HOME-SCHOOL ASSOCIATION FAVORS 6-3-3 PLAN

ERIC OHMAN NAMED NEW BUSINESS ASSOCIATION HEAD AT ANNUAL MEETING

Succeeds W. Gordon Kenwood — Chas. Watson is Vice-President — Other Officers Elected — Vigorous Program Planned for Current Season — Citizens Will be Invited to Attend Open Meetings

Eric Ohman was elected president of the Business Association of Westmount for the ensuing term at the annual meeting of the organization held last Thursday evening in Victoria Hall. He succeeds W. Gordon Kenwood. Other officers named were: vice-president, Chas. Watson; second vice-president, Lorne A. Parker; third vice-president, G. Labrosse. Committee chairmen: attendance, R. Hill, N. S. Mitchell, and A. Goodman; civic improvement, Lewis Sherwin; finance, W. K. Newcomb; entertainment, Don Ross; ladies, Miss Lafrance and Miss Hebert; membership, A. Smithers, F. Griffiths and F. L. Sorenson, jr. — membership committee chairmen may be transferred to other posts at the will of the newly-appointed executive. The new officers were installed at the meeting.

NEW PRESIDENT

ERIC OHMAN

Questioned yesterday by the Examiner, Mr. Ohman, proprietor of the long-established jewelry firm on Greene avenue, stated that while the aim of the association—to improve business in Westmount—would remain unchanged the new board had decided on a policy that would give the general membership wider powers in the planning of future undertakings.

To Invite Citizens

Moreover citizens of the city will be invited to attend future open meetings of the body and their views on matters affecting merchants and residents will be invited.

The association plans to carry out a vigorous program designed to improve business and the executive will hold meetings at an early date to formulate plans for the new season, the president stated.

Mr. Ohman also announced that an open session will be held in Victoria Hall on May 15 and a "citizens' meeting" featuring a prominent guest speaker, a program of entertainment and door prizes, will take place on May 20 at the same place, but in the large upper auditorium.

In presenting the president's report at Thursday's meeting Mr. Kenwood stated that during the past season the Executive Committee had held sessions each month and that a number of matters of vital interest to local business men had been dealt with. Due to the efforts of the board the incoming executive can anticipate an interview with the City Council within the near future, he said. An excellent citizens' night meeting had been held and tentative plans arranged for the function scheduled to take place at the end of next month. His business office, Mr. Kenwood said (Continued on Page 2)

UNCLE SAM PACKS A BRAND NEW 'ROD'

This sturdy 155 mm. gun made its first public appearance on New York's Fifth Avenue in recent Army Day parade. The piece, firing a 95-pound projectile over ten miles, is part of new equipment recently allotted by the U. S. Army to local national guard armories.

Two New Parks Officially Named

The large area of land on Westmount Mountain purchased for a park from McGill University by the city some time ago, was officially named Summit Park at a regular meeting of the City Council on Monday night. The site on Sherbrooke street at Wood avenue, which is also to be converted by the city into a park this summer, is to be known as Queen Elizabeth Gardens, it was announced.

No announcement regarding any park conversion project that may be undertaken on the Mountain area was made. Alderman W. B. Scott was elected pro-mayor for the three-month period commencing May 1st.

BRIGADE BAND WILL COMPETE FOR MACE POLE

Unit of First Westmount Company to Enter Competition Taking Place Saturday

The band of the First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade will compete for the Battalion Mace Pole in the Battalion Bands competition taking place in St. James United church hall on Saturday afternoon. In preparation for the event the band has been practising steadily all week. There will be only bugle and trumpet bands in this competition but at the Battalion Review and Display on May 18th, the brass band of the 5th Montreal Company is to perform under Bandmaster Alex McCurdy's baton.

Sergeant Donald Taylor passed his swimming badge Thursday evening, making the quarter mile in less than eleven minutes. Prizes: Leonard Gough, Teddy Hylborne, George Montgomery, Roy Howard also passed their certificates with honour. An additional group will meet Wednesday to complete their tests.

Weather permitting, the company may turn out for their first Spring Church Parade, this coming Sunday morning to Melville Presbyterian Church. Now that the warmer weather is nearing, the outdoor activities will be increased considerably. March-outs and church parades will be featured quite frequently.

Last week Corp. Walter Goodale and Pte. Knute Sorenson received their lanyards for special services rendered the company during the season. Plans are rapidly being completed for the company's annual display which closes the year's activities, and this season's program is expected to exceed all previous records. Each phase of Brigade work is being carefully prepared to portray to the parents and friends assembled just what is being accomplished each week throughout the year. Camp arrangements have also been completed for the unit to spend an enjoyable vacation.

Spearman May Take Over New Post

Although no official announcement has been made, it was reliably learned yesterday that W. H. Spearman, executive secretary of the Westmount branch of the Y.M.C.A., will shortly take over direction of operation of the "Y" Red Triangle Clubs, a division of Y.M.C.A. War Services. Whether Mr. Spearman will be released from his duties at the local branch on leave of absence or some other arrangement will be made could not be ascertained at press time last night.

Y.M.C.A. PARTIES PROVE POPULAR WITH SOLDIERS

Entertainment Provided Every Saturday Night For Men in Barracks

Inaugurated last fall when the Girls Hi-Y Grads Club entertained officers of the Black Watch and members of the R.C.A.F., the regular parties for soldiers held each Saturday at the local Y.M.C.A. branch have proved exceedingly popular with the men in barracks here.

From the time of their arrival at the Athletic Grounds until their departure for Three Rivers members of the Toronto Scottish Regiment looked forward with keen anticipation to these parties. The boys were entertained by the Westmount Hi-Y Grads, Girls' Hi-Y Grads, West Hill Girls' Hi-Y Grads, the Y.M.C.A., I.O.G.E., the Canadian Red Cross, and numerous church organizations.

The Hi-Y Grads Club, under took sponsorship of the functions at the request of Frank Barton, chairman of the program committee of Y.M.C.A. War Services. Bob Harvie acts as master of ceremonies at the parties and arranges the various ladies' groups: Nell Compton, Bert Henderson and Eve Whitley have been in charge of music.

Local Division Is Eighth In 'Y' Drive

The Westmount-St. Henry division in the Y.M.C.A. campaign for maintenance and war services funds is now in eighth place, it is revealed in a bulletin issued by the local branch.

Maintenance objective in this division is $3,870 and thus far $1,791 or 44.7 per cent has been collected. The goal for the war services fund was set at $5,000 and $1,652, or 31.2 per cent has been obtained. Six of the 13 teams in the division have reached over 50 per cent of their objective.

TWO CYCLISTS ARE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Taken to Western Division of Montreal General Hospital Following Crashes With Cars

Two youngsters were injured on city streets during the past seven days in accidents between automobiles and bicycles.

When his bicycle collided with the side of a car on Sherbrooke street at the corner of Greene avenue at 2:30 o'clock on Friday, ten-year-old Daniel Donnelly, of 432 Wood avenue, suffered a bruised forehead and a bruised knee and was taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital for treatment.

The accident occurred as the boy who was proceeding in a westerly direction on Sherbrooke, attempted to make a left turn to go south on Greene and his bicycle hit the side of a car driven by Philip Ganous, of 371 Dowd street.

The driver of the car stopped immediately after the accident and drove him to his home. His father then took him to the hospital for examination and he was allowed to return home following treatment by Dr. Ramzay.

Eleven-year-old Edward Farquole, of 2259 Quebec street, suffered a cut over the right eye which required hospital treatment, when his bicycle struck an open door of a parked automobile on St. Catherine street just east of Elm avenue, at 2:30 p.m. on Friday. The youngster was proceeding east on St. Catherine when the driver of the parked car, Miss Eliza K. L. Watkins, 1005 Sherbrooke street, suddenly opened the door of her car and he crashed into it.

Miss Watkins took the boy to the Western Division of the Montreal General where three stitches were taken in his eye by Dr. Ramzay. He was allowed to return home following treatment.

Y. P. S. CLASSES AT SYNAGOGUE TUESDAY NIGHT

The following Temple Emanuel Young People's Society classes will be held on Tuesday evening: music appreciation, under leadership of Milton Schiffrin, M.A.; Jewish literature under Eli Berger, B.A.; public speaking, under leadership of Bernard Mortimer. A social hour, in the lecture hall will follow the classes.

Under the direction of Miss Frances Katz, B.Sc., school directress, the high school spoke festival is scheduled to take place on Sunday, May 5.

The closing luncheon of the Sisterhood, when new officers will be elected is to be held on Tuesday, May 14, with Mrs. Louis A. Rosett, president of the New York State Federation of Temple Sisterhoods as guest speaker.

Other forthcoming events at the Temple are: high school graduation, May 17; Brotherhood closing meeting, with election of officers, May 21; and confirmation, Shabbath morning, June 12.

VOTES FOR ITS ADOPTION HERE AT MEETING HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL LAST NIGHT

Count Shows Parent-Teacher Body Almost Unanimous In Choice of System Recommended by Hepburn Survey — Roslyn and King's Groups Had Previously Approved Adoption of Plan — Prof. John Hughes Addressed Gathering

The Westmount High Schools Home and School Association voted almost unanimously in favor of adoption of the 6-3-3 educational plan here at an open meeting of the parent-teacher body in Westmount High School last night.

The vote was taken following an address outlining the plan by Professor John Hughes, of McGill University, and a period of open discussion in which questions from the floor were answered by H. E. McCrudden, president of the organization, others at the head table, and S. F. Kneeland, chairman of the Westmount Protestant Board of School Commissioners.

LUDOVIC HUOT

Who will act as master of ceremonies at the Westmount Women's Club cabaret and bridge being held in the Ritz Carlton Hotel tomorrow evening.

The text of the motion was: "That this meeting favors the adoption of the 6-3-3 plan at the earliest possible moment."

Previously Recommended Adoption of the plan by the Westmount Home and School Association follows similar moves on the part of home-school groups at Roslyn and King's School. The attitude of the parent-teacher bodies is expected to play an important part in official decision by the Protestant Board to adopt or discard the educational system recommended by the Hepburn school survey report.

If the plan meets with the formal approval of the Board, it will result in widespread changes in the educational arrangement now in effect. All students in grades seven, eight and nine will attend Westmount High while those in the succeeding grades will attend classes in what is now Argyle Junior High.

In brief the basic principle of the 6-3-3 plan is that students will complete their primary education when they have passed the sixth grade; they will then go through a period of education designed to determine their natural aptitudes and abilities, and following that, receive a semi-specialized education in the fields in which they have shown themselves best qualified to follow.

Prof. Hughes speaker "There are not mis-fit pupils—it is the system that is mis-fit," Prof. Hughes stated in his address to the gathering. "The school should cater to the needs of the child, not those of the child to the school. The junior high school is no experiment but has been thoroughly tried and tested, he declared. The present system of education discourages the student who is not academically inclined, he averred.

The speaker quoted the late King George V as stating that education is one of the most important of all public functions. He stated that England's budget, even during the present war, allows the highest sum in its history for educational purposes.

"If Canada is to rise to the heights of its potential opportunities it must invest heavily in its greatest source of wealth, the children of the country," Prof. Hughes stated. Teachers must also do their part and they should receive the full co-operation of parents for only when the school and the home work together are satisfactory results achieved, he declared.

Scouts Comedy Will Be Given Monday Night

An original musical comedy will be presented next Monday in St. Leo's Hall, by the St. Leo's Scout Group. The theme of this show, a novel and hilarious idea, is a "Pair of Braces," and it is reported to give rise to many comical situations.

One of the "Four Star" acts is in the form of a shadograph. A helpless victim is lured into a doctor's office, and the poor patient is given "the works." The amusing potentialities under such circumstances are well directed by Howard Murphy, Rover Mate.

Another feature is a typical quartet. The members appear from everywhere, and their source provides particular merriment.

The finale of the eleven acts is an unusual and novel choral offering. It brings the complete cast on the stage, with each group rendering its own version of "Hi Diddle Di Dee."

The designing of the settings is the work of Bill Bryce, Assistant Rover leader.

The show will be under the patronage of Rev. W. E. McDonagh, P.P.

D. Hodgson to Repeat Illustrated Lecture

At the request of many people who were unable to attend the lecture he gave last month, Duncan McIntyre Hodgson, who led the McGill Congo expedition 8,000 miles through the Belgian Congo, will repeat at 8:45 next Tuesday night in Victoria Hall, Westmount, his talk on "Congo Color," illustrated by natural color moving pictures and by still photographs. Proceeds of the evening will go to the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mr. Hodgson, together with Donaldson Yule, the Montrealeur who was official photographer to the expedition, brought back films and "shots" of rare beauty, above all, of rare novelty. For the first time, for instance 4' 6" Congo pygmies were pictured in many phases of their life deep in the forest. Mr. Hodgson succeeded in winning the complete confidence of these shy natives and was able, even, to picture their celebration after the killing of an akopi, the strange striped beast of the giraffe family but also resembling the zebra.

Former Westmount Girl Signed For 'Frisco Fair

Hollywood, April 24 — Lila Deane, 19-year-old Westmount songstress who left Montreal last year to become featured vocalist with Ben Bernie's orchestra, continued her march to fame this week when she was signed to share vocal honors with screen star Susanna Foster at opening ceremonies of San Francisco's 1940 Golden Gate Exposition.

Miss Deane formerly lived with her parents on Clarke avenue and studied at Westmount schools, but present commitments compel her to spend most of the time in Hollywood.

Rooster feathers, good looks and a happy coincidence combined to serve Miss Deane her contract on a silver platter.

my child—but its feathers tickle my neck!" Miss Deane apologized for causing her fellow-passenger any discomfort, and the two struck up a conversation. Before reaching her destination she had agreed to sing at the 'Frisco Fair.

It so happened that the ticklish passenger was chief talent scout for the Exposition! Lila made her radio debut three years ago on CKAC, singing with Jack Bain's orchestra. She moved later to CFCF, appearing on many shows with Matt Heft, and Lucio Agostini signed her to co-star with Dick Todd on the popular "Cocktail Hour." Todd is now a radio headliner with NBC in Chicago.

When Lloyd Huntley's vocalist was taken suddenly ill one night Lila was called upon to substitute. She did—and with such success that Ben Bernie hired her to sing with his band. She travelled with the Bernie crew for several months until illness forced her to leave the orchestra. She came to Hollywood less than a year ago.

Miss Deane will tour California as goodwill ambassador for the Fair, covering the entire state and winding up her tour at San Francisco on Opening Day.

RESPONSE TO 'Y' CAMPAIGN IS GRATIFYING

Douglas Jackson, Chairman Of Local Division, Praises Efforts of Canvassers

Warm praise for the enthusiastic efforts of canvassers in the Westmount-St. Henry division of the Y.M.C.A. financial campaign was voiced by Douglas Jackson, chairman of the local division. The splendid response by local residents to the appeal for funds to carry on maintenance activities at the Westmount Branch during 1940 was gratefully noted by Mr. Jackson.

"Only a few days remain before this great campaign will be over," Mr. Jackson said, "and I know that we will attain our objectives for both local maintenance and war services effort. From now until the finish the road will be difficult. It is always this way in a campaign. At the start, money is not difficult to secure but once past the half way mark it calls for sustained and vigorous effort on the part of every worker to see the campaign over the top. "We are engaged in a great work for a great cause. The Y.M.C.A., in peace or in war, deserves the support of every citizen. Although the appeal of the war services effort may appear more glamorous it is well to remember that all war services work done by the Canadian Y.M.C.A. is predicated on the successful maintenance of local branch activities. At all costs the "home front" must be maintained successfully so that the utmost effort may be expended for our armed forces both in Canada and overseas."

ANNUAL MEETING

NEW BANFF-JASPER HIGHWAY

Many local residents who have visited the Canadian west will be interested in the announcement that the magnificent new highway from Banff to Jasper—said to be the most scenic drive in the world—will be opened on Dominion Day, next. The new highway, which skirts the world-famous Columbia ice-fields, has been in course of construction for some years. Great engineering obstacles had to be overcome, because the country between Banff and Jasper is a chaos of mountains and glaciers, and the building of the road has consequently taken nearly four years. But it will be well worth the cost for it will bring into the Canadian Rockies additional thousands of tourists each year. The new highway is full of interest, not the least feature of it being an area which gives rise to rivers that flow into three oceans. These three rivers, the Saskatchewan, the Columbia, and the Athabaska, all rise in the Columbia ice fields within a stone's throw of one another, yet their waters eventually find their way into the Atlantic, the Pacific, and the Arctic oceans.

WANTED—MORE KINDERGARTENS

One of the most valuable aspects of the education of a child is the training it gets in its pre-school days, particularly the training it gets in kindergarten. Yet only a small number of schools contain kindergartens, even though in many instances the demand of parents to give their children this training far exceeds the capacity of the schools to undertake it. To a certain extent, private kindergartens make good the deficiency. Some of these private schools are really excellent, and they furthermore give extra service by calling for children at their home and bringing them back after activities for the day are finished. But they are considerably higher in cost than those in the public schools. Many parents cannot afford the extra expense, and their children have to go without.

It is regrettable that the school boards do not include one or more kindergartens in every school under their jurisdiction. The type of training the child gets in these preliminary classes develops its initiative and personality and the ability to adapt itself to other children and to strange conditions much more so than when its formal education begins, in Grade One. It was Madam Montessori, the famous doctor who founded the Montessori system of child education, who said that children tied down to desks reminded her of butterflies pinned in rows to boards. She contended that, to begin with, at least, the line between study and play should not be perceptible to the child.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

There are still some who think it almost sacrilege to suggest doing away with the traditional school test examinations. When, however, one finds such an authority as Leonard Wheelton, Superintendent of Windsor, Ontario, School's, making the definite statement that worry over these ordeals is actually harmful to the health of some children, the value of the test system comes seriously into question.

The health angle is serious enough, but there is also the problem as to whether such examinations are fair. Almost every educationist admits that they are of doubtful value in gauging the actual ability of a pupil. It is, in too many cases, the child who has a retentive memory, and can thus "plug up" the night before an examination, who makes the best showing, while the one who has really absorbed learning may approach the test in such a mental state that he simply cannot do himself justice.

As Mr. Wheelton points out, it seems impossible to do away with these tests because no suitable substitute has been found for them. Those who direct the educational system, however, should not give up the search. There must be, somewhere, a fairer and more desirable way of deciding a pupil's fitness to make progress in school.

EATING WHEAT

Although Canada is one of the great wheat producing countries, and wheat occupies a large place in our economic structure, it is not one of the greatest wheat consuming countries, that is, pro rata to population. There are several countries whose inhabitants use more wheat per capita than we do.

BOOK REVIEW

BY HOWARD S. ROSS

By Benjamin Farrington
 Professor of Classics
 University College, Swansea
 George Allen & Unwin Limited
 London, England.

The political implications of the spread of science are of intense current interest. The same problem existed in an acute form in antiquity. Science found its way barred not only by popular superstition but by a governmental technique of controlling society through organized superstition.

The thought of many of the great writers of antiquity was profoundly affected by their attitude to this question. Philosophers like Plato, Aristotle and Cicero; historians like Polybius and Livy; poets like Pindar and Virgil; are seen in a new light when set against the background of this social struggle.

Professor Farrington has contributed something fresh to the understanding of ancient thought, and in particular to the understanding of the philosophy of Epicurus, and of his Roman disciple, Lucretius. At the same time he writes with that easy charm of style which won his successful little book in the Home University Library, Science in Antiquity, so wide a circle of readers.

He makes an original and important contribution to his subject applying a thorough modern outlook to classical study. But the problems are closely analogous to those of today. This is by no means only a specialists' book.

There is quite an extensive bibliography and also a carefully prepared index.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of the Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age.
 Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible.
 All answers must be in the office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper.
 The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail:

Mrs. W. Wylie, 472 Coto St. Antoine Road; Miss Madeleine Moncel, 115 Aberdeen Ave.; R. W. Robinson, 158 Hallowell Ave.; Mrs. P. Dolan, 17 Chesterfield Ave.; Miss P. A. Fox, 420 Metcalfe Ave.; Mrs. J. Lauxier, 4560 St. Catherine West.

For the benefit of those disgusted contestants who phoned or wrote in to say that they believed the Contest Editor omitted to insert the Hidden Titles last week, we call upon the above winners to testify that the title "Charlie Chan in Reno" was in Allan's Beverages ad. on page 4 and "The Light That Failed" was in Yervant's Oriental Rugs on page 3.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Harold Nicholson, the British author on whose estate Colonel Lindbergh stayed while in England, describes the aviator's mental background as follows:

"He emerged from that ordeal (the 1932 kidnap murder of his son) with a loathing for publicity that was almost pathological. He identified the outrage to his private life first with the popular press and then . . . with freedom of speech and then, almost, with freedom. He began to loathe democracy . . . His self-conscious thickened into arrogance and his convictions hardened into granite. His mind had been sharpened by fame and tragedy until it had become as hard as metal and as narrow as a chisel."

Referring to Lindbergh's admiration of the German air force Nicholson added:

"He liked their grim efficiency and liked the mechanization of the State and he was not at all deterred by the suppression of free thought and free discussion . . . The slow, organic will power of Britain eluded his observation . . . He is and always will be not merely a schoolboy hero but also a schoolboy."

"Public Affairs"—published quarterly by the Institute of Public Affairs of Dalhousie University, says of the recent volume, "The Administration of Paris and Montreal," by Alfred John Pick, M.A., McGill University, "Mr. Pick gives a comprehensive and scholarly account of municipal government in the two cities. Special emphasis is laid on the financial administration and the chapter dealing with the difficult financial problems of Montreal is sure to meet with great interest. The monograph is a valuable addition to the scanty literature on municipal government in Canada."

Captain Bob Bartlett, the explorer on his way from New York to Greenland with eleven college students, took with him a cow which he left at his birthplace, Brigus, Newfoundland, for his 84-year-old mother to whom he is very devoted.

Canadians are the world's greatest telephone users in the world with Americans coming second. We have 224.2 yearly conversations per capita, the U.S.A. 209.9 a year. Denmark is next with 177.5, Sweden 158.3, Austria 95.5, Norway 87.5, Australia 76.1, Finland 68.7, Japan 65.1, Great Britain 42.6. The U.S.A. is first with 14.39 telephones per hundred of population and Canada second with 11.48.

Closer to the truth than he meant to be was the schoolboy who wrote: "The Armistice was signed on the 11th of November, 1918 and since then every year there has been 'Two Minutes' Peace."

The Reves movement in the U.S.A. seeks to make 18 the first vote age. Aubrey W. Williams, National Youth administrator stated: "Young people will have to organize to protect themselves against the terrific organization pressure being developed by the aged."

According to David E. Rose, who has charge of the production and distribution of Paramount films in Great Britain, there were 1014 good reasons why Paramount-British Ltd., turned out a success in the comedy-romance, "French Without Tears." The story had run for 1014 successive performances on the English stage.

Helen Parrish left lately on a personal appearance tour that will take her throughout the East and Middle West.

would always be available for meetings of the Executive. He emphasized the need for a renewed showing of interest on the part of the membership and stated that the next three months would be a crucial period for the association.

The executive-secretary J. M. Kennedy, stated that he was particularly optimistic regarding the ensuing term and said that he had definite reasons to anticipate a marked increase in membership.

W. Boyd Robson expressed the thanks of the association to the outgoing president and on its behalf presented him with a combination cigarette case and lighter.

Charles Watson noted the fact that members had benefited greatly in joining the association by increased business as a result of their contacts with fellow-members. His business had improved materially as a result of this one factor, he said.

Following his installation in office, President Ohman pledged his fullest support to the association.

The retiring president, W. Gordon Kenwood, presided.

Norsemen Formerly Caused Europeans To Beware Of Them

Fair-haired, blue-eyed fighters swarmed out of the foggy north centuries ago and struck terror into Europe.

They were the Vikings—whose peaceful descendants today are fighting against being overwhelmed by the armed might of a Germany their forefathers nearly dominated. But the present Norway, Sweden and Denmark have till now enjoyed peace for many years.

Individual Valor

Twelve hundred years of warfare between them and now have demonstrated three things—that the Norsemen have always been formidable antagonists, given half a chance; that arms make the fighting man today as surely as they did then; and that individual valor cannot buck numbers.

The first Norsemen probably migrated from the Eurasian steppes into a Scandinavia newly freed from glacial ice. Soon they built long ships and sailed for plunder as an easier way of life than farming their fjord-riven lands.

They battled into Britain, making it Angle-land. They plundered Paris. They settled Normandy. They ravished nearly every coast of Europe. Their nobles wielded power from Novgorod to Kiev, and "Russ," the Slavic word for "Swedes," became the name for Russia.

Moved Swiftly

They could do all this because the inhabitants of the old empires had forgotten the use of arms and because the Vikings could strike swiftly and get away swiftly in their long ships.

Their ships carried them to America, as yet undiscovered by Columbus; to the world capital, Constantinople. Meanwhile, stay-at-home Vikings fought amongst themselves.

Petty kings ruled the northland then, strife was constant, Norway was finally brought under the single rule of Harold Fair Hair in the ninth century. In the eleventh, Norway and Denmark were under one monarchy. Three centuries later, Norway, Sweden and Denmark were under a single crown. It was only in 1905 that Sweden recognized the independence of Norway.

Two Warrior Kings

As Europe built castles and learned again how to fight, the Norsemen's power diminished. But Sweden fought with German states, with Russia, with Poland, and with her Scandinavian neighbors and produced two fighting kings whose fame still rings.

In the 17th century it was Gustavus Adolphus who headed up the Protestant cause in Germany during the Thirty Years' War. His infantry system and the religious fervor that inspired his troops helped make him one of the great captains of all time. But his army wore out from much fighting; he was killed at Lutzen in 1632.

In the 18th century it was Charles XII. He fought the Germans, the Poles and the Russians. By sheer genius and audacity he won battle after battle and humbled Russia. But his army wore out too, and he died in an obscure siege.

Helped Beat Napoleon

The might of Europe had grown too strong for even the valiant Swedes, but they were outnumbered in the grand alliance that brought about the downfall of Napoleon. After that, Sweden fought no more wars.

The northlands still are riven by fjords and many modern Norsemen find they can gain a living more easily by sea than by shore. As a result they are great sailors and fishers. Also they are

Britons Equal German Daring

Mining of the Baltic Sea from Denmark clear across to Lithuania may go down in history as a feat no less daring than the German swoop on Norway by sea and air. Announcement of this British action fills in a gap in the war scene which existed since the Allies announced their intention of stopping German imports of Swedish iron.

It now appears that while the Germans with infinite care and some degree of secrecy were planning their invasion of Norway the Royal Navy with equal diligence and more secrecy was working out a comprehensive plan to cut all Germany's sea lanes to the Swedish iron mines.

Mining of the Norwegian coast to stop ships carrying ore to Germany from the northern Norwegian port of Narvik through Norwegian territorial waters was the first step. Mining of the Baltic to stop the transport of ore through the Sea of Bothnia and the Baltic from the Swedish port of Lulea when the ice goes out was the second.

Just as it was impossible for the Germans to launch their invasion of Norway without long preparation so it was impossible for the British to mine the Baltic as a result of a sudden decision consequent on that invasion. The number of mines required and the planning necessary to safeguard the movement of mine-layers through the narrow German-guarded waters of the entrances to the Baltic involved weeks of preparation.

German prestige is bound to suffer from the Baltic mine-field, to say nothing of what Germany's war machine may suffer from the cutting off of supplies from the north. The Baltic Sea hitherto has been regarded as a German lake. Now it is unsafe for German ships to venture across it.

NORWEGIANS VOLUNTEER

A dozen or more men of Norwegian birth appeared at the Norwegian Consulate recently to volunteer for military service against Germany.

There are between 55,000 and 60,000 persons of Norwegian origin in New York City. Those who volunteered were told to leave their names. No arrangements had been made for handling enlistments.

Rolf A. Christensen, Consul General, expressed the hope that his country could resist "until help arrives."

hewers of wood in their wide forests; delvers for ore in rich mines, and harnessers of water power. But Sweden especially has rich industries, and Denmark rich agricultural lands.

The Norsemen, moreover, have made a cult of peace. They stayed out of the First Great War, tried to stay out of this one. They developed co-operation amongst themselves, and encouraged their people to develop cooperative plans of marketing and the literature and scientific arts.

They scarcely bothered to build armies or navies, even to the extent their few million inhabitants might have supported. Yet the artillery they manufactured was among the best in Europe.

WIFE OF LOCAL BUSINESS MAN DIED MONDAY

Mrs. Rhoda Boyd Richardson, Active Church Worker, Lived at Chateauguay Basin

The death occurred on Monday at her home in Chateauguay Basin, of Mrs. Rhoda Boyd Richardson, wife of W. S. Richardson, retired proprietor of the Crown Laundry Company. She was 76 years of age.

Mrs. Richardson had been a particularly active church worker and was a member of the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire. The Julius Richardson Convalescent Home in Chateauguay, was named after a son killed in the Great War. She was well known in Westmount, where the laundry operated by her husband is situated.

The former Rhoda Ann Boyd, Mrs. Richardson was born in Riviere-du-Loup the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boyd. She received her education at the Huntingdon Academy in Huntingdon.

Mrs. Richardson is survived by her husband, two sons, Robert Richardson, head of the Crown Laundry Company, Montreal and Sherbrooke, and Douglas Richardson, of Windsor, Ont.; two daughters, Mrs. A. Davidson, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, and Mrs. Collin MacKellar, of Montreal; three brothers, Malcolm J. Boyd, of Montreal; Alex Boyd, of Saskatoon, Sask., and Clarke Boyd, of Huntingdon, and one sister, Mrs. James Todd, of Huntingdon.

Despite official controls, prices of all commodities in Italy increased last year.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD OVER WEEK END AT Y

Delegates from Sherbrooke, Quebec City, Cornwall and Ottawa will gather in Montreal to attend a three-day Pre-Convention Conference of the Young Women's Christian Association to be held here April 26 to 28. Delegates will discuss "Christian Citizenship in a Democracy" in preparation for the National Y.W.C.A. Convention at McMaster University, Hamilton, next month. Miss Louise Gates, national secretary, and Mrs. Al. Colerick, vice-president of the Council of the National Y.W.C.A., will be the main speakers.

Friday morning's session will open with a brief service to be followed by an address by Miss Eunice Tyhurst, general secretary of the Ottawa Association on "The Y.W.C.A. as a Religious Movement." After luncheon, conference members will adjourn for discussion on "National and World Fellowship" with Mrs. Colerick as leader, and Mrs. E. R. Adair, chairman. The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to two discussion groups, one on "Work with Secondary School Girls" under the leadership of Miss Catherine S. Vance, general secretary of the Association here and the other on "Relations to the Labour Movement," led by Miss Gates. Tea will be served at 4:30 p.m. and in the evening members are invited to attend the Annual Gymnastic and Dancing Display.

Following a short period of worship conducted by Mrs. Gladys E. Duffy, general secretary of the Quebec Association, on Saturday morning, April 27th, Miss Gates will speak on "The Y.W.C.A. as a Democratic Organization." Mrs. Arthur Lyman will preside. In the afternoon, the girl delegates will register and be entertained at a reception and tea to be followed by a formal opening session. Miss Gates will open the evening session, after which delegates will be divided into four discussion groups on "The Y.W.C.A. as a Democratic Organization." Miss Secord will be in charge of "Fun and Games," a recreation period.

FORMER SHEPHERD EVICTED FROM ROCKEFELLER ESTATE

With household belongings strung along the roadside, Archie Fawkes, 57, sits with his arm around his wife, Mary, 53, after being evicted from a cottage on the Lakewood, N. J. estate of the late John D. Rockefeller, Sr. Fawkes former shepherd on the estate, has been occupying the cottage, rent free, since the elder Rockefeller died in 1937. After unsuccessful efforts to persuade him to leave voluntarily, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., obtained the eviction order.

Sunday's session will open at 10 a.m. with a panel discussion on "Why have a program?" after which conference delegates will attend service at Erskine and American church. In the afternoon, Miss Tyhurst will speak on the "Y.W.C.A. as a Christian Movement." The meeting will then be divided into two discussion groups. The plenary session will start at 3:15 p.m. and will be followed by closing devotions. A tea to which members as well as delegates are invited will conclude the convention.

DEKKER REGAINS HAIR

Having been made completely bald for his title role in Paramount's Technicolor thrill picture, "Dr. Cyclops" Albert Dekker slowly is regaining his curly locks. He managed to get a role during that time, in a picture that called for him to be closely shorn.

Fine Work Accomplished By Occupational Centre

One of Financial Federation's patients at home who might benefit by it. The work is carried on five mornings a week. Since exercises to be effective, must be regular, patients are visited at specific times once a week. Fourteen cases are receiving this treatment and include fractures, arthritis and a neurological disease.

In the cases of arthritis, although the joints may never be whole again, each joint examined showed some movement and response to treatment. As well as the exercises, craft work is given to all patients, prescribed remedially, if possible. Our one regret is that the remedial service to some bound patients is to be of such short duration. Our budget allows it to be carried on until July and unless a fairly god-mother appears to sponsor it, this very necessary service will have to be discontinued.

It and when a Home Service patient recovers sufficiently to leave his own home, he is transferred to our Workshop where he mingles with other individuals. In the Workshop, numerous specific classes are held with groups of selected patients in each. The classes include drawing and design, pewter foil modelling, soap and wood carving, sewing, leather work and book-binding, metal work, carpentry. Such routine crafts as weaving, knitting, basketry and chair seating continue daily quite apart from the regular classes.

Every patient must be studied to pick out for him, work that is suitable to his particular disability. It is necessary to keep in mind the former occupation of the patient and to select a type of work with which he is familiar. If, however, the muscles and joints have been damaged so that there is no opportunity for the patient to return to his former occupation, it will become necessary to direct the training to employment in a different field.

A sub-division of the Workshop is the Remedial group. These patients have been referred to us for a definite treatment of passive and active exercises to correct or at least alleviate the condition in the affected parts. The disabilities treated include: spastics, infantile paralysis, fractures, contractures, spinal curvatures, arthritis, drop wrists from lead poisoning and brain tumors.

Every morning for two hours, two little spastic and mentally retarded children are coached in very elementary academic subjects by volunteer workers. The duties of the remaining department are three-fold: 1-To make social case studies of Workshop patients. 2-To give vocational guidance to young handicapped people. 3-To try and find employment of our clients.

The last duty is a very difficult task as most people are reluctant to employ a handicapped person even though they may be sufficiently physically fit to fill specific jobs. On their behalf we ask your help—no work is to be trivial. Remember our address and phone number when you next need someone for odd jobs around the house or garden or perhaps it's an office worker you need? We can help you.

Mrs. Gloria MacDonald is the executive director and Mr. Frank H. Berry, Employment Committee agent request all residents of Notre Dame de Grace and Westmount to call the Centre when in need of help.

Better Business Bureau Conference May 13 and 14

It was announced by the Better Business Bureau to-day that the Second Annual Business-Consumer Relations Conference on Advertising and Selling Practices will be held in New York City, on May 13th and 14th. The First Conference, under the sponsorship of the National Association of Better Business Bureaus, was held in Buffalo, N.Y., last June and was attended by nearly seven hundred delegates representing business, consumers, education and government.

The two-day Conference will afford a further opportunity for business and consumer leaders to consider problems of mutual interest, and to evolve practical plans for promoting a more understanding business-consumer relationship.

50 THOUSAND SIGN MESSAGE TO CANDIDATES

Montreal, April 24. — Whether or not Canadian history records them as "the first 50,000," this much is certain; that the electors who put their signatures to "A Message to our Candidates" have indicated a definite trend of the Canadian spirit. Among the more than 50,000 signatories were:

The Presidents of several of our largest Canadian universities. Officers and men of all three fighting services, Three Archbishops of the Roman Catholic Church, Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen (Toronto), The Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, 2,500 employees of one company, The entire Board of Trade of a Maritime city. The editors of several of Canada's best known weekly magazines, The Dominion President and past President of the Canadian Legion, Leaders in business and industry, and the professions, Farmers in many sections of Canada, and leading officials in farm co-operative organizations, The entire civic bodies, and in some communities an almost 100% endorsement of the Message. Staffs of five Canadian daily newspapers.

From the early stages of drafting onwards, this message had the planning and co-operation of French Canadians. One of the representative citizens who took part in the presentation of this message to the candidates in Montreal was the President of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, the great patriotic society devoted to fostering the traditions, religion and culture of French Canadians. In a typical village, the priest and mayor headed the list of signatories. A number of business, labour and youth organizations took part, many of their leaders signing it in their official capacities.

Officials of the four large labour organizations in Canada signed the message. Some of them took personal responsibility in bringing it to the attention of their unions and gave them an opportunity to support it.

In Western Canada, a new Canadian farmer who rode horseback in below zero weather to call on his fellow countrymen said: "I've been taking this message around to the people in this community. It's a thrilling experience and put me right on the spot. People are beginning to see what is wrong with themselves and not only with the candidates. The message will not only mean a tremendous thing for this election, but will prove invaluable for Canada's future."

Thousands of people heard radio broadcasts from Saint John, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Western cities. Response came from many quarters. Several letters drew attention to the fact that this message called upon signers as well as candidates to apply the principles of honesty and faith in God to their activities, both private and public.

In many centres there were vital personal interviews with candidates. In Saskatoon a delegation

NEWSPAPER IS DISCUSSED BY CLUB SPEAKER

A description of the development of the newspaper industry from small proportions to the great plants of the present metropolitan dailies was given to members of the Westward Rotary Club by H. E. McCormick, president of the Monitor Publishing Company at the weekly meeting.

Mr. McCormick gave a comprehensive picture of the steps necessary in the processing of newspaper and explained some of the mechanical aspects of the production. He also pointed out the various problems in circulation, mechanical, editorial, business and advertising departments which, in reality made the newspaper a combination of several businesses.

The place of the weekly newspaper was stressed by the speaker, who emphasized the many services the weeklies performed which were outside the sphere of daily papers. Mr. McCormick referred to the high place weekly publications had reached in the estimation of the readers and advertisers.

Fish, So Cold They Are Easy Prey

When a norther settled over Texas recently, thousands of fish were numbed by the cold along the Galveston waterfront. Men, women and children hurried to the docks with boxes, buckets, tubs and sacks.

Smaller fish were taken in nets, while larger ones, from far below the surface, were taken easily with cast nets.

Secure us more complete national unity and harmony between all Canadians. Its further objective is to create an atmosphere which would favour reflection on the need of moral and spiritual change for the individual so as to make a new Canada, strong, united and prosperous.

LeMesurier-Taylor
The marriage of Doris, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Taylor, of Westmount, and the late Wm. Taylor, of London, England, to John Archibald Noel LeMesurier, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. LeMesurier, of Montreal, took place on Saturday evening in Calvary United Church, the Reverend A. F. Pollock officiated. Gladoli, snapdragons and palms were used to decorate the church.

The bride was attended by Miss Florence Walker, as maid-of-honor, with the Misses Joan and Iris Taylor, her twin sisters, and Miss Joyce LeMesurier, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaids. Eric LeMesurier acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were, J. Dossque, J. Ritchie, E. W. Box, F. W. Bertrand. During the signing of the register, Miss Dorothy Lord sang, "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her brother, Lawrence Taylor, of Toronto, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned on long flowing lines with a high neckline to the waist with a slight bustle ending in a short train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a cluster of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of briarcliff roses and baby's breath.

The maid-of-honor was in frock of dusty pink fashioned on long lines with a basque bodice having a band of self ruching around the neck and front of the frock, her elbow length puffed sleeves were finished in a similar manner. She wore a small blue flower hat and carried a bouquet of Tailsman roses. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in frocks of powder blue made on simple lines with shirred shoulders and fullness at the back of the shirt. The V-necklines were finished with rhinestone pins. They wore pink flower hats and carried bouquets of Johanna Hill roses.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride was in a gown of powder blue crepe and a black corsage straw hat trimmed with blue flowers. Her corsage bouquet was of white carnations. Mrs. LeMesurier, mother of the bridegroom, was in a frock of black triple sheer with black and white trimming, she wore a matching straw hat and a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. LeMesurier left on their wedding trip to New York and Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the bride travelling in a jacket dress of shepherd's plaid crepe of black and scarlet, a black straw hat and scarlet accessories. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Buttum, of Ottawa, and Mr. Lawrence Taylor, of Toronto.

Stenstrom-Moreland

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Thomas Stundon, the bride wore a dusty pink chiffon gown fashioned on long lines with a very full skirt. The basque bodice shirred at the waist line, had a heart-shaped neckline, edged with a row of pleating. She wore a flower hat of the same shade, with a matching waist length veil of tulle illusion. Her Colonial bouquet was of American Beauty roses.

Miss Charlotte Stundon, her sister's only attendant, was in a gown of turquoise chiffon, fashioned on similar lines as that of the bride, with a small flower hat of the same shade. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Douglas H. Gilmour, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Following a reception for the immediate families and close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left on their wedding trip to Quebec City, the bride travelling in a heavenly blue frock with a navy blue hat and accessories.

They will reside in Montreal. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. B. B. Mitchell, of Perth, Ont., father of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stundon, Mr. Charles and Miss Marguerite Stundon, of Longueuil, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Gilmour, of Chateauguay.

FEMININE FACTS AND FANCIES

by MARGARET BARDEN

Mrs. H. C. Brennan
Formerly Corinne Bertha Hardman, Mrs. H. C. Brennan has been well known in the realm of women's sports for many years. A resident of West End for nearly 20 years, she is a charter member of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club, a member of the League for Women's Rights, a member of the Executive of the National Federation of Liberal Women and President of the Mount Royal Women's Liberal Club for the past two years. She is also a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association.

Born in Montreal of French and Canadian parents, Mrs. Brennan received her education in this city. Following her graduation from McGill High School, she entered McGill University and is the oldest active graduate of the School of Physical Education.

A member of the National Executive, and former president of the Women's Athletic Federation of Canada, Mrs. Brennan was one of the organizers of this movement in the Province of Quebec, which was founded in 1925. She served this branch for many years.

In 1936 when the Canadian Women's Swimming Team was being organized for the Olympic Games, to take place in Berlin, Germany, Mrs. Brennan was named the official chaperone. While in Europe, she made several tours of inspection of Physical Education Schools in Copenhagen, and other Danish and German cities.

Now Director of Physical Education at Baron Byng High School she is intensely interested in corrective gymnastics and has organized many voluntary classes in this particular field. She also sponsors a badminton club at the same school.

Prior to her marriage to Henry C. Brennan, who is the Director of Physical Education at Strathcona Academy, Mrs. Brennan was a teacher of gymnastics in Montreal schools, but left this work temporarily to serve with the V.A.D. during the last war. At the outbreak of the present conflict, she immediately started the organization of a teachers' unit of the V.A.D. for service at home and abroad. This teachers' class takes in all phases of first aid work, ambulance driving, and modern motor mechanics. At the present time, Mrs. Brennan is taking up a regular authorized course in mechanics at the Montreal Technical School.

Looking forward to serving overseas very shortly, Mrs. Brennan is one of the few women who is a recognized authority on Air Raid Precautions, having passed

Molded Fruit Base Gives Different Touch To Old Dishes
Various Flavors Give Latitude in Choice

Molded fruit on vegetable salads can reshape a too familiar menu. Add a few new salad dressings, too, to your warm weather meals.

TROPICAL FRUIT SALAD

(Serves four to six)
One package gelatin dessert, pineapple flavor; 1 cup boiling water; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; 1/4 cup grapefruit juice; 3/4 cup cold water; 6 grapefruit sections; 12 orange sections; 1 avocado. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add salt, fruit juices and cold water. Chill until it begins to thicken. Fold in fruit and pour into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on lettuce garnished with ripe olives and slices of avocado. Pass sour cream dressing.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING

(One and one-fourth cups)
One-half cup French dressing; 1 teaspoon sugar; 1 cup sour cream; 1 teaspoon paprika. Beat ingredients together until consistency of mayonnaise.

Cucumber Dressing

One cup sweet or sour cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon

A WELL-BALANCED MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed rhubarb; rice-griddle cakes, maple syrup, coffee, milk.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON: Cream of mushroom in cups, toast sticks, molded fresh fruit salad, olives, watercress Romaine, sour cream dressing, small biscuits, Lady Baltimore cake, tea, milk.

DINNER: Pan-broiled hamburgers, onion rings, creamed potatoes, buttered carrots, cottage pudding, chocolate sauce, coffee, milk.

vinegar, 1/4 clove garlic, chopped; 1 large cucumber, peeled and chopped, salt, pepper, paprika.

Beat cream until it begins to thicken. Add slowly the vinegar and mix well. Add chopped garlic and cucumber, salt, pepper and paprika. Mix thoroughly and chill.

Complexion Needs Pepping Up For Spring

The complexion that seemed about right during the winter months may seem a bit drab against the gay colors and light tints of the spring season. The neck especially needs a lot of reconditioning before we are satisfied we are doing right by our new outfits.

Those who have been going in for some of the special facials are prepared to wear the dainty frills with charm and assurance, and unfortunately for everyone, it takes only a short time to restore the smooth loveliness of necks and throats.

The salon method is the best as it leaves all the responsibility in the hands of experts who have been trained to do the things one finds difficult in the home treatment. A thorough manipulation with expert fingers is marvelous for circulation and removing lines.

When one does the work at home the first step will be a thorough soap and warm water massage. It is done with the fingertips in the same manner one massages the face with cream. The soap and water application is a quick process and should be removed with a thorough rinsing of clear water. Then a smooth towel is used to pat the face dry.

A cleansing cream of an oily consistency is put on and smoothed over the face and neck, then removed with a tissue. The massage cream is next and this is for lubrication of the muscles, bleaching and stimulation.

All massage strokes should be both oral and written examinations with distinguished success. She is also a member of St. John's Ambulance Society. During the last war she served with the 19th Nursing Division, and was later transferred to the Physical Therapy department, being in charge at Hart House, Toronto.

She is a member and one of the examiners of the Royal Life Saving Society. Until this year she was president of the Women's section of the M.A.A. Swimming Club.

For many years she has been interested in improving conditions for working girls. She is of the opinion that women should be permitted to serve on school boards and fair wage boards.

A close associate of the late Mrs. Darwin Higginson, Mrs. Brennan was active both in the campaign for the Honorable J. Arthur Mathewson and Mr. F. P. Whitman, in this division.

upward. There is no point in doing the heavy, deep manipulations. Only an expert understands such strokes and even they are favoring the lighter removals.

Never drag the muscles, especially those of the cheeks. There is no bony structure between the jawline and cheekbones and gentle treatment is the rule for these parts.

Two of these home treatments, with the nightly application of cream, will do for the home treatment. The salon treatment may be indulged more often according to the correction one needs.

Colors For Home Are Softly Muted

Colors throughout the home are muted. Soft, dusty tones, rather than clear, deep colors, are best for spring, say leading merchants. These soft tones have a talent for giving rooms a sunny glow, and are therefore preferred to deeper shades.

Utility and ease in handling are as important as style and color. The new curtains are easy to hang, and come in three leading types: adjustable tops with two and three rows of slots, one slot types and hemmed and headed styles.

Most curtains are designed for ease in laundering... and are sufficiently durable to withstand a good deal of wear.

Spring Lingerie Is Original, Practical

This spring the lingerie manufacturers seem to have made a special effort to turn out original and practical designs. Anyone who has been bored stiff with the inevitable pink or white satin and Val lace slip will welcome some of the new models, many of which are inexpensive.

For example, two well-cut slips have camisole tops with tucked chiffon insets. One alternates the tucking with vertical bands of white Valenciennes; the other with wider horizontal ones. Both have wide shoulder straps of lace and a narrow edging of the same material at the bottom.

SPLENDID TALK GIVEN SOCIETY BY J. C. ARMOUR

West End Horticultural Group Gather in Large Numbers — Prepare for Contest

"Science in Relation to Flower Culture" was the title of an interesting lecture delivered by J. C. Armour, at the April meeting of the West End Horticultural Society, held in St. Luke's United Church Hall last Tuesday.

A large enthusiastic group of members and friends of the Society, learned many things of value concerning the care and culture of flowers and at the same time were introduced by the speaker, to a veritable wonder world made possible through the application of science to floriculture.

W. C. Hall spoke on the subject of window boxes, their construction, choice of suitable plants and color combinations, to give the best ornamental effects. Mrs. J. G. McKay thanked the speakers, on behalf of the members.

A paper prepared by W. J. Looker on "How to Grow Good Roses" was read at the meeting, at the close of which distribution was made of Gladiolus bulbs and Rose bushes, to those members who were present and who had chosen one or the other as their free gift from the Society.

All members who desire to enter the Rock Garden Contest are asked to notify the Secretary, W. J. Looker, 985 Prud'homme avenue, not later than April 30. Judging will take place during May.

Annual Service To Be Held On Sunday

The officers and members of the Sons of England Benefit Society, and the Daughters of England will attend the annual St. George's Day Service to be held in Calvary United Church, Sunday April 28th, commencing at 3 p.m. The Guest Speaker will be George Griffin, assistant pastor of the Evangelical Tabernacle. Solos will be rendered by Brian Hanson, accompanied by L. R. Barkes. Selections will be rendered by the Brass Band of the Tabernacle. Rev. W. L. Tucker will be chairman.

Embroidered Curtains Important For Spring

Embroidered muslin curtains are the smartest thing in the sheers; there are also pretty new curtains with eyelet embroidered ruffles or with scalloped edges in embroidery, if you're sprucing up your house for spring. All told, however, full ruffled organdy curtains are probably the prettiest of all; or else coin dot organdy made full and straight. There are ever so many drawn thread white dimities and mulls that are made up with bands or ruffles or colored chintz or calico. Needless to say, both fabrics, combined into this should be pre-shrunk. Novelty-trimmings on sheer curtains include rickrack braids, peasant braids and cotton fringes. The new lace curtains are versatile and charming, many with ruffling edges and embroidered net ruffles and the ready made laces are now offered in a range of sizes to fit all sorts of windows. Sheer seersuckers are seen in delightful versions. Ninons as always have a classic beauty. Really fine white voile is exquisite and has a lovely "fall."

There is an important trend toward the use of swags and jabots in the same sheer material as the sheer curtains. Often sheer fabrics of contrasting tone are used for over-draperies. Glass and mirror hardware lends great distinction to windows hung only with sheer curtains, so do gilt rods and tiebacks.

JUICE FROM ONION
Extract juice from onion by cutting small pieces from blossom end and scraping pulp with spoon or grate.

NAVY FOR EVENING

Navy is growing in importance for dinner and evening fashions—in sheer crepe jacket costumes, in net and marquisette dinner dresses. Gray also is important in formal fashions and looks newest when combined with white—pique or frothy lingerie.

Colman Termed Ideal For Kipling Film Role

It has fallen to the lot of the one man in Hollywood who can do it to portray the role of the romantic Englishman of action in one of the most adventurous of pictures by one of the world's greatest writers of the period when the British Empire was in its golden age.

The role of Dick Helder in "The Light That Failed" is one which Colman has been wanting to play for some time, and he considers it one of the best portrayals in his repertoire. He is assisted by an impressive cast which includes Walter Huston, Ida Lupino, Muriel Angelus, Dudley Digges and more than four hundred others.

DANCE RECITAL AT STUDIO OF BETTY SPEIRS

Peter Miller reports from the Betty Speirs' studio that everything is in readiness for the big show Saturday, May 11 at Victoria Hall. The younger children will have their fun in "There are Fairies", which Miss Speirs predicts will be the best fairy presentation yet produced by the school.

A Sacred presentation "Come unto Me", will feature the senior class, and judging from past performance of this class of work, notably "Ave Maria" and "Ora pro Nobis," another treat is in store for the audience.

The boys' class, who made such a hit last year as the "Mounties" will again be to the fore in "Tally-ho!". The work of the lads at the final rehearsals has been a revelation.

Exhibition Ballroom dancing, with which Peter Miller has been so successful during the season will be presented by an ensemble of six couples in the scene "Cabaret". This is the first occasion in which this advanced ballroom work has been presented in group formation in Montreal.

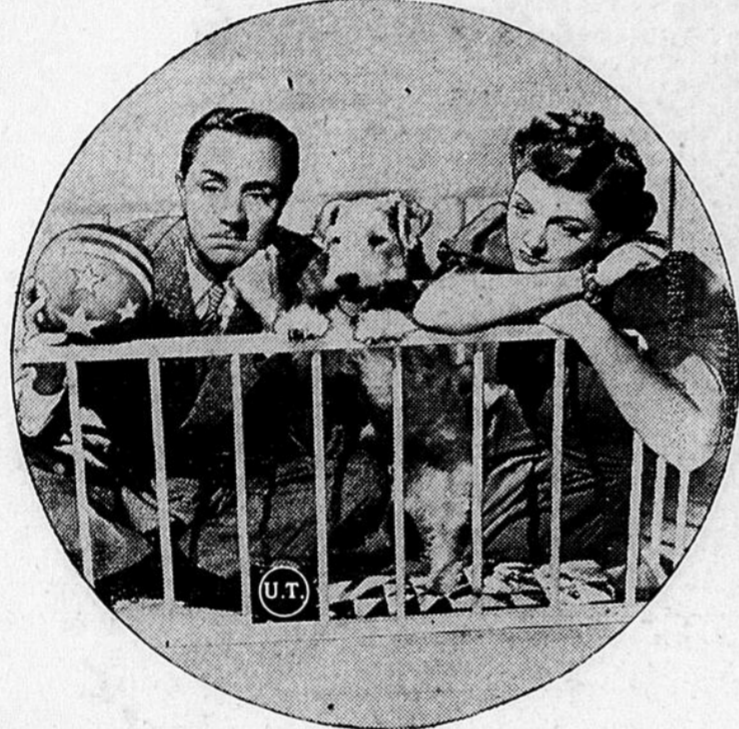

There will also be the usual selected program by the soloists of the school who will display their talents in toe, tap, ballet, adagio and the other phases of the dance for which the Betty Speirs School is so well known.

St. Stephen's W.A. Will Repeat Excellent Play

St. Stephen's Intermediate Girls' W. A. will give a repeat performance of their play "The Call of the Cherry Blossoms" in St. Stephen's Parish Hall, Verdala Park, Westmount, on Friday April 26, at 8.15 p.m.

On April 12 the girls played to a packed house and their repeat performance by special request, testifies to the popularity of the production. Those who purchased tickets for the first performance and were unable to use them may do so on the 26th. Special arrangements are being made for school children. The cast includes: Misses Jean Jones, Elaine Sparrow, Katharine Laws, Jean Morgan, Elizabeth Shaw, Lois Dunlop, Marion Laws, Barbara Haskett, Nancy Rowe, Olive Rimmer, Flora Lemieux.

Lewis Howard, who has had two books published, is now working on a third.

World's Greatest Dancers In New 'Broadway' Film

Teaming for the first time Fred Astaire and Eleanor Powell, world's greatest male and feminine tap dancers, "Broadway Melody of 1940" opens at the York United Theatre next Saturday for an engagement of four days.

Ever since each star rose to overnight fame it has been the hope of Hollywood to combine their talents in one production but commitments prevented until Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer last spring was able to sign Astaire for this picture.

To give the two stars the best possible musical settings, M-G-M signed Cole Porter, who has written music for both Astaire's and Miss Powell's starring vehicles, to do the tunes for this picture. The composer of "Night and Day" has produced five new songs for "Broadway Melody of 1940," and use is made for the first time on the screen of his sensational "Begin the Beguine."

With the two stars is George Murphy, among Hollywood's leading dance stars. Together the three execute nine dance numbers in trios, duets or solos. The cast is given further color by the comedy of Frank Morgan and the appearance in leading roles of Ian Hunter, Florence Rice, Lynne Carver, Ann Morris, Trilix Firschoke and Douglas McPhail. The stellar cast was directed by Norman Taurog, director of "The Big Broadcast of 1936" and "College Rhythm" among other musical hits. Jack Cummings produced.

The story is a sprightly, human story of two male dancers in a ballroom who attract the attention of a Broadway producer.

Both oldtimers in the show business and the younger generation were entertained last week on the set of "It I Had My Way," when Blanche Ring and Eddie Leonard sang their famous specialties for the camera. Rhythmic backgrounds for Miss Ring's "Rings on My Fingers" and Leonard's "Ida" were furnished by "Six Hits and a Miss," popular singing ensemble of radio.

Philip Dorn, appearing in the lead role in "Ski Patrol," is an ardent participant in many outdoor sports including tennis, hunting and golf, but had to learn skiing for his role in the new arctic war drama.

OH JOHNNIE OH!

Nancy Telfer, popular Betty Speirs' starlet will be dressed as a wee 'kitty' soldier when she dances and sings 'Oh Johnnie' at Victoria Hall, May 11.

FINE PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR VICTORIA HALL

Everything is set for the closing production of the Children's Theatre, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, which will take place Saturday afternoon at Victoria Hall at 2 1/2.

A varied entertainment is promised which will doubtless prove interesting to the little folks as well as grown-ups. The opening one act play "The Children's Gateway" is an interesting morality play of Corinna, a little girl who learns a great lesson. "The Witches Cave," gives an opportunity for some excellent character work on the part of Mally Baggio and her husband, played by Reina Aron and Bonnar Stuart. The selfish Princess, which is being handled by pupils from the north-end studio, has a large cast, with Isabel Weirauch as the Princess and Richard Davis as the Prince. The closing play of the afternoon, "Actress Wanted," should prove extremely interesting. It is written by a well known local author, Miriam Stein, who has written so many successful plays.

"Actress Wanted" tells the story of a Hollywood casting office, and many applicants for the coveted role appear, and it is filled with humorous situations and includes some excellent special numbers. Pat Juelly, Valerie Lewis, Mary Hall, Laura Mitchell and many other talented pupils of the senior group will appear in this play. At the conclusion of the performance, cups and certificates will be awarded to the pupils who came first in the recent Drama Festival, and medals will be presented to the two pupils voted upon by members of the school as having given the best performance during the current season.

Unemployment continues to increase in Palestine.

Dame May Whitty, was Discovered at Age 71

Dame May Whitty was 71 years old when Hollywood "discovered" her. Behind her was a long and distinguished stage career, during which every honor that could be bestowed upon an actress, including a title, had been showered upon her. Yet, without hesitation, she crossed an ocean and a continent, to embark upon a new, and physically trying career.

The energy of this amazing old lady knows no bounds. Since her memorable performance opposite Robert Montgomery in "Night Must Fall," she has appeared in four others pictures.

Director Edward Dmytryk, who will do Paramount's forthcoming "Golden Gloves," with a large cast, knows the fight game, having participated in bouts at Cincinnati Institute of Technology, where he studied engineering.

During her spare time on location with the "Winners of the West" company, Anne Nagel planned her spring wardrobe, which she immediately began purchasing when the company returned to Hollywood recently.

These pictures completed, she went to Broadway to appear opposite Fredric March in an 18th Century comedy called "Yr. Obedient Husband." Then back to England to appear in her newest production, Alfred Hitchcock's "The Lady Vanishes," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre Sunday playing until Tuesday.

In "The Lady Vanishes," the venerable old lady's exploits verge on the fantastic. Hitchcock demands action, even of grandmothers; and some of Dame Whitty's actions belongs to the field of acrobatics, as, for example, when she is called upon to climb out of the window of a train, and to dash for safety under a hall of bullets. To top it all, she takes a convincing fall as one of the bullets, presumably reaches its mark.

FAMOUS MATCH IN WESTMOUNT ARENA BILLED AS WORLD TITLE AFFAIR IS RECALLED

By BLAIR GILMOUR

"Lying in a cot in the Hotel Dieu with his skull fractured by a fall from the ring and further incapacitated by injuries inflicted on him through the foul tactics of Constant LeMarin, in the course of their wrestling match at the Arena last night, Stanislaus Zbyszko is paying dearly for the victory which was accorded him by referee Tuohy at the conclusion of a most unsatisfactory and brutal contest." — Montreal Gazette, May 26, 1913.

These words did not attempt to describe the scene in its bloody entirety, as almost 10,000 men and women jammed the old Westmount Arena to witness the last professional prize fight held in the City of Westmount. The battle, billed as the Finnish Mixed Style Championship of the World, will stand as a testimonial to the persuasive powers of the late George Kennedy—Montreal's all-time top sport promoter. Kennedy had to convince the city fathers that the youngsters round about would benefit by an exhibition of scientific wrestling, before they would lift the by-law prohibiting professional fighting.

The story went on to describe the Arena, which was all dolled up for the occasion. Gay red and white ribbons festooned the pillars and rafters; the ring ropes were wrapped with new colored tape, enclosed a spoolless spread of white canvas. The canvas did not stay white any longer than it took the Belgian and the Pole to come to grips. Zbyszko won the toss and elected that the first fall should be fought at catch-as-catch-can rules. LeMarin hadn't a chance in the world with the Pole at these rules and resorted to tactics "unworthy of a barbarian." The Pole started cautiously but soon had LeMarin pinned to the mat with a terrible crotch hold. The cunning of a fiend was needed to break the hold and the big Belgian proved to be just the man who had it. Locked tight in each others arms they pitched from the ring. Zbyszko striking his head on the corner of the press table. Shortly before this LeMarin had landed a series of uppercuts, knocking out several of the Pole's teeth. This Zbyszko did not seem to mind in the slightest as he indicated to the referee that he wanted to continue.

Once outside the ring and on the floor, LeMarin straddled the stunned Zbyszko and belabored him foully as he lay bleeding—a style of attack high popular to day. With the Pole still in a dazed condition the gladiators were pushed into the ring. The fight continued where it left off, LeMarin continuing to use his fists on the injured Pole. By this time the crowd was in a perfect frenzy of excitement, as the blood gashed out of Zbyszko's head like a fountain. Women fainted and men yelled at Tuohy, the Boston referee, to stop the fight. Not until the referee himself became so splattered with blood as to make it almost impossible to distinguish between fighters and official, did he declare a brief delay while the principals cleaned themselves up in the dressing room.

Doctors examined Zbyszko, stitched him up, and the fight was on again. The referee continued to warn LeMarin about his foul tactics but the warnings had no effect. Zbyszko seemed at a loss to know how to retaliate, furthermore blood was again flowing freely from the Pole and he was in very bad shape. After 44 minutes of actual wrestling the fight was awarded to Zbyszko on a foul.

Perhaps from George Kennedy's point of view the bout for the Finnish Mixed Style Championship of the World was a success, but it almost finished Stanislaus Zbyszko. At that he confounded the doctors who thought it might be months before he could return to the mat, by getting back in the ring in a few weeks time, and continuing for another 15 years—but never again in Westmount.

Pari-Mutuels Bring Ban On Betting Books

Mayor LaGuardia organized a campaign against unauthorized bookmaking at race tracks while a Bronx magistrate expressed the opinion that the legalization of pari-mutuel betting machines had opened the way toward "another system like prohibition."

The Mayor conferred with police department heads, explaining later that the provision in the new law making bookmaking a misdemeanor would be "vigorously prosecuted."

Although bookie operations were not lawful in past racing seasons there was no enforcement because the penalty had been removed by State Law.

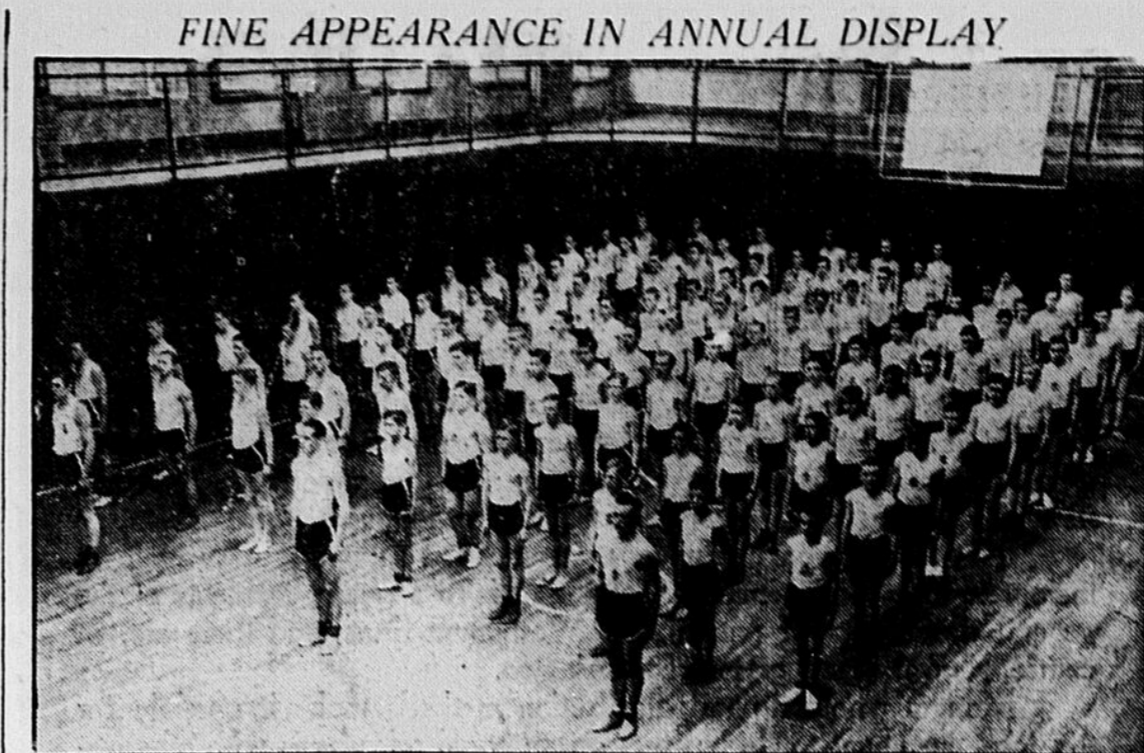

"Now," Mr. LaGuardia said, "we are back to the original status, with the exception that book-making at the tracks other than through pari-mutuel machines is both unlawful and punishable."

Magistrate Frank Oliver, dismissing a bookmaking charge yesterday, observed that an unusual situation now exists "with the State of New York being a bookmaker and policemen arresting citizens also for being bookmakers." He remarked that this was setting up "a double standard in our gambling."

"I am sorry," the Magistrate continued, "that in passing the pari-mutuel bill the Government didn't put itself in a more consistent position by passing some law giving pari-mutuels a standing outside of the tracks as well as within, so those who couldn't attend the track might well avail themselves of the pari-mutuels."

"We ought to have a more widespread law so as to deal with all the evil, if it be evil, and to gain all the lucrative profits, if there are any to be gained, for the benefit of the State."

It was hypocritical, he added, to make a criminal of an individual because he takes a bet "outside the fence" and to make it a virtue for the State to take one inside.

The Senior Cadet Corps of the Catholic High School is shown above just after being reviewed by Colonel Chichine, Provincial Inspector of Cadets, Military District No. 4 at the annual gymnastic display held in the C.H.S. gymnasium. No. 2 platoon won the highest aggregate of points and received the Strathcona Trophy. Platoon leader, Norman Gahan was awarded the "best cadet" medal.

RECORDS NOT IMPORTANT AS THE RUNNERS

Paavo Nurmi, who shattered so many distance-running records in his time that he "just can't remember how many," believes the public and some athletes are too concerned with new records. "Records... records... records; that's all I hear. There's entirely too much emphasis on records. It's getting so bad that people don't pay any attention to an excellent performance unless it breaks a record."

"Some people don't stop to think that there's a lot more to track than record-breaking. The runner who runs a good race deserves just as much credit as the one who sets records. "After all, chance plays a big part when a record falls. The track, weather conditions, the runner's condition, the runner's mental attitude, and the competition must be just right—and if a single factor is off the record stands up."

Victory First Thought

"Personally, I was just as satisfied after running a good race as I was after setting a record." Nurmi hasn't been disappointed with the American showing of his protegee, Taisto Maki, because he takes everything into consideration. Maki finished third, behind Greg Rice and Don Lash in a three-mile run. It was his third defeat in six American starts. Rice set a new world indoor record of 13:52.3, breaking his own 13:55.9.

"I have no abill for Maki's performance," said Nurmi. "It was the best he could do under the circumstances. He simply was not in his best condition. He came to America worn out from a hard winter on the front. He had been out of training several months. He was over his best running weight when he came to this country. He got back to the right weight, but he hasn't been able to get his speed back."

Too Much Travelling "We've been to the West Coast and back, and you can't train properly while travelling. Planes, committees, dinners, interviews, speeches—all take so much time you don't have enough left to relax properly."

"But I'll say this: Maki will be in better condition the next time he meets Rice, if and when he does, and it will be anybody's race." Maki's outdoor three-mile record is 13:42.4 and Nurmi added: "Maki could beat Rice, or anyone else outdoors if his condition was right."

also the grown-ups laughing for hours.

Among the acts will be the George Hannerford family, who for years have been one of the dominant equestrian attractions in the world, presenting new and original variations of a routine that has delighted thousands of circus-goers on two continents. A featured attraction for many years with such circuses as Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey, and Sells-Floto, the Hannerfords whose training was secured under the "big-top" have never lost favor with the amusement seeking public. A remarkable testimonial of their fine performance.

No Referee For Drake Co-Eds

Coeds at Drake University are being taught sportsmanship in volleyball games conducted on the "honor" system without referees. Miss Ruby Holton, head of the women's physical education department, hopes the ban on officials may eventually be extended to such complicated games as basketball.

"Where judging of misplays is left up to a watchful referee, it eliminates one of the finest possible opportunities for training in the real philosophy of sports—the spirit of fine sportsmanship," she says.

PREPARATIONS FOR OPENING BELMONT PARK

Preparations for the re-opening of Belmont Park, Montreal's only outdoor amusement centre situated in Cartierville on the banks of Back River, are progressing rapidly. Painters, snow-removers, carpenters and electricians are all busy getting the Park into shape for the Grand Preview on Saturday and Sunday May 11 and 12. The official opening for the season, however, will take place on Saturday, May 18th.

Interviewed in his office yesterday, Rex Billings, its managing director, announced that the Park this year will feature several new attractions along the Midway in addition to the old favourites. Furthermore there will be several additional facilities for picnickers, as the picnic grounds will be enlarged with more shower baths, extra tables and extra space for athletics and races for the convenience of patrons. The Public Address System will cover the entire Park so that one and all can take part in the festivities. Stan Wood and his augmented Orchestra will supply the music in the dance pavilion which boasts one of the finest dance floors in the entire Dominion.

Minor Leaguer Is Speedy On Bases

Frank Metha, Fort Worth infielder, who stole sixty-six bases in 1939, being turned back only six times, stole four bases in one game. Metha must have a mighty good eye up at the plate for he drew 109 bases on balls. He also scored 109 times, being tied with Lucadello for third place in run-getting among the Texas league batsmen.

'CYCLISTS TO HOLD FIRST EVENT OF YEAR

On Sunday April 28 the Sports Motor Cycle Club will hold its first event of the season, all riders are invited to take part. Trophies will be awarded in three classes, expert, novice and one to be awarded to the rider with the best performance among the riders not connected with any club. All those desiring to take part in this event should be at Van Horne and Decarie Blvd. at one o'clock sharp. Bob Herbert, chairman of the competition committee, stated that this trial is in the nature of a spring workout and will not be too difficult for beginners. It will give those who have new motorcycles a chance to get the feel of them before the real stiff trials get underway. As a large field is expected all riders are requested to come early and avoid the last minutes rush for maps and numbers. Additional information may be had by calling Bill Nalley, 2239 Hingston Ave.

Kentucky Check And Doublecheck

The $250 check that came in the mail was made out to W. H. Fields, W. H. Fields cashed it. Then Circuit Judge W. H. Field, wondering where his pay check was, inquired and learned:

W. H. Fields thought the money was a lump-sum payment from the Unemployment Compensation Commission. He spent it.

The State Revenue Department said the bank would have to stand the loss. The bank said the State would, because there was an "a" on the name. W. H. Fields said as far as he was concerned the matter was closed.

Temple Will Take To Air Next Season

Temple University is going to unleash an aerial circus against its football opponents next Fall according to Ray Morrison, new grid coach. "I have spent at least thirty minutes a day during the one month of Spring training with the backfield candidates to instruct them in forwarding passing," asserted Morrison. "I firmly believe the trend is definitely away from power football, and I think that gridiron success today depends on a passing attack rather than a ground offensive," said the new coach. He revealed he will introduce a "certain passing technique" new to Eastern football.

will be offered by Winifred Colleano, daredevil performer who will display a daring aerial routine on a flying trapeze.

Skiing Areas Prepare For 'Summer' Season

By Leavitt F. Morris Stowing away their red "woolies" and bringing out dark glasses, shorts and what is left of last year's sun-cream, skiers are getting ready throughout the higher ski centers for warm-weather skiing, the "little season" that winds up winter sports. This variety, done in high altitude ravines and sheltered snowfields through May and often into June, is quite different from the winter kind. It is a sport for the indolent, done for recreation rather than racing trophies, and its hallmark is a suntan, resulting from the reflection of sun on snow, that rivals even the summer salt-water type.

The Canadian Rockies will have good skiing until mid-June this year in the Lake Louise region at Sunshine Lodge, Skoki Lodge, and Temple Lodge, with glacier skiing through the summer. On the Pacific, Oregon's Mt. Hood has an Open Rose ski race each in June, and Washington's Mt. Rainier has equally late skiing. In California, the Yosemite's Badger Pass will provide good skiing only through April this year, but up on Mt. Whitney, if you want to go in by horseback, you will find Hans George, a Swiss instructor, ready to ski with you all summer at Whitney Pass.

In the east, Canada's Laurentians probably will be good only through this month. New York's Mt. Marcy will afford trail skiing into May, with a summit snowfield lasting into June. New England was blessed this winter with enough snow to repeat even last year's record-breaking season. Mt Mansfield, Pico Peak, and Bromley mountain in Vermont will be good into May, while in New Hampshire Cannon Mountain will see skiers mingling with the early summer tourists in the Tramway Tuckerman Ravine on lofty Mt Washington is the last and greatest rendezvous, however. It will hold a race there every Sunday this month, with over 3,000 skiers expected for the "Inferno" race next Saturday and Sunday.

The hotel department of the Canadian Pacific has fixed the opening and closing dates of its various hotels, lodges, and bungalow camps in the Canadian Rockies. The Banff Spring Hotel, Chateau Lake Louise, and Emerald Lake Chalet at Field, B.C., will open on June 3 and close Sept. 8. The mountain lodges at Yoho Valley, Lake Wapta, Lake O'Hara, and Moraine Lake open June 24 and close Sept. 8.

WILL PREPARE FOR BIG SHOW AT THE FORUM

Preparation will soon get under way at the Forum for the coming of the Hamid-Morton Trained Wild Animal shows combined with European circus acts, for their annual visit to this city on May 4 to end including Saturday May 11, during which engagement two performances daily at 2:30 and 8:30.

This season, this annual event will be under the auspices of the Montreal Shriners, who will turn over all the receipts to the Shriners hospital for Cripple Children, and it is expected by the Forum will be packed to its full capacity at every performance, so that a nice amount of money will be turned over to the hospital. Hundred of Shriners are now busily selling books of tickets and judging by the big sale already recorded, there is no doubt that the public of Montreal will respond in record number. The program which Manager Bob Morton will present us this year, is said to surpass anything that he has ever brought to this city, and among the feature acts which has been booked for the world who will be seen with his forty ferocious lions and tigers, in a presentation that will hold your breath. It is one of the most death-defying act that has ever been seen here. Fifty more acts will be on the program involving around 400 performers not counting about twenty funny clowns, who will keep the youngsters and

A DATE WITH IRENE

Hollywood, April 24—Tempered by years of close association with film factories, Angelinos—as residents of this town are so quaintly known—have come to recognize in motion pictures just another example of complex American industrial organization. While Detroit produces motor cars and Milwaukee gives us beer, Los Angeles manufactures glamour, wraps it up in celluloid and sells it to the world.

Moreover, years of residence in this City of the Cinema have bred in some Angelinos a feeling of smug familiarity with film favorites and picture publicists. Sensational techniques of film exploitation have led many to accept even the most bizarre with scarcely the lift of an eye-brow and, because of this, an occasional event of genuine importance often fails to attract the attention it deserves.

But last Thursday night was a glorious exception. Searchlights lit the skies, and Hollywood Boulevard near Vine Street was a solid mass of humanity. Slick-haired radio announcers set up their microphones at the entrance of Pantages Theatre, as well-groomed men and women pranced up the scarlet carpet leading from curb to theatre foyer. Lads and lasses with pen and album reaped a harvest of autographs, and cameras flashed as bejewelled screen sirens and formally-attired glamour guys a lighted from their horseless-carriages.

Direct cause of all this hubbub was a sweet, unaffected English lass whose stunning screen delineation of Queen Victoria had shot her star high in the cinema heavens. Thursday evening, Anna Negele shed her regal wrinkles, pads and bustles, and maddled her bow as "Irene"—that little bit of salt and sweetness first concocted 20 years ago by James Montgomery, Harry Tierney and Joseph McCarthy.

Miss Negele's triumph was complete. Together with Herbert Wilcox, with whom she visited Montreal two years ago, she has made a happy picture for these unhappy times. Her dancing is exquisite, her singing delightful, her acting superb. And the supporting cast, headed by Ray Milland and May Robson, at no time lets her down.

"Irene" on celluloid loses none of the charm it possessed on the stage. You will thrill again to the lilt of "Alice Blue Gown," "Irene" and "Castle of Dreams"—and the tale of a shop-girl who becomes a mannequin overnight still retains its original comedy, pathos and romance. It's a refreshing film, from start to end.

By a strange coincidence, Thursday was also the 76th birthday of that grand, old trumper, May Robson, and Miss Negele was host to the press at a party in honour of Miss Robson at Ciro's following the preview. Half of Hollywood's aristocracy was there. Ann Sothern dancing with George Murphy; Alice Faye without Tony Martin; Walt Disney swapping jokes with Joe Pasternak; the three Marx brothers munching caviar with Arthur Treacher. Your correspondent, by no means an aristocrat, was seated next to Marlene Dietrich and Erich Maria Remarque, and Mischa Auer chewed his gum only a few feet away.

Suddenly at midnight dancing stopped, and a hush fell over the gathering. From out of nowhere two waiters rolled in a huge cake, topped by one candle. Then Herbert Wilcox stepped to the microphone and

WESTMOUNT MERCHANTS APPRECIATE YOUR PATRONAGE

REALIZING that the success of its campaign to better business conditions in Westmount rests to a great extent on the support of the buying public The Business Association of Westmount takes this opportunity to record its appreciation for the co-operation thus far received.

The Association has never recommended shopping in Westmount merely to help local merchants. Its aim is to acquaint residents of the general desirability of patronizing Westmount firms, and there are, of course, a great many reasons for doing so.

Modern wholesale and distribution methods make it possible for the local merchant to do business on an equal price basis with other reputable business houses and Westmount firms offer goods and services at prices that will meet comparison with those charged elsewhere.

Also neighborhood stores almost invariably offer service that cannot be surpassed. Every time your local merchant sells you an article, he also sells you service. He knows your individual preferences and will go out of his way to serve you in the most efficient manner possible.

The variety of merchandise stocked by local merchants is sometimes overlooked but the most casual survey of Westmount firms will readily demonstrate that practically every marketed commodity and service can be secured within the boundaries of this city.

For these reasons, residents are urged to place as much of their business as possible with the merchants listed in this advertisement. During the coming Spring season especially, do your shopping in Westmount first.
