BRITISH IN MESOPOTAMIA HAVE WON SIGNAL SUCCESS IN VICINITY OF KUT-EL-AMARA

KING GEORGE'S MEN DROVE TURKS FROM SECTION ON FRONT OF 2,500 YARDS TO DEPTH OF 1,100 YARDS—ENEMY CLEARED FROM RIGHT BANK OF TIGRIS — HAND TO HAND FIGHTING IN RUMANIAN VILLAGE.

The British and Turks in Mesopotamia have been engaged in vigorous fighting along the Tigris river in the vicinity of Kut-El-Amara. The London and Constantinople War Offices both make claims of successes for their troops in this region. The British official communication announces that north-east of Kut the British troops have driven the Turks from a small strip of land they were holding on the right bank of the Tigris and that King George's men are now in control of an entire trench section on a front of 2,500 yards to a depth of 1,100 yards. It adds that the right bank of the river also has been cleared of Turkish down-stream from Kut-El-Amara and that south-west of the town further progress has been made.

Constantinople, on the other hand, says east of Kut-El-Amara the British launched three attacks against the Ottoman positions but that none of them was successful and that the attackers suffered heavy casualties.

In the capture of Nanesti, on the Sereth river in Rumania, hand fighting of a hand to hand character took place in the streets. In withdrawing from the village German batteries raked the Russians as they made their way across the bridges over the Sereth, inflicting heavy losses on them. With the fall of Nanesti one officer and 555 men were captured by the Germans.

On the other battle fronts only minor operations have been carried out. The big guns are everywhere active. On the line in France near Loos the British in a daylight raid blew up German dugouts, causing many casualties among the occupants. The artillery duels have again become violent in the Verdun sector.

BRITISH IN MESOPOTAMIA.

London, Jan. 21.—The War Office communication issued tonight concerning the operations in Mesopotamia says:

"The enemy has been expelled from a small strip on the right bank of the Tigris in the bend of the river north-east of Kut-El-Amara. The whole trench system on a front of 2,500 yards to a depth of 1,100 yards is now in our possession, and the right bank of the river from Kut-El-Amara down-stream has been cleared of the enemy. Further progress has been made against the enemy's trenches on the right banks south-west of Kut-El-Amara.

BRITISH TROOPS IN FRANCE.

London, Jan. 21.—The report from British headquarters in France issued tonight reads:

"A successful daylight raid was made this morning against enemy trenches south-east of Loos. Dugouts full of Germans were bombed and destroyed. Many casualties were inflicted on the enemy at small cost to ourselves. We secured some prisoners.

"We also entered the enemy's lines last night north of Neuve Chapelle. The enemy's artillery was active at intervals during the day in the neighborhood of Rancourt and Serre and also in the Ypres sector. We effectively bombarded the enemy positions in St. Pierre Vraast wood and the neighborhood of Gommecourt, Arras and Armentieres."

FRENCH STATEMENT

Paris, Jan. 21.—The bulletin issued by the War Office tonight on the campaign reads:

"North of the Somme our batteries took under their fire and dispersed enemy troops on the march in the region of Mont St. Quentin.

"On the right bank of the Meuse both artilleries were very active in the sectors of Vacherauville and Chambrettes and the Cauries wood. North of Ban-De-Sapt, after a spirited bombardment, we carried out a surprise attack on the German line in the direction of Senones."

Belgian communication: "There was artillery fighting in the direction of Dixmude and on the Steenstraete-Het-Sas front."

ports where they are interned, the Minister said emphatically that orders had been issued to the captains of the ports to prevent any secret departures.

The Minister of Marine has thus far received no exact information as to the nationality of steamers reported on the north coast. This referred to a despatch from Macao to the newspaper A Noticia reporting the presence of vessels near Touros, north, north-west of Port Natal.

The British auxiliary cruiser Edinburgh Castle entered Rio Janeiro harbor today. The German steamer Ahrich, which has been interned here, is filled with war material.

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 21.—The British steamer Vauban, of 10,660 tons, for whose safety much anxiety has been felt, has arrived at Bahia.

FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DIE OF STARVATION.

Rome, via Paris, 21.—Five hundred and ten thousand people have died of starvation in Syria, according to information received by the Corriere D'Italia. Lebanon is said to have suffered particularly while at Beyrouth inhabitants are said to have been picked up on the streets nearly dying of hunger. The number of suicides is increasing to appalling proportions. Similar horrors are reported as occurring in Palestine and parts of the interior inhabited by Christians.

SPANISH STEAMER SUNK

Madrid, via Paris, Jan. 20.—The Spanish steamer Manuel, 2,479 tons, of Bilbao, has been sunk by a submarine. The crew was rescued by the Swedish steamer Kest.

OTTAWA APPOINTS SEVEN SENATORS

FOUR SEATS GIVEN ONTARIO AND THREE TO MARITIME PROVINCES.

(Special to The Chronicle).
Ottawa, Jan. 21.—Seven of the fourteen vacant Senatorships were filled by the Government on Saturday, four in Ontario and three in the Maritime Provinces. The new members of the Upper Chamber are Messrs. Harry W. Richardson, of Kingston; Gideon D. Robertson, of Weiland; Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, of Hamilton; Col. Frederick Nicholls, of Toronto; Mr. Charles E. Tanner, Leader of the Conservative Opposition in Nova Scotia; Mr. Adam B. Crosby, of Halifax; and Dr. Foy, Bourque, of Richibucto, who is New Brunswick's representative.

The remaining vacancies will probably be filled in the course of the next two weeks. Saturday's list includes no members of Parliament but it is expected that some of the Commoners will be promoted to the Upper House when the rest of the Senatorships are filled. In connection with the appointment of Mr. Robertson of the order of the Railway Telegraphers who was a prominent figure in the settlement of the dispute between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its telegraphers recently, the statement is made that it is an earnest of what may be expected to be done for labor in later senatorial appointments.

The Weather

Toronto, Jan. 21.—A small disturbance which was centred in Arizona Saturday morning has since moved eastward with rapidly increasing energy and is now centred in Michigan as a severe storm. The snow which began in western Ontario early in the day is now spreading into Quebec. The weather is very cold in the western provinces.

PREMIER BORDEN ENDORSES HON. A. SEVIGNY'S ATTITUDE

CONGRATULATED THE NEW MINISTER ON HIS SPEECHES IN DORCHESTER CAMPAIGN—WILL LAURIER DARE PUBLICLY APPROVE LUCIEN CANNON'S STATEMENTS?

The following letter from Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, was addressed to Hon. Albert Sevigny, the new Minister of Inland Revenue, in which the Prime Minister congratulated his colleague on his attitude in the Dorchester campaign and the strong manly character of his speeches.

Will Sir Wilfrid Laurier or Sir Lester Monaghan dare give public endorsement to the assertions of Mr. Lucien Cannon?

Ottawa, Jan. 20th, 1917.

The Hon. Albert Sevigny,
Quebec, P.Q.

I sincerely congratulate you upon your speeches of Thursday and yesterday as reported in the press. Their strong and manly character cannot but appeal to all true and earnest Canadians. On the other hand, your opponent's speech made, apparently after consultation with his leader, reveals the real nature of the proposed campaign against the Government and discloses an attitude toward our present life and death struggle that cannot but be repugnant to the whole Canadian nation. Evidently, he hopes by this insidious deliverance to attract support in your County, but I sincerely trust and I believe all of Canada trust that the electors of Dorchester will sound a note of true Canadianism and will administer fighting rebuke to one who seeks political support by calling for relaxation of our war effort. You have correctly defined the attitude of the Government on which we stand in every portion of the Dominion.

LAWYERS OPPOSED TO WOMEN PRACTICING LAW

London, Jan. 20.—Women will not be permitted to practice law in England if the lawyers can prevent them. At a meeting yesterday of the General Council of the Bar, over which Attorney-General Sir F. E. Smith presided, a resolution asking the General Council "to consider a report upon the desirability of making provision for the admission of duly qualified women to the profession" was overwhelmingly defeated.

He served as an officer in the American navy throughout the Civil War.

HUNT FOR RAIDER STILL GOING ON

THE BRAZILIAN GOVERNMENT WILL WATCH THE COAST CLOSELY.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 21.—The Minister of Marine has received a telegram from the captain of the port of Pernambuco confirming the previously declaration of the commander of the Brazilian steamer Maranhao that he had encountered two cargo vessels, accompanied by two auxiliary ships, believed to be Germans, all flying the American flag.

The Brazilian government, in addition to sending out the coast defense ship Deodoro to guard the northern coast of Brazil, has decided to despatch the scout cruiser Rio Grande Do Sul, which will cruise between Port Natal and Fernando Da Noronha Island and keep close watch on the coast in these waters. The two vessels will leave for the north Tuesday.

The Rio Janeiro newspaper A Noticia says that about a hundred sailors from the German gunboat Eber, interned at Bahia, are reported to have embarked on the Swedish steamer St. Croix, which left Rio Janeiro four days ago and is said to have met the German raider on the high seas for the purpose of putting these men aboard. These sailors had been interned on Cobras Island, in the Bay of Rio Janeiro, for more than a year.

A representative of this newspaper inspected the German steamer Hohenstaufen in Rio Janeiro harbor and declares that the vessel was taking on provisions and water and had steam up. The Hohenstaufen and another German steamer, the Caproca, according to A Noticia, have made preparations to put to sea.

Reports have been received here that manifestations in favor of the Germans took place on board the Spanish steamer Leo XIII, when the work of the raider became known. A number of the passengers aboard protested.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 21.—The Minister of Marine declared today that the Brazilian warships which are watching the coasts have been given the strictest instructions to capture any raiders operating in any manner that might injure Brazil's neutrality. Without attaching any credence to the reports that German steamers were planning to escape from the

DEATH TOLL 300 IN THE MUNITIONS PLANT EXPLOSION

Thousands Flock to East London But May Not Approach Scene.

SEARCH FOR BODIES.

Site of Plant Now Marked By Huge Hole Eighty Feet In Depth.

London, Jan. 22.—Throughout Sunday thousands of persons flocked to East London, hoping to satisfy their curiosity as to the effect of Friday's explosion in the munitions factory there.

The newspaper reporters who were allowed to approach nearer the scene describe what was formerly the site of the explosive store as a hole a hundred yards across and eighty feet deep with masses of earth iron and all sorts of wreckage covering an area of about six acres around the hole.

"For two days," says the Daily Mail's reporter, "soldiers have been digging in and turning over the wreckage in search of bodies. About a hundred have been recovered, but there are still more. It seems almost impossible to remove the thousands of tons of earth, stone, iron and wood under which they are buried.

"It would have been much greater had the explosion occurred later, when the people had gone to bed, for then they would have been blown away with the upper stories of the houses.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN TORONTO DEPOT

Toronto, Jan. 21.—One of the worst accidents in the history of the Union Station occurred tonight as a troop train bearing 500 soldiers was pulling out for the east.

The injured are: Frank Lewarn, 87 Perth Ave., injuries to the back; Earl Jenkins, 1073 Bathurst street, arm fractured; Isaac B. Lucas, 273 Russell Hill Road, and Benjamin Cameron, head injured.

DORCHESTER CAMPAIGN

It is Sir Wilfrid Laurier when, Sir Wilfrid learned that I was resigning my seat in the Provincial House and making the fight of revenge and reparation, he wrote me the following letter.

He then read the letter. "Sir Wilfrid, my chief, writes a letter to a friend and tells me to make a fight, added Mr. Cannon." Mr. Seigney talks much in Dorchester, but at Ottawa he is silent, went on Mr. Cannon.

"I will not say he is a sheep, but if he is not he could not have acted as he did.

When Borden says $5,000,000 for England, he says, "Yes, Sir" and for six years at Ottawa has said nothing but "Yes, Sir."

He preferred to be Deputy Speaker and Speaker, and now Minister instead of keeping his promises."

Mr Cannon next talked war scandal and in the course of his remarks referred to the trench tool and shovel with a hole in it, which had been invented by Miss McAdam.

The meeting was at the convent. Mr. Seigney in his reply at the end of the meeting apologized to the ladies present and the nuns who had loaned their hall for the meeting for the remarks made by Mr. Cannon.

Mr. Seigney, after rebuking his opponent and saying that the people would not be insulted by "little Lucien" remarked that he Laurier letter was rather short for Laurier who wrote long letters generally, but for "Little Lucien" a little letter was sufficient.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN TORONTO DEPOT

LT.-COL. W. C. MacDONALD KILLED AND FOUR OTHERS WERE INJURED.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—One of the worst accidents in the history of the Union Station occurred tonight as a troop train bearing 500 soldiers was pulling out for the east.

The injured are: Frank Lewarn, 87 Perth Ave., injuries to the back; Earl Jenkins, 1073 Bathurst street, arm fractured; Isaac B. Lucas, 273 Russell Hill Road, and Benjamin Cameron, head injured.

The body of Col. MacDonald has been extricated from beneath the rear axle of the tender, under which Lewarn was also pinned.

Several hundred people had been standing on the platform opposite track No. 6 in the outside train shed, cheering the troop train as it pulled out.

The spectators who had been bidding farewell to the soldiers, had started to cross the tracks.

It was thirty minutes before the two could be extricated, when Col. MacDonald was found to be dead.

New York, Jan. 22.—Felix Grasse, a printer, of No. 414 East 64th street, unburdened himself and his grievances to Magistrate Cornell in the Domestic Relations Court the other day.

After listening to his side of the matter husbands who had growled regularly for years at the breakfast table because the coffee was cold went home loaded with flowers and candy and kisses for the wives they had suddenly learned to appreciate.

For twelve years, Grasse told Magistrate Cornell, he had received every Saturday $21.50. For the same period of time he had deposited $21.50 in his wife's lap every Saturday night.

On Monday morning, he said, she would return to him $1.50, and from that amount he had to pay his car fare, buy his lunch, treat his friends, pay club dues and purchase any luxuries he wished.

For a time, he said, he lived at South Aqueduct, L.I., and in order to save car fare he would rise every morning early and walk the four miles to the nearest railroad station, walking back in the evening from work, sometimes getting home early enough to meet himself getting up to go back to work.

It was on Christmas Day, he declared, that he suddenly found himself with a holiday on his hands and nowhere to go.

"I had been henpecked long enough," he told the Magistrate, "and I felt like the fifth wheel of a carriage. I determined to assert myself and carry my own pocketbook."

"Madame," said Magistrate Cornell to Mrs. Grasse, "you have one husband in ten thousand. The case is dismissed."

NOMINATION OF CANDIDATES HELD AT STE. HENEDINE. (Special to The Chronicle)

Ste. Henedine, Jan. 21.—Nominations of the candidates for the position of member of parliament for the County of Dorchester were held at Ste. Henedine at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Those nominated were Hon. Albert Seigney, Minister of Inland Revenue, and Mr. Lucien Cannon who resigned his seat in the Quebec Legislature as deputy for Dorchester to contest the County for the Federal House with Mr. Seigney.

The latter has been the Federal representative of Dorchester since 1911, and the occasion of the election is that he entered the Cabinet thus making a bye-election necessary neither of the two candidates were present at the nomination, it not being the custom to have speeches at nomination meetings.

STUDYING THE STARS WITH MIRRORS

- (1) Dominion Observatory at Victoria, B.C. (2) Reflecting Telescope. (3) Observatory open. (4) Official opening of Observatory.

It is with the reflecting telescope that many of the most brilliant discoveries about stars are made.

The construction, however, is not so generally understood as that of the refracting telescope, the form of instrument which is so often seen in the parks or on the streets of our cities and through which the passerby can get a peep at the moon for the trifling sum of five or ten cents.

The lens at the upper end of a refracting telescope is called the objective glass. It collects the rays of light and brings them together at a focus to form an image, which is viewed with a magnifying eyepiece.

The largest refracting telescope in the world-known Yerkes instrument. It has an object glass forty inches in diameter.

But the biggest reflecting telescope in the world belongs to Canada. This has been erected at Victoria, B.C., which is only a short journey from Vancouver by C. P. R. steamers. In a reflecting telescope, the light is collected by reflection from the surface of a concave mirror.

The building of the seventy-two inch Canadian instrument may be taken as an illustration of some of the mechanical difficulties to be surmounted. One shows the mounting. The ends of the polar axis are supported on steel castings which are bolted to the heads of concrete piers.

The permanent pier erected at Victoria is shown also. The polar axis must be set parallel to the axis of rotation of the earth. In the latitude of Victoria it makes an angle of more than 48 degrees with the horizon. To the upper end of the framework of the telescope is attached the mirror which is supported on a system of supporting steel walls. The

CANNON'S VIOLENT LANGUAGE MAKES HIM UNPOPULAR

"LITTLE LUCIEN" BECOMING A JOKE IN DORCHESTER

ELECTORS ONLY CEASE INTERRUPTING HIM WHEN REQUESTED BY HON. MR. SEVIGNY—DECLARES HE IS CANDIDATE AT LAURIER'S REQUEST AND STILL CONTINUES QUIBBLING ABOUT NATIONAL SERVICE.

(Special to The Chronicle.) Ste. Rose, Que., January 20.—"When Mr. Sevigny became Minister of the Borden Cabinet, I asked my friends to meet at St. Henedine in convention, not as Mr. Sevigny says, on my own initiative, but at the demand and following the desire of the venerable head of the Liberal party, Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It was after he asked me to have the electors of my county meet that I sent notices of a convention in the county. It is democracy that reigns with us Liberals. When I went to Ste. Henedine, I did not go to impose my views on the convention, but to get free expressions of the views and sentiments of the people."

In these words Mr. Lucien Cannon, Liberal candidate against Hon. Albert Sevigny in Dorchester county, emphasized even more clearly than before, that he was a candidate because of the approbation of the Liberal leader and of his supporters in the county.

It was at the meeting at Ste. Rose on Saturday morning, held in the church, that this statement was made, and it was in answer to what Mr. Cannon considered to be an insinuation on the part of Mr. Sevigny that he had imposed himself on the county in this contest.

Laurier Will Regret. Mr. Sevigny said that the first to regret the words and stand taken by Mr. Cannon would be Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for Sir Wilfrid had taken the more patriotic course in regard to National Service.

Mr. Cannon said he claimed to be the Liberal Leader. He said National Service meant nothing to him.

If he had the same ideas as his chief, how was it that Sir Wilfrid endorsed National Service. Mr. Cannon said National Service meant either nothing or conscription.

He believed that the advice of Lord Shaughnessy, as he said, should be followed in that participation in our means and the necessities of the moment.

It was the largest meeting of the campaign up to that time, and the duel was waged vigorously. About 200 men were present at the meeting out of a total of 239 voters on the list for Ste. Rose parish.

Before the campaign ends, practically every voter in the county will have heard the candidates.

Mr. Sevigny speaking first, reviewed the reasons of the fight and remark that it had first been the intention of the Liberals not to make opposition.

"I have no opposition, because there is a man who is not contented, who does not like me, who has a little revenge to satisfy against me," said Mr. Sevigny.

Insult to People. He remarked on the kind of convention that had been held, and added that Mr. Cannon was throwing the provincial mandate given him in the faces of the people, not being already satisfied with the honors given him. He referred to the language Mr. Cannon was using against him, saying that it was vulgar, but not being a boor he would not descend to such language, and would continue to use language that would not insult any one.

When in 1911 he had taken the position he had done he was only 30 years of age, and had not the experience to foresee what was to come, but he had been sincere and was sincere now.

He spoke of the attitude of Sir

Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals at Ottawa, on the war.

National Service. He dealt with the National Service, and the attempt being made to exploit it politically, though the heads of the Church and Laurier and Gouin had endorsed it, Gouin speaking with Borden on December 7th, in favor of National Service.

There was talk of the high cost of living because of the war, but that could hardly be a political question in view of the position of the two political parties on the war.

"If you make a little sacrifice of one cent on a letter, and write ten letters perhaps a year, the sacrifice is not too great," said Mr. Sevigny.

Mr. Sevigny referred to Mr. Oliver Asselin, a Nationalist, who in 1911, was against participation in Empire wars, but who thought that his principles of 1911 should be put aside for the time, and was today fighting in Europe.

These things showed the situation "No, they are wrong to play politics in questions of the war."

"I appeal to you," they say that the French-Canadians are persecuted. Unfortunately, it is true, that they do not always get justice in Ontario, but there is no persecution like that of the Liberal Government of Manitoba, the government which Mr. Cannon loves, and which broke the settlement of 1897 in regard to the French-Canadians.

I appeal to you for your votes next Saturday, because in voting for me you will prove to the rest of the country that the French-Canadians want to still have a part in the affairs of the country.

If you do not elect me, you will have only two French-Canadians in the Cabinet instead of three.

It will be better to have three, better for Dorchester, and for the interests of the twenty-one French-Canadian counties of the Quebec district.

Cannon Denials. Mr. Cannon referred to his record in the Legislature.

He denied insulting Mr. Sevigny, saying the people knew he was too well brought up to do so, and he needed no lessons in manners from his opponent.

"When Mr. Sevigny says that I threw my mandate in the face of the electors, I do not fear to say that he says something that is not true," went on Mr. Cannon. "The time came when death removed Mr. Casgrain, and to the general surprise Sir Robert Borden turned to Mr. Sevigny, ex-Nationalist, who had fought him in 1911, and who condemned him, and said he would never serve him."

Sevigny unfortunately, put aside his principles and connections and promises and I am obliged to say, preferred honors to honor."

Obeys Laurier. Mr. Cannon here announced that it was Sir Wilfrid Laurier who had told him to call the convention, and told what he had sacrificed to enter the fight, and knowing what it was to go up against a strong government, an eloquent speaker and money, and all the methods employed.

"I am obliged to hold Mr. Sevigny's trail, to bring accusations against him, to use severe language, and it is without malice."

I am to day the executioner, and the victim is Mr. Sevigny. I would prefer not to do it, but circumstances force me."

He then launched into his daily review of Mr. Sevigny's career.

"When the Government wanted to deliver Canada tied hand and foot to England, and prevent Laurier, the representative of our race, from speaking, Sevigny gave his vote that Laurier should not speak. You remember that Mr. Sevigny wept many tears and used many handkerchiefs in talking about the wrongs of the French-Canadians, and what did he do. It is true, that at the beginning of the 1911 session he gave notice of motion in regard to the French-Canadian minority in one of the provinces, but put it in his pocket when Borden told him he wouldn't get any jobs or any patronage if he did. Which province was it, Mr. Sevigny?"

"You should know," answered Mr. Sevigny. "I am not obliged to make your speeches as well as my own." "He answers me roughly," claimed

Mr. Cannon, but the laugh was with Mr. Sevigny. "You were as silent as a fish at Ottawa, Mr. Sevigny."

"You did not keep your oath, because you got a place, and now they want to close your mouth altogether with a portfolio."

"Here is a box of pastiles that I bought. Look at the stamp I had to buy to put on them."

"Mr. Sevigny says the taxes are small, but he does not have to pay them on his railway tickets, for he has his private car."

"He does not have to put stamps on letters, and I don't know about his medicines."

Medicine for Cannon. He does not need any medicine, said someone in the audience.

"If Mr. Sevigny and his friends had administered properly there would be no taxes in the country."

Conscription Again. "My attitude to National Service is this," declared Mr. Cannon: "Laurier did not approve, because he refused to join the Commission, but as a good citizen advised the people to sign them. I signed my card, but I say that I am opposed to conscription, whether industrial or military."

If this National Service means what it did in England, I am ready to fight with all possible means against it. It means one thing or another. If nothing, why spend money. If it means anything, it is Conscription, and nothing else.

Mr. Sevigny's friend Rogers, said conscription was coming, all that keeps back these men, who are ready to deliver us hand and foot to England, is the fear in the country of conscription.

It is not only in Quebec that there is this fear, but in all parts of Canada.

We should follow Lord Shaughnessy's advice when he said our participation should be one of proportion to our means and the necessity of the moment.

"Mr. Sevigny should not shield himself behind the men who have had the courage to go to the battlefields, and should not use them as a mantle to cover his turpitude and iniquities."

Effective Reply. Mr. Sevigny in reply said that he had not hesitated to break away from his party when the Kewatin School question had arisen on his notice of motion about which Mr. Cannon had been ignorant.

"What Mr. Cannon wants to do is wrong, and the first to regret the words of Mr. Cannon will be Sir Wilfrid Laurier," said Mr. Sevigny.

"You say, Mr. Cannon, that the National Service means conscription, how is it that if you are against conscription, and if Sir Wilfrid is against conscription, that your leader advises every one to sign their cards. Sir Wilfrid wants the cards, and if not the only thing would be for him to denounce them, and tell the people not to sign them."

Sir Wilfrid at Quebec on December 8th, spoke on National Service, but he did not speak like Mr. Cannon.

He advised his electors in east Quebec on that occasion to enroll, and to take up arms and fight for England, France and Belgium and Canada, and Laurier added: "If I were younger, I would myself, enroll."

If what I say is not true, I am ready to retire from the contest. Laurier took a more patriotic course than Cannon has done.

The latter makes appeals to prejudices and the words he said today and at St. Prosper for a long time, will reproach him.

Cannon Unpopular. Mr. Cannon had a difficult time getting a hearing at the afternoon meeting, and Hon. Mr. Sevigny several times intervened to ask for a better hearing for his opponent to which Mr. Cannon retorted that he did not want any help from him, and that the disturbances were caused by people who had no votes in the parish.

Charges that the Conservative organization was pouring whisky and money galore into the county were made by Mr. Cannon.

There were some exceedingly bitter periods in the last few moments, and feeling was heightened when Mr. Cannon turned and pointed to Dr. Paquet, Conservative member for L'Islet, as one of the causes of the trouble.

Dr. Paquet denied the charge, and objected to the accusation, but a little later Mr. Cannon turned again to him and told him to be silent.

Mr. Sevigny said Dr. Paquet had not said a word.

There are a considerable number of Irish voters at both St. Odilon and Frampton, and Mr. Cannon declared himself to be half-Irish and half French-Canadian.

His opponent said he was a bad Irishman, because in the strictly French parishes he had resented insinuations that he was Irish.

Letter from Laurier. The feature of Mr. Cannon's both addresses was to read a letter to him from Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The letter is from Ottawa, 335 Laurier avenue east, and reads as follows: "My dear Lucien:—

"You have done a good act in renouncing your provincial mandate to revindicate and affirm in Dorchester the rights of outraged conscience. I trust the electors will respond to your noble appeal I wish you all success. Your devoted friend,

WILFRID LAURIER. Mr. Sevigny said he would forfeit one thousand for the poor of the parish if Mr. Cannon could show the letter to be dated after his first speech of the campaign at St. Prosper.

The letter was written before Mr. Cannon's speech at St. Prosper was known, said Mr. Sevigny.

The meeting at St. Prosper was held on the evening of the 18th, and naturally not known until the morning of the 19th.

Mr. Cannon did not take up the challenge, but previously he showed the letter to the members of the press. It is dated January 18th.

Mr. Sevigny at the Frampton meeting said Mr. Cannon insulted the people by saying that they objected to paying an extra cent on a letter, or on a railway ticket, so that the war might be carried to success.

Minister Applauded. Those who had not gone to the battlefields were too big hearted to grudge a few cents a year to supply and equip and pay the brave men who had preferred to make the supreme sacrifice for civilization.

He was loudly applauded. Both candidates addressed both meetings in both French and English, speaking at Frampton.

Mr. Cannon said the people of the parish showed a good example to both races in Canada by the pleasant manner in which they lived together, and if their example was followed the politicians would not have the difficult Ontario bi-lingual question to settle.

To have let Mr. Sevigny be elected by acclamation would have meant that the people approved of his conduct, but he wanted to give them a chance to say whether Mr. Sevigny was guilty or not of the charges brought against him.

"Mr. Sevigny, said he would probably tell the Irish people that he approved of Home Rule, but God help us, we will never get it if we wait for him, for he forgets his promises."

"The first thing he did in his political career was to run against the late Hon. Charles Devlin, in Nicolet, a fine Irishman, who had fought for all minorities, and whom he told the people of Nicolet not to elect because he was not a French-Canadian."

Mr. Cannon said he knew that he was talking in a strong Conservative parish.

When he was interrupted later, he said he knew that he was not among friends.

He dealt with scandals in war contracts, instancing among other things the purchase of horses.

Cannon Humor. "The Government bought horses in the English provinces, and on the authority of an official of the Militia Department the reason they did not buy horses in Quebec was because the Department said that horses in Quebec were raised in the French language."

"I am running an honest and respectable campaign in this county, and I ask the newspapers to publish that the Minister of the Crown wants to buy the county of Dorchester."

"You yourself, also, and with whiskey," came from the crowd. "These interruptions are the result of organization," declared Mr. Cannon.

"Hear, Mr. Cannon," asked his opponent, appealing to the audience, and Mr. Cannon got a better hearing to the end of his speech.

Mr. Sevigny referred to Mr. Cannon's statements in different places as to his nationality.

"I hope that this famous question of Home Rule will be settled soon, and that Ireland will get justice, and the man today Prime Minister, will give justice," said Mr. Sevigny.

In offering me a portfolio Sir Robert Borden did not ask me to sacrifice my honor, my language, race or province, but to represent the twenty-one counties of the district of Quebec.

"He told me that the great majority of the district were French-Canadians, and that he wanted a French-Canadian in his Cabinet to represent them, and to work for them."

Cannon Not Wanted. "I accepted, because I did not have to sacrifice anything."

"Mr. Cannon, you will never be able to put your foot in Dorchester county after next Saturday, you will remain in Quebec."

"Take him back, take him back," came from members of the crowd.

Mr. Sevigny continued: "You talk of 1911, but you were not here then. You were running against Sir Rodolphe Forget and got as big a beating as I am going to give you. The only man who can come to reproach me is Ernest Roy, who was my opponent then. He is not with you in this campaign, and never will be in this campaign."

"Mr. Cannon tells you that all I have done at Ottawa has been to say 'Yes, sir,' and 'Yes, sir,' when Sir Robert Borden proposed anything."

When the Premier asked the House for $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 for the war, they said 'Yes, sir,' and 'Yes, sir,' and during this present session it will be the same thing.

"You have different ways of insulting the people," continued Mr. Sevigny, "one of them is to tell them that they pay one cent more on a letter."

"You don't know the people."

"Those who hear me have French blood and Irish blood in their veins, and are generous when they know what is needed."

"It is with pleasure that they are helping the men who are writing with blood so many glorious pages in history."

"You, Mr. Cannon, will be chastised."

Mr. Sevigny dealt with National Service, explaining what was intended.

"There was one thing to remember," he added, "and that is that we are going through the greatest danger that ever menaced the country."

"We cannot forget whether French or English-Canadians, that we live under the same flag, and it is our duty to defend that flag, and it is our duty to aid Belgium."

Some go to the front of their own free will, others make munitions, and others till the soil."

Here he made his challenge to Mr. Cannon in regard to the date of the Laurier letter, saying that he had never seen the letter.

"At St. Prosper you made statements which will reproach you all your life," concluded Mr. Sevigny. "You cannot find a newspaper of your party which approves of you."

Little Lucien. Mr. Cannon in the ten minutes reply closing the meeting, said that he had never witnessed such effrontery as shown by his opponent.

He needed no lessons from Mr. Sevigny, for he remembered the speeches of 1911. Then followed the altercation with Dr. Paquet, member for L'Islet, who was standing at Mr. Sevigny's side.

"You called me the little Lucien, the little Cannon today," said Mr. Cannon.

NO PEACE UNTIL FINAL VICTORY IS RUSSIAN MOTTO

Emperor Nicholas Addressed Rescript to the New Russian Premier.

SUPPLIES FOR THE ARMY PROVISIONING OF TROOPS MUST RECEIVE THE FIRST ATTENTION OF NATION.

London, Jan. 21.—An Imperial rescript has been addressed by Emperor Nicholas to the new Russian Premier, Prince Golotzine, calling upon him among other things to see that the government devote its first attention to the question of supplies for the armies of Russia and concentrate itself upon the development on a large scale of the measures recently taken in this connection.

The text of the rescript, as transmitted by Reuter's Petrograd correspondent, reads: "Having entrusted you with the responsible post of President of the Council of Ministers I deem it opportune to point out to you the pressing problems the solution of which should be the main object of the government's attention."

"At the present moment, when the tide of war has turned, all thoughts of all Russians without distinction of nationality or class, are directed towards the valiant and glorious defenders of our country who with keen expectation are awaiting a decisive encounter with the enemy."

"In complete solidarity with our faithful allies, not entertaining a thought of the conclusion of peace until final victory has been obtained, I firmly believe that the Russian people, supporting the burden of your self-denial, will accomplish their duty to the end, not stopping at any sacrifice."

"The natural resources of our country are unending. There is no danger of their becoming exhausted, as apparently is the case with our enemies. All the greater is the significance attached to the settlement of the question of supplies, which under present conditions is so important and so complicated."

"Accordingly I call upon the government, united in your person, to devote its attention first and foremost to the provisioning of my valiant armies, and, behind the firing line, lessening those difficulties connected with supplies, inevitable in a world war. I count upon it that the joint labors of the whole government would continue in the realization on a large scale and the development of the measures recently taken towards this end."

"The question of provisioning the armies and the civil population demands the combined action, not only of all the authorities at the front and in the rear, but also of all the different departments united under the control of the Council of Ministers."

"Another problem to which I attach supreme importance is the further improvement of transport, railway and waterway. The Council of Ministers should in this connection work out decisive measures which will assure the full utilization of the means of transport in order to be able, through the co-operation of all departments, to furnish our troops on the firing line and behind it with all that they require."

"In pointing out these pressing problems for your attention I express the hope that the activity of the Council

LAURIER'S SPEECH IS NOW AWAITED WITH INTEREST

How Will the Liberal Leader Treat Cannon Sentiments In Dorchester?

AWKWARD SITUATION. Will the Opposition Precipitate General Election While War Is On.

(Special to The Chronicle.) Ottawa, Jan. 21.—The debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne will commence tomorrow. The adoption of the address will be moved by Mr. Gordon Wilson, of Wentworth, and seconded by Mr. J. A. Descaerres, of Jacques-Cartier. Sir Robert Borden will then speak and will be followed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The speech of the Opposition Chief is being awaited with great interest as it will probably determine in great measure the character of the Session. The Government has made it plain in the speech from the Throne that it desires no election while the war is on but liberal members have been talking freely of forcing dissolution by refusing to agree to the extension of the Parliamentary term and from Sir Wilfrid is expected some intimation as to whether this is the official interest of his party.

What will lend additional interest to the pronouncements of the Liberal Leader is the awkward domestic situation created for his party by some of the sentiments which have been aired by Mr. Lucien Cannon, Liberal Candidate in Dorchester. Mr. Cannon announcing that he was in the field under Sir Wilfrid's auspices and that he expressed the latter's views has said things about National Service and Canada's Part in the war which ring hollowly in the ears of Ontario Liberals, however they may sound to those from Quebec. If Sir Wilfrid repudiates or even deprecates Mr. Cannon's utterances it will not help his party in Quebec. On the other hand if he ignores the situation altogether an inference will be drawn which may be scarcely less damaging throughout the country as a whole.

of Ministers under your presidency will meet the support of the Council of the Empire and the Duma, united in a unanimous ardent desire to carry on the war to a victorious completion. It is furthermore the duty of all persons called upon to save the state to act with good-will, uprightness and dignity towards the legislative institutions.

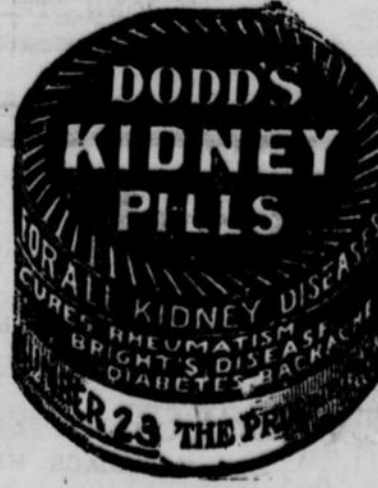

"In its coming activity in organizing the economic life of the country, the government will find invaluable support in the Zemstvos, which by their work in time of peace and of war have proved that they piously maintain the shining traditions of my grandfather of imperishable memory, Emperor Alexander II."

REMOVAL OF GREEK TROOPS. Athens, Jan. 21, via London.—The removal of Greek troops and war material to the Peloponessus continues. It is believed the transportation of the artillery will be completed next week, when the blockade can be lifted. The transfer will be finished in a fortnight, according to present indications.

A LIBERAL FARCE

While the Liberals still keep up the farce of saying that Mr. Sevigny should be opposed today, no matter what his present sentiments are, and that for the simple reason that he was a Nationalist in 1911, there are two features in the present campaign which should receive the attention of the general public in order that they may grasp the situation. These are:

Le Devoir, Mr. Bourassa's organ, is opposing Mr. Sevigny. Le Devoir is supporting Mr. Cannon.

But those Liberals who are so hypocritically recalling Mr. Sevigny's alleged Nationalist utterances in the past, will do well to remember that Nationalism is but an offshoot of Quebec Liberalism.

About a year ago the followers of Laurier and Bourassa had not entered upon the semi-secret alliance which unites them now and Mr. Bourassa was not so desirous of championing the Liberal cause as he is today.

On February 9, last year, Mr. Bourassa, under the heading, "The Tragi-Comedy of Ottawa," traced the origin of Nationalism as follows:—"In spite of the hypocritical 'party truce' the moral unity of the country is broken. Whose fault is it? 'The Nationalists' fault," exclaimed Mr. Laurier, who did not miss his favorable song on the disloyalty, the treason and the numerous crimes of that 'insignificant handful' of trouble-makers.

"Let us suppose, for one moment, that Mr. Laurier's accusations are true and that the Nationalist resistance is inspired by hatred towards England, at what school were we given such lessons of hatred and distrust? At the school of the Liberal party, under the supreme inspiration and the immediate direction of Mr. Laurier.

"It was Mr. Laurier who taught us, as early as 1890, that 'never would Canada take part in the wars of England.'"

"It was the disgusted annexationism of Mr. Laurier, of Sir Sir Richard Cartwright, and of the whole Liberal party that was compelling Mr. Blake, in 1891, to break the ties which bound him to the future defenders of the Empire.

"It was Mr. Laurier who, in 1892, hailed with joy the dawn of the day upon which Canada 'could get rid of the services of English diplomacy.'"

"It was Mr. Mercier who, in 1892, under the paternal eye of Mr. Laurier, was leading a campaign for the Independence of Canada.

"It was Mr. Lemieux, then a young Nationalist chicken, soon after transforming into a fat Imperialist duck, who followed Mr. Mercier in that anti-British campaign.

"It was Mr. Laurier, it was Mr. Brodeur, it was Mr. Choquette, it was Mr. Bernier, it was their organs, The Electeur, (now Le Soleil), and Le Soir, which in 1896, denounced the military preparations of the Conservative administration, launched to the four corners of the province this alarm cry which carried no sign of an unlimited love for the Mother Country: "Why should we fight for England? They consider you good to serve as cannon flesh. They will send your children to Africa, to Asia, whence they will never return. Vote for Laurier and his candidates if you want to see your country enjoy the same tranquility and do not wish to expose yourself to be called one of these mornings for other countries, hiding behind your wives, your children and all that is dear to you."

"It was Mr. Laurier who, in 1902, affirmed that 'it would be a veritable suicide for the country to rush into the vortex of expenses in which European nations, including England, have been dragged through the re-arrangements of formidable armaments'."

"It was Mr. Laurier who, in the same speech, exclaimed that it would be a crime to divert a part of the money required for the achievement of the public works useful to the country, 'to purchase guns rifles and war munitions.'"

"It was Mr. Laurier, Mr. Fielding, Mr. F. Borden, Mr. Brodeur, who harshly refused to England in 1902 and 1907, any assistance towards the general defence of the Empire and sought applause in Quebec as the unconquerable adversaries of any form of participation in such defence.

"It was Mr. Lemieux who, with the approbation of Mr. Laurier, denounced, in 1903, 'the absolutely false principle' of the obligation for the colonies to participate in the defence of the Empire.

"It was Mr. Laurier and his colleagues who, in 1904, brutally dismissed Lord Dundonald from his command because he wanted to imperialize the Canadian militia.

"It was Mr. Laurier and his ministers who, in the same year, secured the re-insertion in the Militia Act of the clause restricting the use of the militia to the defence of Canada.

"It was Frederick Borden, colleague of Mr. Laurier, who, on that occasion, signalled "the dangerous road which will lead Canada to participation in foreign wars" and added 'that it is sufficient for us to look after our own business' and to 'defend our own territory.'

"It is Mr. Laurier's principal Lieutenant, Sir Richard Cartwright, who summed up the whole liberal doctrine in this lashing expression: "All that Canada owes to England is the Christian pardon for the wrong the latter had done here."

"Really, if the Nationalists, do not feel in a hurry to shed their blood for England or for any other country than their own, Mr. Laurier may say: 'Here is the generation I have brought up and educated: Here are the principles, the ideas and sentiments which I have impressed upon my dear compatriots.'"

Such is Mr. Bourassa's explanation of the school wherein he was taught the rudiments (!) of his present doctrines.

Can any right-thinking and patriotic Canadian citizen read the above and not blush for shame at the kind of opposition that is being made to Mr. Sevigny in Dorchester today? "Breathes there a man with soul so dead?"

LIBERALS ALARMED

Mr. Lucien Cannon, wielder of the "Bloody Key" and would-be smasher of the "Bonne Entente," by his effort in Dorchester to be more Nationalist than the Nationalists has not only aroused a feeling of horror among those patriotic Liberals whose relations are fighting on the plains of Flanders.

What worries the Liberal leaders far more is that he has let the cat out of the bag and revealed the nature of the despicable and un-patriotic campaign whereby the Liberals hope to benefit not only in Dorchester but in the case of a general election. Now they are afraid that, even though these tactics should serve them in the bye-election, they will do incalculable harm to the Liberal party in a Federal contest.

The result of this attitude is to be seen in the general uneasiness among local Liberals, whose alarm over the possible consequences of Cannon's reckless speech makes them waste their energy in vain efforts to lead the public to believe that he never spoke the words which he did.

Mr. Sevigny's statement that the Liberal papers would never dare to publish Mr. Cannon's speech with any fulness or exactitude has been amply justified by the events. The Quebec Telegraph was too cowardly to do it and reported practically nothing of it, merely contenting itself with one of its usual clap-trap falsehoods to the effect that Cannon made a good speech and Sevigny a poor one.

Le Soleil, too, gave only a skimpy report which contained none of the damaging statements attributed to the young Liberal fire-eater. Not only that but it turned out what we consider to have been the most truthful and interesting editorial page which it has ever furnished to a pleasantly surprised public, a page which, in our humble opinion more faithfully photographed the contents of the editor's brain, though he could not have taken much trouble over its composition, than scores of other pages which cost him hours of laborious occupation.

The appearance of this white and virginal sheet, which no one, we presume, will venture to take as an indication of Le Soleil's political purity, excited a good deal of conjecture locally and many surmises were made as to the reasons why the Quebec Liberals had for one sweet and sanctified day been spared the infliction of having to read the monocolored monograms which are supposed to be the daily bread, ad infinitum and ad nauseam, of all true, local Grits.

The plea of accident is too clumsy to deceive any one and the most generally accepted solution is, that the editor of Le Soleil not only took Cannon's speech but also developed the theories enunciated therein and added a little Tabasco sauce of his own. That he could go too far for even the local Liberal leaders seems incredible but he certainly appears to have done so, and the current report is that the original page had to be put back into the melting pot. For which relief much thanks!

BALFOUR'S NOTE.

The message of the newly-appointed British Secretary of Foreign Affairs—Mr. Balfour—to Washington must have been heartily welcomed by those persons possessed of a thirst for information.

No American, from the President down, can hereafter plead ignorance of what caused the war and what is the object of the Entente Allies--what they are fighting for.

Mr. Balfour's pronouncement is an analytical, though plain, resume of the situation, a dignified and statesmanlike statement of causes and effects incident to this struggle and logical reasons for the demands of the Entente as outlined in the reply of President Wilson's so-called peace note.

Arguing from the premise that permanent peace is the desideratum, Mr. Balfour points to the part that Germany has played in this war, instancing the violation of treaties with small nations, her aggressiveness and lust for territory, and declares, in effect that such peace is impossible except on the lines laid down by the Entente note.

In plain words he means that this is not the time to talk peace. He declares these to be facts:

The Entente Powers are fighting to establish a new regime. The war has shown that no international law is worth the paper it is written on. Neutral nations are made to suffer in ratio to their strength or weakness. Military strength is made the touchstone of progress by the Central powers. The smaller states of Europe have experienced that truth.

And treaties have not helped them. "Nor will treaties help them," says Balfour.

Peace may be desirable. The nations may long for it. But it cannot be until militarism is smashed.

The aim of the Entente is to accomplish this by weakening the Central powers and eliminating the Turk from Europe.

The latter proposition occupies big space in Mr. Balfour's note. This is evidently to meet criticisms which this phase of the Entente note brought forth.

The British minister's reason for his demand that the Ottoman empire be swept from Europe is that Turkey has proved itself to be a menace to Europe's peace instead of a bulwark.

It is pointed out that a Turkey subsidized by Germany would preclude permanent peace.

The idea of the league to enforce peace is declared to be one that does President Wilson and the United States credit.

But it is damned with faint praise. And it is held to be utterly impossible unless peace can be secured along the lines laid down in the Entente note.

Altogether this message from Britain's foreign minister to President Wilson may be taken as an explicit statement of the intentions of the Allies and a respectful hint that his services are no longer required.

Vote for Sevigny and the British Navy.

The scarcity of eggs will encourage a number of Grit speakers who would otherwise hesitate to appear on public platforms.

The Liberal party in Quebec must be glad that its organizer, Mr. Philippe Paradis, got back from Ontario in time to conduct the present campaign.

Speaking before the Federation of Liberal Clubs in Toronto Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:—

"Let the Prime Minister and his colleagues say that there shall be no election as long as the war shall go on and I will pledge myself and the party that we shall stop all preparations and think of nothing but the war."

With Sir John Jellicoe as First Sea Lord and Sir David Beatty in command of the Grand Fleet, things should go well at sea. But it should be remembered that Canada has no dreadnoughts there. In this great theatre of the great war Canada plays the humiliating part of an unarmed belligerent. But, of course, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier said in killing the Naval Aid Bill, the German Emperor is a man of peace and of lofty ideals.

Canada's cruisers, in the form of dust-covered tenders, were left lying by the Laurier Government in some pigeon-hole at Ottawa. Canada's Dreadnoughts were sunk fathoms deep in the Hansard of speeches wherein for weeks upon weary weeks apostles of Laurierism jeered in foolhardy scorn at the unequivocal advice of the British Admiralty. The three capital ships which should have stood in the bulwark of Britain's defence, were, to the lasting shame of this country, submerged in a fight supposedly waged to save the autonomy of Canada from an imaginary menace. A battle fleet in the North Sea without a Canadian spar or a Canadian gun is but the logical and disgraceful outcome of Laurier's opposition to Borden's Naval Act.

The chief reason for the opposition to Hon. Mr. Sevigny's re-election in Dorchester, as set out in the declarations of his opponent, Mr. Cannon, and of newspapers favoring the Liberal cause, is that the new minister is or has been a Nationalist. Nationalism in Quebec gained its early vigor in 1885 and 1886. It represented a protest of the French-speaking people in Canada against the execution of Louis Riel after he had for a second time caused serious disturbances in the western provinces, had resisted established authority and had caused the death of many citizens and soldiers. Honore Mercier was its chief prophet. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after Mr. Mercier's downfall, became chief beneficiary of its political effects. In the parliamentary election of 1896 it was a main influence in giving the Liberal party in the House of Commons almost a solid delegation from this province. It is this "solid Quebec" that many in the opposition party would like to see once more in existence for their advantage. It is not the holding by Mr. Sevigny of any set of views that begets such criticism by his opponents. It is the fact that holding them he has won success at the expense of the Liberal party.

Whatever views Mr. Sevigny may have held, his present position is clear and well understood. In all the Borden Government did in preparation for or in connection with Canada's share in the war, Mr. Sevigny supported it by voice and vote in Parliament. That fact counts for more today than any views held by him or attributed to him by opponents anxious to hurt him politically. As a candidate after accepting a position in the cabinet, also, Mr. Sevigny makes himself responsible for all the Government has done, and for all it proposes to do. He is seeking re-election as the champion of the policy of action the Government has pursued, the upholder of Canada's participation in the war to the end. Those who seek to represent him as anything else are seeking to confuse the issues. It will be well for Canada and well for Quebec if their purpose fails.— Montreal Gazette.

PITRE'S OFFS. DE GOIL SPOILING QUEBEC'S CHANCES OF BEATING CANADIENS

Bulldogs Made Great Up-hill Fight But Brennan's Poor Refereeing in Last Period Helped to Beat Them—McDonald Starred for Quebec—Joe Malone Scored Three Goals—Crawford Was Hurt.

(Special Staff Correspondent) Montreal, Saturday, January 20.—When Referee Johnny Brennan allowed Didier Pitre to take "Newsy" Lalonde's pass, which was many feet offside, and bang it past Hebert, who thought the point would be disallowed, for the goal which made the score read Canadien 8, Quebec 6, in the dying minutes of tonight's N.H.A. game at the Arena, he practically handed the game over to the Kennedians, the Bulldogs at this stage were all over the Frenchmen and with only three minutes to play, the additional lead thus obtained, obliged the Quebecers to send up their players to the attack, the result being that the Canadiens found it easy to secure two quick goals, by breaking away from the cordon around their net and beating out Hebert who was practically unprotected. The final score was ten to six for the champions, but they were lucky to have any margin on the play.

The Quebecers played a magnificent game, fighting up hill right from the start and almost overcoming a four-goal lead which the Canadiens obtained in the first few minutes of the opening period, when the visitors were not able to get going. For more than three quarters of the match the Blue and White players had possession of the rubber and only splendid goalkeeping by Vezina and superb defence work by Mummery and Corbeau kept out the tricky McDonald with his side partners, Malone, Walter Mummery and George Carey who alternated on the line. Hebert played a brilliant game during the second period but allowed some easy shots to drift by at the beginning and the end of the game. In justice to the little goalkeeper, however, it must be said that he stepped on the ice at the last minute, the Quebecers arriving late, and did not have a warm-up whatever. It was not surprising, therefore that he was off a bit at the start.

From a spectators point of view the game was one of the most exciting and interesting seen in Montreal for some time. About two thousand were present and the visitors had just as many followers as the Montrealers. Apparently swept off their feet at the outset, the Quebecers fought with all their old Bulldog tenacity, showed splendid combination and bored right into the nets. "Jack" McDonald was easily the best man on the ice. The little curly-headed player, held down centre ice for the Quebec team and he handled the disc oftener than any other player. He fits in well at centre and with "Joe" Malone on the left rail and Walter Mummery or George Carey on right, the forwards worked like a charm. "Rusty" Crawford was lost to the team for most of the match, Quebec's speedy captain colliding with Hall and getting a badly cut nose, which when bandaged up was a big bother to the player, though he tried hard to get into the game with his oldtime speed.

Ritchie and Crawford started out on the defence with McDonald, Walter Mummery and Jack Marks on the forward line. The Quebec defence seemed to be playing too far out and inside of a few minutes, Hebert had been beaten four times and the Canadian supporters were jeering at the visitors. "Joe" Hall entered the fray at this point, replacing Marks and Crawford was forced to retire shortly afterwards when he bumped into Joe Hall. "Joe" Malone skated out to replace Crawford and the crowd gave him a cheer. The lanky boy went over to left wing and the Quebecers took on new life immediately. McDonald, Malone and Mummery swept down three abreast and the Canadian defence had a hard time keeping them out. Walter Mummery dropped his weighty brother Harry, several times and the fans jollied the big fellow. Walter was showing great speed and clever checking. Finally the trio of forwards got away nicely and Jack McDonald beat out Vezina for Quebec's first goal.

Lalonde was not going in on the nets so regularly since Hall had been injected into the game and the Frenchmen loafed offside continually. Pitre never tried to skate outside but was hanging around for passes. Hebert saved a great one from the "bullet-shot" man and cleared swiftly. Ritchie broke away but was pulled down in front of the Canadien net by Harry Mummery and the big fellow was chased off. Tommy Smith came on and Lalonde dropped to the defence, Carey replaced Walter Mummery, McDonald raced down through centre, faked a shot and passed to Malone who scored, the period ending shortly afterwards. Canadien 4, Quebec 3. The second period was all Quebec's and the Bulldogs should have salted the game away. Sammy Hebert, played fine hockey for Quebec in this period, though he was lucky a couple of times Lalonde and Pitre missing empty nets. Vezina was at the height of his form and was only beaten once, Ritchie scoring on McDonald's pass after a brilliant piece of play. The period ended without further score, Canadien 4, Quebec 3. The Quebecers resumed the offensive when the third twenty started and buzzed around Vezina. Harry Mummery relieved a press and "tank ed" his way up the ice, with McDonald chasing him, when near centre, Mummery let drive, Hall ducked and the puck struck the iron post and seemed to be clearly stopped by Hebert. The umpire claimed the rubber had also struck the twine, though the Quebec goalkeeper maintained that he had stopped it.

This score did not worry the visitors who worked away until Walter Mummery passed to McDonald and the latter flipped the rubber over to Malone, who again found the net. Canadien were still continuing their offside tactics, though Hall made strenuous objections, Brennan's refereeing was rather free and easy and everything went for a while. Lalonde and Pitre combined for a goal, though the pass looked very very much offside. Pitre scored a brilliant goal a few minutes later when he beat out Hebert while the whole Quebec team were trying to stop him. The figures now read seven to four for the Canadien and the crowd was calling out to double the score. George Carey was again sent to the attack. Joe Malone drawing a penalty for an alleged trip. Carey showed fine work in centre ice and checked back with a will. Ritchie and Hall sailed up the ice and Hall got through for a goal, making it seven to five. Malone came back and Walter Mummery who had been working like a Trojan was given a well-earned rest. Carey secured from a face, zigzagged his way through the Canadian team and though he had a good chance to score himself, whipped the puck with a back-hand sweep to Malone who found the net for his third goal. This was a great piece of play on the part of Carey and the little fellow was handed out an ovation from the crowd. Things looked bright for Quebec and the score would have been tied had not Berlinguette brought down McDonald as the latter was dashing in alone on Vezina. It was at this point in the game that a rank decision by referee Brennan changed the whole aspect of things. Lalonde gave Pitre a pass yards offside and the latter scored. The Quebecers kicked hard but the score was allowed. From then on, the Bulldogs were obliged to open up and inside of two minutes, the Frenchmen had added two goals, the defence being wide open.

It was a great game and Quebecers will be agreeably surprised during the second half of the schedule if the team works like they did tonight. Every man played well, they showed scoring ability and much combination, though there is always room for more in this respect. Hebert, though he allowed some easy ones in, is a clever goalkeeper and though he has been out of the game long, he will soon be taking everything in his old style when with Ontario. The Quebec defence played too far out for him, being used to Paddy Moran's system. Paddy is the best in the business on the close shots, and therefore he always allowed the defence to play far out, but Hebert's methods are different and when the defence works in with him, the team will go like clockwork. It is up to the defence now. The forward line played the prettiest hockey seen in years, their passing being simply great.

Pitre was the pick of the Canadien and his shooting was dead on the nets. Lalonde played well at times, but McDonald had it all over him in centre. Tommy Smith showed good work, though as usual Tommy hugs the opposite net. Corbeau played a strong game with Harry Mummery, while Vezina was only beaten when

OTTAWA WON THOUGH CRIPPLED

BENEDICT AND GERARD MISSING BUT SENATORS BEAT WANDERERS.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—Though the Ottawa's were obliged to play with a sadly crippled team, Saturday night they were too good for Wanderers in the fourth local fixture on the schedule of the National Hockey Association, Ottawa winning by 8 to 5. Goalkeeper Clint Benedict and Eddie Gerard were both laid up as a result of injuries sustained in the match at Montreal last week. Sammy Hebert could not get here in time and after an unsuccessful effort to get Bousie Hutten and other local men, Ossie Lang, a Toronto lad who is in the Signal Corps, was induced to play goal. He let a few long ones in but did well under the circumstances. Gerard witnessed all the game from the bench, but will be out of it for another week at least.

DOUBLE-HEADER AT GRANDE ALLEE RINK

TWO GAMES IN CITY LEAGUE TONIGHT — EMMETS-LAVAL AND MONTAGNAIS-ST. PATS

Two fast games should be run off at the Grande Allee Rink this evening when the Laval and Emmets' meet and Montagnais and St. Patricks hook up.

Laval and Emmets are down on the card for the first game and though McLaughlin's warriors have just come through a hard game on Saturday they expect to trounce Laval tonight. The players are in good condition and are more than determined to stay in the running.

Laval with Antonio Savard and Gagne on the forward line will be stronger than ever and Paul Parent will be a much disappointed boy if they fail to come through with a victory. St. Patricks will have a much stronger team than they have had lately in an effort to down the speedy Montagnais outfit in the match of the evening and this contest will be a good one too.

Summary: 1—Canadien, Lalonde 0.30 2—Canadien, Lalonde 0.30 3—Canadien, Pitre 0.06 4—Canadien, Smith 0.02 5—Quebec, McDonald 0.04 6—Quebec, Malone 0.04 Second Period. 7—Quebec, Ritchie 0.15 Third Period. 8—Canadien, Mummery 0.03 9—Quebec, Malone 0.05 10—Canadien, Pitre 0.03 11—Canadien, Pitre 0.03 12—Quebec, Hall 0.30 13—Quebec, Malone 0.16 14—Canadien, Pitre 0.02 15—Canadien, Corbeau 0.30 16—Canadien, Corbeau 0.30

SONS OF IRELAND SHUT-OUT EMMETS

CHAMPIONS THIRD "SHUT-OUT" GAME IN A ROW — CRESCENTS BEAT ST. PATS.

Sons of Ireland on Saturday night added another link to their unbroken chain of victories in the City Hockey league series by defeating Emmets by a score of 3 to 0, thus finishing their third successive match without being scored on. It was a fast, clean and interesting game from beginning to end and kept the large crowd of spectators on edge throughout. The score gives but a faint idea of the classiness of play during the two twenty minute halves. There was no score in the first half which was marred to a great extent by frequent off-sides, none of which, however slight, escaped the attention of the officials.

While it seemed to many of the spectators that the referees were far too strict in stopping the game for the most trivial off-side plays, the majority of those present understood that the officials were acting for the best. The many offside interruptions in the early part of the match resulted in both teams settling down to fast, open hockey later on in the contest which developed into one of the most brilliant exhibitions seen here in a long time.

In the second match, Crescents beat St. Pats by 1 to 0, winning their first game of the season. Emmets, who can always be relied upon to give a good account of themselves, did not prove disappointing in this respect Saturday. The Sons of Ireland played without one of their regular defence men, "Billy" McDonald, who is still out of the game through injuries. In Herbie Laurie the club had an excellent substitute who surprised the onlookers with his speed and clever all round work. He fitted in nicely with Cliff Malone on the defensive workers of the Sons of Erin and the pair also helped out the forwards greatly with frequent rushes.

Due to the frequent off-side plays which the officials did not let pass, it was only in the dying minutes of the first period that the players warmed up. Bert Shink scoring for Sons of Ireland. Spectacular end to end combination and individual rushes were in order when the half time interval was reached and it was with keen anticipation that the crowd awaited on the last and deciding half.

Shortly after the face-off after the intermission Sons of Ireland played at top speed added another to their one goal lead secured towards the end of the first half. Hammy LaRoche scored the second and third goals. There was little to choose between the work of both teams during the first period. Of the twenty minutes Emmets were a shade more aggressive than their opponents who were covered so closely that they seemed unable to strike their stride.

As events turned out the terrific pace seemed to prove more distressing to the Emmet men who wilted under the persistent attacks of the speedy Sons. Because of their inability to check back in the second half with the same telling effect as in the first McLaughlin's boys were shaded from the early stages of the last twenty minutes of play to the end of the game. A terrific pace was kept up with the City League champions the aggressors for the most part. "Billy" Sullivan in the Emmets goal had an extremely busy time of it and that the Sons of Ireland team did not emerge with a bigger lead was due to his very clever exhibition. In the first part of the contest he erred at times in chasing after the puck outside the goal territory but he more than made up in the second half for any faults committed in the first. On more than one occasion he blocked what looked like sure goals. Chic Fuller who was guarding the nets of the Sons of Ireland, although he did not have so much to do as the opposing goal tend handled what came his way in his usual very capable style. The fact that such a hard working team as Emmets were blank ed speaks volumes for every player who figured on the Sons of Ireland team in Saturday's game.

228TH. BEAT TORONTOS IN "MARQUIS OF QUEENS-BURY" HOCKEY MATCH.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—The second meeting of the local N.H.A. teams this season, resulted last night, in a victory for the 228th, Battalion over the Toronto's by 8 to 6. The soldiers were also the winners of the first game. Saturday's contest was rough and fast. There was much deliberate foul play and twenty one penalties were imposed during the game. Randall and H. McNamara came to blows in the first period and several players of both sides took a hand before the combatants were separated.

In the third period Goalkeeper Nicholson slashed Oatman and the latter retaliated with the result that both players were banished from the game. The score by periods was 3 to 3, 5 to 3 and 8 to 6. Producers and Arbour starred for the soldiers, while Denenny and Noble were best for the Toronto's.

Sporting Notes

Two good games are on the City League bill for this evening at the Grande Allee Rink. The Quebec City Hockey Association met last night and reinstated Bouchard, though the game won by Montagnais against Emmets will have to be replayed at the end of the season if it affects the championship. It was decided to allow the clubs to play all members signed up before the fifteenth.

Representatives of the various clubs are indignant over the article published in L'Evenement yesterday alleging injustice to the French Canadian Clubs in the league. The Longan protest was decided by the governing body of the Eastern Canada Hockey Association, yet L'Evenement practically accuses the league of having shown partiality to the Sons of Ireland in this matter. The Emmets are said to be not altogether pleased with the ruling made last night as according to their evidence, they claim the game should be forfeited to them and Bouchard disqualified. Yet it is claimed unjust treatment is meted out to the French Canadian clubs. Please forget this race cry in sport—the teams are struggling for existence and no good can come of such articles as that published yesterday. Both managers Letourneau and Parent disclaim any connection with the article in question and both are of the same mind, that such spasms, though probably well meant, are not called for.

Quebec played some game against the Canadien in Montreal. If the Bulldogs uncork that brand of hockey against the 228th and Johnny Brennan is not around the Soldiers should go down.

The Sons of Ireland have won five straight games and have played three successive matches without being scored upon. In figures, Chick Fuller has been in the nets for one hundred minutes, (an hour and forty minutes) and has not been called-on to pick the puck out of the net after a goal. And the umpire who has been stationed behind Fuller has kept his hand in his pocket all the while. Some going.

The 228th should be a big attraction here on Wednesday next. This will be the last Wednesday game of the season for the Quebec team at home. After that fans may go down on Saturday evening to watch proceedings.

"Bump" Mummery bumped his big brother hard in Montreal on Saturday. After Harry had been flopped for the third or fourth time by his energetic young brother, Joe Hall, shouted to the big fellow: "The kid is putting it all over you, eh! Harry." And Harry retorted: "But you can't do it any way." But Joe only laughed sending a parting shot: "Got your goat, Pork Chops old scout."

If coaching counted for anything Dave Beland would be the leading scorer in the league. Dave did every thing with his lungs that these useful organs can stand, but Quebec could not tie matters up.

The Bulldogs just now are about the lightest team in the league.

"Newsy" Lalonde donned his "Trench helmet" i.e.—polo. Funny Newsy always does this when he plays against Quebec. Not that he is afraid Joe Hall might tickle his skull with a stick.

Jack McDonald's playing was a treat to watch on Saturday. He is going along at a great old clip and with Malone, Carey, Walter Mummery or Crawford he worked just as effectively.

Carnival tonight at the Arena.

St. Patricks expect to down Montagnais this evening. The Saints will have Joe Marois back in line and other big fellows are expected out.

GALETTI'S MONKEY AT THE AUDITORIUM FOR TWO DAYS AND MATINEE

VAUDEVILLE FOR THE BEGINNING OF THE WEEK TO BE FOLLOWED BY "WATCH YOUR STEP"

It is said that here is nothing in vaudeville of a better fun making than Galetti's Monkeys, the feature of the programme at the Auditorium for today, tomorrow and Wednesday afternoon. Although the programme is booked for such a short time, the management has also engaged four other acts of the best of variety who will make a first class bill, on the kind that is seen only in the best theatres of America. These monkeys, and there are a good number of them, are good comedians, excellent acrobats, equilibrists and everything you want in vaudeville. In the other acts there are the Three Vagrants, a trio which will certainly prove even more popular than the one we had last week the instrumental music the furnish being a great feature of the act. Gordon and Gordon are perfect gymnasts, with novelty stunts in their act and Miss Dorothy Clark is a singing comedienne of the class that has been so much appreciated of late at the Auditorium.

Hodge & Lowell, who complete the bill, have a very funny little flirtation skit to complete the show. "Watch Your Step". Irving Berlin's big, syncopated treat, "Watch Your Step," which drew theatre-goers to the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, in house-filling crowds, will be presented at the Auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday night and Saturday matinee. The costumes and scenery of "Watch Your Step" are magnificent and a delight to the eye. Syncopated, beautiful and lend themselves readily to discernible color design, so that the stage is never without a picture. The large chorus is beautiful to the last girl, and what is more to the point, because rarer, they can sing and dance. The tickets are now on sale at 25c, to $1.50 for the evening performances; 25c. to $1.00 for the matinee.

 The cruel, merciless methods of the "third degree" for criminals have been raised to the nth power by the modern detective and police heads. The amount of labor they will go through to entrap, ensnare, and bring forth a confession of the person they believe guilty, is shown in the most graphic manner in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Yellow Pawn" which will be seen at the Victoria Theatre today and tomorrow with the two clever stars, Cleo Ridgley and Wallace Reid in the principal roles. The play has to do with the intrigues of a district attorney, jealous of his wife's infatuation of a young artist, and the methods he employs in a vain endeavor to send an innocent man to the gallows, and how, while furthering his nefarious crime, he loses his life just as he is about to take the life of another. No one should miss seeing this photo-play, because this is an extra good feature.

FREIGHT SHIP WINS FIGHT WITH U BOAT

SS. LINDENHALL ARRIVES SAFELY AFTER BATTLE WITH HUN SUBMARINE.

New York, Jan. 21—A battle which lasted an hour and forty minutes between the British freighter Lindenhall and a Teutonic submarine in the Mediterranean, with nearly 300 shots exchanged between the two craft, was described by officers of the Lindenhall upon her arrival here yesterday from Naples.

The freighter came in so severely that she looked as if she had been in an explosion. Twenty-six shots from the U-boat hit her and one of the shells still protruded from the woodwork above the steward's bunk.

The engagement took place about ten days before Christmas, according to Capt. Hugh Jones, while the freighter, having left Cardiff, Wales, was proceeding to Naples. The submarine signalled to the Lindenhall to stop. Instead, the tramp-put on full speed ahead.

The Lindenhall reached here without the gun. The weapon was removed at Gibraltar on her return voyage, in accordance with a practice adopted in the case of vessels bound from the Mediterranean to the United States.

The Lindenhall carried coal and had a crew of 28 men when she was attacked.

FINANCIAL - COMMERCIAL

Closing Letters By the Can. Press

(Canadian Press).
New York, Jan. 20.—Shipping shares contributed a very considerable percentage to the moderate operations of the week-end session, notwithstanding the fears expressed in maritime circles of a renewal of maine activities in American waters.

Mercantile Marine Common was the active feature of the final hour at an extreme gain of 35-8 points, with 2-3-8 for the Pfd. and 3 for Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies, while United Fruit rose 2 points, with 1 for Pacific Mail.

Utilities such as Ohio Gas, Columbia Gas, Montana Power, Twin City, Rapid Transit and North American were among the usually inactive issues sharing in the movement at gains of 2 to 5 points. Unclassified stocks, notably Sear Roebuck, Woolworth, Diamond Match and Homestake Mining, changed hands in small dealings at 3 to 10 points advance.

Among the usual favorites United States Steel recorded a slight fractional gain, while Bethlehem Steel finished 15 points above yesterday's closing price after early uncertainty. Copper's, Motors, Equipments and some of the more special stocks made variable improvements, but rails traversed a limited area, with no significant changes. Total sales amounted to 280,000 shares.

The bank statement fulfilled popular expectations with an actual cash gain of more than $35,000,000 and a reserve increase of about $21,000,000, lifting total excess reserves to $202,472,630 and aggregate reserves to $818,014,000, figures almost without precedent since the new system of weekly statements became effective.

An expansion of some $55,000,000 in actual loans and discounts reflects some of the heavy financing now under way in connection with new underwritings, such as the United States Rubber bond issue and the forthcoming British loan.

Bond dealings were negligible with further irregularity, due to heaviness in the international group. Total sales, par value, $2,800,000.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By McDougall & Cowans)
Montreal, Jan. 20.—This morning's short session of the Montreal market was very quiet with little interest taken in the market. The Car securities were better, the preferred closing at 65 bid against sales yesterday at 59. Dominion Bridge was steady around 148. In the unlisted department, Tram. Power was fractionally weaker at 38 1-2. There was a large block of new loan liquidated, which carried the price down to 97 3-8. The old loan closed at 98 1-4.

(By Bruneau & Dupuis)
New York, Jan. 20.—Today's market has followed the cautious example of recent sessions and trading has been in light volume. Prices, however, have continued to hold well. After the heavy liquidation caused by the unexpected peace talk, it was but reasonable to look for a fair recovery in the market when it became evident that the cause of the disturbance was not real and that peace was far away still.

The uncertainties that check any revival of speculative enthusiasm are the danger that events may develop which would draw this country into the war and the local situation in Washington with a renewed attempt to attack the stock exchange. Despite these last unfavorable factors, prices show a disposition to advance and it seems reasonable that some further improvement should occur.

Total Sales, stocks $79,800; Bonds $2,795,500.

GETTING EVEN.

A preacher's in th' dinin' room
An' catin' chicken pie;
But here I'm sittin' in th' hall
An' feelin' fit to die.

I'll have to wait my turn, ma said,
An' pa smiled down at me,
An' tears came in my eyes so thick
That I could hardly see.

It's tough to be shut out like this
An' smell good things to eat,
An' never get a single bite
Because there ain't no seat.

But when that preacher's stuffed himself,
An' all th' rest is through,
An' ma says, "You kin come in now,"
Here's what I'm goin' to do.

I'm goin' to 'tend I'm dreadful sick
An' got an awful pain
Because I had to wait so long,
Then ma, an' pa an' Jane

Bessie Barriscale and Chas. Ray in "Plain Jane," a Real Triumph.

For one of the most remarkable delineations of a character part ever credited to a screen performer—see Bessie Barriscale in "Plain Jane."
This Triangle-Kay Bee picture, whose story is from the pen of C. Gardner Sullivan, is a simple, homely tale of a romance between a poor young student, in a small college town, and a much poorer "slavey" in the wretched boarding house, where his circumstances compel him to make his home.

Co-starred with Miss Barriscale is Charley Ray, whose delineation of the much too sober-minded young man, is one of the best things he has done.

"Jane, the Orphan," is the name by which the leading character in the play is known. She has experienced nothing but drudgery and privation. She has never had any pretty clothes, nor sufficient time from her work to "fix herself up" and thus discover that she is really a very good-looking girl.

Then Mr. John Adams (Chas. Ray) comes to board at this same house and Jane wants John and also a rich professor's daughter angles for him with persistence and craft—Don't miss this picture—the sweetest love story ever told on a screen.

ADVANCE SALE FOR LEO ORSTEIN AND SYMPHONY SOCIETY OPENS TODAY.

This Great Musical Event Takes Place Wednesday Evening at the Auditorium.

Amid the chatter which has lately been heard in the musical world of "futurist" composers and "cubist" music, it will be of special interest for Quebecers to be given the opportunity to hear Leo Orstein on Wednesday evening as he is one of the most famous exponents of this ultra-modern art. Of course it is well known that Orstein has made not only a sensation but a most agreeable impression wherever he has appeared and his success has been such as to necessitate a return engagement in cities in which he was booked last season. Montreal, for instance, has given four recitals to this wonderful Russian pianist, which feat has never been duplicated by any artist, however famous he might have been. This fact is better than any thing a press agent might say of Orstein and his appearance here on Wednesday with Symphony Orchestra must be looked forward to as an event of extraordinary importance. Every musician and music lover must be at the Auditorium to hear him as they certainly have in store one of the finest treats of the season.

The advance sale for this concert opens this morning at ten o'clock at the Auditorium box office. Prices 25c to $1.50, which popular scale should mean a packed house.

A Blood-Food Discovered That Entirely Overcomes Anemic Weakness

CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED REPORTS ESTABLISH TRULY WONDERFUL RESULTS.

Heretofore it has often been a hope less task for a thin-blooded person to gain either strength or weight. Neither food or medicine in many instances had beneficial effect.

What is practically a perfect blood-food, containing such elements as Iron, has at last been produced, and when taken after meals will put new life and vigor into people that have despaired of ever being strong again.

This truly wonder-working treatment consists of taking two small chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets at the close of every meal.

This wonderful blood-food supplies nourishment, vim, energy— sends a stream of vigorous, strength-making blood to every nook and corner of the body, makes every muscle and fibre sing with new-found life and health.

That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferrozone drives it away. Sleepless nights are turned into periods of rest, and you pick up fast. Think it over—Ferrozone is a wonderful tonic, in fact, it is more than a tonic, because it establishes health that lasts. Thousands use it and thereby cleanse and restore the entire system to a perfect condition. You'll feel the uplifting power of Ferrozone in a week—it's bound to help you if you only give it a chance. Sold by all dealers, 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50; be sure of the name Ferrozone. Forwarded by mail to any address if price is remitted to The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

U. S. GREEKS CALL ON WILSON

Boston, Jan. 21.—A mass meeting of Greeks today adopted resolutions calling upon President Wilson to recognize the provisional government of Greece now seated at Saloniki. George Cafandaros appeared as official representative of the provisional Greek government.

LEGARE'S EXHIBIT THE FEATURE

QUEBEC FIRM'S SPLENDID EXPOSE AT MONTREAL MOTOR SHOW.

Undoubtedly the exhibit of the Legare Automobile Ltd., a branch of P. T. Legare's, Quebec, is the real feature of the Montreal Automobile Show which was opened auspiciously in Almy's spacious departmental store on Saturday.

In the centre of the Legare exhibit is the famous $25,000 gold chassis of the Studebaker Automobile Company which is exploited by the Legare people. This chassis has been on exhibit at the New York Show, and was brought to Montreal in a special express car. It travels in the charge of special detectives, who keep watch over the valuable chassis, taking turns to guard same day and night. The exhibit is complete, with an elaborate dais surrounded by massive solid brass frames, and upholstered plush curtains. After the show the chassis will be re-packed and sent on to the United States show circuit.

This chassis was the sensation of the New York Show when it was first placed upon exhibition, and speedily became the talk of the town, as it will be after visitors to the Montreal Show, have sounded its praises to their friends. It is famous all over the United States, and has excited more interest than any other motor feature ever placed before the public. It was designed and manufactured by the Studebaker Company to typify and emphasize the fact that their product is unexcelled for sterling worth and perfect finish.

The Legare concern is one of the most "go-ahead" companies in Canada and certainly a credit to and an advertisement for the city of Quebec.

Mr. J. O. Lindeau, the general manager in Montreal, and Mr. Leo Legare are enthusiastic over prospects.

At the present show the Legare automobile company has the largest space, exhibiting a dozen cars and a Federal truck. They handle standard makes ranging in price from $695 to about $7,500. At their stand they show several big features, the first is of course, the gold chassis, built by the Studebaker company and another is the eight cylinder Chevrolet, a new model this year, which sells at $1,750.

The offices on Amherst street, Montreal, have been completely remodelled and all is in readiness to handle the coming big season's business. The service station of the company is now situated on Ontario street, where the Lautier Garage was located.

GROWING OLD.

The days grow shorter, the nights grow longer.
The headstones thicken along the way.
And life grows sadder, but love grows stronger.
For those who walk with us by day, The tear comes quicker, the laugh comes slower.
The courage is lesser to do and dare;
And the tide of joy in the heart falls lower.
And seldom covers the reefs of care.
But all true things in the world seem truer.
And the better things of earth seem best.
And friends are dearer, as friends are fewer,
And love is all as our sun dips west.
Then let us clasp hands as we walk together,
And let us speak softly in low, sweet tones,
For no man knows on the morrow whether
We two pass on, but one alone.

GERMAN REPRISALS.

London, Jan. 21.—A Reuter despatch from Berlin via Amsterdam, dated Jan. 16 and delayed, says that the German government announces its intention to make reprisals against France in the matter of prisoners. It is explained that France, having failed to reply within the specified time to Germany's demand for the removal of German prisoners from the fire zone in the area of French operations, Germany will now enforce her threatened counter measures by placing French prisoners in the German fire zone until France fulfils the German demand.
