A FRESH OUTBRI[illegible] BETWEEN MESSRS. COSTI[illegible]N AND WALLAC[illegible]

CONTROLLER OF CUSTOMS CALLED BACK TO THE CAPITAL.

Mr. Huddart and the C.P.R.—Support of the Latter Withdrawn—General Election Talk.

[Special to the Herald.]

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Some time ago it was mentioned in this correspondence that Hon. John Costigan refused to appear on the same platform or in the same company as Mr. Clarke Wallace. The feud which started between the Controller of Customs and the Secretary of State in the House of Commons two years ago has not died away by the lapse of time, as far as Mr. Costigan is concerned. He voted then to censure Mr. Wallace for his disloyal utterances, and he still recognizes that he did the right thing. All pressure which has been made upon Mr. Costigan to extend the hand of good fellowship to the Grand Sovereign of the Orange Order has been to no purpose.

It was on account of the presence of Mr. Wallace that Mr. Costigan refused to take any part in the political tour now going on down by the sea. As a consequence the entire absence of the "green" at the political gatherings to offset the glare of the "yellow" was noticeable, and freely commented on. In other words the combination was not well balanced.

Something had to be done. The result was that the Controller of Customs quit the troupe, and reached here this morning. It is hinted that some of the electors of New Brunswick who were prevented from hearing their own representative in the Cabinet through the presence of the Grand Sovereign of the Orange order, had protested, and that his hasty return to Ottawa is an answer to their protest. Mr. Foster, of course, sides with Mr. Wallace as against Mr. Costigan, but the Minister of Finance has not taken any part in the present trip and therefore he cannot be held responsible.

In fact Mr. Ouimet is blamed, as usual, for having put his foot in it, when it was arranged to take Mr. Wallace on the tour, as he had his 5th of November Orange speeches to deliver. Anyway, Mr. Ouimet took in hand to bring Mr. Costigan along. The latter refused to leave Madawaska, where he reports good sport in the way of shooting.

This is not the first time that Mr. Wallace has been called back from New Brunswick. Sam Hughes, M.P., and himself were at one time making a tour of the Province and Sir John Thompson was notified to summon them to Ottawa. Their trip was therefore cut short.

But the last has not yet been heard of the row as Clarke Wallace's friends in the west are determined to get even with Costigan. One of them said to-day that the Secretary of State might look out for it next session of Parliament. "If the Government" said he, "have any important bills to intrust to the department of Mr. Costigan they better arrange to get some one else to attend to take charge of them, if not he may have some difficulty in passing them. He knows what happened a couple of years ago after he had voted to censure Mr. Wallace for his action in this case, by not only snubbing Mr. Wallace, but having him sent away from the party before the tour was over, we will not forget, or my name is not "No Surrender."

GENERAL ELECTION TALK.

There can be no general elections before June if they are to be, as they unquestionably will be, held on the revised voters' lists. The Statute fixes Feb. 28 as the last day for sending the finally revised lists to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. He then forwards them to the Queen's printer to be set up in type. This will take several weeks at the least. The setting up of names in type—French names, German names, Scandinavian, English Irish and Scotch names—is a slow job, and is as apt an illustration of the adage, "more haste less speed," as can be quoted. Then the Queen's printer must send every revising barrister a copy of the printed lists for corrections of errors. This ensures considerable delay, especially as some of the lists will take two weeks going and coming in the mails, so that experience justifies the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery in saying that three months will elapse between final revision and ready for use.

MR. HUDDART AND THE C.P.R.

The time within which Mr. James Huddart was to have completed his arrangements for the floating of a company to build a fleet of steamers to ply between Canada and England has expired, and nothing has been heard from him. No doubt the Government have extended the time fixed in Mr. Bowell's memorandum of March 3 last, by which the contract was to be entered into within three months after the requisite authority had been obtained from Parliament. The fact that the Government press described this memorandum or rather letter from Mr. Bowell to Mr. Huddart at the time as the entering into of a contract between the Government and Mr. Huddart for the construction of four express steamships, and so forth, shows how little reliance can be placed upon any statement in the Government press emanating from Ottawa, where the desre is to depict the Government in the character of an executive of vigor and energy and to give the public the impression that under this administration there is a continual boom of prosperity and progress. No contract has yet been entered into, and for a particular reason it is probable that none will be. That reason is the withdrawal from active co-operation with Mr. Huddart, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. In a letter dated Feb. 22, 1894, addressed to Sir John Thompson by Mr. Huddart, there appears the following paragraph:

Mr. Van Horne, in the most cordial manner, on behalf of his Company, has assured me of their willingness to co-operate with myself and friends.'

It has been evident from the opposition recently offered to the fast Atlantic scheme in certain newspapers which are known to reflect the opinions of the C.P.R. Directors in matters of this kind, that the C.P.R. was no longer promoting Mr. Huddart. It is said that the C.P.R. has no ardent desire to undertake anything with reference to a fast Atlantic service or any other new scheme at present.

BREVITIES.

The McGill students have decided to hold a reception to members of the Y.M.C.A., at Association Hall, on the night of Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 22nd.

TUBERCULOSIS DISCOVERED.

A Valuable Animal Diseased and Must be Deported or Killed.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The tuberculin lymph test which has been departmentally ordered by the Minister of Agriculture to be applied to all neat cattle entering any of the quarantines from any place outside of Canada, has resulted in the finding of Mr. E. P. Westell, the veterinary inspector of the department in charge of the animals' quarantine at Point Edward, of a Durham bull, the eleventh Duke of Niagara, eighteen months old, to be affected with tuberculosis. The owner is afforded, by direction of the minister, the alternative of returning the animal to the place whence it came in the United States, or having it slaughtered in the quarantine without compensation.

TAKE OFF YOUR HAT

Or President Ryan Will Leave the Chair.

What is there in a hat? A great deal evidently. It was a hat which carried Benjamin Harrison to the presidency of the United States, and it was a hat which caused the Central Trades and Labor to lose the best part of its time last evening.

The hat in the latter case was on the head of Delegate Snow. It soon attracted the attention of President Ryan, whose sense of propriety was shocked thereat. He declared that so long as he was in the chair the delegates would have to remain uncovered during the meetings.

Delegate Snow explained that he kept his hat on because he was sick.

Nevertheless, President Ryan asked for the opinion of the meeting, which decided to make an exception in favor of Delegate Snow.

Mr. Ryan thereupon left the chair.

When the reason was asked, he stated that he intended to maintain decorum or resign.

Some one suggested to accept the resignation. But as Delegate Snow had left the hall in the meanwhile, Delegate Lafontaine moved that President Ryan be requested to resume the chair, and that in future all delegates take their hats off.

Then the female delegate, Mrs. Walsh, intervened. She had been one of those who had voted to allow Delegate Snow to keep his hat on, but she had not done so with any intention of wounding the President's feelings. He was a young man, and she was always glad to see young men coming to the front. But she thought that in a meeting of working men there should be no wrangling over such petty questions. She moved that the matter lie on table to give time to the President to reflect.

This persuasive speech failed to have its effect, and the amendment was lost by 16 to 22.

Delegate Lafontaine's amendment was then carried, and Mr. Ryan resumed the chair amidst applause.

The reports from the affiliated associations were of a favorable nature.

The new Barbers Union has succeeded in having three barbers sentenced for keeping open on Sunday and it has secured pledges from others that they will not open in the future. It is next to embark on a crusade against five cent shops. There will be a union mark for Union shops. The Union has shown its brotherly sentiments by raising a handsome amount for one of its sick members. It will hold a public meeting on Sunday the 25th instant, at 223 McGill Street.

The laundry employees are forming themselves into a Knights of Labor Assembly. The organization will be completed at a public meeting to be held on the 20th inst., at Ville Marie Hall.

The Committee delegated to be present at the conferences on the amendments to the city charter reported that the meetings had been a failure on account of the selfishness of the Real Estate Owner's Association, "which wants to own not only the city, but the people with it."

A letter from Mr. H. B. Ames, asking the Council to endorse the amendments proposed by the Electoral League, was not considered on account of the late hour.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS.

The English Storm Continues its Work of Destruction.

London, Nov. 15.—Stormy weather and floods continue to prevail over the south part of England and the loss of life and damage to property is increasing greatly. At Bath, Somersetshire, the river Avon has reached the highest point of the century. Thousands of people are homeless and are being fed by the authorities in various schools and other public buildings. Despatches received here from Dover say that the gale is blowing with renewed violence there. Several ships' boats have been washed ashore along that portion of the coast. The floods in Sussex are increasing. Many houses at Windsor and at Eton have been flooded. At Worthing, Sussex, the bodies of seven drowned sailors have been washed ashore.

A boat belonging to the London steamer Xadue has been washed ashore at Worthing, a town of Sussex. A corpse was in the boat and from this it is supposed that the steamer has foundered.

A Pleasant Reception.

A multitude of happy faces beamed at the rooms of the Junior Department of the Y. M. C. A., last evening, on the occasion of a reception to the High School students. Charlie Ogilvie, now of McGill, but an old High School student presided with all the dignity of an old head. The boys gathered about like a family circle, and Charlie was in the midst, introducing first one entertainer and another. Among those who performed were Chas. Kelly, the clever guitarist, who sang and played; then Miss Simpkins recited, and P. H. Cushing, Assistant Secretary of the Junior Department, spoke. Refreshments were served, and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed by the 200 present.

M, S. R. Building Disaster.

Considerable comment has been occasioned in certain quarters by the announcement that Mr. Peers Davidson, of the firm of McGibbon and Davidson, is representing the interests of the Dominion Bridge Company, in so far as the company is interested in the disaster, which occurred in the Montreal Street Railway Company's building. Mr. McGibbon had been retained by the Attorney-General to conduct the case of the Crown.

The comment was occasioned by the fact that the same firm was retained to represent different interests.

Mr. McGibbon stated to-day that Mr. Davidson had consented to act for the Dominion Bridge Company, because he was unaware that Mr. McGibbon had accepted the case of the Crown.

As soon as Mr. Davidson discovered the circumstances, he refused to represent the company, and their interests will be protected by C. A. Geoffrion, Q.C., who has been retained for that purpose.

TERROR HERE! LICENSE THERE!

AND WHOLESOME LIBERTY NOWHERE! SAYS THE NATIONAL.

AN APPEAL TO THE ARCHBISHOP FOR PROTECTION.

Clerical Papers Instituting a Reign of Terror.

The National addresses an open letter to Archbishop Fabre, drawing attention to the difficult position French journalism is placed in in this Province. The decision of Judge Doherty in the Canada Revue case, it says, was received in silence at Montreal. Ontario papers made comments, but French journals, seized with terror, so to speak, were content to publish the judgment without the least observation. In fact the dangers which these papers run are enough to frighten all the newspaper proprietors of the Province. If they were in the presence of the church alone they would have an easy task, because the respect they profess for the ecclesiastical hierarchy would engender the prudence necessary to avoid episcopal thunder, but they have to deal with a few clerical sheets whose efforts seem directed to the ruin of all those who are unwilling to be ruled by them. At the slightest difference of opinion which arises between one of these clerical sheets and another journal we see the first bent on convicting its adversary of heresy; whether it is a dogma of the church it is accused of attacking or an article of the syllabus against which it writes. If there are no real crimes to reproach them with, some are invented. But that is not all. In order to embitter the difference, these clerical sheets carry the controversy to such a degree of violence that a lawsuit is the result. Whether this lawsuit is taken by the clerical sheet or by its adversary it is all the same. If the first is condemned priests hasten to open subscription lists, and to furnish the guilty with the funds necessary for meeting the costs of the case. If on the contrary the tribunal pronounces against the other paper, it loses a lot of money and sometimes is ruined. The lawyers for the Canada Revue are going to appeal to the Privy Council from the decision of Judge Doherty. We can easily imagine that this English Court will consider the effect of the judgment of the Court of first instance upon the liberty of the press in this Province. What will it find?

"On one side terrorized journalists, seeing everywhere in their path excommunication, or the ruin of their establishments, and on the other sides clerical sheets insolent, provoking, running no danger themselves, calumniating everyone in order to drive the bishops to strike a blow, and going with a light heart to a trial which has no thorns for them.

"Terror here; license there; wholesome liberty nowhere."

The National concludes by calling upon the Archbishop to protect other papers from the excesses of clerical journals.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Mr. Sovereign Condemns the U. S. Militia System.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 15.—The morning session of the Knights of Labor was consumed in listening to an address by Mr. George Howard, vice-president of the American Railway Association. Mr. Howard presented a proposition for the consolidation of all the labor organizations of the country into one vast body, under a single board of management and with an amalgamation of interests. He believed that if such a plan was adopted, labor would be benefited and would be in a position the more completely to have its wrongs redressed, and the more speedily to obtain its rights. Grand Master Sovereign spoke in favor of the plan proposed by Mr. Howard.

The afternoon session of the Knights of Labor Convention convened at 2 o'clock and adjourned at 5.30 o'clock.

General Master Workman Sovereign delivered his address, which was an exhaustive and elaborate resume of the work of the Order from its incipiency. He attributed the decreased membership of the Order to the depression in business circles, prevalent bankruptcy, low wages and forced idleness of laboring classes. He stated that he travelled 35,464 miles since his stewardship and had organized eleven new assemblies and made ninety-seven public addresses.

Referring to the American Railway Union affiliations he advised action with this as well as all labor organizations. His resume of the Pullman strike terminated in severe criticism of Major-General John M. Schofield and the recommendations of that officer for an increase of the army, together with the action of Chicago aristocracy, who were permitted to present a standard of colors to the Fifteenth Artillery "was an indication of an uneasy desire to subjugate labor to the military powers of the nation."

He urged that the Assembly take strong grounds against an increase of the military force of the nation, and that they advocate "a decrease in the regular army, and the abolition of State militia, for from them are coming to the surface the sentiments of a military despotism."

At the close of the address, the report of the General Executive Board was presented and referred to several Committees. It was a voluminous affair, but contained much of interest to the delegates. The meeting then adjourned, to meet again at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 15.—The true inwardness of the shutting out of the miner's delegates from the Knights of Labor convention in New Orleans, says the Chronicle Telegraph, is well known here. It was their plan to join forces with the Powderly delegates, thus giving them control of the convention. James Campbell, ex-president of the Window Glass Worker's Association, was to be elected General Master Workman, and Robert Walchern, State Factory Inspector of Pennsylvania, was to be offered the office of General Secretary-Treasurer, thus completely shutting out the present administration. But Secretary-Treasurer Hayes was wary and looking over the books, found that the local assemblies composing National Trades Assembly 135, which the miners' delegates represented had not paid dues for two year, past. Armed with this information, he went into the convention and broke up the plans of the Opposition,

The Dorval Fatality.

Coroner McMahon went out to Dorval yesterday, and held an inquest on the body of the tramp who was killed by the 8.45 C.P.R. train from the West last evening at that place.

The evidence showed that the deceased was crossing the track at the time, and was caught by the engine before it could be stopped. The jury returned a verdict of death owing to wilful culpability on the part of the deceased.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

Mr. Marter Would Remove Them if He Could.

London, Ont., Nov. 15.—Mr. E. F. Marter, leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, speaking to the electors of London last night, declared that the Catholic Church is so indebted to the Mowat Government that they will support any one who runs for that Government, no matter who he is. He then went on to say: "I have no objection to a Catholic. Let me be understood as to that; a man's religion must be a matter for his own conscience; but I have decided objection to any church in the Province banding themselves together and going solid in elections one way or the other. (Cheers). If we never get this vote until we grant such favors as will command it, I want to say that with this leader it will never be done. I want to give every Roman Catholic the utmost toleration for his religion, but I never will bow down to any church potentate and grant him favors in return for the votes which he controls. It is a great pity we ever had separate schools. If I could remove them I would. If it can be done I am willing to assist in doing it. (Cheers) And in doing that I believe I would be doing what is in the interest of the Roman Catholics themselves. So long as we have separate schools we will have these troubles. Otherwise we must hold our tongues or be treated as our leader was by that man at Kingston, who called Mr. Meredith 'a hungry adventurer.' We say that the schools should never have been established, but, being here, we say they should be put upon the same footing as the public schools. They should have the same inspectors, and the text books should be the same. We say a member of the High School Board should not be forced there by legislation because he is a Roman Catholic. No person should be put upon a School Board because of his religion. I see nothing that recommends separate schools, but until they can be constitutionally removed we must make the best of them." (Cheers.).

PERSONAL.

A. A. LaDuke and Geo. A. Raina, of Burlington, Vt., are stopping at the Windsor Hotel.

G. Phillips, clerk of the Windsor Hotel, returned last evening from a two weeks' holiday.

H. R. Jacobs, of New York, the well-known theatre manager, is in town for a few days on business and is stopping at the Windsor.

F. M. Hepburn, of Morrisburg, Ont., manufacturer of Hepburn's Celebrated Cough Drops, is registered at the Hall.

Miss Joly de Lotbinere is among the passengers on the R.M.S. Mongolian, sailing to-morrow morning for Liverpool.

S. W. Cummings, general passenger agent, C.V.R., St. Albans, is at the Windsor. He is accompanied by Mrs. Cummings.

R. Sinclair, formerly of the Intercolonial Hotel, Niagara Falls, will succeed Mr. DeQuettelle, as night clerk at the Windsor Hotel.

Miss Jean Howison, of Perth, Scotland, arrived in the city yesterday from New York and is staying at the Turkish Bath Hotel. She is in Montreal for the purpose of arranging for the delivery of her two lectures; one on Robert Burns and one on Shakespeare. She has delivered them before large audiences in New York, Boston, Washington, Toronto, and other leading cities, and everywhere they have been regarded as an intellectual treat.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Notices were filed with the Registrar of the Court of Appeals yesterday of application for leave to withdraw the Lincoln and Addington Provincial election petitions respectively.

London, Nov. 15.—Brokers announce that the Quebec loan has been greatly successful. The subscriptions closed at noon yesterday. They say the applications are considerably in excess of the requirements, but they will not give out the figures at present.

London, Nov. 15.—A despatch to the Standard from Berlin, says that Dr. Schweninger visited Varzin on Friday, The neuralgia from which Prince Bismarck has been suffering has abated. Princess Bismarck is still ill, but is able to walk out.

New York, Nov. 15.—At the meeing of the Board of Trade and Transportation a resolution was passed declaring that the New York Board of Trade and Transportation believes the police of the city of New York should be divorced from all political control, and that it should be constituted on some such basis as is the army of the United States or the militia of the State of New York.

New York, Nov. 15.—A Washington despatch says the revenue of the Post Office Department for the year ended June 30, 1894, shows a falling off while the expenditures have increased. The deficiency for the fiscal year, 1893, was $$3,000,703, while the deficiency for 1894 is $9,243,935. The decrease of receipts was $816,454, and the increase of expenditures $3,250,309. The total expenditure for 1894 was $84,234,414, and receipts $75,080,479.

REVERSES FOR THE JAPANESE.

STRONG RESISTANCE IN THE ENEMY'S TERRITORY.

MANY CHINESE HAVE NOT HEARD OF THE WAR YET.

Pekin to Celebrate the Emperor's Birthday—Japan Does Not Wish Great Britain to Interfere.

Chemulpo, Corea, Nov. 15.—The Corean Government officials who have a pro-Japan leaning, are engaged in preparing a constitution which will be promulgated early in 1895. Numbers of Corean soldiers who have been sent against the Tonghaks have joined the rebels whose numbers are increasing daily.

Yokohama, Nov. 15.—The newspapers here resent Great Britain's offers of intervention, which they regard as entirely a movement in behalf of China. They add that Gteat Britain's influence in the East is in jeopardy by this offer which wounds Japanese feeling. The newspapers of this city say that the defences of Port Arthur are reported to be stronger on the land side than on the sea front. Fully 100 guns are said to be in position. The Japanese expect that if the Chinese make any defence, the assault will be bloody.

CHINA'S INERTIA IS EXPLAINED.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—Einar Bjornson, of Shanghai, China, is in this city, en route to Rome, Italy, where his father, the Norwegian novelist, is. Mr. Bjornson is an officer of the Chinese custom service and for eight years has been detailed on that duty to various Chinese ports, as well as those of Japan and Corea. Mr. Bjorson explains an and Corea. Mr. Bjornson explains ernment as being due to the desire of the nation to celebrate the birthday of the Emperor on Nov. 10 last. For two years the Government had been gathering funds for the occasion. All of the provincial officials had been instructed to prepare gifts and collect sums of money to be taken to Pekin as offerings to the Emperor. When disaster overtook the Chinese forces in Corea, the whole purpose of the Government changed to the defensive and the paramount wish was to keep Pekin safe from invasion and capture. It was decided that the birthday ceremonies and decorations should be confined to Pekin and all the soldiers of the Empire were massed to preserve the capital.

"As to operations in the near future," said Mr. Bjornson, "I know that the Chinese Government strongly desires to avoid humiliation in negotiating with Japan, and if the national pride is to be seriously affronted I do not think the war will end very soon. China cares very little for Corea but the Coreans during 3,000 years have drawn all their civilization, official literature and art from China and look upon that nation almost as a mother-country. China is willing that Corea should be independent and be self-governed, and I think the Chinese Government would be willing to pay an indemnity to Japan but the opinion is conjectural.

The war has made no impression on the Chinese people. In fact, few of them know that a war has been in progress and most of them care nothing about the matter. In Japan the choice of war was seized upon as a political move which might continue the present Mikado and his immediate friends of the Satsuma, Choshu and Josacklaus in power. The other cause is that Japan has been clamoring for a division of power. Japan is weeding foreigners out of official positions. It is the intention that every post shall be filled by a native and that the Government shall be conducted by them alone.

Tien-Tsin, Nov. 15.—The present whereabouts of the Chinese army which was defeated at Kiu-Lien-Cheng is unknown here. Colonel Von Hannekin has been given supreme command of the whole Chinese navy.

London, Nov. 15.—A Tien-Tsin despatch to the Times says that thousands of refugess, who were fleeing from Kinchow, were mistaken for the enemy by the Chinese troops and were fired upon. Hundreds of them were killed.

Tien Tsin, Nov. 15.—Chinese reports received here from Port Arthur say that the Japanese have not yet captured Talien-Wan. It is stated that two forts there are still holding out against the Japanese and that in spite of the desperate fighting which has taken place, the assaults of the enemy have been repulsed. From the same source, it is stated that the Japanese are far from Port Arthur whose defences have been greatly strengthened, and it is likely that the place will offer a determined resistance to the Japanese. It is reported that a portion of General Sung's army has recaptured Kinchow and that the Japanese have been driven out of Motien, on the road to Pekin, by the Chinese, who, afterwards pursued them for several miles.

London, Nov. 15.—The Times, to-morrow, will publish a despatch from Tien-Tsien saying that Gen. Nieh reports that he was attacked at Malien Lung, on November 11, by the Japanese troops and that he succeeded in repulsing them. The Chinese general adds that the Japanese made a second attack upon the positions occupied on November 12; but, it appears the Japanese were again repulsed, and the Chinese pursued them towards Fungh Wang, which General Nieh expected to reach soon after sending this report.

The similarity between this reported defeat of the Japanese and the defeat they are reported to have sustained at Motien on the road to Pekin, would make it appear that the two engagements may be identical.

Stamp Collectors.

The Montreal Stamp Collectors' Club met for the first time in their new club room, Alexander Chambers, 2204 St. Catherine Street, last night. Arrangements were made for the management of the room and a committee appointed to take charge and furnish it. Several articles of furniture were donated by members present, rare stamps and collections were exhibited. From the enthusiasm manifested it looks as if the club had entered upon a new era of prosperity. The room will be open every evening for the exchange of stamps. Visitors introduced by members will always be welcomed.

GOURKO HEARD FROM.

Warsaw's Notorious Governor Strikes at the Poles.

London, Nov. 16.—A despatch to the Times, from Vienna, says that advices received there convey the information that General Gourko, Governor of Warsaw, who declined to permit a delegation of residents of Warsaw to attend the Czar's funeral, has reported to Czar Nicholas that the attitude of the Poles justifies the proclamation of a minor state of siege.

BRITISH COLUMBIA GOLD.

A Cariboo Mine Will Yield $40,000 a Month.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 15.—The results of the clean-up on the horse fly hydraulic claim at Cariboo have been received. The cuts have been frozen in so that the heaviest portion of the claim is unapproachable, but the sluice-boxes yielded $13,000 worth of gold, the result of a half-month's work. It is claimed that the mine will yield $40,000 worth of gold a month.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Mason City, Iowa, Nov. 15.—The town of Sheffield, fifteen miles south of here, on the Iowa Central Railroad, was totally destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $15,000.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 15.—The large breaker over No. 3 mine of the Delaware and Hudson Company at Plymouth, was entirely destroyed by fire this evening. The breaker had an output of six hundred cars a day. Six hundred men are thrown out of work. The loss is $160,000. It will take eighteen months to rebuild the breaker. The overturning of an oil lamp caused the fire.

Land and Land Companies.

A well-known Toronto capitalist in the person of Robert Jaffrey, President of the Consolidated Investment Co. of that city, was at the Windsor last evening. Mr. Jaffrey chatted pleasantly to the Herald, in reference to a long since proposed amalgamation of the Investment Co., with which he is connected, and the Montreal Freehold Co. He said that new company into which these two would merge in the near future would be the Montreal Land Co., that is of course just as soon as the Quebec Legislature met and granted the new charter. Mr. Jaffrey said that the new company would be largely controlled by capitalists of this city. The property controlled by this company will embrace that valuable investment known as the Montreal Annex. In connection with this annex Mr. Jaffrey remarked that he had visited the property yesterday and noticed the marked progress made there, in fact he knew of no place where such building advances had been made in so short a time.

Got a Large Reduction.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The largest reduction at this session of the Court of Revision was made to-day. Alex. Dixon, acting for the Grand Trunk Railway Company, succeeded in getting the assessment reduced on the Company's property in Ward 4, division 1, by $119,000.

Its Finances all Right.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 15.—At the first session of the twenty-first birthday Convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union at Cleveland to-morrow, Treasurer Helen M. Parker will say in her report that the receipts during the past year have exceeded those of any previous year by $5,000. She will also report gifts in addition to the regular receipts gifts in cash, notes and negotiable stocks to the amount of $6,800.

Married Too Frequently.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Mary Stock, alias Mary Jones, who has obtained considerable notoriety of late because of marrying too frequently, was sent to jail for sixty days to-day after having having pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy. The story is that Mrs. Stock left her husband, who lives in the East End, alleging all sorts of complaints against him. In December last she married William Jones and consequently broke the law.

Acknowledge Their Guilt.

Strathroy, Ont., Nov. 15.—Nathaniel Fyfe, a barber, and Percy Thompson, a driver of a bread wagon, have pleaded guilty to the charge of attempting to wreck the Erie Express on Sunday. The case will be tried in London next week.

Brass Company Wants a Compromise.

London, Ont., Nov. 15.—The Essex Brass and Iron Co., of London, is offering to compromise with the creditors at 60 cents on the dollar.

Transferred to Brockville.

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 15.—Rev. Mr. O'Brien, of St. Michaels, has been transferred to Brockville. He will be succeeded by Rev. Mr. Carson, of Prescott.

MORE LIGHT ABOUT GAS.

BEFORE THE CITY WILL CALL FOR NEW TENDERS.

ALD. RAINVILLE WANTS THE CITY TO BUILD ITS OWN WORKS.

No Need for Alarm About the Prevalence of Contagious Diseases.

The City Council met yesterday afternoon, Mayor Villeneuve presiding.

A report of the Light Committee was read asking the Council to authorize it to call for new tenders for supplying the city with gas light. Its adoption was moved by Ald. Marsolais, seconded by Ald. Rainville.

Ald. Leclerc and Brunet opposed the adoption of the report, and moved in amendment that the city apply to the Legislature for power to construct its own gas works, and that the report be, therefore, sent to the Board of Chairmen.

After some remarks from Ald. Reneault and Jacques, Ald. Marsolais expressed his willingness to withdraw his motion.

Ald. Rainville, however, insisted that the report should be discussed. He was himself in favor of the city's manufacturing its own gas, and intended to propose a motion asking for an amendment to the city charter authorizing the city to borrow sufficient money to build a gas factory for the purpose of supplying its own citizens. But he was none the less in favor of calling for new tenders, so that, if the city were not able by May 1st next to furnish gas to the citizens, a satisfactory contract might be entered into with some company. He objected to the city being placed at the mercy of either the Coates Company or the Montreal Gas Company. If no contract were made by May 1st next, when the present contract with the Montreal Gas Company expires, the city would be at the mercy of that Company.

Ald. Stevenson remarked that it was strange that when large contracts were given out the city always suffered. He held the Mayor responsible for the way in which the city had been treated by Coates. On the strength of the lies told to the Council by Mr. Coates as to his having sufficient capital to construct gas works to supply gas at 95 cents per 1000 feet, he received the contract from the Council in "a moment of weakness." The Mayor and the City Attorneys were asked to make inquiries as to Coates' financial position. They did nothing of the kind, however; and now the city was left in the lurch with a deposit of $15,000. Cote St. Antoine had called Coates to account. What steps had the Mayor or the City Attorneys taken to safeguard the interests of the city? They had done nothing. What was the use of paying two lawyers large salaries if they did not do their duty?

Mayor Villeneuve repelled the attack made upon him, and stated that he had several times consulted the City Attorneys as to what the city could do to punish Coates for amalgamating with the Montreal Gas Company. They had informed him that they could do nothing until they saw the conditions under which the amalgamation had taken place. They had asked for a copy of these, but their request had been refused.

Ald. Penny suggested that the report should be sent back to the Light Committee with instructions to obtain more information in respect to the position of the city towards the Coates Company.

Ald. Stevenson thought that both motion and amendment should be carried, as one did not clash with the other.

Ald. McBride moved, seconded by Ald. Lefebvre, as a sub-amendment that the report be sent back to the Light Committee asking for more information. It was useless to call for new tenders when we had already a contract with Coates, who had not yet told the city that he would not carry it out (hear, hear).

The sub-amendment was adopted by 17 to 7.

Ald Prefontaine, seconded by Ald Kennedy, moved that the Finance Committee be authorized to send some one down to Quebec to look after the city's interests during the session.

Ald. Beausoleil opposed this. The Finance Committee might appoint some one who would be objectionable to the City Council. Why did not Ald. Prefontaine take the Council into his confidence, and give the name of the person whom he desired to send to Quebec? He thought City Clerk David would be an excellent gentleman to be entrusted with the task (Ald. Stevenson; "Hear, hear.") He moved in amendment that either the City Clerk or the City Attorney be sent to represent the city during the session; and this was carried.

The report of the Water Committee asking that the Mayor be authorized to sign the contracts for coal already awarded, was carried.

A slight passage at arms occurred between the Mayor and Ald Costigan, before this was adopted, the Mayor informing Ald. Costigan that he would not be re-elected on account of his connection with the Cohen contract; and the latter retorted that he had never attempted to buy coal for the city, as the Mayor had done, without calling for tenders. There must have been something queer about that purchase, as the Mayor was frightened to bring the matter before the Council.

Ald. Beausoleil asked for $2,000 for the civic hospital, which he wanted to be opened at once to receive patients suffering from diphtheria.

Ald. Stevenson and Prefontaine considered that there was no necessity for alarm, or for opening the civic hospital. If it were opened exaggerated news would go abroad that Montreal was a hotbed of infectious diseases.

The discussion was closed by Ald. Rainville calling out "next meeting."

The report of the Finance Committee in favor of granting $6,000 towards the completion of the Maisonneuve monument met the same fate at the hands of Ald. McBride.

Ald. McBride gave notice that at the next meeting of the Council he would move that a by-law be passed that all saloons in the city be closed at 10 o'clock every week day evening except on Saturday, when they should be closed at 7 o'clock.

At. Ald. Stevenson's request Mr. Aiken obtained permission to exhibit to the members of the Council his new system of ballot marking.

Fell Into the Hold.

Alfred Harris, an employee of the Montreal Transportation Company, while engaged last evening between six and seven o'clock, unloading a barge at the Wellington bridge, fell down the hold.

The injured man was conveyed to the General Hospital in the ambulance, and on examination it was found that his left arm was broken in two places, and also that he had received serious internal injuries.

WAS QUEEN'S BLUFFING?

THE KINGSTON MEN DECIDE TO PLAY IN TORONTO AFTER ALL.

THEY MAY HAVE INTENDED A LITTLE SURPRISE FOR OTTAWA COLLEGE.

Montreal Still Undecided as to the Match With Osgoode Hall—The Very Last Lacrosse Match of the Season to be Played To-morrow—Meetings of Many Clubs.

(Special to the Herald.)

Kingston, Nov. 15.—When it became noised abroad to-day that the Queen's College football team had decided to default to Ottawa College rather than play in Toronto, a decided feeling in opposition to such a course became manifest. Admirers of the club expressed themselves strongly against Queen's defaulting and advised playing a match with Ottawa even if several of the best men have to be laid off on account of injuries received at Hamilton.

The matter was discussed on all sides and while there were no two opinions on the patent fact that Queen's is under a distinct disadvantage in having to play on Saturday, when the match should rightly be deferred until Thanksgiving Day, the opinion was general that the ruling of the Association should be borne in mind and the match played as ordered.

It is probable that this feeling had considerable to do with the action of the Queen's executive, for at a meeting held this afternoon it was decided to send a team to Toronto. The Ottawa College club and the Secretary of the Ontario Union were notified of this decision.

Despite the assertions of members of the team to the contrary, there is nevertheless an impression in some quarters that Queen's never had the slightest intention of defaulting, but that the threat was made either with the intention of throwing Ottawa College off its guard, or else by way of a "cold bluff" with the hope of securing a postponement until Thanksgiving Day.

However that may be, the affair is now settled, and the Dominion championship will be won or lost at Rosedale on Saturday.

[While it is all very well for Queen's to object to playing off, as ordered by the Union, it must be borne in mind that the order of the Association to play next Saturday must, in the interest of the game, be obeyed. It may be that the list of injured on the Queen's team which reads like the diary of a doctor in charge of a casualty ward may be correct, but it is safe betting that few of these men will be found absent from the field on Saturday. At all events objections on this score are particularly unbecoming in Queen's which won a hollow victory from Hamilton when many of the latter's best men were laid off. Ottawa College's course has been quite correct and consistent.—Sporting Editor, Herald.]

That Montreal-Osgoode Hall Match.

Some little friction exists in the Montreal Rugby Club over the proposed trip to Toronto to play an exhibition match with Osgoode Hall. A private meeting of the team was held last evening to settle the matter, but no decision was reached. It is understood that neither Fry, Hagar, nor Ward, can get off, and there are some objections to sending a weak team to cope with the legal luminaries. The time is growing short, but a decision will be made by noon to-day.

Harvard Defeats Brown.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 15.—Harvard defeated Brown this afternoon by a score of 18 to 0 in a poorly played game. The Harvard coachers were afraid that members of the Yale team were present, though they could spot none, so pitted a scrub team against Brown. Neither side scored in the first half.

FOOTBALL.

The C. F. A. Council.

The Canadian Football Association will meet at St. Lawrence Hall this evening.

LACROSSE.

Quebec Will be Here.

[Special to the Herald.]

Quebec, Nov. 15.—At a meeting of the Executive of the Lacrosse Club held to-day it was definitely decided to keep to the original intention and the championship match between the Ottawas and Quebecs will therefore be played in Montreal on Saturday next. The necessary arrangements have been made and the local team, with their supporters, will go to Montreal by a G.T.R. special.

The Quebecers and Ottawas.

The final lacrosse match of the season will be played on the Shamrock grounds to-morrow, between the Ottawas, champions of the Western Intermediates, and the Quebecers, champions of the Eastern Intermediates. The snow will be shovelled off the ground for the occasion. In event of a draw the Herald would suggest that the match be played off in Ottawa during the Carnival, and that the players may wear snowshoes and blanket suits on that occasion.

TURF AND TRACK.

St. Asaph Races.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 15.—The talent quit heavy losers to-day at St. Asaph, only one favorite getting a decision. Summaries:

First race, half-mile—Nineveh, 4 to 1, won; Buckeye, 12 to 1, 2; Elize Morrison, 8 to 5, 3. Time, 50. Festival, Pretense, Flash, Marengo, Son Erreur and Elizabeth filly also ran.

Fifth race, seven furlongs—Prince George, 3 to 10, won; Copyright, 16 to 5, 2; Nero, 40 to 1, 3. Time, 1.28½. Blue Garter also ran.

Sixth race, one mile—Setauket, 5 to 1, won; McIntyre, 4 to 1, 2; Plenty, 9 to 5, 3. Time, 1.42. Speculation, Star Actress and Jodan also ran.

Will There be Racing at Roby?

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Roby race track is advertised to open to-morrow, Friday. Richard Dwyre, the starter, arrived from the East last night, and will handle the flag at Roby.

A despatch from Indianapolis says Governor Matthews says he will suppress the racing if possible within the law, as he says the racing will be a cruelty to the horses.

No Winter Racing at Roby.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15.—Governor Matthews said last night that he had notified the backers of the Roby Winter Racing Association that the proposed winter meeting at that track could not come off, and that he would stop it if in his power.

BASEBALL.

Will It be an Eight-Club League?

New York, Nov. 15.—A majority of the baseball magnates were present in the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, when the 20th convention re-assembled. If the constitution could be so amended, it is believed that an eight-club circuit would very soon take the place of the present twelve club arrangements, or if not, that the franchises of four of the clubs would be gladly assumed by other members of the League. It is practically acknowledged to-day, that all probability of a change is, at present, at an end, so far as the number of League clubs is concerned. The only clubs which might sell their franchises, it is said, will not dispose of them for less than what would be considered exorbitant prices. The plan offering two circuits, an Eastern and a Western, to play separate schedules, and then conclude the series by Eastern versus Western games, and vice versa, does not to-day appear to enjoy many chances of arriving at fruition. When the convention reassembled this morning the first question taken up was the disposal of the ten per cent. gate receipts, and this topic still engross the attention of the "magnates" till late to-day. The minor league's session to-day may be productive of suggestions which will either make confusion worse confounded or will tend to solve the tangled questions which are perplexing the "magnates:"

Among the minutes was the record of President Young's re-election to the presidency for the three years next ensuing. Mr. Young is elected secretary and treasurer by the National Board. The following "magnates" were elected members of the Board of Directors: J. T. Brush, of Cincinnati; J. A. Hart, Chicago; Chris. Von Der Ahe, St. Louis; C. H. Byrne, Brooklyn; A. H. Soden, Boston; and H. R. Von Der Horst, Baltimore. They represent three Eastern and three Western clubs, and were elected by ballot. The National Board, consisting of A. H. Soden, C. H. Byrne and President Young, was re-elected.

BILLIARDS

Ives Leads Schaefe.

New York, Nov. 15.—In the Ives-Schaefer billiard match the total score stood: Ives, 2,400; Schaefer, 1,793. Highest runs—Schaefer, 244; Ives, 177. Average for night—Schaefer, 54 9-13; Ives, 42 6-7. Grand average—Schaefer, 36 29-49; Ives, 48 48-49.

HOCKEY.

The Waverleys Reorganize.

At a meeting of the Waverley Hockey Club, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

Hon. Pres., Mr. R. S. Weir; Pres., Mr. P. McKenna; Vice-Pres., Mr. W. W. Burland; Sec., Mr. Jas. B. Urquhart; Treas., Mr. H. H. Snowdon; Committee—P. Mullin, J. Rowat, A. Franckum; delegates to league—P. McKenna, W. Burland, Jas. Urquhart.

The club will practise two nights a week, on the Prince Arthur Skating Rink. Address all communication to J. Urquhart, 124 St. Famille Street.

TOBOGGANING.

The Park Club's Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Park Tobogganing Club will be held this evening at the Windsor Hotel. As the main question to be considered will be whether or not the Park slide will be opened this winter, it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

SKATING.

The Canadian Association.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Skating Association will be held at the rooms of the M.A.A.A., Mansfield Street, on Wednesday, 21st inst., at eight o'clock, for reception of Council's report, Treasurer's statement, and Sub-Committee's report of revision of by-laws, election of officers, etc.

SNOW SHOEING.

The Sport in Sherbrooke.

Sherbrooke, Oct. 15.—The Tuque Rouge Snowshoe Club held their annual meeting last night at their Club House. The following were elected officers: President, Dr. J. O. Camirand; 1st vice-president, Louis St. Jean; 2nd vice-president, P. Desaulniers; secretary, Leandre Proulx; asst.-secretary, C. F. Olivier; treasurer, T. A. Bourque; captain, L. H. Olivier; committeemen, L. Dupuis and L. A. Belanger.

QUOITS.

Riverside Quoiting Club.

A special meeting of the members of the Riverside Club will be held next Monday evening to make final arrangements about the skating rink on their grounds.

Dominion Quoiting Club.

The members of the Dominion Quoiting Club have arranged for their annual dinner on Wednesday evening, the 21st inst., (Thanksgiving Eve.) and invite all members of sister quoiting clubs.

Montreal Quoiting Club.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Montreal Quoiting Club, held last evening, Mr. J. Scullion, president, in the chair. There was a good attendance of members. After some routine business was transacted, it was resolved that the Club's annual dinner should take place on Thursday evening, Dec. 6. A committee was named to make arrangements for it.

CRICKET.

The Victorias Will Meet.

A general meeting of the Victoria Cricket Club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Building Friday evening, the 16th inst., at 7.30 o'clock. Every member is specially requested to attend, as business of importance will be discussed.

ATHLETICS.

May Pay an English Team's Expenses.

New York, Nov. 15.—Secretary Gulick, of the New York Athletic Club, received a reply yesterday from the Boston Athletic Association in regard to the proposition to co-operate with the New York and Schuylkill Navy Athletic Clubs in inviting the London Athletic Club, of England, to send over a team of athletes to this country next year to engage in a series of outdoor games for the championship of the world. The reply did not please the Mercury foot officials, as the Bostonians refused to entertain the proposition. The Schuylkill Navy Club officials announced some time ago that they were willing to engage in the games, but that their funds, which were very low, would not permit of the expenditure of the amount of money required to participate in the meeting, and, consequently, they would be unable to compete.

The New York Athletic Club men are not at all discouraged over their failure to secure the assistance of the Bostonians and Philadelphians in the matter, and will probably go it alone. Final action will be taken on the matter at the meeting of the Board of Governors next Tuesday night. It will then be decided whether the Club will defray the expenses of the meeting or not.

The Quebec Snowshoe Club.

[Special to the Herald.]

Quebec, Nov. 15.—The Quebec Snowshoe Club elected its officers for the year last night. They are: President, W. J. Ray; Vice-President, A. H. Peters; Secretary, I. Warrack; Treasurer, C. V. Norris; Committee, R. J. Davidson, T. D. Beattie, L. Bruneau, Jos. Gingras, Secretary J. Dunbar.

THE WHEEL.

A Balance on the Right Side.

The Montreal Bicycle Club met last evening to consider the financial statement of the C.W.A. meet in July last. The figures were not made known but it is understood that the club has a balance of $500 over all expenses. Twenty-five per cent of of this will be turned over to the C.W.A.

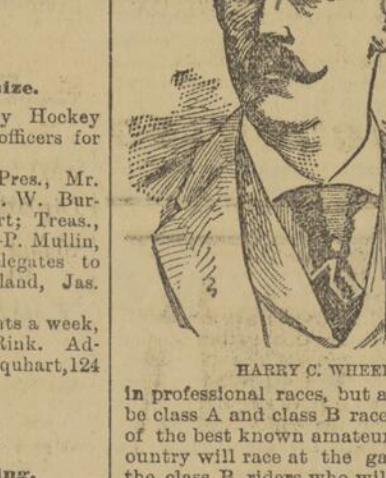

A Farewell to "Sandie."

The Montreal Bicycle Club will meet at the Club House at 8 o'clock this morning, and will ride to the SS. Mongolian, to bid good-bye to "Sandie" Stewart. A large turn-out is expected.

Weather permitting, there will be a final Club run on Thanksgiving Day to Valois, returning to Lachine for dinner.

Zimmerman, Wheeler and Others to Meet in New York.

Arthur A. Zimmerman, who is the champion wheelman of the world and without question the greatest rider the world has yet produced, will make his first professional appearance in New York during the grand cycling tournament that opens in Madison Square Garden, New York, Nov. 27, and continues one week. Last year Zimmerman was king of all amateurs in America, and his great feat of winning over 100 races during a season has never been equaled. This year he has met and vanquished the best men in all Europe, and in the opinion of competent and impartial judges there is no rider on earth today that can defeat him in a series of from three to five races. Among the other famous riders who will compete at the Garden are Harry C. Wheeler, the young New Jersey wheelman who was king of the Cash Prize league in America nearly a year and a half ago; Lucien Louvet, champion short distance rider of France; Arthur Linton, middle distance champion of France; M. Huret, the French long distance champion; A. C. Edwards, champion of England, and Alexander Verheyen, the German champion. These men and such veterans as Albert Schock, Billy Martin and others will be seen only in professional races, but as there are to be class A and class B races as well many of the best known amateur riders in the country will race at the garden. Among the class B riders who will probably contest for prizes are Sanger, Johnson, Bliss, Bald, McDonald, Tyler, Taxis and C. M. and W. F. Murphy.

The programme is the most interesting ever outlined for a bicycle meet in Madison Square Garden. Instead of the usually tiresome six days' go-as you-please race, which cannot fail to shorten the life of each competitor who manages to keep his wheel wabbling around the track for nearly a week, a number of short distance races between class A, class B and professional riders will be held each day, and the only long distance race of the week in any way resembling the previous six day tournaments will be a 24 hour international championship race on Dec. 1. As many of the short distance events will be handicaps, nearly every swift rider entered will have a chance of winning, and the races will not be of an unpleasantly one sided character. The programme follows:

Nov. 27, Class A.—One mile safety race for novices, scratch; half mile safety race for men with mile records of 2:30 or better, scratch; class B, one mile safety race, 2:15 class; half mile heat race, first prize to be awarded to the man making the fastest heat; three mile lap race, scratch; professional one mile safety race, scratch; five mile safety race, scratch.

Nov. 28, Class A.—One mile safety race, 2:40 class; two mile safety race, handicap; class B, one mile safety race, scratch; five mile safety race for the indoor championship, scratch; one mile safety race, handicap; professional one mile safety race, scratch; ten mile safety race, scratch.

Nov. 29 (morning), Class A.—Half mile safety race for boys 14 and 15 years of age; one mile safety race for boys 15 and 16 years of age, scratch; one mile safety race, 3 minute class. Afternoon, Class A.—Five mile indoor championship race, scratch; one mile safety race, handicap; class B, two mile safety race, scratch; two mile safety race, handicap; professional one mile safety race, scratch; two mile safety race, handicap.

Nov. 30, Class A.—One mile indoor championship race, scratch; two mile safety race, handicap; class B, one mile indoor championship race, scratch; five mile safety race, scratch; professional two mile safety race, scratch; 25 mile indoor championship, scratch.

Dec. 1, Class A.—Half mile safety race, scratch; one mile safety race, handicap; class B, two mile safety race, handicap; one mile lap race, scratch; professional five mile safety race, scratch; two mile safety race, scratch; 24 hour international championship race, scratch.

Dec. 2, Class A.—One mile safety race, scratch; class B, five mile safety race, scratch; professional one mile safety race, scratch; two mile safety race, scratch; ten mile safety race, scratch.

George Banker, the swift young Pittsburg rider who has been so successful in France, and who stubbornly disputed with Wheeler the honor of finishing second to the great Zimmerman during the past season, is under contract to ride abroad and will not participate in the Garden tournament. While in Paris the usual order of finishing in the big races, no matter how many competitors were entered, was Zimmerman, Wheeler and Banker, or Zimmerman, Banker and Wheeler.

A number of months ago Huret, the French champion, made a new 24 hour record of 457 miles 1,622 yards and should be a formidable competitor in the coming 24 hour race. Edwards is the best man at present representing England in the professional ranks, with the possible exception of Harris. He has won about 30 races this season, but was no match for Zimmerman. Louvet, the French champion, is another swift rider who has been beaten by the steel limbed Jerseyman.

The coming tournament will be held under the auspices of the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs, of which A. E. Hildick is president. Charles A. Sheehan, ex-president of the association, will manage the tournament, which gives promise of being the most successful event of the kind ever held in the Garden. Zimmerman is one of the most popular riders America ever produced, and he and Wheeler are sure to receive a royal welcome at the hands of their old amateur friends.

EARLE H. EATON.

THE RING.

Jim Hall Had Too Big a Contract.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Jim Hall failed tonight in his endeavor to put out Henry Baker, of Milwaukee, and Billy Woods, of Denver, in four rounds each. Fully five thousand people assembled at Tattersalls to see these and other exhibitions. Baker was first tackled by Hall, but he was on his feet at the end of the four rounds. Hall had the best of the fight, however.

The next event was a seven-round contest between Tommy West, of Boston, and Frank O'Neill, colored, of Canada, both at 140 lbs. The seventh was a hot round, but both men were there at the finish, and it was called a draw.

Jim Hall and Billy Woods then appeared. Hall scored a knock-down in the first, but Woods saved himself by clinching at every opportunity. He repeated these tactics throughout the fight and managed to stay there for the four rounds.

Steve O'Donnell's Challenge.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 15.—James J. Corbett announces to-night that Steve O'Donnell is preparing to issue a challenge for a match with any man in the world for $5,000 a side. Peter Maher or Jim Hall preferred. The match is to take place the same week Corbett fights Fitzsimmons. Corbett says O'Donnell and McVey are training him daily for his fight with Fitzsimmons. Corbett ran twenty miles today, and is in excellent condition". U

RIPE FOR ANARCHY.

Mowbray the English Anarchist Thinks America is.

New York, Nov. 15.—Charles Wilfred Mowbray, the English Anarchist, was tendered a reception to-night at Clarendon Hall by his admirers. Mowbray, among other things, said: "I will not tell how I escaped from England and came here, for I may have to repeat the dose. No country under the sun is more ripe for anarchy than America. Here, at least, they pretend to have liberty, but of freedom there is none. In order to down capitalism and to gain our ends, we must adopt revolutionary and what would now be termed illegal measures. You must ignore the constitution.

Emma Goldman also spoke. She said: "You can't kill Anarchy. We will fight for it to the last moment. Many more victims will have to die before Anarchy."

New York, Nov. 15.—Regarding the deportation of Charles Wilfred Mowbray, the English anarchist, Immigration Commissioner Senner said to-day that although Mowbray had entered the country under an assumed name, he was not liable under any law regarding the admission of emigrants, Senner said: "We have no law that will touch him, so, of course, I can take no action in the matter."

BRAZILIAN AFFAIRS.

President Moraes Issues a Manifesto On Taking Office.

Rio de Janiero, Nov. 15.—Gen. Prudente Moraes, upon assuming the presidency today, issued a manifesto in which he says that he recognizes the difficulties of his position, but that he counts apon the support of all friends of the Republic to assist him in overcoming them. He guarantees that respect shall be observed for the liberties of the people. He also promises to exercise strict control of the finances of the country. He declares that economies will be effected in the various departments in order to bring about the equilibrium of the budget. The manifesto concludes with the statement that peace prevails both at home and abroad.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

Col. Coit and Sheriff Cook in the Lynching Fatality.

Washington Court House, Ohio, Nov. 15.—Coroner James W. Edwards returned his verdict to-day in the inquest on the five persons shot by the State militia guarding the person of a negro from would-be lynchers, on the night of October 17 last. The verdict holds Col. Coit, commanding the militia, and Sheriff Cook guilty of murder in the first degree, alleging that the demonstration by the populace was not of so serious a nature as to warrant the shooting. Coit and Cook will be tried before the next session of the Court of Common Pleas.

TWO MILLION LOSS.

Boulder, Colo., Nov. 15.—Fire in a saw mill west of the mining camp of Wardstarting last night, spread to the timber and has been doing great damage. The fire spread through the dry pine timber with terrible rapidity, and settlers along its path were forced to leave their homes to burn and get into the camps. The property loss cannot at present be told, but it will amount to over $2,000,000. There will, necessarily, be great destitution.

OBITUARY.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—L. B. Young, an accomplished court stenographer, died to-day, aged 35. He died of meningitis, and leaves a wife and two children.

Miss Mathilde Chopitea, of Dolors, Uruguay, South America, who has been a resident of Toronto for nearly two years at the Rossin House, died this afternoon, where she resided, after two weeks illness. Miss Chopitea was a great favorite in Toronto society. She was of Spanish descent and exceedingly handsome.

G.T.R. Medical Attendance.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Dr. Hutchison, Montreal, chief medical adviser for the G.T.R. Insurance Society, met a committee representing the employees to-day, at the Company's office, in the Union Station. These meetings are usually held at Montreal every three months. This was a special one, and was called chiefly to discuss the rate paid for medical attendance. The employees were represented by delegates from Stratford, Hamilton, London, Sarnia, Toronto, Montreal, and Richmond, Que.

Three Sailors Drowned.

Grandhaven, Mich., November 15.—The schooner Antelope of Chicago capsized off here to-day and the three men composing her crew were drowned. She left Chicago yesterday for White Lake, Mich., without a cargo. Within ten minutes of the sinking of the Antelope the schooner Antler went ashore and went to pieces. Her crew were rescued after a hard fight by the life-saving crew, the wreckage of the Antelope is washing ashore, but none of the bodies have been recovered.

State Senator in Trouble.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—State Senator John O'Malley, for whom the police have been searching since the night of the election, surrendered himself to-day. O'Malley is charged with having wounded a bartender and a cab driver, and was also wanted for alleged complicity in the murder of Gus Collander, the judge of election who was killed while resisting an attempt to steal a ballot box. O'Malley denies that he had anything to do with the ballot box theft.

MINISTERS DOWN EAST.

No Trail of Glory Marks Their Passage.

New Glasgow, N.S., Nov. 15.—The Tupper-Ouimet troupe has come and gone, and the town moves in its quiet way as before. No trail of glory marks the passage of the starring crowd. Indeed, their visit to this country was far from satisfactory to themselves. It was a blessing in disguise to the Liberals. The ministers did a deal of sight-seeing, were lunched and dined, but apart from that in nowise did they profit. In fact, it was not all smooth sailing for the ministerial party.

At Ferrona their difficulties began. Their proposed public performance had to be abandoned. The reason of this is not very clear. Sir Charles Hibbert, perhaps, knows the reason better than any one. Some promises made to the faithful of Hopewell at the last Dominion election have not yet been fulfilled, and it was quietly whispered that if the Minister of Marine and Fisheries appeared on a public platform in that polling district he would be accorded such a reception as is not usually given to a minister of the Crown by his constituents. It may be that this threat influenced the ministers in not holdind their meeting at Ferrona. But there was another reason. A deputation waited on the party to demand that Eureka and Ferrona siding be made a booking station as at present the residents are compelled to go to the station at Ferrona Junction to their disadvantage. The Junction station was built entirely for the convenience of the Iron Company. The demand of the deputation was a just one but the ministerial party decided to leave the town without ceremony.

At Bridgeville the most important part of the programme was the "lunch" provided by the Iron Company. Some wicked people say that the tastiest dish on the menu was salmon, but surely they are not speaking the truth. The fishery officers must have been sleeping to allow the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to lunch an salmon on the 9th day of November, A.D. 1894. The story is probably a hoax.

It is hard to speak of the ministers' visit to New Glasgow and be truthful. Perhaps the most pronounced manifestation of loyalty was seen at the so-called "jollification" on Friday night, when all the Government officials and ex-Government contractors assembled to do honor to their masters. The function was one of the most glorious of its kind. It will be remembered in the town for the "fullness" of the reception. And after all that the ministers said nothing about tariffs. It was quietly given out, however, that their mission to the Provinces was to demolish D. C. Fraser in Guysboro. It will be the old story of the mouse and the mountain.

THAT WIDER SCOPE.

In Toronto's Boodle Investigation Gives Great Promise.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Mayor Kennedy had an interview with Judge McDougall to-day concerning the resumption of the boodle investigation. His Honor told His Worship that everything would be done that was possible to be done to not only expedite the re-opening of the enquiry, but also to facilitate its conclusion.

Messrs. Nesbitt and Grier are hard at work getting the information now in their possession into shape, so that the investigation can be carried on continuously once it is set going again without interruption until the end.

There was a very well defined rumor current in municipal circles this forenoon to the effect that the Brush Electric Company had concluded that it would be advantageous to send Mr. Wheeler and Col. Rogers to Toronto, to testify as rival concerns had already liberally supplied their agents with Judge McDougall's report more particularly that portion of it that contained his severe strictures on the attitude of the company which declined to consent to permit their representatives to enter the witness box and tell what they knew about the ticked list of Aldermen. It was also mentioned as part of the self same rumor that the evidence of Messrs. Wheeler and Rogers might be of a very sensational nature.

The Mayor said he had not heard the rumor.

UNITY ONCE MORE.

Says Mr. Dillon in the Ranks of the Irish Party.

London, Nov. 15.—Mr. John Dillon, the well-known anti-Parnellite member of the House of Commons delivered an address at Glasgow this evening. His speech was devoted to pointing out the necessity for union between Irishmen. He said he was glad to bring the good news that after the meeting in Dublin on Monday and Tuesday there seemed to have been established a centre of unity around which all the loyalty of the Irish race could once more rally and which would be entitled in the future to speak the name "Irish nation."

Mullin Again in Court.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The Evening Telegram's special London cable says: For the second time James Hull,n, the Montrealer charged with embezzlement, was arraigned before the Bow Street Police Magistrates this morning and remanded until the 28th. On the previous occasion a technical objection was supported by the bench and the accused was discharged. He was re-arrested on leaving the court room. Mullin is charged with appropriating monies realized from a sale of a shipment of horses belonging to James Darling, of Montreal.

J. S. Fullerton Recommended.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—At the meeting of the Executive Committee to-day the name of Mr. J. S. Fullerton, Q.C., was sent on to Council as the recommendation of the Committee for City Solicitor in succession to Chief Justice Meredith.

Joe Patchen's Fast Mile.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 15.—Joe Patchen to-day, driven by Jack Curry over a half-mile track, went a mile in 2.08 flat. This is the fastest ever paced on a half-mile track.

Goodridge Should Resign.

London, Nov. 16.—In a leader this morning commenting on the Newfoundland elections, the Times says that the Government of Premier Goodridge is the embodiment of constitutional purity or it is nothing. Therefore it is a special degree incumbent upon him to act strictly in accordance with parliamentary usages. The simplest and most fitting course for the Government is to resign forthwith.

C.P.R. Brakeman Killed.

Chatham, Ont., Nov. 15.—About 1.30 this afternoon James Brady, a brakesman on a C.P.R. freight train, fell between the cars near the station and was instantly killed. He was 35 years of age, and unmarried.

R.M.C. Cadets Free.

Kingston, Nov. 15.—The Royal Military College Cadets, who were punished by confinement to the grounds for twenty-eight days, because of their connection with the hazing of ex-Cadet Plummer, were given their freedom yesterday and entertained by citizens.

MOORE MEMORIAL.

OPENING OF THE HOME FOR INCURABLE AND CONVALESCENTS.

Addresses by President Alexander, Sir William Dawson, and Others.

The formal opening of the Moore Memorial Home for Incurables and Convalescents took place yesterday afternoon. Over two hundred friends of the charitable object for which the Home was provided were present to witness the ceremony.

After a thorough inspection of the building the guests assembled in the large reception room of the old building where at the request of President Alexander, the Rev. J. Edgar Hill opened the meeting with prayer. Among those on the platform were Sir William Dawson, Rev. Canon Ellegood, James Moore and Charles Alexander, Rev. J. Edgar Hill. Letters of regret for inability to attend were read from Rev. Dr. Rose and Rev. W. H. Warriner.

President Alexander then delivered the following address:

Ladies and Gentlemen,

The Governors of this institution cordially welcome you, its friends on the present occasion to visit and examine the new wing erected by one of our Governors, James Moore, Esq., in memory of his deceased brother and intended for the use of incurables and also for convalescent sufferers.

This work will be in connection with and in addition to that of our older institution that provides a home for our aged, friendless old people of both sexes and which for some thirty years has fulfilled its mission most usefully.

For a number of years back the Governots and Board of Management have been looking and hoping for such a missing link as this in connection with the work. Our friend, though sitting at the board quietly awaited his time, and of his own accord, made the proposition to erect a building for the above purpose, to be conducted and managed under and by the governors of this corporation.

There was space sufficient for this purpose on a part of the ground that had been so generously bequeathed to the House of Industry and Refuge by the late Thomas Molson, Esq., at the remembrance of whose benevolence our hearts are grateful to-day.

This wing will be called "The George Moore Memorial Home," and after having seen it you will, we are sure, rejoice with us that the loving Father of all had put this most generous desire in the mind and heart of our kind friend to be instrumental in erecting such a beautiful home.

As to the furnishing this has been done by the spontaneous desire of our friends George B. Burland and of his son, Col. Jeffrey H. Burland, saying to the committee, go on; furnish the building with everything needful, of the best, from the basement to the top. No limit as to price, do it well, and provide all that is needful. We leave you, dear friends, having seen the house, to say whether or not these generous friends have kept their word.

In the last semi-annual report of this institution suitable resolutions were unanimously passed and engrossed in the minutes, first to our generous friend Jas. Moore, Esq., second, to Messrs. G. B. & J. H. Burland, Esqrs., for this most kind offer in furnishing the building, thus fitting it for the reception of patients, and without delay to proceed with this new addition to their work.

Those in this audience, who have had experience in carrying out similar work to ours, we are sure, will sympathize with the feelings of deep gratitude we experienced to these two gentlemen for lifting that load of care and anxiety from our minds as to furnishing such a large house.

As to the management of this special work, in addition to the efficient oversight of Mrs. D. McMillan as matron, the board after much care, have appointed as her assistant Mrs. Wyatt, from whose testimonials as to character and fitness for her position they have the utmost confidence.

The president then introduced Sir William Dawson, who stated that he had watched the progress of the work undertaken by the society for the past 31 years with the utmost interest, although he had not been in a position to devote the time and labor to it that had been done by Mr. Alexander and others. The work done had his most cordial support and that of everyone who could not fail to see the necessity for it. The institute in which they were was wanted to complete the work done by the house in town. During the time of convalescence the sufferers would appreciate the admirable addition provided by Mr. Moore in memoriam of his brother. He congratulated Colonel Burland on his good beginning in philanthropic work and looked to God for a blessing upon the institution.

Mr. James Moore, who was received with loud applause said that he had thought of the need of such a home for 15 years past. He had seen the need of it, and when two years ago the Governors had undertaken to maintain the home he had put up the building and in so doing was afraid that he had laid a heavy burden on the shoulders of the Governors who would need a lot of money to keep it up. (Laughter). He referred in complimentary terms to the contractors and architects who had so ably carried out his intentions and was glad that it was into Mr. Alexander's hands that he was to place the key, for he knew none who had been more faithful to the work.

Mr. Moore then handed over the key to Mr. Alexander and completed his magnificent gift by presenting the president with insurance policies upon the building for three years.

On behalf of the Governors, Mr. Alexander read the following acceptance:

Dear Friend Moore,—In the name of the Governors of this Institution, we accept with gratitude this "Key," indicating that the building to be known as the "George Moore Memorial Home," for incurables and convalescent sufferers, is now a part of the property of this corporation.

In looking back, as you can do, on the good work, already done by this Institution, the Governors may be safely trusted to carry out the benevolent desire of the generous donor.

Short addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Barclay, Canon Ellegood, Rev. W. Hall, Rev. Dr. McKay, Rev. J. B. Silcox, Rev. T. S. McWilliams and Mr. William Rutherford, after which the doxology was sung and Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell pronounced a benediction.

At the close of the ceremony refreshments were served to the guests.

Among those present were: Sir William and Lady Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gault, Mrs. M. H. Gault, Mrs. Ernest Gault, Miss Gault, Mr. and Mrs. S. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. S. Forsyth, Rev. Mr. Silcox, Rev. A. B. McKay, Rev. Dr. Barclay, Rev. Canon Ellegood, Rev. Jas. Patterson, Rev. Mr. McWilliams, Rev. W. and Mrs. Hall, Miss Hall, Miss McGarry, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Porter, J. MacArthur, Lieut.-Col. Lyman, Mrs. W. V. Dawson, Miss Dawson, W. Rutherford, W. Drysdale, Mrs. McDougall, D. Morrice, Miss McLea, Mr. and Mrs. R. Irwin, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Charles Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. W. Masterman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gurd, Miss Gurd, Mr. Holden, R.C. Jamieson, Mr. Angus, R. K. Thomas, J. H. R. Molson, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Mosher, Miss Gibson, Mrs. Cuthbert, Mrs. Wolferstan Thomas, Miss Livingstone, Miss Wray, Joseph Richards, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. M. Duff.

THE NEW HOME FOR INCURABLES.

The George Moore Memorial Home is on the road to Longue Pointe, beautifully situated, over-looking the St. Lawrence in front and presenting a magnificent view of the Mountain and surrounding country from the rear. It is the gift of James Moore, one of the directors of the House of Refuge, in memoriam of his brother, the late George Moore. The building is a splendid specimen of work fashioned out of Montreal stone and is of a rectangular form consisting of three stories and a basement, with spacious verandahs surrounding the whole. The main entrance leads into a noble hall running the entire length of the building, and the design for the two upper stories is the same. On the first floor are the parlor and library and a number of perfectly equipped bedrooms. Each flat has a separate dining room and pantry connected with the kitchen in the basement by a dumb waiter. Each flat is fitted up with bathrooms and lavatories finished with tile floors, marble basins, etc., with the utmost attention to comfort and sanitary requirements. A room in each flat is set apart for sitting-room purposes, and the bed rooms from top to bottom are models of light and airy comfort and elegance. The basement contains a model kitchen, with a Hicks wrought iron oven range, brass kettles and pots and every imaginable utensil. A dining-room, laundry and pantry are also here, and heat for the home is supplied from two hot-water furnaces, while another furnace supplies hot water for other purposes throughout the house. The furnishing and equipment for the whole establishment were the gift of Mr. G. B. Burland and his son, Lieut.-Col. Jeffrey H. Burland in memory of the late Mrs. G. B. Burland, the library being the gift of her daughters, Mrs. H. M. Ami, Mrs. G. C. Stephen and Mrs. J. A. MacPhail. The result leaves not one single article to be desired. There are at present in the old building about 130 inmates, and this magnificent gift of James Moore supplemented by the Messrs. Burland will provide accommodation for about 100 more.

GOLD FOR CANADA!

Drawn From the Bank of England for the Loan.

London, Nov. 16.—In its financial article this morning the Times says most of the gold withdrawn from the Bank of England to-day was purchased in American eagles by two Canadian banks. It is probably wanted by tenderers for the new Canadian loan. It is possible that more will go for the same purpose, but such operations are not likely to be large.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Sir John Pender Thinks Caution Should be Observed.

London, Nov. 15.—Sir John Pender, of the Eastern Cable Co., was interviewed this morning regarding the declaration of the Marquis of Ripon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, that he contemplated convening another conference with reference to the proposed Pacific cable. Sir John said that looking at the matter from the standpoint of an investor he would say that the necessity for caution was strikingly illustrated in the condition of affairs in the existing Atlantic cables, which were not making anything like an adequate return for the amount expended on their construction.

Bad Town for Burglars.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Cautious burglars will give Toronto the "shake" after the experience some of the fraternity have had during the past week. There are now seven alleged members of the profession, who have done considerable work around the city recently, in the strong arms of the law, and householders can rest easy at nights. The latest additions to the gang in custody are two brothers named John and Thomas Walsh, aged 22 and 20 respectively. A large quantity of jewelry and wearing apparel found at their house on Regent Avenue has been identified as stolen property. John McKee was also arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the theft. They all pleaded not guilty, consented to be tried summarily and were remanded until Wednesday, bail being refused.

MINISTERS ENDORSE IT.

Donnoha, Forsyth Co., N. C.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—For some six or seven years my wife had been an invalid. Becoming convinced that it was her only hope, we bought six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and "Golden Medical Discovery." To the surprise of the community and the joy of myself and family, in one week my wife commenced to improve, and long before she had taken the last bottle she was able to do her own work (she had not been able to do it before for seven years), and when she had taken the last of the medicine she was soundly cured.

MRS. STIMPSON.

Yours truly, Rev. T. H. STIMPSON.

For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down or overworked; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and, later, at the critical "change of life"—"Favorite Prescription" is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates, and cures.

THE MAN WHO DID NOT BELIEVE IN LUCK

(Now First Published—All Rights Reserved.)

He got in at Ipswich with seven different weekly papers under his arm. I noticed that each one insured its reader against death or injury by railway accident. He arranged his luggage upon the rack above him, took off his hat and laid it on the seat beside him, mopped his bald head with a red silk handkerchief and then set to work steadily to write his name and address upon each of the seven papers. I sat opposite to him and read Punch. I always take the old humor when traveling. I find it soothing to the nerves.

Passing over the points at Manningtree the train gave a lurch, and a horseshoe he had carefully placed in the rack slipped through the netting and fell with a musical ring upon his head.

He appeared neither surprised nor angry. Having stanched the wound with his handkerchief he stooped and picked it up, glanced at it with, as I thought, an expression of reproach and dropped it gently out of the window.

"Did it hurt you?" I asked.

It was a foolish question, I told myself so the moment I had uttered it. The thing must have weighed three pounds at the least; it was an exceptionally large and heavy shoe. The bump on his head was swelling visibly before my eyes. Anyone but an idiot must have seen that he was hurt. I expected an irritable reply. I should have given one myself had I been in his place. Instead, however, he seemed to regard the inquiry as a natural and kindly expression of sympathy.

"It did, a little," he replied.

"What were you doing with it?" I asked. It was an odd sort of thing for a man to be traveling with.

"It was lying in the roadway just outside the station," he explained; "I picked it up for luck."

He refolded his handkerchief so as to bring a cooler surface in contact with the swelling, while I murmured something genial about the inscrutability of Providence.

"Yes," he said; "I've had a deal of luck in my time, but it's never turned out well.

"I was born on a Wednesday," he continued; "which, as I daresay you know, is the luckiest day a man can be born on. My mother was a widow, and none of my relatives would do anything for me. They said it would be like taking coals to Newcastle helping a boy born on a Wednesday; and my uncle, when he died, left every penny of his money to my brother Sam, as a slight compensation to him for having been born on a Friday. All I ever got was advice upon the duties and responsibilities of wealth, when it arrived, and entreaties that I would not neglect those with claims upon me when I came to be a rich man."

EMPLOYER GAVE ME A GOOSE.

"Then there are black cats," he went on; "they're said to be lucky. Why, there never was a blacker cat than the one that followed me into my rooms in Bolsover street the very first night I took them."

"Didn't he bring you luck?" I inquired, finding that he had stopped.

A far-away look came into his sad eyes.

"Well, of course it all depends," he answered, dreamily, "maybe we'd never have suited one another; you can always look at it that way. Still, I'd like to have tried.'

He sat staring out of the window, and for a while I did not care to intrude upon his evidently painful memories.

"What happened then?" I asked however, at last.

He roused himself from his reverie.

"Oh," he said, "nothing extraordinary. She had to leave London for a time and gave me her pet canary to take charge of while she was away."

"But it wasn't your fault," I urged.

"No, perhaps not," he agreed; "but it created a coldness which others were not slow to take advantage of.

"I offered her the cat, too," he added, but more to himself than to me.

We sat and smoked in silence. I felt that the consolations of a stranger would sound weak.

"Piebald horses are lucky, too," he observed, knocking the ashes from his pipe against the window sash. "I had one of them once."

"What did it do to you?" I inquired.

"Lost me the best crib I ever had in my life," was the simple rejoinder. "The governor stood it a good deal longer than I had any right to expect; but you can't keep a man who is always drunk. It gives a firm a bad name."

"It would," I agreed.

"You see," he went on, "I never had the head for it. To some men it would not have so much mattered; but the very first glass was enough to upset me, I'd never been used to it."

"But why did you take it?" I persisted. "The horse didn't make you drink it, did he?"

"Well, it was this way," he explained, continuing to rub gently the lump which was now about the size of an egg; "the animal had belonged to a gentleman who had traveled in the wine and spirit line, and who had been accustomed to visit in the way of business almost every public house he came to. The result was you couldn't get that little horse past a public-house—at least I couldn't. He sighted them a quarter of a mile off, and made stright for the door. I struggled with him at first, but it was five to ten minutes' work getting him away, and folks used to gather round and bet on us. I think, maybe, I'd have stuck to it, however, if it hadn't been for a temperance chap who stopped one day and lectured the crowd about it from the opposite side of the street. He called me Pilgrim, and said the little horse was Rollin, or some such name, and kept on shouting out that I was to fight him for a heavenly crown. After that they called us 'Rolly and the Pilgrim, fighting for the crown.' It riled me, that did, and at the very next house at which he pulled up, I got down and said I'd come for two of Scotch. That was the beginning. It took me years to break myself of the habit."

"But there," he continued, "it has always been the same. I hadn't been a fortnight in my first situation before my employer gave me a goose weighing eighteen pounds, as a Christmas present."

"Well, that couldn't have done you any harm," I remarked. "That was lucky enough."

"So the other clerks said at the time," he replied, "the old gentleman had never been known to give anything away before in his life. 'He's taken a fancy to you,' they said: 'you are a lucky beggar!'"

He signed heavily. I felt there was a story attached.

"What did you do with it?" I asked.

"That was the trouble," he returned; "I did not know what to do with it. It was ten o'clock on Christmas eve, just as I was leaving that he gave it to me. 'Tiddling Brothers have sent me a goose, Biggles,' he said to me, as I helped him on with his great coat. 'Very kind of 'em, but I don't want it myself; you can have it.'

"Of course I thanked him, and was very grateful. He wished me a merry Xmas and went out. I tied the thing up in brown paper, and took it under my arm. It was a fine bird, but heavy.

"Under all the circumstances, and it being Xmas time, I thought I would treat myself to a glass of beer. I went into a quiet little house at the corner of the Lane and laid the goose on the counter.

"'That's a big un,' said the landlord "you'll get a good cut off him to-mor row.'

"His words set me thinking, and for the first time it struck me that I didn't want the bird—that it was no use to me at all. I was going down to spend the Xmas with my young lady's people in Kent."

"Was this the canary young lady?" I interrupted.

"No," he replied; "this was before that one. It was this goose I'm telling you of that upset this one. Well, her folks were big farmers; it would have been absurd taking a goose down to them, and I knew no one in London to give it to, so when the landlord came round again I asked him if he would care to buy it. I told him he could have it cheap.

"'I don't want it myself,' he answered, 'I've got three in the house already. Perhaps one of these gentlemen would like to make an offer.'

"He turned to a couple of chaps who were sitting drinking gin. They didn't look to me worth the price of a chicken between them. The seediest said he'd like to look at it, however; and I undid the parcel. He mauled the thing pretty considerably, and even examined me as to how I came by it, ending by upsetting half a tumbler of gin and water over it. Then he offered me half a crown. It made me so angry that I took the brown paper and the string in one hand and the goose in the other and walked straight out without saying a word.

Maritime Club Opening.

The informal opening of the club rooms of the recently organized Maritime Provinces Association took place last night. Comfortable quarters have been secured at 51 Beaver Hall Hill and they are provided with all the appurtenances of a first class club. Quite a number of the charter members were present but there was no ceremony the official opening having been reserved for a later date.

IN THE PALAZZO.

CHAPTER XIX.

Eveleen was a bright correspondent, whose letters were always popular among her friends; but never had Detta torn open with so much eagerness an envelope directed in the well-known hand as that which arrived a few days after this date. The sheet was very full, although evidently hurriedly dashed off; and, when Detta perceived at the end of it a few lines written in a manly hand, she knew at once that all was well.

"My Darling Benedetta," the letter began,—"I don't see much use in writing to you, as, of course, you know what I am going to say. But it is a relief to write to somebody who cares for me and who know him. Besides which, as Arthur says, you deserve the first letter for giving him your sympathy, like the good, sweet girl that you are. But, you funny little, stupid, prudent thing, fancy only telling him to hope! Why, of course there was no doubt about it. But you are quite right to keep up the dignity of the sex. My dear, I never was so much astonished in my life as when I saw his dear old figure coming tramping up the drive. I didn't even know he was in England. It was all settled in five minutes, before mamma came in; and now, I know why I never could bear any of those Galloways or Westmacotts or like people. Of course it was Arthur's fault all the time, though I tried to delude myself into thinking I had forgotten all about him. Naturally, mamma was anything but amiable at first; but I am old enough to know my own mind now, and stick to it; and not all the mothers in Christendom should set me against Arthur. Poor mamma!

"I suppose I am a disappointing daughter; but really, she was very nasty at first—actually flung Sir Peter in his face—and he, poor fellow—I mean Arthur—was just as meek as a lamb, and said he knew it was a dreadful match for me, and quite a sacrifice, and all that sort of rubbish. So at last I lost patience, and finding Arthur wouldn't fight, determined I would. So I told mamma if I didn't marry Arthur, I'd marry nobody else all the days of my life; but that I was quite determined to marry him, and if she wouldn't give her consent, we'd do without it. I suppose it was very naughty of me, and I think even Arthur was frightened when he saw what a virago his future wife could be. But I completely quenched mamma. And, having once given in, she is as mild as butter, and growing quite fond of Arthur, which, indeed, she can't well help, as he treats her almost as affectionately as he does me, and a great deal more politely!" Over this sentence was written, in a man's hand, the single word "Fibs." "No, it isn't," went on Eva, "it is quite true; but we will spare you a lover's dialogue on paper. I shall write again in a few days, dear Detta, and tell you all our plans and ideas. I can't think rationally of anything with this great heavy creature hanging over my shoulder all the time. One thing more, however—Arthur declares mamma shall come and live with us when we are married. Isn't it forgiving of him? And though, of course, at present, mamma swears that that shall never be, yet equally of course the thought is a great solace to her; and I dare say, at some future time, you will see us all inhabiting the same cage together as peacefully as the typical cat, mouse, and sparrow, or any other well-trained happy family. But that is only in case you marry somebody, too, presently. If you don't do that (which of course she will,' Arthur says—he's grown so conceited since his engagement, that he thinks no girl can possibly be happy without a man of her own to run after)—I hope then you will always stop and take care of mamma, and keep house for her when she grows old. You two would be so snug together—almost as snug as Arthur and me." "Not quite," was written after this in the major's hand. "Arthur is so determined to write to you, that I will let him finish the letter himself. Your loving cousin,

EVA."

Then came Major Drew's addition, written across the top of his betrothed's sheet:

"Dear Cousin Detta,—Eva has told you all the news, so I have little to say, except to add one item in my present condition of bliss, which she has omitted to mention, and which is the acquisition of so sweet and charming a new cousin as yourself. I knew we should be friends from the first moment I saw you; and it is delightful to think that now we shall be relations. I am afraid Mrs. Wilding has little chance of her housekeeper, unless, indeed, your heart is as hard as Eva's has been for the last six years." He had subscribed himself "your affectionate cousin, Arthur Drew;" but through this Eva had evidently drawn her pen, and had written in indignant protest—"No, I will not put up with that! The line must be drawn somewhere, and I must make a stand at once, if I mean to be respected."

"Well, Detta," said Lady Dumbarton, observing the color that flushed her niece's cheeks, and the absorbed attention with which she perused her letter, "your correspondence appears to interest you to-day. Might I inquire if it is from your cousin?"

"Oh, aunt!" exclaimed the girl lifting a face of eager delight, "Evelyn is engaged to Major Drew!"

There was a moment's pause before Lady Dumbarton replied.

"He has been very precipitate about it," she said. "Well, I hope he has not thrown himself away. He is a good, steady man. I only hope she will not prove a light and frivolous wife to him. He has had a wonderful infatuation for her all these years."

"Aunt, said Detta, earnestly, "Eva is not light or frivolous."

"She has always appeared so to me," remarked the elder lady, dryly.

"But that is only," said Detta, quickly, "because she is proud, and cannot show herself in her true colors to those who judge her hardly."

"Do I judge her hardly?" inquired Lady Dumbarton. Then annoyed that the girl gave her no answer, she repeated her question in a more peremptory tone.

Thus pressed, Detta raised her candid eyes toward her aunt.

"I do not think you understand her," she said. "She is naturally reserved; and you do not give her credit for the high principle and deep feelings she possesses."

"I must be a very obtuse and uncharitable person," remarked Lady Dumbarton.

The color deepened in Detta's cheeks. "I am very sorry, aunt," she said; "indeed I did not mean to be rude; but you did ask me, you know."

"Yes," said Lady Dumbarton, "I did ask you; and you young ladies have not much difficulty in giving your opin-

THE MONTREAL HERALD CO.

MONTREAL, NOVEMBER 16.

TWO VALUABLE EXPERIMENTS.

The report of President Schurman of Cornell University for the year ending September 1st, 1894, contains much interesting information as to the work of that eminent seat of learning, and as to certain details of the trend of advanced thought in the matter of higher education generally.

Discipline, for example, is treated at some length, and the progress of the movement through which the students of Cornell have been entrusted with a large measure of power for the regulation of student manners is fully described. In 1895, the students, with the consent of the Faculty, established a Committee on Discipline to deal with cases of fraud in examination. This experiment proved so successful that the Faculty, on May 11, 1894, decided to put into its hands the power of original action in all cases of University discipline. President Schurman treats this movement toward student self-government with warm sympathy. He says:

Hereafter the Faculty can visit penalties on delinquent students only on the recommendation of the Student Council. And, what is far more important, it is expected that the chief business of the Student Council will consist in anticipating and preventing any disturbance or irregularities calling for the infliction of penalties. The scheme is certainly a bold one. It devolves on the Student Council, under the chairmanship of the President of the University, the duty of preserving the order, maintaining the discipline, guarding the honor, and vindicating the dignity of the University. It may be described as a measure for the admission of the student body (represented by the Council) into partnership with the Faculty for the regulation of student affairs and behavior, under which the junior partners are vested with the initiative and management, while the seniors retain only the right of ratifying or rejecting the penalties they propose for default on the part of any member of the firm.

The President further describes this system as "a genuine measure of home rule, growing out of Cornell experiences and experiments" and embodying "the fundamental principle of government at Cornell, to prevent ill-doing by surrounding students with good influences, keeping them busy, and appealing personally to their sense of honor, of manliness, and filial attachment to the University."

Another matter which Professor Schurman discusses at length is the status of Greek in the modern curriculum. He gives a series of tables in regard to the Latin and Greek requirements in forty representative American colleges and universities, which exhibit a strong tendency to cut down the time assigned to Greek. At many of the leading institutions of the United States—Bryn Mawr, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Stanford, Vassar, Wellesley, and Williams—Greek is no longer required for graduation or even admission in the A. B. course. President Schurman concludes that in the long run it is pretty certain to be decided that Greek is not an absolutely essential subject in all liberal education, though he believes that the noblest achievement of Hellenic culture is of "unique and permanent value for the intellectual life of humanity."

There are in the world a good many men to whom this abandonment of an old and honorable theory in scholarship will present itself as an irrefutable argument in support of the contention that American culture is a poor thing at best. They will begin again to ask with Sydney Smith "Who reads an American book." But it will not be generally held that these American colleges have drunk too deep of the spirit of a utilitarian age. An institution, for instance, which has mastered, as Cornell has mastered, the sublime necessity for a well ordered adjustment of responsibilities between pupil and teacher will not be found prone to neglect any of its opportunities for the furtherance of education in its highest development. Professor Schuman does full justice to the unique influence which the study of Greek may exercise upon the movements of the human intellect; but he is probably of those who see that from now on to an immeasureable distance of time, the dwellers in this world will have most to gain from the mastery of the history qualifications and possibilities of the language which the Englishman, with his mighty army of familiars, speaks.

THE PROVINCIAL LOAN.

The Gazette seems unwilling to accept the statement that the loan recently negotiated by Mr. Taillon is more disadvantageous than one which Mr. Mercier refused, on the offer of the same bank, four years ago. The Gazette denies that the blue book which has been called to testify to the truth of this statement establishes the fact that Mr. Mercier refused the offer of La Banque de Paris for a loan of five or six millions at 3 per cent for 30 years at 82½. What did occur, it says, was this: On December 1st, 1890, Mr. G. A. Drolet, of Montreal, wrote the actual Treasurer of the Province, Mr. Shehyn, that La Banque de Paris would pay the price mentioned. Mr. Shehyn replied that the Government was not yet in a position to accept the offer. Mr. Drolet forwarded the Treasurer's letter to the General Manager of La Banque de Paris and on December 30, 1890, the latter wrote a letter from which the Gazette makes the following extracts: "I had the pleasure of receiving your letter of December 11th, which speaks of the projected loan by the Government of Quebec of six million dollars, nominal capital, at three per cent, repayable in a minimum delay of thirty years. In view of the present condition of the market, the price of 82½ which you quote appears at present to us to be high. * * * * Rates which might be considered possible three months ago must now be considered as very strained and very high and as rates upon which it would be very imprudent to base an operation of any importance."

Had the Gazette desired to be quite fair in its argument, it would have transcribed the next sentence but one in M. Sautter's letter. That sentence read: "If it appears from the eagerness displayed by the public, and in any case the eagerness will be great, that there is still considerable capital available for investment at low rates, we will have more courage to take up the Quebec loan, perhaps not quite at 82½, but at a figure close to it." Now, as banking figures go, 77 is not a figure close to 82½. So it appears that after the lapse of the month in which the Mercier Government might have accepted the loan at 82½, and after that alteration in the market which the fall of the Barings had produced, the Banque de Paris was still willing to give that Government a better figure than the Taillon Government has obtained. Mercier refused an offer better than the one that Taillon jumped at.

A SECOND GAMALIEL.

Our recent animadversions on the course adopted by the Hon. J. J. Curran, in the quasi-ministerial position he fills, seems to have aroused that gentleman to the necessity of making a show at least of doing something towards justifying his official existence. Within the last few days, the public who pay so dearly for his services, have had the satisfaction of seeing his name, after a long period of obscuration, appear once again in connection with the special duties, which, it was supposed, in giving him the appointment of Solicitor-General, were to occupy his unremitting and undivided attention. Lately the news has received publicity that Messrs. W. D. Hogg, Q.C., and J. Leslie of the Department of Justice, Ottawa, were in Montreal receiving instruction from Hon. J. J. Curran, Solicitor-General, in preparing the brief in the case of the Queen vs. St. Louis, in connection with the Wellington Street bridge charges. So rarely has the press anything to chronicle with reference to the doings of this functionary, beyond noting his perodical visits to the capital to draw his salary, that we gladly repeat this interesting item of news. We only hope Messrs. Hogg and Leslie had a due appreciation of the privilege thus accorded them of sitting at the feet of this Gamaliel, and profited by the opportunity to draw largely from his overabounding stores of erudition and legal knowledge!

But pleased as the public may be to learn of this laudable effort on the part of the Solicitor-General to do something for his salary, they may naturally ask why he should content himself with merely instructing others how to undertake a task, the performance of which properly devolves on himself. Why not conduct the case himself, and give the country, which pays for his services, the benefit of his great legal attainments and forensic eloquence? Is he too indolent, or too indifferent to bestir himself to this extent; or is it from a consciousness of his own incompetency that he thus withdraws into the background, reduced to the humiliating necessity of having his duties performed by proxy? If his self-effacement in the matter arises from the former cause, the Government that appointed him should at once see to it that some effectual spur is applied to quicken his sluggish energies into greater activity; but, if from the latter cause, then it becomes a question whether he should not be taken at his own estimate of his worth, and removed altogether from a position for which he is not qualified. In any case, to make the country pay outside counsel for work which it is the duty of the Solicitor-General to do, and which he is so well paid for doing, is, to say the least of it, a gross imposition on the public.

The Controller of Customs, who has been opening Orange lodges in the Maritime Provinces and who incidentally lent his influence to the Ministerial stumping party down there, is reported to have said in Montreal on his way back to his duties at Ottawa that "the invasion of Mr. Fraser's constituency, Guysboro, somewhat disconcerted Mr. Laurier's lieutenant." Fancy D. C. Fraser being disconcerted by the presence of such an outfit as Clarke Wallace, Charley Tupper and Ouimet!

COUSIN EMMANUEL WELL LOOKED AFTER.

The Brockville Recorder has been exploring the recesses of that remarkable wilderness of figures, the Auditor-General's report, and has discovered that while Mr. Haggart was permitting Mr. St. Louis to build bridges over the Lachine Canal in his own unique style, Mr. Ouimet was also in his own department taking good care of Cousin Emmanuel. It says:

On page C-180 of the report there are some interesting figures under the heading of "Montreal Post Office, Improvements, etc." The name of the gentleman to whom the amounts inserted were paid, is none other than Em. St. Louis, the dear relative of Hon. Mr. Ouimet, and it is evident he drew the cash for work performed at his own figures without any tenders being asked. The first item is for "completing second floor of building," and it is no less than $6,300. The next "removing old materials, second floor to attic, $34.50." It seems they have very heavy clock weights in that institution, and Mr. St. Louis charged $25 for moving the clock weight box from one flat to another. The items run right along without details. Extending hot water coils, $199.84; cutting and repairing walls, $84.50; work at night, $61.55; iron legs for carriers frames, $24; tin divisions for sorting frames, $11.75. Examining exterior stonework of building so as to prepare a detailed estimate for repairs: Foreman, 70 hours at 30c; carpenter, 20 hours at 25c; labor, 390 hours at 15c; use of two sets of cable and double tackles, seven days at $1.25; total, $93.25. This seems a very peculiar item, and judging from the doctored pay lists that have been discovered in the Curran bridge job, the public are not prepared to accept the word of Mr. St. Louis that all, or even that any of these men worked the hours set opposite their names, ro worket at all for that matter. But this account for touching up the Montreal postoffice goes right through and is paid.

"The Recorder has gone to the trouble of looking up this matter, to show that St. Louis has held contracts at his own prices under the department of which his relative is the head. The revelations that have been made in the Curran bridge affair, which now properly comes under the head of a scandal, leave more than a suspicion in the public mind, that value has not been received by the country for work performed by this relative of Mr. Ouimet. Indeed, a contractor says that all the work done by St. Louis on the Montreal post office would be well paid for at $2,500."

PREFONTAINE ORACULAR.

The moral effectiveness of what is commonly known as a bold front is well understood by Alderman Prefontaine. A show of confidence is as good as confidence itself if braced up by the necessary nerve; and the alderman for Hochelaga ward is assuredly not lacking in nerve.

With all possible deliberation, speaking to a reporter it would appear expressly for the public ear, Mr. Prefontaine said:

1st.—That the city will have to buy the Water and Power Co. out sooner or later.

2nd.—That it will be better for the city to buy it out now when it will not have to pay a high price.

3rd.—If the city waits for a few years more it will have to pay two or three million dollars for it.

It is not worth while to discuss these premonitions as to the city going farther and faring worse. They need not be taken seriously, for we are quite certain of there being nothing behind them but the clever alderman's admirable nerve.

In the first place, the city will not have to buy the Company out unless the Company will have something to sell; and they certainly have nothing tangible as yet.

In the second place, there being nothing to buy, the city should not buy now even although tempted with the inducement that it will not have to pay a high price. A charter; a few lengths of pipe whether laid or lying around; a leaky reservoir with Mount Royal between it and the territory to which it is to supply water that there is no way of getting to it and that it won't hold; a dam and raceway that look like an ante-election public work, with perhaps a few et cæteras thrown in, and we have the mythical Water and Power Company that owes all that is tangible in its physique to the nerve of a dexterous if not interested manipulator.

In the third place, the city can afford to take its chances of having to pay the Water and Power Company for their rights and property within a few years two or three millions of dollars. The city can await this contingency calmly since there can be no power to compel it to pay two or three millions or any other sum unless there should be fair arbitrated value for it, in which case it will perhaps be as great a hardship upon the Company to have to part with their rights and property as for the city to have to acquire them. Some few cynically minded people just at this point may perhaps throw out a suggestion about Ald. Prefontaine's admirable disinterestedness in trying for the benefit of the city to now dispossess his friends, the Water and Power Company, of a property that a few years hence will bring them two or three millions of dollars. How unworthy, after this view of a proffered public benefaction, must all those insinuations if not allegations about Prefontaine the alderman, being sometimes unable to distinguish himself from Prefontaine the shareholder, the more especially since those who know the latter do not need to be persuaded that he would not throw away to-day what there would be millions in a few years hence, not if he knew it.

The city needs to do nothing in the matter at present. The Company is under agreement to supply certain suburbs with water. They are free to carry out their agreement. The city does not presume to hinder them. But if they prove to be unable to carry out their contracts with the suburban authorities, then they will have to pay the penalties incurred, if any, and stand aside. Until this stage has been reached there is really no reason for the intervention of the city at all. There is no undue harshness here, only the requirement that obligations undertaken for profit under chartered privileges shall be discharged, or if not discharged that failure shall be declared and confessed. Then the responsibilities of the city will no doubt be taken care of.

A Toronto Grand Jury the other day condemned the press, and especially the Toronto press, for what it called its sensationalism. On the previous evening the great evangelist D. L. Moody, who is conducting one of his revivals in that city, thanked the newspapers for the interest they had taken in his meetings and the good reports they had published. He told his hearers that the press reached a hundred to his one, and that he knew of many persons who had been "converted" by reading the newspaper reports of his addresses. "May God bless the Toronto press for the good it is doing," he said in conclusion. The people who buy newspapers pay their money and take their choice of the reading matter. But a faithful press takes note of every matter in which men of any class may feel deeply. A press that would be successful, either in its mission to mankind, or on the grosser consideration of financial exigency, could not afford to do otherwise.

The Gazette says that the defeat of the Goodridge Government is a surprise, and intimates that Canadians do not understand Newfoundlanders. If anyone should understand Newfoundlanders, Canadians should. Canadians set Newfoundlanders the example of unswerving devotion to corrupt politicians.

Carelessness, to speak no more harshly, led the Toronto Star the other night into the statement that Montreal is threatened with an epidemic of small-pox. The statement is, of course, entirely unfounded, and in the interest of the country at large cannot be too quickly nor too widely contradicted.

The new system of rebates is a confession that protection increases the cost of the article to the Canadian consumer. But under that system the foreign consumer gets the article at its natural price of production. The motto of the Government is "Canada for the Canadian manufacturer. The Canadian consumer is a 'chump.'"

The man who goes about predicting the date of the general elections is unwise. Not even the angels in Heaven know that, much less the Government itself.

Nothing New.

Nothing new under the sun!
Mornings and midnights one by one
Joining the hosts that have gone before.
Yet mornings and midnights evermore
Carry their record of joys and ills!
Nothing new, nothing new!
Everything "old as the hills."

Nothing new in the world of toil!
Sowing the seed and plowing the soil,
Gathering the fruit and reaping the grain,
Over and over and over again,
Plowing and sowing, my friend, today;
Nothing new, nothing new!
Sowing and reaping for aye!

—Mrs. M. A. Kidder.

There are nettles everywhere,
But smooth green grasses are more common still.

—Mrs. Browning.

The joys of meeting pay the pangs of absence,
Else who could bear it?

—Rowe.

AMUSEMENTS.

For some weeks past the production of "Mignon" at the Opera Francais has been discussed among the habitues of the Opera and diverse views have been held as to how it would be done. Some anxiety, it must be confessed, was felt as to the result and it must be confessed naturally, for it is a serious and ambitious undertaking for a opera bouffe company to attempt to interpret a grand opera.

It is safe to say that few if any English burlesque companies could do so without creating a worse farce than any that could be written.

Therefore the measure of success that attended the production last evening is creditable when these fair deduction are made in its favor.

It was gala night and the house was packed with the largest audience that has attended this season and it seemed as if fully one-third of them were English speaking people.

Ambroise Thomas's "Mignon" was written in the fullness of the powers of that composer which musicians regard as the third and last distinct epoch of his work, commencing about 1861 and embracing serious works of a high class, and this opera naturally ranks high as a piece of conceptive and constructive work. Selections from it holdan enduring place in concert programmes and are sung by vocalists of the highest rank, so it is only meet to speak of the musical part of the opera first and as of primal importance, and for this nothing but praise can be spoken. The orchestra was in splendid form and with extreme delicacy handled this graceful music, and what is a special point in their favor, did not overweight the singers.

The choral and concerted work is very difficult, and was very fairly done.

Madame Bouit held the title role, and achieved a distinct triumph. Every atom of the bright and vivacious soubrette was merged in the serious work of grand art, and she infused the role with the requirements that tradition has super-imposed upon it.

Madame de Goyon was Philine, and had the extremely difficult music of that part, in which is included, "I am Titania," in which she naturally came into comparison with the greatest singers of the concert or operatic stage. She was in good voice and did very well indeed, receiving also a beautiful floral tribute for "I am Titania," which, however, was sung a trifle heavily.

ARTHUR FRIEDHEIM.

There is yet another chance of hearing the great pianist, Arthur Friedheim, as arrangements have been made for another recital at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening, at 8.15 p.m. The programme arranged is composed of the works of Chopin, Rubinstein, Liszt and Beethoven, which will be appreciated by all lovers of music. As the engagement of Madame Melba has been postponed, this announcement will be appreciated by many.

RHEA.

A favorite star in a new play is always a strong attraction and Rhea is sure to have a cordial welcome on the occasion of her first appearance as Queen Bess at the Academy of Music next Monday, November 19th, in the play written expressly for her by Elwyn Barron, of the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Mr. Barron has long been recognized as a dramatic critic of sound judgment, excellent taste and entertaining style. There can be no doubt as to the literary merit of Mr. Barron's work and its dramatic success is practically assured by the manner in which Rhea has produced the play. The advance sale is now in progress at Nordheimer's and Walker's, jeweller. Queen Bess will be repeated Tuesday, Thursday, Friday night and Saturday matinee. A special matinee will be given Thanksgiving, when Rhea will appear for the first time in Montreal as Pauline in the "Lady of Lyons." Wednesday evening Rhea will present an attractive double bill, consisting of "Bonaparte at School," followed by "Pygmalion and Galatea." In the first of these plays Rhea appears as Bonaparte when a youth, in the second as Galatea. The sale of seats is now in progress.

THE QUEEN'S.

The attraction at the Queen's Theatre next week is one that will be pretty apt to bring out the patrons of that house in full force. Marie Jansen will be seen there in a comedy "Delmonico's at 6," which was greeted last year in all the large cities of the States by crowded and enthusiastic houses. The play, "Delmonico's at 6" is a bright merry comedy. It is rapid and uninterrupted in action; the situations are novel and ludricrous, and the fun is continuous. Miss Jansen's role is that of a Vaudeville Queen who innocently and unintentionally entangles a married man in her charms, and then punishes him for his presumption. It gives her a fine opportunity to display her vivacity, her good humor and her chic.

MONTREAL SYMPHONY CONCERT.

Among the many pieces of interest to be performed by this organization at their next concert on Friday, Nov. 23, at 4 o'clock, will be the Unfinished Symphony in B Minor by Schubert, a work of great interest; the entr'acte from "Mignon," the Traumerei by Schumann, a delightful little composition, and always a favorite with the public, and by request, will be repeated the Bal Costume by A. Rubinstein, which was so enthusiastically received at their last concert.

Always on the alert for talent, the orchestra has secured the co-operation of Herr Carl Walther, a distinguished violinist of European repute, who will, on this occasion play the Mendelssohn Concerto for violin and orchestra.

Miss Hollinshead is too well known to need any introduction to a Montreal audience. She will sing an aria from Donizetta's "Daughter of the Regiment."

The concert has been postponed from Thursday, the 22nd, to Friday, the 23rd, on account of Thanksgiving matinees at the theatres.

THE ROYAL.

The Irwin Bros.' Vaudeville Show comes to the Royal next week. The array of talent is strong and the performance should be one of the best seen at this popular house this season. The Company includes Claire de Lune, one of the leading artistes of that never failing fountain of vaudeville entertainers; the Follies Bergieres, Paris, which has of late years sent so many clever people to this side of the Atlantic. Then there are the National Trio, Two American Macs, Sam and Kittie Morton, Carr and Jordan, John W. World, Ritchie Fay and the Vedder Sisters, Reuch and Kennedy, and John White's trick mules and pony. This last act is extremely clever and laughable. With these well-known people the show should be up-to-date.

DISEASED LUNGS.

The Case Resembled Pleuro-Pneumonia But Was Not.

The Montreal Veterinary Medical Association met at 6 Union Avenue last evening, the president, Dr. Adami, occupying the chair. Dr. D. McEachran, honorary president, Dr. H. E. Denny, of the Western Hospital, Prof. Baker, of the Faculty of Comparative Medicine, and Dr. Dawes, were also present.

Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted and general business transacted, after which Dr. N. D. Gunn was elected to honorary membership. The work of the experimental committee will be under his direction.

Prof. McEachran reported the finding of diseased lungs at the abattoir, which closely resembled the conditions found in contagious pleuro-pneumonia.

It was found, however, that the lesions were of traumatic origin, being due to the presence in the lung tissue of a thorn.

This is an important fact, in view of the recent decisions of the British Board of Agriculture.

Prof. Adami will make a microscopic examination of the lung tissue and report the results at the next meeting.

Mr. Sherman Cleaves read a paper on the subject of glanders, describing briefly the history, distribution, pathology, symptoms and post-mortem appearances of the disease.

He also adduced some personal observations on the disease as manifested in some of the New England States.

The paper was well written and proved of great interest.

In the discussion which followed, Prof. Baker directed attention to the comparative infrequency of the disease in this locality, the difficulty of diagnosis in the early stages and advised the use of mallein as an aid to the recognition of the disease.

Mr. J. C. Cutting reported an interesting case of flatulent colic in the horse.

Messrs. Boutelle and Zink will read papers at the next meeting, which will be held in two weeks.

TIMBER DUES.

An Interesting Addition to Mr. H. B. Ames' Lecture.

H. B. Ames concluded his able outline of the Canadian constitution and the British North America Act last evening. His lecture was made doubly interesting by the presence of Hon. J. K. Ward, who asked Mr. Ames about New Brunswick timber dues. Mr. Ames had stated that this Province had been given special permission to look after her own timber limits from 1867 to 1871, when the right was annulled, but he did not make the matter clear, and asked Mr. Ward if he would be kind enough to explain to the gathering. Mr. Ward then cleverly explained that to-day each Province looked after the renting of its own timber limits, and was responsible for revenue therefrom. He then referred to the abolition of seigniorial dues, as an exceedingly interesting subject for discussion. Mr. Ames remarked that the seigniorial question was not quite in touch with the B. N. A. Act, but that he should be pleased to take up Mr. Ward's suggestion at a later day.

Mr. Ames said after the meeting that Mr. Ward had made the timber matter much clearer to him than he had known it before.

Was it Contrary to Evidence.

Mr. J. F. Dubreuil made application in the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday afternoon for an appeal of the case of Gilbert Lapierre, found guilty of theft on the grounds that the verdict was contrary to evidence. As this is the first case of appeal of the kind under the new statute, His Honor asked for time to consider it, and will give his answer Saturday morning.

Come to "Delmonico's at 6," every evening next week, but if you cannot arrive earlier, eight o'clock will do. Ask at Queen's Theatre for seats at this banquet of jollity.

DIPHTHERIA CASES

PROMPT ACTION OF THE CITY AUTHORITIES.

THE NEW DIPHTHERIA CURE TO BE TRIED.

A Supply of Anti-Toxine Serum to be Ordered From New York.

Dr. Laberge, the City Medical Officer, was interviewed yesterday by a Herald representative in reference to the statement made in the Herald the evening before as to the number of diphtheritic patients in the Protestant Infants' Home and in the Montreal Foundling and Nursery Institute.

"The figures you published were correct. You may add that from October 25 to November 13 there were in the city 38 cases of diphtheria; 47 cases of scarlet fever; and 17 cases of croup. To-day 9 private houses are placarded as having in each of them except one a patient suffering from diphtheria, and in one of them there are two cases; and 23 houses are placarded for scarlet fever, there being 37 cases in all. Both parents and physicians are acting with laudable promptitude in reporting cases to this office; so that there need be no alarm felt by the citizens. I sent two physicians to the institutions mentioned in the Herald yesterday to report on them. I have received a report from the doctor who visited the Protestant Infants' Home. He says that the means adopted to secure isolation are good; but informs me, I regret to say, that since the newspapers have said something about the threatened epidemic parents of children suffering from diphtheria are taking them from the home. I shall see that this practice is stopped, for it would have the effect of spreading the disease."

"How is the new remedy, anti-toxine serum produced?"

"A sound horse is inoculated several times with the virus of diphtheria. Then some blood is taken from it, and from the blood is extracted the serum. With this the patient is inoculated. The serum obtained from one horse would supply a city like Montreal for two or three weeks, even if the number of patients were much larger than at present. We ought to have in Montreal a laboratory fitted up for the purpose of getting a constant supply of this anti-diphtheritic serum; and I should like to see that able bacteriologist, Dr. J. E. Laberge—who is no relation of mine, bye-the-bye—put in charge of it. At present we are in communication with Dr. Roux for a supply of serum."

Dr. J. Emard Laberge, the bacteriologist, who studied in Paris for two years under Dr. Roux, the discoverer of the anti-toxine serum, was next interviewed. "It has been a great success in Paris, this new remedy," he said. "In the incipient stage it is almost certain to effect a cure. Yes, there should be a serum laboratory in Montreal. I would very gladly take charge of it and give the people of Montreal the benefit of my experience and studies."

Ald. Beausoleil, Chairman of the Health Committee, said: "There is now before the Finance Committee a request from the Health Committee for a sum of $2,000 to put the civic hospital into a condition to continue to care for diphtheritic patients. This afternoon I shall ask the Council to vote the money at once instead of waiting for a report from the Finance Committee, as the case is very urgent. I shall also ask that the civic hospital be opened at once. It is in such an efficient state at present that it would be ready to receive patients one hour after the Council ordered it to be opened. I am in favor of the establishment of an anti-toxin serum laboratory in the city, and I have no doubt the Council will vote the necessary money."

A quantity of anti-toxine serum will arrive in the city from New York on Saturday.

"Friedheim's equal has not been seen here, at least not within the memory of those whose experience is bounded by the last twenty years."—N.Y. Tribune.

SENTENCES IMPOSED.

Fraser Sent to St. Vincent de Paul for Four Years.

Judge Hall sentenced three prisoners in the Queen's Bench yesterday.

Joseph Fraser, who was found guilty of having shot Special Constable Emery, in September last, with intent to do grievons bodily harm, was sent to St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary for four years' imprisonment.

Caroline Inola got 12 months in jail for obtaining goods under false pretences from the store of Ogilvie and Son.

Chas. Gagnon was sent to the penitentiary for two years for receiving stolen goods.

BAD BOYS SENT DOWN.

A Gang at the Point Broken Up—Other Cases.

Half a dozen bad small boys were before Judge Desnoyers in the Police Court yesterday. They all pleaded guilty to the charge of theft. The boys are from the "Point" and are members of a gang.

The ages of the youthful depredators range from eight to thirteen years. Henry Lightfoot, William Haynes and William Neds were implicated in the theft of a hose nozzle and a chamois skin, the property of James Shearer. Lightfoot and Neds were sent to Sherbrooke for four years each in the Reformatory School. William Smith, George Matthews and Joseph Wallace stole pigeons from one John Madigan. Sentence was suspended in the case of Smith and Wallace, and Matthews was fined $5 or three months' imprisonment.

William Gurney, 21, a waiter of the Balmoral Hotel charged with stealing a horse and rig was fined $10 or two months imprisonment.

Ellen Fitzgerald, alias Nellie Wilson, and Ellen Kelson, alias Nelson, were each sent to jail for six months by Judge Dugas for theft.

Giovanni Niessina got six months for passing counterfeit money.

The Grose-Woods Case.

The Grose-Woods case will come on for hearing before Judge Hall in the Court of Queen's Bench at ten o'clock this morning. There are some sixty witnesses to be examined, and the case will occupy some days in hearing.

They were summoned yesterday and the prosecution was ready to proceed, but a postponement was necessary as a case of indecent assault occupied the greater portion of the day.

Arthur Friedheim, the celebrated pianist, will play by special request at Academy of Music, Saturday Night.

LACHINE NEWS.

Successful Concerts and Debates—Preparing for Winter Sports.

The first concert given by the ladies connected with St. Stephen's Church was held in St. Stephen's Hall Wednesday There was a very good attendance and the different numbers were enthusiastically received. A piano duet by the Misses Baine and Leger was first on the programme. A reading by the Rev. R. Hewton entitled "A Parson's Dinner," was well received. Next in order was a duet sung in excellent style by Mrs. Galetti and Mrs. Murphy. A song by Miss Boulter was greeted with an encore. Mr. R. Montague Davey sang some excellent songs in good voice and was repeatedly encored. Mr. Noad sang one song and the entertainment closed by all present singing the National Anthem.

The Rector's reading was much appreciated as was the accompaniment of Mrs. Musson and Mrs. Galetti. Every effort is being made on the part of the Rector, Mr. Hewton, assisted by the ladies and gentlemen of his church, to provide amusement for the residents of Lachine.

A debating society has been formed and will hold open meetings weekly, and it is intended to give concerts similar to this one every month. The talent is all volunteered and the price of admission is only 5 cents. Great credit is due the Rector and his associates for their efforts in this direction.

The new Curling Club building is fast approaching completion. The roof is nearly finished and it is expected it will be ready as soon as the ice is fit for curling. Mr. Barnes, the architect, is carefully supervising the structure.

W. J. Gordon Brock is erecting a very handsome villa residence on Broadway which is nearly finished.

Mr. Craig is building on Union Avenue and intends residing in his house when completed.

The removal of the Skating Rink to its present position will be of great advantage to the residents of Upper Lachine. It is now very near the upper station so that curlers and skaters coming from Montreal will find it convenient.

It is reported that a syndicate intend building substantial houses for summer and winter residents. This if correct will benefit Lachine as at present there is a lack of residences for people of moderate means. No more desirable place for either summer or winter can be found than Lachine. It is only 15 minutes by G. T. R. from Montreal and the service is excellent. In summer there are 18 or 20 trains each way and at this season 12 each way daily (except Sunday). There is a first-class water works service and the town is lighted by electricity.

All the summer residents have left here. The last to leave was the family of Mr. Chambers who returned to Montreal a few days ago.

THE COOKERY SCHOOL.

OVER THREE HUNDRED PUPILS NOW IN ATTENDANCE.

Another Every-day Dinner Described With Recipes.

The question "What shall we do with our daughters?" need no longer agitate the parental mind. There is only one answer to it. Send them to the Cooking School. Thanks to the energy of the ladies of the Y.W.C.A. and the kindness of their friends the Montreal School of Cookery has been a success from the start. Over $5,000 worth of cooking utensils, stoves, furnaces, and laundry appliances has been given, and the school is one of the best equipped on the continent. Nearly 300 pupils are now in attendance and each one of the dozen different courses has its share of bright interested faces in the class-rooms. Besides all this the ladies do not owe a cent for anything and have a neat sum to their credit in the bank. As a consequence smiles and congratulations are the order of the day and the committee feels more than repaid for its work and worry.

A MENU.

Last Thursday's menu reads as follows: Boiled mutton, escalloped potatoes, oyster plant, whole wheat pudding, creamy sauce.

RECIPES.

Boiled mutton—Remove the bone from a leg of lamb, beginning at the small end, and then working down from the larger end without cutting through the meat. Then take 1½ cup of bread-crumbs, one-third cup melted butter, one-fourth teaspoon of thyme, pepper and salt to taste. Stir these all well together and place inside the meat with a spoon. Sew up the small end of the leg before stuffing and afterwards close the large end. Boil in a large pot, allowing twelve minutes to each pound of meat. Serve with caper-sauce. For this take one cup of butter, melt half the quantity, add two tablespoons of flour, stirring till smooth; with one teaspoon of salt and one saltspoon of pepper—add one pint of hot water or stock from the boiling lamb. Stir it in gradually, and lastly add the rest of the butter, and three tablespoons of capers.

Escalloped Potatoes—All white vegetables such as potatoes, parsnips, etc., should be laid in cold water after paring to keep the color before cooking. Always cook them in boiling, salted water. Slice the potatoes very thin, parboil in hot water, and put a layer in a baking dish, spread little bits of butter on top, then add a layer of buttered crumbs and cover with milk. Bake in oven till a light brown.

Oyster Plant.—Scrape and cut into small pieces, allowing them to stand in cold water a short while. Then boil in water till soft. Mash, adding butter, pepper and salt to taste; put a little flour on the fingers and roll into cakes or balls; dip the cakes in flour and fry in butter in a hot pan.

Whole Wheat Pudding—Take one cup of wheat meal, which is sold in packages for the purpose, ¼ cup of molasses, ½ cup of milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, and ¼ teaspoon soda; mix the salt, soda and wheat together; then add the milk and molasses. Put into a buttered tin, (a baking powder tin does very well), cover tightly and boil an hour and a half.

Creamy sauce—Take one-half cup powdered sugar, one-quart cup butter, cream the butter, adding the sugar by degrees. Add one-half cup of cream. When the cream is added the sauce always curdles, set it over a kettle of boiling water and stir till smooth again, adding one-half teaspoon of vanilla or lemon essence before taking from the stove. The sauce may be used cold.

CHANGES IN THE G. T. R.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 15.—Railroad men are interested in the change made by the Grand Trunk railroad of its agent here, Mr. J. W. Sutherland, who succeeded J. H. Murray, last year, when he disappeared rather suddenly, has been retired, and Mr. Scott, the Grand Trunk agent at Chatham, Ont., appointed to fill his place.

VILLA MARIA BAZAAR.

A GRAND BANQUET SERVED LAST NIGHT.

Over Four Hundred Young Ladies From St. Patrick's as Waiters.

The monster bazaar of the Monument National, in aid of Villa Maria, continues to be the great attraction of the week; it is the rendezvous of the elite of the city every evening. Wednesday the main hall was crowded, and the other halls had to be thrown open. Subscriptions can only be accepted in the main hall, but it is possible to enjoy the various attractions of the other halls, for charming ladies circulate everywhere. The ladies are very reasonable in their petitions: if the visitor does not broach the subject of a subscription, no reference is made to the question. That is the secret which is making the bazaar receive so much patronage; it is really a pleasure to spend an hour there. The generosity of the visitors, however, is equalled only by the zeal of the ladies. Wednesday afternoon all the young girls of the schools, which are under the direction of the Sisters of the Congregation, and many young ladies from the seminaries or the Good Sisters, visited the bazaar. The hall was thronged to overflowing. There were about two thousand present, and they were accompanied by one hundred nuns. Several gentlemen of the clergy also came in the afternoon. A tasteful little lunch was prepared for the occasion, and it took a considerable quantity of bon-bons, ice-cream and fruits to satisfy the sweet tooth of every little miss.

In the evening, the ladies of St. Patrick's, St. Mary's and St. Anthony's section tendered a grand dinner to their friends. Over four hundred partook of this dinner, and this necessitated a second, a third and a fourth table; it was ten o'clock before all the visitors had been served. The dinner was unsurpassed; the service was excellent, for more than one hundred young ladies waited on table. Mr. M. Perrault's orchestra, of forty pieces, played some numbers during the evening, and Miss Terroux sang.

The dinner was under the direction of Mrs. Monk, Miss Drummond, Miss Sincennes, Miss Sadlier. The ladies who assisted were the Misses Murphy, Buckley, Desmarais, Neville, Hudon, Irwin, Hickey, Cox, Hickey, Fox, Barr, Stafford, Loranger, Durack, McCallum, Jeffreys, Mansfield, Kennedy, Wright, Cuddy, Vaughan, Keher, McEnroe, Roy, Doucet, Sicotte, Jette, Lunny, McIntee, Jones, Young, Shannon, Geoffrion, Thibaudeau, De Beaujen, Dorion, Trestler, Masson, David, Monk, O'Brien, Beaubien, Curran, McShane, Doherty, Hunter, Loranger, Sexton, Scanlan; Donagh, Lacoste, Gauthier, Souliers, Kennedy, Brosseau, Thivierge, De Salabesry, Rolland, Garceau, Senecal, Normand, Cusson, Morin, Laforest, Ouimet, Vega, Taylor, Mount, Lafleur, Kerrigan, Trihey, Jensen, Coleman, Taschereau, Garneau, De Montigny, Cummings, Collins, and others.

It was a very successful entertainment in every respect, and there was a number of prominent citizens present. Mrs. Charles Leblanc has charge of the church ornaments; all the churches are contesting for this collection. There will be an oyster supper on Friday.

The following ladies in addition to those already published, are assisting the bazaar.

Our Lady of Good Counsel—Mrs. L. O. David, Mrs. O. Dowd, the Misses Jones, McEntee, David, Young, Neville, Street.

Japanese Table—Mde. R. Masson, Melles. Taschereau, Hudon, Barbeau, Doucet, Prevost, Hamilton.

St. Patrick's Section—Mrs. J. J. Curran, Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Tabb, Misses Kennedy, Cuddy, K. Cuddy, Fox, Wright, Tardit, Durack, K. Durack, Ronayne, Bain, Misses Curran.

Smokers' section—Mde. Henri Archambault, St. Pierre, Brunet, Melles. Trestler, Buckly.

Lottery—Mde. Juge Armstrong, Melles. Dufresne, Labelle, Bruneau, Fournier, Beauchemin, Charbonneau, Neville.

Dinner Committee—Mrs. Honan.

Phonograph—In charge of Mrs. Frank Wilson, who has also a pair of scales loaned by the kindness of Mr. Fife.

AN OLD MONTREALER MURDERED.

News was received by letter this morning of the murder of an old Montrealer named Watson Kenneth. He left here eight years ago for California, where he made and lost large sums of money. Two weeks ago he was met on a lonely road near Yosemite Valley and shot through the heart. The body was then robbed and thrown in a ditch. There is no clue to the murderers. Kenneth came from Glasgow, where, he said, his relatives lived.

Strikers Will Return to Work.

Pawtucket, R.I., Nov. 15.—The striking weavers at the Lorraine mills here, who have been out since October 2, voted last night to return to their looms next Monday. The settlement was accomplished through the intercession of Mayor Tiepke. It is claimed by the management that the employees will, by the introduction of the improved loom-head on the machinery, be able to earn more than before the cut down.

THE REGULATION BLUFF.

Ald. Prefontaine Says the City Must Buy Out the Water and Power Co.

Ald. Prefontaine was interviewed yesterday as to the proposed purchased of the Water and Power Company by the city:

"All I have to say is that the city will have to buy it out sooner or later. It will be better for the city to buy it out now, when it will not have to pay a high price. If the city waits for a few years more it will have to pay two or three million dollars for it."

The Mayor was also interviewed on the same subject. "I am strongly opposed to the buying out of the Water and Power Company by the city," he said. "I would favor buying their pipes in St. Denis Ward, if the purchase did not involve us in a scheme to buy out the whole plant of the company."

PERSONAL.

H. R. Jacobs, the well-known theatrical manager, arrived in town yesterday. He will be here a few days.

Another large crowd of Vermonters arrived in town yesterday. They are loud in their praise of the Central Vermont Railway, which arranged the excursions.

Among the arrivals at the Windsor yesterday were John J. Maclaren, Q.C., of Toronto, Robert Jaffray, president of the Globe Publishing Company, Toronto, C. J. Smith, of Ottawa, general passenger agent of the Canada Atlantic, and Charles Rata, of London, England.

William T. Fitch, general manager of the D. S. S. and A. Ry., general manager of the Hancock and Calumet road, president of the Mineral Range road, receiver of the Duluth and Winnipeg road, arrived here on Monday on business with the C.P.R. Mr. Fitch was accompanied by Mrs. Fitch and their daughter Mrs. Peter White Phelps, and during their stay they were the guests of Sir William and Lady Van Horne. The party left for New York Wednesday.

BREVITIES.

William Dorion has entered suit for $1,000 against the city. He fell into an excavation and sustained injuries.

A meeting of the Council of the Canadian Football Association adjourned from Monday will be held to-day at 8 p.m. in the St. Lawrence Hall.

The Society of the Ladies' Morning Musicale met yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. Meetings of the society will be held every Thursday morning during the winter.

J. Taillefer has taken an action for $740 against the Grand Trunk Railway for damages to himself and to his horses and cart at Turcot. He was driving a team across the track, and an engine struck him.

Eugenie Vezina, the woman who was fined $150 and costs or three months in default on Tuesday afternoon by Judge Dugas, lives at at No. 772 St. Denis Street, and not No. 732, as previously given in the newspapers.

Preparations have been made to remove the Circuit Court from the Chateau de Ramezay to apartments in the Court House. Everything will be in readiness for the change in a few weeks, and the Antiquarian Society will take possession of the Chateau.

The City Attorney has finished his work of examining the text of the proposed amendments to the city charter. He has made a few minor changes in the phraseology of some of the clauses. The text will be discussed at the next meeting of the Board of Chairmen.

Messrs. Weir and Hibbard, on behalf of the proprietors of St. Antoine Street, have procured from the Prothonotary a peremptory writ of mandamus granted by Judge Davidson on Monday last. The writ was served upon the city this afternoon and is returnable Tuesday next. In the meantime the city will either have to begin the necessary proceedings or subject itself to heavy penalties. The proprietors now claim that the preliminary notices, the appointment of witnesses and the valuation of claims can be proceeded with without incurring expense, and that the money required need only be forthcoming after the first of May next. They have hopes that the city will obey the judgment without harassing them with appeals and delays.

The German Changes.

The following changes in the names of German steamers have been decided upon by the Hamburg-American Packet Co.: SS. Barmen to Bolivia, Baumwall to Christiana, Cremon to Dalmatia, Eberfield to Hercynia, Grossbrook to Delscarlia, Grimm to Scotia, Pickhuben to Georgia, Steinhoft to Canadia, Stubbenhuk to Sicilia, Wandrahm to Hispania.

Increased Cattle Shipments.

Messrs. Pope and Morgan, the wide-awake cattle inspectors of this port said yesterday that there will be, when the ships now in port depart, an increase over last year in cattle shipping of over 2,000 head, of sheep over 130,000, and of horses 4,000. There are 12 steamers yet to go, with loads of live stock, and this record shows well for the season's business.

Notes.

SS. Bruxelles will sail Sunday and will carry as well as a general cargo, for Antwerp, 400 cattle direct to that port.

The German SS. Sicilia will sail to-morrow. She will take a shipment of 400 cattle to Antwerp.

SS. State of Georgia leaves port to-day for Aberdeen. She is consigned by Munderloh & Co.

SS. Cape Breton which sailed yesterday morning will call at Quebec for a boiler and fog horn appliances to be placed on the Newfoundland coast.

The weather signals at the harbor office yesterday indicated a moderate gale of wind expected at the rate of 30 to 40 miles an hour; from south shifting to west and extending from Montreal eastward through the river and gulf, to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

J. Torrance, jr., accompanied by two office assistants, Messrs. Hickey and Neville, leave for Portland to-night. They go to meet the R.M.S. Labrador, the first ship of the winter sailings.

The Allan London SS. Rosarian, Capt. Dunlop, may arrive here to-morrow night, but at the head office of the line it was stated that she might not arrive until Sunday.

QUEBEC WEST BY-ELECTION.

[Special to the Herald.]

Quebec, Nov. 15.—The Conservatives are talking of bringing out Mr. Harold Kennedy, lumber merchant, as their candidate in Quebec West and preparations are being made for an election in that division at an early date. Interviewed this morning Mr. Kennedy declared he was prepared to contest the division in the interests of the Conservative party.

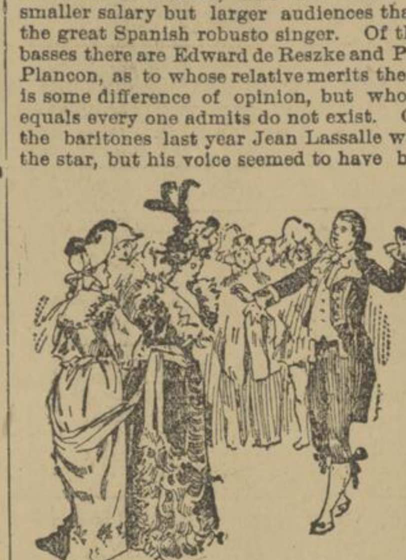

A THEATRICAL REVIEW

Something About Abbey & Grau's Opera Engagements.

A BRILLIANT SEASON PROMISED.

A Notable Galaxy of High Priced Vocalists—Calve's Absence Will Be Regretted. Lillian Russell's New Opera a Failure. Other Theatrical Gossip.

The season of grand opera about to begin at the Metropolitan Opera House will without doubt be the most brilliant to which American lovers of music have ever been treated. In the first place, there is Tamagno, the highest priced tenor in the world, to say nothing of the golden throated Jean de Reszke, who will draw a smaller salary but larger audiences than the great Spanish robusto singer. Of the basses there are Edward de Reszke and Pol Plancon, as to whose relative merits there is some difference of opinion, but whose equals every one admits do not exist. Of the baritones last year Jean Lassalle was the star, but his voice seemed to have become unreliable, and frequently he failed to strike the desired note. Mr. Abbey concluded to go right to the top and take no chances, so he has secured Victor Maurel, who is paid more than any baritone living. Another excellent baritone who has about him none of the glamour of an enormous salary has been engaged by the opera management. He is Campanari, a man who has been heard hereabouts with minor organizations. He was a violoncello player and came to this country as such, but he had long been ambitious to shine behind instead of before the footlights, and after years of patient waiting the opportunity was presented. I should not be surprised if Campanari should make a great hit during the coming season. Other well known male members of Abbey & Grau's company are Mario Ancona, Maurice Bensaude, Signor Mariani, Ottavio Nouvelli, Signor Carbone and Signor Russitano.

Of the women there will be six celebrated sopranos. Melba and Emma Eames will of course be on hand again, but the peerless Calve and the accurate though colorless Arnoldson will not. The absence of these two will be partially atoned for by the presence of Mme. Lillian Nordica, Mlle. Zelie de Lussan, Miss Sybil Sanderson and Miss Lucille Hill.

Nordica, as is well known, was selected by Cosima Wagner as the prima donna of the Baireuth festival. She will probably only be seen in works of the Shakespeare of music, in some of whose characters she is declared to be unapproachable. Zelie de Lussan is still quite a young woman. She has been heard all over the country as a member of the Bostonians or Boston Ideals, I forget which. She was considered a very sweet singer everywhere, but when she sang in New York the papers scarcely noticed her. She is said to have been terribly "cut up" over this. At any rate, she sailed for England a short time afterward, where she was at once engaged as the prima donna of the Carl Rosa Opera company. She is a special favorite of Queen Victoria and has sung before her majesty several times, a distinction accorded to very few performers of any kind of the present. With her vocal ability Mlle. de Lussan can also act, so that she ought to become popular with New York music lovers.

Sybil Sanderson, another of the soprano singers, is a California girl who was not thoroughly appreciated in this country, and, like Mlle. de Lussan, also went abroad. She has a phenomenonally high note and is a good deal of an actress. Her voice is a clear soprano, though its volume is somewhat limited. Her best work has been done in "Esclarmonde," in which she created a furore among the volatile Parisians. She is to be one of the secondary battery, so to speak, of Abbey's company and is expected to be quite a potent attraction.

Miss Lucille Hill is a native of Trenton, where her mother still lives. A good many years ago she went abroad to complete her musical education, and the present is her first professional engagement in this country. While on the other side of the water Miss Hill sang with Sir Augustus Harris' Covent Garden company in London and was also a member of other high grade musical organizations.

Other female song birds who have been engaged are Libia Drog, Mira Heller, Eugenia Mantelli and Jane de Vigne, not forgetting of course the queen of contralto vocalists, the always reliable, never whimsical and perennially popular Sofia Scalchi.

The one really depressing feature of the present operatic season is the absence of Emma Calve. That brilliant Frenchwoman occupies a most unique position in the world of song. Although not possessing the marvelous voice of Melba, the great beauty of Eames or the accurate technique of either, she was able to draw more people to the Metropolitan Opera House last year than either of them. She is the only singer living who will be able to satisfy us in "Carmen" or "Cavalleria Rusticana." In the depicting of vocal passion she stands unrivaled and will certainly be missed more than any other one of the long list of stars on Mr. Abbey's list. The trouble between Eames and Calve, which led to the latter's snubbing of the former in the presence of a large audience, was particularly unfortunate, especially as it has caused us the loss of the impetuous Frenchwoman's magnificent acting and heartfelt singing. Calve was in the wrong, too, and the management adopted the only course honorably left open, but the circumstance is none the less regrettable.

Lillian Russell, under the management of Abbey & Grau, and as the bills state in very small type, "By arrangement with Canary & Lederer," has returned from her more or less triumphal engagement in London. She produced "The Queen of Brilliants" at Abbey's theater. The libretto was originally the work of two Germans. It was then done into English by Brandon Thomas, and Edward Jakobowski, the composer of "Erminie," set it to music. The book was so unutterably dull that H. J. W. Dam was commissioned to rewrite it for this country. He is supposed to have improved it, although that is difficult to believe, for it is inconceivable that the work could ever have been worse than it is in its present form. The nebulous plot deals or essays to deal with the machinations of the proprietress of a matrimonial agency, though why she should "machinate" is not at all clear. There is not a single comic line in this supposedly comic opera. To be brutally frank, the libretto is rubbish, pure and simple, and its authorship would reflect no especial credit upon a boy of 10. Of continuity there is very little, while of interest there is absolutely nothing. How astute managers could have selected such a work for the inauguration of an important venture passes comprehension. Stories have been told here of the great success of "The Queen of Brilliants" in London, but no one with a spark of intelligence will now believe them.

Of Mr. Jakobowski's music the best that can be said is that it is less bad than the libretto. The most charitable explanation of his work is that he was weighted down with a sense of the hopelessness of attempting to accomplish anything with such a villainous book. It is difficult to realize that the trashy jingle in "The Queen of Brilliants" is from the pen of the same man who penned the simple though none the less delightful melodies of "Erminie." There is scarcely a number in this latest opera by Jakobowski that is deserving of genuine commendation, except it be the finale of the second act, which is very pretty. The orchestration will not please the veriest tyro It is nonsatisfying and very brassy in spots.

As for the production itself, nothing better has ever been seen in New York when regarded strictly from the standpoint of the costumer and scene painter. It is said that Mr. Abbey expended $40,000 on "The Queen of Brilliants" before the curtain rose on the first performance, and I can readily believe it.

Miss Russell appears less stout than when she was last seen here in "Princess Nicotine," and her voice is very much more reliable. In fact, she has never sung better and seldom looked handsomer. Her voice of course lacks culture and probably always will, for she has passed the time when she would be willing to admit that she needs training, but her notes still have that clear silvery sweetness that made the prima donna famous. Miss Russell should, however, eschew runs and trills. She has not sufficient control over her vocal chords to execute them accurately, and it is foolish for her to direct attention to her own shortcomings.

Miss Annie Myers made the real hit of the opera in a very small part. Hubert Wilke was as stilted and spasmodic as ever, and Digby Bell did not know most of his lines, and those which he did remember were excruciatingly unfunny, so that, on the whole, I think it may be said without exaggeration that "The Queen of Brilliants" is an almost unqualified failure.

It will be remembered that some months ago the cables announced that Marie Tempest had signed with George Edwardes of London for several years and would not return to this country to keep her contract with Manager Fred C. Whitney. Mr. Whitney at once engaged Louise Beaudet in Miss Tempest's place. A few weeks later he was knocked off his pins, figuratively speaking, by the arrival in New York of the "Dresden China" prima donna. Miss Tempest had really signed with Mr. Edwardes, it was said, but as her contract with Mr. Whitney stipulated that he should have a suitable opera provided, a good company engaged and a dignified route booked by a certain day she expected to catch the manager napping, as she had, of course, been notified of his arrangement with Miss Beaudet. It was hinted that she expected to get a money consideration from Mr. Whitney in exchange for a release from a contract which she had violated willfully, and later the announcement was made that all this had happened.

Now, however, Leander Richardson, who is addicted to the habit of getting a great deal of exclusive and accurate inside theatrical information, comes forward with the announcement that when the pretty Miss Etherington arrived in New York she was handed a route and an opera by the representative of Mr. Whitney. In short, she was completely balked, and she it was, instead of the astute manager from Detroit, who was obliged to pay for a release from the agreement which both then wished had never been entered into.

A young actress who has been doing excellent work for the last few years and gradually but constantly improving her position in the theatrical world is Miss Mary Hampton. Miss Hampton has a very beautiful face and an excellent figure. She makes a sympathetic but always commanding stage heroine. She is the leading lady of the special "Sowing the Wind" company, now playing in Boston. She, of course, does Rosamund, the role which Viola Allen created at the Empire theater in this city. Miss Hampton's work has been highly commended by the critics of the principal cities, and I expect to see her in one of the most prominent positions on the American stage within a couple of years, for she is conscientious to a degree and possesses that much discussed but seldom existent "something" called temperament. TRADE AND COMMERCE

FINANCIAL.

Thursday, Nov. 15.

The local stock market was quiet this morning in the absence of any influential news. Montreal Telegraph was firm selling at 152½, while Cable was weaker. Although no sales of this stock were made during the morning, it closed at noon at 142¼ bid, offered at 143¼. Gas was fractionally lower, but there are plenty of buyers around 187. Street Railway held its own, while Bank stocks were firm and most of them were quoted ex-dividend.

The Montreal Cotton Company have advised the Stock Exchange that they have declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. payable on December 15th.

The afternoon session of the board was a very dull one, and the only trading was in Street Railway at steady prices, and Cable. The last named stock appeared to be weak and sold at 142¾. Money is easy with no change in rates. Pacific was weak to-day with no sales, in sympathy with a drop in the stock in London.

Meredith & O'Brien's Montreal market letter said:

The market to-day has been heavy with but a moderate amount of business, and the demand for stocks was almost limited to Street Railway. This stock holds its own, there being apparently a large order in the market, and the buyer takes the stock as it comes. The firm tone of the past few days was entirely wanting to-day, and it would seem as if both traders and operators want to see prices lower. There are a good many buyers in the market, but they seem to anticipate that this dull season will bring in sellers and they refrain from bidding. Certainly to-night it looks as if we might have lower prices, but we have often noticed that as soon as the quotations get out, orders came in and they quickly rally. The "street" is entirely bare of news; there are no points going round and nothing to induce speculation. It is pretty well understood that the Gas Co. will get a very favorable contract with the city, but even this does not incite any activity in the stock and seems to confirm the report current some time ago that the pool, supposed to control the company, have lost their stock and are anxious to get it back, but cannot do so yet at the price they sold and are desirous of keeping the quotation down.

To-day's highest, lowest and closing prices and total sales of actual stocks and net changes from yesterday's closing price for actual sales in the local market were as follows:

LONDON STOCK MARKETS.

London, Nov. 15.—The Stock Exchange was generally quieter to-day, but all investment stocks and consols were very firm. Americans were neglected. The Bank of England's rate of discount is unchanged at two per cent.

Consols were the feature of the stock market to-day. They reached 102⅞, the highest price since the conversion.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

L. J. Forget and Co.'s New York letter said:

New York, Nov. 15, 3 p.m.—There has been a covering movement in the market to-day, but apart from buying of stocks by shorts there was no feature worthy of any extended remark. This movement has been most noticeable in stocks like Sugar in which the activity of the bear party for the past two days was conspicuously active and has otherwise little or no significance. Sugar was the feature of the rise as it was of the decline and for the same reason. In the later hours of the day the market reacted and tended to decline on the exhaustion of the bear buying power and the renewed inclination of the leaders to press stocks for sale. In the afternoon the absence of support from that afforded by buyers was made more apparent. Sugar broke again and the rest of the market fell off, giving a very weak tone at the close.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

Messrs. Meredith & O'Brien's gossip by private wire from New York contained the following:

The National Lead Co. has declared regular 1¾ per cent. dividend on preferred, and 1 per cent. on common stock.

Laclede Gas directors have declared a dividend of 2½ per cent. regular, and 1 per cent. extra on the preferred stock payable December.

At a meeting held this afternoon it was decided that the next dividend on Jersey Central would be at the rate of 5 per cent.

Boston special: Union Pacific system September gross earnings decreased $126,344 net decrease, $212,466.

Northern Pacific net for September were $1,009,636 charges; accrued, $546,789; surplus, $462,846; other accrued charges, $461,698.

Baltimore & Ohio statement for October. Net decrease, $134,323; for four months, net decrease, $552,356. The decreases in the B. & O. statement for Oct. are entirely on lines west of Ohio river and arise from a decrease in passenger travel.

London special: It is rumored here that 200,000 pounds gold has been withdrawn from Bank of England for shipment to New York.

The new tariff on Cordage has not up to date in any sense, increased the imports of that product. The returns for September show that there were but 5,474 pounds imported, against 34,665 pounds in September, 1893. The imports for nine months also show a heavy falling off, being 152,721 pounds against 254,335 pounds.

THE LONDON SITUATION.

New York, Nov. 15.—The Evening Post's financial cablegram from London says: Of the gold exported to-day, £200,000 is for America. This is a special operation, believed to be required by American bankers tendering for the new loan. The stock markets were good. Consols were at the highest point ever touched notwithstanding the efflux of gold, gilt-edged stocks were strong, and next in favor were Brazilians and other South American securities. American railways were still comparatively lifeless. The increase of £405,200 in the coin and bullion in the weekly Bank of England's return is due to net gold imported for the week, £444,000. The difference is accounted for by the usual withdrawals for Scotland. The details for the week are: £793,000 imported from Russia, £50,000 in half-sovereigns exported to Durban, £299,000 in bars sold for France. More gold is probably going to France immediately.

COMMERCIAL.

Thursday, Nov. 15.

Manitoba wheat is higher. The demand however has been checked somewhat on that account, but on the whole, there is a good healthy volume of trade passing. Advices state that 60c is now asked for No. 1 hard wheat afloat Fort William, but fail to mention anything about the actual figures being paid. A round lot was offered in the West yesterday at 70c Montreal freights. Spring wheat is purely nominal in value.

The immense shipments of wheat, the past two weeks, have quite offset the large receipts at Port Arthur and Fort William, leaving the elevators at these two places with a materially lighter stock than they had a week ago. A comparative statement follows:

	Nov. 10, 1894.	Nov. 3, 1894.	Nov. 11, 1893.

Wheat in Chicago, according to Meredith & O'Brien's special advices opened this morning excited and ⅜c higher on on strong cables, but weakened under local selling influenced by larger Northwestern receipts and small export clearances and finally closed at ⅜c decline compared with yesterday. The break was chiefly the result of action by the bull element who seem averse to seeing prices advance before the visible supply begins to show a reduction. The natural trend of prices however, is strongly upward and we still advise buying on all good breaks.

Corn was irregular, selling ⅜c higher on poor grading and closing ⅛c lower compared with last night in sympathy with the down turn in other markets. Oats were dull and neglected within ⅜ range and closed the same as yesterday to ⅛c lower.

Provisions manipulated upward 20 to 25c per 100 lbs., from a weak opening, principally on buying by shorts, but eased off and closed 7½ to 12½c lower than yesterday on selling by a prominent packer.

The principal increases in stocks not included in the official visible supply, were according to Bradstreets': 150,000 bushels in the Northwestern interior (country) elevators, 109,000 in Chicago private elevators, 88,000 at Rochester, and 30,000 bushels at Ogdensburg. There was a decrease of 396,000 bushels at Fort William of 88,000 at Newport News, of 39,000 in Minneapolis private elevators, and 18,000 bushels in Milwaukee private elevators.

The estimated receipts in Chicago to-morrow are: Wheat, 85 cars; corn, 160 cars; oats, 110 cars.

Duluth received 274 cars, and Minneapolis 540.

The receipts in Chicago to-morrow are: wheat, 84. contract 34; corn 228, contract, 51; oats, 109, contract, 69; hogs, 53,000.

Advices from the Northwest say that 70 per cent. of the spring wheat crop has been marketed, and that stocks in country elevators are controlled by Minneapolis mills.

The following wheat letter was received by a local broker from New York: The situation on wheat seems to be a strong one. One of our exporters, who has been on the short side for three years, says he has now turned bull and predicts 65c for Dec. wheat, and gives as his reason that wheat is 10c per bushel too low on sentiment (that it was driven down to 55c on sentiment). The feeding of wheat to cattle is bound to show up. New York has 8,000,000 bushels less wheat than last fall. Our New York millers use about 160,000 bushels per week, and Lisbon will come into the market for a couple of millions the first of the year for some choice 2 red. Argentine can cut no figure until February, and meantime with stocks so low abroad, the other side will have to come for American wheat right along.

	Receipts.	Shipments
Chicago—Wheat	43,000	1,000
Corn	75,000	148,000
Oats	86,000	89,000

Duluth—Wheat	213,000	99,000
Detroit—Wheat	7,000	4,000
Minneapolis—Wheat	337,000	17,000

The receipts of grain and flour in Montreal to-day are given as follows:

	G.T.R.	C.P.R.	Canal	Total.
Wheat, bush	..	....	297,888	297,888
Peas, bush	2,300	500	27,411	30,211

Barley, bush	....	....	5,865	5,865
Flour brls	790	2,993	....	3,783

Grain—Although the volume of business is not particularly large, there is at least a disposition to trade in the leading grades. There is quite a clamor for peas available immediately, and in the words of a dealer "they can be sold dear." Probably 67c to 67½c would be a fair idea. For future shipment there is little demand, Canadian peas in England are quoted a little firmer at 4s 10d. Oats are in good demand, with a number of enquiries for No. 2 particularly. There is very little doing in either barley or buckwheat.

Wheat, No. 1 hard	67c to 69c
Wheat, No. 2 hard	64c to 66c
Corn, duty paid	65c to 67c
Peas, per 66 lbs. in store	67c to 68c
Oats, per 34 lbs. store new	34c to 35c
Rye, No. 2	52½c to 53c
Barley, feed	45c to 46c
Barley, malting	50½c to 52c

Flour.—At the advance of 25c a barrel a small business was done. There is no change in the price of Ontario flour, and owing to the fact that prices are expected to remain the same, buyers are taking their time about filling up.

Extra	2.50 to 2.70
Superfine	2.35 to 2.45
Fine	0.00 to 2.25
Strong bakers', Man	3.40 to 3.45
Strong bakers' M. best brands	3.45 to 3.50

Meal—The firmer feeling in oats has necessarily stimulated the views of millers but here the feeling is scarcely perceptible. A fair business is passing.

Granulated and rolled, per bag	1.90 to 2.00
Standard, per brl	3.90 to 4.00

Feed—The conditions of the market are the same. Bran still meets with a liberal request and keeps firm; while shorts are just the opposite in point of prices and demand.

Bran	$15.25 to $15.75
Shorts	16.75 to 17.50
Mouille	21.00 to 22.00

PRODUCE AND PROVISIONS.

The receipts of produce and provisions in Montreal to-day are given as follows:

	G.T.R.	C.P.R.	Canal.	T't.
Butter, pkgs	256	437	....	693
Cheese, bxs	10,627	6,956	481	18,061
Eggs, cases	....	31	2	33
Dressed, hogs	53	263	8	324

Cheese.—No change worthy of mention has transpired, excepting the advance in the cable, but that is hardly new, as 51s has been quoted in New York for the past few days. Business here is very quiet, with little prospect of any improvement in the near future. Prices remain about the same, with the tendency fairly firm.

A special despatch from New York said: There is very little fancy large cheese available to-day, and, with continued demand from home trade and some interest from exporters, the prospective receipts moderate, cost high in the country, most of the factories closed for the season and stocks back comparatively moderate, the market is in a very strong position.

Following is a fair idea of local of local values:

Finest Ontario, colored	10¾c to 10⅞c
Finest Ontario, white	10⅝c to 10¾c
Finest, Townships	00c to 10c
Quebec, finest	9½c to 9¾c

Cable, 51s.

Listowel, Ont., Nov. 15.—At the the cheese fair to-day sixteen factories boarded 10,429 boxes cheese. One lot was sold; 350 boxes of August cheese at 10 15-16c for September and balance.

Butter—About the same features can be noted with business in a local way fairly brisk. Shippers are doing comparatively little, though in the aggregate between through and held stock there is quite a lot going out.

Finest creamery	20c to 21c
Townships, dairy	16½c to 17c
Western	14½c to 16c

Eggs—The market alters very little these days. Stock is coming in pretty freely, but under a fair demand, both shipping and local prices are fairly well maintained. Dealers say there there is a lot of stock to come forward yet.

Dressed hogs—To use the trade expression, the weather is more hoggish, but on the whole trade has improved but slightly. Receipts are quite large.

Pork—Lard—According to the circular issued by the Laing Packing Co. Canada long cut mess pork is selling at $17, and heavy Canada short cut at $18. This is quite a drop. Lard is also fractionally easier, 6⅝c being quoted at the inside for refined. Smoked meats showed little activity and are about the same in point of prices:

Canada short cut mess, per brl.	17.00 to 18.00
Beef, extra mess, per brl	00.00 to 11.00
Beef, plate, per tierce	00.00 to 16.00
Hams, city cured, per lb	0.10 to 0.11
Bacon, per lb	0.10 to 0.12
Lard, pure Canadian, per lb	0.08½ to 0.10
Lard, com. refined, per lb	0.6½ to 0.7½

FLOUR HAS ADVANCED.

Under conditions which we enumerated yesterday, the price of Manitoba flour has advanced 25c a barrel. Ontario flour is unchanged. The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. sent out the following circular to-day: "We beg to advise you that owing to the recent advance in the price of Manitoba wheat and also in railroad freights, we are obliged to advance the price of flour 25c per bl."

Millers speak encouragingly enough of the prospects for prices being maintained though a great deal depends on the price of wheat, which at present, quite justifies millers in taking the move they have, not to speak of the advance in freights.

BEERBOHM'S CABLE.

Beerbohm's Cable report to-day says: Cargoes off coast, wheat upward tendency; corn nothing offering. On passage and for shipment, wheat and corn strong. French country markets turn dearer. Weather in England unchanged. Liverpool spot at opening, wheat strong; corn slow.

WHEAT MIXING.

A. G. THOMPSON REPLIES TO THE MANITOBA NOR'WESTER.

In an editorial on the wheat mixing question, the Manitoba Nor'Wester referred to interviews recently published in the Herald. Commenting on these, it said: "Mr. A. G. Thompson has at any rate the courage of his opinions, although it is somewhat difficult to reconcile them with the facts. To the uninitiated his remarks would seem to be very unfavorable to grain mixing of any kind. Would the C.P.R. press kindly enquire if Mr. Thompson knows of any case where a shipper from Fort William mixed Nos. 1, 2 and 3 Manitoba inspected wheat, and declined to allow the Port Arthur inspector to re-classify it; preferring to have the cargo graded in Montreal. Also what that cargo was graded by the Montreal inspector, and for what grade it was sold by the shipper? When we have Mr. Thompson's reply to these questions we will answer his strictures. We have given much space in this issue to this grain question in the hope that we may end a profitless and tedious discussion."

Mr. A. G. Thompson was on 'Change to-day and when shown the editorial said: "I see they express a desire to end the discussion. Well, it can only be ended by the Government prohibiting the mixture of scoured wheat in any grade higher than No. 3, according to the Inspection Act, and it is certain this must be done. In regard to the cargo of Nos. 1, 2 and 3 Manitoba, of which I am to give an explanation before getting further replies to our strictures. This cargo was not graded at Port Arthur, neither was it inspected at Montreal, it completed our Fort William shipments for the season and was sold on its merits. It contained no scoured or unsound wheat. The point of this discussion is the adulteration of wheat by mixing an unsound article with that of the grades. In my opinion scoured wheat should be condemned. The point then for the Nor'Wester to give information about is the exact quantity of low grade wheat received at Fort William and Port Arthur during the past twelve months, what it graded in, and what it graded out. As no doubt his information about the cargo of Nos. 1, 2, and 3 hard referred to came from Port Arthur inspector, he can easily give exact grading. If I am rightly informed one of the Board of Directors of the Nor'Wester paper is connected with the so-called Manitoba wheat Sydicate. If he will only speak and give us what he knows about this adulterating highest grades with unsound wheat he will enlighten the trade to an extent beyond their expectation, and this discussion will prove highly beneficial to the Northwest, which he and others are trying to injure, and have succeeded too well. The difference to-day in Liverpool between No. 1 hard Duluth and No. 1 hard Manitoba is 2½d per cental, just 3c per bushel in favor of the Duluth wheat. Sales were made to-day at the figures named."

THE MANITOBA GRAIN SITUATION.

Prices have been stronger this week says the Winnipeg Commercial. The storm which covered the country on Thursday restricted receipts somewhat, and with some shippers sold well ahead, there was naturally a firm feeling for spot stuff, or wheat in transit, to make up shipments. Prices in Manitoba country markets show an advance on the week of about 2c, the advance occuring on the closing days. Prices to farmers after the advance, in Manitoba country markets, ranged from 39c to 42c for No. 1 hard, according to freights. There was a wider range than this, including some points where local influences had affected prices, but the figures quoted cover nearly all points. There were some sharp advances during the week for spot stuff or in transit to Fort William, owing to shortage in making up cargo shipments; 56½ to 57c was offered for No. 1 hard Fort William delivery, on Thursday, and again this morning 57c was offered for spot stuff or in transit for Fort William, with holders firm. A lot of about 500,000 bushels of wheat has been engaged for export via Montreal, nearly all previous shipments having gone out via Buffalo. The Duluth market appears to be well above an export basis. A report just to hand shows a loss of 4c on Duluth wheat sold in London on October 22, as compared with prices at Duluth on the same day. The domestic demand for No. 1 hard Duluth in keeping that grade above an export basis, which accounts for the difference in price between Duluth and Fort William. Manitoba wheat cannot be sold in the United States for the domestic milling trade, on account of the duty, and has to sell on an export basis. Lake charters, Fort William to Buffalo, were reported at 3c this week.

LIVE STOCK.

Thursday, Nov. 15.

No new features can be credited to the market and business on the whole is very quiet. The improvement in cattle in England is not sufficient to give local shippers a profit. Sheep, however, are paying very well, and are considered good property here. Shipping sheep are quoted at 3½c to 3¾c.

Mr. Ironside was in the offices of the B. of T. this morning and mentioned that he still had about 1,500 head of cattle and 1,000 head of sheep to come forward from the Northwest.

There is a very good demand for freight space at 40 to 50 shillings. Insurance premiums are unaltered at 3 to 3½ per cent.

There were about 2,500 sheep brought to the East End Abattoir market since yesterday morning, most of which were offered for sale to-day. The cattle offered to-day numbered about 350 head, and some 40 or 50 calves. The butchers were out in large numbers, and there was an active demand for the best cattle, with higher prices all round. A few cattle were sold singly at from 3⅞c to 4c per lb; pretty good stock sold at 3½c to 3¾c; common dry cows and half fatted steers sold at from 2 1-2c to 3c, and the leaner beasts at from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb. A few large oxen from Manitoba were bought at the yards for shipment to Great Britain at 3 1-2c per lb. Calves sold at from $3 to $10 each. Mr. Meunier paid $10 for a superior calf, and $18 for two others, Shippers are paying about 3½c per lb for good large sheep but common sheep are very dull of sale and low priced. Good lambs sell in lots at from 3½c to 3 1-2c per lb, and the others at from 2¾c to 3¼c do. Fat hogs seem to be rather dull of sale to-dap, and the latest sales were made at a little over 4½c per lb

APPLES.

"Apples are in strong demand," is what a Glasgow cable said. It also gave the following quotations: Baldwins and Spies, 15s to 17s; King's 20s to 24s; greenings, 13s to 15s. From Liverpool, sent by James Adam and Son, came the following: "The market shows signs of weakness."

PRICE CURRENT ON CROPS.

Cincinnatti, Nov. 15.—The Price Current to-day says: Very full returns supplementary to last week's information confirm the estimates there offered of wheat feeding operations, indicating about 40,000,000 bushels already for Western States, and possibly 75,000,000 bushels for the entire season, with something additional for unimportant States, wheat feeding being curtailed in many sections from availability now of corn. The marketing of wheat continues very sparingly. The stock of flour and wheat is considerably reduced largely below years ago, while there is moderate increase in the offerings of corn.

COMMERCIAL GOSSIP.

A very useful vest pocket manual of market statistics is being issued quarterly by H. M. Green and Co., Rialto Building, Chicago.

The Canadian Pacific Railway have posted a notice on 'Change to the effect that the advance in grain freights advertised for the 15th, will not take effect until the 20th.

WEEKLY MARKET SPECIALS

Thursday, Nov. 15.

The local wholesale trade during the past week has shown little change. There has been an increased demand for sugar at the lower prices, and in dry goods, cottons have been reduced in price. Outside of these two lines business has been quiet and steady. Collections are fair, with still room for improvement.

GROCERIES.

Sugar — The announcement of winter freights and a reduction in the price of granulated has stimulated the demand for sugars to such an extent that both refineries claim to be sold completely out. Yellows are exceedingly scarce, and now sell at 3 3-16c to 3⅝c, according to quality. Granulated is now quoted at 4½c.

Tea—The tea market, locally, is steady, with business dull. Prices are unchanged. We quote values locally as follows: Low grades, 11c to 13c; medium to good medium, 14c to 17c; fine, 18½c to 23c; and choicest, 24c to 31c.

Rice—The local market shows no particular change. We quote prices as follows: Japan standard, $3.95; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patnas, $4.25 to $4.75; crystal Japan, $4.25; Carolina, 6½c to 7½c.

Syrups—A satisfactory business is still being done. Canadians are quoted at 1½c to 2½c. Barbadoes molasses are 29c to 30c.

Coffee—The market is unchanged. The New York market is steady with No. 7 quoted at 15⅝c to 15⅞c.

New York, Nov. 15.—Sugar, raw, quiet; fair refining, 3c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3½c, refined, steady; crushed, 4⅞c to 5 1-16c; powdered, 4 7-16c to ⅝c; granulated, 4 3-16c to ⅝c.

Canned Goods—Dealers speak encouragingly on the condition of the market, and report more or less demand for all seasonable lines. Salmon, tomatoes and corn are the leading grades in point of activity and all are held in firm hands, We quote: Tomatoes 85c to 90c: canned corn in 2lb tins, 87½c to 90c; peas, 90c to 95c; strawberries do $2.75 per doz, and raspberries $1.80 to $2.50 as to brand and quality; salmon $1.25 to $1.40 for best brands, and $1.05 to $1.10 for Cohoes; lobsters $1.60 to $1.75; mackerel $1 to $1.05.

Dried Fruit—Although wholesalers cannot depend upon the future source of supply the market for Valencias is steady, and the demand is fairly good Currants are quiet. Valencia layers, 5¼c to 5½c; fine off stalk, 4½c to 4¾c; off stalk, 3⅞c to 4c; California 3-crown loose Muscatels, 4½c to 4¾c, cost and freight in bond Montreal, and 4-crown do., 5½c. Currants, 3½c barrels; 3¾c half-barrels, and 3⅞c to 4¼c in cases. Baskets and bag figs 4c to 5c, good ordinary quality in boxes 8c to 9c, fine 12c, finest 14½c.

DRY GOODS.

The only event of interest locally during the week was the reduction in the price of cottons, as reported in Thursday's Herald. A fair sorting business is being done on winter account, but spring orders are being received but slowly.

Of the situation in England Messrs. Robert Barbour and Brother, Manchester, say in their latest circular:

A singularly dull and unsatisfactory month closes without any signs of an early improvement, and the position of both producers and distributors is alike unprofitable. The practical certainty of an enormous cotton crop in America has again depressed values of that staple, and spot quotations in Liverpool may be said to have touched the unprecedented figure of 3d per lb. Goods and yarns have naturally felt this, but only to a limited extent, and as a matter of fact some favorite spinnings are actually dearer than they were a month ago.

Bradford.—Wool. There is no appreciable change to report in the condition of the wool market. Consumers operate only to meet immediate requirements, which at the moment are quite of a restricted character. Values are somewhat weaker, and the tendency generally still favors buyers. Yarns: The demand is not active, yet spinners are not disposed to recede from the slightly enhanced rates recently current. Pieces: Except for America, which has taken large quantities of worsted coatings, there is little enquiry from other quarters. A slight improvement is noticeable in the home trade.

Leeds and Huddersfield—Business in these districts is rather below what was anticipated, nevertheless a very confident and even animated tone is apparent on all hands. Leading makers of novelties are well employed, and as stocks are being gradually reduced in all branches the outlook is quite satisfactory. Vicunas, soft serges, covert cloths, fancy worsted trouserings and medium coatings have been in fair request, and continue in demand.

Dewsbury—The improvement noted last month shows no decline and is still maintained. In blankets a considerable trade is being done, presumably for China. Army cloths are also much sought after. Carpets quiet. Low and better class serges active. Prices firm.

HARDWARE AND METALS.

Business in the local market is still dragging along in a listless fashion and merchants take a gloomy view of the situation. No decided improvement is now looked forward to for some time. Collections are fairly satisfactory. Messrs. Richardson and Co., Swansea, Eng., in their monthly copper circular, have the following:

Since our last report 595 tons of Libiola ore has gone out of stock here, this quantity having been sold, viz: 330 tons at 6s 9½d, and 265 tons at 6s 9½d per unit. The above cargo of Copiapo ore per Inca, sold on private terms, has been delivered to Swansea smelters, Prices of G.M.B's show a decline of about 20s per ton on the figures ruling at the beginning of October, when quotations were about £41 10s and £41 15s for cash and three months respectively. After touching £41 15s and £42 1s 3d on the 8th, values fell away by the 23rd to £40 7s 6d and £40 16s 3d, being the lowest prices for the month, which finally closed at £40 13s 9d to £40 16s 3d cash, and £41 to £41 3s 9d three months.

The total visible supply of copper on the 31st October is given as 52,788 tons, against 52,034 tons on the 30th September, thus showing an increase for the month of 754 tons.

We quote local values as follows.

Summerlee Pig Iron	$21.00 to 21.50
Eglinton	18.50 to 19.00
Carabroe	19.50 to 20.00
Siemens No. 1	17.50 to 18.00

Spelter	4.00 to 4.20

PETROLEUM.

The local market continues active and firm. We quote prices as follows: Refined, f.o.b. Petrolea, bulk, 9½c to 9¾c; refined, f.o.b. Petrolea, barrels, 9⅞c; crude, f.o.b. Petrolea, bulk, 99c; crude, f.o.b., Petrolea, barrels, $1.05; refined, Montreal, carloads, 11⅞c; Canadian, benzine, f.o.b., Petrolea, cars, 10⅝c; Canadian benzine, f.o.b. Montreal, cars, 12½c to 12⅞c; American oil, car lots, at sheds, 15c to 19c.

NAVAL STORES.

Business is still fairly brisk, and will probably continue so until the close of navigation. We quote as follows: Turpentine, 47c to 49c; rosin, $2.40 to $4.50; coal tar, standard barrels, $4.00; pine pitch, $2.50; pine tar, $3.50 to $3.75; cotton waste, colored, 5½c to 6½c; cotton, white, 7½c to 10c; oakum, 5½c to 7½c; cotton oakum, 10c to 12½c.

LEATHER.

The market is practically featureless. Manufacturers are buying very sparingly. We quote—No. 1 manufacturers' sole 17½c to 19c; No. 2 do 15c to 17½c; inferior 15c to 16c; Jobbers' sole 19c to 21c; slaughter sole 16c to 19c; waxed upper 20c to 25c; grain 10c to 12c; buff 8c to 11c; splits 12c to 17c for Ontario, and 10c to 12c for Quebec.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 15.—The Evening Post in its financial article says: Neither buyers nor sellers were active on to-day's stock market. Outside of a few securities influenced by individual causes, there were no large speculations on either side. The room trade contingent, therefore, had the market to itself and made no very aggressive use of it, Prices moved quite irregularly, reflecting presumably an "evening up" of smaller speculative accounts. Some stocks were hardly traded in at all. In the last half hour there was rather general weakness, but during the most of the five hours business, prices in general hardly changed. National Cordage stock broke early in the day and so did the newly listed Southern Railway. The removal of this last named stock from the absurd stock exchange department commonly known as the "unlisted list" was greeted by rather heavy and unexplained selling. Outside news was scant. The Treasury's statement this afternoon reported a considerable decrease in general balance, but only an insignificant part of this was gold. Much has been made in some quarters of withdrawals of treasury gold for bond subscriptions, but the net gold decrease, since the bond issue announcement is exactly $122,826. This is hardly alarming yet awhile. Meantime the London cable sends to-day the rather interesting announcement that a million dollars gold has been bespoken in that city for shipment on special order to New York.

LACHINE CANAL DAMAGES.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The postal rate to Japan has been reduced to 20 cents per pound.

The claims for damages to property along the Lachine Canal are being settled by the Department. Last session $18,000 was voted for this purpose.

ELECTION EXPENSES.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Among the election expense statements filed with the Secretary of State were those of Senator David B. Hill, Democratic candidate, and Everett P. Wheeler, Third party candidate for Governor. Senator Hill's expenses, according to the statement were: Paid to the State Committee, $2,500; for transportation, $150; expenses for himself and secretary on trips through the State, $335; extra typewriting, $13.59; postage and telegrams, $55; Total, $3,053.59. Mr. Wheeler filed a statement to the effect that he had expended no money for election purposes.

Clever Japanese Devices.

The Japanese have a mode of preparing stencils which is better than ours. In our method complicated figures must be divided by broad lines of paper in order to glue the paper together and make the stencil strong enough for use, and these bands of paper leave blanks in the design which must often be filled in by hand. The Japanese cut their stencils out of two or sometimes three thicknesses of thin but tough paper. Then between each two of these sheets they lay, crossing one another in all directions, human hairs or fibers of raw silk. These are specially laid across the open parts of the design, and when the several layers of the stencil are glued together they serve the same purpose as the bands of paper left by our stencil cutters, but they form no obstacle to the application of the color and leave no blanks in the design.

The same clever workers use rice paste, applied with the brush or with stencils, for "stopping out" in dyeing or in painting with dyes. When the color is fixed, the rice paste can be washed away. They also obtain the opposite effect on silks of European or American manufacture. Having found that these often fade quickly, they execute a design on them in rice paste, then treat them with chloride of lime until they are bleached. The rice paste is then washed away, leaving the design in the original color.—Art Amateur.

Long Sleepers.

When the heat of a tropical or semi-tropical summer dries up every pool and parches the ground to such an extent that it is difficult for animals not endowed with great powers of locomotion to obtain water, they compromise with nature by sleeping off the season of heat and scarcity. The winter sleepers are all pretty well known; but, owing to the summer sleepers being for the most part inhabitants of tropical countries, far removed from the path of trained observers, we are less acquainted with the species practicing that means of escaping the heat and drought of summer. Indeed at present only one mammal, the tenec, a hedgehoglike beast of Madagascar, is known to do so. In South America and Africa various reptiles æstivate. In the plains of Venezuela the alligator, the land and fresh water tortoise, the boa constrictor and several sorts of the smaller kinds of serpent lie motionless during the hottest period of the tropical summer. But their dormancy is not so perfect as that of some hibernators. In Brazil, Australia and the Cape Colony lizards, frogs, tortoises and insects pass months of the rainless season inclosed in hard earth, and in India many species of fishes live during the hot season in a torpid condition, imbedded in the hardened clay.—Brooklyn Eagle.

TO WORK AT ONCE.

In Connection with the Toronto Boodle Investigation.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Preliminaries in connection with the extended boodle investigation have been promptly observed. City Clerk Blevin's first official act to-day was to notify Judge MacDougall and Wallace Nesbitt of the action of the Council last evening in granting the desired wider authority. The notifications were quickly acknowledged by both His Honor and the prosecuting counsel.

During the day, Mr. Grier, who is associated with Mr. Nesbitt in the prosecution of the enquiry, called on Mayor Kennedy and received peremptory instructions to proceed with all diligence with the enquiry. "Don't lose one precious moment," was His Worship's injunction.

ORGANIZED LABOR.

A New Body to be Formed Uniting American Workingmen.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—The movement to consolidate all the labor organizations into a powerful and united body with a new name and new constitution, will be acted on in a few days by the Knights of Labor. A resolution will be offered concerning the scheme, and when it comes up, a vote will be taken to determine whether or not the Knights of Labor favor such a movement. It will most likely pass unanimously, as all who have been spoken to on the subject favor the scheme. Their attention will be called to the proposition by submitting it to other labor organizations. They will be asked to appoint delegates to a grand conference when the new organization will be launched.

BRIGANDS CAPTURE A TOWN.

The Citizens Were Overpowered and the Town Looted.

London, Nov. 15.—A despatch from Rome says that a band of brigands numbering one hundred, acting in military order attacked Tortoli, a town of two thousand inhabitants in Sardinia. The gendarmes, assisted by townsmen, resisted desperately, but were overcome. Two gendarmes were killed and many persons wounded. The brigands looted the town and decamped with their booty. Troops have been sent in pursuit of them.

SARAH TO BE HONORED.

London, Nov. 15.—A Paris despatch to Chronicle says it is announced that Sarah Bernhardt will be made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

FIRE AT PETROLIA.

Petrolia, Ont., Nov. 15.—A fire occurred yesterday at the Premier Oil Co.'s refinery, now owned by the Imperial Oil Co., burning the agitator building and a large quantity of benzine and oil; loss about $1,000; insured in Western, British American, Mercantile, Queen's, Royal and Lancashire.

RETURNING TO AFRICA.

New York, Nov. 15.—The White Star Line steamship Adriatic took in her steerage yesterday twenty colored people bound for Liberia, where they intend to make their homes. This is a flying column from the army of 4,000 negroes that is said to be gathered in Southern States ready to return to Africa.

CHURCH AND SOCIETIES.

Rome, Nov. 15.—Several Roman Catholic Bishops in the United States have renewed their request to the Pope that His Holiness condemn certain societies of workingmen as associations that cannot be countenanced by the church, but the Vatican does not regard it as a duty to intervene in the matter. The coming encyclical letter upon the affairs of the church in the United States, however, will contain an important passage upon the subject, couched in a spirit of kindliness, but still in a spirit of firmness.

NO PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

Sir Charles Tupper Says it Never Existed in Canada.

Dundee, Scotland, Nov. 15.—Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian Commissioner, addressing a deputation of farmers of Forfarshire and Perthshire, in this city, declared that no matter how clearly proven apparently, no contagious pleuro-pneumonia ever existed in Canada. The British Government, he added, had come to a foregone conclusion not to admit Canadian cattle into the United Kingdom and intended to persist in the great wrong which was thus done to Canada. The deputation adopted a resolution pledging themselves and their friends to continue the agitation looking to the removal of this and other restrictions to trade. Sir John Leng, M. P. for Dundee, was requested to submit the foregoing resolution to the British Government.

OXFORD AND YALE.

No Challenge for an Eight-oared Race Has Been Received.

Oxford, England, Nov. 15.—Mr. Pittman, President of the Oxford University Rowing Club, says that there is no foundation for the reports circulated in the United States, that negotiations are in progress for an international eight-oared boat race between Oxford and Yale. Oxford, Mr. Pittman adds, has not received any letters on the subject from Yale or from Mr. Robert J. Cook, the Yale coach, who is reported to be in Europe for the purpose of negotiating a match between Oxford and Yale, and Oxford has certainly not sent a challenge to Yale. Finally, Mr. Pittman says that Mr. Cook has not even visited Oxford, and nothing is known among the Oxford oarsmen of his coming.

Mr. Pittman said that he much regretted the persistent repetition of these rumors as they distinctly tended to diminish the chances of a match being made. But, if a challenge is sent or if Mr. Cook does come to this city for the purpose of negotiating for an International eight-oared race, the matter will receive the courteous attention of Oxford.

CUTLERY SEIZED.

It Was Originally Pawned and Will Bring About a Big Suit.

City auctioneers and pawnbrokers are much interested in a seizure which has just taken place and which will be fought out in the courts.

Seventeen months ago a woman pawned two cases of cutlery with Mr. J. L. Moss and at his last annual auction sale conducted by Rae & Donnelly,, Mr. Hicks, the auctioneer, discovered the cases and claimed that they were the two stolen from him eighteen months ago. He at once put a seizure upon them but Mr. Moss has instructed his lawyers to resist on the ground that Mr. Hicks cannot prove that they were the cases stolen from him. Mr. Hicks had imported dozens and Mr. Moss claims that the two he received might have been purchased the ordinary way—they were certainly pawned according to law; everything being done in a legal manner.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

Sad Experience of An American Speculator in Mexico.

Tuxpan, Mexico, nov. 15.—An American named A. J. Hanley, here, for the purpose of buying a vanilla plantation, started out alone, and nothing further was heard of him until he was brought back by two Mexicans who found him wandering. He is demented, and all the money which he had on his person when he left is gone. It is believed that he was drugged by the Loco weed and pocket of the unfortunate man, it is learned that his home is in Pittsburg, Pa.

DIED FROM OVERWORK.

Sudden Death of an Ontario Court Reporter.

(Special to the Herald).

Toronto, Nov. 15—L. B. Young, one of the best of Ontario's Court reporters, died at noon to-day in his 35th year, leaving a wife and two children. For a long time back he complained that at the end of a very heavy day on Circuit he felt that the strain was too great, and that he could not hope for any great time to keep it up. He was going to watch the first opportunity to change his occupation, but waited too long. It was a case of break-down through overwork.

PATTERSON AT KINGSTON.

[Special to the Herald.]

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 15.—Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia; A. White, Government architect, and Mr. Bermingham, of Toronto, arrived here to-day. The Minister visited the Barracks, the Royal Military College and the public work being done here by the Government.

Bronze medals were received to-day by the Mayor from London, England, sent by the Humane Society to A. Hanley, of the Inland Revenue Department, and W. P. Fenwick, a patient at Rockwood Asylum, for having saved people from drowning. They will be presented at a public meeting of citizens.

STORM ON LAKE ONTARIO.

Toronto Steamer's Narrow Escape—The Football Situation.

(Special to the Herald).

Toronto, Nov. 15.—A wild gale is blowing on Lake Ontario and it is dangerous for vessels to venture outside of Toronto harbor. The steamer Macassa had a hard time on her run from Hamilton to-day. The decks were swept clean and Captain Zealand and his crew had all they could do to bring the staunch vessel into port. The wind is blowing 60 miles an hour.

SOCIETY WOMAN'S SUICIDE.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 15.—Miss Hannah Weaver, aged 48, was found dead in the attic of her house this morning, having hanged herself during the night. She was one of Newport's most prominent ladies and a sister of the late John G. Weaver, of the Ocean House and the Everett House, New York. Her mind has been deranged for some time.

Canadian Political History.

Instead of taking up the subject regularly announced for the lecture to-night, Mr. H. B. Ames will conclude the explanation of the remaining clauses of the B. N. A. Act. The constitution of the Central and Provincial Governments were considered in the two previous lectures. There remains to be dealt with the financial arrangements made with each Province and for the new Dominion and other miscellaneous provisions to the end of the Act. To those taking the course this study is extremely important.

RUSSIA'S NECROPOLIS.

Burial Place of the Imperial Family in the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul.

The Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, in which the remains of the late Czar Alexander III. will be laid to their rest, was originally built by Peter the Great in 1703, though it has been rebuilt and restored more than once since then. It is often called the Fortress Church, because it stands within the fortress which was built on the island by Peter of Petersburgsky. Beneath the pavements are great vaults, in which all the Russian soverigns since the foundation of St. Petersburg lie buried, with the exception of Peter II., who died at Moscow and was interred there. Overhead in the church magnificent monuments mark the sites of the graves. The interior of the church is covered with banners and other military trophies captured in the various wars waged by Russia against the Swedes, Poles, Turks, Persians and French.

Externally, the most remarkable feature of the building, which is an oblong structure 210 feet long by 100 broad, is the slender and elegant pyramidal spire springing from the four cornered belfry at the western end. The summit of the cross, which surmounts it, is 371 feet above the ground level. In the gilding of the spire twenty-two pounds weight of pure gold are said to have been employed.

The fortress, which contains the mint as well as the cathedral, is now used as a State prison. The remainder of the island is meanly built and is the refuge of the poorer officials and the better class of workingmen. Its northern part, separated from the main island by a narrow channel, bears the name of Apothecaries' Island, and is occupied by a botanical garden of great scientific value and by fine private grounds and parks.

GRANT'S WORK BENCH.

Now Made Into Souvenirs for Distinguished Men.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 15.—Rev. G. R. Vanhorne, of this city, presiding elder of the Dixon District carried to the Epworth League meeting at Mount Morris for presentation to Congressman R. R. Hitt, a gavel made from the work bench used by Gen. Grant when he scraped hides in his father's tannery at Galena. Mr. Vanhorne bought the entire bench and will present similar gavels to Col. Water, Governor McKinley and other prominent men.

WIGGINS DID NOT APPEAR.

Harlemites Fail to Appreciate and Several Employees Mourn Him.

The New York Times publishes the following: Professor E. Stone Wiggins, who placarded himself throughout Harlem as "the Canadian astronomer and weather prophet, who had gained great renown by his weather prophecies," and who announced that during the recent week he would discourse to the Harlemites on "The Cause of the Deluge," and "Mars, Where Man Came From," has departed, and several ushers and a ticket taker mourn his loss.

He was to have told last night, in Madison Hall, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street and Madison Avenue, "where man came from," but the prophet failed to materialize. He sent a little note to Proprietor Martin of Madison Hall saying that from the slim attendance of the night previous and the evident apathy shown by Harlemites to know whence they came compelled him to give up his lectures.

But the question with the ushers and the ticket takers is not "where man came from," but "where money is coming from."

W. C. T. U. ELECTS OFFICERS.

Washington, November 15. — The entire morning session of the National Non-Partisan W. C. T. U. was taken up the election of officers. The results were as follows: President, Mrs. C. C. Alford, Bernardstown, Mass.; Vice-President, Mrs. T. B. Walker, Minneapolis; General Secretary, Mrs. Ellen J. Phinney, Cleveland, Ohio; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Florence C. Porter, Caribou, Me.; Treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Ingham, Cleveland, Ohio.

CHICAGO HAS TWO MILLIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—A banquet of the Two Million Club was held last night. The club was formed some months since to boom the population toward the desired mark. Last night it declared the work finished, as it estimates the number of people residing in Chicago at 2,236,000.

ONE WIFE TOO MANY.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 15.—Tentzer, a tailor doing business on James Street north, left the city suddenly a couple of days ago, leaving his stock in the store and giving no clue as to where he was going. As his business was quite successful and his creditors were not pushing him his sudden departure looked mysterious. It now turns out that Tentzer was a bigamist and had learned that wife No. 1 was on his track and during the absence of wife No. 2 who was visiting in the United States he took his departure. Mrs. Tentzer No. 2 has since arrived in Hamilton and would like to know the whereabouts of the missing tailor.

KINGSTON'S CURFEW BELL.

Kingston, Nov. 15.—The curfew bell rang at 8 o'clock last night, warning all children under 15 years of age to retire to their homes. Any found wandering aimlessly about the streets thereafter will be taken to the home of their parents by policemen. The fine for violating the by-law will run from $1 to $5: It will be strictly enforced. A few objections were made to the by-law at the Council. Ald. Curtis said it might interfere with children going for a doctor, or with children who were going to a friend's house or to some place of amusement. It was pointed out that the police officers could be trusted to use discretion in the matter, and there was no fear of children being molested who were not worthy of correction.

Killed by Politics and Slung Shot.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—John Pagliughi, an Italian, died in a tenement house on Michigan Street early this morning as a result of injuries inflicted election day. He worked against the fugitive ex-State Senator O'Malley and was given a dose of slungshot.

Imperial Furs Knocked Down by Harris.

Auctioneer Harris made many ladies and gentlemen happy yesterday afternoon, at 79 St. Lawrence Street, where he is engaged at the grand auction sale of imperial furs, now being unmercifully slaughtered in price. Without any exception, this is the grandest time to get a fur garment of any kind at your own price. Some of the finest and costliest furs in the world are being disposed of at this auction sale and at wonderfully low prices. Auction sales twice each day. See the announcement in this issue.

VIEWED THE REMAINS.

The Dead Czar Lying in State at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 15.—Through the whole day, with the exception of the time the members of the Imperial family were attending religious services in the cathedral, there was an unceasing flow through the cathedral of people desirous of taking a last look at the face of the dead Czar. The procession filed before the bier, upon which the body of the Czar is lying in state. Around the bier stood a number of candles, which lighted the features of the Czar. Many of the people wept as they passed the coffin. Everyone showed deep emotion.

TO TRY SOMERVILLE.

Opening of the Beauharnois Term at Which the Huntingdon Case Will Come Up.

(Special to the Herald).

Beauharnois, Que., Nov. 15.—The Court of Queen's Bench opened at 10.30 this morning. Hon. Mr. Justice Belanger paid a high compliment to C. Loupret, District Magistrate, who, by his attention to his duties, saved considerable sums yearly to the Province, as there had been no criminal term in this district during four years.

Messrs. Somerville and Boyd were present, and all the witnesses already heard before Mr. Loupret, and amongst other the officers of the bank at Sherbrooke and Huntingdon; A. Demartigny, managing Director of the Jacques Cartier Bank; W. S. MacLaren, Rev. Mr. Lockart and Rev. Mr. Morrison, of Ormstown; E. Fontaine, N.P., Ormstown, and a great number of witnesses.

After the Judge's charge to the Grand Jury and with his silk hat on was sworn an interpreter in the case of the Jew who was assaulted at St. Anicet near Cazaville last summer.

At 2.30 the Grand Jury are still deliberating and it is not expected that there will be a presentment before this evening or to-morrow.

TWENTY-TWO DROWNED.

A British Ship Foundered Off the Coast of Yorkshire.

London, Nov. 15.—The British ship, Culmore, Captain Read, foundered eighty miles off Spurn Head, county of York, yesterday, 22 persons were drowned. The Culmore was built at Port Glasgow in 1890. She registered 1,629 tons and was 260 feet long, 38 feet beam and 23 feet deep.

C. P. R. FREIGHT RATES.

The Commission That Will Enquire Into these Charges.

(Special to the Herald).

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—P. S. Archibald, Chief Engineer, and H. H. Schaefer, both of the Intercolonial Railway arrived here to-day from Moncton, N. B. They are two of the four Government employees appointed to enquire into the question of freight rates on the Canadian Pacific Railway. After reaching here they spent the forenoon at the Department of Railways getting their instructions. They afterwards left by the afternoon train for Winnipeg. There they will meet the other two Commissioners, Messrs. Pearce and Allison of the Department of the Interior. It is more than likely that the first meeting for organization will be held next Monday or Tuesday. It is also likely that Mr. Archibald will be made chairman, and Schaefer secretary.

LONGUEUIL WAS MEANT.

No Trouble Between the School Boards of St. Lambert.

The news item in yesterday's Herald entitled "Rival School Boards, St. Lambert agitated as to the disposition of the school taxes," was in error in that it located in St. Lambert a condition of affairs which really exists in Longueuil. In St. Lambert there is the most cordial relations between the two boards.

DIED FAR FROM HOME.

He Would Have Succeeded to a Title and an Estate.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 15.—A young Englishman, George Walpsley, who arrived in this city a few days ago, died last night of pneumonia. He was a composer of music, and had contracted with the Whitney Marvin Company of Detroit to handle some of his compositions. Shortly before he died he gave the name of a titled family in England and said he was an only son. He had been the black sheep and had been in every quarter of the globe. The St. George's Society will likely take charge of the remains.

STILL TALKING WHEAT-MIXING.

(Special to the Herald).

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—N. C. Bell, Secretary Corn Exchange, had a long interview with Messrs. Daly and Wood to-day in regard to the mixing of wheat, a seriously discussed question at present.

THE GERMAN EMBARGO.

It is Not Likely to be Raised in the Near Future.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—The correspondent of the Associated Press in this city is informed upon good authority that the prohibition against the landing at German ports of American cattle and American fresh beef will not be raised in the near future. The officials of the United States embassy will submit all the arguments to expert testimony. The Hamburg-American Steamship Line and the merchants of Hamburg, Bremen, Lubeck, Stettin and Flensburg have filed protests against the prohibition.

SMUGGLERS CAPTURED.

The United States Authorities Make Arrests at Port Huron.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 15.—Customs Officer Buzzell is high feather over his capture of two alleged smugglers and the seizure of about 1,500 lbs. of celluloid, worth about $1,500, which was smuggled over the river here Tuesday night. Henry Cumphrey, a well-known diver, and Charles King, a drayman, are the parties under arrest. The celluloid is in six cases and was brought over in row-boats. It had been taken to the depot for shipment to Chicago. It is thought those arrested are members of a large gang of smugglers who have been successfully smuggling not only celluloid but opium, and the special agents of the Treasury who are now on the case expect to make more arrests.

"Nathan, the Prophet,"

is not dead. He is as large as life and twice as natural, and still lives to sell thousands of briar pipes, walking sticks, and tobacconist's goods. Ho! For the bargains. Come this way, boys; no peanuts; all fine cigars; no shooting gallery cigars, with cabbage leaf wrappers painted brown; but the real old Havana and domestic stock, to be had at the old stand, 71 St. Lawrence Street.

AUSTRALIAN GOLD FEVER.

Tremendous Rush to the Western Mines—Strike of Printers in New South Wales.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 15.—The steamship Miowera, which arrived here from Sydney, New South Wales, brings the following Australian advices:

"The famous 'Wealth of Nations' gold mine, at Cool-Gardie, the richest ever discovered in the world, has been sold for a quarter of a million pounds sterling to an English syndicate. The gold fever is on in Australia, and the number of people booked for the Western Australian mines is far in excess of the number booked for any other gold craze since gold was first discovered. The Governments are sending special officials to Cool-Gardie to ascertain the exact state of affairs. Their first report is:

"Vast wealth is being discovered daily. Warn the public, if they value their lives, not to come here. A water famine is now on, and water is dearer than whiskey. It costs $6 a gallon and is getting scarcer every day. Warn English syndicates not to be too hasty in buying mines. English money is flooding the country and English syndicates are being fooled."

"The union printers of New South Wales are still striking against a reduction of wages. All the printers in the entire colony are out. The Australasian Typographical Union is keeping them supplied with funds and urging them on in their fight. The union men are assaulting non-union men on the streets, and several arrests have been made.

"New South Wales is providing machinery for the imposition of a heavy land and income tax. This is the outcome of an agitation on the part of the labor organizations, who have been mainly responsible for the election of the present Legislature. Land owners are organizing to protest against increased tax legislation."

THE GENERAL WEDS.

In Spite of His Family the Old Man Takes a School Girl Bride.

Richmond, Ky., Nov. 15.—General Clay was married to his fourteen-year-old ward Dora Richardson at ten o'clock yesterday in the presence of his servants. The ceremony was performed by Isaac Newton Douglass, once a magistrate and preacher of the Christian Church in this county.

Notwithstanding the opposition of his children, the old general declared he would marry the girl if it took all winter. Every qualified officer in the vicinity having declined to perform the ceremony, General Clay armed two of his men at midnight last night and bade them not to return until they secured a priest. They scoured the country, and at ten o'clock returned with Squire Douglass riding between them.

In an interview regarding the marriage, the General said: "Well, I am married, and though my wife is but an undeveloped child I love her better than any woman on earth. She is a good cook and of the maturity of mind of a woman of thirty-five. She has been schooled by adversity, but she has come out unharmed."

When the General addressed his wife as "Dear" and asked her to leave us she bounded out of the room with the freedom usual to her years.

The General told me that one of his reasons for marrying was to rid himself of a gang of assassins and plunderers who had beset him.

He also wished, he said, to prevent his family from interfering in the distribution of his estate. There are 2,350 acres of fine land which is entailed, he has a life interest in the fine old home and 360 acres, besides personality valued at $10,000 and valuable coal lands.

It is evidently his determination to shut out his family if possible from inheriting the latter, and his marriage to-day is promoted therby more than by any other consideration. He said his marriage was the grandest battle of his life, and that he had come out victorious after having burned all the bridges behind him.

It is the General's avowed intention to pass the rest of his days in Whitehall with his newly wed wife.

About one o'clock to-day a large and beautiful American upright grand piano belonging to an estate will be sold without reserve at Messrs. Fraser's sale room St. James Street. This it a fine opportunity to procure a first-class instrument.

THE DEATH PENALTY IMPOSED.

An English Murderer Found Guilty and Sentenced.

London, Nov. 15.—The trial of James Read for the murder of Florence Dennis, a young woman whom he had ruined, which has been in progress at Chelmsford, Essex, for seven days, resulted in the death sentence being imposed upon the prisoner. The case has attracted the greatest interest, thousands of people lining the streets around the spot where the inquest was held and afterwards around the building where the trial took place. Read was a porter employed about the London Docks and was married. He killed Florence Dennis when she became troublesome.

A WOMAN IN THE CASE.

A Jealous Lover Shoots a Man and Lynchers Now Want Him.

Lebanon, Ind., Nov. 15.—A lynching party is looked for in this city. At Zionsville, Joseph Conrad shot and fatally wounded John Martz, one of the leading citizens of the county. Conrad had been paying attention to Mrs. Martha White, a widow. Martz had occasion to call on her several times during the past week on account of a real estate deal between them. Conrad became insanely jealous, and Tuesday night met Martz on the street and shot him. He was arrested soon after and brought to Lebanon, by a circuitous route to avoid a party of Martz's friends who were waiting prepared to lynch him. The crowd finally returned to Zionsville, notified Mrs. White to leave town within 48 hours under penalty of being blown uo by dynamite.

SPIES ARE DISCOVERED.

The French Minister of War Will Cause Three Arrests.

Paris, Nov. 15.—In consequence of the instructions of the Minister of War, M. Mercier, an enquiry has been commenced into a serious case of espionage. Three arrests have already been made in this connection. The prisoners include two Germans, Schoelgrek and Von Cassel, who are believed to be officers in the German army reserve. The third prisoner is a Frenchman, whose name has not been given. Searches made at the prisoners' residences resulted in the discovery of incriminating documents.
