ATLANTIC STATES RECUPERATING FROM WORST HURRICANE IN YEARS

Damage Estimated in Millions of Dollars Caused by Hundred-Mile-an-Hour Blast which Swept Thousand Miles of United States Atlantic Coast—Despite Severity of Storm, Only Seven Persons Were Known to Be Killed with Twenty-Three More Missing—Disrupted Communications Prevent Accurate Estimate of Damage—Hurricane Today Sweeping Out to Sea.

New York, September 19.—One of the worst hurricanes in the history of the United States swung out to sea northeast of New York today—with all vessels warned to get out of its way. Despite its violence over one thousand miles of Atlantic coastline, only seven persons were known to be killed. Twenty-three more, however, were missing.

A death toll estimated at forty-six was drastically revised shortly after dawn when thirty-four men feared lost from the S. S. Long Island in Delaware Bay were found alive on a coal barge two miles off shore. Four men of the Long Island crew were still missing.

One person was killed in Maryland, three died in New Jersey, and three were killed in Pennsylvania.

Disrupted communications prevented an accurate estimate of property damage, although preliminary reports indicated millions lost.

As the great storm, with wind velocity as high as one hundred miles an hour, circled northeastward, Connecticut apparently escaped damage.

Elsewhere in New England, the coast was whipped by heavy rains and gales, but damage was reported small. A high pressure area was moving the hurricane to the east. The interior of New England did not even receive rain.

Ships caught along the New England coast clung to the shelter of the shore.

New York city was deluged by heavy rains throughout the night, but the dawn broke with clear, blue skies.

Shipping lanes off the United States' northeast coast for the most part remained clear. Vessels hugged New England harbors to ride out winds attaining a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour.

The backwash of the hurricane, following a period of calm, again swept eastern coasts from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to New York with attendant high waves and gales threatening lives and property.

Volunteer workers, Works Progress Administration employees and staffs of the United States Red Cross set about the gigantic task of rehabilitating stricken areas.

Communication lines to southern areas isolated by the blow were being restored, and roads that were washed out by high tides and torrential rains or blocked with debris were being re-opened.

Coast Guard headquarters in Massachusetts and Rhode Island reported mountainous seas.

Storm Warnings Hoisted As Far North As Nova Scotia.

Storm warnings were hoisted as far north as Nova Scotia. The Canadian meteorological service issued a warning to all the Maritime Provinces.

Three Pennsylvania deaths were limited to the Philadelphia area. Philip Terrell, twenty-four, was electrocuted as he picked up a wire blown down in a suburban community; Romola Colozza, sixty, was killed by a car which skidded on a storm-swept highway and an unidentified man about fifty years of age, died of injuries suffered when he walked into the path of a trolley in the rain.

George R. Zorn, of Baltimore, lost his life when his forty-foot cruiser crashed on the rocks off Longport, N.J. His pilot, William Lieber, of Port Washington, N.Y., swam two miles to shore for aid, but Coast Guardsmen were unable to save Zorn.

Eight men aboard the fishing schooner Caspian, leaking when it left port at Cold Spring harbor yesterday, were unreported, while seven persons were missing in Maryland.

Zeppelin Hindenburg Making Satisfactory Progress.

The Zeppelin Hindenburg was over the Atlantic coast from Frankfurt in Lakehurst, N.J., but was not near enough to the storm area to be affected immediately. It reported riding through a squall a few hundred miles off Newfoundland, but was making satisfactory progress.

A 400-ton freighter, the Ira Hay Atwater, went aground on the Delaware breakwater. The Cape May Coast Guard wireless two cutters offshore to attempt to aid the crew.

The disturbance, first reported in the south Atlantic by a steamer on September 12th, became more intense as it swept northeastward and struck Cape Hatteras to begin a capricious movement up the coast.

Wind Reached Velocity of Hundred Miles An Hour.

The Virginia Capes and the coasts of Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey were struck in turn, the winds reaching a velocity of one hundred miles an hour at spots.

The steamer El Almirante of the Southern Pacific Lines, was in tow of the cutter Modoc, which went to the rescue.

Damage from the storm along North Carolina's two hundred miles of coast and in other eastern states was not considered so heavy as in the hurricane of 1933.

Three negro W.P.A. workers were missing near Coinjock, N.C. New York was raked by a seventy-five-mile-an-hour gale that caused considerable property damage.

REPORTS OF ANOTHER REVOLT IN PORTUGAL DENIED IN LISBON

Lisbon, Sept. 19.—Reports abroad that a new revolt had broken out in Portugal were denied in authoritative quarters here today.

Unconfirmed reports from Lisbon, reaching London via Madrid, said today a new revolt had broken out in the Portuguese capital.

The reports said disaffection had broken out in Portugal's armed forces. A short-lived mutiny broke out aboard two warships in Lisbon harbor last week.

DETROIT COUNCIL FINALLY HEARS ABOUT AUTOMOBILE

Detroit, Sept. 19.—Detroit's Common Council, convinced the automobile is here to stay, has just repealed the hitching-post ordinance and regulations governing speed of horses.

A few of the fifty-two ring posts still stand in the city's downtown section, the Council was informed. With the speed limit of ten miles an hour for horses repealed, they may now compete with automobiles, even on the boulevards.

WHERE OVER A THOUSAND MET DEATH

The two-month old siege of the Alcazar, the historic fortress at Toledo, was virtually ended with the dynamiting of the historic palace by Government troops. Of the 1,700 beleaguered Spanish rebels in the structure, at least 1,200, including hundreds of women and children, are believed to have met their death in the series of explosions set off by loyalists.

SLAYING OF JAPANESE POLICEMAN ADDS GRAVITY TO EASTERN CRISIS

Member of Hankow Consular Police Shot to Death in Sentry House by Unidentified Chinese Assassin—Naval Forces Establish Emergency Patrols in District where Slaying Occurred—Japanese Today Occupied Important Railway Centre of North China Following Evacuation by Chinese Troops.

Hankow, China, Sept. 19.—Ni wajiro Yoshioka, a member of the Japanese consular police in Hankow, was shot to death by an unidentified Chinese, the Domei (Japanese) News Agency reported today.

The Agency said Yoshioka was shot in the back of the head while he was standing inside a police box.

Domei further reported a Manchoukuo military officer, a native of Korea, arrived in Hankow and reported to Japanese authorities he had been attacked on a train from Peiping to Hankow.

The officer declared he was assaulted in the dining car by Chinese passengers who staged an anti-Japanese demonstration, the Japanese Agency asserted.

Japanese naval forces, anchored here in conjunction with the consular police, established emergency patrols in the national concession in which the slaying occurred.

Yoshiaki Miura, Japanese Consul-General, requested assistance from Chinese authorities in apprehending the slayer.

NAVAL AUTHORITIES MAKE STUDY OF DEVELOPMENTS

Shanghai, Sept. 19.—Naval authorities of the third Japanese fleet, advised of the killing of a Japanese consular policeman at Hankow, went into emergency session here today.

The situation resulted from a conference was called to "consider measures to be taken as a result of the slaying."

CHINESE TROOPS LEAVE IMPORTANT RAIL TOWN

Peiping, Sept. 19.—Japanese military authorities were in complete control today of Fengtai, dominating point for all railway lines in North China, as Chinese troops evacuated the town barracks.

The situation resulted from a Japanese protest over the reported attack by Chinese soldiers on a Japanese officer and orderly.

A correspondent for a United States newspaper and his wife were handled roughly by Japanese officers during an attempt to report the surrender of the Chinese troops.

The terms on which the settlement of the incident was based included complete evacuation of the area by the 29th Chinese army and an apology to the Japanese military authorities. The evacuation was started and the apology was made.

Before the settlement, Chinese and Japanese troops took up positions facing each other. The Japanese surrounded the barracks while the Chinese mounted machine guns on the roof in preparation for a possible attack.

ALL GERMANY IS INVITED TO "DRINK AND BE MERRY"

Week-Long Party to Drink Up 5,000,000 Gallons of German Wine Inaugurated with Great Festivity.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—All Germany was invited today to a week-long party to drink up five million gallons of German wine. An official command ordered "All Germans: drink and be merry."

Processions of gaily-costumed "wine queens" paraded through Rhinish towns where drinks were offered freely to everyone in an effort to dispose of surplus wine left over from the last two vintages.

LAPORTE AND TREMBLAY SIGN NEW AGREEMENT

According to Altered Agreement Dominion and Quebec Governments, on Fifty-Fifty Basis, Will Spend $5,250,000 on Relief Works in This Province.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—A new agreement under which the Dominion and Quebec governments, on a fifty-fifty basis, will spend $5,250,000 on relief works in that province, was signed here today, Justice Minister Ernest Laporte, acting Prime Minister, signed for the Dominion and William Tremblay, Quebec Minister of Labor, for the province.

The agreement, details of which were not made public, was negotiated in conformity with the Unemployment Relief and Assistance Act of 1936 and on the same basis as those existing between the Dominion and other provinces.

Change of government in Quebec and different views on works to be proceeded with necessitated the altered agreement. An agreement had already been negotiated with the Government of former Premier Adolphe Godbout.

A statement issued today by acting Prime Minister Laporte was, in part, as follows:

The new agreement is in terms similar to those of the agreements already entered into between the Dominion and the other provincial governments and with that previously executed with the Godbout Government.

In view of the fact that the Dominion leaves with the province complete discretion as to the works which shall be undertaken by the latter and assisted by the former for the relief of unemployment, the Provincial Government has asked that certain of the undertakings which under the Godbout agreement were agreed to be undertaken, should not be proceeded with but be dropped from the agreement, while others which in the judgment of the province should be undertaken have now been substituted therefor.

The public square was filled with wine for the first time in years.

THE WEATHER

FAIR: NOT MUCH CHANGE IN TEMPERATURE.

Pressure is high over Ontario and Quebec and the central portion of the United States, also over the Mackenzie Valley and on the Pacific coast, while a shallow depression is centered near the west coast of Hudson Bay with a trough extending southward over Manitoba. The tropical storm now appears to be centered near latitude 41 and longitude 68, moving in a northeasterly direction and causing east and northeast gales with rain over the Maritime Provinces. The weather has been fair with moderate temperature from the Rocky Mountains eastward to Quebec.

Forecast: Moderate winds; fair today and Sunday; not much change in temperature.

GHASTLY SIGHTS ARE WITNESSED IN DESTRUCTION OF TOLEDO FORT

Believed that Twelve Hundred Insurgents Met Death in Explosions which Destroyed Upper Section of Toledo Alcazar—Government Forces Await Arrival of Additional Ammunition to Demolish Remaining Fragments of Stronghold that Still Houses Five Hundred Fascist Refugees.

Toledo, Sept. 19.—Socialist shells crashed today into the ruins of the Alcazar as Government forces sought to demolish fragments of the Fascist refuge where 1,200 insurgents were estimated to have met death by explosion.

Four Government guns shelled the battered fortress throughout the night and early morning as militia commanders awaited the arrival of new supplies of ammunition in preparation for an infantry assault.

Militiamen who charged yesterday into the ruins declared 1,200 of the 1,700 Fascists—men, women and children, who were besieged in the Alcazar died when two mines were touched off.

"A truly ghastly sight met us when we went over the top," said Jorge Cabrera, one of the assaulting militiamen.

"Through stumps of masonry and wrecked cellars spattered with blood we had to trample over human limbs and hideously broken human remains," he said.

Fascist machine guns beat a deadly tattoo from the wreckage of the fortress and claimed more than seventy casualties among the Socialist troops whose attack quickly followed the explosions. Most of the Government militiamen suffered leg wounds as the Fascists aimed low to halt their rush.

Government searchlights illuminated the scene of devastation during the night-long barrage, but Government forces waited in vain for the appearance of an insurgent white flag to signal surrender.

All survivors except the machine gunners among the besieged Fascists were believed to have fled to underground cellars.

Only twenty women and children were rescued by the Socialist assault.

"The southeast tower of the Alcazar shot bodily upwards like an arrow for ninety feet when the Socialist mines were exploded," he said, "and burst with a shower of granite boulders which left very few surrounding roofs untouched."

A five-ton truck which was blown from the Alcazar courtyard fell upside down in the patio of a house a quarter of a mile away.

General Asensio, Government Commander-in-Chief in central Spain, was reported to have abandoned temporarily plans for further dynamiting of the fortress.

EIGHT HUNDRED HOSTAGES MURDERED BY GOVERNMENT

Saint Jean de Luz, France, Sept. 19.—The Fascist General, Gonzalo Queipo de Llano, today accused Spanish Government forces of killing eight hundred hostages at Ronda, on the road to the southern seaport of Malaga.

The insurgent general, in a broadcast speech from Seville, said his troops had succeeded in identifying the bodies of 512 of the alleged victims.

They were mowed down by rifles and machine guns before the Fascists.

LARGE AND SMALL NATIONS SPLIT OVER ETHIOPIAN REPRESENTATION

League Council Tentatively Approved Proposal to Welcome Italian Diplomats but to Bar Ethiopian Representatives—Compromise Plan Would Ban Any Definite Action on Recognizing Italian Conquest of Ethiopia—Argentina Proposes Three-Fold Guarantee Pact Against Treaty Violators.

Geneva, Sept. 19.—Large and small nations in the League of Nations threatened to split today over the question of admitting Ethiopian delegates to the League Assembly session Monday, says the Associated Press.

The League Council, which met in preliminary discussion yesterday, tentatively approved a proposal to welcome Italian diplomats but to bar Emperor Haile Selassie's representatives.

Italy, seeking to have Ethiopia's League membership cancelled because Ethiopia is no longer a "self-governing" country since annexation by the Rome Government, has declared she will not send her delegates at the same table with the Ethiopians.

Informed circles in Geneva have described the tentative Council proposal as a compromise arrangement which would permit Italy to join the League debate but which would, at the same time, avoid any official action on Ethiopia's membership.

The Council was summoned to meet again this afternoon to discuss submitted proposals to reform or amend the League Covenant in an effort to bolster international security.

The British and French representatives will be handed to Portuguese Foreign Minister Armando Monteiro as a result of a complaint lodged with the French delegation by Madrid's representative, Havas said.

POLAND OPPOSES TALKS ON LEAGUE REFORMATION

Warsaw, Sept. 19.—Poland today informed the League of Nations that it saw no point in discussing League reform at the present time. A note to this effect was forwarded to Geneva by Foreign Minister Col. Joseph Beck.

In an interview today Col. Beck said: "The League has done nothing for ten years. The last session showed that it was not in control of its own system."

REPORT MANY GOVERNMENT SHIPS WILL SURRENDER TO INSURGENTS

Unconfirmed Reports Reaching Gibraltar State Large Battleship Is on Way to Melilla to Surrender to Rebels—Grave Disorders Have Broken Out Among Leftists Occupying Malaga—Socialists and Communists Turn Down Syndicalist Demand that Government Be Reorganized into Independent Regional Committees.

Gibraltar, Sept. 19.—Unconfirmed reports that the battleship Jaime I and other Spanish Government warships were about to surrender to the insurgents and dispatches declaring grave disorders had broken out among Leftists at Malaga aroused widespread interest here today.

The reports about the warships, emanating from Fascist sources at Algeiras, said the Jaime I had left Malaga yesterday for Melilla, insurgent stronghold in Spanish Morocco, with the crew planning surrender.

Other warships are preparing to do the same, the reports said.

Fires broke out in Government-held Malaga and a number of persons were killed when eight hundred militiamen, who assertedly refused to continue the fight against the insurgents, clashed with Communists and members of workers' organizations in the port's streets.

The British battleship Queen Elizabeth and the destroyer Anthony, proceeding from Gibraltar, are due at Malaga momentarily. The British destroyer Worcester is already at Malaga.

U.S. BUYS MORE OF DOMINION'S FARM PRODUCTS

Sharp Increase Shown in U.S. Imports while Similar Products from that Country to Canada Remain Unchanged—Interesting Trade Statistics.

Washington, Sept. 19.—A sharp increase in Canadian farm products imported by the United States in July, compared with the same month last year, while farm products of this country exported to Canada were nearly the same for the two periods, was reported today by the Department of Agriculture.

The study showed that both exports and imports of non-agricultural commodities increased in July compared with the previous year.

Imports of Canadian farm products by the country in July were valued at $9,835,000, which represents an increase of $4,978,000 over July, 1935, or 102 per cent.

Exports from farm products to this country, to Canada were $4,016,000 in July, an increase of $14,000 over 1935, or 3-10 of one per cent.

Canadian non-agricultural exports to this country for the month were $20,880,000, a gain of $2,011,000 above the 1935 total or eleven per cent.

Commodities other than farm products exported by this country to Canada also showed a gain. They were $25,045,000 or $2,823,000 more than for 1935, an increase of twelve per cent.

Commenting on the failure of American farm exports to increase along with non-agricultural products, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said drought losses had caused an upward movement of prices of these goods in this country that impeded exports and encouraged a flow of Canadian products.

It said that exports of United States farm produce upon which Canada had reduced duty under the reciprocal trade agreement, had gained $691,000 or forty-eight per cent, but that this was mostly offset by a decline in exports on which the duty was unchanged, of $667,000 or twenty-seven per cent.

Breaking the Canadian farm exports into the same classes, the study showed a gain of $842,000 or 235 per cent for the reduced duty products and $4,138,000 or ninety-two per cent for the others.

Seven months operations under the reciprocal trade pact were reported to show these totals for the two countries:

Exports by Canada: All commodities $190,454,000, an increase of $76,884,000 or twenty-four per cent, above the same months of 1935.

Non-agricultural products $144,765,000, an increase of $24,848,000, or twenty-one per cent.

Agricultural products $45,789,000, an increase of $51,936,000 or thirty-six per cent.

Exports by United States: All commodities exported $204,906,000, an increase of $26,707,000 or fifteen per cent.

Non-agricultural products $175,482,000, an increase of $21,830,000 or fourteen per cent.

Agricultural products $29,424,000, an increase of $4,877,000 or twenty per cent.

GOVERNMENT ACTS TO FORCE FAIR WAGES FOR QUEBEC LUMBERJACKS

Companies Exploiting Resources of the Provinces Will Also Be Prevented from Overcharging Employees for Living Expenses, Premier Maurice Duplessis Announced—Montreal Registry Office and Assistant Treasurer Feel Effects of Economy Axe—Early Reforestation Programme Planned in Effort to Preserve Forest Wealth of the Province, Premier States.

Quebec, September 19.—Promise of a new deal cheered Quebec's lumberjacks today. Premier Maurice Duplessis announced last night "provisions will be made that companies exploiting the natural resources of the province, particularly the pulp and paper companies, will pay reasonable wages to employees and assure the lumberjack of proper living conditions."

The Union Nationale chieftain said the pulp and paper company representatives he had just conferred with had promised co-operation "to assure the workman of his just share of the profits earned from the produce of our province."

The cabinet rose yesterday and will not sit until next Tuesday. But the Premier had another important announcement last night. He said Joseph Paul Sauve, Union Nationale member for Two Mountains, had been chosen by the cabinet as next Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, which convenes in special session on October 7th. Dr. Marc Trudel, member for St. Maurice, will be Deputy Speaker, the Premier said.

The Government is anxious to develop Quebec's mining industry, said Mr. Duplessis, and has arranged for thirty bursaries to enable young men to study mining and establish them in the industry.

Economies would be effected in the Registrar's office in Montreal to save the province $44,000 annually, the Premier said. He refused to give details, but said he had given orders abuses were to stop. His economy axe chipped $1,800 annually from extra remuneration enjoyed in the past by A. P. B. Williams, of Quebec, Assistant Treasurer.

Premier Duplessis said he soon would have announcements to make concerning administration of justice in the northern Quebec county of Abitibi.

Changes in System of Stampage Duties.

Better conditions for lumberjacks and additional revenues for the province will arise from a change in computing timber cutting rights on Crown lands, the Premier said. Henceforth the dues will be collected on the basis of cubic feet of logs, but the order will apply only to pulp and paper companies, and not to sawmills who do not use the whole log.

Pulp and paper companies and other enterprises exploiting the natural resources will be obliged to refrain from overcharging employees for living expenses, leaving them a mere pittance at the close of the season's work, the Premier said.

Company stores will have to pay standard market prices for farm products purchased from farmers and merchants of their neighborhood, and all merchandise used by the companies in their operations must be purchased in Quebec from Quebec firms.

"We also plan to undertake a wide reforestation programme as soon as circumstances permit," said Mr. Duplessis. "Abuses which were permitted by the last Government have resulted in colossal wastage of our forestry resources. Companies were permitted to cut wood and leave it rot there for years. The result was forest fires and insects destroyed wide areas of virgin forest lands. Today, because of this, the cost of transporting lumber from forest to mills has increased considerably, and has consequently brought about a corresponding increase in the price of newsprint."

REFORM PROPOSERS ARE DESCRIBED AS TRAITORS

Madrid, Sept. 19.—Spanish Socialists and Communists turned down flatly today a Syndicalist ultimatum to reorganize the government into regional committees independent of the Madrid Administration.

The Socialists, in their refusal to consider the proposal, declared "those pushing such a demand should be regarded as traitors."

The Communists asserted "we cannot allow duality of power to exist."

The ultimatum, following a grant of Syndicalist military assistance to the Madrid Socialist-Communist regime, called for decentralization of the Government to give workers a direct share in public affairs and compulsory conscription of all able-bodied men in the country.

"There is only one single point in our programme," the Socialist leaders affirmed, "and that is to win a victory."

The War Ministry announced officially these developments in the civil war between the Government and the Fascist insurgents.

Government fliers severely punished Fascists in the Santa Olalla and Talavera sectors west of Madrid where Socialists and insurgents engaged in skirmishes.

SON OF FORMER PREMIER FAVORED FOR DICTATOR

Burgos, Spain, Sept. 19.—If the Spanish insurgents should win the civil war, as they believe they now are doing, the paramount question would be who is to emerge as dictator.

Would he be General Francisco Franco, leader of the southern insurgent army? Would he be General Martinez Anido, veteran military leader? or would he be Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera, son of the late Miguel Primo de Rivera, iron premier under the old Monarchist regime?

General Franco, his adherents say, does not want to be dictator, but merely is lending his military services to the cause against the Madrid Government.

General Anido, who was vice-premier under De Rivera, the elder, would be placed in the position of renouating the son of Please Turn to Page 2.

An increase of $4,887,000 or twenty per cent.

The Premier revealed that P. A. Beique, an engineer consulted from time to time by the Quebec Roads Department, had from 1925 to 1933 received $245,200 from the former Government. Charles Marquette, another consulting engineer of the department, had received from 1930 to date $126,133, said Mr. Duplessis. "It does not need to tell you what will happen to abuses of this nature."

Court interpreters would in future be paid for the days they worked, and not for doing nothing," the Premier declared. He asked that one interpreter in Quebec district, who he said was a close relative of leaders of the Government, drew nearly $4,000 in five years. "The work could have been accomplished for half this amount," he said.

The National Union Government planned to introduce many reforms in the penal system of the province, but Mr. Duplessis said he was not yet prepared to announce the details of this programme.

Unofficial and unconfirmed reports have it that a certain number of employees in the province's service have recently handed in their resignations to the National Union Government but that the latter refused to accept them on the grounds that it did not want to take any action in their cases until time had been found to make a thorough investigation of each "deserter."

Any such employee who resigns, of course, is entitled to his, or her pension but, if the resignation is not accepted and they are dismissed from their posts later on, they not only lose all right to their pension "ipso facto," but cannot even touch the money which they may have contributed to the pension fund over a fairly long period of years.

AIRMEN RELATE FIGHT FOR LIFE IN THE BARRENS

Royal Canadian Air Force Pilots
Forced to Exist for Many Days on Diet of Berries and Two Squirrels—Richman and Merrill Still Delayed in Newfoundland.

Fort Reliance, N.W.T., Sept. 18.—Royal Canadian Air Force airplanes at this northern trading outpost today were ready to carry Flight Lieutenant Sheldon Coleman and his assistant, Joseph Fortey, to Edmonton and convalescence from a thirty-day battle with the Barrens.

Every care was given the two air force flyers and medical men expressed the opinion that had come through a trying ordeal in fairly good condition. The pair were eager to return to "civilization" with their tales of primitive living and privation while waiting for rescue.

A restricted diet was ordered for the men who subsisted on berries and two squirrels when their twenty-six pounds of emergency rations petered out.

They managed to keep warm and, after the first few days of berry-diet, they did not feel the pangs of hunger quite so much. They joked between themselves and tried to keep their minds off their immediate predicament, telling each other a rescue "plan" was due at any time. "Considering their diet they were in pretty good shape," Engineer Frank Hartley, of Canadian Airways, said. He was with Matt Berry when the veteran pilot spotted their fire and returned them to the police post here.

Rescue came just when northland flyers were preparing for the dread in-between season, when airplanes are grounded to await the freeze-up and the change from pentons to landing skis. It was believed they could not have held out another month, usually the time allowed for the change.

They trusted to the smoke from the fire which they kept going night and day to bring rescue planes to them.

WILL LIKELY BE STORM-
BOUND OVER WEEK-END

Harbor Grace, Nfld., Sept. 19.—"Rescued" from the remote fishing village where they made a forced landing at the end of a trans-Atlantic flight, Harry Richman and Dick Merrill today faced the prospect of being storm-bound here over the week-end.

The night-club entertainer and the veteran pilot made tentative plans to hop off for New York on Sunday, but weather forecasts indicated a tropical hurricane now whirling up the Atlantic seaboard might be over the Gulf of St. Lawrence then.

Last night Merrill flew the "Lady Peace" from Musgrave Harbor to Harbor Grace.

He was accompanied by Richman, who denied reports they had quarrelled and added: "We love each other as brothers."

The plane functioned perfectly after a new propeller had been fitted by mechanics under the direction of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker.

Today the mechanics will give the monoplane a final overhauling before pronouncing her fit for the triumphant return to New York.

Soon after arriving here last night, Merrill disclosed he had averted a crack-up at Musgrave Harbor by inches. He was just getting into the air when a crowd of fishermen waving good-bye got in his path. Banking swiftly, he avoided them and swerved away down the coast.

URGE UNITY IN EFFORT TO
FREE WORLD OF COMMUNISM

Holy Name Society Had Clear Call from Its Leadership Today to Lead World Out of Meshes of Irreligion.

New York, Sept. 19.—The Holy Name Society had a clear call from its leadership today to unite in opposing Communism and leading the world back to religion.

One suggestion, from the Holy Name Union of Los Angeles and San Diego, proposed that the Society, holding its first convention since 1924, meet annually to strengthen its campaign against "the growing menace of Communism."

"We of America may well fear the insidious and subtle propaganda of Communism," said Michael O'Connell, director of the Los Angeles San Diego Union, told the convention last night. "Few groups, few movements, few organizations are so free of the pernicious propaganda cells."

"Our Society can and must again lead the world out of the meshes of irreligion and restore to Christ the things He so ardently desires, namely the love and service of pure hearts."

The Most Rev. John T. McNicholas, Archbishop of Cincinnati and national director of the Society, told a rally last night that the Society's teachings could have been applied advantageously in troubled Spain.

STRIKING MINERS TROOPED
BACK TO THEIR JOBS TODAY

New Waterford, N.S., Sept. 19.—Assured their demands for higher pay would be carried to the Dominion Coal Company, striking miners trooped back to work today.

The pit was idle last night after 1,000 men walked out in sympathy with loaders who sought increased rates.

At a meeting attended by D. W. Morrison, president of the United Mine Workers, the men decided to go back to the pit pending negotiations between the union executive and the company.

BRITAIN ENDEAVORING TO SPEED UP PLANS FOR LOCARNO PARLEY

Berlin, Sept. 19.—A British note designed to spur preliminary discussions looking toward a five-power Locarno Conference in London reached the Wilhelmstrasse today.

Officials only would say that the note was "being examined," but authoritative quarters expressed the opinion there was little chance for such a conference before 1937.

POPULATION OF WESTERN URBAN CENTRES DROP

Twelve Western Cities Shown to Have Smaller Population in 1936 than in 1931, while
Seven Registered Slight Gains.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Western cities lost population between 1931 and 1936, it was shown today in preliminary reports based on the five-year census taken this summer in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The population of nineteen western cities has been established by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, based on the census returns. Of these, twelve showed a smaller population in 1936 than in 1931 and seven showed increases, several of them small.

The following shows the 1936 population with the 1931 figures in brackets: Winnipeg, 215,002 (218,789); Portage, 65,337 (65,971); Edmonton, 85,676 (79,197); Drumheller, 2,911 (2,987); Swift Current, 5,065 (5,296); St. Boniface, 16,255 (16,305); Brandon, 16,388 (17,082); Saskatoon, 41,606 (43,291).

Calgary, 83,304 (83,761); Lethbridge, 19,320 (13,447); Medicine Hat, 9,590 (10,300); Red Deer, 2,377 (2,344); Wetaskiwin, 2,056 (2,125); Prince Albert, 11,050 (9,905); North Battleford, 4,727 (5,986); Yorkton, 4,931 (5,027); Moose Jaw, 19,782 (21,299); Regina, 53,389 (53,209); Weyburn, 5,325 (5,002).

REPORT MANY GOVERNMENT SHIPS WILL SURRENDER TO INSURGENTS

His former chief would accept the dictatorship. Some insurgents insist, however, that Anido will be Spain's next dictator. He is seventy years old, and for fifteen years was in control of Barcelona (now in Government hands).

Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera—if he is still alive—at present seems to be the strongest choice for a dictator should the insurgent subjugate Government resistance, observers here believe.

His father, General Miguel Primo de Rivera, died alone in a Paris hotel room March 16, 1930, a year before the then-King Alfonso gave way to the present Republic. He had been dictator of Spain for six years.

The son is Spain's No. 1 Fascist—the organizer of the Fascist adherents in Spain. He has been arrested four times, and escaped assassination three separate times.

Where he is now, the insurgents do not know. On July 31 he was reported missing somewhere in Spain. Then he was reported held prisoner by the Spanish Government.

In July he was reported to have been condemned to death for attempting to fire a Government prison and escape.

Whether he is dead or alive, or even in Spain, the insurgent leaders profess not to know.

Told by an insurgent leader that the next Government of Spain surely would be Fascist, the Associated Press correspondent asked what would become of the present military leaders of the rebellion.

"We propose," was the reply, "to put the military in the barracks and the priests in the churches. Today the military are serving a great cause—that of the freedom and the very life of Spain. But Spain has for too long had its military mixed with politics."

REBELS SEEK NUMERICAL
SUPERIORITY AT BILBAO

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 19.—Forty-five thousand Government militiamen today formed a barricade of steel between this industrial city on the Bay of Biscay and Gen. Emilio Mola's insurgent army.

Observers here said the Fascist leader was delaying his attack until he had a numerical superiority over the defending forces.

There is no regular fighting line on the "Bilbao Front," but all strategic roads and positions have been seized by the opposing forces. Ordo, between San Sebastian and Bilbao, is partly occupied by the insurgents, while Basque Nationalists still hold to Aspetia, a few miles to the southwest.

Four thousand hostages are held by the Socialists, some on ships in the Nervion, a river near Bilbao, others in the city's prisons.

Many foreigners, including sixty British subjects and about fifty Frenchmen, elected to stay in the city despite offers to evacuate them. The Government torpedo-boat No. 3 and the submarines C3 and C5 maintain a strict guard around Portugalete, Port of Bilbao, where Government ships still are taking on supplies.

STOCKS PUSHED HIGHER ON NEW YORK 'CHANGE

Generally Favorable Business and Industrial News Inspired Buying in Selected Issues—Upturn in Automobile Industry.

New York, Sept. 19.—Rail stocks rolled up gains of fractions to a point or more in today's market.

In fairly active trading the steels, motors, low-priced utilities and specialties also pushed higher.

Generally favorable business and industrial news inspired buying in selected issues.

Conspicuous on the upside were Santa Fe, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, North American Water Works, Columbia Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Westinghouse, Echeney, Loew's, Paramount and Johns-Manville.

Bonds and commodities were a trifle mixed. Foreign currencies were quiet in relation to the United States dollar.

Advices from motor manufacturing centers disclosed an upturn in production this week and it was believed output should increase from now until some time in November and December.

Further interest was shown in the automobile stocks as reports from most cities indicated capacity at the principal moving picture theatres notwithstanding some increase in admission charges.

The copper continued to attract attention despite the expectation in most financial quarters that the domestic price of the red metal will not be hoisted just now. A cheerful influence for this group, however, was the six month's statement of Kennecott showing a net of eighty-four cents a share compared with thirty-two cents in the like 1935 period.

GHASTLY SIGHTS ARE WIT-
NESSED IN DESTRUCTION OF TOLEDO FORT

General Queipo de Llano also announced the insurgent forces of Colonel Arranda, long besieged in the northern mining capital of Oviedo, had cut their way out of the city and dug in at a point ten miles distant.

An insurgent column, coming to the aid of the Oviedo forces, was sighted in the new position, the general said.

Other announcements by the Seville station:

On the Toledo Front: Government forces left nearly four thousand dead on the field between Maqueda and Toledo.

On the northern front: The Fascists are "advancing methodically" on Bilbao.

Meanwhile the insurgents, making a bid for recognition by foreign governments, invited diplomats accredited to Madrid to establish temporary embassies at San Sebastian today.

The invitation was announced over the Fascist radio station at Seville by the insurgent General Queipo de Llano, who said:

"General Mola (Fascist commander on the northern front), desiring to give proof of our authority in the provinces we occupy, has conceded the right of extra-territoriality to the Hotel Continental in San Sebastian where embassies may be installed with all security."

Foreign diplomats gathered here yesterday declined an invitation from the Spanish Government at Madrid to return to the embassies there.

Two Government planes had fallen in flames behind the Fascist lines on the "Bilbao Front" but all strategic roads and positions have been seized by the opposing forces. Ordo, between San Sebastian and Bilbao, is partly occupied by the insurgents, while Basque Nationalists still hold to Aspetia, a few miles to the southwest.

Four thousand hostages are held by the Socialists, some on ships in the Nervion, a river near Bilbao, others in the city's prisons.

NEW GOVERNMENT LEADER
TAKES CHARGE AT MALAGA

London, Sept. 19.—A new Spanish Government commander has arrived at Malaga from Madrid to take charge of demoralized Government forces which yesterday were reported fighting in the streets, reports reaching authoritative London quarters said today.

Two thousand troops were en route from Cartagena to reinforce the Malaga garrison.

The British cruiser Shropshire evacuated a handful of British subjects and one destroyer was standing by.

Fort, Italy, Sept. 19.—Premier Mussolini dedicated today a new military airport accommodating 250 planes.

ATLANTIC STATES
RECOVERING FROM WORST
HURRICANE IN YEARS

New Jersey's 125-mile coast line, scene of the heaviest toll of lives from the devastating blow, withstood renewed assaults of piling tides and high winds with additional property damage today.

No trace of the other eight believed missing was found. The guardsmen brought the men to Lewes. All of them were worn and hungry after twenty-four hours of the hurricane-swept waters.

Three others, Delmar, George, son of the captain, and George and Richard McQuillan, brothers, of Wilmington, N.C., saved themselves by clinging to a hatch after the ship went down. They were washed ashore yesterday.

The number on board was not definitely known. First reports put the number at forty-five.

INDUCTION AT LAKE MEGANTIC UNITED CHURCH

Colorful and Interesting Service Held at Lake Megantic United Church—Eastern Star Chapter Held Banquet.

Lake Megantic, Sept. 19.—A colorful and interesting service took place in Knox United Church, Tuesday evening, August 25th, when the official reception and installation into the office of minister and Presbyterian supply at Knox United of Rev. R. B. McAmmond, the new minister-elect, were made.

The meeting was conducted by Rev. H. E. Parsons, B.A., B.D., of St. Andrews United Church, Scotstown, who has been interim moderator of Knox United. Rev. W. S. Lennon, D.D., of Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke, past chairman of Presbytery, and one of this year's Commissioners to General Council, preached the sermon taking as his subject the visions that Ezekiel saw—the valley of dry bones, the river of water enriching the land and the stream issuing from beneath the door of the temple. His text was "He that sows where they sat."

After mentioning the difficulty in connection with the actual time of Ezekiel's ministry and reminding the congregation that he was not concerned about that for the purposes of the sermon, Rev. Lennon dealt with three visions, explaining each as follows: the vision of bones and their living again reminds one that in the mind of the preacher taking a new charge is the question whether he can bring new vistas of truth to the people, who are well established in the faith, and lead them to new heights of service and of Christian experience; the vision of the stream of water enriching the land and increasing in volume when it arrives at the Dead Sea, making that sea fresh and living, is a reminder of the stream of Christian endeavor and experience in the life of the community and of the Dominion while this stream derives its quality and power from that which issues from the door of the temple.

The great need of the minister is to be one with the people, "sitting where they sit" and entering into the experiences of the people, for the minister's power for blessing is intimately and vitally connected with his nearness and understanding of the souls committed to his charge.

In touching and fitting words, Dr. Lennon welcomed the new minister, earnestly hoping that the work in his new field of endeavor would seem and be a continuation of the great work Mr. Ammond had accomplished in China.

Dr. Lennon then carried through the installation, after which Rev. Beaton, of Lingwick, in a short well chosen address, gave the charge to congregation and minister. The Scotstown choir, out in force, added greatly to the dignity and worth of the service. Besides leading the singing they contributed an anthem, "Since Jesus Came into My Heart." A duet was sung by Mr. S. G. Scott and Mr. Lester Goodin, and a solo was rendered by Mr. Angus Mackenzie, the choir-master.

A strong delegation from Gould Station, Messrs. Lester Goodin, Ernest Rudd and Sammy Maher, of Canterbury, and a goodly number from Scotstown added their strength to the welcoming service. Afterwards the company moved on down to the beautifully appointed Sunday School room. There a banquet and speeches completed the evening's entertainment. After dinner speakers were Dr. Lennon, Rev. H. E. Parsons, Rev. C. G. Gilbert, Rev. Carr, Rev. Wright, Rev. William G. Barry, Rev. Beaton, Mr. Kelly, representing the Anglican Church, Mr. Mark, student in charge of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Mr. Payson Sherman, M.L.A., for Compton County, Rev. Will Ginn, M.A., B.D., who is engaged in teaching in Montreal, acted as toastmaster.

The dominant feeling among those present was that a new and happy relationship had been established and officially confirmed and that the future of the Lord's work in that particular section of the vineyard was bright with promise.

Deep appreciation was felt for the splendid work of the Women's Association in catering so well to the well-being of the guests and the congregation.

O.E.S. HELD SUPPER.

A very successful supper was conducted by White Heather Chapter, No. 23, O.E.S., in the Masonic Hall, Thursday evening, September 10th. The special committee in charge consisted of Mrs. John Miller, chairman, Mrs. N. J. Kelly, Mrs. V. Ginn and Mrs. Florence Bailey. Too much credit cannot be given this committee for its fine planning.

Supper was served from five thirty to eight o'clock and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity. Seldom has the hall looked more cheerful. Decorated with bright fall flowers and blue and white curtains, it was a truly good setting for the happy throng present.

Messrs. W. J. Kelly were in charge of the tickets, Mrs. S. Beaton had charge of the flowers and seating of guests, and Miss Evelyn Kelly was responsible for the pretty posters.

The special committee was assisted by all local members in the preparation for the activities of the evening.

ROAD MATTERS DISCUSSED AT ASCOT CORNER

Question of Erecting New Bridge Over the Stacey Brook Was Also Studied by Members of Ascot Corner Village Council.

Ascot Corner, September 19.—The Ascot Corner Council met on September 8th, in the Council room with Mayor Charles Paradis presiding and a full attendance of councillors present. Victor Lemay, who has accepted the position of secretary-treasurer to replace F. X. Darche, who for business reasons resigned, took charge of his duties for the first time.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and bills to the amount of eighty dollars were accepted for payment.

An application from Aime Couture was read applying for the position of mileman to replace Romeo Allard, who has had charge of this work for several years. A letter was forwarded to the Minister of Public Works in regard to this application.

The secretary was authorized to advise taxpayers that all arrears were expected to be in by October 15th.

A resolution requesting that immediate attention be given to the building of a bridge over the Stacey Brook, leading onto the Spring Road, was to be forwarded to Hon. J. Bourque, Minister of Public Works, Payson Sherman, M.L.A., was in town last week in connection with this project, and it appears a cement bridge will be erected in the near future.

CALF CLUB NOTES

Since its inception this spring, the Boy's and Girl's Calf Club here has had a very interesting group of young farmers in its membership of fifteen, as was proved by the attendance and prizes won at both Cookshire and Sherbrooke fairs.

Six of the members were chosen to attend the Cookshire Fair, A. Rivard, president of the Club, Orin Pageau, Byron LaBonte, Norman Coates, Roland Lemay and C. Belanger. In the Ayshire group Pageau carried off first prize and Roland Lemay second. Holstein group first went to Norman Coates and second to Byron LaBonte.

Four boys represented the Club at Sherbrooke, Orin Pageau, C. Belanger, A. Rivard and R. Lemay. These boys obtained second prize in the Ayshire group class.

At both Cookshire and Sherbrooke special prizes were won by the different individuals as well as prizes in showmanship, halter-making and judging, which is a good beginners' record for the young farmers.

General Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Largy and family have returned to Sherbrooke, after spending several weeks here.

Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.—The Acts 19:38.

Russia Warns Hitler.

Russia, as might reasonably be expected, has politely but none the less sternly warned Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler to curb his rather troublesome tongue. While professing the greatest desire for peace, which she claims is necessary for her proper economic development, Russia has declared that if there is any trouble Germany need not expect to carry on her fighting on foreign soil as far as Russia is concerned. The fighting will be done on German territory if the highly efficient Soviet war machine has any say in the matter, and Russia believes she will.

Regardless of one's personal views on Communism or Fascism, Russia can hardly be held to task for the rather blunt remarks that have appeared in the Soviet official press. It is unreasonable to expect the nation to put up with the malicious campaign of insult and calumny to which Russia has been subjected by Der Fuehrer in the past few weeks.

Not content with abusing Russia as the root of all the troubles in the world today, Hitler has adopted something of the "scaredy-cat" tactics of a bully who jumps around and defies anyone to fight him. On the surface it would appear fortunate for Hitler that the Bear has contented himself with growling, for its claws are rather sharp if it decides to scratch.

Quebec City Sets An Example.

The Quebec municipal police have adopted the correct course in their drive to eliminate the slot machine menace in the Ancient Capital. They have announced that all such machines found will be smashed beyond repair and the proprietors tolerating such devices on their premises prosecuted as operators of gambling houses.

The slot machine is nothing but a racket. It is not even a game of chance, for it is fixed so that the player does not even get a run for his money. With the large profits derived from the gullible public, the promoters of this racket have in the past found it a simple matter to pay the nominal fines usually imposed and resume their operations. But if the machines, which cost quite a penny, are destroyed when seized and the proprietors of establishments on which the machines are found subjected to a stiff fine, this menace will soon be eliminated.

The Quebec City police have set an example that might well be followed by all villages, towns and cities where the slot machine racket is still in progress.

More Aberhart Tyranny.

The citizens of Alberta have been deprived of another inherent right which forms the very base of British liberty and justice. That is the right to take to the courts the question whether any specific act of the Legislature is ultra vires or whether the lawmakers were right in passing it. The measure which was passed virtually unnoticed at the special session of the Legislature held recently declares that no action can be brought to interfere with any Provincial Act unless permission to bring such action has been given by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Knowing the temper of the present Alberta administration, the average Canadian can easily appreciate that the last proviso is mere empty verbiage as the permission will never be granted.

Thus, unless some higher authority intervenes, Alberta residents can be penalized and imposed upon by a group of political misfits now in power without being able to protect themselves through the courts.

The Dominion Government should use its veto power and override this measure, and some of the other unsavory acts passed in recent weeks.

That Perennial Villain—Homework.

With the inauguration of another school year we are once more faced with that perennial villain—homework.

Homework is cursed and discussed, and yet the problem never seems to be settled. The advocates of homework claim that it encourages self-reliance, obedience and a better cultural level in the home. Its opponents say just as vociferously that homework results in reliance on others, worry for parents, loss of sleep and deceit.

There is something of the truth in both these points of view. The advantages which may be derived from homework, in common with nearly everything in life, rests with the individual.

The teacher who really explains the lesson carefully in school and then sends the student home to learn the work after it is understood, is undoubtedly following the correct course. If the student goes home and studies alone, leaving the problems which he cannot understand for the teacher to explain the next day, then again the right process is being followed.

But, the whole idea of what homework is meant to be is lost sight of if the teacher hurriedly rushes through the work and then sets a long list of problems which the student cannot hope to do without help; in other words, foists the teaching duties on the parents. On the side of the student: If he depends on the help of his family he has an unfair advantage over the student whose family will not or cannot help him. If the family do the homework, then it is, of course, no use to the student because it is no test of his knowledge of the lesson which he is supposed to have learned, and, consequently, he falls behind.

Much has been said concerning the attitude of pupil and teacher, but perhaps the answer to the problem is to be found in the attitude of parent and teacher. To ensure the success of homework, or indeed any work of the boy or girl at school, there must be at all times the fullest co-operation between parent and teacher. The parent must respect the wishes of the teacher and try to banish all prejudice when dealing with the child. The teacher must realize that the parent knows the child more fully and is in a better position for a greater understanding of the special needs of the pupil. With full co-operation between teacher and parent we need have no fear for the education of youth.

What Editors Say

ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE UNLIKELY.

Detroit Free Press.

The report from London that Japan is making a strong diplomatic drive for a better understanding with Great Britain is not surprising.

Japan has watched with considerable concern the growing tendency of the United States and Great Britain to follow the same line of policy in the Far East.

And it is only natural that it should try to break up what it regards as a combination against its own policy of expansion.

What is surprising is that the Japanese Government, or anyone in London, should consider possible the creation of an understanding "that perhaps would bring back the good old days of the Anglo-Japanese alliance."

That alliance, aimed at Russia, was rendered of little value to Great Britain by Japan's defeat of Russia in 1904-05.

The British people never liked Salisbury's tie-up with Japan, and Canada, South Africa and Australia were outspokenly hostile to it.

Australians, thinking of their own safety, were wont to say that a wolf had been set to guard the sheep.

After the conclusion of the various agreements affecting the Pacific at the Washington Conference of 1921-22 the Anglo-Japanese alliance went into the discard.

And as long as Japan pursues a policy that threatens the rights and interests of Great Britain and the United States in much the same way, there is little likelihood of a British Government reviving an agreement that was so distasteful to Americans, as it was to Canadians and Australians.

IS SUPER-TAXATION.

Brandon Sun.

Canadian Business this month says Alberta can ill afford to attempt Aberhart's monetary cure-alls such as have failed disastrously of their purpose elsewhere. The whole present scrip issue seems to jump off like the horse that tried to swim a stream in order to reach a water-trough. The province has merely set up a cumbersome means of payment in the form of taxable promissory notes, which payment could have been financed with less burdens and more cheaply to the people through orthodox borrowings. Canada, generally, is moving steadily towards recovery but conditions in Alberta are far from satisfactory. Many courageous citizens need assistance and they should receive it by the most efficient, not the most tenuous route.

POLITICIANS AND DEBTS.

Sault Ste. Marie Star.

Sir Edward Beatty holds the public to blame for high government debt. Politicians are coaxed to spend money, he says. But has a Government no backbone? And are cabinets only concerned in getting re-elected? Sir Edward is right enough but the real trouble is that politics is politics. We are bought with our own money. A politician's job is to hold his job regardless of the debt result.

Thirty Years Ago Today

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.
September 19th, 1906.

The Sherbrooke Choral Society was re-organized with the following slate of officers: Mr. George S. Armitage, Col. H. B. Fraser, Mr. A. L. Parker, Mr. W. B. McCaw, Miss A. Edwards, Miss M. Hubbard, and Mr. A. S. McCaw.

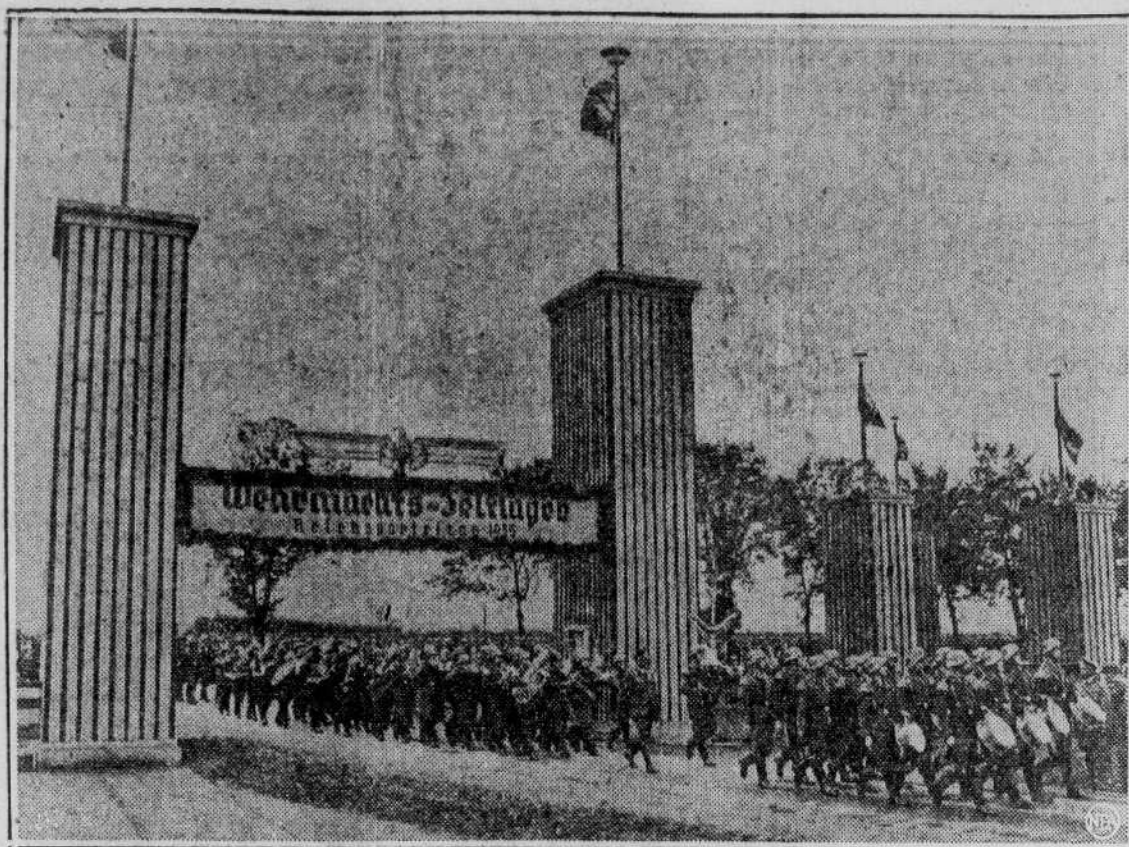

Weddings reported in the Record: At Granby, Miss Albina E. Page to Mr. C. Ernest A. Tarte, Rev. L. O. Roberge officiating; at Melbourne, Miss Margaret Edna Stinson to Mr. Frank M. Jordan, Rev. R. George Watt officiating.

Prize-winners at a Sutton Rifle Club shoot were Messrs. C. E. Curley, A. Derick and G. E. Clark. In a last bid to obtain a railway, the Inverness Township voters approved a free right-of-way for the proposed Megantic and Lotbiniere Railway. The road never reached the district however.

The following officers were elected for the Richmond Methodist Church Young Ladies' Aid: Mrs. Arthur Barrie, Mrs. M. MacKay, Mrs. E. A. Tomkins and Miss Emily Jones.

Mr. Charles Wheeler, of Washington, D.C., was visiting his uncle, Mr. T. W. Keet, at Fitch Bay. Mr. Charles W. Rantoul, of Sanford, Fla., was the guest of Mr. George Alexander in Richmond.

The Nazi cohorts at the Nuremberg congress of the party were treated to a lavish display of Germany's growing military strength. Headed by a drum corps and band the arrival of a detachment of 17,000 troops at camp is pictured.

PLAN MODERN LEPROSITY CITY TO FIGHT DREADED PLAGUE

Waste Land Near Bamako, French West Africa, Will Be Created into a City where 450 Victims of Malady Will Be Housed and Treated.

Paris, Sept. 19.—A city devoted to medical warfare against the plague of leprosy is being created out of waste land near Bamako, French West Africa.

Ultimately 450 victims of the malady will be housed and treated there by a medical staff which will pursue researches into the disease. Some three hundred lepers have already been lodged in the city, construction of which was begun in October, 1933, and is now virtually completed.

By 1937 the new city will comprise four separate sections: A technical division with lodgings for medical men and scientists, both French and foreign, who will study the epidemiology, prophylaxis and therapeutics of the disease; an administrative section, complete with laboratories, pharmacies and offices; a hospital district where contagious cases will be interned and a residence district for lepers admitted to the city under medical supervision but not hospitalized.

The leper-city will also have farms adjoining where the lepers will be encouraged to raise flocks and plant crops.

French West African authorities hope that vast strides in controlling the scourge will reward their efforts in creating the modern leper city at Bamako.

HOLLYWOOD TONGUES SET WAGGING AGAIN BY GARBO

Purchase of Large Estate in Sweden Causes Rumor that Star May Quit Movies and Return to Native Country.

Hollywood, Sept. 19.—Greta Garbo's purchase of a Swedish estate started tongues wagging the question today—is the screen's most famous reclusive planning to quite Hollywood and her career?

No explanation of why she bought the 1,000-acre country place sixty miles south of Stockholm was forthcoming from the actress, now engaged in making her first motion picture of the year, "Camille."

Hollywood recalled Garbo's expressed hesitation last May about building a home on property she had purchased in Beverly Hills "until I have decided when, or if, I shall return to Sweden."

There have been reports for four years that the solitude-seeking actress contemplated the purchase of a Swedish domicile.

QUEBEC CITY LOAN RENEWED AT LOWER RATE

Quebec, Sept. 19.—Renewal at lower interest rate of a $607,000 loan contracted in 1921 to pay for slum clearance was authorized yesterday by the administrative committee of Quebec City. The city borrowed the money to pay the Provincial Government and up until the present it has paid an interest rate of five per cent. By now paying not more than three per cent, it will save $12,000 a year.

"SEARCHING"

Catharine Vaughan.

At dawn He gave me a life
Glorious with bright daybreak,
Into my hands He placed a world
Which I alone could make.

Thus I set out.
At noon the sun was above me,
My path was long but without fear—
There must have been strange voices then,
But voices I could not hear.

Happy, I went on.
At sunset my way was marked
By a faint shadowing of some doubt.
It seemed as tho' I had wandered inward
And there was no way out.

I hesitated—now stop.
Dusk has travelled into darkness,
I am in the City of Dreadful Night—
And tho' I search and grope and reach
Oh God, where is the Light?
Where is the Light?

MANY MATTERS DISCUSSED AT BURY MEETING

Information about Montreal Y.W.C.A. Submitted to Members of Women's Institute at Busy Session—Town Council Held Regular Meeting.

Bury, September 19.—Fourteen members attended the meeting of the Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Lilly McLeod. Mrs. McCintock conducted the meeting, and a very encouraging letter was read from the Montreal Y.W.C.A. after the minutes had been submitted and approved. This letter contained much information in connection with young girls or others wishing to board at, or make use of the many privileges offered by this Association, which has three buildings in Montreal.

The members were informed that groceries had been sent to a needy family last month, apart from fruit and flowers forwarded to the sick. Plans were discussed about the school fair, which will be staged in the local town hall next Thursday, and tiny pins were presented to Mrs. Royal Wilson and Mrs. John Morrow in appreciation of their past services in the Bury Institute. A committee was formed to take charge of the flowers at the gate and vicinity of Memorial Park, while a report was submitted on the last food sale at the Robert Mayhew meat shop, when a very satisfactory sum was added to the treasury.

The roll call was answered by each member giving a recollection of her school days. Some of these memories proved "painful," while others were very comical.

After the meeting had been adjourned, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. McLeod and Miss Ward.

REGULAR SESSION HELD BY TOWN COUNCIL

Mayor Hunt presided over the regular meeting of the Bury Council and those present were Councillors Bennett, Whitehead, McMillan, Smith and Coates, together with the secretary-treasurer, W. H. Armstrong, who presented the minutes of the August meeting, which were approved as read.

A motion was passed requesting the Department of Roads to cut the brush on the sides of the road it maintains, while a petition was forwarded to the County Council asking that it apply for re-instatement of the bounty on bears in this municipality.

The sum of $150, an extra grant, was to be divided among five road districts for additional repairs. Current bills were accepted for payment and routine business transacted before the gathering adjourned.

PRESIDENT ENTERTAINED ST. PAUL'S GUILD

The monthly meeting of St. Paul's Guild was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Cumming, with an average attendance, several visitors coming in at the tea hour. This meeting was to have been held in Memorial Park, but weather conditions were unfavorable.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary and approved, and the afternoon was occupied with routine business. Bills for repairs on the rectory were ordered paid by the finance committee and arrangements were made to remember a member who was leaving for an indefinite time.

The meeting closed with singing the hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." Mrs. Cumming assisted the hostesses for the afternoon in serving lunch.

A $5,000,000 STEEL PLANT TO BE BUILT IN AUSTRALIA

Sir Henry Gullett Declares Several Well-Known Automobile Concerns Expected to Start Manufacture in Australia in Near Future.

Canberra, Australia, Sept. 19.—Sir Henry Gullett, Minister for Trade, announced today in the House of Representatives that a plant designed for the manufacture of steel sheets for motor car bodies would be established in Australia.

He said it would be a £1,000,000 ($5,000,000) plant and would be established by the Armo Company of America in conjunction with the Lysaght Company of Australia.

Sir Henry added: "Several overseas motor corporations enjoying a world-wide reputation are expected to start manufacturing motor cars in Australia in the near future."

THREE RIVERS HAS MILD OUTBREAK OF PARALYSIS

Provincial Health Director Does Not Fear Situation Will Grow More Serious—Twenty Minor Cases Reported in Region.

Quebec, Sept. 19.—A mild epidemic of infantile paralysis prevails in the city and district of Three Rivers at the present time, but it is not believed that the situation will grow more serious, it was learned from Dr. Alphonse Lessard, Provincial Health Director.

There have been slightly over twenty cases recorded in the region in the course of the past two weeks or so, it was learned from the Government health official, who added that, as far as he knew, no fatalities had occurred as a result of the epidemic.

All doctors in the area affected by the dread disease have been given complete instructions as to how to prevent and combat the sickness. Dr. Lessard declared: "Serum for infantile paralysis has been generously distributed by the Government throughout the district of Three Rivers."

EXHUMATION PROVES MAN RIGHT IN DENYING DEATH

Quebec Authorities Finally Concede that Windsor, Ont., Man Knew What He Was Talking About in Denying that He Was Drowned.

Quebec, Sept. 19.—Official confirmation came today from the Attorney-General's Department to show Gaudias Begin, of Windsor, Ont., was quite right when he insisted he still lived, despite reports to the contrary.

Confirmation came in an announcement that a body found in the St. Lawrence River near Cap Sainte-Perthe, was not that of the Windsor printer but Napoleon Lajoie, drowned more than a month ago when he fell from a wharf at Three Rivers.

The body, first identified as that of Begin who has been living in the border city for the last eight years, was buried in a Quebec cemetery. Then the word reached Windsor. Begin denied he was dead. His wife in Quebec believed herself a widow.

Investigation was ordered by the Attorney-General's Department. Exhumation was made yesterday and the body was identified today as that of Lajoie had met death accidentally.

SEVERAL BEARS IN BISHOPTON AND VICINITY

Farmers Worried and Anxious About Large Number of Bears
Marauding Throughout District
—Extra Precautions Being Taken to Protect Farm Animals.

Bishopton, Sept. 19.—Farmers in this vicinity are worried and anxious about the large number of bears marauding throughout this district this season. More strict precautions are being taken to safeguard herds and flocks from the bears, faithful dogs and trusty weapons being used to protect the domestic animals from their feared enemies.

Several farmers have been bears wandering around in their pastures and woods. Joe L'Heureux scared a bruin away recently, while young Lloyd Bishop was startled to see another member of the furry family as he was bringing the cows home.

Mr. and Mrs. Norrey Hunting and two children, Allan and Dorothy, of Lennoxville, were recent Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bishop.

Mrs. Leslie Bennett and two children, little Miss Marion and Master Douglas, have left for their home in Verdun, after spending the summer at Mirror Lake in their cottage. Mr. L. Bennett and Miss Isabel Bennett left about two weeks previous.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith were Messrs. R. L. McIver and Douglas McIver, of Gould, Mrs. Murdoch McDonald and Mr. Hugh McDonald, of Scotch Weeden, Mr. and Mrs. Cullen, of Lowell, Mass., Mrs. D. Morrison, of Timmons, Ont., Messrs. Jack and Paul Morrison, of Port Arthur, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McRae and two children, Miriam and Neil, of Scots-town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jamieson and three children, Annie, Ruth and Lloyd, of La Tuque, Mrs. Leamonth and Mr. J. McLean, of East Angus, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bentley were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Squire, Weeden.

Miss Blanche Willard, of Wollaston, Mass., is a guest of her cousin, Mrs. D. L. Gilbert, and Mr. Gilbert. Mr. Stuart Joyce is spending some time at the home of Mr. Fred Hooker.

Mrs. Grant Drennan, of Cookshire, is a guest of her father, Mr. T. E. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Robert have returned from their wedding trip and have moved into Mrs. L. Shore's house.

Miss Madeline Vachon spent a week-end with her parents, Mr. Henri Vachon, M.P., and Mrs. Vachon, Garthby.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church would kindly thank the party or parties who deliberately unlocked their large cupboard in the town hall if they will please

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest R. Hooker were recent Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kidd, Wesleyville. Lt.-Col. and Mrs. L. J. Gilbert, Mrs. L. Baragrin and Mrs. Frank Cooke were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stormy, Asbestos.

Mrs. Abbie Willard, of Lennoxville, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bloomfield.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gilbert were recent guests of Mrs. Jennie Dean, Lennoxville.

The many friends of Mr. Fred R. Hooker will be sorry to learn he is quite ill again and all wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Horace Ainsworth and Miss Olive Ainsworth were in Hatley recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Porter and family have moved into Mr. Fred Bishop's house, lately vacated by Dr. and Mrs. Elliott and family.

Mrs. Herbert H. Scowen and the Misses Marjorie Scowen and Betty Beaumont motored to Montreal recently and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Scowen.

Miss Irma Gilbert was in Danville recently calling on Miss Florence Gilbert.

Miss Florence Bishop, of Sawmills, was in town on Wednesday to attend the Ainsworth-Harrison wedding.

Mrs. Watkins, of East Angus, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gilbert entertained a few friends at a social evening in honor of Mr. Gilbert's mother, Mrs. H. F. Gilbert, the occasion being her birthday. At the close of the evening, lunch was served.

The Ladies' Aid salad tea in the L.O.O.F. hall was a decided success, taking into consideration the rainy afternoon and many other social attractions being held in nearby places, including the induction of the minister, Rev. C. Gilbert, of Bury, which prevented many members from attending. A few went over after they had tea. The tables were very attractive with many autumn flowers. The hall was tastefully trimmed with pink, white, green and yellow streamers, which presented a very festive appearance. Many compliments were given the ladies, not only for the delicious supper, but also for their efficient service in serving.

The ladies serving were Mrs. R. C. Rolfe, Mrs. Annie MacKay, Mrs. Eugene McKenzie, Mrs. William Bentley, Mrs. Oscar Joyce, Miss Estelle Joyce, Mrs. Bessie Bishop, Mrs. A. B. W. Skinner, Mrs. Angus Smith, Mrs. J. H. Beaumont, Mrs. Henry Kinney, Miss Evelyn Rolfe, Mrs. W. Baxter, Mr. M. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Bishop acting as treasurers. Mrs. de Gruchy, the president, received the guests. The proceeds were very satisfactory, and the Ladies' Aid wishes to thank all who contributed and assisted so generously in making the tea such a success.

Miss Alice Willard, of Marlborough, was a tea guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gilbert on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Joyce were dinner guests of Mrs. M. Newman one day recently.

CONFINED TO HOSPITAL WITH FRACTURED FOOT.
Suffering from a fractured right foot, Leo Lavenderie, thirty-three years of age, is confined to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital today. Lavenderie, who lives at 94b Laurier avenue, fell to the sidewalk on Wellington street south last night while engaged on a scuffle. Lord's ambulance was summoned and took the victim to the hospital, where it was discovered that his right foot had been fractured.

LARGE REGISTRATION AT BISHOP'S UNIVERSITY.
Indications are that there will be a marked increase in student attendance this coming academic year at Bishop's University.

Registration in all faculties commences at ten o'clock on Monday morning, September 21st when freshmen students from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and other points will make their first official contact with the University.

YOU STILL HAVE A CHANCE TO WIN A SPARTAN
There is still time to share in the drawing for an absolutely new "Spartan" radio. Tonight at ten o'clock at Keeler & Cross' store a drawing of the Daily Record will draw the number that spells good fortune for the lucky owner. Meantime every person visiting the store will be given a ticket entitling him to participate in the event. The name of the winner will be announced tonight.

JUNIOR Y.M.C.A. LEADERS ENJOYED CORN ROAST
The Y.M.C.A. Junior Leaders were right royally entertained by Mrs. George Barfield at "Sous Magog." After a swim, probably their last "dip" this season, games were played and later came the corn roast, the greatest treat of an evening filled with interest and amusement for the hostess' youthful guests.

B. Peak was in charge of a short business session, when new leaders were selected. Sing-songs brought the pleasant party to a close, the boys giving three cheers for their kind hostess, before singing "God Save the King."

WHITE HOUSE PAVILION
Lucien Dugre, the well-known manager of the White House, Sherbrooke's most popular summer dance spot has an important announcement to make.

Mr. Dugre has installed a furnace in the White House and dancing will continue until well into November. The temperature will be kept at a summer level so that every Saturday night the dancers of the Townships may have a place to go themselves and entertain their friends.

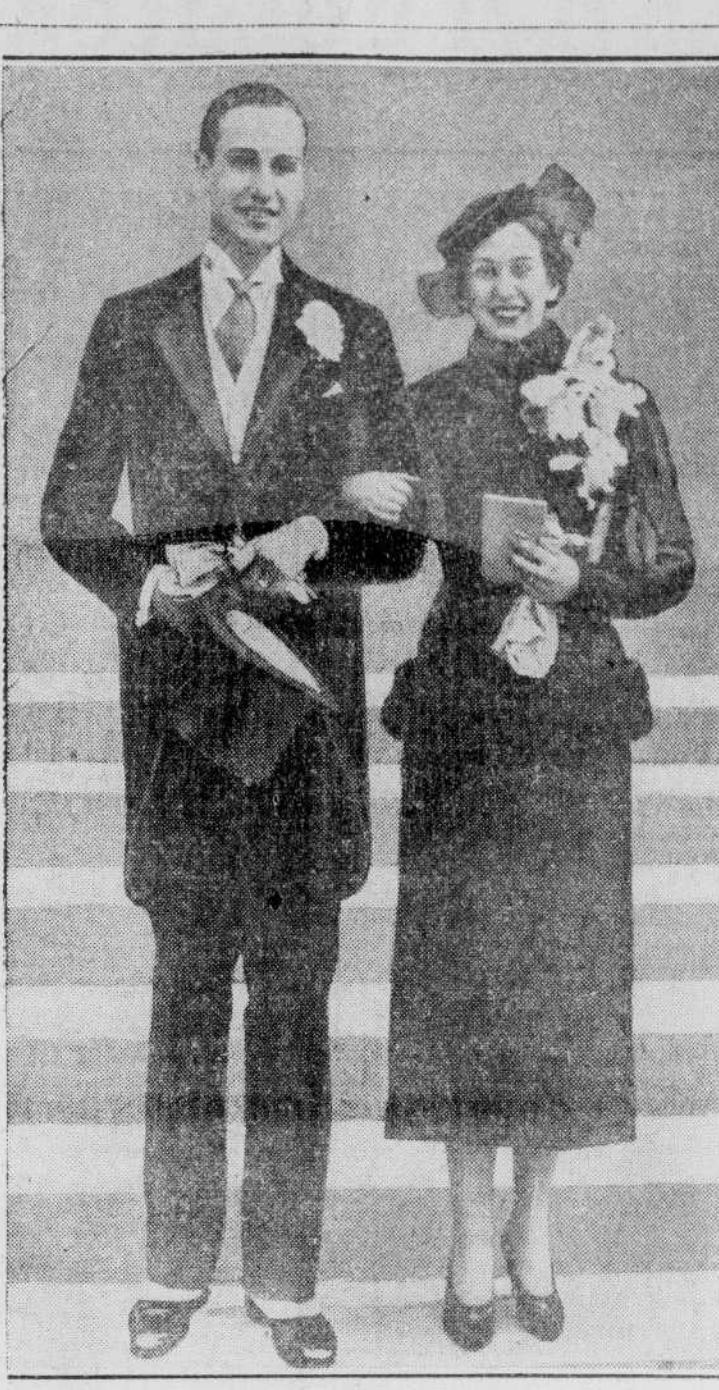

Mr. Dugre, by this move, has filled a much needed gap in the amusements of the city. Before a furnace had been installed it was impossible to dance comfortably until the winter season came and the dance halls in town opened. Now at the White House Mr. Dugre has combined the comforts of a large well-equipped pavilion with the heat of big city night clubs.

From now on there will be dancing on Saturday nights only, therefore don't give up the pleasure that you have enjoyed all summer.

ASCOT W.I. ENJOYED ADDRESS AND DEMONSTRATION
Features of outstanding interest at the largely attended September meeting of the Ascot Women's Institute at Mrs. Marlin's home yesterday afternoon were Miss McRobert's able address on the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada and Mrs. L. Littlejohn's excellent demonstration on rug making. Much business was also accomplished by the members during yesterday's session, including the appointment of Mrs. F. R. Mitchell, Mrs. J. A. Woodward, Mrs. D. Byrne and Mrs. Woodside as a committee to take charge of the ploughman's banquet, for which it was decided to ask each member for a small donation.

Mrs. Cox reported progress with improvements at the school office and Mrs. J. L. Robinson gave an account of the album quilt, which

CANADIAN GIRL WEDS ITALIAN MARQUIS

The Marquis Ricciardo Guidi di Bagno, attache to the Italian Embassy in Paris, and his bride, formerly Miss Andrée Dupre, of Westmount, leaving the Church of Notre Dame d'Auteuil, Paris, after their marriage. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Dupre and the late Yvon Dupre, of Westmount, and granddaughter of the late Hon. Alphonse Dupre, while the bridegroom is a son of the Marquis Guido di Bagno, of Florence, Italy.

upon completion will be auctioned. The prize winners in the keenly contested exhibits at the Sherbrooke Fair were warmly congratulated by their fellow members in the W. I. After deciding to hold the October meeting on October 8th at the home of Mr. Walter Brown, the date being changed on account of the ploughing match and banquet, the roll call brought the interesting and busy meeting to a close.

"Hints for the Care of Gardens in Autumn" were most helpfully given in answer to the September roll call. During the afternoon a goodly number of baskets of vegetables were brought in as donations to the V. O. N.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Marlin, Mrs. Swinden and Mrs. Ashe, who were assisted in looking after the large number of members by the Misses B. and M. Marlin.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH.
The coroner's inquest conducted by Comdas Bachand into the death of Bernard Juneau, Norton Ham traffic officer, resulted in a verdict of accidental death being returned. Juneau suffered a fractured skull on his way home after investigating a minor collision and died in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital.

Witnesses told the coroner's jury that they believed Juneau's motorcycle had struck a stone on the slippery road and that the traffic officer had lost control of his machine. The inquest was held in North Ham, where his wife and two children are left to mourn the unfortunate victim.

PREMIER DUPLESSIS MAY ATTEND CONVENTION BANQUET HERE.
Sherbrooke is to be the locale for an important convention on Tuesday and Wednesday next when several hundred delegates of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada will assemble here for their annual meeting, which is to culminate in a banquet on Wednesday evening at which Premier Maurice Duplessis, Hon. Johnny Bourque, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. Joseph Bilodeau, Minister of Trade and Commerce, are expected to be guests-of-honor.

Lucien Hebert, president of the Sherbrooke district branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada told the Record this morning that it was certain the two ministers would be present, although as yet Premier Duplessis had not stated definitely whether he could be in Sherbrooke on that date.

Between six and seven hundred merchants are expected to attend the two-day convention. Morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the Catholic Synagogue Building on Gordon street. On Tuesday evening there will be a supper and entertainment at the Tuque Rouge Club.

Wednesday will be devoted almost entirely to business meetings, with the election of officers scheduled for the afternoon. The banquet at the New Sherbrooke House on Wednesday evening will mark the conclusion of the convention.

The local executive committee, which is supervising the arrangements for the convention, is composed of Lucien Hebert, O. U. Legier, Charles Stenson, Louis Codere and Oscar Nault, S. E. Desmarais, of Richmond, is president of the Quebec section and R. Messier, Montreal, is secretary.

There are about four hundred delegates in the St. Lawrence valley, extending from the Philippines to the tip of Bernece.

The bright young thing came down to breakfast very late. "Good morning, daddy," she said gaily. "How much are you going to give me for my trousseau?"

Father looked up from his paper. "Trousseau?" he snorted. "But I didn't even know you were engaged."

"Goodness," replied the modern daughter, "don't you ever read the papers?"

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Johnston, who have been guests for a week of Mrs. J. H. Brvant, Bowen avenue south, left this morning for their home in Peacedale, Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moorcroft and Miss Dorothy Mathins, of Cromwell, Conn., are guests of the former's sisters, the Misses Moorcroft, Island street.

The Right Rev. Philip Carrington, Lord Bishop of Quebec, and Dean Crawford, are in Toronto attending important conferences of the House of Bishops and other meetings of the Anglican Church convening next week in the Queen City.

Mr. Malcolm Turner is arriving from Shawinigan Falls today to spend the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner, Victoria street. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and daughter, also of Shawinigan Falls, will be guests for the week-end at the same home.

Mrs. H. K. Starnes, her son, Mr. John Starnes, and Mrs. W. S. McCutcheon and their daughter, Miss Martha, who have been visiting their mother, Mrs. F. N. McCrea, Melbourne street, for a week, returned yesterday to their respective homes in Montreal.

Among the guests from out-of-town who are here today to attend the MacLeay-Russell wedding are Mr. and Mrs. R. T. MacLeay, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. MacLeay and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith, all of Montreal; Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Pope, of Binghamton, N.Y., and Mrs. G. V. MacLeay, of Richmond, and Mrs. B. Weed, of Melbourne, Que.

The reception given by the congregation of the Baptist Church in honor of their new pastor, Rev. J. A. Milligan, and Mrs. Milligan, in the church hall on Wednesday evening was an unusually pleasant social event. Always an attractive, home-like spot, the spacious hall looked most inviting for this special occasion with its baskets and tall standards of glowing hellebore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hunter received with Mr. and Mrs. Milligan and introduced many members of the congregation who had not heretofore had that pleasure. Later Mr. Leo Liddell gave an address of welcome on behalf of the church members, Mr. Milligan making a happy and suitable reply.

Interspersed with the pleasant social intercourse was an informal musical programme. Mrs. George Oester, being the guest soloist, with Mrs. Fred Browne presiding at the piano. During the evening delectable refreshments were served. Mrs. A. E. Willis and Mrs. James Byrd presiding at the table, which looked lovely with its center of marigolds and corn flowers in a silver basket and matching tapers in silver holders.

An unusually enjoyable and successful card party was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cillis, Belvidere Road, under the auspices of the Belvidere Women's Institute. Five hundred was played at eight tables, the prizes being won by Mrs. John MacDonald and Miss Gladys Riff. The hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by Miss Claire Frappier and Miss Audrey Elliott, sister of the guest of honor. During the evening the bride-elect was presented with a number of lovely cups and saucers, drawing the daintily wrapped parcels from a fish pond, which was attractively decorated with evergreens.

A pleasing interlude occurred when Miss F. I. Drummond presented Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pack, who are leaving shortly to reside in Montreal, with an electric percolator from their "Friends in Belvidere."

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the delightful party. Mrs. W. Dobb, Mrs. W. Ellis, Mrs. Wearne and Mrs. Irvin Smith assisting.

RADIO GIVES ENTERTAINMENT AND COMPANIONSHIP TO WHOLE FAMILY

No Home Can Afford to Be without This Modern Essential which Brings the World to One's Door—Radio Has Rendered Splendid Service to Humanity Aiding in Rescue Work in Air, on the Sea and in Remote Parts—Works of Great Composers Available with Easy Turn of the Dial.

In 1901 Guglielmo Marconi started the world with trans-Atlantic wireless communication. Thirty-five years later the world finds radio one of the greatest industries of the present age. As great as radio is today, and despite the remarkable trend which it has made it, is even now but on the threshold of even greater achievements which the future is certain to bring.

The value of radio to the world cannot be measured. The amusement, enjoyment and instruction which it affords cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

When one visits one of the modern radio shops it is startling to see the many types and models of radio which grace these establishments. No home is complete today without its radio for it is a constant companion and friend. Truly a radio is more than an instrument. It is something which has a part to play on almost any occasion.

What greater source of satisfaction is there when one is alone than to have the companionship of a radio which brings the world, its people and their doings right into one's home. When friends gather and dancing is the order of the day radio is ready to provide music of the world's greatest orchestras.

Lovers of classical music, the operas and the immortal compositions, which will remain so long as time endures, can by turn of the dial, drink deep of the charm of the works of famous composers.

Children as well as the adults can share in this great benefit and asset to human nature. Interesting and instructive programmes are provided for the younger element in a wide range of subjects which cannot fail to capture the youthful fancy. It is through the medium of radio that the world is drawn together as would be possible through no other source.

It is by radio that Canada is drawn to the very heart of the Empire, as well as to the other dominions. The provinces of this far-flung Dominion seem the nearer because radio tells what the people are doing and what they are thinking. Truly radio is the voice of the world.

It is because of radio that the British Empire is permitted to meet as one great and united family each Christmas Day to hear the voice and listen to the message of His Majesty the King as he speaks to his peoples.

Radio is also performing another great service. It is not only as a means of entertainment and amusement that radio is fulfilling its purpose. Radio is an agent of service and of mercy. Many lives have been saved because the word of disaster in the air and on sea or in remote parts have been flashed to the world by radio and rescue was rushed to those in need in sufficient time to relieve suffering and to prevent death.

Sick people at home and in hospitals, the crippled, aged and infirm have found unlimited solace and comfort from radio. Church services have been brought to those who were prevented from attending worship in churches, while people in secluded places and far from the contact of daily life with their fellow-men have turned to it in their lonely hours.

It would be impossible to outline all the benefits which radio have afforded. It has become so deeply impressed in the world's daily life and existence that people frequently lose its real value and significance. Radio is one of those great assets which make life pleasanter and happier. It is an aid to mankind.

The Queen Mary has 528 electric motors to supply her power.

RADIO EXPERT AVAILABLE AT H. C. WILSON'S

William Howard, of RCA Victor Company, Montreal, Taking Charge of Radio-Service Department of Local Firm.

From now on at H. C. Wilson and Sons, Limited, you will not only be able to obtain a radio with magic voice, magic tone, magic brain, but you will also receive "Magic Service" when your radio needs to be put in good order.

William Howard, "Expert Radio-trician," from RCA Victor, now in charge of the radio service at H. C. Wilson and Sons, Limited.

This morning we had occasion to meet William Howard, of the radio service department, accompanied by the president of the company, Leunox Wilson, Mr. Howard, who speaks both languages, consented to tell us of his experience.

He entered the service of the RCA Victor Company, of Montreal, in 1928, at the time the manufacture of radio receiving sets was a small industry, employing a small number of persons. To the practical knowledge which he acquired during his work, Mr. Howard has added technical studies during the evenings. His progress was very rapid. He passed through all the departments of the factory and this year became the final inspector of Victor Radios. His service was for the benefit of the users, being to find possible defects in the products and to compare their merits with the many other machines on the market and to suggest improvements.

These comparisons and studies gave him a perfect knowledge of all the different makes in use. Frequently he had to go back several years to study the older models to see if there were any parts which could be included advantageously in the new machines. As a result, Mr. Howard can dismantle any radio from the antique "peanut" radio to the present "all-wave" sets, and reassemble them in perfect condition after having found the trouble.

Mr. Wilson has expressed his satisfaction at obtaining the services of such a competent man and promises the public the most efficient as well as the most rapid and courteous service that is obtainable.

Consider the great RCA Victor trademark... the symbol of quality for radio and all sound equipment. One part of the trademark is RCA—the organization from which has come practically every major advance in radio. The other part is Victor—with a thirty-five year reputation for quality musical instruments. The combination of these two great names gives you the assurance that you will get the best—the most modern in radio. Instruments designed, tried and tested by the greatest corps of engineers in the industry.

RCA Victor is known the world over for radio leadership. Visit the great theatres and their sound equipment is RCA Victor. Gigantic radio stations broadcast over RCA Victor equipment, ships at sea place the safety of their passengers in the RCA radio equipment. Throughout the whole field of science, whether in broadcasting or reception or sound-reproduction, you will find RCA and Victor holding leadership.

RCA is the only organization that makes everything, from the microphone in the studio, to the receiving set in the home. That is what is behind the marvellous new sets which RCA Victor now offers you. Only RCA Victor resources could have produced such quality instruments at such reasonable prices... Radio's greatest values!

HAY FEVER VICTIM GETS 10,000 PAPER HANDKERCHIEFS
Badney Rapp, whose New Englanders orchestra is heard over 500,000-watt WLW and the Mutual Broadcasting System, received a large package from friends in his home town, New Haven, Conn.

When Rapp opened the package he found 10,000 paper handkerchiefs! Rapp, like many others, is a victim of hay fever. His orchestra is heard from the Roof Garden of Cincinnati's Hotel Gibson.

ENJOYS GOING THROUGH OLD WARDROBE TRUNKS
In his spare moments, William E. Green, WLW actor, enjoys going through his old wardrobe trunks. He was for many years on the stage and has most of his old costumes.

CHOICE MODELS AVAILABLE IN MARCONI SETS

World Capitals Brought to One's Home by Use of Marconi Sets which Are Being Offered with Many New and Novel Attractions.

In the Hector Lanctot Store a complete range of Marconi Radios are in readiness for public inspection and courteous salesmen are eager to explain the various features which the Marconi firm has devised for these popular sets.

In 1901, Guglielmo Marconi started the world with trans-Atlantic wireless communication. Thirty-five years later the great organization which he built and still guides not only operates world-wide transmission services, but creates and manufactures radio apparatus of all kinds.

Marconi transmitters and receivers, two-way telephones, depth sounding and safety devices, beacon equipment for waterways and sliveways are but a few of the products that bear the first and greatest name in radio.

Today the world capitals are made next door neighbors through the medium of these famed radios. Marconi Radios lay claim to affording the world's greatest radio entertainment value. There are an unusually large choice of sets offered, which are made in sizes to suit all rooms or buildings.

The new type Marconi radio receivers are equipped with genuine Marconi RVC metal or glass radio-tubes which will give truer tone, longer life and greater entertainment value.

Marconi Radios also noted for the perfection, yet special attention has also been given to the appearance. They are an ornament for the home as well as an essential part of the daily routine of home life.

which completely alter all previous conceptions of radio performance. What you hear on these New World Cruisers is complete orchestration blended as perfectly as on the stage of the studio itself. The music is in the room not pouring out of the grille. The ringing resonance of the violin or the bass viol is mystifying. The bell like clarity of the piano or harp is undistinguishable from the actual instrument, and soprano as well as the lowest bass voices are for the first time as natural as the living tone.

The name Westinghouse stands for service, endurance and quality and owners everywhere are thoroughly well pleased with their Westinghouse sets and eager to recommend them to their friends and those who are anxious to have a set of the highest quality and sweetest tone.

McCORMICK'S PUT "QUEERIOSITY" PROGRAMME ON NETWORK

Last Spring Canadian audiences were told in their approval of McCORMICK'S novel programme "Queeriosities"—a quarter hour devoted to short dramatizations of oddities in the week's news, written by the capable Rupert Caplan.

This fall, Toronto, London and Ottawa will be added, with a second Montreal and Quebec station carrying a French version of the same programme. Times are: CRCT, Toronto and CFPL, London, 6:45 Sunday; CFCF, Montreal, and CFCO, Ottawa, 7:30 Sunday, beginning Sunday, September 20th; CKAC, Montreal, and CHRC, Quebec, 7:30 Friday, beginning September 25th. The programmes will continue for fifteen weeks.

A contest will run in conjunction with the "Queeriosities" programme—with seven weekly cash prizes—and a grand prize of a free trip on the "Queen Mary" to the Coronation in England.

PHILCO OFFERS MANY FEATURES TO ITS OWNERS

Famous Philco Inclined Sounding Board is but One of the New Attractions which Make This Popular Radio Set So Much in Demand.

The popular Philco radios, which are handled in Sherbrooke by Ross-Biron Electric Limited and by Arthur Blouin, are featuring the famous Philco inclined sounding board, which is regarded as the greatest single advance in scientific sound reproduction.

Every Philco is designed, engineered and built to the same high standard of quality. Whether visible or invisible, every part must conform to standards of quality which know no compromise.

It is this insistence on perfection, plus its exact matching and balancing of each feature with all others that distinguishes Philco and makes it truly "A Musical Instrument of Quality."

The Philco foreign tuning system is an integral part of every domestic and foreign Philco. By tuning the aerial as you tune the set . . . the new 1937 Philco foreign tuning system more than doubles the number of foreign stations you can get and enjoy.

Foreign stations are named and located on the new Philco color dial . . . the visible symbol of the Philco foreign tuning system. Back of the dial is a completely automatic unit . . . centered around the Philco aerial selector which automatically balances built-in transformers to maintain maximum sensitivity on the wave-band being tuned. As you shift from one tuning range to another . . . this aerial selector tunes the aerial to the frequencies you want to hear!

Through the adoption of the Philco foreign tuning system, operation between foreign stations has been considerably increased . . . from as much as fifty per cent. on the 3510 models to six times greater separation on the 3116X De Luxe model. This heightened selectivity, as well as the increased selectivity achieved through the Philco foreign system, give foreign reception with amazing volume, clarity and realism.

The expertly engineered foreign tuning system is connected by a completely shielded lead-in to the new Philco high-efficiency aerial . . . scientifically designed to pick up the faintest signals . . . and pass them on to the other sensitive circuits with the minimum of loss.

The Philco high-fidelity system with its vastly extended musical range, gives the most faithful, lifelike reproduction of speech and music. All voices, all musical instruments reach you with the overtones that identify and distinguish them. Its power output covers the full range from the faintest whisper to the thunderous finale of the greatest symphony orchestra.

Acoustic clarifiers automatically eliminate unpleasant barrel-like boom. A specially designed high-fidelity speaker reproduces high treble and low bass notes without distortion, even at auditorium volume.

The large area and slope of the famous Philco inclined sounding board preserve and project up to ear level all this extended musical range and clarity of tone . . . while wide angle sound diffusers spread the most delicate over-tones throughout the room.

ANNOUNCERS GATHERED FROM MANY QUARTERS

From Virtually All Parts of the United States and from England Have Come the Men Who Daily Inform Radio Listeners About Programmes.

From virtually all parts of the United States and from England have come the men who daily tell you "This is the Nation's Station." A recent survey of the seventeen WLW announcers revealed that sixteen came from twelve states and the seventeenth from England.

James Leonard, who comes from Tennessee, compiled a few statistics recently and he learned that—

Missouri gave to the Nation's Station Chief Announcer Peter Grant, News Commentator Paul Sullivan and Charles Gussman.

New York is the birth place of Sydney Mason and Ralph Simpson. Red Barber, sports announcer, comes from Mississippi; James S. Alderman from Texas; Douglas Browning and Don Corday were born in Ohio; James Gordon claims Louisiana as his native state; Al Heifer first saw the light of day in Pennsylvania; Durward Kirby was born in Kentucky; William C. Robbins is a Hoosier; Tom Slater comes from West Virginia and John Barry hails from Maine.

H. Gilbert Martyn claims the distinction of coming the greatest distance to announce over WLW. He was born in Leeds, England.

The doctor was making his rounds in the hospital, accompanied by ten students. He stopped at the bed of a bookmaker. After explaining the nature of the man's complaint, he asked the students whether they thought it needed an operation.

Each of the students said "No." "You are all wrong," said the doctor. "I am going to operate." The bookmaker sat up in bed and shouted, "Oh, no you're not; it's ten to one against!"

The class had been dismissed, but young Freddie, who had neglected to do his home work, had been told to remain behind.

"Well, Smith," said the teacher sternly, "what excuse have you to offer for not doing your French lessons last night?"

Freddie looked very thoughtful. Suddenly his face lit up. "To tell the truth, sir," he said confidently, "my throat was so sore that I could hardly speak English."

Many New Features Predominate 1937 Radios

RED BARBER IS TO RESUME HIS SPORTS REVIEW

Radio's Ace Sports Announcer Will Be Heard Thrice Weekly and Possibly Six Times with His "Football Resume" Beginning October 1.

Red Barber, radio's ace sports announcer, will be heard over 500,000-watt WLW thrice weekly and possibly six times with his "Football Resume" beginning October 1. Recognized as one of the nation's outstanding sports authorities and commentators, Barber also will describe the Notre Dame football games this season for the Nation's Station. His resume will be heard from 6:30 to 6:45 p.m., E.S.T., Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays and probably daily except Sunday.

Coming to WLW over two years ago Barber has carved his name in radio's hall of fame as a sports announcer. He and Bob Elson of WGN, Chicago, did the World Series last year for the Mutual network. Last season and in 1934 Barber handled the Ohio State football games for WLW.

Barber has been describing the Cincinnati Reds' baseball games daily over WSAI, sister station to WLW, and WHIO, Dayton, Ohio. His knowledge of baseball, football, polo and other sports qualifies him in the ranks of experts and frequently Barber is called upon to give opinions of various plays.

MUCH SOUGHT-AFTER TEACHER

Richard Rondelli, the "Queen's Minister" heard over WLW, has received several letters from voice students asking that he teach them.

Chemists have succeeded in producing, artificially, the blue-green light of fireflies, but one lumen-hour of light costs $25.

RADIO PROVING GREAT COMFORT TO MOTORISTS

Latest World News, Sporting Events and Latest Dance Music May Be Enjoyed as One Sallies Forth on Business or Pleasure Jaunt.

With radio entertainment reaching a new peak in efficiency and value, automobile radios are playing an increasingly important part in the radio world of today.

The old troubles of reception are being eliminated and now it is possible to obtain the same reception in your car that you would have from your own set in your home.

These new automobile radios are complete with all controls and aerial. The motor is equipped with an interference eliminator and a large electro dynamic speaker gives extra power and a sparkling tone.

These new radios are invaluable to the man who uses his automobile extensively and who enjoys hearing the latest world news, the sporting events or peppy dance music while he is travelling.

Today these radios may be secured at a lower price than ever before, and they are certain to give full value for the money, as well as entertainment and lasting quality.

"NO STOOP" TO NEW DEFOREST-CROSEY SETS

"The Comet" is one of the outstanding DeForest-Crosley products. But this is only one. There are many other sets to select from.

The DeForest-Crosley Radios are simple to operate, having only two controls instead of five. There is also a larger tuning light, new beam-light vernier control, new rounded sloping panel and other special features to make the sets attractive and more efficient.

To see one of these radios is sufficient to be captivated by its attractiveness. It has an appeal all its own and its makers and dealers are confident that in offering the various DeForest-Crosley radios to the public generally they have an article which will live up to the splendid record of service which characterizes and features the name DeForest-Crosley.

RADIO "FLEET" IS ENJOYING GREAT FAVOR

Popular Sets Designed by Northern Electric Contain Proficiency in Every Function and Are Carefully Planned in Design.

Northern Electric, pioneers in every form of sound transmission, reception and reproduction, proudly presents to the public its new "Fleet" of radio receivers as the outcome of patient research and experimentation.

The immense resources of laboratory and factory experience have produced a set which Northern Electric regards as an outstanding achievement.

Featured in this "Fleet" series are such outstanding sets as the "Queen Mary," the "Normandie," the "Empress of Britain," the "Europa" and many other equally as attractive models.

Northern Electric this year offers in its radio receivers two great improvements which mean less noise, less interference, less disturbance of your standard broadcast and short-wave programmes. Automatic noise suppression eliminates the annoying hissing and crackling so frequently heard on short-wave and standard broadcast programmes. Improved image ratio (which is the elimination of the annoying recurrence of station images on other than the correct tuning position) eliminates the annoying code and other interference from all the short-wave bands. The two together make reception more noise-free than ever before.

Levesque, Limited, and Oscar Trudeau are local representatives for the Northern Electric. Equipped with a complete line of these outstanding radios, these dealers will be pleased to show the public the many advantages which their set have to offer and to assist buyers in any way possible to acquire a Northern Electric radio which has satisfied thousands of owners. The Northern Electric is noted as being "Superior in Sound."

Make Your Home Pleasant With A Radio

RADIO COMPANY TO LAUNCH HUGE PUBLICITY PLAN

Rogers-Majestic and DeForest Crosley Announce Sensational Campaign Under F. A. Trestail Newly-Appointed Advertising Manager.

Coincident with the announcement of the appointment of F. A. Trestail as advertising manager of Rogers-Majestic Corporation, Ltd., DeForest Crosley Ltd., and affiliated merchandising companies, comes the announcement from these corporations of the most gigantic and intensive merchandising drive ever conducted in the radio industry in Canada.

The backbone and chief merchandising medium of the campaign will be the daily and weekly newspapers throughout Canada from coast to coast. As many as twenty pages of newspaper advertising copy will appear in some cities during the next six weeks. Full-pages will appear regularly in every major centre, supported by dealer advertising of half-page and full-page size, and featuring Rogers, DeForest Crosley and Majestic Radios, supplementing and supporting the national campaign.

F. A. Trestail, director of sales, service and advertising for Rogers-Majestic Corporation Ltd., DeForest Crosley Ltd., and affiliated merchandising companies, stated that the launching of this campaign reflected the optimism of the company and its management in the return of business to a much more normal state. "Every indication thus far this season," said B. A. Trestail, "points definitely to a revival of buying interest on the part of the public. There are over one million radios in Canada, of which over half a million are totally obsolete and should be replaced; and almost another half million that will be obsolete within a year or two. This vast replacement market, entirely aside from the new market, will tax the capacity of the radio industry to its utmost, if the desire and the demand can be stimulated. It is because of our conviction that this can be done that we are spending this huge amount during the next six weeks and this expenditure will be followed by a secondary campaign of almost equal proportions shortly thereafter.

"That our convictions and expectations are not mere idle hope is evidenced by the fact that for the months of June, July and August, 1936, our total sales show an increase of over one hundred per cent. above the corresponding months last year; and our six month period, from the beginning of our fiscal year, April 1 until August 31, not only shows a corresponding increase, but for the first time in the history of our company, during its entire twelve years, even including the boom period, we show a substantial net operating profit for this period.

"So active is the market and essential the necessity for intensive concentration, that whereas heretofore we have journeyed across Canada in the fall at our leisure, holding sales meetings, this year we will hold sales conventions in Winnipeg and Vancouver, two days apart, and be back in Toronto within a week of the time of leaving by

WHITE RATS GAVE SOUND EFFECT IN RADIO BATTLE

When the "Waterfront Wayside" script called for a fight between a king cobra snake and mongoose, Chief Sound Technician Don Winget Jr., tried several mechanical devices but to no avail.

Finally he obtained a pair of untamed white rats that squealed when touched. The rats furnished realistic sound effects but not for long. Members of the cast began to pet them and in a few hours they were tame.

"More good sound effects gone," sighed Winget as he explained that untamed white rats will squeal when touched, but they are easily tamed.

utilizing aeroplane service.

"Our company does between twenty-five and thirty per cent. of all the radio business in Canada, and it requires concentrated production and merchandising effort to fill the demand during the peak season, just starting."

F. A. Trestail assumed his duties as advertising manager on September 1, and will take over active charge of the current campaign. He has successfully filled the positions of advertising manager of the former Williams Piano Company, Musical Merchandise, Sales Company, Brunswick-Balke Collander Company of Canada, Q.R.S. Canadian Corporation Limited, The R. S. Williams Company, Limited and now Rogers-Majestic Corporation Limited, DeForest Crosley Limited, and affiliated merchandising companies. His headquarters will be in Toronto.

MAJESTIC AND ROGERS OFFER NEW PLEASURES

Many New Engineering Advancements Are Embodied in 1937 Rogers-Majestic which Truly Live Up to Splendid Reputation of This Widely-Known Firm.

Echenberg Bros. are local distributors for the famous Rogers-Majestic Radios which have built for themselves an enviable reputation for quality, service and efficiency.

The outstanding, hereditary Majestic quality of distinctive cabinet design and colorful tone are greatly enhanced in the new 1937 Dreadnought Series of Majestic Radios by the following new features:

1. The new Majestic "Kleer-Vue" "Strate-Line" dial.
 2. New engineering developments for the control of static and interference noises, as well as variable adjustment of same to suit the peculiarities of each locality.
 3. Infinitely greater capacity for short-wave reception and precision logging of short-wave stations.
- The new "Kleer-Vue" "Strate-Line" tuning dial is but one of the numerous features of the new Rogers-Majestic Radios. This eliminates stooping or squatting as was necessary when locating a station on old sets.

A further improvement in these 1937 de luxe models is the simplicity of operation for the layman by accomplishing even better results than last season, with only three controls instead of six. All of the features of last season's sets have been retained, including high fidelity, but the sensitivity and selectivity have both been greatly improved. This particular model only has a special noise suppression control, plus an adjustable "noise reducer" (in back of cabinet) which reduces to a minimum man-made static and gives absolute silent inter-station tuning.

The new type of anti-fading automatic volume control is more effective, plus a continuous variable type of tone control. However, the most amazing improvements which can actually be demonstrated are (1) new vernier drive control which has a ratio of about 150 to 1—prevents any "back lash," simplifies the tuning of short-wave stations and (2) the "beam-lite" scale which this vernier drive operates giving for the first time accurate logging of short-wave stations and (3) a startling new high-fidelity speaker, measuring 15 inches in diameter, constructed so as to absorb the deep booming which in the past has been amplified by the cabinet.

The new Rogers-Majestic radios are truly a work of art, but it is only by demonstration that the many new engineering advancements of these sets can be fully appreciated.

"JOHNSON FAMILY" BACK ON AIR WITH NEW SERIES

Scribner's "Johnson Family" Has Earned Title of "Radio's Greatest One-Man Show."

Radio's greatest one-man show, the "Johnson Family," has returned to the air for a new series of programmes to be heard daily except Sunday from 6 to 6:15 p.m., E.S.T.

Created by Jimmy Scribner, the "Johnson Family" is rated as one of the most popular and entertaining programmes over the Nation's Station the past several months.

Papa, Mama, Lucy, Pee Wee and the many other characters have become real in the hearts of millions of listeners. When Jimmy issued a special edition of the Chicago newspaper a few months ago and offered it, he received more than 30,000 letters a week. It was necessary to print several extra thousand copies to take care of the many requests.

Scribner's "Johnson Family" rightfully has earned the title of "radio's greatest one-man show" in that he writes his own scripts and presents his shows. He has developed the knack of changing voices in such rapid manner that he can produce the effect of two distinct persons talking, almost simultaneously.

$20⁰⁰ Extra Value in this New 1937 Mighty Monarch of the Air

Majestic RADIO

HERE is amazing value! Eight-tube performance with six Metal Spray tubes including 2 Dual-Purpose tubes! Three wave bands! Double short-wave performance! All in this beautiful Majestic—"The Hood". Only Majestic engineering genius could give you this great engineering triumph and only Majestic can offer it at such sweeping savings.

Like all Majestic sets which "Circle the Globe", "The Hood" tuning dial covers the entire broadcast band, amateur, police and the five recognized short-wave bands.

"The Hood" comes in a beautiful Moderne cabinet. Foreign and short-wave stations are tuned in clearer and easier, logging is much more accurate. Aeroplane dial, with "Resonance Light" above the dial, shows when set is tuned to resonance of stations. A new type 10" speaker gives truer, more life-like reproduction.

See this tremendous Majestic value. It proves that radio luxury need not come high. In fact, there's $25 extra value in "The Hood".

TARGET-TUNING SYSTEM

When "fishing" for, or tuning — and then "logging" (or recording the location of)—short-wave stations, a movement of the main tuning arrow so slight as to be invisible to the naked eye will either locate or lose a short-wave programme. For this reason it is very easy to "skip", miss or lose short-wave signals when tuning with the main indicator.

So, Rogers developed an auxiliary "Band-spread" dial which "spreads" the area (over which a short-wave signal is heard) eight times. Thus with this "band-spread" dial the tuning, logging and re-locating of short-wave stations is as simple, certain and speedy as with standard programmes. If they're on the air and audible you'll get them every time with a Rogers.

But the 8-to-1 Band Spreader isn't all the new Rogers has to offer! Of the Six Recent Major Developments in Radio—Rogers and ONLY Rogers Has Them All. (1)—"No-Stoop" Target Tuning—the greatest single forward step in radio. (2)—Noise Suppression. (3)—Locality Interference Adjuster. (4)—8-to-1 Band-Spreader. (5)—Acoustic Boom Absorber. (6)—New-Type Dual-Purpose Metal-Spray Tubes. These in addition to 12 other important refinements and improvements.

The 8-to-1 Band-Spreader and "Target-Tuning" are in themselves sufficient reasons why you should own a Rogers, but with the wealth of other features—you owe it to yourself and your family to have a Rogers in your home. From every standpoint — beauty of cabinet design, clarity of tone, the power of its performance, Rogers New "Empire Series" represents a new deal in radio pleasure.

Miss Ardell Beard was a recent tea guest of her sister, Mrs. Norman Hall, Iron Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas and son, James, of Waterloo, were recent callers at the Beard home.

Miss Lucia Hadlock, of Iron Hill, spent a week-end with Miss Ardell Beard.

Recent guests at the Beard home included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beard and son, Richard, of Worcester, Mass.

Mrs. Walter Williams, of Sweetburg, Mr. Herman Hadlock, of Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall and sons, Donald and Grant, and Mrs. Gordon Rumsey and son, Bruce, of Lennoxville.

Mr. D. E. Hadlock, Mr. Lyford Hadlock and Mr. and Mrs. William Rusbidge, of Iron Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Ingram, of Montreal.

Messrs. Douglas Bockus, of Hemming's Falls, and Roland Hutchison, of Drummondville, spent a week-end with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Webb and family, of Asbestos, and Mrs. Edna Chase, of Manchester, N.H., were recent week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Fessenden.

Master Merton Webb, of Asbestos, is spending a few weeks at Yamaska Island with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben Fessenden, Miss Thelma Fessenden, Mr. Roland Hutchison, Mrs. L. E. Fessenden and Master Merton Webb were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Holden, Abercorn, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben Fessenden entertained Mrs. Maude Bell and Miss Sylvia Bell, Mr. Grant Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Simcock, Mrs. L. E. Fessenden, Miss T. Fessenden, Mr. R. D. Hutchison and Merton Webb at the tea hour on Saturday, September 12th.

The Women's Association of the United Church was entertained by Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Howe at the West Bedford mansion. The attendance was unusually large and the whole session was interesting and very enjoyable.

Inspector H. D. Wells visited the Fulford School on Wednesday, and was satisfied with the work being done.

Mr. and Mrs. Percival Holden quietly celebrated their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary at their home in Abercorn on Sunday, September 13th, with only a few dinner guests present. Both Mr. and Mrs. Holden are enjoying fairly good health and attending to all the activities necessary to keep a pleasant, thrifty home in operation.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Holden was Elizabeth Beard, of Iron Hill, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O. Beard. Mr. Holden is the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Abel Holden, of Sutton Mountain. They were married by Rev. Edgar G. Chadsey at his home near East Farnham in 1890, and a wedding dinner was served to a large number of guests at the home of the bride's parents near Iron Hill. As far as can be ascertained, only three of the guests are now living. Mr. and Mrs. Holden have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for many more years of happiness.

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. JOHN MASON, GRANBY. Granby, Sept. 19.—The funeral of Alice Bradford, widow of John Mason, was held at Granby Saturday afternoon, September 19th, from the home of her brother, Mr. C. H. Bradford, and Mrs. Bradford to the United Church, Granby. Rev. Thomas Scott, pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Huxtable, conducted the service. The organist, Mr. A. M. Sadler, and members of the choir were present, and the hymns sung were, "The Sands of Time Are Sinking," "Give Me the Wings of Faith to Rise" and "Come Ye Disconsolate" and as the procession left the church the Nunc Dimittis was softly chanted.

The bearers were four nephews of the deceased, Mr. E. W. Bradford, Mr. G. E. Bradford, Mr. W. R. Bradford and Mr. H. W. Bradford. The funeral manager was Mr. Howard Salisbury.

The floral tributes were numerous, and came from the family, sympathizing friends and neighbors in which the deceased was held by the community in which she had lived almost her entire life. Interment was in the family lot in Pinewood Cemetery.

MONTREAL PAIR IN BATTLE FOR CANADIAN OPEN

Mrs. A. B. Darling and Miss Margery Kirkham Fighting for Dominion's Prized Golf Title Today After Eliminating Last of American Invaders.

Dixie, Que., Sept. 19.—The golfing galleries at Royal Montreal followed a pair of Montrealeers today, content in the knowledge that Canada's prize women's golfing title—the Open—would remain for another year in the home country.

For the last two of an invading force from across the international boundary met elimination yesterday, defeated by Mrs. A. B. Darling and Margery Kirkham. The Montreal matron accounted for Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky., with a smashing brand of par golf for sixteen holes while Miss Kirkham, a former Open champion, blasted the titular holder of eighteen year old Marjorie Harrison, of Ausable Forks, N.Y., by two and one.

So today these two Canadian girls meet in a thirty-six hole final with the outcome practically a toss-up. The final time-up rounds appear to favor Mrs. Darling, who negotiated the formidably-bunkered layout in even par for sixteen holes. On the other hand, Miss Kirkham has never strayed far from par in any of her rounds. She is a medalist with a score of eighty-two.

It took steady and at times brilliant golf by both Montreal girls to curb Miss Miley, a United States Curtis Cup star, and Miss Harrison, who twice has come close to winning New York State's feminine golfing crown.

The most consistent golf of the day was flashed by Mrs. Darling. Slightly-built but one of the longest hitters in the tourney, she snapped in birdies on two holes of the outgoing nine, hitting the turn in a one over par forty to her opponent's forty-four. This placed her three holes up.

The calm Kentucky girl rattled off two birdies in a row on the first two holes of the incoming nine but was only able to win one and half the other. She slipped a ten-footer into the cup on the tenth for a birdie three. She needed a win on took four on the eleventh, a par five, Mrs. Darling was downie four after winning both the thirteenth and fourteenth holes with pars, Miss Miley dropping the fourteenth when her tee shot caught a bunker.

The out of townier won the fifteenth by dropping an approach four feet from the pin and holing out for a birdie three, he needed a win on the three last holes to remain in the running and she could not do it. The end came on the 40-yard sixteenth where both girls were on in three and two-putted for halves in five, giving Mrs. Darling the match.

A real nip-and-tuck battle developed between Miss Harrison, daughter of a club professional, and Montreal's Miss Kirkham. The New Yorker sported a one-stroke advantage at the turn with her forty-two but the match was all-even on holes.

A birdie four on the eleventh gave the New Yorker a hole edge, but Miss Kirkham evened the count on the thirteenth where both girls found plenty of trouble. They both played tragically on the ext two holes and Miss Kirkham won them both with over-par play for a two-hole margin.

The girl from across the line made a fighting gesture on the sixteenth, winning it with a birdie four, but her direction deserted her on the next and what proved to be the final hole. She ended up in a bunker, falling losing out in seven to Miss Kirkham's birdie five.

Today marks the first time in the history of the Canadian women's championship that two Montrealeers have met in the final, while it will be the fourth time that the Dominion title has come to this city. Miss L. Young, of Royal Montreal, won in 1901, the first year of the competition; Miss V. H. Henderson won in 1903, and Miss Kirkham in 1932. It will also be Miss Kirkham's fourth appearance in a Dominion final. She lost in 1931 to Maureen O'Connell and in 1933 to Ada Mackenzie.

MANY WOMEN STARS TO SEEK CANADIAN CLOSE TITLE

Montreal, Sept. 19.—More than eighty feminine golfers will tee off at Beaconsfield on Monday in the qualifying round of the Canadian women's close championship seeking the title left undefended by Mrs. R. Horne, of Calgary.

Only Canadians are eligible for the closed championships, but with almost all the Dominion stars who competed in the open tourney at Royal Montreal this week entered in next week's play a close fight is expected among leading stars for the throne left vacant when Mrs. Horne found it impossible to compete due to recent illness.

The two finalists in today's play over Royal Montreal's south course—Mrs. A. B. Darling, of Whitecourt, and Margery Kirkham, of Meadowbrook, will compete in the closed tourney. Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, last year's open titleholder, will head a strong contingent of Ontario golfers, including Mrs. E. H. Goodenham, Mrs. R. J. Holmes, Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen and Mrs. E. Phillips.

GOLF BALLS COLLIDED IN MID-AIR

Waverly, N.Y., Sept. 19.—Edmund Burke, high school teacher, drove a golf ball from the No. 8 tee at the Shepard Hills Country Club course. A curious slice sent the pellet curving across No. 9 fairway.

Just about that time, Miss Peggy Helme, of Sayre, Pa., cut loose with an approach shot from No. 9 tee. The balls collided in mid-air.

CHICAGO SQUAD TODAY BERTHED BEHIND GIANTS

Warneke Blanked Cardinals with Three Hits Yesterday to Keep Chicago's Meagre Pennant Hopes Alive—Larry MacPhail Severs Connection with Cincinnati Reds.

The baseball spotlight was drilled today on the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds, and the possible changes in their organization to the virtual exclusion of the Chicago Cubs in second place in the National League and Lou Gehrig's 1,800th consecutive game with the New York Yankees.

While the New York Giants maintained an almost unbeatable lead of five games in the hot National League race and Gehrig put on his spikes and glove to add another milestone to the greatest of all iron-man records, the public was asking these questions:

1. Will Branch Rickey, the man who played a major part in the successful run of the Cardinals during the last ten years, buy a controlling interest in the Cincinnati Reds, along with Merrill Russell, a director of the Columbus (American Association) Red Birds?

2. Will Warren Giles, president of the Cardinals' International League farm at Rochester, N.Y., be named to succeed Larry MacPhail, resigned vice-president and general manager of the Reds?

The two questions—and their answers—appear interlocking. Denials were the only replies to a report that Rickey and Russell would buy the Reds.

MacPhail resigned yesterday just about the time that the Cubs, behind Lon Warneke's three-hit pitching, topped the Cardinals by three to nothing in the only National League game of the day and took second position in the standing away from the staggering Gas-house Gang. The victory, Chicago's sixth win over the Cardinals in seventeen starts this season, hoisted them back into the runner-up berth a half game ahead of the Frischemen but five games behind the Giants, who were idle yesterday.

Warneke, keeping alive Chicago's almost dead hopes of overhauling the Terry Troupe, fanned eight men, seven in the first four innings, and did not permit a hit until Art Gailheidi, rookie second baseman, singled with one out in the fourth frame. Don Gutteridge, another infield recruit, drilled a triple with two hits in the fifth round, while the last hit was Garibaldi's single at the start of the ninth chapter.

After the Cubs had clipped Leroy Parmelee, who started on the St. Louis mound, for five safeties in the second and third cantos without a score, they went on a production basis in the fifth inning when Galan singled and tallied on Cavaretta's double. Parmelee walked Herman and Demaree and pitched two wide ones to Hack. Heusser then got Hack on a fly on which Cavaretta scored, while Hartnett singled to send Herman across the plate.

The American League also staged a curtailed programme with the Detroit Tigers knocking off the Cleveland Indians by five to three in one game and the St. Louis Browns belting the Chicago White Sox to win by six to five in the other.

Tommy Bridges stopped the Tribe with four hits in posting his twenty-second win of the season as Detroit's ex-world champions pinned back the ears of young Bob Feller with a game-clinching four-run rally in the sixth inning and moved into a virtual tie with the second-place White Sox.

Bridges stole the strike-out spotlight from Feller by whipping ten Indians and walking only three. The Cleveland rookie was touched for seven hits, one of them Gosce Goslin's twenty-fourth homer, in the six innings he worked.

A five-run spree in the third inning featured the St. Louis triumph over the Chicago Sox, with "Sunny Jim" Bottomley belted a homer in the seventh stanza for what turned out to be the winning marker. A barrage of doubles was responsible for the Browns' big inning. Carey doubled to open the fifth frame and Larry walked after Thomas, who was credited with the victory, had fanned. Cliff filled out and Solters doubled, scoring Carey and Larry. Bell doubled Solters home and, after Bottomley's single had sent Bell home, Hemsley contributed the fourth two-bagger of the inning to score Bottomley.

The Bisons, already sporting a two-game lead in the four out of seven series for the Governors' Cup and Little World Series representation, called upon the veteran Bill Harris to make it three straight today's go.

The Orioles countered with Hy Vandenburg and their own ability to belt the ball all over the lot in their "bandbox" park.

The Bisons won the two games of the series played at their home stadium. Today's battle opens a three-game stand at the Oriole Park—provided the third game proves necessary.

MacPHAIL MAY GET BERTH WITH BOSTON BEES

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—Larry S. MacPhail, a showman of the major leagues, resigned yesterday as vice-president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, effective November 1, declining to say whether he would continue in baseball. He emphasized his resignation was not actuated by any disagreement with other officials of the club.

Powel Crossley, Jr., president of the club, said an announcement of MacPhail's successor would be withheld for a while. He refused to comment on a report that Warren Giles, president of St. Louis Cardinals' International League farm club at Rochester, would be named.

MacPhail came to the Reds in December, 1933. His action in introducing night baseball to the major leagues largely was responsible for the Cincinnati profits reported for 1935 and 1936. More than 500,000 persons have paid to see the Reds' home games this season. There had been reports recently that MacPhail might accept a position with the Boston National League club.

SURVEYOR AND CHAREST ANNEX DOUBLES TITLE

New Champions Whipped East Sherbrooke's 1935 Titleists, Paul Biron and Lucien Goyette, in Straight Sets Last Night.

Fabre Surveyor and Majella Charest drove, lobbed and smashed Paul Biron and Lucien Goyette off the court last night in the men's doubles final of the East Sherbrooke tennis championship tournament. Turning on the heat in the opening games of the first set, the new titleholders vanquished the defending champions in straight sets, scoring a one-sided 6-1, 6-2, 7-5 triumph over the East Sherbrooke pair.

Surveyor and Charest were as superior over Biron and Goyette last night as Surveyor had been in the men's singles final against Hec. Prefontaine last Sunday afternoon. With the Montreal boy playing a brilliant game and his steady partner taking care of everything, Biron and Goyette dropped into the back court, the 1935 monarchs were never in difficulty and were only called upon to apply pressure when the unsuccessful defenders came from behind to force the third set into extra games.

The final, witnessed by another large crowd, was a match in which errors outnumbered earned points by more than two to one. No less than 112 points resulted from drives which ended in the net or dropped beyond the lines. Biron and Goyette were charged with sixty-six errors, many of which were the outcome of their inability to return the stinging smashes of their opponents. Fifty-three points were earned and a number the winners were credited with thirty-one.

Charest topped the earned-and-error column with eighteen misplays and fourteen earned points, while Surveyor led with seventeen point-achieving strokes and was charged with twenty-eight errors, nineteen of which were committed in the third set. Biron, chiefly because he patronized the back court and was below his usual form, had a mark of eight earned points and thirty-seven errors as compared with Goyette's twenty-nine errors and fourteen points. The latter, whose net play had helped the 1935 titleists reach the current tournament's title round, was given little opportunity of displaying his ability in this department, Surveyor and Charest volleying frequently beyond Goyette's reach.

Charest also ranked first in deliveries, winning his seven services. Surveyor was broken through only once in six attempts, but that break came in the ninth game of the third set as the defenders started the comeback which brought the count to five-all. Biron won six and lost one, but Goyette was particularly weak with a mark of six breaks in seven tries. Biron produced three service aces, all of which came in the sixth game of the second set; Charest had two and Surveyor and Goyette one each. These figures were duplicated in the column of double faults.

Only nine of the twenty-seven contests went to deuce; four were won at love; nine resulted in one side scoring only one point, and the remaining five were decided at four points to two. The new champions won five contests at deuce, three at love, seven with the loss of only one point, and four by allowing their rivals only two points.

Following the match the drawing was made in the sweepstakes held in connection with the tournament. Thirteen year old Claudia Blouin and Zenon Bachand were the holders of the tickets which won prizes of twenty-five dollars; Miss Monique Dagneau and Roland Blouin, brother of the winner of one of the highest prizes, won the fifteen dollar awards, while Arthur Tessier and Alphonse Lamoureux captured the ten dollar prizes.

GLASGOW YOUTH REACHES FINAL FOR U.S. TITLE

Jock McLean Facing Johnny Fischer in Amateur Golf Final Today with Admittedly Fine Chance of Becoming First Briton in Twenty-Five Years to Annex U.S. Title.

Garden City, N.Y., Sept. 19.—Jock McLean, a blaw Scottish ladie who is very sparing with strokes, was in the final of the United States amateur golf championship today with an admittedly fine chance of accomplishing something no Briton from o'er the seas has done in a quarter of a century.

The rich links prize last crossed the Atlantic in 1911, in the possession of Harold Hilton, of England. McLean, a whisky-selling youth from Glasgow, emerged triumphantly from the semi-finals yesterday with Johnny Fischer, of Cincinnati. They had the shots and the steadiness to come through the worst rain and wind storm ever to strike a United States amateur battleground and they will fight it out for the crown today. Tournament officials, after inspecting the course this morning, announced that the thirty-six hole final will be played today as scheduled.

Fischer gained the title round by beating the favored Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, by two and one in a match that was so close that it was squared eleven times. The Omaha blond drew level in the rain seven of those times but finally was beaten on the thirty-fifth green.

More accustomed to the treacherous wind that George Voigt, of New York, his veteran American rival, the Scot pulled away to a six-up lead and merely loafed along with the wind in the afternoon to crush Voigt by eight and seven.

The outcome of the two thirty-six hole semi-final struggles with the hazards and the elements, including a gale that reached fifty-mile velocity at times and rain that came down in solid sheets, produced the first British-American final in eight years. The championship has been out of the country since then, going to Canada in Ross Somerville's possession in 1932, but no Briton from overseas has fired a title challenge since Phil Perkins went down before Bobby Jones in the 1923 final.

More at home than any of his fellow semi-finalists, though finally conceding it was "a bit thicker than a Scotch mist," the doughty McLean produced the steadiest, most effective performance, but no man ever piloted a leaky ship through a gale at sea with more resourceful courage than Fischer exhibited in taking Goodman's measure.

While McLean, six up at the halfway point, merely had to steer his game along conservative lines to dispose of his veteran opponent, he waged the hardest kind of a dogfight to beat the man who won the United States Open title in 1933 and had been made the betting choice to succeed to the amateur throne vacated by Lawson Little.

The two young American Walker Cup stars were all even after the first round, thanks to Goodman's nine-foot putt on the home hole. They were never more than a single hole apart for thirty-four holes. The "break" came with only four holes to go and just after Goodman had squared the match on the thirty-first with a birdie four, then grasped the advantage of a partial stymie to win the thirty-second and go one up.

Goodman was trapped off the thirty-third tee, took three more shots to reach the green and carried the first of three closing sixes. Fischer drew level, with his third shot resting four feet from the cup and two putts good enough for a win.

The Nebraska was in trouble all the way to the thirty-fourth green, topping his drive as well as his second shot, and again taking a total of four blows to reach the putting surface. A magnificent number two iron second that carried to the front edge of the green was the clincher for Fischer.

On the thirty-fifth, the Nebraska an's drive was partly buried in wet sand. He took two more blows to reach the fairway and another to land on the thirty-fifth green, while Fischer was only eighty yards off with a drive and an iron. Fischer chipped twelve feet from the cup and took two putts for a decisive five.

There was not much to choose otherwise as Goodman, for the second straight year, saw his title bid fade in the semi-finals. Last year the Nebraska was ousted by the champion Little. In 1932 he lost to Somerville in the final.

McLean, outplaying Voigt except for the outgoing stages of the afternoon round, staged a remarkable exhibition of shotmaking. While the New Yorker was almost constantly in trouble, the Scot appeared to thrive on the heavy going. Jack was four up after nine holes and six up at noon.

Bundled in a rainproof suit, three sweaters, and blue half-mittens, Voigt discarded his putter and used a mashie or number two iron on the greens while the storm was at its height, but he was never able to shake McLean's grip on the match, and it was over when Jack bagged the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth holes. The storm threatened to wreck all temporary structures on the premises before the night was over. Part of the press tent collapsed an hour after play was concluded. Torrents of rain, swept by the gale that roared out of the northeast, turned the entire course into a collection of small lakes. Bunkers were flooded and streams flowed across several greens.

THUMBNAILED SKETCHES OF TODAY'S FINALISTS

Garden City, N.Y., Sept. 19.—Here are the backgrounds of the finalists fighting today in the fortieth annual United States amateur golf championship:

Jack McLean—Jack is a strict teetotaler but he sells whisky for a living. The quiet Scot is only twenty-six but an old fashioned fellow when it comes to riding golf balls. His back swing is short but he has a tremendous follow-through that usually winds up by cracking his heel. Very compact with his irons and a daring putter. Very short off the tee. Hooks almost every shot but seems to be getting away with it at the hookless paradise of Garden City. Raps his putts so hard you can hear the crack yards away. An English journalist says Jack knows only one thing about the liquor business: That sherry is served in a small glass and that whisky (at the right party) is served in a big glass.

Johnny Fischer—The best he has been able to do in the National Amateur before this week was to reach the quarter-finals although for years the twenty-four year old string bean from Cincinnati has been one of the world's best amateurs, winning the amateur medal twice when qualifying rounds were held. He is the longest hitter off the tee among the survivors. Uses the wide open stance. He hits his wood shots slightly off the left foot, as the better pros do, but reverses his position on his long irons.

FIVE CANADIANS ENTERED IN U.S. WOMEN'S PLAY

New York, Sept. 19.—Lacking a defending champion, a field of 188 golfers will tee off for the qualifying round of the United States women's championship at the Canoe Brook Country Club, Summit, N.J., on September 28.

Announcement of the qualifying round pairings yesterday revealed that Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, 1935 winner and holder of the championship will tee off for the qualifying round against entering the tournament.

The championship should be a wide open affair with Mrs. Maureen O'Connell, of Coral Gables, Fla., Pamela Barton, British champion, Dorothy Traung, of San Francisco, Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky., Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, Charlotte Glutting, of West Orange, N.J., and Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, as ranking favorites.

Ada MacKenzie, the many times Canadian champion, will be back for another attempt to lift the American crown. Toronto will have another challenger in Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, while British Columbia will have three contestants. They are Kathleen Farrell and Katherine Duff Stuart, of Vancouver, and Marcia Moss, of New Westminster.

MONTREAL MATRON HOLDS COMFORTABLE LEAD

Royal Montreal Golf Club, Dixie, Que., Sept. 19.—Mrs. A. B. Darling, of Montreal, shooting the first war round of the tournament, established a six-up lead on Margery Kirkham, red-headed medalist of Montreal, in the first half of their thirty-six-hole final for the Canadian women's Open golf championship today.

SPORTING NOTES

WILL PLAY BUFFALO'S HOME GAMES IN NIAGARA FALLS

Buffalo, Sept. 19.—George Vasey, business manager of Buffalo's International Hockey League team, announced last night that all home games next winter would be played at the Niagara Falls, Ont., arena. Vasey said he signed a contract for the Falls.

The Bisons finished last season at Niagara Falls after the Port Erie, Ont., arena collapsed under snow.

SCIENCE TODAY CARRYING HUNT FOR BRUTAL SLAYER

Comely United States Government Worker Found Lying in Bed with Her Head Crushed—Murderer Used Furnace Shaker to Commit Crime.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Police seeking the slayer of a comely United States Government worker pinned hopes today on a pair of trousers, stained with what might be blood, and a bloody furnace shaker. Science carried on the hunt, with experts analyzing the stains on the trousers and searching the shaker for fingerprints, while a negro houseboy was held for questioning.

Mrs. Florence Goodwin, thirty-four years old, who managed a well-appointed rooming house while she worked as a typist in the Treasury Department, was found lying dead in her bed yesterday by the houseboy, Carl D. Chase, 25, and a roomer.

Her crushed head covered with a pillow, Mrs. Goodwin was discovered after Chase, according to his story, had become alarmed yesterday morning when his employer failed to appear.

STEADFASTNESS.

I think the dignity of trees
Is something we should emulate.
They stand so strong, and grow so firm,
Defying every fate.

At first a tiny bit of seed,
In dark uncertainty,
Absorbing richness of the earth,
Till reached the light of day,
Then with their roots still firmly stayed,
In heat or winter's cold,
Add grace and health throughout the years
As branch and bud unfold.
The world of birds find nesting there.

Their thankful songs are sweet,
The breezes do their sighing there,
And cattle at their feet
Find shelter from the sun and storm,
The squirrels store their food,
And in a calm tranquility
The tree long finds life good.

don't let rheumatism
bother you this fall.

Sulphur Baths will bring Relief

The therapeutic properties of mineral hot springs have always been recognised, particularly in the treatment of rheumatism. Those who can afford it, take advantage of the expensive cures at hot springs such as Vichy and Saratoga, with splendid results.

Science now makes it possible for you to enjoy the benefits of these hot spring baths, economically and efficiently, right in your own home. "Sal Sano" is a combination of mineral salts, which, when dissolved in your bath, imparts to the water the essential health-restoring properties of the world's best spas. "Sal Sano" is easy to use. Simply dissolve a bag-full in a bath filled with hot water. Remain in this bath for about 20 minutes. Then get into bed.

Read what others say about "Sal Sano"

"I had tried a great many medicines without satisfactory results before I used 'Sal Sano.' The first four baths enabled me to use both my hands and feet freely, without any pain."

"After taking only one bath of 'Sal Sano,' my pain has disappeared."

"He took a 'Sal Sano' bath last Saturday night and on Sunday his rheumatic legs were full of pep. He thanked me for telling him about 'Sal Sano.'"

"I am very enthusiastic about 'Sal Sano' and I am recommending it to all my friends. I consider it by far the best thing I have ever tried for my rheumatism."
