About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Forger, Sunday night's NBC show of the Week, was based on the 1947 trial of Hans Van Meegeren, the Dutch artist accused of forging a series of "old masters" so perfect in style that he was able to pass them off on collectors and art experts alike. Van Meegeren's alleged imitation of the styles of Vermeer and others is so fascinating it is a shame the subject was not made into a documentary. As a drama it was less than satisfactory because it got tangled up in observations on the fallibility of art "experts" and the philosophical question of whether a painting, held to be a masterpiece when it was believed to be by Vermeer, became a worthless daub when its real origin became known. Arthur Kennedy played the

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, soapy, pasty taste or feeling. Does not stain. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Club discusses buying, altering ready-to-wear

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The sight of Natalie Wood doing a striptease is like seeing Helen Hayes do the twist. The view is fascinating but you're not so sure she should be doing what she's doing. That was my reaction to watching Miss Wood prepare for her role as stripper Gypsy Rose Lee. The young actress is playing the title role in Gypsy. Miss Wood does a good job, as always. Although she is perhaps the screen's most effective symbol of purity since Lillian Gish, she does a mean strip. She was rehearsing the Let Me Entertain You number, a montage which shows her developing from a shy, hesitant peeler to the strutting, insinuating Gypsy. She wore a skin-tight leopard, BARS NUDDITY

DERBY LINE — At the regular meeting of the South of the Border Home Demonstration Club the group discussed how to alter ready-made clothing. The experts, Mrs. Clair Stetson, and Mrs. Glenn Griffin, besides demonstrating how to alter clothes at home also advised what to consider when buying garments, suggesting well-fitted seams, lengthening material, etc. The leaders also gave short talks on accessories for basic dresses. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Judd Jr., with 16 members attending as well as two guests, Mrs. Arthur Soutiere and Miss Nora Stetson. Mrs. Rudy Racine, chairman of the March of Dimes, appealed for more to join the Mothers' March on Polo house-to-house campaign. Mrs. Marion Buckland, county agent, had requested new name suggestions for her paper column. Mrs. Hazel Smith suggested Mrs. B. Goes to Press, which has been submitted to Mrs. Buckland. Mrs. H. Smith agreed to head the February - March money-making project with the following committee, Mrs. Wilson Howe, Mrs. L. Day, Mrs. Mary Cargill and Mrs. R. Young. After the meeting Mrs. Stetson was pleasantly surprised when presented by the members with a decorated basket filled with stork gifts. As she opened them Mrs. Stetson voiced her appreciation. Refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Judd, Mrs. William Leavens and Mrs. Norma Gratton, included a stork cake made by Mrs. Harold Carter and Mrs. Leavens in the design of a baby sweater, bonnet and booties, and decorated in pink and blue in delicate and intricate pattern. The next meeting will be held on Feb. 26 at the home of Mrs. William Jouis, with Mrs. R. Racine and Mrs. A. S. Judd, assisting hostesses. The subject will be, Color in the Home, and in charge of the county agent, Mrs. Buckland.

Along Fifth Avenue

Snow won't be blown on lawns

Fifth Avenue residents won't have snow blown on their front lawns — but they will probably see it pile up along the street. Mayor Armand Nadeau said at Monday's city council meeting "if they don't want us to blow it on the lawn when it is clean snow, then we will have to leave it until there is enough to take away in trucks."

Fire damages parked car

Traffic on Wellington Street North in Sherbrooke was held up for about an hour yesterday afternoon as firemen battled flames and smoke in the motor of a 1956 automobile, parked across the street from the J. S. Mitchell Company.

The owner of the car was Jean-Marie Hamel of 1049 Bowen Street south in Sherbrooke. Firemen said that the fire started because of a short circuit in the wiring of the motor. Although fine work by the Sherbrooke fire department prevented the fire from spreading to the inside of the car, the smoke caused heavy damages to both the body and the interior.

Hamel estimated his car to be a total loss. After the fire was quelled the car was towed away.

Lennoxville council To enforce business tax

By SANDRA PICKFORD
 (Record Staff Reporter)

Lennoxville town council will advise all subcontractors that they must pay the regular business tax of $25 before beginning work on a municipal construction.

A motion was introduced by Lennoxville Alderman Frank Taylor, chairman of the finance committee, Tuesday night that a sign be posted at all construction sites advising the subcontractors they must pay the regular tax.

The business tax is levied once a year. The motion followed a statement by Alderman Taylor that the town has had some problems in determining the identity of the subcontractors.

While the business bylaw had always provided for the payment of the business license, Council's complaint was that outside subcontractors frequently performed work in the municipality without paying the town's business tax.

"People being people," said Mayor Gilbey, "will try to get by without paying the tax. They come from out of town, do a job here and leave before the business tax can be levied," he said, "and we can't penalize unless we have billed them."

R. Merriman ordained a deacon

Rev. Ramsay Owen Merriman, 3 Park St., Lennoxville has been ordained deacon in Ottawa, Ontario. He will now be assistant deacon at St. George's Church in Lennoxville.

He was ordained at services in St. Matthews, Church, Ottawa, Ontario on February 2nd, 1962 by Rev. E. S. Reed, Lord Bishop of Ottawa.

Rev. Merriman will continue his studies at Bishop's University until he finishes in the spring of 1963.

He was educated in Ottawa, Ontario and was a member of the Merchant Navy from 1939 to 1946.

After his release from the Navy he was employed by the Gaieneau Power Company as a powerhouse foreman. Recently he has been a student in charge at St. George's Church, Windsor, and Christ Church in Bromptonville.

He now lives in Lennoxville, is married and has two children.

time, money and equipment for the building on this outdoor recreation area.

Following the opening of a street between Speid and Belvidere Streets, authority was given by Council to the town engineer to redraw the extension of Vaudry Street from Clough to Belvidere in order to meet a new street which has been opened to join Speid and Belvidere Streets.

It was suggested by Mayor Gilbey that the members of the town police department and the town's permanent staff would be responsible for the enforcement of this bylaw.

A full report on the Optimist Park skating rink was promised for the end of the season. Mayor Gilbey expressed special thanks to the many town residents who donated der which extensions will be made to the municipal water works.

It will further provide for a nominal service charge for any property requiring a connection to the water system, Alderman Mitchell said.

Lennoxville's volunteer firemen now have a club room in the Town Hall they can call their own.

Town Council voted to turn over the committee room, a room set aside across from the Council room to the volunteer firemen.

The Lennoxville fire department has purchased new hoses and miscellaneous equipment, Alderman Brown said in his monthly report for the Police and Fire department.

"Council can expect a larger than usual maintenance bill from this department next month because of the purchasing of this necessary equipment," Alderman Brown told council.

His report showed no fires in Lennoxville during the month of January.

Red China recognition Would discourage anti-communists

Recognition of Red China and its admission to the United Nations would discourage those forces resisting the spread of communism in Southeast Asia and would weaken the general position of the free world, Maurice Allard, MP for Sherbrooke, told the members of the Richelieu Club at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening.

In discussing his recent trip to the Orient, Mr. Allard described an interview with Chiang Kai-Shek, president of the Chinese Nationalist Republic on Formosa.

During this interview, the Chinese leader declared the best means of combatting the advance of communism was to extend aid to underdeveloped countries.

If Red China were admitted to the United Nations, said Mr. Allard, Nationalist China must be dropped from the international body as the UN charter made it clear two governments of a single country could not be recognized.

To be admitted to the United Nations, Mr. Allard continued, a country must give proof of its good intentions and its peaceful policies.

"Red China," he declared, "has given many proofs to the contrary."

Two Farnham men

To appear in court on theft charges

FARNHAM — (Staff) — Two men will appear before the Sweetsburg Court of Sessions here today following their arrest early Monday morning in connection with a theft at the Harold Rutledge Dow distributorship at Farnham.

The two men believed to have been connected with the Monday morning theft of a typewriter and adding machine at the Rutledge establishment were picked up by members of the provincial police at St. Hubert later Monday morning.

According to Farnham police chief Antonin Robillard, two men visited police offices about 3:30 a.m. Monday morning asking information from the constable on duty, constable Lusignan.

Constable Lusignan decided that the men looked suspicious and took down the license number of their automobile.

When his rounds about 5:30 a.m. Monday, constable Lusignan found the office door of the Dow establishment had been broken down. Constable Lusignan immediately contacted chief Robillard by car radio.

When the chief arrived, the same automobile containing the two men who had asked for information earlier at the police station was seen a short distance away from the Dow establishment. When police went to investigate, the car drove away in direction of Montreal.

Chief Robillard immediately contacted the Cowansville detachment of the provincial police who in turn broadcasted the license number of the suspect car to other provincial police departments throughout the province.

Provincial police at St. Hubert spotted the automobile and arrested the two occupants about 8:30 a.m. Monday. Found in the automobile were a typewriter and an adding machine.

Farnham chief Robillard claims that constable Lusignan must have frightened the bandits because when police investigated, the thieves had apparently started moving the 5-foot high safe.

Sherbrooke Court

Court suspends sentence

A 23-year old Asbestos man, who had been held behind bars since he pleaded guilty last month in connection with a breaking and entering charge, was given a suspended sentence Monday morning.

Andrew Fowler regained his freedom in Sherbrooke District Court after having spent one month to the day in Winter Street Jail. He had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering into the store of Leonard Courchesne during the night of January 3 to 4.

Judge Redmond Hayes asked the accused if he enjoyed his stay behind bars.

"I didn't like it any too well," replied the accused.

"If you were sentenced to another month, I imagine it wouldn't please you," added the judge. "No," agreed Fowler.

Judge Hayes told the accused the court would give him a chance. He ordered Fowler to report once a month for the next three months to the chief of police in Asbestos, who would file a written report in connection with his behaviour.

Judge Redmond Hayes also imposed a suspended sentence against Emilien Rodrigue, 18, of Sherbrooke, after the accused's father told the court his son had properly behaved since he had been taken under his custody last month following court's order.

Rodrigue had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of car theft committed in early October, and of a theft involving a $50 portable radio. The accused had spent a month in jail, and was finally released on probation under his father's care.

Greater beef cattle breeding is noted

By W. G. MACDOUGALL
 (County agriculturalist)

The Quebec Hereford Breeders' Association will hold their annual meeting in the St. George's Club, Dufferin Ave. Sherbrooke, on Feb. 8th.

The general meeting will be held at 2:00 p.m. There will be a buffet supper at six o'clock after which Mr. Pierre Labrecque, director of the livestock branch, Quebec, will be the guest speaker; this will be followed by films on the livestock industry. All beef breeders who are interested in the Hereford Breed of Cattle, are invited.

There has been a great increase of interest in the breeding of beef cattle in the province in the past few years.

Here are a few statistics which will demonstrate the renewed interest in beef cattle. In 1940, there were 15 breeders of pure bred Hereford cattle with 58 cattle registered; 1950, there were 27 Hereford breeders with 97 cattle registered during the year. In 1960 the number of breeders had risen to 167 with 715 cattle being registered.

The number of Aberdeen Angus breeders has also made almost a similar increase. The number of breeders of Aberdeen Angus increased from 8 in 1940 to 104 in 1960. The number of registrations increased from 27 to 685 in the same period.

The Shorthorn breed, for a great many years, was the leading beef breed in Quebec. However, it is now in second place with 130 breeders in 1960 with 733 registrations.

In market beef cattle, there has been an over all increase in the number marketed of Quebec origin, also a marked increase in the quality, according to statistics furnished by the livestock market division, Ottawa. With the surplus of dairy products, more farmers are turning towards the production of Beef Cattle.

ANNUAL MEETING
 The annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Ploughing Association will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Lennoxville Farmer's Club at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm on Feb. 12th at 2:00 p.m.

The Sherbrooke Ploughmen in Agriculture, Home Economics and Teaching, will endeavour to demonstrate to the visitors what may be expected in the future from these three fields.

Looking back over fourteen years of College Royals they hope to proudly maintain the tradition of those that have passed and served. They anticipate expanding the Royal 1962 to greater limits and achievement. The scope of the Royal is so great that it must be seen to be appreciated. The students, therefore, ask the public to attend and assist them in a year of record success.

A Queen will be chosen from the fairest of the campus princesses and she will be ceremoniously crowned at the official opening to reign as Regal Monarch of the Royal 1962.

See the Booth Display. The result of many hours of planning and construction by students in the various options on the campus. The booth displays will illustrate the diversified interests and aspects of the student community. Further, it will display the application of advanced studies in the fields of science and education.

One of the highlights of the Royal is the traditional livestock show. This colorful event features College animals on display to visitors; at the same time, demonstrates student showmanship. It will be an impressive culmination in the championship Livestock Showman Competition.

There will be a great display of the latest farm machinery from many companies. The tractor rodeo will feature students in tests of manoeuvrability and handling. Horticultural students will present a demonstration on the propagation of house plants.

A master piece of precision gymnastics is the physical education display presented in the forenoon and afternoon. A square dance competition adds a touch of light entertainment.

The home economics students will present a fashion Show of Vogue and Quality Clothing, as well as cooking demonstrations. The Institute of Education's audio-visual display illustrates aids in teaching.

An appropriate climax for an unforgettable day is the students' presentation of the green and gold revue, a musical comedy written and produced by the students.

It has been suggested that high school students arrange for grade eleven students to visit the Royal at Macdonald College on Feb. 23rd.

FERTILIZER

The Quebec Department of Agriculture has announced that the subsidy on the purchase of fertilizer will be continued for the period: July 1st 1961 to June 30, 1962.

Now is the time to purchase your 1962 requirements of fertilizer. All the companies give a discount for early deliveries. Do not fail to order your fertilizer in the month of February, if you have not already done so. Be sure and ask your dealer for the necessary application form for the subsidy; this must be signed by the dealer and the purchaser. The company's invoice is also required.

If, by any chance, you did not make application for the subsidy in the spring of 1961, you should do so at once. I received one application last week for subsidy on fertilizer bought in May 1961.

LIME

Now is the time to order your ground limestone requirements for 1962. Order now so as to get delivery in the spring before the roads are closed to heavy traffic.

File complaints with police for splashing

Four pedestrians who claim that they were splashed by motorists on the city streets yesterday have filed complaints with the Sherbrooke municipal police department.

The police are busy this morning checking out the complaints.

"We plan to prosecute the guilty ones," said Captain A. Genest.

"Those who are guilty will appear in court and be fined," added Capt. Genest.

The maximum fine is $40. The sudden rise in temperatures caused the snow to melt yesterday thus turning many parts of the streets into swimming pools.

The main highways of the Eastern Townships were the same way, reported the Sherbrooke detachment of the Quebec Provincial police this morning.

'New Elizabethan Age'—first decade

Queen Elizabeth today marks the 10th anniversary of her accession to the British throne, surely one of the most momentous reigns in British history, and in many respects, deserving of the name that some have applied to it of a "New Elizabethan Age."

When the Queen succeeded her father, King George VI, she was a somewhat shy woman of 25 years of age. Britain's glorious days were in their late twilight; the atomic bomb had burst on the world horizon casting a deadly brilliance that could not dispel the gloom it brought to many quarters of the globe.

But, in many respects, British today is a stronger Britain than it was ten years ago, and there is every indication that she is about to enter a new and brighter economic era with probable entry into the European Common Market.

The Commonwealth has gone through some deep and basic changes since Queen Elizabeth II became monarch. Not all of these changes have been for the better, but the dominant trend towards greater freedom, independence and influence for Commonwealth countries has been a mark of the decade.

The Queen herself has carried out her arduous duties with graciousness, warmth and a deep sense of responsibility. Although she has no power to make or break the decisions of her governments, she must, and does worthily represent and be a unifying influence for all her peoples.

She has made use of the new media of television. She was the first sovereign to allow television of her coronation and of her opening of Britain's Parliament and the first — although she is always nervous in such circumstances — to use television for direct talks to her people.

She has, in a word, become a modern monarch, helping to transform what, on the face of it, should be an anachronism in this day and age into a valuable instrument of national and sometimes international well-being.

A professional twist dancer canceled an engagement because of foot trouble. She couldn't shake it off.

Law-making for government agencies

Anglo-Saxon countries are prone to urge that their system of justice is superior to that of most other areas in that an accused is considered innocent until he is proven guilty. But according to a Toronto lawyer, John Hornsberger, this claim is "folklore" in too many cases.

Taking his own province, Mr. Hornsberger states that at least fifty Ontario statutes reverse the onus of proof, requiring that a man prove his innocence of the charge against him. Otherwise he is considered guilty.

Federal statutes also contain in many provisions pre-supposing the guilt of the accused and in all probability the laws of this province include similar provisions.

Most of these laws cover protection of government revenues, marketing acts and licensing legislation.

If some husbands had better dispositions some wives wouldn't get up with a grouch in the morning.

Duffy comes back home to retire

Duffy, the 14-year-old former Montreal police department horse, is probably the luckiest of the animals that were auctioned last weekend in Montreal.

Through the kind intervention of Mrs. Frank S. Gravel, of Sherbrooke, and William Dunlop, of the Montreal S.P.C.A., Duffy was probably saved from the unhappy prospect of having to work during his retirement.

Mr. Dunlop noted that the horses are usually sold to riding academies where they are rented to, as he described them, "drugstore cowboys", or to farmers who often force the tired, old beasts to take on work they can no longer do.

But Duffy is going to be better off than the others because he is coming home to the rolling hills of the Eastern Townships.

He was born on a farm in East Sherbrooke and was sold at the age of five to a Montreal man. For the past seven years, he has been used by the police.

In his declining years, Duffy will be able to work the kinks out of his muscles which he probably picked up while trying to dodge the Montreal traffic. At the same time, he'll be able to clear his lungs of the city fumes and shake the grim and soot from his shoes.

Duffy will probably add another 20 years to his life just by coming to stay in the Townships.

The last horse laugh is going to be on the Montreal police department.

New international controversy

Filipinos demand North Borneo; say British documents forged

MANILA, The Philippines — (TNS) — A new boil of international controversy is beginning to erupt on the thin skin of Pacific nationalism.

Now the Philippines are making angry noises over British occupation of North Borneo.

It is only a matter of time before the boil reaches a head and bursts into world headlines — unless the cause of the irritation is treated and cured.

Since its independence from United States in 1946, The Philippines has insisted that British North Borneo "rightfully" belongs to the Filipino people.

Indonesia's claims on Dutch New Guinea and India's attack on Goa, have spurred Philippine nationalism to new boldness.

Patriots in Manila — which includes a voracious press — are hungrily calling on the government to demand that Britain "return our stolen land." And the government dares not turn a deaf ear.

So far Filipinos have been urging that a U.N. or World Court investigate their claims — and to rule in favor of the Philippines.

The warning is that unless talks and concessions are soon started, "radical measures may be taken."

It's conceivable that Filipinos might fight for territory they feel is traditionally theirs.

This becomes more than a possibility if the newly elected government runs into political storms at home — as it is doing.

In internal shenanigans ex-president Carlos Garcia made 350 "midnight" governmental appointments (including a new Central Bank governor) the day before he was due to leave office in favor of newly elected President Diosdado Macapagal.

By PETER WORTHINGTON

The Supreme Court here has scolded Garcia and nullified some of his appointments; but at the moment the country is in a mild state of turmoil and confusion.

An issue like British North Borneo could be a release valve that takes the pressure off at home, just as the New Guinea tempest has temporarily taken pressure off President Sukarno in Indonesia.

Filipinos feel — and this is fairly general — that Britain has been a bit of a bounder in its dealings with North Borneo.

It's regarded as sinister here that a few days after the Philippines gained independence in 1946 Britain proclaimed North Borneo a Crown Colony.

"This was obviously calculated to forestall any formal claim by the Philippines," a government official was quoted as saying in Manila.

ON LEASE

The cause for the hassle began in 1878 when one Baron de Overbeck of the British North Borneo Company "leased" the territory from its ruler, The Sultan of Sulu, for a paltry 5,000 Malayan dollars a year.

The influential Philippines Free Press calls Baron Overbeck "without question one of the smartest carpenter-squatters ever to appear on the Philippine scene... who browbeat the sultan into signing a thoroughly loaded lease contract."

For 68 years the British paid their rent, and then on July 4, 1946, Britain incorporated the territory into a colony — yet continued to pay annually $5,000.

A British government spokesman said: "The transaction with the sultan wasn't a lease, but a cession of the territory."

Sir William Goode, British Governor of North Borneo, scolds at the Philippine contentions.

He said: "This is an old claim and there is no substance to it."

British authority over North Borneo is legally founded.

Yet high level Filipinos say documents in British hands which allegedly prove the British point, are "forged."

Prior to the arrival of Britain and the bustling baron in 1878, North Borneo was under Spanish influence.

"The sovereignty of North Borneo properly resides in the Philippines since the heirs of the sultan were, and are, Filipinos," is the claim here.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — While we're waiting with something less than bated breath for Mr. D. to tell us how he's going to reform the Senate, let's see what he may be up to. And against.

We can, I think, disregard as facetious the comment of one senator that the "measure relating to the Senate" forecast in the Throne Speech will increase the senators' salaries.

Most likely it will set 75 years as the compulsory retirement age for senators, as with judges of the higher courts.

Why? Because if every senator 75 or over were turfed out, Prime Minister Diefenbaker could fill all the vacancies with Conservatives and immediately have a majority of eight in the 102-seat Upper House. The way it is now, he'll have to wait at least six years for enough Grit senators to die. While the PM can increase present Conservative representation from 25 to 31 by filling existing vacancies, that's a long way from a majority when there are 68 Liberal senators, two independents and an independent Liberal, and the attrition rate in the Red Chamber is only 4 1/2 senators a year, not necessarily all Grits.

The 28 "overage" senators might well decide they didn't want to be forcibly ejected from their life appointments at $10,000 a year. With support from 26 younger colleagues who would be guillotined within five years they could defeat a bill to amend the constitution in this particular. Mind you, it might take a few ambulances and wheel chairs to get them all into the chamber for the crucial vote, but they could do it.

The prime minister would then have an election issue — Senate obstructionism — for what it would be worth. But unless the Liberals voted solidly against the age limit it wouldn't likely be worth much.

A better bet is that the Senate would amend the bill to make it apply only to senators appointed henceforth, and not to those who are now members of the Upper House. This wouldn't do anything to further the PM's hopes of securing a majority in the Senate.

If the government proved obdurate, the senators might even propose that the 75 year retirement age apply equally to the House of Commons. Or — heaven forbid! — they could reason that inasmuch as the Commons is the junior chamber, its members should retire at 70. This would mean that Diefenbaker, now 66, wouldn't be able to be prime minister from his Commons seat in the centennial year, 1967, thus denying him his dearest wish. To remain PM, he'd have to appoint himself to the Senate!

While the Senate has a veto on its own reform, the veto is not utter and absolute. The Senate can block a bill to amend the constitution relevant to the Senate. It could block a joint address to the Queen — formerly the method of obtaining a constitutional amendment — which prays that she cause to be laid before her Parliament at Westminster a measure to amend the British North America Act in whatever respect our Parliament desires.

But it could not prevent the British Parliament from amending the BNA act, if it so chose, to give effect to a resolution passed by an overwhelming majority of the Canadian House of Commons. But would Diefenbaker go hat in hand to Westminster in a squabble with the Senate? He might look ridiculous, and that's dynamite to politicians.

International initialese new tongue

In the brachygraphic explosion continues at the present rate, our last hope is BIRPI (Bureaux internationaux reunis pour la protection de la propriété intellectuelle). BIRPI, alone of the 2,000-odd abbreviations listed in "International initialese," would seem able to do something to stop the world from being overrun by hungry EAROPHS, FIPPS, SMUSES, and WAPORS.

"International Initialese" has been published in Brussels by a body whose own title—Union des associations internationales — expresses the spirit of togetherness comprehensively enough, though it is run close by WAWF (World Association of World Federalists). The compilers of the index are not themselves in favour of brachygraphy. "Far from encouraging the multiplication of such abbreviations, mostly inelegant and meaningless in themselves, this publication will, we hope, help to limit abuse and encourage reproduction 'in clear' of encyphered title." Encypherment could certainly contribute largely to the sum of international misunderstanding. BIC for example, stands for four bodies: Bureau international de la chaussure et du cuir, Bahai International Community, Bureau international du cinema, and Bureau international des containers. And although it is undoubtedly true that it is easier to remember BIBOA than Federation internationale des associations de l'industrie, de l'artisanat et du commerce des diamants, perles, pierres precieuses, de bijouterie, orfeverie, joaillerie, horlogerie, it is less clear why IFCTU-SETMSTC is an improvement on International Federation of Christian Trade Unions of Salaried Employees, Technicians, Managerial Staff, and Commercial Travellers (who must anyway need all the Christianity they can muster not to split up into four equal quarters).

Many of the organisations abbreviated possess an evocative charm when printed in full: the International Falcon Movement, Organe de controle des stupefiants, and the Central Bureau for Astronomical Telegrams, which projects the interests of foreign correspondents who send overlong cables to their newspapers. But shamefully little imagination and humour is going into brachygraphy these days. True, the Women's International Zionist Organization comes out as WIZO, the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts as WAGGGS, and the International Permanent Bureau of Motor Manufacturers — I.P.B.A.M. — is onomatopoeically reminiscent of a bad smash.

But what can one expect when the International Federation of Shortland and Typewriting does not even have the gumption to style itself QWERTYUIOP? (Manchester Guardian)

Parliament at a glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

MONDAY, Feb. 5, 1962

The government bill to increase old age pensions by $10 monthly to $65—effective Feb. 1, 1962—was given first reading after approval of a preliminary resolution.

Health Minister Monteith said benefits under the government's proposed contributory pension plan will begin at age 65 with actuarially-reduced pensions available as early as age 62.

Paul Martin (L. — Essex East) described the $10 increase as "political trick" to make Canadians forget the government's "ineptness."

The Commons started debate on a government resolution to increase old age assistance for needy in the 65-69 age bracket from $55 monthly to $65—half to be borne by the provinces.

Transport Minister Balcer said Trans-Canada Air Lines has declined a request by Quebecair for exclusive rights on the Quebec-Sept-Isles route.

TUESDAY, Feb. 6

The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. to debate second reading—approval in principle—of the old age pensions bill. The Senate sits at 8 p.m.

Fairbanks - Morse joins with firm

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Fairbanks - Morse Co. Ltd. announced today Richardson Scale Co. of Clifton, N.J., has been joined with the Howe Scale Co. of Rutland, Vt., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Canadian Fairbanks - Morse. Details of the merger were not released.

The two companies will continue operations in the same locations as before as separate divisions of a single new company, Howe Richardson Corp.

Richardson produces process and handling equipment for recording devices, while Howe Scale produces mainly mechanical weighing equipment.

scheme benefits would be paid starting at 65, but it would be possible to obtain an actuarially-reduced pension at age 62. The minimum benefit would be "over and above" the non-contributory pension now in the process of being raised to $65.

CALLED INADEQUATE — Opposition leaders supported the $10 increase though they termed it inadequate.

Paul Martin, the former Liberal health minister, charged that the proposed $10 increase is a "political trick" to try to make Canadians forget the government's "ineptness and incompetence."

The member for Essex East talked glowingly of the Liberals' proposal for a contributory plan, which they say would provide a $75 pension in the first year without increasing taxes.

Said Mr. Martin: "More than any other scheme this one will have the effect of discouraging what I complained about last Tuesday, namely the obvious interest of certain political parties in competing with one another in this field, and particularly the temptation to display its great interest in the social welfare of our people on the eve of a general election."

Harold Winch (CCF — Vancouver East) expressed hope that the $10 increase will not go to elderly people's landlords.

In the past, landlords seemed to have regarded pension increases as strictly for them, so the pensioner often failed to get any advantage.

WILL AID PROVINCES — Mr. Monteith said the increase will cost about $113,400,000 a year. Total pension payments in 1962-63 would amount to $737,000,000.

Recommend hike

OTTAWA (CP) — A Federal conciliation board has recommended a three-cent hourly wage increase for about 350 checkers and cargo repairmen in the port of Montreal. The report, issued Monday, was signed by the board chairman, Judge Rene Lippe of Montreal, and Louis Laberge of Montreal, nominee of the International Longshoremen's Association, (Ind). Raymond Caron of Montreal, nominee of the Shipping Federation of Canada Incorporated, dissented.

Mr. Monteith noted that the government was seeking consent of the provinces to a constitutional amendment covering payments to widows, dependent children and disabled persons under its proposed contributory scheme.

J. W. Pickersgill (L. — Bonaville - Twillingate) said the government's move to get a constitutional amendment was a "cheap smoke screen" to cover up the fact there was to be no contributory pension legislation at this session of Parliament.

Mr. Pickersgill — in a speech that was constantly interrupted by jeers and catcalls from the government side of the house — accused Prime Minister Diefenbaker of breaking a "cast-iron promise" to institute a contributory plan in this Parliament.

NO WONDER — MANCHESTER (CP) — A 10-year-old dog, Bruce, fell sick and was taken to the veterinary. From his stomach the vet extracted a magnet, a metal badge, a buckle nail, and assorted pieces of coal, wood and leather.

Armand Gagne was elected to seat No. 6 over Wilfred Poulin who had 92 votes and Roger Boudreau secretary treasurer of the city was elected.

Over 75 per cent of voters turned out at polls in Scots town to elect Frederic Poisson to seat No. 4 over his opponent Normand Lapointe who had 87 votes, 44 less than Poisson.

Elizabeth's coronation, June 2, 1953, the world learned that two British explorers had conquered Mount Everest.

REALM DWINDLES

The rosy euphoria did not last. It finally evaporated with the Suez invasion of 1956, when the limitations of Britain's imperial authority were posed.

Today the realm over which Elizabeth's father reigned as emperor has dwindled into a commonwealth of assorted independent states. Yet the monarchy has never been healthier.

It has not only come to terms with the modern world — it has enhanced it. The Royal Family, commentators agree, has made contact with ordinary life with out degenerating into camaraderie.

This balance between pomp and modern circumstance is due to the hand of the Queen, whose dedicated personality wields an influence one would not have suspected from the rather passive figure who assumed the crown 10 years ago.

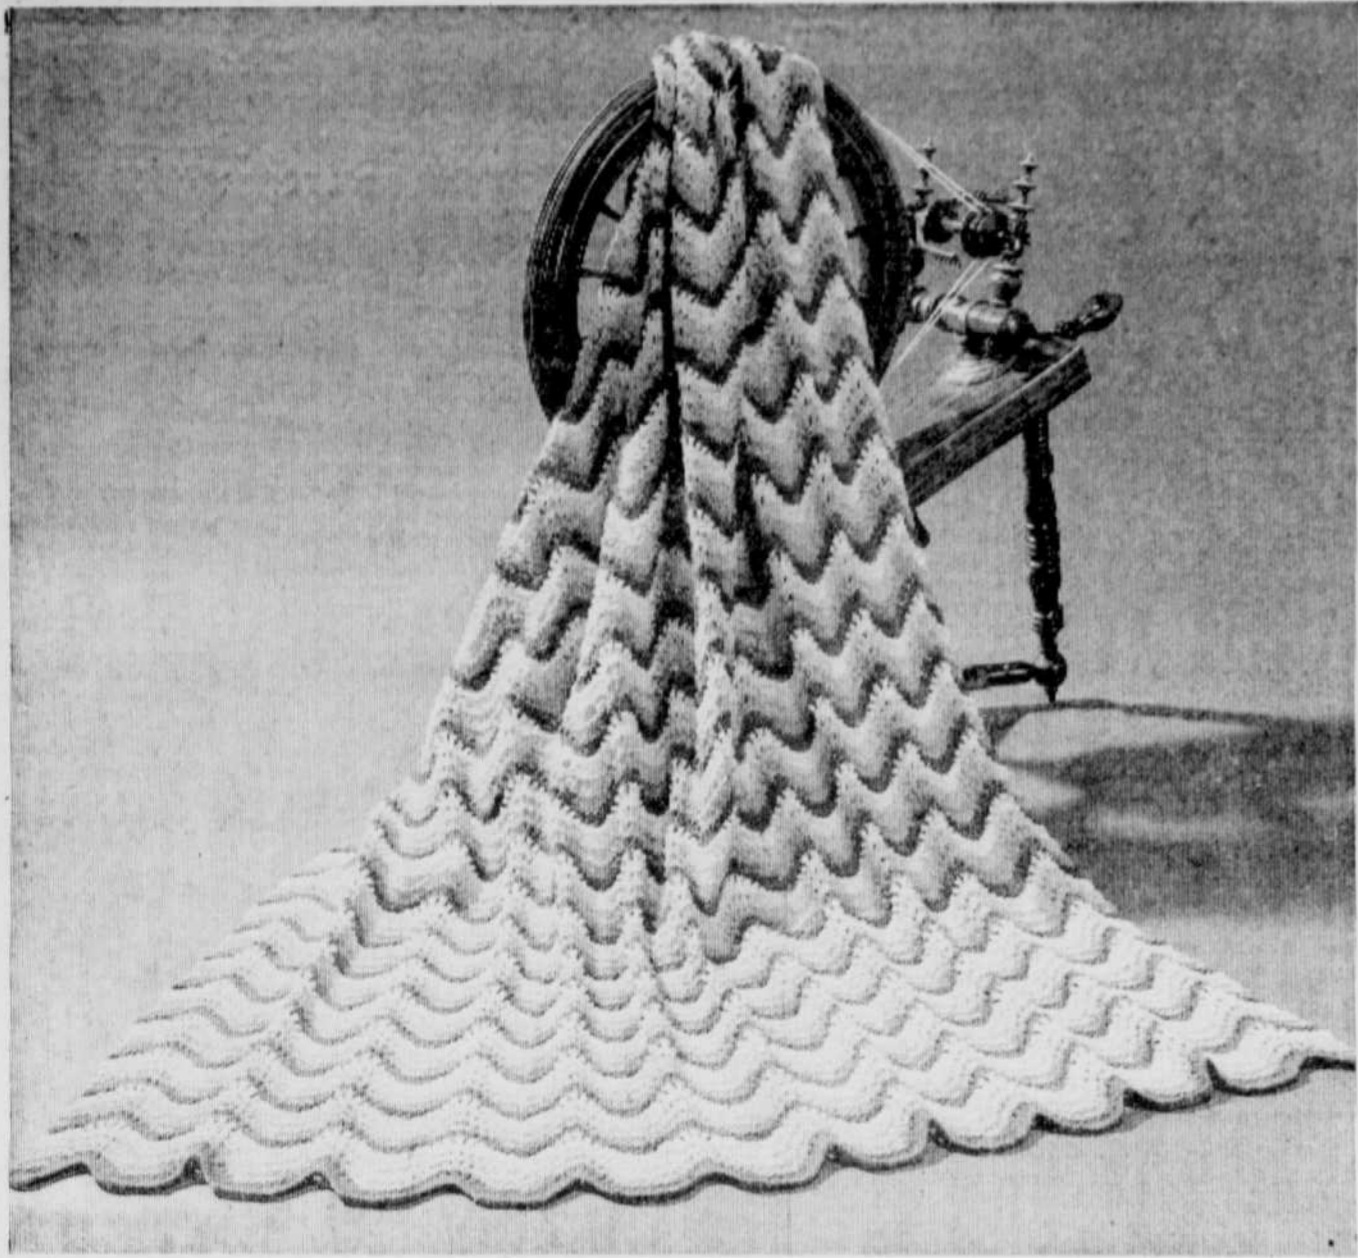

Her decisive quality emerged vividly at the time of her Ghana tour last November, when it was believed she insisted on doing whatever her ministers might advise, saying "if I have not courage, what am I?"

Mary Brooks Picken on sewing

Potholders are easy to make for church bazaars

MARY BROOKS PICKEN

If you are completely new at sewing, try making potholders for your first project. Buy 1/4-yard of a bright color fabric to go with your kitchen—usually a percale that is 36 inches wide. This will make two potholders.

Tear both crosswise edges. Cut selvage away each side—cut 1/4-inch from edge. Now tear the piece in half on length. You have two pieces, each approximately 9 inches x 18 inches. Fold one piece in center length-wise.

Stitch a scant 1/4-inch from the edge on one end and one side. A. Stitch the corners B and C, at B you learn how to pivot on the machine needle—that is, leave the needle in the fabric, lift presser foot and turn stitch in 1 1/2 inches, pivot again and turn. Clip each corner as shown at D.

Make the padding. Use an old dish towel, or old pillow case. Make three or four thicknesses of fabric. Draw a line through the top one and stitch diagonally from corner to corner as shown at E. This is to hold the thicknesses together.

Turn holder right side out, push out each corner so it is true.

Insert the stitched padding inside the right-side out potholder, pulling padding out to each corner. Turn the raw edges inside at the opening. Pin these. Stitch all the way around the holder, F. Pivot at each corner. Now, place a saucer in center of holder, and draw around it with pencil. If desired use a teacup for a second circle.

Stitch this and one holder is complete.

Make the second holder in the same way—perfecting all lines—and, presto! You will have learned straight, diagonal, and circle stitching; how to pivot, how to pad a useful potholder. Make these for gift for friends, using fabric that is right for the color of their kitchens.

Every holder you make will give you practice in stitching, turning corners, and handling fabrics. You'll discover relaxation in sewing and how easy it is to make beautiful things—yes, even apparel—for yourself and your home.

Dear Mrs. Picken: My right hip is larger than my left. It makes such a difference in the hemline. Please help me?—C. C.

Dear C. C.: Many women have a larger right hip than left, so your problem isn't unusual.

When laying the pattern on the fabric, fold a pleat 1/2 to 3/4-inch deep in the fabric 2 inches above the hip line. This will give you 1 inch to 1 1/2 inches extra length.

Taper pleat to nothing at the center front. Do this in both front and back at the side seam that comes on the right-hand side of your figure.

Cut the skirt or dress following the pattern lines and you will have the extra length needed on the right side of your garment.

This should give you an even hemline, because all the difference in length comes above the hip line.

Detail for potholders.

Trinity United Church

Successful year reported by all groups

A very successful and well attended meeting was held in Wesley hall, on Tuesday, January 30, showing that Trinity United church had a very busy and active year. The session opened with prayer by Rev. R. Graham Barr.

Guides', this group numbers 46. This group meets every Wednesday in the Church. A Gold Cord was presented to the Company Leader, Barbara Westgate. This is the highest award a Guide can earn.

Cooper. The two new members added were Mr. A. Hurdle and Mr. B. Jarvis.

Mr. G. Armitage presented the following names re-elected to the Board of Stewards, Mrs. A. Clark, Mr. F. Lothrop, Mr. J. G. Armitage, Mr. W. E.

Mrs. R. H. Gittel was appointed secretary and the General Statistics report and the Session Report was given by Mr. G. C. Hall. Special mention was made of the splendid work of Mr. Francis Doyle who recently retired as Clerk of Session, also to the splendid leadership given by K. L. Halpenny as superintendent of the Sunday School, and for the organization of the junior choir.

Mr. D. B. Hyndman gave the treasurer's report, while Mrs. B. Hyatt gave the report of the Senior Choir, for Mrs. R. Barton.

Mr. R. Hough gave a report on the Men's Bowling Club which meets every Tuesday evening. Mrs. D. Hyndman expressed thanks to Mr. Hough for all services rendered so willingly.

A report of the Woman's Association was read by Mrs. Hodge for Mrs. S. R. Falconer, the major project for the year being the tiling of Wesley hall. Mrs. A. Clarke gave the financial report for the W. A. and Mrs. J. Hazle reported for the flowers placed in the church. Merry Crawford gave a splendid report of the Explorer Group, with ten members this group meets after school on Wednesday afternoons. Mrs. G. C. Hall replaced Mrs. L. Humphries as leader.

A Re-affiliation service was held with the Missionary Society. Miss Joan Jennison gave her report for the 1st Sherbrooke Brownie Pack, with an enrolment of 50 girls this group meets in Trinity church every Tuesday.

The Fuller Mission Circle report was given by Miss Bessie Bryce. With a membership of 8 this group has had a very active and profitable year.

At the Mother and Daughter banquet, Gloria Daigneault received her achievement pin. Two electric clocks and cutlery were presented to The School for Retarded Children.

Mr. R. Hough gave a report on the Men's Bowling Club which meets every Tuesday evening. Mrs. D. Hyndman expressed thanks to Mr. Hough for all services rendered so willingly.

The report of the Church School was given by Mr. Leslie Humphries, and an 80 per cent attendance was noted.

So why should parents be asked to cater to them even further by encouraging them in silly food whims?

The Fuller Mission Circle report was given by Miss Bessie Bryce. With a membership of 8 this group has had a very active and profitable year.

The report of the Church School was given by Mr. Leslie Humphries, and an 80 per cent attendance was noted.

If bacon and eggs and toast and orange juice is the menu the rest of the family wants for breakfast—surely a teen-ager can sit down at the table and eat the same thing as his parents and his younger brothers and sisters.

The Fuller Mission Circle report was given by Miss Bessie Bryce. With a membership of 8 this group has had a very active and profitable year.

The report of the Church School was given by Mr. Leslie Humphries, and an 80 per cent attendance was noted.

The nutritionist's idea is that if you don't let teen-agers eat the kind of breakfasts they want they may not eat any breakfast at all.

But what's wrong with parents saying "Eat what is put before you" the way parents used to do, instead of saying meekly "If you want hot dogs for breakfast just say so. Or maybe today you would like spaghetti or a nice, big hamburger?"

Mr. C. E. Soles expressed appreciation to Rev. R. and Mrs. Barr for their many acts of kindness during the year.

Mr. D. A. Lavalliere presented the following names, to be re-elected to the board of Elders, Mr. R. Barton Carr, Seniors, Mr. C. B. Howard, Dr. E. A.

A teen-age diet of indulgence

A nutritionist with the Agriculture Department has advised parents to let their teen-agers eat whatever they want for breakfast. If they want spaghetti, give it to 'em, she says. If they want a hot dog or hamburger with their orange juice in the morning—then let 'em have the hot dog or the hamburger.

That may be fine from a nutritionist's point of view—but the mother of a large family may not take to the idea so kindly.

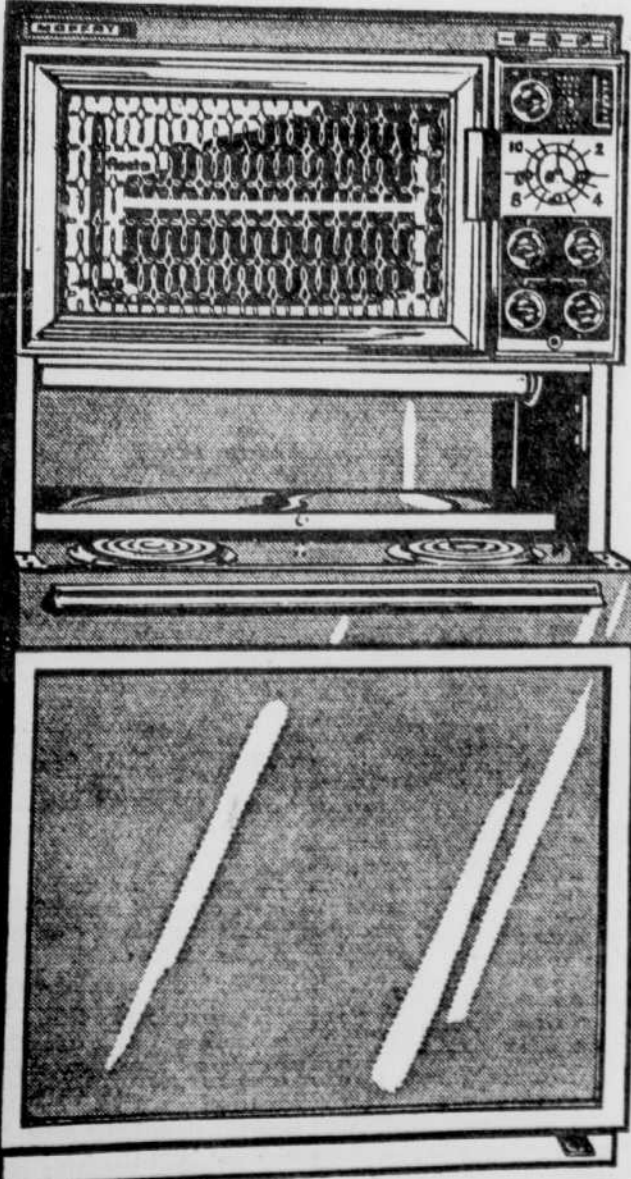

Getting one breakfast menu ready for a family is chore enough for most mothers—without having to cater to the whims of teen-agers.

Besides, teen-agers get catered to enough already. To keep them from having to share in the give and take of family living many teen-agers have their own telephones, their own cars, their own room for entertaining, their own record players and television sets.

First position at stake tonight in St. Francis League

Asbestos Miners clash with Windsor, Rock Island-Richmond postponed

Asbestos Miners and the Windsor Paper Makers meet tonight for undisputed possession of first place in the St. Francis Valley Intermediate Hockey League. The two teams will clash at the Asbestos Civic Centre at 8:30.

Tonight's other game scheduled for Richmond between the Braves and the Rock Island Jets has been postponed until Friday February 23.

Windsor Paper Makers, who are now riding on an unbeaten streak of six games, will be out to keep their winning ways intact tonight when they meet the Miners.

Fresh from a victory over the Richmond Braves Sunday afternoon which moved them into a tie for first place with the Miners, and with Red Dubois scoring goals with monotonous regularity, the Paper Makers will be the team to beat tonight. They will be playing minus three of their first-string players but this seemed to have no effect on them Sunday when they knocked over the Richmond Braves.

Jeff Mills paces St. Pat's to 3-2 win over Aramis with two goals, meet Optimist in finals Sunday

Jeff Mills paced St. Pat's to a 3-2 overtime win over the Aramis last night with a two-goal performance and the Leandre Bilodeau squad will now meet the Optimist in a two-out-of-three series for the championship of the Sherbrooke Juvenile Hockey League.

The tilt was closely contested the whole way and it required overtime before Manager Bert Lacasse's team eked out the decision. G. Menard opened the scoring in the initial frame and this stood until Mills got his first tally in the middle session. In the third frame Swinden came through to give St. Pat's a 2-1 lead but this didn't last too long as Beliveau batted home the tying marker a couple of minutes later. St. Pat's had a chance of moving out in front when the Aramis drew a penalty but they failed to click. In the overtime a break help-

Minor games are postponed

Two games were postponed Monday afternoon in interscholastic minor hockey due to the extremely wet conditions of the rinks in question.

The slated Peewee match between Sherbrooke and Lennoxville and the Bantam game between Lennoxville and St. Pat's were the two encounters affected. Both matches will be re-scheduled at a later date at the discretion of officials of the schools concerned.

New York — Tony Fortunato, 150, New York, and Gil Diaz, 147½, Puerto Rico, drew, 8.

Playing without the services of their top scorer, Rejean Leblanc, the Technical team of the Sherbrooke Junior League came from behind on two occasions last night to finally defeat Pat Murphy's Junior Beavers 4-2.

By virtue of the win Tech moved into a first place tie with the Beavers, who have led the league all year long. The two teams will meet next Monday night in a game that will decide the first place holder and have a definite effect on the league championship. Both Tech and Beavers have two games left to play before play-off time.

Gaetan Bernier played a primary role in the Tech victory last night as he scored three of his team's four goals. The other marksman for Tech was Roland Dubreuil. Andre Boisvert and Rod Pelletier scored the Beaver goals.

The Beavers took a 1-0 lead in the first period when Andre Boisvert found the range. The slim lead stood until the six-minute mark of the middle period when Bernier scored the first of his three goals. Pat Murphy's team moved out in front once again when, at the two-minute mark of the final stanza, Pelletier scored unassisted.

G. Bernier evened the count two minutes later, scoring with the help of Brien and Gilbert. Dubreuil put Tech ahead for the first time in the game at the 12 minute mark and Bernier added the insurance marker just before the period ended.

The win might have proved costly to the Technical team as Gilbert, one of their best scorers, was taken to the hospital with what is believed to be a dislocated shoulder.

In the other tilt played at the W. B. Scott rink at Bishop's the Gaiters ran roughshod over St. Francis to the tune of 12-1. Gordie Ewart, the team's best scorer, had a grand evening when he tallied six goals in the one-sided tilt. Payne came up with a hat-trick while Thomas, Johnson and Murray accounted for the others. Luc Charland got the lone tally for the Saints.

Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita are staging battle for NHL scoring honors, Howe gains on Bathgate

MONTREAL (CP)—A couple of young Chicago hot shots appear ready to put in a charge for the National Hockey League individual scoring crown.

Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita, both key men in the Black Hawks' forward march of recent weeks, are still 10 points off the pace set by Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers and seven behind runner-up Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings.

But they've been gaining ground steadily. Hull, a 23-year-old left winger who became the second youngest player in league history to win the scoring title in 1959-60, came up with eight points—five of them goals—last week. Mikita, only 21, had three goals and three assists.

The pair now is tied for third place at 53 points, official league statistics released today show. Bathgate, the leader since almost the beginning of the season, lost another point to Howe last week.

Bathgate scored one goal and assisted on three for 63 points while Howe scored once and drew four assists for 60.

Hull took over from Montreal's Claude Provost as the league's top goal-getter with 30, while Bathgate's 44 assists still are tops.

Goalie Jacques Plante of Montreal still holds a commanding lead over Toronto's Johnny Bower in the race for the Vezina Trophy, awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the fewest goals.

Plante lowered his goals against average four decimal points to 2.28 while Bower's mark went up to 2.54 from 2.53 a week ago.

Chicago continues to be the most penalized club, having been tagged with 608 minutes in penalties. Montreal defence-man Lou Fontinato is the most penalized player with 141 minutes.

Jets tangle with U of S in exhibition

Rock Island Jets and the green and gold of the University of Sherbrooke will play an exhibition hockey game at the Border Arena tonight at 8:30.

The game is the first of two the teams will be playing. The other will be played Friday night at the Sherbrooke Arena.

Both coaches, Connie L'Heureux of the Jets and Claude Richer of the University, are confident of victories.

The Jets have their confidence on a 4-3 exhibition victory over the Sherbrooke Beavers and the fact that they play in the St. Francis Valley Intermediate League which has stiff competition.

The University team, on the other hand, has defeated the Junior Meteors from Asbestos, a team from Lake Megantic and the University of Montreal.

East Hatley Jrs. win moves him into fourth spot blank Waterville

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Steel-nerved Arnold Palmer crashed professional golf's list of top money winners with his victory in the Palm Springs Golf Classic during the weekend.

The $5,300 first-prize money vaulted Palmer into fourth place among the top 10 with a total of $7,125. Palmer was runner-up to last year's top money-winner, Gary Player.

Gene Littler held a solid lead in the list released Monday by United States Professional Golfers Association. Littler, who tied for second in the Palm Springs Classic, won $2,800 to give him a total of $14,050.

One Canadian is in the top 10, George Knudson of Toronto. He failed to make the final cutoff and was out of the money in the Palm Springs tournament.

Tournament to go on as scheduled, says President Bob LeBel, CAHA protests to Canadian Government

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—World hockey officials say the final official schedule of events for the world tournament here will be released by the first of next week.

"The tournament will go as scheduled," said Robert LeBel of Montreal, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, and Thayer Tutt of Colorado Springs, chairman of the organizing committee.

LeBel said Monday he would like the East German team to compete "but if they can't, we will go along with the tournament as planned."

The tournament is set for Colorado Springs and Denver March 7-18. The East German team has been denied a travel permit from the allied travel agency in West Berlin.

"We have read many stories where the Czechoslovaks and Russians are changing a change of site," said LeBel and Tutt. "This is an impossibility, not only because it takes at least a year to organize an event like this, but also because there is no real reason to make the switch."

"We have written commitments from all the countries in doubt. We expect them to meet these commitments."

SEES LITTLE CHANGE
LeBel said he anticipates little change in the schedule and not too much opposition from Communist countries.

Nineteen teams will compete if the East Germans obtain travel permits.

Meanwhile, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association asked the Canadian government to protest officially the refusal to grant travel permits for the East Germans.

Jack Roxburgh of Simcoe, Ont., CAHA president, in a telegram to Prime Minister Diefenbaker, requested the government to "take a lead in this vital matter."

The ban is part of the counter-action taken by NATO countries for the erection by East Germany of the wall separating West and East Berlin.

Roxburgh said in Simcoe the ban "could ruin all international sports for years and years."

The CAHA also appealed to the IIHF to take "all possible steps" to ensure full representations at the tournament.

Sir George belts Macdonald 13-5 in hockey fixture

MONTREAL (CP)—Sir George Williams University Maroons, paced by the four-goal performance of Davey Dies and Mike O'Brien, whipped Macdonald College Aggies 13-5 in an Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference hockey game Monday night.

The victory puts Sir George in a second place tie with Carleton University of Ottawa, five points behind the unbeaten University of Ottawa Gee-Gees.

Other goal scorers for the Maroons were Keith Conklin with three and Jay Shink and Bob Moore with one each.
