RUSSIAN ARMY PROVIDES NEW THREAT TO NAZIS

Kursk Offers New Base For Soviet Drive

Russian Army Is Smashing Westward and Widening Wedges in Kharkov and Kursk Regions at North End of Active Battlefield—Recapture of Slavyansk Menaces Germans Left in Donets Basin Area.

By EDDY GILMORE, Associated Press Staff Writer
Moscow, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The Red army is smashing westward and widening its wedges in the Kharkov and Kursk regions at the North end of the active Russian-German battlefield, and its columns have pierced deeper into Donets basin territory in drives threatening the Germans retreating from Rostov, the Russians announced today.

Some of the actions were described as cleaning out the remnants of German strongholds left in the rear of Soviet troops which had swept around them for spectacular gains.

"West of Kharkov our troops continued their successful offensive, inflicting heavy blows on the remnants of routed German units," the Russians said. "The Hitlerite path of retreat is covered with the bodies of dead enemy officers and men as well as abandoned German heavy and light arms."

The Kharkov offensive carried into Bogodukhov, thirty-six miles to the Northwest on the railroad to Sumy; to Zmiyiv, twenty-two miles Southeast of Kharkov; and Aleksievskoe, thirty-eight miles South of Kharkov, just East of the rail line and North of Lgovskaya.

Russian units previously had penetrated from the East to Lgovskaya, about seven miles Northeast of Dmitriyevskoye.

Between Kharkov and Kursk, a column apparently operating from the newly-captured base at Kursk, took Graivoron, only twenty miles North of Bogodukhov, the Russians said, and then advanced into another unidentified city after beating down fierce counterattacks.

North of Kursk a number of towns were captured and Northwest of the city Soviet units forced a water crossing and stormed into another large town, it was announced.

(Possibly the latter city was Dmitriyevskoye, which is across a tributary of the Seim river. The offensive in this region threatens to fashion a pincer from the South about Orel, the last remaining German stronghold on the line from which they launched last summer's offensive.)

On the Southern front, menacing the Germans left in the Donets basin, the Russians announced the recapture of Slavyansk, a rail centre about thirty miles North of the positions where Russian units previously had thrust to Kramatorsk.

Other towns also were taken in the Kramatorsk sector, extending a clamp to be laid about Stalino.

UNITED STATES BANS SALES OF CANNED MEATS

All Kinds of Canned Fish and Meats Affected by Latest Order of Office of Price Administration.

Washington, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The once-bountiful sardine became a thing unobtainable in the United States today—along with all other canned fish and meats—and Edo the pup could lord it over his master. Except for dog and other pet foods, public sale of these products was indefinitely halted by an Office of Price Administration order.

But otherwise, the canned meat and fish sales ban probably will stand until meat rationing is expected to begin late in March.

Residents of the country's North-east boundary looked to Canada for some border business, since a Prices Board spokesman said in Ottawa there was no likelihood of similar action. The spokesman said no comparable situation exists in Canada since canned fish and meats are not rationed.

The order, effective at midnight last night, came at the request of Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard. The Food Administrator, the O.P.A. said, adding that recent heavy purchases threatened the

DeWitt Mackenzie Confident Of Complete German Defeat During Present Year--- Japs Lose Next

Miami, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—DeWitt Mackenzie, Associated Press writer whose column analyzing world events is published daily in more than eight hundred newspapers, has returned from a lengthy tour abroad with the strengthened conviction that Germany will be beaten in 1943. His column is carried to Canadian papers through The Canadian Press.

"I am more than ever convinced," he reported on his arrival here after a four and one-half month trip which took him as far East as Chungking, China, "that Hitler's back is broken—as a matter of fact it was broken last fall when he failed to smash through into the Lower Caucasus—and that we ought to be able to dispose of the Nazi all-highest by the end of this year."

"Most observers and military people with whom I have talked feel that Japan should fall by the end of 1944, if not sooner."

The veteran analyst and foreign correspondent left New York last September, and flew across the North Atlantic to Ireland. He spent five weeks in Britain, then went to Lisbon and down the West coast of Africa. Flying across Africa to Cairo, he remained five weeks in Egypt and on the Libyan front with the British 8th Army. En route to Chungking, he paused in Palestine and in India. After three weeks in India, on the return route, he visited Iran and Iraq.

He made the aerial journey from Basra, Iraq, to Miami in five and one-half days, arriving here yesterday.

Mackenzie will give a detailed summary of his findings in a series of columns beginning next week.

"One of the things that impressed me most," he said in an interview here, "is the terrific striking power being piled up by the United States, Great Britain and the other allies, and the rapidity with which it is growing."

"There could be no doubt in the mind of any one who had seen the way these Allied resources are multiplying that victory for the United Nations is a certainty."

The big task remaining for the United Nations, he said, is to "smash Hitler's strongest remaining weapon, which is his army, and that must be done on the battlefield, to use a term of which Hitler himself is very fond, it must mean the 'annihilation' of the German army."

Hungry, Miserable France Awaits Arrival Of Allied Deliverance

By DANIEL DE DUCE, Associated Press Staff Writer.
Algiers, Feb. 16.—(delayed)—(AP)—A closeup picture of a hungry and miserable France, smothered in German propaganda but praying for the hour of Allied invasion, was taken today by an acquaintance of Marshal Petain who left Vichy only a few days ago.

Because he is middle-aged and held no official position, this Frenchman succeeded in making his way to Algiers, where he has been received by high officials of Gen. Henri Giraud's government.

"I left France in chains," he said, "I believe only two per cent of the Frenchmen ever favored collaboration with Germany. All others today are hoping that this year they will see French troops in French uniforms lead Allied debarkations on the coast of France."

He said he is confident a majority of the persons on Petain's own staff—not to be confused with political jobholders surrounding Laval—are prepared to co-operate actively with the Allies whenever an European invasion is launched.

The informant estimated the Germans have fifty divisions stationed in the Western periphery of Europe, from Norway down through Holland, Belgium and France—"mostly second-class divisions or those on leave from the Russian front and not the calibre of shock troops."

"The Italians hold the Southern coast up to Marseille and their morale and equipment are notoriously bad," he continued. "French police officially reported that when Italian detachments marched into one Southern town, a large Italian civil colony lined the street clapping and shouting 'viva Il Duce.' Some of the Italian soldiers grimaced back and held out their rifles mockingly, saying 'If you're so happy come and fight in our place.'"

He said Petain is powerless in his relations with Berlin, which brusquely rejected his personal protests over Gen. Maxime Weygand's arrest and internment, and the additional arrests of Generals Rey d'Harcourt and Almeyre.

Weygand was seized by the Gestapo, this source said, after he had declared publicly while dining with Petain that "Germany is finished."

Petain swore all at the table to secrecy but one French diplomat present immediately reported the incident to the Germans.

"I saw Petain break into tears last December 1 as he spoke of the Germans crossing the demarcation line from the Occupied Zone," this source continued. "To most of the population of France he still is the mystic symbol of the nation. His vigor still is amazing and on his last tour outside Vichy he wore out his men in his party who were much younger. His personal physician always is close at hand but Petain refuses all medicines. At the age of eighty-six, however, his life expectancy is very uncertain."

Pierre Laval, the Chief-of-Government, was described as one of the most hated men in France, relying on the Gestapo and French police to suppress talk against him. The enmity between Laval and Jacques Docteur, another collaborator, is still bitter and Laval two months ago forbade publication of speeches Docteur made in Paris criticizing him.

Waterbury, N.Y., Feb. 18.—(AP)—An intensive search was carried out in the South Rutland hills near here today for a Canadian military plane, reported missing since Tuesday.

The search was prompted by reports of several farmers in the area that they heard an airplane motor the same day the aircraft was listed as missing. One farmer, R. H. Cramer, told Jefferson County sheriff's deputies he heard a plane circle his house.

RUSSIAN VIEWS ON MIHAILOVIC ARE DISPUTED

Yugoslav Government Seeks to Convince Moscow that Guerilla Leader Is Not a Collaborator.

London, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Reliable sources said today that the Yugoslav Government in London is continuing a month-long effort to convince the Soviet Government that Gen. Draga Mihailovic, leader of Serb army forces, is concerned only in maintaining resistance to German and Italian occupation forces in Yugoslavia.

The London Daily Herald said the Russians had sent a note to the Yugoslav Government here accusing Mihailovic of collaboration with the Axis.

But sources whose names may not be given said the note asserting the Russians had proof of Mihailovic's activity was delivered to the Yugoslav representative in Moscow early in January.

The Yugoslavs replied and there have been several exchanges since between the two governments, with other Allied governments reported supporting the exiled cabinet's contention, it was stated.

Staff Work At Dieppe Operations Flayed In Throne Speech Debate

STEADY IMPROVEMENT IN HEALTH CONDITIONS AT INTERNMENT CAMP

London, February 18.—(C.P. Cable)—The health of civilian internees at Stanley Camp, Hong Kong, is generally good, the International Red Cross Committee's delegate there has reported to London.

The delegate advised officials here January 25 that he is making regular visits to the camp and finds the health of children "very good." Conditions in general have shown steady improvement, he said.

NOVEL TRANSPORTATION

Harrison, Ont., Feb. 18.—Something new in winter transportation was seen when a farmer living in nearby Minto Township used a horse and stoneboat to bring his lady friend here to catch a train to Mount Forest.

By C. R. BLACKBURN, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Criticism of the staff work behind the combined operations attack on Dieppe last year was given the House of Commons yesterday by Rev. T. C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn) who demanded debate on the subject, either open or secret.

Mr. Douglas said the people's representatives should be told by Defence Minister Ralston why there was no preparatory aerial bombardment, why tanks were landed at a point where there was no chance of them leaving the beach, and why the withdrawal was at low tide.

People would forgive the heavy losses in Canadian personnel, he said, only if they could be assured the loss was not due to "incompetence" or lack of planning.

Mr. Douglas, an officer in the reserve army, was one of three speakers taking part in the Debate on the Address in Reply to the Throne Speech at yesterday's short sitting.

Other speakers were L. P. Picard (Lib., Bellechasse) and Howard Green (Prog. Con., Vancouver South). J. A. Blanchette (Lib., Compton) adjourned the debate and will speak today.

The debate may be concluded tonight.

Mr. Green attacked the Government's system of wartime administration by Order-in-Council and urged that a committee be set up to pass on these orders so that the elected representatives might have some hand in legislation.

Mr. Picard criticized the Government's manpower policy in that, while an Order-in-Council provided that farm workers should not be conscripted away from that essential occupation, they were being conscripted and efforts to obtain postponements involved long and often vain procedure.

He urged too that the rationing system should be altered to provide that those performing heavy labor for long hours should get a larger share of essential foods.

Before the debate got under way Navy Minister Macdonald read a long statement replying to criticism of the Navy's administration of the Fairmile boat project contained in an article in the magazine "Boating" by Andrew MacLean, of Toronto, retired naval officer who formerly was Senior Officer in charge of Fairmiles.

He said it was possible the article might contravene the provisions of the Canadian Regulations and Gordon Gray.

SMOKE SCREEN HOLDS HOPE OF PANAMA CANAL

Great Clouds of Billowing, Blinding Smoke Held Main Defence for Vital Link of Transportation System.

By CHANDLER DIEHL, Associated Press Staff Writer
U. S. Army Headquarters, Panama Canal Zone, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Smoke—a billowing, blinding curtain of dense vapor that hides the Panama Canal and its vital area in a few minutes—has become a primary line of defence in the protection of this strategic waterway linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

The smokescreen has been under development for months and now is reaching its maximum effectiveness.

Today for the first time, correspondents were permitted to write about this new line of canal defence although many important details naturally still must remain secret.

At the first sign of danger a siren sounds. The men assigned to the smoke generators rush from their alert huts with flaming torches in hand. They touch off the burners which are set out in patterns suited to the terrain and air currents. Smoke is generated at the instant of lighting and in almost no time the canal seems to disappear.

It is easy to imagine the plight of any enemy aviator who might, by some unusual combination of events, succeed in penetrating the canal's outer defences.

Fighter planes would be climbing up to "welcome" the enemy and would have the advantage of home surroundings.

A vast concentration of anti-aircraft guns would be sending up a curtain of exploding shells around all possible targets.

If the enemy dared to streak low for dive-bombing or a torpedo attack on canal installations he would know he was entering a pall of smoke hiding a concentration of barrage balloons described by authorities as denser than London's.

MEDICAL MISSIONARY IN CHUNGKING

Toronto, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Dr. Charles (Bill) Service, prominent Toronto medical missionary, and son of the late Dr. Charles W. Service, has arrived in Chungking, it was announced today by the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Church of Canada. He flew from Calcutta.

Canadians Agriculture Will Meet Record-Making Foodstuff Demand

Quebec, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Need for increased agricultural production in 1943 presents a challenge to Canadian agriculture which, on the basis of past experience, will be met, R. S. Hamer, Director of the Agriculture Department Production Service, said today.

In an address prepared for delivery to the forty-eighth annual meeting of the Quebec Livestock Breeders' Association Mr. Hamer outlines production targets for the year.

"The war now has reached a stage where it is necessary to place more emphasis on agricultural production," he said. "That supplies of food will be adequate to meet all of the requirements of the United Nations can no longer be taken for granted."

A number of factors had contributed to steady increase in the consumption of Canadian-produced foodstuffs. "It must be remembered that the rationing of men in uniform were formerly consumed by the same men as civilians," he said.

"The quantity of meats, dairy products, eggs and vegetables required now to supply the armed forces stationed in Canada adds up to an imposing total."

"After long years of what was commonly termed 'the depression' the purchasing power of the Canadian civilian population reached an unprecedented level."

"As contrasted with the last war, food was still relatively cheap, and it was only natural that domestic disappearance of foodstuffs should mount rapidly. In addition Canada has assumed responsibility for supplying staple foodstuffs to her continental neighbors in the British Empire."

Unprecedented export programmes had an even larger part than increased domestic requirements in decreasing the surpluses of many foodstuffs, he said. "The necessity for a definite Canadian-United States programme to increase production."

"All of the food of certain kinds which can be produced is going to be needed to meet military and civilian requirements of the two countries, to supplement the supplies of the other United Nations who up to the present have borne the brunt of the conflict, and to feed for a time the peoples of the countries which we now confidently expect to release from enemy control during the next two years," Mr. Hamer said.

He added that a full-scale livestock production programme "cannot be based with safety on the assumption that the present favorable position in respect to feed reserves will continue throughout the next eighteen-month period."

United States Forces Quit Three Towns On Tunis Front

In First All-Out Armored Battle of War Against Germans, American Tank Formations Suffered a Decisive Defeat Likened to That Received by British West of Tobruk—Advancing 8th Army May Relieve Pressure.

By WES GALLAGHER, Associated Press Staff Writer.
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Feb. 18.—(AP)—United States armored formations withdrew today into the mountains below Tebessa, in Algeria, after receiving a severe mauling at the hands of Marshal Erwin Rommel's desert tankmen who occupied the towns of Sbeitla, Kasserine and Feriana in a sixty-six mile advance since Sunday from Faid Pass in Central Tunisia.

(Tebessa is about twelve miles inland Algeria from the Tunisian frontier, and is the next communications centre after withdrawal from the three towns along the Tunisian frontier.)

In their first all-out armored battle of this war against the Germans, forward field reports indicated, American tank formations have suffered a decisive defeat which observers here likened to that received by the British 8th Army at Ain El Gazala. West of Tobruk, last summer when Rommel began his advance into Egypt.

The final result did not appear likely to be as serious as the Libyan battle last summer, however, because the British 1st Army in the North and in the South both menaced Rommel on his flank.

Field reports indicated that the Germans had captured a considerable portion of the American armored equipment, including new medium general Sherman tanks.

It was not known how much of

ONTARIO HOUSE STILL ARGUES LABOR RIGHTS

Numerous Verbal Clashes as Opposition Members Criticize Government Record on Labor Difficulties.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—(AP)—An Ontario Legislature debate on a motion for appointment of a Legislative Committee to report on collective bargaining legislation—a discussion which already has lasted nearly eight days—was scheduled today to revolve around an opposition amendment for inclusion of employers and employees in a body to study improvement of labor-management relations.

M. L. Kennedy (Prog. Con., Peel), moved this amendment late last night after thirteen speakers had participated in the debate which Provincial Treasurer Mitchell Hepburn opened. The former Premier, speaking in the absence through illness of Premier Bennett, read an opinion that unions in Ontario at present are "illegal" and it was doubtful if the Criminal Code ban on dismissing workers for union activity applied.

The amendment would have the Committee inquire into and recommend "the best methods for improving relations between labor and management, assuring maximum production and at the same time giving effective protection to the workers." It would examine witnesses under oath.

Government attitude to the amendment remains to be seen but Mr. Hepburn warned before adjournment that giving employers power to examine witnesses under oath was setting a dangerous precedent because one employer could question a competitor.

But the House attitude to collective bargaining generally was indicated by the various speakers to be favorable. Opposition members, led by Lt.-Col. George A. Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, however, charged the Government by sending the matter to a committee had gone back on its promise to introduce a collective bargaining bill.

The debate, which continued before almost-empty galleries at night, was marked near the close by a clash between Mr. Hepburn and George S. Henry (Prog. Con., York East) whose Government the Liberals under Mr. Hepburn defeated in the 1934 election.

War Criminals To Meet Complete Punishment For Deeds, Says Simon

London, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Viscount Simon, Lord Chancellor, declared today that war criminals could not escape this time as they did in the First Great War because the surrender of those still alive would be made a part of the armistice terms.

"Just as we have not the remotest intention in any circumstances of negotiating peace terms with the Nazis and Fascists," he said at a Stephen's Club luncheon, "so we intend in common with our Allies to exact the surrender of those criminals who are alive and available before the fighting can be regarded as finally ended."

He said "our European allies no less than ourselves attach the greatest importance to this stipulation."

"We all remember the fiasco about hanging the Kaiser and punishing the war criminals at the end of the last war," he added. "The whole idea was brought to naught notwithstanding clauses inserted in the Treaty of Versailles."

Lord Simon said there were several reasons for this—one being that the accused could not be taken and the few who were tried received light punishment, if they were not acquitted.

"Nobody is likely to repeat this mistake," he declared.

He said that while the Government was prepared to discuss the setting up of international courts in addition to the United Nations Commission for the investigation of war crimes, he felt that trial by military tribunals would have "the great advantage of speedy action."

The Allied governments, he said, have collected a great deal of information and it would by no means be confined to eyewitness reports but in some cases would consist of documents.

Reiterating that those who carried out the barbarities as well as those who inspired them would be held accountable, he said the defence of "superior orders" would not be recognized.

WAR BULLETINS

Allied Headquarters in Australia—Heavy bombers and long-range fighters pressed air action against the Japanese yesterday, bombing and machine-gunning widely-scattered points in New Guinea and New Britain.

On the ground, Allied jungle troops pushed along on the heels of the Japanese continuing their withdrawals from the Wau area toward Mubo, twelve miles South of Salamaua.

London—Royal Air Force bombers renewed their aerial offensive over the Continent last night with an attack on undisclosed targets in Western Germany, the Air Ministry announced today.

"None of our aircraft is missing," the communiqué said.

New Delhi—British bombers in continued attacks on Japanese-occupied Burma started two large fires in the village of Yegyanbyin, on Akyab island, yesterday and bombed troop positions at Donbaik and parked aircraft on Heho airdrome, a British communiqué said today.

Fighters strafed Monywa airdrome, it was added. One airplane was lost.

CANADIAN ARMS PROGRAMME IS IN FULL SWING

Canadian Industry Got Rid of Most of Growing Pains During 1942 to Emphasize Production this Year.

By JACK WILLIAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Feb. 18.—Canada's war industrial program overcame most of its growing pains during 1942 and is headed toward peak production in 1943.

Vast factories built in the previous year-and-a-half, part of the country's $1,000,000,000 spent in plants and defence projects since the war began, came into efficient production last year and from their doors has come a constantly growing stream of munitions and materials that has given new fighting power to forces of the Allied Nations.

Construction of new plants slowed down in 1942 except in branches of war industry where new needs had to be met. There was some expansion in the chemicals and explosives field and work was started on a synthetic rubber plant which will be in production by the end of 1943.

Production planned at present is almost entirely under way. In aircraft, for example, where there has been a change-over from training to combat planes, two of the most important types, the Mosquito and Catalina, are already in production. The Curtiss dive-bomber will be turned out early in 1943, and the big four-motored Lancasters about the middle of the year.

Business on the books of Canadian aircraft plants, from January 1, 1942, to the end of the present program, totals more than Canada's First Great War expenditures for all purposes, including maintaining troops overseas and in Canada. Output of Canadian shipyards during the past year has been more than double, in value, that of 1941. Merchant shipping alone totalled 900,000 tons, compared with 450,000 tons in 1939, and in addition an extensive naval program is being carried on.

Development of chemicals and explosives plants for war needs considerably exceeds the total commercial capacity of the Dominion before the war. Output for war purposes last year will total $111,000,000, double that of 1941.

Small arms, such as Lee-Enfield rifles, Bren and other automatic guns, bomb throwers and anti-tank rifles, are being turned out by Canadian workers at the rate of one a minute and early this year it is expected there will be three every two minutes. With 40,000 finished rounds of ammunition for these guns completed every minute, production will be even further stepped up early in 1943 when it is estimated twice as much small arm ammunition will be produced in a single month as was made in the peak year of the First Great War.

C.W.A.C. CHIEF LONG DESIRED ACTIVE ROLE

Col. Joan Kennedy, Officer Commanding Women's Army Corps, Has Memories of First Great War Raids.

By MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Feb. 18.—A leggy 18-year-old stood on the banks of England's Humber River in 1917 and watched German Zeppelins bomb London. Daily was in Egypt with the Imperial Army as interpreter, Mother in the Women's Land Army pulling weeds and hoeing turnips under the direction of Lady Diana Duff Cooper.

Deep resentment welled in the heart of Joan Kennedy, 18, when she saw the first of the German bombers now Kennedy. She was used to action. She had been brought up on a cattle ranch in Alberta. She liked a fight and she bit her lip in anger because she was missing that one.

Joan Kennedy is in the fight this time, as Canada's only woman lieutenant-colonel she has 8,000 members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps at her back. Col. Kennedy, from the twinkle in her steel blue eyes and the gay self-assurance of her walk, is very happy.

Army brass had didn't pick Col. Kennedy's name with their eyes closed, out of a social register. They added up a lot of hard work, a lot of initiative, a lot of enthusiasm, a big chunk of personality, and the slim 38-year-old woman from Victoria was the answer.

The Colonel and Private Rosy O'Grady are true sisters under the skin. You can't tell Col. Kennedy any-thing about the problems of a C.W.A.C. telephone operator because Joan Kennedy once punched telephone plugs in a switchboard herself. A clerk general or an army bookkeeper can't plead that the officer administering business understands her because Col. A. has worked in an office herself and knows about it. The young recruit from the farm can look at her commandant and remember that her shouder was once a country girl, too, and rode a horse over her father's ranch in the Alberta foothills.

In the language of the barracks block, Col. Kennedy is a good guy, and knows what the score is. She knew the score back in 1938. Most people took a breath of relief after Munich, but Mrs. Kennedy, wife of Norman Kennedy, Victoria civil engineer, didn't like the look of the international situation. Apparently no one else was getting ready for the storm brewing over Europe so she vowed women at least would be ready.

With Mrs. Hugo Rayment—now Capt. Jean Rayment of the C.W.A.C.—she cooked up the British Columbia Women's Service Corps. It wasn't long before several thousand girls and women of the province were training along the lines of the women in Britain's Auxiliary Territorial Service.

War broke out and while the government had not yet decided on the British Columbia girls in navy blue went on drilling, learning motor mechanics, map reading, army administration, first aid and canteen work. Other groups in Canada followed their marching footsteps and in 1940 Mrs. Kennedy toured Canada trying to synchronize these voluntary units into a voice the Canadian army would hear.

In July, 1941, the army listened. The C.W.A.C. was formed. Joan Kennedy was the first C.W.A.C. staff officer in Military District No. 11 with headquarters in Victoria. But it wasn't very long before Ottawa looked her way and she was brought east as Dominion commandant.

The youngster who had watched the Germans bomb London for the first time had got into the fight, right up to the neatly-waved crown of brown hair that's kept short and well off her coat collar.

"I used to be so proud of my mother in her uniform and now I'm just myself," she told a Canadian Press reporter. But khaki hasn't made Col. Joan masculine. "Why should it?" she asked. "The C.W.A.C. is doing a feminine job—helping out Canada as we have to have to stay feminine to do it, well, and we'll all be better women after the war."

Better women in more ways than one, thinks the colonel. "Women won't lose their sense of responsibility to their country again in a hurry," she said. "Most of us have seen a lot of this country, travelling up and down it on active service. We've learned to love not just our own home town but every bit of it from Gaspe and the Maritimes to the British Columbia. There isn't a thing any of us wouldn't do to preserve it."

But Canadian ex-service women will be a lot of homebodies. I'll surely appreciate my home and husband when I get back," said Col. Kennedy. "I'm going to really appreciate being a civilian. We've always gone on the grandest hunting and fishing trips up and down British Columbia. I'll really know I've worked for those trips when I go back."

It will be some time before Col. Kennedy can look forward to going home permanently. "I hope to do something towards the rehabilitation of women after the war. We'll need to work very hard to meet all the adjustments which will be needed."

depending almost entirely on Canada for its raw materials. From the outbreak of war to the end of last year close to 500,000 units were turned out, 215,000 of them in 1942, including all types of trucks, universal carriers and scout cars.

Paralleling this increased production has been a vast expansion in basic materials. Compared with pre-war years, Canada's production of steel has been stepped up 110 per cent, pig iron 150 per cent, malleable castings 500 per cent and aluminium 600 per cent. Canada is producing 40 per cent of all the aluminium used by the United Nations.

Taking part in this gigantic industrial effort are close to 1,000,000 Canadian war workers. It is estimated another 100,000 will join them by the time peak production is reached this year. They have had a part not only in speeding production but in introducing economies and efficiencies that have given Canada new importance as an industrial nation.

COLD WEATHER TIES UP GRAIN TRAFFIC

Port William, Ont., Feb. 18.—Cold weather is tying up an estimated two hundred freight cars loaded with grain for Eastern stockmen in railway yards here every day, railway officials said yesterday.

They added that more than one thousand cars loaded with grain and flax are on lakedown sidings and that trains from Eastern Canada are running as many as twenty-five hours late.

It is the second time in a month that cold weather has caused such a tieup in traffic here.

this equipment Rommel would be able to repair and use or how great his own losses were, but it was strongly indicated that the German attack had succeeded in destroying American armored strength to the point where any advance by a near future was unlikely.

The general feeling by observers at headquarters was that Rommel may have gone as far as he wants to at this stage, however.

But he appeared comparatively free to turn his attention Southward where a counter-attack was announced today that the 8th Army of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery had reached the Maroth line at both Medenine and at Fomm Tatahouine after a 45-mile dash in two days.

The rapid movement of the German armored divisions which drove out of Faid Pass in Central Tunisia Sunday had carried them to within twelve miles of the Algerian border at Feriana and to within eighteen miles of Kasserine.

Fighting yesterday was "on a reduced scale," despite the rapid advance of the enemy, the communiqué said.

LOWER IRELAND

The monthly meeting of the Upper and Lower Ireland Red Cross met in the Anglican Parish Hall on February 4 at 10 a.m. There were twenty-two ladies present. A large amount of work was accomplished. Nine cards for boys 12 years old which were made since the last meeting, were examined and packed. A beautiful quilt was made and donated by Mrs. Irvine Little. Henderson Vale. A short business meeting was held, with the President, Mrs. E. Johnson, in the chair.

Through the generosity of the members, workers and friends, the sum of $46 was given to the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund. At noon a delicious baked bean dinner was served. Mrs. Thomas Learmonth and Mrs. Harry Little being the hostesses.

TRAFFIC BEING SPEEDED UP IN MONTREAL AREA

Railways Report Service Returning to Normal Although Highway Service is Still Suspended.

Montreal, Feb. 18.—While rail transportation, disrupted by Sunday's snow and cold weather, had just about unravelled itself last night, highway traffic was still badly snarled.

A Provincial Transport Company official said services on the routes to Ottawa, Valleyfield, Huntingdon, St. Chrysostome, Sorel, Brownsburg, Oka, St. Louis de Gonzague and Cowansville remain cancelled.

Attempts to push through these snow-clogged routes during the last few days has still to be repaired and all surplus buses are now being used to take war workers to the ring of plants in the Montreal area. War workers come first and we'll have to wait for the damaged buses to be repaired before renewing services to other points," the spokesman said. He did not think the repair jobs would take long.

drawal of its members from the Cabinet, thus creating a split in the wartime Coalition Government.

There even was a possibility the party might be supported by enough Conservatives to defeat the Government in the House vote, although this was not regarded as likely.

The Labor party has 166 members in the House of a total of 615. The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor party, said the War Cabinet has decided on a "no-surrender" policy in the battle with critics of its qualified acceptance of the plan.

Sir John Anderson, Lord President of the Council and a member of the War Cabinet, told the House on the first day of the debate the Government would seek to enact as much of the plan as possible "in principle."

Morning papers today were divided on the issue. The Daily Telegraph, a consistent Government supporter, denounced critics for "trying to stampede the Government into 'immediate legislation' which they have made an end in itself regardless of its practicality and of every other relevant consideration."

The Times which is regarded as spokesman for a large Conservative bloc, said "the Government's acceptance 'in principle' of a very large part of the report has been presented with so many conditions and qualifications as to leave the impression that action, in their view, is only vaguely desirable, that it may be postponed for years or may even be deferred altogether in a coming era of poverty and depression."

Products sold in frozen form and canned goods not sealed or sterilized by heat are not allowed. Neither are such combination items as pork and beans and chowders. But the general run of common canned meats and fish came under the order. Wholesale as well as retail sales were frozen, although wholesalers can buy to keep canners' stocks from over-flowing.

Cets "New" Shoes--Without Coupon 17

Pupils of Central Elementary School, Glenora, Ill., had a students' exchange which for two years has been a medium for swapping and selling skates and overshoes. The youngsters were right on top of the ball when shoe rationing came along, brought in their outgrown shoes, which they sell to fellow-students at their own price, plus a nickel fee which goes to the Red Cross. Above, Allan Murray, assisted by Mary Jane Owen, tries on a pair of "new" shoes.

Staff Work

don, Progressive Conservative Leader, declared that if the Minister was serious he should at once obtain a report on that point from the Justice Department.

Mr. Douglas said the gallantry of the men at Dieppe left nothing to be desired "but that cannot be said of the staff work of those who were responsible for conducting this combined reconnaissance."

There were several points to be cleared up in this regard, he said, and he listed them as follows:

"1.—While there was no preparatory aerial bombardment to soften up the objective my information is that in the original plan that was the intention but that at the last moment it was deleted. If that is true we should know why.

"2.—We should know why men were landed at high tide and taken off at low tide at an hour when anyone who is familiar with the Channel tides would know that these men would have to cross 400 yards of open beach to reach their barges.

"3.—We should know why tanks were landed on a beach facing a 12-foot seawall which had not been breached. The fact that none of the tanks got off the beach is not the thing which surprises me. What astounds me is that those who planned the operation ever expected them to do so."

Canadian people would forgive the Defence Department many things "but they will not forgive them the loss of a single Canadian life that is lost through incompetence or lack of carefully-prepared planning."

It started with Mr. Henry saying the majority of Cabinet Ministers were not in their seats and asking if that indicated lack of interest in the bill. Replying that impression could not be allowed to go abroad, Mr. Hepburn said all were there except two absent through illness and "They are good to sit here listening to political drivel coming from across the floor." The word drivel was withdrawn on ruling of the temporary speaker, Roland Patterson (Liberal, Grey North).

Cross-fire flared again after Mr. Henry expressed surprise that Labor Minister Heenan had engaged as a consultant J. L. Cohen, prominent labor lawyer. Mr. Henry said Hepburn had indicted all the C. I. O. in his speech.

"I didn't indict all the men under Lewis (John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers of America head)," Hepburn retorted. "There are a lot of fine men connected with the C. I. O." He added he had "the greatest respect for J. L. Cohen as a gentleman and a lawyer." Mr. Heenan said earlier that Mr. Cohen was the foremost labor lawyer in Canada.

NETHERLANDS ISLANDS PLAY GREATER ROLE

Oil-Producing Plants of Caribbean Areas Taking New Role in War Effort of United Nations.

Montreal, Feb. 18.—Huge oil refineries and jungle-encircled mines in Dutch territories in the Caribbean today are playing an increasingly important role in the United Nations air and sea offensives against the Axis, says the Netherlands Government Information Bureau here.

Before the war these territories, the Dutch West Indies, which include the islands of Curacao and Aruba, and the 54,000-square-mile territory of Surinam on the northeastern fringe of South America, were to many people mere names on the map. But the world conflict changed all that. Overnight Curacao and Aruba, situated at the crossroads of the Caribbean Sea, became pivotal points in the Allied war effort.

Today operations of sea and air fleets of the United Nations find a source of vast quantities of refined oil, including high test aviation fuel, in the refineries on Curacao and Aruba. The crude oil mainly comes from nearby Venezuela which has no harbors deep enough to accommodate ocean-going tankers and ships the oil from its prolific wells to Curacao. The island of Aruba, where the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey opened operations in 1925, now is the refining centre for more than 50 per cent of Colombia's oil production, exceeding the output of Curacao.

Willenstut, the capital of Curacao and the principal harbor, reflects the great activity of the island as a result of its output of refined oil. The town is dominated by hundreds of oil tanks and by the powerful refining works. Several active refineries in its streets, hundreds of cars, buses and trucks pass from one part of the town to the other. Every quarter of an hour the traffic of the town is interrupted. At these intervals the famous pontoon bridge across the water canal, which cuts the city in half, is opened to allow the passage of oil ships of all types and sizes, bound for Allied ports.

Shortly after Holland was invaded by the Nazis in May, 1940, British troops went to Curacao to co-operate with Dutch forces there in the protection of the vast oil refining installations against a possible Axis attack. Early in 1942 the British troops were replaced by American forces.

The territory of Surinam, about 1,000 miles southeast of Curacao, the main contribution to the United Nations war effort is made by the bauxite mines in the interior. These mines furnish more than 60 per cent of the requirements of the United States aluminum industry. In 1940 the output of bauxite was 1,093,674 tons, almost double that of 1939 which was 616,434 tons.

Surinam's bauxite deposits are found in the foothills along the north coast, chiefly on the creeks that feed the Surinam, Cottica and Coornobito rivers. The largest bed, developed at Moengo by the Surinamische Bauxite Maatschappij, a subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America, is a mile wide and four yards deep, about three miles long, one-third of

Distribution Of New Ration
Books To Commence Tomorrow

Distribution of new ration books will be started tomorrow at twenty-seven issuing offices in Sherbrooke District, it was announced today by officials of the Sherbrooke Ration Board. General offices have been set-up in the different wards in the city and district, as well as in industrial plants and institutions. Books will be issued daily until February 27, inclusive.

Here are some of the points in connection with ration regulations that were explained by Antonin Deslauriers, Secretary of the Local Ration Board:

1. Individuals don't have to get their own books. A member of the family or a friend can do it.
2. With each old ration book, the postcard from the back must be presented, already filled out.
3. The old ration book will be returned as there will still be unused coupons in it.
4. Ration books for new-born babies cannot be obtained at distribution centres, but application must be made through the Local Ration Office.
5. Deaths must also be reported to the local Ration Office.
6. Persons who have new addresses, or have moved here from outside points, will obtain their new books at the office of distribution in their ward.

The work in connection with the issuing of the new ration books will be done by volunteer women workers. It was also explained that the women were instructed to keep an exact tally on the thousands of books they will handle. The number given out each day to each worker will be checked against the number of postcards returned together with the books unused.

Why the new ration books when the present book has four unused sheets of coupons left? Here is the answer given by the local Ration Office of the Quebec Central Railroad Building.

"The four unused sheets of coupons are not enough to ration tea, coffee, sugar and butter for the next six months, Ration Officer J. F. Blais declared. "When the present ration book was printed only sugar was rationed. It was found necessary later to ration tea and coffee and later still, butter. Obviously, if those who designed the ration book had not looked ahead and provided spare sheets, the rationing of tea, coffee and butter would have been difficult."

Mr. Blais said that the new ration books will contain sets of spare coupons simply because it is impossible to foresee now what other commodities may have to be rationed in the future.

SOCIETIES AT
HOLD SESSIONS

Temperance and Christian citizenship formed the subject of an address given by Mrs. N. McLeod at the February meeting of the Lennoxville Women's Christian Temperance Union which was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Abbott on Prospect Street. Mrs. McLeod stressed that temperance in everything really means Christian citizenship. There are many forms of temperance among so called leading citizens, she pointed out, the chief one being greed.

Mrs. L. W. Smith presided. Mrs. E. L. Atto conducted the devotional and study Chapter. The roll call was responded to by articles from the clip sheet, on world-wide visions of Francis Willard.

A nomination and programme committee was appointed and the sum of two dollars was voted to the Aid-to-Russia Fund.

Tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Abbott, assisted by Miss M. Abbott and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

YOUNG WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Perry on Church Street for their regular meeting. Mrs. H. Wark was in the chair and the roll call was responded to by twenty-four members. Reports of Conventions were heard, also from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board representative, Mrs. Kuehner.

After the routine business, Mrs. K. J. McLeod introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Gilbert, who gave a very interesting talk on her experiences in Burma. She was thanked by the President, Mrs. Wark, after which lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. N. Smith and Mrs. R. Healey. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. McLeod on Church Street.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The members of the Lennoxville Women's League of St. Andrew's Church, Sherbrooke, were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. M. MacKenzie on Church Street, where they held their regular monthly meeting.

During the business session plans were made to hold a rummage sale the first week in May; also plans for a tea to be held later in the spring were discussed. Red Cross work is being carried on one evening each week, with Mrs. H. Fowles in charge and a good amount is being accomplished. At the close of the meeting tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Trenholme, of Sherbrooke, assisted by Mrs. MacKenzie.

General Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Ward, Main Street, have received a cable announcing the safe arrival overseas of their son, Gnr. Shirley A. Ward.

SNOWSHOE CLUB
CAPTAINS ARE HONOR GUESTS

Captain of last night's meeting at the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club was "Captains' Night" as Snowshoe Captain Norman Flint, Ski Captain Reg Bishop and Ice-Captain Rupert Carter became the honor members for the evening and as a result were allowed to park at the head table with the honorable organization.

These three were fortunate enough, as were the listeners, in not having to address the members and visitors although Norman and Reg took the floor several times to announce various items of the musical entertainment programme.

After several vigorous games of volleyball, all trooped to the dining room for lunch which was followed by the reading of the minutes and correspondence by Secretary Gordon LeBaron, while tinges of old "Red Party" uprisings were evidenced in the sarcastic promptings of Don McRae.

Heading the guest list for the evening were soldiers from the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre who were extended a hearty welcome by President Hawley Griffith and the Club. After a sing-song led by Cliff Bryant, subbing in the absence of the regular chorister and doing a good job of it, the two other guests, Tom Kennedy and Dave Trudel, were introduced. Lieutenant Courtois replied with thanks on behalf of the soldiers for the invitation extended them.

Several musical selections were then rendered by the visitors, Lieut. Courtois capturing the house with classical and "boogie-woogie" piano pieces. A mouth organ and guitar solo were given by two other soldiers while Dave Trudel sang two entertaining baritone songs. These guest artists were thanked by H. Downs.

The announcement of the season's final Ladies' Day on Saturday by Hawley Griffith closed the night's activities.

ONE FIRE CALL

The Municipal Fire Department had one call in the past twenty-four hours. Firemen were summoned to the home of Mrs. M. A. C. Bennett, 30 High Street, where they put out a chimney blaze. No damage resulted.

Army Endeavors To Place Each Individual Where Best Suited

One of the Canadian Army's most modern devices for the building of a potent fighting force is the Directorate of Personnel Selection, and there's the word of commanding officers all across the country that it's doing a good job.

Personnel selection officers are charged with allocating a pre-determined percentage of recruits to each of the various branches of the army according to their need, and at the same time trying to place each individual where he is best suited to serve.

Known as Army Examiners, they interview every man inducted into the army to find out his capacity to absorb various kinds of training. With that knowledge available, and details of the educational, occupational and background standards required by each corps or special trade, a recruit can be assigned to the corps or unit where he can do the best job with the most pleasure to himself.

But there's a catch, according to National Defence Headquarters' officers. Frequently too many men wish to join the same corps. Working on the theory that an army composed overwhelmingly of tank crews or mechanics wouldn't be very effective, the Army Examiner steps in. If a man can't be used in the corps of his choice the only alternative is to assign him to another where he can serve most advantageously.

"Often enough a man comes in vigorously intent upon joining a certain branch," one officer explained, "but most of the time if we just explain why he is needed elsewhere, and that his chances of promotion are just as great as elsewhere, he is perfectly willing to go where he is assigned."

If a potential recruit insists on any particular corps or unit he can enlist in it, but he is made to understand that if circumstances necessitate his being transferred later, he will be transferred. Army Examiners are instructed to give a recruit's personal wishes every possible consideration without impairing the efficiency of the Army as a whole.

At basic training centres most men previously ear-marked are re-examined, and their progress reported. Some are noted as possibilities for future officers, N.C.O.'s or tradesmen. Some previously assigned to one branch are allocated to another for which they are most suited. Final selection is made at advanced training centres, from which the trained soldiers are sent for operational duty or further training.

Since the inception of the Directorate of Personnel Selection instances have arisen of soldiers choosing or being placed in certain corps or certain jobs in which they were not satisfied. Army Examiners, hearing of the cases, have conducted personal interviews with the men's wishes and aptitudes, and then re-posted them. Time after time re-examination proved that for the first time since his enlistment the soldier involved was serving happily, and more effectively.

TO DECIDE IF
BYE-ELECTION
WILL BE HELD

Annulment last June of the election of R. G. Davidson as Member of Parliament for Stanstead had an echo in the House of Commons yesterday when Prime Minister Macdonald gave notice of the order of the day to refer to the Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections whether a writ should be issued for a bye-election in Stanstead riding.

The Supreme Court of Canada annulled the election of Mr. Davidson, Liberal member for the constituency, for illegal practices by agents.

Mr. King's motion said: "That pursuant to the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, which on the 29th of June, 1942, annulled the election of Mr. Davidson, the Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections be instructed to consider whether the House should order a new writ for an election in the said electoral district."

WARNING TO LAWYERS

Montreal Feb. 18.—Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lacombe yesterday warned lawyers that they would not be recognized in Court of King's Bench if they were not properly gowned. His Lordship condemned the practice of one gowned lawyer acting as a mouthpiece for as many as ten who appear in business suits. He warned that cases where counsel were not properly gowned would be "continued generally."

ALD. THIBAUT
WILL ABANDON COUNCIL SEAT

Alderman Eugene Thibault, former chairman of the Finance Committee who abandoned that portfolio some months ago and took over control of the Waterworks Department, stated to a Record representative today that he had definitely decided to seek re-election at expiration of his term of office next month.

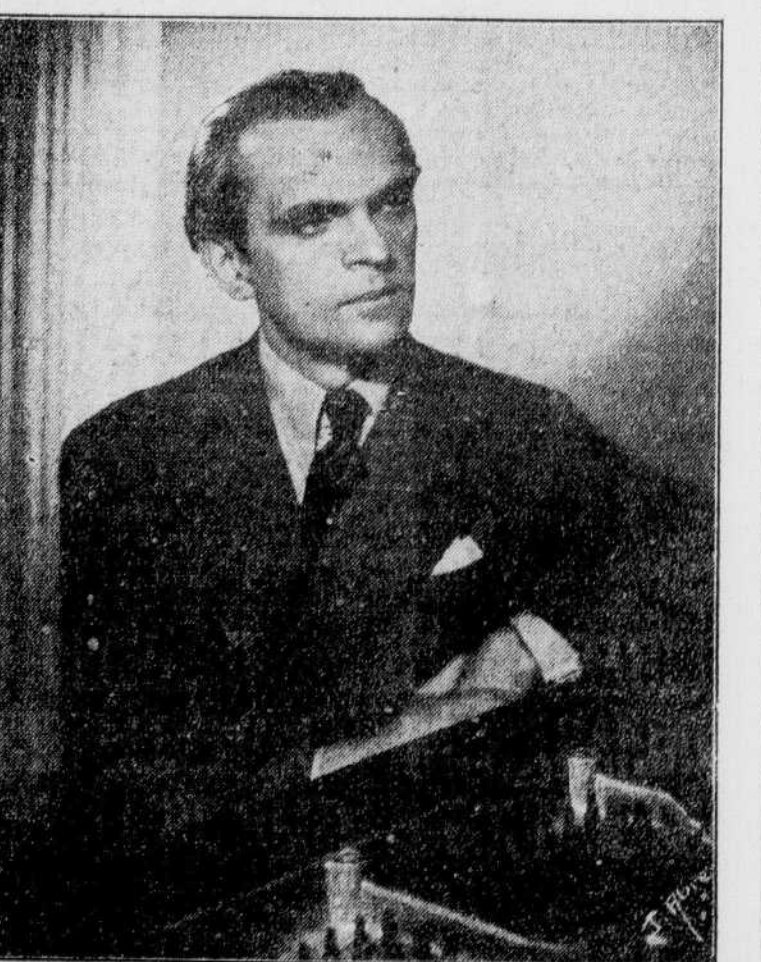

"I have served nine years on the Council," he said, "and I think someone else should take over. I feel that I have done my share."

Then he added: "They planned on putting up opposition if I sought re-election, and I have no money to spend on an election campaign." According to present indication Alphonse Trudeau will accept the nomination for the South Ward vacancy and his election by acclamation, together with the re-election of Guy Bryant in the North, O. Desziel in the East and Armand Pissette in the West, appears assured.

WILL CARRY ON LEGAL BUSINESS

It was announced today that W. H. Lynch, K.C., for many years an associate of the late John P. Wells, K.C., D.C.L., whose death occurred last Friday, would continue to carry on the legal business of the firm of Wells and Lynch in the Sun Life Building. This is one of the oldest law firms in the City of Sherbrooke, and the late Mr. Wells had been member of the Bar for over fifty years.

Polish Pianist Coming To Sherbrooke

Sherbrooke music-lovers will early in March have an opportunity of hearing Witold Maluczynski, the young Polish pianist and pupil of Paderewski.

At the Polish Conservatory in 1936, he was awarded first prize for piano in Prof. Turczynski's class. This led to a most significant event in his life. Paderewski, hearing of his talent, invited Mr. Maluczynski to play for him at his Morges estate in Switzerland. The great pianist was so impressed with the gifts of the young man that he offered to become his teacher. Concluding his studies with Paderewski, Maluczynski entered and won in the International Chopin Competition in Warsaw.

He then gave concerts in most of the European capitals, including Warsaw, Vienna, Budapest, Brussels, Riga, London and Lisbon. He played in France at Lyon, Marseille, Bordeaux, Biarritz, Nice, Monte Carlo and in Paris, where he made his debut in Chopin's F minor Concerto with the Paderewski Orchestra under the baton of Albert Wolff.

53 REGIMENTAL
CHAPTER I.O.D.E.
REVIEWED YEAR

Interesting reports reviewing the activities of the past year were presented at the annual meeting of the 53rd Regimental Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, which was held at the MacKinnon Memorial.

The financial statement tabled by the Treasurer, Mrs. F. T. Shorten, showed general fund receipts amounted to $886.86 and disbursements to $317.07; war service fund receipts to $492.71 and disbursements to $470.07. Cash on hand in the general funds amounted to $72.07 and in the War Service Fund to $47.10.

Following the re-election of Mrs. R. M. Loughheed as Regent, together with the entire roll of other officers, she called for a list of volunteers to sell War Savings stamps on Friday and Saturday afternoons in local stores.

Mrs. Loughheed thanked all members for their loyalty and co-operation during the past year. She said she had enjoyed working with her officers and expressed the hope that more of the members would attend the meetings regularly.

Various reports were presented as follows: Echoes' Secretary, Mrs. F. Wilson; Child and Family Welfare, Mrs. A. R. Stewart; Navy League, Mrs. T. D. Wyatt; Ex-service Men, Mrs. T. Crossley; Film Convent, Mrs. T. D. Wyatt; Colonization and Immigration, Miss E. Sykes; Endowment Fund, Mrs. E. Samson; War Savings Stamps, Mrs. T. Crossley; Hospitality Convent, Mrs. E. Samson; Canteen Convent, Mrs. F. Cathart; War Service Convent, Mrs. T. A. Loughheed.

Conventions were re-appointed as follows: War Service, Mrs. T. A. Loughheed; Canteen, Mrs. F. Cathart, with Mrs. F. Catter assistant to these two convents; Endowment Fund, Mrs. E. Samson; Child and Family Welfare, Mrs. P. Bick; Navy League, Mrs. A. Bick; Films, Mrs. T. D. Wyatt; Colonization and Immigration, Mrs. A. Moore; Empire Study, Mrs. C. Boudreau.

It was voted that the Regent and First Vice-Regent be appointed Councillors for the provincial meeting, and Mrs. W. E. Loomis was named councillor for the national meeting.

The war service report indicated that much work had been done during the past year. The convent stated that St. Agnes' Guild, Church of the Advent, contributed two donations of knitted articles and a large bundle of clothing for British bombed victims. "We also have a great many friends outside of our chapter who knit for us."

The group turned in 419 knitted articles for field comforts and 428 for Bundles for Britain, and five ditty bags were made and filled out at a cost of $5 each. Money was also donated to the War Guest Fund, the Polish Relief Fund, the Camp Library, the Bomber Fund, and the Sailors' and Miners' War Funds. Books and magazines and cards were given to the camp library, the refugee camp and the Red Shield canteen.

The convent of the Red Shield canteen stated that bingo parties were given every Wednesday night and they were a duty, at which cigarettes were donated, and refreshments were served to 560.

In her report, May E. Bordwin, Secretary, pointed out that there were twelve regular business sessions, two sewing evenings, three combined social-business meetings and three social gatherings. The organization supplied the East Ward School regularly with milk for its pupils, as well as furnishing a prize for each class.

Money was donated to the following: Fighta plane for Australia, Elizabeth Thomson Bursary, Victorian Order of Nurses, Navy League, Mary Barrows Nursing Fund, work in India, Labrador Cocoa Fund, Agricultural Bursary, Endowment Fund, Lawrence Colony Cocoa Fund, War Guest Fund, Boy Scout Toy Shop, Salvation Army, National Camp Library, Sailors' and Miners' Fund and Polish Relief Fund. Funds were raised through raffles, rummage sales, tag days, bingo parties, bridge and at dances held at the 53rd Armory. Contributions were received from G. S. Thomson, Mrs. A. A. Munster, Sherbrooke Winter Club and from "A Friend of the Needy" especially for winter cheer.

According to the report, the organization sold War Savings Stamps in the lobby of the Granada Theatre and purchases of sweaters were made for the Navy, wool for the organization workers, flannel for the layettes for Bundles for Britain and ditty bags have been packed and sent to the Navy.

Many of the members attended the semi-annual session held at the New Sherbrooke Hotel in the fall when Mrs. T. Loughheed was honored. She was given her life membership badge.

CARMEN MIRANDA ON
CHASE-SANBORN HOUR

Every so often Charlie McCarthy looks Edgar Bergen squarely in the eye and says, "Are you slipping, Bergen? I haven't seen Carmen Miranda in months." And then Bergen, using the McCarthy voice, calls Carmen on the phone and invites her to drop in Sunday night. She had no plans for this Sunday night, and therefore readily agreed to be on the Chase and Sanborn programme, February 21 at 8:00 p.m. (E.W.T.)

RECRUITS FOR NAVAL RESERVE
SOUGHT IN AREA

A recruiting campaign for the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, under Lieutenant Paul L'Abbe, naval recruiting officer, got underway this morning in the City Hall. Lieut. L'Abbe will be at the temporary headquarters from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. today, tomorrow and Friday.

He pointed out that more seamen are needed and enumerated these as: torpedomen, runners, anti-submarine detectors, signalmen and wireless operators. There is also a limited number of openings for machinists and stokers.

Prospective applicants are requested to report to the naval recruiting officer with their birth and school certificates, including letters of reference from their former employers.

ENTERTAINMENT
SATURDAY NIGHT

The "Legs-N-Airs" Revue from Montreal will be put on at the 53rd Armory on Saturday night for members of the armed forces and their friends. It was announced today, this show being sponsored by the Canadian Legion War Services assisted by the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, the Lions Club, the Y's Men, the Sherbrooke Regiment, 2nd Battalion, Reserve, Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, 2nd Battalion, Reserve, and the Citizens War Auxiliary Service and the Y.M.C.A.

This popular Revue has been playing in various camps in the Maritime Provinces and the United States and an evening of top-notch entertainment is in store for Saturday night's audience. Civilians will not be admitted to the Armory unless accompanied by a friend in uniform as it is expected accommodations will be taxed to look after the men in khaki.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—The Canadian Aid to Russia Fund is $22 richer today but officials still are attempting to trace the unknown benefactor. The fund's Clothing Division received a pair of pants and the money had been left in the pockets by the donor.

over NBC, along with Dale Evans and Ray Noble's orchestra. Miss Miranda is improving her mastery of English in between each visit. Last time she caught McCarthy off-guard with a flip, "Okeedokee, Sherlee," when the dummy was least expecting it. It is hoped that between banterings with Charlie, she'll find time to do one of her inimitable "Souze American" numbers which are so popular.

Another special visitor is Rear Admiral Isaac C. Johnson, Director of the Naval Office of Procurement, who will attempt to keep Charlie from joining the Navy. What the Rear Admiral has to say, however, should very much interest the young women of the United States who are not currently in the war effort in some phase or other.

TRAITORS TO THE DEMOCRACIES

The United States Government, through the Department of Justice, has let it be known that after the war it will seek six citizens—four men and two women—now living in enemy countries to try them as traitors for their broadcasting of propaganda over the Axis radios.

Great Britain will probably follow suit. She has not so many perfidious people to look after, but there is, of course, the notorious Lord Haw Haw, whom the public once regarded as an amusing fellow, but whose anti-British broadcasts were dangerous because they were so subtle.

It is difficult for any Britisher or American to understand why anyone who has enjoyed the freedom and way of living in their respective countries should choose to settle in another country where democracy has been crushed and tyrant dictators hold sway. And it is more incomprehensible why they should seek to abuse the lands of their birth where any men or women of their "intellectual" type have every opportunity of making their way to success. Intelligent they are, but somehow they develop a "crackpot" streak and turn renegades. They like to think of themselves as "cosmopolitans," citizens of any country that takes their fancy, and no doubt they regard themselves as some kind of heroes who dare to live in the midst of their countries' enemies and help the Nazi and Fascist cause.

Things were going well for the Axis when these people were in their heyday. They must be growing nervous now as to their ultimate fates. They know that their German and Italian sponsors will throw them out of their jobs as soon as their usefulness is ended. Indeed, some have already been "ditched" for making bad "breaks." Neither Germany nor Italy will care what happens to them after the crash comes. There will be no sanctuary for them there, and their own countries will only receive them to go on trial as traitors. They are a miserable, unhappy and worthless gang.

CANADA MIGHT TAKE ACTION

Offering an example which Canada might well follow, the British Parliament is turning an enquiring eye on the question of whether Britain's mounting battalions of civil servants are doing their job as efficiently as possible or whether drastic overhauling of this nation-wide directorate is necessary.

The report of a committee which investigated the civil service position was debated in the House of Commons and in addition to its recommendations members put their own suggestions in the pot. There was unanimity on one point only—that something will have to be done about the country's 1,000,000 officials, 700,000 of them civil servants.

The Committee's main recommendations were: 1—The setting up of a select committee to help maintain the highest efficiency in the civil service through employing the most modern methods. A "flying squad" of Treasury efficiency experts would go around "gingering" up departments in Whitehall and elsewhere.

2—A staff college for civil servants and possibly also local Government officers so that men of merit could rise to higher grades.

3—A special minister responsible for civil service administration.

Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, gave little support to the first and third recommendations but said that the idea of a staff college was one of the big things to be considered in investigations, to be started at once, into the whole question of training civil servants.

The tenor of criticism was that the immense and ever-expanding bureaucracy—there were only 300,000 civil servants when Bernard Shaw declared in 1930 that civil service regulations were taking the place of laws—is getting too strong a grip on the country.

Some members would like to reduce the number of officials by many thousands to the benefit of the armed forces. Expense of maintaining the civil service was also criticized.

There were complaints, too, that the "civil service mind" is often unenterprising and procrastinating and that the traditional system of procuring files from one department to another for comment before a final decision is made is too cumbersome.

RADIO OR THE PRESS?

In his opening address in the Senate, Senator Rupert Davies made a striking appeal against the general policy of the Government which seems to be to put the radio first in connection with official news releases and allow the papers to pick up the crumbs that fall from the table. Senator Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard, pointed out that there are 2,660,000 houses in Canada. The circulation of the eighty-eight daily newspapers is 2,364,844, and the number of licensed radio sets is 1,623,439. Upon these figures he based a plea for newspaper priority, or at least an even break, in the publication of official announcements.

These figures speak for themselves. The number of newspapers sold in Canada every day is almost equivalent to the number of homes. There are, of course, many homes which take two papers a day, but there are over 1,000,000 homes which have no radio sets. There are many homes with two and even more radios, and surprising at it may seem to city people who have radios all around them, it would seem that about half the houses in the Dominion have no radio. Therefore, when the Government asks people to tune in on a certain station at a certain time for an important announcement, half the people cannot hear it because they have no receiving sets.

Yet the Government has the "nerve" to ask the newspapers to make these preliminary announcements of the broadcasts, sometimes two days in advance, although the statement could be given to the press there and then and reach far more people than the radio does.

Besides, what is distributed over the radio may not be heard at all for a number of reasons, and if the public had to rely on the radio, most of them would never know anything about the announcement. But the newspaper is a permanent record which may be read next day, or next month, and can always be referred back to. What goes over the radio is lost at once except in the memory of those who did listen to the broadcast. And very probably the listener who tries to relate to other people what was said does not repeat it accurately. In that way, broadcast announcements of important matters of policy are dangerous.

INCREASING VEGETABLE DEMAND

Vegetables form an important item in the food supply of the Dominion and officials are urging a greater production of both fresh and canned products during the coming summer. In making this call they point out that increased domestic demand will probably be accompanied by an expanded call from the armed forces and the likelihood of having to ship canned vegetables to the presently-occupied countries. Furthermore, some see the United States as taking a substantial portion of the Canadian output.

To meet some of these requirements dehydrated vegetables—potatoes, carrots, cabbage, turnips, beets and parsnips will be needed. Increases in production to meet this demand should take place in areas close to existing dehydration plants. As for canning, metal container allotments will be limited but tin will be available for tomatoes, corn, peas and snap beans.

An increase in tomato production, particularly for processing, is sought. Much of this increase should go into the manufacture of tomato juice which requires less labor than canned tomatoes. The pack of canned tomatoes should be as heavy as possible. The conference urged that arrangements for the production of tomatoes for canning purposes be made at the earliest possible date.

As with most other vegetables, larger supplies of green vegetables are also said to be needed. Celery and asparagus are exceptions, however. Celery takes up cold storage space needed for products of higher food value. And in the case of asparagus the shortage in containers may restrict the volume that can be canned.

It would appear that increased domestic demand, larger volume for the armed forces, and the possibility of increased exports combine to provide a reasonably good prospect for the commercial vegetable grower. And for those who grow vegetables only for home use an extra row or two should be planted especially when seed is already on hand. There is no way that food can be produced more quickly than by the growing of vegetables. And with transportation facilities taxed to the limit one way of easing the burden is to grow as much food as possible right at home. From every angle, therefore, it appears desirable to urge increased production of vegetables in 1943.

FARMERS' AND WORKERS' SHARE

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir—S. H. Knowles, now M.P. for Winnipeg North Centre, made this statement in his maiden speech in the House a few days ago: "Today the workers and farmers produce the nation's wealth but get only a meagre portion of it. There is no justice under such a system."

The statement is inaccurate and untrue. The proportion of the national income going to labor ranges between 61 and 65 per cent—this can hardly be described as meagre. The share of the farmer has varied in recent years from 14.7 to 5 per cent. The extreme low was reached by a combination of small crops and low prices.

Labor, so-called, and farmers are not, however, the only workers. There are a great many others who might, in any reasonable calculation, be numbered among those who work. About the fisherman, the trapper, the doctor, the lawyer or other professional classes? Then there are those who, while working just as hard, and probably at longer hours, are essentially workers though they are generally classed as "private enterprises." I refer to the owners of small business establishments where their labor, not their invested capital, is the main source of their income.

The real share going to labor will vary slightly from time to time but on any fair estimate of what constitutes a worker it is safe to say that from 80 to 85 per cent of the national income goes to labor. Surely this cannot be called a "meagre portion."

The other factor which needs consideration and never receives it is that the percentage cannot be increased by raising the rate of wages. The percentage has been fairly constant over a generation—even over a century. The standard of living of labor increases only with the increase of the national income or, to put it another way, with increased production. It does not rise, may, in fact, fall, from an increase of money wages which only too often must lead to a decrease of total wage payments.

Yours truly,
R. J. DEACHMAN.

EVENING STAR

Dusk and one dark pine stands
Lone, on a hill;
Far in the lower West
Gold lingers still.
There hangs the evening star
Its beacon high,
Softly it shines, alone,
First in the sky.
Beam from that far blue realm
Beyond our ken,
Symbol that yet exalts
The souls of men.
On restless hearts it sheds
A steadfast light,
True guide for who must walk,
Lost, in the night.

Oh, may our little earth,
Sad war-torn place,
Yet be a beacon light
Shining in space.
Beacon of love and hope
To creatures far,
Sign of the Infinite—
An Evening Star!

PRESS COMMENTS

RUSSIANS PAYING A TERRIFIC PRICE

New York Herald Tribune
"Tell America," said a Russian colonel whom I was bidding farewell, "not to put us so much on the back."

"But," I said, "America appreciates the heroism of the Red Army." "Yes," he said, "but think of the price we are paying. I had two brothers. One is dead. From the other I haven't heard in three months—a bad sign. My wife and child saved themselves and are now in Novosibirsk. But my poor father and mother remained in occupied territory. In all likelihood they are dead because of me, a son who is a colonel in the Red Army."

Hardly a Russian I went to see before leaving Moscow but spoke in a similar vein. Happy as Russians are over their present victories, they are acutely aware that the fighting is on Russian soil, that it is Russian towns, villages and cities which are being devastated.

Not for a single moment do they forget the stupendous price they are paying. Too many, too constant, too poignant are the personal reminders, especially when they cannot escape the photographs on the walls of a father, a son, a husband, a brother who will never return. Few Russians wear mourning. There is no law against it. When there is so much bereavement in the country, there is no use showing it in public. That also is why there are seldom public funerals. I did not see one in Moscow in all the time I was there. But if people did wear mourning in the capital or in Leningrad, the streets and public squares would be black.

"Rzhev," I heard an officer say, "is a slaughterhouse. We are killing plenty of Germans, but they are killing lots of our men—the flower of our youth." It is not only in Rzhev that the flower of Russia's youth is perishing, and Russians know it only too well. Russia is a land of young wives; there are millions of them. There are even more millions of orphans.

It is safe to assert that no less than 4,000,000 Russians have already lost their lives in the fighting. But this is the smaller part of the casualties the Russians have suffered. By far the greater number of deaths has occurred in the German-held territories.

In a village which the Germans controlled for ten months, there is an old peasant barn built of timber, with a low-hanging thatched roof which tells a shattering story. In the dead of winter, the Germans drove into this barn several hundred Russian war prisoners. Despite the bitter cold, there was no heat in the barn, not a single wood stove. Nor did the Russians have warm clothes. The Germans stripped them of the fells, woollens and sheepskins they wore when they were captured. Exposed to cold and wretchedly fed—one bowl of grainless soup and one slice of bread a day—they died by the score from pneumonia and other diseases.

One night two Russians attempted to escape. They were captured and hanged in front of the barn. For three weeks, in wind and snow, the frozen bodies swung from the gallows. I was in this village, and eyewitnesses who told me this story said they had never seen anything more gruesome.

There were hundreds of such barns in the German-held lands. War prisoners and others lived, hungered and died in crowds. No one knows how many millions of Russians have died prematurely in conquered territory. The estimates run from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000. But even if we lower it to 6,000,000, Russia has already lost at least 10,000,000 lives.

The population of America is about three-fourths that of Russia in 1939. The reader can imagine what the condition of American homes and the mood of the American people would be had we suffered a proportionate loss of life—that is between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000.

With so many millions already sacrificed in the war, not merely against Fascism but against the Germans, the Japanese, the Italians and workers, Russians feel their losses too deeply to derive consolation from the plaudits of the outside world. It is significant that the Russian press gives little space to these plaudits.

Wherever one turns in Russia, one becomes acutely aware of the tremendous sacrifices the people are making. The fact that they are enduring these sacrifices with fortitude does not mitigate their severity.

CALLS 48-HOUR WEEK INFLATION PURE AND SIMPLE

New York Times

The forty-eight hour week order announced by Mr. Byrnes, signed by the President and elaborated by Mr. McNutt, has two declared purposes. The first is to achieve the fullest mobilization of our manpower to carry out "one of the greatest military operations ever planned in history." The second declared purpose is to prevent inflation.

The order, in fact, will actually lead to a far less effective use of manpower than intelligent and courageous measures could achieve. And far from preventing inflation, it is the most inflationary single positive step that the Administration has yet taken. It will, finally, have disruptive effects on American industry.

It is good so far as it goes for the Administration to provide that: "For the duration of the war, no plant, factory or other place of employment shall be deemed to be making the most effective utilization of its manpower if the minimum work week therein is less than forty-eight hours." But such a measuring rod must be properly applied. If each employer, knowing his own situation, and not subject to legal punitive overtime rates for hours under forty-eight, had been allowed up to now to work out the problem for himself, it is altogether probable that there would today be an average forty-eight hour week in the non-durable goods industries (as there was in the First World War) instead of an average forty-hour week.

But a forty-eight hour week with penalty overtime imposed on employers from without does not necessarily lead in each case to a corresponding increase in production (i.e., 20 per cent.) over a forty-hour week. Cases have frequently been reported of slow-downs in war plants for the purpose of producing overtime or to make the work last longer when there were signs of a materials shortage. The question should be raised whether the substitution of piece work where possible in war industries might not eliminate this practice at the same time that it provided positive incentives to greater war production.

The only way in which Congress can hope to undo the harm which

LEAD INTO TENACE CRIPPLES DEFENCE

I had to leave Philadelphia at the end of the first session of the Pennsylvania State team-of-four contest, and when I left I thought our team might bring home the trophy, as we were in the lead. But in the evening session the team of Mrs. A. M. Sobel, Charles H. Goren, Dr. Leon J. Altman and Edward Cohn had a remarkable game, winning 23 out of 27 matches—thus passing us. We had to be content with second place.

Today's hand is taken from that tournament. When the declarer won the opening lead with the queen of spades, he saw he would have to find the king of clubs doubleton in East's hand to make the contract easy. However, when West failed on the second club, declarer won with the ace. Next followed three heart tricks, West discarding down to four spades and two diamonds. The king of spades threw West in, but he could cash only four spade tricks, then had to lead up to declarer's ace-queen of diamonds.

INSTITUTE AT WAY'S MILLS HELD SESSION

Interesting Paper Relative to Nutrition Campaign Read at Monthly Meeting of W.I.

Way's Mills, Feb. 18.—The Institute was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Sargeant on Thursday, February 5, with a large attendance of members and visitors. Mrs. Hovey presided and the usual routine was followed.

The roll call was answered by naming "My Favorite Radio Announcer." After the minutes were read and accepted, the Treasurer gave her report, showing $11.40 on hand, with all bills paid.

In connection with the National Nutrition Campaign, an interesting paper was read entitled, "Eat Right to Feel Right," showing the importance of correct diet for everyone, especially children.

Mrs. Holmes gave items of interest on "National Unity," "Farmers' Unions," "Evils of Criticism" and gave statistics to show the appalling death rate from tuberculosis in this Province, where a death occurs every three and a half hours from this cause.

Mrs. Geddes gave a remedy for burns and treatment for whooping cough. She also gave an interesting report of the county meeting at North Stansfeld in November, which had been omitted at the last meeting.

Mrs. Holmes was asked to pack the seeds for Britain again. Generous donations of packaged seeds had been received from the Steele Briggs and McKenzie Seed Companies. Money for postage will be solicited as before.

Misses Agnes Oliver and Amy Davidson were elected as a nominating committee.

A very interesting "quiz" programme was conducted by Miss Davidson, after which each one read an amusing "boner" taken from school examinations. These caused a great deal of laughter. After adjournment, tea was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Holmes and Miss Davidson.

EPHYPANY VESTRY MEETING
The annual Vestry meeting of the Church of the Epiphany was held at the home of W. B. Sargeant on Thursday evening, January 28.

Rev. W. J. Belford opened the meeting with prayer and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the Vestry Clerk, Mrs. W. B. Sargeant. The financial statement of the church was read by the People's Warden, H. T. Emo, and showed a small balance on hand, with all bills paid.

W. A. Cramer gave the Cemetery report, which also showed a satisfactory balance on hand.

The Guild report, given by Mrs. H. T. Emo, showed a successful year. Assistance had been given the W.A. at Hatley in outfitting an Indian girl; sunshiny bags; thank-offering boxes; knitted comforts for the boys Overseas, as well as insurance and wood for the Church were some of the expenses. Another Victory Bond was purchased and a hot water tank installed in the Parsonage.

The election of officers for the coming year was as follows: Rector's Warden, W. B. Sargeant; People's Warden, H. T. Emo; Auditors, W. A. Cramer and D. Davidson; Sidesmen, W. B. Sargeant, A. H. Davidson, L. Emo and D. Davidson. Mr. Belford thanked all the Church officers, the Organist and the Guild for their faithful work during the year. The meeting closed with the Benediction, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Sargeant and Miss Davidson.

General Notes
Many from here attended the funeral service held in Beebe for Mrs. Harry Searies. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sargeant, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gledhill, Mrs. Harry Emo, Miss Amy Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis were among the number. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved husband, mother and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Iby Wheeler and Mr. John Bryan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bryan.

Does He Ever Tell You "I Loved Your Letter"?

His Girl Knows Writing Rules

From his happy smile you can bet his girl will never lose him by poor letters! She's made her letter style as beautiful and as smartly correct as her best date dress!

After all, when you're far away, your letter is your only representative. If you've written a dowdy "not been anywhere," you're not there with a cute pout to laugh it off.

Nor does he remember your warm friendly smile when you write boring, tedious sentences like: "Well, I have filled this sheet, as I guess I will close." He'll be charmed all over again, though, if you flatter: "Waiting to you is such fun I hate to stop!"

You'll go farther at the office, too, if you keep the good-will of clients with up-to-date letters. No deadening "Your letter received and contents noted" instead of "Thank you for your letter!" No cheap expressions like "A-I" when you mean "finest quality."

Our 32-page booklet gives proper business and social letter forms, 24 model letters of all types. Suggests topics to write to friends about, gives tips on grammar, helps you to write easily, charmingly.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Good Letter-Writing Made Easy" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Exercise Routines Keep You Chipper With a Balanced, Easy Regularity

BY ALICIA HART

Grandma used to say, "Pretty is as pretty does," meaning the kindly lass was her choice regardless of the tilt of her nose. Nowadays alert girls say for themselves, "Pretty is as pretty feels," meaning the girl who is sufficiently rested, fit, and alive to notice when the sun is shining probably will be willing and able to keep her face, figure, and clothes fresh, interesting, and attractive.

One certain way to feeling chipper is general conditioning exercise. If you have a monotonous though active job, or if your work keeps you inactive, you really must swing a muscle. When you do this in active sports, whether bowling or skating or whatever, okay, if you do it regularly. But if you aren't getting in your active sports, then do try some strengthening, setting up routines. The results in feeling alert will surprise you.

For an interesting time of exercising, try this one which has been used by the WAACS:

Kneel on the floor or mat. Let arms hang comfortably at sides. Swing arms forward, shoulder high, and at the same time extend the right leg to the side as far as possible. Now swing arms sideways, straight out. Then drop them to original position, and at the same time return leg to original position. Relax and reverse, extending left leg. Repeat about eight times.

Many experts say it's a mistake to try to attain military precision in exercising, especially when your object is general conditioning. I wouldn't advise you to rag-doll through your set-ups, uppers. But freedom during the exercises is important. You may tend to move stiffly at first—or listlessly. Try to strike a balanced, easy pace.

Splendid work is being done at the Red Cross rooms every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m., and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7.30 to 9.30 p.m. The community is very anxious that more women should pledge their assistance for certain days and thus enable them to control a steady supply of dressings to Headquarters. The demand for these dressings is tremendous. Knitters and sewers are also urged to help.

Mrs. H. Drennan and Mr. James Drennan spent a day in Cowansville. The C.G.I.T. groups enjoyed a sleigh drive one night. Thanks are due to David McClure, who acted as teamster for the evening. The girls returned to the Church parlors, where hot beans were served.

Mrs. William Logie, of Montreal, spent a week-end with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Barker.

Mr. C. McCormick spent Saturday in Montreal.

Miss Beryl Henry, of Montreal, spent the week-end at her home here.

Captain Roberge, of Petawawa, Ont., spent the week-end with his family here.

Mrs. A. Farley and Miss Barbara Farley, of St. Johns, spent the week-end here.

The fire brigade was called to the home of Mr. Champagne on North Street on Sunday morning. Parts of the roof had to be torn off to enable the firemen to get at the blaze. The house was badly damaged by fire and water.

The Ration Book No. 2 will be available at the Knights of Columbus rooms in the Town Hall on February 10 to 25 inclusive, except Sunday, in the afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock and in the evening from 7 to 10 o'clock.

A large number of skiers and spectators of Cowansville ventured out in very bad weather to attend the women's championship ski-meet. The skiers gathered at the New Ottawa Hotel and were driven to the Chalet by four teams. A large meal of this nature required a great deal of planning and the members of the club worked very diligently. The committee wishes to thank all those who in any way helped to make the meet such a success.

Miss Marge Palmer, of Sherbrooke, was a guest of her aunt, Miss Corrine Beaudoin.

TOTALLY BLIND WOMAN DIRECTS AIR RAID WORK

Vancouver Woman Finds Handicap Rather an Advantage in Handling Duties During Blackout.

Vancouver, Feb. 18.—Members of the Women's Ambulance Corps in Vancouver, ready for many duties in the event of an emergency, will be called into action by a woman to whom the blackout makes no difference.

She is Mary Munn, who has downed the handicap of blindness in order to take an active part in the life of the community to which she came two years ago from England. She does her share in the war effort by acting as telephoneist and filing clerk in the Women's Ambulance Corps office here.

Her records are in Braille, which she fingers deftly as she makes appointments for recruits, arranges lecture classes for women of the Corps and calls members to duty.

Miss Munn was given her job on a temporary basis during a recruiting campaign for the Corps early this year but she became an invaluable assistant to Elizabeth Darling, Corps secretary, and Mrs. G. R. Vance, who completed the staff of the office.

"That is what I intended to do all along," she said. "I made a big fuss about being the only one who could do any work without lights and I finally talked them into it."

A gifted musician who has given concerts here, Miss Munn learned office routine at the Royal Normal College for the Blind in London "longer ago than I like to say."

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headaches by regulating the digestive and biliary organs, neutralizing acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headaches should disappear.

Creed

If they should ask you,
"Why do you fight?"
Tell them, "For Freedom. For the right
To live in peace; to worship God;
To build a cottage, turn a sod
That is my own; to trust my friends;
To know that when the work day ends,
A wife and children wait to greet
Me with a smile. I fight to meet
The future unshamed; to read
What books I will; to choose the creed
I wish; face politicians unafraid,
And criticize, if need be, laws they've made.
These are the web of life; For these,
My strength; these are the rights that I defend."

Mrs. Stephen Miller spent a day with her daughter, Mrs. Lorne Ames, and Mr. Ames.

Mrs. J. A. Johnston is spending a few days in Sherbrooke with her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Mooney.

Mrs. E. L. Johnston was called to the home of her son, Mr. Gordon Johnston, on Gallup Hill, and is staying with them for some time. Mr. G. Johnston had the misfortune to get badly hurt, while loading sawdust.

Mr. Stanley Melver, of Richmond, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Johnston.

The Young People's Society of Melbourne Ridge and Kingsbury held a meeting in Kingsbury Hall on Friday evening, February 5. Rev. S. Milley was in charge of the meeting, which was very interesting to the members who attended. Several games were played. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

BEARS GIVE PROPER TROUNCING TO LIONS

Washington Took Short End Of 10-2 Encounter

By The Canadian Press
Hershey Bears, making a run-away of the American Hockey League pennant race, are celebrating their most impressive victory of the season today.

The Bears swamped Washington Lions 10-2 last night while Pittsburgh Hornets defeated Cleveland Barons 4-3 in the only other game last night.

Hershey increased its first-place lead over Buffalo Bisons to fourteen points and Pittsburgh lengthened its third-place advantage to three points over Providence Reds and Indianapolis Capitals, are deadlocked for fourth.

The Bears led 5-1 going into third period. Frank Mailley scored the Washington marker.

Johnny Sorrell, Peggy O'Neill and Tony Graboski each scored twice for Hershey. O'Neill had three assists and a teammate, Fred Hergert, drew four in addition to a goal.

Cleveland jumped off to a 2-1 first-period lead. Alex (Bud) Cook and Lou Treadwell netted for the Barons and Pete Palangio for the Hornets.

Tony Hemmerling tied the score for Pittsburgh and Normie Mann put the Hornets into the lead during the middle stanza. Both teams tallied in the closing round, Harry Currie for Pittsburgh and Pete Horeck for Cleveland.

RANGERS STILL DANGEROUS OUTFIT

By The Canadian Press
By this time the experts have discounted the New York Rangers as a threat in the National Hockey League playoffs but nonetheless the clubs which yet have to face the Rangers are going about the task warily, for a loss to the Gothamites may affect their year-end position.

For instance, Detroit Red Wings who now have four games to play more than the Boston Bruins are down four points and a win in each of these encounters would send the Red Wings skyrocketing into first place. But if the motors city club were to lose tonight against Rangers, the edge would be taken off their first-place aspirations.

Then the Montreal Canadiens are slated to tangle with the New Yorkers in a week-end doubleheader, playing in Montreal Saturday and travelling to New York Sunday. The Canadiens still are out of the first four and are going all out to creep into a playoff spot.

Canadian officials are confident and yet if they drop either one of these matches with the Rangers their confidence would be seriously undermined.

The other contest tonight, matches Canadiens against Black Hawks in Chicago.

SHERBROOKE ON TOP IN ANNUAL CURLING 'SPIEL

Sherbrooke rinks took three of last night's four matches against the Lennoxville Curling Club in the second round of the latter's 1942-43 Annual Granite Bonspiel. E. G. Bascom led parade by laying the N. H. Beach foursome under an eighteen to one beating, while H. A. Peabody and his Sherbrooke aides threw R. T. Atto for a seven-to-six loss. In a closer match Larry McGannan squeaked out a one-point victory over A. P. Blue. R. F. Clarke brought Lennoxville back into the running for the John Nichol Memorial Trophy by trimming Hubert Johnston.

RANGERS AND BISHOP'S PLAY TIE FIXTURE

A third period marker by Olson enabled the Sherbrooke Rangers to salvage a tie in their Eastern Townships Juvenile Hockey League game with Bishop's College School Tuesday night. The final score was two-all.

After a scoreless first period McBoyle sent Sheppard through the Ranger defence for the opening goal. Cote nullified that counter five minutes later but Pittfield was successful in his bid before the stanza was out.

This laid the stage for Olson's third period thrust which tied up the game. His effort was unaided. The match was cleanly played with not a penalty being given.

GAME TONIGHT TO DETERMINE MANY MATTERS

Possession of Second Place and Windsor's Chances of Heading Loop Involved in Encounter Tonight.

With Windsor Mills already possessing a strangle hold on the second spot in the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League, tonight's game with the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre at the Arena is a two to one bet to definitely decide its occupant. A win for Windsor or an even break in the scoring would clinch the position for the Paper-Makers whereas if the soldiers took the match they would still have a slim chance of tying Windsor for the honors.

Now holding fifteen points with three league games left to play, the Training Centre would be forced to take all their remaining matches while the Paper-Makers would have to oblige by losing their quota. Even if this happened the clubs would only share the runner-up spot, necessitating a sudden death contest to decide which team is to have the benefit of an even home game in the semi-final series.

This, of course, is supposing that the Grantmen strike a prolonged slump as they still have a better than fair chance of catching the Indians and first place. Windsor is presently five points in rear of Sherbrooke with four games left to play as compared with the Redmen's three, and although their chances are slight their goal is not impossible.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Toronto Feb. 18.—(C)—Hockey today is so little like the hockey of twenty years ago it's hardly recognizable as such. On hockey nights in most sport centres they even put a sign, "Hockey Tonight," over the rink entrance to make sure fans know what they're paying to see. Now comes word that the rules are in for another beating. The word is unofficial but there is little hope that it is not correct.

Flat Walsh, former Montreal Maroons goalie, attended the Soo Greyhound reunion and met some of the men who do the rule-changing. He went home to Kingston, Ont., with a pained expression and information that two-zone hockey is likely to be adopted, possibly next winter. Watching National Hockey League play under the present three-zone system of mass ranging and scrambling, Eddie (Mr. Hockey) Shore commented simply, "It smokes." Navya Lalonde, who left Montreal Canadiens so long ago he even remembers the days of lateral passing, dubbed the modern game "wrestling on skates." If they cut the number of zones to two with a blue line across the centre of the ice, it would be more like tennis, Bill Walsh says of the Kingsmen Whig-Standard says it would be something like box lacrosse and adds wistfully, "but it would probably stop ranging plays."

Cpl. Ross became a hero for Uncle Sam's marine by knocking off twenty-two Japs on Guadalcanal and last night the boxing writers of New York handed the one-time three-division world champ the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque as "Fighter of the Year" for 1942. Despite the fact, Barney was half a world away, his ears must have been burning.

To begin with, Ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker turned loose his solid gold tongue to keynote the affair at Ruppert's Brewery as he made formal presentation of the Plaque, given annually in memory of the Associated Press sports writer and war correspondent who was killed during the war in Spain in 1938. Dividing his remarks between the "sellout house" of some 300 who accepted the Plaque on behalf of the marines and Corporal Barney, Jimmy said:

"So, Barney knocked out twenty-two Japs that night on Guadalcanal. Well, that's no more of a set-up than he ever asked for in his entire fighting career."

"We know, Colonel Miller, you'll let him know about this affair tonight in his honor. Well, just tell him, we know he's been on the floor before and he got up. Just tell him that if the day ever comes when he doesn't get up (God forbid) we'll all know he's out . . . eternally."

CANTERBURY

The Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. James Groom, Mrs. Cowling, newly elected President, opened the meeting in the usual way. A busy afternoon was spent. A card party was held in the evening when "500" was played, the prize winners being Mrs. James Groom and Mr. Charles Cowling. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. James Groom. The next Guild will be held at Mrs. Cowling's and a card party will be held in the evening.

Miss Annie Joy Bennett spent a few days in Sawyerville, returning home accompanied by little Margaret Godwin, who is spending a few weeks with her grandparents.

"We have just begun the study of molecules," he answered.

Rand Squad Chalked Up 9-1 Win Against Waterloo Athletic Club

The Canadian Ingersoll-Rand hockey team added another game to their winning streak when they defeated the Waterloo Athletic Club by 9-1 in an exhibition game played in Waterloo last night.

The Rand boys got off to a slow start in the first period and only one goal was scored, but they soon became accustomed to the ice and in the second period they chalked up six goals. This carried them into the third period with a seven-point margin. Three additional markers, one of which went to Waterloo, were scored in the final frame.

Last night's win was the fourth which the Rand club has taken this season. They had previously defeated the Princess of Wales Own Regiment, Bishop's University and a team from Granby. Since there is no organized industrial loop in operation here this year, the Ciroc club has been relying on exhibition games with other teams in the Townships, and this week two more out-of-town games are on their schedule. Tonight the club is travelling to East Angus to mix with a club of neophytes, and on Saturday they are making plans to play their return game with the Granby team in Granby.

The Rand players took the greatest part of the period getting accustomed to the open surface on which they played, and the only point of the period came when Siros scored after some five minutes of play had elapsed.

The local club regained their old form in the second period, however, and came back to score an additional six goals. Franchette, Planche and Davidson each accounting for two points, while Planche also figured in on two assists.

Both teams showed signs of tiring in the final fixture and only three goals were scored. Both the Rand tallies were credited to Dyers, who whipped the puck past goalie Abie Norris early in the period. The other score of the game went to Waterloo about the halfway mark of the period, when N. More scored on a smooth passing play set up by Blanchard.

The teams:

Rand Franchette goal Waterloo

Borgeron defence Gagne

NATIONAL LOOP CONFIDENT OF SELLING PHILS

Formal Transfer of Franchise from Nugent to League Taking Place Sometime Today.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Some cheques and a pile of stock certificates change hands in a downtown skyscraper office today, and with the purchase the National League takes over the franchise of its debt-ridden Philadelphia Phils, who have rarely made a go of it—financially or otherwise—since Businessman Gerald P. Nugent became President in 1932.

Ford Frick, the League President, arranged to meet at 11 a.m. (E.D.T.) with Nugent and minority stockholders in their headquarters and indicated that when the forced sale was completed he would name a five-man board to represent the Corporation until a new owner is found.

Frick was more optimistic than ever that a re-sale would be made soon, and a purchaser "who can do the kind of a job the National League wants done." He said, however, that it was unlikely a deal would be completed today.

The league had decided at a meeting last week to buy out Nugent, who owed it a reported $130,000, and try to inject new blood into the perennially cellar-dwelling team.

A new figure, Charles G. Erny, President of the Board of Temple University and donor of Temple Stadium, entered the field as a prospective co-purchaser yesterday. He was reported associated with a syndicate headed by John B. (Jack) Kelly, U.S. Director of Physical Fitness.

Another interested syndicate is made up of William Cox, Lieut. W. Potter Wear, Capt. G. Herbert Walker, Jr., and Cummins Catherwood, all of Philadelphia.
