ROOSEVELT ASKS MINIMUM CUT OF FORTY PER CENT. IN DOLLAR VALUE

Power to Make Periodical Revaluation of U. S. Dollar at Fifty to Sixty Per Cent. Gold Content Sought in Special Message to Congress—Would Nationalize Country's Gold Supply and Create Stabilization Fund From Profits—No Immediate Action on Silver.

Washington, January 13.—Power to make periodic revaluation of the United States dollar within the limited range of fifty to sixty per cent. of its present gold content was asked of Congress today by President Roosevelt in a special message urging government ownership of all monetary gold.

Mr. Roosevelt recommended also the creation of a $2,000,000,000 fund out of profits realized from devaluation with which the Secretary of the Treasury could trade in gold, foreign exchange and government securities for the regulation of the currency, the maintenance of the credit of the government and the general welfare of the United States.

His message sought legislative title to the $3,300,000,000 of Federal Reserve Bank gold, with provision for payment in gold certificates—warehouse receipts on gold dollars in the Treasury.

His message made clear the intention to proceed with commodity dollar plans, envisioning a flexible dollar ranging—as compared with the present statutory gold content—at between fifty and sixty cents.

Democratic leaders in Congress quickly predicted he would get the legislation sought, despite opposition both from the Republican ranks and within his own party.

The President's words were in part: "Because of world uncertainties, I do not believe it desirable in the public interest that an exact value be now fixed."

"The President is authorized by present legislation to fix the lower limit of permissible revaluation at fifty per cent. Careful study leads me to believe that any revaluation at more than sixty per cent. of the present statutory value would not be in the public interest. I, therefore, recommend to the Congress that it fix the upper limit of permissible revaluation at sixty per cent."

The above passage led to many questions, the meaning not being considered clear by many. In a special press conference, the President gave his explanation of the wider powers sought.

Devaluation of the dollar by fifty per cent. would mean a profit to the government of approximately $3,000,000,000 in the dollar price of the gold to be taken by the Treasury from the Federal Reserve System under the proposed programme.

The President recommended that from this profit, a $2,000,000,000 fund be set up in the Treasury, for the purchase and sale of gold on the foreign exchange and the purchase of government securities. In other words, he would create a stabilization fund.

The presidential message also recognized silver as a basic medium of exchange and urged a greatly increased use of this commodity by all governments.

Under the Roosevelt programme the nation's supply of gold hereafter would be held in the Treasury as a reserve and basis for the country's currency.

Ultimately he looks for permanent stabilization of the dollar in relation to the British pound and the French franc. Meanwhile, he will be working toward a definite and permanent devaluation of the dollar.

In the talk with newspapermen, the President re-stated that the objective of his monetary programme is to bring the purchasing power of the dollar back to the level at which the average debts of the country were incurred, so that these debts may be paid off with a dollar equal in value to that at which the debt was incurred.

The method he is trying is to cut the theoretical gold content of the dollar. This can only be done if the Treasury has in the gold.

Therefore, if the gold content of the dollar is cut by fifty per cent., the gold held by the Treasury will be worth twice as much in dollars. It was made plain that the White House that this profit does not represent a base of currency.

Mr. Roosevelt also made it clear that the programme did not mean a resort to greenback currency, and said that the object of the programme was to buy government securities out of the stabilization fund was simply to safeguard the price of these securities against any further depreciation move by the private holders of the securities.

The President believes that the gold buying policy of the government, which he said has resulted in large purchases, is largely responsible for the recovery in commodity prices following the drop of last September and October.

Another result of the programme, he feels, has been to permit foreign sales of American export surpluses such as cotton and copper.

Mr. Roosevelt told Congress he felt that he had the authority to take title to the gold supply of the nation, but "this is a step of such importance that I prefer to ask the Congress by specific enactment to vest in the United States Government title to all supplies of American-owned monetary gold, with provision for the payment therefor in gold certificates."

"These gold certificates will be," he said, "as now, secured at all times dollar for dollar by gold in the Treasury—gold for each dollar of such weight and fineness as may be established from time to time."

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE APPOINT BODY TO STUDY TAX REDUCTIONS

G. W. Murphy, of Sherbrooke, Member of Committee to Co-Operate With Provincial Government on Economy Schemes—Col. Bruce Payne Forms Part of Group—Provincial Treasurer Declares Reckless Expenditure in Times of Prosperity Aggravated Economic Depression.

Quebec, Jan. 15.—Had money been spent less liberally and unthinkingly in boom years, the depression would not be so hard to bear, said both individuals and governments because something would have been saved from prosperity pennies, Hon. Ralph F. Stockwell, Quebec's Provincial Treasurer, stated here Saturday in an address before delegates of all the Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in the province gathered to discuss ways and means of co-operating with the government in efforts to curtail expenditures.

Sir Georges Garneau was chosen as honorary president of an executive committee to make a "profound" study of provincial finances. A. E. NEWSPAPERS SHOULD BE READ CAREFULLY

Chatham, Ont., Jan. 15.—Newspapers, Judge Uriah McFadden believes, should be read carefully. "Newspapers should be read like a book, with due concentration, to absorb worthwhile information," he said in an address yesterday. "The habit of glancing over the paper while eating is not to be commended. You can't eat and read at the same time and do justice to both."

ROCHESTER, N.Y., JAN. 15.—A few hives of bees in an orchard during blossoming time, says Prof. George H. Rae, of Cornell University, will "step up" production at least ten times.

VIOLENT 'OUAKE TAKES A HEAVY TOLL IN INDIA

Twenty-One Killed, Many Injured and Other Casualties Not Immediately Determined Following Tremors Which Rocked Entire Nation.

Calcutta, Jan. 15.—At least twenty-one persons were killed and many were injured in a protracted earthquake which rocked all India today.

The wife and children of G. W. Brown, the British manager of the railway work shop, and the wife of the Indian district medical officer were killed in the collapse of the Jamalpur railway station.

The additional number of casualties there were not immediately determined.

Eight persons were killed at Patna and nine at Gaya.

Office occupants, panic-stricken, rushed into the streets and many buildings were slightly damaged including the High Court and Electric Corporation buildings, two churches, the Imperial Bank and the general post office.

The quake started here at 2:45 p.m. local time or 3:45 a.m. Eastern Standard time.

It began just after the vice-regal car, bearing Lord Willingdon, Viceroy of India and former Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Willingdon reached the Howrah station. They proceeded on to Benares without interruption. The tremors also were felt in Bombay and Ajmer.

VIOLENT EARTH SHOCK

London, Jan. 15.—A great earth shock believed to have been felt somewhere off the coast of Alaska was registered on the seismographs of England at 8:45 o'clock this morning. The vibrations continued long afterward.

"The shock was so severe that it rang my earthquake bell," said J. J. Shaw, seismologist at the West Bromwich earthquake bell, connected with the seismograph, operates only in violent disturbances.

CHARGES WESTERN PROVINCES NOT CO-OPERATING IN ECONOMY DRIVE

Quebec and Ontario Bearing Load of National Debt, But Maritime Provinces Doing All in Their Power to Lighten the Load, Declares Premier MacMillan, of Prince Edward Island—New Brunswick Attorney General Rebukes Those Who Preach Amalgamation of Maritimes as a Means of Economy.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—Premiers of the Maritime Provinces—Hon. L. P. D. Tilly, K.C., of New Brunswick; Hon. W. J. P. MacMillan, of Prince Edward Island, and Hon. A. Macdonald, of Nova Scotia, gathered in conference here today to discuss pertinent matters which may present a united front before the Dominion-Provincial Conference at Ottawa on Wednesday.

Continuing their discussions which opened at Amherst, N.S., last fall, the three Premiers were understood to be giving particular attention to the Tved report in which a prominent St. John lawyer outlined the moral claims the provinces, in his opinion, had upon the Dominion Government under the Confederation pact.

A busy day faced the three Premiers. Following their morning conference Premier Tilly was to address the Montreal Canadian Club, his fellow premiers being among the guests of honor. Tonight all three will speak before the Maritime Provinces Club.

Leader of Nova Scotia's new Liberal Government, Premier Macdonald reached Montreal this morning. His conferees arrived over the week-end, Premier Tilly having addressed the Conservative Association of Montreal on Saturday.

A challenge to Canadian banks and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to point out constructively any possible avenue of economy unexplored by governments featured Mr. Tilly's address.

"Bank managers," he said, "in their annual address must say something and so they take slaps at the Government. Balance our budgets? The banks will do so when the wheels of industry and commerce get vibrating and back to normal."

"The Canadian Chamber of Commerce has said to Ottawa: 'You must curtail expenditures, balance the budget, cut services.' We all know that; it is not more than the man in public life? But try to balance the budget. Let those business gentlemen sit in and try it. 'Debts, debts, debts,' they mutter, saying 'come on, it is fill-time.' And they give pills to politicians or statesmen. An easy thing to do."

Men in public life, he declared, must stand for constitutional government, believe in God and the church and be behind one another. He classified as a menace men in opposition who played the game of politics and took an attitude which, detrimental to the country, might help a political party.

The difference between politician and statesman was that "the politician is earmarked because he is in politics for some particular reason which he could, but does not, want to express personally. The statesman serves his country first, last and all the time. Premier Tilly then paid tribute to Hon. R. B. Bennett as a statesman.

UNTOLD DAMAGE WAS CAUSED BY VIOLENT RAINS

Death Toll in British Guiana Placed at Sixteen, With Extensive Loss of Crops and Property Damage, Following Heaviest Rains in History

Georgetown, British Guiana, Jan. 15.—Staggered by extensive loss of crops and property damage estimated at $1,500,000, British Guiana was today to receive the heaviest section of wet population deprived of food, clothing and homes by heaviest rains in the history of the colony.

Doctors and public health workers, under the government mobilization orders, were making their way through sections isolated by the flood waters that overflowed from rising rivers and inundated roads, visible farmlands and vast stretches of countryside.

At an emergency session Governor Sir Edward Denham told the legislature the country was facing a crisis, and in a few minutes the government was empowered to control soaring food prices and temporarily halt export of rice and cattle. Both these industries suffered severely from the floods that swept through sections of the country, paralyzing transportation and combined facilities and carried away houses, farm buildings, cattle and poultry.

From word trickling in by runners from up-country districts the death toll placed at sixteen, and government authorities were taking every precaution against possible epidemics among the refugees, spread over the flood's disastrous course, extending two thousand miles along the jagged coastline and several miles inland. Charitable and religious organizations combined efforts to provide clothing and emergency food rations to the homeless. Hundreds of children were being cared for in various districts.

Coconut cultivation alone escaped serious damage, officials said, but the earthquake, which had preceded sugar crops would be felt for three or four years.

URGENT ADOPTION OF FASCISM IN GREAT BRITAIN

London Daily Mail Tells Youth of England to "Break Stranglehold Which Senile Politicians Have So Long Maintained in Public Affairs."

London, Jan. 15.—The London Daily Mail came out strongly today for adoption of Fascism in Great Britain.

A three column article by Lord Rothermere lauded the method of Mussolini and Hitler.

"Hurrah for the Blackshirts," said the three column headline. The editorial which followed lashed the "half-hearted sentimental policy" of the old parties, and made an appeal to the youth of England to support Sir Oswald Mosley and his Blackshirts.

They were urged to "break the stranglehold which senile politicians have so long maintained on public affairs."

Lord Rothermere's creed of Fascism had hitherto been regarded as more or less of a joke by the general public, despite the support given the movement by devoted Blackshirt followers.

"The Blackshirts proclaim the fact, which the old politicians will never face," the editorial read "that the new age requires new methods and new men."

The Mail, which is an avowed opponent of the present government, said it was certain that Mosley could do more in a conference at Berlin to straighten out the kinks in Anglo-German relations than any half-dozen elderly politicians whom the cabinet persists in sending on fruitless missions to Geneva."

It called Italy and Germany "the best governed nations in Europe today."

"An old system of government re-organized along the same lines, and with a full scope accorded the enterprise and energy of British youth, the country would soon regain its old position in world pre-eminence."

The Daily Mail's appeal climaxed a prolonged campaign by the newspaper against the government's policies—notably, what it called "giving India away to enemies of the country; the surrender of the Sinn Fein, and allowing Ceylon to be handed over to a crazy system of rule by a colored democracy."

The automobile industry is slow working out of its production difficulties but still is far behind schedules for January, insuring that February and March will be correspondingly stronger months," it was stated. "There seems to be no doubt this delay is due to mechanical problems and not a reflection on markets."

New orders booked by some leading steel interests so far this month are ahead of the tonnage placed in comparable period in December, the Magazine found. "One of the brightest features of the industrial picture," it said, "is the evident increase in purchasing power in agricultural areas."

The magazine further said: "Rail-

WHOLESALE ARRESTS BY SOVIETS RECALL CASE OF TWO BRITISHERS

Nine Foreigners and Twenty Russians Held on Charge of Economic Espionage—Six of Nine Foreigners Were Employees of Swiss Concern Supervising Loading of Russian Export—Official at Headquarters of Company Unable to Learn Details of Case.

Moscow, Jan. 15.—Nine foreigners and twenty Russians were under arrest today in what Soviet police believed was a new case of espionage which may rival the dramatic Metropolitan-Vickers affair.

Diplomatic representatives of Germany, Austria and Denmark, who sought information in the matter, were refused permission to see the prisoners, and were given no details of the case except that the men had been arrested under a section in the Soviet criminal code covering economic espionage.

Six of the foreigners and all the Russians were associated with the Control Company branch of Societe des Surveillances, Limited, of Geneva. The arrests were carried out secretly over a period of four months, beginning in September and ending late in December.

The case is said to be still in the investigation stage and has not yet been turned over to the public prosecutor, who is to determine whether the evidence is sufficient to warrant a trial.

The available facts, however, indicated that the case centers around the Austrian brothers, Josef and Karl Weinzettl, for, with the single exception of General Manager Silvio Bernhardt, of four months, foreigners who were held either had worked under them or under their friends.

This probably accounts for the fact that three of those held have no connection with the company, but were employed in Soviet industrial enterprises at Nicolayev on the Black Sea. This is in the territory covered by the Weinzettls in their regular duties of inspecting and certifying the Soviet export cargoes.

The case came to a head on September 15, 1933, when Soviet officials began making numerous arrests of Russian employees of the Control Company. On November 5, Joseph Weinzettl, the first of the foreigners to be arrested, was taken by the police, and in less than two weeks Bernhardt was arrested in the Company's headquarters in Moscow.

Emile Fleischle and Herbert Phoden, both of Germany, were the last to be arrested. They were taken on December 27th at Leningrad and Baku, respectively.

The others arrested were Wilhelm Larsen, of Denmark, the company's representative at Archangel; Richard Kirschaj, of Austria; Victor Wiermann and Henrich Karl, both of Germany, the latter three who were employed in Russian industrial plants having no connection with the Control Company.

Early in December Paul Schoenwald, the company's deputy manager at Moscow, went to Geneva to report the arrests to the Company's home office, and according to the firm's representative in Paris of the world, he had refused a visa to return to Soviet Russia. It was reported the company had taken no steps in the matter due to lack of information regarding the arrests.

The Control Company is engaged in certifying cargoes of exports from Russia to all parts of the world, principally grain, lumber and oil.

MANY IMPORTANT PROPOSALS WILL BE REVIEWED AT OTTAWA PARLEY

Unemployment Relief, With Which is Tied up the Question of Financing, Outstanding Item on Lengthy Agenda at Dominion-Provincial Conference Which Opens on Wednesday—Keen Interest Displayed in Premier Taschereau's Plan of Financing Relief by Long Term Bonds.

Ottawa, January 15.—Delegations from the nine Provinces of Canada were converging upon Ottawa today for the important Dominion-Provincial Conference, which will be opened by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett on Wednesday morning.

While Dominion-Provincial conferences are nothing new here, the one about to open promises to be of more than passing interest. This arises not so much from the official agenda as from matters which have been reviewed by heads of provincial delegations and which are slated for discussion when they sit down to the conference table with the Dominion Ministers.

Naturally the Dominion Government will present to the conference certain subjects for discussion which it considers of primary importance. Perhaps the most pressing is unemployment relief, with which is tied up the question of financing. The latter point is of vital importance, particularly to some of the Western provinces. The Companies' Act is due for discussion, and it is stated that the world wheat agreement will be taken up with the Western delegations.

But the subjects for discussion, it is indicated, will be considerably increased by the provincial delegations themselves. Already Premier L. A. Taschereau, of Quebec, has stated that he will propose a new system of unemployment relief whereby, through the issue of long-term debentures the Dominion and Provinces will assume the responsibility for financing, leaving the municipalities to dispense the relief. Again Mr. Taschereau has an interesting proposal that properly-conducted Dominion and Provincial lotteries should be permitted, the proceeds to be used for beneficial purposes.

The Maritime Provinces, it is intimated, will combine to once again raise the cry of "Maritime Rights" and ask for what they consider should be given to them. British Columbia, it is suggested, may have some proposals for easing up the financial situation in the West by increased issue of paper currency.

It seems altogether likely that the question of granting pensions to the civilian blind will be brought up, and also perhaps unemployment insurance.

With the exception of the opening ceremonies on Wednesday morning, the conference will probably be held in camera.

CLUE IN MURDER MYSTERY LEADS TO NOVA SCOTIA

Police Hot on Trail of Clue in Unsolved Death of Mabel Matheson, Who Was Slain in Boston Seven Years Ago.

Boston, Jan. 15.—Boston police inspectors were in Nova Scotia today hot on the trail of a clue in the unsolved death of Mabel Matheson, who was slain here seven years ago.

Police Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman said Captain Stephen J. Flaherty had been working on the crime for a long time and only recently had discovered the type of weapon used in the slaying of the Canadian girl.

Both the District Attorney and I feel that the mysterious Matheson murder case is nearer a solution now than ever before, the Commissioner said last night.

"If the police are successful in getting the information in Nova Scotia that they think they will get, District Attorney William J. Foley, of Suffolk County, will call a special session of the grand jury."

ALLENATION OF FEDERAL LANDS IS CONDEMNED

Premier L. P. D. Tilley, of New Brunswick, Tells Montreal Gathering Maritimes Have Received No Adequate Return for Land Given Western Provinces.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—"The Maritime Provinces are an integral part of this great country of ours, and we intend they shall remain as such," Premier Leonard P. D. Tilley, of New Brunswick, today told the Canadian Club in luncheon address here.

"We do, however, ask from our federal government and from our sister provinces of this great Dominion their most hearty support in our efforts to bring back to our Maritime Provinces the prosperity and contentment which the Fathers of Confederation promised us when we came into the union."

Before an audience which included his two fellow Maritime premiers, Hon. A. L. Macdonald, of Nova Scotia, and Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, of Prince Edward Island, Mr. Tilley reviewed the position of the provinces by the sea in Confederation.

"The Dominion as a whole does not pay to the Maritime Provinces an adequate subsidy in lieu of loss of the former Colonial custom and excise duties, or in lieu of territorial grants to the other provinces of Canada."

"The Intercolonial Railway was built as part of the Confederation contract for three reasons: To carry western Canadian produce—certainly during the winter season—through the Maritime ports; to convey the Maritime produce to a larger Upper Canadian market, at reasonable freight rates; in case of war to carry munitions by Canadian rails over Canadian territory."

"The absorption of this railway by the Canadian National Railway should not have exterminated the freight rates existing on the I.C.R. at the time of its amalgamation."

"The people of the Maritime Provinces, he said, are not ungrateful of the good will shown by the Dominion government in implementing many of the recommendations of the Sir Andrew Rae Duncan Commission which investigated the Maritimes position in Confederation."

"Main features of the recommendations implemented were an interim increased subsidy; a twenty per cent. freight rate rebate; the making over of certain branch line railways in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and better ferry accommodation to Prince Edward Island; and the nationalization of the ports of Halifax and Saint John under Dominion harbor commissions."

MARINES TODAY PROTECT LIVES OF NATIONALS

Great Britain, United States and Japan Unite to Maintain Order Following Evacuation of Foochow by Chinese Rebels.

Foochow, China, Jan. 15.—Sailors of Great Britain, United States and Japan were here today to protect lives and property of their nationals in disorders accompanying the evacuation of this fallen rebel capital by the retreating nineteenth century army.

Early today, two Nationalist government marines of a contingent landed Saturday when the nineteenth century army began retreating, were slain by a leaderless rebel band. Further disorders developed among opposing Chinese factions.

The Nationalist marines were later withdrawn to their vessels in an apparent attempt by Admiral Chen Shao-Kwan to do his utmost to relieve the grave situation.

This, with the arrival of the 10,000 ton British cruiser, H.M.S. Berwick, after a dash from Hong Kong, was believed to have lessened considerably the danger to Foochow's foreign population.

Already on hand offering protection to their nationals when the United States sailors came ashore were thirty British and 480 Japanese marines and sailors.

After the withdrawal of the Nationalist marines, General Taino-Kai, commander of the nineteenth century army, and Admiral C.K. Kwan, planned to hold conferences urgently attempting to prevent further violence.

With Foochow under no established authority, due to the sudden flight of the Chief of Police, General Taino-Kai rushed efforts to round up stragglers from his rebel army and move them southward on the heels of the main contingents of rebel forces already in retreat.

In the midst of these negotiations, unverified reports were circulated that 10,000 rebel soldiers still were holding their ground in the Min River valley fighting area north and northwest of Foochow.

All of the rebel leaders except General Taino-Kai had fled, however, and the Nationalist armies were understood to be passing their way steadily southward.

From Amoy came word that as a result of the tension in Foochow disorders were feared in the southern sections of Fukien province.

ALEXIS VALADE, OF BALDWIN'S MILLS, IS DEAD

Customs Official for Past Twenty-Five Years at Baldwin's Mills and Holland, Vt., Port of Entry.

Baldwin's Mills, January 15.—The death occurred here last evening after a brief illness of Alexis Valade, prominent Baldwin's Mills farmer-resident and a customs official for the past twenty-five years at the Baldwin's Mills and Holland, Vt., port of entry.

Mr. Valade had resided in this place for the past twenty-six years, and was highly esteemed. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. Valade, pioneer citizens of Barford, and moved to Coaticook with his parents sixty-five years ago when he was a mere child. He lived in Coaticook until 1908, when he came to Baldwin's Mills.

During the past holiday season Mr. Valade caught a severe cold and serious complications developed. Had he lived a few more months he would have been sixty-nine years old.

His wife, Ella Tougas, of St. Asasque, Que., predeceased him two years ago. He leaves twelve children to mourn his loss, including Adrienne, Mrs. Louis Devost, of Coaticook; four brothers, Albert, Gilbert, Jean, Baptiste and Pierre, all of Montreal, and one sister, Mrs. Theodore Fleurbaey, of Montreal.

The funeral will be held at St. Edmond's Church on Wednesday morning.

CLUE IN MURDER MYSTERY LEADS TO NOVA SCOTIA

Boston, Jan. 15.—Boston police inspectors were in Nova Scotia today hot on the trail of a clue in the unsolved death of Mabel Matheson, who was slain here seven years ago.

Police Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman said Captain Stephen J. Flaherty had been working on the crime for a long time and only recently had discovered the type of weapon used in the slaying of the Canadian girl.

Both the District Attorney and I feel that the mysterious Matheson murder case is nearer a solution now than ever before, the Commissioner said last night.

"If the police are successful in getting the information in Nova Scotia that they think they will get, District Attorney William J. Foley, of Suffolk County, will call a special session of the grand jury."

BUILD ONE CUBE A DAY IN A PEACE FOUNDATION.

Sir John Simon, the English statesman, is now trying to impress upon the Nations of the World that peace, that is permanent peace, can only be attained step by step. He believes that the error in the disarmament conferences lies in the precipitous haste of the delegates to do something drastic all at once, just as has been done by the treaty-makers in the passing eras.

"Haste thee quickly" always leads to compulsion, and compulsory laws in relation to either religious or moral affairs, have always been detrimental to an advocated cause. History teaches us that.

Step by step—one thing at a time—one object attained before another is named—and all through negotiations, backed by logic and sense, each step made in friendship in good-will—that is the way.

With the war toys of destruction which scientists have proudly invented, a modern war would be more horrible than that of twenty years gone by. Yet a sane world hates the very thought of another great war when so many happy lives were given up on the glorious conception that the Great War was a war to end war.

For three hundred years the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, has been in England a militant force for peace. They were persecuted for their refusal to take part in each recurrent war of previous centuries. That they had conscientious scruples against the killing of their neighbour was scoffed at by the pot-braves, who come out of the gutters in wartime.

The late John Bright resigned his portfolio in the British Cabinet when the English fleet bombarded Alexandria. He had been an earnest and outspoken critic of the alliance with France in the Crimean War, when their allied armies flew to the defence of the unspeakable Turks in a war with Russia. He was a staunch Quaker, with a belief in peaceful arbitration, and the little wars of the Victorian era proved his perspicacity in foretelling the ultimate result. John Bright was a tribune of the people, and his voice for peace had a powerful resonance in history.

During the Civil War in the United States the speeches of Bright turned the public opinion of Britain from the South to the North.

We may have a prediction for John Bright, because he and other members of our old Quaker family, together with their forbears, stood sturdily for peace and against war, even to the point of persecution and imprisonment. They were too burled in their enthusiasm. Therefore, is this accord with the British statesman in unison with that of the wise old Jesuitical fathers who believed in doing to-day that which may bear fruit in abundance years hence.

MANY STORIES BEHIND THE TREATY OF A CENTRAL BANK.

We can have peeps behind the scenes of our governing bodies if we practice the skill of deduction in the perusal of the addresses by the Presidents and General Managers of our leading banks. They speak as men having authority in fiscal matters, for they are on the inside. Sir John Aird, President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said in his address to the shareholders:

"After three years of harassing experience with their finances our governments have, by strenuous efforts to reduce their expenditures and through higher revenues resulting from the improved business situation, at last found some relief, slight though it be. Thus the Dominion Government's revenue has increased each month since June over the corresponding months of 1932, while reductions have been effected in controllable and capital expenditures on its own account, as well as on that of the Canadian National Railways.

Hon. H. R. Emerson was named Minister of Railways. Disapproving the calamitous G.T.P. the previous Minister resigned before the storm broke.

Officers elected by Eastern Townships Conservative Association: Hon. M. F. Hackett, J. E. Waterhouse, C. C. Cabana and E. W. Farwell.

Mr. John Morkill organized a sliding party for his nephews: Francis and Geoffrey Morkill of Mexico. All the Perods in town were there.

Miss Kathleen Wiggitt entertained at cards. Prize winners were: Miss Nellie Armitage, Miss Ethel Harkness, Earle Spafford and Ross McLeod.

carry out the promises of economy with other people's money.

The Western legislators devised the scheme of overlordship by a Central Bank, and hold over it the bludgeon threat that the Bankers must subscribe to the plan or have their note issue tampered with.

It is a ticklish time to tamper with a sound banking system which other countries envy.

THE FINAL FAREWELL.

To Edmond Baird Ryckman, who had for years devoted his talents to public life, we have but to bid the final farewell. He relinquished his office as Minister of Inland Revenue in the Bennett administration only when his advisors frankly told him his days were numbered.

The late honourable gentleman was a native of the Province of Quebec, his father, Rev. Dr. E. B. Ryckman, being stationed at Huntingdon at the time of his birth, sixty-eight years ago.

Going to Toronto some forty years ago, immediately upon graduation from Osgood Hall as a lawyer, he began to devote his talents to commercial law, and was soon a directing force in several of the leading industries of that city. He married the daughter of the late Edward Gurney, then one of the outstanding citizens in a fast growing city.

On assuming a responsible position in the present Government Mr. Ryckman promptly resigned his position as President of the Dunlop Tire Company, and also other advisory and director positions which he held and devoted himself solely to work in the interests of the public.

He might be termed a "rich man," for he was always eminent in his profession by reason of his innate knowledge of industrial and manufacturing affairs. But this only served to encourage him to place his talents wholly at the service of his fellow-countrymen. It was because of this talent and deep understanding that he was chosen to direct the most important fiscal department in the Government.

We are wont to listen without rebuke to the demagogues who attack a wealthy person, even though Canada has but rich men who have thriflily earned and saved in their own lifetime. It is a parochial habit to which only the small mind is addicted. But to our old friend, "Ed" Ryckman, we can accord the small tribute of a life unsmirched by any fault other than success and attainment; a man of broad and fertile mind who was a power in the upbuilding of clean business in Canada.

We should ever take pride in the life of Edmond Baird Ryckman, for he was a native son of our province and worthily upheld the prestige and dignity of his natal degree, even though the fruition of his career was ripened in an adjoining province.

Full forty years we had the privilege of his acquaintance and friendship.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

The Newmarket Canal was intended to connect a small one-town industry, with about 3,000 population, with a shallow lake, Simcoe, a body of water not so big nor deep as our own Memphremagog. It cost $7,000,000, but it helped start Sir Allan Aylesworth to the Dominion Parliament. The Aylesworth claim to distinction was that as Canadian representative on the Alaska Boundary Commission he lost out, losing territory and seashore as big as Denmark. It often pays to be as big a loser as it does a big winner. Sympathy is more potent than admiration. Mr. Aylesworth got a job worth $12,000 a year, a Senatorship for life; and the taxpayer got a dry ditch canal at a cost of seven millions, upon which a schooner never was towed.

Under the "New Deal," the President of the United States is passing out $200,000,000 a day to retard the return to real values on the stock markets. Few pause to reflect that they are borrowing their own money, the source from which it comes from. Any government grant or bonus given back was first taken from the people who get it. It was never considered in the foundation of government by the people and for the people would adopt the puerile form of extorting taxes from one part of the country to loan it in another part.

What Editors Say

CANADA'S COMPETING RAILWAYS.

The Newfoundland Press. Crossing Canada from Atlantic to Pacific are two great railway systems paralleling each other. In many places they duplicate the service, and while in prosperous times they managed to exist, though the state-owned Canadian National Railways has had a recurring deficit annually for many years, in times of trade depression, with the inevitable reduction in carrying power neither can balance its budget.

It has been stated by Canadian authorities that the railways provide the greatest single source of employment in Canada and it is before important that their continued, profitable operation should be maintained, but it is manifestly impossible for the Dominion to go on indefinitely shouldering the increasing burden of costs from its national line.

Canada's position is different to Newfoundland's in this respect. Here there is but one railway, with-out competition in its fields and its maintenance is imperative to the industrial life in the interior of the country. Moreover there are good grounds for belief that wrong methods and too wide extension of the service were the cause of past deficits, rather than any inherent inability of the Newfoundland Railway to be self-supporting. That in such a year as the past it was not possible to reach a paying position during the major part of the year, indicates the soundness of this belief.

When Mr. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, reiterates his belief that amalgamation of his system and Canadian National Railways offers the only solution, he will have the general support of uninterested observers of the situation which, if continued, may well be disastrous to both. Such an amalgamation would inevitably lead to staff reductions and consequently some addition to ranks of the unemployed; but even such a surgical operation would surely be better than a continuation of a situation which only aggravates, the longer it continues, the difficulties of Canada's greatest industrial undertakings.

What I wish to say applies to our English-speaking citizens as well as to the French-Canadian. In this article in the same kindly disposition which guides me to write these lines: the spirit of justice and tolerance; with the same common love: that of our fair city which we all desire to see grow bigger and more beautiful.

To render a fair judgment on any matter one must naturally study both sides, consider both sides of the question.

The incident to which I refer broke loose in connection with the temporary nomination of a dozen employees at the post office. The French-Canadians became incensed that only English-speaking employees were selected. It is evident that the matter is of minor importance. It is not because twelve English citizens got the chance to make a few dollars during the Christmas season that the French-Canadians were indignant. There is a principle at stake.

"Bonne Entente Desirable In Order That City of Sherbrooke May Continue To Progress"

Magistrate Lemay.

To the Editor:

Sir,—The year 1934 dawned in Sherbrooke accompanied by a question mark of considerable importance. Following an incident which occurred at the Sherbrooke post office, a tempest brewed. It was predicted that the cordial relations, the Bonne Entente, between the two races would be disrupted.

These agitations are always dangerous if they are not checked in time, particularly when interested people wish to make use of them for political or other purposes. It would have been better had the incident ended before it began. Unfortunately, regrettable statements were made which will not remain dead issues, and which are of a nature to matter the harmony so necessary for the future progress of our city.

We must be a united people if we wish Sherbrooke to continue its progress in every direction.

In this connection, Mr. Editor, would I be permitted to express my opinion that we must not continue to throw stones at each other. Would not a good explanation on certain facts be rather in the nature of clarifying the situation?

What I wish to say applies to our English-speaking citizens as well as to the French-Canadian. In this article in the same kindly disposition which guides me to write these lines: the spirit of justice and tolerance; with the same common love: that of our fair city which we all desire to see grow bigger and more beautiful.

To render a fair judgment on any matter one must naturally study both sides, consider both sides of the question.

The incident to which I refer broke loose in connection with the temporary nomination of a dozen employees at the post office. The French-Canadians became incensed that only English-speaking employees were selected. It is evident that the matter is of minor importance. It is not because twelve English citizens got the chance to make a few dollars during the Christmas season that the French-Canadians were indignant. There is a principle at stake.

If my English-speaking friends will follow me they will perceive that from the almost constant violation of this principle has resulted an ulcer which is corrupting our national life.

The English are just when they see justice; unfortunately, they are proud and they do not always realize the hardship of those less fortunate than they. It is the same with all nations which have attained a high degree of power; the Romans, the Spaniards, the Germans, the French, the Americans, have suffered alike in this respect. But the smaller nations, victims of this haughty pride of the conqueror, have suffered much more.

Therefore what happens, probably not through bad faith, but through a habit or custom, or a lack of understanding the situation and lack of appreciation of the sentiments which animates the others? By the others I refer here to the French-Canadian.

Our friends, the English newspaper, has published statistics to show that there are more French-speaking than English-speaking employees in public offices in Sherbrooke.

Maybe they are right. But that is not the question. May I be permitted to ask a question of my good English fellow-citizens who, like myself, really want to forever keep the bonne entente.

Can one English-speaking citizen complain of going to the post office, to the customs office, the Mounted Police, or the fire and other public service offices, and being obliged to speak French to make himself understood?

Will our English-speaking fellow-citizens not understand, alas, how our national consciousness, ours, the French-Canadian, is not offended but humiliated by being obliged to speak English in all these places?

Our English compatriots, so proud, would not suffer in twenty-four hours the treatment which the French-Canadian public receives every day in these places.

Again, if all public servants who speak but one language were at least polite and would excuse themselves of their inability to understand French. But too often it is far from that in some cases.

Do you travel on the railroads? On the trains of a certain company which operates between Sherbrooke and Montreal. How many times have I been obliged to act as interpreter for the conductor and for certain unfortunate travellers who did not understand English.

And have I not been told by an employee of the Canadian National, OUR RAILROAD, that only the English language was official and that the employees were not obliged to learn a foreign language.

And yet, it is so easy, when one wants, to satisfy the public, and above all, to respect national and personal sensitiveness. Take for example, the Quebec Central, which is under the guidance of our distinguished citizen, Mr. J. H. Walsh. Never was there a complaint in this direction. Why? Because all the employees on the trains and at the station speak both languages. It is the same today under Mr. Wadsworth.

This is the point, the solution to the problem. It is beside the point to say that there will be so many French-speaking employees and so many other employees speaking English. What is needed, and needed above all, are employees who speak the language of the public.

And the language of the public, in Sherbrooke, is dual one: it is both English and French; and each citizen has the right to address a public they employed by preference English-speaking workmen and throw into the road the worthy fathers of our French-Canadian families?

Furthermore, in the Municipal Council we need an English representation which has influence with foreign industrialists we might wish to bring to Sherbrooke. We need to have and to hold our best citizens, our ablest men, in the City Council.

It is beside the question to win a moral victory; we have no means to do so. That the mayor next year be English or French matters not. What we need, above all, is a good Council leader. Mr. Forest's services are too valuable for him not to wish to continue towards his fellow citizens in this capacity.

This is my humble opinion. I believe it to be that of all who will stop and think, realizing that sometimes personal sacrifices must be made for the common good.

Are there not enough citizens among the two nationalities sufficiently courageous to consider the problem as it should be studied?

Based on good faith, I hope that our English-speaking friends will gain by joining with us, and cause to have stopped, the irregularities at the post office, the customs office, the Mounted Police, the railroad companies and at other places where there is no need to be too careless about our native tongue.

I am sure that "British fair play" is not a dead issue among the English; and that, when they have been told openly as I have told them today, that the movement on the part of Dr. Forest's friends was brought about, not by fanaticism, but by the desire to protest in a tangible way against a state of affairs which should not exist here, then they will understand our viewpoint.

Dr. Forest's gesture will not have been in vain; only, the cure must not be worse than the disease.

All those who are animated with the lone desire of seeing our city progress, the bonne entente between the races, the material and moral prosperity of our workmen, will understand my viewpoint.

Whether my opinion is followed or not, I will have the firm conviction of having made a worthy attempt to open the eyes of those who want to see and the ears of those who want to hear.

Yours very truly, J. H. LEMAY, District Magistrate.

REDUCED RATES ANNOUNCED BY POWER COMPANY

Southern Canada Power Company Lowers Initial Charge in Larger Towns to Four Cents Per Kilowatt Hour.

Southern Canada Power Company announce new and lower rates on power and light contracts in all their groups where they have the number of installations which would justify a wholesale price by reason of the greater consumption.

The new rates apply to the Drummondville group, the St. Johns group, the Granby group and the St. Hyacinthe group.

These new rates go into force on the first of March, this year, and are specifically set forth in a circular but recently published.

For domestic service the first 30 kilowatt hour charge is 4 cents per k.w.h. For the next thirty kilowatt hours is 2 1/2 cents per k.w.h., gradually down to 2 cents and 1 1/2 cents for larger consumption.

The circular notice also gives details of still lower rates at the end of two years in March, 1935, these being premised on the forecast of a still larger consumption.

The Company announce that "these new rates for domestic consumption are considerably below the rates of municipally-owned systems, which pay no provincial or federal taxes, as do all private companies. This tax averages $7.50 per customer.

These rates are set out in a table of comparison:

Table comparing electricity rates for various municipalities. Columns include Municipality, Rate per kilowatt hour, and other details.

These new rates are 20 and 25 per cent, less than those paid in larger cities by the small consumer; and from 37 to 50 per cent less than the rates charged in the smaller towns like Bellefleur and St. Hyacinthe.

To the large consumers of 200 to 400 kilowatt hours the rates average a saving as compared with Sherbrooke and Coaticook of over twenty per cent, to make a further reduction, and enable us to supply our customers with the lowest possible cost.

Even at the low prices thus quoted the Company compete and overcome the handicap of $7.50 per customer, which the Dominion and Provincial Governments collect from them.

Municipal plants pay nothing towards the cost of either form of government; they are exempt from taxes.

Naturally, these new prices will be envied by the taxpayers in other cities and towns where taxes grow heavier and electricity is higher in price.

It is a far cry back to twenty years ago when electric power was generated expensively, with coal and engines, a costly operation.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

RIGHT MERRY TIME ENJOYED BY SIXTH SHERBROOKE TROOP

Saturday was a real scouting day for members of the Sixth Sherbrooke Troop, Boy Scouts. The chief attraction was an all-day hike with dinner cooked in the open.

During the day several Scouts won additional letters for their natural twig alphabet. This is the complete alphabet of naturally-formed letters and is by no means easy to write.

A number of observation games were participated in and points were given for the first rabbit, squirrel and partridge observed by the members, who all had to identify the trees.

The hike proved so enjoyable that it will likely be repeated in the near future.

ROVER SCOUTS ELECT OFFICERS

The practicing of first aid, a sleigh drive and attending the Rover Moot at Montreal are some of the activities planned.

Thanks were extended by the Rover Crew to Mrs. Jeffrey, for the delicious refreshments served, and to which full justice was done.

"THE BUSINESS OF THE CHURCH"

At the service yesterday morning in Plymouth United Church the minister, Rev. Dr. Silery Read, took for the subject of his sermon, "The business of the Church," basing his remarks on the story of Christ's visit at the beginning of His ministry to the synagogue in Nazareth as recorded in the Gospel of St. Luke, 4: 16 and following verses.

"Christ on that day," said Dr. Read, "read a message of hope and comfort to the people, but He did not leave them in a state of self-satisfaction. He stirred their feelings to the depths when He proclaimed the largeness of God's purposes beyond the life of the nation. Their traditions had been defied, their conservatism challenged."

"The work of the church is not to make men self-satisfied and leave them with a sense of comfort. We doubtfully the church must give a large place to the ministry of comfort in a world where men and women were passing through suffering and trial; but there is a great difference between the ministry of comfort and leaving men in their own lives and in the life of society. The individual who is perfectly satisfied with himself and his attainments in the moral and spiritual life, and has a comfortable conviction that his world is about as well organized as it can be, that there is no need of improvement, has not learned the first principles of the teaching of Christ. His gospel is a gospel of challenge to the existing order, and the business of the church is to use all its influence and power in helping to realize a better day for all mankind," Dr. Read said.

The choir sang Smeaton's anthem, "Oh for the Wings of a Dove," with soprano solo part by Mrs. Wright Gibson.

At the united service in the evening, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon, of Trinity United Church, the subject of Dr. Read's sermon was "Life or Limb," in which he Congregations in Protestant Churches of City Inspired by Helpful Sermons of Timely Interest.

"His windows being open and his chamber towards Jerusalem," Daniel VI 10, was the text of the inspiring and helpful sermon delivered at the morning service yesterday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church by the minister, Rev. J. R. Graham.

In the course of his sermon Mr. Graham pointed out that the secret of Daniel's courage was that he kept the windows of his soul open toward the higher things of life.

"In Daniel's heart," the preacher continued, "the thoughts of his native land never died. When he thought of what was trusted and best, when he wanted courage and inspiration for some worthy task, he had his windows open towards his native Jerusalem. Daniel kept his windows open towards Jerusalem because the Temple of God was there."

"We too often keep our windows open in the opposite direction, on the side of the world. We think too much of the world. We are worried about what the world will say and think of us."

"There are Daniels in every village and city, crucified on unseen crosses, burned with invisible flames, shut up in the spiritual dens of lives. If we are to achieve success we must keep the cobwebs and dust off the windows away from the windows of the soul."

During the morning service Miss Janet Platt sang a solo and the Moulard male quartet rendered a suitable selection.

Works Itself to Early Death to Keep YOU Alive

Each red corpuscle — of which there are millions of millions in your blood stream—literally works itself to pieces in 60 to 90 days. But its life, though so very brief, is most useful. For it maintains your life by doing three vital things.

It carries life-giving oxygen from the lungs to the body cells. It transports nutriment from the digestive organs to every part of the system. And it brings back to the lungs, for expulsion from the body, the poisonous gases constantly being generated. Without this unceasing service, your life would quickly end.

If the countless millions of red corpuscles in your blood stream are normal, your blood-health will be up to par. You will feel strong, energetic, vigorous and confident. But if your red corpuscles are lacking in numbers and in strength, you are bound to feel weak, "tired out," nervous.

There is one sure, safe way to regain normal health and vigor. That way is to enrich and build up your blood. And for that purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a guaranteed remedy of proven efficiency.

This is not just a claim—it is an established, scientifically-proven fact. Forty patients were recently blood-tested at a leading hospital, before and after taking a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In every case where the blood count was below normal at the start of the treatment, it showed a splendid improvement at the finish — and with it a return of health, energy and vigor.

This "test proven" guaranteed preparation will benefit YOU — or that growing child or teen-age girl of yours. Try it for a month. 50 cents a package at Drug Stores.

Dr. Silery Read, took for the subject of his sermon, "The business of the Church," basing his remarks on the story of Christ's visit at the beginning of His ministry to the synagogue in Nazareth as recorded in the Gospel of St. Luke, 4: 16 and following verses.

"Christ on that day," said Dr. Read, "read a message of hope and comfort to the people, but He did not leave them in a state of self-satisfaction. He stirred their feelings to the depths when He proclaimed the largeness of God's purposes beyond the life of the nation. Their traditions had been defied, their conservatism challenged."

"The work of the church is not to make men self-satisfied and leave them with a sense of comfort. We doubtfully the church must give a large place to the ministry of comfort in a world where men and women were passing through suffering and trial; but there is a great difference between the ministry of comfort and leaving men in their own lives and in the life of society. The individual who is perfectly satisfied with himself and his attainments in the moral and spiritual life, and has a comfortable conviction that his world is about as well organized as it can be, that there is no need of improvement, has not learned the first principles of the teaching of Christ. His gospel is a gospel of challenge to the existing order, and the business of the church is to use all its influence and power in helping to realize a better day for all mankind," Dr. Read said.

The choir sang Smeaton's anthem, "Oh for the Wings of a Dove," with soprano solo part by Mrs. Wright Gibson.

At the united service in the evening, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon, of Trinity United Church, the subject of Dr. Read's sermon was "Life or Limb," in which he

MAGOG BLANKED SHERBROOKE IN OPENING OF E. T. LADIES' LEAGUE

Textile Town Aggregation Assumed Leadership of Eastern Townships Ladies' Hockey Circuit by Trouncing Local Entry to Tune of Eight to Nothing—Lennoxville and Coaticook Played to Scoreless Draw in Second Fixture of Inaugural Double-Header at Arena Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon witnessed the opening of the Eastern Townships Ladies' Hockey League schedule for 1933-34 and marked, incidentally, the beginning of the season of allis in Sherbrooke. Approximately three hundred fans were in attendance for the inaugural double-header and many were the explanations which local benefactors offered when they returned home shortly after five o'clock. Excuses that considerable work had accumulated at the office during the week were not accepted, and the greater number in the benedictine gallery escaped from the usual custom of spending the Sabbath at home. However, the brand of hockey witnessed during the twin bill more than recompensed for the verbal dressing received in those quarters, and the spectators "better half" had received no reply to her telephone calls.

In peaceful reverie last evening the fans recalled the outstanding plays in the games which resulted in victory for Magog and a division of points by Coaticook, last year's champions, and Lennoxville, Magog's opponent in the opening fixture by a score of eight to nothing, while Coaticook and Lennoxville played to a scoreless draw in the second encounter. A resume of the afternoon's activities revealed that Magog will be the principal threat for the championship this year, unless Bishop's University, which entered an aggregation this winter, produces a team that can successfully combat the smooth-working attack shown yesterday by the textile town representatives.

Spectators who witnessed Magog's almost flawless combination offensive yesterday were loud in their praise of the winners. Practically every one of the visitors' eight tallies resulted from concerted attacks with which the local issues were unable to cope. The local players, however, were not without their share of success, as they were able to find a weak link in her defence.

There were three penalties in the second game, Laurina Beaudin and Betty McEachin wending their way to the "cooler" for sending opponents into the boards, while Germaine Lemieux was penalized for holding a rival puck carrier, not the referee.

Frequently it appeared as though both teams were protecting a lead. Defensive hockey seemed very popular, the respective forwards being obliged to do much skating to bring the puck to the surface. The close checking of both defences eased the burden on the goal janitors, who handled but very few shots during the first chapter. Although Coaticook was weakened once by a penalty, Lennoxville was unable to cash in on their advantage in "woman" power.

Coaticook received the first "break" of the game during the course of the middle chukker. A smooth offensive had brought the ice dangerously close to the Lennoxville citadel, but the finishing touches were lacking and the game remained scoreless. Numerous like-looking rushes got away to a good start, but generally wound up around centre ice when the willing puck totter found her willingness too much for her speed and the attention of the referees was required.

Individual rushes were the order of the second game, and in this department Ruth Povey and Betty McEachin were the most effective. Miss Coates had a closely-knit rear guard in Norma Edwards and "Babe" Cann, while Gladys Christenson carried her share of the burden, with the Misses Povey and McEachin on the regular forward line.

Coach Art Lacroix had Lee Titcomb and Gilbert Fortier on his substitute list, two players who had plenty of opportunity to display their respective ability. Coaticook relied principally on combination attacks which met disaster from the close checking adopted by the Lennoxville defence. Cote, Mary Demelis and Germaine Lemieux composed a forward line which was a constant menace, while Laurina Beaudin and Mrs. Denonville Lamoureux provided Marie Rose Hebert with adequate protection. Coach Howard Norway Price's four substitutes, Donalds, Croteau, Irene Menard, Florence Fournier and Jeanne Thibault, plenty of work, but their well-meant efforts were to no avail.

TORONTO LEAFS AGAIN TIED BY THE AMERICANS

National Hockey League Champions Played Second Draw With Amerks in Three Days—Rangers, Detroit and Chicago Victorious as Schedule Reached Half-way Mark.

Toronto, January 15.—Pausing today to take stock after swinging into the second half of their forty-eight game schedule, National Hockey League teams found their ranks virtually unbroken by the battling that has been waged since the first puck was faced off in November.

Each one of the nine clubs has a chance, and a good one, to cut into the extra series money but only the Toronto Leafs seem to be sure of a play-off spot. The wide open race today found four teams grouped within six points in the Canadian section and another quartette separated by only seven points in the United States division.

The New York Americans and the Rangers shut up in the cellar spots for weeks, have blossomed as real contenders. The world champions are disputing first place in the United States division with Chicago, and the Amerks, though still in last position in the Canadian section, are within easy striking distance of three other teams.

The battling over the week-end did little to clear the air. The Americans showed their recent strength in the game with the Leafs when they held Toronto to a two all tie, their second draw with the National Hockey League champs in three days. They lost to Chicago, however, on Sunday by four to nothing.

The Rangers continued their good work with a three to one over the Montreal Maroons and Detroit moved Boston further down in the United States cellar with a two to nothing beating. The Montreal Canadiens and Ottawa played a scoreless draw in the fifth game.

The Americans recently found their reputation for providing exciting hockey brought 8,000 fans to the game at Toronto Saturday night, a larger turnout than the Americans have drawn for years. They saw the Leafs outplay the New Yorkers in a dull first period and Roy Worters, Amerk goalie, save his team-mates from defeat in that scoreless session.

It looked like another win for Toronto along the lines of their nine to one and seven to three efforts over Joe Simpson's men earlier in the season up to that point but everything changed when the first rest of the New Yorkers outplayed the Leafs for two periods and then all along the line forced the pace in the overtime.

The Leafs were without Charlie Coacher, their best right winger, out of the game with a bad cold. That old master of strategy, Tommy Gorman, knew just how to handle the Americans when they came to Chicago on Sunday to meet his Black Hawks. He wore them down with frequent changes in line, sending new forwards on almost every minute and tired Simpsonmen couldn't take it.

Johnny Gottselig scored two of Chicago's goals in the second period after Lionel Coacher had scored the only first session marker. Paul Thompson made it four to nothing in the final frame. The shutout was Charlie Gardiner's seventh and left him in the lead over Lorne Chabot by one goal.

Frank Boucher, veteran Ranger center, showed there's life in the old boy yet when the New Yorks took the Maroons by three to one on Sunday night. Both his markers, one in the second period and another in the third stanza, came on brilliant individual plays.

By the end of the first half St. Pat's had increased their four-point lead to twelve, the score board registered twenty to eight. The Leafs had not been on the ice for five minutes when Welsh tallied for the Irish. He duplicated his feat a few seconds later, and Mitchell, for Knowlton High, scored the visiting team's fifth basket when he caught his own rebound and lifted the ball into the net.

THETFORD MINES BOYS PUT OFF FINE GAME Although outplayed generally by the "Y" Reds, the Thetford Mines basketball team, which met defeat by 48 to 22 at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday night, gave a fine exhibition of clean playing and fine sportsmanship.

THREE EXCITING CAGE FIXTURES OVER WEEK-END

St. Pat's Academy Defeated Knowlton High School by 54-17, While "Y" Reds and "Y" Blues Were Victorious Over Thetford Mines and Sherbrooke High, Respectively.

Basketball fans were treated to three exciting cage games on Saturday night, two of the fixtures being staged on the Y.M.C.A. floor and the other at the 53rd Armory.

Playing a return game with the St. Pat's Academy, the Knowlton High School representatives went down to defeat by 54 to 17, although this one-sided score was no indication of the true trend of play, for Knowlton put up a valiant fight and kept the Irish lads on their toes throughout the match.

At the Y.M.C.A. the "Y" Reds took a brand new Thetford Mines basketball team into camp by the score of 48 to 22, while the "Y" Blues defeated the Sherbrooke High School by 46 to 37.

The St. Pat's-Knowlton game at the 53rd Armory was witnessed by a large number of fans who went away well satisfied with the fast and clean exhibition that had been staged. At the Y.M.C.A. the "Y" Reds were victorious in their two games at the Y, while the "Y" Blues were victorious in their two games at the Y.

A fast and smooth-working team of basketball players, representing St. Patrick's Academy, defeated the Knowlton High School by the score of fifty-four to seventeen at the 53rd Armory on Saturday night.

The local Irish school lads have been marching steadily ahead during the past three years in the realm of sport, and this winter they again demonstrated their ability in basketball with a splendid team that has unmistakable possibilities.

Several of the St. Pat's players were accustomed to the armory floor and these had a distinct advantage over the Knowlton boys. For St. Pat's, Vernon "Pat" Murphy, diminutive guard, played a splendid game throughout, and led the team with twenty-four points.

The officials were Andrew McAulay, of Scotstown, and J. Dumont, of Cookshire. The teams lined up as follows: Scotstown goal Cookshire Goodin defence Mackie MacRae defence Warren Nicholson defence Mignault Gauthier centre Mowle Allaire l. wing L. Dube Pope r. wing H. Dube

St. Pat's was leading by the score of ten to six, with Knowlton making a determined effort to slip into the lead. The match was a closely-contested and Knowlton missed several fine opportunities in the first stanza to score.

By the end of the first half St. Pat's had increased their four-point lead to twelve, the score board registered twenty to eight. The Leafs had not been on the ice for five minutes when Welsh tallied for the Irish. He duplicated his feat a few seconds later, and Mitchell, for Knowlton High, scored the visiting team's fifth basket when he caught his own rebound and lifted the ball into the net.

The Thetford Mines boys are a new team, organized this year, and travelled to Sherbrooke on Saturday morning to gain experience in the game with the "Y" Reds than anything else. Although outplayed all through the encounter by the Y.M.C.A. squad, they made a splendid showing and proved themselves a plucky little outfit.

SCOTSTOWN WON FIRST VICTORY OVER WEEK-END

Defeated Cookshire by Five to Two in Scheduled Compton Hockey League Fixture—Joe Gauthier Was Individual Star on Victorious Squad.

Scotstown, January 15.—The local intermediates, members of the Compton County Hockey League, broke into the victory column here Saturday night after three unsuccessful attempts to register a win. By a score of five to two, the Scotstown representatives defeated Cookshire, the setback marking the first third straight loss in the current campaign.

Joe Gauthier was the individual star of the local puck-chasers. The hard working centre had a finger in every one of Scotstown's tallies, earning four assists and one goal. Tom Pope was responsible for three of the winners' total and also provided an assist, while Borden Parsons accounted for the fifth tally. L. Dube received credit for both of Cookshire's tallies, Mowle supplying the assistance for the first marker.

The homesters assumed a two-goal margin in the first canto, Pope and Borden Parsons scoring, while Gauthier demonstrated their ability in both cases. At the beginning of the second stanza, Pope netted Scotstown's third goal, Gauthier again participating in the play. L. Dube secured Cookshire's first tally on a pass from Mowle, and Scotstown reached the intermission nursing a three to one lead.

It was in this chukker that many arguments arose. No serious damage resulted, although a total of sixteen minutes was spent in the "cooler." Among the players penalized was Cookshire's netminder, Mackie, who was banished for slashing. Scotstown, however, were unable to augment their lead during Mackie's absence.

The visitors held the upper hand during the first part of the final session and converted their superiority into a single tally, L. Dube taking Goodin's measure on a solo shot. One goal behind, Cookshire pressed hard, but were unable to deadlock the count. After the rink had been cleared, Scotstown scored twice within one minute and a half, Gauthier and Pope providing one another with the passes which gave the home team a comfortable lead.

The officials were Andrew McAulay, of Scotstown, and J. Dumont, of Cookshire. The teams lined up as follows: Scotstown goal Cookshire Goodin defence Mackie MacRae defence Warren Nicholson defence Mignault Gauthier centre Mowle Allaire l. wing L. Dube Pope r. wing H. Dube never given a chance during the last half of play to diminish the existing margin. Gerry Dunsmore was high scoring in the game, having nine baskets, representing eighteen points, while the final whistle blew. Newton Munkittrick, at centre, had twelve points, and Stan Lothrop, playing left forward, had ten to his credit.

Starting for Thetford Mines were D. Tarani, S. Hodje and H. Gray. Tarani scoring eight points, Hodje six and Gray four.

The line-ups were as follows: "Y" Reds: Right forward, D. Reid; 4; left forward, S. Lothrop; 10; centre, N. Munkittrick; 12; right guard, W. Coburn; 2; G. Dunsmore; 8; and, S. Simpson.

Thetford Mines: Right forward, D. Tarani; 8; left forward, J. Bate-man; 2; centre, A. H. Visser, jr.; 1; right guard, M. McCallum; left guard, M. Seely; subs, S. Hodje, G. H. Gray; 4; M. Bateman; 1; V. McGowen; H. Talamage; and J. Smith.

A KEEN CONTEST Two well-balanced aggregations clashed at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday night when "Y" Blues defeated the High School basketball team by a margin of nine points, the final score reading 46 to 37.

The game throughout was closely contested—the fans being treated to one of the finest basketball exhibitions at the "Y" this year. At half time the Blues were leading by three points, the score being twenty to seventeen. Having secured an early lead, the Blues managed to retain it during the entire game, although it was threatened by the determined High School squad on more than one occasion.

A number of thrilling individual plays were made, but both teams missed some fine opportunities to score when they shot wide of the basket. W. Wolter, with twelve points to his credit, was high-scoring man for the Blues. Sid Ball obtained the most points for his team, when he put the High total up by eleven points. W. Hammond also played a fine game for the school, tallying ten points.

BEDFORD GAINS LEADERSHIP OF COUNTY LEAGUE

Defeated Sutton by Two to One in Long Overtime Fixture to Assume First Place in Bromfield Hockey Group—Waterloo Scored Unexpected Win Over Farnham.

Bedford, Jan. 15.—Bedford rules the Brome-Missisquoi Counties Hockey League today following their hard-earned overtime victory yesterday over Sutton. By a score of two to one, the local color-bearers defeated Doc. Armstrong's boys, but only achieved their victory after nineteen minutes of overtime. The win broke the triple deadlock which previously existed for the leadership, while a three-team tie for second place was created when Waterloo scored an unexpected four to one victory over Farnham on Saturday.

The quartette comprising W. Hopkins, Albert Lemay, Dave Salls and A. H. Foss, skip, carried over the chickens in the special prize competition at the Sherbrooke Curling Club Saturday afternoon. They defeated Harold Peabody's rink by a count of fourteen to four for the highest net score of the afternoon.

Bob Costley's entry came a close second with a margin of nine points over Charles Davis' rink and captured the runners-up prizes. In the third encounter, the rink skipped by George Ewing outpointed that of Fred Southwood by eleven to six, and in the fourth match, Bob Baker won from C. F. Moreau by eight to four.

SNOW SLOWED UP GAME AT WATERLOO Waterloo, Jan. 15.—A snow storm which continued uninterrupted during the entire game handicapped the regular fixture between Farnham and Waterloo, and slowed the usual fast pace these teams provide under ideal conditions. Waterloo won the decision by four to one and jumped into a three-way tie with Cowansville and Farnham for the runner-up position in the Brome-Missisquoi loop.

The home team was never threatened after Frank Graves and Paquette registered tallies during the opening frame. Graves scored his first point after twelve minutes of play, and Paquette followed seven minutes later. Both goals were tallied on individual rushes.
