BONAR LAW, M.P., MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED BALFOUR AS LEADER

Choice Said to be Agreed Upon, Subject to Ratification.

By Special Cable From Our Own Correspondent.

London, November 10.—I understand that an agreement has been arrived at whereby Mr. Bonar Law becomes leader of the Unionist party in the British House of Commons, and probably, therefore, the next British Prime Minister.

This, the highest honor ever conferred upon a Canadian-born member of the British Parliament, is, of course, subject to ratification at the meeting of the party on Monday next.

It transpires that Austen Chamberlain withdrew his claim to the leadership because of the opposition of the Tory section of the Unionists, whose nominee was Hon. Walter Hume Long. The latter also withdrew to secure the unity of the party. The choice then fell upon Bonar Law, subject to ratification at the meeting of the party on Monday.

WINDERMERE.

The Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law was born in Kent Co., New Brunswick, in 1858, the son of Rev. James Law, M.A., a Presbyterian minister. He was educated partly in his native province and afterwards at the Glasgow High School. Mr. Law is a prominent iron merchant in Glasgow, chairman of the Scotch Pig-iron Association, and ex-Chairman of the Glasgow Iron Trade Association. He entered Parliament, in 1900, as representative of the Blackfriars division of Glasgow, defeating by a thousand votes Mr. A. D. Provand, who had represented the division as a Gladstonian and a Radical since 1886.

He represented that constituency till 1906. A few months after his defeat in that year he was elected for Dulwich, for which constituency he sat until the last General Election, of 1910 when he left his safe seat there in order to contest North-West Manchester. He failed to wrest the seat from Sir George Kemp, the former member, but the Liberal majority was reduced from 783 to 445. In March, 1911, he was elected for Boothe division of Lancashire, by a majority of over 2,000. He was called to the Privy Council in June last. Mr. Bonar Law was from 1902 to 1906 Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, and in the last few years he has been conspicuous as one of the most ardent advocates of Tariff Reform. He is a widower with several children.

MINISTER ORDERS CENSUS CHECKED.

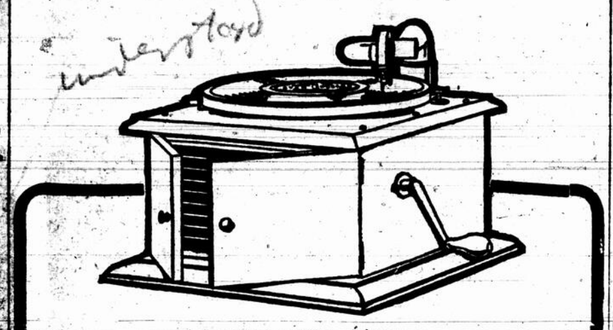

Officers Must Correct Returns Where Disputes as to Accuracy Occur.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 10.—Hon. Martin Burrill, Minister of Agriculture, who returned last evening from the Coast, has instructed the census officers to check over again the returns made by enumerators, in a number of cases where there are particular disputes as to accuracy.

The Minister expresses the view that it would be impracticable to take a new census in the immediate future. He is enquiring into the system.

REMARKABLE CAST IN A DRAMATIC AND DELIGHTFUL CARMEN

Singing of Dereyne, Clement and La Palme Sets a New Mark for Opera in Montreal.

CANADIAN SINGERS WARMLY RECEIVED

Theatre Packed to the Doors While Hundreds are Turned Away.

CARMEN has been a subject of controversy for a good many years. Most opera singers are anxious to appear in the role, and of interpretations—of sorts—there have been no end. But among them few have stood out memorable, and fewer still have taken a permanent place in the gallery of famous operatic creations. With a memory still vivid of the great Calve's striking interpretation of Bizet's heroine, the writer desires to go on record as affirming that it is his conviction that the Carmen presented at His Majesty's Theatre last night is the most dramatic, intense, and gripping impersonation of the role by any notable artist since Calve's day. Mme. Fely Dereyne has fulfilled the rich promise of five years ago, and her Carmen stamps her as an actress and singer of acute intelligence, originality, and power. She brings to bear in her interpretation a keen appreciation of finesse in histrionics, remarkable insight in characterization, and no little subtlety in the creation of moods.

The distinctive note she struck was indicative of the high level of the whole production. Never before has Montreal witnessed such a cast for this opera. With Edmond Clement as Don Jose, greater than ever in his triumph through sheer genius of acting and singing; with Beatrice La Palme an ideal Micaela in person, in voice, in sympathetic appreciation of that role; with M. Cargue a dignified and impressive Toreador; with Mme. Olga Pawloska a spirited, vivid, and impulsive Mercedes; and with almost every minor role effectively filled; with scenic setting more than adequate; with an orchestra directed by a conductor who certainly revealed hidden beauties in even Bizet's lovely music; and with an audience that packed the theatre to overflowing, filling every seat from orchestra stalls to top gallery, standing ten deep at the back of the parquet, and with enthusiasm gaining in intensity with each successive act, it was a night to be remembered for a long time to come.

French Canada had turned out in full force to do honor to her brilliant daughter, and Montreal generally to acclaim four artists of Canadian birth, who figured in the cast. Long before 8 o'clock there was a queue extending from the box office down Guy street round the corner of St. Catherine street, and long after half-past eight the crowd still poured in, hundreds being eventually turned away, as every available foot of standing room was quickly taken up. The audience was the largest ever assembled at a performance of grand opera here; probably, indeed, the largest ever assembled in Canada for grand opera. The box office receipts exceeded $2,500. The night was a triumph in every way.

Mme. Fely Dereyne struck a vivid individual note on her entry. She costumes the role with sedulous regard for the development of the action of the opera, and this costuming has its due part in her success. Her appearance in a skirt of coarse pattern—red and white—a flaming shawl, and gaudy waist scarf, gave the keynote to her impersonation, even as it accentuated the significance of her gestures and her very clearly defined suggestion of panther-like fascination. The writer has never seen any Carmen who gave such a feline reading of the Habanera. Mme. Dereyne's consummate art in make-up heightened this impression. Physically, she is ideal for the role. Her Carmen is the personification of voluptuousness, of wayward passion, careless, unrestrained, but also calculating and designing. Her remarkably expressive eyes are used unceasingly, and by deft use of kohl she gives an impression of eyes of unusual breadth, thus conveying, without taking into consideration her innumerable subtle modulations of carriage, inflections of voice, and facial expression, a strong sense of the alluring and the enticing. Perhaps she strikes this note too forcibly at the outset; but that is a fault easily eradicated. Certainly she makes admirable use of it later on.

When dragged out of the cigarette factory, she stood glaringly defiant for a moment; then did the one thing that was the essential—for a Carmen; she tidied her hair, and with deft, quick hands restored, with far more than usual care, her ruffled charms. This attention to detail characterized her impersonation throughout.

In the second act her attitude when seated and her pose when swaying to the rhythm of the dance alike indicated the woman swayed by sensuous emotions. Over her face swept fleeting impressions of her thoughts. It was, in its way, brilliant emotional sculpture. In this respect she gives us the real Carmen of Merrimee. To watch her as she sat listening to Don Jose's passionate outpouring of his feelings in the Flower Song was to realize that she is, if nothing else, an actress of no mean intellectual powers. Here again the feline sense was strong, but tempered by a subtle modification in the shape of an abandonment to the physical impulses of the moment. Her caresses at the close, arousing Don Jose from his dejection and shame, were the apotheosis of luring promise.

In the third act—which has never been given with such wealth of detail and such well defined significance here—Mme. Dereyne was less Spanish than Gallic in her outburst of anger and sudden flaming passion. She gave the same impression in the tragic final scene. But throughout both she conveyed, with a vehemence and a certainty that held her audience tense and enthralled, the sense of a passionate woman conscious of her powers to charm, to entice, and to fascinate, living only for the intense enjoyment of the passionate moment, careless, unscrupulous, and heartless. She struck the note of sex with a poignant force, but she did not over-accentuate it.

Her voice is a soprano, and Carmen is a mezzo role. But Mme. Dereyne, though she does not possess a voice of great power or volume, can color it, and can use vocal colors with the skill of an artist. She emphasized the dramatic character of the music to a degree, and in no single instance or particular did she fail to maintain the vividness of her characterization. To sum up in a single phrase, her Carmen is not only striking in its comprehensive succession of wayward moods, but dramatically and intellectually great.

To such a Carmen did M. Clement play Don Jose. And what a Don Jose! He is an artist of extraordinary range, unfailing resource, and apparently inexhaustible originality. He is always thinking oht some new detail which shall perfect his characterisation. There were evidenced last night the same remarkable exercise of restraint,—a model for all the young members of the company—the same certain control of nervous force, the same extensive gamut of vocal inflections, the same swift, subtle emotional flashes, the same immense virility, that marked his presentation of the role last season. And in addition he struck a score of new notes, introduced innumerable new deft details, exquisite trifles that made his reading more aesthetically brilliant than ever.

One little instance will suffice. In the third act, while Carmen is reading her fate by the cards, Don Jose lies full length at her right hand, turned away from her, but listening to every word she says. And as he listens, he handles his knife with such prehensile, nervous suggestiveness that it gives a new sinister and shuddering significance to the apprehension which Carmen voices.

In the last act, by a sudden turn from the exhaustion of despair to the nervous tenseness of a sudden and desperate resolve, accompanied by an astounding facial change from tortured longing to the frenzy of jealousy, he accomplished a transformation as startling as it was unmistakable in its significance.

His voice is as beautiful in texture, as instinct with romance, poetry, passion, the whole range of emotions, as ever. He uses it with an art that is a source of continual wonderment and of unfailing delight. A hundred delicate nuances, a hundred exquisite modulations, all used of set design, all clearly significant, all employed with an utter absence of strain, attest the greatness of his art and the domination of an intelligence at once subtle and intensely keen. Small wonder that when he had finished his exquisite singing of the Flower Song, a roar of applause fairly shook the house. A great Don Jose, well matched to a great Carmen.

And this was not all appearing for the first time in grand opera in her native land, Beatrice La Palme made her Canadian debut last night as Micaela. Artist to her finger-tips, the brilliant French-Canadian singer gave an ideal interpretation of the role. The personification of girlish modesty, purity and charm, she invested Micaela with a tender sympathy that went straight to the hearts of her audience. Her extraordinarily facile manipulation of her voice is even more in evidence in opera than on the concert platform. Moreover, she is a clever and convincing actress, invariably appropriate in gesture, and exercising always a well-judged restraint. She also won a veritable storm of applause from the audience, and it was thoroughly well deserved.

In the smaller roles, justice awards the palm to Mme. Olga Pawloska, another Canadian. It was her first appearance in opera on any stage, but in many respects her Mercedes was that of an experienced artist. True, she made a couple of false entries, but that is a small detail, in the circumstances. She infused into the part a vivacity and a magnetism that indicate genuine artistic instincts. Her gestures are both graceful and impressive, and her exit in the last act, after pleading with Carmen to leave the Square, could scarcely have been more effectively done. She sang with confidence, and her voice—really one of beautiful quality and great possibilities—rang out more than once clear above the full chorus. She will be well advised to conserve her undoubted vocal powers.

Congratulations must also be extended to Mme. Choiseul, who, as Frasquita, sang charmingly and made a pretty, graceful figure. M. Pannetton was rather disappointing as Zuniga. He lacked mobility in gesture and facial expression. He should guard against stiffness. Mr. Wainman did excellent work as Morales, but will improve his impersonation if he tones down his make-up somewhat. Mr. Hugh Allan introduced some clever touches of humor as Remendado—his make-up was admirable,—and Signor Stroesco displayed considerable versatility as Dancairo. The Escamillo of M. Cargue is notable for its dignity and manliness. He sang the Toreador's song somewhat slower than is usual, but with most appropriate spirit.

His fine bass voice is invariably adequate.

The chorus made one of two minor slips, but their work on the whole was more than good. The skill of M. Hasselmans helped them over more than one difficult spot. The quintette in the second act was a feature of the performance. Mmes. Dereyne, Pawloska, and Choiseul, and Mr. Allan and Signor Stroesco, rendered it with delightful humor and due regard for it rhythmic qualities.

The orchestra, under M. Hasselmans, played Bizet's charming music as it is seldom played. All the rich coloring was brought out, all the many beauties revealed, and there was evident throughout a complete rapport between conductor and players.

The enthusiasm was phenomenal. All the principals shared in it. Bouquets and wreaths were plentiful. Mmes Dereyne, La Palme, Pawloska and Choiseul were all recipients, as was also M. Clement, the latter being presented with a laurel wreath. A gratifying incident was the appearance, in response to an insistent call, of the managing director, Mr. Clark-Jeannotte, who was the obviously unwilling, but most deserving, object of a hurricane of cheering. Only those who know the untiring energy and the unswerving devotion of Mr. Jeannotte can fully realise the great extent to which the public is his debtor. He had his reward last night in the knowledge of a notable performance, which will not be forgotten soon.

To-night, "Manon Lescaut," with the same cast as on Monday night.

Bride's Reception.

Mrs. Herbert Raine, formerly Miss Maud Bolton, held her bridal reception at her home in the Dirleton, Union avenue, yesterday afternoon, when she was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss Bolton. The hostess' gown was of rose pink charmeuse satin, with antique Honiton lace trimming; Miss Bolton wore a pale blue crepe de chine robe. In the tea room, where the table decorations were composed of pink roses, Mrs. Ernest Bolton and Mrs. Hullett Desbarats presided. The young ladies helping to serve were Miss May Robertson, Miss Hazel Covernton, Miss Mabel Coghlin and Miss Daisy Pinsonneault. Pink roses and white carnations were effectively arranged in the reception room. Mrs. Raine will be at home on the first Tuesday of each month.

Reception for Debutante.

The tea given by Mrs. D. Stroud, to introduce her daughter, Miss Ruby Stroud, who is a debutante this season was another enjoyable social event yesterday afternoon. Yellow and white chrysanthemums were the flowers used in the drawing-room, where the hostess received, wearing a cream-colored satin gown with overdress of black beaded lace. Her daughter, who received with her, was gowned in white satin veiled in white chiffon and carried pink roses. Mrs. Laurence Watt and Mrs. Chave presided at the tea table, which was decorated with pink roses and greenery, and Mrs. Walter Long and Mrs. Clarence Stroud served the ices. The young ladies assisting were Miss Gladys Hubley, Miss Helen Popham, Miss Daisy Hannah and Miss Marjorie Stroud.

GRAND CONCERT (MAISTLY SCOTCH) NOVEMBER 24.

Fine Programme Arranged for Stanley Street Presbyterian Church Concert.

Arrangements have been made for a grand concert (maistly Scotch) to be given in the lecture hall of Stanley Street Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the choir and Sunday school, on Friday evening, November 24. A very enjoyable entertainment is being looked forward to as some of the best local talent have consented to take part.

Amongst the names appearing on the programme for that evening are: Miss McRitchie, Scottish Elocutionist and entertainer, from Glasgow; Miss Hazel McRae, well-known Scottish songstress; Mr. Robert Strathdee, violinist, formerly of Aberdeen; and Mr. Sedgwick, baritone soloist in Crescent Street Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Donald MacLeod has also kindly consented to sing in Gaelic for the special edification of the Highland friends who may be present on that occasion; while the bagpipe selections are being arranged for by Mr. Alec. Gray, pipe-major of the Highland Cadets.

Other talent, both vocal and instrumental, will also appear, all combining to make up a programme of exceptional merit and attractiveness.

The VEST CHAIN

Gentlemen who adhere to the fashions will be wearing their clothes this Fall after the manner of our English brothers. This calls for the high-cut vest, which in turn affords a splendid background for the Vest Chain. Here we enter the question, for, with our usual foresight, we are showing a choice and striking variety of handsome Vest Chains in Gold and Platinum, such as the most fastidious dresser will admire. They combine in an effect of refined richness and good taste that cannot be obtained elsewhere at our prices.

Take Care of Your Teeth

Every shade of expression that passes over the face has its greatest effect on that most mobile of features—the mouth. It is important, then, that the teeth, revealed by every movement of the lips, should be white, wholesome and good to look upon. A little more care taken, in time, to keep them thoroughly clean, and free from all acids and harmful bacteria—and your teeth will remain strong and wholesome, as nature intended they should. Mere brushing is not sufficient. Use twice every day. A perfect cleaner, it neutralizes all acidity in the mouth. It is an effective germicide, sweetens and purifies the breath, and gives to the teeth fresh, radiant health. Do you rise with an acrid, bitter taste? It is likely the fault of your teeth. The most minute particle of food lodged between your teeth will do this. Sanitol used before retiring makes the mouth thoroughly antiseptic, sweet and clean; guards against the consequences of decay, and leaves you with a refreshed, revitalized and wholesome sensation in the mouth. Different—and better—at the same price.

SANITOL POWDER or PASTE

DR. WORKMAN WINS HIS FAMOUS LAW SUIT; GETS $3500 AND COSTS

Mr. Justice Weir Is Severe in Course of Lengthy Judgment — Surprised at Trial Committee —"A Mere Travesty of Honest Investigation"— Wonders Why "Distressed" Students Were Not Called as Witnesses — Finds Dr. Scott's Position Strange — Comments on Loss of Minutes.

Condemning the Wesleyan Theological College to pay $3,500 damages, Mr. Justice Weir this morning rendered judgment in favor of Rev. Dr. Workman in the latter's famous and long-standing case against the college from which he was dismissed as professor on the grounds that his teachings were unorthodox.

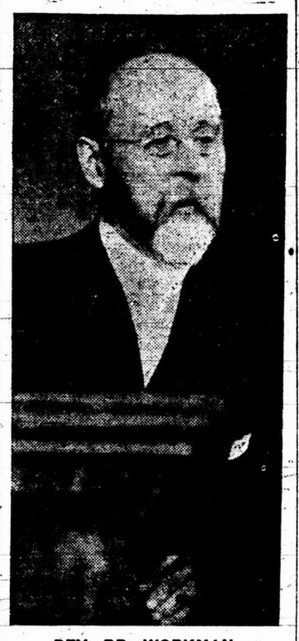

That the Board of Governors of the Wesleyan College acted illegally in dismissing Rev. Dr. Workman, and, that their dismissal is ultra vires is the main conclusion which Mr. Justice Weir arrived at in the judgment which was 50 pages in length and which he required one hour and 35 minutes to read this forenoon.

Not the Wesleyan College governors, but the Methodist General Conference should have dismissed Dr. Workman, if there were grounds for dismissing him, Mr. Justice Weir declares.

"I have no hesitation," Judge Weir also declared, "that the plaintiff (Rev. Dr. Workman), has amply shown the existence of malice against him." His Lordship, however, believed that the grief and anguish which Dr. Workman had experienced far out-weighed money considerations.

That the college had acted "disloyally to its church and in bad faith to a minister thereof," is another conclusion which Judge Weir states he has no hesitation in arriving at.

Unfortunately, His Lordship said, the action for libel had been prescribed, and he could only award damages for unjust dismissal. On this ground he awarded $2,500. However, the plea submitted by the college has been shown not to be justified and there it reiterated the libel, and for this His Lordship awarded $1,000 additional damages.

REV. DR. WORKMAN.
From a snapshot taken in the court-room.

Attempt to Prejudice the Case.

"It is unfortunate," Judge Weir remarked, "that the plaintiff's attempts to gain justice from his church courts lasted so long as to prescribe any action in this court on the ground of libel."

Throughout the judgment, His Lordship also indulged in such remarks as "a palpable attempt to prejudice the case of Rev. Dr. Workman," referring to the actions of the committee of enquiry appointed by the college governors to investigate Dr. Workman's case.

His Lordship also referred to committee's proceedings as "a mere travesty of justice." "We have the curious spectacle," His Lordship added, "of a committee receiving the testimony of one of their own members."

Moreover, Judge Weir censured Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott for tearing minutes out of the records of the committee's proceedings, and quoted Rev. Dr. Scott's own testimony to the effect: "I tore the minutes out of the book and laid them to one side."

To any impartial mind, His Lordship said, "the report of the committee must appear biased, prejudiced, illogical and unfair." He was satisfied that it was impossible to get any accurate statement of the questions asked or the answers given before that committee unless the version of Dr. Workman himself were accepted.

His Lordship declared that while the charges against Dr. Workman were based on his teaching in the college, no evidence as to such unorthodox teaching had been given. There had been merely a report of Dr. Workman's appreciation of Prof. McBride's lecture, which Dr. Workman had satisfactorily explained.

Many Methodist clergymen and leading laymen of the denomination were present to hear the judgment. After it had been delivered it was announced that an appeal would undoubtedly be entered on behalf of the college.

Mr. Justice Weir's judgment in part was as follows:

The Judge Reviews the Incidents.

"The evidence in this case, involving as it does, the creed and views on certain documents and aspects of the orthodox laws and by-laws of the Methodist Church, has covered a great deal of ground. As the case is of some public interest, it is desirable to set it out in some detail.

Finds No Evidence of Unorthodox Teaching.

"The dispute between the parties had its origin in a motion submitted at a meeting of the Board of Governors, on April 29, 1907, at which the late Rev. Dr. Shaw presided. The motion was presented by Mr. Torrance, based on the reported teaching of Rev. Dr. Workman. The motion as passed referred to the doctrinal teaching, and not to his doctrinal attitude, and the minutes of the meeting are not correct. His protest for this is not even noticed. The minutes are as notable for what they do not contain as for what is therein recorded. The principal read a prepared paper which was an indictment of the plaintiff's doctrine. He said: 'His views are opposed to the teachings of the college and caused unrest at times among the students.' The objection to Dr. Workman was based upon his teaching in the college.

"The principal nominated a committee of enquiry with himself as convenor. The board sanctioned this action of the man who had made himself the principle accuser, and who was apparently acting in concert with the mover of the resolution. It gave clear evidence of his feelings.

Should Have Selected Committee From Outside.

"This action came as a bolt from the blue. Dr. Workman replied to the action of the principal by laying a charge of libel, charging Dr. Shaw with making libellous accusations against him by reading a statement of the board in which he alleged that Dr. Workman's views were diversions from the traditions of the Methodist Church and the doctrinal standing of many of the Christian churches, Lutheran, Latin or Greek. It was alleged that Dr. Workman denied the doctrine of the trinity, and the atonement of Christ.

"It would seem that an ordinary sense of fairness in a trial would have caused the trial committee to have been selected from outside the college circles, rather than from within, where the influence of a member of long standing would be presumed to be greater than that of a professor of a short period. The contrary course was taken.

"It is easily seen that the complainant was at a serious disadvantage. The defendant (Rev. Dr. Shaw) could bring forward any matters, and the complainant would not be allowed to explain or rebutt them. The complainant had no right to reply to the argument of the defendant. The complainant was on trial for his orthodoxy, rather than the defendant on trial for libel.

Dr. Shaw Did Not Call Witnesses.

"It is noticeable that even when it was possible, Dr. Shaw did not attempt to sustain or corroborate his evidence by any other witness. The committee gave the verdict that the defendant (Rev. Dr. Shaw) had reason to believe the statements made were true and that as principal of the college he believed it was his duty to make them. The charge of libel was therefore set aside.

"While not pronounding upon the truth of the libel, this verdict is certainly adverse to Dr. Workman."

"In the meantime, Dr. Workman appealed to the annual conference on the ground that the ruling of the chairman of the committee was erroneous. The appeal came up before a ministerial session of the Montreal conference. The conference named a committee of eleven to confer with Dr. Workman and Dr. Shaw to consider the possibility of a mutual understanding. The committee reported that Dr. Shaw expressed his regret for having made the statements. He regretted that a circular was sent out, and, without his knowledge, was published in the daily papers. The proceedings before the committee were quashed and the conference, having learned that the Board of Governors of the college had appointed a committee to inquire into the teaching of a professor, it respectfully begged to suggest the advisability of holding such an enquiry. Rev. Dr. Workman undertook to accept the regrets of Rev. Dr. Shaw.

Proceedings Mere Travesty of Honest Investigation.

"This report was adopted after an adverse comment of Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott. Rev. Dr. Young then appealed to the court of appeal. A motion was then made to refer the report back to the committee of eleven. That committee made a second report, showing that new evidence had been forthcoming. On June 14, 1907, the trial committee declared that no further trial was necessary. This nullified the work and left the original verdict in favor of Dr. Shaw in spite of the

GENERAL CANEVA DEFENDS ACTS OF ITALIAN TROOPS

Commander Declares Even Arab Workmen Opened Fire Upon Army From Rear.

WAR CORRESPONDENT REITERATES CHARGES

Army of Penetration Advancing Cretan Assembly Unexpectedly Dissolved.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Rome, November 10. — In an official despatch General Caneva, Commander of the forces at Tripoli, says:

"If any reproach can be brought against us, it can only be that we erred on the side of too much consideration and indulgence toward the natives.

A clear demonstration of this may be seen from the commanders' orders and declarations, in which our soldiers were specially counselled and advised to treat the Arabs on friendliest terms, to respect their principles, customs, religion, and women.

Since the day of our landing, the Governor has distributed money and hundreds of tons of corn, oats, and bread to the poor. Hundreds of local laborers have been engaged for the work of landing baggage and stores, and have received generous payment.

The natives were allowed to pass in and out through our trenches, and the Arabs and their caravans passed unmolested through our lines.

On October 23, the Turks, with a large number of mounted natives and five thousand Arabs, all armed with Mausers, attacked our lines in front, and in various places in town. The Arabs of the oasis, suddenly producing rifles, attacked us at our rear.

In many instances these attacks were of the most treacherous kind, Arab workmen and laborers employed by us being most prominent among the attackers.

Arabs with rifles hidden under their garments did not hesitate to walk up quietly to within a few yards of our soldiers, and then open fire on them. Even the women, concealed behind bushes and trees, fired on us.

FROM ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, November 10.—The following despatch from Francis McCullagh, the war correspondent was received here to-day. Although written before the explanation which General Caneva offers, the despatch, in a large part, is an answer to it.

"Nearly all the men massacred at Tripoli were innocent," writes McCullagh. "I doubt if even scores of city Arabs fired on the Italians from the rear."

"In many houses rifles and ammunition were found but if my own trunks had been searched, a lot of Turkish ammunition was in them also. I got it from the Turkish cavalry barracks where the Turks left behind from 50,000 to 100,000 rounds of cartridges. When the Turks were gone, and before the Italians came, the Arabs living on the outskirts of the city plundered the cavalry barracks.

"Col. Spinelli, who now occupies the barracks, when I visited him the other day he showed me even window glass, hat pegs, door handles, chairs, tables, carpets, door latches and railings, which had been carried off.

"During the first days of the occupation, I saw Arabs selling all kinds of loot they had obtained in this way; puttees, bags, knapsacks, writing paper etc.

"The Arabs had also taken rifles and ammunition, of which they had far more than they could carry off at short notice. Sometimes they took ammunition without rifles, sometimes rifles without ammunition. Their only object was to sell the loot and make money. But if this ammunition and these rifles were found in a house, everybody in that house was shot."

ARMY OF PENETRATION NOW ADVANCING.

London, November 10.—No further important engagements are reported from Tripoli. Skirmishing continues, with a few casualties among the Italian troops.

The Daily Telegraph's Tripoli despatches and other censored telegrams report a general heartening of the invaders since the arrival of General Frugoi with reinforcements.

The advance of the army inland is said practically to have begun. A gradual penetration is intended, with a clearing of the country as the army proceeds. It is proposed to advance beyond Zara twenty kilometres before February.

Fort Mamidieh is now very strong and is held by the Italians, who are clearing the palms to the eastward. It is reported that the Turks have been scourged by cholera and that the Arabs are deserting them.

REFUSES A LICENSE TO UNDESIRABLE.

Commissioner Pointed In Remarks to Applicant.

The application of Mr. Napoleon Mathieu for the transfer of a restaurant license from Notre Dame street to St. Louis street, was refused at a meeting of the License Commissioners yesterday afternoon.

Mathieu had purchased a license near the Notre Dame Hospital, on Notre Dame street, and asked for a transfer to new premises on St. Louis street.

In passing judgment, Judge Choquet said that he did not consider Mathieu a desirable man to hold a license, inasmuch as he had once held a license, and that the commissioners had seen fit to cancel it.

The application for a transfer to E. C. Crevier to M. Theoret, 2712 Notre Dame street West, was granted.

The application of Mary Sabotsky for a transfer from Paul Turgeon was opposed by Mr. J. L. Perron, who appeared for the residents in the locality, and the case was fixed for hearing on the 21st.

SHIP BUILDER DEAD.

LATE MR. J. C. WEIR

MR. J. C. WEIR IS DEAD AFTR BRIEF ILLNESS

He Was the Builder of Many Steamers Now in Use Here.

After a brief illness Mr. J. C. Weir, president and managing director of J. & R. Weir, Ltd., died at his residence, 16 Duke street, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the age of 75 years.

Mr. Weir was born in Glasgow, the son of John Weir, who was connected with the Caledonia Railroad there. He came to Canada in 1860, and after a short stay in Montreal travelled in the United States, after which he returned to the city. He became connected with the early steamship lines, later becoming the superintendent engineer of the M. K. Dickenson & Co., steamship owners, which was later absorbed by larger interests. In 1875 he started in business for himself with his brother, Robert Smith Weir, under the firm name of J. & R. Weir, marine engineers and boat builders. The first premises were opened on Prince street, but as the business grew, the present site fronting on Duke, Brennan and Nazareth streets, was acquired, on which from time to time the premises were extended with the growth of the business.

Mr. Weir married in 1861, Annie Parks, of Glasgow, Scotland, who died in 1882. He leaves three sons and four daughters. The sons are George, Frederick J., and James L. Weir, who are now also connected with the business. The daughters are Mrs. James Waterston, Salmon Arm, B.C.; Mrs. Harold Hamilton, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Richard Clarke, Montreal, and Mrs. Gordon H. Benson, Montreal.

Many of the steamers built by the firm of the late Mr. Weir are now running in the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers, and Lake Champlain.

Mr. Weir was a life member of the Kilwinning Masonic Lodge, which he joined shortly after coming to Canada. Was also a member of the Royal Astronomical Society. The funeral will be from the residence at 2.30 Saturday afternoon to Mount Royal Cemetery.

MR. EBENEZER MUIR OLD DRUGMAN, DIES.

Had Been Secretary of Pharmaceutical Association.

In his 80th year, death came to Mr. Ebenezer Muir early this morning. Well known for many years as secretary of both the Pharmaceutical Association and the College of Pharmacy, Mr. Muir leaves behind him a host of friends among the doctors and druggists of the whole province. He lived his whole life in Montreal and was the last of a well known family of ten children of the late Ebenezer Muir, among whom are prominently known Mr. George Muir, Mr. Will Muir, Mr. James Muir, cavalry captain in the Fenian Raid, and Mrs Foley.

Many years ago Mr. Muir was proprietor of a drug business at the corner of Place d'Armes and Notre Dame street. For some time past though Mr. Muir has been retired from active life and resided with his daughter at the New Sherbrooke Apartments. His death was not unexpected as he had been sick for the last two weeks, and his two sons from Boston were at his bedside when death came at 4 o'clock this morning.

He is survived by his daughter, Miss Muir, of the Art Association, and two sons, Mr. James G. and Mr. Stuart Muir. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon, from St. George's Church to the Mount Royal Cemetery.

GROWTH OF ANTI-FOREIGN SPIRIT NOW ALARMS SHANGHAI

Rebels Threaten Vengeance if Strict Neutrality Not Observed — Nanking Still Held by Imperialists.

STAFF OF PEKING-KAILGAN LINE FLEES

This Cuts Off the Escape of Court—Isolated Fights Reported.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Shanghai, November 10.—Fighting between the rebels and the Imperialist troops is reported from a number of the towns to-day. The occupation of Nanking by the revolutionists is still incomplete. The last attacks on the Viceroy's yamen were repulsed.

At Foo Chow the rebels bombarded the Manchu quarter in the city and burned the Viceroy's yamen. They were victorious after three hours of fighting. An King has gone over quietly to the revolutionists.

Despite all efforts that have been made to prevent it, anti-foreign sentiment began distinctly to manifest itself among the Chinese rebels to-day. Mutterings are heard on every hand that the American and European residents of the treaty ports are showing partiality for the Imperialists, and savage threats are beginning to be made of the vengeance the revolutionists will exact if aliens do not observe the strictest neutrality throughout the present struggle.

At Tien-Tsin the situation is especially strained.

The consular body's insistence that General Chang Shao-Tsen's force remain outside, instead of occupying the city, as a preliminary to the advance upon Peking, is naturally extremely provoking to the rebels. Although so far as the foreigners know, General Chang, who was originally an Imperialist army officer, has never definitely gone over to the revolutionists, the rebels seem confident that he sympathizes with them, and violently resent the protest entered by the consuls the moment that the General notified them of his intention to make Tien-Tsin temporary headquarters of the army which has followed him from Lan-Chow on the march to Peking.

The consuls' objection was based on the fear that the entrance of the Lan-Chow troops would almost certainly lead to fighting between them and the Manchu soldiers.

LEGATION GUARDS AT PEKING ARMING.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Tien Tsin, November 10.—The staff of the Peking-Kalgan Railroad, along which line the Court is preparing for flight, abandoned their posts last night and arrived here to-day. Ball cartridges have been served to the guards at the various Legations at Peking.

REBELS MAY STARVE OUT NANKING MANCHUS.

Nanking, November 10.—7.10 a.m.—The night passed without incident except for demonstrations by the reformers, who were endeavoring to draw the fire of the entrenched Imperialists and induce a waste of ammunition.

It looks now as if the situation might become a waiting game, in which the Manchus may be starved out, and their loyalty put to the test. The revolutionaries apparently are not organized or experienced, and an attack in a body upon the Imperialists would mean terrible slaughter.

INDEPENDENCE OF CANTON PROCLAIMED.

Hong Kong, November 10. — Chang Ming Chi, viceroy at Canton, who arrived here last night on board a British warship, issued a statement to the foreign consuls to-day making formal proclamation of the independence of Canton and Kwang-Tung province. He declares that he is authorized by the people to make the proclamation, and says that under the new regime the Provincial Assembly will act in an executive capacity in addition to its legislative functions.

All relations with foreign powers will continue in statu quo, but will be conducted from Canton by the Provincial Government, instead of through Peking.

British sailors with four rapid-fire guns are guarding the foreign quarters at Canton. The revolutionists have assumed control of Admiral Li Chun's headquarters and have hoisted the republican flag over the Admiral's offices.

CITY OF AMOY NOW WITHOUT A RULER.

Amoy, China, November 10—This city is without a ruler to-day. Tao Tai Chang has laid down the reins of government, and none of his subordinates appear willing to take them up. Chang to-day refused to receive official despatches, declaring that he was no longer in charge. Tun Gan, chief magistrate of the district, has abandoned his court and fled from the city.

The night was one of anxiety. All the street gates were closed and citizens remained within doors. There were repeated attempts to fire the city but all were frustrated. Shipping is at the mercy of the pirates who are carrying affairs with a high hand. Junks are afraid to venture far from their anchorages.

The British submarine supply ship Rosario anchored in the harbor this morning.

The Liverpool Cup.

London, November 10.—The result of the Liverpool Cup Race was as follows:—1 Trepida, 11 to 2; 2 Willaura, 7 to 1; 3, Mustopha, 3 to 1.

WINDERMERE.

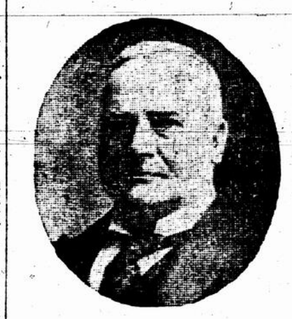

THESE WILL REPRESENT THE CROWN DURING THE KING'S ABSENCE

PRINCE ARTHUR OF CONNAUGHT

VISCOUNT MORLEY.

LORD LOREBURN.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

London, November 10.—King George will start on his trip to India to-morrow.

A meeting of the Privy Council was held at Buckingham Palace this morning and a commission was appointed which is empowered to summon and hold councils for the despatch of state business during the absence of the King. The members of the commission are Prince Arthur of Connaught, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Loreburn, Lord High Chancellor, and Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, Lord President of the Privy Council.

RESIGNATION OF W. T. R. PRESTON NOW REPORTED

Trade Commissioner to Holland Retiring, London Statement —Believed in Ottawa.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, November 10.—It is stated that Mr. W. T. R. Preston has sent to Ottawa his resignation of the position of Trade Commissioner in Holland.

Mr. Preston, it is said, is returning to Canada and may possibly accept a position at New York, which has been offered to him by a prominent Berlin firm.

Report Accepted in Ottawa.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 10.—At the Trade and Commerce Department to-day, it was stated that the resignation of Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Trade Commissioner to Holland, has not been received, nor have there been any advices that it is on the way.

In political circles, however, it is generally believed that the cabled report is true, and that his resignation is being forwarded.

Mr. Preston has been in the Trade and Commerce service for upwards of ten years, in England, Japan, and latterly in Holland, and has repeatedly been engaged in controversies.

In the case of the North Atlantic Trading Company, he was a conspicuous figure. Afterwards in Japan he entered into a long wrangle with foreign merchants there respecting methods of importation of Canadian goods.

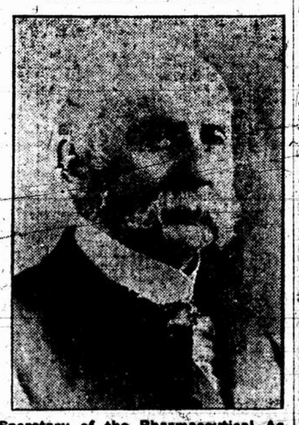

Last session the Netherlands Loan case was discussed in the House, and Mr. Preston wrote a long series of letters, claiming that through improper misrepresentations about the country, Dutch capital had been frightened from making intended investments here.

CUSTOMS ORDER TO STOP EVASION OF LUMBER CLAUSE

Collectors Must Enforce 25 Per Cent. Duty When Material is Edged.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 10.—A very important ruling for Canadian lumber interests has been made by the Customs Board, and a circular in regard to it and giving instructions to Customs collectors will be sent out immediately.

Last week a delegation of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association argued the case before the Board and urged that there are systematic violations by United States lumbermen of the rough lumber provision. Under the tariff, lumber, rough or dressed on one side, is free. When it is also dressed on the edge it is dutiable.

It is alleged that the Americans plane the board on one side and also on the edge subsequently roughing the latter so as to put it in the class free of duty. A British Columbia delegation yesterday supplemented the Lumbermen's Association appeal.

By the ruling now made collectors are instructed to see that a very close inspection of such importations is made, and where the lumber has been edged in any way, as well as dressed on the side it will be dutiable to the extent of 25 per cent.

The western lumbermen claim that there have been extensive shipments to Canada of this class of material, but the imposition of the 25 per cent. duty should tend to diminish it greatly, or at least to prevent what is claimed to be systematic evasion of the Customs Act.

BOSSARD NOT GUILTY.

A verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury in the Court of King's Bench to-day in the case of Albani Brossard, who was accused of shooting at Henri Marcil on the night of October 18, 1908.

Intense interest was taken in the case by the people of St. Hubert, Chambly county, owing to the fact that the accused had been found guilty by a jury before Mr. Justice Lavergne in March, 1909, which finding was quashed on appeal, the ground being that there had been illegal comments made on the part of the Crown Prosecutor.

After Brossard had been liberated the next case taken up was that of R. J. Demers, broker, who is charged with forging a note for $1,000 on September 19, 1905. J. H. Beaulieu, who is said by the Crown Prosecutor to be the chief witness in the case, failed to respond when he was called to the witness box. Crown Prosecutor Walsh told Mr. Justice Cross that he had heard he was in the city, and made application for a bench warrant which was immediately issued and placed in the hands of the High Constable.

Lady Mann is Home.

Lady Mann, who was in Europe when her husband, Sir Donald Mann, was taken ill, arrived at Quebec yesterday on the Royal George, and immediately came over the Canadian Northern line to Montreal.

She travelled in Sir Donald's private car the Athabasca, which was transferred to the C. P. R., over which line the journey was continued to Toronto. Sir Donald is reported to-day as making excellent progress.

A spectacular fire last night destroyed the Olivet Congregational Church on Armory Hill, Springfield Mass., causing a loss estimated at $30,000.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE THREATENED WITH ARREST

Eight Days Confinement Suggested as Punishment for Last Night's Outburst.

CHANCELLOR MAY RESIGN NEVERTHELESS

His Moroccan Policy Meets with Severe Gruelling in the Reichstag.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, November 10.—A special despatch to the World from Berlin says: "Eight days arrest for the Crown Prince and resignation for the Chancellor will be the probable net result of yesterday's debate on Morocco.

"Such was the common prophecy after the debate in the Reichstag, where was enacted the most amazing scene in Germany history. The heir to the Imperial throne was the chief actor—one would be tempted to say the leading comedian were the affair less serious.

"Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg appeared before a hostile House to defend the Morocco-Congo agreement, to explain the great advantages of the friendly settlement with France, to extol the future value of Germany's colonial acquisitions, and, above all, to controvert the reports that in the controversy over Morocco Germany had backed down before a British menace.

"The Crown Prince William seized the opportunity to make it plainer that he proposes to lead the popular Jingo party and oust the Chancellor.

"The Crown Prince sat in front of the Royal box with his brother, Prince August William.

"Herr Von Heiderbrand (Conservative), who recently dined with the Crown Prince, attacked the Chancellor's peaceful policy. "My party is ready to make any sacrifice that Germany may defend her honor with the sword," exclaimed Von Heiderbrand.

"The future Emperor at this stage seized his brother's hand and shook it warmly. So he did again, with even more affected effusiveness when Von Heiderbrand cried; "Germany's answer to Lloyd-George's speech was wholly unworthy of this great people."

One of the most striking phases of the Chancellor's speech was as follows:—

"We are not living in the Homeric age when threats and boastings were thought necessary. Germany is strong enough to dispense with such shield rattling and will know how to draw the sword when the time comes.

"Nobody can tell whether war some time will come, but my duty is to so act that war which is avoidable and not demanded by the honor of Germany must be avoided."

CROWN PRINCE'S CONDUCT CONDEMNED.

Berlin, November 10.—The attitude of Crown Prince Frederick William, during yesterday's debate in the Reichstag, when he openly demonstrated his pleasure over and approval of the criticisms of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy in the Moroccan affair with France, and applauded the sabre-rattling passages in the fiery speeches is sharply condemned to-day not only by his friends but the opponents of the Chancellor.

The Berliner Tageblatt, the Vossische Zeitung, the Vorwaerts, the Cologne Gazette and the Frankfurter Zeitung, join in describing the incident as a frivolous and dangerous exhibition. The papers see an occasion for serious concern when the heir to the throne so demonstratively shows his discontent with the policy of the Emperor and his responsible advisers, and express the fear that the impression has been given abroad that the future Emperor is heading a German war party.

The Vossische Zeitung wonders why Herr Von Bethmann-Hollweg did not resign after such a demonstration.

The Emperor had the Crown Prince attend the dinner which His Majesty gave in honor of the Imperial Chancellor and his wife last night.

To-day's stand by the press may result in a strengthening of the position of the Chancellor, which was badly shaken when the pent-up fury, born of the popular feeling that Germany had backed down before a British menace, was vented in the Reichstag yesterday. The Chancellor sought to explain that Germany has attained an object which she had in view when the gun-boat Panther was sent to Agadir; that the Franco-German treaty terminated French hostility; and that Germany had concluded the prolonged negotiations with honor and advantage.

The response of the House was a broadside from the leaders of the Conservatives, Clericals, Liberals, and Socialists, who attacked the Morocco-Congo agreement as humiliating and approved the action of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Dr. Von Lindequist, who resigned in protest.

There had been no doubt that the Chancellor could be exposed to a severe gruelling by the Opposition, but the defection of the Conservatives and Clericals was a surprise.

The Chancellor listened in vain for a word of approval, while from the Royal box sounded the applause for the scathing dissent of Baron Von Hertling, the Cleric; Herr Von Heidebrand, the Conservative leader; and Herr Bebel, the head of the Socialist party.

EMPRESS OF IRELAND SLIGHTLY DAMAGED.

Canadian Pacific Liner in Collision With Coasting Vessel Off Chicken Rocks.

Liverpool, November 10.—The Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Britain which arrived here to-day was slightly damaged in collision with the coasting steamship Calchfaen off the Chicken Rocks. The coaster was badly injured.

Lacrosse on Baseball Grounds--Tecumsehs Coming--More Soccer Trouble

THE TIGERS LEFT EARLY AND EXPECT TO GOBBLE UP MONTREAL WITH HAIR AND HIDE TO-MORROW

Special to The Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., November 10.—The Tigers left here this morning (Friday), and will arrive in Montreal this evening, twenty-one of the players taking in the trip. The line-up of the team which will face the Winged Wheel aggregation had not been selected previous to train time and Manager Dave Tope and Geo. Ballard, coach of the Bengals, could not state who would figure on the yellow and black when the whistle blew for the commencement of the game.

It is more than likely, however, that Hope Gibson, who turned defeat into victory, in the Argo game of last Saturday, by dropping a goal in the last ten seconds of play, will be given a thorough try-out. The youthful lawyer, and son of the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario has never been given a chance to show that he can last a whole game and still be in the fight, and it is altogether likely that he will be used from the start on Saturday. There are many who think that Gibson is one of the finds of the season. At any rate he has proven that he is as cool as an iceberg and game as a fighting cock, and it will be a surprise if he fails to stick it out Saturday. The team will be selected from the following:—

Backs—McNeilly, McKelvey, Simpson, Moore, Gibson.

Quarter—Burton, Ballard.

Scrimmage—Nevilles, A. W. Rey, McCann.

Inside wings—Woodley, McFarlane, Marshall.

Middle wings—Isbister, Potticary.

Outside wings—Glassford, Gatenby, Thompson, Lyon, Loftus.

Olliver accompanied the boys, but will not be used in the game unless absolutely necessary.

This evening two special cars will be attached to the G. T. R. regular and it is assured that a good sprinkling of fans will take in the trip.

The locals are confident that they are masters of the Montreal outfit and will back their contentions if any of the filthy stuff appears in sight.

The only point that is worrying Hamilton is, will Ottawa beat Argos? This much can be said: everyone hopes so.

CHIEF BENDER IS LEADING TWIRLER

Connie Mack's Indian Again Leads Pitchers in American League.

New York, November 10.—The official averages of the American League pitchers announced by President Ban Johnson show Chief Bender to be the real leader of the organization, with 17 games won and 5 lost. His average is .773, and Covington of Detroit, who pitched only 8 games, ranks ahead of him with 7 games won and only 1 lost. Vean Gregg, the Cleveland "phenom," is third with 23 victories and 7 defeats, a wonderful record for a youngster in his first year in the major league.

The leaders are as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Covington, Detroit	7	1	.875
Bender, Phila.	17	5	.773
Gregg, Cleveland	23	7	.767

BARROW LAUGHS AT TALK OF EASTERN LEAGUE TROUBLE

He Says it is Mere Bosh — Newark Rumors Also Denied.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, November 10.—President Edward Barrow, just prior to his departure for the National Commission meeting in Cincinnati, made the following statement:

"All this talk of Eastern League franchises being peddled about is mere bosh. That negotiations have been under way for the sale of the Newark Club is no secret. Joe McGinnley and H. Clay Smith have received many excellent offers for the franchise, because it was considered one of the best in the league. It is also true that offers have been made for the Providence Club, but the price wanted by the owners, a mighty stiff figure, I can assure you, was not met. Any club in existence can be bought if the amount of money wanted by the owners of the franchise is paid over.

"The Montreal Club has been mentioned in connection with the reported change of owners. I know for a positive fact that the Montreal Club is not, and will not be for sale. While the attendance at the games in Montreal has not been as big as in other cities, the franchise of the Royals could not be purchased for $70,000. Sam Lichtenhein will run the Royals next season, and would not think of parting with the franchise." H. Clay Smith, of Chicago denied to-day the reported sale of a half interest in the Newark Baseball Club to George L. Soloman, of New York.

Wreck on Return From Hunt

Two Horses of the St. Laurent Club Hurt.

The Club de Chasse a Course St. Laurent, had an exciting time yesterday on their return by special train from L'Assomption.

When the train reached Desery street, the car containing the horses left the rails and turned on its side.

Fortunately only two of the horses were injured.

Amongst those of the members on board were Messrs. Alexandre Gravel, Francois Drouin, Ojer Deserres, S. D Conison, M. C. Stratford, and Arthur Gingras. They had one kill.

ENGLISH RUGBY.

The Harlequins go to Montreal West to-morow afternoon, where they will play their return match against Montreal on the ground of the Montreal E. R. F. C. The ground is in excellent condition, and the game will be one well worth witnessing, the first match between these two clubs having resulted in a draw of three points each. Hutchison, the Scottish international will again be out with the Harlequins.

The following is the Montreal line-up:

Watson, full back; Buchanan, Phillips, Cunningham, Strachan, three-quarter backs; Richardson (captain), Hannay, halfbacks; Grant, MacDermot, MacNeish, Fraser Paterson, Clapham, Grieve, Imrie, forwards.

Mr. G. W. Farrell will probably referee the game.

McGILL PLAYS THE FINAL RUGBY GAME TO-MORROW

Will Fight it Out With Queen's for Third Place in the Intercollegiate.

The rugby football season at McGill will close to-morrow, when the red and white journey to Kingston to try conclusions with the representatives of Queen's. On the last occasion of their meeting, McGill rolled up the largest score registered against the Limestone collegiates this season, the point being 36-5. Queen's have not won a game this season though they played two close games with Ottawa College, the scores being 14-15 and 10-12, in favor of the Capitals. If McGill loses to Queen's the two colleges will be placed on a par in the intercollegiate standing, while with a win the red and white would figure third in the race for the championship. McGill's supporters feel greatly disheartened over the defeat of last Saturday, but they hope to see to-morrow's games show a complete reversal of form. It was reported in football circles that several charges would be made on to-morrow's line, allowing several raw recruits to get into the game, but this has met with such a storm of disapproval from the majority of undergraduates that no such experiment is likely to be attempted. McGill's followers realize that victory to-morrow must be had at all costs or the prestige of this year's team will be lost without any chance of redeeming it.

The same team will in that event probably play against Kingston as lined up at Ottawa on Saturday last.

Most of the men are in poor shape as very little practice has been had, and all are apparently greatly discouraged by the two recent and successive defeats at the hands of 'Varsity and Ottawa.

INTER-PROVINCIAL.

Hockey Clubs in Ottawa Have New Idea.

Ottawa, November 10. — At the annual meeting of the Interprovincial Amateur Hockey Association in Montreal on Saturday, the New Edinburgh and Cliff-side clubs, which finished with deficits last season, and which have practically decided against inter-city matches, will propose that the new amateur hockey association, which is to be organized in Ottawa, be made a section of the interprovincial plan, being to have the winners of the two divisions play off at the close of the season.

The Ottawa Amateur Hockey Association will consist of New Edinburgh, Cliffsides, Stewartons, and Nationals, and will ask in the event of affiliation with the interprovincial not materializing, that it be recognized as a senior league. The New Edinburghs announced to-day that they would carry their claim for a series against the Winnipeg Victorias next month to the Allan Cup trustees.

AMATEUR HOCKEY.

A Big League Started in the West.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 10.—A big amateur hockey league is to be established in Vancouver, when the new artificial ice arena in that city is completed. Edward H. Lane, of David Spencer, Limited, has litten to thesecretaryofthe bwH cachcig written to the secretary of the O.H.A. for a copy of the rule book; for, he says, "we shall need the O.H.A. rules for our guidance."

St Patrick's A.A.A. Orchestra.

A meeting and rehearsal of the members of St. Patrick's A. A. A. Orchestra will be held in the Club rooms on Saturday evening at 7.45, all members and those intending to join are requested to be on hand.

The second of the series of Smoking concerts will be held in the Gym. on Monday evening the 13th., some of the best boxers and wrestlers in the city will compete against the members of St. Pats. A fine musical programme is arranged amongst those to appear will be Mr. Chas. Kuglemen the well known magician and entertainer.

TWO PROMINENT PARTICIPANTS FOR THE SAVANNAH RACES

'VARSITY STRONG AS EVER

Honorary coach Wright, put the Varsity team through the usual fast signal and running practice yesterday afternoon, at the stadium, and the men will be in the pink of condition when they line up against the Ottawa College fourteen to-morrow. The men are right on edge, and no line-up practices have been indulged in this week as there is a danger of their becoming overtrained. Lou Cory, Pete German, Bob Thompson and Bob Grass, the invalids, were out yesterday for a run around the track. German says his shoulder is not sore, and that he is ready to play to-morrow. It is unlikely, however, that he will line-up against the college team. Varsity's probable line-up:

Flying wing, McDonald; halves, Greene, Ramsay, Maynard, quarter, Campbell; scrimmage, Sifton, Bell, Knight; insides, Clarke, Curtis; middle, Taylor, Knox; outsides, Sinclair, Hassard.

The teams have been unable to agree on officials, and the appointment, therefore, rests with the vice-president of the union, Dan Gillmore, of McGill, who will select a referee and umpire to-day.

The Argonaut seniors had a strenuous practice against the Intermediates at Rosedale yesterday, and are right on edge for the Ottawa game. The men were all out in uniform and are confident of their ability to defeat the Rough Riders, although a hard game is expected.

Pud Kent was out and will play in the scrimmage with Russell and Sinclair. Coach Billy Foulds will not commence the game, although he will be on the side lines in uniform ready to get into the game should O'Connor the regular quarter, be injured. Murphy will be moved forward and will play right inside wing. There is just a chance that McClelian, the big ex-McGill scrimmager, who has been turning out with the Argos, may play to-morrow. Following is the Argonauts probable line-up:

Flying wing, Smith; halves, Lawson, Binkley, Macaut; quarter, O'Connor; scrimmage, Sinclair, Russell, Kent; insides, Murphy, Wigle; middles, Gale, Arnoldi; outsides, Murray and Moore.

MORE TROUBLE ABOUT THE ROSEMOUNT SHIELD.

The C.P.R.-Sons of Scotland game for the Rosemount Shield, has been declared off, for this season anyway, the match being ordered for early playing part 1912. This is the official dictum, but C. P. R. may have other views on this subject, as they intend calling a meeting at an early date, to discuss the advisability of throwing the whole thing up, as they declare themselves disgusted. They have already played two games at sacrifice of the men's time, both being evening matches. One prominent C. P. R. official says it is unlikely the club will participate again in this competition.

SPORTING VIEWS and REVIEWS

The Shamrock Lacrosse Clubs sees no good reason for deserting the old ship. Although it may be old it is by no means waterlogged. It has weathered many a storm, and gives promise of years of usefulness. On it the Shamrocks have made many pleasant voyages and they believe that it is still good enough for them. And so the Shamrocks will stick to the National Lacrosse Union.

The Ottawa Hockey Club is willing to try the six-man team. The change may produce faster hockey, and if it does the change will be in keeping with the spirit of these fast times. Not every change is an improvement, but unless changes were made improvement would be impossible. Twelve men on the ice, shod with steel and armed with sticks, should be able to cut up sufficient antics of one sort or another to satisfy any crowd of spectators.

Mr. G. L. Solomon, a manufacturer of New York, has acquired a half interest in the Newark Baseball Club. This change ought to bring to the Newarks considerable wisdom. All that is needed now is some good players, and then Mr. Solomon's team should be able to manufacture some victories.

Arnst, the champion professional sculler of the world, seems to be rather slow in replying to Durnan's offer of a race on Toronto Bay. No doubt he is thinking twice, and perhaps three or four times, before staking his laurels and his hard-earned money on the chances of a race with the Canadian.

Automobile racers have run into a new sort of difficulty. It was thought that their cup of experiences was full to overflowing, but along comes a new drop, which shows that there is always something to learn. This new difficulty encountered by automobile racers is the stand taken by the Ministerial Association of Indianapolis to the effect that such racing is a crime, and that like other crimes it should be put a stop to by the law of the land. Such racing, said one member of the association, "is a crime—murder. We denounce cockfighting, bull fights, and such sports, but until we put a stop to these race exhibitions we dare not lift a voice of protest against these others. When a man goes on the race-track he is taking his life in his hands—he is flirting with death. The speedway officials offer tempting $50,000 prizes and dangle them before reckless youth. A car cannot be entered unless a speed of seventy-five miles an hour is guaranteed." The worst feature of this severe indictment is that so much of it is true.

News comes out of the West that a professional ballplayer named Baker, while hunting was charged by a wounded deer, and had a narrow escape, being nearly run down and put out of the game of life. It will be a relief to the fans to know that this was not their own pet Baker, of home-run fame, but just an ordinary Baker, Jess Baker, to give his name in full, one of the Chicago White Sox. Home-run Baker, of the Athletics, is still at home on the Maryland farm, busy husking corn and giving a hand at the fall butchering, at the same time enjoying the memories of how he butchered Mathewson's curves.

The projected good road from Montreal to the International Boundary at Rouse's Point, seems to be going through, although it has been hung up for some time—in fact, until no construction work can be done this season. The good road, which will consist of old roads rebuilt, will be a fine thing for touring automobilists, for at Rouse's Point it will connect with a good road which is to reach from that place right down to New York city. It will also be a fine thing for the municipalities through which it passes; and a fine thing, too, for the whole province, serving as the best of object lessons in road improvement. Good roads tend to make a good country.

ONLOOKER.

Poor compression will not have as much effect on the motor at high speeds if the leakage is as it is in most cases, small. Since there is such a short time which elapses between the compression and expansion strokes at high speeds the gas has a very small chance to leak out. At low speeds, however, the difference in power is very evident and the engine power falls off very rapidly at a time when it is most desired, as in hill climbing.

McGILL HARRIERS LEAVE TO-NIGHT FOR TORONTO

The Intercollegiate Meet Takes Place There To-morrow.

McGill's competitors in the Intercollegiate Harrier meet at Toronto to-morrow will entrain this evening at the Bonaventure station. At the present time McGill holds the championship cup, having won it last year. Of last season's champions only two remain, viz.: Murray and Sproule. The Red and White, however, are putting a great deal of stress upon Kerr, who won the McGill harrier race from Murray a few days ago, and who will undoubtedly add greatly to the strength of the team. Toronto's team of last year has also undergone several changes. Watts, the man who won first place at two successive meets, will not be in the game this time.

Varsity, however, will have a strong man in Campbell, their crack miler, who won their cross-country run easily, and whom they expect to lead the runners to-morrow. The remaining members of the Varsity team form a well-balanced quartette to whom Toronto look for an easy victory. At Queen's cross-country running has received a boom, and the Limestone collegiates have landed the city championship of Kingston. The R. M. C. has also entered a team, which is reported to be above the usual calibre.

The McGill team will be composed of the following:—

Kerr, Murray, Walsh, Sproule and Brophy.

E. B. Reid, manager of the McGill, team received word late last night that the race would be run at 10.30 a.m. to-morrow, and warning the McGill men to be on hand in good time. Mr. Reid is confident that his team will again land the championship, so that McGill will retain the cup which goes to the victors.

Tecumsehs are Coming Down

They Will Fight for Admission to N. H. A.

It is announced that the Tecumseh representatives will come down to urge their claims in favor of being admitted to the National Hockey Association to-morrow.

The meeting will be held at the Windsor Hotel and will be preceded by a Director's meeting at half past two.

No new propositions outside of those mentioned already, like the reduction of the teams to six men will be brought up.

OFFICERS AS JUDGES.

Preparations for International Horse Show.

Washington, November 10. — Three American army officers, one English and one Canadian officer, will act as judges at the International Horse Show to be held in New York, beginning November 18th. They are Lieut.-Col. David S. Stanley, Quartermaster's Department; Captain J. D. Long, Cavalry Instructor at West Point, and Major H. J. Allen, General Staff from the U. S. Army; Lord Decies, who recently married Miss Vivien Gould, will represent the English army, and Col. William Hendrie, the Canadian establishment.

LEICHTENHEIN AND KENNEDY SAID TO BE PARTNERS IN THE NEW LACROSSE TEAM ON BASEBALL PARK

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 10.—George Kennedy, the well-known authority of Montreal, arrived her yesterday to confer with the local magnates regarding the new lacrosse league. Kennedy says he is ready to place an English-speaking team in the new league and he is said to be backed by Sam Lichtenhein of the Montreal Baseball Club.

It is said also to be the intention of these two gentlemen to erect suitable stands in the Montreal Baseball Park and to play their lacrosse games there. Kennedy states he has already the assurance of a good team if he is successful in his quest. In fact, he says, none of the four clubs need worry about players, as they no doubt will be besieged with requests for positions.

TEDDY SAVAGE TO PLAY AT OUTSIDE WING TO-MORROW

Team Will Be Selected From Eighteen Men Before Match.

The enthusiasm exhibited by the Montreal football squad at their last practice in preparation for the match with the Hamilton Tigers to-morrow afternoon, boded ill for the ambitious players from the Ambitious City.

Thursday morning while the chill was still in the air and the ground hard with frost, thirty of the squad reported at the gridiron and ran through one of the fastest workouts of the season. The boys went to work as though they were preparing for a game which would mean the championship to them. If Tigers are figuring on meeting a listless downhearted crew they will get a big surprise for the whole team, every man of the fourteen, is keen on a victory, a satisfactory finale to an unsatisfactory season.

With Teddy Savage back at his place at outside wing, the team will line up at its greatest strength and will have no excuses should it fail to shage the hoodoo.

In order that the whole game may be played by daylight, the kick-off will be at 2.30 sharp. Nobody need fear that by getting to the grounds a trifle early they will be compelled to a tedious wait, for there will be football going all afternoon from 1 o'clock till the conclusion of the big game. At 1 o'clock the juniors who have won the championship of section "A" of the junior Q. R. F. U. will play off with the Bran' Mere team, th champions of "B" and "C" divisions. The juniors know the game almost as well as the seniors and always give a lively exhibition.

Messrs. McMaster and Hayes have consented to handle the game.

Ottawa vs. Westmount

The Match is Expected to be a Good One.

The final match of the Q.R.F.U. intermediate series takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 on the W. A. A. A. grounds, Windsor Park when Westmount meets the strong Ottawa fourteen. The West Enders were nosed out of a win in Jn Ottawa by a small margin of two points, and expect to trim the Capital City team handily in the return game.

A good match is anticipated, especially after the showing the Winged Bat aggregation made against the prospective champions, the M.A.A.A., whom they trounced to the score of 20 to 2 last Saturday. The team will be picked from the following players: McConachie, Trenholme, Pitt, Cornell, Jones, Sutherland, Robertson, Woodward, P. Robertson, Samuels, Wels, Smith, Eastlake, Smeaton, Payne, Webster and Owens.

ABOUT A LOCAL DOG

The great boom in Airedales reminds one of the stirring days of the early nineties when the St. Bernard was in its hey-day, and the great dogs of Britain and Switzerland were continually crossing over at one to two and three and four thousand apiece, and in the case of Sir Bedivere, over $6,000. The collies and some of the fox terrier days have been lively, but the way the Airedales are being wafted over fairly takes one's breath away. When George sells such a household word as Ch. Rockley Oorang, the Yorkshireman's bite must have been a large one and we have it that Mr. Laurin has had to pay more than he ever did for a dog to get this one, and he has had his nibble at quite a few cracks in the past ten years. We understand that this famous terrier was to leave last Friday for his new home, and as Mr. Raper had refused two "thou" for him it looks likely he did not cost much less. Considering the dog's record on the bench and his actual record as a sire, it is no wonder his ne wowner gets busy at once as his ad. in our business columns proves. Mr. Laurin is no novice in the business and when he makes such all statements he has the goods to back them up. Whether this dog will be pushed through the shows we know not, but he should be invaluable in the harem, and the insurance of bitches is a new move that should overcome the objection to sending across the border. Mr. Laurin has purchased the Manoir and has prevailed on the tenants of the Seigneury to walk his terriers so he is looking forward to taking an even more active hand in the Airedale game than the Colnes have taken the past year of two.—The American Stock-keeper.

COACH FOR YALE.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 10.—Jim Byrne, of last year's Toronto Lacrosse Club, has been appointed coac hof the Yale Hockey Team for the coming winter. A new artificial ice rink has been built. The season's schedule of games includes contests with Harvard, Dartmouth, and the St. Nicholas team of the amateur hockey league of New York. Games will also be secured with two or three Canadian teams.

NO N. L. U. MEETING TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

There Will Be a Meeting in All Probability Next Week.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cornwall, November 10.—If a meeting of the N.L.U. is to be held in Montreal this week, as is announced in the city, it is unknown so far as the officers of the Cornwall Lacrosse Club are concerned, and all knowledge regarding such a meeting is denied locally. The locals are not considering the lacrosse question from any particular point of view, but of course the action of the Nationals on Wednesday night has been talked of quietly on the streets. There seems nothing for the other clubs of he N.L.U. to do but await developments and this Cornwall proposes doing without becoming unduly excited over the matter.

There is to be a meeting, in all probability, early next week.

Montreal and the Interprovincials

Hockey Meeting To-night to Discuss Position.

The Montreal Hockey Club will hold a meting to-night simultaneously with the Victorias, to settle their future position with the Inter-provincial Hockey Union.

Montreal is quite pleased with the view the Ottawa teams are taking of the situation, and think that things will go harmoniously at the Annual meeting of the Union, Saturday night.

MORE BASEBALL.

The East Against the West Will be a Feature.

Auburn, N.Y., November 10.—Secretary John Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, stated to-day that the great inter-sectional baseball between the East and the West, to be played as the feature of the meeting at San Antonia, Tex., on November 18, had attracted such notice in the South that New Orleans and other cities have asked that the championship game be extended into a series with games in the principal gulf cities.

The best players of the East and of the West will play in the respective nines, and it is probable that a series, the proceeds to go to charity, will be arranged.

Arthur Douglas a South African lightweight, who was known at one time as the best in Australia, but who had to quit the game because of his poor health, thinks that he has fully regained his old-time form and is willing to meet Hugh Meeghan for the lightweight championship of Australia.

THE INVICTUS SHOE STORE, 249 ST. JAMES ST. Or at any of our City Agencies.

LOOK at the prosperous stores around you. Analyze their success. You'll find that attractive appearances, a smart, clean store front, and the use of systematic labor-saving devices (with the idea of raising the standard of their individual store service) are the magnetic qualities which are drawing the custom you so much desire. Such trade can be yours if you apply the same methods to obtain it. One of the first and important steps in this direction is the installation of a modern freight elevator. Choose one suited to your particular needs from among the series of

will be found to properly attend to customers and phone orders—dress windows—keep the store neat and clean—and get orders out on time. Every inch of upstairs and downstairs space can be utilized to best advantage, relieving the congestion downstairs which inevitably occurs where there is no elevator, and allowing stock to be handled quickly, conveniently and economically. The ease of operation and control and special safety features which mark the Otis-Fensom, will meet with the approval of merchants who look for reliable efficiency in an elevator, coupled with absolute safety.

Where there is no need for a power elevator—something smaller and lighter being sufficient for all ordinary purposes—we make a Hand Power Elevator which is admirably suited to such cases.

Do Customers Pass by Your Store ?

Send for our new illustrated book, "Freight Elevators and Their Uses."

Immediately it is installed, it starts to effect changes and improvements that do much to enhance the attractiveness of your store and make it conspicuous for reliable and prompt service. Your store staff, as well as customers, will benefit materially by the adoption of this time—and labor—saving convenience. Salesmen, instead of spending hours in laboriously hauling new stock, arranging, piling and storing it, can so systematize the work as to reduce the labor and time consumed to a very small fraction of the original amount. Sufficient time, too,

WITH RIBBONED BELLS SHE GREETED POLO PLAYERS

Some Good Matches at the Laurentian Bath Last Night.

The McGill were at home to the M. S. C. last night at the Laurentian Baths in a water polo double-header, which resulted in a win for M. S. C. in both cases. The senior fixture was ahead of anything seen so far this season, as both teams at the start were about equal, but as the game progressed it could be seen that the champions would pull out ahead in the scoring, as they showed better judgment than their rivals in their combination plays. Zimmerman, Smyth and Gathercole were the bright stars for the sea lions, and they well deserved the applause which was showered upon them from the gallery, one fair spectator had the islanders' colors done up in the form of a bunch of ribbons to which she had bells attached and it would make itself heard above all the other noise-makers. Lee Smith and deHart put up a grand game for the students, especially deHart, and it was a pity that he did not have more success in his goal getting, as he made a number of pretty tries, only to miss the nets by inches. The score at the finish was: M. S. C. 9; McGill, 2. The senior line-up was as follows:—

M. S. C. (9).		McGill (2).
T. Walton	Goal	S. Baldwin
G. Moore	Defence	P. Buckley
W. Wilson	Defence	Lee Smith
W. H. Smyth	Forward	J. deHart
W. Gathercole	Forward	F. McGill
R. Zimmerman	Forward	G. Draper

The intermediate contest was almost as good as the senior to look at, and it was just as hard contested as the big match. Pengelley played a good clever game for McGill and he should soon develop into as great a water polo man as his big brother of last year's team. Stanley King and young Gathercole were the best workers for the champions last night at all times, using their heads in the passes they made, and it was their unselfish play which won the game for M. S. C. The score at the finish stood: M. S. C., 7; McGill, 2.

The line-up and the officials for both games were as follows:—

McGill II. (2).		M. S. C. II. (7).
A. MacKay	Goal	J. McCready
H. Gilchrist	Defence	J. Lyons
F. Coy	Defence	G. McDonnell
E. Pengelley	Forward	F. Aldred
C. Crosley	Forward	S. King
L. Baldwin	Forward	S. Gathercole

Referee—E. D. Vernot. Judge of play—Albert Farmer. Timekeeper—Chris. H. Goulden. Penalty timer—Mr. Williscroft. Umpires—Mr. H. Grant and Mr. Lyons.

TWO SOCCER GAMES FOR TO-MORROW

One a Cup Tie and One Belated League Fixture.

The soccer season is dying hard, but there are still a few games to play, two taking place to-morrow, one cup-tie and a belated league fixture.

Sons of England meet Royal Canadian Dragoons in the long looked-for second round of the Quebec Cup. Though S. O. E. have the choice of grounds, the game will not take place on their home pitch, Grand Trunks' enclosure being the venue. This move has been made with an eye to business, as a very fair crowd is anticipated. Dragoons will make no kick, they share the gate wherever it is played. As to the game itself, it should provide an exciting contest, with the odds in the Englishmen's favor, Dragoons not having played a game for some weeks. S. O. E's. chances are further enhanced by the inclusion of Harry Bingham, late of the Toronto team. The Sons of England fancy themselves strong enough to reach the final, if not eventually lift the cup itself. Everything possible is being done by their executive to get the men in the best possible shape, and it looks as if the Dragoons are up against a strong argument. Ernie Evernden was down to play, but has cried off through sickness. Sidway will be brought in, and the team chosen for to-morrow's encounter is:—

Wilson, goal; Burton and Robinson, backs; Sidway, Bingham and Jennings, halves; Poulton, Len Payne, Collyer, Spencer and Ball, forwards.

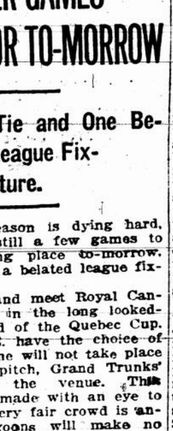

The kick-off is timed for 3 o'clock, and players are warned to be on hand early.

Fairmount will meet C.P.R., in a league game, by arrangement, at the Angus Shops. The chief interest in this match is, can C.P.R., retain second position in the league table? A win will do it, while a loss to Fairmount will not affect them, as their next season's destination is already settled.

A BETTING CASE.

Suit Affecting the Jamestown Race Track.

Norfolk, Va., November 10. — The State's suit to put a stop to betting at the Jamestown Jockey Club races, will be heard before Circuit Judge P. Weston, November 24 and 25. The dates were fixed to-day. It is said that Governor Mann, who has forced a consistent fight against the club, does not seek the revocation of the club's charter.

ART. MOORE.

After the 500-mile race at Indianapolis last May there was much comment unfavorable to a contest that took so much time to run. It was said by some that the spectators were bored after about three hundred and fifty miles had been completed and that a much shorter race would be desirable. The report was circulated too that probably no sanction would be issued again for a race as long as this. However, in spite of all this criticism after the fact, another 500-mile race for next Memorial Day has been announced and more than that the prize money has been doubled. Instead of $25,000, the sum of $50,000 has been offered.

There was one valid objection to the race of 1911, which was that too big a field was allowed to start. The entries were nearly fifty cars and almost all started. This time, there will not be so many by a great deal. The field is to be limited to thirty cars. Furthermore these machines must show a speed of 75 miles an hour for a complete lap of the speedway, which is two miles and a half around. Cars are to be of 600 cubic inches piston displacement or less, with a minimum weight of 2,000 pounds. This puts the contest in Class E as a special non stock event.

More than all this, the directors of the Speedway have the intention now of holding this 500-mile race as an annual event, and with the idea of making it worth more every succeeding year. The purse of $50,000 for the 1912 race is to be divided among the first twelve cars as follows: First, $20,000; second, $10,000; third, $5,000; fourth, $3,000; fifth, $2,500; sixth, $2,000; seventh, $1,500; eighth, $1,400; ninth, $1,300; tenth, $1,200; eleventh, $1,100, and twelfth, $1,000. Last time the purse was divided among the first ten. Ray Harroun won the first prize in 1911.

"Motoring" gives the comparative cost and efficiency, per unit, in a five months' test of six double waggons and fifteen horses against three-ton gasoline trucks, over parallel routes but under conditions—heavy loads, long distances and few stops—ideal for economical operation of power waggons.

A progressive Sunday School teacher of Denver has hit upon a plan to gather his flock by automobile. He sends out a squadron of machines through the district surrounding his church to gather up the children. Whereas the average attendance has been 188, the motor cars have brought the number up to 350.

M. A. A. A. Notes.

It looks like a good stag party to-morrow night at the club house. A large turnout of the members is expected, and every effort has been made to assure the success of the event.

The junior classes will hold their swimming handicaps to-morrow morning in the tank. Both the boys and the girls will figure in these exercises, which will feature the close of the fall work, the first stage of the indoor season. The open swimming handicaps will be held in the tank Saturday afternoon.

MORE ENTRIES FOR SAVANNAH RACES

Abbott-Detroit Company Enters Two of Its Cars in Each of Four Events.

Savannah, Ga., November 10.—David L. Bruce-Brown and E. H. Parker, drivers of the Fiat racing cars, arrived here yesterday. Bruce-Brown, who won the last Gand Prize for the Benz people, is nominated to drive both in this race and in the Vanderbilt. Wagner and Hemery will arrive in New York from Europe the middle of the month and will come direct to Savannah.

The Case racing team also is in from Columbia, S.C., where they have been in several State fair events. Three cars were brought, including the one in which "Joe" Jagersberger was recently injured. It is announced that Herring, of California, will come to take Jagersberger's place. Jay McNay, the other driver nominated by the Case people, came in with the cars.

The day also has brought entries of two Abbott-Detroit cars for each of the four races to be run at the meet. Carl Limberg and L. A. Mitchell will drive the Abbott racers in the Grand Prize and Vanderbilt events, while the Challenge Trophy and Tiedeman Cup cars will be driven by H. L. Hartman and M. Roberts.

All the net profits of the Grand Prize, Vanderbilt Cup and light car races will go to the military of Savannah. The Savannah military commands have a long and proud history, six of the fourteen companies being more than one hundred years old. They have always co-operated actively with the officials of the Savannah Automobile Club in promoting events. To their efficiency in guarding the course in the previous Grand Prize races is attributable the obtaining of that race and the acquisition of the Vanderbilt Cup race this year. In none of the three big races held in Savannah has there ever been an injury to a spectator, except to one man who received the point of a bayonet in his side when he insisted in an attempt to cross the course during the progress of the first Grand Prize race.

One of the puzzles in everyday motor regulation is to discover just how it protects highways to characterize the great body of the automobile owners as reckless drivers and eulogize taxicab chauffeurs as models of deportment on the streets.

QUEEN'S HOPES TO WIN TO-MORROW

Do Not Want to Go Through the Season Whitewashed.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., November 10. — Queens, though disappointed in the showing of the football team this fall do not think it possible to go through an entire season without a game being placed to their credit and fell sure that they will defeat McGil in to-morrow's game at this city. During the week, the cripples have strugged through their work, and at present, are in good condition to give an account of themselves. Queens have never made such a poor record since the formation of the C. I. R. F. U. and will enter to-morrow's contest determined to win Queens will lin-up as follows: Full back, Leckie; halves, Hazlett, Dick MacDonnell, quarter McNell; scrimmage, McIlquham, Barker, Dunlop; Wings, Erskine, Young, Smith Kinsella, Lumb, Sliter.

Kansas City automobile dealers have at last consolidated. After two years of wrangling, dealers of both organizations formed a new organization named the Kansas City Motor Car Dealers' Association.

Sam McVey, the American negro heavyweight, made himself popular with the fight fans of Australia during his stay there while he was training for his fight with Lester.

Havana, November 10.—Philadelphia Nationals, 3; Almendars, 2.

It is thought by friends of Ernest Barry, champion professional sculler of Canada, that he and Dick Arnst, champion of the world, will come together in a match race on the Thames in the near future.

The New Zealand Rugby Union has offered to the Wangani Union of England certain new resolutions which would tend to make the sport less harmful for the players and more spectacular from the spectator's point of view. The English Union will probably accept them.

The Rev. De Courcy Laffan has been appointed to look out for the interests of the English athletes at the Olympic games next year, and has gone to Stockholm for that purpose.

The football season which ended in Australia recently proved to be one of the best financially and in many other ways that the popular sport has ever enjoyed in Australia.

Carnegie Clark, for the third time in succession, won the open golf championship of England at a tournament in London recently.

P. T. Powers, who controls the Madison Square Athletic Club, recently deprived of a license to hold boxing bouts in the Garden under the Frawley law, has decided to make a legal fight, although at first he deemed it advisable to take his medicine without a struggle. It appears that Powers, through his attorney, Aaron J. Levy, has obtained from Supreme Court Justice McCall a writ of certiorari to compel Major John J. Dixon and Frank S. O'Neill, members of the State Athletic Commission, to show cause why they revoked the license of the Madison Square A. C., of which Powers is the treasurer. It will be recalled that the commission, when revoking the license, did so under advice from Governor Dix and Attorney-General Carmody. It was charged that the Madison Square A. C. did not have a year's lease on the Garden, inasmuch as it was contended that the building would be torn down in February, while the lease shown by the club was dated July 12, 1911. Commissioner O'Neill held the opinion all along that as the Garden was not used exclusively for boxing, the lease did not meet the requirements of the law, and on the strength of his opinion several other clubs proceeded to lease their buildings to the exclusion of other organizations. When the Garden's license was revoked the bottom dropped out of the boxing game. The star boxers asked so much money for their services that the smaller clubs were compelled to sidetrack them. The public, having seen the Wells-Brown, Wells-Attell and Morris-Flynn bouts in the Garden, at $2 up, refused to patronize bouts between second-raters at the other clubs, with the result that few, if any, of the promoters operating under State licenses had made money. The 5 per cent. tax on the three Garden bouts netted nearly $6,000 to the State, while the rake-off from the other clubs since the Garden's demise has been practically nothing. Powers told a reporter just after the Garden had been closed as a boxing arena that he did not believe in carrying the matter to the courts, but intended to look around for another big building. He said that court proceedings might stir up trouble for the boxing game, which he wanted to see perpetuated. But recently it is said that Powers' associates in the Madison Square A. C. have been advised that they have a good case, and that they must have the legality of the Garden lease tested in the courts. The boxing law contains a clause providing that if a club's license is revoked the application for a writ of certiorari can be made for the purpose of having the action of the State Athletic Commission reviewed in the Supreme Court.

MAETERLINCK GETS NOBEL PRIZE FOR LITERATURE

Award Receives Approval and Belgian Author Recipient of Congratulations.

Stockholm, November 10. — The Swedish Academy has awarded the Nobel prize for literature for 1911 to the Belgian author, Maurice Maeterlinck. The award is likely to receive worldwide approval, and the winner has received many congratulations.

Maurice Maeterlinck belongs to an old Flemish family descended from a fourteenth-century bailiff at Renaix, near Ghent, who was a measurer of grain; hence the name. Born in 1864 M. Maeterlinck became attached to the Symbolists in Paris at the age of twenty-two. He first created widespread interest by "La Princesse Maliene" in 1890; "Pelleas et Melisande" appeared two years later, and since that time he has produced several books of haunting phantasy. He married Georgette le Blanc and now resides in her native Normandy in the beautiful old abbey of St. Wandrille. The abbey, which was put on the market on account of its abandonment by a congregation of Benedictine monks who declined to submit to the French law of 1901, was founded in the seventh century and first bore the name of Fontanelle from the rivulet which traverses its enclosure and empties itself into the Seine a mile or so below. The Maeterlincks live in the modern part. They pass their winters near Grasse, while they have a house in the Passy quarter of Paris.

MERCIER STATUE IN QUEBEC CITY NOW COMPLETED

Inauguration Will Not Take Place Until Next Spring.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, November 10.—The handsome bronze monument to the late Honore Mercier, former Premier of the province, for which the Legislature voted $16,000, was completed yesterday. It stands directly in front of the Parliament buildings, facing the fortification wall and is acknowledged to be an excellent likeness of the dead statesman. Paul Chevre, the French sculptor, who designed the Champlain monument on Dufferin Terrace, was also the designer of the new monument. The figure is described as "representing eloquence symbolic of the genius of Mercier, in declaring that the real fortune of a country lies in the products of the soil," while the female figure at the foot represents the unveiling of abundance before the farmers to encourage them in their work.

In rear of the pedestal is the figure of a woman pressing the flag to her bosom, which is symbolic of patriotism. At her feet is a roll with the arms of the Province of Quebec.

The inauguration of the monument will only take place next spring.

CITY SUBJECT TO COMPENSATION LAW AS AN EMPLOYER

The City Held to Be Liable When Undertaking Works.

An interesting precedent was established yesterday afternoon by Mr. Justice Charbonneau, when he granted the petition of a man named Bernier to enter suit against the city for $2,000, under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

While engaged in sewer excavation for the city on September 5 last, Bernier was buried beneath a pile of earth and drain pipes, in an excavation at the corner of Aylwin and Stadacona streets. As it is specifically stated in the Act that an employer cannot fall beneath the scope of the law unless it is proven that the enterprise over which he presides is carried on for monetary employment, the question arose as to whether the city could legally be sued.

Judge Charbonneau held that a municipal corporation, carrying out construction works on its own account, took on the character of a chief of works, and, as such, fell under the restrictions of the act, governing responsibility of employers.

A necessary corollary of the court finding, therefore, is that the city authorities, in carrying out certain works, do so for monetary gain—received from the taxpayers in one form or another.

"If it were a question of the corporation looking after the maintenance of roads, or the police department," remarked the Judge," I do not think that it would fall under the category of works carried out for the sole purpose of gain, but it would be rather the accomplishment of a duty which is not facultative with the municipal authorities.

"On the other hand, the building of an aqueduct or drainage system, being a public commodity, in the putting into effect of which the corporation has facultative power, and for which it has a right to call for remuneration from the taxpayers, in one form or another, does not fall in the same category as the above stated. The municipality, taking upon its shoulders the responsibility of the sewer, had been transformed, in the eyes of the law, into a chief of works, such as that mentioned in the act."

CONVENTION OF LAYMEN CLOSED AT LONDON

Call for $1,000,000 a Year for Missions From Western Presbyterians.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, Ont., November 10.—At a special church conference following the closing of the Laymen's convention, Principal Gandier made a stirring speech on the importance of systematic education. He protested against the missionary banquets which have been held for several years past. What, he asked, had been done? The average giving in the Presbyterian Synod indicated, he said, that many people were not doing anything. He urged the Church to stop praying and do something. He suggested that the pastors devote one Sunday morning to each of the questions of home and foreign missions. The task assumed by the Canadian Presbyterian Church of evangelizing fifteen millions of heathens required one million dollars per year. The standard of giving must be raised from the standard of twenty years ago. Ministers and elders were all agreed that they must show their faith by their works before they could be effective in the personal canvas for missions.

Following Dr. Gandier's address the meeting adopted the following resolution:

"After careful consideration of the work with which God has honored our Church in this home land, and recognizing the urgency of the situation at home and abroad, this gathering of Presbyterian men of Western Ontario is convinced that nothing less than the $1,000,000 annual budget will meet the immediate responsibility of the western section of the Presbyterian Church in Canada or vindicate our loyalty as a Church of Jesus Christ.

"We believe $200,000, apart from the gifts of the women's missionary societies, the amount apportioned by the General Assembly Committee, to be a reasonable share for the Synod of Hamilton and London, and urge every Presbyterian presbytery and congregation within the bounds to accept and raise its share of the amount during 1912."

Plea For Woman's Work in India.

Sir Andrew Fraser's address was special on the work among women in India. "Womans' position," he said, "is as important in the east as it is in the west. Women have the same sort of needs and, therefore, the work is very important. The ladies of India are treated with respect, but their homes are literally a prison. However, there is a gradual awakening, and we are anxious that the children and grandchildren shall be converted to Christ." Sir Andrew told of many experiences he had had of the devotion to Christ of the women whose lives had been touched by the gospel, and of the wonderful opportunity for this phase of the work.

All are greatly pleased with the results of the convention. "It has been the best yet," said Secretaries Caskey and Robinson.

"The great object was fulfilled," said Sir Andrew Fraser.

REALTY REVIEW

VOL. I. MONTREAL, FRIDAY, Nov. 10, 1911. No. 274

IF THERE WAS NOT ENOUGH REAL ESTATE

The intrinsic value of anything depends entirely on how much there is of it. Any of the things that we consider to-day the common necessities of life would become our luxuries if for any reason the everyday system of supply became limited.

It would be a frightful thing to imagine what might happen if by some great cataclysm the supply of terra firma were materially diminished.

We have become so used to figuring old mother earth as merely the beginning and ending of everything in our lives that many of us have overlooked the fact that she is also the greatest factor in our commercial affairs.

The supply of land is not limited in this wide Dominion of Canada, but in the heart of its commercial centres a location is so competed for that it means a continuous increase in value.

Canada's commercial metropolis is the City of Montreal. We are selling Montreal property, and are therefore in a position to make you part owner of a city with a great future.

REV. DR. WORKMAN WINS HIS FAMOUS LAWSUT

former's apology. Rev. Dr. Williams and Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott, moved to adopt this. The annual conference seems not to have taken any further action in the matter.

"Rev. C. T. Scott called together the committee of the Board of Governors. In view of what had passed, their verdict was a foregone conclusion and their proceedings a mere travesty of honest investigation. Rev. Dr. Scott admits that he was against Dr. Workman. This does not prevent him from sitting on the committee of trial on June 14. He felt no delicacy about continuing. On the contrary, he said: 'It seemed to be more imperatively urgent for me to do so.' Rev. Dr. Scott tells us that they produced and read before the board of governors, the evidence taken on the libel trial."

"We have the curious spectacle of a committee receiving the testimony of one of their members. We have these two committees largely composed of the same men, using the same evidence in two cases. The first comes to the conclusion that Dr. Shaw's statements were made in good faith. The second says that Dr. Shaw's indictment was true. The second committee finds the evidence more damning.

Quotes Dr. Scott as to the Minutes.

"It would have been interesting to have read the minutes of the committee's proceedings, but they are not produced. Dr. Scott says he was secretary. His own evidence shows what becomes of the minutes. He was asked what became of them: 'I hardly know what became of them. I considered that when the Court of Appeal sat in the matter, it was finally done with them.'—'Did you destroy them?'—'I tore the minutes out of the book and laid them to one side. I have a feeling, although I am not certain that they went into the hands of Dr. Shaw and some other manuscripts connected with the case.'—'You thought it your duty to tear these minutes out of the book and hand them over to Dr. Shaw?'—'I would not have done so had I thought there was going to be any trial.'

"This evidence makes it clear that the Board of Governors was not concerned with having the evidence placed before it. The report of the committee was signed solely by the alleged secretary, Rev. C. T. Scott.

"At the same meeting, the plaintiff read a statement in which he renewed certain objections.

"It will be remembered that Mr. Torrance had, according to the minutes, presented some facts re the reported teaching of Dr. Workman. The committee did not bring to light these alleged facts and altogether ignored Mr. Torrance. This noticeable omission must have been apparent to the board.

Wonders Why Distressed Students Were Not Called.

"The students who took notes of Dr. Workman's lectures were not called to give evidence. Did it never occur to them to obtain evidence of one of the students? Perhaps they could not remember the names of these disturbed and agitated students, some of whom were in tears of distress on account of the teaching.

"No proof was made that Dr. Workman's views had led to wide diversions of views and subsequent unrest among the students, as alleged. The committee received the testimony of Rev. Dr. Scott. If the committee deemed this right, surely they should have considered themselves authorized to obtain proof concerning the nature of Dr. Workman's teachings in the college. The interrogatories only refer to Dr. Workman's private views, not to his teaching. This was entirely irrelevant to the purpose before the committee. This is not and cannot be denied.

"Some samples of the committee's methods was that Dr. Workman was reported as having said that there was no dictum in the Old Testament referring to Jesus. The committee arbitrarily lays down rules and then accused Dr. Workman of departing from it. They do not show that this rule is in accordance with the Methodist Church.

Comments on Action of the Committee.

"They later modified their judgment. They quoted Dr. Workman as follows: 'There is no specific prediction in the Old Ttestament personally referring to Jesus.' Dr. Workman says this statement is used in an utterly unfair way. They say it is taken from his evidence in the Workman-Shaw case. On turning to the evidence, we find the following: 'In the 53rd chapter of Isaiah, is there not a specific prediction'?—'There are nine specific predictions foreshadowing a Messiah, but none referring to Jesus personally.' The committee cuts the sentence in two, alters the language of the latter, puts it in quotaitons and remarks that they can see nothing unfair in this. Neither did the Board of Governors.

"When Prof. McBride said that the faith in the resurrection of Jesus could only be explained by some vision of the disciples, Dr. Workman is alleged to have promptly stated his full agreement to this. Dr. Workman challenged the statement as absolutely false. They replied: 'We can furnish evidence that this is what they understood Dr. Workman to say, but we do not wish to involve persons not connected with this college in such a dispute.' They were content to allow it to remain as it was and to publish it on their authority. It was later remarked: 'Of course, it is possible that we and others who so understood Dr. Workman may have been mistaken in regard to these statements.' The report leaves no room for doubt that Dr. Shaw made the remark. The auditors of the alleged statement had accepted their position on theh committee with the conviction that Dr. Workman had approved of the McBride lecture.

Men placed in such a position had no right to serve on such a committee. As honorable men, their duty was clear, to decline to serve, reserving their right to appear. They acted contrary to article 222, of the discipline of the Methodist Church, which says that persons who are material witnesses should not act as members of the committee. To any impartial man, the report of the committee must appear prejudiced, illogical and unfair.

"Some of the members condemned Dr. Workman's views on the resurrection of Jesus. On this point, however, it is clearly proved that Dr. Workman was asked as to his belief in the physical resurrection of Jesus. This question is irrelevant, neither the articles of the faith nor the scriptures use this term. Dr. Workman said he did not express any leaning towards one view or the other. The articles of faith refer only to the resurrection of his body and do not define as to whether they refer to the natural body or the spiritual body.

Impossible to Get Accurate Statements.

"I am satisfied from the evidence that it is impossible to get accurate statements either to the questions asked or the answers given, unless the version of Dr. Workman given under oath is accepted, and I cannot doubt that he gave an honest statement in his evidence here.

"Thirty-six out of forty students signed a petition in favor of Dr. Workman. Rev. Dr. Young omitted to note this fact in the minutes. The omission was tolerated by the Board.

"The Board of Governors passed a resolution on October 22, 1907, moved by S. J. Carter, seconded by John Torrance, that the committee was satisfied that the doctrinal views of Prof. Workman were not in accord with the Methodist Church and ordered that his services terminate on November 1st, unless he resigned before that date. This resolution was carried by a vote of 10 to 7.

Early in September 100 copies of the report had been printed. The balance disappeared and were presumably distributed. One thousand copies of the rejoinder were printed. On May 22, 1908, Dr. Workman issued a statement in reply. At the committee of the conference he asked to refer to his case as he had been discontinued from his services. He asked the conference to investigate the matter in justice to himself. The general superintendent ruled the proposal inadmissable, seeing that no charge had been preferred."

Mr. Justice Weir then read the Act of Incorporation of the Wesleyan Theological College and other regulations, coming to the conclusion that apart from the management of various financial affairs, the charter rights remain vested in the corporation. It did not matter that the corporation was practically the same as the Board of Governors.

The next question was whether the board had the power to dismiss Rev. Dr. Workman. After quoting from further regulations, His Lordship said: "It cannot be maintained that the defendant (the board of governors) had the power to decide what were heretical opinions, such powers being vested in the conference itself."

In 1910 the conference gave the colleges power to appoint a committee to enquire into teachings, but this could not be retroactive and was practically an admission that such powers did not exist before. It was impossible to get away from the plaintiff's quality as a minister and that gave him constitution rights.

"The conclusion is evident that the board acted illegally in dismissing the plaintiff; that such dismissal is ultra vires; that plaintiff should only be dismissed by conference."

The defendants raised the question of prescription, but the action had been served less than two years from the dismissal.

The plaintiff, however, was too late in seeking a remedy in respect to the libel, his attempts to gain justice from the church courts having lasted so long, as to prescribe any action in the civil courts.

Existence of Malice is Amply Shown.

The plaintiff claimed $5,000 for illegal dismissal and libel. "I have no hesitation," His Lordship remarked, "in saying that the plaintiff has amply shown the existence of malice. The harm done to the plaintiff is probably irretrievable. A great prejudice has been caused against him. His lifework fitted him for a professor in a Methodist college in Canada, and the defendant by their illegal act has destroyed that expectation. The mental grief and anguish, however, are greater than any money considerations. I fix the damages for illegal dismissal at $2,500.

His Lordship then considered the plaintiff's claim that the defendant's plea was in itself a reiteration of libel. This necessitated a long examination of the evidence concerning Dr. Workman's views principally hinging around his alleged expression of appreciation in Prof. McBride's lecture. A great deal of time had been spent during the trial in the Superior Court in obtaining the plaintiff's religious views concerning statements in the plea, but as this did not concern his teachings in the college, it was irrelevent.

"It is not necessary for me to go into the niceties of theological discussion," His Lordship continued, "but I may venture to say that the intrepredation of the various articles of the Methodist Church is widened by Article 6, which says that he Holy Scriptures contain all things necessary to salvation. This made the interpretation of the scriptures the final resort.

"As all the numerous branches of the church found their varying creeds in their interpretation of the Holy Scriptures, it is probable for that reason that the Methodist Church has provided a special mode of trial for charges of unorthodoxy made against its members. Both plaintiff and defendant are bound by the laws of the church in this respect. In not doing so, the college had acted disloyally to its church and in bad faith to a minister thereof."

The Board of governors was as much subject to Methodist regulations as any member, and it should have taken his orthodoxy for granted until it had been impugned in a manner laid down by its law. "The plaintiff," His Lordship remarked, "had no right to go beyond this, unless the plaintiff had been declared unorthodox in the church courts, and this court will not look with favor upon a breach thereof."

Judge Weir therefore concluded that the allegations of the defendants were not true and not made in good faith. "It is impossible," he said, "to see how the actions of the investigation committee would convince anyone of its bona fide faith." Making such allegations against a minister was equivalent of accusing him of being a hypocrite.

For these reasons, His Lordship found that he Plaintiff was entitled to $1,000 for the statement in the plea, making $3,500 in all.

CLAIRVOYANT SEES LOUISE MARION FOULLY MURDERED

For Three Dollars She Tells Mother Her Daughter is in Quarry With Head Crushed.

On the strength of a story told by a clairvoyant regarding the mysterious disappearance of Marie Louise Marion, Sergt. Gagnon, of the Beaudry Street Station, together with two constables, are to-day searching the old quarry on Carriere Street, in an effort to locate the body of the missing girl.

Mrs. Marion told a representative of the Star this morning that she was confident her daughter was in the quarry, and when questioned as to why she was so firm in this belief, said that she had visited a clairvoyant, who had informed her that she would find her daughter's body in a large pool of still water, and also that when found it would be discovered that she had been murdered; that one side of her head would be completely crushed in and what clothing she wore would be torn in ribbons. Besides this information, she described the girl whom she had never seen, presumably from the accounts of her disappearance, for all of which she charged the modest sum of $3.

Mrs. Marion, after hearing this dreadful tale started an agitation among the neighbors, and at a sort of indignation meeting it was decided that the police had not gone as far as they should have in the matter and that influence should be brought to bear to have the quarry thoroughly searched. A number of aldermen were communicated with and Chief Campeau was instructed to have the quarry dragged again, and it is this mission that Sergt. Gagnon is on now, with instruction to remain on the ground until a thorough search has been made.

Discussing the affair on the bank of the quarry this morning, Sergt. Gagnon said he was not there because he believed the body to be there, but that the ground had to be covered.

Chief Carpenter, who had a couple of men working on the case for a week, said this morning that a middle-aged man of respectable appearance had come to his office three days after the clothes were found and told him that he had seen the girl on the street and had followed her to a store on St. Dominique Street, where he left her just before going to headquarters with his story. He told the Chief that he knew the girl perfectly well and had lived next door to her for some years. He also identified the coat found in the quarry as being of the same material as the skirt she wore when he left her on St. Dominique Street.

Chief Carpenter says that he is confident from his knowledge of the case that the girl did not meet with foul play, and that she left home on her own accord.

HELP FOR POOR.

Work of St. Vincent de Paul Society in Canada.

The annual report of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in Canada, which has just been published, shows that during the year 1910 the society spent $111,539.42 in helping the poor. Relief was given to 12,111 persons and 3,094 families. The receipts for 1910 were $143,869.09, showing a decrease over those of the previous year, which amounted to $162,199.46. The expenditure, on the other hand, was slightly less. In 1909, $126,316.12 was disbursed, being $14,776.70 more than the following year.

To Remodel School.

Owing to the state of congestion in the Lansdowne School it was decided at the monthly meeting of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, held this morning in the High School, Peel street, to extend and re-model the School at an estimated cost of $50,000, Dr. Barclay, presided.

It was approved to build a school next spring on the Lindsay lot, in St. Urbain street, Laurier Ward, which has recently been acquired by the Board.

For the Breakfast Cup.

With 2,000 tons of cocoa and confections, the Manxman, of the Dominion Line, from Bristol, docked here at 6 o'clock last night, twenty-four hours behind her schedule time. Captain Christie reports very heavy seas and that the trip was consequently a slow one. An iceberg was sighted 76 miles east of Belle Isle.

To Start New C.P.R. Hotel.

The C. P. R. has awarded to Messrs. Peter Lyall and Company, the contract for the erection of a nine-storey hotel at Calgary. The hotel will cost a million and a half dollars. It will have 400 roome. The contract calls for its completion by the spring of 1913.

PREMIER CRITICIZES TAXATION POLICY OF MR. ROWELL

Proposal Savors Too Much of Henry George's Doctrine to Suit Sir James.

Toronto, November 10.—Sir James Whitney has decided to postpone lengthy comment on Mr. Rowell's manifesto until his first campaign meeting which will be held in Hagersvill, next Thursday. He, however, referred to Mr. Rowell's suggestion that municipalities should be given authority to exempt improvements on land from taxation if they so desired.

"There seems to be some misapprehension as to the attitude of the Government, and as to what should be the attitude of the people interested in this question," said the Prime Minister.

"The Government is asked to pledge itself to enact legislation to allow municipalities to adopt what is really the Henry George doctrine of levying all taxation on land, or as its promoters put it, allowing municipalities to exempt from taxation improvements on land. The Government will not so pledge itself, and any member of the House who does so will be unwise. In the first place, and outside of merits, the checkerboard system of municipal government is too absurd to call for comment, and it is plainly adopted in this case by the Henry George people simply because they think—and, indeed, some of them assert—that it will be easier to accomplish their object in that way. Just think of a lot of little communities making up the municipal system of Ontario, each one with laws of its own on many subjects. This must be the result of such a proposition.

WILL TOUR THE PROVINCE.

Ontario Liberal Leader Plans Three Weeks' Campaigning.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 10.—A campaign tour of the province now being arranged for Mr. N. W. Rowell K.C., the new Liberal leader. Immediately following the Toronto demonstration on Tuesday, November 14, Mr. Rowell will spend three weeks out of the city, speaking daily from Monday till Friday. Some fifteen or eighteen meetings will be held.

Mr. Rowell's party will consist of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Mr. Chas. A. Bowman, M.L.A., Chief Liberal Whip in the Legislature, and Mr. D. J. McDougall, M.L.A.

Mr. Rankin Nominated.

Special to The Montreal Star.

North Bay, Ont., November 10.—Mr. Robert Rankin, of North Bay, was unanimously chosen by the Liberal convention, held here to contest the constituency of East Nipissing for the Legislature. Nine other gentlemen were named, but all retired in favor of Mr. Rankin.

Leeds County Liberals.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., November 10.—The executive of the Leeds Liberal Association met in Brockville yesterday, according to the decision of the convention held on Saturday last at Delta, and after consideration unanimously rendered the nomination to oppose Mr. John R. Dargavel, and Mr. W. J. Wilson, of Gananoque. Mr. Wilson promised to give a definite answer within a day or two. He contested the seat in 1908 against Mr. Dargavel.

Doings of the Ministers.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 10.—Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of the Interior, has gone to New York on departmental business. Hon. G. E. Foster, after a slight indisposition, is again back at his office, and Hon. Frank Cochrane returned this morning from Nipissing, following his election by acclamation.

May Be Given Senatorship.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Collingwood, Ont., November 10.—The name of Mr. Thomas Long, for half a century identified with the interests of this town, is being mentioned in connection with the vacancy in the Senate created by the death of Sir John Carling. He has served two terms as a member of the Ontario Legislature.

Dies Suddenly in Her Room.

Death came suddenly last night to Miss Deen, 62 years of age, in her room at 28 Balmoral street. She was stricken with heart failure while seated fully dressed in a chair. The body was taken to the morgue, and Coroner McMahon is anxious that any relatives of the deceased that are in the city, should call at his office to give the necessary information for a death certificate.

CARTIER MEMORIAL MOVEMENT BEGINS WITH ENTHUSIASM

Two Ministers Eulogise Sir George Cartier Before Gathering at Monument National.

FURTHER BIG PROJECTS FOR MONTREAL PORT

Hon. Mr. Hazen Declares Work Has More Than Local Importance.

Joining in a movement to raise $100,000 for a monument to the late Sir George Etienne Cartier, the members of the twelve newly-formed Conservative clubs of Maisonneuve division gathered in the Monument National last night, when two Cabinet Ministers, Hon. Mr. Hazen and Hon. Mr. Doherty, were present to give an impetus to the movement.

Eulogy of Sir George E. Cartier's political career in Canada, and advice to the Conservatives of Quebec to follow the example of Maisonneuve division and unite in solid array to sweep the province for the Conservative cause at the next elections, formed the keynote of the Cabinet Minister's speeches. Later in the evening, a committee was formed with Sir Charles Tupper as honorary president, to raise the necessary amount for the monument.

Hon. Mr. Hazen's announcement of further projects concerning the port of Montreal was an additional feature of the meeting. It was the first public appearance of the new Minister of Marine in Montreal since his appointment and he was loudly cheered when he rose to speak.

"I came to Montreal," he said, "for the purpose of inspecting harbor improvements. Money in this country cannot be better expended than by developing the port of Montreal and making the St. Lawrence deep and safe for the most modern style of navigation. Any work in this harbor cannot be regarded from a local standpoint, because Montreal is the great national port of Canada, and while that work of improving the port is going on now, and while an effort is being made to keep pace with the traffic, I feel that the work which is being accomplished now is small in comparison with the work which will have to be done in the future, the port of Montreal will have to advance as this country advances, and this country is advancing by leaps and bounds."

An Outstanding Feature.

Hon. Mr. Hazen explained that when he left for Montreal he did not know he was going to be present at the meeting. The members of the Cabinet were naturally busy at the present time as they were anxious to get their estimates ready for the opening of Parliament and to familiarize themselves with their departments.

"Sir George E. Cartier," Mr. Hazen continued, "was one of those outstanding figures that we look back on today after forty years and refer to as one of the fathers of confederation. It is almost a wonder to me that no monument has yet been erected to the memory of that noble man. He did a great work for Montreal, for the province of Quebec, and for the Dominion. His horizon was not bounded by any city or province. His name is linked in history with that of Sir John A. Macdonald. (Applause) His name is also associated with that other great Canadian whom, although he is over 90 years of age now, I heard speaking in London last summer—Sir Charles Tupper. (Applause.) From every province of Canada there comes one universal feeling of approval of the erection of a statue to Sir George E. Cartier. I trust it will be worthy of your city and of the whole Dominion.

Hopes Work Will Extend.

"I understand that this meeting is also to start a better organization in Maisonneuve division and in Montreal. I hope the work will not simply be confined to Maisonneuve division or to this city, but that it will extend to every part of the province of Quebec, so that when the Conservative party go to the polls again they may go with one of the best organized parties that has ever been known in Canada. (Applause.)

"Since, 1896, our friends in Quebec have been fighting a battle against odds and yet they have kept the Conservative flag flying and they have ever shown their devoted loyalty to the principles of the party to which they belong.

"The Conservatives of Quebec are to-day able to rejoice with the Conservatives of the rest of Canada in the victory of September 21, a victory which showed that we intend to preserve our own autonomy without outside interference in tariff matters. (Applause.)

"I hope that when we are again drawn up in battle array, Quebec will give even a better account of itself than it did on September 21, satisfactory as that account was."

Hon. Mr. Hazen concluded by saying that he knew it would gladden Hon. Mr. Borden's heart when he told him of the cheers which greeted his name at the meeting.

The Minister of Justice.

Hon. Mr. Doherty was necessarily brief in his remarks, because he was obliged to hurry away to the banquet which was being tendered him in St. Ann's division. He confined himself to praising the good example which the Conservatives of Maisonneuve were giving the other divisions of Canada and hoping that the good work would spread to other districts. "And now good St. Ann is waiting for me," Mr. Doherty humorously concluded.

As a result of the meeting, it was announced that a message would be sent to Mlle. Hortense Cartier, daughter of the late Canadian statesman, who is now living in France, telling her of the work which was being started to commemorate her father. This announcement was greeted by hearty applause.

Sir Alexandre Lacoste presided at the beginning of the meeting, commending Mr. E. W. Villeneuve for having started the work of organizing the twelve clubs and of raising funds for the proposed monument. Sir Alexandre Lacoste said he had always been a Conservative and intended to remain one, because it was the Conservative party which really governed Canada. He urged upon his hearers to fortify that party, and make it strong for the next fight.

No Fanatics or Sectarians.

Mr. C. A. Pariseault was then called to the chair. He declared that there was no room in the Conservative party for fanatics or sectarians who wished to raise discord. Conservatives of Quebec had confidence in their leader, Hon. Mr. Borden, and the men who surround him, and were particularly pleased with the ministers chosen from this province.

Mr. J. F. Gagne, secretary of the federated clubs, read messages of congratulation from Hon. R. L. Borden, Hon. R. Rogers, Hon. F. Cochrane and others.

Mr. E. W. Villeneuve, who had started the work of organizing the twelve clubs, was warmly greeted when he rose. Maisonneuve, he said, was staffin a movement which he hoped would spread and that soon the Conservative flag would fly from the Quebec Legislature as from the Ottawa parliament. He read a telegram from Lord Strathcona saying: "Gladly accept membership of committee for erection of monument to Sir George E. Cartier." There were also telegrams from Sir Max Aitken in Great Britain and prominent Conservatives throughout Canada.

Ex-Judge Ouimet, Messrs. C. H. Cahan, K.C., Charles P. Beaubien, Rufus Pope and John Boyd were also present and addressed the meeting briefly before the close.

Committee Appointed.

The committee which was appointed in connection with the raising of funds for the monument, was: Hon. president, Sir Charles Tupper, Bart.; hon. vice-presidents, Hon. R. L. Borden, Lord Strathcona, Lord Mount Stephen; president, E. W. Villeneuve; vice-presidents, the presidents of the Conservative clubs of the division of Maisonneuve; hon. secretaries, C. A. Pariseault, John Boyd, Horace J. Gagne, F. A. Jackson; hon. treasurers, Dr. George Baril and A. Fraser.

Committee:—Members of Dominion Government, senators of the Dominion, Conservative provincial premiers, and leaders of Opposition; Conservative members of the House of Commons, Conservative members of Quebec Legislature, Council and Assembly; the presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries and treasurers of the Conservative clubs of the Dominion; the officers of the Cartier Club having precedence.

British Veteran Dies.

Thomas Harwood, a veteran of the British army, died in the General Hospital Tuesday and buried yesterday. Deceased, who was 73 years old, was a pensioner of the 25th King's Own Borderers, had received two medals, and had served in various parts of the world. He is survived by two sons, both residents of Montreal, with whom he had made his home for some time past.

Ald. Lamoureux a Candidate.

A number of electors in St. Louis war waited upon Ald. Lamoureux last night and asked him to again be a candidate. Ald. Lamoureux said he would be most pleased to comply with the request.

HON. C. J. DOHERTY.

Who at banquet described clean politics as patriotism in its working clothes.

HON. MR. DOHERTY IS HONORED BY HIS ELECTORS

Over 250 Guests at Banquet Tendered to the New Minister of Justice.

"YOUR DUTY TO ENTER SOME POLITICS," HE SAYS

Tells Young Men of St. Ann's That Clean Politics is Patriotism in Its Working Clothes.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, the new Minister of Justice, for the first time since his entry into the Borden Cabinet, met last night a large gathering of his constituents.

At the invitation of the Young Men's Society of St. Ann's, who organized a banquet in his honor, the member for St. Ann's spoke in an intimate and friendly manner to what he termed a family gathering, which numbered some 250 of the new Minister's supporters.

"This is not the time to talk politics," said the Minister of Justice. "At a family gathering we talk of old times and of the feelings of the heart." Towards the end of his address, however, Hon. Mr. Doherty could not resist the temptation of taking a little flyer into politics, he said, and gave the young members of the society some excellent advice.

St. Ann's Hall, the scene of many a hot political debate, in past political fights, had been artistically decorated for the occasion. The most prominent sons of St. Ann's were there to greet one of their number, who had brought honor to the constituency, and to himself.

The joint chairmen were Ald. Tom O'Connell and Mr. C. E. Killoran, the president of St. Ann's Young Men's Society, and seated at the centre table were Rev. Fathers Heffernan, McPhail and Killoran, a brother of the chairman, and McShane, Ald. Monahan, Frank Curran, H. McLaughlin, T. L. Slattery and ex-Ald. Geo. Mahon, of Quebec.

Telegrams and letters of regret were read by Secretary Hamill from Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Chief Justice; Premier Borden, Mayor Guerin, Hon. Frank Cochrane, Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Hon. Sam Hughes, Hon. F. D. Monk, Hon. J. D. Hazen, and Mr. H. B. Ames, M.P.

Represents All Races and Creeds.

Ald. O'Connell, in introducing the Minister of Justice, stated St. Ann's was proud of its member and of the honor that he had brought to his division.

"He has not gone into the Cabinet simply to represent the Irish Catholics of Montreal," said Ald. O'Connell, "but people of all races and creeds, throughout the Dominion."

Mr. C. E. Killoran then proposed the health, "Our Guest." Hon. Mr. Doherty, he said, had been a true friend of the people of St. Ann's; he had been a good friend of everybody; and in having the honor of numbering him amongst the honorary members of St. Ann's Society the pleasure and the honor was all theirs.

When Hon. Mr. Doherty rose to respond, he was greeted by a spontaneous burst of cheering and loud applause which lasted for several minutes. Following this demonstration was a hearty singing of "He's a jolly good fellow."

"I think I should be more than excusable," commenced Hon. Mr. Doherty, "if I said to-night that I am proud of the reception you have given me; proud of this gathering of young men; proud of the good words that have been addressed to me; and yet I am not going to say that I am proud, because there is a feeling in my heart which monopolizes it entirely; I am glad to-night." (Applause.)

This is a family feast, a family reunion to rejoice together, and at a family reunion we do not make speeches, we just tell each other what we feel. So I say again to you, I am glad to-night; I am glad that the first opportunity offered me of addressing a public gathering in this city has been in my own constituency of St. Ann's."

Glad of Honor for St. Ann's Sake.

Mr. Doherty went on in a reminiscent mood telling of the happy recollections old St. Ann's Hall brought to his memory. His first public appearance, he said, had been in this Hall; this first nomination to a public position.

When he had been called upon to take up the responsibilities of the Department of Justice, he had said to himself: "I am glad because they will be glad at home."

What honors he had obtained reflected entirely upon the electors of St. Ann's, said the Minister, for they had first come through them.

"I said that at family gatherings we did not make speeches," continued Hon. Mr. Doherty, "and we did not talk politics; but, were I capable of expressing what I feel at this moment, it would make a great speech, a very eloquent speech. (Applause.)

Politics but Working Patriotism.

"I know that this gathering is not the expression of purely party feeling only. There is much good about the party feeling, however, for we must remember that politics properly understood and honestly practised is patriotism in its working clothes. It probably does not look as well in its working clothes as it does in the verses of the poets, or in the long periods of the orators, but it does much effective work for our country. Do not be afraid to let your patriotism put on its working clothes, that is the way to serve your country. There is too much disposition to tell the young men of to-day that politics are a good thing to keep away from. There are some politics that it is your duty to enter, in order to make of our country a great and prosperous nation.

Mr. Frank Curran proposed the toast to "Canada," to which Alderman P. Monahan responded.

Mr. J. J. Nolan was on hand to eulogize the ladies and Mr. P. Kenehan in his reply vied with him as to who could say the best things about them. Mr. R. J. Hart proposed the toast to the "Press," which was replied to by Mr. J. C. Walsh.

Between the toasts a few vocal selections were rendered. Contributing to these were the St. Ann's Young Men's quartette, and Messrs O'Sullivan and Ryan.

As the diners were filing out at an early hour of the morning the orchestra very appropriately played "It was not like this in the Olden Days."

HARBOR DELUSION ON CONSTITUTION

Mr. Lighthall Asserts B. N. A. Act is Not Canadian Constitution.

According to Mr. W. D. Lighthall, K. C., Canadians as a whole have been laboring under a delusion since the passing of the British North America Act. His answer to the question "What is the Canadian Constitution?" defined it as almost anything but the above mentioned act which has always been generally accepted by the people of the Dominion as their constitution.

Briefly, Mr. Lighthall's contention, which was freely discussed after his address, at last night's meeting of St. James Literary Society, is that the B. N. A. Act is merely a local incident to an Imperial Constitution, and represents the Imperial machinery for local purposes. Although it was the evident intention of the famous act to provide a constitution for the Dominion, and it had been accepted as such by many writers and students of constitutional problems, the speaker pointed to certain cardinal principles not expressed in the act. Loyalty to the Imperial Union was one of these and the right of the British race to share in the Dominion and conversely the right of all the Canadian people to share in the whole Empire. Liberty of the subject, liberty of the press, toleration, the right of migration within the empire, etc., were also not referred to.

The speaker followed up with arguments showing that the B. N. A. Act was only a portion of the constitution of the whole empire intended to meet the local needs within the four walls of the Dominion. He reviewed Canada's growth beginning with a small British population and development of the French-Canadian people in this country as well as the British. Under these circumstances the right of governance was with the people of the British race in trust for the rest of the British people. The necessary sacrifices for the growth and advancement of Canada as well as the rest of the Empire had been made by the British people as a whole. These sacrifices still continued and, therefore, the citizens of Canada had equal claim of every other part of the Empire for its progress. Therefore, the real constitution for Canada as for every other part of the Empire was the British Constitution.

THREE JURORS SWORN THREE OTHERS PASSED

And Counsel in McNamara Case are Hoping for a Jury "Soon."

Los Angeles, November 10.—Erstwhile predictions that a jury to try James B. McNamara, would not be selected for at least six weeks or more seemed extravagant to-day, the surprising progress of the last two days in examining talesmen giving rise to the belief that a panel might be obtained in much shorter time.

With three sworn jurors, three talesmen passed for cause and a new venire of forty on hand to-day. Attorneys on both sides were optimistic as to the possibilities of soon gathering in a panel of twelve unbiased and open-minded jurors. The tedious process of examination has a wearisome effect on the principals in the case and now without objection the Attorneys are heading for essential points.

Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defence, let it be known that he was tired as anybody of the protracted system of choosing a jury and favored expediting matters wherever possible. District-Attorney Fredericks, though in no hurry to start the taking of testimony, joined in the wish that the jury getting machinery might be moved faster.

CITY TO CONTRIBUTE TO KING'S STATUE

Controllers Agree to Include $5,000 in Budget for This Purpose.

Mayor Guerin, at a meeting of the Board of Control yesterday, submitted a communication from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy asking the city to contribute $5,000 to the King Edward memorial fund. In the communication Sir Thomas says: "Up to date the committee has collected $60,000, and they expect to get a few more thousand dollars from individual subscriptions. I take it for granted the city would wish to contribute towards a work of this character, and I am directed by the committee to ask if you will not kindly recommend to the City Council a grant of say $5,000 to the fund for providing in one of the public parks of the city a statue of the late King Edward, commensurate with the dignity and the importance of Montreal."

The committee decided that when the new budget is voted the amount in question will be included.

The Board discussed for a few minutes the project of tunnelling the Champ de Mars in order to give better facilities to Bonsecours Market; Controller Wanklyn did not think the project a very feasible one. No definite action was taken upon it.

Chiefs Carpenter, Tremblay and Campeau were appointed a board to examine the facts regarding each candidate of the police or fire departments, who may be judged worthy of being rewarded for having performed some act of distinguished bravery.

THE REICHSTAG DEBATE.

THE debate on the Franco-German agreement over Morocco in the Reichstag betrays the existence of a vast amount of resentment in Germany against whoever may be to blame for the Agadir fiasco. Naturally, the Chancellor and Foreign Minister, who guided the policy which led to this lamentable result, are the first victims, being most near at hand; but it is equally clear that a dangerous amount of the national anger is turned toward Britain. It is useless to say—what is nevertheless perfectly true—that Britain is not at all to blame. The "Panther" should never have gone to Agadir. The German Ministers must have known that, whatever Britain might say about the occupation of Morocco, she could not afford to allow a rival naval power like Germany to acquire a strong naval base on the Moorish coast.

That Germany had reason to fear that France was slipping through her fingers in this Moorish business, few will doubt. It was said at the time that the "Panther" was sent to Agadir simply to induce France to discuss seriously the questions which Germany had put to her on the subject without getting much satisfaction. Germany might have inferred that France proposed to quietly occupy Morocco without coming to any terms, and then confront Germany with a "fait accompli." But the method chosen by the German Chancellor for decisively securing the attention of France, was most unfortunate. It gave Britain no choice but to enter the field as a possible principle. Even if France had been willing to leave the Germans at Agadir, Britain could never consent.

The German Kaiser and the German Chancellor decided for peace. This should always be remembered to their credit. The provocative belligerency of the Conservative leader in the Reichstag is no more than impotent wrath, and does not represent any large section of the German people, nor will the petulance of the Crown Prince be regarded as serious as yet. His father was petulant in his day; and has now become a source of cool council. But the whole attitude of the Reichstag indicates dissatisfaction; and German feeling is undoubtedly at a temperature which will probably lead to an immediate augmentation of the battleship-building programme, and which will make German sensibilities unsafe handling for many a day.

It is to be hoped, in the interest of peace, that Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg will not fall. He seems to have the support of the Kaiser; and that is a potent factor under the German system. If he goes down, he will seem to fall because he chose for peace, though his real mistake was in taking an untenable position at the outset. His successor, under such circumstances, would undoubtedly be a man ready to draw the sword on the next occasion; and occasions come all too quickly in a world in so restless a condition as that in which we live. The approaching Reichstag elections will undoubtedly make the Government more sensitive to popular feeling than they would usually be; and it will require resolution for the Chancellor and his friends to weather the storm.

It is a reassuring sign, however, to find the Kaiser resolutely for peace. But if he pitches in at once to enlarge the naval programme, it will look as if much of his pacific policy was born of caution and a knowledge that Germany could only fight to-day with great risk of defeat. Still the removal of Italy from the Triple Alliance will counterbalance any such activity for a time; and the world should get a breathing-space. The "quacks" who are always telling us, however, that what we want is not battleships but a proper spirit and a faith in arbitration treaties, should by now be pretty well losing their hold on even the most gullible of our people.

ASQUITH'S PEACEFUL OUTLOOK.

THE British Premier's annual statement at the Lord Mayor's banquet, was this year a pean of peace, though two wars are in progress. But in neither of them has Britain any part. Mr. Asquith made it clear that she will not interfere in the Turko-Italian affair, except in company with the rest of Europe; and he also was very explicit in his assurance that Britain would do nothing in China beyond protecting the rights of British subjects. Peace, however, had arrived by way of Morocco. The Franco-German agreement had "removed the greatest obstacle to the smooth working of European diplomacy."

The optimistic tone of the British Premier would indicate that no danger is anticipated from either the extension of hostilities in the Eastern Mediterranean or complications following a change of government in China. Turkish successes in Tripoli, though they are probably of no more than a temporary character, seem to have diverted the attention of the Turkish leaders from the mad dream of compelling European intervention by setting fire to the whole international structure. If a fair amount of fighting can be put into the loss of Tripoli, the Turkish "face" will have been saved; and the men responsible for the conduct of the "reformed" Turkish Empire will be in a far better position in their own country. Unhappily, this means the loss of many lives on both sides; but still the fatalities will be far fewer than would follow a great Balkan war.

It is comforting to note that Mr. Asquith sees no reason to fear trouble in China. Those of us who must judge these things from the outside could not be sure that there was no danger that the ambitions of some of the Powers would lead them to take advantage of the confusion in China to seize privileges which might arouse the jealousy of their sleepless rivals. Yet it has always been difficult to see how this could come about. Japan would have been master of any such policy because she has the only large army within striking distance; and Japan is the ally of the power which is most sincere in desiring the continued integrity of the Chinese Empire. Moreover, Japan probably entertains a larger ambition than to get a fragment of China in the midst of a general scramble. She might very easily dream of becoming the tutor and leader of the entire Chinese people, and so constituting herself the greatest single force in the world.

With the Turko-Italian war rigidly localized and with China carrying on her revolution inside a steel ring of watchful powers, the peace of the world looks fairly secure for the moment. Even the belligerent talk of certain members of the Reichstag, supported, we are told, by the applause of the Crown Prince, cannot mean immediate trouble; for the German navy is not yet ready. But it is all too clear that this era of quiet is only a pause in the midst of the storm. There are too many unstable points in the vast international edifice for us to hope that it will never be disturbed again. China has yet to reach her basis of stability. The Turkish Empire is still lying on an inclined plane; and any little disturbance in her corner of the world may set it sliding. More menacing still, German ambition remains unsatisfied and doubly hungry; and it is more firmly believed than ever in Berlin that the one obstacle to its satisfaction is the British navy.

Here lies the hint to Canada. The British navy not only keeps the peace of the world at this moment, but is the sole guarantee of a stable and permanent Canada. Shall we let it be over-matched by the determined effort of the huge German race with its two Empires secure in the heart of Europe; or will we join our brothers in the Motherland in maintaining the ascendancy of the fleet by which we live?

OUR NEW "ORDER OF MERIT."

OUR new "Order of Merit" for police constables and firemen who distinguish themselves in the performance of their duties is to carry with it a bonus of ten cents a day and to give its possessors the right to wear a special star on their sleeves. The extra ten cents a day means more to men who are trying to bring up a family on the pay we give our police and fire departments than it probably does to the ordinary citizen. Let us hope, however, the present amount is only an earnest of good faith, to be turned into a more practical recognition when the city finances permit. To the special star—the insignia of the order—no exception can be taken. The public is as much interested in identifying and honoring the heroes of the two services as are their official heads.

It is in passing on the innumerable claims for recognition which are certain to present themselves that the rub is going to come. The Board which awards the distinction can make it as common in the departments as King's Counsel gowns are among the lawyers of Montreal, or they can preserve it as a mark of distinction. The line of least resistance will be to confer it lavishly and cheerfully and there is still sufficient of the old spirit of patronage lurking in the City Council to make it probable that aldermen will try to influence these awards as they have others. By adopting this course, the Board can make the new Order one of the most farcical of the many bits of practical humor which have been perpetrated at the City Hall. We are inclined to believe, however, that Chief Tremblay, Chief Carpenter, and Chief Campeau will adopt other ideals for the administration of their trust. Two of them, at least, have shown themselves able and willing to fight aldermanic interference. The third, now that he is in good company, may do likewise.

THE COST OF NAVIES.

"UNLESS a navy is maintained at the highest possible state of efficiency, it is a needless extravagance," said President Taft after reviewing the fleet on which the United States bases her claim to be regarded as the second naval power in the world. What saved the observation from being platitudinous is that so few politicians have had the courage to make it and so few people have paid attention to it when others than politicians have shown its reason and logic.

A navy is never built. Battleships lose their places in the first line of battle before they have been ten years off the ways. Five years ago, a cruiser of twenty-two knots was the potential terror of the seas; two years ago, the speed qualification was raised two knots; to-day, steel shells of fifteen thousand tons displacement are being built with engines that will drive them twenty-six knots.

In making war, a nation's success depends upon its having as good or better tools than its antagonist, just as it does in commercial competition. The tools cost from five to ten million dollars apiece to begin with, hundreds of thousands of dollars each every year for maintenance, and grow obsolete faster than any other kind of machinery in the world. Navies that count are, necessarily, the exclusive possession of countries that are able to spend hundreds of millions on them whether they can afford it or not. All others, except for local enmities with equally handicapped neighbors, are useless and extravagant follies.

CHIEF TREMBLAY ON SYRENS.

CHIEF TREMBLAY has made many wise suggestions for the improvement of the fire protection service since he took charge of the brigade. None have fitted in better with the views of the average citizen than his proposal to the Board of Control yesterday that the use of syrens on the streets be limited to the fire-engines, hose waggons and ladder trucks.

At best, the noise of any automobile syren is an exaggerated unpleasantness, out of all proportion to the needs of the case. At worst it is an unmitigated nuisance. And under the excited hand of the average chauffeur, it is usually at worst. It provokes recklessness in those who blare their path through other traffic as well as wrath in those who have the roaring dinned momently in their ears.

On the grounds alone of its being a needless offence against the peace and comfort of the city there is legislation which makes its suppression possible. Now that Chief Tremblay has pointed out that the unlimited use of syrens by any kind of a motor-driven vehicle has forced his department back to the old-time fire-gong as a signal for clearing the streets, there is all the more reason for enforcing this particular by-law. Almost the only conceivable situation in which a syren can be put to legitimate use on the streets of a city is when the Fire Department is charging down a crowded thoroughfare on its way to a fire. We might, with gerat advantage, restrict it to that.

The World's Greatest Lake.

London Free Press—This is the season of the year when Lake Superior more than justifies its claim to be the most extensive body of fresh water in the world. Along its length of 500 miles a few hours suffices to raise a storm that would do credit to the Atlantic, with the added danger of a rocky coast never far distant.

The Icelanders and America.

Providence, R.I., Journal—Dr. Nansen, addressing the Royal Geographical Society in London, contributes his endorsement to the surmise that Icelanders discovered the continent of North America five hundred years before Columbus came close to it. If this be so it chiefly serves to show that Fame is often neglectful of those whose achievements are ahead of their times.

New York Tribune—The departure of Sir David Bruce's expedition to Africa to seek the cause of the deadly pestilence known as the sleeping sickness is a reminder of the magnitude of the task which science has before it in essaying the extirpation of all germ diseases, and the resolute manner in which it addresses itself thereto.

McGill Deficit Steadily Increases

That the invested funds of the University have been impaired to the extent of $154,609 by the recurring deficits of the last few years, is the outstanding fact of the annual financial statement issued this morning from the office of the Bursar of McGill University, Mr. Walter Vaughan. Under ordinary circumstances such a statement would be alarming, but it is of a more hopeful interest in view of the campaign to be undertaken shortly for the increase of the University's endowment. In spite of rigidly economical management, carried to the length of parsimony in some departments, such as the Library, the University has been going behind at the rate of $60,000 a year.

The financial statement of McGill University for the year ended June 30, 1911, shows that the expenditure exceeded the revenue by no less than the sum of $58,794.28. The magnitude of the annual operations may be judged from the total of the expenditure, which during the year amounted, including that of Macdonald College, to $832,638.66.

The only departments of the University which are on a self-supporting basis are the Faculty of Law and the Royal Victoria College for Women. In the Faculty of Arts the deficit for the year was $8,053.64, and in the Faculty of Applied Science, $6,317.50. This Faculty would have been able to meet its expenditure out of its revenue, but for the fact that it has to bear the interest on a deficit of $225,212.13 arising out of the loss of the old Engineering Building and the construction of the new and improved building at a far greater cost.

The Library Deficit.

The University Library, which is so ill-supplied with funds for the purchase of books that the professors are constantly obliged to go to Harvard and other centres for the purpose of making researches, has a deficit for the year amounting to $7,013.52; and the Conservatorium of Music, which is doing so much for the improvement of that art in the city of Montreal, and which has become a popular element in the social life of the city, fell behind to the extent of $4,329.25.

But the worst showing of all was that of the Faculty of Medicine, where the deficit amounted to $32,894.34, an increase over the preceding year of about $22,000. The great jump in the expenditure of this faculty has been caused partly by the occupancy of the magnificent new medical building fronting on Pine avenue, given by Lord Strathcona, and partly through the necessity of providing the students with the equipment and apparatus essential to the training of physicians and surgeons who shall be fit for the practice of their profession. No better justification for this expenditure can be cited than the well deserved and high reputation for the quality of its teaching which the McGill School of Medicine enjoys throughout the civilized world.

The Endowment Funds.

The investment of the endowment funds of the university can safely challenge comparison with the investment of similar funds by any university or institution, for during the past year the accounts show that the funds earned a rate of over 5.60 per cent.

The deficits for the last five years have been as follows:—

1906-1907	$33,123.05
1907-1908	$46,535.75
1908-1909	$50,842.88
1909-1910	$65,291.61
1910-1911	$58,794.28

A Heavy Deficit.

These large deficits have been reduced to some extent by the maturing of some profitable investments, but the profit and loss account of the university on June 30 last, shows that no less a sum than $154,603.21 has been taken from the general funds of the university to make good the excess of expenditure. The necessity of doing this is in itself a source of direct loss to the university, since it entails a sacrifice of nearly $10,000 a year in interest on this large aggregate deficit.

MR. C. A. HARWOOD, K.C.

Quebec Government Honors Advocate of the City and Syndic of the Bar.

Mr. C. A. Harwood, advocate, of this city, has been appointed King's Counsel by the Quebec Government. The appointment is notable, owing to the fact that Mr. Harwood is a Conservative, and for some years past, has been prominent in the party in this province.

The new King's Counsel was born in Vaudreuil, August 2, 1869, and has practiced his profession in Montreal since being called to the bar. He was elected syndic of the Bar of Montreal last May. He is a director and honorary secretary of the Montreal Citizens' Association. He is also a member of the Cartier and Liberal-Conservative Clubs of this city. The Harwoods of Vaudreuil have always been active in political life, and for generations back the county was represented in Parliament by some member of the family.

Realty Suit for $75,000.

A suit was entered in the Superior Court this morning by Mr. J. S. Bigras against Mr. G. E. Honeywell for $75,000. The suit arises out of an option on four islands in Riviere des Prairies. The option was made through Findlay and Howard, and expired on August 4th last. It is alleged that through Mr. E. D. Decarries, the option was accepted and the plaintiff sues for the fulfilment of the contract. The defendant claims that Findlay and Howard were not authorised to act for him.

Lifting the Gas Buoys.

Lifting of the gas buoys from the ship channel will begin on the 20th instant and they will, as usual, be replaced by the iron buoys which will serve until the navigation season closes. The C. G. S. Shamrock will be assisted by two other ships, and it is expected the work of lifting the buoys will be completed by the 28th instant. This will, in all probability, be the last year that the Shamrock will lift the buoys. The Dollard, which is now on a fair way to completion at Kingston, will replace the Shamrock by the spring.

Luncheon to Dr. Campbell.

It was definitely arranged yesterday that the luncheon which is to be given by the Congregational Club in honor of the Rev. R. J. Campbell, should take place on Thursday next, the 17th inst., in Stevenson Hall, which is the (Annex to Emmanuel Church.) The hour has been fixed at 12.45 p.m., so as not to conflict with any of the meetings of the Men's Missionary Congress. Mr. Chas. Gurd, Cairman of the Congregational Club will preside.

Purchase in Good Faith.

Mr. Justice Fortin has given a decision in favor of the defendant in the case of Paquin vs. Fegen. Fegen, who is a second-hand store dealer, bought some furniture from a man who had leased the furniture from Paquin and the latter took suit in revendication. Fegen claimed that he had bought the articles in good faith and declined to give them up. The judge sustained him and dismissed the action with costs.

The Last Post Fund.

To enlist support in the work of the "Last Post" Fund, a series of public meetings was inaugurated last night, when officers and members of the Fund were entertained by the Sergeants' Mess of the Heavy Artillery. An explanation was given of the work being done to save the King's soldiers from going down to paupers' graves, and Rev. Messrs. Almons and Norwood, eulogized the efforts of the Fund. Several subscriptions to the Fund were handed over by Sergeant-Major Wilson, who presided.

THE HEALTHFULNESS OF CHEESE

Cheese was at one time looked upon as an article hard to digest, but now it is universally considered as an important aid to digestion.

As an article of food it is very nourishing and beneficial, containing all the most valuable constituents of Fresh Milk in a concentrated form.

SHAW MEMORIAL.

Corner Stone of New Church to be Laid To-morrow.

The corner stone of the new Shaw Memorial Methodist Church, at the corner of Christopher Columbus and Huntley streets, which is to be the church home of the present Huntley Street Methodist Church, will be laid to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock by Mr. G. F. Johnston. The Rev. W. R. Young, D.D., chairman of the North District, will also be present, and with Rev. E. I. Hart will deliver an address. The new church will have a seating capacity of about five hundred and will cost about $32,000. It is expected to be ready for occupation in the spring. The church was established in 1907 and to-day has a membership of 150, and a Sunday School of from 180 to 200. The pastor is the Rev. W. G. Bradford.

CANTON VICEROY SEEKS REFUGE AT HONG KONG.

Hong Kong, November 10—The Governor of Hong Kong announced at a Legislative Council meeting that the Viceroy at Canton was coming to seek temporary asylum at Hong Kong.

The Viceroy, it was explained, had concurred in the declaration in favor of the republicans in order to avoid terrible bloodshed. The Governor said he confidently looked to the Chinese community properly to receive the Viceroy, who was in distress, as their guest.

Wheat

—has been the controlling factor in the world's progress—

—back as far as the Bible Times of Joseph and the Famine in Egypt.

Wheat! wheat! wheat!-and yet more wheat! Millions of bushels was this year's crop of the Moose Jaw District—

—in the great open prairie belt—Nature's ideal wheat land.

Wheat Made MINNEAPOLIS

Now a city of 301,408—not counting St. Paul's 214,744.

Wheat will make MOOSE JAW

the Canadian Minneapolis. This in fact she is fast becoming; her mills being already the largest between Winnipeg and Calgary.

This Year will Show—

a wonderful progress at Moose Jaw—

You can get a share of the new wealth now being created by buying in

Boulevard Heights

Moose Jaw's unique park and boulevard residential district.

As sure as the development of the great wheat area, so sure is Moose Jaw's future; as sure as Moose Jaw's progress, so sure is the high-class building-restricted residence section —Boulevard Heights — to increase in value.

A Sure Investment—Ask about our special Non-forfeit of Payment Plan of selling Lots.

Only 1 1-3 miles from the post office at Moose Jaw.

—Boulevard Heights Lots are of Two Kinds: Standard City Lots, $130— $10 down and $10 per month. Boulevard and Park Lots, $440 and up— ¼ cash, balance 6, 12, 18 months

A SHORT TALK ON PROSPERITY

These are prosperous times, but the man upon whom the smile of Fortune particularly rests is the man who owns real estate—especially on the Island of Montreal.

That people are awakening to the truth of this is shown by the way

THE LOTS ARE BEING SNAPPED UP

AT OUR

ROCKFIELD SUBDIVISION

Be one of the fortunate ones—our rates are low and our terms are easy. Secure one or more lots at once.

Remember — Rockfield, Subdivision is within easy reach of many large industrial plants, yet, unlike the city, is free from grime and foul, smoky air.

Take Grand Trunk Railway or Electric Car to Rockfield Station, once there you cannot miss our sign. Also once you see the property we believe you cannot resist the opportunity to buy.

Gentlemen,

Is your money earning you ONE HUNDRED PER CENT?

Each one of us is striving towards the goal of self-improvement, the chief factor of which is FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE. To those who desire to invest their money in an absolutely safe way, with a certain prospect of splendid returns, we can offer an exceptionally good proposition.

Some little time since we organized a Syndicate to deal with certain Real Estate in the City of Westmount. So far it has been operating privately, and the amount already subscribed exceeds our most sanguine expectations, but there are still a few shares left which we can now offer to the public. If business men recognise it as a sane and safe investment, there can be no question as to its bona-fides.

This is no wild-cat scheme promising a 500% or 600% return on the outlay. We simply give our warranty that it will show 100%

The price of each share is One Thousand Dollars (1,000.00.) If you are interested, write or call for further information. We court the fullest enquiries.

PREMIER ASQUITH REVIEWS HOME AND FOREIGN POLICIES

Commends Moroccan Settlement and Declares Against Interference in China or Tripoli.

London, November 10. At the Guildhall banquet last night, the Lord Mayor, Sir Thomas Crosby, presided, and there was the usual brilliant assemblage of Cabinet Ministers, ambassadors, peers, members of the House of Commons, the Archbishop of Canterbury, bishops, judges, representatives of the Navy and Army, and men prominent in finance and commerce.

Premier Asquith delivered a most important speech, devoted to Imperial and foreign affairs. He opened with a generous tribute to Mr. Balfour, expressing unfeigned and profound regret at the announcement of his resignation, acknowledging the irreparable loss which his withdrawal from constant interchange must involve to the daily life of Parliament.

He hoped and believed that there were many chapters of Mr. Balfour's career still to be written by the pen of history. It would be long before there would be seen again in the forefront of politics a personality so invaluable to his friends, so formidable to his foes, so interesting and attractive to friends and foes alike—such a unique combination of gifts and powers as made Mr. Balfour by universal consent the most distinguished member of the greatest deliberative assembly in the world.

RT. HON H. ASQUITH.

Turning to Imperial affairs, Mr. Asquith referred to the illustrious world-wide concourse which celebrated the Coronation. He said that the representatives of foreign countries then witnessed in Westminster Abbey as impressive a demonstration as the annals of nations can afford of the unity of a great state, and of the continuity of its history.

The day after to-morrow their Majesties start on the first visit which a British sovereign has ever paid to his Indian dominions, and he need not say that over the whole Empire they carry with them the hopes and prayers of all their subjects.

By a happy coincidence, he continued, the year of the coronation was marked by the first meeting of the Imperial Conference. For the first time representatives of the great dominions were admitted into full confidence regarding the ends and methods of our foreign policy, and surveyed together the strategic aspects of the Empire.

We were able to come to a complete agreement concerning the reciprocal parts we were to take in its naval and military defence. The proceedings of the Conference were marked by a significant advance in the policy of co-operation without centralization, which is growingly recognized to be the best safeguard of our Imperial unity and strength.

At home during the year there had been a succession of troubles between labor and capital, which, in some cases, has led to resort to the barbarous methods of industrial warfare. He said "barbarous" methods, for they were a wasteful and cruel form of arbitrament in economic, none the less than in international spheres. He said nothing as to the rights and wrongs of these disputes, except that he believed none of them were incapable of reasonable adjustment.

The Government had not escaped criticism. He affirmed, however, that the attitude of the State should be an impartial and neutral attitude, but it could not, especially when the interests of others besides the combatants were involved, be an attitude of indifference.

The Government had two clear duties to perform. It must exhaust all opportunities to provide machinery for conciliation, it must maintain order, prevent and punish violence, secure the public against stoppage of supplies and the suspension of indispensible services.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH CHINESE OR ITALIAN WARS

Looking abroad, he said, there was much to arouse anxiety. China was in the throes of revolution. It would be rash and improper to hazard an opinion of the outcome, but he was glad to say that so far as foreigners and British subjects were concerned there seemed no reason to apprehend immediate danger.

Ships had been sent to the principal scenes of disturbances, merely for the protection of the British subjects and of other foreigners if they were unprotected. "We have no disposition to interfere in any way in the internal affairs of China," said Mr. Asquith, "we wish her a peaceful and progressive future.

"Nearer home the peace of Europe is unhappily disturbed by the war between Italy and Turkey, in regard to which we have declared and intend to pursue a policy of strict neutrality. Many have strongly desired that we should make an effort at mediation. None were more anxious than the Government if it opportunity arose. (Loud cheers).

"Other powers share this desire. We are in constant communication with them in regard to this and mediation is more likely to be faithful coming conjointly from the Powers than would be the isolated action of one." (Cheers.)

He emphasized the fact that it would be useless to submit proposals for mediation except upon a basis acceptabe to both combatants.

It was a satisfaction to turn to the welcome and happy conclusion, so honorable to the statesmanship of two great countries, of the negotiations regarding Morocco between France and Germany. The settlement was a relief to Europe, for it removed, perhaps, the greatest obstacle to the smooth working of European diplomacy.

Our own gratification at these happy results is none the less profound and sincere because we had been suspected in irresponsible quarters of looking coldly upon the negotiations, and even of a disposition to tamper with their success.

The Premier declared, with great emphasis, that nothing could be further from the truth. There was no secret about the aims and methods of British policy. Where British interests were involved it was our business to safeguard them. Where treaty obligations came in it was our duty to fulfill them. Where we established friendships and understandings we sought to maintain them loyally and intact; but our friendships are neither exclusive nor jealous.

We have no cause of quarrel with any nation, nor, with such a history and Empire as our own, had we any disposition to curtail or fetter the natural and legitimate aspirations of others. We rejoiced sincerely in every settlement which removed upon honorable terms outstanding differences, which cleared the mists of misunderstanding from the international atmosphere, which broadened the foundations of peace and good will in Europe, and the world at large. (Loud cheers.)

Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill's first speech for the Navy, as First Lord of the Admiralty, stirred his audience. The Navy is strong, he declared, and ready instantly to put forth its strength. He paid a tribute to Admiral Lord Fisher of Kilverstone, who retired as admiral of the fleet this year, as the greatest naval lord of the century.

Rt. Hon. Mr. Churchill promised a reduction of the present abnormal expenditure without compromising national security. It would be affectation, he said, to pretend that the sudden and rapid growth of the German navy was not the main factor in Great Britain's vast expenditures.

Making Rapid Progress.

Prince Rupert, British Columbia, the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, is going apace, and for a young city the business that is now done there is remarkable. During the month of September there were 80 steamers called at the port and 81 departures.

DON'T SAY YOU'RE OLD

You can Feel Younger By Keeping Up Your Strength.

It is a mistake for elderly people to let themselves think they are getting old.

What if you have had 60 or 70 birthdays? You can keep your mind young and active, and you can also feel younger than your age if you guard your bodily strength.

Mr. George B. Smith, aged 71, of Smithville, Ont., says that Vinol cured him of a case of stomach trouble of long standing, and that he now feels as strong and can do as good a day's work as he did thirty years ago, which he owes to Vinol. "I think it is worth its weight in gold for any ailment of aged people," says Mr. Smith.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil strengthens and invigorates all feeble, run down people, and is the mainstay of thousands of old persons who say it has prolonged their lives. We guarantee that Vinol will do all that we say, and pay back your money if it does not. R. H. Bryson, Druggist, St. Catherine and Peel streets, Montreal.

CURED OF RUPTURE

B. Lindman, Esq., Montreal:—

Dear Sir,—I am very thankful to let you know that I am perfectly healed up. I consulted Dr. Jno. Ferguson, who recommended your truss to me, telling me that he found it the most satisfactory. I am glad to say that I am now able to go without the truss and, in fact, have forgotten that I was ever ruptured.

Sensational Doings in Power Stock--Sells at 184--Wall Street Was Erratic

OTTAWA 149, STEEL CO. 36, R.& O. STEADY

Outside of Power, the local market was not very active.

Richelieu went at a very much slower pace than yesterday, with continued cashing in by the small fry. The stock sold at 126½, and off a small fraction at the close.

Shawinigan was again stronger, selling up to 121½.

Ottawa Power made another gain, selling at 149.

Steel Co. of Canada again sold at 36, while Sawyer-Massey moved as high as 27¾.

A director of Textile said that the labor situation was satisfactory.

In Wall Street

Stocks accumulated before the recent advance were sold in large amounts today. For a time the market was able to withstand the effect of the selling, owing to the counter influences of the commerce court action in the freight rate case, but before the day was far advanced prices began to weaken.

Announcement of a Stock Exchange failure and severe liquidation in some of the Gould securities on unfavorable rumors precipitated heavy selling in the second hour. Only a few issues held above yesterday's closing prices, the remainder selling from a fraction to three points below.

Wabash pref. slumped 3 points, the 4 per cent. bonds 2⅝, Missouri Pacific 1½, American Smelting, Brooklyn Transit, Consolidated Gas, Canadian Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Erie, and the first preferred a point.

Lackawanna was up 10 points, and American Cotton Oil pref. 5, while American Woollen was down 3 points. The decline culminated when Lehigh Valley was lifted 1½. The general market worked up.

New C.P.R. Steamer.

A new steamship for the C.P.R. service on the Pacific Coast was launched yesterday at the yards of Bow McLachlan & Co. of Paisley, Scotland. It is to be called the Princess Sophia. It is 245 feet long, 44 feet beam, and with 18 feet depth. It has triple expansion engines, and the furnaces are arranged for either coal or oil fuel.

CORPORATION BONDS

For a permanent investment we recommend the following Bonds:

Western Canada Power 5's, 1949, to yield over 5½%.

Can. Consolidated Felt 6's, 1940, to yield over 6%.

With the security behind these Bonds they should steadily appreciate in value.

CAUGHT SHORT A N. Y. BROKER FAILS

New York, November 10.—Announcement was made on the Stock Exchange to-day of the failure of the firm of W. L. Stevens & Co. The present firm was formed in April 1910.

The only statement issued on the Stock Exchange regarding the failure was that the firm was unable to meet its obligations. It was said that the firm had been short on Steel and other active stocks, and was caught in the recent bull market.

"SOO" PRESIDENT INSPECTS CROPS

Special to The Montreal Star.

Minneapolis, Minn., November 10.—Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo line has returned after an absence of more than three weeks, during which time he inspected the entire Soo system in the North-West as far as the Pacific coast and took a trip into Canada.

Mr. Pennington reports that crops in Canada yielded a plentiful return this year, and that the quality is good despite heavy rains in parts of the season. He speaks favorably of the railroads of western Canada, especially of the Canadian Pacific, which, he says, is now one of the finest railroads in the world.

DR. LYMAN IS ARRESTED.

Los Angeles, November 10.—Dr. John G. Lyman, the promoter, now in prison in San Francisco, was indicted by the Federal grand jury here yesterday on the charge of having used the mails to defraud. Bail was fixed at $25,000.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET.

Charles Head: "We feel that the trend is upward, and while reactions must be expected would take advantage of fair setbacks to purchase the standard issues."

Laidlaw & Co.: "A reversal of the ruling on Inter-Mountain rates would mean a difference of many millions of dollars annually of gross revenue in favor of the railroads. This news supplemented recent favorable developments in the situation at large greatly fortifies the bull position in the stock market.

Shearson, Hammill & Co.: Large interests are working on the bull side, and making heavy purchases. Europe is buying where they have been selling before, and a broad market is possible. Business is feeling the change, and even tariff revision has not the terrors it did have. Some of the low priced stocks are likely to receive attention. Copper stocks are being bought abroad, and the whole list looks higher. There has been good buying of St. Paul. The actives all look good."

Oswald Bros.: "We feel that the trend is upward, and while reactions must be expected, would take advantage of fair setbacks to purchase the standard issues.

POWER 184! LONDON WAS A BIG BUYER

Shawinigan Interests Over There Were Said to Be Getting Busy.

London took charge of the market for Power stock this morning, and the local crowd was pop-eyed as the stock soared to 184 at one fell swoop.

Power closed last night at 180¾, and many thought the rise was over, but the buyers chased after it this morning and started it 3½ points up.

The swift pace induced some profit-taking, but brokers with the London orders took everything in sight.

The source of the English buying is something of a mystery. Does London know anything we don't know here?

One report had it that the bulk of the buying was coming from the English interests who were identified with Shawinigan, and it did not take the local people long when they heard this to conjure up visions of a deal.

For the first time in months Power was active on the London market itself.

The action of the stock to-day started up the people who talk the gospel of caution, but some of the talk along these lines fell on deaf ears.

Consols Off

Consols were lower again to-day at 78½ for money and 78⅝ for account.

2150 SHARES POWER SOLD.

Sales of Power this morning were 2,150 shares.

NIPISSING IN OCTOBER.

The October production of Nipissing amounted to 431,986 ounces of silver, valued at $226,929, as against a production of 426,694 ounces, valued at $227,082 for September.

A BIG JUMP IN SILVER IS NOW FEATURE

The opinion prevails among the large bullion houses and representatives of banking institutions doing business in the Far East, that the sharp advance in the price of silver in the London market was due almost entirely to speculation.

So far this week there has been an advance of 1d in the price of the white metal at London to 26d, and a rise of 2¼c to 56½c in the New York market.

The present London price is the highest recorded since November 7, 1910, when the quotation stood at 26d, while the New York quotation is the highest since October 22, 1910, when the quotation was 56⅞c.

It was believed that some London speculators were caught short, and were compelled to enter the market for silver in time for the next settlement, which takes place on November 11th.

GOOD INVESTMENT DEMAND.

Brokers report an excellent investment enquiry for stocks.

HALIFAX "IS" ON THE BAND WAGGON

Financial Editor, Montreal Star:

Sir,—In reporting the bank clearings for the different cities of Canada a short time ago in your valuable paper, Halifax was the only city showing a decrease, and a foot-note stated that "Halifax should get on the band waggon of prosperity."

I thoroughly understand that in putting this foot-note, it was only as a joke, but I thought I would go into the matter and ferret out the reason why our bank clearings had decreased in spite of the fact that our exports had increased this year $2,500,000 over and above the same period of last year, the wholesalers report having had a very good year—in fact, one of our largest industries report their October sales the largest in the history of the business, which was established nearly seventy years ago.

The real cause, however, I find is on account of the Union Bank of Halifax having amalgamated with the Royal Bank of Canada, and while two Canadian banks have since opened branches in this city, they have not worked up sufficient business to offset the decrease in clearings made by the amalgamation of the two banks referred to.

E. A. SAUNDERS,
Sec. Board of Trade.

Halifax, November 4.

EARNED OVER 41 P.C.

Lackawanna Railroad last year earned 41½ per cent., against 43¾ per cent. the year previous.

PROFIT TAKING IN LONDON.

London, November 10.—Money was in better demand, and discount rates hardened. The market was irregular. The appearance of the £5,000,000 Southern Nigeria loan and firmer money rates depressed Consols, and profit-taking caused losses in other sections.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

Who's Selling?

What's the matter with Rio? The stock was going along swimmingly, everything was lovely, and a bigger dividend looked certain, when a Montreal house plunked about 4,000 or 5,000 shares on the Montreal and Toronto markets.

It would be mighty interesting to know for whom all the stock was sold.

The earnings are as good as ever, but earnings do not count much if it turns out that some of the insiders are taking to the tall timbers.

Quite a Change.

Wall Street has decided that the United States is not going to the dogs after all. The whole point of view has changed. When Steel hovered around 55 the "ticker" students figured that when it got down to 30 it would be a nice purchase. It is now beginning to look cheap to them around 65.

It is awfully easy to become bullish after a rise, and it is equally hard to buy at the proper time when stocks are cheap.

Consols.

If Consols fell 3-16 when Mr. Balfour resigned, how much would they go up if Lloyd George decided to quit?

The answer is: "More than 3-16."

Directors.

Some men make it a rule never to speculate in the shares of a company of which they are directors.

And some men seldom speculate in a company unless they are directors.

A Gem.

A local man selling oil shares puts this gem in his circular:

"To provide the cash necessary, I will undertake to personally superintend the advertising both in the local newspapers and circularizing an up-to-date list of interested buyers of oil shares to the number of 20,000, and past experience has shown 4 p.c. replies bring in amounts from $50 up, which will bring in an amount of, say, $50,000, right after the Christmas and New Year's holidays."

The Star doubts if 4 p.c. "come across" with the money these days.

An Epidemic.

There is an epidemic of new securities companies in Montreal. They are springing up like mushrooms, and are circularizing everybody who is commonly supposed to have a dollar to invest.

One rich man told The Star that he received no less than 13 circulars this week offering stocks and bonds for sale.

Incidentally the securities managers are on the look-out for new deals of their own, and stand ready to merge anything in sight.

A business man who says he is barely making both ends meet received a visit from a securities man last week. Getting out a pencil and jotting down a few figures on a pad the securities man showed the business man how he could capitalize his business at $2,000,000, pull out $200,000 in cash, and earn 5 p.c. on his stock.

As the business lost money last year, the business man says that for a minute or two he thought he had discovered a gold mine.

Little Hope.

Judging from the tenor of several letters received, the Canadians who put their money into that Wyoming asbestos enterprise, which was so freely boomed in these parts, would like to get their money back. They run a pretty slim chance of getting it.

Made Good.

B.C. Packers stock was a long time making good, but it has at last arrived. Back in 1903 the common was floating around the 20 mark, and nobody loved it. Just now it is on a 6 p.c. dividend basis, and quoted around 78.

Will Not Dispose of Gould Mines

The president of the Gould Consolidated Mines takes exception to the rumor circulated by a Toronto brokerage firm that a movement is on foot by one of the producing mines to take over the Gould properties.

Mr. Estes states that the directors would not entertain such a proposal, although one was tentatively offered some time ago. The company, he says, has been fully financed for this year's work, and in view of the satisfactory results at the property, no attention was given to the idea.

PRIVATE CARS GALORE IN GOLD CAMP

Special to The Montreal Star.

Porcupine, November 10. — There have been nearly a dozen private cars in the camp within the past ten days.

Among the capitalists were Captain J. R. De Lamar, of New York; Ambrose Monell, managing director of the Dome; C. H. Denison, president of the Buffalo; W. E. Corey, of New York, late president of United States Steel; E. C. Converse, president of the Bankers' Trust Co.; W. B. Graham, president of the American Canning Co.; E. Allen, general manager of the American Refractories Co.; E. S. Wood, vice-president of the International Nickel Co.; W. J. S. Wilson, the discoverer of the Dome; W. S. Edwards, of the Dome Extension; Captain Lawson, superintendent of the Canadian Copper Co., and E. D. Miles, consulting engineer for the Dome. J. G. Rodgers, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, also took his own party to the camp.

Wednesday night a car left New York, under the auspices of Warren, Gzowski & Co., containing capitalists from Chicago, New York, Rochester and Montreal.

Yukon was 3½ to 3¾.

Standard Oil 625 to 645.

Nipissing was 7½ to 7¾.

Granby was 28 to 30.

Think "Rails" Will Work Up a Little

Speaking of Toronto Railway stock, McCuaig Bros. & Co. say: "While the recent large increase in capital and advance in the dividend rate to 8 per cent. preclude any increased distribution in the near future, in view of the increasing confidence with which the stock is regarded, it may reasonably be expected to work up to a higher level."

COUNTRY CHEESE SALES.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, November 10.—Cheese offerings amounted to 1,340 boxes, of which 600 were colored. The first bid was at 12¾c, but this was advanced to 12¾c, when the major part of the offerings were sold. On the curb about 2500 boxes changed hands at 13½c.

Vankleek Hill, November 10.—800 boxes of cheese were boarded yesterday and sold at 13⅝c.

Kingston, November 10.—65 boxes of white cheese and 549 boxes of colored cheese were boarded. Sales were made at 13¾c. The board will probably adjourn for the season after next Thursday's meeting.

C.P.R. DIRECTORS TO MEET MONDAY

Special to The Montreal Star.

Wall Street, November 10. — The C. P. R. directors meet in Montreal next Monday for action on the quarterly dividend on the common stock.

Local interests do not look for any change in the rate, and they say that they have not received intimations from trustworthy sources that the board will at that time recommend the issue of an additional amount of common stock.

U. S. Steel

The unfilled tonnage of U. S. Steel totalled 3,694,328 tons, on October 31st, against 3,611,217 on September 30th, and 3,695,985 on August 31st. On October 31, 1910, unfilled tonnage was 2,871,945.

CHATS OF CHANGE

Cable advices received by local dairy produce exporters to-day from the principal markets of Great Britain give butter markets its somewhat steadier. The recent decline has improved buyers' interest in the market, and it is thought the downward trend has been checked, as stocks are not burdensome. American renovated continues a dull sale, and is freely offered at 23 to 23½c. Finest grades—Danish, 29 to 30c; Irish, Canadian and Australian, 26½ to 27½c; Siberian, 25 to 26c.

Cheese markets show no improvement, but rule steady, as holders continue to be indifferent sellers. Finest grades of Canadian, 14½ to 15c.

The Forestry Department at Ottawa has received samples of wheat grown 200 miles north of Battleford at Lac La Plonge. Despite the fact that the season was unfavorable, 300 bushels of oats and 100 of barley of good grade were raised.

The Quebec Cheese Makers' Society's statement of the sale of cheese held at the Board of Trade: 658 boxes of finest white, Lovell & Christmas, Ltd., 13 1-16c; 1120 boxes fine white, Hodgson Bros. & Rowson, Ltd., 12 9-16c; 335 boxes No. 2 white, Lovell & Christmas, Ltd., 13 7-16c; 236 boxes fine, colored, G. D. Warrington, 13⅜c.

Mr. Malcolm Caley, of Norwich, England, was introduced on 'Change to-day by Mr. George Hadrill.

Grain Growers' Issue New Estimate on Crops.

Winnipeg, November 10. — Secretary Fowler, of the Grain Growers' Association, has issued the following report on the grain situation in the West:

Wheat—9,800,000 acres, at 18.2 bushels per acre; total, 178,246,000 bushels. Oats —4,500,000 acres, at 41.6 bushels per acre; total, 187,335,000 bushels. Barley—1,125,000 acres, at 29.5 bushels per acre; total, 33,187,000 bushels. Flax—638,000 bushels, at 8.5 bushels per acre; total, 5,425,000 bushels.

Wheat situation, November 7, 1911:—Wheat inspected, 40,660,000 bushels; wheat in transit, not inspected, 3,745,000; in store country points, 17,500,000; for use in country mills, 6,000,000. Wheat for seed and feed 24,000,000; total, 91,905,000. Wheat in farmers' hands to market, 86,255,000. Oats inspected November 7, 7,489,800 bushels; barley, 2,088,000; flax, 667,000. Wheat, No. 4 and under, 60 p.c.

POULTRY PRICES EASIER.

Dressed poultry prices are easy under a small demand. Receipts are gradually increasing.

A fair volume of business was done in dressed poultry to-day.

Turkey, 18 to 20c lb.; chickens, 13 to 16c; fowls, 10 to 12c; ducks, 15 to 17c; geese, 13 to 14c.

POTATO TRADE ACTIVE.

Potatoes continue in good demand in a jobbing way, with sales of Green Mountains at $1.20, and other varieties at $1.10 to $1.15 per bag, ex-store. In car lots Green Mountains are quoted at $1.05, and other stock at 95c to $1 per bag, ex-track.

PARIS HEAVY.

Paris, November 10.—A heavy tone prevailed on the Bourse to-day. Rio Tinto shares were firm exceptions.

SEVERE COLD PUTS A STOP TO PLOWING

The cold wave which entered Northern Alberta Wednesday night worked its way east into Manitoba last evening, and the thermometer, which had been standing around freezing point, dropped within twelve hours to ten below zero. This early closing down of winter definitely puts an end to remaining hopes of a week or ten days' mild weather, in which some fall ploughing might be done. Owing to the continued wet spell and early frosts, together with delayed threshing, a good deal less land than usual has been made ready by Manitoba farmers for spring ploughing, and the effect is likely to manifest itself next season in decreased acreage seeded to the prime cereal.

Conditions are even less propitious in Saskatchewan and Alberta, where in some districts not fifty per cent of the grain had been threshed, and very few can report threshing completed. Some farmers propose continuing threshing so soon as the weather becomes settled, but threshing from the stock with snow on the ground is a doubtful expedient. Those farmers with grain in the stack can wait with some complacency until spring. Heavy storms of the past forty-eight hours have delayed traffic, and in some districts telephone and telegraph communication has been interrupted.

Prices up to 1.30 p.m.:

Dec.	38⅞	38⅞	38½	38½
May	41½	41½	41⅛	41⅜

Receipts to-day were: No. 1 northern, 30; No. 2, 120; No. 3, 240; No. 4, 144; No. 5, 102; No. 6, 125; other grades, 155; winter, 10; total, 926. Last year, 396; Oats, 79; barley, 34; flax, 54.

CHEESE IN GOOD DEMAND.

Receipts of cheese to-day were 6360 boxes, as compared with 12,631 for the corresponding date a year ago.

The market is steady, with a fair volume of business passing over the cable. Finest westerns are quoted at 14 to 14½c, and easterns at 13¾ to 14c.

BUTTER MARKET FIRM.

Receipts of butter to-day were 1570 packages, against 984 for the same date a year ago. The demand for butter from both local and outside buyers is good, and prices are well maintained, with sales of choicest Townships creamery at 27 to 27½c, and seconds at 26 to 26½c.

LOCAL GRAIN RECEIPTS.

Local grain receipts: Wheat—G. T. R., 38,730; boat, 72,418. Corn—G. T. R., 100. Oats—G. T. R., 6,074. Barley—G. T. R., 5,899. Hay—G. T. R., 798; C. P. R, 2,965. Straw—G.T.R., 98. Flour, sacks—G. T. R., 5,058; C. P. R., 7,210. Meal, sacks—C. P. R., 2,000.

BIG DEMAND FOR HAY.

Hay is in good demand on export account, and prices are strong.

No. 1 hay, $15 to $16; No. 2 extra good, $13 to $14; No. 2 ordinary, $12.50 to $13; No. 3 hay, $10 to $10.50; clover, mixed, $9 to $9.50.

WHEAT AT CHICAGO HAD 1 1-2c DECLINE

Chicago, November 10.—There was little to encourage the followers of wheat, and when scattered longs as well as "hedgers" attempted to throw some wheat into the pit, there was little buying power. Those holding selling orders were obliged to meet the views of the bears, and the latter were inclined to drive prices to a sharply lower level. When the rank and file of the professionals left the Board of Trade last night, the market was pretty well evened up, with the exception of the real big men in the trade, who have been in control of wheat for some time. There were losses in all of the wheat markets of Europe, ¾d to ⅞c in Liverpool and as much as 1d for spot; ⅞c at Budapest, ½c at Berlin, 1¼c at Antwerp, and unchanged to ¼c lower at Paris. Liverpool reported increased Argentine offerings, probably on the excellent weather in that country, coupled with the change to favorable conditions in Australia.

The world's shipments for the week will be larger, with those from Argentina, Australia and India for the week 2,155,000 bushels, compared with 2,488,000 for the week before and 2,176,000 a year ago. Russia was offering wheat more freely.

A private cable received at Minneapolis reports the crop conditions in Argentina as ideal, and a big yield assured, much in excess of last year. The Argentine visible is now 1,032,000 bushels.

North-Western wheat stocks increased 2,265,000 bushels for the week, compared with an increase of 585,000 a year ago. North-western receipts to-day were 782 cars compared with 322 a year ago.

December wheat sold from 94c off to 92⅞, and May at $1.00½ to 99½c, compared with closings yesterday of 94⅝c and $1.00½, respectively.

J. F. PRITCHARD.

OATS PRICES STRONGER.

Oat prices are strong owing to the strength displayed in the west, and sellers of extra No. 1 feed oats are asking 46 to 46¼ per bushel afloat to arrive, but buyers are slow to purchase.

There is some demand on spot for American corn, and sales of round lots of No. 2 mixed were made to arrive, and car lots of No. 2 yellow at 81¾ to 82c per bushel, ex-store.

Oats, No. 2 Canadian western, 48 to 48½c; extra No. 1 feed oats, 47½ to 48c; oats, No. 3 Canadian western, 47 to 47½c; oats, No. 2 local, 46½ to 47c; oats, No. 3 local, 46 to 46½c; oats, No. 4 local, 45½ to 46c.

James Carruthers & Co. received a cable from Liverpool to-day, which said:

"Rosario cables that crop prospects are most satisfactory, and a big crop promised. No lost acreage this year, whereas there was extensive loss last year. Condition of standing crops this year much improved."

To-day's Closing Prices

"SHAW" SOLD OVER 124 THEN FELL TO 122

The circus rise in Power this morning was followed this afternoon by an equally exciting jump in Shawinigan which reached 124 1-4 after opening this morning at 121.

The move in the two stocks very naturally led to a variety of rumors involving the two concerns but there is nothing of a definite character.

The two companies are very closely related and many doubt if there will be a deal between them.

After its sudden leap the stock fell to 122.

Some other stocks were fractionally easier the feeling being that the market is travelling at a pretty swift clip to make it altogether healthy.

Power held around 184 1-2 pretty much all overnoon.

R. & O. was inclined to be easy.

Steel sold up to 59 1-2.

C. P. R. GAIN IS $226,000.

C. P. R. earnings last week showed an increase of $226,000.

A SPURT IN DOM. STEEL.

Just at the close, Dominion Steel took a spurt and closed at 59 1-2 bid, 60 asked.

MYSTERIOUS MAN REMAINS SILENT IN COURT AND CELL

"John Smith" Makes No Answer to Many Questions and Puzzles Authorities.

Both police and hospital authorities have been puzzed by the unusual behavior of a young man, who since being taken in charge by the police authorities yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, has not uttered a word. Standing against one of the pillars on the third floor of the City Hall from noon until 2 p.m. yesterday, after being requested several times to move, he attracted the attention of the police by his utter disregard of the orders to vacate the premises. He was taken in hand by Constable Bacon, asked his name, address, age and other questions. He looked at the officer in a stupid way, but said nothing. He walked with a fairly steady step down the three flights of stairs and to all queries, whether addressed to him in English, French, German, Yiddish or Italian he replied nothing.

Lieutenant Morin directed him to be transferred to the Notre Dame Hospital and in the company of Constable Bacon he walked to the institution with a firm step.

After a thorough examination, however the Hospital staff decided that there was nothing physically wrong with the man and at nine o'clock last night he was sent back to the Central station. He had been in the Hospital five hours and had not uttered a word.

And yet he has said nothing. The only feature about the man is the eyes. They shine with a brilliancy that is almost uncanny and when he was being asked questions by either the police of the medical men, he would gaze at them with a fixed stare but not a single muscle in his face would move.

The man is stylishly dressed in light overcoat, dark grey suit, black derby. He has light hair and complexion, and blue eyes.

He was taken to jail this morning where he will be examined for his sanity.

BONAR LAW THE OFFICIAL LEADER

London, November 10.—The report that Mr. Law would be chosen leader of the Unionists was given official confirmation later in the evening. The other candidates for the position withdrew in his favor to assure unity of the party.

C. N. R. STATION PROPERTY NOT YET ALL TRANSFERRED

Mr. T. G. Holt Representing C. N.R. and Sir William Will Be Here in Day or Two.

The purchasing scheme for the site for the Canadian Northern terminals did not get cleaned up so well last night as to permit of an official announcement of the whole scheme being made as had been hoped.

Sir William Mackenzie, who had announced his intention personally, to confer with the representatives who have been acting on his behalf, was at the last moment detained in Toronto, and as he has some urgent matters to attend to also in Ottawa, it is possible that the whole matter will go over the week end.

Meanwhile, the agents are paying out the money for property they have had under option, and Mr. Thomas G. Holt, executive officer for the Canadian Northern is here acting as Sir William Mackezie's representative. Mr. T. G. Holt, by the way, is a brother of Mr. H. S. Holt, president of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co.

In railway circles, there is a disposition to congratulate the Canadian Northern Railway on the selection of so splendidly-central a site as is afforded by the Joseph estate and adjacent property on Dorchester street, together with the property to the rear runnning down to the low level.

As regards property on the north side of Dorchester street, running back to Cathcart, there are, as was indicated yesterday, several matters to be straightened out, consequent on the speculative element having entered into the bargaining.

There are one or two other developments in the scheme which are brewing, and which will probably cause some surprise if certain negotiations now going on are successful.

WANT MR. T. A. TRENHOLME.

He is Asked to be a Candidate for Municipal Honors.

Mr. T. A. Trenholme, ex-mayor of Notre Dame de Grace, has been asked by a large number of ratepayer in that ward, to come forward as a candidate for the City Council against Alderman George H. Marcil.

A deputation of half a hundred proprietors waited on Mr. Trenholme at his residence last night, and presented him with a petition signed by over five hundred voters asking him to stand for election in February next. Mr. Trenholme thanked the delegation for the honor they did him in asking that he should be their representative and promised to give his answer sometime during next week.

Women's Club Luncheon.

The Women's Canadian Club, of Montreal had a formal luncheon to-day that will go on record as one of the most enjoyable of the long list of functions that they have had since their organization was completed a few years ago. The luncheon took place in the Assembly Hall of the Royal Victoria College, and the speaker of the day was Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, I.L.D. Mr. Lemieux addressed the ladies on "Glimpses of South Africa," and throughout his speech he was rewarded with frequent applause from the many ladies present.

Clean Within!

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Purify the Blood and Prolong Life

Vigorous health at 70 due to Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

If as much intelligent care were given to keeping the body clean and pure within as well as without we would see more healthy, vigorous old men and women. The daily bath does its part by keeping the pores of the skin open so that they throw off much of the body's impurities, but it is even more important that the bowels and kidneys should be kept regular and active.

If the bowels fail, as they often do late in life, to move regularly at least once a day, the waste matter from the food accumulates, decays, poisons the system and upsets the stomach.

If the kidneys are sluggish the impurities which they should filter from the blood remain and cause rheumatism.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills regulate the bowels, stimulate the kidneys and open up the pores of the skin. The result is a body clean within—pure, red blood—good digestion—and a hale and hearty old age.

Three generations have proved the value of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, and their sale is steadily increasing all over the world.

By Appointment Furriers To H.M. King George V.

Original Styles are Featured in Sets of Russian Ermine

¶ The work of designing and making up such delicate furs as Russian Ermine is entrusted only to our most experienced furriers. Their skilful work, combined with the great advantage of a very large number of skins to choose from, results in a diversity of styles that ensures to every woman something distinctive and individually becoming.

¶ The very long and wide shawl of Russian ermine shown here is made with a novel border effect, while entire skins are used to produce stripes that run both up and down and across. The border is trimmed with tails, and a fringe of tails are placed across below fastening point, and on the ends. This stole is exquisitely finished, and made from very fine quality fur. PRESIDENT TAFT HAS DEMAND FROM NORWAY-SWEDEN

Claim Favored Nation Treatment in Pulp and Print Paper Importation.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Washington, November 10. — The Governments of Norway and Sweden have formally asked the United States Government to extend to shippers from those countries the free importation of pulp and print paper now granted to Canada under Section 2 of the Act of July 26, 1911 (the reciprocity law.) This section, which became immediately as a law, when signed by President Taft, did not require Canadian concurrence.

The request of Norway and Sweden was made under the favored nation treaties of those countries with the United States, which set forth that each party shall be entitled to any particular favor in commerce or navigation granted to any other nation.

A QUEBEC ROMANCE OF 1837.

The Heroine's Family Now Seek a Fortune of Millions.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, November 10.—The members of the Beausoleil family in this neighborhood are seeking information of one Marie dit Beausoleil, who is reported to have become enamored of an English officer in 1837, and to have left Canada with him for England soon after the Rebellion. The officer, who was very wealthy and saw much service abroad, was killed in Afghanistan, where he held the rank of General. His widow retired to Paris, where she lived quietly and so added materially to her fortune, leaving at her death, it is said, many millions of dollars. The members of the Beausoleil family are seeking to unite, with the aim of recovering the estate.

WELLAND TO WINDSOR UNDER THREE HOURS.

New Record Made by Michigan Central Train.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Thomas, Ont., November 10.—A special four-coach Michigan Central train from Buffalo to Detroit carrying President W. G. Brown, and Vice-President Sharpe, of the New York Central lines, broke all previous records yesterday, the train covered the hundred miles from Welland to St. Thomas in 85 minutes, and the 111 miles between St. Thomas and Windsor in 91 minutes.

British Vice-Consul in Trouble.

Portland, Me., November 10.—The strike of the Portland 'longshoremen assumed an international aspect last night when resolutions were passed by the 'longshoremen's society charging that British Vice-Consul John B. Keating is promoting the organization of a rival society for the purpose of breaking the strike. The resolution says that the "Society resents the interference on the part of a vice-consul officer of the Kingdom of Great Britain," and proposes that his "conduct" be called to the attention of the State Department and the British Ambassador.

GUESTS OF CITY.

Lieut.-Governor and Lady Langelier Given Civic Reception.

Sir Francois Langelier, the new Lieutenant-Governor of the province, was with Lady Langelier, tendered a civic reception at the City Hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon. To-night they will attend the opera, and on Saturday morning they will visit the Hotel Dieu, leaving at one o'clock in the afternoon for Quebec.

Yesterday they visited the Villa Maria and the Hochelaga Convents, while last evening they were the guests of honor at a private dinner given by Mayor Guerin.

DAMAGED IN STORM.

Hurona Weathered Stiff Gale on the Atlantic.

With a portion of her fittings damaged, the SS. Hurona anchored at her dock Wednesday, bringing tales of fierce hurricanes and head seas.

"Of my long experience on the Atlantic, the present trip was the roughest I have experienced for a great many years," said Captain Lindsay to a Star representative this morning. "We only made 44 miles on one day, that was in the 24 hours of October 31st and November 1st. A hurricane blew and a very rough sea prevailed, but the vessel weathered the storm remarkably well."

While 80 miles out from Belle Isle the vessel passed between two huge ice bergs.

The cargo included 3,500 tons of iron and bricks from Middlesborough. Most of this is consigned for Montreal, and is to be used in the city's building operations.

Good Values in Ladies' Fur Coats

These Coats are known as Hudson Seal, made of selected skins, and only an expert can distinguish them from genuine seal.

They are made up and finished just as stylishly as the most expensive seal coat, and we guarantee their wearing qualities.

Can be had either in three-quarter or full length, and are sold from $150 to $225.

We also have Near Seal Coats in the same styles as the above, at $50 to $100.

Goodwins' Grand Saturday Sale of Winter Coats for Ladies, Misses and Children.

IF YOU CAN MAKE USE OF A COAT IN ANY WAY READ EVERY WORD OF THIS NEWS.

Every Lady in Montreal Should Have One of These Splendid Coats at the Very Exceptional Price of $10.75

THE REAL VALUES OF GARMENTS TO BE SOLD TO-MORROW ARE $15, $17.50, $20, $22.50 AND $25
SUCH A WINTER COAT OPPORTUNITY DOESN'T COME EVERY DAY.

We planned this great sale some time ago. We have made very careful preparation for it. These preparations included charging our customers the very smallest amount possible for each coat. That amount has been fixed at $10.75. Some of the coats as high as $25 in value, none less than $15.00.

We bought the cloth direct from the mills, where it is manufactured. The same with the buttons and trimmings. Then we selected ten of our latest high grade New York models for a renowned manufacturer to copy. This has been successfully done.

The result is we give you to-morrow for $10.75, a suitable coat for motoring, travelling, street wear or any other outdoor use.

350 UTILITY COATS. Regular $15.00, $17.50, $20.00, $22.50 and $25.00, for..... $10.75

They are made of Imported All Wool Tweeds, Irish Frieze, Melton and German Beaver, in colors of Black, Navy, Grey, Tan and soft mixtures of Green.

All sizes for the Junior Girls of 13, 15 and 17 years. Misses of 14, 16 and 18 years. Small Women of 32, 34 and 36 bust. Regular size of 34 to 44 bust, also for the stouter figures of 45, 47 and 49 bust.

Extra sales people will be here to await on you, and extra floor space in our Cloak and Suit Department will be devoted to this event on the First Floor Up.

All Girls Who Would Look Smart and Well Dressed May Secure a Splendid Coat To-morrow for $3.98

THEY ARE THE KIND OF GARMENTS FOR WHICH $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $9.00 AND $10.00 ARE PAID.
NOTHING BETTER FOR GIRLS 6 TO 14 YEARS, HAS BEEN SEEN THIS SEASON.

The girls are of just as much interest to us in our Cloak and Suit Department as their elders. They have their own section of the store here, and to-morrow will participate in just as great savings as the grown up ladies. The younger people want colors which will please them, so we have provided them with coats in the very shades they like.

When you can get $5.00 to $10.00 mannish cut coats for the meagre amount of $3.98, Saturday should not be allowed to slip by without one.

The girls who like single breasted coats will have a splendid selection. The same with those who prefer double breasted. Some with velvet collar, others with Capuchon, but all grand for the growing girl.

250 MANNISH COLLEGE GIRLS' COATS, for Fall and Winter, designed specially on mannish smart lines, chiefly made of Homespun, Blanket Cloth and All Wool Cheviot, in single or double breasted style, with self material or velvet collar, some with Capuchon, also interlined throughout with a splendid English check tweed. Colors Navy, Red, Brown, Fawn, Tan, Green, Oxford, Light Grey. Sizes 6 to 14 years. Regular $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $9.00 and $10.00. Saturday..... $3.98

Velvet or Felt Ready To Wear HATS

Trimmed with Fancy Mounts at Goodwins on Saturday

$1.79.

Having had a great many of these smart Ready-to-Wear Hats made we sold them at $2.50 to $6.50. There was not what you would call a poor one in the lot. The fancy mounts, with which they are trimmed, would in themselves be bought for as much we are asking for the whole hat to-morrow—$1.79.

One can easily see that since there are not quite one hundred of them, they will probably be picked up by the ladies who will be here when the store opens. Hats of the $2.50 value, to say nothing of the $6.50 quality, don't wait long for purchasers at Goodwins.

95 smart Ready-to-Wear Hats at $1.79 each. Some are velvet and some are felt, prettily trimmed with fancy mounts. Colors Black, Navy, Red, Green and Brown. Reg. $2.50 to $6.50, Saturday . . . $1.79

Men's Winter and Waterproof OVERCOATS.

The winter overcoats are of that good wearing and warm tweed that was made in England and Scotland, but for those who don't prefer these tweeds there are the beavers and the Meltons. In such winters as we have in Canada, it doesn't pay to be careless in the matter of overcoats. We know just what these $15.00 overcoats are, for instance, and every one that is bought here means more sales in the future. When you have a moment to spare, come in and see these coats and try one on.

The men's untearable tweed pants at $1.95, and boys' blue reefers at $2.95, you will find side by side with the overcoats.
