THE LADIES!
A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is afflicting Canadian Women.
How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.
A great London
Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Cerebral Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 60 St. Hyppolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.
Annie Courley, of River Beaudette,
P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.
Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.
Paine's Cerebral Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand,

TOUCHING THE RAW

Parnellites Apply For Pecuniary Compensation.

WM. O'BRIEN'S COMPLIMENTARY SMILE.

Liberals Jubilant Over Their Prospects in St. Pancras.

TOUCHING JOHN BULL'S POCKET.

Parnellite Claim for Compensation.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The cabinet again met to-day to discuss the report of the Parnell Commission, and the matter of allowing the Parnellites a sufficient sum to pay their expenses in defending their case before that body. The Parnellites base their claim for expenses upon the statement of Mr. W. H. Smith, that they would be entitled to reimbursement should they succeed in clearing themselves of the charges brought against them. If they have not done this absolutely, they have certainly shown themselves innocent of the accusations upon which their enemies chiefly relied in the prosecution of the case, while the Government (through the Times) has utterly failed to prove anything more heinous than an excess of patriotic zeal in the few minor charges which are sustained. In these circumstances the Parnellites intend to hold Mr. Smith to his promise.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Bones and Banjo of the Ulster Minstrels.
LONDON, Feb. 17.—Mr. William O'Brien resumed the debate on the address. He declared that the National party had waxed stronger under the coercion policy of the Government. The boycott still prevailed, he said, and the Nationalists had triumphed even in districts where the Ulster minstrels, with Mr. Thomas Russell as "bones" and Major Sanderson as "banjo," were accustomed to perform. Mr. T. W. Russell attacked the Parnellites, characterizing them as bespatterers of praise upon the Gladstonians, whom the Irish had formerly covered with denunciation. He admitted that the press clause of the Crimes Act was an unwise measure, but in other respects he declared the coercion law had greatly assisted to restore and maintain order.

A SEAT FOR THE GLADSTONIANS.

St. Pancras Tories Despondent.
LONDON, Feb. 17.—The parliamentary election in the North Division of St. Pancras, to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation to the peerage of the sitting Conservative member, Mr. Charles W. Cochrane-Baillie, who succeeds his father, the late Lord Lamington, in the House of Lords, is looked forward to with interest. The division to be contested is really the key to the London electoral situation. The Tory majority at the last election was something less than three hundred, and that, too, at a time when the accusations made by the Times against the Parnellites and their Liberal allies, together with allegations of similar import and gravity, were prevalent. It is now believed by the Liberals and feared by the Tories that the revulsion of popular feeling resultant from the complete failure of the special commission to find any warrant for the principal charges, will throw the seat to the Gladstonians, an event which would indicate almost positively a changed state of feeling in the adjacent Conservative strongholds.

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—Herr Goerke, a prominent socialist leader, of Berlin, was arrested to-day for forgery. It is charged that he has forged the name of his father-in-law to paper upon which he realized large sums, the proceeds being expended in the advancement of the socialist cause.

CANADA'S WINTER PORT.

Generous Bequests—Ferry Steamer Destroyed By Fire.
HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 17.—The will of the late John P. Mott was filed in the probate court to-day. The estate is valued at $700,000. He leaves handsome bequests to his widow and all his relatives, workmen and servants. He also bequeaths $5,000 in trust for his wife and $75,000 absolutely for himself; the Home for the Aged, $5,000; Protestant Orphan-

THE CHAMPION WHISTLER.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Shaw, the whistler, is vastly amused at the persistent coupling of her name with various noblemen. She denies emphatically that she was engaged to the Duke Di Sommar, who, she says, never paid her any attention beyond that of a gentleman to a lady. Mrs. Shaw adds, that if she wanted to be a duchess she should try for an English duke, not a mere Papal princelet. "Yes," she laughed, "I could have married a lord sure enough, but I found he had nothing belonging to him, but the clothes he stood up in, of which the seams were shiny, and a tarnished coronet, which I had neither the money nor the inclination to regild. Besides, I do not think it would befit the dignity of a peeress to go about whistling for a living." Striking up a bar or two of Yankee Doodle, the fair sibilant added: "If I ever should marry again I think I should prefer an American." But still if a good looking earl or marquis, with a clear title to his estate were to "pop," you would not refuse?" "Well, I do not know. It is pleasant to be called 'my lady,' and I might be weak enough to yield."

"DOES WHISTLING PAY PRETTY WELL?"
"You bet; I'm just full of engagements, and my whole season is taken up with drawing-room concerts. Besides, I shall have a benefit in March under the patronage of the Prince of Wales."

DEATH OF AN EMINENT IRISHMAN.
Sir Robert Kane, F.R.S., an eminent Irishman, is dead. He was the father of Captain Kane, R.N., of the British gun-boat Calliope, which was the only vessel saved in the hurricane at Samoa last March.

AN OPERATIC FAILURE.

The revival of the well known opera, the "Chimes of Normandy," by the Carl Rosa Company, was an utter failure. All the artists were landed at except Shiel Barry, as the old miser, which part he has made his own.

The agent of Agnes Huntington has retained Sir Charles Russell in that actress' action against Augustus Harris for breach of contract.

U. S. MEDIATOR WANTED.
Senator Prietas, the new Portuguese Ambassador to England, has made an appointment to call on Mr. Lincoln, the American Minister, this week for the purpose of holding an important conference with them on African affairs. It is thought that he seeks Mr. Lincoln's mediation in appeasing the excitement in Portugal, which menaces English officials and American missionaries alike in the Dark Continent.

GERMAN PROSPECTS IN AFRICA.
The Germans, actuated by jealousy of Stanley, intend to open a subscription to enable Emin Pasha to return to Uganda as agent for a great German company in opposition to English interests. Emin is ambitious of regal power in equatorial Africa, and has been promised unlimited funds to carry out this undertaking.

SIR ARTHUR SULLIVAN INTERVIEWED.
Sir Arthur Sullivan returned from Nice on Sunday much improved in health and spirits by his vacation. He was seen to-night, and said: "The absurd rumor in the American newspapers that Gilbert and I have quarrelled and agreed to work apart hereafter is false and absolutely baseless. We are on the most cordial terms; in fact, never in our long experience as partners has more complete harmony existed between us, for in the production of the Gondoliers less trouble has arisen than in any of our previous efforts. Gilbert writes me regularly from India. I cannot comprehend why the papers have fabricated this story any more than I can understand why the American press has so persistently ill-treated us."

"In what way?"
"It has treated us atrociously and scurrilously. The papers might have withheld their bitter comments until the new artists arrived, but it was just so who Gilbert and I were in the country. Neither of us could go on the street with a lady but we were treated to

IMPUDENT COMMENTS AND MALICIOUS PERSONALITIES
by the papers. The only place where the press treated us civilly was in California. Gilbert and I have sold our rights in the American production to D'Oyley Carte for a fixed sum, and we participate only after the receipts attain a certain figure, and now this newspaper onslaught will deprive us of that."

"What of the inferior production of the Gondoliers in New York?"
"I only regret what Mr. Carte said to your reporter a few weeks ago. The company was not sufficiently rehearsed. Mr. Palmer has no right to complain. I called to him that the company required a week's rehearsal in America before its public appearance, and if he was unwise enough to attempt it without that preparation, I am disappointed in the failure although I am not at all surprised. At this season there is such a demand for talent we could not do better."

"I hope the production to be given to-night in New York will be successful, and the press opinions will be changed, particularly those of the American musical papers, as they profess to voice the sentiments of the profession. Yet they have constantly abused me. We shall start on a new opera as soon as Mr. Gilbert returns, but in the future we shall not take the trouble to secure an American copyright."

AMERICAN DOLLARS WANTED.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—M. Pages, Bishop of Verdun, intends to appeal to American Catholics to subscribe funds for the purpose of securing the canonization of Joan of Arc.

DEVOURED BY THE SHARKS.

ADEN, Feb. 17.—An awful scene took place on board the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamship Victoria, homeward bound from Australia, when midway between Colombo and Aden a male passenger leaped overboard. The engines were instantly reversed and a boat was ordered to be lowered. As the crew obeyed the order the forward davit cable slipped from the hands of the bow man, who was overhauling it, and the crew, numbering thirteen, fell into the sea. A second boat was instantly lowered with a crew of eleven. This latter was lowered perfectly safely, and succeeded in rescuing eleven of the unlucky thirteen. The other two, together with the unfortunate suicide, were devoured by sharks, in full view of the horrified passengers.

Measures for Protecting the Right of Public Meeting.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 17.—At an informal meeting of the Hull City Council, held this afternoon at Mayor Scott's, it was decided to procure a force of policemen sufficient to check any disturbance. Judge Dugas, who was present, decided to telegraph to Montreal for twenty policemen. Mayor Scott and Ald. Champagne were appointed a committee to wait upon Superintendent Sherwood to obtain twenty of the Dominion force and also ten of the city force. It is understood that if the police cannot be secured the 43rd Battalion will be called out. The deputation from the Evangelical Alliance, C. S. Deprice, Ald. Henderson and D. Donaldson, waited upon Mayor Scott and the police magistrate at Hull this morning to discuss the matter of the evangelists. The deputation was most courteously received and during the conversation that ensued the following points were emphasized by the Evangelical Alliance representatives:

1st. That in the interests of civil and religious liberty the Alliance consider it necessary that the Gospel meetings begun in Hull under the auspices of the Y. W. C. should be carried on without interruption.

2nd. That it is the duty of the authorities to see that the evangelists are protected in the exercise of their lawful rights and privileges.

3rd. If the civic authorities are not able to give them the necessary police protection, then the militia should be called out to preserve order.

Mayor Scott and Judge Dugas assured the deputation that their efforts to secure the necessary police protection would be taken to give the protection asked for. The matter was receiving their most earnest and careful attention and later in the day the mayor would communicate fuller particulars to the deputation.

Before leaving the deputation impressed strongly upon the authorities the fact that the surest way to prevent an escort going from Ottawa with the evangelists was for the authorities to give assurance that the most ample protection would be guaranteed to them. The meeting of the Evangelical Alliance will be held in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall this evening at 7 o'clock to receive the report from the deputation. The general feeling in Hull to-day was that there will be no disturbance to-morrow evening and that the evangelists will be allowed to hold their meeting in peace. It is thought that the advice from the priests in the churches yesterday has tended considerably towards preventing a row. In addition to the advice given by the priests it was also announced that any parties known to participate in a similar occurrence will be put off from receiving their Holy duty till such a time as the priests think fit. So far no arrests have been made.

Judge Dugas, of Montreal, who arrived in Ottawa yesterday, paid a visit to Hull. The first thing this morning he was seen by a reporter at the city clerk's office and talked freely on the matter of the recent troubles. He said: "You may be sure that such a disgraceful riot will not occur again. I have been engaged in the matter, and from what the police tell me I am confident that they did all they could. They arrested two men, and from the circumstances of the disturbance they could not identify other offenders. The evangelists have an undoubted right to come here and hold a meeting in their own hall, but once they have done that in peace, I hope they will see that it is against the wishes of the people in the neighborhood and will not try to hold further meetings. Protection, such as I believe the Council will give them, is a matter which puts expense on the people of Hull, and there is no knowing whether the further holding of these meetings might not again arouse the prejudices of uneducated persons. From what I have been able to learn it appears that tracts and notices of the meeting were distributed; these were entered and the tracts left on their tables, certainly contrary to their wishes. This was what apparently first aroused the rough element, and a thing I laughed at was that the notice of 'no collection' was printed on the bills. Some people thought that was a slur on the Roman Catholic Church, which, like most other churches, takes up a collection. I consider that there will be no trouble, but if there is, the people causing it will regret it, and I think a force of twenty men will be enough for the maintenance of order. I hope, however, no large crowd will go over from Ottawa, as it will only provoke angry feelings."

TWO MURDEROUS FRIENDS.

Confess to Trying to Wreck a Train.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 17.—The placing of obstructions on the track of the Walker road, near Walkerville, on Friday night, but which was fortunately seen by the engineer in time to save a disaster, was no doubt a deliberate attempt to wreck the train. Chief of Police Amos Griffith, assisted by Provincial Detective Fred Campau, were assigned to work up the case. From a little girl who saw the rails placed on the track they obtained a description of the men and, by following the claw, they this morning arrested Charles Wilson and Emanuel Wilkes, both colored. The two men were found asleep in a house in the bush about five miles from Walkerville. On the way to the station Detective Campau induces Wilson to confess and Walker owned up to his share in the crime as soon as he learned Wilson had made a clean breast of it. At the Windsor lockup both gave a detailed account of the transaction and signed their statements. Both said they put the rails on the track for "devilment." They wanted to see a wreck, but did not want anybody to be hurt. Wilson is a hard case; a skipper out from Ypeland, Mich., where he has already done time for different crimes. Both are villainous-looking negroes and will be very apt to get a life sentence for this crime.

Action Against the G.T.R. for Damages—A New Industry—In Mercy to the Students—Congratulating Parnell—Bailed and Re-Arrested—Donation for the University.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—Application was made in the Surrogate court to-day for probate of the will of Jane Speers, who was mysteriously murdered in Toronto in January. She left an estate valued at $2,071.01. The application was made by her brother, Henry Speers. The detectives say they have a clue to the murderer, but that they cannot at present locate him.

The eighteen cases against the Grand Trunk railway, arising out of the St. George disaster, will be heard by Mr. Justice Rose and a jury, beginning to-morrow. All general questions such as negligence, state of the road, etc., will first be disposed of, before one jury for all the cases. If these points are decided against the railway, then the damages will be assessed in each case separately.

At a meeting of the Toronto branch of the Irish National League, held to-night, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, that we, the members of the Toronto branch of the Irish National League congratulate Mr. Parnell and the Irish parliamentary party on the complete vindication of their character before the Parnell Commission, and we rejoice that the Irish party have such buoyant and successful leaders who levelled it upon the one who held Government for the Government and the London Times by exposing the criminal means which they had employed to ruin their character and blast the hopes of the Irish race throughout the world.

Rolly Moffatt was granted bail on Saturday by the judges at Osgoode Hall, and to-day he was brought from the jail to police headquarters to get the bonds signed. The amount of bail was $3,000, and besides the bondsmen a dozen friends congregated to congratulate him, but they were sadly disappointed when Detective Alf Cuddy handed him a warrant which charges him with another case of forgery, the complainant being the Ontario Bank. He was immediately re-arrested, and his friends intend making further application for bail.

At a meeting of the Dominion of Canada Kannel Club, held to-day, it was decided to hold another dog show in connection with the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, here, provided a suitable building can be found.

A grant of $10,000 has been made by a gentleman who does not want his name to be mentioned at present towards the replenishing of the university. The first contribution to the library was a set of ten volumes of Grote's History of Greece. This is the nucleus of the new library, and the assistant librarian, who has full charge of these books, is quite hopeful that his usefulness in the old University is not gone. The classes resumed this morning without the loss of a single academic hour. The Medical Faculty is taking advantage of the circumstances in which the University is now placed to urge the necessity of a pathological library in connection with the University. They have contributed some $1,500 to the proposed library. The students who had arranged for the holding of the proposed conversation meeting to-day and decided to pay all their debts, amounting to $2,500, if they have to pawn their clothes to do so. They intend to hold a concert shortly to raise the wind.

The City Council to-night appointed a committee to confer with the University Senate on the rebuilding of the University. It was decided to abolish all tax exemptions on real property, to exempt dwelling houses to the value of $600 from taxation, and to hold the municipal elections on New Year's day. The Council refused to abolish the tax on incomes and personal property.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17.—The Y. M. C. A. convention closed to-day, and all the delegates have gone home. A short session of the Legislature was held to-night, but no business was transacted. The new municipal bill is engaging most of the time of the legislators. Winnipeg City Council is protesting vigorously against it, being desirous of having a separate charter, as at present.

To fill the vacancy in the City Council, caused by the unseating of Alexander McKicken, two candidates were to-day nominated, E. F. Hutchings Saddler and McKicken. They haven't got any particular love for each other and have entered upon a bitter fight.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

A Robber Promptly Punished.

CRESTLINE, Ohio, Feb. 17.—Last night about nine o'clock there came a rap at the door of J. Rengle (an aged farmer) and his wife, who reside one mile east of here. Rengle opened the door, and two men rushed past him and, drawing revolvers, commanded the couple to keep silent under penalty of death. One of the men grabbed Rengle, and when his wife started to his assistance she was seized by the other, and in the struggle which followed, both Rengle and his wife were thrown to the floor. Rengle reached to his pocket and got his revolver, but being prevented from using it on the man who held him down, he levelled it upon the one who held Mrs. Rengle and shot him through the heart. The wounded man staggered to his feet, reeled out of the room, and fell dead a few steps from the house. The man who held Rengle then released him and made his escape.

Father Lanson, of Hull, yesterday urged members of his congregation to remain away from Miss Wright's meeting.

It is likely that a Northwest member will introduce an amendment to the McCarthy bill postponing further action until the Northwest territories are constituted into provinces.

Hull people are mustering their forces for a combined move upon the Provincial Government with the object of securing increased representation for Ottawa county in the Local Legislature. To this end a meeting attended by over 600 persons was held yesterday in St. Joseph's hall.

The speakers were Messrs. Major, Chas. Leduc, Tetreau and Dr. J. A. Gauthier. It was resolved to send a large signed petition to the Local Government representing the popular view of the subject. In his address Ald. Vian explained that the county of Ottawa had a population of about 80,000 and was entitled to two representatives in view of the fact that there were many constituencies, such as Two Mountains, Three Rivers, and other small counties with much less population than the county of Ottawa would have after its division. It is proposed to dissect the county so as to give a representative to the City of Hull, with the villages of Gatineau Point and Ironsides included. It was also represented that the interests of Hull, with its population of 17,000, largely manufacturing, differed from those of the rest of Ottawa County. It is likely that the matter will be taken up at the City Council meeting to-night, and a resolution passed in favor of the division of the county.

Mr. J. M. Graham, General Manager of the Northern Pacific & Manitoba Railway, is here.

TORONTO.

During the absence of Provost Body, Trinity College, students resorted to the practice of having to initiate a freshman. The matter was brought before the faculty and three of the accused have been suspended and fined $20, and the rest fined $5 each, to be paid if they cannot prove they had no hand in the hazing.

At the City Council meeting to-night the Mayor will ask for the appointment of a special committee to consider what aid the city should give toward the rebuilding of the University and replenishing of the library and museum.

HAMILTON.

John Brown, a brakeman on the N. & N. W. division of the Grand Trunk railway, was one of a crew of a freight train loaded with ice coming from the north last evening, and while adjusting a break from the top of a car, near Burlington, the wheel of the brake came off, and Brown was thrown between the cars. His head was badly cut and his right arm was badly injured between the elbow and shoulder, the cars having passed over it. He was brought to the hospital here and, on consultation of physicians, it was decided to amputate the arm. Brown never recovered from the shock and died at an early hour this morning. He was 26 years old, and leaves a wife and two children, who reside in Toronto.

ARNHEM, ONT.

A collision took place on the C.P.R., at Arnheim. The way freight going west collided with a through freight going east, at 12 noon. The train going east was backing into the siding and had not passed the switch, when the west bound train, under full speed, was unable to stop at the semaphore owing to the slippery state of the rails. Both engines are badly wrecked and much damage is done to the cars and freight. The track was cleared at once and no one injured.

Late reports from the smallpox districts along the Rio Grande show an appalling mortality list. On a ranch in Duval county 147 out of 150 employees were stricken with the disease, and 65 of them died. There is a great scarcity of nurses and physicians. A number of the younger doctors of this place are preparing to visit the afflicted section.

The steamer Cephalonia, at this port to-day from Liverpool, reports February 15, 11.40, in latitude 44.49 north, longitude 75.50 west, passed iceberg 1,000 feet long, 150 feet high. At 1.30 p.m. the same day encountered a large quantity of field ice, which was cleared at 4.20 p.m. same day.

NEW YORK.

After a consultation of physicians it has been decided that the terrible operation of breaking the bones of one leg, to prevent Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., from being a cripple for life, as the result of inflammatory rheumatism, will not be necessary, and there is thus a hope that she may regain health and strength, but it will not be for a long time and not without great further suffering. An unusual array of prominent theatrical people will take part in the big benefit to be given in her behalf at the Broadway theatre to-morrow afternoon.

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE.

Next spring there is to be an exhibition in London of postage stamps and philatelic curiosities.

An umbrella sheath is said to have been invented. It hangs at a lady's side, and the umbrella can be dropped into it after the manner of a sword.

During the eighty-one years of its existence, the British and Foreign Bible Society has issued from its London house alone 29,000,000 complete Bibles, nearly 32,000,000 New Testaments, and 11,845,000 portions of the Bible—altogether 72,500,000.

There is a curious enactment in Sweden in regard to commercial travellers. Any foreigner or Swedish subject residing abroad, who visits Sweden for the purpose of trade, must give a declaration as to how long he intends to stay, and must pay a tax of about $5.10 a month for the privilege of being allowed to conduct his business.

It is stated that Senor Gayarre, the Spanish tenor, whose death has just been recorded, has left a fortune of 4,000,000 francs, or £160,000 sterling. His salary of late was 7,000 francs, or £280, every night that he sang. He was adored in Madrid, and the Queen Regent of Spain had made him lately a Commander of the Order of Isabella.

Napoleon's grand army has dwindled down to a small company. It has been ascertained that there are now only 112 men who wear the medal of St. Helena, and whose names appear on the pension list of the Legion of Honor for 1890. In 1883 there were 1,428 of these veterans still living. The next year there were 500 less, and in 1887 there were only 224.

The Paris Municipal Council has placed near the Gare du Nord, at the intersection of the Rue Lafayette and Boulevard Magenta, an indicator, illuminated at night, giving a plan of the quarter, a list of the inhabitants, the addresses of the nearest post office, letter box, railway office, doctor, and various civil officers, as well as a classified list of rooms and apartments to let.

Buddhism is spreading to a considerable extent among the female graduates of the universities and other young people of culture in Europe, and the fact is being laid at the door of Max Muller, who is charged with having first brought that religion to the attention of the Christian world. His defenders say that the converts are made chiefly by Hindus who come from India to attend the universities.

It appears from the fifteenth edition of the "Classified List of Metropolitan Charities" that the approximate incomes of 1,027 religious philanthropic and charitable institutions—including hospitals and dispensaries, church and chapel building funds, home and foreign missions, orphanages and homes, Bible and tract societies—amounted last year to the respectable total of £5,063,137.

A farmer, named Walker, in Longborough County Court, England, has been mulcted in three guineas for damage to a lawyer named Giles, who lived and had a fine garden three hundred yards away from one of the farmer's fields. The complaint was that the farmer allowed his field to grow up to thistles and that the wind blew the down over the plaintiff's garden. Giles' defence was that he kept three men and a woman busy pulling up the thistles.

Illegible and complicated signatures often cause so much trouble and delay in business that it might be as well if some high British official followed the example of Prince Bismarck. In his usual blunt fashion, the Prince issues an official notice demanding that all documents sent to him shall be signed plainly and legibly, as a matter of both duty and courtesy. He has evidently particular offenders in view, for he adds: "It would be contrary to my wishes to be compelled to draw the attention of certain gentlemen, specially and personally, to this obligation, but I shall do so if occasion is offered me. I require that every official shall write his name so that it can not only be deciphered, but also read easily at the first glance."

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Grant to Toronto University.

[SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.]

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 17.—Although it was expected some reference would be made in the Legislature to-day to the great calamity of Friday night, the House was agreeably surprised at the prompt action taken by the Government, as indicated by the following message from Lieutenant-Governor Campbell: "The reading of which by Speaker Baxter was greeted with loud applause:—

The Lieutenant-Governor recommends to the Legislative Assembly that a sum not exceeding one hundred and sixty thousand dollars be set apart from and out of the surplus monies forming part of the consolidated revenue fund of this province, to aid in the reconstruction of the University of Toronto University as has been injured or destroyed by fire, the said sum to be in addition to all other sum or sums which may be received or recovered by or on behalf of the university under any policies of insurance effected against loss or damage by fire to said building.

The resolution was referred to a special committee. The praiseworthy promptitude and liberality shown by the Government is commended as an example.

The provincial secretary has introduced a bill to further restrict the unlicensed liquor traffic.

Mr. Clarke, of Wellington, has given notice that he will move for a return showing the number of cities, towns and villages which have adopted the ballot at annual school elections. This return will have an important bearing on the question of extending the ballot to separate school supporters.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. MR. LAURIER'S SPEECH.

We shall await the full report of the speeches of Mr. Laurier and Sir John Macdonald before commenting at any length upon them. Mr. Laurier's appearance has been one of those noble appeals to justice, common sense and patriotism, for which he is so distinguished. Mr. Blake's speech of Friday was a rebuke to Mr. McCarthy for endeavouring to set the two nationalities by the ears by means of a bill and accompanying speeches for which there was no present necessity. Mr. Laurier, while admitting English to be the dominant language of this continent, and paying tribute to all the great qualities of the Anglo-Saxon race, pointed out that French was the language of the original settlers of Canada and of more than a third of its present population. He asked, in effect, what the English would say to those who attempted to deprive them of their mother tongue, and how it was possible to build up a nation on the discontent and outraged feeling of a large proportion of its inhabitants. At the same time he deprecated the proposal to dictate to the people of the Northwest without even knowing what that population might be, and maintained his principle that equal rights to all and an absence of meddling interference by one province with another, was the surest and only way to build up a strong, contented and powerful nation. With these views Mr. Laurier cordially agrees. To the human, but mistaken desire to make other people look through one's own spectacles, is due at least one half of the mischievous contention which so much impedes the progress of Canada.

THE QUEEN AND HER SON-IN-LAW.

Her Majesty and her son-in-law, Prince Henry of Battenberg, seem to be drifting further apart on the great latched-key question. The Queen has objected to her daughter's husband "remaining out nights," or to his coming home to Windsor at unseemly hours, while the Prince has objected to being compelled to catch a certain train on pain of being scolded if he missed it. But he has grown bolder with years and petting, and requires privileges at Windsor that his mother-in-law declines to permit, and so the difficulty arises. But the Prince has got the whip hand in the matter, and knows it. The Queen cannot bear the idea of being separated from her youngest daughter, and the Prince says he will leave Windsor and take his wife with him if he is not allowed to do as he pleases. Her Majesty has made the mistake of supposing that she could take an impecunious German prince, rush him into all the highest grades of English honours and generally coddle him as if he were a priceless article, without such treatment having the effect of what in this country is called "swelling his head." He is now secure in his fortune and his honours, and probably does not care a cent for the donor of them. There is a good deal, of course, to be said on his side, but it must be said with a remembrance of the fact that his marriage was a good deal of a bargain, and that he practically entered into some obligations which he now seems desirous of repudiating.

DISINTERESTED MENTORS.

The Ottawa Evening Journal is concerned about Mr. Blake, and points out that if he hadn't done something about the French which he did do, or had done something which he did not do, he would be to-day the Premier of the Dominion. The Journal is the most honest and free-spoken of the neutral papers, and its utterances are always worthy of consideration. But underneath its neutrality is a broad vein of Canadian Toryism, and this must always be remembered in reading its observations concerning Liberals in Parliament. But there are other professed Tory papers which are frequently much exercised about the Liberal leaders. It is strange how anxious they are to guide these gentlemen, and prevent their making mistakes. When some broad, distinctive platform is laid down they are terribly grieved at the Liberals committing themselves to a proposition which, they allege, must keep them indefinitely out of power. In the case of free trade with the United States, which is the key-note of Liberal policy, the Tory press is not jubilant at the thought that this will keep their friends in office but they give way to fits of depression, ruminating upon the injury that has been done the Liberal party. The Liberal desire to stop the feud between French and English which those two Tories, Mr. Dalton McCarthy and Sir Hector Langevin, have said so much to intensify, is regarded as a terrible mistake of any prominent Liberal. It would seem that it is better to fan the flame of national prejudice and bring the two peoples into active hostilities. If the Liberals desire to govern this country, otherwise than by compelling Sir John to follow their lead as they do in so many cases, it is clear that they have only to make a bargain with the Tory press. That institution must point out certain things which the Liberals are to avoid, and, in consideration of their agreeing to do so, Sir John will, or at least ought to, step down and out at once. Perhaps, as a matter of surety, the Tory press would do well to make sure of Sir John first before instructing the Liberal leaders.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

A Washington letter, dated 14th inst. contains the following reference to the fisheries question:

President Harrison and Secretary Blaine are taking active steps to continue in operation until a more permanent agreement can be determined upon the modus vivendi under which fishing vessels of the United States are allowed to enter Canadian ports to purchase bait. This modus vivendi expires to-day. Several conferences have been held this week between the Secretary of State and Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, at which the matter was discussed in all its details. It is probable that some official announcement as to the status of the matter will soon be made.

In this connection it is worthy of note that a report comes from Ottawa to the effect that the Government will ask Parliament to agree to a renewal of the modus vivendi in view of the disposition shown by the American Government to negotiate for a settlement of all the differences between the two countries. Indeed, it is quite probable that negotiations to that end have already been set on foot; and, if so, the fact gives emphasis to Mr. Wiman's expressed opinion—that Congress will shortly make a proposal looking to the establishment of closer trade relations between Canada and the United States. The public will anxiously await further information.

THE CANAL GRAIN TOLLS.

The Council of the Board of Trade makes out a very good case in its request to the Dominion Government that the reduction of the canal tolls on grain should be made permanent, instead of having to be renewed by Order-in-Council every season. If the reduction in tolls is justifiable at all—and the Government has conceded that point—then there does not seem to be any valid reason why that reduction should not be continued permanently from year to year until circumstances arise which may call for a reversal of that policy. Uncertainty as to what action the Government may take, and dependence upon an Order-in-Council which may be delayed by administrative red tape, are calculated to paralyze the grain-carrying trade. Shippers should know at once what the Government proposes to do in the matter, so that they may be enabled to make their arrangements accordingly. In such important matters delay and uncertainty cannot fail to have a disastrous effect. As will be seen by the official documents, published elsewhere, Sir John Macdonald has already practically conceded the correctness of the argument of the Board of Trade on this point.

THE CONSUMER PAYS THE DUTY.

BEDFORD TIMES (Tory).—It is the consumer of flour or anything else—that pays the duty; not the producer. Quite correct in the main, but of course there are exceptions. For instance, if we send to the United States products that are absolutely necessary to supply a want of that market, in that case the American consumer will pay the duty. But if we send to the American market products that come into active competition with American products, and which cannot materially affect prevailing prices there, in that case the Canadian exporter will have his profits diminished by the amount, or nearly the amount, of the duty. This is where Canadian farmers, particularly along or near the boundary line, are placed at a disadvantage. However, the question as to who pays the duty at the outset is perhaps of less importance than the general fact that tariff exactions handicap trade and render it unprofitable. The frank admission of the Times is, nevertheless, important to the people of Quebec. During the last fiscal year there were imported into this Province for home consumption 199,516 barrels of flour, on which duty to the amount of $99,908 was paid. The consumers of the flour paid that duty. If Sir John Macdonald yields to the demands of the millers and increases the flour duty from 50 cents to 75 cents or $1, that will prove so much additional burden levied on consumers of flour; for not only will the imported article be increased by that amount, but the home produced article will also be similarly increased, because the object for which the duty is imposed is to enable the home producer to sell his flour for a higher price than he would be able to do if there were no duty. That is what protection means. Yes, it may be safely accepted as a sound axiom of political economy that the consumer pays the duty, barring some exceptions and exceptional circumstances.

The strange story, told with unblushing effrontery by Mrs. Walker, nee Herald, in her application for a divorce, should bid us pause in our imitation of the sensational methods of our neighbours to the south. According to Miss Herald's (or Mrs. Walker's) alligation her marriage was a pure farce-comedy, enacted to pass away an idle hour. Maidenly instincts and womanly reserve seem to have been lost sight of altogether in this wretched performance. An ordained minister of the gospel was found, who cared as little for his cloth as she for her reputation, to read the sacred service in a like spirit of buffoonery. As to the man—well, he appears to have been disappointingly slow in embracing his opportunities and immediately left his mock wife. Though heartily glad to accept reciprocity with the States to the extent of securing their money and trade, we hope the treaty can be so effected as to bar these imitations of their manners and morals—so far as the marital relations are concerned.

The Richmond Guardian, Conservative, emphatically repudiates the assertion made by some journals opposing the Mercier administration, that the redistribution bill now before the Legislature is a gerrymander, and warns the Conservative party that if they oppose the division of Richmond and Wolfe into two constituencies, and thereby deprive the Protestant minority of the opportunity of securing an additional representative, they will make a mistake for which they will suffer. Says our contemporary:

The English-speaking electors are in dead earnest about this matter, and they may turn the tables on the Opposition as a punishment for being deprived of the present chance of bettering themselves; and, perhaps, in the next parliament they will see to it that the counties are divided, in spite of the Conservative party. Oh dear, oh dear! we are sick of these party tactics.

Perhaps the Opposition will heed the warning.

It would appear as if the zeal of the Witness slightly outruns its discretion in the matter of the Hull outrages. This is not the first time in history that mobs of roughs have taken advantage of a religious question to give vent to their animal passions. The Government of this province has promised to fully assert the authority of the law, and has actually taken steps to that end; while the Catholic bishop has had the ruffians denounced from the churches. What more does the Witness want? Do they expect that aged ecclesiastic, shillelagh in fist, to head a company of priests in a hand-to-hand battle with all the toughs of Hull and Ottawa?

ALTHOUGH the destruction by fire of Toronto University is an occasion for national sorrow, the prompt measures taken to rebuild and even extend that institution may be considered a cause for national pride. The Ontario Legislature has already voted a considerable sum to help in the restoration, and assistance may be safely counted on from other quarters. The authorities promise that the new building will be complete this year, and if this can be effected it will present such an example of energy and resolution as has probably never been equalled. The future University may well add to its coat of arms the word "Reurgram."

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

COMPLIMENTING THE PEOPLE'S JIMMY. Mr. McShane's remarks in the House of Assembly, on the repatriation question, were timely and full of downright common sense. To spend money for that purpose, is like throwing it into the sea. It wins no success. If we have money to spend, it ought to be employed in making our Province more inviting to the people who are here. Mr. McShane, in a homely and practical way, laid the law down handsomely on the subject, and we are glad that we are in a position to compliment him on the able manner in which he expressed his opinions.—Quebec Chronicle.

FAIR PLAY FROM AN OPPONENT.

Finding fault with everything that is proposed, good, bad and indifferent, simply because we may be opposed to the government is both foolish and unjust. For instance, the amendment proposed to the Quebec Election Act, has been most unmercifully assailed by the opposition press, notwithstanding that what was proposed is identical with what has been done by the Dominion Parliament and the Ontario Legislature. We fully concur with Mr. Mercier's amendment. It is intolerable that an elected member shall lose his seat for every or any trumpety indiscretion his friends may be guilty of during a contest; the law as it stands is too severe, and we are glad it is to be amended.—Richmond Guardian, Conservative.

TAKE DOWN THE TARIFF FENCE.

The announcement from Ottawa that the Dominion Government is preparing to completely remodel the tariff, is important news. It is an admission that the tariff is not a success as it is. The fact that on the day the House is opened until it is prorogued, deputations are constantly at the capital persistently urging changes in the tariff, is pretty strong evidence that it is a failure. The best thing Sir John can do, under the circumstances, is not to tinker with it, but to make a proposal to the United States to wipe it out, then enter into a commercial arrangement by which free trade between the two countries would be secured. This is what Canada wants to put the country on its feet.—Winnipeg Tribune.

HE WILL NOT BE A SENATOR.

Mr. J. C. Rykert's chances for a seat in the Senate are rather poor at present. That they were ever good, as he claims himself, is a reflection on the Conservative party. The House has no more unsavory member than Mr. Rykert. Apart from the present extraordinary revelations of his vulgarity and greed, the record of his timber limit dealings long ago convinced the great majority of intelligent men in Ontario that Mr. Rykert was not fit to be a public representative. The exposure made by the Toronto Globe at the last general election was such that there was no possible effective answer to it save a libel suit. Mr. Rykert was careful not to take that. To the lasting disgrace of St. Catharines and Lincoln, he was re-elected to Parliament, of which he remains one of the most unworthy members.—Ottawa Journal, Conservative.

—Applicant—I ask for the hand of your daughter.
Parent—Have you any prospects for the future?
—None what ever.
—She hasn't any, either. Take her, my boy, and be happy. God bless you both.

—He—They say it takes three generations to make a gentleman.
She—Indeed? What a pleasant prospect for your grandson.
—Ma, said Willie, who had been to the missionary sewing society with his mother, "I feel very sorry for the poor little he then."
—That's right, Willie. I am glad to see you show such a spirit.
—Yes'm. I'd feel sorry for anybody that had to wear the clothes that you people were making to-day.

—He (somewhat suspiciously)—You say you never loved anybody but me. Ha! is that true, Maud?
She—Harry, you looks terribly me! Have I been too kind in allowing you to kiss me so much this evening?

—He—No, Maud; but you kiss me like an old hand.
—And so Mr. Grimsby is dead. And pray what did he die of?
—Well, I don't know for certain. The stories one hears are so conflicting, you know. Some say he died of homophobia, others declare it was allopathy, while others think it was hydropathy; but between you and me I suspect it was faith cure.

—A young ostrich came to its wife's mother, growling with pain and with its wings tightly crossed upon its stomach.
—What have you been eating? the mother asked with solicitude.
—Nothing but a keg of nails," was the reply.

—"What?" exclaimed the mother; "a whole keg of nails at your age? Why, you will kill yourself that way. Go quickly my child, and swallow a hammer."
