Tito Goes To Moscow For Another Round Of Table Diplomacy

Belgrade — (AP) — President Tito has accepted an invitation to visit Moscow, returning the recent Khrushchev-Bulgarian visit to Yugoslavia.

This announcement was made yesterday by the semi-official Yugo-press, immediately after Yugoslavia and the western Big Three had pledged "continued co-operation." Ambassadors of Britain, the United States and France have been meeting with Yugoslavia's acting foreign minister, Srdjan Prica.

The invitation to Tito was extended June 2 at the conclusion of the visit here by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Soviet Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

It will be Tito's first visit to Moscow since the Russian-dominated coalition ousted his Communist party in 1948 for "nationalist tendencies." Since Stalin's death, Russia has been trying to restore normal relations with Yugoslavia.

Tito is expected to arrive in July from India's Prime Minister Nehru, himself returning from a visit to Moscow. It is not likely that the Yugoslav leader will go to Russia until after that visit. It will probably be even later, since Bulganin is to be in Geneva for the Big Four summit meeting July 18.

A joint communique on the Yugoslav-Big Three talks paid special tribute to "the fruitful co-operation being developed in all fields in the Balkan Alliance" as "an important contribution to peace and stability in this part of the world."

The alliance is generally regarded as NATO's bridge to Yugoslavia, since it includes Greece and Turkey, both NATO members, as well as Yugoslavia.

The communique expressed what it called a firm conviction of the four countries "that the existence of a strong and independent Yugoslavia and continued co-operation between them (the four countries) under conditions of full equality are a contribution to peace and stability."

It is understood that the main topics included Germany, disarmament, and the forthcoming summit meeting of the Big Four.

"The Lost One" Gets Third Tow Toward Atlantic

Riviere du Loup, Que. — (P) — An eight-ton raft, carrying four men who hope to drift across the north Atlantic, was being towed slowly down the St. Lawrence river Monday night.

It left this port town at 10 a.m. headed for Rimouski, 65 miles east of here. When it arrives, it will be the fourth stop for the raft, named L'Egare (The Lost One), since it was towed out of Montreal two weeks ago.

Skipper Henri Beaudout, 28, and his crew — Paul Lapointe, 24, Bernard Sauriel, 24, and Gaston Vanacker, 28 — made stops at Trois-Rivieres, Quebec and here to arrange for tows toward the ocean.

Once in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, they plan to use only an 18-foot sail to assist them along the Gulf stream to Europe.

Fellowship To Massey

London. — (P) — Governor-General Vincent Massey is to be elected an honorary fellow of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists.

It is understood the award is in recognition of Massey's achievements as an educationist, in the widest sense.

The governor-general now is in Britain on a six-week visit. At the ceremony of election July 22, he is to be introduced by Donald Fraser, formerly of Hatfield Point, N.B. and now at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London. Presiding will be A. A. Gemmell, president of the society.

The society was founded in 1829. The Queen and the Queen Mother are other honorary members.

US Steel Walkout Foreseen

Pittsburgh. — (P) — A country-wide steel strike at midnight Thursday hung in the balance today as top negotiators of U.S. Steel and the United Steelworkers (CIO) gathered for a negotiating session.

A strike already has been authorized unless U.S. Steel and the companies which usually follow the world's largest producer can come up with a wage increase acceptable to the union.

U.S. Steel, which employs about 150,000 of the 600,000 U.S. members in the basic United States steel industry, has offered a wage increase of about 10 cents an hour.

"Entirely inadequate," is the answer of the union headed by David J. McDonald.

Among other things, McDonald says, the steel industry is booming and can well afford a "substantial" pay raise for his men who now average $2.33 an hour.

"There is still time for a peaceful wage settlement," McDonald said.

John A. Stephens, U.S. Steel vice-president and chief negotiator, said that he, too, is hopeful of avoiding a strike. But Stephens added that his corporation "still believes its wage offer of last Thursday is 'substantial'" and will prove the basis of settlement.

In Washington some government officials expressed concern over the situation. One official said:

"We are pessimistic about a strike being prevented."

Some companies began talking with union officials about an orderly shutdown. Closing a steel mill is costly procedure which must be carried out quickly to avoid damage to machinery.

In a rather surprising development, McDonald indicated that in the event of a strike the union might shutdown some of the larger companies but leave others in operation.

"Energetic And Provocative"

Stratford First Night Success

Stratford, Ont. — (P) — A distinguished first-night audience saw an "energetic and provocative" performance of "Julius Caesar" as the Stratford Shakespearean festival rolled majestically into its third season last night.

Critical opinion was that this was a difficult play to produce but after the first intermission the production scene had brightened, particularly in director Michael Langham's handling of the conspiratorial scene.

Herbert Whitaker of the Toronto Globe and Mail said: "The sun of this production shone forth as Caesar's sun set. The circle of Stratford's tent-theatre and the centre of its being, Tanya Moiseiwitsch's witching stage, became transformed truly into the Roman forum."

Tonight's production, "Oedipus Rex," is a repeat of a last year's presentation with British actor Douglas Campbell in the title role in place of Hollywood's James Mason. Wednesday, what has been rumored as a fanciful and colorful production of "The Merchant of Venice" will open.

The drama critic of Variety said of Monday night's "Julius Caesar" that "the dagger-wielding solons were all outstanding in their respective roles, with only Lloyd Beecher too high-pitched and often inaudible."

What A Break! — These two very young Sherbrooke citizens have found the perfect way to beat the heat — ice, ice, and more ice. And with a high of 88 degrees forecast for today in Sherbrooke, they'll probably stay right on that icy perch where they were found this morning, eating ice cream and rejoicing in the knowledge that they are, without a doubt, the coolest citizens in Sherbrooke. Commie Jets In Skirmish Claim Russian Pilots Attack Two Planes Taipei, Formosa. — (P) — Communist MIG jet fighters shot down a Nationalist jet trainer Monday and attacked an unarmed amphibious commercial plane in a flareup of warfare over the Formosa strait.

Red Rowers Lose Shells To Strike

London. — (AP) — Striking dockers today refused to unload Soviet rowing shells from a Russian ship.

It now looks as though the visiting Red athletes will have to row in borrowed boats in the Henley royal regatta starting Wednesday.

An effort was made at a meeting of the striking stevedores to raise the issue of unloading the boats from the Soviet vessel Strela lying at Gravesend docks.

"I have a message from the Russian embassy," announced R. W. Green, chairman of a local branch of the striking National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union at a mass meeting.

"We don't want to hear it," several in the crowd shouted. "I take it," said Green, "that you don't want to hear anything about the Russian boats."

"No," replied several strikers and Green moved on to other business.

The Soviet oarsmen didn't know until they got here four days ago that dockers had been on strike for six weeks seeking recognition on negotiating councils operating the state-run waterfront.

"This is deadly serious," team manager Vladimir Kauchenko said when he originally looked over the situation.

headquarters said today intercepted intercom conversations between the MIGs indicated the pilots were Russians. The air force asserted also that fluent Russian was overheard in the directions from the ground to the attacking MIGs.

"The Chinese Communist air force is controlled by the Russians," the Nationalists said.

The defence ministry assailed the incidents as "unprovoked attacks by Communist jets on unarmed Chinese aircraft over international waters."

It said the pilot was killed in the crash of his flaming jet when it plunged into the sea north of the Matsus. The other trainer escaped.

Peiping radio, in a Chinese language broadcast heard in Tokyo, reported Chinese fighter planes shot down one Nationalist plane and damaged two "over the southeast China coast."

Peiping charged two F-84 jets "carrying out a harassing raid" were intercepted and a 15-minute "battle" ensued. It said one was shot down and the other hit. The third plane was described as a "PBY type plane" but said it was from "Chiang Kai-shek's air force."

The ministry reported a two-engine PBY Catalina amphibian owned by the Foshing Air Lines was attacked by two MIGs about 12.30 p.m. while bound for Matsui. Aboard were four Chinese crew members and Lieut. John J. Goodrich, 26, Rayne, La., medical corp member of the U.S. military assistance advisory group.

The attack occurred off Tung-chuan, 11 miles south of Matsui and about 14 miles off the mainland. The pilot, Chen Kru-min, 43, said the Red-starred jets made four firing passes, hitting the Catalina on the first one.

The pilot landed near the island, checked the plane, waited for dark and returned to Taipei's pinehill airport Monday night.

He said no one aboard was hurt, contrary to earlier reports by the airline that the American officer was wounded slightly. The Catalina took bullet holes in the left wing and float and a spar was damaged.

Woman Is Fined, Ordered To Repay Full Theft Amount

Alma Bernier, a 62-year-old Sherbrooke Post Office employee has been fined $1,000 and given suspended sentence after pleading guilty to a theft of $8,000 from the Post Office.

The theft was said to have occurred over a period of several years.

Miss Bernier, a postal employee of 15-years standing, was in charge of No. 4 Sub Post Office on Wellington St., south. The shortage was discovered about six months ago, but it was a mere three weeks ago that she appeared in the private chamber of Judge Joseph Marier.

She pleaded guilty to the charge which was laid under Post Office Regulations. No public announcement was made of the charge nor of the disposition of the case.

Miss Bernier was given four months to repay the money that was stolen, plus the $1,000 fine.

There was no immediate explanation of the cloak of secrecy that prevailed. Clerk of the Court Jean-Marie Gregoire declined any comment today. Any official information would have to come from Judge Marier, he said.

Miss Bernier was in charge of a station that was located first in Darche's dry goods store. It moved to Hodge Auto Parts and is now located in Denis Rene Office Equipment store.

RAF Jet Claims New Mark

West Malling, Kent, England. — (AP) — The RAF claimed the first jet record for the 3,330 miles between Ottawa and London today. Jets made the flights before, but never under conditions meeting international record requirements.

The British bid was made by the RAF twin-engine Canberra bomber which last week hopped over the Arctic from Norway to Alaska in a test of long-range navigational techniques under polar conditions.

It arrived early this morning at West Malling airport, 20 miles east of London, six hours and 48 minutes after its takeoff Monday from Uplands airport, outside the Canadian capital.

The air ministry said it would submit a time of six hours, 42 minutes, 12 seconds—from the centre of Ottawa to the centre of London—to international aviation authorities. A ministry spokesman said the plane averaged 496.8 miles an hour for the flight.

The Canberra landed with only enough fuel for five minutes more flying.

Crash Lands; Walks Away

Quebec. — (P) — A light aircraft, short of fuel, crash-landed Monday night in a farmer's field within the city limits but the American pilot escaped uninjured.

Pilot Dean Brandon of Central Point, Ore., set down the Tiger Moth biplane behind St. Vincent de Paul Orphanage about 100 yards from a main thoroughfare. It ran about 30 feet then flipped over on its back.

The plane was one of six aircraft headed for Ancienne Lorette airport near here after spraying DDT over the Gaspé forests to halt the spread of budworms.

Lake Ship Still Aground

Montreal. — (P) — Another effort to free the lakes freighter Lawrencoc from a reef in near-by Lake St. Louis will be made today after part of the ship's cargo is unloaded.

The 3,000-ton vessel ran aground Friday and attempts by tugs to free her have failed.

Amicable Scene — U.S. Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, right, and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov are shown together previous to Molotov's departure from the observation of the 10th anniversary of the United Nations at San Francisco. Molotov and his traveling party yesterday drew boos from spectators in Chicago, a stop-off on their way home. An estimated 700 persons gathered to catch a glimpse of the Communists, but no city officials were on hand to greet them. They had an escort of several uniformed policemen and about a dozen plain-clothes detectives. (NEA Telephoto)

Eden Cabinet To Contain Young Blood

London. — (Reuters) — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden plans to infuse more young blood into his cabinet in a major autumn shakeup, political sources said Monday night.

Eden is carefully studying the performance not only of his present ministerial team but also of promising younger members of his party in Parliament.

When Eden took over from Sir Winston Churchill April 6, he carried out only a minor government reconstruction.

Senior changes were confined mainly to those made necessary by his vacating the job of foreign secretary. To fill it, Eden chose Harold Macmillan, 61, formerly minister of defence, and moved Selwyn Lloyd from the ministry of supply to take over defence.

But even in his limited shuffle Eden succeeded in reducing the average cabinet age of 58½ by nearly three years. When he next reforms the government, informants said, he will underline this policy of giving youth its chance.

On Capital Hill

Upper House Given Variety Of Labels

Ottawa. — (P) — The Senate has been described by various sectors of the Commons as a haven for political ward-healers, an undemocratic body that should be abolished and a group of men now doing better work than ever before.

The opinions were expressed Monday by, respectively, a Progressive Conservative, a CCF member and a Liberal during debate on a Conservative motion demanding government reform of the upper chamber.

The Liberal, Rev. Dan Melvor, Fort William, was the only member of his party to enter the 3½-hour debate.

But Prime Minister St. Laurent intervened during a speech by John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert) who said both the late Liberal Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Mr. St. Laurent showed disregard for the Senate.

Mr. St. Laurent interjected that he has asked for no commitments from any of the 37 senators he has appointed since 1948.

The Commons reached no decision on the motion by Hon. Earl Rowe (PC—Dufferin—Simcoe) stating the government should take steps to change the 102-seat Senate so it can "more effectively discharge the constitutional function it was intended to serve."

Lambaste Seaway

Ottawa. — (P) — The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority Monday was accused of "callous disregard" of communities and areas affected by the project.

William Hamilton (PC—Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace) made the charge in the Commons during committee study of a bill permitting the authority to expropriate Indian lands near Cornwall, Ont., and Montreal.

Mr. Hamilton said the House should be "doubly careful" about giving authority to expropriate lands from people not in the same position as others to protect their own interests.

The bill later was passed by the Commons and sent to the Senate for approval.

Mr. Hamilton said that the expropriation power is a "cozy little arrangement." He feared it would leave the Indians "very much out in the cold."

Lands along the seaway route had skyrocketed in value, particularly in the area from Sorel west along the St. Lawrence to the Montreal area. Farms there now were practically "gold-plated."

The minister's passing reference to his wife came during clause study of a bill designed to change the administration of the parliamentary library.

The bill, given final approval, will establish a single head of the library, with an associate librarian, instead of the present joint direction by a parliamentary librarian and a general librarian.

The Commons Monday passed a bill enabling the government to guarantee bank and credit union loans to fishermen up to $4,000.

The legislation was given quick and final approval after the government, acting on the recommendation of the Commons banking committee, amended it to permit credit unions as well as banks to make the loans to fishermen.

David Cargill Is Ordained Deacon At Concord, N.H.

Derby Line — David Cargill, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Cargill, of Derby Line, well known at the Boundary Villages and in parts of the Townships, was ordained as a deacon of the Episcopal church at an impressive ceremony held at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Concord, N. H. The ceremony was celebrated by the Bishop of New Hampshire, when three young men were ordained to the deaconate and one to the priesthood.

Mr. Cargill is a graduate of Derby Academy, Boston University and Bentley Hall Divinity which he graduated on June 13. In December of this year he will be ordained to the priesthood.

Rev. and Mrs. Cargill, the former Francis Barr, of Sylvan, N. C., and their infant daughter, Laurel Ann, will reside in Concord, where he will serve as curate at St. Paul's church, of which he is a member.

Masks For Hollywood

We suggest that Hollywood go Greek, — and stay that way.

One of the plays to be performed at the Shakespearean Festival at Stratford, Ontario this week will be the Greek tragedy of Sophocles, "Oedipus Rex" — a veritable thundercloud of drama, egad!

There will be costumes, and gestures, and eloquent speeches. There will be depths of agony never before dreamed of; there will be heights of histrionic fervor reached such as have seldom been reached this side of the ocean. But most of all, there will be masks.

Now masks are an inherent part of all Greek drama. It is curious that some of the Greek that has come out of Hollywood has never utilized them. But now, we suggest, is the time.

Put a mask on the leading man; put another on the leading lady, and put them on every member of the supporting cast, from the talking mule to the curvaceous cigarette girl.

The early Greeks knew a lot about audience reaction; they knew that not even the togad teen-agers of the Homeric Period wanted to waste time trying to figure out what actor was playing what part. So the hero always wore one type of mask, whether it was a B grade comedy from Aristophanes, or an A grade tragedy from Aeschylus. And the villain always wore a certain type of mask, and the heroine and the buffoon, too.

This is the ultimate in efficiency, and Hollywood had better clamber aboard the bandwagon. Masks would solve casting problems, for with a good wardrobe of false faces, any passable actor can play any part at all, and his talents need not be stifled in "type roles."

As for the audience, surely we would like to know that a character is supposed to be funny, whether he acts like it or not. Surely we would like to know ahead of time when to take out our handkerchiefs, and even if the character sounds rather funny, when to use them.

Surely, too, we could be spared the agony of the poker-faced leading man spitting his words like machine-gun bullets out of the corner of his mouth. He might as well have a mask. Why not give him one?

The Height Of Something Or Other

One of the oldest customs of the North American education system appears doomed to the limbo of forgotten things — if the Board of Education of London, Ont., can induce other school administrators in Canada and the United States to follow their lead. This august body has ruled that in the future no child may bring a gift for the teacher, whether the offering be an apple, flowers or a handkerchief.

In so ruling, the London board is striking at one of the greatest qualities of the human race, that of the inclination towards generosity. The educators have decided that for a child to offer a gift to a teacher smacks of a desire to obtain favors of some sort or another. But it is difficult to conceive that a youngster who gathers a handful of wild flowers on his way to school, or brings an apple from the family orchard, or the girl who hand-decorates perhaps crudely, a kerchief for presentation to the teacher is seeking to gain some personal preference.

Rather they are displaying a characteristic that has become all-too-lacking in the world today, especially among the supposedly adult section of the population — that of doing something for somebody else, of displaying good wishes for the feeling of self-satisfaction which good deeds bring.

Certainly to tell a child that he or she should not present some bauble to the teacher because it smacks of bribery and corruption is no way to bring an appreciation of the better things of life and must induce in the sub-conscious mind of the child the idea that the teacher has a very low standard of moral values.

The London Board of Education, and any who might be considering following its example, may well be expected to take the next logical step and make it an offence for a teacher to smile at any one pupil in her class, lest the youngsters who do not receive a smile feel the discrimination.

Report Awaited

Probe Studies Constitutional Issues

Montreal. — (AP) — A royal commission now is busily preparing a report that may have far-reaching effects on individuals and businesses within Quebec Province.

The commission, established in 1953 to report on constitutional problems, has until Oct. 15 to present its final recommendations to the provincial government.

The recommendations are expected to touch on the Quebec government's tax relations with the federal government; on the division of tax rights among the federal, provincial and municipal governments, and possibly on changing the basis for school taxes.

Headed by Chief Judge Thomas Tremblay of the Quebec Sessions court, the commission will deliver its report at a time when the Quebec government may be participating in a federal-provincial taxation conference in Ottawa. The conference is due to open Oct. 3.

It is considered likely that the Quebec delegation will be informed of the commission's proposed recommendations before leaving for the Ottawa conference, called primarily to discuss renewal of federal-provincial taxation agreements.

Quebec is the only province that has not signed an agreement and Premier Duplessis has indicated that he will not sign one at the Ottawa conference.

The royal commission has so far received 251 briefs from business, educational, welfare and other organizations. But it is going ahead with work on its final report without having received what are considered two important submissions.

The Montreal Chambre de Commerce, at whose suggestion the commission was formed, will present its brief within a week. The City of Montreal does not yet know when its brief will be presented.

Bygone Days

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Friday, June 28, 1935.

Among those taking part in an entertainment to mark the anniversary of the Waterville United Church were Mrs. Wright Gibson, Miss Eleanor Wallace, Sidney Meade, Jr., Rev. V. C. Rose, Miss Viola Johnston, Miss Rhoda Beckett and Rev. H. Carson.

Proponents of the establishment of social credit in Canada received scant sympathy in the House of Commons when Liberals joined with the Conservative Government members to vote down proposals for tinkering with the currency.

Believing that nothing short of a military protectorate can achieve the three main points sought by Italy, British official circles regard a clash between Italy and Ethiopia as inevitable. It is also feared the "incident" may spread to Europe.

The latest appropriations introduced into the French Chamber of Deputies provide for an increase to 15,000,000,000 francs or nearly one billion dollars in the defence expenditures of the nation. It is planned to take over the privately-owned arms plants.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Thursday, June 28, 1945.

Capt. Omer Daudelin, well-known member of the Sherbrooke Municipal Police Force, died in Hotel Dieu Hospital last night. He was in his 51 year.

Those in charge of arrangements for the Bedford High School graduation dance were: Miss Siona Brandt, Miss Greta Blois, Miss Margaret Hamilton and Miss Audrey Bradshaw. Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Draper received the guests.

CAREFUL GAME MAKES CONTRACT

When the Texas Conference Regional tournament begins this Thursday in Houston, my young friend Harold Rockaway will be on hand to defend the two championship titles that he won in this tournament last year. Today's hand, taken from last year's team championship, shows what a careful player Rockaway is.

West opened the king of hearts and then switched to a diamond. At both tables of the team championship the diamond switch was taken in dummy so that declarer could lead a spade from dummy and finesse the jack. At both tables, moreover, the jack of spades was allowed to hold the trick.

Here was where the two declarers parted company. One of the two continued with the ten of spades—an unwise choice. West played low, of course, and East won with the queen of spades. East returned a club, and South had to lose a club and the other spade trick, going down one trick at the game contract.

When Harold Rockaway was declarer, however, he continued trumps by leading the king! For one thing, this might happen to drop the queen. More important, however, it would surely force West to win the trick, and Rockaway wasn't a bit worried about any lead that could be made from the West hand.

As expected, West won the second trump trick with the ace. West couldn't afford to lead a club, so he returned a diamond in the hope of cutting communications between the South and North hands.

It was a good idea, but it didn't work. Rockaway won the diamond with the ten in his own hand and led another trump to force out the queen. East was able, at least, to lead a club, but it was too late. South put up the ace of clubs and led a diamond to the dummy, getting all the discards that he needed.

"IT'S A TRUCK SO IT MUST BE LEGAL"

With Billy Graham

By GEORGE BURNHAM

Frankfurt—This is a true story that happened two weeks ago in France. It was a remarkable story then, but it just wasn't right to tell it, as you will understand after reading. And the facts needed checking. Two young French art students had made a suicide pact. The young men had rationalized life down to the dreary point where it had no real meaning for them. They had tried everything life had to offer, with all the gay trimmings of wine, women and song, but it had ended in an emotional hang-over.

They picked an evening for the last event in their lives. The method was to be by drowning in the Seine River at Paris. They collected heavy weights to hold their bodies under water. The meeting place was to be in front of the Velodrome d'hiver. One of the young men was there at the appointed time. He paced up and down for long, anxious minutes as he waited for his friend. A lot of people were going inside the arena, where a poster out front proclaimed the appearance of an American named Billy Graham. Tiring of the wait, he decided to go inside and see what was happening.

He heard the handsome, young evangelist as he told the story of Jesus Christ. And he listened to the words: "Christ can lift every burden and he will put a new spring in your step. Invite him into your heart and he will give you a new life that has joyous meaning and purpose."

The art student was among several hundred who walked forward at the invitation to try this strange, new way of life.

Along with the others he bowed his head and prayed, repeating the words after Billy: "Oh God, I'm a sinner. I confess my sin. I renounce my sin. I believe Jesus Christ died so that my sin could be forgiven. And by faith I receive Christ as Lord, Master and Saviour."

There was a new sparkle in the man's eyes when he finished the prayer. His first thought was for his friend and he rushed outside to tell him what had happened. The friend couldn't be found. He searched all over the area, sick with the thought that he may have gone through with the plan.

And this was the status of the story when it was first told two weeks ago by Dr. J. A. Blocher, head of the Nogent Bible School in Paris, who served as interpreter for Billy during his meetings in the French capital.

I met Dr. Blocher again this week in Geneva and asked him whether the art student had found his friend. And the distinguished looking French professor beamed as he answered:

"Yes, he found him a few days later and is now doing his best to win him for Christ. I had a talk with the one who attended the meeting and he verified all points in the story. In my opinion there is no doubt that he found a new life on the night he planned to destroy himself." Ten years ago the German city of Frankfurt was dead, demoralized and beaten. Rains of Allied bombs had practically leveled three-fourths of the homes, stores and plants. But the Germans rolled up their hearts and went to work, instead of sitting at sidewalk cafes and complaining between sips of wine, like their French neighbors to the south.

Today it is difficult to determine that Frankfurt was almost blasted from the earth. The hum of building is evident everywhere in the bustling city. The city, however, did not keep pace spiritually. It has only 30 Protestant churches for a population of 600,000.

The spiritual needs got a big boost this week when Evangelist Billy Graham held a one-night meeting in Frankfurt Stadium. An estimated 35,000 were present. Billy's message was the same that brought such incredible responses in Glasgow, London, Paris, Zurich and Geneva.

Frankfurt added to the spiritual awakening. When the invitation was given, lines of smartly uniformed German boys formed paths across the track to the green turf. Ten years ago these boys were known as Hitler's children and knew no God save Him.

People streamed through the lanes and then kept coming in greater numbers. A customs official who has been watching the radio equipment, left his post and joined them. The silent procession lasted almost 30 minutes. An accurate count was not immediately available, but there appeared to be almost 5,000 standing in front of the platform. They had heard the young man and believed the message: "Jesus Christ is the way, the truth and the life."

WHAT! COWS NEVER SLEEP?

Hamilton Spectator.

—We were mildly surprised the other day when informed a scientist had proved that cows never sleep. In a world of electronics and hydrogen bombs this simple fact of nature is hardly likely to make the world's headlines, but it does present a question: How has it happened that this simple fact has escaped the observation of farmers and cowherds for centuries so that at this late date it must become the subject of another bottle-browed scientific conclusion?

Even those who have the slightest acquaintance with the habits of cows must, if they are truthful, admit that they have never seen them having a good sleep. Cows chew the cud endlessly, they blink and occasionally their eyes close, but they never really sleep.

and their families from all parts of Quebec attended the meet which was held at Jim Routledge's farm near Georgeville.

The other winners were Robert Allen, D. L. Smith, Jean Bowers and Ernest Turner, all of Lennoxville.

The competition was based on the placing of Mr. Routledge's cattle into their proper classes and giving reasons for the placing. W. S. O'Neil, Hereford fieldman for Eastern Canada, and D. J. MacMillan, Compton County Agronomer from Cookshire, were in charge of judging the competitors.

The men's and women's judging classes in the senior division were won by E. G. Beattie, of Lennoxville, and Mrs. Aime Labonte, of St. Agapit. J. A. Ste-Marie, of Lennoxville, won the door prize.

The winners were announced by D. J. MacMillan and prizes presented by W. W. Nichol, president of the Quebec Hereford Association. Mr. Nichol also acted as master of ceremonies
during the all-day meet.

Aside from the judging competition the program included a colorful parade by the Magog Pipe Band complete in bright red plaid regalia followed by a parade of Routledge's herd, a tour of the 700 acre estate, a swim in Lake Memphremagog, and a picnic lunch.

J. A. Ste. Marie, of Lennox-ville, Dr. Adrien Morin, of St.
Hyacinthe, and W. S. O'Neil addressed the gathering.

Mr. Ste. Marie warned men new to the industry against sticking new breeders with culls and cast-offs.

Mr. O'Neil pointed out the increasing business Ontario breeders are doing with Mexico in shipping bulls to that country and suggested that Quebec breeders would also be shipping bulls to Mexico shortly.

ST. ARMAND—

Mrs. J. G. Thomas, who spent the past two weeks with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Rutherford in Granby, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dagley and Mr. Edward Luke, of Montreal, spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. P. C. Luke. Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Shepard and son, Bradley, of Bedford, were visitors at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovila Roy and daughter, Louise, of Frelighsburg, were at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alcide Roy.

"You've got to show me!"

Some people are hard to convince; they take everything with a grain of salt. "I'm from Missouri," they say, (although they probably hail from Magog or St. Hippolyte) "You've got to show me!"

Today, a new process called "slow-brewing" brings you a beer with a firmer COLLAR, a superior AROMA and a mellower FLAVOUR.

If you're "from Missouri," you can prove it for yourself, with this simple comparison:

Pour a glass of the new Brading's—the only slow-brewed beer—and a glass of any other beer.

Before you taste either, look at the COLLAR on the new Brading's. Firmer, isn't it? It's the first sign of quality! Next—smell Brading's, then the other brand. You'll recognize Brading's

Board Of Trade At Richmond Reviews Projects

Richmond — The Richmond and Melbourn Board of Trade has again passed an active period since the new year started in November, with an average attendance of 53 members and a total present membership of 85. Six guest speakers were heard. Gaston Cote on the subject of Flood control; John McIntyre, Aims and Purposes of Toastmasters; S. M. Grant, Colour Harmony; Dr. J. M. Veilleux, Bovine Brucellosis; Edward Glendening, conservation.

All the committees were active during the year and their work deserves high commendation.

The following are some of the important highlights since November, under the presidency of L. E. Fuller. The Board commended municipal authorities for the efficiency of the police and fire and other public services, welcomed the ladies to a meeting held in their honor, gave financial support to the Christmas decoration committee, as well as to many other worthy projects, and wrote the provincial government for information on future bridge plans spanning the St. Francis River in the Richmond vicinity.

The members of the Board of Trade also urged the improvement of highways leading into Richmond and Melbourn, encouraged a sense of municipal pride in the appearance of the town, considered the locating of several new industries in Richmond, co-operated with the Junior Board of Trade in various activities throughout the year, and urged greater interest in the expanding tourist industry.

Farmers' Night has become an annual event and the visiting farmers of the district were favoured with an interesting lecture on the speed of bovine brucellosis, delivered by Dr. J. M. Veilleux, a veterinarian with the Provincial Government. Two evening programs were devoted to the ladies. S. M. Grant addressed one of these meetings. His subject, "Colour Harmony," held the attention of all.

Conservation night was marked by having both an enjoyable speaker in the person of Edward Glendening and two films on wild-life.

The annual golf tournament was held at the Belle-View Golf Club in Melbourn. Arnold Healy won the Southwood Trophy after a three-hole playoff with L. C. Rattray.

The following officers and committee chairmen are to be commended for the fine support they have given the local Board of Trade: L. E. Fuller, president; Dr. E. Jacques, vice-president; D. F. Pope, secretary; R. Urquhart, treasurer.

Committees: C. W. Armstrong, industrial; C. H. Brouillette, mercantile; R. A. Marcotte, civic; R. Menard, publicity; B. W. Armatage and J. P. Brouillette, membership; B. C. Husk, attendance; G. Ewing and R. Trudeau, entertainment and speakers; J. L. Burns, national affairs; V. R. Beattie, agricultural.

Frontier Swim Project To Get Under Way July 5

Rock Island — The Red Cross Frontier Swim Project will be held again this year at Salem Lake, but will commence on July 5 instead of the tentatively announced date of June 27.

Gardner Cowles, of Derby Line, who has just received his B. A. degree from Middlebury College, will be head instructor and have charge of the beach. His immediate assistants will be Miss Alice Middleton, of Stanstead, and Miss Jean Irons, of Derby Line who are at present attending a school of instruction at the Canadian Aquatic School at the Crippled Children's camp, Ayer's Cliff, under the direction of Ross Firth, of Montreal Red Cross headquarters.

On Thursday afternoon, June 30, between the hours of 1:30 and 3:00 o'clock, children planning to take the eight weeks swim lessons at lake Salem are asked to register, in Stanstead at the town hall, with Mrs. Charles Merriman, in Beebe at the council rooms with Mrs. Gordon Laberee, in Rock Island at the town hall, with Mrs. George Hatch, in Derby Line at the Village hall, with Mrs. Alfred Aldrich. There will also be some one to take registrations at Derby Village. Youngsters will be required to give their names, address, age and any previous swim lessons.

Transportation will be arranged for youngsters to travel to the beach by bus, with the swimmers to go in the mornings and the beginners and non-swimmers in the afternoon. The committee wishes to emphasize that children who do not have 10 cents for the round trip to the beach are welcome to take advantage of these lessons. It would be appreciated, however, if they or their parents state this to the registrar in their town, that note may be made of it and the bus operator informed.

The next few days young people will be on the streets with an arm band, "Frontier Swim Project", selling tags as a means of raising money for expenses.

The local Red Cross swim committee will soon be sending out requests for donations to this worthy project. If anyone who would like to make a donation has been overlooked, their contribution will be gratefully accepted by Everett Greaves at the Royal Bank of Canada in Rock Island.

The donations and interest shown by the public this year will determine continuation of the project in the future.

Let TCP re-power your engine over July 1st weekend

By neutralizing lead and carbon deposits, Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* re-powers your engine in 400 miles or less.

Your engine can be delivering power you thought it had lost forever—by the time you get home from your trip.

Before you've used two tankfuls of Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP—you will have re-powered your engine.

That's how quickly "the greatest gasoline development in 31 years" goes to work. And to get these benefits you don't so much as touch a tool!

As you drive, Shell Premium with TCP automatically neutralizes the increased engine deposits formed by today's "around town" short-trip driving, which cause pre-firing—a major source of power loss.

Continued use of Shell Premium with TCP is essential to halt pre-firing and for you to obtain the full benefits of high octane gasoline. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.
