Pension Proposal Too Popular, Commons Talks It To Death

OTTAWA — (CP) — A Liberal proposal that the government raise pensions of its employees retired when salaries were low won so much verbal support in the Commons that the House didn't get around to acting on it. The proposal was contained in a resolution sponsored Monday by Rev. Dan Melvor, 85-year-old member for Fort William. Members of all parties spoke in favor of it at such length that there wasn't time to call a vote on the resolution. So now it is at the bottom of a long list of such private members' resolutions and is unlikely to be debated again this session.

In the end, as he discussed the resolution to the sitting's close,

Light On A Dark Subject

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — The city's new light meter, used to determine whether there is enough visibility in bars, is getting some unexpected results. Detective Charles J. Carreno reported Monday that when he and his partner took the meter into a bar three customers rushed out after one said to the others: "Let's go, they're bringing a drunkometer in here."

"And now, Doctor, that I've told you I'm going to marry Kathy, there's something I'd like to get off my chest. 'I understand, my boy. What is it?' 'A tattooed heart with the name Jane on it.'"

Workers Relax!

Psychologist Sides With Labor

VANCOUVER — (CP) — Workers of the world, relax!

Business — through industrial psychologists — is assembling information which in the main confirms the things labor has been trying to tell the boss for years.

The information may eventually bring about such working conditions about which labor leaders have been dreaming.

At least this is the view of Ed Barrett, social psychologist, expressed in a paper read to the British Columbia Academy of Science's annual conference at the University of B.C. here during the weekend.

Mr. Barrett was reporting on experiments carried out since the 1920s in the plants of several North American corporations. Mr. Barrett is a psychologist with Finance Minister Harris promised to consider worthy cases.

Mr. Melvor's resolution urged the government to consider introducing legislation to increase such pensions to bring them "more into line with those of the present."

FIVE FOR ONE

In earlier Commons business, the CCF failed on two tries to kill a bill authorizing a five-for-one split of 5,000,000 shares in Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Co. Colin Cameron (CCF — Nanaimo) described the bill as "a proposal to promote stock market gambling."

However, his motion to postpone second reading—approval in principle—and refer the bill's subject matter to a committee was defeated 132 to 17 as all other parties opposed it.

The Commons also gave final approval to a bill empowering the CPR to absorb 12 wholly-owned subsidiaries after rejecting Progressive Conservative and CCF attempts to delete from the legislation's scope two of the short rail lines in British Columbia—the Kaslo and Slocan Railway Company and the Nanaimo and Slocan Railway Company.

NO REVISION

There were these other Commons developments:

1. Senators joined Commons members to hear a morning address from Premier Guy Mollet of France.

2. Citizenship Minister Pickers-gill said there isn't "any foundation" to suggestions that the Indian Act needs to be revised.

3. Second reading was given unanimously to a bill removing limits on the income the Salvation Army can earn from its property holdings.

Ontario Stalls On Health Bill

OTTAWA — (CP) — The government has started parliamentary machinery rolling for approval of its hospital insurance proposal but Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario says his province will not sign unless federal conditions change.

Health Minister Martin Monday gave the customary Commons notice of a resolution to precede introduction of the insurance bill.

However, Premier Frost said in a telephone interview Monday night that Ontario will not sign the federal-provincial plan if it provides that six provinces must have their schemes in operation before any can collect federal aid.

And Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia, in a Vancouver interview, suggested the federal government "show it is really sincere by accepting B.C.'s offer of a partnership right now."

KEY PROVINCE

Ontario, with its huge population, is a key province in implementation of the federal offer to pay about one-half the cost of coverage for standard hospital care and diagnostic services providing at least six provinces representing more than one-half Canada's population sign up and start operations.

Premier Frost said Ontario had been proceeding on the assumption that once the needed six provinces signed, any participating province would start receiving federal contributions as soon as it put its own plan into operation.

He said any proposal to withhold federal aid until six provincial schemes were in actual operation was news to him and that Ontario would not sign such a plan.

The Ontario scheme varied somewhat from the original federal proposal for compulsory coverage.

Apart from Ontario, only British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Newfoundland so far have expressed willingness. Other provinces are expected to announce acceptance soon.

Church-Politics Tie Criticized By Priest

MONTREAL — (CP) — Rev. Gerard Dion, co-author of a pamphlet which last summer attacked campaign practices of Quebec political parties, says there is a great temptation among Catholics engaged in active politics to use the church for political purposes.

In a week-end address in French to the Newman Club of McGill University, Father Dion said some people in politics "do not hesitate to proclaim themselves Catholics when it serves their purpose."

"They invoke, when the need arises, certain social principles of our doctrine. In their outward attitudes they rarely miss an occasion to pay tribute to the role of the church and even to flatter ecclesiastical authorities. But this recourse to Christian principles is done to justify a line of conduct which has nothing in common with them and to which they are at times completely opposed."

"They act thus because they believe it is an effective way to attract support of naive and well-thinking souls and to exploit an institution which enjoys prestige and has considerable social force."

"With such Catholics, it is a lucky day when they do not attempt to cover themselves with the cloak of religion to protect themselves against legitimate attacks by their opponents. To disagree with them is to become practically suspect of heresy; to want to replace them by others, if they are in power, is to put in jeopardy the very foundations of Christianity."

Father Dion said the church does not play politics and is not tied to any regime. The church accepted all regimes as long as they respected the natural law, and that they did not interfere with the church or hamper its freedom to accomplish its supernatural mission.

New State Born Tonight

ACCRA, Gold Coast (Reuters) — The Union Jack will be lowered at midnight tonight throughout the territory known as the Gold Coast and the new independent state of Ghana will be born.

The British flag, flown here for more than 200 years, will be replaced by a red, green and gold flag as Ghana becomes an independent member of the Commonwealth.

At the head of the new country will be Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, at 47 the youngest Prime Minister in the Commonwealth. Seven years ago he was imprisoned by British authorities for sedition, after declaring "positive action" to achieve self-government.

Ghana is the first African colony of any European nation to achieve self-government. The only other independent Negro nation on this continent is Liberia.

Delegates of almost 60 countries are in Accra to celebrate the birth of the new state. Among the visitors is Vice-President Nixon, heading a large American delegation. Mines Minister Prudham is Canada's representative.

Nixon met with Nkrumah Monday and said the Premier told him "under no circumstances will we accept foreign domination from any quarter."

He said he gathered Ghana's government has made "no decision on relationship with the Iron Curtain countries."

The Russian delegation to the celebrations, however, urged Ghana to send a parliamentary party to visit the Soviet Union as soon as possible.

At a state banquet Monday night, attended by the Duchess of Kent as representative of the Queen, Nkrumah promised his country's continued association with the Commonwealth providing it maintains a policy of settling common problems by peaceful and democratic means.

The Pennsylvania-educated premier also stressed his country's close links with the Americas.

Students March On Parliament

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion today appeared to be weathering a political revolt against his personal decision to order Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba coastal area.

Political informants said rebellious parties in the government coalition now were expected to line up with the 70-year-old Premier on a vote of confidence following his explanation today to the Knesset (parliament) of his withdrawal order.

An Israeli Army spokesman in Tel Aviv said actual withdrawal of troops from the Gaza area had not yet started, but that it was expected to begin Wednesday.

A spokesman for the Israeli military governor in Gaza said quiet prevailed among the strip's Arab population and that security

Mollet Ends 6-Day Visit

MONTREAL — (CP) — French Premier Guy Mollet flew home Monday night after a six-day visit to North America during which he outlined his government's views on external and internal problems to President Eisenhower and Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Mr. Mollet boarded a special plane for Paris after a busy day in which he addressed a joint session of the Canadian Senate and Commons in Ottawa, had lunch with Governor-General Massey, attended a civic reception here, and gave two press conferences.

Speaking to the joint session of Parliament he warned that Russia would exploit any split in the united front of Western nations in their Middle-East policy.

Mr. Mollet accused Egypt of using "blackmail" over the clearance of the Suez Canal after sabotaging it without military justification.

17 Killed In RAF Crash

DRAYTON, Eng. — (AP) — A giant four-engine RAF transport plane today crashed into two farm houses only a few minutes from its base. The air ministry said 15 airmen aboard and two occupants of the dwellings were killed.

The plane, with 20 men aboard, was a Blackburn Beverley, the RAF's standard transport craft. It had begun a flight to Malta from nearby Abingdon air base shortly before the crash but turned back when engine trouble developed.

Three other airmen were injured after being thrown clear.

Six police dogs aboard the big craft also perished.

Two Paper Unions Act On Merger

CHICAGO — (AP) — Delegates of two labor unions in the paper industry met Monday to act on a merger agreement.

Meeting in separate conventions were representatives of the United Paperworkers of America, a former CIO affiliate, and the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, an AFL unit before the AFL and CIO joined forces.

If the delegates approve the merger, they will hold a joint convention Wednesday.

A merger agreement already has been approved by executive boards of both unions. It provides that the new organization will be known as the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union and will represent about 130,000 workers in the United States and Canada.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The old age of four pet hens has been provided for in the $12,000 will of a spinster, who set up a $200 chicken feed trust fund to save them from the stew pan.

Cheating 'Normal' In U.S. Colleges

CHICAGO — (AP) — A survey of American college students indicated today that "systematic cheating on examinations is the custom rather than the exception" at many large colleges.

The 12th National Conference on Higher Education was told that in contrast to "generally low standards in regard to academic honesty" college students' standards of sexual morality were conventional.

Newly-Developed Methods Prevent Fatal Bleeding

MONTREAL — (CP) — Doctors attending the first scientific meeting of the College of General Practice of Canada were told Monday of newly developed methods for checking what formerly was often fatal bleeding.

Dr. Paul Weil reported on methods used at Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, in preserving substances in the blood bank. The substances can be separated from whole blood and given by transfusion to patients whose blood does not clot.

Dr. Weil said certain kinds of hemorrhage—particularly bleeding in children—now can be controlled.

Through the development of other substances bleeding in children can be successfully treated.

Dr. John Beck, speaking on the same panel of four doctors from Royal Victoria Hospital told of two new agents which have been useful in treatment of narcotic poisoning and of intoxication from barbiturates.

Dr. C. J. Malloy reported that

Sweetening That Throbbing Head

GENEVA, N.Y. — (AP) — The New York State agriculture experimental station says that a tablespoon or two of honey will make a drunken person sober.

The same treatment may be helpful in routing a hangover, the station reports.

The agriculture unit said in its current news bulletin that the sugars in the honey would cause a chemical breakdown of the alcohol in the system.

While intense diplomatic activity continues on the Middle East crisis, this attractive, shorts-clad young woman member of the Israeli army keeps vigil at a field telephone near the disputed entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

ity measures had been tightened against possible anti-Israeli demonstrations.

The pull-out from Gaza was expected to be accomplished by stages as the Israelis progressively transferred administration of the strip to UN units.

The militant right-wing Herut (Freedom) party called for a demonstration in Jerusalem, coinciding with the Premier's speech, to protest what it called the government's "disastrous surrender."

Several hundred persons, mostly students, marched on the Knesset Monday, shouting "stop the withdrawal" and calling on Ben-Gurion to resign. Police threw up a cordon and wielded clubs to scatter the demonstrators.

Within five hours after Ben-Gurion gave the green light, his chief of staff, Maj.-Gen. Moshe Riviera, met with the commander of the UN Emergency Force, Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, outside Tel Aviv.

Isolated Israeli-Arab incidents were reported, meanwhile, along the Jordan and Syrian borders and in the Negev Desert.

Council Proposes Reduction In Market Architect's Fees

The "Comedy of Errors" written around the construction of the new Lansdowne market was revived for a single night stand at the City Hall last evening, when the aldermen discussed the payment of the balance of the fees claimed by the architect, Albert Poulin.

The play opened when a motion was presented that the bill of $6,289.57 be paid in full despite charges that an error on the part of an architect's employee cost an unnecessary addition of $2,500 to the cost of the structure.

The second act, involving many scenes, was taken up with a series of amendments and sub-amendments to the original motion and the play concluded with the adoption of a sub-amendment that a committee composed of Ald. Carrier Fortin, chairman of the general administration committee, City Treasurer Pierre Bachand and Director of Services Charles Langlois meet Mr. Poulin and attempt to negotiate a settlement.

The original motion, proposed by Ald. Fortin, seconded by Ald. Cadorette, that Mr. Langlois meet Mr. Poulin and see what he would accept was subject to an amendment advanced by Ald. Nicol, supported by Ald. Pinard, that Mr. Langlois meet the architect and offer him a settlement not exceeding $3,700.

The sub-amendment, calling for a negotiated settlement, was finally approved on a 6-4 vote, with Aldermen Pinard, Jeanson, Gauthier and Berard voting against.

EARLIER MOVES

Earlier in the discussion, a motion, an amendment and a sub-amendment were defeated when put to vote.

The motion, proposed by Ald. Fortin, seconded by Ald. Cadorette, proposed full settlement. The amendment, proposed by Ald. Nicol, that a settlement of $3,700 be given. The sub-amendment, proposed by Ald. Fortin and seconded by Ald. Felix Thibault, that a final settlement of $5,000 be given.

According to what was reported.

ed in the Council last week, the mistake that cost the City $2,500 was caused by an employee of Mr. Poulin. It is the practice that when the contractor discovers an error in the plans he refers it to the architect for correction.

In the case of the market, the mistake was reported to an employee during Mr. Poulin's absence, who ordered that the work continue as shown in the plans. The contractor, Adelard Jacques, complied with the demand.

It is expected that a report on the matter will be presented to the Council next week.

Plan Further Restriction On Gas Station Erection

A regulation to restrict future gasoline service stations to certain streets will be prepared by Director of Services Charles Langlois and City Attorney Albert Rivard the aldermen decided at their regular session last night.

The resolution was passed following a debate that ensued when two new applications to construct service stations in commercial zones appeared on the agenda.

Last week, the aldermen discussed three requests for service station building permits and deplored what Mayor Nadeau termed an "assault on the City of Sherbrooke."

Specifically, the latest applications request permission to build one station on the southwest corner of Jacques Cartier Blvd. and King St. West and the other at the intersection of 9th Ave. and Council St.

Ald. Everett Nicol, pro-mayor, introduced the question when he asked if the Council could prevent the further construction of stations in the City.

Mr. Rivard said it was not within the City's power to take any steps in this direction. He said that a Supreme Court ruling forbade such procedures.

He continued that if any prohibitive methods were to be implemented it would mean changing the City Charter.

Ald. Carrier Fortin suggested that specific arteries be outlined on which service station construction would be allowed.

Ald. Carl Camirand asked whether the City had the right to refuse permits without having the applications submitted to the Council.

Mr. Rivard answered that would-be operators were permitted to build stations provided they were within the lawful zone.

Golf Instruction Courses Planned At Local YWCA

Golf lessons for both duffers and those who need a tune up in view of this summer's coming activities are to commence on Friday at the local branch of the Y. W. C. A.

Again this year the "Y" was fortunate in obtaining the services of Harry Fowls, former pro at the Sherbrooke Country Club, and judging from the success of the course last year, it is expected that the enrolment will be rather heavy. Prospective members are asked to enrol as early as possible at the Y. W. C. A. on Montreal St.

The course is to be open to all ages men, women and children. Starting on Friday at 7:30 p.m. the course will run for six weeks.

Education Week Is Proclaimed At Lennoxville

Following a regular meeting of the Lennoxville Town Council last night, Mayor E. W. Gilbey issued the following proclamation in regard to Canadian Education Week:

"Education Week, March 3—March 9, 1957.

"In view of the importance of education in the growth and development of Canada, I believe that education should be everybody's business. In this age of automation and atomic development, it becomes imperative that everyone receive as much education as possible. In order to achieve this goal, our citizens should acquaint themselves with the growing needs of our educators and assist in every way possible.

"Your committee in charge of Education Week have arranged an excellent program designed to convey to every person the importance of education. This program will embrace radio and television broadcasts, newspaper articles and demonstrations in all schools.

"I urge all citizens to avail themselves of the opportunity of learning of the problems presently confronting those responsible for education throughout our area and how they are meeting the challenge."

The first of two television programs will go on the air this afternoon at 4:30 p.m.

The Home and School meeting at the East Ward school will be held Friday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 and not at 8:00 p.m. as previously announced.

AYER'S CLIFF

Word was received here on Friday of the death of Mrs. Myrtle Dustin, who was a resident of this place and district practically all her life.

Mrs. Dustin, wife of the late Homer Dustin, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Somerville, in Beebe after a lengthy illness. Funeral service was held in Beulah United Church on Saturday, Rev. Mr. Stanton of Beebe officiating, and burial took place in the local cemetery.

Another suggestion laid before the Council last night by Mayor Ernest Gilbey recommended a plan for the planting of trees in and around Lennoxville, with particular attention to the newer

Former Teacher At Convent Dies At Montreal

Funeral services were held recently in the Mother House of the Notre Dame Congregation, Montreal, for Rev. Sister St. John Mary, the former Susanne Phelan of Richmond. She was 78 years old.

A daughter of the late John Phelan and Ellen McGillivray of Richmond, Sister St. John Mary joined the Order of the Sisters of the Congregation in 1906 and on May 12 last she celebrated her golden jubilee as a nun.

During her more than half a century with the order, Sister St. John Mary taught in a number of schools in Montreal, Sherbrooke and eastern United States. Among them Mount Notre Dame Convent in Sherbrooke.

Lennoxville To Shelve Reservoir Construction

The proposal to construct a new reservoir to improve the municipal water supply was shelved by the Lennoxville Town Council last evening, when it was found that the latest estimate of the cost was approximately $30,000 higher than the original proposal called for.

Despite repeated appeals by the Town Council, the Provincial Government has indicated that it can contribute only 17 per cent of the original cost estimate. In the light of this decision, the aldermen decided that the project was beyond the financial ability of the town to carry out at the present time. So action was deferred for one year at least.

In view of the need of the waterworks for increased water storage space and for additional pumping power, the possibility of preparing an alternative program will be studied.

Marked Success Attends Red Cross Blitz Drive

Reports of collections in two of the City's five wards indicate that last night's "Blitz" campaign by the Sherbrooke Red Cross Society was successful.

About $600 was collected in the two wards during the campaign, which was part of the financial drive that ends March 9. Officials report that contributions in other sections will be returned later in the week and indications are that the campaign will be better than last year.

Lt. Col. Gaetan Cote, president of the local branch, in his latest report on the drive, noted that 30 per cent of the $10,000 objective had been reached. He expressed the hope that the people of Sherbrooke and district would continue to support the Red Cross by contributions.

Co-chairmen John Dunn and Ivan Saunders and co-chairmen of the ladies' committee, Mrs. Marcel Savard and Mrs. J. A. York, request the canvassers to report their returns to the campaign headquarters as soon as possible.

Inquest In Wotton Case Withdrawn

Mrs. Jean-Louis Charland, a 34-year-old Wotton housewife held as an important witness in the strangulation death of her six-month-old son recently has been judged mentally unsound by Montreal medical authorities, it was reported by Provincial Police this morning.

A coroner's inquest into the death was scheduled for today but was cancelled following the psychiatric reports on a series of mental tests carried out on Mrs. Charland.

The strangled youngster's body was found in a crib at the Charland home between St. Camille and Wotton by the father-in-law, Arthur Charland, who said he received an incoherent telephone call from the woman and immediately rushed to the house.

Dr. Fernand Lapointe pronounced the baby dead. A local priest went to Asbestos to break the news to the father, Jean Louis Charland, who was working there.

Inflation In Defence

The cost of defence continues to stagger the minds of mere taxpayers. Approximately half the Canadian budget expenditure goes for defence and in the United States the amount spent on defence is a staggering 43 billion dollars or 60 per cent of the budget.

The sums are so astronomical that they cease to mean much to the average citizen. Costs continue to soar but, surprisingly, after the Second World War most experts considered that push-button type of warfare expected in the future would be cheaper. Ten years ago, the atom bomb was relatively small by modern standards, the hydrogen bomb was not yet perfected and most guided missiles were still at the drawing-board stage.

But it seems that the more complicated warfare becomes, the more expensive it is. While figures are hard to extract from Canadian Defence Minister Ralph Campney, some examples from the United States will illustrate the point.

All piston-engined offensive military aircraft, including the big B-36 bombers, will be replaced in the United States. A Second World War fighter plane cost $150,000 to $200,000. Today's medium-range jets cost from $481,000 (for a Navy FJ4 Fury) to $2,700,000 (for a B-66).

The electronics system of a B-52 jet bomber costs more than a B-29 bomber of the type that dropped the first atomic bomb on Japan.

Guided missiles, which didn't figure in the last war, cost from $100,000 to $210,000 each, and they are only good for hitting one target.

A Second World War vintage submarine cost from 17 to 18 million dollars. The atomic submarines now in use cost 32 million dollars without the reactors.

An M-1 American Army rifle cost only $41 in the last war. The same rifle today costs $95.

And so it goes, right down the line. There seems to be little relief in sight as long as international tension remains high and the free world is forced to keep its guard up to stop would-be aggressors.

The only bright spot on the horizon is that if defence costs continue to rise, war may eventually price itself out of existence.

Danger On The Roads

This time of year, when the days are lengthening and the sun is becoming warmer, is one of the most dangerous periods for driving. The Canadian Highway Safety Conference has issued a new warning in which it says that "the driver who boasts that he knows all there is to know about winter and spring driving is the driver most likely to end up on a cold slab."

One of the pointers the CHSC gives to late winter drivers concerns hidden glare ice. Late winter sun plays tricks on bare highways running with melting snow. One side may be dried by the sun, but the other side, perhaps in the shade of rising ground, glistens with a neat death trap — glare ice.

Over-confidence is one of the winter driver's worst enemies. Thousands of accidents every year result from drivers taking a chance. March driving hazards — snow, sleet, fog, rain and even bright sunlight — make it even more important for the motorist to be cautious.

Eastern Townships roads will soon see the first flow of spring traffic, particularly on sunny week ends. It is every driver's job to keep himself and others on the roads and out of the accident headlines.

HOMES THAT BURN EASILY

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

From time to time we read of homes for old people and other institutions of that kind such as orphanages and people suffering from incurable ailments, being burned down and many inmates burned to death. There have been two within the past few days. Seventy old people lost their lives in a fire at Warrenton, Mo., and 13 people died in another fire at Council Bluffs, Iowa. The Warrenton building was erected 100 years ago, but was said to recently have been modernized. It was even called "fire-proof."

There is no such thing in the language of fire insurance companies as "fire-proof," only "fire-resistant." There is always a great demand for homes for old people, and the tendency is, in view of that demand, to crowd more people into them than there should be, having regard to safety in case of fire and the panic that invariably results. And as they are mostly indigents, the authorities are usually careful to avoid what they deem unnecessary spending in construction.

In the case of large institutions, the best type, if it can be afforded and the land is available, is the one-story, such as in the Dearness home on the outskirts of London, which has no stairs and plenty of doors. It is pitiful to think of old people, mostly feeble, being trapped on the second or third stories, and unable to help themselves.

THEY'RE ALL RIGHT

(Branford Expositor)

We don't like the term "teenagers" applied in a derogatory sense. What's wrong with being a teenager, or any other age for that matter?

As for sideburns and duck-tails, they are silly manifestations of adolescence, no doubt, but are they any more ridiculous than the billy-god beards or mutton-chop whiskers affected by our dignified and venerable forefathers of not many generations ago? It's all in the point of view.

From our observation, most present-day teenagers, even some who think they like the pelvic posturings of Mr. Presley, are as intelligent, capable and responsible as any who preceded them. On the average they may even be better.

LESS FRESH PRODUCE

(Farmer's Advocate)

Display space for fresh fruits and vegetables in the chain stores and super markets is constantly getting less and consumers are thus encouraged to buy packaged goods or frozen and canned products. Canadian producers and processors can, of course, get in step with this definite trend but it will add to the service costs which consumers must pay. Already there is a large assortment of imported goods in the chain store refrigerators and on their shelves and the danger is that in concentrated or packaged form a still larger percentage will come from California or Timbuctoo.

MOTORISTS NOTE!

(Ottawa Journal)

In a Montreal court Mr. Justice Quimet has given a judgment which should be of more than passing interest to many who own and drive motor vehicles.

A man sued an insurance company which had refused to pay for damages incurred in an accident. It turned out in evidence that the plaintiff had been driving in what Justice Quimet called "furious fashion" on a busy highway at speeds up to 85 miles per hour before the accident and had been fined $50 for dangerous driving.

His Lordship ruled that the insurance company could not be held "to interpret its contract in such a way that it would be illegal and contrary to good morals"—the accident, he added, "was undoubtedly the result of gross negligence and a criminal act which the plaintiff admitted".

Insurance, that is to say, does not protect the driver against damages to his car that are the result of his own gross negligence. It is something for drivers to keep in mind.

It does not follow, we are sure, that an insurance company will cite Montreal case as justification for refusing to pay claims arising from a momentary lapse of vigilance on the part of a driver—a lapse that may run his vehicle into a tree or the ditch. That may be negligence but it is far from being "gross negligence" as the phrase was used by Justice Quimet.

Nevertheless if a driver reports a succession of accidents that could have been avoided an insurance company is likely to study his record with some concern and may indeed cancel his policy. The accident-prone driver is not the sort who rejoices the heart of the insurance adjusters.

AROUND THE CORNER.

(New York Herald Tribune)

Those who watch the sports pages closely can detect the first signs of an amelioration of the world situation.

These hints of better days ahead come from the general direction of the South, where, fanned by the wind, are gathering for the annual American manifestation known as Spring training. Balls are being tossed around gently, bats are being swung tentatively, well-rested muscles are being called upon to perform their first experimental feats of strength.

Baseball, in other words, is in the air.

BREAD AND CALORIES

The Editor, Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Dear Sir:

I got some of your famed "food for thought" from that feature on your editorial page the other day, headlined "Non-Fattening Peanuts," in which your St. Thomas (Ont.) contemporary points out that: "At present a handful of 15 to 17 peanuts has 84 calories, but without oil the same sized handful has only 17 calories — exceptionally good news for waistline watchers..."

The above story reminded me not only of the fact that the global population of the human family is moving upward at the average rate of 70,000 every twenty-four hours; but, also, of the following thought-provoking facts which I ran across in my grassroots reading:

(1) — The Japanese people purchased 40 million bushels of wheat from Canada in the past crop year — which may be measured by the average off-the-farm reader against the fact that building the Canadian loaf in that same period called for 64 million bushels; and

(2) — While the population of the United States has just doubled since 1906, the curious fact remains that the domestic demand for wheat in the American loaf is, according to the experts, still 'at the post' — i.e., 515 million bushels both in 1906 and 1956!

They say that often 'fact is stranger than fiction,' and I suggest that this latter is a classical example from the market place? As one of my neighbors puts it: "Apparently the American of 1906 ate twice as much of the 'Staff of Life' as his 1956 sons and granddaughters do. There is a far greater variety of high-protein foods today — and in such circumstances, it is not so strange that it is the bread which is left on the table?"

I think that our wheat millers should ponder the calorie-content in the above 'non-fattening peanuts' technique?

CHANGING PLATES

(Windsor Star)

Most vexatious part of the annual process of getting new automobile plates often is not the standing in line at the licence bureau and then paying over the required amount. Rather it is trying to get the old plates off and the new ones on the car.

Usually, on most models, it isn't too difficult with the rear one provided the nut hasn't become sealed on the bolt. But, on some models at least, it is a pesky business with the front one. There isn't enough room between the fixture to which it is attached, and the car, to get one's hand in to hold the nut or the head of the bolt.

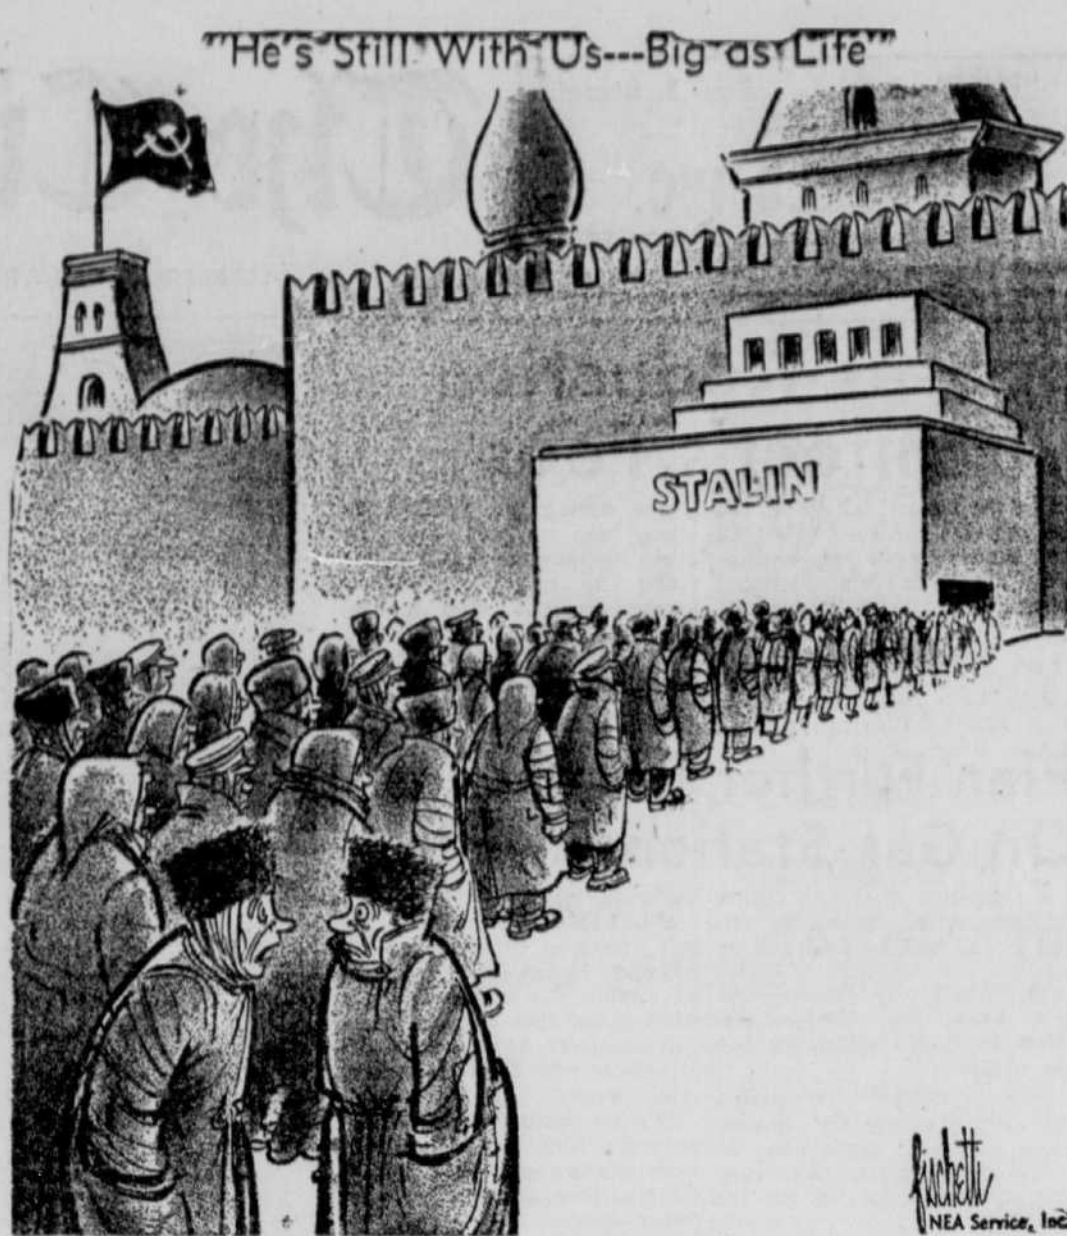

We watched a mechanic at this recently. He had all the tools of the trade. But the bolt kept turning with the nut, and he couldn't get a wrench in to hold the bolt tight. Finally he had to cut the bolt off with a hacksaw. Then it took him at least 15 minutes to get the nut on a new bolt. If a mechanic has this trouble, imagine the harrowing time a mere amateur would have had with the thing.

Amateurs, of course, never can understand why the manufacturers of vehicles and implements have to make the things so awkward to work on. The nuts and bolts always seem to be in the most inaccessible places. Even the oil holes, on simple machines such as some lawnmowers, are in awkward spots. We fancy if those who design vehicles and implements had to repair them, they would give more thought to convenience of repair work.

Negro Nation In Commonwealth

New Chapter In African History

By SEAGHAN MAYNES

LONDON (Reuters)

A new chapter in African history opens March 6 when nearly 5,000,000 Negroes in Britain's West African colony of the Gold Coast become citizens of an independent African nation, renamed Ghana, within the Commonwealth.

The emergence from colonial to sovereign status of this rich territory, which is the world's largest cocoa producer, is seen by its leaders in the continent's colonies who are looking to the day of their own home rule.

Ghana's transition was accomplished in partnership with the British government and there was little of the violence which has marked the nationalist aspirations of Negroes in other parts of Africa.

Bygone Days THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Saturday, March 5, 1927.

Great Britain and China have signed an agreement for the settlement of the anti-British boycott and strike which has affected a number of coastal towns.

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the patrons of the Knowlton Creamery were: M. E. Tibbitts, K. Erskine, S. C. Molson, F. A. Frizell, Arthur Lefebvre, H. O. Sanborn, A. G. Davis and Arthur Renaud.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Friday, March 5, 1937.

The British Government has announced the expenditure of $412,500,000 on anti-aircraft defenses for 1937.

The German ambassador to Hungary has quit that country following the foiling of a putsch organized by pro-Nazis and supported by German funds.

The United States government has made formal apologies to Germany over uncompensated remarks uttered about Adolf Hitler by Mayor LaGuardia of New York City.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Wednesday, March 5, 1947.

Barbara Ann Scott, champion woman figure skater of the world, arrived in New York today aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth refreshed after a 6-day voyage and eager to get back to "good old Ottawa."

The tanker Lyons Creek, a 30 square foot hole ripped in her hull by a terrific explosion caused by gasoline fumes, lay listing at her dock today as fire equipment stood by guarding against the danger of a spark setting fire to 200 to 300 barrels of fuel coating the water.

INDIANS VS. SWEDES

(Windsor Star)

It's really very easy to understand why there are so many differences of opinion. So many people look at so many things from so many different viewpoints.

A dramatic example occurs as a result of the proposal of the Swedish Wenner-Gren interests to develop a huge area in the northern British Columbia hinterland. An ex-chief of the Chippewa tribe can't understand it. "They take away the land from the Indians and give it to the Swedes," he observes. Which, from his viewpoint, doubtless does seem unfair.

The Indians have roamed this vastness for centuries. But, it must be admitted, they haven't done much to develop it. So somebody else has to do it.

NEWSPAPERS ARE BETTER

(Editor and Publisher, New York)

There is little in the nature of retail television that quite measures up to newspaper advertising in displaying a panoramic personality of a store. That was the consensus this week of retailers queried during the 46th annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association in New York.

East's three heart jump overcall was intended to make it difficult for his vulnerable opponents to find their best contract. Such bids are effective on occasion although this time North and South had no trouble in getting to the normal spade game.

West opened his singleton heart and South won East's nine with the ace. Dummy's ace of clubs won the second trick and the five of diamonds was led. East played the eight and declarer's king fell to West's ace.

Now West led a trump. Declarer won in dummy, ruffed a low club and led the deuce of diamonds. West played the three and East's ten spot took that trick. East laid down the king of hearts and now West came up with a brilliant play to set the contract at this point. Had West failed to trump East would have been forced to lead another red card whereupon declarer would have made the rest of the tricks by a simple cross ruff.

As it was he had only two trumps left in each hand, and while he was able to make them separately, he had to lose the last trick and go down one. It will be noted that a trump opening followed by perfect defense would have set the hand two tricks. It will also be noted that it would have taken a seventh son of a seventh son to have the vision to open a trump and not the singleton of a suit bid so enthusiastically by a partner.

There are no natural deep-water harbors along the 300-mile coast. A four-year, nine-million-dollar harbor improvement project at Takoradi was completed in 1953. Work is under way on a 30-million-dollar port project at Tema, near the capital, Accra.

A 400-million-dollar, 20-year plan for a major aluminum industry is under way. Ghana has one of the world's richest deposits of bauxite (aluminum ore), estimated at 225 million tons. Aluminum refining requires vast amounts of electric power, so the 900-mile Volta River will be dammed and a huge hydro-electric power station built.

Three years later Nkrumah's people's party increased its representation in the 1954 general election and a new constitution was adopted making the Gold Coast virtually self-governing.

Storm clouds gathered in the country's Northern Territories protectorate and in Ashanti, where the official opposition eyed with alarm the growing power of the Nkrumah forces in the central parliament and feared that the area's minority rights would be disregarded.

When it appeared that the internal dissension would disrupt the whole program, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd hurried to the Gold Coast and succeeded in easing the tension in a series of talks with the government and opposition leaders.

From them emerged a new constitution aimed at safeguarding minority interests by giving considerable powers to the regions and entrenching them against interference by the central government.

CHANGE TO GO WRONG (Peterborough Examiner)
The choice of a career today is not one for casual consideration; with all the careers available the chances of making a wrong choice are immeasurably increased. Today, one can even make a career out of helping people to choose careers.

Diesel Probe Expected To Last Weeks

OTTAWA—The royal commission on the CPR diesel issue appears to be in for a session of many weeks and many miles. While opening sittings Monday were inconclusive on these points, indications are the commission will make what amounts to a transcontinental tour in addition to long hearings in Ottawa.

The commission—set up by the federal government after a government-sponsored temporary settlement of the nine-day CPR tieup in January—has set about trying to find a common basis of agreement between the railway and 3,000 firemen.

At Monday's opening sitting, CPR counsel Ian D. Sinclair of Montreal accused the union of "featherbedding" in trying to keep firemen in the cabs of yard and road freight diesels.

Union counsel David Lewis of Toronto called this charge "grossly unfair" and said the brotherhood's main concern is the safety and efficiency of train operation.

Border Shooting

DAMASCUS.—(P)—A Syrian army spokesman charged Monday that an Israeli patrol opened fire on Syrian advance posts last Saturday night for 15 minutes. He said the Syrians did not return the fire.

Danville Lodge Presents Past President's Jewel

DANVILLE.—Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge No. 3 held its regular meeting recently, with Sister Evelyn Leet, Noble Grand, in the chair. Thirty-seven members and two visitors were present.

After the usual order of business had been completed the Noble Grand requested that Sister Edith Boyd, Past President of the Rebekah Assembly, retire. She then re-entered the lodge room and was presented to the Noble Grand by Sister Anna Beliveau, P. D. D. P., who signed Sister Boyd's application form 19 years ago. As they entered Sisters Margaret Lockwood, P.N.G., and Sister Isabella Smith, P.N.G., sang "I Love You Truly" in their usual pleasing manner.

Sister Beliveau then presented Sister Boyd with a corsage and gave a resume of her work in Rebekah Oddfellowship. Sister Boyd was initiated into fraternity in 1938, held several offices in the lodge, Noble Grand in 1941 and District Deputy President in 1948. She was elected Warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec in 1951-52 and representative to the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies in Texas in 1952 and at Chicago in 1955.

Sister Ethel Burns, P.N.G., with a few suitable words, presented Sister Boyd with her past President's jewel from the members of Maple Leaf. Sister Boyd replied, thanking the members for the jewel and "for the privilege of wearing the insignia of an honor which came to Maple Leaf as well as to me when I was elected President of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec."

Sunday Tely No Violation — Bassett

TORONTO.—The Toronto Telegram announced Monday it will start publishing a Sunday morning edition March 17.

In a front-page statement John Bassett Jr., Telegram chairman and publisher, said he wished to dispel any idea that in doing so The Telegram would be breaking the federal Lord's Day Act.

He said that the act permits Sunday work of "necessity or mercy" and added:

"I hold the opinion most strongly that the publication of a Sunday morning newspaper by Canadians for Canadians is a 'work of necessity.' I have checked this opinion with responsible lawyers who agree."

Monday night the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada said in a statement:

"Despite the Telegram's assurance of the lawfulness of this new business venture, many equally well informed Canadians will be unconvinced. If the Telegram should persist in the course it has announced it will undoubtedly become necessary for someone to seek an authoritative opinion from the courts..."

Mr. Bassett said it is inconceivable that the federal government would break its own law. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, wholly owned by the government, broadcasts and televises news and other programs throughout Sunday, he said, and so do privately-owned stations. He pointed out that Monday morning papers are published on Sunday.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HERMAN GATES, OF GOULD VILLAGE.

GOULD — One of Gould's oldest residents, Willy Gates, passed away at his home on February 16th, 1957, where he had been tenderly cared for by his wife Annie, and son Ellery. He had been in failing health for the last two years but his cheerful ways never left him and he took an active interest in what went on around him. He will be sadly missed by his family and many friends.

The deceased was born in Cookshire on September, 28th, 1876, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gates. He lived there for many years. While still a young man, he lumbered across the line in the United States. On returning to Canada he took up employment with the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, with which he served in a supervisory capacity until his retirement in 1947.

Mr. Gates is survived by his wife, the former Annie Miller, of Island Brook, whom he married on September 1st, 1911, and four children, Ellery William of Gould, Pearl, Mrs. Melburn Turner and husband, Rockport, Ont., Mary, Mrs. James MacArthur, and husband, Montreal, and Charles Russell and wife, Renee, Winnipeg, Man. He also leaves 10 grandchildren.

Mr. Gates was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Cookshire and on Sunday night February 17th, Masonic prayers were held at the home of the deceased in Gould. Masons from Sawyerville, Cookshire, East Angus, Bury, Scottstown and Gould attended.

The many beautiful flowers were silent tokens of the love and deep regard in which he was held by those who knew him.

The funeral service was held in St. Peter's Anglican church at Gould village on Monday, February 18th, Rev. W. E. Walker officiating. The choir led in the singing of the hymns, "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er" and "God be With You Till We Meet Again," with Miss Florence Duffy as organist.

The pall bearers were Dave Hillis, Leslie MacLeod, Alex MacKay and Victor Bernard. Interment was in the family lot in the Cookshire cemetery.

Among the out of town relatives and friends present were, his daughter, Mary, Mrs. James MacArthur, Montreal, and his daughter, Carol Ann; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Russell Gates, Winnipeg; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Emma Watt, Montreal and Mrs. George Loveland and her husband, Sawyerville; Mrs. James Miller and Clarence Miller, Bury; W. Leggett, Sawyerville; Leslie MacLeod, Ted Earley and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bernard, East Angus; Mr. and Mrs. J. Binette, Disraeli; Jack Boulter, Mr. and Mrs. John French, Mrs. Eliza Cloutier, Mrs. George Plaisance, L. G. MacKay, of Cookshire; Mrs. John Sample, Lennoxville; Mrs. Gordon Clark, Bishopton; Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Dougherty, Bury; Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie, Mrs. Willis MacAskill, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Elger, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morrison, Scottstown; Mr. and Mrs. George McEae, of Cuba, and many others who called to pay their respects.

The ice storm which blew in from the east has caused serious losses to telephone and power companies and endless confusion to everybody. Kerosene lamps and hand pumps became the order of the day. In some sections the moccasin telegraph was the only means of communication, with telephone lines down and roads too icy for cars and trucks.

Lightweight Fabrics Are For Daytime

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The beautifully tailored daytime dress takes to lightweight, supple fabrics this spring.

This carries out the increasing trend to lightweight fabrics for spring clothes of every kind: dresses, suits, capes, coats and separates. Our changing climate, our excellent heating in both homes and offices and our own liking for fabrics that contribute warmth without weight account for this change from the heavy fabrics of seasons back. Travel, too, is a factor in the demand for fashions that can survive more than one season's wear in a year and more than one climate in the same space of time.

We show here two spring fash.

Mardi-Gras Tea Held By C. W. L. At St. Patrick's

The annual "Mardi Gras" tea sponsored by the Catholic Women's League for the benefit of St. Patrick's Parish, drew the usual large crowd to the church hall, Saturday afternoon, for the pre-Lenten gathering.

The guests were received and looked after by the hostesses, who were assisted in serving by Legion of Mary members of Mont Notre Dame, Misses Patricia Hoye, Louisa Balawder, Jean and Dianne Wielgus, Carol Whalen, Pauline Rondeau and Doris Hamel.

Red tulips arranged in a green glass bowl with green tapers in matching candlesticks, centered the lace-covered tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. J. H. Blue, Mrs. J. T. Hawkins, Mrs. Gerald Daniels and Mrs. David Steele.

Mrs. Octavien Leveque, convener of C. W. L. teas, organized the event with her committee, comprising Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mrs. Stanley Sharpe and Mrs. L. P. Leveque, who were assisted by Mrs. Robert Dunsmore, Miss Anna Plamondon, treasurer, acted as cashier.

Miss Ave Walsh, president of the subdivision, announced the prize winners in the recent marathon, as follows: Mrs. J. Bouffard, and Mrs. Paul Rousseau, first bridge prizes; Mrs. C. W. Clark and Mrs. L. P. Leveque, second; Mrs. F. E. S. Shelley and Mrs. Armand Fontaine, consolation prizes; the winner in Five Hundred, was Mrs. Armand LeMay.

The young ladies of Mont Notre Dame, who were responsible for the Book Exhibit in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library, were, Miss Beverley Whalen, Miss Joan Bryson, Miss Kathleen Mills and Miss Patricia Hafford. Their original posters highlighted the exhibit and attracted attention to the latest books, magazines and pamphlets in the display.

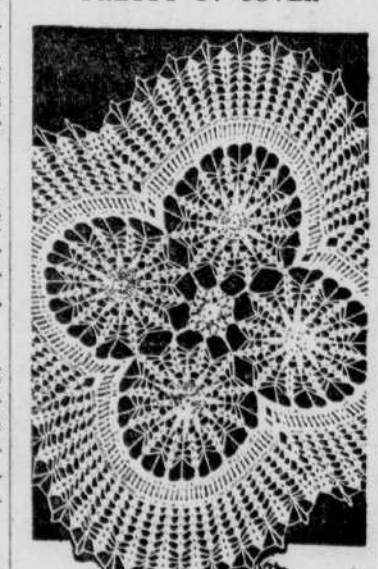

Homemaking

If you use an automatic oven timer in cooking, do not set food in the oven more than two hours before the heat turns on. Food left in the oven longer than two hours should be thoroughly chilled four to six hours before-hand.

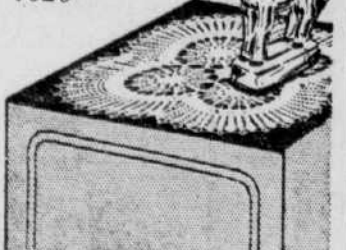

It's a wise housewife who stocks up on frozen foods. They are almost ready to serve, saving time and energy. They are similar to fresh foods in flavor, texture, nutritive value and color. They are also readily available and reasonably priced.

The use of fuel is less if the entire meal is cooked in the oven. This way you don't have several burners going at once. The whole meal cooks with the same heat.

Take Care To Lighten Hospital Patient's Woes

When you go to visit a patient in a hospital you probably feel you've done your good turn for the day.

But your visit may do more harm than good unless you abide by a few common-sense rules, says a doctor. Here are his suggestions:

Wait until the patient is on the road to recovery before visiting him at all, unless you are a member of the family. Sit quietly and talk in a low tone of voice, so as not to tire the patient. Don't feel you have to entertain him. Keep your conversation cheerful. Don't bring him news of death or sickness. Don't worry him with any problem he can't do anything about.

Don't smoke unless the patient is smoking—even though you ask permission first.

HOSPITAL ROOM, NOT A COCKTAIL LOUNGE
If the patient already has a visitor or two, stay five or ten minutes and then leave. A hospital room isn't a place for a social gathering.

Don't unload your own troubles or problems on a patient who is sure to feel that he has all the problems he can handle.

Never ignore a "No Visitor" sign. Make both your visit and your goodbye brief. If you aren't feeling well yourself, write the patient a note instead of paying him a visit, else you run the risk of adding to his medical problems.

Only if you obey these practical rules can you feel you've done a sick person a favor by visiting him. Ignore them and as likely as not you would have done him more good by staying away.

Women's Groups

WOMEN'S FEDERATION

LENN, UNITED CHURCH

Group IV of the Women's Federation of Lennoxville United Church held its regular meeting in the ladies' parlor, Douglas Hall, Queen St.

Mrs. E. Francis, president, opened the meeting, and Mrs. W. McMann led in worship.

Mrs. H. S. Beane in charge of the biography study this month presented a vivid picture of General Dwight Eisenhower as seen through the eyes of his driver, Kay Somersby, in the Second World War. She was thanked by Mrs. Francis.

At the last meeting Mrs. E. Smith reviewed, "Love So Long as We Live" by Peter Golding, concerning the life of a young minister in his first rural church and through the years. Miss Margaret Fairful, matron of the Girls' Home at Bonnyside, Alta., was named prayer partner for 1957.

Members accepted an invitation to the "At Home" at Grace Chapel.

Mrs. R. S. Lipsey asked for donations of quilt blocks and baby blankets for the W. M. S. allocation and it was noted that all money raised over the mission allocation would be used to help special objects such as building drives in Korea and Hong Kong.

Following prayer and the Mizpah benediction, Mrs. E. Seale and Mrs. E. Francis served refreshments.

Old Fashions

MEVAGISSEY, England — Layers of wallpaper seven inches thick were stripped off a cottage wall in this Cornish fishing village. In a cavity behind the wall were found early Victorian women's hats and elastic-sided shoes.

Adaptability Important Says Lady Diplomat

By CAROLYN WILLETT

OTTAWA — Margaret Meagher says adaptability is the secret of enjoying the oft-moving life offered by the external affairs department.

Recently appointed Canadian charge d'affaires in Israel, the Halifax-born diplomat returned to Ottawa early this year after 3½ years with the Canadian High Commissioner's office in London.

Early in April the former councillor of the London office is off to Tel Aviv, as the second Canadian woman to take charge of a foreign mission. She will serve as the resident Canadian representative in Israel, since Canada's ambassador to Israel is also ambassador to Turkey and Greece—and lives in Athens.

LOVES TRAVELLING

"A travelling life is not every body's cup of tea," she said, talking to this reporter in her office here with its justifiable lack of accumulated papers and books. "Adaptability is important," says the 46-year-old former school teacher, who admits she adapts easily and loves travelling.

"You need curiosity and interest to be happy in countries some times completely different from home."

Miss Meagher joined external affairs 14 years ago as a temporary employee in an all-male department, and was allowed to qualify as a permanent officer in 1947.

Tall, brown-haired and hazel-eyed, Miss Meagher says her name is Irish and pronounced "Mar."

Mispronunciation of her name is something she takes in stride, like the weeks of "homework" in preparation for her first trip to the Middle East.

CHALLENGING POST
"I think it will be an interesting and challenging post," she said.

Miss Meagher says she won't face the same task in Tel Aviv as Canada's first woman charge d'affaires did when she was posted to Beirut, Lebanon. There, Elizabeth MacCallum had both to establish and head the Beirut mission.

A Dalhousie University graduate with a master of arts degree in political science, Miss Meagher began her external affairs career with special assignments to Washington.

School Principal Claims Television Hinders Sports

WINNIPEG — Television is keeping children from taking part in athletics, says Miss Agnes MacDonald, principal of the Gladstone school.

Talking on "parental responsibilities" to a home and school panel she said some schools have a problem in trying to keep students after school to participate in practices.

"We can't get them out," she said. "They are afraid they will miss something on television."

Television also is affecting the reading habits of parents, she suggested. Parents were not reading to their children as they did in the past.

"We find children in kindergarten who have never heard of Jack and the Beanstalk," she said.

T. Farenhurst, principal of Wellington school and chairman of the panel, lamented the fact that skating rinks today aren't crowded the way they used to be. He attributed this to television, which he said limits a child's free time.

H. W. Moore, Winnipeg youth organizer, said however that television is just like radio. People will become adjusted to the medium, and reading will return in due time, he said.

The yellow-jacketed Swedes, troubled by sickness in their ranks, defeated Finland 9-3.

The Soviet Union rolled up a 12-0 victory over East Germany.

In Monday's other scheduled match, Czechoslovakia swamped Japan by 25-1.

Monday's play was next-to-the last round in this eight-team competition.

Training Camp Briefs

SARATOSA, Fla. — (AP) — Ted Williams, 38-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger, is hustling as never before in spring training.

Ted has been setting a terrific pace for the younger ball players and is amazing observers who know his distaste for the pre-season "grind."

After rain forced Ted to retire from a pepper game Monday he took long turns indoors at weightlifting and pushups.

TUCSON, Ariz. — (AP) — Hank Greenberg, Cleveland Indian's general manager, has finally heard from Chico Carrasquel, the holdout shortstop, after several unsuccessful telephone calls to Caracas, Venezuela.

Chicago wired Monday night from Caracas that he is awaiting a new contract.

Greenberg fired back a telegram ordering Carrasquel to the Indians' training camp here by March 8 to talk terms. No contract will be mailed, Greenberg said.

VERO BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Infielder Chico Fernandez, last of the Brooklyn Dodgers to report to camp, checked in Monday and revealed his sprained ankle is completely healed. Fernandez injured the ankle in the final game of winter ball in Cuba.

Silvera was acquired by the Cubs from the Yankees and could strengthen Chicago's woefully weak catching staff.

DODGERS TO GET INVITE TO MOVE TO LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A six-man delegation of city and county officials starts out for Florida today to invite Brooklyn Dodgers to move to Los Angeles.

The invitation is the city's formal response to the acquisition by the Dodgers two weeks ago of the Los Angeles Angels baseball club, a member of the Pacific Coast League. Dodgers now are at spring training camp in Florida.

Aces Hold 3-0 Lead In Best-Of-Seven While Meteors Have 4-2 Edge In Their Series; Winners Clash In Finals

Richmond Braves and Waterloo Maroons face elimination this evening when they tangle with Magog Aces and Asbestos Meteors respectively in the deciding games of both series. The tilts are slated for Asbestos and Richmond, weather permitting.

The Meteors lead their best-of-nine series 4-2 and if they post a victory this evening they will wrap up the battle. At Richmond the Aces have posted three straight wins and another over the Braves in tonight's duel could decide the issue.

The Braves have dropped their games all by close scores. In the first two by Magog they went down to 3-2 and 5-3 defeats while in their first performance on their home ice Sunday they came out on the short end of a 3-2 overtime verdict.

All games were closely fought and 6-5. In the other tilts the pennant winners ran up 12-6, 2-1, 8-5 and 7-2 verdicts.

The Maroons, who have played all their games in the series at the Civic Centre, will be gunning for another victory in order to pick up another gate. Tonight's tilt is booked for Asbestos if the every inch of the way and the outcome was decided only by the extra manpower the Aces possess. It was a case of playing two lines against three well-balanced trios and this is bound to play a big difference in the long run.

The Meteors are favored to take the Maroons tonight but it will be no pushover. The Lemay squad has two victories to their credit in the series having upset the high-flying Meteors 5-3

Maroons can win the next one will help to balance their budget for the season.

Waterloo, with the exception of the first two games, have given the Meteors plenty of trouble and have been no soft touch as was expected. They are just liable to emerge with a victory this evening as not. On Sunday the Meteors were forced to come from a 2-0 deficit in order to win which gives a fair indication of how the game could go.

Robbie Makes Promises To Branch Rickey

FORT MEYERS, Fla. — (AP) — Branch Rickey, retired general manager of Pittsburgh Pirates, said Monday Jackie Robinson promised him he'll issue no statements while he's angry.

Robinson, the first Negro to play in the major leagues, has been somewhat of a controversial figure since he retired recently.

Rickey, who signed Robinson to a Brooklyn Dodger contract, was asked in an interview by sports editor Al Abrams of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette to comment on Robinson's remarks since the player quit baseball. The Mahatma, now helping out as hitting instructor at the Pirate camp replied:

"I was grieved at some of the statements he Robinson made. He is a man of explosive temperament, but he promised me the last time we were together three weeks ago that he would never issue a statement while angry. He's kept his word."

And Milby.

PEPPERELL, Mass. — Funeral services were held in Pepperell, Mass., on Friday, February 22nd, for Mrs. Maude Tambs Deware, widow of Rainford Deware, formerly of Pepperell and Milby, Que.

The service was held in the Community Church, of Pepperell, with the Anglican service, read by Rev. Henry Maddox, of Ayer, Mass. The hymns sung were two she particularly loved, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" and "Art Thou Weary."

The bearers were her grandsons, Lindol French, Jr., Donald McG. Jacobs, Lieut. (J.G.) Robert Tambs Jacobs, John B. Jacobs; also Harry B. Eddy, R. Kenneth Johnson and William D. Brumby.

Burial was in the family lot in Pepperell.

Mrs. Deware was born August 27, 1870, in Bury, Que., daughter of the late Edward A. Tambs and Theresa Bompas Tambs. She was the niece of the late Rev. Robert C. Tambs, formerly of Waterville and North Hatley, and as a child spent much time in his home. Her parents later made their home in Milby, where they were active in the work of St. Barnabas Church, an interest which Mrs. Deware continued as long as she lived. She was educated at King's Hall in Compton, then known as Compton College.

At the age of 22 she was married to Rainford Deware in Pepperell, Mass., where they made their home and raised their family of five children. She continued her interest in community and church affairs, but her life was chiefly centered in her home and family. After her husband's death, she returned to Milby to live with her sister, Miss Mary Tambs.

In recent years she had divided her time among her three daughters, Mrs. Lindol French, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., Mrs. Donald G. Jacobs, of Portland, Me., and Mrs. Delmar Urwick, of Granby, Conn., at whose home she died suddenly on February 19th.

Besides her daughters, she is survived by two sons, Robert E. Deware, of Cambridge, Mass., and Karl A. Deware, of Pepperell, Mass., nine grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren. She also leaves her sister, Miss Mary Tambs, of Milby, her brother-in-law, Mr. Carlos A. Stokes, and two nieces and a nephew in Bury, the children of her sister, the late Beatrice Tambs Stokes. She had spent much time with them in Bury and had many friends in that community.
