Property Rights Explained To Cottagers By Rowat

The Norway Bay Municipal Association on Saturday night held a general meeting of its members in the dance hall at Scobie House, Norway Bay. Under the chairmanship of Director, W. A. Brown, the meeting was addressed by Mr. Harland Rowat, Notary, of Shawville. Mr. Rowat outlined a few matters relating to property and water rights in Quebec which he felt would be of direct interest to his listeners.

His remarks may be briefly summarized as follows: In the Province of Quebec it is important to know the rights which a property owner has with respect to bodies of water found on or adjacent to his property. In order to ascertain the rights of the property owner, it is necessary to classify the land, and the water, under the following headings:

1. Land granted by the Crown prior to June 1, 1884 must be differentiated from land granted after that date.

2. Lakes, rivers and streams are either "navigable and floatable" or 'non-navigatable and non-floatable'. The question of whether a particular body of water is one or the other is a question of fact and not of law. The Ottawa River has been ruled by the courts to be navigable and floatable. The Gatineau River has been ruled to be non-navigable and non-floatable, so that smaller rivers such as the Quyon may be regarded as non-navigable and non-floatable.

If the body of water is navigable and floatable, the rights of the holder of property bordering or surrounding the water, end at the high water mark. The water itself is Crown property and may be freely used, subject to the general law, by the public. However, if access to the water can be gained only by passage across private property, the property owner could prevent the public from going across the land to make use of the Crown owned water. The high water mark is the point at which the body of water overflows its banks. Persons engaged in using the water for business purposes have the right to the use of land adjacent to the water as a towpath, even where such land is privately owned.

If the body of water is non navigable and non-floatable and if the property surrounding or adjacent to the water was granted by the Crown prior to June 1, 1884, then the owner of that property owns the water and everything in it to a distance of half the distance to the opposite shore. This ownership means the owner could prevent the public from fishing in the water, but could not prohibit the use of the water as a highway.

Where land surrounding or adjacent to non-navigable, non-floatable bodies of water was granted after June 1, 1884, the Crown has retained all rights to the water and all rights to the land for a distance of 3 chains inland from the water.

Where land has been purchased adjacent to a body of water, and the water later encroaches on the land, the property owner loses all rights in the land so encroached upon. Similarly, if water recedes, by natural action, the owner of property adjacent to the water would be entitled to take to himself the land

Refuse To Fight Fire - Eight Fined

Eight more men were fined in court in Campbell's Bay on charges of refusing to fight forest fires in the district.

The charges were laid by the Ottawa River Forest Protective Association under the Quebec Lands and Forests Act.

The men were arraigned before Jean-Louis Muir, Justice of the Peace, and each fined $20 and costs or 30 days in jail.

They were: Melvin Lafleur of Petawawa; Donald Lafleur, Black Bay Road, Petawawa; Garry Desormeaux, Aylmer; Raymond Lapierre, Arthur Vaillancourt, Joseph Vaillancourt, Harold Ladouceur and Harvey Ladouceur all of Pembroke.

The men had been hired to fight fires on the E.B. Eddy Company timber limits near Schyan Depot, about 60 miles west of Campbell's Bay. They failed to return to work on July 15 after working 4 or 5 days.

Constable Earl Bennett of the Quebec Provincial Police, took the men into custody. Warrants had been issued for the arrest of 15 other men but they returned to their jobs before police arrived.

Meanwhile, the fires which cover a large area, were reported under control. Scores of men are staying in the bush however to prevent any further outbreaks.

Three other bush workers had earlier been fined $20 each last week on the same charge of refusing to fight forest fires.

New Find On Leys Property

Veteran Pontiac pospector Jimmy Yates, in company with Mr. J. E. Branigan of Montreal reports an interesting radioactive discovery, while conducting a scintillator survey o fthe Wm. Leys Mining Corp. Ltd., property on Range 4, Township of Clapham in Pontiac County. The two men found a radioactive outcropping between three and four hundred feet long and 25 to 50 feet wide, and open at oth ends, which registered a high reading on the scintillator. Assays of samples taken from the outcropping are expected to show between .75% and 1.00% uranium oxide. The William Leys Corp. property ties onto the properties now held by American Asbestos and Uranium Corp. of Denver, Colo.

Otter Lake Woman Meets Moose

Mrs. Fred Bretzlaff of Otter Lake a keen fisherwoman went fishing last week on Kazubazua Creek, 5 miles from Otter Lake. On her way home she encountered a bull moose on a narrow path.

Armed only with a fishing rod, she shook it at the moose, hoping to get him to move out of her way. He wouldn't budge, so she ducked through the bush, thinking to work around him. On breaking out into the open, there was the moose again in front of her, and looking angry.

She thereupon crawled up a rock face and was able to move away from him. The moose was unable to follow and she made her way safely home.

On the same day, while fishing, Mrs. Bretzlaff watched a family of young mink crossing the stream via a fallen log. One youngster, afraid to cross, held back and started to cry. Having herded the others safely across, mother mink went back, picked up the little one in her mouth, walked across the log with her burden, and carried on her journey on the other side.

Last year, Mrs. Bretzlaff, encountered a bear in the same vicinity while fishing. Less pugnacious than the moose, he took to his heels when Mrs. Bretzlaff clapped her hands.

Keep Youth In Pontiac Schamehorn Tells Rotary

Shawville Rotary Club this week listened to a few general, as well as specific criticisms of some of the situations found in Pontiac, as elsewhere. Offered to the Rotarians for their consideration by Rev. W. R. Schamehorn, Wesleyan minister for 35 years who has had the Shawville Wesleyan Pastorate for more than a year, were these succinct comments on the local scene.

The citizens of Shawville have a heritage of sincere and honest effort handed down to them through the generations, which we have an obligation to continue. That this obligation to continue. That this obligation has been well met in recent years is evidenced by the beautiful hospital and high school built in the village during the past few years.

On the other hand, said the speaker, there is still much to be done, notably in the matter of keeping our young people in the County. We educate them here up to matriculation standard, then we do litle more for them. Most drift away to the industrial racas, and are usually lost to the County forever. We are in need, Mr. Schamehorn said, of new industry, if we are to keep ourselves from deterioration. To fill this need we require men of vision in our community. This was the challenge the speaker gave to Rotary members.

Another matter mentioned by Mr. Schamehorn was that of the protection of the village by a Municipal policeman, which, he felt, was needed in Shawville.

Commenting on the staggering death toll on our highways, the speaker felt much will have to be done in the way of education and enforcement if we are to travel the highways in safety. He deplored the fact that a man, seated behind the wheel of his car, could through carelessness kill others on the highway, and himself not be subjected to penalties of any sort. He contrasted this situation with that of an armed man standing on the highway pumping shots from a revolver into a passing car. The results to the victims of each mans actions would be the same, but the treatment by the law of the perpetrators would differ widely.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. Dr. A. F. Fokes and thanked by Rev. Frank Lawler.

Past president Alex Horner was presented with a Rotary past president's button by Harland Rowat. In presenting the button Mr. Rowat congratulated Mr. Horner for his successful year in office when he carried on in spite of a serious illness. Faithful in his attendance at the club, he carried on the Club's work in a way the members could be-and were-proud of, Mr. Rowat said.

In reply, Mr. Horner thanked the members for their support during his year of office, with particular thanks to Art Hanpson for the tremendous efforts he put forth on behalf of the club.

Guests at the meeting were Lionel H. Powles, brother of Dr. C. F. C. Powles, of Montreal; Arthur M. Roberts, uncle of Rev. F. R. Lawler, of Lachine; Rev. Wm. Armitage, of Rhode Island; Rev. G. K. Stewart, Maryland; Mr. H. S. Arkell, Ottawa; Rev. W. R. Schamehorn of Shawville, guest speaker.

Prof. Drummond Addresses Group

The artificial Insemination Association held a twilight meeting at Elwood Dale's farm, Shawville, on Wednesday evening. In addition to some 50 local people and their children, there were in attendance, Dr. Bob Smiley, secretary-manager of the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeders Association; Mr. Ed. Barr, principal of the Kemptville Agricultural School and Professor Drummond of Ontario Agricultural College.

Following the judging of two classes of Holstein calves by Mr. Barr, in which Keith Brownlee was the only one to set the classes in the same order as the judge, a class of junior yearlings was judged by Keith Brownlee.

Professor Drummond, professor of economics at Ontario Agricultural College and head of the economics department of O.A.C., gave an account of some of the problems facing agriculturists, and particularly the dairy farmers, of Newfoundland. Professor Drummond recently returned from Newfoundland, where as a member of a Royal Commission, he investigated agricultural conditions in that Province.

The speaker said he has found that most people outside Newfoundland think of it as a land where the only food is fish. It is true, he said, that there are a lot of fish, but there are a lot of other things there besides fish. In Newfoundland he found an equally abysmal ignorance about the remainder of Canada. There is therfore a big job to be done in explaining Newfound-

Mrs. R. MacFarlane

Mrs. Roy MacFarlane, widow of the late Roy MacFarlane, and a lifelong resident of the township of Clarendon, was paid last honors at her funeral service at her late home Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. H. G. Lester of Shawville. Interment was in the cemetery at Norway Bay.

She died on Thursday morning after an illness of three weeks in the Pontiac Community hospital here. She was 64 years of age.

Born in the township where she died, Mrs. MacFarlane was the former Agnes Ida Murray, daughter of the late John Murray and his wife, Margaret McCredie.

She lived at home until her marriage 47 years ago, at which time she moved a short distance to her husband's farm on the Front Road of Clarendon, where she has lived ever since. Her husband died in September, 1954.

During her early life she was a member of the Bristol Presbyterian Church, later transferring to Shawville United Church. She was also a member of the women's organizations of both churches, and was active in the work of the Bristol Women's Institute.

Surviving her are one son, Thomas on the homestead; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Stanley-Smith of Ottawa, Mrs. Arthur Hodgins of Shawville, and Miss Joan MacFarlane, also of Ottawa; one brother Alex Murray of Nanaimo, BC, and four sisters, Mrs. Jean Boulton, of Burank, Calif., Mrs. Jessie MacAllister of Fort McLeod, Alta., Mrs. Eva Jeffries, of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Marjorie Malmberg, of Ottawa.

Laurier Lecuyer New Mayor Of Fort Coulonge

Fort Coulonge—Laurier Lecuyer, prominent local merchant and a recent resident, defeated Phileas Amyotte, last year's mayor, in municipal elections here. The vote was 210 to 117.

There was a good turnout, although a number of men qualified to vote were out of town fighting fires, and more than usual interest was shown by the womenfolk.

In the election for three councillors the results were: Thomas Jewell, 178; Dea Sauriol, re-elected, 212; Fred Sicard, 202. Other councillors are: Henry Francoeur, Stanley Nadeau and Toner Davis. James Duke is secretary and clerk.

Radford Picnic Grounds Now Open To Public

Aout twenty men, women and children gathered last night in a clearing among the spruce trees about two miles west of Shawville on Highway 8. The occasion was the first picnic to be held at the new Radford Farm Forum picnic grounds.

An outgrowth of discussions last winter about how to improve their area for visitors from afar, the building of roadside tables and signs has consumed all the spare minutes of these Radford farmers. At this busiest time of year with haying foremost in everyone's mind they yet managed between chores to clean the site, build the tables, arrange a trash burning incinerator, level the ground to some extent and erect signs along the highway to designate the spot to passing tourists.

The picnic grove is on property donated for the purpose by Harold Richardson, a section of about one and a half acres which will be enclosed by a fence and has a good gate across the highway entrance. The tables can not be seen from the road but a sign marks the gateway. Thus picnickers can eat in privacy while their children run safely in the field with a gate to protect them from traffic on the highway.

Painted black and silver, Radford Farm Forum colors, the signs and tables are things of beauty as well as great utility. While they were at it the Forum members have made black and silver gate signs for all their members in Radford.

The picnic grounds, destined to become known as Radford's Grove, are an accomplishment of which Radford Farm Forum can be justly proud and which other forums may well take notice. Not only visiting tourists will use the grounds. They will be a great convenience to many small groups in the local area.

None wanting personal mention for their work in connection with this project, the Radford Farm Forum, most active forum in Pontiac" it has been said, representing many different religious denominations, has given these grounds to the public as a purely generous gesture. If visitors to this county and travellers on their way through can enjoy a stop at Radford's Grove, appreciate the perfect view from this slight rising and leave Pontiac with an impression of having been made welcome here, Radford Farm Forum will have had their wish. If other Forums along the highway take a lead from Radford and provide similar facilities the benefits to our country will be inestimable.

Ground Observers On 114 Hr. Alert

All Ground Observer Post in Pontiac County, in common with Posts everywhere else in the Brockville region, were elerted for duty on Monday and remained on duty 24 hours per day until Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. After a stand down of 24 hours, the alert resumes on Friday at 2 p.m. and continues through to Sunday at 2 p.m.

The resignation of David Dickson as Chief Observer of the Shawville Post was received by Captain Winslow, Regional Commander, on Tuesday. Mr. L. H. Moore of Gatineau Power Co., has been appointed Chief Observer to replace Mr. Dickson.

Girls Lead 5 To 1

Another five girls were born in the Pontiac Community Hospital this week. They were the daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Tubman of Wyman on Wednesday, July 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Hector Hamelin of Calumet Island on Friday, to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Senack of Campbell's Bay on Saturday and on Sunday to the Jack Lavigne's of Fort Coulonge and the Weldon Hobbs' of Shawville.

During the past week one boy was born at the hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wall of Shawville on July 15.

Raspberries from Mrs. M. Thompson, a blue blanket, from Mrs. H. Hamelin, magazines from Art Hodgins and Everett Armstrong and a number of coat hangers from Mrs. G. A. MacDougall were the donations listed at the office of the hospital during the last week.

One death was reported last week that of the late Mrs. Ida MacFarlane on July 14.

No Relief From Drought In Sight

The upper end of the County was fortunate enough to be drenched by 1½ inches of rain last Friday night, which made it possible for firefighters operating in the area to get the fires up there under control. Before that time they were out of control, with the job made most difficult, and almost impossible by the fact that about 50% of the bush in the fire area was lying on the ground following hurricane Hazel last Fall. In addition, much of the birch stand is dead or dying, having been successfully attacked by an insect over the past few years.

Meanwhile, Lower Pontiac is suffering fro ma continuation of the drought which started here early in June. Last Friday night's rain amounted to .3 inches in most sections. Welcome as it was, this rain did little to help the farmers in their present plight. With the forecast for the next 30 days promising, "above normal" temperatures here, it looks as though the area may continue to suffer from lack of rain for another month.

Canon Naylor Hit By Car

Canon R. K. Naylor of Trinity Memorial Anglican Church, Montreal, who was hit by a car as he crossed Sherbrooke St., Monday, is reported in "good condition" by officials at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Police said that Canon Naylor was hit by a car as he crossed Sherbrooke St. West, after getting off a tram. The driver of the car told police that he didn't see the man in time to stop.

Canon Naylor was taken to the hospital where X-rays revealed he had a fractured pelvis.

Prompt Action Stops Bryson Fire

Prompt action on the part of the Bryson Volunteer Fire Brigade under Fire Chief Joseph Rodgers quickly subdued a flash fire in Dumouchel's Garage on Main Street about 11.30 a.m., Wednesday, July 13th.

The fire originated while Mr. Dumouchel's assistant was vulcanizing a tire and quickly spread to other inflamable material.

Firemen were on the scene three minutes after the alarm sounded and quickly smothered the flames. Mr. and Mrs. Dumouchel were in Shawville during the alarm. Five hundred dollars will cover the loss.

PONTIAC PRISON SITE SUGGESTED

The federal government last week announced that it intends to build three new penitentaries across Canada in the near future in order to enlarge and modernize the penal institutions of this country.

One prison is probably to be built in Kingston, Ontario, to accombodate women now housed in an annex of the present Kingston penitentiary.

Of the other two prisons to be built, one is thought to be planned for Western Canada and one for Eastern Canada. The matter of location of these two institutions will undoubtedly be pondered at great length by those responsible for selecting suitable sites for them. In considering a site for the prison to be established in Eastern Canada, the merits of Pontiac County as a possible location should not be overlooked.

Pontiac County is situated within easy reach of the governmental centre of Canada; is served by the main transcontinental line of the government railway; with the completion of the Pembroke Bridge, will have three way access to the Trans-Canada Highway; has daily train service to Ottawa via C.P.R.

In addition to the ideal transportation situation found in this County, there are oher equally excellent reasons for considering Pontiac as a site. The available power supply is adequate to whatever demands such an institution could impose upon it. We have a modern and well-equipped hospital in the County. Our population could easily fill the need for guards to be recruited locally. We are close to the centre of Eastern Canada, both geographically and politically. Another reason is that, at no time in the past, has a Federal Government installation been established here. Aerdromes, highways, army camps, and an atomic energy research plant have all been built in the counties across the Ottawa from us. No doubt the reasons for so doing were excellent in each case. No doubt the final site selected for a penitentiary will be the result of the exercise of careful judgement. Our hope is that the advantages of Pontiac County will be weighed before that judgement is exercised.

BY-LAW PROPOSED

The Norway Bay Municipal Association, at a meeting held on Saturday night (reported elsewhere in this paper) adopted a resolution to investigate the possibilities of having Norway Bay declared a residential area.

Such a declaraton would have to be by a by-law enacted by Bristol Council, and would have as its main objective the full control of the type of structure permitted to be built in the Norway Bay area in future. It might possibly also be able to control the present buildings now situated at the Bay. One matter which was mentioned specifically was the possibility of having all outhouses removed, say ,within the next three years, and replaced by septic tanks.

The whole matter is to be discussed at the next meeting of Bristol Council, when it will be referred to Council by a committee of the Norway Bay Municipal Association.

The reasons for bringing the matter of a by-law before Council are quite obvious, and are all good, since by use of a by-law the hope is to improve the Norway Bay area as a summer resort.

Because the intent of the by-law is for the common good of all residents of the Bay, it may be hard for some people to realize that quite possibly Bristol Council will want no part of it. In the first place, setting up a by-law involves legal costs. As it happens, this aspect of the problem will be taken care of by the Association, which has allocated a sum of money sufficiently large to handle all costs. Further, and more important, is the matter of supervision and enforcement of the by-law, which is the real stumbling block. This is a matter, which, in our view, Brstol Council cannot reasonably be expected to undertake. However, there seems to be a way around the difficulty which might prove satisfactory to both Council and the Association. That is, to provide, either in the by-law or otherwise, that complete responsibility for the supervision and enforcement of the by-law be vested by the Association as the agent of the Council. If the Association is not a corporate body, then the same object could be accomplished by naming from year to year, a member of the executive of the Association as agent of the Council for this purpose.

OTTAWA Report:
by Anthony J. Wright

I take back the doubt I expressed last week about the value of the Opposition talkathon on Defence Production powers. The Opposers won a big victory especially a morale-building victory for George Drew and his Tories. The Liberals may have gained something too, although they surrendered. Had they bulldozed the permanent powers for Mr. Howe through over the conscience of Parliament and the doubts of their own members they might have discovered that sometimes there is nothing so disappointing as getting your own way Any married pair can witness to that! Now Mr. Howe has his powers, must renew them every three years—fair enough!

Will the Canadian lakers and costal ships trafficing between points in Canada still have to fight tough, low-cost, British competition in domestic waters after the St Lawrence Seaway opens a 27-foot deep passage from the Atlantic into the Lakes? That is the main question before the Royal Commission on Coasting Trade chaired by Ontario Supreme Court Justice W. F. Spence. I went to the hearings in the Supreme Court here and have read many of the 150 briefs submitted by shipping interests on both sides of the Atlantic.

Canadians want the coastal trade for Canadian vessels, want them built here so as to keep our yards and repairers huming that they may be ready to expand if war comes. They also urge help for the Canadian shipping industry to give jobs to more Canadians. Canada's deep-sea 10,000-ton ships have dwindled in five years from 110 to five—those who help freight 40,000,000 tons of goods annually through our lakes and rivers don't want to see the small "inland" ships go the same way. They want an end to the 1931 agreement with Britain under which British coasters have free access to Canadian coastal waters. They don't want to keep out foreign vessels trading between Canada and abroad but just to keep the competition off the doorstep, as it were. Canadian shippers have a point. But what to do the British say?

British briefs to the commission say British coasters only carry five percent of the Canadian inter-port trade and that any move to prevent Britons earning Canadian dollars hurts Canada in the end. There is some point in the latter remark when you see that Britain is now buying more from Canada than she has in years but selling far less here than she wants to. However, Canadian shipers, probably rightly fear a big push by British ships, with their lower costs, to take as much of the Seaway and Lake "domestic" trade as they can after the Big Ditch is dug. I expect some kind of restriction will be put on the movements of foreign vessels but am sure the commission will be scrupulously fair.

If you want to go ahead and throw that bottle out of your car on to the highway you can still do so without breaking the Criminal Code. Mr. G. K. Fraser (P.C. Peterborough, Ont.) asked Justice Minister Stuart Garson whether the code was to be altered to take care of the hurled emties. But the answer was "no"! A highway patrol officer recently took a bottle on his windscreen, had to be stitched up a lot.

New Brunswick's Senator Neil McLean really opened up the other day about clams, and herrings. He urged serious study by fisheries exerts to see why it was the famous clam beds on the south shore of Nova Scotia had disappeared. At one time the succulent shellfish were prolific around the Sable River area and near the villages and harbours especially Lockeport. He urged too that careful attention be given to the comings and goings of the herring and other fish on which so many Maritimers depend. Spoke movingly of the sudden fleeing of fish from their haunts, e.g. the terrible blight in the California sardine industry after the fish left those waters during the Forties.

Since the Association wishes to declare Norway Bay as a resdential area, we believe everything reasonable should be done by those concernd to assist in putting through the necessary by-law.

That's what the sign says and in spite of the fact that every one of us is suppoed to study French in school there are very few who know what it's all about. This is a great big problem for the schools to face but meanwhile it does no good to post such signs as that above. Nevertheless, the Minister of Transport has seen fit to send this sign to be posted at the Shawville Post Office.

The sentiment behind the poster is great. The Government of Canada wants to protect everyone who can read French against accident in small boats. The poster goes on to explain that two people is a maximum load for a tend foot boat, three people for a twelve foot boat, four for a fourteen foot boat and five for a sixteen foot boat. It also says something about life jackets and warns against standing up in small boats.

Why, we wonder, couldn't they say all this in English for the people of Shawville. Don't they know who lives here?

Letter To The Editor

THE SHAWVILLE EGG GRADING STATION A POTENTIAL BUSINESS ASSET

Shawville has long been noted as a good shopping centre. It could be bigger and better.

Eggs are now the only product that farmers, themselves, regularly BRING TO TOWN TO SELL. They do this every week or oftener. Live stock and wood lot products are shipped outside or picked up. Milk and cream are collected at the farm. Even poultry is now largely shipped out. Eggs have long been and still could be a big factor in the merchants bid for trade.

Methods of handling and marketing eggs have changed too. How best can these changed conditions be capitalized upon as a bid for trade?

Fortunately Shawville has an Egg Grading, not a good grading station, but nevertheless an Egg Grading Station. It is a so-called Cooperative Egg Grading Station that does not very often hold a meeting, let alone an annual meeting, to give its patrons a report of its operations or an opportunity to direct its affairs. That, however, is not the subject matter of this article.

The point is how best can the Egg Grading Station serve producers better in a marketing way and at the same time bring more and better business to Shawville. To this end the following suggestions are offered:

1. Establish a reputation for quality and well graded products that would have an appeal to special markets. Shawville area, with its general high standard of agriculture, could well establish itself as a source of supply for 'A1' quality in eggs and realize on the premium thereby obtainable. It might even supply its own hospital with A1 quality, the one place above all others where eggs are so extensively used and at the time when high quality is so signficant.

2. Dignify its premises and make it more of the communty centre that it should be. The Station has one of the best centrally located premises in Shawville and is fortunate in that respect.

3. Advertise but not in the way one might expect. For years produce houses made a bid for eggs through sending out advance price cards giving the price they were prepared to pay for eggs for the ensuing week. That is not done anymore, Government market reports telling what has been paid, not what is going to be paid, having taken their place.

None the less the practice of advance price announcement was sound and with wider distribution possible today through the medium of the daily press and radio, there is no reason why producers should not know in advance daily what the price of eggs is going to be tomorrow and act accordingly.

On all principal markets trading in eggs has been pretty well completed and prices for eggs for the following day pretty well established by noon of the previous day. At least two radio stations and the daily press cover the Shawville area pretty thoroughly and it would take only a little arranging and no great expense to have the Shawville Egg Prices for the following day announced daily on the noon agricultural hour broadcasts.

Consider for a moment the implications of such an announcement, its monetary significance and assurance it would give to producers and the potential bid for business that it would give to Shawville merchants. The business potentialities of this suggestion are so great that the Shawville merchants might well give consideration to naming a committee from their group to work with the Directors of the Egg Grading station in working out the arrangements and also in the more effective business management and dignity of the station.

Hold 92nd Anniversary Services At St. Andrew's Church Fort Coulonge

On Sunday, July 17th, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their 92nd Anniversary Services. The services which were conducted by the minister, Rev. Dr. Younger-Lewis were well attended. There were visitors from many parts of Ontario and Quebec. Calumet Uraninum Hits "Hot" Spot

Calumet Uranium Mines Ltd., with properties on Lots 29 and 30, Range 7 of Calumet Island, have established a uranium orebody of half a million tons. It is contained in a lime silicate formation containing fluorspar, apatite and calcite. Diamond drilling stopped at the 500' level, so that the proven orebody is above this depth. A mill price test is now being run for the Company by Eldorado, the results of which should be known in a month's time. Tentative plans call for the sinking of a shaft on the property and the subsequent construction of a mill.

The Company is understood to have found a new "hot" spot on the property last week, and is now carrying out exploration work on it.

Most Modern Trucks on any job with the most advanced truck features the industry has ever seen!

CHEVROLET

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Only new Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks bring you all these truly modern design and engineering features today!

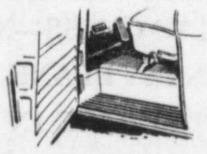
They're the marks of a modern truck, and they out-date any make without them!

And they're the money-making, money-saving advantages that ask this question: Can you really afford not to make your next new truck a Chevrolet? Judge for yourself!

Beginning with Work-Styling, an entirely new development in truck design. For the first time in any line of trucks, Chevrolet brings you two styling treatments. Two distinctively different designs—one for light- and medium-duty models, another for heavy-duty jobs — both clean-lined and modern to the smallest detail. Here is styling with a meaning. Styling that's matched to the model and the job.

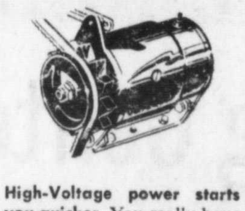
The latest in cab comfort and safety. Inside you can count on the same ultra-modern touch — softer seat action that reduces driver fatigue, a new instrument cluster that can be read at a glance, and more durable construction throughout. The new Flite-Ride Custom cab features the extra comfort of a foam rubber cushion and harmonizing two-tone inside. Outside, bright metal moldings and new two-tone color options. Custom cabs set whole new standards for comfort and convenience.



New concealed Safety Steps. Running boards are ancient history now. Chevrolet's new Safety Steps are out of sight with the doors closed. That way, snow, ice or mud can't collect to cause accidents. Safety Steps are lower, too, for easier entrance.

New panoramic windshield. The windshield alone has 1000 square inches of safety glass to give you a wider, virtually unobstructed view of the road — and there's more glass area all around. A new glass-guard molding completely surrounds the side windows, reducing possibility of breakage. A wide-view wrap-around rear window is available as an extra-cost option.

Fresh air in all kinds of weather. With Chevrolet's new High-Level ventilating system, air is drawn in through louvers at cowl level. That means air is constantly circulated through the cab, regardless of disagreeable weather conditions.



High-Voltage power starts you quicker. You really have it modern under the hood! All New Task-Force engines are sparked by a hefty 12-volt electrical system. Quicker starting, even on cold mornings, is one big advantage. Increased generator capacity is another. The high-compression power of these great valve-in-head engines keeps you running longer between gas stops. Here's performance that cuts operating costs and shaves valuable time from your schedules!

Tubeless tires standard on ½-ton models. Pickups, panels, Suburban Carry-alls — all models in the ½-ton class now come with new tubeless tires. Here's greater protection against blowouts.

Every Power Helper in the book. Power brakes, for example — a big help in reducing driver effort while increasing safety—are standard equipment on heavier models, an extra-cost option on others. The new handling ease of Power Steering, another extra-cost option, cuts turning effort up to 80%. There's new gas-saving Overdrive, as an extra-cost option on ½-ton models . . . and truck Hydra-Matic — ideal for stop-and-go city hauling —available at extra cost on ½-, ¾-, and 1-ton jobs. They're worthwhile extra-cost helpers that can save you a lot of time and money in the long run.

The New Cameo Carrier. Sports model of the truck field—designed with special jobs in mind! Long and low, with smooth, fleet lines, here's the Custom pickup that may well create a whole new class of truck owners!

And the final touch. Color! New colors and two-tone combinations add the final styling touch to these great new trucks. Your selection is wider than ever before. Choose the color combination that best matches your job, that best calls attention to you and your business. That way you'll be taking full advantage of the advertising value of your new Task-Force model.

One final word. When the time comes to trade in '55 models, the man without a really modern truck stands to take a good-sized loss. Come in and see us soon.

What's On Your Mind?

Should Epileptics Marry?

I am twenty-five years old and very much in love with a man whom I have known for several years. We want to get married but there is a problem.

Warren has epilepsy. Even though he has a good job and my parents like him, they don't think I should marry him. I wonder what you would advise me to do?

Miss R.

Dear Miss R.,

I get the impression from your letter that you, even more than your parents, are questioning whether you should marry a man who has epilepsy.

There must be many things on your mind concerning the future. I imagine that you are wondering whether Warren will get worse as time goes on; whether, if you have children, they will inherit the illness, and so on.

There is one person who can give you all the information you need to help you make your decision. That is Warren's doctor.

It is most important that you both go to see the doctor who is looking after Warren, and have a frank discussion with him. He can tell you what type of epilepsy Warren has, and how well his seizures are controlled by medication. The chances are that the information the doctor gives you will be reassuring.

You say that Warren is working and has a good job. This must mean that his seizures are well controlled and that he responds well to the medicine which the doctor gives him.

There are more superstitions and half-truths surrounding epilepsy than almost any other disease. And yet it is a fairly common ailment. There are almost 75,000 cases in Canada—that is, about one in every two hundred of the general population.

Medical authorities point out that with proper treatment, the majority of epileptics can lead relatively normal lives. In other words, most epileptics can marry and have children. They can work, though naturally there are some occupations which should be avoided, such as driving cars or working on scaffolding. They can and should lead normal social lives.

As well as taking it over with Warren's doctor, you can gelt some excelent books and pamphlets about epilepsy. Write to the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, and to the American Epilepsy League, Boston. They will send you free booklets and lists of publications on this subject.

The more you learn, the better able you will be to reach a sound decision, and, if you decide to marry Warren, the better your chances for a happy, satisfying married life.

(You may consult Phyllis Poland about your personal or family problems by writing to her in care of this newspaper).

Coulonge Telephone

of the Bell Telephone Company were present as well as the local shareholders. The Bell representatives after the annual report was given suggested that the company issue more shares which would increase the working capital and enable the company to improve its facilities. The question was left over for further consideration. The question of increased pay for the telephone operators was also brought up. This matter was deferred. The secretary-treasurer, Mr. Leo Amyotte handed in his resignation but action on this was deferred so one might say that the meeting was one of deferment.

land to the other nine provinces—and vice versa.

Newfoundland is the oldest British settlement in America. From the time John Cabot first took back to Europe, in 1947, fabulous takes of the fish to be found there, the fishing fleets of Britain and Eastern Europe flocked to the fishing banks around Newfoundland. A struggle for control of the banks ensued, which resolved itself into a fight for supremacy between British and French. The British had won out by 1759, but strangely enough were not interested in setlling the Island. In fact they actually passed laws to keep settlers away. As in the previous 300 years they were interested only in the export of fish. Finally, in 1813 settlers were allowed to acquire property, and the first groups, poverty stricken crofters from Ireland and England, came straggling in, to erect rude huts on the barren coast. From that time until the war of 1939-45, these people and their descendants lived from the sale of fish, with the proceeds of which they bought imported food, eked out by small garden plots, a cow and a few hens. With the advent of the war, new money flowed into the country for the construction of international air bases and other military installations. For the first time the people had enough money to acquire the things that other Canadians had taken for granted for so long. One of the things happened was an increase in food consumption. A large part of this was imported, but an increasnig portion started to be produced locally on a commercial scale.

With improvements in transportation it became possible to establish markets for the sale of agricultural products, so that it became possible to operate commercial farms. This had never before been possible. One of the important types of farming which operates commercially is dairy farming. Very few Newfoundlanders now keep a cow. The cattle are now in the hands of a few dairymen who supply the fluid milk markets of the larger centres, such as St. Johns (pop. 70,000); Cornerbrook (20,000) and Grand Falls (10-12,00).

Dairymen operate herds of as many as 50 cattle on not more than 40 acres of land. These acres were cleared as long as 100 years ago, by what amounted to slave labor, and under great difficulties. To clear that same land today would cost between $300 and $500 per acre, so that few if any of the dairymen would be in business if they had to clear their own land. This is the reason they don't clear more land. The dairymen keep not more than 10 acres for pasture and grow timothy and a little forage grain on the remainder. This doesn't always meet their need for hay, so the balance is imported from New Brunswick (marsh hay) on which transportation costs run to $16 per ton. Because of the federal subsidy on shipments of grain moving to the east from west of the Lakehead, grain can be purchase in Newfoundland at reasonable prices, relative to the high-cost poor quality imported hay. Dairymen therefore feed grain very heavily. Most feed not more than two tons of forage per cow per 12 months and as much as 9,000 lbs of 16% protein in the same period. Few are able to build up their herds by natural increase, so have to purchase nearly all their requirements. The turnover is heavy running to cow replacement about once every three years, when they trade their old cattle to dealers in exchange for imported, usually poor quality cattle. Because of the high costs involved, fluid milk sells in St. John at $9.00 per cwt., and pasteurized milk sells for 32 cents per quart in St. John and 50 cents at Gander.

As a consequence some "reconstituted" milk is now being sold, made of powdered skim milk and a vegetable oil, which sells at about half the price of fluid milk, and which the consumers appear to prefer. There seems to be little question that the reconstituted milk will force the dairymen out of business in the next 3 or 4 years unless they are able to cut their costs drastically. One possibility is that they may be able to drain their huge bogs, fertilize them and grow crops on them.

Fluid milk is now processed by a producers Co-op in the St. Johns area, which puts its member-producers on a quota shipment basis of delivery. Thus any milk surplus arises only in the hands of the farmers. There is no other market for any milk surplus because there are no cheese or butter factories or condenseries. The only user of milk, commercially, is a manufacturer of ice cream who imports powdered milk for it. The price he offers for fluid milk is so low the dairymen won't touch it, and consume at home any small surplus they may have.

The speaker was thanked by chairman Dr. Rolly Armitage who also thanked Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Dale for the use of their lawn and other facilities during the meeting.

Weekly Newspapers Lauded By Liberty

Canada's 963 weekly newspapers, with a combnied circulation of 2,475,140, are the back-bone of Canadian country life according to the current July issue of Liberty magazine.

Appearing under the title, "Canada's Cracker-Barrel Oracles", this Liberty study by former Brampton Peel Gazette reporter Robert Webb finds that "editors of weekly newspapers have, naturally, advanced from the frontier-days pistol-in-one hand, pen-in-the-other crusader, whose hand-operated press turned out stinging editorials. But that editorial spirit of poking gentle fun at local celebrities, getting public support for community endeavors, and whipping civic officials into action, hasn't yet been tossed in the hell-box."

A survey made among weekly newspaper editors disclosed some interesting facts. According to Liberty, 95% have served as president of their local Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade; 45% have been mayor or reeve or held other high public office in their community; 91% work an average of 55 hours weekly; 23% reported personal incomes of over $5,000 annually; and many of them are university graduates.

What is the weekly newspaper's most widely-read feature? Cec. Hacker, editor-publisher of the Abbotsford, Sumas and Matsqui, B. C. News, says it's the Livestock Sale Column of the classified page, while George Murray, owner of the 3,100-circulation Pictou N.S. Advocate says his women's column, Ann Advocate Says, is his paper's most widely read page. It's writen by his wife, who was voted "Mrs. Weekly Editor", at the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association's annual convention last year.

But if the editors of Canada's weekly newspapers disagree on what constitutes their most widely read feature, they are all in accord with Mrs. Helen (Corky) McCorquondale, editor of Alberta's High River Times, who defines the aim of the weekly newspaper in this fashion.

"The principle by which most papers, small or great, seem to be guided is to make the community a happy, congenial, law-abiding place; to emphasize the good rather than the bad; and to be as accurate as humanly possible in matters of moment—especially the middle initial of a faithful correspondent".

"Canada's Cracker-Barrel Oracles" in the current July issue of Liberty is a very special salute to a very special Canadian enterprise—the weekly newspaper—and the men responsible for them, their editors.

"There are few millionaires among the weekly newspaper editors and publishers", Bill Cranston of Midland has stated. "But there are few men and women who so well deserve the label 'free enterprise' with a special emphasis on 'enterprise'."

Junior Groups Q. W. I. Complete 5 Day Camp

Junior groups of the Quebec Women's Institutes have just completed a five day camp at Bury, Que. About 15 girls attended and all report a wonderful time, with ideal weather throughout.

Mrs. A. Cameron, Sawyerville, Junior Supervisor, was in charge of the outing, assisted by Counsellors, Mrs. R. MacLeod, Bury, and Mrs. M. Sicard, Warden, the latter acting as camp nurse, and Miss Bridget Altimas, of the Q.W.I. staff.

A full program was carried out of small crafts, dramatics, folk dancing, swimming, hikes, and singing around the camp fire.

Rural girls ranging from 12 to 16 years of age belong to the six Junior branches, which are at widely scattered points of the province. Several successful projects were carried out the past year in dramatics, feltwork, jewellery, quilting, etc., and enthusiastic plans are being made for the future.

The purpose of the J.W.I. is to provide worthwhile activities for rural teenagers, where there are no other youth groups, leading to more intelligent and imaginative service in their community.

Gatineau LINES

FARM SERVICE

There has been a notable increase in the number of farms provided with electric service in the Province of Quebec in the past ten years.

In the area served by the Company, over this period, rural lines have been extended farther and farther to afford to as many farmers as possible labor-saving, comfort-providing electrical facilities.

A film demonstrating the uses of electricity on the farm is now being made on Quebec farms. The cost of this film is being shared by the major utility companies and the Government of the Province of Quebec. It will be ready for exhibition during the late fall, and made available to 4-H Clubs and Farm Forums, which are urged to plan to show this informative film.

Among other things it will show how Quebec farmers are taking advantage of electric service to milk cows, separate and cool milk, feed and water stock and poultry, grind feed and provide power for such farm tools as drills, lathes and grinders.

In the farm homes it will demonstrate how electric ranges, washing machines and ironers relieve household drudgery, while the problem of proper food storage is solved by the services of refrigerators and home freezers, and that when it is time for recreation there is radio—or television!

The Company's ever growing rural power load reflects this additional use on the farms of mankind's Most Valuable Servant!

Succulent Salads in the Making—From large commercial undertakings such as this, as well as from smaller market gardens and farms, come the ingredients of many a tasty salad. It is becoming fairly common to start tender vegetables, such as cucumbers and tomatoes under wax-paper protective caps. This speeds early growth and protects against frost. Inset is a typical salad made from Canadian food products. Canadian salads are becoming popular all year round.

92 Cases Handled By Social Services

In Pontiac County last year the Hull Social Services handled ninety two cases. According to their 1954 annual report recently published, this welfare agency took care of 80 family cases and twelve cases in the child care department.

The family cases include marital difficulties, assistance to elderly persons, social problems caused by illness, financial assistance, problems of unmarried mothers, protection of children in their homes, broken homes where children must be placed outside, rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents and problem children and others. These problems, classified in the family Section, have been taken care of in Pontiac in the following places. Sixteen cases in Fort Coulonge, nine in Campbell's Bay, nine in Calumet Island, eight in Shawville, six in Otter Lake and six in Quyon, four in Wolf Lake, three at Bryson, two each at Bristol, Sheenboro, Wyman, Charteris, Portage du Fort and Lac Cayamant and one in each of Bellemount, Waltham, Chichester, Vinton, Chapeau, Ladysmith and East Aldfield.

The cases in the child care department arise from mental illness and T.B. of the Mother, Father or both, from other illnesses and from death of one or both parents, from desertion by parents, neglect, families without shelter, difficult children and delinquents, father's in jail and children born out of wedlock. Cases cared for in the Children's Department for Pontiac County included one in Shawville, two in each of Campbell's Bay and Bristol and seven in Fort Coulonge. Two cases were terminated in 1954 and ten were carried over to 1955. Of the eighty Pontiac cases in the Family Department, ten were terminated in 1954 and seventy carried over to 1955.

"The municipal councils are most generous towards our family and child welfare agency ,this year. More and more, the municipal authorities are realizing the importance of our work amongst the needy and maladjusted persons of their community and this is the reason why they are giving generously and willingly". The city of Hull has increased its grant from $5,000 to $6,000. The municipal council of Gatineau has increased its grant from $1,000 to $1,300., while County Council of Pontiac has raised its grant from $5,00 to $1,000. Property Rights so uncovered.

Mr. Rowat, questioned about streets and rights of way, stated that once a street had been opened in a municipality and had officially been taken over by the municipality, it remained a public thoroughfare until officially closed by the municipality. This is so even if an adjacent property owner encroaches on the street for any period of time. Land, he continued, can be acquired by prescription—i.e. by uninterrupted occupancy for a period of thirty-years—but a right of way cannot be so acquired. On the other hand a right of way can be lost by prescription—i.e. by not being used for a period of 30 years. Thus where a subdivision plan showed a road to be constructed in a certain place, but that road was never officially opened, then after a period of thirty years the road allowance would, by prescription, revert to private property.

Mr. Rowat was warmly thanked by the members for his address.

The business meeting which followed dealt first with the nominating committee. Mr. Cowley was nominated as chairman of the committee which will place a slate of officers for the coming year before the members at the annual meeting next month.

A question from the floor regarding lack of oil on some sections of the road at Norway Bay elicited the information that the first oiling this year was not completed because of insufficient oil. A second oiling is contemplated in the next few days, at which time all streets not oiled last time will be oiled first on this occasion.

A motion was introduced proposing that the Association allocate a sum of $100 for the purpose of drafting a by-law which, if acceptable to Bristol Council, would declare Norway Bay a residential area. An amendment to the motion was moved and seconded whereby the matter of the by-law would be discussed first with Bristol Council. Only when agreement on it was reached with Council would the by-law be drafted. The original motion was next struck out and its essential elements added to the amendment, which then became the main motion. This motion was carried unanimously.

TO A SUCCESSFUL MAN STOPPED BY SALARY RESTRICTIONS

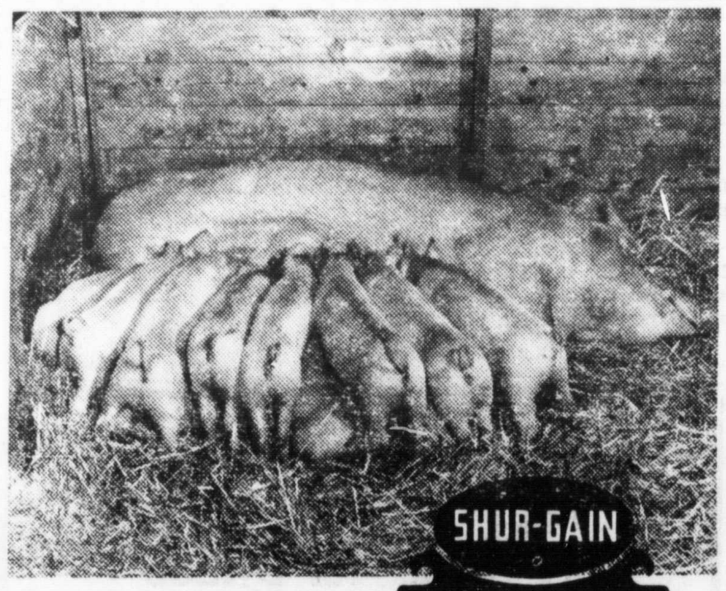
By ordinary standards you are rated a success. Yet you know that in your present position you will never have the opportunity to show what you can really do and earn.

Today, due to expansion of business, we can offer you an opportunity to make a business connection with no restrictions on earning power. Our Company is nationally advertised and the largest organization of its kind in the world.

As our representative, you would be in business for yourself—but you would make no capital investment, carry no inventory, have no rent or payroll to meet.

The man chosen will be carefully selected and professionally appraised for strong sales potential. He will then be sent to our National Sales Training School and he will be thoroughly field trained upon his return.

If you feel that you have practically reached the top in your present work and you honestly believe that your annual income should be much higher, write "Sales Position" in care of this paper and an interview will be arranged. All replies treated with strictest confidence. Our own associates have been informed of this ad.



LITTERS LIKE THIS SOW RATION WILL INCREASE YOUR FEEDING PROFITS

Big, strong healthy pigs at birth mean more pigs weaned. And the more pigs you wean, the greater your hog profits. If you wean an average of 9 pigs per litter your cost per pig is going to be a lot smaller than if you wean only 6 pigs per litter because you still have to feed and care for the sow regardless of how many she weans.

Is balanced feeding important with sows? IT CERTAINLY IS! You wouldn't expect a hatching flock to do well if they did not receive a well-balanced hatching ration. The same applies to brood sows.

Tests prove that balanced-fed sows wean on the average up to 3 extra pigs per litter compared to straight grain-fed sows.

Come in and see us about SHUR-GAIN Sow Ration—a BALANCED feed for sows. Of if you have your own grain we can make a completely balanced sow ration for you using SHUR-GAIN Sowmix Concentrate.

LET'S NAME THE HIGH SCHOOL

What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet, said William Shakespeare (or Roger Bacon or Christopher Marlowe). But whether they call it a rose or any other name, it remains necessary that they call it a name. Without a name it might smell great but nobody could relay the information or any other information concerning the nameless flower. If you're talking about a rose you can't just go on saying "the flower" all the time because you might mean a daisy or a petunia or a cauli-.

It's exactly the same thing with "The High School". If there were only one high school in the world we could get away with calling this one "The High School" forever but as it stands now it might be Aylmer High School, Fisher Park, or Hull. And how do the graduates feel? When someone asks them the name of their alma mater they can only legally say "The".

Since the high school is in Shawville one might easily fall into the trap of calling it Shawville High School. We did. Then someone told us we were oh so wrong and we obediently called it "The High School" for one year every time it was mentioned in this paper. This, in spite of the fact that everyone we ever heard mention it called it Shawville High School.

After a year of this silliness we reverted to calling it Shawville High School along with everyone else. Now we are informed reliably that there are people whose feelngs are being hurt every time they read those words "Shawville High School" on these pages.

After a term is used for a certain length of time it becomes official by the law of common usage. We don't want to go on using the name Shawville High School in print so long that it becomes official if every time we use it we're stepping on someone's toes but we'd like to remnd these people with the toes that whether or not it says 'Shawville High School' in The Equity, people everywhere are calling it that anyway.

The only way to keep people from calling it Shawville High School is to give them a good substitute. Everyone knows there is no Shawville School Board but it just so happens that on the map there is a town called Shawville and in that town there is a high school. What more natural than to call it Shawville High School, particularly when the students wear crests with SHS on them and that name is seen written, stamped and engraved on many iems connected with the school.

If you attend The High School and want to distinguish it from other schools, you are asked to say, "The High School", Shawville. This is a literal translation of the French way of naming their schools — "L'Acadamie Shawville". If the children would all say it and write it in their books and engrave it on their athletic trophies, people would think they were doing the usual poor job of translating French into English, which is seen so often in this Province.

But we'll play along with the game for a while anyway. We'll go on calling it "The" with the hope that sooner or later the Clarendon Board will find time to name it once and for all. Meanwhile everyone except us will go right on calling it Shawvlle High School and the longer it remains unchanged the harder it will be to get popular acceptance of a change—if a change is necessary. If the Board, weighted down with other more pressing and important items of business, would just declare the name now commonly used as official they would save themselves hours of discussion. If, on the other hand, the matter is so important to certain members of the Board as to require lengthly review, the sooner they get at it the better.
