Fifty-Fourth Year

World News In Brief

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—The United States Supreme Court has cleared the way for a final government effort to throw 21 more men and women into prison on contempt of Congress charges.

All 21 cases grew out of communist investigations by the House of Representatives committee on un-American activities.

By a vote of 6 to 2 the high tribunal yesterday refused for the second time to grant hearings to film writers John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo. Their contempt convictions in U. S. district court here were for refusing to tell the House committee whether they are communists.

At the same time the court again rejected an appeal by Dr. Edward K. Barker and 10 other leaders of the joint anti-fascist refugee committee.

Teheran, Iran, May 30.—(AP)—Thirty thousand mud houses and shops collapsed during a flood in Meshed, East Iran, yesterday, according to reports reaching here. No casualties were reported.

Official reports said following 80 hours of heavy rain flood waters eight inches deep entered the city, which has a population of 170,000.

Fifteen prisoners escaped from the city prison during the flood.

Winnipeg, May 30.—(AP)—Manitoba flood relief fund officials announced last night that collections of $13,900 yesterday swelled the fund to $228,700. The objective is $100,000. They also announced that the province of Quebec has formed a provincial unit of the fund.

Montreal, May 30.—(AP)—Internal problems ranked high on the program today as nearly 40 nations were called into session for the fourth annual assembly of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO).

Behind the pomp of a formal world conference of government representatives, delegates were prepared for debate on whether to maintain ICAO headquarters in Montreal and realignment of the ICAO council, the 21-nation body which sits permanently in Paris.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent arranged to attend the opening ceremonies, launching a two-day burst of oratory by delegation chiefs.

London, May 30.—(Reuters)—A Russian expedition is said to be preparing to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest mountain, the Daily Telegraph reported today from Kalimpong, near Darjeeling, India.

Brussels, May 30.—(Reuters)—Ninety thousand Belgian textile workers went on strike today for higher wages.

Workers voted to walk out after week-end talks between union leaders and Premier Gaston Eyskens failed.

Stiffer Penalties Urged As Drunken Driving Curb

Ottawa, May 30.—(AP)—Justice Minister Garson indicated in the Commons yesterday that the federal government wants the provinces reached no final agreement on how the criminal code should be amended to curb drunken driving.

Replied to opposition requests for heavier penalties, Mr. Garson said the federal government and the provinces have had the matter "under the most careful consideration" for many months.

He spoke during study of a bill making a series of minor amendments to the code and said he would not be in order to deal with the drunken driving question.

"When the time comes, I am quite prepared to debate this very issue for just as long as any member of the opposition wishes to debate it," he said. He would give reasons why amendments were not being introduced at the time.

The debate on drunken driving was started by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre), who said that 600 or more persons are killed each year on Canadian highways by drunken drivers killed five times as many persons as did murderers.

He urged that at least the "breath test" be inaugurated by Canada to facilitate the conviction of the guilty.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said he hoped that "serious consideration will be given to an amendment to the criminal code that will make the slaughter on a scale that is comparable with war casualties such a crime that it could really be dealt with."

The day brought these other developments:

Empire Press Delegation Leaves U.K.

Liverpool, May 30.—(AP)—An imposing delegation of the Commonwealth's topflight newspaper men, many accompanied by their wives, sailed for Canada last night on the liner Empress of Scotland. They were bound for the seventh Imperial Press conference which opens at Ottawa in mid-June.

Altogether 64 delegates, representing far-flung units of the Commonwealth, are converging on the Dominion where the first overseas meeting of the Imperial conference was held in 1920.

The contingent of 52 which sailed last night included representatives of all groups of the United Kingdom's press, news agencies and periodical publications. They will be joined by the leader of the United Kingdom delegation, Col. J. J. Astor, principal proprietor of the London Times and president of the Empire Press Union. He already is in Canada to receive an honorary degree from McGill University of Montreal.

Also in the party are Sir Keith Murdoch and W. H. Flather, respective heads of the delegations from Australia and South Africa. India is represented by six delegates, while the others come from New Zealand, Singapore and Gibraltar.

The Hon. Mabel Strickland, proprietor of The Times of Malta, is the lone woman delegate. Accompanying the party are Campbell Moodie, information officer of the Canadian government in London, and Brig. R. S. Johnson of the Colonial office.

Their number will be increased by delegations from the West Indies, the Bahamas, Bermuda and others who are flying via Vancouver from Australia, New Zealand and the Far East.

Several prominent publishers from the United States will be invited to attend the conference. After the opening ceremonies conference delegates will tackle a heavy agenda touching on Commonwealth and world problems, with "freedom of the press" the principal theme of the discussion.

Commenting on this subject the Empire Press Union annual report said:

"It may be that from these joint sessions there will emerge an agreed declaration on principles of press freedom by the English-language press of the world that may prove to be a new and strong defence for what now is the distinctive mark of any tolerable social system—liberty of expression limited only by existing law."

The veteran Sir Harry Brittain, founder and honorary life member of the Empire Press Union, expressed confidence that the deliberations of the conference would be as memorable and useful as any of its predecessors.

reporting on recent visits to fire-scarred Rimouski and Cabano, Que., said an estimated 3,000 persons were left homeless as a result of the fires. Federal aid will be extended when extent of the damages has been determined.

2. Members who now sit twice a day, adopted a government motion calling for morning sittings to begin Thursday. By a vote of 104 to 30, they defeated a C.C.F. motion that would have delayed the start of the morning sittings until June 8.

3. In another division, members voted 93 to 33 against a Progressive Conservative motion for production of depositions and evidence taken before the income tax appeal board between an appellant identified as "Mr. C." and the revenue minister. The case involved an unidentified judge who appealed against assessment of income tax on $15,000 paid him as a royal commissioner.

4. Three international conventions were ratified and third and final reading was given to bills amending the customs act, the tariff board act and the national parks act.

In the criminal-code debate, Mr. Diefenbaker also suggested abolition of provisions under which a person who could not pay a fine was sent to jail. For those who were poor, this meant that a fine was a "passport to prison." The time had come for Canada to do away with that provision. As an alternative, he proposed that a system of "instalment" payment of fines be established.

One of the amendments repealed a section which prohibited

Military Precision Keynotes Windup Of Communist-Inspired Program Of Ideological Indoctrination.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Berlin, May 30.—(AP)—Weary young Germans marched home today by the hundreds of thousands from the Russian sector's communist rally, leaving Berlin to worry about its next crisis in the cold war.

The dispersal of 500,000 communist-controlled "free German youth" got under way with the same military precision that they had shown in parading last Sunday up the rainswept Unter Den Linden amid red banners and cheers for Stalin.

The six-day program of ideological indoctrination—almost like mass hypnosis—produced its final slogan last night when east Germany's communist premier, Otto Grotewohl, shouted to torchlight processions in mid-city:

"Our youth will one day tear down all zonal barriers and restore the unity of Germany."

But the top slogan of all, repeated time and again by youthful German lips, was: "We will fight alongside the Soviet Union."

"For peace," they added. Both sides in this east-west propaganda outpost claimed a victory last Sunday. Then the 500,000 paraded but the previously threatened invasion of allied-occupied west Berlin failed to materialize.

The official Soviet organ, Tagesschau Rundschau, claimed that Germany's younger generation had been decisively won over to the "international peace movement" sponsored by the Soviet Union, and had been alienated from the "western imperialist war-mongers."

The anti-communist Daily Telegraph said "Berlin showed anew its determination to defend its freedom against all threats."

U. S. high commissioner John J. McCloy called the communist rally a "serious affair—serious in that it showed what the police state can do."

"The communist threat can be met and overcome only by wise and liberal leadership and by united action in all fields," he emphasized.

Second-guessers among allied officials wondered privately whether the west had furnished a great chaser to disillusion many communist youths about Soviet political myths.

Arrayed to repel a violent invasion which never came, the western authorities were unable to shift their tactics quickly to open up the allied sectors so that large groups of the curious unarmed eastern youths could see the true situation in west Berlin.

A few hundred of the blue-shirted youngsters actually wandered into west Berlin and were showered with gifts by their anti-communist countrymen.

The rest stared across the dividing city boundary at the west Berlin police and allied troops, not daring to come over. East sector police threatened arrest if they strayed from the Soviet sector.

Those who surreptitiously visited west Berlin said that communism was no more than skin deep among east Germany's youth despite continual political lecturing.

But they said they could not help but be impressed by the ceaseless barrage of Soviet press reports about misery, unemployment, racial injustice and warlike preparations in the western countries.

Pakistan Premier Visits Canada

Ottawa, May 30.—(AP)—All the ceremonial of a formal state welcome—a 19-gun salute, an honor guard, a full band and scores of government and diplomatic officials—will greet Liaquat Ali Khan, Prime Minister of Pakistan, on his arrival here today to begin a five-day visit in Canada.

The Prime Minister, accompanied by the Begum and a large retinue, will spend three days in Ottawa. They will be welcomed at Rockcliffe R.C.A.F. station by Prime Minister St. Laurent, Hon. Mohammed Ali, high commissioner for Pakistan in Canada, members of the Senate and Commons, Mayor Bourque and other civil officials.

After inspecting the guard of honor, the Prime Minister and the Begum will be escorted to Government House where they will be guests of Governor-General and Viscountess Alexander.

In the afternoon the Prime Minister and the Begum will attend a press conference. Tonight they will be guests of honor at a state dinner at Government House.

Wednesday afternoon the Pakistan Prime Minister will address members of the Senate and Commons in the House of Commons chamber.

US Arms Aid May Total 1 1/4 Billion

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—President Truman is expected to ask Congress this week for about $1,225,000,000 to finance United States arms shipments to 14 countries.

The state department and budget bureau have recommended this amount as necessary to bolster American policy in the cold war. The money would be for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

President Truman is scheduled to submit the request to Congress Thursday.

The sum is slightly less than the $1,238,600,000 appropriated by Congress last year for arms shipments to 13 friendly powers.

About $1,000,000,000 would go for American military supplies to nine Atlantic-pact countries—Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark and Portugal.

The remainder would be earmarked for arms aid to Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Portugal is being included for the first time among the Atlantic pact recipients. Officials said small amounts of naval and air force equipment would be sent to the Portuguese to help protect Portugal's strategic coast line and the important Azores air bases.

Officials who have been drawing up the program said the money will reflect the principle of "balanced collective forces" agreed upon by the 12 Atlantic-pact foreign ministers at their meeting in London early this month.

Most of the funds during the first year, they said, went for shipments of available weapons needed to meet urgent deficiencies in the various armed forces.

Despite the slow start, most of last year's funds have been spent or committed. Officials estimated that by June 30, when present legislation expires, that 90 per cent of the $1,238,600,000 will have been allocated.

France will come in for the biggest chunk of the second-year sum, as it did during the current 12 months. The amount each country gets has never been broken down but some informed officials said around $300,000,000.

Acheson Says U.S. Will Not Use Veto In Chinese Case

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson is reported to have assured Trygve Lie that the United States will not use the veto to keep communist China out of the United Nations.

This restatement of American policy appeared today to have been the principle firm development in the meetings held by Lie, the U.N. Secretary-General, with President Truman and Acheson.

Diplomats familiar with the substance of yesterday's "confidential chats" indicated they produced little in the way of definite understandings promising to ease cold war tensions. Lie, however, was left with a free hand to continue his efforts to find a way out of the U.N. deadlock.

The impression among diplomatic authorities following the meetings is that Lie, on his recent mission to Moscow and other capitals, was given no commitments by Prime Minister Stalin. On his return to Lake Success, N.Y., last week the Secretary-General expressed guarded optimism and told reporters he found the Soviet leaders still have faith in the U.N.

This feeling, American officials said, appeared based on a generally friendly attitude shown by Stalin

United States Holiday Toll Nears 400

Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Violent deaths edged close to the 400 mark today as the four-day United States Memorial Day week-end reached its peak. With today's holiday count yet to come, the accidental deaths were expected to surpass last year's three-day Memorial Day week-end toll of 413.

Traffic was the biggest killer. Mishaps on the highway killed 258 persons. Fifty-five persons lost their lives by drowning as millions flocked to lakes and resorts in the season's biggest out-pouring. Another 84 were killed in miscellaneous accidents—fires, airplane crashes, explosions, falls and other mishaps.

The traffic toll was expected to exceed the total of 290 predicted by the National Safety Council for the four-day period. The count started at 6 p.m. local time Friday and will end at midnight tonight.

The council said some 30,000,000 cars would be on the highways. Millions will be on the highways today and tonight in the home-ward rush.

At Glendale, Calif., three retired schoolteachers, returning from a bird study outing in the mountains, lost their lives late yesterday when their car plunged from the highway into a canyon 600 feet below.

At Detroit a boy and an eight-month-old baby died and a young mother was critically burned in a flaming explosion that levelled a home on Detroit's west side last night.

Dead were Stanley Gately, Jr., 8, and his niece, Laura Ann Anders, eight months. The baby's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Anders, was reported near death in hospital.

Mrs. Anders, found 50 yards from the wrecked brick home, told officers that she had gone to a basement recreation room to make coffee, and had just lit a small gas stove when the explosion occurred.

Acheson Says U.S. Will Not Use Veto In Chinese Case

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson is reported to have assured Trygve Lie that the United States will not use the veto to keep communist China out of the United Nations.

This restatement of American policy appeared today to have been the principle firm development in the meetings held by Lie, the U.N. Secretary-General, with President Truman and Acheson.

Nationalists Threaten UK Ship Captain

Hong Kong, May 30.—(Reuters)—Chinese nationalists who intercepted the 922-ton British ship Sing Hing near Amoy May 1 threatened to execute the captain, R. A. Young of Sydney, Australia, for trying to run the blockade, Chinese members of the crew said when the ship arrived here today.

Crew members said the nationalists tied Young up and slapped him. They added that members of his crew knelt on the deck and begged for clemency for their skipper.

Young said his crew's account of their experiences during the 28 days they were held by the nationalists was "substantially correct."

Alexander Mercer of New Zealand, first officer on the Sing Hing, said the nationalists "acted like a gang of pirates."

He said they knocked Young to the deck three times and constantly ill-treated him.

Mercer said he himself was badly hurt by a vicious thrust in the chest with a loaded revolver. He said British chief engineer M. MacIntyre was "black and blue" from pummeling.

Mercer said the nationalists robbed officers and passengers of all valuables, including cameras, radios, watches and rings.

They also confiscated the ship's 275-ton mixed cargo and took 10 Chinese passengers to Formosa for Continued On Page 5

Communist-Led Japanese Clash With U.S. Troops

Tokyo, May 30.—(AP)—Communist-led Japanese today attacked four United States soldiers in the first public fight of the allied occupation.

The battle touched off other skirmishes as American military police cracked down on instigators. At least eight Japanese were arrested.

Demonstrators, gathered in Imperial plaza for a communist labor rally, showered the American military observers with rocks.

One American was Capt. C. V. Clark of the Tokyo provost marshal's office.

One witness said the incident began when members of a communist youth group snatched a notebook from a Japanese plainclothesman who was taking notes on speeches.

The Americans attempted to recover the notebook. One of the soldiers was hit and struck back. The crowd, in ugly mood, threw rocks at the Americans who forced their way into the clear.

American military police moved into the crowd as it entered Hibaya Park for a second rally. They arrested at least three Japanese who put up stiff resistance.

Clubs and fists swung freely. Another Japanese was pulled out of a marching column when he shouted an anti-American slogan as he passed the military police.

Other Japanese tried to prevent the arrest. The Americans quickly fought clear of a hostile circle of shouting, pushing demonstrators.

M.P.s picked up two more Japanese who tried to help their friend escape. Later the Red demonstrators sent a delegation to

Brompton Mill Negotiations Near Completion

Final negotiations for the sale of the idle mill buildings of the old Brompton Pulp and Paper Company plant at Bromptonville now owned by the City of Sherbrooke to an American syndicate operating as Reliance Enterprises, Ltd., have been completed according to information at the City Hall this morning.

Under the terms of the option granted the company, the buildings were to be sold for $400,000 cash and certain other considerations which are considered very valuable to the city, although the exact details of the supplementary provisions have not been announced. Last evening, at a committee session, it is understood that Gene Kreuger, representing the company, informed the Council that the option would be taken up and the deeds signed by the principals during the next few days.

The buildings were obtained in the course of the purchase of the power development at Bromptonville by the City, the complete price being $775,000. The city planned to convert the existing waterwheel plant to a hydro-electric installation which would add 10,000 horsepower to the generating capacity of the municipal electric system. The conversion cost is placed at $725,000, bringing the final cost to $1,500,000 less anything received for the sale of buildings.

However, the supplementary provisions of the new agreement may cause some change in the plans, whereby the power costs are further reduced.

River Level Fall Continues

Winnipeg, May 30.—(AP)—Brilliant sunshine today locked up the last traces of two showers that spilled almost a half-inch into the Red river valley watershed. The flooded river's drop was apparently unaffected.

At 7 a.m. CDT the level stood at 25.9 feet—the lowest mark since May 6. Still almost eight feet above first-flood stage and almost two feet above the flood level of 1948, the river was down 4.4 feet from its crest May 19.

A few scattered showers were forecast for today, but the weatherman said the fast-drying ground now is capable of soaking up a lot of moisture.

Meanwhile the return of evacuees who fled the worst flood in a century continued unabated. A newspaper survey indicated some 2,000 persons had returned to assist in clean-up work. Many other thousands, the vanguard of 100,000 who left at the urging of flood-control headquarters, came back to their high-and-dry dwellings.

Winnipeg and St. Boniface are largely back to normal. In the suburbs, fast emerging from feet of filthy water, municipal clean-up squads were pumping basements and disinfecting once-flooded rooms. Committees were assessing the damage, which has been estimated at $100,000,000 and up.

nearby Marunouchi police station to loudly demand their release. The first rally was peppered with anti-American statements such as: "Expel the occupation forces from Japan."

"Remember Gandhi's struggle against the British imperialists. He did it, why don't you?"

"Thousands of workers are being fired to pave the way for foreign monopoly capital and the enslavement of Japan."

The anti-American demonstration appears to be the first fruit of criticism of Japan's communists by the Cominform, international communism's central agency. The Cominform has attacked Japanese Reds for trying to work within the framework of the occupation.

The Cominform demanded a stiffer stand against the occupation, and "international imperialism."

This morning Japanese police had prevented the Red-led labor demonstration from taking over in the plaza which then was being used for U.S. Memorial Day observances by American troops.

Anti-Americanism was the keynote of the demonstration. The mob was made up of leftist union members, students and Korean troops. At least one-fourth of them seemed to be merely looking on. The rest were in an ugly mood.

The rally ostensibly was to honor a Japanese union member who died during a labor demonstration before the Tokyo municipal assembly May 30, 1949. It was sponsored by a communist group.

Actually it appeared to be an attempt to embarrass occupation authorities on Memorial Day.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Concealed Hand Raises Question

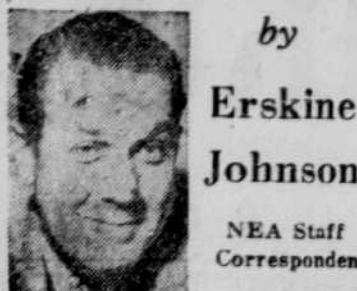

By OSWALD JACOBY
"We had a real bang-up argument last night," writes M. B. N. of Dallas, "and it's still going strong. It's a very friendly argument, except that somehow or other nobody had a good word for me."
Neither side had melded, and each side needed 120 points. My wife finally swooped down on the discard pile, putting down her entire hand to do so. Her 11 cards and the previous discard totaled only 90 points.
"One of the opponents asked what was going on. My wife said she was melding out concealed and therefore didn't need a minimum count."
The other opponent said we didn't have a canasta. My wife said that there were seven suits in the discard pile, and that those would be her canasta. She also said that she could meld every card in the discard pile. Both of her statements were quite true.
"Both opponents said that the

VIVIAN BLAINE HAS FOUND OUT THAT GENTS DO PREFER BLONDES

Hollywood — Vivian Blaine, the slim red-haired movie queen who became a pleasingly buxom blonde night club singer, has only one regret—she should have bleached sooner.

"I don't look like Vivian Blaine anymore," she said, "and it's wonderful. I'm making more money and I'm happier."

Red-haired Vivian skyrocketed to stardom during the war in Fox musicals, then was shelved. Recently she went back to Fox and asked a big executive:

"Tell me the truth. What was wrong with me?"
The executive replied: "No sex appeal. But you've got it now, sister."

Vivian said she lost out on the role Marilyn Maxwell played in "Champion" because the producer looked at some film in which she was a cold redhead.

"I wish," said Vivian, "that Hollywood would stop looking at me on the screen as four years ago and start looking at me now in person."

She's so right. The change in personality is startling.

Now she goes on the road with Jack Benny's troupe. Jack was smart. Instead of looking at Vivian's movies, he looked at Vivian.

Edgar Bergen's chest is puffed out with pride over the reception given his new life-sized dummy, Podine Puffington, as part of his night club act in Las Vegas.

Podine, a gorgeous blonde with a heavy Southern accent who says she's from Atlanta—"That's in Georgia—I think"—will join McCarthy, Mortimer and Effie when Bergen makes his television debut. Bergen not only talks to Podine but also dances with her.

She's strictly a creation for television.

"Podine," says Bergen, "is put glamor into the act."

Another doll, five-year-old Melodie Condos, daughter of Martha Raye and Nick Condos, made her debut in Las Vegas as a "chorus girl" in a floor show the other night. Melodie danced with the chorus before mama went on as the star of the show.

Martha and Nick now live in Miami Beach, Fla., where they own a night club and there's a twice-monthly television show shimmering on the front burner for Martha. She'll make two guest appearances on Milton Berle's TV show but it will be in her contract that Milton can't get into her act.

"Ethel Merman," she said, "insisted on the same kind of a contract with me."

meld was not legal. They claimed that the canasta in the discard pile didn't count for us until we actually had the pile. They added that even if my wife had a canasta in her own eleven cards, she still couldn't take the discard pile without the minimum count.

"They put it up to me, and I refused to express an opinion. Frankly, I thought the opponents were right but it didn't seem like a good time to say so. My silence got me nowhere at all. The opponents hooted at me for being afraid to talk up, and my wife gave me the old snake-in-the-grass look."

"Who is right, and what should I have done?"

I can tell you who was right, but you won't catch me saying what you should have done about it. In these husband-wife arguments at the card table it's every man for himself.

The opponents were right. No matter what you may be able to meld after you get the discard pile, you must first get the pile. And you can't get the pile unless you have the minimum count. This rule applies, of course, only if the meld is the initial meld for your side.

Q—Are you ever allowed to take the discard pile and meld out concealed when you cannot make the minimum count. Can you do this if your partner has already melded? And if you do so, aren't you making use of your partner's meld?

A—If your partner has already melded, you may take the discard pile and meld out on concealed even though you cannot make the minimum count. You are helped by the fact that your partner has melded, but that doesn't matter as long as you don't add any cards to his melds.

Q—My opponent needed 50 points for the first meld. He put down three aces and then put down two sixes to take the six that had just been discarded. Is he allowed to do this with more than the needed 50 points or must he totally exact 50 points to get the discard pile?

A—He must total at least 50 points. There is no upper limit at all. Even if he put down a couple of hundred points the meld would be perfectly legal.

Sherbrooke Switches To Dial

These pictures show the two major operations involved in Sherbrooke's switchover to the dial telephone system early Sunday morning. The top picture shows Bell Telephone employees in the new building about to pull the fuses that put the new service into operation. This took place as soon as word was received from the old building that the fuses there had been pulled out, an operation shown in the lower picture.

Pleasing Performance Of Pinafore

By MARGOT MITCHELL

Transformed into a ship's deck on Friday and Saturday evening the stage of Bishop's College School auditorium once more did service for an ambitious performance. This year the Lennoxville High School choir elected to put on a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Mikado". The operetta was a mixture of modern, square, and folk styles, and every one got right into the spirit of things from the start.

Adult friends, other than parents, who had assisted with various programs during the season, were guests of the Club, as well. It seemed to surprise some of the youngsters to see the parents entering into the program with so much zest, and the young people whose parents were present had plenty of reason to be proud of the way they helped make the evening such a success. The parents who failed to accept the invitation missed one of the finest opportunities ever presented to get really close to their children, and show them how much fun they can really have together.

The Committee of Teen Towners who arranged the party was chaired by Dale Bradford, who had Edith Kay, Peggy Lou Shortt, and Thomasine Mawhood working with him, and great credit is due these young people for the excellent evening which brought to a close the season of parties.

$296,000 "Burned Up" At City Hall

They held a big bonfire at the City Hall yesterday.

The nominal value of the articles destroyed amounted to no less than $296,000.

However, nobody is a cent poorer for the deal, as the fodder for the flames consisted of $296,000 in face value of City of Sherbrooke bonds that were redeemed during the year 1948 in accordance with the terms governing the issuance of these debentures.

Two years elapse between the time a bond is redeemed and the time that the civic authorities dispose of it by the simple expedient of throwing it in the furnace. During this time, the cancelled bonds are duly checked by municipal officials and certified by the auditor and then entered in the large book that keeps the record of the various civic borrowings and the redemption of the loans through sinking fund operations or maturity of serial issues.

Witnessing yesterday's ceremony were City Treasurer Maurice Cormier, City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers and Philippe St. Jacques, the city auditor.

Parents' Night Is Held By Teen Town

A most delightful party was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday night when the members of "Teen Town," the younger Teenagers Club, held its first Parents' Night, to bring to a close its season's Saturday night parties.

While some of the young members of the Club felt that such a party would turn out to be a flop, the majority favored the idea of having the parents on hand for an evening of dancing and fun, and their opinion was more than vindicated when the evening was finally brought to a close.

A four-piece orchestra was on hand to play for the dancing, which was a mixture of modern, square, and folk styles, and every one got right into the spirit of things from the start.

Adult friends, other than parents, who had assisted with various programs during the season, were guests of the Club, as well. Empire Study Committee Report To Be Tabled Today At I.O.D.E. Convention

Montreal, May 30. — More than 1,000 patriotic ladies worked rapidly through a thick sheaf of annual reports yesterday as the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire completed its first full day of business at its golden jubilee convention.

The 50th annual meeting of the body strated last Saturday with good wishes from Prime Minister St. Laurent, the Governor-General and other dignitaries. Religious services were held Sunday and the hard core of business was tackled yesterday. Two further days remain for the delegates—from all parts of Canada except Newfoundland.

Even Canada's newest province is feeling the impact of the I.O.D.E. Yesterday it was reported that the Order's first Canadian chapter had been organized in St. John's.

Today, the delegates are scheduled to hear a report from Mrs. W. G. Lumbers, of Toronto, convener of the Empire study committee. She was scheduled to discuss Canadian women's interest in Commonwealth affairs.

Yesterday, Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Oakville, Ont., honorary national treasurer, reported that more than $850,000 was spent last year by the Order's 920 chapters across Canada. That was an increase of $2,000 over the previous year reflected in increased chapter activity in educational, welfare, ex-service personnel and community work.

Mrs. Walton, who retires this year as national treasurer, served in this capacity for seven years.

Mrs. Peter L. Robinson, of Toronto, convener of the endowment fund committee, reported that the fund had reached $185,000.

Mrs. Laurence Grout, national convener of the national film committee and a resident of Toronto, reported an "ever-increasing use" of documentary films to "create interest in citizenship, education, government, the empire and world affairs."

Mrs. K. I. R. Drope, of Toronto, national post-war services convener, last night received a life membership in the national chapter—the I.O.D.E.'s highest award. Mrs. Drope is a vice-president of the national chapter.

A film entitled "Golden Arrow Train" highlighted the regular weekly dinner meeting of the Lions Club held in the New Sherbrooke Hotel last evening.

Plans for the gala "bino" party to be held at the Belvidere Street Armory on June 5-6-7 were discussed. Bernie McGowan asked the members to sell as many tickets as possible.

Alphonse Saumier, a club member, showed part of a film and gave a brief talk on the Community Concerts campaign.

Next Monday's meeting has been cancelled due to the holding of the "bino."

Those seated at the head table with the president Leopold Chevalier were: Joseph Begin, Ossie Goyette, Alphonse Gauthier, Jean-Marc Denault, and Edward Hamel from Lawrence, Mass.

Ivan Dugre Addresses Optimist Club On His First Anniversary As Member

On his first anniversary as an Optimist member Ivan Dugre revealed some off and on the record results of the recent meeting of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association to members of the Club last night and some of the statistics concerning the Q.S.H.L. champions, the Sherbrooke Saints.

"Sherbrooke was the best drawing card in the league this year," Dugre asserted. "On the road we drew a larger gate than at home. In our five games at Ottawa we drew one quarter of their regular season's gate." Mr. Dugre said that the club drew an average of 3,500 on the road as compared to 2,500 for the home games.

During the meeting of the Q.A.H.A., he said, a request was put before President George Slater that the teams be permitted to dress 15 men instead of the present number of 14.

"In the plays off the Saints were severely handicapped by this ruling," Mr. Dugre declared. "When Planche was injured we were left with only two lines and two men against the Toronto Marlboros."

Speaking about hockey in general Mr. Dugre said that the Quebec Senior League was by far the most popular senior league in the country since most of the players not only from Quebec and Ontario, but from the West and the Maritimes, preferred to play hockey in Quebec.

"We pay lower wages than some senior leagues, and we don't promise the boys part time jobs and yet most of the players want to play in the Quebec Senior League. I think this proves that the Quebec League is the best in the country. Remember a Q.S.H.L. team has won the Allan Cup four out of the last five years."

Mr. Dugre's closing remarks on the subject of hockey were: "The directors of the Sherbrooke St. Francis Hockey Club would rather lose money with a good club than a bad one."

On the subject of baseball, Mr. Dugre said that under the old management, of which he was a member, the Sherbrooke Baseball Club lost $12,000 in the past two years. "So far, we have even lost $400 on the Chevrolet car we started to raffie last fall."

Despite this Mr. Dugre said the automobile would be raffied off during this Sunday afternoon's game here.

Reward Posted For Killer Of R.C.M.P. Constable

Montreal, May 30. — Despite a major police search of the Montreal district, the killer of an R.C.M.P. constable last week remained at large today.

Police said the wanted man is believed to be hiding out "in Montreal or nearby."

J. H. Boyer, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, announced a special $5,000 reward is being offered for the criminal's apprehension.

Constable Alex Gamman, 58-year-old unmarried R.C.M.P. officer detailed to the Bank of Canada offices, was shot down when he tried to prevent the abortive, one-man holdup of a downtown branch of the Bank of Toronto here. Cst. Gamman died in hospital Friday.

FINANCING PENSIONS

One of the features of most of the suggestions placed before the Parliamentary Committee on Old Age Security is that efforts are made to have the actual cost of the plan hidden from the recipients. Admittedly certain of the schemes call for a fully contributory system but the rest would have them paid for by some other means of taxation than through the contributions of the beneficiaries. This is easily understandable. There are very few persons actually opposed to an improved old age pensions system, but there are many who do not like the idea of higher taxes to pay for it.

A sales tax has been suggested by certain interests as one method of getting the money. But there are weaknesses inherent in this form of taxation. It bears most heavily on those with large families. And, most of all, it is a "hidden tax."

Because it is a "hidden tax" people would be under the delusion that it is not costing them as much as it actually would. Consequently, it could lead to more and more demands, some of them unreasonable. When any new pension plan, for old age, sickness or anything else, comes into being, there should be no doubt about what it costs and who is paying for it.

FLOUTING THE LAW

Canadians generally will support the stand taken by John Diefenbaker in the House of Commons that the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors in British Columbia must be made to realize that they cannot "flout" Canadian law "at their whim and when they feel like it."

For a long time there has been a feeling that the so-called religious impulses which guided their actions must be guided in such a manner as to make this inspiration compatible with the general laws of Canada.

Unfortunately, however, the handling of the Doukhobor question on a long-term basis has been something akin to man's handling of the weather. There has been plenty of talk but little action. When the situation has become unbearable owing to an epidemic of home-burning or nude parades, the majesty of the law has been massed and wholesale arrests have been made. But once the particular series of outbreaks have been quelled, the authorities appeared content to withdraw from the picture and permit the Sons of Freedom to await a new call to carry out destruction. To date there has been no effort to remedy the basic cause of the trouble.

Whether one man, as suggested by Mr. Diefenbaker, can solve the issue is debatable, regardless of how deep his knowledge of this troublesome sect might be. From all outward appearances, the main object of the group has been to convince the authorities that they are above control of any authority but their own leaders. And even these seem to have little actual power. But, it might be worth a trial.

DISILLUSIONMENT IN CHINA

Latest developments in the Chinese situation only serve to aggravate the growing distrust which former supporters of the Nationalist cause throughout the world have in the faith of the leaders of so-called "Free China."

A Mr. Mantell first discovered traces of the Takahé in volcanic ash 101 years ago. It was taken to be an extinct species until 1849 one was killed on Resolution Island and a second two years later. For 28 years there was no record of another bird until one was taken and its skin and skeleton shipped to the Dresden Museum. After 19 years another was caught and a half century then passed during which the country grew more populated, much bush was destroyed, new enemies appeared in the form of cats, dogs, rats and weasels. During all this time the Takahé was listed with the dodo and moa.

Last year a colony was discovered by an amateur ornithologist.

Inasmuch as the Takahé is a large bird of brilliant plumage, the conclusion appears unavoidable that a very small group has survived the hazards of 100 years. Conditions are of course, wholly different on the North American continent and it is an open question whether the great crests, now so sadly depleted in numbers, can demonstrate a similar capacity for survival.

professional and intellectual classes, which at one time promoted the interests of the Communist party, are now disillusioned, and are greatly disturbed by the number of Russians seen in the streets of Peiping, Nanking, Shanghai and other places and by the reports that some 300,000 Russian troops are included in the Chinese Red forces. The intellectuals are suspicious of the terms of the treaty signed a few months ago in Moscow; terms of which have not yet been disclosed to the Chinese people. The only way they will probably get to know of them will be when they are put into effect and touch the people's lives. Millions of Chinese are near starvation, and those who are not are aware of the plight of their fellow-countrymen, which the Communists seem unable to relieve. In fact, some reports say that despite the small rice crop, there have been heavy requisitions from the peasants' stocks to feed the Red army.

Unfortunately, the people as a whole, American correspondents claim, would not welcome back the old regime, which they feel has as little interest in the average man as has the Red oligarchy now in control. The most that people will admit is that Chiang Kai-Shek himself would be acceptable provided he gets rid of the old ruling families who always seem to have a finger in the Chinese pie.

This condition undoubtedly is one of the chief reasons why the United States administration is averse to giving any substantial aid to the Nationalists, fearing that the onhangers would be only too ready to divert this assistance to their own benefit, either through the black market or by direct treachery and sale of the supplies to the Reds.

Press Comment

ADMITTS SHARE IN FLOOD BLAME

Sherbrooke Beacon-Herald

Whatever may be done officially by Washington in the way of extending United States help to flood-stricken Manitoba, there is no question about American sentiment. The people of the U.S. feel deeply for the flood victims on this side of the border. That is characteristic of our American good neighbors—and in the present disaster there is an extra reason for sympathy, and for a sense of responsibility for the rehabilitation of many thousands of people in the Red River Valley.

The Detroit Free Press describes the situation fittingly in these terms: "Apart from the humanitarian angle, we may be in part responsible for this catastrophe. The Red River of the North starts in the United States and flows for approximately four-fifths of its length through American territory. Then it enters Manitoba and empties into Lake Winnipeg. The Red has a long flood record—although not in a century has it gone on such a rampage as it is now staging. This warning was unheeded on both sides of the border. The International Joint Commission should, and doubtless will, address its attention now to preventing a consented any steps. What affects Winnipeg so disastrously affects all Canada, and what affects Canada affects the United States. We Americans should not only aid in relieving the distress caused by this flood, but should make sure that we are in no wise responsible for future calamities of this nature."

RISKING ILL-WILL

Fort William Times-Journalist

Fort William aldermen mean well when they seek to designate the city route of highways 17-61 so that it takes motorists east down Arthur street to South Brodie, north along Brodie to Donald, west on Donald to South Syndicate, north on Syndicate to Victoria, east on Victoria to Simpson, north on Simpson to Myles, west on Myles to May and then north on May on to Port Arthur.

That route takes care of the tourist bureau at the city hall and merchants on three business streets.

But would it take care of tourists passing through the city? Would not the city be risking a good measure of ill-will from a number of first-time visitors who found out that they had been taken for a long ride over a labyrinth course, when a direct route was available?

Without a doubt the proposed route would make many tourists both dizzy and angry.

A city gains or loses by good or bad first impressions made on others. This back-tracking route would not reflect the usual good sense displayed by the people of the city and their elected representatives.

As it is, motor travellers have an awkward approach into the central portion of the city from the Scott highway. To climax that drive of many turns from the river bridge with the proposed additional turns could not fail to create a very bad impression.

A suggestion that seems to carry much merit would have one route follow Arthur to May, and straight north along May, designated as Highway 17-61.

The other, called Highway 17-61B—the Business Route—could then follow the streets proposed by the aldermen.

THE TAKAHE

Winnipeg Free Press

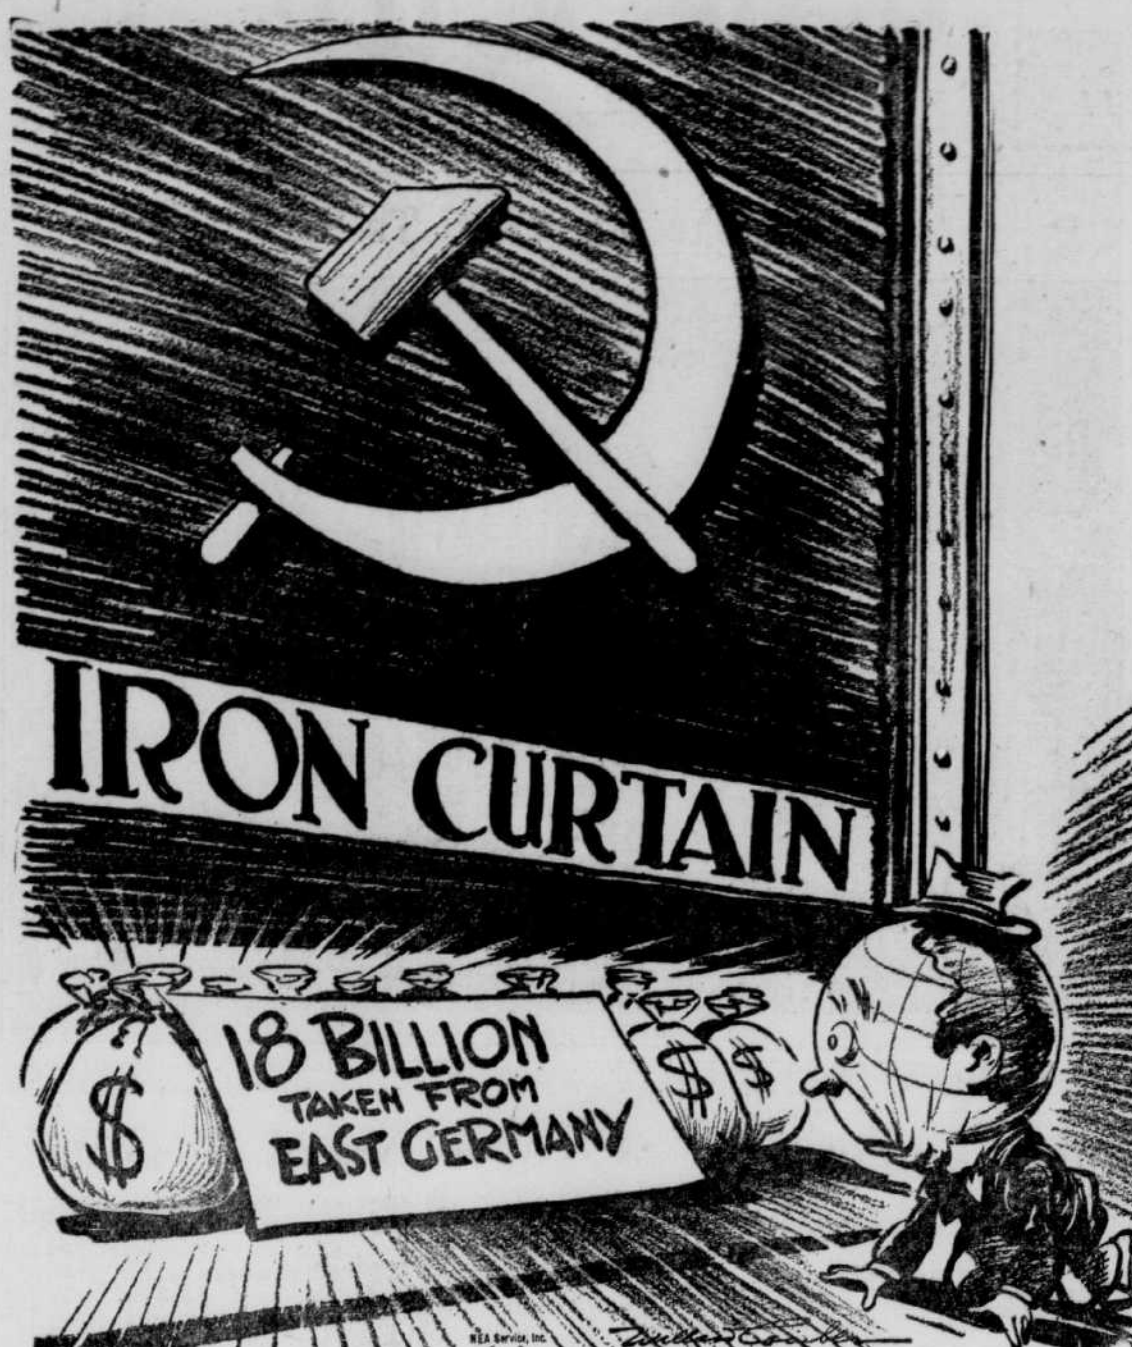

Action of the New Zealand government in setting aside 438,000 acres of forest and mountain land as a bird sanctuary is of some interest in view of the efforts now being made in the United States and Canada to save from extinction the Whooping Crane.

New Zealand is seeking to perpetuate the Takahé, a bird of powerful build about the size of a turkey. Behind this attempt lies a curious story. A Mr. Mantell first discovered traces of the Takahé in volcanic ash 101 years ago. It was taken to be an extinct species until 1849 one was killed on Resolution Island and a second two years later. For 28 years there was no record of another bird until one was taken and its skin and skeleton shipped to the Dresden Museum. After 19 years another was caught and a half century then passed during which the country grew more populated, much bush was destroyed, new enemies appeared in the form of cats, dogs, rats and weasels. During all this time the Takahé was listed with the dodo and moa.

Last year a colony was discovered by an amateur ornithologist.

Inasmuch as the Takahé is a large bird of brilliant plumage, the conclusion appears unavoidable that a very small group has survived the hazards of 100 years. Conditions are of course, wholly different on the North American continent and it is an open question whether the great crests, now so sadly depleted in numbers, can demonstrate a similar capacity for survival.

A GLIMPSE UNDER THE CURTAIN

Piece Of Old Oak Symbolizes Life Of Dalhousie University

Halifax, May 30. — A piece of oak felled on the estate of a British nobleman has been carved to symbolize the life of Dalhousie University, whose cornerstone was laid in 1820.

The Earl of Dalhousie sent the oak here. It was then fashioned into a mace by a Halifax craftsman and held a place of honor at recent convocation ceremonies at the university.

A. H. MacMillan worked on the mace for more than a year, following instructions by Dr. R. L. Der. H. Saunders, director of the medical museum and professor of pathological anatomy at the college.

The mace tells in a heraldic way of the life of the university since it had its origin in the brain of the ninth Earl of Dalhousie, a soldier in the war of 1812.

Dr. Saunders describes it this way: "The Dalhousie University mace has been designed to relate symbolically as the eye ascends its length the proud maritime tradition of the sea-girt provinces and the historical heritage of the university which served them. It is carved in oak and enriched with silver and enamel."

The top of the mace bears a five-rayed Scottish earl's coronet in recognition of the founder. Atop is a silver eagle cross surrounded by the university motto "ora et labora."

U.K. Government Denies Moves Are Made To Suppress Press

London, May 30. — The Labor government says it just isn't true that newspaper is being used to restrict the power of the press.

"I have always resisted any idea that newspaper should be used for censorship purposes," the House of Commons was told by Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade.

Wilson spoke after J. Rodgers, Conservative member for Sevenoaks, said that in July the present seven-page average size of national daily newspapers will be reduced to six pages.

"It is sad to reflect that our newspapers today are among the smallest in the world," Rodgers said.

"Of all the countries in Europe only one—Germany—behind the iron curtain—is worse off than us."

Rodgers said that Britain three times since the war had dishonored newspaper contracts with Canada.

ROUGH, TOUGH PLAY IS NOT TO OVER-RUFF

"Somebody's feeding these fellows meat," said Generous George. "They bid such a lot against me that it's really embarrassing. I try to give them a trick now and then, but nothing helps. They just keep on going down."

As usual, George's generosity had cost him nothing. On the contrary, it had cost the opponents the game and rubber.

George, holding the West cards, opened the deuce of hearts. East won with the ten of hearts and returned the queen.

It was obvious to everybody at the table that George had led a singleton heart. Declarer therefore trumped with the king of spades to prevent George from making a trick with a small trump.

It was at this point that George was overcome by generosity. Instead of over-trumping with the ace of spades, he discarded a low club with a lordly gesture.

South properly tried to draw trumps in a hurry, leading the queen of spades for the purpose. West took the ace of spades, and led a club to his partner's ace. The defenders now had three tricks in, and another heart led by East put declarer in the soup.

If South ruffed low West would naturally over-ruff. South had to ruff with the jack and lay down the ten of spades in the hope of drawing both of the missing trumps. This plan did not work since West was able to drop his deuce of spades on the ten, after which his nine was high.

It is easy to see that George did not give up a thing when he refused to over-ruff declarer at the second trick. As a matter of fact, if he had over-ruffed, South would have made the contract.

For example, suppose that West takes the ace of spades at the second trick. He then leads a club to East's ace. East returns another heart, and South ruffs with the queen. Now South can take the jack and ten of spades without further loss.

The effect of refusing to over-ruff was to get one of South's high trumps out of the way without weakening West's own trump holding.

The Record Short Story

Memorial Dinner

By HOLLIS STARNES

The keen-eyed, chubby, gray-haired woman stared at the letter she found propped up on her linen room ironing board, when she came to work that May morning. "Miss Katie Kilfeather, San Pedro Hotel, New York," she read on the neatly typed envelope. But it was the words, "Chamber of Commerce" in the return address that mystified her. Why would a Chamber of Commerce be writing to a chambermaid in a Broadway theatrical hotel?

Tearing open the letter, she began to read rapidly. "Glory to God!" she gasped at the end, then without waiting to change her dark street garb for the apple-green uniform of her job, she dashed down the hall. After a perfunctory tap on Ben Drury's door, she marched briskly in on her

The selfish young night-club press agent sash got in before dawn; when she came to work mornings he was always dead to the world. Crossing to his bed she cried, "Drury, wake up—I got somethin' to show ye!"

The two-headed man groaned, "Go 'way!"

"Just open one ear," she begged, "and hear what the Chamber of Commerce in Gene Berryman's home town just wrote me!"

"Berry's town?" man stirred. "God rest him," she breathed. "Ye know how mean that burg always treated him—like dirt under their feet. Now he's dead an' his music's the rage, they want to put up a memorial to him."

Drury's gray-blue eyes shot open. "Memorial?"

She read from the letter mockingly. "We plan to open our drive for the Eugene Berryman Memorial at a dinner on Decoration Day. As the friend to whom the late composer dedicated his most successful songs, we request the honor of your—"

Drury sprang to sitting position and reached for the letter. "Let's see that!"

As he read she put in, "Don't miss the part about havin' the Mayor, Governor an' lots o' big brass there!"

The press man said acidly: "So they're out to cash in on the native son they never knew was dead or alive—till he got to be a celebrity. What a racket! Free publicity for their town, a bid for more tourist trade."

"How could a memorial to Berry bring tourists?" she asked. "They're buying the old shack he was born in, making it a landmark. There's a terrific public interest in Berry just now. People will flock there and pay admission if there's anything in the house worth seeing. That's where you come in."

"Me?"

"They know Berry wrote you letters, sent you original lyrics and scores. They're asking you for these, for their permanent exhibit."

"So that's what they'd use 'em for?"

Textile School Will Graduate 19 Technicians

St. Hyacinthe, May 30.—Nineteen fully trained textile technicians will receive diplomas at the second annual convocation ceremony at St. Hyacinthe Textile School here on June 3, it was announced today.

School director Stephane F. Toupin said that members of the clergy, government and textile industry had been invited to join parents and friends of the graduates at the ceremony in the school assembly hall. Gustave Poisson, deputy Minister of Youth and Social Welfare, will be guest of honor.

The school, one of two such in Canada, will be open from 2.00 to 3.00 p.m. on June 3 for inspection by guests. Graduation ceremony will commence immediately afterwards. Each new technician will receive a certificate while prizes will be distributed to outstanding graduates.

First class graduated from St. Hyacinthe last year, but Director Toupin has announced that this year will see two graduates from the chemistry and dyeing course, first of their kind in Canada.

Of the 19 young men completing the four-year college level course next month 12 attended on scholarships provided by textile companies. All the graduates have jobs waiting for them on graduation. All have some previous practical experience, either from working in textile plants before attending the school or from part-time summer employment.

Director Toupin also said today that the school, operated by the Quebec government, has now facilities for an enrolment of 200 students. Continued expansion since the school was opened in 1945 has made it possible to increase size of classes each year. There were 123 students registered when last term began.

Following are the names of the technicians:

Jacques Barel, Louiseville; Henri Bernier, Sorel; Roland Bernier, Montreal; Henri Blanchard, Acton Vale; Henri Boudier, St. Hyacinthe; Achille Byck, St. Hyacinthe; Maurice Chapleau, Montreal; Jean-Paul Cordeau, Lachute Mills; William I. Gladwin, Montreal; Anthony Guerin, Ville La Salle; Maurice Lorange, St. Hyacinthe; Roland Mainville, Granby; Jean Marcotte, Warwick; Jean-Paul Perras, Verdun; Gaston Ratte, Drummondville; Jean Rivard, Louiseville; Rene Sansoucy, St. Hyacinthe; Arthur B. Theakston, St. Hyacinthe; Maurice Thibault, Grand Mere.

W. I. Met And Elected Officers At Inverness

Inverness, May 30.—The May meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Allen Learmonth with Mrs. Thomas Learmonth as joint hostess. As the Lemesurier Women's Institute were unable to be present at the County meeting on May 2, they were invited to attend the regular monthly meeting and to have the election of officers and conveners.

Mrs. Lloyd Oliver, Mrs. George Rothney, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Kinghorn of Lemesurier, attended this meeting. Mrs. George Rothney was chairman for the election of officers and conveners.

The 1950-1951 officers are as follows: Honorary President, Mrs. R. J. Graham; president, Mrs. Weston Graham; first vice-president, Mrs. George Rothney; second vice-president, Mrs. Lloyd Oliver; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. W. Beattie.

E. T. Students Are Among McGill Grads

Montreal, May 30.—(P)—Nearly 1,680 students were handed graduate degrees yesterday at McGill University's annual convocation on the college campus.

The Governor-General attended as a "visitor of the university" and Lady Alexander came to officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of a new physical sciences centre.

Receiving were: Lord Woolton, former British minister of food; Col. John Jacob, publisher of The Times of London; Sir Alexander Cadogan, retiring British representative to the United Nations; Arthur B. Wood, former president of the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada and chairman of the university board.

In his convocation address, Sir Alexander Cadogan said it may take generations to end the world's "cold war" but he could see no other end but victory for the free nations.

The list of graduating students shows the following persons from the Eastern Townships:

Certificate in public health nursing: Ethel C. Wilsey, Windsor Mills.

Certificate in teaching in schools of nursing: Marie H. V. Tulk, Magog.

Licentiate in music (performers): Elizabeth Dawson, Sherbrooke; pianoforte-distinction.

Bachelor of Divinity: Hubert Edward White, B.Eng., Mansonville, W. M. Birks prize.

Bachelor of Science in Home Economics: Nina, Elsie Banfill, North Hatley; Margaret Amelia Hamilton, Lennoxville; Mildred Gertrude Lyster, Lennoxville, distinction, food conservation prize; Shirley Marietta Clifford Watt, Windsor Mills.

Bachelor of Science in Agriculture: Elwyn Mead Baldwin, Coaticook; Bernard George Hodge, Coaticook; James Carlton Smith, Sutton; Hazen Spencer Thompson, Freilighsburg; Philip Alan Wright, Lennoxville.

Bachelor of Commerce: Edward Park McGovern, Richmond.

Bachelor of Science: Donald Pearce Campbell, Beebe; Garth Digby Jackson, Magog; Joseph Amedee Claude Menard, Windsor Mills; Alfred Thorburn Orr, Dunham; Hubert Rogeau, Sherbrooke, second class honors in geological sciences.

Bachelor of Engineering: Percy Clayton Barlow (C), Danville, Victor George Findlay (C), Lennoxville, Stewart George Frost (C), Drummondville, Eugene Arthur Gendron (Mech), Sherbrooke, Joseph Gerard Gaudias Hamel (C), Sherbrooke, James David Jardine (C), Sherbrooke, Robert Edmond Jess (Mech), Bedford, Robert Murray MacRae (El), Bury, Maurice J. Malo (Mech), Victoriaville, Jan Josef Munk (El), Clarenceville, Fernand Robert Paquette (Mi), Granby, Daniel Kent Sherry (El), Asbestos, Ronald Walter Telling (Mech), Drummondville.

Bachelor of Arts: Gordon Alexander Murray, Scottown, Fyllis Belle Johnson, Cowansville, Frances Christine Kelley, Compton, second class honors French, Janet Elizabeth Woodley, Knowlton.

Doctor of Dental Surgery: John Jury Brake, Richmond, Earle Aiken White, B.A., Mansonville, Montreal Endodontia Society prize for highest standing in this subject.

Master of Commerce: James Vincent Poast, B. Comm., Stanstead, (economics).

Health, Mrs. R. W. Beattie; Education, Mrs. Weston Graham; Citizenship, Mrs. Thomas Wilkin; Publicity, Mrs. R. J. Graham. Auditors, Mrs. George Rothney and Miss Jean Learmonth.

Mrs. William Lunnie presided for the installation of the officers. The regular meeting followed with the president, Mrs. Weston Graham, presiding. In the absence of the secretary, Miss Jean Learmonth, Mrs. R. W. Beattie read the minutes of the previous meeting. The motto was "Keep fit, keep bright, keep going."

A letter, regarding the short course to be held at Macdonald College from May 29 to June 2 was read, but due to the busy season, on one felt able to take advantage of the opportunity of taking the course. Mrs. William Lunnie, convener of agriculture, read articles entitled "Feed Value from the Farm Garden" and "Transplanting Tips." The secretary was requested to write a petition to the Council of the Township of Inverness to appoint someone to clean the Town Hall, including the Council Room, four times a year, and to appoint someone to be policeman and to keep order at dances and to take the names of all offenders and give the names to the Council to be punished as they see fit.

There was an exchange of slips and seeds. A salad tea was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. William Lunnie.

South Korea Voting Is "Peaceful"

Seoul, Korea, May 30.—(P)—Small-scale terrorist raids and isolated acts of violence erupted today as South Koreans voted for a new national assembly.

But the major disruptions promised by communist North Korea in broadcasts from Pyongyang did not materialize. Police officials said pre-election crackdowns on about 500 suspects had left communist elements leaderless.

Between 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 voters were to cast ballots to fill the 210 seats in the South Korean republic's single house. Last-minute withdrawals cut the number of candidates to 2,144, representing 15 parties. More than two-thirds were listed as independents.

This was the first self-conducted election in Korea's 4,000-year history.

Two years ago, the United States military government supervised the election. Korea for 50 years before the end of the Second World War had been under Japanese control.

President Syngman Rhee, 75, who campaigned last week in behalf of his supporters, with Mrs. Rhee, was elected two years ago for a four-year term.

Although he is not facing an election, Rhee's power in the assembly is at issue. Opponents want to restrict the constitutional powers by giving the premier the power to appoint a cabinet.

Rhee said just before the election, "So long as I am alive the present constitution shall not be amended."

Seven teams of United Nations observers watched the election.

Thirty guerrillas burned the courthouse at Sanchoing, 150 miles south of Seoul. Police killed three and suffered three casualties.

About 30 terrorists invaded the Seoul home of Cho So Ang, head of the socialist party and a candidate, police said. They beat up his chauffeur.

In the elections two years ago, about 900 persons were killed and wounded. Communists sniped at voters as they went to the polls.

Quebec K. Of C. Convention Held At Granby

Granby, May 30.—(P)—Four hundred delegates, representing 62,000 Knights of Columbus in Quebec, attending the order's 51st annual convention here during the week-end, adopted a resolution urging federal authorities to survey carefully all commerce with countries behind the iron curtain.

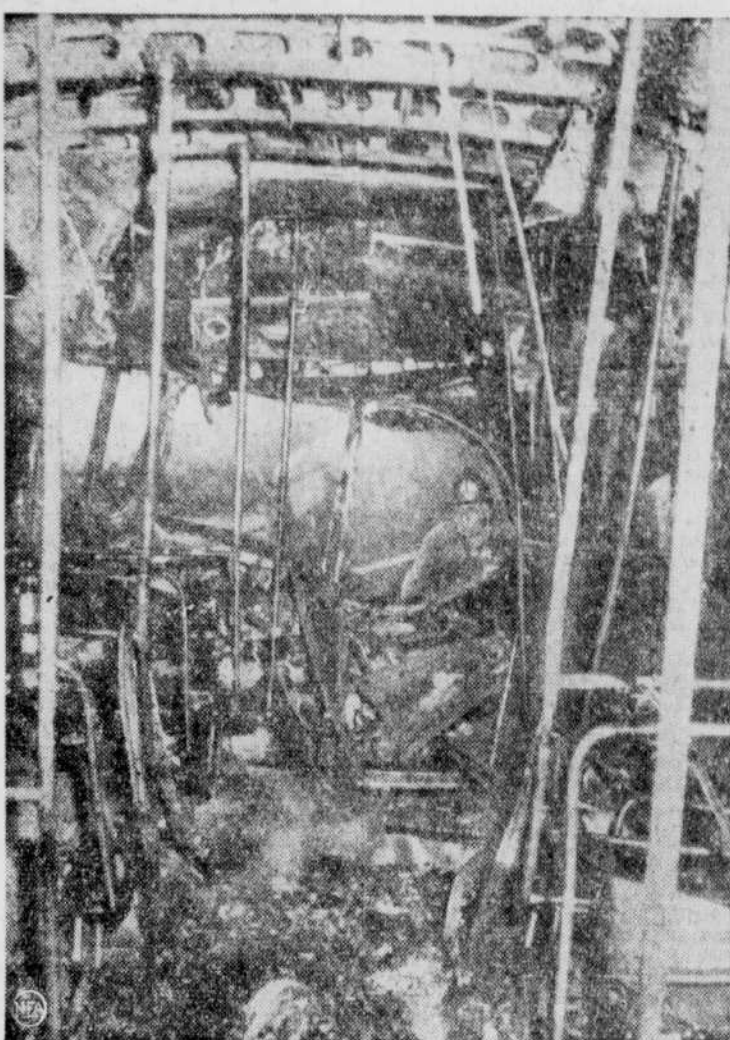

Czechoslovakia especially, where clergymen and Catholics were being persecuted, was named as a country which should be watched by Canadian authorities in order to prevent infiltration of communism into Canada.

Second resolution unanimously adopted was addressed to Prime Minister St. Laurent, and Lester B. Pearson, minister of foreign affairs, strongly recommending the appointment of a Canadian ambassador to the Vatican. This resolution coincided with a similar one adopted by the Knights of Ontario at their annual convention at Ottawa last week.

The delegates also adopted resolutions for the granting of additional bursaries for educational purposes and also for better observance of the Lord's Day Act.

During the two-day convention, the entire state executive who were in office last year, were re-elected by acclamation. These officers include: Judge T. A. Fontaine of Montreal, state deputy; Francis Fauteux, Montreal, supreme director; Julien Lavallee, Joliette, Que., state secretary; Fabio Monet, Ottawa, state treasurer; Mr. Justice Eugene Marquis of Quebec Superior Court, state advocate; Dr. Auguste Massicotte, Three Rivers, state warden; and Ludger Faguy, Quebec ex-state warden.

Mrs. William MacMillan, Quebec, Is The Newly-Elected President Of The United Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial

Richmond, May 30. — Mrs. William MacMillan, of Quebec, presided at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial of the United Church of Canada, which was held at Chalmers' Wesley Church, in Quebec.

The theme was "Measuring Advance" and the guest speaker was Miss Elma Inman, of Trinidad. The opening worship service was conducted by Miss Elma Inman and Miss Mabel Fraser, of Quebec. This was followed by the discussion of the constitution of the Presbyterial and a welcome address by Miss A. A. Hyde, the president of the local Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. J. L. Easton, the recording secretary, read excerpts from the minutes of previous executive and Presbyterial meetings. "Measuring Advance" were given by Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown, corresponding secretary, who reported an increase in membership. Mrs. Elsie R. Smith Christian Stewardship convener, whose report revealed that the Presbyterial allocation had been exceeded, as seventeen auxiliaries had exceeded their allocations. A Christian Stewardship secretary had been appointed in twenty-six societies.

The supply convener, Miss Nettie Lovering, stated that forty-six boxes were sent to Canadian Church Relief Abroad; 79 parcels to Mission Stations; one food parcel to Holland; and six parcels to displaced persons in Germany and ten Auxiliaries contributed $75 to the Overseas Mailing Fund. The regular allocation to Home Missions included 36 sweaters, 36 scarves, 9 caps, 46 mitts and a generous supply of Christmas gifts.

Mrs. E. E. Gilson, the press secretary, stated that all Presbyterial executive meetings and the annual meeting had been reported in the "Sherbrooke Daily Record" and two in the "Missionary Monthly." Mrs. D. S. MacIntosh, Literature secretary, gave a very encouraging statistical report, which revealed that 987 missionary books had been read, with one Auxiliary reading 307 books, 15 auxiliaries used the slides, 28 missionary packets had been used by the Mission Circles, Mission Bands and Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups and 138 study books by the Auxiliaries.

The Reading Course secretary, Miss Robina Stevenson announced that "in order to qualify as a best read Auxiliary or Circle an average of five books per member must be read during the year and no Auxiliary may receive a book shelf for more than two years in succession."

A very splendid report on "Temperance and Christian Citizenship" was given by Mrs. J. A. Butler. The noontide devotion and memorial service at the close of the morning session was led by Mrs. W. J. Lane.

Mrs. C. R. Boast, chairman of the nominating committee, read the list of nominations for 1950. St. Mrs. Roy P. Stafford presided over the election of officers which resulted as follows: Past President, Mrs. A. R. Ross, Iroquois Falls, Ont.; President, Mrs. William MacMillan, Quebec; vice-presidents, 1. Mrs. K. Armstrong, South Durham; 2. Mrs. K. H. Woodworth, Arvida; 3. Mrs. E. H. Gray, Knowlton; 4. Mrs. Mackie Fuller, Sherbrooke; 5. Mrs. A. Belliveau, St. East Angus; recording secretary, Mrs. J. A very impressive commemorative service was conducted by Mrs. William MacMillan, Mrs. E. C. James, Mrs. P. Pergau and Mrs. R. C. Tait.

The following past presidents were present and spoke briefly: Mrs. J. C. McLeod, of Montreal; Mrs. James, of Cookshire; Mrs. A. MacRae, of Richmond; Mrs. Roy Stafford, of Drummondville; and Mrs. F. A. Johnston, of Ayer's Cliff.

Greetings from Past Presidents unable to be present were read by Mrs. R. C. Tait as follows: Mrs. Seaton, Mrs. M. Wilson, and Mrs. W. O. R. Rothney.

Rev. John MacKay, pastor of Chalmers' Wesley Church, Quebec, conducted the communion service.

Dinner was served in the large Church Hall by the members of the Women's Association. Greetings were expressed by the following guests: Mrs. P. Carrington, Anglican churches; Mrs. V. Johnston, Presbyterian, and representatives from the Baptist Church, Salvation Army, and Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. P. Pergau, who is leaving this district to reside in Brockville, Ont., was presented with a very beautiful gift. Mrs. E. C. James made the presentation address. Mrs. Pergau very feelingly expressed her thanks for the gift.

The guest speaker at the evening session was Miss Elma Inman, of Trinidad. A very stirring appeal for recruits, prepared by Mrs. Elsie Smith, was read at this session. On Thursday morning the worship service was conducted by Mrs. E. H. Gray.

Departmental reports followed and were given by Mrs. A. E. Wilfong for the Mission Band; Mrs. C. R. Boast, affiliated C.G.I.T.; and Mrs. B. Shonyo, Baby Band; Mrs. Z. W. Griffith, Associate Helpers; Mrs. D. N. McLeod, Community Friendship; and Miss Violet Woodside, "Missionary Monthly" and "World Friends." These reports all revealed advance in membership and financial contributions.

Miss Elma Inman gave a very interesting address during this session and told several incidents regarding her work in Trinidad. The noontide worship service was led by Mrs. E. H. Woodworth. On Thursday afternoon the devotional period was conducted by

MELBORO

The "Willing Helpers" Mission Band held a meeting on Saturday, May 20, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Florence Roster. There were eleven members and one visitor present.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Roster reading the theme story, "The Uniting of Churches," followed by the recital of the "Mission Band Purpose." The hymn, "Jesus Bids Us Shine" was sung. During the business period it was decided to hold the next meeting, June 3, at the home of Mrs. Clifford Taber. Used cards were distributed for scrap books. Minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll call was answered by naming your favorite fruit. Mrs. Roster read the scripture lesson. This was followed by repeating the "Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Roster read an interesting story from the new Guide book. A new member, Phyllis Smith, was welcomed to the Band. The offering was taken up and was followed by a prayer of dedication. The hymn, "Tell Me The Story Of Jesus" was sung. This meeting closed with the "Mizpah Benediction." Refreshments were served.

Mr. Frederick Fleming and daughter, Merilyn, of Sherbrooke, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Boast. Miss Sharon Fleming, who had been spending two weeks with her grandparents, returned to Sherbrooke with them.

Gussie's Panties Turns Spotlight On Tennis Styles

By MURIEL NARROWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London—Gussie's fashion-conscious have a new interest—tennis fashion.

Since the advent of Gussie Moran's lace panties to Wimbledon last year, tennis fashions have been news on most of Britain's women's pages.

Now, with Wimbledon scheduled for June 26-July 8, tennis fashions are in strong focus.

Colonel Teddy Tinning—the man who designed Gussie's lace panties—has many new ideas. These are executed in transparent nylon, pleated taffeta, chiffon and lace.

A white broderie anglaise outfit with bare midriff has V-necked sleeveless top and full skirt over sky blue bra and pleated taffeta

DOROTHY DIX

Spinster's Lot

Reader Lists Advantages
Of Single Blessedness

Dear Miss Dix: I work for a large firm. Most of the men in it are married and they are always pitying me because I am drifting into old maidenhood and telling me that I haven't much time in which to get a husband. I smile and compare my lot with that of their wives. I live in a pleasant boarding house where I have delicious food that I do not have to prepare myself. A pretty room that I do not have to keep clean. My day's work begins at 9 and ends at 5 after which my time is my own. My salary provides me with good clothes, amusements. I have no man to keep placated nor tied to me.

The wives, as a rule, look ten years older than I do. Their work is never done. They have to cook and wash and sew and wrestle with children. They have to make every dollar do the work of five. They have to bear with men who drink and flirt and philander and who are grouchy and hard to live with and to save my life I can't see where their lot is better than mine. Do you?

DOROTHY DIX

Answer: I certainly do not unless they have such an overwhelming passion for their husbands that it takes the sting out of every sacrifice and makes them feel that every hardship is worth while if only they can be with their adored Toms, Dicks and Harrys.

MARRIAGE A RISK
Now, I'm not saying that a girl shouldn't marry until she can take out a foolproof insurance on matrimonial bliss. If she did, she would never marry. Marriage is bound to be a dangerous venture and the old proverb "nothing ventured, nothing have" is as good in it as it is elsewhere in life.

But I do say that the girl with a good job who marries thinking that she is going to better her worldly position generally finds out that she guessed wrong. As a wife she has to work longer hours than she did in any office, and she works for board and clothes with no pay envelope, and she finds her husband lots harder to get along with and more critical than her boss was.

And the only thing that makes marriage worth while is just being so much in love with her husband that nothing matters.

But when a man whose wife is wrestling with pots and pans and babies and wearing hand-me-downs pities the competent business girl because she isn't married, it certainly is a joke.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband and I have been married almost four years. No children. No happiness because we are just two opposite types of people. He likes to sit at home and never enjoys anything where he must spend money. I like to step out occasionally. He fusses even when I spend my own money. About six months ago I became tired of such a life and so I left him. We were separated only a few days and he begged me to come back, after which he was an ideal husband for two or three months. I was perfectly happy and thought he was, but he says that he can never be happy with me again. He believes there is a mate for every person and he thinks we are mismatched. I love him and it breaks my heart to think of giving him up. I am working and am self-supporting. I am 20 years old and he is 22. What should we do?

Answer: You are 20 and have been married four years. He is 22 and has been married four years. Two children who married before they were old enough to know what they wanted in a wife and husband and whose tastes have changed and who now find that they don't like what they've got and can't get along together. Another illustration of the tragic result of too early marriages.

If you really love your husband, before you finally wreck your home don't you think that you should give your marriage another chance? You haven't really tried it out yet. In marriage the one who loves most and to whom the breaking up of the marriage would mean the most suffering must necessarily make the greatest sacrifice to keep the marriage a going concern. This being true, it is up to you, if you wish to keep your husband, to make yourself the kind of wife he wants. It is a question of which you would rather have—your husband and your home, or go to parties and movies.

Dear Miss Dix: My boy friend and I are both working and making about the same salary. Do you think it wrong for me to suggest going Dutch treat to him when we go out together? We are only friends and I'd like to pay my part of a treat, but he becomes furious if I even mention it.

Answer: It is a very sensible arrangement and one that is followed by many young couples these days. But if your friend objects to it, that settles the matter as far as he is concerned. Many boys have a foolish pride that makes them feel inferior if a girl pays her score.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

shorts. Matching ankle socks are topped by broderie anglaise.

For the interval between games there is a high-length coat in nylon chiffon shaded from pale primrose to deep yellow. Washable white straw embroidery trims armholes and pockets and matches the trimming of a white celanese jersey dress with horse-shoe neckline, tiny, cuffed cap sleeves and flared skirt.

"Whispering grass," a green chiffon interval coat trimmed with white straw tassels, can be worn over a transparent dress of pleated nylon with under bra and tailored shorts of pastel-blue silk crepe.

Designs by Paris' Pierre Balmain include a white linen suit with flared skirt, deep square neckline and cape collar. The skirt and deep cape collar are decorated with tufts to match the white ball trimming that gives the suit a matador flare.

Pleated chiffon creates a shirt-top style with wide pleated skirt, deep waist-length reverses and pleated bloomer panties.

A silk shantung with side-button shirt-top and attached skirt over neat shorts has a diagonal line to the skirt hem starting from the big patch pocket which finishes the side-button neckline.

In spite of the recent color trend in tennis fashion there seems little doubt that it will be a white Wimbledon.

Gussie, for one, says that she will definitely be wearing white.

Reception Held At Sweetsburg For Miss Fuller

Sweetsburg, May 30. — A pleasant and happy event, organized by Mrs. Urban Bickford, Mrs. Nelson Potvin, Mrs. Tom Reindle and Mrs. Fred Harding, was staged on the evening of May 22, for Miss Doris Fuller, of Sweetsburg, who is to be married shortly. Over seventy guests, including the Ladies' Guild, and the altar Guild of the Church were present bringing gifts and good wishes to the prospective bride.

Mrs. Ashness-Wells officiated at the piano, rendering the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin," as the bride-to-be, escorted by Miss M. Wells, arrived.

Delicious refreshments were served, and the bride's cake, for which Mrs. D. Lyons and Mrs. Anna Moxon, were responsible, was brought in by little Faye Rundle and Master Roger Potvin, representing a bride and groom, and presented to Miss Fuller, as a surprise, to the accompaniment of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Three tables loaded with beautiful gifts, including money were a pretty sight. Mrs. Urban Bickford escorted Miss Fuller to the tables, where with the assistance of Mrs. S. Wisdom and Mrs. Horace Wells, the blushing guest of honour unwrapped the gifts and received the good wishes of her many friends.

Miss Fuller's little speech thanking all concerned for their good wishes and kindness, brought a very pleasant function to its close.

Bedford High Home And School Assoc. Meeting

Bedford, May 30. — The first annual meeting of the Bedford High School Home and School Association was held recently in the Masonic Hall. Preceding the meeting was a supper at which there were about ninety guests. They were seated at four tables which were centred with vases of spring flowers.

Seated at the head table, were President R. L. Whitcomb and Mrs. Whitcomb, Rev. and Mrs. T. F. Duncan, Rev. and Mrs. W. J. White, Mrs. Richard Craighead, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, of Cowansville, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. and Mrs. P. J. of Farnham. The arrangements for the supper were in the hands of the hospitality convener, Mrs. C. O. Jones, Jr., and the members of her committee, who included Mrs. W. J. Baglow, Mrs. Brownrigg, Mrs. Gordon Jones, Mrs. Ralph Van Horn and Messrs. Clayton Muncaster and E. Bockus. The members of the executive waited on the guests.

Grace was said by the Rev. W. J. White rector of St. James Church.

At the conclusion of the supper, the meeting was called to order by the president, who called upon Mr. Grant Lauer, chairman of the nominations committee for the slate of officers, which was as follows: President, Mr. L. R. Whitcomb; first vice-president, Mrs. M. S. McCaw; second vice-president, Mr.

W. F. Van Horn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. S. McIntosh; recording secretary, Mrs. C. O. Jones, Jr.; treasurer, Mr. Grant Lauer.

The following are committee members: Mr. William Heath, Miss Joan Beerwort, Mr. Alex MacArthur, Mr. Eric Kemp, Mr. Meryl Wells.

The following officers were named as delegates to the Regional Council: Mr. Whitcomb, president; Mrs. R. McIntosh, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. O. Jones, Jr., recording secretary.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. Ross Preston, showed receipts of $419.40, with disbursements of $250.68, leaving a balance on hand of $168.72. The cost of the hot school lunches amounted to $157.04, the cost met by donations from the Misses of Chapter, I.O.D.E. the Board of School Commissioners and the Home and School Association. Among other items mentioned were $36.14 for provincial and regional fees, expenses of speakers during the season and the school meet, $17.59. From the sale of used books, donated and sold at the last three meetings, $11.46 was realized and from several movies held at the high school on Saturday afternoons for children, $13.87 was received. Membership dues amounted to $61.50. Donations from local companies yielded $195. The auditor for the report was Mr. W. J. Baglow.

The report of the hospitality convener, Mrs. C. O. Jones, Jr., showed that between 60-75 persons were served at the meeting, with the exception of the March meeting, when 150 were served. She thanked the members of her committee Mrs. Ralph Van Horn, Mrs. Ross Preston, Mrs. W. J. Baglow and Mrs. Gordon Jones for their help and co-operation during the year.

The special committees for the tea held at the high school during Education Week included Mrs. Gordon Jones, Mrs. Roy Cook, Mrs. Gordon Terrill, Mrs. T. F. Dupean, Mrs. R. Whitcomb, Mrs. C. O. Jones, Jr., assisted by Mrs. R. S. McIntosh and Mrs. M. S. McCaw. The girls of Grade V and VI helped with the serving. During the year gifts have been received of cups and saucers, trays and sundry supplies from local merchants and members.

The report of the program committee, Mrs. M. S. McCaw, convener, was the next. One of the projects during the past season in connection with the high school students was a health program. Dr. Bews on the staff of Bell Telephone Company medical body and Dr. Stalker of Ormstown delivered several worthwhile addresses in connection with health. In connection with the school board two clinics visited the school, dental and B.C.G. Through the generous assistance of Drs. Shaffer and Dr. Draper all school pupils were medically examined and reports sent to parents. Mrs. Clayton Campbell, Mrs. Alex MacArthur and Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh generously gave of their time to assist with this work.

At the conclusion of the Cowansville High School, who spoke on school sports and Mr. E. C. Woodley, of Montreal who spoke on citizenship. In December the school concert was held. In January a debate was held between Grades X and XI, in which the Misses Beverley Corey, Isabel Wanzler, Joan Hewett and Kathryn Sheltus took part. In February Dr. Jeffries spoke on Vocational Guidance. In March a meeting, was held at which Mr. Buzzell of Montreal and Mr. Perry spoke on the centralization of school boards. The panel discussion on the obligations of parents, and teachers took place at the April meeting, with the Rev. W. J. White, Messrs. William Heath and Ross Preston of Bedford and Mr. Patch on the staff of the Cowansville High School as participants.

During April and May three movies were shown at the high school. Another aid to the health of the pupils was a soup kitchen, which operated from November to April. Mrs. Crawford and Miss Brandt of the High School staff helped with the work and two people were employed to look after the kitchen.

The speaker at the two fall meetings were Mr. John Wood, principal for children were presented on Saturday afternoons at the high school, with the kind assistance of Mrs. R. S. McIntosh and Mr. M. Wells.

In closing Mrs. McCaw thanked the members of her committee, Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, Mrs. MacArthur, Mr. William Heath, Dr. Henry Shaffer and Mr. W. J. Baglow for their assistance in planning the program. The committee is very grateful to the members of the school board for their co-operation and financial assistance in the projects. Thanks were also given to Mr. William Heath for his assistance and kind co-operation in all of the work and to all the members of the Home and School Association who have helped in the carrying out of the projects.

The report of the sports convener, Mr. William Bielloch, showed that an excellent effort had been put forth by the members of the various teams. The hockey team earned second place in the league composed of Knowlton, Farnham, Sutton and Cowansville, an improvement over the previous year, when Bedford did not win a single game. In boys' basketball the team tied for second place with Knowlton, winning four games and losing four. The girls' teams were at a disadvantage, as with the boys there is an intermediate league, but none for the girls, who have to compete in some cases with much older students. This fact must be taken into consideration their team won only two games in seven playing in senior competition. This year's sports day which was held on May 13 was a disappointment. Bedford won only a total of seven points each in the boys and girls' events.

This year the Home and School Association is instituting a system of awards for activities in school sports. A crest will be given to qualified members of each team. Next year it is hoped that this plan may be carried a step farther, through the awarding of a block letter "B" to the boys and girls who have won a prescribed number of crests. In this manner there will be no loss of incentive after one crest is earned. Mention was made of the new uniforms, some of the funds for which were given by the Home and School Association, and which were a great morale builder for the members of the teams.

In closing Mr. Bielloch thanked those who had provided cars for the players transportation, those who worked for the success of the Sports Day, and Kay and Bill Heath, Joan Beerwort, Bill Van Horn, Jim Gruer and Pete Palmer, who gave unselfishly of their time toward coaching the teams during the past year. In a brief address the president thanked all who had through their efforts made possible such a successful year. This was the first year of the Bedford Home and School Association. He then called upon the Rev. T. F. Duncan to take the chair for the installation of the officers, all of whom were returned unanimously.

The president then resumed the chair and called upon Mr. P. J. of Farnham, president of the District of Bedford Home and School Associations, for an address. Mr. P. J. expressed his pleasure at being present at the first annual meeting of the Bedford High School Home and School Association and spoke of the splendid work which had been accomplished during the past year. He paid high tribute to the excellent leadership which the Branch had enjoyed since its formation and expressed all good wishes to the Home and School Association for the coming year.

Boy Formerly Of Coaticook Is Promoted

Coaticook, May 30.—The many friends of Angus Parsons will be pleased to know that he has received an important promotion.

Mr. Parsons worked in the A. and P. store in Coaticook before going overseas in World War II. Upon his return he was stationed in Sherbrooke. Despite the fact that he lost his right hand in the war he has steadily kept climbing.

From Sherbrooke, Angus accepted a position with the D.V.A. in London, Ont., and now he has been named general manager of the Key Tag Company of the War Amputations of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and family have already taken up residence in Toronto.

On the eve of his departure from the D.V.A. office in London, Ont., Mr. Parsons was presented with a brief case and smoker's stand.

Mr. Parsons, who is also president of the Western Ontario branch of the War Amputations of Canada, was presented by them with a monogrammed pen and pencil set before leaving the London branch.

L. M. C. MEETING

The Ladies' Mission Circle held their annual Thank offering service in the Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m. The Rev. M. Davidson was the guest speaker. Refreshments were served after the service in the hall of the church.

W. M. S. MEETING

The W. M. S. of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Robert Edwards on Tuesday. The president, Mrs. A. C. Jenks, presided during the business meeting and Mrs. Cecil Akhurst and Mrs. A. J. Rogers had charge of the devotions and reviewed a chapter in the study book, "Growing With the Years." Mrs. Rogers gave a fine talk on "The Light of the World." In her address she gave an imaginary monologue by the Bible, telling of its neglect by the members of an average family.

Mrs. Cecil Akhurst, Mrs. Frank Peters and Mrs. A. Rogers presented the study book in the form of a dialogue, stressing the social work being done by the United Church. There was a good attendance and everyone enjoyed this excellent presentation given by the leaders.

"I wouldn't need an increase in my allowance if there were some jobs around I could do—like shoveling snow!"

Poet T. S. Eliot Happy At Success Of Broadway Play

By CHARLES E. WHITING
London. — (P) — T. S. Eliot, expatriate United States poet, is delighted—but a little baffled—by the continuing success of his new play "The Cocktail Party" in New York.

As a lay leader of the Church of England he is gratified that the play, with its strong religious tone, is a smash hit in the entertainment centre of what he considers a materialistic civilization.

A didactic play in verse, "The Cocktail Party" revolves around a domestic drama in which a London physician effects a solution of marital problems by a judicious blending of psychiatry, philosophy and spiritual advice.

As a playwright, he concedes he was "a bit apprehensive" about opening the play in New York after only brief tryouts in England.

"I expected that any success it might achieve would be in the line of critical prestige for its fine company rather than popular appeal," he told an interviewer.

He needn't have fretted. New York critics named "The Cocktail Party" the best foreign play of the year. A London production has been in rehearsal and is expected to open this month.

Eliot isn't concerned that some playgoers admit leaving the theatre confused about the exact meaning of the play. What does matter is that they are lining up for tickets to hear what he has to say.

"I think understanding what the author is trying to say is not the necessary part," he said. "If they think about it afterwards, that's the main thing. As I see it, a play like mine is primarily a means of entertainment. The author's real message—if that's the right word—should be submerged, at least the bulk of it, and if he's done his job well it should work for other people."

Now British Subject
Eliot (the T. S. stands for Thomas Stearns), was born in St. Louis and studied at Harvard, but has lived in England for 36 years. He gave up his American citizenship in 1927 and became a British subject.

"I was planning to stay here and wanted to accept the responsibilities that go with that status," he explained.

The British government takes his dollar royalties from "The Cocktail Party," estimated at $1,600 a week, and repays him in pounds and sterling.

What does Eliot think should be the Christian church's role in the conflict between the East and the West?

"The church's first job should be to be quite clear about its own ideas and to apply them properly to the concrete situation. As for the people, they must recognize their own convictions and make use of them. Most people seem to get along without believing in much of anything."

Eliot is "more interested in ideas than in hydrogen bombs."

"I think there's more of a danger that we should get involved in a kind of totalitarian society in the struggle against totalitarianism. If it got to the point where we should have as little individual liberty left as the Russians, that would be a serious thing."

Britain Offers Wool Fashions For Every Mood

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London. — (P) — "Leisure and Pleasure in Wool"—the International Wool Secretariat's latest London show—presents a comprehensive range of wool fashions suitable to every occasion of fun or idleness.

In sportswear there are fashions for yachting, archery, shooting, riding, fishing, swimming and beach lounging.

For archery, a sand colored light-weight Harris tweed suit has inverted pleats under the sleeves and at each side of the back for freedom of movement.

A white worsted pleated skirt, white cashmere sweater and double-breasted navy reefer jacket lined with scarlet is one of the yachting designs.

For shooting, a divided skirt in blue and tan light-weight Harris check tweed has double-breasted jacket with tan leather yoke and gun-guard and wide leather belt with attached cartridge pouch.

The perfect tailoring reminiscent of side-saddle days is seen in a black whipcord hunt jacket with long pleated basque, its high-buttoned neckline finished by white wool stock.

Combined with white West or England cavalry twill breeches, long black boots and traditional bowler hat, it has the incomparable smartness of the English hunting scene of yesterday.

Gussie's Outfit
A tennis outfit to be worn at Wimbledon this year by Gussie Moran is in white worsted heringbone. It's a three-piece, shorts, pleated skirt and tailored vest over classic shirt sweater.

Spectators are also catered for in this year's sportswear.

One perfect model is a coat of cerise wool-proofed gabardine lined with tartan. The elbow-length tartan cape turns into a hood and there are matching tartan gloves and weather-proofed gabardine shoes.

Perfect for a casual country week-end is the "separates" outfit of proofed gabardine comprising suit, cocktail outfit, evening cape and slacks.

The long black evening cape is lined with stone and matches the classic stone jacket combined with black pencil skirt. Remove the jacket and the skirt becomes a dress, its cuff-top halter neckline piped with stone. To this can be added a short, cape-cum-head-snood. The cuff-top is also worn with slacks for sunbathing.

Ear-Piercing Back With London Women

London. — (P) — Women are queuing to have their ears pierced in order to wear the "chandelier" earrings which once more are fashionable in London.

Most fashionable ear-piercer here is Cyril R. Wilkinson, who has "operated" on the Queen, the Duchess of Kent and the Duchess of Gloucester.

He reckons to pierce an ear within a second, with a sensation about as painful as a pinprick. He uses a local anaesthetic. Business girls are flocking to his "clinic" during lunch hours.

Canada Buys Rails From Middlesbrough

Middlesbrough, England. — (P) — A Middlesbrough firm is working on Canadian orders worth $1,000,000.

One is for a substantial proportion of an order for 15,000 tons of steel rails for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, owned by the British Columbia government.

The other is for 2,500 broad flange beams for Toronto.

The successful firm is Cargo Fleet Iron Company. The contracts resulted from a visit to Canada last fall by a deputation representing all interests of the steel industry.

The first shipment of rails for British Columbia already has left the rolling mills.

"Wizard" Rainmaker Ends In High Court

Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia. — (P) — The conviction of a native "wizard" who claimed to be the reincarnation of a famous rainmaker who lived more than 100 years ago, is one of the cases quoted in the annual report of the Commissioner of the British South Africa Police.

The impostor was acclaimed for a while, says the report, and due respect was paid to him. He instituted a system of fines for alleged offences against his "dignity," and local natives submitted because of their fear that he would cause the rain to fall.

His failure to produce rain on demand proved his undoing, and eventually he found his way to the high court, where he was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for fraud, extortion and rape.

GIVES WIFE ADVICE

"Do you mind a mere male having something to say about washdays? My wife keeps my shirts sparkling white, which is important in my business. She tells me the secret is Keen's Blue, which prevents clothes turning yellow. She takes no chances with anything that may damage fabric. Just a swish or two of Keen's Blue in the final rinse is all there is to it. The fact that Keen's Blue costs only a few pennies a month makes sense to me, too."

We appreciate the co-operation you have shown during the period of change-over from "Manual" to "Dial" operation of Sherbrooke-Lennoxville's telephone system. The new equipment is working very efficiently. You can help keep the service up to its high standard by remembering these three points:

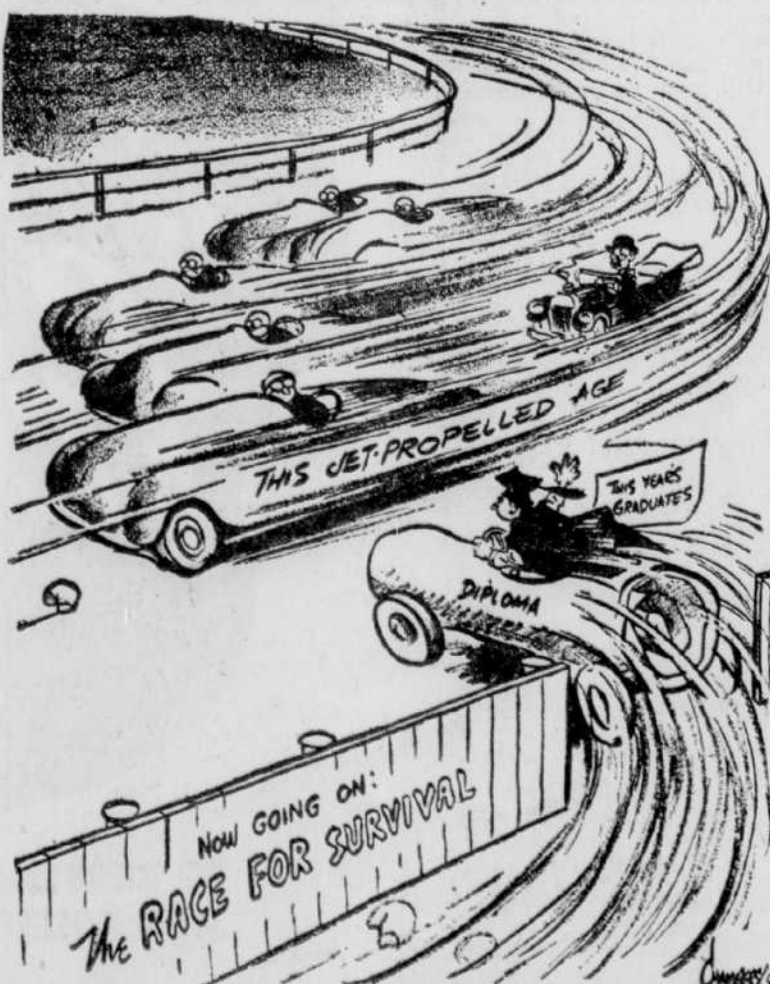

1. Before placing a call always make sure of the number by first looking it up in the new directory.
2. Use all possible care when dialing — follow carefully the instructions on page 3 of the new directory.
3. Destroy your old directory.

The introduction of this new system is part of our continuing program designed so that you may have more and better telephone service. It means greater telephone value to every user.

Annual County Convention Of Brome W.I.'s

South Bolton, May 30.—The annual county convention of Women's Institutes of Brome County convened on Wednesday, May 17, at Spring Valley Ranch, South Bolton. Members of the South Bolton branch entertained. The county president, Mrs. Clifford Bryant, was in the chair. Also present were Mrs. C. B. Cowan, county secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Gordon Harvey, provincial treasurer.

The secretary read the minutes of the last year's annual in May, 1949, which met in Austin, and the semi-annual in October, which met at Knowlton Landing. The secretary's report from each branch was read. Work done included: Boxes sent to England, children remembered at Christmas, cheer to sick and shut-ins, member sent to handicraft class, white elephant sale, help towards hot lunches in schools, kitchen built in a community hall, and all branches helped towards the Watt Memorial Fund.

The County Educational convener, Mrs. Dufresne, was asked to form a committee and draw up a resolution to forward to the federal member, asking that the work of the National Film Board be not discontinued.

The county conveners were nearly all present and presented their reports. Nearly all branch conveners had sent reports. These were quite complete and showed a great deal of new work had been done during the year as well as the usual routine work. A nominating committee was named to prepare a slate of officers. The secretary-treasurer reported five branches in the county with a membership of 128. The meeting then adjourned for dinner which was served in the hall.

During the dinner recess everyone viewed the exhibits of handicraft articles from each branch. Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. C. George acted as judges. The Abercorn branch received the first prize, and Austin the second prize. It was decided that each branch put on a thrift exhibit at the semi-annual in October in Sutton.

Mrs. Whitaker gave a cordial address of welcome at the beginning of the afternoon session. Mrs. Russell, of Sutton, responded. Mrs. Harvey then spoke on W. I. work. She also took the chair for the election of officers. Mrs. Taylor, of Austin, presented the slate of officers. Without any further nominations the slate was accepted as read. Mrs. Harvey used the new installation ceremony with all the officers and conveners standing in line.

The slate is as follows: Hon. president, Mrs. Cameron, South Bolton W.I.; president, Mrs. Bryant, Austin W.I.; first vice-president, Mrs. W. Westover, Abercorn W.I.; second vice-president, Mrs. C. Westover, Knowlton Landing W.I.; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Cowan, Abercorn W.I.; agricultural, Mrs. D. Sherrer, Abercorn W.I.; health and welfare, Mrs. Schoolcraft, South Bolton W.I.; citizenship, Mrs. Whitaker, South Bolton W.I.; education, Mrs. Dufresne, Austin W.I.; home economics, Mrs. S. Cook, Sutton W.I.; publicity, Mrs. Claud George, Knowlton's Landing W.I.

Guests at the head table were Rev. W. H. Boomhour, R. G. McHarg, Charles Crawford, Stanstead, H. N. Pierce, Lynn McDougall, R. J. Stafford, and Mr. George Morrison, Secretary of Stanstead Co. Minor Hockey Association, of Beebe. Other guests were Ernest Whipple, and Everett Slack.

Mr. H. N. Pierce, president of the local Athletic Association, acted as chairman, and called up Mr. Charles Crawford for the presentation of the Stanstead County Fish and Game Club Cup, which was presented for the winners of the Bantam Play Offs. This was received by the Captain, Robert McHarg.

Mr. Morrison presented Mr. J. N. White's cup for the League winners, as Mr. White was unable to be present. Marcel Vaillancourt, Assistant Capt., received this cup.

Mr. Lynn McDougall made a suitable speech to the Bantam team stressing some pointers on being good hockey players. Mr. R. G. McHarg, the coach, presented the individual cups to the members. They were received with a good deal of zest. These cups were given by the Ayer's Cliff Athletic Association.

Mr. H. N. Pierce then made a short speech, after which Rev. Boomhour addressed the company, congratulating them on their success. Robert McHarg in brief remarks thanked the ladies for the banquet in their honor, and for the cups. These cups are on display in R. G. McHarg's store window.

BAPTISM

On Sunday morning in Beulah United Church "Mother's Day" was honored in a very appropriate way. The highlight of the service was the sacrament of Holy Baptism bestowed on two babies, Gloria Lillian, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Graham, and to James Stanley, young baby of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cooper, nee Lois Bliss.

A sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Boomhour, the subject, "The Hidden Years." He stressed the mother's training, the father's example, and the teachers' discipline as the important factors in the making of one's lives. The spiritual training one receives when young has a great bearing over the future years. The thought of Christ becomes the natural thing in the days of childhood, and this is carried on through the years as a most natural thing.

That builds up the strength of character, and he said one often became confused over gentleness, thinking that it was a weakness rather than a strength. But Jesus was sympathetic and tender, and at all times gentle, and in the world today the need for gentleness was prevalent.

Mr. Lambourne played the solo "My Task", and the choir rendered a beautiful anthem.

W. I. MEETING

The Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. N. W. Lobb, May 12, with Mrs. W. Thompson, as joint hostess. Mrs. Murray Thompson, president, opened the meeting. Mrs. M. Gibson gave a report of the Banquet given in honor of the Bantam Hockey Team. Mrs. E. Crook read the correspondence, and Mrs. N. Pierce read a letter from Mrs. Dunning, in England, one of the people that boxes of food have been sent to.

After some discussion a resolution was passed by the members that they would like to have the work of the National Film Board continued. Miss M. L. Kezar reported that the material for new curtains for the Rest Room on the Fair grounds had been purchased. A committee, Mrs. W. Robinson, and Mrs. J. E. McVicar were appointed to make the curtains. Mrs. R. G. McHarg, convener of citizenship, suggested that we donate some money to Rimouski, Cabano, and Winnipeg, with a request that all branches follow suit.

Mrs. McHarg gave a report on the local school lunches. Money was voted for the Cancer Fund, and also to collect old linens which must be white and clean for cancer patients. The box of food for England will be sent by Mrs. McHarg, and Mrs. N. C. Whitcomb, who offered to help. Mrs. Ruth White gave a report of the County Meeting held at Beebe.

The Branch Exhibit at the Fair this year will be a handicraft article that has been made by an Institute member or family within a year. The program was in charge of the Agriculture convener, Mrs. A. Shuttlesworth, who read a poem of the "Gardener" and control of weeds in strawberries. Then a quiz on flowers in an old fashioned garden followed, and Mrs. J. E. McVicar won the prize. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Lyle Thompson's, on Friday, June 2.

General Notes

Mr. William Lucas, of Springfield, Vt., has arrived in town and is overseeing and making arrangements for the necessary renovations of the opening of Underwood Lodge. This place is now owned by Mr. Eugene Standish, of Way's Mills.

The many friends of Mrs. L. H. Parnell of McConnell will be sorry to hear that she is confined to bed and all trust that she may improve.

Kitchen Gets Co-ordinated Color

Coming into the kitchen to make it brighter and meal preparation simpler are a drip coffee maker which triple filters coffee and comes in modern decorator colors, and clear frozen food containers which can be used over (above); color co-ordinated kitchen towel ensembles (below).

By GAILE DUGAS

New York — Kitchen towels designed around a solid color are the newest contribution to a smart, co-ordinated kitchen. The theory is that any kitchen will look better by introducing the same decorator principles used for bathroom ensembles.

These new sets team solid color terry hand towels and potholders with dish towels in stripes and plaids. The solid colors—dark green, cardinal red, nutmeg, cornflower blue and sunflower yellow—pick up one of the plaid or stripe colors. The whole makes for harmony among the pots and pans.

A drip coffee maker which doubles as a tea pot and which when it makes coffee, extracts 98 per cent of the coffee flavor, is another contribution to kitchen harmony. The coffee it makes is triple-filtered; it comes in modern decorator colors to carry out a kitchen theme.

Clear plastic frozen food containers have been designed to show at a glance just what you're getting for dinner. The container covers are flexible and lock tight, maintaining a complete seal. The containers can be used over and over again.

A new rotary grater, which places the grater against the food, rather than the other way around, is now available. Made of steel and coated to prevent rust, this design has 180 cutters which grate up every bit of food put into it.

It makes short work of nutmeg, ordinarily difficult to grate; chocolate, which is messy; coconut, usually dangerous to the fingers; hard-boiled eggs, bread crumbs and even ice for frappes. And it comes apart of easy washing. A sister product is a rotary julienne which shreds, slices or juliennes all solid and leafy vegetables and preserved fruits.

A low-pressure cooker and sterilizer which is new prepares and sterilizes baby formulas. It has a low pressure of 3 1/2 pounds for general cooking, but also works at the usual 10 and 15-pound pressures. An interlocking handle safety device prevents opening the cooker when there is more than one-half pound pressure inside. The new low-pressure cooking was developed for greater retention of flavors and vitamins.

family of Glines Corner, spent Mother's Day with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Waite.

During the day accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Waite, and Mrs. Doris Goode, they motored to Fitch Bay, where they visited Miss Clara Wyman, Mrs. W. E. Ketcham, and Miss Lovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Cass and son, Stephen, of St. Lambert, were guests over the week-end of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Cass.

The friends of Mrs. Homer Martin were sorry to learn that she is a patient in La Providence Hospital, Magog, where she underwent an operation. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Rev. W. H. Boomhour, Mr. A. H. Slack, and Mr. Willard H. Rexford, were in Cowansville one day last week, where they attended a meeting of the Presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

The many friends of Mrs. H. Nelson Pierce, assistant manager of the local telephone office, are very pleased to welcome her back with "Number please."

The many friends here of Mrs. A. J. MacIntosh, of Lennoxville, are indeed sorry to learn that she

Machinery Takes Over Top Position In Loop With Victory Over Bruck; Superheater And Regiment Also Win

Closely played games were witnessed last night in all three games at the Parade Grounds in the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball league.

By margin of their 6 to 2 victory over Bruck Mills, Sherbrooke Machinery took over the league leadership. In the other two games Superheater continued their winning ways by defeating Railroaders 8 to 3, and the luckless Fairbanks went down to defeat again, losing to the Regiment by a 12 to 5 score.

Charlie Clark, of Machinery, was the big gun in his team's victory over Bruck Mills, hitting a home run in the third inning, with two aboard. He also connected for two singles. R. Pepin, in the mound for Bill Cochran's men, also had a big say in the win holding Bruck to 4 scattered hits.

Les Bessant had control of his game all the way against Railroaders. His team mates gave him a six run lead in the first two innings, and he sent six men down via the strikeout route. Guay and Moisan, of Superheater, collected circuit clouts in this game.

The Regiment - Fairbanks game was a free hitting affair, both teams collecting for plenty of hits. Regiment got theirs when they were most needed. They pushed seven runs across in the first three innings, and led all the way to win out with a 12 to 5 victory. Errors by Fairbanks part played a big part in their defeat, no less than four miscues being made by the Scudmen.

Sharp Competition And Record Fastest Field May Set New Mark In 500-Mile Memorial Day Race

Indianapolis, May 30.—(AP)—Prospects of hub-to-hub competition and a record for the 500-mile Memorial Day automobile race pulled a mammoth crowd through the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 31 gates today.

Speedway officials had facilities set up to handle more than 175,000 spectators. Starting time for the race was noon EDT.

The fastest field in the 34 runnings of the sweepstakes was capable of finishing the 200-lap contest in four hours or less at a speed of 125 miles an hour. It depended on the weather—and whether the race was slowed by bad wecks.

Bill Holland of Reading, Pa., missed the four-hour mark last year by less than eight minutes in setting the record-winning average of 121.317 miles an hour.

Holland and Mauri Rose of South Bend, Ind., who edged out Holland for first money in 1947 and 1948, were the only former winners in the 33-car field.

Rose, co-winner with Floyd Davis in 1941, shifted to a front-drive car owned by the Howard Keck Company of Los Angeles in his campaign to become the first four-time winner. It was a proved car, driven non-stop to sixth money last year by Jimmy Jackson, Desert Hot Springs, Calif.

Jackson had the only unorthodox racer in today's field, a new six-cylinder Cummins diesel special built as an experiment by the Cummins Engine Company of Columbus, Ind. The slowest car in the qualifications, it nevertheless showed more speed than can be used in the race and has proved its durability in more than 800 miles of test runs.

The rest of the cars were powered by four-cylinder engines, Meyer-Drakes or their predecessors Offenhausers.

Sitting in the No. 1 starting position was Walt Faulkner of North Long Beach, Calif., the first speedway rookie to start on the pole since George Boillot of France won the spot in 1914.

The jockey-size Faulkner led ten first-time speedway drivers in time trials with a record 10-mile average of 134.343 miles an hour.

The field's over-all average was 131.045, about two miles faster than anybody ever drove at any stage of the 500-mile grind.

Ted Atkinson Boots Home Six Winners

New York, May 30.—(AP)—If you had put a $2 parlay on Ted Atkinson's mounts yesterday at Belmont and been smart enough to stop at the end of the sixth race, you'd have come away with around $19,160.

It was a big day for backers of the 34-year-old Toronto-born saddlesmith, who rode five straight winners.

Atkinson took both halves of the daily double with puff ($8.90) in the first and scotch wine ($11.90) in the second. Each won by six lengths.

He skipped the third race, a steeplechase, and then won Two Rainbows ($5.70) and Bannerday ($22.80) before bringing Banfo boy ($22.10) home in the featured Patchogue Handicap.

Terrific Teddy was beaten out by a nose on Called in the seventh race and finished third on Play Request in the eighth.

Nobody minded, He'd had a busy day.

L.H.S. Downs St. Pat's 14-7 In Softball Tilt

Collecting fifteen hits, and capitalizing on four miscues, by St. Pat's, Lennoxville High School swamped the Irish squad 14-7 in a regular fixture of the Senior High School Softball League.

Smith and Littlejohn paced their team to victory with a homer and two singles apiece. Bruce Cline drove out a round-tripper, for St. Pat's, but the bases were empty at the time.

St. Pat's, playing with only eight men, held the Lennoxville club for four innings, and were out in front at the time 6-5. In the lower half of the frame Lennoxville jumped into the front when they tallied eight runs on nine hits off of Dorey, the green and white hurler.

In the seventh the Irish team added one more but failed to come any closer as Lennoxville held on to their big lead and finished well out in front 14-7.

Magog Curling Club Holds Annual Meeting

Special to the Record
Magog, May 30.—John Cunningham was re-elected president of the Magog Curling and Social Club at the annual meeting in the clubhouse.

Edgar Whalley was named to the post of secretary while Frank Patch was nominated to the office of treasurer by the new board of directors. O. T. Webster was in the chair while balloting was carried out. The following were elected as directors for the coming season, John Cunningham, Edgar Whalley, Yves Forest, Lloyd Styan, Frank Patch, Turner Webster, Harry Milne, Cal Graves and Eddie Hendry.

Previous to the voting the financial report was read by Yves Forest and showed that the club had enjoyed a very good year and finished with a very substantial profit. Lloyd Styan and Archie St. Martin moved and seconded the motion for its adoption.

Edgar Whalley Elected Head Of Mt. Orford Club

Special to the Record
Magog, May 30.—At a meeting of the Mount Orford Golf Club, held last week at Beaudry's Hall, Edgar Whalley was elected president and Charles E. Jackson was elected vice-president.

At the same time Leo Tanguay was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer and Spencer Clark was elected captain of the club.

The following were elected committee members: Membership committee, J. L. St. Pierre, Charles F. Jackson, Emile Tessier, Ladies' committee, Mrs. Edward Mandig, Miss Alice Whittey, Miss Marion Taylor.

Grounds committee: John Boardman, Arthur Dion, J. E. Hendry. Match committee: Harry Milne, Lionel Chamberland, J. E. Hendry.

Norman Van Nida Sets Hot Pace In Qualifying

New York, May 30.—(AP)—It's been 30 years since a foreigner won the United States Open Golf Championship but Uncle Sam had better watch out for his silverware early next month.

Norman Van Nida, the little Australian with the giant-sized golf game, promises to be tough when the sport's mighty tee off at the historic Ardmore, Pa., Club June 8.

The gentleman from Sydney, Australia, sounded a warning when he outshot a top drawer full of the country's professionals in sectional qualifying trails at the Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, Tex.

He fashioned rounds of 68-67-131, over the 7,035-yard, par-70 layout, for one of the hottest rounds of the day.

Von Nida scored his greatest successes in Britain where he was leading money winner in 1947 and winner of the British Vardon Trophy with an average of 71.25 strokes for 52 rounds.

He made the Southern Tournament swing in the U.S. in 1948 and returned for a stab at major U.S. titles this spring. Big Ted Ray of Britain was the last foreign victor in the open in 1920.

Von Nida's rounds weren't the best of the more than 1,000 posted yesterday across the country but they certainly carried the greatest impact.

Two Texas professionals set the qualifying pace at Midland, Tex., with seven-under-par 133's. Wally Harden of El Paso shot 69-64, Elroy Marti of Houston turned in 69-67.

Thirty-two players were exempt from qualifying, including defending champion Cary Middlecoff and Frank Stranahan, who won the British Amateur Saturday. The field will number 165.

By IZAAK HUNTER BUSH CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING

First of all, with my return to what some people choose to call "civilization," most readers of this column will wish to know about the bush situation. Well, a check-up with Mr. Henri Kiefer, chief of Quebec's forest protection, yesterday afternoon revealed the fact that from St. Agathe west the bush is open, while from St. Donat east the forest areas of the province are closed to circulation. This is with the exception of the northern portions of most of the eastern counties. The Laurentide Park and Lake St. John regions are still closed. There has been an absence of rain in the eastern section, but conditions as regards humidity have been improving. There can be no reliable forecast as to when closed sections will be declared open as this rests entirely with weather conditions.

Mr. Kiefer is a very nice man and a very competent guardian of our forests, but the horrid thought is starting to grow that he is gunning for me. At any rate it seems that every time the bush is closed on account of the fire hazard I am in it. Two years ago the closing of the bush found me poised with Fitz and a couple of guides at O'Connell Lodge on Lac des Loups waiting to move it. We couldn't even go out and kill time by fishing for pike in front of the Lodge.

Speculated Trout Fishing Jinxed
This time I was in the same general location, the MacLean family's Lake Desert Fish and Game Club, 45 miles northwest of Maniwaki. We had just returned from O'Sullivan Lake up toward Clava late Thursday after a couple of days of lake trout, pike and dore fishing, planning to put in Friday and Saturday angling for speckled trout in the vicinity of Desert Lake.

The first news we had from the outside world Friday morning as we prepared to set out for the day, was that Sudz Sutherland, C.I.P. boss over at Maniwaki, phoned in to say the bush had been closed. So that was that. No speckled trout fishing at all. But short of confining me to my room they can't stop me fishing at Desert Lake. At a pinch I think one might successfully cast right off the verandah of Stuart's lodge, but it is as tough as that and I caught multitudes of pike with a 4-ounce spinning outfit right off the dock.

Rain Stated Saturday Noon
It started to rain up there around noon Saturday. It really came down to the tune of a prolonged thunderstorm, the rainfall continuing far into the night. The order opening the bush in that locality was not given until about noon on Sunday and then it was too late for Rock Lake or Kay Lake and their speckled trout.

It had cleared a bit Sunday forenoon but was closing in once more when Peter Daugherty, Mr. MacLean's pilot, and I, set out for Dorval in the Widgeon. Pete had ascertained by radio that conditions over Montreal were good although it seemed pretty soupy nearly everywhere else. We travelled almost the entire 145 miles at 2,000 to 3,000 feet, without being able to see much of the ground, and the first sky we saw was when we approached Lake of Two Mountains. For fully 60 miles we were in rain which was moving eastward very slowly. I'm still hoping Pete got back through that muck without too much trouble, but for the way he handles a plane I guess he made it all right.

Mosquitoes And Flies Are Out
Indications in the air were that the storm front would hit Montreal Sunday night, but it didn't and there is no indication that it by-passed the city and went on to relieve the dried-out eastern section of the province. So much for the important matter of bush conditions—oh, yes, with the exception of the fact that mosquitoes and black flies have started their operations for the season. It may be reported also that these insects have lost nothing of their qualities which have made them world-infamous.

Trout Hunting With Greg Clark
In the current issue of The Seigneur publication of the Seigneurie Club, is a charming bit of writing on the subject of trout fishing by the one and only Greg Clark. La Chasse aux Truites, Greg called the piece, giving it a Quebec flavor which he is well qualified to do on the basis of fishing experience. Many a veteran Quebec angler has far to go to catch up with Greg in the fishing of waters of this province.

And the writer takes Quebec lakes as the scene of his essay which is especially topical as it

Sort Of A Human Fly Trap
Greg Clark possesses perhaps more trout flies than any man in Canada. He ties them himself and hires everybody in this country and the United Kingdom to tie them for him. He spots patterns new to him in ancient books and magazines unearthed from second hand book stores. Having made such a find he does not rest until Bill Gulline here in Montreal or some fly creator in England or Scotland has made him up a batch of them.

So Mr. Clark knows about flies. But when it comes to La Chasse aux Truites what does he do? Well, he does just about what a relative neophyte like Izaak Hunter would do. He uses a selection of flies which can be picked up in almost any hardware store (not always too well tied or with fast colors or natural wing edges). He takes them in size 8 or even 6 of the wet variety and they are the following: Grizzly King, Montreal, Parnassus Belle and Professor.

The Grizzly King adds to that list the Black Gnat and gives the Montreal place of honor. But I am not Greg Clark and who asked me, anyhow?

An Unfortunate Game Warden
With this one we will have had about everything. Did you ever hear of a game warden killing a deer out of season in a game sanctuary, and that deer a doe carrying two unborn fawns? Well neither did I until a few days ago when the sad story was told to me by Inspector Hubert Lemieux, head of the Game and Fisheries.

The victim (aside from the deer) was Warden Philippe Reniere, of St. Hyacinthe who was returning home after a mission in to the local headquarters passing through the game sanctuary between St. Hyacinthe and Ste. Madeleine he was held up by a slow moving truck. He speeded up to pass the truck and just at that moment a deer bounded out of the bush and across the road in front of the truck. It was struck by the warden's fender and killed outright. The little doe would soon have mothered two fawns so it was a costly and unavoidable accident for Quebec Wildlife.

Many accidents the victims are birds and animals and the victims are not unavoidable and it behooves those who believe in conservation to look sharply and drive carefully when passing through game country.

Montreal, May 30.—(AP)—Frank Selke, General Manager of the Montreal Canadiens Hockey Club, said last night his team had accepted a challenge from Toronto Maple Leafs to meet once more on the baseball diamond—this time in Toronto.

(Canadiens edged Leafs 13-12 in a benefit exhibition ball game here Sunday.)

Proceeds of the game will go to food relief. In the Montreal game, proceeds went to the relief of Rimouski, Que., fire victims.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 30.—(AP)—George Case, the former Washington Senators star, can be forgiven if he seems slightly bewildered by the tricks because the Rutgers team was tapped for the United States college world series.

George never had coached college baseball or even seen a college game before he was persuaded to take the Rutgers job when Chuck Ward quit early in the spring. . . . George was one Washington player who could not get on base often enough to set base-stealing records. He pilfered 61 in 1943 and apparently he taught his boys some of the tricks because the Rutgers team stole 58 in 19 games this spring. . . . "Naturally it was a change from pro baseball—the boys aren't expected to live baseball 24 hours a day," George comments. "But I think the real secret of our success is that the Rutgers boys play to win. That night sound strange, but some of the teams we've met just didn't seem to have the spark that makes a team battle all the way." . . . Heck, what have a chance to battle against a team that has six .300 hitters—and good pitching to boot?

Bob Coletti And Lou Knerr Report To Local Club; First Game Slated For 7.15 In Important Fixture

Sherbrooke Athletics, reinforced by the arrival of two new pitchers, may move back on top of Albert Molini's league this evening, weather permitting if they can take the measure of Bob Latshaw's Granby Red Sox in the first scheduled doubleheader of the season at the Park Avenue Stadium.

Bob Coletti and Lou Knerr reported in to Amedee Roy, business manager of the local team, late yesterday afternoon, and the boys may see action tonight when the A's meet up with their old rivals, Granby Red Sox, in the initial twin-bill fixture of the present season. The first game is slated to commence at 7.15.

Coletti tips the scales at 175 pounds and stands a little over six feet. He is a lefthander and will join Lefty Jean Bournot to complete the starboard section of the local hurling staff. Lou Knerr is no newcomer to the fans of Sherbrooke. Last year he joined the A's, towards the end of the season, and chalked up two wins against four reversals. He took part in considerable games as relief hurler and helped to salvage quite a few fixtures for the locals.

Knerr commenced the season in the Texas League with Shreveport and had a record of two wins against one set back. The arrival of the two newcomers will help the short-handed local staff, who have been taxed considerably during the past week, and will no doubt be a very welcomed asset.

In the other two games Drummondville travels to St. Hyacinthe to meet the surprising Saints, while Farnham moves over to St. John to take on Steve Mizerak and his Braves, co-holders of first position in the circuit with the Drummondville squad.

The Athletics, who were knocked out of first position over the weekend, will be trying to improve their position, but have always have hard going with the Granby team. The Red Sox seems to always come up with a good game when they tangle with the locals, but with the addition of the two new hurlers perhaps it will be a different story.

Bedford Downs Knowlton 6-2 For Third Consecutive Win; Travel To Enosburg For Sunday Fixture

Bedford, May 30.—Bedford baseball team chalked up their third consecutive victory here Sunday afternoon when they downed Knowlton 6-2 to take over sole possession of top position in the Eastern Border Baseball League.

It was a nip and tuck battle for the first six innings. Knowlton was the first to tally in the upper half of the sixth when they pushed home one run. In the lower half of the frame the home team staked the count when they came up with a run.

In the seventh Bedford blew the game wide open when Tim Smith connected for a round-tripper with two aboard, and then Lou Godin, Bedford, drove out a lusty double scoring two more runs. Manager Gordon Perrell's team added one more tally when the visitors committed a miscue to give the home team a 6-1 lead.

In the eighth Doug Sutor, the first man up for Knowlton, came through with a home run to tally the final score of the afternoon. Bedford went the route for Bedford while Dugre, who commenced the game for Knowlton, was lifted for Doug Sutor in the seventh inning when the home team staged their big rally.

Knowlton and Enosburg are tied for second position in the loop standing while Notre Dame, Magog, Richford, Cowansville and Phillipsburg follow close behind.

On Sunday the Bedford team will travel to Enosburg to tangle with the home team and try for their fourth straight victory.

Philadelphia Phillies Open Up Important First-Place Series With Brooklyn Dodgers Today

If anybody were to predict a couple of months ago that Philadelphia Phils would come into Brooklyn today as the National League leaders, he'd probably be regarded as nothing more than a died-in-the-wool Philly fanatic.

But here it is May 30, Memorial Day in the United States, and those fightin' Phils are sitting on the roof of the standings, enjoying a half game margin on the defending champion Dodgers.

The amazing part of the Phils' success is that they've done it with a minimum of help from Nym Meyer and Ken Henzelmann, the two pitching mainstays of 1949's third-place outfit.

Responsible for the Phils' success are a pair of 23-year-old bonus players—Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons. Each has won six games while losing only two. Roberts won 12 games all last season while Simmons won only four.

The Phils now boast a mark of 22-13. They have the best record of any club in the circuit with 12 victories against seven losses. The Dodgers have played no better than .500 ball on the road with a 9-9 rating.

Also threatening are St. Louis Cardinals who can climb on the backs of the leaders with a twin triumph in Pittsburgh. The Cards trail the Phils by 1½ games. Rounding out the National League schedule fourth-place Boston, three games off the pace, meets the seventh-place Giants at Braves Field.

In the American League the inability of the Boston Red Sox to win sufficiently on the road, a deficiency which cost them the flag last two seasons, again is keeping them from the top rung. As the Red Sox prepared to face the front-running Yankees in New York in a doubleheader, Joe McCarthy's men showed only a 10-10 record away from home.

The Red Sox are in third place, three lengths behind the Yanks, because they're still almost unbeatable at home. They've won 14 of 20 at Fenway Park.

The second place Detroit Tigers are the best road club in the American League so far this season. While playing under .500 ball at home (7-8), Red Rolfe's Bengals have been a ball of fire away from Briggs Stadium where they've won 14 of 17. The Yankees, boasting a two-game bulge on the Tigers, have a 14-4 mark on the road and a 10-6 record at home.

When the Yankees and Red Sox battle it out at the Yankee Stadium, Detroit plays host to the fourth-place Cleveland Indians. The Tribe, three games over the .500 mark, are 5½ games off the pace.

In other American League doubleheaders, Buckey Harris' astonishing Washington Senators meet the Athletics in Philadelphia while St. Louis Browns are hosts to Chicago White Sox.

In the only big league game played yesterday, Chicago White Sox came up with six runs in the last two innings to come from behind and outlast St. Louis Browns 12-8. Phil Masi, veteran White Sox catcher, drove in five runs with a single and triple. Eight pitchers were used, five by the losers.

Howard Judson Finally Wins A Baseball Game

St. Louis, May 30.—(AP)—Maybe it's stage fright that keeps Howard Judson from winning ball games.

He won yesterday, all right, and didn't even show a trace of nervousness.

You see, the stands were all but empty and quiet. Paid attendance was only 624—it was a setting in which a man could concentrate.

Judson pitched 3½ innings for Chicago White Sox and was credited with a 12-8 victory over St. Louis Browns. Miraculous? For Judson it was. He had lost 15 straight. In fact, he hadn't won a game since April 21, 1949.

Yesterday he took the mound in the fourth inning with the score tied at 6-6. In the fifth St. Louis scored two runs on a double and a homer and it looked as if Judson had blown another game.

Trailing 8-6, Judson was pulled for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, his teammates staged a four-run uprising and Judson went down in the win column.

How did it feel to win one?

"Well, I took a lot of ribbing, of course," Judson said. "I thought I had lost that one, too. It sure feels wonderful; it's been such a long, long time."
