ADJUST YOUR CLOCKS

Be careful to put your clocks back an hour on Saturday by midnight especially if you don't want to be "out" on your church attendance. Besides taking care of this essential it will give you an extra hour of Saturday night recreation and teen-agers will particularly appreciate the excuse for an extra long evening, still being able to arrive home "on the dot" at stipulated hour set by parents.

So at midnight you will have a satisfying choice, an extra hour before retiring or an extra hour's solid sleep. Put your clocks back an hour.

H. Boyd Heads Mechanics' Institute

H. H. Boyd, a director since 1935, was elected president of the Mechanics Institute of Montreal last night at the monthly meeting of directors in the library on Atwater at Tupper street. Thirty-fifth president since incorporation of the Mechanics' Institute in 1840 he succeeds the late C. J. A. Cook, who died last May after holding the presidency since 1945. Mr. Boyd is assistant chief of motive power and rolling stock with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The library now has 50,000 volumes, it was stated in a report to the directors, and a membership of 1,000. It is open to the public at a small yearly fee with membership divided among voting and non-voting members.

In response to popular demand, fiction, biography and all popular reading now is on the shelves but the Institute still retains its original purpose to "afford instruction and knowledge in the arts, sciences and industry."

The aim of its founders was to provide a training centre for students and its technical and other reference books are of a high standard.

Pedestrian Struck Crossing Street

As Mrs. Winifred Atkinson, of 441 Mount Pleasant avenue, was crossing south to north, on the east side of the Greene avenue and Sherbrooke street intersection, last Monday evening, she was struck down by an automobile proceeding westward on Sherbrooke street.

Police answered an emergency call, and found, on arrival at the scene of the accident, that the woman had been taken to the American Drug Store, 1385 Greene avenue.

She was conveyed to the Western Division of the General Hospital in an ambulance, and was treated by Dr. Stratford. Both her legs were found to have been fractured below the knees, and she sustained lacerations on her forehead and on her left hand.

The driver of the vehicle involved in the accident, Maurice Houle, 31, of 1866 Poupart street, Montreal, told the police that he was crossing the intersection on a green light, and did not see the woman until after his car had struck her. Mrs. Atkinson did not notice whether she was crossing with or against the light.

REPRESENTS INDUSTRY

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

Well, I hope all Scoutes in Westmount are planning to attend the Provincial Conference at North Hatley, Quebec, this Thanksgiving weekend, October 11th to 13th. The conference will be the first one of its kind since before the war, and should prove of immense value to all leaders, committee members and others in Scouting. If you haven't yet sent in your reply to make reservations, do so now, in order that space for you may be guaranteed and so no one shall be disappointed. First come, first serve. Don't wait until it's too late, and then come out with that old and over-worked excuse, "I Forgot". Well?

An important document in the history of the Boy Scout Movement, the original manuscript of "Scouting for Boys" written by Lord Baden-Powell nearly forty years ago, and thought to have been destroyed, recently came into the possession of the Boy Scouts Association.

The manuscript was brought to the Boy Scouts Imperial Headquarteds by an elderly gentleman, who said that forty years ago he was a clerk in the War Office, and had been loaned to the then General Baden-Powell to do some work for him. The work had consisted among other things of copytyping the first manuscript of Scouting for Boys. The hand-written draft had been in his possession for the past forty years, and he had not realized its importance.

Scouting for Boys was published in 1908, and appeared in fortnightly parts which were read eagerly by boys all over the country Baden-Powell's idea was to adapt the principals of Scouting he had developed in the army so that they could be used by the existing boys organizations in their programmes.

However, not long after the publication of the book, boys began to form themselves into patro's, find men to become Scoutmasters, and improvise uniforms, and it soon became apparent that a new boys' organization was springing up.

Scouting for Boys can be said to be the book on which the world-wide Scout Movement was founded. Indeed, to-day, forty years later, it is still the basic handbook used by Scouts all over the world.

WINTER UNIFORM

When members of the Dominion Executive Committee of the Canadian Boy Scout Council meet in Winnipeg on October 10th, they will examine a proposed new winter uniform for Scouts in Canada, it was announced today by George Ferguson, Otaowo, Executive Commissioner for Stores at Dominion Scout Headquarters.

An all-purpose outfit designed for everyday wear as well as for Scout functions, the winter uniform has been designed by experts. Shortage of material will make it impossible to have a general distribution of the new uniform this year, but sufficient will be available to have field tests made under actual winter conditions.

A new winter boot for Scouts has been designed and is now being distributed by the manufacturer to dealers throughout Canada, Mr. Ferguson added.

Clothes Designing

To be a designer, you should know colour schemes, and different materials, to perfection; be able to sew and draw, and have original ideas.

Try your designing on paper dolls, or ordinary ones first. The result, on a small basis, will give you an idea of what your creations will look like on a person — so designers tell us. We insist that all you have to do to make a hobby of designing is to take a look at the fashion picture.

Those long skirts, for instance. Can you see yourself walking in six inches of snow in a dres three inches from the ground? Add the padded hips, and jitterbugging become impossible; even slow dancing will be difficult, which means that we're back to waltzes and minuets!

And soon, too, boys will be wearing shorts. No doubt they'll add sloppy-joes to them — and the girls will do the whistling!

Oh, please! Won't some of you take up designing as a hobby?

Social Notes

Most, if not all, the local crowd expected to turn up at the 'Y' tonight for the Y.EBA dance . . . What next? Thelma Cassidy claims to be psychic . . . Clifford Elder getting re-acquainted with Montreal after his trip out west . . . Surprise! "Happy Birthday, Mary." — That was how Mary Culbert was greeted when she got home at 9 p.m. Saturday — A closer glance revealed the whole gang, about 12 couples, waiting for her . . . René de Cotret still in hospital — get well soon, René . . . It's our turn to gloat now — yep, the time has come, at last, when you college guys and gals must think of getting up early, and homework, and such . . . And that, for some awful reason, reminds me of geometry . . . So — be seeing you!

HOLLYWOOD—Mario Lanza is Hollywood's latest "rave". He's the young tenor with what critics call "the greatest voice since Caruso." He made a sensational Hollywood Bowl debut a couple of weeks ago, then gave a special audition at M-G-M for Louis B. Mayer and others, wound up with an M-G-M film contract.

In hot weather the barefoot boy with feet of tan makes us wish we weren't a man.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

Difficulties in Distinction

"Can you see that Warbler poking around under the bushes over there, walking instead of hopping? That means it must be a Mourning, doesn't it?" Edith inquired.

"It may be, but not necessarily. Connecticut Warblers act like that, and they walk too," Marjorie explained. "Those two kinds look so very much alike: slate-blue head and chest, yellow underneath. Has it a white eye-ring? If so, that would settle the matter, the bird must be a Connecticut".

"No, it has no eye-ring. But still it might be an inmature one; the ring doesn't always show up at first. Juveniles are so confusing at this time of year!"

"Don't I know! Yesterday I saw a Bay-breasted, or a young Blackpoll, but honestly I don't know which. Indeed it might have been a young Tennessee, or even a female Blackburnian. If only I had been a little closer I might have been able to tell whether or not it had the buffy flanks of the Bay-breasted, or the streaked back and wing-bars of the Black-poll or the clear yellow throat of the Blackburian. How strange it seems to mix up birds now that look so very different from each other in the spring!"

After the autumn moult resemblances appear that could scarcely be imagined earlier in the year. Even a Cape May and a Magnolia are similar now. As for the couples that were so very different in springtime, several of them, to the ordinary observer are identical. In winter plumage Mr. Goldfinch is similar to his spouse; you might easily mistake Mr. Bobolink for his wife once he has removed his odd costume that is darker underneath than on top and taken on her sombre suit of yellow-buff with stripes on back and wings. The Scarlet Tanager belies his name, because during the summer he has gradually lost his brilliant red coat and dons his mate's green.

Many juveniles now resemble their mothers: for example the young Canada Warblers with just an indication of the black necklace. The Rosebreasted Grosbeak children have the general appearance of their mother; but the males show a suggestion of the father's rose bib and are pink under their wings.

And so when the birds pass through on their southern journey we find identification much more difficult than we did in the spring.

Homoeopathic's Drive Drawing To A Close

The Homoeopathic Hospital's current campaign for funds, vitally needed to cover a sizeable deficit and the replacement of obsolescent equipment, in order that the hospital may serve the community with the utmost efficiency, will draw to a close at the end of this week.

Collections to date have passed $50,000 in the drive for $67,000, campaign authorities announced yesterday morning, and it is hoped that donations received before the campaign closes will bring it to a successful conclusion.

The same thing has happened in other campaigns, it is reported. Some of the Hospital's best subscribers put off sending in their contributions until the last day or so, and then they arrive with a rush. Authorities hope the same thing will happen this time.

R. L. Greenfield Dies Suddenly At His Residence

Death came suddenly last week to Robert Lawrence Greenfield, one of the oldest employees of The Monitor Publishing Company, who passed away in his sleep on Thursday last at his home 5282 Park Avenue. The late Mr. Greenfield was in his 68th year.

While of an unassuming nature and quiet disposition, "Bob" as he was best known to his many friends in the newspaper world where he was well known, was well liked and highly esteemed by all who came in contact with him. He was possessed of considerable "dry humour", and his many friends always enjoyed a chat with him on any topic. He was a keen observer of all matters relating to politics and world affairs which he followed with considerable interest. He was a well known figure in the advertising world a business he had become particularly interested in. His passing came as a great surprise to his colleagues on The Monitor Publishing Staff, and deep regret was expressed by them all when they learned of "Bob's" sudden death.

The late Mr. Greenfield was a former telegraph operator with the Associated Press when that news service office was located in the Gazette building years ago.

Becoming interested in the advertising business he was employed for the past 15 years in the advertising department of The Monitor Publishing Company.

He is survived by his widow, the former Ethel Moffatt, one son, Robin Ian, of Winnipeg, and one daughter, Mrs. J. D. Richardson-Pinguey, of Montreal.

The funeral was a private one from the funeral chapel of Thomas Kane Inc. 5220 Park Avenue, and interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Auto Skids Strikes Woman

Shortly before 9 a.m., last Friday, a streetcar proceeding west on Sherbrooke Street, stopped at Wood Avenue to discharge a passenger. The front door opened, and Mrs. Imbi Erkkile stepped to the street, and started for the sidewalk.

At that moment, she was struck and knocked to the pavement by a car driven by A. R. Hodgeson, 31, of 188 Cote St. Antoine road, who was going west. The driver braked his car, but it skidded on the wet pavement.

He took Mrs. Erkkile in his car to the Western Division of the General Hospital, where she was treated by Dr. Lingard, for contusions of her back and left arm.

Phillips Motley In Recital

Last Sunday in one of the series of organ recitals at St. Andrew's Westmount, Mr. Motley played a programme of the best in organ literature, all this in his own unique style. In the audience one noted quite a number of church organists from the City Churches.

Opening with three Bach compositions, the bright short G Minor fugue, a poignant Chorale Prelude, and the massive prelude and fugue (the Cathedral) in E Minor; each played with authority and fine judgment. Mr. Motley is splendidly equipped technically, but wins most admiration by his interpretation, lucidity and exceptional clearness of thought being dominant in his playing.

He seems destined to wear the mantle of the late lamented George M. Brewer, and to be regarded as an organist in the highest rank of Canadian truly great organists.

From Bach, he turned to John Stanley, an English composer of the eighteenth century, and delighted the audience with a tune for flutes. In this work he exemplified the lovely tones of the liquid flutes of the organ, which are nearly life-like in their purity. Francois Couperin' Soeur Monique as played by Mr. Motley was indeed a dainty piece of work, and prepared the people for the "Gothic Suite" by Boellman, a piece of four contrasting movements, ending with a dazzling Toccata which sent everyone away in the happiest mood. Next Sunday's recital has been postponed.

Scene On a Hollywood Sound Stage

HOLLYWOOD — Fay Holden, Mickey Rooney's mother in all the Hardy Family pictures, visited at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and made her first stop at Mickey's set when he was doing boxing scenes for "Killer McCoy," his latest picture.

When Mickey spotted her, he called her up into the ring, and, over the loud speaker, introduced her to the crowd. "Hey, everybody, you know my mom?" he shouted, and his words followed by a round of applause brought tears to her eyes.

Later, she had to leave in the midst of "her boy's" boxing scenes. "Looks too real," she shuddered.

Catholic Adult Education Plans Registration Soon

Courses in the Appreciation and History of Art and in Public Speaking have been added to the current curricula of the Catholic Adult Education Committee which will offer its evening lectures for the third consecutive year beginning Tuesday, Oct. 14. Both classes may be followed either solely for the cultural content or also with the intention of securing credits for a B. A. degree which is granted through arrangement with the University of Montreal.

Based on an intensification of the Art course now on the regular program at McGill University, the Art Appreciation sessions will treat of art from man's earliest indulgence in it via sculpture, architecture and painting down to the present day, and will include an extensive display of illustrations through slides, films and painting.

Dr. Arthur Lismer, A.R.C.A., LL.D., Educational Supervisor of the Art Association of Montreal and a painter of note himself, will give the course, in conjunction with visiting lecturers, by cooperation with the Educational Department of the Art Association The classes, which will last one and a half hours, will be held Tuesday, from 8 to 9.30 p.m. at the Art Centre, 3430 Ontario St.

Student participation in each two hour per week lecture will feature the Public Speaking course of fifty hours which also occurs on Tuesdays from 8 to 10 p.m. It was felt that a course dealing with delivery, and vocabulary, which would treat of position, gesture, enunciation, sustaining audience attention and tone would be a cultural benefit to the student and his community.

Harold Mayer, who has had extensive experience in the field of speech and diction will conduct the class.

Registration for the courses will commence on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 4, at the Campion Bookshop, 1184 Phillips Place, and both Rev. R. Eric O'Connor, S.J., Ph.D., Dean of Studies of the Catholic Adult Education Committee and John A. McIlhone, M.A., registrar, will be present for interviews with credit students. Those who do not intend earning credits may enroll on the evenings before the courses at D'Arcy McGee High School, during the first week of courses, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

Head Hunting Is Good Sport Still In Papua

Cannibalism and head-hunting is still the normal way of life for natives in some regions of Papua and New Guinea.

Recently, 15 natives were killed during a raid on a village in the Lake Murray area. Tried before a Papuan supreme court judge, the perpetrators were given a severe lecturing and then returned to their villages. The natives involved had had little contact with civilization and could hardly be punished according to the white man's standards.

But natives who knew right from wrong and live in controlled areas are properly punished. In April a native policeman in Rabaul killed a woman. He was sentenced one day, hanged the next.

Police are now investigating the ambush slaying of a party which was bringing in prisoners from a remote area of Papua. The savages killed two police escorts and carried away the heads of the two prisoners. They also hacked off the wrists with the handcuffs on them.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE

...d Models ...rd To Find

...the current controversy ...over women's dress lengths ...ith war-time dress auster- ...thing of the past, modern ...are more than ever aware ..., and all that it entails.

Not a small part of the fashion business in a city like Montreal is the "fashion show" . . . the latest fashions from Paris and New York paraded before the prospective buyer by smart, well-poised models, who confidently "wear in order to sell".

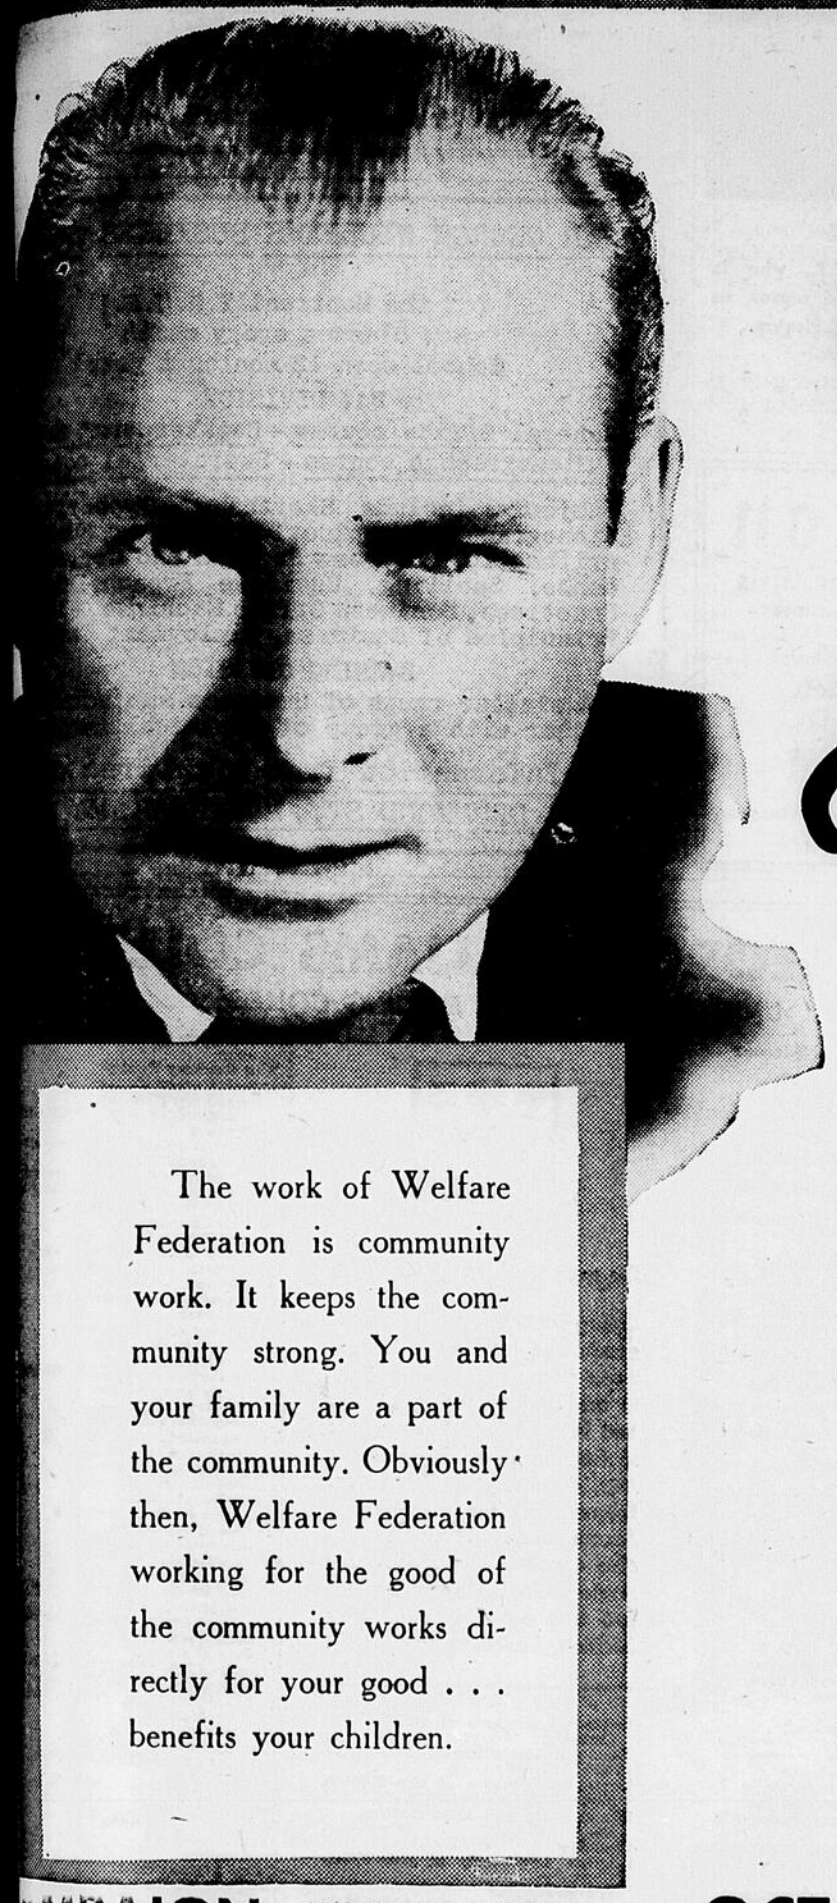

Strangely enough, good models are hard to find, and it is amazing how this field has been ignored by young Canadian women, who have never thought of finding in modelling both a highly satisfying and highly remunerative profession. The Canadian Art Theatre, realizing this, has decided to add to its interests a School of Modelling, in which young ladies and women may further explore the hidden values of modelling, both as a profession and a hobby.

A competent modelling staff has been gathered under a Director of many years' experience, and classes, both in daytime and evening sections, will present periods of poise training, fashion modelling, and the allied subjects. Great care will be exercised in the bringing out of individual "high-spots", in the overcoming of awkwardness and in the creation of confidence among the students.

Such a modelling course will not only prove of value to the girl or woman contemplating modelling as a career, but will also aid many a young lady in the attaining of a personal grace and poise, which can not help but be beneficial in everyday social and business life.

Enrolment in this course, as in all Canadian Art Theatre courses, is limited.

...ERE'S WHAT WE MEAN WHEN WE SAY

The work of Welfare Federation is community work. It keeps the community strong. You and your family are a part of the community. Obviously then, Welfare Federation working for the good of the community works directly for your good . . . benefits your children.

"Everybody Benefits Everybody Gives"

The good your Red Feather Dollars do Reaches Right Into Your Own Home . . . Into The Lives of Your Own Children.

YOU MIGHT ASK: "Specifically, how does Welfare Federation benefit me and mine?"

I SAY: "In a thousand ways. By preventing, controlling and curing contagious diseases in the community, Red Feather dollars protect your health . . . the health of your children."

"By helping to curb conditions that lead to juvenile delinquency, Red Feather dollars, through Welfare Federation, help to provide a better community environment for your children.

"Your business, any business, is only as strong as the community. Therefore, an investment in the work of Welfare Federation is an investment in the future of your business . . . it is insurance against broken windows, petty thefts, future homicide.

"Consider too, that your contribution is helping others as well as yourself . . . that economists, statesmen and business men have yet to find a more economical or efficient method of helping the unfortunate . . . the needy . . . than the method provided by Welfare Federation and its trained workers.

"I am firmly convinced that a contribution to Welfare Federation is not necessarily charity, it is a sound investment in the present and in the future. If you agree, when the Red Feather Canvasser calls, invest to the limit."

Student Centre To House 3,000

Plans are going forward in Croydon, near London, to build an international centre for students from all over the world. This project will house 3,000 students who can live there while they are carrying out specialized studies in Britain.

The centre, surrounded by nine acres of lawns and gardens will consist of three blocks of six-floor buildings. Each student will have his own room, and there'll be an assembly hal, theatre, cinema seating 1,000, library, gymnasium and swimming pool.

Promoter of the project is 34-year-old veteran Terence Driscoll, founder of the International Language Club, which now stands on the site of the new centre. He believes that students from all nations should get together to encourage world peace, and in the new centre they will be doing just that for they will be living, working, and spending their leisure hours together.

Terence Driscoll is representative of many who feel that by projects such as these, hope of international understanding, and peace in our time, can become a permanent reality.

NEW BOND ISSUE COMING

The decision to offer a second series of Canada Savings Bonds, forecast some time ago, has been confirmed by the Hon. Douglas Abbott, Minister of Finance. The new issue goes on sale on October 14th.

The Minister of Finance stated that the second series of Canada Savings Bonds will be dated November 1st, 1947, and will bear interest at the rate of 2¾% each year for ten years. They may be redeemed at any time at any bank in Canada for full face value plus interest and will be registered in the owner's name — affording protection against loss. Not more than $1,000 of this series may be registered in any one name.

Mr. Abbott pointed out that the new series will enable the continuance of the Payroll Savings Plan now in operation in thousands of organizations throughout the country, and will also permit its installation by other companies who recognize its value. The new Canada Savings Bonds will also be available for purchase by the general public, who may buy them for cash or on instalments.

Mr. Abbott said that the reception given to Canada Savings Bonds since their introduction last October had provided the main reason for the new offering. Purchases have been made since that time by more than 1,200,000 Canadians. This total includes 623,840 employees who used Payroll Savings Plan facilities provided by their employers.

DO WE PAY TOO MUCH?

How much profit did the average American manufacturer make per dollar of sales from 1929 to 1946 inclusive, eighteen years?

Many made good profits, some lost. To get the net results of industry as a whole we must subtract the losses from the gains and divide the total dollar value of production into net profits. Now put down on the corner of this page what you think would be a fair average profit during these eighteen hectic years. You will get the answer before you reach the end of the story, writes R. J. Deachman, Consulting Economist, of Ottawa.

I asked twenty different people this question. The answers ranged all the way from ½ of 1% to 25%. The answer comes within this range — it could hardly go outside of it, either way.

Here's some help for you: 1929 was a good year in the United States, profits averaged 6.25c per dollar of sales.

The stock market crashed in 1929, hard times came, hot foot. Profits dropped to 2.25c per dollar of sales in 1930.

The average deficit per dollar of sales was 1.14c in 1931, 1932 was worse, a loss of 4.6c per dollar of sales. When we average up these four years, the profit margin becomes mighty small, less than one per cent, not quite three-quarters of one per cent. By 1936 profits were back to 5.14c, but fell back in 1938 to 2.26c.

The war broke out in Europe in 1939 and profits of manufacturers increased. The rate rose to 5.15c in 1939; 5.81c in 1940 and 6.19c in 1941.

The Americans entered the war in 1941. Did the profits rise or fall on American entry into the war? You may take a guess on that too, you won't have long to wait for your answer. Fro ma high of 6.19c per dollar of sales in 1941 the profits declined to 3.21c in 1945.

The average of the four years from 1942 through 1945 were 3.56c for each dollar of sales. The figure for 1946 is tentative, and is partly estimated. The final figure will not materially change totals or averages.

During the eighteen years profits averaged out at 3.2c for each dollar of sales. Look back at the figure you scribbled on this page. How close did you come to the right answer? Two ex-M's of P. came closest. Their guess was 3c. The two highest guesses 17 and 25 c were made by men who, politically, were far to the left. More were under the 6c level than above it.

Now let's look at the 3.2c. In the aggregate it's a large sum. We read of huge amounts paid out in dividends and forget that when measured against the total volume of production they are very small. Do we pay too much? It would be difficult to pay less. The average is only slightly more than the rate of bond interest. Is that too much? You have the facts: What is the answer? Or should I say: What was your answer? Try it on your friends. Perhaps your friends may guess better than mine — perhaps not.

DON'T GIVE UP TOO EASILY

In view of the large number of drowning fatalities that have been reported this year, the advice of Dr. Gordon Bates of the Health League of Canada is worth the attention of all. Too often, Dr. Bates declares, artificial respiration has not been continued long enough to be certain that life is extinct. As a result, it is only fair to conclude, some unfortunate victims have been given up for dead when their lives might have been saved by continued effort.

Any one who has had experience with the rescue of drowning casualties can recall instances in which unconscious persons have been revived after almost every one present had given up hope. Dr. Bates himself points to cases of successful resuscitation in which the victim had been under water for nearly half an hour before being rescued. The fact underlines the importance of continuing artificial respiration as long as the slightest hope for recovery remains.

Applying artificial respiration requires the expenditure of more physical effort than is generally credited. It is not hard to understand the discouragement that follows when, after many long minutes of hard work, the victim shows no sign of life — no pulse, no heart beat, no eye reflex. But the knowledge that life can be saved after as long as four hours of artificial respiration should keep rescuers working, in relays, until the onset of rigor mortis proves that death has, indeed, won.

Any one vacationing near water would do well to remember Dr. Bates' three essentials for reviving drowning victims. They are:

1. Clear the air passage by pulling out tongue and any other obstruction.
2. Apply artificial respiration (preferably the Schaeffer method).
3. Keep artificial respiration up for at least four hours, or until rigor mortis sets in.

PRAISE FOR BRITISH WOMEN

The women of Great Britain are carrying on the struggle to win the peace as strenuously as they did in war time, says Mrs. G. H. Edgar, Honorary Treasurer of the British Legion Women's Section, now touring Canada.

Her body of workers now total 500,000 with 2,600 branches scattered all over the United Kingdom. They operate two convalescent homes where windows or female dependents may go and receive free medical care. In addition they have opened a children's home and plan to open a considerable number when housing accommodations are available.

Mrs. Edgar said that there were 700 children in London alone waiting to get in their home who are either bombed-out orphans or in destitute circumstances.

In her talks to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion she outlined in detail the struggles they were having in trying to maintain these homes. Two of the biggest difficulties were the shortages of food and clothing.

In spite of the talk about a neutral war effort from Southern Ireland, she mentioned that they have quite a number of workers there who carried on during the war and are also active at present.

GIVE THE YOUNG A CHANCE

Mr. D. M. Naismith, now 88 years of age, the inventor of basketball, who graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College in 1878, in a letter to the Mount Forest Confederate, tells how, at 15 years of age, he wrote tenders for his father, a railroad contractor, involving $500,000, in one instance, and $128,000, in another.

Present day contracts may be too complicated for fifteen-year-old boys, but there is a great deal of today's work which could be done by young men and women, at which they never get a chance until middle age.

One of the reasons young people leave Canada is that there are too many old people sitting on the lid of opportunity.—The Scene from Shingwauk Farm.

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Touro Synagogue in Newport, R.I. most historic place of Jewish worship in the United States and one of the nation's oldest religions monuments, has recently been dedicated as a national shrine. In 1790 George Washington spoke in the synogogue, delivering a famous message on liberty of conscience and toleration.

British railways union stated in a report to the Trades Union Congress that shortage of labor and poor condition of the war-worn rolling stock would make the railways dangerous next winter if the freeze-up is as bad as 1946-47. The report stated that one locomotive in every five and at least one freight car in eight are being repaired and 12,000 more men are needed. Since Sept. 1946, 20,000 railway workers—including 6,000 on "foot plate jobs"'—left industry. The state of the roadway causes anxity. Concrete ties were being used on many stretches but the general condition of the lines has caused a slow-down policy on many routes.

The shocking truth is that during the first 6 months of 1946 eighty persons each day have been killed by motor vehicles. Last year with eleven per cent less traffic deaths were 92 each day. This of course is a national disaster but largely through carelessness. If the 14,490 traffic deaths had occured at once in one place the nation would have been stirred into doing something to stop such slaughter.

Rev. B. B. Brown Interim Minister At St. James Utd.

Rev. F. W. Norwood and Mrs. Norwood returned last week from England and have taken up residence on Walkley Avenue.

At a meeting of the Official Board of St. James United Church last Thursday, Dr. Norwood resigned as Interim Minister on account of his absence from the city on preaching and lecturing missions in the United States and Canada this Fall. The Board, upon motion of Prof. W. A. Gifford, passed a resolution asking the Presbytery to appoint as Interim Minister Rev. B. B. Brown, until a call is given and a pastorate is settled.

Mr. Brown has been serving St. James since July as Visiting Minister. The Pulpit Supply Committee is proceeding to investigate and survey the field for a suitable pastor for St. James.

Next Sunday, Rev. R. DeWitt Scott, Secretary of Presbytery, will preach in the morning, and Rev. Dr. A. Lloyd Smith in the evening.

A Rally Day service for the Sunday School will be conducted in the Lecture Hall next Sunday at 3 p.m. when W. M. LeBrocq, acting superintendent, will preside. A story will be narrated by Miss Marygold Nash — "The Church of the Friendly Heart".

Every scholar is expected to be present and new members to the school will be cordially welcome.

In the evening Rev. Graham Scott will preach at the service at 7.30 p.m. taking as his theme "Take Care of Him." Following the evening service at 8.45 p.m. the Young People's Union will begin the season's work with a meeting in the Friendship Parlor to which every young person is invited.

"Out of Great Tribulation." This will be the Title of the morning address in Westmount Baptist Church. Dr. Johnston will tell of what happened to Churches in Norway and how, "Having Washed Their Robes", these Norwegian Christians came out of the long dark night of German occupation more truly Christian than they had ever been. A brief "Children's Talk" is one of the fine features of the Morning Worship.

"Through the Blitz to Abundant Blessing". At the evening service the Minister will tell the thrilling story of a London East-End Church which, with devastation all around it, stayed with its task and has come through to a period of unprecedented success in practical Christian life and service.

Following the evening service, the first Westmount Christian Youth Fellowship will be held in the McKergow Room. This will be a fine gathering of young men and women. A small orchestra will be present. A brief address on a most vital subject will be given. Refreshments will be served. Young men and women are very cordially invited to share in this inspiring gathering.

St. Andrew's Church

A new season's activities have begun in the week-day organizations in St. Andrew's. The Girl Guides, Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs have resumed their weekly meetings. The Church School, in all departments, will reopen on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. There is needed still a leader to take charge of the Brownie Pack.

Two of the four Organ Recitals arranged by Mr. Fred Whiteley have already been presented—the guest organists being Dean Arthur Collingwood, of the University of Saskatchewan, and Phillips Motley, organist of First Baptist Church and Temple Emanu-El. These recitals, so ably presented, have elicited many favorable comments. The two remaining recitals will be offered on the first two Sunday evenings in October. With the Choir, Mr. Whiteley is making preparation for the rendition of Handel's Dettingen "Te Deum"—a work of deep religious significance.

On Sunday morning Rev. D. M. Grant will preach the second in a brief series of sermons on the general theme, "In a World like Ours," the particular subject on Sunday being "The Task of the Church". In the evening Rev. Andrew Mowatt will preach his farewell sermon, before leaving for Calgary where he will become minister of Wesley United Church.

Sunday, October 5th, is World-Wide Communion Sunday. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the morning Worship, with pre-Communion Service on Friday evening, Oct. 3rd at 8 o'clock.

Hon. T. J. Coonan Speaker At CWL

The opening tea of the Westmount C.W.L. was held on Tuesday at St. Leo's School Hall. The president, Mrs. A. I. Peterson, was in the chair.

The guest speaker, Honorable Justice T. J. Coonan was introduced by Reverend W. E. McDonagh. "The Canadian Viewpoint" was the subject of his address. The speaker stressed the point that while all Canadians were not Christian, ninety-nine per-cent, if not active Christians are living in a Christian heritage.

The Canadian Viewpoint is first, said the speaker, the Christian Viewpoint; second, self-interest for family. The Christian viewpoint is the democratic state. Europe unless she receives help from God and material help from the rest of the world, will starve. An economic war in Europe will bring chaos.

The speaker was thanked by Mrs. R. M. Maccaulay.

Tea was served by Mrs. H. Kierans and her committee.

Catholic Church In India, Subject Xavier Guild Talk

The opening meeting of the Xavier Apostalate Guild took place in Congress Hall on Monday, Mrs. J. M. Hayes presiding. The speaker, His Grace the Most Reverend Mar Ivanios, O.I.C., spoke on the position of the Catholic Church in India and on the present political situation there.

The speaker drew attention to the antiquity of the Christian Church in India. The earliest converts to Christianity were Brahmins. On account of social conditions they refrained from admitting members of other communities into their society, and for several years remained an exclusive sect. It was only when the European missionaries went to India in the 16th century that Christianity spread to all parts of the continent.

St. Thomas gave to the Oriental Church the Aramaic language and all Liturgical books of India are in that language. The speaker told how he, with two other bishops and 124 priests became members of the Catholic Church in 1930. Since then 57,000 people have followed them.

The bishop said that there is no birth control in India and the average growth of population per year is 5,000,000. Now that India has become free there is a large demand for many more schools and colleges as well as for hospitals, orphanages and asylums of various kinds.

India, he noted, may be said to be divided into two main political groups, the Hindus and the Moslems. The nine provinces that make up the Dominion of India have each a Hindu majority population, the major minority being Moslems. There are as well, about 600 native states ruled by Indian Princes. Most of these latter states have announced their intention of uniting with the Dominion of India. Four states at first declared they would remain independent, but one of these, Travancore, with a population of six and a half millions, has declared its intention of uniting with the Dominion of India.

"The troubles and massacres you read of in the papers," declared the archbishop, "are confined to certain localities and it is now unlikely they will become widespread." The Indian is essentially religious-minded. He sincerely believes in his religion and practices it.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. E.M. Brown, S.J. and thanked by Mrs. Malcolm Gruner. Musical selections were given by Mrs. O'Kane, violinist, and Miss Helen Chamberlain, cellist, both members of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra. Miss Nora Merrigan sang two solos accompanied by the music convener, Miss Ethel McDermott.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY SIMON URSIC

The marriage of Miss Patricia Mary McCaffrey and Mr. Henry Simon Ursic was solemnized in St. Malachy's Chhurch on Saturday September 6th, Reverend Father John T. Britt, P.P., officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ignatius McCaffrey, of N.D.G., while Mr. Ursic is the son of Mr. John Ursic and the late Mrs. Ursic of Millers Heights, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Ursic will reside in Millers Heights, Pa., U.S.A.

Douglas J. Wilson To Be Guest Speaker At NDG Club Opening

Members of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club are eagerly looking forward to the opening of the club season 1947-48 which will take place on Friday, Oct. 3rd at 3 p.m. under the presidency of Mrs. Norman B. Muir.

The speaker on this occasion will be Douglas J. Wilson, M.A., Ph.D., well known educationist, psychologist and editorial writer of the Montreal Daily Star. Dr. Wilson will speak on the subject, "Education for a New Day."

Mr. Charles Young, Executive Director of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies will give a short talk on the Annual Welfare Campaign.

Princess Elizabeth Will Receive Gift Of Canadian Blankets

A wedding gift of fine Canadian blankets for Princess Elizabeth will be on display at the 25th annual meeting of the Canadian Woollen and Knit Goods Manufacturers Association to be held in Montreal on October 28-29. To be presented by the Canadian blanket industry, the gift will be delivered by air express to add a warm and colourful gift that is typically Canadian to the many gifts which will be sent to Princess Elizabeth from all over the world.

"Owing to our climate, necessity has resulted in our producing excellent blankets in Canada," a spokesman for the industry said. "To be modest, the blankets being sent to Princess Elizabeth are as fine as any produced in the world. In cold fact, they are finer than any blankets produced in other countries."

Marking the 25th anniversary of the Association, woollen, hosiery and knit goods manufacturers from 160 municipalities representative of every province in Canada will attend the annual meeting at the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal. While the industry is one of the oldest in Canada its growth during the past quarter century is indicated by the increase in number of persons employed from 17,000 in 1921 to 41,000 in 1946, while the annual payroll of the industry has increased from $14,328,500 in 1921 to $54,000,000 in 1916.

Business Women Planning Retreat

A closed retreat for young business women will be sponsored over the weekend of Nov. 7 to Nov. 9 by the Junior Branch of the Business Women's Sacred Heart Association, it has been announced. Conducted by a member of the Jesuit order, it will be held at the Sacred Heart Convent, Atwater Avenue.

The retreat is going to adhere to the principle of the organization in that it has been planned to suit the needs of a young woman working in the business world who would enjoy two days reflection of life and its meaning away from the general everyday concerns.

Discussion periods feature the regular monthly meetings of the group who organized themselves last year, and they occur mainly on Sunday mornings. The seasonal program will be inaugurated by a meeting in the form of a tea at which a short address will be given by the Chaplain, Rev. Gerald McGuigan, S. J., M. A., Loyola College.

Those interested in the tea may call Noreen Forrester at By. 3064, and anyone who desires additional information concerning the retreat may call either Margaret Moore, At.1043 or Helene MacPeak, Cr.2961 in the evenings.

Local Juniors Drop Opener

Meet Fashions Team Tomorrow

By BOB LUNNY

N.D.G. Maple Leafs broke out with a powerful offensive in the second half last Saturday afternoon at Trenholme Park to overwhelm Westmount Juniors 29-0 in the curtain raiser of the Q.R.F.U. Junior league before some 1,000 football fans. The game was marred by a large number of fumbles.

It was a nip and tuck affair in the first half but during the last half the NDG'ers came to life and ran roughshod over the local gridders. Both teams showed plenty of speed and initiative but conditioning told at the end.

Both teams started off in good form and the ball changed hands five times during the first quarter The Westmounters capitalized on their opportunities and two long runs by Kay and Patterson, brought the pigskin up to their opponents' five-yard line. Here the Westmounters faltered and the Maple Leafs dug into the gridiron and held. N. D. G. took possession of the ball and started down the field on runs by Bastien and McQueston.

Take the Air

Going into the second quarter N.D.G. reeled off two completed passes by McQueston that moved the yardstick twice. The Westmounters were pretty well hemmed in but held. The N.D.G.'ers were now in payoff territory and Valois kicked to the deadline for a single.

Westmount took possession of the ball on their own 25 and marched up the field on the spectacular plays of McGillis, Telfer and O'Brien. Another Westmount scoring chance was in sight but the locals failed to take advantage of it.

The scoring rampage rolled on unabated as N.D.G. chalked up five major scores within the next two quarters.

The scoring spree ended with Valois going over for his second touch. The convert failed.

There was poor officiating throughout the game but, nevertheless, the Maple Leafs deserved full credit for their victory.

Tomorrow Westmount will meet New York Fashions at Westmount Park at 2.30 in a regular schedule game.

Graduates and those leaving school have sure wrecked a formidable athletic structure built up at St. Leo's during the last ten years by Andy McGillis, which took work and patience to make . . . Both Westmount teams did badly over the week end . . . ND.G. are operating a Juvenile team this year and are looking for players . . . Jimmy McCarthy is back in St. Leo's after a day at McGee and a week at Catholic High . . . Johnny Drury, a smart all-round athlete, has taken up his studies at Catholic High . . . Westmount Soccer League Season's Results Reviewed

By LEX HAXTON

As the local soccer season draws to a close it is fitting to review the Westmount Soccer League results to date. The Westmount eleven, captained by Andy Lowson (the league's Secretary) wind up in first place, having lost only one game in cup and league matches — a notable record.

The team entered cup competition for the first time — the Macoun Cup — but met with defeat after two games to St. Paul Rangers. Rangers, incidentally led the Westmount League last season and this year graduated to the Montreal League.

Recently the Westmount club, seeking broader field for their talents, joined up with the National City League. There they will meet opposition from Vickers, Canadair, Selco, Carsteel and other local clubs. In their first meeting under the new set-up they encountered the powerful Stelco, losing out to a slim 1-0 score.

This weekend, they expect to meet Canadair-Falcons at Charlevoix Park in a National City loop fixture.

Stelco Edge Carsteel 3-2

By LEX HAXTON

Carsteel's return to the city from Winnipeg where their quest for Dominion soccer honours were frustrated by the Winnipeg Scottish eleven, was marked by another defeat — one of 3-2 — by rivalling Stelco of the National League of Charlevoix Park last weekend. This win, incidentally puts the local Andrew Bell unit a clear eight points ahead of Toronto Ulster and are destined to cop the final honors when the time comes.

Stelco journeys to Toronto Saturday to play Greenbacks. The following week they meet Ulster here who return to play Carsteel the same weekend.

In the Montreal League, we find Bill Roper's Montreal Scottish very much in the running for the league title. They defeated a highly rated Vickers eleven by 2-1 at Charlevois Park on Saturday. Vickers have 25 points with one game left to play while Scottish have 22 with two games to go.

Tommy Turley netted two goals for Stelco — the winning tally going to Hugh Godley during a scramble around 'Steel nets. It is believed by some observers that defender Dick Walker of the losers aided greatly in manouvering the ball goalwards. Dempsey Castonguay netted on a penalty kick when Cunningham handled, his brother Paul getting the other marker.

It was left to Crawford Park's Andy (Lachie) Sutherland to put Scottish ahead in the Vickers' tilt, he headed in Bowden's corner kick from some 20 yards out. His team-mates retained the lead admirably to the final whistle.

WHS Gridders Play Tonight

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Westmount High's young, light and inexperienced Senior "A" football aggregation will likely meet up with their second defeat in as many starts up at Molson Stadium tonight when they are scheduled to tangle with Montreal High's smart outfit. The game has been called for 7.00 o'clock.

Both teams will be out after their first win when they meet on the home sward of Vic Obeck's McGill Redmen for last Friday the two teams dropped their openers, West Hill swamping Westmount 39-0 and Catholic High eking out a 6-5 victory over the University street crew. But the Montrealers didn't get any of the breaks in that tussle as referee Andy McGillis called back two of their first half touchdowns.

Westmount showed up poorly in their opening stint. The boys lacked fight until the last few minutes of the game when they put on a sustained drive that almost netted them a major. For the rest of the game they were listles sand about as peppy as a horde of pallbearers.

On the other hand Montreal displayed a team that looked smart, with white sweaters, blue helmets and blue-striped pants, a team with plenty of drive and of deceptive plays, most of them hustle and a team with a variety of deceptive plays, most of them run off the much-heralded T-formation.

Then again the MHS'ers have a much heavier squad than the locals, both along the line and in the backfield.

WHHS SHOW POWER

West Hill's 1947 football machine showed that they'll be right in the running for City Championship honors up at Molson Stadium last Friday night when they blanked Westmount 37-0 in convincing fashion. Seven touchdowns and two converts accounted for the Red Raiders' points.

From the moment the two teams trotted out on the field the outcome of the game was clear. The West Hillians are older, more experienced and possessed considerably more fire and zest than the Westmount larrigans.

Bill Finlay, brother of the famous Pete, and Eric Appleby, led the Chesley men to the one-sided victory, each going over the payoff line twice. Big Jim Ambrose was alos impressive for the winners, his placement kicking and line work standing out.

For Westmount the work of Johnny Waterston, Richard Lord, Graham Nicholson and Lubovitch stood out. The rest of the locals had about as much spirit as a squad of pallbearers.

West Hill, as usual, had their troubles with the referees, being set back time and again for roughing. Matter of fact, referee Frank Ulley carried the ball further for Westmount than did any of the purple and white sweatered backs.

SCHOOL FOOTBALL RETURNS

School football returned with all of its pre-polio pomp and splendour to the green sward of Molson Stadium last Friday evening and, while close to 3,000 fans shivered in the stands, Roy Chesley's West Hillians blanked Westmount 37-0 and Catholic High eked out a 6-5 win over a smart Montreal High team.

The sideline attractions rated just as many plaudits as the boys who did their best out on the field. The West Hill band, led by several oomphy drum majorettes, was well-trained, smartly dressed and added a touch of college-like pageantry to the proceedings.

The cheer leaders were out in force and honors, in this observer's book at any rate, went to the gang of Montreal High yellers. The University street yell-leading aggregation was really top-rate.

The games themselves brought up the old question of just how good, or how bad, are the school rules. Personally, I considered the Westmount-West Hill affair a dreary game. The Catholic High-Montreal High tilt was just about as bad. Four downs and unlimited interference have not opened up the game as much as they have eliminated kicking, passing and the three-man end run, all crowd-pleasing features of the Canadian code.

Two years ago in these pages a very torrid debate was carried on concerning the merits of the revolutionary school rules. George Jones, the Guardian sports editor and publicity man for the Quebec Rugby Football Union, guested a column blasting the school code and was answered by Howie Harvey, Jack Danaher and half a dozen others.

Well, this corner is open for more opinions now. I'd like ye grid fans to take in the school double bill at Molson tomorrow evening and the McGill-Ottawa University exhibition game the next day and then write in and say which code of rules you prefer.

"STARS OF THE WEEK"

Beginning next week "Stars of the Week" will be published in this paper every issue. It will contain write-ups of the seven best football players of the week which will be picked from those who perform in the senior high school league and the Junior and Juvenile sections of the Quebec Rugby Football Union. ....

"Fiesta" Mixes Bull Ring With Melody, At Westmount

"Fiesta," new M-G-M Technicolor musical, which was filmed largely in Mexico, and which starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre, is a brilliantly enacted, beautifully photographed production whose plot is as completely engrossing as are its melodic numbers and spectacular backgrounds —a rarity in film musicals.

Esther Williams, who in "Easy to Wed" revealed that her talents extend far beyond her famed swimming prowess, once again demonstrates an amazing versatility in "Fiesta," in which she plays a feminine matador who saves the honor of her family when her twin brother is labeled a coward in the bull ring. The brother is played by the Mexican film idol, Ricardo Montalban, whose looks, dancing ability and dramatic talent will undoubtedly keep him in U.S. films from now on.

The story centers on the conflict between Morales, once Mexico's most famous matador, and his son, Mario Montalban), whom he has trained to follow in his spectacular career. Mario's first love, however, is music, and when, on the debut of his first bullfight, he learns that his father has sent away the great conductor who was to further his work as a composer, he refuses to face his first bull and leaves the ring in disgrace. In order to bring him back, his twin sister, Maria (Miss Williams), takes his place in the ring. The ensuing happenings make for a plot filled with suspense and powerful dramatic action.

Woven into the dramatic episodes of "Fiesta" are colorful musical sequences against authentic Mexican fiesta backgrounds, in which the dancing and singing of Miss Williams, Montalban and Cyd Charisse are highlighted. Together with the principals, the cast features Fortunio Bonanova as the proud Morales, Akim Tamiroff as his former banderillero, John Carrol as Maria's fiance, Mary Astor as her mother and Hugo Haas as Contreras, the conductor, and all of them are expertly cast.

For color, spectacle, acting personalities and dramatic impact, "Fiesta" is a picture that stands at the top of its class.

Glowing Tribute To Jerome Kern At Avenue Saturday

A glowing tribute to the memory of the late Jerome Kern is offered on the Avenue Theatre screen in "Till the Clouds Roll By," M-G-M's star-studded Technicolor musical drama based on incidents in the famed composer's life and career.

Built around Kern's touching friendship with his musical arranger, James Hessler, and the latter's stage-struck daughter Sally, the story traces the composer's arrival in New York full of hope and ambition, follows his rise to fame both here and abroad, accents the romantic meeting in England with the girl he eventually married, and ends on a dramatic note when Sally, embittered by a quarrel over her career, proves her talent as a singer and is reconciled to Kern whom she has always regarded as a foster-parent.

The role of Kern is brought to life with sympathy and warmth by Robert Walker in one of his finest portrayals to date. Van Heflin is splendid as the loyal and encouraging Hessler, and Lucille Bremer gives verve and spirit to the part of Sally. The girl with whom the composer falls in love after he "borrows" her piano, is delightfully played by Dorothy Patrick.

Punctuating the narrative are song-and-dance sequences from some of Kern's greatest successes and it is in these that the picture's dazzling array of headliners are given an opportunity to offer a feast of talent.

There are so many high spots in the musical interludes that it is difficult to pick and choose but among the memorable moments are Judy Garland, in the role of the great musical-comedy star, Marilyn Miller, singing "Who", "Sunny" and "Look for the Silver Lining"; June Allyson and Ray McDonald singing and dancing in the rain to "Till the Clouds Roll By."; Lucille Bremer and the popular Van Johnson dancing to the provocative "I won't Dance", and Miss Bremer's version of "Land where the Good Songs Go"; still another dancing team, composed of Cyd Charisse and Gower Champion, doing "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes"; Kathryn Grayson singing "Long Ago and Far Away", and joining Tony Martin for the wonderful song "Make Believe", and Dinah Shore's rendition of "They Didn't Believe Me." and "The Last Time I Saw Paris."

Among the songs in the spectacural "Show Boat" sequence are "Ol' Man River" sung by Kaleb Peterson, and later by Frank Sinatra; "Life on the Wicked Stage," sung by Virginia O'Brien, and "Can't Help Lovin' That Man," sung by Lena Horne. Then there is the spectacular finale in which a chorus of 150 voices joins Miss Grayson, Miss Bremer, Sinatra, Virginia O'Brien, Lena Horne and Tony Martin in other Kern hits.

"Till the Clouds Roll By" can be summed up as a sumptuous parade of some of the greatest and most beloved songs America has ever known, backgrounded by the drama of the man who wrote them, and rendered by the finest talent Hollywood has to offer. From its director, Richard Whorf, and producer, Arthur Freed, down to the picture's smallest bit player, everyone who had a hand in its playing deserves a bow.

George Sidney, the young director, and his wife, Lillian Burns, M-G-M dramatic coach, always exchange gifts when he completes a picture, but when she went to get a set of four very rare pipes to celebrate "Cass Timberlane," someone had beat her to them. To her surprise, her husband showed up with them. Spencer Tracy, who stars in the picture with Lana Turner and Zachary Scott, had seen the pipes first! He celebrates pictures with gifts too.

ORIENTAL MYSTERY! Alan Ladd, Gail Russell and William Bendix are co-starred in "Calcutta," which starts on Saturday at the Seville United Theatre for one week. The other feature on this good double bill is "The Imperfect Lady," with Teresa Wright and Ray Milland.

"MIDRIFF" OR "TOP"?

Since Olga San Juan, curvaceous comedienne of Paramount's 40-star "Variety Girl," has worn a bare midriff outfit in each of her pictures, she has been dubbed "The Midriff" by some. But Olga also has changed her hair color from black to reddish brown to golden blonde in her last three pictures so she is also known as "The Girl with the Convertible Top."

Montreal Drama Guild Executive

The Montreal Drama Guild announce its executive committee for the coming season: chairman, Charles Lewis; assistant chairman, George Woods; secretary, Lee Williamson; supervising director, Rosanna Seaborn; business manager, Rody Ryan; publicity, Reta Wheatley and Peter Gorlick; production manager, Cecil Bernstein.

Registrations At Children's Theatre Heavy .

So great are the registrations coming in from all parts of the city for both the north and west-end studios of the Children's Theatre directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, that the directors urge pupils not to delay in enrolment, as the classes are limited for the Kindergarten, Junior, Intermediate, and Senior groups.

The Radio classes which are under the direction of Charles Miller, of C.B.C., are also filling rapidly, showing the great interest in young Montrealers for voice training and microphone acting.

The popular "Calling All Children" programme, heard over C.F. C.F. in the past few years, will recommence over that station the latter part of October, thus enabling Children's Theatre pupils to get the practical experience of appearing on the air when they have progressed sufficiently in the course.

Productions for the coming season at Victoria Hall incluude "Ann of Green Gables", "Rumpelstiltskin", "Little Women" and "Snow-White and the Seven Dwarfs", a season of entertainment that will thrill the hearts of the young folk.

Fine Talent Directs MRT's Next Play

Charles Rittenhouse will direct MRT's next play, Martinez-Sierra's "The Two Shepherds," which is to open at Guy Street Playhouse October 16th and run until October 24th.

Mr. Rittenhouse has just returned from Banff Summer School of Fine Arts where he was invited to lecture on Directing. He will be remembered for his excellent work in directing the Shakespeare Society's production of Romeo and Juliet, his most recent success.

Mr. Rittenhouse as a director, was absent from MRT last year and returns there to put on one of those shows for which he is noted.

The Two Shepherds is a comedy filled with character study, and Mr. Rittenhouse's ability to bring to life the subtle humour and genuine pathos in the lives of the characters in a play will have great scope in The Two Shepherds.

Hans Berends, whose settings have graced the stage of most of the Operas and Plays which have been done locally, will again add his artistry to the designing and preparing of a Spanish Garden, where the action of the play takes place.

Virginia Watt, will design and execute the costumes which promise to be gay and rich, such as one would expect to be worn by the passionate people of Spain.

Charles Rittenhouse is giving a course on directing, Hans Berends is teaching stagecraft, and Virginia Watt conducts a course in Costume History, at the MRT School of the Theatre.

AT THE SNOWDON FOR ONE WEEK ONLY

CLARK GABLE AND DEBORAH KERR in a scene from "The Hucksters," film version of the explosive Frederic Wakeman best-seller novel of the radio advertising business. Miss Kerr, noted British actress, makes her first American film appearance opposite Gable in the new M-G-M hit starting Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre for one week only. Others in the all-name cast include Sydney Greenstreet, Adolphe Menjou, Ava Gardner, Keenan Wynn and Edward Arnold.

Gable And Deborah Kerr Score In Bombastic Film

M-G-M's eagerly awaited filmization of the Frederic Wakeman's explosive and chuckling best-seller novel, "The Hucksters" starts Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre with an all-star cast headed by Clark Gable and the English star Deborah Kerr, and proved to be every inch as spellbinding and amusing as the widely-read book.

It's a case of perfect casting for Gable in the role of Vic Norman, debonair and fast-talking advertising salesman de luxe, who becomes a "huckster" for the Kimberly Advertising Agency and who uses everything he's got, including sex appeal, to put over the firm's radio campaign for "Beautee Soap." Able successfully to cow the much-feared tyrant, Evan Llewellyn Evans, manufacturer of the soap; clever enough to ensnare Buddy Hare, a radio comedian, from under the nose of a rival sponsor; whirlwind Vic nevertheless meets his waterloo in an attempt to add the lovely society woman, Kay Dorrance, to his string of conquests. It is finally Kay who wakes Vic up to the fact that there are more important things in life than being a $35,000-a-year Yes-Man.

The picture is another triumph for Gable, who gives his character the breezy, romantic and go-getter qualities depicted in the original story and makes his every appearance in a scene an event. The lovely Miss Kerr in her first American film role looms as a star of the first magnitude, offering a poignant and moving portrait of a woman who finds herself irresistibly drawn to a man whose standards and values run cross-grain to hers. It is a difficult role but the talented Miss Kerr handles it with skill and finesse.

There are a number of other superb portrayals in "The Hucksters". Sydney Greenstreet is a ruthless and menacing business tycoon; Adolphe Menjou is a "natural" as the harassed and excitable head of the advertising agency; Ava Gardner is delightful as an alluring night club singer who carries a torch for Vic Norman. Then there are Keenan Wynn at his funniest as a has-been radio comedian, and Edward Arnold in the role of a successful talent agent.

Producer Arthur Hornblow, Jr. has given authentic and arresting backgrounds to a story which spans the continent from New York to Hollywood, and Director Jack Conway has done a brilliant job in balancing the serious and satirical aspects of his plot.

"The Hucksters" is on of those pictures that shows you what Hollywood can do when given the right performers. It's Grade A entertainment.

College Conditions

As colleges and universities all across Canada reopen this year, many students will face unfamiliar conditions. Difficulties of studying will be intensified if they don't find congenial quarters. Particularly, they will learn the need of proper food, sleep and healthful recreation.

National Health authorities have a suggestion for co-eds who will be using a grill. They suggest that the young ladies obtain, from any provincial or municipal health department, copies of the publication on nutrition entitled, "It's good business, girls, to eat well."

Six hundred of the 800 kinds of trees, shrubs, and vines of New Zealand are found nowhere else in the world.
