

Season's first snowstorm blankets province

The first snowstorm of the season brought up to five inches of the stuff to parts of Quebec province Thursday, disrupting traffic and electricity supplies and cancelling classes and sport events.

Montreal International Airport closed shortly after noon because of low visibility and winds gusting more than 30 miles an hour. The runways were cleared of snow in time to permit arrivals and departures early today.

Canadian National and Canadian Pacific cancelled rail travel from Montreal during the height of the storm. Service resumed late Thursday night. A train due from Halifax at 2:40 p.m. Thursday arrived early today.

Bus service between Montreal, Quebec City and Trois-Rivières was cancelled.

In Quebec City, winds gusting to 50 miles an hour halted public transportation and closed the national assembly and all schools. Flights at L'Anncienne Lorette Airport were cancelled. Provincial police said Aurel Charest, 50, died during the storm when his truck collided with another on a highway between Quebec City and Chicoutimi.

HEART ATTACK FATAL
Montreal police said seven persons stuck in traffic suffered heart attacks, and one of them died.

Quebec City's Journal de Quebec did not publish today while the Montreal daily Le Devoir published several hours behind schedule.

The program at Montreal's Blue Bonnets Raceway was cancelled Thursday as was a World Hockey Association game in Quebec City.

Hydro Quebec officials said power lines were blown down, leaving about 20,000 subscribers in Quebec City without electricity for short periods of time. In Montreal, 75 blackouts, affecting 6,000 customers and lasting up to 45 minutes, were reported.

Schools were closed in Montreal where police used snowmobiles to patrol.

Six military trucks from the Canadian Forces base at Valcartier were sent out to help motorists stranded on highways.

Storm holds up million

MONTREAL (CP) — Audrey Robb looked at her $1-million cheque Thursday and said: "Life begins at 40 and am I going to live!"

As she was presented with the cheque by Roger Rousseau, president of Olympic Lottery Canada, she laughed and said: "What else can I say but thanks a million."

The snow blizzards which hit eastern provinces prevented the arrival of a group of 10 men from Rock Island, Que., who shared the other $1 million winning ticket, and representatives of a group of eight men from Toronto, who shared $500,000 were stranded at an airport.

Mrs. Robb, a mother of three from Hamilton, separated from her husband only days before the announcement Monday that she had won $1 million on the third Olympic Lottery Canada draw to finance the 1976 Summer Olympics here.

"He phoned me once after my win was announced," she said following official presentations to four of the winners. "I really don't want to hurt anyone but I hope I don't hurt from him again."

"I have had all the money invested so my children and I will be able to live comfortably," said Mrs. Robb, who plans to return to work as a $133-a-week teletype operator with Westinghouse Canada where she has been employed for almost 25 years.

NO BIG SPLURGE
She plans to stay at her $165-a-month apartment and is not preparing for a "big splurge" except for an already-planned trip to England and possibly a trade-in of her 1967 car.

Mrs. Robb did some pre-presentation shopping in a Montreal department store Wednesday with her mother and 10-year-old daughter, Laurie.

"I wanted to spend more than $300 because we flew here without even a toothbrush," she said. "At first they wouldn't even accept my cheque but when they found out why I was here they gave me everything free."

"This is all like a fairy tale. I keep thinking that suddenly I'm going to wake up in bed and find it was all a dream," she said.

Julien Cote, vice-president of Olympic Lottery Canada, said Mrs. Robb asked for help in investing her money.

"We went into the market and we've found a very secure investment for her which will take care of any financial problems."

PROVINCE AIDS MAGOG — This week the Quebec Ministry of Industry and Commerce presented a cheque for $4,513 to the City of Magog, as part of its share in assisting the municipality employ an industrial commissioner. Calls for textile inquiry

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry Minister Alastair Gillespie has called for an urgent examination of some textile imports to see whether the domestic textile industry is being hurt.

Repeating in the Commons to a question from Adrien Lambert (SC-Bellechase) he said the textile and clothing board is being asked for immediate examination of a number of products.

The board decides whether imported textiles are hurting domestic producers. It can recommend sanctions such as quotas.

Mr. Gillespie said he is aware of a "good deal of distress selling on the part of foreign producers of textiles, seriously affecting the prospects of the Canadian textile industry."

He said he was not aware of any dumping of imports.

Officials said the minister was referring to an as yet unexplained slump in the world textile market.

They said that last year and early this year textiles were booming worldwide. Then something went wrong and markets went sour.

It is expected that the board will be asked to look into products made of nylon, polyester, and worsteds from such coun-

Whelan plans beef inquiry

NAPANEE, Ont. (CP) — Eugene Whelan, federal minister of agriculture, says a beef inquiry will be held to find a remedy to problems expected to arise as a result of the recently announced quota on beef shipments to the United States.

Mr. Whelan warned that farmers should expect market and price uncertainty for some time.

"There is no doubt that what the United States had done is going to hurt," he said. "I am concerned but confident that the Canadian and United States governments can repair this rift."

Mr. Whelan said that all provincial ministers of agriculture will meet Monday in Ottawa to discuss the quota and other problems of the beef industry.

Mr. Whelan also announced that the Farm Credit Corp. will be increasing the amount of money available for loans in 1975 to $500 million. The corporation worked with $400 million this year and $200 million in 1973.

19 people killed

Anti-Irish feeling high after British bomb blitz

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Anti-Irish feeling ran high in Birmingham today after a terrorist bomb blitz that police said killed 19 persons and injured at least 202 in the heart of the industrial city.

The explosions Thursday night wrecked two bars crowded with young people.

Many persons blamed the Irish Republican Army, whose bombs have killed at least 30 other persons in England in the last two years.

However, officials did not immediately link the bombings here to the IRA.

The death toll was the heaviest in any bombing in England or Northern Ireland since the war between Roman Catholic and Protestant extremists began in Ulster five years ago.

BOMB PRIEST'S HOME
Gangs of youths took to the streets of Birmingham, shouting "Irish bastards" and "We hate the Irish!" A gasoline bomb was thrown through the window of a Catholic priest's house.

Mayor James Eames said the terrorist attack would undoubtedly build up hate and prejudice against Birmingham's sizeable Irish population.

"The Irish war has finally come to England," said John Stokes, a Conservative member of the House of Commons. He called for the death penalty "for the perpetrators of these appalling crimes."

There was speculation that the bombings were in response to the government's refusal to allow funeral services in Birmingham for James McDavid, a 28-year-old IRA officer killed in Coventry last week when a bomb he was setting exploded prematurely. His body was brought to Birmingham Thursday and flown to Dublin.

The Birmingham Post said it received a telephone warning at 8:11 p.m. that bombs had been planted in the city. About 15 minutes later explosions devastated the crowded Mulberry Bush pub and the nearby Tavern in the Town, located in the Rotunda, a shopping and office centre in the heart of Birmingham.

"In my many years of experience I have never seen anything like this," said a surgeon at one of three hospitals to which victims were taken. "We have got here every injury in the book."

MAY BE BURIED
"My pub has been completely destroyed," said Dick Lorne, proprietor of the Tavern in the Town. "There were about 200 people in it when the bomb went off and there may still be people buried in the rubble." "I was going to put a record on the juke box when all hell was let loose," said Michael Mills, 18. "There was a massive explosion. Bodies were everywhere. I had to climb over them to get out." "The area around the Mulberry Bush was like a casualty clearing station with dead and injured all over the pavement," another witness reported.

Police said they found two other bombs that failed to explode. One was on top of a 2,000-gallon oil tank at a hotel. Its detonator fired, but the explosive failed to go off, the police said.

Natives can't halt project

MONTREAL (CP) — A temporary injunction granted last year to native peoples who sought a halt to the James Bay hydroelectric power project in northwestern Quebec was unanimously overturned Thursday by the Quebec Court of Appeal.

The five-man appeal court ruled that the temporary injunction issued Nov. 15, 1973, by Quebec Superior Court Justice Albert Malouf was not legally justified due to lack of proof that the native peoples held clear rights to the territory involved.

The judgment said that the project was in the interest of the general population of Quebec, citing the growing demand for electricity in the face of a world oil shortage.

Mr. Justice Jean Turgeon said if the Indians and Inuit "really have rights, those rights would be only that of being able to claim damages that the works can cause them."

"I am of the opinion that the Indian right to the territory in question has doubtful existence and that the recourses arising out of it, if they exist, do not entitle them to obtain an injunction to stop work on the project."

He said a halt to the project would have "disastrous consequences," forcing the government to produce electricity by thermal or nuclear plants.

South Korea greets Ford

SEOUL (AP) — President Ford saw the biggest crowd of his life in South Korea's capital today, then travelled close to the frontier with Communist North Korea to visit United States troops.

The Korean national police estimated about two million flag-waving, confetti-throwing Koreans turned out for the U.S. president's arrival. Reporters estimated the crowd at a million or more, roughly equivalent to the turnout for president Lyndon Johnson in 1966.

President Chung Hee Park established a heavy security guard to prevent opponents of his dictatorship making trouble during Ford's visit. But twice during the 10-mile drive from the airport into Seoul, Ford emerged from Park's armored limousine with his host in tow and mingled with the crowd.

Meanwhile, U.S. State Secretary Henry Kissinger responded for the first time to critics of the visit who argue that Ford's presence lends moral support to Park's dictatorial government.

Kissinger told reporters that Ford in his meeting with Park undoubtedly would "call attention to the impact of Korea's domestic politics" on U.S. opinion. He added, however, that the U.S. government has only a "very limited capacity" to affect political changes in South Korea.

White House press secretary Ron Nessen said Ford had no intention of meeting with any leaders of the anti-Park movement.

VISITED TROOPS
After his tumultuous welcome, Ford flew to Camp Casey, a U.S. base manned by some of the 38,000 U.S. troops in Korea. He ate fried chicken with the enlisted men and watched part of a rough game of football and an exhibition of taekwondo, a Korean form of karate.

Ford spent less than two hours at Camp Casey, then donned a red and black Korean jacket presented to him by an enlisted man and stood up in an open jeep as he rode to his helicopter.

Returning to Seoul, he met with President Park.

His schedule also included a reception and state dinner. No major announcements were expected from Ford's visit. It was considered to be mainly a reaffirmation of the U.S. defence commitment to South Korea.

Reorganization of health care explained

SHERBROOKE (RH) — Albert Painchaud, director general of the Eastern Townships Regional Council of Health and Social Services, called a press conference yesterday to make public the council's recommendations to the Ministry of Social Affairs in Quebec.

Painchaud specified four treatment areas as re-organizational priorities at a meeting held at the Social Club on Prospect St.

"We have recommended that obstetrics-gynecology, psychiatry, toxicology and long-term medical treatment be re-structured in the Townships to ensure efficiency and accessibility to our clientele here," he said at the press conference. "We hope to improve the quality of service, of course, as well."

"Our collective approach to health problems is the only way to realize the objectives we have established," he maintained.

In an attempt to clarify exactly how the services can be improved, Painchaud listed the limitations his research committee discovered while working on the study.

"We know that we cannot augment the number of hospital beds available now," he indicated. "Also, the budget we have to operate with is a constant; it can't be added to. Nor can it be changed too radically. Beyond this, however, we have made concrete suggestions for improvement in the four areas indicated above."

The director-general explained that the committee has suggested the setting-up of a special service centre for obstetrics and gynecology in Sherbrooke, which would include care for the newborn. This new centre would be located at the CHU. For the time being, he elucidated, the "limited risk" obstetrics and gynecology units currently in operation in Magog and Asbestos are to be maintained; the permanent one at Lac Mégantic will also not be changed.

"The council has specified, as part of its goals," he said, "to reduce the incidences of infant mortality and illness. We feel this can be done more effectively if all the services are under one roof."

Painchaud remarked that the "human resources" available can be "exploited best" at CHU. In the area of psychiatry, he stated that all the committee members were in agreement over the implications of their study — that more day treatment centres and workshops be organized — but that they were divided over whether all of Sherbrooke's psychiatric services should be located in one place, or whether they should be distributed.

By ROSA HARRIS

"We agreed to keep the system we presently have — of psychiatric services in all the hospitals — because we feel that this kind of treatment should be easily accessible to the population due to the nature of the illness, and because we aren't able to categorically vouch for the regrouping of psychiatric services since the question is not sufficiently clear in our own minds," the director-general elaborated.

With these limitations taken into account the committee decided, according to Painchaud, to recommend the establishment of a special centre for child and adolescent psychiatry to be set up at CHU, and that the clinic for forensic and legal psychiatry already in operation at Sherbrooke Hospital be maintained and developed.

Long-term treatment is also in for a re-structuring, if the committee report is accepted by the department of social affairs. The study calls for the unification of out-of-hospital services, such as home care, and day treatment centres, as well as the extension of rehabilitation programs for the chronically ill at Youville Hospital. Further, long term treatment centres will be set up in Magog and Coaticook.

Painchaud described, in the most dramatic recommendation of the report, the establishment of a 50-bed unit at Youville Hospital for long-term psychiatric patients. A similar 50-bed unit will be set up in Coaticook and Magog.

He added that another unit of that size for the physically ill will be organized at Youville

Hospital, should the first 50-bed unit "demonstrate that it is possible to adequately meet the demand for hospital beds when it so exceeds the supply."

In terms of alcohol and drug addiction treatment, Painchaud said that a service centre in hospitals, with a 25 place capacity are being considered. "We realize the extent of this problem necessitates more adequate resources," he qualified, "but we must work within our limitations. At present, we need more information before we can complete our recommendations in this area."

If the report of the committee is accepted, according to Painchaud, further studies will be necessary to determine how to carry out the suggestions. He was confident that the recommendations would be acted on quickly.

Gillespie predicts ongoing layoffs in auto industry

OTTAWA (CP) — Short but regular layoffs in the Canadian auto industry can be expected as long as the United States market continues to slump, Industry Minister Alastair Gillespie said Wednesday.

So far, a buoyant Canadian auto market has compensated for weak U.S. demand, but "I fervently hope there will be a pickup in U.S. demand shortly," he told reporters.

Mr. Gillespie said the American situation has rubbed off already, with both Ford and General Motors laying off employees at plants supplying components to U.S. factories.

He was questioned in the Commons about Chrysler's decision to close five of its six U.S. plants for December. There are reports that the closing will leave 63,000 Americans out of work.

Mr. Gillespie said he has consulted the company's executives, but so far they do not have similar plans for their Canadian production. However, the U.S. situation was serious and could be expected to overlap into Canada.

Manufacturers in St. Therese, Que., and Oshawa, Brampton, Windsor, Oakville and St. Thomas in Ontario are heavily dependent on the U.S. market under the auto pact signed in 1965.

FREE MOVEMENT

The pact provides free trade on automobiles and auto parts between the two countries.

It often has been the subject of political disputes, with groups in both countries calling for amendments when their respective industries ran deficits on the trans-border trade.

In the first half of this year, Canada had a deficit of $529 million, compared with $62 million in the first half of 1973.

Prior to 1973, Canada generally ran a surplus and there was pressure on the U.S. government then for modification of the pact.

Officials here are concerned now that boldly optimistic statements about the domestic industry might revive those demands and bring calls for a production switch to the U.S. at a time when the American industry is undergoing difficulties.

Mr. Gillespie said Wednesday that Canada's share of the North American market has increased this year from about eight per cent last year.

SHARE UP
He could not give any precise figure, but an official in his department said that the share was up to about 13 per cent of total North American vehicle production in the first 10 months of this year.

Sales figures released by Canadian automakers for October, first month for the 1975 models, generally support their view that they do not face the same gloomy outlook as their American parent companies.

Chrysler and American Motors reported increases in October sales, while Ford and General Motors were down only slightly from their October, 1973, Canadian sales.

However, the U.S. situation has caused some layoffs here. Ford laid off 403 production workers at its plant near St. Thomas for an indefinite period. The plant produces sub-compact Pintos and Bobcats plus com-pack Mavericks, with 80 per cent of the cars going to the U.S.

General Motors has laid off 135 Windsor employees with a further reduction of 150 planned for two weeks next month. However, it is adding about 600 employees at a van assembly plant at Toronto.

Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto stock market continued to decline Thursday but losses were not so heavy as those of the three previous days. Trading was light.

The industrial index, widely-based indicator of market trend, was off 87 to 156.13, lowest close since Oct. 8. The index has lost more than six points in four days.

The western oil index fell 2.14 to 123.45 and base metals 79 to 62.44, a low since June, 1964.

The gold index closed with a gain of 4.01 to 415.61 although it had been up as much as 12 points earlier. The price of gold was higher on overseas markets.

Analysts attribute the general decline to unfavorable reaction to the federal budget and to a weak New York market.

Declines outnumbered advances by more than 2 to 1.

Banks, construction and material, chemical and steel shares were among industrials with the largest declines. Beverage, general manufacturing and trust and loan groups were among gainers.

Consolidated Bathurst with drew its bid of $20 a share for four million shares of Price Co., following a higher bid of $25 a share for up to five million Price shares by Abitibi Paper.

Abitibi, which initially offered $18 a share for Price, was up 1/8 to $10 in active trading.

Consolidated Bathurst, which said it would tender 1.9 million shares of Price already ac-

New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Justice Department's antitrust action against American Telephone and Telegraph dealt AT and T shares a sharp setback but left the rest of the stock market unshaken Thursday.

AT and T, by far the most widely held stock in the U.S. with nearly three million owners, dropped 3 to $42 1/2, on a turnover of 870,300 shares.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials declined 1.02 to 600.57 but would have shown a slight gain without the AT and T drop.

Gainers and losers were virtually even over all on the New York Stock Exchange, with 675 issues declining and 639 advancing among the 1,775 traded.

The NYSE's composite common-stock index advanced 17 to 36.20.

Another indication of the absence of any strong ripple effects from the turmoil in AT and T was the day's relatively light total volume of 13.81 million shares.

Occidental Petroleum rose 3/4 to $13 1/2. Standard Oil of Indiana directors gave their management the go-ahead to prepare an exchange offer to acquire Occidental, and Occidental expressed its continued opposition to the idea. Indiana Standard shares were down 1/4 to $83 1/2.

American Telephone warrants, which give their holders the right to buy AT and T common at $52 a share until their scheduled expiration next May, were the day's sharpest percentage loser, down 1/4 at 11-16.

Houston Oil and Minerals, the most-active issue on the American Stock Exchange, was up 1 1/2 to $25 1/2.

The Amex market-value index eased .05 to 64.09.

In Canadian issues on the New York Stock exchange, Seagrams gained 1/2 to $31 1/4. Canadian Pacific was unchanged at $13 1/2, Massey Ferguson at $12 1/4 and Alcan at $20. McIntyre lost 1/2 to $31 1/2, International Nickel 1/2 to $21 and Dome Mines 3/8 to $49 1/2.

Sugar prices unstable

OTTAWA (CP) — Trade Minister Alastair Gillespie says he is "not optimistic" about any early agreement to stabilize rising sugar prices.

Mr. Gillespie told the Commons Wednesday that a new international sugar agreement is unlikely to be reached in the foreseeable future because the sugar-producing countries don't want one.

"It is not in their interests to come to the bargaining table," he said in reply to questions from Jack Murta (PC—Lisgar).

Canada is prepared to seek ways of stabilizing both the price and supply of sugar but has not taken any formal position on what the price should be, Mr. Gillespie said. He said price would have to be the subject of negotiations with the producing countries.

Difficult times ahead for intergovernmental relations

VICTORIA (CP) — Federal budget proposals for increased taxation of resource industries mark the beginning of a difficult period for federal-provincial relations, Resources Minister Bob Williams of British Columbia said Wednesday.

Mr. Williams was the first to speak at a two-day conference here of the Canadian Council of Resources and Environment Ministers.

The main issue in the budget is the proposal to eliminate the right of resource companies to deduct provincial royalties from their incomes when calculating their corporate income tax. The industry then would have to pay taxes on profits that had already been taxed by the province in the form of royalties.

"One would expect the national government to encourage provincial moves toward getting a fair return from their resources," Mr. Williams said, adding that the B.C. government is firmly committed to the principle of royalties charged by the province.

SAYS UNJUSTIFIED
Industry spokesmen have warned that provincial royalties combined with the new tax proposals would result in more than 100 per cent of profits being taxed away.

Mr. Williams said the federal government was taking an "all-seeing, all-knowing view of the nation and ignoring regional traditions."

"Tremendous tax resources are already in the hands of the federal government," he said, "and the additional tax source from provincial resources is totally unjustified."

Mr. Williams later told reporters that "the provinces of the west have been different from the provinces of central Canada."

"What this does is penalize the provinces of the West which have retained ownership of the resources and which should get the full return of those resources."

"This is a colonial budget for Western Canada and it's designed to hold down the legitimate aspirations of the West in terms of strong regional development which would be better for the nation," he said. The constitution clearly states that royalties belong to the provinces, he said.

Junior
 Diary

This is the big day we announce the winners of our mind-twister contest. They are Lisa Imperial of Sherbrooke Elementary School and George Wintle of Pope Memorial School in Bury. Congratulations to you both!

Lisa is seven years old and is in grade two at Sherbrooke Elementary. She unscrambled all the letters to spell 10 Townships towns correctly. So did George, who is 12 years old and attends grade six at Pope Memorial. They will be receiving in the mail their $10 gift certificates so they can shop at Wilson's Record Dept.

The big response to the contest was appreciated by Junior Diary. About 300 children took part in the contest. They were from 24 different schools in the Townships.

Students took part from the following schools: St. Francis School, Lennoxville Elementary, Pope Memorial, Ayer's Cliff, Asbestos-Danville-Shipton, Marymount, St. Antoine School, Waterloo, St. Louis de France, Mgr. Thibault, Cookshire Elementary, Knowlton Academy, Sawyerville Elementary, Plein Soleil, Notre-Dame-de-Tout-Pouvoir, Mansonville; Princess Elizabeth, North Hatley, St. Luc de Barnston, Notre-Dame-des-Ecoles, Sunnyside, Parkview, St. Anne, Notre Dame in South Durham.

We had many correct answer forms. The correct answers from grade five and six children were put together and one form was drawn. The same was done with the answers from children in grades two, three and four.

The towns which caused problems with some children were Beebe, Knowlton and Saint-Adolphe-de-Dudswell.

Here are the correct answers: 1. Magog; 2. Beebe; 3. Hatley; 4. Asbestos; 5. Lennoxville; 6. Scottstown; 7. Knowlton; 8. Sutton; 9. Bromptonville; 10. Saint-Adolphe-de-Dudswell.

Watch for next week's Junior Diary when we will open a big three-week Christmas contest. See you next Friday.

New manager appointed

SHERBROOKE — The Construction Industry Commission has a new regional manager at its Sherbrooke office.

Lucien Gauvin, being originally from Acton Vale in the Eastern Townships, has been recently nominated regional manager by interim in Sherbrooke.

He substitutes for Florent Hebert, who was manager for many years at the Building Trades Joint Committee, being now the regional office of the Construction Industry Commission (region no. 50).

Before the nomination of Mr. Gauvin, Robert Richer has worked for almost a year as manager by interim, and since a few weeks, Mr. Gauvin assumes this responsibility.

He was previously an auditor at the CIC, attached to the provincial crew, and has acquired a great experience for the profit of the employers and employees, in the Sherbrooke region.

Before being at the service of the Commission, Mr. Gauvin has always worked in relation with the Construction Industry. He started as a storekeeper, until he supervised important construction job-sites, regarding the cost price.

This long experience added to his nine years of services at the commission, makes him a competent person for the administration of the Sherbrooke office, according to a press release.

World news in brief

SINKING CLAIMS 28 TEGUCIGALPA (AP) — The 3,235-ton freighter El Belvoir ran aground, capsized and sank near Cuba, and 28 of the 32 men aboard were reported lost, an officer of the Honduran National Port Authority said Sunday. The ship sailed Nov. 11 from Cortes, Honduras, for the United States.

Third class graduates in North Country Swingers

DERBY LINE (IH) — On November 9, the third class of the North Country Swingers graduated at the North Country Union High School Gymnasium in Newport. There were 23 in the graduating class, all being present for the ceremonies.

This is the third class to graduate since the club was organized in July, 1973. On January 28, 1974, there were 33 who received diplomas, and on June 29, there were 17 to graduate as full-fledged square dancers. November 9 the 23 joined the ranks of graduate dancers.

Presently there is another class taking lessons from Al Monty of Barre, Vt., who has been the teacher and caller since the group started the spring of 1973. The class is held each Monday evening at the NCUHS Gym, and the club has sponsored several dances during the last year. The main event, of course, was Jay Day in July 20, 1974, and they have also had Von Parrish call for dancing on October 9 and Dan Fulford for the honors on November 2, 1974.

Many of the club members have enjoyed the association and fellowship through visits to other square dance groups. They would welcome visitors who might like to observe the beauty of the square dance clothing and the rhythm shown in this popular pastime.

Hospital auxiliary to meet

SHERBROOKE (RH) — It happens only once a year, so the women of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, put the most they can into their annual meeting.

This year's rendezvous, scheduled for Monday, November 25, at 11:30 a.m. at the St. George's Club on Dufferin St., promises to provide a stimulating afternoon, according to Mrs. J. Knudsen, president of the organization.

"We've planned a lot of topics that don't fit in to the run-of-the-mill categories," she assured The Record yesterday, "and we're hoping to discuss some questions vital to our existence as well. We want to define the direction the organization ought to take."

Mrs. Knudsen added that all past presidents of the service group will be on hand to contribute from their wealth of experience.

"All of us are looking forward to airing our views and formulating new plans," she concluded.

Funeral held for Police chief

BROMONT (SE) — A civic funeral was held here today for former Police Chief Albert Labonte. Mr. Labonte, Bromont's first police chief, succumbed to a heart attack early Tuesday morning.

Mr. Labonte, 41, the father of three children, was the first policeman hired by Bromont 10 years ago. He set up the existing police force and fire department.

He was given an award of merit by his provincial associates in 1973 for his work in fire prevention.

Prior to his employment at Bromont Mr. Labonte was a peace officer in Napierville, Laprairie and Marieville. He suffered a heart attack last spring but appeared on the road to recovery.

The civic funeral was attended by delegations of police and firemen from the District of Bedford and outlying areas.

Winter hits city

SHERBROOKE — Winter arrived suddenly Thursday when a storm lasting most of the day dumped more than seven inches of snow on the downtown area.

For most persons, apparently, the storm was not unexpected, even if abrupt. Snowclearing operations were commenced immediately and by midnight virtually all streets were easily accessible to vehicles.

Quebec Police Force spokesmen expressed surprise throughout the day at the small number of accidents which occurred as a result of the conditions. "I expected it would be really wild on the streets today but, no, it wasn't," one officer observed.

Statements by members of municipal police departments tended to support the conclusion that residents of the region had anticipated the snowfall and dealt with conditions routinely.

Spokesmen in the city's public works department claimed snowclearing operations were proceeding as planned, without problem.

Prominence to border relatives

DERBY LINE (IH) — Mrs. Lillian Patton, Derby Line, has received news of achievements of her granddaughters. Miss Cynthia Moore and Miss Deborah Moore, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore of Chelmsford, Massachusetts.

Cynthia was among 17 seniors at Chelmsford High School to have been named Merit Program Commended Students by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

These 17 students are among 38,000 Commended Students named on the basis of their high performance on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Commended students are in the upper 2 percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1975.

Although the Commended Students ranked high in the tests, their scores were just below those of the 15,000 semi-finalists who were announced in September by NMSC. Commended students do not continue in the Merit scholarship competition.

Deborah has been appointed Director of Religious Education at the First Parish Unitarian — Universalist Church in Chelmsford, Mass.

Direction the operation of the Sunday School and the children's worship service will be among Deborah's responsibilities in this position. She will be also responsible for selection of Sunday School Curricula and for the preparation of new classes for adults. She will assist the minister and teachers as they lead both children and adults in examining philosophy and developing their own religious beliefs.

Deborah grew up in Chelmsford, attended the U-U Church and had been an active member for many years. She has been involved in many facets of church life, from the youth group as a teenager, to teaching Sunday school as an adult.

Ray Cromley

All those people, yet they're still No. 2

By Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Soviet Union has two times as many men and women involved in research and development as we do. It is stepping up their numbers by 9 per cent a year, contrasted to our 6. At the top, a fistful of top Russian scientists are justifiably world famous.

Despite this, new studies indicate Russian industry advances into new fields only through the mammoth infusion at periodic intervals of American, West German and other Western knowhow. All countries buy or borrow scientific, engineering and operational knowledge from third nations. But Russia's strong dependence on American technology despite its own heavy and increasing expenditures for research and development, indicates something is radically wrong with its methods.

The import of U.S. knowledge goes on continuously. But the major surges are large indeed. Each leap forward in new directions in Soviet industry has been preceded by and seemingly dependent on these imports:

The development of basic Soviet industry in the 1920s, the breakthrough into electronics and advanced chemicals and chemical processes after World War II, and today's drive toward giant complex computers and ultrasophisticated electronics.

The reasons given for this Soviet inability to reach into new industrial fields, or to push into advanced technology without American assistance, are varied:

—The Soviet Union's most brilliant scientists concentrate on highly theoretical work where they will have less supervision and harassment by rabid Party managers. Or they operate in military fields approved by the party.

—Second and third-echelon scientists and engineers seem to concentrate on conventional approaches and find themselves unable to translate their discoveries into practical industrial techniques, except at an extremely slow pace. They frequently emphasize "bigness" rather than breakthroughs. A recent Soviet novel blames this lack of intellectual daring on the Soviet education system and, by implication, on Soviet society. The push for conformity is so great that college graduates have little ability left to think new thoughts. The book has not been banned . . . as of this writing.

—Most Soviet scientists, unlike their American counterparts, are located in special research institutes, isolated from problems faced in industry. Seventy-five per cent of U.S. scientists are connected with manufacturing concerns and other operating units in the field; 12 per cent of Soviet scientists have such connections.

—The Soviet emphasis on centralized planning leaves the local industrial manager little room for making experiments and taking chances. He must meet quotas at any cost. There is practically no payoff for innovation — which inevitably is costly in current production.

There's a lesson here for the United States. Recent studies on American schools indicate that the magnificent creativity and imaginativeness noticed particularly in two and three-year-olds, is squeezed out of most American students by the fourth grade. There has been a push in recent years to isolate scientists in government, university and other institutional shops and away from real world workbenches. And there has been an increasing drive in this country for ever-larger industry and supergovernment planning. This ends up in centralized bureaucratic decisions, either in Washington or in the head offices of conglomerates and other giant industries.

Guns in the UN

The United Nations this week lost a large measure of its credibility as an international forum dedicated to the cause of peace. It did this by two actions. One was by voting, illegally, to bar South Africa from any further part in the present UN session. The second was by inviting Yassir el-Arafat to address the General Assembly, although Mr. Arafat represents no state but does represent an organization which has the blood of many innocent people on its hands.

The UN — dedicated to peace — thus had, addressing the Assembly, a terrorist who wore on his hip a holstered pistol which, one of his bodyguards boasted, was not only a real gun but was loaded. Viewers heard Mr. Arafat, to the applause of many UN representatives, threaten the world much as Adolf Hitler threatened it in the late 1930s. "I have come bearing an olive branch and a freedom fighter's gun. Do not let the olive branch fall from my hand." In other words, give me what I want or I will loose death and destruction. Perhaps it is only coincidence that Mr. Arafat's main target is, as was Hitler's, the Jewish people.

Only hours before Mr. Arafat received the red carpet treatment, a majority of the General Assembly, which is dominated by representatives of small and so-called "emerging" nations of Africa and Asia, voted to bar South Africa from the present session. This was their way of showing their disapproval of South Africa's racial policies — a disapproval that is shared by many countries and many people. But it is extremely doubtful if the Assembly's foolish and illegal action will do anything at all to correct the situation. On the contrary, it is more likely to drive South Africa into a harder line. This would indeed be regrettable, particularly in light of statements by South African spokesmen which seem to indicate a softening in the apartheid line. Recently, South Africa's ambassador to the UN, R. F. Botha (who has been called home to Pretoria as a result of the Assembly's action) said that the South African government does not condone discrimination purely on the grounds of race and color and "we shall do everything in our power to move away from discrimination based on race and color." That statement might be hard to accept, especially by those UN members who have their minds made up that there is no good in South Africa. But expulsion of the Union from the UN will simply compound, not resolve, difficulties.

To their credit, Canada, the United States, Britain, France and West Germany voted against the Assembly ruling. Canada did so on the correct ground that the Charter does not give the Assembly the power it took to itself. Not only is the action illegal, it is illogical in the extreme, although when the rampant nationalism of some of the newer countries takes over, logic flies out the window. If it is right to expel South Africa because of its treatment of some of its people, why should Kenya be permitted to remain after its treatment of its Asians? Or Uganda, after what Amin had done to some of his people? Or the Soviet Union, in light of its treatment of the Jews and of minority races? And so on and so on. No nation has clean hands.

As long as the General Assembly can be used by narrow nationalists to exploit differences in color, creed, ideologies, the reputation of the United Nations will continue to decline.

"NO PETS!"

Poignant human drama

WASHINGTON — Behind the dull statistics, which measure our deepening economic distress, is a poignant human drama. We have conducted our own economic survey to get the human side of the story.

We have sent reporters into the nation's most fashionable neighborhoods and its most scrubby ghettos. We have spoken to the gentle folks on Sen. James Eastland's plantation in Sunflower County, Miss. And we have talked to their impoverished neighbors, who sit on creaking porches with dull eyes and gnawing hunger pains. We have made spot checks on economic conditions across America.

Everywhere, people are complaining about hard times. New York brokers, despairing over the stock market slump are pulling out of their houses and heading South. They hope to find better financial opportunities in Atlanta and Houston. Ghetto blacks, reversing the previous flow, are also drifting southward. Their families had tended the fields in the Deep South since slave days. Then, suddenly, they were made obsolete by tractors and automatic cotton-pickers. Many of them moved northward to fill up the ghettos of the big cities. They now find life in the ghettos so bleak, so bitter, that those who can scrape up the bus fare are heading back home.

Probably the worst off are the migrant farm laborers, the thousands of faceless men and women and their anonymous children who move with the harvest, stopping only long enough to pick a crop and to earn enough to subsist until the next stop.

The average stoop laborer, according to United Farm Workers official Gilbert Padilla, earns a meager $3,000 a year. For these wandering workers, who move from crop to crop in beat-up trucks, the gasoline price rise has been a disaster.

Even more serious has been the increase in the price of beans from 18 to 69 cents a pound. Many migrant workers, who help make America the best fed nation in history, are themselves undernourished. Some are too poor to afford even the government stamps to buy cut-price food, and they exist on a diet of starches and water.

Jack Anderson's

Washington Merry-go-round

Some have settled in California's Sunbelt country, where life is a bit better. They live in grower-owned mobile trailers and wooden houses on the edges of the groves.

The ranchers like to keep their stoop workers stooped and submissive. As one technique for keeping them down on the farm at the prevailing wages, the landowners welcome peddlers driving station wagons piled with tacky merchandise. The credit sales help hold the laborers in financial bondage.

Not far from this poverty, growers live in baronial splendor, with poolside parties, skeet shooting and social soirees. But if the tinkling of highball glasses can be heard in their fine houses, there is also much grumbling and grouching. One of the managers of the magnificent Limonera Ranch complained to us that the orange harvest was off 25 per cent, labor costs are up 15 per cent and profits are down 50 per cent.

On the 5,800 acres of Sen. James Eastland's plantation outside Doddsville, Miss., there is also deepening gloom. "We've had a lot of heavy rains," one of the senator's womenfolk complained to my associate George Clifford. And when the bolls get sodden, she averred, you can't pick much cotton.

"The heavy machinery we're using now can't get on the fields to do the picking," she said. "Several of the other counties around here have been designated as natural disaster areas, but I don't believe Sunflower County has qualified."

If the county should qualify for federal emergency funds, it won't be the first time. Sen. Eastland has collected from the government for not being able to harvest. In recent years, he has stashed away hundreds of thousands of dollars from Washington in price supports for cotton he did not plant. The money was a fringe benefit from the laws he helped to write as the single most powerful man in the Senate.

Others living on the black soil of the delta, however, measure their government handouts in tens and twenties, not hundreds of thousands. They are the sharecroppers and the farm hands, who eke out a living running the machinery in the cotton fields. The most they can earn, when they can find work, is $2 an hour. "I haven't heard of none that are getting higher," one of the senator's less-blessed neighbors told us.

Doctors at Mt. Bayou hospital, not far from Eastland's plantation, told us that despite the federal food stamp program, they still treat "a lot of cases of malnutrition."

"Every day," said one doctor, "I see people who have no health insurance and no Medicaid. And they have no food, either."

Not even the sugar growers, whose prices for raw sugar have shot up from 45 cents a pound three years ago to 67.2 cents a pound today, are happy.

George Wedgworth, head of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative, representing about 150 farms between the southern edge of Lake Okeechobee and the Everglades in southern Florida, grumbled about government controls. "Consumers are going to have to pay more," he said.

Some 8,000 workers have been imported from the West Indies for the back-breaking harvest, which is just beginning. American agricultural workers won't hack down the sugar cane with heavy machetes for the minimum $2.45 an hour. "You and I probably wouldn't last a day," Wedgworth said. "But those accustomed to it prefer being here to working in the West Indies."

In sum, the economic downturn isn't merely a question of dollars. It is an issue of human misery.

Don Oakley

Congress opts for morals over might

By Don Oakley

Two recent compromises arrived at between Congress and the President suggest that this nation is at long last returning to certain principles that have guided it for most of its history.

The first had to do with the question of military aid to Turkey, the second with future U.S.-Soviet trade relations. A majority in both houses — though not the two-thirds majority needed to override a presidential veto — had demanded an immediate and total cutoff of military shipments to Turkey because that country's invasion of Cyprus violated U.S. law requiring that such aid be used for defensive purposes only.

In the compromise, the ban will be postponed until Dec. 10, unless in the meantime Turkey violates the cease-fire agreement, increases its forces on Cyprus or transfers additional U.S. "implements of war" to the island.

In the other compromise, Russia will be required to permit the annual emigration of a minimum of 60,000 of its citizens, mostly Jews desiring to go to Israel, in return for liberalized trade concessions.

Congress simply did not buy the argument advanced by the President and the secretary of state that an aid cutoff would antagonize Turkey, jeopardize the Cyprus peace negotiations and possibly cause a serious rift in the NATO alliance. Or if it did buy it, Congress decided that some things were more important than the questionable necessity of maintaining Turkey as a bastion against a potential Soviet military thrust into the eastern Mediterranean.

Nor was Congress frightened by Leonid Brezhnev's warning not to mix politics with trade. Congressional disenchantment with our decades-old cold-war policy of arming and supporting any regime so long as it was nominally anti-Communist has been a long time a-building. The events of 1974 — Cyprus, the collapse of the Greek dictatorship and revelations about the CIA's role in "destabilizing" the government of Marxist President Allende of Chile — merely brought it to a focus.

President Ford has defended our actions in Chile on the ground that "the other side does it" and that to frustrate the designs of the enemy we must adopt the methods of the enemy.

Yet if any government deserved "destabilizing" by us, it was that of the Greek military dictators. Had it not been for them, there would have been no Turkish invasion of Cyprus. But because we placed such overriding value on a handful of bases in Greece, we now find ourselves in the situation where we may have lost not only the bases but the trust and friendship of both countries.

Ironically, at the same time the President defended our right to meddle in the internal affairs of Chile, we were told that the realities of U.S.-Soviet detente precluded our taking a stand on behalf of human rights in the Soviet Union.

The fundamental question which Americans seem finally to be bringing themselves to address is whether America is so weak, so desperately dependent upon the allegiance of dubious allies, that our survival in the face of militant communism (or our accommodation with it) requires the would defend.

Although we seem at times to have forgotten it, this country retains strengths that cannot be measured in terms of armaments or allies. This is still the land of freedom and opportunity to which tens of millions flock in our nation-building days and to which tens of millions around the world still look for leadership. Our moral example, not our missiles, is our real fortress.

By its actions on Turkish military aid and Soviet emigration, Congress has lifted up a banner of liberty, integrity and decency we had permitted to dip rather low in recent years.

Nixon wanted Mitchell to take Watergate rap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former president Richard Nixon, faced with news that the seams of the Watergate cover-up were popping, decided in April, 1973, that John Mitchell, former attorney-general, would have to take the blame and face criminal indictment for the scandal.

"The jig is up," John Ehrlichman, a defendant in the cover-up trial, advised Nixon to tell Mitchell.

White House tapes played at the trial showed, however, that Nixon concluded that Ehrlichman, not the president, would have to persuade Mitchell to go to the prosecutors.

"You've got to say that this is the toughest decision he's (the President) made," Nixon says in an April 14, 1973, conversation.

At the meeting attended by Ehrlichman and another cover-up defendant, M. R. Haldeeman, Nixon said the decision to force Mitchell out was tougher than presidential decisions to send troops into Cambodia and bomb North Vietnam.

In another trial development, a former lawyer for Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt testified he kept a crucial memorandum secret for 1 1/2 years because assertions in the memo about the cover-up were not true.

HAS GREAT IMPACT

The memo, described by Watergate prosecutors as "bombshell evidence," was written by Hunt on Nov. 14, 1972.

Disclosed first at the trial on Nov. 4, the memo demonstrates the original Watergate defendants expected money and clemency even before they went on trial in January, 1973.

Hunt's original lawyer, William Bittman, said he remembered discussing clemency for the defendants "in a humorous vein" with cover-up defendant

Kenneth Parkinson about the same time the memo was written.

Despite that, Bittman said he never read the memo until April or May, 1973, and never believed that money paid Hunt was intended to buy his silence.

Bittman, a former federal prosecutor, said that on May 31 he turned a copy of the Hunt memo over to Herbert Miller, who now represents Nixon.

Bittman testified in the jury's absence that Miller had been called in to represent Bittman because of questions raised about more than $100,000 Bittman had received as Hunt's lawyer.

PARTIALLY A BRIBE

Testimony at the trial has shown the money was at least partly intended to buy the original defendants' silence as well as to pay the legal fees.

Asked if he didn't consider it important to tell the prosecutors he knew of the existence of a copy of the Hunt memorandum, Bittman said he considered the memo to fall within attorney-client confidences. He also said the memo contradicted all of Hunt's various testimony in which the retired CIA agent always denied accepting hush money.

Bittman, who has denied knowledge of the existence of the memo for federal grand juries, said he turned a copy over to Watergate prosecutors when he read in the newspapers that Hunt had testified he had indeed been paid for his silence.

BEATING BACK all challengers, world champion spaghetti-eater Mike Aprile of Tampa, Fla., downed almost seven pounds of pasta to defend his title. In preparation for the big event, the 387-pound champ consumed a few pounds of spaghetti during a tour of Philadelphia where the contest was held.

Family planning affects house building for India

BOMBAY (CP) — Sardar Ujjal Singh, a 45-year-old farmer in the north Indian state of Haryana, was in a fix. He had no cement to complete the two-storey house he was constructing for his eldest daughter.

When all efforts to get some cement failed—the blackmarket price was too high for Singh—a local government official gave him a bright idea.

He told the farmer that government is giving special cement quotas for farmers who agree to undergo a vasectomy.

Singh not only expressed his willingness to have himself sterilized at the nearest family planning clinic but even persuaded his two younger brothers, aged 43 and 40, to undergo a vasectomy.

The result: enough cement to complete the building.

Reports say that in the Roh-tak area of Haryana state alone more than 2,000 people have been sterilized in one month against offers of precious cement.

Now, the Haryana government is thinking of linking family planning to other scarce commodities like steel, tractors, motorcycles and cars.

GIVEN FERTILIZER

In the state of Uttar Pradesh, peasants can get additional quotas of much-needed fertilizers at government-controlled prices if they agree to sterilization.

Some countries in Gujarat state are giving landless agricultural workers uncultivated land if they agree to limit their children to three.

Two Indian states—West Bengal and Maharashtra—have been having second thoughts on the subject of giving incentives for family planning.

The West Bengal government feels that the system of incentives is being abused in some rural areas. Press reports say that some government officials deprived illiterate farmers of the cash incentives given to them.

But on the whole the idea of linking family planning with concrete benefits seems to be catching on in this overpopulated nation.

Some senior officials in the federal ministry of health say that incentives in various forms are among the best ways of promoting the family-planning idea.

One proposal being discussed by the government is to give scholarships to children of industrial workers who have undergone a sterilization operation to enable them to go to college.

The compact Dodge Dart for 1975. We call it a keeper because it's built for people like you. People who expect to keep a new car for a long time. People who want to get every dollar's worth out of their investment.

We start with a rugged Unibody, with over 4,000 welds to keep it strong and silent. Then that body gets a seven-stage rustproofing treatment.

Under the hood we put one of the most reliable engines ever—the famed 225 CID Slant Six. It's the same kind of engine that has run up millions of miles in Dodge taxi cabs. And like all Dodge engines, the Slant Six uses either leaded or unleaded fuel. So you can use any gasoline—you don't have to go searching for a special kind of fuel.

Where are they now

Dear Ann Landers: Where are all those advocates of premarital sex when it comes time to pick up the pieces after a "momentary mistake"? And what do the advocates do to help prevent such "mistakes"?

Do they tell the kids that though a relationship may be "meaningful" to one partner it may be purely self-satisfaction, an ego trip, or mere condescension on the part of the other?

Do they tell the kids that a "meaningful relationship" may be so meaningful that one partner may have an overwhelming desire to cement that relationship with a child?

Do they tell the kids that they should NEVER count on the other person to take precautions—and that to be perfectly safe, both parties should count on themselves?

Do they tell the kids that a girl's most intense desires are very likely to accompany her most fertile time? ("Just this once?")

Do they tell the kids that a person's "love" might be severely dampened by resentment and turn to full-fledged hate should that person feel trapped?

Do they tell the kids that alternative solutions to an unwanted pregnancy are vastly more difficult to handle than coping with the challenges of virginity?

Do they tell the kids that the legality of abortion is insignificant compared to the emotional trauma?

Do they tell the kids that giving up a child for adoption is no simple matter for anyone who has had a "meaningful relationship"?

Do they tell the girls that keeping an out-of-wedlock baby goes far beyond the enjoyment of having a cute little bundle of joy to cuddle and take for a stroll in the perambulator?

Where are those advocates of premarital sex when it's time to mend lives suffering from their advice? — A Shoulder To Cry On

Dear Shoulder: Thank you for a good letter. I'm glad you offered your shoulder to "cry on." Mine is already the wettest in the U.S.A. (Are you listening, students?)

Dear Ann Landers: We came to the United States from the Netherlands a year ago and like it very much. There are two things about your country we cannot understand.

A company that sells fried chicken advertises that it is "finger-lickin' good." In our country, children learn table manners. Licking the fingers is considered vulgar. We do not want our children to imitate this custom. What should we tell them?

The second thing is the way your clergymen run to the front door of the church after the worship service and sermon to collect compliments. They shake hands with all who leave and revel in the high praise of their sermon. This is completely foreign to us and we would like to avoid it. How? — New Americans

Dear New: In America it is considered O.K. to eat crisp fried chicken with the hands. If you don't want your children to lick their fingers, tell them to use silverware.

WI meetings

DUNHAM — A regular meeting of the Dunham W.I. met at the home of Mrs. S. Bidner Wed., evening, with thirteen members in attendance. The members replied to the roll call, by telling what the W.I. had done for them or meant to them. It was well answered, and one member did so with an original poem composed by herself. (See end of meeting).

The president expressed sincere sympathies to Mrs. Comeau who had recently lost her mother.

A discussion re UNICEF followed. Though for some years this Branch has canvassed very successfully, it was felt that since the Catholic School was endeavoring to do so, that we would not. We regret that many homes were not visited, however, with the kind co-operation of the Heroes' Elementary school, personal donations among the members attending this meeting, and the sum of $25.00 voted from the Branch W.I. funds we are able to report the sum to be sent from this Branch to be $57.52.

A donation was voted to be sent to the Heroes Elementary School Committee towards their expenses for their annual Fall Fair.

Correspondence included a thank you note from Mrs. Comeau, and one from the County President for helping with the success of the County card party, recently held in Cowansville. Several members present, who did not help with refreshments for this, gave donations of money.

The sec'y passed out copies of the Federated News to the members, and the Canadian Consumer magazine to the Home Economics Convenor.

Reports of convenors followed: Mrs. McLaughlin, Agriculture, read from Time magazine, Rent a Tree.

Citizenship, Mrs. J. Harvey, lead in the singing of O Canada, in commemoration of Remembrance Day, and read a letter to the editor of Sherbrooke Record, written by a resident of Stanbridge East, about hunters shooting eight tame ducks on the mill pond.

Few Foods Caused Illnesses Reported from the Montreal Star was the article read by Welfare and Health, Mrs. Comeau.

There was some discussion about the local farmers "demonstrating" in protests of produce prices. After a few minutes the president brought the meeting to order again.

Due to personal commitments, Mrs. C. Harvey felt it necessary to resign her duties as Publicity convenor for the Branch, and as there were no willing volunteers, Mrs. J. Harvey accepted the request by the President to finish out the year "as a special favor."

It was decided to hold no fund raising project this Fall, but a tentative suggestion was made to hold a card party or two after the Christmas holidays, and early in the spring.

The members are reminded to bring a small gift at the next meeting for the "exchange of gifts among members". As there are more members than aged folks at Eva Yates, it was decided that each member donate $2.00 each, and the Welfare and Health convenor will see to the purchasing of gifts for each, according to the likes of the individuals.

Three members from this Branch attended the Salon d'Agriculture at Place Bonaventure in Montreal, Oct. 31 and 1.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, a silent auction was held and a fair sum realized from it.

The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Doherty on Wed., Dec. 4.

My Opinions about the W.I.

The W.I. meetings are a monthly retreat

I cook and clean, make beds and sweep floors

And have to pretend that I never am bored.

At our meetings I learn of new recipes to cook

And if I have time, I may make a book...

I learn about farming, the prices and such.

And if they are high, I even will fuss.

The health tips I learn, sometimes can be helpful.

But sometimes the remedies may make me feel terrible.

For me, personally speaking, it's a change of routine.

And my W.I. membership means a great deal to me.

Because, being a member, I have many friends

And my wish is my daughters will keep up the trend.

For friends are a "must" in this world of today...

To me, in one word, the W.I. is "okay".

STANBRIDGE EAST — The Stanbridge East Women's Institute was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ronald Short on Thurs. p.m., Nov. 7 with 21 members in attendance.

The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. M. Tait asking members to observe one minute of silence in memory of those who gave their lives in World Wars I and II.

After the opening exercises the group sang Pack Up Your Troubles with Mrs. B. Moore at the piano. Roll call was Wear a Poppy and Tell something you have learned about another country that is different or unusual. Some of the countries named were Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Argentina, Australia, Norway, United States, Bangladesh, Tibet and Greenland.

The secretary, Mrs. Symington, reported that eight members and two guests from this Branch had gone on the bus from Cowansville to visit the Salon d'Agriculture at Place Bonaventure on Oct. 31 and had enjoyed the demonstrations on cooking and freezing vegetables and meat and the displays pertaining to Agriculture.

The treasurer, Mrs. TenEyck's report was very satisfactory. Several bills were presented and voted to be paid. She was also authorized to send the Service Fund of $1 per member and $10 to the Northern Extension Fund.

Correspondence included several thank-you notes for sympathy, one from the Davitts on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary and one from Mrs. K. Smith who now lives with her son and family at Brownsburg, Que.

Convenors' reports: Agriculture, Mrs. C. Harvey read about a farm in Florida operated by a group of women.

Citizenship: Mrs. Shepardson read an extract from The Stream Runs Fast by Nellie McClung which was timely for Armistice Day. She also handed in the proceeds collected by the pupils of Stanbridge East Elementary School for UNICEF which totalled $97.00. This was a very gratifying sum and the W.I. thank the pupils who collected and the Principal, Mr. Gunson.

Education: Mrs. Riordon gave the measures on heat, temperatures, etc. in the Metric System.

Home Economics: Mrs. Corey gave tips on preventing drains from clogging by use of washing soda in dishwasher and in cleaning sink.

Publicity: Mrs. Tremblay gave out the Federated News pamphlets and urged members to read it as it contains so much of interest to W.I. members. She also gave the rules for quilt making, which is one of the classes of the Tweedsmuir Competitions for 1975.

Welfare & Health: Mrs. J. Moore had charge of the program for this month. She first thanked those who had contributed to the boxes for unitarian relief - 2 big boxes were shipped from this Branch. She also brought up the subject as to what we would do re Christmas gifts and it was voted to send a box of gifts to a parish in Yukon and that instead of exchanging gifts among members we put the money in an envelope to be given to the Retarded Children's Home in Bedford, to buy gifts for those who could enjoy them. Mrs. Moore also gave out forms from the Kidney Foundation of Canada for the Organ Donor Program and read an article on new methods and treatments being used at Santa Cabrini Hospital, Montreal. She ended the program by a game of charades on names of diseases which brought the program to a hilarious end.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Riordon, Mrs. Stolliker and Mrs. Shepardson.

Sexism and slander

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Economy Co., a publisher whose Grade 7 and 8 readers were unanimously rejected for use in Texas schools, filed a $30 million libel and slander suit Tuesday against three women who attacked the books.

Named as defendants in the state district court suit were Mrs. Billy C. Hutcheson of Fort Worth, Linda Eichblatt of Clark Lake City and Mrs. R. C. Bearden Jr. of San Angelo.

The company, based in Oklahoma City, said in its petition that the women's opposition to the books before the state board of education Nov. 8 caused the failure of the volumes to win adoption. This, the firm said, caused not only a loss in sales but also damage to Economy's national reputation.

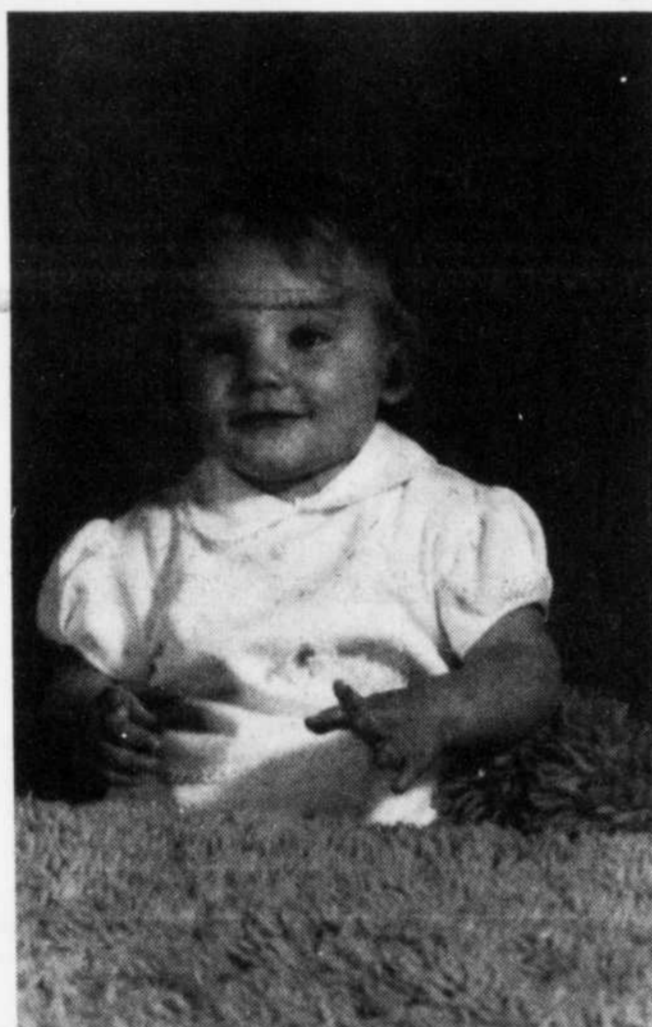

Mrs. Hutcheson, speaking for herself, and Mrs. Bearden, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution, contended mainly that the books contained too much violence and crime. Ms. Eichblatt, speaking for a feminist group, agreed and also said the books were "sexist."

Earlier, the books had been recommended by the state textbook committee, a group of 15 educationists appointed by the state board of education to screen proposed texts.

The company's petition says the three women "demonstrated their own racism, bigotry, sexism, prejudice and provincialism by attacking specifically and directly selections written both by and about members of racial minority groups."

Nfld. road show sells province

NEW YORK (CP) — Premier Frank Moores of Newfoundland called his "road show"—the selling of his province as an unfettered land that welcomes private investment.

He noted that he had been to Boston earlier with a similar message.

"Like a Broadway show, we tried it out in Boston to see what changes we would make in New York," he told a news conference in the posh Hotel Pierre Tuesday.

In recognition of the premier's visit, Mayor Abe Beame proclaimed the day Newfoundland Day.

Beame said in the proclamation that he welcomed Moores and his cabinet to the city and hoped that they would succeed in establishing closer business and commercial bonds between New York and Newfoundland.

Moores told a government-sponsored luncheon attended by some 200 invited guests including oil refiner John Shaheen that Newfoundland will not reject capital investment from the United States.

"My administration is determined not to stifle free enterprise, but to encourage it; not to hoard our energy reserves but to develop them; not to expropriate foreign investments but to promote them."

MANY OPPORTUNITIES

"There is no spot on the North American continent today that provides greater opportunities for development and investment than Newfoundland."

Virtually every U.S. aluminum company, and some from Europe, have shown serious interest in Newfoundland in recent months because of the proposed $1.2 billion hydroelectric power facility at Gull Island and deep water ports, Moores said.

"We have in Newfoundland right now the equivalent of an oil field that can produce 76 million barrels of oil a year forever . . . that is the energy equivalent of our renewable hydroelectric potential in Labrador."

One development alone, the hydroelectric power project at Churchill Falls, recently completed 18 months ahead of schedule, has an installed generating capacity of 5,225 megawatts. It is the largest single facility of its kind in the world.

The Churchill River hydro site at Gull Island would produce more than 1,600 megawatts which would be transmitted by a high-voltage direct current transmission system from Labrador to Newfoundland by way of an eight-mile tunnel under the ocean.

At the news conference, Moores said he believes Newfoundland could have an aluminum industry going by the end of the decade—a year after completion in 1979 of the lower Churchill Falls project at Gull Island.

The premier said, however, he wants any aluminum development to be more than just a smelter. There would have to be some way of getting more value added to the production of the smelter. One suggestion was to establish plants nearby using the aluminum for the manufacture of automobile parts.

Other Newfoundland officials at the luncheon, which featured Newfoundland salmon, were C. W. Doody, minister of industrial development; Finance Minister Val Earle, Fisheries Minister John Crosbie, and Denis Groom, chairman of the Churchill Falls Corp.

By M.G. ARMSTRONG

Mrs. Connie Lloyd was guest of honor this month at the nurses' birthday party when Mrs. E. Abercrombie, Miss K. Christie and Mrs. M. Armstrong acted as hostesses, and the decorations in the Rec. room and on the lunch table were in keeping with the Hallowe'en season.

500 was the game of the evening for which prizes were given.

A highly contested floating prize for a successful 9 no trump bid was finally captured and held by Mrs. G. Murray.

Mrs. Lloyd thanked the nurses for her lovely gift and the pleasant get-together.

Mrs. E. Wallis and Mrs. D. Gallup have returned to their nursing duties after being on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hamilton of the Apt's have left by motor to spend the winter months at their home in Lake Worth, Fla. We all wish them a good winter in the sunny south.

Several from here attended the bridge and 500 party in the St. Francis College auditorium, which concluded the I.O.D.E. marathon. Successful winners from the Home were Mr. and Mrs. J. Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. R. Lampron in 500 and Mrs. M. McCart and Mrs. M. Armstrong in bridge.

Local girls recently employed at the Home are Jean Powell, R.N.A. Barbara Whittingham and Karen Newman.

Although the weather on Armistice Day did not permit veterans and residents to attend the service at the Cenotaph, we were privileged to hear an inspiring sermon in keeping with the day by Canon Walker of Richmond. The Home choir with Miss A. Miller at the piano led in the singing of several patriotic hymns during the service.

Among the newcomers to the Home are: Miss E. McCourt, Richmond; Mr. L. Bartlett, Melbourne; Mr. H. Lowry and Mrs. E. Nugent, Sawyerville, and Mrs. M. Lockwood, Danville.

Through the thoughtfulness and generosity of the newly formed Community Dramatic Club of Richmond, complimentary tickets were made available for the dress rehearsal of "Mary - Mary" on Wednesday evening. Approximately 15 residents attended and thoroughly enjoyed the play.

Mrs. M. Gillen and the "Busy Bees" numbering about 15 ladies are meeting weekly now that the summer recess is over. They are presently occupied with making bibs, dressings and basket liners.

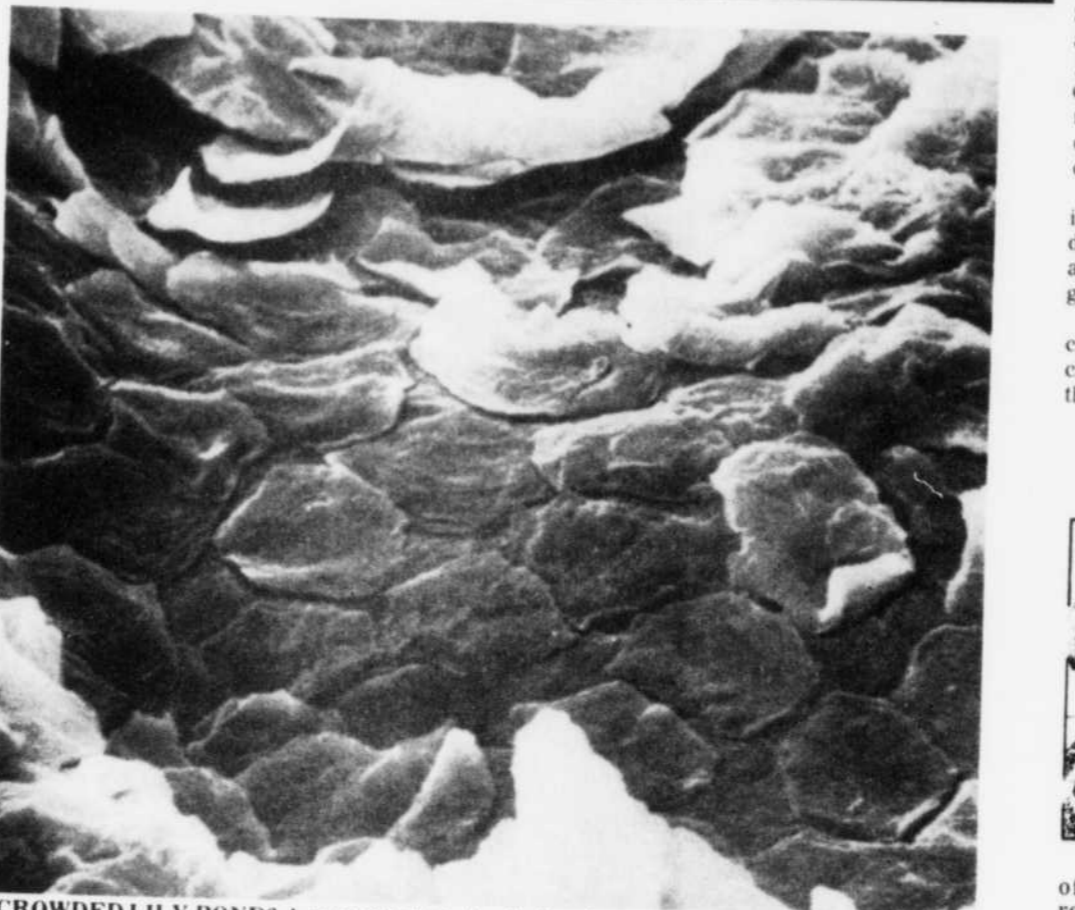

Mrs. Gillen is a highly esteemed volunteer and the ladies enjoy working under her direction.

Residents here are acutely aware of the needs of others in this and other countries, and have been most generous in their contributions to the Bible Society — UNICEF, and Poppy and Christmas seal sales, in recent weeks. A "Grandmothers' Club" and numbering about 25, organized in 1959 and active over the years has been financially responsible for a boy in China and a girl in Korea until they reach the age of 18.

As these original members grew older and looked to the future they raised and donated enough cash to care for a girl in So. Africa, aged 11 until she is able to care for herself at about 18 yrs. and have forwarded the cash to headquarters as there are now only 6 remaining members of this group and 4 of them are over 90 yrs. of age.

The cost for a foster child now is one hundred and forty four dollars annually. Congratulations are in order for this splendid group of ladies.

ACW meeting

AYER'S CLIFF — The ACW of St. George's Anglican Church at Ayer's Cliff held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, Nov. 7, in the Parish Hall. Mrs. Richie Harrison took the chair for the business meeting.

Plans were finalized for the Christmas Tea and Sale to be held on Thursday, Dec. 6, at 3:00 p.m. The price will be $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children for a chicken salad plate.

Mrs. Imogene Browning and Mrs. Royce Martin were appointed as a nominating committee to select the slate of officers for the new year, since this will be the last meeting of this year.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. J. Atkinson introduced Dr. Nelson of Sherbrooke to the members and several guests who had joined the meeting at this point. Dr. Nelson spoke of the work he has done in clinics giving medical assistance to the Indians on reservations in the area north of Joliette. He described conditions on the reservations as such that left much room for improvement. Many questions were asked from the floor and the answers were very enlightening and informative, although as was stated, in order to really understand what is happening on the reservations, a person would have to go there and see for himself.

After the question and answer period, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Alice Vance, hostess for the month, assisted by several members of the ACW and a social hour was spent in chatting and viewing slides that Dr. Nelson had brought with him.

The Godfather was most viewed TV program of week

NEW YORK (AP) — The first segment of the movie The Godfather, televised by NBC Saturday night, was easily last week's most-watched television program in the United States, A. C. Nielsen ratings figures show.

But the 1972 box office hit, seen in more than 25-million homes, still didn't draw as many viewers as expected, NBC officials said.

It failed to exceed the ratings for ABC's Oct. 27 showing of The Poseidon Adventure, the season's highest-rated theatrical movie on U.S. TV. That broadcast was seen in an estimated 27-million homes.

NBC broadcast the second segment of The Godfather Monday, but Nielsen ratings on it won't be available until next week.

The Godfather was shown in a single unit in Ontario two weeks ago.

NBC paid a record $10 million for the right to show the movie once on TV, said the film's maker, Paramount Pictures.

Nielsen ratings for the week of Nov. 11-17 show the 20 most-watched evening programs

His new career comes easily because . . .

Marjoe has always acted

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — There is something about his eyes — suddenly you understand.

How could a small boy have become such a wonder as Marjoe was when he was billed as "The World's Youngest Evangelist?" They called him "Miracle Child," too, in those days in the early '50s when he spread the gospel throughout the South.

It is in his eyes, even now, even after he's given up religious work to become an actor. Those bright blue eyes hold you, smile at you, beckon you. And you cannot help but respond.

You can imagine how it must have been, 20 years ago, when the blond hair was carefully arranged in appealing ringlets, when the pudgy little fingers clasped the Bible, when those eyes looked out of the angelic young face and the childish voice spouted those carefully-rehearsed sermons.

"Oh, I saved some souls in those days," Marjoe Gortner says today, smiling at the memory, shaking his head with sadness or wonder or perhaps a little of both. "And I did some healing, too."

Then he hastens to explain his current feeling, that the healing was not miraculous, merely another example of the power of suggestion, the power of the mind.

His current feeling about religion is worth examining. Since he has abandoned preaching and evangelism the belief has spread that he has also abandoned religion. Untrue.

"It is wrong to say that I have lost all religion," Marjoe says. "I still believe in God. I am not an atheist."

"But I believe that God is within us. God is in man. I don't believe in any organized church any more. And I don't go to any church any more."

Even as a child, he recognized the falseness of the evangelical approach, at least as it was being practiced by his family. He was supposed to be delivering his sermons extemporaneously but he had to learn them, word for word.

At 7, he knew that the whole structure of his life and the evangelism was phony. He knew it was just a con job.

But, at 7, he did what his mother and father told him to do. When he was a teen-ager, he could rebel — and he did. For some years, he kicked around, doing nothing or very little. In the late '60s, he even tried to go back on the preaching trail but it was too late.

A funky, frenetic mery-go-round

MONTREAL (CP) — Different is a word that goes down fairly easily at The Limelight. Its devotees call it paradise—a funky, frenetic mery-go-round where the rockers can kick up their heels until 6 a.m. without ever wanting to quit.

The detractors, and there are some, see it as some kind of a freaked out Fellini movie where inhibitions took flight long ago.

But no matter which way their prejudice lie, people are talking about The Limelight—one of Montreal's growing number of "integrated" night-spots.

The club continues to pack them in and by 1 a.m. on a Sunday morning, the downtownies are clustered in droves outside The Limelight's huge neon-lit entrance.

Some see it as an oasis of chic, the "now crowd's" watering hole where the singles can mingle, dance, exchange gossip and glances and generally soak in an atmosphere which seems at times to resemble a blast furnace.

But says one diehard regular: "The great thing about this place is that you have all kinds of people—gay and straight—mixing in together and having a good time. And frankly, there's a lot less tension about getting hustled."

Maybe so, but the cruising still goes on—the anxious glances of people looking to meet another body for a moment, a dance or a night. HAPPENING NOW

The Limelight scene continues to attract the fashion groupies who come to acquaint themselves with what is happening NOW. A girl looking much like Carmen Maranda in exotic plumes and Latin rhythm stands by the exit telling a would-be Hedy Lamarr that the look this fall is definitely supple and loose and the accessory of the season is the muffler—in silk, cashmere and wool.

Nearby, a couple of transvestites sit surveying the passing scene, clucking absently about the relative merits of the fox-trot, and a middle-aged couple is trying to make a way through the sea of faces to the nearest exit.

The crowd is young and mostly "stoned", sipping gin, beer or orange juice because, says one girl, it's easy to drink with speed.

One night everyone is dressing down. A brunette stands poised a la Lauren Bacall in her pegged jeans, tousled bob and rhinestone wedgies sporting an enormous cigarette holder on which is engraved the words PICK ME in sweet-heart roses. The left side of her face is emblazoned with a crescent of green glitter make-up.

"For effect," she says. "Not that this really isn't me because it probably is where my head's at now. But it's fun to make believe—being somebody I can't be out there. And I dig it."

"Digging it" or being into the scene is much of what The Limelight is all about—like looking at a Chagall painting and admiring the beauty of so much disorder.

The enormous dance floor is filled with men and women rocking and swaying to some rhythm and blues number—faces, eyes closed or glancing furtively to the next pair of eyes.

Overhead a huge cut-glass globe whirls the night away . . . the flashing strobe lights reflecting off the sparkling prisms. On each side of the floor, the bleachers are filled with spectators—the stoned or simply exhausted ravishing a cigarette or a joint until the energy returns and they can once again re-enter the twirling island—much like the troupers in the film version of They Shoot Horses, Don't They?

SPECTATOR SPORT
"It's a spectator sport more than anything else," says a young man looking much like rock-star David Bowie.

"And it's where a lot of people are letting a lot of their hang-ups and their frustrations drift away from even an hour in the lights, the music and the people."

An entrance fee of $3 is charged on weekends and $1 on weekdays but a $25 "friendship card" will get most people in free on Mondays, Tuesday and Wednesdays for a year.

Decor, the owners have found, is not always what makes a discotheque popular and so The Limelight has made do with parquet floors, metallic wall paper and lights, lots of them.

It is the disc jockey who makes it all come together, changing the rhythm of the dancers with the ease in which he changes a record, and the core of regulars will often ask him to "Play it again, Sam," or Dick or whoever happens to be manning the big board.

One girl decked out in a hoop shirt and lilacs says she is a secretary of sorts during the week but likes to make herself up for Saturday "cause it's a lot more fun than going bowling."

And at five or six or whatever time the music slows down there's still one couple cat-dancing under the crystal ball as Billie Holiday belts out the last strains of Ain't Nobody's Business If I Do.

%#$@* does not compute

Speaking of basic education, a computer at the University of Akron is demonstrating the kind of pedagogical moxie that seems to have become a thing of the past among human teachers on some campuses. It won't tolerate any student who swears at it or uses obscene language.

According to Tim Taylor, assistant director of the university's computer-assisted instruction center, the moralistic machine has been "programmed with every cuss word" they could think of. Also with patience. It is only after it has been insulted three times that the computer lays down the law by saying, "Now I've had enough. You apologize or shall we just quit working?"

If the offending student doesn't apologize, the computer shuts off.

ALBERT E. BROUILLETTE of Mansenville
After a period of failing health, the death of Albert Ernest Brouillette occurred at Queen Mary Veterans Hospital, Montreal on November 1, 1974. Albert was born in Sawyerville, Que., on May 19, 1897, and came to Mansenville with his family in late 1903, where his father had built an electric power plant. He attended the local elementary school and later a seminary in Stanstead.
Albert was very proud to have served his country in two World Wars. During World War I he served in Canada and overseas with the Canadian Engineers. In July 1940 he enlisted with the Royal Canadian Artillery and again served overseas. On returning to Canada he remained in the army until August 1947.
Before serving in World War II he was employed for many years by Mansenville Utilities Limited and engaged in farming. After returning to civilian life, he was employed at St. Joseph's Hospital in Granby as an orderly. Poor health forced him to retire in 1962.
In 1921 he married the late Iris Bailey. Of this union five daughters were born, all of whom survive him. Since the death of his wife in 1966, he has been tenderly cared for by his daughters, Barbara and Betty.
One of his great joys was to see small children at play. His love and concern for young people will well be remembered by those who knew him. He will also be remembered as a good friend and neighbor — always willing to lend a helping hand.
Those left to mourn his loss are his daughters: Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson (Betty), Miss Barbara Brouillette, both of Mansenville, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robidas (Jeanne) of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Duckless (Louise) of Newport, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Roger St. Hilaire (Helen) of St. Michel, Que. and 14 grandchildren. Also Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fontaine (sister), Mrs. James Aker (sister) of Clermont, Fla., Mrs. Wm. Wright III, Larchmont, N.Y., and Rev. Sister Mary Louise Bertrand (sister), West Springfield, Mass. as well

Youth Centre holds party

MELBOURNE — The Melbourne Township Youth Centre held their annual Halloween Party in the Melbourne Township Hall on Saturday afternoon, October 26 at 2 p.m., with 50 young folk present from under 5 years up, all dressed in various costumes which made the decision of the judges very hard.
The lucky winners were as follows: 5 years and under — Best dressed, Anik Brosseau; most original — Paul Gallup; funniest — Andrew Gillis, 6 to 8 years: Best dressed — Daniel Mahew; most original — Caren Frazer; funniest — Johnny Borden; 9-10 years — Best dressed — Rodney Clarke; most original — Eva Geofroy; funniest — Wayne Hughes; 11 to 12 years: Best dressed — Charlotte Fowler; most original — Rhoda Blake; funniest — Debbie Garrett.

Games were organized by Miss Diane Hughes, Miss Debbie Eastman and their friends for all ages and groups.
At the close of a very pleasant afternoon, refreshments were served and everyone returned home, having had a very happy time.

All You Can Rule
Cornelius van Bynkershoek, a judge on Holland's highest court, ruled in 1703 that a coastal nation controlled as much of the seas as it could dominate from land. This came to mean one nautical league — about three miles — or the range of a cannon fired from shore. The "cannon-shot rule" became the established precedent for nations claiming territorial waters.

Milby Women's Institute

The Milby W.I. met Thursday afternoon Nov. 7, at the Grace Christian Home, Huntingville, when the group annually entertains the senior citizens of the Home to afternoon tea following their regular meeting.
The president, Mrs. Allan Sutor, opened the meeting with the Collect, and warmly welcomed Mrs. Beattie, Sr., a life long member, now residing in Montreal. All members expressed their pleasure in having her take part in the meeting.
Owing to Mrs. Painter's absence, Mrs. D. Green read the minutes of the previous meeting and Mrs. Roy Sutor gave the financial report showing a satisfactory balance, and the sum of $30. donated by the members for the Food for the Hungry Fund to be taken to the County meeting.
It was moved by Mrs. R. Patrick, seconded by Mrs. S. Cairns that treasurer pay all bills.
Correspondence, including Thank-you letters were read and acted upon.
Conveners reports: Agriculture: Mrs. Ian Kirby thanked all those who assisted at the School Fair.

Home Economics: Mrs. D. Green read an article on the value of the use of "airbags" as compared to seat belts in saving lives in car accidents.
Health & Welfare conveners, Mrs. Naylor, Jr., and Mrs. R. Patrick, reported a Thank-you letter had been received from the Cancer Society for the sum of $125, which the conveners had collected and sent in.
Mrs. R. Patrick reported the club rooms had been closed for winter and suggested that when power is again put on in the spring that it be left on because of the refrigerator. It was emphasized that hostesses be responsible for cleaning the rooms before and after meetings in the club rooms.
Mrs. A. Sutor expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Coates for replacing her in presenting our trophy to Miss J. Fletcher at money, for cancer patients, also a stamped Get-well card for the work calendar. Two small guests were present.

After the meeting adjourned, the Social Committee, Mrs. R. Sutor, Mrs. Eldora Turner, Mrs. D. Coates, Mrs. A. Powell and Mrs. C. McKee assisted in serving the forty elderly citizens of the Home who were seated in the large drawing room, and other members of the W.I. group who mingled among them.
The home-cooking of breads, cakes and cookies were enjoyed by all. One W.I. member at the piano played the old favorites and hymns so familiar to all, while tea was being prepared.
It is a most gratifying experience to enjoy the friendly atmosphere and "Chit Chat" with our senior citizens, and to feel that we have even in a small way, spread a bit of happiness to those who no longer are able to get about as freely as we.

As a young woman Pearl was a very active member of the Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge, also the Eastern Star.
The remains rested at Lockwood's Funeral Home, Danville. The deceased loved flowers and was certainly surrounded by them at the funeral home.
The service was held from Trinity United Church on Oct. 23rd. Rev. Watson Glover officiated. Mrs. John Lazda played the organ and the hymns were "What a Friend we have in Jesus" and "Nearer My God to Thee." The choir sang "Rock of Ages", a favorite of the deceased.
The bearers were Dave Gardner, Duncan Kerr, Douglas Kerr, Steve Perkins, Herman Frerichs and Walter Baker.
Interment took place in the family lot in Danville. Many friends and relatives attended the funeral.

HIGH FOREST

The Red Cross Group met on Nov. 7 at the home of Mrs. Raymond McConnell with a good attendance who all enjoyed a chicken pie dinner together. Two large quilts were tied during the afternoon. Three cards were signed to go to sick and shut-ins.
The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harley Laroche in absence of the President who was in hospital.

Better balanced with more vets, says Al's linebacker Mike Widger

VANCOUVER (CP) — Linebacker Mike Widger does not consider it a drawback that only seven members of this year's Montreal Alouettes were with the club when it last won the Grey Cup.

"We're a better balanced team and have more veterans than we did in 1970," Widger said Wednesday.

The Alouettes won the national title at Toronto in 1970 by defeating Calgary Stampeders of the Western Football Conference 23-10. They will try Sunday for their second Grey Cup victory in five seasons when they face Edmonton Eskimos.

"Before we had a lot of one and two-year men, but not today," Widger said.

Only Widger, linemen Ed George, Gordon Judges and Barry Randall, quarterback Sonny Wade, tight end Peter Dalla Riva and playing-coach Gene Gaines remain from the roster that beat Calgary.

"Let's face it, we backed in the door in 1970" when the Al finished third in the Eastern Football Conference, Widger said.

FINISHED ON TOP

"This year we were solid most of the time, finished in first place and won the play-off."

The Al eliminated Ottawa Rough Riders, the defending Grey Cup champions, 14-4 in the EFC final last Sunday, while the Eskimos knocked Sas-

Als and Esks set for battle

ALS

VANCOUVER (CP) — "Our goal is not to get here... our goal is to win here."

Head coach Marv Levy, rain dripping from his hair after a late-afternoon 90-minute session with his Montreal Alouettes, made the statement in answer to a question. He was asked how his Eastern Football Conference champions were affected by the fact that they are involved in Sunday's Grey Cup game.

"I'm exhilarated by playing in a game like this," Levy said of his club's meeting with Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference in the national final.

"But I think the players are not excited by being in the Grey Cup, but at the prospect of winning it," Levy added.

Asked if he thought the hoopla that surrounds the annual game would affect his players, Levy said:

"Our role is to get ready to play the best game we can," he added. "There's a tremendous distinction between getting here and winning here."

HAD OTHER PROBLEMS

The Alouettes, in addition to a rain-soaked Empire Stadium turf they had to cope with during practice, ran into problems on another front.

After arriving early Wednesday morning they found that suburban motel accommodation reserved for them by the Canadian Football League, was unsatisfactory.

Many of the players claimed the beds were too short for their six-foot-plus frames. As a result owner Sam Berger moved his team to a downtown hotel for Wednesday night.

The Eskimos, meanwhile, installed well out of town in another motel, chose to hold their initial workout in a nearby field rather than travel to the Empire Stadium game site.

Levy relented somewhat on his all-business attitude when he agreed to lift tonight's 11 p.m. curfew for his players, but he insisted it be observed for

ESKS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos, aiming to win their first Grey Cup game since 1956, arrived Wednesday for Sunday's battle with Montreal Alouettes.

The players appeared relaxed on the flight to the west coast for their second consecutive Grey Cup appearance.

They immediately checked into their motel in neighboring Richmond and went to a practice session before holding a team meeting. They worked out in a steady rain that has soaked the Vancouver area for the last three days.

Coach Ray Jauch's Eskimos dropped a 22-18 decision to Ottawa Rough Riders in their first appearance in the game since 1960 when they also lost to Ottawa.

Edmonton's greatest Grey Cup success was in the mid-1950s when quarterback Jackie Parker and talented backs Normie Kwong and Rollie Miles led the Eskimos to three consecutive Grey Cup victories in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

FAMILIAR OPPONENT

The opponent in all three games was Montreal but the Eskimos are not putting any significance on that fact.

"There's nobody left from that era," says defensive back Dick Dupuis, completing his 10th season in the Canadian Football League.

"That's history and most of these guys don't live in the past. The present is what they're after and the Grey Cup is the present."

Dupuis was one of the stars of Edmonton's 31-27 Western Football Conference sudden-death final victory Sunday over Saskatchewan Roughriders as he returned an interception 38 yards for a touchdown to break open the game.

The Eskimos, in good physical condition for the game, are carrying a four-game winning streak into the Grey Cup and their best regular-season record since 1961. They finished first with a 10-5-1 mark and wound

Esks have history on their side in Sunday's crucial Grey Cup

VANCOUVER (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos may have a little history on their side Sunday when they play Montreal Alouettes for the Grey Cup.

In the last 17 years, four teams have lost in the Grey Cup one year and come back to win the next.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers lost to Hamilton Tiger-Cats 32-7 in 1957 and defeated the Ticats 35-28 in 1958. British Columbia Lions lost 21-10 to Hamilton in 1963 and beat the Ticats 34-24 in 1964. Hamilton came back the following year to beat Winnipeg 22-16. In 1970, Calgary Stampeders were defeated 23-10 by Montreal, but then knocked off Toronto Argonauts 14-11 in 1971.

Edmonton lost 22-18 to Ottawa Rough Riders in Toronto last year and have returned as favorites this year.

And the Eskimos never have lost to the Als in the Grey Cup. They won in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

Eskimos who played against Ottawa last year say the club is more relaxed and confident this season.

USED TO PRESSURE

"What has helped us is being there two years in a row," said defensive back Dick Dupuis. "We have a bunch of guys who have experienced the pressure."

"Maybe we didn't do as well as we could have last year because we were overwhelmed by it."

Quarterback Tom Wilkinson

Al Charuk tired hearing about Americans

TORONTO (CP) — Al Charuk is tired of hearing about how United States players are dominating intercollegiate football in the Maritimes.

In fact the third-year psychology student at Acadia University got himself so psyched up this year he became the best college player in the country.

At least his peers in the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union demonstrated that they thought so Wednesday, naming him the 1974 winner of the Hec Crighton Trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the country.

"Kids from the Maritimes get a good shot at college ball down there," said the 20-year-old native of Moncton, N.B., the Axemen's Mr. Everything this past season when that college completed an undefeated season before losing to St. Mary's Huskies in the Atlantic Intercollegiate Athletic Association playoffs.

WENT BOTH WAYS

"There's not all that many Americans taking away spots from the home-grown kids," said the 5-foot-9, 170-pounder who admitted going both ways for the Axemen in several key games and saw his weight drop from 183 pounds at the start of the season.

"Heck, we've got guys from St. John, Moncton, Halifax and Prince Edward Island on our team this year that are just as good as the American kids."

St. Mary's of Halifax, 1973

CHIEFS LOSE PODOLAK
 KANSAS CITY (AP) — Running back Ed Podolak of Kansas City Chiefs will undergo surgery today for a jammed thumb and will be lost to the National Football League club for the rest of the season. A club spokesman said Podolak tore ligaments in his left thumb in Monday night's game with the Broncos in Denver. Podolak leads the Chiefs in pass receiving and has gained 386 yards rushing.

VILAS WINS TITLE
 BUENOS AIRES (Reuter) — Guillermo Vilas of Argentina captured the $100,000 Commercial Union Grand Prix prize by winning his doubles match in the Argentine tennis championships Tuesday. Vilas and Manuel Orantes of Spain beat Oscar Escribano and Roberto Carruthers 5-7, 6-1, 6-2. Vilas' victory gave him an insurmountable lead in the point standings.

Bob Risch leads PGA tournament for qualifiers

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Bob Risch, a former University of Southern California golfer, fired a two-under-par 70 to take a one-stroke lead in the Professional Golfers' Association qualifying school tournament Wednesday.

Making his fourth try to win an approved player's card and qualify for PGA events, Risch has posted a 429 total for 108 holes with 36 remaining. The first 72-hole tournament was held last week at Silverado Country Club at Napa, Calif. The current 72 holes are being shot at the par-72 Canyon Country club here, a 6,778-yard test.

Risch shot a 68 on Tuesday and then added his 70.

Peter Oosterhuis of London, England, was just a stroke behind at 429, also carding a 70 on Wednesday. Bobby Wadkins of Richmond, Va., with a 71 moved into third place with 430.

World Football League opens playoffs, players to be paid

The debt-riddled World Football League, vowing that team members will get some of the gate receipts to make up for back pay, begins its three-part playoffs tonight amid lingering bitterness.

Philadelphia Bell, 9-11, faces Florida Blazers, 14-6, at Orlando, Fla., in a nationally-televised game. And the Hawaiians, 9-11, play Southern California Sun, 13-7, at Anaheim, Calif.

"We have tremendous disension on the team," said quarterback Bob Davis about Florida, winner of the WFL's Eastern Division title. "All this was caused originally by the money problems."

Beavers at home to Sorel tonight

Coach Delage looking for win over Sorel, game time 8:00 at Palace, full crew on hand

Major junior hockey players need their own union, says former member Brent Imlach

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Brent Imlach says Canadian major junior A hockey players need their own union and he has offered to help them set it up.

Imlach, a former junior hockey player in London and now partner in a firm called Pro Athlete Career Planning in Toronto, said in an interview Wednesday that major junior players "had a gun at their heads" when they signed contracts this year.

"The kids either signed or they didn't play," said Imlach. "They had no choice but to sign. It was too late for them to go any place else."

This year's junior contracts contained clauses which call for a player to return 20 per cent of his first three years of professional salary to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association which would distribute it to clubs the player had played with in amateur hockey.

The amateur owners insisted on the clause after they failed to get the World Hockey Association to agree to pay the amateur leagues for each junior drafted.

Imlach said that when the juniors were faced with the new contracts this year, they had no bargaining power.

"That's one reason they need their own association," Imlach, son of Punch Imlach, manager of the National Hockey League Buffalo Sabres, said that when the new contracts were presented, he invited team captains of several Ontario major junior A teams to a meeting in Toronto to offer help but club owners found out about it and threatened to suspend some players. As a result, only five showed up for the meeting.

"At first we considered taking out an injunction but it would have taken too much time," said Imlach. "It wouldn't have been fair for example to have a player in his final year of eligibility sitting out six months waiting for this thing to come to court. So we dropped the idea."

He said that actions of some owners against players who attended that first meeting led him to a decision to "test the contract in court after the draft next June."

Coach Delage will have his full squad on hand for tonight's battle. Sorel will have a new coach at the helm since their last trip to the Sports Palace. Lemoyne turned over his coaching chores to look after the administration of his club.

George Guilbeault, who holds down the dual role of Director-Manager, of the club is hoping for another good crowd on hand for tonight's tiff with Sorel. So far this season the Beavers have been jamming them in and in nine home games a total of 39,744 spectators have passed through the turnstiles for game average of 4,416.

The Beavers have lost only three games this year against Quebec, Sorel and Montreal. They played two ties against Trois-Rivieres which Coach Delage figures his club should have come through with wins in these battles. This, earlier in the season, but since, the local pilot has things pretty well straightened away.

Following tonight's battle the Beavers hit the road playing in Chicoutimi Sunday night and Trois-Rivieres on Tuesday before returning home next Friday to clash with Hull.

Coach Delage will be gunning for another victory this evening and with everybody on hand it should be a real battle. He is looking for his newly-formed trio of Gillis-Vesey-Brisebois for another top performance. They have been rolling along in high gear and Coach Delage is hoping they will continue.

As for the defense Coach Delage figures when they attend to their business he has one of the better, if not the best, defensive corps in the league. It is just a matter of getting his huskies to keep their mind on the business of stopping the opposing forwards.

Coach Delage figures when his complete club is in the game they can take any other club in the circuit. He has high hopes and figures to retain top spot in his section barring injuries. So far the Beavers have been able to overcome their "bad" breaks as others have picked up the slack which is a big factor in the team's present position.

Game time this evening is slated for 8:00 and the fans should be in for a good, hard game as Sorel will be out gunning to make up for their recent setbacks.

The local boys are still winless in their season to date.

The Cougarettes try their hand at the Shawinigan Electricis squad for the third time this year on Saturday. The visiting CEGEP has yet to win against the Lennoxville squad this season and has taken two bad losses in a row against the Champlain girls.

2 home games due at Champlain

LENNOXVILLE (BP) — Champlain Regional College play two home games this weekend. The women's basketball team and the hockey squad will see action.

Tonight, the hockey Cougars will host the College Militaire Royale contingent at the W.B. Scott Arena, beginning at 8 p.m.

Federal Government proposals threaten 1975 Olympics, Bill C-2 could kill amateur sport

OTTAWA (CP) — The 1976 Olympic Games in Montreal are threatened by the government's proposals to regulate amateur sport under its bill to establish a business competition policy, the Senate banking committee was told Wednesday.

John Russell, a director of the Sports Federation of Canada, said the threat comes from "a simple section that could be explosive" in Bill C-2. The section deals with the application of international rules in Canada.

The same section makes it an offence to conspire to limit a player's opportunity to play for the team and league of his choice, and asks the courts to consider whether "limitations, terms and conditions" flowing from international organizations should be accepted in Canada.

Conviction on conspiracy could bring a two-year jail term under provisions in Bill C-2 which would revise Commerce Investigation Act. It is the first attempt to bring sports under the authority of the act.

Mr. Russell charged the section "could destroy the whole fabric of amateur sport in Canada."

"Most Canadian sports are international in character and must conform to rules and regulations of international boards to be able to compete internationally."

"This legislation as it stands may jeopardize the 1976 Olympic Games, in addition to the opportunities for international competition by the national team of any sport."

Hawks' Jim Pappin fined and suspended for shoving referee

MONTREAL (CP) — Right winger Jim Pappin of Chicago Black Hawks has been suspended for five games for jostling referee Bob Myers in a National Hockey game last Saturday night in Los Angeles, NHL president Clarence Campbell announced Wednesday.

Pappin skated across the ice early in the third period to protest the fact Myers had not made a penalty call against a Los Angeles player. He bumped into the official and was given a 10-minute misconduct and then shoved Myers to the ice and was ejected from the game.

Adrien Bigras drops playoff at Disneyland

ORLANDO, Fla. (CP) — Fergus Gallagher of Toronto's Glen Shield golf club Wednesday won the Canadian pro golf tournament at nearby Disney World on the second hole of a playoff with Adrien Bigras of the Rossmore club in Montreal.

Gallagher parred the second playoff hole to win the title after he and the veteran Quebec professional had led a field of 285 Canadian club pros with 72-hole scores of 287, one under par for the four rounds.
