Dr. Drummond Gives Talk On Korea

One of Shawville Rotary's most successful meetings was held on Monday night when members of Gatineau Rotary and Shawville Rotary met at Pontiac House in Shawville. The occasion marked the settling of a debt by Gatineau Rotary arising out of an attendance contest between the two clubs last winter. During a two month period the Club with the lowest attendance at the weekly meetings was to attend a meeting of the other Club and pay for the dinners of all Rotarians present. Shawville won the contest and Gatineau, following the conditions laid down, came to Shawville on Monday night and paid the shot for the dinner.

Attended by 31 Rotarians and guests, the meeting was a huge success, and was the occasion of loud and enthusiastic singing by members of both clubs.

Guest speaker was Dr. W. M. Drummond, Professor of Economics Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph who spoke on the problems of economic reconstruction in Korea, as encountered by a commission created by the United Nations to enquire into this subject in 1952. Dr. Drummond was a member of this Commission and outlined for his audience some of the circumstances under which he undertook the assignment: a little of the historical background of Korea; and in brief, the findings of the Commission.

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) decided, in the summer of 1952, to send a Commission to Korea and requested Dr. Drummond to be a member. The purpose of the Commission was to investigate the Korean economic situation and to lay out a five year plan for its recovery. The Commission planned to examine the economic situation, first, as it had been, prior to June 1950 when the Korean War broke out; and second, as it was in August 1953 when the Commission arrived in Korea. From the information obtained, a plan of what should be done during the next five years of the recovery period was to be set up.

The survey was of necessity confined to the 9 provinces of South Korea, where almost all of the travelling was by Jeep. Members of the Commission were at frequent intervals open to attack by Guerilla forces and as a consequence were placed in a position of considerable personal danger. While Dr. Drummond did not say so, it is safe to infer that members of the Commission were in no wise deterred by the dangers involved, since they brought in an 800 page report on the situation after 7½ months in Korea.

Dealing briefly with the historical background of Korea, Dr. Drummond stated that, following successful wars with China and Russia at the turn of the 20th century, Japan developed expansionist tendencies and cast its eye on its neighbour, Korea. It happened that the rulers of Korea at that time were weak and incompetent, as a consequence of which certain powerful interests in Korea requested Japan to step in. This was done.

Expect Close Races Competition Keen For Monday Night

Danny Boy, Mike Keon's pacer from Chapeau, is in for a stiff fight Monday evening at Shawville track when the local driving club will hold its second meet of this season. Turning the free for all event into a grudge race will be the two other Chapeau entries, Laval's Abbe Bunter and Marcotte's Senator Will who placed down on the list in the July 12 race. They'll be out to beat Keon along with Tom Smith's Ormonde Star from Renfrew, Eric Vadneau's Sonny Dale Scott and Toots Cecile's Tom C. Grattan who has been working a very fast mile in Pembroke since last seen here.

Of great local interest will be the second race on the card when Eddie Davis of Fort Coulongue with his Guy Chenault Jr. will be all out to beat Shawville Bill Horner's April Showers who won both heats in July. Cote and Johnston's Waterloo Grattan, Herb Smith's True W. A. and Bob Horner's Bud Pershing and several new horses will be in this DD pace, including Pontiac Dairy's Millcar from Elizabethtown, New York.

The other race next Monday will settle another fierce battle between Red and Allan Young's Finette of Shawville and Tom C. Smith's Ginebread of Renfrew. Each are bringing a new horse to Shawville and face heavy competition including Dr. Pounder's Stewart Belwin, Paddy Burke's Lee Eblis, Trudeau's Dr. McCormick from Quyon and an entry from Renfrew belonging to Gordon Davidson.

The races Monday night are slated to start at 6.30 but it is unlikely they will actually get under way until seven to allow district farmers to get chores done and still be in time for the first event. The Shawville Driving Club will sponsor the race and all concessions at the grounds will be for their benefit with all proceeds going to the improvement of the local grounds.

Surprise Reception

A surprise reception was held recently in honor of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bretzlaff (nee Loreen Yach) who were married March 5th in Kirkland Lake.

The evening was enjoyed with square dancing and round dancing, with many relatives and friends.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Martin Yach, Mrs. Eddie Yach and Mrs. Charlie Lance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bretzlaff thanked their friends for the many lovely gifts they received which included a beautiful hand made quilt from Thorne Centre W. A. of which Mrs. Bretzlaff was a member.

Landmark Burns

One of the few remaining landmarks of square timber days in the Ottawa Valley was destroyed by fire about 5.30 p.m. Monday when Sommerville's Stopping Place, two miles below Bryson on the Portage road was burned to the ground.

During the heyday of lumbering it was the snubbing point on the Ottawa River for square timber rafts that had come through the Calumet Slides and raftsmen from this point took the square timber cribs from Sommervilles to Cousineau's point at Portage du Fort. These men were then transported back on Stages from Portage to Sommerville's to continue the raft running on their way to the timber market at Quebec, during the Spring and Summer months.

After the Sommerville's, Louis Tourangeau occupied the place from whom the present owner, Mrs. Trefle Maloche, Hull, purchased the homestead. Originally it was built grouted and clapboarded, it presented a strong substantial building in its fiery destruction. The loss to the owner will amount to upwards of $4,000. Fire units from Bryson and New Calumet Mines gave assistance with hose and mobile fire pump and saved adjoining sheds.

INVITE RUSSIANS HERE

It has been announced that twelve Russian agriculturists will visit Canada later this summer to inspect farming developments in this country. While definite plans are not yet known it is thought that a visit to the Experimental Farm at Ottawa will be included in the itinerary. The thought has also been expressed that visits to some outstanding farming areas may be made as well.

If the Soviet representatives are to be in Ottawa, what could be more simple, appropriate and useful than a visit to some of the farms here in Pontiac County?

We have in mind such famous farms as Wyman MacKechnie's Gold Medal farm Bonniesshade—and a dozen other top notch, if slightly less widely known farms—within easy driving distance of Ottawa.

The visit to Canada of these twelve representatives of Russia is a most significant step in the direction of improved relations between the two countries. The visit would not be complete without an inspection of at least a few Canadian farms in operation. The modern farming methods, equipment, cleanliness and prosperity of many of Pontiac's farms—the equal of any in the Dominion—leads to the conclusion that a visit to Pontiac County by these important men would be well worth while.

Baseball School In Shawville

Jack Yemen, who volunteered to help out and now finds himself in complete charge, has been carrying out plans for a baseball school every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening at the Fair Grounds ever since school was out. Boys ten to fourteen are being taught the various skills of the game and a certain amount of good sportsmanship is being instilled in the boys as a byproduct of instruction. The correct way to pitch, catch, bat and run and the other fine points of baseball.

Without any definite plans for organized games this season it is possible that some competition with some other Pontiac village might be arranged if there is another group in this age group. Mr. Yemen hopes that next summer the school can be enlarged by the addition of another volunteer teacher and the inclusion of younger boys with a division between those 8-11 and 12 to 14.

Urges Drought Aid For Valley Farmers

Federal assistance to drought-stricken farmers in Eastern Canada under terms of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act was urged recently in Commons.

John Blackmore, SC. of Lethbridge, said financial assistance should be provided to encourage farmers, who have lost most of their crop, to plant next year. He said the chief drought sufferers this year are in the Ottawa Valley.

Vanchester Mines Plan Development

Officials of Vanchester Mines Limited arrived in Shawville on Tuesday on their way to the Company's mining property situated in Huddersfield Township about 1 mile north east of the new Yates uranium discovery in the same township. The property, situated on the eastern shore of Sandy Lake contains about 600 acres and was purchased from Jimmy Yates, prospector, last March. Yates completed a scintillometer survey of the property which shows very promising results. Stripping has also been carried out and a most active area 275' long and 21' wide has been discovered. Selected samples taken from this point have yielded assay results running from a low of .20% U308 to a high of .62%. These results have been confirmed by Mr. Lyle Hendricks, geologist and consulting engineer for the company, who took check samples from the same place. The Company is now in process of negotiating with an American group for further financing prior to development of the property. Vanchester Mines Ltd. also owns property, about 750 acres, in the Cobalt area of Ontario, where they report cobalt and silver ores.

Present in the party going to visit the mine property were: Chester P. Smith, President of the Company, Mayor of Findlay, Ohio; Mrs. Chester Smith; their son, Mike; Mr. J.S. Van Tassel, Vice-President and Managing Director of Findlay, Ohio; Mr. James Sarver, Secretary-Treasurer, Safety Service Director of Findlay, Ohio; Mrs. James Sarver of Findlay, Ohio; Rael Cordin, Vice President of Rawdon Iron Mines Ltd., Rawdon, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Yates of Montreal, who are camping for the next week or two on the Yates Uranium property

Norway Bay Holds Successful Regatta

Gusty winds which whipped up rough water did not deter the enthusiasm of the large crowd of spectators or detract from the performance of competitors as the annual regatta was held here on Saturday afternoon.

The rough water caused several spills in the canoe events, and brought about an upset in the Open Class for speedboats. In the latter event, Bob Patterson flipped over on a turn, but saved his boat and incurred only minor damage.

The regatta was the first of two athletic programs presented there annually, with the annual Field Day scheduled for next Saturday. Track and field events will start at 10 a.m. with a program of swimming races and aquatic events scheduled for 2.00 p.m.

Following are Saturday's results.

Canoe Races
Boys' Tandem, 12 and under—1. Gilbert Shouldice and Donald Caldwell; 2. Tod Ambridge and Andrew Jones.

Boys' tandem open—1. Bob Glass and George Earnshaw; 2. Hugh McCredie and Brian McCredie.

Girls' tandem open—1. Lorna Greene and Margaret Scott; 2. Jean Beardsley and Beverley Chambers.

Mixed tandem, open—1. George Earnshaw and Lorna Greene; 2. Bob Glass and Jean Beardsley.

There was one death at the hospital this past week: that of the late Miss Mary Brown of Charlevoix on July 21.

"Thank God" For Rain

One of our lifetime subscribers has a suggestion to make to the clergymen of the district. Drought has been upon this area for many days and has meant a great loss to farmers and tremendous disaster in the forests. Everyone has been praying for rain and finally on Wednesday the rain came. Our subscriber feels that nothing but good could come if every congregation meeting this Sunday were to set aside a moment or two to thank God for this blessing. We are happy to pass along this suggestion for the serious consideration of all.

Pool Mining Corp. Plan Development

Officials of Pool Mining Corp. arrived in Shawville last Friday to lay out plans for the construction of a road into their 1,200 acre property in the Sandy Creek area. The road will be 2¾ miles long and is to be built by Minard Hobbs of Shawville, starting immediately.

The property, which adjoins the Yates Uranium property to Yates' south, is to be surveyed by scintillometer, followed by a program of diamond drilling.

Oddfellows Hold Banquet

The members of the Oddfellows Lodge, Shawville No. 40, gave a banquet last Friday night, to a number of the Grand Lodge officers on the occasion of the visit of Grand Master, Reg. Thomas of Montreal.

Visiting members were present from Ottawa, Renfrew, Arnprior, Pembroke, Lachute and Montreal. Present too, in addition to members of the local lodge and their wives, were a number of members of Adinah Lodge of Rebecas. The banquet was held in the basement of the United Church of Shawville and the meeting following was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall.

Watt Taylor, District Deputy Grand Master of District 14, was chairman of the meeting and introduced the distinguished guests from Grand Lodge.

Mr. Thomas spoke on the work being done by the Oddfellows throughout Canada. Last year they raised $6,500 for wheel chairs, one of which was donated to Pontiac Community Hospital. This year it is planned to spend an even larger amount on the purchase of oxygen tents to be placed in hospitals throughout the country. Mr. Thomas also told of his visit to the Ontario Grand Lodge in Toronto where there were 1100 members present as delegates, and of a mass initiation, when 65 men received their three degrees at one time.

Mr. Jack Cowley, of Ottawa and Norway Bay, also addressed the meeting. He praised the project for the year and said that the Lodge must realize that in these days they must not think of help to fellow members but, like servile clubs, carry their work outside the lodges. The truest way to build up their lodge organization, he said, was to go with a helping hand to the man on the street.

Watt Taylor proposed a toast to the ladies. The reply was made by Mrs. Robinson Hodgins, District Deputy of the Rebekahs, who brought greetings from her District. She stated that the dove, the Rebekah's emblem, represents peace and harmony, and that, speaking on behalf of the women present, she felt that a start in this direction could and should be made right in the home.

Other speakers at the meeting were Mr. Malcolm McArthur of Lachute and Mr. Skelton and Mr. Trulo of Montreal.

the Company—Mr. Norman Davies, and Mr. J. J. Harris, consultant in Canada for the Atlas Corporation of America.

All development work now under consideration is to be privately financed with Canadian capital.

Officials of the Company in the Pontiac last week were Mr. C. R. Carson, President of Pool Mining, and Col. George Lasher, Director, both of Montreal. They were accompanied by Mr. William Tanfield of Montreal and Mr. Ken MacLaren of Toronto.

Quyon Clubs Hold Sports Night

A most successful Sports Night was held recently in Quyon by the Quyon Women's Institute and the Ground Observer Corps.

The evening started with a ball game in the fair grounds. A ladies' team consisting of the Misses Lora O'Donnell, Patsy Lawler, Eileen Kearns, Regina Keon and the Mrs. Terrence Mulligan, Laurie McKechnie, Helen Russett, Fred Fraser and Edward McColgan.

A gentlemen's team consisting of George Janoff, Mickey O'Shaughnessy, Ernie Perriard, Francis O'Donnell, Edgar Moses, Edwin Shennett, Harold Hammond, Bob Manary and Gracemond Chevrier.

The score was 10 to 15 for the men.

Events then moved to the beach where the girls swimming race was won by Miss Suzanne Russett.

Boating was won by Donnie McLean and Wilfred O'Donnell.

Climbing the greased pole was won by Beverley Coyle.

Soft drinks, hot dogs and homemade candy were on sale.

Mrs. Muriel Bronson was convener for the Quyon W. I. and Mr. Edgar Moses and Bob Manary for the Ground Observers.

We are also greatly indebted to Mr. H. Murdoch and family for their kind assistance.

90 Years Young

PONTIAC PRISON SITE SUGGESTED

The federal government last week announced that it intends to build three new penitentiaries across Canada in the near future in order to enlarge and modernize the penal institutions of this country.

One prison is probably to be built in Kingston, Ontario, to accommodate women now housed in an annex of the present Kingston penitentiary.

Of the other two prisons to be built, one is thought to be planned for Western Canada and one for Eastern Canada. The matter of location of these two institutions will undoubtedly be pondered at great length by those responsible for selecting suitable sites for them. In considering a site for the prison to be established in Eastern Canada, the merits of Pontiac County as a possible location should not be overlooked.

Pontiac County is situated within easy reach of the governmental centre of Canada; is served by the main transcontinental line of the government railway; with the completion of the Pembroke Bridge, will have three way access to the Trans-Canada Highway; has daily train service to Ottawa via C.P.R.

In addition to the ideal transportation situation found in this County, there are other equally excellent reasons for considering Pontiac as a site. The available power supply is adequate to whatever demands such an institution could impose upon it. We have a modern and well-equipped hospital in the County. Our population could easily fill the need for guards to be recruited locally. We are close to the centre of Eastern Canada, both geographically and politically. Another reason is that, at no time in the past, has a Federal Government installation been established here. Aerodromes, highways, army camps, and an atomic energy research plant have all been built in the counties across the Ottawa from us. No doubt the reasons for so doing were excellent in each case. No doubt the final site selected for a penitentiary will be the result of the exercise of careful judgement. Our hope is that the advantages of Pontiac County will be weighed before that judgement is exercised.

GROUND OBSERVER CORPS—A CIVIC DUTY

The Ground Observers in the Shawville and Chapeau areas last week completed a most difficult assignment—the manning of their posts for a total of 114 hours from Monday to Sunday, with a 24 hour break between Thursday and Friday.

From comments we heard during the course of the Alert, it appears that many people do not understand the purpose of the Ground Observer Corps, and just what it is the members of the Corps are doing when they go out on duty. Further, it looks as though the Air Force doesn't properly understand and appreciate the fact that it has a quite large group of volunteer, unpaid civilians working for it in its job of defending Canada in the event of an attack by air.

Dealing first with the first of these subjects, the members of the Corps are obligated, by virtue of that membership, to go on duty at their Post, when called by their Chief Observer. Their job, while on duty, is to report by phone to headquarters at Brockville all aircraft which are sighted or heard by the observer. When an alert is called for a period of several days duration, it simply means that some people have to get out of their beds in the middle of the night, to go to the Post and stand watch for whatever the duration of their duty period may be. Then they have to go out and do a full day's work the next day. This is quite a hard thing for most people to do, and is one reason that it is difficult to secure reliable recruits for the Corps. People should realize however that the Ground Observers are doing a job of defence for the whole community. Those members of the community who take no part in this work are ignoring their responsibilities to the community and at the same time place a most unfair load on the few willing Observers who see their responsibilities and act accordingly. If even 20 percent of the men and women in those areas where there are observation posts were to join the Corps, the whole job could be done well and easily. As it is, the few members shoulder the whole burden which should rightfully rest on the entire community.

THE R.C.A.F. AND THE G.O.C.

Last week's alert of the Ground Observer Corps brought into sharp focus the part that the Air Force plays in the administration of the Corps and the criticisms of that administration which arise in the minds of the civilian volunteers who make up the Corps.

It is the practice of the R.C.A.F. to set up "exercises" for the purpose of keeping the Observers accustomed to watching for aircraft and reporting aircraft sightings by long distance phone calls. This happens every few weeks, usually on short notice, and for periods of time varying from a few hours to a few days. Emergencies also occur, where an aircraft is in difficulty, or the radar screen fails, etc., which require the services of the Corps. A strong criticism of the present system is that an indication of the purpose of a particular alert is not usually given to the Observers. To people in the Services, an order is an order, and the reason behind the order is not particularly important. Where civilians are involved, particularly volunteer civilians, the matter is quite different. These people want to know why they have been told to stand watch on a particular occasion. The reason behind the order is important to them and so they always want to know why. In most cases a statement of "why" would not involve a breach of security, and would make the Observers much happier about their duty.

A source of disappointment and surprise to most Observers is the apparent lack of funds available to the Corps. Few would deny the actual and potential importance of the Observers in peace time as well as in wartime. Yet the annual budget for the Corps is tiny. At a time when hundreds of millions of dollars are being voted for the construction of an early-warning radar system in northern Canada, the warning system inherent in the Ground Observer Corps rates only a very few thousands of dollars. The budget is so small, in fact, that it has not yet been possible to establish the Corps in the Prairie Provinces.

The inference to be drawn from these facts is that the Ground Observer Corps is not highly regarded as a defence factor by the top men in the R.C.A.F. If it is not highly regarded, we wonder why they bother with it from the defence point of view.

There is no question about the value of the Corps as an aid to search and rescue following the crash of an aircraft. Possibly its full attention should be turned to this aspect of the duties it now performs, leaving the defence aspects for Service personnel. Such a change would relieve the present strain of long hours on duty and yet would enable the Corps to provide a valuable and necessary service to aircraft in distress.

Many Observers wonder whether or not last week's alert was an exercise or the real thing. If it was simply an exercise, the Air Force exhibited an astounding lack of judgment and savoir faire in imposing a burden of this magnitude on people living in rural areas, where the year's income often depends on the work done in the harvest months of July and August. Of course, if the alert arose from an emergency situation, then there can and would be no complaint.

Most Observers find that a tower for observation purposes, is almost a necessity. Where a watch has to be kept in inclement weather, prolonged exposure to the elements has in the past at least discouraged the Observers, and in more than one case that we know of, has actually caused illness. The R.C.A.F. will not allocate funds for the construction of towers. It has been stated repeatedly that funds for this purpose must come directly out of the pockets of the people of the community.

All this adds up to the apparent fact that the Air Force doesn't take the Ground Observer Corps very seriously. This we feel is unfortunate. Its members have furnished most valuable assistance in the past, and will do likewise on many more occasions in the future.

We take the Ground Observer Corps seriously, as does every one of its members in this county. We would like to see the Air Force do likewise.

Letter To The Editor

Norway Bay, Que., July 26th, 1955

The Editor, The Equity,

Dear Sir:-

In the columns of The Equity you will, no doubt, carry an account of an address given before the combined Rotary Clubs of Gatineau and Shawville in Shawville last evening. It was a brilliant address, a brilliant historical account of the conditions that have prevailed in Korea during the past 35 years.

One wonders, however, just how many of the members of the United Nations Commission of ten who made the inquiry, were economists. The reason that this question is raised is that apparently the conclusions reached by the Commission were absolutely futile. To round them out they only required the additional observation of one Shawville Rotarian, coming out from the meeting, who was heard to mutter, 'Doom, Doom, The world is doomed'.

Objection, likewise can be taken to this observation. The world is not necessarily doomed. In thinking over the address there is at least one bright spot, the significance of which the Commission evidently missed.

During the Japanese regime the people of Korea prospered. Agriculture was greatly improved, Korea became a food exporting country. Hydro power was developed, industry expanded, block long factories were built and steady employment resulted. The Japanese failed and were eventually driven from the country because they were ruthless. They retained for themselves all the key positions in Government and in industry, they failed to recognize talent and ability in the Korean people, a people evidently as able and brilliant as themselves. They taxed unmercifully, unrest was purged, and anyone who protested was liquidated or forced to flee the country.

The industrial and educational improvement that took place was nevertheless amazing. In some respects the parallel is not unlike what has happened in a similar period in our own Province of Quebec. Only here, under a democratic regime, the people of Quebec have been able to reap the benefit of their own endeavour. They have grown with the development and thereby acquired a mastery over themselves.

How then is it that even a minority report of the Korean Commission failed to see that it was a rehabilitation of the agricultural and industrial activity that the Koreans need now with a trained personnel of their own people to take over and go on from where the Japanese left off.

If Japan needed Korean products then, she, with her steadily increasing population needs them more now. Further, according to report, the Koreans are a capable people who once equipped for the responsibilities of management and business contacts, would be more likely to find the doors of immigration to other countries more freely open to them, the peoples of Northern and southern Europe.

The Korean Commission should therefore, be sent back to Korea with instructions to complete their enquiry and come back with recommendations more duly suited to our times.

Yours sincerely,
W. A. Brown.

Ed. Note: One, at least, of the members of the Commission, Dr. W. M. Drummond, is an economist, with a doctorate from Harvard University. The wide demands for his services on various commissions of enquiry indicate the high regard in which his capabilities as an economist are held by government officials throughout the western world.

Our understanding of some of the findings of the commission is that every effort should be made by the countries of the world to "rehabilitate the agricultural and industrial activity" of Korea through capital loans and outright capital gifts in the form of machinery and/or credits, as well as technical advice and assistance. All of these things will not, Dr. Drummond believes, correct the present situation which has been seriously affected, since the war, by a rapidly expanding population. If the present rate of population increase could be reduced or stopped, the recommendations noted above, and suggested in Mr. Brown's letter, would go a long way to the long range solving of Korea's economic difficulties.

Rose - Turcotte Exchange Vows In St. Paul's Anglican Church Shawville

Commence Work On Island Lodge

Evidence of the rapidity with which the Pembroke-Allumette Island Bridge is expected to proceed was seen this week with the announcement that work had started on the Moorhead Island Lodge, near the Quebec end of the bridge.

The hotel, which will feature the most modern in all types of equipment and appointments, will be 68 by 54 in size, plus a garage and kitchen 36 by 22.

It will have 14 rooms, 12 with baths and each room will command an impressive view of the scenic countryside surrounding the area.

A modern and tastefully decorated dining room, 22.6 by 29.6 will be contained in the new structure beautiful gifts including a large number of cheques.

which will be air conditioned in its entirety.

Mr. Moorhead purchased the site for the hotel some time ago and bulldozers were at work on the property this week.

The hotel will be fully licensed under Quebec regulations and nothing which will add to the comfort of guests will be left out.

The owner pointed out that the site is in the heart of some of the finest scenery available anywhere and that it has lots of room for future expansion, should this be desired.

Situated near the water, it will provide areas for swimming and other water sports and the owner expects that it will prove to be a popular vacation spot for tourists from far and near.

Fort Coulonge

By Rev. C. Younger-Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. Cahill of Campbell's Bay were visiting friends in Fort Coulonge last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith and family from Ottawa were weekend visitors.

Mrs. Ira Whalen visited friends in Ottawa over the weekend.

Mr. Clifford Kenny and his son who had been spending part of their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kenny left for Windsor last Saturday.

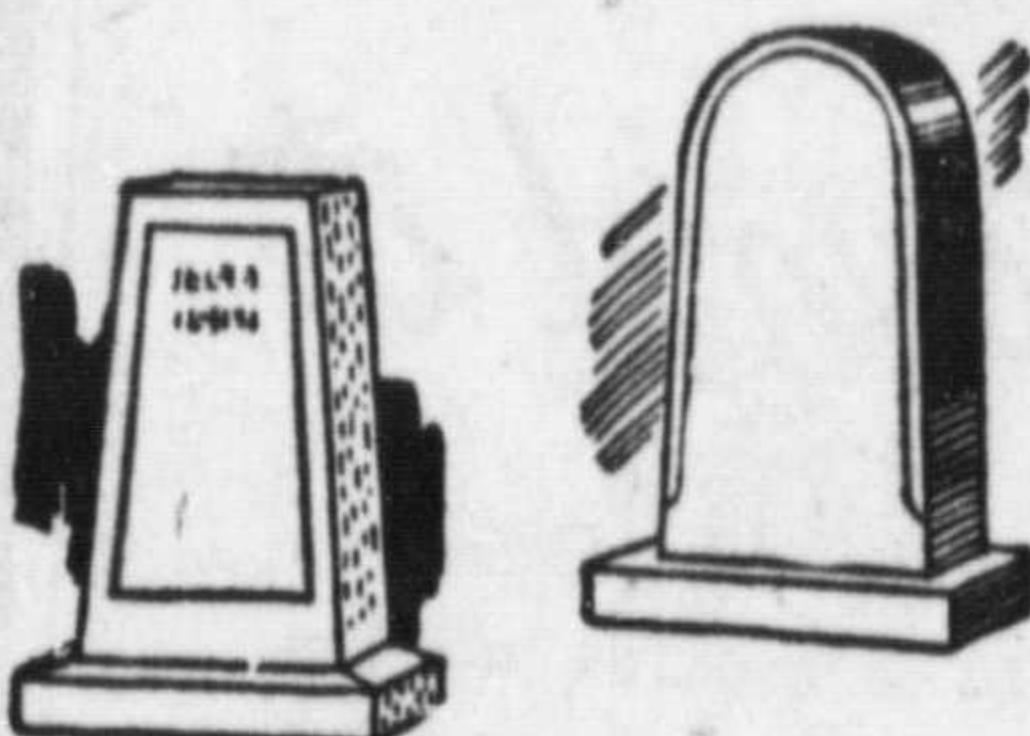

Walking down the Main Street or going into the Movie Theatres one is struck by the scarcity of men. On making enquiries your correspondent has been assured that a great number of them are in different parts of not only this province but in Ontario fighting forest fires.

Mr. Norman Kenny, Ottawa spent a few days last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kenny.

Board Member Like Solomon

Neal Gross of the Harvard School of Executive Studies, says an "ideal" school board member is a sort of King Solomon who does everything quickly and cheaply, even when he knows nothing about it. Gross told a conference for school board members, school officials and laymen the ideal school board member should have:

children, Mary and Cora Lawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lawn and their children. Mr. and Mrs. Lawn widely known residents of Campbell's Bay, were married on July 17, 1906 at Vinton, Que., by the late Rev. Ferrari.

Mr. Lawn is a former MLA for Pontiac County and was mayor of Campbell's Bay for a good number of years. He was also for quite a few years chairman of the Catholic School Commission.

3. The ability to make wise and penetrating decisions on subjects he doesn't know anything about.
4. The desire to be hooked by educational jargon.
5. The ability to tell parents that a straight line for a school bus is

- The Way I See It -
(a weekly column)
by
Rev. C. Watson

During the week of July 4 to 9 I attended a course at William Temple College which has been established in the "Old Rectory" at Rugby in Warwickshire. This college was opened as a memorial to the late Archbishop of Canterbury. It was established in 1947 but in 1953 they moved from Hawarden to Rugby which is far more central and easily accessible from all parts of the country. They built a modern two storey building which contains 40 study-bedrooms and a library and at the same time re-modelled the Rectory making the whole lay-out a most attractive and comfortable establishment capable of supplying the needs of forty students at a time. It is governed by a board of 27 distinguished leaders of Church and Industry of whom the chairman is the Bishop of Sheffield

The guiding spirit and principal is Miss "Mollie" Batten, O.B.E., M.A., B.Sc. (Econ). who was a senior official in the Civil Service for many years and is a very wise and witty woman and a Christian with strong convictions and a deep insight into the demands of our times. She has an extremely wide acquaintance in all branches of public and industrial life and can call on them to give lectures and lead seminars from time to time. The other two full-time lecturers at the moment are Miss O. J. Lace, M.A., B.D., and Mr. C. W. Vittle. With this description of the set-up I'll tell you something of the course next week.

What to do...

FOR VACATION FIRST AID

Vacation-bound families at this time of year are advised by St. John Ambulance not to forget a few simple necessities which may make their holidays much more pleasant.

While first aid teaches that things close at hand may be used for most accidents, it is often wise to make some preparation.

One thing that should always be taken to a cottage is a first aid kit—the commercial type that sells for around two or three dollars contains just about everything that is needed by the untrained person.

An approved sunburn lotion is always good to have along. But if a sunburn is really serious with blisters and cracks in the skin, protect the area as well as possible with clean bandages and take the patient to a doctor.

A bottle of rubbing alcohol has many uses. It will relieve an itchy feeling, is good to wash off parts of the body that have come in contact with poison ivy, can be applied to bruises and blisters, and is suitable as a mild antiseptic.

The best mild antiseptic to take along, however, is the creamy type sold in collapsible tubes. These can be squeezed right onto any wound before a dressing is applied.

If children who have trouble with their teeth are being taken to the cottage it might be a good idea to take some Oil of Cloves. This will relieve pain if applied to a cavity until the child can be taken to a dentist.

If there's poison ivy in the vicinity of your cottage it is wise to stock up with some counter-irritant at a drug store. Insect repellent should also be taken because a child scratching insect bites can often cause ugly sores.

Many of the other first aid necessities will be contained in ordinary supplies taken to the cottage. Salt (two tablespoons to a glass of water) for instance, is a good emetic to be used in case someone swallows poison. Baking soda can

Public Hospital Costs Tripled In Past Ten Years

The cost of Canada's public hospitals has tripled since the end of the second World War and shows no sign of becoming a lighter charge on the public purse.

The bureau of statistics' latest report on hospital finances shows Canadians spent $227,036,000 on 720 public hospitals in 1953 compared with $84,503,000 in 1910. And health department authorities say the upward trend still continues at a rate of about 10 per cent a year.

Despite mounting revenue — an eight-year rise to $213,407,000 from $80,149,000 — public hospitals were in the red by almost $10,000,000.

In fact, since the bureau first collected financial statistics from hospitals in 1932, annual costs have been higher than earnings.

Average cost of a hospital bed worked out to $3,242 a year in 1953 — or the price of one new car in the medium price field.

The larger the hospital the higher was the cost per bed-year, ranging from $2,129 in hospitals of 24 beds and fewer to $4,207 in hospitals of 500 beds or more.

Average cost of a day's care rose to $11.46 from $5.16 in 1946.

Pontiac Community Hospital, a 52 bed hospital, last year had costs which amounted to $2,236.00 per bed for the year, while average cost of a day's care amounted to $7.13. Hospital rates in Pontiac's hospital

Ground Broken For New Renfrew Plant

F. R. Deakins, Canadian president of RCA Victor, performed the official ground breaking ceremonies at Renfrew, Thursday, when construction of the company's new $500,000 plant there was officially started.

The plant, which will eventually employ about 350 persons, is to be constructed on a 30 acre site in the southeastern outskirts of Renfrew. It is to be used for the manufacture of component electronic parts, particularly for television sets.

The RCA president, in his address, said that Renfrew had had some competition in getting the new plant but that the town's advantages and, even its disadvantages, were so vigorously set out in a combined community effort that Renfrew had been chosen.

The new industry is the first to be established in Renfrew since the closing of two textile mills during the past two years.

Seeks Increased Lamb Export To Canada

Plans to increase the sale of New Zealand lamb in Canada have been examined by the New Zealand Meat Producers' Board after a North American tour by general manager J. W. de Gruchy.

The major problem is the irregular shipping schedule between the two countries, and de Gruchy has negotiated for more frequent service for meat cargoes. He also discussed the possibility of developing trade in pre-packaged lamb cuts.

Several meat-packing firms are interested in the system, although supermarket operators still prefer whole carcass shipments.

De Gruchy reported that the New Zealand standard of grading, giving uniformity of carcasses, is meeting a favorable reception in Canada, whereas there had been much criticism of Australian standards.

The board reports that Canada was the third best customer for New Zealand meat in the last export year, with 3,781 tons. Britain and Russia took much larger amounts.

GETTING THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY

Electricity is wasted, possibly unconsciously, because it is so convenient and cheap!

Our customers can effect considerable savings for themselves if the following simple practices are adopted:

Turn off lights in unoccupied rooms; operate the radio only when listening to a program; and see that the surface elements on the kitchen range are turned off or to low or medium, when the contents of the kettle or pots have been brought to a boil.

Another opportunity to save on electricity bills is gained when water tanks are insulated. Such a cover for your water tank can be easily installed by you, and will result in the water retaining its heat much longer. If your water tank is warm enough to feel its heat, then electricity is being wasted!

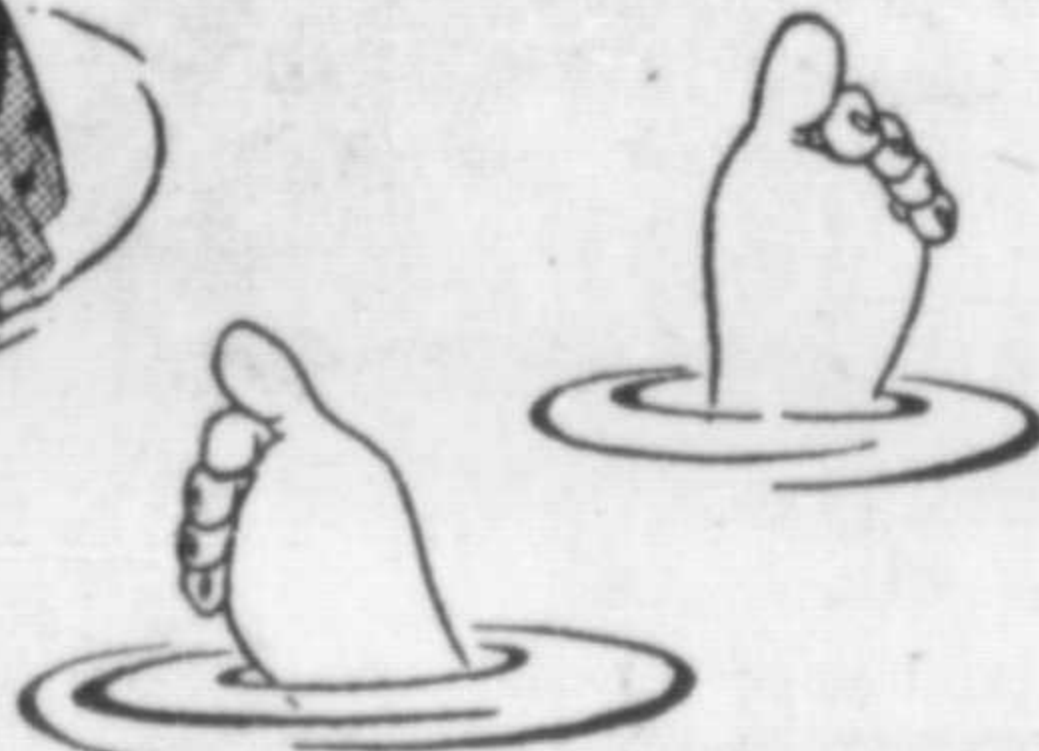

The Company's interest in these steps to save electricity arises from the fact that wastage adds to an ever increasing load on its equipment, and uses water which could otherwise be stored for the time when stream flows are low.

Do not waste your Most Valuable Servant!

Dr. Drummond

The Japanese annexed Korea and stayed there until 1945. They did a tremendous amount of work by way of improving the agricultural productivity of the country; they also developed Korea industrially. These developments were good, but the Japanese were thoroughly hated by the Koreans because the increased productivity went to enrich the Japanese and not the Koreans. An uprising took place in 1919 which was put down with violence. Many of those who took part in the insurrection were executed, and many others were forced to flee. Some, like Sigmund Rhee now president of South Korea went to the United States. Many others went to Russia, where for 30 years they absorbed Russian influences. When they returned after the Second War, they took those influences back to Korea with them. Because of the widespread discontent engendered by the Japs, and the extreme poverty, many Koreans, in both North and South, turned to Communism as a way out. The Communist Party existed in Korea from 1924, although its activities were mostly underground.

When Japan entered World War II, the leaders of Russia and the West promised Korea that, following successful conclusion of the war, the Japanese would be evicted from Korea. In 1945, mindful of this promise, Russia volunteered to carry out the eviction. Not trusting the good faith of Russia, the United States said no, we'll both do it. So Russia took over Korea above the 38th parallel and the U.S. took over the South, all for the purpose of evicting the Japanese. 800,000 Japs were returned from the South in short order. This action stripped the country of its key men and skilled workers. Economic collapse swiftly followed. In the north, the Russians were slower to return the Japanese leaving them where they were until replacements had been trained to do their work.

Most of Korea's industry was established by the Japanese in the North, partly because of power availability then; and agriculture was developed in the South. The separation of North and South therefore has had disastrous economic consequences to the entire country, which can only be resolved by the reunion of North and South.

During the war, Japan, in an all-out drive to win the war, denuded Korea of its forests of pine which covered about 70% of the total area. The consequences of this action are that Korea now has virtually no fuel, and the land has suffered terribly from erosion. During the war, too, the Japanese made off with a large part of the Korean cattle. These were never used for milk or meat, but for power. Japanese depredation thus left the people short of cattle power.

Land, per head of population, is very scarce in Korea. Only 30% of the land is arable. Like most other eastern countries the land was owned, up to 1950, by relatively few people, who employed the remainder of the people to work the land. Following popular demand, a land reform program was implemented in 1950 whereby everyone who owned more than 7 1/4 acres was forced to sell the excess to the government at the government price. The land was then sold by the government, to be paid for in kind, over a five year period. Land holdings became much smaller and by 1953 averaged about 2 acres per family. The average family has 7 members, compared with 3 1/2 in Canada. The quality of the land is poor, and because of the heavy population it is impossible to raise the standard of living very much through improving the yield of the land. Until quite recently the Koreans looked upon their extreme poverty as an act of God. This view has changed sharply in the last few years. They now feel that these conditions need not and must not continue. It was this new attitude that was one of the factors in setting up the Commission by FAO.

Conclusions of the Commission were, in part:

1. Neither North or South Korea can hope for recovery until they are reunited politically.

2. Because of extreme poverty, capital, through savings of the people, cannot be accumulated. Other countries must therefore continue to subscribe the necessary materials, along with personnel to show how to use them—and must supply most of it gratis.

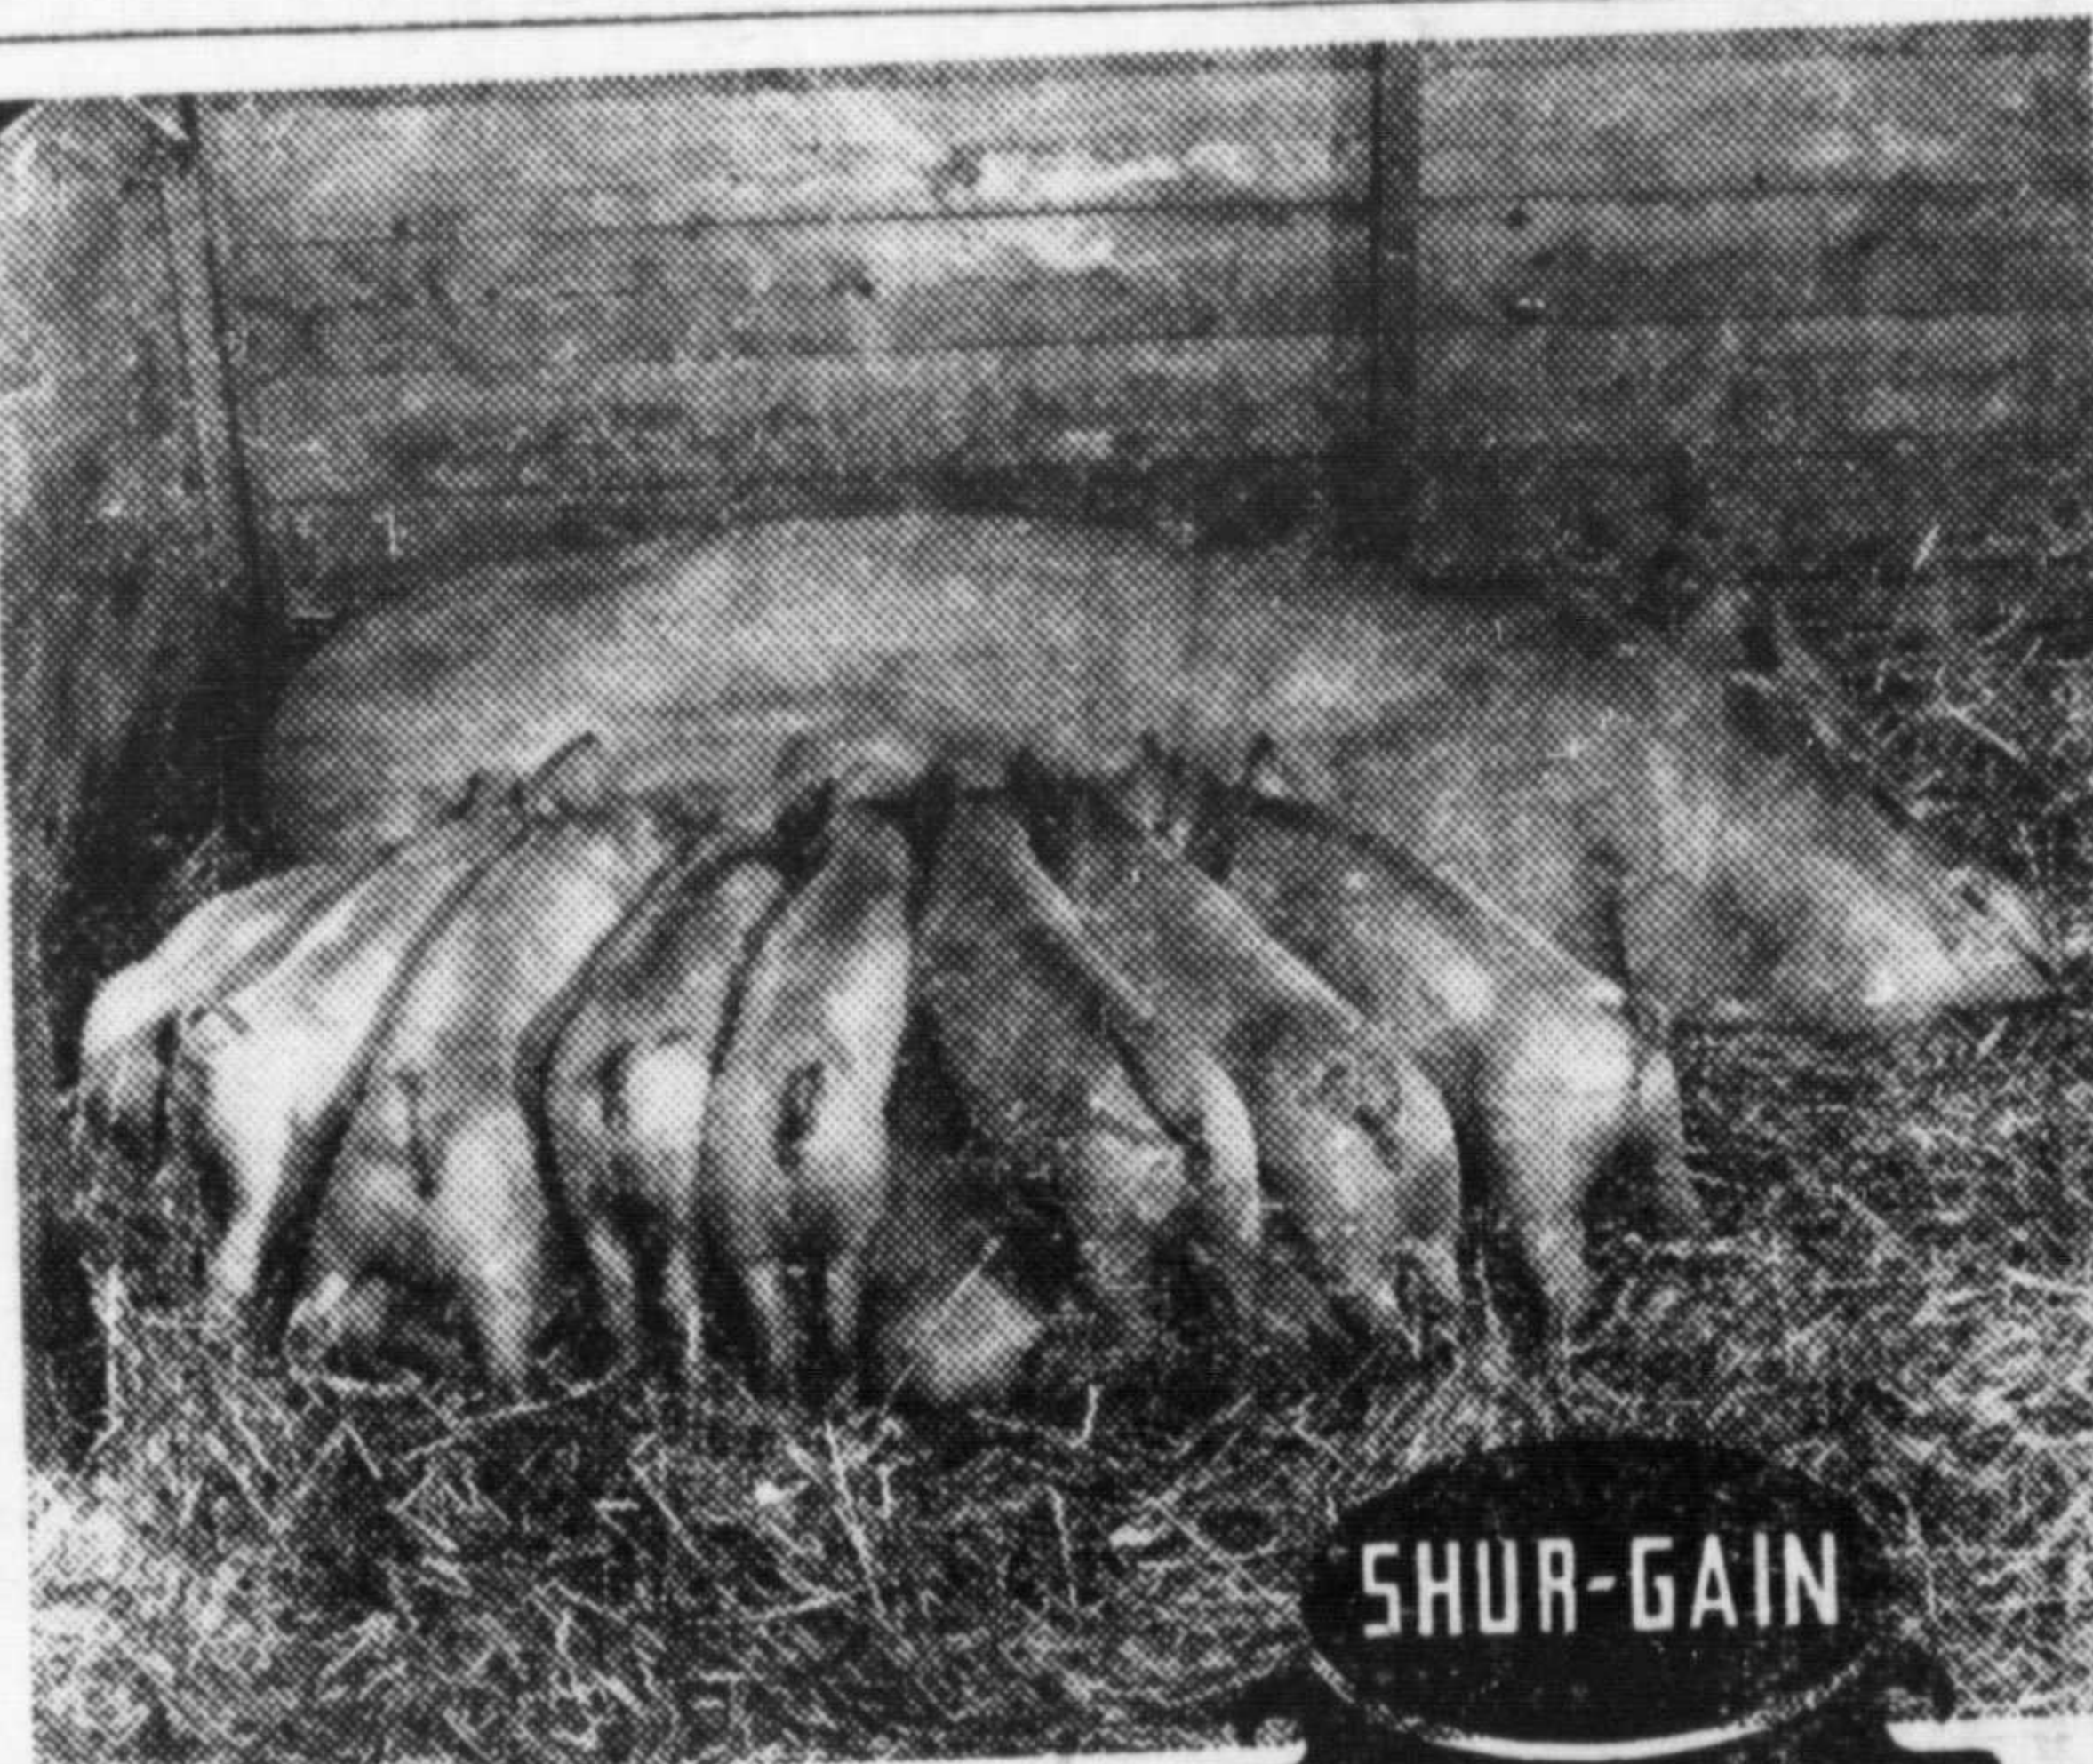

3. The population is increasing at a rate of 1.7% per annum. This rate of increase will have to be reduced to zero, or the people will have to be exported to other less populated areas of the world, such as Canada.

4. Postpone to the longest extent possible the application to the economy of the law of diminishing returns, e.g. by the use of fertilizer and modern agricultural methods, increase land productivity. Very little more can be done in this direction than is now being done.

If these things are not done, the speaker said in closing, then we face the strong probability of world calamity.

Dr. Drummond was introduced by his brother Neil Drummond, Pontiac Agronomist, and thanked by Russell Williams, president of Gatineau Rotary Club.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Oh Canada" in English by some, in French by others.

LITTERS LIKE THIS

SOW RATION

WILL INCREASE YOUR FEEDING PROFITS

Big, strong healthy pigs at birth mean more pigs weaned. And the more pigs you wean, the greater your hog profits. If you wean an average of 9 pigs per litter your cost per pig is going to be a lot smaller than if you wean only 6 pigs per litter because you still have to feed and care for the sow regardless of how many she weans.

Is balanced feeding important with sows? IT CERTAINLY IS! You wouldn't expect a hatching flock to do well if they did not receive a well-balanced hatching ration. The same applies to brood sows.

Tests prove that balanced-fed sows wean on the average up to 3 extra pigs per litter compared to straight grain-fed sows.

Come in and see us about SHUR-GAIN Sow Ration—a BALANCED feed for sows. Of if you have your own grain we can make a completely balanced sow ration for you using SHUR-GAIN Sowmix Concentrate.

OTTAWA Report: by Anthony J. Wright

Health held the stage as the session creaked to a close here. Federal and provincial leaders will again talk about a health scheme, paid for by taxpayers and administered by provinces, when they meet October 3 in Ottawa. What's the betting on some kind of scheme coming out of it? Not so good on the face of it!

The four parties showed their hands again on health during discussion of Health Minister Martin's estimates. The C.C.F. want a contributory scheme paid for out of taxes—they claim Canadians now spend $840 yearly on health care and that a proper socialized scheme like Britain's, would cost them only $600m ($40 per head). So what can we lose? they ask. Social Credit wants grants from governments to bring health care and cures more within reach of patients—an easing of our load. The P.C.'s are vague; they want the best possible scheme to dovetail with present plans, like Blue Cross, and to respect provincial rights carefully. The Liberals want the provinces to do the suggesting, say their hands are tied till they get proposals from provincial capitals. Only three of the ten, B.C., Alta., and Sask., favoured a national health plan after surveys made at Ottawa's expense in 1948.

The Commons debate mentioned Blue Cross and words like "coverage" were used. It is the experience of many Canadians that however good non-profit plans like Blue Cross may be they seldom pay for more than half the cost of an operation or delivery, however long one has subscribed. The debate also touched on free hospital care for the destitute but did not add that "public" non-paying patients do not get certain expensive drugs which are reserved for other wards. The hospital, understandably, has to watch its costs, it loses money all the time, but the primacy of the purse seems tough on little children brought in on the public charge. On the other hand, under the U.K. scheme critics say doctors prescribe anti-biotics and such drugs too freely for minor ills thus conditioning the body to the drug which might be less effective if prescribed for a later, more serious, ailment. Perhaps Canada should steer between the two systems.

Canada is going to get full information from the U.S. on atomic power used to run the Arctic radar outposts of the Distant Early Warning (D.E.W.) line along the northern rim of this continent. It could be that energy from nuclear reactors will be a big help when we really open up the north.

The National Library here, housed at the moment in the Dominion Archives building is making an index of all the books in all Canadian libraries, has about 3,000,000 cards listing 6,000,000 volumes. But the value of this "union catalogue" is questioned as last year only 2,189 queries were from outside Ottawa. The Library is urged to brag a bit more about its collective list of books.

Remember when there were complaints of a two-year-old line-up of applicants for citizenship in Montreal and Toronto. Now, after opening new federal citizenship courts in those cities the Citizenship department says it has cleared away arrears. Montreal, during May and June, 1955, heard 4,309 applicants, presented 1,504 certificates.

The Post Office is going to do something about vending machines which issue Canadian stamps in U.S. wrappers or give no stamps after your pennies have dropped. P. O. lobbies and other public buildings are going to get machines which sell five 5-centers for a quarter.

Drug addicts are a floating breed according to Paul Martin. Canada has 3,000, of whom 1,000 are in Vancouver, 200 in Montreal and 100 in Toronto. Montreal and Toronto used to have many more and Vancouver fewer. The U.S. has 65,000 addicts and Britain claims only 300. France 250. But the Health Minister told Commons that European records of drug addiction were not kept in the same way as ours.

Timely questions, as Government departments sent staffs home at 4:00 p.m. wilted by heat, have been put about air conditioning new buildings. Veterans Affairs Minister Hugues Lapointe reckons it costs us taxpayers $15,000 hourly if his clerks and paper-pushers lose time for heat. Public Works Minister Bob Winters, on the other hand, says we are going to pay more for new buildings if air-conditioning is added. It will add 25 percent to the 5 or 6 millions to be spent on the National Library building.

Public Notice

Complaints have been received from operators of saw mills and pulpwood slasher mills on the Ottawa River, that marked logs with nails inserted are being continually discovered in their mills. This condition is not only damaging to equipment but endangers the lives of mill workers.

There is also a quantity of pulpwood principally in the small four-foot lengths, burned on the shores each year, and the financial loss because of this is considerable.

The theft, misuse or misappropriation of marked logs in any manner is prohibited by law, and any evidence received of these practices will be submitted to Crown authorities through our legal representatives for appropriate action.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Calgary, Alta.
July 13, 1955

Editor of The Equity,
I haven't time to write all my friends but if you publish this letter they will know how we are getting along on our trip through the Prairie Provinces.

We arrived in Brandon, Monday, July 4th, after having a very fine trip so far.

We stayed four days and visited Brandon Exhibition.

We stayed in a motel 32 miles out as everything was filled for the Fair and that was closest accommodation left.

There was a grand showing of everything, several Ontario breeders showing cattle.

Every second person you meet comes from either Ontario or Quebec originally, have met several, accidentally who come from right around home about 50 or more years ago.

We left Brandon on Friday and arrived at Calgary, Sunday noon, where, of course, everything is again filled to capacity for the Stampede. Best accommodations were again 30 miles out of the city, where we will be till the end of the week. The Calgary Stampede is such a big affair it is very hard to describe.

Yesterday we visited the former Prince of Wales, ranch at High River, right at the foot of the Rockies.

They have had a lot of rain around Winnipeg and Brandon but did not strike real floods until we got into Saskatchewan, at Regina, the ditches were filled, water was lapping at the edge of the road, could scarcely see tops of fence posts along the road in places. One place there was as much as a thousand acres under water, a real lake.

Calgary is much drier and is mostly a ranching country.

The end of the week we expect to move on to Banff and Victoria.

Yours sincerely,
Claude M. Young.
