Cease-Fire Brings

Moments Of Peace

Friend and foe alike found grateful relaxation after the U.N. cease-fire agreement ended—at least temporarily—the fighting between Egyptian and the Anglo-French-Israeli forces in Egypt. Photos below show typical scenes in the quieted battle areas.

CUPID OUTPOINTS MARS — It seems to be a case of love in bloom (and in battle dress) as cease-fire enables 16-year-old Yael Yoav and her fiance to enjoy a romantic interlude near the front line in the Gaza area. Both are serving with Israeli army.

"DEAR MOTHER . . ." — Wearing an Egyptian fez and using a cannon's snout as a writing desk, Gunner Michael Staines, of Romford, England, writes to his mother. He is one of the British paratroopers dug in along the Suez Canal near Port Said.

Satellites Look To Tito For Leadership

"New Course" Moscow Policies Building Yugoslav Prestige

By DON DALLAS

LONDON — (Reuters) — Moscow's virulent attack Monday on President Tito accents Soviet fears that the Eastern satellites are increasingly looking to Yugoslavia rather than to Moscow for leadership, diplomatic observers say.

The attack also highlights a major problem reported already to have given rise to divided counsels within the Kremlin leadership — that the more Moscow encourages "new course" policies in Eastern Europe, the more is the prestige of Tito indirectly built up.

Stalin insisted that the Communist bloc must always speak with one voice on every aspect of policy. Because Tito publicly disagreed with him, Stalin outlawed him from the Moscow bloc, denounced him as a "Fascist butcher" and sought to apply an economic stranglehold on his country.

Nikita Khrushchev, who succeeded Stalin as Russia's party chief, wanted unity among the Communist states of East Europe. He gambled that he could bring Tito back into the fold without denting the Eastern bloc's relations with Russia.

In their trip to Yugoslavia in May, 1955, Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin publicly buried the hatchet with Tito and recognized his right to follow an independent "road to socialism."

There were several indications that Vyacheslav Molotov, then Soviet foreign minister, was opposed to the reconciliation with Tito. Molotov, as Stalin's right-hand man, had been architect of the "outlaw Tito" policy.

At the Soviet Communist party congress in February this year Khrushchev endorsed the policy of "more than one road to socialism" in his keynote report.

Three months later Molotov's resignation as foreign minister was announced. A Khrushchev man, Dmitri Shepilov, got the job, but Molotov stayed on as a senior vice-premier and member of the policy-making presidium of the party.

At the party congress Khrushchev also denounced the crimes of Stalin in a secret report. Publicly he endorsed "new look" policies of "democratization" for Russian and Eastern Europe, and thereby set in motion a sequence of events, the full consequences of which could not then have been predicted.

Today it appears that Khrushchev's gamble has not fully paid off.

Eastern Europe is in ferment. Soviet troops and tanks were called in to suppress a national rebellion in Hungary.

Poland, after demonstrations and bloody riots last summer aimed against Russia and the old Communist leadership, is daily pressing demands for a greater measure of independence.

And in this situation Tito has publicly criticized "Stalinist" trends in Russia and said they were to blame for the Hungarian rebellion.

Khrushchev's personal views about the Tito speech have not so far been disclosed, but Monday's Pravda article against Tito was viewed here as being a clear statement of the case by Kremlin critics of Khrushchev and his "liberalization" policy. And the general view is that Molotov leads the critics.

U.S. Group To Winter At S. Pole

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica — (AP) — Eight United States Navy Seabees Tuesday became the first men in history to live at the South Pole.

Accompanied by 11 sled dogs, the sailors arrived just after midnight in two ski-equipped C-47 transport aircraft. The temperature on the bleak, snow-topped plateau at the bottom of the world was 24 below zero.

The navy men will set up a camp for scientists who will spend the Antarctic winter at the pole. Their observations will be part of the American contribution to the world-wide study of the earth and its atmosphere during the International Geophysical Year.

Three weeks ago a party headed by the commander of the expedition, Rear-Admiral George Dufek, made the first plane landing at the pole. The group spent an hour on the rough, windblown snow—the first men to set foot there since the ill-fated expedition of Britain's Robert Scott arrived at the pole by sled Jan. 17, 1912.

Party Line Is Outlined To Artists In Russia

LONDON.—(AP)—First Deputy Premier Vyacheslav Molotov laid down the Communist party line to Russian creative artists in a speech reported Tuesday by Moscow radio.

This apparently signalled the return by Molotov to the Soviet ideological stage from which he has been absent for many months —ever since he got into ideological trouble and had to publicly confess his errors more than a year ago.

Molotov's instructions to the Soviet creative artists sounded like the same sort of instructions issued in Stalin's lifetime by Stalin's right-hand man on the artistic front, party secretary Andrei Zhdanov.

The former Soviet foreign minister told the artists to stick right to the Soviet Communist party line in their work.

He declared: "We advocate a high level of Bolshevik idea content in the creative work of our artists."

Translated from Communist jargon this means: "We want propaganda."

Light For Living

by PEGGY LIDSTONE
Home Lighting Specialist

Do you use lighting in your home merely to chase away the shadows? Home lighting should be given a much more important role than that!

Dramatically and psychologically, light and colour are the two strongest influences in home decoration. They can induce gaiety . . . add zest to your work . . . bring new charm to your way of living.

You set your own stage, lighting-wise, during the hours when your home is most used. Carefully planned lighting can influence and intensify the pleasant atmosphere of your home.

Kitchen chores become less tedious when your kitchen's working areas are individually lighted. Lamps should be shielded from the eyes, and should reflect onto working surfaces.

Bedrooms, when well lighted, are an aid to better grooming. Adequate lighting will help you see into bureau and dresser drawers . . . make room-cleaning easier.

Dining areas should have fairly strong overhead lighting to bring dramatic sparkle to the table, plus soft surrounding light from a wall bracket or valance. Place the centre fixture directly over the table . . . have the floor and table lamps, but be sure the shades do not appear brighter than the screen. Lighted valances and torchiers may also be used.

Little Helpers Party Planned By St. James' Senior W. A. At Bedford

BEDFORD. — The bi-monthly meeting of the Senior W.A. of St. James' Church was held in the staff room at the High School.

The president, Mrs. Grisdale Gould, opened the meeting with the W.A. Prayer, after which the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh. The treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw, reported proceeds from the recent rummage sale as $175.06. Mrs. Richard Craighead thanked the members for the help in looking after the sale.

The president announced that a special Holy Communion service would be held by the rector, Rev. W. J. White, in St. James' Church, on St. Andrew's Day, in commemoration of the Patron Saint, St. Andrew. The collection at this service will be sent to the Bishop of Korea.

Mrs. Lloyd Elliott, assisted by Mrs. R. Whitcomb, will be in charge of the church calendars.

A Christmas gift of $10 will again be sent the Rev. Mr. Aizawa in Nagano, Japan.

The branch accepted the request to send a boy's outfit to Prince Albert, Sask., and to send in $14 to the Diocesan Dorcas secretary to cover cost of freight, blanket and shoes for the bale. It was also decided to purchase all knitted sweaters, socks, etc., instead of having them knit by members. In addition to the outfit, the branch is asked for a quilt, pillowcases, bath towels and Christmas presents.

The following were appointed as members of the nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for 1957—chairman, Mrs. Malcolm McCaw, Mrs. C. Campbell, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw and Mrs. Brownrigg.

The annual Christmas party for the Little Helpers Branch will be held in the church hall on Saturday afternoon, December 8, with the Little Helpers secretary, Mrs. M. McCaw, and her assistant, Mrs. T. G. Shepherd in charge.

Mrs. McCaw gave an interesting account of the service which she attended in St. George's Church, Granby, to hear Bishop De Mel, Bishop of Ceylon.

The next meeting of the W.A. will be held in the parish hall on Wednesday evening, November 28, at which time several films dealing with church work in Malaya will be shown.

Alex MacArthur, membership convener, reported a membership of 90, with some lists still to come in. Mrs. George Harland, magazine convener, reported that over 80 per cent subscriptions had been received.

Mrs. Charles Jones stated that an additional 200 books had been rented for four months from the McLellan Travelling Library, and that pre-school children of the Home and School members may obtain books from the library. The advantages to be derived from individual subscriptions to the McLellan Travelling Library were pointed out by Mrs. Jones, who also introduced Miss Cline in charge of the bookmobile.

Miss Cline gave a brief sketch of the formation of the library, and the great help received from the McLellan family over the years, also of the increase in the scope of the bookmobile's travels. This year a new bookmobile has been purchased, which was on exhibition following the meeting. Miss Cline spoke of the many groups served by the library, schools, Farm Forums, adult study groups, and communities in isolated areas, to which books are shipped. Rev. W. J. White, thanked Miss Cline for her very informative address.

Mrs. L. Ames reported on the recent school medicals and thanked all those who had helped when 208 pupils were examined. Mrs. Ames reported that 5,000 cod liver oil capsules had been ordered and that it was hoped that the remainder would be obtained through the health service.

Mrs. Ames then introduced Dr. Orr, who spoke on the medicals, and strongly stressed the necessity of carrying out the recommendations made in the reports, otherwise the examinations were of no value. Dr. Orr also stated that he thought that it would be very helpful, if a parent was present with child when examination was made. Mr. Lee Martin thanked Dr. Orr for his address and for the time that he had spent on the examinations.

Robert Gold was introduced by Mrs. McIntosh, prior to the showing of the slides taken on a recent European trip and a number of local views, which were also enjoyed. Mr. Blinco thanked Mr. Gold for his contribution to the evening's entertainment.

Miss Lottie Casey reported that Grade IX won the award for the largest attendance of parents.

More than a million customers now bank with the BNS. They deposit their money for a host of reasons—for business and household needs . . . as a retirement fund for the future . . . or to finance a college education. Our customers place these funds for safety and convenience in current and savings accounts, including such special accounts as the Bank's own PSP.

New Music Organization Is Launched At Thetford

THETFORD MINES — A group of forward-looking citizens launched their campaign for membership in Jeunesses Musicales or Youth Music of Canada.

Jeunesses Musicales, an international organization, was started in France some 15 years ago. It has since spread to 20 countries including Canada, where it began 11 years ago. There are now 48 centres in Canada, most of them in Quebec but a number in Ontario and New Brunswick.

This year the Canadian branch feels particularly honored by the fact that the general secretary, Gilles Lefevre of Montreal is also general secretary of the international organization. Mr. Lefevre was a famous violinist in his own right before becoming an official of the J. M. C. organization.

Although Youth Music of Canada is planned locally as a joint effort between Protestant and Catholic schools, the originator of the plan here was L'Abbe Achille Couture, who had had previous experience with Jeunesses Musicales in Levis, Father Couture who came to Thetford Mines only two months ago to head the new College Classique, which is now in the blueprint stage, is already making his cultural influence felt in the community by taking on, in addition to his many other duties, the presidency of Jeunesses Musicales.

Jeunesses Musicales, as explained by Father Couture, has four facets or means of approach to the student. These are, commented concerts, a music magazine which goes to every member, a record club and a music camp, the one in the Eastern Townships being situated at Mount Orford.

The accompanying commentators, who are in a sense artists in their own right, travel for the whole season with the same performer and do their commentaries in such a way that they become an integral part of the program. It might be mentioned that the commentators here will be in French, but as Mr. Visser teacher at the Andrew Johnson Memorial High School points out, all those of the age to attend the concerts will have had several years instruction in French and this will give them the opportunity for extra practice in the language.

He adds that the programs will be printed in both English and French and for those who do not get the full meaning of the program during its course, he will go over it the following day in class. For this reason, no English student attending the concerts need be afraid of not getting the whole context, merely because of a language inadequacy.

Father Couture feels that Youth Music of Canada, in addition to instilling a love of good music, also has a definite place in the field of world relations, by the fact that it sponsors an exchange of artists between countries.

In Thetford, the concerts will be held in the Centre Paroissial and begin at 4 p. m. The expected age of student members will run from 12 years and up, except in the odd case of a younger child who is a serious student of music, and asks permission to attend. Adults are welcome to attend and indeed it is hoped that many will.

The first concert will take place on December 3rd and the artists on this occasion will be Christian Larde, flutist and Marie-Claire Jamet, harpist. Each of them has played before audiences in most of the large cities in Europe, in addition to making radio and television appearances.

The second concert, which is expected to take place in January, although the date has not been set yet, will star Michele Bonhomme, soprano with Bernard Pinsonneault as accompanist. Miss Bonhomme studied under Pauline Donald in Montreal before going to Europe for additional study.

The third concert will take place on February 4th, with pianist Ronald Turini as star. Mr. Turini is another Canadian artist who studied in both Quebec and Montreal before going to New York, where he was the pupil of Isabelle Vengerova and Olga Stroumillo. He was first prize winner at the Conservatory of Music for the province of Quebec.

The final concert will take place on April 8th with Frans Brou, pianist, as artist. Mr. Brou has played to enthusiastic audiences in France, Germany, Holland and the Belgian Congo. He has also won several musical awards in Belgium.

Jeunesses Musicales requires a membership of 500. However with a fifth of the required number already signed up in the first week of its existence, it would seem that this new organization will have little difficulty in reaching its objective. Mr. Visser reports that approximately one-third of the eligible students at the High School have already expressed a desire to join.

The executive of the Thetford Mines branch consists of: President, L'Abbe Achille Couture; vice-president, Paul Emile Dusault; treasurer, L'Abbe Philippe Ducloux, and secretary, Mrs. R. Labelle. Directors are Jean Marc Roberge, Roland Genest, John S. Visser, Marcel Fortier and Eloi Allaire.

OBITUARIES

MRS. WALTER PATCH, OF BROME

BROME — On October 22nd, one of Brome's oldest and highly respected citizens, Mrs. Walter Patch, the former Ella Toof, passed away at her home here.

Mrs. Patch had been enjoying her usual good health until a few weeks previous to her death, when she entered the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal, where she spent a period of four weeks following surgery. Although she recovered sufficiently to return to her home, her advanced years were unable to stand the strain.

Mrs. Patch was in her 81st year, the eldest daughter of the late David Toof and his wife, Florence Darrah. She was born at Brome on February 2nd, 1876, on the old homestead, the farm now owned by Mr. Charles Best, and with the exception of four years spent in Concord, N.H., with her parents, her life was spent in Brome.

In 1904 she was united in marriage to Walter Patch, also of Brome. They purchased the farm owned by his father, the late Wesley Patch, and spent their married life there. Of this union, two children were born, a son Wesley, who died in 1923 and a daughter, Laura, Mrs. Gerald Wright.

Mrs. Patch, who had been a kind neighbor and friend, will be missed by everyone who knew her, for her cheery disposition and pleasant smile.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, October 24th in St. John's Anglican Church and was attended by a number of her friends and neighbors. Rev. F. W. Gedy conducted the service. The choir rendered the hymns "Abide with Me" and "Lead Kindly Light" with Mrs. Wilson Frizzle presiding at the organ. The bearers were six nephews; G. E. Soles, Lloyd Elliott, Russell Patch, Eddie Persons, Tom and William Ride.

The many beautiful flowers were tokens of the esteem in which Mrs. Patch was held. The casket was covered with a beautiful pillow of pink and yellow roses from the family. Interment took place in St. John's cemetery, beside her son Wesley.

Left to mourn her loss are her husband, son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wright, two sisters, Mrs. Della Wilson, of Knowlton and Mrs. William Barnes and a brother-in-law, Mr. Barnes of Brome, also several nephews and nieces.

Many attended the funeral from Hatley, Montreal, Sutton, West Brome and Magog.

Mrs. Ross was born in Maple Leaf on May 30, 1878, the daughter of the late John McKenzie and the late Isabella Ross. With her parents she moved to Lake Megantic, where she lived until her marriage.

In 1910 she was united in marriage to David A. Ross at Lake Megantic and they lived in Inverness prior to making their home in Lennoxville in 1925, where she resided until her death.

Mrs. Ross attended the Lennoxville United Church, was a former member of the Women's Missionary Society, the Ladies' Aid and the Women's Institute, and being kind and cheerful, had many friends.

The funeral service was held from Johnston's Funeral Chapel, Sherbrooke, on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 2.30 p.m., Rev. F. R. Matthews, a former pastor of the Lennoxville United Church, conducting the service. A favorite hymn of the deceased, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung by Andrew Patton.

The bearers were James Grady, Ray Little, Kenneth Nugent and George Sutherland, all of Lennoxville, Alec McVety, of Birchtown, and Henry Robinson of Thetford Mines.

Induction Service For Rev. E. Breen At Sherbrooke

COOKSHIRE — The induction service for the Rev. Ernest Breen was held in Trinity United Church with the Rev. McKinley Rose, chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery in charge.

The organist, Mrs. E. S. Heathington, was in charge of the music, which consisted of four hymns, an anthem by the choir, and appropriate music for the prelude, offertory and postlude.

The address to the minister was given by the Rev. Frank Stanton, who maintained that the highest work a pastor could do was to give spiritual enrichment to his congregation, and that his personal character was very important. He urged the minister to walk with God and catch His spirit, and in that way he could guide his followers.

He stated that some ministers develop "foot and mouth disease," that is, they can't preach and they won't make "calls" on their people. Personal contact is very essential for the proper functioning of a minister's work, and by visiting in homes, he gains knowledge of his people's failures and sorrows, these should be his first concern. Bringing the gospel into their lives will help to turn these failures into glorious victories.

The address to the congregation was given by the Rev. E. Tenneson, who maintained that a pastor is a man "under orders" from God, and can be "called" from one place to another to be a leader of trained thought. He speaks what he believes, even if it is not always popular.

Rev. H. Hat, interim minister for the Cookshire - Bury pastoral charge, then related the steps leading to the unanimous "call" of the Rev. E. Breen to this charge. He mentioned that he had had varied experiences during the past few months with the people of this charge, and assured Mr. Breen that he had some very valuable helpers in this new field of labor.

Rev. McKinley Rose, chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery, then inducted Mr. Breen into this pastoral charge.

Following the service, refreshments were served by the Women's Association in the Church Hall. Other clergy in attendance were Rev. L. Dean, from Richmond, Dr. Outerbridge, Lennoxville, Dr. Boucher and the Rev. Tait, Sherbrooke; Rev. Plowright, Broughton, the Rev. A. Cameron, Sawyerville, who is the secretary of this Presbytery. Two lay representatives were also present, Mr. Beattie, from Richmond and Mr. D. MacRae, of Cookshire.

Dr. Outerbridge thanked the ladies for the refreshments and gave a short resume of the work of Presbytery, telling of the looking forward to the union of the Anglican and United Church people.

Southern Bound Snow Geese Seen In Minton Area

MINTON. — Around midnight on Tuesday, Lake Massawippi was the rendezvous of a flock of snow geese on the way to their southern sanctuary.

To many people who were wending their way home it was a phenomenal event, when over the height of land came the "honk, honk" of the largest flock of geese to swoop down at North Hatley in years.

This noisy flock landed on the lake near the bridge and then were lost to sight again. At dawn next morning they were still on the lake near Pleasant View Yacht Club.

Mr. Joe Ball, sportsman and mail carrier, saw the geese and estimated that the flock of these birds without exaggeration would number over 1,000, and was one of the largest he had seen in many years. Mr. Walter Woodward, on his way home around midnight, stated that he heard the flight and saw them land near the bridge. He later walked along the lake road for some distance and could hear the geese out on the lake. A flock just as large also came in on Little Lake Magog.

of the Minton W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Doris Conner with Mrs. John Jenkin as hostess. President, Mrs. Chas. Styan, opened the meeting and the secretary, Mrs. Fred Conner and the treasurer, Mrs. John Jenkin, read their reports.

Conveners' reports were heard from Mrs. Kei Dean who read a thank-you letter from Mrs. Winget for the $10 donated toward hot lunches at North Hatley School; Sunshine, Mrs. Doris Conner, read thank-you notes from those who had received gifts including Mrs. MacRae, Lottie Hartwell, Mrs. D. MacRae and Mrs. Harper. Gift of a box of Christmas cards was accepted from Evelyn Jenkin.

The money donated by the Minton W.I. for prizes for the School Opening was won as follows: Improvement in spelling, Grade 3, James Reed; improvement in French, Grade 8: Virginia Reed; good all-round student, Grade 1: Susan Crease; citizenship, Grade 4: Beverley Benton; home economics, Grade 7: Gail Heath.

It was decided that each member bring a gift of jams, jelly or juice to the December meeting to send to the Cecil Memorial Home, and an exchange gift for each member. The secretary, Mrs. Grace Conner, reported on the County meeting at North Hatley, followed by discussion.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Doris Conner.
