Israel makes threat

TEL AVIV (AP) — Another Arab guerrilla attack on an Israeli airliner brought a threat today from Transport Minister Moshe Carmel of retaliation against Arab airlines. Following the machine-gunning of an El Al airliner in Zurich, Switzerland, Tuesday night, Carmel told the Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv: "The Arab governments who are concerned with preserving the international airlinks of their countries would do well to take immediate steps to hold back the saboteurs, and thus avoid the deterioration and destruction of the airways of the Middle East."

Carmel was the first Israeli official to blame Lebanon for the guerrilla attack in December on an Israeli airliner in Athens. Forty-eight hours later Israeli commandos raided Beirut airport and destroyed 13 planes of Lebanon's Middle East Airlines. The U.S. state department and UN Secretary-General U Thant condemned the Arab attack in Zurich, and Thant expressed hope there would be no reprisal. But leading Israeli newspapers promised retaliation. The semi-official newspaper Lemerhav declared: "The sabotage of airways cannot be one-sided. The Israeli security authorities must reach the proper conclusions with regard to this extension of Arab terror."

Officials will file for extradition

ZURICH (AP) — Israel was expected today to file an early request for the extradition of three Arab commandos who riddled an El Al airliner with sub-machine-guns from an ambush at Zurich airport Tuesday night. This forecast came from Swiss official sources as the cabinet met in the capital, Bern, to discuss the incident in which six persons aboard the Israeli Boeing 720 were injured and one Arab raider was shot dead by an Israeli security officer. The three Arabs and the Israeli remained in custody and were soon to appear before an examining magistrate. Official Swiss sources said that because of the political nature of the raid any extradition request would undoubtedly have to come before the federal tribunal for final decision. The Swiss government expressed "horror and indignation" and Foreign Minister Willy Spuehler discussed the incident with his advisers. The raiders were believed to be members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine which claimed responsibility for the attack. The attackers fired at the jetliner from outside the airport perimeter as it prepared for takeoff. Meanwhile, the unhurt passengers of the stricken plane continued their flight to Israel on another El Al jetliner. The passengers included Gideon Rafael, director-general of the Israeli foreign ministry. He was not injured.

It's hard to label 'bombers'

MONTREAL (CP) — Anarchist, fanatic, separatist-terrorist, revolutionary or just plain nuts? The person or persons behind Montreal's long series of bombings may come under any of those categories, says Mayor Jean Drapeau, but you can be sure of one thing—they're not stupid.

Mr. Drapeau in an interview said Tuesday: "It looks more like anarchy than serving any specific purpose, but it might also be the work of a maniac." Mr. Drapeau did not use the term separatist in connection with the bombings, referring instead of "activists" of various kinds. Quebec's leading separatist, Rene Levesque, chief of the Parti Quebecois, has denounced the bombings in no uncertain terms. As was pointed out earlier by Lucien Saulnier, chairman of Montreal city council's executive committee, New York police took years to trap a "mad bomber" who terrorized the city in the last 1950s. Mr. Drapeau, stressing he was giving "purely personal impressions," said he feels sure the Montreal bombings have not simply been the work of youths, though youths might be involved. Paul-Emile Olivier, assistant police director, said in a separate interview his thinking regarding youths was along the same lines. He referred specifically to a bomb-planting by schoolboys last month at their west-end Cote St. Luc school, saying that was done simply for "kicks."

The anarchist theory is based on the idea that some persons advocate the overthrow of all government or authority and they might seize upon the present period of change in Quebec to further their plans. Citizens and police, speaking privately, say there is no question the current unrest in the world, including student agitation in Montreal and elsewhere, presents an opportune framework for the bombers. Everything from breakdown of family life and parental authority to inflammatory statements by educationists is cited.

Police check persons for possible bombs

MONTREAL (CP) — The hunt for the perpetrators of a 14-month string of bomb incidents was stepped up Tuesday as city police put into effect a top-level order to search all persons being carrying suspicious packages. Persons entering several downtown buildings, including the Dorchester offices of the CBC, were required to open their lunch bags and shopping parcels for inspection. This practice has formerly been carried out only during the night. Meanwhile, government and police authorities from municipal, provincial and federal levels are taking steps to revamp explosives legislation, in an attempt to prevent terrorists from obtaining materials for making homemade bombs. A secret meeting Monday of government and police representatives including E. J. Fraser, chief inspector of explosives with the federal department of mines energy and resources, and Montreal Police Chief Jean-Paul Gilbert, discussed possible changes in the federal explosives act.

Police complete plans to protect Nixon

LONDON (AP) — Police of six nations are completing plans to protect President Nixon against organized demonstrators and individual fanatics and screwballs during his European tour.

In Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, security agents are charting routes, vantage points for potential assassins, assembly points for demonstrators and compiling lists of local "nuts" who might do something weird if they got the chance.

American secret service men are in London, Paris, Brussels, Bonn, West Berlin and Rome co-ordinating arrangements with local authorities.

Cmdr. John Lawlor of Scotland Yard, who dealt with the riots at the American Embassy last year, has sent a list of potential troublemakers, including Continental agitators, to all immigration officers.

The president will stay at Claridge's Hotel rather than the U.S. Embassy residence in Regent's Park because every British security officer knows every alcove and corner of the venerable establishment in Mayfair. Heads of state and government chiefs have stayed there for generations. Militant opponents of the Vietnam war have served notice they intend to give the president a hot time in London. Edward Davoren, secretary of the Revolutionary Student Federation, claims that 50 organizations have formed a Hot Reception for Nixon Committee. He promised 60,000 at one demonstration before the U.S. Embassy Monday.

London police will be out in force and the home office has issued special permission for American security officers attached to the president to carry guns.

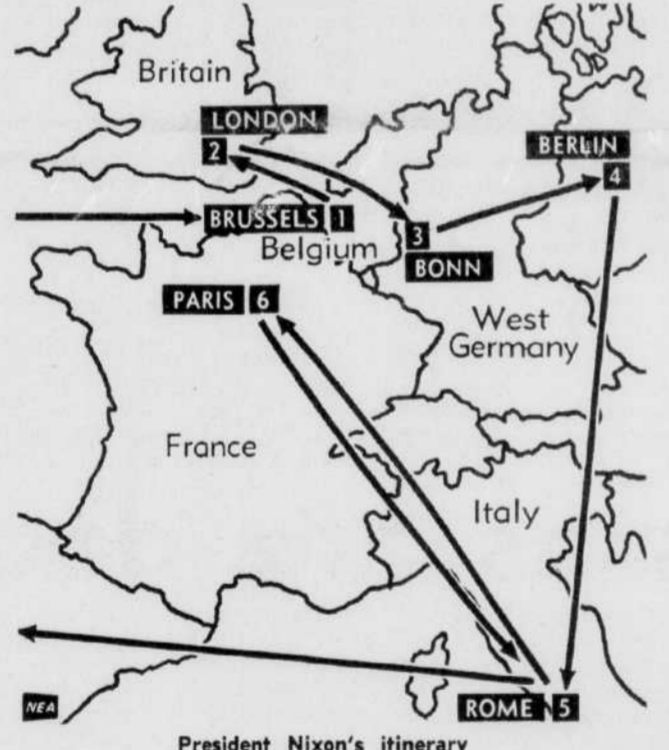

Paris police are planning the same protection for Nixon that they gave President de Gaulle. That is considerable.

Police will line roads and streets, spaced 50 yards apart. Firemen and police will be stationed on rooftops. Plainclothesmen will mingle with the crowds. Traffic will be stopped on the presidential routes, and Nixon's motorcade will travel at high speed. Any unusual assembly will be promptly broken up.

Belgium, home of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Common Market, generally practices the European system of smothering the involved area with police.

Bonn and West Berlin present special problems in the light of their proximity to East Germany as well as the presence of energetic leftist students from many countries who attend West German universities.

West Berlin will have 13,000 uniformed police on standby.

Agency may yet be established

NIAMEY, Niger (CP) — An international conference moved a step closer Tuesday to establishment of an agency to provide for closer cultural and educational co-operation among the totally or partially French-language countries of the world, including Canada.

At the suggestion of Jacques Troriat, France's secretary of state for education, the meeting agreed to discuss a five-point agenda covering the steps necessary to lay the foundation for the proposed world-wide agency.

The Canadian, Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick governments have promised to support the agency, whose formation is expected to be the main item of business during the four-day conference, due to end Thursday.

The conference has brought together approximately 25 whole ly or partly French-language countries in this capital city of 50,000 in the heart of French West Africa.

Mr. Troriat proposed the immediate creation of an interim executive secretariat. The body would draft a provisional constitution for the co-operative agency and arrange for another conference in 1970 to launch a permanent organization.

Mr. Troriat said the organization's main field of action should be in education. Its second objective should be cultural or technical co-operation.

Marcel Masse, leader of Quebec's delegation, said:

"The Quebec government is prepared to contribute immediately to the operation and financing of the proposed organization along lines to be agreed upon at this conference."

State Secretary Gerard Pellier, head of the Canadian delegation, told the conference Monday that the Canadian government and the governments of Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick are ready to pay up to 30 per cent of the creation and annual operating costs of the proposed agency.

Mr. Pelletier said Canada's co-operation with the French-language countries of Africa will be expanded and "will measure up to the importance which we attach to our collaboration with them."

The amount of Canadian aid to the countries soon would reach a figure of $30,000,000 annually and was due to increase in the years ahead as mutual co-operation developed.

In its program of aid to African countries, the federal government planned to co-operate closely with interested provinces, particularly Quebec.

Canada will give money

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau said Tuesday that Canada will help finance a secretariat for the "French commonwealth of nations."

He declined to say in reply to a Commons question by Opposition Leader Stanfield how much money state secretary Gerard Pelletier is authorized to pledge for such purposes at the current meeting of French-speaking countries in Niger.

Mr. Trudeau said in reply to Walter Dinsdale (PC—Brandon-Souris) that any provinces that wish can make a financial contribution and that he knows of one province which wants to do so.

An angry judge fires a broadside

MONTREAL (CP) — Municipal court Judge Emmett McManamy Tuesday fired an angry broadside at defence lawyers representing 90 of the 97 persons charged in connection with destruction last week at Sir George Williams University.

Judge McManamy's outburst came at the opening of preliminary hearings of 60 men and 30 women accused of conspiring to commit arson and destroy property in the Feb. 11 incident which caused an estimated $2,000,000 damage.

The judge became angry shortly after listening for more than an hour to pleas by about 30 defence lawyers who sought bail for the accused.

Standing firm on his decision to postpone the hearings until today and to deny bail, Judge McManamy asked defence lawyers to submit in writing their requests for bail.

He then ordered a court clerk to read his ruling to each of the accused.

LAWYERS PROTEST

After the third name had been called out by the clerk, several defence lawyers protested, saying there was no need for the formality since all of the accused already had heard the judge's decision.

"Do you mind letting me operate this court in the best way I can?" asked the judge, visibly angered.

"After all, this is the first day of the hearing and I've been operating under difficult conditions. Any lawyers who aren't satisfied may leave the courtroom."

At the start of the hearing, Judge McManamy had warned high-spirited persons among the accused, who applauded and shouted when their lawyers entered the courtroom, that he would postpone the hearing unless order was maintained.

The seven juveniles charged were to appear today in social welfare court.

The occupiers piled furniture down stairwells, elevator shafts and escalators and blocked doorways to police called in by the administration.

Lennoxville Players

Bishop's Centennial Theatre will host performance of 'The Pirates of Penzance'

The magnificent new Centennial Theatre at Bishop's University will be the scene of the Lennoxville Players' performance of 'The Pirates of Penzance', one of Gilbert and Sullivan's most popular operettas, March 6, 7, and 8.

Last year the Players produced 'Iolanthe' on their home base, the stage at Bishop's College School, but this year the number of the cast has risen by 20 to total nearly 70 and a larger stage has become a necessity. Thanks to the cooperation of the university authorities, arrangements have been made for the Players to take over the stage after the performances of the University's major play, 'As You Like It', which plays Feb. 27, 28, and March 1.

In 'The Pirates of Penzance' the role of Mabel will be sung by Joan Tanton, whose previous experience in 'Iolanthe' and in radio work for the CBC on the west coast will stand her in good stead.

Bernice Besson, a star of many operettas performed by Montreal groups, plays Ruth, 'The Piratical Maid-of-all-work'. Squee Gordon provides a powerful Pirate King with Robin Allen as his Lieutenant. John Clifton plays the famous role of the Modern Major-General, and Scott Davidson is Sergeant of the Police who provide the more comic interludes in the operetta.

Margaret-Anne Fuller, Kara Melrose, and Eileen Dolin lead the numerous Major-General's daughters in and out of the clutches of the pirates.

The Musical Director is Harry Dutton, the Stage Director Lewis Evans, Stage Manager Terry Guest, costumes are by Malabar, of Montreal, and Betty Jeffers, of Lennoxville. Choreographer is Rita Hough.

The operetta is sponsored by the Lennoxville Optimist Club, and the proceeds are devoted to the boys' work of that organization. Tickets are on sale at Clark's Pharmacy, Lennoxville.

Annual congregational meeting is held by Lennoxville United Church members

The annual congregational meeting of the Lennoxville United Church was held recently. Prior to the meeting a congregation supper was served to approximately 125 people. Following the supper Rev. Carson Duquette, chairman, Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery gave an illustrated talk on his work as an itinerant missionary for French work.

H. Simons from St. George's Anglican Church, Lennoxville, was welcomed at the supper by Rev. A. B. Lovelace. He brought greetings from his Church and also spoke briefly regarding the proposed home for the aged.

Mr. Lovelace opened the meeting with prayer, after which a moment's silence was observed in memory of members of the congregation who had died during the past year. Rev. C. J. Gustafson expressed his appreciation for support received from both the congregation and the minister since coming to Lennoxville to assist Mr. Lovelace.

The Lower Sunday School report was given by Miss Dorothy Wallace who stated that the enrollment is larger than previously and is now approaching 140.

R. T. Cook, treasurer, gave a detailed report for both the Lower and Upper Sunday Schools. Mrs. Edson Warner, secretary of the Christian education committee, submitted a detailed report of the activities during 1968.

Junior choir, missionary education co-ordinator, audio-visual, messengers, cradle roll, Explorers, CGIT, Tyro, Hi-C, Golden Age Club and Ladies and Men Carpet Bowling Club reports were all presented and showed a successful year under very capable leadership.

The Trustee Board Financial Report was given by W. S. Richardson. He drew attention to the fact that a legacy from the Estate of Mr. J. Henry Woodside was received.

Bob Stafford gave the Missionary and Maintenance report and commented that the envelope contributions only increased $43.64 in 1968 and he feels that this is not in line with givings to the Church and should have greater support from the congregation. A lot of people are misled, believing this money is all spent outside of Canada or North America. A great deal of the M and M money is spent in the Eastern Townships, Mr. Stafford pointed out.

ed representative to the Presbytery and Alex Rowat as alternate. The Minister reported that Holy Communion was administered on four Sundays at all three services. There was an extra Communion service on Christmas Eve which was well attended, despite the inclement weather. Communion was also administered to shut-ins, in their homes and in the hospitals.

During Lent, cottage meetings were held in some of the homes of the congregation which were well attended. Gratitude was expressed to those who opened their homes to these services.

During the year there were 16 baptisms, nine marriages and 27 burials. The number of families in the congregation is now 450. Total membership at December 31, 1968, was 767.

Mr. Lovelace spoke regarding Mr. Gustafson's assistance and advised that he is visiting the people every afternoon, both at the hospitals and in their homes, and is a great help to him.

Mr. Lovelace expressed his personal appreciation to the officers and leaders of the different organizations for the loyal support given to him and Mrs. Lovelace during the past year.

S. Snow, on behalf of the congregation, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace and to Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson for the work they are doing in Lennoxville and surrounding area.

Benediction was pronounced by the minister which brought to a close a very successful congregational meeting.

Brompton Ladies Aid announces officers

BROMPTON — The Ladies Aid held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. M. Fournier in Windsor. Eight members were present.

The president, Mrs. Harold Robinson, presided at the meeting and opened it with the Guild and Lord's Prayer.

The annual report was given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Robinson, showing a favorable year's work and a substantial bank balance.

All offices were retained, namely, Mrs. H. Robinson, president, Mrs. Marguerite Fournier, first vice-president, Mrs. Guy C. Robinson, second vice-president, Mrs. Albert E.

Robinson, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. M. Fournier and Mrs. Clifford Robinson, Good Cheer committee, Mrs. Alberta Ward and Mrs. Marjorie Moore, Fancy work sales, Mrs. Alberta Ward and Mrs. Harold Robinson, card sales, Mrs. Wm. Holiday, auditor.

Various companies to be written to for material donations: $10 was voted towards the Bishop's University Divinity Fund and to pay the insurance on the church organ when it's due.

The hostess, Mrs. Fournier, served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Hatley W.I. holds February meeting

HATLEY — A largely attended meeting of the Hatley Women's Institute was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Emery on Feb. 6.

During the business meeting which was chaired by the co-president, Miss E. Miller, an outline of the program for 1969-1970 was read by Mrs. T. Ride. Mrs. Ride asked for further suggestions, which were given by the members during Roll Call.

The correspondence showed that the local WI had been especially active in welfare and health during the past few weeks. Home economics convener, Mrs. Sharman, read a letter from Eleanor M. Ordway, director of consumer service and information. It was decided to order one for the home economics convener which will be added to their mailing list.

The WI is grateful to the town council for the free use of the Municipal Hall whenever needed. A proposed travelogue by Capt. and Mrs. Brown, of Ayer's Cliff is being planned for April. At the close of the meeting a quiz and Help Yourself Game created much interest during the social hour. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. F. Wright and Mrs. T. Ride.

Foster Cosby Legion Unit holds January meeting

DERBY LINE — The January meeting of Foster Cosby Auxiliary Unit, American Legion, was held at the home of Mrs. Lillian Cargill. Because of illness and inclement weather the attendance was small. The president, Mrs. Harold Bowen, presided and routine reports were heard.

Thank you communications were read. A sum of $5 was voted to the Retarded Children's Association. Hostesses calendars for the year were distributed to all present. If a member is unable to have her scheduled meeting, she is asked to notify the president and members after she has a replacement.

Mrs. Bowen read from the Department Presidents bulletin and especially noted two scholarships are available for girls, daughters of veterans, who can qualify to the guidance department of NCUHS at Newport, anyone wishing more information may obtain it from this Auxiliary Unit.

The deadline of Mar. 15 is set for the application.

Mrs. Cargill and the co-hostess, Mrs. John Berry served refreshments. The date of the February meeting is to be announced.

Sawyerville bank workers identify accused gunman

Two crown witnesses, yesterday in Criminal Court during the first day of Pierre Landry's trial, identified the accused as the gunman who held up the Sawyerville Bank of Montreal, Dec. 20 for about $4,900. Landry, 24, a Montreal student conducting his own defense on a charge of armed robbery, questioned bank employees' testimony when they gave information that differed from their statements at the preliminary inquiry.

Crown attorney Andre Langlais started presenting his case to the jury when three bank employees described the events of the hold-up and two, Charles Pelchat, 18, a cashier, and Mrs. Connie Bellam, a loan clerk, identified Landry as the hold-up man.

Mr. Pelchat also identified a sawed-off .22 calibre rifle as the one used in the robbery and said a coat, a cap and a

Old Boys plan banquet

RICHMOND (Staff) — The St. Pat's Old Boys will hold their banquet at the Roadside Pavilion here March 15 at 6:30 p.m. A spokesman said yesterday 400 persons are expected to attend. Further announcements will be made regarding the guest speaker and the orchestra for the evening's festivities.

portfolio produced by the crown, belonged to the bandit. Landry asked for time to prepare his cross-examination of Mr. Pelchat, he will continue the questioning today.

Earlier, the bank accountant, Georges Laplante, was cross-examined closely and said he couldn't positively identify the accused or the gun and clothing. The accused questioned Mr. Laplante's memory and the accuracy of his testimony. Neither man lost his temper but twice Mr. Justice Evender Veilleux had to instruct Mr. Laplante to restrict his testimony to facts only.

The bank employees testified that at 3:03 p.m. a man armed with a sawed-off rifle entered the bank and after telling everyone not to move instructed Mr. Pelchat to fill a portfolio with money.

The three witnesses said the man had a bandage on his face and a heavy beard. Mr. Pelchat emptied both tills into the portfolio and the bandit fled.

Landry cross-examined the witnesses asking them to recall the events in minute detail. He referred to a manuscript of testimony given at the preliminary inquiry, and once caught Mrs. Bellam when she changed her statements from those given at the previous hearing. She had testified that she noticed the bandit enter the bank, but yesterday said she hadn't seen him until he was inside the door.

A Townships' industry, latex, is explained to Rotary Club

Technical director of research and control at the B.F. Gooderich plant in Waterville, Tas Hashini, last night told the Sherbrooke Rotary Club how three latex products are produced. With the help of slides and demonstrations Mr. Hashini showed the main steps in developing Latex foam, rubber sponge and Urethane foam.

Mr. Hashini noted the most important factor for the development of these goods is the rubber or the latex fluid. The latex fluid is drained much as maple sugar is, from a tree. Latex is extremely vulnerable to bacteria and must be cared for in transit.

Latex foam is made from a chemical compound with a latex base. The compound is whipped in machines and the density of the finished material is controlled by the amount of air allowed into the mixture. It is then vacuumed in a mold and heated to be cured. The product is washed to remove odors and it is ready for the market.

Sponge is made by a process very similar to baking a cake. Solid rubber, not latex, is the base for the process. The rubber is broken down and milled. Chemicals are added to complete the fibre breakdown. Then baking powder is added to the compound and the resulting mixture is sheeted and passed through ovens like a cake. It rises once cooked and becomes a sponge with interlocking cellular structure that makes it absorbent.

The three main necessities for fabricating these items are rubber, gas and heat.

The final product, urethane foam, is produced in a chemical reaction that produces the final two necessities. The latex is blended with compounds and in the resulting reaction, a gas is formed. The gas is trapped by the latex and tremendous heat is produced which generates the reaction and produces the urethane foam.

Rock Island agrees to cost sharing

Rock Island council approved payment of police department costs with Stanstead as recommended by the police committee following a committee meeting on January 31.

A request was heard for the town council to pass a resolution to issue permits to allow only a limited number of dry cleaners to solicit the community. No action was taken on the proposal but it is to be studied as it involves considerable more than dry cleaning establishments.

A representative from Morin and Tessier and Association, professional evaluators from Sherbrooke was at the meeting and explained the process of full evaluation of properties, a mathematical valuation which will be accepted by the Regional Schools, both Protestant and Roman Catholic. Council is asking for an estimated cost valuation to be submitted. After receiving this action, council will determine its action.

The police report for the month of January was the same for Rock Island and Stanstead. Calls received at the control center, 189 of which 30 were emergencies. Five accidents

City youth is charged with arson after fire

Fernand Charbonneau, 19, of Sherbrooke, was arraigned yesterday in Court of Sessions and charged with arson in connection with the fire that Tuesday destroyed the Marie-Reine-du-Monde Church, 1180 Bowen Street South.

Fire destroys Hatley house

EAST HATLEY — (Special) — Fire completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Drew on the Barnston Road yesterday afternoon, leaving five people homeless.

Living with Mr. and Mrs. Drew were their son Graydon, Mrs. Drew's father, Harvey Drew and an aunt, Mrs. Grace Brand.

The flames were caused by a chimney fire which had been smoldering unnoticed since noon yesterday.

The Compton fire brigade was called but when they arrived, the flames had already engulfed the house and the volunteers concentrated their efforts on arresting the spread of the blaze to a large garage nearby.

The Drew's barn, full of livestock, is situated across the street from the house and was not damaged.

The house was partially insured but its contents were not tor Michel Cote immediately asked that Charbonneau be given a medical examination.

Charbonneau, who was sexton at the church, did not speak during his short appearance. He was arrested Tuesday night, shortly after the fire broke out, by Sherbrooke police detectives who had been watching the church using a disguised officer.

Meanwhile work was underway yesterday to clear the debris from the scene of the fire. Workmen began clean-up operations in the gutted building and plans are underway to topple the church steeple and some remnants of the walls which could be injurious to curious passers-by if they toppled.

At a special meeting of the wardens last night, prospective meeting places for parishioners were discussed. Church officials were happy to learn that the basement of the church received very little damage.

Cowansville escapees caught early today

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The two men who escaped from the Cowansville Correctional Institute Monday night were captured in East Farnham at 3 a.m. today by members of the Municipal Police Department.

Assistant-director of the institute, Donatien Laurin, said this morning he and other institute officials expect the two escapees, Michel St. Gelais and Jean-Guy Duchesnes, both 21 and from the Montreal region, to be back in the minimum security prison this afternoon.

Mr. Laurin could not release any further information but referred the subject to the municipal police who made the capture.

The two men escaped Monday about 8 p.m. while the Cowansville inmates were watching a hockey game being played on the prison rink.

They sneaked away from the guards and jumped over a high fence.

Cowansville municipal police and some of the prison guards conducted a search Monday night until 11 when they had to give up.

The Cowansville detachment of the QPP also helped during the search after the escape. St. Gelais is serving a 10-year term for breaking and entering with theft and car theft.

Duchesnes is serving a four-year sentence for car theft and theft.

Neither of the two men are considered dangerous.

Education minister in attack on separatism

The meteoric rise of Jean-Guy Cardinal, now Education Minister in the Union Nationale cabinet at Quebec, was so sudden that most residents of this province had little opportunity to judge the philosophy of the man on the basis of any past performance.

This may have been the reason for the belief held in many quarters that he was a separatist at heart, a view that may have been the result of the feelings of Mr. Cardinal as a supporter of French nationalism — something entirely different from separatism.

But in a weekend radio program, Mr. Cardinal denied the charge he is a separatist and certainly the arguments he offered to support his claim are among the most convincing yet heard against the division of Quebec from the rest of Canada.

Separatism will solve nothing, he claimed, pointing out that "if we (the French-Canadians) separate we'll be only 6,000,000 among 220,000,000 and what will we gain?", referring to Quebec's population among the English-speaking population of North America.

Quebec's major political parties, he said, were not separatist, this movement being reserved for Rene Levesque's Parti Quebecois.

Obviously the Education Minister accepts the argument long advanced by anti-separatists, both English and French, that the great hope for the continued existence of the French language rests with a strong Canada, one in which people of differing views can work together for the mutual advancement of their common interests.

In such a country, the French Canadians can play an important role, a role that would be denied them if they were forced to withstand the weight of more than 200 million English-speaking residents of other sections of North America.

Children may be a comfort in one's old age, but that doesn't necessarily apply to the young'uns next door.

A decade speeding by

The announcement by astronaut Walter Schirra that he will retire from the United States space corps this June reminds us how old we are getting — and fast.

It was but ten short years ago that the seven original Mercury astronauts were selected.

Schirra's retirement will leave only Donald Slayton, Alan Shepard and Gordon Cooper still in the space program, with only Cooper still medically eligible to fly spacecraft.

Two others, John Glenn and Scott Carpenter, have retired and one Virgil Grissom, was killed in the Apollo capsule fire in January 1967.

It's a hackneyed phrase, but that's because there aren't any better words: "It seems just like yesterday."

Getting a fresh start in life is what too many kids get these days.

CBC swallows and digests its new boss

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA OFFBEAT

OTTAWA — The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has had its new president for just about a year.

He is George Davidson, the mandarin-mandarin, the supposedly wonder-working secretary of the Treasury Board who built up a select staff of all-talents, best in the entire federal civil service, in the East Block.

Nearly 30 years ago a federal deputy minister, the government's top trouble-shooter, George Davidson was expected to work similar wonders in the CBC.

So what's been happening? Nothing that doesn't suggest that far from taking over at CBC, the new president himself has been taken over.

The publicly-owned broadcasting corporation, currently costing the taxpayers an annual $154,200,000, continues spending money as if there's no tomorrow — example: it cost six times more for the CBC to cover the Olympics in Mexico City than to finance the Canadian team at the games.

Official figures provided for Parliament:

Cost of the 178-member Canadian Olympic team: $160,000.

Cost of the 106-member CBC Olympic staff: $930,000.

And primarily, the CBC was there to cover the Canadians.

What else, besides high wide and handsome spending, hasn't the new president changed?

UNCHANGING: Well, for enough years that CBC probably is becoming bored with its long since, parliamentary, Liberal, Conservative, Creditiste and the Quebec independents, have been warning that the French network, radio and television, is controlled by the separatists.

Judy LaMarsh, who as former state secretary was "responsible" — as the saying goes in Parliament — for the CBC, said, and keeps saying the same thing.

And now, Montreal Liberal MP Jean-Pierre Goyer, parliamentary secretary to External Affairs Minister Sharp, declares, quite matter-of-factly, that separatist control is so complete that those on the staff of the CBC French network who don't or won't use it to promote the ultra-nationalist cause of a "free and independent" Quebec are "ostracized."

Another investigation — CBC has been under what over the many years has amounted to a continuing open-ended parliamentary probe — isn't going to do much good. It never has.

Where else hasn't the new president moved in to make the expected changes?

Again Judy LaMarsh has said, and old CBC hand Lorne Greene says he confirms her, there are "kick-backs" in the purchase of American-made TV film for the Canadian network.

If it's not so, then the CBC is missing what amounts to an invitation to deny it through legal action — with the publication of the names of some of its staff allegedly involved. They could sue.

And what else remains the same within the CBC?

Don't look now, but the old gang's back, Patrick Watson and Douglas Leiteman of those inflammatory "Seven Days" programs Parliament investigated and CBC quietly killed.

UNCHANGING: Watson's back at the old Sunday stand and Leiteman's selling his stuff again on film.

Ontario Judge John R. Matheson, in his days as a Liberal MP and parliamentary secretary to former Prime Minister Pearson, spent every Sunday night through some 39 weeks monitoring "Seven Days" and found:

On religion: Twenty-two of the program's 28 items were "sarcastic, antagonistic and bizarre" with the cry "Kill a Commie for Christ" its ultimate extremism.

On business: Of 48 items, 38 "ridiculed" and "condemned" the commercial, financial and professional community.

On race: All 29 items "played up bitterness, extremism, violence, with the emphasis on inflammatory, negative and destructive" elements of the problem.

On drugs: Two programs devoted to the problem "stressed the delights of narcotics and ignored the perils."

On the United States: Of 80 items, 62 were anti-American

On Communism: On 14 different programs Red China and Russia were "idealized."

On police and the courts: Fifteen of 16 items put law and order "in a very bad light."

On the federal government: Forty-eight of 69 items were "destructive, undercutting all political parties and many of their personalities."

Where's the new president, assigned to CBC "house-cleaning"? Alive and captive of the corporation.

Not only has CBC swallowed its new boss, it is busy digesting him.

How so? Asked if he and his executives would use old movies to keep the networks operating in the ever-present danger of a strike, CBC hands are quoting him as saying: "Oh my goodness no — it would mean us crossing the picket line."

"You Mean We Won't Be Able to Show Those Beautiful People?"

Hulking figure Fog-horn evangelist commands great deal of voter attention

Today and Thursday Canadian Press staff writer John Leblanc gives an in-depth analysis of the Ulster election picture in Northern Ireland.

By JOHN LeBLANC

Canadian Press Staff Writer Politics and religion are so synonymous in Northern Ireland that it's not surprising that a foghorn-voiced evangelist commands more voter attention in the current general election campaign than anyone but the prime minister.

Ian Richard Kyle Paisley, 42, has never been in politics officially before but his down-with-Rome spellbinding has built up such a following among the religion-split voters that he must be counted a major influence in Ulster's Feb. 24 voting.

Paisley is a hulking 210-pound six-footer who mesmerizes disciples at his politico-religious sessions as he clutches a Bible, waves a huge fist and calls down "the curse of God" on moderate Prime Minister Terence O'Neill, whom he calls a traitor for easing discrimination against Roman Catholics. For comic relief he refers to the Pope as "Old Red Socks."

The self-proclaimed moderator of the self-created "Free Presbyterian Church of Ulster," Paisley is also the recent creator of an instant political party called Protestant Unionist. He calls himself reverend and has a string of degrees from backwoods American institutions. He also is a rabble-rouser in—as one analyst puts it—the select class of Cuba's Fidel Castro.

BALANCE DELICATE This might not amount to much except that Ulster at the moment is at a point of delicate balance where the ancient Protestant-Catholic enmities forming the core of her politics seem to be giving way to a measure of understanding between the out-in-the-cold Catholics and moderates of the ruling Protestants like O'Neill.

Paisley's role has been to keep the old flames fanned, with what has been described as 17th century fanaticism. Apart from setting up his Protestant Unionist—the governing party is the Unionist—Paisley also has moved in personally to tackle the prime minister in the rough-and-tumble County Antrim constituency of Bannside.

A recent opinion poll gives the Paisleyites about five per cent of voter preference, compared with 61 for O'Neill. Personally, Paisley is not given a chance of beating O'Neill in Bannside—where no one has even opposed him in 20 years—and some experts think Paisley may find some face-saving way of sliding out before election day.

One simple way would be to go back to jail. He is under sentence of three months for fomenting civil unrest recently and got himself out, on notice of appeal, to take a hand in electioneering.

Run-ins with the law are not new to Paisley, though he proclaims a doctrine of non-violence. Wearing a red-white-and-blue sash, he often leads demonstrating crowds, and in 1966 he served 90 days for refusing to give a good-behavior bond after one rowdy march. This one was against the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Ireland, a switch from his customary popish targets.

(He has just published a book written in prison called An Exposition of the (St. Paul) Epistle to the Romans.)

POLICE EYED HIM In 1962 Rome police kept an eye on him when he flew there to protest against Protestant observers attending an ecumenical council meeting at the Vatican. When the Anglican Archbishop of Canterbury later flew to Rome to visit the Pope, Paisley got on the same aircraft but was bundled back aboard it by Rome police for an immediate return flight.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Bygone days

TEN YEARS AGO The City of Magog will receive a special award from the Province of Quebec Safety League at the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal, for not having any fatal accidents in 1958. Mayor Maurice Theroux, Chief of police, Telephone Lavoie and Secretary Treasurer Roger Boudreau will receive the award for the city.

Guest speaker at the public presentation will be R. B. Baille, Manitoba Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

Other Eastern Township communities receiving awards are: Asbestos, Lennoxville, Princeville, Black Lake and Coaticook.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO The regular dinner of the Waterville Optimist Club was held in the Pleasant View Hotel in North Hatley.

Notwithstanding the very bad weather and road conditions, attendance was surprisingly good and all those present were in extremely excellent form.

The speaker was one of the members, J. T. Ball, who explained with the help of film slides and samples, the advantages and commodities of the Rusco windows. In the speaker Gerry Miltimore said that very often it was of things and people in the immediate surroundings that we know the least, and that we should really know and appreciate the most.

TWENTY YEARS AGO The Canadian General Electric Company's new building on Belvedere Street was officially opened at a reception attended by more than 300 people prominent in the municipal, business, industrial and professional life of Sherbrooke and other Eastern Township communities.

The formal ceremonies marking the opening of this modern, two storey building were brief, consisting of a welcome by A. H. Duchene, manager of the Sherbrooke office, and the blessing of the building by Canon J. C. McGee.

Mayor Alphonse Trudeau headed the list of civic dignitaries.

Readers say: Mother stresses parents' place

Dear Sir: After reading and hearing about the riots at Sir George Williams, I would like to ask the people of our Nation, "Where has law and order gone?" What is happening to our society?

I blame myself and you, the parent. Where are the parents when all these riots take place? Did we teach our babies to hate, riot, and destroy valuable property. Certainly the sons and daughters of the majority were not allowed to practice these things at home, so why should they go into our universities, hating the world, its laws, rules, and governments.

Where have we failed? It seems that parents must step in further and guide his offspring's path still more. We can't let our children take over the world until he has learned to respect common decency, and his fellow man, and is ready to accept things as they are, and rules that have been followed successfully until now.

And he or she is certainly not ready if they think that rioting, causing millions of dollars of useless damage and hating all that good stands for, will solve their problem.

Secondly, where is our so called law and ruling government. These actions must be stopped and now. Such a riot that happened in Montreal, should not be allowed to happen again. These students should be made to understand that they must follow our national laws, and laws of all universities. Any one person causing or taking part in riots are undermining our children and the world. These persons should be dealt with severely, barred from all universities forever.

So in conclusion, if the leaders of our colleges, and our nations can't control these mobs of violence and hate, we the parents, must at least try.

Yours truly,
A concerned Mother of two.

World is holding its breath today

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Much of the world seems to be holding its breath these days, watching for signs from Washington or Moscow.

From Biafra to Berlin eyes are on Richard M. Nixon as he completes his first month in office as president of the United States.

Officials from Paris to Peking are giving Nixon a chance to show that he has something new to offer with his new Republican administration in Washington.

There are continuing signs that neither the Soviet Union nor the U.S. want to rock the global boat so hard as to affect prospects of talks between them.

Even Communist China has come out of its shell to propose talks—to be held in Warsaw this week—with the Americans after a 13-month interruption of dialogue caused by China's "cultural revolution."

Mighty France and little Biafra, the secessionist Nigerian state torn by civil war, see hope of some form of detente with the new U.S. government.

NO BACKING

Fears and warnings emanate from the Middle East. But Arab and Israeli are getting no backing for resumption of tension. Instead the Big Four are attempting to get together to discuss the road for a peaceful settlement.

Governor describes rehabilitation centre

By BERNICE CHAMPAGNE
(Record Correspondent)

RUSSELL HONORED — Armand Russell, Quebec Minister of Public Works, was the guest of honor at a civic reception in Waterloo last week, followed by a banquet at the

WATERLOO — (Special) — Roger Giguere, governor of the Waterloo Rehabilitation Centre presently under construction, was the guest speaker at a supper in honor of Armand Russell, former Mayor of Waterloo, and present Minister of Public Works in Quebec.

Mr. Giguere said the new centre will possess all the characteristics and equipment of a modern rehabilitation centre so those leaving its care will become useful and productive citizens. It will not be considered an ordinary prison, but rather an institution offering various and many courses to its members.

He also described to the nearly two hundred persons at the supper, the layout of the different wings making up the centre.

On arriving at the centre, at the left will be the infirmary, the reception centre, and isolation cells. In the centre is the administration and visitors' room, and to the right is the cafeteria, gymnasium and large kitchen. The rear of the building will be two stories housing 24 dormitories, each dormitory to hold 14 men. There will be one washroom for each dorm, and a common room for each two dormitories.

The centre, which will be opened within the year, will require 175 employees to ensure security. The recruiting of personnel is just beginning, the timetable has been set, and the specialized equipment has been ordered. It remains to then come in contact with the citizens of Waterloo, and Mr. Giguere thanked the Junior Chamber of Commerce for giving him the first opportunity to make contact with the population.

Waterloo has been chosen for a stepping stone in a new adventure in Quebec, he said, and he asked three things of its population: first, for understanding without pity, or fear, because of the minimum security. Mr. Giguere asked for co-operation from the intermediary police corps, and third, they wish the public be properly informed on the goals of the institution.

In building this centre, the Government of Quebec has taken the first step in implementing the recommendations of several Royal Commissions, including the Prevost Commission. The prison authorities wanted a truly specialized institution, of which Waterloo will be the first.

Mr. Giguere spoke also of the great advantages which the centre will bring to the town economically, as the personnel will be seeking homes in the area, and the merchants and industries would profit from purchases made to maintain the institution.

The work and training program for the inmates would all be easy to learn, easy to teach, and later results easily obtained.

Occupations will include landscaping, wood work, and knowledge of maple groves. It goes without saying, Mr. Giguere continued, that the authorities of the Prison Services are conscious of their responsibilities, and sincerely hope that those at the centre will preserve throughout their sentences and after their liberation.

The speaker concluded by saying that the Centre will have the characteristics of any minimum security institution and the inmates would be of age 25 or over, coming from present prisons in Cowansville, Sherbrooke, St. Jean, St. Hyacinthe and Montreal, as well as other centres.

Mr. Giguere, who had been introduced by Mr. Bernard Beaudry, county secretary, was thanked by Dr. Guy Poirier, Mayor of Waterloo, who extended a welcome to Mr. Giguere as a future citizen of Waterloo.

Brome wardens hold 500 party

BROME — (Special) — A successful 500 party was held by the wardens of St. John's Church, here, in the Brome Hall.

Friends gathered at the Hall at 8:00 p.m. Feb. 7.

Cards were played at 17 tables.

During the refreshments served by various ladies of the parish, Gordon Marsh, acting as M.C., announced the winners of prizes.

Ladies' first was awarded to Miss Hazel Jones and consolation to Mrs. Gladys Davis.

Gent's first was awarded to Eric Foster and consolation to Homer Whitehead.

The cup and saucer prize was won by Wesley Leavitt and the door prize was won by Miss Hazel Jones. At the close of the evening Mr. Marsh thanked everyone for their support.

He announced another card party would be held Feb. 21.

Seventeen Legion ladies attend meeting

WATERLOO — (Special) — Seventeen ladies attended the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Shefford Branch 77 of the Royal Canadian Legion here. The annual auditors' report was read and a report was given on the district meeting in Cowansville held Jan. 19.

Mrs. Reba Holloway read the very satisfactory auditors' report. Present bank balance as reported by Mrs. Roxie Cote is $308.32.

Mrs. Christel Singfield reported that four ladies, Mrs. Isobel Tryhorn, Mrs. Eunice Jones, Mrs. Connie Peacock, and herself, had attended the district meeting. The new District Ladies' Auxiliary elected a slate of officers and will circulate a bulletin regularly to all branches concerned. The next meeting will be held in Phillipsburg in April. Committee reports were heard, including ways and means, by Mrs. Ruby Sturtevant, stating that $110.30 was collected door to door for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Singfield, house, reported that all the old dishes had been sold.

Members approved the catering of three events, one each in April, May and September.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a past president's medal and pin to Mrs. Christel Singfield, who served in that capacity in 1967 and 1968. President Mrs. Tryhorn made the presentation, thanking Mrs. Singfield for her inspired leadership for two years.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. Connie Peacock, Mrs. Bea Flanagan, Mrs. Hilda Hadd and Mrs. Bobby Cochrane.

All reports satisfying at congregational meeting

KINNEAR'S MILLS — The annual congregational meeting of Candlish United Church was held on Feb. 2 at the church. Rev. Gary W. Stokes presided with Mrs. J. Edgar Nugent as secretary.

Reports of the various activities of the church were given and discussed. These included the report of the session by Mr. W. S. Allan. The financial statement for the board of stewards was given by Mr. Murray Nugent. Mr. Lawrence Allan gave the report of the Riverside Memorial Cemetery.

The financial statement of the U.C.W. was given by Mrs. Eric MacRae, treasurer, which showed a balance of $539.22. The general report was given by Mrs. Murray Nugent. The UCW was commended on the vast amount of work done. Report of the church school was given by the superintendent Lawrence Allan showing a balance of $10.11 in the treasury.

Mrs. E. Nugent reported on the nursery roll. The report of the Board of Trustees was given by Mr. Richard Allan. The various reports submitted showed a large amount of work done in the year and all reports were adopted unanimously.

Mr. Stokes closed the meeting with the benediction. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Personals Says food freezer is convenient but not really a money saver

The Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club tea, to be held Tuesday, will be convoked by Mrs. Brian Sharp.

Other hostesses will be Mrs. Everett Porter, Mrs. Neil Dinning, Mrs. V. W. Newton, Mrs. T. J. Quintin, Mrs. M. Lemieux, Mrs. Reg. Jackson, Mrs. G. C. Curphey, Mrs. Doris Conley, and Mrs. Gerald Armstrong. Pourers will be Mrs. A. A. Munster, Mrs. Pat Dauncey, Mrs. J. L. Killoran, Mrs. Frank Clark.

For table reservations for bridge or 500, members may call Mrs. A. L. Vallee at 563-5453 or Mrs. Philip Mathias at 569-3358.

Miss Elizabeth Sharman, of Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gill, of Birchtown, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lefebvre, Queen Street, Lennoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rainville, of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Magwood, and daughter, Donna, of Chambly, were guests of H. E. Perkins, Queen Street. They also visited Mrs. Perkins who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Keep Those Curls

To keep the curls which are so much a part of today's fashion scene curly, try using an electric curler after a day that's enough to straighten anyone's hair.

EDMONTON (CP) — The food freezer is usually a convenience but not a money saver.

Pat Mascaluk, home management specialist with the Alberta department of agriculture, says a recent study showed it costs $43 a year to own a freezer. This includes depreciation, possible repairs and electricity—but not financing or wrapping.

"This means that if you own a 17-cubic-foot freezer and put in and take out 360 pounds of food each year, you should add 12 cents on to the price you pay for each pound of food," she says.

The Consumers' Association of Canada advises people interested in buying a freezer food plan of any type to do some careful comparative shopping first.

Find out how much of the total payment is for the freezer, how much is the cost of credit, and how much is for food.

When comparing freezer prices make sure the models are the same. Sometimes freezers sold with a food plan are "stripped down" models built to the food firm's specifications.

Also check the list of groceries available with the plan and figure out what items you will need that are not provided. Check deliveries carefully to make sure you get what you order.

WARNS OF COST

The association warns that a customer should never assume that monthly payments will look after monthly food needs—they won't.

Ask if the firm that supplies the freezer is the same one that supplies the food. A company that arranges for a food supply from some other source may not have any continuing interest in the customer's satisfaction once the sale is made.

The question of refreezing arises frequently where there are power failures. Food in a full freezer will stay frozen at least two days without power even in summer.

Many packages are clearly marked "Don't refreeze." But meat, fruits and vegetables partially thawed or still cold can be refrozen if they are at room temperature for not more than three hours.

But if meat or vegetables have been completely thawed for an undetermined time, they should not be refrozen. Poultry with a normal odor can be refrozen, but if the slightest "off" odor is present it is wiser to discard.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Plumber's Friend Becomes GI's Friend

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Recently someone wrote in to the column about using a plumber's friend. I sent one to my son in Vietnam and got a real heart-felt thanks for his "Handy Dandy Washing Machine." Clean socks and underwear are a must in that climate and laundry is a real problem. A discarded can, the plunger and some soap work wonders for him. If I win a Polly Dollar it surely will go to "Operation Vietnam."—JAYNE

UNDER THE MARDI GRAS TREE — A gay colorful atmosphere of Mardi Gras prevailed at the Lennoxville Curling Club last night during a sherry party for the Ladies Lennoxville Curling Club's first bonspiel. The club was decorated with ruffles and large pom-pom balls in bright red, mauve, rose, yellow, blue and green, and members wore colorful costumes. Tonight's social program will include a banquet. Shown here are conveners of the various committees of the social program, in the front row from left, Mrs. Eric Lennon, decorating; Mrs. Rosario Clavet, sherry party; Mrs. Harry Buck, banquet; standing, Mrs. Sam Abbott.

Lennoxville club holds first big bonspiel

The Ladies Lennoxville Curling Club is holding its first bonspiel with a Mardi Gras theme.

With 20 rinks participating, the bonspiel got underway Tuesday morning at 9:30. Finals will be held Thursday night at 8. Members and visitors are competing for the Wyatt Johnson Trophy, the main one, and the Len Loach Trophy.

The bonspiel program included a sherry party last night at the Lennoxville Curling Club from 8 to 10. A banquet will be held tonight at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Aurele Doiron is bonspiel chairman and her committee members are Mrs. Ashton Hallam and Mrs. Ivan Saunders.

For and about Women

Women's clubs, activities in the news

SHERBROOKE COUNTY WI

Brompton Road Women's Institute hosted the Sherbrooke County Women's Institutes quarterly meeting in the Brompton Community Hall.

President, Mrs. Wallace Wingate, opened the meeting by welcoming delegates from all five branches.

Mrs. Kenneth Smart, secretary, gave a resume of the last meeting and the treasurer, Mrs. Robert Sutor, gave the financial standing.

The plaque, won by Sherbrooke County Women's Institutes for placing second in the decorated float competition, at the Optimist Parade held in Lennoxville, was on display and is to be hung in the Lennoxville Club room, Town Hall, Queen Street.

The county scrap book compiled by Mrs. Neil Tracy, was also on display and will record many interesting events and pictures.

A letter of resignation, as county second vice-president, was received with regret from Mrs. Eldora Turner.

Mrs. Sterling Parker, in reporting as convener of the school fair noted, that a meeting had been held and the prize list revised, and that the work this year at the time of the fair will be divided among the various branches.

Ascot will be in charge of the public speaking contest to be held at Mitchell School, on March 7 at 1:30 p.m.

Belvidere is in charge of the contents and distribution of the prize lists.

Brompton Road will order and distribute the seeds. Lennoxville will be in charge of entry tags and Milby will provide extra help at the time of the Fair.

Mrs. Ashley Hatcher read an article on how Indian girls coming to Toronto are given help to become oriented to city life and obtain work.

Mrs. Gordon Hatch, as education convener, spoke of the three aspects of education, variety, awareness and agility. Home and school groups, she said, must be brought closer together.

Tribute was paid to Mrs. Randolph Knapp who is president of the P.A.P.T.

Notice was given of the next WI broadcast, Thursday at 9:20 a.m. Lennoxville is in charge.

Mrs. Wallace Wingate thanked the members for being delegates to the semi-annual meeting held in Montreal and gave the meeting's highlights. Nineteen of the 24 counties were represented, as well as the regular board sessions. A meeting of county presidents, with conveners setting in, proved interesting and beneficial.

A second printing of the Moaisics was found to be too expensive.

The Heritage may be purchased as a large number are in stock.

Regarding the visit of Mrs. Aroti Dutt, ACWW president, Miss Edna Smith of Lennoxville and Miss Hannah Smith of Argenteuil County, who were responsible for the planning of the receptions given in these two areas, were congratulated on their efficiency and efforts.

There will be no leadership training course this year. Tenta-tioned questions answered and a resume given of the joint meeting with the Montreal Council of Women when the subjects discussed were: the role of Women Volunteers, organizations in the future, language rights, the alarming increase in farm accidents, evaluation of quality of films and TV programs and Water pollution.

Mrs. Claire Cloutier from the Cancer Distribution Center in Sherbrooke was introduced and spoke briefly on the work carried on. She noted there are now 86 cancer patients being looked after, ranging in ages from four years to 84. Mrs. Cloutier thanked the members for their interest in the making of dressings and supplying items for the gift cupboard

Thomas Young presented a Pioneer Girls' Report.

The highlight of the evening was a panel discussion entitled God and my Neighbor.

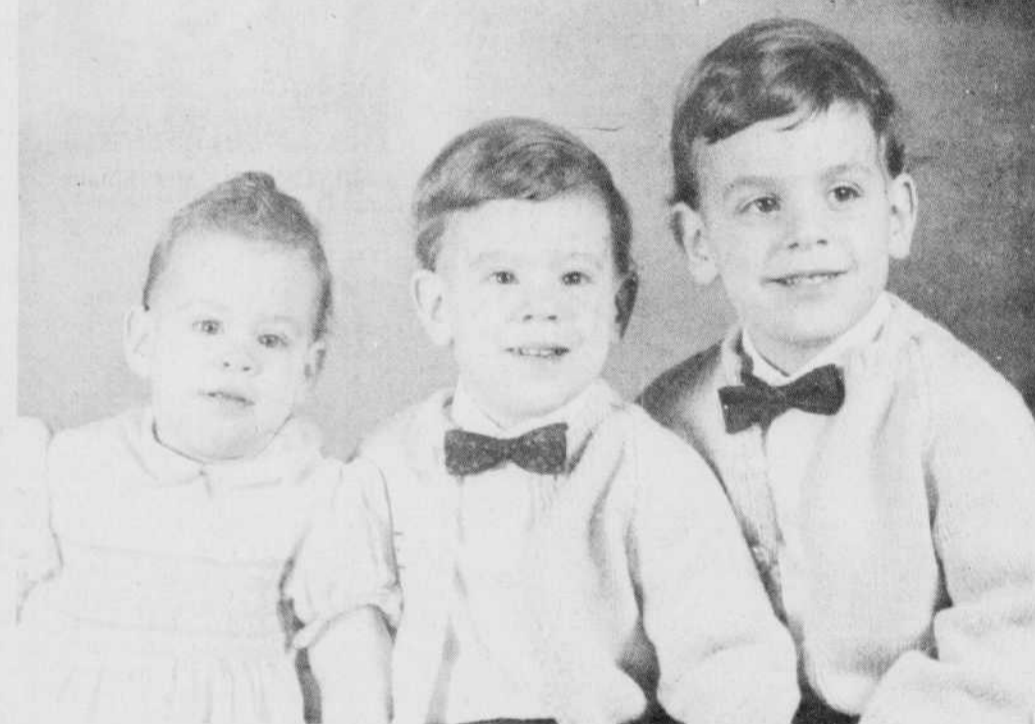

The moderator, Mrs. Donald Fish, gave a keynote address centred on the Good Samaritan story making reference to responsibility and attitude as Christian women.

The panelists were Miss Marjorie Beckwith, Mrs. Robert Paulette, Mrs. Harold Munkittrick, Mrs. Fred Warnholtz.

Each chose a different area in which to apply the principle mentioned.

On March 10, the meeting will feature three speakers representing French protestant missionary work in Quebec.

Hostesses for the evening were

SCOTT EDWARD, 3, STEPHEN GEORGE, 2, and ROBYN WILMA, 1, children of Mr.

and Mrs. Leon Goyette of Tomifobia, and the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Young of Stanstead, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Goyette.

Miss Claire Bernard, Miss Clara Suchard and Mrs. Spencer Dibble.

Mrs. H. A. Welch closed in prayer.

Mrs. Wallace Wingate thanked the speaker and tea was served by the hostess group. The table decorations were in the Valentine motif and all enjoyed a social hour.

GRACE CHAPEL WOMEN'S PRAYER GROUP

The monthly meeting of the Grace Chapel Women's Missionary Prayer Group was held recently with Mrs. Robert Paulette presiding.

The pianist was Mrs. Arthur Hill. Mrs. Arnold Faith read the secretary's report. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Paulette in the absence of Mrs. Arnold Baker.

Mrs. H. A. Welch requested that the ladies participate in the work committee's project for the month of a spring clean-up, at the chapel.

A prayer time followed. Mrs.

Grits plan to hold thinkers meet

QUEBEC (CP) — The provincial Liberals plan to hold a thinkers conference this spring.

Liberal Leader Jean Lesage is to announce Friday at Montreal that a four-day conference of intellectuals will be held here May 8 to 11.

Party sources say this is the purpose of "a very special news conference" scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday at Montreal by Mr. Lesage.

As conference site, the party has chosen a nearby Maison Montmorency, a state Dominican retreat.

The conference is to establish the basis for a complete new party policy.

Will resume

QUEBEC (CP) — Raymond Laliberte, president of the Quebec Teachers Corporation, has announced that rotating strikes will resume today because efforts at mediation "have not produced sufficient substance."

He said in an interview Tuesday that the two mediators selected by the teachers and acceptable to the school boards and government had refused to take the job.

Efforts at mediation began last weekend after two weeks of rotating or spot strikes in which teachers boycotted classes for at least one-half day in all parts of the province.

They were protesting the refusal of the Quebec government to agree to mediation in contract talks, dragging on for more than 18 months.

English-speaking Roman Catholic and Protestant teachers did not take part in the strikes which involved more than 2,100 teachers since Feb. 3.

Mr. Laliberte said the teachers still are seeking "suitable mediators" but that negotiations are not moving fast enough.

First place

TORONTO (CP) — William Tritt, 16, of Valois, Que., already a winner of several class competitions, Tuesday took first place in a piano class calling for a concerto group of three pieces.

The competition at the annual Kiwanis music festival of Greater Toronto was open to amateurs and professionals.

Serves notice

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal Transport Employees' Union, racked by internal troubles concerning the use of union finances, Tuesday served notice of its intention to quit the 225,000-member Confederation of National Trade Unions.

The motion, signed by eight union officials including President Roland Boivin, was served on the CNTU with which it has been affiliated for more than four years.

The Transport Employees' Union bargains for 3,500 bus drivers and subway operators employed by the Montreal Transportation Commission.

Robert Lachance, a union executive officer, said in an interview he will ask the Quebec government to name a royal commission to investigate the handling of funds by the CNTU. The CNTU claims it is owed $112,000 by the Transport Employees' Union for money advanced during strikes the union called against the MTC in 1965 and 1967.

The union Tuesday announced another general meeting Feb. 27 at which the general outline of the whole situation will be discussed. A referendum will be held the following day when members will vote on the proposal to withdraw from the CNTU.

May need bond

MONTREAL (CP) — Air Canada may need a public bond issue to raise $300,000,000 to cover obligations during the next five years, Yves Pratte, the airline's chairman of the board, said Tuesday.

Mr. Pratte said in an interview the publicly-owned airline cannot raise the $300,000,000 through its revenues. "It is up to the government of Canada to decide whether or not to sell shares of a Crown corporation to the public," Mr. Pratte said.

"But we at Air Canada can legally decide at any time whether or not we will borrow money and from whom."

Air Canada had placed orders during the last few years for six Concorde supersonic jet airliners, four jumbo jets, 10 Lockheed L-1011s and 29 DC-9s.

Total cash value of these purchases has not been made public but at current prices, the total could reach $1,000,000,000, including the cost of additional repair and overhaul facilities for the new aircraft.

Mr. Pratte declined to comment on whether the airline should issue common shares to the public.

"I am neither for nor against it," he said, "just as I am neither for Crown corporations nor against the free-enterprise system."

"This is a question for the government I am simply interested in the best way of facing our present problems."

"Our problem at the moment is that we need $300,000,000 to cover capital expenditures which we are unable to meet from revenues. If we can negotiate a reasonable interest rate, a bond or debenture issue may be the answer."

Mr. Pratte said a direct government loan to aid the airline is unlikely because of the federal government's present financing situation.

Of complaints by regional air carriers that Air Canada is crowding them out of the more profitable domestic routes, Mr. Pratte said:

"We cannot solve this problem piecemeal. We must first decide what a regional route is and then formulate a policy which will meet the needs of the population, not just the owners of the regional carriers."

More sailings

MONTREAL (CP) — CP Ships announced Tuesday it will have four additional North Atlantic round-trip passenger sailings next October and November.

There also would be a full 1969-70 cruise schedule for CP Ships' two passenger liners, Empress of Canada and Empress of England.

W. J. Stenason, chairman of CP Ships, said the augmented 1969 schedules, which now include 20 round-trip crossings, is designed to achieve maximum use of the liners.

CARD — We would like to express our sincere appreciation to our children for the 25th Wedding Anniversary party they gave us during the holidays. A special thanks to Sandra, Butch and Tyler and also to Aunt Jess for the lovely cake. A thank you also to all our relatives and friends who made the evening so enjoyable. BEA and GARNET CARD

Hurls bombs

The Israeli and the three Arabs were in custody today and were to appear before an examining magistrate. It was assumed the Israeli agent would plead self-defence.

Sources at Bern, where the Swiss cabinet met to discuss the incident, said Israel was expected to file an early request for the extradition of the three Arabs. But legal experts there said Switzerland is virtually certain to reject this, because the Swiss legal code stipulates jurisdiction over crimes committed in the country.

Police said the attackers also hurled incendiary bombs and hand grenades at the plane, but they failed to explode. Three parcels of plastic explosives were found in the Arabs' rented car.

Backs his case

Several Conservative members said it would be "more realistic" to raise the exemption figure to $75,000 or $100,000 since inflated values had pushed most economic farms or small businesses past the $50,000 figure.

George Muir (PC-Lisgar) said the change would cost Ottawa only $12,000,000 a year. "WOULDN'T BE JUST"

But Norman Cafik (L-Ontario) said a $100,000 exemption would remove any pretense of just taxation and would not be tolerated by the working men.

Mr. Muir also joined several colleagues in criticizing present methods of evaluating estates, which he said bear no relation to market conditions or economic cycles.

He said a Manitoba farm that could have been sold for $250 an acre last year might not be saleable for any price this year because of the surplus grain situation and other factors. A farm might be greatly over-valued in these conditions.

Well-known teacher was respected by all

MONTREAL — Mrs. Katalin Liszy, a well-known art teacher, died at the Lachine General Hospital, Jan. 20, 1969. Born in Budapest, Hungary, Mrs. Liszy was educated in that city and graduated from the Royal Hungarian College of Fine Arts with a master's degree in Fine Arts and a teaching diploma. After escaping to West Germany, where her husband died, she taught in Switzerland for two years and then emigrated to Canada with her small daughter in 1950.

In this country Mrs. Liszy taught in the Pointe aux Trembles French Institute meanwhile acquiring a knowledge of English. Later she introduced a new art program in the Richmond-Drummond-Arthabaska schools. In 1957 Mrs. Liszy was appointed art teacher at John Rennie High School, a position which she held until recently.

Mrs. Liszy was an active member of many art committees, a member of the Provincial Curriculum Committee for Art in the High Schools, the committees for the presentation of briefs to the Parents Commission and the Commission of Inquiry on Art Education, and the Canadian Society for Education through Art. She was a founding member of the Art Exhibition Committee of Stewart Hall and the Lakeshore Artists' Association. She served on many committees for the improvement of art in the schools and taught many in-service courses for teachers in elementary schools and adult education classes.

Mrs. Liszy will be long remembered by her many students and colleagues at John Rennie High School, Sir George Williams University and the summer students of the University of New Brunswick. She enriched the lives of all who knew her.

She is survived by her daughter, Klarika, of Montreal, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laszlo Paly and two sisters, all of Budapest.

Funeral services were held from the Church of St. John the Baptist, in Pointe Claire. The Katalin Liszy Memorial Fund has been established by the principal and staff of John Rennie High School. The Memorial will aid the Art education of students attending the school. Contributions may be sent to the Katalin Liszy Memorial Fund John Rennie High School, 500 St. John's Road, Pointe Claire, Quebec.

Montreal, Canadian stock exchanges work hard to return to peak

The Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges have in great part recovered from the shock of Thursday afternoon's explosion. Within one hour after the blast frantic operations were begun to make the Exchanges' intricate network of facilities again functional. The success in achieving this is nothing less than miraculous, and may be attributed chiefly to the day and night labours of everyone concerned with the operations of the equipment.

At this writing, the electronic quotation boards are again flashing the prices and trade numbers, within the usual one-sixth of a second after the information is verified by the undamaged computer.

One board, on the Montreal Exchange, is beyond repair, but the traders assure that its absence can be compensated for.

Six hundred relays, an electronic switch, vital to the function of the boards, were flown in from Burlington by charter plane. Four technicians from Ferranti-Packard Electronics, the makers of the specially designed boards, arrived from Toronto.

The RCA Divcon television network is again flashing "up to the second" quotations to its many subscribers in and around the Stock Exchange Tower.

The unique and delicate electronics of the Exchanges is meaningless without the human element. There are many who have worked completely through the four nights since the blast, but the fact that trading began again, with a flourish, at 11:00 a.m. the morning after, is astounding. The trading floor personnel were there at the crack of dawn preparing the chalkboards, sweeping the floor, readying their order sheets and themselves for another day of bidding and asking, buying and selling.

There were eight secretaries in the general office which houses the listing, accounting, and research departments, an area which was severely damaged.

Friday morning all but one, who suffered multiple bruises and broken collar bone, were cleaning their desks and helping to move them into the hall, where they are now temporarily located. Their electric typewriters and calculating machines now line the beautiful teak table in the boardroom where, between meetings, repairs to them can be made.

Bell Canada had the Exchanges' 500 telephones operational within three hours after the blast, and by Friday morning five extra lines had been installed.

The mailroom reports no loss of incoming or outgoing mail.

Security measures at the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges have always been stringent. They will now be doubled.

The gallery will be closed for at least one month while repairs are being made.

Pride, this is the motivation. This is the reason why the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges have lost only one hour and forty-five minutes of trading time since the explosion.

Québec knows how

Why made-in-Québec sunglasses for pedigrees play a part in Québec's economy.

Sound way out? Not really. Listen . . . the dog's mistress, a middle-aged woman, bought the fancy sunglasses for $8 from a St-Hyacinthe artist . . . the artist from St-Hyacinthe paid the $8 to a glove-maker in Saint-Tite for a pair of fur gloves . . . the Saint-Tite glove-maker spent the $8 on a pair of skates made in Québec City . . . the skate manufacturer, having had a successful winter, panelled the walls of his summer house in maple, manufactured in Victoriaville . . . the manufacturer of the panelling went into the construction of prefabricated houses, many of which he exported to England and Scotland . . . in return, the sale of fine imported china, provided ten merchants in Trois-Rivières and Sherbrooke with a good living . . . Thanks to their profits, these ten merchants are able to buy the food you produce, the television sets you manufacture, the furniture you upholster, the furs you stitch into garments, the jewellery you design, the electrical appliances you inspect . . . All of which allows you to buy for your wife a soft little pedigree dog whose gentle eyes will probably need a pair of fancy sun-glasses . . . and the wheels of commerce continue to turn . . .

GOUVERNEMENT DU QUÉBEC

Youthful farmers were good

MONTREAL — (Staff) — A Québec press release shows an unprecedented 95 youths participated in the recent 10 annual contest for young farmers at the national agriculture salon, held at the Maurice Richard Arena here.

Of the 95 youngsters aged from 14 to 20 inclusively, 35 were girls.

Their sheep and beef cattle were judged, classified, then judged again by higher standards when they are sold at an auction.

The contest and auction, the press release says, encouraged beef breeding, an industry with a deficit production in past years.

The first youth contest at the salon was held in 1960 when 58 young farmers from 16 Québec counties participated.

A few months previous to the salon that year, the young farmers were sold beef cattle at $75 per head.

That year, the winner of the contest sold his cow for $4.20 per pound. Then years later, the grand champion sold for $10.25 per pound.

Last year, the winning head of beef sold for $5.75 per pound, bringing $5,623.50 to its young Temiscouata owner.

In 1967, the youths started raising and contesting sheep at the salon. That year, 30 sheep were exhibited; this year, there were 60.

During the first 10 years, more than 200 young farmers have received $200,000 from the sale of their cattle and sheep.

Avoiding Allergen Best Asthma Treatment

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have asthma that causes me to wheeze and feel weak. Could it be from my nerves? What is the best treatment?

A—Although most cases of asthma are caused by inhaling pollens or house dust or by eating foods to which you are sensitive, heredity and emotional stress are now believed to be contributing factors. The best treatment is still a careful search for the causative allergen and avoiding it when it is found. After all, the nervous tension could be a result, rather than a cause, of your asthma.

Q—I am a woman, 60, and I have eczema. What causes it? How can I get rid of it?

A—The allergens that cause eczema are usually foods, especially milk, eggs and wheat; drugs, especially sulfonamides, vitamin preparations, liver extract and coal tar products; or skin contact with various fabrics or chemicals. It often requires the services of a skilled allergist or dermatologist to find the cause but, once this is found, complete relief is possible.

Q—Are hay fever and asthma inherited?

A—A predisposition to these allergic diseases is inherited in some cases.

Q—I have been taking two shots a month for eight years for my allergy to ragweed. Could the shots cause rheumatic pains in my joints?

A—Too large a dose may cause hives or the symptoms of hay fever or asthma but would not cause joint pains.

Q—Every June, as soon as the roses bloom, I start to sneeze and my eyes water. My mother says that if I were allergic to roses, I would have these symptoms any time of the year if I was near these flowers. What do you think?

A—If you are sensitive to roses, you would sneeze any time you inhaled rose pollen. Your allergy may be caused by the pollen of some other plant that blooms at the same time of year as roses.

Q—My husband, 34, has hives. The pills he is taking don't help. He quit eating eggs and drinking milk but that didn't help either. He is a printer. Could the ink he handles cause his hives?

A—Yes, especially if his hives clears up over the weekend when he is away from the shop. Your doctor could cinch the matter by making patch tests with a neutral substance on one spot and printer's ink on another.

Franchise business can almost be called safe

By DICK KLEINER

franchising FMS around the nation.

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—Southern California has fallen in love, head over smog, with franchises. Every business street is a parade of franchised establishments—restaurants, automobile repair shops, automatic photograph booths, motels.

Franchises, every one of them. And, while California has more of them than any place else, they are big everywhere. Latest figures estimate that in 1968, $90 billion was spent by customers at franchise outlets. By 1975, the experts say, 70 per cent of all retail sales will be racked up by franchises.

The inevitable next step is already here—now California is beginning to franchise franchise information. Jerry Kosseff, whose Franchise Marketing Service represents and sell franchises, is Through a franchise, he can achieve that aim with less risk. According to Kosseff's figures, the odds against success for a man who starts his own business are nine-to-one, while it is nine-to-one in his favor if he buys a franchise.

The reason for that is that he has a head start with a franchise—the franchiser teaches him a tried-and-true method of sales and gives him a product that has national (or at least regional) advertising and promotion.

For the franchiser, this type of operation offers a better bet than attempting to open his own branch outlets. He gets some cash assistance from the franchise buyer, and automatically has a man running the outlet who is as much interested in success as he is.

Franchises have become like stocks, in some respects. They go up and down in cost, as the franchise becomes more or less successful. Three years ago, a Colonel Sanders fried chicken franchise could be bought for $8,500. Today it can cost up to $100,000. Same chicken, but with success the price zoomed.

Because of this, some plungers now speculate with franchises. They buy a new franchise, keep it for awhile, then hopefully sell it at a profit.

Kosseff thinks that, like stocks, the franchise market will inevitably come under government controls. California already has stepped in with some rigid regulations—no new company can enter the franchise field here unless it has a net worth of better than $250,000 for example—and Kosseff believes federal regulations will certainly be forthcoming.

Still the biggest franchises are automobile dealerships, but Kosseff feels that the future is virtually limitless. He may be right; if you can franchise a franchise service, anything is possible. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

He's a heap little Apache

By JOAN CROSBY

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The United States government could tell every one of its atomic secrets to Noland Clay and be safe.

Noland showed up for lunch in one of New York's most elegant East Side hotels, determined not even to give his name, rank or serial number.

Noland is an Apache Indian—11 years old. He has huge, almond-shaped eyes, straight jet hair combed over his forehead and little dimples that break right at the corners of his mouth when he smiles. He doesn't need words to identify him.

He was plucked off the White Mountain Apache Reservation in Arizona and given a pivotal role in the National General Pictures release, "The Stalking Moon," which stars Gregory Peck and Eva Marie Saint.

Noland plays Miss Saint's half-breed son in the western thriller, and he only speaks about three words in the film, those soft enough barely to be heard.

Nelson Lupe, a former tribal chief who now works for the Arizona State Employment Service, accompanied Noland on his trip to the steel canyons of New York and said, "He turned down a job in The High Chaparral, and he went to Disney for a screen test which he flubbed. He hated being away from his family."

His family consists of his father, mother and eight brothers and sisters. Noland was asked if he thought Eva Marie Saint is pretty and he said, "Yes, ma'am." And he giggled.

Noland also fell off a horse during the filming and you wondered if this embarrassed the descendant of some of the greatest horsemen of the world.

"Yes sir . . . ma'am," he answered, trying to suppress a smile.

A torrent of words came out of Noland about then. But they were in Apache. It was a pleasure not talking to him.

Noland Clay
"Yes sir . . . ma'am," he giggled.

Ministerial Association tours furniture plant

DERBY LINE — The Stantead and vicinity ministerial association of clergy met on Jan. 27 in Glover, Vt. The group were treated to a tour of the Orleans Manufacturing Companies, Ethan Allen Furniture plant at Orleans, Vt.

Mr. Baney Kvingedal, plant superintendent, organized the tour in connection with Rev. J. F. Brown. The visitors were amazed to see how the steps are taken to make this beautifully finished furniture and the machinery used.

After the tour, the membership repaired to the Glover United Church for supper. A worship service was led by Mr. and Mrs. Kvingedal and the business meeting took place. It was decided to change the regular meeting day to the third Tuesday of each month.

Richmond

Mrs. S. Kennedy who was called here by the death of her brother, Mr. M. T. J. McKee, has returned to her home in Clearwater, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walker have returned home after spending a week at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Stewart at St. Bruno. While there they attended the funeral of Mrs. K. Liszy at St. John the Baptist Anglican Church, Pointe Claire.

It was noted with regret the recent death of Rev. Mary Candy of Derby, a colleague and late secretary-treasurer for many years. It was voted to give a sum of $15 to the Mary Candy Memorial Fund.

Abercorn

Due to the recent icy conditions three people have been hospitalized; Mrs. Phillip Dorais sustained a light concussion; Mrs. Narcisse Geurtin, a broken leg; Mrs. Viggo Anderson, a fractured wrist; all were taken to B.M.P. Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Hollis Wilkins and Mrs. Josie Jones, Sutton are canvassing for the Polio March of Dimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Poulin left for a three-weeks trip to Northern Saskatchewan, Feb. 4. They are travelling by rail.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McGrath motored to Richmond, Feb. 2 and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Goodhue and family, enroute they called on Mr. and Mrs. Harold Little in Knowlton.

Mrs. Lloyd Colton and son, David, Argyle, N.Y., were visiting Mrs. Ada Waterhouse, Mrs. Perley Lahue, Mr. Will Colton, Dunham and Mrs. Charles Waterhouse at the Regal Nursing Home, Cowansville.

Mr. James Rowley, Charlotte South Carolina, spent a week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willard, Ville St. Laurent were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kinner.

East Angus

Miss Nancy Haley, Montreal, spent a few days guests of Mrs. Robert Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransome Hayes spent a few days guests of Mrs. Roy Morin and Mr. and Mrs. Ubaldo Pitt in Burlington, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Labonte, Mrs. Rodger Heatherington, Miss Elizabeth McLellan and Mr. Gordon Sims attended the funeral of George Labonte held in Lennoxville on Feb. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Heatherington and daughter, Randi were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parsons, Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Thorne, Sherbrooke, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thorne, Cookshire, were Feb. 2 guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rowland and Miss Margaret Rowland were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Price in Sherbrooke.

Mr. James Rowley, Charlotte South Carolina, spent a week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willard, Ville St. Laurent were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kinner.

Friends in this district were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Abbie Willard which occurred on Feb. 6 at the home of her son.

St. Paul's United Church in Magog holds congregational meeting

MAGOG — (Special) — St. Paul's United Church Magog held its annual congregational meeting in the church hall on Jan. 28, 1969.

Supper was served at 6:30 p.m. after which Rev. R. Nickle opened the meeting with prayer followed by a short worship service. Mr. Austin Ruck showed colored slides of the events in the life of St. Paul's from 1958 to the present time. Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Retiring elders are: Mrs. Gordon Bailey, George Hall and Austin Ruck.

Elected elders are: Mrs. George Hall, Allen Robinson and Frank de B. Walker.

The new steward is Barry Moffat.

Mr. J. Richardson thanked Rev. and Mrs. Nickle for their help and guidance during the past year.

Rev. Nickle expressed his thanks to Austin Ruck, clerk of session, for his many years of faithful service and help, in many ways, during the past year. Mr. Nickle also thanked Mrs. Jean St. Jacques, who types the weekly orders of service. He remarked that this took many hours of hard work and gave him more time to visit the sick and shut-ins. Also a vote of thanks was expressed to Mrs. E. Hebert, the church organist and Mr. Long, the janitor.

Mrs. Derrick Pilkington thanked Mrs. Ron Nickle for her work with the Junior and Senior choirs.

Julius Richardson expressed thanks to Mrs. George Smiley, Envelope Secretary, and to the ladies of Unit No. 2 of the UCW for the delicious supper.

The Session held 10 regular meetings and two special meetings during the year. Average attendance was seven members.

As a result of the questionnaire sent out regarding the frequency of communion, it was the decision of the members of Session that communion be dispensed six times a year. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated at six regular services. The average attendance was 78. Communion was also administered to the sick and shut-ins.

The following special services were held: Easter, Anniversary, Christian Family Day, Dedication to Mission, Rally Day, Thanksgiving, Armistice, CGIT Vesper and White Gift Service and Christmas Eve Family Service. This year Rev. Carson Duquette was the guest speaker for the Anniversary service.

Stewards report show that during the past 12-month period eight meetings were held in the Vestry with the average attendance of 10.

The Every-Person Visitation was held in the month of November 1968. Although some members increased their givings the estimated deficit is $165.

Mr. K. Dezan was appointed Church treasurer in place of Mr. A. Robinson. On behalf of the Official Board, the Committee of Stewards thanked Mr. Robinson for his excellent work as church treasurer for the past two years. This year he is retiring from the Committee but we hope he will be available to us in the near future.

UCW reports there have been two General Meetings and several Executive Meetings of the UCW during the past year; with Unit Meetings held monthly. Even with a drop in membership they have had a very busy and rewarding year. The UCW catered to the following events:

Congregational Supper, Jan. 30; Valentine Tea, Feb. 17; CGIT Mother and Daughter Banquet, Mar. 30; Chicken Pot Pie Supper, April 24; Baked Bean and Casserole Supper, Oct. 16 and held two rummage sales and a Christmas sale.

The officers for 1969 are: President, Mrs. D. Pilkington; vice-president, Mrs. D. Moffat; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. W. McLaughlan; Unit No. 1 president, Miss L. Pike; and Unit No. 2 president, Mrs. G. Barron.

The members of the M and M Committee are: Mrs. George Hall, chairman; Rev. Ron Nickle, Miss Ada Sandell, Mr. George Hall, Mrs. Irma McKelvey.

The Committee held four meetings during the year, with all members in attendance. The Committee was responsible for the Austerity Supper followed by a panel discussion, held on March 9.

The amount raised by the supper was $131. This was forwarded to Toronto as a Super gift from St. Paul's, not to be considered part of our M and M givings. As there were no administrative costs, this total amount went directly to help alleviate the world's hunger.

The regular Church calendar is mailed to members living outside our area, along with Upper Room, yearly reports and material from any special services.

There were 40 sessions of Sunday School during the year. Enrolment included 55 pupils and eight teachers and officers. The average attendance was 75 per cent.

Special services were held for Christian Family Day, Rally Day and White Gift Service. This year the White Gift Service was combined with the CGIT Vesper Service and was held on Dec. 15, 1968. Again this year, on Rally Day, seals and diplomas were presented to those pupils who attained perfect attendance during the previous year.

In October the Sunday School teachers recommended to the Session that a Church School be organized in Austin. In November a meeting of the parents in Austin was held and plans were made to organize a Church School. The first session of the new Church School was held Nov. 15, 1968.

Mrs. Doris McLaughlan has taken over in the Kindergarten Department. Christmas parties were planned by the Primary Department and the Junior-Intermediate-Senior Department. The leaders of the mid-week groups and the older department of the Sunday School went out carolling and were joined later by the pupils from Austin for the party.

The first session of the Austin Church School was held on Nov. 15, 1968 at 4 p.m. in the Austin Town Hall. The meetings are being continued on a regular basis every Friday at the same time, except for the senior class which meets at 7 p.m. each Friday, because of a lack of classroom space during the afternoon. Because the children are brought in directly from the school bus they are given a cup of hot chocolate and some cookies upon their arrival. The financial burden of this is carried by the parents and the preparations are done by Mrs. Arthur Bryant and Mrs. Edward Hardy.

There is a total enrolment of 45 students; divided as follows: Kindergarten, six, teacher, Miss Lee Bryant; primary class, 15, teacher, Mrs. Stanley Ruck; Junior class, nine, teacher, Mrs. Stanley Royea; intermediate class, nine, teacher, Mr. Peter Meesen; senior class, six, teacher, Mr. Koert Linde.

Austin Ruck reported there wasn't any Sigma C group this year.

The CGIT leaders are as follows: January to June, Miss Joyce Broadbent; September to December, Miss Joyce Broadbent and Mrs. Murray Gratham.

The presidents, January to June, Miss Elizabeth Robinson; September to December, Miss Robin Keet and Miss Linda Cotterell.

Membership was: January to June: meetings, 15; members, 13; average, eight.

September to December, meetings 11; members, 12; average 10.

They attended church as a group when the young people from the Roman Catholic Church were present. After a worship service a question and answer period was held. The Rev. Nickle Tardif and Ouellette answered any questions the young people asked them in regards to faith and worship within the different churches. For our Mission Study on Japan

Spitfire pilot plans last jump

OTTAWA (CP) — A Second World War Spitfire pilot and peacetime parachutist plans to make his 500th—and final—jump over the North Pole late next month.

Ray Munro, a former newspaper man now living in Lancaster, Ont., near Cornwall, says he will hang up his chute after the polar jump and will also quit flying, after a 30-year career.

A statement issued here today by Robert Christie Associates Ltd. of Montreal, said timing of the jump will depend on weather conditions. The venture will be launched from Ward Hunt Island, 500 miles south of the pole.

Polar pilot Weldon W. Phipps will fly a ground party to the pole and return to pick up Munro and the party after the jump.

Mr. Munro, in his late 40s, told officials of the northern development department the expedition will be the culmination of five years of study and 499 paratroops "to determine the psychological and physiological effects" on a parachutist jumping under abnormal conditions.

The department has issued Mr. Munro with the necessary expeditionary permit to make the jump.

two filmstrips were used. These were One Half of One Per Cent and In the Land of Fujisun.

A Pancake Supper was held in February and a sleigh ride was enjoyed by all during the season.

There were two short term projects. One was a filmstrip I Never Looked at It That Way Before. This concerned teens and adults sharing their views on smoking and the use of drugs. A discussion followed the showing of the filmstrip. At another meeting Mr. Nickle explained the meaning of the symbols in the church.

A mother and daughter banquet was held in May. Miss Ada Sandell was our guest speaker. She gave a very interesting talk on how she was called to be a Missionary also present for the service of Dedication to Mission in May.

At our Senior Members Service Elizabeth Robinson, Kathy Ruck and Jennifer Trew received their lanyards. Mrs. J. Richardson assisted with this service.

Mrs. Jean Gratham joined the group as a leader this fall. The meetings have consisted of business, games, worship and purpose and program. Four girls waited on tea tables at the UCW Christmas Tea.

New Members Service was held the same night as the Explorer Star Ceremony. The girls led in worship for this meeting. The new members are Janie Dustin, Nancy Keet, Susan McLaughlan and Brenda Ruck.

Weekly expeditions included games, business, worship, study, singing, dramatization, and handwork. Six expeditions were carried out: Mission Study, Dr. Martin Luther King, Drama exploration, Half and Han Outdoor exploration including picnic supper and hike on Mount Orford, Becoming and Explorer and Living with My Family.

In January they attended the ecumenical church service conducted by Mr. Nickle and Fathers Tardif and Ouellette. In February they helped the CGIT serve a pancake supper. In May they joined with the CGIT for Explorer Graduation Ceremony and CGIT Senior Members' Service. Mr. Nickle presented Graduation certificates and E Pins to Nancy Keet, Susan McLaughlan and Brenda Ruck. In May we attended church as a group for the Dedication to Mission Ceremony. In the fall we began using new materials which were published as a result of sixty-five Explorer groups testing new material last year.

In October we played host to the Annual Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery Explorer Rally when 72 Explorers and 10 Counsellors enjoyed a day of fun and fellowship together.

Also in October we enjoyed a picnic supper and Halloween Party. In November we held our Initiation and Star Ceremonies along with CGIT New Members' Service. New Explorers initiated were Heather Keet and Sandra McLaughlan. In December we concluded our exploration on Living with my Family and Helping Others by decorating the Christmas Tree in the Church Hall in time for the Kingpins meeting the next day.

The senior choir now has six ladies and no male members. They continue to practice every Thursday, but are becoming more and more discouraged at the loss of members and failure to obtain new members.

This past spring we joined together with Ayer's Cliff to take part in the Orleans County Music Festival in Stanstead. They have taken part in the special Christmas services with the Junior choir. Both junior and senior choirs went to Georgeville for the Carol Service on Dec. 22.

The Junior choir is doing extremely well under the very capable direction of Mrs. Ron Nickle. There are now 11 members in the Junior choir. Both choirs join together in thanking Mrs. Nickle for her patience and good humor, and for giving them several hours of her time each week. They would also like to thank Mrs. Hebert for her wonderful music and her patience.

In May of 1968 several members of the Church formed an interim committee to look into the possibilities of sponsoring a Foster child. On speaking to members of the congregation the idea of the Foster child seemed like a good one, and a very personal way of helping one struggling family somewhere in the world.

The committee chose a small boy from Peru, Luis Cruz, five years of age. The first payment six months was paid in July and the next payment was due Feb. 1, 1969. Christmas cards and letters were sent to Luis and his family, also a cash gift for Christmas gifts, and four sweaters for the children.

The children at our Sunday School are now involved in the making of scrapbooks for Luis. The White Stocking gift this year was also given to Luis, for which we were very grateful. There was also a gift from the UCW along with donations from private sources. I thank you on Luis' behalf for your generosity.

Anyone who would like to make a donation or send a gift to Luis, or anyone who would like to be on the committee, please contact any of the following: Rev. Ron Nickle, Mrs. M. Gordon, Miss H. McKelvey, Mrs. D. Dustin or Mrs. D. Pilkington.

Inverness

Mr. Rufus Jamieson, Kinnear's Mills, accompanied by Mr. Willie Learmouth attended the funeral of the late Mr. Robert (Bob) Learmouth in St. Johnsbury, Vt., where the latter was a guest at the Tower's Nursing Home for several years. The late Mr. Learmouth, had he lived until April 4th, next would have reached the century mark.

Mrs. Albert Carroll and son, Lorne, motored to Brampton, Ont., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Westover, and Mr. Howard Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cook, Bobbie and Shelley, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Knox, Mrs. Louise Craig and Mrs. Florence Bennett, in Stoneham.

Mrs. Arthur Minnaugh has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Douglas Cox and Mr. Cox in Lower Ireland. Other guests at the Cox home included Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nourse, and son, of Pointe Claire.

Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie has been spending some time in the MacKenzie home in Westmount where the health of the Misses MacKenzie is not what their friends in Inverness would like to see them enjoy.

Mr. Herbert Denney, St. Ferdinand d'Hallifax, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Church, held a successful meeting at the home of Mrs. Dan Melrose.

Richmond

Mr. and Mrs. A. Allan and daughter, Montreal, were weekend guests of Dr. D. Dykeman and Mrs. Dykeman.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Armatage have left for a holiday in Florida.

A mathematician would have no trouble making three no-trump with today's hand. He would win the spade lead with his ace and count eight tricks. The ninth could come in the diamond suit if the ace of diamonds shows up in the West hand. It could come in the heart suit if hearts were divided evenly. He would know that it was even money that West would hold the diamond ace and almost two to one against finding three hearts in each hand.

Then, because mathematicians don't like to waste time, he would win the spade in his hand, lead a diamond to dummy's king and claim his contract.

An expert bridge player would also make three no-trump but he would take a little more time doing it. Expert bridge players don't have to be great mathematicians but they all know that a suit breaks 3-3 a trifle less than 36 per cent of the time. They also are in no hurry to make important decisions, so the expert player would run off four club tricks before deciding which red suit would be better to attack.

West would have to make one discard and East two discards. One of them might throw away a heart. In that case, South might decide to play a heart to dummy's king and a second heart back to his ace to see if hearts were going to break for him. With one heart discarded, if both opponents followed twice there would only be one heart left to annoy him.

Or they might throw diamonds in such manner as to give South a very good idea where the ace could be found.

Failing all that, South would fall back on mathematics and try for his ninth trick in diamonds.

Old age: it's a passport to freedom

In another dispatch from behind the Iron Curtain, Tom Tiede tells what happens to a man who has outlived his usefulness to the East German government.

By TOM TIEDE

EAST BERLIN—(NEA)—Kurt Brenner, a half-crippled old man, is openly plotting to escape this Communist city.

He says he will wait until spring, when the weather is better. Then he will limp up to the border, snub his nose at the guards and pass boldly on through.

No one will stop him, he says, because his escape has the blessing of the official East German regime.

Kurt Brenner (not his real last name) has reached what Germans call the "die Bealterten des Friedens," the age of freedom. He is 66, retired and slowed down by an old leg injury.

So, by Communist charts of human efficiency, he is of no further productive or productive use. And his exit to the West is permitted; even, in a way, wanted.

The Communist reasoning is starkly simple.

If Brenner stays in East Germany after retirement, he is a liability to socialism. If he leaves, he is a liability to somebody else.

Therefore, Brenner's departure is an economic gain for East German officials. Otherwise, they would have to rebate the money he paid the socialist system while he worked.

For example, the state would have to provide him social security (called "Rente" here). It would also have to take care of his medical and drug needs. Even when he died, socialism would be saddled with the funeral bill.

This chilly logic, of course, applies not only to Kurt Brenner, but to most East Germans of advanced age: women 60 years and above, men 65 and over.

Each of them is annually permitted four weeks visitation in the West (an unheard of luxury for younger Communists). They can go and come back, or they can go and stay.

There are some exceptions. Communism forbids the departure of still-producive oldsters (scientists), enemies of the state (or close relatives of those enemies) and anyone who might be of some future value to the West.

But for the majority, retirement-exodus is quite permissible. And more and more are taking advantage.

Last year, Western figures indicate 11,134 old people left East Germany. Since 1961, when the Berlin Wall went up, more than 100,000 retired socialists have fled.

Even now, in the winter, the average is 15-25 a day.

For these people, the benefits of Western retirement go far beyond just the break-away from Communist influence. The refugees also obtain important economic dividends, improved living conditions and social rebirth in the West.

Kurt Brenner is a former postal employee. If he stayed in East Berlin, his monthly "Rente" would be roughly $90 a month. On the western side of the border, it will be $125 or more.

Also, Brenner is partially crippled. A leg wound from the war. He thinks he can collect some kind of compensation for it, once he gets on the other side.

Then there will be the availability of modern medicines, the instant accessibility of all goods and the full fallout of the rest of free-world technology.

Finally, and most importantly, for Brenner, there will be a long-awaited reunion with dozens of relative long separated and anguished by walls and wires.

Unfortunately, Kurt Brenner's planned exit will not come without some hardships, both for himself and West Germany.

He will not be permitted to bring any money or papers or property along. He may move personal goods, but his bank account and real estate will be frozen.

Brenner's immigration will mean extra expense for West Germany. The estimate is that the influx of retired refugees since 1961 alone cost government welfare programs more than $100 million a year.

But the cost and the hardships be damned. West Germany isn't kicking and Kurt Brenner isn't either.

Brenner says he can hardly wait. He says he counts the minutes. He has it all planned. He says the first thing he is going to do is find a bar on the other side of the wall, get a little drunk and spend the entire night bawling.

Sawyerville holds carnival week celebrations

SAWYERVILLE — Carnival week was held here with a program from Feb. 1 to Feb. 8. The celebrations opened with an Amateur night in the high school with a large attendance. Mr. Art Bennett was Master of Ceremonies, and the highlight was the crowning of the queen, Miss Sylvia Cragg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cragg. The duchesses were Misses Nicoleene Charpentier and Nichole Dion.

The program consisted of plays, singing, musical numbers, two acts of wrestling, magic tricks. The last part of the evening was singing done by the Choeur Jeunesse under the direction of Mr. Gilles Fontaine. The program was put on by both the English and French schools.

On Sunday afternoon a parade was held with the queen and duchesses, majorettes and band and at night a broomball game. On Feb. 3 a hockey game, Feb. 4 a broomball game between Cookshire and Sawyerville, Feb. 5 a broomball game between young girls of St. Isidore and Sawyerville, Feb. 6, another hockey game between Juvenile Hockey Club and the high school, Feb. 7 a hockey game between Seminary School Teachers, Sherbrooke, and Sawyerville, Sat. Feb. 8, masquerade and dance on skating rink with prizes for best costumes and Sunday afternoon snow mobile races and at 6 p.m. closing of the carnival with a supper at the hotel.

A trophy was given for the best sculpture of Bonhomme Carnival in ice or snow. A Bonhomme in disguise attended the different programs and caused much merriment among the guests.

I.O.O.F. holds 500 party

LISGAR — Members of the I.O.O.F. Lodge, South Durham, held a 500 party on Feb. 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Coote. Seven tables of cards were played with Mrs. Osborne Wilkins, Melbourne, winner of the ladies' highest score. Mr. Lorne Taber, Richmond, received the men's high, while the consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lorne Taber, Richmond and Mr. Calvin Gunter, Lisgar.

A container of maple syrup was raffled, with Mr. Marcel Cote, Lisgar, the lucky winner.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Coote assisted by I.O.O.F. members' wives.

OPENS ASSAULT — Raymond Carpentier, (20), is seen as he drives the puck into the net for his second tally of the evening. Bruce Cline, (16), is waiting for a rebound which never came. Gilles Leclerc, (12), is watching as the puck rolled by Cyr into the meshings. Ray Carpentier, in his first appearance at Sports Palace, tallied two goals as the Beavers won 8-1.

Tigers nip Vics Beavers trounce Sagueneneens 8-1

Sherbrooke Beavers white-washed Phil Watson's Chicoutimi Sagueneneens 8-1 last night at the Sports Palace to move into sole possession of third place in the Quebec Provincial Hockey League standings.

Victoriaville Tigers, by edging Granby Vics 6-5 last night in Victoriaville moved back into sole possession of first place, two points ahead of Chicoutimi. St. Hyacinthe Gauls, idle last night, remain in fifth place, holding two games in hand on Sherbrooke and four over Granby.

Last night's victory marks Sherbrooke fourth in a row over Chicoutimi and Lou Poliquin's charges are the only team to have accomplished the feat this season.

Last Thursday night Sherbrooke humiliated Chicoutimi 9-3 and local fans, overjoyed at the taming of fiery Phil Watson, could never have expected a duplication of Thursday's outcome.

The only sad note in Sherbrooke's performance last night came with less than three minutes remaining in the game as Lepage spoiled Jacques Monette's bid for a well-deserved shutout with a blue-line blast. Ray Carpentier gave Sherbrooke a two-goal lead in the first period last night scoring at 12:16 and 17:25. Stalwarts Jean Levesque and Lionel Robidas assisted on Carpentier's first goal and Bruce Cline and Luc Tessier setup the second goal.

Jimmy Beckman stretched Sherbrooke's lead to 3-0 in the second, slapping a rebound by hard pressed Claude Cyr in Chic-outimi's net. Andre Lagueux and Ron Racette assisted on the goal.

Twenty-six seconds later Sherbrooke jumped to a 5-0 lead. Bruce Cline potting his 22nd goal of the season. Yvon Lacoste assisted on the play. At 9:43 Lionel Robidas blasted a blue-line drive by Cyr, assists on the goal went to Beckman and La-gueux. Ronnie Racette became the second Beaver to score his 20th goal of the season last night (Beckman's goal pushed him to the 20-goal level) as he beat Cyr with a booming slapshot into the lower left hand corner of the net. Ronnie's lone goal and three assists boosted his campaign (35 games) at 5:32. Following this goal Cyr was lifted in favor of Morasse. The brilliant lefty goaltender kept the scoresheet clean until 19:58 of the period. Andre Lagueux tallied his second goal of the night and his nineteenth of the season. Jimmy Beckman and Ron Racette assisted on the play.

Lepage accounted for Chicoutimi's lone goal. Gordie Haworth assisted on the play. Thursday evening Sherbrooke travels to Victoriaville to meet the first place Tigers and Sunday night Victoriaville will visit Sherbrooke.

Last night in Victoriaville Andre Bessette scored a pair of goals and picked up three assists in leading Victoriaville to their 6-5 win over Granby. Granby led 1-0 after the first and 3-2 after the second. In the third period Tigers quickly tied the count after 1:50 of play but Granby stormed back to score two fast goals and go ahead 5-3.

Andy Bessette then took over, scoring at 7:00, assisting on Hardy's goal at 10:56 and then potting the winner at 19:48 of the final frame.

NHL governors turn down bid to shift Seals to Vancouver

NEW YORK (CP) — Will National League hockey make the grade in Oakland, Calif.?

"No," said Toronto lawyer Edwin Goodman, who tried unsuccessfully Tuesday to persuade the owners of the 12 NHL teams to allow the Oakland franchise to be sold and transferred to Vancouver.

"Yes," said league president Clarence Campbell, citing rising attendance figures and construction of a subway system which will eventually deliver fans from the San Francisco Bay area to the door of Oakland Coliseum.

"I am distinctly bullish about hockey interest in the area," said Campbell.

The owners reaffirmed their determination to operate in the San Francisco Bay area despite the financial difficulties of Oakland Seals, plagued by low attendance figures since joining the circuit as an expansion team two seasons ago.

"I can't leave one partner out in limbo," said Campbell, asked for the reasons behind the turnaround. Jack Kent Cooke's Los Angeles Kings would be left in an isolated position, more than 300 miles south of Oakland, and Campbell said scheduling problems would be significant.

Teams visiting the West Coast now have an easy overnight jaunt between Los Angeles and Oakland. An extra day would have to be provided for the 1,300-mile trip between Los Angeles and Vancouver. Teams must have time for land travel if planes are grounded.

The Burrard offer of compensation for extra travel costs "would be an unreasonable imposition" against the Vancouver club, Campbell added. He said the $18,000 extra cost mentioned by a Vancouver representative sounded low.

Campbell also noted that the Seals had climbed to second place in the West Division this season and that management now is doing a good promotion job.

"It would be a dreadful thing to move the team when it is getting stronger," he said. Campbell said Oakland had fulfilled a commitment to Labatt's, the Canadian brewing firm, in seeking the transfer. Labatt's had made a large loan to the Oakland club to help it over last year's rough spots. The NHL had turned down the application and the decision was irrevocable.

However Vancouver remains at the top of the list for a team when the NHL expands again. Only one of the prospective purchasers of the troubled Seals franchise was identified by Campbell. That was Niagara Frontier Hockey Inc., representing the Vancouver group offered to reimburse the other NHL clubs for the extra travel cost involved in playing in Vancouver, 800 miles north of Oakland.

ed at the meeting by Seymour and Northrup Knox and lawyer Robert Swados, all of the Buffalo, N.Y., area. Campbell indicated the group has abandoned an earlier project to move the franchise to Buffalo, but still is interested in buying the club.

Leafs have chance in overtaking Wings in race for playoffs, meet Habs tonight

Toronto Maple Leafs, despite their fifth-place standing in the National Hockey League's Eastern Division, now have a chance of making the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Leafs, who finished out of the playoffs last season for the first time since 1958, currently have the third-best winning percentage in their division, although it does not show up in the regular NHL standings.

The team, to the casual observer, has only 61 points, three fewer than fourth-place Detroit Red Wings. The Detroit club, however, has played 58 games compared to 54 by Toronto and has only a .551 winning average while the Leafs' percentage of victories is .565.

The Toronto victory average is also better than New York Rangers' .560 and Chicago Black Hawks' .517. The Rangers and Black Hawks have also played 58 games.

FOUR-WAY BATTLE

The battle in the East now boils down to a four-way race between New York, Detroit, Toronto and Chicago for the third and fourth spots—the two final playoff berths—in the division.

There is little possibility that any of the four will overtake either Boston Bruins or Montreal Canadiens, currently tied for first with 78 points although Boston's winning average of .696 overshadows Montreal's .672.

Another factor in Toronto's favor is its final 20 games of the season. Nine of these are against the weaker clubs of the Western Division.

The Leafs have gained 34 points in their first 27 games with expansion teams, while Detroit, currently in fourth place with 64 points, has collected an equal number of points during 29 games. Detroit has only seven games remaining against Western Division clubs.

The most successful team in the East against the expansion clubs this season has been New York, which has gained 44 points during 32 games, but the Rangers have only four to play against the western Division clubs.

HABS VISIT LEAFS

Meanwhile, the Leafs face stiff opposition tonight in Toronto when they go against the Canadiens before travelling to Montreal for a return game Thursday night.

Toronto will need three points from those two games to insure its .500-plus average before taking on Chicago in Toronto Saturday and Minnesota North Stars in Minneapolis Sunday afternoon.

Detroit also plays in New York tonight, while Boston visits Pittsburgh Penguins, Chicago is at Oakland against the Seals, Philadelphia Flyers play the Blues in St. Louis and Los Angeles Kings play in Minneapolis.

Pittsburgh visits Detroit and Chicago is at Los Angeles in other Thursday night games.

The Blues lead the Western Division with 74 points, followed by Oakland with 51, Los Angeles with 46, Philadelphia with 41, Minnesota with 37 and Pittsburgh with 31.

Francis remains as Rangers' coach, Boomer gets new job

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile (Cat) Francis, the dynamic little executive who has steered New York Rangers from last place to third in a month, will continue to coach the club for the remainder of the National Hockey League season.

In making the announcement at a press conference Tuesday, the Rangers said Bernie (Boom) Geoffrion, the recuperating coach, will handle special scouting assignments and other tasks for the club.

Francis, the 42-year-old general manager and former coach, took over the reins of a fading team a month ago when the high-strung Geoffrion collapsed in Oakland during a game with the Seals.

Geoffrion, who suffers from ulcers was Francis' personal choice to succeed him as coach this season. Francis, a former goalie, doubled as general manager and coach for 2½ seasons. He led the Rangers into the Stanley Cup playoffs for the last two seasons.

TOOK OVER JAN. 18

Since Francis took over as coach Jan. 18, the Rangers have won eight games, tied two and lost four. This drive moved them from last place to third in the Eastern Division.

But the Rangers are only one point ahead of Detroit Red Wings and four ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs in the battle for fourth, the last playoff spot.

Geoffrion, 38-year-old former star of Montreal Canadiens, has just returned from a three-week vacation in Florida.

The Rangers said Geoffrion was advised by his doctors "to remain away from the pressures and rigors of coaching at present in order to prevent recurrence of the ailment."

Luis Marquez is signed as full time scout by Expos

The Montreal Expos today announced the signing of Luis Marquez, a 24-year veteran in professional baseball, as full-time scout in Puerto Rico.

In addition, the Expos released the names of seven other scouts who will work for the club on a part-time basis in various areas of the U.S. The Expos now have a staff of 27 scouts — 15 of them working on a full-time basis and 12 part time.

Marquez, 43, had major league trials with the Braves, both in Boston and Milwaukee, the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates.

But it was in class AAA ball, in both the Pacific Coast League and the American Association, that he starred for many years. In 1959, while playing for Dallas, he won the American Association batting title with a .342 average. His manager that year was Jim Fanning, now the Expos' general manager.

Marquez was a colorful performer and played almost year round — in the US during the summers and in his native Puerto Rico during the winters. The new part-time scouts are Tom Bridges, R. C. Gaskill, Wade Fatheree, Hoot Gibson, Bill Dossey, Tom McCormick and Terry Boyle.

Bridges, Gaskill, Fatheree, Gibson and Dossey will work under the direction of Red Murf, Bridges, of San Antonio, Tex., will scout in southeastern Texas; Gaskill, of LaMarque, Tex., will scout in the western portion of his home state; Fatheree, of Rockdale, Tex., will scout in the central part of his home state; Gibson, of Vernon, Tex., will scout in north-west Texas and southwest Oklahoma state; and Dessey will work in his home area of Baton Rouge, La.

Marie Reine downs Lennoxville Atoms in playoffs, meets Ascot Bruins in finals

Marie Reine and Lennoxville copped respective honors in the Atom and Mosquito divisions of the Nordic Independent Hockey League this week bringing to an end the season's play.

In regular season action, Ascot Corner Bruins ended in first place with 16 points. Marie Reine Canadiens and Lennoxville Atoms tied for second place with 10 points. Ascot North Marquis and Freres finished fourth followed by the Dubreuil Development Lambert Club in fifth place.

In the Mosquito division, Lennoxville finished the season with 14 points on six wins and a pair of ties to end in first place. In second place, with 12 points, were Ascot Corner Flyers; Marie Reine Black Hawks finished third with nine points. Ascot North Notre Dame de la Protection ended the season fourth and Dubreuil Development fifth.

In the semi-finals Marie Reine Canadiens captured the series by defeating Lennoxville in their best-of-three series. Lennoxville took the first game of the series 6-2.

Scoring for Lennoxville were Kimball Smith with a hat trick while singles were registered by Doug Coulter, Ricky Ward and Travis McNab. Marie Reine Canadiens' Jean Chapdelaine accounted for both goals.

In the second game of the series Marie Reine edged Lennoxville 3-2. Marc Chasse's hat trick gave Canadiens the win. Scoring for Lennoxville was Kimball Smith with a pair of markers.

In the last and final game of the series Marie Reine nipped Lennoxville 2-1 to capture the championship. Scoring for Marie Reine was Marc Chasse with both goals while Travis McNab tallied Lennoxville's lone marker.

In the Mosquito division, Lennoxville took the first two games of their best-of-three final with Marie Reine Black Hawks to take the playoff championship.

In the first game Lennoxville downed the Black Hawks 2-0. Scoring for Lennoxville were Kevin Doherty and Claude Champagne while Daniel Ouellette picked up the shutout.

New Brunswick pulls upset by knocking over Saskatchewan in Canadian School Boy curling NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP) — Terry Norman of Moncton, N.B., who called an afternoon game "a complete washout," Tuesday night upset unbeaten Saskatchewan in the fourth round of the Canadian schoolboy curling championship.

The win enabled New Brunswick to climb into a tie for first place in the 11-rink round-robin tournament.

Ontario skip George Cox of Renfrew, Saskatoon skip Bob Miller of Shellbrook and Norman each had 3-1 records after two days of the 23rd annual competition. Ron Lehotovaara of Fort William, skip of the Northern Ontario rink, and John Anderson of Sedgewick, Alta., had two wins and one loss after three starts for a share of fourth place.

Bill Henry of Winnipeg split two games Thursday for a 2-2 mark while Robert Stewart of Charlottetown, and British Columbia's entry Grant MacDumail of Whitehorse each had 1-2 records.

Doug Ryan of St. John's, Nfld., John Brady of Bridgewater, N.S., and Claude Brouillette of Pointe Claire, Que., were tied for ninth place with one victory and three defeats.

In fourth-round play Tuesday night, New Brunswick nipped Saskatchewan 7-6 in an extra end. British Columbia defeated Newfoundland 8-5. Ontario downed Northern Ontario 10-5. Manitoba whipped Quebec 14-8 with the aid of two four-enders and a three-ender, and Prince Edward Island nipped Nova Scotia 7-6.

Alberta had the bye.

FORM WAS GOOD

"We were curling up to our potential against Saskatchewan," said Norman after the three-hour, 40-minute contest.

"When Nova Scotia beat us pretty good in the third round we couldn't buy a shot. That game was a complete washout."

Norman, who praised his front end of vice-skip Brian Steeves, second Ron Ferguson and lead Garth Jardine, made a perfect draw to the four-foot circle in the extra end to defeat Miller.

In third-round play, Saskatchewan edged Manitoba 11-9. Northern Ontario whipped Newfoundland 13-2. Nova Scotia trounced New Brunswick 11-2. Alberta walloped Prince Edward Island 16-1, and Ontario topped Quebec 15-5. Prince Edward Island had the bye.

In the Saskatchewan-Manitoba game, Henry counted five points in the sixth end to take an 8-5 lead but Miller bounced back with three points in the seventh, two in the eighth, and one in the ninth before allowing Manitoba a single coming home.

Northern Ontario and Alberta each stole a total of 12 points to record their easy third-round wins and Ontario and Nova Scotia each stole eight points.

The Canadian schools curling committee selected Kamloops, B.C., as the site of the 1971 championship but the decision will have to be approved by the playoff policy committee.

The 1970 championship is set for St. Jerome, Que.

Bishop's and U of S post wins on weekend in battle for spot in playoffs, meet this evening

Bishop's University Hockey Gaiters took a giant step toward ensuring themselves an OSLAA playoff berth on the weekend as they defeated Sir George Williams University Georgians 6-3 Friday night, then went on to trounce Royal Military College Redmen 5-1 Saturday afternoon.

Ken Chipman, who has been on a scoring binge during recent weeks showed no signs of letting up on the weekend as he fired three goals against the third-place Georgians who are faltering badly in the stretch drive.

Junior Varsity goaltender Alain Hebert, who distinguished himself last week by shutting out the McGill Redmen, came up with another brilliant effort, holding the Georgians in the third period when the Montreal squad really exerted pressure on the Gaiters.

The first period saw Bishop's take a 2-1 lead on the strength of a goal by Tom Allen and Chipman's first marker. Gord Glass and Donnie Liesemer assisted. Scoring for the visitors was Bill Elliot.

The second frame saw the Purple and White cling to their precarious one-goal lead as the teams traded two goals apiece.

Donnie Cleyne scored first for Bishop's at 3:22 on a pass from Lennoxville High product Ron Desjardins, but Barry Cullen quickly got that one back for the Georgians.

Chipman then scored his second goal of the night from Ron Perowne at 15:30 and two minutes later Ted O'Brien made it 4-3 going into the final frame.

Hebert made some great saves in the first half of the finale while the issue was still in doubt, but, at 12:09, Chipman completed the hat trick and at the same time put the game out of reach for Sir George.

Saturday's game against the military college pucksters appeared for a while to be a contest to see who could get the most penalties rather than the most goals.

Roger (The Peerless Rocket) Taylor led off the scoring battle as he scored at the six-minute mark of the first period, and Don Cleyne made it 2-0 for the Gaiters seven minutes later.

Jacques Laniel scored the first and only goal for the visitors near the 15-minute mark, but his effort was quickly neutralized by Cleyne who collected his second marker of the game less than three minutes later.

Don Liesemer opened the second period with a goal for Bishop's as he bounced a shot off an RMC defender which eluded visiting goalie Paul Richard, and Ken Chipman chipped in with another to make it 5-1 for Bishop's.

University of Sherbrooke Hockey Green and Gold trounced Sir George Williams University 8-3 Saturday afternoon to remain in contention for a second place finish in the OSLAA standings.

Friday night U of S were downed 4-3 by Kingston's Royal Military College Redmen at the Sports Palace. The Green and Gold outshot the military 35-21 but could finish their plays in RMC's zone. The game, unlike the majority of OSLAA encounters, was rough with a total of 23 penalties being handed out in the game.

OSLAA ACTION CONTINUES this evening with Bishop's meeting the powerful Green and Gold of the University of Sherbrooke. With Bishop's two big wins over the weekend it will be interesting to see if the Gaiters can keep up their current surge. The game is slated for 8:00 p.m. at Bishop's University.

They also said that the case was one of great public interest and added there was a dearth of legal cases dealing with bookmaking and the placing of bets.

Mr. Justice Gerald Fauteux, speaking for the court, said the case wasn't one for the judges to hear.

Mr. Justices Roland Ritchie and Wilfred Judson aid they agreed.

Off-track betting service gets green light from Supreme Court

OTTAWA (CP) — An off-track betting service offered by two Welland, Ont., men passed its last legal hurdle Monday in the Supreme Court of Canada.

Without giving reasons, the high court said it would not hear a Crown appeal against lower court decisions which found that the service did not break any of the provisions of the Criminal Code.

Robert Gruhl and Howard Brennan of Welland were charged with bookmaking in connection with the service they offer.

For a minimum fee of 50 cents, the two men place bets on behalf of their clients through the pari-mutuel system at the Fort Erie racetrack. The normal fee is 10 per cent of the bet.

Magistrate J. M. Gardner acquitted the men of the bookmaking charges. The Ontario Court of Appeal agreed with him and the Crown then appealed to the
