REBELS WERE MET WITH BAYONETS

New Version of a Recent Battle in San Andreas, Mexico

Mexico City, Dec. 2.—News despatches received from Chihuahua to-day state that a Mexican reported that the Government lost 20 killed and wounded in the fight at San Andreas last Sunday, after which they withdrew to Paernales, where they halted for orders. According to this version of the battle, which has been before reported as resulting in the rout of the revolutionists, the Government forces were attacked in the morning by 400 rebels. The fighting continued for eight hours. When they had exhausted their ammunition, the rebels closed in and were met with a bayonet charge. With their bayonets the loyal troops fought their way through the enemy and subsequently 50 of them retreated and started for Chihuahua. The rebels gave chase and made three attacks. Each time they were repulsed. The soldiers, however, suffered severely. The inhabitants of the country through which they retreated refused to give them water or food (and in some instances fired upon them from the hill tops. Most of them were wounded and suffered severely from hunger and thirst. The military authorities suspected that the railroad men along the line of the recent fighting were in collusion with the insurgents. Telegraph operators, they said, had advised the rebels of the movements of the troop trains, which also were stopped without orders at points where ambushes had been prepared. In some cases the trainmen refused to move the cars out of the danger, but were compelled to do so at the muzzle of guns in the hands of officers.

TRIAL OF HATTIE LEBLANC

Testimony Given in the Case Yesterday—Noise in Glover House.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 2.—The trial was distinctly heard in the home of Mr. Glover, of Waltham, the night after the one which her husband, Clarence P. Glover, came to his death by shooting, according to testimony given to-day in the trial of Hattie Leblanc, charged with the murder of Glover. George J. Freeman, of Newton, a friend of Mrs. Glover's, who, with his wife, stayed at the Glover home for two or three days after the murder, told of hearing this noise, but said he did not investigate it. This testimony was developed on cross-examination by G. Johnson, the Leblanc girl's advocate, but he was unable to induce either Freeman, his wife or Mrs. Glover, herself, to admit that they had seen any trace in the house of the presence of Hattie Leblanc, who was found hiding under a bed in the spare room three days after the shooting. Attorney Johnson spent considerable time in trying to get both Mr. and Mrs. Freeman to testify that Mrs. Glover had used profane or indecent expressions in denouncing her husband. Mrs. Freeman said she never heard Mrs. Glover speaking in this manner, but her husband admitted that he had heard Mrs. Glover apply one vile epithet to her husband. In the late hours of the day's session several minor witnesses were called. One of them, Chas. McCarthy, said that he visited Glover's laundry the next day and found a comb, a cap and a pin, which were later identified as belonging to Hattie Leblanc.

PLANS FOR A GREATER BERLIN.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The Prussian Government has drawn up a bill compelling Berlin and the suburban municipalities to combine in a Greater Berlin. The population of the metropolitan area is close to 3,500,000. The measure provides for an administration of the greater city, similar to that of the London County Council. The Council would have 100 members, about one-third of whom only would be elected from the city of Berlin proper, although furnishing three-fifths of the population. This apportionment is designed probably to limit the Socialist influx.

JUDGMENT IN IMPORTANT ACTION

Bank of Montreal Must Pay $250,000 to Wife of Former Bank President.

Toronto, Dec. 2.—A private cable from London to-day brought word of the ending of one of the most important actions in Canadian litigation. As a result of the decision given out by the Privy Council to-day, the Bank of Montreal must pay to Mrs. Jane Jacques Stuart, of Toronto, wife of John Stuart, a former president of the Bank of Hamilton, and a well-known business man, about $250,000. Mrs. Stuart's claim was based on guarantees given by her on behalf of the Maritime Sulphite Company, Ltd., of Chatham, N.B., of which her husband was president. The company owed the bank, and Stuart obtained his wife's guarantee as security for the company's debts to the bank and for further advances. The company went into liquidation and the bank got from Mrs. Stuart transfers of all her property, including "Inglewood," the Stuart home at Hamilton, where the present King was at one time a guest. In December, 1906, Mrs. Stuart began proceedings against the bank. The action was tried before Mr. Justice Mabee on December 10, 1907. He dismissed the action with costs. Mrs. Stuart appealed to the Court of Appeal, with four judges sitting, and judgment was delivered on November 10, 1908. Chief Justice Moss and Mr. Justice Garrow favored the appeal; Mr. Justice Osler and Mr. Justice McLaren thought the appeal should be dismissed. With the Court of Appeal divided, the trial judgment stood. Mrs. Stuart again appealed, this time to the Supreme Court. On April 5, 1909, Mrs. Stuart was given judgment, with Mr. Justice Idington dissenting. Then the Bank of Montreal applied to the Privy Council for special leave to appeal to the Privy Council. It was argued in July, 1909, and leave was granted. The appeal itself was argued in April last and to-day W. J. Elliott, solicitor and counsel for Mrs. Stuart, received this cable from London: "Stuart result is as anticipated. Supreme Court affirmed for different reasons." The main point raised by Mr. Elliott was that a married woman could not be held liable on any guarantee given as security for the debts of her husband, and that any one obtained such a document and collecting money from the wife under it would be required to repay the money to the wife, unless she had obtained independent advice before signing the document. Mr. Elliott argued further that under the circumstances of the case undue influence had been exercised in obtaining the guarantees and the transfers of Mrs. Stuart's property. For that reason it should be returned to her. The Privy Council, presumably, has sustained this last contention. The result of this case, it is thought, will affect the Married Woman's Property Act, as heretofore it has been thought, as stated in the act, that a married woman could deal with her own property the same as if she were an unmarried woman. The costs will be several thousands.

KILLED TRYING TO SAVE FELLOW EMPLOYEE.

Norristown, Pa., Dec. 2.—In a heroic but unsuccessful attempt to save the life of Frank Hahn, aged 18 years, to-day, Louis Rowan, employed at the Schenlykill Valley Electric Company, was electrocuted in the company's power house here along with the other youth. Hahn was cleaning machinery and accidentally caught hold of a live wire. Rowan tried to pull the young man from the wires. Both were instantly killed.

AGED WIDOW FOUND MURDERED.

Sisterville, W. Va., Dec. 2.—Mrs. A. Allen, aged 87 years, a wealthy widow, was found dead to-day at her home near here. A large sum of money which she had in the house is missing and the corner is of the opinion she was strangled to death after which the robbery was effected. Mrs. Allen lived alone and had no faith in banks. She owned considerable property, including several farms on which were producing requirements. The money which she received in royalties was all kept in the house.

FOUND GUILTY OF ACCEPTING A BRIBE.

New York, Dec. 2.—The jury in the case of Geo. W. Yeandle, who has been on trial in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court for offering to sell for $2,500 his vote as a jurymen to the defense while serving on the jury sworn to try E. G. Rosenheimer for the killing of Miss Grace Hough, returned a verdict of guilty this evening. Yeandle was remanded for one week for sentence. The maximum sentence for the crime is 20 years.

MISSING PILOT BOAT TURNS UP ALL RIGHT.

St. John, N. B., Dec. 2.—The missing pilot boat J. U. Thomas, formerly the Defender, is safe. Postal cards received to-day from Pilots Miller and Spears, dated Rockland, Me., on Wednesday, state that the vessel reached there after being out in the big storm on Saturday and Sunday in the Bay of Fundy.

NEPHEW OF EX-PRESIDENT OF FRANCE

Died at Jeffery Hale's Hospital Yesterday from Attack of Typhoid Fever.

Mr. Jacques Faure, nephew of the ex-President of France, died shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Jeffery Hale's Hospital from typhoid fever. The deceased, who was 37 years old, was a competitor in the recent balloon race which started from St. Louis, Mo., being accompanied by Mr. Mumm, of the Mumm Champagne Company, their balloon landing somewhere near Lake Superior. Immediately after the race Messrs. Mumm and Faure paid a visit to Canada, spending several days in this city and Montreal, subsequently leaving for the Lake St. John district on a hunting expedition. While in this city Mr. Faure complained somewhat of illness, but, nevertheless, undertook the hunting trip. However, he continued to complain of his illness, and the party decided to return to this city, as Mr. Mumm's valet also complained of the same symptoms of disease. They arrived in Quebec on November 23, when Mr. Faure and the valet immediately went to Jeffery Hale Hospital, where the physicians in charge discovered that both were suffering from typhoid fever. Mr. Mumm, in the meantime, who had undertaken a trip around the world, and not knowing that his companion was so ill, continued his journey, and was informed of Mr. Faure's death in Chicago yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mumm will arrive in Quebec on Sunday to take charge of the body of his late companion.

LIBERALS WON'T HAVE REFERENDUM

From Premier Down Frankly Deprecate the Proposal as Foreign to Britain.

London, Dec. 2.—The few days of discussion in the general election campaign leaves it clear that the Liberals, as a party, will have none of a referendum on tariff reform. All the Liberal leaders, from Premier Asquith and Lord President of the Council Morley down, in their public speeches since the pronouncement of A. J. Balfour, the Opposition leader, of its willingness to leave tariff reform to a referendum, have frankly deprecated the referendum as being unsuited to Great Britain and as tending to destroy the responsibility of government-owned institutions. However, further familiarity with the subject has had the effect of uniting the Unionist party and press in its favor, and through Balfour's courage in adopting it it is hailed now as having secured for his party an excellent prospect of victory at the elections. Campaigning was again in full blast to-night. Mr. Balfour, in the course of a speech, at Grimsby, declared that no Irishman would thank the people for an independent Irish parliament unless accompanied by a British subsidy. Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Minister, in a speech at Berwick, said: "There is nothing in John Redmond's home rule proposals which is not in full force in the Canadian provinces." Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell criticizing the referendum proposal in a speech at Bristol, said that it would have to be accompanied by universal suffrage. Were the Tories, he asked, prepared to submit to a referendum the questions of navy and army expenditure, conscriptions, capital punishment, the nationalization of railways and the budget? John Burns, president of the local government board, in an address at Finsbury, expressed the belief that "Mr. Balfour is a cunning old free-trader at heart."

BODY OF MAN SUSPENDED FROM TREE.

Toronto, Dec. 2.—While making his rounds in High Park this afternoon, Mounted Policeman Hanson, of the Toronto force, discovered the body of an unknown man suspended from a tree. The man had no marks of identification whatever upon him, as far as the policeman could learn. The tree on which the body was hung is near the house of the caretaker of the park. It was the body of a young man fairly well dressed. The body had not been there for any great length of time.

AWARDED DAMAGES AGAINST STREET RAILWAY.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—Some time ago Mayor Allan, of Verdun, near Montreal, was injured in a collision between a street car and a dray. He sued the street railway company for $10,000, alleging that his health had been broken down by the accident. The suit was heard by a special jury, which this afternoon awarded Mr. Allan $5,500.

CLERGYMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN AND KILLED.

Napanee, Ont., Dec. 2.—A lamentable accident happened at the Grand Trunk station as No. 6 express was leaving for the east at 12 o'clock noon to-day. The Rev. P. T. Dobb, pastor of St. Mary Magdalen Church, attempted boarding the train as it was in motion, when he slipped off the platform and was caught by the train and instantly killed. Rev. Mr. Dobb was about 40 years of age and very highly esteemed. He leaves a wife and two children.

SYMPHONY SOCIETY'S FIRST CONCERT

Was a Brilliant One—Miss Showalter Won Success—Splendid Programme.

A large and fashionable audience assembled at the Auditorium last evening, when the first concert of the season of the Quebec Symphony Orchestra took place. The concert was in every respect a brilliant one, the programme being a striking one, and its rendition a source of great delight to all who heard it. The orchestra this season is as strong and effective as ever, and under the artistic guidance of Mr. Jos. Vezina, its conductor, promises to repeat the many successes which it has won in seasons past. The orchestra was exceptionally well balanced last evening, and the different compositions were given that rare attention to shading and finish that at all times characterizes this famous local musical organization. The programme included such numbers as Piere's "Marche Solennelle," Beethoven's "Fidello" overture, Mendelssohn's "Elegie" from the Indian Suite, Mascagni's intermezzo from "L'Amico Fritz," a suite from Bizet's "Carmen," Beethoven's Symphony in C Minor, St. Saens' prelude to "The Deluge," in which Mr. Gilbert took the solo violin part, and the "Dance of the Marionettes," by Glazounov. As will be seen, the programme was a wide and diversified one and calculated to bring out all the best efforts of the performers. It speaks well for the symphony that they rose to the occasion and the whole performance was one to be heard with the highest enjoyment. The Beethoven symphony in particular was beautifully rendered; so was the St. Saens "Deluge" music, while the "Carmen" suite, like all the others, also came in for unbounded applause. The opening concert of the Symphony supplied such a treat to music lovers that the concert to come will be eagerly awaited. The soloist of the evening was Miss Edna Blanche Showalter, a young soprano, who immediately made herself a favorite, and a great deal of the success and enjoyment of the concert was contributed by her. She is the possessor of a voice which is remarkably tuneful and rich in volume and cultivation. Miss Showalter has been compared with such artists as Geraldine Farrar and other famous artists. Young in years, she has already won many successes on the operatic and concert stage, and a bright and brilliant career is opening out before her. She last evening aroused great enthusiasm, and was forced to respond to numerous recalls after each of her selections. Her opening selections from "La Traviata" was quite sufficient to establish her claims as one of the finest artists which the Symphony has ever secured for its concerts, and many expressions of unbounded praise were showered upon the young artist.

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, DECEMBER 3, 1910.

THE DRY DOCK.

In another column will be found the report of the debate in the Senate on Wednesday with regard to the admission of Mr. Andrew Allan to the effect that the project of a dry dock at Levis is practically dead. Senator Choquette, who is always fearless when the interests of Quebec are attacked, struck the right note when he said that this work should be taken out of the hands of the company and built by the Government as a public work. The company have had this thing in their hands, upon conditions fixed by themselves, for nearly a year. And they have done absolutely nothing, except to cause us the loss of a whole working season, at a time when every day is of importance to the trade. They have lost the sympathy of the public.

There can be no question that this work is a public work, which should be undertaken by the Government. It is shameful to think that for ten years this question, so vital to our shipping interests, has been played with, whilst millions of dollars worth of tonnage have been in peril, because the existing dock is too small to take in the large and costly steamers now using the St. Lawrence route.

Surely the skeleton of the magnificent steamer Bavarian, standing at a dock gate too narrow for her entrance, should be an object lesson horriifying enough to compel the Government to do its duty. Do they not realize that every taxpayer in Canada is paying for this neglect, in increased freight rates caused by heavy marine insurance? Naturally the underwriters charge heavily on ships for which there is no dock protection in case of accident. And yet we have a Minister of Marine and a Minister of Trade and Commerce who sit calmly in their seats in Parliament and allow this thing to go on for ten long years.

NOT THEIR FUNERAL.

The Liberal press in general thinks fit to reproach the Conservatives because they did not extend the glad hand of welcome to Mr. Gilbert and weep tears of joy about his neck when he took his seat in the House. The majority of Conservatives are of the opinion that the melancholy ceremony was "not their funeral."

When Mr. Gilbert came forward as a candidate in Drummond-Arthabaska he gave out that he was a Liberal and expected to vote with the Liberals on all questions but the navy policy. The subsidized journals then taunted the Conservatives with being unable to put one of their own stripe in the field. Then they contended that every vote for Gilbert would be one against Laurier.

But as soon as the election was over and Gilbert was returned, then they said that after all he was a Liberal, and could never have got in otherwise. It was their duty to welcome him to the House.

ULSTER AND HOME RULE.

The question of Irish Home Rule is no subject to be tackled hastily, and it is probable that we, at this distance, are often apt to mistake possibilities for realities. It is doubtful, for instance, if the English people have any accurate idea of this country's views on the tariff question.

In considering this question we are apt to form our opinions largely upon our experience of colonial autonomy. And, frankly speaking, we are convinced that Home Rule would be a masterpiece of Imperial statesmanship.

We do not see why Ireland should not have a measure of home government something similar to that enjoyed by this Dominion. It was the influence of this comparison which impelled Sir John MacDonald, as the Ottawa Citizen says, "long ago to sanction the passage in the Canadian Parliament of a resolution favoring devolution of power to a certain extent upon an Irish Parliament—a resolution which drew from the Colonial Secretary a polite snub to the effect that the matter would be duly considered by the Imperial Parliament to which it "exclusively appertained."

South Africa, with its mingled English, Boers and Kaffirs, has been granted autonomy. They have been thought worthy of the greatest possible recognition—their ability to handle their own affairs has been acknowledged. No fair-minded man can refuse to admit that it is an insult to put Irishmen on a lower plane than Boers and Kaffirs—though we must also admit that General Botha is one of the greatest statesmen of the day.

Home Rule should make for Federation rather than separation. Until Ireland obtains her desire there will always be misunderstandings, and the granting of self-government would clear away many of them.

The letter from "A Patriotic Irishman," which appeared in our issue of yesterday, must have furnished food for reflection for serious men of all political creeds. But even he might do well to see if there is not another side to the question, and see if no allowance can be made for the English Unionists and the Orangemen of Ulster.

To a large extent the Unionists have been forced into the position which they have taken up. Did Redmond make any shadow of an attempt to bring them over to Home Rule? There are no doubt many of them who would not be unfavorable to it now. It is not so much Irish Home Rule that they fight against as it is English Socialism and anti-constitutionalism. "A Patriotic Irishman" says that the Ulstermen are preaching open rebellion against constituted authority. But there are many Englishmen who consider the House of Lords as constituted authority, and while recognizing the need for reform, yet cannot agree with a single-chamber policy, which Mr. Redmond and his followers wish to ram down their throats.

For many Orangemen Home Rule means Rome Rule. It is only natural that he should wish to have some control over his own affairs, so far as education and taxation are concerned. In Ulster he is in the majority, but in the other provinces he is in the minority. As far as we can judge, the best solution of Home Rule for Ireland would be a general parliament at Dublin and provincial parliaments for the four provinces of Ulster, Leinster, Munster and Connaught. In Ulster the Protestants could look after themselves, and an agreement providing for the rights of minorities—such as that between Ontario and Quebec in the British North America—could be ratified. It is not a new idea and it seems as feasible as most.

THE ACCEPTING OF THAT CHALLENGE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's challenge to the electorates of Canada, founded upon the complaint that they would be rid of his government, is not likely to be overlooked as a challenge that has to be taken up by the morally disposed electors of the country, save on the part of those who are politicians and politicians first and Canadians after. The challenge has no doubt been issued for a purpose—that purpose being the assuming of the role of martyr as a last resort by the opportunist. Fourteen years of opportunism supported by every indirect method of rule thinkable! And now the piteous cry is raised that some one is cruel enough to desire that an end be put to the vanity and false-pleading and corruption that have been indulged in during all these fourteen years. Sir Wilfrid's outcry for compassion is much more ridiculous than the Murphy plea that the guilt of all that has been happening during these fourteen years is to be laid at the door of his predecessors in office. Sir Wilfrid's challenge and Mr. Murphy's plea are but hints to the "organ blowers" all over the country to repeat the wail and the general dog's howl of a "tu quoque."

The readers of the latest parliamentary reports must have been struck with the premonitions of the double role now to be taken in hand, in presence of the Premier's piteous cry and Mr. Murphy's confessions. The debate on the Arthabaska-Drummond fracas has been both lucid and instructive, as an illustration of the riotously dishonest policeman struck down by his own baton. The reception of the member-elect from that constituency showed that the House of Commons, taken as a whole, is not dead to the decencies of civility. The uproar over the dealing out of unequal justice to certain members who had broken in on the decencies of debate on the floor of the House is also a sign of the times, that the "rule of thumb" is a played-out game on the part of the Premier or any of his officers. And so it is going to be, in all likelihood, during the session, and more particularly when the Secretary of State and others turn "King's evidence" before the committees of the House. Sir Wilfrid's wail that somebody would do his government a damage has met with the laughter it deserves, inasmuch as everybody now knows that the Laurier Government has done itself the greatest of all injuries. Mr. Murphy may whimper and plead that some credit should be given him for having unearthed the intolerable business methods of the Printing Bureau, as if without the assistance of the Opposition. But have the members of the Opposition never unearthed these same intolerable business methods in the other public departments? And how have their efforts in behalf of clean government been treated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Murphy? Hasn't every kind of hindrance been thrown in the way of the members of the Opposition in their efforts to check the Laurier Government in its riotous way of conducting the public affairs of the country? And now what has the country left from all its profligacy and self-backing up? They have a challenge from Sir Wilfrid Laurier that it is sinful for Canadians to wish to see his rule brought to an end. They have the wail of the martyr who would again have the chance of completing his task—the task of letting things go from bad to worse. And they have the prospect of seeing the Hon. Mr. Murphy turn "King's evidence" to implement the wail of martyrdom that arises from the Laurier ranks over the inevitable. And who is there within the honest-minded constituencies of Canada who is not prepared to take up the challenge, while deriding the wail, and doing his best to provide for a change of policy in the conducting of Canadian public affairs?

It may be that good roads are expensive, but it is more costly to do without them. Smooth, firm roads do for the farm what the railway line does for the cities. And they enhance the value of farm lands.

According to the consular reports the last section of the Cape-to-Cairo Railway from the north, a distance of about 100 miles, was opened last January. The traffic for the first half year has exceeded all expectation; the freight returns for the first month's working being $50,000. In most parts of the Sudan hitherto served by the railway one or two trainloads a week would be considered good. But on the new section a train a day has hardly sufficed to carry down the corn, gum and cotton.

This is the first portion of the railway to leave the desert part of the Sudan and enter naturally fertile country. If the success of this first 100 miles is any index to the possibilities of the rest of the country, the most sanguine forecasts of its commercial future are likely to be realized.

LIFE'S INN.

(Martha Haskell Clark, in The Smart Set.)
 The Wide World stands a-welcoming beside the sunny way,
 For page and squire and knight and dame to halt and ride away;
 And crimson sweet the roses flamed that lay upon my breast,
 When all the world was but an inn, and I a welcome guest.

The knights were lion-hearted, and their ladies lily fair;
 The silver armor glittered bright upon the roadway there,
 When each far distant turning held the promise of a quest,
 And all the world was but an inn, and I a welcome guest.

No knock was there of Misery, nor step of grimy Toll;
 But bold Adventure raised the latch, his palmyre heaped with spoil,
 Whil'st Romance flew to hold his rein and wait on his behest,
 When all the world was but an inn, and I a welcome guest.

And what care I that youth must fade, and love locks turn to grey?
 Forsooth, at every turn there lies some reckoning to pay!
 I've warmed my heart beside their fire, partaken of their best,
 When all the world was but an inn, and I a welcome guest.

So why should I complain and curse in spiteful accents shrill
 Because another draws his rein, my wonted place to fill?
 But ere Old Age the taper takes to light me to my rest
 I'll draw his chair and drink his health, and make him welcome guest.

"I HAD ONE OF MY RAGING HEADACHES

When I First Used "Fruit-a-tives"

Wm. PITT.

Shanly, Ont., Sept. 23, 1910.
You certainly have the Greatest Discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public, I suffered tortures from headaches, caused mostly from stomach disorders. I tried many different remedies without any relief.

One of your travellers called on me shortly after you started selling "Fruit-a-tives," and on that day I had one of my raging headaches, and had my head almost in a raw sore from external applications. I hated to see any person coming into the store (I am a general store keeper at the above address and have been in the same store 25 years) much less a commercial traveller, and I told him, very curtly, that I had a headache and "wanted none of his Patent medicine," but he very good-naturedly offered me a sample of "Fruit-a-tives."

and insisted on my trying them. I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday.

You are at liberty to publish this letter and my photo, if you think it would induce some others to use your splendid remedy.
(Signed) Wm. PITT.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures headache because it is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. "Fruit-a-tives" is also the only remedy made of fruit juices. Dealers everywhere sell "Fruit-a-tives" at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. If your dealer does not handle "Fruit-a-tives," send to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, enclosing regular retail price.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

The World's Best Remedy for the Kidneys and Liver

On October 21st, 1910, this gentleman, wrote as follows: "Nearly 18 months ago I commenced using Warner's Safe Cure. At the time I was troubled a great deal with my kidneys. My brother from Michigan, who was visiting me at the time, told me of a case where a neighbor of his had been cured after having been given up to die, several doctors telling him his case was hopeless. What he told me induced me to try Warner's Safe Cure. After using five bottles I felt well again. I know of another cure since mine. This party was in a very bad condition from kidney trouble, but was restored to good health by Warner's Safe Cure. I have told you this not only for your benefit, but for the benefit of all who are suffering from kidney disease, and I sincerely hope it will do them as much good as it has done me." Frank Brownell, Brownell, Arizona.

Diseased kidneys cause more sickness, suffering and serious complications than any other disease. Thousands of people have kidney troubles and do not know it. If in doubt make this test: Put some morning urine in a vessel, let it stand 24 hours. If there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy or milky, or if you see particles or germs floating about in it, you should commence using Warner's Safe Cure at once.

Constipation and Biliousness
Warner's Safe Cure is made from the fresh juices of plants and medicinal roots, gathered at the proper season in various quarters of the globe. Men skilled in pharmacy and chemistry compound it. It is pleasant to the taste and agreeable to the most sensitive stomach. Put up in 50c. and $1.00 sizes and sold by druggists everywhere.

When the bowels do not move freely it shows that the liver is inactive, and the bile, instead of being eliminated by the intestines is taken up by the blood. You are troubled with headache, coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach, loss of appetite, pains in the side and you feel out of sorts, and should take purely vegetable, sugar-coated, absolutely free from injurious substances, a perfect laxative and do not gripe or leave any bad after effects. 25c. a box.

Sample Bottle and Box of Pills Free by cure, a sample bottle and a sample box of Warner's Safe Pills will be sent FREE OF CHARGE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Toronto, Ont., and mention having seen this liberal offer in (The Chronicle). QUEBEC RAILWAY WIN DISPUTE

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

Chairman Mabee Recommends Route Planned by Board's Engineer.

The Q. R. L. H. & P. Company had the better of the decision rendered by the Board of Railway Commissioners. The dispute in question was the location of their new line, which is to run from Beauport to the Falls. Two routes were proposed.

For several hours the board, composed of Chairman Mabee and Commissioners Bernier and Mills, listened to the evidence of engineers and the arguments of citizens of the district. The board's own engineer submitted a report on the matter, in which he favored the southern route, with certain modifications, and evidence was also given by Mr. C. A. E. Carr, general manager of the Quebec Light, Heat and Power Company, as well as their engineers.

In his decision Chairman Mabee said that the company was putting in the line at its own expense, and for business reasons. One section of the property owners wanted the line to the north, and about as many to the south. But the board's engineer had reported in favor of the southern route as chosen by the company, with certain modifications. It was further shown that the northern route would necessitate heavy grades as well as a number of level crossings, which would probably be ground for complaint later on. He, therefore, gave a decision recommending the route planned by the board's engineer. At the same time the board demanded that the company give reasonable undertaking that proper means of access should be given the people of the northern district to the car line, the present roads not being sufficient.

Will Inaugurate Anti-Tuberculosis Dispensary as Memorial to Dr. Colin Sewell.

The recently organized chapter of the Daughters of the Empire is intending very shortly to take the necessary steps to establish a dispensary for the purpose of carrying on an active campaign against consumption.

It is the idea of the chapter to maintain the dispensary as a memorial to the late Dr. Colin Sewell, the anniversary of whose death occurred on Thursday. They consider that there could be no more fitting and practical testimony than this to a man who was so courteous and helpful to hundreds of people in Quebec, of all classes and creeds, and whose innumerable acts of kindness will never be forgotten by those whom he benefited. And in view of the interest, which he invariably showed in the prevention of tuberculosis, the members of the chapter think that he would have approved of this means of perpetuating his memory above everything else.

It is said that the dispensary will very probably be carried on on much the same lines as is the May Court Dispensary, at Ottawa, which has already done much good in spite of the fact that it has only been in existence a short time. It will, in all likelihood, provide for the reception and examination of patients, the dispensing of necessary medicines, disinfectants, etc., and perhaps, if need be, of food and clothes. It will also initiate a campaign of instruction and visitation with the object of preventing or minimizing the risk of infection. It is also reported that a highly trained nurse will be in attendance and several local doctors have expressed approval of the idea, and of giving their services gratis for a certain number of hours every week. The affair is in energetic hand and, as it seems to be meeting with general favor, its carrying out is practically assured. It is understood that the chapter will begin the active work of organization in January and that the details are being worked out in the meantime.

Miss Parlow is very proud of her Canadian birthright, although she has few recollections of her native country, owing to the fact that her parents moved to California when she was only five years old. It was a year later, when a tiny tot of only six years, that Miss Parlow made her first appearance at San Francisco, her chief recollection of that memorable occasion being that her violin was almost as large as herself.

QUEBEC SKI CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

Reports Presented and Officers Elected—Club Is in Flourishing Condition.

The annual meeting of the Quebec Ski Club held at the Chateau Frontenac last evening was largely attended. The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and the different reports presented showed the club to be in a flourishing condition, and the prospects for the coming season are very bright.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:—
President—H. L. Scott.
Vice-President—F. Russell.
Sec.-Treas.—C. Fletcher.
Committee—H. L. Stavely, A. H. B'asset, A. McNeill, L. S. Burdett.

The second annual report of the Quebec Ski Club was as follows:

"To the Members:—In presenting to you our second annual report, your committee has pleasure in stating that the year 1910 was in every sense of the word a most satisfactory and thoroughly enjoyable one. Our membership has just doubled that of the previous year, having to-day 52 members, against 26 in 1909, and what is still more to our credit is the fact that every one of the 52 is an active member. Our jump on the Cove Fields, though but a crude one, afforded us excellent practice, and at the 14 meetings held thereon we had an average attendance of 18 members, while in the close vicinity there were as many again of our elementary class for whom the more gradual slopes of the nearby hills had a greater and 'steadier' fascination. On the 13th of January we had an enjoyable outing to the home of the Quebec Snow Shoe Club, 21 of our members turning out on ski, and following, as we did, the snowshoers through the deepest of snow and over the highest of fences was a convincing proof that where there is snow there is skiing. Our annual competition was held on the 19th of February, and was, as you will all remember, a great success. In spite of the awkward location of the jump, from a spectator's standpoint, hundreds of Quebecers in their interest in the sport, wended their ways over the fields to witness the competition, and the presence of the Quebec and Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Clubs, in costume, added greatly to the picturesque-ness of the scene. There were 24 entries, the first prize being successfully carried off by Mr. H. L. Wilson, with 199 points; Mr. H. L. Scott was second, with 168 points. The prizes in each case were valuable cups, presented by the club.

"Our increased membership has naturally somewhat strengthened our coffers and where, at the end of last year, we had a balance to our credit of $4.75, we to-day have $42.65 on hand, and we do not owe one cent. With this credit balance as a starter for the coming year and discounting but one-half of the enthusiasm manifested by Quebecers who are going to, but have not yet tried skiing, you will readily observe that your club has before it the most promising of futures. After your incoming committee has definitely decided upon a location for the proposed new jump, it should be no time before the membership list reaches the one hundred mark. The new ear service to the vicinity of the Sandy Hills has opened up a new and excellent skiing ground, and no time should be lost in erecting a jump second to none in Canada.

"We regret to have to record the loss sustained by our club through the absence from Quebec of our popular president, Mr. E. L. Wilson, to whose efforts the club's present success is mainly due.

"We think, gentlemen, that you will agree with your committee that the past season, although but the second in the history of the club's existence, has been entirely successful in itself and most promising for the future. Until a year or so ago the sport of skiing was to the people of Quebec merely a name—or, at most, our knowledge of it was confined to the impressions conveyed by magazine writers who treated of the joys of Norwegian winters—to-day the skier is, in winter, an every-day sight in our midst. This is what your club has already accomplished. It may, however, be said that few other cities in Canada enjoy within their environments such natural facilities and inducements for skiing as Quebec offers to the devotees of this fascinating sport. Skiing is not a passing fad, but has taken a firm hold upon Canadians and now ranks not least among our national sports.

"In conclusion, gentlemen, we would again like to impress upon our members that the welfare of the club is more dependent upon their individual efforts than upon the work of the committee.

"The whole respectfully submitted,
"CHAS. L. LYNCH,
"Hon. Sec.-Treas."

NINETEEN-YEAR-OLD CAPTAIN FOR VARSITY

Toronto, Dec. 2.—At a meeting held at noon to-day of the University of Toronto Rugby team, champions of Canada, Jack Maynard, left half back, was elected captain of the team for the season of 1911. Maynard is 19 years of age, and son of Fm. Maynard, Manager of the Bank of Commerce, at Stratford. He is in his second year in medicine. Maynard was the unanimous choice of the players, there being no other name suggested for the position.

SPEED IS A GREAT THING

But You Can Get Too Much, Says McGraw, Manager of New York Giants.

Speed is something that baseball managers try to gain. They want fast men. They want men who can move down to first like quarter horses; men who can go 'round the bases at a racing clip, and men who can pursue the ball in record time. And yet, strange as it may seem, there are limits to the speed which managers desire, and a man who is too fast is almost as much in the way as a man who is too slow. Paradox and impossibility! It might seem so, and yet any manager will frankly state that he dreads the presence on his team of an overspeedy man.

"Years ago," says John McGraw, "the New York Giants tried to figure out some way of getting extreme speed upon the team. It was agreed that if a man could be developed who could do the sprints between the bases at the fastest pace since Billy Sunday's time it would be the best thing that could happen for the club, and would be even better than the landing of a star pitcher.

"At this time Bernie Wefers, the great sprinter, was footloose, and, as he was a baseball bug of the tropical pattern, it seemed a great scheme to make a ball player out of him. It was argued that Bernie could beat out a grounder that ordinary players would be ditched on every trip, and that he would be the greatest thing that ever happened when it came to stealing the bases. Wefers was dead willing, and we proceeded to show him the angles of batting and fielding. The fielding came all right—he was soon able to take care of outfield flies—and he proved a fast learner at the bat. Then we went on a spring training trip, and everybody, scribers, fans and all, expected that Bernie Wefers would be a regular outfielder of the Giants when we returned.

"But Bernie never played a scheduled game, and was never heard of in the baseball world again. He was too fast, that was all.

"When it was up to Wefers to go down to first he went like a flash of light—and couldn't stop. Trained to the 100-yard dash, the 30-yard sprint only started him, and he went flying on for the balance of his original stunt. When he was supposed to steal bases he stole them standing up. He couldn't slide, and he didn't have to—that fellow was over the base before the catcher knew he had started. That was the trouble. He continued to go over the base and couldn't halt himself till he had gone far out into left field. Of course, the infielders gathered the ball and waited for him to return. We couldn't teach him to stop, to check his speed or to turn fast upon the line and thus get some good out of his superfluous rapidity. We tried hard to teach him, but it didn't work, and Wefers, himself, heartbroken, gave it up before the team got home.

"It sometimes happens, too, that a man is too fast in fielding. Jimmy Callahan, a pitcher, showed such tremendous speed that they put him at short and third the first year he was in the fast company. And time after time, when a grounder was hit his way, Callahan darted at it with such terrific speed that he couldn't check himself over the ball, but overran, and the hit went on unhindered. "Speed is a great thing, a glorious thing, and I wish I could get some more of it for the Giants. But speed uncontrolled and unrestrained is an awful handicap, and a man who is too fast is as badly off as if he were in the Larry McLean class for agility."

FIRE INSURANCE IN EUROPE.

Fire insurance on the Continent of Europe is carried on in the main by proprietary companies whose general organization does not essentially differ from British offices. There exist, however, alongside these proprietary companies, powerful mutual concerns, some of a local or exclusive risk character, but others operating over the whole field of the country to which they belong. In some European countries also there are insurance institutions carried on by the state or by municipal or other authorities. In several cantons of Switzerland the insurance of all building with the State is obligatory; in others, it is optional; in Germany, in Denmark, in Norway and in Sweden insurance by public authorities is also in force and is generally of a compulsory character, while in France the question of a government monopoly of insurance was recently given prominence in a ministerial programme. With the exception of France, Denmark, Belgium and Holland, some of the smaller Balkan states, Turkey and Greece, every European country now requires a substantial deposit in cash or securities before a foreign insurance company can commence operations, and in some countries there exist insurance inspection departments. Speaking generally rates in Continental Europe are low, particularly for the ordinary non-hazardous classes of risks.

THE PRISONER'S ESCAPE.

Judge Phillips was holding court in Missouri and stopping at a hotel that was known all over the state as one of the worst, if not the worst.

A man was brought before the judge charged with larceny and pleaded guilty. "Prisoner," said the judge, "this is an atrocious crime you have committed and I intend to punish you severely. I wish I had it in my power to send you to our hotel for six months, but I have not that power and therefore can only put you in jail."—Saturday Evening Post.

SHRUBB BACK FROM NEW YORK

English Runner Explains New York Experience—To Meet Abbie Woods.

Toronto, Dec. 2.—Alfred Shrub returned home from his New York and Boston races to-day. He laughs at the statements of several New York newspapers that he had broken down. "It was too soon after my race with Longboat in Boston," said Alfred Shrub. "The boards are an awful strain and while my legs stood the strain well in Boston I was too stiff to run in New York and told them so before I started. I could not unlimber myself and as my partner, A. E. Wood, of England, had no relay or indoor experience and was to the bad, it was useless for us to continue, so quit. I am ready to run any once. Longboat surprised me in Boston. He is in good shape and will make some of them hustle before the season is over."

When shown a challenge from Abbie Wood, of Montreal, to run him 15 miles here, Shrub immediately accepted if Wood would make it 12 miles. A. E. Wood, the Englishman, wants to run Abbie Wood also, and Fred Meadows wants a crack at Alf. Shrub at 12 to 15 miles. Meadows' trouble in New York was new shoes.

MAHAN ON MILITARY PROBLEMS.

Admiral Mahan recently contributed to the Daily Mail a most interesting survey of the naval and military position in Europe. He regards the military strength of Germany and Austria-Hungary as unquestionably superior to that of the Triple Entente. The Powers of Central Europe are compact, have a perfectly united system of railways, and would have the advantage of fighting on interior lines. But there is a real offset against the military power—the financial resources of France and the British Navy. War in which Great Britain and Germany were engaged would mean "substantially the suppression of German sea-borne commerce, the extent of which is little realized." Admiral Mahan concludes:

"There is little cause for wonder, then, that Germany is contracting debt in order to strengthen her Navy. The wonder is that intelligent men in Great Britain should be found to ignore these facts, and to advocate immunity from the incidence of war for sea-borne commerce, under the defusive definition of 'private property.' As a student of military and naval history, it is to me certain that the advantages of the situation, regarded as commercial and military, are almost wholly with Great Britain, granting the continuance of the present laws of capture."

USE YOUR BANK.

Use your bank, not to help you out of a dilemma every now and then, but as a source of refuge in a "storm" for a time, at any price, remarks a leading authority; but buy and sell money as you would clothing, buying it at six per cent. because your credit is good, and selling it at eight to ten per cent, discounting bills, or at 25 to 50 per cent. in buying your merchandise.

Make the bank your silent partner, on whom you can rely to answer to your call at a moment's notice for any reasonable sum of money on which you can make a big profit. This talk about "the value of money" is so often construed as "holding on to the nickel until the grease is sweated off to make soap."

The value of money is only developed when the money is used. Spend money to make money. No bank account will ever make money unless drawn on; the energy is in the water in the shape of steam, and you must develop this energy before it "makes the wheels go round." Plant the seed that you may reap a harvest of profit.

The bank is known to some merchants as the whip with which they are lashed into paying their bills, as draft after draft is presented for payment, or they may think of the bank as a "tight wad" concern that will only lend rich and big people money. Any merchant will sell goods to any customer who can and will pay for the merchandise; so will the bank sell money to any merchant who will and can pay his notes at maturity.

The willingness to sell money to the tradesman is based on his credit—his record as to how he has paid his obligations, his resources and his knowledge of his business, his moral honesty and his word. It takes time to get all these requirements in line and have them "tried out." Hence credit is a plant of slow growth, and to make it healthy must be well taken care of every hour in the day. One lapse is like a frost that cuts the plant down to the ground, and then the work of growing must all be done over again—and it is much harder to make the plant healthy after a frost.

A mutual understanding must be had. The intention to pay notes at maturity is far from the ability to do so, and as credit can only be established on a solid moral and financial basis, it is not a growth of the overnight kind. Promises alone do not make a credit, but promises fulfilled—made good to the minute—will establish it.

GALLANT RESCUE.

The Imperial Merchant Service Guild have just received from the Royal Humane Society a bronze medal and a testimonial on vellum, signed by the Duke of Buccleuch, K.C., as president of the society, for presentation to their member, Captain W. Kirkwood, commanding the British steamer Agenorita. It appears that whilst this vessel was lying at anchor in New York Harbor, one of the sailors fell off the ship's gangway on to the quay and then into the water. Captain Kirkwood, on hearing the cry raised, rushed on deck dressed in sleeping garb, and, finding the cause of the disturbance, without a moment's hesitation, threw a life buoy into the water and jumped in after the man. There was a strong tide running at the time, and the river was full of floating ice, and the thermometer registered 14 degrees of frost. By this time the man was some yards away from the ship under one of the jetties, but the captain pushed his way through the ice and reached the man, who was unconscious, just as he was sinking. All this occurred so rapidly that it was some little time before assistance could be rendered by the officers of the ship, who proceeded to the rescue with ropes. The line was passed to the captain, who was so benumbed with the cold water that he was unable to make it fast to the man's body, but after a struggle he succeeded in doing so. Both men were then hauled out of the water together and taken on board, but it was not until the seaman had been restored to consciousness that Captain Kirkwood would allow any attention to be paid to himself. This rescue is all the more remarkable owing to the fact that Captain Kirkwood could not swim. The details of this gallant rescue being brought to the notice of the guild by the officers of the steamer, representations were forthwith made to the Royal Humane Society, with the highly gratifying result referred to.

Brockville Times:—Just imagine United States school authorities dropping "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," or any other Hail Columbia chants, because some Canadian children objected to them! It is not so long ago that a Canadian attending a Californian school was compelled to salute the Stars and Stripes. But, apparently, in Canada—even in the proud and haughty west—the school authorities have not quite so strong a patriotic feeling. The western school authorities ought to erect separate schools for United States children where United States melodies and sentiments may be exclusively taught. Let us be thankful that the United States settlers in Red Deer district did not compel the school authorities to fly the Stars and Stripes and have "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" sung in place of "The May-pole Leaf" and "O Canada."

AGED INVENTOR'S ACTIVE CAREER

Mrs. Jolly at Ninety is Trying to Ficat a Company.

London, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Jolly, ninety years of age, who recently presented a souvenir portrait of Miss Nightingale to the Balclava heroes, defies all the ordinary notions of old age. She holds that there is no such thing. Like political economy, old age is just what one makes it. She is hard at work to-day as she was when she owned half-a-dozen lamp shops in London.

She lives in a typical East London, its miniature garden where one can self-contained, four-roomed house, with stretch a twelve-foot clothes' line from wall to wall, and plant a few greens, and yet have space in which to recline in a wicker chair when weather and circumstances permit.

But Mrs. Jolly is not interesting because she is simply ninety. In this decadent land thousands still live to that ripe old age. Mrs. Jolly is interesting because she is very, very much alive to-day, after enjoying a strenuous life in London, Brussels, China, and other parts of the world.

Her front room is a veritable work shop, and as I saw her last night (writes a representative of "Lloyd's News") she exhibited an energy, a volubility of speech, a sparkling humor, and a knowledge of the world such as many a City director would covet. Hers is really a marvelous personality.

A large writing desk stood against the window. It was covered with correspondence. In a small cabinet were packets of well-thumbed letters from merchants, people of title, burgomasters, and civil authorities, dated away back the sixties; and in later times from Queen Alexandra, King Albert of Belgium, the Lord Mayor of London, and other nobilities, all expressing interest in her business and philanthropic projects. For Mrs. Jolly, though living in a humble East End house, and compelled, for a reason which will be obvious presently, to draw an old age pension, possesses a faculty for inventiveness that is as restless as the ocean.

"I am going to try and float a company," she coolly observed to our representative, "to take up that meat preserver." And she pointed to a wooden cupboard in the corner of her office-workshop. "It is the invention of a Belgian, who has been unfortunate. He has not got the capital to make the article himself, and if he sells it to an ordinary manufacturer, the maker will pick all the profits and the Belgian will remain as poor as he is now. I have been hit that way myself, you know!" And the old lady, or, rather, the young lady of ninety, turns over a bundle of French correspondence and reads, in fine musical French, documents to prove her contention. "That cooler," she continues, "has got seven trays, you will perceive. It has two pastilles, and I guarantee that it will keep eggs for three hundred and sixty-five days, and they will be as fresh and eatable as the day when they were laid!" Mrs. Jolly is looking for an enterprising Londoner to speculate. That is the business corner of her establishment.

CHANGING FORTUNES
In the opposite corner was a huge sugar box, in which were deposited five hundred triple photo-cards in memory of the late King Edward. Well-designed and executed. Queen Alexandra acknowledged that the photo-card had pleased her very much. Mrs. Jolly thinks that a good business can be done in them; that with a portrait of the King and Queen on either side, and an appealing representation of "Sainted Sympathy" in the centre, it ought to go—if it can be placed upon the market. At any rate, that old sugar box denotes the patriotic corner of her room.

On the table are big fat envelopes packed with literature and a photographic gallery of royalties, and a photograph of the late Miss Nightingale, one of which Mrs. Jolly distributed to each Balaclava hero that sat down to dinner the other night in memory of what King George telegraphed was an "implying event." And this little act demonstrates the philanthropic side of her personality.

"I am a Londoner," she said, proudly, tossing large honey-suckle-shaped gold earrings, "and was born in the Burlington Arcade on Nov. 7, 1820. I was educated in a convent at Hammersmith. My early days were spent like a butterfly. My world was never a miserable place to me, and in those days I loved riding and a neat dress, and I suppose that what people remarked about me then was true—that I was a dashing girl!"

"Marrying at nineteen, my troubles began. After a short and wretched attempt to submit to the old idea of marriage—that is, to consider it a privilege to be beaten by your husband—we separated, and I went to Brussels as a lady's maid. That was the beginning of my good luck. I thoroughly learned French, served in titled families, and felt an ambition to do something. I returned to London. My husband died, and, like many a young widow, I married again, this time to a man who had business instinct. And he helped unconsciously to develop the talent in me for inventing things; or, perhaps, it would be nearer the fact to say improving upon other people's inventions.

COAL GAS MANUFACTURING WHEAT BRICK TRUCK DAIRY FARMING RAIL RANCH ALTA.

THE TOWN OF MANY RESOURCES

ON THE MAIN LINE OF THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC—AT THE HEAD OF THE CALGARY-LETHBRIDGE BRANCH

LOCATION Tofield is the junction point of the Calgary-Lethbridge Branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway with the Main Line. It is 41 miles east of Edmonton and 86 miles West of Winnipeg, the last of the five Divisional Points between Winnipeg and Edmonton. The location is one of the most slightly in Western Canada. The ground rises gradually from the railroad to the northern limits of the town, from which it slopes gradually to beautiful Beaver Lake. This lake, 12 by 18 miles, is fresh water, filled with fish of many varieties, and is an ideal boating and bathing resort. Tofield is in the heart of the famous Beaver Lake District and in the eastern part of the great lignite coal-bearing area of Alberta. The town has a population of about 600.	TRANSPORTATION Situated on the Main Line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and at the head of one of its most important branches, Tofield is particularly favored with railroad facilities. Its facilities for reaching the Towns of the Prairie Provinces to the east with its coal and brick, and Edmonton on the West with its farm products and live stock, are unsurpassed. The Calgary-Lethbridge branch connects it with the important towns of Southern Alberta and with the United States boundary. This branch has been graded for a distance of 161 miles, and about 80 miles of steel has been laid. This branch passes through the centre of the coal fields south of Tofield and connects with the C. P. R. and C. N. R. at Camrose, 30 miles south.	TOFIELD'S RAILROAD FACILITIES. The above map shows Tofield's excellent shipping facilities. The Main Line of the Grand Trunk Pacific connects it east and west with the growing new towns of the Prairie Provinces. The Main line of the C.N.R. is reached by the connection at Ryley, 11 miles east, and connection is made with the Edmonton line of the C.P.R. at Camrose, 30 miles south. As a distributing point for factory products Tofield has many important advantages.	COAL Tofield is situated in the eastern part of the Edmonton Coal Formation, being the furthest point east on the G. T. P. Main Line where coal is found in commercial quantities. For this reason it has an important advantage in the matter of freight rates to the towns east of it which are dependent upon it for cheap fuel. The coal fields are situated about one mile south of the town. Drill tests have so far shown that from 5,000 to 6,000 acres are underlain with from 6 to 10 feet of coal. Tonnages are now in operation, employing about 50 men. In one mine the coal is reached by stripping the earth to a depth of 10 to 15 feet. Coal can be had at the mines for $11.50 a ton, and is delivered at the homes in Tofield at $2.50 a ton.	NATURAL GAS Tofield is believed to be the centre of an important gas-producing region. Natural gas in commercial quantities has been found in this region both east and west of Tofield. Recently, while a town well was being sunk in the heart of the town, a strong flow of gas of good quality was encountered at a depth of 200 feet. At a depth of 225 feet another strong flow of gas was encountered. The well was cased and drilling was continued, but the gas continued to escape around the casing. Experts from the Medicine Hat gas fields predict that when sufficient depth is reached sufficient gas will be found not only to supply the town but to furnish light and heat for neighboring towns.
BRICK CLAY There has recently been discovered at Tofield a deposit of clay from which experts assure an excellent quality of brick can be manufactured. A number of tests of this clay have been made, all of them showing satisfactory results. Two projects for the establishment of brick manufacturing plants at Tofield are now being considered, one backed by Edmonton capital and one by Montreal capital. There is an abundance of cheap wood in the vicinity of Tofield for burning brick. Coal for the operation of brick-making machinery is abundant, cheap and easily obtained. Should the supply of natural gas come up to expectations, gas will doubtless be substituted for wood for burning the brick.	AGRICULTURE The Beaver Lake District has for years been noted for the productiveness of its soil and the variety of its farm products. On Nov. 3, 1919, an auction sale of School Lands was held at Tofield the average price per acre being $12.64, as compared with $10.25 per acre in the Vegreville district and $10.81 per acre in the Vermillion district. The soil is a rich black loam with a clay subsoil, and is remarkable for its strength, producing an unusually rapid growth of vegetation. The climate, moderated by the Japan Current, is milder than in sections farther south. The long hours of sunshine and abundance of moisture during the summer months cause crops to mature quickly.	MIXED FARMING The Beaver Lake District is distinctively a mixed farming district. All of the products of Western Canada are grown here successfully. Wheat yields 25 to 45 bushels to the acre, oats 75 to 100 bushels, barley 25 to 45 bushels are grown. Alfalfa has been grown successfully. Stock raising is an important industry. The natural grass furnishing excellent feed. Horses graze throughout the winter, and plenty of hay is produced for cattle and sheep. Many hogs are raised in the district. The packing plant near Edmonton on the G. T. P. affords a good market for all kinds of food animals.	TRUCK FARMING The district surrounding Beaver Lake is peculiarly adapted to truck farming, the waters of the Lake preventing early frosts. Potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, pumpkins, squash, cabbages, cauliflower, celery, strawberries and a hardy variety of apples are successfully cultivated. Dairying is becoming an important industry. A large amount of milk cream and butter is shipped daily to Edmonton. Poultry and eggs are produced in considerable quantities and find a ready market at good prices at the Tofield produce stores which buy for the Edmonton market. There is an especially good opening at Tofield for experienced truck gardeners.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Offers a Few Choice Close-in Lots, Heretofore Held in Reserve

MANUFACTURING There is every indication that Tofield will in a few years be one of the most important Manufacturing Centres in Western Canada. Its facilities for the distribution of the products of its factories are excellent, the Grand Trunk Pacific and connecting lines bringing it in close touch with a large and populous territory in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan. Cheap coal, good shipping facilities, plenty of water, good shipping facilities, will inevitably attract manufacturers. No better location can be found in Western Canada for a flouring mill and a cereal mill than are to be found at Tofield. A superior quality of wheat and oats is produced in the district, and markets for the products are close at hand.	TOFIELD A NEW TOWN. The railroad did not reach Tofield until the late fall of 1909. Prior to that time there was no outlet for its coal, and the farm products of the district had to be hauled by wagon long distances to market. The real history of the town therefore dates back to the coming of the Grand Trunk Pacific about a year ago. During the past year the population of the town has more than doubled. The coming summer will see a remarkable development not only in the town but in the surrounding districts. Those who buy property there now will get the full benefit of this development which will inevitably result in a rapid increase in its estate values. The town is not new enough to be an experiment and not old enough for property values to be too high for profitable investment.	LOTS IN THE HEART OF THE TOWN. The above plan shows the location of the lots—marked "G.T.R. Addition"—now being offered for sale. It will be noted that about half of these lots are right in the heart of the town—between the old and the new sections. The remainder are close to the business section and the railroad, and many of them will, without doubt, be in demand later for factory sites.	GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC TOWNSHIP. The town of Tofield consists of "Tofield No. 1" and "Tofield No. 2." The former was laid out before the coming of the railroad, which, when it did come, went half a mile south of it. A considerable number of residences and business houses, a church and the public school were located in "Tofield No. 1." All of the land between the railroad and "Tofield No. 1" was purchased by the Grand Trunk Pacific, on which a townsite was laid out. The principal residence section of the new townsite, and the residences remaining. The land between the two portions of the town was reserved by the G. T. P., and is just now for the first time being put on the market.	WHY LOTS ARE BEING SOLD. The Grand Trunk Pacific originally platted but eighteen blocks. The land reserved adjoining the town on the east, north and west. There has been no building south of the railroad. The town has outgrown its original limits, and in response to the insistent demands of the people of Tofield, the G. T. P. has made provisions for the continued growth of the town by planting the ground held in reserve, part of which lies between "Tofield No. 1" and the Grand Trunk Pacific townsite, and between what is now the business section of the town and the principal residence section of the town and the new $11,000 brick school. The G. T. P. is more interested in the increase of traffic that will result from the growth of the town than in holding this land for an increase in value.
WHERE AND WHEN TO BUY. The place to invest your money in real estate is in a town that has back of it resources which cannot fail to make it a success. Having found a town backed by such resources, the time to buy is before real estate prices are based on what the town is expected to be rather than what it is. Tofield has the resources necessary to the making of an important town. These resources are just in the first stages of development. The attention of the outside world has not heretofore been attracted to them. Within the next few weeks all Canada will be made familiar with Tofield's many exceptional advantages. The man who buys lots there now, without waiting until the best of them are sold, will reap the benefit of the publicity which the town will receive in the advance in the value of his purchases.	PURCHASERS FULLY PROTECTED. Persons who purchase town lots direct from the Grand Trunk Pacific are fully protected. The standing and credit of one of Canada's leading institutions stands back of every statement made and every agreement entered into. Perfect title direct from the Grand Trunk Pacific to the purchaser is guaranteed. Where the selection of lots is left to us, and the selection is not satisfactory, the Grand Trunk Pacific will, if requested to do so within 30 days of the date of the application, give the purchaser the choice of lots remaining at the same price, or refund all payments made.	ONLY A FEW LOTS FOR SALE. Owing to the small number of lots available at Tofield, it is apprehended that many applicants will be disappointed. The number of lots to be sold is as follows: <table border="1"> <tr><td>30 corner lots 50x140 ft.</td><td>$150 each</td></tr> <tr><td>120 inside lots 50x140 ft.</td><td>100 each</td></tr> <tr><td>16 corner lots 50x140 ft.</td><td>100 each</td></tr> <tr><td>64 inside lots 50x140 ft.</td><td>75 each</td></tr> <tr><td>16 corner lots 50x140 ft.</td><td>75 each</td></tr> <tr><td>60 inside lots 50x140 ft.</td><td>50 each</td></tr> <tr><td>5 corner lots (original plat 25x140 ft.)</td><td>250 each</td></tr> <tr><td>24 inside lots (original plat 25x140 ft.)</td><td>200 each</td></tr> <tr><td>9 inside lots (original plat 50x140 ft.)</td><td>250 each</td></tr> </table> Lots will be allotted in the order in which applications are received.	30 corner lots 50x140 ft.	$150 each	120 inside lots 50x140 ft.	100 each	16 corner lots 50x140 ft.	100 each	64 inside lots 50x140 ft.	75 each	16 corner lots 50x140 ft.	75 each	60 inside lots 50x140 ft.	50 each	5 corner lots (original plat 25x140 ft.)	250 each	24 inside lots (original plat 25x140 ft.)	200 each	9 inside lots (original plat 50x140 ft.)	250 each	TELEGRAPH AT OUR EXPENSE. This advertisement will appear simultaneously in 52 of the leading daily papers of Canada. ### THE SERVANTS OF CAPITAL

(Saturday Evening Post.)

Consolidation of capital has been going on rapidly over the world for at least twenty years. Germany has no Morgan or Rockefeller, but her "cartels" and syndicates correspond to our trusts. In 1871 the number of iron works there was 213, with a yearly output valued at $25,000,000. In 1907 the number of works had fallen to 103, though the value of output had risen to $165,000,000. In England and Wales, exclusive of London, in 1889, there were 96 joint stock banks holding $800,000,000 of deposits. In 1908 the number of such banks was only 37, and their deposits had risen to $1,000,000,000. Since 1908 further consolidation of banks has taken place there. Instances outside the United States of this powerful tendency of capital to combine might be multiplied. With instances inside the United States every reader is familiar; but our instances are often misunderstood because they are treated as personal movements—as something that Morgan and Hill, Harriman and Rockefeller are doing. This consolidation is not a movement of men at all. It is a world-wide movement of capital; and it would have gone on in the United States in substantially the same way if the gentlemen named had never been born.

The grand object of consolidation is to surpass competition; and for capital that has become a measure of self-preservation. The New York Central Railroad was made up of a dozen small local lines. A fight among them would have been much like a war between two Indian tribes—some scalping, a few acres of corn destroyed, fifty bark huts burned. In the present New York Central system some thing like $1,000,000,000 is invested. Just south lies the Pennsylvania system, in which another $1,000,000,000 is invested. Actual war between these two huge systems would destroy capital as fast as many a campaign that figures in international history. Capital says there shall be no such war; and because that is necessary to capital's self-preservation it will keep on saying it as long as water downhill—given the continuation of present conditions.

One night say that personally Mr. Morgan has nothing to do with it. He is the agent of capital only because he does the things that capital requires. If he did not do them there would instantly be another agent.

Perhaps those publicists are right who say that this consolidation of capital is the most important phenomenon of our times; but whoever regards it as in any degree a personal movement, or subject to the discretion of any one man of any limited number of men, will never understand it.

WEB-TOED HERO.

London, Dec. 2.—The hero of more than a hundred lifesaving exploits, Joseph Spooner, a fine old fellow of seventy, is now resident in Dorset street, Limehouse.

Nature certainly meant him to be a swimmer, for curiously web-toed and web-fingered he took to the water like a duck. In 1890 he astonished the swimming world by covering the distance of thirty-two miles from London Bridge to Gravesend in seven hours.

Spooner is a much-travelled man, who has experienced many vicissitudes. Born in Limehouse, April, 1840, he was brought up to be a Thames lighterman. At twenty-one, however, he started a seafaring career. He visited India, China, the East Indies, the United States, New Zealand, and Canada, and in each country managed to achieve some record in the way of diving and swimming or saving lives from drowning.

He has dived from the Louisa Bridge at Winnipeg, remaining some minutes under water, and swimming 200 yards, and has on many occasions done such remarkable feats as divesting himself of his clothes while under water, and reappearing with the garments tied neatly in a parcel and smoking a cigarette.

Fine Beaver Cloth Overcoats with Creamer Collar, made to order; price $40. Style and workmanship guaranteed.

THE CORONATION NOBLE PLAYERS CUNARD LEVIATHAN PLANNED

TELLS PEERESSES DRESSES TO WEAR

Gowns and Robes for Coronation Ceremonies Must Be of Approved Pattern.

AIDS IRISH INDUSTRIES

Lace and Veil Used by Queen Mary Will Be Produced Exclusively in Emerald Isle.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. TO obviate all uncertainty among peeresses as to the gowns and robes they must wear at the coronation next June correct costume models now are displayed in the offices of the Earl Marshal, in Cleveland row, St. James. This course of instruction has set aside the belief held by many peeresses that colored evening dresses with the robes attached to the shoulders could be worn. The costume approved is exactly the same as that which was in evidence at the coronation of the late King Edward. There is an underdress of white satin, chiffon or lace, while the bodice and train are of ruby velvet trimmed with ermine. The robe hangs from the shoulders, with a miniver cape bordered with the precise number of ermine points allotted to each rank.

COMPLAIN OF HEAVY COSTUME.

Those who imagine that all is happiness and joy for the wearer of this costume may stand corrected by the evidence of those who know. At the coronation of the late King Edward many women complained exceedingly of the great warmth, especially on a midsummer day, of the two folds of velvet and the ermine cape. It had been anticipated that a modification in the style of costume would be allowed next June, but hopes to this end now have been shattered.

There is one feature of the peeresses' gowns which change will not affect. This has to do with the beautiful embroideries covering the overdress, which attracted so much attention at the last coronation. The embroidery as a rule took the form of armorial bearings, crests and mottoes worked in correct colors, and in many instances ornamented with jewels. This feature is expected next year.

Thanks to Queen Mary's example, the Irish lace industry anticipates a great benefit from the coronation. It is announced that she has decided that all the lace used on her coronation robes is to be of Irish manufacture, while the magnificent veil which will fall from her crown will be of Irish needlepoint. As a result of this decision it is figured that Irish lace will have a place in the robes of the peeresses.

PEERS RECEIVED REWARDS.

In connection with the coming coronation, students of history have noted that the great nobles who acted in menial capacities at old time coronations did not go unrewarded. For instance, it is recorded that at the coronation of Queen Mary, in 1553, the Duke of Norfolk, as Earl Marshal, laid claim to the Queen's horse and palfrey, with all their costly "furniture"; the Earl of Arundel, as chief butler, possessed himself of the Queen's best cuppe and all the wine in pyxes and hogsheds; and also all the pottes and cuppes in the wyne stiller remayne after dyner. As chief officer of the larder, Lord Abergavenny claimed for his services all the "beefes, muttuns, veales, venyson, kydd, etc. remayne after dyner," while the Great Chamberlain, the Earl of Oxford, put in his claim for the bed, bedclothes and nightrobe used by the Queen the night preceding the coronation.

DYNAMITE SHIP BLOWN UP AT SEA

Ketch Laden with Explosive Was Damaged in Collision and Destroyed to Prevent Danger.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. MARINERS down Yarmouth way are breathing easier now that the ketch Mystery, which was irreparably damaged in a collision with the fishing smack Provider on a voyage from Antwerp, has been blown up. Condemned by the customs officials, the Mystery had been lying in Yarmouth Harbor for a week. She was a source of grave anxiety owing to the fact that she contained seventeen tons of dynamite—enough to blow up half of the city of London—and all this had been rendered "tricky" by immersion. Permission having been given Major Cooper-Key, of the Home Office, to blow up the wrecked craft, the Mystery was towed out to sea a distance of twelve miles from Yarmouth, a spot free from fishing boats being chosen. Mr. John Russell, owner of the Mystery, was permitted to place the fuses in position, connecting them with detonators. When these fuses, each twenty-five feet in length and arranged to burn fifteen minutes, had been lighted Mr. Russell and his assistants were taken on board the towing tug. As the latter tore away at full steam it was discovered that Mr. Russell had left a bag of valuable papers on board the condemned vessel. A return trip was made to get them.

The tug, steaming at full speed, was about a mile from the Mystery when a great sheet of flame, followed by a terrific detonation, burst from the wrecked ketch, which immediately was buried in a great ball of smoke that rose to a height of 500 feet, the explosion causing a miniature tidal wave which rocked the tug about like a chip. Return to the scene of the explosion resulted in finding but a few blackened pieces of wood floating on the surface.

AMERICANS IN FRONT RANK AS HOSTESSES

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. THERE has been quite a run of amateur theatricals lately, but none seems to have been so successful as those arranged by the Marchioness of Headfort at Kells, which, according to the Onlooker, were an unqualified success. The amateur cast played "The School for Scandal" in a style that few professionals could have bettered. Lady Headfort making a delightful Lady Teazle. Her costumes had evidently been most carefully thought out and proved most becoming, while artistic instinct and real dramatic skill characterized her reading of the part. The famous screen scene gave all the principals an opportunity for clever comedy. Sir Anthony Weldon's keen sense of humor standing him in good stead as old Sir Peter Teazle. Lord Farnham, as Joseph Surface, was at his best in singing the "Toast Song," and Lord Frederick Conyngham distinguished himself as Sir Harry Bumper.

American hostesses continue to maintain the lead in all the entertaining that is going on in London, and those who are able to appreciate the American woman as a hostess believe that under her guidance there soon will be a revival of the old time salons, where "lions," drawn from the ranks of society, the arts, the professions, and indeed all walks of life, will once more play an important part in the society of their time.

MRS. FRENCH VANDERBILT'S PLANS.

Lady Chylesmore, one of the leading Anglo-American hostesses in London, has returned to her beautiful house at Prince's Gate, after spending the autumn in Scotland, where she has been entertaining a series of parties. Her sister, Mrs. French Vanderbilt, is not expected back till the beginning of the year, but will do some entertaining during the winter.

Lady Bateman, too, has now settled at No. 4 Grosvenor Square, which Lord Bateman has taken for a term from Lady Miller. It is a fine house for entertaining on a large scale, and Lady Bateman has already given some dinner parties and means to do a great deal in that way now that she has such a fine house, even if only a temporary one, in London.

The Countess of Granard has been staying in Ireland lately and has been among the guests at Castle Macgarrett, in County Mayo, where Lord and Lady Granard and Mrs. Brown have been entertained this autumn. Later Lord and Lady Granard will be settled for the winter in their London residence, Forbes House, where Lady Granard will do a good deal of official entertaining before leaving town again for the Christmas holidays.

MRS. ALMERIC PAGET'S ILLNESS.

Mrs. Almeric Paget, whose health has been very unsatisfactory for the last year, is a source of a deal of anxiety to her friends. Since her return to London she has been very ill and doctors have been in constant attendance. As it is quite out of the question for her to spend the winter in England she is leaving shortly with her children for Egypt and will be away for six months.

American play a prominent part, too, in the shires, where the hunting season is now in full swing. Dalby Hall, which was let last year to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Phipps, has now been taken by Mr. Henry Payne Whitney, perhaps the best known of American sportsmen in England. His mounts are the envy of the hunt, for Mr. Whitney is a fine judge of horses, and the question of price never stops him. Mr. Whitney has considerable sporting interests in England nowadays, for in addition to hunting and polo he has one of the best racing establishments at Newmarket, and he rents the fine Holker Moors every season for grouse shooting.

PEARL NECKLACES BRING HIGH PRICES

(Special Dispatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. A sale of jewels at the Hotel Drouot which has been attracting considerable attention in Paris concluded today with a general total of 1,236,465 francs ($247,289). The most important item of today's sale was a necklace of fifty-one large white pearls, weighing 854 grains, the estimated value of which was 200,000 francs ($40,000). It was bought by Mons. Roubins for 204,700 francs ($40,940). Another necklace of sixty-seven pearls, weighing 472 grains, valued at 115,000 francs ($23,000), was bought by Mons. Paureu for 127,500 francs ($25,500).

for the uninformed, provided they be well dressed, to gain entry. Nor is it possible for the hostess always to tell whether a face that she does not recognize may not belong to one of a party brought by one of her guests.

To try to stop the annoyance, to say nothing of the danger of the uninformed guest being a modern Robert Macaire, a well known hostess who is giving a dance at a big London hotel not only begs her friends on the invitations sent them to bring their cards when they come, but dresses the matter home by having her request printed as an advertisement in the public press.

"Some time ago I had my eyes opened by this scandalous practice in a most unpleasant fashion," she said in an interview. "I had occasion to give a dance at a London hotel to which I invited two hundred and thirty guests. I had very carefully checked these figures before the dance began, yet before it was half way through the manager of the hotel informed me that there were already more than four hundred people in the rooms. As you can imagine, my purse, as well as my feelings, suffered very heavily on this occasion.

"Last year I heard of two women—one seemed personally acquainted with them—who had attended uninvited practically every dance or function of the season. Consequently I have been driven to adopt precautions which have become absolutely necessary for the exclusion of these people. The hotel management has promised to have three men at my disposal whose duty it will be to take the name and address of every person who comes without an invitation card."

RALEIGH'S PIPE NOW FOR SALE

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. COLLECTORS of historical objects have been interested in the pipe smoked by Sir Walter Raleigh just before he was put to death. It was exhibited at the London Guildhall about forty-eight years ago and was accompanied by a parchment roll which attested its genuineness. It has been offered for sale by the present owner, Mr. Horace G. Blundell, of Chiswick.

The pipe, which is of the long stemmed variety, is made from bran-hoe. The two bowls, which show examples of good carving, are interchangeable. It is still just as serviceable as it was in the days when Sir Walter's gallantry failed to keep him from the headman's block.

Bishop Andrews, otherwise Dean of Westminster, who administered the last sacrament to Sir Walter on the scaffold, was presented with this pipe by the condemned man just before his death," explained Mr. Blundell. "From this churchman it passed into the hands of the Carrows, of Beddington, Surrey. From the latter family it was obtained by the Gloves, of Croydon, and then passed to the family of Bryants, who for years had their seat near Redgate. My grandfather married the widow of one of the Bryants, and eventually the pipe came into my hands."

50,000 TON SHIP IS DECIDED UPON

Cunard Line Will Have Vessel 885 Feet in Length, with a Speed of Twenty-Three Knots.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. ANNOUNCEMENT has been made by the Cunard Steamship Company that it has decided to build a 50,000 ton steamship. The plans, which have been approved by Lloyd's, call for a vessel 885 feet in length and with a breadth of 55 feet 6 inches.

Messrs. Swan, Hunter & Wigham Richardson, of Wallisden on Tyne, and Messrs. John Brown & Co., of Clydebank, who were the builders of the Mauretania and the Lusitania respectively, are estimating the cost, which is expected to approximate nearly $10,000,000.

The dimensions of the proposed vessel will exceed the length of the Mauretania by 125 feet, her breadth by 7 feet 6 inches and tonnage by 15,000 tons. All other records in point of tonnage and size will also be eclipsed, for the vessel will have an advantage on the White Star Olympic of 5,000 tons and will exceed by 1,000 tons the Hamburg-American steamship now building in the Vulcan Yard, at Stettin. As regards length the plans are more conservative, but give a margin of 3 feet 6 inches over that of the White Star vessel.

Speed has not been overlooked and the proposed vessel will steam twenty-three knots on a draught of thirty-four feet, which is three knots faster than the Olympic. She will be propelled by turbines operating quadruple screws, and will resemble the Cunard flyers in that she will have four funnels and two pole masts. Her double bottom will be so arranged that she will be able to carry oil fuel should the company at any time decide upon that method.

Needless to say the vessel will be fitted up on a liberal scale. She will have a stage for theatrical purposes. Accommodation will be provided for 650 first class passengers, 760 second class and 1,400 third class—a total of 3,760, exclusive of the crew.

CROSS ON GIRL'S ARM.

(Special Dispatch.)

DUBLIN, Saturday. An unusual story comes from the Convent of St. Louis, in County Mayo. Boarding at the Convent is a thirteen-year-old girl who is a great favorite with the nuns because of her docile, affectionate nature.

One night one of the Sisters heard the child screaming, and on being asked what was the trouble she said she had had a frightful dream in which she saw Christ on the cross and a soldier driving a spear into his side.

In the morning, however, the child complained of a pain in her wrist and arm. On examination there was plainly seen a red cross with the letters "L. H. S." marked on her forearm. A few days later there appeared above the cross and surrounded by a scroll the letters "I. N. R. I." After a lapse of another day or two there appeared a crown of thorns, and then a chalice, surmounted by a host, sending forth radiations in red, and last of all a flower shaped drawing, near which was written the word "Lily."

Abrupt Change by Japan of Foreigners' Status in Corea Arouses British Ire

Promises That Europeans' Rights Will Be Respected Thought of Little Account in View of Solemn Pledges Broken.

MAY PREVENT RENEWAL OF THE ALLIANCE

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PEKIN, Nov. 1, 1910. More light, or more mystery, is shed upon the "voluntary" character of the surrender of Corea's sovereignty to Japan by the declaration of a Russian newspaper that it has indisputable authority for the statement that neither the nominal Emperor nor his father affixed the imperial seal to the articles of abdication.

According to this authority, when the Emperor, who had been kept in total ignorance of the step that had been determined upon by Japan, was asked to sign the agreement drawn up for the annexation he refused, saying he could not decide so momentous a question as the surrender of the throne of his ancestors without consulting with his father, whose abdication was forced by the Japanese in 1907.

Then, the report runs, the erstwhile Emperor was sent for. He stubbornly refused to affix the imperial seal to an agreement which was to announce to the world the political death of his country. Thereupon the Prime Minister, Yi Wan Yong, affixed the seal to the document at the instance of General Viscount Terauchi, the Japanese Resident General, who has since been officially designated Governor General of Japan's new dominion.

Play on Corea Barred.

Just now Japanese officialdom seems to be peculiarly sensitive with regard to everything appertaining to the land that was Corea. Kawakami, the famous Japanese actor, has learned this to his discomfiture and monetary loss.

Kawakami has spent a good many thousand yen in preparing for the production of a play entitled "The King of Chosen" at his theatre in Osaka. The central figure is a mythical young King of Chosen, who is brought to Japan for education, and proceeds, as even kings may do, to fall in love with a tea-house girl. The Osaka police authorities have forbidden the production of the play on the ground that "it is deemed inadvisable to place anything on the stage relating to Corea at the present time."

Kawakami and his journalistic friends, who have taken up the cudgels in his behalf, are at a loss to find valid excuse for this official inhibition. They insist that the play's purpose is to demonstrate the friendliness that exists between Japanese and Coreans, and they intimate that officialdom is giving itself over to an orgy of nightmare over the whole Corea business.

Point to Broken Treaties.

The serious side of Corea annexation refuses to keep itself in the background. British publicists, in this part of the world as in England, are busily inquiring whether the British Foreign Office has given its approval and indorsement of the action of the government of Japan in summarily declaring null and void the treaties made by Corea with other nations, in face of the fact that Japan had specifically pledged herself to see that those treaties were maintained and respected.

On November 22, 1905, Japan announced to the Powers that in order to put an end "once and for all" to what she termed the "dangerous situation" of permitting Corea to exercise the right of an independent nation in making treaties with other nations she had assumed control of Corea's foreign relations. Japan at the same time made this solemn declaration to the Powers:—

"The imperial government declare that in assuming charge of the foreign relations of Corea and undertaking the duty of watching over the execution of the existing treaties of that country they will see that those treaties are maintained and respected, and they also engage not to prejudice in any way the legitimate commercial and industrial interests of those Powers in Corea."

Repudiates Extraterritoriality.

The essence of the treaties which Japan thus solemnly pledged herself to maintain is extraterritorial protection of foreign interests. This guarantee Japan has now repudiated. The Japan Chronicle, the ablest English paper published in the Far East, says of it:—

"There can be no moral justification of the action Japan has thought fit to take in this matter. All that can be offered in excuse is that other Powers have on occasion failed to keep their engagements when they were inconvenient. It is true there have been such cases, but no Power ever broke a pledge or failed to carry into effect its voluntary guarantees or promises without suffering in its future diplomatic arrangements. It may be that not a single Power will make a protest against the annexation of Corea or the extinguishment of the foreign rights which Japan guaranteed, but the incident, coming at the very threshold of the revision of the treaties with Japan, will inevitably have a marked effect on the course of those negotiations."

"Now Then, Smith!" Loses His Life

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. MANY expressions of regret have followed the report that "Now then, Smith!" one of the heroes of the Messina earthquake, has been drowned at Banbury, in West Australia. When the Italian city was swept by disaster Smith was a seaman aboard the steamship Afonwen, then lying in port there. With his captain and two of the crew he hurried into the city to aid in extending help. Thousands lay buried in the wreckage and many buildings which had not fallen were swaying and tottering.

The party of four saw a family at the windows of the top floor of one of these structures. Its impending collapse threatened their destruction, and fire below had cut off escape. The sailors succeeded in throwing a rope to the upper windows, where it was made fast.

COVERS WHOLE WORLD

Rome Hears Rumor That Government Will Abolish Article Making Catholicism State Religion.

(Special Dispatch.)

ROME, Saturday.—Fifteen thousand priests and bishops of the United States have been apprised of the terms of the Pontifical decree, which affects them as well as all the other clergy and the religious orders of the Catholic Church. In it the Pope lays down a series of very severe rules regarding their participation in business affairs of all kinds. They are strictly forbidden to take an active part in financial enterprises, even in those which have a charitable scope, or to lend their names or influence to any business speculation.

This decree is to be embodied in a new code of the canon law, which will be published at the end of the next year, but it goes into force immediately with the beginning of 1911.

The new regulations for the official visits of bishops to Rome go into force in the year 1914. This law is fixed for all bishops of America, North and South. All of them will then be obliged to furnish the most elaborate report to the Consistorial Congregation regarding their dioceses.

It is rumored that early in the new year the Italian government will propose the abolition of the article of the constitution which proclaims the Catholic Church as the religion of the State.

UNIVERSITIES IN CHINA NO RIVALS

Large Fields for That at Hong Kong and for Lord William Cecil's Project.

THE SAME GENERAL AIM

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PEKIN, Nov. 1, 1910. That there is, and should be, no clash of interests between the new Hong Kong University, of which he is the founder, and the United Universities' scheme for a great university for China, of which Lord William Cecil is special sponsor, is the conviction of Sir Frederick Lugard, Governor of Hong Kong, who is in Pekin on his way back to his post from England, where he has been spending some months.

"The two projects," explained Sir Frederick in discussing the subject at the British Legation, where he is the guest of Hon. W. G. Max Muller, the British Charge d'Affaires, "are separate and distinct, but they have the same general aim—to contribute to the cause of higher education in China. There is room for both, need for both."

"While much has been done and is being done to promote Western education in this great empire, with its vast multitude of people, there has as yet been established no institution deserving the title of 'university' in its highest sense. The time has come when the excellent work done by the educational institutions now in existence should be supplemented by the establishment of real universities which will enable Chinese students to obtain here in their own land that higher education which only the few are now able to obtain—by spending a number of years abroad, too often at the questionable cost of becoming denationalized."

"It is the aim of the Hong Kong University to fill this need at the south, and the same desire is the inspiration of Lord William Cecil's project for the Wu-Han section, the centre of China."

"The two projects, though having the same general aims, differ in some very material respects. Lord William's project is essentially missionary in its character, while the Hong Kong University may be called secular in construction to a religious institution. Ours will, however, aim as distinctly at character building, the difference being more in methods of administration than in the principles underlying the education to be given, for these, as I see it, are essentially the same."

"We have in the great southern section naturally tributary to Hong Kong many millions of people, and it is for these primarily that we are building. With the present methods of communication Hankow is further away from Hong Kong than London is from New York, and the institution projected for Hankow has a great field of its own."

"As you doubtless know, we have already made substantial beginning at Hong Kong. To Sir Hormusji Mody, one of our foremost Parsee merchants, we are indebted for the buildings, which he is constructing at his own cost. The foundation stone was laid last March."

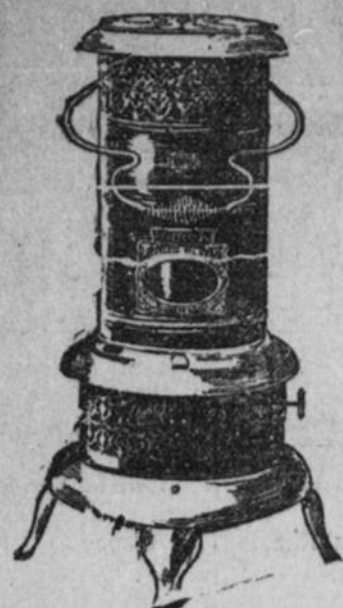

"We have received most substantial support from the Chinese. The Viceroy of Canton subscribed £15,000 and issued a manifesto which has brought us contributions from other Chinese running to a total of hundreds of thousands of taels. The British firm of Butterfield & Swire, with its allied firms, has contributed £40,000."

MAN WHO LOANED

Lord Rothschild's Seventieth Birthday Celebration.

London, Dec. 2.—World-wide congratulations poured in upon Lord Rothschild on the seventieth anniversary of the famous financier's birthday, the event being of the greater significance that it came in the centenary year of the famous London office in Newcourt, St. Swithin's lane.

One might well speculate as to how many reigning monarchs wield even a respectable fraction of the power of this unassuming business man, who is to be found at his office as regularly as any humdrum managing director.

Yet his seventy years of life, to use Lord Rothschild's own characteristically modest words, "devoted entirely to business," have been fruitful of world-deeds any one of which would have ensured an important place in the history of Europe and of our own Empire. During his reign at Newcourt he has brought out loans amounting in all to something like £450,000,000. He it was who saved Egypt from financial ruin in the early days, and the amazing story of that adventurous evening when he helped Lord Beaconsfield to buy up the Suez Canal shares is still one of the true fairy tales of financial statesmanship.

In the Baring crisis he came to the rescue of the national credit, and to the present generation there is a special appeal in his ready help to Cecil Rhodes in his first struggling days; while his invaluable aid in the matter of Government loans during the Boer War will be an ever-remembered national service. From his Cambridge days a trusted friend of King Edward, Lord Rothschild is the first professing Jew to take his seat in the House of Lords.

It is characteristic of Lord Rothschild that although he is spending his actual birthday at his country home at Tring, he has been in attendance at his office in St. Swithin's lane every day for the past week. He is in excellent health and spirits, and in everything save years is himself one of those "young men of the Empire" in whose "individual responsibility for Imperial efficiency" he is a firm and hopeful believer.

CROWN JEWELS MAKE

A DAZZLING SHOW

London, Dec. 2.—A wonderful transformation has been wrought in the display of the Crown jewels and regalia, which have now been restored to the Wakefield Chamber in the Tower of London. The old idea seemed to be to keep the crowns and jewels as much in the shade as possible. Now they make a magnificently dazzling show. Against a rich background of velvet, and with an artificial arrangement of mirrors and electric lights, the crowns and sceptres, the gold plate and state swords, flash with almost blinding brilliancy as one passes round the big, grill protected plate glass case.

At the summit is the King's crown, which was originally made for Queen Victoria's coronation in 1838, when the chief jewels were taken from older crowns and the royal collection. Among them is the great ruby given to the Black Prince by Peter the Cruel after the battle of Navarre in 1367, and worn by Henry V. in the crown adorning his helmet at the battle of Agincourt.

The crown was enlarged and brightened for the coronation of the late King Edward, and then contained 2,818 diamonds, 297 pearls and many other jewels the whole weighing thirty-nine ounces five pennyweights.

CULLINAN DIAMONDS.

The Cullinan diamonds, which out of compliment to United South Africa, whose first Parliament was recently opened by the Duke of Connaught, King George ordered to be renamed the "Stars of Africa," have a prominent place in the regalia which will be used in Westminster Abbey next June. The crown has been altered to allow the large oblong "Star of Africa," weighing 309 carats, to be placed in front. For this new arrangement two new sapphires, fifty-six brilliants and fifty-two rose diamonds have been added. The smaller "drop," or "Star of Africa," cut from the original stone, is now of the head of the royal sceptre.

"GET RICH QUICK" SCHEMES

(Bankers Magazine.)

In his annual address to the American Bankers' Association, President Pierson said:—

"As bankers I believe we owe a duty to our communities to encourage thrift and economy in every way possible. We should get closer to our people, and encourage investment in safe securities, arranging whenever we can to have bond issues offered in denominations that will attract and meet the requirements of the smallest investors.

"Experience and observation place us in a position to give advice to deserving men, helping them avoid mistakes and to particularly escape the lure of the 'get rich quick' schemes, through the advertisements of which so many millions are each year coaxed from and lost by small investors all over the country. These 'get rich quick' schemes are an outrage on business decency, and it is hoped that the post office officials will soon place more of these criminals in the penitentiary.

Only bankers know to what extent the people are gulled by these schemes, which generally are nothing more than impudent and bare-faced swindles. It is a daily experience at the banks, particularly at the savings banks, to have money withdrawn to pay for 'investments' of this character or to meet losses sustained through them.

The stream of money thus poured out constitutes not only a grave loss to individuals, many of whom can ill afford a further depletion of their scanty means, but it is a source of frightful national economic waste.

When boots are wet do not put them too near the fire, or they will stiffen and crack. Turn them on one side in a dry but not warm place.

Quebec, June 11th, 1910.
BY-LAW No. 442
To amend By-Law No. 192, concerning Order and Peace

(Drawn up in the French Language)

At a meeting of the City Council of the City of Quebec, held at the City Hall, in the said City of Quebec, on the Seventeenth of June, One Thousand and Nine Hundred and Ten (1910), in conformity to law, and in virtue of a By-law passed by this Council pursuant thereto, and after the due observance of all the formalities prescribed by the statute in such case made and provided, at which meeting were present two-thirds of the members composing the Council of the City of Quebec, that is to say:—

It is hereby ordered and enacted by the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec as follows:—

1. The following article is hereby added after article 32 of By-law No. 192, passed by this Council on the 22nd of December, 1865, to wit:

ALLEGED MURDERER TAKEN TO SCENE OF CRIME.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 2.—Followed by a crowd of several hundred persons, Jos. Wendling, charged with the murder of Alma Kelner, was this evening marched through the streets with the jury and trial judge from the court house to St. John's Church, the scene of the alleged crime. The prisoner was nervous and seemed relieved when taken back to the courtroom, although no demonstration was made by the crowd. It is almost a mile from the court house to the church. When the trip was started Judge Gregory turned to the people and asked them not to follow. Court officials accompanied the jury and prisoner through the church, where the prosecution contends that Alma Kelner was killed, and then to the parochial school, beneath which the body of the child was found. The defense closed its case to-day and court adjourned until to-morrow morning, when arguments will be made.

FOSTER MAKES CUTTING SPEECH

Proves That Liberals Were More Immoderate Than Ever Bourassa Was.

Montreal Gazette: Mr. Foster had a splendid reception when he rose to continue the debate on the address. He was in excellent form and at once turned the batteries of his sarcasm on the Premier and Mr. Brodeur for their appeals to drop racial and religious cries. Both Sir Wilfrid and his minister, Mr. Foster said, had almost tearfully begged for such appeals to cease, and the Premier had declared that never in his political career had he relied upon them. But while these statements were fine in the spirit they embodied the right theory. The question was how these men and the party to which they belonged had realized those high ideals. Mr. Foster agreed it would be much better for Canada if these methods of political campaigning were done away with, and appeals rather to reason and intelligence substituted. They were hurtful to the public life of the country and in the end party using them.

The Government side cheered these remarks, but the applause died away when Mr. Foster began to probe into the records of Laurier and Brodeur along these very lines. He pointed out that Brodeur in 1896 was one of Laurier's chief lieutenants in Quebec. He was a member of the House and a firm of money was needed to arm the militia with Lee-Enfield rifles. Mr. Brodeur opposed this vote on the ground that Canada had no right to assist in the defence of the country or take any of the burden of so doing from the shoulders of Great Britain. Mr. Brodeur was then the mainstay of Laurier in Quebec. He was the leading organizer for the party. In La Soleil of 18th June, 1896, was an article, many said written by the minister himself, but in any event used with his consent, denouncing the purchase of these rifles, stating that "one of the hobbies of old Tupper was Imperial federation," and, after picturing the horrors of French-Canadian lads being torn from their mother's arms wound up by remarking, "Why should we fight for England?" Mr. Brodeur says his hands were clean? Yet that was the racial campaign carried on actively in Quebec in 1896 to put the Laurier Government into power. Yet this was the man who characterized the cartoon used by the Nationalists in the recent election in Arthabaska, showing John Bull robbing Baptiste, the very cartoon used by his own organ, Le Canada, during the Dunderdonald incident, to arouse the race cry against the Conservative party, as "damnable." If it was damnable in 1910, when used against Laurier, was it any less damnable in 1904 when used for Laurier? asked Mr. Foster, amid Opposition cheers? Yet these appeals had put the Government where it is to-day.

Then the Premier, "dressed in the habiliments of xvirtue," deprecated racial and religious appeals. Yet there was no record that he had endeavored to put an end to them. In 1896 and 1900 Quebec was lit from one end to the other with the blazing fires of race and religion, and the hands which held the torch were now holding portfolios. Israel Tarte, in La Patrie, had urged the French-Canadians to vote along racial lines. Later Brodeur's own organ, "which draws the breath of life and gets its daily bread from the Government," had carried on the same work. The "Baptiste" cartoon in Le Canada was not quite so scurrilous as the one which in 1900 had been spread broadcast throughout Quebec, showing Laurier and Tarte defending a citadel and behind them the French-Canadian population of Quebec. Advancing on the citadel was a motley throng labelled the "Tories," bearing banners "Down with the Pope," "Down with the French-Canadians," "Down with the Roman Catholics," "Race and Creed," ejaculated Mr. Foster, amid loud Opposition applause. "Just think of these men on the treasury benches stating they had never made such appeals."

Mr. Foster then produced a copy of the famous pamphlet issued in 1900, in which every possible kind of appeal was made to French-Canadians to support Laurier because he was a French-Canadian. Residing from the pamphlet, Mr. Foster showed that it was designed for the purpose of representing to the people of Quebec that the Conservative party

HOW A PRINCESS RAISED MONEY

Involved Affairs of Titled Dulwich Resident — Property in Russia.

London, Dec. 2.—The involved affairs of a Russian notable, Princess Maria Wisniewski, whose estates abroad had not yielded her any money for some time, were the subject of much discussion in the King's Bench Division.

The matter was set down as in re Princess Maria Wisniewski, ex parte Peterson, and Sir Frederick Low, appearing for the judgment creditor, said his lordship (Mr. Justice Phillimore) would recollect that on a previous occasion a provisional order was made that this lady should pay three monthly instalments of £300. Those instalments had been duly paid. When the matter before the court on the last occasion it was stated that the Princess was too ill to attend. Since then she had been medically examined, and a certificate, signed by four doctors, including Sir Francis Laking and Dr. Gibbons, explained her absence on the present occasion.

Mr. Justice Phillimore: And I see there is now mention of "delusions," and it is stated that she is unable to carry on a sustained conversation.

Mr. Shearman (for the Princess) agreed to proceed in the lady's absence, and Sir Frederick Low (continuing) read affidavits by Russian advocates in Paris, in whose opinion a married woman, under Russian law, could not sign bills or promissory notes. Therefore, they added, if the documents signed by the Princess were (according to English law) bills they had no legal significance under Russian law. Other affidavits, added Sir Frederick, stated that fourteen promissory notes were given to the plaintiff by the defendant amounting to £12,300.

For the first time the statement was now put forward that according to an "Imperial Ukase of Feb. 15, 1903, published by the Senate, an Imperial trusteeship was instituted for the personal property of Maria Boltoff," and it was so that this lady, the Princess under her married name, had no right to sign bills or promissory notes, and no right to make any civil contracts whatever. Here was a lady who had been obtaining credit in her maiden name, and had been before the court on two or three occasions.

Mr. Justice Phillimore: If that can be proved she ought to be indicted for obtaining money by false pretences.

It now appeared, observed Sir Frederick Low, that the lady had considerable property in Russia; but owing to family dissensions she had received no income therefrom for some time past. Counsel submitted that the evidence before the court showed that the debtor was not now a married woman, and he asked his lordship to adopt that view.

In the end his lordship made an order for the Princess to pay the remainder of the debt and the costs now incurred at the rate of £750 a month, the first instalment to be paid on Dec. 1.

AFRAID OF FALLING, SLEEPS ON FLOOR

Countess Pleads for Royal Pardon — Marvelous Courage Unnerved.

London, Dec. 2.—Countess Tarnowski, who was condemned at Venice in May last to eight years' imprisonment for instigating Dr. Naumoff and the lawyer Pritukoff to assassinate Count Kamarowski, her fiancé, is supplicating for royal pardon as a last desperate resource since her appeal was quashed by the Supreme Court of Cassation.

Dr. Vecchini, the famous lawyer who conducted her defence, says her marvellous courage and self-control have now forsaken her, and it is doubtful if she will survive the rigours of solitary confinement.

Hitherto the countess has been living in the best chamber of the Giudex Prison, on the Venetian lagoons, paying a fixed rental, ordering all her meals at pleasure from a city restaurant, receiving friends, and indulging freely in Russian cigarettes whereof she is so fond. All this must cease in a few days when the sentence is formally notified to the local jurisdiction, and the countess will be sent off to a convent settlement, probably in Perugia.

She has become the subject of weird hallucinations. She cannot be induced to sleep elsewhere than on the floor through fear of falling. Scarcely time has she lived in continual dread of a disastrous earthquake during the night, and she begged the company of one of the sisters of the prison staff, who now always sleeps with her.

Apart from the terrible nervous crises which keep her frequently for hours together in a cold, rigid, quasihypnotic state, Tarnowski is sweet-tempered and submissive to rule. Dr. Vecchini says she dresses neatly, but with the utmost simplicity, does not spend a cent in perfumes, nor kill time by reading foreign journals and trashy novels. As a matter of fact, she passes most of her leisure praying in the convent chapel or reading spiritual books. Eighteen months have flown by since she descended for a walk in the garden, or interested herself in flowers.

Tarnowski's appetite for food has deserted her. She is a martyr to headache and never sleeps more than one hour in night-time. She is often overcome by fainting fits.

It is reported that when they met and conversed immediately after the great trial Dr. Naumoff and the Countess Tarnowski not only forgave each other, but mutually vowed to marry as soon as the countess's convict days are over.

DIVORCE LAWS OF THREE COUNTRIES (Toronto Mail)

In three great countries the divorce question is becoming more and more prominent. There is in Canada a growing opinion that divorce proceedings are too costly and that many mismatched couples continue to live together who would separate could they afford to do so. Many will regard this as a rather happy result, and will oppose any effort to make divorce easier to obtain. In England a Royal Commission is investigating the question of divorce, in response to the Radical demand for cheaper, swifter divorce proceedings. In the United States the movement is just in the opposite direction. The World's Christian Citizenship Conference in Philadelphia the other day called for a nationalization of the divorce laws. Instead of permitting each State to legislate on this matter as it pleased, the conference is in favor of leaving the matter of divorce to Federal authority, as is done in Canada.

DIVORCE A FEDERAL QUESTION.
In the United States there is the greatest diversity of opinion as to what should constitute grounds for the annulment of marriage. In South Carolina the courts accept no reason at all. Once married there you must stay married forever, so far as South Carolina is concerned. But seeing that other neighboring States will freely divorce South Carolinian couples who appeal to them, it is not supposed that this State's singularity has any important effect on the divorce record of the country. This touches on the great difficulty divorce reformers have to encounter. They say that if every State but one in the Union declined to grant divorces, tens of thousands would sever them from their mates, and only the poorer curing their freedom. They declare that there should be only one set of divorce laws for the land; but to bring this about would require the alteration of the Constitution of the United States.

FAT FOLKS FAVOR
Home Mixture That Takes Off the Fat Rapidly—Causes No Wrinkles—No Stomach Ills and Requires Neither Dieting Nor Exercise.
Too much fat is both uncomfortable and dangerous, but usually fleshy people prefer to put up with its inconvenience rather than punish themselves with the tiresome exercising usually prescribed, or endanger their health by taking the so-called "cures" and patent fat "reducers."

This self-sacrifice of comfort and health to overabundant fat is entirely unnecessary, however, as Mrs. Luella Bigger tells us there is a home receipt that is far superior in every way to anything money will buy for reducing superfluous flesh. It is said this simple mixture will take the fat off of man or woman at the rate of at least a couple of pounds a week without even causing wrinkles. Moreover, it does not disturb the stomach, but is a good thing for the system, clearing away pimples, and, best of all, it does use it and at the same time eat what-ever you like. This receipt is as follows:—½ ounce Cascara Aromatic and 4½ ounces of Peppermint Water. Get these ingredients at any drug store, mix them together at home and take one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Mrs. Bigger, as is well known, is a famous beauty expert, and whatever she recommends is sure to be found entirely satisfactory.

 NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.
 By private wire to McDougall, Lesperance & Co., Hochelaga Bank Building:
 New York, Dec. 2.—The reactionary movement with which the week in the stock market began was continued throughout the list. Sentiment has apparently taken a very pessimistic turn and evidence was forthcoming to account for to-day's setback. It seems clear that the market had long depended for sustenance on the operation of professional traders, many of whom have now grown discouraged at the general trend of conditions. In various lines of trade, more especially the steel industry, these conditions are not calculated to inspire confidence and the ease with which prices have crumbled away offers strong proof that recent efforts to create bullish sentiment have been abortive. Rumors were current to-day that the pool which is commonly supposed to have engineered the recent upward movement had dissolved, leaving a large part of its holdings, estimated into the hundreds of thousands of shares, unsold. The dire forebodings of the future, as recently uttered by J. J. Hill, were to-day echoed by the head of one of the leading Eastern railway systems and other events of the day, such as the issue of another large lot of railway reports, tended to confirm the impression that an era of contraction and retrenchment is at hand. The Comptroller of the Currency submitted another batch of statements dealing with the condition of national banks in all sections of the country, as of Nov. 10 last. Not a few of these institutions reported a further expansion of loans and discounts instead of the hoped-for contraction. The percentages of reserves in few instances were up to 18 per cent, and in many cases much lower. Estimates of the cash loss for the week for the local banks are from $7,000,000 to $8,500,000, with the loan account an uncertain quantity. Recovery was made in the stock market during the final hour, and some fractional gains were shown, but this was due in a measure to short covering. Notable returns for October was that of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road with a net loss of over $500,000. The Pennsylvania, Rock Island, New York, New Haven & Hartford, Erie, Boston & Maine and Norfolk & Western lines all reported more or less extensive losses in the same item. The bond market was heavy. Total sales, par value, $1,700,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

 NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.
 By private wire to McDougall & Cowans, 81 St. Peter street:—
 New York, Dec. 2.—The weakness in the stock market continued up until 2 o'clock, new low records being made in several directions. Lehigh Valley sold down 3 points to 177 and other issues declined from 1 to 2 points. The selling on this decline seemed to be largely by bearish traders. In the last hour stocks hardened and rallied, but the close was generally about from a point and a half to three-quarters under yesterday's prices. There is reason to believe that the President's message will be a satisfactory and safe document from a Wall Street point of view; also that his appointees to the Supreme Court will be fair minded men, who have already been identified with the campaigns against the corporations of the last few years. The final tone was dull and irregular. Norfolk & Western October net increase $111,291; four months' net decrease $15,214, surplus after charges and taxes decrease $39,585. Minn. St. Louis net decrease $38,801, four months' net decrease $55,959. Total sales, $94,000.

 CLOSING LETTER.
 By private wire to Neuville Belleau & Co., 93 St. Peter street:—
 New York, Dec. 2.—The usual higher range of quotations from London came this morning with the usual non-affect upon our market. Reading and Union Pacific, however, gained 1/4, while Southern Pacific was 1/2 up, but Steel lost 1/4 and Pennsylvania 1/4, and the balance of the list was irregular. The opening prices were practically at best, but as the day progressed the liquidation was renewed and new low records were made for many issues, Union Pacific touching 168 1/2, Reading 144 1/2, Steel 72 1/2, representing losses of 2 points or so for the active speculators. In the last hour there was a rally of a point on covering of shorts, but the public remains warily aloof. The banks have lost over $6,000,000 cash this week to the sub-treasury, but money rates continue low and funds in free supply, both on time and call. London was said to have bought about 15,000 shares on balance with sentiment there favorable to our securities. In the afternoon pronounced weakness broke out, carrying stocks down to new low points, but this was followed by a rally at the close of the point. The situation is still unsatisfactory and uncertain and we would caution buyers not to be hasty and overload, but to take their time buying only on good breaks and for moderate profits.

THE LEVIS GRAVING DOCK

Causes a Spicy Debate in the Senate—Senator Choquette Speaks.

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—In the Upper House this week, Senator Choquette precipitated an interesting discussion in respect to the various dry dock proposals before the Government, by calling attention to the statement by Mr. Andrew Allan in the press indicating that the Dominion Dry Dock Company, though it had $800,000 subscribed and assurance of a Government subsidy, would not immediately proceed with the construction of a graving dock at Levis, though the absence of one at that point might involve some company in the loss of millions. It was in the interest of the Government of Quebec and the whole of Canada, in view of Mr. Allan's statement, that the Government itself should speedily undertake building a dry dock at Levis. He thought the people would support this. There had been references to jealousy and rivalry between the people of Quebec and Montreal. For Quebec he could say this did not exist. That city had not objected when the Government had loaned millions for the improvement of Montreal harbor or spent millions in deepening the St. Lawrence. But when Quebec was entitled to a thing it was only fair that it should get it.

Dock Building Is Indefinite.

Sir Richard Cartwright said the Government was keenly alive to the necessity of providing dock facilities for the accommodation of the vessels of great size which resorted to the St. Lawrence. He was unable to state the manner in which that need would be met. The last subsidy act provided a subsidy of three and a half per cent for thirty-five years on a dock expenditure of $4,000,000, and it had been hoped that this general subsidy would induce some private company to build one or more docks.

Senator Dandurand said that the fact that all the shipping interests in Montreal declared that if there was to be only one dock on the St. Lawrence it should be located at Levis indicated that there was little foundation for reports of rivalry between Montreal and Quebec. The need of the transatlantic shipping for a large dry dock was recognized, but there was a great inland navigation of larger volume than ocean navigation, and this, like most of the ocean navigation, terminated at Montreal. The Harbor Commissioners at Montreal therefore felt that a dock for the repair of vessels should be located at Montreal. He had nothing to say on the question of size.

Considers Project Abandoned.

Senator Choquette said that the statement of Mr. Allan showed that the project of the Dominion Dry Dock Company for building at Levis was practically dead, and therefore the Government should build a dock at Levis.

Senator Ellis said there was a belief at St. John, founded on reports in the Government press, that a dry dock was to be built at St. John. That city had all the large ships of Canada resorting to it. It was the only place in Eastern Canada which could be reached at all seasons of the year, and if the Government was to build a dock it should be located at St. John. He understood that the Government was only waiting for a chance to commence the construction of a dry dock at St. John.

Senator William Ross, of Halifax, favored the location of a big graving dock at Levis.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said that all Canadians who had observed the great increase of Canada's commerce will appreciate the need for providing dry dock facilities. Sir Richard Cartwright had overlooked Senator Choquette's information that the construction of a dock at Levis would be in the interests of the Liberal party. Party considerations have so evidently influenced most of the public works carried on by this Government that no doubt this would be taken into consideration in this case.

Senator Cloran Approves Levis.

Senator Cloran said that rivalry between Montreal and Quebec should not enter into the question of locating an adequate dry dock for the great vessels which carried Canada's commerce to the St. Lawrence. The St. Lawrence had been so improved that there was now no chance of a serious disaster occurring to a vessel above Quebec. Consequently there was no reason why the Government should spend money for the establishment of a great dry dock at Montreal. A smaller dock for inland vessels would suffice. As a representative of Montreal and a friend of the Government, he would advise the location of the large St. Lawrence dock at Levis.

Senator Dandurand said the Government had several times increased the amount of aid it would give for dry docks, but the fact that no company would even yet consider the location of docks at Levis or St. John indicated that they were inconvenient places. When a boat was injured it made every effort to reach its destination where it could unload before undertaking repairs.

Hopes to See Dock at Montreal.

He expected to see a large dock at Levis and another at Montreal, as the growth of commerce warranted this. In such case the people of Quebec would be surprised to see many injured vessels pass Levis and go on to Montreal for repairs.

Senator Landry asked why the money had not been raised for the Levis project.

Senator Dandurand replied he understood from the press that the company wanted authority to sell its

SOME HANDY RECIPES

MARSHMALLOWS.

½ box Sparkling Gelatine. 2 cups (one pint) granulated sugar. Few grains salt and flavoring to taste. Soak the gelatine in ten tablespoonfuls cold water till dissolved. Add gelatine to syrup and let stand until partially cooled. Add salt and flavoring, beat with a whip until too stiff, then with a large spoon until soft enough to settle into a sheet. Dust granite pans thickly with confectioner's sugar; pour in the candy about half inch deep and set in cool place until thoroughly chilled. Turn out, cut in cubes and roll in confectioner's sugar. This recipe will make over 100 marshmallows. Nuts, chocolate, fruit juices in place of part of the water, or candied fruit chopped may be added—or the plain ones rolled in grated cocoanut before being sugared. Dates stuffed with this confection are delicious.

PHILADELPHIA ICE-CREAM. (Vanilla.)

½ box, Sparkling Gelatine. ½ cup cold milk. 1 quart milk. 1 quart cream. 2 cups sugar. 2 tablespoonfuls vanilla extract. Soften the gelatine in the ½ cup cold milk five minutes and dissolve in the quart of milk, scalded; add the sugar and when cold strain into the cream; add the vanilla, and ½ cup. Part of the cream may be whipped and added to the ice-cream when partly frozen. Serve with maple sauce and chopped pecan nuts.

PERFECTION SALAD.

½ box Sparkling Gelatine. ½ cup cold water. ½ cup mild vinegar. One pint boiling water, two spoonful salt 1 cup finely shredded cabbage. Juice of one lemon. ½ cup sugar. 2 cups celery cut in small pieces. ¼ can sweet red peppers, finely cut. Soak the gelatine in cold water five minutes; add vinegar, lemon juice, boiling water, sugar and salt. Strain and when beginning to set add the remaining ingredients. Turn into a mold and chill. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing, or cut in dice and serve in cases made of red or green peppers, or the mixture may be shaped in moulds lined with pimientos. A delicious accompaniment to cold sliced chicken or veal.

Lemon Sponge or Snow Pudding.

½ box Sparkling Gelatine. 1 cup sugar. Whites of two eggs. ¾ pint cold water. ¾ pint boiling water. Rind and juice of two lemons. Soak the gelatine in the cold water five minutes. Dissolve in boiling water and add grated rind and juice of the lemons and sugar. Stir until dissolved. Strain and let stand in a cool place until nearly set. Then add the whites of the eggs, well beaten, and beat the mixture until it is light and spongy. Put lightly into glass dish or shape in mould. Serve with a thin custard made of the yolks of the eggs, or cream of sugar.

Chocolate Blanc Manger.

½ box Sparkling Gelatine. One quart sweet milk. ½ cup cold water. 1 cup sugar. 2 ounces grated chocolate. Soak the gelatine in the cold water five minutes. Boil the sweet milk with sugar and grated chocolate and a little salt five minutes. Then add dissolved gelatine, stirring constantly. Flavor with vanilla, and pour into mould. Serve with whipped cream.

COFFEE JELLY.

½ box Sparkling Gelatine. ½ cup cold water, three cups strong coffee, ¼ cup sugar (½ cup cherry wine if desired). Soak the gelatine in the cold water five minutes and dissolve in the hot coffee, add the sugar, stir until dissolved, strain over the wine, if used, and turn into a mould. Serve with whipped cream. In making the coffee use the white and crushed shell of an egg for clearing.

Extraordinary Offer for Christmas and Holiday Buyers

For example we will give:— 20 per cent Discount on Carpets and Furnishings 25 " " Mantles and Costumes 33 " " Hats and Shapes 15 " " Laces and Trimmings 10 " " Whitewear and Underwear

And so on for every department. But do not forget that a discount of not less than 10 per cent will be allowed on all goods bought for cash, except when said goods have already been reduced in a larger proportion.
