GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC ANNOUNCES ITSELF IN FIELD AS A TENDERER FOR BUILDING OF TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAY

While there was general belief that the Grand Trunk Pacific will tender, as a contractor, for the construction of the five districts of the Transcontinental Division of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the matter was not actually settled, so far as announcements were concerned, until Saturday evening, when Mr. Frank W. Morse, vice-president and general manager, on the eve of his departure for a flying visit to Chicago, announced that the Grand Trunk Pacific would be in the field.

When asked if he thought there would be much competition, he replied that he could not form any idea, but his road would enter the field as a contractor, and he hoped it would be awarded the work of construction.

TWENTY-FIVE MILLION INVOLVED.

The giving out of contracts for the first divisions of the road means an expenditure of at least $25,000,000, and probably more, because there are little subsidiary lines to be built, which will add much to the magnitude of the enterprise.

Quebec will be in direct communication through the Lotbiniere branch, of which 150 miles is already built and tenders called for another 150 miles; Toronto will reach the line direct through the Abitibi branch, which, with an extension of only 40 miles, will be at the Transcontinental. Winding with its 200 built by J. D. McArthur, will join the road direct, the eastern provinces will have Moncton as the terminal so that all Canada will be in practically direct communication except Montreal. It is in connection with this fact that Montreal Business men are at the present time complaining of the fact that no announcement has yet been made as to how this city is to reach the transcontinental direct. There is a general understanding that communication will be by way of Ottawa but this would not be satisfactory. The question has already been discussed by members of the Board of Trade and other business men, who point out that the new road cannot reach ultimate success until Montreal is in direct touch with it. While Winnipeg, Quebec and Toronto merchants are shipping goods along the intersecting lines, and through to the great country being opened up in the West, Montreal will have to play a waiting game, unless steps are immediately taken to see that something is done.

A connecting section of about two hundred miles will be wanted, and it is believed that this will be built, but not without a determined effort to have the announcement made at once.

For the purpose of passing a strong resolution upon these lines, a meeting of the Railroad Committee of the Board of Trade Council has been called.

THE LIKELY CONTRACTORS.

The building of the entire five sections by any one firm of contractors would be a task that it is believed none of them would care to undertake. Some of them are, however, exceptionally strong and there is no telling just now what they will do as the last move can be made right up to the hour of noon on Wednesday next.

These are the contractors who have already put in a tender.

Ross, McCrae and Chandler, Montreal
Toronto Construction Company.

The five districts for which tenders are called for the building of the Transcontinental are as follows:

(1) District "A," from a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near the city of Moncton, in the province of New Brunswick, westerly for a distance of about 50 miles.

(2) District "A," from a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near the town of Grand Falls, in the Province of New Brunswick, westerly to the boundary between the Provinces of New Brunswick and Quebec, a distance of about 62 miles.

(3) District "B," from a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at or near the Quebec Bridge, easterly for a distance of about 150 miles.

(4) District "B," from a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 156 miles west of the Quebec Bridge, westerly to a point known as Weymontachene, a distance of about 45 miles.

(5) Districts "C" and "D," from a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners about eight miles west of the Abitibi River, crossing easterly for a distance of about 150 miles.

WOMEN AGAIN EXCLUDED FROM THAW TRIAL--INTEREST CENTRES ON HIS WILL AND HOW JEROME WILL HANDLE EVELYN

THE THAW WILL—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and Mr. Jerome discuss Thaw's will.

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, February 11. — The two leading topics in connection with the Thaw trial which are being discussed to-day are first the details of the prisoner's will, which was introduced in court on Friday, and secondly, speculation as to how the District Attorney will handle Evelyn Thaw in his attempt to discredit her as a witness.

It is expected that when Mr. Jerome takes the girl wife in hand for cross-examination she will be put through an ordeal compared with which the one she has just passed will be trivial. No authoritative statement has been made on this phase of the matter, but it is believed that two days at least will be occupied by this feature of the trial.

It is safe to assume that every statement Evelyn Thaw has said she made to Thaw with respect to her alleged treatment at the hands of Stanford White will be examined almost microscopically. Word for word the entire tale will have to be repeated under the searching questions of the prosecutor.

QUITE ANOTHER THING.

Instead of being permitted to proceed so glibly with her account of the story she told to Harry Thaw—telling it in her own way and with virtually no interruptions—the girl will have to answer "Yes" or "No" to many of the questions which will be forced upon her. Possible inconsistencies in her narrative will be investigated without mercy.

It may be that the prosecutor will be debarred from inquiring into her career previous to her marriage to Harry Thaw, save only as her husband might or might not have been influenced to kill Stanford White. The particular phase of the city's life which she was a part may not be painted by the testimony of witnesses.

NOT ALWAYS TRUTHFUL.

It will, however, be sought to prove that Evelyn Thaw has not on other occasions confined herself to the truth. It will be sought to prove that if she told Thaw the story as she related it on the witness stand she was uttering palpable falsehoods. And if it is proved that her alleged statements to Thaw were not truthful, the jurors will be asked why they should believe her when she tells them that such a story was told at all.

If Mr. Jerome can prove that she told another person all the acts in this drama, and disclosed a far different attitude toward Thaw than the one reported by her on the witness stand it is believed he could ask the jury to question the truth of the girl's story that she told Thaw of her relations with Mr. White as related by her.

MISS FOLETTE FOUND.

Another witness through whom the District Attorney will seek to prove Evelyn Thaw's statements false is Mazie Follette, a chorus girl, who is said to have been at last served with a subpoena, after days of searching for her. She is reported to have been found on the east side by county detectives.

Miss Follette was questioned by the District Attorney some time ago, but until last night she had successfully evaded those who sought to bring her into the case. She, far more than Edna Goodrich, who was named by Mrs. Thaw as the girl who introduced her to Mr. White, is believed to be in a position to reveal the facts in the case.

It is likewise significant that Edna Chase has again been subpoenaed as a witness, but it is not known what, if any, facts there are concerning which she can testify. Hattie Forsythe and Paula Desmond, it was positively ascertained yesterday, are at Palm Beach, Fla., and consequently beyond the jurisdiction of the court. Miss Goodrich is also out of the State but she has authorized a statement denying that she brought Evelyn Nesbit and Mr. White together.

DETAILS OF THE WILL.

Although every effort has been made to keep the contents of Thaw's will a secret, the Star is able to state that its chief provisions are as follows:

"To Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, my beloved wife, I give and bequeath the entire sum of my income with the exception of the bequests hereinafter provided for, the same to revert upon her demise to the William Thaw estate.

IN CASE OF DEATH.

"I hereby direct the trustees appointed in this, my last will and testament, to set aside a fund of $50,000 for the purpose of prosecuting the person who is responsible for my death, providing that it shall not be clearly established that I died from natural causes."

WESTERN CANADA IS STILL SUFFERING FROM FUEL FAMINE--HARDSHIPS AND DEATH FOLLOW IN TRACK OF STORM

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, February 11.—Mrs. Widdifield, formerly of Brock Township, Ont., who arrived last evening by delayed trains from her new home near Creelman, Sask., tells of a terrible experience which befell a farmer named Shuttleworth and his wife. They were driving from town when they missed the trail, wandering around in the driving blizzard for a couple of hours. Shuttleworth decided to camp for the night. He unhitched the horses in the hope they would find their way home, turned over the cutter and put his wife underneath, wrapped in blankets and rugs, while he banked the sides of the cutter high with snow, and in the blizzard with the thermometer more than forty below, walked around the cutter all night. When the morning dawned the storm had subsided sufficiently for Shuttleworth to see the farm house but a short distance away. Both managed to get there, but suffering intensely from frost bites. One horse found his way home, the other was frozen stiff not far from the cutter.

WIFE AND CHILDREN PERISHED.

Word has been received from a merchant at Alameda that a German settler's wife and five children were found frozen to death a few days ago in their farm house, 20 miles north of Bienfait. The farmer had gone into the village to get fuel. There was no difficulty in securing the fuel there, but he went to Estevan, where he became the worst of liquor, and on arriving home three days later, found that every member of his family had perished during his absence, being without fuel.

The Estevan authorities say they are not aware of any fatal case, excepting that of a settler named L. C. Johnston, who resided on south-west quarter six, section one, range ten, who was frozen to death during the last storm some days ago.

The transcontinental trains on the Canadian Pacific are badly blocked at the present time by snow slides, both on the east and west sides of the Selkirks, in British Columbia. No train arrived in the city from the Far West for the last three days, and there is no certainty when a train will get through.

Driven southward by the extremely cold and stormy weather of the past month in search of food, a cinnamon bear was seen roaming about the north-western part of the city and was eventually captured by a resident of Disraeli street.

FUEL FAMINE STILL EXISTS.

Regina, Sask., February 11.—The coal situation is undoubtedly a serious one in Saskatchewan, and the unfortunate settlers in the outlying districts are to be pitied. The reported action of the Government in purchasing a coal area from the Dominion and operating mines as a provincial undertaking has no bearing on the present situation. One hundred locomotives, together with about a dozen snow ploughs, are needed at once. There is an abundance of coal at the mines, and the fuel famine is due to the inability of the railway companies to transport this to the consuming centres.

RANGE CATTLE PERISH.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Maple Creek, Sask., February 11.—The provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta are having the most severe winter they ever experienced. There has been continued severe cold for over two months, with unprecedented falls of snow, which now lies two feet on the level, with mammoth drifts in all directions. A great many of the range cattle are already dying. Ranchers say range cattle will nearly all perish. So many dead so early in the season indicate that the loss will be very great. There is absolutely no feed for cattle on ranges on account of deep snow, which is so firmly packed they are unable to reach the grass below. Cattle are coming from the prairies into the town of Maple Creek and are dying in the streets.

John Duncan, a well-known rancher, was married Monday, and started for his ranch on Skull Creek with his bride. Their team wandered from the trail, and they were found yesterday almost dead. The couple are in the hospital here, and Duncan's feet will have to be amputated.

FUEL BEING HURRIED FORWARD.

Prince Albert, Sask., February 11.—One hundred teams are hurrying southward, loaded with cordwood. Each carried one cord, and farmers are supplying relays of horses. The fuel will be sent as far south as Saskatoon, 160 miles. It will not be sold, but a strict account kept, to be settled for on some basis at a later date. To those destitute there will be no charge.

HOMESTEADER FROZEN TO DEATH.

Edmonton, N.W.T., February 11.—News was brought to the city by the Mounted Police of the discovery of the body of George Thompson, a negro homesteader, who was frozen to death on the trail east of Ponoka. Thompson lived nine miles out and lost his way going home during the extremely cold weather last week.

NO DEPOSITIONS TAKEN IN WRITING.

The morning session of the Recorder's Court was of short duration, Mr. Recorder Poirier hearing in thirty minutes, 39 cases comprised in the daily docket. Most of these cases were drunkards, who were all fined $2 or ten days in jail.

Although Judge Lafontaine decided last week that depositions should be taken down nothing was taken in writing this morning. This is due, it is claimed, by the clerks of the Recorder's Court, to the fact that no money has ever been voted by the City Council for this purpose. It is expected that the question will be brought before the meeting of the Council this afternoon.

Charged With Shop Breaking.

Alphonse Guay, 24 years of age, was brought before Judge Lafontaine to-day on a charge of shopbreaking. It is alleged by Detectives Samson and Cowan, who made the arrest, that Guay broke into the grocery store of Mr. Napoleon Morin, corner of Dubord and Sanguinet streets, and stole a quantity of liquor. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and was remanded until the 14th.

EDISON TIRED OF MAKING MONEY

Inventor, on His Sixtieth Birthday Says He Will Hereafter "Play" With Electricity.

Orange, N.J., February 11. — Mr. Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, is 60 years old to-day. In an interview he says it is now time for him to knock off work and play a while.

"For 45 years I have been making experiments with electricity," said Mr. Edison, "but all those years I have been turning these experiments to commercial value so fast that I have not had a chance to play with electricity for the fun of the thing, just to see how much I can find out about it. But from to-day on I am going to give up the commercial end of it and work in my laboratory purely as a scientist."

Will Sail on Kaiser Wilhelm.

New York, February 11.—Mr. T. Broseau, K.C., Montreal, and Car. Emil Von Der Osten, Toronto, will sail for Europe to-morrow on the Kaiser Wilhelm II.

Mr. G. T. Evans Appointed.

Mr. G. J. Evans, at present chief draftsman in the Motive Power Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been appointed chief inspector, with headquarters in Philadelphia, in connection with the new equipment being purchased by the railway company there and in Richmond, Va.

INLAND STEAMSHIP SERVICE WILL BE STRENGTHENED DURING COMING SEASON BY FIVE LARGE NEW VESSELS

The inland steamship service in Eastern Canada is rapidly developing. This is due to the increased volume of trade carried by lake and river vessels between the interior points and the seaboard.

The present fleet of the Montreal Transportation Company has been found inadequate to handle the large amount of shipping, and to meet the demands of the trade, are having built on the Clyde two regular canal vessels, which will be a big improvement on the present style of lake steamers, and are intended principally to carry steel rails to the western ports such as Port Arthur and Fort William. The boats will also be utilized to relieve the grain congestion, and it is stated that a proposition is now under way for the erection of a grain elevator at North Sydney, which will allow these steamers to bring down grain from the western points as return cargo. One of the steamers will be ready and sent to Canada in the month of April, while the other will not be ready for the trip to this country until May.

The Dominion Iron and Steel Company are also alive to the necessity of placing in service additional inland steamers and have ordered three vessels built on the Clyde by the MacMillan Company. The Steel Company are working up a large trade with the West and will utilize the steamers for the conveyance of their rails. The three steamers being built for the Steel Company are of the Cantilever type, two of 7,000 tons capacity each, and one of 3,600 tons, named respectively the "Sygna," "Ellen," and "Felix."

This will make an addition of five vessels to the already numerous fleets plying between Sydney, Montreal and the Lake Superior ports.

The Montreal Transportation Company already has a fleet of about seventy vessels, but the officials say that the number is not sufficient to properly look after the trade and that from now on additional vessels will be added at intervals. Captain Muir, former master of the "Scottish Hero," a well known vessel, will have charge of the first ship the Transportation Company will bring to this side of the water.

Mr. James Cuttle, general manager of the Montreal Transportation Company, and Captain Robert Fraser, marine superintendent of the same company, are in Scotland, looking after the interests of their company, while Mr. C. C. Morris, superintendent of Transportation of the Dominion Iron & Steel Company, is looking after the ships being built for the use of that company.

MEMBER FOR CARLETON DEAD

Mr. George Kidd Succumbed to Attack of Typhoid Fever.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, February 11.—Mr. George N. Kidd, member of the Legislature for Carleton County, died at his home in Carp after two weeks' illness. He was taken ill with typhoid fever two weeks ago, and was apparently progressing favorably, when the end came without warning.

Deceased was the youngest son of Richard and Mary Kidd. He was born in October, 1864, and educated in the Carp Public school and the Kingston Collegiate Institute, and devoted his energies to agriculture. He was a vice-president of the Central Canada Exhibition Association, and connected with various farmers' institutes. Mr. Kidd was a member of the County Council in 1885, of the Ontario Legislature in 1898, and again in 1902 and 1905. In the Assembly he was held in high esteem.

A widow and one daughter survive. Mr. W. J. Kidd, barrister, of this city, is a brother.

The steamer Siberian, from Glasgow, arrived at Halifax at 8.30 on Sunday morning.

STRIKE MAY FOLLOW ARRESTS

Hamilton Railway Men Up In Arms Over "Digger" Arrests.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., February 11.—Eight motormen and conductors in the employ of the Hamilton Street Railway Company, were discharged on Saturday. While no reason was given for their summary dismissal, it is generally understood the private detectives who have been riding in the cars for some time reported them as suspects in connection with the systematic rifling of the fare boxes which the company claims has been going on for some time.

All these men belonged to the union, and union men claim that the company is simply weeeding them out because they went on strike, and it is likely that the union will hold a special meeting to deal with the matter.

It is said a strike may be declared.

FREE TRADE POLICY STANDS.

Mr. Winston Churchill Explains His Remarks at Hull.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, February 11.—Replying to a statement that his speech at Leeds seemed to imply that the Government might contemplate the possibility of free trade within the Empire surrounded by a tariff wall, Mr. Winston Churchill writes that there could be no question as far as the Government was concerned of any change in the free trade policy of the United Kingdom. "If so in so far as the continuation of colonial reciprocity should lead to free trade within the Empire the result should be a matter for general satisfaction."

It is stated that the formation of an Imperial Guard in the colonies for Imperial service will be discussed at the Colonial Conference.

Sad Story of Destitution.

Belleville, Ont., February 11.—A man named James Kelly, living near Lamable, was found dying, and his wife and five children actually starving. There was no fire in the house, and the thermometer registered 25 below zero. Kelly died, and but for the arrival of neighbors the whole family would probably have perished.

FONG CHEW WILL PLEAD THE CAUSE

Fong Chew, official interpreter for the courts of the city of New York, is at present in Montreal. Fong's mission in the city is watching the case of the Chinese which comes up in our own courts on Friday next. When it comes to pleading the case of "John Chinaman," Fong Chew is no slouch. He does it in clear, well-modulated, English words, and with an earnestness of which there can be no doubt.

In an interview with the Star today, Fong Chew stated that there were in Canada, to-day, some 20,000 Chinamen as compared with the 200,000 or more in the United States. He is of the opinion that the head tax of $500, which the Canadian Government is at present enforcing, is altogether too much. The original tax was $50. It was then placed at $100, and is now $500 or ten times what it originally was. Through Fong Chew, the Chinamen of the city will, within a short time, make an official appeal to the Government to have this tax reduced again to the $100 point.

In speaking of the members of his race on this Continent, he expressed the opinion that they were as well ordered as the majority of men, industrious, cleanly, and law-abiding. The one great point against a Chinaman with his propensity for gambling, and it was this, in Fong Chew's opinion, which caused all his troubles. In support of this, he mentioned the fact that Fong Soo, who some time ago, in his capacity as a Chinese Freemason, collected some money for the burial of another Chinese Freemason, called Lum Fat, who had died without means. Fong Soo probably started out with the best intentions in the world. He gathered in the coin for his brother Chinamen, and then fell foul of a Chinese gambling house. He lost all the money he had collected and there was nothing left for him to do but skip.

Referring to the Masonic Order among the Chinese, Fong Chew stated that the Chinese Freemasons — the Chee Fong Tong, so-called — were a very large and important body. In China they numbered millions. In Montreal they were 1,500, while in the United States, practically all the Chinamen of standing belonged to this order, which is a fraternal one, and is always willing to give a helping hand to a deserving brother. Fong Chew expects to remain in the city until the Chinese case in court is disposed of, when he will return to his official duties in New York City.

STUDENT DIED IN HIS FINAL YEAR.

The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Smith Henderson at the Royal Victoria Hospital, as the result of an attack of appendicitis.

The deceased was a son of the late Dr. Henderson, of Ottawa, and a fourth year medical student at McGill University. He was twenty-two years of age.

On Monday last his condition was such that he was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital and underwent an operation the same day. No improvement followed and a second operation was performed on Wednesday. From that time the patient hovered between life and death, until yesterday when he passed away.

Last night the body was conveyed to the station, for conveyance to Ottawa, the home of the deceased. Over one hundred students of the university followed the remains to the train.

Mr. Henderson was in his final year in medicine, at McGill, and would have graduated M.D. next spring. He was a clever student, and highly esteemed by his fellow-students.

TRAIN CREW SHORT, CRASH! THREE KILLED

Halifax, N.S., February 11. — Three men killed and another injured, with the almost complete destruction of two engines, four flat cars, the freight shed and section of the track here, is the result of a runaway freight train crashing head-on into the engine of a passenger train on Mackenzie and Mann's Halifax & South-Western Railway.

A special freight from Bridgewater for Lundeberg, consisting of seventeen loaded cars of lumber, in charge of Conductor Driscoll and Driver Barteaux, getting out of control, rushed into the regular Middleton-Lundeberg train, standing at the station in Mahone Bay, on Saturday. The engine of the freight telescoped the passenger locomotive. The driver and fireman of the passenger engine were in the cab, and although Driver Barteaux signalled his trouble, both men were caught in the wreck and received such injuries that they died. Those killed are Enos Crooks, fireman; Willis Lowe, section foreman; William Phalen, driver. Injured, Harry Martin, driver.

William Law, foreman of the Mahone Bay section, who was standing on the freight shed platform, was instantly killed by the flying lumber, which demolished the shed, and battered the man's body almost beyond recognition.

Deepest sympathy with you and yours in your great sorrow.

(Signed) LOUISE."

The Princess Christian cabled:—

Windsor Feb. 5, 1907

Heartfelt, truest sympathy.

(Signed) HELENA."

THE MESSAGE OF COMFORT.

It is announced from Government House that telegrams and letters from public bodies and private individuals in Canada have been so numerous that the list would be too long to publish. They will be gratefully acknowledged, as soon as possible.

"Their Excellencies," the announcement says, "would like the people of Canada to know how much comforted and deeply touched they have been by the kind expressions of sympathy, which have reached them from all parts of the Dominion. The feeling shown for their Excellencies has lightened for them a sorrow, the burden of which has been shared by so many friends."

THOSE WHO SENT FLOWERS.

Among those who sent flowers were the following. The wives and daughters of Cabinet Ministers, the Speaker and members of the Senate, the Speaker and members of the House of Commons, the Lt.-Governor of Ontario, the Countess of Antrim and children, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Borden, the Personal Staff, Col. and Mrs. Hanbury Williams, M. Menier, Paris; Hon. Baumgarten (Montreal), Mr. and Mrs. Clark (New York), the Women's Art Association of Ottawa, the nurses in attendance, the servants of the household, the orderlies.

MR. GRENFELL'S THANKS.

Mr. Arthur Grenfell regrets that it has not been possible for him to answer personally all the letters and telegrams that he has received but through the medium of the press he expresses his deep sense of gratitude for the many sympathetic messages which have reached him.

CANADA GAZETTE IN MOURNING.

The Canada Gazette came out on Saturday in a black border in consequence of the death during the week of Earl Grey's daughter, Lady Victoria Grenfell. It contained the following announcement in respect to that regrettable event: "On Sunday, the 3rd inst., at ten o'clock in the evening, the Lady Victoria Sybil Mary, wife of Arthur Morton Grenfell, Esq., and eldest daughter of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess Grey, departed this life to the great grief of Their Excellencies.

Fair Wage Officer Appointed.

Belleville, Ont., February 11.—About $10,000 damage was done by a G.T.R. freight train catching fire two miles east of the station here Friday. A lot of valuable merchandise was destroyed; also six cars.

HOUSE WILL TAKE ISSUE WITH LORDS

Government Measures Will be Introduced to Check Their Powers.

HOUSE MEETS TO-MORROW

Speech From the Throne Will Foreshadow Bitter Contest Between the Two Houses.

London, February 11.—The re-assembling of Parliament to-morrow arouses intense interest here, as the Government intends to immediately inaugurate measures to check the powers of the House of Lords, and make it subordinate to the will of the people, as represented by the House of Commons. This is nothing less than a revolution in the present constitutional methods, and foreshadows a bitter contest between the two Houses, with the Government already prepared for a dissolution and an appeal to the country upon the necessity of curbing the power representing the aristocracy in the interest of the democracy.

Recent councils of the Ministers have determined the main lines of the Government's action, which is expected to begin with the introduction of a resolution laying down the House of Commons' inalienable rights.

A similar historic resolution was adopted in the seventeenth century, upon which the rights of the Commons to control money matters was based. This will be merely preliminary to a series of measures by which Premier Campbell-Bannerman proposes to frame a clear issue against the Lords, and then appeal to the people upon it. The Government's determination to make the fight now is due to the defeat of the Education Bill by the Upper House, and the prospective defeat of all other features of the existing Ministerial programme.

The proposed Government resolution challenging the powers of the House of Lords can have little effect in itself, as the powers of the Peers remain, despite any resolution, but the passage of such a resolution is designed to give the keynote of the Ministerial plans. These will consist chiefly of sending the Lords a number of popular measures, including a drastic Land Bill, affecting the estates of the Peers and other members of the aristocracy.

These measures are sure to be rejected by the House of Lords, thus giving the Government the opportunity to appeal to the country. Members of the ministry openly discuss these plans, and predict several dissolutions before a reform of the House of Lords can become effective.

BACKED BY NEWFOUNDLAND.

Herring Fishery Commisioners Said to Be Testing Shipping Act.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Boston, February 11.—It is understood that the Herring Fishery Commissioners of Newfoundland are behind the movement to test the Shipping Act of the colony by taking testimony in this city. Chas. Hall Adams has been commissioned to take evidence here.

Two distinct matters will be heard before Mr. Adams. The first is the case of Alex. Crane and George Dubois, of Woods Island, Bay of Islands, who were each convicted in Newfoundland of having violated the "Bait Act" in shipping of an American schooner, and fined $500 each. These two men have appealed from the verdict, and the taestimony taken here will be used in arguing the appeal in Newfoundland.

The second matter is to take expert evidence on the law of the United States on the subject of contracts for the engagement and employment of seamen and fishermen on board vessels flying the flag of the United States.

TO PROTEST MODI'S VIVENDI.

St. John's, Nfld., February 11.—The announcement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has expressed sympathy with Newfoundland in the colony's campaign against American fishermen, encouraged the Government leaders, who will outline their plans of further protesting against the modus vivendi, at Thursday's session of the Legislature. The newspaper organ of the Opposition party uttered a vehement protest Saturday against strong language used by several Government speakers in the Legislature on Thursday. They advocated the secession of the colony from the Empire.

Professor Osler's Latest Mot.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, Feb. 11. — Professor Osler was entertained by the Royal Medical Society of Edinburgh. Replying to the toast of his health, he said it had been said that he was a Celt, but he was not a saturnine Celt, who had no option in this world between Scotch whiskey and some form of Presbyterianism. (Laughter.) He occasionally thanked heaven his Celtic forbears were born under Mercury, thus giving him the most fortunate thing, an optimistic temperament.

To Celebrate Pope's Jubilee.

Rome, February 11. — The Pope received the committee which has charge of the consideration of the jubilee of his entry into priesthood. The Pontiff said that if he has his own way he would celebrate it privately in prayer, but if it would be for the good of the Church, he would submit to whatever arrangements were made, adding that what remained from the offerings on the occasion of his jubilee would be devoted to the relief of the poor French dioceses.

Trouble Brewing in Persia.

Teheran, February 11.—Anti-Government agitators are busy, and the people are showing dissatisfaction at the Government's apparent disinclination to assist Parliament. The people complain that the Government is continuing to support the Belgians, and they also criticise the inactivity and irresponsibility of the ministers, the opposition of the governors to legislation, and the high price and scarcity of food.

The Passing of Chinatown.

New York, Feb. 11. — The heart of New York's Chinatown was officially wiped out yesterday when the Board of Estimates authorized a new park on the block bougded by the Bowery, Doyers, Pell and Mott streets. Much of the property is owned by Chinese firms and individuals. The tract includes the Chinese theatre and the Chinese joss house, in which most of the Chinese worship.

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODDFELLOWS--INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS FOR 1907

The forty-five subordinate lodges of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in the Province of Quebec have just completed the installation of their rulers for the ensuing term. The Order has made fair progress during the past term, and the future prospects look bright. The Order is one of the strongest in the world, comprising, including the Rebekah members, a total membership at the end of 1906 of no less than 1,600,712.

Following is a complete list of officers of the Grand Lodge, district deputies, and the three chief executive officers of the several subord

PULFORD PUT OUT BY SHOT OF MIDGET PLAYER

A Fine Match in Quebec in Which Home Team Had the Biggest Score at One Time, Won by Ottawa With One Goal.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, February 11.—The cleanest, best and fastest hockey played here this winter marked the Ottawa Quebec match Saturday night. Time was called with a score of four games to the credit of each team, and Ottawa took the match by scoring the deciding game.

Both teams did a fair amount of combination work, not a man was ruled off during the evening, and the casualties, one on each side, which only temporarily incapacitated the sufferers, was purely accidental. Quebec enjoyed the advantage of having Herb. Jordan's assistance, while Percy Leaueur, Ottawas goalkeeper, is an old Quebecer. Both he and Moran put up good defence. The first game was frequently delayed by offsides, but Constantine finally secured the rubber near the middle of the rink to the left, passed the Ottawa defence and scored. In the strife for the second game there was a tendency to individual play, but some good team play as well and after several shots in succession on the Quebec goals Shore scored for the visitors.

TWO GOALS BY FLUKES.

Both the 3rd and 4th games were also secured by the Senators in remarkably short time, after some pretty individual play on both sides. These games were almost void of team play and Alf. Smith scored them both, 8 seconds from the previous game, on what might be termed flukes.

Players on both sides showed signs of fatigue as the rubber was fired after the fourth goal had been scored and there was a tendency to lift which did neither team much credit. Finally the puck, on a lift by Ottawa, put one of the electric lamps on the Quebec goals out of business, and the play was stopped. It was decided to wait ten minutes to have the same repaired and at the end of that time, as it had not yet been put in order, the teams agreed to play out the remaining 15 minutes of the first half, each team playing 7 1-2 minutes at the Quebec end of the ice. The game started off fast again and finally Jordan and McDonald scored after a series of combinations.

ONE GOAL WAS DARK.

In the sixth game, scored by McDonald for Ottawa, and the seventh, scored by Jordan for Quebec, some very clever combination work was witnessed. Half time was called shortly after the puck had been again faced with the score four to three in favor of Quebec.

The play in the second half started off fast and though not what might be termed rough it was nevertheless noticeable that the checking was much heavier than in the first half, the members of the Quebec team, which were the lighter, frequently being bowed off their feet by the heavy body checking. Shortly after the rubber had been faced it was put between the Quebec goals on an offside, not counting, and after thirteen minutes of hard work by both teams, Shore finally scored for the visitors. During this game, which made the score a tie, Pulford, the Ottawa giant, was laid out through being struck on the stomach by the puck on a shot for goals by Leonard, Quebec's midget player.

PULFORD WAS LAID OUT.

There remained but twelve minutes to play at the time of the accident, and the big man was carried off the ice. He soon reappeared, however, and the game started afresh

Both teams were hard but without avail, and when there remained but 35 seconds to play, Constantine, in a mix-up on the righthand side of the rink, about a third of the ice from the visitors' goals, dropped in a sort of a scrimmage for the puck, in which he was poked below the ribs, it is believed accidentally. He soon came to without leaving the ice, and resumed play. This game having made the result a tie, it was decided to play until one side or the other scored again, and Ottawa won out as already described.

The teams were:

Quebec.	Ottawa.
Moran	Goal	Lesueur
Blair	Point	Baird
Power	Cover	Pulford
Constantine	Forward	Alf. Smith
Jordan	Forward	Westwick
McDonald	Forward	T. Westwick
Leonard	Forward	Shore

FEDERAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

To-night the "Factory Town" hockey team will meet the Montagnards at the Stadium in a match which cannot fail from being exceedingly exciting and interesting, and this for many reasons. The Montagnards have a little matter to settle with the Cornwalls.

The former's reception at Cornwall was anything but friendly, and the Federal league's decision declaring the match a draw has not been conducive to strengthen the "entente cordiale" between the two teams.

The Montagnards undoubtedly gave the Cornwalls a stiff battle on their last meeting and they are well decided to make to-night's match an even more strenuous affair.

They will certainly not allow the Cornwalls to use any of the "rough house" tactics which was handed them on their last visit to the "Factory Town." They have made for themselves a reputation as clean hockey players, and they are confident that they can win out against any team in the Federal League who will play clean hockey.

It is rumored that the Cornwall team will be strengthened that an "unknown" stick handler who will do wonders on the ice is to accompany the team to Montreal. However whatever changes have been made it is certain that the two McCourts and Smith will be on deck

On the Montagnard side the seven reliables—Menard, Lambert, Viau, Prevost, Dostaler, Strike and Lannon, will be there in garnet and grey sweaters and with the goods, too.

TIGERS TO GET DIAMOND RINGS

Hamilton, February 11.—The Tigers will receive diamond rings as souvenirs of the successful season of 1906. The executive had decided to give each one of the Canadian champions a signet ring, but some of the players were not satisfied and held out for the sparklers. The sample of the signet ring did not suit the executive and it has decided to meet the wishes of some of the players and buy diamonds.

The diamond will be set in a miniature tiger's head and the rings promise to be out of the ordinary as far as design is concerned.

MELLODY FIGHTS LEWIS FOR TITLE

New York, February 11.—The Eastern fighting fans are now turning their eyes to Valley Falls, R.I., where Honey Mellody and Willie Lewis will battle for the welterweight championship of the world to-morrow night. This promises to be as interesting a battle as has been seen in the East, and, if Lewis brings the title to New York he will be hailed as one of the best men in the ring.

Mellody fought his way to the title by taking on fights all the time, and he finally disposed of the black demon, Joe Walcott, who held the honors in the 142-pound division. Before that he had met Lewis, and the latter had him going pretty badly, when Mellody suddenly whipped over a stinging blow to the jaw in the second round and sent Lewis into dreamless slumber.

Lewis, however, was convinced that he had lost the battle through overconfidence and has been waiting for a chance to prove it. He is going into the ring under what would ordinarily seem a big handicap, because he has had to pull his avoirdupois down from 160 pounds in order to make the ringside weight.

The New Yorker, however, is a very tough proposition in the way of hearty wallops and the fact that he has done some training makes him more formidable than usual. He seldom does any training, believing that the gymnasium is an apparatus made up for the weak ones who really need strengthening. Mellody takes the bout very seriously and has been hard at work in preparation for it.

Dublin, February 11.—In the third game of the International Rugby Football series here to-day Ireland beat England by 17 to 9.

THE SPORTING EVENT I BEST REMEMBER.

The Reception of a Montreal Lacrosse Team Which Was First Too Chilly and Then Too Hot.

(By Mr. R. C. Smith, K.C.)

"Let me think," said Mr. R. C. Smith, blowing up a cloud of smoke. "Thirty years is a long time to go back. Now I remember. It was somewhere about '76 or '77 that I took part in that game."

Mr. Smith was examining a dry law brief just previous, and his face was as proverbially solemn as that of an owl. On recalling the days when he handled the stick with any of the boys, in an exhilirating game of lacrosse, however, the lawyer's expression underwent a change. He leaned back, and a smile flickered around his mouth and eyes. As his memory became clearer the smile broadened until finally he burst into a fit of hearty laughter. Naturally, the reporter was anxious to know the cause of the mirth, and when the story was unfolded, it was found there was good cause for hilarity.

"I used to be an active member of the 'Hawthorne' Club, at that time," commenced the narrator, "and during the two years already mentioned, we were exceedingly well treated, by all the clubs we visited, when we pitted our might against theirs, except once.

"The present Mr. Recorder Weir, and his brother, the Hon. W. A. Weir, were at that time enthusiastic followers of the sport as our club fellows, and one day donning our beautiful uniforms we boarded the train for St. Johns, where we were to meet the local team. The station was reached, and if I remember well, we were greatly surprised, and I may say, disappointed not to find any of the opposing players at the station to meet us.

"However, we gathered up our weapons, and made off in the direction of the ground. When we reached the battleground, behold! There was the enemy lined up on the farther side of the field, the very replica of a hostile army. No word of greeting did they utter, and we lined up looking as glum as bears are said to look. There are many on both sides who will recall that struggle by scars alone, for it was fierce. Everybody seemed to lose their heads. One thing struck me as being most laughable, were it not for the seriousness of the offence. The St. Johns players had two spare men on hand, and every now and again we had to stop the game to throw these same two spare men off the field; they would sneak into the game when the excitement was thickest."

Here the speaker could scarcely contain himself, as he called to mind the ridiculous, yet unsportsmanlike, scene.

"However, with all these odds against us we finally won out, though in doing so more than half of us played with broken sticks.

"Even when we had finished the game," concluded Mr. Smith, "our assailants—I think they could well be called assailants—did not speak one word of congratulation, but left us to find our hotel as best we could."

THE NORTH BAY BONSPIEL IS OVER

Special to the Montreal Star.

North Bay, Ont., February 11.—The Bonspiel of the Northern International Curling Association came to a close Saturday evening after a week of rare sport. Close scores, splendid ice and the best of good feeling characterized the Bonspiel and winners and losers go home happy. The Dewar Shield competition for double rinks was won by Sudbury with Ontario Soo runners up. The prizes in this event are the Dewar Shield and four individual prizes presented by G. A. McCool, M.P. with the Mattawa four in the runners up. The Diamond Jubilee competition was won by Begg, Parry Sound rink, from Logan, of Parry Sound. This event carries the Diamond Jubilee and four individual prizes presented by Walker and Sons, the runners up got the consolation cup with four individual prizes presented by H. H. Mulligan. The Soo Falls Cup, with four individual prizes, presented by Soo, Falls Brewing Company, was won by Handy's American Soo rink. Begg's, North Bay, were the runners up, winning the prizes presented by O. Aubin, M.L.A. The president's competition won by Begg's, North Bay rink from Martyn, North Bay. The prizes were four handsome travelling bags and the President's cup. The runners up won the Hon. Frank Cochrane prizes. The consolation trophy was won by Carmichael's Sudbury rink from Beck, of Sudbury. The Salvador Cup, and four individual prizes presented by the New Ontario Brewing Company, go to the winners of the consolation. The number and value of the prizes for the Bonspiel surprised every body and are not surpassed by any Canadian bonspiel. Next year the bonspiel will be held in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

NEW HOCKEY.

On Roller Skates Is the New Style Now Played.

The first roller skating hockey match ever played in Canada took place at the Duluth Roller Rink, Saturday afternoon. The Tigers played the Duluth team a friendly game, five men a side, something after the style of a polo team. The result was a draw.

Quite a large crowd was present and took much interest in the game. The Tiger forwards were very fast, but the defence of the Duluths was hard to penetrate.

The teams:

Duluth—Lapierre, Gingras, Frechette, Chenette, Bullick.

Tigers—Gow, Wand, Jenkins, Bathurst, Ramsterger.

Additional Lease.

The Outremont Golf Club, which was in fear of being ordered away from the location it at present occupies, has succeeded in obtaining an additional five years lease, thanks to the efforts of Judge Weir, its President.

The pleasant announcement was made at an executive meeting held in the Windsor Hotel, Saturday night.

SIX NATION INDIAN BEATEN IN RACE

Buffalo, N. Y., February 11.—George V. Bonhag, of the Irish-American Athletic Club Saturday night defeated Tommy Longboat, the Six Nation Indians, of Hamilton, Ont., in a three-mile match race at the 74th Regiment indoor meet. Bonhag lowered the indoor record for the distance, held by himself, by five seconds. The time was 14.43 3-5.

LAURENTIAN CLUB.

Twenty-second Annual Meeting Made Good Showing.

The 22nd annual meeting of the shareholders of the Laurentian Fish and Game Club, was held at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, on Saturday evening, the 9th instant.

Among those present were the following gentlemen from New York: James McCutcheon, R. W. Poor, Chas. P. Geddes and L. A. Bevin, and the following Canadians: W. H. Parker, J. G. Veith, Dr. Arthur Mignault, Henry J. Fuller, of Montreal, and Mr. Jules Balcer, of Three Rivers.

This club has done much to protect and increase the quantity of fish and game in the counties of Champlain and St. Maurice, where its preserves are situated, and the election of the following gentlemen as directors and officers of the club, for the ensuing year, is a guarantee that the good work will be continued.

Directors—Dr. W. H. Drummond, of Montreal; F. L. Hutchinson, of Montreal; Chas. P. Cowles, of New York, Geo. E. Drummond, of Montreal; W.H. Parker, of Lac la Peche, Que.; Dr. Arthur Mignault, of Montreal; James W. Cutcheon, of New York; James W. Cromwell, of New York; L. A. Bevin, of New York.

Officers—James W. Cromwell, of New York, president; Geo. E. Drummond, of Montreal, vice-president; W. H. Parker, of Lac la Peche, Que., man-director; J. George Veith, Temple Building, Montreal, secretary-treasurer.

House committee—James McCutcheon, of New York; W. H. Parker, of Lac la Peche, Que.; L. A. Bevin, of New York.

JENKINS AND STEURS.

American Undertakes to Throw Steurs Twice in Hour.

A match arranged between Alphonse Steurs and Tom Jenkins, is to take place at Sohmer Park on Friday night. The event should prove of rather more than ordinary interest. Jenkins could not be induced to meet the Belgian at the Graeco-Roman style, so a handicap match was arranged at catch-as-catch-can wrestling. Jenkins undertakes to throw Steurs twice inside of sixty minutes. If he fails to do so, or if Steurs gains a fall, the match wil go to the Belgian.

Ski-Jumping—A bad landing.

WINNIPEG BONSPIEL NARROWING DOWN

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, February 11.—Excellent progress was made in the big bonspiel on Saturday and the open events are now narrowed down to the sixteens, but the opening of other competitions, including the Caledonian, the International, and the play down among the outside ranks for the blue ribbon, and the fact that so many rinks are trying to corner the prizes, make the end of the bonspiel still distant. It is doubtful if it can be concluded this week, but the council will endeavor to expedite matters, and with this end in view probably will revert to six draws per day. There will be only four to-day, however, owing to the big annual banquet being held in the evening. More of the notables went down and out on Saturday, among the fallen being Flavelle, of Lindsay, who sustained his first defeat at the hands of Lipsett, of the Granites in the Dingwell event, by a score of 13 to 8. Rev. Dr. Burns, however, upheld the Easterners in this competition, going out into the sixteens by defeating Parker, of Pipestone 14 to 12. Beadon, Russell, and Huffman, of the Thistle club; Pearson, of the Granites, and Dunbar, of St. Paul, are the only rinks now undefeated in the open events. In Saturday morning's draw, Rev. Dr. Burns was beaten in the Tetley Tea by Huffman, the score being 11 to 9, and on Saturday evening Creerar put Rice, of Toronto, out of the running for the International by 11 to 7.

Rev. Dr. Burns was also beaten in the first round of the International play down on Saturday night by 10 to 9.

PREPARATION FOR BOXING TOURNAMENT

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., February 11.—The Argonauts are already making preparations for the annual Canadian boxing and wrestling championships under permit of the C. A. A. U. The dates are March 28, 29 and 30, which includes Good Friday.

Toronto, Ont., February 11.—Tommy Burns (Noah Brusso), the Canadian stellar boxer, who had been in Toronto for a couple of days, left yesterday afternoon for New York.

MONTREAL FOUGHT AGAINST BIG ODDS

Montreal tried their skill and strength against the Wanderers on Saturday night, and in doing so vainly tried to buck up aaginst a veteran team, and one of the best in this particular branch of sport.

Wanderers were never in such good condition as they were Saturday, and it was simply an impossible task for a septette of youngsters like Montreal to make any successful showing against them.

The fight was worth seeing, however, for it was a plucky one.

At times the game was quite exciting, while at other times it was turned into ridicule. Once Johnson calmly took a rest for several minutes against the side, while Riley Hearn, with arms stretched out along the top bar of his net, looked on with a cynical eye.

Although outclassed by Wanderers as a whole, Montreal's weak point, which stood out more than any of the others, was the shooting. If they had been a little more certain of their aim, they might have piled up a better tally, for some of the headlong individual dashes of the Montreal forwards in the second half often brought the puck close enough for scoring.

The game started rather slow on ice that seemed fairly good.

From the beginning it looked like a good easy practice for Wanderers.

No one had expected that Montreal was going to put up a strenous game against the last year's champions; but still there was a fairly good crowd to encourage the team, a team which, like the Shamrocks, has good material for the making of a future championship seven.

But Wanderers outplayed them at almost every turn, and yet once or twice more by individual effort than by real good team play, they came close to scoring,—that is, they managed to pass the first two men of the Wanderers' redoubtable defence, only to "fall down" when it came to putting in the puck.

In the first fifteen minutes Wanderers score kept pace with that of Ottawa in Quebec till it reached the figure of three, and then Wanderers spurted ahead by one, with Montreal still having nothing but a goose egg, which the score-board showed that Quebec had one.

Later on the play was very one sided. Montreal was unable to virtually do anything that would help to stave off overwhelming defeat.

They kept on trying, however, and they died with their boots on.

The teams lined up as follows:

Wanderers.	Montreals.
Hern	Goal	White
Patrick	Point	Brownrigg
Stuart	Cover point	Smaill
Glass	Rover	Kerwin
Russell	Centre	Sargent
Johnson	Left wing	Mason
Blachford	Right wing	Chipchase

Referee—Blair Russell. Judge of play, Duncan Campbell.

Timekeepers—George Guile and Desse Brown.

Penalty timekeepr—R. Stephenson.

RIOTS AT THE ICE RACES IN OTTAWA SATURDAY

Crowd Took Possession of Track and Mr. George Mulligan Amongst Others, Was Knocked Down, by an Infuriated Driver and Badly Hurt.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, February 11. — It looked very much like a Donnybrook fair at the closing day of the Central Canada ice races, the crowd taking possession of the track for over an hour and refusing to let the races proceed. The trouble was occasioned by the decision of the judges calling all bets off in the Free-for-all, which was unfinished from Friday. Phoeben W. won the final heat Saturday and was heavily backed in the pools. The horsemen down on this animal were naturally very sore over the decision as some of them stood to win several hundred on the result. They surged on the track in front of the judges' stand and refused to get off the track, demanding that the judges be changed and hurling all kinds of abuse at the officials. Finally the startor told the drivers to get ready and come down to the wire. The horses made several attempts, but the crowd failed to move. The driver of Sailor Boy got through once and was hissed and hooted. This apparently angered him to such a degree that he turned and came back at the crowd at a fierce clip. The people fell back but several were hit, among them being Mr. Geo. Mulligan, one of the proprietors of the Russell House. He was knocked to the ice and received a nasty cut about four inches in length and his shoulder was dislocated. The crowd took after the driver, yelling "Kill him," etc., but the man escaped. He could not be found when the horses were called in the race and Sailor Boy was scratched. The crowd was in an ugly mood and it is lucky for the driver that he disappeared. They handled Billy Hudson, of Montreal, another driver, pretty roughly, until he satisfied them that he was not the guilty party. The judges also decided to expel Black Bird, her driver, J. Willoughby and Mr. C. Willoughby, the owner for a years from all events controlled by the National Trotting Association.

Phoeben W. lowered the track record in the final heat of the free for all, going in 2.17 1-2. 2.18 1-4 was the previous time over the track. The attendance Saturday was over 5,000.

The judges gave as an reason for calling the bets off in the free for all that the race had been fixed, Black Bird not being properly driven in the first two heats.

VETERANS NIGHT OF OLD TUQUE BLEU

The veterans, night of the old Tuque Blue takes place next Wednesday. The Blue is looking forward to a good feed of snow before then, and hope to have about three hundred in line, quite a number of the veterans who turned out last Wednesday to the camp fire where we served pork and beans, a feeling quite frisky, and all interested turning out. The annual visit will be made that night to Evergreen Hughegrave, and then the president will lead the members to the back of the mountain, from where the veterans' race will be run to Lumkin's. As this is one of the events of the year, no snowshoer of the M. A. A. A. should miss turning out. The annual races take place next Saturday in conjunction with the Montreal Toboggan and Skating Club at the M. A. A. A. rink.

TOMMY MURPHY HEARD FROM

He is Anxious to Win the Light Weight Championship.

Tommy Murphy, the Harlem lightweight boxer, who defeated Young Corbett a few weeks ago, and who knocked out Johnny Brock, of Cleveland, in this city, last week, stated that he was anxious to win the light weight championship of the world. "You may say for me," said the embroyo champion, "that I will not fight Corbett again unless he covers my side bet of $5,000. I think that I am now in line for the championship, and would like to get a fight with Nelson. Gans is rather heavy and is too long in the game for me to tackle just yet, but I anticipate meeting him after a time, when I have grown bigger and strong. I am not only twenty-one, and believe it will suit my purpose to wait a while, although you may announce for me that I am ready and willing to fight Gans six rounds in Philadelphia any time he wants to meet me."

M'GILL STUDENTS COMPETE AT HOCKEY

Two hockey games of the Inter-class series took place on Saturday on the McGill rink, one between the seniors and juniors in Science, and the other between the seniors and juniors in Medicine. The first of these was by far the best, from a spectacular standpoint, yet played. After playing ten minutes overtime, the seniors won out by the score of 4 goals to 3.

The second game in which the fourth year men were whitewashed by the score of 5 to 0, was a very onesided afair. The puck was kept near the '07 goal nearly all the time in spite of the repeated attempts of Stevens to clear.

The players and officials were:

Med. '07 (0). Med. '08 (5).
Referee—Hughes, Arts '10.
Sci. '07 (4). Sci. '08 (3).
Referee—Gilfoy, Med. '10.

INTERMEDIATE HOCKEY.

Victorias Refuse to Play Against a Professional.

Fast and exciting was the intermediate match between Montreal and Wanderers at the Arena Saturday.

Montreal were the conquering team, although only able to score one.

Montreal 1; Wanderers, 0.

The following are the teams:—

Wanderer II.	Montreal.
Baker	Goal	Hewitt
Huckle	Point	Percival
Erskine	Cover Point	Meldrum
Chipchase	Rover	Bishop
Foley	Centre	Glass
Beck	Left wing	Kaiser
Cameron	Right Wing	Languedoc

A DISAGREEMENT.

The intermediate hockey match between Shamrocks and Victorias, which was to have been played on Saturday afternoon, was called off on account of a disagreement, Shamrock wanted to play Hewitt, and he being a professional was not acceptable to Victorias.

MOUNTAIN SKI-ING COMPETITION

The first ski competition of the season was held Saturday afternon by the Montreal Ski Club on their slide on the mountain at the head of Clarke avenue.

There were two classes, Canadian and Norwegian. The results in detail follow:

Competition for best all round, Canadian class: P. McKinnon, E. V. Power.

Norwegian class: C. B. Waagen, E. A. Slettum.

Competition for longest jump, Canadian class: E. Wilson, 76 1-2 feet.

Norwegian class: C. B. Waagen, 77 1-2 feet.

Competition for juniors: N. Blakeley, G. Hunter.

Mr. A. Jacobsen, Consul for Norway, had kindly taken upon himself the difficult task of judging the style of the competitors.

Messrs. Kerr and Huus judged distances.

One of the most noticeable features of the day was the improvement in style, as in their average distance, of the Canadian participants.

E. Wilson jumped 76 1-2 feet in very good style, only leaving the Norwegian, C. B. Waagen, a margin of one foot.

In the competition for style and distance, P. McKinnon and E. V. Power showed good form, and made good distance also.

In the Norwegian class, Waagen and Slettum showed up well and gave a very nice exhibition of the sport of their native land.

After the competitions there was given a splendid exhibition of tandem jumping by members of the Ski Club, Juniors Race.

The first race at the Victoria Rink for boys of thirteen years for a half mile was won by C. Smith, with H. Urquhart second. The next was for girls, and was one of the prettiest of all. The winners, in a very close finish were: Miss Irene Aird and Miss Marion Coates. The last race was for boys under 13, and was won by Cecil Cowan, with Reginold Dowling second.

THE HYMAN CASE.

There is no particular good to be gained by getting savage over the Hyman case. Mr. Hyman was not bound by anything save a sense of honor—and possibly political expediency—to resign his seat at all. He had not been connected with the scandalous revelations; and the time had elapsed for petitioning against his election. Still he resigned. It is true that he did not resign in form. It is true that people will infer from this that he did not want his resignation to take effect until he was good and ready to fight a by-election. It may have been that he was too sick, as the Premier obviously believed; and it may have been that, coupled with his physical indisposition, there was a feeling that it would do no harm to let the shocking story revealed before the Toronto police court get cold before he came to face the electors of London once more.

But, in any case, the sequel has brought his resignation, and is to bring an election. If the electors of London feel very keenly the disgrace, which the methods adopted to secure his success last time attached to their city, they will now have an opportunity of making their feelings known. Mr. Hyman retains his portfolio. This is as good as a favorable health bulletin; for a sick man could not dream of keeping up to the work of one of the two busiest departments in the Government. The balmy air of the South seems to have worked a miracle. Not so long ago, Mr. Hyman was too sick to have it gently pointed out to him that his resignation needed a trifling more formality to make it effective; and now he is so full of bounding health that he is ready for a London by-election and will perform the duties of Minister of Public Works as a "side line." As a "before taking" and "after taking" advertisement of certain health resorts in the sunny South, Mr. Hyman ought to be worth more than his weight in London ballots.

It is to be hoped that London will give us a clean election this time. It is not in a position to risk many more of the other kind. "London politics" make a good joke for a while; but people are getting a trifle tired of it. The practical disfranchisement which his constituency has suffered for some time now has not awakened much sorrow in the country. There has been a feeling that it has been earned. And if much more of the same sort of "election work" is done, the people of Canada may come to the conclusion that even a longer rest from the duties of Government has been honestly deserved. Both Mr. Hyman and London need the endorsement of a clean election. It would do both of them quite as much good as a trip south.

THE SENATE AND ITS PETTY CASH.

If there is a body in Canada that needs dignity to carry it through its day's work, it is the Senate; but if it is to get into controversy with the Auditor-General over the details of its travelling expenses, it will find it difficult to retain enough of its dignity for working purposes. Nor is its dignity increased by the fact that one of its own officials keeps a record of the attendance of its members by which its pay-roll is checked off. Before long we will be installing a time-clock which each venerable Senator must punch on arriving at the Chamber and when he leaves.

Surely this business of reckoning the indemnity and paying travelling expenses could be carried out in a manner more in accord with the presumptive importance of the body concerned. There ought, at all events, to be some fixed system of paying travelling expenses. The worthy Senators travel free on the railways as it is; so their travelling expenses are made up of incidentals, such as sleeping car berths. It seems that their employers—the country—will not pay for their meal tickets as they come along; though some variation in the amount of sleeping car accommodation is permitted. Presumably they must "tip" the porter out of their own pockets.

All this is very petty. Much of it has been adopted as a sort of off-set to the indefensible "indemnity grab" with which both Commoners and Senators exasperated the country two sessions ago. The holders of the purse, having been "pound foolish," are trying to be "penny wise." As for the Senators, they can better afford to pay their own expenses out of hand than to let this sort of bickering go on. They are not in too secure a position in the esteem and affections of the country; and they ought to keep this fact carefully in mind. If the impression becomes rooted that they are merely holding on to their Senatorships for the small change which may come their way because of them, they may not be permitted to hold them very long. The British people are talking revolt against their House of Lords because it is too strong; and it is quite within the range of possibility that the Canadian people might move against their far less formidably entrenched Senate because it is too weak.

WILL THE KING COERCE THE LORDS?

It is not all fancy to imagine that the King's speech, which will open the British Parliament to-morrow, may contain a very important contribution to the controversy with the House of Lords. The King's speech is presumably written by the Ministry, of course, and the Ministry is responsible for what it contains; but, in Britain, the Crown is of so great weight, politically, that its wearer often influences the "Speech" very considerably. At times paragraphs are notoriously the contribution of the Monarch and not of the Ministry.

Now in any contest between the Commons and the Lords, the King is in a position to intervene very effectively. He can make Peers by the platoon—of course, on the advice of his Government. If he then joins heartily with the Commons in its quarrel with the Lords, he is in a position to give the Commons the victory in a half hour. If, on the other hand, he is inclined to join with the Lords, no government could compel him to exercise his prerogative of appointment in a wholesale manner. The King would, in such a case, dismiss his Ministers and compel an appeal to the people before moving.

Consequently if the Government persuade the King to put anything on the subject in his speech, it probably means business. Otherwise, it is altogether probable than no mention of the matter would be found in the King's speech, the Government taking some other method of making their anti-Lords programme known. Thus it comes that the speech which the King will make at the opening of Parliament to-morrow, will be read with far closer attention than is usual.

A MONDAY THANKSGIVING.

The discussion by the members of the Anglican Synod as to whether or not they would petition Parliament to change Thanksgiving Day from Thursday to Monday was not without interest to the layman. The layman has had quite a fight in the past to persuade the Government that it should bring on Thanksgiving Day in October, when he can enjoy the holiday, and not hold it back until bleak November when a holiday is a good deal of nuisance. Now that he has got an October Thanksgiving, he is pretty generally minded to enjoy it; for he cannot escape from the belief that he can feel just as thankful when he is happy as when he is glum.

A Monday Thanksgiving would enable more people to leave the city for the holiday. To the majority of them, probably, it would mean a trip home for Thanksgiving Dinner. It is hard to conceive a better use to which the holiday could be put than a journey to the old home where Father and Mother would welcome them, and the reunited family could attend Thanksgiving service once more in the old church, and a double measure of thanksgiving would be felt on the day itself for this privilege vouchsafed them of joining once more in a family festival on this uncertain earth. If we are to value the religious and the grateful phases of the day, there is no way in which we can lift them higher than by encouraging the scattered children to eat their turkey at home.

A Thursday holiday is a break in the week which is not unwelcome; but it is an interruption to business which costs more in some cases than it comes to. The clergy complain that the religious purpose of the day is largely forgotten. This is hardly surprising when we consider the pressure of modern life and the scarcity of rest days. But this neglect would be largely obviated if Monday were taken for the holiday, and special Thanksgiving services were held everywhere on Sunday. Those who did not leave their accustomed places, would naturally attend their own churches on Sunday and make grateful holiday on Monday. Those who happily "went home," would—as we have already said—enjoy the rare pleasure of worshipping once more with the loved family in the home church. On the whole, we should imagine that both ministers and laymen would favor a Monday Thanksgiving.

There are very few lines of attack against the Whitney Government in Ontario which seems to carry much weight; but what gunnery does produce effect is practically all aimed at the patronage evil. The Government is accused — and apparently with considerable justice in some cases—of dismissing Liberals and appointing Conservatives to office for no particular reason. This is the sort of tactics which will please the "shouters" who are nearest to the Ministers and in a position to make the most noise, but will—if the accusations be known throughout the province to be well-founded—inevitably disgust the plain people, who take little interest in party politics, and who will make very little noise one way or the other—until polling day. Many a Government has found the patronage system to be its bane, and even its ruin, and it would be a thousand pities if a progressive Ministry like that of Mr. Whitney should come to wreck on this sunken rock.

"Barkis" Seems "Willin.'"

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—"Canadian Lady" seems to deplore the fact that so many eligible men are ridden away in boarding-houses. Certainly these institutions are far from being a "home from home," but what would your correspondent have us do, taking into consideration the circumstances which have led us to pitch our tents in the aforementioned elysiums? I am, I daresay, one of many who earn enough to keep myself in worldly comforts, but not quite enough to enter matrimony, at least with some comfort, so have perforce to remain in the cold. If we "boarding house men" suggest looking for a lady with a small income and so whack up expenses, the ladies so possessed scurry off breathing "adventurers," so the right people never come together, and through no fault of the "boarder."

BARKIS.

A Plea for Horses.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—May I request the favor of space to draw the attention of the Society Prevention Cruelty to Animals to the unprotected condition of cab-horses in the severe weather we have recently experienced. On two occasions lately, on Phillips Square and on Windsor street,—both localities exposed to the full sweep of the wind,—I saw horses shivering, absolutely uncovered, in which condition the poor beasts remain until six in the morning, as I ascertained. At the best, the horse-blankets used are insufficient; and it is nothing short of cruelty to expose the animals to the bitter cold in such fashion. Surely, for the credit of the city, such a state of affairs will not be allowed to continue.

Hockey Topics.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—I lost money on the last Kenora game. I heard almost from Russell Bowie's own lips that he was going to play with Wanderers against the Thistles. But from his style of play in the last two games, more especially the last game, I think the Wanderers were lucky in not being able to get him. The Victorians supporters are hoping the executive will wake up.

DISGUSTED.

The Rent Question.

Pro Bono Publico thinks a mass meeting should be called to protest against putting up of the rents in Montreal, which, he alleges are much higher than they should be. He inveighs against yearly leases, and urges people "to band themselves together and fight" for lower rents.

THIS DATE 30 YEARS AGO.

February 11, 1877.

Chief Benoit.

Mr. O. J. Devlin, while passing along St. Joseph street, near Dominion, Saturday night, had his cap, a valuable otter, seized by one of a gang of ruffians, who attempted to snatch it from his head. Mr. Devlin stood on his defence, hitting out right and left and calling for the police. The chief of the St. Henri fire brigade, who happened to be in the vicinity, came to his rescue and dispersed the gang.

THE late Mr. Devlin, who died many years ago, was a well-known public notary, who took a prominent part in furthering the Irish Home Rule question up to the date of his demise. The present chief of the Montreal fire brigade, Mr. Benoit, was, at the time mentioned, head of the St. Henri fire department.

Hon. Mr. Laframboise having declined the Gaspe justiceship, will, we hear, be given the post left vacant by the death of Mr. Whitney, as secretary to the Montreal Harbor Trust.

THE late Hon. Maurice Laframboise was appointed a puisne judge of the Superior Court of Quebec in 1878. He was called to the Bar of Lower Canada in 1843, and practised for many years at St. Hyacinthe, Que. He sat in the Canada Assembly from 1857 to 1867, and in the Quebec Legislature from 1871 to 1878, representing Shefford. The position of secretary to the Harbor Trust was conferred on the late Mr. Dalrymple Whitney, second son of the previous secretary, and who had been a clerk under his father for a considerable time. He died many years ago in California.

Hon. J. K. Ward.

The householders of the municipality of Côte St. Antoine were awakened from their slumbers about 1 o'clock this morning by the lurid reflection of a large extensive fire, which had caught in three substantial brick cottages owned by Mr. Murray, land agent, Mr. J. K. Ward, the Mayor, and other prominent citizens, were soon on the spot, but were helpless to afford any assistance for putting out fire owing to no fire brigade and an insufficiency of water.

COTE ST. ANTOINE suburb is the present flourishing town of Westmount. Mr. (now Hon.) J. K. Ward, M.L.C., is one of the best known lumber merchants in the city and province, having been in the business nearly half a century and very successful. He is a life governor of the General and Western Hospitals, and also of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, Verdun, of which he was president for many years. He unsuccessfully contested Montreal West in 1882 and 1887 for the House of Commons against the late Mr. M. H. Gault, and the present Lord Strathcona. He was appointed to the Legislative Council in 1888.

At a special meeting of the Montreal Dispensary, held yesterday afternoon, the principal business was the election of a physician in place of Dr. Patton, deceased. The ballot was taken up, but not announced before we went to press.

THE late Dr. E. K. Patton was a graduate of Laval and McGill medical schools, and was for a time assistant surgeon at St. Thomas' Hospital, London, England, where he attained much experience and eminence in his profession. He died suddenly of pneumonia on January 3, 1877.

SWIFT COMEBACK.

Sir Henry Irving was at one time a witness in a case of street robbery. He had seen a sneak thief make off with a girl's pocket-book, and he consented to appear as a witness for the girl.

The thief's lawyer was of the type that roars and rants at a witness and attempts to break them down. He tried this method on the distinguished actor.

"And at what hour, sir, did this happen?" asked the lawyer.

"I think ——," began Sir Henry, when the lawyer interrupted with:

"It isn't what you think, sir; it's what you know that we want."

"Don't you want to know what I think?" mildly asked the actor.

"I do not," the lawyer snapped out.

"Well, then," said Sir Henry, "I might as well leave the witness-box. I can't talk without thinking. I'm not a lawyer."

HOTEL HEADQUARTERS.

An expert who has studied the hotel business of two hemispheres says that New York cares for three times as many persons in hotels as does London, six times as many as does Paris, and ten times as many as does any other city that can be named.

There are 136 large first-class hotels in Manhattan alone, more than 300 including the smaller ones, and, at the rate of construction at present, the calculation has been made that within 20 years there will be on Manhattan Island alone 386 hotels of 400 rooms each or of greater size.

With a floating population each day ranging from 75,000 to 185,000 for the various seasons of the year, there is little wonder, says Success, that New York has become the city of the earth most conspicuous for its hotels.

It is said that at one of the well known Fifth avenue hostelries at least $10,000 daily must be received before there is a cent of profit. At least four of the fashionable hotels are said to have wines in their cellars to the value of $1,500,000. The annual bill for cut flowers used by these places runs from $30,000 to $60,000.

One house says that its yearly butter bill is $52,000, more than the salary of the President of the United States. As this is not one of the largest hotels there may be butter bills in town that are bigger even than the salary of an insurance president.

WICKEDNESS AT HARVARD.

(N.Y. Sun.)

An iron founder of Pennsylvania, having risen from penury to opulence, sent his son to Harvard University. The boy was bright, diligent, and graduated with honors. Three weeks after the boy's return to his home in Pittsburg, the iron founder sought his pastor.

"I'm greatly worried about William John since his return from Harvard," began the father.

"Ah, I warned you against Harvard. He has become a drunkard," interrupted the good man.

"No, no; I asked him to take a drink with me several times and he wouldn't."

"He has become entangled with some creature of the chorus?"

"No; he knows no such woman."

"Ah, it is worse, he gambles?"

"No, he don't know one card from another."

The good man interrupted again:

"I see—I see—it is far worse. Harvard is a Unitarian university. He has come back a heathen?"

The unhappy father groaned. "Worse than all that. My God! doctor, he believes in Tariff Reform."

CARRIAGE CLOCKS.

We are now showing a variety of styles, made specially for us in France. They are all 8-day clocks, with polished brass sides, and have watch escapements; some have time alarms, some strike, and others repeat the last hour. DRASTIC CHANGES AT CITY HALL

Aldermen to Be Deposed From Finance Committee Because They Fought Lighting Proposal.

As definitely announced in the Star on Friday, a number of French Aldermen had come to the conclusion to make drastic changes in the personnel of the Finance Committee when the City Council meets to-day to appoint the various committees for the current year.

The custom in this connection is to appoint the various committees early in February every year. When a new council is elected this is an important matter, but the custom has been to make little or no changes in the personnel of committees during the aldermen's second year of office. This year, however, there is to be a great shake-up among the committees—especially the Finance Committee. While it is not definitely stated it is known that there are a number of aldermen who are incensed that aldermen should have so strenuously fought against the proposed offer to the Light, Heat and Power Company. Because of this opposition punishment is to be meted out.

Yesterday afternoon there was a caucus of French-Canadian aldermen to consider what changes should be made. The session lasted for over two hours and was private. It is said twenty-two aldermen were present.

After a great deal of discussion it was decided to adopt a slate approving of the following changes:

Ald. Lavallee, Ald. Molson, and Ald. Deserres to be replaced on the Finance Committee by Ald. Guay, Dagenais, and White.

Ald. Molson to go to the Police Committee, Ald. Lavallee to the Fire, and Ald. Deserres to the Parks.

It was resolved to transfer Ald. Levy from the chairmanship of the Markets to a seat on the Health Committee. It was also decided to put Ald. Stearns on the Roads, replacing Ald. White.

As these changes left two chairmanships vacant, the caucus decided to fill them by promoting Ald. Martin to the chair of the Health, and Ald. Duquette to that of the Markets.

If these changes should be persisted in it is needless to say that there will be a bitter meeting of Council to-day.

CAUCUS OF ENGLISH ALDERMEN.

There was a caucus of English aldermen on Saturday to discuss the proposed changes. The session was called by Ald. Sadler. There were also present Ald. White, Turner, Gallery, O'Connell and Molson. Ald. Sadler presided.

The meeting was a heated one. It was declared by Ald. Turner that caucuses should not be held; he did not approve of them.

In reply, Ald. Sadler showed that it had been customary to call caucuses when important matters were to be discussed. As it had been publicly stated in the Star the night previous that some of the old members of the Finance Committee were to be deposed, the matter was one that needed to be inquired into.

Ald. Turner said the proper place to make such inquiries was the City Council.

Ald. Gallery made a fiery speech. He said he would have no objections to certain men being taken from the Finance Committee. It would be well, he said, if both Ald. Sadler and Clearihue were placed on the Incineration Committee instead of occupying important positions on other committees. He could assure Ald. Sadler that he would vote for any motion that would remove him from the Finance.

The meaning of this speech was well understood. A couple of years ago Ald. Sadler, Clearihue and others voted to remove Ald. Gallery from the Roads Committee. Ever since "Dan" has made no secret of his intention of "getting back" at Ald. Sadler and Clearihue if the opportunity presented itself. He evidently thinks that his "innings" have now come. The remarks of Ald. Gallery roused considerable commotion at the meeting.

Ald Molson expressed great surprise at the rumor. It seemed to him, he said, that to suggest any change in the personnel of the Finance Committee now, when it had become thoroughly acquainted with its work, would not only be futile, but attended with unsatisfactory results to the city's administration.

Ald. Gallery said there were good men in the Council who could fill the bill in the Finance Committee.

The meeting adjourned without any definite action being arrived at.

SHERIFF IS AFTER ST. REGIS INDIANS

Band, Crazed With Fire-water, Terrorize the Inhabitants of Hogansburg.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Malone, N.Y., February 11.—Indians from St. Regis reservation, crazed with liquor, have kept the residents of Hogansburg, Franklin county, in fear and peril for several days. The conditions became so serious Saturday that scores of families remained indoors for fear of encountering the Redskins. The Franklin county sheriff has exerted himself in behalf of the village folk, but the business of serving papers on the fiery tempered Indians is so dangerous that he finds it impossible to engage a deputy who has nerve enough for the work.

Thirty Indians went to Hogansburg last week for a spree. Despite the law which says no liquor shall be sold to Indians they found no difficulty in getting all they were willing to pay for and by night most of them were wildly intoxicated. Smashing of hundreds of windows was the commencement, and it was followed by the caving in of an entire store front and demolishing of a building in course of erection.

Kellert-Barker Recital.

The Kellert-Barker recital at Karn Hall this evening will commence at eight-thirty sharp. This is a unique event of the concert season, inasmuch as it is the only concert appearance in America, with one exception, of a former Montreal boy, Ralph Kellert, and also because there may be few opportunities hereafter of hearing the popular Montreal soprano, Miss Mabel Barker. This is Montreal's first opportunity to pass on the violin playing of young Kellert since he has studied with Ysaye.

"For two years my neck was covered with sores, the humour spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the soreness, inflammation, and merciless itching made me wild. G. T. R. DEPOT FOR OTTAWA.

Mr. Hays Says It Will Be the Grandest in Canada.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, February 11.—Mayor Scott, who returned from Montreal on Saturday, where he saw Mr. Charles M. Hays, of the G.T.R., in connection with the new Central depot for Ottawa, says that he received Mr. Hays' assurance that the Grand Trunk will erect this year a Central depot and hotel, the latter on such a scale as to make it the grandest in Canada, provided certain concessions he names are granted by the city. His Worship has notified the civic finance committee of this and announces that Mr. Hays will be in Ottawa Monday night to meet the finance committee. The concessions, Mr. Scott says, will be found reasonable.

THE POPE'S INCOME.

Mr. Alfred E. Wyatt, an American, who has been for a number of years a resident of the city of Rome, Italy, spent the week-end in this city on his way to visit his former home in Chicago. Mr. Wyatt was interviewed by a Star reporter, and in the coure of the conversation was led to speak of the present troubles of the Vatican with the French Government and of the feeling in Rome in connection with it.

"I am not a Roman Catholic," he said, "but one cannot live long in Rome without coming in more or less intimate contact with that church and its members and ministers. I know that the Roman clergy all regard the action of the Vatican as the only one possible under the circumstances, but the opinions of the people are as might be expected, rather divided. Some are enthusiastic in their admiration of the stand taken by the Pope while others attack it with as much energy as these defend it."

While discussing this subject of the feeling towards the Holy See in the crisis with France, Mr. Wyatt was led to say that one mistake which is very commonly made is that of imagining that large offerings of money are flowing into the Vatican from all parts of the world.

"This is quite untrue," he said, "and indeed the opinion is generally held among the ecclesiastics at Rome that these reports have been spread by the enemy for the purpose of stopping or at least diminishing the supply of such offerings at the very time when they are most needed. Just as an instance of the way in which such things are exaggerated, I would remind you that the money left by Mgr. Adand to the Pontiff, represented as amounting to millions, totalled in fact not more than about $100,000. And even this is not likely to come to the Pope, as the relatives of the deceased churchman are contesting the will."

A similar instance mentioned by Mr. Wyatt is the case of Cardinal Trilpepi, who left about $50,000, not to the Pope, but to benevolent institutions of various kinds, merely entrusting the money to the Pontiff for management and distribution. Still this was widely reported as a great gift to the Vatican. Other cardinals have been similarly represented as having large sums of money to the Sovereign Pontiff, which in reality have either not existed at all except in some fertile imaginations, or have been so small as to be hardly worth the telling.

"The truth of the matter is," said Mr. Wyatt, "according to such of the Roman clergy as I have discussed the subject with, that the revenue of the Holy See is a very inadequate one. In consequence of the French separation law the revenues of the Church in that country are diminished at one stroke by about $8,000,000 yearly. The fund known as Peter's Pence is a constantly diminishing one, and the ordinary revenues of the Holy See are scarcely sufficient for eight months of the year. The rest of the time the Pope is entirely dependent on the charity of the faithful."

THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Mr. F. J. Keenan, of Norfolk, Va., passed through Montreal on Saturday on his way westward. In conversation with a Star reporter he said that the buildings of the Jamestown Exposition, which is to be held in that city in the spring, are well advanced.

"Work has been going on briskly on most of them," he said, "and I believe that they will nearly all be completed in good time for the opening of the exposition. The only ones which have been rather slow in getting under way are the Government buildings, and I have serious doubts as to whether or not they will be ready. The joists have not all been laid on the first floor, and there are no side walls as yet in place. They are very much behind the other buildings in point of forwardness, and they are becoming daily more so, as there is very little work being done on them."

Mr. Keenan went on to say that when he had last visited the grounds, shortly before leaving for the north, there were only a few men working, and they had to leave off on account of the snow. In fact, the whole exposition ground was covered with a thick coating of ice, which would seriously hamper the work for a few days.

A NEW VIEW OF ALASKA.

"If the Government wants to be ready in time," Mr. Keenan concluded, "they will certainly have to do some hustling. The other buildings will probably all be up for the opening, and it is rather too bad that the Government should let itself be outstripped in that way."

Those who regard Alaska as the domain of the wild and woolly would do well to have a chat with Mr. Richard L. Hodge, of Seattle, who lately returned from a stay of a couple of years in the Klondike. Mr. Hodge is at present in this city. In conversation with the Star yesterday he gave some very interesting information concerning the social habits of the residents of the northern gold fields.

"Most people have the notion," he said, "that our mining camps in the north are very rough places. This is quite a mistake, and the fact of the matter is that one can see as much refinement there as he can anywhere in the country. In Fairbanks, Nome, Dawson, and other places there are clubs where the members never appear except in evening dress. Nor do business men in these cities during working hours go around without their collars and with their pants poked down into their boots. They are as well dressed as business men in Montreal or any other city. Of course, the miners while at work dress in rough clothes on account of the nature of their occupation, but you would be surprised to see how natty these same men look when they get into their dress clothes and sally off to the club."

Mr. Hodge is a man of original views, and he has something new to say about the future of Alaska.

"Most people think of Alaska as nothing but a mining country," he said. "They imagine that if the gold and precious metals were to give out that would be the end of the country. The fact of the matter is that Alaska has resources in agriculture far more valuable than any of its mineral wealth. Some day it will be one of the most productive farming sections of the continent."

Seven Coal Miners Perish.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., February 11.—The seven men entombed on Friday night in No. 13 colliery of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company, at Wanamie, were found dead on Saturday. The bodies were at the bottom lift of the mine. All the men were foreigners.

HAPPENINGS AT McGILL.

The Literary Society meeting has been crowded out of the week's programme for the last three weeks by the superior attraction of hockey matches and dances. This week, however, it will be the feature. The annual public speaking contest has been set for Friday night, and probably will, as in the past two seasons, prove a great attraction to the students as their friends. There is a radical change this year in the conditions attached by the anonymous donor of the medal, which is the reward of oratory. The subject is fixed: "The Future Destiny of Canada," each candidate is given 15 minutes to express his views, and to prove his ability. In considering the award matter and delivery will be considered of equal value.

The Historical Club held a well attended meeting on Thursday night, when some of the "causes celebres" were discussed in the following order:

I.—The Casket of Letters, G. S. Ramsay.

II.—The Gunpowder Plot, J. E. Brunetu.

III.—The Rastadt Affair, M. L. Packard.

Three class dinners were held during the past week and in each case the members of the class are proclaiming it the best ever.

The Arts Sophomores dined at the St. Lawrence Hall, on Tuesday. To them may be given credit for devising a new scheme of toasts—one which does away with the usual plan at class dinners of having some half dozen men to respond to the one toast of "Our Guests." The list of toasts following will show the improvement. Musical members interspersed with the speeches enlivened the proceedings. Toasts: The King, proposed by W. H. Gordon.

Alma Mater, proposed by D. B. Renoldson, responded to by J. A. Allan '07.

The Faculty, proposed by A. R. W. Plimsoll, and responded to by W. V. Carey.

Arts, proposed by H. R. Clouston, and responded to by S. Ramsay, '08.

Medicine, proposed by C. S. LeMesurier and responded to by J. Lannin, Med. '09.

Science, proposed by S. S. Hawkins, and responded to by R. B. Stewart, Sci. '09.

Law, proposed by M. L. Packard, and responded to by J. T. Hackett, Law '09.

The Ladies, proposed by C. S. Hanson, and responded to by W. McLaren, '10.

The Science Juniors dined in the Windsor on the same evening, and reported a very pleasant time with toasts and the usual fund of stories. Then on the following night the Science Sophomores had their festivities in the Place Viger Hotel.

The McGill Hockey and Skating Club is contemplating a skating party to be held probably on February 22nd. Skating will be on the campus rink, and then refreshments will be served in the McGill Union. The committee in charge is composed of Misses Masson and Brower, and Messrs. A. C. Pratt, C. M. Ross and L. B. Kingston.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of McGill University will be held in Strathcona Hall on Saturday evening, February 16th, at 7.30 o'clock. At this meeting reports of the past year's work will be presented, and a new Board of Directors will be elected. The Nominating Committee has presented the following names for the board of directors:—M. G. Brooks, Arts '08; J. E. Lovering, Med. '08; A. O. Hayes, Sci. '08, Wm. Stewart, Law, '08; E. R. Rider, Sci. '09; George T. Wilson, Med., '10, W. McDougall, Arts '08; H. T. Logan, Arts '07; F. M. Auld, Med. '09, R. B. Dexter, Med. '08. To serve on the Advisory Board—W. L. Carr, Sci. '09, G. B. Murphy, Med. '08.

SIXTH CONCERT OF MONTREAL SYMPHONY.

Edouard Dethier, the young violin virtuoso, was the feature of Friday's concert by the Montreal Symphony Orchestra, the sixth of the winter series. His reception by the large audience was a most enthusiastic one, and he was obliged to play encores to each of his numbers. The applause, however, was well bestowed, for his work was of a kind to deserve the very highest praise.

There are, indeed, few of the younger generation of violinists who give evidence of such abilities as Mr. Dethier, and when time and the wider experience which it brings, shall have deepened and intensified his temperament, he should certainly go far. He is the possessor of a really fine technique, accurate and flexible; and with the exception of a slight lack of clearness at times his work yesterday was almost faultless in this respect. It was especially distinguished by a wonderful beauty of tone, which seems to be one of Mr. Dethier's most striking gifts. The Vieuxtemps Concerto was probaly his finest piece of work, on account of the opportunity it gave him to display his exceptional mastery of his instrument, but it was in the Wieniawski "Airs Russes," the Zarzycki "Mazurka," and the Bach Aria for the Fourth String that he displayed most sympathy and temperament, and it was in these that he seemed most to appeal to his auditors.

The work of the orchestra was very good. The "Jubal" Overture was admirably rendered, and the vivid, fanciful music was given with insight and understanding. They were even more successful, however, in the Schubert Symphony in B Minor, especially in the beautiful andante movement, which was played in true Schubertian style with an even lyric quality of melody.

But the most successful number of all was probably the Saint-Saens "Le Rouete d'Omphale," a delicious orchestral spinning song, which the orchestra played "con amore." It is a piece of work calling especialy for light and delicate touches, and can therefore be easily marred in its effect. But there was nothing to criticize in the rendition given by the Symphony orchestra, which was all that could be desired.

The farm of Mr. George Irving, situated on the river front at Bout de l'Ile, has been purchased by the Mount Royal Cemetery Company. The property contains 20 arpents.

A RARITY IN BRIDGES.

MAHOGANY is among the most costly woods in the world, and it may well be inferred that this tropical material is not very extensively employed in the construction of buildings, etc. A bridge constructed of solid mahogany is certainly a rarity. There is one, claimed to be the only one in the world, located in the department of Palenque, state of Chiapas, republic of Mexico. This mahogany bridge is constructed entirely of that valuable wood except some iron supports, braces, and nails that are necessary. The bridge spans the Rio Michol and its total length, including approaches, exceeds 150 feet, while the width is fifteen feet. It is used by both teams and pedestrians and, though somewhat primitive in construction, is very substantial.

A GERMAN PHONOCARD.

A phonocard has been invented by a German which is finding much favor abroad. A description of the novelty is as follows: For producing the phonographic postal card an apparatus is used which records the human voice upon a piece of pasteboard of the form of the card, which, it is claimed, has many advantages over writing, as it cannot be deciphered except by a reproducing machine. The recording of the human voice is done by an ordinary phonograph of simple construction by means of a pencil of a sapphire point. This pencil makes its impression upon a suitable substance called "sonorine" spread upon the surface of the card. The sonorine, which can be easily spread over pasteboard, possesses all the properties of a wax cylinder, and is in reality the invention. The signs are impressed in the form of a spiral, beginning at the margin of the card and ending in a very small circle, and are impressed so deeply that the stamping by the postal authorities can only destroy two or three words. The card has ample space for about eighty words.

SPANISH AUTOMOBILISM.

Spain is not, perhaps, the land to which one would look for a lead in the spirit of modern progress, but in the field of automobilism at least the young enthusiasm of King Alfonso seems to have struck out in a direction where other countries may follow. His Majesty has come to the conclusion that technical instruction among Spanish chauffeurs is summary, not to say fragmentary—defects which may not be exclusively peculiar to Spain—and he has devised a bold remedy. At his instance there is to be founded in the Madrid School of Arts and Crafts a chair of automobilism, by means of which Spanish chauffeurs may receive a training which, it is hoped, will be complete. It is certainly to be varied. Besides mere familiarity with the mechanism of the machine, they will have to acquire some new acquaintance with the legislation governing the use of motor cars and a strong grasp upon the system of main roads in the country. As this is not of the most complicated, the difficulty will be so much less in mastering them. One feature of the course of instruction will tempt the caustic humor of the motorphobe. The Spanish chauffeur will receive sufficient training in surgical dressing to enable him to render first aid to an injured person.

AN AERIAL RAILWAY.

A Geneva correspondent of one of the London papers reports that all necessary money had been subscribed, and that work will soon begin on the railway from Zermatt to the top of the Matterhorn, 14,780 feet high. The Swiss engineers Unfeld and Golliez estimate that the work will cost $2,000,000, and will take four years to accomplish. The cog-wheel system will be employed for the first section from Visege-Zermatt Station, across the Zmutt valley, the Zmuttbach, Lac Noir (8,150 feet), and under the Hornli to the Alpine Club's hut at a height of 10,000 feet. Then will come an almost perpendicular tunnel drilled to the top of the mountain. It will be 7,770 feet long, with a gradient of 85 per cent. A station twenty yards from the summit will be cut out of the solid rock, as well as a number of rooms looking outwards on the magnificent panorama. A special room containing compressed oxygen will be built for tourists who suffer from mountain sickness. The journey from Zermatt to the summit and return will cost $15, whereas at present $40 is the usual fee for guide and porters. The ascent by rail will take an hour and a half. It requires from twenty-four to twenty-six hours to go there and back on foot. Forty years have elapsed since the Matterhorn was climbed for the first time.

Admiral de Ruyter.

The 300th anniversary of Admiral de Ruyter's birth will be appropriately celebrated by the Dutch in the coming year. To honor the memory of the hero it has been decided to have built a war vessel in Amsterdam, reproducing exactly the construction and rigging of de Ruyter's famous ship, the Seven Provinces. The interior of the vessel will be decorated in the style of the seventeenth century, and is to contain an exhibition of articles and other souvenirs of the Admiral's time.

Great Cobblers.

Koepenick, the bogus army officer who caused such a commotion in Germany recently, comes of a calling that of cobbler—which has given the world some very great men. One authority asserts that the majority of cobblers have exceptional brains—that their attitude when stooping over their work tends to a mechanical development in the part where the intellectual faculties are seated. Some one has written a book on Parisian shoemakers. In it are Sir Cloudesley Shovel, Gifford the Psychic, Greenfield, author of the well-known "Greenfield Boy," Cowie, the missionary to Africa, Mungo, George Fox, founder of the Society of Friends, John Kitto, the Biblical scholar, and Sturgeon, the electrician.

COLLIDED OFF BEACHY HEAD.

Atlantic Transport Steamer Damaged by French Vessel.

Southampton, Eng., Feb. 11.—The Atlantic Transport line steamer Mendoza, which left Antwerp Friday for Philadelphia, put in here Saturday badly damaged, as the result of the collision off Beachy Head during the night with the French coasting steamer President Leroy Lallier.

The French vessel was considerably damaged, but her commander decided to proceed to his port of destination, Dunkirk.

Eleven first class passengers and 18 cattlemen, who were on their way to the United States on board the Mendoza, were transferred off the Isle of Wight to the American line steamer St. Louis, which left Southampton today for Philadelphia and New York.

Toulon, Fr., Feb. 11.—The French battleship Brennus broke from her moorings during a severe storm and grounded near Hyeres. She was subsequently gotten off with considerable difficulty and then returned here. She sustained much damage.

AS RESULT OF MANY CAUCUSES OF ALDERMEN A GREATLY CHANGED STATE OF COMMITTEES WILL BE PRESENTED

Several caucuses of aldermen were held at the City Hall to-day in order to prepare a list of the civic committees as they are to stand for the present year. As already announced in the Star, a majority of the French-speaking aldermen had come to the conclusion that a change in the personnel of the Finance and other committees was necessary.

Ald. Payette was at the caucus of French aldermen yesterday, where a new slate of city committees was adopted. He stated to-day that he was of a majority of the French that there should be changes in certain offices, this being the case for had nothing to do for himself. He pointed out at the same time that he desired to have the committees remodelled in a way that the best interests of the city would be served.

Nearly all the aldermen were down at the City Hall to-day, anxious to find out what changes were to be made. The caucuses to-day resulted in other changes being made. It was finally decided that the slate which will be presented to the City Council to-day should be as follows:

PERSONNEL OF COMMITTEES.

Finance.—Payette, chairman; L. A. Lapointe, Sadler, Gray, White, Martin, Robinson.

Road.—Larivière, chairman; N. Lapointe, O'Connor, Lemire, Stearns, Giroux, J. B. A. Martin.

Police.—Prowse, chairman; Rumbergy, Molson, Scgarie, Gray, Leo M. Martin.

Fire and Light.—Yoker, chairman; Hodge, Lavallée, David, Lavallée, Mercier, Stearns.

Water.—Cushing, chairman; Galbois, Neath, Dagenais, Lavergne, Hodge, Turner.

Markets.—Dr. Otte, chairman; Rumbray, M. Martin, Labrecque, Turner, Seguin, N. Lapointe.

Incineration.—Major, chairman; David, Mercier, Roy, Gallery, Duquette, Lechâire.

Hygiene and Statistics.—Dugas, chairman; Scott, Robillard, Lavergne, O'Connell, Levy, Ward.

Parks and Ferries.—Robillard, chairman; Lavallée, Major, Deserres, Stearns, Lavallée, Molson.

City Hall Committee.—This is an entirely new committee, and its personnel is to be as follows: Labrecque, chairman, Levy, Giroux, Deserres, J. B. A. Martin, Ward, Galbois.

The new slate means that Ald. Molson, Deserres and Lavallée will be removed from the Finance Committee. This slate shows who will replace them. Another important change is taking Ald. Levy from the Market Committee where he acted as chairman.

The new slate created no little bitterness among many of the aldermen. They stated that an effort was now being made to punish those who voted against the proposed offer to the Heat, Light & Power Co.

The above assertion was denied by Ald. Payette who stated that he only desired changes to be made in order to conduct the business of the city on a better basis.

Ald. Robinson was very much annoyed over the proposed changes. He said: "I can see no reason whatever why Ald. Molson should be removed from the Finance Committee. He is a banker and was doing good work on this committee. It is also astonishing why Ald. Deserres should be taken from the Finance. He is a man who has given years of his life to financial matters and was a useful alderman. It is true that I am left on the Finance, at the same time I shall protest against the proposed changes as they are not just. It is said that, if any member of the Finance Committee wishes to go, he would consult the Roads and Bridges Committee. I am sure he would permit Ald. Molson to serve on the Finance. No decision was reached on the matter at 1.40. An endeavor was also made to get Ald. Stearns to protest against going on the Roads committee and replacing Ald. White. Nothing definite was done in regard to the matter.

It is expected that the meeting of the Council to-day will be a most stormy one. Those who favour the changes deny that the gas offer has anything to do with the matter, while those who are to be changed will plainly state that they are being punished because they voted against any offer to the Light Heat & Power Co. being made.

JEROME HANDS OVER NOTE MRS. THAW PASSED TO HER HUSBAND ON FATAL NIGHT SHE AGAIN OCCUPIES THE WITNESS CHAIR

New York, February 11.—After Mr. Lyon had been excused without further examination, John B. Gleason, of counsel for the defence, was called. He said the envelope containing the will had been in his possession since December 11, 1906, when he received it by mail from Pittsburg. No changes had been made in it except the marks for identification put on the papers in court.

Mr. Jerome's cross examination was featureless. He conceded the progress of the will direct from Mr. Lyon to Mr. Gleason. The offer of the will in evidence was deferred.

ON THE RACK AGAIN.

Mr. Delmas then asked that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw be recalled. "It has been testified by this witness," said Mr. Delmas when Mrs. Thaw had taken her place, "that she wrote a note to her husband in the Cafe Martin the night of the occurrence on Madison Square Garden. This note we understand to be in the possession of the learned district attorney. We now ask him to produce that paper."

HIS MOTHER CUTS OFF HER CHARITIES.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, February 11.—Defence of Harry Thaw will cost more than one million. Already half a million has been expended exclusive of counsel fees. Those, with necessary daily expenditures will foot up even more than that sum. Owing to this fact Mrs. Thaw, mother of the prisoner, has curtailed her charitable bequeaths and institutions in Pittsburg which have benefited by her philanthropy are becoming alarmed. She has announced that her contributions will cease until the trial is over.

Mr. Jerome answered: "We have a piece of paper," he said, "I don't know that it is this note, but I will send for it."

When the note had been received and identified by Mrs. Thaw, Mr. Jerome offered no objection to it being received in evidence. The note proved no surprise, the wording being only slightly different from what has been generally reported.

READS ITS CONTENTS.

Mr. Delmas read it as follows: "The B. was here a minute ago, but went out again."

Mr. Thaw said the "B." meant the Blackguard," and referred to Stanford White.

"Did you ever hear Mr. Thaw refer to threats made against his life by White?"

Mr. Jerome objected that a plea of self-defence by the defendant's own statements, is not admissible. Mr. Delmas asserted that these threats had been made and it was competent to prove that Thaw armed himself after hearing these threats.

Justice Fitzgerald held that there was no rule of law which will allow the defendant's own claims that threats were made against his life.

RESULT OF DELUSIONS.

Mr. Delmas declared that if he could show the defendant's statements were the result of insane delusions he would have the right to show them. Justice Fitzgerald sustained the objection. Mr. Delmas then said:

"You have heretofore recalled some events of Christmas Eve, 1903, state whether at the time or subsequently Mr. Thaw made any declaration to you as to his being followed by malefactors who were set upon him by Stanford White, with a design upon his life?"

Mr. Jerome objected that the question was leading and was sustained.

"Did you ever see a pistol in Thaw's possession?" asked Mr. Delmas. "Yes," replied Mrs. Thaw.

"When, for the first time?" "I cannot say exactly," replied the witness. "It was some time after Christmas Eve, 1903."

"Do you know if he ever carried the pistol anywhere except when he was in New York?" "He never carried the pistol except when in New York."

MAY MACKENZIE NAMED.

"Mrs. Thaw, the name of May Mackenzie has been mentioned in this case. Will you state when you first met her?" "I think it was in 1901."

"Did you ever tell Mr. Thaw of a visit made to May Mackenzie when she was sick in a hospital and when Stanford White was present?" "Yes."

"State what you told Mr. Thaw."

Mr. Jerome objected, claiming that this was another case of piling up cumulative evidence without the essential fact being first shown.

"The defendant under this ruling is in an unfortunate condition," said Mr. Delmas. "We are trying to prove the mental condition of the defendant by his looks, acts and declarations. He was momentarily insane, and we are trying to prove it by a series of acts before and after this occurrence."

Justice Fitzgerald, however, sustained the objection.

PULLED UP ONCE MORE.

"Mrs. Thaw, did you, in any conversation with your husband, state to him that after your marriage May Mackenzie had said, when she told Stanford White that you were married and living happily with your husband, that ——"

Mr. Jerome's objection to this was sustained, Justice Fitzgerald stating, in reply to Mr. Delmas' request for enlightenment as to the court's wishes in the matter, "that the court has gone as fully into the matter as it desires."

CALLS FOR AN ALIENIST.

"Did you attend the theatre with Harry Thaw and a lady in this city in 1903?" asked Mr. Delmas of the witness.

Mr. Jerome again objected that some alienist should first show that Thaw was of unsound mind during the occurrences covered by the questions and that the scenes told him might have affected his mind in the way counsel desired to indicate. The objection was sustained.

"What effect upon Thaw did the presence of Stanford White have?" asked Mr. Delmas. Again Mr. Jerome objected and was sustained.

"Upon your return from Europe in 1904 was Mr. Thaw present on the steamer?" "Yes, sir."

"When on the steamer, do you remember whether Mr. Thaw told you anything about a certain young girl and what happened to her at the hands of Stanford White?" "Yes."

COULDN'T TELL ALL.

The court sustained another objection by Mr. Jerome, and the witness was not allowed to tell the story.

"In Paris," asked Mr. Delmas, "did you tell Mr. Thaw about a young woman, who was known between you as 'The Pie Girl?'" "Yes." Mrs. Thaw was not allowed to detail this story, either.

"When did Mr. Thaw make his last proposal of marriage to you—the one which you accepted?" "I think it was April 1, 1905."

"What did he say to you at that time?" Again the District Attorney objected and was sustained.

SHOWS HER THE WILL.

A document was shown Mrs. Thaw, who said that it was first shown to her by Harry Thaw, in January, 1906, she thought.

"Did he make any declaration regarding it at that time?" Another objection was sustained.

"Did you ever hear Mr. Thaw refer to the statements he had made to the Society for the Protection of Children or for the Suppression of Vice?"

Mrs. Thaw was not allowed to answer.

Mr. Delmas then announced that as the court's ruling prevented him from going further into these matters, he would ask leave to temporarily withdraw the witness and proceed along other lines.

Mr. Jerome acceded to the request, and Mr. Delmas then asked for an early adjournment in order to prepare for the new line of evidence. A recess was ordered at 12.20 until 2 p.m.

MARCOTTE BILL MAY BE THE CENTRE OF A SPIRITED FIGHT WHEN IT GOES BEFORE THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, February 11.—The lack of general interest in private legislation and of that close oversight or supervision which might reasonably be expected from members are aptly illustrated in the passage through all its stages in the assembly of the bill to confer certain favors on L'Academie de Billard Marcotte.

It requires but the most cursory examination of the measure to detect its ulterior aims. It really means that for the payment of a small annual contribution, the amount of which is not mentioned, but which may be infinitesimally small, anybody may have access to an institution in the heart of the city of Montreal where liquor can be obtained up to two o'clock in the morning of every day in the year, Sundays included.

Country members and those of the city and district of Quebec do not appear to take any interest in the matter one way or the other, and the Montreal members are all out of town to-day. But there is no doubt that in the Legislative Council there will be a big fight put up.

While the bill provides, that the present rooms of L'Academie Billard Marcotte, or those that may be occupied by it hereafter, shall be open to the members aforesaid and to the present shareholders of the Academy every day from ten o'clock in the forenoon until two o'clock after midnight, and shall continue to be open to the public generally, but only during the hours specified by the municipal by-laws, the shareholders of the academy alone and members who are shareholders, whom it may hereafter associate with itself as aforesaid, have the right to play in the rooms of the said academy outside of such hours and during those above mentioned. On the other hand it is arranged that L'Academie de Billard Marcotte shall have power to associate with itself as many members not being shareholders as it may deem expedient, such members paying to the aforesaid academy an annual subscription which shall be fixed with the consent of the Academie and of the members aforesaid.

W. T. R. PRESTON BOOMING SOUTH AFRICA AS MECCA FOR BRITISH EMIGRANTS

By Special Cable from our own correspondent.

London, February 11.—Mr. W. T. R. Preston, who is announced as the commissioner of trade for the Dominion of Canada, publishes a two-column article in the London Express to-day, strongly urging that South Africa should undertake agricultural settlement by the aid of British immigrants. He says: "South Africa can more readily support millions of population in its agricultural areas between Table Mountain and Zambesi, than Canada can between Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains."

The tendency of the article would seem to be to divert to South Africa some part of the British emigration which Canada is at last receiving as a reward for her long continued and expensive propaganda.

It is understood that before leaving England, nominally, for the Far East Mr. Preston personally approached leading South African authorities here with a view to starting an organization to secure British emigrants for South Africa on lines similar to those pursued by him as Canadian emigration commissioner. The approaches, however, came to nothing.

CANADIAN PACIFIC WINS.

Gets Permission to Use Sandon Dock for Its Steamers.

By Special Cable from our own correspondent.

London, February 11.—Much satisfaction is expressed at Canada's victory over the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board, as indicated in the board's decision to set apart the north side of Sandon Dock for the use of Canadian Pacific steamers. The decision includes permission to build cold storage accommodation for butter, cheese and other perishable food products.

Instructions are now awaited from the Canadian Pacific head office in Montreal so that Canadian products in the coming season may receive on landing the proper treatment which has been repeatedly urged by the Canadian Department of Agriculture.

Carpet Cleaning and Renovating

We take pleasure in announcing that we have just installed thoroughly up-to-date Patent Carpet Cleaning Machinery (in our new Factory on Beaver Hall Hill), and can confidently guarantee absolute satisfaction to our Patrons.

The equipment consists of a Beating Machine, which cleans the Carpets to the core of the Pile, and not merely on the surface, as is usually the case by other methods. The Renovating Machine which revives the colors to almost their original shades, without saturating the carpet, and consequently neither softening nor shrinking the fabric. The Brushing Machine (which has also a Steaming Process) kills all germs which might be in the carpet, and also raises the Pile, thus ensuring a better application of the brushes thereon.

The following are our prices, viz:

FOR BEATING (including Steaming and Brushing treatment)—

Scotch, Brussels and Tapestry Carpets, 4c per yard, 27 inches wide

Wilton and Axminster Carpets, 6c per yard, 27 in. wide.

Turkey and Oriental Rugs, 9c per square yard.

FOR RENOVATING (including Beating, Steaming and Brushing)—

Brussels Carpet, 12c per yard 27 inches wide.

Wilton and Velvet Pile Carpet, 15c per yard, 27 in. wide.

Axminster Carpet, 16c per yard, 27 inches wide.

Turkey and Oriental Rugs, 24c per square yard.

Carpets taken up and re-laid by competent workmen.

N.B.—Each customer's goods are cleaned separately.

ATTEMPT AT INCENDIARISM MADE LAST NIGHT IN DOWN-TOWN HOTEL

A daring attempt at incendiarism was made last night at the Club Hotel, 1414 Notre Dame street, kept by E. Mallette.

Fortunately the odor of the coal oil and smoke attracted the attention of Mrs. Hoston, who resides over the saloon. Thinking that something was wrong, she turned in an alarm to the fire department. The men of No. 12 station immediately responded, and when they smashed in the front door they found strips of cotton saturated with coal oil all over the place. The fire was in the reading-room, just in the rear of the bar, and pieces of oil-soaked cotton and waste were scattered about. On the shelves in the bar-room several uncorked flasks of coal oil were found. The back door was left open and the flames were being fanned by the strong wind which was blowing between nine and ten o'clock.

Sub-Chief Trembly and his firefighters of No. 12 station lost no time in removing the oil-soaked rags and then directed their attention to extinguishing the flames in the reading-room.

The police are in charge of the place to-day and Mallette, whom they are naturally looking to for an explanation, could not be found.

JUDGE GUERIN HEARD HIS MAIDEN CASE.

Mr. Justice Edmund Guerin, who was just recently elevated to the Bench of the Superior Court, presided over his maiden case this morning in Room 13. The case was an action for damages against the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company. Before starting the usual legal proceedings, congratulations were offered the new judge by Mr. W. D. Lighthall, K.C., Henri Hebert and P. J. Coyle. His Lordship responded, expressing his thanks for the kind sentiments expressed by the members of the Bar, and also his regret on leaving his many confreres of the legal profession with whom he had had such pleasant relations during the past twenty-five years.

The case was that of Ellen O'Brien vs. the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company. The husband of the plaintiff was injured in an accident some time ago, and shortly after the accident he died of pneumonia.

The plaintiff claims that her husband's death was caused by the accident, while the defendants contend that the accident had nothing to do with the plaintiff's husband's subsequent illness. The plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Lighthall and Harwood, and the defendants by Messrs. Hebert and Duff. The action is for $2,000, the amount for which the plaintiff's husband was insured with the accident company.

FRANCE YIELDS A POINT.

Agrees to Allow Church Contracts to Run Eighteen Years.

Paris, February 11.—In anticipation of the rejection by the Vatican authorities of the form of contract for the lease of the churches proposed by Education Minister Briand, the Government has allowed it to be publicly understood that it is willing to accept a modification making the contracts run 18 years and for the benefit of the parish priest named, or his successor, "fulfilling the same conditions."

This will surmount the objection raised by the Vatican that every time a parish priest is changed a new contract must be negotiated with the commune or municipality in which the church is situated.

REVOLUTION IN PERSIA.

London, February 11.—It was announced in a special despatch from Teheran this afternoon that anti-government bands had seized the ammunition at Tabriz and that faction fighting was proceeding in the streets.

Miss Ethelwyn Luckes of Kingston, who has been visiting in Ioan, has returned home.

FUNERAL OF LATE ARCHIE POITRAS.

The funeral of the late Archie Poitras, who passed away on Friday last after a few days' illness at the age of 35, was held yesterday afternoon. The cortege left the house of the deceased at 2.30 and proceeded to the Cote des Neiges Cemetery where the interment took place.

The funeral was very largely attended by the numerous friends and acquaintances of the deceased, there being a very large attendance of his fellow-workmen, among whom he had gained an enviable popularity. The Canadian Order of Foresters, Court Duvernay, No. 687, of which the deceased was a member, attended in a body, and led the procession. The chief mourners were three sons, Arthur, Delphis and Harold, the father, Mr. George Poitras, and the brother, Mr. George Poitras, Jr. The service was held this morning at the St. Cunegonde Church.

REV. WILLIAM J. CLARK, of London, Ont., who has received a call to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Westmount.

Boers Likely to Control Transvaal.

Johannesburg, February 11.—The first elections to Parliament under the new Transvaal constitution will be held on February 26, with every prospect of the Boers obtaining a working majority in the House of Representatives. The nominations for 69 seats occurred February 4th and to-day ten Hetvolk (Boer) party candidate were declared elected unopposed. These include ex-President Smitkburger and Generals Delarey and Erasmus.

NEARLY FOUR HUNDRED NAMES WERE REMOVED FROM ELECTORAL LIST FOR ST. LAWRENCE DIVISION BY REVISORS

Nearly four hundred names were today removed from the electoral list for St. Lawrence Division by the Board of Revisers at the City Hall to-day. Complaints had been entered on behalf of both political parties. The great majority of the complaints entered by or on behalf of Mr. George W. Stephens, M.L.A., however, were for the removal of names from one polling division on the ground that the party whose name appeared already had a right to vote in the constituency in some other poll.

The batch of Chinese names entered upon applications purporting to have been signed and sworn before Commissioner Sincennes, and several of the names for which applications and affidavits were supposed to have been made before Mr. Paul Katz, J.P., were struck, as the parties whose names appeared on these applications could not be found to justify the applications.

Mr. Campbell Lane, K.C., and Mr. Frank J. Curran, appeared as counsel for the complainants who were present with Mr. J. W. McNeil, of Mr. H. B. Ames's office. Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, K.C., appeared for Mr. G. W. Stephens, M.L.A., and was accompanied by Mr. Alex Costigan, who had looked after the revision on behalf of the sitting member.

The removal of eighty-three Chinese names, nearly every one of which was supposed to have been sent in after application and oath before Commissioner Sincennes, afforded some merriment.

Judge Choquet, chairman of the board, did most of the talking for the court, Messrs. A. de Martigny and A. Rives Hall merely concurring in his decisions.

Clerk Christin, who, with Mr. A. Filiatrault, of the City Clerk's office, had charge of the complaints, read off the names, some of which sounded peculiar to European or Canadian ears, and found no little difficulty in getting anything like the pronunciation which the bearer of the name would probably give the spelling. "Struck" would Judge Choquet remark as name after name came up, varying the word with the remark occasionally "Not yet left the Celestial Empire."

Lee Johnson, the new Chinese policeman, who had accompanied the agents sent out by the Conservative committee to investigate the applications, as he had accompanied those sent out by the Star for the same purpose, was on hand to certify to his investigations. His presence was not needed, however, as no one appeared to justify the applications.

NAMES WERE STRUCK OFF.

Among the applications purporting to have been signed before Paul Katz, Justice of the Peace, in cases in which Mr. Katz has declared to the Star that he knew all the persons who had made application and been sworn by him, Solomon Silverstone was struck off, on the allegation that he was unknown at the address given by the tenant who was there for three years past, while Abraham Lobelsohn, who was registered as from 222 St. Charles Borrommee street, was another unknown at the address given, and Moses Cohen, registered by Katz from 158 St. Urbain was found to be a minor 19 years of age. Several other applications through Mr. Katz were found irregular for various reasons and rejected, while others will be up for consideration to-morrow.

When the complainants, represented by Messrs. Lane and Curran had finished with their work, Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields began with his complaints. In several cases it was found that the complaints entered by Mr. Costigan, on behalf of Mr. George W. Stephens, were against the same persons as those who had been struck out on the other side, showing that the canvass had been fairly conducted on both sides.

Then came the applications to have names removed in cases where parties appeared on the list twice for the constituency. There were over a hundred of these cases, and a number of corrections were also made in Christian names and descriptions.

Thus Mr. Edward Snell is a gardener by occupation, but the electoral list showed that the name on the list was Edward Snall Gardner. In the same manner, Mr. William McKee, who is a wood turner, appeared on the list as W. McKee Woodsturner. Several names were also removed from the list as their owners admitted that they were aliens.

Besides, Mr. Greenshields had a list of names which he wished added to the list. After some argument the revisors decided to admit the names, and it was then found, somewhat to Mr. Greenshields' surprise, that the majority of the list were the names of good Conservatives.

QUEBEC WANTS HALF MILLION

Liberal Federal Aid Sought for Tercentenary Celebration.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Quebec, February 11.—From thirty to forty Quebecers are leaving for Ottawa this afternoon to interview Sir Wilfrid Laurier to-morrow morning respecting the city's application for Federal aid to the tercentenary celebration. Mayor Garneau heads the deputation which includes Mr. Power, M.P.; Hon. A. Turgeon, Dr. Johin, M.L.A.; Dr. Cote, M.L.A., several members of the city council and other prominent citizens. The senators and members of the district will join the party in Ottawa. The deputation will ask for the sum of $500,000, as a national contribution to the fitting celebration of the tercentenary of the founding of Quebec, and will explain the ideas of the celebration committee as to the disposal of the amount.

COMMISSIONERS NAMED.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, February 11.—An Order-in-Council has been passed appointing Mr. G. F. Shepley, K.C., Mr. Buell, barrister, of Brockville, and Mr. Richardson, accountant, of Toronto, a commission to go over the rates, etc., of the telephone and express companies and report to the Railway Commission, whether they are reasonable or excessive. When the cases come up before theh Board, Mr. Shepley will plead counsel for the public.

Head of Forestry Branch Resigns.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., February 11.—Mr. E. Stewart, Dominion Superintendent of Forestry, has resigned his position to become managing director of a company being formed in Montreal to operate in British Columbia lumber.

Judge Bruneau Honored.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sorel, Que., February 11.—Judge Bruneau was presented with a congratulatory address by the members of the local bar on Saturday. The address was read by Hon. Jules Allard.

ENGLAND QUAKES AS CORDITE BLOWS UP

Woolwich, England, February 11.—A huge hole in the ground is all that marks the site of the Chemical Research Department of the Woolwich Arsenal and the cordite magazine, which exploded early this morning with such terrific force that the concussion was felt in towns forty miles away, and the whole country side was thrown into panic, owing to the belief that a violent earthquake had occurred. There was no loss of life, but buildings for miles around were wrecked to a greater or less degree by the explosion.

Within a few minutes after the explosion thousands of terror stricken persons, many of them half clad, thronged towards the arsenal. There were large holes in the walls of neighboring houses and on all sides shattered doors and windows and wrecked roofs testified to the appalling force of the explosion of cordite and chemicals with which the arsenal and magazine were stocked. These buildings were practically swept away, the big blocks of stone of which they were constructed being scattered for hundreds of yards on all sides.

Yesterday being Sunday, there was no night shift working, hence the absence of casualities.

The people of Braintree, 40 miles away, were thrown into a panic by the shock of the explosion, while nearer towns had windows shattered and chimneys demolished.

The cause of the disaster is not known at present.

MAY CLAIM DAMAGE FROM THE C.A.A.U.

The snowshoers, who took part in the race meet at Delorimier Park on Saturday last, are wondering whether they will be professionalized or not by the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union.

The Montreal man went in with the avowed intention of giving the Ontario gentlemen an opportunity of branding them as such for taking part in an unsanctioned meet, and the other participants do not seem to care what may happen.

TO PROSECUTE DEFAMERS.

In connection with certain actions taken recently by members of the C.A.A.U. it is being intimated that several athletes in this part of the country who claim they have been professionalized without having done anything to deserve the title of professionals which naturally they claim could only be applied to people who take money for playing, will in a day or so discuss the proposition of clearing their names by bringing suit for defamation of character against the president and one or two other officers of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, individually to test their rights of publishing such accusations broadcast against them.

AMOUNT OF SUITS UNDECIDED.

The principal question to be settled seems to be whether the actions will be taken for only a nominal amount, or whether the amount of damag claimed shall be big enough to bring the matter before the highest courts.

Should damages be collected in the latter case the money is to be devoted to useful athletic purposes.

It is said that some of the wealthier patrons of athletics who have relatives that have been thus suspended and branded as professionals are backing the movement.

PERSONALS.

Miss Enid Hendrie, of Hamilton, is the guest of Miss Silkeman, Montreal.

Miss Stewart, of Winnipeg, is the guest of Miss Dillon, MacGregor street.

Mr. H. Y. Russel, Ouray, Colorado, has returned to Montreal, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Russel.

Mrs. Godfrey Weir, Mrs. R. Stanley Bagg, and Mrs. T. Chase Casgrain are among the hostesses entertaining at cards to-day.

Mrs. M. H. Gault, was the hostess Saturday afternoon of a large and most enjoyable tea given at her residence, "Braehead," McTavish street, in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Lever, of New York. The floral decorations were beautifully carried out with roses, daffodils and smilax.

Mrs. W. A. Weir gave a most enjoyable "Bridge" party Saturday evening in honor of the Lacoste-Tessier wedding. The rooms were effectively decorated, the drawing room being done with pink and white roses, the library with red carnations and the dining room with red tulips. Cards were played at six tables, the prize-winners being: Mrs. L. W. Sicotte, Mrs. Jules Tessier (Quebec), Mr. Mussen, and Mr. Paul Lacoste.

A delightful "At Home" was given Saturday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pringle, at their residence, Bishop street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Oborne, who are leaving Montreal shortly to reside at Toronto. The drawing room was effectively arranged with palms, pink carnations and tulips, palms and cut flowers being in profusion throughout the house. Mrs. Pringle, who received in a black lace gown, over black satin, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Oborne, in cream lace and chiffon over white silk. The tea table was effectively arranged with American Beauty roses and daffodils.

Optical repairs executed promptly. R. Hemsley, 255 St. James st., Montreal.

Sir Wilfrid's New Secretary.

STOCKS HAD A MUCH BETTER TONE TO-DAY

Montreal Cotton Will Show a Good Statement at Its Meeting.

U. S. SECRETARY TO BUY $25,000,000.

"Soo" and C. P. R. Had a Fair Recovery in Wall Street—The News of the Day.

An improved tone was apparent in the Wall Street market, and some of the Canadian issues, like Pacific and "Soo," came in for their share of the recovery.

The movement began with a rally in the southern railway stocks and it soon spread to the entire market.

Money ruled on the stiff side, if anything, as it opened as high as 6 per cent., and then went off to 4.

Strong market influences were absent, and the gossip of the day contained little that was fresh or interesting.

It was announced, however, that the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury would buy $25,000,000 of the short time per cents., due July 1, 1907, at 101½. This had a stimulating influence, as the move will be of much advantage to the New York banks.

BETTER IN WEST.

Conditions appear to be constantly improving in the Canadian west and in short time it is expected that the C. P. R. will be showing heavy increases as a result of the movement of freight long tied up by the storms.

The technical position of the western grain markets has been improved a good deal by the Russian famine, and it is likely that Canadian farmers will derive benefit through the misfortune of others.

MONTREAL COTTON.

Montreal Cotton will show a very satisfactory statement to-morrow in spite of the fact that the company in the early part of the year was considerably handicapped by a scarcity of workers. The latter part of the year saw an increased output and cotton trade conditions have seldom been more satisfactory than they are at the present time, the company pressing its output to the limit.

It is expected that the statement will show somewhat increased expenditures owing to the reorganization work undertaken by the new management. No changes in the dividends are anticipated.

"SOO" KEEPS FIRM.

"Soo" stock keeps firm, and after opening at 111⅞ (unchanged), it soon up to 113¾. There were only a few scattered sales in Wall Street. Canadian Pacific, after opening at 150½, ran up to 151¾, when the market became strong.

DETROIT UNITED.

While the Detroit United has earned during the last four years and what it has paid out available for dividends on its $12,500,000 capital stock is shown herewith:

	Gross earn.	Net earn.	P.C.
1906	$6,002,182	$2,344,561	*9.28
1905	5,125,563	2,064,040	8.11
1904	4,341,805	1,378,712	5.96
1903	4,286,925	1,772,998	6.49

*The $250,000 appropriated during the year for depreciation is not deducted from this amount. With this deducted the amount available for dividends would be $916,045, equal to 7.28 per cent. on the stock.

Bar silver in London was 31¾ pence.

Detroit United for the fourth week of January showed an increase of $11,499. The gain for the month was $44,054.

ROCKEFELLER AND WALL ST.

Where Is That $32,000,000 Going to Come From?

John D. Rockefeller's gift of $32,000,000 for education interested Wall Street vastly. The gift, it was noted, is in the form of interest bearing securities. Now what Wall Street wants to know is, what are these securities?

The deduction is also drawn that Mr. Rockefeller has misread the stock market in recent months, otherwise it is argued he would have handed them over several months ago, when their market value would have been presumably many millions higher and the gift would thus have looked bigger. He has borne the shrinkage in value instead of leaving the authorities to bear the brunt. The question is asked by cynical Wall Street. What effect will this donation to the country have upon the Government?

If Standard Oil stocks figure prominently in the little bundle, the authorities will be in a sense prosecuting themselves, for Mr. Rockefeller has virtually made the authorities partners in Standard Oil.

COTTON MARKET VERY DULL.

Edmund & Charles Randolph.—New York, February 11.—The market closed about 4 points off from the best on Saturday. The fact that the local market is lower than any other market, even taking the contract differences into consideration, is beginning to create a better feeling in view of the feature of Southern markets to respond to the declines in the local contracts, and the fact that fresh shipments of cotton here for delivery would entail a considerable loss.

Liverpool—Due about 1 to 4 points higher, opened quiet, unchanged to one lower, 12.15 p.m. quiet, net 2½ to 3½ lower on near, and 1½ and 2½ lower on late months. Fair business in spots, six points lower. Sales, 8,000, including 7,000 American; imports, 25,000, of which 15,000 are American.

HOLIDAY TO-MORROW.

To-morrow is Lincoln's birthday, and there will be no session of the New York Stock Exchange.

LOOKING FOR CONTROL.

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce.)

Amazingly elaborate plans have been laid by 26 Broadway for controlling the copper industry of this country.

THE DELUGE.

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce.)

Over $200,000,000 new securities have already been put on the market since January 1.

BANK FAILURE.

Newcastle Savings Co., of Youngstown, Ohio, has failed. Liabilities, $300,000; assets, $280,000.

HEAD OF MACKAY CONCERN.

Mr. Clarence Mackay, who may become the head of a gigantic cable, telegraph and telephone merger.

FROTHINGHAM LOST HEAVILY.

It is said that the late Howard P. Frothingham, the Wall Street money lender, lost a tremendous sum of money, before his death, in the Hill stocks.

Last week the weakness in those issues was caused by the selling of the thinly margined stocks held by the late Mr. Frothingham.

DISASTER AMONG PROPHETS.

Said a Montreal broker:

"One of these days there will be no more fortunes turned out on the Nova Scotia Steel dividend that the street is so afflicted with writers' cramp."

BIG COBALT MERGER IS ON.

It is stated in Montreal upon excellent authority that there is a big mining merger on, involving some of the best properties in Cobalt.

The new concern, it is said, will be larger and richer than the Nipissing property.

BACKS UP $1,500,000 BONDS.

The Manitoba Government has guaranteed $1,500,000 more bonds of the Canadian Northern Railway.

Will There Be a Great Combine?

A personal friend of John W. Mackay, the founder of the Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable systems, says: "When I think Mr. Mackay frequently talked to his friends of the advantages that would arise to save the telegraph, telephone and cable service under one management. The recent reliefs of the Postal system (the Mackay companies) would indicate that the present management of the system, headed by Mr. Mackay's son, Clarence H. Mackay, was carrying out a policy laid down by the senior Mackay in accumulating stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and the subsidiary companies of the American Cable system.

"Triplicate offices are now maintained for electrical transmission of intelligence as well as triplicate systems of poles, wires, etc., throughout the United States and Canada. A consolidation of the telegraph, telephone and cable service would save millions annually in operations and extensions, as no new money would be required for some years for poles and wires after a consolidation had been effected. And the service of a combined system would be supreme."

TWIN CITY EARNED 8.32 P.C.

Annual Statement of the Road Came Out To-day.

Twin City's annual statement was out to-day.

After deducting the full 7 per cent. on the preferred stock, the balance $1,673,182.38 is equal to 8.32 per cent. on the common.

Gross earnings for the year showed an increase of $885,726 net, an increase of $279,492.

Surplus after charges increased $292,862, while dividends increased $71,113.

After the appropriation for renewals, etc., which were $141,000 greater than last year, there was a surplus increase of $79,749.

21 MORE MINING DEALS!

Last week 21 more mining concerns were chartered in Toronto, with a capital of $17,880,000.

There were also 20 industrial concerns, with a capital of $2,755,069.

TO-DAY'S LOCAL CLEARINGS.

Montreal clearings were small to-day, but nevertheless showed a fair increase:

1907	$3,480,659
1906	3,178,363
1905	3,669,758

LOOKING TEN YEARS AHEAD.

The Showing Toronto Ry. May Make In the Future.

In the last ten years the earnings of the Toronto Street Railway have increased 300 per cent. If the progress of the city, says the Financial Post, were to continue in the same ratio for the next ten years, another increment of 200 per cent. should take place. In 1916 gross receipts would be about $9,300,000; operating expenses would be $5,000,000, net earnings would be, say, $4,200,000. From the last amount the percentage to the city must be deducted and as over $2,000,000 (twenty-five per cent. must be paid, the city's share would be $1,600,000. Allowing $200,000 additional for pavement charges, $200,000 for fixed charges, the amount available for dividends on the common stock would be $2,000,000. The operations could not, however, increase in this ratio without additional capital. At the end of ten years $1,000,000 has been added. Allowing an increase of $2,000,000 in the next ten years, the common stock would then be $10,000,000. It would appear as though the president, Mr. Wm. Mackenzie, might have reason for his prophecy.

BIG ONTARIO POWER DEAL.

Dominion Power Co. Starts In on the Gobbling Process.

The officials of the Cataract Power Company of Hamilton announced this morning that the Cataract Power Company had been absorbed by the Dominion Power and Transmission Company, the electrical merger being recently incorporated with $25,000,000 capital. The Cataract Company, which controls many radial lines in Ontario, will remain a separate operating concern, but the majority of the stock will be owned by the Dominion Transmission Company stock will be taken up by the big merger.

The Dominion Company will take over the big terminal union station project in Hamilton, and will have a controlling interest in the Brantford and Hamilton railroads.

A COLOSSAL SHRINKAGE IN ALL SECURITIES

World has Seen $2,000,000,000 Fall in Values in Twelve Months.

IN SPITE OF THE GENERAL PROSPERITY.

Decline Has Been World Wide and No Country Has Escaped From the Downward Drift.

It is an ominous fact that, in a year of the greatest industrial activity known to all nations, there should have been such a world-wide shrinkage in values of securities. The depreciation in stocks and bonds listed on the different exchanges of the United States, Canada and Europe, amounts to fully $2,000,000,000. This is five times the years' gold production.

The decline in Americans is put at $500,000,000; in English quoted issues it is from one-half to three-quarters of a billion dollars; in French holdings fully $250,000,000, and about the same amount in Dutch and German investments, with an aggregate in Russian Government and industrials held at home that is incalculable.

Not for many years has there been such a universal shrinkage, and the peculiar aspect of it is the fall in values coincident with trade conditions that have never been equalled.

One naturally wonders if this depreciation, under such circumstances, means the beginning of decay in the investment situation and inability of capital to withstand the tremendous strain of an industrial revolution.

Is it the first sign of thorough liquidation that will bring the much needed increase in liquid funds?

EARTHQUAKES AND WARS.

It might be said off-hand that the $2,000,000,000 shrinkage in securities equals the destruction of capital in the Russo-Japanese war, in the San Francisco fire, the earthquake in Chili and in other smaller catastrophies, whose full effect was felt during 1906.

A very considerable part of the $250,000,000 destruction in France was due to the heavy fall in all classes of Russian issues, of which the French investor holds $2,500,000,000 worth. Such countries as Germany and Holland were hurt severely in the same decline.

The English holdings of Russians are limited to the last loan, and the loss is, therefore, slight. Where the English security holder suffered was in the enormous fall in the stocks of his insurance companies, which were badly hit by the San Francisco disaster.

Got $6,000,000 At 6 Per Cent.

The line in Quebec controlled by the Delaware & Hudson has obtained a collateral bank loan amounting to $6,000,000 at 6 per cent. for the purpose of new construction and equipment almost under contract.

The loan, which is guaranteed by the Delaware & Hudson, runs for one year, the money to be advanced from time to time as required.

Participation in the loan has been offered to other banks by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company, which holds the entire stock of the Canadian line as collateral.

No notes were issued by the company. The entire amount will not be required at once, but will be used distributive year as is needed for payments.

The Canadian Pacific continues to hold the record for cheap financing.

The English Plan

Wall Street was somewhat amused by the announcement that the London and South-Western Railroad had been obliged to reduce its dividend because of the Salisbury disaster.

Were every American road forced to cut its dividend after each accident there would be little left for stockholders.

The English plan is not without its advantages. Certainly accidents there are much less frequent than in the States and Canada.

ACTION ON "SOO" DIVIDEND.

It is said that action on the much discussed semi-annual dividend on "Soo" common will be taken about the last week of the month.

BROCKVILLE BONDS.

The town of Brockville has disposed of $15,000 debentures to Wood, Gundy & Co., Toronto.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

Henry Clews.—The market to-day is in a much soundor condition than three months ago. Speculative sentiment is more evenly divided and conditions are favorable for a healthy trading market. It would be imprudent, however, to look for any pronounced advance over present rally.

J. S. Bache.—The whole market responded to the good news and advances were general. At noon the market holds up well with good prospect of a higher range to-day.

Burnett & Co.—London and Paris are very bullish on the copper market situation. Bear points were current on B. R. T., but did not seem to come from really good quarters. The Brady following is still accumulating, although some brokers claim it is against their will.

J. B. Picken.—It is unlikely that the present Congress will pass any currency measures. We are not of the opinion that any substantial advance can take place until the outlook for money is more satisfactory.

N. P. Bryant.—The Harriman dividend is expected this week at the regular rate. There is a heavy short interest, and surroundings are showing distinct improvement.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

The son of the manager of the Bank of Scotland Mr. Aitken, of the London stock brokerage firm of Kitcat, Mortimer & Aitken, is in Montreal.

Mr. Aitken said everybody thought very highly of Canadian securities in London, but stated that there is a great diversity of opinion about the value of Hudson's Bays.

"Some," he said, "think that Hudsons are not worth half what they are selling at, while others claim they are worth double the price."

A few Montrealers got some of their money back on the recovery in "Soo" common.

Although several let their holdings go on the drop, they seemed to be fascinated with the idea that it looked cheap when it dropped below 110.

Everybody seems to agree that there was good Montreal and Toronto buying at that level.

As for the dividend to be declared shortly, the prophets are at sea, although those who look for an increase are in the majority.

To squeeze between $180,000 to $200,000 out of a car of ore is a remarkable performance that may possibly be achieved by the Cobalt Lake crowd.

A recent vein assayed 9875 ounces of silver. At 65 cents an ounce this would be 6.418 a ton. Cars run around 30 to 40 tons.

A Montreal man wrote up to J. W. Evans, an assayer of Cobalt, and received word that the assay was correct.

Then in comes the pessimist to ask: "But how much of the mine is like the sample assayed?"

Among the numerous dreams that the Toronto Star gets from Montreal is the announcement that Grand Trunk preferred is now on a 6 per cent. basis.

The dividend is 3 per cent., and the highest the stock could probably get, according to the charter, is 4 per cent.

The Grand Trunk has to pay out a good deal of money before it gets to the third preference shareholders.

The issues outstanding just now are:

	Div.	Amount.
Consolidated		£22,475,855
Guaranteed	4	6,629,317
Preferred, 1st	5	3,420,000
Preferred, 2nd	5	2,520,000
Preferred, 3rd	3	7,168,055

In 1897 Trunk's third preference sold as low as 9½, but it is now over 70.

February, the shortest month in the year, is made unusually short in the financial world by the fact that Wall Street closes twice to celebrate the birthdays of two historical figures—Lincoln and Washington.

Granby and "Soo" Divided Honors

Canadian stocks were not very active in Wall Street last week, the features being the fine advance in Granby and the recovery in the "Soo" issues.

The sales of Canadian stocks in New York and the highest and lowest prices for the week were as follows:

Sales.		High.	Low.
55,940	Pacific	152¾	148½
550	Detroit	79½	77¾
300	Duluth	35½	33
300	Duluth	33	33
6,100	Granby	150	131
400	Havana	46	45¼
1,200	Mackay	73¾	71½
1,800	Mackay pfd.	69¾	69
8,270	"Soo" Ry.	115¾	107½
2,560	"Soo" Ry. pfd.	148	134¾

There were no sales of either Twin City or Toledo.

ANOTHER PROPHET INSPIRED.

More Thoughts on the Nova Scotia Steel Dividend.

There is more inspiration on the Nova Scotia Steel dividend than you can shake a stick at. Another prophet writes:

"I had an interview the other day with a gentleman who is very close to the inside workings of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company. He tells me that there is no longer any doubt that a dividend will be declared at the coming meeting on March 27th.

"He is of the opinion that the dividend will be at the rate of 6 per cent., though it is said that a few of the directors favor 5 per cent.

"If quarterly, it will date back to the first of January, while if half-yearly it will date from October 1st."

WHEAT SITUATION ABOUT STRONGEST IN MANY YEARS

Russian News is Best Proof that Notes of Woe Were Caused by Actual Conditions

BULLISH ACTIVITY MUCH PRONOUNCED.

Russian Minister of Agriculture Denies Report That Russia is Buying in United States.

The foreign wheat situation is one of the strongest in many years, and at the present moment the possibilities of bullish activity are exceedingly pronounced.

The Minneapolis Market Record says: "Russian news has been pessimistic throughout the season, and the limited export movement from that country has been the best proof that the trade could have that the notes of woe were caused by actual conditions. As the season lengthens the developments in the land of the Czar become more acute and with the present news as a criterion, Russia is out of the market as a supplier to any extent of importing countries. This is a grave matter to deficient nations, not but what there will be wheat enough to supply their wants, but with one of their liberal sellers eliminated, their market is that much narrowed.

Moreover, Russia is, according to despatches, buying grain in foreign markets. Germany is seding her rye, and reports from New York say that she is in the domestic market for durum wheat.

It will be seen that the burden of supplying the wants of Europe must rest upon America and Argentina. At the state supplies have been going forward from both countries, with no off-setting increase elsewhere, it cannot be long before the question of breadstuffs, sufficient for the day thereof, will take an acute turn."

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Watson & Co., of Minneapolis, wired: "We asked our correspondent in St. Petersburg yesterday to inquire as to the report whether Russia would buy wheat in the United States for famine famine relief. He replies to-day: 'The Minister of Agriculture and the Minister of the Interior, controlling famine supplies, deny the report.'"

CANADIAN FRUIT MARKS ACT.

The American Agriculturist says that the foreign apple trade of the States is liable to be adversely affected by the rigid fruit inspection laws of Canada.

The original fruit marks act of Canada was passed in 1901, and provided that every person who packs fruit in a box or barrel intended for sale shall cause said container to be marked in plain and indelible letters not less than one-half inch high before fruit is taken from the premises where packed.

Amendments were made to this act in 1906, by which the marking must consist of the initials of the packer's Christian name, his full surname and address, whether he be individual or corporation. It must also have the name of the variety or varieties of fruit therein, with the designation of the grades thereof. One of the marks, "Fancy," "No. 1," "No. 2," or the standard market grade, or "No. ——," must be used to show the grade of all closed packages. "Fancy" quality must consist of no imperfect or small fruit. "No. 1" grade must be 90 per cent. perfect fruit, all apples being well grown, but less than medium size and of good color. "No. 2" fruit must have 90 per cent. free from all defects that cause material waste, and must be not less than nearly medium size for the variety. Penalties for violation of the law are prescribed.

Europe is now taking apples both from the United States and Canada in large quantities, but the fact that Canadian apples are packed uniformly and that Government regulations practically guarantee that each barrel shall contain fruit as marked, may have much to do in creating a premium on Canadian apples in foreign markets.

HAY AND GRAIN MARKETS.

HAY.—There is no change in the hay market, and local prices remain at previous quotations, $13.50 to $14 for No. 1 timothy, $12.50 to $13 for No. 2, and $11.50 to $12.00 for lower mixed.

OATS.—The market for oats is very strong, owing to light spot supplies, and prices are quoted at 42 to 42½c for No. 2, in store, with difficulty to realize the inside price.

CORN.—The corn market is very strong at full prices, No. 2 5S to 60c, and No. 3 56 to 58c, per 56 lbs.

BARLEY.—There is a fair demand for barley, and the prices are steady at 52 to 53c per 48 lbs., in store.

FLOUR.—The flour market is very firm and is quoted as follows:

Manitoba grades, $4 to $4.10 per bbl. in bags for strong bakers, and $4.50 to $4.60 for patents. Quotations on Ontarios are $3.75 to $3.85 for bbl. of straight rollers, $1.70 to $1.80 per bag, and $1.50 to $1.60 for extras.

MILLFEED.—The market for millfeed is firm, and supplies on spot are small. Bran is quoted at $21, and shorts at $22 per ton.

New York, February 11.—Cotton futures opened steady: March, 9.38; May, 9.65; July, 9.64; Aug., 9.61 to 9.62; Oct., 9.79; Nov. offered, 9.80; Dec. offered 9.86; Jan., 9.95 bid.

MAPLE PRODUCTS AND BEANS.

MAPLE PRODUCTS.—Last year's crop is getting pretty well cleaned up, and those who are holding any are not losing any reasonable bids, as it will not be many weeks before we have the new stock. Sales of pure Eight Sugar have been made at 8c; syrup, small tins, 50 to 65c, and imperial tins, 60 to 65c.

BEANS.—The market is firm, three-pound pickers selling at $1.92 on track, and in a jobbing way at $1.30.

ONIONS.—The demand is good, with sales of red at $1.50 per 100 lbs., or $3.25 per barrel in a wholesale way.

MONTREAL STOCK YARD.

The receipts of cattle this morning at the Montreal Stock Yards were 1100 head. Good to choice steers sold at $4.75 to $5.25; medium to good, $4 to $4.75; cows, good to choice, $4.25 to $4.65; medium, $3.50 to $4.25; common, $2.50 to 3; bulls, export $4 to $4.50; fancy butchers', $3.75 to $4.25; common, $3 to $3.50; 150 calves sold at 6½c per lb.; 100 sheep sold at 4½c per lb., and lambs brought 6½c per lb. 600 hogs, select, weighed off cars, $7.55. The trade was active, and everything was cleared up by noon.

CHATS ON CHANGE

Introduced on 'Change: Feb. 11th, 1907.

Mr. Jas. Goldie, Ayr, Ont., by Mr. H. B. Raphael.

Mr. Jas. Stewart, Kingston, Ont., by Mr. G. A. Thomson.

Mr. W. E. Onand, London, Eng., by Mr. A. P. Stuart.

Mr. Alex. Reid, Winnipeg, by Mr. E. S. Jacques.

Mr. G. W. Hammond, London, Eng., by Mr. Rowland Smith.

Mr. W. H. Hotcher, Sheffield, England, by Mr. G. J. Crowdy.

Mr. Rowland Smith, representative of Messrs Mills and Sparrow, produce merchants, was on 'Change to-day for the first time since November last.

Mr. Thos. J. Parkes, of the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, has been proposed by Mr. Hal B. Brown for membership of the Board of Trade.

Lunham & Moore, of New York, wire: There has been freight taken for 400,000 to 600,000 bushels of Macaroni wheat, to be shipped during April, May and June for St. Petersburg. This is something entirely new in the grain business.

Knight and McDougall, of New wire: Large quantities of wheat, especially Durum wheat, have been sold for export. The Durum wheat has been bought mostly for Russian account, which is a very unusual feature of the market.

WHEAT MARKETS STRONG.

The Liverpool spot wheat market closed to-day firm. No. 1 northern Manitoba, 6s 7½d to 6s 7¾d. No. 2 nor. Man., 6s 7½d. No. 2 hard winter, 6s 3d to 6s 5d. No. 2 white wheat, 6s 3d to 6s 6d. Options on wheat firm, March 6s 7¼d, May 6s 5d and July 6s 4¼d.

RICHELIEU AND ONTARIO STATEMENT

The annual statement of the Richelieu & Ontario says:

The gross earnings for the year amounted to $1,366,299.31, an increase of $148,925.60 over 1905, and the net profits after providing for fixed charges, interest, etc., $261,040.19.

The operating expenses, including extraordinary repairs, were 79.70 per cent. of the gross earnings.

A dividend of 1¼ per cent., amounting to $59,150, was paid December 1, 1906, being at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum.

The bond issue of the company, originally amounting to $571,833.33, now stands at $323,145.71. During the past year the company has redeemed $248,687.62 of said issue.

The growth of the company's tourist and local traffic between Montreal, Quebec and Lake Saguenay makes it necessary to at once provide additional and more modern accommodation. The steamer Quebec has therefore been lengthened, and is now being completely rebuilt and remodelled for this service at the company's yards at Sorel, and when finished will be virtually a duplicate of her sister ship, the Montreal.

The new rapids steamer, the Rapids King, was successfully launched from the yards of the Canadian Shipbuilding Company at Toronto on January 9th last, and every effort will be made by the directors to have these boats in commission for the opening of the tourist traffic the coming season.

The directors also have under consideration the building of a second rapids steamer, to be called the Rapids Queen, and a freight and passenger boat for the Hamilton line.

An insurance fund has been created, and $36,000 has been set aside out of last year's earnings to the credit of this account which will be invested in first-class securities.

The company's steamers, hotels, shops, wharves, etc., have been thoroughly maintained during the past year.

Parliament having granted the company's application for power to issue bonds as authorized by the shareholders, a special meeting of shareholders will be held to authorize the issue.

EXPORTERS' ENCYCLOPEDIA.

What is at once a diary and ready-reckoner and encyclopedia for exporters has been issued by the Commercial Intelligence Branch, New York. Besides showing, each day, when notes drawn at various times upon that day will fall due, the diary is a complete calendar of the official holidays in all parts of the world. The tables of weights and measures of the countries and cities of the world, one to the other, in the terms of each, are very complete, as is also the glossary of stock and other exchange terms in use. Tables show, in English pence per cwt. the equivalent of pound prices in Canada at different rates of exchange, a feature especially valuable to the large and growing exporting trade. The book contains about 120 pages, and is well bound.

COMMERCIAL FAILURES.

R. G. Dun & Co. report: Failures in Canada last week number 20, against 25 for the week ending February 2nd, and 17 the preceding week.

Gaily Clad, Happy Snowshoers Have a Merry Day in This City

With Parades, a Big Supper and Some Very Exciting Races, Three Hundred Visitors From Quebec Revive Old Memories of Glorious Winter Days of the Past.

Les Montagnards, the Hiawatas and members of other happily named snowshoe clubs, with strange Indian names, paraded through the various quarters of the city in their fine warpaint on Saturday, and made people remember the glorious days of the old winter carnivals, both in Montreal and Quebec.

The invaders were all Quebeckers, and with the French Canadian clubs of Montreal, for the English speaking clubs were badly represented in the snowshoeing part of the programme, though out in full force as far as numbers went at the races, they made a brave display, that attracted no end of attention.

They arrived on Saturday morning and some of them had not yet gone away this morning.

During their stay, and there were about three hundred visitors, they enjoyed themselves immensely and managed to create a good deal of fun for the onlookers.

They owned the town wherever they went, and the town is none the worse for it, and they proved once more that snowshoeing is too good a thing to be allowed to die.

They announced their arrival by the music of bugle and other bands and at noon they took possession of the City Hall, and crowded in the Council Chamber, which they filled downstairs, hundreds of sightseers crowding into the galleries to watch a scene which most of them had never witnessed and which to the others recalled the happy days of their youth, when they not only also wore the bright colored blanket coats, the sash, the fascinating capuchin, the tasseled cap, and the sash for wearing them invited the neighboring public to the number of hundreds and made themselves at home in Boston, New York and other cities in the Eastern states.

And right here it may be said that there was a beautiful display of real Indian sashes, sashes that at the present day are worth almost their weight in gold.

When His Worship the Mayor entered the Council Chamber there was a "Fanfare" by the bugle band of the Sixty-fifth, and yet a second one, which made the windows rattle, and then Mr. Ekers, casting a smiling glance all around, made a pleasant little speech of welcome, in which he said, amongst other things, that he was delighted to meet them, and more particularly so because they had brought such fine weather with them.

He admitted that he was not much of a snowshoer himself, but he knew that it was a magnificent sport, and he thought Canadians were very fortunate in having a climate which enabled them to enjoy it.

He finished his address with a reference to the grand old Mountain, which for years past had been crossed and crossed by generation upon generation of able-bodied, happy, healthy snowshoers.

The presidents of the various clubs were then presented by Mr. Arthur Lemaire.

Mr. Morcel, the chairman of the reception committee, thank d His Worship in French in a few well-chosen words on behalf of the general committee of arrangements for his reception, and after him Mr. Lockwell, on behalf of the Quebec clubs, made a short and eloquent address of thanks. His remarks were of a most patriotic nature, and expressed the hope that in the future as in the past, snowshoeing would continue to draw French and English-speaking patrons of athletics closer together.

Mr. Goodwyn, president of the Holly Club, thanked His Worship on behalf of the English-speaking snowshoe clubs that were represented.

Alderman Payette seconded Mayor Ekers in the welcome extended in a brief speech, which, from the applause it elicited, showed that it was highly appreciated.

After the official ceremony had been concluded, the members had their picture taken on the steps of the City Hall, and there never were so many photograph instruments focussed at one time on a group of men in Montreal before, the contingent even including a moving picture machine.

After this the various clubs marched to their respective hotels to gather again on the Champ de Mars at a quarter to two.

Here they marched and countermarched till the order to start on their parade through the city was given, when they went along on St. James street to Beaver Hall to St. Catherine street, and then east to Dorlimier Park.

The Sixty-Fifth Bugle band led the way, and then came Les Hurons of Montreal, Les Zouaves of Quebec, the Emeralds of Montreal, the Chateau Frontenacs of Quebec, the St. Jacques of Montreal, the Montagnards of Montreal, Les Hurons of Quebec, the Hollies of Montreal, the Tuque Bleue of Montreal, the St. Patrick's of Montreal, the Alerts of Montreal, the Y.M.C.A. of Montreal, Les Canadiens of St. Henri, Les Canadiens of Quebec, L'Union Commerciale of Quebec, the Cercle Ouvrier of Montreal, the Champetre of Montreal, the National Independents of Quebec, Les Voltigeurs of Levis, and Les Montagnards of Quebec.

The amalgamated clubs concluded the events of Saturday with a banquet in the Hall at the corner of Marie Anne and Sanguinet streets, which proved an unqualified success.

The number of guests was about five hundred, made up of representatives from the city clubs and from organizations from Quebec, Three Rivers, and other centres throughout the Province.

Mr. Arthur Lamallee, president of the committee, which organized the affair occupied the chair, and had on his right and left the presidents of the various clubs.

The dinner finished, Mr. Lamallee proposed the health of the King, which was heartily received by the assembly.

"Our Guests" was the second toast proposed, and this gave the members present an opportunity to let flow volumes of wit and humor to the great delight of the guests. This toast was replied to by Messrs. Lockwell, Thibaudeau, Paquet, Carrier, Bedard, Conry, Davis, Goodwin and Fisher on behalf of the various clubs.

PRIZES WERE PRESENTED.

At the conclusion of the speech making the presentation of the prizes won by the competitors in the afternoon took place, the prizes being distributed by the officials of the different organizations.

A rousing reception was accorded the veteran of the evening, Mr. Chas. A. Fisher, of the M. A. A. A. Club, who after making a presentation, remarked on the small number of men who were present representing the Montreal Club.

"If I were president of the Montreal Club this year" said Mr. Fisher, there would be over one hundred members present here this evening. I remember the time forty or fifty years ago when we had delegates here from Quebec and the other surrounding districts, and the gathering in this Hall brings back to my memory tonight the good old times the snowshoers had in the past. At that time we had as many Englishas French representatives. However the French Canadian youths are born for sport, and it is a good and healthy sign to see so many turn out."

A vocal and instrumental concert in the open,—the big shed under the grand stand, used as a restaurant, was turned into an impromptu concert hall, and here some of the old-honored and ever spirited snowshoe songs were heard with ringing choruses, such as the songs "Des Meuniers," "Alouette," "Les Montagnards," "Les Levis Sont La," "Les Hurons Pour Toujours" and "Je m'en va la Chasse."

There was a good deal of a wait before things were ready to start the races, and there was considerable delay in bringing out the competitors, but, as a whole, the contests were were exciting.

The 100 yards race was the first on the programme.

Lukeman, who insisted that he entered as an unattached runner, but who is claimed by Montagnards, came in first, and Jimmy Riddell, of the M. A. A. A., second.

No time was taken, and Doyle, of the Hollies, protested the race because he claimed it was not started right, the starter's cartridges failing to explode in his pistol.

No sooner had the last man touched the sashes, which, tied together, made the finishing line, than a drunken man created a disturbance in front of the stand. He was hustled out of the grounds however in a jiffy by a bunch of snowshoers, who joined hands and made a living wall on each side of the track along the home-stretch.

It was an excellent race throughout, with a beautiful finish.

The summaries:

100 Yard Race.

1.--T. Lukeman, Montagnard.
2.--Jimmy Riddell, Montreal.
(No time.)

Mile Race.

1.--H. Hebert, Montagnard.
2. F. Smith, M. A. A. A.
3. W. Hay, M. A. A. A.
Time, 5.57 4-5.

In the mile race there were nine starters.

Hebert, of the Montagnards, led from the start with Hay and Smith, of Montreal, next, and two Lachine men in red and black next. On the back stretch the Montreal men gained, and one of them passed Hebert, but he seemed to have calculatd to a nicety what was in him, and got ahead again on the home-stretch and kept there till the end.

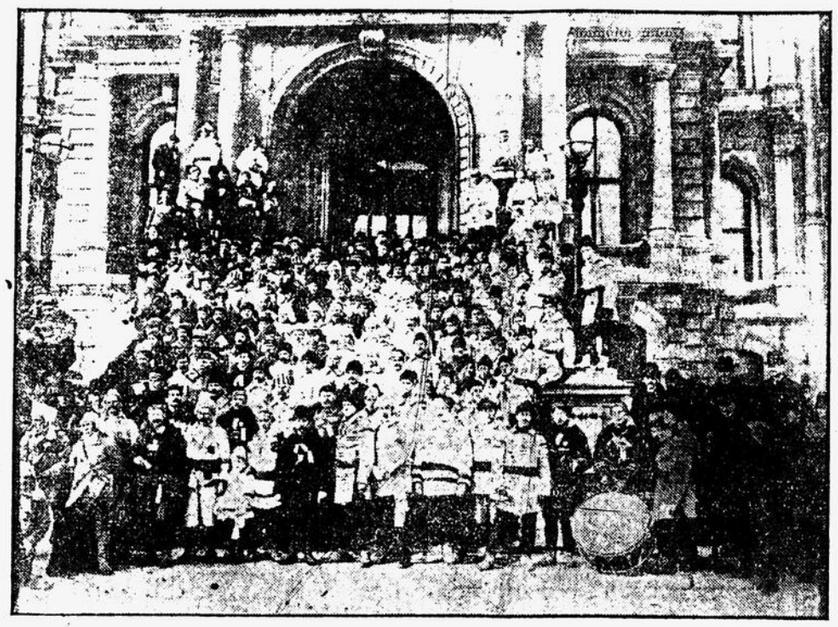

The quarter mile was for visitors in full snowshoe accoutrements. It was an interesting contest, won by T. Rabin, of the National Independent Club, of Quebec.

The 220 hurdle was also a good race. Lukeman won easily, with Buddo, of the Emeralds, a good second.

The best race was the half mile.

DAVID KINGHORN WILL WEAR GORDON MEDAL

The International Gordon Medal remains in Canada. Two Montreal rinks went down to Utica, N.Y., on Friday night, to play with Utica and New York City teams, and were successful in upholding the prowess of Canadian curlers. In all the city rinks there was great rejoicing on Saturday evening when it was learned that the famous medal would stay in the country.

St. Lawrence and Thistle curlers are particularly happy, since the rinks which bring back the medal are theirs. New York and St. Lawrence played a tie, while Utica and Thistles played a match which resulted in a win for Thistles.

David Guthrie, St. Lawrence, who won the medal last year, skipped for St. Lawrence, and David Kinghorn acted for Thistles.

The Canadians were met at the station by Mr. Allan, Mr. Munson, the president of the Utica Club; H. L. Ridings, and others, and escorted in sleighs around the city sightseeing.

After the drive lunch was served in the Utica Clubhouse. Play then started at 2 p.m., the Thistles having as antagonists the Utica Club, while the St. Lawrence were pitted against the strong New York Club.

The Thistle's rink was composed of three players who had never played grands in a competition before, and Skip Kinghorn, while the opposition had Brink-erhof and Ridings, two names well known to Montreal curlers, the last named being skip.

Play ruled fairly even at the start, but Kinghorn surprised the Utica men by laying four shots on his first end and then winning the third, second and third Utica then fixed a stone recovery, laying a three, but were unable to pull up and half way the score stood 12 to 8 in Thistle's favor.

The match between the St. Lawrence and the New York, was productive of some of the finest curling seen on the Utica sheets, no fewer than four ties being registered during the course of the match. The players one and all were brilliant in the extreme and the rinks were well matched, so that the resultant tie at the finish was a true criterion of the run of the play.

After the match, the winners were entertained at a banquet at the Arcanum Hall, the King and the President were toasted with musical honors, and a programme of songs were given by the curlers themselves. Speeches were made by Col. Stevenson, of Montreal, who, with Mr. W. Aird, accopanied the team as representatives of the branch. Mr. Johnson, the president of the National Curling Association of America, was chairman, distributed the prizes to the winners of the bonspiel that had been held in Utica and pinned the Gordon Medal on the breast of David Kinghorn, the Montreal skip, who had won his match with the largest score.

Following are the scores:

There was considerable activity in all the city rinks on Saturday. Where no matches were being played, the curlers were busy in friendly games. The second draw for the Wm Lyall trophy was played at the Caledonia rink. A. E. Harvey and W. D. Parker defeated Rev. E. M. Hill and E. H. Brown, the respective scores being 9 and 8. Dr. Simpson and J. Ward did not score against E. T. Houghton and P. C. Ogilvie, who made 1. The next draw will commence Monday afternoon.

No games of an official nature were played at the Thistle rink, but the members engaged in scratch matches, afternoon and evening. The second draw for the Muir Prize starts next Saturday.

At the Heather rink there was interesting play between Heather and Rideau rinks, the latter, three in number, coming from Ottawa. Heathers won all three matches.

The Heather curlers were unfortunate in the Ottawa end of their match. The Heathers on the three rinks played in Ottawa were 28 down. Score:

At the Montreal rink two matches were played in the first round of the series for the Vice-Presidents Prize. P. W. McLagan and H. H. Vaughan defeated F. C. Brown and F. S. McLennan being 6 up. The final score was 15-9. Geo. P. Butters and D. McGee were defeated by T. Williamson and M. E. Williams, the score being 9 to 7.

In the evening the points competition finished. W. W. Walker, with 40, was the highest scorer. The others who will pair off for the finish for the club medal, made these scores:—John Baillie, 38; Chas. Saxe, 36; C. W. Tyre, 36; W. A. Wilson, 34; W. Jamieson, 34; Geo. Darling, 34; W. Taylor, 34; W. Brown, 32; Geo. Walker, 32; Rev. Dr. Mowatt, 31; C. Coristine, 31; J. B. Bell, 31; R. A. Dunton, 31; Dr. Gurd, 31; J. W. Blair, 30; W. I. Fenwick, 30.

The Ladies' Bonspiel finished in the morning. During the week there were a number of exciting matches, and interest throughout the series of games was well sustained.

Heather ladies suffered defeat at the hands of Quebec by 26-7 in the finals, irons. As a consequence, Quebec carries off the cup. Heathers, however, were successful in capturing the cup in the granite series.

Montreal won a great game from Kingston, Saturday, defeating the ladies from the Limestone City by a score of 20 to 1. The first match between the two clubs was won by Kingston curlers, 11-9.

On Monday, Montreal ladies will play Quebec in the first round for the Caledonia Cup. Games for the district medal will be played Monday and Tuesday.

Quebec and St. Lawrence played Saturday, the former rink winning 2 up. The score was 10 to 8.

"Dinner's Coming I Smell It."

Does Your Stomach Feel Happy When Meal-Time Comes?

When you sniffle in the air the appetizing aroma of something cooking, do you feel that you could sit down, open your mouth, pin back your ears and eat with a delicious gusto everything set before you, and not feel any bad effects from it?

In other words, can your poor stomach take care of everything and anything you put into it? There are thousands and thousands of people who do not know what it is to have a good, strong, healthy stomach, nor do they realize what it is to have a good appetite.

You can have an all-powerful stomach and a fetching appetite for every meal, and every day, if you give your stomach a rest, and let something else take hold of your food for you and digest it as it comes into the stomach, something that is harmless but that really does the work of digesting, quickly and thoroughly.

This "something" is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most effective little tablets in the world for curing anything that may be wrong with your stomach. One ingredient of these precious little workers digests 3,000 grains of the coarsest or richest food put into the stomach. Think of it, 3,000 grains! They are really an artificial stomach, because they act just like the stomach, they digest your food just as though you didn't have a stomach at all. It supplies the stomach with the digestive juices which have become weak and scanty.

Then your indigestion, dyspepsia, sour risings, brash, belching, acidity, fermentation, loss of appetite, aversion to food, bloaty feeling, heartburn and nausea, will be no more. You can then eat anything you want, all you want, whenever you want, and your stomach will feel the better and after your meals. Your appetite will be a thing of pleasure to have, your meals will be a pleasure to eat and relish, and your digestion will be thorough and soothing to the whole body.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have cheeks or vim or ambition when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, be your mind and make your every life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a test, as it can right itself. You will need four months. Send to-day for sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets by return mail. After you have tried the sample, you will be so thoroughly convinced of what they can do for you that you will go to your nearest druggist and get a 50c box of them.

Send us your name and address to-day and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address, F. A. Stuart Co., 53 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

Gouin, Prevost, Allard, Tessier, Kaine, Archambault, Choquette, Turner, Mr. George Gardineau, Hon. N. Perodeau, Judge Lanctot, Judge Carroll, Hon. P. H. Roy and E.T. D. Chambers.

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, February 6th, at the Baptist Church, Windsor, N.S., when Miss Florence Gertrude Curry, daughter of Mrs. Elisha Curry, was married to Dr. Alvah Hovey Gordon, son of Rev. John A. Gordon, of the First Baptist Church, Montreal. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. W. H. Curry, wore a handsome gown of cream silk collenne with yoke and panels of point lace over cream taffeta silk. The bridal veil was draped over a wreath of orange blossoms. Both bride and groom were unattended.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John A. Gordon, and was followed by a luncheon at the bride's home, only the immediate relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon left on the evening express for Halifax, and after a trip through Upper Canada will reside on Hutchison street, Montreal. The bride's travelling suit was of reseda green cloth, with velvet toque to match.

At St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, London, Eng., on Saturday, the members of the American colony and British aristocracy gathered to witness the marriage of Mr. Walter Burns, M.P., nephew of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, to Miss Evelyn Cavendish Bentinck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cavendish-Bentinck, and grand-daughter of Mrs. Maturin Livingston, of New York. The church was decorated in lavish style and the service was fully choral. The bride, who was given away by her father, was supported by eight bridesmaids. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. Reid, the staff of the United States Embassy, and many other well-known persons were at the church, as well as at the subsequent reception held at the Bentinck's residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cavendish Bentinck. The wedding gifts were unusually costly. King Edward sent the bride a diamond and amethyst pendant, with an autograph note expressing his good wishes, and a diamond stomacher with huge diamond drops was the gift of Mr. Morgan.

A very pleasant evening's entertainment was given by the Nine Orphans' Social Club Friday evening, at Three Rivers, in the form of a snowshoe tramp and dance at their rooms afterwards. The nine orphans, Messrs. Russell, Greig, Rattray, Dohan, Ogden, Macdonald, Lavoie, Childs and Arcand, assisted by Mrs. Marrow, acted as host. The musical programme was well arranged and was furnished from Quebec. Among those present were the following: Mrs. Balcer, Mrs. Christie (Lachute), Mrs. R. P. Blair, Miss Darey, Mrs. Marrow, Miss I. Houliston, Miss M. Tebbutt, Miss G. Tebbutt, Miss Farmer, Miss S. Farmer, Miss Gummer (Guelph), Miss MacLeod, Miss F. Ritchie, Miss B. Ritchie, Miss Baptist, Miss Valliere, the Nine Orphans, and Messrs. Darey, A. G. Baptist, R. B. Baptist and G. E. Baptist.

A large and fashionable wedding took place this afternoon at St. George's church, when Miss Edith L. Covernton, second daughter of Mr. Carleton J. Covernton, was married to Mr. Irving H. Smith, of Montreal, son of Mr. Henry Smith, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by His Lordship Bishop Carmichael, assisted by Rev. Canon Renaud. The church was effectively decorated entirely in green and white. The bridal procession passed up the centre aisle, proceeded by the ushers, Dr. Charles Covernton, Mr. Esling, of Toronto, and Mr. Howard Ambrose, followed by the bridesmaids, the bride and bridegroom's sisters, Miss Ida Smith and Miss Hazel Covernton, walking together, followed by Miss Alice Covernton and Miss K. Smith, and last came the bride with her father, taking their places under an arch entwined with smilax, from which was suspended a wedding bell of white roses and carnations under which the ceremony was performed. Mr. F. Francis acted as best man. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white Duchess lace, mounted on chiffon, over white satin, the bodice having a yoke of tulle and seed pearls, with berthe of Duchess lace. Her tulle veil was arranged over a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She also wore the bridegroom's gift, a pearl and diamond brooch. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in pale Nile green silk voile over pale green chiffon taffeta. The bodice made in coat effect with gold bars and buttons, yoke and trimmings of baby Irish lace, with touches of green panne velvet, the skirt inlet with baby Irish lace insertion. They wore cream tulle Napoleon hats, with gold bands and green feathers, and carried shower bouquets of violets and lilies of the valley. They also wore the bride's gift, a pearl and amethyst pendant brooch, and chain. Miss Covernton, aunt of the bride, wore a gown of Pompadour mauve silk, trimmed with gold and real lace, and black tulle hat with white plumes. Mrs. Henry Smith, of Toronto, mother of the bridegroom, was in black embroidered point d'esprit over black chiffon taffeta, with white lace yoke and touches of pink and black tulle hat, trimmed with black and white plumes. Mrs. C. C. Baines, of Toronto, aunt of the bride, wore a black chiffon sequin gown and black tulle hat, with black feather. To the best man and ushers the bridegroom gave pearl and amethyst scarf pins. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the residence of the bride's father, Dorchester street, where the floral decorations were beautifully carried out in all the rooms, palms, ferns and potted plants being used in great profusion, the walls festooned with garlands of smilax. The bride and bridegroom received the good wishes of their friends in the drawing room, standing under an arch of smilax, banked with greenery. Mr. and Mrs. Smith leave this evening for New York, whence they sail for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a costume of green cloth, with French pony coat, the blue vest embroidered in pale blue forget-me-nots, a green satin straw hat with trimmings of tulle, gold bands and blue feather, on their return Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at the Roosevelt Apartments.

Design by May Manton.

ONE OF THE LINEN SUITINGS

There are a great many exceedingly charming and durable suitings being shown of linen combined with a little cotton this season, and one and all they make eminently attractive shirt waist gowns. Here is one that is cream in tone and the weave of which is a bit odd, showing diagonal threads that give a distinctly novel and altogether desirable effect, while it is trimmed with one of the many linen braids. The waist is a new one with tucks at the shoulders that give the broad and drooping line and allows a choice of the regulation shirt sleeves or those of elbow length finished with bands, and can be worn either with the high turn-over collar or the low one that is so well liked for warm weather. The skirt is an exceedingly pretty and attractive one that is tucked at back and front to give the box plaited effect and has the gored circular sides that are so satisfactory for washable fabrics. A great variety of materials are appropriate, not alone the linen and cotton suitings, but also those of immediate wear, while both waist and skirt are adapted to separate use. For the medium size will be required 4½ yards of material 21, 3¼ yards 27, or 2½ yards 44 inches wide; for the skirt 13 yards 27 or 6¾ yards 44 inches wide if material has figure or nap, 8½ yards 27 or 5 yards 44 inches wide if it has not.

A Mme Manton pattern of the waist, No 5583 sizes 32 to 42 inches bust, or of the skirt No 5471, sizes 22 to 30 ins. waist, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents each. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

Beer Prices Will Not Change.

Beer and porter drinkers need not fear, for they will not have to pay any more for the drinks over the bar than they have been paying in the past. It had been rumored, however, that an understanding had been arrived at between a section of the brewers to increase the price. This is not the case, and the only arrangement which has been made is to change the size of the porter bottle by making it somewhat smaller. This may affect the price of porter slightly, but the price of beer will not change in the least.

Transferred to Calcutta.

Announcement has been made that Hon. F. Freyesleben, acting consul-general for Austro-Hungary in Canada, would be transferred in a few days to Calcutta, India. The New Beauty-Culture.

"POMPADOUR MASSAGE CREAM" safeguards the skin—prevents Chapping. There's a quick emergency call from the sensitive, unprotected skin when real winter sets in.

It is the wise woman who sees the trouble far off and provides against it.

The tingling and smarting of the tender cuticle, the intensely painful cracking, chapping and chafing are nature's demands for POMPADOUR MASSAGE CREAM. It is a natural and unfailing protection for the skin.

IN THIS ZONE OF UNCERTAIN SEASONS the delicate skin is put to some trying extremes in protecting itself.

POMPADOUR MASSAGE CREAM is not only a refined, soothing, BEAUTIFYING CLEANSER, but it removes the impurities that are lodged deep within the pores, releases and aids the secretion of oils, leaving the skin soft, pliable and wonderfully invigorated, safe to encounter the most biting cold.

One trial will speak more strongly than a page of words. Two sizes, 35c and 75c.

FREE—Send 10c for free trial and booklet of directions for scientific home massage treatment, or send 35c or 75c to the Continental Drug and Chemical Co., 3234 Notre Dame st., Montreal, Canada. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

A Special Offering In Lace Curtains.

We have decided to continue our special Monday sales beginning with to-day.

Our offering this week will be expensive lace curtains at one-third less than the present selling prices.

We have had so many inquiries for these curtains recently that we have decided to offer them once more at a discount of 33 1-3 per cent.

As we said before the reason we're reducing the prices is that we want to get them sold as soon as we possibly can.

After they're sold we shall not be handling any more expensive curtains for sometime.

To properly appreciate these curtains it's necessary for you to come in and see them.

They're the very finest lace curtains made, in perfectly good condition.

Prices range from $9 up to $30 less 33 1-3 per cent. and another 5 per cent. off for cash.

RENAUD, KING & PATTERSON,

Cor. Guy & St. Catherine Sts.

"The doctor wants me to look after Ben for him," he announced. "He is going to show me the dressings, and he says all he wants is cleanliness, good cheer, and good food. I can keep him clean. But how he is to get good cheer in that house, and how he is to get good food, are more than I can tell."

"Good cheer!" cried Dick. "He'll not lack for company. How many has she now, mother? A couple of dozen, more or less?"

"There are thirteen of them already, poor thing."

"Thirteen! That's an unlucky stopping place. Let us hope she won't allow the figure to remain at that."

"Indeed, I am thinking it will not," said his mother, speaking with the confidence of intimate knowledge.

"Well," replied Dick, with a judicial air, "it's a question whether it's worse to defy the fate that lurks in that unlucky number, or to accept the doubtful blessing of another twig to the already overburdened olive tree."

"Ay, it is a hard time she is having with the four babies and all."

"Four, mother! Surely that's a unusual number even for the prolific Mrs. Fallows!"

"Whisht, laddie!" said his mother, in a shocked tone, "don't talk foolishly."

"But you said four, mother."

"Twins the last twice," interjected Barney.

"Great snakes! cried Dick, "let us hope she won't get the habit."

"But, mother," inquired Barney seriously, "what's to be done?"

"Indeed, I can't tell," said his mother.

"Listen to me," cried Dick, "I've got an inspiration. I'll undertake the 'good cheer.' I'll impress the young ladies into this worthy service. Light conversation and song. And you can put up the food, mother, can't you?"

"We will see," said the mother quietly; "we will do our best."

"In that case the 'food department' is secure," said Dick; "already I see Ben Fallows making rapid strides toward convalescence."

It was characteristic of Barney that within a few days he had all three departments in full operation. With great tact he succeeded in making Mrs. Fallows thoroughly scour the woodwork and whitewash the walls in Ben's little room, urging the doctor's orders and emphasizing the danger of microbes, the dread of which was just beginning to obtain in popular imagination.

"Microbes? What's them?" inquired Mrs. Fallows, suspiciously.

"Very small insects."

"Insects? Is it bugs you mean?" Mrs. Fallows at once became fiercely hostile. "I want to tell yeh, young sir, ther' hain't no bugs in this 'ouse. If ther's one thing I'm pertickler 'bout, it's bugs. John sez to me, sez 'e, 'What's the hodds of a bug or two, Hianthy?' But I sez to 'im, sez I, 'No bugs fer me, John. I hain't been brought up with bugs, an' bugs I cawn't an' won't 'ave.'"

It was only Barney's earnest assurance that the presence of microbes was no impeachment of the most scrupulous housekeeping and, indeed, that these mysterious creatures were to be found in the very highest circles, that Mrs. Fallows was finally appeased. With equal skill he inaugurated his "good food" department, soothing Mrs. Fallows' susceptibilities with the diplomatic information that in surgical cases such as Ben's certain articles of diet specially prepared were necessary to the best results.

Not the least successful part of the treatment prescribed was that furnished by the "good cheer" department. This was left entirely in Dick's charge, and he threw himself into its direction with the enthusiasm of a devotee. Iola with her guitar was undoubtedly his mainstay. But Dick was never quite satisfied unless he could persuade Margaret, too, to assist in his department. But Margaret had other duties, and, besides, she had associated herself more particularly with Mrs. Boyle in the work of supplementing Mrs. Fallows' somewhat unappetising though entirely substantial meals with delicacies more suited to the sickroom. Dick, however, insisted that with all that, Iola and himself in the "good cheer" department and Barney in what he called the "scavenging" department could achieve there was still need of Margaret's presence and Margaret's touch. Hence, before the busy harvest time came upon them, he made a practice of calling at the manse, and, relieving her of the duty of getting to sleep little five-year-old Tom, with whom he was first favorite, he would carry her off to the Fallows household, whither Barney and Iola had preceded them.

Altogether the "young doctor," as Ben called him, had reason to be proud of the success he was achieving with his first patient. The amputation healed over and the bone knit at the first intention, and in a few weeks Ben was far on the way to convalescence. He was never weary in his praises of the "good doctor." It was the "young doctor," who, by changing the bandages, had eased him of the intolerable pain which followed the first dressing. It was the "young doctor" who had changed the splints, shaping them cunningly to fit the limb, bringing ease where there had been chafing pain.

"Let 'em 'ave the old doctor if they want," was Ben's final conclusion, "but fer me, the young doctor, sez I."

SETTLED COLDS.

DANGEROUS BECAUSE HARD TO CURE.

An Offer to the People of Montreal from the Well Known Druggist, R. H. Bryson.

The well known druggist, R. H. Bryson, claims to have a cure for colds and coughs, and if it fails he will refund your money. The remedy is Vinol, and such wonderful results are reported from it that every person in Montreal who is suffering from a cold or cough is advised to try it on his guarantee.

A hard cold and hacking cough may be the means of undermining your constitution and terminate in consumption. Cough syrups, while they temporarily allay the spasms of coughing, owing to the opiates they contain, upset the stomach and do not cure the cause; old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions are so nauseating that few can take them.

Vinol is delicious to take, and contains all the active curative principles of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated form, and it is, therefore, the greatest specific known for coughs, colds and bronchial troubles.

You would not eat an egg, shell and all. For the same reason you should not take old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions, just to get the medicinal curative elements which they contain.

The Vinol manufacturers separate them for you, throw away the useless oil and give you in a delicious, concentrated form all the healing and life-giving elements which are to be found in fresh cods' livers. That is what gives Vinol its wonderful power to cure coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles and makes it the greatest tonic reconstructor known to medicine. R. H. Bryson, Druggist.

"THE DOCTOR"

BY RALPH CONNOR:

Author of "The Man from Glengarry;" "The Prospector," Etc.

(Serial Rights Secured by The Montreal Daily Star.)

VI.

THE YOUNG DOCTOR.

Barney's jaw ran along the side of his face, ending abruptly in a square-cut chin, the jaw and chin doing for his face what a ridge and bluff of rock do for a landscape. They suggested the rock-ribbed character, abiding, firm, indomitable. Having seen the goal at which he would arrive, there remained only to find the path and press it. He would be a doctor. The question was, how? His first step was to consult the only authority available, old Doctor Ferguson. It was a stormy interview, for the doctor was of a craggy sort like Barney himself, with a jaw and a chin and all they suggested. The boy told his purpose briefly, almost defiantly, as if expecting scornful opposition, and asked guidance. The doctor flung difficulties at his head for half an hour and ended by offering him money, cursing his Highland pride when the boy refused it.

"What do I want with money" cried the doctor. He had lost his only son three years before. "There's only my wife. And she'll have plenty. Money! Dirt, fit to walk on, to make a path with, that's all! Had my boy lived, God knows I'd have made him a surgeon. But ——" Here the doctor snorted violently and coughed, trumpeting hard with his nose. "Confound these foggy nights! I'll put you through."

"I'll pay my way," said Barney almost sullenly, "or I'll stay at home."

"What are you doing here, then?" he roared at the boy.

"I came to find out how to start. Must a man go to college?"

"No," shouted the doctor again; "he can be a confounded fool and work up by himself, a terrible handicap, going up for the examinations till the last year, when he must attend college."

"I could do that," said Barney, closing his jaws.

The doctor looked at his face. The shut jaws looked more than ever like a ledge of granite and the chin like a cliff. "You can, eh? Hanged if I don't believe you! And I'll help you, I'd like to, if you would let me." The voice ended in a wistful tone. The boy was touched.

"Oh, you can!" he cried impulsively, "and I'll be awfully thankful. You can tell me what books to get and sometimes explain, perhaps, if you have time." His face was suddenly crimson. He was conscious of asking a favor.

The old doctor sat down, rejoicing greatly in him, and for the first time treated him as an equal. He explained in detail the course of study, making much of the difficulties in the way. When he had done he waved his hand toward his library.

"Now, there are my books," he cried; "use them and ask me what you will. It will brush me up. And I'll take you to see my cases and, by God's help, we'll make you a surgeon! A surgeon, sir! You've got the fingers and the nerves. A surgeon! That's the only thing worth while. The physician can't see further below the skin than anyone else. He guesses and experiments, treats symptoms, trys one drug and then another, guessing and experimenting all along the line. But the knife, boy!" Here the doctor rose and began to pace the floor. "There's no guess in the knife point! The knife lays bare the evil, fights, eradicates it! Look at the boy Kane, died three weeks ago. 'Inflammation,' said the physician. Treated his symptoms properly enough. The boy died. At the post-mortem"—here the doctor paused in his walk, lowering his voice almost to a whisper while he bent over the boy—"at the post-mortem the knife discovers an abscess on the vermiform appendix. The discovery was made too late." These were the days before appendicitis became fashionable. "Now, listen to me," continued the doctor, even more impressively, "I believe in my soul that the knife at the proper moment might have saved that boy's life! A slight incision an inch or two long, the removal of the diseased part, a few stitches, and in a couple of weeks the boy is well! Ah, boy! God knows I'd give my life to be a great surgeon! But He did not give me the fingers. Look at these," and he held up a coarse, heavy hand; "I haven't the touch. And besides, He brought me my wife, the best thing I've got in the world, and my bat, which settled the surgeon business forever. Now listen, boy! You've got the nerve—plenty of men have that—but you've also got the fingers, which few men have. With your touch and your steady nerve and your mechanical ingenuity—I've seen your machines, boy—you can be a great surgeon! But you must know your subject. You must think, dream, sleep, eat, drink bones and muscles and sinews and nerves. Push everything else aside!" he cried, waving his great hands "And remember!"—here his voice took a solemn tone—"let nothing share your heart with your knife! Leave the women alone. A woman has no business in science. She distracts the mind, disturbs the liver, absorbs the vital powers besides paralyzing the finances. For you, let there be one woman, your mother, at least till you are a surgeon. Now, then, there are my books and all my spare time at your command." At these words the boy's face, which had caught the light and glow of the old man's enthusiasm, fell.

"Well, what now?" cried the doctor, reading his face like a book.

"I have no right to take your books or your time."

The doctor sprang to his feet with an oath. The boy also rose and faced him, almost as if expecting a blow. For a moment they stood steadfastly regarding each other, then the doctor's old face relaxed, his eyes softened. He put his big hand on the boy's shoulder.

"Now, by the Lord that made you and me," she said, "we were meant for a team, and a team we'll make. I'll help you and I'll make you pay." The boy's face brightened.

"How?" he cried eagerly.

"We'll change work." The doctor's old eyes began to twinkle. "I want fall ploughing done and my cordwood hauled."

"I'll do it!" cried Barney. A light broke in his eyes and flooded his face. At last he saw his path.

"Here," said the doctor, taking down a book, "here's your Gray." And turning the leaves, "Here's what happened to Ben Fallows. Read this. And here's the treatment," pulling down another book and turning to a page, "Read that. I'll make Ben your first patient. There's no money in it, anyway, and you can't kill him. He only needs three things, cleanliness, good cheer, and good food. By and by we'll get him a leg. Here's that Buffalo doctor's catalogue. Take it along. Now, boy, I'll work you, grind you, and you'll go for your first examination next spring."

"Next spring!" cried Barney, aghast, "not for three years."

"Three years!" snorted the doctor, "three fiddlesticks! You can do this first examination by next spring."

"Yes, I could do it," said Barney slowly.

The doctor cast an admiring glance at the line of jaw on the boy's face.

"But there's the mortgage and there's Dick's college."

"Dick's college? Why Dick's and not yours?"

The boy's rugged face changed. A tender light fell over it, filling in its cracks and canyons.

"Because—well, because Dick must go through. Dick's clever. He's awful clever." Pride mingled with the tenderness in look and tone. "Mother wants him to be a minister, and," he added after a pause, "I do, too."

The old doctor turned from him, stood looking out of the window a few minutes, and then came back. He put his hands on the boy's shoulders. "I understand, boy," he said, his great voice vibrating in deep and tender tones, "I too, had a brother once. Make Dick a minister if you want, but meantime we'll grind the surgeon's knife."

The boy went home to his mother in high exultation.

Distinction!

There is a decided distinction about an article of jewellery from this store that makes it especially valued.

Whether it be a Diamond, an Article of Silver, a piece of Cut Glass, a Cold Trinket, a Watch, a Clock or Leather Bag—all are best of their kind. The unquestioned quality of goods purchased from this house gives them distinction.

THE FORERUNNERS OF SUMMER-TO-COME.

As the warm "Chinook" wind sweeps across the prairie held in the relentless grip of King Frost, so comes the first token of the glorious summer-to-be in the shape of the light and airy materials which even now are beginning to spring up in the department.

Even to look on the dainty zephyrs just opened up is to recall and anticipate those delightsome hours which summer alone can bring: they are in those neat checks in blues, pinks, helios, etc., which suit everybody: chambrays, too, in plain colors are very dainty: both are to be seen in the department at the same price .15 a yard.

Other new summery materials are the Anglo-Egyptian white brocade in the new designs at .25 a yard and Persian Lawns and Indian Linons .15 to .40 yard.

HELP YOURSELF TO STOCK TAX STAMPS

Somptroller Glynn, of New York, Finds Great Laxity in Affairs of Transfer Bureau.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Albany, N.Y., February 11.—That millions of dollars worth of stock transfer taxstamps had been intrusted in two years solely to a clerk, not under bond, and that 5,611,658 of these stamps had disappeared, with only the word of this clerk to prove that they were destroyed, is the statement made to-day as the result of an investigation by State Controller Martin H. Glynn.

The paper on which stamps were printed, he declared, had been left carelessly around the printer's shop, and even completed stamps had been left unguarded in the general laxity of the administration concerning the matter. Glynn does not actually charge that any stamps went astray, but says he revealed the state of affairs so that in case it should be found that some of them had escaped from the custody of the controller, "my skirts will be clean."

Charles M. Watkins, of Penn Yan was chief clerk in the transfer tax bureau, under Controllers Kelsey and Wilson, and had charge of the stamps. He was superceded soon after Mr. Glynn took office. It was in the process of checking up the stamps on hand immediately after taking office in January that the controller discovered the muddle. He asked for the service of an expert accountant, with the result above noted.

MR. JOHN McMULLEN DEAD.

Deceased Was Well Known as An Editor and Author.

Brockville, Ont., February 11.—John M. McMullen, editor, historian, and author, is dead at the advanced age of 87 years. Mr. McMullen settled here in 1849, coming from Ireland, and commenced business as a bookseller and stationer. In 1852 he established a third printing office in the town, and for two years afterwards published an independent newspaper called the Leeds Free Press. In 1856 he purchased the Monitor, a weekly, which, under his management, became an influential Conservative journal. The party soon captured every Parliamentary seat for Leeds and Grenville. Hon. Gen. Sherwood was returned for Brockville and Elizabethtown, to afterwards become a member of Sir John A. Macdonald's Cabinet at Ottawa while the late Hon. George Crawford was called to the Legislative Council for the St. Lawrence division. Owing to ill-health Mr McMullen discontinued the publication of the Monitor. He was also an author of much note. His best work is, perhaps, his "History of Canada," published in three editions. He served in many local public capacities such as town councillor, high school trustee, and water commissioner. He leaves a widow and ten children.

Lad Injured In Cotton Mill.

Special to The Montreal Star.

TEACHER TO SAY WHEN FLAG FLIES

Manitoba Legislature Decides How Pupils are to See it Whatever the Weather May Be.

Winnipeg, February 11.—The bill to amend the Schools Act was approved in the Legislature on Saturday. On the motion of the Attorney-General, the obligation to fly the British flag was modified by the addition of the phrase, "weather conditions permitting." In answer to the question, "who is to be the judge?" the Attorney-General replied, "the teacher."

Mr. Windler suggested that if in the morning the sky was cloudy and it looked like rain, the flag might be taken down to keep it dry. The Attorney-General considered the affidavit which the teacher is required to make would be sufficient guarantee that the regulation would be carried out. Figures as to the height of the pole, 15 feet above the roof of the school, or 35 feet above the ground, if erected in the yard. The size of flag in towns not to be less than 6 x 12 feet, and in rural districts, 4 1-2 by 4 feet. Mr. Winkler suggested that the size of the flag be left to the discretion of the trustees. The Attorney-General replied that the first supply of flags had already been bought. Mr. Winkler moved that the clause be struck out. This was lost by a vote of nine to three.

A provision was added that "when the weather conditions do not admit of the flag being hoisted, it be displayed prominently on a wall of the school room."

Lake Shipyard Men Make Demands.

Cleveland, O., February 11.—The employes in the construction and repair department of the American Shipbuilding Company have placed a schedule of demands before the superintendents of yards and drydocks all over the lakes. It is understood that they demand reduction in hours from ten to nine a day, without any change of pay.

Resignation Has Been Accepted.

Ottawa, Ont., February 11. — The resignation of Capt. Pratt, of the Fisheries cruiser Curlew, who has been under suspension for a year, has been accepted.

SENATORS' CAR FARE CHARGES QUESTIONED

Auditor-General In a Quandary and Sees the Act Should Be More Specific.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, February 11.—Another portion of the Auditor-General's report laid on the table of the House within the past few days contained some interesting correspondence which passed between Mr. J. Fraser, the Auditor-General, and the officials of the Senate in respect to certain transportation expenses charged by members of the Upper Hous.

In a letter to the clerk of the Senate Mr. Fraser remarks that the amounts paid the Senators for their actual moving and transportation expenses are not in detail, although the act states that every member shall furnish the clerk with a statement.

"The wording of the section would," says Mr. Fraser, "in my opinion, preclude living expenses, and the statement should be in sufficient detail, so that the correctness of the amount charged may be determined."

AN AMBIGUOUS ACT.

Mr. S. Chapleau, the clerk of the Senate, in his reply to Mr. Fraser, said:—"So long as the law will be framed in language susceptible of different interpretations, so long will the difficulty heretofore met with, in obtaining a uniform compliance with it, arise. I cannot certify to a statement being correct and true if I am not placed in a position to know all about it, at the same time I cannot refuse to accept that statement when sworn to and apparently made out in accordance with the provisions of the act requiring it."

Mr. Chapleau goes on to say that the word "statement" in the act should read, "a detailed statement."

"And even then," he continues, "compare the statement made by a Senator from British Columbia with that of a Senator from Manitoba. You will ascertain that the latter charged $102 for one-half of the distance travelled by the former, who only charged $70; the discrepancy being explained by the difference in the cost of travelling in a drawing room compartment, as compared with that of an ordinary seat in a sleeping car.

FIX A MILEAGE RATE.

"The only way to get at uniformity in the matter would be to fix a mileage allowance of say 1-2c per mile for railway travelling, and a proportionate amount for horse vehicle."

On June 15, 1906, the auditor-general wrote to the Department of Justice as follows: "A question has arisen as to what should be included in 'actual moving or transportation expenses,' one view being that it should include only cab or carriage hire, steamboat fares, parlor and sleeping cars and such charges as are usually paid for carrying persons from one place to another. Another view is held, viz.:—that in addition to the above the amounts paid for meals, hotels and the other expenditures incidental on travelling should be allowed."

To which the Deputy Minister of Justice replied in part as follows.—"The question in doubt is as to whether the term 'actual moving or transportation expenses' includes what are known as living expenses, that is, moneys paid for meals, hotels and the like, or only such charges as are usually paid for carrying persons from one place to another. I am of opinion that the latter is the true interpretation."

Cures Drunkards

MARY'S MIRACLE.

The day of working miracles,
I'm sure is far from past,
And now to show you what I mean,
I'll tell you of the last
Great one that happened right to me,
For I was part of it, you see.

You know the life I used to lead —
O God, a living death,
A drunkard of the hopeless kind—
For, scarce a sober breath
I ever drew, and hope and pride
Were lost to me and nearly all beside.

One friend alone was left—my wife,
God bless her ev'ry hour!
She saved me from a drunkard's grave,
And whiskey's wicked power.
Just how she saved me you shall see—
This is the way she told it me.

When hope was almost dead within
Her faithful, constant breast,
She read of Dr. Haines' Cure,
Then without stay or rest,
She sent for one Trial Sample free,
And gave it unbeknown to me!

I drank of it at ev'ry meal—
I ate it in my bread.
While Mary watched me anxiously,
But ne'er a word she said;
Until one day I stopped to think,
That I had lost my love for drink!

When, quite unconscious I was cured,
My Mary told me all;
It seemed the very act of God,
A modern miracle;
I call it this, because my wife
And Haines' Cure had saved my life.

And now my little story's done,
My ev'ry word is true,
And what this treatment did for me,
The same 'twill do for you;
And wives and mothers—one and all,
Take heart of Mary's Miracle.

Save those near and dear to you from a life of degradation, poverty and disgrace. You can do it by cutting out this coupon.

FREE TREATMENT COUPON.

Fill in your name and address on blank lines below. Then cut out this coupon and mail it to Dr. J. W. Haines, 9703, Glenn Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio. You will receive in return enough of the remedy to prove to you that it will cure drunkenness in any form. You give it in tea, coffee, or food. The drunkard will stop drinking without knowing why. You will also get books and testimonials to prove how hundreds have been saved.

GUESTS LOST EVERYTHING.

Fire in Syracuse Eats Up Hotel and Other Buildings.

Syracuse, N.Y., February 11.—One of the most destructive fires known here in years occurred in the heart of the business section yesterday. The conflagration started in the Mowry Hotel, which was completely destroyed.

The fire department was crippled when the call came, a large amount of the apparatus having just responded to a fire call in the extreme west end of the city. The guests rushed out into the streets in their night clothing, scarcely any of them being able to dress and no one saving any valuables or clothing. So far as is known every one was rescued.

The flames spread to the southwest, destroying buildings.

Provincial Detective Greer Says Perkins Was Poisoned.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cayuga, Ont., February 11.—The arrival here during the week of John Perkins, of Winnipeg, a brother of Henry Perkins, whose mysterious death at Canfield, has been the all prevailing topic for a month past, in company with Provincial Detective Greer, has infused further interest into the case. Detective Greer says he is satisfied that Perkins was murdered.

VILLAGE IS WASHED AWAY.

Coast of Calabria Suffers Severely From Heavy Storm.

Naples, February 11.—A very severe storm has caused serious damage on the Calabrian Coast. At Marina Di Catanzaro, the fishing village, a tidal wave swept in and practically carried the village away. Several houses collapsed entirely, and the rush of water carried off everything portable. Many of the buildings were undermined. The people are still in a condition of panic. One woman is reported dead and four persons are still unaccounted for.

At Messina also the storm was severe and caused considerable damage. A landslide in Guidemandri buried a house, and three persons lost their lives. The crops have been destroyed by the floods. Reports from Tarranto say there is apprehension concerning the fate of eight fishing boats that have not been seen since the storm.

DECIDE JAPS' FATE TO-DAY.

Roosevelt and the San Francisco Board Holding a Conference.

Washington, February 11. — Mayor Schmitz and the members of the San Francisco school board were in conference twice yesterday and formally agreed on the policy they will pursue in connection with the queston of the Japanese and the San Francisco schools. The mayor and the members of the board have refused to make any statement as to what position they will take when they call at the White House this afternoon to confer with President Roosevelt and Secretary Root.

In a telegram, however, to the California Exclusion League, Mayor Schmitz declares the delegation has "Not made any arrangements up to date of any kind." More than three hundred telegrams were received by Mayor Schmitz and the members of the board to-day, urging them to stand firm for the exclusion of the Japanese coolies from the United States.

CLIFF TO MEET GIROUX.

They Will Box This Evening at Riverside Park.

Bert Cliff, the little English fighter, and young Giroux, the local featherweight, are both in excellent condition for their fifteen round bout at Riverside Park to-night. Both are willing fighters and they should furnish one of the best bouts seen here in a long time. There could never be a question about Giroux's gameness. He is not one of those fighters who will keep backing up, but will plunge headlong into it from gong to gong. Cliff is a more crafty fighter. He has a long reach and an awful punch in either hand. He will side step and back, but is always ready to shoot in a punch that is liable to end the bout at any moment. The preliminaries will be furnished by Kid Locke and Kid Fleming, two clever little bantem boxers, while Jimmy Fisher who knocked out Billy Giles at the Shamrock Club House on Wednesday night, will go on against Arthur Beaulieu, who knocked out Phil. Jackson.

Haytien Government Refuses to Obey Order of Court.

Port au Prince, Hayti, February 11.—The relations between the Governments of Hayti and Germany are strained, owing to the refusal of the German bankers, Hermann & Company, by direction of the court at Port au Prince, to return to the Haytien Government large sums of money alleged to have been obtained fraudulently. Among the alleged transactions of Hermann & Company with the Haytien Government was one which is said to have proved favorable to the Government. This was concluded by the Haytien Minister of Finance, the German legation and Hermann & Company.

The German minister demanded that this transaction, as well as others, be annulled, but the Haytien Government, in terms that the German minister deemed offensive, refused to acquiesce. The German minister at the same time demanded the withdrawal of the phrase objected to. This was also refused.

Fears are entertained here of grave complications.

Saleswomen's Peril

GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING

Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous Illness and Complete Cure.

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read about the experience of Miss Margret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkley.

A "WORKING UNITY" OF THE CHURCHES

Different Forms of Worship Appeal to Different Temperament, Said Dr. Symonds.

In the course of his sermon in Christ Church Cathedral last night Rev. Dr. Symonds said that he thought we ought to be all things to all men. "Doctrine and Worship in a United Church" was the theme of his discussion and he took for his text I Corinthians, 12. 47. Dr. Symonds pointed out that different forms of worship appealed to different temperaments. He said that history taught clearly that Roman Catholicism, Protestantism, and the Anglican Church, were three permanent types of devotion. Each of them expressed the devotional needs of large numbers of people. A truly Catholic Church, in the light of such facts would not say: —"You must worship in this or that particular way, or not at all," but it would seek to open wide the door to every type. "Personally the Anglican type absolutely satisfies both my mind and my heart. Yet I like to unite with others who worship in other ways, because I feel that that uniting with others has a real spiritual virtue."

"From the bottom of my heart, I believe we should all be better men and women if we tried to enter into the spirit and feelings of those of different temperament from ourselves and sometimes with them worshipped the One God and Father of us all.

"Supposing that all difficulties have been surmounted and that Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists and the Anglican Church have accomplished what we may call a working unity. What may we conceive to be the place of doctrine and of worship in this united or federated church? In regard to doctrine, the age demanded simplicity and brevity. In this it differed from the Reformation period, when men delighted in longdrawn and positive statements upon the most difficult and obscure topics.

"In Europe, we recall the Augsburg and the Helvestri Confessions; in England the Westminster Confessions, and the Thirty-nine Articles. No one so far as I am aware, has even suggested that any one of these or anything like them should be the basis of a united Church."

Continuing with the question of doctrine, the preacher said: "Jeremy Taylor proposed the Apostles' Creed as sufficient and the Anglican bishops propose the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene as sufficient statements of Christian doctrine. These, I think, a United Church would accept, with the understanding that there should be some considerable latitude of interpretation."

Rite of Confirmation Administered.

The rite of confirmation was administered yesterday by Bishop Carmichael, in St. Stephen's Church, to twenty-seven candidates, who were presented by the Dean of Montreal. Despite the inclement weather, the congregation was large. Rev. Mr. Feu acted as chaplain to the Bishop.

VALLEYFIELD MACCABEES.—The Knights of the Maccabees, Lodge No. 9, Valleyfield, held a successful gathering, on Saturday night. Several prominent members of the Order, of Montreal went out for the occasion. After nine new members had been initiated refreshments were served. A musical programme was carried out.

It is not stated in this part of the will, which is designated as Clause Eight, that Thaw expected that Stanford White would be the medium of his death, but it is clearly established in the codicil annexed thereto that Standford White is the man whom he feared would kill him.

"For Howard Nesbit, brother of my beloved wife, I direct that a fund be set aside by my trustees and to remain in their charge, sufficient for his education and maintainance until he becomes of age."

QUOTES MANY NAMES.

The codicil, to quote the exact legal verbiage of which would be unwise because of the numerous names of young women of prominence not yet mentioned in the case, provides that a fund of $75,000 be set aside in the custody of his trustees for the care, protection and maintenance of the young women whose names are mentioned, who, according to his belief and understanding, were wronged by Stanford White in the same manner as Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Coincident with the facts as set forth in Harry K. Thaw's will, attention is called by counsel for the defence to the parallel extracts contained in the letters Harry K. Thaw had written to his lawyer, Mr. Longfellow, of the firm of Longfellow and Delafield, in 1903, two years before the execution of the will, which are now in evidence in the case. One of these extracts is as follows.

MOTHER BARRED OUT.

"If I die or am killed she (Evelyn Nesbit Thaw) is unlikely to live to twenty-one. Her wretched mother must not benefit vastly. Can her family be cut off? I should provide especially for her brother, but that is set aside from the important point of law."

A witness to the Thaw trial late on Friday was Miss F. B. Pearce, Miss Pearce, a middle-aged woman, who wears eyeglasses, was in Pittsburg at the time of the Thaw wedding. She had long been a friend of the Thaws, and was called upon to witness the signing of the will.

MAY NOT CALL PRISONER.

It now appears very doubtful that Harry Thaw will take the stand in his own defence. Unless it appears that it is absolutely necessary, his attorneys will not put him in a position where the District Attorney will be able to cross-examine him. There is little that he can say and if he does go on the stand it would give the prosecution a chance to go into the details of a number of matters which seemed to have been placed before the jury by Mrs. Thaw as well as they could be placed by the defendant himself, and would open the way for the prosecution to go into the truth or falsity of these statements, which they cannot present do.

The District Attorney's office, it is said, is still confident that it can secure a conviction. On the other hand Thaw's attorneys state that they are sure of an acquittal. One thing is certain, the great dramatic moment of the trial, so far as the defence is concerned has passed. When Evelyn Nesbit Thaw told on the stand the story of her experiences with Stanford White as she said she told it to Thaw before their marriage, the defence sprang its sensation. No evidence can be introduced that will equal the sensation which this story contained.

BRIDGE WHIST HIS FAD.

It is possible that a mania Thaw has for bridge whist playing may be used to substantiate the claim that Thaw was insane at the time of the shooting Thaw, it is said, played the game wildly at that time and lost thousands of dollars. Persons who played with him, in commenting on his play, are credited with saying that his style was that of a "crazy man."

Jean L. Deforrest, who was Mrs. Thaw's teacher at the school in Hampton, N.J., adds a chapter to the case. She writes that Mrs. Thaw (then Evelyn Nesbit) was an earnest scholar, and says that since the tragedy, with Thaw's consent, she has continued to instruct Mrs. Thaw in literature, English and Biblical history. The instruction is given at the Hotel Lorraine, where Mrs. Thaw lives, and Mae Mackenzie, Mrs. Thaw's constant companion, according to Miss Deforrest, became interested and shares in the studies.

LUNCH FROM DEL'S.

Yesterday may be said to have been Thaw's best Sunday in the Tombs. He rose after what he declared had been a restful night, in good spirits, and with a hearty appetite. He did not attend service in the chapel, but spent the morning with the newspapers and many messages which were brought to him. One of these read: "Be brave."

None of Thaw's counsel called during the morning, and at noon the prisoner sat down to a lunch sent in from Delmonico's. He ate with a relish. During the afternoon, he walked the tier briskly for an hour, covering several miles. Later he sent the suit which he has been wearing at the trial out of the Tombs, by a messenger, who subsequently returned, bringing him a complete change of clothing.

NO PLACE FOR LADIES.

The opening day of the fourth week of the trial brought a new order of things in the court room, and all women, other than the half-dozen active newspaper writers, who have followed the case since the beginning, were barred by order of Justice Fitzgerald. During the two days of last week when Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was on the witness stand, many women crowded the court room, having in some manner solved the problem of getting past the stubborn-visaged bailiff at the door.

This morning the women stormed the portals again, but in vain. They were attired in all the gay plumage that gave the court room last week the appearance of some gala matinee performance. Their indignation knew no bounds when the court officials repulsed them with the statement that the court's order excluded everyone except the women members of the working newspaper brigade.

NONE TO GREET HIM.

As a result of the order there were several rows of vacant seats in the court room when Justice Fitzgerald took his place on the bench and Harry Thaw was called to the bar. The prisoner walked to his place at his counsel's table without a single friendly nod to greet him. No member of his family was in court.

That the defence would proceed with the struggle to have Harry Thaw's will accepted in evidence as testimony to his unsoundness of mind, was indicated by Mr. Delmas, who asked that J. D. Lyon be called as the first witness of the day. Mr. Lyon was sworn and had stated that he had lived in Pittsburg all his life and had been engaged in the banking business for more than a quarter of a century. He is now connected with the Union National Bank.

"You are acquainted with the defendant, Harry K. Thaw?" asked Mr. Delmas.

DAY'S FIRST OBJECTION.

District Attorney Jerome here objected to the defence proceeding with a new witness while the examination of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw remained uncompleted. Mr. Jerome said he thought the defence should offer some explanation of its purpose in thus interrupting the testimony of Mrs. Thaw.

Mr. Delmas stated that when court had adjourned on Friday, the will of the defendant was under discussion, and had been ruled out because of the insufficiency of the proof of the document. It was now proposed, he said, to further identify the will.

MR. DELMAS EXPLAINS.

Mr. Delmas stated that he considered enough evidence had been introduced in the shape of the testimony of an expert and of laymen who were wit-

ROOSEVELT AGREES WITH DR. STOCKTON.

New York, February 11.—The following statement was issued from the White House to-day:

"The President has communicated with Postmaster-General Cortelyou to know whether it is feasible to bar from the mails the papers that give the full particulars of the Thaw case. He does not know whether it is feasible, but if it is he wishes it done."

nesses to the occurrence, to establish a prima facie case of unsoundness of mind. All he was attempting to do, he said, was to interrupt Mrs. Thaw's testimony for the purpose of better satisfying the District Attorney of the defendant's unsoundness of mind at the time of the shooting.

Mr. Delmas asked that Mr. Lyon, who had been called from his business in Pittsburg to testify at this time, be allowed merely to identify an envelope and the package (the will) it contained. Then he declared, if the District Attorney objected further, he would defer for the time being the offer of the will in evidence.

JEROME GOES WANDERING.

Mr. Jerome, in reply, discussed the rules of the evidence which prevented the District Attorney from controverting the truth of Mrs. Thaw's testimony as to the story she told her husband. Judicially, Mr. Jerome said, the court could not say as to whether the story Mrs. Thaw told her husband had an effect on his mind.

"I must object to this line of argument by the District Attorney," interrupted Mr. Delmas. "He is addressing himself to facts not in evidence."

RULING BY THE JUSTICE.

Justice Fitzgerald stated that all the statements by Mrs. Thaw are on the record practically by consent, but now the judgment of the court was invoked. The objection to the introduction of the documents on Friday was a technical one, but it was sound. There was a witness on the stand when court adjourned whose testimony has not been finished. "It seems to me," said the court, "that either that witness should be finished with or consent should be given to proceed with this witness."

Mr. Jerome, after a short whispered conference with Mr. Delmas, withdrew his objection.

"How long have you known Harry K. Thaw?" asked Mr. Delmas of Mr. Lyon. "Ever since he was a boy," replied Mr. Lyon.

"I hand you an envelope and ask you if you ever saw it before."

GETS THE ENVELOPE.

Mr. Delmas handed the witness an envelope of large size and made of heavy brown paper.

"I have seen this before," said the witness; "it was once in my possession."

"When?" "Some time previous to April 1, 1906. It was sealed and apparently contained a package."

"How did you receive the package?" "From the hands of Harry K. Thaw."

Mr. Lyon said he was familiar with the defendant's handwriting, and it was his handwriting on the envelope.

"What did you do with the envelope?" "Placed it in my box in the safety deposit vault in the bank, where it remained until the latter part of November, 1906, when I took it out and gave it to my stenographer, Charles Johnson."

BY HIS STENOGRAPHER.

Mr. Lyon identified part of the writing on another envelope as that of his stenographer.

Cross-examined, the witness remarked that there were doubtless many letters from Thaw in the bank at Pittsburg.

"Can you produce those letters?" "Y—"

Mr. Jerome then stated that he could not continue the cross-examination without the letters, and asked that they be produced. Mr. Delmas objected to the letters being turned over to the District Attorney. It finally was agreed they should be sent to the clerk of the court.

LONDON MUCH INTERESTED.

London, February 11.—One of the principal features in the British press at present is the Thaw trial. The Daily Mail, in particular, is paying special attention to this matter. On Saturday it published six columns of cabled report of the latest proceedings in court. The Daily Mail adds that it has received from American readers many letters of congratulation on its complete record of the sensational trial. All the London leading papers are printing from two to four columns of specially cabled matter each day.

PARIS ALSO LIKES IT.

Paris, February 11.—The rebirth of the Thaw trial occupy a prominent place in all Parisian newspapers. Marcel Prevost and Alfred Capus are both compiling careful notes of the case, with the view of making the Thaw courtship a basis for a racy vaudeville comedy, with scenes in New York and Paris. The portraits of those connected with the trial are reproduced in the papers. The "Echo de Paris," the "Gil Blas," the "Matin" and the "Liberte" all have editorial comments on the trial which is regarded by the French writers as the characteristic outcome of certain circles of American smart society.

Well Known Gaspe Merchant Dead.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Cape Cove, Gaspe, Que., February 11.—Mr. John Baker, sr., one of the best known and most highly esteemed merchants of the Gaspe peninsula, passed away at his residence, at Little River East, Sunday noon, at the age of sixty-nine. Born at Cape Cove, the son of the late Capt. John Baker, the deceased began business on his own account when he was about thirty years of age, and has since accumulated a fortune in the fish trade.

Annual University Sermon.

Rev. John MacNeill, of Toronto, preached the annual university sermon before the students of McGill in the assembly room of Strathcona Hall yesterday afternoon. A large number of students were present, as well as a good representation of the professorial staff. The words of the text were: "Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in [illegible] he stumbles not, because the light in the world, but if he walk in the night he stumbles because there is no light in him." From this Mr. MacNeill warned the students to watch their opportunities, and with the use of many illustrations pointed out the effect of general abuse of them.

Their announcement on page 11 of this issue of the Star gives only a few of the items.

THE WEATHER

"What is so rare as a day in June?" asks the poet. A day of real Canadian winter weather, say we—such a day as this, for instance. It was so clear and bracing to-day, the air was so delightfully sharp and tonic that it tasted good even through a patent ventilator. Outside in the streets, or, better still, in the far-stretching fields, it was a bliss to merely be alive.

"THE MORE THE MERRIER"

The Bachelor Question.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir, I have read with interest "Canadian Lady's" letter appearing in Thursday's Star. There is not much doubt that if there were more domestically inclined young ladies there would be fewer bachelors. Girls possessing the qualifications and inclination necessary to make home pleasant and comfortable are so scarce that maybe we bachelors become weary looking for them and, being afraid to embark on the sea of matrimony in a ship which gives early promise of being wrecked, we choose the "lesser evil," and are no better than we should be as a consequence.

Bachelors, as a rule, let no grass grow under their feet when they meet a girl possessing those traits which men love and respect most in women. I am sure I wouldn't.

BACHELOR.

Compulsory Education.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—There is a youngster aged 13 years lying in one of the city hospitals, with an arm off, the result of an accident at his employment. He can neither read, write or even tell the time by the clock. Upon being questioned why he had not attended school, his reply was "that he had been sent to work instead." (Instead, mark you.)

A deplorable admission, is it not, and in this progressive Canada, too.

ANGLO-SAXON.

The McGill Students' Union.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—At the opening ceremonies in connection with the McGill University Students' Union, much and well-deserved praise was given to Sir W. Macdonald for his munificence in providing a building for such a long-needed phase of university life. A flattering reference was also made to Messrs. Child and Wood, members of the New England Graduates' Society for their share, as your reporter puts it, "in the credit of actively planning the scheme," and telegrams of congratulation were said to have been sent to these gentlemen.

I believe, however, that for the true story of the earliest move in this direction, and for the real origination of the scheme, we must look much nearer home than to New England. It was very generally whispered at the inauguration ceremony that a lady who, through the name of her distinguished husband, has long been connected with McGill, and has always been specially known for her great personal interest in the students, furnished and opened a building near the university as a club house where undergrads might meet each other, and where they might also meet the graduates, the professors and eminent men who might chance to be in the city. A dining hall, smoke and reading rooms, and two flats of bedrooms were included in the equipment, and the words "McGill University Club" stood out in gilt letters over the doorway.

As an interested spectator of the opening ceremonies last week, I should like to know something more of the history of this club house.

DEPLORABLY LACKING IN EQUIPMENT.

Of the railway blockade in the west, the Winnipeg Free Press says:

The operating chiefs, it is right to say, from Mr. White down on the C.P.R. and from Mr. James down, on the Canadian Northern, have done their best. That their best is no better than it is is not their fault, but is due to the deliberate policy of the owners of the C. P. R. and the owners of the Canadian Northern and those in the east who act for the owners directly. As Mayor Ashdown declared at the Board of Trade meeting, the railway situation this winter has been produced by years of improvidence and failure to equip the railway systems adequately. As a result the operating chiefs have found themselves in the position of being required to make bricks without straw. The ablest railway official that ever lived could not clear the tracks of snow without snowploughs in sufficient number and engines to push the snowploughs along. The events of this winter have made it plain, even to the most obtuse intelligence, that both the railways are undermanned and most deplorably lacking in equipment, especially in regard to motive power, and that this is especially true of the Canadian Northern. In every business enterprise it is necessary that provision be made for emergencies. The railways have failed to act upon this elementary principle of business wisdom and out of the resulting public indignation over the serious consequences of this failure, something radical and permanent in the way of a cure must be evolved.

GENERAL MANAGER M'FARLANE WAS THE CHIEF WITNESS AT WEEK END SESSION OF THE TELEPHONE ENQUIRY

Toronto, February 11.—General Manager McFarlane, of the Bell Telephone Company, was the chief witness at the telephone enquiry on Saturday. He was examined by Mr. J. W. Curry, counsel for the operators. He admitted that the natural tendency for years had been toward reducing the hours of work per day, rather than lengthening them, and he thought it was the proper tendency; that, generally speaking, he had understood from Mr. Dunstan's letters, that it was impossible for self-supporting girls (amounting to 30 or 40 per cent.), to live at the wages formerly paid, that, without the operators, the company's $10,000,000 capital couldn't earn one cent; that Mr. Maw had recommended in a letter the doing away with vacations for Toronto girls, which would mean a rake-off of $11 per girl to the company, and the amount was too insignificant to elicit any serious kicks; also, that while the Bell Telephone Company was not a monopoly, yet it held interests in several independent 'phone companies, and controlling interest in two large electrical manufacturing companies, from which the Bell Company bought its equipment.

Mr. Maw was first examined on a report made by the latter, January 21st, 1906, to the head office, in which he had recommended that the two weeks' holidays to each operator should be done away with. This would mean the saving of $11 on each girl. Witness explained that this was because they had been allowed the privilege of working considerable overtime.

A subsequent report stated that the girls were to be allowed vacations, provided they gave three months' notice, but they would receive no pay for such holidays.

"Wasn't the three months' notice inserted in order to balk their getting off?"

"No; the object was so that we could make provision for their absence."

"Wasn't your chief object always to save money to the company?"

"I don't believe so."

NUMBER OF CALLS PER HOUR.

Mr. Curry stated that one of the girls had told him that certain operators handled from 850 to 1000 calls per hour. "How about that?"

Witness answered that such occasions were very exceptional. The average was about six or seven hundred.

Mr. King wanted to know just one thing before the witness sat down. "Wouldn't the necessity for holidays be increased when the girls worked much overtime?"

Witness said it might form a certain logic, but the privilege of working overtime might be appreciated more than a vacation.

Another report was produced, which Manager Dunstan acknowledged as having been made by himself, and admitted that the increase in hours was so out of proportion with the increase in wages that the company would be saving the cost of 1000 calls per hour under the new schedule.

Mr. King called attention to the fact that he had waited a whole day for an answer to his letter to Mr. Dunstan, in which he had offered the good services of the Dominion Department of Labor toward effecting a conciliation. When the reply finally had come, it was absolutely opposed to arbitration. "Why was that attitude taken? Why did you reject conciliation of a conference with the girls?"

CONFERENCE AND ARBITRATION.

"I was never opposed to a conference with the girls, but that may have been omitted from my letter."

Mr. Dunstan's attention was then called to a statement he had made, to the effect that the evidence of such an undesirable element as the class of girls who would attend a meeting in the Labor Temple at 10 o'clock at night could not possibly have weight. He replied that he still maintained this view.

"And you are still opposed to submitting the matter to arbitration?" asked the commissioner.

"That is the company's decision."

To his own counsel, Mr. Kerr, he said he had long been of the opinion that conditions in Toronto were wretched, under the five-hour system, compared to Montreal, and he desired to improve them, because, working at practically the limit of speed all the while, robbed the operators of the necessary reserve energy to rise equal to occasional rush periods. It sapped their vigor. He had never received a complaint against the overtime worked.

"Do you know of any private information having become public through the medium of the observation desk or listener?"

"I do not."

MR. M'FARLANE'S EVIDENCE.

General Manager McFarlane, Montreal, said he received all reports from offices re changes in operation, and recalled the one from Mr. Dunstan telling of the change of hours in Toronto February 1. From Mr. Dunstan's letter he had concluded that the load couldn't be lightened sufficiently to relieve the conditions until the "College" exchange was opened. Later, however, at the conference, he had learned that 400 lines could be unloaded by shifting them and filling in five or seven vacant positions.

Generally speaking, he understood that it was impossible for the self-supporting girls, amounting to 30 or 40 per cent. of the total operators, to live on the salaries paid prior to February 1.

"Well, why was that condition allowed to exist so long? Did you think you could fill your plant with home-dwelling girls? Did you want the mothers of girls living at home to contribute toward the running expenses of the company?"

"No."

Mr. Curry thought that was a fair way to look at it.

More questions revealed that the Bell Company held stock in several independent phone companies, among which were mentioned the Nova Scotia Telephone Company and the Kamaraska Telephone Company. There were perhaps two or three others. Also there were two large electric supply plants in which the company had controlling interests, and from which they procured all their instruments and supplies.

DEPENDENT ON GIRLS.

Mr. McFarlane admitted that the company might be called a public utility. He couldn't tell what proportion of the gross earnings was paid in operators' salaries, but would procure a statement.

"You say the capital is about $10,000,000. Well, would that great investment be earning a penny if it wasn't for the operators?"

"No."

"Well, then, ought not the labor which is earning the profits be paid a legal interest, which is 5 per cent.?"

Witness didn't think so.

"Well, what would 3 per cent. amount to, in the face of the 8 or 10 per cent. the company earns each year? Wouldn't that be a fair portion to the girls?"

"But," responded Mr. McFarland, "capital should have some advantages in big profits for its risk."

"Well, don't the girls take a risk? Don't they run the risk of shocks, and other nervous injuries which may be detrimental to life and future generations? You know you should think of these things."

QUESTION OF SALARIES.

Mr. Curry took the general manager minutely over the status of girls' salaries and expenses, appealing to his sympathies, till he admitted that $18 as a starter, and even $22.50 for competent operators, was probably insufficient to get along on respectably.

"Well I ew you say you want girls that are respectable, neatly dressed, and intelligent. I believe it was stated by one of your officials that you wanted the cream. Isn't that so?"

"Yes," assented Mr. McFarlane.

"Well, you want to get cream at skim-milk prices."

"As general manager of the company, did you know anything of the Lemieux bill referring to strikes and lockouts, etc?" said Mr. King.

He said he had no knowledge of it other than having noticed headings in newspapers about it.

"Then your sudden action, which precipitated the strike, was not done to forestall that bill?"

"No?" interrupted Mr. Curry. "Then you are in the same box as the Toronto Electric Light Company. They didn't do it to forestall the Companies' Act, either."

"Suppose your dividends increased 1 per cent." went on Mr. King, "what would you do with the additional revenue?"

"Well, if I was an employe I suppose I'd want to have it divided among my mates."

"Well, why couldn't the company extend it down to the employes?"

Before the commission adjourned, a volunteer witness submitted a statement procured from a boarding house agency, showing that it was impossible for ladies to get respectable board and lodging for less than $4 per week. The average price was $4.50 to $5, and in many instances it was $6.

MONTREAL OPERATORS SENT BACK.

About thirty-six of the Bell Telephone Company girls, who came up from Montreal to take the places of the girls who went on strike in Toronto, returned to their homes Saturday. While the girls were boarding the private car attached to the Canadian Pacific express, they were given a cheer by a number of men who happened to be on the platform. While the train was pulling out of the station, a crowd on York street bridge shouted: "Back to your little French settlement." "Is Dunstan with you?" "Look out for Curry."

AVOID STENCILED PIANOS

A stencilled piano is one which is made in a cheap factory, the manufacturers of which care so little about their product that they do not put their name on it. This cheaply constructed unreliable stencilled piano usually bears the name of some dealer who is not a manufacturer, but hopes to deceive the public into believing that in some way or another it was made under his supervision.

J. W. SHAW & CO. 370 West St. Catherine street, are the only large dealers here who manufacture their instruments in their own factory in Montreal. When you buy a "SHAW" piano you may be sure that it is made of the best material and by the most skilled workmen. You can buy one of these instruments direct from the factory to your home and save middleman's profits. If about to purchase a piano for the home, see the reliable

SIR ROBERT HART RETIRES.

He Has Been In Control of Chinese Customs Since 1891.

London, February 11.—It is announced that Sir Robert Hart, Director-General of Chinese Imperial Customs, will leave China for England at the end of February on a two years' leave of absence and that he is not likely ever to return. This is regarded as the outcome of the appointment last summer of Chinese as customs commissioners.

Sir Robert Hart, who is an Irishman by birth, has been in the Chinese customs service since 1859. He became director general of Chinese customs—inland, as well as maritime—in 1901. The office was bestowed upon him as a reward for services rendered the Chinese government in connection with the international settlement of the Boxer troubles. He created the customs service and gave China a tariff which at the same time was stable and comprehensive. He has been behind every commercial treaty that China has made. Sir Robert also established the lighthouse service on the dangerous Chinese coast and the postal service which now is being extended to all parts of China. He has received the greatest honors in the gift of the Chinese government.

Don't Overdraw Your Bank Account.

To overdraw your bank account, whether mentally or physically, is more suicidal even than to overdraw materially. Repair wasted tissues, strengthen shattered nerves and rejuvenate your rheumatic system by visiting the famous Mineral Salt Springs of the "St. Catherines Well" of St. Catherines, Ontario.
