eight officers and the only civilian who started on May 12 from Strassburg on a reliability flight, each carrying a passenger in his aeroplane, completed the task set them by arriving here to-day.

The civilian compiler, whose name is Hirth, uniformly accomplished the best performance every day. The bulk of the competitors were eliminated on the first day of the competition, while crossing the Vosges mountains in the face of a gale.

A Zeppelin dirigible balloon accompanied the airmen along most of the stages. The route from Strassburg was by way of Metz, Mayence, Darmstadt, Frankfort, Karlsruhe and Freiburg over the Black Forest to this city.

SENT HIS REGRETS.

Denver, Dover, England, May 21.—H. Cromberz, a well-known Belgian airman, crossed the English Channel from Nieuport, Belgium, whence he started early this morning.

When the daring aviator appeared over the little fishing port of St. Margarets, near here, he dropped from his monoplane a visiting card, on which was written: 'I regret to be obliged to return to Nieuport, Belgium, without breaking my journey.'

Then Cromberz made a wide, graceful sweep over the surrounding country and started to return across the Channel, taking the direction of Calais, France.

PENSIONS
FOR AVIATORS.

Berlin, May 21.—The Reichstag today passed the first and second readings of a pension bill for military aviators, which ranks accidents occurring in them while flying on the same level as casualtes incurred in time of war.

The eighth report of the active workers of the Y.M.H.A. last evening showed that over eight hundred of the one thousand new members desired have been secured, and that the determination of the members to smash the campaign clock before the time limit will be successful.

The campaign has awakened great interest throughout the whole of Canada. Daily the officials of the Y.M.H.A. are receiving inquiries from various Hebrew communities of the Dominion for information regarding the inaugurating similar whirlwind campaigns.

This evening and to-morrow evening the campaign reports will not be posted on account of it being the feast of weeks, a Hebrew holiday, but it is expected that on Thursday night the members will bring in a record report.
