RCMP Band free concert in Shawville

One of Canada's foremost bands will be in Shawville Wednesday, May 5th, to put on two free concerts for the people of this area. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police Band, by permission of the Commissioner, will play in the afternoon for school students and in the evening for the general public.

This band's director has been donating his services to the Shawville Community Band each week as their bandmaster and another member of the RCMP band is also giving his time and talent free to the group in their training.

The concert on May 5th is intended to give the people of this community an opportunity to hear a first class band at absolutely no cost. The Shawville Band, a non-profit organization, is sponsoring the concert and would like this excellent professional band to have a big audience to hear and see their exciting performance. Chances are the High School Auditorium will be overflowing so plans might well be made to arrive early. The times of the concerts will be announced next week in The Equity. Meanwhile, reserve the date for the whole family.

Holstein Club barn meeting

A very successful meeting, under the auspices of the Western Quebec Holstein Club was held at the spacious newly renovated barn of Robinson Hodgins Wednesday, April 14th.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mr. Keith Brownlee who spoke a few words of appreciation to Mr. Hodgins for giving his time and place, he also introduced Mr. Pierre Leonard, the District Fieldman and asked Robinson to take over, which he very appropriately did by giving a very warm welcome to all who had come and gave a fine outline as to his plans of Breeding and feeding his outstanding herd of Holsteins. He has been using the services of the Eastern Breeders A.I. unit for a goodly number of years, As he went along the line of milk cows and told the name of the sire of each one it gave those present an opportunity to see the results of using good sires.

Mr. Leonard then took over and gave an interesting talk on the classification of a herd.

A classification score card was then given to everyone as a contest to classify five cows

The results of contest showed Arthur and Walter Kilgour tied for first place with a score of 46 out of 50. To decide the to Arthur Kilgour and second donated by H. I. Hobbs & Sons to Walter Kilgour. 3rd place went to Hillis Connolly donated by Leonard Horner. A halter making contest was won by Walter Kilgour and John Grant. These prizes were donated by Dr. R. M. Armitage.

Two door prizes of free beeding services by Eastern Breeders donated by our faithful Technician Norris Smiley were won by Hugh Tracy and Dalton Hodgins.

As time was getting on the meeting was brought to a close and everyone left feeling it was a very pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Near miss at level crossing

The last thing in the world you would expect to happen

Mrs. Doug Thomas, Shawville, escaped with only bruises when she was involved in a bizarre accident last Thursday evening near Pembroke.

She was driving west on Highway 17 when she stopped for flashing lights at a Canadian Pacific Crossing, 7 miles east of Pembroke. A main line freight was approaching the highway from the north.

Seconds before the train was at the crossing, she was hit from behind by a car, driven by Frits Newland, 40, of Richmond.

The Thomas car was bunted right across the tracks, and the Newland car stopped at the east side of the track. The freight train passed between the 2 wrecked cars.

Mrs. Thomas' car had been knocked 58 feet by the impact of the other car. Both cars were badly damaged.

IN GOOD HANDS

Walter Kilgour, chairman of the Protestant School Zone Committee, has informed The Equity that though technically, Pontiac School Boards are not at this date members of the Ottawa Valley Regional School Board, the wheels are turning towards membership. An Act in the Provincial Parliament to effect this has been awaiting the required thirty day posting of intention on the part of the Pontiac Boards. This thirty day period is up in most cases and the resolutions are being recorded.

Assurance from the Department of Education has also been received by Walter that facilities FOR Pontiac will be built IN Pontiac. Other members of the Zone Committee, appointed by the Interim Steering Committee, are secretary Stan Widdicombe of Shawville, Home and School President Mrs. Donald Dods of Shawville, teachers Mrs. Robina Richardson of Radford and Mrs. Pheobe McCord of Charteris, industry representatives Clyde Keith of Shawville and Lorne Routliffe of Fort Coulonge, Dr. S. E. McDowell and Dr. Roland Armitage of Shawville, Dr. Haddon Rabb of Fort Coulonge, Sidney Sheppard of Ladysmith, Ernie Lunam of Campbell's Bay and Cliff Robinson of Waltham.

The Interim Steering Committee is composed of Dr. Wallace Hodgins, of Shawville, Basil Quaile of Otter Lake and Lloyd Neville of Fort Coulonge. Pontiac Representatives to the Regional Planning Committee are High School Principal Malek Hanna, of Shawville, Board Chairmen Walter Kilgour and Ron MacKechnie of Shawville and Quyon and Jack Russell who is secretary of the Central School Board.

As all these people are involved with Pontiac's positon in the Regional School Board, and all these people have proven their dedication to this County and the future of education here, we can thank our lucky stars that we are so well represented.

Pontiac County is on the right road, schoolwise, and above listed are the ones who will keep her there.

FAIR GROUNDS

There is, in this issue of The Equity, an announcement that the Pontiac Agricultural Society Division A, usually referred to as the Shawville Fair Board, will hold a meeting on Tuesday to tote up their pledges to date. Members of the Board are reticent to discuss the outcome if it should be found that they are short of the necessary amount to pay off the mortgage on the fair grounds and buildings.

It is everyone's hope that they will make it, but if they don't it would seem wise of the ratepayers to consider asking Council to take the property over as a municipal recreation park.

Other possibilities present themselves. If the property goes to the mortgage company it might be used as a housing subdivision, as a shopping centre or stock barn. Whether or not whatever goes there is in the interests of Shawville depends on who handles it. If the Fair Board can hang on, that would be best but it not it would be well worth considering municipally.

AYLMER COUNCIL

At Aylmer Council on April 5th Ald. J. E. Whelan presented a notice of motion for a finance bylaw to be brought down at an early meeting.

Mr. O'Donnell announced that new provisions of the Quebec Towns and Cities Act would permit the town to set up a revolving capital account, repayable over a five-year period, on the amount spent from that fund. The new type of fund would allow the build-up of a reserve of working capital to ensure against tax arrears not collected as expected or the purchase of new or replacement capital equipment.

400-watt mercury lights are to be installed along a 4,000 ft stretch of Highway 8 from the Aylmer Hotel to Tiberius Street. The town will assume costs of maintenance and electricity.

Steps now under way by the Quebec Civil Defence organization will link Aylmer by closed-circuit radio with other police forces in the region. Council accepted the matter in principle. Cost to the town is expected to be about 2½ cents per resident or about $175 per year. Council is studying the idea of leasing vehicles for police work, instead of the present method of purchase. Costs of repairs would be borne by the owners—and a car would always be available.

The town solicitor is drafting a revised municipal bylaw governing traffic offences which would provide for a maximum fine of $100 instead of the present $40 for repeated offenses. The Mayor assured those present that he was grateful for the interest shown by taxpayers who attended a recent meeting in Aylmer, concerned with traffic safety, and that all possible steps were being taken to meet the needs of the situation. Foot patrols on Aylmer's principal streets have been instituted and will be continued.

Mayor O'Donnell paid tribute to the work done by two of the towns office employees, Acting Secretary-treasurer Reg Gagne and Gilles Whelan, in carrying on the difficult work of operating the office and preparing the new tax bills while shorthanded pending selection of a new secretary-treasurer. Council went on record as being satisfied with their work, but pointed out that implementation of further plans, including the projected sewage disposal plant, waterworks extension, etc. required the full-time attention of an experienced municipal accountant as well. Mayor ODonnell was hopeful that an appointment could be made soon to the post of Secretary-Treasurer.

Council approved re-hiring the firm of Paul Mantha Associates for the triennial reassessment of the town at a cost of $6,000. New salary scales were approved for officers of the Fire Department. Grants of $25 to the Hull Music Festival and $50 to the Student Council of the Aylmer Protestant High School as a gesture of thanks for the fine publicity brought to the town by the basketball team of that institution, and as a contribution to their expenses during the year. A resolution of congratulations to the team is to be forwarded. Routine property transfers were also approved.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Quyon kindness

The Editor,
The Equity,
Shawville, Quebec.
Dear Sir:

You are to be complimented on your article in the recent Equity in reply to the unfortunate report in one of the Ottawa papers of conditions experienced by recent fire victims at Quyon.

When I first learned that a Disaster Committee would be formed in the village I gave my wholehearted support to it, and was delighted to think that a small town like Quyon would set the example in humanitarianism.

I have made my home at one time or another in six of the ten Canadian Provinces, and most of my life has been spent in rural communities. In no other town where I have lived has there been a Disaster Committee as well organized as ours. Western people are considered very friendly people. For some reason this is a reputation the west has always had, but being a westerner by birth and having lived there most of my life I can honestly report that there is not a western community more friendly than the eastern community of Quyon, Quebec. Experience of a very short duration leads me to believe that this is true of Pontiac County and the Ottawa Valley.

I came with my family as a complete stranger and within one week it seemed that we had lived here all our lives.

I have also lived in a big city and I know that usually you do not know your next door neighbor. There is a family feeling of friendliness at Quyon and we never take into consideration religious or other differences. Protestants and Roman Catholics work together in a spirit of brotherliness and good will.

I like Quyon and its people and highly resent unfair criticism of the place. We know we have faults but we also know that the Bible says: "Why beholdest thou the mote in thy brothers eye, and considerest not the beam in thine own eye?"

Sincerely yours,
Rev. M. A. Swaren

Being over 65 is no barrier to the purchase of new life insurance. And for many people in their sixties or seventies it can be a very wise "buy."

Here's an example. A man age 75 has a substantial number of investments. At death, estate taxes will have to be paid. To raise the cash, income-producing assets have to be sold, often with severe losses to the beneficiaries. Life insurance can prevent this loss by providing the necessary cash.

Manufacturers Life has a sound reputation for its liberal approach to insuring older people for the purpose of estate conservation or for guaranteeing the continuity of a business. Our representatives are qualified to provide competent counsel to help our senior citizens meet these special needs.

Country Notes

By Walker Riley,
Macdonald College, Agricultural Extension

It was a beautiful day we chose to make our spring pilgrimage to the ancestral farm. There was no snow left around Montreal, but as we drove west up through the Ottawa Valley and through the height of land that is Algonuin Park, we felt that we were moving backward into winter.

But the snow, two feet deep in places was disappearing quickly in the strong April sun. Farm buildings were islands in flooded fields; in many places, water was across the highway.

In the towns on the way, every roadside torrent seemed to have its youthful pilot, guiding the ships of bark or orange peel safely through the hazards. And there were an unusual number of shovels in use, but mostly to serve as props or ease the conscience of the middle generation. But the senior generation, with no twinge of conscience, were sitting happily on their door steps soaking up the sun.

In the Park, several deer were out at the roadside, obviously anticipating the tourist season. We distinctly heard them call "Cheapskate" when we failed to stop with the expected apple.

We found our old farm had wintered well. True, there were a few broken windows in the stable, the gutter was full of ice and at the house, the clothesline was broken, but nothing serious. The pump wouldn't work this time, and after a day carrying water from the creek, I am convinced our pioneer ancestors washed in thimbles and bathed in saucers.

But it was good to stand on the old familiar "stoop' at dusk to hear the muskrats plopping off the ice into the rushing waters of the creek, to hear the falls roaring in the distance, and to listen for the first frog of the season and to smell the swampy air of spring.

As we drove up through the good farm land of the Ottawa Valley, we had seen daylight through the cracks of a good many haybarns. If anyone had hay to spare, it had been sold. Every bale left now will be rationed until the cows go out to pasture next month .

If it's another short hay crop again this summer, we will be in trouble. There is simply no reserve anywhere in the country. And it is said, to be comfortable, there should be half a year's extra feed in the barn in the fall.

Here are four or five forage insurance ideas to help you get the most out of the coming season; as well, all these suggestions should give quick returns for any extra investment.

You can crack the fertilizer to the hayfields as soon as you can get on them. You can seed down directly without a nurse crop and look for two tons hay the first year. You can plan a pasture program to make an acre go twice as far. You can cut hay earlier when it is worth most, with extra aftermath thrown in for a bonus. And you can cut the oats green for hay or silage; they are worth more that way, anyway. Or, instead of seeding last year's cornfield down, you grow corn on it for another year; it won't hurt the land a bit if you are careful.

There is no better place to put the winter's manure pile than in the hay fields, unless it is the corn land. And if it has been re-enforced with superphosphate, so much the better. Spread it thin to cover as many acres as possible.

Last year's new seeding will profit from a top dressing of phosphorous and potash, if it didn't get it last fall, perhaps 200-400 lbs 0-20-20. Or, if it is an older stand with the legumes thinning out, include nitrogen with it. Fifty lbs—that's 150 lbs ammonium nitrate or 100 lbs urea—can be very effective. Of course, all this should be done with a soil test, but it's almost too late for that now.

The new herbicides have made the so-called nurse crop obsolete. New seedings of grasses and legumes establish much more quickkly when not shadowed by a cereal crop. The idea that they need shade is not valid. Hay yields well over two tons per acre have been reported in the year of seeding.

But weed competition must be controlled. The chemical 2,4-DB (e.g. Embutox) does a good job. Spray 16-20 oz in 15-20 gallons water per acre when the young alfalfa or trefoil has two or three true leaves.

Any form of rotational grazing will stretch the pastures and pay well for time spent moving electric fences and chasing cows. The ultimate is zero grazing if you have the patience to hitch up the equipment once or twice a day. There are indications now that we will move right through this system into stored feeding the year round as the means to get the most out of our acres.

At "Corn Day" Murray Templeton told us how he fed 35 cows green-chopped corn from 25 acres during last summer's dry spell, and still had enough to fill his silo for the winter. A few extra acres of corn is always prime insurance; it can be fed green, ensiled, or cobbed for the crib.

Before the student-teachers left for their Easter vacation, the Glee Club of St. Marys Teachers' College, Chapeau, presented a Springtime Musicale. Variety was provided in the form of a piano solo by Judy Allen of Chalk River, Ontario, a tap dance by Rosemary Nadeau of Chapeau, and a light comedy number by Madeleine Keon of Chapeau. Margaret Fink of Temiscaming and Stanley Keon of Calumet Island entertained the audience with one of Belafonte's folk songs, to the guitar-accompaniment of Edward Belanger of Campbell's Bay. A group of B 2 students performed the Irish Lilt, and the entire B 2 class presented in Choral Speaking, Pauline Johnson's poem "The Song my Paddle Sings", to the accompaniment of Liszt's Leibestraum No. 3.

Beechgrove United Church dedicates new memorial organ

The members and friends of Wesley United Church, Beech Grove on Easter evening gathered for the Dedication of the organ which was installed recently.

The Minister, the Rev. Milton Swaron, presided and offered the prayer with the blessing that the new instrument might be used to the glory of God in His worship. The congregation had placed the organ in the church as a Memorial to those of the area who paid the complete sacrifice in two world conflicts and to other former members.

The intention of the service was struck with the opening hymn, "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty, the King of Creation;" a German paraphrase of Psalms 103 and 150.

An augmented choir under the direction of Mrs. Robert Overton, who presided at the organ, sang several anthems. Two selections were rendered by the visiting soloist, Mr. Wilmer Hodgins of Bristol.

The Rev. R. S. Smith, Pastor Emeritus, addressed the congregation on the importance of music; particularly the hymns, in Christian worship. Out of long experience he spoke of the development of its assistance in adoration, praise and prayer.

In a message from the Rev. Garfield Bruce of Aylmer East, Mr. Swaron delivered the best wishes of the Ottawa Presbytry of the United Church of Canada.

It was announced also that Mr. Lorne Draper had been appointed Treasurer of the Organ Fund.

Following the Service those present adjourned to the Church Hall and enjoyed a social hour at which the ladies of the congregation were hostesses.

"BUY WITH CONFIDENCE - BUY AT REIDS"

Pastoral comment...

by Wm. C. Inglis

We live in an age that is increasingly self sufficient. The accomplishments of modern man command our wonder and respect. But let it be added that mankind as a whole has not advanced morally. He is like an intellectual "giant" but is only a moral "pigmy". It was the prophet Jeremiah who declared: "O, Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man to direct his steps: (Jeremiah 10: 23) One's self sufficiency can lead to disaster. A young doctor was determined to climb Mount Blanc which he accomplished with the aid of a capable Alpine guide. The village far down in the valley saw the flag hoisted on the mountainside to signal his achievement. The people responded by illuminating the entire village with many and varied lights.

As the young doctor descended part of the mocntainside he desired that the Guide should release him from the safety rope and allow him to descend the rest of the way down by himself. The Guide remonstrated with the doctor, telling him it was not safe, but he replied that he was tired of the safety rope, and declared that he would go free. The Guide was compelled to yield. The young man had gone only a short distance when his foot slipped on the ice and he could not stop himself from sliding down the icy steeps. The safety rope was gone, so the Guide could not help him nor pull him back. Out on the shelving ice lay the body of the young doctor.

The village had been illumined in honour of his success; but alas, in a fatal moment he refused to be guided; he was tired of the rope. Most of us at some time have got tired of the "Rope" and sought our own way often to our cost. God's providence holds us and restrains us and often we fain would throw off this seeming limitations toward us. But we need a "Guide" Our Lord Jesus, and shall always until the dangerous paths are over. Never get disengaged from your Heavenly Guide. Let your prayer be "I need Thy presence every passing hour . . . lead Thou me on."

Miscellaneous Shower for Sandra Draper

Mrs. Barry Murray was hostess at a miscellaneous shower for Sandra Draper, a bride-elect of this month, at her home recently.

Mrs. Murray pinned a corsage on Sandra. Mrs. Clayton Hodgins and Mrs. Murray presented Sandra with her gifts, after which Sandra graciously thanked all present.

A social hour was enjoyed by all present, and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hazel Horner.

IN MEMORIAM

HOBBS—In loving memory of a dear father, Herbert Hobbs, jr., who passed away April 21, 1962.

Not just today I think of you,
But every day the whole year through.

Son, Dalton x

HOBBS—In loving memory of my dear son Herbert C. Hobbs, 3 years have passed since that sad day, April 21, 1962.

O happy days we once enjoyed
How sweet their memory still;
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
Please God just take a message
To him in heaven above,
Tell him how I miss him
And give him all my love.
My eyes shed unseen tears
God only knows
How much I miss you,
At the end of three long years.
Surrounded by friends I'm lonesome
In the midst of my joy I am blue,
With a smile on my face I have a heartache
Longing dear son for you.
As I gaze on your picture
That is on the stand,
I pick it up and kiss it
And say "If those lips were only warm."
My own darling son I miss you so.

Sadly missed by Mother. x

KRUTZ—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Fred Krutz of Otter Lake, Quebec, who passed away five years ago, April 27, 1960

When evening shades are falling,
And we sit in quiet alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing
If he only could come home.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile
But they little know the heartache
Our smiles hide all the while.

Lovingly remembered by Wife, Augusta and family x

FROST—In loving memory of a husband, father and grandfather, Frank Frost, who passed away suddenly April 28, 1963.

May his soul rest in peace.

Wife and family. x
