Hit-And-Run Victim Said Some Better

Westmount police are hot on the trail of the hit-and-run driver who critically injured Berry Shine, 20, 2045 Grey avenue, a little after 6 p.m. Monday. The abandoned car was found near Ottawa, and Chief R. A. Byford has identified the suspect. His name will be released after the arrest.

Miss Shine's condition was announced as "slightly improved" yesterday by officials at the Montreal Neurological Hospital. She is still in a critical condition with head injuries.

She was struck by a westbound car bearing license number 244-583 after alighting from a streetcar at the corners of Metcalfe and Sherbrooke streets. A private citizen took her to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital and she was transferred to the Neurological Institute.

Ontario Provincial Police located the accident car, which didn't stop at all, just west of Ottawa Tuesday night. Chief Byford and Det.-Sgt. Belec spent Wednesday at the capital conferring with police, and appear confident of an imminent arrest.

R. R. Dick Named

R. R. Dick, former Editor of The Examiner, was elected president of the Old West End Community Garden Club by acclamation at the annual general meeting earlier this week.

Other officers elected were G. Herder, vice-president; D. Rivest, secretary; I. Boyce, treasurer, and J. Roe, executive committee member.

Woman Injured; Poor Box Robbed

Eliza Watkins, 54, 3025 Sherbrooke street west, suffered superficial abrasions when she was knocked down by a westbound streetcar earlier in the week, Westmount police reported.

The accident occurred at the corners of Victoria and Sherbrooke streets, as she stepped off the pedestrian island. Car 100 took her to Western Hospital.

Police also reported the arrest of John Johnson, 49, New Brunswick, on a charge of theft at noon Monday. Const. D. Stone caught the man cringing in a lane after answering a call that the poor-box in Ascension Church, Clark and Sherbrooke, had been tempered with.

He pleaded guilty in Westmount Municipal Court, and was remanded for sentence today by Municipal Judge A. E. Laverty.

BLOOMS GALORE: DIANE CURRIE and ELEANOR BOWLES obligingly pose amid the thousands of blooms at the Westmount greenhouses of the city parks department, to illustrate the beauty and scope of the annual autumn flower show which opens today. The flowers are chrysanthemums and the greenhouse will be open to the public 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sundays as long as the blooms last. The show will be opened at 5 this afternoon by the mayor, city councillors and representatives of civic groups, followed by a reception in the Oak Room of toria Hall.

LOCAL LAD NAMED

Alden G. Lank, 168 Edgehill Rd., was one of 12 new reporters recently appointed to the staff of The Campus, undergraduate weekly paper at Middlebury College. A junior at the school, he was chosen with the others on the basis of an examination after a five week trial period.

40 Current Events Club Members Visit New York's United Nations

For the third consecutive year, 40 members of the Westmount High School Current Events Club left for a visit to the United Nations in New York. Accompanied by adviser J. K. Snyder and Miss I. King, the 40 students are all in grade 11.

Departure time was 7:30 a.m. Thursday, and the group arrived in New York late in the afternoon. Program called for them to check into the YM and YWCAs, then see Times Square and Broadway at night.

Friday morning they visited the UN Assembly, and ate lunch in the UN delegates dining room, where they were addressed by members of the Canadian delegation. The afternoon calls for a tour of the UN buildings and possibly attendance at a committee meeting. In the evening most of the group have tickets for popular shows.

Tomorrow morning there will be a tour of New York by bus, and the afternoon has a choice — students may either visit the Metropolitan Museum of Art or go shopping. In the evening they will be guests of ABC at a television broadcast, and the return trip will begin Sunday morning.

Station CJAD will carry the news of their arrival Sunday at the border, and the group expects to reach Montreal at 9 p.m.

Adviser Snyder, who has reached a high peak of success with his Westmount club, aided another school Wednesday to get a similar project underway. The High School of Montreal, desirous of forming a Current Events Club, sent three representatives to the man they figured knew most

Harold S. Brendel Says World To End

"I SEE THE END" is the subject of the Bible prophecy lecture to be given by Harold J. Brendel, pastor-evangelist of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Westmount. This Bible lecture will be illustrated with beautiful colored pictures, which the speaker says will prove authentically from the writings of the various historians and commentators, that the world is facing the worst crisis it has ever faced in its history. Mr. Brendel will show conclusively, he says, that the world cannot last much longer.

Associated with Mr. Brendel are his wife and children, ten and eleven years of age, Dian and Dona, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Munroe. Dian is the evangelistic organist, and with her sister Dona sings Gospel songs. Mrs. Munroe is at the piano and Mr. Munroe leads the music.

The meeting will begin promptly at 7.30 p.m. in the Seventh day Adventist Church, 4250 Western Ave. Doors will open at 6.30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Prayer Can Give Positive Results

Many sincere Christian people are not receiving the help they deserve today because they do not know how to make use of scientific prayer, according to Dr. Archibald Carey, C. S. B., of Detroit, who gave a Christian Science lecture last (Tuesday, Nov 3) evening in Montreal High School Auditorium Dr. Carey declared that Christian Science shows men and women how to use prayer so as to obtain positive, assured results. "I wish there were time to tell you of even a few of the remarkable healings that are constantly taking place as a result of the scientific prayer of Christian Science," the lecturer said. "Sickness is healed, desperate business problems are solved, happy and successful relationships with others are established, through the power of God in scientific prayer." He went on to describe certain healings that had come to his personal attention.

Albert Rakovsky Will Speak Here

"Through Europe to the Persian Gardens" will be the title of an illustrated talk, arranged under the auspices of the Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of Westmount, Wednesday, at 8.15 p.m. at the Westmount Y.M.C.A., 4585 Sherbrooke St. W. to which the public is cordially invited.

currant buns, eye lotion and ale

If your lease has some strange clauses, consider two of London's many historic "pubs".

At the Widow's Son near Bromley-by-Bow Station, a bundle of dry currant buns hangs from the ceiling. It's in the lease.

Once a widow, whose son was drowned, would set the table every Good Friday and await his return. She'd put a hot-cross bun ready for him, too. When her cottage was eventually torn down to make way for a tavern, the landlord had to agree to hang a bun each year from the bar-parlor roof. Picturesque but inedible.

Then there's the Green Man in Edgware Road. Ask, not for ale but for eye lotion, and without batting an eye, the barmaid will take down a bottle from a shelf and measure out an ounce or two.

Centuries ago, a spring on the site was thought to have healing properties. When a pub was built over it around 1780, local people insisted the landlord give to anyone who asked for it a glass of "healing water". It's still in the lease.

Ask most Canadian tavern landlords for eye lotion or stale currant buns and you'll get a blank stare. But say "Make Mine Molson's", and they'll beam with understanding and appreciation. That's because in 167 years those words have become as traditional in Canada as the buns and lotion of the Widow's Son and the Green Man. It's pleasant to find out why.

Hallowe'en Party Proved Gay Event

Last Saturday night, eighty-three kiddies made their way into the gym at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. There for two hours, they shivered and shook their way through a haunted house, heard predictions for their future, and wore themselves out trying to bite into dangling apples. Prizes for costumes were awarded to the following: Pauline Daly for the best, Patricia Moncrief for the prettiest, Dorothy Graul for the funniest, and Forest McFeat for the most original.

Richard Bourne won the prize when he made the closest guess as to how many beans were in a jar. The children were taken on a "Tion hunt and then sat in suspense as they watched the shadow show. In this, two witches prepared their "brew", adding everything from frogs to owls.

WHO HAVE WE HERE?: Over 400 children took part in the Unity Boys annual Hallowe'en party held Friday at the club. Juniors and intermediates were in force from 7-9 p.m., while the teenagers held a dance from 9-midnight. 200 attended Saturday afternoon at a party organized by Boys work supervisor Russell Shriner. He was assisted by Kenneth Knowles, Hugh Laws, Barbara Wallace, David Gray, Patricia Nellson, Winifred MacDonald, Terry Gray and Beverly Barton.

City Hall Highlights

Westmount City Hall will be closed Wednesday, Nov. 11 to celebrate Memorial Day.

The annual chrysanthemum show of the City of Westmount will open to the public at 8 o'clock on Friday night, but the show will be officially opened at 5 o'clock in Victoria Hall.

Thereafter the conservatories will be open from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. on weekdays, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Traffic lights formerly at the curbs of Atwater and Dorchester will be moved farther back this week due to the great amount of accidents that have happened there.

Provision has been made for any organization or individual to place a wreath on the monument during the coming Memorial Day ceremonies. It is stressed that this ceremony was initiated by the city, and is a civil commemorative service.

Alderman J. A. de Lalanne has been appointed pro-mayor for the months of November, December and January.

The Westmount City Council has under consideration the budget for 1954, and it is expected to be presented in by-law form at the Nov. 9 meeting.

Hobby Show April 21-24

Friday the second meeting of the Westmount Boys' and Girls Hobby Show executive was held in the Westmount "Y". At this meeting it was decided that again this year the Hobby Show would be held during the latter part of the Easter holiday April 21-24.

Education In Canada

New Survey Shows Progressivism Not Too Efficient

Canadian taxpayers, putting up $500,000,000 a year for education, will get little comfort from the findings of Dr. Hilda Neatby, Professor of History at University of Saskatchewan and the only woman member of Massey Commission.

In her newly published study of Canada's educational system, entitled "So little for the Mind," Dr. Neatby charges that it is producing so-called intellectual leaders who "literally cannot read, write or think"; that it is undermining respect for law and authority; and dulling discrimination between right and wrong.

The reason for this, says Dr. Neatby, is that most of Canada's public schools, high schools and teachers' training colleges have been taken over by "professional progressivists," who seem agreed that Canadian education needs nothing but more money to hire more experts and build more "plants" in which to "process" the young minds committed to them.

A striking instance of "progressivism" cited by Dr. Neatby is the B.C. curriculum, which sets out the English literature course of study in exactly eight lines, as against 43 lines for the course of sex instruction.

The same thing seems to be happening in the U.S. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt recently told a Toronto audience that young Americans "go into all parts of the world largely ignorant of anything but their own country"; that they are sent to serve as ambassadors of democracy "without having the faintest idea of what democracy means." Her judgment: "I think the United States needs to rethink its educational program completely". — News Review.

All Saints

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
 (Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

Even if we do not observe a Church Year, we are made aware, even against our will, of an evening called Hallowe'en; that is, Holy Evening, the evening before All Saints' Day. And All Saints' Day brings to our mind many things and innumerable persons.

Let us think of the persons first: Saints in the New Testament were not people who lived in stained glass windows; nor were they people who lived blameless lives. Rather, they were the rank and file of the Christian Church, not only Peter and Paul, but equally Prisca and Aquila, about whom we know little, and Tryphena and Tryphosa, of whom we know nothing but their names. And then there were thousands of others in that first generation of whom we do not even know the names. They were saints because they had deliberately turned their backs on the world, had declared their faith in Christ, and their determination to serve and follow Him.

We are hardly aware at this distance how hard a time they had in breaking away from old associations and old habits. We, with sixty or seventy generations of Christianity behind us, have a hard enough time. They, surrounded by this old paganism and legalism had a very much harder time. It is no wonder they fell into sin over and over again, as we are told they did. But in spite of their transgressions, their stepping off the way of pilgrimage on this side and that, they still picked themselves up and moved on. Like our Lord they set their faces steadfastly to go to Jerusalem. And they passed out of the Church Militant into the Church Expectant, and joined that "Cloud of Witnesses" by whom even we in our day are compassed about.

That first generation left behind it a rapidly growing number who witnessed in their own day in the face of a hostile government and a hostile world, a world that was not worthy of them. They in turn were followed by generations that spilled over the edges of the world and brought light and the understanding of God into lands that the Roman legions had not penetrated.

They were courageous generations, but they were far from perfect, not even saintly in the ordinary sense of the word. That is, there was no stained glass about them. But they set their faces in their day to go to Jerusalem like their Master; and few of them turned back. They joined the cloud of witnesses.

And down the centuries they have been followed by other generations, always with the same mind, in some degree at least, the mind that was in Christ Jesus, a mind of service and humility—to serve God and their fellows. Those are the saints, simple, ordinary men like ourselves. Those are the innumerable company whom we celebrate on the Festival of All the Saints.

Christian Science

God's love for man as His spiritual expression will be the keynote at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" includes the following passages from the Bible:

"So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (Genesis 1:27,31).

This explanatory passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Entirely separate from the belief and dream of material living, is the Life divine, revealing spiritual understanding and the consciousness of man's dominion over the whole earth."

The Golden Text is from Romans: "As by the offense of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life."

In closing, Miss Vail stressed that camping does more for a child in a short time than any other pastime, with good supervision, fine leadership and opportunities to help and teach him how to be independent.

Following this, two Boy Scouts who went to the Coronation gave brief but colourful accounts of their trip. Scout Bill MacDonald, Vickers, spoke on the journey over and the Coronation scenes and Scout Donald Ferrier, Westmount, continued the descriptions and re-

'Bossy' the Cow is Feature Of Jack, Beanstalk

For the young, and young in heart, the Children's Theatre starslets, under the direction of Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, has chosen as its first production of the season, the eternally popular "JACK & THE BEANSTALK." As recurrently young as the springtime, sparkling with childlike fun, and realistic in its presentation, Jack and the Beanstalk will provide an afternoon of sheer delight for the young folk, and parents too.

The picturesque costuming and true fairy-tale settings lend a piquant charm to this appealing little play. The make-believe quality of the original story is preserved through the presence of Bossy, the amusing bovine, the centre of the plot, the enchanted harp and the malicious giant. From the moment Jack ascends the magic beanstalk until his hurried descent when fleeing from the giant, there is excitement and thrills.

On the beanstalk Jack meets the Man in the Moon and Frihol the Magic-maker who originally gave Jack the beans.

The role of Jack is played by Joseph Oliver at the first performance, and Eleanor Kalmasch, who will be remembered for her delightful performance last season in Red Riding Hood, who will play the part of Jack in the second show. Walter Wakefield will be seen as the Giant, with Elaine Tomaschuk as his wife. Michael Oliver plays the little magic man. The cast also includes Gissa Israel, Ann Craig, Betty Cracower, Sydney Priddle, Martin Petlock, Keith Ballantyne, Rosalind Warhaft, Wilma Goldstein, Mary MacDonald, Flora Zukerman, Elizabeth Goldner, Alan Jack, Marilyn Rodin, Arlene Sailor, Felicia Bonaparte, and Joanne Brown. Secure your tickets now at Willis and Co. and have an afternoon of delightful entertainment.

Special music by Eileen Clifford, colorful costumes, and a play that will thrill the hearts of young Montrealers when the curtain rises at Victoria Hall Saturday afternoon November 14th.

MOO . . . MOO . . . MOO: This contented cow, mooing to the Widow Bess and her son Jack, is a star of the coming performances of Jack and The Beanstalk, presented by the Children's Theatre. Here Joseph Oliver is Jack and Gissa Israel the widowed mother.

Barbarians Meet Beavers In Lone Rugger Action

Only one rugger tilt is on tap for the weekend, as plans for a game between Scottish and Massachusetts Institute of Technology fell through. Barbarians meet Ottawa Bytown Beavers at 2.30 p.m. at Westmount Park. Ottawa is the only team this year to have beaten the Westmount club.

Scottish maintained their unbeaten record and Barbarians preserved their win streak Saturday at Westmount Park, as the two teams battled to a six-all deadlock. It was a hard-fought match all the way, and the two clubs fought more like female rivals than sister squads.

Scoring In Second
All the scoring came in the second half. Scottish started the game down a man, but returned to full strength at half time. Bob Watt opened the scoring for the Scots when he got a penalty goal from 35 yards out.

Alec Rudnick replied for the Barbarians in a similar manner from the same distance to tie the game up again moments later. They went ahead 6-3 after scoring an unconverted try, but the Scots pulled up even again in the last 10 minutes when Tom Park at left wing three-quarter back, took the ball down the left touch line, cut in, and scored a try. Bob Watt missed the convert to leave the game all tied up.

Wing Forward Good
It was a great battle between two of Canada's finest, reminiscent of some of the "local derbys" played in England. Play was hard and fast, with the wing forwards predominating.

HOCKEY

The first hockey meeting of the season was held on Thursday, Oct. 29, at the W.A.G. This meeting proved to be very encouraging as there were 5 team representatives there to enter the leagues.

A Mosquito League will be introduced in Westmount this season. This League is for boys under 10 years of age as at Aug. 1, 1953, and will probably be scheduled for Saturday mornings.

The Leagues which will operate in Westmount this season are as follows:-

about that sort of thing. At interview's end, Snyder appeared to have given away all the secrets of how he has kept his group together so well, advised his visitors to get a teacher who would stay interested in the club and help it. Whereupon he almost got an offer to transfer to Montreal High so that he could take on the job there.

Other comments: keep the program on current events, have panel discussions, use executive from lower years so that higher level officers would usually have some knowledge of the club from year to year.

The next meeting will be held at WAG on Thursday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m. The following people are invited to attend: 1. All Team Representatives; 2. Volunteer Coaches and Referees; 3. Anyone who is interested in helping out in any way.

by MARTY GOODMAN

The Vic Obeck Story

Any efforts now to clear up the situation at McGill University concerning Vic Obeck, head coach of the Redmen and Director of Athletics, would be quite superfluous were it not for the great amount of public interest shown in the issue. His resignation after seven years of frustration will be a loss. However, all the attendant furor is difficult to understand.

It is a situation which should properly have not come to light until the end of the current football season; the fact that it emerged prematurely cannot be helped, but the willingness of certain writers to print everything they hear, confidentially spoken or not, does not endear them to the McGill Athletics Office.

Obeck has been in the public eye ever since he made a statement regarding the chances of this year's McGill football team. His words, plainly spoken, were "We're going to win this year." No more, no less. He emphasized the fact that he had no secret information, no secret weapon, and some Montreal football writers accepted it as such. It was given wide publicity, along with the reason — "It's just a feeling."

Took Result in Stride

Other sports observers, however, did not listen too closely to Obeck. They developed their own ideas on the subject, bringing in new players, another Loan Fund, and various other "quotes straight from Obeck."

Later, when both Western and Toronto proved they were still superior to McGill on the gridiron, the McGill mentor took the results in stride. He himself commented on his Sunday radio program on his statement; made no bones about the fact that it was just a hunch that had misfired. But many writers again had their own views on the subject — they said he was now keeping too quiet by comparison.

Obeck's first statement, not originally for publication, was that he was tired of seven years of frustration. Rumors have been rampant that he was leaving McGill, quitting his post to take up a radio and TV contract. Obeck received numerous calls asking him to clarify his position.

After the Toronto game, he spoke confidentially, the way a coach often does after any game. Toronto writers did not choose to respect this confidence and returned to the Queen City blaring forth to their followers everything and anything they had heard, along with some things they thought they had heard.

Obeck, questioned by the Montreal sporting fraternity, did not deny any statements. While he had not sought the publicity much of it was akin to his own views. He simply clarified his position, (one easily understood) and no alibi for defeats, but an honest, actual account.

Now Vic will hold his fire until after the close of the current football season Nov. 14 at London. What he will say then about his coaching job can be conjectured; amplification of his statements about the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union, and the fans are eagerly awaiting the blowoff.

Completely Blamed CIAU Moquils

Obeck has stated that he puts the onus of blame for the present situation in senior college circles on the shoulders of the CIAU. He in no way blamed the coaches or individual universities, but sympathized with them as victims. Despite this, coaches Masterson and Tindall of Toronto and Queen's took it upon themselves to defend their schools, though Obeck had not singled them out as offenders. "If the cap fits, wear it."

He did not say that he was against true athletic scholarships or a well-run loan fund; in fact, he favors them. But when McGill University decided to eliminate these ideas, Obeck accepted the philosophy and tried to keep to it. This was his downfall. Technically, the other universities may be keeping the principles of the CIAU. If an athlete comes to the school and his expenses are being paid by a graduate, so that he may benefit by a college education, isn't that his own business? When he signs an eligibility form in front of a witness, is he perjuring himself in saying that he receives no remuneration whatsoever for playing football? He is only getting expenses for going to college, and there are a great many students who may be included in this category.

This is not, however, the spirit of the regulations to which Obeck has tried to stick during his tenure at McGill. Many times he has been outspoken in his criticism of the CIAU and its principles, but not once has he broken the Tentative schedules call for Westmount High School to shoot the works this week in their bid for the senior B title. If Ron Sharp's crew can take their two remaining league games against Montreal West and Mount Royal, chances are they'll meet LCC for the loop crown Wednesday in a sudden death playoff.

Seniors Bid for B Title Bantams, Juniors Fade

The game with Mount Royal, after being definitely on for last Monday, was shifted again the morning of the tilt, due to Mount Royal having to play Tuesday. They lost 12-0 to LCC to leave Westmount with the lone chance of stopping last year's champs. They meet Mount Royal this Monday, definitely, at Mount Royal.

No Rest For Team

Barring a loss in either game, the seniors will play three games in seven days, a lot of football for Sharp's undermanned crew.

Both the juniors and bantams were eliminated from the races earlier in the week. Loyola beat West Hill 5-1 to assure themselves of the junior title, but Ross Firth's crew lost to McGee 12-6 Tuesday to make doubly sure.

Marty Raff hit Lance Thomson for both the touchdown and convert to account for the locals' lone points. A charge of buck fever in the first half lost the game as they started to untrack themselves too late in the game. Hamilton, Raff, Thomson and MacFarlane were best in a losing cause. Bill Betts was still out, and his absence caused a realignment of offensive positions.

Mount Royal Loses

The bantams saw their hopes ended when McGee beat Mount Royal 23-5 to win the title. Final league play and standings will appear next week.

Hockey and basketball now enter the high school scene, and Ross Firth's pucksters start practices Monday at the Forum from 5-6 p.m. Only a stick, gauntlets and skates are required.

Brown Saves Game For Avenue Stars

Bob Brown who has reserved rights to the title as the league's smallest player was the big man Saturday as the Avenue Stars and league leading N.D.G. Regents played to a 1-1 tie. Brown saved the game with less than three minutes to play when he flipped Jim McCarthy's rebound over goalie Cliff Farnsworth.

Alec Stevenson put the Regents in front midway through the first period on a play with Fisher. Doug Brambell stopped the hard shot by Stevenson but the puck hopped over his pads and trickled into the cage. The Stars held a slight edge in play but with their inaccurate shooting it looked as though Farnsworth was going to hang the collar on them.

The Westmounters showed the worst passing attack of the season and at times it was only by their sweaters that you were able to tell what team they were playing for. Coach Don Tinning issued a warning that not one man is definitely assured of his position. In a post game verbal blast the usually quiet mentor promised changes in the lineup unless the squad produces.

Tomorrow afternoon Avenue meet the Royal Pharmacy crew, and the last outing between these teams ended in a 1-1 deadlock.

rules it was his responsibility to keep, as far as is known.

There will now be bandied about the thought that McGill may quit senior football competition. The argument will be proposed that because McGill cannot keep up to strength, it is best to withdraw. We have never been proponents of the "Lose with a smile" maxim, but there would seem to be no disgrace in losing because regulations are followed. Trouble comes when a school tries to sit on both sides of the fence at once, fail to win.

It would be better to remain in the senior league, hoping for the day when the CIAU stiffens its back one way or the other. Until that time comes, all coaches in the Ontario-Quebec Conference will be faced with the same problem. Their hands are not tied by the Union; if they follow the rules imposed they tie their own hands.

It is about time that some of the criticism directed at Obeck was tempered by an understanding either of the regulations under which he found himself operating. Five will get you ten Mr. Obeck comes out of it all with the last laugh!
