Awful Blood Humor

Terrible Blood Poison. Suffered all a man could suffer and live. Face and body covered with awful sores. Used CUTICURA Remedies ten weeks, and is practically cured. A remarkable case.

Cured by Cuticura

I contracted a terrible blood-poisoning a year ago. I doctored with two good physicians, neither of whom did me any good. I suffered all a man can suffer and live. Hoisting of your CUTICURA REMEDIES, I concluded to try them, knowing if they did me no good they could make me no worse. I have been using them about ten weeks, and am most happy to say that I am almost rid of the awful sores that covered my face and body. My face was as bad, if not worse, than that of Miss Boynton, spoken of in your book, and I used CUTICURA, and they will surely be cured. You may use this letter in the interests of suffering humanity.

E. W. REYNOLDS, Ashland, Ohio.

Knee to Foot Running Sores

I have been afflicted with a sore limb, which the doctors called eczema. My limb from the knee to the foot was one mass of running sores. The doctors bled me every day for a week, and every time the bandage was removed a large scab would come off, and the blood pour down. I got one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box CUTICURA, and one cake CUTICURA SOAP, and they cured me. I told a lady who was similarly afflicted to use it, and it cured her also. I gratefully acknowledge that it was CUTICURA that cured me.

How to Produce Perfect Combustion with Wood Shavings, Sawdust, Etc., When Firing a Furnace—A New Non-Explosive Flash Light.

Stokers with shavings are generally a nuisance to the whole neighborhood, poisoning the atmosphere all around, making the place dirty, unhealthy and disagreeable. This is caused by supplying the fire with fresh shavings on top of the burned ones and smoldering it, generating a large amount of smoke but no heat. The fire and heat are only produced when all the shavings are charred. In order to produce perfect combustion with wood shavings, sawdust, etc., it is necessary to burn them from the top, and here is given the details of how a correspondent of Power-Steamed it with satisfactory results.

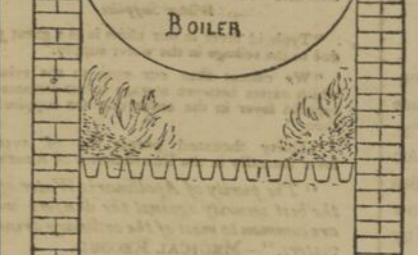

FIG. 1.—FIRING WITH SHAVINGS.

Provide a half inch gas pipe long enough to reach to the end of the furnace. Light your shaving fire, and when nearly burned take your half inch pipe and divide the burning shavings through the middle, banking them against the side walls as shown in Fig. 1. Now feed a pile of new shavings into the center on to the clean grate bars and close your furnace doors. The shavings will begin to burn from above, lighted from the two side fires, the air will pass through the bars into the shavings, where it will be heated and unite with the gas, making the combustion perfect, generating heat and no smoke and the fire will last much longer and require not half the labor in stoking. If shavings are left over, the planer shavings could be compressed and sold for packing many goods. Any one making this trial will be convinced of its efficiency.

FIG. 2.—FIRING WITH SHAVINGS.

The correspondent quoted claims by this plan a great saving in fuel, with plenty of power and no complaints from the neighbors, as there was no more smoke apparent at the chimney.

A New Flash Light.

At a regular meeting of the Washington Chemical Society, April 11, Dr. Thomas Taylor, of the United States department of agriculture exhibited a new flash light intended to take the place of several kinds which have lately proved highly dangerous in practice. Science tells that Dr. Taylor's new flash light consists largely of charcoal made from the silky down of the milk weed—a form of carbon which he prefers to all others, because of its freedom from ash. A few grains of this new composition placed on tissue paper and lighted by a punk match produced a prompt and blinding flash, while it was observed that the paper on which the powder rested was not even scorched. The flash being instantaneous, the heat is not sufficient to ignite the most inflammable material on which the powder may rest. Dr. Taylor demonstrated this by using, with the same paper for a base, an inferior flash light, which set fire to the paper at once. This is owing to the comparatively slow combustion of the chemicals used in the inferior grade. Dr. Taylor said that the powder of his new flash light will not explode either by concussion or friction.

Tobacco Chewing Ministers.
When Rev. Dr. Tiffany, of Minneapolis, preached in Chicago his brethren all agreed that he loved fine cuts, because he made a secret of the chewing habit. He was a regular attendant at those Monday morning "chewing meetings" which the average reformer despises, but which are really very interesting. Out of the bright sayings and clever witticisms of preachers who do not think they are forbidden to indulge in a hearty laugh because they occupy a pulpit. While Dr. Tiffany was a participant in these meetings the tobacco habit came up for discussion one morning. A well known bishop was presiding. One after another the brethren arose and condemned the use of tobacco in any form. Then one of them, during a lull, said he would like to hear Dr. Tiffany's ideas on the subject. The big doctor arose. "I chew tobacco," he said, "and you all know it. Now I would like to have all those who do not use tobacco rise in their seats." There was a grand uprising. "Remain standing, please," said the doctor, as he looked over the cadaverous men standing before him. "Will those who use tobacco please step forward here!" he said, and a half dozen sleek looking parsons walked up and joined him. "Stand up, boys! you're a chewer," he said to the presiding divine, and he joined the group. Dr. Tiffany then looked over the thin fellows who tobaccoed, turned to the healthy looking men around him and said: "Brothers, I think we are doing pretty well." The argument was unanswerable.—Chicago Herald.

A Snare and Delusion.
If a man has weary nerves and a thumping headache nothing prevents his coming home and trying a towel about his brows like a Turk, and being as grumpy as one the rest of the evening. But a woman in the same case can only look longingly at her old wrapper and then go and painfully build up her Psycho knot and an agreeable smile of expectancy right angle, else she will hear that "Hang it! It's enough to drive a fellow to his club to have an untidy wife lying about on the sofas!" and that "the deuce knows why a woman always manages to look prettier before marriage and never after."

In fact, being a woman at all is a snare and a delusion.
It sounds very, very nice, but it's awful. A woman isn't even allowed to grow old in peace. Going the course of all nature is just the worst crime she can commit. If she isn't married her brothers don't forgive her for it, and if she is married her husband won't.

A Giant of the Forest.
Undoubtedly the largest stump in the state of Washington is the one located just below Snohomish City, on the farm of W. S. Clark, says The Seattle Press. It is a huge cedar and its diameter is 20 feet—a surface sufficient for forty men to stand upon. The tree was burned down some sixteen years ago, and its wood was used for fence rails, shingles, etc. There was enough material in the tree to furnish rails for the fencing of a large Texas farm.

Smoke Hand-Made Cigar, Nectar, 5 Cents
The stump was photographed when five horses, standing abreast, three feet apart, and thirty men were upon it. Such a photo is now in possession of the writer and others in Snohomish. A circle whose diameter is 24 feet must be 63 feet in circumference and contain an area of 314 square feet. The tree belonging to the big stump was 80 feet in height, and its volume was, therefore, 6,374 cubic feet. This was a giant! Poetry has lauded the majestic oak, but its size is often eclipsed by Washington's cedars.

THE HERALD OFFICE, Friday Evening, May 30, 1890. Montreal Stock Market.

This market continues very strong with Telegraph, Street Railway and Canadian Pacific the most prominent features. These stocks were all active and Street Railway was buoyant, selling up from 219 at the opening to 221 1/2 at the close. The offerings of this stock are very light and there are more orders on the market than can be filled. There were no transactions in rights to new issue of stock at par, but 185 is bid at the close 190 asked. $33 is offered for rights to new issue, selling at 42. Gas was firm at 206 the highest point touched yesterday. Canadian Pacific was firm all day and 800 shares changed hands at 83 1/2. There is more movement in Telegraph and the "bulls" seem to have taken hold with the intention of running up prices, whether from inside information or not it is hard to say. The close to-day was firm at 1001, 600 shares were sold. Bank stocks were dull, a few shares Bank of Montreal were taken at 218 and Commerce is also firmer at 124 1/2. North-west Land was weaker with no trading, being offered at 80 at the close, 75 bid, 5 points below yesterday's figures.

The day's sales amounted to 2072 shares as follows:

IT HELPS TO PURIFY THE HEART.

Notwithstanding J. C. Rykert the Dominion Parliament, for two or three years past, has been a cleaner body than it used to be. A number of the members are in the habit of taking Turkish Baths when in Montreal. A Turkish Bath should be built where the liquor bar now is in the Parliament buildings.

Eppe's Cocoa-Grateful and Comforting. "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." Civil Service Gazette.

Lamed Back Cured. "Seven years ago I was troubled with lame back and could scarcely move. Several remedies failed, but trying Haysard's Yellow Oil I found immediate relief, and two bottles effected a complete cure."

PRODUCE AND PROVISIONS.

Breadstuffs. MONTREAL, May 30, 1890. FLOUR-The flour market is moving slowly and there is a very quiet feeling to-day in flour circles owing to the holiday in the United States and consequently no Chicago despatches to look out for. Local markets are firm and unchanged as follows:

Wheat, patent, $5.50, Spring Wheat, patent, 5.50, Straight Roller, 4.50, Extra, 4.00, Superior, 3.40, Fine, 3.40, Strong Bakers, 5.25, City Strong Bakers, 5.40.

Local quotations are unchanged as follows: No. 1 hard wheat, $1.20 @ $1.22; No. 2, $1.19; oats, 39c @ 40c per 32 lbs; peas, 75c @ 76c per 60 lbs. alfalfa; corn, 50c @ 51c per bush; barley, 40c @ 53c per bush; buckwheat, 40c per bush; rye, 53c @ 55c per bush.

There is a quieter feeling in eggs, but prices are firm at 12 1/2 @ 13 per doz. for fresh stock.

Butter-There is a steady market for fresh butter at 16 @ 18 cents for Eastern Townships, 13 @ 15 for Western, 10 @ 12 cents for medium sorts and for poor sorts the best price dealers will pay and in the present state of the market it is not worth while paying freight and charges on poor stuff.

Cheese-The English markets are unchanged. On the spot there is not likely to be any change before the full grass makes come on the market when prices may improve fractionally. There is a market now for all offerings of our at 3 1/2 @ 9 cents per lb. for white and colored and we are told old Canadian makes are in demand in England at full figures where old cheese is scarce.

Do more people eat to live than live to eat? Nowadays when the best fare is considered a necessity and not a luxury by so many, it looks as if the days had it but no matter how the problem is decided it is beyond dispute that the Canadian Pacific Railway caters to all so far as gastronomic luxury is concerned.

Added to the luxurious elegance of Sleeping and Parlor Cars, equally handsome Dining Cars offer to the traveller accommodation not surpassed in the dining-rooms of our leading hotels, while the buffet service upon the Montreal and Boston Air Line, and between Montreal and Toronto, is irreproachable.

But the wants of the traveller are not left to chance, even when he leaves the train. Down below the grand general waiting-room at Windsor street Station is a restaurant that will surely find favor with all who test its varied resources. In a large, handsomely furnished and richly carpeted room, you may sit at yourself at a table and select what your fancy dictates from a most liberal menu and a well-selected wine-list, and quickly as a trained and courteous attendant can bring the viands, your order will be filled.

Next to the restaurant is the Lunch Counter, a model of its kind, where those pressed for time will find ample accommodation.

Already the restaurant has attained an enviable reputation amongst Montreal epicures, and it has proved a special boon to those arriving or departing at hours when to obtain a comfortable meal elsewhere meant bothersome hurry.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

By proper, healthful exercise, and the judicious use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites, which contains the healing and strengthening virtues of these two valuable specifics in their fullest form. Dr. D. D. McDougall, Petticoat, N. B., says: "I have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion with good results. It is especially useful in persons of consumptive tendencies." Sold by Druggists, 50c and $1.00.

Subscribers to Carslake's Sweep are reminded that the drawing will take place at the Vic's Armory, Saturday night next, at 6 p.m. sharp. Guaranteed to fill. 126

Remedies for Neuralgia.

Miss Parloa recommends in the Household two remedies for one who is suffering from neuralgia in the head. Put him in a warm bed. Make a brick very hot and cover it with several thicknesses of flannel. Fold a coarse, thick cloth and place it on the pillow. Lay the brick on this and wet thoroughly with rum. Rest the painful part of the head of the brick and throw a blanket over the patient, covering the head. Keep covered in this way until the pain ceases. When the blanket is removed, wipe the moisture from the head, face and neck, and then bathe in alcohol or rum, to prevent the taking of a cold.

Another remedy is to make salt very hot by stirring it over the fire in a frying pan; then pour it into a bag, which should be securely tied. Have the patient lie down and cover him well. Place the bag of hot salt on that part of the head or face where the pain is located. The salt will retain the heat a long time. This method is much easier than the first, but it will not relieve one so quickly nor so thoroughly.

A Chiropodist on Corns and Bunions.

An English chiropodist advances the startling opinion that corns are hereditary. He thinks that there is as much difference between the size of the American and the English woman's foot as has been claimed, "but the Americans, you know, have their boots built to fit them much better." He takes out corns "for all sorts of people, from girls of fifteen to young swells and elderly people. Of course, elderly people form the majority. But there are four women to each man." It seems that among the worst displacements of the feet are the ingrowing nails, which come from wearing shoes with pointed toes. Bunions, too, arise from the same cause, and these are mostly more costly to get rid of than corns.

The Cremation Idea.

When a man is bitten by the idea of cremation he becomes very strenuous in letting everybody know. Cremation seems to make people as enthusiastic as a new religion. A jeweler recently made for a customer a cinerary urn which the customer was going to use as an ornament to his sideboard till it was required for graver purposes. The urn is made of the finest crystal glass, mounted in carved and gilded silver. There are two shields on the silver cover, which is surmounted with a metallic helmet. The urn itself will hold about as much ashes as will go into an ordinary sized round flat hat, that being the approximate quantity yielded by a cremated man.

One Thing and Another.

The sunniest among the reforms should be selected for habitual habitation, especially of children. Direct sunlight should not be excluded to a greater extent than necessary for the safety of the eyes. The continued use of antiseptics is pronounced by an eminent foreign authority to have an injurious effect, securing repose at the expense of vital force. To make white eyebrows a better color wet them frequently with strong black tea and let it dry on, says a writer on toilet matters.

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE.

A Fashionable Man's Comments on Trifles of Importance Among Society People. Mr. Ward McAllister, prominent among New York's "four hundred," notes in The World some trifling social blunders which often give serious offense, because they are largely the result of thoughtlessness and frequently do not admit of satisfactory explanation.

"It is no unusual thing, for example, to find a man or woman sending a note to an acquaintance or friend and addressing the envelope Mr. John Smith, instead of John Smith, Esq.

"It would be difficult to tell, perhaps, why it is so, but Mr. John Smith is felt to be a mean and derogatory way of subscribing the envelope, and it is a fashion never used by careful people. John Smith, Esq., is the accepted formula, and unless the envelope is addressed to a tradesman or a man in a distinctively inferior walk of life it is the formula which must be used. It is not even permissible to use Mr. Smith when the first name of the gentleman for whom the letter is intended is unknown. The proper formula in such a case is this: The Smith, Esq.

"I state the practice in this matter as I would in any other matter, and do not pretend to explain or justify it. "It is no unusual thing for writers to address correspondents as Dear Madam or Dear Sir even when their feelings are of the kindest. This is not allowable under any circumstances. If you have any acquaintance with Mr. Smith at all you are bound to address him as My Dear Mr. Smith or simply Dear Mr. Smith. If you are really intimate with him, Dear Smith or My Dear Smith is permissible.

"The only case where the beginning of a note with Sir or Dear Sir is not indicative of a feeling of superiority on the part of the writer, and his desire to keep the correspondent at a social distance, is where the note is hostile in its character.

"I need scarcely say," continued Mr. McAllister, "that when a person is writing to somebody whom he does not know at all and has not known the only way to get around the difficulty continually presented in such cases is to put the letter in the third person and present the compliments of the writer to the correspondent and inclose the personal card. This also is a favorite mode for men and women to address people with whom they have business relations and no social relations whatever.

"Your truly is the most formal and perfunctory way of introducing the signature. Yours Sincerely is coming into use in England to a certain extent, and of course will be taken up here. Faithfully Yours is also a formula which is securing some English indorsement, and that in the long run means an American indorsement. The old form of Your Obedient Servant, etc., has gone out altogether. Yours Respectfully is only used when addressing a man in an official position on a matter of first importance.

A Marvellous Recovery.

I was so ill with inflammatory rheumatism in 1882 that I was given up, and had all my earthly business put in order. One of my sons begged me to get Burdock Blood Bitters. After the third bottle I could sit up alone and eat a good meal, and in six weeks I was out of bed feeling better than I ever felt. I take three bottles every spring and two every fall. Mrs. M. N. D.
